LONG ATTACKS TAX BILL

GRAIN DEALER CONFAB RAPS FARM BOARD

GOVERNMENT IS HELD GREATEST MALADY IN BUSINESS

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 17.—Conditions in the grain business will not be improved until "the farm board's depressing load of hoarded grain is disposed of and the government abdicates from the business."

That was a statement made this morning by Frank A. Theis, retiring president of the Kansas City board of trade, at the closing session of the annual convention of the Texas Grain Dealers' association here.

Flays Politics

"Government in business," he declared, "is the greatest malady in business today. It is spreading rapidly and now has submerged itself in more than 100 different industries. It is up to every one of us to let our representatives in congress know that we will not entertain rotten partisan politics and that this is no time to draw party lines."

Theis said the distressed conditions in the grain production and handling business have been brought about by the domination of the farm board.

"For nearly three years now," he declared, "wheat markets of the world have been in constant fear of the United States' attempt to mix wheat and politics. The apprehension of domestic and foreign markets is clearly reflected in conditions never before to confront this generation."

Theis condemned the "futile attempts of the farm board to peg wheat prices." He referred to the board's transactions as the "biggest gamble in history" and insisted that "every fundamental law of business has been violated" by the board.

TOLL IN RIOTS IS INCREASED

SEVENTY-ONE KILLED AND 700 INJURED IN BOMBAY AREA

(By The Associated Press)

BOMBAY, May 17—The toll of the fierce Hindu-Moslem riots which have made a shambles of several districts of Bombay for four days had risen today to 71 dead and 700 injured.

Seven were killed and 50 injured during the forenoon in spite of the fact the city was patrolled by British tanks and troops brought hastily from Poona last night.

Stench Fills City

Except for the rioters and the troops and police, the streets were virtually deserted. The rest of the population shuddered indoors as the blood continued to flow. Along the streets garbage and refuse, unattended for three days, was rotting, filling the city with an abominable stench.

Bursts of rifle fire broke out from time to time during the day as the troops clashed with the rioters.

Authorities this afternoon issued a curfew order which prohibits more than five persons from congregating in any spot. The rioting spread to the mill area today, forcing the closing of the mills, which threw 40,000 men and women out of work.

LANCASTER PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN DEATH CASE

MIAMI, Fla., May 17 (AP)—Captain W. N. Lancaster, former British army aviator, pleaded not guilty today to charge of murdering Haden Clarke, youthful writer and fiance of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, the Australian flier.

James M. Carson, chief of defense counsel, asked that the trial be postponed for six weeks. The motion was taken under consideration.

AL SMITH OFFERS HIS OWN RELIEF PROGRAM

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—Calling on congress to eschew cliques and other obstructionist tactics in the interest of national rehabilitation, Alfred E. Smith had his own program for alleviation of economic ills before the voters today.

In a radio address last night he advocated a manufacturers' sales tax, restriction of veterans' legislation, an expanded program of federal public works, action on war debts and modification of the prohibition laws.

DELEGATES TO BE SELECTED BY STATES

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT AND SMITH TO GAIN ADDITIONAL VOTES

(By The Associated Press)

Selection of delegates to the national conventions proceeded today in four states, New Jersey alone of them making its choices by the primary method.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who yesterday won Kansas' 20 delegates, was expected to receive Montana's eight and New Mexico's six Democratic votes today. Connecticut's Democratic delegation of 16 appeared due to be instructed for Alfred E. Smith but, unbound by the unit rule, was likely to contain some votes for Roosevelt. Definitely pro-Smith, the New Jersey delegation of 32 was to be named without instruction.

President Hoover stood to receive 35 unpledged New Jersey votes and 11 from Montana, only Republican selections of the day. In both parties the Jersey primary appeared in for a record light vote, there being no contests of importance.

BLOODED HORSES SAVED FROM FLAMES BY BOYS

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—By great daring and main strength, a couple of 18-year-old boys early this morning rescued 25 blooded saddle horses from a blazing stable, but six animals perished in the flames.

Warner Moxley and Burl Jenkins, employes of the Point to Point riding school, were awakened after midnight by the glare of the blazing barn. They took out the panic-stricken animals one at a time until the heat forced them back. The frame building collapsed just as they dashed out.

FLIERS ARE TO STUDY BEFORE STARTING HOP

FORT WORTH, May 17 (AP)—Jimmie Mattern and Bennett H. Griffin, who plan to hop off next month on a round-the-world flight, left today for San Antonio to take a week's course in instrument flying.

While they are in San Antonio mechanics at the municipal airport here will overhaul the ship they will use in an attempt to lower the globe-girdling record of eight days and eight hours set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

TEXAS MAN KILLED

TOPEKA, May 17 (AP)—Joe Burke Humphreys, 70, of Marfa, Tex., died in a hospital here early today several hours after his left arm and left leg were severed when he fell under the wheels in attempting to board a freight train.

ULTIMATUM TO PARTY HEADS KILLS PLAN

LEADERS CLAIM THAT POLITICS MUST BE LAID ASIDE NOW

BY GLENN BABB,
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, May 17. — The army swung its mailed fist on Japanese politics today and dictated that a national, non-partisan cabinet be named to succeed that of the slain Premier Inukai.

The army's ultimatum completely upset plans of political leaders. During the day it had been virtually decided that Kisaburo Suzuki, present home minister, should head another Seiyukai party government.

Abandons Candidacy

Mr. Suzuki was named head of the party earlier in the day. The selection was made as a means of healing a threatened breach within the party ranks. Elders of the organization persuaded Takejiro Tokonami, railway minister, to abandon his candidacy.

The army leaders served flat notice they would refuse to support any cabinet formed on political party lines. They demanded a national cabinet. General Mazaki, vice-chief of the army general staff, visited former War Minister General Sadao Araki and informed him that the army would refuse to recommend any officers as war minister in the new cabinet if it were formed on party lines.

The crisis confronting the country, he said, demanded that politics be left aside and a "truly national" government be set up.

Can Halt Formation

The constitution requires that the minister of war be a general and consequently the army is able to prevent formation of any ministry of which it disapproves.

Army headquarters announced that eleven cadets who surrendered to the military police Sunday night would soon be tried by a court-martial and dealt with according to military discipline.

Beyond admitting that the perpetrators of the week-end terrorism were 11 cadets and six naval ensigns, the authorities kept the identities of the young men secret.

DALLAS BUYER IS BURNED

ONE DEAD IN FLAMES AND ANOTHER NEAR DEATH TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 17—John Burge Liddlebrook, 63, Dallas cattle buyer, was burned to death and Oscar Phillips, 48, of Picher, Okla., was burned fatally in a rooming house fire here just after midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and Henry Sprink were injured when they jumped from the second story of the flaming structure.

Fourteen persons occupied the frame rooming house at Ross avenue, near Akard.

PROSECUTION OF FIRMS IN OKLAHOMA EXPECTED

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 17. (AP)—Prosecution of several oil companies on charges of violating Oklahoma proration rules is expected to follow speedily in the wake of the United States supreme court decision upholding Oklahoma's oil conservation laws.

The Champlin Refining company of Enid, which brought the test case; the Wilcox Oil and Gas company, Oils, incs., Marshall Oil, and the Slick-Urschel interests already face charges of violating proration rules.

Prosecution probably will take the form of contempt proceedings, oil men said.

KIDNAPED GIRL RELEASED AS MONEY PAID

FOUR NEGROES GIVEN $300 FOR RETURN OF VICTIM

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, May 17—Authorities were called on today to solve a daring, daylight ransom kidnaping of which they were not apprized until 30 hours after its commission.

Meanwhile, the victim's father, Nathan Gerson, a laundry owner, had paid $300 and obtained his daughter's release, taking no chances that the four negro abductors might make good a threat to kill her if he notified the police.

PUBLICITY STUNT

PHILADELPHIA, May 17 (AP)—Police said today that after a thorough investigation they had found the report that Dora Gershon had been kidnaped and held two days until a ransom of $300 had been paid was untrue.

After questioning her for several hours, a detective said, "the story was concocted as a publicity stunt."

Girl Overpowered

Dora Gerson, 19, was overpowered on a street near her home, dragged into an automobile, bound and gagged and taken to a barn outside the city about 6 o'clock last Saturday evening.

At 2:30 o'clock the following afternoon, one of her captors telephoned her father, arranged a rendezvous and demanded $1,000 ransom. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning Gerson handed over $300 and two hours later the girl was pushed from the kidnapers' automobile two blocks from home.

With his daughter safe, Gerson reported the occurrence to the police last night. Miss Gerson furnished them with descriptions of the negroes and what other information she could.

Notified Police

When Miss Gerson failed to return home Saturday night her parents reported her disappearance to police, but after the communication from the kidnapers they gave out no further information until she was returned.

Miss Gerson was slightly hysterical after her return but otherwise unharmed.

DRY INFORMER IS PLACED IN JAIL

DALLAS, May 17. (AP)—Buddy Hoard, prohibition informer wanted in connection with the killing of a country storekeeper, surrendered to officers here today. He was held in solitary confinement at the county jail while his attorney, Otis Rogers of Fort Worth, sought to have his $15,000 bond reduced.

Hoard had been a fugitive since Friday, when he was indicted on a charge of murder relative to the shooting of Marion McGlothlin at the McGlothlin store near Irving. Hoard allegedly accompanied two dry agents, L. C. Smith and N. D. Heaton, to the store in an effort to trap a bootlegger. In a resulting disturbance, McGlothlin was killed and Mrs. McGlothlin was wounded in the hand.

ARRESTS SOUGHT TODAY IN TEXAS OIL THEFTS

LONGVIEW, May 17 (AP)—Officers today sought to arrest "10 or 12" men indicted yesterday by the Gregg county grand jury in connection with purported wholesale oil thefts in the vast East Texas oil field. A total of 158 indictments was voted.

District Attorney John E. Taylor said "10 or 12" men were named. Their identities were not revealed pending arrest. Eighteen men, including two railroad commission employes, and two railway agents, had been charged in justice court here a short time ago.

FEDERAL JUDGES CHARGED WITH USING GOVERNMENT EXPENSES TO "JOY RIDE" OVER COUNTRY AND TAKE VACATIONS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 17 — A charge that federal judges use government expense accounts to "joy ride" across the country and take vacations in New York was spread today on the pages of the congressional record.

Representative LaGuardia (R., N. Y.) put the accusation there in presenting to the house yesterday a report from the comptroller general giving names of 29 federal judges from all over the country who had turned in expense accounts for trips to sit on the southern New York district bench.

Some served but one day at a time, others up to thirty. Two came all the way from California, others from Wyoming, Colorado, Texas, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee Kansas, and Illinois.

Some of the judges, said LaGuardia "come to New York, travel, sit a few days, go home, charge up their traveling expenses, come back and sit a few days more."

Among the particular examples cited were Judge Thomas W. Swan of New Haven, Connecticut, who received $5,800 for several visits; and Judge Harrie B. Chase of Brattleboro, Vermont, who collected $4,233.

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, May 17—Two federal judges named by Representative LaGuardia as having taken "joy rides" at government expense, deny the charges.

J. Foster Symes of Denver branded the allegations of the New York Republican as "unqualifiedly false"; T. Blake Kennedy of Cheyenne, Wyo., explained why trips were made.

"I know nothing of other cases," Judge Symes said, "but when I was called to New York last summer, I stayed for three weeks and worked all the time I was there."

Said Judge Kennedy: "It is quite natural for judges in the more sparsely settled districts to be appointed as assistants in the more densely populated districts.

"So far as 'joyriding' is concerned I must confess I know nothing about it. It has been my idea that federal judges should endeavor to be useful and to devote their time to public service when it may not all be required in their own district.

"If service like this can be termed 'joyriding' some other official positions which I have in mind must be a perpetual holiday."

HUNDRED LOST IN SHIP FIRE

STORY OF HORROR IS TOLD BY CAPTAIN; MOST ARE SAVED

LONDON, May 17—Approximately 100 of the 900 passengers and crew of the French motorship Georges Philippar are missing after the fire which destroyed the ship yesterday in the Arabian sea, the vessel's captain was quoted as saying today.

The captain's statement was contained in an eye-witness story of the disaster wirelessed to the London Evening Standard today by the master of the British steamer Contractor, which was proceeding to Aden, Arabia, with 129 of the survivors.

The story was one of horror. As the flames swept over the fine, new ship, pride of the French far eastern service, passengers, men, women and children, scrambled out on ropes or threw themselves into the sea in their night clothes in an effort to avoid the blistering fire.

GASTON MEANS CALLED IN McLEAN CASE TODAY

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Two branches of the District of Columbia supreme court, both engaged in affairs of the Edward B. McLean family, beckoned today to Gaston B. Means, the sleuth.

He was among the witnesses ordered to appear for the delayed start of trial on the suit to remove McLean as co-trustee of his father's estate, including the Washington Post, of which McLean is publisher.

He was given final opportunity through counsel to file a demurrer or other answer to indictments which charge him with embezzlement of $104,000 from Mrs. McLean—money she turned over to him to ransom the luckless Lindbergh child.

MOTHER NATURE HELPS GRASSHOPPER CAMPAIGN

DES MOINES, Ia., May 17. (AP)—Mother nature may have done something congress hesitated to do—give aid to midwest farmers who fear a repetition of last year's crop-devastating invasion of grasshoppers.

A senate-approved proposal by Senator Shipstead of Minnesota to appropriate $1,450,000 for poison to fight the pests was rejected by the house of representatives at Washington yesterday.

But week-end rains probably have done much to curb the insects, which are now beginning to hatch. A. L. Ford of South Dakota state college declared that recent low temperatures caused millions of the hoppers to starve.

BARE ALLEGED CONSPIRACY

WITNESSES TELL OF PAYING OFFICERS FOR PROTECTION

AMARILLO, May 17.—United States attorneys today called five witnesses in their efforts to prove the alleged conspiracy of Gray county citizens, including former Sheriff E. S. Graves and six of his deputies, to violate the prohibition laws.

Ed Isom, Dalhart druggist, testified that he had been associated with Roy Albritton, one of the defendants, in the handling of liquor traffic at Pampa and that they had paid one of the officers for "protection". H. E. Bell, Grandfield, Okla., testified that he saw one of his friends pay Graves.

Johnny Bowman convicted of murder in Pampa two years ago and now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary at Huntsville was one of the governments witnesses, but denied that he had any knowledge of the transactions about which attorneys questioned him. His wife, Viola Bowman, now of Kansas City who preceded him to the stand was a more effective witness for the government. All her testimony was denied by Bowman who finally admitted that he did not want to testify.

Russell Bartlett of Pampa who testified yesterday that he dealt in liquor traffic through Albritton and that the price of his liquor included a tariff for protection was recalled by the defense. Bartlett, the governments chief witness testified that he was raided by the sheriffs department when he quit buying liquor from Albritton.

MEASURE SENT FLOUNDERING ON COURSE

COMPROMISE REVENUE BILL WITHSTANDS FIRST VOTING

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 17 — The compromise billion dollar revenue raising bill withstood intact its first voting encounter in the senate but was sent floundering on its course today by an unexpected buffeting of oratory.

Senator Huey Long (D., La.) didn't get the kind of a program he wanted so he consumed in talk the two hours of the senate's first night session to speed the bill.

Break Expected

Sponsors of the non-partisan budget balancing legislation were confident of a break in the jam as a ten-hour session was begun today with the vital income tax schedule still open for amendment.

The next test was due on the motion of Senator Connally (D., Texas) to raise the income rates provided by the bill to the 1921 level. The bi-partisan coalition supporting the measure showed its strength yesterday in defeating the motion of Senator Couzens (R., Mich.) to restore the even higher war-time income schedule. The vote was 49 to 31.

The object of both the Couzens and Connally proposals was to remove necessity for the special excise taxes provided by the measure.

Senate Democrats noted with interest Alfred E. Smith's declaration for the sales tax in a radio speech last night. However, the view was privately expressed that the decisive vote of the house against the sales levy had forestalled hope for its approval in the senate.

An informal understanding was reached, however, to have a showdown on the sales tax before the numerous excise and "nuisance" taxes are considered. In other words, if the sales tax is to be adopted, no time will be spent on the other rates.

Though rejected and reported unfavorably to the house by the ways and means committee, Patman asked the formulators of rules to give his new money plan a preferred legislative status so a vote might be possible before adjournment.

CONDON TALKS ABOUT TRAIL GROWN HOT

BRONX GRAND JURY IS PROBING PAYMENT OF RANSOM TO GANG

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Jafsie talked today of a murder trail grown hot and of developments that might be sensational.

Jafsie—Dr. John F. Condon—has spent two days in a study of rogues' gallery pictures in New York, in White Plains, and in Yonkers, N. Y.

The aged educator-baseball umpire-kidnap intermediary gave no hint to eager inquirers as to his reason for believing progress was being made in the hunt for the slayers of little Charles Lindbergh.

Before Grand Jury

He was to have attended the police lineup today but was prevented by the necessity of appearing before the Bronx grand jury to tell about his negotiations. Among the prisoners caught in the daily police net it was felt there might be one or more member of the kidnap band with which Condon conducted ransom negotiations and to which he paid $50,000 of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's money.

Col. Henry Breckinridge, personal representative of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, was the first witness to appear before the Bronx county grand jury which convened today to investigate payment of $50,000 ransom to the supposed kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby.

Appears On Request

Col. Breckinridge had not been subpoenaed but appeared at the request of the district attorney's office. When he arrived at the grand jury room, he told Assistant District Attorney Edward P. Breslin he had some important matters to take care of and would like to get away as soon as possible.

As a result, instead of calling Dr. Condon, as the first witness, Breslin took Col. Breckinridge into the grand jury room.

Dr. Condon had arrived earlier with Al Reich, former pugilist who acted as his body guard during the futile negotiations for the return of the baby. Others waiting in the anteroom with Dr. Condon were Milton Caglio, who on at least one occasion acted as chauffeur for Dr. Condon; Max Rosenhaim, owner of a Bronx restaurant patronized by Dr. Condon, and Joseph Perone, believed to be the taxicab chauffeur who delivered a note from the alleged kidnapers to Condon.

The state police have turned back to this ransom money—all old bills of five, ten and twenty dollar denominations—in the hope it may lead to important arrests. Serial

ADMITS DECEPTION

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 17 (AP)—Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, announced today that John Hughes Curtis, one of the Norfolk negotiators in the Lindbergh kidnap case, had written "a complete confession" that all the people with whom he has told of negotiating and all the boats on which he said he met them were creations of his own imagination.

Col. Schwarzkopf's statement follows:

"At 4 o'clock this morning John H. Curtis sat down to a typewriter and himself wrote a complete confession concerning his activities in the case.

"He stated that the boats and all the people to whom he has been referring were creations of his own mind and do not exist in fact."

"Shortly after the kidnaping Mr. Curtis told a story about having a contact with the kidnapers. A newspaper representative, according to Mr. Curtis statement, made a very lucrative offer to him for his story to be given exclusively to that paper. Also, according to Mr. Curtis, a very lucrative offer was made by another newspaper and a film company concerning his activities. This spurred Mr. Curtis on to greater activity.

"Mr. Curtis also said that Dean Peacock could have prevented his unfortunate part in this enormous deception. Admiral Burrage merely presented to Col. Lindbergh the story as he had heard it, making no recommendations, but permitting it to stand on its merits.

"Reputable citizens and officials frequently vouched to Col. Lindbergh for the integrity of Mr. Curtis, stating that his word could be relied on. This made the deception so much easier. The story of Mr. Curtis has resulted in the very widespread activities of the coast guard and other federal agencies in seeking the fictitious boat he has described."

NUDISM PRACTICED NOT AS FAD BUT AGAINST REAL AND FANCIED WRONGS

(By The Associated Press)

NELSON, B. C., May 17—Nudism, practiced not as a fad but as a protest against wrongs, real or fancied, has put 595 Doukhobors in the shadow of the penitentiary.

The arrest of 254 of these religionists Sunday for parading in the nude is but the forerunner, authorities said today, of the government's campaign to put down rebellion against provincial laws.

Not only nudism but bombings, incendiarism and passive resistance are counts held against certain groups of the sect which fled Russia's czar to avoid military service and which holds pacificism and forgiveness to be cardinal virtues.

The 595 men and women who have been arrested—many have been sentened to three years' imprisonment which is the mandatory punishment following conviction—are members of the Sons of Freedom branch of the Doukhobors of whom there are about 800 among the 4,000 Doukhobors of British Columbia.

The parades in the nude, while offenses against provincial law, are directed apparently not against state authority but against the main body of Doukhobors—the Christian

FOUR MEN PARACHUTED FROM PLANE TO DEMONSTRATE AUTOMATIC DEVICE

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA ANA, Calif., May 17 Four men were parachuted from an airplane yesterday in a demonstration of a method to release passengers from distressed ships. All landed safely and had cleared the ship in five seconds, Harry Trusty, inventor, calculated.

In a cabin monoplane, 4,000 feet over the airport here, the pilot pulled a lever. Two of the passengers swung outward through doors in the fuselage and scudded off into the air while parachutes blossomed above their heads.

The pilot pulled a second lever. The other two passengers swung through two more doors and the parachutes automatically took them in tow. All four landed sitting on the same seats they occupied in the plane.

Trusty, a Los Angeles designing engineer, describes the device:

The doors in the sides of the fuselage, open automatically when the pilot pulls the lever. Davits swing outward with each seat and an automatic trip drops the seat once it has swung clear of the ship. The 'chutes are carried under the seats. A metal band slips around the waist of the passenger as the device begins to operate to discourage panic.

Police in the patrol car investigated, and reported the man apparently was not wounded and had escaped. Hargis, district sanitary engineer, had seen a prowler about his residence several times. About a week ago a gun was stolen from the house.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

ATTITUDE OF TEACHERS

IN AN EASTERN city the superintendent of schools was heard to say that he greatly regretted that there was so marked a gulf between the elementary teachers of his school and the junior and senior high school teachers. "We cannot deny the fact that the high school teachers in this city look down on the elementary teachers as inferior," he said.

Parent don't consider the high school teachers superior, as a group. Parents know elementary teachers better, have had more contacts with them and find them, therefore, more approachable. The average elementary teacher knows more about the homes of her children, takes more of a human interest in her pupils. One reason probably is that younger children are more dependent and call for more personal care on the part both of the parent and the teacher. Another reason is that the high school teacher must specialize and, therefore, must meet many students during a single day, and has her interest considerably turned from pupils as personalities to the subject matter taught.

Regardless of what parents think of high school teachers, they as a group feel somewhat superior to the elementary teachers. In most cities high school teachers receive a higher salary than do grade teachers—and money does talk. Also the academic requirements in most cities for high school teachers is higher than for elementary school teachers. In many school systems only college graduates can be employed as high school teachers; some systems, indeed, require a master's degree. In some systems two years of training beyond the high school and rarely more than four years are required of elementary teachers. In academic training, therefore, high school teachers are superior to elementary teachers.

High school teachers with more academic training than grade school teachers ought to be in the lead in parent-teacher work and home-school relationships. But they are not. Relatively few high school teachers are interested in parent-teacher work; few even know what it is all about.

The high school principal is in a strategic position now. If he only knew it he would have the opportunity to do a very valuable piece of education-in-service of his teachers by leading them in a study of the home, in making them actively interested in parent education, and in parent-teacher work—undoubtedly the most promising educational field opening in the next decade.

I should like to hear from leaders in junior and senior high school parent-teacher associations, particularly about the successes of your organization. Also I shall be glad to answer questions. In case a personal reply is desired, please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

ALL of a sudden Coppy turned and then the carpet beater learned that there were clever little tricks it didn't know about.

Brave Coppy shouted, "Here I go!" And then he tackled, straight and low. This threw the beater to the ground and made the Tinies shout.

"Now, bring it back," cried old man play. "You lads can lend a hand today. I have a lot of carpets that are hanging on my line.

"I hope that you all realize that what you need is exercise. So you can beat my rugs for me. I think that will be fine."

* * *

THE beater cried, "It is not fair to swing me right out through the air and land me on a carpet. Maybe it will break my back."

"Oh, no, it won't", cried old man play. "You're going to get well spanked today. The Tinymites are strong enough to make you soundly whack!"

Then Scouty said, "We all are glad to pay you for the fun we've had. I wish you had more beaters. We could clean your old rugs fine.

"But we'll all take turns with this one, and soon the whole job will be done. I'll be the first to beat a while. The rest can fall in line."

* * *

HE started beating very fast and Coppy shouted, "You won't last. 'Tis best to take it easy, so your muscles won't get tired.

"I think you have a lot to learn. I'll show you how when it's my turn. I'll swing the beater back and forth just like I am inspired."

Soon Duncy started in to snore and Scouty promptly beat some more. The real loud noise woke Duncy and he scrambled to his feet. "There is no chance to sleep," said he. "Though I'm as sleepy as can be. As long as I can't rest a while, come on lad, let me beat."

(The Tinies bid the play man's toys goodby in the next story.)

Recognize Women In Tech Ceremony

In the first Recognition Day for women on the campus of Texas Technological college, a group of women students and six graduates of the institution were honored. This service was conducted Monday evening in the cloisters of the administration building.

Those who were honored were selected by a committee on awards and by the clubs. All co-ed members of Southern Scholarship society were named, as well as class officers and members of the Student council.

There was a processional, a musical program and an address by Mrs. Mary W. Doak, dean of women. NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT EXTRA RICH IN VITAL FOOD ELEMENTS

Laboratory Certifies the Improved Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit

Before the new Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit was introduced, the Kellogg Company submitted it to the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia, which found it so rich in food value that every package could be certified.

This means that mothers can now know definitely that their children are getting a well-balanced food whenever they serve the new Kellogg biscuits and milk—rich in minerals, vitamins, proteins—nourishing and healthful.

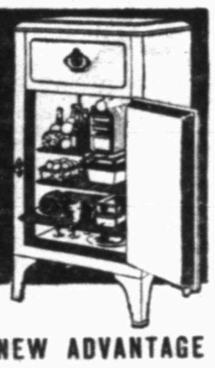

And Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits offer many other features. The biscuits are "pressure-cooked" by a special process that bakes in the delicious flavor. At the same time, it retains all the valuable food elements of the whole wheat.

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are much crisper and tastier because they are toasted a tempting brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. They are baked in a more convenient, economical size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl—and you get 15 to the package.

Naturally, this tasty new biscuit is welcome for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers—any meal, in fact. Ready to serve with milk or cream. Sold by grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EXPORTERS MOVE FROM ALSO RAN CLASS TO TOP OF LEAGUE

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

What Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis is to organied baseball, what the king is to Siam, what John Clinnin is to boxing and what Mussolini is to Italy, so is Dr. E. L. Larson to the Border States Athletic conference.

* * *

The conference, of which Texas Tech is a member, has gone high cotton. It has elected a high commissioner. He's the boss. His is the last word, the final authority in matters pertaining to the doings of the conference. There will be no court beyond his decisions. If you should come out of a coma and ask us, we'd tell you it is the cat's whiskers, but not the Fort Worth Cats' whiskers.

* * *

In matters over which controversies spring up, in all translations of eligibility and other rules, et cetera, etc., Commissioner Larson, head of the department of education of the University of Arizona, will have the final say, just as K. M. Landis does in baseball. And you don't hear of anybody, unless it is Kid Gleason, putting anything over on The Mountain, do you?

* * *

Texas Tech was officially represented at the meeting of Border conference officials by W. A. (Uncle Bill) Jackson and H. C. (Gray Eagle) Pender. Doc Jackson is a member of the Tech faculty and Tech athletic council, for which he may or may not get paid. The Eagle is one of the most prominent grandstand coaches in this part of the country, for which he does not get paid. He also peddles would-be knowledge to admiring co-eds and unassuming athletes. But the Tech delegates did not have a voice in the proceedings. Tech is not officially a member of the league until next fall.

* * *

About the only thing the Tech delegates did, we gather after a hurried telephonic interview with Doc Jackson, was to ask permission for the Tech Matadors to play football next year according to the rules to which they have been accustomed. Needless to say, they were not granted that permission, so far as actual conference games are concerned, but they MAY play according to their old rules, which is a cross between Texas conference and Southwest conference regulations, embodying the parts of both that fit in with local circumstances, in other than Border States conference games.

* * *

The Border conference heads struck a blow at professionalism at their Tucson meeting last week when they perfected an amendment prohibiting the participation in conference games by men who have received monetary considerations for playing as professionals, or who have accepted bonuses for signing professional contracts. Which brings up that old question, "What is an amateur?" but we won't go into that.

* * *

The department is the recipient of a communication from Irvin Van Blarcom, Wichita, Kansas. Mr. Blarcom, as some of you baseball fans may remember, is business manager for the outstanding female baseball club in America. The Girls played a series of two games here last year as the Goldsmith D. & M. Girls of Wichita, and they want to card another series with the Lubbock team. They have undergone a change of name and management and are now known as the Southern Kansas Stage Lines Girls Baseball club. The Stage Lines company gets publicity by sponsoring amateur (?) athletic teams. Its basketball team was one of the best in the national A.A.U. tournament at Kansas City last winter, you remember.

* * *

The SKSL girls will be in this neighborhood along about June 12. Mr. Van Blarcom advises, and would like to make Lubbock a stopping point. "The girls enjoyed themselves in Lubbock last year," he says, "and are anxious to return." The Hubbers took both games last year from the girls, which was in accordance with the way the 1931 Hubbers did things, showing little respect for sex. The girls put up a pretty decent show. Remember that cute little thing on first base? A fairly good crowd turned out to see them.

DEFEAT TYLER TO HOLD THE LEADERSHIP

STEERS ADVANCED TO WITHIN FEW POINTS OF LOOP LEADERS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Del Baker's Beaumont Exporters, the present surprise package of the Texas league pennant scramble, continue to pace the field.

About a month ago, the Exporters were named one of the also-ran teams. They were touted as being too young and inexperienced.

Laugh At Crowds

But today, like yesterday, the Exporters are up there laughing at the crowd below. They retained first place yesterday with a 6 to 5 decision over Tyler. Frey and Easterling hit home runs. There's nothing you can do with a ball club that hits them out of the park. Steengrafe got a wobbly start for Tyler, but settled down and pitched steady ball in the final innings. It was not enough, however, to offset the Beaumont attack balanced by the pitching of Hamlin and Marrow.

Dallas, one of the favored three before the race started, stopped San Antonio in a ten-inning combat, 2 to 0. The victory allowed the Steers to hang around the league pinnacle only a few points behind Beaumont. Oscar Fuhr, veteran southpaw, gave San Antonio nine hits to hold his own with House and Kowalik for his ten-inning victory.

Buffs Down Spuds

Joe Medwick, dashing young outfielder of Houston, and Mike Cvengros, veteran hurler, gave Houston a 3 to 2 victory last night over Wichita Falls. Medwick hit his eleventh home run of the season. Cvengros pitched a really fine game of baseball. In the eighth, Houck beat out an infield hit. Stebbins sacrificed him to second. Carey rolled out, Rouck going to third. Up stepped Medwick and plastered one over the wall.

Elongated Bill Terry and his speed ball carried Fort Worth to a 4 to 1 victory last night over Galveston. The youthful Terry limited Galveston to three hits. His mates collected 12 hits off Preacher Thurman and Tubbs.

FEDERAL BOND ISSUE GETS SUPPORT TODAY

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — Strong support for a federal bond issue to finance a gigantic public construction program came today from a group of economists, college professors and businessmen as senate Democrats prepared their new program for unemployment relief.

Senator Wagner, chairman of the committee in charge of drafting the Democratic program, announced he had received an overwhelmingly favorable response to a questionnaire he sent out on his bill proposing a $1,100,000,000 bond issue to finance public works already authorized.

PINE BLUFF HOLDS TO LEADERSHIP OF LEAGUE

(By The Associated Press)

With no game scheduled yesterday Pine Bluff held its lead in the Cotton States league. Only one game was played—Monroe defeating El Dorado in ten innings. It gave the Oilers seven victories to seven losses and pushed the Lions deeper in the cellar.

They play again at Monroe today while Port Arthur entertains Vicksburg and Baton Rouge has Pine Bluff.

SHUTOUT MARK FOR LEAGUE EQUALLED

ENEMY BLANKED FOUR STRAIGHT TIMES BY NEW YORK CLUB

BY GAYLE TALBOT,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stock in the New York Yankees pitching department had soared out of sight today.

Climaxing the most sensational streak seen in the American league in more than two decades, the Yankee curvers had tied a record that has stood for 26 years.

Fourth Shutout

When Vernon Gomez set the Cleveland Indians down, 8 to 0, yesterday he became the fourth consecutive member of Joe McCarthy's staff to blank the enemy. The feat ties the league record held jointly by Cleveland Indians and Boston of 1903 and 1906, respectively.

The Yanks still have some distance to go, however, to equal the major league record of six straight shutouts set up by Pittsburgh in 1903.

First place in the league standing went with Gomez' triumph yesterday, the Yankees slipping ahead of Washington as the Senators were shut out the second straight day by St. Louis, 2 to 0.

Charley Berry, late of the Boston Red Sox, doubled in the tenth inning with Appling on base to give Chicago a hard-earned 4 to 3 victory over his former teammates. Detroit staged a five-run rally in the fourth to defeat the Athletics, 6 to 4.

Reds Down Giants

"Red" Lucas of the Cincinnati Reds yielded only three hits in beating the Giants, 6 to 2, and Van Mungo, Brooklyn rookie, allowed but four as the Dodgers overwhelmed Pittsburgh, 11 to 1.

Riggs Stephenson's single with three aboard in the last of the ninth gave Chicago an 11 to 10 victory over Phillies. Boston was rained out at St. Louis.

BIGGER AND BETTER FUN NITE TREAT PROMISED AT TECH THURSDAY NIGHT

Fans who on numerous occasions have packed and jammed the Texas Tech gymnasium to witness "fun nite" programs conducted by the Tech athletic department are promised a "bigger and better treat than ever" Thursday evening at the final program of its kind this spring.

A complete program of music, wrestling and special numbers has been arranged, according to "Dutchy" Smith of the coaching staff, and Thursday night's frolic night "is already as good as successful."

A new, steel-posted modern ring has been ordered especially for the occasion and today is being installed in the middle of the gymnasium floor. It will be lighted by a single overhead spotlight and will be so situated that every fan can see the fights. A program of wrestling has been arranged that will bring together the best athletes in school. Winners of Thursday night's matches will be acclaimed the champions in their various weight divisions.

The affair still retains its most important phase in that it is entertainment for men only. Women are not invited, it being men's night as well as fun night.

A charge of 25 cents per person will be made at the door Thursday night, proceeds to go to the finance committee of the Tenth Olympiad. Tech is taking part in a nation-wide movement to help put the Los Angeles Olympics over in a big way by charging admission to the program here.

EIGHTY-MILE PICTURE

WASHINGTON — New long-distance photographic equipment of the Army Air Corps permits a picture to be taken within a range of 80 miles. From an altitude of 15,000 feet, an exposure will cover a width of 15 miles and an area of about 120 square miles. The entire cities of Philadelphia and Camden, with parts of Trenton and Staten Island, N. Y., were recently taken in one shot.

LOOKING for Youth?

Abraham Lincoln's mother died at the age of 37—an old woman, worn out from the hardships of the frontier. She was not an isolated case. There were thousands of others like her.

Hard, physical labor robbed her of health and beauty—made her old before her time.

Strange as it may seem, even in this Electrical Age, there are countless homes where, except for lighting, the work is being done just as it was in the frontier days. The women of the house are still wasting their health and time doing tasks that electricity can do for them at a very small cost.

Electricity will do your washing and ironing with a minimum of effort on your part, it can help with the cooking and cleaning. There is hardly a household task that it cannot make easier, or do for you.

Electricity Is Now The Burden Bearer. Put It To Work For You

You Will Not Find Youth By Wasting Your Health

TECH EXPECTS GOOD SESSION

INQUIRIES POURING IN OF SUMMER TERM; DATES SCHEDULED

Summer school enrollment at Texas Technological college is expected from a wide area of the state, Dr. J. M. Gordon, liberal arts dean, has said. June 7 is the day of registration.

"Our registration lists showed students from as far away as Weslaco and many valley points," Dean Gordon said. "We have had inquiries from all parts of the state.

Climate Popular

"We hope that we can have a large enrollment this year. Many people come up here because of the climate. It is an ideal summer session place, with cool nights and a high altitude. People going to school down state find it very much hotter there.

"Living expenses this year will be low. It will be possible to obtain room and board, or light housekeeping rooms, at very reasonable rates."

Regulations for physical examination of students were announced by the registrar, E. L. Dohoney. They were:

All students should have their examinations before the hour set for registration. These may be taken at the West Texas hospital, 1302 Main street, for 8 to 12 a. m. or 1 to 5 p. m. any day before registration day. Pay the fee and retain the receipt for registration purposes.

During registration, men will be examined in room P and women in room F, chemistry building basement. The college physician will be in his office, room P, chemistry building June 7, 8 and 9 from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5. On and after June 7 medical examination fees should be paid at the business office of the college.

Students who have had a physical examination since September 1, 1931, are not required to take examination for this registration.

PILOTS SHOW INCREASE

WASHINGTON—At the close of 1931 there were more licensed airplane pilots in the United States than there were planes, a report from the Aeronautics Branch of the U. S. Department of Commerce shows. There were more than 17,700 licensed pilots, and only 10,780 planes. New York had the largest number of planes and California the largest number of pilots.

FRAKES TALKS HERE TONIGHT

CANDIDATE FOR TEXAS GOVERNOR TO MAKE ADDRESS IN CITY

A candidate for governor, the first scheduled to appear on a campaign platform here this year, will speak here tonight.

C. A. Frakes, Port Arthur, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, will speak on the lot north of the city hall and American Legion home. Mr. Frakes, who has resided in the vicinity of Port Arthur 30 years, spoke Monday night in Amarillo.

The Port Arthur man started his speaking campaign at Dalhart Saturday night. From Lubbock he will go to Big Spring for an address Wednesday night. He has made a schedule of 60 addresses in 60 days.

It is estimated that Americans pay $25 per capita annually for all forms of medical attention.

Helps Women Avoid Pains

MORE than half a century of successful use has shown that Cardui helps women to avoid much that they formerly suffered—misery from minor functional disturbances, monthly suffering due to a weakened condition. Cardui acts as a tonic for the system, and tends to improve the general health. It is of especial value to weak, nervous, run-down women, needing just such a strengthening medicine. Those who suffer every month should build up their strength to assist in the natural correction of the painful condition. When you need Cardui, buy a bottle and take it regularly and persistently. Perhaps several bottles will be needed. Finally, may you share the enthusiasm of the thousands of women who have said: "Cardui helped me!"

YES, and the supply of meat and related products stays at about the same level from year to year; this supply was no smaller in 1931 than in 1930.

Thus, in depression years, as in boom years, there is absolute need for a nation-wide, diversified, economical marketing system.

How Swift & Company, with such a system, marketed more pounds of products during 1931 than in 1930, despite low consumer purchasing power and at lower service cost, is told in the 1932 Year Book.

Thirty years ago this company deliberately set out to diversify by handling produce as well as meats. Now it has more than a hundred stations where eggs, poultry and dairy products are bought and processed. Swift & Company enhances demand for produce by advertising brands of high quality, Swift's Premium Milk-Fed Chicken, Golden West Fowl, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs, Cheese and many other products.

Selling and buying on a national scale, the Swift & Company organization avoids the gluts and shortages characteristic of restricted markets. Being diversified, it spreads costs more thinly over all products; the same refrigerator cars are equipped to carry either meat or produce; the same branch houses handle them; the same salesmen take orders for both.

Read in the 1932 Year Book how this diversity helped to stabilize operations, to keep volume normal and to further reduce our marketing costs, already declared by the National Distribution Council in 1925 to be the lowest in seventeen trades studied.

The Year Book is packed with a hundred items of information about Swift & Company's nation-wide cash market. Ask your local Swift Produce Plant for a copy or use the coupon.

WOOL MARKET WILL OPEN

INCREASES IN SHEEP RAISING RESULTS IN YEAR-ROUND MART

J. C. Street of Lubbock is opening here a year-round market for wool, as a result of the constantly increasing number of South Plains farmers raising sheep.

Expert wool classers, with experience in the Plains territory, will grade the wool, and wool buyers will be brought in to bid on the fleecy product.

Heretofore sheep men have experienced difficulty in disposing of the wool at a fair price because regular buyers could not afford to come to this section for such a small quantity.

The wool will be concentrated at a bonded warehouse and when a sufficient quantity is on hand to justify the buyers to come, buyers and the owners will be notified and a date for the bargaining will be set.

Opportunity to ship the wool through the Lone Star Wool-Mohair Co-Operative association will likewise be offered through the Street Marketing organization.

Temperatures as low as 30 degrees below zero have been recorded on Mt. Whitney and 130 above in Death Valley 90 miles away.

CHANGE SPEED RULE

DETROIT.—Because of the recent death of Lowell R. Bayles in his attempt to break the speed record here, the Federation Aeronautique Internationale has decided to change one of the rules governing these speed flights. Under the new ruling the flights can be staged at a height of 247 feet. The height allowed Bayles was 164 feet. It is thought this increased height will allow a pilot more time to "bail out" of his plane should anything go wrong on the course.

TO BUILD U. S. PLANES

KAYSERI, Turkey.—Turkey has contracted for the construction of a line of American airplanes at an airplane factory here. The factory will employ Turkish workmen and American engineers, and planes will be produced along American production lines. The American engineers are going to assist in the development of airways and airports in the nation.

A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Add. 6605 N. TALMAN AVE., CHICAGO.

Adventure

THERE is apathtic touch to the story of the four little boys from New York's East Side who set out to sea on a homemade raft the other day. Police found them as they drifted down the East river. For their own protection the youngsters were odered off the high seas. They are to be envied because they started, but pitied because there isn't anything than can be done to satisfy the buccaneering spirit that would like to chase a pirate and find some hidden gold.

The restricted areas in which a great many people must live today, due to the present economic system, do not provide much room for boys to go adventuring. Quite often there aren't any woods that they can people with Indians. There isn't a pond that can be magnified into something resembling the blue Atlantic. There isn't even a corner lot where they go to bat more dexterously than the heroes whose balls they follow wistfully on the sports pages.

When the spirit of wonderlust grew too strong the four youngsters chose a real river that led to a real ocean to do their voyaging. They didn't expect to find Singapore or Bagdad or Trieste. They were just names on a painted geography map. But they took it for granted that if you went down to the sea in a ship—even a ship made out of boards that were nailed together—something had to happen.

That streak of adventure, buried in everyone of us, never quite goes away. Most people wait, day after day, year after year, hoping that something will happen tomorrow, or the day after that. When it is too late they blame themselves because they didn't try harder to make it happen. The New Yory youngsters are to be congratulated because they had the thrill of building a ship and setting sail. Most boys don't get that far today. The amateur seaman never reached the ocean, of seamen but at least they can always remember that they started.

Thinking Machines

A Harvard University dean declares that what this country needs to pull it out of the economic slough of despond is a "central thinking agency." He is Wallace Brett Donham, dean of Harvard's graduat school of business administration, and he presents this theory in a new book entitled "Business Looks at the Unforseen."

It is Dean Donham's view that men chosen by representatives of the governmntnt, of business, and of labor should constitute this "central thinking agency" to work out plans for the conduct of the economic life of the nation.

As an expert on economics, Dean Donham speaks with authority and is entitled to an audience. His plan, no doubt, has merit. But surely the dean has named the project ill-advisedly.

What the country needs is not a "central thinking agency" but more thinking on the part of individuals. A great deal more thinking! The charge that men and women of the democracy are altogether too prone to let others do their thinking is stressed constantly by all who would raise the national status of health wealth and happiness. Encourage Mr. Average Citizen to be his own "thinking agent" and more of his own troubles will be solved.

They're still talking about what the Democratic party owes John J. Raskob. And there are those who say that regardless of what the amount is, it is small compared to what the Republicans owe him.

THE Abilene Reporter-News of Sunday prints a story to the effect that Dr. Herman G. James, president of the University of South Dakota, is "seen as new head of Texas Tech", but admits in the same article that the thought arose when attendants at the Sweetwater session of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce became enthusiastic over the visiting educator.

"Of course, nothing may come of it", says the Reporter-News, "but in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention hall Saturday a lot of people were saying 'James would make a fine president of Tech—why not?' "

And, on that basis, the Abilene paper printed the Doctor's picture with an overline reading "May Head Tech"!

* * *

Of course Doctor James may head Tech.

So may Nicholas Murray Butler, W. B. Bizzell, Robert Hutchins or John Whoozit—because members of the Tech directorate are combing the country for the one they consider to be "the right man".

But just because the correspondent of the Abilene paper heard a few people laud Doctor James is no reason to go off half-cocked on the story.

Regents will let the world know when they make up their minds.

* * *

GOING back to Doctor James, it is The Plainsman's opinion that Tech directors could do a whole lot worse than to elect as the college's new leader the personable, forceful gentleman from Vermilion, South Dakota. Although he was a member of the faculty at University of Texas 20 years ago, Doctor James doesn't look his age and when he speaks he minces no words. As the Abilene paper said of him, "he is deft, airy, brilliant and intensely modern. His talk is rapid, easy and pungent".

He has a personality which makes one think of the stars of the stage because it seems to smash down from the speakers' rostrum, across the lights and envelop the audience.

* * *

Incidentally, Doctor James is the son of a college president and has an awe-inspiring string of degrees from prominent colleges.

For the benefit of the co-eds it may also be said that he bears a striking resemblance to Robert Montgomery, the movie star, and—like young President Hutchins of the University of Chicago—he smokes cigarets.

* * *

JUST how seriously Tech directors are considering Doctor James—or how seriously Doctor James is considering Tech—The Plainsman does not know. However, while at Sweetwater this writer talked at length with Houston Harte and Clifford Jones, Tech directors, concerning the institution and beyond learning that heaven and earth would be moved to secure a suitable chieftain, learned little else.

Tech directors are talking, thinking, eating and sleeping over this important problem but if they are anywhere near a solution to it they don't mention the fact outside their own circles.

* * *

Incidentally, Lubbock and Tech people who are wondering about the appointment of Mrs. P. N. (Florence) Drane, Corsicana director, as acting president of the college, may be assured that Mrs. Drane has no aspirations to become Tech's permanent leader. She was appointed—as a gallant gesture honoring the only woman director—to sign diplomas and that's all.

An estimable character and a tireless worker for Tech since first becoming a director in 1923, Mrs. Drane certainly deserves the honor she has received. Graduating seniors, deprived by fate from having Doctor Horn's name upon their sheepskins, may well be proud that diplomas bear the name of Mrs. Drane.

A GREAT surgeon and diagnostician had been invited to return to the college from which he had been graduated a quarter century before, to deliver the baccalaureate address. While he was in the college town the dean of the medical school asked him to speak before his classes.

The emminent physician agreed and, at the conclusion of his remarks, he turned the meeting into a roundtable discussion—offering to answer, as best he could, any questions put forth by students.

One freckle-faced kid from the hinterlands took the floor.

"Doctor", he asked, "do you recall, during your long and successful career, that you every made a mistake in surgical diagnosis?"

"Yes", the doctor said, "I recall one instance where I committed a grave error. While I was still young in the game a seedy individual came to my office for an examination. He said he was experiencing pains in the lower right side of his abdomen. I looked him over, noticed his run down shoes and battered hat—then told him he had the bellyache.

"That was my biggest mistake in surgical diagnosis for I found out next day that man had a million dollars—and any man with a million dollars has appendicitis—not the bellyache!"

FIFTY-FOUR YEARS OF PIONEERING ON THE SOUTH PLAINS

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

BY JOHN P. 'JACK' ALLEY, AS TOLD TO FRANK HILL

(Copyright, 1932, By Frank Hill For The Lubbock Daily Journal)

THE FIGHT FOR LAND

By 1900 settlers were coming into West Texas in ever increasing numbers. Small ranchmen were grabbing up land, and farmers were beginning to come in and take up land. Where land was found that was not under lease, a farmer would file on it.

The big ranchmen held most of the Plains land under legitimate leases. When these leases would run out, the little men, known as "nesters", would run in and pitch their tents on the desired ground and file a claim for possession. Since extensive land and grass was necessary in the raising of large herds of cattle this chopping up of the country hurt the cattle raiser. To prevent the breaking up of the leased part of his ranch, Col. Slaughter sent his son, E. Dick Slaughter, to Austin with all the leases about to expire. Dick would have the land commissioner cancel these leases and he would then release in one lump the same land for ten years. The rate was 3 cents an acre.

Dissention Arises

This caused a gulf of dissention to grow between the farmers and the cattlemen. And, this gulf widened when the fight was begun by the settlers to break the lapse-lease. Col. Slaughter, however, though involved more than any other West Texas ranchman, did not let his feelings get the best of him. Though he hated to lose all this land, he took it in comparatively good humor. Bitter feelings arose between some of the smaller ranchmen and the settlers.

Lapse-leasing was stopped as a result of a trial case sent up to the Supreme Court of Texas by J. E. Ketner, long a resident of Tahoka.

A man named Stith had about thirty sections of land under lease in the northeast part of Lynn county. He took out this lease in 1895, but sold it to Slaughter in 1897. Slaughter held it until just before time for expiration and had the lease canceled and then released it for ten years. The law was that when a lease expired the land was open for settlement and the settler had first right to the land if he wanted to file on it. Mr. Ketner, after Slaughter had released this land, came along and settled on two sections, contending that the land had not been opened for settlement at the expiration of the first lease, or at the time of its cancellation, and that therefore the second lease to Slaughter was invalid.

Go To Court

Charley Kitchen, a lawyer at Snyder and a friend of the "nesters", E. H. Yetser of Austin, and other lawyers, went into court for Ketner and made this a test case on the validity of the lapse-lease. The court ruled that a lease holder of state land could not cancel his lease and re-lease before the date of expiration of the first lease. On first thought, this case might seem of little consequence; but, in fact, it had a great deal to do with the breaking up of state-leased ranches over all Texas and the opening up of this country to farming. Possibly millions of acres of good farming land were made accessible to farmers as leases expired.

A new day had come to West Texas. No longer could a ranchman hold leased land without a strong possibility of losing it when the lease expired. Settlers came in faster, and soon this section was becoming a farming country as well as a ranch country.

Land Fights Staged

The ranchmen did not give up their leased lands without a contest. As a result of this case, so-called "land fights" came into being. Most of these took place at Gail, the county site of Borden county, and at Big Spring.

At these places scores of farmers, ranchowners and their cowboys would gather when a block of leases was about to expire. The minute the county clerk's office was opened at the time of the lease expiration, there was a mad scramble between the cattlemen's representatives and the settlers—the settlers to file on the land and the ranchmen to release it or to have their cowboys and friends file on it so that they could have the use of the grass.

Of course the cowmen wanted to keep all the grass they needed at the cheap rental rate, and the farmers sought ownership of land which came to them for only a small fee by filing on it. There were many fist fights, and at time feeling ran so high that there was grave danger of serious conflict and men were searched by officers for firearms.

Slaughter had his cowboys to file on land for him with the understanding that he was to have the grass rights and the first privilege of buying whenever they got ready to sell out their claims. In this way, he could hold land for grazing purposes that would otherwise be filed on by others and pput into farms.

Land Is Split Up

In Lynn county Slaughter had about 200 sections under lease. He told me, "I don't want any of this land at all, but I want you to give it to those that have been friendly to me". I went to various men I knew to have been in sympathy with the cowmen and told them when certain leases were to expipre. Since I had the information as to the location, section numbers and the exact time these leases would expire, and the "nesters" did not, we could go to Lubbock and file on land without any trouble. Many present-day prominent citizens of this section were thus enabled to get their start as property owners in this way.

I filed on four sections of land at Tahoka lake and moved the headquarters house from ten miles east of where Tahoka is now to the spring on the west side of the lake. Four wagons pulled by thirteen yoke of oxen were used to move the house. I operated the ranch for Slaughter until 1906 or '07 and went into the ranching business on my own hook. I added to the four sections until I finally had twenty-two sections of land. The old headquarters place is still standing at Tahoka lake. The ranch was until recently owned by Geo. Wolffarth of Lubbock.

With the coming of farmers and small ranchment in ever increasing numbers ,towns began to spring up over the Plains soon after 1900. Lubbock had already been in existence nearly ten years, but was just a small town. Floydada, Estacado, Old Emma, and Plainview were also among the older towns.

Tahoka Established

Lynn county was organized and Tahoka established in 1903. Tahoka was the first town on the lower South Plains south of Lubbock. B. G. Sweet, one of the owners of Sweet & King store, the first one at Tahoka, Bill Petty, foreman of the T-Bar ranch, and myself formed the Tahoka Townsite company, bought a section of land from a man in Ohio, and sold shares in the proposed city at $25 each. After the election that located the site, all share-holders drew for city lots. Each man was entitled to one lot on the public square and several residence lots.

Gomez was the first county site of Terry county, but was soon followed by Brownfield, Lamesa was also established after Tahoka. And then, several years later, the Santa Fe established Slaton; and C. W. Post built Post City, O'Donnell was named for a man of that name who, with Charley Doak, the first sheriff of Lynn county, founded that city. Wilson got its name from the Wilson county school lands in this county. With the building of the railroads, Seminole, Seagraves, Ropes and Meadow, to the south of Lubbock, were established; and Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo, and Idalou to the east. As everyone knows, Levelland and Littlefield and other towns to the west were established comparatively late.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

DARK HORSES GROOMED

WASHINGTON, May 17—The one thing which seems to have been assured by tht recent Democratic presidential primaries is a hot time in Chicago at the end of June.

Dutcher

It looks more and more like a dog fight. It seems very unlikely that Governor Roosevelt of New York can win on the first ballot and not unlikely that he will be lost in the shuffle while the leaders get their heads together and decide which Democrat they want to oppose Hoover.

* * *

Uncertainties Dominate

Uncertainties now dominate the whole picture, but at the same time it is too early to assume that the New York governor is due to be licked simply because he ran more poorly than he was expected to in California, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. Some of the uncertainties may be resolved in his favor.

There is no question, for instance that Roosevelt will have a better chance to be nominated than Al Smith, who is expected to have the next largest number of delegates on the first ballot, or Speaker Jack Garner, who probably will run third.

Precedent May Be Broken

Roosevelt will have at least four times as many first ballot delegates as Garner, it now appears, and from two to three times as many as Smith. One cannot recall any political convention where the leading candidate entering so far ahead of his next nearest opponent failed to land the nomination.

Even with Roosevelt out of the picture, there would be little or no chance of Smith's nomination, and Garner's prospects wouldn't be much brighter.

The religious issue, which caused the party so much trouble in 1928, militates effectively against Smith, while Garner's victory in California has failed to reinflate the boom for him which was going strong before he lost control of the House in the tax fight.

* * *

Baker, Young, Ritchie

That means that the anti-Roosevelt leaders must build up another candidate who to date, at least, has accumulated no delegate strength which puts him in advance of the "favorite son" group.

Those most often mentioned are Newton D. Baker of Ohio, Governor Ritchie of Maryland, and Owen D. Young.

Unless something is done about it in the meantime, none o fthe trio will appear on the first convention ballot except Ritchie, who will have the 16 delegates from Maryland.

* * *

Fast Work Required

It would seem that some fast, smart and well-planned manipulation will be required in order to discount Roosevelt's big plurality of delegates.

The Roosevelt forces are only whistling to keep up their courage when they say it can't be done, but it may not be done and the old political adage that "you can't beat somebody with nobody" has not yet lost all its force in this fight.

The most important question now is the extent to which the non-Roosevelt votes at Chicago will turn out to be anti-Roosevelt votes. How many of them can be held in line by the anti-Roosevelt crowd, how many can be nabbed by the Roosevelt managers and how many "favorite son" delegates will stand in their track to the end?

* * *

A Roosevelt Problem

There's also the question how long and under what circumstances Roosevelt delegates can be held in line. But that again inspires the thought that the anti-Roosevelt leaders must dish up an attractive candidate for whom there would be something like a concerted leap.

A rough guess now is that Roosevelt will show up with more than 500 votes. His enemies hope they can count on about 400 to hold out against him, leaving about 200 to be scrambled for. The probability still is that a majority—678—will mean nomination for Roosevelt or any other candidate who gets it, regardless of the two-thirds rule.

And once more you wind up impressed with the probable great importance of the 84 votes from New York which Tammany, under the unit rule, expects to cast en bloc—for somebody.

READER ASKS ABOUT HIGH SCHOOL'S RATING

Dear Plainsman: I have heard high school students bragging so often about their new high school that my curiosity has been aroused until I must refer to you for substantiation of their statements.

I didn't believe them at first but several things have made me practically change my mind—among them the fact that I have heard different students use the same facts in their voluble declarations of pride and also the fact that they always give the building the same national rating—second place.

Now I, too, am very proud of this building, but due to the fact that I have seen many school buildings that are more beautiful exteriorly, I still doubt the statement and wish you would inform me of its veracity.

It is sometimes rumored that Dr. Hutchinson made the statement of the rating.

Sincerely yours,
A Reader.

(Dear Reader: School authorities here assure me that high school buildings are not rated as you suggest and that the statements you have heard from students have as their source only natural, youthful pride and exuberance. Lubbock High school is probably the finest in any American city of 21,000 population and is fine enough to exact pride from a city many times that large. Most expensive high school buildings in U. S. probably are Roosevelt at St. Louis, Central at Tulsa.—The Plainsman.)

SPECT IS REMOVED AFTER ARREST FOR ASSAULTING GIRL

OVERTON, May 17 (AP)—Officers night hurriedly took a 45-year- oil field worker to an unan- nced destination as a crowd med quickly after hearing of a minal attack on a three and e-half year old Overton girl.

The girl, shocked and bruised, s under care of physicians. ree doctors agreed that she had n criminally attacked.

The oil field worker brought the bing child back to Overton. Her her learned of the attack and ified officers, who found her as- tant in a cafe. They arrested him. d a crowd of about 150 quickly wded around them. Officers hur- dly left town with the accused n, but did not take him to Hen- rson, the county seat.

OTTON WEEK IS OBSERVED TODAY

"We simply need a market, for- n consumption of our cotton and en we get that cotton will come ck," H. E. Blocker, Lubbock cot- man, told members of the Lub- k Lions club today at the Hil- . He spoke on a program observ- National Cotton week. M. E ard of the textile department at xas Tech, was in charge of the ogram.

The sponsors of the agricultural rketing act knew what was wrong h agriculture before they ever ated the Federal Farm board, t enormous monstrosity," Mr. cker said. "They knew that the h tariff measure had already e its work. The present condi- n of the cotton market can be rged directly to the present high riff charges. We simply need a rket. We shouldn't bother about farm board or the agricultural rketing act, they're virtually d anyway, it's just a matter of rse. What we should do is to te a letter to our congressmen d senators and tell them that the riff should be reduced and that y must vote that way and try influence others. If they can't uce it, they certainly must not se it. It is vital that we get a rket for our cotton and the only y to do that is by increasing con- ption and stimulating foreign de."

Mr. Blocker told of the growth of cotton industry on the South ins, citing Lamb and Hockley nties as the best examples. He d cotton and cotton alone is the in cash crop of this section and recognized as such.

Learning To Fly

YOU NEVER KNOW WHEN TO BELIEVE A FLYING INSTRUCTOR; YOU ARE GOOD, THEN ROTTEN

BY VESTEL B. LOTT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of stories on learning to fly, as taught by Lubbock Airways, Inc., conductor of the New Way School of Flying. Training was done in a Nicholas-Beazley parasol-type plane, with David C. Ruse and Don Bigbee as instructors.)

* * *

You never know when to believe a flying instructor.

One minute he will tell you, "you are rotten as h— today; you don't know what you're doing." And the next minute it will be, "You are doing fine. You'll be soloing before long."

And when he mentions the word "solo" your heart does a neat little loop. You wonder what you would do up in a plane without some one there to tell you what to do and when to do it. You wonder if you could take off and land safely. You are anxious to try it—every flying student is anxious for the time when he can make his first solo—but you have a secret uneasiness.

Learning to fly is like learning to play-golf. Some days you are right and some days you are "off". One day you can step up and smack a 250-yard drive down the middle of the fairway and the next day you'll top the ball. It's the same with flying. Some times you can make a plane take off, bank and land smoothly and easily, and the next day you just can't make the ship behave at all. You feel jerky and nervous and make the plane hop around instead of the flying in the graceful movements that look so simple when someone else has the controls.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 3 to 6 points on southern selling, promoted by the easiness in Liverpool cables. July sold at 5.71.

Initial offerings were fairly well taken by covering and trade buying but the selling continued and some of yesterday's buyers were said to be reselling on the easier ruling of the stock market. Prices sagged off another few points with July declining to 5.68 and December to 6.08 by the end of the first half hour, when the general list showed net losses of about 9 to 12 points.

Liverpool cables said local buying and covering had been supplied by continental liquidation in that market and complained of a small turnover in cotton cloths and yarns. Houses with both Liverpool and continental connections were among sellers here during the early trading.

After selling about 9 to 12 points lower under the early offerings, cotton turned firmer in sympathy with action of the stock and grain markets. Most of the early loss was recovered, with July selling to 5.77 and December to 6.17, or within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations, on covering and rebuying by some of the early sellers. The demand tapered off on the bulge, however, and market at midday was quiet at reactions of 4 or 5 points from the best.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 17 (AP)—The cotton market opened easier owing to lower Liverpool cables than due. First trades showed losses of 2 points. The market continued to ease off after the start owing to weakness in the stock market and to selling on early reports of rain in the southern portion of the belt. July traded down to 5.69, and October to 5.90, or 9 to 10 points below yesterday's close. Toward the end of the first hour the market was somewhat steadier and had recovered 1 to 2 points of the lows.

The market ruled quiet practically all morning. After making a new low at 5.89 for October, or 10 points under the previous close, prices started to rally in sympathy with a recovery in stocks and some trade buying. July advanced to 5.78 and October to 5.98, up nine points from the earlier lows and practically parallel with yesterday's close.

Near midsession prices eased four points from the highs on some profit-taking, but the undertone was steady.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP)—Sympathizing with initial stock market downturns, grain prices sagged early today but the effect proved transient. Rallies accompanied continued unfavorable domestic winter wheat crop advices fro mthe southwest. Opening at 3-8 off to 1-4 up, wheat later showed some setback all around and then rose to well above yesterday's finish. Corn started at 1-4 decline to 1-8 advance, underwent a slight general drop and subsequently scored gains.

The Sons of Freedom, pacificist and industrious as are all members of the brotherhood, were discontent with the action against them. Their belief in the virtue of forgivenness would not countenance direct action against the brotherhood, one of them explained today. They elected to register their indignation by parades in the nude.

The attorney general of the province suggested that if the Sons of Freedom hold a grievance against the community Doukhobors, they take the matter to court.

"No," he was told. "We are Christians, and we forgive them."

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 17. (AP)—The stock market fluttered uncertainly today but seemed more inclined to move forward than to retreat.

After most of yesterday's late upturn had been lost in the first hour, the market rallied briskly, to the accompaniment of fresh rumors of constructive developments in Washington, sold off again on publication of the weekly carloadings figures, but recovered after midday to around the best levels of the morning. U. S. Steel was in the lead.

Oils showed notable strength on the upturn but even the rails, which had been distinctly heavy, joined the procession. Union Pacific and Santa Fe recovered early declines of nearly 3. U. S. Steel got up nearly 2 points. American Can gained more than a point, as did Corn Products and DuPont. The morning upturn in the oils was not well maintained but Standard of N. J. and California and Royal Dutch got up a point or so. American Telephone recovered an early drop of 2 5-8.

REMANDED TO JAIL

After a habeas corpus hearing in county court Monday, Judge E. L. Pitts remanded three negro women to county jail in lieu of fines assessed by Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter.

Testimony in county court Monday showed that Leola Moreland, Carrie Manor and Clara Felter pleaded guilty of vagrancy in justice court April 30 and that each was fined $23.15. They were remanded to jail when they did not pay the fines. Judge Pitts ordered the women returned to jail to serve out the fines at the rate of $1 daily.

DEFEAT OF AL SMITH IN 1928 BEST PROHIBITION REFERENDUM THAT CAN BE DEVISED, DR. WILSON DECLARES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 17 (AP)—An assertion the defeat in 1928 of Alfred E. Smith for president was "the best referendum that can ever be devised" on prohibition, was made last night by Dr. Clarence True Wilson.

Speaking before the quadrennial temperance and prohibition rally of the Methodist general conference at which a letter from Henry Ford endorsing prohibition was read, Dr. Wilson said the drys "should insist that there shall be no referendum on this question until the wets put out a substitute which they think better than prohibition and let the merits of the two systems be examined.

"If they cannot do it," he said, "they aren't ready for a referendum. They should wait until they have something to propose.

Used To It

"The Methodists of the world are not afraid of a referendum on the liquor question. They are used to it."

Dr. Wilson, who is chairman of the Methodist board of temperance, said the dry forces would countenance a referendum on prohibition only if it were strictly according to the constitution.

"All the wets have to do," he said, "is to elect two thirds of the congressmen and senators and submit a substitute for the prohibition amendment. All they have then to do is to elect a majority of both houses in thirty six states and the 18th amendment will back out of the constitution and let the wet substitute march in."

He criticized sharply Mayor Walker of New York for leading "the loose and lawless elements of his misgoverned municipality to tally in a big wet parade."

Dr. Wilson warned a "wet" candidate of the type of former Governor Alfred E. Smith would find dry opposition in this year's presidential campaign no different from 1928.

He invited opponents of prohibition to use the same methods in trying to repeal the 18th amendment as the drys used in having it adopted. He called the future of prohibition "secure, unless the idealism of our nation turns yellow and national morality grows damp enough to mildew."

He branded as "folly" any assertion that restoration of liquor would bring back prosperity and said the real purpose behind the anti-prohibition movement is "to make men so poor they cannot buy bread or find work. The high principle of the Raskobs, Smiths and DuPonts seems to be 'let the poor man's thirst pay the rich man's taxes'."

He mentioned President Hoover's name once, saying the president's statement, "prohibition is an experiment in government, noble in purpose. I wish it to succeed," was not said "like a Methodist would say it."

JAFSIE

numbers of all the ransom currency were kept and have been supplied to banks throughout America. The government was requested today to urge again on bankers the importance of keeping a close watch for this money, only a few bills of which have appeared.

Probes Continue

Two grand jury investigations continued. One was in the county in which the body of the baby was found last Thursday. The other was in the Bronx.

The chief hopes of all investigators rode with the coast guard, combing the seaboard for the mackerel schooner believed to have aboard her members of the gang which Jafsie conducted his ill-fated ransom negotiations.

The coast guard had accurate description of the ship. It had definite knowledge that the craft had been in certain waters recently. Confidence was expressed that sooner or later the ship would be found and seized. When that day arrives, if the belief of Dr. Condon is realized, authorities for the first time will have taken into custody men in a position to shed considerable light on the kidnaping.

RUMORS INVOLVING NURSE ARE DENIED

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—Rumors involving Betty Gow, nurse of the murdered son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, continued to circulate today, apparently broadcast by some obscure radio station whose identity the leading broadcasting companies were unable to check.

Today's story, denied by all official and authentic sources, was that Miss Gow had confessed to throwing the baby out the window to the kidnapers on the ground below. Police have said repeatedly that Miss Gow is in no way implicated in the kidnaping.

A rumor that had spread across the country yesterday was that Miss Gow had committed suicide. A telephone call to the Lindbergh home at Hopewell brought the information that she was alive and in good health.

Other fantastic rumors still circulated, including one dealing with a supposed new figure in the case. Investigation has established that there is no such person.

APPEALING REWARD URGED BY GOVERNOR

TRENTON, N. J., May 17 (AP)—Governor A. Harry Moore advocated today offering a reward for capture of the Lindbergh baby killers "big enough to get someone to squeal."

"We must make the reward appealing," he said, "and then maybe someone will squeal."

The governor recalled that just after the baby was kidnaped the state legislature considered offering $25,000 reward but abandoned the plan at Col. Lindbergh's request.

"We worked with the colonel then," Gov. Moore said. "Now he is working with us."

The legislature reconvenes Monday and it is generally believed some action about a reward will be taken quickly.

MOTIVE IS SOUGHT IN KIDNAPING CASE

TRENTON, N. J., May 17 (AP)—Police, blanketing the Atlantic seaboard in their search for the kidnaper-murderers of the Lindbergh baby, find their investigation handicapped through inability to determine definitely the motive for the crime.

"It is like looking for some one in an impenetrable fog," one official working on the case explained here today. "If we knew the actual motive, then we wouldn't be conducting the search so blindly.

"Clues that we now have would be of much more value and seemingly unimportant evidence might taken on a much more valuable aspect—if only we had the motive of the crime to hook up with them."

Theories Advanced

Dozens of theories have been advanced and many of them are extremely logical. The one given most credence by police is that the crime was committed by gangsters solely for ransom. This is the theory held by Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey.

Though Col. Lindbergh has no known enemies, it was pointed out that a national figure of his prominence may have some foes who might have been brooding over a fancied wrong or slight. But the New Jersey chief executive doesn't believe anyone would have risked such an atrocious crime merely through personal animosity.

His views largely coincide with those of Police Commissioner Mulrooney of New York, in that both believe kidnaping suddenly became the new popular racket with gangsters and racketeers who have suffered financially from prevailing economic conditions.

SUPERINTENDENTS WAIT FOR COMMITTEE ACTION

HOUSTON, May 17. (AP)—The Democratic state executive committee will decide, in its meeting here on May 23, whether county school superintendents must stand in the summer Democratic primary elections to keep their posts, C. N. Shaver, state superintendent of public instructions said here today.

"In 1929 the present county superintendents were elected for terms of four years," Mr. Shaver said. "Since that time a bill was passed that repealed the four year law and gave the officials of each county power to appoint its own superintendent.

"I have talked with the attorney general and he has expressed the opinion that the men now holding positions as county superintendents will not have to put their names on the ballot at the coming elections. I also expect to request the state executive committee to allow a committee of county school superintendents to come before it and present their side of the case."

BUT IT WASN'T THAT KIND OF A BULL FIGHT

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 17. (AP)—When a crowd gathered here over the week-end to witness Oklahoma City's first bull fight they saw two tame bulls refuse to perform, one animal even producing a cud which he calmly chewed to the plaudits of the congregation.

The second bull snorted into the arena and pawed the turf, but when the matador slipped and fell directly in front of the beast, the crowd got its thrill. The bull stopped in its tracks and stepped delicately over the prostrate form.

Then came the climax of the show. A spectator jumped into the arena, grasped a blanket from the toreador and dared the bull to do his worst. Police entered the enclosure and removed the interloper as the crowd cheered.

Two ambulances stood parked on the sidelines during the proceedings. But it wasn't that kind of bull fight.

THREE CONVICTED OF GRAND THEFT

LOS ANGELES, May 17. (AP)—Three men accused of stealing more than a million dollars from the Richfield oil company, which they helped build to the third largest in California, were convicted yesterday on charges of grand theft.

They were James A. Talbot, former chairman of the board; Clarence M. Fuller, former president, and Raymond W. McKee, former vice-president.

The conviction was on an indictment charging theft of $245,325. Still hanging over their heads are indictments on other counts of grand theft, involving more than $700,000.

Suits also are pending against them by surety companies to recover more than $2,500,000.

Judgment was passed by Superior Judge Leon R. Yangwich, who presided without jury over the trial starting April 11. The trial was an amazing story of riches won and lost, lavish expenditures for yachts, airplanes, liquors, gold-plated cockscrews and magnificent gifts.

EVERETT FAIRCHILD IS NEW YEARBOOK EDITOR

Everett Fairchild of Plainview was elected editor of the 1933 La Ventana, Texas Technological college yearbook, Monday in a runoff election, defeating Robert Huff, editor by appointment of this year's book, of San Antonio by a 16-vote margin.

W. R. Underwood, jr., of Albany defeated Jay Timmons of Perryton by 368 to 282 for business manager of the book.

Fairchild received 330 votes and Huff 314, said Don Maddox, student president. A total of 644 votes were cast. The Tech directory lists Fairchild, Underwood and Timmons as sophomores, and Huff as a junior.

RETURN OF SALOON NOT LIKELY, WITNESS SAYS

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—Senator Walsh (D., Mont.), closely questioned former Senator James W. The witness said he thought the states could "be trusted" to prevent restoration of "the old time saloon."

JENNINGS DELIVERS SERMON TO GRADUATES OF LUBBOCK HIGH

LOCAL PASTOR HEARD BY ABOUT THOUSAND PERSONS MONDAY

"What Is Your Ultimate Goal of Life?"

That query was the subject of a commencement sermon addressed to the graduating class of Lubbock High school Monday night by Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church in the high school auditorium.

"Life is not a blind alley; life is a destiny; life is a goal," the minister declared.

About 1,000 Attend

Nearly 1,000 students, faculty members, students' parents and other members of their families, and additional townspeople attended the service. The lower auditorium virtually was filled, and the high school chorus was on the stage. The graduating class, wearing dark gray academic caps and gowns, occupied the front center block of seats. There are about 250 candidates for graduation. Monday night's program began at 8 o'clock. Commencement exercise will be conducted there Wednesday night.

"We are born for the immensities," Rev. Mr. Jennings told the young students. In answer to the present day skepticism that asks what the factory, the church, the school and other institutions are for, the minister quoted Paul, the apostle, who said that these are to work in their different capacities until they come into unity in Christ.

Four Boundaries

The four general boundaries of all lives, as designated by Rev. Mr. Jennings, were "the world view, the self view, the pleasure view and the divine view."

"Christianity holds the center of the stage," declared the speaker. "Back of every profession there must stand a man or a woman who will not shrink from any duty."

"A ship without a port, a traveler without a destination, a building without a plan, a marksman without a mark—these are tragedies.

Life Is a Destiny

"Life is more than a living—it is a destiny. It cannot be fed by bread alone; it demands a wider horizon than time's limits.

"The great need of the world is not money, not more laws, not more offices, not more schemes for human betterment, but just more plain, good men and women, who are fully grown in every department of their being—men and women of individual personal righteousness, sensitive to the presence of God in their souls.

"What Is Your Goal?"

"Multitudes are about us, the people of whom Oliver Wendell Holmes speaks so pathetically 'who die with their music in them.' You today are on your way somewhere; what is your goal? God and the world await your answer."

Soon after commenting that "we have just touched the fringe of the spiritual world," Rev. Mr. Jennings commented:

"If the time ever comes that it (the world) will not have any dreamers, then we will not have any great statesmen, great teachers."

Program Featured

A processional opened the program. The audience next sang "Come, Thou Almighty King." Rev. O. N. Baucom, pastor of Cumberland Presbyterian church, then read from the scriptures and offered prayer. The high school chorus, senior members conspicuous in their somber gowns, sang "Praise Ye." Richard Godeke played a cornet solo, "Rock of Ages," accompanied by the high school band.

The sermon followed. Rev. Mr. Jennings' scriptural text was John 10:10: "And Jesus said, 'I come that you may have life, and that you may have it more abundantly.'"

Following the sermon, the audience sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Benediction was by Rev. Mr. Jennings.

M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, presided. Girl students in semi-formal attire were ushers.

ACCIDENTS OF MODERN TIMES OFFSET PAST

DALLAS, May 17. (AP)—The Texas society of oral surgeons and exodontists was told that while saloon fights and back alley brawls did not exact as high a toll of broken jaws as formerly, the decrease was more than offset by accidents attributable to the wide use of automobiles, airplanes and machinery, products of modern civilization. Dr. J. R. Swanson of Dallas was the speaker.

Dr. E. A Morris of Houston was elected president of the society.

STATE OF FEUDALISM IN KENTUCKY REPORTED

BALTIMORE, May 17 (AP)—Dr. Broadus Mitchell of Johns Hopkins university, back home today from the borders of Bell county, Kentucky, where he went with members of the Civil Liberties union, charged that "a state of feudalism exists in the mining country of southeastern Kentucky with the natives reduced to a state of serfdom comparable to the mediaeval times."

DRY AGENTS DENY THEY WILL RELAX AT MEETS

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Reports from Chicago that prohibition enforcement would be relaxed there during the political conventions next month brought a declaration today from Howard T. Jones, acting director of the enforcement bureau, that there was nothing to it.

"Preposterous," was the way he termed one report that 145 agents would be taken out of the convention city for the month.

DOUMER ASSASSIN SAYS HE WAS HYPNOTIZED

PARIS, May 17 (AP)—Dr. Paul Gorgulov, who assassinated President Paul Doumer, told an examining magistrate today he was in a "kind of hypnotic sleep" when he committed the crime.

"A mystic force armed my hand," he said. "I had no reason whatever to murder M. Doumer. I was in a kind of hypnotic sleep."

Gorgulov informed Magistrate Fougery that he drank a bottle of cognac before going to the war veterans' charity exhibition where he shot the president.

RAIN, SNOW EXTINGUISH CANADA'S FOREST FIRES

NORTH BAY, Ont., May 17 (AP)—Heavy rain and snow have extinguished forest fires in northern Ontario, reports reaching north bay today said.

No further outbreaks of fires have been reported and it was said that, aside from timber destroyed, the loss would be small, as the flames were checked in most places before much property was affected.

Snow was reported today all through the northern area.

STOCKTON, Calif.—A nightstick is scarcely a proper weapon to disperse a swarm of bees. Officer Cassidy will tell you. Called to a parked car in which a swarm was improving each shining hour, Cassidy waived the nightstick vigorously. Then, detecting an air of belligrency among the little creatures, he suddenly remembered a forgotten errand and departed hastily. Some unknown hero subdued the bees with a box and a long pole.

Do you inhale?

Certainly...

7 out of 10 smokers inhale knowingly . . . the other 3 inhale unknowingly

DO you inhale? Seven out of ten smokers know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities!

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this much-avoided subject... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.
