TALCO TV CABLE SYSTEM IS NOW READY FOR OPERATION

Talco T. V. Cable System is now completed and ready for operation, according to Bob Head, manager of Community Cable Company.

The system will offer vastly improved reception to subscribers in the city having either color or black and white receivers. Grade "A" T. V. signals are distributed throughout the city via underground cables installed beneath city streets and state highways. Community Cable Company pays a franchise fee to the City of Talco for the right to occupy the public property, according to Head.

CATV Systems operating in over 2600 other cities and towns in the U. S. have proven that such installations create growth and increase property values by making the communities more desirable places in which to live.

Community Cable Company has General Offices in Deport, and owns and operates cable systems in Deport, Detroit, Bogata, Blossom and Talco.

Residents of Talco are urged to take advantage of the special free trial offer detailed elsewhere in this newspaper.

Austin. — First flurries of activity on the 1968 presidential campaign front remind that it's going to be a long, long political year.

Entry of Sen. Robert Kennedy into the contest for the Democratic nomination set off more speculation than action.

Less than a week after Kennedy's announcement, however, a Beaumont college teacher announced he had accepted an invitation from the senator's office to head up his drive in Texas. Ron Platt, chairman of the small group known as Texas Liberal Democrats and a Lamar Tech assistant professor, said the Texas Committee for Kennedy soon will open an Austin office.

Dissenting Democrats of Texas reaffirmed its support of Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president despite Kennedy's emergence. Co-Chairman Don Allford said DDT welcomes efforts of the Kennedy backers and expects help from them in some areas in opposing President Johnson. DDT claims a force of about 3,000 working to organize precinct conventions for McCarthy.

On the opposite end of the political stage supporters of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace held their state convention here and kicked off their drive for 14,259 signatures to petitions. Petitions are necessary to get Wallace's name on the November ballot as presidential candidate of the new American Party headed in Texas by former State Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston. Signers must not participate in Democratic or Republican primaries or conventions.

State Democratic Committee, meanwhile, has emphasized its support of President Johnson. Gov. John Connally has announced he intends to head a Texas delegation to the national convention committed to the president's renomination.

To date, there is little evidence of any major effort to take the Texas Democratic conventions away from Johnson.

Texas Republicans, already leaning toward Richard Nixon, were left one less choice when Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced he would not campaign for the nomination.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court will hear arguments April 17 on whether Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler should be required to honor the West Texas minerals claim filed by Cobra Oil and Gas Corporation in Pecos, Culberson and Reeves Counties.

Third Court of Civil Appeals agreed with Comal County trial court that a New Braunfels used auto parts and junk dealer had no right to keep the city from fining him for violation of "beautification" ordinances.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld conviction and life sentence of San Antonian Jorge Faldonado for murder of a used car salesman. Same court affirmed the 99-year sentence of a Houston area druggist for possession of heroin.

ATTORNEY GEN. SPEAKS— Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said State Liquor Control Board records and orders should not be made available for public inspection except as the result of legal proceedings. Apparently, he classifies hearings before LCB administrator on violation allegations as legal proceedings.

In other new opinions, Martin concluded that:

• Abolished "city" of La Grulla in Starr County can hold a new incorporation election in less than a year from the date its abolition was resolved in court (last November 15).

• A school district that had issued no unlimited tax bonds can revert to limited tax status under a different statute and issue bonds subject to voter approval.

DRAFT CALL UP — State draft boards must furnish 2,378 men in April and, for the first time in two years, part of the group will go into the U. S. Marine Corps.

Figure compares with the quota of 1,947 for the Army in March and is the largest monthly call for draft boards since October, 1966, when Texas' share was 2,845.

Local boards will send 8,500 men to armed forces examining and entrance stations in April for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas. March total was 7,200.

April induction and pre-induction quotas were mailed to local boards by state Selective Service headquarters in mid-March. National quota for April is 48,000, of which Army will get 44,000 and Marines 4,000. Draftees are in 19-25 age bracket.

MIXED DRINK DEBATE SHAPING UP — One of the great debates of the season seems to be over the method of legalizing sale of liquor-by-drink.

Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, campaigning for governor, argues no constitutional bill can be written on the subject, and that an amendment to the state constitution's "open saloon" ban is necessary to legalize mixed drinks. Eugene Locke is campaigning heavily for local option mixed drinks bill, as has Governor Connally.

Attorney General Martin, called on for advice by the House committee studying liquor laws, sidestepped the issue. He sent the committee the 29-year-old opinions of former Atty. Gen. Gerald Mann that the legislature in defining "open saloons" acted "in obedience to command of the people." While acknowledging the legislature can change laws, Martin suggested that courts, not the attorney general, must test constitutionality of the new "open saloon" definition.

House committee, which is compiling a report for the special session this year, was advised that the Liquor Control Board should be "more forthright" to regain confidence of public.

The interior space of building will be 1205 sq. feet, with 80 sq. feet of platform areas and 5,100 sq. feet of parking area. Estimated cost of the facilities is $22,065.

Pamphlet Available On Airlifting Mail

An illustrated pamphlet—Mail For Servicemen — outlining the expanded program for airlifting letters, packages and other military mail overseas as low postal rates is now available through Deport Post Office window clerks. Postmaster Westbrook announced today.

The Postmaster said that "as a result of new legislation and action by President Johnson we are now airlifting more than 75 per cent of all mail going to the military men and women stationed abroad. We hope this guide will help more American families be familiar with these services and use them."

The eight-page pamphlet illustrates three services for airlifting parcels at rates the average family can afford, the speedy service now available for newspapers and news magazines to most overseas bases, the special rates for books and similar educational materials, and how to mail sound-recorded personal messages. The guide also provides parcel wrapping instructions, information on the time it takes parcels to reach Vietnam and other overseas bases from major U. S. cities, and pointers on the correct way to address military mail.

A family sending a 10-pound package from Talco to Vietnam, for example, pays only $3.10 on a package marked "PAL," while the air parcel rate for the same package is $7.31, the Postmaster said.

On parcels weighing less than 5 pounds it might be more advantageous for a family to use the older (SAM) Space Available mail service, which provides surface transportation to the port of embarkation and airlift overseas. A four-pound SAM package to a European military post from Talco costs only $1.00. Two packages weighing under two pounds air parcel post is often the patron's "best buy" for through airlift service, the pamphlet suggests.

an electric dishwasher can save plenty

And the savings are impressive. You'll save on dish breakage because you'll save on dish handling. Simply whisk away food scraps and put the dishes in the automatic dishwasher. They are gently but thoroughly washed, scalded, dried and stored until needed again. An electric dishwasher offers savings you can feel, too... no more red, rough hands. And one of the biggest savings is in time... over 200 hours in a single year. Think what you could do with that extra time! Once you've enjoyed all the savings an electric dishwasher has to offer, you'll wonder how you ever lived without one. See your appliance dealer soon.
