Eighth Takes Rimini, Way To Po Opens

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE EIGHT ARMY IN RIMINI, Italy, Sept. 21. — Greek troops hoisted their flags on the main postoffice of Rimini today and the last German hope of holding the Eighth Army away from the Po valley lay crushed in the desolate ruin of this once-beautiful resort and port city.

Gen. Heidrich's parachutists were pulling out of Rimini this morning after Canadian forces had moved up west of the city with such speed and determination that the port, once the Adriatic anchor of the Gothic line, no longer was tenable.

The Greeks went quickly to work cleaning out the few snipers left behind.

AUAUMN RAINS SLOW OFFENSIVE ON GOTHIC

ROME, Sept. 21. (AP)—Autumn rains slowed the Allied offensive against the Gothic line today but Greek troops of the Eighth Army fought on into the Adriatic stronghold of Rimini and American forces punched a deep wedge into the heart of the enemy's defenses north of Florence.

The low-hanging clouds, however, were not able to prevent waves of British battle planes from sweeping in low and hammering Nazi gun emplacements and other fortifications in the path of British and Canadian troops executing a flanking maneuver against Rimini.

Unprecedented Climax

(A German radio commentator said Allied use of planes and other battle equipment in the Rimini sector "reached an unprecedented climax in Italy . . . literally resembling an orgy.")

Allied headquarters described the fighting both on the Fifth and Eighth Army fronts as intense and said the Nazis were "clinging desperately" to their defensive positions.

The long-awaited cracking of the enemy's defenses at the eastern end of the Gothic line appeared near. Canadians, thrusting northwestward, broke through carefully prepared Nazi positions southwest of Rimini and reached San Lorenzo, less than two miles from the port.

British troops beat off fierce Nazi counterattacks at Ceriano and reached the outskirts of San Marino, chief city of the little republic of the same name.

Death Penalty Is Assessed Caruso

ROME, Sept. 21. (AP) — Pietro Caruso, police chief in Rome during four months of German occupation, today was sentenced to die by being shot in the back for his collaboration with the Nazis. It was the first war criminal trial in Italy.

The high court of justice condemned Roberto Occhietto, Caruso's secretary and co-defendant, to 30 years' imprisonment on the same charge.

Called "Wild Beasts"

The eight-man high court of justice presided over by Judge Lorenzo Marioni heard prosecutor Marie Berlinguer characterize the two defendants as "wild beasts" and the verdicts were announced after a two hours' deliveration.

Caruso — convicted of turning over to the Germans 50 of 335 hostages executed by the Nazis at Fosse Ardeatine last March — turned pale as Maroni pronounced the death sentence.

Occhietto, who was accused of attending a German sabotage school in the Netherlands, unconcernedly chewed gum as the court found him guilty. Earlier, however, Caruso's secretary had wept and buried his face in his handkerchief as his counsel pleaded for leniency.

Courtroom Tense

The courtroom was tense as the judges filed in but there was no demonstration from the spectators, hand-picked by the six political parties. A row of carabinieri separated the spectators from the judges, the accused and newsmen.

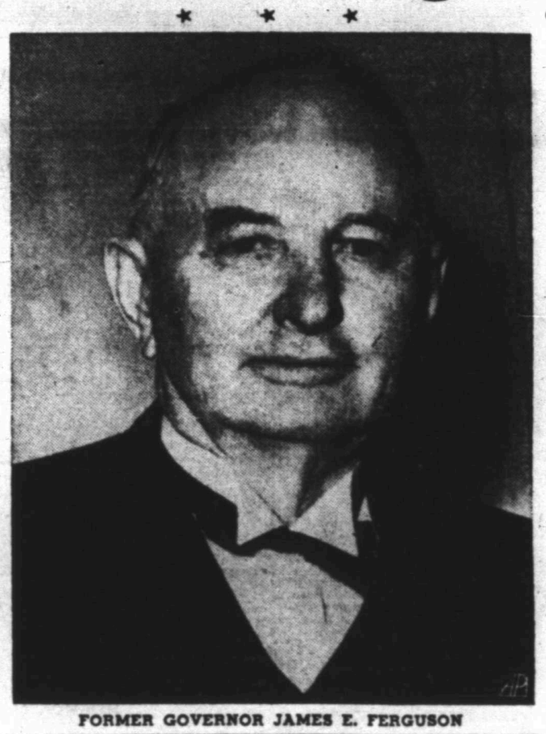

The judges convicted Caruso specifically on the charge of turning over the hostages; entering the church of San Paolo Fuori Le Mura last February in violation of the Vatican's extra-territorial rights; seizing Italian citizens for labor battalions and having authorized Occhietto and others to attend the Netherlands school for saboteurs.

Death Closes Colorful And Turbulent Ferguson Career

FORMER GOVERNOR JAMES E. FERGUSON

Ex-Governor Dies At Austin Home

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 21. — Supreme episcopal funeral rites will be said tomorrow for former Governor James E. Ferguson, 73, veteran of a turbulent Texas political era, who died at his Austin home today.

Death came to Ferguson, twice governor and long an indomitable figure in Texas politics, at 2:45 p. m., terminating an illness that began with a stroke last February.

At the home were immediate members of his family including his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, also twice governor of Texas, and two daughters, Mrs. Ouide Ferguson Nalle and Mrs. Dorrance Ferguson Watt, both of Austin.

Services At The Home

Funeral services will be held at the home, a two-story stucco structure in Austin's Enfield residential section, at 5 p. m. with the Rev. Richard S. Martin of the Church of the Good Shepherd officiating. Burial will be in the state cemetery here.

Pallbearers will include T. H. McGregor of Austin, Charles Spradley of Dallas, Roy Sanderford of Belton, Ray Starnes of Gladewater, Hilmer Weinert of Seguin, Charles Goukus of Houston, Luther Bickett of San Antonio, Dr. Charles Reese of Houston, John Bickett of Dallas, Frank Fitzpatrick of Waco, and Ghent Sanderford, Holland Page, Jerome Sneed, James H. Davis, Judge J. D. Harvey, Judge C. G. Krueger, Alex Fitzpatrick, Rames E. Motheral and Frank Scofield, all of Austin.

The family requested that flowers be omitted. They suggested that growing flowers and shrubs be sent, instead to McCloskey General hospital, Temple, for beautification of that institution's grounds, a project Ferguson himself had recently expressed a desire to assist in.

Coined Political Language

Ferguson contributed many chapters to Texas' sometimes turbulent political scene. He also coined some of its political language.

The Ferguson "vest pocket vote" became for a time a by-word in a state where the tall, dark-clad Ferguson was the big figure in politics for a quarter of a century.

"Me for Ma" and "two governors for the price of one" were symbolic keywords of his time.

He came from a central Texas black land farm to eventually take a dominant political role.

Before age began to dim him he was twice elected governor; impeached and removed from office in his second term; defeated as a presidential nominee of a party he organized; saw his wife twice elected governor and defeated three times, the last time in 1940.

Beaten By O'Daniel

As recently as 1940 his wife sought Democratic nomination as governor but ran fourth in a field paced by W. Lee O'Daniel.

The Ferguson vest pocket vote had dwindled to a little more than 100,000.

But the Ferguson name was an ever present threat in politics for nearly 30 years. After his disbarment from holding office in 1924 by the Supreme court of Texas Ferguson repeatedly tried to remove the ban. He obtained passage of an amnesty act during his wife's first administration. The act was repealed after she left office.

As late as 1941 Ferguson eyed a political comeback. He made a

U. S. Judge Grants Humble Injunction

DALLAS, Sept. 21 (AP) — The federal government today was enjoined from seizure of the Humble Oil and Refining company refinery at Ingleside, Tex., in a decision by Federal Judge William H. Atwell in which he found "all the equities" and "the public interest" to be with the company.

"The safety of our war machine is not entirely with the plaintiff (Humble company), but at least partially with the plaintiff," Judge Atwell declared. "No harm can come by restraining the defendants. Serious harm might come if a temporary injunction were not granted."

Fight On WLB Order

The legal battle began when the federal government, Humble alleged, thraetened seizure of the plant to enforce compliance with a War Labor board order to the company to insert a maintenance of membership clause in its 1944 contract with the United Oil Workers union, CIO, at Ingleside.

"The testimony," said Judge Atwell, "drives the court to find as a fact, that unlawful and illegal sanctions were imposed. Such sanctions were being carried out. Threats were made to seize the plaintiff's property at Ingleside.

"Those who claim a refuge in Washington, in certain marked instances, communicated with the agents, or, with the plaintiff in Texas . . . They, likewise, came into Texas. They declined to talk of the merits of the order with reference to the sanctions that had been imposed. They demanded immediate compliance by the insertion of a membership clause in the war contract . . . They were in positions of power. They were advisors of the President . . . They may not be excused, nor said to be harmless, nor said to be beyond the reach of a court of equity, because the ultimate and final decision would come from the chief executive of the nation . . . That the man does not mean to shoot who holds the gun, may not be a defense for his illegal act."

Not Beyond Court Reach

Judge Atwell continued, "the second position of the defendants is that they are beyond the reach of the court's jurisdiction, because they reside in Washington. Injunctive restraint must be observed by the whole world . . . Equity is not a weakling. It is a strong, well-matured, thoughtful, all-seeing, careful protector against turmoil and disturbance and destruction of the citizen's rights, liberties and freedoms."

To the position of the government that the plant "might or might not" be seized, Judge At-

Russian Press Berates Finns

By DANIEL DELUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Sept. 21. — German troops have been permitted to remain in Finland unmolested since Sept. 15 despite a pre-armistice promise the Finns made to intern or drive out all Nazi soldiers by that day, Russian newspapers charged today.

"The Germans haven't left Finnish territory yet and it is obvious that they intend to offer resistance," Izvestia declared.

Pravda, joining Izvestia in accusing the Helsinki government of breach of faith, said:

None Handed Over

"Although one week has passed not a single German soldier has been handed over to the Allies. Hitler's radio Berlin continues to broadcast all over the world that German troops are evacuating Finnish territory with the officious aid of Finnish authorities."

The armistice signed Tuesday was seen here as putting Finland on probation whereby she could be assured sovereignty and independence only by faithful fulfillment of her obligations.

Under the terms, withdrawal of the Finnish arms to the 1940 frontier was begun today.

U.S. Heavies Hammer Nazi Plants, Lines

By A. I. GOLDBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, Sept. 22 — More than 1,000 U. S. heavy bombers and fighters struck through dismal flying weather at the Nazis' synthetic oil plant in Ludwigshafen again yesterday while other Allied planes hammered German communications behind the Siegfried line and dropped Polish paratroopers and supplies in Holland.

Over Nijmegen, where heavy land fighting was raging, the German Air force fought equally desperate battles in the sky but Thunderbolt fighters of the U. S. Eighth Air force shot down 20 Nazis at a cost of four American planes.

No Fighter Opposition

The U. S. heavy bombers, in hitting Ludwigshafen and the rail feeder cities of Mainz and Coblenz, met no fighter opposition and only moderate flak. Three bombers were lost.

U. S. Ninth Air force fighter bombers made more than 400 sorties during the day, at least half of them in the sector between Cologne and Trier. Five planes were missing from the operations in the Metz-Mannheim area.

Since Friday night, at the beginning of the huge sky operation which dropped an army behind the Nazi lines in Holland, Allied airmen have flown more than 12,000 sorties in support of that blow.

During the night RAF bombers dropped between 3,360 and 4,480 tons of explosives on a German garrison besieged at Calais, 22 miles across the channel from the British coast. This two and one-half hour attack by rocket-firing Typhoons sprayed the Nazi gun positions in the port.

Hundreds From Italy

From Italy, hundreds of Flying Fortresses and Liberators roared over Yugoslavia and Hungary, attacking Nazi communications lines not far from Soviet spearheads advancing through the Balkans.

The Fortresses spread explosives on Debrecen and Bekescsaba rail yards in eastern Hungary, while Liberators attacked bridges over the upper Tisza river at Kiskore and Tisza, fired on by-pass lines from Budapest to the Transylvanian front and also a bridge over the Danube at Baja, 80 miles south of Budapest.

Another formation of Liberators totalling up to 500 bombed Novisad rail bridge over the Yugoslav Danube 40 miles northwest of Belgrade, and Lightning fighters made a low-level bombing raid an Osijek railyards in Yugoslavia due south of Budapest.

Harvest Ceiling Is Favored At Paducah

PADUCAH, Sept. 21, (AP) — Twenty one counties here today concurred in a ceiling price on pulling cotton, but delegates from Wichita county rejected the proposal.

The assembly here voted to retain Wichita in the block of counties despite the delegates' motion for withdrawal.

Galveston Shrimp Fishing Resumed

GALVESTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—Galveston's shrimp fishing industry resumed its customary activity today when boat after boat docked here to unload its catch for which the Galveston fisheries was paying full OPA prices, according to grade.

With the assurance of obtaining such prices, some 18 trawlers were out yesterday and those returning brought in several thousands to be headed, packed in 100-pound containers and shipped out to markets which have been almost bare of supplies nearly a month.

Local shrimp fishermen suspended operations Aug. 22 when wholesale buyers here refused to meet their demand that OPA prices be paid here the same as along the Louisiana-Mississippi-Alabama coasts and in the absence of any indication that their demands would be met remained until yesterday when assured that the new buyers would pay the official scale of prices.

Third Fleet Batters Area

26 Others Probably Sunk, 205 Planes Destroyed As Carriers Strike Harbor

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Sept. 21—Carrying the war back to Manila for the first time since the fall of Corregidor, carrier planes of the Halsey-Mitscher Third Fleet fought their way through skies filled with Japanese planes to sink 11 ships, probably sink 26 more and wipe out 205 aircraft yesterday.

Unchallenged by Japan's Navy, the American fleet was unscathed as it poured aerial might at such familiar places as Clark and Nichols fields and Cavite naval base, knocking down 110 of the Nipponese interceptors while losing only 15 planes.

The spectacular triumph, the first dealt in the Manila sector since April 15, 1942 — after the fall of Bataan but before the fall of Corregidor—was announced in a special communique tonight by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

The raiders wreaked considerable destruction on Japanese naval installations and probably destroyed a floating drydock.

Nimitz reported collection of the first installment on the huge debt to be exacted from the Japanese in the northern Philippines.

This severe damage was inflicted in a strongly defended area despite a big umbrella of planes the Japanese sent to intercept American aircraft from Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's fleet carrier task force.

One hundred ten enemy aircraft were shot down in aerial dogfights and 95 more destroyed on historic Clark and Nichols airfields, Manila.

The shipping was caught at Cavite naval base in Manila Bay.

Admiral Nimitz' communique reported that this daring strike by Adm. William F. Halsey, jr's Third Fleet, which includes Mitscher's aircraft carriers, sank these ships:

One large destroyer leader, four large oil tankers, one small whale tanker, two large cargo ships, one medium cargo ship, two small cargo ships.

Ships damaged and probably

Yanks Save Bridge And Drive Roars On

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Sept. 21—American airborne troops in a dramatic coup seized the vital lower Rhine bridge at Nijmegen intact today and British tanks raced over it and deep into Holland through enemy defenses guarding Nazi industrial might in the Ruhr valley.

(The Berlin radio said British troops fought on north to a junction with British airborne forces at Arnhem, and the German transocean agency said the city was in flames.)

Wiring Jerked Loose

As American parachute troops and gliderborne infantry dashed out on the bridge and jerked loose the enemy's demolition charges, the British Second Army attacked simultaneously from the south, pouring out of shell-torn Nijmegen against the German defenders.

How the Americans got across to the north bank of the Waal Rhine to accomplish this daring feat was not immediately learned at supreme headquarters, but, their valor saved the Allies from a time-consuming setback in the battle of Holland.

The crossing occurred some time yesterday, and when British guns on the other side signalled the attack they dashed from hiding screaming their battle cry of "Geronimo."

Now the battle has swung toward Arnhem, eight miles north, where the British Second Army hopes to come to the relief of hard-pressed airborne units which are believed holding a bridge

Soviets Menace Estonia Capital

LONDON, Friday, Sept. 22. — Russian troops racing across the top of Estonia at a mile-an-hour clip yesterday drove to within 45 miles of Tallinn, Estonian capital, as another powerful Red Army swept down the western slopes of Romania's mountain chain and reached the great Hungarian plain only 48 miles from Szeged, Hungary's second city.

Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukraine Army in western Romania was only 17 miles from Hungary's pre-war frontier and 138 miles from the bomb-shattered Hungarian capital of Budapest.

To Cross Border Soon

His men were expected to cross the Hungarian border soon with the double aim of trapping from the rear all the German and Hungarian forces pinned down in northern Transylvania, and knocking out Hungary, last big satellite nation still in Germany's camp.

Although Moscow was silent on the great impending decision at Warsaw, in the center of the long eastern front, Berlin indicated that the Russians had established bridgeheads on the western bank of the Vistula river just north and south of the ruined Polish capital.

On the Estonian front, Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army had ripped to pieces the Nazi defenses, sweeping through 300 more towns and villages yesterday for a five-day total of 2,100. Soviet front reports described the Nazi retreat as a rout.

The imperilled two Nazi Baltic armies originally were estimated at 200,000, but their number is believed to have shrunk considerably.

A midnight Soviet bulletin said

Japs, Tough Terrain Check Island Drive

By DEAN SHEDLER
Associated Press War Editor

American Marines made only "minor gains" in an artillery-screened attack against strongly entrenched Japanese on the west coast of Peleliu island, in the southern Palaus, a Navy communique reported last night.

Simultaneously, the German radio reported a new B-29 Superfortress raid Wednesday on Kyushu, southernmost of the main Japanese islands, where steel and shipbuilding installations have been hit before. There was no Allied confirmation.

Hold Entire East Coast

The First Marines held Peleliu's entire east coast. Progress was virtually halted on the west flank, however, by the combination of brutal terrain and stiff Japanese resistance.

The Americans hold control of Peleliu's entire southern half, including a peninsula jutting eastward, as well as Ngabad and another unnamed island off the south coast. The Japanese still hold the northern end of the island, behind their defenses in the rugged wooden Umurbrogol mountains, beginning a few hundred yards north of Peleliu airdrome.

A dispatch from AP war correspondent Llef Erickson quoted Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, commanding the Third Amphibious corps, as saying "this terrain on Peleliu is the toughest I've ever seen—by far."

Terrain Very Tough

Erickson said 200-foot high blades of mountain with narrow floored ravines broken with cross walls like a waffle iron—all bare rock—were sheltering hard fighting enemy troops. Some enemy emplacements were reinforced concrete structures, housing such armament as eight-inch naval rifles.

A British carrier raid Monday on Sigli, a pivotal point on the northern tip of Sumatra, left that Japanese position defenseless and pilots who whipped over the Dutch East Indies possession unopposed declared it a "dead island." The Japanese made no interference by sea or air.

The turbulent Asiatic front was being tightened following recent enemy successes against Allied troops. The Chinese Central News agency said Gen. Chen Mu-Nung, commander of the 93rd Chinese

'Must' Munitions Behind Schedule

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Too much concern with prospective peacetime production thus far has balked government efforts to enlist 217,000 new workers in "must" munitions programs that are behind schedule, Acting Chairman J. A. Krug of the War Production board reported today.

"The controlled hiring plan will meet the problem," he told a news conference, "if we can counteract the tendency of everyone to think in terms of next year's automobiles instead of this year's war."

Deficit Still As Great

Krug said "some headway" had been made in channeling labor into the 2,000 plants making the critical goods, but expanding demands have left the deficit about as great as it was three months ago.

Although an increase of 24 per cent in heavy tire production was marked up by the rubber industry in August, Krug listed truck and bus tires and the following other products as among those held back by manpower troubles; steel for big shells, heavy trucks, combat transports and combat cargo carriers, foundry products, airborne radar, and heavy artillery.

The public relations office said the escapees, one from Camp Normoyle, San Antonio, and the other From Bergstrom Field, Austin, had been picked up on AWOL charges.

Stockman's Funeral Is Set At Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 21. (AP) — Funeral services for William Kennedy Smith, 45, prominent livestock and cattle man and a member of Smith, Morrison and Salois, accountants, will be held here tomorrow.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, a member of the board of directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association, and a director of the National Livestock Tax committee.

Sherwood Denies He's Back For Campaign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Robert Sherwood, who recently returned from Europe, said today he did not come back to assist in writing campaign speeches for President Roosevelt as he did prior to his appointment as overseas director of the Office of War Information.

"It ain't true," the noted playwrite said in response to a question.

Sgt. L. H. Liston, a former Senior High school teacher, is in the physical training program at Lubbock Army Air field.

Lt. Byron Chappell, who taught mathematics and physical education in Junior High school before going into the service a year and a half ago, is navigator on a B-24. His wife, who teaches speech in Senior High school, recently received an APO number for him. Mrs. Chappell and son, Jackie, 2, are living with Lt. Chappell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Chappell, 1617 Eighteenth.

Miss Lottie Croslin, WAVE, formerly K. Carter teacher, is stationed at Chase field, Beeville, Tex. She joined the WAVES in March, 1943.

Catherine Royalty, WAVE, special (m) 3/c, daughter of Mrs. Lyda Royalty, 2411 Fifteenth, is working in the fleet postoffice at San Francisco. She obtained leave from Junior High school and enlisted in January. She received her early training at Hunter college and Sampson Naval base.

Lt. Ray Hynds, Junior High school English teacher, is an orientation officer and was at Dodge City, Kas., Army Air field more than a year before going to a port of embarkation a month ago. His wife, the former Miss Geraldine Watson, is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Watson, 2214 Seventeenth.

Three Already Discharged

Three teachers, Milton Greer, Ceril Batton and Dixie White, served in the armed services but recently were discharged. Dr. W. B. Irwin, superintendent of Lubbock schools before entering the Army as a captain, is now on inactive duty and in September became assistant superintendent of Highland Park schools in Dallas.

White is a coach at Senior High school this year and Batton is a member of Junior High school faculty. Greer, former K. Carter teacher, is employed in California, friends said.

Two teachers from the Dunbar school (negro), Damon Hill and Rufus Carmical, respectively, are in the Navy and Marines. Hill was in Trinidad six months and is now in California. Carmical is stationed in North Carolina.

Lynn Already Over Top In Chest Drive

Announcement was made Thursday in a meeting of War Chest leaders of the 18-county Lubbock region meeting at South Plains Army Air field that Lynn county is first in the region, possibly first in Texas, to go over the top in the 1944 War Chest drive, slated to begin formally Oct. 10.

Lynn's quota was $5,412, and $6,100 was raised. The advance campaign was handled by Wallace Kohler and W. E. "Happy" Smith, both of Tahoka.

Quota for the region is $119,949, with $56,505 allotted to Lubbock county.

Heading the conference were Chas. Whitacre, Lubbock, regional chairman, and Wayland Towner, Austin, manager of the United War Chest of Texas. Towner briefly outlined work of principal agencies financed by the United War Chest—among them USO, War Prisoners' Aid, United Seaman's Service and China Relief.

Three new agencies were added this year to the 19 already served by the fund, American Field Service, Philippine War Relief and United Lithuanian Relief Fund.

Work of agencies serving the American soldier was praised by Cpl. Richard Reno, U. S. Army infantry, wounded at Salerno and now confined to McCloskey General hospital, Temple.

Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer at SPAAF, welcomed visitors to the field, offered cooperation of field personnel and conveyed an offer of service by members of the post women's clubs. A tour of the air field was conducted by Lt. Martin Mayer, public relations officer, in the afternoon.

House Group Indicates Favor Of Increase In Selling Price Of Oil

AUSTIN, Sept. 21. (AP) — Members of the House Small business sub-committee which closed a hearing here today, informally expressed favor for an increase in the selling price of oil.

Wright Patman (D-Tex) chairman, said that no statement would be issued, however, until members returned to Washington and presented findings to the other members of the committee.

Witnesses who testified were uanimous in their opinion operating costs have almost doubled in the past three years, while the price of oil had been frozen at a level which requires producers to sell for less than the cost of replacement investment in the ground.

Abandoning Wells

Bryan Payne of Tyler, independent operator and president of the Salt Water Injection Co., said that in East Texas independents are abandoning wells at the rate of 50 per month and that in the next two years nearly 1,500 wells will be plugged in that area alone.

Payne said operating cost had increased 50 per cent to 100 per cent, and if it were not for high allowables, many more companies would be forced to shut down than already have been forced out of business.

Al Buchanan, San Antonio, drilling contractor and producer reiterated that high labor costs, shortage of replacement parts, and low price ceilings, have crippled the oil business.

L. M. Glasco of Dallas, West Texas independent operator, who sells all his products to the Magnolia company, gave a resume of a proposed pipeline from the Permian base into Los Angeles.

Approval Held Up

Under the name "Pacific Pipeline corporation," Glasco said an effort was made to get this project approved, but it had not received government approval. Washington objected that it could not be finished until late in 1945. Engineers on the project figure it could be completed in six months, said Glasco.

L. A. Lawshe of San Antonio, associated with Buchanan, said direct labor cost (executive of office overhead) had increased from $131.02 a day in 1938 to $225.74 in 1944.

A. E. Herrman of Amarillo, Panhandle drilling contractor and producer, stated that since 1940 his costs have increased as follows: development 76 per cent; replacement of equipment 12 per cent; overall labor 51 per cent; lifting 62 per cent.

(The equipment increase is low, explained Herrman, because it is almost impossible to secure new parts.)

Pay Of Workmen

In 1939, said Herrman, drillers made $1.22 an hour; now they earn $2.08 an hour with time and a half for overtime. Roughnecks pay has increased from .72 an hour to $1.41, he added.

"Some roughnecks (a field labor helper) are earning as much as $500 and $600 a month," said Herrman. Rep. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) commented: "Roughnecks are coming up in the world."

Herrman said there was no profit to be had in the present oil subsidy. "If there is going to be a subsidy it should be given to the refineries that will be squeezed because of the price increase."

Patman said that since a subsidy for refineries had been advocated he had received "apprehensive telegrams from refiners.

Secretary Stimson Is 77 Years Old Thursday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP) — Secretary of War Stimson, the elder of the cabinet, was 77 years old today.

Newspaper correspondents covering the Pentagon remembered and opened the secretary's regular Thursday news conference with a rendition of "Happy birthday, dear Henry; happy birthday to you!"

It was pretty much off-key, but Stimson grinned, said he was very grateful, and added; "After this everything will seem drab."

600, Including Nazis, Die In Brest Shelter

By BARBARA WACE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH U. S. INFANTRY INSIDE BREST, Sept. 16. (Delayed) — A Frenchman who escaped from the occupied section of Brest told me today that 600 bickering German parachute troopers and todt workers and a number of French civilians were killed together when shells from besieging Allied guns exploded an ammunition dump near their underground shelter right inside the city walls," the Frenchman reported. "The Germans came, and commandeered half of our shelter for themselves. It soon was filled with todt workers who had been drinking all night. In our half were French civilians, including the mayor and Red Cross workers."

The French eye-witness said parachutists appeared in the shelter and ordered the todt workers to help fight the besieging forces. The laborers refused, and while Allied shells screamed overhead a fierce quarrel proceeded.

Suddenly a todt worker dashed to the French side crying:

"The ammunition dump is hit. Run!"

It was then that the Frenchman whom I talked escaped. A terrific explosion followed which he said killed all who remained in the shelter.

Roosevelt Requests Missouri River Job

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt urged Congress today to establish a plan of development of the Missouri river basin similar to that in the Tennessee valley, and renewed former pleas for setting up Arkansas and Columbia river development organizations.

He sent to Congress a resolution adopted by all the Missouri river states except Iowa—whose representative was absent at the time the vote was taken—advocating a coordinated plan to develop that region "for the greatest benefit of its citizens both present and future, and for the greatest benefit to the United States."

MISSING CADETS

AFTER three and one-half years of existence, the flying school at Stamford has been closed and residents are remarking how quiet it seems since the yound men are gone.

Someone writing an editorial in the Stamford American says "quiet" isn't exactly the word. Continuing:

On the streets, at church or public gatherings, in our homes they were welcomed guests in our midst. They were good-mannered, cordial youngsters, making the best of war and keeping their chins up when they were discouraged over their flying or homesick for Mom and Pop or the Girl back home. Just to have them among us was a joy and inspiration. No, it isn't that the town is quiet. We're just kind of lonely. The cadets sort of took the place of our own boys who are gone. Now both are gone. We must find our consolation in the fact that the closing of the flying school means the war is going well, that the return of our own boys is nearer.

That will be somewhat the experience that awaits those of us who have known and admired the cadets, officers and enlisted men at the bases near Lubbock. A number of men who moved their families here have entered so much into the life of our city, it actually brings an ache when we think of them being gone.

TOMATO JUICE

SINCE this is "tomato juice canning time" and there are such high points on commercially canned juice, Mrs. L. A. Kerr, 1523 Twenty-eighth, thought she would like to share a recipe she has with other Lubbock women.

Mrs. Kerr says this recipe seems about as near fool proof as one could ask. It is tasteful, does not separate and has been praised by Mr. Kerr who is her most severe, if kindest, critic.

She peels the tomatoes and prepares them as if for canning, removing any hard places, etc. This recipe calls for about one-half bushel. After placing the tomatoes in a porcelain pan and boiling them until they begin to come apart, Mrs. Kerr removes them from the fire and strains them through a ricer in order to use as much pulp as possible. She has about seven quarts of juice.

Next she takes two-thirds cup of sugar, 3 tablespoons salt and 2 teaspoons each of allspice and celery seed, the latter two being tied together in a little cheesecloth bag. Add to tomato mixture, pour in pan and set on fire, boiling for about twenty or thirty minues or until the mixture is thickened. Stir constantly, Mrs. Kerr warns.

Remove from stove and pour into hot, sterilized jars. She puts the hot jars in a pan in which she has placed a cloth. Seal. This makes about six and one-half quarts, Mrs. Kerr says.

Dewey Calls For Drastic Shifts In "Our Repressive Tax Laws"

By GARDNER BRIDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—Drastic revision of what he called "our repressive tax laws" was called for by Thomas E. Dewey tonight as he outlined his program for a free American economy, gently guided by a benevolent government.

"We must have the kind of taxes that do not discourage, but encourage men to start new businesses," he declared, "and to expand old businesses."

The Republican presidential nominee, in a prepared speech broadcast over the nation, said present tax laws operate "to penalize incentive and to put a brake upon the kind of enterprise that makes job opportunities."

Stimulate Efforts

He depicted an economy in which government functions only to stimulate the efforts of private businessmen and farmers, thus providing jobs for all.

But, he declared:

"If any time there are not sufficient jobs in private employment to go around, then government can and must create additional job opportunities."

There was no amplification of this passage, which some critics immediately seized upon as advocating another WPA, but at another point Dewey declared jobs for everyone cannot be found in government itself.

Says New Deal Fails

In his third major speech of this week's campaign swing down the Pacific coast, the candidate told a crowd in the municipal auditorium that the New Deal has "failed utterly" to solve the problem of economic security and political freedom.

"Saturated as it is with the defeatist theory that America is past its prime," he said, "the New Deal can see only two possibilities for America—ever increasing regimentation as one alternative, and reaction as the other. . . .

Declaring government is committed to some degree of economic direction "whether we like it or not," Dewey said "certain government measures to influence broad economic conditions are both desirable and inevitable."

Must Be Consistent

Government direction, however, he went on, "must be of a character consistent with the American system of opportunity for all."

"The temptation to be bureaucratic, to usurp power, to puff themselves up has proved irresistible to those who have swarmed to Washington under the New Deal," he said.

"We must have men in government who have the strength of character to resist the inevitable temptation toward petty tyranny. We must have men in office who believe that the preservation of individual rights and freedoms is more important than the exaggeration of their own power.

New Point Of View

"Finally, we must have a new point of view toward the relationship between government and the people. The role of government cannot be the purely negative one of correcting abuse, of telling people what they may or may not do. Government must be the means by which our people, working together, seek to meet the problems that are too big for any one of us or any group of us to solve individually. . . .

Unit Citation Given Sgt. J. E. Summerlin

15TH AAF IN ITALY — T/Sgt. James E. Summerlin, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Summerlin reside at 412 Ave. D, Lubbock, is now authorized to wear the gold bordered blue ribbon indicative of the Distinguished unit citation awarded to the P-38 Lightning Fighter group of which he is a member.

The sergeant is a crew chief of 25 months experience overseas with the hardest hitting Lightning squadron of a fighter group in the 15th Air Force, cited for its outstanding performance in aerial combat over Steyr, Austria, April 2, 1944. The Lightnings on that date added a brilliant victory to their aggressive record when beating off numerically superior enemy. aircraft which attempted to attack the bomber formation. Twenty of the seventy Nazi planes were destroyed without loss of a single P-38.

"It is unquestioned," reads the citation, "that the success of the mission was due to the superior combat efficiency of the pilots together with the professional skill and devotion to duty of the ground personnel of the group."

The sergeant is a veteran member of the second P-38 group to go overseas, now commanded by Col. D. S. Campbell, of San Antonio, Texas, former director of training at Lubbock Army Air field, Lubbock. After flying its first combat missions from England, the group pioneered in proving the Lightning's now famous combat power when covering the North African invasion of November, 1942.

DFC Is Awarded To Lt. William R. Bass

A U. S. NINTH AIR FORCE BOMBER BASE—First Lieutenant William R. Bass, of Lubbock, a bombardier-navigator of the crack "Black Death" Marauder group commanded by Col. Gerald E. Williams, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by Headquarters, Ninth Air Force.

The citation accompanying the award read: "Shortly after reaching the enemy coast on a mission to bomb an important military installation in Occupied France, the aircraft in which Lt. Bass was flying was hit by burst of flak which damaged the left engine and completely knocked out the right engine. Although forced to drop out of the formation, the crew determined to continue on and bomb the target which was still many miles away. Lt. Bass skillfully directed the course of the crippled airplane, so that by adroit maneuvering, the pilot was able to follow not far behind the formation. Unable to keep up with the formation, which made a second run on the target, because of lack of speed, an attack on the original target was found to be impossible so Lt. Bass suggested an attack he made on a nearby airdrome. The pilot put his plane into a dive over the airdrome. Lt. Bass displayed unusual courage and devotion to duty by remaining in the nose of the ship during the dive although he was fully aware that, with the right engine useless and the left engine damaged, the ship might never pull out. With only his excellent judgment to guide him, he released his bombs with devastating accuracy. The runway of the airdrome was damaged and two buildings were left in flames. As the ship pulled out of its dive, the left engine began to sputter. Notwithstanding this difficulty, Lt. Bass plotted the course home with such great skill that little flak was encountered and the pilot was able to bring the aircraft in safely. The courage and skill displayed by Lieutenant Bass are typical of the highest ideals of the U. S. Army Air Corps."

Lt. Bass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Bass, of Pittsburg, Texas. His wife, Katherine, resides at Lubbock, Texas.

Lockney Man Raised To First Lieutenant

Italy,—Paul E. Teuton of Lockney, Texas recently was promoted to first lieutenant from second lieutenant while serving with the 34th "Red Bull" Division on the Fifth Army front in Italy.

Teuton entered active military service January 22, 1941 at Lubbock, Tex. and was commissioned a second lieutenant at the cavalry school, Fort Riley, Kan., November 12, 1942. Prior to his present duties as a cavalry platoon leader, Teuton was a corporal squad leader in a cavalry troop. He has attended the mechanized course at the cavalry school in Fort Riley. He saw duty at Fort Bliss, Tex., Fort Brown, Tex. and Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Before entering the army, Teuton was an automobile mechanic. His father, Ed Teuton, lives at Lockney. He has a brother in the air corps in the South Pacific.

Several Officers At LAAF Moved

Recent transfers at Lubbock Army Air field find key officials, many of whom have been here for many months, missing from the local scene, and others shifted to new duties on the field.

Maj. Russell DeWitt Shively, secretary, who has been a central figure at LAAF graduations since his arrival here with the original group of officers from Brooks Field, was recently transferred to new duties in the East. His post here has been taken by Capt. C. B. Mohle, until recently commanding officer of Section I. Captain Mohle came to LAAF from Ellington Field in December, 1942, as a ground school instructor and was later transferred to the aviation cadet detachment from which he was shifted some months ago to the detachment of on-the-line-trainees, officially known as Section I.

Murphy Also Leaves

Capt. William A. Murphy, who came to LAAF in June, 1942, and has served here as public relations officer, special service officer, and in various other capacities connected with services to the field personnel, is also transferred to an eastern post where he will continue in much the same line of work he has been doing here. Capt. Murphy not only is well known in downtown circles but has also, on at least two occasions, attracted favorable attention from higher headquarters for his work on the local field. In November, 1942, he was commended by Col. T. L. Gilbert and Maj. Gen. H. R. Harmon for assistance with the technician procurement program and in March, 1943, he was again commended, this time by Brig. Gen. Warren E. Carter, for his work in establishing a post educational unit which became the model for other stations in the Training Command.

Captain Murphy's post as special service officer will be taken over by Maj. Thomas M. Potter, another of the original cadre of officers from Brook Field who helped activate LAAF. Major Potter has been in command of the aviation cadet detachment, and these duties will now be taken over by Maj. Donald M. Thompson, a recent arrival at the base.

Capt. Brown Moved

Capt. Fred Brown, who built up the present orientation program at LAAF for both officers and enlisted men, is being called to duty elsewhere as an Army psychologist. He had been well known in that field in civilian life. The orientation program, which includes instruction in Army procedures, aims and achievements, with instruction in courses designed to help Army personnel after they leave the Army, will be assumed by Capt. Fred Barton who also had a large part in creating the LAAF program.

A change at the post hospital recently shifted Maj. B. J. Cordonnier to an east coast hospital and brought Capt. Max E. Johnson here from Frederick Army Air field. Capt. Johnson, a former practicing surgeon in San Antonio, has also been stationed at Foster and Aloe Fields, Victoria. LAAF was Major Cordonnier's first station after entering the Army. He had been here since May, 1942, and was the station flight surgeon most of that time.

Weatherly Assessed Five Years In Theft

DALLAS, Sept. 21. (AP)—A five year prison term was given Alonzo (Lon) Weatherly, Fort Worth postal clerk and former policeman, by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson in federal court today for theft of $15,000 in currency and a number of bonds and securities from the mails.

Weatherly pleaded guilty of looting a mail pouch containing war bonds and Federal Farm loan securities designated for the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, and mailed by a Lubbock bank. He also pleaded guilty of theft of another sack containing nine articles, bound for the same depository. Among the contents was a registered parcel containing $15,000 in currency, old type bills, which were to be exchanged for the smaller size.

Testimony revealed that authorities traced the theft of the money through the old type bills.

Weatherly said he used the money to cover gambling debts and do further gaming.

Judge Davidson sentenced the man in connection with theft of the second pouch. He withheld sentence on the first count of the indictment.

(Officials of the First National bank here, owner of the currency, said the bank had recovered its money.)

Congress Recesses Until Nov. 14 Subject To Call If Need Arises

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Congress began its second extended vacation of the year today, adjourning for an electioneering holiday after an eight-weeks session in which it passed a program designed to cushion the impact of the war's end on the nation's economy.

The principal legislative business of the closing day was unanimous passage in both houses of a resolution calling on all nations to adopte a policy of press freedom and free exchange of news, as a measure to bolster peace.

To Return November 14

The lawmakers will return to the capitol November 14, unless recalled sooner.

The two-point reconversion program laid on President Roosevelt's desk in the closing days created the War Mobilization and Reconversion administration to chart the transition from wartime to peacetime economy and set up the machinery for disposition of an estimated $100,000,000,000 worth of surplus war property.

Two-Fold Program

These two measures supplemented a two-fold reconversion program enacted before the midsummer recess, one part of which blueprinted the method for terminating war contracts and the other—the so-called "G.I. bill of rights"—provided benefits for discharged service men.

Few members remained in town for the closing Senate and House sessions. Among those remaining were members of the Dies committee which will begin public hearings next week in an investigation of the Political Action committee.

The political holiday can be ended ahead of schedule on agreement by either majority or minority leaders.

TEST PERMIT ISSUED

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 21. (AP)—Northeast Mississippi — only part of the state untouched by oil wildcatting—moved into the oil picture today with an announcement by State Oil and Gas Board Director H. M. Morse that he had issued a permit for a test on an 8,500-acre block in Itawamba county.

Lubbock Soldier Is A Hospital Technician

GUADALCANAL, South Pacific—Sergeant Will A. Gainey of Lubbock, is now on duty here with a station hospital unit of the Army's Medical department.

Sgt. Gainey, a trained medical technician, works in a ward of the hospital, applying dressings, administering medicines and caring for the sick and wounded soldiers being treated.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gainey of Austonio, Tex. His wife, the former Bertha B. Proctor, lives at 1923 Tenth in Lubbock.

Entering the Army in January, 1943, he was stationed at Camp Barkeley, Tex.; William Beaumont General Hospital, El Paso, Tex.; Fitzsimmons General Hospital, Denver, Colo.; and Sheppard Field, Tex., before coming overseas in January, 1944.

Sgt. Gainey was a member of the 8th Street Church of Christ in Lubbock.

A brother, Sgt. Merle L. Gainey, is serving with the Military Police at the Presidio, San Francisco, Calif.

Sudan Man Promoted To PFC In England

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England — Herman R. Nicholas, 30, an Eighth Air Force engine mechanic of a B-24 Liberator blasting at Nazi war-making installations in support of the Allied armies' sweeping advance toward Berlin, has been promoted from private to private first class.

Pfc. Nicholas is the son of Mrs. Sarah Nicholas, route 1, Sudan. Before entering the Army Air Forces he was farming near Sudan.

The mechanic plays a vital role in helping to maintain the efficiency standard established by the Eight Air Force, often working many extra hours in keeping the engines in trim for continued bombing attacks on targets in Germany and Nazi occupied continental Europe.

Pfc. Nicholas is a member of the 3rd Bombardment Division, cited by the President for its now historic England-Africa shuttle bombing of Messerschmitt aircraft plants at Regensburg, Germany, in August, 1943.

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—George H. Abbott of Dallas, president of the Texas Social Welfare association, will address a meeting of South Texas region of that organization in Corpus Christi, September 21 and 22, on state needs for corrective institutions and mental hospitals.

Wallace Backs FDR And Wagner, Fails To Mention Truman

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP) — Vice President Henry A. Wallace, defeated for renomination at the Democratic national convention, declared tonight that America must go forward "in the light of liberalism" and that he would vote for President Roosevelt's re-election.

He also urged the re-election of Sen. Robert F. Wagner (D-NY), who he said had sponsored more vital labor legislation than any other man, but he made no reference to Sen. Harry S. Truman (D-Mo), his successor as Democratic vice presidential nominee.

Wallace's address, his first of the campaign, was prepared for delivery before thousands of persons attending a Roosevelt rally in Madison Square Garden under auspices of the Independent Voters committee of the arts and sciences.

"Were I a citizen of New York," Wallace said, "it would be my proud privilege to vote for Wagner and Roosevelt."

In one of his few direct references to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, Wallace said:

"It would be absurd to attack the motives of any man seeking national leadership. Certainly both Dewey and Roosevelt will do their level best if called upon to serve. The first question to decide is one of equipment and experience. Who can better provide for permanent peace and full employment—Dewey or Roosevelt? What do you say?"

Transport School Is Moved To Randolph

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 21 (AP)—Transfer of the Air Transport command school at Ellington Field, Houston, to Randolph Field here and appointment of Col. Rosenham Beam as the new commanding officer of the 80th Flying Training wing was announced today at the Central Flying Training command headquarters by the Randolph Field public relations officer.

Col. Beam, for several months commanding officer at Ellington, succeeds Brig. Gen. Norris B. Harbold, who is being transferred to another command.

Col Beam will supervise the CFTC's four navigation training schools with headquarters at the San Marcos Army Air field.

Would-Be Engineer Pulled From Engine

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 21 (AP)—Police pulled a man from controls in the cab of a Union Pacific railroad locomotive last night over his protest that all he wanted was to pilot a train to Denver "just once." The would-be engineer got a $10 fine and 10 days in jail for trespassing.

Posthumous Award Given Young Teddy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, jr., was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously today "for gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty" on D-day.

The medal was presented to his widow by War Secretary Stimson at a ceremony attended by members of the family and officials of both the American and British armies. Roosevelt died in Normandy of a heart attack on July 12.

He went ashore with the first invasion forces.

Flomot Sergeant Is AAF Gunner In Italy

15TH AAF IN ITALY — Staff Sergeant R. I. Thomas, jr., 19, of Flomot, Tex., has been assigned to the oldest heavy bombardment group in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations. This group has flown on over 300 combat missions, bombing enemy installations in almost every Axis-dominated country in Europe from bases in England, North Africa, Russia and Italy.

Sgt. Thomas has attended air mechanic's school at Amarillo, Tex., and the aerial gunnery school at Las Vegas, Nevada, where he won his gunner's wings. He enlisted in the Army on April 19, 1942.

The sergeant is a ball turret operator on an AAF Flying Fortress in the 15th Air Force.

Jon Hall Tells Of Bloody Fight

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21. (AP)—Jon Hall has testified that bandleader Tommy Dorsey threatened his life and hit him with "a big black thing that came up and struck me between the eyes." And Dorsey's wife, the actor declared, slashed his nose clear through the nostril.

It happened during a bloody, screaming battle on a balcony in the Dorsey's apartment last Aug. 5, Hall told the county grand jury which indicted Dorsey, his wife, actress Pat Dane, and Allen Smiley, Hollywood figure, on charges of felonious Assault.

Testimony of Hall and 11 other witnesses was disclosed yesterday when a transcript of the grand jury proceedings was filed with the clerk of the superior court.

Returned For Purse

Hall said he had left a party in the Dorsey apartment but returned with Miss Jane Churchill of Kansas City, to get her purse. He said he apologized for returning and put his arm around Mrs. Dorsey. Hall quoted the bandleader: "What are you doing with my woman?"

"I asked him what he was talking about," Hall testified. "We said, 'I saw you look around to see if I was there.' I said, 'Tommy, you are drunk or you have been smoking the wrong kind of cigarets.'"

Then, Hall asserted, Dorsey hit him with the "big black thing . . . . a bottle, a club or a blackjack." Hall went on:

Grapples With Dorsey

"Dorsey said, 'I'm going to kill you.' I grabbed him around the head and said, 'If I go over the railing you are going with me.' We stood there. My nose was bleeding but Dorsey said it was him that was bleeding. Then Pat came running out, and she grabbed me by the hair."

Asserting that Mrs. Dorsey gashed him, Hall said:

"Instinctly I pulled my head back. I don't know whether it was a bottle or a knife but it first caught me on the nose and cut through my nostril."

Both Dorsey and his wife called him many times after the fight to apologize, Hal added.

The bandleader, his wife and Smiley declined to testify before the grand jury.

Plainview Corporal Is Lib Gunner In Italy

15TH AAF IN ITALY: Corporal Ralph D. Madera, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elma A. Madera, 1408 W. 8th St., Plainview, Texas, has arrived overseas and is awaiting his first combat mission as an engineer and waist gunner in a Liberator heavy bombardment unit.

Madera, a former resident of Hale Center, Texas, is a graduate of the Cotton Center High school and played basketball on the school team. He was working as a farmer before he enlisted in August 1942.

Oil Producers Move To Counter 'Treaty'

HOUSTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Houston independent oil producers moved today to further crystallize the industry's and public opposition to the pending Anglo-American oil agreement submitted to the Senate Aug. 24 by President Roosevelt.

The Houstonians, 23 of them, formed a committee with Glenn McCarthy as chairman, and objected to the proposed international pact as:

1. Imperilling the existing American constitutional system of preserving to the states the jurisdiction over conservation regulations.

2. Striking at the system of free American enterprise as the basis of oil industry operations.

The session here followed a state-wide meeting of Texas oil operators in Austin on Tuesday at which the railroad commission joined the producers in condemning the agreement.

The position of the Houstonians was made known in letters sent to Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, the railway commission, to each member representing the states of the Interstate Oil Compact commission, and to state agencies in charge of conservation regulations.

The operators have already detailed their stand to Sen. Tom Connally, chairman of the Senate committee on foreign relations.

U. S. In Danger Of Losina Peace—Thomas

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (U.P.)—Socialist Candidate for President Norman Thomas told American troops overseas in a short-wave broadcast last night that their government was in grave danger of losing the peace they were fighting for.

He asserted that the government's proposed establishment of an international police force and permanent military conscription inevitably must result in a "militarism and imperialism into which no nation ever has embraced and escaped war."

"It is the most ominous sign of the times," he said, "that before a war which we were told was to deliver us from the curse of militarism is completely won the drive for conscription and militarism and the imperialism that much accompany them already is upon us."

Historic Documents To Be Displayed Again

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt has appointed Jefferson Caffery, American ambassador to Brazil, as a representative of the United States in Paris, the State department announced today.

Although Caffery is given the personal rank of ambassador, the announcement made clear that there is no change as yet in the American position regarding General Charles de Gaulle's Committee of National Liberation.

Aussie Minister Denies He Had Knowledge Of Jap Sneak Attack

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Sir Owen Dixon, the Australian minister, said tonight he had no pre-Pearl Harbor information that any Japanese task force was about to attack any territory of the United States, or take any warlike measures against this country, and had never said so.

The minister made this statement when asked about an assertion in the House of Rep. Church (R-Ill) that Sir Owen was the authority for claims that Australia gave this country warning of the approach of the Japanese task force for the Pearl Harbor attack.

Denials Are Entered

Church, taking the floor after Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts entered denials from the War, Navy and State departments that there was such a warning, also declared that if an investigation was made:

"I am sure you will find that Lieutenant Commander A. D. Kramer, now a commander, got the last message which came in Saturday night, December 6, at 9 a. m. Sunday, December 7, and that he went to the State department at 9:5 and then to the White House, where he delivered he message and said:

" 'This looks like a sunrise attack on Pearl Harbor and a midnight attack on the Philippines.' "

Warning Is Late

(The Pearl Harbor attack was delivered at 12:55 p. m., eastern war time, Dec. 7, 1941, 7:55 a. m. in Hawaii. The commission headed by Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, which investigated the disaster, reported that a last-minute warning was sent from Washington to Hawaii the morning of Dec. 7 but did not reach its destination in time.)

A Commander A. D. Kramer is now on duty with the Navy department here but could not be reached tonight.

Fall Starts Today As Summer Keeps Up Tough Tussle

Today is the first day of fall.

It is also the last day of school for this week, which is probably of greater import to the bobby sox and scuffed shoe set.

Summer went down fighting. The high temperature yesterday was 95. Chances are it will be with us in spirit for several more days.

Fall—sometimes called autumn in fancy-pants circles—brings the kind of weather which makes you beat your breast like Tarzan; chili; discoveries of moth holes; sweater girls; football coaches who say, "with luck, I ought to have eleven men on the field;" pipe smokers; radio comedians who lay an egg trying to make a joke about the egg they just laid; fewer baths and newspaper stories like this.

Production High By Victory Gardeners

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 21. (AP)—In spring, 1944, the average victory gardener in Texas raised 882 pounds of vegetables worth $135.57, says the Texas A. and M. college extension service.

The city gardner, whose average production was 366 pounds, valued at $36.17 per garden, pulled the general figure down.

Bricker Sees Danger In "Packed Courts"

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21. (AP) — The United States Supreme court was labelled a "New Deal court" by Gov. John W. Bricker tonight in a speech declaring that the judiciary "must be absolutely free of political bias."

The Republican candidate for vice president, asserting "a very grave danger" lay in "domination of the courts by one-man appointment," said President Roosevelt had appointed 88 per cent of the Supreme court judges, 67 per cent of the federal appeals court judges, and 56 per cent of the federal district judges.

"These judicial appointments," he added in a prepared text released by his campaign staff, "have too often been made not because of the legal ability of the appointee or his experience as a judge, but because of his adherence and conformance to the New Deal philosophy of government."

End Of Martial Law In Hawaii Expected

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—A proclamation which would end almost three years of martial law in Hawaii has been drawn and is expected to be submitted to President Roosevelt when he returns from Quebec, it was learned authoritatively today.

Martial law was first imposed on Hawaii Dec. 7, 1941, after the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor.

OPA To Check Up On Overcharges At Fair

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 21 (AP)—OPA representatives will attend the New Mexico State fair in larger numbers, but, George Taylor, district OPA rent executive, explained, they won't see much of the exhibits. They have been called in to check for any overcharging of visitors.

Hull Says Many Nazis Will Die

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Secretary Hull, tersely pointing up one aspect of a hard peace for Nazi Germany, said today that a lot of Germans are going to be shot when the war is over.

Presumably his number one candidate for a firing squad is Hitler. At a news conference only a few days ago he said the fuehrer's name was certainly the foremost on the list of war criminals and that the names of the men around Hitler — evidently including Goering, Himmler and Goebbels—also are listed.

Apprehension Problem

The problem remains of how to apprehend these people. Their capture is reported to be one of the agreed objectives of Allied military occupation of Germany. If any of them escape to neutral countries, enormous Allied pressure is expected to be brought on the neutrals to hand them over.

Hull took up the subject of German war criminals very briefly at a news conference. His remarks were in response to a request for comment on a Polish proposal that the Allies warn the Germans that if they scorch the earth of European areas which they still hold they will be forced to give up fuel, clothing and other necessities to the victims.

Tropical Disturbance Moves Into Mexico

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21 (AP)—The U. S. weather bureau said this afternoon that the tropical disturbance, which turned southeastward from the Gulf of Mexico into the Bay of Campeche, had moved into Mexico early this afternoon a short distance west of Carman.

The storm center was reported at 3 p. m. central war time, near Villa Hermosa. This afternoon advisory said squally weather would continue over the extreme southwest Gulf of Mexico this afternoon and tonight and that no further advisories would be issued on this storm.

Saddle Tramps, Tech Pep Group, Organize

Once more when you attend a Texas Tech football game, you will see the familiar pre-war redshirted section of the Saddle Tramps, a Tech pep club for upperclassmen of the campus.

With the desire to revive the pre-war Texas Tech spirit, the Saddle Tramps held an organization meeting Thursday evening. Cecil Ayers of the division of agriculture and an ex-Techsan was elected sponsor. Officers elected were Hugh Rowland, president, Troy Caldwell, vice president; Jimmy Williams, secretary-treasurer, and Troy Davidson, sergeant-at-arms and parliamentarian. Captains elected were Oliver Ramsey, Bob Boyd, and Norman Hoback.

The pep organization, which will meet the first and third Thursdays of each month, decided to again wear the red shirts with black lettering. One main purpose of the club is to encourage freshmen in yelling and supporting their team.

Burglar Unwittingly Steals Town's Bank

MARTIN CITY, Mo., Sept. 21 (AP)—It wasn't an ordinary safe that some strong-armed burglars stole Sunday night—it was the town's bank.

The regular depository closed recently, and a resident offered his safe as a substitute. The safe was taken, complete with deposits, and the chief deputy sheriff is having no trouble arousing local interest in solving the disappearance.

Supplementary Gas Tabs To Be Voided

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Supplementary gasoline coupons "B-3" and "C-3" will be invalid for use by motorists after Sept. 30, the Office of Price administration announced today.

Commercial vehicle "T" coupons marked "3rd qtr." will expire at the same time.

"B" and "C" coupons numbered four and five will continue to be valid.

Motorists holding "B-3" and "C-3" coupons issued for use beyond Sept. 30 may exchange them for valid stamps at local ration boards, OPA said.

Nearly one million American servicemen are learning to speak in one or more foreign languages.

PENNIMAN RESIGNS

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson today announced the resignation of Bruner Penniman of Dallas from the state commission for the blind and the appointment of Howard West of Houston to succeed Penniman.

Three thousand tanks and 90,000 other types of motor vehicles, including tank destroyers, trucks and jeeps, were sent to Allied forces during the first three months of 1944.

Westerners Play Bobcats Tonight

"Texas' best," the San Angelo Bobcats, schoolboy champions of Texas, will square off with the Lubbock Westerners tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Texas Tech stadium in the first serious threat to either team.

Both clubs won the openers last week by decisive scores, the Bobcats romping over Ballinger 34 to 0, and The Westerners winning from Odessa by an 18 to 6 count. Both clubs looked impressive in this game, and the game has been regulated to a top billing over the state.

Sell Out Gate Expected

In keeping with the top billing given this game, the advance ticket sales for the game has been termed as the greatest since the 1940 Amarillo classic in Lubbock, and a sell out crowd has been predicted for the ball game.

Four members of the state champion team of last season will be in the starting lineup for San Angelo, another is a probable starter, and a sixth is with the team, but not expected to see any service, according to Coach Jewell Wallace.

Vernie Horner, regular left end of the state champions, and a star last season at this position, was bit by a spider this week, and may not be able to start the game. Ken Carley, regular halfback, wrenched a knee in the game last week with Ballinger, and George Graham, hard smashing fullback, is reported to have a bad ankle.

The center, left guard and left tackle will be manned by state champion starters last season with Callan, a tackle last year, moved to center, Hughes at guard and Doyle at tackle.

Westerners In Shape

The Westerners expect to be at full strength for the game, with both George Brewer and Charles Pressley seeming to be in good shape after their battle with the boils, and will be ready to go.

Many of the Westerners are still feeling the sting of a 40-0 lacing handed out to them last year at San Angelo, and will be shooting the works to avenge this defeat.

R. W. Moyers, who played a great game at center last week for the ailing Pressley, will go back at his fullback slot this week, and Pressley will move back into center. Otherwise, Coach J. Mule Davis intends to start the same lineup that started against the Bronchos last week.

The team took a final workout Thursday, setting a defense against the vaunted attack of the Bobcats, with the second stringers looking good at copying the Bobcats.

The San Angelo club rolled into Lubbock about 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and took a final workout on the Tech stadium turf, the scene of the battle. The club looked good in the workout, and reports indicated they would be ready to uphold their tradition tonight.

It has been reported from Amarillo, that the powerful Sandies will view the game as fans, and get a preview of two of their grid foes farther down the line in the schedule.

South Plains Grid Schedule Colorful

The Lubbock Cowhands roll into Tahoka tonight to battle the powerful Tahoka Bulldogs to head off a colorful schedule of Class A and Class B games to be played over this area.

Coach George Philbrick's lads will be playing their season's opener, while the Bulldogs will be playing their second game of the season. Just what Tahoka will use against the Lubbock eleven remains to be seen after a shakeup in their schedule over the conference game at Post.

Philbrick announced that Glen Denny and Bruce LeMaire would start at ends, Don Holton and Raymond Halbert at tackles, E. Y. Gibbs and Dan Burkholder at guards, Joe Wofford at center, John Orr at quarterback, Arthur Rampy and Don Austin at halves and Wayne Cobb at fullback.

The District 5-A race will have a pair of battles among themselves that will headline the Class A card for the area with Morton playing at Olton and Sudan at Littlefield.

All the other games in the area will be intersectional affairs with one interstate game on the program. The rugged Denver City Mustangs will gallop into New Mexico to play the Lovington eleven.

Other 5-A teams in action this week will find Floydada playing at Levelland and Muleshoe going to Spring Lake.

The two-time district champions, the Spur Bulldogs will play their first game at home, facing Lueders. The Bulldogs were held to a scoreless tie last week at Haskell.

The powerful Class B Plains eleven will move into Seagraves tonight, Meadow, another Class B powerhouse, will tangle with O'Donnell at O'Donnell. Slaton will journey to Seminole while Hale Center will invade Petersburg.

'Skins Faced With Loss Of Sam Baugh

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The dismayed Washington Redskins and their fans kept their fingers crossed tonight over reports that Sammy Baugh's draft board might insist he stay on his Texas ranch this fall.

George Marshall, Redskins' president, said he knew that Baugh, the Mr. Big of Washington's National Professional Football league entry, had been given permission to play football only until Oct. 1.

What happens after that is a matter strictly between Baugh and his draft board, Marshall said, but left no doubt that he is hanging on to the hope that Slingin' Sammy will be around when the Redskins open their league season with the Philadelphia Eagles Oct. 8.

The big question mark over Baugh's football future developed when the Washington Post published an interview today with C. R. Simmons, chairman of the Nolan county (Texas) draft board No. 1.

"As a rancher, Baugh has been holding a 2-C classification," Simmons was quoted. "He applied in July for permission to play three charity games in pro football. With the approval of the state board, we granted Baugh that permission and notified him that he must be back on his ranch by Oct. 1 or he would be put in 1-A. Pro football is not an essential occupation."

In Rotan, Tex., Baugh said he would "do as the draft board says" and stay on his ranch rather than play football.

Browns Move Close To Leading Tigers

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns moved to a half game behind the first place Detroit Tigers tonight by defeating the Washington Senators 9 to 4.

Nelson Potter was credited with the victory, making his season's total 17 against 7 defeats. Emil Leonard was charged with the loss.

YANKS WIN FINALE

DETROIT, Sept. 21. (AP)—Frank Crosetti's double in the top half of the tenth scored Johnny Lindell with the run that gave the New York Yankees a 5 to 4 triumph over the Detroit Tigers today. It was the Yanks' only victory in the three-game set.

TRIBE BEATS BOSOX

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21. (AP) — Two home runs, one of them a two-run pinch blow by Jeff Heath, gave the Cleveland Indians a 5 to 2 victory over the Boston Red Sox at League park today, making it a series sweep for the Tribe. The second homer was Oris Hockett's first of the season.

WINS THIRD BOUT

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 21. (U.P) — Ken Overlin, former world's middleweight champion, won his third straight comeback bout by pounding out a one-sided 10-round decision over Paul Hartnek of Omaha last night.

Cards Finally Clinch Bunting

BOSTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals snapped out of their prolonged slump and clinched their third consecutive National league pennant today by coming from behind twice to defeat the Boston Braves, 5-3 and 6-5 in 10 innings. Southpaw Harry Brecheen, who pitched a total of seven innings during his two relief assignments, drew credit for both victories.

Beaten in 15 of their last 20 games, the Cards got off to a wobbly start, for Mort Cooper was shelled from the mound after four innings. Whitey Kurowski, who celebrated his return to the lineup by homering in the fourth, decided the first game by doubling in the seventh and scoring on George Fallon's single.

The Braves gave Jim Tobin a flying start in the nightcap, as Buck Etchison and Tommy Holmes belted rookie Ted Wilks for four-baggers in the first frame. Chuck Workman lashed Wilks for a homer in the fifth and the latter was behind, 4-3, when Fred Schmidt relieved him after the sixth inning.

The Cards were trailing, 5-3, in the ninth when Kurowski doubled and Walker Cooper homered while pinch-hitting for Schmidt. Ken O'Dea's two-bagger and Marty Marion's single produced the winning tally in the 10th.

TO CAPTAIN RED RAIDERS — Walter Schlinkman, the Dumas Demon, was named captain of the 1944 Texas Tech Red Raiders Thursday night by Coach Dell Morgan. The appointment of Schlinkman to the role of leadership at the helm of the Red Raiders was made following the pep rally held at the stadium. Schlinkman lettered with the Red Raiders in 1942, but was out last season when he broke his leg just before the start of the sason, but this year appears to be ready to go again, and at the same top speed that has made his playing here so popular with the fans. He is also a real leader, and should have a great year in leading the Raiders through their tough 11 game schedule. Don Dudley, letterman end from Wichita Falls, was named to serve as co-captain with Schlinkman in Saturday's opener with LAAF.

SPAAF Cancels Sunday Tilt With Amarillo Sky Giants

A new ruling by Training Command headquarters at Fort Worth declaring that air crew trainees are ineligible to play football has forced the South Plains Army Air Field to cancel its opening game against Amarillo Army Air Field. The game was scheduled for this Sunday at the Tech stadium.

With five trainees in the starting lineup and even more counted on for reserve material, the SPAAF coaches were unable to have a presentable team on such short notice. However several new players have joined the squad which will be ready for the opening kickoff against T.C.U. Saturday, Sept. 30.

The squad has been completely reorganized and several newcomers will be in the lineup including "Scat" Sullivan, formerly of Rice, "Bev" North, 230-pound tackle from Southern Cal and others.

It was decided to cancel the first Amarillo game due to the fact that the new men had only six days to get in shape. Rather than take chances of men being hurt due to lack of training time, SPAAF officials decided to call off the game after conferring with the Amarillo coaches who agreed due to the lateness of the ruling which was published September 12.

It is believed that the second game with Amarillo AAF Sky Giants will be played on October 28.

Meanwhile the Winged Commandos are practicing long and hard in an effort to get into shape for the always tough T.C.U. Horned Frogs with only eight days to get ready.

During a hard, prolonged rain, a cultivated field may lose two inches of topsoil.

Tahoka Eleven Wins Over Post Gridders

POST, Sept. 21. (Special)—The Tahoka Bulldogs struck twice in the first half to gain a 13 to 0 decision over Post High's green gridders here tonight to take an early lead in the District 6-A conference standing.

Jerry Edwards romped around end to score from 20 yards out in the first period, and converted the extra point. Lane Jones stormed the center of the line for a 12 yard smash for the second period touchdown.

Post held the Bulldogs well in check throughout the last half, but the damage had been done.

Morris Eleven Only Double Bill Winner

The Junior High School Cowboys blew off the lid in the city championship series Thursday afternoon at Chapman field with but one winner able to puncture the stout defenses and supply any scoring.

After the Reds and Whites had tugged back and forth over the gridiron to a scoreless tie, Jackie Davis turned on the steam to lead Coach Roy Morris' Purples to a 25 to 0 victory over the Blues.

Defensive Battle

The opening game was a typical season's opener, but there were a number of the youngsters who showed great promise for future power. The two teams both had scoring chances, but defenders stiffened with the goal lines to their backs and beat off every scoring threat.

Lindsey carried the brunt of the attack for the Reds while Ellison was the outstanding performer on the offensive for the Whites.

But the defenders stole the show in the game, but picking an individual leader would be impossible as all the men shared in this department.

In the second game, Davis was the outstanding star, and also for the afternoon as he scored two touchdowns, passed for a third and set up the fourth as well as plunging the line for the lone extra point.

Tatum and Bill Davis of the Blues each did some outstanding work on the offensive, but failed to provide the scoring punch just as had been the story in the first game.

Davis Starts Rolling

Late in the first quarter, Davis got off to his first touchdown gallop, a long 65 yard sweep around his own right end.

In the second quarter, Billy Travis intercepted a pass by the Blues, and stormed down field to the Blues' 8 yard line, and from there Davis plunged the ball over, then plunged over again for the extra point to take a 13 to 0 lead at the half.

In the third period, the Purples rolled down to the six yard line, and from there, Davis passed to Aldridge for the touchdown. Davis also set up this play with another 38 yard sweep around end a few plays earlier.

In the final period, Davis again got off with a long gallop to carry the ball down inside the Blues 10 yard line, and Gardner plunged through center for the final touchdown.

College Teams Open Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

Eight colleges and four service teams of Texas swing into the football grind this week-end with four of the games of intersectional nature.

Southwestern university, which opened the season last week by defeating Galveston Air field 32-6, will journey to Ruston, La., Saturday night to play Louisiana Tech.

Galveston Air field is back in action Saturday night, meeting Rice Institute at Houston.

The other six colleges and two service teams will be making their start with Texas Christian's battle against Kansas at Kansas City Saturday night the top game of the week.

TCU with a team rated much stronger than last season's, will be meeting a Kansas outfit that played last week, beating Washburn 47-0.

West Texas State Teachers and the North Texas Aggies complete the intersectional picture. The Buffaloes, making their return to intercollegiate athletics after being out a year, engage Oklahoma A. and M. at Stillwater Saturday. North Texas goes to Tulsa to play a Golden Hurricane ranked as stronger than last season's Sugar Bowl entry. The game is Saturday night.

At home Texas A. and M. plays Bryan Air field at College Station, Texas Tech starts the campaign against Lubbock Air field at Lubbock in the night game and John Tarleton, also returning to intercollegiate athletics, meets Blackland Army Air field at Waco Saturday afternoon.

Texas and Southern Methodist are the only colleges waiting until next week to open the season while Randolph Field and Bergstrom Field are the service teams not swinging into action this week.

Russian Advances

that the Germans lost 3,000 killed and 700 captured during the day, with more than half of this toll taken in Estonia. "Hundreds of dead Germans, smashed guns, burned tanks and piles of abandoned ammunition cover the roads," a front report broadcast by Moscow radio added.

Govorov's southern wing, driving up from Tartu, captured Vaike-Maarja in a 12-mile advance, putting that group only 13 miles southeast of Tapa. Rohu, eight miles southeast of Vaike-Maarja, was among the many localities overrun.

The northern and southern wings now have linked up, the Moscow communique disclosed, clearing the Germans from the 900-square-mile isthmus between Lake Peipus and the Gulf of Finland, and progress was made in the Raadna-Kauksi sector on the northeastern shore of Lake Peipus.

Third Makes Gains

Several localities were seized also by Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's Third Baltic Army which is driving northwest and west of fallen Valga, 87 miles northeast of Riga, the bulletin said.

Riga, imperilled Latvian capital, was under Soviet artillery fire and Red Army infantrymen were fighting within six miles southeast of that city in an effort to reach the coast there and seal off the Nazis in Estonia and eastern Latvia.

In Romania the Red Army, attacking on a 55-mile front, captured 100 towns and villages, and reached the Hungarian plain after crossing the Bihorului mountains and the western end of the Transylvanian Alps chain.

Arad, big communications center near the Hungarian frontier, appeared about to fall to the Russians pushing down the Muresul river valley.

Lipova, 18 miles east of Arad, was taken as well as Siria, 15 miles on the northeast, and other nearby towns.

At the northern end of this front the Russians took Ineu, 24 miles north of Lipova, as German and Hungarian troops fought desperately to stave off another Balkan disaster.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 21 (AP) — September wheat slipped fractionally in late futures trading today but the deferred contracts were firm, supported by mill buying and short covering. Weakness of the nearby contract apparently was due more to neglect than to any selling pressure.

At the finish wheat was ⅝ lower to ½ higher than yesterday's close, September 1.59 ½. Corn was ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, December 31.09 ⅞. Oats were off ⅝ to 3 ¼, September 62-61 ½. Rye was ¾ higher to ½ lower, September 96. Barley was unchanged to ⅝ lower, September $1.05 ½.

Humble Injunction

well commented: "The mere statement of that position at the bar of a court of equity surprises. As has already been indicated, the citizen, as well as the court, has long since learned to treat a threat which is believed to be for the execution of some act which is illegal or wrong, or without authority, as a sufficient basis for restraint of the person making it. Such jurisdiction is in the interest of peace and civilization. It has taken the place of the six-shooter . . ."

No Evidence of Dispute

In finding for Humble, Judge Atwell pointed out that there was no evidence of any labor dispute whatever between the plaintiff and its employes, and that the company is engaged in a highly-essential war industry.

Two weeks ago the jurist granted Humble a temporary restraining order against the WLB, PAW and certain government officials.

The cast had its roots in June, 1943, when the Eighth Regional War Labor board ruled the company was justified in not including a maintenance of membership clause in its contract with Local 316 of the Oil Workers International union (CIO) at the Ingleside plant where 470 persons were involved.

A union appeal to the national board, however, brought a reversed opinion with which the company refused to comply on the basis that it would violate the long established policy of non-discrimination for or against any employe over union membership and would violate the national labor relations act by interfering with free choice of employes to resign from a union.

Pacific Fronts

Army, had been executed for failure "to carry out his instructions to defend Chuanhsien," a stronghold on the way to Kweilin.

Nips Near Kweilin

Tokyo radio said Nipponese troops were within 19 miles of Kweilin. The Chungking communique of Wednesday said enemy forces had been halted nine miles northeast of Hingan, 40 miles northeast of Kweilin.

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced the sinking of a half dozen Japanese vessels from an 11-ship convoy, totalling 14,200 tons. Stilwell said two Liberators using "special equipment" of the 114th AAF on this mission also probably sank a 2,000-ton frieghter.

A dispatch from Chungking said the Japanese were reported converting Swatow, Amoy and other points on the 1,200-mile stretch of coast from Hainan island to Shanghai into powerful defenses in anticipation of Allied offensives there. New air fields were built and old ones improved, garrisons strengthened and harbor facilities developed. The enemy preparations were reported particularly noticeable south of Shanghai and in the Hongkong-Canton area.

Islands on the southern approaches to the Philippines, Halmahera, Ceram and Celebes, were heavily bombed by 215 tons of explosives, today's communique from Southwest Pacific headquarters announced. Dutch Celebes, which has been repeatedly raided, took a 155-ton lashing which exploded fuel dumps and sank three coastal vessels.

A U. S. heavy bomber has about 60,000 different parts.

Drive Roars On From Holland

across the Neder Rhine, a second fromidable watercourse in the Rhine delta.

One Barrier Short of Plains

If that crossing is secured they will have only the Ijssel river to ford before they are out on Germany's northern plains north of the reputed Siegfried line terminal at Kleve. Arnhem is 15 miles northwest of Kleve.

The great bridge at Nijmegen—loss of which is turning the Germans northern flank—rises 600 feet above the Waal Rhine, which is broad, deep and swift with high banks that would pose a tough problem for Army engineers and delay the Allied campaign for days.

As British tanks thundered over the mile-and-half long bridge, signaling a great victory in the battle for Holland, the Germans to the south struck back savagely against the American First and Third armies with counterattacks in and before the Siegfried line. These cost them at least 134 tanks in 24 hours.

Nazis Moving Factories

The smoke of battle blended with the haze from the Ruhr's vast industries, and one dispatch from the U. S. First Army front said the Germans had begun dismantling factories west of the Rhine and shipping them off to central Germany.

Field dispatches said advanved elements had fought well north of Nijmegen toward airborne forces at Arnhem, although there were a good many Germans left in Nijmegen itself.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters declared the invasion now was more than a month ahead of schedule.

The Germans were battling to break through the relatively thin line of British troops stretching up from northern Belgium to Eindhoven and on northeast of Nijmegen and beyond.

Elements of an estimated 100,000 enemy troops cut off by the British drive through Holland were beaten back in a fierce counterattack west of Eindhoven.

Counterattacks Heavy

Enemy counterattacks in and before the Siegfried line along more than 150 miles of front were described in one front dispatch as the heaviest since D-day, but they appeared to have slowed, not stopped the American advance.

The U. S. Third Army knocked out 53 enemy tanks in a slugging match on the Moselle river front and moved on to a point 13 miles southeast of Metz and to 20 miles northeast of Nancy, shoving the Germans back toward the Vosges mountains and the Rhine.

Some of the most bitter fighting was 18 miles northeast of Nancy at Bures, with the Germans throwing in armor in the largest force since they ran into disaster in the Caen-Falaise trap in Normandy.

North of Metz around Thionville fighter bombers pounded the German forts, and infantry wiped out German forces who slipped back across the Moiselle river to the west side of Thoinville.

Many Tanks Wrecked

Forty miles south of Aachen, First Army antitank fire wrecked 17 tanks yesterday and 28 today in the Prum wedge, where the doughboys clung to positions in some of the line's strongest fortifications despite the weight of the German attack.

Six miles due east of Aachen, the First Army was cleaning the last of the German defenders from Stolberg and some forces were lashing on east of this town of 20,000 population.

It was in this area that forward observers spotted Germans loading factory machinery into trains and trucks and called for air and artillery attacks to blast the transport.

The Americans pushed across into Germany at another point, this time 10 miles north of Aachen at Scherpensell, and 18 miles northwest of Aachen were fighting forward from Sittard.

Northern Luxembourg

In northern Luxembourg, the Germans threw in a sharp counterattack at Diekirch, but forward elements were more than a mile inside Germany six miles east of there at Biesdorf, which is just north of the burned out frontier village of Wallendorf.

The Third Army, throwing more tanks across the enemy's buckled Moselle and Meurth river lines, was herding the Germans into the foothills of the Vosges mountains en route to the upper Rhine and was in firm ocntrol of Luneville, 15 miles southeast of Nancy.

Only 15 miles farther to the southeast, French units of the U. S. Seventh Army threatened the road center of Baccarat after capturing Flin, only five miles away.

Hold Grimly To Metz

The Germans held grimly to the railway city of Metz, north of Nancy, despite the threat of encirclement and engaged the doughboy attackers in one of the biggest tank and artillery duels of the war.

(German broadcasts showed the most concern over reverses in Holland, where they had expected the canals and rivers to halt the Allied advance, and one report said the high command was in hurried consultation with Hitler.)

Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, while hustling reinforcements deeper into Holland to clinch the victory of the bridges, also was broadening his base of operations around Eindhoven.

One column struck 10 miles east of Eindhoven and reached Someren, only 19 miles from the German frontier, while another overran the Dutch towns of Heeze and Soerendonk, five and ten miles to the southeast.

Green Nazis Wiped Out

British troops in the early morning hours fought off a counterattack 12 miles southwest of Eindhoven launchen by German troops fresh from a training depot at Turecht. The enemy force was green and easily wiped out.

Polish paratrooper reinforcements were landed during the day at an undisclosed point in Holland, presumably in the Arnhem area, to help the airborne forces who have been fighting against enemy tanks and heavy troop assaults for 72 hours.

Polish troops clearing up the Schelde estuary west of Antwerp so that big Belgian port could be used, took 1,300 prisoners, and had most of the south bank cleared except for a strongpoint in the little harbor of Cith.

State gasoline and other motor fuel taxes yielded the states $20,003,897 in 1942, while in 1943 this revenue dropped to $16,186,713.

Blow At Manila

sunk: one destroyer, two large whale tankers, one large transport, ten large cargo ships, twelve medium cargo ships, twelve medium cargo ships, two barges.

Other Damage Heavy

Admiral Nimitz reported that in addition to this heavy damage inflicted on Japanese ships and planes "much damage was done to military objectives adjacent to Clark Field and Nichols Field and to the fields themselves.

"Our losses in this superlatively successful attack which apparently caught the enemy completely by surprise was 15 aircraft from which several of the flight personnel were recovered. There was no damage to our surface ships."

This powerful strike was taken as an indication that Halsey also is charged with protecting amphibious forces engaged in capturing southern Palau islands and that the Palau operations are progressing so well that it was safe to leave large forces there lightly protected from sea or air attack and to renew his bold thrust against the southern Philippines which he began Sept. 8.

Stupendous Damage

The destruction wrought upon Japanese aircraft and shipping since the Halsey - Mitscher team went hunt Japanese in earnest in widely spaced raids gives these amazing totals for the period Aug. 30 through Sept. 20:

Japanese losses:

Ships sunk 90; ships probably sunk 44; ships damaged 47. Total 181.

Small craft sunk 30; probably sunk 4; damaged 43. Total 77.

Grand total of ships and small craft sunk or damaged 258.

Airplanes destroyed 869, probably destroyed 29; damaged 10. Total 908.

American Losses

American losses:

Planes destroyed 20. Flight personnel lost, 15 plus a yet unknown number of missing after the Manila strike.

Almost unbelievable is the Halsey-Mitscher perfect record of not a single ship lost or even damaged despite the fact many were within binocular view of the southern Philippines on earlier September raids and all were within striking distance of land-based Japanese aircraft on every one of these five destructive raids.

Highly significant was the fact the Japanese have offered no naval opposition, whatever, in nearly a month in which the Halsey-Mitscher force has swept the Philippines sea and the western Pacific.

The Japanese obviously have no naval force based in the Philippines capable of resisting the Americans and presumably still are nursing wounds inflicted in the Philippines sea battle June 19-20.

Memphis Fears Gas Service Breakdown

MEMPHIS, Sept. 21 (AP) — The Federal Power commission rehearing of Memphis Natural Gas company's petition for increased pipeline facilities in Louisiana entered its second week today with most of the session's testimony technical.

The Commercial Appeal said tonight, however, it had learned outside the courtroom that gas officials here "are steeling themselves for a 'complete collapse' of the Memphis Light, Gas & Water division's gas distribution system on 10-degree (mean temperature) days this winter if more gas isn't allocated from Monroe, La., fields on cold days."

The officials' comment, said the paper, was based on the testimony of H. L. Stowers, chief engineer of the pipeline firm, who said Memphis would be delivered 84,377,000 cubic feet of gas from the fields on cold days.

The application calls for facilities to bring more gas from Monroe and for an added line between Monroe and Lisbon, La., fields.

Ferguson Dies At Austin Home

gesture at running for the U. S. Senate but finally decided against it.

Though he frequently expressed regret that he had not followed a business career, Ferguson was probably a more powerful political force for more years than any other one man in recent Texas public life.

He Enters Politics

The stories of how he entered politics are numerous. One, probably apocryphal, relates that Farmer Jim and his wife were riding in a buggy in 1914 when Jim said:

"We've got a $30,000 nest egg. Let's either go to Europe or run for governor." The trip to Europe was forgotten.

Ferguson himself said he became irked at the rise of the prohibition issue and began writing letters to the newspapers describing his idea of qualities a Texas governor should have. The papers didn't print the letter at first but he gave the subject continued thought and decided his description fitted a friend living in Cameron.

Suggests He Run

The friend declined and suggested that Ferguson should run. Then the papers began printing his letters and friends began urging him to run. In two weeks he took the plunge.

His first term has been called exemplary. In 1917 the Texas Senate, sitting as a court, found James Edmund Ferguson guilty of 10 articles of impeachment. He had been suspended from office when the House of representatives the month before voted to submit impeachment articles.

Action by the Senate in finding him guilty automatically removed Ferguson from the governor's chair.

Thereafter Jim Ferguson fumbled politically, losing three races in succession, until he conceived the revolutionary idea of entering his wife as a candidate. It was a brilliant stroke. Elected in 1924, she was the second woman governor in the land, and the only one Texas has ever had.

Interested In Home

Motherly by nature and interested first in her home, Mrs. Miram A. Ferguson left the administration largely in her husband's hands. This caused the outcry against "proxy governorship."

The Ferguson banner went down in 1926 and none carried it in 1928, but Jim by then had begun publishing the "Ferguson Forum" which promised they would make a comeback in 1930.

"Let it be understood, once and for all," Mrs. Ferguson said in announcing her candidacy, "that I will receive the aid and advice of my good husband. If consulting one's husband be treason, make the most of it."

Bitter foes of the Fergusons criticized him and not her for the large number of pardons and paroles granted in her administration which was followed by withdrawal of federal aid from Texas.

As much as it was possible for them to do so, the Fergusons went into retirement after she concluded her second two-year term in 1935. By the middle of that year they had completely effaced themselves from the public life.

Forecast Present War

But Jim Ferguson found occasion to grant a few interviews and predicted at the time that another World war was in the offing, with certain embroilment of the United States. He pictured Hitler and Mussolini as the greatest threats to continued peace.

In 1935 he had not changed his opinion that prohibition was bad, and he looked upon old age pensions as just another burden for the staggering taxpayer. This last view he saw fit to change when Mrs. Ferguson ran for the fifth time for governor in 1940.

By then he had also changed his mind about education, for the Ferguson platform that year advocated "liberal appropriations." It was his wrangling with the University of Texas that contributed to impeachment action against him.

FAMILY WANTS FLOWERS DIVERTED TO HOSPITAL

AUSTIN, Sept. 21. (AP) — The family of former Gov. James E. Ferguson today issued the following statement:

"Governor Ferguson was a native of Bell county and upon his last visit to his home county and home city of Temple he paid a visit to McCloskey General hospital and at that time he remarked to the members of his family that it was one if not the greatest institutions that he had ever seen, save and except for the fact that it was bleak and desolate because of the lack of shrubbery and flowers and that he wanted, when he could, to do something to brighten the grounds to make life more livable and pleasant for those who have done so much in the service of their country.

"In recognition of his last expression of a desire to be a continued benefactor to mankind his family has expressed a desire and wish that no flowers be sent to his funeral; but that any one desiring to do so will instead forward growing flowers, shrubs, or funds in lieu thereof, to Gen. J. A. Bethea, commanding general, McCloskey hospital, Temple, Texas."

Nazis Reel Under Many Blows, But Arnhem Gap Most Critical

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Nazi forces on all fronts in Europe are reeling under synchronized Russian-Allied blows but it is around the Arnhem gateway in Holland to the vulnerable German coastal plain that the most immediate crisis for Germany is apparent.

SIMPSON

Complete Allied success there could set the Whole Nazi west front from the Swiss border to the North Sea rocking. It could spell the beginning of the end of the battle of the Rhine almost before it actually began. Broadcast appeals to German troops to fight to the death reflected that.

Could Prove Decisive

They acknowledged that the fight on that narrow sector of the 500 mile wide west front could prove "decisive." Yet swift Allied seizure intact of the Nijmegen bridge across the lower Rhine strongly indicates a confused and uncertain situation within enemy ranks at that critical point of which Field Marshal Montgomery's charging tanks and leap-frogging air borne forces were taking full advantage.

Official Allied reports still lagged hours behind front-line advices. There were many intimations, however, that the gap between airborne advance elements and British tank forces surging across the vital Rhine bridge had been closed and that the eastern arm of the Rhine might also have been crossed at Arnhem.

Intent On Widening Hold

There was no question that Montgomery was already shuttling heavy ground forces across the all-important Nijmegen bridge, intent not only of quick relief for the advance airborne troops enemy-besieged at or near Arnhem, but also on widening his front north of the Rhine as quickly as possible. It appeared a dangerously narrow salient so far as it could be traced on the maps and Allied headquarters emphasized that Montgomery had lost no time in expanding its base line south of the Waal-Rhine and the Maas to guard against possible Nazi flanking thrusts.

Not until the last Rhine crossings are secured and Montgomery is in a position to begin pouring forces through the Arnhem-Emmerich gap will his next objectives become apparent.

Lubbock War Price and Rationing board volunteer workers and regular employes worked Thursday on last-minute applications for A gasoline ration books, which became valid at midnight. The board said it hoped all applications on file could be processed Thursday and that A books could be mailed Thursday night.

Ray Everett Bonebrake, 2-year-old son of S/Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Elmer Bonebrake of 2211 Tyler, whose last three fingers on his right hand were amputated at Lubbock General hospital, was released Thursday afternoon. He caught his hand in a fan. His father is stationed at South Plains Army Air field.

Pvt. Robert L. McMullan, son of Mrs. Mary A. McMullan of 406 Ave. X, was among 2,622 United States soldiers wounded in action, the War department announced Thursday.

Funeral services for L. F. Ingram of Waco, father of Bob Ingram of 1304 Twenty-seventh, will be at 2 p. m. Friday at Bruceville, Texas. The son left for Waco Wednesday.

Mrs. George V. Wortman of 2018 Sixteenth was notified by the War department Monday night that her husband, T/Sgt. George V. Wortman, was wounded in action Aug 28 in France. Sgt. Wortman, an infantryman with the First Army, landed in France on D-day. He has been in the service almost four years. His wife is living with her sister, Mrs. Earl Langley, whose husband is serving in Italy.

Problems that will confront the returning service man and woman when the war is over were discussed by Second Lt. F. H. Ulrey, orientation officer of South Plains Army Air field, at the luncheon of Kiwanis club Thursday in Lubbock hotel. He was introduced by R. W. Matthews, program chairman. T. E. Buckner, club president, presided. After the luncheon it was voted by a group of Kiwanians to organize four bowling teams, and Robert J. Allen was named secretary. Play will open Tuesday night at Lubbock Bowling club, 1113 Main. W. C. Rylander keynoted the bowling suggestion.

Guffey Raps Dewey And Aldrich Attitudes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP) — Senator Guffey (D-Pa) said today in the Senate that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had been "giving lip service to an international political organization to prevent wars while his principal financial adviser speaks out against the kind of economic measures that would remove the cause of wars."

Guffey asserted that Winthrop Aldrich, New York banker, had opposed the international monetary program developed at Bretton Woods, and had advocated a unilateral agreement with Great Britain that would exclude other nations from participating in postwar financial affairs.

He said: "This philosophy, advocated by the man who, it is reported, would become secretary of the treasury in the event Dewey were to become president, is simply a return to those conditions which cause wars."

More War Dogs Asked By Army And Marines

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Dogs for Defense, Inc., announced today that additional war dogs were urgently needed by the Army and Marine corps for service overseas.

The Army wants 200 animals from 14 months to two years old, grey or tan in color, the agency said, and the Marine corps needs 60 male Doberman pinchers and German shepherds one to four years old and weighing at least 60 younds.

The appeal said the Army prefers German and Belgian shepherds, Doberman pinschers, farm collies, Siberian and Eskimo huskies.

Heavy Weapons Unit Halting For Rest, Not Sure Of Corner

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, Sept. 13 (Delayed)—Men of a heavy weapons company sat on a rainy hillside eating K-rations and trying to heat coffee.

No, they didn't know whether such-and-such regiment was around the bend of the road. However, it should be having a very busy time if it were there, somebody opined absently. Why? Well, because the Germans also were there.

"Well, so long as you're going to stay here a while," Lt. Cornelius (Micky) Grace of Brooklyn, company commander, said presently, "you might as well write something about us."

"Okay—what's new around here?"

"Too many Brooklyn guys," snapped Sgt. Simon Weisman, 32-year-old ex-lawyer from Minneapolis, chewing a chunk of K-ration cheese as he spoke.

"Who else is from Brooklyn?"

"Well, you asked for it," said Weisman wearily. "Line up men. Get your notebook out. I will introduce them slowly."

"These other two lieutenants are Leo Lamar, machinegun platoon leader, and Hyman Pergament, an 81-mm mortar platoon leader. That's three Brooklyn officers which should give you the germ of the idea."

Grins spread around the faces of the dirty soldiers grabbing their first rest in several days as the introductions continued.

Weismann took a deep breath. "That seems to be all of them around at the moment, but there are plenty more if you want them rounded up."

War Vet Tells Of Losing Legs And Hobbling To Aid Buddies

TEMPLE, Sept. 21. (U.P.)—T/Sgt. Carlos C. Carbajal of Refugio, a surgical technician with an armored division in Italy, talks about losing both his legs and hobbling around on the stumps in as matter of fact a way as he would ask his McCloskey General hospital nurse for a drink of water.

He handled at least 50 casualties under intense fire while his outfit was in the thick of fighting in Tunisia, Naples, Cassino, Anzio, and on the drive to and past Rome.

"T/Sgt. John White of Carrizo Springs and I were lifting a patient on a litter into an ambulance," Carbajal recalled upon his arrival here by plane from Coral Gables, Fla., with a contingent of wounded men.

Shell Cuts Off Both Legs

"White was inside the ambulance. A shell hit the front of the car and exploded. Fragments cut off both my legs," he said.

"The force of the explosion blew everybody out of the ambulance, and it started to burn.

"I wound up standing up on my stumps looking into the thing to see if there was anyone I could drag out of the fire," Carbajal said.

He is the son of Mrs. Rosa Carbajal of Refugio.

Other Texans arriving at the hospital included:

Sgt. William C. Howard, jr., of Port Neches, commander of a tank battalion, who was injured south of Rome when his tank struck a land mine.

One From Eastland

Pfc. Gene V. Rhodes of Eastland was wounded at Magialiano, Italy, 225 miles north of Rome, when he was hit in the left shoulder by a machine gun bullet. Holding the Presidential Unit citation, Rhodes fought with the 36th division from Salerno to Magialiano.

Sgt. Richard D. Hoffman, whose wife lives at Mission, lost his right leg by shrapnel at the Arno river near Pisa.

Pfc. James Perkins, son of Mrs. M. F. Perkins, McKinney, was shot in the left shoulder at Anzio and later received shell fragments in his right leg 10 miles from Rome. When his second wound was received, Perkins was in a company leading the final drive on Rome.

Planned World's Fair

When the war broke out, Perkins said, Naples was planning a World's fair, and had built many modernistic and attractive bulidings. These were used by the Allies for hospitals, he said.

T/Sgt. Alloyed O. Toll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Toll of Oldenburg, whose wife lives near La Grange, was hit in the right leg by a bomb in Normandy.

T/Sgt. Raymond L. Atchison, son of Mrs. Thomas Atchison, Gatesville, was wounded near Civitavecchia, Italy, when he was struck in the left knee by machine gun fire from a strafing enemy plane.

Pvt. James W. Norris, son of George Norris, Fort Worth, broke his right hip while on maneuvers in England. His wife lives at Ranger.

Machine Bullets In Leg

S/Sgt. Doroeto H. Ganzales of Robstown, suffered machine pistol bullets in his right upper leg in action near Velletri, Italy. Thirty-two year-old Gonzales was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action at San Pietro, and wears the Purple Heart with two Oak Leaf clusters.

Pvt. Joe M. Lozano of Flatonia, received machine gun bullets in his upper right leg while a member of the famous American-Canadian "Baggy-Pants" near Rome.

Another WLB Panel Says Little Steel Formula Too Low

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Organized labor's campaign to break the administration's wartime wage restraints won new ground tonight at a War Labor board panel declared that the "Little Steel" wage ceiling can be broken to keep earnings abreast of the cost of living.

It was the second time in a week a WLB panel had found the President has the power to modify wage controls.

Today's panel, which heard the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, CIO, demand a 17-cent hourly wage boost, did not recommend the increase, but said it could be granted and detailed surveys showing the cost of living has gone up beyond the "Little Steel" barrier freezing salaries at 15 per cent above January, 1941.

A week ago another panel which reviewed a wage increase asked by CIO steel workers made similar findings. Both panels reported that estimates on the increase in the cost of living range from the 25. per cent figure of the bureau of labor statistics to 45.3 per cent claimed by the CIO.

Today's panel concluded:

"There is no executive action restricting the board from recommending modification of or congressional action prohibiting or restricting the President from reconsidering and modifying the "Little Steel Formula' in the light of the rise in the cost of living since May, 1942."

Ground Lean Beef Provides Tasty Tender Meat Dishes

Spaghetti with rich beef sauce is a Number One way to use abundant lean non-rationed beef. Together with beef and kidney pie, braised Mexican steak, beef pot roast, and beef and vegetable stew, this flavorful dish will highlight many fall and winter meals.

Lean non-rationed beef is federally inspected and graded with less fat than higher grade cuts. It has the same good flavor and high-quality proteins, vitamins and minerals of choicer cuts of beef.

Can Use Liquids

While braising and stewing are the best cooking methods for pieces of lean beef, broiling and baking are delicious for ground beef. Variations in braised and stewed dishes are made by using such liquids as canned soups. French dressing, chili sauce, canned fruit or vegetable juices, or sour cream. For more flavor, use herbs and seasonings: sweet marjoram for hash, meat pies and casseroles; sweet basil and thyme for beef sauces; and summer savory for beef patties.

Spaghetti and meat sauce served with French bread and salad is a perfect ending to a football game or basement party. Here is the tested recipe for it and other ground lean beef dishes:

Meat And Spaghetti Supper

1 onion, chopped
2 tablespoons lard
1 pound ground beef.
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
½ teaspoon chili powder
1 can mushroom soup
1 can tomato soup
1 7-oz. package spaghetti

Lightly brown onion in hot lard. Add ground beef and cook slowly until well browned. Add remaining ingredients and simmer ½ hour. Pour meat sauce over hot cooked spaghetti. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese.

Stuffed Meat Rolls

1 pound ground beef
Pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chopped onion
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon bacon fat or lard
½ cup fine, dry bread crumbs
1½ cups medium white sauce

Mix thoroughly meat, seasonings, 1 tablespoon onion and water. Divide meat in 6 individual portions and shape each in a square. For the stuffing cook 2 tablespoons onion fat until soft and yellow. Add bread crumbs and season. Place a spoonful of stuffing on each meat square. Roll and seal ends. Brown in small amount of hot fat. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Pour white sauce over meat and bake at 325° F. oven for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Steak sandwich? That's a post-war favorite that should never have left menus. This proves it. Mix ground beef with salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, minced onion and a small amount of water to moisten. Spread the mixture on half buns, spreading clear to the edge. Broil them open-face about 8 minutes. Top with a spoonful of Bleu cheese or mustard mixed with margarine or butter. Broil again to heat the topping.

MEATS, FATS, ETC. — Book four red stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through G5 valid indefinitely.

PROCESSED FOODS — Book four blue stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through L5 valid indefinitely. Use of blue tokens will be discontinued Oct. 1.

SUGAR—Book four stamps 30 through 33 valid indefinitely for five pounds each; stamp 40 good for five pounds for home canning through Feb. 28, 1945.

SHOES — Book three airplane stamps 1 and 2 good indefintely.

GASOLINE — 12-A, 13-A coupon in new basic "A" gasoline ration book good for four gallons each from Sept. 22 through Dec. 21 (ration unchanged despite change from three to four-gallon value). B-3, B-4, C-3 and C-4 coupons good for five gallons.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

Leftover chocolate confectioner's frosting can be thinned down, heated in double boiler and served as sauce for steamed or baked pudding. Or pour the extra frosting into jar rinsed out of cold water (to prevent frosting from sticking to sides of the jar), cover with lid or waxed paper and chill until needed. The frosting will keep a week or so, then thin down a little with hot coffee, water, milk or cream and use for frosting cakes, cookies, cup cakes or crackers. Making up extra frosting and storing it saves preparation time.

LIMIT INGREDIENTS

For a successful salad, limit your ingredients, three or four are enough. Don't try to put everything in one defenseless salad. Have the ingredients of a size that they can be recognized. Nondescript appearance and texture is not popular.

Let's think of ground beef recipes. Individual stuffed meat rolls: ground beef shaped around bread stuffing and cooked in a white sauce. Tiny beef rolls: roll browned beef and onion in individual biscuit rolls, bake, and serve with tomato or mushroom sauce. Cornbread delight: top browned beef and onion with cornbread and bake. These tempters make 1 pound of ground beef for six.

MEAT AND SPAGHETTI SUPPER—Use abundant lean non-rationed beef in this delicious spaghetti and rich beef sauce dish. Serve with French bread and salad. To prepare, lightly brown one chopped onion in two tablespoons hot lard. Add one pound ground beef and cook slowly until well browned. Add one tablespoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon black pepper, one-half teaspoon chili powder, one can mushroom soup, and 1 can tomato soup. Simmer ½ hour. Pour meat sauce over one 7-ounce package spaghetti, cooked, and sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Serves 6.

ALMONDS NUTRITIVE

Never doubt the nutritive value of almonds. For example, they are on a par with foods rich in iron such as entire barley, entire wheat and oatmeal and contain more iron than any other nuts.

EXCELLENT APPETIZER

A good appetizer which supplies crisp refreshment and better than average nourishment, too, is made with Calavo, watermelon and honeydew melon balls. Thorough chilling is essential.

In doing the family marketing, look for full-bodied, plump looking vegetables. Pods of peas and lima beans should be moist and leafy vegetables are best if the leaves are young, unwilted and free from yellowness.

Apply wax to painted window sills so that rain spatters will not mark the surface.

Saving juices from cooked vegetables has become a habit in many homes. This fall is certainly a good time to begin using every drop of juice from canned vegetables. Use hot vegetable juice as the liquid for braised meats, or baste a Swiss steak with hot canned peach juice.

Lemon Meringue Pie Is Favorite

Eggs are plentiful, so are lemons. Now's the time to team foods in your family's favorite lemon meringue pie. Or try this three-egg recipe with its deep topping of fluffy white meringue.

1 Cup water
¾ Cup sugar
¼ Teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
5 Tablespoons cornstarch
½ Cup cold water
3 Well beaten egg yolks
1 Tablespoon butter
6 tablespoons lemon juice
3 egg whites, beaten until frothy
6 Tablespoons sugar

Bring water, sugar, salt and lemon peel to a boil in saucepan on direct heat. Add cornstarch, blended with ½ cup cold water. Cook over low heat until thickened (about 5 minutes), stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Pour part of hot mixture slowly into beaten egg yolks. Return it to rest of hot mixture in saucepan. Stir well. Add butter and stir. Add lemon juice. Mix well.

Pour filling into an 8-inch baked pastry shell. When filling is cool, top with a meringue, made by beating 6 tablespoons sugar gradually into beaten egg whites until they hold their shape in peaks. Put in oven at 325° F. 15 to 20 minutes, to brown tips of meringue.

GARNISH VEGETABLE PLATE

Colorful decorations for that meatless day vegetable plate are hard cooked eggs and lemon quarters. The egg adds food value similar to meat. The juice of the lemon enhances the flavor of the other foods.

Let's make Ravioli. Roll a noodles dough out very thin and cut in 3-inch circles. On each circle place a spoonful of finely chopped left-over meat mixed with beaten egg, minced parsley, and butter or margarine. Fold over, moisten edges and press together firmly. Drop into boiling water and cook about 12 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce and grated cheese.

Victory gardeners, stuff your cabbage, tomatoes, green peppers, onions or squash with stuffing; cubed liver sausage, frankfurters, bologna or salami, mixed with chopped onion, catsup, mustard and salt. Hollow out whole vegetable, fill and bake.

Anti-Roosevelt Electors On State Ticket May Be Increased To 16

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 21.—Possibility of the number of Texas Democratic presidential electors opposed to Roosevelt and Thomas being lifted from 15 to 16 was seen here today as political circles speculated widely on what the state's supreme court will rule in the contest between rival sets of electors named by two state Democratic conventions.

One of the electors included in the May 23 convention list has become ineligible by candidacy for the state legislature. The law specifies that if an elector dies or becomes ineligible the other electors may name a successor. The May convention list has 15 electors who say they will not vote for Roosevelt and Truman and they could outvote the seven pledged to Roosevelt and Truman in filling the vacancy.

May Have Two Sets

Beside speculation about the court decision in the law suit between the factions, there was speculation about what the losers in the court suit will do. None here seemed authorized to decide if another ticket will be filed. Some saw a possibility that the court as a matter of equity might direct that both sets of electors be placed in the Democratic party column on the Nov. 7 election ballot.

Hurdle for this plan was that it in effect makes a primary election of the general election. Gov. Coke R. Stevenson vainly tried to get the factions to agree to such a plan before they went to court.

If either faction files electors as a new ticket prompt action will be necessary. Chief Justice James P. Alexander announced the court will try to hand down a decision by Saturday. Monday is final day for making up the ballot.

May Electors Certified

A tentative draft for the ballot in the secretary of state's office carries the May 23 convention electors (including 15 against Roosevelt) in the Democratic party column, and lists of electors certified for the Republican, Socialist, Prohibition and America First parties. There also is a blank column for an Independent party and a column in which names may be written.

But one of the electors designated for the America First party has accepted and filed the oath of allegiance. Three have declined to serve. Many of the electors on the other tickets, too, have neglected to file the required oath of allegiance. It was made a requisite by the legislature in 1941.

By public drawing in the lobby of the capitol today the proposed state constitutional amendment to permit retirement compensation for county workers was given top place of the two amendments to be voted upon Nov. 7. The other amendment seeks to permit county commissioners courts to vary distribution of county funds under specified conditions.

Sheriff R. T. Daniel Said Hidalgo Winner

EDINBURG, Sept. 21. (AP) — Judge Bryce Ferguson of 92nd district court ruled today that Sheriff R. T. Daniel was winner of the Hidalgo County Democratic primary nomination by a margin of 21 votes as he concluded an election contest brought by T. B. Bailey of Edinburg.

Seven boxes were rechecked by the court.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Ferguson announced that the vote count showed Daniel with 4969 and Bailey with 4948.

Army Denies Charge Censors Opened Ballot

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)— The Army today officially denied charges that its censors had opened envelopes containing soldier votes in state primaries.

Secretary of War Stimson, asked at a news conference about the charges, said the War department had investigated them and that the inquiry "has not disclosed to date a single ballot envelope opened by an Army censor."

PIGGLY KNOWN 'ROUND THE WORLD BUT LOCALLY OWNED WIGGLY

GI's, Back From Long Service In Europe, Recount Stormy Scraps

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Pfc. Riley M. Tidwell, six and one half feet tall in his GI shoes, grinned his friendly Texas grin.

Tidwell, whose father is H. L. Tidwell of Route one, Corsicana, was just back from Italy, the next day was his 21st birthday, and he had four years of service in an infantry rifle company behind him.

With a number of other returned GIs, he was interviewed by the War department bureau of public relations. The others included T/Sgt. Jerry W. Davis, whose brother lives at Paris; Pvt. Rosalio S. Zamora, who has San Angelo relatives; Sgt. Jesse D. Bunch of Snyder, and S/Sgt. Winifred O. Williams of Hughes Springs.

Plan Visits Home

All had furlough's coming and were planning visits to Texas

The 143rd infantry, with which Tidwell went in as part of the 36th Infantry division at Salerno September 9, 1943, was the same outfit in which he had enlisted on September 9 three years earlier.

"Most of the men from Company "B" were from around Mexia, and practically all of them from Texas," he said. "It was a great outfit. I don't believe any company ever had a better commanding officer than we had in Capt. Henry T. Waskow, (whose home is in Belton, Texas.) When he was killed on a hill at Venafro I felt like I had lost a brother. I was his runner but every man in the company loved him because he was not only a great leader but a man who never asked you to do anything he wasn't ready to do himself.

Reserve At Hill 1205

"In the battle for Hill 1205, Company "B" was a kind of reserve company and was carrying up rationing for the rest of the battalion, which had the hill. We had been doing that for four days and were pretty tired and beaten up.

"When the 45th Infantry division units on our left were pulled out, we got the mission of taking a lower hill near Hill 1205. We had barely got started when a shell hit right beside Capt. Waskow and he was killed almost instantly. First Sgt. John W. Parker (of Mexia, Tex.) took over command and we took the hill."

Tidwell also fought at Anzio. His last engagement was on June 10, some 120 miles north of Rome, when he was hit by a shell fragment.

Davis is back after 17 months overseas in a rifle company of the 36th Infantry division. He took part in the landing at Salerno, fought on the Cassino and Anzio fronts and was 180 miles beyond Rome when he was withdrawn from combat.

During his action in Italy he was wounded twice and says that both times he got even with the Germans.

"The Jerries blew a boat right out from under me on the Rapido river the first time," Davis related. "There were five of us in it, all slightly wounded or shocked, but we got out all right despite the artillery they poured at us. And then it was our turn to pour it on them—and we sure did."

Shellfire Gets Him

Davis was hit again on June 18 by shellfire at Carroceta. "One of them lit too close to me and I got hit. I spotted a tank that looked like the one that had hit me and messaged its position back to our own artillery. It didn't last long after that," he said.

Davis trained with his division at Camp Bowie, Tex. He planned to spend his furlough at the home of his brother, Arthur Davis, at Paris.

Basin Manly Elected Federal Power Leader

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Basin Manly was elected chairman of the Federal Power commission today, and Leland Olds, former chairman, was made vice chairman.

A fight in the Senate over confirmation of Olds for another term on the five-man commission ended last week with a vote to confirm the appointment. But meantime Olds had been off the commission since June 22 when his first term expired, and Manly has been serving as acting chairman in the interim.

FPC chairmen are elected by the commissioners, who elevated Manly to the post on a regular basis today.

Manly, a Democrat, is a former newspaperman.

BY, OF, and FOR THE PEOPLE

POLITICS

Editor, The Avalanche: I have been glad to notice that you have been showing more liberality towards the "Pro-Roosevelters" lately, and I think you were trying to be liberal in your criticism today of Mr. Seay for saying he can't understand why a public official will not follow the mandates of the Democratic party.

You are wrong in this case and it being a new phase of a very complicated, yet important, question, I hasten to get in a few words with you.

I am sorry that what I consider the greatest argument for our case has not been raised and discussed that I know of: Namely, that a convention, being composed of individuals who may change their minds any day, may also change its collective mind any day, and, just as a man's last will is his legal will, so the last expression of a convention's will must be considered its legal one.

Now in this case, it being a party affair, it is the duty of the public official in charge of ticket arranging to consider nothing but the party's will in arranging that party's ticket.

The courts and the secretary of state were on logical grounds in maintaining that the May convention expressed the will of the party until the party in regular convention in September clearly expressed that even if the May convention expressed the true will of the party at that time it has changed its will by now.

It should be plain that only the present will of the party should be considered by the public officials.

Yours truly,
W. P. Florence.

Oklahoma Democrats Promise Enthusiasm

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 21 (U.P.) State Chairman Harrington Wimberly, Altus, said today the Democratic party in Oklahoma would have "only about $1 to the Republicans' $12," but promised to "outmatch them 50 to 1 in enthusiasm."

The statement followed a meeting of 40 business and professional men from all sections of the state here yesterday to discuss plans for the Democrats' campaign fund-raising efforts.

Wimberly said his party would depend "mostly on volunteer contributions." He said the Democrats would stress "our 12-year record of more security and greater financial gains for all citizens."

TO CHANGE SITE

DALLAS, Sept. 21 (AP) — Arrangements are nearing completion for holding the Greater Pan-American Hereford exposition Nov. 11-18 at Fair Park instead of Arlington Downs, as originally scheduled, Jack Frost, president of the Texas Hereford association, said today.

U. S. Casualties Exceed 400,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (U.P.)—American combat casualties in this war, as officially announced here, passed 400,000 today to reach a total of 400,760 as compared with 389,125 a week ago.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson announced that Army casualties through Sept. 6 totaled 337,743, including 64,468 killed, 177,235 wounded, 48,725 prisoners of war, and 41,315 missing.

Army Total 10,127 Greater

The Army total was 10,127 greater than that announced by Stimson a week ago.

Navy, Coast Guard and Marine casualties as announced today contributed 63,017 to the overall total. They included 25,152 dead, 23,867 wounded, 9,532 missing and 4,660 prisoners.

The Navy total was 1,508 larger than that of a week ago.

Stimson announced that of the Army wounded, 72,583 have returned to duty.

Nazis Said Ready To Use New Rocket Bomb

LONDON, Sept. 21. (AP) — Citizens of neutral countries who claim to have seen the Nazi "V-2" secret weapon, believed to be rocket bomb, say it looks "like a flying telegraph pole with a trail of flame," London newspapers declared today.

The neutrals say the projectile is about five feet in diameter and 50 feet long, carrying a ton of explosive and nine tons of secret fuel for motive power.

They describe it as a long range weapon useful against targets hundreds of miles away and say it has extremely high trajectory.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels has announced that the new terror weapon is ready for use, the newspapers said.

"No-Point-Ketchup" Platform Announced By Sooner Candidate

ELK CITY, Okla., Sept. 21 (U.P.) Roscoe Axton, a World war I veteran and a dog-team owner, today announced his candidacy for president of the United States on a "no-point-for-ketchup" platform.

Because of his team of two German shepherd dogs and little red wagon, which he drives around town, Axton said he would not need to apply for any extra gasoline to make his campaign.

He has had printed some campaign cards on which are the words: "Axton asking for the next four years" and "down with points on ketchup."

Axton said he would need no other campaign planks in his platform "since the people are so mad about the ketchup situation."

The OPA last Sunday raised the point value of ketchup from 30 to 50 points for the 14-ounce bottle.

Made a first lieutenant and with no silver bars available, he fashioned a pair from a tin can and taped them over his gold bars.

Former Tech Student Gets Oak Leaf Cluster

15TH AAF IN ITALY — Staff Sergeant Joe E. Young, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Young, Girard, Texas, has been awarded the first Bronze Oak Leaf Cluster for the Air Medal, it was announced by 15th Army Air Force headquarters.

In the words of the citation, Sgt. Young was awarded the cluster "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operatonal activities against the enemy." A ball turret gunner, Sgt. Young is stationed in Italy with a 15th AAF Liberator bombardment squadron which has been bombing Vienna, Steyr, Munich, Blechhammer and other vital targets in the network of German industrial centers throughout occupied Europe.

A graduate of Girard High school in the class of 1938, Sgt. Young was a student at Texas Tech when he enlisted with the Army Air Corps on July 16, 1942. He attended aerial gunnery school at Harlingen, Tex., prior to his assignment to the 15th Air Force overseas.

Sgt. Young has flown 26 combat missions against enemy-held territory since his arrival in the Mediterranean theater of operations.

Food Supply Prospects Are 'Reasonably Good'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Civilian food supply prospects in the United States are "reasonably good" for the remainder of this year and early 1945, the Bureau of Agriculture Economics said today.

The bureau said that the per capita civilian consumption for 1944 would be slightly higher than last year and 7 per cent above the pre-war five year average.

TWO MARINES KILLED

FORT WORTH, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Eagle Mountain Marine air base announced that two Marine corps airmen were killed yesterday in the explosion of their dive bomber as it crashed into the Gulf of Mexico 50 miles off Sabine Pass.

The two fliers were temporarily assigned to Jefferson Field near Beaumont, but were stationed at the air base here.

League Said Non-Political, But Fighting Hillman And CIO Hard

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (U.P.) — Joseph P. Kamp, acting chairman of the Constitutional Educational league, said today that the league is not a political organization but that it "is determined to do everything in its power to prevent Sidney Hillman, the CIO and the Communist party from taking over the country."

Testifying before a House committee investigating campaign expenditures, Kamp rejected a committee request for the names of contributors to the league and refused information about the league's finances.

He refused, Kamp said, on the grounds that such information would be used by "the notorious smear Bund" to intimidate and persecute "conscientious and patriotic citizens who are helping the league to defend and protect constitutional government."

Another Also Refused

Another group under investigation by the committee, the Committee for Constitutional Government founded by Publisher Frank Gannett, had refused information about its financial contributors. Chairman Clinton Anderson, D., N. M., of the House group issued a subpoena for the committee's books and records, however, after disclosing that it had collected $122,000 from contributors in Texas.

Kamp said his organization has published unrefuted exposes of Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action committee; the Congress of Industrial organizations, and the Communist party. These exposes are "no more political than the Dies committee or the Congress itself was in initiating and sponsoring their official expose of un-American activities," Kamp said.

Winchell Branded

In his reference to the "smear Bund," Kamp said columnist Walter Winchell was "the Bund's arch smearer."

The committee for constitutional government has threatened to take the matter into court if its records are subpoenaed.

Anderson said his committee's investigators had previously studied records of the Constitutional committee, originally set up by the Rochester, N. Y., publisher, and recently reorganized as a purely educational group.

"We determined that $112,000 was raised in one state and that one man got $10,000 in seven months for his soliciting," Anderson said.

"If this marks a trend it certainly becomes a matter of public interest to investigate it.

Not In Campaigns

The committee was advised in a letter from E. A. Rumely, executive secretary of the organization, that it had "never spent or contributed a dime" on any campaign and that therefore it was not obligated to disclose names of contributors.

Rumely said that if the records were subpoenaed, it would "take the position that you would be going outside of the (congressional) resolution under which you are acting" and take the matter to the courts.

Soldiers Charged In Paris Black Market

PARIS, Sept. 21. (AP)—Twenty-seven American soldiers have been arrested in the U. S. Army's campaign to smash black-market activities in Paris, the provost marshal's office disclosed today.

One soldier truck driver, the marshal's office said, was arrested with 51,000 francs on his person. The man allegedly had driven into the city with a load of gasoline, sold most of it and, when the francs became more than he could handle, gave the rest of the fuel away.

The soldiers will be tried as soon as court martial arrangements can be made.

James E. Ferguson Passes

AS it must sometime come to all mortals, death came yesterday to James E. Ferguson, once the most loved, and at the same time the most disliked man in Texas public life.

Twice elected governor of Texas in his own name, and twice elected in the name of his wife, 'Farmer Jim" Ferguson was the principal figure in what undoubtedly was the stormiest era to date in Texas politics. No adult Texan breathed who was neither for nor against Jim Ferguson. There was no middle ground.

Impeached and removed from office by action of the Texas legislature—in which the late Sen. W. H. Bledsoe, of Lubbock, was a prime figure—Jim Ferguson left the statehouse in 1917 a discredited man. He assayed a comeback the following year but was beaten by W. P. Hobby, who succeeded after Ferguson's impeachment. Jim remained on the sidelines for six years. But the Ku Klux Klan issue, plus the fact that many Texans never did believe Jim guilty of the charges, gave him a springboard from which, in 1924, his wife vaulted into office on a "vindication" platform. She was beaten for re-election in 1926, and back she came in 1930, running interference for Jim again, but once more was defeated. She won in 1932, then rested for eight years, only to lose badly her last time out in 1940. That race rang down the curtain for the Ferguson candidacy, although Jim's "Deep East Texas support" for Wilbert Lee O'Daniel was credited with the margin which first sent the flour man to the U. S. Senate in the special election of 1941.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson in recent years have kept well out of the public eye. On her part, retirement was from choice. On his, failing eyesight and a lingering illness were responsible. So since they have lived in seclusion, those who disliked them and their policies the most have been mellowed by the passage of time, while those who loved them best in the most part remained true. Thus death came to Jim Ferguson at a time when his passing will be sincerely regretted by millions of Texans who loved him and who believed in him, and when the hands and hearts of few remain set against him.

Whatever he was, or he wasn't, Jim Ferguson played a leading role in three decades of Texas history. And he played it up to the hilt. He was a great fighter, a romantic figure—he was almost an era in himself.

And for these things, The Morning Avalanche—which opposed him politically—salutes his career and his memory, with honest regret over his passing.

Our "Bright, Blue Weather"

THE poet who gained fame by singing of "October's Bright Blue Weather" was, as we recall, giving rhyme to thoughts about the autumns of New England. Yet had the wonders and the zest of West Texas falls been known then as they are now, the chances are he would have included this area in his tribute.

South Plains weather the year 'round is about as good as any weather anywhere and much superior to that of most sections of the world. But during the weeks roughly bounded by September 10 and December 1, our days and nights normally approach perfection.

Human beings, at their best, are ungrateful wretches and a single March blow attracts more comment than six weeks of bright blue sunshine and starry nights with just enough of a tang in them to make sleeping a glorious experience. But to those who thoughtlessly feel that an occasional sandstorm is more to be shunned than the tornadoes, cyclones, slush, bitter cold and moisture—laden heat of other areas, we point out that, if properly recognized, one day and night of South Plains fall weather makes up for a half-dozen spring disturbances.

It is undoubtedly good for us to remember that while infrequent sandstorms are unpleasant, our "Indian summer" weather is such that it deserves at least as much praise as our less attractive periods deserve condemnation. We need to remember, too, that for every bad stretch, we have ten good ones.

No territorial portion of the U. S.—or, of the world, for that matter—can get all the good weather coons up one tree. But it is an indisputable fact that the South Plains gets as many up one arboreal growth as does any other section—and a great deal more than most.

A geologist says the earth's crust is becoming dangerously thin in places. It may become necessary to skin a few politicians and half-sole the earth here and there.

The greatest and commonest cause of overweight is the eating of food.

The One Minute Sermon

Thus saith the Lord, Keep ye judgment, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it; that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.—Isaiah 56:1-2.

VICTORY IN NORTH AFRICA

XXI

"THINGS were getting hot," as Ike called it, all along the line. The Axis was fighting desperately at great cost of lives and supplies. They broke through American artillery positions west of Faid Pass, imperiling the Allied positions at Gafsa. American forces under heavy assaults withdrew to the hills in the Tebessa region on the Algerian border. Montgomery's British Eighth Army was only 165 miles away after fighting its way across North Africa.

The battles at Kasserine Pass were being waged with terrific onslaughts from both sides. The first battle lasted two days and ended in defeat for the Americans and French, who were forced back into Algeria. It was a death struggle to take this mountain gateway to Tunis. The Germans, spirited by their temporary victory, advanced rapidly towards Thala.

General Eisenhower was at the front witnessing the battle. Standing beside him were General Alexander, General Giraud, and General Patton. They watched the American forces as they rallied a few days later with a powerful attack. Through brilliant strategy the Germans were caught between the sheer, cliffed walls in the mountain pass — a modern Thermopylae. Waves of American bombers poured death from the skies. Panic-stricken, the Germans tried to escape the flaming tomb, but the American ground forces drove through with devastating power. The Battle of Kasserine Pass was won (Feb. 24, 1943), and the remnants of the Germans retreated toward Gafsa. And Gafsa, with General Eisenhower witnessing the battle, was captured in terrific combat by American infantry on March 17, St. Patrick's Day.

The Americans captured El Guettar. The German Mareth Line began to crack under Allied bombing and a major battle was brewing. General "Monty" Montgomery was making rapid progress coming from the east and sent the following message to his chief:

"We are all looking forward to joining the United States of America forces very shortly and after that we will finish off this business very quickly between us."

THE British forced Rommel from his Mareth Line (March 29) into Southern Tunisia towards Gabes, which was under heavy naval shelling. They captured El Hamma and Gabes (March 30). Rommel was pushed farther and farther into the coffin corner, until he joined with von Arnim's forces in Northwest Tunisia.

The long-awaited day arrived. It was April 7 when the message came to Eisenhower that Monty's battle-scarred British veterans, who had fought their way 2000 miles across the African deserts, had joined the Americans in Tunisia, south of De Djebel Chemsi on the Gafsa-Gabes road. Monty's gallant Eighth and Patton's Second U. S. Corps were fighting together against the common enemy. In the meantime, other American forces had accomplished a major thrust by pushing 20 miles and taking Fondouk in Central Tunisia.

The combined force swept forward. The total Axis prisoners of the two armies counted 12,000 as Axis forces abandoned Mahares and retreated toward Sfax on April 9. Sfax was captured the next day and on the 11th day they were 27 miles north at La Hencha while American troops stormed and swept through Faid Pass. Kairouan was taken on April 12, and the armies swept on, capturing thousands of Axis troops, 30,000 by April 15.

ROMMEL was being beaten at his own game. He had only the sea behind him. He must fight to the last ditch or attempt a German "Dunkirk" with what was left of his shattered army. In North Tunisia American troops, in total darkness, captured all the Djebel Tahent, Hill 609. American troops captured Mateur, 19 miles southwest of Bizerte, after a 15-mile advance through the German position of Jefna to the west.

The Axis in Africa had come to the end of the trail. On a glorious May day (May 7, 1943) at 4:15 in the afternoon Bizerte was captured by the U. S. Second Corps aided by the French. Tunis was captured by the British First Army after advancing 23 miles in 36 hours. United States armored forces were advancing toward the Gulf of Tunis to cut off the retreating Axis troops. The British pushed along the coast to stop the enemy from withdrawing into the hills of the Cape Bon Peninsula.

Bombers were pouring death and destruction on the fleeing armies of Rommel. His desperate attempt to escape to the sea had failed. There was but one thing left for him—to escape to Italy by air and leave his bedraggled army behind him.

May 9 was a dismal day to the "all-powerful" Axis. Germans and Italians began surrendering unconditionally en masse. Six great German commanders, headed by the proud Maj.-Gen. Willibard Borowietz, surrendered to the American General Bradley of the Second Corps.

The death rattle was gurgling in the throats of the mighty Axis. A few hours later, on May 10, British forces were advancing up both sides of Cape Bon peninsula with a last powerful grip.

General Eisenhower, at his headquarters, issued this statement on May 12: "Organized resistance, except in isolated pockets of the enemy, has ceased. General von Arnim, commander of the Axis forces in Tunisia, has been captured."

NEXT: Landing in Sicily.

22 Months Abroad Teaches Private To Obey And Dig

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Pvt. Rosalio S. Zamora's formula for 22 months of successful infantry action overseas is "obey orders, and dig, dig, dig!"

Zamora, whose foster mother, Mrs. Josef Zamora, and brother, Jesu, live at San Angelo, was one of several GI's back from overseas for furloughs, interviewed by the War department bureau of public relations.

Zamora's record shows he was in the invasion of North Africa at Fedala with the 3rd Infantry division; in the campaign in Tunisia, the invasion of Sicily with the 1st Infantry division, the fighting at Anzio with the 3rd Infantry division, and in the big push on Rome.

Zamora says he credits his faith in God and thorough infantry training with guarding him from serious injury. His closest escape came when a mortar shell landed near him last Nov. 13 in Italy and he suffered a concussion.

"Several times I was blown out of my foxhole by shell explosions," he said.

"I always obeyed orders and always dug a foxhole, no matter how tired I was after a march. Sometimes others who thought they would move on before they could dig a hole, died wishing they had. I got so I could dig a full depth hole in 10 minutes."

Zamora, who took basic training with a chemical warfare outfit at Fort Sam Houston, planned to spend his furlough at San Angelo.

COULD RETAIN EQUIPMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — Volunteer Civilian Defense workers would be allowed to retain their equipment following the end of the war under a bill introduced today by Rep. Kearney (R-NY).

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

TO GET the most out of your newspaper, don't just read the headlines and the front page stories and the stuff that is played up in big type and prominent position.

Real life—the kind of life that affects you and is like your own—is often hidden away in obscure corners and, maybe, consists of some four or five line item.

For instance, in my morning paper, I found three such items today which will illustrate what I mean.

Item Number One: A fellow introduced his mother-in-law's picture in the Washington, D. C., District court, as evidence why he should be relieved of paying alimony.

The picture was marked "Exhibit E," and with it was this notation: "The court will observe exhibit E and thus may be able properly to conclude that the defendant never was able to make a success of his marriage."

Item Number Two: A woman, in filing suit for divorce against her husband, a Peru, Ind., wild animal trainer, asked custody of their three elephants, a horse and their twin sons, in the order named.

Item Number Three: Several hundred gusts from four states had gathered at a fashionable home in Rehoboth Beach, Del., to attend a wedding.

When they were all assembled, the bride's father arose and announced that the wedding had been called off, because the couple had decided at the last minute that they couldn't be happy together.

The minister who was to have performed the ceremony said: "I admire their courage."

SO THERE you are. Three little items—yet many lives affected, lives just like yours and mine.

There's the old mother-in-law trouble, there's cruelty and squabbling and the fighting over assets and alimony.

And there are the two young people who had the courage to tell all their assembled guests: "We made a mistake — have a good time at our wedding dinner, but there won't be any wedding."

How many marriages go wrong because they shouldn't have been contracted in the first place? How many mothers-in-law would be so much nicer if they could only realize that their daughters or sons are grown up and on their own when they get married?

You see how many thoughts come to you from those little items in your paper?

They are just like gold nuggets—you have to dig for them to find them.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE year 1944 threatens to be a viciously querulous one for the members of both major parties. Naturally enough, the seat of discontent with both Presidential candidates and the two national headquarters is located on Capitol Hill. The congressmen are becoming sulkier and sorer day by day.

The Democrats are as miffed at their New York-Washington publicity bureaus as the Republicans are at Gov. Tom Dewey's alleged neglect of them, as recently reported here. The majority men believe that the speech and statement writers employed by Chairman Bob Hannegan are sacrificing the lawmakers in their single desire to re-elect President Roosevelt.

Within the last few weeks GOP orators, who possess an exceptionally fine research and penmanship staff, have lambasted their opposites and also the White House. There has been a hostile barrage upon the Pearl Harbor debacle, alleged secrecy in negotiating postwar arrangements, reputed reconversion unpreparedness etc.

Since FDR is not running for a fourth term in the "usual, partisan sense," and will not make answer, his henchmen feel that they ought to speak up. But Democratic headquarters has failed to supply them with a single defensive or counterattacking address.

ORATORY: The inevitable result has been that the retaliatory fire is feeble, inaccurate and sporadic. And failure to fend off these guerrilla assaults on and off the floor may damage incumbents' reelection chances fully as much as they may hurt the heads of the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

Although it may disillusion folks back home who like to look on their representatives as minor Demosthenes or Daniel Websters, few Congressmen have the time or ability to write their own harangues They must depend on partisan ghosts.

There was no such dearth of ammunition when "Charley" Michelson headed the publicity department. He passed the ammunition and praised the Congress as well as the Chief Executive. Charley was on the job night and day when trouble was a-making.

His successor, Paul Porter, although an extremely engaging and able fellow, is essentially a public relations expert, not a publicist. There is a vast difference. He glad-hands, swanks around and dishes out Olympian advice to the politicos instead of drumming a typewriter. Therefore, Democratic oratory has fallen to a new low both in quality and volume.

GASOLINE: The fuel shortage for general automobile passenger travel will remain stringent long after Herr Hitler has cashed in his checks. A few nonmilitary considerations not to mention in official OPA releases offer scant hope for an end to severe rationing.

The coupon system was installed primarily to save tires, not petroleum. When Japan severed the Anglo-American route to the South Pacific, there was no expectation that the synthetic product would fill our needs as it does now. Washington feared that "touring as usual" would wear out tires and lead to a transportation crisis for workers in plants making weapons.

Ration was designed to keep people at home and curtail the glorious, riotous weekends of peacetime. With payrolls fattening, there was misgiving that employes would waste needed energy and time in night-clubbing, visiting distant friends and holidaying. That would have meant factory absenteeism. The same conditions still exist, militating against too generous an allotment of gasoline.

Last—and this is a definite war factor—our planes and warships must cover vast distances in the final assault on Tokyo. The new B-29s necessary for that consume far more "juice" than Liberators, Fortresses or medium bombers like the Mitchells and Marauders. So don't plan any cross-country trips for next summer.

AIMS: Astute diplomats here note the resurgence of old-fashioned, prewar power politics, even in the face of meetings at Dumbarton Oaks and in Londan designed to frame a more unselfish world. The Soviet Union makes no bones about its determination to dominate small nations lying on her western border from the Baltic to the Black Sea. Stalin's military strength enables him to fulfill the territorial ambitions which motivated Russia even during Czarist regimes.

Prime Minister Churchill is more circumspect, but he lets no grass grow under his feet. He seeks a return of the old balance of power on the continent as a buffer against Germany, and possibly against the Reds. He is carefully cultivating the French. He was the first to insist on recognition of Charles de Gaulle when he was personna non grata in Washington.

Despite Franco's Fascist tendencies and unofficial alliance with Hitler and Mussolini in the early days, the British statesman recently welcomed the Spanish dictator back into the family of free nations.

In Italy, "Winnie" is playing along with the conservative royal and church circles. In Greece he supports King George against the liberal opposition. It was he who persuaded Ankara to break away from her economic tie-up with the Reich.

All these countries lie along the seaway to Egypt ,the Suez Canal and to India, where England's future destiny may lie.

Since the United States has no interest in territorial aggrandizement, FDR has remained aloof from this struggle for supremacy. But many of his advisers hope that, in return for letting our Allies achieve their historic diplomatic and economic aims he will demand retention of Atlantic and Pacific bases essential to our national defense.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE break through the Siegfried Line makes strategists confident that it won't be long before we cut the Wehrmacht into shreds.

Signs of early victory are mounting, especially the evidence of our superiority in armor and air power. However, military analysts—always cautious—call attention to adverse factors which may drag out the war. Here is a brief inventory of current assets and possible liabilities:

The poor quality and extreme youth of troops captured from undersized divisions thinly spread in sections of the West Wall furnish proof that Nazi manpower is even more depleted than was earlier estimated. Staff statisticians reckon that since May, German combatants have shrunk from four to three million. Hitler's 1947 class of boys has already been called up.

Besides Anglo-American forces of unrevealed but enormous numbers, Russia is said to have 8,000,000 men in the field. The Nazi must hold out four months longer for their new levies to be sufficiently drilled and equipped for battle; there is not enough sand in the hourglass for that.

WEATHER: The Siegfried Line and the Rhine system of fortifications undoubtedly have many weak spots.

But our Army men are aware that the defense of this terrain was one of the practical studies of Reichswehr officers in their training days. From tramping over the country in that period, they are all supposed to know the location of every tactical strongpoint and, by actual measurement, the exact range of possible gun emplacements.

Weather is also a consideration. Had Europe's dry spell continued beyond May, the Anglo-American invading expedition might have been off to a better start after the landings. Cables from Europe reported downpours at the front last week.

Veterans of the Argonne in 1918 can well remember what heavy rains did to the roads and battlefields. Rommel faced destruction after El Alamein but cloudbursts bogged down Montgomery's tanks and the "fox" escaped. An early stormy winter would add to our air and ground problems.

Returning Fighter's Prime Need Certain To Be Love

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In this second of three articles on how to solve problems in connection with the returning service man, Dixon Wecter, author of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," tells the desires of our fighting men. Wecter is a noted historian and educator who has been doing special teaching for the Army and Navy.)

By DIXON WECTER
(Written for NEA Service)

A VETERAN'S family can make or mar his readjustment to life as a civilian. A mother or wife who misunderstands his new nature and its problems, complains that he seems "different," greets him with petty nagging and scolding, can ruin him.

He has been absent a long time from petticoat government. Overseas he has cracked jokes about how he will get along with those masterful women back home, whom he sees in pictures welding metal and driving trucks. Or how, after the homecoming spread is eaten, his wife will turn to the dishes and say, "Show me, Henry, what they taught you in K. P." Beyond these jokes remains the fact that the average young veteran will be uncommonly allergic to henpecking. He will resent too much feminine interference. When in doubt, let him alone.

He has lived in a world mainly of men without women. Swearing, ribaldry, and fits of explosive temper have always been part of the soldier's equipment. They help to relax tension, to make the uncertainties, fears and privations of life in uniform a little more bearable.

DON'T WORRY

NOBODY should worry much about this habit in soldiers. The effect of home circle and feminine company, and the erosion of civil life, will soon wear away most of the barracks swagger. Drawing-room manners may also have suffered temporary loss, not only because the army was concerned with graver matters than salad forks but because it demanded from the soldier too much conformity of its own. After picking up cigarette butts on the parade ground, GI Joe will come home and probably scatter ashes over the living-room rug.

Sometimes he wants to be a solitary prowler, roaming the old home-town till a late hour, and he resents Mother's sitting up for him or asking where he has been. Next morning he will sleep till the noon whistles blow. In such behavior there is nothing sinister. He is merely paying his disrespects to taps and reveille. Soon enough he will settle back into the groove of work or study hours, live more conventionally.

A little pampering will do no harm. He has thought much about the creature comforts of home, of soft beds and soapy baths and Mother's cooking as a contrast to K-rations and army "slum." Redistribution centers, catering to returnees, report that milk (four to five glasses at a meal and ice cream are the overseas man's fa-vorite foods. Even for a GI on the present three-week leave, being able to loaf and go fishing, sail a boat, drive his old car as far as his furlough ration of five gallons will take him, and regain his individuality under a bit of "spoiling" from those who love him—these things are good for his soul.

American soldiers on far fronts of this global war are more homesick than our soldiers have been in other wars. The soldier's yesterdays are the only handle he has for laying hold upon the uncertain tomorrow. Memories and future plans almost always entwine about his girl. The average GI is unmarried but in love. Despit publicity about foreign war brides they will always remain a comparatively small number.

In the last war, out 2,000,000 doughboys in France and England, less than 5000 took alien wives. The soldier thinks much of the girl he left behind him. He likes to imagine that she is watching him from far away, while he fights for the security of their future home and the right to return to her with honor.

OF COURSE the soldier has idealized his girl, and she him. Sometimes the result of reacquaintance will not be perfect. Both ha tance will not be perfect. Both have changed. The end of every war brings a crop of broken engagements, and even more hasty marriages that finally end in shipwreck. Whatever the final decision, a returning soldier and his girl owe themselves an honest and straightforward attempt to understand each other. Since the veteran is likely to be more altered than the girl who stayed behind, it is up to her to appreciate certain important things about him. Often he comes home in a taut and sensitive state, quick to feel criticism and coldness. Most of all he craves tenderness, love, and attentions of the feminine kind for which he starved in the army.

He will look older, and feel older, than when he marched away. He may seem gruff, impatient, temperamental. This should not disguise the fact that he will respond even more quickly to love and understanding, out of the depths of a deeper maturity in appreciating her. If he gets these things, all other personal adjustments will fall into place more easily, like his relations with parents, old friends, neighbors. But if he finds that she has been sitting under the apple tree with anyone else and is untrue, or shows unwillingness to treat with loving patience his efforts to rebuild his old life, then the results may prove disastrous. He is apt to grow cynical, bitter, disillusioned about the war, himself, and women in general — hitting the bottle, taking his pleasure where he finds it, losing for awhile the vital ambition to strike root again as a civilian. Nothing is more important to a young veteran than the reception he gets from his best girl.

LI'L ABNER — Aerial Attack — By Al Capp

OUR BOARDING HOUSE . With . Major Hoople

OUT OUR WAY — By J. R. Williams

Successful Airborne Landings Pose New Threat For Germany

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (U.P.)—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that Allied airborne landings in Holland pose a new threat to the defense of Germany at what may prove to be a vulnerable point.

He said the entire airborne attack was accomplished with losses of only two per cent, much below what military leaders usually expect to suffer in such an operation.

"In less than five days, the northwestern flank of the German defense line has been split and an Allied striking power has been suddenly developed to threaten another section of the German frontier," Stimson said.

Nearest To Berlin

"At this point we are the nearest to Berlin and here the Siegfried line defenses may be found to be less formidable than elsewhere."

Heavy fighting is going on in the Nijmegen area as we seek to tie up with the northernmost airborne elements behind the line," Stimson said.

He said the airborne landings hopped over such barriers as coastal forts, flooeded lands and difficult canals, achieved tactical surprise, and placed men in strength where needed.

The enemy was not able to retaliate swiftly and initial resistance was scattered, although German troops and artillery are now being concentrated against the landings, he said.

After intense aerial preparation by RAF and American bombers, a force of almost 1,500 carrier planes and several hundred gliders landed the airborne troops precisely, with losses limited to two per cent, Stimson related.

The following day almost as many planes and more gliders brought in reinforcements and again losses were limited to two per cent.

The enemy was unable to put planes in the sky to attack the transports, which contended only with spasmodic flak owing to the intense aerial preparation, Stimson said, and fighter bombers destroyed more than 100 anti-aircraft positions.

Harbors Badly Damaged

Harbor facilities at the French port of Brest were badly damaged, Stimson said, but the port eventually will be an important supply link, now that bitter resistance has ended. The port of Boulogne is near capture following the surrender of Le Havre, he added.

Stimson said Allied armies in France have taken 475,000 prisoners, including the 20,000 who recently surrendered in a group south of the Loire. Germans rounded up in Brest and other scattered areas should increase the figure by many thousands, he said.

CIO Support Said Offered Republicans But It Was Rejected

FORT WORTH, Sept. 21 (AP)—Michael J. Soldern, member of the CIO Political Action Committee's speaker's bureau, says the CIO's plan of helping elect political candidates favorable to its program and to assist in defeating its enemies was offered to the Republican party but rejected.

Soldern yesterday told the CIO Oil Workers International Union that "the PAC is not a Democratic group" at the union's closing convention sessions, after delegates had voted to seek blanket wage increases of ten cents an hour to offset the difference between rising living costs and wage hikes allowed under the little steel formula. The organization also voted to seek upward adjustment of wage scales when the work week reverts to 40 hours.

"If the PAC were a Democratic group," Soldern said, "Texas would have retained in Congress its Martin Dies, Alabama its Joe Starnes and California its John M. Costello."

Carl A. McPeak of Dallas, regional PAC director, termed the aims of the organization "not a business program and not a labor program, but a people's program to win the war, win the peace and insure post-war security."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

McCormack Raps Harness Speech

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP) — Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts conveyed to the House today official denials of the War, Navy and State departments that Washington received Australian warnings of an imminent Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in December, 1941.

At the same time McCormack criticized as politically-inspired and "reckless," a House speech by Rep. Harness (R-Ind) Sept. 11 based on the alleged warnings.

Harness had said the Australian government notified Washington 72 hours prior to the attack that a Japanese carrier force was on its way to Hawaii, that there was a second call 48 hours and a third call 24 hours before the attack but that the calls went unheeded.

"With no possible belief in the truth of the charges, as he admits himself," McCormack told the House today, "there can only be one objective, to try to undermine national confidence in our commander in chief. These untrue statements, based on rumor, were made for political purposes.

Senator Wagner Fails To Get AFL Support

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Wagner, Democrat and father of the National Labor Relations act, has failed to win the endorsement of the New York State Federation of Labor for re-election, the New York office of the federation reveals.

Half of the votes favored Wagner and half supported Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran, Republican Senatorial candidate, a spokesman said.

Texas Chick Hatch Shows Heavy Drop

AUSTIN, Sept. 21. (AP) — A 37 per cent decrease in chicks hatched this year as compared with 1943, was reported today by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Total output of commercial hatcheries in Texas from January through August was 44,759,000 as compared with 71,203,000 last year for the same period, said the report.

Variety Foundation Sets Trust Estate, Backs Boys Ranch

DALLAS, Sept. 21. (AP) — The Variety Foundation of Texas, an organization sponsored by the state's show people, today announced a $100,000 trust estate had been set up for the purpose of furthering charitable, educational and scientific pursuits.

The immediate aim of the foundation is sponsorship of Boys Ranch, a home for underprivileged boys which, through help of the Variety Clubs of Texas, now has 3,300 acres for its use.

The foundation purchased 1,200 acres of land in Lampasas county to supplement the 1,700 acres already included in Boys Ranch, and in addition is turning 400 acres the Variety Clubs already owned near Belton and which it used as a summer camp for boys toward use of the Ranch.

All this property, together with the cash and bonds on hand, means gross assets of $150,000 for the foundation.

The trust was set up through surplus funds the Variety Clubs held, miscellaneous moneys and donations and with proceeds from the annual turtle derby held in Dallas which brought in around $100,000.

Boys Ranch is located six miles from Copperas Cove and is four miles northwest of Belton. It was founded 11 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dawson, who started with $10, two homeless boys, a horse and a mule and 500 acres of land. Today it has added 1,200 acres and boasts hundreds of head of livestock.

The plan of the Variety Clubs is to support the Ranch—that is pay any deficit that may arise each year in its operation. The trust estate will be administered by a board of seven trustees.

There now are 35 boys at the Ranch; by the end of the year the Variety Clubs expect to have 60 there.

Boys to be sent to the Ranch must be in distress—homeless or friendless — and must be committed by the courts. It is pointed out that boys are not eligible to be placed in the state training school at Gatesville until they are 12 years old, therefore a place is needed for those under 12.

Diference In GOP Race Cited By Ickes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes talked about his political speech-making plans at his news conference today and in the course of the discussion was asked his opinion of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign.

He replied:

"It's highly satisfactory, it isn't any different from other Republican campaigns. The only difference is—this year we have a Landon with a mustache running."
