Alleged missing WTC funds leads to indictment Monday

A former cashier at Western Texas College was indicted Monday for two counts of felony theft — charges stemming from a WTC internal audit of alleged missing funds reported Oct. 17.

Now officially accused in connection with the case is Barbara Darlene Lee, who resigned her WTC position at the end of September. She has since moved from Snyder to Austin.

Both indictments were returned Monday by the November session of the Scurry County grand jury.

The indictments, which do not name specific amounts, charge her with two seperate theft incidents allegedly occuring on July 22 and Aug. 12.

By the nature of the indictments, both incidents would have to involve sums of not less than $750 or more than $20,000.

A statement issued by the college Oct. 22 indicated at least $24,500 in business office funds were unaccounted for. That statement indicated this total covered an audit of WTC funds dating from December of 1984 through this past September.

After the Oct. 22 announcement, the investigation of the case was turned over to the district attorney's office, which is being assisted by the Scurry County sheriff's department.

Regarding any current totals of alleged missing funds, DA Ernie Armstrong said Tuesday morning he is reluctant to discuss specifics of the case until it can come to trial.

He noted the investigation is still continuing.

"When we get to court, we'll release what the law enforcement agencies have discovered to that point," Armstrong said.

Bonds for the suspect were set at $3,000 on each count Monday afternoon.

Since relocating to Austin, she has been employed by the Texas Department of Human Services.

Investigators with the Scurry County sheriff's office have been in contact with the suspect as recently as last week.

The indication Tuesday was she had returned to Austin.

As of Tuesday morning, she had neither been formally arrested nor posted bond.

1st votes cast for tax board

Two taxing entity members of the Scurry County Appraisal District cast votes Monday night for the men they had earlier nominated for the district's five-member board.

Casting ballots Monday were board members for the City of Snyder and the Ira ISD.

At the city, members of the council split its 219 votes among the five men they had earlier nominated. This generated 43.8 votes for John Reed, Mairl McFall, Ross Blanchard, Dwaine Williams and Henry Lofton.

Reed, McFall and Blanchard had been nominated also by Snyder ISD and Williams and Lofton had been nominated earlier by Scurry County.

For Ira ISD, board members cast all of Ira's 312 votes for its nominee Harold (Pete) Hester.

The other candidate for the district board is Eddie McHaney, nominated by Hermleigh ISD.

Balloting for these must be completed and turned in to the Tied to Stacy construction...

Rise in water rate okayed

Effective Dec. 1, City of Snyder water customers will see their monthly water bills increase 50 cents for the first 10,000 gallons of water used.

An average residential water bill ranges from 10,000 to 20,000 gallons per month — depending upon the time of year.

The water rate increase was approved on second reading Monday during the regular November meeting of the Snyder city council.

The increase is tied to a request submitted in October by representatives of the Colorado River Municipal Water District — which will add a similar rate increase to water it sells the city effective Jan. 1.

This increase from CRMWD will aid the district in financing its Stacy Dam and Reservoir project. Similar rate hikes have been passed along to the two other member cities of CRMWD, Big Spring and Midland.

Stacy will mark the third lake reservoir constructed by the district and is projected to solve the forseeable water problems of the district's member cities through the year 2040 or 2050.

A second water increase is already projected by the water district during 1987. It is tied also to construction costs related to Stacy.

That increase will equal an additional 50 cents for the first 10,000 gallons of water used. It will be put into effect by the city Dec. 1, 1986.

Under the rate which will take effect this coming Dec. 1, a monthly water bill for 10,000 gallons of water will cost $12.10, up from $11.60.

For 20,000 gallons of water, the charge will go to $21.60, up from $21.10 and again reflecting a 50 cent increase.

Attending Monday's meeting were Mayor Rod Waller, who presided, and Councilmen Don Osborn, Troy Williamson, Truett Bryan, Tommy Davis and David Hines. Mickey Nunley was

Six indicted Monday by county grand jury

The Scurry County grand jury returned six felony indictments against six defendants Monday including two each for felony theft, tampering with a government record and driving while intoxicated.

Indicted for felony theft in an amount greater than $750 and less than $20,000 were Retha Everton and Bob Garduno.

Both indictments resulted from the alleged issuance of bad checks.

Everton is alleged to have deposited a check drawn on her bank account in Colorado City at a Snyder bank around Aug. 22.

She is then alleged to have drawn the money out of the local bank before the check could clear the Colorado City institution.

Everton remains at large pending arrest with bond set at $3,000.

Garduno is alleged to have given a bad check at Hall Drug in Snyder last April 6 for the purchase of a saddle.

He also remains at large pending arrest with bond set at $3,000.

Indicted for tampering with a government document were Dominga Hernandez and Audrey Jean Williams.

Both are alleged to have failed to report income when applying to the Texas Department of Human Resources for food stamps in the spring of 1985.

Bonds for both Hernandez and Williams were set at $1,500 but neither have been arrested.

Indicted for felony driving while intoxicated were 24-year-old Jose Guadalupe Torres Jr. of

The feller on Deep Creek says, "It isn't so much what you end up with, or where, as long as you have the good fortune of getting there.

Last Tuesday was a classic good news, bad news day here at the Snyder Daily News.

Equipment problems, whether it be in modern computer typesetting or in the printing, is a dreaded occurrence in a business laced with deadlines.

The good news is that in 35 years, the Snyder Daily News has only had to print outside of Snyder three times. Once was caused by a flood in 1972, another occurred in 1979 right after a preventitive maintenance visit by the press company. The third occurred last Tuesday.

The good news was we had just finished running TV guides for the Odessa American when the press died--an apparent electrical problem. Local electricians, in conference with manufacturer representatives, determined it must be a bad circuit board. More good news...the equipment is still in warranty. Bad news...the needed board is in Dallas, maybe.

Attempts to find an airplane to Dallas was hampered by rain and low clouds in the metroplex. Finally, one was located and connections were confirmed. That's good news.

The bad news is the pilot went to the wrong terminal, causing more delay. The repairman touched down in Snyder about 4 p.m. and by this time the newspaper has already been printed, inserted and is being distributed.

The pressure is still on, however, as a circular for a Lubbock supermarket must be delivered to the Lubbock A-J first thing Wednesday morning.

The good news is the electrical repairman has the press operational in less than 30 minutes. The bad news is a crossed wire that causes the press to run backwards, resulting in two stripped ink roller worm gears.

The good news is the problem is confined to only two units, leaving four needed to do the two-color job, seven-hour job.

Bad news...an all-night printing session looms. More good news...delivery is made to Lubbock on schedule. Even in the face of adversity, the good news always outweighs the bad.

Thanks for being patient with us last Tuesday.

Q. — During rainy weather, the SDN puts the papers in plastic bags, but mine still gets wet. How come they don't seal them?

A. — The carriers are instructed to. The bags are long enough that the extra length is supposed to be folded back and secured by the rubber band.

In Brief

Barge fire

CHANNELVIEW, Texas (AP) — Two crewmen cleaning a flammable, toxic substance from a barge were killed when the vessel caught fire, exploded and sank into 25 feet of water in the Houston Ship Channel.

Authorities said they did not know what caused the barge to ignite about 7:10 a.m. Monday. The vessel was docked about 500 feet from the docking site of the Lynchburg Ferry just south of Channelview, said Highlands Fire Chief Richard Bosley.

He said the barge blew up, ruptured a fuel tank on board and then sank.

Stephen Orr, 21, of Baytown, and Audrey Howell, 56 of Houston, were identified as the victims. Harris County sheriff's officials said the two were employees of Petro Stripping Industries.

Grid winners

Tim McCall of 3801 Nobel Drive was the first place winner in last week's SDN football contest. McCall was the only one to miss three games.

Ten people missed four games but Ethel Staton of Rt. 1 Box 200 in Snyder was the second place winner by guessing closest to the actual total points in the Snyder-Lakeview game. She guessed 20.

First place prize money is worth $12.50 and second place prize money is worth $5. A new contest begins with this issue.

Annual audit

Larry Anderson with the accounting firm of Anderson, Vestal and West will appear before the Scurry County Appraisal District board of directors Tuesday.

Anderson will present the audit report for the 1984 fiscal year when the board convenes at 7:30 p.m. in the district's office at 2612 College Ave.

In other action, board members will also review the monthly collection report.

Yurchenko proud he managed to escape

WASHINGTON (AP) — The way Vitaly Yurchenko tells it, he turned down a million dollars tax free, a salary of $62,500 a year for life, free medical care and a houseful of furniture. All he had to do was to live in the United States and be a consultant.

He says he chose not to live that American dream, but to return to his homeland in the face of CIA threats that, "if you flee and return to the Soviet Union, prison and death is awaiting you."

For an hour, the dapper man with the droopy Wild West mustache spun a startling tale of being kidnapped in Rome, spirited unconscious to the United States, held and drugged in a CIA "safe house" near Fredericksburg, Va., and escaping last Saturday because of "a momentary lapse of attention on the part of the persons watching me."

The story, so far, is one-sided. The government, which had hailed him as a prize-catch defector who had fingered other spies, had not told its version, although the State Department calls Yurchenko's account "completely false."

The Soviets in Washington are not known for splashy public relations shows. But they timed this one for the prime time network news and Yurchenko handled himself like a pro — sly at times, outraged at others, on the verge of tears once.

He began the news conference by declaring: "First of all, I would like to confirm that I am really Vitaly Yurchenko."

His story was not rich in detail. That, he said, he was saving for his return to Moscow — for the representatives of the press there.

"On a business trip in Italy, I was forcibly abducted in Rome by some unknown persons," he said. "Unconscious, I was brought from Italy to the United States. Here I was kept in isolation, forced to take some drugs and denied the possibility to get in touch with official Soviet representatives."

With that, just like a senator or astronaut or movie star plugging a book, he said, "Now, I'm ready to answer questions."

The first question to Yurchenko was "are we to believe" that he did not tell any secrets to the Americans about Soviet intelligence or other activities.

Yurchenko answered in Russian and was translated. Long answer in Russian; short answer in English.

"In the period when I was conscious and controlled my behavior," he said, "I did not pass any secret information. When I was not drugged, they were telling me that I came to them, came to the Americans myself of my own will, of my own accord. ... I did not believe them. I was convinced they were deceiving me."

Later, he said, they started "giving me some facts of a business nature," but he didn't believe them. Yurchenko did not identify the "business."

At one point in the news conference, he grew impatient with the interpreter, so he interrupted him and spoke in English. "Ask your officials what secrets I gave them. I'd like to know. Mr. Charlie was my main torturer. He is a psychologically sick person who was wounded in Vietnam. At the hotel I saw his real name: Colin Thompson. Twice divorced, alcoholic."

CIA spokeswoman Kathy Pherson refused to confirm any of the identities of CIA employees named by Yurchenko.

At some point in his captivity, Yurchenko said, he was taken to see William J. Casey, the director of the CIA.

"They gave me drugs also several hours before that meeting with Mr. Casey," he said. "But in lesser amounts than before ... I was in a condition that was obviously at a point of the strongest effect of the drug. When Mr. Casey entered the office, I didn't recognize him. Mr. (Charles) Thompson gave me a push and said 'Say hello to Mr. Casey. This is Mr. Casey.'"

Yurchenko may have let out one of the CIA's prize secrets. He described the place he was held as being near Fredericksburg.

Interpol chief says suspects may have led victims to site

MINATITLAN, Mexico (AP) — Officials said they arrested three men in connection with the slayings of 22 members of an anti-drug team, and vowed that police would conduct drug raids more carefully in the future.

The chief of Interpol in Mexico, Cmdr. Florentino Ventura, said Monday that the three men were arrested on suspicion of telling agents they would find a large marijuana cache at the site in southern Mexico where they allegedly were ambushed and killed by drug traffickers last Friday.

The three suspects, whom police would not identify, and some of the victims' bodies were taken Monday to Mexico City, authorities said. At least 60 other people have been questioned so far, Ventura said.

Ventura said at least 80 drug traffickers armed with high-powered rifles were awaiting the agents when they arrived before dawn Friday at a marijuana plantation in the mountainous jungle of Veracruz state.

Veracruz and adjacent Oaxaca state contain some of Mexico's most fertile marijuana and poppy territory. The agents had been in the rugged area for about three weeks as part of the government's Operation Pacific '85 anti-narcotics campaign.

Mexican Attorney General Sergio Garcia Ramirez vowed the worst police killing in Mexico's history would not slow the campaign, which President Miguel de la Madrid has made a top priority.

However, more caution will be used in future expeditions, said Enrique Arenal, chief of the anti-drug program. The army's help will be sought when investigators are ready to close in on the killers, he said.

"We don't want to run any risks," Arenal said. "We know by the impact (of the shots) sustained by our fallen colleagues that the drug traffickers are well armed."

McCartney launches attack

LONDON (AP) — Former Beatle Paul McCartney was quoted in a magazine interview published today as saying his slain song-writing partner John Lennon could be a "maneuvering swine," and took credit for songs he did not write.

Woman Magazine, a reputable weekly publication with a circulation of more than 1 million, quoted McCartney as saying that he and Lennon were "always in competition" while they were Beatles from 1960 to 1970, when they composed some of the world's most popular tunes.

"He was paranoiac about my songs. We had great screaming sessions about them," McCartney, Britain's richest music star, was quoted as saying in an interview with Hunter Davies.

Exercise helps at any age

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'll be 62 in August. I swim five days a week, one-and-a-half miles. I don't swim fast, just at a steady pace. I would like to know if, at my age, can a person overdo? I hope not, because I could swim longer!

DEAR READER — Bravo for your continuing and regular exercise. Anybody can overdo strenuous exercise, but if you keep a steady pace and don't push yourself, I think you will experience only health benefits from your activity. If you feel you can swim longer distances, by all means do so. But work up gradually and make sure you have qualified supervision until you become accustomed to the higher level of exertion.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have a disease that has puzzled two ear, nose and throat specialists and two allergists. I have had septum surgery, with sinus windows, tubes in my ears and inner-ear surgery on one side. My soft palate has atrophied completely, so it is now like a cleft palate. My throat is partially paralyzed. My hearing is bad and I have a discoloration and rash all inside my mouth and on my lips.

I'm taking allergy shots again. What else can you think of that might help? This has been going on for 15 years and I'm now 62.

DEAR READER — Your case puzzles me, too. Maybe the chairman of the Otolaryngology Department at a major medical center could shed some light on your peculiar symptoms.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Please say something about yeast infection! About a year ago I got an infection under my thumbnail. Then I noticed funny white streaks going down almost all the other nails, and they were very sensitive. I'm now on my second bottle of Lotromin and they are very much improved. When I asked the doctor what caused this yeast infection, he was very "iffy." What is it? How can it be prevented? I am an artist, but I'm am always careful to wash up after. Could this have anything to do with it?

DEAR READER — Yeasts that grow under fingernails or toenails can be a treatment problem which is frustrating to doctor and patient. In most cases, the reason for the infection is unclear and no one has yet developed a method of prevention. I doubt that your occupation is a factor. If Lotromin is working, stick with it, but don't be surprised if the infection refuses to clear up completely.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is the best home treatment for sunburn and windburn? Is there anything that will stop the pain?

DEAR READER — Any of the commercially available sunburn preparations should suffice for the average sunburn (or windburn). Sunpoisoning is a more severe form and requires medical evaluation. I've found some folk remedies to be useful, particularly cocoa butter and the gel from the leaves of the aloe plant. Cold compresses will often relieve pain, and topical anesthetics like benzocaine (Lanacaine) can give temporary respite.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott in care of this newspaper at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

Man sentenced in drug discovery

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — An El Paso, Texas, man arrested after officers found more than $30 million of cocaine stashed in a pickup truck has received a 15-year prison sentence.

U.S. District Judge Santiago Campos sentenced Henry Harrison Flores, 19, on Monday after his conviction in September for possessing 264 pounds of cocaine with the intent to distribute it. An additional sentence of five years was imposed on a second charge of interstate travel in aid of racketeering.

Flores was arrested July 13 at a Border Patrol checkpoint south of Alamogordo.

Dear Abby

Youthful High Spirits Leave Stain on Man's Clean Record

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Here's the problem: Years ago, when our son was a freshman in college, he and a bunch of kids his age went to Fort Lauderdale over Easter vacation. Well, he got drunk and urinated on a parked car. A policeman witnessed this, and our son was charged with indecent exposure, which is a felony.

Our son is now in his 30s, married with children, active in Scouting and owns his own business. He is interested in moving to Florida but is terrified of this incident hanging over his head.

Indecent exposure sounds as if he was exposing himself to people, but, Abby, he was just a college kid who drank too much and chose a handy place to relieve himself. I'm sure the police have arrested many kids in Florida over Easter break.

My question: Is there a way to erase this from his record? He and his family went to Disney World, and he was afraid to drive for fear of an infraction of the law because of this happening years ago.

You have my permission to run this in your column to warn other young people that what they do can follow them all through life.

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: In some states, if the offender was under 21 years of age and subsequently proved himself to be of good character, the record can be expunged (destroyed). Your son should consult a lawyer. It might cost a few hundred dollars, but the peace of mind for him and his family would be well worth it.

DEAR ABBY: I had to write after reading the letter from "Massachusetts Birdseed Lady" who had had a mastectomy and used birdseed in her bra to make her look "even."

Two years ago, I had a mastectomy, and the cup size of my bra was a "D." I love to swim, but a prosthesis to equal a D cup is very heavy and pulled my bathing suit away from my chest, so I came up with the idea of using birdseed in a cloth pouch that could be pinned into the cup of my bathing suit.

This worked great at first. Then I began to notice that the pouch of birdseed was getting "tight," causing me to look like a one-sided Dolly Parton. Upon opening the bag, much to my surprise, I discovered that the birdseed had begun to sprout!

Needless to say, I had to do numerous "lumpectomies" on my bag of birdseed until I had my reconstructive surgery.

If you use my letter, please omit my name as I am well-known in this small town.

ANOTHER BIRDSEED LADY

DEAR LADY: Thanks for writing. For those who need it—to avoid a bumper crop of embarrassment, change the birdseed after each plunge. (That stuff is for the birds, you know.)

DEAR ABBY: Please, just one more time! Will you please tell us where to write for copies of "The Living Will"?

If we should become terminally ill and incapacitated, we do not want artificial life support. Many of us feel the same way.

We thank you ...

DEAR SENIOR CITIZENS: You can obtain the Living Will by writing to: Society for the Right to Die, 250 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10107. Please include a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Society for the Right to Die is a non-profit organization. It does not charge for Living Wills, but in order to cover the cost of my documents, I sent a check for $10 requesting five documents.

In my view, it's the best investment in peace of mind I've ever made.

East gets a wake-up call

By James Jacoby

As you follow suit in bridge, it is normal to give count in the suit by playing high, then low, to show an even number of cards. Then you save your highest cards in the suit, hoping to take tricks with them. When you purposely follow suit with an unusual or unexpected card, you have sent a different message. It simply says, "Hey, partner! Wake up! There may be something we can do on this deal."

East had the wrong hand for a take-out double, but he doubled anyway.

Against the two no-trump contract, West led the nine of diamonds. East won the king and made a passive return of the club four. As dummy's jack won, West began his echo with the five to show count. A second club was played from dummy, and West completed the high-low echo with his deuce. That showed an even number of cards in the suit. On the third club, East threw the two of diamonds, declarer followed with the club nine, and now West had the opportunity to make an unusual play: He played the 10 of clubs, unnecessarily. Remember, that's just a way of pinching partner. But the only reason for doing so is to let partner know that there might be some way to beat the hand.

Now another diamond was played. East figured out that the funny play by West was an attempt to show the heart ace. He grabbed the ace of diamonds and led away from the K-J-9-3 of hearts. The defenders quickly gobbled up four heart tricks to set the contract a trick.

Answers repair questions

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I have to remove the varnish from a considerable amount of furniture which I intend to refinish. I plan on using a commercial remover. Are there any precautions I should know about?

A. — All paint and varnish removers have solvents which evaporate during use. For this reason, you should work outdoors if possible. If not, an open garage, shaded area or building that can be well-ventilated are good places to handle the job. If you have no choice but to do the varnish removing inside the house, be sure there is plenty of ventilation. Also, if you work indoors, use a nonflammable remover if possible. When working with a remover, wear cotton-lined neoprene gloves and follow the directions on the container of the product you purchase.

Q. — I have some painting to do around the house. Believe it or not, although I have done a considerable amount of house repairs, I have never done any painting. Can you tell me whether paint brushes or rollers are better?

A. — They serve different purposes. No doubt that paint rollers are faster and easier to use, especially for large ceiling and wall areas. Paint brushes are more versatile, but require a bit more skill and are slower on large areas. They still are better for most trim work and on most irregular surfaces.

LAFF-A-DAY

"I've reached the age where the happy hour is a nap."

DENNIS THE MENACE

"MOM TELLS ME THE STUFF I SHOULDN'T DO AND MY DAD TELLS ME THE STUFF I SHOULD DO!"

Hicks spirits Western past Wranglers, 93-85

Sophomore guard Alvin Hicks pitched in 28 points - including 14 from the foul line - to lead Western Texas College over a fiesty Cisco team here Monday evening, 93-85.

The win extended WTC's record to 2-0. The Westerners now prepare for the Nov. 7-9 Laredo Classic.

"Hicks showed a lot of leadership," said Coach Phil Spradling of the 6-3 player from Rickmond, Va. "He took control of the ball and made some things happen. Him and Ed (Ed Teal) hitting their free throws at the end really paid off."

Hicks continually took the ball inside, either to dish it off to a teammate, score himself or draw the foul. Frequently, he drew the foul. He went to the line 13 times in the second half and made good on 10 of them.

Teal, a 6-5 sophomore from Lubbock, came off the bench in the final nine minutes of the game and scored six points, including a four-for-four effort from the line.

Meanwhile, 6-6 high-leaping Wally Manns and 6-1 guard Alvin Lee, both freshmen, put in 15 points apiece. James Dawn added 12 and 6-9 Clifford Langford tossed in another 11.

Western had built a 46-33 lead in the first half, but Cisco managed to cut it to eight, 48-40, by intermission.

"We came out and played real well offensively at first but when Wally and Cliff got three fouls we were in trouble," said Spradling. "The guys that came in for them did a good job, but it's not like having a 6-9 and a 6-6 kid in there."

It also made a difference on the boards, as Manns pulled down 13 for the night and Langford had 12. Both players also blocked two shots apiece.

Free throws by Teal and Hicks kept Western Texas in a one-to-three point lead throughout a major portion of the second half. It was 79-79 before Hicks hit the backend of a free throw situation with 4:05 to play, putting Western in front to stay. Hicks aced a field goal moments later for an 82-79 advantage, and his back-to-back freeshots with 3:14 left made it an 84-79 ballgame.

Manns helped put the contest out of reach when he scored again to give WTC a seven-point lead with about two minutes remaining.

"We played in spurts," said the coach. "Right now, we just need more playing time. We're not consistant, but hopefully that will come with experience."

Cisco was led by Mike Knorr's 24 points and 7 rebounds. Cedric Ellis and Jack McCrimmon added 13 points apiece.

"He has a fine team," said Spradling, speaking of CJC Coach Dan Montgomery. "They run a good offense and they play really good defense. He has nothing to hang his head about. Cisco is going to be tough down the road."

Dusters clip Cisco, 53-46

For a freshman-dominated ballclub, Western Texas College's Dusters showed some gritty veteranship here Monday night.

"That's what I told the girls after the game," said Coach Kelly Chadwick, after his Dusters had come from behind to defeat a seasoned Cisco Junior College bunch 53-46. "It seemed like when the pressure was on we finally calmed down."

Cisco came into the game with eight sophomores off of last year's Northern Junior College Athletic Conference championship squad. It was the veterans against the Duster youth and as might be expected, Cisco took a 32-21 lead into intermission.

But Western wasn't out of it.

"I just sat down and talked to them at halftime. You know we're mainly a freshman ballclub and freshmen are so high strung. I just tried to calm them down," said the coach.

Western fought back, battled with more finesse on the boards and took better shots from the field. The result was that the Dusters slowly whittled away at the Cisco advantage.

To get back in the game, WTC played good defense - always good defense - and went with its sophomore tandem of Angela Jeans and Pam Cox. Jeans provided the floor leadership and Cox the scoring. The 5-8 player from San Antonio scored 12 second-half points, moving WTC to within three, 42-39, with 8:15 to go in te ball game.

It wasn't until freshman Brenda Welch scored with 2:27 left that Western finally went ahead, however. Welch, who had been sidelined with foul trouble earlier, put WTC up 47-46.

The 5-10 Odessa native struck again with 1:19 remaining for a 49-46 lead. Diana Quincy made it 51-46 and Gigi Robinson put the game in the record books with her field goal at the 34-second mark.

Western had kept the visitors off the scoreboard for the last four and one-half minutes of the ball game.

"I've never had a team that played this good of defense in their first four ballgames," said Chadwick. "Our defense was fantastic, especially when you consider we were playing against 6-2 and 6-3 post girls."

Cisco used a fullcourt press almost the entire ballgame, and while WTC didn't look polished at breaking the defense, the Dusters didn't let it dominate them, either.

"I don't think it effected us that much. We didn't do a great job against it, but I think we did well, considering we haven't worked much on that at all this early in the season," Chadwick said.

Cox led the scoring with 16 points. Welch scored 12 while Jeans notched 8 and Wendy Milner 7.

The Wranglers got 15 points from 6-0 sophomore Valerie Barnett. Karen Dawson added 11 while Cranford, 6-3, added 9. Cranford also got 9 of her teams' 38 rebounds. Barnett added 8.

Western was led on the boards by Jeans, despite her 5-8 size. She had 9 against a team total of 33.

Now 3-1, the Dusters take to the road to compete in the South Plains Tournament beginning Thursday.

WESTERN TEXAS (53)– Cox 8 0 16; Jeans 3 2 8; Marr 1 0 2; Milner 3 1 7; Welch 4 4 12; Gravell 0 1 1; Robinson 1 0 2; Quincy 2 1 5; TOTALS 22-57 9-20 53.

CISCO JC (46)– Barnett 7 1 15; Nix 1 1 4; Cranford 3 3 9; Dawson 4 3 11; Saville 0 0 0; Barree 3 2 8; Pickard 0 0 0; TOTALS 18-55 10-16 46.

Total Fouls: WTC 17; CJC 16; Fouled Out: None.

Rebounds: WTC 33 (Jeans 9, Quincy 5); CJC 38 (Cranford 9, Barnett 8).

Halftime: CJC 32, WTC 21.

Herzog named NL manager of year

NEW YORK (AP) - As the National League Manager of the Year, Whitey Herzog likes the honor, but doesn't think the 1985 baseball season was his best managing job.

After being named the NL manager Monday by the Baseball Writers Association of America for leading the St. Louis Cardinals to the pennant, Herzog said he felt he was a better manager for the Kansas City Royals in 1979.

That year, his Royals finished second to California in the American League West.

"That," he noted, "was the year I got fired."

Herzog's performance this season was noteworthy, though, considering that this was supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Cardinals. Using speed and pitching, the Cardinals surprised most observers who had picked them for one of the lower positions in the National League East.

"It really is a great honor because there was lots of competition this year," Herzog said in a statement released by the Cardinals. "Fellows like Pete (Rose of Cincinnati) and Tommy (Lasorda of Los Angeles) and others did a great job, and I'm just happy I won."

This year's voting for NL manager was as close as it's ever been. Herzog beat Rose by one point.

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Even with his team behind, Pat Tilley believed something good would happen to the St. Louis Cardinals. What the wide receiver didn't know was how soon.

"When we came in here at halftime, nobody said much," Tilley said after triggering St. Louis' 21-10 comeback National Football League victory Monday night over the Dallas Cowboys. "Nobody had to. We knew that unless we turned things around, our season was pretty much gone."

Tilley, by using the sure hands that have long made him one of St. Louis' most reliable receivers, triggered the turnaround in the third period.

"I don't know how he caught that pass," St. Louis Coach Jim Hanifan said of Tilley's reception on a 46-yard touchdown play. "He had to have marvelous concentration, because there were hands all over, many of them in his face."

Actually, said Tilley, two hands tipped the Neil Lomax spiral that launched the Cards' rally from their 10-0 deficit.

"J.T. (Smith) was running a breaking pattern, and their nickel back was following me on a crossing route," Tilley said. "Both of them touched it. It just hit my hand, and it stuck. I just said, 'Praise God.'"

Tilley, with Dallas rookie Ricky Easom giving futile pursuit, ignited St. Louis by scoring to cap an 81-yard drive.

It also turned on Lomax. The St. Louis quarterback, who had been in a slump, began seeking out and finding his receivers. In seven plays, he guided the Cards to a 14-10 lead on a 65-yard march that Earl Ferrell capped with an eight-yard run.

"Once we had shown that we could put some points on the board, that seemed to get the Cowboys' attention," Hanifan said.

"The team just played hellaciously after that, both offensively and defensively," St. Louis coach said. "It was Lomax' best performance this year by far. He was more decisive. He was the old Lomax."

For clinchers, the Cards mounted one more impressive drive. It covered 80 yards after starting innocently enough with an incomplete pass.

Stump Mitchell stepped into the gap created when Ottis Anderson was sidelined by a sore toe. The backup St. Louis back broke off a 21-yard run, then tucked in a 25-yard pass that preceded three more catches by Smith.

"What turned me on was J.T.'s touchdown," right guard Joe Bostic said of Smith's determined lunge to the end zone on a eight-yard play with 4:13 left.

Cowboys quarterback Danny White caught fire just long enough to march his team 93 yards to a touchdown late in the first half on an eight-yard pass to Tony Hill. But after Rafael Septien booted a 19-yard field goal with one second left, Dallas never seriously threatened again.

The outcome also knocked Dallas out of sole possession of first place in the National Conference East. The Cowboys and New York Giants are now co-leaders at 6-3, with St. Louis sharing fourth place at 4-5.

Pro Football Hall of Famer Roger Staubach led the Dallas Cowboys to 14 come-from-behind victories in the last two minutes of games during his career.

26 children enter MS Read-a-thon

Twenty-six children are reading in the 1985 Multiple Sclerosis Read-a-thon, sponsored locally by the Scurry County Library.

Having obtained sponsors to pledge money for each book, the children are now finishing up their reading, reports Janice Mitchell, head librarian.

They have until November 8 to read and until November 15 to collect their pledges and turn in their kits she said. They more money they collect the better the prize they will receive.

All prizes will be awarded at the library in January.

Suspect killed himself

BIG SPRING, Texas (AP) — A man suspected in a weekend car bombing killed himself as lawmen tried to arrest him at his home, authorities said.

Terry Lee Hart, 24, died of a shotgun blast to the head at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at his mobile home outside Big Spring, Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said.

Dr. Dillaha recertified as diplomate of ABFP

KANSAS CITY, Mo.--Dr. Carl A. Dillaha of Snyder has been recertified as a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a recertification examination offered by the ABFP. The physician thus maintains specialist status in the medical specialty of family practice.

ABFP diplomates must continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. Family practice was the first medical specialty to require diplomates to be recertified on a continuing basis.

The written examination is designed to prove the candidate's continuing competence in the basis components of family practice--internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and neurology, and community medicine.

To qualify for certification a physician must have successfully completed three years of residency training in family practice and passed an intensive certification examination. There are some 378 residency training programs in teaching hospitals and university medical centers across the United States.

There now have been certified more than 29,000 diplomates in the specialty. Most are members of the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The academy was the first national medical group to require members to take continuing study, and was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice.

Probe of appeals judge underway

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Commission on Judicial Conduct has begun an investigation of complaints against Associate Justice Pete Tijerina of the 4th Court of Appeals in San Antonio.

Robert Flowers, executive director of the commission, said Monday the investigation was under way in response to a request from Rep. Frank Tejeda, D-San Antonio, and from Tijerina.

"All complaints are investigated by this commission in accordance with its usual procedures and disposed of as expeditiously as possible," said a brief announcement from the commisson. "No prejudgment of the matters complained of has been made by this commission. No further statement will be issued."

Church forms parish security force

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Male parishioners will stand guard during prayer hours at a Catholic church after a parishioner was attacked and raped as she knelt at the altar.

The pastor of the Holy Family of Nazareth Catholic Church told the congregation during Sunday services that their church would fight back against the violence.

"Not like Rambo or Dirty Harry," said the Rev. Thomas R. O'Connor, "but through prayer."

The church will use at least two parishioners to stand guard during open hours.

"All we're asking is four hours per month, one hour a week of your time," O'Connor said.

After Mass, volunteers crowded around a table outside the church to sign up, filling nearly all the available time slots.

Jack Bryant, Owner

Jack Bryant will clean your septic tank on regular basis

If your house's sewage disposal needs are served by a septic tank, then there are a few facts you need to know.

When septic tanks are not cleaned periodically they get full of solids which then flow out of the lateral (drain) lines, clogging the perforated joints. Solids may even clog sewer lines from the house, causing the sewage to back up in the house.

At this point, the solution is either to clean out drain lines (which is not always successful) and clean the tank; or to lay new lines and clean out the tank.

When you have septic tank trouble, the least worry is the inconvenience it causes; and valuable carpet could be ruined when the lines are backed up.

Why not save all this expense and worry by maintaining your septic tank properly? For a septic tank to work properly so as to give no trouble, it needs to be maintained like anything else. If you have your tanks pumped every six months, then your chances of having it back up into the house are less likely.

It is very expensive to have a septic tank worked over, so if you want Bryant's to put you on a maintenance program, they can clean the tank every six months for $30.00 each time. This is over a 20 percent savings.

Chemicals by themselves usually don't work properly if the tank is already full of solids. If your tank runs over the lid, you can be sure it needs cleaning. Likely the perforated joints are already clogged up.

The good part of all this is that Jack Bryant and his Septic Tank Cleaning Service can save you money. He is able to do this by using a larger tank truck and the cost is determined by the number of loads hauled.

Jack Bryant can keep your septic tank operating properly. Give him a call at 573-2480 or 573-3930.

Mexican traffickers get power from funds

by The Associated Press

The massacre of 22 policemen in Mexico's southern marijuana belt has pointed up the brazen power of the Mexican narcotics empires, gangs that feed the demand of millions of American drug users.

The Mexican attorney general, Sergio Garcia Ramirez, has described the wealthy marijuana-heroin rings as "extensive, complex and strong organizations." They are clearly deadly dangerous as well.

The Mexican government reports that 315 soldiers were killed in a series of military sweeps against narcotics operations nationwide in 1983-84.

In the latest bloodshed, traffickers ambushed a police anti-drug squad last Friday in a remote marijuana-growing area of Vera Cruz state, 300 miles southeast of Mexico City.

The "narcotraficantes" derive their power from more than guns, however. Their organizations are built on the labor of tens of thousands of Mexican peasants who earn three or four times the minimum wage of 1,260 pesos a day — $2.62 — by working marijuana and opium poppy fields in areas stretching from Mexico's tropics to the U.S. border.

In a giant "bust" last November, Mexican law officers seized 7,000 tons of marijuana and detained some 6,000 peasants working on a vast plantation in the northern state of Chihuahua.

The major traffickers join in cooperatives on such ventures as the Chihuahua marijuana spread, Mexican authorities say.

Photographer must give photos to court

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas newspaper will turn over unpublished photos of an anti-nuclear protest because the Supreme Court refused to hear the contempt case against a staff photographer.

The Dallas Morning News will surrender the photos by photographer Randy Eli Grothe, newspaper officials said Monday. Grothe was held in contempt by a state court and faces a jail term for refusing an order to give up the pictures.

"We will surrender the pictures at the appropriate time, because the Supreme Court is the law of our land and we will obey the law," said Burl Osborne, president and editor of the News, in a written statement.

Grothe took the photos at a Sept. 23, 1983, protest at the Dallas Power and Light Co. A demonstrator, Mavis Belisle, was accused of obstructing a public passageway by chaining herself to the building.

Ms. Belisle said she took part in the protest but did not chain herself to the building. She subpoenaed Grothe to testify, seeking to have him provide unpublished photographs of the demonstration, and the trial was interrupted pending the outcome of Grothe's appeals.

The Supreme Court took action Monday without comment.

"We regret that the Supreme Court declined to hear our case," said Osborne. "The same information sought from our unpublished pictures easily could have been obtained from numerous other witnesses without compromising the constitutional rights of either party.

"However, the lower court was very careful to confine its ruling to just this one case, and that is cause to hope that the effect of the ruling will not be widespread."

Grothe testified at Ms. Belisle's trial that he believed she was chained to the doorway, but he refused to provide the pictures. He said the subpoena violated freedom of the press.

A Texas appeals court ruled against Grothe.

"The need to develop all facts in an adversarial system of criminal justice is fundamental and comprehensive," the state court said. "A citizen accused of crime has the right to confront and fully cross-examine all persons who have testimony relevant to the criminal charges."

Grothe said Ms. Belisle failed to subpoena other witnesses who might have seen or taken part in the demonstration.

President Reagan named Vice President Bush to head a "crisis management" team in 1981, over the objection of Secretary of State Alexander Haig.

Family shooting spree kills three

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — A "stormy" relationship erupted in violence when an estranged husband opened fire on his wife as she sat talking with friends, killing two people before turning the gun on himself.

Police said Bernard Sharp, 29, "went beserk." Family members said he was angry over the cancellation of a joint credit card.

Killed in the Sunday shooting were Sharp, his wife, Denise Sharp, 28, and her friend, Deborah De La Torre, 25. Sharp, the operator of a janitorial service, also shot his cousin, Zenith "Zeni" Walker, 28, who was in fair condition at Arlington Memorial Hospital Monday.

Sharp then turned his .357 Magnum revolver on himself, said Jim Willett, an Arlington police spokesman.

Stenholm asks applications for U. S. service academies

WASHINGTON, D.C.-- Congressman Charles W. Stenholm is currently seeking applications from young people in the 17th District interested in attending any of the U. S. Service Academies. Young men and women between the ages of 17 and 21 who are interested in the academies must have their applications completed by December 1, 1985.

The U. S. academies offer young people an excellent education, while also developing skills in leadership and self-discipline. It is a one-of-the-kind opportunity to earn a bachelor's degree and earn a salary for doing so. An education at an academy also guarantees a career upon graduation as an officer in the U. S. Armed Forces.

Stenholm may nominate young residents from the 17th District to the Navy Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

Any interested persons should contact Stenholm's Washington D. C. office immediately, in order to have their files completed by the December 1st deadline. No late applications will be accepted. Write to Stenholm at 1232 Longwork H.O.B., Washington, D. C. 20515 or call (202)-225-6605.

TEXAS INDEPENDENT COTTON GINNERS ASSOCIATION EST 1962

INDEPENDENT

The restless, independent spirit that settled the west is still a vital force in Texas. Independent thinkers, people who are willing to take the risk of making their own decisions instead of following the crowd have been a basic ingredient in the history of Texas.

Since 1822 when the first Texas cotton gin was built, independent thinking cotton ginners have brought innovations and improvements that have produced majes cost savings for all cotton farmers. TEXAS INDEPENDENT COTTON GINNERS are proud to be a part of the independent thinkers that have made the state of Texas great.

Competitive ginning prices and services. Telcot quotes and marketing available if you so choose. Outside buyers with top cotton prices.

Soviets savoring revenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — For Soviet diplomats, so accustomed to hearing their country pilloried for human rights violations, it was a scene they will not soon forget.

Embassy Minister Counselor Victor Isakov nodded approvingly throughout the proceedings on Monday while scores of Soviet diplomats and employees lined the walls, smiling frequently and savoring each word.

Americans are accustomed to Soviets fleeing to safety in the United States, but Vitaly Yurchenko turned that custom on its head by describing how he freed himself from the clutches of American authorities with an escape to freedom Saturday to the Soviet Embassy.

He told a tale of kidnapping, torture, barbarism, bribery and intimidation and of drug-induced stupors — all carried out against him, he claimed, by American agents during three nightmarish months.

For a Soviet patriot, living in Washington can be a trying experience. Anti-Sovietism fills the air, with lurid stories of oppressed Jews, of jailed dissidents, of forced labor camps, of bugged telephones, of systematic regimentation — part of a Reagan administration campaign that has abated only infrequently over the past five years.

While the embassy staff maintained a hushed silence during the news conference, Soviet bloc correspondents gave expression to what many of them were feeling privately. Their soft questions to Yurchenko contrasted sharply with the confrontational attitude assumed by Soviet journalists who interviewed President Reagan last week.

The Tass correspondent said Yurchenko was the victim of a "monstrous crime" and asked how he felt to be mistreated by the same authorities who "perpetually" talk about the need to uphold human rights.

The Izvestia correspondent offered his "congratulations" to Yurchenko on his escape. A Polish correspondent asked whether Yurchenko considered himself to be the victim of "state-sponsored terrorism."

Yurchenko's responses were predictable. Yes, he said America is guilty of "lies and hypocricy" in its human rights policy and, yes, his case was a "typical example of state-sponsored terrorism."

Yurchenko seemed to enjoy himself during the 45-minute news conference. Although he said his captors had not permitted him a decent night's sleep in three months, he appeared rested, and at times, relaxed and poised.

Most American reporters at the scene felt it was a virtuoso performance, but a single overriding question gnawed away: Was Yurchenko telling the truth?

The State Department said he wasn't. The doubts may never be resolved.

Wherever the truth lies, it was a rare propaganda coup for a government that usually finds itself on the defensive on human rights issues.

The local American press corps knew something special was happening when the Soviet Embassy called news media outlets around midafternoon to announce an event that has had few precedents since the two countries re-established relations 52 years ago: an embassy news conference.

Surprise turned to astonishment when the embassy disclosed Yurchenko would appear.

"I must have missed something," one reporter told the caller from the embassy. "Yurchenko defected to the West last summer."

"Ah, there were reports that he defected. Come and find out what really happened," the Soviet caller responded.

Refinery explosion prompts evacuation

MONT BELVIEU, Texas (AP) — A series of explosions and fires rocked a petroleum refinery today, prompting widespread evacations, shooting flames 300 feet into the air and darkening the sky with a thick smoke, authorities said.

There were no immediate reports of fatalities.

The blasts took place at the Warren Petroleum Co. refinery in this Chambers County community.

Voters to decide several proposals

DALLAS (AP) — Texas voters will decide today who will be mayor of Houston, whether San Antonio's drinking water should have more fluoride, and if the state should adopt a $1.4 billion water plan.

In Beaumont, the fates of the mayor and a councilmen are at stake in a recall election that stems from the city's loss of about $20 million in the collapse of an investment company.

The water package is split between Propositions 1 and 2, which are among 14 proposed changes to the Texas Constitution.

The first amendment would authorize $980 million in state bonds to raise money for reservoirs, pipelines, treatment plants and flood control projects. It also would set up a $250 million insurance fund to back local water bonds.

Proposition 2 would authorize $200 million in bonds for low-interest loans to farmers who buy water-saving irrigation equipment.

Lawmakers approved the water plan this year. Gov. Mark White, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Speaker Gib Lewis have been campaigning in support of the package.

The scattered opposition includes groups who fear the plan could lead to a program in which water collected in East Texas reservoirs would be sent to West Texas.

Among other amendments is a proposal to allow the Texas Department of Corrections to trade troublesome inmates with other states.

Voters in Houston must decide whether to keep Kathy Whitmire as mayor for a third two-year term or return Louie Welch to a job he held for 10 years.

The campaign, in which both candidates spent more than $1 million, was sparked by Welch's inadvertent comment, broadcast live on television two weeks ago, thata way to combat the disease AIDS in Houston would be to "shoot the queers."

The candidate later apologized for his self-described "blooper," adding that he didn't believe he had the support of Houston's gay community anyway.

Welch, whose candidacy was spurred by a gay rights referendum he helped defeat in January, made the battle against AIDS the foundation of his campaign.

Mrs. Whitmire, a former city controller, said that her administration is educating people to the dangers of AIDS, has passed laws to oust porn peddlers, widened and repaired streets, improved the mass transit system and hired additional police officers, resulting in a lower crime rate.

Also in Houston, eight political newcomers known as the "Straight Slate" are running for City Council seats, saying they want to protect the populace from what they consider the rampant spread of AIDS.

"Our main issue is health cards and AIDS," says council candidate O.J. Striegler, a spokesman for Straight Slate.

He said the slate supports the reinstatement of the health cards used to combat tuberculosis in Houston from 1941 to 1978, but with two changes — checking for AIDS and re-testing every six months.

In San Antonio, after months of heated debate, voters will decide whether the nation's 10th largest city should boost the natural .3 parts per million of fluoride in the water supply to .8 ppm.

Mayor Henry Cisneros calls fluoridation long overdue, but the Homeowner-Taxpayer Association contends it's too expensive. The City Water Board has predicted it would take $703,000 for the startup, with recurring costs of about $20,000 annually.

In Beaumont, voters will go to the polls for the city's first recall election in 16 years.

The recall vote was added to the ballot after a citizens group launched a petition drive calling for the removal of Mayor Bill Neild and Councilman Wayne Turner, claiming the two are not responsive to taxpayers.

City officials have been criticized since Beaumont lost $20 million it invested with ESM Government Securities of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. ESM collapsed in March, leaving Beaumont and 19 other U.S. cities in the lurch.

"I am not a troublemaker or a rebel and I am not mad at anybody. I just think they have ruined my town," said 67-year-old Dorothy Collier, the leader of the group Citizens United For Responsible Government. "This recall has brought the town together more than anything during the past 20 years."

A local union also circulated petitions calling for Neild's removal after he refused to intervene in a nursing home strike that lasted two months.

If the recall vote is successful, Beaumont will have its first black mayor — attorney Joe Deshotel, 33, who is now mayor pro tem.

JACK HIMES

Himes is new Gray Motors sales manager

Jack Himes of Big Spring has been named general sales manager of Howard Gray Motors, a General Motors new car dealership in Snyder.

Howard Gray, owner, made the announcement Tuesday and said Himes will assume his new duties immediately. He has been associated with Jack Lewis Buick-Cadillac in Big Spring the past 10 years.

A native of Colorado, Himes moved to Big Spring in 1969. He attended Howard College and led the college rodeo team to two national junior college titles. He was a rodeo professional for 15 years and made the professional rodeo circuit for 10 years.

Himes and wife, Terri, have two daughters. Lana is age 13 and Jana Lee is three years old.

Howard Gray Motors is the Oldsmobile, Buick, Pontiac, Cadillac and GMC dealer in Scurry County.

the Brick Plant Road and 32-year-old Raymond Ortiz Lopez of 1502 North Ave. U.

Both men were originally arrested and charged with that offense by Department of Public Safety highway patrol officers in October and both were released from custody after posting bonds of $1,500 each.

The grand jurors also heard testimony from six witnesses Monday involving an alleged rape incident in rural Scurry County last week but passed that case without issuing either a true bill of indictment or a no bill.

Study criticizes entertainment area

DALLAS (AP) — A study by the National Council of Churches shows that the entertainment industry is hiding behind the First Amendment while invading the living rooms of Americans with sex and violence that leads to agressive behavior.

The ecumenical organization's governing board will examine and debate the study when it meets Wednesday through Friday at the Hyatt Regency in Fort Worth.

But the committee did not intend to silence free expression, said James M. Wall, editor of the news magazine Christian Century and the study committee's chairman.

"The NCC has long defended garbage in entertainment in order to avoid curbing artistically valuable presentations," Wall told the Dallas Morning News. "Better to permit the bad than to curb the good."

The council's communications commission in 1983 began to examine the use of sex and violence in movies, in cable and network television and in home video.

Committee members said they decided to concentrate on the terms "exploitative sex" and "gratuitous violence" to avoid any attempts to "sanitize" the dimension of sexuality and violent action found in everyday life.

In the two-year study, the committee conducted hearings in New York, Los Angeles and Washington, D.C., with authorities in the fields of psychology, research, behavioral science, government, public education and entertainment.

Panel members said in a 48-page report to the church council that "laboratory studies have shown conclusively that there is a causal relationship between viewing violence ono television and subsequent aggressive behavior.

"For the media industry to demand absolute proof of such a relationship before action is taken is self-serving and unprincipled," the committee said.

Despite remark U. S. won't disarm unilaterally

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, trying to stave off a new reading of American military policy, staged a hasty retreat from President Reagan's declaration that the United States will not deploy the "Star Wars" defense shield against nuclear weapons until U.S. missiles are eliminated.

White House officials refused to say publicly or privately Monday that Reagan had erred. But they described U.S. policy on Star Wars in completely different terms than the president, insisted that the policy had not changed, and underscored that the United States will not disarm unilaterally.

The president's statement was contained in a rare interview with four Moscow reporters, the first such session between an American president and the Soviet press in 24 years.

Openly displaying their political bias, the Soviet journalists told Reagan that his answers to various questions were "unbalanced and one-sided in favor of the U.S. side." Reagan said some of their questions contained misstatements or assertions that were "totally unfounded."

Yurchenko case stumps analysts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. intelligence community turned its resources today to trying to penetrate the riddle of Vitaly Yurchenko, the KGB official who turned the CIA's biggest coup into its biggest embarrassment and stirred a diplomatic hornet's nest just before the Geneva summit.

Yurchenko stunned Washington by telling reporters Monday at a news conference without precedent in the Soviet Embassy residence that he is a victim of "state-sponsored terrorism." He claimed he was grabbed off the streets of Rome three months ago, drugged and brought unconscious to the United States, where CIA officials offered to make him a millionaire.

Those U.S. officials who would speak called that story "baloney." The State Department said Yurchenko is a spy who voluntarily came in from the cold, defecting at the U.S. Embassy in Rome in late August.

Some speculated he simply changed his mind or got homesick; others wondered if he had been sent all along as a double agent to embarrass the United States.

There the matter will not rest. Yurchenko is ensconsed in the Soviet compound. "At the moment, my only wish is to return as soon as possible to my country, my family, my kin and my friends," he said.

But the State Department, unwilling to accept that he voluntarily went back, said it "will insist on a meeting with him in an environment free of Soviet coercion to satisfy ourselves about his real intentions."

That raised the specter of a U.S.-Soviet tug-of-war over Yurchenko in Washington as President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev prepare to meet at a Geneva summit conference two weeks hence.

Council slate for Monday told

In other city business Monday, the council voted to:

—Grant a request from the Snyder Chamber of Commerce for motel tax funds totaling $11,070 for a Christmas promotion effort beginning Nov. 29. Major expenses of the effort include $4,200 for new Christmas decorations; $4,229 for an advertising campaign to be targeted at attracting shoppers from surrounding communities; $1,500 to renovate the sound system for the downtown square; $500 for a moveable sound program of Christmas music; and $350 for a Christmas parade. Councilman Troy Williamson abstained from voting.

—Approve a low bid of $38,739 from Mal Donelson Chevrolet for four 1986 police cars. A second bid was submitted by Wilson Motors, $38,994. Councilman Truett Bryan abstained from voting.

—Appoint Steve Green, Larry White and Bobby Jones as new members to the Snyder Board of Electrical Examiners. Jones will move from a journeyman post to the board's master electrician. Both Green and White will serve in the journeyman posts. Replaced on the board were Dale Swigert, master, and Jerry Martin, journeyman.

—Reappoint Dr. Paul Thompson as city health officer.

—Postpone any action regarding a request from Wayne Merritt for a special use permit to operate a geneology shop at 2000 KSNY Drive. The city staff indicated Merritt was currently considering other options.

—Table a request from A.W. Melton for a special use permit to operate a sporting goods store at 1900 West Drive. Before the use permit would be considered, council members indicated questions raised by the staff should be answered regarding ownership of the property in question.

—Grant a request from Margaret Breedlove for a resubdivision of a lot located in the 200 Block of 26th St. This includes a request that curb and gutter requirements be waived. The change will divide the 150 ft. by 150 ft. lot into three smaller lots.

—Approve on first reading a zone change request submitted by Gary Hicks to change two lots located at 2304 Huffman Ave. from R-3 (residential) to C-1 (commercial).

—Approve on first reading a zone change request submitted by Terry Thames, Dewey Thames and W.E. Aishman to change three lots located at 1808, 1810 and 1812 38th St. from C-1 (commercial) to R-1 (residential).

—Approve on first reading an ordinance providing for "updated service credit" for city employees under the Texas Municipal League Retirement System.

—Approve a request from the American Heart Association to have a Turkey Walk Saturday beginning at 9 a.m.

—Approve the minutes from the Oct. 7 council meeting; the Oct. 14 special council meeting; the Oct. 14 Board of Adjustments meeting; and the Oct. 28 Planning and Zoning Commission meeting.

District board balloting begins county clerk's office by Nov. 15.

The number of votes each entity may cast is based upon the amount of property taxes levied by each during 1984.

In addition to the city's 219 votes and Ira ISD's 312, the number of votes per entity is; Snyder ISD, 3,168 votes (63.3 percent); Scurry County, 1,226 votes (24.5 percent); and Hermleigh ISD, 75 votes (1.5 percent).

Among the six, there are a total of 5,000 votes.

The City of Snyder's voting represented 4.3 percent of the total and Ira ISD represented 6.2 percent.

Tires cut Saturday

Police are investigating a single criminal mischief complaint filed Monday involving slashed tires on a parked vehicle.

James Patterson filed that complaint at the police station around noon in connection with a vandalism incident discovered Saturday night by police on routine patrol at Snyder Drug at the intersection of 37th St. and College Ave.

Officers discovered three tires slashed on a 1975 Chevrolet pickup truck parked at the drug store.

The truck is owned by the drug store and used for deliveries.

The value of the tires was estimated at $60.

In other action, city officers jailed two suspects on warrants for unpaid Department of Public Safety-issued traffic citations Monday afternoon.

Entries Must Be In By NOON FRIDAY

Bring Your Entries to the News Office or Mail to Snyder Daily News Box 949 Snyder, TX. 79549

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, SNYDER DAILY NEWS, BOX 949, or bring your entry by the News office. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the score for that game only and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second prize winners. In case of a tie for a perfect score, the same formula would apply.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disquality all the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the Snyder Daily News and their families are not eligible to enter.
