WIDESPREAD SHIFT ENTAILED AIR FORCE CLOSE ORDER

Both the last two weeks, released the news dispatch.

The following release was made by 32nd Air Division on 26 April at 1500 hours: The Department of Defense announced today that as a result of continuing studies by DOD in coordination with the North American Air Defense Command, a realignment of the United States Air Defense Forces is planned.

Congressman Asks Defense Dept. To Justify Closing

Congressman Ed Foreman, representing this 16th Texas District, advised The Stockman today morning that Department of Defense officials had been asked to appear before the Services committee of the House of Representatives to justify the closing of defense units in Texas and elsewhere.

Carl Vinson, chairman of the Armed Services committee, assured the Texas Congressman that his committee that the Department of Defense justify its move and prove that it will in no way adversely affect this nation's defense capability. He will join Rep. Foreman in bringing pressure on the Department to rescind its closing order.

This realignment move will cost the government money and at the same time do as good or better a job in protecting us against our enemies. I am not one to insist on maintaining the present status quo. But if our defenses are weakened, I think the Congress should be informed and should act to avoid such a move.

In view of the widespread shake-up involved in the Air Defense Command, Congressman Foreman expressed the opinion that the Department of Defense would most likely be able to justify its action, but in view of the constant improving defense facilities available. If so, the Committee will give its approval, but otherwise Chairman Vinson told Congressman Foreman that he would back a move to restore the ons in the last two weeks, released the news dispatch.

The following release was made by 32nd Air Division on 26 April at 1500 hours: The Department of Defense announced today that as a result of continuing studies by DOD in coordination with the North American Air Defense Command, a realignment of the United States Air Defense Forces is planned.

The Air Force plans to phase down four of its Semi-Automatic Ground Environment (SAGE) direction centers; eliminate a number of radar units; relocate two NORAD Region Headquarters, and eliminate an Air Division Headquarters.

The realignment is aimed at achieving the best means of affording an effective defense against the long range bomber threat. It will provide the best possible ground environment operating capability and will assure maximum survivability of Air Defense Forces in event of an initial large scale ballistic missile attack.

SAGE facilities in adjacent areas to those being closed will expand their control responsibility in order to maintain necessary air defense capability.

The SAGE centers to be eliminated are located at Marysville, Calif.; Larsos AFB, Moses Lake, Wash.; K. I. Sawyer AFB, Marquette, Mich.; and Stewart AFB, N. Y.

The SAGE direction center at Stewart AFB, N. Y., will be converted to a combat operations center and the 26th NORAD region headquarters and the 26th Air Division Headquarters will move to Stewart AFB from Hancock Field, Syracuse, N. Y. The Syracuse sector direction center will assume control of a larger geographical area by taking over the area now controlled by the direction center at Stewart.

Major General Thomas J. Gent, Jr., commander, 32nd Air Division, said, "The 32nd Air Division at Oklahoma City will be phased out and the 32nd NORAD region headquarters also at Oklahoma City, Okla., is being relocated at Montgomery, Alabama. This action will have the effect of strengthening NORAD command control capability in the southeastern United States.

The Oklahoma City air defense sector headquarters will remain at its present location reporting direct to the NORAD combat operations center at Colorado Springs, Colo. The responsibilities of the 32nd Air Division will be assumed by the 29th Air Division at Kansas City, Missouri, and the 26th Air Division which will be located (Continued on Last Page)

Ozona FFA Wool Team Is Tops In Lubbock Judging

Local Grass Judging Team Places 7th In Field Of 37

An Ozona FFA wool grading and judging team won top honors Saturday in the wool contest at Texas Tech in Lubbock. The team placed first in wool judging out of a field of 14 schools competing.

Composing the winning Ozona team were David Childress, Billy Groesbeck and Ronnie Mason.

Ozona's FFA team scored 1133 points for first place. Ballinger FFA was second with 1130. Spur was third with 1121. Del City and Alpine tied for fourth with 1039.

The Ozona FFA grass judging team, composed of Moe Barbee, Steve Taliaferro and Keith Mitchell placed seventh out of a field of 37 entries in that event.

The largest number of teams ever entered in a contest participated in the Tech livestock contest Saturday. One hundred forty-four teams were entered in this judging contest. Ozona was represented by a team composed of Rick Hagelstein, Bryan Montgomery and Larry Williams. Only the top ten teams were announced and the Ozona team didn't make the top ten.

M. A. Barber, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA sponsor, and W. M. Groesbeck accompanied the teams to Lubbock.

Miss Pam Jones of Sul Ross College, Alpine, spent the past week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dempster Jones. She had as her guest Miss Myrt Topliff, a college classmate.

AIR NATL. GUARD MAY MAKE USE OF AF INSTALLATION

That the Air National Guard might make use of the Ozona Air Force Station as a training center, with a small contingent of Air Force personnel as advisers was seen as a possibility following inactivation of the base at 5:59 Wednesday afternoon.

The National Guard immediately expressed an interest in the facility as a training center for week-end meetings of Guard units. Major W. C. Bowman, commander of the local AF Station, learned from Air Force sources.

If the National Guard should make use of the two million dollar installation, moving would be considerably simplified. Major Bowman said. If the unit is to be abandoned, all equipment must be dismantled, packed, shipped or mothballed, a job which might take months, the Major said.

Penn Baggett Is Valedictorian 1963 Graduating Class

Robert Cox Is Second, Cheryl Clayton Third In Class Ranking

Penn Baggett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Baggett, Jr., is valedictorian of the 1963 Ozona High School graduating class. High School Principal J. A. Pelto announced last week following completion of the computation of four-year scholastic averages of the 20 graduating seniors of 1963.

Penn had a four-year scholastic average of 96.025.

Robert Cox, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, was second for salutatory honors with an average of 94.175.

In third place and highest ranking girl of the 1963 class was Cheryl Clayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clayton. Cheryl's four-year average was 93.352.

Four other members of the class registered a scholastic average of 90 or more. They were Jann Smith 91.666; Gracie Chandler, 91.659; Brent Moore, 91.552; Ronnie Houston, 90.400.

Twelve other class members had averages in the 80's.

Other members of the 1963 graduating class are Arlene Gotcher, Gail Johnson, Sherrice Oakley, Robin Jones, Helen McCaleb, Priscilla Spurgers Shields, Kathy Doran, Lucia Diaz, Pauline Maness, Ernie Ray Hanson, Robert Lee Montgomery, Sothenes De Hoyos and Floydine Moss.

Baccalaureate services will be at 11 a. m. May 19 in the high school auditorium and graduating exercises will be at 8 p. m. Thursday, May 23.

Montgomery Seen With Good Chance For State Title In Low Hurdles

Coaches Chick Womack and Sonny Cleere will accompany Pete Montgomery to the state track meet in Austin this weekend with competition in class A slated Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Ozona's lone entry is the only district entry to qualify for two events, having turned the trick in the high and low hurdles.

The times posted by other regional winners over the state would indicate that Montgomery has an excellent chance in the lows and might have a good shot in the highs.

Rankin, Big Lake, and Irvan will also have one man at the state meet. Mike Holmes of Big Lake will be the defending state champion in the 100 yard dash and Buddy Lanchart of Irvan will be a strong challenger for the broad jump title having posted distances of over 22 feet in recent meets.

Following the completion of his competition at the meet Montgomery will go to Dallas where he will join the senior class on its annual trip.

Ozona Air Force Station Is Ordered Closed May 1 In Air Defense Shake-Up

Four years to the day from its activation, the Ozona Air Force Station, 732nd AC&W Squadron, was closed down by order of the Department of Defense in a general realignment of United States Air Defense forces.

At 5:59 p. m., Wednesday, May 1, operations ceased at the base, the radar units which had scanned the skies around the clock for the past four years, keeping watch for possible enemy aircraft or missiles, were halted and radar screens blacked out.

The closing of the base came not as a complete surprise to local civic leaders, but the early date of closing did prove a surprise, even to the base commander, Major W. C. Bowman. A rumor that the base was scheduled to close July 1 had reached Ozona, but, of course, no confirmation of plans could be obtained through the Air Force. Major Bowman had been alerted to the possible closing in the AF reshuffling, but had not known the date.

Ozona High Band Wins Sweepstakes Honors At Angelo

The Ozona High School band, under the directorship of Eddie Green captured first division ratings in both sight reading and concert playing to complete its sweepstakes ratings last Saturday in San Angelo.

The Ozona band had previously won a first division rating in marching at the University Interscholastic League marching contest last fall.

Thirteen class A bands took part in the contest Saturday, held at Central High in San Angelo with the concert judges coming from Paris, Brownfield, Waco, and Dimmit.

The Ozona band played March For A Festival, Prelude to "Faust" and Overture for Winds. The band received first division ratings from all of the judges. Ozona was the only band in its class to receive first division ratings in both concert playing and sight reading and was the only band in any class at the San Angelo meet to be so honored.

The Ozona band plans to hold its annual spring concert May 14th with the public invited.

Henderon Ranch Gas-Distillate Producer Finaled

A northeast extension to gas-distillate production in the immediate Ozona area was realized the past week with completion of a discovery well on the Dick Henderon ranch northeast of Ozona.

Shell Oil Co. No. 1 F. R. Henderon, Jr., Crockett County Wolfcamp discovery two miles northwest of Ozona and 3 1/4 miles north-northeast of the one-well Alma-Cox (Strawn) gas field, was finalized for a calculated, daily flowing potential of 370 barrels of 41.7 gravity oil, plus 22 1/2 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1.910-1.

Potential was based on an actual 17-hour flow of 262 barrels of oil plus 16 barrels of water, through a 14-64-inch choke and perforations at 6.640; 6.646; 6.653; 6.658; 6.659; 6.660; 6.672; 6.674; and 6.675 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 50,000 gallons.

On a previous 24-hour production test, it flowed 574 barrels of oil, plus 13 barrels of water, through a 20-64-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1,380-1; tubing pressure was 850 pounds.

On a previous 24-hour test, using a 20-40-inch choke, it flowed 576 barrels of oil, plus 54 barrels of water. Gas-oil ratio was 2,211-1; tubing pressure, 750 pounds.

An Ellenburger failure, it was drilled to 8,513 feet and plugged back to 6,810 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of 46-OP.

Mrs. Willie V. Strickland of Junction has been the guest of Mrs. Eldred Rosch the past week.

Ozona and Crockett Co. Received Beneficial Rains Over Week-End

Rains dotted a wide section of West Texas the past week-end, bringing falls ranging from a light-tenth to more than four inches.

Ozona received a Friday night fall that registered an inch and a half. The weather disturbance which brought that moisture dumped more than four inches of rain over a wide scope of north-west Crockett county. Howard draw was on a big rise as was Live Oak creek in far west Crockett.

Another shower cloud in mid-afternoon Saturday brought moisture to parts of south Crockett county which had been skipped by the Friday night rain. Falls up to more than three inches were reported east of Ozona between Ozona and Sonora.

More clouds yesterday morning brought light showers in town and to the west and northwest. Ranchmen are hoping the weather disturbances herald the beginning of bountiful Spring and summer rains.

DUTY, OBLIGATION, DESTINY

Now, once again, as in generations past, the nation's school graduating classes will perform their traditional roles, from the grades to the great universities.

The Valedictorians will say their eager, nervous words. The guest speakers will offer their counsel. Pomp and Circumstance will surround the ceremonies.

The young people will walk off into a world they did not make, but which, perhaps, they can help remake in a brighter image. It is a world of intense competition, profound danger, and vast opportunity.

This is true of the arts, the sciences, all the civilizing elements of which we now have some knowledge. But then, poised against this, are powers of darkness and destruction deeper and more subtle than the world has ever known before?

May this year's graduates of the schools and colleges, wherever in the world they may be, go hence with a sense of duty, obligation, and destiny.

Advocates of the absurd 35-hour week would be hard to find if it actually meant only 35 hours of work per week — with no overtime hours at premium rates. — Dillon (S.C.) Herald.

A Creek In My Back

By Allan R. Bosworth

Author of "New Country" and other historical & fictional works

As a late-comer to the Blue Ridge, from — originally — the treeless plains of Texas, I should like to make some purely personal observations:

1. Virginia has so very many trees that people take them for granted.

2. Virginia normally has rainfall that turns a Texan or a Californian green with envy.

3. When Virginia's rainfall fails, there are far too many forest fires.

A number of individuals have failed to help Keep Virginia Green these last few weeks, and recently I spent a couple of anxious days and nights smelling woodsmoke and watching it swirl out of the mountains from a fire that was racing toward this property on the wings of a brisk, dry wind.

This produces a very helpless feeling. I attempted, in a small way, to volunteer to help fight the fire, but I knew I would probably only get in the way of the experts working under A. L. Jolly, head of the State Division of Forestry at Salem. My fire fighting experience was in another time and place, and under vastly different conditions.

Mr. Jolly and his boys were up there on the steep and rugged slopes, doing a tremendous job. I drove over that way, thinking perhaps they could use my jeep, and woke up a neighbor, Fire Warden Hartman, who had battled the blaze until nearly four in the morning. I asked him what I could do.

Warden Hartman looked blistered and weary. He said, "Not much anybody can do with this joker, except get out of its way and hope for rain. Wind's been blowing twenty five or thirty miles an hour up there — blowing the wrong way for any backfires. You get it stopped, and then it flares up in the top of one of those dead chestnuts, and blazing chunks the size of your fist travel a hundred yards on the wind, and it's off again."

Mr. Hartman pointed to a tall white pine near his house. He said flame will run such a tree and literally twist it from the ground and pitch it down the slope. The bark on hickories was swelling and exploding. This fire wasn't merely burning underbrush; it was killing the bigger timber . . .

Fire creates its own fantastic whirlwinds, and they run wild. A tragic example of this terrible force was recorded on Sept. 1, 1923, when fires swept Tokyo after the Great Earthquake, and destroyed 366,000 houses. More than thirty thousand refugees took shelter in an open space of about seventeen acres — a sort of park that was the site of the Japanese Army Clothing Depot. They should have been safe there. But a twisting, searing wind of cyclonic force dipped into the area and killed them all. Their bones made a pile several stories high, and a shrine was erected over them.

A shrine commemorates, but does not correct, past mistakes. Let us have no memorials to our Virginia forest fires.

Down in Texas, they used to fight prairie fires with wet tow-sacks and saddle blankets. They also shot the first cow at hand, and then dragged the carcass along the fire line with ropes from two saddle horses — one on either side of the blaze. This was very effective, but that part of Texas had no tall trees.

In California, where the long dry season is as explosive as an atomic bomb, timber cutters are required by stringent law to clean up their mess. You will find no "lans" left lying around and dry and invite next year's fire. A "chip" industry converts even the smaller limbs to commercial purposes.

In the wake of Virginia timber cutters, lips, limbs and shattered underbrush fall where they may. I speak from personal experience, because these 250 mountain acres were being logged over when I bought them. The loggers were profligate in the extreme. They killed many a tree unwanted for timber, by needlessly hubbing it with bulldozers; they cut wide, devastated swaths, and left four unsightly piles of slabs and sawdust that will not melt under years of rains. They wasted firewood that would command good prices in some parts of the country. I paid thirty dollars a cord for firewood, in California, more than twenty years ago.

Our pioneers cleared the acres they could plant, and cut the wood they needed (but prime timber remained until it was commercialized. And when it was cut, our topsoil ran down the rivers to the sea.

My purely personal belief is that the Commonwealth of Virginia should take a long and sober look at its forests, and remember that it takes many years to a tree. I think fires would do damage and would be more controlled if we had laws like have in California.

I have to jeep up to the hill, now, because I smoke again.

The annual Flower Show of the Ozona Garden Club scheduled for today has been cancelled because of a scarcity of blooms and horticulture specimens, the result of a severe winter and early spring.

By Robert Cox

Cheerleader tryouts were held yesterday for the 63-64 school year. From the many girls that tried out only five will make the squad and undertake the task of leading the students of OHS at the football, basketball, and track events next year.

These five girls will have tremendous responsibility, and they will have to exert their best to live up to the standard set by the cheerleaders of the past. At the same time these five will be setting high goals for the cheerleaders of the future.

The girls will be examples of the students of OHS and of the type of school we have, to other schools and towns.

The students owe a debt to their school as well as themselves to follow the girls they choose and give these five all the support possible.

PENN BAGGETT AND ROBERT COX LEAD 1963 GRADUATING CLASS

Seven of the twenty-one graduating Seniors will graduate with an average of higher than 90. Cheryl Clayton has the third highest average with a 93.352; Jann Smith is fourth with a 91.666 average, fifth is Gracie Chandler with a average of 91.650; in sixth place is Brent Moore with a 91.552 average; and Ronnie Houston is in seventh place with a 90.400 average. Each of the Seniors having an average of above 90 will receive the Cum Laude award.

JR-SR. PLAY GIVEN LAST THURSDAY EVENING

The Junior-Senior Play was presented last Thursday at the high school auditorium under the direction of Hack Leath. The cast consisted of students from both the Senior and Junior classes who presented "The Little Dog Laughed" before a good representation of the town folk.

Mr. Leath stated that the play was one of the best ever given by the students of OHS. Mr. Leath also complimented the cast on the excellence of their performance as they had only a short time to prepare it.

The play was sponsored to help the two classes make money for their various activities. The seniors, of course, will use their share of the profits on the senior trip.

OZONA WOOL GRADING TEAM WINS FIRST IN REGIONAL

The Ozona FFA wool grading team won first place over 14 teams in the regional wool grading contest last Saturday in Lubbock. Composing this team were David Childress, Billy Groesbeck, and Ronnie Mason.

Moe Barbee, Steve Taliaferro, and Keith Mitchell, made up the Ozona grass judging team which placed seventh out of thirty seven competing teams in the regional contest.

The livestock grading team was made up of Rick Hagelstein, Larry Williams, and Bryan Montgomery. This contest is the only event in which teams will advance to state competition. To advance a team must qualify in the top ten per cent in the regional contest. The Ozona team did not qualify for the state contest; however, there were 144 teams competing in this event.

Mr. W. M. Groesbeck accompanied Mr. Barber in taking the three Ozona judging teams to Lubbock.

Government regulations and heavy tax programs are destined to be a part of the American way of doing business for a long time. For that reason, it is more important today that every business keep accurate records of its operations.

The ranch business is no exception. With the stiff federal taxes, you will want to take advantage of every saving item in your expense account and at the same time have clear and convincing records available for inspection by tax agents to prove up any item on your income tax return.

Start now to keep a complete record covering all operations in your business with the Stockman's RANCH RECORD BOOK. The News Reel

A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of The Ozona Stockman

From The Stockman, May 3, 1934

Mrs. Pleas Childress, who has been in a critical condition in a San Antonio hospital for several weeks, was reporting sinking rapidly this morning and death is expected momentarily.

C. W. Taliaferro, formerly a mechanic at the North Motor Co., has leased the repair shop of Russell Bros. Service Station and will have charge of all repair and service work there.

That he has declined to accept the appointment as a member of the local compliance board for grocers was announced this week by Mike Couch. "The sooner Ozona business firms get to operating their own businesses the better it will be for all of them," Mr. Couch said in announcing his refusal to serve on the committee.

A Mr. Jones from Sweetwater, field representative from the regional compliance board of the lumber dealers N. R. A. code authority, was here Wednesday to check up on the West Texas Lumber Co. on compliance of the local yard with the code requirements. Other than a few minor suggestions, Mr. Jones offered no complaint.

L. Q. Sparks, former postmaster at Barnhart, was given a 60-day jail sentence and fined $350.44 last Monday in Federal Court in San Angelo for the charges made against him while postmaster some time back. Mrs. Sparks will run his business while he is away.

A committee from the Ozona Lions Club is at work this week on details of the organization of a golf club here. W. R. Baggett, Ozona rancher, last week donated use of a plot of land on his ranch north of Ozona for the golf course.

GARDEN REMINDERS

Queen's wreath, clematis, wisteria and any available vines should be planted now. A long growing season ahead will help them get established. Thin out English ivy that has thickened to heavy stems. Ivy is often attacked by green and black aphids at this time of year. Plant lettuce, beans and set out tomato plants now. Give the garden plants deep watering once every week unless there comes a good rain. Moisture is non-existent below six inches unless watering has been regular.

Gas-Distillate From Sprayberry New Pay In Kincaid Est. Discovery

The Ozona, East field of Crockett County gained a new pay, the Sprayberry, with completion of Texaco Inc. No. 2 A R Kincaid Trust, two miles south of Ozona and one location south of Canyon gas production.

It was finished for 142.32 barrels of 39.3 gravity oil, plus 19.2 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1.225-1.

Potential was based on an actual 15-hour flow of 89 barrels of oil and 12 barrels of water through a 16-64-inch choke and perforations between 3,728-34 feet and 3,740-43 feet, which had been acidized with 3,000 gallons and fractured with 10,000 gallons.

Operator was preparing to attempt dual completion from the Canyon through perforations between 6,268-6,427 feet.

Location is 467 feet from the north and 1,951 feet from the east lines of 3-MN-GC&SF.

The field produces gas-distillate from the Ellenburger and Canyon and has one Leonard oil producer. The Leonard opener, 2 1/2 miles to the northeast, Delta Drilling Co. and Pauley Petroleum Inc. No. 2-A Friend, was finished July 13, 1962, to pump 10.8 barrels of 33.6 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 960-1, through perforations between 3,223-246 feet.

Smaller Lamb Crop In Texas May Mean Better Prices To The Grower

College Station — This year's early lamb crop in Texas is smaller by 1 percent than in 1962, says Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The drop is blamed on a lower number of ewes on farms and ranches and a lower lambing percentage, says Uvacek.

Also, range conditions in the Edwards Plateau were below those of a year ago and wheat and small grain pastures have furnished only limited grazing since hard freezes in January, says Uvacek. However, recent moisture in some areas and unusually warm weather will improve the grazing situation, he adds.

The number of lambs placed on feed in Texas this year is about 16 percent below the number for last March. Also, many of the lambs on feed are in the light weight group, indicating that fed lambs will probably be marketed later this year than normally.

Lambs slaughtered by federally inspected plants during 1962 were 1 percent less than the previous year and indications are that for the first half of 1963 the number will again decline slightly.

Lamb prices will be a little stronger this year because of the growing demands of an increasing population and the slight decrease in lambs slaughtered, says Uvacek. However, he expects the decline in the beef market to have a depressing effect on sheep prices.

Spring lamb prices should be slightly higher than a year ago and are expected to reach their peak some time during April or May. However, Uvacek does not expect them to stay at this high level as long as they did the previous year.

Straight Talk

losing the struggle for freedom forever on the defensive. Why are we still listening to people like Dean Rusk and Chester Bowles who helped bring us to our precarious plight? If we, the richest and most productive nation in the history of the world, are now a second-rate, sitting-duck power, then why aren't impeachments and treason trials in order?

Why not demand impeachment of all officials who have sponsored and voted for unnecessary domestic spending programs when our very survival is at stake?

The Communists don't want peace in Laos. They want Laos. The Communist don't want peace in the world. They want the world.

There cannot be peace in our time until the Communist cancer is destroyed and the millions enslaved by it are freed.

We are at war. We shall win or we shall be enslaved. In our time, the only possible one-world is a slave world. Which side will the neutrals be on? Neither side, as long as it is more profitable to them to play one side against the other. When the shooting starts, if they are forced to join in the fight or be occupied, the neutrals will do what neutrals have always done: Join whomever appears to be the eventual winner.

We are being deliberately converted into a Socialist nation by one-worlders, fools and fellow travelers, the usual excuse being that we have to do this to keep up with Russia; or, we have to do this because of world opinion. Candidate Kennedy, one of the cold-bloodedest politicians ever in control of this country, was right when he charged world regard for America was at an all-time low. And since his "invasion" of Cuba and his bulldozers-for-bodies ransom plan, world opinion of us is notably lower. Some bubbleheads have said Kennedy may become our greatest President. He is more apt to be our last.

Remember, Communists don't require 51% of the vote such as Kennedy is supposed to have gotten. Communists take nations with 3% of the people Communists.

LIONS CANDIDATE — Louise D. Carothers, Big Springs, is being advanced as a candidate for governor of Lions International District 2A-1 by the Downtown Club of Big Spring at the district convention in Midland this weekend. Carothers has held virtually every office in his home club, has served as a zone chairman and district deputy governor as well as having taken an active role in crippled children's work.

They take over with the help of One-Worlders, Socialists, pacifists, dupes, and opportunists.

What can you do? You can get informed. Join patriotic organizations. Get into politics. Knock on doors like the AFL-CIO's Political Action Committee. Politics is a nasty business? Sure. It's nasty because the good people, though in the majority, have defaulted. It might hurt your business? No. In the end, being right and honest helps business. Besides, at the rate we're going, the Socialists will take over everybody's business within a few years. The politics we're in today, voluntarily or involuntarily, is the politics of survival as a free people under God.

What can you do? Write your congressman and demand that they quit fighting evil by compromising with evil, at home and abroad. Stand up and be counted, before we're all counted out. Maybe one person can't save our country — but he can try.

"The date of discontinuance of 732nd ACW Squadron will be on May 1, 1963.

"When asked what would become of the personnel, General Gent said that "The military personnel will be utilized to meet ADC and other USAF personnel requirements."

"I am deeply concerned with the welfare of those people affected by this action," General Gent said. "But in this day and time, we must obtain maximum defense with the funds provided. As we move forward, forces and facilities for warning and defense against ballistic missiles, and perhaps space vehicles, will be added to the aerospace defense system to maintain a credible deterrent posture."

(And that's the way the official announcement of the widespread Air Force shakeup was received at the Ozona station.)

years and have made lasting friendships which will not soon be forgotten. Some of our newer members were quick to recognize the warm and "Texas-size" hospitality generously offered by your community. This fact has been noted by many of our visiting military personnel from higher headquarters and it has contributed to the smooth functioning of our unit.

All of us have taken pride in our mission and unit, but an added feature of this squadron has been pride for the support of our unit given by your Community. It would be impossible to list all of the citizens, merchants, and officers of Crockett County who gave this support, therefore, we pass this message of appreciation to each and every one of you.

AF Station Closes —

did not reveal the exact number of radar units eliminated, but it did enumerate four semi-automatic ground environment (SAGE) direction centers to be eliminated, and announced the relocation of two North American Air Defense (NORAD) regional headquarters and the elimination of an Air Division Headquarters, that of the 32nd at Oklahoma City, and the removal of the 32nd NORAD regional headquarters from Oklahoma City to Montgomery, Ala.

The official announcement of the closing said that it was a "result of continuing studies by the Department of Defense in coordination with the North American Air Defense Command" that the realignment of U. S. Air Defense forces was planned.

The only semblance of a reason for the action was contained in the paragraph:

"The realignment is aimed at achieving the best means of affording an effective defense against the long range bomber threat. It will provide the best possible ground environment operating capability and will assure maximum survivability of Air Defense Forces in event of an initial large scale ballistic missile attack." And:

"SAGE facilities in adjacent areas to those being closed will expand their control responsibility in order to maintain necessary air defense capability."

Pauline Maness Named To All-State Volleyball Team At Abilene Meet

By Ernie Boyd

Pauline Maness was named all-state set up last week as the Ozona volleyball team took third place at the state meet held in Abilene Friday and Saturday.

The Ozona senior was the only member of the all-state squad who was not on a team reaching the finals.

The Ozona team, which captured second place in the regional meet in Lubbock the week before, drew a bye in the first round and lost to Groveton in the second round of play.

Ozona Coach Geheva Knox was named secretary-treasurer of the Texas State Volleyball Association for the coming year and among her duties for the year will be the making up of brackets for tourney play and the selection of teams for the Association meets.

Prospects for the up coming year would appear to be good with only three seniors on the squad. Ozona had a very strong and promising group of freshmen this season as well as good squad depth. The biggest difficulty will once again be the lack of height since there are no prospects of any tall girls among prospective squad members.

Fielder, secretary, and Dora C. Payne, treasurer, expressed appreciation to all who helped in making the ticket sale a success to make the trip possible.

Luther Walker Named Manager of New Ozona Chamber of Commerce

Luther W. Walker, a former school teacher and for the past two months a member of the staff of the Board of City Development in San Angelo, this week accepted the post as manager of the newly organized Ozona Chamber of Commerce and has moved with his family to Ozona to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker have three children, Karen, 6½; Kathy, 3, and Kevin, 2.

Mr. Walker is a native of Haskell county. He was graduated from McMurray College and taught for a time in the public schools at Breckenridge. He taught in Sonora schools, at Central Elementary, until two months ago when he resigned to accept the San Angelo BCD post. While in Sonora he was manager of the Sonora Caverns.

Mrs. James Baggett, who has been serving as secretary of the new organization, has resigned.
