Wrong Name

Our apologies are extended to Kent Pittillo, OHS Mustang who was mistakenly identified as Gary Davis in a photo appearing in last week's issue of the Enterprise.

A senior, Pittillo is a returning letterman who wears Number 50 on his jersey.

We're sorry, Kent.

Annual Broom Sale To Be Conducted By Lions

Annual Lighthouse Broom Sale, and other products made by the blind, has been set for Tuesday, Sept. 2, according to an announcement made by Lion Alan

Brown. Olton Lions Club cooperates with the 12 agencies for the blind in Texas each year in offering these products for sale. This year they plan to display their wares "on the square" west of Leon's Grocery from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. A door-to-door canvass of the city will be made from 4 to 6 p.m.

Brown also stated that wares will be on display and for sale in Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber office and Southwestern Public Service office by Tuesday of this week. Orders may be placed in advance.

The Lighthouse line of products is most unusual in that they are made by skilled blind craftsmen. They are regarded as real evidence of what blind people can do.

Olton Lions will welcome visits, interest and support in this effort.

Cheerleaders To Conduct Clinic For 'Hopefuls'

Olton Varsity Cheerleaders will conduct a cheerleading clinic in the high school gymnasium Tuesday and Wednesday, August 26-27, from 4:30 to 6 p.m. according to Mrs. Martha Shackelford sponsor.

available to any junior high school girl who may be planning to try for cheerleader. Charge for the two sessions will be $6. First and second prizes will be given in two divisions.

Persons who have questions concerning the clinic may call Mrs. Shackelford.

Canadians Miss Longhorns & Cowboys

Parsons Funeral Home Names New Assistant

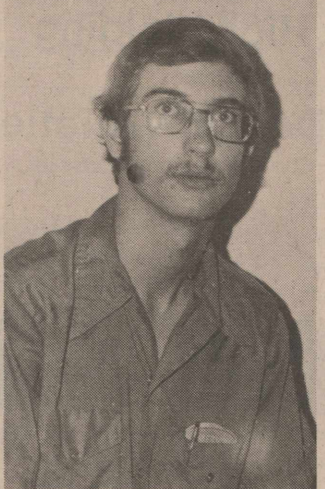

Dee Mynatt of Daingerfield arrived Saturday to assume position of assistant at Parsons Funeral Home.

Graduate of Daingerfield High School, Mynatt has recently completed training at Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science. The son of Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Mynatt, he is not married.

Mynatt began planning a career as mortician when he was a high school freshman and has worked steadily toward that goal. As a high school athlete, he participated in track.

Listing hunting and camping as hobbies, the young man has been named Eagle Scout. He was a member of the National Boy Scout Jamboree held in Idaho in 1973, in which some 38,000 boys were involved.

DEE MYNATT

In his move to Olton, with clothing and furnishings packed in his pickup and a rental trailer, Mynatt suffered the disaster of a fire in his possessions while driving along the Interstate Hiway near Eastland. The fire which engulfed the back of the pickup before the driver was aware of it, began to leap into the driver's cab.

He had only time to pull the vehicle aside and get out of it. The Eastland Fire Department responded quickly to the emergency but his pickup, equipped with CB radio, and all of its contents, clothing, guns, stereo and other items, were Longhorn cattle roaming the country side and cowboys riding herd on their trusty steeds—that's what three young Olton visitors expected to find when they arrived in Texas.

The trio of pretty Canadian misses expressed unanimous surprise that there are so few horses about, saying they had expected to see many.

Visiting here through the Lions International Youth Exchange Program, the three young women hail from Ontario but had never met each other until aboard the airliner that brought them here three weeks ago. They are due to return home Sunday.

Jayne Burham, guest in the Leon Noack home, is the only city dweller among the trio. Her home is in Woodstock, population about 30,000.

Brenda Harrah's home town, St. Clements, has a population of about 1,000. She is staying with the Charles Ramage family.

Linda Warwick, visiting in the Wandie Hutson home, hails from Blyth with a population of perhaps 800. The only one who has finished school, Linda plans to continue her stay another week and will not be returning home with the 12 other Canadians who selected Texas for their U.S. visit.

The girls were not prepared for the "cool weather" in Texas and say that, although the thermometer reading here is about the same as home, it is much cooler here.

"I've nearly frozen to death," says Linda, who adds she has warmer clothing on its way here by mail.

"Everyone around here is wearing sleeveless clothes and I have on my long sleeves and still get cold," Brenda agrees.

Jayne adds that at home is difficult to sleep at night because of the temperature and humidity. "Here I've had to have an extra blanket."

"I don't want to go home," the girls echo unanimously. "I told my mother, 'I don't want to come home' but she says I need some time to get ready for school, so I have to go," Jayne explains.

In her last year of school, "grade 13," Jayne says, she "would love to go to school here." She is looking to next summer with the hope that she will be able to return. "I'd like to work at Texas."

All the girls expressed appreciation for the Palo Duro production with Jayne's enthusiastic, "I saw it twice and I'd love to see it again."

The souvenir shop in Palo Duro Canyon profited from the girls' visit. All added to their collections of charms with Linda admitting, "I bought 14."

Souvenirs the girls will be taking back home reflect their original conception of Texas. Each will be returning with "a cowboy hat." "And I have a pair of cowboy boots," says Linda.

Each girl laments the fact that customs restrictions prevents their taking home cactus souvenirs.

The trio has encountered new foods during their visit as well as different ways of preparing familiar foods. None had ever tasted okra and all are vehement in their dislike of the vegetable.

"Wait till we try to tell them at home about stewed okra!" says Brenda.

Pimiento cheese was also unanimously met with disfavor, although all like cheese.

None had tasted the popular soft drink, Dr. Pepper, and all were hesitant about their first taste. The three would make excellent subjects for the beverage's commercials, however, with a unison declaration, "We love it."

Jayne likes the drink so much that she plans to take a case home when she returns. She also is a glowing endorsement of a new product, Dr. Pepper flavored "Lip Smackers."

"I'm a picky eater," Linda says, "the Hutsons will agree to that. I've been doing a lot of the cooking this week at the Hutson household (Mr. and Mrs. Hutson were "back in school" this week for in-service training).

Confessing she loves to cook, Linda says she has found it frustrating because "potatoes will not cook as quickly here as at home."

"I couldn't believe that you don't cook turnips with brown sugar and butter but the Hutsons said they'd never heard of it," Linda says. She explains that the brown sugar "brings out the flavor and takes away the bitterness."

Cornbread was a new food for the visitors and Jayne found it especially tasty. She also tried Mexican cornbread but prefers "plain." None of the girls care for Mexican foods.

The girls have made "mud pies" for their host families - a coconut topped cookie made with cocoa.

Tea is a popular beverage in Olton but is served hot throughout the year. Iced tea does not appeal to the young women and Brenda confesses she "decided to stop being polite and drinking it so I asked at Lions Club if I could just have water."

"I suppose it's just a part of our culture," Linda says "that we only drink it hot."

Ontario's children start to school earlier than young Texans. "If you're five before Dec. 31, you start to school," the girls explain. Students attend 13 years; 14 if they are enrolled in kindergarten.

Linda, who started at four, has completed school and will work as a model in January. He would like to become an airline stewardess "so I could travel and see places." She is the middle child with an older brother and sister and two younger brothers. Her father is a "town cop" and her mother works at a wool and leather outlet which sells leather jackets, rugs and such.

Jayne has a younger brother and sister. Her father died four years ago; her mother is assistant supervisor in the housekeeping department of Ontario

Hospital, a hospital for the mentally ill.

After this year of school, Jayne would like to go on to college and major in English.

Brenda is in grade 12 and plans to major in sciences. She would like to become a doctor but has completed two years of secretarial study and has that "to fall back on." Her father drives a ready-mix concrete truck and, in winter, sometimes drives an oil truck. Her mother is a housewife. She has "one sister and a dog. He's a terrier and a 'dash-hound'—I think you call it 'doc-sun'."

The girls visited the local volunteer firemen this week and described the fire departments of their home towns. Linda related the outstanding record of

Golf Tourney Draws Crowd To ORC Course

Harold Payne, ORC golf pro, termed the Partnership Golf Tournament held on the local course and co-sponsored by Olton State Bank a pronounced success. He stated the course could have accommodated more entries, but the weather over the weekend contributed to good play and interested spectators were present both days of action.

Mark Wyatt, Tulia, and Rickey Cox, Lubbock, were the tourney winners with a total of 132. With a 139, Scott Roberson and Ray Kinnison were in second spot.

Fifty dollar golf shoes were awarded by Olton State Bank to Curtis Campbell, Lubbock, for his "closest to the pin" drive on number three; and to D. McMinn, Amarillo, for his longest drive, 375 yards, on number seven.

Also awarded by the Bank were golf balls for each birdie played. Winners Wyatt and Cox collected a set of 15 balls.

Some 40 teams were entered in the tourney.

Day After Tomorrow

Rex Boyles

Can you believe it? School starts day after tomorrow! Spring sprung...summer slipped away...and it sure looks like Fall is coming to stay...

The first day of school... what a day! It's a beginning for some while it's a beginning of the end for others.

Day after tomorrow will be a day remembered by at least four classes. You first graders will remember the day because it's the first day you'll ever get to ride the bus...the first day you'll ever get to carry a satchel with pencils and papers in it...the first day you'll ever "officially" play on an official school playground...the first day you'll ever be faced with new rules concerning chewing gum, talking, and eating lunch...the first day you'll ever have to face your world without a Mom or Dad to absorb some of the shock...the first day of the rest of your life...

You sixth graders are going to remember day after tomorrow. It's a first for you too. It will be the first time you'll wear a real football suit...or have a real "workout" with a real basketball coach...or face a new and strange "Junior High" world. You will remember the day for it will be filled with all kinds of new rules, classes, teachers, and those friend or foe eighth graders. You guys will discover that the girls that (as 5th graders) weren't particularly "knock-outs" have (as 6th graders) become, in your words "not so bad". Likewise you girls will find that the guys, a year ago were considered "doorkie," have somehow become your "dreamboats." It will be a good day for you 6th graders, and it ought to be remembered for it too is the first day of the rest of your life.

What a day is going to be for the Freshman! To be in High School...what a dream come true! The first day in High School is one day worth remembering. You'll want to remember the excitement of just being in those halls that first day. You may think it's silly, but aren't you really kinda excited about being in the Mustang band, on the Mustang District Champ football team, or the District Champ Fillie's basketball team? Are you just a little excited about being a part of O.H.S.? It will be exciting first day for you Freshman with the new classes, teachers, regulations, and upper classmen. Enjoy the excitement, for the day after tomorrow will not only be your first day of High School, it will be the first day of the rest of your life.

Seniors...isn't it super to know that day after tomorrow you will begin the end? There will be no new rules, teachers, or such like for you to get excited over, but there will be some last minute dreams to find...along with some last minute plans to make. The day after tomorrow will be the first day of your last year. Make it a good day and a good year, and remember as you hunt for those dreams and build those plans that the day after tomorrow will be the first day of the rest of your life.

To all of you...may God bless you and Jesus take care of you on this first day of the rest of your life...May you all be assured that whatever questions arise about the rest of your life can be answered by Him who holds the future, Jesus....Rex

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

Betty Ford and Yours Truly have something in common! We both get in hot water because of our tongues.

Far be it that I really compare myself with the First Lady! Gee, no! But I think perhaps we do have a little bit in common! A great difference is, I've always talked too much and never seem to learn from my guiltiness!

Almost every newspaper, I presume, has had something to say about Mrs. Ford's statements on a recent TV interview. Overwhelmingly she's been soundly criticized for her statements.

What bothers me just as much is why she asked such questions to begin with! There are "jillions" of topics of worthwhile interest to which the program could have been geared! It didn't have to be sex-slanted!

Yet, where are the comments on the commentary, the program director and the producer? So much for that half-penny worth!

School time again! Do you know where the summer went? Did we turn two pages of the calendar at the same time?

It's a sign of declining years, I know, but sure seems to me they're making teachers younger and prettier and handsomer all the time!

They're also turning out smarter kids today, too! Education has progressed so rapidly that I find myself wanting to say "Huh?" when the younger set starts talking!

There's something to be said for the good ole days, though! We weren't so hand-cuffed to the "Thou shalt" and "Thou shalt not" of the federal government.

It's a sad situation, indeed, when a student walks to the neighborhood school only to be placed aboard a school bus and driven across town so that he or she will not "imbalance" the racial "minority" or "majority."

Sad, too, and frustrating (and sometimes an additional economic burden) is the fact that some students can no longer attend the school of their choice, the one they've attended since first grade.

Yet that situation exists. It exists right here, with our kids!

Meanwhile, those Powers Who Be sit in the plush offices our dollars have provided. They're thinking-thinking of what next to do with the boys and girls, the men and women, who are not flesh and blood people but statistics on pieces of expensive bond paper.

Blyth's volunteer department.

"We have 40 or 50 volunteer members and have earned the reputation of the fastest volunteer department in the province. Ironically though, the very night I told your firemen of our record, a home burned down in Blyth. No one knew it was burned until it was already burned to the ground," she said, learning of the loss in a phone call with her mother Wednesday morning.

The girls were surprised to discover no ice or roller rink in Olton. Both are popular in their home towns. Ice carnivals are big events, Linda says. The ice rink is "sold out every night."

The small town also has something happening at all times. "The whole community is involved. The Lions Club sponsors a program for children and something for the youth. We have a five member youth committee that meets with the Lions. We tell them what we'd like and they decide if we can have it and how to go about getting it."

Jayne says her city has a Leo Club (Lions Youth Club) "We get together, we talk, we have dances—something for young people 15 to 21. I think the age will be lowered next year and our younger brothers and sisters can get involved."

The trio likes baseball and hockey and Linda confesses to being "a football nut."

"If there's a game on TV Sunday and friends come by to get me to go somewhere, it's no good—I'm going to be watching football. We don't have football in my home town but the boys get out and play. I get out there and play with them and I don't care if I am the only girl!"

Helping irrigate has been a highlight of their Texas visit. It was a brand new experience since farmers in their area "get enough rain" for the crops they grow.

"I've never got dirty, I mean really dirty, before," says Linda. "And I love it, I love getting all muddy. I even adore feeling the mud squeeze between my bare toes."

Brenda says the fun has worn off as far as she's concerned. "I liked it at first—but now—it's not so great!"

There have been no communication problems for the three misses although they've discovered accents and word meanings make the English language very different from Canada to Texas.

"People laugh when I say 'about,'" says Brenda who finds the Texas version just as odd.

Laughing, they cite other examples which were at first, puzzling. "I'd never heard your expression, 'Scot over' and I didn't know what it meant," one says.

"We couldn't believe you really say 'Y'all.' We thought it was only in the movies!"

When their departure brings those words, "Y'all come back," it is safe to assume that Olton's three latest foreign visitors won't be noticing the Western expression, "they'll be thinking to themselves, 'I hope I can.'"

IN LITTLEFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Adair visited Monday afternoon with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Adair and Steve of Littlefield.

MRS. JIM KEY

Mr. Key, Miss McBride Pledge Wedding Vows

In a double ring ceremony held Saturday morning Aug. 16 in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Littlefield, Miss Katherine Elizabeth McBride of Littlefield, became the bride of James Mangrum Key. The Rev. Joseph James, pastor of the church, officiated for the reading of vows as the couple stood before an altar decorated with English ivy and baskets of apricot gladioli. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Ethel McBride of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Key.

When presented in marriage by her grandfather, Harry A. Kleman, the bride wore a candlelight gown of sheer satin organza combined with beaded French Alencon lace and antique type Brussels lace. The moulded bodice featured a Cameo yoke of antique lace with a high scalloped neckline and long Juliette sleeves shirred to lace cuffs. A lace veil over satin sash marked the waistline and accented the full bell skirt which repeated the lace motif. The hemline of the gown and sweeping train were encircled in a ruffled flounce of antique Brussels lace. Her veiling was caught to a Juliette caplet and was complemented by a matching Brussels lace-edged mantilla.

The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations, with accents of apricot, secured with a shower of white satin ribbons tied in love knots.

Miss Barbara McBride, Canyon, served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a formal length halter gown, topped by a short sleeved embroidered lace jacket.

Jerry Putman, Canyon, served as best man. Guests were seated by John Sloan of Amarillo, Jim Brown, Canyon, John Upshaw, Amarillo, and Kenny Spain.

Dean Carson, presented organ selections including "If," "O, Perfect Love," "Prayer From the Notre Dame," "Ava Maria," and "Voluntary in D Minor."

Playing his own accompaniment on guitar Luis Rey sang "For Bobby" and "The Wedding Song." He was accompanied at the organ by Carson as he sang "One Life."

Scriptures selected by the bride and groom were read by John Sloan.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McBride chose a floor length shirtwaist dress of mint green doesheen. The mother of the groom wore a formal length costume dress of bone knit with gold accessories. Each wore an apricot glamilia corsage.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception held in Sacred Heart Catechismal Center. The bride's table, laid with a white lace cloth, featured a silver candelabra, the bridal bouquet, and a traditional three-tiered wedding cake frosted in white with touches of apricot. Crystal and silver appointments were used to serve reception punch and the cake.

MR. & MRS. RICKEY DWAIN LEE

Rickey Lee & D'Lynn Hall Recite Wedding Vows Monday

Wedding vows were solemnized Monday evening for Miss D'Lynn Hall and Rickey Dwain Lee.

Officiating the twin ring ceremony in the garden of the bride's parents was the Rev. Elton Wyatt. Vows were recited beneath an archway entwined with English ivy.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall and Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Lee.

Mrs. Amos Walden, pianist, presented nuptial selections.

Presented in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of white voile fashioned with a jeweled neckline and long ragland styled bishop sleeves caught at the wrists with cuffs of Cluny lace. Overlaid with Cluny lace, the bodice featured a narrow band of Venice lace at the waistline and neckline. Fashioned in three tiers, the softly gathered skirt was accented with bands of lace.

Her waist length veil of silk illusion was edged with machine Cluny lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of burgundy red roses. For "something old," she wore the wedding band which had belonged to her grandmother Hall. She also wore the traditional blue garter.

Connie Graham of Dallas was her sister's matron of honor. Patti Thompson of Overland Park, Ks., cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid.

They wore formal length halter dresses of pink floral design with angel sleeved jackets. They carried long stemmed burgundy red roses.

Cari Hall of Memphis, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. David Jones of Hale Center, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Alan Johnson of Ft. Worth served as best man. Groomsman was Mark Smith. Guests were seated by Kent Thompson of Overland Park, Ks. and Steve Yandell of Lubbock, cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hall chose a floor length dress of aqua with white accessories. Mrs. Lee chose a formal length aqua sheath with white accessories.

A reception was held in the patio room of the Hall home. The bride's table was laid with a light pink net cloth over dark pink. Centering the table were white doves and white candles.

Serving wedding cake and punch were Misses Kay Givens, Joanna Carlisle and Kay Yandell.

The bride's going-away ensemble was a turquoise pant suit styled with long sleeves and fitted waist with a tie in the back.

The newlyweds are at home at Route 4, Olton.

A graduate of Olton High School, the bride is employed with Jeffrey Lumber Company.

Lee attended Olton schools and graduated from Plainview High School.

TEXAS TALK
By Billy Davis

With one farm bill dead as a result of veto, Washington lawmakers are now at work on a second one. Members of the Senate and House Agricultural committees are predicting early fall as the time the new bill should be ready for formal consideration. From reports which have come out so far the consensus is that the measure will be pretty much a rewrite of the emergency bill earlier this year. Higher dairy, grain and cotton supports are considered a priority along with a target price program for rice. Some sort of new approach for a commodity reserve system is reported to be under consideration and there may be some changes in the disaster payment program. Perhaps the most extensive part of the bill will be indirectly related to agriculture since support is said to be heavy for an expanded food stamp program.

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now. But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crops production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time. Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump...other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.
