RASKOB WANTS REFERENDUM

DEMOCRATIC LEADER AGAINST WET OR DRY PLATFORM

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov 25—John J. Raskob wants the Democratic party to endorse resubmission of the Eighteenth amendment to the people, but not to take a stand for or against prohibition.

Thus the chairman of the party's national committee clarified his position yesterday, as criticism kept mounting against his insistence on thrusting the wet-dry question forward.

"I strongly feel," he said in answer to a newspaper editorial, "the party should take neither the wet nor the dry side of this highly controversial question, but that its platform should definitely commit the Democratic members of congress to vote in favor of some resolution which will give the people themselves opportunity to vote on the question as to whether they wish the Eighteenth amendment retained, repealed or modified."

Assertion Challenged

He challenged also the assertion that Governor Roosevelt opposed his selection as chairman in 1928. Alfred E. Smith, he said, had assured him of the contrary. Yet his statement accentuated the apparent differences between Roosevelt and Smith.

Raskob has been working since last spring to obtain a platform declaration on prohibition from the next Democratic national convention. In March he thrust before the national committee a plan for "home rule" or federally-aided state liquor control. Friends of Roosevelt's nomination for president were among the most active in blocking a vote on the plan. A few days ago Raskob sent a prohibition questionnaire to the 88,000 cash contributors to the 1928 campaign, accompanying it with a letter urging his wet views.

The Loyalty council's procedure committee met Tuesday afternoon and worked out a program to be submitted to the committee of 12 for its approval for submission to the general assembly.

KLEBERG SELECTED AS WURZBACH SUCCESSOR IN TEXAS ELECTION

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 25.—Richard M. Kleberg, Democrat of Corpus Christi who came up from the range of the Santa Gertrudis ranch, today had won the seat left vacant in congress by the death of Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, Republican. His plurality was approximately 5,000 votes.

In retrieving for Democracy the Texas desk occupied by Wurzbach for 11 years, the Lone Star delegation once more became solid in its Jeffersonian political faith.

The victory moved the house Democratic membership majority up to a margin of four and virtually clinched the speakership for John N. Garner of Uvalde, Texas, whose district adjoins the fourteenth.

C. W. Anderson of San Antonio, choice of Republican leaders as a candidate to succeed Wurzbach, ran third. Carl Wright Johnson, Democrat of San Antonio, was runner-up to Kleberg.

With all counties reporting, four of them with complete returns and the others so nearly complete that the result could not be changed, the standing of the three major contenders was as follows:

Kleberg 18,866
Johnson 13,752
Anderson 5,586

Johnson had refused to concede the election to Kleberg and expressed a desire to check the returns from Nueces county, Kleberg's home, where the rancher received a heavy majority. Anderson issued a statement congratulating Kleberg.

Kleberg and Johnson had declared for modification of the Eighteenth amendment and each said if elected he would vote to submit repeal to the electorate. This probably is the only "wet" congressional district in Texas.

DEMO ORGANIZATION IN HOUSE ASSURED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Democratic organization of the new house appears certain as a result of the party's victory in the fourteenth Texas congressional district yesterday at a special election.

Election of Richard M. Kleberg of Corpus Christi, Democrat, gave his party a strict majority of one of the house membership of 435.

The new lineup:

Democrats, 218, Republicans, 214; Farmer-Laborite, one, Vacancies, two.

TOM MIX NEAR DEATH TODAY

SCREEN COWBOY AND CIRCUS PERFORMER SERIOUSLY ILL

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25—America's boydom hero, Tom Mix, who at various times in his career has been a cowboy of real life, of the screen and of the circus, was near death today.

Beset by peritonities which followed the rupture of his appendix, Mix spent a fairly comfortable night but his physician reported it will be three or four days before the crisis is past.

"Everything is as well as can be expected under the circumstances," said Dr. R. N. Smith, the actor's physician. "His iron constitution will go a long way in determining the final outcome and his is putting up a courageous fight."

Serum to fight the infection was brought by airplane from San Francisco. An injection was given within an hour after the plane landed here.

Dr. Smith said Mix was conscious and aware of his serious condition.

FARM LEADERS JOIN HANDS IN FIGHT

BURN DIFFERENCES AT CONFAB; FARM BOARD GIVEN SUPPORT

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The great farm organizations buried differences today in a plea to congress to retain the farm board and strengthen it with the equalization fee or the export debenture.

The National Grange advanced the debenture and the American Farm Bureau Federation the equalization Fee but both offered to compromise.

Cooperation Asked

Louis J. Taber, master of the Grange, asked the senate agricultural committee to forget differences between the various plans and exact legislation to dispose of agricultural surpluses.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the Farm Bureau federation, stressed the equalization fee but said his organization would not oppose the debenture. He proposed enactment of both.

The committee called in the farm leaders to consider the future of the farm board, including proposals to abolish it or to strengthen it.

Leaders Questioned

More than a dozen senators, seated around the long committee table, closely questioned the farm leaders.

Chairman Stone of the farm board was seated at the table along with the committee.

His colleagues and other farm leaders crowded into the room in back of the senators.

BRIEF SUBMITTED IN GRAVES CASE

A brief and oral argument in an appeal of Alvis Graves, 26, of Lubbock from a 99-year sentence imposed March 19 in 72nd district court here for murder were submitted to the state criminal appeals court today at Austin.

Graves was sentenced for the murder here, January 11, of Horace L. Simpson, one of two men who died of bullet wounds received in an altercation at a house-dance. Another man, a woman, and a child also were wounded.

Vickers & Cmpbell, Lubbock attorneys, represent Graves and J. E. Vickers of that firm went to Austin to present the appeal.

The criminal appeals court today reversed and remanded the case of A. G. Graves, a Lubbock negro sentenced to two years in 72nd district court here March 21 for burglary.

AMARILLO OR LUBBOCK EDITOR TO BE FLUNKEY FOR A DAY; FOOTBALL GAME TOMORROW TO DECIDE WHICH IS GOAT

A West Texas editor will sweep out the office of another West Texas editor, will run errands and act as an "all around flunkey" for a day—and the 'goat' will be automatically selected by the outcome of tomorrow's football game between Lubbock and Amarillo High schools!

Not content with wagering a column of space on the outcome of the Turkey Day classic, Colonel Erasmus Elberfield Tack, the famous Tactless Texan of the Amarillo Globe-News, and The Plainsman, Daily Journal columnist, have gone a step further. If Lubbock wins, Colonel Tack will sweep out the Avalanche-Journal office and act as 'flunkey' for a day—and if Amarillo wins The Plainsman will find a similar bill in the Globe-News office.

The two men have waged a vigorous word battle over the game and the relative strength of the two teams for the past two weeks and ten days ago agreed to pit their daily departments, one against the other. If Lubbock wins the game The Plainsman will use a column of The Tactless Texan's space to educate Amarillo and North Plains people on the superiority of Lubbock and the South Plains; if Amarillo wins Colonel Tack will use The Plainsman's column one day to tell of the benefits derived from living in his city or section as compared with Lubbock and its area.

Dates upon which the columns are to appear and upon which the 'flunky' work is to be done will be announced within the next few days. Colonel Tack, in every day life is Gene Howe, editor and publisher of the Amarillo Globe and News. The Plainsman, Charles A. Guy, holds the same position in the Avalanche and Journal organization.

BRIDGES WILL REMAIN OPEN

MIDNIGHT IS SET AS CLOSING TIME AT BORDER TOWNS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The treasury today ordered international bridges between six Texas towns and Mexico kept open until midnight in response to petitions urging such action.

Assistant Secretary Lowman issued instructions to the collector of customs at San Antonio to keep open the bridges at Del Rio, Eagle Pass, Laredo, Zapata, Roma, and Brownsville from 7 a. m. until midnight, instead of closing at 9 p. m., as heretofore.

The action comes as a result of petitions from the mayors, county judges, sheriffs, police chiefs and other officers in the border towns claiming that extension of the opening hours would facilitate traffic with Mexico and bring about a better feeling of Mexicans toward Americans.

The bridges along the Texas-Mexican border for a few months were open all night but were ordered closed at 9 p. m., when the treasury received petitions from congressmen and other prominent citizens saying that conditions on the Mexican side were leading to financial and moral degradation of Americans.

Four-H Member To Leave For Chicago

Chosen to represent Lubbock county at an annual national congress of farm boys and girls, Arvie Elliott, an independent four-H club boy living near Grovesville, will leave here Friday afternoon by train for Chicago and the national assembly.

Elliott was selected because of his exceptional work with hegari and the trip awarded him by the Santa Fe railway. Two Lamb county four-H members, a Seagraves, a Plainview, and a Tulia club member probably will travel on the same train as Elliott to Newton, Kan., where the Panhandle-Plains group will join another Texas delegation. They will arrive at Chicago, Sunday morning.

TEACHERS ARE TO GATHER

ANNUAL CONVENTION TO OPEN TOMORROW AT AMARILLO

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Nov. 25.—A small number of officials and delegates, and a host of commercial exhibitors were in Amarillo today, making final arrangements for the opening of the fifty-third annual convention of the Texas State Teachers association tomorrow.

Chamber of commerce committees and officials of the public school system, Amarillo college, and West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, held their last meeting yesterday and announced that plans had been made for the entertainment of 5,000 or more visitors.

Tea Slated Today

Pre-convention activities were to open with a tea at the Canyon Teachers college this afternoon, at which the Panhandle chapters of the American Association of University Women will honor Miss Sarah M. Sturtevant, professor of education at the teachers college, Columbia university, New York. Miss Sturtevant will speak at the general assembly Thursday evening.

Exhibits entered by schools throughout the state were being set up today. They filled the building set aside for them and overflowed into hotel lobbies, the general convention hall and the 40 sectional meeting places.

Eighty selected high school band members were here from over the state, rehearsing with 30 from Amarillo under director Oscar Wise. The all-state school band was made a feature of the annual convention at last year's session.

Chief business of the convention will concern juvenile delinquency, evils of the athletic system and the election of officers.

"COCKTAIL DRESS" GIVEN AS ANSWER TO FEMININE WAIL, "WHAT TO WEAR"

BY RUTH COWAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—And now comes the "cocktail dress."

Which is to say that here is the answer to that feminine wail of "what to wear" during the hours shading from daylight to dark.

In relation to the rest of the feminine wardrobe, the "cocktail dress" is a first cousin to both the evening gown and the afternoon dress. In some instances a matching jacket turns an evening dress into a cocktail frock.

As described by smart shops it is the "formal informal" frock that can stop by for tea—or what have you—and go right on through the evening to dinner, the theater or bridge.

It can be as formally informal or as informally formal as desired, but the fashion-wise eye can ferret out the little details that distinguish this up-to-the-minute successor to the "Sunday night" frock from its cousins.

The same materials are employed in these dresses as are used in evening and afternoon garments—velvets, satins, semi-sheers, bright crepes, metal cloth and combinations of materials. The colors are gayer than strictly afternoon but more subdued than for formal later hours. There is an impression of youthfulness, daring—cocktail.

NORTH PLAINS FEELS GRIP OF WINTER

CLOUDY AND WARMER IS PREDICTED FOR TOMORROW HERE

Although Lubbock and the South Plains had felt the sting of cold intermittently since last Saturday night, no marked drop in temperature accompanied a light snow here this morning and the forecast for West Texas weather Thursday was cloudy and warmer.

The mercury dropped to 30 degrees between 6 p. m. Tuesday and 6 a. m. today but rose some as the new day grew older, the state experiment station here reported. Cloudy weather ordinarily is not accompanied by a marked drop in temperature here, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the station, said. Barely discernible snow flakes began to fall here about 8 o'clock this morning and continued, with mild sleet at intervals, until almost noon. The skies were clearing at noon.

Snow Is Reported

Snow also fell at Amarillo, Pampa, Plainview, and Canyon this morning. The thermometer registered 28 degrees at Plainview at 8 o'clock this morning. The flakes melted rapidly at all four points. Overcast skies indicated rain might be expected at Quanah later in the day.

The seasonal low here was 27 degrees recorded early Sunday morning. The temperature again fell below the freezing point early Monday when the reading was 31.

As in West Texas, most of the state expected warmer weather as the first cold wave of the winter moved southward today.

The Lower Rio Grande valley and coastal points reported a brisk north wind yesterday. The Panhandle was strewn with broken telephone and telegraph wires.

Telephone service was disrupted

Former President Of Mexico Missing

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—The family of Francisco Carbajal, former president of Mexico, expressed fear yesterday that something untoward had happened to him while away on a trip to New Orleans on business.

Senor Carbajal left Mexico City November 16 to drive to New Orleans by way of Laredo, Texas, and the family said he had not been heard from, despite the fact he intended to keep in touch with them. Motorcycle riders have been sent out along the highway, which is in unfinished shape.

Nine-Day Hiccough Spell Is Stopped

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 25 (AP)—The hiccoughs which annoyed John Weber, 60, for nine days have been stopped, temporarily at least.

The hiccoughing ceased yesterday after an anaesthetic had been administered and a rubber tube was put into the victim's stomach.

AGAIN MR. GLAD WILL GIVE COFFEE, SANDWICHES TO NEW YORK'S HUNGRY

BY MORRIS WATSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—There's a kick in being glad!

Take for that the word of Mr. Glad, himself, who in the heart of Manhattan, on the corner of 43rd street and Broadway, will inaugurate today his second winter of giving sandwiches and coffee to the hungry.

Mr. Glad is the head of a large and thriving sales corporation—that much was learned under seal of secrecy. His name isn't Glad.

"I took that name," he said, "because I am glad to have regained my health and glad to have regained the material possessions I once lost."

The name fits well the ruddy, healthy smile that radiates from beneath his snow white and bushy hair. He is 57 years old, mild of manner—and brotherly.

He started being "Mr. Glad" last winter when he stood on a corner not far from his office and handed out nickels so that unemployed men might have car fare to look for work. For a long time, neither his friends nor his employes, not even his wife, knew about it.

When he began handing out sandwiches, coffee and gloves in addition to nickels, he had to have help. A few close

THOUSANDS TO GO TO GRID CONTESTS

CHURCH SERVICES ARE PLANNED; DAY HERE WILL BE QUIET

Thanksgiving day in Lubbock will be a quiet affair.

Save for a union Thanksgiving service at the First Baptist church at 8 a. m. and an all-day service at the South Side Baptist church, interest of the day will shift to Amarillo and Abilene where the Lubbock high school Westerners and the Texas Tech Matadors meet opposing teams on the football field.

Approximately 5,000 Lubbock grid fans will witness the games, more than 4,000 of them going to watch the Westerners battle the Sandies while several hundred Tech students and fans will be on hand as the Matadors meet the Simmons University Cowboys.

Specials To Run

The fans began leaving this afternoon for both points but the majority of them will depart early Thursday. Between 1,000 and 1,500 high school students and Westerner fans will leave on two Santa Fe special trains "The Westerner" and "The Plainsman" shortly after 9 o'clock. Others will leave in a caravan of buses which departs from the Union Bus terminal at 8 o'clock. Tech fans will make the trip in cars and buses, the majority of the students going in buses which leave early Thursday.

The union Thanksgiving service has been scheduled so that fans may attend and also have ample time to catch the trains or drive to the North Plains city for the game. Dr. W. Y. Pond, superintendent of Baptist evangelism in Texas, of Waco, who is conducting a revival here will preach the sermon.

Two Trains Ordered

E. Kancher, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe, said this morning that equipment for two special trains had been ordered.

High school students, faculty members, the pep squads and the band will ride the train known as "The Westerner" while adult fans will be stationed on "The Plains-

SUSPECT WILL SURRENDER

GUS BARKOW SOUGHT IN ALLEGED ATOM SPLITTING FRAUD

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 25—Gus Barkow, one of six men under federal indictment in an alleged million dollar swindle based on a fake scientific "atom splitting" machine, will surrender today, a lawyer who assisted in reducing bond for him said.

Barkow will be the fifth defendant to be taken in custody and only one, C. B. Neumann, believed to be in Wilmington, Del., or Philadelphia, will then remain at large.

"Doctor" Walter Hohenau, so-called "brains" of the alleged swindle, is in a German prison awaiting trial for murder. Dr. John May was arrested here. Clifford R. Skinner in Philadelphia and John P. Veale in Wilmington.

Prominent persons over the nation, including two high court judges and a United States district attorney in Texas, were among asserted victims of the fraud.

The indictment charged the defendants represented a machine of Hohenau's invention to be capable of "splitting" the water atom and generating power 174 times greater than the amount required to operate the machine.

Popular Pair Is Being Married This Afternoon At First Christian Church

The ceremony uniting one of Lubbock's most popular young couples, Miss Kate Boyd and John A. Keathley, in marriage is being held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the auditorium of First Christian church with the pastor, Rev. Walter P. Jennings, officiating.

The bride is gowned in an ice blue model with black hat, shoes, and other accessories and is carrying a bouquet of commonwealth roses showered with valley lilies. After their marriage, the bridal pair will leave on a short honeymoon trip, expecting to return to Lubbock this week-end. They will be at home at 2712 22nd street. The bride's going-away dress is of green crepe and with it she is to wear a sealskin jacket.

She is a graduate of Ward Belmont college at Nashville, Tenn., and Texas Technological college in this city. Last spring, the bride reigned as Miss West Texas at a pageant given at the college before the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in annual meeting here. SIMILARITY BETWEEN ROASTING COFFEE AND COOKING FOODS

"A Little at a Time" Is the Secret for Securing the Finest Flavor

Foods generally taste better when cooked in small quantities. For then the cook can mix her ingredients properly, also control the heat.

When coffee is roasted in small quantities, the same thing is true. But when coffee is roasted in bulk—as most coffees are—exact control is lost. Under-roasting and over-roasting very easily occur. This method being so unsatisfactory, caused Hills Bros. to look for some improvement—some way to roast their rare blend to uniform perfection. They experimented for years, and eventually invented and patented Controlled Roasting.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the fine, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. Marvelous unvarying flavor results in every pound. For no berry is underdone nor overdone.

Hills Bros. Coffee is always fresh. It is packed in vacuum cans. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

ACTION WITHOUT HARM WHENEVER CONSTIPATED

Here's a way to be rid of constipation and its ills—a way that works quickly, effectively, but gently.

A candy Cascaret at night—the next morning you're feeling fine. Breath is sweetened; tongue cleared; billiousness, headaches, dizziness, gas vanish. Repeat the treatment two or three nights to get the souring waste out of your system. See how appetite and energy return; how digestion improves.

The action of Cascarets is sure, complete, helpful to everyone. They are made from cascara, which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. All drug stores have the 10c boxes.—Adv.

When these two great teams meet it will be a meeting of West Texas' finest football teams. . . . It is an honor to Lubbock for it's high school team to be represented in a contest where the District Championship is at stake.

We know that the Sandies are going to try and tame our Westerners but they will find that it takes more than a Golden Sandstorm to calm these hard riding Westerners. DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

CHILD'S PROBLEM

A mother writes:

"My dear Dr. Myers: I have a boy seven years old who wets his bed every night. Not once, but three or four times. We always take him up before we retire, and allow very little, if any, liquids after 5 o'clock in the evening.

"He is healthy, active and well in every other respect, and doctors who have examined him say that it is just a habit that he himself will have to overcome.

"We have punished, bribed and deprived him of certain pleasures, but nothing seems to make any impression on him. Apparently he does not eveen care.

"Can you suggest anything further for us to do, for we are at our wits end.

"Your answer will be anxiously awaited."

Answer: Your letter is typical of scores of letters on this subject. You do not need scolding, you need help. You have done the best you could. I am sure. First of all, abandon punishment, and all appearances thereof. No child deliberately wets the bed. He is asleep or partly asleep when it happens.

No more is he responsible for it than you and I are responsible for some of the things we dream we are doing or have done. If all of us had been punished there could not be jails enough to imprison us nor electric chairs, nor gallows nor gas death chambers enough to destroy us. We would do anything to rid ourselves of some dreams we dream. Virtually any child of seven or older who often wets the bed, and who because of it is punished or tortured emotionally, would be willing to do almost anything to get rid of the habit. I can think of no greater tragedy of childhood than that of hundreds of young bed-wetters.

I have some painful memories of my own, though my parents were very considerate. I can even recall how I used to dream I was in the toilet only to awaken and discover shortly that I had wet the bed. Though my mother never complained or suggested that I should feel ashamed, I had dreadful feelings when I saw the extra work I had put her to. How happy I was when my parents worked out a scheme hereby I was called up several times a night until I awakened and cared for myself.

I assume that you have provided the child's bed with a rubbed sheet beneath the linen sheet, so that he need not worry when he has an accident. You call him only once. Set an alarm clock and call him up one or two or more times, as will be necessary to help him to sleep dry. Maybe just once more per night will suffice. The lad will be interested in setting the clock himself, but be sure it awakens him the first several times it goes off. Thereafter he can take care of himself. And what a world of differences it all will be to him.

EDITOR'S NOTE. Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland O. The pamphlets are "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

Presbyterians Are In Annual Banquet

There was an attendance of about 70 at an annual Thanksgiving banquet Tuesday night for Tech students of First Presbyterian church. The affair was given in the church basement and Tillman Stitt presided.

Repeal Of Ohio's Dry Law Is Sought

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25 (AP)—Repeal of the Ohio prohibition amendment to the state constitution is to be sought from the voters at the May primary election.

Plans for submission of the amendment were perfected through incorporation of the association opposed to the state prohibition amendment at the secretary of state's office. This organization will sponsor the repeal campaign.

Listed among the incorporators of the association as its board of trustees is Maurice Maschke, Cleveland, Republican national committeeman for Ohio. State Senator Joseph Ackerman, Cleveland, who filed the incorporation papers, said petitions already are in circulation and that approximately 100,000 of the necessary 290,000 signatures have been obtained.

Man Drowned After Small Boat Sinks

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 25 (AP)—Stricken while trying to swim to safety after the sinking of a small boat in Caddo Lake, Tuesday, F. J. Foersterling, of Detroit, Mich., drowned.

His companions, C. P. Lofton and H. B. McCane, of Shreveport and H. W. Brown, of Dallas, Tex., swam to some pilings of an oil derrick and were rescued by another boat.

The party was on a duck hunt. Their swiff struck a snag and began sinking rapidly.

Foersterling's companions believed he suffered cramps or a heart attack.

Mrs. Judd's Plea Not To Be Changed

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 25 (AP)—The plea of not guilty Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd entered to charges of slaying Mrs. Agnes Le Roi and Hedvig Samuelson will not be amended, Erman Lewkowitz, her attorney announced. The time limit for filing a demurrer to amend the plea expires today.

Her trial, set for December 15, may not be held at that time. Judge Howard Speakman, to whose court the case was assigned, has granted continuance of another case in which Lewkowitz is acting counsel, to the same time.

INDIA'S MILLIONS

CALCUTTA—India's teeming millions continued to increase during the past ten years, recent census figures show. The population of the country is now 350,353,000. During the past period, the Hindus in the country increased 10 per cent, and now number 238,330,000. Moslems increased 13 per cent, and number 77,743,000. The Sikhs, with a 33 per cent increase, led all other factions.

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.

It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.

When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!

AND HERE TO THE LUBBOCK WESTERNERS AND MATADORS

TACK:

Old Tack, the famous home town columnist of Amarillo, credits himself with all the dope on the coming Lubbock-Amarillo Thanksgiving footfall game.

We don't know a great lot about football but we judge that before his audience of Amarilloans Tack must, in some way, calm their panicky minds with some kind of psychology.

His crack about the ability of Amarillo boys to really outfight the Westerners on the theory that Amarillo is much colder than Lubbock and that their city is located many more feet above sea level is rather a far-fetched boast.

We'd like for Old Tack to name us some of the famous international Eskimo football squads and another question Tack—just when did you start advertising Amarillo as a Swiss highland town.

It has never been recorded in history that an Eskimo ever saw a football and, unless we are sadly mistaken, there is not a football field in Switzerland.

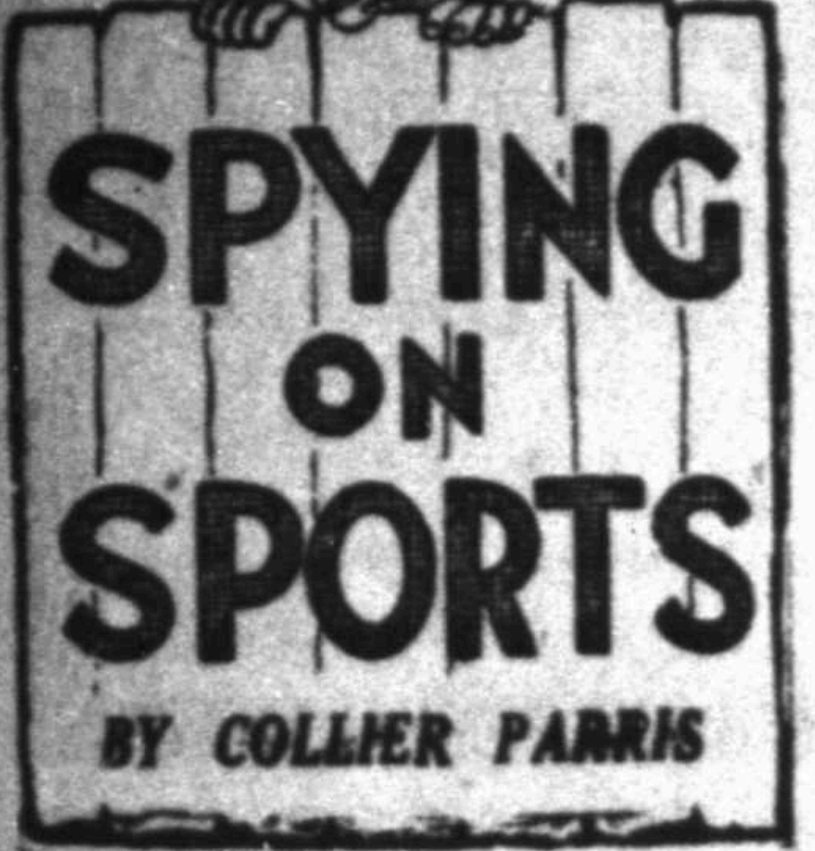
LUBBOCK HIGH SCHOOL WESTERNERS ARE IN AMARILLO TODAY



SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

One of the biggest kicks this department has gotten out of writing sports in Lubbock was in announcing yesterday herein that three campus organizations of Texas Tech were pledging gold footballs to be given the Matadors if they beat Simmons tomorrow. That certainly cheered the old maestro's heart, folks, it makes us believe that Tech is behind the team more than general opinion would have it. We rise to commend the Los Camaradas club, the Wranglers club and the Toreador. Those three pledges mean as much as the fifteen business men's pledges together.

Lyle Holmes, the golfing sports writer from Shamrock, called about the Los Camaradas pledge. Lyle will also have a part in the Toreador football buying. Earl Hobbs is president of the Los Camaradas. Ralph Penney, president of the Wranglers club, called about that organization's pledge and Marshall Formby, editor of the Toreador, active staff of which includes Ed Young, Tom Abraham and Lyle Holmes, put in the campus newspaper's bid. At this writing we need about five more. Today is the last day to get them in. The team plays tomorrow.

More of them! Ellis Foreman of the Silver Key club at Tech Calls to say that organization will give a gold football and TWO gold footballs if it is necessary. Garland "Buck" Davis over at the post office says put him down for one. Mighty fine, mighty fine. Glad to hear of these Tech bodies chipping in, Silver Key, Los Camaradas, Wranglers and the Toreador. Need about four more now.

And now for the hardest job of the week. Why, oh why did sports writers ever start the business of picking winners and by how much? They sure let themselves in for a lot of grief and yet the practice continues. We're glad our jobs do not depend upon the number of football games we correctly predict. The Westerners are playing the Amarillo Sandies tomorrow, and for the first time in a number of years the Westerners are favorites. That's what you and you and you think. Here's what we think.

Lubbock's cripples are a lot more serious than a number of fans and readers may believe, and that factor may play an important part in tomorrow's game. We believe that Lubbock has ten men better than any ten men Amarillo can send on the field. That's as far as Lubbock's superiority goes. If there is a need for reserve power, Amarillo has it all over Lubbock, for Lubbock's reserve strength is a missing quantity. If Barnett and Davidson were in top condition we would say Lubbock had eleven men better than any eleven of Amarillo's big squad. Blair Cherry may crush out the very life and heart of Lubbock by shooting in reserves and a team is no stronger than its reserves.

If Cherry starts a team and keeps it in all the way, Lubbock will win. If Cherry uses two teams, and he has two teams of almost equal strength, it will be as if Lubbock were playing two games on the same day, which is a task for anybody's team. We have thought and worked and rehearsed and cogitated and watched and listened and prayed and we're going to predict thusly:

Amarillo 7; Lubbock 13.

Under ordinary circumstances, Lubbock has a two-touchdown better club than Amarillo, but these circumstances are far from ordinary. Lubbock will have done a day's work if it beats Amarillo by one touchdown. We do not believe there will be more than one touchdown. Lubbock is going to play a conservative game all the way. The Westerners are not going to take any chances. They're going to kick on the third down; they're going to play a close defensive game; they're going to be extremely careful. You gamblers (and may we commend Prof. Duncan for his letter to the district attorney at Amarillo) who are giving a dozen and eighteen points are all wet. You're in for a double defeat. More than that, you have done your part toward making the Westerner's overconfident and cocky. Coach Weldon Chapman was almost in tears when he lamented that fact yesterday.

Now for Tech and her game at Abilene, which we had rather see than the Lubbock-Amarillo game. Tech may lose that game. The Matadors seem to have hard luck when they get out of town. They have won but one away-from-home game all season and that by a lone touchdown, the only one of the game. Yet they have looked like the proverbial and mythical million dollars while winning 100 per cent of the home games. With a break or two, they may beat Simmons tomorrow. The score may be 7 to 0, Tech, but more than likely it will be 13 to 6, Tech. We believe the Matadors are going to win those gold footballs.

That was a fine gesture on the part of Lindsey and Lucas; the theater men, the other night when they had as guests the Lubbock High squad at the show, "Touchdown." It was a good show, too. Little things like that help out a lot.

TECH'S MATADORS OFF FOR ABILENE

MEET SANDIES TOMORROW IN GRID GAME

PLAYERS LOOK GOOD IN LAST WORKOUT ON HOME FIELD

The Lubbock High school Westerners are in Amarillo. The squad and Coaches Weldon Chapman and Burl Huffman left early this morning and took along a bunch of football paraphernalia, as if to play a football game.

They do play a football game. Tomorrow afternoon the Lubbock Westerners, all diked out in flaming blue jersies, will march upon Butler Field at Amarillo to do gridiron battle with the Golden Sandstorm of Amarillo High, the latter turning white for the day.

Team Looks Good

In their last workout on the home field yesterday, the Westerners looked better than at any time during the last two weeks. Coach Chapman was even smiling a bit when he waved them off the field after a brisk workout in the chilling wind. He has been fighting overconfidence, and it was appearing that over confidence was giving way to confidence, but that all cockiness was disappearing. The club was enthusiastic toward the latter part of the workout and this morning presented a grim front as they embarked for the scene of battle.

Even at that, it is not difficult to assume a pessimistic attitude in connection with Lubbock's chances at Amarillo. Doped as the favorite, the Westerner machine might easily become the underdog. Amarillo has shown much improvement since their disastrous affair with the Pampa Harvesters while the Westerners have perhaps decreased in power. Injuries to two important backfield men, Gene Barnett and Bill Davidson, have hindered the preparation for the Amarillo game.

Barnett Back At Work

Barnett was back at work this week for the first time in more than two weeks when he sustained a broken foot in the Childress game. He is slower than before and will not be up to his old self in the Amarillo game. His passing arm is about the only thing one can get worked up over.

Bill Davidson's knee, injured in the Plainview game at the end of a beautiful 27-yard sprint, has failed so far to return to normal. He will be handicapped to a big extent when he gets into the game. His and Barnett's injuries are feared by Coach Chapman to lessen the power of the club by several per cent. Melvin Griggs, regular guard, is the only linesman suffering from serious injuries. Griggs' trick knee may do tricks when the teams meet tomorrow and if it does there'll be a big hole left.

Work With Tech Frosh

The team worked out yesterday afternoon with Del Morgan's Texas Tech Picadors, the latter scheduled to meet the Wayland college Jackrabbits this afternoon. The drill was hard but not as stiff as drills of last week.

Just who will start in the backfield for Lubbock is hard to say at present, and Coach Chapman did not make a definite statement before he left. Whether Davidson or Barnett will be the fourth man was a matter of conjecture. Mack Scoggin, Cecil Merrill and O H Britton will be the other starters.

In the line there was another mystery. Watson and Blagg most likely will start at ends. Elmer Calhoun may start at left tackle or it may be Rosser Abbott. Melvin Griggs will be at left guard and Captain Crawford is practically a sure thing for center. Cotton Welch at right guard and Bert Williams at right tackle may round out the starting line. Louis Spears, however, may start instead of either Welch or Griggs.

PLAY SIMMONS TOMORROW IN LAST GAME

THANKSGIVING CLASH FINDS LOCAL CLUB AS THE UNDERDOG

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith, Manager Bo Williams and 25 Texas Tech Matador gridsters stepped aboard their big bus at noon today and headed south. It was for the last time this season that the big bus took the Matadors on a football trip. They play the Simmons University Cowboys tomorrow in their annual Thanksgiving Day clash.

Their last workout was a hard one, the Matadors going through their act in toto yesterday afternoon and with a speed and spirit that was pleasing. They are the underdogs in this Thanksgiving Day game but it would be no sensational upset nor surprise to their close observers if the Bulltossers should toss a club of Cowboys for a big loss tomorrow.

The local collegiate gridders were to work out this afternoon at Sweetwater before going on into Abilene.

Hungry for vengeance and anxious to round out their season with a victory over one of the most ancient and honorable of enemies, the Matadors have hustled through the workouts this week with true football spirit, have listened to their coaches' advice that the Cowboys will be tougher than usual tomorrow, in spite of their 20 to 0 reversal last Saturday at the hands of the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets. The Bullfighters were forced to bow to a heavier, harder team last year on Tech Field and the Simmons contingent took home a victory. Red Waller's 80-yard sprint for Tech's only touchdown featured the game so far as Tech's offense was concerned.

Both Teams Stronger

It is a better Tech team which meets Simmons this year, younger and more inexperienced than the 1930 club but heavier and harder. They are entering the game as underdogs, all dope pointing to a Simmons victory, but they will be in to put out all they have if their work on the practice field this week is any indication of their plans.

Simmons Cowboys, whose offense is featured by the brilliant Carl Pee, leading scorer in the Texas Conference, also are stronger this season than last. It is a veteran team over at Abilene, undefeated and untied by Texas Conference member teams until Saturday, and it is a team which will be trying hard to strike back tomorrow.

Homecoming At Simmons

Thanksgiving Day has been designated as Homecoming Day for Simmons alumni and ex-students, the Tech-Cowboy game to feature the Homecoming program. One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand for the game.

Cawthon's men are in only fair physical condition for the game. The game with the University of New Mexico last Friday found them in ill shape and left them worse. They have recuperated considerably but are still not in the best of condition. Numerous scratches and bruises, black eyes and charley horses will impede the Matadors in their classic of Thanksgiving, their last game of the season unless local officials arrange for a charity contest.

Picadors' Tilt With Wayland Called Off

Due to inclement weather, the scheduled football game between the Texas Tech freshmen and the Wayland college Jackrabbits at Plainview was called off, according to word received here shortly before noon today. The game was to have been played this afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

MISSOURI MEETS TEMPLE SATURDAY

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—A departure from the usual pre-game preparations are being employed by grid coaches of Temple university and Missouri which meet here Saturday in an inter-sectional charity tilt.

When the game was scheduled, coaches agreed not to scout each other's games beforehand but instead plan to meet the morning of the encounter and exchange formations. The plan will give neither team an opportunity to practice against opposing plays.

LOYOLA IS NOT TO RETURN TO FOOTBALL

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—Cheers which once rang out for football at Loyola university now spur on another sport—basketball.

And Rev. Robert M. Kelly, president, says it will stay that way.

President Kelly instigated the movement which, a year ago, caused football to be dropped from the university's list of sports.

Now, a year later, he announced he was so pleased with the results that he was certain football would never return.

Intercollegiate basketball, he said, has been made the big sport of the school. Loyola's team has won a national reputation.

"There are a few students," he explained, "who still think Loyola made a mistake in discontinuing intercollegiate football, but the preponderant feeling is that we have made a wise move.

"Student registration has not fallen off. My administrative problems have been greatly eased.

"A definite checkup on grades will not be possible until after the school year, but the board of regents recently advised that the general trend is upward as compared with those during the football era."

LONGHORNS, AGGIES CLASH TOMORROW IN TRADITIONAL TILT

KYLE FIELD TO BE SCENE OF GRID GAME

SELLOUT OF SEATS IS PREDICTED; NO FLAG TO BE AT STAKE

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 25 (AP)—Eliminated several weeks ago from the Southwest conference championship running, University of Texas and Texas A. and M. will clash here Thanksgiving afternoon in their annual football classic.

A sellout of 33,760 seats has been predicted by D. W. Carleton, Texas A. and M. business manager. It will be homecoming for the Aggies.

Rich In Tradition

It doesn't matter that no conference championship will be at stake. Only third place will be the prize to the winner but it does matter that it is the thirty-eighth annual game between the teams. In their eight trips to Kyle field, the Longhorns have won only one game. It never matters where these two teams stand in their respective bids for the conference championship—their game is the annual classic rich in fiery tradition, colorful in crowd and bitter in football fight.

Governor Ross Sterling will start the game by tossing the football from his box to Captain Carl Moulden of the fighting Aggies and Captain "Dutch" Baumgarten of the Longhorns.

Among the pre-game ceremonies will be a memorial service for the late Knute Rockne. Twenty Texas rangers and about twenty-five state highway patrolmen will be here to protect the crowd and to direct traffic.

The Longhorns will invade Kyle field determined to carry on to a successful conference close. Mighty power plays with Ernest Koy, Harrison Stafford, Wilson Elkins, Captain Baumgarten and Wilson Cook in the feature roles are sure to give the Aggies trouble. Eleven Texas players will conclude their conference careers in the game and an even dozen will be wearing A. and M. uniforms for the last time.

Cool weather yesterday served to put extra snap and speed in the workouts of the Texas Christian Frogs and Southern Methodist Mustangs who play Saturday for the conference championship.

Minus a conference victory, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks left Fayetteville last night for Shreveport to play Centenary Thanksgiving in a non-conference game. Arkansas hopes were pinned on Homer Ledbetter, the Southwest conference leading scorer.

Rice and Baylor spent yesterday smoothing out offensive plays in preparations for their game Saturday at Houston. Baylor worked on an overhead game while Rice stuck to running plays.

Lubbock-Amarillo Game In State Grid Spotlight

CHAMPIONS OF 16 OF DISTRICTS TO BE DETERMINED

With the Lubbock-Amarillo game at Amarillo holding the spotlight, the Texas Interscholastic league race goes into a district finale tomorrow with the champions of sixteen districts to be announced tomorrow night.

Some of the district titles have already been decided, but in the Turkey Day games, unless there are important upsets, the whole thing will be thrashed out and the winners will make preparations for bi-district, divisional and state honors. A turmoil would result, for instance, if Lubbock were to lose to Amarillo. Three teams, Lubbock, Amarillo and Pampa would be thrown into a tie for the district leadership.

MAX SCHMELING-MICKEY WALKER BOUT IN CALIFORNIA IN FEBRUARY OPPOSED BY JIMMY JOHNSON; MIAMI FAVORED

BY EDWARD J. NEIL.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—The discussion centered around the possibility of Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, defending his title in Los Angeles in February against Mickey Walker, the toy bulldog who has been biting the ankles of the big fellows.

William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden and promoter of its boxing business from the time Tex Rickard died until Jimmy Johnston stepped into the breach, cleared his throat and announced as follows:

Johnston Opposed

"If I have anything to say about that—and it's just possible I will—Madison Square Garden will promote no fight between Schmeling and Walker or anyone else in California this winter."

Carey, able to sit and ruminate and think of his other businesses now that Johnston is at the helm, warmed to his subject.

"They say California is virgin territory, hasn't had a heavyweight championship fight in many years, and they think that's an advantage, don't they? Well ,I'm going to tell you this. Virgin territory is the worst territory in the world for the promotion of a heavyweight title fight. We learned that at Cleveland last summer when Schmeling fought Stribling.

"The only real place in the world to stage big fights is New York where within a radius of fifteen miles of us there are 15,000,000 people. There is wealth here. There are fight fans in great numbers. New York is an active community."

As Mr. Carey paused to think he was asked where Schmeling and Walker would fight if they have to fight anywhere.

"Miami," said Mr. Carey. "There is wealth there. The wealthy men who patronize Madison Square Garden all season go there for their holidays. They'll come to the fight and buy ringside seats.

"And another thing, if Jack Dempsey fights this winter or any other time, remember this. He will fight for Madison Square Garden just as he did in the days of Tex Rickard."

Skeletons Of Two Women, Baby Found

SEALLY, Nov. 25 (AP)—The skeletons of two women and a baby, believed to be negroes, were found in a pasture seven miles west of here yesterday.

Justice of the Peace E. E. Kastrop of Seally said all indications were the trio had been murdered.

Identification had not been completed today but the magistrate said he believed the skeletons to be those of an aged negro woman, her daughter and infant child, who left Sealy last February for Eagle Lake and were never heard of afterward.

Schrivenor Granted Bail In Two Cases

HOUSTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—W. Shilo Schrivenor, indicted in the gang murder of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. "Keggy" Jones here, was granted bail of $25,000 in each of the two cases Tuesday in an habeas corpus hearing before Judge Whi tBoyd.

Defense counsel contended the bail amounts excessive and that in the hearing the state failed to show Schrivenor was in the state at the time of the killings, August 31.

RECENT DROPS IN TEMPERATURE HERE FORCE VAGRANTS TO SEEK SHELTER

Only in the last week has a marked drop in temperatures occurred here and men and boys who became hitch-hikers when they lost their jobs and members of the less respected clan of habitual transients must have given thanks for mild weather so late in the season.

Only a few flurries of cold have occurred here this fall to force homeless indigents to seek shelter, but a marked increase has occurred this month in the number sleeping in corporation courtroom at police headquarters as compared to in November last year. A slight rise has occurred also in arrests for vagrancy, police records show.

Nineteen Fined, Jailed

Three hundred 36 men and boys were allowed to sleep at the police station the first 20 days of this month; 240 in all of November—30 days in 1930. Nineteen persons paid fines or were jailed in lieu of fines, in corporation court, the first 20 days of the current month.

Only 18 persons were arrested for vagrancy in all of November last year and vagrancy arrests usually exceed the number of persons actually assessed on the charge, as some are released and others subjected to different charges.

Two hundred 50 of those receiving shelter at City hall this month were Texans, 75 were Oklahomans, and the remaining 29 represented 17 other states as follows:

Arkansas 3, Arizona 2, California 2, Colorado 2, Georgia 1, Illinois 1, Kansas 1, Kentucky 1, Missouri 3, Mississippi 1, Montana 1, New Mexico 3, New York 1, North Carolina 1, Ohio 3, Tennessee 2, and Wisconsin 1.

Further demonstrating proportions of the increase in sleepers this month as compared to the corresponding period last year. Although 336 sleepers were registered in 20 days this year as compared to 240 in 30 last year the figure for November 1930 was considerably higher than for the preceding month that year. In October, 1930, only 198 sleepers were recorded.

Thirty-five men and boys approached the night desk sergeant at police headquarters November 15 and asked—some with embarrassment and some with evident bravado—to stay there overnight. It was the largest group of a single night this month. The minimum number was five on November 2.

NEW JAIL HERE IS ACCEPTED

PAYMENT WITHHELD ON STEEL; SETTLEMENT TO BE SOUGHT

Although County Commissioners court ended an all-day hearing Tuesday by receiving the new Lubbock county jail, final settlement with the Southern Prison company, a San Antonio firm which supplied steel equipment used in the structure, was delayed and a payment of $3.000 withheld. Payment of the amount was deferred until alleged damages caused by delay in arrival of steel are settled with the county and two local companies.

County prisoners will be moved into the new building, which will care for 104 persons, some time this week, Sheriff Wade Hardy said Tuesday night. The county has 35 prisoners in city jail and five or six in the Plainview jail.

Claim Is Lodged

On recommendation of S. B. Haynes, architect, the commissioners have lodged a claim of $1,550 as liquidated damages against the Southern Prison company because of about a 90 day delay in completion of the jail. Contract called for the structure to be finished Aug. 11, County Judge E. L. Pitts said last night.

The steel company was paid $6,000 in county warrants. Part of the $3,000 held back by the court is sought by two other contractors on the job, who allege they were damaged by the delay. H. H. Shell and son, claim $796 and Roche Newton and Company, the plumbers, seek approximately $480, said Judge Pitts. Shell was general contractor on the job. He was paid $16,000 in county warrants Tuesday as final payment. Roche Newton was paid $3,000 in county warrants, and cash totaling approximately $3,000 was paid to Dewitt Electric company, to Sherrod Bros. for kitchen equipment and to Otis Elevator company for elevators. These payments were made on final estimates.

The Southern Prison company, said Judge Pitts, did not accept responsibility for all delay in completing the building, but did not name any other firms.

Lack of bedding will keep the new building vacant for a day or two, said Sheriff Hardy. "I already have the keys," he said. "We will not employ an additional man to serve as jailor for a time. Of course, if we find one is needed, the sheriff's department will add another deputy for this purpose."

The jail was completed at a cost of approximately $125,000, of which $110,000 was in county warrants and $15,000 in cash from an old jail building fund. Previous estimates had set the figure at $127,000.

AGES OF ELEVEN GUESTS AT DINNER IN HALE CENTER TOTAL 915 YEARS

HALE CENTER, Nov. 25 (Special)—The ages of 11 octogenarians who were guests of the Hale Center Chamber of Commerce yesterday at the second annual Old Folks dinner tabled totaled 915 years. Several persons 70 or more years old also were guests at the affair at noon at the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Illness and cold weather prevented several other aged persons from attending. Invitations were issued to 25 men and women who had passed the 80-year mark. Nine of them lived in Hale Center.

Underwood Presides

Dr. S. J. Underwood presided over a section of the meeting, held in the dining room of the church. However, so many people had to eat at "second table" that the crowd went into the auditorium to finish its meeting and permit others to eat dinner. Nelson Perdue, mayor, presided at the second meeting.

Two young women, Mildred Burgess and Mrs. Virgil Winn, with several young women assistants, served the turkey dinner. Mrs. J. E. Cox was chairman of the general committee and W. R. Ferguson, custodian of the church, was chairman of arrangements.

Each of the old timers, when called upon by Dr. Underwood, gave his age, place of birth and race or descent.

Eight In Group

There were eight men in the group. They were: R. W. Lemond, born March 21, 1847 in Mississippi and a resident of Texas since 1852. He served two and a half years in the Confederate army and said he was of Scotch-Irish descent. S. R. Burham, 83, born in West Virginia, of German descent, who came to Texas in 1889 by way of Iowa. T. D. Weddington, born March 11, 1850, in Mecklenberg, N. C., of Scotch-Irish and English descent. Z. M. Wilson, born March 11, 1848 in Mississippi and a resident of Texas since 1891. R. W. Babb, 80, born in Wisconsin and a resident of Texas for many years. J. F. Sagese, born in Kentucky March 9, 1851 and a resident of Hale county since October, 1893. S. A. Bird, 83, also a North Carolinian, born of Scotch-Irish parentage. J. A. Wheeler, 88, a Tennessee resident by birth and a member of the famous "Fighting Wheeler" family. He too served in the Confederate army and was born October 17, 1844. He has lived in Texas since 1882 and in Hale Center for the past four years.

Mrs. L. J. Yates, 84, better known as "Grandma Yates" was born in Hot Springs county, Ark. She has lived in Texas over 30 years. Mrs. M. F. Tatum, now living in Plainview with her son, had not reached the four score year age, said her mother was a neighbor of General Sam Houston before Texas became a state. Her cousin, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, also of Plainview, was born in Sabine county 85 years ago. Mrs. Nancy Taylor was born in Indiana March 13, 1850 and has lived in the west for 40 years and in Texas for ten years.

Unable To Attend

Among those unable to be present were: Mrs. J. W. Cox, 82; Mrs. J. E. Coffey, 82, and Grandma Sears. Another old timer not present was Mrs. Norfleet, mother of of Bob and J. Frank Norfleet.

Other speakers included: Mrs. Ella McWhoerter, a resident of Hale county for 40 years, who related early day experiences there. Mrs. N. E. Ross, another old timer. Mrs. Mary Alley and J. M. Cox were other old timers who spoke.

Rev. J. H. Hooker, a former county commissioner and a local Baptist preacher spoke and then introduced Rev. R. S. Watkins, new M. E. pastor. T. R. Gault, a pioneer of the town, spoke briefly.

Resolutions expressing appreciation to the chamber of commerce for its kindness in giving the dinner and also regret at the inability of many persons eligible to be present, were adopted unanimously.

SCOUTS APPEAR

Preparing to appear before a Boy Scout court of honor Friday night in the district criminal courtroom at the courthouse, candidates for second and first class rank appeared before a board of review at scout headquarters in City hall last night. A merit badge review will be conducted there at 7 30 o'clock tonight.

CAN FOODS AT O'DONNELL

FARMERS PREPARING FOR WINTER WITH FOOD SUPPLY

O'DONNELL, Nov. 25.—(Special)—Home grown foods have been canned and preserved for winter consumption by farmers in the O'Donnell territory, enough feed to provide for livestock through the cold months has been laid by, and gathering of the cotton crop has been completed.

Coincident with those preparations to fend off the proverbial wolf, business conditions have improved in this two-county community and retailers report week-end sales far exceeding expectations.

The gins have been running night and day, turning out an excess of cotton. Farmers now are in a position to hold a portion of their crop and sales have been only for enough to take care of expenses.

J. L. Shoemaker, Jr., cashier of the First National bank, said deposits show a nice, steady increase. Farmers and others are reducing loans.

"Store owners are buying larger stocks as the public begins its spending. There will be little need for helping people this year—that is compared to last year.

The ginnings were estimated at around 7,500 bales for the season. Should weather conditions and price permit, farmers say, probably 5,000 more bales will be picked. If the cotton market jumps higher, there will be more than that figure.

"We have handled over 2,700 bales of cotton this season," Charles Hoffman, T. C. C. A. branch office manager, said. "Last year this office handled around 3,000 bales altogether. We should do better than that. At this time last year we had handled just about half what we have so far."

W. A. Treadway, city and school tax collector, reports fair tax collections. Those of the school are better than the city's collections, he added.

Hal Singleton, postmaster, said Uncle Sam's business was very good. More money was sent by cotton pickers "back home" than usually is sent out. Mr. Singleton's son, Hall, Jr., a hardware store owner, reported good business.

Grocers are buying eggs from farmers at slightly more than produce prices and getting most of the business, according to J. A. Cornett, produce man. Cream shipments are good, the price having gone up and then holding steady.

W. E. Vermillion, druggist, said his business was steady. The transient business this fall was better than usual.

Most farmers have several hogs for butchering. Wheat is up and making good pasture. Farmers have surplus feeds; some are feeding cattle and the general agricultural tone is better than for years.

SERVANT GIRL IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS

HOUSTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Albina Kowalik, 24, servant girl, was convicted by a jury late Tuesday of the murder of R. L. Urquhart, a tire salesman, and sentenced to five years.

The house girl testified Urquhart struck her and threatened to kill her "like a yellow dog," and she fired in defense of her life.

Urquhart was shot to death on the night of July 4. The domestic stands charged as well, with the wounding of another man who had "picked her up" much as Urquhart was said in her testimony to have done.

She testified Urquhart struck her when she got out of his automobile and said to him:

"I am going to take your number and see at the tax collector's office if you are married."

Spain will spend $86,000,000 on public works before next January.

SANTA CLAUS LEAVES NORTHLAND FOR VISIT TO LUBBOCK ON DECEMBER 11

Santa Claus, patron saint of Christmas-time, has left his toy shops in the icy northland and expects to arrive in Lubbock, Friday, December 11, when his reindeer will prance through the streets in a big pre-holiday celebration and pageant. The merry little man notified of the Avalanche-Journal of all that by radiogram.

Leaving the North Pole at the Top O' the World Santa is traveling through Asia. Santa Claus has instructed Prince Of Love to remind us that Asia is the largest continent of the earth, being six thousand miles from the east border, over fifty-three hundred miles from north to south border, or approximately seventeen million square miles in area. North America being about eight million square miles it will be seen that Asia is more than twice as large as the continent on which we live. North America has a population of one hundred thirty-eight million people, while Asia has nine hundred and fifty million. Just think, Santa Claus is passing up all those people to come direct to Lubbock so that we can entertain him, be close to him and actually see him.

Is There a Santa Claus?

Some people who have never had the opportunity to see Santa Claus will argue about his actual existence. Those who have seen him and have really been close to him do not need any proof. To doubt that there is really a Santa Claus is to doubt love itself.

Many people believe only in the things they can see with their eyes or feel with their fingers. Such people are to be pitied for without faith one cannot know the full measure of true happiness. One never sees a pain but how sure everyone is that pain actually exists at times. It is the same with Santa Claus. He exists only when we let him live in our hearts.

Santa Spirit Endures

We do not have to wait until the Yuletide season to feel Santa Clause. He can exist in many ways many times throughout the whole year if we will give him life through good thoughts and kind deeds.

Most people believe in Santa Claus because they believe in love and it is for these that Santa Claus exists as he is nothing more and nothing less than the personification of love, happiness hope, faith and charity.

Charge Negroes In Theft Of Turkeys

Turkey theft charges were filed against four negroes Tuesday afternoon in justice court following their arrest Tuesday morning by the police and sheriff's departments. The negroes were Frank Jones, Arthur Jones, Tom Cain, and Hercules Jackson.

Justice H. K. Porter set bond of each at $750 after they waived examining trials. The quartet was arrested after the manager of a local produce house became suspicious of ownership of eight turkeys offered him by four negroes. The birds, owned by W. T. Carter, about 16 miles east of Lubbock, were recovered.

RAILWAY HEAD KILLS SELF

HERBERT FLOWERS IS SUICIDE VICTIM AT BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25 (AP)—Herbert Baker Flowers, 50, nationally known street railway executive, committed suicide here Tuesday by shooting himself through the head in the washroom of an undertaking establishment.

Mr. Flowers, who recently left New Orleans where he was chief of the Street Railway system, returned to Baltimore where he first gained prominence in his chosen field to take his life, but friends and business acquaintances could not ascribe a motive for his act. The former traction official came here Sunday from New York where he has been engaged in engineering since leaving New Orleans nearly two years ago after the street car strike there. He called today at the undertaking establishment to confer with Henry C. Wiedefeld, an acquaintance.

He said he was to meet another friend there to discuss plans for burial of the friend's daughter, but did not give his name. After conversing with Wiedefeld, he asked the way to the washroom.

The door closed, Wiedefeld said and a moment later he heard a shot. He immediately called police and with them opened the door. Mr. Flowers was lying on the floor, a bullet wound in his head and a pistol by his side. He died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital.

Mr. Flowers came to Baltimore from the operating department of the Detroit United railways, to become assistant superintendent of transportation of the United Railways company, operator of the street railway system here. He rose in the company's service until he became vice president and general manager.

In 1923, Mr Flowers left Baltimore to become president of the New Orleans Public Service corporation, and to take active charge of the Louisiana city's street car system. In 1929, his company became embodied in a street car strike that was marked by much violence.

He left New Orleans a short time ork, after his wife died and his ater for another position in New ome in the fashionable section of he city was blown up mysterious-. Friends said he had never ceas- grieving over death of his wife.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 3 points higher on December and generally 1 to 2 points lower for other months, on realizing and some southern selling. Trading was rather quiet.

Trading became somewhat more active after the first few minutes with more selling in evidence on the easier opening of the wheat market and the easier ruling of stocks. By the end of the first half hour January sold off to 6.19 and May to 6.57 or about 12 to 17 points net lower.

Expectations of increased hedging in advance of tomorrow's holiday, probably contributed to the decline while after the covering and advance of yesterday, there was a disposition to expect preholiday realizing.

Liverpool cables reported Bombay and continental buying with limited offerings but said that the demand for cotton goods in Manchester was unequal to the output.

The weakness in the grain and stock markets seemed to stimulate selling later in the morning and prices worked off to 6.16 for January and 6.51 for May, making net declines of about 17 to 23 points on active positions. There was some covering and trade buying on the scale down, but slight bulges seemed to meet increased offerings and the market was within a point or two of the lowest at midday. According to early reports, 23 December notices were issued here at the opening without any appreciable effect on the market.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25. (AP)—The cotton market here had a steady opening as Liverpool cables were about as due. First trades showed no change to 3 points gain, but the market turned somewhat easier right after the start owing to liquidation in advance of tomorrow's Thanksgiving holiday and due also to the slightly easier opening of the stock market.

December traded down to 6.20, January to 6.35 and March to 6.46, or 8 to 9 points down from the opening prices.

Near the end of the first hour the market was quiet and at the lows. The elimination of December liquidation had quieted down trading considerably.

Under considerable hedge selling and weakness in stocks and grain the market ruled easier during the entire morning.

The hedging, owing to completion of liquidation in December, had to be placed in the later months which showed greater declines than the near position.

Dec eased off to 6.09, down 19 points from its opening high, Jan. dropped to 6.13 and March to 6.31, down 24 points from the opening highs.

Near noon the market was easy and at the lows.

friends were let in on the secret. Some of them will help him this afternoon between 4:30 and 8:30 o'clock to hand out a thousand sandwiches and as many cups of coffee—that will be the initial supply but more will be rushed to the scene if necessary.

Mr. Glad had intended to give away a thousand gloves also, but he decided to reserve them for later distribution because of the prevailing mild weather.

Two Men Injured In Gin Accidents

Suffering from two fractures of the left knee-cap and a fracture of the left leg, Fred McNabb, 24, of near Meadow remained at Lubbock sanitarium today. He was injured Tuesday afternoon when a gin-clutch came off and hit him on the leg.

The injured man's leg was in a splint this morning and possibly will be placed in a cast later, attendants said. Although the breaks are severe, his condition was not considered serious.

W. D. Hale of Spade caught his right hand in gin saws there and underwent amputation of his right index and middle fingers on being received at the sanitarium late Tuesday morning. He was dismissed Tuesday afternoon.

ROTARIANS HEAR GRANBERY TODAY

Dr. John C. Granbery, head of the department of history at Texas Technological college, was principal speaker at noon today when the Lubbock Rotary club met in regular weekly luncheon session at Hotel Lubbock. Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, was in charge of the program.

Doctor Granbery, who spoke on a Thanksgiving topic, was followed by C. S. Lambie, of Amarillo, a contractor and builder who is president of the Rotary club in his home city. Mr. Lambie spoke humorously on the football game scheduled between Lubbock and Amarillo High schools in Amarillo tomorrow.

Approximately 100 men, including a number of Rotarians from Ralls, were in attendance.

JAPS PLOT FOR A BUFFER STATE SEEN

MOSCOW, Nov. 25 (AP)—Charges of a Japanese "white" Russian plot to seize the Soviet-owned Chinese Eastern railway in Manchuria and set up a buffer state in the far east between Russia and Japan were printed by Moscow newspapers today, crediting reports from Peiping.

The report said "according to trustworthy information from Oska, Japan," an official Japanese military mission had gone from Harbin to Mukden, Manchuria, to make a report to the Japanese command there on an alleged agreement with "white" Russians to seize the railroad, which is owned by Russia, but operated jointly by Russia and China.

The Japanese also were reported engaged in "feverish activities" to determine how and to what extent the white Russians might be used in the event of a conflict between the Soviets and Japan. A representative of the Japanese military mission told General Kosmin, leader of the Russian "whites" the report said, that Japan intended to form a buffer state in the far east and that "naturally in the realization of this plan the whites must play a principal role."

THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR FAMILY OF FIVE POSSIBLE FOR $4.70 HERE

A Thanksgiving dinner—with an eight-pound turkey and all the trimmings—for a family of five persons will be possible in Lubbock this year for only $4.70. The same dinner last year would have cost $6.52 here.

Or, if you prefer chicken, you may have Thanksgiving served for your family of five for $4.62. At this price, you can include two four-pound hens to make the equivalent of the eight-pound gobbler.

Prices for these dinners were taken from Tuesday's Avalanche-Journal grocery advertisements and totals are based on food for five people.

The estimates of items follows:—Three small grapefruit, 15 cents; three pounds of sweet potatoes, 7 cents; four pounds white potatoes, 6 cents; one pint of oysters for stuffing, 38 cents; four pounds of turnips, 20; two pounds cranberries, 22; cauliflower, 25; celery, 11; apples, 4; bananas, 4; oranges, 7; grapes, 4; mince or pumpkin pie (two pies of either kind), 50; bread, butter and milk, 35; minced nuts, 30; and an eight-pound dressed turkey at 24 cents per pound, $1.92; or eight pounds of hens at 23 cents per pound, $1.84.

The same meal will cost New Englanders $7.09 this year.

man", it was announced.

The two trains will leave ten minutes apart, "The Westerner" pulling out at 9:15 with "The Plainsman" following at 9:25. Arrival in Amarillo is scheduled for 12:01 and 12:11.

Following the arrival of the trains in Amarillo, the Lubbock delegation will be joined by other fans who are driving to the game and a gigantic parade will be staged through downtown Amarillo.

Headquarters Named

The Herring hotel has been designated as Lubbock headquarters. One thousand Amarillo cars will begin leaving there at one o'clock to take the Lubbock rooters to the field. They will also return the fans to the hotel.

The two trains will depart for Lubbock at 7:30, arriving here at 10:30.

The majority of the fans going to Abilene are Tech students, although a large number of town people also are leaving to witness the clash between the two schools. A crowd of 10,000 is predicted for the game.

Tickets for the special trains will remain on sale until 9 o'clock tonight at the Lubbock and Hilton hotel drug stores, Mr. Kancher said today. They will be on sale for more than an hour Thursday morning before the trains leave.

More than 3,200 tickets to the game had been sold here, J. O. Smith, Bowen's Hilton drug manager who had charge of the seat sales, said today. Approximately 200 more were purchased in Amarillo by Lubbock fans, it was said.

It is thought that approximately 1,000 fans will take a chance on getting standing room at the game by purchasing general admission tickets in Amarillo tomorrow morning.

Reports from Amarillo say that there will be hundreds of fans turned away from the gate if the weather is clear.

Banks, the postoffice, city and county offices, stores and shops, and public schools will be closed for the holiday. There will be no postal service Thanksgiving except dispatch of outgoing mail, John L. Vaughan, postmaster, said. Mail in downtown boxes will be collected at 6 p. m. The Retail Merchants association classes Thanksgiving as one of its closing holidays. Union barber shops will be closed.

SCHOOL CONTINUED

A school of missions, which has been in progress at the First Presbyterian church for several weeks, will be continued this evening at 7 o'clock at the church. The fourth chapter in the book, "The Imperative of Foreign Missions", will be studied. This is the fourth meeting of the school and two more will be held on Wednesday evenings.

today of the senate agricultural committee in "the name of economic sanity."

J. W. Garrow, president of the American Cotton Shippers' association, presented the request. His association, he said, marketed 75 per cent of the cotton produced in the United States. Bluntly he marshalled his allegations against the stabilization program.

He asserted direct and indirect stabilization operations had damaged rather than benefited producers and "utterly failed" of their intended purpose; that they resulted in a treasury loss of from $70,000,000 to $30,000,000 on present stabilization corporation holdings; and an additional loss approximating $40,000,000 upon spot cotton and futures contracts held by cooperatives.

Service Especially For Men Scheduled

This evening's service at the revival being held at the First Baptist church will be especially for men, according to an announcement this morning.

Dr. W. Y. Pond of Waco, evangelist in charge of the services, has announced that he will preach on "God's Call To Men."

Thursday's services at the church will be featured by a union Thanksgiving service at 8 a. m. A regular revival service will also be held Thursday night, it was said.

BRANCH ELECTED

J. W. Branch was elected Monday night to fill the unexpired term of J. R. Dickerson as secretary-treasurer of the Lubbock Journeyman Barbers union. Dickerson resigned to join a company manufacturing a steam washer he invented. Officials of the union will be elected Thursday, December 31.

FIRE DAMAGE LIGHT

Slight damage was caused by fire, believed to have originated when a small boy accidentally dropped a lighted match in some lint cotton, late Tuesday afternoon at a residence at 1306 Avenue F. The fire department reported last night the fire originated in a closet where the lint cotton was located. The building is owned by Spikes Bros. and is occupied by the W. H. Griffin family.

Two Are Injured In Truck Mishap

Thrown from a truck in a collision near here late last night, Raymond Rogers, 18, and Morgan Taylor, 23, both living near Lubbock were received at West Texas hospital at about midnight.

Rogers suffered bruises and knee injuries, and Taylor bruises and knee and hip injuries, attendants said this morning. Although additional x-ray photographs were to be made today, the injuries to limbs were believed to be severe sprains.

The two were reported to have been in the back of a truck when the accident occurred. Details were not learned.

Three Brothers Die In Crossing Crash

TALIHINA, Okla., Nov. 25 (AP)—Three brothers, Robert, Leonard and Homer Lee, were killed in a crossing crash near Albion, six miles southwest of here, when their speeding car skidded 30 feet into the path of a Frisco passenger train late yesterday.

The bodies, badly mangled, were brought to an undertaking establishment here.

BRADLEY TALKS TO BUSINESS CLUB

"We should be thankful in our hearts that we have such a government as we have, that we live in such a fine country as the South Plains and that we have such a fine citizenship as in Lubbock," Durwood Bradley, district attorney, said in a talk before the American Business club in Hotel Hilton today. Mr. Bradley's talk was in connection with the club's observance of Thanksgiving.

Pointing out the hardships that our forefathers endured and the stride of progress made in this country in such a short time, Mr. Bradley declared Americans should be the most thankful people of the whole world.

Misses Frances Gail and Aline Houston, accompanied by Mrs. Waldo Trotter, favored the club with saxaphone duet selections.

WHEN half-gods go, the gods arrive.—Emerson.

Transcontinental

A wealthy New Yorker the other day suggested the construction of an eight-billion-dollar toll highway across the United States; and while the nation could do with an addition to its net work of good roads, the one proposed by this gentleman is a little appalling.

His highway would be 500 feet wide, from coast to coast. It would have 10 traffic lanes in each direction, with the speed limits on certain lanes ranging up to 100 miles an hour. It would be lined with 300 modern hotels and tourist camps and what with one thing and another it would be quite a roadway.

Of course, an affair like this would make transcontinental motoring a swift and easy procedure. But there can be too much of a good thing. The law of diminishing returns can apply to roads as well as to anything else.

What motorist, desiring to drive across the country, would care to hit a 100-mile clip? What mortorist, in his senses or out of them, would care to travel from one ocean to another on a strip of concrete 500-feet wide? What citizen, whether he drives an auto or not, can contemplate a highway like this without feeling a little bit dizzy?

The joys of touring do not arise solely from a smooth pavement and high speed. In constantly-increasing numbers, automobile owners are beginning to discover that a trip can be made much more enjoyable if the broad, well-paved and heavy-traveled main highways are dodged altogether. To stick to the back roads, taking stretches of gravel, worn-out macadam and plain dirt as they come, may be to travel slowly and to get a bit of a jolting; but it is also a fine way of enjoying the open country and making the trip mean something more than a mere progression from one spot to another.

Already the craze for rapid travel is beginning to diminish. The novelty of the automobile has worn off, and people are realizing that the pleasure of a cross-county drive is usually in inverse ratio to its speed. The man who sets out to drive from New York to San Francisco, and plans to rival the speed of the transcontinental trains, might better stay at home. The loafer, who doesn't care how long it takes him, has an infinitely better time.

Professionalism

Harvard University athletic authorities have barred from Harvard Stadium a radio announcer who recently referred to the playing of a Harvard football star as "putrid". In making public this action, the authorities pointed out that college football players, after all, are young amateurs, and that it is quite out of place to comment on their performances as one would in the case of professionals.

This is quite true; and yet the growing tendency on the part of announcers, sports writers and the general public to treat college football players as professionals seems to us to be at least as much the colleges' fault as anyone's. No law compels any college to build a million-dollar stadium, to retain a dozen coaches on its staff or to hire a press agent to get news about its team in the papers. When a college does these things, can it really protest very convincingly when an unfeeling world applies the standards of professionalism in judging the work of its athletes?

In these days of "abysmal ignorance" about the only one who can air his views with impunity is the aviator.

People in Somerset, England, use a rose to pay tenure. If the people in America use anything to pay tenure lucky.

That Girl on Broadway says when a modern girl starts looking for her rings, the chances are they'll be right under her eyes.

The great halfback caught the kickoff behind his own goal line, threaded his way through enemy tacklers and broke clear of the field at the 50-yard line. He was off on what couldn't be anything less than a 100-yard gallop and a touchdown, but he surprised players and fans alike by stopping at the opponent's 10 yard line and grounding the ball.

"What's the matter with you", the captain roared in the huddle that followed. "Have you gone crazy?"

"No, I ain't gone crazy", the back retorted. "Didn't they cut my salary ten per cent?"

THE big day will be here tomorrow! The great friendly invasion of Amarillo will be the biggest football game in the history of the Panhandle and one of the biggest in high school annals of the state. Every seat will be jammed and standing room will be at a premium—granting of course that the weather is O. K.

The Plainsman is going to be there with bells on and lard in his hair—to see every slash the Westerners make off Amarillo tackles and every play in the whole business.

The percentage favors Lubbock to win, but win, lose or draw it'll be a great game.

All The Plainsman wants to see the Westerners do is play their best. That's going to be good enough.

That Man on Avenue Q says don't complain when you can't get central. Look how long it took her own parents to raise her.

CUSTOMERS, the Amarillo people see a defeat coming up. They have already given up this year and are starting to plan for the 1932 season. The famous "Amarillo System", which in the past has brought stars from Liberal, Kansas; Hollywood, Calif., Sherman, Fort Worth, Lamesa, White Deer, and Borger, is working again and the rush is on for more outside help of the calibre of Bob Walker, Odell Fowler, Virgil Welch, LaBarge, Bill Allen, Scanlin and Cotton Estes, the great lineman.

There's no secret about it — there's no secret about it.

Colonel Erasmus Elberfield Tack, the famous Amarillo columnist, comes right out in the paper and seeks additional help for 1932.

A couple of weeks ago Amarillo met and slaughtered the crippled team from the little town of Woodward, Oklahoma, after ballyhooing the game to such an extent that the fans were led to believe that the Woodward team was Jim Thorpe's All-Stars in disguise. During the game a little backfield man by the name of Noble Sills distinguished himself for Woodward and Amarilloans immediately started after him for 1932.

WE quote delightedly from the column of Colonel Tack, anent this lad Noble Sills—an article which was reprinted in the Dallas Times-Herald. Here tis.

"Say, Mr. Noble Sills, you courageous little rooster, come on down here and try to make our team next year. Given some interference, as we'd give you, I believe you'd burn up this high school conference. If you come down here to go to high school and will listen to me, I'll make you as famous, perhaps, as Albie Booth of Yale. You're the same type except that you're much better on the defense right now than he ever will be. Can you pass? Can you catch the ball? You'll take on about 12 pounds by next year, won't you?

"Do come on down and see me, Noble, and do come on down and go to high school next fall. We'll make you famous if you'll come down here and let Blair Cherry work on you. I think he's the best high school coach in the world and I imagine that when he played on a high school team he was about your size. And boy, howdy, but he burned them up when he played the game".

All The Plainsman has to say in rebuttal is that he hopes the Sandies get Rookie Sills for next year—together with a flock of other good boys from all over the United States so we, with Lubbock boys, can convince Colonel Tack and Amarillo once and for all that Blair Cherry is not the best coach in the world—that he's second best behind Weldon Chapman.

We'd like to see the pride of Lubbock meet the Amarillo All-Stars in 1932 and put a stop, forever and a day, to the argument about who has the best football team and coaches—Lubbock or Amarillo.

WHILE they're on their still hunt for more and better players, Amarilloans might well consider that Marchy Schwartz, of Notre Dame, graduates at South Bend this year and is considered quite such a much as a footballer.

He is a good broken field runner and would fit in well with the Amarillo System.

The only thing that worries The Plainsman about Amarillo's efforts to rebuild its shattered grid team in 1932 is that Mayor Thompson has cut the size of the police force which automatically injures the opportunity of bringing in outside football players.

It is being told around Amarillo, however, that this handicap will be offset by the institution of a new rule in the police department.

Before any man can qualify for the Amarillo police force in 1932 he must prove that he has a son who's a whale of a football player.

Yea, bo!

THIS column will also offer another suggestion to Amarillo, to aid and abet the search for bigger and better ball players. Several days ago it was announced at Memphis, Tenn., that Howard college, of Birmingham, had seven ineligible freshman players—fellows who formerly played with Wayland, Tech and other college teams.

There's seven good prospects, all at the same place, which offers Amarillo a wonderful opportunity to start doing its recruiting by carload lots—or by club orders!

Understand, The Plainsman is not criticizing Amarillo for going after good football players. They need to do that and the rules, as they now stand, permit them to do so. And Amarillo is honest enough to do it right in the open, which is commendatory.

If Lubbock needed to go all over the United States in order to produce a winning football team, The Plainsman would be for doing it.

But as long as we can produce such fine teams with our own boys, we should worry about having to hunt 'em up in other places. Lubbock produces plenty of good footballers right here.

Yes, sir! See you at the game tomorrow!

"Old Ironsides" Again Is Saved From Oblivion As Old Frigate Is Planning Triumphal Tour Of Southern Ports

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Old Ironsides, threatened since 1797 with fates that seemed worse than death—and only recently doomed to be moored indefinitely in Washington navy yard in the name of economy—again faces the seas, his time for a junket along the southern coast.

Dutcher

Just when it seemed that the historic old ship would be relegated to comparative oblivion — to save the $200,000 a year which it costs to keep her in commission — Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy, announced that she would resume her visits to the South Atlantic and gulf coast cities.

In her visits to other cities 850,000 people have inspected her.

The U. S. S. frigate Constitution is her real name and she was restored a few years ago at a cost of $500,000, most of which was raised by popular subscription by school children.

THERE is something rather impressive about the fact that this old frigate was the nation's pride in George Washington's time, led our fleet in the first wars we undertook as a nation, was first saved from sale and destruction by President Andrew Jackson, trained our midshipmen in the Civil War and is now a victim of the 1930-31 depression and the cut in naval expenses which has been creating such a furore.

She is virtually in the condition of a new ship. An old gent who served on her 51 years ago went aboard the other day and after inspection reported that she was exactly the same vessel except that he missed the hand spikes with which they used to swing the gun trucks in order to point the guns.

OLD IRONSIDES fought in 42 battles and never suffered defeat. She licked the British and the Barbary pirates. She won her nickname after she sailed away from Washington in the War of 1812 with 44 guns, and among other things so wrecked the Guerriere in a 25-minute engagement that the British frigate couldn't be towed into port.

A hundred years ago they started trying to destroy her, condemning her as unseaworthy and ordering her to be broken up and sold. In 1830 Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote his famous poem which began "Ay, tear her tattered ensign down—" and the poem was published in newspapers and on handbills everywhere. The country became excited in "a most righteous protest against such an unnecessary and unpatriotic transaction." Public clamor caused her to be refitted.

In 1833 she was recommissioned and became flagship of our naval forces in the Mediterranean and then of the African squadron. But in 1855 she was laid up at the Portsmouth navy yard and stayed there until 1860, when she went off to Annapolis as a training ship. She was rebuilt in the seventies and served in connection with the Paris exposition. In the eighties and nineties she was used as a training or barrack ship.

SHE went to attend the Centennial of her own launching at Boston in 1897.

Eight years later she was recommended as a target for the North Atlantic fleet, her usefulness again considered. But the Ladies of the War of 1812 fomented another great public upheaval at the plan to sink her so ingloriously. Congress voted $100,000 for repairs, after which she was used as a sort of naval museum.

The navy was through trying to get rid of her and when in 1921 she was found in such bad repair as to need complete restoration it was decided to spend a half million dollars and do the job. School children and citizens kicked in more than $300,000 and Congress provided the rest.

EMBEDDED TEETH

Mrs. T. J. M. is eager to know about the advisability of the removal of embedded wisdom teeth and of roots of teeth that have been left in the jaw.

Dr. Clendening

A particular case which she recounts is that of a patient with a part of the apex of a root remaining in the lower jaw some years after a molar tooth had been pulled. The root had evidently been broken off in the process, the tip remaining behind.

The patient has some symptoms supposed to be due to focal infection, but the X-Ray of this root tip shows no evidence of infection or granuloma or of bone rarefication.

The questions are not easy ones to decide. Medical opinion on the subject has been swinging from one side to the other and is still swinging back and forth at the present time. There are some who think that all such remnants should be removed, others who think that they should be removed only under the direst necessity.

Far be it from me also to attempt to give advice concerning a situation I have not seen at first hand. The opinion of the doctor on the case is always the best. But according to Mrs. M. he also is puzzled and under those circumstances some general opinions can be safely hazarded.

It certainly is possible for tooth roots to be broken off and remain in the mouth a long time without doing any harm. Several German investigators, among them Gottlieb, have made sections and put under the microscope tissue from jaws in which retained root stumps have been embedded for years. There were plenty of them without evidence of infection and sometimes they had grown to the bone.

But in general we know that a foreign body or foreign piece of tissue which does not obtain a blood supply from the tissues where it is embedded will cause trouble. It is called sequestrum, and tends to form pus around it and be a source of great irritation. In the case of a broken tip of a tooth root, however it might be that this would be broken off during the extraction without severing it from its blood supply so that it would not act in the nature of a foreign body.

The whole question comes down to the evidence of whether there is actually any infection in the root tip. If there is no evidence of it my tendency would be towards letting it alone especially since getting it out is quite a job and can by no means be considered a piece of minor surgery.

The same things apply to impacted or unerupted wisdom teeth. It is a common thing for these teeth to stay beneath the surface and be impacted in the jaw bone, apparently pressing on other teeth or structures. Some physicians ascribe all sorts of symptoms, such as peculiar recurrent headaches to these remnants. But, on the contrary, one can find plenty of patients without headaches, in fact, in the very pink of health, who have such impacted wisdom teeth.

IN NEW YORK

with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—Our private sight-seeing bus: Greenwich Village, in spite of its very haughty reputation, has 19 churches within a quarter of a mile of territory. . . . And more holy days are celebrated in the streets of this sector than any other section of Manhattan, save one.

The Junior League, which operates its own hotel for professional women, charges $2 more a week for women over 40. . . . They're more fussy, or something. . . . John Raskob, the behind the scenes political figure, has an apartment in Sutton Place that contains nine baths. . . . And there are only seven days in a week! . . . Some of the best "gefulte fish" to be found in town is served at a corn beef and cabbage spot titled Dinty Moore's. . . . A famous Yiddish cook from the East Side is called in to prepare it for the Broadway gents who may have changed their names, but not their appetites.

Those talented young musicians from out of town who give recitals in New York have to pay $300 if they use Steinway Hall, and about $1000 if they debut in Carnegie, what with advertising and incidentals. . . . Fact is that very few concert appearances are supposed to make money in Manhattan, but are used as advertisement for road tours. . . . More recently such public appearances are considered an "edge" toward a radio concert bureau.

If you're interested in writing crime tales, the record room of the New York police department has the history of several million arrests. . . . There mightn't possibly be a new plot. . . . And if you're interested in the odd and unusual in antiques, don't forget the Police Museum. . . . Here you'll find, among other things, guns, knives, photos, fingerprints and other memorials of such gents as Gyp the Blood, Larry the Rat, Dopey Benny and others of equally disreputable character. . . . You'll see bits of [illegible] and wire and other mementos that should insure as ghoulish a jolly a time as can be found anywhere. . . . Chinatown in Newark, N. J., is now considered more picturesque than New York's. . . . San Francisco's, I have no doubt, is [illegible] of all. . . . The [illegible] Chinatown streets, [illegible] and cobblestoned. . . . And there goes that!

The Roerich museum on Riverside Drive has more than a thousand of Roerich's own paintings on display. . . . Which is quite a day's work. . . . And on the way up to the new Washington bridge that old-fashioned homestead stuck down in a hollow is the one-time home of the great Audubon, of bird fame. . . . Which, by the way, is as incongruous a sight as you're likely to find in a city of incongruities. . . . Don't be surprised if a cow, pig and horse happen to be grazing in the back yard, while a mountain of skyscraping apartments rise just beyond and one of the most modern of driveways rises from the front yard. . . . Yet old-fashioned fish poles lean against the front windows. . . . A couple of old bicycle frames are at the side and there's actually a woodshed.

Practically all the chili, tamales and frijoles to be found in the mid-Broadway belt are made by two charming old New England ladies who have seen Texas on the map and read somewhere that Mexico is across the border. . . . From a tiny kitchen in Eighth Avenue they've grown to a considerable industry. . . . But, then, the average Broadway farer wouldn't know a "border" tamale if it leapt up and burned him.

Insanity is increasing in Canada (with liquor) and decreasing in New York (with prohibition). Evidently the basis for that discovery is the nuts.

The dog cart rumbled down the street and Clowny cried, "Gee, we could beat most anything, if we could get into a thrilling race. The dogs hitched to this cart can run like everything. It's lots of fun. I think that Bow-wow Land is really quite a lovely place."

One of the dogs hitched up in front said, "We'll show you a tricky stunt. Hang on real tight so you won't fall out of the little cart. When we come to a corner we are going to turn it rapidly." "Oh, my," cried Clowny. "I just hope the cart won't fall apart."

In just about a moment they began to feel the small cart sway. It went around the corner and tipped up on just one wheel. The Tinies grabbed each other quick, [illegible] were [illegible] out by the trick. One dog looked back and shouted, "Well, how did that quick turn feel?"

"It made me dizzy," Scouty said. "I guess the blood rushed to my head. But now I'm feeling quite all right." The rest cried, "So ar we!" They rode for half an hou or so. Then Clowny loudly shout ed, "Whoa! We'd better rest. Yo dogs look just as tired as tired ca be."

The dogs slowed down and fi ally stopped and to the ground t Tinies hopped. "That was a gre ride," Carpy cried. "Now we'll r turn the treat. You dogs hop the cart and then we'll travel our way again. I guess that we a strong enough to pull you down t street."

This pleased the dogs and th barked loud. Each one of th began to crowd into the cart a Coppy said, "There's room enou for all. And if this ride's to tu out nice you'd better take my k advice. Hang on just like you t us to. Then none of you will fa

We Hope Your Thanksgiving Day Will Be Most Pleasant

It takes but a few comparisons for those of us in the good old U. S. A.—for those of us in the great state of Texas—for those of us who live on the South Plains to quickly find almost unlimited things for which to be thankful. We join you in recognizing this fact and in observing this Thanksgiving Day—

To Both the Westerners in Amarillo and the Matadors In Abilene We Offer Best Wishes

Two great Lubbock football teams will meet decidedly worthy opponents on this occasion. To both of them we extend best wishes. May the result be such that Lubbock will possess two shining new footballs Thursday night to be appropriately labeled later with the proper inscriptions—

SUPREME COURT RULES FURNISHINGS OF SPEAKEASY CAN BE CONFISCATED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—A powerful weapon had been placed in the hands of federal prohibition agents today by the supreme court. The tribunal ruled that the furnishings and fittings of a speakeasy are subject to confiscation.

In an unanimous opinion delivered by Justice Stone, the court held that federal dry agents were right when they seized bar, back-bar and other equipment in Edward Ryan's saloon in Butte, Mont.

To support this action, the government went back to revenue laws which it used in pre-prohibition days against mountaineer distillers, who never understood why they should pay a tax on the liquor they made.

A section which authorized seizure of effects and personal property in a place where "articles or raw materials" are used for the purpose of defrauding the treasury of revenue was cited.

The ninth circuit court of appeals took the position that the confiscation section applied only to places where liquor actually was made.

In view of the revenue statutes, their history and even their punctuation, Justice Stone said articles associated with the illicit manufacture and possession of liquor both in effect deprive the government of the tax, which still is in effect.

"Congress must be considered as authorizing forfeiture of non-taxed articles found in the place in which taxed articled are possessed with intent to defraud the revenue", he said.

Justice Stone said it has been argued that a decision for the government would lead to "absurd results," the confiscation of everything in sight, including articles with no relation to sale of liquor. But, he added

"B-C" Will Stop Any Headache In 3 Minutes

Realizing that no one drug can conquer all headaches, as they come from so many causes two North Carolina druggists developed a combination of several ingredients which function together giving three-minute, safe relief for any kind of headache, neuralgic sciatic or rheumatic pain, quiets the nerves and leaves you normally buoyant, without depression or bad after effects.

This combination of pain relieving ingredients, so efficient for women also at special times may be found at any drug store or soda fount under the name "B-C" (10c and 25c) ready for use in easing pains and quieting nerves in three minutes. "B-C" is the most amazing preparation of its kind ever discovered and is guaranteed harmless.

"You needn't tell me —I know Camel is the fresh cigarette!"

FRESHNESS
—that's the hing!
CAMELS are never parcheor toasted

HAVE you noticed the new trend in cigarettes?—freshness is the popular thing.

That's because a fresh cigarette, as demonstrated by Camels, is something smokers have discovered as better than anything they ever tried before.

Camels are fresh in the Camel Humidor Pack because they're made fresh to start with—blended of choice, delicately mild, sun-ripened tobaccos in which the natural moisture and fragrant flavors are vigilantly safeguarded.

The tobaccos in Camels never parched or toasted—the Reynolds method of sci ally applying heat guarantees against that.

That's why we say with uch assurance that Camels are truly fresh. They're mad h — not parched or toasted — and then they're kept fre the Camel Humidor Pack.

Try Camels' freshness a change. Switch over for just one day, then change bac you can.
