W. E. Winters, 69, Dies Thursday of Long Illness

W. E. Winters, 69, county resident for 29 years and a retired farmer of the Indian Creek community, died Thursday evening, July 16, at a convalescent home in Childress. He had been ill and confined to his bed for the past ten years. He and Mrs. Winters had made their home in Wellington for several years.

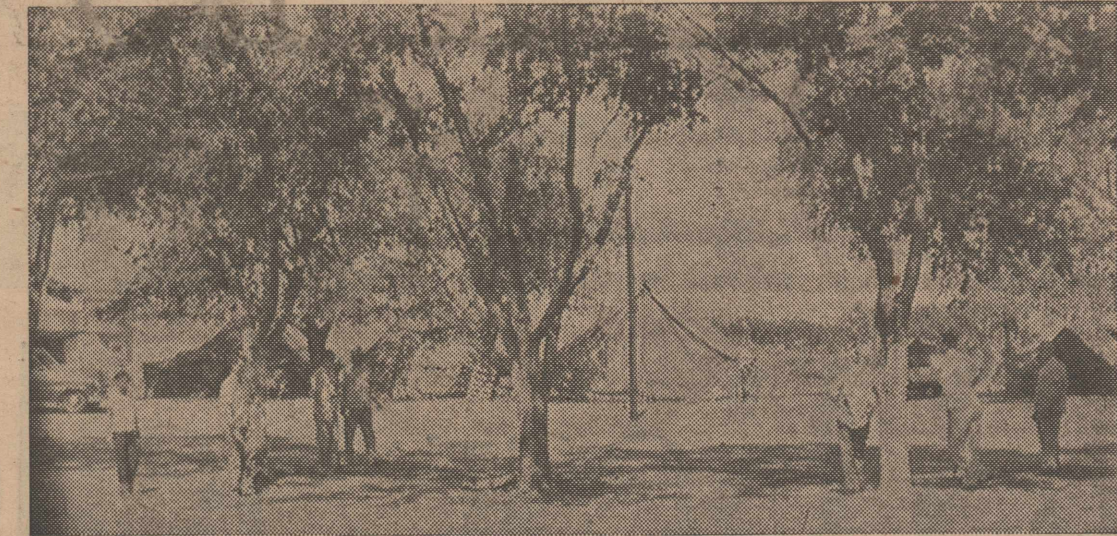

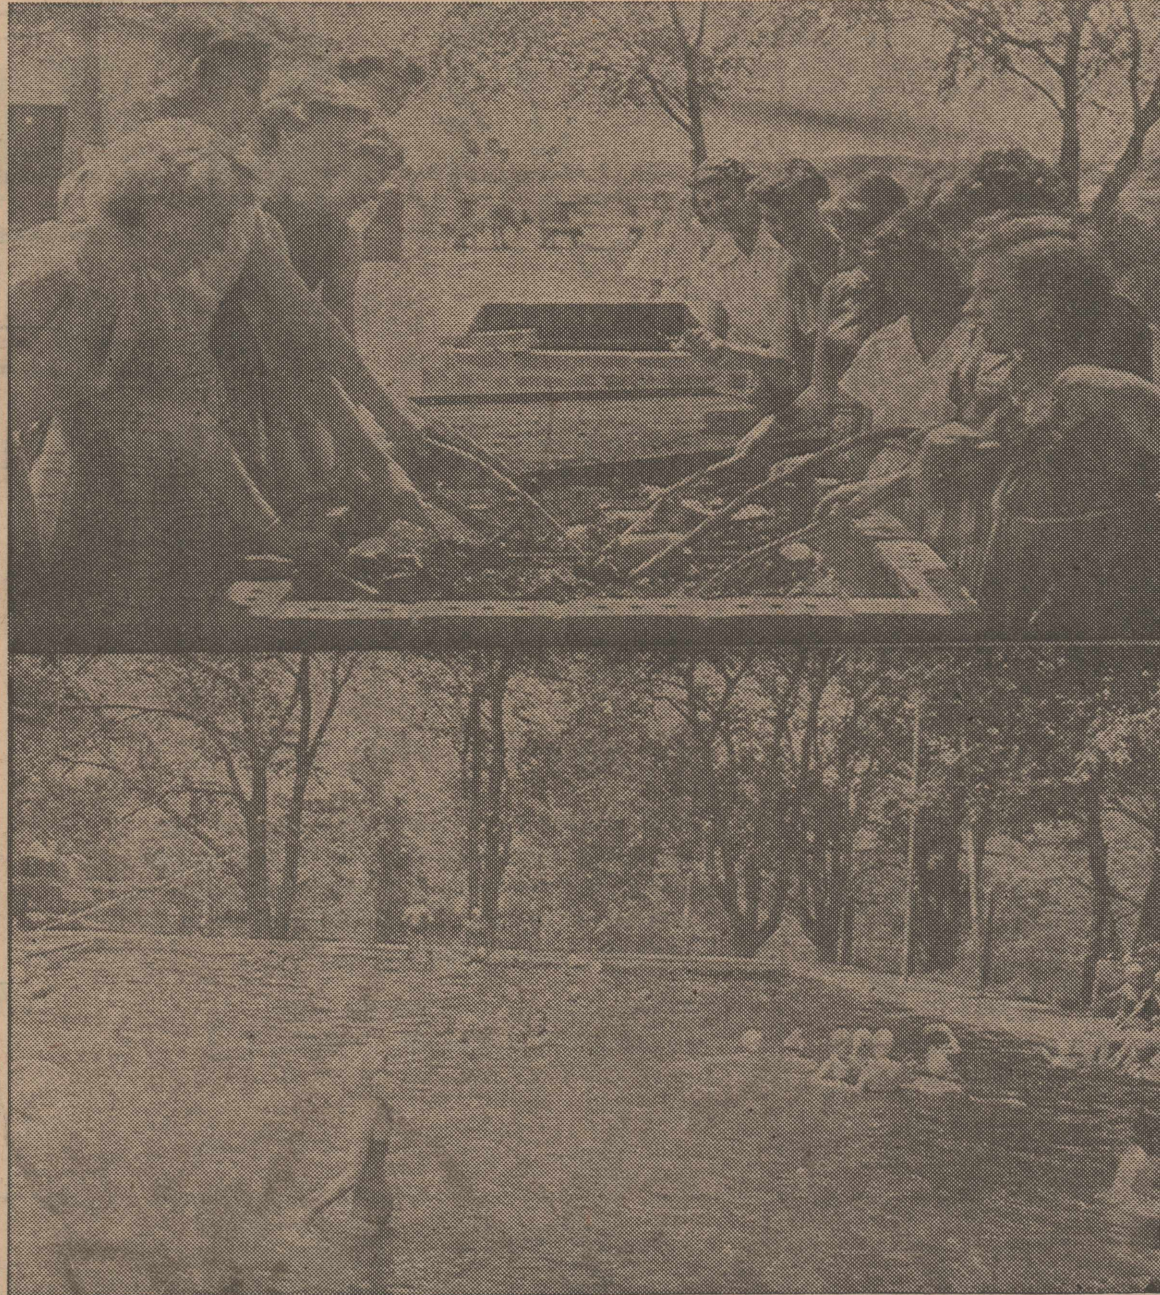

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m., with the Rev. Tommy Austin of Hemmedale, formerly of Wellington, and the Rev. Jess Blasingame, also a former county resident, officiating. Pall bearers were Selma Rainey, Henry Davidson, Melvin Seale, Ernest Tate, Pete Chandler and Coleman Fike. Honorary pall bearers were Charley Hill, George Ferguson, Melvin Seale, Joe Whitten, Bill Seale, Pete Brock, George Admire, Clarence Morrow and H. M. McCaskill. Special hymns included two duets by Mrs. Jack Lowry and Mrs. Rufus Sweat. Burial was in the West Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home.

William Ernest Winters was born September 7, 1883, at Morney, Tennessee. He moved to this county from Greer County, Oklahoma, and farmed for many years in the Indian Creek area. He was active in community and church affairs, and served as a school trustee in that district for ten years.

He believed in a good education available to all children. Above all, he was devoted to his church. He had come to Texas at the age of 7, settling in Navarro County, where he grew up.

He had been a member of the Baptist Church since 1937. Mr. Winters was married to Miss Bessie Keese, a member of a family long resident in this area, a November 6, 1913.

Surviving him are his wife and seven children, Mrs. Edith Tramel, Paul Winters, Ollie Winters, and Rev. John Winters of Hemmedale; Mrs. Oscar Chapman of Fort Worth; Mrs. E. B. Seale Jr. of Wellington; and Eugene Winters of Carney, Oklahoma; also two brothers and two sisters, Ollie Winters and W. A. Winters of Fort Worth; Mrs. Lena Deskin of Kerens and Mrs. Susie Avery of Mangum. There are eight grandchildren. Two children preceded him in death.

WHERE 1200 YOUNG PEOPLE PLAYED, STUDIED AND WORSHIPED

Here are three scenes showing the lighter moments at the Pan-Fork Baptist Encampment, where 1200 boys and girls played, studied and worshipped at four separate camps during the past two weeks. The groups came from approximately 50 churches in the Panhandle. In the top picture, a group of Wellington girls show how they roast weiners in one of the barbecue pits. From left to right they are Genevieve Bartlett, Mary Carol Smith, Sue Crawford, Ha-

Wellington Merchants Sponsor Dollar Day Friday July 31

Wellington merchants will again sponsor Dollar Day Friday, July 31, it was announced after business firms were contacted by The Leader.

The first of the Dollar Day events, resumed July 3 after a lapse of several years, proved highly successful to those participating, more successful, in fact, than had been anticipated in view of the prolonged dry weather.

Merchants will offer many special bargains for Dollar Day through their Wellington Leader advertisements. These, the merchants point out, will be bonafide bargains, top quality merchandise that they are offering their customers and others throughout the Wellington trade area and adjoining sections.

"With the fine rain we have had, we anticipate that this Dollar Day will be one of the biggest merchandising event offered in Wellington in many months," a local merchant said.

Two City Women Tell European Experiences

A step back from the western hemisphere to the ancient European civilization, could be the descriptive words of Mrs. Creed Hill and Mrs. T. W. Devenport after returning from their 11 week tour of Europe.

They visited in 11 countries. Among their itinerary was France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Scotland, England, and Italy.

Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Devenport left April 17 by plane from Amarillo to New York. There they joined their tour-group which included 17 Texans and a woman from Hollis, Oklahoma.

Both tourists were greatly impressed by the Queen Elizabeth, their ship-to and from their tour. It was the most enjoyable part of the trip to both of them.

"The people were very nice in all of the countries we visited and they were not as different as you

Mrs. McDowell Still Critically Ill

The condition of Mrs. D. D. McDowell, pioneer county woman who is critically ill in St. Joseph's Hospital, remains unchanged, her daughter, Mrs. Bill Sims, said Wednesday morning.

Mrs. McDowell has been under treatment in St. Joseph's for the past three weeks.

Here now at her bedside is a granddaughter, Mrs. Charles V. Griffin and two sons of Uvalde.

Mrs. Griffin is the former Dorothy D. McDowell, who stayed with her grandmother several years to attend Wellington high school.

Chest X-Ray Unit Returns August 19-22

The mobile chest X-ray unit of the State Health Department will return to Wellington for the county-wide chest X-ray survey Wednesday through Saturday, August 19 to 22, under the auspices of the doctors of the county, it was announced this week by Jim Cochran.

The unit will be located at the Castleberry Motor Company and will operate from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day it is here.

As in the past, an effort will be made to have every person between the ages of 15 and 65 come in for a chest X-ray.

The procedure will be much the same as in past years.

Several groups are already lined up to assist with the Chest X-ray program. Girls of the Ko-Shari Club will provide the clerical assistance and serve as hostesses. The National Guard will be in charge of loading and unloading the equipment.

Representatives from the State Department of Health are in charge of the mass X-rays.

Last year approximately 1900 persons had chest X-rays, and in 1951 approximately one-fourth of those eligible in the county were X-rayed.

Jocelyn Wells Breaks Arm

Miss Jocelyn Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wells, received a badly broken left arm Friday, July 17, when she was thrown from the horse she was mounting.

The first break was just above the wrist, while nearer her elbow, both bones were broken. The latter were diagonal breaks, and it was necessary for her to undergo surgery Monday morning before they could be set and placed in a cast.

With Miss Wells at the time of the accident was Miss Elinor Drake, who brought her to St. Joseph's Hospital. The accident occurred at the Sandy Parsons farm south of town.

Gospel Meeting Set At Church of Christ

A gospel meeting will open at the Church of Christ Friday evening, July 31, and continue through Sunday, August 9, Minister G. B. Stanley has announced.

The evangelist will be Minister Curtis Camp of Amarillo, while Minister Stanley will act as song

Rain measuring up to 7 inches, fell in the early hours Sunday, July 19, to break what is probably the worst drouth this county has suffered since it was settled.

It meant many hundred thousands of dollars in cotton and feed saved, and it took just long enough Sunday morning for farmers and business men to look around them at the water standing in fields to restore the confidence and optimism that dwindled with the continued rainless heat. For some, this rain means the difference between a complete failure and a good yield.

L. B. Bratten Resigns As Mayor of City

L. B. Bratten, now serving his second term as mayor of Wellington, submitted his resignation to the City Council in its regular meeting Tuesday night, July 21, effective August 1.

Mr. Bratten, with his family, is moving to Albuquerque, N. M., where he is opening a new jewelry store.

At the same council meeting, Lester Hunter, an alderman and mayor pro term, also submitted his resignation, effective August 5.

A special election has been called to fill these two unexpired terms for August 11, Mr. Bratten said.

No candidates had filed at the time The Wellington Leader went to press, and the deadline for filing is set at 5:00 p.m. Thursday, August 6.

Mr. Bratten has lived here for the past six years, owning and operating the Bratten Jewelry during that time. He will continue to maintain that business here.

In addition to having served as mayor, Mr. Bratten is a former vice-president and director of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, he is a member of the choir of the Methodist Church and

Revival Services Open At Baptist Church Sunday

A series of preparatory meetings leading up to next week's revival are being held at the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Chester O'Brien, pastor, said this week.

The remaining meetings will be held Thursday and Friday nights, and on Sunday, July 26, the summer revival will open with the Rev. L. D. Ball, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lamesa, in charge of preaching, and Joe Trussell of Houston as the evangelistic singer.

The meeting will continue through Sunday, August 2, with services twice daily at 10:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. The preparatory services this week are being held at 7:30 p.m.

A series of three periods of Bible instruction and prayer are planned during the revival, Rev. O'Brien said. These will be Monday, July 27, Thursday and Friday, July 30 and 31, at 7:30 p.m.

These will be held at the fellowship hall.

Friday night, July 31, has been designated as Men's Night and Saturday night, August 1, will be Young People's Night. On the opening night, July 26, and on Young People's night, youth fellowship will follow the services.

A goal set by the church is to have the entire Sunday School enrollment present for the revival. All visitors are welcome, the pastor emphasized.

Rev. Ball, who is the father of Mrs. O'Brien, is an outstanding pastor-evangelist of the West Texas area, with an understanding of the problems of churches such as Wellington's. This will be Mr. Trussell's third time to lead the singing in a revival at the church here.

Water ran over the highway for three miles north of town on Highway 83, and also for a mile on the highway north of Haskell Street.

Water at the city wells east of town was the highest since possibly 1918, Bura Handley, city manager said. The main pump station was not flooded, but part of the wells were. This was discovered, however, before much of the muddy water ran into the standpipe. All flooded wells were cut off and water from the reservoir used.

City employees worked all day Sunday pumping out the flooded wells.

seed dealers were already swamped with orders for grain sorghum seed.

And although there was damage from the heavy rainfall, it is small as compared to the benefits of the rain.

The government rain at Wellington recorded 4.8 inches of rain, Johnny Cagle reported. Along the south part of the county it was from 2 to 3 inches, but north of Wellington, along Salt Fork, through the Marella and Samnorwood area, and in spots north of there, as much as 7 inches was measured in rain gauges.

There has been loss of livestock along Salt Fork, but as yet the number is not determined.

Dams on a number of farms broke. Fields over the county washed, some of them badly, terraces broke, and fences washed away.

Damage to county roads may run in the neighborhood of $90,000, the commissioners have estimated after a hurried survey.

A six-foot rise came down Salt Fork River about 2:30 a.m., and in the early morning hours it ran higher than at any time since the railroad bridge and highway bridges washed out in 1938.

Oran Starkey said Tuesday at noon that he had been able to check only about half the cattle he had at his place along Salt Fork and that of this number around 20 cows are missing. Two are known to have drowned, and he believes the others did also. The purchase price on these cattle was around $300 each, but Starkey said the current value probably would be around $135 to $150.

Zook Thomas of the Lillie community said that he had not located around 15 cows and 10 calves. Five cows were found stranded on an island in the middle of the river. Thomas reported 6.6 inches was measured in the rain gauge at his house. At 4:30 a.m., when the family got up to leave on a trip to Amarillo, water stood knee deep in their yard. Nine-tenths of an inch fell from 4:30 to 5:00 o'clock. This is the most rain that has fallen at his place since 1947, Mr. Thomas said.

On the Fort Worth and Denver railroad bridge over Salt Fork, three pilings broke off below the bottom brace on one pier and one piling broke off on another. The bridge itself had a sag and kink. Repair machinery went out about noon Monday.

Cortez Barnett, Commissioner of Precinct 4, reported 23 bridges out or damaged on roads in his precinct and that the loss might run as high as $40,000.

Alfred Knoll, Commissioner, estimated loss in Precinct 2 at between $15,000 and $25,000. Fourteen bridges were lost, most of them when trash and trees came down normally dry draws. Two concrete and tinhorn structures were damaged. Many of the roads in this precinct are impassable and Mr. Knoll estimated that it will be at least two weeks before they can be put back in good condition. Included among the bridges that went out was the Aberdeen bridge.

Bill McDonald, in charge of maintenance for the Texas Highway Department here, said that on the farm to market highway between Samnorwood and Plymouth the concrete box supporting a 50-foot bridge sank and will have to be replaced. The abutments washed out on a bridge on the FM highway between Samnorwood and Dozier, and on the FM road east of Lutie a slab of pavement washed away near the bridge east of Mrs. Floyd Thompson's place.

Water ran over the highway for three miles north of town on Highway 83, and also for a mile on the highway north of Haskell Street.

Water at the city wells east of town was the highest since possibly 1918, Bura Handley, city manager said. The main pump station was not flooded, but part of the wells were. This was discovered, however, before much of the muddy water ran into the standpipe. All flooded wells were cut off and water from the reservoir used.

Loco News

By MRS. GEORGE ADKINS

(Intended for Last Week)

A few welcome sprinkles of rain fell here Saturday night and Sunday morning, not enough to measure, but it was rain. Sunday's cloudy, cool weather certainly helped the crops.

Rev. R. L. Porter, Sr. of Wellington filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church here Sunday. Mrs. Porter accompanied him. Good crowds attended both morning and evening services.

All radios were tuned to KGNC, Amarillo, Friday, to hear President Eisenhower and the governors of six states discuss plans for governmental aid to the farmers of the drought stricken areas.

Cotton John, the Farm and Ranch Editor of KGNC is urging all farmers and their families to eat more beef to help stabilize prices. Guess we'll all have to do this since pork is unreasonably high.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown and children were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Guill and son in Shamrock Sunday.

Jimmy Wolf of Wellington spent Friday afternoon with Doris, Lynn, John, and Donald Wolf.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Sachse and boys of Amarillo are spending a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sachse. Mr. Sachse is on vacation from his job at Plains Implement Company in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Preston spent last week end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston and other relatives near Dallas.

Nearly all of the smaller children here have been attending the free shows in Wellington. They have really been enjoying them.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wolf over the week end were Gene Wolf and daughters, Pat and Jeanne of Borger, and Neva Jo Wolf of Pampa. Pat Wolf remained.

With narrow streets, no sidewalks and walled-in gardens, St. Augustine is much as it was in the seventeen hundreds when the Spaniards recaptured Florida from the English. It is now a town of striking contrasts, where the mellow atmosphere of antiquity rubs shoulders with a modern city of gay swimming pools and beaches. It is just far enough north, on the peninsula of Florida, to make an ideal resort for both summer and winter visitors.

They also attended the first Sunday in July singing convention, which was organized some 60 years and has been carried on by members of the Brewer family, first Mr. Brewer's grandfather, then an uncle, now a cousin, Neise Brewer. It has been held in the same building, a small church, throughout the years.

Mr. Brewer had not attended this annual singing since 1904. During the day he visited with two aunts who have attended most of the singings, and with one of his school teachers.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Next Friday, July 24, is the time for another free show for all children of the Wellington area at the Ritz. And Friday week, July 31, is the time for the monthly dollar day in Wellington. Right now it looks like it will be much bigger than last month.

The rain last Sunday was the best July rain that people can remember. There were some like it back in the days when I was a boy that came in either July or early August; but there never has been one quite as timely as this one.

On the whole the rain was all to the good; but there was a lot of damage. The county lost five bridges and the highway department lost one in precinct 4 alone. Gullies were washed in many fields and many dams were broken as you will learn from the front page story in this issue.

Evidently some of the cows along the Salt Fork of Red River are so young that they don't know that Salt Fork can become a raging river in flood stage. Oran Starkey is missing 20 head of Aberdeen-Angus, Zook Thomas is missing 5 Herefords and others are missing animals. These cows were accustomed to crossing a nearly dry stream only a few inches deep to get back to their calves. They sedately walked into the rolling torrent that at one time was fourteen feet deep and were promptly swept downstream. Some of the bodies of the cattle have been found, and it is hoped that others may have worked their way to the banks of the river and got out in other pastures.

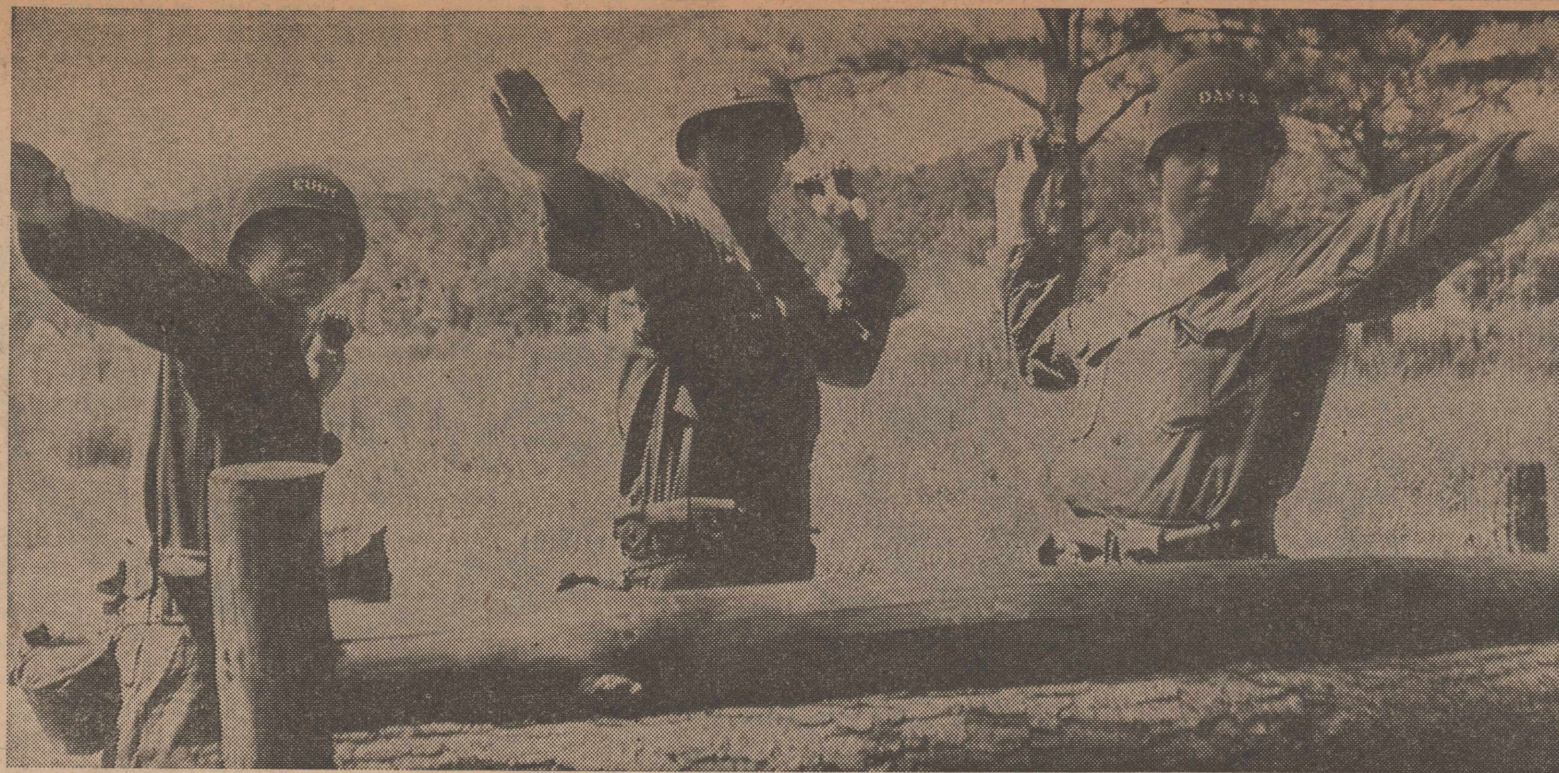

In spite of the particular losses in livestock, crops and topsoil, there is an entirely different look on the faces of the people you see in Wellington. The seed dealers are swamped with orders, and farmers are busy getting maize, millet, sudan and other feed crops in the ground. Cotton that did not blow out by sand is looking fine. While there is moisture there is hope, and there is a possibility that we might make both a cotton crop and a feed crop far above our average. No section can come back faster from disaster than this part of Texas.

Logan Cummings, the new superintendent at Ralls, was in town Tuesday buying seed to plant on his farm north of Wellington. I asked him if he had said anything to the school board about me teaching "Elocution" in the system next year. (I was pretty blue when I hit Logan up for the job.) Logan said: "I sure did, bub, and you are in; but they want you to do a few extra chores. You will be head of the 'Elocution Department'; but they also want you to teach a few classes in English and in case you know any history one or two classes in that subject. In your spare time they would like for you to coach tennis and girls basketball and serve as assistant librarian and do a little work in the superintendent's office. I thought that over for some time and I said: 'Well, tell them that I thank them, but SINCE IT HAS RAINED IN COLLINGSWORTH I think I will stay with my present job.'

Clyde Drake, engineer for the Texas Highway Department, is a man of no mean ability in his own line and one of great understanding in public relations. But it seems to me that he ought to consult with Billy Hatch, Mack Saied Jr., Lowell Wells, George Shadid or Johnnie French or the tailor shops more frequently about what clothes to wear on Sunday. It seems that he was slouching along in front of a newcomer's house in Wellington last Sunday. He was garbed in the habiliments many of you see him in on week days. The newcomer called: "How about coming over and mowing my lawn tomorrow evening." Clyde smiled in that friendly way of his and said: "Sorry, I will be busy tomorrow — perhaps later."

Dan Henard is a neighborly sort of person. He could amplify on the paragraph above; but he may be too concerned about the loss of his dams.

Progress is being made on the reunion of the ex-students of Wellington High School. Bessie Rainer is doing a notable job in compiling the lists and addresses of ex-students that were not known at the last reunion. She has uncovered a poem written by the late J. A. Dukeminier which will be published before August 22. It was published in

AT ROTC CAMP
Fort Benning, Ga. — Three cadets from Texas Technological College presently attending the 1953 Infantry ROTC Camp, Fort Benning, Georgia, are pictured as they prepare to pitch hand grenades during their training on the Hand Grenade Range. They are: (Left to Right), Cadet Jay L. Eudy, son of Mrs. J. M. Eudy, Turkey, Cadet Dudley Coleman son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coleman, Dozier and Cadet Stonewall J. Davis son of Mrs. Jack Seig, Stratford, Texas.

December of 1909. The Wellington Leader was about five and a half months old at that time.

There will be no reunion of the Old Settlers of Collingsworth County this year. Katherine Boverie says that it seems to be lack of organization following the death of the late Dave Thomas. She wants this put in the paper in answer to Carey Dysart's letter of two weeks ago. There will be no old settlers gathering this year. She says that the sons of the pioneers and the old settlers will have to take over if we are to have one next year. She intimates that it may take the grandsons to provide enough energy to make it a success.

Perhaps we might get Zook Thomas to take charge of the 1954 event in memory of his father. He is an executive sort of a man. I would not be surprised to discover that he might have led O'Neil as one of his right hand assistants, for Ted O'Neil of the Mill Iron is the grandson of one of the real founders of the town of Wellington.

League Lead Moves to Childress

JUNIOR DUKES DROP DOUBLE HEADER TO ORIOLES SUNDAY

Wellington's Junior Dukes dropped two heated contests to the league-leading Childress Orioles on Sunday, July 19, at the Fair Park in Childress. The first game was called after five innings because of the ten run rule. Childress took this game by a 14-4 score, while the second contest went the seven innings and showed the Orioles with a 15-1 win.

Wellington's manpower was not all there but the "little" Dukes were spirited even in the most hopeless situations and they played heads-up ball all the way.

The most thrilling catch of the ball game was in the first game. Centerfielder, A. C. Price had to go to deep centerfield and make a leaping catch of a well hit ball. It was a life-saver for the Dukes.

Wellington produced four runs on four hits in the first game, with Don Terry taking the hitting honors with two hits in three times at bat. However, the Dukes were stymied in the second contest with but two hits. A Childressite, "Shotgun" Hayes was the big gun for the Dukes with a two-out stinging triple down the left field line. He received credit for the only Dukes RBI in the second ball game. The triple came off of Leland Cagle and with that counter he lost his shutout.

1200 Youths At PanFork Baptist Camp

More than 1200 boys and girls participated in activities at the Pan-Fork Baptist Encampment during two weeks which ended July 17, representing approximately 50 churches throughout the Panhandle. This is by far the largest number to attend the summer encampments.

For the first time this year, the youths were divided into four groups, younger girls, older girls, younger boys and older boys. Each had three days at the camp. More than 700 girls and just under 500 boys attended.

Spiritual development is stressed, with emphasis on mission work, but recreation has a big place in the camp day, too.

The Rev. Earl Hatchett, pastor of Pierce Street Baptist Church, Amarillo, was camp director. The Rev. O. C. Curtis, district missionary, Pampa, was in charge of worship services for boys and the Rev. Carroll Ray of Central Baptist Church, Pampa, for girls.

The Rev. Clyde Hankins, former pastor here, and a missionary to Brazil, was camp missionary. Mrs. Hankins was with him, as were the two Brazilian children they have adopted, Jerry and Eunice. The family will return to Brazil in October.

The Rev. Jame Todd of Shamrock was in charge of feeding the youngsters.

Considerable work in the way of permanent improvement has been done at the Encampment during the past few months, the Rev. Chester O'Brien, Wellington pastor, said. New cabins have been built by churches at Kellerville, Lefors, Buena Vista (Borger), Pampa and Lela. Cement floors have been run in the dining hall and tabernacle, and a new office building is finished and a road cut.

Plans for still further improvements, including landscape work, are being studied.

Approximately 100 churches, members of the Southern Baptist Convention, are included in the territory the Pan-Fork Encampment serves, all of District 10. This is the entire Panhandle north of a line extending from Wellington and Memphis to Amarillo and on west to the State line.

Mrs. Paul O'Neal of Shamrock is a surgical patient at the hospital.

The owners have announced that care will be offered for the aged, the ill, both bed and ambulatory patients, and invalids.

The rest home has the approval of Wellington doctors and has been inspected and approved by the county health officer.

Twenty-four hour nursing care is offered, and in addition to Mrs. King, the staff at present includes Mrs. Loula Turner and Mrs. G. K. Patterson.

In addition to the individual care offered each patient, a home-like, pleasant atmosphere will be maintained, and a recreation and entertainment program will be worked out for those able to participate.

"We believe this will answer a long-felt need experienced by many families in the Wellington trade area," Mr. and Mrs. King said. "Every staff member of our rest home is well experienced in caring for the aged and ill, and it will be operated with the patients welfare always in mind."

Mrs. Fannie Pate Critically Ill

Mrs. Fannie Pate, 79, county resident for half a century, suffered a heart attack at her home near Quail Sunday, April 12, and is now under treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital. Her condition is regarded as critical, members of her family said.

Mrs. Pate had returned here in July after spending two years with a daughter, Mrs. Frances Mooney, at Fredericksburg, Va.

Relatives here at her bedside are her daughters, Mrs. Ione Cartee of Borger, and Mrs. Mooney; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cola Pate Howell of Raymondville; and her granddaughters, Mrs. Juanita Pate Rosen of Phoenix, Arizona, and Mrs. Delle Moore of Electra. A grandson, Pate Lester and family, lives on the Pate home place at Quail.

Mrs. Pate and her husband, the late Mr. Pate, came to the county about 50 years ago and moved to Quail 37 years ago. He died about 5 years ago.

Mrs. Howell will be remembered by many in the Loco area as Cola Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brown. Her husband, Jim Pate, died during the flu epidemic in 1919. She has not lived here since 1923.

Jim Johnson Dies at Gould

Jim Johnson, 91, of Gould, Oklahoma, the father of Cecil Johnson, died there Friday night, July 17. Mr. Johnson had never been ill in his life until nine weeks ago, when he broke his hip.

His son is associated with the Nowlin Wholesale.

Funeral services were held at Gould Baptist Church, and burial was in the Liberty cemetery, near the farm to which he moved in 1900.

Going from here to the service were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nowlin and Russell Hopson.

Mr. Johnson is survived by seven sons and five daughters.

Condition of R. H. Cocke is Same

The condition of Judge R. H. Cocke, one of the pioneer attorneys in the Panhandle, is reported as about the same by his daughter, Mrs. Pat Swift.

Mrs. Swift said he was not on the critical list, but he seems to be in the same condition as he has been for the past few weeks.

Walter Hagler is a medical patient at the hospital.

Kiwanians See Pantomime Artists

Larry Kelley, 14-year-old Amarillo pantomimist, was presented by the Wellington Kiwanis Club Friday, July 17, at the regular luncheon meeting. He was assisted by Johnny Bowser, 11-year-old colored youth. Accompanying them here was Oscar Kelley, Larry's father and manager.

Both boys use recorded music and skit accompaniments, timing their motions so perfectly that audiences forget the voices are not theirs too.

Kelly's pantomimes included a Phil Harris number; "How Could You Believe Me," Fred Astaire and Jane Powell; a phonetic routine by Victor Borge; "Mule Train," Tennessee Ernie; "I'll Hate Myself in the Morning," Sue Thompson; "It's in the Book," Johnny Stanley.

Bowser's numbers included "A Kiss to Build a Dream On," Louis Armstrong; and "Alabama Jubilee," Red Foley.

Kelley has been appearing in pantomimes for two years and was joined about four months ago by Bowser. Appearances have been given throughout the Panhandle, and also on television shows. His benefits performances have included a Cerebral Palsy Fund show and appearances at the Veterans Hospital and other places.

The group will return here this fall for a full-length presentation.

Single Games for Dukes, Quails

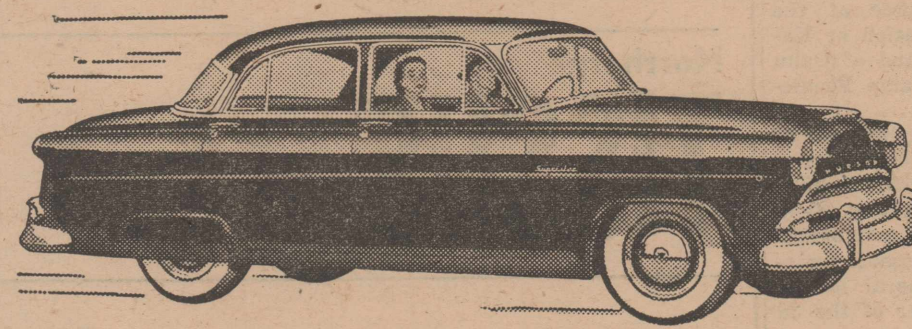

Single games take the spotlight in the Salt Fork league games this Sunday, July 26. Wellington will take to the road for a clash with the Wheeler "nine", while the Quails will relax at home with the Shamrock Green Sox invading the Quail diamond for a single nine-inning, thrilling, chilling game. All contests will be started at 2:30 p.m.

Wellington's team will leave at 1:00 p.m., according to Paul Spillman.

Quail has taken the Green Hose on once this season and the "Irish Luck" held and the Quails came home minus a few feathers. The Green Hose took both games by scores 10-5 and 7-6.

County Products
In State Fair
Display Oct. 10-25

An impressive display of products raised by Panhandle farmers will be featured in this region's colorful "Agriculturnama" exhibit at the 1953 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 10-25.

The Panhandle is included in the Texas A&M College System Extension District 1, composed of the following counties: Armstrong, Carson, Castro, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Farmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman and Wheeler.

Watermelons, apples, potatoes, sugar beets, pumpkins, onions, cotton bolls, alfalfa, maize and wheat will surround a symbolic figure of a jeep-borne cowboy, attempting to wring rain out of a cloud with a lasso — a fanciful bit of whimsy that everybody wishes were possible. The products on display prove how Panhandle farmers have been able to raise fine crops despite meager rainfall.

Agricultural leaders of District 1 who cooperated with the fair in working out the Panhandle exhibit include Rex Baxter, A. P. Bralley, Dr. Charles Whitfield, Fred T. Dines, and Miss Pauline Lokey, Amarillo; Kenneth Kendrick of Stratford, R. V. Thurmond of Lubbock, Colby Conkright and Mrs. Argen Draper of Hereford, Mrs. R. L. Campbell of Wildorado, Ralph Thomas of Pampa and Joe Jones of Farwell.

The dramatic three-dimensional "Agriculturnama" will include individual exhibits for each of the A&M Extension Service districts of Texas. They will carry out the "Water for Texas" theme of the Agriculture Show, explaining the water resources problems of farmers and ranchers in different parts of the state.

A huge central exhibit will depict the hydrological cycle — what happens to water after it falls as rain and how it is returned to the air again. "Old Mother Nature" herself will turn the crank on a "weather machine" that will cause simulated rain, thunder and lightning. The rainfall belt in Texas will be illustrated to show the relation of water to agriculture on a statewide basis.

Water was chosen as the central theme for the show because it is one of the most important single factors in Texas agriculture today, fair officials explained.

Rocket Twirlers
At Band School

Four young musicians from Wellington are among the more than 200 participants in the fifth annual Vacation Band School being held July 19 through August 1 at McMurry College in Abilene.

The Wellington students are Ann Gholson, who is studying twirling, Mary McCaskill, twirling; Sharon Swift, twirling; and Gayle Jeanine Young, twirling.

The two-week band school, under direction of Raymond T. Bynum, McMurry College band director, will run through August 1. Participants are studying music theory and solo instrument work in addition to their actual practice with the training band or the concert band.

About 60 of them are receiving special instruction in baton twirling.

Heavy Rains -

Dan Henard, who irrigates out of Salt Fork, also lost a pump. The rain gauge at the John Robert Henard home showed more than 6 inches. Water filled a pond below the house and backed water up into the basement.

A lake formed on the wheat land of Elvis Crawley a mile south of town covering between 20 and 30 acres, and came to within a few feet of the Crawley home.

Mrs. Charley Graham reported they received 4.75 inches of rain. A bridge washed away near their house and another near the E. C. Puryear place, which washed over into the John Puryear field.

Lightning was reported to have killed a cow on the Mill Iron ranch near the Dewey Galyean house. Seven inches of rain was measured on the Mill Iron at the Virgil Thomason place and 4.5 inches at the Frank Orrs.

Along the state line east of Wellington, six inches was measured at the V. K. Orr Sr. home.

Mrs. George Adkins, Leader correspondent, wrote:

"Rain at the Henry R. Wolf and Tom Berry farm northeast of town measured over 6 inches. Mr. Berry's gauge holds 6 inches with about 1/2 inch above not numbered. When he went to empty it, it was level full.

"Two bridges down the road by Darwin Nix's house washed out. "When Mr. Berry went to feed his cattle Sunday morning, about one-fourth acre of ground was all that could be seen above the water in his pasture. His cows and calves were standing in water."

Quail received 4.2 inches of rain, registered in the gauge at the Leroy Pate farm.

Mrs. G. T. Stephens, Leader correspondent from Quail reported:

"South of Quail farmers report a two inch rain and close to Quail approximately 5 or 6 inches fell. While north, in the Marella community as much as 7 inches was reported. Mrs. Lela Maxwell reported both mail carriers late on Monday due to bad roads. Lonnie Neeley, substitute carrier on Rt. 1, said the road around his route was washed bad in places, some almost impassable, while Frank Smith, the star route carrier from Memphis via Quail to McLean reported several bridges out. Repair began Monday morning on the roads.

Orville Cunningham reported 6 inches measured at his house at Samnorwood and added this was the most water he had seen since he came to Samnorwood.

Bill King and C. A. Davis, living in the northwest part of the county, reported 7 inches of rain. C. A. Amerson, about five miles west of Wellington, said he got 7 inches and a lake covering approximately 20 acres formed.

Two dams broke on Dan Henard's place and one on the W. W. McClaskey farm. These three are considerably larger than the average dams in this section. The break in one of the Henard Dams was between 50 and 75 feet wide and around 20 feet deep. Broken dams were also reported on the Henry Daffron and W. R. Breeding farms.

The dam that had been put in on Salt Fork at the Baptist Encampment went out. This pond had been stocked with fish.

The dam on the Pete Melton farm at Aberdeen broke. This pond was also stocked with fish and was to be used by the Lake Aberdeen Fishing Club, a private club. Melton had just completed some work on this dam Friday.

might expect them to be. However, they have not progressed much over their fore-fathers and are very content with what they have," they stated. "They cultivate all of their crops with a hoe and use cow to plow with. They milch the cow at night and work the cow during the day. Food was very scarce and at some meals we were served potatoes in three different ways, fried, baked, and as potato chips," they said.

The schools impressed the ladies as more of a militaristic form of schooling. The boys and the girls go to different schools and walk in different groups. The boys are required to wear uniforms during their school hours. However, their tour did not take them to the schools and let them see the classes, but by observation they saw the main outline of school life. The buildings look like ordinary office buildings.

"Switzerland had a lot of tunnels. When they could see the magnificent forests and snow-capped peaks it was a thrilling sight," they declared. "While we were in this tiny country we visited in some of the watchmakers shop.

"In Norway the tourists snow-balled each other and their other fellow tourists. It was a treat to visit in these north countries. Perhaps the tour group got to see more in England than most tourists do in the same country. While they were at the Ascot races the Royal Family was in their box seats. The tour took them to the home of the family during parts of he year. Buckingham Palace with its fine draperies and beautiful grounds is a sight to behold. They visited in the Abbey and spent one evening at a Shakespearean play, which was most enjoyable.

In Scotland they were impressed with the bagpipes and beautiful rolling Scottish countryside. One observation Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Devenport made was the ruins of World War II. In Germany and the other countries the rubble was still there, while England even though they had not even scratched the surface in rebuilding, all of the debris has been removed. "It looks as though the Europeans on the continent were just satisfied and were waiting for the other fellow," both said.

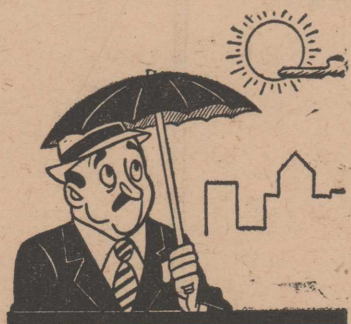

One sight Mrs. Devenport will long remember is the sight of a whole blowing his hot, moist breath out the spout in his head into the crisp North Atlantic air. They returned to Wellington recently.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

We Got the Rain and Collingsworth Comes Back

Living proof that rain can bring Collingsworth County back quick than most any other area came during the week end, when we got the rain we had been hoping—and praying—for. It takes only a drive over the highways and onto the country roads to see that cotton, which was holding up surprisingly well anyway, is growing again. Feed that looked almost dead is reviving to a great extent.

There is still plenty of time for a great fodder crop and that is going to mean dollars and cents to the cattlemen for it was on feed that they caught short this time.

While optimism and encouragement has been added to the faith most of us have in our county, the rains also added a note of warning that soil conservation, more than ever, is a must in our present way farming.

Those who watched the muddy water rolling from bank to bank down Salt Fork and wished that it could be stored up for future use have every reason to push the building of terraces and farm ponds to hold as much water as possible where it falls. Lots of terraces did break and fields did wash, but the top-soil that went down Salt Fort was just a fraction of what it would have been without the fine soil conservation work done here in the past years.

Soil Conservation Technical know-how is available here for the asking. There is positive proof of its worth. The next step is our own.

Farm Safety Week

This week we observe National Farm Safety Week, sponsored by the National Safety Council. Endorsed by all farm groups, and proclaimed by President Eisenhower, it has but one aim, stopping farm accidents before they happen.

In spite of the great progress made in farming and in spite of its rapid mechanization it remains one of the most dangerous of all professions.

On the basis of past records, here are some of the things that will happen every day during the next 12 months:

Accidents will kill 41 farm residents a day.

Every 24 seconds a disabling injury will strike a farm resident.

One out of 19 farm residents will suffer a disabling injury.

About 6,000 farm residents will be killed and over 200,000 injured in motor vehicle accidents.

About 4,000 farm residents will be killed in work accidents.

One out of six farms will be the scene of an accidental injury.

A total of 15,000 farm residents will die in accidents and over a million others will be injured.

These statistics are impressive at any time, but they mean more in view of the number of farm accidents that have happened in Collingsworth during the past year.

Jesus Never Succumbed to Temptation

The writer of the Book of Hebrews says that Jesus "was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin." As we read the Gospels we can see how persistent were the temptations to which the Master was subjected.

The "temptation of Jesus" was not all of one time or place. For Him, as for us, it lasted through to the end, and His admonition to the disciples was, "Watch and pray."

But the three temptations of Jesus that Matthew records were basic and had a significance beyond any later, or inherent, temptation is crucial, at which the decision we make or the victory we achieve determines and marks our whole life.

In Matthew's three temptations of Jesus the allurements were of the things that ambitious men have sought: power of achievement, "Command that these stones be made bread"; the sense of personal grandeur and superiority, "Cast thyself down" (from the pinnacle of the temple); and wealth, combined with power, "All these things will I give thee."

They were the temptations to which strong men have succumbed, and to which Jesus must have been susceptible. He was tempted, as He was tempted later, even to the last hour. But He never succumbed.

Theodore Roosevelt once said, "In the Whitehouse you do not live; you are just Exhibit A."

George Washington's second inaugural address is the shortest on record.

Congressmen are not required by law to attend any session of Congress.

"Blind as a bat," is an incorrect saying, since bats can see.

"Here we go 'round the mulberry tree" is correct. Mulberries don't grow on bushes.
