Jap Warship Losses May Go Beyond 30

Minimum Is Placed At 27

Troops On Leyte Forge Solid 40-Mile East Coast Front, Overrun 15 Towns

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 26—More than 30 Japanese warships were sunk or doomed to idleness in repair yards in the three fleet battles off the Philippines which saved Gen. Douglas MacArthur's invasion armies.

Tonight there was every indication that when the complete total is known it will exceed Nippon's previous greatest naval disaster off Guadalcanal in November, 1942, when 35 ships were sunk or damaged.

Communiques of MacArthur and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, plus a field dispatch from Rear Adm. Daniel Barbey, placed the minimum enemy losses at 27.

Incomplete Returns

These admittedly incomplete returns listed 12 warships sunk (two carriers, two battleships, five cruisers and three destroyers); three probably sunk (a carrier and two battleships); and 12 damaged (six battleships, five cruisers and one destroyer).

But the figure soared beyond 30 on the strength of a generalized recapitulation of results in two battles near the Leyte invasion scene—the third was fought south of Formosa—given war correspondents today by Vice Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid of the Seventh Fleet.

Kinkaid's generalization made it impossible, however, to give the exact total.

19 Definitely Out

For the two battles fought off the Philippines, communiques of MacArthur and Nimitz listed the knockout of 19 enemy warships.

Kinkaid at Leyte told Dean Schedler, Associated Press war correspondent, that the Japanese sent 14 to 16 warships through Surigao straits into one battle and only six—a cruiser and five destroyers—"were left to flee westward."

The admiral said between 25 and 30 enemy vessels were sent down for battle off Samar island and "only 14 of these ships were able to retire."

Kinkaid's recapitulation would mean minimum Japanese losses of 19 and maximum losses of 26 — with an unspecified number of the fleeing ships damaged and subject to continuing air attacks.

All figures were tentative, not taking into account "several" destroyers known to have been sunk but not totalled.

MacArthur added to the official communique total by reporting

Leyte Forces Forge Inland

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Friday, Oct. 27 (AP)—Fighter-covered Liberator bombers expanded Japan's greatest naval disaster by damaging a light cruiser in the Mindanao sea as invasion forces on Leyte forged a solid 40-mile east coast front, overrunning 15 more towns, headquarters announced today.

The cruiser was hit in the area through which one of two badly whipped enemy warship groups fled after being turned back short of penetrating to the Leyte shore beachheads.

The Mindanao sea was traversed by the southern half of a naval squeeze the Japanese unsuccessfully strove to clamp on Leyte. The sea leads into Surigao strait.

The 40-mile juncture was achieved by the 10th and 24th Army corps.

Towns taken included bypassed Buri, whose airfield was seized earlier, and the inland highway junction of Tabontabon, both in the southern sector.

The junction was established on the eastern coast of Leyte, south of Tanoan.

"We now control the eastern

Here's Box Score On Naval Battle

(By The Associated Press)

Official American communiques and the eye-witness account of one action showed late Thursday that the Japanese Imperial Navy had suffered the following losses in the three naval-air engagements of this week in the Philippine waters:

	Probab. Sunk	Sunk	Dam.	Ttl.
Carriers	2	1	0	3
Battleships	2	2	6	10
Cruisers	5	0	5	10
Destroyers	3	0	1x	4
Totals	12	3	12	27

(X—Several damaged enemy destroyers could not be included because of failure of communiques to specify the exact number.)

The Japanese Imperial headquarters, as broadcast from Tokyo by the Domei News agency, claimed the American fleets had sustained the following losses:

	Sunk	Dmg.	Ttl.
Carriers	2	6	8
Battleships	0	3	3
Cruisers	3	3	6
Destroyers	1	3	4
Transports	5	17	22
Large Landing Craft	17	2	19
Totals	28	34	62

Carriers—seven to nine.
Cruisers—25 to 30.
Destroyers and destroyer escorts—120 to 140.

These figures do not include the Japanese submarine fleet which totaled 78 craft at the beginning of the war and undetermined numbers constructed since then which may offset losses totaling 18.

JUDGE GETS IT

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 26. (AP). — City Judge Joseph G. Jeppson went deer hunting and failed to return in time for the scheduled opening of court, so Judge Karl V. King substituted, found Jeppson guilty of contempt and sentenced him to supply venison pies for everyone appearing in his court that day. The number is 50.

Reds Sweep On, Overrun Border Area

LONDON, Sept. 26. (AP) — Russian troops, sweeping down out of the Carpathian mountains in an offensive which has overrun two-thirds of Ruthenia, today captured Munkacevo, chief communications center of the Hungarian-Annexed Czechoslovakian province, Premier-Marshal Stalin announced tonight in an order of the day.

Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov's Fourth Ukraine Army punched ahead 16 miles in taking Munkacevo (Munkacs) and reached a point only 38 miles from a junction with Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukraine Army units pushing up through northeastern Hungary in an effort to trap large numbers of the enemy.

Others Advance Also

In East Prussia, northern Norway, and at Szolnok, only 50 miles southeast of Budapest, Hungarian capital, other Russian forces were reporting attacking.

The Soviet communique announced the seizure of 60 localities in Czechoslovakia, 40 in northeastern Hungary, six in the Petsamo area of northern Finland, and only four in East Prussia, where German resistance had stiffened noticeably.

The Russians said their troops had taken 11,230 prisoners in the last week in Czechoslovakia, and 6,700 in five days in conquered Transylvania.

Reflecting the seriousness with which Berlin views the steady Russian gains, the Germans announced that Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, chief of the general staff, had been entrusted with supreme command on the eastern front.

Tank Forces Expert

Guderian, former inspector general of German tank forces was named Adolf Hitler's chief of staff last July after the assassination attempt on Hitler, and this is the first time as far as military men here know, that a single individual has been named to such a post on the Russian front.

Captured Munkacevo was taken by Russian columns which had plunged two-thirds of the way across Czechoslovakia from Po-

Nazis Swinging North In Italy

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, Oct. 26.—Eighth Army troops, smashing forward more than eight miles from their hard-won bridgeheads across the Savio river west of Cesena in Italy's eastern Po valley, have captured Forlimpopoli on the Bologna-Rimini highway, Allied headquarters announced today.

It appeared tonight that Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring's line in Italy, with Bologna as a strong hinge, was swinging north in a slow, controlled withdrawal.

Dig In At Bologna

Resistance on the Adriatic side slackened, and the German defenders of Bologna dug in for a last ditch fight against the American Fifth Army battering its way from positions about eight miles south of the city's outskirts.

In several sectors the Eighth Army was meeting resistance only from German rearguards, and the Nazis appeared to be pulling back to a shorter line running roughly east from Bologna to the marshes north of Ravenna. On the coastal sector the British were less than eight miles from Ravenna.

The Eighth Army was able to make a general advance all along the front between the coast and the mountains south of the Bologna-Rimini highway.

Lubbock Man Designs Leaflet Bomb Case

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Lt. Col. Earl J. Aber, jr., Racine, Wis., announced today that his "newsboy squadron" of Liberators and Fortresses has flown 1,135 sorties per plane since Oct. 4, 1943, dropping 908,000,000 propaganda leaflets on enemy territory.

Aimed at encouraging the German soldier to surrender without needlessly risking his life, and at informing the civilian of the exact status of the war, the leaflets are distributed by means of a special bomb case designed by Capt. James L. Monroe, Lubbock, Tex.

A statement in Commons recently said 77 per cent of the German prisoners were found carrying leaflets, though the death penalty is pronounced if they are caught by their Nazi officers.

British By-Pass Tilburg As Nazis Report New Landings

Encirclement Of City Threatened

By HOWARD COWAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 26 — British troops in a lightning stab through wobbling German defenses bypassed the enemy stronghold of Tilburg in southern Holland today, threatening to encircle the city on the left flank of a blazing 15-mile battlefront, while the German radio reported fresh landings by Canadian forces on South Beveland island in the Schelde estuary northwest of Antwerp.

Slicing across the Tilburg-'sHertogenbosch highway and railroad, armored vanguards of Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's Second British Army reached the town of Udenhout, four miles north of Tilburg, as other British units slashed into the eastern outskirts of the strongly-fortified town.

Nearby Town Falls

Vught, a mile south of 'S Hertogenbosch, fell at mid-day after a savage fight between British infantry and German parachute troops. Three-fourths of S' Hertogenbosch was in Allied hands at nightfall of the third day of house-to-house fighting through the flaming communications center.

"Throughout the day's bitter fighting the enemy made desperate attempts to stiffen its resistance, but it was clear tonight that Field Marshal Walther von Model's Army was in a critical plight and that its attempt to escape northward across the Maas Rhine was gravely jeopardized," reported Associated Press field correspondent Roger Greene.

The German high command, in reporting a new Canadian landing on South Beveland island on the north side of the Schelde estuary, said "counter-measures" were in progress. There was no indication at what point the Canadians landed, nor was the report confirmed from Allied sources. Three days ago another Canadian force drove onto South Beveland from the east, but a causeway which connects the island with the mainland, and tonight had pushed some six miles inland to within three-quarters of a mile of the town of Krabbendike.

The Germans, fighting with the knowledge that by preventing the Allies from using the port of Antwerp they were delaying the start of a great Allied offensive on the Western front, were clinging tenaciously both to South Beveland and Walcheren islands on the north side of the Schelde estuary and to their dwindling pocket on the south side of the vital water-

Fire Damage In War Plant Estimated At Half Million

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 26 (AP) Fire attributed to a lamp swept through a major unit of the Wichita Engineering company plan here tonight and caused damage estimated by Houston Bolin, president of the company, at more than $500,000.

The fire started in the paint processing room of the fragmentation and anti-personnel bomb department of the war plant.

Thirty employes were in the building when the infra-red ray drying lamp broke, but despite extensive use of fire extinguishers the flames spread rapidly.

Bolin estimated the loss would exceed $500,000, and said the plant was owned by the government and leased to his company for operation.

Other units of the war plant were not damaged, and no injuries were sustained by workmen.

The plant is located southwest of Wichita Falls.

Emperor Offers Special Prayer

(By The Associated Press)

Emperor Hirohito offered special prayers Thursday at Tokyo's Yasukuni war shrine, and a Japanese domestic broadcast said the "grave current situation" was causing him "a great deal of solicitude."

The shrine is dedicated to Japan's war dead. The emperor, said Tokyo radio, prayed to the "souls protecting the empire."

Shrine Of Shinto

(Yasukuni is a Shinto shrine. The religion teaches that the souls of the dead watch over and guide the living, hence high officials scrupulously pray at major shrines on auspicious occasions.

(The emperor often visits Yasukuni during elaborately ceremonious periods when the war dead are enshrined. Since no Tokyo report has indicated such a ceremony is in progress now, it is likely the emperor made a special appearance at the shrine, to impress upon the people the gravity of the war situation.)

Navy Reports Loss Of 17 Small Craft

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Loss of 17 small naval craft in European operations connected with the liberation of northern France were announced today by the Navy department.

The losses were attributed to "enemy action or the perils of the sea."

The ships lost included the Miantonomah, a minelayer, six landing ships, six infantry landing craft, three minesweepers and a PT boat.

The other craft lost, with their skippers, included:

LST 376, Lt. (JG) C. B. Stanley, wife, Mrs. Nora Elizabeth Stanley, Houston.

Occupied Countries Bombed By Leaflets

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—American heavy bombers have been flying over Germany and the occupied countries at night for more than a year on leaflet-dropping missions, it was announced today.

Specially equipped Flying Fortresses and Liberators are used and their crews do nothing else.

MEREDITH FOR PYLE

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26. (AP) — Capt. Burgess Meredith, just placed on an inactive status by the War department, will play the role of Ernie Pyle, newspaper columnist, in the movie "G. I. Joe." Lester Cowan is filming the picture. Meredith entered the Army in 1942 as a private. He is married to Paulette Goddard.

Raiders Batter Pacific Islands

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 26. (AP) — American air raids against the Kuriles, to the north of Japan, Yap in the western Carolines, Japanese holdings in the northern Marianas and in the bypassed Marshalls were reported today in a communique.

The communique, from headquarters which has been busy reporting the Philippines naval actions, summarized recent strikes.

Army airforce Mitchells and Liberators and Navy Liberators and Venturas attacked Paramushiro, Matsuwa, Shumushu and Onnekotan islands in the Kuriles Monday and Tuesday. A 6,000-ton cargo ship was set afire south of Paramushiro.

Yap Is Battered

Marine Corsairs and Army Liberators bombed and strafed Yap Saturday, Sunday and Monday. A Corsair was lost to intense anti-aircraft fire Monday.

Liberators dropped 58 tons of bombs in Iwo Jima in the Volcano islands Tuesday. Three enemy fighters intercepted but caused no damage to the raiders.

Corsairs destroyed trucks and barges in the northern Palau islands.

Dauntless dive bombers and Corsair fighters attacked Jaluit in the Marshalls Sunday with 36 tons of explosives.

Nazis Report Loss Of Two Generals

LONDON, Oct. 26. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Erich von Kirchbach, 58, and Maj. Gen. Fritz Reinhardt, 53, have been killed in the fighting on the western front, the official German news agency announced tonight.

Earlier in the day, Berlin reported the death of a Gen. Scheckenburger, commander of a German army corps, on the eastern front, during a Russian air raid on trench positions near Belgrade.

New Zealand Fliers Rate With Marines

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 26. (AP) — The Marines have a high regard for New Zealand's fighting fliers.

A sample of their tactics was related here by Lt. Edwin H. Finlayson, Pensacola, Fla., back from the southwest Pacific.

"I was flying over Rae Day," Finlayson said, "when I heard a New Zealand pilot call over his radio to another:

"Hey, come on down here, I've got 40 Zeros cornered."

Republicans Plot Franco's Ouster

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 26. — Spanish Republicans will confer Nov. 2-4 in the French city of Toulouse, only 60 miles from the Spanish frontier, to "decide upon the best methods" of overthrowing Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Falangist regime, Republican headquarters here said today.

A Paris dispatch disclosed that for the first time since the outbreak of the clashes along the Franco-Spanish frontier a Paris newspaper, France Libre, has taken up the defense of the Franco regime.

Not Mad At Franco

"France no longer has anything against Franco," said an editorial in France Libre. "Let us admit in good faith that Franco was under obligation to Hitler and Mussolini for their recognition and support; he paid only in words."

The editorial, coupled with Gen. Charles de Gaulle's statement regarding Spain at a press conference Yesterday was seen as preparing further against anti-Franco criticism in the event of a diplomatic exchange.

De Gaulle said that Jacques Truelle, the French "minister plenipontentiary" was still at Madrid, while the Spanish consular representative Joe Antonio de Sangroniz, who has been in Algiers more than a year, would "without doubt" come to Paris soon. Relations have been on a "de facto" and not a diplomatic basis.

Three Crashes Fatal For 17 Army Fliers

RENO, Nev., Oct. 26 (AP) — Seventeen airmen were killed in crashes involving three Army planes within the past 24 hours at Reno and Tonopah air fields, Army public relations officers reported.

Twelve fliers died in the collision of two large Army cargo planes above Reno field today. Five crewmen of a four-engine bomber were killed and four others were injured last night one-half mile north of Tonopah field.

Names of the dead were announced as they were identified and next of kin were notified. They included:

2nd Lt. Olin P. Jackson, Austin, Texas.

Wreck Survivors Located In U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26 (AP) — Twenty-three survivors of the Mexican steamer Juan Casiano have been located, the Petroleum administration announced tonight.

Eleven are in Wilmington, N. C., eleven are in New York, and one is in Galveston, Tex.

All were picked up by passing steamers after a collision between the "Juan Casiano" and an unidentified vessel 90 miles off the Georgia coast a few nights ago.

TWO FLIERS KILLED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 26. (AP) — Second Lt. William C. Shelton, jr., Grandfield, Okla., and Sgt. George S. Race, Dallas, Pa., were killed today when their single engine army training plane crashed and burned near here, Kirtland field announced.

Jap Navy Limps Away, But Still No Little Factor

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — The Japanese Navy certainly is limping after its disastrous defeat in Philippine waters, but it still remains a factor in future operations near Japan.

Despite the heavy damage shown in initial reports from the battle, conservative estimates tonight show that probably as many as 175 Japanese warships remain in fighting condition.

This is based upon reports that Nipponese naval strength before the Japanese fleet dared to move into the Philippines included some 200 ships of all types exclusive of submarines and a number of merchant vessels converted for use as aircraft carriers.

Subtracting the reported sinkings, or probable sinkings, of four battleships, three aircraft carriers and five cruisers from best available estimates of Japanese strength a week ago, the enemy probably has this fleet left:

Battleships — six to eight.
Carriers—seven to nine.
Cruisers—25 to 30.
Destroyers and destroyer escorts—120 to 140.

These figures do not include the Japanese submarine fleet which totaled 78 craft at the beginning of the war and undetermined numbers constructed since then which may offset losses totaling 18.

Beaten Worse Than In 1918 Nazis Fanatically Hold On

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Paris, Oct. 26—Germany, with not more than 500,000 men left to defend her western frontier, already has suffered a worse defeat in the west than was inflicted upon the Kaiser's armies in 1918, yet is showing no signs of an internal collapse.

(Still in supreme command of troops manning the Siegfried line is Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt. The German force is divided into two Army groups, the northern one under Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Model, young, energetic and pro-Nazi, and the southern one under Gen. Johanne Blaskowitz, who commanded the German retreat from southern France.

There is little doubt that if the German Army had its way it would try to get the best possible peace terms from its western opponents and strive to save as much as possible for a future attempt to dominate Europe.

But the Nazi party leaders feel that if this war is lost, all is lost. They are pursuing the struggle despite all reverses in the hope that the great trial through which Germany is going will bring the very best military talent to the top and wear out the Allies.

At present the Germans have well under 100 depleted divisions with which to defend the long front from the North Sea to Switzerland.

At the end of the last war they had about 100 good divisions in the field on the Western front, and with no great Russian armies at their back.

Forrestal Lauds Victory In Warning On Over-Optimism

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — American naval forces, victorious over the Japanese in the battle of the Philippines, "will pursue the damaged Japanese ships to the limit of their ability," Navy Secretary Forrestal declared tonight.

He added that the Navy "will do everything within its power to exploit the advantage which we have gained."

But he cautioned in a broadcast on the CBS-First Line program against overoptimism based upon the sinking or damaging of "30 odd Japanese warships." The Navy secretary said that only nine enemy ships are definitely known thus far to have been sunk. He said they are two aircraft carriers, one battleship, five cruisers and one destroyer.

(Forrestal's figures, presumably based exclusively on official Navy reports here, did not include all the sinkings reported at the scene.)

"Many remaining ships—a sizeable fleet in themselves—remain afloat, more or less seriously damaged," he declared. "As we know from our own experience, crippled vessels may be able to limp to port, undergo repairs and come out to fight again."

Forrestal also declared that it must be remembered that "we have not escaped from these actions scot-free. We too have lost ships and have had others damaged." He gave no details on the extent of American damage.

The battle of the Philippines was described by the Navy secretary as "one of the pivotal actions

Lubbock Casualties Reach 472,779

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Officially announced American combat casualties in this war reached 472,779 today.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said Army casualties through Oct. 14 totaled 403,074, including 78,522 killed, 220,529 wounded, 51,009 missing and 53,014 prisoners of war.

Navy, marine corps and Coast Guard casualties reported as of today totaled 69,705, including 27,831 dead, 27,857 wounded, 9,537 missing and 4,480 prisoners of war.

Of the Army wounded, Stimson said 103,504 had been returned to duty.

He also reported that Army Ground Forces casualties in Italy to Oct. 16 totalled 91,063. Of these 16,978 were killed, 62,184 wounded and 11,901 missing.

Death Of Pair Ruled Slaying And Suicide

DALLAS, Oct. 26. (AP) — Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett entered a verdict of homicide and suicide in the deaths today of Mrs. Vallie King, 59, and her 73-year-old husband, A. N. King, retired East Texas oil man.

Sterrett said two blasts from a shotgun killed Mrs. King, and that King shot himself with the same weapon.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker said the couple, residents of swanky Preston Hollow, were at home alone at the time of the shooting.

Maverick Sees Great Prospects For Big Business With British

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—What England needs is 10,000 drug stores so a man can get a chocolate soda when he feels like it and a good cup of coffee and if you think Maury Maverick is kidding, think again.

The soda and the coffee will be good for the British. America can sell them the makings of the drug stores and that's where Maverick comes in. He's chairman of the Smaller War Plants corporation, just returned from three weeks in Great Britain looking over the chances of little business doing some business across the seas.

A Tough Situation

His suggestions about doing away with cartels, exporting machine tools and modifying lend-lease you can read about on another page; here you can learn about the British coffee and egg situation. Its tough enough to make a strong man weep.

The rotund Maverick, who used to be Texas' most colorful congressman and who still wears electric blue shirts and red plaid bow ties, said the British were nice people, but they made the worst coffee in the world.

"It always was bad coffee," he told his press conference in the green and gold lushness of a federal conference room. "My father was over there in 1872 and he said it was bad. I was over there during the first World war and it was bad. And it hasn't gotten any better.

Something's To Be Done

"I don't know what those people do to their coffee. I don't believe they use coffee to make their coffee and something's got to be done."

Maverick said he also didn't think so much of the British breakfast, consisting of oatmeal, sausages mostly made of oatmeal, and powdered eggs.

"I never actually tasted a rotten egg," he said, "but these powdered eggs smelled rotten and I think they tasted rotten and when I compained about them, the English said, 'well, you sent 'em to us.'"

Maverick said he supposed the censors would be sore for his mentioning it, but that the devastation in England is enormous.

"You could look for a mile down the street in London and it was like a Texas prairie," he said. "Why, in England, alone, they need 4,000,000 houses. In western Europe they need 40,000,000. There isn't enough brick and lumber in the world to build all these houses. That's where we can do some good; sell 'em plastic building materials, hardware, floor in sheets."

We also can sell 'em 10,000 drug stores, complete with soda fountains and coffee percolators.

"There's no place in all England where the young folks can get a chocolate soda," he added. "Or a cup of good coffee. I'm advocating the 10,000 drug stores so these things will be available and then we can sell 'em the stuff to build the drug stores with."

Having announced all this, Maverick said: "Now I'll answer any questions except who I am voting for for president and anybody who doesn't know is so dumb, he ought to get out." He answered questions then on exceedingly serious subjects. Nobody asked him for whom he was voting. Nobody wanted to sound dumb.

Additional Time Is Given Lumbermen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Office of Price Administration has ruled that southern pine lumber sellers tentatively registered as direct-mill distributors may have an additional 30 days to comply with one of the requirements covering their qualifications.

This requirement was that they deliver to the military's central procuring agency 1,000,000 feet of southern pine within six months following their registration, to qualify for higher ceiling prices.

OPA said that because of a change in the procuring agency's buying policy several distributors have been unable to obtain sufficient orders to meet the delivery requirement.

The time extension applies to distributors given tentative registration by OPA on or after last April 15 and prior to Oct. 30.)

Truman Denies Ever Being Klan Member

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Sen. Harry S. Truman, Democratic vice presidential nominee, today described as a "lie out of the whole cloth" a charge that he was a former member of the Ku Klux Klan.

At a news conference shortly after his arrival in Peoria, Truman was told by a reporter for the Chicago Herald-American that there was a report that he once was a member of the Klan.

"I am not a member of the Klan and never was," he said. The reporter asked Truman if he knew a man named Harry Hoffman, and Truman replied that he knew the man and that he "helped beat" him when Hoffman was a candidate for Jackson county marshal in 1922.

The reporter then said that Hoffman had signed an affidavit that as grand kleagle of the Klan he had sworn Truman in as a member in 1922.

"That's a lie out of the whole cloth," Truman said. He said the report "started in the campaign of 1922 and was nailed as a lie then."

Texas Leads In Oil Production

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Texas, for ninth consecutive year, led all states in mineral production in 1943, the Bureau of Mines reported today. Pennsylvania was second and California third.

Texas mineral output last year was valued at $1,116,056,000—the only state to exceed a billion dollars. Pennsylvania minerals were worth $889,156,000 and California $569,386,000.

Texas fuel production totaled $993,242,000, non-metallics $93,181,000, and metallics $29,633,000. The state was first in value of crude petroleum $721,400,000; natural gas $208,560,000; natural gasoline and cycle products $51,930,000; liquefied petroleum gases $11,126,000; sulfur $38,165,000; helium, magnesium, magnesium compounds, pebbles for grinding, strontium minerals, and sulfur ore.

Stimson Plans Study Of Pearl Harbor Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today he would give the report of the Army board which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster "the concentration necessary in order to carry out the serious duty" directed by the law ordering separate Army-Navy inquiries.

Stimson made this reply at a news conference when asked whether the board recommended court-martial action against Major General Walter C. Short, the Army commander at Hawaii in 1941, whether it altered the plan to hold a trial after the war is over, and whether the report would be made public.

PELLAGRA PREVENTABLE

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Though not contagious, pellagra, which causes many deaths in Texas, can be entirely prevented by the right kind of diet, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said today. He recommended milk, fresh meat, whole wheat products, brewer's yeast, salmon, tomatoes and other fresh vegetables and fruit.

Winant's Trip Home Indicates Three-Way Postwar Cooperation

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 — Evidence that Britain and Russia have laid the basis for Allied cooperation in postwar Europe, especially on delicate Balkans issues, developed today as Ambassador John G. Winant returned from London to undertake a general review of war and diplomatic problems with American officials.

Winant brought a first hand report of the latest work of the European Advisory commission on post-victory German control terms. His arrival followed by a few days that of Ambassador W. Averell Harriman from Moscow. The two envoys are expected to stay in this country until after the election.

Had Already Reported

Harriman already has reported to President Roosevelt on the recent conference of Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

Available information from both British and American sources here indicates that the conference resulted in far-reaching understandings, particularly with respect to the Balkans.

One point apparently agreed on is that there should be three-power control in the defeated enemy countries of eastern Europe, with allowance for Russia's primary interest in that area.

Reds To Work With Us

In response to questions at the State department today, Harriman said the Russians are going to work with the United States and Britain in the defeated countries.

While Winant is reported to have brought back information on the work of the European advisory commission, it is not expected here that any decisions will be made on German control policy in the immediate future. Speculation runs rather to the possibility of a November meeting of Mr. Roosevelt with the British and Russian leaders.

Picture In Paper All Cupid Needs For New Romance

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — A picture in a Dallas newspaper last Christmas was all that Cupid needed to produce a Kansas City honeymoon today for Lt. Douglas Blair of the Coast Guard and 19-year-old Betty McNeely Blair, a senior at Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., until last Saturday.

The picture was that of Miss McNeely. Blair saw it while on leave and tore it out, carrying it with him to California and then into the Pacific area. He missed telephoning her while he was home but correspondence developed.

They were married Sunday night at the First Methodist Church in Columbia.

"Gee, I'm glad I had that picture taken," the bride said, and the groom echoed, "So am I!"

Blair, 24, was employed by the Southwestern Greyhound Lines in Fort Worth before he entered the service. The bride's home is in Dallas.

Archbishop Of Canterbury Dies

LONDON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Dr. William Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury and primate of all England, a friend of labor whose liberal views frequently made him a center of controversy, died today two and a half years after his enthronement.

The 63-year-old archbishop, who was Archbishop of York, second highest dignitary in the Church of England, from 1929 until 1942, suffered a heart attack in his hotel suite at Westgate-On-The-Sea, near Margate, where he had gone for treatment of gout.

The ailment failed to respond to treatment, but nevertheless had not been considered serious. Only last Monday the archbishop said in a message to the Canterbury diocesan conference regretting his absence: "I have every reason to believe that I have turned the corner at last, but recovery is going to be rather slow."

Enthroned In 1942

Dr. Temple was enthroned as 98th Archbishop of Canterbury April 23, 1942, succeeding Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, then 78, who retired to make way for a younger man. The new archbishop, because of his "drive" and progressive views, was considered ideally fitted to lead the Church of England through the remaining war years and the post-war period.

Dr. Temple caused a sensation during the affair between King Edward VIII and Mrs. Wallis Simpson by publicly criticizing the monarch, who later abdicated and married the American divorcee.

Funeral services will be held at Canterbury cathedral next Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. Next Thursday, All Souls day, a requiem mass will be sung in the cathedral at 11 a. m.

THE ANSWERS

LETTERS and cards setting forth reasons why women married the men they did have warmed the cockles of our heart, especially since we are a bit old-fashioned and romantic.

A single line was on one card: "My mother made me do it."

ANOTHER card was typewritten with the following: My husband and I have been married for 42 years. I can remember exactly what caused me to fall in love with him. He made me feel so very comfortable all the time, from the first date until now. He is very considerate, kind-hearted and a good Christian husband. I know he is GOOD.

Thank you for the opportunity to tell "what about you?"

An "Avid" Reader of Your Column.

AND thank you "Avid Reader" for taking advantage of the opportunity to speak your piece.

ONE young woman, mother of three young children wrote she fell in love with her husband when she watched him play football and reveled in his physical prowess. They became engaged two months after they had their first date and she learned he possessed "moral and spiritual depths that were greater than his physical strength."

"Circumstances placed us in different localities for three years. We wrote each other everyday and it was sometimes four and one-half months between visits."

ANOTHER woman says she decided to marry because her future husband had such a lovely telephone voice. Although they were in different states, he called her every night.

DEAR Margart Turner:

In your Sunday's column you asked that we ladies send in comments on why we decided to say yes when our husbands asked us to marry them. The thing I admired about my husband was his kind and lovely manners and after 17 years of married life he is still the same.

He never forgets to say "please" and "thank you" for every little act of kindness in the home and no matter how ill or tired he has been he has never said a cross word. I am often very much ashamed of myself, as I am not always so kind but he has helped me to overcome some of my way of letting my temper get out of control.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Chas. T. L.

COOKIE SPREE

IT WAS once an old family custom in Philadelphia, eastern Pennsylvania and western New Jersey to visit friends on Hallowe'en and eat spice cookies and drink cider while awaiting hobgobblins to appear. Out of this tradition has grown an unusual regional food tradition.

Starting a few weeks before Hallowe'en and ending a few weeks after, bakers make actually tons and tons of spice wafers—thin, round cookies, spicy as their name indicates. The jamboree is held in October and November.

Federal Regulation Of Press Is Feared By Publishers Group

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers association believes a new government agency to regulate transfer of news dispatches would result in the carrying out of a court order that the Associated Press must make its news report available to any publisher.

The association, comprising both members and non-members of the Associated Press, in a brief filed with the Supreme court yesterday opposed the order by a special three-judge court of the southern district of New York.

The publishers' group said that if the order stands, "it must be conceded that all other news gathering agencies of every type and description will be compelled to make their property in the form of of news dispatches accessible to any one who desires it." It added:

"The broad question of the consequence this would involve in setting up a regulating agency to lay down the terms and conditions of such use of news and the constitutionality of such an arrangement was evaded by the lower court."

The high tribunal will hear arguments the week of Nov. 13 on the AP's appeal from the lower court's findings. The rulings were given in the government's civil suit under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, to force the AP, a co-operative, non-profit organization, to change its membership structure.

Presenting its brief as a friend of the Supreme court the publishers' associaiotn said that the lower court's order would have to be followed up by legislation to create some agency to prescribe the terms under which news dispatches collected by press associations or by newspapers, collectively or individually, would be turned over to any persons who wished to publish the dispatches. The brief commented that, "such a thing is inconceivable in the light of the historic American doctrine of a free press."

Dallas Man Held After Bridge Fire

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 26. (U.P.) —Otis Russell, 20, Dallas, Tex., was being held in the county jail today for questioning in connection with the burning of the Colorado and Southern railway bridge near Branson, Colo., last Wednesday.

Russell was arrested by sheriff's officers and special railroad agents. He was a member of the bridge gang which completed rebuilding of the bridge this week.

Burning of the bridge resulted in a tie-up of the main line of traffic for several hours until the fire could be extinguished and temporary repairs made.

Mexico-Guatemala Relations Severed

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26 (AP) — The newspaper Excelsior declared today that diplomatic relations between the Mexican government and the revolutionary triumvirate now in power in Guatemala are suspended.

The source of this information will not be given, but Excelsior will say that it "merits full confidence."

Excelsior will say that although Guatemalan Ambassador Edmundo Mayora reported to the Mexican foreign office the fall of the government of Gen. Federico Ponce, the foreign officer has not yet acknowleded receipt of the communication and neither has Romeo Ortega, Mexican ambassador to Guatemala, had any official dealing with the new revolutionary triumvirate.

The first national election returns to be broadcast by radio were those announcing the election of President Harding in 1920.

A prehistoric trade route has been traced by geographers, runing across Europe from Denmark to northern Italy.

Four Americans Are Wounded In Revolt

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26. (AP)—A wounded Pan-American Airways pilot related from his hospital bed here today how he and three other Americans, one of them a woman, were "caught in the center" during a battle between soldiers and civilians in last Friday's Guatemalan revotution.

The pilot, Captain Lewis Deweese of Kent, Ohio, said he and Henry Seigel, a company mechanic from Texas, were shot while taking cover. They, with Mrs. Seigel and Jay Wilso, senior Pan-American representative in Guatemala, remained pinned down in an open field for an hour while opposing factions fired over them.

"Shooting us seemed to be a case of mistaken identity," said Deweese, "but once the firing really got hot neither side was too careful at what they were shooting."

Wounded in the arm, abdomen and leg by a single bullet, Deweese was brought here by plane Tuesday. Seigel, he said, was struck in the stomach and remained in a Guatemala hospital.

Ball Says GOP Trying To Stand On Both Sides Of Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Explaining his decision to support President Roosevelt for reelection, Senator Ball (R-Minn) said tonight that "present leaders of the Republican party are trying to stand on both sides of the foreign policy issue."

He reiterated that although Governor Dewey has spoken for a strong international security organization "both internationalists and isolationists could find comfort and support in what he said."

In a speech prepared for broadcast over the Blue network, Ball had this to say of Mr. Roosevelt's attitude:

Security Organization

"He wants the United Nations security organization established without delay, before hostilities cease. He wants our representative on it legally endowed with authority to commit an agreed-upon quota of our forces to action against an aggressor at the call of the council.

"In addition, the Roosevelt administration, by a long series of actions, has reversed the isolationist foreign policy of the United States. It has established American leadership in fighting this war and in developing a world security organization."

Ball crossed the Republican party line last Monday to announce his support of the President. For months he has been campaigning in the Senate and on the platform for a post-war peace-preserving organization.

Weak Commitments

"Two facts make Dewey's weak commitments on this issue even weaker," he declared. "One is the record of the majority of republicans in Congress in opposing these foreign policy and other matters before Pearl Harbor. The other is the fact that a substantial number of Dewey's supporters, including most of those Democrats who oppose Roosevelt, are talking straight isolationist doctrine to the American people."

Specifically, Ball declared that Gov. John W. Bricker, Dewey's running-mate, "is talking the isolationist-nationalist doctrines of the McCormick-Patterson press."

Declaring Dewey has endorsed many of the present administration's policies and programs, Ball argued that the Republican nominee had "failed to offer the American people a workable, constructive program" of taxation and labor relations.

ODT Says "Women Not Just Small Men;" Differences Noted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Making it official, the Office of Defense Transportation stated flatly today: "There are a few basic differences between men and women."

"Women are not just 'small men'," ODT explained in a bulletin entitled "practical hints to employers of women with special reference to transportation." For any employer who hadn't noticed, the publication elucidated:

"The average woman differs from the average man in certain physical, psychological and experience factors which have a direct bearing upon her ability to learn and to perform certain jobs."

There are 15 special points of difference between the sexes which must be considered from an employment standpoint, the bureau decided. For instance:

"The elbow and the knee are constructed differently in women. This partially accounts for their tendency to grasp tools differently from men and to be less steady on their feet."

Plunging boldly into generalizations on woman's psychology, ODT advised that "everything she says should not be taken seriously."

ODT thinks most women are handicapped in a man's world because they never got to play with mechanical toys, mow lawns or drive delivery wagons. On the other hand, their familiarity with sewing and other delicate tasks has given them superior manual dexterity.

NAA Chapter Here Has 39 Members; Others May Join

Thirty-nine Lubbock business men and women are now enrolled in the newly-organized local chapter of the National Aeronautics association, a count of the membership roster Thursday revealed.

Charter of the Lubbock chapter will be sent to National Aeronautics association headquarters Monday for approval. Plans are being made to set up counterparts of the Lubbock chapter throughout the South Plains.

Anyone wishing to join may contact any member of the organization. Only requirement for participation in activities of the local chapter is said to be interest in aviation and in its future in the South Plains area. Next meeting will be held Nov. 6.

Charter members are: Robert H. Bean, president; Clent Breedlove, vice president; Robert Walker, vice president; M. D. Fanning, secretary-treasurer; Virgil L. Musick, Dr. Fred W. Standefer, A. F. Princess Beatrice Dies At London

LONDON, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Princess Beatrice, 87, youngest and last surviving child of Queen Victoria and great aunt of King George VI, died today, severing one of Britain's few remaining links with the Victorian era.

Her death left Queen Mary as the only remaining member of the Royal house whose formative years were shaped under the iron discipline of Victoria's household.

The princess has lived quietly in the country during the war. Carisbrook castle on the Isle of Wight, her usual residence has been unsafe. Her town residence, Kensington palace, was damaged by fire bombs in 1940. She had lived with her brother, the late Duke of Cannaught, at Bagshot park, until his death in 1942.

At her bedside when she died at 5:10 a. m. were her eldest son, the Marquess of Carisbrooke, and her only daughter, former Queen Victoria Eugenie of Spain.

It was not believed that King George would approve a state funeral involving a public procession, because of the war. But there almost certainly will be four kings and four queens at the funeral—King George, King Haakon of Norway, King George of Greece, King Peter of Yugoslavia, Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mary, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and the young Queen Alexandra of Yugoslavia.

Ancient man kept time by measuring shadows cast by trees, cliffs and other objects.

About 400,000 fires occurred in U. S. homes in 1943.

Pacific Naval Force Includes 16 U. S. Battleships, 37 Cruisers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—At least 16 American battleships and 37 cruisers form the backbone of the force blasting the Japanese from Pacific power.

This indication of the biting power of surface craft of the Pacific fleet—exclusive of scores of aircraft carriers and hundreds of destroyers—was given by the Navy tonight. In connection with the observance of Navy day tomorrow, it released resumes of the war records of 103 fighting craft.

These resumes also revealed that on August 15—the date Allied forces invaded southern France—at least four battleships and 10 cruisers were providing the big guns of the Atlantic fleet.

Smaller Ships Unnumbered

No indication was given of the number of smaller ships in the two oceans, but destroyers, destroyer escorts and submarines literally are numbered in the hundreds.

It is reasonable to assume that by far the greater part of the smaller but deadly warships are assigned to the Pacific with orders to "seek out and destroy" the Japanese.

Likewise, it is logical to count as part of the Pacific fleet most of the approximately 100 aircraft carriers in the United States fleet—now the largest sea fighting force in world history.

Little information was given by the Navy, on assignment of carriers. Only 15 appeared in the 103 resumes. All of that group of carriers have been identified with action in the Pacific.

The carriers named are: Independence, Long Island, Yorktown, Lexington, Santee, Nassau, Sangaman, Suwanee, Chenango, Enterprise, Cowpens, Saratoga, Essex, Bunker Hill, and Princeton, the latter listed only yesterday as having been sunk in the battle of the Philippines.

More Disclosures

The Navy did make these disclosures, for the first time, in discussing operations of the carriers:

The Lexington, namesake of a carrier lost in the battle of the Coral Sea in May, 1942, has been damaged. She was struck by an aerial torpedo last December, returned to the United States for repairs and now is back in action.

The air group of the Yorktown—successor to a carrier lost in the battle of Midway—has set this record: Shot down every Jap plane attacking the Yorktown; flown the first planes into action from an Essex class carrier; never lost a dive or torpedo bomber in battle with Japanese aircraft.

The Long Island—"baby flattop"—ferried planes to Guadalcanal in August, 1942, first official notice that these small carriers were in Pacific action at that time.

The Independence, first of a class of medium aircraft carriers, was struck by an aerial torpedo during the invasion of the Gilbert islands in November, 1943.

Here is the breakdown of the big ships of the fleet between the Pacific and Atlantic oceans as shown in the Navy's reports of battle action up to the middle of August, subject to changes since that time which may have boosted the strength of the Pacific fleet:

Pacific:

Battleships — Iowa, Alabama, Massachusetts, Washington, New Jersey, North Carolina, South Carolina, South Dakota, New Mexico, California, Colorado, Mississippi, Indiana, Idaho, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Tennessee—16.

Light And Heavy Cruisers

Heavy cruisers — Vincennes, Louisville, Indianapolis, Boston, Baltimore, Wichita, San Francisco, Houston (new, succeeding Houston lost in Java sea), Portland, New Orleans, Pensacola, Minneapolis, Salt Lake City, Chester,—14.

Light cruisers—Boise, Mobile, Birmingham, San Diego, Santa Fe, Montpelier, Phoenix, St. Louis, Honolulu, Oakland, Biloxi, Detroit, Denver, Raleigh, Miami, Trenton, Columbia, Cleveland, Richmond, Nashville, Concord, San Juan, Marblehead—23.

Atlantic:

Battleships—New York, Nevada, Texas, Arkansas—4

Heavy cruisers—Quincy (successor to Quincy lost in battle of Savo island), Augusta, Tuscaloosa—3.

Light cruisers — Milwaukee, Memphis, Philadelphia, Savanah, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Omaha—7.

Two New Ones

In addition the Navy disclosed that the new battleships Wisconsin and Missouri have been commissioned. Both presumably are headed for action in the Pacific.

Two of the new battle cruisers, officially listed as "large cruisers" and unofficially described as "pocket battleships" also were disclosed by the Navy to have been commissioned. They are the Alaska and the Guam, both expected to move into the Pacific war zones. Other new warships included in the Navy day lists are these cruisers: Pittsburgh, Pasadena, Reno, Flint, Duluth, Wilkes-Barre, Springfield, and Vicksburg, all expected to be assigned to the Pacific.

The Congressional Record, official publication of the U. S. Congress, once was named the Congressional Globe.

WITH the AEF

by KENNETH L. DIXON

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, Oct. 19. (Delayed) (AP)—To an average observer's eye—unenlightened by any views of "the big picture"—the situation in the Vosges heights shows every sign of developing into winter trench warfare reminiscent of that same struggle the doughboys' fathers fought in this same terrain a quarter century ago.

DIXON

Already in some sectors where vicious artillery and mortar duels have shredded trees into gaunt, blackened skeletons, foxholes are giving way to zigzag trenches.

The Germans are resorting more and more to barbed wire entanglements. In this war they have been adding a little modern, scientific novelty to the entanglements—intricate booby traps.

Constantly increasing casualties from tree-bursting artillery shells in these sectors long since have forced soldiers to transform their foxholes into dugouts wherever possible. In some instances they use the "buddy system" famed from the San Pietro battle. There two men shared each foxhole and those holes extended back into underground tunnels where one doughboy rested and slept if he could while the other fought.

Now when tree bursts come, if unaccompanied by infantry attacks, both soldiers get into the tunnel.

Some Contact System

If any one position remains static a few days, it becomes natural that the soldiers are going to work out some contact system which does not expose them to enemy fire.

Trenches are the obvious answer.

The same applies to dugouts. This includes such positions as command posts, forward observation posts (dugouts for off-duty protection in the latter case) and all front-line duties which do not require personnel to keep their heads above ground.

Naturally, houses still hold top preference as command posts—a development of last winter's Italian campaign. In Tunisia and Sicily and the early parts of the Italian fighting, commanding officers avoided houses, according to military copybook maxims. But time taught them that many buildings are just about as safe as foxholes and dugouts and infinitely more practical.

Doughboys who fought at Anzio know how to make dugouts firm; strong and bulwarked overhead with logs, earth and stones. Newcomers are learning fast. Some dugouts even now are well furnished, equipped and heated—but most of them are not because neither time, equipment nor enemy action permit it.

ELLIOTT'S WING CITED

EIGHTH AIRFORCE RECONNAISSANCE WING HEADQUARTERS, Eng., Oct. 26. (AP) — The Eighth Air force reconnaissance wing commanded by Col. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, has won a commendation from Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of the 12th army group. Bradley lauded its work of speedily producing exact photo maps and aiding the operations of his army group.

DOUBLE-PUNCH—These twins, John Robert, left; and William Reginald, right, sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Crabtree of Levelland, went "double" into the Navy this week, just as they have been double in practically everything all their 17 years. They left Monday night for enlistment in Dallas, after having been physically passed by the Navy Recruiting station in Lubbock. They will go into a 10-months Navy combat air crew training course, comprised of gunnery, radio, ordnance and electronics elements—as seamen second class. They were graduated last year from Levelland High school, where they played football. They will be 18 Oct. 31.

Letters To The Editor From Readers

RAPS "PAPPY"

Editor, The Avalanche: A few weeks ago I fired a little squib in The Avalanche at the Texas Regulars and O'Daniel, in which I stated I was good and ready to vote to send O'Daniel somewhere, I did not care where, just so he could not get back to his "Beautiful Texas."

Now, look what has happened, he has appointed himself as leader of the Texas Regulars and moved his whole show, caboose and all, right back into Texas.

I would not be at all surprised to get up some morning and read in my paper, The Morning Avalanche, where he has appointed himself as President of the United States. That is the only way he will ever get to be President of the U. S., and about the only way he will ever be U. S. senator from Texas again.

I guess it would be all right for me to make this prediction: the next time he runs he will face our present governor, and if he does he had better leave his show at home. Voters are pretty well fed up with shows of this nature, in times like we are now going through.

J. W. Buchanan,
Slaton.

DEFENDS "PAPPY"

Editor, The Avalanche: I want to say that I approve 100% of the statement that was made your column the other evening, in regards to the New Deal party trying to smear the Republican party, and the Republican party trying to smear the New Deal.

I was in hopes when I read this in the paper that these editorial birds had washed their hands and cleaned up in the old time way. But instead the very next morning I read in the Morning Avalanche where these editorial writers had turned around and done the same thing that they had criticized the New Dealers and the Republicans for doing. Yes, I really think they did lots worse.

It seems that these editorial writers think it is all right for them to smear and criticize, but it is too bad for the other fellow to take that part away from them. Yes, it seems like our good editor likes a man when he is holding office—just sit straddled of the fence and never say anything. But if there is anything said, they want to do the hollering themselves.

After all of this smearing the editor has poked at O'Daniel, my opinion is that he looks at this New Deal about like O'Daniel does. I think where the editor's trouble is, he came out against O'Daniel when he ran for governor the first time and tried to get him defeated, but the people would not listen to him. On top of all of this, O'Daniel whipped him four times with all of these big mouth politicians.

And yes, O'Daniel did all of his own fighting by himself at that time, but he isn't by himself now. That is what tickles me. There is no doubt in my mind that this makes the editor shake his hard head.

T. R. Jones,
Lubbock.

Texas Army Nurse Is Back In The Paciic

HEADQUARTERS SOUTH PACIFIC BASE COMMAND—(AP)—A Texas Army nurse evacuated by air from Bataan just before the American surrender has returned to duty out here for a purpose—"to realize what it's like to be on the winning side."

Pretty Lucy I. Wilson of Big Sandy and four other women represent Texas in military hospitals of the South Pacific. It's the second trip overseas for Miss Wilson, now a first lieutenant. She volunteered for both assignments.

"My first job in this war was most unsatisfactory as all my friends were taken prisoner," she explained. "I thought I'd try again."

Now chief nurse of an air evacuation squad at a Guadalcanal hospital, she assigns other nurses to duties and flights, keeps records and maintains discipline.

Second Lt. Ivalee L. Holtz of San Antonio, also is a Guadalcanal flight nurse.

Second Lt. Elizabeth Hollander of Austin is in New Zealand; 2nd Lt. Nora L. Weddle of Bonham, on New Caledonia, and Capt. Ina J. Zarr, of Houston, in the New Hebrides islands.

Decrease Noted In Food Prices

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Retail food prices during the last two months have decreased slightly more than one per cent, according to the monthly survey of food items by the state bureau of labor statistics. The survey was made in 19 Texas cities, covering 85 basic food items.

Largest increases were those prices of bakery products and eggs, while fresh fruits and vegetables showed the largest decreases.

Retail food prices are still 31.95 per cent above those prices prevailing in April, 1941, the bureau said.

Candidates Face Tough Schedule As Campaign Moves Toward Finale

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

President Roosevelt swings today into intensive home stretch campaigning expected to keep him on the road much of the time from now until the voters choose between him and Governor Thomas E. Dewey 10 days hence.

Tonight he speaks in Shibe baseball park, Philadelphia. The address will be heard from 8 to 8:30 p. m. central war time, over CBS and Mutual.

From Philadelphia, the President will travel a road Dewey already has paced to Chicago and address a mammoth rally at Soldier Field tomorrow night.

Other Appearances

His campaign plans after that have not been disclosed but he is expected to visit Boston, possibly Cleveland, and is down for an election eve speech at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

As the President made ready for his trip, he was praised in a statement by Secretary of State Hull as a "statesman equiped by nature and experience" to meet what Hull termed the "gravest crisis" in human history.

Dewey, just back from Chicago, settled down to work at Albany on a speech wooing the farm vote. It will be delivered at Syracuse. N. Y., Saturday. Other speeches on his schedule include: Buffalo, Oct. 31; Boston, Nov. 1; Madison Square Garden, Nov. 4; and an election eve broadcast over all networks.

Controversy Flares

A cross-fire of controversy followed Dewey back from Chicago as a result of his accusation there that President Roosevelt lent his name to a plan "to sell 'special privilege' and a 'voice in the formulation of administration policies' for one thousand dollars on the barrelhead."

He based his statement on a letter signed by Democratic finance directors in Arkansas which said the President considered it "a good idea to have a list of one thousand persons banded together . . . to see that facts relating to the public interest are presented factually to the President and members of Congress." Dewey said the letter advised that membership in the group could be attained by making a $1,000 contribution to the Democratic campaign fund.

In New York, Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan said he had never discussed the matter with the President and declared "it is completely ridiculous to assert that anyone who makes a contribution to the Democratic National committee will be the recipient of special favors."

Not "Much Of A Denial"

Republican Chairman Herbert Brownell, jr., commented that Hannegan had not made "much of a denial."

The White House issued a statement taking issue with remarks in Dewey's recent Minneapolis speech. The statement said Dewey, in referring to a budget bureau cut of $552,000,000 in funds for the war department for the fiscal year 1941, emphasized a 7 per cent cut and ignored an "800 per cent increase" over the previous fiscal year's funds.

Republican vice presidential candidate John W. Bricker, continuing his vote-seeking in the Southwest, told a Shawnee, Okla., audience yesterday that the New Deal had precipitated "class hatreds, riots, strikes and stained relations" between employers and employees. He moved on to Missouri, home state of Senator Harry S. Truman, his Democratic opponent, today for a series of nine speeches.

RAILROAD REPORTS DECLINE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway company today reported September net operating income of $376,065, or 22.95 per cent less than $488,904 reported for September a year ago.

Former State Solon Dies At Denton Home

DENTON, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon for A. W. Walker, 77, a former Texas legislator, lawyer, oilman and prohibition leader. He died Wednesday night.

Walker was elected to the legislature in 1900 and served until 1910.

Survivors include his widow and three children, Mrs. W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls; James Walker of Fort Worth, and A. W. Walker, jr., member of the law faculty of the University of Texas now on leave as a Naval attache in South America.

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

Improper diet, overwork, undue worries, colds, the flu or other illness often impairs the stomach's digestive functions and reduces the red-blood strength.

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

At such times Nature needs extra help to restore its balance and function properly. Undigested food places a tax on the system...insufficient blood strength is a detriment to good health.

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need!

SSS Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat . . . to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality . . . pep . . . become animated . . . more attractive!

The Opal BIRTHSTONE

FOR OCTOBER

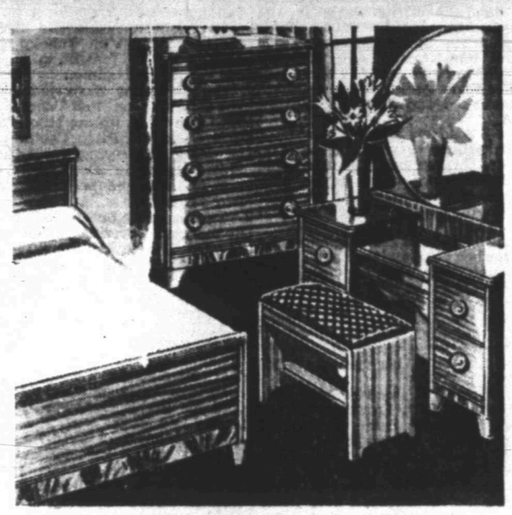

The opal is noted for its remarkable changing color. It has been likened to a rainbow and in ancient times was regarded with superstitious awe because of its uncanny changes of color.

Hungarian opals ruled supreme up to the closing years of the nineteenth century. Since then opals have been discovered in Australia. Here also the famous black opals were found which added still further to the variety of this desirable gem.

Red Raiders, Westerners Meet Old Rivals Tonight

Red Raiders Battle WTSTC At Amarillo

Coach Dell Morgan and his Texas Tech Red Raiders will leave today for Amarillo where they play the West Texas State Teachers college Buffalos tonight on Butler field in a renewal of an old rivalry, and the season's first game with another Border Conference foe.

The Red Raiders will again be cast in the role of underdogs, but fans concede the Red Raiders the best chance of the year to pull an upset with the Buffs.

Buffs Won One

West Texas State has won one game his season, beating the New Mexico Lobos, and scored on the mighty Amarillo Army Air Field Sky Giants. The Red Raiders are still seeking their first win of the season, but have shown some potent offensive punch against some of the strongest teams in the Southwest.

Just how much this offensive punch will be slowed down because of the absence of Walter Schlinkman, the Dumas Demon, remains to be proven on the football field, but Schlinkman will be missing from the starting lineup, and very likely from the entire game because of injuries received last week in the Southwestern game.

But the return of Costin Bufkin to playing condition has given the hopes of the team a great boost, and while Bufkin will not start, and will be used only sparingly, he will be a constant threat.

Another member of the "regular" backfield who will see little action will be Gene Hardey, the Kansas lad who has been rated as first string quarterback. Hardey has been held up with a knee injury. Arthur Shahan of Graham will be the only regular starter in the backfield.

Because of his great showing in the workouts of the past week, Coach Morgan moved Clyde Black of Ben Franklin into the starting lineup for the Amarillo game, and named ten freshmen to go along with him.

Black, a squadman last season, will be the only "veteran" in the starting lineup named by Morgan.

Jim Taylor of Sweetwater and Luke Thompson of Eldorado, who have been regular starters at ends, were named again. Billy Snodgrass, the Brownfield Man Mountain, and Black were named to start at tackles. Homer Lawson of Lubbock and John Birdwell of Bossier City, La., were named to start at guards and Otis Turner of Wink at center.

In the backfield, Morgan named Ernest Hawkins of Lamesa at quarterback, Shahan and Cecil Norris of Beaumont at halves and Billy Whitehead of Mason at fullback. All but Black are freshmen.

With the exception of Schlinkman, all members of the squad are expected to see action in the game.

It will be the first time this season the Red Raiders have faced a team in their own experience class, and will find the Buffs made up largely of freshmen, with a sprinkling of veterans.

POW GETS GOLF BALLS

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP) — War prisoners aid of the Y.M.C.A. announced today it had sent 500 golf balls to Geneva, for transfer to American prisoners of war in German camps. Clubs for 100 players also were in the shipment.

Unbeaten Teams Have Breathers

(By The Associated Press)

The ranks of the unbeaten and untied appear on solid ground for this week at least in Texas schoolboy football with only one team in any appreciable danger.

Paschal's Panthers, favorites in the Fort Worth district and one of the nine teams left in Texas with perfect records, runs into Poly, its cross-town rival, Friday night. It is the only game in the state matching unbeaten teams. Poly having only a tie to mar its record. Paschal is favored but this is a deep rivalry and anything can happen.

Highland Park (Dallas) is the only member of the top ten teams (those ranked by the state's sports writers) facing a dangerous opponent. The fourth-ranking Scotties tackle Wichita Falls at Dallas.

Four of the other eight undefeated, untied outfits do not have games. North Side (Fort Worth), Sunset (Dallas), Waco and Austin are the elevens that rest. Sweetwater plays Lamesa, Tyler engages Henderson, Goose Creek meets South Park (Beaumont) and Kerrville plays Corpus Christi.

Second ranking San Angelo plays Odessa in an important conference game but is not expected to encounter too much trouble. Here is the schedule:

Friday—Plainview at Lubbock, Pampa at Brownfield, Electra at Graham, Seymour at Quanah, Olney at Vernon, Odessa at San Angelo, Midland at Abilene, Sweetwater at Lamesa, Austin (El Paso) at Roswell, N. M., Bowie (El Paso) at Globe, Ariz., Ysleta at Douglas, Ariz., Phoenix, Ariz., at El Paso High, Paris at Denison, Gainesville at Sherman, Arlington at Denton, Wichita Falls at Highland Park (Dallas), Texarkana at Sulphur Springs, Polytechnic (Fort Worth) vs Paschal (Fort Worth), North Dallas vs Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Mineral Wells at Brownwood, Breckenridge at Ranger, Cisco at Weatherford, Palestine at Bryan, Ennis at Cleburne, Henderson at Tyler, Athens at Gladewater, Jacksonville at Longview, Reagan (Houston) at Marshall, St. Thomas (Houston) at Lufkin, Killeen at Nacogdoches, Jeff Davis (Houston) vs Austin (Houston), Port Arthur at Orange, Beaumont at Galveston, South Park (Beaumont) at Goose Creek, Kerrville at Corpus Christi, Edinburg at Brackenridge (San Antonio), Harlingen at McAllen, La Feria at Kingsville, San Benito at Weslaco, Brownsville at Robstown.

Saturday—Fort Worth Tech vs Masonic Home (Fort Worth), Adamson (Dallas) vs Forest (Dallas), Lamar (Houston) vs Sam Houston (Houston), Conroe at Port Neches.

Schoolboy Netters Open Tourney Today

Sixteen boys entered the year's first practice tournament for members of the Tennis club at Lubbock High school, with play to start this afternoon on the Dupre courts in doubles. Singles will be played Saturday morning, starting at 9 o'clock.

The opening match of the doubles will pair Joe Dean Payne and Giles Carter against Lewis Hawkins and Herbert Hawkins. The winner of these two will play either David Rowland and Fred McDonald, or Jerry Thrust and Phil Bennett.

In the singles Saturday morning, Lewis Hawkins will play Kenneth Cawthorn, David Hester will play Fred McDonald, Giles Carter will play Joe Dean Payne, and Vernon Bradley will play Herbert Hawkins. David Rowland will play the winner of the Carter-Payne match.

Mrs. John Wilson, sponsor of the club, announced that since only two girls entered for singles, and none for doubles, the girls would not take part in this tournament. But other girls are expected to fall into line soon to give the club a better rounded membership.

Cowhands Hit Hard To Down Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 26.— (Special) — The Lubbock Cowhands Black struck with both offense and defense during the last half here Thursday afternoon to nose out the Brownfield B team, 11 to 0.

The two teams battled on even terms in the first half, which ended scoreless, but the Cowhands gained a lead in the third quarter when Brownfield fumbled over the goal line for a safety.

Arthur Rampy slashed through score from five yards out for the the line in he third quarter to touchdown, and Wayne Cobb kicked the extra point for a 9-0 Cowhand lead. In the same period, Truman strout raced 65 yards to cross the Brownfield goal, but the play was called back for an offside penalty.

Later in the game, a Brownfield player intercepted a pass, and was tackled back of the goal line when he tried to reverse his field, and gave the Cowhands another safety.

Joe Wofford, captain and center of the Cowhands, played a great game on the defensive for the winners.

Westerners To Play Plainview 11 Here

The season's greatest football turnout is expected at Tech stadium tonight when the flashy Lubbock Westerners and the pass-happy Plainview Bulldogs tangle in the District 1-AA opener for both clubs at 8:15 o'clock.

The game is expected to be a rugged offensive battle with the duel settling down into a test of George Brewer's churning knees against Jack Williams' famed passing arm, and many fans are expecting to see a free scoring offensive battle that looms now as a toss up between the two teams.

Lubbock Line Praised

That "good old Lubbock line" has been largely overshadowed by the flashy play of the Lubbock backfield, but it has been that forward wall that has played a large role in the early season success of the Westerners, and will get one of it's greatest tests tonight.

The team will go into the game in top condition. There are one or two of the boys with ailments, but they are not expected to be forced out of the ball game because of these injuries.

The only major change in the Lubbock lineup will be no surprise to the fans who have been watching the Westerners work out this week, and will send R. W. Moyers, 190 pound fullback, into the line at right tackle to take over the position manned by O. C. Foster, another letterman, who has been favoring an ankle injury.

Probable Starters

Clinton Benefield and Billy Bob Harris are expected to start at ends, Eldon Giles and R. W. Moyers at tackles, Johnny Pearson and Charles Crawford at guards, Charles Pressley at center are named as the starting line.

In the backfield, there will be no changes from the usual Johnny Cole, George Brewer, Johnny Davis and Jim Lowrey combination that has carried the Westerners to four wins in five starts.

There has been an ominous silence from the Plainview kennel, and the Bulldogs of Coaches Finis Vaughn and Leslie Clary are expected to have their veteran eleven ready to spring everything in the books when they take the field tonight.

Jack Williams saw little action last week against Sweetwater, but is expected to be ready for the full 48 minute battle against the Westerners, and to offer the Westerners pass defense the greatest test it has faced this season.

Plainview has shown a more potent offense than the Westerners this season, and have played just about the same caliber schedule. But the Plainview defense can not touch that of the Westerners, as shown to date.

Comparison of Records

Plainview opened the season with a 52-0 win over Hollis, Oklahoma, then nosed out Childress, 26-21, then rolled over Electra 26-0. Then the Bulldogs hit trouble in big batches, and were bumped 32-6 by Midland and 37-13 by Sweetwater, and should be on the rebound tonight.

The Westerners roared over Odessa 18-6, nosed San Angelo, 7-6, won over Big Spring, 25-0 and Lamesa by 40-0, then were beaten 7-6 by Abilene and should also be on the rebound.

The advance sale of tickets have indicated that one of the season's greatest crowds would be on hand, and the same reports have come in from Plainview where tickets for the game have sold with the same kind of speed. More than 1,000 fans are expected to make the journey from Plainview to Lubbock for the game.

Brownfield Set For Pampa Clash

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 26. (Special)—The Brownfield Cubs, undefeated, but once tied will get a chance to show that they have on the ball Friday night when they take the field against the defending champions of District 1-AA, the Pampa Harvesters.

The Harvesters have been beaten twice, but both losses were to teams that have shown no favorites with any foes on their schedule, and the way the Harvesters have clicked in their last two ball games stamp them as a decided threat in the district race.

THANKS JOHNNY, GEORGE

The sports department of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche and fellow workers were treated to a watermelon feed Thursday night through the courtesy of Johnny Bost, athletic director at Brownfield High school, and delivery from Coach George Philbrick of the Lubbock Cowhands and the feud mentioned recently in the column of the Sports Eye closed with an official armistice.

The Cubs ran into trouble in their opening game, and were held held to a 6-6 tie by the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, but roared back to knock over Seminole, 38-2, beat Levelland 13-0 and last week polished off a strong Hobbs, New Mexico, club, 12-7.

Pampa started off the season with a 13-0 win over Class A Phillips, then were beaten by Midland, 18-13, then nosed out 7-0 by Oklahoma City Central, one of that state's top teams. The Harvesters then began to show power and stormed over Quanah, 47-0 and last week blasted Clovis, New Mexico, by a warning 83-2 score.

From this ball game will come a team that will be a decided threat to the District 1-AA ratings in a conference that opens play with five teams ready to stage a pennant battle down to the finish wire.

Six Lubbock Women Enter Golf Tourney

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 26—Six Lubbock women filed their entries this week for the first annual All-Southwest Women's Victory Invitational golf tournament to be unreeled at the Country club, Oct. 31-Nov. 4.

Lubbock competitors already signed are Mesdames Charles Akey, Fenner Tubbs, T. E. Patterson, Morley Jennings, Roy Autry and Cliff Widener.

Seven Amarillo entries were received in the same mail, Manager Solon Featherston said. The best feminine flailers in the southwest will play in the tournament. Entries have been received from all the leading cities in Texas, in addition to Shreveport, La., Oklahoma City, Las Vegas, N. M., and two Missouri cities.

Mrs. Bettye Mims White, 1941 public links champion of Dallas, won the Longview invitational title last week by defeating a fellow townsman, Mrs. Joanne Barr Tracy, Dallas Women's Golf Association champion. Both women have entered the Wichita Falls event.

The Oklahoma delegation will be paced by Mrs. John Glosser, Oklahoma City champion, and Mrs. George Landram, Central Oklahoma Women's Association titlist.

Mrs. Opal Hill, three times winner of the Women's Western Amateur open and member of the Curtis Cup team, will play an exhibition match here Oct. 29.

Qualifying rounds will be completed by Oct. 31 and match play, over an 18-hole route, starts Nov. 1. The finals will be played Nov. 4. The champion will win a $100 war bond, the runner-up and medalist $50 war bonds and flight winners $25 bonds.

Women Keglers Give Men Double Defeat

The Godwin Booterie women's bowling team set the pace Thursday night in the opening round of the Men vs. Women bowling tournament at the Plamor alleys, by sweeping all three games from the Optimist club. Hemphill-Wells club added another victory to the women's honors by taking two out of three games from Coca-Cola.

The lone win for the men came from the two out of three victory of the S. & Q. Clothiers over Dr. Pepper.

Class A Games Share Grid Spotlight On South Plains

There is a good prospect that one Class A district champion will be named tonight, and another winner will be given the inside track on another crown, to give Class A football one of it's most colorful weekends of the season.

It is seldom that a district crown is determined this early in the season, but the Littlefield Wildcats play their last conference game tonight, and will be highly favored to win it. A victory will leave them undisputed champions, undefeated and untied in District 5-A.

Wildcats Show Class

In rolling to wins over Sudan, Morton, Olton and Levelland, the Wildcats were really tested only twice, but when the chips were down, they came through like real champs.

The Wildcats have only the Muleshoe Yellowjackets to play in conference play, and face them tonight in Littlefield. Muleshoe has tied one and lost four in five times out, and have shown some stout defense, but it is doubtful if that defense will be enough to stop J. S. Fikes' high scoring Wildcats.

Littlefield's famed passing combination of Billy Lyman to Homer Peel have completed 75 percent of their passes this season, including six thrown by Lyman for touchdowns, five of them to Peel.

Littlefield has only two more games on its schedule, both home affairs. The Wildcats play Hereford on Nov. 3 and Tulia Nov. 17, both non-conference games.

6-A Headliner

A much more evenly paired battle at O'Donnell tonight will very likely determine Littlefield's bi-district foe. Unbeaten teams from Denver City and O'Donnell clash there to name an undisputed leader in District 6-A, but both will have at least one more dangerous game farther down the line.

The 6-A race has been reduced to a three-way battle with Tahoka's Bulldogs clinging to faint thread of hope that they might bounce back into the thick of the fight before the end of the season.

The game at O'Donnel will pair off two of the greatest Class A backfield stars in the West Texas area in Terrell of Denver City and Hubert McGallion of O'Donnell. The O'Donnell star is the high scorer of the district, having piled up 109 points this season.

The only other conference game in the two districts will send the Levelland Lobos to Olton, with the winner to stay in the fight for the District 5-A crown—should Muleshoe upset the Littlefield eleven.

In District 6-A, Seminole will be host to Lovington, New Mexico, the only team to mar Denver City's record with a 6-6 tie. Seminole is the regional champion of last year, and Levelland is defending champion in 5-A.

It may take as many as 12 bottles of dried blood serum to keep a fighting man alive when he has been gravely wounded.

Big Spring Steers Nose By Tahoka, 6-0

BIG SPRING, Oct. 26 (Special) Pushing over a touchdown in the second quarter, the Big Spring Steers nosed out the Tahoka Bulldogs, 6-0, here tonight in a non-conference ball game.

Gerald Harris recovered a Tahoka fumble on the Tahoka 31-yard line to set up the score. With Carl Cook and Hugh Cochran alternating at carrying the ball, the Steers scored in six plays. Cochran rammed the ball over from two yards out.

Tahoka made one serious threat in the game, driving to the Steer 14-yard line in the fourth quarter in a drive spearheaded by LaVaughn Caraway, who was an outstanding performer throughout the game.

A. L. Hodge, Tahoka tackle, played an outstanding game in the visitors forward wall, and "four good quarters in the Big Spring backfield." The outstanding linemen for Big Spring were Bryan, Harris and Rusk.

Big Spring held a 10-7 advantage in first and tens, and outgained the Bulldogs rushing, 185 to 94, but the Bulldogs held an advantage in the air by 55 to 13.

MORE BOWL TALK

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26. (AP)—Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets bobbed up in Sugar Bowl football talk here today. Sports Editor Harry Martinez of the New Orleans States gave Coach Bill Alexander's boys "a chance to pay a return visit" to the post season classic.

Hale Center Club Play Canyon Club Today

HALE CENTER, Oct. 26. (Special—The Hale Center gridders will be ready to shoot the works here Friday night in seeking to win the rubber game of the series with the West Texas High school Calves from Canyon.

Hale Center won the first meeting between the two teams, 12-6, and Canyon won the second meeting, 13-12.

Hunt Pioneers Romp Over Carter Coyotes

The Hunt Pioneers took to the air Thursday afternoon, and defeated the K. Carter Coyotes, 18-0 in a grade school touch football game.

Wayne Stroud passed to Kenneth Young for the first touchdown, then Young took over the passing to pitch one to Stroud for the second marker, then passed to Glenn Adair for the third.

way.

Despite bitter German resistance, Canadian troops mopping up the enemy pocket on the south side of the estuary captured the town of Costburg, four miles southeast of Cadzand.

Other Canadian forces driving directly north from Antwerp fought within two miles of the important German base of Bergen Op Zoom, western anchor of the enemy's 56-mile defense line across Holland.

East of Bergen Op Zoom the Canadians captured the village of Nispen, a mile north of Esschen, and troops showing up the Antwerp-Breda highway were about two miles from Zundert, which is nine miles from Breda.

It was disclosed that British forces driving forward in the Tilburg-'S Hertogenbosch area were employing "artificial moonlight" to enable them to keep their offensive rolling by night as well as by day. First used at Caen, the "moonlight" is achieved by focusing batteries of mobile searchlights on enemy positions.

Others Relatively Quiet

The remainder of the long Western front remained comparatively quiet. A field dispatch estimated that 50,000 German men, women and children were digging tank traps and building concrete fortifications along the broad plain between the Siegfried line and such cities as Dusseldorf and Cologne.

The Germans launched several counterattacks against the French in the Vosges mountains near the southern end of the front, but all were declared to have been thrown back. The French First Army was reported to have been bolstered by 50,000 members of the former underground Army.

Russian Advances

land along the Lwow-Budapest railway. The town is 21 miles southeast of Uzhorod, capital of the former autonomous Czechoslovak province.

Farther to the southwest in Hungary the Russians were declared by Berlin to have established two new bridgeheads across the Tisza river, last big water barrier before Budapest, on both sides of Szolnok, a fiercely-contested hinge town which is under Soviet artillery fire.

Northern Norway

In northern Norway the Russians in sub-zero weather were reported fanning out from Kirkenes, captured Nazi naval base on the Arctic ocean, and hurling the Germans across the barren lands to the west.

A Moscow dispatch said that the Russian attack in the north and a Finnish drive from the south was pushing 130,000 German troops out of Finland into Norway.

A Stockholm dispatch said that the crippled German battleship Tirpitz had been moved from its anchorage at Altenfjord because of the Russian advance and taken temporary refuge near Tromso, nearly 100 miles farther down the Norwegian coast.

Forrestal Appeal

of the war."

"We have—at least temporarily—reduced the Japanese Navy to a much more unhappy condition than confronted us after Pearl Harbor," Forrestal continued. "We estimate that two-thirds of the Japanese battleships have been sunk or damaged. Japan's cruiser and destroyer forces, inadequate for some time, have suffered the temporary or permanent loss of 15 to 20 additional vessels. These figures may go higher."

The first broadcast of London's Big Ben was made in 1923.

PRICES TURN DOWNWARD

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Stocks, bonds and commodities sold off rather substantially today as the big Pacific victory revived short-war psychology and accentuated prospects of industrial reconversion troubles on the home front.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .4 of a point at 54.5. The market was broad, 923 issues appearing. Of these, 565 were down 143 up and 215 unchanged. Transfers totaled 927,090 shares compared with 638,225 Wednesday.

Prominent on the offside were Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft and Kennecott.

Ending a bit improved were Texas Pacific Land Trust, at another 1944 peak; American Telephone, Grumman Aircraft and Certain-Teed.

Carrier bonds were in supply.

Backward in the curb were American Gas, Utah-Idaho Sugar was a lively gainer of ¼. Bowman Biltmore preferred jumped a point. Turnover here was 254,440 shares versus 201,450 yesterday.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—A flurry of last-minute hedge-selling and nervous liquidation carried cotton futures into new low ground for today's session with final prices off 40 to 85 cents a bale.

Trade belief that announcement of the export subsidy program will be made shortly was a restriction factor. Reactions in other markets alo had an unsettling effect as did uncertainties concerning the government cotton purchase program.

Considerable export business is anticipated under the subsidy arrangement with some quarters predicting possible exports for the entire season ending July 31, 1945, at upwards of 4,000,000 bales.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—A mid-session rally in grain futures failed to hold today and prices moved into new low ground near the close. Liquidation was attributed to favorable war news and to profit taking following the recent substantial advances in all pits.

Wheat prices were down nearly a cent and the trade was light. Lower corn prices were the result of hedge selling and an increase in country offerings.

At the close wheat was ⅝ to 2 ⅛ lower than yesterday's finish, December $1.63 ⅞. Corn was off 1 ⅜ to 2 ¼, December $1.11 ¾. Oats were ¾ to 1 lower, December 66 ½-⅝. Rye was down 1 ⅜ to 2, December $1.11 ⅞-1.12. Barley was off ⅜ to ⅝, December $1.06 ⅝.

Gunner Downs Three Nazis In 5 Minutes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — S/Sgt. David C. Sullivan, the War department reported today, recently shot down three German Fockewulf 190's in a five-minute aerial duel over Leipzig.

The 21-year-old tail gunner in a B-17 Flying Fortress, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sullivan of Muncie, Ind. His wife, Mrs. Lois Sullivan, resides at Abilene, Tex.

Sullivan said the German planes "bored in from the rear" as his bomber started its bomb run and he "let them have it."

Philippines' Landing Show Jap Weakness

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — The American landing in the Philippines, Secretary Stimson said today, was a "psychological and military disaster of the first order for Japan, awakening her people to the blunders and fallibility of the Japanese admirals and generals."

The landings on Leyte were made with "very light casualties," while Japanese losses have been "many times larger than our own," Stimson told his news conference.

He cautioned, however, that enemy resistance will grow stronger.

More Top Grade Meat Available Next Month

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — More top grade meats will reach civilian markets next month, the Office of Price Administration said today in announcing that, with only two exceptions, ration values on food will remain unchanged during November.

Rationed meats—choice, good and commercial grades of beef steaks and roasts, lamb chops and roasts, and pork hams and loins —will be in greater supply by approximately 4,000,000 pounds over October. Only lamb among rationed meats will be less plentiful, although the overall civilian allocation of all meats will decline by 2.4 per cent.

Only ration changes for the new period are a 20 point reduction for the No. 2 can of applesauce and a slight decrease for packaged spaghetti and macaroni dinners.

Butter will continue at 20 points a pound.

Hillman Denies GOP Claim He And Browder Control Democrats

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP) —Sidney Hillman denied today Republican claims that he and Earl Browder, had taken over the Democratic party.

Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action committee, said in a general press interview that "I have never met Mr. Browder," head of the Communist organization in the United States.

"Such claims," he continued "are part of the Republican party's campaign of false issues. The CIO and PAC propose to remain free, independent instruments of leadership and have no desire to take over the Democratic party."

Jap Losses May Go Beyond 30

today a light cruiser was damaged by fighter-escorted Liberators in the Mindanao sea, the direction which would be taken by the Japanese fleet which had moved to battle through Surigao straits.

Both enemy battleships went down off the Philippines. MacArthur reported the sinking of one. John Leonard, Reuter's naval correspondent aboard Rear Adm. Barbey's flagship in Leyte gulf reported the other.

JAP PLAN FAILS TO TRAP KINKAID FORCE

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 26 (AP)—The great American naval triumph in the Philippines grew today to near knockout proportions, with fleet commanders reporting the Japanese lost upwards of 27 major fighting ships.

Incomplete returns showed Japan's losses included ten battleships sunk, probably sunk or damaged. The best available figures indicate the Nipponese had only a dozen battleships prior to the Pearl Harbor attack, although they may have built others since then.

Two of the battleships definitely were sunk, two probably sunk, and six heavily damaged.

Ten Cruisers Smashed

An official communique reported the sinking of one of the battleships. A dispatch from John Leonard, Reuter's naval correspondent aboard Rear Adm. Daniel Barbey's flagship in Leyte gulf, reported the sinking of a second battleship.

The score also showed five cruisers sunk and five damaged; two carriers sunk and one probably sunk; three destroyers definitely listed as sunk and one as damaged, and several other destroyers sunk,

These figures, taken from the communiques of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, lent weight to the opinion of observers that the U. S. Navy's brilliant successes in the three-phase battle of Oct. 24 and 25 (U. S. time) possibly would change the course of history in the Pacific and might well shorten the war by months.

Nimitz Lauds His Men

Nimitz, in a traditional "well done" message to the fleet, expressed his pride and gratitude for "the courageous and aggressive manner in which they have done their utmost to destroy the enemy in recent fighting in the Pacific."

Although the American commanders reported only the loss of two carriers and damage to several escort carriers and destroyers, the Japanese continued to claim a sizeable victory. An imperial headquarters report asserted 28 U. S. ships had been sunk, including two aircraft carriers, three cruisers, a destroyer, five transports and 17 large landing craft. They also claimed 34 other U. S. ships were set afire, damaged or beached, for an over-all total of 62 vessels. In an earlier report they claimed 78 American ships had been sunk or damaged.

Jap Plan Failed

The American communiques and reports of war correspondents on the spot also made clear what the Japanese Navy tried and failed to do.

It was forced to come out because of the American landings on Leyte island in the central Philippines eight days ago.

One Nipponese fleet unit of two battleships, two criusers and four destroyers, presumably from the China Sea, headed northeastward for the southern tip of Leyte island.

A second force of four battleships, ten cruisers and thirteen destroyers came out of the central Philippines and headed for the northern end of Leyte. They planned to converge on the eastern side of the island and trap the Seventh U. S. Fleet of Admiral Thomas Kinkaid in a viselike maneuver.

Third Moves From West

Still a third and larger force started for Leyte from the area between the Philippines and Formosa.

Outnumbered and outpowered, Kinkaid deliberately split his fleet, sending the two divisions to meet the first two Japanese threats.

At the southern approaches to Leyte the Americans hit the enemy fleet unit with devastating effect. Both battleships, a cruiser and three destroyers were sunk. The remaining cruisers and destroyer, heavily damaged, fled, with carrier planes still hammering at them.

Near Beachhead

The enemy rounding the north of Leyte got within 70 miles of the American beachhead and the American landing fleet. AP war correspondent C. Yates McDaniel reported the American position was in potential danger for a time but that the enemy was turned back with the aid of carrier planes some of which came ashore to refuel and then returned to the fight.

This Japanese force turned back into the waters north and east of Leyte and still was being pursued by carrier planes.

The third enemy element attacked Admiral William F. Halsey's light carrier planes off the northern Philippines and was stopped without damage to any American ships. However, the U. S. carrier Princeton was lost in the earlier stages of this action.

Unidentified Baby Is Found In Panel Truck

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP)—An unidentified ten-day old blond baby boy, wearing a white flannel gown and wrapped in a blanket was found on the driver's seat of a state highway panel truck, behind the state highway buildnig today by Cleveland Overton, negro janitor.

Chief of Police R. D. Thorp said the baby was taken to Brackenridge hospital.

News Briefs

A wave of bicycle thefts hit the city late Thursday, with more than a half a dozen wheels stolen, reports to police showed. O. Hudgens, 1111 Ave. F, reported theft of food and gasoline rationing books, a small amount of money and a watch. A thief was interested only in the gasoline rationing books when he went through a purse left in a car by Mrs. S. H. Spinks of Camp Dixie.

Mrs. Ewald Lamprecht, 2114 Thirty-first, underwent major surgery Thursday afternoon at Lubbock General hospital. She was reported "resting nicely" last night.

Bush Is Tenth War Reporter To Meet Death In Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (AP) —Asahel (Ace) Bush's luck ran out yesterday. The 31-year-old Associated Press war correspondent was killed by a Japanese bomb at Tacloban, liberated capital of Leyte island in the Philippines.

His death was reported by C. Yates McDaniel, chief of the AP staff covering the Philippine invasion. McDaniel said Bush had just covered a phase of the epochal naval battle off Leyte when Japanese planes raided Tacloban. Bush was killed outright.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur sent the following message to Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press:

"I have learned with deep regret of the death by enemy action of Asahel Bush. Bush was a credit to the profession he so ably represented. He was admired by all. Please convey my sincere sympathy to his loved ones."

Bush was the 10th civilian newsman killed in the Pacific theaters but the first Associated Press man to die in the line of duty in that area.

His widow, the former Fae Cornish DeSpain, and a daughter, Margaret Ann, 8, survive.

Bush was killed exactly one year after he left San Francisco for Australia.

During the Hollandia invasion in New Guinea Ace sat down to write his story in an abandoned Japanese ammunition dump. Minutes after he finished his story he left. A Jap plane came over and dropped one bomb. It hit the dump.

Advance On Leyte

coastal sector of Leyte from the northern end of San Juanico strait to Dulag, a distance of 40 miles," said MacArthur.

Counterblow Repulsed

Elements of the First Cavalry division, which seized the southern shores of Samor island, across the strait, repulsed a small enemy counterattack at Lapaz.

In the central section of the battlefront, west of Palo, the 24th division is meeting increasing opposition.

Farther south, in the 24th corps area sector, the 96th division captured Tabontabon. That inland highway junction town is three and a half miles west of the Catmon hills, which were enveloped earlier.

After sharp fighting the 7th division captured Buri, on the Burauen-Dagami road. Buri had been bypassed earlier, as the doughboys swept northward from captured Burauen, because of stiff Japanese opposition there.

Enemy Harassing Raids

Enemy air activity against Allied shipping in San Pedro bay and the beachhead areas of eastern Leyte again was limited to intermittent harassing raids. These caused light casualties and damage, the communique said.

Antiaircraft fire shot down 39 enemy planes, fighter patrols downed 14 more and carrier aircraft from flattops in Leyte gulf got 23.

Remnants of the Japanese naval force defeated in Leyte gulf by Vice Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid's Seventh Fleet were kept under continual attack by Allied aircraft.

13 Communities Freed

Thirteen additional communities were freed from the enemy. They are Anibung, Tigbae, Canmangui, Hindang, Bolongtohan, Kalvasag, Calampanon, Malabka, San Gabriel, Kanmonhag, Telegrafo, San Joaquin and Diit.

The northern coast of Leyte was secured by amphibious forces which vaulted around 20 miles of shoreline in a surprise move that virtually blocked the Japanese retreat northward from Tacloban. This operation, reported by MacArthur's Thursday communique, was matched by inland advances in the southern sector, where the capture of Burauen apparently boxed in the Japanese in the broad Leyte valley.

Couple Slightly Hurt When Car Hits Pole

H. D. Ross and wife of Dumas, Tex., received slight injuries Thursday afternoon when their car hit a pole and brushed a row of trees after swerving to miss a truck six miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway.

The couple, who were en route to their home at Dumas, received emergency aid at West Texas hospital and were released.

According to highway patrolmen, Mrs. Ross, the driver, said she failed to see a left-turn signal from the driver of the truck, J. C. Thompson. The truck driver related that as he swung his vehicle to cross the highway, he observed the Ross car bearing down and pulled out of its path. Patrolmen said the Ross car transversed the bar ditch and crashed into the poles and trees.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26. (AP) — Death has ended the career of movie executive Maurice McKenzie, 62, the original motion picture censor. He died yesterday in his Pacific Palisades home from heart disease.

Plans Laid For Security Meet

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—The United States government hopes to play host in January to a full dress United Nations conference aimed at creating a world security organization along the lines of the plan drafted at Dumbarton Oaks.

Prior to that time, possibly next month, Acting Secretary of State Stettinius disclosed today, President Roosevelt may meet with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin to complete the Dumbarton Oaks plan. The major unsettled question is voting procedure in event one of the great powers should be accused of aggression and threats to the peace.

Place And Date Undecided

The place and date for the United Nations conference have not been decided, Stettinius said, but he made it plain at his news conference that this country would seek to play host. Other officials have indicated a good possibility that the historic meetings, comparable to the Versailles conference of 25 years ago in its peace planning aspects, will be held in the United States.

Stettinius said, in response to questions, that the forthcoming presidential election is certainly a consideration in the plannning but he did not say just how.

Politics Mentioned

It is evident that whoever is elected President next month will take office before the date of the projected United Nations confrence and determine the role which the United States would play there.

Politics came in for another brief reference when Stettinius, in estimating the time required to do the work ahead, noted that President Roosevelt has two busy weeks ahead (before election), and said after that the President would be very tired.

The undersecretary added that he did not know, therefore, whether the President would be able to arrange a meeting next month with the other great men, as Stettinius called them.

Soprano Captivates Her Audience Here

Eleanor Steber, popular Meropolitan opera star, completely captivated an enthusiastic audience of 1200 at the Tech Artist course performance in the Senior High school auditorium Thursday night.

Miss Steber, accompanied by James Quillian, presented a varied and interesting program, but received her greatest ovation after an aria, "The Marriage of Figaro." The audience also enjoyed two numbers by Quillian.

A West Virginia girl who has become one of the most distinguished singing stars of the operatic and concert stage, as well as radio and recordings, Miss Steber is in her fourth season at the Metropolitan where she is one of its youngest stars. Entirely American trained, Miss Steber received her musical education at the New England Conservatory of Music and came to the Metropolitan Audition of the Air.

Rep. Dies To Make Oklahoma Speeches

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Rep. Martin Dies, Texas Democrat, and chairman of the House committee on un-American activities, will make four speeches for the Republican Dewey-Bricker presidential ticket in Oklahoma.

The Democrats for Dewey organization announced Dies will speak at Ardmore on Nov. 1, Seminole on Nov. 2, Tulsa on Nov. 3 and Oklahoma City on Nov. 4.

New Theory Advanced In Hostess' Slaying

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (AP) — Georgette Bauerdorf, 20, oil heiress and Hollywood canteen hostess, may have induced death by disrobing before an unshaded bedroom window, a sheriff's homicide officer said today in advancing a new theory for the girl's slaying last Oct. 12.

Lt. Garner Brown reported he was investigating information that the brunette Miss Bauerdorf at times failed to draw the curtains. He said her slayer may have watched her preparations to retire before gaining entrance to the Hollywood apartment where she was raped and strangled.

Bowles Says Citrus Prices Will Advance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Definite assurance of price increases for Florida citrus came today from Price Administrator Chester Bowles in response to an appeal from Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) for aid to growers whose crops were heavily damaged in the recent hurricane.

At the same time Pepper's office made public a letter from War Production Chairman J. A. Krug saying an order has been issued with approval of the War Food Administration (WFA) making available on "an unlimited basis" metal cans for packing Florida citrus fruits and juices.

Bowles wrote that OPA awaits only a report on the extent of crop damage before determining the amounts of price increase necessary.

Parachute Vet Hurt In Leap From Bunk

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 25 (AP)—Pvt. Edwin Lee, stationed at Gunter field here, jumped 500 times in a parachute without even slight injury before more domestic danger finally caught up with him.

A few nights ago he leaped from the top bunk of a double-decker bed, breaking several small bones and bursting a blood vessel in his right foot.

McDonald Supports The Texas Regulars

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP) — State Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald, Democratic nominee for-election, today announced he would support the Texas Regulars party in the general election.

In a statement McDonald, who four years ago supported the candidacy of Wendell Willkie said:

"Patriotism demands that we lay aside partisan politics and defend the form of government that made this the greatest nation on earth.

"Voters of Texas and the nation have been very tolerant but now are fully aware of what is happening to their government and on Nov. 7 red-blooded Texas Democrats and Republicans will cast their votes for the Texas Regulars electors who, in fact, represent a coalition and who will in the electorial college say to the communists they cannot, through Roosevelt and Truman, obtain control of this government."

Merritt H. Gibson, state campaign manager for the Texas Regulars, said in an accompanying statement:

"Can there be any doubt left now in the minds of those who would split our forces as to the right way to vote. Commissioner McDonald again points the way as he has done for so many years in Texas politics."

Fines Totaling $1,500 Levied In Liquor Case

Clyde Jackson pleaded guilty of two charges, possession of whisky for purpose of sale and possession of untaxed whisky, in county court Thursday and was assessed fines totaling $1,500.

Judge G. V. Pardue entered an order specifying the assessments were not to run concurrently.

Court costs were added to the fines.

C. D. McClain, deputy supervisor of Texas Liquor Control board here, said liquor board inpectors and police found the 49-year-old man "straining the liquor through a five-gallon chamois-mounted funnel, preparatory to coloring it."

The man, they said, recently was charged in connection with the confiscation of a whisky still in Gaines county.

His car was held Thursday when found in 1300-block Avenue H. In his possession in the cabin were 25 gallon jugs of whisky, six half-gallon jugs, two four-fifth quarts and one pint, officials said.

With McClain on the raid were Frank Mitchell and T. E. Backus, inspectors, and John Truly of the police.

Sgt. Weldon Squyres Is German Prisoner

First direct word from her son, T/Sgt. Weldon D. Squyres, since he was reported a prisoner of Germany, was received Thursday by Mrs. Velma Squyres, 2512 Twenty-ninth.

The card, dated Aug. 13, stated he was well and uninjured when captured and also expressed high praise of the Red Cross.

Sgt. Squyres has been in the services since Feb., 1943, and overseas since June of this year. When he was reported missing in action Aug. 3, he was serving as radio-gunner aboard a B-24 bomber with the 15th Air force based in Italy. He was later reported a prisoner of war in Germany, and his promotion from staff sergeant to his present rank announced after his capture.

Tipton Is Added To Arbitration Board

HOUSTON, Oct 26. (U.P.)—Judge Ernest M. Tipton, associate justice of the Missouri State Supreme court, has been selected as the third member of an arbitration board to hear the dispute between the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and the International and Great Northern and Gulf Coast railroad, it was revealed today.

Attorney Tom M. Day of Houston, railroad member of the board, said Judge Tipton was named by the National Mediation Board after Davis and H. R. Lyons, brotherhood officials, had failed to agree on the third member.

The hearing will open here Monday for possible settlement of a Brotherhood-management dispute over renewal of a union contract. The dispute resulted in a strike vote Sept. 26, but such action was postponed pending outcome of arbitration efforts.

Texas To Share In Electrification Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Under a three-year postwar rural electrification program, proposed in a preliminary report made public by the agriculture department, 157,200 customers in Texas would receive service.

Projected to a five-year basis, the report estimates approximately 3,655,000 of the nation's rural homes would benefit at a total cost of $1,020,000,000.

Such an extension of the program, the report said, would create a $5,546,283,000 outlet for electrical goods and services—including the $1,020,000,000 expenditure for construction of the lines.

NAVY DAY

We salute the men and women of our Army . . . Air Corps . . . Marines . . . Coast Guard . . . Merchant Marine and Navy, who have worked and sacrificed to bring us down the long, hard road TOWARD victory.

VICTORY over both of our enemies seems certain, but not one of us can quit or falter now, for to do so might be fatal. The farther we go the greater our responsibilities. The more cities, towns, islands, and prisoners we capture the greater the task of building strong walls to prevent enemy counterattack.

This week the news from the Pacific makes it altogether fitting that we pause and reflect with solemn thanksgiving, upon the work of our men against Japan. The job is not finished. The task before them is great. Let not one of us fail them now.

We have gone far since those dark days of 1942, when Bataan, Corregidor, Singapore, Guadalcanal were ringing in our ears and ringing in our hearts. In the dark days of 1942 the northernmost point we held was the island of Noumea, 1,000 miles south of Guadalcanal.

Today positions in the Marianas, north of Saipan and Guam, are 69 per cent of the distance from Noumea to Tokyo. In TWO years we have gone TWO-THIRDS of the way from Noumea to Tokyo. Does that mean it will take one more year to go the LAST ONE-THIRD of the way? Let not one of us fail them now.

Ringing in our ears and in our hearts in April, 1942, were those unforgettable words of General Douglas MacArthur, "I shall return." Last week HE returned and THEY returned, and they returned in full force.

They returned on land. They returned by sea and through the air. They returned after months and years of planning, working, building, fighting. Let us—every Texan—every American—remember that our work is not done until our enemies are defeated. Let not one of us fail them now.

LET'S NOT STRING IT OUT — DON'T QUIT NOW!

The United States Navy still needs men and women. The Navy needs workers to repair damaged ships on the west coast. The Navy needs WAVES. The Navy needs men between 17 and 27 as Combat Aircrewmen. The Navy needs men as Radio Technicians. The Navy needs commissioned officers who are doctors, chaplains, radio, electrical and mechanical engineers.

If you are a woman, are you doing your part to bring home your husband or son or friend or neighbor's boy?

If you are a man, are you doing your part to insure the future of your country, your state, your home and your way of life?

Find out today what you can and should do about it. Go to U. S. Employment Service . . . or your nearest Navy Recruiting Station . . . or Office of Naval Officer Procurement.

Our Navy is the strongest the world has ever known. . . . Keep it strong.

Japan must face the grim reality that the keystone of her Asiatic conquest arch—the striking power of her high seas fleet—has been fatally cracked by the United States in the triangular battle of the Philippines.

SIMPSON

Even before the full toll of enemy sea and air losses can be reckoned it is clear that the effective fighting strength afloat of that fleet has been reduced at least one-third. It was gambled and lost in a futile attempt to halt or delay American reoccupation of the Philippines.

Damaged remnants of once imposing Japanese sea power are still in flight or licking their wounds in hideouts in Philippine and China Sea waters.

Major Factors Changed

That sea-air battle which may go into history as the most decisive action of the Allied-Japanese war potentially has changed major factors governing Allied strategy. Unquestionably it has lessened Japanese naval power to fend off American reconquest of the Philippines, seizure of Chinese bases of operation or even direct assault on Japan even if the enemy fleet cannot yet be written off completely.

That is a circumstance certain to call for revision and stepping up of present coordinated Anglo-American plans for pressing the war on Japan. Unrevealed military decisions taken at Quebec recently are virtually outmoded now by the pulverizing American naval blow struck in Philippine waters and somewhere southeast of Formosa. It offers dazzling opportunity to speed up or even redirect the attack not only in the Pacific but in the Bay of Bengal if the means to exploit the victory promptly are available.

Story Only Partly Told

That conclusion on the part of Admiral Halsey could easily be read between the lines of his terse message announcing that the Japanese Navy in Philippine waters had been "defeated, seriously damaged and routed." Yet he may have known only part of the story when he sent it. So far as the position of his huge Third Fleet has been indicated in American official accounts, it seems to lie between battered enemy forces and home bases in Japan. It could conceivably administer a final knock-out blow to Japanese naval power.

Even if Tokyo claims of damage inflicted in the Philippine sea battles were true—and they are not—the result as reported to date by both sides adds up into a crushing American victory.

News Briefs

Two South Plainsman, Sgt. Robert W. Cowart of Lubbock and Cpl. Ernest E. Cochran of Plainview, were listed by the War department on a roll of 2,228 U. S. soldiers who have been wounded in action. Both were in the European area. Sgt. Cowart's mother is Mrs. Pearl J. Cowart of 1919 Fourteenth, Cpl. Cochran's wife Mrs. Glayds F. Cochran of Plainview.

Reports on the district convention of Kiwanis International in Fort Worth last week were made to members of the local club, meeting for luncheon in Lubbock hotel Thursday, by delegates Robert J. Allen, W. C. Wood, H. C. Delaney and W. C. Rylander. Out-of-town guests were N. E. McGonagill, Fort Worth; Capt D. Pratas, Tonopah (Neb.) Army Air field; R. T. Shiels and Clark Estes, Dallas, and Gordon Hall, Houston.

Armed with a warrant to return Bruce Helms, 31, of Lubbock, and Raymond Helms, 36, of Mineral Wells, to Pampa on a grand jury indictment, Sheriff G. H. Kyle arrived here Thursday afternoon. The indictment, returned more than a year ago, charged robbery of a Pampa filling station. Lubbock police arrested the men several nights ago on suspicion and broadcast a report they were in jail here.

Getting an early start to boost the Red Raiders when they tangle with the West State Teachers college Buffalos in Amarillo tonight, the Texas Tech Matador band will arrive there this afternoon. Members of the band from Amarillo are Wendell Nutt, Helen Rippey, Wes Askew, Jonnie Dean Reneau and Cecil Langmack.

Hundreds of girls and women between the ages of 20 and 50 with necessary qualifications are needed at once by the Women's Army corps to train as medical x-ray technicians, the Lubbock Army Recruiting office said Wednesday.

Lubbock county women who are experienced technicians or those who have had a high school education including physics and relative courses, are urged to contact the Army Recruiting office, postoffice, for further information. For direct assignment to the medical corps, a minimum of one year's experience as an x-ray technician or a certificate of graduation from an x-ray technician school is necessary.

Marfa Army Air Field Has Modern Version Of Damon And Pythias

MARFA, Oct. 26 (U.P) — The story of Elmer and Lester Luhnow—both 18 years old and from California but unrelated—reads like a modern version of the Damon and Pythias yarn.

They are stationed at Marfa Army Air field.

Elmer and Lester entered the service at the same time and place—June 23 at Fort MacArthur. They led their induction group in the Army classification test and were one point apart. And they have served together ever since their induction.

Elmer's home is in San Diego, Calif., 150 miles from Lester's home at San Gabriel. Both were students when the war broke—Elmer at San Diego and Lester at Stanford.

But that's where the parallel stops. Elmer wants to fly fighter planes, and Lester chooses bombers.

Farmers Asked For More Turkeys For Soldiers Overseas

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (U.P)—Whether there is enough turkey on Thanksgiving day for all the fighting men overseas and servicemen and women at home rested today on the shoulders of Southwestern farmers.

The War Food administration said about half the 60,000,000 pounds of turkey needed to feed servicemen and women on all fronts had been bought, and Southwestern farmers were called upon to send several million more turkeys to market.

All marketable turkeys must be offered the U. S. Army quartermaster corps until the required number have been purchased, according to a WFA order.

C. M. Evans, WFA regional dairy and poultry chief, said his office has received reports that producers are killing turkeys and placing them in freezer lockers until the order is rescinded. This action, he said, is in violation of the WFA order that all marketable turkeys first must be offered the Army.

ALLOWABLES DECLINE

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 26. (AP)—The minerals division of the state conservation department today announced November oil allowables for Louisiana as 395,500 barrels daily, a slight decrease under the October figure of 395,880 barrels.

SATSUMAS READY

BURAS, La., Oct. 26. (AP) — Louisiana satsumas, earliest variety to ripen in this "orange belt" beside the muddy Mississippi, are moving marketward at the rate of a carload a day and growers say they are anticipating the best crop in history.

Retail Sales In Texas Department Stores Up

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP) — Texas department store sales for September showed a gain of 15.8 per cent in large stores and 17.6 in stores whose annual volume is under $500,000 said Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Largest individual gain was shown in men's specialty shops which had a 32.7 per cent increase in sales from August to September.

Dry good-apparel stores were next with a gain of 23.5 per cent from August to September but a loss of 7.7 per cent from September 1943 to September of this year.

PROGRAM EXPLAINED

DALLAS, Oct. 26. (AP) — The program of the American Bankers association's small business credit commission was explained to 200 Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas bankers here today by Robert M. Hanes, its chairman.

Hanes, a Winston Salem, N. C., banker, said that new types of loan services to meet credit requirements of small business were being developed, and that term credit would be available when needed.

O'Daniel Attacks "Communistic Control" Of Democratic Party

Romping freely on sugar and gasoline rationing, the "skulduggery and shameful influences" in the soldier ballot campaign, and the "gestapo court" tactics in the recent investigation of his family newspaper, Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel "let his hair down" here Thursday after the first 30 minutes of his address, during which he adhered closely to his prepared text. The senator is on a statewide tour, sponsored by the Texas Regulars.

O'Daniel revealed, for the first time, he said, the "shameful" conditions surrounding the service vote, and named several in administration circles whom he said should be called before an investigation committee, whose duty it is, he said, to uncover the story at a public hearing before the election.

In Midst Of Revolution

He asserted that Republicans in Texas now see that they are throwing their votes away unless they vote for the Texas Regulars, which, he said, is the only true Democratic party.

America, he said, is now in the midst of a revolution, "although there is no shooting," but offered the fear violence is threatened when the boys return from service unless conditions are cleaned up.

Blames President Roosevelt

He contended that "we have lost Americanism," laying the blame on President Roosevelt and "a New Deal Congress." He referred to strikes, which he said Congress and the President could stop if they wanted to.

O'Daniel's prepared speech, attacking the "communistic and racketeering elements who control the Democratic party," appears in the current edition of the W. Lee O'Daniel News. This was presented to a network audience. A crowd estimated at about 1,200, responded only a time or two to the senator's remarks.

Play "God Bless America"

Upon termination of the first fifteen minutes of his talk, the hillbilly boys played "God Bless America" again and O'Daniel then started speaking without script to the crowd and for fifteen minutes longer over KFYO. But he scarcely started his tirade again against "Franklin the Fourth and New Deal termites," when his loud speaker system went haywire and he was almost completely silenced so far as the spectators standing on the outer edges of the crowd were concerned. The speaker system was "out" several minutes but later repaired.

The familiar charge of "professional politicians" echoed over the loudspeaker system after he had finished the radio talk, the senator declaring that he had found "there is more deceit and deception per square inch in Washington than any other place on earth.

"Not Indicting Anyone"

"I am not indicting anyone, personally," he declared. "There are some honest men in Washington, who they are I don't know. . . . Like good eggs, they do not improve with age.

"The only difference between a democracy and a monarchial government is the length of tenure in office, "O'Daniel declared, citing his efforts to secure passage of a Constitutional amendment, limiting the term of federal officials to six years.

"I think at the end of that time, they ought to be sent home and try to make a living under the laws they have passed.

Party Has Degenerated

"During the past ten years, the Democratic party has degenerated into nothing more than a political machine to pass out patronage and perpetuate the New Deal in power," O'Daniel's radio script which he read in its entirety, adding the word "friends" which was lacking in the prepared copy, at frequent intervals.

"Beginning with the first Roosevelt administration in 1933, we heard a great deal about this New Deal," he continued. "A great many people were in favor of the New Deal then because they believed that it meant a change from the policy which had been established whereby certain favored classes in the United States had been rewarded with public favor. But the people were soon due to have a rather rude awakening as the deceitful schemes of the New Deal began to unfold.

Face Fourth Term Drive

"Today we face a fourth term campaign, what is the true situation?" he asked. "Well, here it is friends: The New Deal gang has discarded everything about the Democratic party except the name and the party machinery. They have no use for the Democratic party except as an agency to maintain themselves in power. Whereas the Democratic party had been built on the principles of maintaining states rights, the New Deal party is definitely committed to the absolute destruction of states rights. Whereas the Democratic party always contended for government according to the Constitution, the New Deal party believes that the Constitution belongs to the horse and buggy age and that it should be discarded. The New Deal party has so completely communized the Democratic party that the communists have officially abandoned their own party in the United States and announced they are dealing with the New Dealers to inflict on this country a fourth term for the present ruler in the White House.

"I have no personal selfish interest in this matter," he declared. "I am making this fight as a matter of principle. I was offered the nomination by the National Democratic party as their candidate for president and I declined the nomination because I believe that I could make this fight more effective if I avoided anything which would indicate that I had a personal interest in the matter. . . . But I do hope that when the time comes for the presidential electors of the southern states to cast their vote for president, they will vote for some outstanding southern Democrat who really believes in the principles of the Democratic party.

Cites South's Traditions

"I hope that they will not allow Russian-born Sidney Hillman, ex-convict Browder, and ex-convict Pendegast, and the other communistic and racketeering elements who control the Democratic party, to trade off everything the South holds dear for a few CIO votes and a few negro votes in the northern states.

"I am not going to tell anybody how to vote, but I am certainly going to vote for the Texas Regulars electors and wherever I have asked for a show of hands on this trip, fully 85 per cent of the people signify they are going to vote for the Texas Regulars. It also looks like most of all the Republicans are going to vote for the Texas Regulars because they realize that they would be throwing their votes away if they voted the Republican ticket in Texas and the only way they can vote against the New Deal is to vote for the Texas Regulars."

E. L. Klett, Lubbock attorney and chairman of the September county Democratic convention which was controlled by anti-Roosevelt forces, was the only local man on the flatbed truck with O'Daniel. At the start of the program. Klett merely stated that he was a Texas Regulars presidential electoral candidate and the Texas Regulars were presenting "the following broadcast."

O'Daniel's truck was decorated with American flags. Nearby stood two soundtrucks, both from Fort Worth.

Fifteen minutes before O'Daniel's speech, his hillbilly band with Pat Perrin as announcer, presented a musical program.

The old-time O'Daniel political fire of his early campaigns was lacking and only once or twice during his entire talk the familiar "Pour it on 'em Pappy" was heard from the crowd.

Special Treats For Sundays

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

These two specialties can make Sunday's dinner unusually good. They were tested at the Servel Home Volunteer kitchens.

Top-of-Stove Baked Pork Chops
(4 Servings)

Four pork chops, cut 1 inch thick, 1 small onion, chopped, 1 green pepper, chopped, salt and pepper, pinch of powdered sage (optional).

Brown pork chops on both sides. Add chopped onion, green pepper and seasoning. Add water to 1-2 inch depth of pan. Cover tightly and cook over low flame for 1 hour or until chops are tender. Thicken liquid left in pan and pour over chops before serving.

Orange Sponge Pudding
(4-5 Servings)

One-half cup sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, pinch nutmeg, 2 tablespoons melted shortening, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 cup orange juice, grated rind 1 orange, 2 eggs, separated, 1 cup milk.

Mix sugar, flour, salt and nutmeg. Stir in shortening, fruit juices, rind and egg yolks; beat thoroughly. Blend in milk; fold in stiffly whipped egg whites. Pour into greased custard cups or individual baking dishes and set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes or until delicately browned.

Nuts can be substituted for part of the fat in a recipe, since pecans are over 70 per cent fat and walnuts, hickory, filberts and butternuts over 60 per cent fat.

Castor cups under furniture legs keep them from cutting into carpets.

JACK-O'-LANTERN cakes are colorful Hallowe'en refreshments.

Decorative Hallowe'en Menu Carries Out Traditions

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

To carry out the traditional Hallowe'en colors, orange and black, place a Jack-o'-Lantern in the center of the table and surround it with autumn leaves. Let orange and black candles, in little individual scalloped squash holders, furnish the mystic light.

Serve pigs in blankets (cooked wieners wrapped in prepared biscuit dough), a tray of carrot straws, celery hearts, ripe olives, orange sherbet, Jack-o'-Lantern cup cakes, coffee, milk.

Jack-o'Lantern Cup Cakes
(makes 24 medium-sized cup cakes)

Have all ingredients room temperature. (Shortening should be soft, not melted.) Pre-heat oven to quick moderate (375) degrees F.) Prepare muffin pans. Sift cake flour before measuring. Measure all ingredients accurately (level) before starting to mix.

Gradually stir 1 cup hot water or hot coffee into ½ cup cocoa. Cool. Sift together into bowl 1¾ cups sifted cake flour, ¼ or ½ or 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 1¼ cups sugar. Add ½ cup high-grade vegetable shortening and ¾ cup cocoa mixture. Beat vigorously with spoon for 2 minutes by the clock (150 strokes) per minute. Or mix with electric mixer on slow to medium speed for 2 minutes. Scrape bowl frequently. If beating by hand you can rest a moment, but count only actual beating time. Then add 1-3 to ½ cup unbeaten eggs (2 medium) and remaining cocoa mixture.

Continue beating 2 more minutes (scraping bowl frequently). Pour into paper baking cups set into cup cake pan or into well-greased muffin cups, filling each about 2-3 full. Bake 20 to 25 minutes in quick moderate oven (375 degrees F.). When cool, spread tops of cup cakes with easy decorating icing. When icing is "set," out-line features of Jack-o'Lantern faces, using a wooden pick dipped in melted unsweetened chocolate (one 1-oz. sq.).

Easy Decorating Icing

Combine 1-3 cup shortening, 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 unbeaten egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Blend in a few drops orange vegetable coloring.

Texas Agriculture In Generally Good Condition, USDA Says

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—There is need for more moisture in many eastern and a few southern and western counties of Texas, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

The continued dry weather, however, has made conditions favorable for harvesting and enabled progress in field work in all areas, the USDA said in reviewing farm and ranch conditions for all week ending Oct. 23.

For the state as a whole moisture was adequate.

Small grain seeding was still in progress. The condition of growing grains was very good, pasturing was general and moisture was sufficient for growing crops over most of the state.

Pecan harvest has reached into practically all areas of production and was active in the early sections.

Cotton harvest made fair progress during the week under favorable harvest weather conditions. All late areas were in need of pickers.

Fall crop commercial vegetables made fairly good progress and conditions were favorable for preparation of land for extensive planting of hardy type crops.

Livestock continue to be in generally good condition with ample range feeds in prospect for most parts of the state. Brisk marketing of cattle and calves continued.

Marketings of sheep and lambs were moderate with feeder demand light, and the hog movement was slow in spite of an active market. Outbreaks of sleeping sickness in eastern and coastal sections were being checked by preventive measures.

Shift furniture occasionally so that legs will not crush rugs in spots.

Plan the lighting in the living room so that each member of the family has his own reading space.

NAMED GOVERNOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Col. Ruperto Kangleon, leader of guerrilla fighters "on Leyte and Samar islands," has been named the "new provincial governor" by President Sergio Osmena of the Philippines commonwealth, the Voice of Freedom transmitter in Leyte reported today.

MANY ROASTERS HAVE CHEAPENED THEIR BLENDS

To say "cheapened" is to put it mildly. "Adulterated" is more accurate. That's why certain established brands, used perhaps for years, have recently begun tasting bitter or flat or different in other ways. They're not the same coffee blends they were. But don't misunderstand us. We're not speaking of Admiration. It's 100 per cent in all ways identically the same delightful, satisfying blend it's always been. True—it costs us more money. But that doesn't matter. We place our responsibility and the loyalty of our thousands of users above profits.

NO WONDER THEY TASTE "DIFFERENT"

A change in blending formula makes a changed blend. In many cases it means an altogether new blend of coffee. You simply can't make a superior blend of coffee with cheap coffees. It takes choice, expensive coffees—the kind used exclusively in Admiration. So if your regular brand has been tasting different, buy a pound of the coffee that never varies, war or no war. Buy a pound of Admiration and earn the applause of your hero.

MacArthur Lauds Vast Network Of Guerrillas On Philippines

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Oct. 26. (AP)—A week signal from a radio set on the island of Panay heard in the late fall of 1942 set in motion machinery to aid the guerrillas—aid which culminated in a full scale invasion of the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today.

In a special communique issued from his headquarters and broadcast in English to the Philippines by the "Voice of Freedom" radio, the general paid tribute to the guerrillas.

For two years, he said the inadequately armed patriots, some of them Americans who never surrendered, others who escaped from prison camps and men sent in to carry out specific missions, have fought the Japanese.

Driblets Of Supplies

"Through the understanding assistance of our Navy, I was able to send in by submarines, in driblets at first, arms, ammunition and medical supplies. The news of the first shipment spread rapidly throughout the Philippines to electrify the people into full returning consciousness that America had neither abandoned nor forgotten them."

MacArthur told how the supplies continued to grow and that eventually four submarines were committeed to the exclusive task of taking them in.

He told how the guerrillas obtained the secret defensive plans and instructions of the commander-in-chief of the combined Japanese fleet which were used to counter American offensive action in the several Pacific areas. In addition, the Americans gained possession of complete information on the strength and distribution of enemy fleets.

Vast Network

"We are aided," the general said, "by the fact that for many months our plans of campaign have benefitted from the hazardous labors of a vast network of agents, numbering into the hundreds of thousands, providing precise, accurate and detailed information on major enemy moves and installations throughout the Philippine archipelago."

MacArthur said that on every major island of the Philippines there are one or more completely equipped and staffed weather observatories. An air warning system affords visual observation of the air over nearly every square foot of Philippine soil.

"We are aided," he said, "by provision on all inland waterways and coastal areas of complete observation over enemy naval movements, to give immediate target information to our submarines who patrol in and near Philippine waters. This information has contributed to the sinking of enemy shipping of enormous tonnage. And through the same facilities was flashed the warning to our naval forces of the enemy naval concentration off the eastern Philippines during the Marianas operation."

Jap Commander Is Prisoner

MacArthur disclosed that the commander-in-chief of the combined Japanese fleets (unidentified) was a prisoner of one of the guerrilla units prior to his death from injuries received in an airplane accident.

(The Japanese radio in April, 1943, announced that Adm. Isoroku Yamamoto, commander-in-chief of the combined fleet, had been killed. The announcement did not elaborate. This is probably the admiral referred to by Gen. MacArthur.)

Southerners Take Their Sweetening Straight, Suh!

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—A dietitian from below the Mason-Dixon line pointed out today a sugary difference between the North and the South.

Northerners, said Miss Maniza Moore of Nashville, Tenn., president-elect of the American Dietic association, like their sugar sweetening to be sort of built-in to certain main dishes, such as Boston baked beans, along with getting sweets in desserts.

"But in the South," she smiled, "we like only to take our sweetening straight—in desserts or in jams or jellies."

She declined to offer an opinion whether that meant Yankees, by and larger, were sweeter-toothed than their southern countrymen.

FINNS MAKE ARRESTS

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 24 (Delayed) (AP)—Dispatches from Helsinki today said the Finns have arrested "certain persons" whom the Allies considered guilty of committing war crimes during the fight against Russia, especially in Karelia. Those arrested were not identified.

AAUP 'Concerned' Over Texas U. Fuss, Will Meet With Regents

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP) — The American Association of University Professors is now concerned "with the whole situation" at the University of Texas, and its representatives will confer with the regents at Houston tomorrow on the subject, Executive Secretary Ralph Himstead of Washington said today.

"We have not passed judgment on anything," Dr. Himstead said. "Our mission is one of clarification facts. The failure to re-elect the three economics professors initiated our investigation, but tomorrow we will also inquire about the more basic issues involved in President Homer P. Rainey's statement to the faculty."

Kester Also Present

Himstead was here with Dr. Frederick Kester of the University of Kansas, who will appear before he regents with him tomorrow.

Asked at a press conference if he thought there was any possibility of mediating the situation at the University of Texas, Himstead replied:

"Yes, I do. I believe there is a chance to work this out without there being any necessity for us to publish a report regarding the University of Texas."

Himstead said he believed it would take "two or three hours" to discuss the matter with the regents.

A committee of three faculty members, named by the faculty, has also asked the regents for permission to appear before the board in an effort to bring the regents a. the president to a composure of t eir differences.

Committee To Attend

Sen. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, chairman of the special Senate committee to investigate educational affairs, announced his committee would also attend the regents meeting.

"We are going to meet with the board of regents to tender our assistance toward any move which would help solve the situation now confronting the University of Texas," he said. "We desire to cooperate with the board and the president in any move which would solve the situation."

Himstead outlined the functions of the American Association of University Professors, saying it was interested in the University of Texas situation "as the professional organization for college and university professors. It is strictly a professional organization, with no affiliations outside of non-academic groups. It does work hand in glove with such affiliating organizations as the southern association of colleges and secondary schools.

He said one of its primary objectives was to preserve academic freedom. In recent years, he continued, pressures have been brought on faculties and administrations in this respect from "what may be somewhat loosely defined as both the right and the left."

The association, he said, agreed on no ideology, "only on educational freedom, and we understand there are obligations and bounds to that."

Referring specifically to the case of the three economic professors at the university who were not re-elected after there was widespread publicity concerning their actions in connection with a Dallas mass-meeting in which the wage-hour law was discussed, Himstead said:

"If the facts are as we understand them, it would seem there has been a violation of academic freedom. This is one of the matters we wish to review thoroughly with the regents."

Yank Bombers Belt All Areas Now In Nazi Edict Answer

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Oct. 26 — American planes now are attacking anything that moves or smokes or lives in Germany to bring the hard facts of war home to the Reich.

Targets no longer are just big cities or factories.

This new policy is a grim and cold answer to Hitler's total mobilization of manpower. It is letting the Germans in the little towns up front find out what those in the big cities already have learned of Allied hitting power.

Hitler is sweating the last ounce of production out of the industrially important belt of little factories west of the Rhine, across from Duisburg and Coblenz, an area now imminently threatened by American assault.

It is there that squadrons of American Thunderbolts are strafing at housetop levels and letting go with bombs weighing 250, 500 and 1,000 pounds.

One squadron leader, Maj. Harold Sparks of Frankfort, Ky., said the whole belt west of the Rhine was "smoking like a boomtown" as the little factories worked.

American planes, though concentrating intensively on railroad-busting to seal off the battlefront, have been given permission to divert their spare energies to everything they find along the way "that lives or moves."

The Germans learned a lesson in the battle of France.

Where pilots once were able to toy with freight trains "like a cat with a mouse," the Germans now have lined the tracks with all available anti-aircraft guns and are throwing up terrific defenses, Sparks said.

Mrs. Ollibel Dickinson Suffers Broken Leg

Mrs. Ollibel Dickinson, formerly of Lubbock but more recently residing on a ranch near Lovington, N. M., is reported as convalescing satisfactorially in a Fort Worth hospital after an accident near her New Mexico home resulted in her leg being broken.

According to Mrs. Dickinson's mother, Mrs. A. A. Collins, 1504 Avenue X, Mrs. Dickinson's injury came as a result of being thrown from a horse. Her right leg was so badly broken above the knee that she was flown to Fort Worth in an ambulance plane before treatment could be administered.

The accident occurred early Tuesday. Mrs. Dickinson will be in Fort Worth's Methodist hospital about four or five weeks.

Methodists Report Work In Good Shape

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP) — District superintendents of the North Texas conference of the Methodist church today reported $1,569,264 in contributions to church work during the past year.

Reports to Bishop Charles C. Selecman showed that in the tight districts a total of 8,834 members have been added, 3,152 on profession of faith.

The Rev. Cicero B. Fielder, superintendent of the Methodist hospital here, was re-elected secretary of the conference. Dr. Marshall T. Steel, Dallas, was elected chairman of the conference board of education.

GEN. ENT IMPROVING

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Maj. Gen. U. G. Ent, commanding general of the Second Air force at Colorado Springs, Colo., who was injured in an accident Oct. 12 at Fort Worth Army Air field, was reported "resting comfortably" and his condition to be good at Brooke General hospital today.

Negro's Case Is Set Here Today

The case, or one of them, of State against Charley Walker, a negro, will be called at 9 o'clock this morning in county court—for the fourth time.

Twice there were hung juries. The third time a jury assessed a fine of $400 and court costs—a total of $460.65 after appeal had been perfected to the court of criminal appeals.

Remanded On Appeal

The appeals court remanded the case after reversing the conviction, on grounds one of two enhanced penalty requests was improperly asked.

The negro, whose trial on another case which was remanded by the court of criminal appeals has not been set, has been in and out of county court 10 times since Nov. 1, 1940, records show.

In that time he has been assessed a total of $1,515.85 in fines and court costs.

Four Cases Appealed

Four times he has taken cases on appeal to the court of criminal appeals. The other case to be retried was remanded when the higher court said there had been an impropr charge on circumstantial evidence.

Two of his appeals were denied by the high court, and Charley had to pay $318.65. If he were to lose the two cases pending retrial and juries were to assess fines as large as the last juries who heard evidence in his cases, he would pay a further $900 and court costs—or go to jail and serve the assessments at the rate of $3 a day.

Tax Valuations In County Show Hike

Total value of property in Lubbock county for tax purposes in 1944 is $32,959,252, H. B. Bryan, county tax collector-assessor, said Thursday. This is an increase of $467,027 over last year's valuation.

The valuation covers 560,588 acres of land, valued at $6,589,152; 11,500 horses and mules, 25,640 head of cattle, 11,300 sheep, 10,700 hogs, 123.96 miles of railroad, 5,480 shares of bank stock, 6,350 automobiles, wagons, etc., money in banks, manufactured goods and merchandise and numerous other properties.

The assessments bring possible maximum revenue in county taxes of $164,796.29, and in state taxes, $128,359.97; a total of $293,156.26. The state ad valorem rate is 55 cents per $100 valuation, county tax, 50 cents.

Commission Acts On Routine Matters

City commission, meeting in regular session Thursday afternoon in City hall, passed three ordinances at second and final readings and acted on two other minor matters in a routine session.

The ordinances were: No. 700 providing for Fort Worth and Denver City railway company to extend its trackage in the alley from Twenty-sixth to the north line of the Garland addition; and No. 701 and 702, repealing a section of ordinance No. 513 closing Ave. F from Twenty-third to south to the Fort Worth and Denver right-of-way and reopening that portion of the street.

The commission also voted to advance the first quarter payment of $300, the city's part in paying expenses of local units of the Texas State guard after a financial report had been submitted by Bruce Craig and C. M. Trout, guard officers. The county is to pay a portion of the funds.

Increase in the city's payment to $50, third of the salary of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association nurse, was also approved.

Present were: Mayor O. W. Ribble, City Manager Marlin R. Smith, City Attorney Durwood Bradley and Commissioners Fred H. Childress and W. B. Price.

Army To Muster Out Many Of Its Dogs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Somewhere between 500 and 1,000 members of the Army's K-9 corps are going to be mustered out of service by January 1, and some of them will be offered for public sale—possibly at $1 each.

The quartermaster corps said today that most of the dogs—shepherds, farm collies, doberman pinschers, boxers—would be declared surplus property for disposal by the Treasury department.

Their former owners will be given a chance to reclaim them. But in cases where former owners are unable to take them back, they'll be offered to the public.

Nebraska Man Dies In LAAF Hospital

Funeral services for Sgt. Glen W. Blair, 36, who died Wednesday afternoon in the station hospital at Lubbock Army Air field after a ten-day illness, will be conducted this week-end at the home of his parents in Chedron, Neb.

The body will be sent to Nebraska today by Rix Funeral home.

Sgt. Blair, who had been stationed at LAAF since April 21, 1942, formerly resided at Hays Springs, Neb. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Iona Mae Blair, and three sons, Robert, 11; Bruce, 8; and Gene, 3.

Beauty List At Tech Is Reduced To 16

Sixteen Texas Tech beauties were chosen from 32 candidates in an all-campus election sponsored by La Ventana, college yearbook, Merrilyn Snider, editor, announced Thursday.

David O. Selznick, Hollywood producer, will select, in Mid-November, eight of the 16 for full page pictures in La Ventana. Technicolor movies will be made of the 16 girls by W. O. McMillian and Bob Bryant, Sunday afternoon, to be sent to Selznick.

The 16 remaining contestants are Ruth Anthony, Virginia Anthony, Dolores Bizzell, Dorothy Brown, Lou Burns, Hope Cade, Frances Cloinger, Charlene Fisher, Lynn Gibson, Huguette McKnight, Corinne Payne, Earlyne Reid, Elizabeth Robinson, Jerry Shaw, Norma Lee Thornton, and Jackie Wilkison.

TOUGH WAR EMPHASIZED

HOUSTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Deploring the "very strong tendency in this country to underrate the difficulty of the war against Japan," Read Adm. Clark Howell Woodward, chief of the Navy industrial incentive division, Washington, told Rotarians here today the war is one of distance, patience and time and outlined the obstacles confronting the fighting forces before the Jap is defeated.

Aachen Civilians Straggle Back And Face Strict Plan Of Living

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AACHEN, Germany, Oct. 26—The citizens of this corpse of a city were trying to return to it in large numbers today, and American military government officers set out immediately to find and appoint a burgomaster who is anti-Hitler and who held a civic office prior to 1933.

The AMG assumed control of Aachen at noon. Earlier it had appeared there would be almost no military government job to do, because there was nothing much to govern.

It has turned out otherwise, for the citizens are slipping back in straggling groups and guards have been placed at the city's entrances to make certain the civilian return does not become a stampede.

The population now is about 200—compared with the normal population of about 160,000—but still a much greater number than was here Saturday.

Sixteen orders of the U. S. Army have been posted. They set up a curfew extending from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m., prohibit public or private gatherings of more than five people, bar Nazi music and the Nazi salute, and in general make it clear that the American forces are here as conquerors.

Six Are Candidates

Six men are on the list of candidates for burgomaster. He will be paid—if at all—by the people who live here and those who will return later. The list is in the hands of military government officers headed by Maj. Thomas F. Lancer, former New York state police official.

The first job of the military government is to find out how much of the city's water system can be repaired, then to turn the pick and shovel work over to the Germans themselves.

This is the American Army plan being followed here, as Maj. Lancer and Maj. Pelham St. George Bissel, also a New Yorker, outlined it:

No American Rations

Food—No American Army rations are to be given German civilians. Captured German food will be made available to them only after they have signed papers acknowledging that this is a debt owed by the city of Aachen to the U. S. government.

Water—The water supply is to be restored by German labor and German material, with the American officers giving only their advice and help as consultants.

Telephone and lights—These are up to Aachen; the American Army has no interest in the matter.

Administration—The burgomaster is to be selected from among those known to have been anti-Hitler and to have held office prior to Hitler's regime. City police will be selected on a similar basis, except that in addition they must be more than 50 years old—in other words not likely to have been successfully indoctrinated by the Nazis.

The people of Aachen are eating on the average of two meals a day, partly from captured German stores and partly from food which some are recovering for working on a day by day basis at nearby German farms.

Texas Citrus Shipping Continues Moderately

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—The War Food administration announced here that Texas citrus shipments are continuing in moderate volume.

The agency said rail movement Monday included 128 cars of grapefruit, 65 cars of mixed citrus and 39 cars of oranges. The equivalent of 226 cars of Texas citrus moved out by motor truck during the past week.

Auction sales at northern and eastern consuming centers Monday brought fairly steady prices. Texas marsh seedless grapefruit brought $3.57 per box in Philadelphia. Foster pinks sold in Detroit from $3.75 to $4.21 and marsh seedless brought $2.75 to $3.66. Chicago reported a price range of $1.35 to $4.03 for Texas grapefruit. St. Louis sold Texas Foster pink grapefruit from $2.40 to $3.10 per standard wirebound box while Texas oranges brought $4.00 to $4.61.

"Advertisingless' Radio

IF and when the planned "subscription radio service" goes on the air and begins delivering the patrons various types of programs unsupported by advertising, it will be interesting to see whether or not the innovation proves satisfactory and practicable.

Theorizing that radio listeners frequently are bored and sometimes offended by commercials on the air, backers of the "subscription service" plan to try to make money by selling their programs, rather than products, to their listeners. They anticipate five cents per day per set will enable them to make a profit. "Chislers" will be headed off by "jamming" the frequency with noise—a noise which may only be removed by attaching a special device onto each radio receiving set.

If radio without advertising is proved practicable, most people in the industry will be surprised. They point out that numerous "advertisingless" newspapers have been attempted throughout the year and not one of them has "worked." Current effort in that regard, the radical New York paper PM, has been a signal financial failure "from scratch."

In radio, it seems to us, the idea will be even harder to profitably work out, with the best of talent already gobbled up by commercial concerns. "Subscription radio programs" of a technical or scientific bent, perhaps, might pan out. But, at best, their listener appeal would be very low on a basis of percentage of listeners.

Time For An Awakening

PROBABLY there are some well meaning grownups in this country who believe in Santa Claus and the Good Fairies. If so, they probably believe, too, that since the so-called "Communist Party" of the U. S.—in reality, it is a revolutionary group—has "disbanded," there is nothing more to be feared from its insidious activities.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

In the first place, the Communists are busier in the current U. S. political campaign than they have ever been before. Having practiced up on the left-wing "American Labor party" in New York—and by boring from within having taken it over, lock, stock and barrel—they are attempting to repeat the performance in what still is called the Democratic party. Like leeches, they have attached themselves to what once was the party of Jefferson and of Jackson, of Bryan and of Wilson, and they are active on every pre-election front.

But what is more important in the long run is the fact that the Communists, who always prefer to fish in troubled waters, are pushing their efforts everywhere they can.

While they are not in the majority in France (they never have been in Russia, for that matter) they are the best organized and it is entirely possible that they may be able to take over that country.

They are busy in every dark corner of unhappy Italy, where hungry millions are ready to grasp at any straw offered by smart harranguers. They are busy in Poland, in China, in Czechoslovakia—everywhere, including underground Germany. And those who know Germany best are fearful that unless the American and British governments take a watchful course and a firm stand that country, in the postwar era, will become "soft pickin's" for Red connivers.

It is no secret that slippery Soviet propaganda in Mexico has been meeting with success; that infiltration of alleged "Republicans," from Spain, has furthered the Communist cause there and in other countries of Central and South America.

Do not be fooled. Communism will be more of a threat to the world, and to the United States, after Victory than it ever was before. And it's time the people of this nation realized the fact.

What to do about it?

There's only one thing to do about it and that is to fight it relentlessly, wherever it raises its ugly head.

There is to much "softness" in this country—in high places and in lowly ones—toward Communism.

There is too much smug feeling (which is just what the Commies want at this stage of the American game) that "it can't happen here."

Well, it can happen here if the rank and file of Americans continue their lethargy and fail to take aggressive methods to crush the movement whenever and wherever the opportunity presents itself.

It is not an idle matter that Communists by the regiment have burrowed their way into federal job and federal office.

It is not an idle matter that they are taking an active part in some state campaigns as well as in the national campaign.

It is a matter of importance—a matter which demands thorough-going opposition, and that quickly, on the part of all patriotic Americans—opposition not only to the Communists, themselves, but also to those who are willing to temporize with them for a price.

"If you want to be popular, learn to be a good listener," advises a psychologist. No, thanks. Boredom is too great a price to pay for popularity.

Believe It Or Not --- By Robert Ripley

Germany Will Try It Again

By Sigrid Schultz

(Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.)

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

XVI

Without the active co-operation of German women, the unofficial total-war general staff of Germany could never have toppled over the Republic nor re-armed the country for war.

No generalization is more dangerous than one concerning women. But the decent German women know only too well that they form a small minority in the second World War, and that their number has steadily shrunk under the machinations of the Hitler regime.

While most Republican women were trying to make their sisters appreciate the democratic privileges conferred on them by the Feimar Constitution, Adolf Hitler, in Munich, was talking so as to win support from the women-folk of the returned soldiery. Everything he said showed that he understood their worries about their families. Many of the women had reason for concern in the new restlessness of their sons and husbands, irritable in the unaccustomed quiet of home life after the excitements of the war. To all women, Hitler said that the family was the kernel around which the new, the all-powerful Germany would be built by him and his friends. He was the man who would save Christianity from the onslaught of the wicked, godless Reds and Republicans. The bewildered middle-class women, who felt they were too fine to join the workers in the Socialist Party, who distrusted the democrats and got few new ideas from their old clerical Centrist Party, flocked to Herr Hitler.

So did the frustrated, restless spinsters—after Hitler organized the Storm Troopers and paraded them up and down the streets, plainly spoiling for a fight or for a romance. With the shortage of some four million men of marriageable age, the women loved to hear the Nazis promise a husband for every German woman—when they became masters of Germany.

Women, said Hitler, were too sacred to the real he men of Germany, the Nazis, to be allowed to sully their souls with such lowly matters as politics. To permit a woman to run for parliament was a desecration of womanhood—and the millions of women who could not make the parliamentary grade thought there must be something in it. They didn't even resent it when the Nazis talked about the inferiority of the female brain. Instead, forbidden politics, the German woman quite naturally broke her neck to get into the Nazi political Party, working twice as hard to prove herself.

Before long a certain prestige attached to consorting with Nazis. Frau v. Ludendorff invited Hitler to her house, and through the aristocratic leaders of anti-Simitism, Hitler made the acquaintance of many society women. He spoke less of the sanctity of family life for their entertainment, but appealed to their pan-German prejudices, to their craving for new sensations, to their ambition, and strangely enough, to their maternal instinct. There are today a score or so of aged women in various places, each of whom thinks she was the one who really made Hitler's success possible.

When Hitler toured Germany in the early 1930's by plane, raced by car from one rally to the other, women would fight for the privilege of touching his mustard-colored raincoat, some would even try to kiss its hem. Eva Braun, the young woman who was closer to him than any other, asserted that Hitler loathed these performances but that he and his friends decided they had "political value."

Adolf Hitler, the lady's man, remained a shrewd politician. When Dietrich Eckart took him to Bayreuth to commune at the shrine of Richard Wagner, Hitler became the great friend of the younger members of the family. After Siegfried Wagner died there was a great deal of talk about a possible marriage between Hitler and Siegfried's English widow, Winifred. It reached the point where a venturesome diplomatic attache asked one of her daughters, "Is it true that your mother is having a romance with Hitler?"

The young daughter replied moodily, "He isn't having any."

Later Hitler invited this same girl, then grown, to luncheon so frequently that a new wave of talk started.

But ever since 1929 Eva Braun has been at Hitler's side. After the war broke out she moved into the Chancellery. This caused the rumor that the Fuehrer had married her. It has been said that Hitler promised her good middle-class mother that he would marry her "after securing victory for Germany." Eva became involved with Hitler as a very young girl when she studied geography with Heinrich Hoffman, Hitler's court photographer. She is as lonely and unhappy a woman as ever lived in the shadow of an all-powerful tyrant.

Leni Riefenstahl, the movie star, worked very hard to prove that she was the light in Hitler's life. Her pull got her appointed official photographic recorder of the Nuremberg Party rallies. She directed the filming of the Olympic Games. Starting in Greece, her technical crew followed her throughout eastern Europe, supplying German espionage centers with invaluable photographic material.

But it is not enough for the modern Nazi woman to be efficient or beautiful. She must also render service to the Fatherland.

Spain Says Russia Incites Rebellion

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — The tightly-controlled Spanish press accused Russia today of attempting to incite rebellion in Spain and the overthrow of the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

With clashes between Spanish Republican guerrillas and Franco's forces continuing, the concern in Madrid over the possibility that the uprising might develop into a full-fledged civil war was reflected in the government-dominated press.

Press dispatches accused Russia, "seconded by extremist papers in many democratic countries," of starting a campaign "to make relations between the Spanish government and the Allies impossible."

The Berlin radio reported "heavy battles" already had been fought in Catalonia and added that, although Franco's forces had succeeded in pushing Republican troops back into France the menace to the generalissimo's regime remains with further clashes on a large scale still possible.

JAP SHIPPING DUNKED

CHUNGKING, Oct. 26 (AP)—The U. S. 14th air force sank, probably sank or damaged more than 130,000 tons of Japanese shipping from October, 1943, through Oct. 18, 1944, a communique said today.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

I AM the Master of the House today. That is, my wife went on a visit to her mother's this morning (it's the old lady's birthday), and on her way she took Deuce, our dog, to the veterinary to get his fall clipping, so I'm all alone—the Master of the House.

Before she left, the wife offered to prepare my lunch and to put it in the refrigerator for me.

But I smiled condescendingly and said, kissing her lightly on the cheek: "Never mind, dear, I've shifted for myself before."

She promised to be home for dinner and, as she waved on the way out and I waved airily back, I said to myself: "Dear women. They think we are so helpless without them."

Well, it was pretty lonesome in the house—no wife, no Deuce. But I worked away at my typewriter until my stomach told me that it was lunch time.

So I went downstairs and inspected the ice box.

How about a Chef's Salad? The wife makes a delicious salad out of left-overs.

Oh, heck, that's too much trouble. All the cutting and messing up dishes, and I won't know how to make a decent salad dressing, anyway.

Shall I fry me a couple of eggs? No, I had eggs for breakfast.

While thinking about my menu I put on the coffee and then I forgot all about the coffee until suddenly I heard a tremendous swishing noise.

There was the coffee boiling over—all over the stove and half of it gone. I turned it off, wiped the mess up with the dish towel and hoped that the wife wouldn't notice what had gone inside, at least until it was time for cleaning the stove.

I went to the breadbox, cut a couple of slices, buttered them and cut a few wilted radishes—a radish sandwich.

There was some left-over coffee cake and that was my Master-of-the-House luncheon: A wilted radish sandwich, a piece of stale coffee cake, a cup of pretty awful coffee.

Since I used only one spoon, one knife, one plate, one cup and no saucer, at least there wasn't much dish-washing to to. However, having wiped these few things with a full-of-coffee dishtowel, they didn't look so clean to me.

I DON'T know how it is that whenever I am home for lunch, the wife can make such delectable things—like soufflees and mousses and what-not out of nothing and I don't seem to be able to concoct a decent sandwich.

The laundry man just came and went. I promised the wife I'd check the laundry against the list.

There are two shirts missing and I count eleven socks—five and a half pair. Something funny about that. I'm sure I have two legs.

It's 4 o'clock now. Two more hours before she is due home. Gosh darn it, how lonesame a house can be when nobody is home but the master with nobody to master.

Wonder what there is about housekeeping that makes it so simple—for women.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

RECENT economic studies of postwar employment prospects suggest that some federal control over prices, wages and credit must be retained even after Japan is crushed and the world starts on the path toward normalcy. No matter who sits in the White House, current regulations on individual income and its expenditure may have to be continued through his four-year term.

Crowded trains, night clubs, restaurants, theaters, movies and other amusement places indicate that many war workers are putting aside nothing for a rainy day. But these are only superficial observations. It is largely the younger folk who are having their fling. The older people in the factories, especially women and men recalled from retirement, are piling up savings in one form or another.

Never before have the American people had such a backlog of currency, government bonds, bank deposits, insurance, social security funds, etc. While estimates vary, some statisticians here place the accumulation at between 150 and 200 billion, or twice the prewar national income.

Up to now the administration has done a good job in damming this flood of cash or convertible securities. As of July, outstanding consumer credit came to less than five billion, or less than buyers had contracted for in the depression year of 1931. Federal Reserve regulations, appeals made to the public and the lack of purchasable goods account for popular restraint from 1940 to 1944.

SCRAMBLE: But the human urge to satisfy long unfilled wants has begun to express itself almost imperceptibly. It is as yet a signal rather than the storm itself.

Redemption of War bonds, especially the $25 denomination, reached an all-time high last summer. The new and easier method of cashing these holdings may aggravate this trend. Returning soldiers are pouring their dough into the markets. Department store sales are increasing weeks in advance of Christmas. Possible postelection wage increases may step up buying.

Dealers in autos, radios, refrigerators, household furniture, clothing and farm implements report an unprecedented demand, reflected in tentative orders. So do builders of homes on the low price level. It may be some years—perhaps three or four—before these desires can be gratified, but the scramble has started.

SPREE: Byrnes-Vinson aides have just concluded detailed studies of the 1919-1921 inflationary movement, seeking to chart a future course. In that period, by reason of public and political pressure, all restrictions were lifted as early as December 2, 1919.

The rescinding turned out to be a tragic mistake. The greatest relative price rise occurred after the armistice. Then costs soared twice as fast as they had before Germany's capitulation.

There was a short period of deflation. With cancellation of government contracts, industrial production and employment fell heavily. But soon came the "Coolidge boom" as a result of conditions which may be duplicated. It was accompanied by the worst wave of strikes in our industrial history. The cycle ended, of course, in the bitter 1929 depression.

To numerous laymen now making big money this semi-official review and warning may seem to be only an academic discussion. But the solution of the problem of spending may determine whether they and millions of discharged servicemen will have jobs after the next armistice.

Anyway, the fear that the U. S. may again go on a premature buying spree is the secret concern of Roosevelt and Dewey economic advisers.

CLOTHING: Cotton goods manufacturers have made the ironic discovery that the Bankhead amendment to the 1944 Price Control act penalizes them to the benefit of CIO members. Principal beneficiaries are David Dubinsky's Ladies Garment Workers unions in New York City.

The Alabama senator's proposal provided for a higher return to the processors of threads. Although proclaimed by the farm bloc as a gain for Southern growers, it was assailed as a measure that would subsidize the "spinner." It was also alleged that these mill owners consist mainly of outsiders, and that the scheme would not advantage the region below Mason and Dixon's line.

New OPA regulations apparently confirm this view. Chester Bowles, under the law, has decreed that the final fabric converters must absorb the higher costs they pay for the goods. In some instances it is said that these swallow all the profits. The excess expenditures cannot be levied on the original processors of threads, the garment makers or the consumers.

The victims plead that they are willing to bear their portion of the Bankhead burden, but they believe it should be shared by other branches of the industry. Such a division, however, would tax the New York trade which transforms the cloth into wearing apparel. Garment making firms, in turn, might demand a reduction in wages, which constitute the largest item of their expenses.

Note: CIO-er Dubinsky has always enjoyed pleasant working agreements with the metropolitan manufacturers.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE CHEMICAL industry, a comparatively new giant, offers alluring job prospects to returning veterans with proper qualifications.

We can all envisage the abundance of synthetics, plastics and other test-tube miracles when they are again generally released. As smokeless powder factories are dismantled, their loss will be offset by booms in the manufacture of paints, textiles, etc. A whole new field, for example, has been opened by the introduction of resins in the making of paper so that hereafter women shoppers will carry bundles that are waterproofed against rain.

The bright future of the chemical trades is indicated in a special index prepared by experts in Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering, which purposely eliminates war materials. In 1939 the figure of chemical consumption was 100; today it is 183. As reconversion begins, it is estimated that the index will sag to 170 and thereafter steadily climb—even the lowest anticipated figure will be much higher than in previous peacetime.

ENGINEERS: A New York survey outfit asked a group of important executives what sphere of opportunity it would advise a young man to choose. Chemicals stood at the top of the list, ahead of merchandising, foreign trade, housing construction, radio and other potential money-makers.

The industry includes the producers for basic materials, such as raw sulphur and sodium, and processing firms which turn out plastics, resins, synthetics etc. Also many factories that make, say, chlorine in bulk now market dry-cleaning fluids and other chlorinated specialties. Today the majority of jobs are for rough labor but the demand for skill is growing faster than the expansion of the industry.

Walter Murphy, editor of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, told the writer this week that only those who are technically trained can hope to land in the lucrative spots of research and production. "Individuals with exceptionally high managerial ability will find opportunities in executive posts but, generally speaking, the trend is distinctly toward the promotion of efficient technicians."

Contrary to popular opinion, the chemical industry itself is not a large employer when compared with automotive, textile and other lines using its products. It takes between four and seven years to "grow" a young chemist or chemical engineer.

STUDENTS: Henry Batters, a New York authority points out that the limitation need not discourage a soldier or sailor with only a high school diploma, for many of these graduates will be taken on and will have a chance to learn the ropes and climb the ladder. But, he adds, a wise young veteran will take advantage of federal financial assistance and enter a scientific college after he dons civvies.

Revision Of Election Laws By Legislature Uncertain

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Don't take too hopefully reports that Texas' tangled election laws are to be revamped at the session of the state legislature to open in January.

Nearly everybody agrees that the election laws need revision. Governor Stevenson says so, among others, and may recommend it in his message to the legislature. But the governor, as well as others advocating simpler election laws, knows that there is little prospect of such a complicated problem being solved along with other work that will confront the legislators.

The former State Executive committee of the Democratic party worked out a plan for dropping practically all election laws, except those that punished frauds. But that State Democratic Executive committee has been supplanted, with nearly complete membership change by a committee representing the pro-Roosevelt faction. How the pro-Roosevelt faction can sponsor legislation that was designed primarily to avoid a Supreme court decision that Negroes must be admitted to party primaries is difficult to see.

14 Chapters In Code

With that out of the window, the task of amending the election laws becomes one of the amending statutes rather than just wiping the slate clean and leaving all to party procedure.

When you look at the present election statutes, size of that task becomes apparent. Just to present a small idea of how big a job it would be, consider there are 14 chapters of the Revised Civil statutes of the state dealing with election procedure beside the sections of the State Criminal code for punishing election offenders.

EACH of the 14 chapters is divided into numerous articles. Here is a list of them:

Chapter one, seven articles; chapter two, seven articles; chapter three, nine articles; chapter four, nine articles; chapter five, 27 articles; chapter six, eight articles; chapter seven, 13 articles; chapter eight, 46 articles; chapter nine, 35 articles; chapter 10, four articles; chapter 11, 10 articles; chapter 12, 14 articles; chapter 13, 69 articles, and chapter 14, seven articles.

Another understanding of the difficulty can be had by recalling what happened to the attempt to get a provision for a secret ballot through the last session of the legislature. After a seemingly winning fight in both House and Senate, the measure finally failed to get by conferees. When it is remembered that the measure had the concerted backing of the powerful groups of women's clubs among others, the difficulties that face election law changes become apparent.

Squirrels "Gather" Crop

Slight, bespectaled and grey-haired Charles D. Casey, veteran employe of the Public Welfare department, likes animals in general, but squirrels are the exception.

Casey, expert record examiner for the department, resides a few blocks from the capitol grounds, which have a large squirrel population. In his yard, Casey has a number of fine pecan trees, some of which he has nurtured for 16 years—such as a spreading specimen that might have produced a bumper crop of long, papershell pecans.

But capitol grounds squirrels know about Casey's pecans, and they evidently have as great a desire for them as he does. For the pesky squirrels have nearly stripped Casey's trees, doing a good portion of their mischief during his working hours.

THE squirrels are connoisseurs. They ignore the poorer pecans on capitol trees to go for Casey's prize ones.

Not only that, the roof of Casey's house is suffering from attacks by squirrels. In two or three places the squirrels have gnawed holes through it.

Casey thought his house was being taken over by rats when he first heard a commotion in the attic. But the rat exterminator he summoned sadly nodded:

"No rats, Mr. Casey—squirrels nesting."

Casey doesn't want to get out his old trusty and knock off the squirrels — he's really a nature lover, though to his own detriment.

The other afternoon, for example, he sighted a swishing tail scampering up his prize pecan tree. Casey picked up a stick, keeping his eye on the squirrel, not noticing a nail in the end of the stick.

When he hurled the timber, the nail slit his finger. Bandages were required. More unhappy than ever with his ailing finger, Casey still is trying to figure out how to get rid of the squirrels.

Keeps On The Job

Hitler isn't tired yet, so Lt. Robert B. Evans III doesn't see why he should be.

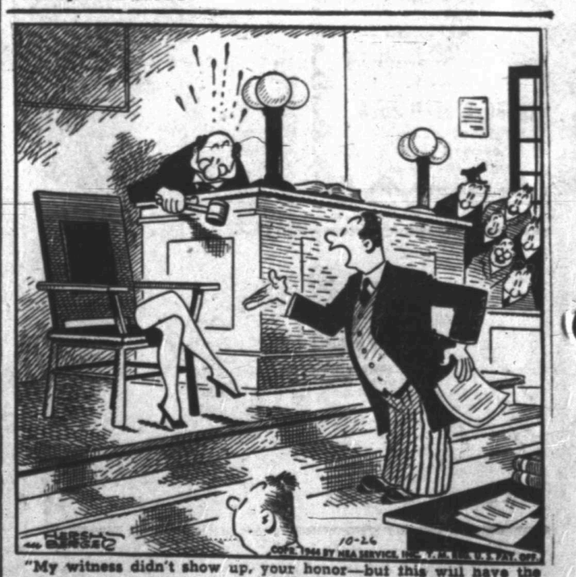

He wants to be on the spot when "Der Fuehrer" finally gives out, so he's exchanged his leave rights for duty with a Lightning Fighter group.

Even though he doesn't think so, Lieutenant Evans has a right to be tired. As pilot of a Liberator bomber, he has been in raids over Italy, Austria, Yugoslavia, Germany, Hungary and France.

The lieutenant, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Evans, jr., of Dallas, has been stationed with the Fifteenth Air Force in Italy for the last 10 months.

O'Daniel's Capital Hotel Suite Headquarters Of His Newspaper

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. — A three-room suite on the fifth floor of the Washington hotel here is the workshop of the W. Lee O'Daniel News.

It's also where the Texas senator and his wife live, but with office desks, typewriters, filing cabinets and stacks of back issues of the anti-New Deal weekly piled around in every corner, even on top of a spare bed, there's hardly room to get around.

While dances are going on in the ballroom several floors over their heads and cocktail parties progressing down below, Senator and Mrs. O'Daniel can be found editing copy for the O'Daniel News and preparing daily radio scripts. For the past two months, says the senator, they have been working from 7 a. m. to around one and two o'clock the next morning.

Mrs. O'Daniel Is Manager

The manager of the paper is Mrs. O'Daniel, and she has a desk by a window on the 15th street side. Her view of the outside is largely restricted to the gray stone walls of the Treasury just across the street. Senator O'Daniel has a desk in an adjoining room and can get a peep of the tops of buildings along F street, the city's prinicpal business thoroughfare.

In the center of Mrs. O'Daniel's office, the middle room of the suite, is a desk where a girl stenographer works and answers telephone calls. In this room a member of the O'Daniel hill-billy band, T. E. (Pat) Perrin, was busy sorting O'Daniel literature for mailing when I visited the office.

A door just off Mrs. O'Daniel's desk leads into the third room of the suite, their living quarters.

Crawford Is Present

Present during my visit was Garfield Crawford, who raises chickens at Arlington and helps get the O'Daniel News off the presses in Fort Worth. He said he is "not connected" with the publication, officially anyway, and draws his $10,000 annual salary (1944 contract) for his work as treasurer of the "Common Citizens' Radio Committee, Inc.," of Texas.

As for finances, Senator O'Daniel readily displayed records showing far more detailed information than was asked of him by the Senate Campaign expenditures committee. He has carefully kept books in filing cabinets crowded in behind his desk showing receipts and expenditures by the "radio committee" and the O'Daniel News. The publication has received about $80,000 on its own in subscriptions, over and above the $109,000 raised by the "Common Citizens Radio committee." The "committee' turned $79,000 over to the O'Daniel News "as a sort of trust fund to finance subscription" if needed.

Scores Of Checks

In one morning's mail came scores of letters, enclosing checks of various sizes for subscriptions. One letter came from Arkansas, made out for $30 and giving the names of six persons to whom copies should be mailed. A note said that the writer had read that Senator Moore (R-Okla) had contributed $25,000 to the O'Daniel cause and that he didn't see where he could go wrong in following an example set by Senator Moore.

Books also are kept on the cost of radio broadcasts. The Texas senator had a list of 116 radio stations throughout the United States which now are broadcasting his 14-minute programs daily. The transcriptions are made at a cost of $6 each for the original and $4 for copies. Sometimes more than one station uses the same records. The total bill for making the transcriptions is about $1,100 weekly. In addition the radio stations are paid for the time on the air. The eight members of the hill-billy band each are paid $100 weekly, says the senator, noting that Perrin and his brother, Bill, are the only remaining members of his old musical outfit he used to sell flour before he became governor of Texas.

Expense Of Operation

All this expense is paid for by the O'Daniel News, which sells at a subscription rate of $5 a year and is published at a cost of $2 for 52 copies. The $3 profit goes to expanding the radio broadcast, which in turn brings in still more subscriptions, and for paying for copies of the O'Daniel News sent to those on a free mailing list. On that list, he says, are the names of every daily and weekly newspaper in the United States.

Senator O'Daniel says although the O'Daniel News might legally declare a big dividend, it is dedicated to forwarding its crusade for "a thorough house cleaning in Washington" and puts the profits back into that work.

The senator himself helps keep books and writes editorials and records for the O'Daniel News broadcasts, but he "isn't connected officially with the O'Daniel News." Mrs. O'Daniel is manager. His son, Mike, is president and another son, Pat, is vice president. Both sons are in the army.

Battleship Texas To Resume Duty Soon

HOUSTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — The Navy announced today the U. S. S. Texas, flagship of a U. S. battleship division including the U. S. S. Nevada and the U. S. S. Arkansas, was being refitted at the New York Navy yard and would return to active duty soon.

The announcement said the battleship continued to hurl 14-inch shells at the Germans off Cherbourg even after her conning tower was hit by a German battery.

The battleship was in action in the Normandy, Cherbourg, and southern France landing and in the North African invasion. In the last world war she served in European waters.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
