KIDNAPED BREWER WRITES FRIEND 'DO AS THEY TELL YOU'

HAMM IS HELD IN CAPTIVITY-LETTERS SENT

FAMILY REQUESTED TO REMAIN OUT OF THE CASE

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 17 (AP)—While authorities remained on the side lines business associates of William Hamm Jr., kidnaped brewer held for $100,000 ransom on threat of death, were prepared tonight to follow instructions he sent them in a note: "Do as they tell you to."

Two notes, authoritative sources disclosed, have been delivered to friends of Hamm, millionaire head of the Theodore Hamm Brewing company, since his abduction on his way home Thursday from his office.

The first received Friday by William Dunn, a sales manager for Hamm's concern, was signed by the missing man and advised him to "do as they tell you to."

A second ransom note, also signed by Hamm, it was disclosed tonight, was delivered to a St. Paul druggist, Clarence J. Thomas, Friday night. Thomas is the husband of the secretary of Michael Kinkead, Ramsey county attorney.

He brought the message to Kinkead this morning. Both were non-committal about contents of the second note.

Meanwhile, police, requested by the Hamm family to remain out of the case to permit negotiations for the abducted man's safe return, declared they had fairly good proof the kidnaping was executed by St. Paul or Twin City hoodlums rather than by Verne Sankey, fugitive, wanted in the Charles Boettcher II kidnaping last February in Denver, and the Haskell Bohm abduction here a year ago.

ST. PAUL, June 17 (AP)—A Hamm Brewing company truck moved out of the company's yards tonight presumably carrying $100,000 to be paid as ransom money for the freedom of William Hamm Jr., millionaire president.

At the same time, W. W. Dunn, sales manager for the brewery, Herbert J. Charles, secretary of the company, and several other men whose identities were not immediately learned left the brewery in another car.

At police headquarters, it was disclosed the car of Charles J. Tierney, chief inspector of detectives, set out about the same time for an undisclosed destination.

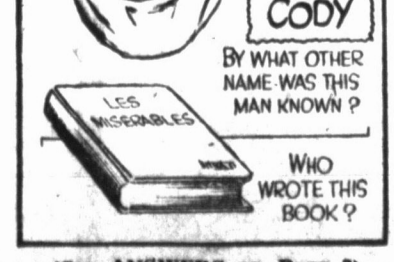

Man Found Dead West Of Groom; Is Unidentified

PANHANDLE, June 17 (AP)—Authorities here tonight were attempting to identify a dead man found on the highway one mile west of Groom through a duplicate record issued by the veterans bureau, Oklahoma City, to Tom B. Elliott, Broadway hotel, Guyton, Oklahoma.

The receipt, the only identification found on the body, was issued in July of 1931 and signed by J. B. Shomer as disbursing officer.

The man, apparently the victim of a hit-and-run driver while hitchhiking, had a fractured skull.

SHERIFF FREED BY FLOYD AND KEEPS SILENT

'Pretty Boy' Treated Him Nice; Adheres To Promise

BOLIVAR, Mo., June 17 (AP)—Unharmful after a 500-mile ride as the hostage of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, Sheriff William (Jack) Killingsworth exposed belief that the notorious outlaw had not taken part in the slaying of four officers and Frank Nash, another Oklahoma desperado, in Kansas City.

Killingsworth was released by Floyd last night near Summit, Mo., southeast of Kansas City.

The Polk county sheriff said Floyd and his companions may have participated in the killing of Sheriff Roger Wilson of Boone county and Sgt. Ben Booth of the state highway patrol last Wednesday.

Wilson and Booth were slain by men they sought to question at a highway intersection in the outskirts of Columbia less than an hour after a Mexico, Mo., bank had been robbed.

Killingsworth said conversation between Floyd and his gunman accomplice, Adam Richetti, during the wild dash yesterday in commandeered automobiles indicated they had been in Missouri at least two weeks.

The sheriff was kidnaped yesterday after he walked unsuspectingly into a garage where Floyd and Richetti were having a motor car repaired.

Declaring "I just can't talk more freely about the ride," Sheriff Killingsworth said "Floyd seemed as clean a fellow as I ever run into, outside of his record. He treated me nicer than I ever expected."

The sheriff was reluctant to say where he was released.

"I promised Floyd I wouldn't tell," the sheriff said when asked why he had not notified officers immediately after his release. "My action is what any man with sense ought to do. They might come back some time and I am not going to take any chances. Those men are killers."

PLAINTIFF OF DIVORCE SUIT CITES CRUELTY

MRS. JOE BOWERS WILL RESUME TESTIMONY ON MONDAY

A LONG recital of purported abuse at the hands of Joe Bowers was given in 31st district court Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Thelma Bowers in support of her suit for divorce and damages.

The hearing was recessed at 5:45 p. m. until 9 a. m. Monday morning when direct examination of Mrs. Bowers will be continued. Meanwhile, the jury is in charge of the sheriff's department but permission was granted by both sides for officers to take the jurors to church, theater, or other places.

Mrs. Bowers denied statements in the defendant's deposition that he was intimate with her before marriage and that she was pregnant at the time of their marriage in Cheyenne, Okla., January 5, 1931.

She said that she neither smoked nor drank and that much of their trouble was because she broke bottles of beer which he took home and refused to go to dances with him when he was drinking. She said she met Joe Bowers while she was working at a drug store here in March of 1930 and that he begged her frequently to marry him.

She said they became engaged about September of that year after she obtained a divorce from her first husband, whom she married when she was 14 years old. She is 20 now.

Shows Her Scars. For about two hours, she told of times when her husband allegedly would become violent while drunk and tear up the furniture. She exhibited scars to support her claims that he broke her finger, and nose, broke a beer bottle over her back, and cut her about the face and neck. She said that she loved him but after their quarrels had continued with intermittent "making up" he began to talk of a divorce. She declared he gave her only enough money for living expenses. She said he claimed the right to have any associations he desired. She said he was often away on airplane trips.

Mrs. Bowers said that she agreed with Mr. Bowers and his attorney, Judge Stennis, to a settlement of $5,000 and their car and had the divorce suit instituted, but that she heard Mr. Bowers had boasted of the easy settlement and she then decided to hire different attorneys and have the divorce case dismissed. This was done and the present action begun.

As court recessed yesterday, a vital point of the suit had been reached but a ruling was deferred pending presentation of legal authority, and defense attorneys inferred they would have ready a sensational rebuttal to the testimony when cross examination is begun.

Much Argument. Mrs. Bowers spoke in a low, unemotional voice as she told her story, but much of the time was consumed by sharp exchanges between the attorneys.

Reading of the deposition of Mr. Bowers, taken at Fort Worth, was resumed Friday evening before a packed court room. In this the defendant detailed his marriage relations, suspicions that his wife was unfaithful, and the fact that sometimes he would slap her then leave the house and "get drunk." He recalled two instances in which she had fights with other women. He told how displeased he was when she showed him letters from another man.

It was revealed that after their quarrels he offered Mrs. Bowers $5,000 and his car as a property settlement in a divorce. A divorce action was started, then she went to Canyon Teachers college for a time. Later a reconciliation was affected. The suit was dismissed. They lived together for a time, but had more trouble and a final separation was made last March. Then followed Mrs. Bowers' suit for divorce, damages, and alimony.

Income Estimated. In the deposition, Mr. Bowers estimated that he had received and with Mrs. Bowers spent about $30,000 in the last two years. He said

DESPERADO IS FIFTH VICTIM OF MASSACRE

FUGITIVE BEING TAKEN TO PRISON; ATTACK MADE AT STATION

KANSAS CITY, June 17. (AP)—Blazing machine guns turned Kansas City's union station plaza into a scene of horror today as seven officers and a prisoner were ambushed, five of them killed outright and two others wounded in a brief but deadly burst of fire.

The wholesale killings resulted from gangsters' efforts to release or slay Frank Nash, notorious Oklahoma train robber and killer, being returned to the federal prison at Leavenworth where he escaped three years ago.

When the murderous rattle of machine gun slugs ceased, Nash, the Oklahoma desperado, was crumpled up dead in an automobile he had entered the moment of the attack. Lifeless about him were:

Raymond J. Caffrey, special agent of the United States bureau of investigation.

Otto Reed, chief of police at McAlester, Okla.

Frank Hermanson, Kansas City detective.

W. J. Grooms, Kansas City detective.

The wounded were F. J. Lackey, special agent at Oklahoma City of the United States bureau of investigation whose condition is considered critical, and R. E. Vetterli, agent in charge of the Kansas City bureau of investigation, who returned the fire of his assailants as they drove away.

Cummings Acts. Lackey was shot three times in the back. Vetterli suffered a slight wound in the left arm.

At Washington, Attorney General Cummings issued an order setting the entire justice department on the trail of the killers and specifically assigned a detail from points near Kansas City to the case.

He also set men to checking thru the names, data, fingerprints and photographs in the files of the Leavenworth penitentiary.

"It is my hope," Cummings said, "that in the field of law enforcement and in the detection and prosecution of crime, I may be able to bring about a better co-ordination of state and federal activities."

Nash, a member of the Al Spencer gang which terrorized north-east Oklahoma ten years ago, was arrested by agents of the bureau of investigation, department of justice at Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday after a long and relentless search.

"I don't believe they intended to kill Nash," Vetterli said in recounting the details of the slaughter, apparently staged by four men armed with machine guns who had hidden themselves near the officers' car and calmly waited for them to group themselves about the automobile.

Officers received report that the car used by the killers had been seen driving on Mission Road, a route that leads toward Oklahoma. Armored cars cruised in pursuit. A rumor filtered into police headquarters that the assassins had followed the train to Kansas City from Oklahoma last night.

Held For Police. BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—Mitchell D. Bassin, said by police to be wanted in El Paso, Texas, as one of a trio who escaped jail there December 31, was arrested here last night and held under $5,000 bail awaiting the action of Texas police.

DALLAS, June 17. (AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum company, another heavy purchaser of East Texas crude oil, joined the ranks today of those buyers which again boosted prices.

For East Texas, Magnolia raised the price from 25 cents to 50 cents per barrel, making up for reductions posted a month and a half ago. The general Texas schedule was changed from a flat price to gravity basis, an average increase of 11 cents per barrel and a similar change in Oklahoma brought an average hike of 13 1-3 cents per barrel.

United States Rejects Parley Currency Plan

LONDON, June 17. (AP)—News that the American government is not prepared to accept the currency stabilization plan drafted at London by experts at the world economic conference changed the whole aspect of the parley tonight, destroying the generally accepted view that the world monetary problem would be the first to yield concrete results.

The American delegates heard the report from Washington unofficially as they returned from a royal garden party at Windsor.

Early editions of London Sunday papers already were appearing with the headlines "Conference Makes Progress" and asserting an arrangement for the stabilization of the pound and the dollar was near at hand.

WTCC To Handle Applications For Works Projects

Panhandle Gas Line Company's Contracts Void

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—The Illinois commerce commission disapproved today the contracts between the Panhandle-Illinois Pipe Line company and Illinois Gas distributors for the delivery of natural gas from the Texas Panhandle.

The commission ordered the pipe line company to file new contracts within 30 days. The utilities affected are the Illinois Power company, Illinois Power and Light corporation, Central Illinois Light company and Central Illinois Public Service company.

The commission cited several objectionable features of the contracts. One required the distributors to pay the Panhandle-Illinois Pipe Line company on a minimum basis of 150 cubic feet daily for each customer, or a total of 3,000,000 cubic feet. The commission felt this requirement was excessive and might operate to force higher consumer rates.

The commission condemned a provision which excluded municipal and other utility companies serving the same territory as the contracting distributors from obtaining natural gas. The fee was held to grant monopolies to the contracting parties.

Paternalism Again

European governments have long granted subsidies and otherwise assisted their industries in competing in world commerce. America's policy, excepting the steamship lines and the high tariff walls has not been so directly helpful to industry. Lately the government is tending more toward paternalism, coupled with an abandonment of its policy of isolation. . . . Paternalism is usually answered with paternalism. A state oil monopoly which would drive American and other foreign companies from the French market has been proposed by the French socialist party. The monopoly would place all importation and refining of oil and distribution of gasoline in the hands of the government.

Until 1931 a half-dozen American companies furnished France with more than half of all the petroleum products she imported. This business amounted to about $62,680,000 in 1930—a large slice of the total American trade with France. Since then France has been buying greater quantities from Russia and Rumania and America's share diminished from 53 per cent in 1930 to 36 per cent in 1932.

Oil is not produced in France and since the war successive governments have sought to free the country from complete dependence on foreign sources. Foreign companies do business under licenses granted in 1928 for 20-year periods. On the basis of these long-term permits, costly establishments have been built.

This fact was evoked in chamber debate by adversaries of the monopoly who claimed that indemnities to American and other companies, in case the licenses were revoked, would be costly to the state.

They also said that 200,000 men would be put on the state pay roll by such a monopoly.

Jobs vs. Extravagance

An unusually liberal policy toward public works projects in which federal funds are available is certain under the new statutes. The government is prepared to make an outright gift of 80 per cent of acceptable projects and lend the remaining 70 per cent at a low rate of interest. This tremendous blow at unemployment, which is expected to restore enough buying power to end the depression, is so far-reaching that there is nothing in the history of the American nation to compare with it. From one standpoint, it is extravagance at a time when public extravagance is being condemned. From another, it is the inevitable result of the failure of private capital to act with enough faith and cooperation to restore jobs and buying power.

Eligible Projects

The government will give Texas about $250,000,000 if Texans through various public bodies join in the movement. Cooperation of state and local groups is necessary to place the plan into operation. Here are some of the projects which are acceptable:

Building of city halls, courthouses, hospitals, factories, docks, warehouses, airports, roads, railroads, waterways, police stations, fire stations, providing of water storage, water filtration plants, water softening plants, water lines, sewage disposal plants, sewer systems civic centers, prevention of stream pollution eradication of slums, building of parking space, draining of swamps, irrigation of arid lands, clearing of timber lands, reforestation, building of game preserves, artificial lakes, fish hatcheries, camp sites and resorts, golf courses, amusement parks and athletic parks. The projects also include flood and drought control hydroelectric development, breakwaters, harbors, channels, highway paving, and many others. While previous federal laws required self-liquidating projects apart from taxation, this technically has been eliminated.

Powerful President

No congress ever acted with such speed and willingness to let the president have his way. The president is authorized to spend and loan the sum of $3,300,000,000, with other millions in direct aid to states in combating unemployment. He may formulate industrial codes, including wages, prices, and production for the purpose of controlling competition. He can raise farm commodity prices, lease land to keep it from production, and levy on farm products to pay the cost. He can regulate banks, manipulate gold and currency, and inflate the money system. His control of expenditures to veterans has been sustained. He can adjust federal salaries to the cost of living indices. Consolidation of bureaus is within his power. Railroads and oil can be controlled by federal coordinators appointed by him. But through all this conferring of extraordinary powers on the president runs the word 'emergency.' We as a people have set up no permanent dictator, although we are setting a precedent which will never entirely recede, and on which a future socialist government may be reared to handle the growing complexities of civilization.

King George is reported to have lost weight during his recent illness. Another case of the declining British pound?

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: George Boncross hangs sleeping over a gate. On her way home to England from visiting her mother in New York she has tried to comfort Nicholas Boyd, the former film star. Boyd, through his eyes, reveals to her the life and work of a film star. When his contract with Boncross is cancelled, his wife George goes bravely, but without knowing it, he has come for rest to her home village.

Chapter 13 NICHOLAS AGAIN

BUT George did not stop, and suddenly she was humiliatingly conscious of a step behind her, and then, as she did not look up, of a hand on her shoulder and a voice which said:

"I told you there were to be no more tears, Lolin."

George did not look up, but something warm and delicious seemed to flow through every vein in her body, as if someone had poured healing balm into a wound, and after a moment Nicholas Boyd said:

"It's no use pretending, I've been watching you for at least five minutes."

She groped in a pocket and produced a handkerchief, dabbing her eyes with a hand that was not quite steady.

"You don't seem very surprised to see me," she said resentfully.

"You don't seem surprised to see me," she said.

"I'm not in the least surprised," he answered calmly. "Why should I be? I heard your voice this morning talking to Mrs. Spears, and besides I followed your example and read the label on your trunk just as you read the label on mine."

She flushed him a radiant smile.

"You did?" she breathed.

"I assure you I did; why are you so surprised?"

"Because I thought if you had known I lived here, you would have gone somewhere else."

His eyes met hers, unsmilingly.

"And why should I alter all my plans just because you happen to live here?" he asked.

SHE stood silent, twisting her handkerchief, then suddenly she raised her eyes and smiled with disarming sweetness.

"I think it was clever of you to recognize my voice," she said. And then as he said nothing, she added: "I'm glad you've got the room that looks over the garden."

"Did you make it your business to find out which room I had got?"

"Yes, your uncle was down at the Boar's Head yesterday and they told him about you, and he told me, and so..."

"And so you went down this morning to tell Mrs. Spears to look after me properly, is that it?"

She flushed a little. "Well—not exactly—but I wanted to make sure it really was you."

"And now you have made sure?"

She had nothing to say to that, and he said: "If you've quite finished crying, shall we walk back?"

George said impulsively, "Isn't it too far for you?"

"When I haven't walked a step for a week?"

"Well, I only thought you might be tired."

They walked slowly down the road together, Nicholas leaning heavily on his stick.

George asked suddenly, "Did you see my uncle?"

George quarrels with a friend of hers, tomorrow.

ALSO VOTE TO PRODUCE OIL AS HE ORDERS

ATTENDANTS BRING UP 90 PER CENT OF NATION'S OIL

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—Producers agreed today to put the oil wells of the United States under the president's supervision to sell their product at prices he establishes and to produce as he orders.

A code binding them to this agreement was adopted in an eight-hour meeting of representatives of independent and "major company" which bring up 90 per cent of the nation's oil.

Under the new system, set up to meet the requirements of the national industrial recovery act minimum and maximum prices are fixed for each district by the president, a central agency of nine men is created to govern the industry, drilling of new wells is prohibited unless on federal permission, and the flow of oil by importation or from storage tanks is sharply limited.

The operators bound themselves also to work their wells on hours for labor and at minimum rates of pay set by the president.

Opposition to the price fixing sections was roared down after they had been defended by executives of some of the country's largest companies.

Amos L. Beatty, a director of the American Petroleum Institute, told the oil men price fixing should be accomplished as soon as possible. L. P. St. Clair, president of the Union Oil of California, championed price control by pointing out that "utilities have their prices fixed now, and that's the only industry that has made money during the depression."

J. Edgar Pew, president of Sun Oil Company, R. G. A. Van Der Woude, president of Shell Petroleum Company, Ralph B. Lloyd, millionaire west coast oil man, and C. C. Herndon, vice president of Skelly Oil, fought the proposal vainly.

The convention approved the sections by a vote of the chairman did not bother to count.

Independent leaders backed the measure with spirited argument. Wirt Franklin, New York, president of the Independent Petroleum Association, declared small producers must have a guarantee that they would be given a fair price of the industry's executive committee. Thomas Hogan, Midland, when they went under the control of Tex. Independent, told the leaders of American oil "we've given you another trial until we're tired. You can't protest about government interference. You've been interfering in our business for years."

Deficit in School Fund Is Announced

LUBBOCK, June 17 (AP)—With setting of the state per capita apportionment delayed until July 31 by a question involving disposition of the present accumulative deficit of $4,500,000, members of the state board of education were starting for their homes tonight with appeals from many sections of the state requesting the apportionment "be set as high as possible."

Having learned of the deficit question facing the board late Friday school leaders from various sections of the state sent telegrams to the board today pointing out the seriousness of the situation and declaring public schools would be unable to hold regular terms unless an equitable apportionment was set.

Heir Kills Boy And Goes Free

EL PASO, June 17 (AP)—Graham McNary, son of J. G. McNary, prominent southwest lumberman, stands exonerated as far as the El Paso county grand jury is concerned in the fatal shooting of Earl James, 18, last week.

The grand jury yesterday reviewed the case but took no action. Young James was shot in an alley near McNary's home. He died several days later.

At an inquest, it was testified James and another youth were peeping into a window across the street from McNary's home when McNary and another man surprised them. The other youth surrendered but James fled. McNary claimed he did not know he was shooting at a boy. The coroner's verdict stated simply that James was shot by McNary.

SCOUT NEWS

TROOP THREE Joe Isbell, Scribe

Troop Three met at the First Baptist church Thursday evening at 7:30. Test were passed, and games were enjoyed.

TROOP 18 Harold Ricard, Scribe

Troop 18 held its regular meeting of troop leaders, Friday night. Those present were John E. Shannon, scoutmaster; Everett Vandenburg, S. P. L. Roscoe Pinnell, wolf patrol leader; Laverne Courson, Rattlesnake p. 1, and in the absence of Norman Cox, Billy Cotton, was present for the Bears.

Quite a bit of time was taken up by discussion of troop projects, and ways of completing some of them, and getting every boy in each patrol working. Ways of developing more leadership among the boys, and also criticism on the leadership methods of those present at the meeting was thoroughly gone into. It was emphatically stressed by Scoutmaster Shannon the importance of leadership ability among the patrol leaders, and its effect on the entire troop.

Some criticism was offered by patrol leaders on not having a complete written program for each troop meeting, and it was moved that hereafter written programs would be made and each patrol leader receive a copy one week in advance.

It was also decided to hold an over-night hike Saturday, June 17th on the Moore Davidson place.

It was reported by Roscoe Pinnell that the Wolf patrol has its Patrol flag, and Totem pole completed, and working on the first aid kit for the troop. The Rattlesnake patrol is beginning work on its totem pole, and the Bears are nearing completion of theirs and also their patrol flag. The Bear and Wolf patrol spent considerable time the past week, setting out trees, and grass, around our new scout hall, also painting the inside.

In the OIL FIELDS

The hike in the price of crude oil in the Panhandle field was expected to be a stimulus to the industry which has been at low ebb for the last few months. Activities in the field last week were confined to a few drilling wells.

Several major companies followed the price raise of the Bell Oil & Gas company which was the first to raise the price of crude from the 20 cent flat rate to 40 cent top on gravity basis. Although Siskfield, Prairie and Skelly followed immediately, Phillips was the first major purchaser of Panhandle oil to send the price up. Others followed or were expected to follow immediately.

The Damer et al's No. 1 Cobb in section 165, block 3, was completed for 44 barrels a day on the pump following a shot of 180 quarts. The hole was bottomed at 3,384 feet.

Welomite Production company's No. 1 Sailor in section 111, block 3, was shot with 280 quarts and made 128 barrels the first 24 hours. The well later made 168 barrels a day on a five day test.

The rig on the Jean Petroleum company's No. 1 Fumeaux in section 206, B-2, was burned soon after 3,000,000 feet of gas was encountered. The blizz was extinguished with little difficulty. A new rig is being erected and deepening will be resumed.

Production in the field dropped 367 barrels last week. Production by counties follows:

County	Wells	Pr.	Wk	L	W

Consider Trees A Crop, Future Farmers Told

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Greater attention to timber lands was urged by President Roosevelt recently in a brief talk to the "Future Farmers of America."

Speaking to the youthful representatives of agriculture on the portico of the White House, Mr. Roosevelt urged that trees be considered a crop just as are potatoes and wheat.

"Timber is one commodity that is going to be indispensable to us," he said. "We have only a supply of what is known as virgin timber for 30 or 40 years. We are using it four times as fast as it grows."

Pointing to the advantages of agricultural life, the president warned his audience that "you who are going to engage in the profession of agriculture know that the odds are 1,000 to one that you will never become millionaires."

"But there is more than money," he continued. "More important is that you will be building for future generations the soundest kinds of American life."

"If you have no money the odds are 1,000 to one the other way that you will never starve, that you will have a roof over your head and good educational facilities for your families."

"This is more than others in industrial life have assurance of. I want you to bring home to the country the really basic advantages in farming."

"Let me tell you you perform a real service for the future of the country. You are doing a fine job—keep up the good work."

D. H. Billings, of Peninsula, O., made his first deliveries of new automobiles in 1908 on mud sleds.

Reports of Committees

In the business session, with Mrs. Sturgeon presiding, reports were read from the following committees: Recreation committee, Mrs. H. O. Roberts; missionary committee, Mrs. Jensen; treasurer, Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier.

A sewing club was organized in the class, and Mrs. Carl Baer asked that the first meeting be held at her home next Friday afternoon. Every member of the class is eligible to be a member of the club.

Auxiliary Chairman Of Rehabilitation Is Told Of Changes

Disabled world war veterans of Pampa will be effected favorably by changes recently announced in the regulations under which reductions in compensation payments will be made, according to Mrs. Al Lawson, rehabilitation chairman of Pampa unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. She expressed hope that before the reductions become effective June 30 further modification of the regulations will lessen the severity of compensation cuts for many local veterans.

One of the most important changes in the regulations, Mrs. Lawson explained, provides that veterans rated as permanently and totally disabled from war service will not have their rating changed except upon new evidence clearly showing that the rating is erroneous or that they are no longer totally disabled. Even in cases where doubt exists regarding the disability of the veteran, the total disability rating will be continued until re-examination can be made. The same change applies to veterans rated as temporarily and totally disabled.

Another important modification changes the provision in the regulations which required that to obtain compensation for arrested tuberculosis, the veteran must have been confined to a hospital for at least six continuous months. The modified regulations permit compensation payments to veterans who have been in hospitals six months, not necessarily in one continuous period, who have had six months' treatment at home, or six months' illness causing total incapacity, providing there is clear evidence that the veteran had active tuberculosis.

DISH-WASHING ARGUMENT MAY CONVINCe DAUGHTER

If a child does not like helping with the dishes the maternal housewife can receive more willing assistance by appealing to the sense of fairness by explaining that neither does she enjoy washing the dishes but that they must be done. By giving a child a pretty little apron and giving her a "play name" when assisting with household duties there will be more pleasure in these tasks and more of a spirit of acting a part.

Pickles May Be Made Of Various Raw Materials

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics, Texas State College for Women.

The cucumber is one of the most important raw materials used for pickling, and yet there are many other products which may be used just as satisfactorily. Both fruits and vegetables may be pickled whole, or in halves, quarters, or slices. Tomatoes, onions, beets, olives, carrots, cauliflower, cabbage, peaches, peas, figs, and grapes are the vegetables and fruits most often preserved by pickling.

Condiments of this nature tend to improve a meal. In the winter the average farm family has on hand dried beans, peas, and cured meats and by the use of some of these relishes such as a chow-chow or chili sauce these can be made much more appetizing. Then for picnics where barbecue or wienna sausage is served, sweet or sour pickles are almost an essential.

Use In Menus

Some of the following menus are suggestive of the way in which pickled products may be used in the diet.

Lunch: Sauerkraut and wienna sausage, scalloped potatoes, sliced tomatoes or lettuce, hot biscuits, ice cream cookies, tea.

Dinner: Baked ham, pickled beets, mashed potatoes, stuffed olives and lettuce, hot rolls, milk, date pudding, lemon sauce.

Lunch: Dried black eyed peas, chile sauce, baked yams, corn sticks, milk, baked apples.

Dinner: Pork roast in tomato sauce, potatoes in half shell, buttered peas, brown bread, pickles, peach salad, cookies, coffee.

Pickling Recipes.

SAUERKRAUT: Shred the cabbage in to narrow strips and weigh. For each 10 pounds of cabbage weigh to 8 oz. (½ lb.) of cooking salt. Mix the salt and cabbage thoroughly in a stone or wooden container. Place a false head on the cabbage and place a heavy weight upon this. Leave in a warm place for about three weeks. When a skum appears, wipe it off. Do not use limestone weights. Heat to boiling and pack into sterilized jars having glass lids. Place jars in a hot water bath and boil for 30 minutes. Seal and store.

BEEF PICKLES: Cook beets until they are tender. Plunge them into cold water and slip off the skins. Rinse. Cover them with spiced vinegar. 1 qt. vinegar, 1 pt. sugar, 1 t. cinnamon, 1 tsp. allspice, 1 t. seal salt. Simmer fifteen minutes. Seal them in clean, hot jars. This spiced vinegar may be used for any vegetable.

CHILI SAUCE: 2 qts. ripe tomatoes (peeled), 4 t. brown sugar, 4 onions, ½ tsp. nutmeg, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 hot pepper, 1 t. ginger, 2 tsp. salt. Chop vegetables fine. Add other ingredients, cook until tender. 1½ hours, then add 3 c vinegar, boil 4 minutes and seal hot in jars.

PICKLED PEACHES: Peel peaches. They may be left whole or in halves as desired. Prepare a syrup made of the following: 2 lbs. sugar, 1 t. of ginger root, 2 t. stick cinnamon, 1 pt. vinegar, 1½ t. of whole cloves. Place the fruit in this syrup and cook until tender. Allow to stand in the syrup overnight. Next day pour off syrup and boil it down until it forms a heavy syrup. If syrup is thick after standing overnight, it is not necessary to boil it down. Heat fruit to boiling hot in syrup, pack boiling in glass hot jars. Seal at once. One or more of these sweet pickles may be served on a lettuce leaf with mayonnaise dressing.

GHOSTS OF LONDON—by Elliott C'Donnell, New York; E. P. Dutton & Co. ($3.50).

Mr. O'Donnell writes with the conviction of belief in the supernatural; consequently his collection of stories of the GHOSTS OF LONDON give that creeping satisfaction that the reader naturally expects as his just due which is, to say the least, the ultimate purpose of ghost stories. The author has made a study of spirit manifestations for many years and is sincere in his opinion that these being the realities that once walked the earth in ordinary guise and that some day a physical law may be discovered which will explain these things of which at present we know nothing.

Mr. O'Donnell believes the ghostly population of London to be very large, in fact, probably equal to the numbers of the city's populace in the terms of census. In this group of tales concerning the undead, he relates many novel and hair-raising incidents that will keep the reader in a suspense of uncertainty and indecision. There is a story of a bear which is seen at times in the yard of the Tower—a clown once famous who haunts the theater in which he performed before he joined the clan of the mystic—a certain black raven that pecked at the bodies in a vault—a scene in the Tower at midnight when a guard saw Anne Boleyn, dressed in dazzling raiment and followed by a procession of men and women clothed in the costumes of Henry VIII's period. Thus the author roams through the parks, theaters, churches, palaces, and clubs of London seeking the ghosts of the past and present, and presenting this weird array of an impressionistic manner—GHOSTS OF LONDON.

THE DEVIL'S PASSPORT—by Gordon Young, New York; The Century Company ($2.00).

La Tete de Mort, head of an international crime syndicate with headquarters in Paris, gives orders secretly and by fear. Those to whom he gives orders know that to disobey is to die; although they do not know from whom the orders come. Don Everhead, whose mission is to establish the identity of La Tete de Mort and to destroy his organization, has little of the detective and more of the adventurer in his favor, gains the pseudo-reputation of racketeer in the hopes he'll be asked to join the gang. Everhead's troubles begin on the steamer and continue until his purpose is accomplished. A beautiful girl enters the story and causes things to become complicated as Don does not know whether she is friend or enemy. A thrilling book.

MAN WITHOUT HONOR—by Barbara Hedworth, New York; E. P. Dutton and Company ($2.00).

Nicky, left an orphan at an early age, had been reared by his mother's sister in the seamy and dignified atmosphere of his grandmother's London home. He grew up to be very attractive, almost pretty, genteel, and more or less an effeminate sort of person. His air of unworldliness and charm caused him to be very popular with the post-war "bright young people." His friends introduced him to extravagances of which he had not so much as dreamed and pleasures for in excess of his modest income. He was 27 when the changing process came about, and unfortunately, he fell in love with a disillusioned young woman whose worthless husband had deserted her. Sylvia returned Nicky's passion and for a time shared with him a clandestine love affair. This was broken up by Sylvia's refusal to marry him until he made a man of himself.

Discouraged and maddened by his mistress's treatment, Nicky spent two reckless years furiously spending the legacy his lately expired aunt had bequeathed him in a series of wild dissipations. Penniless, facing suicide or starvation, he acquires a position as a lingerie salesman—and makes good. Sylvia welcomes him with open arms and a happy reunion follows. Nicky is just the type that disgusts and annoys male readers unbearably, nor are his neurotic companions more pleasing.

APACHE DEVIL—by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Tarzana, Calif.; Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. (12).

Although some of the pages are overlaid with Apache lore, this book of western life is undoubtedly refreshing as Edgar Rice Burroughs seems to be particularly qualified for writing such a novel, having spent many years as a cowboy and a ranger, and certainly for his service in the Seventh United States Cavalry in the Apache country 36 years ago.

A child of white parents, kidnapped and raised by the Indians, who believes and acts as an Apache, is Shog-Du-Ji the Black Bear, nicknamed the APACHE DEVIL. This tale concerns the exploits of this character.

Written in Burroughs characteristic slapdash manner, with a careless disregard of grammar at times, this story has a sympathy for the Indians and is vividly colorful.

State Highway Patrol Arrests 25; Fines Paid

Twenty-five more Pampa motorists were arrested Friday night by state highway officers for driving with defective lights. They were charged in city court and some were fined $1, and others more. The second offenders received the stiffest fines.

Two weeks ago the officers were here and arrested 35 motorists who were asked to warn their friends that the officers would be back again. Most of the offenders on both trips had only on front light or no tail light.

"We are coming back again and we hope Pampa motorists will take advantage of this warning to have their lights fixed," the officers said. "It will cost much less to get lights fixed than to pay fines."

"The practice of driving with one light or with no tail light is dangerous and the officers continue to hope that pay fines would be the first to 'hollow' if they ran into a car with one light or no tail light."

least prone to get into difficulties are those associations that maintain a close contact with the national, state, and district bodies. Their program of work is consonant with the objects of the national and they are not easily side-tracked. They have a realizing sense of their functions, which are so large and so important that the members have no time nor inclination for personalities and controversies. Their leadership is broadminded and farseeing. It anticipates points at issue and handles them in an intelligent manner with honor to itself and satisfaction to all.

Many powerful forces that are fighting the schools are operating on a nationwide basis. Local units of parents and teachers need the help and information which can be secured by membership in the national congress.

Next to feeding, clothing, and giving medical attention to children where needed, the first claim on the leadership of parent-teacher associations is to see that their schools are not crippled.

In faculty meetings plans could be made for cooperating with parents through the local units. Is every parent reached by copies of Child Welfare Magazine? This magazine contains excellent help for study programs and for young mothers. Every issue contains also something of interest to teachers.

Playground Will Be Finished Soon

The sum of $828.80 was paid to 217 men and 13 women yesterday morning by the Gray county Federal Relief committee after its regular weekly meeting. Work on the playground will be continued and completed before another project is started.

The committee agreed that it would be advisable to finish one project before starting another because it is not known how long the money will be available and it would not be a good policy to have several jobs started when the money became exhausted.

BORGER COMMISSION
Asks Utilities Loan.
BORGER, June 17.—Charles Chapman city manager, announced today that the city commission was preparing to begin negotiations through the West Texas chamber of commerce for a self-liquidating loan for water and electricity systems.

The loan would be sought under the national industrial recovery act.

Briggs Elected Vice President Of C. C. Group

George W. Briggs, manager of the Pampa Board of City Development, was elected vice-president of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers association at its annual convention in Tyler last week. The organization was formerly known as the Texas Commercial Secretaries' association. Mr. Briggs was a director last year.

The meeting, according to Mr. Briggs, was the best in the history of the association. The relief situation was gone into thoroughly and the new recovery act was discussed and translated. Chambers of commerce throughout the country are taking active part in relief work and it is necessary that secretaries become familiar with the work.

Mr. Briggs was the only representative from this section to be elected to office.

British-declared exports to the United States declined about 22 per cent in January, 1933, compared with January, 1932.

CUMMINGS MOVES TOWARD STAMPING OUT RACKETEERS, GUNMEN

SLAYINGS ARE ACCEPTED AS DEFIANT ACT

DETAIL FROM KANSAS CITY ASSIGNED TO KILLINGS

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—A federal government angered by the slaying of a department of justice operative in Kansas City tonight was moving toward stamping out racketeers and gunmen.

The slaying of Raymond J. Carrey, the justice department man, in an apparent attempt at Kansas City to free Frank Nash, an Oklahoma train robber, was accepted by Attorney General Cummings as outright defiance of a governmental agency which gangdom long has respected.

He answered the challenge with an order to set the entire justice department on the trail of the killers and specifically assigned a detail from points near Kansas City to the case.

Cummings' order, by coincidence, followed closely a statement by President Roosevelt last night that "we must protect" the newly legalized trade associations "from the racketeers who invade organizations of both employers and workers."

The provisions of the new industrial bill, it has been pointed out, intensify the need for control of the labor racketeering which has harassed the industry and commerce of the nation's great cities.

Cummings has expressed himself as believing that "as a people we have been troubled too long by the racketeers of violence and bloodshed."

"It is my hope," Cummings said, "that in the field of law enforcement and in the detection and prosecution of crime I may be able to bring about a better coordination of state and federal activities."

At upwards of twenty other points in the nation, federal agents are delving into racketeering operations, the scope of which infringes on that section of law enforcement delegated to the federal government—liquor syndicates, gem, drug, and alien smuggling and gang domination of labor unions.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 17 (AP)—Hope of freeing William Hamm, Jr., millionaire president of the Theodore Hamm Brewing company, held by kidnappers for a $100,000 ransom under threat of death, tomorrow was expressed tonight by H. J. Charles, attorney for the company.

RACES

Saddle Horses Parade.

In addition to the races there are exhibitions in the saddle horse show. Friday the winners were first Moonlight McDonald, owned by Red Scott, entries in which will be the pick of over 100 fine horses: one-fourth mile, one-half and 70 yards, three-eighths mile, one mile and 35 yards, Roman race, one-half and 70 yards. Gilmore Nunn is ringmaster of the meet.

Yesterday's Results.
550 yards: Lindy (W. H. Harned); Little Dude (Red Goddard); Joe Bailey (H. Winters).

Three furlongs: Star Lion (F. Cadoway); Panzeretta (G. Allen); Warner Brown (Bill Sapp).

Three-eighths mile: Pete (Red Goddard); Blue June (W. E. Harned); Jack H. (H. Winters).

One mile and 35 yards: May Boy (H. Winters); Greenspring (Boots Armstrong); King Banks (W. E. Harned).

Up to last night Red Goddard had proved himself to be the pre-eminent jockey riding in the meet with W. E. Harned and H. Winters, close second favorites. The first day's races almost taught the fans to place their money on Goddard's nag for he was up on two winning horses and placed second in two other races. But yesterday, Harned and Winters rode winners. Today it was likely that the spectators would bet on the horses and not the jockeys.

ADMITS SLAYING

POTEAU, Okla., June 17 (AP)—A 12-year-old girl confessed beside the body of her slain father in their lonely mountain cabin here Sunday night, Okla., today that she killed him with a rifle after he had beaten her with a stick of stove-wood, county officers announced on their return from the scene tonight.

Tells of Fight.

E. H. Patton of Wheeler county, on the stand Friday night, told, in hearing loud voices at the Lewis Bowers place in South Pampa and, on investigating, seeing Joe Bowers strike his wife and of seeing her hit him with a single-tree. He said he separated them and further testified that Joe was drunk. "This testimony" was interrupted when the defense called for Rich Bowers, cousin of the defendant, to tell of a conversation with Marvin B. Simpson, plaintiff's attorney. Before leaving the stand, Rich Bowers testified that Joe Bowers' reputation was bad. Defense counsel then attempted to discredit this testimony but Mr. Bowers was excused when Judge W. R. Ewing withheld immediate ruling on plaintiff's exceptions.

Miss Eufala Barker, witness for and chum of the plaintiff, occupied the chair all Saturday morning with but little intermission. She, too, told of the occasion when Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bowers had a fight and recalled other instances in which Mr. Bowers was allegedly drunk and abusive. She told of how she and Mrs. Bowers say Mr. Bowers with another man and two girls near a

'Juneteenth' Is Double Trouble For Pen Negroes

RAMSAY STATE FARM, Angleton, Texas, June 17 (AP)—The white man's burden is nothing compared to the black man's burden on Ramsay state farm.

The great Juneteenth—emancipation day for Texas negroes—is at hand and the boys, black and brown and tan are in the depths of despair.

The big fish fry and barbecue planned for the 270 negro convicts Monday has been postponed because of the scourge. Misery lit among the negro convicts like a bolt from the blue. It laid 22 husky convicts low at the first blow.

The other negroes laughed—"the less you eat, the more they is for me," they said.

A double celebration had been planned here and at Clemens state farm 30 miles away in the Brazos river bottom. The captains let the boys invite their girl friends down for the day and boxing, baseball and dancing was on the card.

Both camps sought to out do each other in gathering bass, trout, and perch from the Brazos river. A fatted possum was killed on this farm.

It appeared all O' Man Adam's "chillum" were in for a feast and a feast to the black man means fun, but double trouble "dropped the pigeon" on the plans.

But the weight of the black man's burden on Ramsay farm grew—for the prison doctor today nailed a sign on the barracks door that read: "Quarantined!"

OTTO STUDER was in Panhandle for the races Friday.

On cross-examination by W. M. Lewright, attorney for Mr. Bowers, Miss Barker admitted that she intended to sue John Bowers, brother of the defendant, for breach of promise and in a settlement out of court accepted $1,000, and signed an agreement. She said she was frequently with John Bowers until he changed his mind about marrying her. Alluding to an operation in a local hospital, the defense counsel sought to show that a local married man had paid part of her hospital bill. Losing her calm demeanor, Miss Barker flared back that she borrowed the money from the man and that her mother knew all about it. She resisted every inference that she had conspired to obtain money from John Bowers and contended that she had been deceived. After the noon recess, the agreement which Miss Barker signed was introduced. Argument over legal points grew so heated that at one point Judge W. R. Ewing quieted both sides and ordered W. M. Lewright and Marvin B. Simpson to "sit down."

J. O. Gillham, local bank official and auditor of the Bowers estate by order of the court, introduced his report, exceptions to which were taken by the plaintiff because few details of the defendant's income and expenditures were given. It was developed that Joe Bowers received about $1,400 per month over a 2-year period.

Testimony of Mrs. Bowers will be resumed Monday at 9 a. m.

Sheriff Gets A Sheriff

Talmadge "Sheriff" Maples, University of Tennessee's 1933 football center and captain, will take orders from two people this year. Major Bob Neyland, coach of the Vols, will issue gridiron orders, and the former Mary Alice McEwen of Knoxville will give them off the field. She now is Mrs. Talmadge Maples.

Industrial Plans Near Completion

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Agreements among more than half a dozen major industries to raise wages, stabilize hours of work and ban sales below cost of production were understood tonight to be nearer completion for submission to Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the national recovery act.

Out of weeks of conferences came authoritative reports that announcements would be ready soon which would affect millions of workers and set in motion definitely the machinery upon which President Roosevelt rests much of his expectation of ending the depression.

Representatives of textiles, iron and steel, automobiles, coal, clothing, electrical supplies and other key industries have been in touch directly with Johnson and his staff of coordinators in the last few days. Over the country other meetings are going ahead.

And out of them, officials fore-and-increasing purchasing power.

Companies Join In Crude Raise

TULSA, Okla., June 17 (AP)—Crude oil buyers tumbled rapidly in line today with notice that higher prices will be paid immediately in the midcontinent area, while the refinery market leaped skyward in the strongest bull movement of recent years.

Almost half the crude purchasers of the area, representing buyers of slightly less than half the crude produced, had announced they would pay on a gravity scale to 52 cents peak for northern midcontinent crude, an advance of 27 cents, and a flat 30 cents a barrel for East Texas production, a 25-cent rise.

Two big purchasers, Carter Oil company (Standard Oil of New Jersey) and Shell Petroleum corporation, will conform Monday. cast, will come soon tangible results toward curbing unemployment.

Officer Weeps In Describing Killing Of Four

KANSAS CITY, June 17 (AP)—Frank Smith, thicket department of justice agent from Oklahoma City, sat unscathed through the deadly fusillade at Union Station, this morning which killed not only the prisoner he arrested yesterday at Hot Springs, but also four fellow officers, and wounded two others.

Weeping as he mentioned his friend, Otto Reed, chief of police of McAlester, Okla., the agent asked for a clean shirt to replace the garment spotted with the blood of his associates.

"We all walked through the Union Station with Nash still handcuffed," the agent said, giving details of the brief but sanguinary battle.

"Nash was the first to enter the car which was to take us to Leavenworth prison.

"He started to sit down in the rear seat. Someone told him he was to ride in front. So Nash sat down temporarily in the driver's seat while we were getting into the rear. I sat down between Lackey, on my right, and Chief Reed, on my left."

Garners Coming Back To 'Bushes'

ST. LOUIS, June 17 (AP)—Willing to discuss chickens, vegetables and grapes, but shunning the subject of politics, Vice-president and Mrs. John Nance Garner passed through St. Louis tonight en route home to Uvalde, Tex.

"Politically speaking, I've been deaf, dumb and blind ever since March 4," chuckled the vice-president. "All I want to do is just hibernate in the bushes for a while—become a modern Rip Van Winkle," he explained.

He did comment that he had discovered his tenure as speaker of the house gave him more power than he exercises as vice-president. "I've had a very pleasant 100 days as vice-president and anyway a that any of use care about is helping out President Roosevelt any way we can," he concluded.

The Garners expect to remain in Texas until Jan. 1.

Leroy R. Miller was among those from Pampa who saw the Panhandle horse races this week.

U. S. IGNORES FRANCE'S APPEAL FOR REVIEW OF WAR DEBTS

WILL DISCUSS REDUCTION OF ITALIAN DEBT

HOWEVER INSTALLMENT PAID BY ITALY IS 'UNSUBSTANTIAL'

By RICHARD L. TURNER, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—In a formal note, the United States today ignored France's appeal for a review of its war debt and forcefully reminded the Paris government of its two unpaid debt installments totaling $60,000,000.

At the same time, a note was handed to Italian Ambassador Rosso saying while his government's payment of $1,000,000 on a total installment due of more than $14,000,000 might be considered by congress and the American people as "unsubstantial," Mr. Roosevelt was willing to enter upon a discussion of the Italian debt.

Meanwhile, it was made clear informally, that while President Roosevelt would not brusquely wave aside further French representations on the debt question, that nation must place itself on the same footing with others that have met or partially met obligations before the debt question could be reopened.

Notes identical to the one to France were dispatched to Poland and Belgium, which like France, had now defaulted on two installments. The notes were in reply to communications from those governments saying they were not able to meet the payments which fell due Thursday and repeating their urgent request for revision.

In the case of France, the reply, signed by Acting Secretary Phillips of the state department, after consultation with President Roosevelt said: "The government of the United States acknowledges receipt of the note of the French government setting forth its attitude concerning the debt obligation due on June 15 to this government. It notes that the French government has failed to meet in whole or in part the installment due on existing debt agreement between the French government and the government of the United States."

"The government of the United States must, in all frankness, call attention to the problems raised by the failure of the French government to meet the payment due on December 15, 1932, which have not yet been solved or even discussed between the two nations."

Highly appreciative of Finland's full payment of the installment due Thursday the administration told that government in a note that it was "ready to discuss at the pleasure" of the Finnish government the entire debt question.

The government of Finland, by this action, has justified the high regard with which it has always been held by the government of the United States," the note said. "It is significant that the people of Finland have regarded this payment as an important national obligation and have discharged its terms in full."

Principals Of "Hell Below"

MADGE EVANS, ROBERT YOUNG and ROBERT MONTGOMERY in "HELL BELOW"

SUBMARINE WARFARE THRILLER HAS ROMANCE AMID HORRORS

"Hell Below," thriller of submarine warfare, with Robert Montgomery, Walter Huston, Madge Evans, Jimmy Durante, Eugene Pallette, and Robert Young in the cast, opens today at the La Nora theater as one of the most anticipated photoplays of the year. Based on Commander Edward Ellsberg's famous book, "Pigboats," the picture unfolds a terrifically moving romance set amid thrills under the sea, on the water and in the air, in a vivid narrative of fighting in the Mediterranean off the coast of Italy.

A Brilliant Cast. Montgomery was given his most difficult acting assignment in this picture in which he plays a lieutenant on a United States submarine who is at constant odds with his commander, Walter Huston, who recently received critical huzzas for his work in "Gabriel Over the White House." His daughter is played by Madge Evans. The riotous ship's cook who is also a student of mail-order dentistry is none other than Jimmy "Shoelace" Durante himself. Eugene Pallette is the chief torpedo man and Robert Young, as Montgomery's pal, has a role even more effective than his naval officer of "Today We Live." The picture was directed by Jack Conway who has produced a number of outstanding hits for Mero-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The stirring and oft-time breathtaking incidents of "Hell Below" revolve about a young naval lieutenant who in an effort to save his closest friend, almost brings about the death of an entire submarine crew when, due to his flaunting of the commander's orders, the submarine is forced to the bottom of the sea with its engines disabled. He is dismissed from the navy. Meantime, he has won the love of his commander's daughter who is married to a hopelessly wounded aviator. After a series of compelling dramatic incidents, the young lieutenant is brought to the realization of what he owes to the husband of the girl he loves and makes an end to the futile romance by insulting the girl in a powerful scene in which he pretends to be drunk. Having nothing further to live for, in the end, he sacrifices his life in an heroic adventure in which he blows up a fort by ramming it with a submarine loaded with dynamite.

NOT TO COMPETE
DALLAS, June 17 (AP)—Gus Moreland, three consecutive times Texas golf champion, said tonight it was doubtful if he would defend his trans-Mississippi championship at Colorado Springs next week. Moreland said he would not know definitely until Monday morning, but that tonight it didn't look like he would make the trip.

Drainage of land 230 feet below sea level, adjacent to the Salton sea, is proposed by directors of the Imperial Valley, Calif., irrigation district.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, June 17 (AP)—Cotton was not particularly active today and prices developed a somewhat easier trend, due partly to unfavorable Liverpool cables and partly to the uncertainties over the government plan for leasing acreage. The close was 13 to 15 points net lower.

The opening was easy as Liverpool cables came in considerably lower than due. The market improved somewhat later on firmer stocks, good trade buying and covering by shorts for over the week end. October advanced to $9.28 and December to $9.41, or 16 points above the early lows.

In the last half hour, however, prices eased again on word that the plan for leasing acreage would not be given out today and the market reacted 10 to 11 points from the top. October closed at $9.17, down 14 points net and December at $9.31, down 15 points.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, June 17 (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Livestock trade at mid-western markets this week felt depressing influence of a sluggish demand for dressed meat. Another liberal run of fed steers, yearlings and fed heifers this week resulted in another general decline of 25-50. Chicago early in the week scored $7.60 on strictly choice long yearlings but on the wind-up $8.85 stopped best offered. Bulk of fed steers and yearlings at the various markets cleared from $4.75-$6.25. A few South Texas grass steers at Kansas City brought $3.65-$4.25. Aggregate receipts at eleven markets for the week totaled around 170,000, against 170,334 last week and 137,861 the corresponding period a year ago.

Woman Claims She Recognized Floyd

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 17 (AP)—The Columbian Missourian, which is edited by journalism students at the University of Missouri, today said Mrs. Lucy Clark, a witness to the killing of Sheriff Roger Wilson and Sergeant Ben Booth of the highway patrol, had identified Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, the Oklahoma outlaw, as one of their slayers.

Mrs. Clark, who talked with Wilson and Booth just before the killers' car drove up, identified Floyd by a newspaper picture, the paper said. Officers investigating the crime, however, pointed out that Mrs. Clark was some distance from the car, and said positive identification of Floyd under the circumstances would be difficult.

Wallace Unshaken On Cotton Program

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—A final drive to dissuade Secretary Wallace from applying maximum processing taxes on cotton was credited today with postponing briefly announcement of his cotton acreage reduction program but failed to shake his determination to carry out his original plans.

He arranged early in the day to announce his program before noon but partly as a result of a protest presented by Senator Smith (D., S. C.), he postponed this.

Late today he announced that he would make the program public at 11 a. m. E. S. T. Monday—this time having been selected to make the information available at markets in this country before those abroad.

CHICAGO GRAIN
(By John P. Boughan) Associated Press Market Editor
CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—Despite almost 2 cents collapse of wheat prices today in flurried outbursts of selling, the market developed rallying power later, and more than overcame losses.

Rushes to oats prices unaffected directly by the processor tax plan, advanced on account of unfavorable weather conditions. Need of rain for the corn crop was emphasized especially.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive to corn prices and notwithstanding weakness of hog values. Closing indemnities: Whent-July 72%, 75%; Sep 74%, 77%; Dec 76%, 79%. Corn—July 44%, 46%; Sep 47%, 49%; Dec 48%, 52%.

Gains General In Securities; Mixed For Commodities

(By John L. Cooley) Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Security prices improved today. Gains for stocks and bonds were not particularly large, but they were rather general, in contrast to mixed performances on commodity exchanges.

Share traders gave a boom to equities of companies which they thought would get business under the widely ramified industrial recovery program. Strength tended to ward concentration on these issues, but the general list managed to squeak out a goodly assortment of net gains, many of which were financial. In bonds, German Government notes shot up swiftly on news that plans were being made for continuing full service on the Dawes plan.

Stocks related to the various branches of construction found marked favor. Oils paid little attention to firming crude quotations. Rails were higher but appeared to have discounted in large measure another gain of car loadings. Volume attained the relatively small total of 1,567,703 shares.

Wall street was still uncertain as to the ultimate decision on dollar stabilization. Dollar exchange improved slightly.

Freight loadings for the week ended June 10 increased 62,681 cars over a year ago, reaching a new high total for 1933. The improvement from the corresponding period of 1932 was 12.5 per cent, whereas in the preceding seven days the pickup had amounted to 13.5 per cent.

Wheat was unsettled. After losing a cent or more, however, the market rallied and finished virtually unchanged. Cotton lost the better part of a dollar a bale. Traders in that staple found they had to wait until Monday for Secretary Wal-

Mattern Is Safe Friend Believes

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Jack Clark, personal representative of Jimmie Mattern, round-the-world flier, today said he felt "there is better than a 50-50 chance that Jimmie is safe somewhere in Alaska."

Mattern took off from Khabarovsk, Siberia, for Nome, Alaska, Wednesday. "There were at least eight landing fields in obscure sections of Alaska that Jimmie knew about," said Clark.

"We feel confident he has landed and is unable to communicate his whereabouts. When weather conditions improve I think some of his pilot friends in Alaska will locate him."

Nails Scattered In Truck Mishap

A freak accident at the corner of South Cuyler street and Atchinson avenue at noon yesterday when a truck overturned while making the corner. The truck, loaded with kegs of nails, rolled on its side on the turn and the contents were scattered over a considerable area. The load apparently shifted as the truck turned the corner, causing it to turn over. The driver was not injured and the truck was driven away after being righted and the kegs placed back on the truck. ortwoubled, now istrf fifaf kafa
