Revenue-Sharing Vote Scheduled In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate tentatively scheduled a vote today that could send $2.65 billion—the first installment in a $30-billion revenue-sharing program—flowing to states, cities and other local governments.

If the Senate passes the bill, as is expected, President Nixon is certain to sign it.

The five-year revenue-sharing measure is a key element in his "new federalism" program.

The Treasury, without waiting for passage, has been working for weeks on preparations for mailing 39,000 checks, scheduled to go out before the Nov. 7 election.

The sum to be distributed immediately represents half the $5.3-billion allotment for 1972. The other half is expected to be paid in January.

FINAL FORM

By a 265-110 vote Thursday, the House passed the bill in its final form, a compromise between versions earlier approved by the two chambers.

Opponents, who contended the bill violates good governmental procedures and would swell the big federal deficits, pressed their unsuccessful fight to the end.

"Really, we ought to have our heads examined as we embark on this historical mistake," said Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis. Byrnes, the senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee who is retiring from Congress this year, broke with the White House to fight revenue sharing.

One-third of each year's allocation, which would rise gradually to $6.4 billion in the fifth year, will go to states to spend as they please. Two-thirds will go to the subordinate governments, to be spent within broad guidelines embracing most governmental areas except education.

NO LIMIT

The distribution among the states, and within each state, would be governed by complex formulas based on population, tax effort and need as measured by per capita income.

The bill also contains a limitation that would hit some states which have made maximum use of a program for the government to match, three to one, expenditures for social services to the disadvantaged, especially welfare recipients.

There is now no limit on the amount of matching funds states may receive. The bill would set a $2.5-billion annual ceiling and apportion the money among the states by population. It also would tighten requirements that the funds be used primarily for welfare recipients.

Jail Scribe For Refusing To 'Squeal'

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — "I'll serve as long as necessary. The longer I stay here the stronger my resolution becomes," says Peter Bridge, the newspaper reporter who was jailed for refusing to answer questions before a grand jury.

Bridge maintains that if he yields it would be an act of surrender of the free press. The 34-year-old city hall reporter for the former Evening News of Newark could go free if he would answer five questions out of 85 put to him by the Essex County grand jury, but he maintains that would be a betrayal of his news sources.

"I may be the first reporter in jail but I'm afraid I won't be the last," Bridge said in an interview Thursday. "I think the government has tried with me a frontal attack on the freedom of the press. I consider myself no more and no less than a representative of the free press."

"If I were to give up I would surrender that free press to those who don't really want it. To do that would be to betray that much larger segment of society that not only wants it but needs it."

"That's a pretty heavy responsibility, I think." Newsmen under New Jersey law have a right to protect their confidential sources. But his sentencing Superior Court judge ruled that Bridge waived that right when in one of his stories he named the source that alleged the making of a $10,000 bribe to a Newark Housing Authority commissioner.

The judge's decision was based on a recent ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court. "I attributed a quote to a public official. The public had a right to know who was making the allegations," Bridge said in an interview in the Essex County Jail. "I still don't believe that by naming the speaker of a statement I waive all privileges of the law."

After the story was published in May the Essex County grand jury investigated the Housing Authority but nothing resulted from its probe—except the Bridge case.

Bridge was ordered to jail Oct. 3, one day after the U.S. Supreme Court rejected his appeal of his indefinite sentence.

Cleaves Wife In Slayings

ODESSA (AP) — A man already convicted of one murder reportedly has made a statement about the 1968 killing of a Monahan woman and has cleared his wife of any implications in the slayings of two Odessa women.

Dist. Atty. John Green said Thursday that Johnny Meadows made the statements clearing his wife and will appear today before the Ector County grand jury "to clear up the conflicts."

Earlier, Meadows had made two statements naming Dolores Meadows, now living in Farmington, N.M., as a participant in the Odessa strangulation deaths of Ruth Maynard and Linda Cougart.

The district attorney said he is recalling extradition papers seeking to have Mrs. Meadows returned to Texas to face the two murder indictments.

Green said Meadows signed three statements saying that robbery was the motive for the Nov. 5, 1968 slaying of Dorothy A. Smith, a 56-year-old motel owner in Monahan.

Meadows already is under life sentence for the June 17, 1971 murder of Gloria Sue Nix Green in Odessa.

In his earlier statements he had implicated his wife in the death of Mrs. Cougart. He and his wife were under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Cougart and Mrs. Maynard.

'I JUST KILLED MY MOTORCYCLE'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Creeping around outside his home with his .357 magnum pistol still smoking, Ralph Zelik bumped into two policemen. He figured the best thing to do was confess.

"I just killed my motorcycle," Zelik, 34, admitted.

Nearby lay the cycle — with five slugs in it.

At a hearing Thursday on charges of firearms violations and intoxication, Zelik told the magistrate that the shooting followed an argument with his wife over the motorcycle.

The charges were dismissed by Judge Robert Dauer, who said Zelik inflicted injuries.

'Beat Midland Bull' Declared By Steers

Today at Midland Day, Big Spring, Texas, Mayor Walter Steers proclaimed the city as the "Beat Midland Bull" city.

He urged the Big Spring Steers to go to the game and cheer the Steers to victory. "I want to see the Steers' 34-19 victory over the Eagles here last week, and praise the Steers for the outstanding individual and team effort. He also had words of praise for the BSHS band, for the Gold-diggers (pep section) cheers and others for their contribution to the school spirit, and to the community for its generous support, too.

Project Readied For Budget Entry

Cong. Omar Burleson announces the approval of the authorization of $1,578,000 in federal funds for the Big Spring flood control project on Beal's Creek.

This final action came Thursday when the House Public Works Committee approved the project.

Burleson indicated his gratification at the committee action, having appeared personally before the committee in behalf of the Beal Creek request.

The project calls for more than 5½ miles of channel improvement through Big Spring at an estimated cost of $2,528,000 plus non-structural measures to minimize future flood damages.

Whopping Deposit Gain Shown In Local Banks

Total resources	74,249,887.57	68,501,896.01	5,747,991.56

Deposits jumped 12.8 percent from a year ago, state officials said. Local banks showed a 13.5 percent increase in deposits, a response from the U.S. Federal Reserve. Currency and banking commissioner for the condition as of Oct. 10.

Deposits of local banks were only $16,000 over the peak set in the latter half of the 1971 calendar year. Total deposits of local banks were $7,615,697.63 over the peak in the latter half of the 1971 calendar year.

Total resources, however, reached $74,249,887.57. This was up $5,747,991.56 over the comparable time a year ago. The peak in April, 1972 was $74,249,887.57.

Convicted Slayer Attempts To Flee Prison In 'Horse'

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — An escape bid by convicted triple slayer Charles Schmid Jr. was foiled Thursday after he eluded Arizona State Prison officials by hiding in a hollowed-out gymnasium side horse, authorities reported.

Schmid, 30, once known as "the Pied Piper of Tucson," was discovered in a small coat locker in the prison welding shop after guards had combed the prison compound for five hours.

QUICK COUNT
Prison officials said Schmid, who is about 5 feet tall and was a gymnastics champion in high school, apparently hid in the side horse as four inmates carried it from the prison maintenance shop, where the horse had partly been fabricated, to a storeroom. The inmates were believed to have been accomplices in the abortive escape attempt. Warden Bud Gones said.

A prison guard became suspicious when he later checked the side horse and found it lighter than when it left the maintenance shop.

Gones said a quick prisoner count was made and Schmid was discovered missing. Clothing had been stuffed under blankets on the bed in his cell to make it appear that he was asleep. He had been moved to the main cell block following his recent transfer from death row after the U.S. Supreme Court abolished the death penalty.

Schmid was sentenced to death for the murders of the Flitz sisters, Gretchen, 17, and Wendy, 15, in 1965. He was convicted of killing them after bragging to the sisters that he had killed Norma Aileen Rowe, 15, in May 1964.

row after the U.S. Supreme Court abolished the death penalty.

Schmid apparently hoped to somehow slip over the prison wall from the welding shop, the warden said.

A swaggering, boisterous man who stuffed his boots with newspapers in order to appear taller, Schmid earned the nickname "Pied Piper of Tucson" because his personality attracted a following of teen-agers.

Schmid was sentenced to death for the murders of the Flitz sisters, Gretchen, 17, and Wendy, 15, in 1965. He was convicted of killing them after bragging to the sisters that he had killed Norma Aileen Rowe, 15, in May 1964.

There Are Things You Can Do To Negate Bad Luck

It's Friday the 13th and the Big Spring Steers are to determine tonight whether that is unluckier for Big Spring or Midland. Somebody's going to end the day, calling it lucky.

We hope that all Big Spring citizens have carefully avoided walking under ladders today. We don't know why that is supposed to be considered so unlucky. But, perhaps, if nothing else, it might save you from paint or soapy water being spilled in your hair or a bucket dropped on your head.

Now if you spill salt today, pick it up and hurl it over your left shoulder.

Unless your wife is standing behind you and then just pretend you didn't spill it. The salt, incidentally, is to be thrown only from the spilled pile of salt. Don't throw the shaker.

If you find a penny, pick it up, because "some day you'll have good luck." If you find a dollar, look all around to be sure nobody's looking and stick it in your pocket.

If you find $5, you'll know the rumor is completely false that Friday the 13th is unlucky. Go buy a ticket and root for the Steers. You bring good luck.

If a black cat runs across your path, cry a lot. Kicking the cat will only bring upon you the wrath of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Somebody says that a black cat crossing your path can only be offset by a white dog crossing your path on the same day. So you might go hunt up a white dog, quickly.

If you break a mirror, nothing will help you. You can't throw it over your shoulder and white dogs are no anecdote. Just be philosophical and maintain that you never did relish looking in mirrors anyway and blame all of your bad luck for the next seven years on this dismal occasion.

GOVERNOR WORKING TO SCRAP MAXIMUM RATE AMENDMENT

Texas House Members Plan Vote On Insurance Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Don Cavness of Austin, backed by members of Gov. Preston Smith's staff who quietly "worked the floor," urged House members today to remove a maximum rate amendment from his competitive car insurance rate bill.

A final vote on his bill, tentatively approved Thursday night, was expected later.

"The companies would exert the same influence they do now, trying to get that maximum rate as high as possible," Cavness said.

The bill was taken up for renewed debate about two hours after Cavness, Speaker Rayford Price and Rep. Grant Jones of Abilene visited with Smith. Smith's two top aides, Dan Petty and Larry Teaver, former State Insurance Board chairman, buttonholed representatives on the House floor, urging them to scrap the maximum rate amendment.

The final bill on competitive rates is expected to be a compromise worked out in conference committee between the House bill and the measure passed Wednesday by the Senate.

RATE ISSUE

House members tentatively approved Cavness' bill Thursday night, 88-47, after adding several amendments.

Smith, who called the current special session mainly on the competitive rate issue, said Thursday his decision whether to call another special session depended on what final action the Legislature takes on the matter.

"I will want to see the final action of the Legislature on the compromise competitive rating bill before I make a determination," Smith said in a written statement.

Lawmakers, particularly those in contested political races with just 3½ weeks remaining until election day, are anxious to go home and did not welcome Smith's threat.

The session has a constitutional adjournment deadline of midnight Tuesday, but many lawmakers had expected it to end today.

CERTAIN CRIMES
Smith added the 28th and 29th

topics to his call of the session Thursday night.

He said he wanted the lawmakers to consider enacting penalties for "certain heinous crimes," which he did not enumerate. A recent U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawed the death penalty in Texas as it has been applied.

"While I am not advocating a return to a system of capital punishment, I feel it is essential that certain maximum punishments be provided by law for those who commit heinous crimes. Determining what that punishment should be is a legislative responsibility," the governor said.

Some legislators advocate giving courts a choice only between the death penalty and a mandatory life sentence with no possibility of parole in certain cases. They contend this would satisfy the Supreme Court.

Smith also opened the call to legislation renaming the Beaumont State Center of Human Development in memory of the late Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont.

House debate Thursday on competitive rates—a talking and amending process that lasted close to five hours—centered on whether rate competition would lower premiums.

The State Insurance Board now issues mandatory rates that all companies must charge. Some firms give policyholders dividends which, in effect, lower their rates.

GOING UP

"In my opinion, given the same set of conditions we now have, rates will be lower under competition," Cavness said.

Massage Belt Danger Cited

CHICAGO (AP) — Sears, Roebuck and Co. says 11,000 belt massagers it sold between December 1969 and Oct. 4 present a potential danger of serious electrical shock to their owners.

The company issued a warning, asking all owners of massagers with model No. 449.29110 to bring the units to the nearest Sears outlet for repair.

The company said the number will be found on a plate mounted on the underside of the unit's motor housing. The model is a multispeed belt massager with a push button, lighted switch.

A company spokesman said in certain units, serious shock may result if someone touches the massager while touching a water pipe, radiator, faucet or other ground connection.

Law Enforcement Course Completed By BS Residents

Police Patrolman Juan P. Palacios and Police Dispatcher Twila Myrick have completed a 240 hour basic certification school. They are among 15 area law enforcement personnel to be honored in a brief completion exercise 2 p.m. Friday in the Armed Forces Reserve Center, Room 2005, Midland Air Terminal Complex.

William R. Corbett, criminal justice coordinator, said this is the first 240 hour school presented by the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission through Texas A&M extension services, Law Enforcement Division.

In establishing 240 hours as minimum training, the Criminal Justice Advisory Committee of the Commission indicated it felt the state minimum of 140 hours inadequate.

Among subjects studied are law enforcement history and philosophy, patrol procedures, law disaster operation, firearms training and burglary investigation.

The bidding:

Pass Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♣ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
3 NT Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Four of ♠ Deliberate establishment of a trick for his opponent by West proved to be an essential ingredient for a successful defense against South's three no trump contract.

When South opened the bidding with one no trump, North held the values for a direct raise to three with 10 high card points. With four spades and a doubleton diamond, North decided to check back for a possible major suit fit first, by using the two club convention. When South rebid two diamonds, the conventional call that denies a four card major, North proceeded without further ado to game in no trump.

West opened the four of diamonds, East put up the king and South played the ace. In order to come to the nine winners, declarer must take tricks in both black suits. Not knowing exactly where to start, South made the natural play of the deuce of clubs to dummy's ten. East was in with the ace of clubs and returned the jack of diamonds. It is West's play at this point that determines the fate of the hand. If the jack of diamonds holds the trick, East has no more diamonds to lead and South retains a potential stopper in the suit with the nine-five. When declarer regains the lead, he drives out the ace of spades and now West must cash the queen of diamonds in order to hold his opponent to nine tricks.

West had been doing some thinking when his partner led back the jack of diamonds. He realized that if East had a three card suit, four tricks could be cashed out in the suit if West patiently waited for a continuation. If East had only a doubleton, then a passive role would kill off any chance for West to establish his long cards in the suit.

The only question was whether West was surrendering a vital trick if he led South in with the nine of diamonds. The bidding provided a valuable clue. South's rebid of two diamonds over two clubs denied a four card major. Since declarer cannot have four hearts, he is limited to three heart tricks and three clubs. If he is given a second trick in diamonds, it still leaves South one short of the required nine.

On the reasoning that he had much to gain and little to lose, West overtook East's jack of diamonds with the queen and then continued with the seven which dislodged declarer's nine. South needed a spade for his 'nth trick and he casually led the five of spades from his hand. West was not about to slip on the verge of success, however, and he put up the ace of spades and proceeded to cash the six and deuce of diamonds to score a one trick set on the deal.

Keller Named Champ Roper

DENVER, Colo. — Coloradan Alton Keller was named 1972 world champion steer roper Sunday at the conclusion of the 14th National Finals Steer Roping, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Keller, of Olathe, set a win record in the event of $7,593. The 29-year-old former all-American wrestler placed at five of nine steer roping contests this season, plus the Finals in Pawhuska, Okla., which ran Saturday and Sunday. O. I. Young, Peralta, N.M., finished second, earning $5,973.

Leaders in the various other events are:

All-around — Phil Lyne, George West, Tex., $61,424, and Bob Ragsdale, Chowilla, Calif., $31,557; saddle bronc riding — Mel Hyland, Surrey, B.C., $24,551, and J. C. Policemen Must Return Passport

TEL AVIV (AP) — A district court here has ordered police to return the passport of Rabbi Meir Kahane of New York, head of the militant Jewish Defense League, to permit him to travel on a lecture tour. Kahane's passport was confiscated after his arrest two weeks ago on suspicion of organizing a plot to smuggle arms to militants abroad for a terror campaign against Arab diplomats. Kahane was released from jail last week on nearly $10,000 bail.

Costly Lost Cause

The U.S. Senate often defeats bills, but seldom does a bill defeat the Senate. That is what happened when senators had to concede they were utterly at sea on the subject of welfare reform. They could only agree to disagree.

It was a defeat for sponsors of the "Workfare" plan that would tie willingness to work into welfare eligibility. It was a defeat for the Administration's Family Assistance Plan with its guaranteed annual income. It was a defeat for two alternate proposals for a more liberalized and generous family assistance plan.

It was a costly defeat. Besides promising no immediate cure for what was roundly denounced on the Senate floor as "the welfare mess," the body voted to spend another $400 million a year for the next four years on pilot programs to test the various theories on which senators could not agree.

The prospect of achieving anything of value from these tests is dim. What really divides the Senate is not so much a question of method, but uncertainty over what the welfare system is supposed to be — a process for giving grants to the needy, which it originally was, or a guarantee that no one shall ever be poor, which is not welfare but an Utopian ideal.

While these conflicting concepts have been causing such agony in Washington, some of the states have been making remarkable progress in proving that the original concept of welfare is not so bad after all. Their own pilot programs in reform have not cost money, they have saved money. All Congress had to do was give them permission to act on their own.

Budget officials in California estimate that the welfare reform has saved $750 million in the current state budget. More important, more than 800,000 recipients of proven need are receiving higher benefits. Welfare rolls have been reduced by 140,000 under a common sense approach to determinations of need and eligibility.

The point that should not be lost on Congress is that California did not revolutionize its welfare philosophy. It simply went to the source of the waste and abuse in the system. It amended more than 300 sections in its welfare code, made 84 changes in policy and dozens of changes in administrative procedure. This did not involve theorizing but hard work and common sense.

The Big Thicket

Proposals to create a Big Thicket National Park on some 191,000 acres of Southeast Texas land are being encouraged before the Congress. The proposals deserve encouragement.

The Big Thicket is a vast sprawl of unique character. Scientists say it was formed ages ago in great glacial upheavals that pushed seven distinct geological regions together in an area that reaches from near Jasper to north of Conroe and from Livingston to near Beaumont. That would be about 140 miles by about 45 miles at the widest points of a region that runs generally northeast to southwest.

The variety of plant and animal life makes the Thicket a living laboratory for naturalists. The land-bog-creek river terrain is unmatched in America for its unusual character.

A small piece of the thicket ought to be preserved. There are about two million acres in the area. A plot ranging in size of from around 100,000 acres up to around 200,000 acres would be an invaluable asset to America.

The compelling reason for preserving a piece of the thicket is the people of this state and nation. This will be a priceless spot within a generation, and increasingly so for succeeding ones.

Rabbit Bounty

Around The Rim

John Edwards

As a young boy I was quite impressed with the small talk about the Great Borden County Rabbit Drive.

THAT WAS back in the early 60's when the jackrabbit became a considerable nuisance. It seems that Borden County cattle were suffering from malnutrition because the herbivorous Lepus around the Pastures was racing to the lunch table before the cattle could even think about dinner.

Even mesquite trees, normally tough as an old GI boot, were dying away. The voracious rabbits chewed bark away from the entire circumference of the tree trunks.

The mesquites were no real bother, but a few vain Borden County residents thought enough of their skinny elm trees to take issue with the rabbits on the elm bark menu.

THE COUNTY commissioners decided on a rabbit drive to be spurred on and promoted by a ten cent bounty on each pair of rabbit ears submitted at the courthouse.

Local .22 caliber ammunition dealers were grateful to the county court for the business.

Perhaps the most interesting aspect of the drive was the fact that it really worked. It was once impossible to drive ten miles in Borden County without getting rabbit blood on the front bumper of your pickup. After the Great Borden County Rabbit Drive, you couldn't even find a jackrabbit in the county.

A neighbor down the road asked, "Did we kill all the little . . . or did they run off to the next county?"

Either way, the jackrabbits became scarce, leaving many memories with the bounty hunters.

One of the most avid of the sharpshooters, as I remember, forgot that he had a bucketful of rabbit ears in the back of his pickup for quite some time, allowing the rain to cure them.

OBSERVING AN awful smell seemed to follow him around for several days, he thought to check the bucket in the bed of his truck. "I don't think I'll try to collect on them ears there," he said.

Some of the locals weren't such good rifle shots. With the expense of 22 shells outweighing the benefit of ten cents on the pair of ears, they often chased down the rapid rabbits and cut off their ears.

At first, the sight of a no-eared jackrabbit was a shock. But, after a few weeks of adjustment, Borden County folks came to accept them like they were born with no ears.

Campaign Costs

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Every national campaign has raised the issue of the merit of stable financial contributions to candidates.

CONGRESS HAS for many years prohibited labor unions and corporations from giving money to anyone seeking federal office. Individuals in the business world, however, can spend their own funds for any nominee they choose. Labor unions make no direct grants of money to candidates, but they set up committees which canvass union members and raise a substantial sum for those they back.

There is no limit to the extent that a private citizen may contribute money in a presidential campaign. Now that laws make it necessary for every contribution over $100 — including the name, address and occupation of the donor — to be disclosed.

IT IS EVIDENT that campaign contributors expect protection against legislation or executive acts that could hurt them in any manner.

The whole idea of how to prevent the raising of campaign funds from interfering with impartial and equitable decisions or rulings by elected officials or those appointed to the departments of government over which they take command has long been discussed. It has been suggested that the government should finance the presidential and congressional campaigns, and that private contributions should be limited to small sums. But the net result in some instances would be that only wealthy persons would become candidates.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION has been that the national government appropriate a certain amount of money for the use of presidential candidates in purchasing television or radio time, and that it be apportioned fairly. Yet this wouldn't cover the many other expenses which are incurred during a presidential campaign.

The subject of "clean politics" has been debated for years, but no practical way of financing campaigns in a manner that is fair to candidates who happen not to be rich has been devised. The apportionment of expenses for campaigning by members of Congress, for example, would be a difficult thing to estimate.

THE PUBLIC hears about the sizable amounts that are contributed to one candidate or another. The voters derive the impression that this is a means of gaining some form of control over the winning nominee. People might jump to the conclusion that whoever is giving the funds has a selfish motive.

The truth is a political campaign opens its doors to attack the character of every candidate. The integrity of a man and the fact that all his life he has made his decisions in an unselfish manner are brushed aside. A man who runs for office has to be prepared to brave the innuendoes of opponents and other critics who see him as a tool of the contributors who help him finance his campaign.

LIMITS ARE certainly necessary on individual donations to campaign funds so that no citizen will appear to have seemingly placed a winning nominee under heavy obligation.

"Clean politics" is a worthwhile objective, for it would engender even more confidence by the electorate in our system of government. But the era of purity will not come until the government itself makes it possible for much of the campaign expenses of a nominee to be paid for out of public funds and for a full disclosure to be made of all donors of contributions and the amounts.

'I'LL START SOME PILOT PROGRAMS'

National Boss Day

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — After some hassling during many coffee breaks over the past few weeks or so, the secretaries of America have decided to observe National Boss Day next Monday, Oct. 16.

The observance will be in the form of certain dispensations granted to the boss, "without fear of recrimination," said Margaret Dillon of Birmingham, Ala., president of the National Secretaries Association.

On that day alone, for example, the boss may disappear once without telling his secretary where he is going and for how long, said Mrs. Dillon.

The decision was hardly unanimous, and many secretaries are expected to ignore the day, claiming that their bosses failed to observe National Secretaries Week, which is the last full week in April. Note: week not day.

The NSA is made up of 29,000 secretaries who have passed education and proficiency requirements that become increasingly tougher as one seeks the coveted rating of Certified Professional Secretary. Only 6,188 have attained the rating.

Most CPS's are fully capable of running the office and all its occupants, including the top man or woman, as suggested by the following dispensations they are granting their bosses on Monday.

—Dictate one letter with your back to me.

—Take one file and give it away without telling me to whom.

—Make one business appointment without letting me in on it.

—Make one rude statement about my never being at my desk when you have forgotten the mission on which I was dispatched by you.

—Open the mail this one day and scatter it around with no regard to replying or routing.

—Start dictating 15 minutes before the close of the day instead of the usual 30 minutes.

—Repeat once more the funny story which I have already heard many times.

—Have me place one long-distance phone call and then be away from your office when it goes through.

Understandably, there is a danger that, permitted such luxuries, a poorly trained or naive boss might fall into bad habits that might seriously offend his secretary. The latter, therefore, will be cracking the whip again Tuesday morning.

Monday is your day bosses. Enjoy it, and don't forget to mark down on your calendar, in legible writing that your secretary can't help but read, that National Secretaries Week begins next April 22.

The Born Winner

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people never seem to have any luck because other people seem to have all the luck.

There are, on the one hand, the losers, and on the other hand, the winners.

The losers usually have a handgrip as they go through this world, the winners a topdog look.

There are other ways, of course, to tell them apart. You can safely be reckoned a born winner if —

The reason you have so few friends is that, with your kind of luck, friends would only be a liability.

Cabs go out of the way to pick you up on a rainy day.

The church won't sell you any more lottery tickets, because you always win first prize. That's also why they only let you play bingo every other Wednesday night — so that on the nights you're not there someone else has a chance to win.

You hardly ever get a chance to call the White House because the White House is usually on the phone to you.

When you were growing up, your mother never, never called you "stupid."

Although he is now over 80 and no longer in the best of health, your father still gets to his feet and says "sir" when you enter the room. The old chap wouldn't hear of having it any other way.

In kindergarten, the only two pretty red-haired girls in the class fought each other in the cloakroom with their fists for the privilege of carrying your books home.

Later on in school, you were the kind of kid the teachers enjoyed bringing apples to.

And when you ate in the high school cafeteria, the waitress always put two more meatballs in your spaghetti than she did anyone else's.

When you buy a stock on the stock market, it invariably goes up; when you sell it, it invariably goes down.

When you go fishing, you have to strike out at the fish with a baseball bat to keep them from all leaping into your boat and surrendering en masse.

When you play golf with your boss, you let him win a hole now and then just so he'll have some inducement to go on living.

When your wife calls you "dum dum," she's only joking.

When you tell the laundry you don't want any starch in your shirts, your shirts come back without any starch in them.

Yes, sir, you're a born winner — and couldn't lose if you tried to.

No Projection

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — For the fat-cat donors of so many millions to re-elect the President that slogan, "four more years," carries the promise that the regulatory agencies will be stacked with sympathetic friends of big business. Begun in the first four years the process will gather momentum in the second term as vacancies come up on Federal Communications, Federal Power, Federal Trade — the agencies that can mean so much to the corporate balance sheet.

ALTHOUGH IT IS, in theory, a temporary barrier against inflation, the Price Commission shows how higher profits are blessed even though they go along with rate increases. Electric bills are going up all across the country. That puts an added burden on the budget of every householder into the indefinite future, for those rates never come down. Of the 100 largest electric utilities, 76 showed a raise in net profits in 1971 over 1970, according to a table put in the Congressional Record by Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont. The table came out of Electric Light and Power, the house organ of the industry. The Price Commission granted rate increases to company after company showing a big jump in the profit ratio.

FOR EXAMPLE, the commission approved 15.5 per cent increase for Indiana and Michigan Electric, a subsidiary of the giant New York holding company, American Electric Power. American Electric had a net-after-tax profit of 19.27 cents out of every revenue dollar in 1971. This was a jump from 17.56 cents in 1970. "Is my state Montana Power kept as net profit 22.62 cents out of every revenue dollar it collected last year. Its net profit during the first six months of this year rose to 24.3 cents and it now has pending before the state Public Service Commission a rate-increase request amounting to 17 per cent for its electric operations and 29 per cent for its gas operations," Sen. Metcalf.

THE THEORY has been that power rates would be regulated at reasonable levels by public authority. State utility commissions have been the principal instruments. But, as has been demonstrated again and again, they lack adequate trained and experienced staff. State commissions find all too often that their best people are recruited at much higher salaries by the utilities.

SEN. FRANK E. Moss, D-Utah, pointed to an increase in the price of natural gas of $11 million in 1970 and $531 million in 1971. He charged that this was a payoff to big campaign contributors who want to see the Federal Power Commission become a compliant arm of the White House. Moss noted that of the $800 million contributed by petroleum executives in the 1968 campaign 93 per cent went to the Republicans. And, as the first Nixon appointment to the FPC made amply clear, that agency will soon be dominated by men out of the industry.

THE ENERGY crisis is very real, but the crisis will not be solved by appealing big power and gas with the invariable answer of higher rates and higher profits out of which, in theory, will come the means to explore new energy sources.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Our son has left our church and joined another that does not believe in Christ. We have tried in every way to persuade him that he is making a mistake, but he won't listen. What can we do?

—F.L.

Young people often defect from the beliefs of their parents — and often it is temporary. They defect for many reasons, or for no reason at all. Sometimes it is because they see a lack of sincerity and dedication in their parents. Sometimes it is just the normal rebellion of youth against tradition, and the urge to be "free" from their parents' apron strings. Sometimes it is a sincere desire to find that which is true and good — an adequate faith.

If your son is in the wrong, and according to you, he is, don't lecture him; don't scold him — above everything else, keep loving him and pray for him. Time is a great healer, especially if all minds and hearts concerned are open to Truth. If your heart is right and you are faithful in prayer, I have no doubt that your son will return. "Train up a child the way he should go, and when HE IS OLD, he will not depart from it."

Never flag in zeal, be aglow with the Spirit, serve the Lord. (Romans 12:11, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, ignite our souls with the spark of Thy spirit that we may move in accomplishing Thy will. In Jesus' name. Amen.

All Ills Not Insurable

If you need an operation but have no hospital insurance, you might get the following bright idea: take out insurance first, then have the operation.

OBVIOUSLY, the insurance companies would not like this sort of thing. To prevent it, health insurance policies often say you are not covered for a "pre-existing" illness — that is, an illness you already had when you bought the insurance.

BUT WHEN DOES a disease really begin? Fixing a specific date is not always easy. In one sense, in terms of latent susceptibility, a disease may be traced all the way back to birth. As a poetic judge once put it:

"The seeds of death are sown when the first breath of life is drawn."

BUT THE LAW generally dates a disease from the time when "discoverable symptoms" first appear. Take the case of a woman who had a gall bladder operation. The insurance company refused to pay her expenses, because she had had occasional stomach pains before taking out the policy.

"Those pains," argued the company in a court hearing, "mean she must have already had gall bladder trouble at that time. Therefore, it was 'pre-existing.'"

BUT THE COURT disagreed and upheld the woman's claim. The judge said mere pain was not a clear enough signal of what she had.

Suppose the disease is already known and simply gets worse. That usually is not covered.

ONE MAN had cataracts when he bought a disability insurance policy. His sight gradually faded, and he finally became blind. Was this a pre-existing condition, excluded from his insurance coverage?

A court said it was indeed, because the blindness was a natural, foreseeable development of an ailment he already knew he had.

BUT IN ANOTHER case, a woman did collect for surgery on a bunion, made suddenly worse when she bumped into a door. The court said the change in her condition was so unexpected and so drastic that it could fairly be called a brand new affliction.

FROM GHETTOS TO WONDERLAND

'Busing' Can Be Beautiful

By JOHN PINKERMAN
Caplan News Service

INDYLLWILD, Calif. — The University of Southern California has just completed an experiment in a form of long-distance "busing" and its success is being hailed by both the passengers and the drivers.

TALENT-GALORE

Brought to USC's Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts (ISOMATA), a beautiful and peaceful 250-acre campus amid pines, cedars, oaks and manzanitas in this San Jacinto Mountain community at 5,300 feet and about 115 miles east of Los Angeles, were 29 talented black high school students from were picked from 1,800 Chicago campus in the pines and also 65 underprivileged but talented teen-agers of Los Angeles representing whites, blacks, Orientals and Chicanos (Mexican-Americans).

How did it work? From the lusty and talented voices heard in a choir rehearsal near the final day just before departure of the students for Chicago, it seemed to work fine. Blacks and whites shared song sheets, arms around each other. Voices rang out loud and clear, with an enthusiasm that might cheer those who seek a closer cooperation between the races.

"It has been absolutely wonderful," were the words of Marsha Lean Jackson, 17-year-old Du Sable High School student from Chicago. "I've learned a lot. I only hope I can come again next year."

Beaming in the background during interviews with the Chicago youngsters, many of whom never had been out of the Windy City before and who were thrilled by the abundance of trees, wild animals and other "natural resources" of this oasis amid the freeways, was Paul A. Jans, executive director of ISOMATA.

VERY SATISFYING

"Sure, it is very satisfying to me," Jans said in an interview. "It reminds me of the way I first came to this campus back in May, 1971, and saw the blue-eyed blonde Anglo-Saxon nature of the campus. Such an environment is not valid in the arts, a most cosmopolitan culture. So, I set to work on the concept of an "open" campus — open economically, culturally and racially. After all, the arts and sports are some of the best tools we have to help us live together.

"This experience, particularly with these wonderfully talented kids from Chicago, has been very rewarding. There is some terrific talent among these kids and I wonder if it would ever have surfaced without this opportunity for them."

Jans' words are echoed by beautiful Debbie Pratt of Chicago, who came here as a counselor for the black youngsters. A graduate of St. Louis' Webster College with a major in psychology, Debbie has enjoyed the six weeks here as much as her charges.

QUITE A CHANGE

"It's been very satisfying," she said, "and I'm so glad things went so well. Some things were very amusing. Some of my kids, never out of Chicago before, thought they could walk to Los Angeles. But the hike we made to Black Mountain (an overnight trip to over 8,000 feet) really got to them. The quiet they couldn't understand — they kept talking, the altitude — quite a change from the 200 feet of Chicago to 8,000 feet up here."

One thing bugged most of the Chicago teen-agers — the food. "They just weren't used to institutionalized food — mess hall variety — and they longed for barbecue beef and fried chicken of McDonald's," she said. Debbie's evaluation was confirmed by Pamaline Ting, 17, a choir student from Chicago's Du Sable High. "No, that's the only thing I didn't like," Pamaline said. "But, the program was terrific."

"I was homesick at first," said Marilyn Brack, 16, a senior at Chicago's South Shore High, "and I guess I'll be glad to get home. But I would sure like to do this again. It makes me believe I may really have a career in music."

INSPIRATION

An onlooker, seeing these youngsters of practically all colors and backgrounds mingle happily together in an "outdoor" campus that has long proved an inspiration to thousands talented in the arts would have to say that USC and Jans had the right idea in this unique experiment in "busing."

The young people, like tall and rugged Pete Colbert, a Chicago lad who divides his time between choir and football, are talented and enthusiastic. And, although from the poverty areas of Chicago, this experience has let them forget they are poor.

Marcy Scene Of Program

An orientation meeting for parents of children referred for individualized programs was held Thursday afternoon at Marcy Elementary School. Joe Dawes, principal, noted there is a nationwide push for individualizing instruction in public schools. The Big Spring system is one of several schools throughout the state offering this added help to pupils who qualify.

Parents were informed of methods used for screening, and referrals. Many pupils have been referred throughout the system and standards of eligibility must be met in order to receive the individual help. Pupils are placed on a 60 day trial, diagnostic basis; continuing or being dismissed according to their needs.

Varied materials and techniques used in the resource room were on display and demonstrated. Dawes stated that we must stop the "failure and frustration cycle" that some children are experiencing in education. It is most important that each child feel worthwhile and succeed daily in some fact of his life.

Future meetings will be held for parents not able to attend this meeting. It is most important that informed parents work cooperatively in a team effort with the child, classroom teacher and resource teacher. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Stephens, resource teachers, extended an invitation to visit their rooms and observe techniques used for individualization.

'Oldies But Goodies' Walk

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The "Oldies but Goodies" are taking their cause to the streets, marching in protest of what they call inadequate Social Security payments. Several hundred members of the organization marched on City Hall to protest inadequate Social Security payments and later carried their rally to the auditorium of the Louisiana State University Medical Center.

There, Dr. Arthur Fleischman, special assistant to President Nixon on the aging, said the message older people are trying to bring to America is: — Society has put them in an inferior position. — Senior citizens want to be able to make their own decisions about their own lives. — They want to continue to be involved, not put on a shelf.

Red Bomber Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military intelligence sources say Russia may have started quantity production of a new supersonic bomber believed capable of reaching the United States.

U.S. officials have been monitoring Soviet progress in testing the new swing-wing bomber, code-named Backfire, for about three years.

In a new assessment of Soviet aircraft production, U.S. intelligence experts indicated the Russians may have moved beyond the development phase and into production of the bomber.

They estimated the Russians have completed about 12 of the new bombers so far, but do not yet know how many the Russians plan to build.

COULD HIT U.S.

Nor are American experts certain whether the Russians intend the 1,500-mile-an-hour bomber for use against possible enemies in Asia or Europe, or whether they are thinking of lengthier missions.

The Backfire is rated capable of operating against targets up to 3,000 miles from Russian bases and returning home without refueling. This, in the view of U.S. experts, means the Backfire could strike against the United States in the event of war.

There is nothing in the limited nuclear-arms-limitation agreement to bar the United States and Russia from pushing ahead with new bomber development and manufacture.

The United States is working on an advance bomber, called the Bx, which is somewhat similar to the Soviet Backfire. But the new American bomber

Patman Speaker To Press Group

Visitation Periods Set

Visitation schedule to Snyder Colorado City, Lamesa and Stanton during October November and December has been announced by the Big Spring Social Security Office.

Purpose of the visits will be to aid beneficiaries and applicants with paper work and answer questions.

Snyder visits are scheduled every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 2 p.m. or the third floor of the Scurry County Courthouse.

Lamesa hosts the visitors every Thursday except Nov. 23, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. in the Dawson County Library Conference Room at the Houston Street entrance.

Stanton visits will be made to the Martin County Judge's office in the county courthouse from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 30; Monday, Nov. 27; and Monday, Dec. 18.

The local Social Security office invites residents of the area to phone, write or visit the office at Room 232, Federal Building, 501 Main St., Big Spring.

21 Americans Killed In Action, 53 Wounded

SAIGON (AP) — The gun explosion aboard the heavy cruiser Newport News pushed U.S. combat casualties in Vietnam last week to their highest total in more than a year, the U.S. command announced Thursday.

The command said 21 Americans were killed in action and 53 were wounded. This included 19 killed and 37 wounded on Oct. 1 when a shell exploded in one of the cruiser's big guns.

Although the Navy labeled the explosion an accident, a spokesman for the command said the casualties were listed as combat losses because the ship at the time was firing on enemy positions in Quang Tri Province.

The combat toll was the highest since the week of Sept. 26-Oct. 2, 1971, when 21 GIs were killed in action and 117 were wounded. A month ago the U.S.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Judge James Spencer has fined a 51-year-old man $25 for trespassing after the man said he was only "interested in the safety of the people."

Russell Adams was arrested after a security guard noticed him under a car parked at a auto dealership. Adams said he was tightening a loose screw he could find in trying to "prevent loss of lives of motorists."

He said he made his search nightly. Judge Spencer handed down the fine on Wednesday.

School Offers Course In PR

A course in public relations — designed for managers, owners and employees of businesses, will begin here at 7 p.m. Tuesday at HCJC auditorium. There is only a nominal fee to cover cost of materials, and anyone is invited.

The three night course, designed for managers, owners and employees of retail, wholesale, and service discussions on such topics as general public relations, personal public relations, business public relations, and community public relations.

Teaching the course will be Frank A. Driskill, management, public relations, and sales specialist from The University of Texas at Austin. Driskill has been an instructor at Texas A&M College, spent 17 years as a field representative for the Macmillan Publishing Company, has extensive experience in the political field, and has headed on Austin public relations firm. He attended Southwestern University, The University of Texas, and Texas A&M College and holds B.A. and M.S. degrees.

The Chamber of Commerce, Howard County Junior College, and the Big Spring High School Distributive Education department will sponsor the course in cooperation with the university organization.

The discussions will be held at Howard County Junior College Auditorium at 7:00 p.m. — 9:00 p.m., beginning on Tuesday. A small registration fee is the only charge, and anyone employed in retail, wholesale, or service businesses may enroll.

Additional information on the course may be obtained from: Ron Mercer, at Big Spring Chamber of Commerce (Phone 3-7841).

Stanton Becoming Famous For Championship Capons

By MARJ CARPENTER
STANTON — When this little West Texas town takes on a special agriculture project, it thinks big.

They have 4-H youngsters so enthused about poultry and capons in Stanton that they raise more chickens than the town has people.

And at their annual West Texas Capon Show, they show around 100 of the prize examples. During the year, students and adults around the area also raise over a couple thousand broilers.

Most livestock shows in the area do not even include capons, but Dawson County this year added it to their county fair due to an increase in interest.

Back in 1949, a poultry enthusiast named E. D. Steele started the show. "Why not teach kids to raise chickens?" was his theme.

At their auction following the show, the grand champion has brought as much as $100 in the past few years and that's really good money for a chicken. Hardly any 4-H youngster goes home with less than $200 for their capon.

Chuck Elmore is chairman of the event and Tom Ed Angel is secretary. Tom Ed remembers raising capons for the show when he was a boy. He remembers one year that he raised more than he could enter so he entered part of them in his sister's name.

WON TITLE
She won the grand championship with one of his capons and got her picture made and all the press notices. He says he remembers that incident particularly well.

Back in those days, some of the capons entered were black Cornish poultry but nowadays the Stanton 4-Hers all seem to concentrate on the Cross White Rocks.

The Chamber of Commerce sponsor this annual event and they invite interested persons in the area to make plans to attend the show.

This doesn't keep Martin County youngsters from raising show calves. As a matter of fact, this week they were getting around 20 head ready to enter in the Dallas show this weekend, according to Billy Reagor, county agent.

Signs Of Decay Alarm Speaker

America can't continue on its current trend of immorality and apathy and survive, declared Gil Stricklin at the Kiwanis Club meeting here Thursday.

Stricklin, Dallas, an evangelist here for a crusade this week, cited the analysis of Arnold Toynbee, historian, that civilizations lasted only about 200 years. The bicentennial of the United States is less than four years away, and all around are alarming signs of decay in defiance to law, obsession with materialism and sexuality, resort to drugs, etc., he said.

Yet Stricklin said he was an optimist, that there is still time to right the ship, but that it will take an abrupt turn to righteousness. One of the most hopeful signs, he said, was a revival moving among youth of the nation.

Vevo Gray, who leads the music for the inter-faith crusade at First Baptist, sang "Were You There?"

Guests included Jack Williams, Abilene, formerly of Big Spring, and Monte Wood, Colorado City, who soon is to transfer his membership here.

Rent Booklet Is Available Here

Copies of booklet describing the Rent Watch program, recently announced by the Cost of Living Council, are now available at the Big Spring Social Security Office, Erven Fisher, social security district manager, said today.

The "Rent Watch" program, Mr. Fisher said, is aimed at preventing landlords from illegally boosting rents to take advantage of the increased Social Security benefits which became payable this month.

Social Security beneficiaries in this area may get a copy of the "Rent Watch" leaflet by calling 267-5228, or they may write for a copy to: Box 2031, Big Spring, Tex., 79720. Copies are also available on the pamphlet rack at the social security office.

FOURTH TIME: (Q.) Roger and I have broken up three times, and we have always got back together. This is the fourth time. I have honestly tried to get over him, but he decided he is the only boy I can ever like the way I like him.

We are still good friends. Should I wait and see if Roger asks me back again, or should I keep trying to forget him? — 17 in Indiana

Her mother definitely needs her help, but perhaps ways could be found so that Becky would not have to do so much. Maybe her father could do some of the chores.

But let Becky handle it. Do not jump into the debate. Becky deeper into it. If you intrude you could get hurt.

OVERWORKED? (Q.) Becky is my best friend. Her mother is a beautician. Becky does all the work at home her mother doesn't do, and it is too much. I am writing to you about her. If she wrote she would get killed.

She has to clean most of the house, even her mom and dad's bedroom, and make the bed. She has to watch her kid brother. She has to cook too.

That is too much for a 14-year-old girl. I told her to have a down to earth talk with her mom. Becky said she did, but her mom said, "What do you think I am, a miracle worker?" — Mad in Missouri

(A.) This is a problem that Becky and her parents must work out. You cannot do it, although you can listen to Becky and give her the benefit of your knowledge and experience.

Predictions

The Big Spring Steers are in an unusual position. The Steers go into tonight's game tied for first place in District 5-AAAA. The Steers' 34-19 win over the Abilene Eagles last week not only snapped a 10-game losing streak, it propelled the Steers into a tie for the district lead with Abilene Cooper, Midland Lee and Odessa Permian with a 1-0 district mark.

Last week, the Cooper Cougars knocked off San Angelo and the Lee Rebels clipped Odessa. This week the stage is set for another battle of district favorites — Lee hosts San Angelo.

In other district battles tonight, Big Spring hosts Midland, Permian visits Abilene and Cooper visits Odessa. BIG SPRING-MIDLAND: The Steers learned how to win last week. A healthy team for the first time all season, Big Spring romped over Abilene, 34-19. This week, the opponent is tougher; however, the Steers are a confident group. Big Spring 21, Midland 14.

MIDLAND LEE-SAN ANGELO: San Angelo was overwhelmed by Abilene Cooper last week and must rebound against a strong Lee squad. I think the Bobcats will be able to stop the Rebels. San Angelo 20, Midland Lee 17.

PERMIAN-ABILENE: Big Spring showed everyone in the district that Abilene is not very strong. The Eagles are able to throw the football exceptionally well, but they are not able to run the ball. Permian 41, Abilene 10.

COOPER-ODESSA: The Cougars will be high from their big win over San Angelo and are definitely thinking district title. Cooper 35, Odessa 14.

COAHOMA-BALLINGER: The Bulldogs finally picked up a win as they overwhelmed Hamlin, 40-18, last week. Coahoma should be able to handle Ballinger, 20-14.

FORSAN-ROBY: The Buffaloes crushed Sands last week, 46-0. I'll be too hard this week. Roby, 14-10.

ARKANSAS-BAYLOR: The Razorbacks finally put it together in the second half of the TCU game. With Ferguson and Reppond finally clicking, the Porkers should take this one, 28-10.

TEXAS-OKLAHOMA: Can the Texas Wishbone score more than the Oklahoma Wishbone? No. Oklahoma 33, Texas 21.

TECH-A&M: The Red Raiders should cut down the Aggies. Texas Tech 30, Texas A&M 14.

TCU-TULSA: Tulsa plays a Southwest Conference team for the third straight week. Tulsa loses for the third straight week. TCU 21, Tulsa 17.

OTHER GAMES

Borden County 42, Klondike 18; Colorado City 16, Brownfield 14; Garden City 28, Wellman 14; Lamesa 24, Lake View 18; Bronte 35, Sands 13; San Diego State 28, Houston 24; Abilene Christian 24, Lamar 14; Southern Cal 42, California 10; Angelo State 20, Howard Payne 14; Baltimore 24, Dallas 20; Kansas City 23, Cincinnati 17; Miami 24, San Diego 20; New York Jets 38, New England 24; Green Bay 16, Detroit 10.

Rugged Oklahoma Favored in Annual Clash With Texas

By The Associated Press

For the first time in nine years Oklahoma is favored over Texas in the 67th renewal of the Red River Classic in college football Saturday.

The clash between the nationally second-ranked Sooners and the 10th-ranked Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl is one of two games pitting teams in The Associated Press Top Ten against each other. Eighth-ranked Louisiana State and ninth-ranked Auburn battle at Baton Rouge in the other.

These two games between four nationally rated and unbeaten teams spice the week-end fare on collegiate grids.

Coach John McKay's unbeaten and top-ranked Southern California Trojans seek their sixth in a row against California.

In other games involving the AP Top Ten, No. 3 Alabama takes on Florida, No. 4 Ohio State faces Illinois, No. 5 Michigan tangles with Michigan State, No. 6 Nebraska battles Missouri and No. 7 Notre Dame engages the Pitt Panthers.

Sands Set For Bronte

ACKERLY — The winless Sands Mustangs host Bronte tonight in a District 3-B clash. Kickoff for the contest is 7:30 p.m.

Sands was crushed by Forsan, 46-0, last week in the district opener. The defeat was the fourth straight loss for the Mustangs this season. Other defeats have come at the hands of Lubbock Christian, Ropes and Imperial.

Randy Cheatham will get the call at quarterback for the Mustangs tonight. Joining Cheatham in the backfield will be halfbacks Dennis Armstrong and Frosty Floyd and fullback David Zant.

In the offensive line will be tackles Bobby Wigginton and Arlis Kennedy, guards Silberio Cantu and Keith Nichols and center Andy Anderson.

Targets for Cheatham's passes are ends Kenneth Schuelke and Victor Rodriguez. Bronte will probably go with Allan Barbee at quarterback. One experienced performer will join Barbee in the backfield. He is halfback Mark Duncan. Also on hand to help the running game is halfback Kim Barrett. Jim Dan, Raughton will be at split end.

Steers Set For Clash With Midland

LOOKING FOR SECOND VICTORY

Big Spring takes a 1-0 district record into tonight's clash with the Midland Bulldogs. The Steers handily defeated Abilene, 34-19, last week while the Bulldogs were falling to Odessa Permian, 34-16. Kickoff for the game is 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium.

Earl Reynolds scored three touchdowns, including a 79-yard punt return, and rushed for 100 yards to spark Big Spring to the surprising win over the Abilene Eagles last week in the district opener.

Despite Reynolds' heroics, the key to the Big Spring win would have to be the outstanding performance by the Steer defensive unit. Big Spring took a narrow 21-19 lead into the half-time break. In the second half, the Steer defenders blanked Abilene while the offense scored one touchdown and Reynolds added the other on his punt return.

The Steers go into tonight's game with only one major injury. Center Ricky Hayley was lost for the season when he suffered a damaged knee against Abilene. Senior Craig Barber will take over Hayley's spot. The Steers will give up 10 pounds here as Barber is a 170-pounder while Hayley weighed in at 180.

Defensive tackle Mike Parker is still hampered by a sprained ankle; however, Parker will see considerable duty against the Bulldogs. Another Steer who was injured against Abilene was fullback Barry Truette. Truette suffered a hyperextension of the elbow; however, the 170-pound senior has not missed any practice due to the injury and will go full speed tonight.

The Steers will not have to contend with an all-out aerial assault this week. Last week, Abilene passed 80 per cent of the time and rolled up 225 yards against Big Spring. But, 182 yards of the Abilene total came in the first half.

Midland is a Wishbone team. As a result, the Bulldogs seldom throw the football, although split end Tommy Grimes is a talented receiver. When Midland does go to the air, the prime target is the 170-pound Grimes, who led the team in receptions in 1971.

Directing the Wishbone attack for Midland will be quarterback Randy Blawett. Blawett has carried 26 times for 116 yards this season. The 173-pounder executes well and is considered a good passer, even though he seldom throws.

The leading rusher for Midland is halfback Louis Perez. Perez has picked up 306 yards on 49 carries this season. Against Permian last week, Perez carried 13 times for 99 yards. Perez, a 160-pound senior, has break-away speed as he runs the 100 in under 10-flat.

The other runners in the Midland backfield are equally good. Fullback Steve Chastain has carried the football 58 times for 227 yards and halfback Wendell Ward has 171 yards on 33 carries. Both Chastain and Ward have outstanding speed and Chastain is considered an excellent blocker.

The Midland offensive line is not as large as others that Big Spring has faced this season. The largest man in the Bulldog offensive line is tight end Daniel Randolph, a 195-pounder. Randolph is a fine passer-catcher; however his strong point is his blocking. Scouts consider Randolph the best athlete on the Midland squad.

The defensive unit is not as large as Abilene's; however, like the offensive unit, the Midland defenders are mobile and aggressive. Again, Randolph is considered to be one of the key performers for the Bulldogs as a defensive end. Another key player for the Bulldogs is linebacker Clarence Zackery, a 194-pounder. Zackery is the defensive captain. He gets good depth on pass plays and is very aggressive.

Big Spring will call on Alan Davis to direct the Steer offense. Joining Davis in the backfield will be running back Reynolds and fullback Truette. The targets for Davis' passes will be tight end Jerry Knoepfel, split end Nate Potts, flanker Willie Williams, who had one touchdown reception against Abilene.

Stated to see duty for the Steers are split end Ronald McKee, running back J. T. Smith and fullbacks Dick Conley and Ricky Steen. Steen will also handle the place-kicking chores for Big Spring.

HOST BALLINGER

Coahoma Bulldogs Look For Second Win

COAHOMA — Norman Roberts' Coahoma Bulldogs grabbed their first win of the season last week as they romped past Hamlin, 40-18, in a non-conference contest.

The Bulldogs meet Ballinger in the last non-district game of the season tonight. Kickoff for the contest in Bulldog Stadium is 8 p.m.

After suffering defeats in the first three games of the season, thrash the Pied Pipers to earn the win.

Premier quarterback Roland Beal will again direct the Bulldog attack. Beal, considered by many to be the best director of the Wishbone offense in West Texas will also handle the punting duties for Coahoma.

Joining Beal in the backfield will be fullback Eddie Padron and halfbacks Freddie Franklin and Tim Tindol. Franklin is ranked among the leaders of District 7-AA in rushing. Padron provides fine inside running in goaline situations and is among the leading scorers in the district.

Ballinger will turn to Bill

BULLDOG BACKFIELD — This is the Coahoma Bulldog backfield which will see action against Ballinger tonight. They are halfback Freddie Franklin (31), fullback Eddie Padron (30), halfback Tim Tindol (22) and quarterback Roland Beal (13). The Bulldogs will be going after their second win of the season tonight.

Jernigan to lead the offense. Jernigan, a 155-pound senior, was responsible for 1,600 yards in total offense. Joining Jernigan in the backfield will be halfbacks Charles Johnson, 160, and Johnny Slaughter, 185. Slaughter rushed for 750 yards in 1971 and was a 40-plus punter.

Slaughter and Randy Farris will handle the linebacker posts for the Bearcats. Slaughter led managers in tackles in 1971.

Bearcats Host Wellman In League Tilt

GARDEN CITY — Fresh off a 38-14 win over Sterling City, the Garden City Bearcats return home to host Wellman in an eight-man grid conflict tonight. Kickoff for the contest is set at 8 p.m.

The Bearcats boast a 3-1 mark for the season.

After losing the season opener to Cotton Center, 49-12, the Bearcats roared back to win three straight, including last week's rout of Sterling City. The other Bearcat victims were Three Way (30-18) and Loop (8-6).

Coyotes Put Mark On Line

GAIL — The Borden County Coyotes put their unblemished record on the line tonight as they travel to Klondike to meet Klondike in eight-man grid warfare.

The Coyotes are 4-0 for the season, including their 72-0 romp over Whitharral two weeks ago. Last week, the Coyotes had an open date.

Borden County opened the season with a 42-0 socking of Wellman. Then the Coyotes clipped Dawson, 38-6, and Smyer, 24-16, before demolishing Whitharral.

Starting in the offensive line for Borden County will be ends Roy Don Henly and Steve Lockhart, guards Roby Rios and Audry Brummett and center Joe Hancock.

The Coyote backfield will feature quarterback Randy Crittenden and halfbacks Randy Hensley and Garland Williams.

Forsan Romps Past Bronte

FORSAN — Jace Elliott carried five times for 116 yards and two touchdowns as Forsan Jr. High romped to a 28-8 win over Bronte Thursday night.

Elliott opened the scoring with an 85-yard run in the first quarter. Johnny Medlin tacked on the extra points to give Forsan a quick 8-0 lead.

The lead increased to 16-0 later in the first period when Elliott took a 60-yard scoring strike from quarterback Ralph Miranda. Larry Patton tacked on the extra points.

Medlin scored on a two-yard run in the second quarter. The PAT attempt was no good and Forsan had a 22-0 half-time bulge.

Miami Only Unbeaten Team in NFL Dolphins Draw Nod Over San Diego Chargers

NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody's going unbeaten in the National Football League. Nobody... including the Miami Dolphins. Sooner or later, somebody'll get 'em.

But, not this week. San Diego's suddenly super-Chargers should bite the lip in the Orange Bowl as the Dolphins go 5-0 with the toughest part of their schedule behind them.

Elsewhere in the NFL, the hour of decision will come for at least two erstwhile powerhouses, the Minnesota Vikings and Baltimore Colts. Each is 1-3 and another defeat will just about kill playoff hopes.

Game by game, here's the call for Sunday Monday:
Miami 24, San Diego 10: I looks like a ground war and Miami has a tank in Larry Csonka, a bazooka in Jim Kick and a rocket in Mercury Morris that gives it the edge. Both defenses are underrated. Oakland 30, Buffalo 14: The Raiders have their offense untracked and George Blanda shouldn't have to be summoned for heroics.

San Francisco 38, New York Giants 17: The Giants have beaten the NFL's two weakest teams, Philadelphia and New Orleans, but their defense can't hold John Brodie and pals.

Green Bay 17, Detroit 13: The Packers' Scott Hunter should have a good battle with Detroit's Greg Landry, but defense should still be the key in the well-matched Monday night TV special.

Atlanta 27, New Orleans 14: The Saints haven't won in four starts and are solid picks to make it five. The Falcons need only to continue improving their offense to be true division contenders.

Cleveland 24, Chicago 14: The Bears are 0-3-1 and seem headed for another winless weekend although running quarterback Bobby Douglass and powerful Cyril Pinder give Chicago at least a chance for an upset.

Kansas City 24, Cincinnati 17: This matchup of division leaders is perhaps the NFL's game of the week. The Bengal offense finally got rolling last week, but the Chiefs provide too tough a barrier.

Forsan Hosts Roby Tonight

FORSAN — Forsan takes a 1-0 district record into tonight's conference clash with Roby at 7:30 p.m. in Buffalo Stadium. The Buffs, sporting a 2-3 season record, shellacked conference foe Sands, 46-0, in the district opener last week.

Mike Murphy will get the starting nod at quarterback for Forsan. According to head coach Jack Woodley, "Murphy played the best game he's played since I've been here against Sands." Joining Murphy in the Buffalo backfield will be hard-running halfback Tommy Brumley and Robert Wash. Rudy Holguin will be the prime target for Murphy's passes. Holguin, the senior tight end, is the team's leading receiver. He will be joined in the pass routes by split end Bob Highley and flanker David Moreno.

Anchoring the offensive line for Forsan is right guard Asa Reefsneider and left guard Randy Walls. The other members of the Buffalo forward wall are center Joe Miranda and tackles Brad Stevens and Dennis Day.

On the defensive front, Forsan will depend on Reefsneider and Paul Bedwell to lead the charge from their tackle and end posts. Wash and Brumley will operate as linebackers. Landon Soles will handle the safety chores for the Buffaloes.

Forsan opened the season with a 32-14 win over the Stanton "B" team; however the Buffs then faltered and dropped three in a row, losing to Roscoe, 14-6, Imperial, 39-6, and O'Donnell, 32-4, before getting back on the victory trail with the romp over Sands.

Athletics Claim American League Flag

DETROIT (AP) — In 1931, Herbert Hoover was President, champagne was illegal, and Manager Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics were the American League baseball champions.

A lot has changed in the 41 years since but one thing is the same—the Athletics, now of Oakland, are again AL champions.

They will carry the pennant into Cincinnati where they'll face the National League champion Reds beginning Saturday in the World Series.

It took the maximum of five games, but the A's finally overcame the Detroit Tigers with a 2-1 victory Thursday to take the AL playoffs.

as he pitched a two-hitter for five frames before getting an upset stomach. Blue finished the job with a lightning-fast ball, allowing three harmless singles in picking up the save.

Campaneris, suspended by AL President Joe Cronin for the last three playoff games for throwing a bat at Detroit pitcher Lerrin LaGrew, joined in the Oakland post-game bedlam but wasn't saying much.

It was learned Thursday night that Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will permit Campaneris to play in the Series. Jackson opened the A's second with a walk off loser.

'Just Another Game Ball,' Says Blue

DETROIT (AP) — "Just another ball game" for Vida Blue has boosted the Oakland Athletics into the World Series.

"I got lucky," the 23-year-old told a well wisher as he sat upon a stool in a corner of the A's raucous locker room after preserving Thursday's 2-1 victory over Detroit in the final game of the American League playoffs.

Blue's latest effort was four scoreless innings as he scattered three Detroit singles after replacing John "Blue Moon" Odom in the top of the sixth inning.

This meant Blue, who didn't start a playoff game, had turned in 5-1-3 scoreless innings as a reliever, allowed five hits while striking out five and walking only one batter.

"The day I got traded (from the Chicago Cubs) Dick Williams called me at my house and said, 'We're going to put you in the World Series.' And damned if he didn't," said Oakland pitcher Ken Holtzman, smiling as he sat quietly in front of his clubhouse locker.

Most of his teammates were exploding champagne corks, splashing beer, hugging each other, and yelling with joy. Even millionaire owner Charlie Finley joined in, pouring champagne on dry heads and crying with happiness at the moment which seemed to be slipping away after Tiger victories Tuesday and Wednesday.

Holtzman is Manager Williams' choice to pitch the Series opener and the A's will have suspended shortstop Bert Campaneris back in action, although Reggie Jackson may be out with a pulled hamstring muscle suffered in a successful steal of home plate Thursday.

Rice's Barnes Out 6 Weeks

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice Athletic Director Red Bale says the Owls' outstanding middle linebacker Rodrigo Barnes may be lost four to six weeks because of a kidney injury received in last week's Louisiana State game.

Bale said Thursday that Barnes ignored the injury at first, believing the soreness to be normal following the rough-and-tumble game against the Tigers.

BLUE HAS SOMETHING TO YELL ABOUT — Oakland Athletics pitcher Vida Blue, left, yells out as he comes off mound after getting the Tigers out in ninth inning of game in Detroit Thursday to win the American League pennant and put the A's in the World Series with the Cincinnati Reds. Catcher Gene Tenace and Mike Spatein embrace their hero who came out of the bullpen to work the final four innings.

Mavs Roll Over Travis

The Goliad Mavericks rolled to a 42-0 lead before allowing Snyder Travis to cross the goalline. The Mavs ended up taking a 42-6 win over Travis. Goliad opened the scoring with an 18-yard pass from Bubba Stripling to Mike Harris. The two points were tacked on by a pass from Stripling to Tommy Churchwell to make the score, 8-0.

The score ran to 16-0 when Churchwell scampered 25 yards with Stripling tacking on the extra points with a run.

Weasel Withrow ran for 10 yards and the third Maverick score. The PAT failed leaving the Mavs with a 22-0 lead.

Churchwell returned a punt 42 yards for a touchdown with Withrow tacking on the extra points for a 30-0 margin.

The final two Goliad touchdowns came on a 30-yard run by Harris and a two-yard plunge by Churchwell. The PAT after both TDs failed.

Cincy's Anderson Keeps Mouth Shut

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two years ago Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson boasted: "Bring on the big bad Birds, We'll beat 'em." Anderson's first Cincinnati team had won the National League pennant in a three-game playoff sweep over Pittsburgh. He looked down his nose at the American League champion Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles made Anderson choke on his words, beating a Reds in the Series four games to one. Anderson hasn't forgotten. He's not about to make the same mistake.

"I have to be honest," said Anderson. "I was wrong."

He watched the Oakland Athletics win the American League pennant over the Detroit Tigers, "after the beating we took in '70. I'll make no comment. I'm not going to give Dick (Oakland Manager Dick Williams) any ammunition." Anderson added, "I never dreamed an American League club would beat us, but I've changed my thinking about the AL now. Dick's team plays good baseball."

The 38-year-old Anderson recalled his outlook before the 1970 Series.

"In 1970 I was naive," he said. "I had never been to a World Series. I was just so glad to be there. I came in awe. The whole season was that way. I remember the reaction in Cincinnati when I got the job."

"Everybody at the Series couldn't understand how I could be so nice after losing. Well, I was so glad to be there I didn't realize until I got home that we had lost four out of five."

Runnels Falls To Lamar, 8-6

SNYDER — Penalties nullified three touchdowns and one conversion by the Yearlings Thursday night as the Yearlings fell to Snyder Lamar, 8-6.

Lamar opened the scoring with a 43-yard pass play with just 18 seconds left in the first half. The two-point conversion was successful and Lamar took an 8-0 lead into the halftime break.

Runnels got on the scoreboard in the third quarter when Jesse Doss capped a 65-yard drive with a three-yard run. The Yearlings apparently tacked on the two points after the TD to tie the score; however, an off-side penalty wiped out the play. On the second try, Runnels was unable to convert to leave the score at 8-6.

The Yearlings drove to the Lamar 15 twice and the Lamar eight once only to be unable to push across a score.

A 60-yard punt return for a touchdown by Elroy Green was nullified by a clipping penalty.

Runnels travels to Sweetwater Oct. 19.

Muny Slates Tournament

Charles Bailey, Jerry Barron, Ted Gross, Ronnie Broadrick and Howard Stewart are the favorites in the annual Grand Association Tournament at Municipal Golf Course. The tournament will be played Oct. 15 and Oct. 22.

First place prize is $30. Second place prize is $40, third place is $50, fourth place is $40, fifth place is $25 and sixth place is $15. The tournament is a 26-hole affair.

JACKSON SAILS IN TO SCORE — Reggie Jackson, Oakland Athletics, sails across the plate to score from third on double steal in second inning of game with the Tigers in Detroit Thursday. Tiger catcher Bill Freehan attempts to make the tag too late. Jackson suffered a pulled hamstring muscle on the play and had to leave the game.

THE COSTUME LOOK — Designers such as Helga and Robert Courtney are sticking to the costume look in their fashions presented at California Fashion Creators showings in Los Angeles. Left, the glamor of organza returns in Robert Courtney's brown and white fern print gown. The low cut dress has its own matching "battle jacket". Right, Helga teams two classics — the jumper and the blazer — in this beige flannel ensemble. The pleated skirt of the jumper is beige and brown pinstripe.

California Fashion Showings Combine Classics, Costumes

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Costumes of every variety, except the Halloween kind, are getting star billing at this week's California Fashion Creators showings for post-Thanksgiving and summer.

The description applies to dozens of looks — from the classic blazer suit to boutique nostalgia outfits to movie costumes from the new musical "Lost Horizon."

To veteran California dress designers such as Michael Calderon and Fred Rothschild, costume is a trim blazer or waist-long battle jacket over a dress, skirt or pants.

To the "new faces" of West Coast fashion, young boutique firms as W. W. Duke and Gunne have introduced a new look in the past. Gunne-Sax specializes in long Victorian fluffery with mutton sleeves and apron fronts.

Chessa Davis, designing for has wrapped the stars, men and W. W. Duke, has created the costume skirt of the year, "peddler's cloak skirt."

Inspired by the legends of ancient peddlers who made their cloaks from scrap, Miss Davis invents a color-mad skirt, not of scraps, but panels of varicolored cloth, patchwork, stripes, plaids and gingham.

The most unusual act in the show by far was Jean Louis' previews of his dazzling costumes for the upcoming "Lost Horizon."

Academy Award winner Louis has wrapped the stars, men and W. W. Duke, has created the costume skirt of the year, "peddler's cloak skirt."

Gives Talk On Interior Decorating

"Anytime you buy a wall accessory you should have at least three places in your home where it can be used," said Mrs. Chick Madry as she demonstrated techniques of interior decorating for Xi Mu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Carroll Cannon, 1515 Hilltop.

Mrs. Madry said there are three things to consider when buying wall accessories, where you will put them, the number of ways they can be used and their durability.

"If you walk in your front door and there is not a wall in front of you, you should decorate the wall on the left," continued Mrs. Madry. She said most people neglect to decorate bathrooms, but that they are very important and should be done attractively for guests. She displayed sconces, mirrors, wall plaques and pictures, showing how to display them.

Mrs. Robert W. Blasingame was named chapter sweetheart and will represent the chapter at the annual BSP valentine ball in February. It was announced that Mrs. Maria Lechty of Kansas City, Kan., will visit the chapter this month to assist in pledging new members. She is a division chairman for BSP.

The next meeting is at 8 p.m., Oct. 24 in the home of Mrs. Monroe Casey, 2315 Mishler.

'Eating Too Much' Warns Speaker

"Americans are eating too much," said Dr. Paul Koshi as he showed the film, "Three Times A Day," for Organic Soil Makers Monday evening at the U.S. Experiment Station.

The film emphasized that although Americans begin fattening up their babies during the first three months, a fat baby isn't necessarily a healthy baby. It showed that too much fattening food builds up cholesterol in the blood stream.

Mrs. R. L. Nail read an article which suggested the use of cedar for controlling fleas. She said cedar aroma will kill fleas.

Mrs. Jan Huff presided, and refreshments were served. The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 13 at the experiment station.

Zone Conference At Corpus Christi

A zone conference of Eagles aeries and auxiliaries, which is scheduled Oct. 21-22 in Corpus Christi, was discussed by local Unit No. 2188 Monday at the Settles Hotel. Several members plan to attend. Mrs. James M. Dalton presided and announced the series is planning a Halloween dance. A salad supper will be served at 8 p.m., Oct. 13 at the hotel, and the next regular meeting is at 8 p.m., Nov. 13.

Music Club Meeting Scheduled In Odessa

Mrs. Mike Skalicky, president of Big Spring Music Study Club, will play the harpsichord, accompanied by Joseph Dawes on the recorder during a program at the upcoming District 13 meeting in Odessa. The meeting is scheduled Oct. 21 in the Fine Arts Building, Odessa College.

The plans were announced during the music club's meeting Wednesday in the high school choir room with Mrs. Skalicky presiding. Mrs. A. E. Hyden was named delegate to the Odessa meeting which will also be attended by Mrs. Clyde Cantrell.

Mrs. Skalicky was program leader, relating history of the harpsichord and showing slides of historical instruments of the clavir type. These included the harpsichord, spinets and virginals. Dawes spoke about the design of such instruments and told how he constructed a harpsichord using a kit.

Randall Sherrods Host Barbecue

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Approximately 100 persons attended a community barbecue held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Sherrod.

The Rufus Fowlers have been vacationing in the Big Bend Country.

The W. T. Bradberrys, accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law the Billy Bradberrys, went to Huntsville where they were joined by their other son, D. Bradberry of Houston, and the group attended the prison rodeo.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Calverly have returned from Eufaula, Okla., where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Calverly's brother-in-law, Jack White.

Airport Carnival Slated Saturday

The annual carnival at Airport Elementary School will be kicked off with crowning of the school's king and queen at 6 p.m. Saturday at the school. Booths will be set up in 12 separate rooms and a Mexican dinner will be served. The event will last until 9 or 9:30 p.m.

Pam Wheeler presided for the first time as worthy advisor of Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly 60, Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple. She was installed Saturday.

Kay Williams, worthy associate advisor, announced her fund-raising project for the term will be a "friendship basket" to be passed from member to member collecting funds and exchanging gifts as it travels.

Committee chairmen named were Zina Johnston, charity; Jodi Grant, stamp collection; and Della Nobles, hoisery drive. Members will operate a concession and sell programs at tonight's Big Spring High School Steers football game against Midland.

The next meeting is at 7 p.m., Oct. 24 at Masonic Temple.

Bulbs Are Studied By Club

Methods of planting various types of bulbs, both inside and outside, were discussed by Mrs. Henry Schaedel for Oasis Garden Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. B. Lawrence, 1711 Harvard. Mrs. J. F. Skalicky was cohostess.

Mrs. Alton Marwitz presided, and announced the Southern Zone meeting will be held Nov. 9 in Kermit. Therapy gardening for students at the special education school will be conducted next week by Mrs. Schaedel, Mrs. Skalicky and Mrs. C. V. Wash. The women will teach students care and upkeep of bulbs.

Mrs. Frieda Kelm of Hamilton was a guest, and Mrs. Richard Landon was introduced as a new member. Mrs. C. O. Hitt, a former member, reactivated her membership.

The next meeting is Nov. 8, place to be announced.

Single Parents May Attend Club Events

Events for the next week have been announced by Parents Without Partners which held a luncheon today at Holiday Inn. This evening the group will meet for a spaghetti supper in the home of Mrs. Evelyn Delatour, new Gail Road.

At 9 p.m., Saturday, club members will have a party in the Lamplighter Room of the Ramada Inn, and Sunday's event will be a Chinese supper at the home of Mrs. Wanda Nickle, 1601 E. 5th at 7:30 p.m.

Cards and other table games will be played Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Cross, 2216 Lynn. The bridge lessons are continuing. Any single parent is invited to join the organization and participate in its activities. More information may be obtained by calling Mike Craddock, president, or Mrs. Joe Herbert.

Front Slices Panhandle

By The Associated Press

A stationary front with a blunt edge knifed through the extreme northern Texas Panhandle this morning but weathermen said there would be no change in the weather scene.

While the eastern half of the state lay under a high pressure ridge, showers broke out over the southern tip of Texas.

Over most of the state, skies were clear with early morning temperatures ranging from the mid 50s in the Upper Panhandle to the high 70s along the Upper Coast.

Fog settled down in East Texas and along the coast but was to burn off by mid-morning.

Texas weather has been very warm for the past week and the National Weather Service said there is little likelihood for any real autumn weather for the weekend.

Delta Queen To Deliver Stamp

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Delta Queen, the last remaining overnight passenger-carrying paddlewheel river boat, will play a part in the ceremonies today when the U.S. Postal Service issues the Tom Sawyer commemorative stamp at Hannibal, Mo.

Capt. Ernest E. Wagner, master of the Delta Queen, will deliver a packet of mail to St. Louis from Hannibal later in the day. The mail will be stamped with the Queen's canceling stamp. The boat has an official U.S. Contract Postal Station.

The stamp depicts the famous white painting episode in the book by Samuel Clemens. It was drawn by illustrator Norman Rockwell.

Wash When Dirty

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My father says it is not safe to shampoo more than once a month, and that it will result in premature baldness. Well, I'm a long-haired youth and my friends, boys and girls, seem to wash their hair two or three times a week. My mom says once a week is all right. Now I don't know what to do.

— A.P.

Baldness, if it is going to occur, will develop regardless of how often you wash your hair, or don't. The only rule is to wash it often enough to keep it clean whether it's once a week, twice a week, or every day.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send me your booklet, "How to Control Arthritis." The 35 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope are enclosed. And what is Indocin, and why do you have to have your blood tested every three months? I have taken it for arthritis.

— N.O.R.

Indocin (indomethacin) is a drug which is effective in various types of arthritis, in that it relieves pain and has an anti-inflammatory action. It does not suit all patients, but it is working very well for many.

Reason for the tests is that with continued use, in some individuals, it may cause subtle bleeding of the intestinal tract or affect the white blood cells. The tests are a precaution against either of these things happening. If they occur, the medication can be stopped.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a very mild mitral stenosis from rheumatic fever when I was a child. I am 41 now.

My doctor says I'll need heart surgery in five to 10 years. I am not on any medication as of now. What medication would I take for this? And will it get worse? — G.P.

The rheumatic fever inflamed one of the valves in your heart (the mitral valve) and scar-tissue formed as a result. The "stenosis" means the valve is somewhat narrowed.

Such valves do tend to become stiffer as time passes, so you very well may, as your doctor tells you, need surgery in future years to open up the valve and let blood flow more freely.

Apparently, I would judge from your letter, you aren't having too much trouble now, so there's time to wait and see how the valve comes along.

There isn't any medication that will undo or retard the scarring of the valve now. And since your heart evidently is serving you well enough, there's no point in trying to stimulate extra activity on its part.

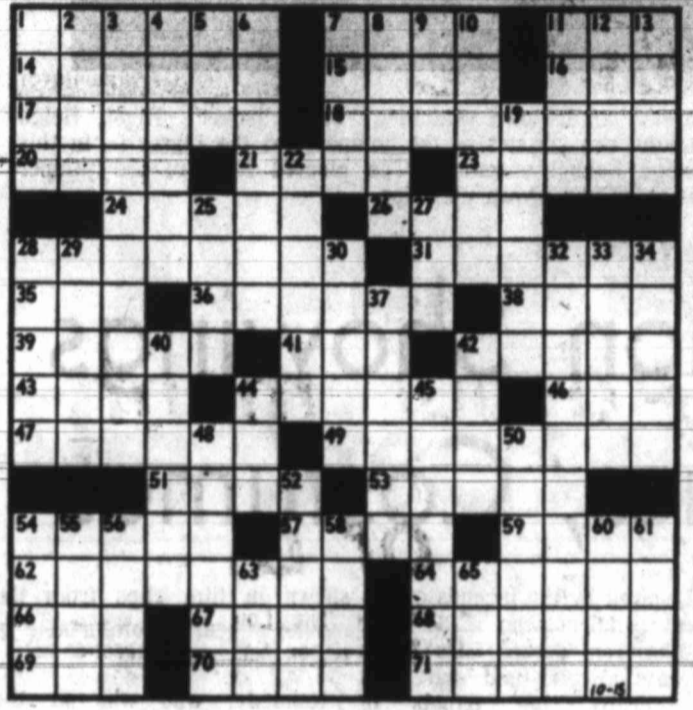

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had a test for syphilis. The doctor said my blood is a little reactive but not enough for treatment. It seems to me that if it is reactive at all some treatment should be given. Am I right? — P.H.

Not exactly. A mildly reactive result can be caused by things other than syphilis. It is not unusual with a viral infection — cold, flu or whatever. If you were ill, or recently had been at the time of the test, that could be the explanation. The test should be run again. If still mildly positive, then other tests should be made to get a definite answer. Under the circumstances, your doctor was quite right in not starting treatment which might turn out to be unnecessary.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Cotton Output In State Soars

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an age when synthetic fibers are cutting into a bigger share on the cotton market, Agriculture Department experts predict this year's cotton output will be 13 per cent more than in 1971.

The department said Thursday that based on field conditions Oct. 1, this year's cotton production will be 18.7 million bales, the second largest crop since 1965 when 14.9 million bales were harvested.

Crops Reporting Board officials said Southeastern states — North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama — are expected to produce 1,420,000 bales, down 40,000 bales from the September estimate.

The Delta states of Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Arkansas, and Missouri are expected to produce 5,630,000 bales, down 90,000 bales from September.

But Texas and Oklahoma cotton farmers are expected to harvest 4,180,000 bales, up 115,000 bales from the September estimate. Production in New Mexico, Arizona and California was estimated at 2,323,000 bales, an increase of 103,000 bales from last month.

The indicated yield per acre and production in bales of 480 pounds each, respectively, include: Arkansas 533 and 1,600,000; Texas upland only 385 and 3,900,000; New Mexico upland only 517 and 140,000.

BEHIND THE NEWS — If you want to know who's behind all the news that reaches you daily when The Herald is put behind your screen door, here are four prime examples. At top is Steve Strain, left is Vickie Hartley and right is Robert Garcia; bottom is Randy Hurrington. They are typical of the 72 boys and girls who serve as Herald carriers and whom we salute on National Newspaper Carrier Day here Saturday. In reality, these are your businessmen and women, for they operate their own businesses—selling, giving service, collecting and keeping accounts. And if you expect young people with this kind of enterprise to excel in other activities—you're right!

CORPORAL PUNISHMENT CAPITAL Pop Paddling Pupils Policy

DALLAS (AP) — A group which calls Dallas "the corporal punishment capital of the country" called on the city school board this week to change its policy of paddling pupils or be ordered by the courts to do so.

MATTER OF TIME

Mrs. Carole Duncan, secretary-treasurer of the recently formed National Committee to Abolish Corporal Punishment in Schools, told the board members:

"It is only a matter of time before corporal punishment will be ended because of federal law."

Dallas Schools Supt. Nolan Estes, after first saying he did not know what the figures were, revealed Monday that there were 24,305 paddling cases in Dallas schools during the 1971-72 academic year.

He attributed an almost four-fold increase in the number of cases, as compared with 1970-71, to general unrest as the result of desegregation.

"We don't think we ought to paddle," Estes conceded, "but until there is a Utopian society we will use it as a method of discipline. It is a last resort."

School policy in Dallas is that the school principal may paddle a child without first obtaining parental consent. A teacher must go through a hearing process with the pupil and have permission from the parents to spank the child.

TRAGIC ADMISSION

Mrs. Duncan claims that Dr. Estes' figure of 24,305 does not reflect "the total number of cases. She also says many paddling cases involve minority students and parental permission is not always sought."

"Statistics indicate that when black children attended black schools in black communities with black personnel, they were not subjected to excessive punishments," she told the school board. Mrs. Duncan is white.

"It is a tragic admission of racial misunderstanding to acknowledge that integration of blacks into white schools has served to bring about increased physical assaults on black school children," she said.

Mrs. Duncan, who appeared before the board with Dr. Robert Hagerback from the staff of a local hospital, said a comparative study showed that the cities of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia have laws against the use of corporal punishment.

The states of Michigan, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey and the District of Columbia also have laws forbidding its use, she said, adding: "Many other states have no law regarding it at all—they have simply never used it."

LAST RESORT

In Texas, an Associated Press check showed an attempt is being made to "phase out" paddling in Houston schools, while both Austin and Fort Worth use paddling as a "last resort" with the principal or another teacher present as witness.

Mrs. Duncan left with the school board a list of six instances in which she claimed that the Dallas School District's own regulations on paddling had been broken.

"The board questioned the authenticity of the cases on my list but promised to look into them," she said. "But, in the past, they never have. So I'm not very optimistic."

NO EVIDENCE

Mrs. Jewel Howard, president of the Classroom Teachers of Dallas, said her organization's policy was to support the school board.

"We have no evidence that Dallas teachers are abusing children," she added.

Meanwhile, the policies of the school district on paddling and indefinite suspension of pupils brought forth conflicting opinions from federal courts this summer.

Dallas lawyer Fred Time argued the case against paddling in a class action suit as high as the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals on behalf of Dallas parents who did not want their children paddled. The court gave no opinion.

An application was then filed for a hearing before the U.S. Supreme Court, whose decision is now awaited.

Inching Toward Adjournment, Congress Tackles Major Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — In-planned to vote on it today and adjourn toward final adjournment, Congress planned to tackle several major bills today but it appeared likely two of them would delay the end of the session until early next afternoon. The measure would

The Louisiana senator, head of the Senate conference delegation, said many decisions remain, but that an agreement seemed likely by Monday or Tuesday.

A third attempt to shut off debate on the bill failed to muster the needed two-thirds majority and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield moved to put the measure aside. His motion carried 59 to 28.

The bill, passed by the House Aug. 18, would have put an end to almost all busing for school desegregation purposes.

The Senate Thursday night passed the final bill of the session, a $5.2-billion catch-all appropriations measure, and sent it to conference with the House.

AGREEMENT

The House cleared the committee revenue-sharing bill within the $50-billion ceiling he sent it to the Senate which seeks for the current fiscal year to pass it on to Nixon this afternoon. The measure would

The legislators had intended to adjourn the 92nd session by Saturday.

But no settlement seemed probable before Monday or Tuesday on the Social Security welfare bill now in a House-Senate conference committee, and the $250-billion spending ceiling President Nixon had requested.

CRUSH

Both houses extended the Thursday sessions into the night in an effort to whittle down the last-minute crush.

The House passed the compromise $74.3-billion defense appropriations bill, one of the largest in history. The Senate

Parr Probe In Alamo City

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A federal grand jury was expected to reconvene today after hearing three witnesses Thursday in an apparent probe in connection with South Texas political boss George Parr.

The panel reportedly has been conducting an investigation since last May into school construction in Duval County, where Parr has long been a powerful political figure.

Appearing before the jurors Thursday were the office manager and two officials of a Duval County water district who have testified previously.

Parr, nicknamed the "Duke of Duval," so far has apparently not been subpoenaed.

Court records indicate the investigation involves Parr and others in the Duval County area, who have connections with either the Benavides or San Diego, Tex., school districts of the water district.

Although he objected, Chapa was given immunity last month from prosecution based on his testimony.

Cee City Church To Burn Note

COLORADO CITY — A day-long celebration will be held at the 22nd and Austin St. Church of Christ Sunday to celebrate the note-burning of the mortgage for the church.

The church was started on the courthouse lawn in 1906 by a hand full of persons. And their descendants are celebrating the event.

The day will include Sunday School at 9:45 and worship hour at 10:45 p.m. with lunch served at Kelley Elementary at 12:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. for the reunion and mortgage burning program and evening worship at 6:30 p.m. Former ministers will be among the guest speakers.

HARD TIMES Used Car More Important Than Space Souvenirs

HOUSTON (AP) — An aerospace worker who has fallen on hard times says he will trade a pair of space souvenirs for a used car.

Earl Guthridge said Thursday a used car has become more important to him than a souvenir he says Capt. Alan B. Shepard brought back from the moon.

And he says if he can obtain a 1970 model car or later he will throw in another item that he has.

Guthridge, 40, who worked at the Manned Spacecraft Center for three years as a training technician, said he has a plaque bearing a bolt that Shepard took off an experiments package on the moon during the Apollo 14 mission.

He said he also was given a piece of netting from the Apollo 13 spacecraft which was struck by an explosion that kept it from completing its moon-landing attempt.

The bolt is one of many of the experiments package that must be removed so the package can be unfolded. It is not needed in any way once the package is unfolded.

The netting is used in the spacecraft to hold items that would otherwise float about in the spacecraft.

"It's not something I want to do," Guthridge said, "but I'm trying to get out of debt."

He was laid off by an aerospace contractor at MSC in August, 1971.

He figures he needs about $3,500.

"I'm just trying to get some breathing room," he said. "I don't know what I would do with the car. Probably sell it for the money."

As a training technician he said he worked with some of the experiments that were given to him in appreciation of his work.

Public Invited To Pet Show

A children's pet show will be held today between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. in the circle drive in front of Jack and Jill Kindergarten at 2009 Main.

To give the event a special professional flavor, the kindergarten teacher, has invited Mrs. Mary Bailey of the Kennel Club and her staff to judge the event.

The public is invited to attend this afternoon, according to very excited children at Jack and Jill.

First Baptists, Presbyterians, Christians Have Busy Weeks

By MARJ CARPENTER
The First Baptist Church, the First Presbyterian Church and the First Christian Church all were involved in special events this week.

THE FIRST BAPTISTS successfully hosted a Meet Jesus Week with special guests such as LL Clebe McClary, Gil Stricklin, Vero Gray, Cindy Crisp, Wayne Watts and Banky Stocks.

It continues tonight right after the football game at the HCJC gym with music by the Shiloh's from Baylor University and Vero Gray. Gil Stricklin will speak at the "Fifth Quarter" presentation.

Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church will be a Meet Jesus Music Festival and Sunday services will conclude the Meet Jesus Interfaith Crusade.

FIRST PRESBYTERIANS hosted a two-day meeting of two Presbyteries here on Tuesday and Wednesday that included business sessions, a special crusade beginning Sunday, Oct. 15.

two days of fellowship between ministers and elders from Presbyterian churches all over West Texas.

THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH will host a Fellowship Supper at 6:30 p.m. Saturday with the Singing Joe Cruse Family from Jacksonville as special guests.

The public is invited to their program in the sanctuary at 7:30 p.m.

If you like gospel music, you'll enjoy this group. They are noted for their gospel singing and have cut several records. They are definitely on the upswing in the gospel singing groups of America. They have just completed a week long engagement in Houston.

very special and unique revival starting next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 17 and lasting through Oct. 22. Guest speaker will be Rev. E. Dewey Johnson from Clovis, N.M., and the pastor, Arnold Denney, will announce more details the first of the week.

HIGHLAND CHURCH OF GOD at East Sixth and Settles will offer a special service

SINGING CRUSE FAMILY — John, Joe III, Joe Jr., Cindy, Janie, Karen and Mrs. Joe Cruse will be a special Gospel singing group at the First Christian Church here Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. following a supper meeting.

CHURCH BAZAAR — Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Wesley United Methodist Church, the annual bazaar will be held. Mrs. Robert Hayes and Mrs. Charles Gray are displaying some of many items to be for sale on that occasion. There will also be a chili and pie noon meal served. The public is invited to attend.

For Pete's Sake Slated On Sunday

"For Pete's Sake!" a film credited as "unique in its capacity to reach out to meet the problems of people," will be shown Sunday, Oct. 15, at the First Church of God at 2009 Main St.

The full-length comedy-drama, filmed in brilliant Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 6:30 p.m., and is open to the public at no admission charge. Families and youth are especially urged to see this Christ-centered film.

"For Pete's Sake!" has been seen nationwide by over three million persons in theatre premieres, and has been cited by one film critic as "the perfect mixture" — it's drama at its boldest, comedy at its lightest, and action at its truest. The film is a family film, not only because it is good family entertainment, but because through its storyline, families can see and feel exactly what is needed to develop deeper understanding and build stronger ties.

The presentation stars Robert Sampson, who also starred in World Wide's "The Restless Ones." Pippa Scott as Pete's wife, Marge, is well known for her Broadway appearances and numerous television roles. John Milford and Sam Groom are both familiar to television audiences.

A cordial invitation is extended to all families of the community by the Rev. Ed Beasley, pastor of the First Church of God, who has made arrangements for this special showing.

Royal Rangers Day Planned

The Assemblies of God have won more than 87,000 boys to Christ in the 10 years of the "Royal Rangers" boys' program. Commemorating this, Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad, Big Spring, will have "Royal Rangers Day, Sunday, Oct. 15, beginning at 9:45 a.m.

All Royal Ranger leaders and boys will be in uniform for this special day. Ceremonies will include all rank, pin and charter awards to deserving boys and an address by Ray Ownbey, who presently heads "Outpost 35" at Evangel Temple.

Evangel Temple's Royal Ranger program seeks to build boys morally, physically and spiritually through the Bible and the finest in trained, spiritual and professional leadership.

"We invite all parents and boys to investigate our Royal Ranger program," commented Pastor Calvin. "We believe it is the finest found anywhere."

Recording artists Wesley and Dorothy Pearce will sing in the evening service at 7 p.m. They will also present 40 minutes of color slide presentation, with sound, of the Holy Land.

The public is invited to attend these services.

Baptists Due To Hear McLaughlin

DR. CHARLES McLAUGHLIN

Dr. Charles McLaughlin, director of state missions for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the featured speaker at the 64th annual session of the Big Spring Baptist Association at the First Baptist Church Monday.

Sessions begin at 3 p.m. under direction of the Rev. Kenneth Patrick, moderator, with a song service led by Dan McClinton and devotion by the Rev. Gilbert Dias. During the afternoon messengers from the various churches and missions will vote on reports and recommendations, and the annual sermon will be by Dr. Jimmy Law, pastor of the College Baptist Church. After the 6 p.m. meal at the church, the evening service begins at 7 p.m. highlighted by Dr. McLaughlin's message.

Dr. McLaughlin served as superintendent of Missions for Tarrant Baptist Association at Fort Worth prior to his becoming director of State Missions. Other positions have included education and music director for Sagamore Hill Baptist Church, Fort Worth; Southside Baptist Church, Abilene; and University Baptist Church, Abilene.

Horoscope Forecast

CARROL RIGHTER

SATURDAY, OCT. 14, 1972
GENERAL TENDENCIES: By smiling and showing you are willing to be of service to others, you can make this a successful day and evening. Daytime actions on your part. The evening is likely to bring you some confusion, so don't make decisions in p.m.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Any outside duties you may have should be handled from the standpoint of cooperation and then you get right results. Improve your credit by paying that bill on time now. Don't try to lord it over others so much.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): You have some fine ideas but require added information from others, so be sure you get it in a cooperative way. Make certain you understand every clause of any contracts you make. Do not lose time with time-wasters.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): If you contact experts early, you know better how to handle pressures that are cutting right now. Do not criticize mate but do encourage him. Reveal a gift for better understanding.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22): If you do some entertaining of associates today, you find you cannot for better relations with them. Remain poised during some possible upset where the public is concerned. Think logically.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Get busy early improving your appearance so you are at your best and feel sure of yourself with others. Then get those dull duties behind you that are nagging and important. Avoid one who likes to downgrade you.
VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): You are in the mood for a good time and should follow along such lines so you feel and look happier. Take mate along with you and reach a better understanding. Don't forget to pay that bill, though.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): It is important that you take care of those family affairs very wisely and tactfully today. Make your home a haven of rest, comfort and joy so that there are no happy there. Do not criticize so much.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Taking short trips is fine for whatever reason, but be sure you drive with utmost care, especially on the highways and byways. Single sure you shop for the best ahead of time.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You can add to your savings by spending little now. Then investigate some new outlet that will be helpful. Make your home more smooth running and comfortable. Enjoy it more yourself!
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Although you may have anxieties, be sure to smile and not make others feel unhappy. Spend some time getting appearance improved before you sally forth socially later in the day. Make an excellent day to plan good times with those who are congenial and you truly like for the weeks ahead. Then sit down with an expert and get the facts you need to gain your ambitions. Do not argue.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): You should enlarge the circle of your good friends now since this can mean advancement for you in the future. Know what you want and get it. Do not let it slip in right direction to obtain them. Don't permit lesser persons to deter you.

Says Change In American Leadership Only Answer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — As hushed thousands listened, the voice of an anonymous young man describing the horrors of Vietnam poured from loudspeakers across the vast mall of the University of Minnesota.

"I don't think the American people really, really understand war and what's going on," the voice began.

"We went into villages after they dropped napalm, and the human beings were fused together. They were fused like pieces of metal that had been soldered," he said.

"Sometimes you couldn't tell if they were people or animals."

The voice stopped. There was silence.

Finally Sen. George McGovern said, "I guess there is nothing more to say after that except that this is a young man who has spoken the truth of the plane and listening to it, and now I think it's up to us to take the next step which is to change the kind of leadership that put the young man in the position out of which he's just come."

"So let's go out and do the job that we need to do and put a new leadership in charge of this country next year."

Some applauded, though most of the predominantly student crowd stood quietly. By newsmen's estimates, 10,000 were there Thursday night.

The voice was on a tape recording McGovern received earlier Thursday when he was from Vietnam," the nominee interviewed by Jerry Williams said. He did not mention that of Boston radio station WBZ, the identity of the purported Williams told him of the tape, made when the unknown young man phoned his talk show.

RAPS CRITIC

McGovern took it with him to Minneapolis, going to the rear of the plane and listening to it. His eyes moistened, he turned away and looked out the window, then pulled out a handkerchief and dabbed at his face.

At the university, McGovern had finished his main speech, an attack on critics of his proposals to end the Vietnam war when he was given a bracelet in behalf of a young Jew held in a Moscow jail. It prompted McGovern to return to his criticism of the war and to play the tape for the audience.

"This is a young GI back in Boston, Williams said of the tape, "As far as I am concerned it's legitimate."

and Commerce, said the sympathy strike would begin today.

The confederation's members are threatened by Allende's plans to convert Chile to socialism eventually.

LITTLE FREEDOM

Fontaine said in a broadcast they were striking because of "repeated attacks against freedom to work and freedom of expression and to express our solidarity with the national trucking movement."

The University Student Federation, led by Communist Alejandro Rojas, issued a call to impede "the new reactionary escalation aimed at defeating the government."

The Councils of Supplies and Services, formed by the government in poor neighborhoods to report store owners charging more than official prices, called upon its members to take measures "to open the businesses that remain closed."

The truckers' strike began late Tuesday after the breakdown of talks between the government and the Confederation of Truck Owners, which is demanding higher cargo rates.

Some 300 truck drivers and owners, including confederation president Leon Vilarin, have been arrested and charged with breaking the internal security law.

Chile's Government Grabs Radio Firms

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's leftist government took control of the nation's radio stations today as President Salvador Allende's troubles increased with the announcement of an indefinite strike by small business, retail shops, the construction industry and private farmers.

"They were called out in support of a nationwide trucking strike to express their opposition to Allende's socialist program."

When Chileans woke up today, they discovered that the government had established a

"national network" of all Chilean radio stations "until further notice."

IN CHARGE

This meant that the president's press office was in charge of broadcasting news, music and public service announcements, thus denying opposition radio stations any voice in criticizing the government.

Within an hour after the network went on the air, the press office had broadcast several times a speech by Allende made live at midnight.

"It's bitter—about what is happening and worried about what might happen," Allende declared. "In this moment there are thousands of Chileans who don't want to understand."

The Marxist president declared a state of emergency in Santiago and a large part of populous central Chile Thursday as a result of the trucking strike, now in its third day.

Gasoline rationing was ordered as some service stations ran out of fuel.

Despite the state of emergency, Jorge Fontaine, president of the Confederation of Production

ALARMIST

Gen. Hector Bravo, chief of the emergency zone for Santiago province, banned all demonstrations as well as publication of news that the government considered "exaggerated, alarmist, tendentious or provocative."

The general, in a nationwide broadcast, also forbade the carrying of firearms by civilians, ordered police checkpoints to control traffic into Santiago and ordered the police to patrol roads and highways to keep the striking truck drivers from blocking them, as they did the Pan American Highway north and south of the capital Wednesday.

TOO BIG FOR A TOT — This 10-foot tall tricycle is the creation of Jim Glass of Riverside, Calif., who builds unusual cycles out of old bicycle parts he keeps piled up in the back of his home. The tricycle is being ridden by David Johnson, a friend of the Glass family. Glass plans to try to sell some of them.

YOU WIN SOME, YOU LOSE SOME — On Friday, the 13th, or any other day in the week, this could be the lot of some motorists who are prone to be leadfoots when they climb behind the wheel of their vehicles. The Big Spring Police Department has had its radar equipment working the past several days and has rounded up many unwary drivers who were exceeding the 30 MPH speed limit. Here reserve officer Eli Guinn makes out a ticket for one of the luckless drivers.

Boat Show Is Set At D&C

Bass fishermen will have the opportunity to see 1973 boat, trailer and accessory lines this weekend during the D&C Marine Boat Show, 3914 West Highway 80.

Free coffee and cold drinks add a bit of spice to the showings and presentations of bass boats from Ouachita, Shoreline bass boat trailers, and even a few ski boats from Sunline.

Door prizes will be given both Saturday and Sunday.

The showing begins Saturday morning, resuming again Sunday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

New accessories to be shown include depth finders, trolling motors, fish locators and temperature gauges.

MC Farm Bureau Meets Saturday

STANTON — The annual meeting of the Martin County Farm Bureau will be held Saturday at the Grady School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

A barbecue will be served. The program will be furnished by two Martin County students, Judy Henley and Marc Briggs, who attended the Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar.

Eight Years Later, Area Soldiers Again Together

FORT POLK, La. — Eight years after starting basic together, two Big Spring area men are both in another basic training company down the street at Fort Polk. Sgt. Robert Lawson is a trainee again, and Staff Sgt. Ronny Bingham a drill sergeant.

They began basic combat training at Fort Polk with Company D, 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade. Now, they are assigned to B-1-1.

After returning from Vietnam in 1967, Lawson left the Army to help his father support seven other children in the family. With four brothers and sisters graduated from high school, the 25-year-old plumber enlisted August 29.

Drill Sergeant Bingham served in Germany with the 24th Inf Div, 3rd Engineering Battalion.

In addition to attending Drill Sergeant School, Bingham was graduated from Jungle School in Panama with honors. He left the Army and spent 1970-71 "roughnecking" in Texas oilfields around Big Spring where Lawson was plumbing.

Neither was aware of the other. Bingham rejoined in April, 1971 with no loss in rank due to the short time out of service. "No police call, no inspections in civilian life — I had to come back," Bingham laughed.

Lawson plans to attend drill sergeant school, as Bingham did.

In November, Lawson and Beatrice Mainford of Big Spring plan to marry.

'ASTONISHING SERIES' OF SABOTAGE Campaign Riddled With Espionage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie says his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination was riddled with an "astonishing series" of incidents of apparent espionage and sabotage.

Though sidestepping accusing specific individuals, the Maine Democrat and his staff suggested Thursday that Republicans were to blame.

Muskie said he has not ruled out the possibility of filing suit against the Committee for the Re-election of the President and certain White House officials linked in published reports of alleged sabotage.

The occurrences labeled suspicious by the Muskie staff peaked during the period the senator was considered the frontrunner for the nomination subsequently won by Sen. George McGovern.

WIRETAPPING

The incidents dropped off when Muskie's campaign faltered.

The list released by the Muskie staff included possible cases of wiretapping, stolen documents, forged campaign literature, false news releases, and bogus telephone calls arousing voters in the middle of the night.

The list was prefaced with the admonition that the incidents had not been thoroughly investigated and were "not intended at this time as charges against any individual or group."

John T. McEvoy, the senator's administrative assistant, said the incidents "were not undertaken in the spirit of fun. They were undertaken to destroy a candidate."

Muskie said, "Over the past 18 months, there have been a number of inexplicable incidents that seem to us to be inevitably involved with somebody's sabotage efforts."

In a related development, Chairman Wright Patman was stymied in efforts to conduct House Banking Committee hearings on financial aspects of the investigation of the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic headquarters in the Watergate building.

Republicans on the committee boycotted the session Thursday, as did the four White House and re-election committee officials who Patman, D-Tex., had invited to testify.

But one of those Patman sought to question, Maurice H. Stans, was ordered to appear in a Miami court to testify in the trial of Bernard L. Barker, one of the seven men indicted in the Watergate case.

Muskie and his assistant tied their own list of possible sabotage incidents to reports published earlier this week linking White House aide Kenneth W. Clawson and one-time GOP campaign worker James W. McCord to similar occurrences.

Clawson, deputy director of White House communications, was quoted as acknowledging that he wrote a letter accusing Muskie of condoning a racial slur against Americans of French-Canadian descent.

Clawson denied making the statement. Muskie had denied the incident mentioned in the letter.

THERE TO LISTEN

Newsweek magazine this week reports that McCord, also under indictment in the Watergate case, once rented an office next to the Muskie campaign headquarters on K Street in Washington.

"If these reports are correct," McEvoy said, "they weren't there to measure the traffic on K Street. They were in there to listen."

Muskie has said published reports "suggest a political opposition which is ruthless and unprincipled."

The Muskie memo labeled these incidents as suspicious.

During the New Hampshire primary campaign a number of Manchester, N.H., residents received middle-of-the-night telephone calls from persons falsely identifying themselves as black canvassers of the Harlem for Muskie Committee "who were calling New Hampshire people to urge them to vote for Muskie because he would be so good for black people."

PHONE CALLS

Several hundred other New Hampshire residents from all over the state complained of post-midnight phone calls from alleged Muskie people.

Just prior to the Florida primary, a flyer appeared in parts of that state on Muskie stationery. It accused (Sen. Henry M.) Jackson of illicit sexual activity and made comparable allegations about (Sen. Hubert H.) Humphrey. It was, of course, bogus and was apparently designed to hurt Muskie, while tarring Jackson and Humphrey too.

"Closely held" issue papers were printed verbatim in newspaper columns and their transmittal from Muskie headquarters was never explained.

Other campaign documents disappeared mysteriously in August 1971.

At least twice in 1971 raw polling data disappeared from the desk of Muskie's polling expert, and "an entire New Hampshire poll and a New Jersey poll were stolen."
