REBEL VICTORIES CONTINUE IN CHINA

BY CAPTURE OF CHANG CHOW
THE REBELS HAVE CUT OFF
IMPERIAL TROOPS FROM PEKIN.

LAME FOOT YUAN SHAKIA

Looked Upon As a Man of the Hour in China—He May Give His Support to the Rebels.

Shanghai, Oct. 25.—The capture of Chang Chou by the revolutionists is announced here today. Strategically this city should prove of great value to the rebels. It is two hundred and fifty miles north of Hankow and its capture apparently cuts off from Peking all the imperial troops now about Hankow and Wu Chang. Today's war news all discouraging to the government. The city of Fu Chow is in a panic owing to the revolutionary threats of five thousand weavers whose wages have been unpaid for a long. The Mandarin of Shanghai, today become so alarmed over the possibility of secession in the native quarter that he moved his household to the foreign settlement. The T'ai of Nanking has also put himself under the foreign protection.

The revolutionary agents say the rebels will probably establish their capital at Kiu Kiang. The probable attitude of Yuan Shih Kia whose lame foot, has prevented his acceptance of the government's commission to put down the rebellion is a subject of the greatest interest. He is everywhere regarded as a man of the hour in China. It is hinted that he may be induced soon to give the rebel cause his support. Although the Manchou officials here continue to give out false news of state affairs in Chang Sha and Kiu Kiang, and create the impression that the imperialists are still in control, the native press in Shanghai and cities throughout the southern part of China has defied all censorship. It is unquestionably a fact that the entire Yank Tse region and most of Southern China is completely revolutionary in sentiment. All cities taken by rebels in the past few days have made almost no resistance. A few Manchou officials have been killed but most of them have joined the rebels. It is not believed any massacres will be permitted in Shanghai if the city is surrendered to the rebels. The Manchou officials will be permitted to return north unmolested. Foreigners will be safe so long as they remain neutral. An interference in behalf of the Manchous would undoubtedly arouse tremendous indignation.

DR. COOK HISSED BY DANISH CROWD

on Screen, and Physician Is Compelled to Withdraw.

Copenhagen, Oct. 25.—Dr. Frederic A Cook's theatrical attempt last night to vindicate his reputation by a lecture in the hall where two years ago he addressed the royal family and some of the most prominent people of Denmark under the auspices of the Geographical Society on the occasion of his triumphant entrance into the capital, resulted in extremely riotous scenes. Dr. Cook finally was compelled to retire by the back door. Ever since it was announced that Cook was returning here to lecture, the newspapers and the people have been strongly stirred and threats of violence were freely circulated. Fifteen hundred persons assembled in the hall last night and a great crowd outside greeted Dr. Cook with an uproar of insulting cries. He was escorted by police, however, and no violence was attempted.

The meeting within the hall was turbulent. A small fraction of the audience supported Cook and applauded his efforts. Others hissed continually with the result that the two sides almost came to blows.

The lecture, illustrated by means of lantern slides, was for the most part a repetition of his former talks.

PLANE COLLIDES WITH A HUMMOCK

ROGERS ESCAPED WITHOUT IN-JURY WHEN HIS AEROPLANE WAS SMASHED TODAY.

DELAYED UNTIL SUNDAY

Mesquite Bushes, Cactus and Thorns
Make Traveling With Aeroplane
Difficult in Southwest Texas.

By Associated Press
Spofford, Texas, Oct. 25.—Rodgers' aeroplane was wrecked here this morning when he attempted to resume his flight to Del Rio. The propeller hit a hummock smashing the machine so badly that he cannot resume his flight before Sunday. Rodgers was unhurt.

With his mileage standing at 2706 Aviator Rodgers had planned to fly thirty miles to Del Rio.

Rodgers discovered a new flying problem on leaving San Antonio yesterday, namely: The difficulties of dodging cactus, thorn and mesquite bushes when forced to land unexpectedly yesterday. He sailed along part of the time nearly four thousand feet high in order to have in reserve five or six miles in which to sight some spot free from the prickles, in case his engine went wrong. When the accident happened at La Costa, Rodgers spiraled about 3 miles until he found a cotton field. Even cotton is not without dangers as a landing place. Several complaints have been made by Texas and Oklahoma farmers from Rodgers' landing in their cotton patches and tearing down the cotton. It is claimed that his aeroplane knocked down nearly a bale of standing cotton at one or two points. Rodgers landed here in the dark in a narrow land hedged in by barbed wire fences on both sides. A telegraph line on one side and mesquite bushes every where outside of the lane. He said he had one tire punctured by the cactus spine.

MANUAL TRAINING TEACHER IS HERE

Prof. J. H. Comby, recently selected by the school board to fill the place on the high school faculty made vacant by the recent resignation of Miss Barbour, has tendered his resignation to the superintendent of city schools, and it took effect at the end of last week.

Prof. Comby gave as a reason for resigning that he intended to engage in business other than his present occupation, and that he did not feel justified in remaining in his present position, feeling that he might be called back to his former home in Missouri at any time, and thus leave a vacancy in the high school faculty at a time when perhaps a teacher was badly needed, or at least more so than at present. He, therefore, thought it best to resign at the present time in order to avoid confusion later. Prof. Comby has already returned to his former home in Missouri, where he will engage in business.

Prof. F. E. Barr, who was recently selected by the board to head the new department of manual training, has arrived and, pending the arrival of the manual training equipment, is temporarily filling the vacancy caused by Prof. Comby's resignation. However, since it is expected to open the manual training department by about the first of November, Prof. Barr can not continue long in his present position, and it is thought that the board of education has already secured a competent teacher to take Prof. Comby's place, and fill the vacancy caused by his resignation.

12 BALES PICKED FROM SIX ACRES

By Associated Press
Saltillo, Texas, Oct. 25.—Twelve bales of cotton were picked from six acres by Tuggle Allen at Gladewater and this is said to be the record for Northeast Texas this season. The crop was from special Alabama seed, hand picked for two years.

BATTERIES: New York:—Marquard, Ames, Crandall and Myers.
Philadelphia:—Coombs and Lapp.

By Associated Press
New York, Oct. 25.—By a magnificent batting rally in the ninth inning the Giants snatched victory from the Athletics and in the tenth inning sent the winning run across the plate. The score was tied in the ninth inning after two men were out and the score three to one in favor of Philadelphia.

Marquard started to pitch for New York, but retired after the Athletics had scored three runs. He was succeeded by Ames, who held the Athletics safe.

Coombs pitched for Philadelphia, being relieved in the ninth by Plank. Forty thousand spectators saw the game.

New York must win the two remaining games of the series to win the championship. Tomorrow's game will be played in Philadelphia.

First Inning.

Philadelphia—Lord, Oldring and Collins out on batted balls, Oldring breaking his bat on his smash. Marquard seemed a trifle nervous and Myers patted him on the back.

New York—Devore, Doyle and Snodgrass were easy outs.

Second Inning.

Philadelphia—Baker fanned. Murphy singled. Davis fanned. Murphy went out stealing second.

New York—Murray and Merkle fanned. Herzog singled and stole second which was the second time in the series the Giants stole this base. Fletcher fanned.

Third Inning.

Philadelphia—Barr grounded out. Lapp singled. Myers caught Lapp off first on a beautiful throw but Merkle dropped the ball and Lapp was safe. Coombs hit a grounder to Herzog, but both he and Lapp were safe when Doyle dropped the ball in his eagerness to make a double play. Lord flied out. Oldring knocked a home run scoring Lapp and Coombs ahead of him. Collins walked and stole second. Baker flied out.

Myers singled. Becker, batting for Marquard, lined a fly out to Barry. Devore fanned. Myers went out stealing second.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS IN POSTAL SERVICE

W. B. Brown, a railroad postal clerk running between Dallas and Wichita Falls, has just completed his fortieth year in the service, all of which has been spent in Texas. He is said to have one of the longest records in the postal service.

Mr. Brown came to Texas just after the close of the civil war and for some time carried the mails between Waco and Mount Calm. In 1870 he was appointed a route agent, the name at that time for postal clerk, and his run was between Houston and Kosse, then the terminus of the Houston & Texas Central. After several years he was given a run between Shreveport and Longview, on the Texas & Pacific, and made a record of 31 years on this road. He has been in a few wrecks, but none of consequence. He claims to be good for another twenty years of service.

Firemen and neighbors trying to save the burning home of A. J. Adick at Savannah, Ga., were kept away by two faithful watch dogs, and the residence was destroyed.

The family were away and the dogs guarded the flaming building until the fire got too hot for them and they had to retreat. By that time the firemen could do nothing.

BARACA CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

The Baraca Class of the Methodist Church, South, re-organized under the leadership of Mr. M. P. Kelly, met last evening in their newly furnished rooms in the basement of the church, which have been so beautifully finished for them by the Woman's Home Mission Society, and had a very interesting business meeting, aside from helpful talks by Rev. O. T. Cooper, J. M. Bland and others, who offered their assistance in every way possible to ward making the class a wonderful success. The rooms occupied by the class are nicely furnished and have a piano therein for the entertainment of those who choose to visit the room— which are open from 7 to 9 o'clock every night. The attendance upon the class has been increasing so rapidly it was deemed advisable to purchase additional chairs to accommodate the new members.

The following class officers were unanimously elected:

C. V. DURLAND, President.
W. YEAGER, First Vice-President.
LESTER JONES, Second Vice-President.
H. O. McDowell, Secretary-Treasurer.
J. W. THOMAS, Corresponding Secretary.
M. P. KELLY, Teacher.
F. W. HOUSEHOLDER, Assistant Teacher.

It is learned from Rev. R. R. Hamlin, who returned last night from a trip to Kansas City, Kansas, where he filled the pulpit last Sunday morning and night, in the Christian Temple there, that the Christian Church of Kansas City has a membership of 13,000, with over 27 churches in that city. Rev. Hamlin found the work of all in a flourishing condition both financially and morally.

NEW COMET SEEN IN EASTERN SKY

With its tail curled up over its back a comet was seen by Wichitians who got up early enough this morning in the eastern sky just before sunrise.

The comet was seen this morning at an elevation of about thirty-five degrees above the point where the sun rises.

Just which one of the recently discovered comets the new comet is our local astronomers have been unable to determine.

Mr. Solinski is rapidly completing the organization of his company.

3000 VENIREMEN MAY BE REQUIRED

By Associated Press
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 25.—But four men are left out of the original panel of 125 in the McNamara case and to day some think three thousand veniremen may be examined before the jury is secured. D. W. Clark, one of the talesmen was dismissed yesterday said his son had convinced him that gas destroyed the Times building. The son told the father that the night before the explosion while passing the Times building, he smelled gas fully a block away.

HAM'S STRAIGHT TALK

Evangelist Denounces What He Styled
the Modern Home—Crowds Are Growing.

The crowds are increasing nightly at the big tent and last night it was well filled with people who listened with eagerness as Evangelist Ham preached on "The Home" from the words of Isaiah to Herkiah. "Set thy house in order for thou shalt die and not live."

The evangelist was emphatic in his denunciation of what he styled the "modern" home as contrasted with the old firesides around which our men and women of today were reared.

Already it is apparent that the two big tents that have thus far been erected are going to prove inadequate to accommodate even the regular week day crowds, to say nothing of the crowds on Sunday and Sunday night and steps have been taken to enlarge it by erecting still another tent if it can be secured and by that or some other practical means arranging to take care of the immense crowds that the auspicious beginning predicts will be in attendance before the week has passed.

Definite action on the part of the pastor's conference this morning made of the meeting a union one. All the churches will be represented on all the committees that have to do with the important affairs of the campaign which gives promise to end in the greatest awakening for God that the city of Wichita Falls has experienced for years. Ever since his arrival Evangelist Ham has been emphasizing the necessity for unity of the Christian churches, especially in the matters of salvation from sin, and has been insisting that if a great permanent work for God is to be done in Wichita Falls all the Christian people of the city must join together heartily in the effort. This condition is now assured and it is safe to predict that remarkable things will come to pass in the course of the next few days.

The following live coals are picked from the glowing heap in the sermon last night:

"Corruption first came into the church through the home."

"It is a great deal better to express affection than to affect expression!"

"The deacon's wife and daughter who are disgracing him and the cause of righteousness by their sinful lives need a husband and father, that's all."

"Death bed professions never amount to anything unless the person dies—there's nothing to them."

"Folks haven't homes these days. They simply run boarding houses—the rich folks who can afford servants run a colored boarding house."

"If half of our prominent women spent as much time with their children as they do training their poodle dogs the world would be better off. A kinky-headed girl can care for the baby, but she wouldn't be trusted with the dog."

"You can't raise a man in one of these modern homes—you might grow a polly-wag."

"You have books in your home that are not fit to kindle a fire in hell with."

"A boy of fourteen whose parents can't control him and direct his steps needs a father and a mother—that's all. Sam Jones once advised a mother who was asking what to do with a fourteen-year-old boy who drank, smoked cigarettes, cursed and was very wicked to take him around back of the house and wring his neck—said it wouldn't be a bit of harm. If you can't do better than that, you had better resign."

"That musical comedy was shocking! you say. Yes, you old bald-headed deacon, steward, or elder, the next time one is advertised you'll go to get another shock. The higher they

They Also Ran For President

Detroit Free Press

"Next to being president of the United States, I know of no distinction which may fall within the opportunity of an American citizen and gratifying to him than to be made the chosen candidate of his party for that high honor," was the graceful utterance of a nominee of one of the minor presidential conventions of 1900.

That candidate's understanding of the political situation made it clear to him that the nomination which had just been given to him did not bear with it the remotest possibility of his election, but patriotically and wisely he was not inclined to regard it as an empty honor, but rather as the supreme distinction save one to which his citizenship made him eligible.

Besides the president who is and the president who was, there are at the present time sixteen American citizens who have been given every essential to speed them on their way to the White House—except the necessary votes. Two of these, William J. Bryan and Eugene V. Debs, have been the choice of their respective parties at no less than three presidential conventions—a political insistence shown only in the instance of one other presidential candidate, Grover Cleveland. Two others among the living ex-candidates for the presidency, James B. Weaver and T. E. Watson, have experienced a repetition of the honor.

The sixteen ex-presidential candidates form a group of more than usual picturesqueness. Oldest in point of candidature, although not in years (John P. St. John, who headed the prohibition ticket in 1884, is his senior by three months), is James B. Weaver, whose first presidential candidacy was as far back as 1880, when he came to the front as the foremost chief advocate for the greenback. It is customary to refer to General Weaver as the "father of the greenback," but he disclaims the title. "The greenback movement was well under way when I took my seat in congress," he says. "I was sent there as a greenbacker. I was chosen at the national convention of the new party in 1880 as its candidate for the presidency with B. J. Chambers of Texas for second place. We polled 207,306 votes that year, enough to cause the leaders of the old parties to put on their thinking caps."

Twelve years later in 1892, General Weaver was again a presidential nominee, this time the candidate of the recently organized people's party. Although General Weaver is in his seventy-ninth year—he was born in Dayton, Ohio, June 12, 1823—and the outward and visible signs of age have invested him with the physical appearance of a patriarch of the most approved type, there is nothing in the operation of his mental apparatus that suggests the approach of the chimney corner period of life.

John P. St. John became the militant apostle of prohibition and in 1884 he was the logical candidate of that party for the presidency. That he polled only 151,509 votes out of a total of more than ten million did not in any way shake his faith in the doctrine and today, more than a quarter of a century after his retirement from the political field, he stands as pat as ever, ready to defend his radical temperance and suffrage views against all comers.

John Fitz Randolph Leonard, who was the presidential candidate of the united Christian party in 1900, and is now a member of its national committee, received 1058 votes, enough to assure him, he asserts, that there is still a leaven of Christian righteousness in the mass of political degeneration. "I would not exchange the honor of a nomination on that platform of united Christianity for the presidency itself, won as it was," he declares.

Another presidential candidate of the prohibition party and a reformer who has been a thorn in the flesh of political bossism in the Keystone State for many years is Dr. Elias C. Swallow, who was nominated for president in 1904 and polled 258,536 votes, a larger number than had ever been given to any other nominee of his party since its organization in 1872 save one—in 1892 John Blawie of California received a vote of 264,133. Dr. Swallow has been a candidate for treasurer of Pennsylvania and twice for governor, but it is not the frequency of his running or the energy with which he conducts a campaign which disturbs the politicians of his state; he is especially obnoxious to them on account of his tendency toward what he terms "political ventilation"—the habit of speaking out in meetings and letting the outside light and air into dark places.

Pennsylvania has another interesting ex-presidential nominee—William Barker, candidate of the anti-trust people's party in 1900, and a very earnest and dignified one despite his wealth and social prominence. Always a keen student of social conditions, Mr. Barker found much that was convincing in the theories of Count Leo Tolstoy, with whom he became intimate during his frequent sojourns in Russia as financial agent of the czar. In 1896 he abandoned the republican party, with which he had affiliated until that time and came out strongly for populism. Scholarly and conservative in his tastes, he is devoid of political ambition, although he is wedded to his own conception of popular sovereignty.

Charles H. Matchett, now an electrician at Alston, Mass., is an ex-presidential nominee who has been called to high office so many times that there seems to be no further honor to come except that of being chosen. He began by receiving the social labor nomination for mayor of Brooklyn, then ran for governor of New York, vice president of the United States and chief executive of the United States and chief executive of the United States. In 1893 Mr. Matchett was a candidate for associate justice of the court of appeals of New York City, and twelve months later for chief justice.

The man who led the forlorn hope of the prohibition party to anticipated defeat in 1896 was Joshua Levee, a wealthy and respected citizen of Baltimore, whose candidacy did not in any way interfere with the prosperous coffee importing business in which he has been engaged for half a century.

Joseph P. Maloney, presidential candidate of the social labor party in 1900, and Charles H. Corrigan, its standard bearer in 1904, have been active promoters of the interests of organized labor for many years and have not relaxed their efforts because they were not successful at the polls.

Alton B. Parker and Thomas F. Watson were rival candidates in 1904 but the five million votes received by the former in excess of those received by the latter brought no material distinction. From that viewpoint honors were equal.

FREDERICK MAN

POTS IT UP TO CLARK

Frederick, Okla., Oct. 25.—Preparatory to issuing a second call for a meeting of Oklahoma democrats who favor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri as the next democratic presidential candidate, J. A. Mosby, a prominent democrat of this city, has issued a open letter to Champ Clark of Missouri, speaker of the national house of representatives and spoken of as a candidate for the democratic nomination for president in 1912. In the letter he calls upon Representative Clark to define his attitude in the next presidential race.

The first meeting of Folk adherents, called for September 9 in Oklahoma City, was not held because Lon Sanders of St. Louis, campaign manager for Folk, could not attend. The next meeting will be called in the near future.

The letter of Mr. Mosby to Mr.

FROM TEXAS.

Some Coffee Facts From the Lone Star State.

From a beautiful farm down in Texas, where gushing springs unite to form babbling brooks that wind their sparkling way through flowery meadows comes a note of gratitude for delivery from the coffee habit.

"When my baby boy came to me five years ago, I began to drink Postum, having a feeling that it would be better for him and me than the old kind of drug-laden coffee. I was not disappointed in it, for it enabled me, a small delicate woman, to nurse a bouncing, healthy baby 14 months. I have since continued the use of Postum for I have grown fond of it, and have discovered to my joy that it has entirely relieved me of a bilious habit which used to prostrate me two or three times a year, causing much discomfort to my family and suffering to myself.

"My brother-in-law was cured of chronic constipation by leaving off coffee and using Postum. He has become even more fond of it than he was of the old coffee.

"In fact the entire family, from the latest arrival up to the head of the house, think there is no drink so good or so wholesome as Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkg. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Clark is as follows:

To Hon. Champ Clark of Missouri: It is reasonably safe to assume that Oklahoma will send its delegation to the next democratic national convention instructed for Joseph W. Folk or Champ Clark as its choice to head the national ticket, but as the situation is not altogether clear and in order to know just where we stand, I respectfully submit the following which I trust you will consider carefully and answer positively:

Has the press quoted you correctly in saying you are not a candidate for the democratic nomination of 1912?

If you are not now a candidate will you become a candidate hereafter?

Do you think that Mr. Folk, had he been the chairman of the democratic convention of Missouri, which last year endorsed him for the democratic nomination of 1912, now would come out as a candidate against you, if your positions had been reversed, and you were the one endorsed in the platform instead of he?

Were he in your place now, as the situation exists regarding the democratic nomination, do you not deem that he would be in honor bound to give a positive and final public declaration of his attitude towards it?

Attitude Called For.

Are you for or against the initiative and referendum? Do you favor it as a plank of the platform of 1912?

In case you should receive the nomination do you believe the democratic party could steepest the Canadian annexation matter as an issue in the coming campaign?

A large percentage of Oklahomans are former Missourians, and most of them are enthusiastic admirers of Champ Clark and Joseph W. Folk. To many of them you would be the first choice, Folk the second choice for the democratic nomination; to many others Folk would be the first choice, you the second. Nearly all of them would support loyally either of you. But it is certain we cannot have you both, and it is evident one of you will have to withdraw, assuming that you are a candidate. The question then arises, which one shall withdraw?

Your warmest friends admit that your speech on Canadian annexation was a serious mistake, and many of them fear it will burden the democratic party with a troublesome issue which the republicans will seize upon and press to the front with avidity. You, as the head of the party, already having declared yourself upon the question, would have to defend it as an issue, yet as an issue it can in no wise benefit the party. Without doubt your nomination would give the question a prominence and importance it does not merit.

Oklahoma is for the initiative and referendum. It is the organic law here and a part of the religion of the state's democracy. We can not see why anyone should be against it or wish to offer excuses for its existence. We find that it gets results when we want them, that it is merely a bed-rock principle of democracy applied to practical uses and experience has demonstrated it needs no defenders. It can take care of itself.

Folk Favored.

Personally, I am for Joseph W. Folk, for the democratic nomination of 1912. I was for him in 1908, even before the Missouri convention endorsed him and will be for him hereafter, in the firm belief that his services to his party and to his country entitle him to the honor. My second choice would be Champ Clark, yet since the defeat of Candian reciprocity I doubt the wisdom of making you the nominee. This view is supported by the press of the country, the best index to the trend of public thought.

All good democrats want to see the party's candidate successful in 1912. All other things being equal, Oklahoma democrats want to see a western man nominated and elected. And since the west has not two prospective candidates it ought to be an easy matter to select.

Mr. Folk has defined his position most sympathetically on all the issues of the day as well as his attitude towards the nomination. It is not only fair to the voters, but it is necessary that you do candidate or even permit your likeness if you expect to be a name to be used in that connection.

Man and His Political Ways Weighed and Found Wanting

By Associated Press.
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 25.—Man and his political ways were weighed and found wanting this afternoon by Mrs. T. J. O'Conner, wife of the Irish leader, who addressed the National Woman Suffrage Convention on the text, "Let Our Watch Word be Unity."

Mrs. O'Conner replied to what she termed the old threadbare arguments against woman suffrage, outlined what she declared were typical abuses of man's powers, and urged her sisters to stand shoulder to shoulder and march forward together.

"If the majority of men could be convinced that it would be to their personal advantage and to the advantage of the State to accede the vote to women our fight would be at an end," she declared. "When you ask them why we don't vote they advance old threadbare arguments, the first being that all women would vote according to the politics of their husbands. If this be true, why shouldn't a man want two votes instead of one. Another argument is that if women had votes men would no longer pick up their handkerchiefs. I have lived in England twenty-six years, and during that time I have always picked up my own handkerchief and not had the advantage of a vote either."

"A man left alone in Baltimore this summer with a negro cook called her into the dining room and said, 'Confound you, Maria, I want my meals cooked better hereafter or out the door you go. I don't propose to pay you $30 a month to send in everything I eat turned to a crisp.' Look at that, Maria, don't you talk that way to me, you just member who I am; I don't like your tone of voice, and I ain't no trash for you to holler at; you mustn't take me for your wife."

"And finally, the great and overwhelming argument is that to give women votes would destroy man's home. It doesn't matter about women's, man's home is the thing to consider. Then there is the last weak-kneed argument, the refuge of the pessimist, that already the franchise is too large, and as women are clamoring for a vote the only remedy is to take it away from a certain number of men who have not gone through a collegiate course and cannot stand well in a spelling contest."

"Men are not to be trusted with unlimited power, but the very foundation of the relations of men and women are wholly wrong. The theory is that men toward women are wise, noble, generous, chivalrous and just; that we can trust them to make laws for us which will protect our interests; and for the rest we must by tact and diplomacy manage them. Men's great shibboleth, the thing he cries out for, is management. If he is unfaithful to his wife she hasn't managed him properly. And what woman I ask you, no matter how good or clever she is, can make a man go her way if he has begun to go the way of another woman?"

"Women are brought up by the theory of expecting undying faithfulness, consideration, unselfishness and a taking of all responsibility from her shoulders by man—slowly but surely she has to unlearn this false lesson. There are men in the world, many of them, tenderly chivalrous to women—my own dear father was one of them. But we do not, we must not rely upon sentiment. What we want, and what we demand, is justice. An ounce of justice administered by the law with a judge and a jury behind it is worth all the chivalry in the world. More good has resulted from it than every sleeve worn by a gallant knight in honor of his lady-love."

"The laws as they stand today are inadequate. Many of them are markedly unjust to women and no reformation will take place without the franchise. Englishmen have a fine sense of justice; the trouble is not with them but with Englishmen who have been too long content to submit to injustice. Take, for instance, our divorce laws; a woman in order to divorce her husband must have unfaithfulness and bodily cruelty combined—a man unfaithfulness only. He is at liberty to take a house next door to his wife, put another woman in it, call her by his wife's name; and the wife, because he has not struck her a blow, has no redress. This in the eyes of the law is not cruelty."

"A woman in England can always get better terms, a more generous income, from a quiet separation than from a public divorce. That great Empire, King, Prime Minister, Peers, Members of Parliament, put a price upon her silence. She is bribed by the State to protect the delinquencies of her husband, and these are the laws framed, passed and jealously guarded by men to whom woman is to trust herself and her children."

"Englishmen are beginning to awake to the fact, however, that women are human beings. Greatly as we shall benefit by the franchise, it is for the imperative welfare of man; and it is the duty of woman to force him to a position where injustice and arrogance and oppression are impossible. This can only come through placing a woman upon equality with a man and giving her an interest in public affairs and a vote. No matter how much the domestic woman loves a home, if she were debarred from any authority in that home she would soon lose interest in it. That is the reason why women have not more concern in politics. They are outside the arena of action, they are mere spectators, not participants."

"We may not all have the eloquence of Miss Shaw, nor the energy and sinews of war of Mrs. Belmont, but we can stand shoulder to shoulder and march forward together, and when the gaps rend our ranks, fresh recruits will come forward and close them up. For we must never again stop or turn aside in our onward march. But above all let us, with hands across the sea and clasped together in good fellowship here in America, stand in unity."

SACQUES OR SHAWLS HANDY THIS WINTER

During the winter months one feels a little uncomfortable and a light wrap of some kind is essential. Bundling up to keep warm is wrong according to the theory held by some. It isn't very good to wear too heavy clothing in the south, but we must be prepared for these sudden changes. The housewife who gets up early to prepare her breakfast before the house is warm should have a little shawl or sacque to place around her shoulders.

Speaking of sacques, there are many materials which will make up attractively and comfortably. There are the albatross, chills and cashmere and French flannel among the lighter weight materials and the eiderdown flannel for the heavier wear. These little sacques are very inexpensive and are nice to wear even in the well-heated houses.

Lucky is the girl whose grand mother left her a nice silk shawl as an heirloom. These are being worn more now than ever. They are used for dinner parties or the theatre instead of a long wrap.

The Japanese shawls are very pretty with an elaborate evening gown. These are worn in all of the bright colors and are imported from Japan. The little scarf that was very stylish last fall and winter is losing favor and the little bonnets are taking the place of these for evening wear.

Bands of the same material as the gown are used for the hair with the aggregate on the side. The styles for the evening wear are very elaborate this season. And the bright colors are all the rage with the New Yorkers.

Fringe is the predominating trimmings for the coming winter use. This is being used on the gowns, hats and the tailored frocks for the street wear.

Madam Fashion has an assortment of styles this year and every woman can wear just the thing that is the most becoming to her special style of beauty.

SOCIAL CENTER IDEA TO BE DISCUSSED

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—With an opening address by Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey on "The Need of Citizenship Organization," the most notable conference ever held in America to consider the problems of the social center movement gets under way here tonight for a three days' session. Hundreds of delegates arrived today to take part in the conference, which meets under the joint auspices of the extension department of the University of Wisconsin and the Social Center Association of America.

The proceedings are certain to attract widespread attention, if for no other reason than that the conference is the first national gathering ever held for the purpose of furthering the social center movement. If the hopes of those interested in the movement are fulfilled the near future will see every school house in the country made a public meeting place for non-partisan gatherings of citizens for the presentation and discussion of public questions and for other social, civic Russell of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, Clarence A. Perry of the Russell Sage Foundation, Dr. John R. Commons of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission, L. P. Richard of Boston and Dr. G. E. Young, health commissioner of Chicago.

The conference will conclude Saturday evening with a banquet at which toasts will be responded to by William Allen White, Colonel S. S. McClure, Dr. J. Strong, Miss Zona Gale, Frank P. Walsh and Mrs. David Kirk.

New Belts Have Fashionable Frills. The quaint little pleated frill, hanging over the skirt from the lower edge of the belt, has taken femininity by storm and almost every fall frock shows one of these frills. They are called "Poirot frills" after the great French couturier who introduced them to favor. The new frill is really a revival of a very old fashion, and is a modern reincarnation of the pleated belt, which was worn during the French Revolution. One may now buy her "Poirot frill" already attached to a neat girdle made of satin folds all ready to garnish an autumn frock. Of course the pleating exactly at the waist line does increase the thickness of the waist somewhat, but the new frill is so fashionable, wasp waists have gone out of favor. The correct way to wear the belt and frill is just above the natural waistline. The pleating is not designed to set out the least bit over the hips, but must fall straight around the waist.

305 CHERYL BUILDING 305

Wichita Falls, Texas, October 25, 1911.

The frosts that have so far fallen do not seem to have thinned out the crop of senatorial candidates. By the last of this week or the first of next, it may with safety be predicted that there will at least be one and possibly two more to enter.

The Times is in receipt of a very pressing invitation to pull off an aviation meet in Wichita Falls and "get in on the money end," but inasmuch as Wichita Falls people have not yet forgotten an experience along that line, we prefer to pass the matter up to others who have no fear of the consequences that might follow a repetition of our former "See 'Em Fly" exhibit.

To have the lowest tax rate of any real, live-wire city in Texas is a drawing card that any city may well be proud of, but the rate should never be so low as to interfere or retard improvements that are essential and necessary. In this respect, Wichita Falls has no complaint to make. While the tax rate is considered by many as high, when we begin to make figures and see what the tax money has been expended for, even those who complain the most, are perhaps less able to pay the tax, can see that the money has been well spent.

It now seems pretty certain that work will be started on at least four test wells for oil within a radius of ten miles of Wichita Falls within the next thirty days. Oil men who believe Electra is on the western edge of the oil territory believe that one of these wells must tap an oil pool larger than either the one at Electra or the one at Petrolia. Here's hoping the drills drop into the big pool.

The biggest, and in the opinion of this paper, the most important event scheduled to take place in Texas during the month of November is the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association to convene at Waco, Nov. 7, 8 and 9. Every town, city, village and community in the state should have representation at this meeting. It is a great movement and of far more importance to the future welfare of Texas than the election of any man to high office—even to that of governor or the senatorship. The school children are properly reared and educated, there will be little fear that the State will be ruled by corrupt men.

ELLIS ROBERTSON WEDS
MISS SUNSHINE HOUSER

The friends of the bride and groom in this city were taken by surprise Tuesday, upon learning of the marriage of Ellis Robertson of this city to Miss Elthein Houser Keller of Dallas, the ceremony taking place in that city last Sunday night.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. M. Davis of the Christian church of Dallas, at the home of the bride's adopted parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Keller, 4221 San Jacinto street, Dallas, Texas. But few friends witnessed the wedding and the affair as in the nature of a secret surprise planned by the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Robertson are now at home at 906 Scott avenue in this city, the home of the groom's parents.

The bride formerly resided here where her many graces won her many friends.

The groom is a son of W. W. Robertson of the Wichita Ice Company and is a young business man who has a most promising future.

MR. JONTE INJURED
VERY PAINFULLY

W. C. Jonte, superintendent of the Wichita Falls Planning Mill Company, was severely injured yesterday at noon when he was run over by a delivery wagon.

The accident happened at Thirteenth and Travis streets. Mr. Jonte who was on his way home to dinner had just stepped from a street car and was walking around the end of the car stepped in front of the wagon. He was knocked to the ground and one of the wheels passed over both legs below the hips.

Mr. Jonte was assisted to his home nearby on Travis street where an examination disclosed that no bones were broken. He is severely bruised, however, and will be kept at home for some time.

Miss Nellie Cliff, one of the nurses at the Wichita Sanitarium, who for the past few days has been seriously ill with typhoid fever, is now better and it is hoped by her many friends in this city to see her fully recovered in the near future.

NO CLEW FOUND TO
DR. KNABE'S MURDERER

Absolutely No Motive Nor Clue Has Been Discovered—Her Private Life Being Investigated.

By Associated Press. Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—An investigation into the private life of Dr. Helen Knabe who was found with her throat gashed in her apartments, was the only line of investigation in to the mystery of her murder left for the police today. Absolutely no motive or clue has been discovered. No assault was committed. The police believe the murderer entered and left the apartment by the door. He nearly severed her neck.

Detectives today took to police headquarters for examination, Augusta Knabe, a cousin of Dr. Knabe and Catherine McPherson, Dr. Knabe's assistant. These two women were asked why there was a delay of more than an hour in summoning the police after the finding of Dr. Knabe's body and what were the conditions of the finding in detail. Miss McPherson said after she found the body she had first called Augusta Knabe by telephone from her home in a distant part of the city. Miss McPherson said the dead woman was lying on the bed on her back without a cover. Her night dress was wadded under her arms. Miss McPherson said she pulled the night dress down over the body before the arrival of a physician, whom she summoned before the police were notified. This action, the detectives said, would explain the presence of blood on Dr. Knabe's left leg, for the nightdress was soaked full of blood as it lay crumpled under the chin.

H. S. CHORAL CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The Wichita Falls High School Choral Club has now been perfected and officers elected as follows:

Baldwin Montgomery, President;

Pauline Mears, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Misses Edna Mooneyham, Mabel Cloud, and Helen Hines compose a committee for the purpose of securing new members, and a social committee consisting of the Misses Audrey Adickes, Pauline Richolt and Celia Stayton, was selected, whose duty it is to arrange for at least one social entertainment each month.

The Choral Club will work under the direction of Dr. Dunavaski, head of the Wichita Falls Conservatory of Music, and the first regular meeting with Dr. Dunavaski will take place next Friday, after which a meeting for the purpose of instruction will be held twice each week and perhaps more if possible.

It is hoped to be able to increase the membership from 25, its present roll, to 50, in the near future and a campaign to this effect will be inaugurated at once.

Announced State Employs Five Medical-Legal Experts in Case in Which Minister is Held.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 25.—Removed yesterday from the grave in the cemetery at Hyannis, the body of Avis Linnell, for whose death by poisoning Rev. C. V. T. Richeson of Cambridge is being held responsible, was brought back to Boston last night by order of District Attorney Peletier.

Uncertainty on the part of the prosecution as to the exact manner in which the young girl met death is reported unofficially to be the reason for the sudden move, and the announcement by the District Attorney's office that the State had employed five medico-legal experts gave some strength to this report.

Officials also will search Miss Lin-

Richeson today addressed the following letter to his congregation at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Cambridge:

"Dear Brethren: I appreciate the position in which the church is now placed, but I ask its consideration until after the preliminary hearing or, if the Grand Jury previously meets, until that time. Most fraternally,

CLARENCE V. T. RICHESON."

The next regular meeting of the church will be Friday night, the day after the Grand Jury is expected to begin its deliberations. The fact that Richeson asked—consideration only until after the Grand Jury meets was taken by his friends last night as strong indication of his hope that the State will fail to make out a case against him.

Col. Thomas Varland Richeson, of Amherst, Va., father of the prisoner, arrived in Boston late yesterday and probably will visit his son late today.

Joe Busch, who suffered a broken leg in a hand car accident at Cloud, Texas, a few days ago, passed through the city yesterday on his way to the general Denver railroad hospital in Fort Worth. While in the city the treatment of local physicians was necessary to ease his pain, after which Busch resumed his journey much relieved.

The Texas born dollar, taken from the soil and from the bowels of the earth, is the most honest dollar in circulation and has more prosperity in it than any other form of legal tender. It spends the week days at the markets and goes to church on Sunday and has few bad habits. It builds our homes, churches and school houses and when these tasks are completed its love for the fireside leads it to prefer doing chores for the family rather than embark in the gigantic enterprises of the 20th century civilization.

It takes special delight in buying the baby a new dress; providing ease and comfort for the home and taking the family on a summer vacation. It is timid and clings. It will shy at a railroad or a factory like a young colt at a locomotive. As a rule it avoids foreign company and seeks select companions; it travels only in well trodden paths and when it wanders in new fields it soon becomes frightened at the strange sights and goes scampering to the land of its birth.

Along with the noble traits of character, it has inherited some of the frailties of human nature, and one of the most pronounced is idleness. We have $279,000,000 on deposit in our banks, some of our specie hides in tin cans buried in the back yards and occasionally a roll of bills is snugly tucked away in the bosom of the family; the idle dollar seldom moves except to run from the tax assessor. Then we have dollars which are inclined to wander; probably $100,000 per day leave the State seeking foreign investments, but like the prodigal son, they usually return after having sown their wild oats and they come home to us broken in spirit, subdued in courage and other evidences of a dissipated life and in some instances bring with them a severe case of hook worm. In any event they are too cautious to step outside the bank vault. Many a dollar is now chained to foreign investments that is sadly singing home, sweet home.

The Texas dollar can never develop Texas. The volume is entirely too small and it lacks courage. But with all its faults we love it still and the Texas dollar is a welcomed guest wherever and whenever it appears.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Frank Hinekey will be at New Haven again this fall, to help coach the Yale squad.

A Providence merchant has been a great help to the Brown squad in figuring out new plays.

Captain Joy, of the Holy Cross eleven, has been out of the game on account of a lame shoulder.

Glenn Warner, the Carlisle coach, is using heavy men on the ends to carry the ball on his own shift.

Walter Camp played on six Yale football eleven and was captain of three of them, in 1878, 1879 and 1881.

The University of Chicago eleven are using the forward pass to the limit this season, and using it successfully too.

Joe Pendleton has been appointed referee for the Penn-Michigan game, November 18, and for the Penn-Cornell game on Thanksgiving Day.

Rogers, who was playing left tackle for Harvard, is out of the game because of an operation for appendicitis. Physically he was about the strongest man on the Crimson squad.

WITH THE BOXERS.

K. O. Brown, of New York, and One Round Hogan have signed to box in New York next month.

Patsy Kline has dropped his old manager, Mose Smith, and in the future will conduct his own business.

Tommy Burns, the former heavyweight champion, has gone to Australia to look after his hope Jack Lester.

TRY THIS.

It is Curing Thousands Daily, and Saves Time and Money.

Get a bowl three quarters full of boiling water, and a towel.

Pour into the water a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEI.

Put your head over the bowl and cover head and bowl with towel.

Breathe the vapor that arises for a few minutes, and presto! your head is as clear as a bell, and the tightness in the chest is gone.

It's a pleasant cure. You'll enjoy breathing HYOMEI. You will feel at once its soothing, healing and beneficial effects as it passes over the inflamed and irritated membrane. 50 cents a bottle, at druggists everywhere. Ask O. F. Marchman for an extra bottle of HYOMEI Inhaler.

Decorating Windows.

It is often the case that a room in the rear of the house has windows that give an unattractive outlook. This disadvantage can be overcome by women who have some talent at painting. To lower sash can be decorated in harmony with the room. It requires only a moderate amount of skill, but more artistic taste. The work can be done with all paints and a flowed design. A specially attractive flower for this purpose is the water lily, but it will have the right effect only when it fits into the decoration scheme of the room.

In using this design the glass must be painted with wavy lines of green and greenish blue, to represent water, and the lilies and their leaves are placed on the surface. Another scheme for decorating unattractive windows is simply to paste pictures on the glass. The light shining through gives a pretty effect.

A Dolly Wash Cloth for Baby's Bath.

Face washing, as every mother knows, is the most disagreeable part of the small boy's—or girl's, for that matter—morning (tubbing).

Some thoughtful soul has evolved an idea which will be a perfect boon to mothers in this respect. It is an ordinary fibre wash-cloth; the good, rough sort which provides friction enough to scrub little faces beautifully clean and glowing. But the fascinating and interesting part of this honest wash-cloth is that at one corner there is inserted in the fabric a convex doll face made of pyroxilin tipped in charming fashion. There are narrow ribbons to tie the wash-cloth beneath the doll face so that it appears to be long cape wrapping Miss Dolly. Of course the good child who submits to the face rubbing without protest may have the folly to play with during the remainder of the bath.

Mr. Cunningham was accompanied by U. S. District Attorney Wm. H. Atwell in this conference. The two went to Chihuahua with Gov. Gonzales where papers pertaining to Harle's pardon were filed.

Mr. Cunningham was also working the Leon Martinez case while at El Paso but stated he had nothing to give out concerning it.

GOODWIN TELLS AN AMUSING STORY

Nat Goodwin tells of an amusing incident he witnessed recently on his way to Nevada to look after his newly acquired mining interests. One evening the comedian found himself in the vigorous village of Falls City, Nebraska, where the stage of the town hall was occupied by a company presenting a piece called "My Wife's Fat Uncle." Among the supers required in the play, said Goodwin, "was a husky young fellow who, as was soon made evident, had friends in front, among the male occupants of the first row. At every lull in the proceedings the young super would whisper to his friends on the other side of the footlights, and they would reply in tones plainly audible through out the hall. At one point in the play the young super being well down stage, one of his friends said in a loud whisper:

"How you gettin' along as an actor, Bill?"

"Fine," replied the embryo Booth.

"Goin' to be with the show regular?" asked the youth in the audience.

"Don't know for shore," replied Bill after he had taken a big end of tobacco out of his mouth, "I ain't saw the foreman of the company about it yet."

Mr. Goodwin will be seen in his latest success "The Captain" at the Wichita Theatre tonight. Seats now on sale at Marchman's Drug Store.

A scene from "The Lion and the Mouse," at the Wichita Theatre, Saturday Night, October 28.

Should Be Seen Again.

"The Lion and the Mouse" a play that has enjoyed over three years of unbroken duration as a supreme success, will be brought to the Wichita Theatre in the early future by the United Play Company. While this great drama may have been seen and enjoyed by many local playhouse patrons, it is fair to assume that they will follow the example set throughout the country in their desire to witness the dealings and misdoings of John Burkett Ryder, afresh. Charles Klein has filled this play with such rapid action and bright material for serious thought that one fails to realize the full meaning of the author in seeing "The Lion and the Mouse" but once. A company of players said to surpass any yet seen in this play will enact the many difficult roles. The scenic equipment will be complete in every detail and a delightful engagement is expected.

CERTAIN RESULTS.

Many a Wichita Falls Citizen Knows How Sure They Are. Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Wichita Falls. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement: Mrs. G. H. Swope, 712 Burnett avenue, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "My kidney trouble was of long standing and the attacks were severe at times.

During the past two years I suffered terribly from a difficulty with the kidney secretions and weakness across the small of my back caused me no end of misery. Hearing that Doan's Kidney Pills were good for such troubles, I got a box from the Wichita Drug House and began taking them. They brought relief quickly and proved to be a most effective kidney medicine. I used no other remedy at that time and I can therefore give Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit for the change in my condition." (Statement given June 16, 1908).

Lasting Results.
On December 8, 1910, Mrs. Swope said: "I have been quite free from backache since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and consequently, I am willing to verify my former endorsement of them. This remedy is the most effective one I ever used for troubles caused by the kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

W. C. T. U. Meets Friday.
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—The national officers and the headquarters working force of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union arrived in Milwaukee today to take up the final work of preparation for the thirty-eighth annual convention of the organization which is to begin its sessions here Friday. It is estimated that 1,500 delegates and several hundred visitors will be in attendance. According to custom, tomorrow, the day preceding the opening of the convention, has been designated a day of prayer.

Mrs. Lillian M. M. Stevens of Maine, the national president, will call the convention to order and deliver her annual address at the opening session in the Auditorium Friday evening. The sessions will continue until next Wednesday. The discussion of plans for a closer alliance and co-operation of the temperance organizations throughout the world will be a leading feature of the convention. Legislation for the better regulation of child and woman labor also will receive considerable attention.

A man whose name has not been learned was run over by an automobile at the corner of Scott avenue and Eighth street at about six o'clock yesterday evening. According to eye witnesses the man had started to cross the street looking down. When the automobile driver who was turning into Scott avenue from Eighth street "honked" at the crossing the pedestrian was so bewildered that he jumped directly in front of the machine. He was knocked to the ground and the wheels passed over both legs below the knees. He was picked up and walked off down the street without giving his name.

The contract for the brick work on A. S. Fonville's new house in Floral Heights has been let to contractor E. L. Napier of this city, and work on this part of the construction will begin in a few days. The foundation work has already been completed and everything is now ready for the work of erecting the walls to begin as well as other brick work. The structure will be a two story, brick of 8 rooms, with steel partitions, plastered, and with a tile roof. The outside work will be of hite Roman brick. When completed his new residence will be one of the handsomest in the city.

Did you ever stop to think how economical and how much better in every way it would be for you to keep healthy all the time. Your health or sickness is largely a matter of care or neglect, and by taking proper care of yourself, you will rarely know what sickness is. A little quinine or some of our cough medicines taken at the proper time may save you a disagreeable cold or even a serious illness of pneumonia. Once you get the health habit, you will wonder at what a simple matter it is to keep well all the time. A stitch in time saves nine.

THE GOSSARD CORSET

They Lace in Front.

Easily lead the world of corsetry. Their strength is in the satisfaction they give, the marked improvement they make in the figure, and withal, their comfort. You have long promised yourself a Gossard Corset—your excuse for changing was never so good. Our models were never so good.

NOW IS THE TIME to abandon obsolete back lacing methods, they will appear ridiculous to you when you try the Gossard front laced. Decide that you will try a fitting now.

Good, Well Aged Coffees

Are hard to buy. The market has been swept clean of fancy marks of coffees. Sixty days ago our buyers spent eleven days on the New York Coffee Market, selecting coffees of approved cup quality and purchased over 30,000 pounds of the pick of the market all well aged and the finest cupping quality. This is without doubt the finest lot of coffees that have reached the state this season and it would be impossible to match them at the present time. Since that time we have had the largest advances on the coffee market since the Civil war. On account of our fortunate purchase, we have not had to advance the retail price of coffee, nor have we lowered the quality. Our roasting plant is up to the last minute and we roast fresh daily. It's all in your favor to buy your coffees of us.
