Two Residence Fires Occur Here In Past Week

Two separate fires the past week badly damaged or destroyed houses in Memphis, according to Chief of Police Guy Wright. Both structures were of frame and stucco construction.

A blaze last Thursday afternoon caused major damage to a dwelling occupied by the Billy Shawhart family, and owned by Oscar Maddox. A large amount of fire, water and smoke damage also resulted to belongings of the shawharts.

Maddox estimated his loss at $2,100, and the Shawhart loss was set in the vicinity of $2,000. Insurance was carried on the house, but there was none on the contents, the police chief stated.

Oscar Bohannon was keeping the Shawhart's baby at the time the fire broke out but the man carried the small child to safety, according to Wright.

The blaze, which started in a closet in a bedroom, was believed to have been caused by an electrical short.

The second fire occurred Sunday night and destroyed a vacant house owned by Mrs. Fanny Hill of Penwell, Tex., Wright said. Located in the east part of town, the dwelling had been unoccupied since last winter, the report continued.

The chief of police estimated the loss at about $2,500, and said that the house was insured. W. W. Tumlinson, who lives nearby, said he was standing outside his home and that flames appeared to envelop the house almost instantly.

Giles Picnic Plans Nearly Complete

Plans for the Giles picnic and celebration are nearing completion this week, Mrs. Virginia Rogers said Tuesday. The picnic grounds on the bank of Buck Creek have been cleared of debris, thanks to the industry of the Giles folks, and final details for tables, a fiddler's stand, and a brick grill for coffee have been taken care of.

The gathering will begin at 10 a. m. May 30th, with a prayer, singing, and a welcome address by J. Claude Wells as the first things on the agenda. Bob Ayers will act as master of ceremonies and John McMickin will give the responses to the welcome address.

Uncle Jay and Aunt Thelma have been invited, and folks from all directions are making plans to be present. Fiddle music, a ball game, good food, and old-fashioned visiting should make the celebration long-remembered by all who attend.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. Ann Pearce Held Wednesday

Mrs. Susan Ann Pearce, mother of Mrs. C. J. Wynn, Sr., of Memphis and Mrs. T. W. Potts of Parnell, died about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in Twilight Rest Home at Childress, where she had resided for nearly three years. She was 91 years old.

Funeral services were conducted at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the First Methodist Church here by Rev. A. V. Hendricks, retired Methodist minister, and Rev. Lanham F. Campbell, pastor. (Continued on Page Twelve)

Error Is Made In Olympics Story

The Democrat was correct in last week's issue when it credited the tenth grade with winning the high school division of the annual Junior Olympics here May 11, but it erred in stating that it was the fourth consecutive title for the grade. Actually, the junior class captured the high school division the three previous years.

The only excuse this writer can offer for the mistake is that his mind apparently reverted to his high school days when there were only eleven grades instead of twelve, and the tenth grade was the junior class were synonymous. Anyway, we are sorry the error occurred.

Good Showers Fall South of Town

Cloudy to partly cloudy weather which has been occurring off and on the past several days finally built to the point that the area south and west of Memphis had heavy showers Wednesday night. Considerable thunder and lightning accompanied the precipitation.

A few miles south of Memphis, showers dropped something like an inch and a half of rain, while the fall at Newlin and Estelline was reported to have been around an inch. Here, .08 of an inch was caught in the gauge of John McMickin, weather observer.

Skies still were cloudy this morning and prospects for additional moisture for this section looked fairly good.

Temperature extremes the past week, McMickin reported, were as follows: last Thursday 52-98 degrees; Friday 58-97; Saturday 62-96; Sunday 57-95; Monday 60-93; Tuesday 62-95; Wednesday 62-88. Minimum reading this morning was 61 degrees.

Charles Oren, longtime Memphis businessman, died about 10:30 Wednesday night at his home, 503 South Eighth Street, after an illness of several months. He was 81 years old.

Mr. Oren came to Memphis in 1909 and engaged in the jewelry and optometry business for 46 years.

Mr. Oren was born at Roann, Ind., Dec. 4, 1874, and came to Anson, Tex., in 1901.

Now, that some of the western part of the Panhandle got good rains Wednesday night, the signs point to more general rains all over. If such is the case, the busiest place around here will be on the farms. Planting cotton will be the order of the day.

One day recently a reader called our attention to the absence of Comments, especially in regard to beautifying yards in Memphis. One doesn't have much urge to boost something when dry winds and dry weather prevail. It is different when there is moisture in the ground and only soft breezes blow.

The Lions Club and the High School Band plan to have a big hamburger affair at City Park tonight. The public is invited to participate in this worthwhile event. Should rain prevent holding the meeting tonight, another night soon will be designated. It is a worthwhile movement — that of helping to beautify the park with money derived from the sale of tickets which include a big hamburger.

Memphis is not a dead town, as evidenced by the improvement of business houses around the square. That work, in addition to repair work caused by the recent hailstorm, keeps a lot of workmen busy.

Touched off by recent precinct, county and state conventions, politics gets off to a good start. It will grow warmer as

William J. Bragg Candidate for County Attorney

William J. Bragg this week authorized The Democrat to announce his candidacy for the position of County Attorney in Hall County. Mr. Bragg's entry in the race was accompanied by the following statement:

"To the citizens of Hall County, Texas:

"After receiving suggestions from many friends and after thinking the matter over very carefully, I am making my announcement for the office of County Attorney of Hall County, Texas, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries.

"It is my feeling that one serving you as your County Attorney should devote his entire time to the work of the office; that he should seek to fairly and justly enforce the law as it is written in the statutes of Texas and that the general welfare should be promoted in every possible way and manner.

"With proper co-operation between law enforcement officers and the citizens of our county this can be accomplished. But no single officer can hope to do his full duty without full co-operation of other officers and citizens as well.

"The effective operation of the office requires good judgement and a practical application of the law to the facts, tempered with vigorous prosecution and the realization that the law is no respecter of persons. My constant effort would be for this office to bear the seal of earnestness and zeal, good morals and high principles, and thoroughness, impartiality and justice.

Since the office is concerned with many responsibilities ranging from prosecution of misdemeanor cases to presentation of juvenile delinquency cases in court, it may be seen that diligence and dispatch are indispensable qualities. I would strive to make these qualities manifest in the operation of the office.

"As most of you know, already, I have several years of experience in this line of work, which I tried to do without fear or favor; with no partiality to any one. Of course we all know that every person who is charged with an offense must be treated as innocent until guilt is established beyond reasonable doubt.

"I will to the best of my ability render an honest, efficient and courteous administration in the County Attorney's office; and if elected I pledge to do my very best in rendering good service to all.

"Your vote and influence is earnestly solicited and will be appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,
William J. (Bill) Bragg"

The culminating program was conducted by Mrs. Sidney Baker, who looked into a "Vanity" mirror and answered the question "Which is Fairest of Them All?" as she installed the incoming officers. She explained strange customs of heathen peoples, then contrasted their customs with those of the club — mainly, the selection of one to lead each year. "Heathen conception of service was sacrifice, but ours is Life — full and abundant," said Mrs. Baker. She explained further that though it is an honor to be chosen an officer there are no degrees in the club. She likened the club members to the interlocking wheels of a watch.

none can do his part without the smooth cooperation of all the others. Following the installation of each officer and board member, Mrs. Baker asked each one to pledge cooperation during the coming year.

KILL ALL SPECIES OF

seed treatment

NEWLY SEEDING FIELDS make good feeding grounds for true and false wireworms and other soil insects. If there is not enough moisture in the soil to permit quick sprouting, seeds are vulnerable to insect attack for several days. But the threat of wireworm damage should be recognized at all times.

A dieldrin preventive seed treatment is a sure way to protect small grain seeds until they sprout.

LOW-COST PROTECTION

It costs just pennies per acre to treat seed with dieldrin, but dollars per acre to feed the wireworms untreated seed! A dieldrin seed treatment prevents "spotty" stands...eliminates the expense of time and money for re-planting or sowing extra seed for the wireworms to feed on...assures you of a longer grazing period. And dieldrin does not harm plant development.

COMPATIBLE WITH FUNGICIDES

Dieldrin is compatible with fungicides...can be applied at the same time to save the expense and work of a double treatment. You can buy dieldrin-treated seed from your seed dealer, or treat the seed yourself. Dieldrin can be applied as a slurry, dry, or in a grain drill. A convenient method is to apply dieldrin to the seed in the grain drill as you plant. Follow directions on the label for the particular formulation you buy.

LESS WORK AT PLANTING TIME

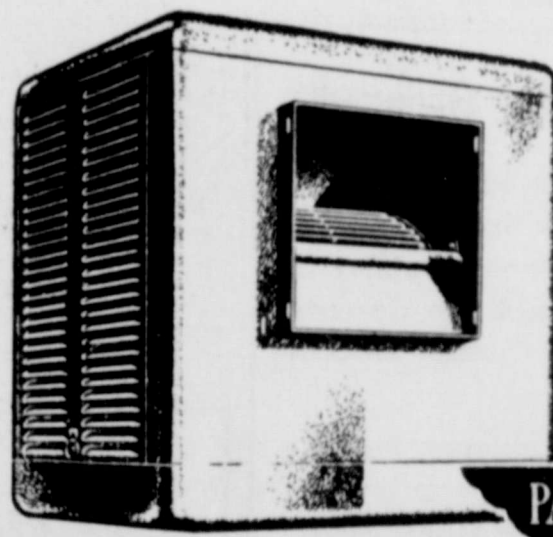

Seed can be treated now and stored until planting time. Dieldrin eliminates the rush of treating seed and planting within a few days. Dieldrin formulations are available throughout the small grain growing area. See your local supplier.

Full Slate of Delegates Attends Democratic Meet

Hall County was represented at the state Democratic convention in Dallas Tuesday by a full slate of delegates, who carried this county's mandate of moderation and unity to the session.

Pledged to give Senator Lyndon Johnson full support, the delegates voiced this county's sentiment in the first test of strength Tuesday morning by voting with the majority to table a motion to oust the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Delegates from Hall County, who attended the convention, were: Mrs. Gladys Ballard, Estelline; Cole Boswell and Lewis Eudy, Turkey; Clyde Fowler, Brice; V. C. Durrett, Lakeview; Herschel Combs and Dick Fowler, Memphis; and J. R. Mitchell, Jr., who carried the proxy of Mrs. Mary Jane Thompson. Also attending the convention was H. A. Hodges, county alternate.

The 18th Congressional District caucus was held in the Hotel Dallas Monday night. The pre-convention session was called to order by C. C. Gibson, long-time Democratic political leader of the Panhandle, who was chairman of the Potter County delegation. Gibson had been selected by Senator Johnson as his Panhandle leader. The district delegates elected Gibson and O. F. Shewmaker, chairman of the Gray County delegation, as joint floor leaders for the convention.

Two Hall County men were honored by the convention Tuesday by being named on two important committees. They are Dick Fowler, who was a member of the powerful credentials committee; and V. C. Durrett, who received a place on the important resolutions committee.

The wheat weighed 69 tons to the bushel, and had a moisture content of 12.08. Questions & Answers For Veterans

Q—I am buying a house with a GI loan. The builder has given me an estimate when the house will be completed. Based on this estimate, when would it be wise for me to give notice to the apartment where I am now living?

A—Generally it is better to wait until you have a firm settlement date before giving notice that you are going to move. Many unpredictable factors, such as inclement weather, can serve to delay completion beyond the date estimated by the builder.

Q—I want to change beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy. Must I inform the present beneficiaries of my action?

A—No. You have the right to change beneficiaries at any time, without their consent or knowledge.

Q—I am planning to take flight training under the Korean GI Bill. At what rate will I use up my GI training entitlement?

A—Your entitlement will be used up at the rate of one day for each $1.25 paid to you as a GI training allowance.

Recent rains over much of the state have greatly improved the prospects for a cotton crop but delayed plantings, due to drought, will make the crop as much as three weeks late in some sections. Late plantings last year produced yields below average; therefore, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, cotton producers should use the best known production practices to help close the gap. Early weed and insect control programs are a must.

An increase in the size and number of commercial laying flocks in Texas indicates a trend toward a higher per cent of high quality eggs reaching the consumer. In commercial producing areas, the trend is definitely toward the marketing of all eggs on the basis of grade, says John C. McHaney, extension economist and F. Z. Beamblossom, poultry marketing specialist.

TCU Chooses Texas Tech as Host for Out-Of-Town Trip

Texas Christian University has chosen the Southwest Conference's newest member, Texas Tech, as their host to the annual football trip.

Texas Tech will play three Southwest Conference teams in their next schedule. The games are with Baylor at Waco September 29, Texas A&M at Dallas October 6, and with TCU at Lubbock November 10.

Texas Tech's football record for the past five years, under Coach DeWitt Weaver, reads 35 wins, 17 losses and 3 ties, top mark among major colleges in the four-state area of the Southwest and Border conferences.

Local Couple's Son Writes JA Story

An article by Frank Farmer on the famed JA Ranch gets a big play in the May 25 issue of the Collier's magazine. Farmer, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farmer of Memphis, collected information for the article, entitled "The Vanishing Cowboy," and even wrote some of it, during visits to the Panhandle some months ago.

Among other things, the article devotes space to the history of the ranch, from its establishment back in 1877 on up to the present day, to changes that have occurred during that time and to future plans, and to life as its owner, Mont Richie, his family, and his cowpokes actually live it. The ranch takes in about 250,000 acres in Donley, Briscoe, Armstrong and Hall counties, according to Farmer, "alone among the surviving giants of yesterday, it is keeping alive the traditions of the Old West — or at least more of them than any other major ranch."

The article is accompanied by a beautiful array of color photographs covering various aspects and activities of the gigantic spread.

Farmer lives at Walnut Grove, Mo., where he and his wife, Helen, operate a dairy. His current activities include working on a novel about the Old West, the stimulus for which he acquired from his visits to the JA.

Television News

One of the major factors in how much (or how little) you have with your television is in how correct the line voltage is. If the line voltage is high, it will burn out too often. TV sets, considering number of tubes that light up each time you turn the set, give very little trouble. Just now here in Memphis the voltage is exactly where it should be thanks to the new here. In some places around here the voltage runs high in some areas. If you are burning out too many tubes, no matter what brand of set you have, you're asking for trouble. Come by and get a voltage regulator. The cost is small, and it is easy to install.

Graduate With A Goal

This is the time of the year when a new crop of graduates is blooming and maturing but probably few of them have waited as long and worked as hard for their diplomas as has Mrs. Mamie Crawson of China Springs, a small community northwest of Waco.

The 38-year-old farm woman received her diploma from China Spring High School, during graduation ceremonies Friday night, climaxing a hope she had carried in her heart for 21 years. Hers is not a Cinderella story, but one which has been full of back-breaking labor, sacrifice, and trouble. But always, she hoped that some day she would be able to complete her public school education.

Finally, two years ago, she enrolled at China Spring and resumed class work, which had been interrupted more than two decades before.

But her age was not the only thing that set her apart from her classmates. For she had other things to think about besides her studies. There were such things as helping scratch a meager living from a rented farm, taking care of her husband, 18-year-old daughter and three-room home, and making the family income—averaging $7 a week—go as far as it would.

Mrs. Crawson dropped out of high school at Waco when she was 17, two years short of graduation. A year later, she married Murrell G. Crawson, a farmer with a fourth-grade education.

Fortune, as far as the Crawsons were concerned, generally seemed to be looking in some other direction. Setbacks have included drouth, insects, and crop failures, which over a 20-year period, have permitted the family to realize only about $600 annually from farming. And this was not clear, because a considerable amount went to pay loans, and to buy gasoline and seed. Nevertheless, Mrs. Crawson kept her desire for a high school education, alive.

After the family moved to the 50-acre farm on which they now live, the dream began to look like it might even have a chance of coming true, because Mrs. Crawson arranged to attend the same school which her daughter, Gloria, did.

She had to pay $18 a month tuition. To obtain this, she has washed dishes and helped in the school cafeteria part time. After taking care of the tuition fee, she has had something like $7 a week left.

"You'd be surprised," declares earnest, undaunted Mrs. Crawson, "what you can do on $7 a week."

The determined farm woman lost her glasses several years ago and did not have the money to replace them. Since starting back to school, studying has caused her to have severe headaches. But this has not prevented her from achieving a B average in her class work.

Now, that she finally has her precious high school diploma, are her ambitions satisfied? Not by a long shot. No siree. Armed with her hard-earned credential, she plans to search for a job in an office.

And certain remarks she has made, strongly indicate that she is looking beyond that, to still higher objectives. Among other things, she has been quoted as saying, "I'd sure like to go to college, but right now I'm sure I won't be able to."

If she had the money to go, she would like to study physical therapy. When 2 months old, she had polio, and even though she recovered completely, it left her with the steadfast desire to help others who cannot help themselves.

With such an unselfish objective, we hope she attains her new ambition. And considering the spunk she already has displayed, we will bet she does.

The world can use a lot of people, who like Mrs. Crawson, are interested more in making a better place for everyone to live and less in accumulating material possessions for themselves. When the welfare of our fellow men becomes uppermost in our minds, we believe we shall not have to worry about personal needs.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

CLAIMS to be simply a church of Christ such as the New Testament describes, composed of Christians only, founded on the first Pentecost after the resurrection of Jesus Christ. (Matt. 16:18; Acts 2:42-47).

REJECTS all human creeds. The Bible and the Bible alone contains their creed, their articles of faith, confession of faith, and their book of discipline. (II Tim. 3:16-17)

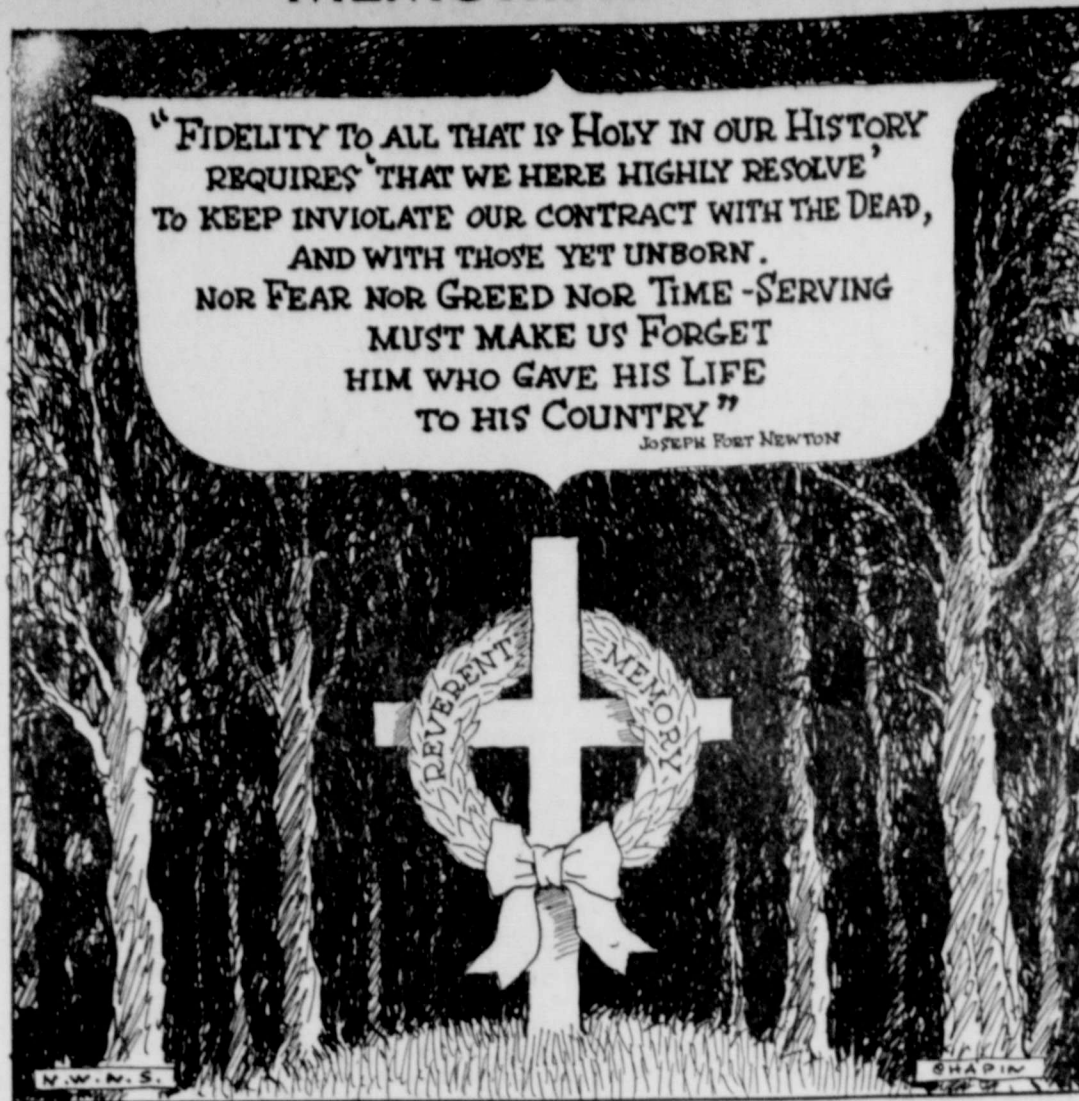

REFUSES to wear any human names religiously, but prefers to wear only the designations given by Divine authority to the followers of Jesus Christ, as revealed in the New Testament. (I Cor. 1:2; Rom. 16:16; Eph. 3:15; Acts 11:26; 20:28; I Pet. 4:16).

OFFERS to the world no law of pardon save that contained in the great commission; no hope of salvation short of full obedience to the terms of the Gospel of Christ. (Rom. 1:16; Matt. 28:19-20; Mk. 16:15; Lk. 24:47-48; Heb. 5:9; II Thess. 1:7-9).

SEEKS to bind opinions on no man. It "speaks where the Bible speaks and is silent where the Bible is silent." (I Pet. 4:11; Rev. 22:18-19)

MEMORIAL DAY

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Political Tolerance

These days a situation must be truly unusual to arouse more than passing interest among the American people, including our own Deaf Smith county. We do have exactly that sort of situation in the culmination of interest centered on precinct elections during the past week.

For the first time in history, Deaf Smith County has placed a full slate of precinct chairmen on the Democratic ballot, along with two candidates for the office of county chairman. For the first time, all precinct minutes, permanent chairmen and secretaries have been filed with the county clerk as required by Texas law. And, consequently, it is logical to believe that the coming year will mark the first time Deaf Smith County has ever had a properly organized, full strength, legally operating Democratic Executive committee.

These things are as basic as Democracy itself. But even more important, perhaps, is the fact that people are—for the first time—taking a real sincere interest in their government. This, of course, is what the newspapers—including The Brand—have said for years should happen in a true Democracy, and we still believe this to be right.

Like a six-year-old boy, suddenly handed 100 one dollar bills, however, it does appear that many of the people, long dormant to politics, still have a long way to go before they can truly assume their full duties as American citizens in a successful Democracy. Those who attended the County Democratic Convention last Tuesday saw two losers in the Shivers-Johnson battle come forward and withdraw their objections with apologies for previous hot-headed actions. The situation, in many ways, was symbolic of true Democracy in action. It represented the rule of the majority which, after all, is the basis of all Democracy.

Possibly the most important thing in politics is to learn to be a good loser; second would come the important aspect of learning to be a graceful, generous winner. When people learn these two things, and learn them well through actual practice, they will have come a long way toward being better citizens.

Along with the feverish heat of competition which generally accompanies a political campaign, it is also well to remember that few, if any, big league politicians are really worth the loss of a local friend or the friendship of a neighbor. How many of these politicians would jeopardize the friendship of their own neighbors in your behalf? Like the lawyers who argue in a big case, the politicians often visit and drink coffee behind the scenes. As one speaker said Tuesday, "Getting mad at a political meeting is the one thing which will please Malenkov the most." It is also the quickest way to kill off our Democracy.

Out in this country, all of us are interested in the same fundamental things. All of us will prosper and be happy in a direct ratio with the happiness and prosperity of our neighbors, including those on the other side of the political fence.

If people will keep these things in mind, along with the fact that Democracy is based upon the other fellow's right to his opinion the same as yourself, we have come further politically in the past 12 months than during the previous 57 years in the history of Deaf Smith County.—Hereford Brand.

Like Cat Chasing Its Tail

Those of us who oversimplify the administration's problem in the farm program question are only kidding ourselves. This is one of the most complex questions facing this nation on the domestic front today and thus far no one has the answer.

For example:

1. If land is taken out of production to cut crop output and encourage conservation of the soil, small farmers can't make a living.

2. If the price of a basic commodity is pegged high by the government, the government ends up with the commodity in a warehouse, paying the storage while commercial users let the government foot this storage bill until they get ready to use the grain.

3. If the price isn't pegged high the farmer's income is not nearly so high as the city worker's and he can't buy what he needs because high labor costs have increased prices of his essentials.

4. If the government assures the farmer a good price on his crops, through subsidy, he will raise more if he can, thus adding to the surpluses and wearing out the soil.

5. If there is a heavy production of crops, the surplus is stored. If it is sold abroad or given away, we get into trouble with farmers of other countries who raise the same crops.

6. We are sending agricultural experts abroad to teach them how to grow more of the same things we have in surplus, making more competition for us in the world market and using our own money to do it.—Ochiltree County Herald, Perryton

When you see "sterling" on silver you know what it means—solid silver, all the way through.

And when you see the medallion "Body by Fisher" on an automobile it means much the same thing—quality all the way through, in things unseen as well as on the Only one who has owned a Chevrolet for several years can fully know the satisfaction this emblem pledges. For only Chevrolet in the low-price field is entitled to wear the small, proud plaque that proclaims "Body by Fisher."

LOIS PARKER

Parker-Grundy To Wed July 7

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Parker of Tulsa are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lois, to Scott Montgomery Grundy, son of Mrs. Allen Grundy of Memphis.

The couple will exchange vows July 7 in the First Presbyterian Church of Tulsa with Rev. Lewis Koerselman officiating.

Miss Parker, a 1955 graduate of Texas Technological College, has spent the past year teaching in Amarillo Public Schools. Mr. Grundy, a 1951 Memphis High School graduate, is a 1955 honor graduate of Texas Tech and has completed his first year in Baylor Medical College in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Shelton and daughters, Cindy and Terri, arrived in Memphis Wednesday from Salina, Kan., where Mr. Shelton has been stationed at Smoky Hill Air Force Base with the U. S. Air Force for the past four years. Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vick Shelton, plans to enter West Texas State College in Canyon next month to complete requirements for the Master's Degree. Following the summer school session, the Sheltons will make their home in Dallas, where Mr. Shelton will be associated with the Dallas Public Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Grimes and Gary of Amarillo visited over the weekend with Mr. Grimes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Grimes.

Rev. and Mrs. Jim Sharp left Tuesday for Big Spring to attend the Methodist Conference. They plan to return to Memphis Sunday.

Around and About

By Helen Combs

Our granddaughter, Susan, accompanied by her parents and paternal grandmother from Fort Worth, returned to Borger Sunday — no longer having a granddaughter in the house... we returned to our job Monday after a 10-day vacation.

As we returned to work, our husband accompanied by other Hall County delegates departed for Dallas to attend the State Democratic Convention... this is something Herschel has long looked forward to attending, but due to the convention always coming the first of the week was unable to do so... but this year our vacation and his trip was possible due to the help of Ann Spoon, who kindly consented to help out at the office... Ann has a little spare time before taking up her teaching duties in the fall.

You've heard the expression: when it rains it pours! Does that ever happen to you? At best things never run too smoothly around a newspaper office... and errors are always there to glare us in the eye on Friday morning! Last week was such a week... in addition to our being out, our linotype operator, Walt Williams, injured his back lifting a form and was in the hospital, coming back to work on Wednesday.

So this week we want to offer our apologies to the music teachers and their students whose announcements of coming recitals were not in print. Memphis has some fine music teachers who have gone on excellent job through the past years training the youth of our community. We are proud of the fine showing the Memphis pianists have made in competition, and realize that the love of music instilled in a youngster gives an added pleasure to living. We always like to offer a helping hand by publicizing the spring recitals at which these students demonstrate for the public the progress achieved throughout the year.

Due to the hospitality of former Memphians, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Morgensen, and other friends, Mrs. John Fowler said her week's stay in Oklahoma City was made most pleasant. Mrs. Fowler was there to be with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bob Fowler, who recently underwent surgery. She returned home Monday evening.

We thought Mrs. Marie Barber Ward's friends here might be interested to know she was a first place winner in the Consumer Education Division of the American Home Department at the recent convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Dallas. Mrs. Ward, who is a former Memphian, won on an original one-act play, "And the Teacher Learns How." She is a teacher in the Aspermont school and is the daughter of Mrs. Estelle Barber of our city.

Did you know we have Buffalo nearby? Neither did we until Boaz Stotts, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 36, stopped by to tell us this story. Seemed on Thursday evening Scoutmaster Stotts and Troop Quarter Master Bobby Grimsley made a trip out to the P. A. Finch Ranch, 7 miles south of Hedley, to check on a camp site and leave some camping equipment in preparation for an overnight scouting trip. At the ranch they picked up Scout Jerry Kennedy and made their round over the ranch to pick out a good camping site. Selecting the site, they started back but had not gone far when they stopped with sudden surprise... there standing in the road was a real live Buffalo.

Their scouting book not giving definite details on how to cope with a live Buffalo, the three scouts decided to go back to the ranch and consult with Mr. Spaulding... by the time they returned the Buffalo had disappeared; Sadly disappointed, the scouts journeyed on toward town... but luck was with them and a mile up the road they overtook the animal... not to be outsmarted again the three boys decided they would drive the Buffalo into town. This worked nicely for 3 1/2 miles until the Buffalo decided to head toward the Blackie Ray farm, disappearing into a shelter belt. Night was drawing near so the scouts had to discontinue their Buffalo hunt.

Even though the Buffalo got away... the three Scouts contend that they are probably the only "Buffalo Drivers" in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Helm and Leslie and Larry and Sandra Stargel went to Altus Saturday to attend the dedication and opening of the Quartz Mountain Lodge. The lodge was designed by Mrs. Helm's brother, Lennon Selby who is with a firm of architects.

1913 Study Club Has Luncheon At Final Meeting in DeBerry Home

The members of The 1913 Study Club were guests in the home of Mrs. L. G. DeBerry, at noon May 16, for a luncheon and final meeting before disbanding for the summer.

Squaw dresses and Indian headbands, complete with feathers, carried out the American Indian motif and lent color to the party. A delicious luncheon on lap trays was served by the hostesses, Mrs. DeBerry and Mrs. E. M. Wilson. Red, yellow, and green in flower decor, Indian corn, and paper Navajo dolls added further interest to the setting.

Following the luncheon, four new members were given a vote of approval and welcomed to membership. Mmes. Nelson Combest, Carl Yancy, Tommy Robinson, and Hubert Jones will be included in the new yearbook roster for 1956-1957.

Most interesting reports were given by the club's delegate Mrs. T. M. Harrison to the TFWC State Convention at Dallas in May, and the Federation Counselor, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard. Other business was dispensed with to make way for the installation of new officers which were as follows: president, Mrs. L. G. DeBerry; vice-president, Mrs. R. S. Greene; treasurer, Mrs. Joe Montgomery; recording secretary, Mrs. Leo Fields; parliamentarian, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard; press book custodian, Mrs. Blanford Walker; and reporter, Mrs. Boyd Rogers.

Mrs. Harrison, costumed as an Indian squaw, presided at the installation ceremonies, calling all officers to the council table to receive their charges to duty.

The following members were present: Mmes. Allen Dunbar, T. J. Dunbar, Leo Fields, H. A. Finch, Frank Foxhall, Ace Gailey, Gayle Greene, Allen Grundy, O. L. Helm, D. L. C. Kinard, Clyde Milam, Joe Montgomery, Paul Montgomery, Boyd Rogers, Mills Roberts, M. G. Farver, Blanford Walker, E. M. Wilson, T. M. Harrison, Gene Lindsey and Miss Mary Foreman and hostess, Mrs. DeBerry.

Mrs. John D. Clark and daughter, Rae Christi, arrived in Memphis Monday from their home in Indianapolis, Ind., to spend two weeks with Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hays, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. R. Ernest Clark.

Mrs. R. E. Crooks, Mrs. Dick Spoon, and Mrs. Lawrence Kenyon were Amarillo visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. John Fowler returned home Monday from Oklahoma City where she has been for the past week with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bob Fowler, who recently underwent surgery. Mrs. Fowler is recovering nicely.

Bluebonnet Club Has Luncheon in Hollis Boren Home

The home of Mrs. Hollis Boren was the scene Friday, May 18, for a luncheon marking the end of the club year for the members of the Bluebonnet Club.

The main serving table, covered with a hand drawn lace cloth, was centered with a floral arrangement of blue iris and cornflowers. Members were seated around quartet tables covered in hand drawn linen and featuring cornflower centerpieces. Room decorations were highlighted by the red rose bouquet sent by Hollis Boren to his wife and the club members.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, black-eyed peas, okra, a variety of salads, garlic buttered french sticks, iced tea and lemon ice-box pie.

The business session was conducted by Roberta Burnett, president. The next meeting of the club members is scheduled for July 20 when they meet for the annual picnic.

Attending the affair were Roberta Burnett, Mary Bownds, Gusie Jones, Floy Hightower, Grace Bridges, Iva Smith, Hucie Lindsey, Idell Burnett, Winnie Johnson, Margaret Phillips, Fern Boone, the hostess, Mrs. Boren, and two guests, Mrs. Lois Smith and Hollis Boren.

Max Kennedy spent the weekend in Canyon visiting with friends.

TEXAS LONGHORN—Early-day type of beef cattle, which was derived largely from the Spanish cattle. After Anglo-American settlers began to move to the state, the type began to improve. The cattle trail movement which began before the War Between the States was over the Chisholm, Dodge and other trails of that day. It has been estimated that some 11,000,000 cattle went up these old trails.

Report From Washington

By Walter Rogers

Congressman, 18th District

Veterans Benefits

You have been reading quite a bit lately concerning some proposals of the Hoover Commission and related committees having to do with certain limitations on veterans' benefits.

There are a number of people on the political scene in this country who seem to feel that they are very courageous when they attack veterans' benefits programs. They base this conclusion on the theory that it is political suicide for anyone to oppose veterans organizations on a benefit issue. They, therefore, conclude that they are entitled to some type of political martyrdom if they can muster the courage to criticize a veterans program.

Actually, nothing could be further from the truth. My experience has been that the veterans organizations do their best to work out a sound approach to the problems with which they are confronted. They bring these matters to the Congress as suggestions and not demands. If they have made a mistake in some of their suggestions, they welcome constructive criticism and correction. It was my honor to serve on the Veterans Committee during my first term in office. Frankly, I have never found a group that was more dedicated to a logical approach than the veterans who appeared before that Committee and the representatives of veterans organizations. It is true that there is an occasional situation arising where some individual undertakes to cheat the government through some of the veterans programs. However, it must be remembered that there are crooks in all walks of life. Because a few try to cheat the government through the Veterans Administration, it is no justification for proposals that would destroy the entire veterans programs.

What is needed is not a destruction of veterans programs, but a plowing up and turning under of the Veterans Administration. If everyone is running into the types of situations that have been coming into my office in the nature of complaints against the Veterans Administration, it would be my conclusion that a bad case of bureaucraticitis has set in down there, and something should be done to cure it, quickly.

For instance, veterans who have been collecting benefits under a service connected disability rating for periods of as long as 10 years have suddenly had their cases reviewed and their service connection rating discontinued. The Veterans Administration has advised some of these that they had been given a service connection rating in error, and that although the same had been reviewed and continued on several occasions, it would now be discontinued. Some of these are pitiful cases. The re-evaluation of the discontinuance of the service connection by the Veterans Administration could properly be called an "agonizing reappraisal." Agonizing, certainly, to the veteran who is being arbitrarily wronged under the circumstances. This is only one of the several arbitrary actions that have been practiced by the Veterans Administration, recently. I sincerely hope that those responsible for this unconscionable action get some satisfaction by thinking that they are following a courageous course. It is my opinion that the arbitrary exercise of such powers is a flagrant violation of the rules of decency and good conduct and that such violation is doubly aggravated when the victim is a veteran of this country. I expect to pursue a proper correction of these abuses until they are stopped.

News Items to Watch For

There will, no doubt, be continued attempts to squelch much publicity on some tidbits of news concerning some government officials. It developed the other day in a Senate hearing, that it is quite possible that some of the high officials in the Immigration Division of the Justice Department might be using some of their powers for their personal convenience. The development was that one high Immigration official had a Mexican maid, who was imported into this country from Mexico for the specific purpose of going to work for this official. The justification seemed to deal more about it.

The same is true about some alleged favoritism and political skulduggery connected with the government operation of a nickel plant in Cuba. The original disclosures preceded the resignation of Edmond Mansure, General Services Administrator, who testified at the House hearings. After his resignation, someone put the cover on the pot. However, it continued to boil thanks to a Washington newspaperman, and it presently looks like the lid may be blown off the pot despite the efforts of some who don't seem too interested in letting the entire picture be shown.

Farmer Retires As 287 President

Election of officers and drafting of plans for the coming year were among matters coming before the annual convention of the U. S. Highway 287 Association at Dumas Friday and Saturday, Clifford Farmer of Memphis said. Farmer was the outgoing president of the organization.

Ray Hoskins of Limon, Colo., was elected president, and E. A. Lewellen of Dumas was named vice-president.

Worth Coffey of Vernon was chosen to represent Texas on the five-man board of directors. A director was selected from Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming, the other three states which the highway traverses, and Farmer, as retiring president, will be an ex officio member of the group.

Tom Manning of Frederick, Oklahoma, was retained as field representative of the organization.

During the convention, it was decided to carry on a promotion and publicity program, similar to one last year, which will include distribution of Highway 287 maps, and erection of highway signs, encouraging motorists to travel on

287. Other plans call for another caravan, like one earlier this year which started in Colorado and ended at Port Arthur, and a contest to obtain a slogan for the association.

In connection with this year's caravan, Memphis was praised at the convention last weekend for the outstanding reception which the motorcade received here, Farmer said.

L. B. Dean, district highway engineer at Wichita Falls, told the highway boosters about improvements that are being made in Texas along 287, and discussed future plans for the route. According to Farmer, Dean termed 287 a major Texas highway.

Selection of a convention site for the next year was left to the board of directors.

Farmer was accompanied to the Dumas meeting by M. O. Goodpasture.

Officers and directors of the association will hold their next gathering July 29, at Longmont, Colo.

Special County Teachers Rehired

Three special teachers who work with Hall County schools on a co-operative basis have been re-employed by county trustees for the 1956-57 school year, Miss Mary Foreman, county superintendent, said Tuesday.

The three are: Miss Bonnie Willis of Wellington, county supervisor; Mrs. Homer Tribble of Memphis, itinerant teacher, and Tops Gilreath of Memphis, visiting teacher.

Miss Willis is supervisor of the instructional programs in the elementary grades at Estelene, Turkey and Lakeview, while Mrs. Tribble has charge of the libraries, the audio-visual programs, and certain health services in the schools of those communities, Miss Foreman explained.

Miss Gilreath, upon request of the superintendent or a principal in any of the four school districts, contacts parents concerning absenteeism, or other pupil problems.

All three of the special teachers work out of the county superintendent's office.

Miss Mary Foreman, county school superintendent, also paid her regular election-year fee to the Executive Committee last Friday, although she is not a candidate and will not be listed on the primary ballots. She was elected to a four-year term of office in 1954.

In past years, Miss Foreman had requested that she be assessed each two years rather than for the full term. The county committee had concurred, and she has regularly paid into the election fund, which is used to defray the costs of the Democratic primaries in Hall County.

The executive committee will meet June 18 and determine by lot the order of candidates' names on the Hall County ballot. At the same time the committee will receive certificates showing the names of the state and district candidates, Wells stated.

Comments

the time approaches to the peak — the July primaries. Local, district, and state candidates will be telling the dear people how they are the only ones to lead the country out of chaos. The dear people are getting wiser and are not so easily swayed by promises and prejudices. The citizenship is waking up to their duties and responsibilities as citizens. They will study each candidate and platforms and policies before election time and will vote accordingly.

Hall County, a Democratic county politically, has been taking the lead in state politics more and more as political years roll by. Up until a score years ago, it was hard to get enough people to attend the precinct and county conventions to transact political business. Now, much interest is manifested in such conventions and more people want to attend state conventions as delegates than there are places. The delegate number in the county this year is four delegate votes, based on the number of votes cast for governor at the last general election. Instead of four delegates attending the Dallas convention Tuesday from this county, eight delegates with one-half vote each and one alternate were in attendance. Other than Collingsworth, Hall County was the only county in the Panhandle having a full delegation present at Dallas. This speaks well for the interest being taken in governmental affairs by Hall County citizens, which is a very healthful sign.

Mr. Pearce died in 1919, while the family was living at Estelene, and Mrs. Pearce had made her home with her children most of the time since then.

She had been a member of the Methodist Church for 75 years.
