Attempts To Mediate Berlin Crisis Stalled

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 11—Desperate attempts by "neutral" nations in the United Nations Security Council to mediate the Berlin crisis apparently were stalled tonight.

Spokesmen for the United States, Britain and France declared that the western powers are standing firm on their demand that the Soviet blockade be lifted. The three powers were reported to feel that there had been enough time of mediation and the council should go ahead with meetings.

Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia talked privately again with Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky. Informed sources said the Soviet deputy foreign minister told him no answer had been received from the Kremlin on mediation efforts.

Allies Remain Firm

Western power spokesmen said in the absence of new Soviet proposals they assumed Moscow still insists that the Berlin case must go to the four-power council of foreign ministers packaged with the whole German problem. The spokesmen repeated that "the blockade must be lifted before we go to the council of foreign ministers."

Bramuglia has been attempting to mediate the East-West differences since Wednesday as temporary president of the Security Council and as spokesman for the "neutrals"—Argentina, Canada, China, Belgium, Columbia and Syria.

In the face of the apparent deadlock, the Security Council is expected to meet Wednesday or Thursday to go over the Berlin situation and perhaps open full-scale debate. Only the western powers have spoken so far, accusing the Soviet Union of threatening world peace. Russia is boycotting the discussions.

Allies Again Rap Red Air Tactics

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (INS) — The British charged tonight that a Soviet Yak fighter plane buzzed one of their Dakota transport planes during Soviet air force maneuvers over two western air corridors to Berlin.

The Russian plane was said to have come within 100 feet of the Dakota near Perleberg.

New warnings of Soviet fighter plane maneuvers and anti-aircraft practice "at all altitudes" in the air corridors brought a protest from American authorities.

Reds Take Houses

An American spokesman said the notices of maneuvers were issued on a "look out, here we come" basis.

The Russians said they were conducting anti-aircraft and target sleeves firing practice in the Hamburg-Berlin and Buckeberge-Berlin corridors used in the western air lift operation.

The west zone newspaper Social Democrat reported the Russians have requisitioned houses in Leipzig in connection with plans to expand their military air field network and set up night fighter and jet plane bases.

The Communist-controlled Socialist Unity party (SED) meanwhile demanded the return of Berlin's city government to the Soviet sector of the city.

Purge Is Asked

The assembly moved to the British sector some weeks ago because of Communist demonstrations that made it impossible to meet in the city hall building.

The SED published a resolution

Grandmother's Only Rights Are Won By Love, Judge Claims

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. — A grandmother's only rights are the ones she can win through love, the superior court ruled today.

Judge U. S. Schwartz made the finding in ordering Mrs. Emma Schroeder, 40, of suburban LaGrange to turn her three-month-old grandson, Gordon Gilpin, over to his parents.

Since their marriage, Gordon Gilpin, 23, and his wife, Violet, 22, had been living with Mrs. Schroeder. They moved out after Gilpin had an argument with his mother-in-law. Mrs. Schroeder asked the court to let her keep the baby on the ground that she could give him a better home. The Gilpins' two-room apartment is over a saloon, she said.

"In these days of shortages," Judge Schwartz said, "one can't be too particular about apartments. The baby is theirs. A grandmother's only rights are the ones she can win through love."

Marshall Flies Back To Paris

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Marshall was flying back to the United Nations meeting in Paris tonight, after saying the world now has evidence that United States foreign policy is "completely united."

Those were the words he used upon his departure from Washington national airport to describe the end result of a round of statements issued by both Democratic and Republican leaders on President Truman's now discarded proposal to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson on a peace mission to Moscow.

But as he went aboard the President's own plane, the Independence, to begin his trip, he was by no means certain whether the "harmful influences" which he said disclosure of the Vinson affair had on the meeting at Paris had been eliminated.

Confusion Raised

He told newsmen that there was no doubt that "confusion" had arisen in Paris over the fact that the news of the incident broke on Friday night whereas, Marshall said, Mr. Truman had abandoned the project on last Tuesday afternoon. This confusion, he said, had exercised "harmful influence" on the Paris meeting.

Diplomatic officials had expressed the view that, if the United States had single-handedly taken such a step as sending Vinson to Moscow, it would have injured American relations with the countries with which the United States is co-operating in presenting the Berlin problem to the United Nations.

With Marshall aboard the huge presidential plane which will reach the French capital tomor-

Tyson, Long Boomed For State Demo Post

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—Tom Tyson of Corsicana and Stuart Long of Austin were being mentioned today as possible successors to Vann M. Kennedy as secretary of the state Democratic executive committee.

Kennedy resigned on the plea that personal business was requiring so much time he could not continue to handle the duties of secretary.

Tyson is a Corsicana attorney. Long is news editor of radio station KVET. Both have been active in Democratic party work in recent years. Tyson presided as permanent chairman of the state convention last month. Long is a new member of the executive committee.

A successor of Kennedy will be appointed this week, John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, committee chairman, said today at Corsicana. He said early appointment of a secretary is necessary.

UN Support Is Pledged By Governor

(By The Associated Press)

GOVERNOR Thomas E. Dewey said Monday night a Republican victory in November will mean "a competent administration which understands the problems of world affairs."

In a speech bristling with criticisms of what he termed the Truman administration's "blunders" and "failures," Dewey made no specific reference to President Truman's abandoned Vinson-to-Moscow mission.

But he said:

"A Republiran administration . . . will unfailingly back up the work of its own representatives in the United Nations for peace."

Pledges Action On Prices

Dewey's speech at Pittsburgh capped a day of quickening oratorical charges and countercharges as the presidential campaign swung into its final three-week period.

President Truman Monday night pledged action "at once" against high prices if he is elected in November and declared that Thomas E. Dewey seeks to "destroy" the New Deal.

While Mr. Truman embraced the political philosophy of his predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor Dewey took an indirect jab at the President's handling of international relations.

Praises "New Deal"

A Republican victory in November, Dewey said, will mean "a competent administration which understands the problems of world affairs."

Predicting "We're going to win," Mr. Truman told listeners at Akron, O., that he stood up "proudly" for the New Deal and said Republican politicians began to whittle away at it when they gained control of Congress in 1946.

"Now they've tasted blood," Mr. Truman said, "and they are waiting eagerly for the time when they can go ahead with a Republican Congress and a Republican president to do a real hatchet job on the New Deal without any interference."

GOP Bids For 'Loyal Texans'

(By The Associated Press)

The Republican party of Texas today urged the withdrawal of loyal Texans from the Democratic party, while a Socialist party official advocated that anti-Communists in the Progressive party vote for Norman Thomas.

Henry Zweifel, state chairman of the Republican executive committee, claimed at Fort Worth that "the purge and withdrawal of members of the Democratic party of Texas is bringing thousands of them into the ranks of the Republican party."

"More and more Democrats will depart from the party, a lot of them of their own free will, because of the paradoxical platform of the Democratic party," Zweifel said in a prepared statement.

"If a Democrat in Texas is against federal ownership of submerged tidelands; against socialized medicine; against Mr. Truman's FEPC program; against passing control over commodities and wages to President Truman, then a loyal Texan has no choice other than to be loyal to his state," he continued.

"He can not be loyal to the Court Acts On 'Merit Raises'

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—The U. S. Supreme court today refused to interfere with a lower court ruling that an employer must bargain with a union before giving "merit raises" to individual workers.

But the high court agreed to review another case—a lower court's ruling that there was nothing wrong when a textile mill granted a general wage increase without notifying union officials.

In other cases, the Supreme court:

Mexican Baby Is Born In Drug Store 'Maternity Ward'

Crestna Ruby Flores, less than 24 hours old, has one major distinction over the other babies born in Lubbock last night, in that circumstances beyond her control fixed her place of birth in a downtown drug store.

Preciliano Flores, 33, and his wife, Carolina Flores, 31, cotton pickers on a farm about 12 miles northeast of Lubbock, were walking in the vicinity of Doc's Drugstore at 609 Broadway last night about 8 o'clock when the usual symptoms informed Mrs. Flores that her child was about to be born.

The Del Rio couple, knowing little English and almost nothing about Lubbock, enlisted the aid of T. R. (Doc) Car-

Lower Prices On Livestock Products Seen

All-Time Record For U.S. Crops Is Near

By OVID MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 — The record production of crops forecast from American farms this season is drawing close to realization.

A harvest time report by the Agricultural department today said total farm output is indicated to be eight percent above the previous record of 1946.

A corn crop of 3,567,955,000 bushels was said to be safe from frost. This crop tops by far the previous record of 3,249,950,000 bushels grown in 1946.

Other Crops Set Records

Such a corn crop opens the door for greater future supplies—and lower prices—of most livestock products particularly pork, lard, milk, eggs and poultry next year and in 1950.

Forced to reduce livestock operations by last year's very short crop, farmers now are in a position to expand livestock production again.

Contributing heavily to the record upturn also are record crops of soybeans, peanuts and pecans, and near record crops of wheat, oats, flaxseed, rice, sorghum grain, dry beans and citrus fruits, and larger than average crops of cotton, potatoes, tobacco, hay, barley, sugar cane and beets, and peaches.

Lower Prices Indicated

The department said a few crops were adversely affected by September weather. Among these was cotton.

Dry weather limited the cotton crop's development. Sugar cane in Florida was damaged by tropical storm; sorghums yield was reduced by lack of rain in the Southwest.

The record harvest already is being reflected at the market place, where grower prices of many items have fallen below levels of a year ago and show tendencies of going still lower.

Price declines were particularly noticeable in the case of grains and such oil seed crops as flaxseed and soybeans.

Sorghum Production Drops

The indicated production of crops as of Oct. 1, compared with a month ago, last year, and the ten-year average, respectively, included:

Oats 1,492,957,000 bushels Oct. 1; 1,493,407,000 last month; 1,215,970,000 last year and 1,231,814,000 for the ten-year average.

Rice 78,766,000; 76,993,000; 79,345,000 and 69,460,000;

Grain sorghums 127,654,000; 132,152,000; 95,609,000 and 99,791,000;

Hay 99,094,000 tons; 98,494,000; 102,500,000 and 97,563,000.

Peanuts 2,293,985,000 pounds; 2,302,405,000; 2,187,965,000 and 1,750,718,000;

'Civil War' In France Feared

PARIS, Oct. 11 (INS)—Crippling rail strikes led by Communists spread across France tonight amid charges that both Communists and right wing followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle may resort to direct action in a struggle for power.

Jules Moch, interior minister in Premier Henri Queille's shaky middle-of-the-road government, charged that the Communists, on Cominform orders, are attempting to create a situation in France similar to that in Czechoslovakia before they seized power.

Moch also stated, in an address to a Socialist party meeting, that the "De Gaullist danger is at least as great as the Communist danger."

Fear General Strike

The left wing newspaper Franc-Tireur reported that Moch also said he had "proof" De Gaulle has "decided to resort to a policy of force."

The interior ministry denied the Franc Tireur report.

The Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor, France's largest labor group, met in convention in Paris, and fears were expressed it might order a

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, who broke with President Truman in 1946 and left his cabinet, came out today for Mr. Truman's election in November.

"As between Thomas Elusive Dewey, the candidate in sneakers, I prefer to support Mr. Truman," Ickes said in a statement.

Ickes said he would "welcome an opportunity to vote for someone else" but "Wallace in his Communist stew is impossible and to support Norman Thomas would be wasting a vote."

Move To Halt Drain On Labor Supply Set

Recruiting Of Farm Workers Is Opposed

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

SOUTH PLAINS farmers today will take official and definite action to halt farm labor recruiting by commercial recruiting agencies in this area, it was learned Monday night, where an estimated 9,000 to 10,000 cotton pickers are needed to help harvest a rapidly ripening cotton crop.

A group of farmers headed by Fred Goforth, M. D. (Billy) Myers, C. W. Myers, and Percy Finley, all of Lubbock county, are scheduled to meet at 8:15 a. m. today with T. L. Barnes, deputy commissioner of the Texas Labor department, at the commissioner's office in the courthouse basement and seek to have the licenses of labor recruiting agencies operating here revoked.

Complaint Is Investigated

The first move of the farmers was made Monday morning when they approached a Lubbock chamber of commerce official and reported organized recruiting of farm workers here. The C-of-C official agreed to go with the farmers and conduct an "on the spot" investigation.

The chamber official and the farmers located one recruiter who was signing up farm hands for the cotton fields in Arkansas and Mississippi. The recruiting agent, T. L. Gillespie, employed by the California Employment agency whose headquarters are at San Antonio, pointed out that he was an agent licensed by the Texas Labor department to recruit farm workers in this area and was not operating illegally.

Others Said In Area

Barnes said Monday night that four other agencies besides the California Employment agency were hiring workers in the South Plains area. He said two others besides the agency represented by Gillespie was recruiting cotton pickers for other states, and two were seeking workers for Colorado and Minnesota suger beet fields.

Barnes listed the agencies as Henry J. Rogers agency, Faye Arnem, Consolidated Labor agency, and American Crystal Sugar company, all with headquarters in San Antonio. He said all were li-

Double Shooting Probed In Hale

Sheriff Ted Andrews of Hale county was investigating a double shooting that happened Sunday near Cotton Center, in Hale county.

Jessie Carruthers, an Abernathy negro, was said by officials to have been shot three times with a .32 automatic pistol by Jack Cooper, another negro—in the left hand, in the stomach and in the back.

He was being treated at the Chatman hospital for negroes, in Lubbock, and his condition was said to be serious.

Suspect Is Held

Officials said they were informed by witnesses that Cooper had been shot once by a .38-.40 caliber pistol in the hands of Carruthers. The bullet struck him in the chin and the neck. It was reported Carruthers was not seriously hurt.

Sheriff Andrews said Cooper had been lodged in Hale county jail following his release from a hospital today after being treated for a gunshot wound. The sheriff said the bullet entered Cooper's chin, "circled" and lodged in the negro's back. He said the negro was being held without charges pending a later report on Carruther's condition.

The sheriff's department Monday afternoon investigated two burglaries reported over the weekend at Slaton.

Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton was informed that Slaton pharmacy, owned and operated by J. D. Holt, had been broken and entered at a back door. Taken were $67.43 in money, and a quantity of pen and pencil sets, other pens, and a few watches.

Burglary Charge Filed

The C. H. Sartin service station was entered through a rest room window, which was smashed. Eight tires, five tubes, six cases of oil and 24 bottles of oil were reported taken.

A $250 peace bond that had been set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, upon affidavit of Maggie Lou Walker, was posted by Weldon E. Walker, 21. She said he had threatened her.

Bond of $1,000 was set Monday by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn for John Percy Casper, 21, charged with the Sunday night burglary

VALUATIONS OVER $71 MILLION

Lubbock School Tax Roll Shows Gain Of $7,538,440 Over 1947

AN INCREASE of $7,538,440, or nearly 12 per cent, in assessed property valuations in Lubbock independent school district was shown in the 1948 tax roll approved at a luncheon meeting of members of the board of trustees in the Hilton Hotel Monday.

Total valuations of $71,593,080 compared with $64,054,640 last year.

Based on a tax rate of $1.30 on the $100 of assessed valuations, they may produce a maximum revenue of $930,710.04, according to A. C. Jackson, school district business manager. The comparable figure from the same tax rate last year was $832,710.32, of which about 96 per cent has been collected, Jackson said.

Real property, as usual, accounted for more than three-fourths of the valuations, $55,515,030. Personal property valuations were $16,078,050. The comparable figures last year were $51,161,100 for real and $12,893,540 for personal property.

The basis of establishing taxable value, the business manager said, was the same as last year. This formula assesses property at two-thirds the market value as computed after a re-valuing sur-

REDS BLAMED FOR DISSENSION

Opposition Grows To Soviets' Plan For Cut In Armaments

By JOHN E. LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 11 — Canada blamed Russia today for causing international tension by "creating confusion and dissension within the borders of every liberty-loving, democratic state."

The charge was made in the United Nations political committee by Canadian delegate Lionel Chevrier during discussion of the Russian disarmament proposal.

France, Britain, China and Luxembourg joined the growing opposition to the Soviet plan for a one-third reduction of armaments in one year.

Co-Operation Is Asked

Alexandre Parodi of France said the Russian plan aroused distrust and suspicion because of propaganda motives.

In an appeal to Russia to change its position, he declared:

"Give us one little sign, one little hope that you are ready to extend a minimum of co-operation and we will go on from there in search of solutions acceptable to all.

Parodi called for a progressive disarmament plan under a collective security program with a supervising body to control the successive stages of reducing armaments.

He said the Russian proposal would place at a disadvantage those nations which have "already stripped to the bone."

Parodi thus echoed the previous British objection to the Soviet proposal.

A British resolution presented today called on the UN to place responsibility for failure to reach an agreement on disarmament squarely on Russia.

The Chinese delegate said the Russian proposal is not acceptable to his country because of the Civil War against the Communists.

The Luxembourg delegate said: "Physical disarmament will not be realized until after moral disarmament."

Yugoslavia and the Ukraine continued to support Russia. Dimitri Manuilsky, the Ukranian delegate, warned that policies which "destroy the basis of security" lead to war.

A few days ago a man said the rheumatic pains in his arms and shoulders disappeared and now he can raise his arms above his head for the first time in years. He said the pains he used to have from this rheumatism were simply awful. Sometimes his knees and hips were stiff and sore but the pains were mostly in the back of his neck and across his shoulders. Now, however, his suffering is entirely gone and he says the change is due to taking TRU-AID. "Oh, What relief!", states this man. "Why don't other rheumatic sufferers get TRU-AID."

Supreme Court Rules Swindler Must Pay Taxes On Profits

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (U.P.) — The Supreme Court today ruled that a swindler must pay federal income taxes on his admittedly ill-gotten profits.

The court refused to hear an appeal by James A. Akers, who with a fellow agent, duped a wealthy Galveston widow out of $272,200 from 1932 to 1936.

The crime was discovered too late for prosecution of Akers under the Texas statute of limitations. But he was prosecuted for income tax evasion in 1940. He brought suit to recover the taxes paid on the swindle. Akers appealed after lower federal courts ruled the government was entitled to the taxes.

Akers persuaded the widow that gold was buried on her ranch by showing her maps supposedly found in Mexico. They found and dug up the "gold" — actually brass bars — at a number of different times. She kept the bars hidden in her home. When she finally decided to sell them, the truck carrying the loot was "hijacked." The truck was driven by Akers. Akers made his money by selling the fraudulent maps to the widow.

Several years ago, the court ruled that embezzled funds are not taxable income.

Another plane was sent into the air to help guide Leslie's craft to the field as the automobile headlights were directed across the runway.

A few minutes later, Leslie and his passenger, Deforrest McDowell, also of Port Allegheny, landed safely. They had left Towanda, Pa., four hours earlier.

Two Cases Involving Eleven-Year-Old Girl To Be Consolidated

Judge G. V. Pardue Monday afternoon ordered that two cases affecting the custody of an 11-year-old girl be consolidated, and that litigants be restrained from removing the child from jurisdiction of the court pending a Nov. 2 hearing on the merits of the case.

One case was styled Joe Bennett and wife Dovie Bennett against Nellie Joe Bates, and asked the 99th court to issue a writ of Habeas Corpus whereby the child could be taken from the defendant and given to the plaintiffs.

The other, styled Nellie Joe Bates, joined as a matter of form by her husband, James Bates, against Joe Bennett and Dovie Bennett, asked the court to set aside an adoption judgement affetting the child.

The Bennetts pleaded that Mrs. Bates, mother of the child, took the child Oct. 8 under promise of returning her within 30 minutes, but had failed to do so. They informed the court in their petition drawn by Roy Carpenter, Lubbock attorney, that they had been awarded an adoption judgment July 30, 1947, giving them custody of the child.

The Bates petition, filed by C. L. Harris, Lubbock attorney, declared custody had been given to Mrs. Bates when her former husband, Dane D. Bennett, divorced her Aug. 3, 1944. She recited that the Bennetts were granted an adoption judgment July 30, 1947, but that she did not know it, nor had she given her permission.

The court ordered that the child be returned to Mr. and Mrs. Bennett pending final hearings, but allowed "reasonable visitation" by the mother and child.

A head-start for the children...

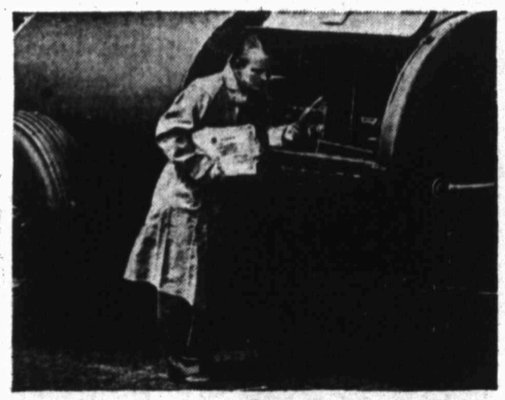

This was the most important goal of the Walter Melotts of San Jose, California!

The five Melotts live in a snug farmhouse in California's Santa Clara Valley. Left to right: sons Gary, 11, and Doug, 17; daughter Jackie, 14; Gussie and Walter Melott.

When Walter and Gussie Melott married, they were determined about one thing: They wanted to give their youngsters a far happier childhood, a better start in life than they themselves had ever had.

But how should they go about it? Where would the children be able to lead the healthiest life, learn how to take responsibility, to understand the value of money . . . have a lot of fun, too? Maybe life on a farm would be the best thing?

The Melotts decided to try it and see . . .

Walter Melott's regular income from a farm machinery job made it possible to rent a 30-acre farm and to start a herd of Jerseys. His $3900 a year also provides for family running expenses, savings for children's college, family vacation trips.

Son Doug soon saw the fun and profit in dairying. With father's help he now has $1000 worth of prize-winning Jerseys and show equipment. The prize money will help Doug go to agricultural college . . . his biggest ambition in life!

Young Gary, too, is learning to be a dairyman. Like all the Melotts, he helps with chores, is active in Grange, 4-H projects.

With farm products and smart home management, Mrs. Melott feeds 5 for $800 a year! Rent is $780; clothing, $250.

Yes, the Melotts' goal is being reached! Daughter Jackie's smile speaks for the happiness all the youngsters are finding. Prize-winning homemaking projects prove that she, like her brothers, has good reason to be confident of getting along in the world.

"The children are getting the head-start we wanted for them," says Mr. Melott, "and I'm going to protect it with life insurance. I have some of this protection already, and I plan to get more from time to time."

Gary makes money raising Angora rabbits. He wants a lot of them. His family dreams of having a profitable herd of pure-bred Jerseys, their own farm.

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

BRING YOU THIS STORY BECAUSE... families like the Melotts show us one way that happiness is earned! You, yourself, probably know a family, right in your own town, that is getting ahead in the same typically American way. Such families prove to all of us that we can solve our own problems by our own efforts. . . . Their example shows too why it is so important for us to hold to our rights to think for ourselves, to work at what we like, to live as we choose. For what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

Moscow's Attitude Toward Tito Seen As Key To Communist Plans

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

TRIESTE — Yugoslav officials are saying privately that the Cominform moved against them recently because the Kremlin is preparing for World War III and, fearing that signs of independence in Yugoslovia might mean an attempt to remain neutral, wanted to batten down the Russian sphere hatches in plenty of time.

As I get it, they are not trying so much to convey the impression that Russia expects an immediate war as to suggest that there are Yugoslav attitudes which would be well for the western powers to cultivate. They can see the Russian efforts to eliminate all weak points in the Balkans and Eastern Europe, and Belgrade fully expects another direct effort to oust the Tito regime. Tito would like to be better prepared to meet it, and the West could help.

New Trade Pacts Set

For one thing, the semi-blockade established by Yugoslavia's Cominform neighbors is hurting. Tito has turned west for new trade agreements with Switzerland, Britain and Sweden based on an exchange of goods. Britain has been letting him have oil from Trieste for some time. Holland and Norway are building ships for him. But he also needs money, although so far he has made no direct approach to the Allies for a loan. The talk of remaining neutral in a war might be a way of asking for bids. If so, it is not likely to net him much until the Allies are sure that the Cominform row is all that it seems to be. There is some doubt of that in London and Washington.

From what I have learned, I don't think there is any doubt of a deep cleavage between Belgrade and the rest of the Russian sphere. Ancient Balkan rivalries are involved as well as Yugoslav nationalism and Russian determination to weld her satellites into a tight strategic bloc.

Still Rules As Communist

But Tito remains a Moscow-trained Communist, and a totalitarian. Under domestic pressure he has been forced to move away from international Communism in favor of autonomy and nationalism. He might be bought, but whether he would stand hitched is a grave question.

There are reports here that Stalin held a meeting recently in the Crimea with leaders from Romania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia and Hungary to consider the Yugoslav situation. Ana Pauker of Romania and Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria, two of Tito's greatest enemies, are reported to have been there. If they were planning some new move to weaken or oust Tito it would be no more than has been expected since their first move failed.

In that case it would not be surprising to see Tito heading for any available port, full of promises but not necessarily full of sincerity.

Spellman Warns Permanent Peace Still Not Realized

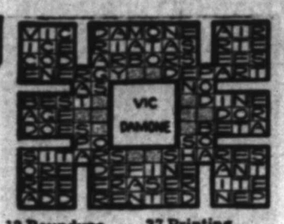

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman says "it is folly for us to deceive ourselves that we are at peace."

"There is no peace, and naught we fought for has come to fruit," he said yesterday.

"We know that nations gird themselves for war, a war of annihilation," he declared. "The whole world and every human in it today face the greatest crisis in the history of civilization."

The New York Roman Catholic prelate spoke at the seventh annual religious service held by the city's Holy Name societies at the Polo Grounds.

DETROIT, Oct. 11 (AP) — The 300,000th automobile to be built by the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. was assembled today at the company's Willow Run plant.

New Andrews Well Completed

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-Y University, on the north side of the Shafter Lake, multi-pay field in north-central Andrews county, and outside the area heretofore proven for production in that pool, has been officially finished as a producer from both the Wolfcamp of the lower Permian, and from the Devonian.

Located about 12 miles northwest of the town of Andrews, one and three-quarter miles north of the discovery for Devonian production in the Shafter Lake district.

Potential Given

From the Wolfcamp pay, topped at 8,519 feet, it made a 24-hour flowing potential of 2,115 barrels of 42.8 gravity oil, flowing through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 724-1. The pay zone had been treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

The oil produced from that zone during the completion test was cut with four-tenths of one per cent drilling water. The production from that formation was through casing perforations.

Treated With Acid

The Devonian section, between the bottom of the 5½-inch casing, cemented at 9,663 feet, and the total depth of 9,950 feet, was treated with 1,500 gallons of acid. The flow on the potential test was 1,833 barrels of 38.3 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 394-1. The test was taken through a three-quarter inch tubing choke.

The oil from the Devonian had a shakeout of five-tenths of one per cent drilling water. The new well has been put on production.

Chiang Admits China Situation Is 'Grave'

NANKING, Oct. 11 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek declared today the Chinese government was in a position of "unprecedented gravity" and called on Kuomintang (Nationalist) party members for "unity and revolutionary spirit."

It was the second time in two days that Chiang admitted the government's plight. Yesterday, Chiang told 400 high officials on the 37th anniversary of the founding of the Chinese republic that the military situation was "unfavorable" to the government.

The admission was a surprising departure from Chiang's usual tone of optimism. It was believed due to the fact that Chiang has just made a 10-day tour of North China and Manchuria. Previously, he has been viewing the situation mostly from official reports of his subordinates.

Chiang told Kuomintang members of the legislative and control Yuans today that the Nationalist army has been strong enough in the last six months to defeat the Chinese Communists. However, he said that because of poor morale, the Nationalists had not been able to do so.

He said only an "offensive spirit" could win the civil war.

30-DAY SMOKING TEST PROVES CAMEL MILDNESS!

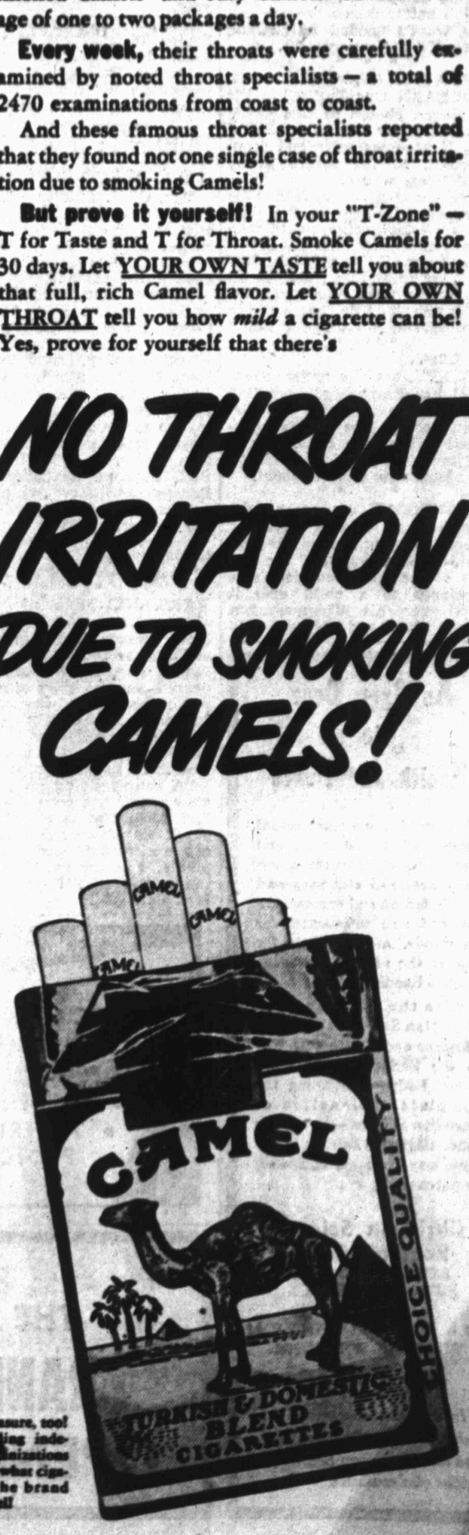

For 30 consecutive days in a recent test, hundreds of men and women all across the country smoked Camels—and only Camels—on the average of one to two packages a day.

Every week, their throats were carefully examined by noted throat specialists — a total of 2470 examinations from coast to coast.

And these famous throat specialists reported that they found not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

But prove it yourself! In your "T-Zone" — T for Taste and T for Throat. Smoke Camels for 30 days. Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about that full, rich Camel flavor. Let YOUR OWN THROAT tell you how mild a cigarette can be! Yes, prove for yourself that there's

NO THROAT IRRITATION DUE TO SMOKING CAMELS!

According to a Nationwide survey:
MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE

Doctors smoke for pleasure, too! And when three leading independent research organizations asked 113,597 doctors what cigarette they smoked, the brand named most was Camel!

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

A COMMUNITY of individuals can get along if it has some unselfish leaders.

Apropos of the above statement, we think our community has outstanding unselfish leaders; especially when it comes to giving of their time and effort to raise funds for needy causes, such as the Community Chest drive. We think they are to be commended.

NEEDY CAUSE

SPEAKING of needy causes, had you thought that there are between 2,000 and 2,500 children in Lubbock who are not enrolled in our public schools because they have insufficient clothing?

This was brought to our attention Monday by Mrs. Nancy Green, acting secretary of the City-County Welfare association, and by Capt. Tom Gregory of the Salvation Army. They were wondering if perhaps there are not Lubbock families who would check over their children's clothing to see if there are wearable garments they have outgrown which might serve the purpose of finding wardrobes.

"I know that church classes send bundles overseas and that many Lubbock homemakers have gathered together bundles for rummage sales or other causes," Mrs. Green said, "but this need is one that is just as worthy and just as great. Capt. Gregory and I will see that the clothing is properly dispensed. We would appreciate it if the clothing could be dropped off at the Salvation Army headquarters, 1112 Seventeenth, but if the donor does not have a way and will telephone the welfare or the Army offices, someone will call for the garments."

Clothing is needed for children who are between 6 and 14 years old.

KEY TO PEACE

SINCE this is Business Women's week, it seems only fitting that we quote from Sally Butler of Indianapolis, Ind., past president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, who believed that women hold the key to world peace.

"The men haven't found any program to keep us out of war," says Miss Butler." Maybe the women can't either, but they can't do any worse. It'll take the best that all of us have. The price of peace is assuming the responsibilities of citizenship."

During a visit abroad in 1946, Miss Butler became convinced the women of the world can help promote peace by spreading understanding and confidence across international borders. She also believes that woman's housewifely methods are needed in the administration of foreign aid.

"Who better than a woman can judge what's needed in clothing and food?" she wisely asks.

FEDERATION SLOGAN

"WE EARN Our Future" is the slogan chosen as this year's course of study by the B-PW clubs. It becomes more and more important, as the future grows less and less secure.

Over the nation, women who are seeking to help in the slow process of stabilization might take this advice:

"Try to be all that you inherited from your forefathers, besides all you can gain from your surroundings. If you don't do that, you are not measuring up to your best."

PET DEPT.

A PUPPY, a white cocker spaniel, has disappeared from 2410 Main and the residents are distressed because they were keeping the animal for his owner, a small boy. He'll be easily identified, because he is so unusual.

A HANDSOME orange cat, described as "mostly Persian," has been hanging around the yard at 2413-A Broadway, and the residents of the apartment feel sure he belongs to a child who is grieved over his disappearance. He is well kept and has been used to staying out of doors. His owner is invited to call for him.

MRS. JOE SELF of 202 Sherman is convinced there are kind persons living in Lubbock and cites an incident as proof. The family dog, a Pekingese, disappeared several days ago and it was feared he had been poisoned. Imagine their delight when the Selfs had a call from the animal hospital telling them their pet was there safe and sound.

"A couple living on the Plainview cutoff had seen the dog and had taken him to the hospital to check his tags for ownership. In my excitement over getting the puppy, I didn't get the name of the couple, but I am grateful," Mrs. Self said.

Greek Forces In New Offensive

ATHENS, Oct. 11. (AP)—Greek army forces were reported advancing today on a wide front against the Communist guerrillas in a new offensive aimed at routing the rebels from their mountain strongholds.

Dispatches from the front said the government forces began a drive against the Communist-held Vitsi triangle in northwestern Greece. This is an area of about 300 square miles in western Macedonia, just south of the juncture of Greece's border with Albania and Yugoslavia, near Lake Prespa.

Seasonal snows, expected in about three weeks, would make it difficult to dislodge the Communists before spring. From 6,000 to 8,000 rebels are holding out in the sector and are expected to put up a bitter defense.

A Greek army communique said the national forces smashed a guerrilla counter attack in the Vitsi triangle Saturday night and then pressed forward on the southwestern arc of the line Sunday.

Newspapers heralded the drive as the long-awaited general offensive against guerrilla leader Markos Vafiades, but a general staff spokesman said the general offensive actually had not yet got underway.

The communique said the rebels attacked some six miles north of Kastoria and were chased back. The national forces then scored victories along a six-mile front extending west of the area to the Albanian border, the bulletin added. The general staff spokesman said the army gained a half mile along this front.

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 11 (Special)—Friends from Littlefield, Lockney, Lubbock and Roswell, N. M., called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brown Sunday afternoon to attend an open house honoring them on their Golden Wedding anniversary.

The honored pair was married in Oklahoma City Oct. 10, 1898. Mrs. Brown, previous to her marriage to Mr. Brown, was Mrs. Nellie Magrane and a son of her first marriage, Mac Magrane, lives in Culver City, Calif. Her maiden name was Miss Nellie Purcell and she was born in Henry, Ill., Oct. 29, 1865. Mr. Brown was born at Maquoketa, Iowa, Nov. 28, 1870. Twin sons were born to the Brown union; one son, Wilbert, died in infancy and the other, Wilbur, died from injuries received in England during the war.

Mr. Brown was superintendent of the West Texas Cotton Oil mill from 1927, until his retirement in 1946. The couple moved to Littlefield from Lockney. Before he became associated with the Anderson-Clayton company, Mr. Brown worked for a South American Cotton oil company in Pernambuco, Brazil.

Assisting in hospitalities at the reception were Mrs. Brown's nieces, Miss Anna Neale, who is on the Spade school faculty and who makes her home with the couple, and Mrs. Mary Evetts of Wayne, Okla., and Mesdames Maude Street, Jack Fore, Nora Minchey, Kenneth Houk and Audie Collins.

The refreshment table was covered with a gold lace cloth and centered with the wedding cake in a bower of yellow roses. Fall flowers were placed about the receiving rooms.

Johnson Pays Visit To Office At Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas Democratic senatorial nominee, visited his office today for the first time since winning the hotly contested primary election.

He arrived by plane yesterday, accompanied by Homer Thornberry of Austin.

The latter won the Democratic nomination for the House seat which Johnson voluntarily gave up to seek a place in the Senate.

Johnson said he would be here for only a day or two to attend to affairs of his office "and to get a suit or two out of mothballs" for the coming winter.

He and Thornberry went to the Interior department this afternoon and discussed financial matters involving the Lower Colorado river authority of Texas.

They talked over details regarding allocation of cost of power and reclamation features of Marshall Ford dam as it affects repayments to the government for loans made in connection with the dam construction.

Thornberry said he wanted to see if he could locate a house in which to live here.

Democratic nomination to the House from Texas is considered tantamount to election

Demos, GOP Foresee Record Vote In November Elections

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. Republican and Democratic leaders noted today a sharp increase in key state registrations, indicating a record number of Americans will vote in the Nov. 2 elections.

Research experts agreed that the size of the presidential vote may reach 55,000,000 as some of the big states bounded several hundred thousand ahead of their 1946 and 1944 registration marks.

Leading the procession of such states reporting were California, Pennsylvania, Texas and Massachusetts.

May Top 1944 Figure

If the 55,000,000 figure for the nation is reached, it will top by 7,000,000 the 48,000,000 voters who cast ballots in the Roosevelt-Dewey war year election in 1944.

In 1940, the pre-war Roosevelt-Willkie election, more than 49,500,000 Americans voted. This set the existing record.

The Democratic high command hopes for a possible vote of 60,000,000. Party strategists contend that if the figure reaches this mark, President Truman's chances are better.

Republican leaders are using the high registration figures as a warning against complacency in a year when most polls show the Dewey-Warren ticket far ahead.

Committees Plan Estimates

Both the Republican and Democratic national committees will make no official estimate of the final registration.

Democrats and Republicans point out that reports still are outstanding from many states, where the registration deadline is late.

Such a state is New York, where the registration polls closed Oct. 9.

Republicans report, however, that returns from New York City indicate a falling off in the vote, with 3,313,520 registered against 3,556,677 fours years ago. Nothing is available yet for the rest of New York state.

Both Republicans and Democrats agree that Pennsylvania's registration will be about 5,000,000, an all-time record, almost half a million greater than the 4,559,431 who voted in 1944.

The GOP estimates that 5,000,000 will vote in California and 5,000,000 in Illinois.

Maryland Estimate Up

The Democrats, basing their figures on a report from the secretary of state in California, place the registration there at 4,632,129. The Democrats have no figure for Illinois.

Democratic headquarters report a 1948 registration in Maryland of 864,801 against 818,240 in 1946. The Democrats estimate that 2,595,518 will vote in Massachusetts, against 2,327,518 in 1946 and 2,296,804 in 1944.

Indications from Ohio are that the Buckeye state will surpass its record 1946 registration of 2,257,378. Figures for Ohio are unobtainable as voters in towns under 5,000 do not have to register.

Indications are that New Jersey will be slightly under its 1946 registration. The secretary of state there reports 2,195,056 registrations, against 2,204,018 in 1946 and 2,192,115 in 1944.

Statistics from Oregon give the Beaver state a 1948 registration of 635,631 against 593,542 in 1946 and 602,013 in 1944.

The biggest registration jump appears to be in Texas, which many political observers are conceding to Mr. Truman.

One million, 722 thousand 333 voters are registered in the Lone Star state, against 1,325,669 in 1946 and 1,362,420 in 1944.

In Virginia, 639,123 will vote. West Virginia registration stands at 1,113,379, against 1,089,030 in 1946 and 1,046,514 in 1944.

'Sheik Bandit' Must Stay In Prison Unless Plea Granted

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (INS)—Martin J. Durkin, 47, known as the "sheik bandit" of the middle 1920's, will have to remain in Leavenworth prison unless he asks President Truman for clemency and it is granted.

Federal Judge William J. Campbell today turned down a probation plea by Durkin, but suggested he seek clemency from the chief executive.

Durkin has served 19 years in Statesville prison for the murder of an FBI agent and recently began the first of three consecutive five-year terms in Leavenworth for violation of the Dyer (stolen car) act.

Durkin's lawyer, Henry Balaban, sued for probation on the grounds that Durkin had been rehabilitated and would be a "good risk" for society.

Judge Campbell said he lacked jurisdiction.

Pup Plays Hero, Saves Mistress From Live Wire

SARASOTA, Fla., Oct. 11 (AP)—As a four-months-old St. Bernard pup played about her feet, Mrs. Maude Brand set up a washing machine in her backyard during the weekend.

The ground was wet and when she plugged in the cord an electric shock knocked her to the ground.

She couldn't let go the cord and lay painfully hurt.

The pup sniffed at his mistress and tugged at the cord until it was pulled from the machine, stopping the flow of current.

Mrs. Brand is recovering.

Many Farm Prices Lower Than Year Ago, With Exception Of Livestock, Study Shows

Nobody appears to be jittery, but remember that farm products usually lead the downward parade of general commodity prices, many people, not all of them farmers and ranchers, are watching for the first sign of a break in the farm commodity price structure.

This is set out in "Check Plot," a weekly newspaper column by Louis Franke, editor of the Texas Extension service, who observes that consumers, businessmen, manufacturers and labor are all interested.

Some Commodities Lower

There has been no general break in farm prices yet, but, Franke said, farmers would like for housewives to know that some commodities are lower than they were a year ago. In fact, he sets out, 15 of the 18 main crops were lower on August 15 of this year than they were on the same date in 1947.

And, he observes, "you can't say the same for products of any other industry of comparable or near comparable size."

As of August 15, the average price of all fam crops was 7.4 per cent less than a year earlier, while prices of all livestock and livestock products were 17 per cent higher this year than on August 15, 1947.

Franke lists a breakdown of comparable prices on some of the main crops, as follows:

Cotton, average now 30.41 cents, down three cents from 1947.

Grain sorghums, $2.07 a hundred (terminal), down 79 cents.

Wheat, $1.96, compared with $2.10 a year ago.

Rice, $2.56 a bushel in mid-August, and $2.71 in 1947. Support price is $1.84 a bushel.

Corn, $1.91 a bushel, down 28 cents from 1947. USDA economists estimate price may drop to $1.20-$1.30 when new crop moves in.

Livestock Prices Up

With livestock and livestock products, however, it's a different picture, Franke sets out:

Hogs brought $27.10 a hundred pounds last Aug. 15, compared with $23.60 a year earlier.

Beef cattle were bringing $24.40 this year, compared with $19 a year ago, and veal calves reached $26.60 from $19 the previous year.

Lambs brought $24.80 per hundredweight this year as against $20.90 a year ago.

Wholesale price of fluid milk (national average) was $5.02 a hundred pounds, up from $4.15 a year ago.

Live chickens averaged 32.5 cents a pound this year, up from 26.9 cents.

The turkey supply was short this year, and live birds were bringing 43.2 on Aug. 15, compared with 30.8 cents a year ago.

Grease wool was 47.1 cents a pound this year, compared with 41.9 in mid-August of 1947.

Prairie dogs live in large colonies and spend their extra time burrowing.

Biggest bargain in town today!

The biggest bargain in town today is the happiness, health and future of our youngsters that your pledge to our Community Chest buys!

Fourteen years old. And smart. And full of the dickens. And ready to go anywhere.

And THAT'S just the trouble! Because "anywhere" might mean on with the school. On to a good job. And on to a place as a good citizen.

OR it might mean ON INTO TROUBLE.

What's it worth to bring loving care to children when homes are broken?

What's it worth to strike a blow at juvenile delinquency?

What's it worth to have Scouting, the Y's, the recreation services that help every boy and girl get a square chance to grow up sound and sturdy?

What's it worth to help keep families together so that kids can have the solid security of a happy home life in these days when there's one divorce for every four marriages?

Show what you think it's worth when the Community Chest volunteer calls!

Remember—one pledge covers many Red Feather services. Because we have a well-managed Community Chest uniting many appeals, you are called on only once a year for all of them. So when you give, GIVE ENOUGH . . . enough for ALL Red Feather services . . . enough for a FULL year.

Everybody benefits . . . Everybody gives

United Mine Workers Vote To Hike Lewis' Salary To $50,000

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11. (AP)—The nation's coal diggers today voted John L. Lewis a $50,000 yearly salary, about the highest fixed pay for any labor leader in the world.

Then the miners, in convention here, raised dues and initiation fees to fatten the United Mine Worker's treasury against possible new strike troubles and fines.

Lewis Sounds Warning

Lewis warned the 3,000 delegates they should make ready for the future by building up a strong reserve. He said the next fine, if there is one, might be $10,000,000 or more.

A $1,420,000 fine imposed by federal Justice T. Alan Goldsborough for contempt of a back-to-work order in last spring's pension strike is being appealed to the supreme court.

By voting to double the dues—from an average of $2 a month to a flat $4 throughout the country—the 400,000 soft coal miners and the 80,000 anthracite diggers were handing over to their international officers more than $1,000,000 a month.

Division Is Explained

The international will get half of the $4. The local will get $1 and the district organization will get the other dollar.

Pensioners and unemployed miners will pay only $1 a month as inactive members.

The dues of Canadian miners in the union and members of Lewis' catch-all district 50 will be fixed by the UMW executive board from time to time. The union claims 600,000 members in all.

The fee to join the union was jumped from $10 to $50. The local will take $20 of the new fee, and the international will get the other $30.

The boosts in dues and initiation fee were not approved without a struggle.

Dallas Girl Wins Doll As Feature Of State Exposition

DALLAS, Oct. 11. (AP)—One of the happiest persons among the 30,000 who attended the State Fair of Texas today was five-year-old Sandra Craig of Dallas.

It was junior negro achievement day at the fair and Sandra won the baby doll parade for negro children. She wore a ballerina costume and pushed a baby buggy containing a ballerina doll.

It also was negro crippled children's day, East Texas sweet potato growers day and junior dairyman and sheepman day at the fair.

Judging in the junior dairy show, junior utility dairy show, junior sheep show and junior market turkey show began early today.

Tomorrow at least 70,000 persons are expected for Dallas day at the exposition. It also will be souvenir day, Texas hardware and implement dealers day, Texas forestry day, Texas pecan growers and sellers day, and Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers day.

All employes of Dallas and Dallas county, except policemen, firemen and some members of the sheriff's department, will get a holiday to attend the fair. Other businesses in Dallas plan to give employes a half a day holiday.

Tomorrow night about 50,000 persons are expected in the Cotton Bowl to see a free fireworks display. The display will include firework pictures of the Dallas skyline and a "moving picture" about the goose that laid the golden egg.

U. S. Ship Returns From Trip Mapping Aleutians Section

OAKLAND, Oct. 11. (INS) — A U. S. Coast Geodetic survey vessel returned to Oakland today with new charts of Aleutian waters. Lack of up-to-date charts of the Aleutians handicapped American military forces in World War II.

The Pioneer, a former seaplane tender, skippered by Cmdr. Henry E. Fennegan, spent seven months in Arctic waters. The ship carried a crew of 100.

The expedition mapped the waters despite six severe storms which whipped the vessel during the month of September. They secured soundings of hitherto uncharted waters and other information in defense planning.

Cmdr. Fennegan declined to discuss any possible significance of his trip to security plans. He did say:

"There were no indications that Russians are making any such explorations in the Aleutians."

Four Former Top Jap Officials Are Named

TOKYO, Oct. 11 (INS)—Four former Japanese generals were charged today with the "revenge" beheading of captured American pilots in the closing days of the war with Japan.

They were among 28 former officers, including several non-commissioned officers, who were named in indictments filed in Tokyo.

The Japanese Army men are accused of carrying out the torture and murder of American prisoners as revenge for the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The charges states that B-29 Superfortress airmen were singled out for the atrocities.

They were allegedly used as dummies for archery, swordsmanship and boxing practice before being beheaded.

Nine of the defendants are serving sentences ranging from seven years imprisonment to death for their participation in the Kyushu university vivisections on American prisoners of war.

Cleveland Captures World Series By Winning Sixth Game, 4 To 3

Ninth Inning Double Play Saves Indians In Hard-Fought Finale

BOSTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—Thanks to stout-hearted relief pitching by Gene Bearden in the tense closing minutes of play, the Cleveland Indians staggered through to a 4-3 victory over the Boston Braves in the sixth and deciding game of the World Series today.

In winning its first championship in 28 years, the Tribe also was the beneficiary of a double play in the ninth inning which probably saved Bearden from serious trouble. The score was 4-3.

Eddie Stanky opened the ninth by drawing a walk as the crowd raved. Connie Ryan ran for him. Then came the heartbreaker. Sibby Sisti went in to pinch-hit for Warren Spahn, who had done a brilliant piece of relief chunking for two innings. He attempted to sacrifice Ryan to second with the tying run.

Double Play

Instead, he bunted under Beardean's pitch and lofted the ball straight up. Catcher Jim Hegan snared the horsehide and fired it to Joe Gordon, who was covering first, for a double play.

Tommy Holmes, hero of Boston's victory in the opening game, lined out to Bob Kennedy in left field to end the contest.

In the eighth, the Braves brought the customers to their feet by slugging Bob Lemon, Cleveland's starting chunker, from the hill and scoring twice to draw within a run of the Indians.

When Bearden inherited the ugly situation, the bases were loaded with Braves and only one was out. Two of Boston's scores came on a long fly to center by Clint Conaster and Phil Masi's ringing double off the left field wall. Both Conaster and Masi were pinchhitters. But that was all as the great southpaw bore down to get Mike McCormick on an infield roller.

Cleveland scored its first three runs off Bill Voiselle, one of them a home run over the left field wall by Joe Gordon in the sixth. Spahn, doing his second relief chore in as many days, gave up the last Indian marker in the eighth, before he got his bearings.

The Winning Run

It proved to be the winning run of the series. Ken Keltner set it up by smashing an infield hit off Spahn's glove. Thurman Tucker, who replaced Walt Judnick in the Indian outfield today pushed Keltner around to third with a smack to center, and Ed Robinson drove him home with a single to right.

That was the last hit off Spahn. He struck out Hegan to end the inning, and in the ninth set down Bearden, Bob Kennedy and Larry Doby in succession with his elusive curves.

Lemon, going for his second series triumph, yielded six hits to the National leaguers and seemed to have the situation well in hand, until the eighth.

After doubles by Dale Mitchell and Lou Boudreau had put Cleveland in front in the third, Boston contrived to score on an assortment of odds and ends in the fourth to tie it up.

Bob Elliott got on when Lemon failed to field his dribbler down the third base line. He reached second as Bill Salkeld worked Lemon for a walk. Mike McCormick brought him on around with a smash through the box into center field, Elliott barely sliding in under Tucker's throw at the plate.

Voiselle kept the Indians in tight check through the first frames except for Boudreau's scoring punch down the right field line. Going into the sixth he had sawed the Indians off with four hits.

Voiselle gave way for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Spahn finished. Lemon tired in the eighth and Bearden came in to cool off the Braves.

Wild Scenes In Dressing Room

BOSTON, Oct. 11. (INS) — The Cleveland Indians' dressing room was a bedlam today after the American league champions clinched the World Series.

The jubilant Indians slapped each other on the back and even went so far as to hug and kiss each other in exchanging congratulations.

This was in stark contrast to the dressing room of the Boston Braves, the hard-fighting losers.

Among the Indians, rubber-armed Gene Bearden was the center of attraction, with mobs of photographers standing on benches and stools and screaming orders to one and all.

Bearden embraced Bob Lemon, whom he had relieved on the mound, and cried:

Bearden Is Praised

"We did it, Bob!"

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians said:

"The Braves are a great bunch of boys. They went right down to the wire with us. But my number one boy was Bearden. He was the whole thing for us. He finished out strong, won the playoff for us, won a Series game and then saved today's game."

Boudreau also praised Oscar Melillo, who scouted the Braves for Cleveland. Lou said:

"We followed his report to the letter and he gave us wonderful information."

A microphone was put before Boudreau and he spoke over the radio to the Cleveland fans, saying in part:

"I hope Don Black is listening. We won the championship for you."

Black is the Cleveland pitcher who is recovering from a cerebral hemorrhage.

FAMILIAR SIGHT TO TULSA—The flying heels of Charley Reynolds, Texas Tech halfback, became slightly monotonous to followers of the Tulsa Golden Hurricane. Reynolds, shown here going 65 yards to score on a pitchout play, ran the Tulsans dizzy Saturday in Tech's 41-20 upset win. He ran a punt back 62 yards for one touchdown, ran a kickoff 84 yards for another score and added several other sizeable hunks of yardage on scintillating dashes, Tulsa supporters groaned when they heard he had another year of eligibility left.

Braves' Outfielder Says Fate Played A Hand In Tribe's Win

Hurling Of Bill Voiselle Praised

By TOMMY HOLMES
Boston Braves Outfielder
(As told to James Bagley, International News Service sports writer.)

BOSTON, Oct. 11. (INS) — A good team won this 1948 World Series, but it was not a better team than ours. We fought the Indians right down to the wire today and were fighting until the last put out.

I am not trying to alibi but a few breaks in any of the games we lost might have turned the tide in our favor.

In the third inning when the Indians scored their first run today, it seemed as though fate was favoring them.

After Dale Mitchell doubled to left, Lou Boudreau hit a looping fly to me in right field. There was not much of a wind and the air was heavy. I had quite a run to get to the ball and just as I was about to get under the ball it began to curve toward the right field foul line. The ball bounced off the first finger of my glove hand. Mitchell scored with the first run.

Bill Voiselle pitched well enough to win any ball game. His control was good and his fast ball was as good as it was at any time during the season.

Third Cleveland Run

In the sixth inning, Joe Gordon's home run looked like a routine out from where I was in the field but it just dropped over the wall. Then Voiselle lost control and walked Thurman Tucker. Eddie Robinson sliced a hit to right sending Tucker to third. Then Jim Hegan hit what looked like a double play to Bob Elliott, Elliott tossed to Eddie Stanky and Eddie's throw was high to Torgeson and the third Cleveland run came in.

Ken Keltner bounced a hit off Warren Spahn's glove in the eighth and Tucker and Robinson singled him home. As it turned out the run would have scored if Spahn got a good piece of the ball.

We had to get our runs the hard way in the eighth. After I singled, Al Dark flied out. Torgeson doubled me to third. Bob Elliott walked to load the bases. Clint Conatser scored me with a fly to center. Then we got one of our worst breaks in the Series.

Phil Masi hit the left field wall, just missing a homer by inches. The ball hit the wall and dropped dead in front of Kennedy and only Torgeson scored, leaving Elliott on third. That's the way it went.

Don't forget the work of Warren Spahn. He did a great job. I have never seen a better exhibition of pitching. He deserves a world of credit.

I repeat, we were beaten by a good team but not a better team. We fought them right down to the finish and they had to use everything they had to beat us.

It was a pleasure to play against such a fine bunch of fellows and the thrill of my life to be in such a World Series.

Clyde Scott Leads SWC Ball-Carrying

DALLAS, Oct. 11. (AP)—Bounding Clyde Scott played only part of the game against Baylor last week but the Arkansas speedster remained far out in front in Southwest Conference ball-carrying.

Scott has taken the ball 54 times for a net of 453 yards, statistics released today by James H. Stewart, Conference executive secretary, show. He is 140 yards ahead of his nearest rival, Lindy Berry of Texas Christian, who has rolled up 313 yards in 81 carries.

Gil Johnson of Southern Methodist has taken over the leadership in passing, connecting on 26 out of 34 attempts for 444 yards. Paul Campbell of Texas has fallen to second place with 346 yards on 21 connections in 57 throws.

In total offense, Berry still leads. The Texas Christian star has made 591 yards in 134 running and passing plays. Scott is second with 556 on 65.

Bob Goode of Texas A. and M. tops the punters with an average of 38.8 on 30 boots.

In punt returns George Sims of Baylor is out in front with an average of 31.5 on eight runs.

In pass-receiving Doak Walker of Southern Methodist has taken over the lead with six catches for 186 yards but Morris Bailey of Texas Christian has caught the most throws—14 for 167 yards.

Arkansas leads in team offense and in defense. The Porkers have 1396 yards and Texas, in second place, has 1293. In defense Arkansas has allowed 565 yards in four games—an average of 141.2.

RAIDER SQUAD IN FAIR SHAPE

Tech Underdog Again In Saturday Game With Tough Baylor Bears

This is the week that Texas Tech's Red Raiders buy hunting licenses, because come Saturday night in Waco, they'll be bear hunting, Baylor Bears, that is.

From the early view of the game, it would look as though Tech would enter the fray once more on the sort end of the betting odds. The Bears have shown nothing but power so far this fall, trouncing Tulsa 42-19, tying Mississippi State 7-7 and rolling all over highly-favored Arkansas 23-7 this past week end.

But the Raiders were buoyed by their victory over Tulsa and much of the former spirit and hustle returned to their practice session Monday. If they can keep their fighting hearts keyed up, they can play a whale of a game against Baylor.

The Raider squad, generally, came through the game in good shape, with two minor injuries. Dan Pursel re-injured an ankle, while Doug McCurry has a groin injury. Both guards are expected to be ready to go by Saturday night, so that the main worry lies with action this week. Fullback Bud Conley, who has missed the last two games, may be ready to start, but Guard Milburn Haydon definitely will not see action.

Zac Henderson suffered a slight head cut when he was knocked unconscious in the Tulsa game, but came back with the team and appears ready to go again. He was watched carefully Sunday, when there was danger of complications, but when nothing developed, he was pronounced fit.

While the Tulsa game was a vicious battle, the Tech squad came through it in good shape and it helped the morale tremendously. Last week's co-captains, Cal Steveson and Luke Thompson, helped to bolster the team just before the Tulsa game and that victory restored the squad's faith in itself.

Yesterday's sessions was quiet, with emphasis spread on correction of mistakes made against the Golden Hurricane and on polishing of offensive plays for use Saturday. Linemen also were sent through a session on defense, more with an idea of correcting mistakes than anything else.

A scrimmage session was held Saturday at Tech, with the freshmen playing varsity squadmen that were left behind. The fish won the game, 14-13, so that scrimmage today may not be heavy. But a contact session probably will be held if for no other reason than to see if the players can polish their offensive plays.

The line turned in a good job against Tulsa, especially in regards to opening holes when needed, as well as blocking well downfield. At the same time, considerable work needs to be done on line blocking and this will get attention this week.

Grid Coaches Analyze Games

Double T Members Guests At QB Club

Members of the Double T club, all former Texas Tech athletes, were guests of the Quarterback club last night at its meeting in the main ballroom of the Hilton Hotel.

D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, presided over the meeting, introduced the Double T men, High School Coach Pat Pattison, Tech Coach Dell Morgan and Babe Curfman, former head coach at New Mexico A. and M.

Coach Pattison, who spoke first on the program, asked the club members not to criticize his boys for mistakes they made against Childress, but to criticize him. He admitted that the spread formation the Childress eleven used was a complete surprise to him and that they had to map a defense against it during the game.

The Westerner mentor went on to say that T. Jones, the outstanding Childress passer, had turned in an impressive performance, but that he thought Lubbock schoolboys had done a fine job of stopping him, considering the fact they had not been drilled against the formation Childress used. And he declared that if his kids had not been ready to play a game of football, they might not have been able to stop Childress.

Morgan Was Gloomy

Coach Morgan turned gloomy last night, saying that he wanted no part of Baylor Saturday night, but "they're on the schedule, so I guess we'll go down there."

The Red Raider coach was more cheerful in discussing the Tulsa game, showing why they had been able to beat the Golden Hurricane and what mistakes both teams had made. He paid tribute to the fighting ability of his players, few of whom were up to normal size for university players. He reiterated that Baylor was big, rough and tough and that it would be a bruising game Saturday.

Curfman, associated with a sporting goods company in Abilene and formerly a local resident, spoke on the problems of a coach. He urged the Quarterback club to support the Double T club in its drive to get good football players for Tech. He pointed out his troubles at New Mexico Aggies and told how Tech could be helped.

The club bought a new movie screen by raising $48.50 at the meeting and the first pictures to be shown on it were the Tech-SMU game films.

Members of the Double T club present last night included Hurley Carpenter, Curly Wilkinson, Ameral Payne, George Langford, Bert Williams, J. R. Callahan, Pete Blanda, Benny McWilliams, G. E. Wimberley, Ed Smith, Whizzer White, Leroy Crews, Bulldog Hale, Babe Hallmark, Elmer Tarbox, Pete Owens, G. B. Morris, Curfman and McElroy.

Charles Didway of the Brownfield News is keeping "in shape" for his baseball statistician's job with the Oil Belt league by keeping a scoring record on District 1-AA this fall. We received Didway's latest tabulation, including games of last weekend, Monday, and it includes some very interesting facts.

Leading scorer of the district at the present time is speedy Jack Williams, Pampa halfback. Williams, who is the sparkplug in he potent Pampa attack, has crossed the double stripe six times for a total of 36 points. Two boys are tied for second place with five touchdowns each. They are Bobby Brown, Lubbock Westerner tailback, and James Garner, stellar Amarillo end.

Amarillo and Lubbock gridders are also staging a close race in the extra point department. The Sandies' Bobby Hudgins has kicked 11 extra points, while the Westerners' Jimmy Richards has booted eight in nine tries. Hudgins has been aided in his bid for the top spot in the extra point standings by his high-scoring teammates, who have tallied big scores against both Childress and Odessa.

Here's the complete tabulation on the top 20:

Players	td	ep	tp
Williams, Pampa	6	0	36
Brown, Lubbock	5	0	30
Garner, Amarillo	5	0	30
Dalton, Borger	4	0	24

The championship races in the area Class A districts should begin to take a definite pattern following the 10 conference tussles this weekend. In 3-A, the Lockney Longhorns will face one of their toughest loop foes in Spur, and Floydada will try to keep its district hopes against Paducah. In the 4-A circuit, surprising Sudan will be shooting for an upset win over Levelland and Littlefield will protect its conference record against Muleshoe. Seagraves vs. O'Donnell in the south half of 4-A will not prove a major factor in the loop standings, but the Tahoka-Post encounter could have a definite effect on the final title winner. Of course in 5-A Seminole's Indians will have to hustle to stay ahead of the strong Wink eleven, Andrews meets a contender in Kermit, and Denver City has the rugged task of battling Monahans' Green Wave.

It should prove to be an interesting slate.

Latest reports from Levelland indicate that it will probably be at least three years before the Lobos have to enter Class AA athletic competition. Last winter it was rumored that Levelland would be over the minimum attendance mark for AA schools by the fall of 1949, but Levelland officials now say that a new regulation—based on average daily attendance—gives them several more years in Class A. That's tough news for other Class A schools, some of which hoped tht the Lobos would "graduate" to the Amarillo-Lubbock-Pampa circuit next season.

Port Arthur Eleven Leads In Grid Poll

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP) — Port Arthur and Amarillo high school football teams continue as top favorites of Texas sports writers in the regular weekly survey by the Dallas News.

Port Arthur received 234 points and Amarillo 216.

Of the 24 sports writers voting, 18 of them cast first place ballots for Port Arthur. A first place vote counts as ten points.

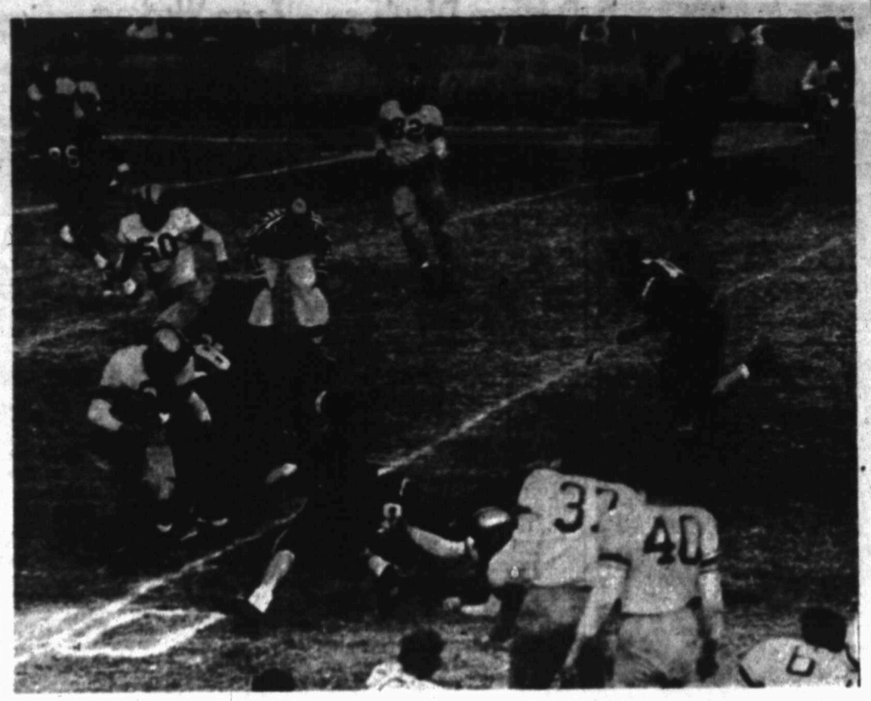

Ranking third in the top ten teams is Waco with 167 points. Others of the first ten with the number of points received are: Baytown 146, Brackenridge (San Antonio) 116, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) 102, Sweetwater 89, Marshall 50, Wichita Falls 29 and John Reagan (Houston) 24.

The second ten: tie for eleventh between Stephenville and Odessa; 13, Kerrville, 14, Milby of Houston; 15, Denison, 16, Henderson, 17, Highland Park; 18, Abilene; 19, Breckenridge; tie for twentieth between San Antonio Tech and Gladewater.

Broken Nose Won't Keep Rice's Roberts Out Of Game With SMU

HOUSTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—A broken nose sustained in Saturday's game against the University of Southern California won't keep Guard S. J. Roberts of the Rice Owls out of action in the Southwest Conference tilt against Southern Methodist this week.

Roberts was the only player injured in the U. S. C. game which saw the Owls defeated after losing the ball three times in the last half while within the Trojan five-yard line.

TECH GAINS AGAINST TULSA—Glenn Lewis, shifty right halfback for Tech, picks up a substantial gain early in the first quarter, moving over the Tulsa 40-yard line. But a fumble a few minutes later cost Tech the ball and Tulsa moved on to defend a 7-0 lead. Later Tech power was turned loose and the Red Raiders mauled the Golden Hurricane for a 41-20 victory. This photo, by The Tulsa World, shows the blocking Tech linemen were giving the ball carriers in Saturday's game.

SWC Elevens Will Get Down To Title Business This Weekend

DALLAS, Oct. 10. (AP)—A disappointing intersectional fare almost out of the way, Southwest Conference teams this week will get down to the serious business of determining a possible successor to defending champion Southern Methodist.

The Conference lost four out of five intersectional contests last week to leave their season record at seven wins against nine losses against major outside foes. This does not include games with teams inside Texas.

Only Baylor, which was being eyed seriously as a title contender, will not be playing for keeps this week as three title games take over the conference spotlight. The Bears will meet Texas Tech at Waco in a Saturday night contest.

Two of the Conference tilts will share the center of the stage—Arkansas vs. Texas at Austin and SMU vs. Rice at Houston. Texas Christian tackles Texas A & M in the other at College Station.

The game will mark the title play debut for all but Arkansas and TCU and they will be "sink or swim" problems for those two clubs. Each has lost a Conference start and a second such setback would practically kayo their chances of getting into the flag picture.

Baylor, with its surprise 23-6 victory over Arkansas last week, was out in front in the title chase, but plays three of its remaining five Conference games on the road—at Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston. Only the Texas A & M and Texas games will be played at Waco.

Arkansas' Position

Arkansas now finds itself in the same position as last year when it defeated TCU but was upset by Baylor and then managed only a tie against the Aggies the rest of the way in.

It will be fighting to overcome that pattern against a lethargic Texas team that awoke too late against Oklahoma Saturday and lost a 20-14 contest to the Sooners—their first defeat by the Oklahoma club since 1939.

SMU will be opening defense of its title with the pressure of another undefeated season released by Missouri's upset 20-14 triumph over Doak Walker & Co. But, Coach Matty Bell always worries about "That one-touchdown advantage Rice has in the Houston humidity" and the Methodists were expected to have their hands full.

Rice, which failed miserably after a big pre-season buildup last year, already has lost two games, including a 7-0 defeat by Southern California Saturday.

TCU, the lone member to get an intersectional victory last week—a 7-6 thriller over Indiana—may not find the going so easy against A & M, despite the fact that Aggies haven't won in four starts to date. The Farmers exhibited plenty of good football in bowing to Louisiana State 14-13 last week.

Conference Standings:

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	Pts	Ops
Baylor	1	0	0	1.000	23	6
Arkansas	1	1	0	.500	34	37
TCU	0	1	0	.000	14	27

Full Season Standings:

Baylor	2	0	1	7.50	72	33
Arkansas	3	1	0	.750	122	50
TCU	3	1	0	.750	56	60
SMU	2	1	0	.667	88	40
Texas	2	2	0	.500	101	54
Rice	1	2	0	.333	59	33
Texas A&M	0	4	0	.000	55	110

Lubbock To Battle Veteran Borger

Westerners Stress Offense In Drills

A rugged contact drill stressing play assignments and timing featured the Monday afternoon practice session of the Lubbock High Westerners, as Head Mentor Pat Pattison opened preparations for the initial District 1-AA encounter with the Borger Bulldogs here Friday night at Jones stadium.

The Westerners, who closed out their non-conference slate last weekend with a 21-14 triumph over the pass-happy Childress Bobcats, romped through the workout at high speed and indications are that the Hub city schoolboys will be at near-top strength for the crucial title clash. Only "casualties" in the Monday drill were Tackle Billy Brazell, who missed last week's game because of a stiff knee, and Guard Lloyd Willis. Both boys will probably be back in uniform this afternoon, however.

More scrimmage work is scheduled for the practice gridiron this afternoon, with the defense slated to get a tough drill, but officials emphasized that all sessions this week will be closed to all observers. No one will be permitted on the field or in the stands.

The Westerners will face a veteran, powerful grid eleven in the Borger crew. The Bulldogs have a squad built around 11 lettermen, including backfield stalwarts R. C. Dalton and Jerry Glass. Heading the five linemen who were 1947 letter-winners are Bill Loveless, a standout last year, and Jack Howard.

Coach Tricky Ward, who has directed the Bulldogs to three consecutive triumphs over the Westerners, is back at the Borger helm this fall. He is assisted by Jim Lucas, former backfield ace at Texas Christian university.

Borger opened the season at Oklahoma City against strong Capitol Hill, absorbing a four-touchdown drubbing, but the Bulldogs bounced back to pound Albuquerque the following weekend. Borger took an easy 18-6 triumph over the Childress Bobcats, then lost to highly-rated Austin of El Paso last weekend at El Paso.

Hold Advantage

The Bulldogs hold a "paper advantage" of two touchdowns, on the basis of comparative scores, but the Westerners' home field advantage is slated to even up the odds. Too, the Westerners have played a tougher slate than Borger, with the exception of the Oklahoma City and El Paso tilts.

Tickets for the game will be on sale all this week at the Senior High school athletic office, E. J. Lowrey, business manager, has announced.

Montreal Wins 'Little Series'

MONTREAL, Oct. 11. (INS)—Ex-major leaguer Oscar Grimes' pinch-hit triple with the bases loaded sparked Montreal to a 7 to 2 win over the St. Paul Saints today and victory in the "Little World Series."

Grimes' climax smash in the sixth inning presented the International league champion Royals with their second such title in three years, four games to one.

St. Paul, playoff victors in the American Association, won the opening game at St. Paul and then dropped the next four.

The line score:

St. Paul (A. Assn.)	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—2—3—1
Montreal (Int.)	0	0	0	0	1	5	0	1	x—7—10—1

Churchill's Talk Called 'Reckless'

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Winston Churchill's speech warning that World War III might spring from the Berlin crisis evoked stormy comment among Britons over the weekend.

Emanuel Shinwell, war minister in the Labor government, called the wartime prime minister "a danger to peace." Health Minister Aneurin Bevan called Conservative leader Churchill "one of the most reckless speakers in British Political history."

Talk Draws Praise

Praise came from the Conservative Daily Mail, which said Churchill's speech at Llandudno, Wales, Saturday, was his greatest since he spoke at Fulton, Mo., March 5, 1946. The Conservative Daily Telegraph said "if Russia seeks peace, Mr. Churchill has pointed the way."

The Times of London expressed doubts about Churchill's suggestion for a speedy final settlement with Russia, with the atom bomb as the west's security.

"Success can come only through infinite patience and determination in building up the military strength of western Europe, in countering Communism by removing the conditions in which it flourishes, and in restoring confidence and faith in western civilization," the Times said.

"In this task the British government has made mistakes, has not always shown sufficient energy, but they have at least avoided two most dangerous pitfalls which both have been revealed this week—recourse to threats and ultimatums, as suggested though not said, and, it may well be never, never meant by Mr. Churchill, and the offer of unconditional negotiation expressed in President Truman's unhappy and short-lived proposal to send Mr. Justice Vinson post-haste to Moscow."

Laborites Blast Talk

Shinwell spoke at Oxford, heckled by students who shouted: "We don't want to go to war."

Churchill, Shinwell said, is a "great war leader."

"Of course he is. That's why he wants another war," the minister added.

Health Minister Bevan, speaking in Wales, said Churchill's anti-Russian speech did deadly harm and "can be regarded only as a national and international calamity."

"He has ventured to make observations about the international situation which might give rise to the gravest possible misunderstanding," Bevan said.

Mediation Efforts

sources, which indicated that the three powers might be willing to accept a possible "combination" settlement of the issue.

But the western power spokesman reiterated there had been no retreat and the West would not negotiate under pressure of the blockade.

The reports apparently grew out of a declaration by western spokesmen earlier that the U. S., Britain and France are "not unwilling" to accept a Berlin settlement which would combine lifting the blockade with a call for a foreign ministers conference. It was explained that this merely meant that if the "neutrals" could work out some formula that would let the Russians and the West meet each others' terms, it would be considered.

Vishinsky Has No Answer

But the western spokesman stressed that no arrangement would be accepted that involved negotiations while the blockade was in effect. The U. S., Britain and France were described as being completely together on this matter.

A reporter asked Vishinsky today whether he had any answer for Bramuglia. The Russian delegate smiled, waved his hand and remarked "I can't say anything."

Berlin occupied the major share of attention in UN halls but arms reduction and Palestine came up.

Britain put a resolution before the assembly's political committee which would blame Russia for lack of agreement on slashing armaments. Last week Vishinsky accused the western powers of blocking disarmament plans for the last 20 years.

Holy Land Study Seen

The Soviet Ukraine, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia supported Russia in today's debate. El Salvador, Canada, China and France spoke in opposition.

On Palestine, the British were reported desirous of having a meeting of the Security Council on Holy Land problems. It was said that they especially wanted to know what has been done about apprehending the assassins of Count Folke Bernadotte, the UN mediator who was slain in the Jewish section of Jerusalem.

In an assembly subcommittee, the western powers and Canada opposed a Russian demand that the atomic energy commission go back to work at once.

Admission Of Negro Graduate Student To Oklahoma U. Ordered

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11. (AP) —Admission of a negro graduate student to the University of Oklahoma was ordered today by the University of Oklahoma board of regents.

The negro is G. W. McLaurin, retired professor.

He seeks a doctor of education degree.

The regents directed Dr. George L. Cross, president of the university, to admit him "on a segregated basis."

The type of segregated class work will be left for Cross to determine. He is now on a trip to New York and will not be back until Oct. 14.

There was no indication of whether McLaurin would accept segregated class work.

The resolution of the regents was approved at a secret special meeting yesterday. The resolution said:

"That the board of regents of the University of Oklahoma authorize and direct the president of the university . . . to grant the application of admission to the graduate college of G. W. McLaurin in time for Mr. McLaurin to enroll at the beginning of the term under such rules and regulations as to segregation as the president . . . shall consider to afford to Mr. G. W. McLaurin substantially equal education opportunities as are afforded to other persons seeking the same education in the graduate college . . ."

A three-judge federal court ruled Sept. 29 that the university had acted unconstitutionally in denying McLaurin admission.

Oklahoma has no graduate school for negroes.

The Oklahoma constitution and statutes made it a penal offense for negroes to attend white colleges. The federal court ruling, however, declared the statutes unconstitutional, as they apply to McLaurin.

which mirrored Soviet demands and called for:

1. Withdrawal of the western mark from Berlin.

2. Purging of "saboteurs, splitters, war-mongers," from the city government.

3. A "unified" people's police force.

4. Liquidation of city offices in the western sectors of Berlin.

The resolution charged that the western powers had deliberately created the Berlin issue to divert attention from plans to set up a separate government in western Germany.

Audience Of Tech Students Cheers First Night Performance Of Jubilee Minstrels

By COTTON FANNING
Avalanche Staff Writer

The Lions club Jubilee Minstrels, in impressive, new costumes sent approximately 1,200 Texas Tech students home punch-drunk from punch lines and highly conscious of the happy go lucky atmosphere of the deep South Monday night in the first of a three-night stand at Lubbock Senior High school.

Tech night proved a huge success as the cast sang ancient and well-remembered negro songs as if the words ebbed from their very hearts, and the audience, try as they did, could hardly cheer with the spirit that the cast performed. Not a single performer went without at least one encore under the pressure of a heavily impressed and wildly applauding audience.

Chorus Starts Show

The talented performance of tiny, eight year old Sandra Pritchard in singing "Mammy" in a voice and manner amazingly similar to the man who made the song famous, Al Jolson, proverbially "brought the house down" and her place in the hearts of the audience lost no warmth when she evidently became tired of her wig and exposed her long blonde hair.

In the gag department Dallas Whaley extracted from the audience every known form of applause with his "Briefing For World War I", giving with jokes as new and amusing as the show itself. The audience warmed to the spirit of the show almost with the rising of the curtain when the chorus rocked the auditorium with the all-time favorite "Ol Man River," ably led, in the role of soloist, by George Dale who sang the classic as if the labor of plantation life were actually weighing upon his shoulders and the song were the only path to relief.

Many Numbers Given

To ring down the curtain on the superb production, the entire company sang a medley after Jimmy Allard, of Dallas, took what seemed as if it must be the last giggle from the generous audience's tickle-box by portraying beyond criticism the heart-broken colored man who had just lost his fourth wife, and singing "Loving Gal."

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, the interlocutor, played the part with such professional smoothness as to make it almost incredible that he had ever been anything else. Many other admirable presentations included "Rythmic Taps" by Leete Jackson, Jr., "Sweet and Low" by Beverly Cumbie. "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," by Robert Dennis, "A Good Man Is Hard To Find," by Bob Rose, "Who Threw The Whiskey In The Well," done in incomparble style by Dr. Clyde C. Craig. Many others went to make this the crowning triumph of Lubbock minstrel shows.

The next performance of the show will be at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the High school auditorium as was last night's presentation. Last performances will be Wednesday night.

Marshall Returns

row where Paul G. Hoffman, administrator of the European aid program, and Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, American envoy to Moscow. Hoffman is enroute to ECA conferences in Paris and Smith is going back to his post in the Soviet capital after two weeks of conferring with officials in Washington.

Marshall himself was taking back to the American delegation at the crucial UN meeting the latest ideas which Mr. Truman and he had worked out for dealing with major issues now up there. When the secretary was asked whether he had some new answers to outstanding questions he replied "none that I can tell you about now."

He said that he had heard it reported that he was threatening to resign and declared "that isn't the way I do business—there should be no doubt about that."

Supreme Court Acts

wage to determine overtime rates. The Labor department, which enforces the law requiring time and a half pay after 40 hours, announced that it will begin on Oct. 18 requiring employers to observe this court decision.

NLRB Is Upheld

5. Agreed to review a list of labor issues involving employer-employe relations, chiefly actions in which unions or workers had lost in lower courts.

The Supreme court's action in the "merit raise" case backed up a 2-1 decision by the Cincinnati circuit court which ruled that the National Labor Relations act requires bargaining over merit pay boosts.

It also supported a contention by the National Labor Relations board that "a gratuitous increase on the basis of merit does, in actuality, effectuate changes of pay which are by the (national) act made the subject of collective bargaining."

An AFL meat cutters union, which had a closed shop contract with J. H. Allison and Co., Chattanooga meat packers, protested the company's practice of giving individual pay raises without notice to the union. The company said it had done so for 16 years.

As background to the case, the Justice department said in a petition that the union asked Allison Co., to insure the right of the union to be consulted and informed about merit raises so that the union might be able to bargain with the company. The department said the union signed a new contract despite the company's refusal to comply.

Drug Store Baby

penter, owner of the store, who called Dr. A. P. Portela, Latin - American physician, who is setting up his practice here.

While waiting the doctor's arrival, Carpenter showed the couple to a small room in the back of the store, where a divan would accommodate the prospective mother.

About one-half hour after entering the store, the 8½ pound baby arrived, a normal birth with little assistance from the physician. The infant, dressed in clothing taken from the store's supplies, was ready for company and busily sucking its finger when an Avalanche - Journal reporter and photographer reached the scene.

Infant Is Named

Dr. Portelia said that the couple had given the baby its second name of Ruby in honor of Ruby Spears, counter waitress in the store, who placed the tiny infant in its first wearing apparel.

Carpenter said that the mother and baby would remain in the back room of the drug store overnight, and would be moved sometime this morning.

Customs Officials Reject Proxy Marriage, Detain Dutch Girl

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP) — A pretty Dutch girl, proxy wife of a Glendale, Calif., aircraft technician, was detained on her arrival by ship today by customs officials who told her they don't recognize proxy marriages.

The girl, 24-year-old Wilhelmina Johanna Masters, had planned to fly to California tonight to meet her proxy husband, Everett Dayton Masters, 41.

Instead, after a tearful session with customs authorities, she was to be taken to Ellis island from the liner Noordam. The officials told her a hearing before immigration authorities would be held there soon on her case.

Dewey Pledges Support Of UN

the White House was part of a proposed eight-point program which included repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law and a boost in the national minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

President Truman accused Dewey of handing out "soothing syrup" and "sweet nothings" instead of discussing the big issues of "peace, prices and places to live."

Former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, who broke with Mr. Truman in 1946, came out Monday for the President's election in November.

"As between Thomas elusive Dewey, the candidate in sneakers," Ickes said in a Washington statement, "I prefer to support Mr. Truman."

Ries Into Republicans

Ickes added that he would welcome an opportunity to vote for someone else, but said "Wallace in his Communist stew is impossible and to support Norman Thomas would be wasting a vote."

Meanwhile, barnstorming through Ohio, Mr. Truman said he is "going to take the hide" off the Republicans "from top to bottom."

"I hate to do it," he said, "but they've got it coming."

Secretary of State Marshall left by plane during the day for Paris with the comment that bipartisan statements over the weekend have showed the world "we have a completely united foreign policy."

Marshall also volunteered a denial of reports that he was "threatening to resign" over the Vinson affair. He said, "There is no truth in that," and "that isn't the way I do business."

Vandenberg Lashes HST

GOP leaders, notably including Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), had lambasted Mr. Truman for his now abandoned proposal to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson on a personal mission to Moscow to discuss "the atomic problem" with Premier Stalin.

Vandenberg said the United States had "a narow escape" from Mr. Truman's proposed "independent action," which was shelved on Marshall's advice. Critics of the plan said it would have created confusion in Britain, France and other nations backing the United States' efforts to obtain a UN solution of the Berlin crisis.

The major portion of Dewey's speech at Pittsburgh Monday night was devoted to a defense of the Taft-Hartley labor law and a proposed 12-point program for labor.

"Blunders" Scored

The New York governor accused the Truman administration of deliberately using the Taft-Hartley act to "stir up dissension and confusion." And he added:

"No administration ever made so many fundamental blunders even from base political motives."

And Dewey promised that if elected he will provide "vigorous leadership . . . so that major disputes are settled before they become strikes." He also proposed a boost in the present 40-cent minimum hourly wage and encouragement to unions "to grow in responsibility and strengthen the processes of collective bargaining."

"We have come to the end of a period when government feeds on its own blunders and failures," Dewey said. "We have had enough failures.

Unity Is Assured

"And let me reassure our friends abroad that as a people we are now in the process of uniting ourselves—of replacing a weak and fumbling administration with a strong and competent one to lead us out of our troubles both at home and abroad."

While Dewey moved through Pennsylvania, President Truman invaded the Ohio political bailiwick of Senator Robert A. Taft to open a mid-western campaign for 97 electoral votes.

At Cincinnati, Mr. Truman told a Democratic rally that Dewey has refused "to tell the country where he stands on any of the issues" the people want to hear about.

"I have taken a stand on every one of the important issues of the day," the President said. "You know where I stand. Just try to find out where the other fellow stands."

Mr. Truman said another GOP Congress, if elected, would be "run by the same old bosses." And a Republican president, he said, would be "just as helpless about it as I have been for the past two years."

As to Taft, Mr. Truman said the Ohio senator had "dispelled any hope that the Republican party will follow a liberal course."

"Taft stands for welfare at the top, not at the bottom," he said.

Farm Workers

censed to hire labor to work in other states after the state labor department and the Texas Employment commission had certified that there was a "surplus" of farm workers in the South Plains section.

Workers Reported Needed

On Thursday of last week the local office of the Texas Employment commission reported in a bulletin that definite calls had been received from Lubbock and seven other nearby counties for 9,200 cotton pullers. The bulletin listed Lamb county as needing 2,400 pullers, Hockley, 2,000, Terry, 1,200 and the others as requiring 1,000 or less pullers each.

The bulletin pointed out that hundreds of pullers had come to the South Plains from other cotton areas where the harvest had passed its peak but many of those who arrived had stayed only a short time and had moved on. It was pointed out that area farmers were paying $1.75 for dry land cotton pulling, and $2 on irrigated cotton delivered at the gin.

The farmers group meeting with Barnes is expected to offer evidence that while state agencies have reported a "surplus" of farm labor on the South Plains, that actually there is an acute shortage and that all the labor now here is needed to complete the harvest.

Good Crop Reported

Gillespie contacted in regard to recruiting here, said that Arkansas and Mississippi farmers, with one of the finest cotton crops in history ready to harvest, are paying from $3.75 to $4.25 per hundred pounds of picked cotton delivered at the gin. He pointed out that this bumper cotton crop has placed a heavy demand for labor, and that since Texas has the only available supply of "surplus" workers Arkansas and Mississippi farmers have placed heavy orders for help from the Lone Star State.

The employment agent said that while those two states last year needed 16,000 migratory workers to handle their cotton crops, this year they probably will need twice that number.

He pointed out that the expected supply of Mexican nationals had not been available, that New Mexico, Arizona, California and many northern states had entered into the bidding for Texas workers, and the pressure from this bidding was now being felt in this area.

Says Law Followed

Gillespie said that recruiting agents were required to provide clearance papers to each worker leaving Texas, letters to the trucker, and otherwise had to meet rigid requirements set up under state laws.

Generally the trucker was paid his expenses in advance to carry the workers to their destination in the two Southern states, and upon arrival was paid a $12 per worker transportation fee.

The agent said that while he realized the cotton situation now was critical in this area, he does not believe workers sent to other states has aggravated the problem to any great extent. He pointed out that most of the workers recruited here were "on the move" and were looking for work in other places and at higher scales of pay. "They probably would have moved on anyway," he said.

"Most of the workers here now cannot be recruited because they are an honorable people and will not break contracts with farmers for whom they have worked in years past, and for whom they anticipate working next year and the year after that," Gillespie said, pointing out that he had not "moved" any workers during the last three days.

"I believe that within two weeks the situation here will be eased, and that actually there will be a surplus of labor. The crop will be harvested rapidly if the weather remains good, and after the peak, which is right now, is passed the labor problem will be solved," the agent declared.

Barnes emphasized that the agencies working in this area now are legitimate and are operating carefully within the laws. He said, however, that during the past week "five or six" illegal or "wildcat" recruiters had been arrested and fined for their activities.

Democratic party if he is against these ideas. He can vote Republican. The gate is open for all to join the Republican party; those who vote Republican this year will violate no pledge because there is nothing remaining in the Democratic platform that Texans are for," Zweifel said.

C. William Ladwig, state secretary of the Socialist party, issued this advice at Austin to anti-Communist followers of Henry Wallace. "Stop bucking your heads against a red wall."

Wallace Party Scored

"It is too late now to recover the Wallaceite party from control by the Communist minority — which I predict that Mr. Wallace himself will soon realize," Ladwig said.

He also attacked the Republican and Democratic parties, charging that they "are leading us into another depression, whereas the so-called Progressive party would deliver us into the hands of Stalin."

"The alternative is to vote for the Socialist candidate, Norman Thomas, who envisions a new liberal party which can conquer unemployment—without an armament race—and remedy race discrimination, poverty, and other injustices which are breeding grounds for anti-democratic forces throughout the world," Ladwig said in a prepared statement.

Police are holding Medove's employe, 23-year-old Joe Sarco, for questioning. Sarco said he found the body in a pool of blood when he opened the office.

general strike.

The government, in a move to restore normal rail movements on the major lines, warned that workers interfering with train movements face serious penalties, including possible loss of their jobs.

Cominform Orders Sabotage

An interior ministry statement said that the government recognizes the right to strike, but will not tolerate any attempt to interfere with the right to work.

Moch said that the Cominform ordered French Communists to make every effort to sabotage the Marshall plan and French participation in western European defense plans.

The newspaper France-Soir quoted Moch as saying that the Cominform had offered to underwrite the costs of the French dockworkers and miners' strikes, which preceded the rail walkout in the current strike wave.

The newspaper added that French workers are not responding to the strike calls as enthusiastically as the Communists had hoped, and that both Cominform and French Communist party leaders are complaining because of the French workers' "lack of the combat spirit."

HST Favored By Majority Of AFL And CIO Voters, Survey Shows

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 11.—Despite John L. Lewis's slashing attack on President Truman last week, a majority of the rank and file members of labor unions today favor the President's re-election.

While Mr. Truman's support is not as strong among these important groups of voters as was Roosevelt's, nevertheless his lead over Governor Dewey among labor union members is large. This is true despite defection of some union members to Henry A. Wallace and to the Republican ticket.

GALLUP

Labor union voters are concentrated largely in the big cities where recent polls have shown Democratic strength declining. For this reason union political strategists supporting Truman are attempting to stimulate a large turnout of union members on Election Day.

A substantial proportion of the Wallace following among union members is made up of voters who supported the Democrats in 1944. If Wallace were not in the picture today, President Truman's popular vote advantage would give him an almost two to one advantage as far as union members are concerned.

Institute interviews asked union members this question:

"If the Presidential election were being held TODAY, how would you vote—for Truman, Dewey, Wallace or for Thurmond?"

THE LABOR UNION VOTE

	Truman	Dewey	Wallace	Thurmond
Total Unions	55%	38%	7%	*
C.I.O. members	58	32	10	*
A.F. of L. members	54	40	6	*

*Less than one per cent. Only voters in those Southern states where Governor J. Strom Thurmond is on the ballot were asked if they would vote for him.

Democratic strength in Presidential elections since 1936 has been greater among union members than among manual workers not members of unions. A slightly larger proportion of C.I.O. members than of A.F. of L. members has favored the Democratic candidate.

The following table shows the trend of union voting in the last three elections and, by comparing that trend with today's survey, illustrates the effect of the Wallace vote and the increase in the Dewey vote:

LABOR UNION VOTE
(Democratic Percentage Major Party Vote)

	1936	1940	1944	Today
All Unions	80%	72%	72%	55%
C.I.O.	85	79	78	58
A.F. of L.	80	71	69	54

Included among "all unions" are members of a number of unions not affiliated with either the A.F. of L. or the C.I.O.

Despite past differences with the Truman administration, a large part of the nation's top labor leadership has pledged its support to the President's campaign. The C.I.O. executive committee came out for Mr. Truman early in September, followed by Labor's Committee for the Election of Truman and Barkley, (consisting of a large part of top AFL leadership) the International Association of Machinists and A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. However John L. Lewis last week strongly attacked the President without specifically endorsing Governor Dewey.

The President and the Democratic Party Platform appeal to the labor union vote by asking for outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act. Mr Truman made the first major address of his campaign on Labor Day before a large labor union audience in Detroit and has referred to his opposition to the Taft-Hartley Act many times since.

Harold E. Stassen answered the President's Labor Day address, but thus far Governor Dewey has not dealt with major labor issues in any of his campaign speeches.

Rehabilitation Work Among Veterans Is Discussed At Meet

Talks by representatives of the regional office, Veterans administration, on the rehabilitation of the disabled veteran, featured a semi-monthly luncheon and business meeting of the Lubbock County Social Welfare association Monday noon in the Hilton Navajo room.

"Ability, rather than disability, is the thing to be considered when you are dealing with a disabled veteran," said Carl Cliff, who is with the vocational rehabilitation division. There are over 2,000 disabled veterans enrolled in training in this region, he pointed out. Of this number, 828 are in institutions of higher learning; 280 are enrolled in business or vocational colleges; 474 have on the job training and 701 are taking institutional on the farm training. The objective of the training is to restore the disabled veteran to the level of emoloyment he might have reached had he not received injuries in the war; to make him self sustaining and self supporting.

Mrs. Miriam Collier, who is a social worker in the medical division, pointed out the need for co-ordination with other social welfare agencies in the problems that arise in her office. Their work is limited by regulation to the service connected disabled veteran, she added.

Officers are to be elected Nov 8 and John Wilson, president, appointed a nominating committee of Mrs. J. H. Stiles, chairman, Robert J. Allen and Capt. Tom Gregory of the Salvation Army.

No Legal Curbs On Tattooing Found By Denver Officers

DENVER, Oct. 11 (INS)—Tattoo artists were given the green light in Denver today. There's no law to prevent it.

William Prowse, a 23-year-old amateur tatoo artist received a year's suspended sentence from District Judge Joseph J. Walsh after pleading "no contest to a charge of simple assault in the tattooing of three teen-age Denver girls.

Prowse was arrested Aug. 8 after one of the girls was treated at a Denver hospital for an infection in her arm.

The youth's home-made equipment consisted of a razor blade, darning needles and indellible ink. The designs engraved on the girl's arms included hearts, crosses and initials.

After an examination of the city's juvenile misdemeanor and health laws, the district attorney's office found no statute governing the art of tattooing.

Ginning Specialists To Meet Here Today

Industry Leaders To Attend Session

Extension ginning specialists from the Carolinas to California wil lopen a two-day session at the Hilton hotel this morning preceding the Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference, which gets underway Thursday.

The meeting, to be headed by Alfred Pendleton, Dallas, southwestern regional cotton ginning specialist of the USDA, and Charles Oglesby, Atlanta, Ga., southeastern regional specialist, will be beltwide in its aspects. Charles A. Bennett, engineer in charge of the U. S. Cotton Ginning laboratory at Stoneville, Miss., will be one of the featured speakers of the conference.

To Study Problems

High on the agenda of the extension ginning specialists is a consideration of how the nation's cotton ginners can best meet the challenges presented by mechanical harvesting.

Cotton industry leaders here point out that despite the fact that improvements have been made in recent years in mechanical pickers and strippers, lint which is gathered by machines still contains a higher percentage of leaf and stem matter and other trash than that harvested by hand.

The best mechanical pickers were said to harvest cotton a grade lower than that gathered by field hands. It is anticipated by researchers in the ginning field that any further improvements in grade of mechanically harvested cotton will have to come through better cleaning equipment at the gin.

Film Director Denies He Was Drunk After West Coast Arrest

CULVER CITY, Cal., Oct. 11 (AP)—Film Director Busby Berkeley denied with tears in his eyes that he was intoxicated when arrested for drunk driving early today.

He said:

"I was on my way back from the beach alone. I only had one cocktail and I was cold sober.

"The last time I got into trouble I was out of a job for three years."

The director was released on his own recognizance after his hearing was set for Wednesday morning.

Berkeley was acquitted in 1935 of second degree murder charges growing out of a traffic accident in which three persons were killed.

Poll Expert To Speak At Tech

William A. Lydgate, question-formulator, analyst and editor of the Gallup poll, will present a lecture at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Recreation Hall at Texas Technological college as one of 20 lectures, dances and fun nights included in the Recreational hall program for the year according to James G. Allen, dean of men.

Lydgate keeps a sensitive finger on the pulse of the American people through the poll, and there are few men in America who have a better understanding of the public mind and how it works. He is the man who decides what to ask the people. These questions are put to a vote in various nationwide Gallup surveys and the findings are interpreted for over a hundred leading newspapers throughout the country.

Widely Known Writer

The Gallup Poll opinion surveys appear as regular features in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Before joining the Gallup poll, Lydgate was a writer on "Time" and "Fortune," and has written many feature articles for other leading magazines. His book, "What America Thinks," analyzes and interprets the main currents of public opinion as revealed in more tnan 2000 polls taken in recent years.

Lydgate, who is in his thirties, stands six feet four inches in stocking feet. At Yale, where he graduated in 1931, he avoided sports and ran the "Yale Daily News," instead. The son of a minister, Lydgate was born and educated at private schools in Hawaii before he enrolled at Yale.

Makes Own Stories

The Gallup editor professes great faith in the common people, and likes to quote the eighteenth century writer, Samuel Johnson, who said: "About things on which the public thinks long, it commonly attains to think right." He believes that public opinion is vital to democracy but is quick to admit that polls of public opinion are far from perfect. He says that answers to poll questions may be hasty, long-winded, glib, profound, cockeyed or otherwise, but added up, they'll make sense.

Although the editor of the Gallup poll and right-hand man to Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public opinion,

County Commissioners Okay Funds

Child Welfare Unit Is Given Approval

A $2,000 contribution to a child welfare program was voted Monday by Lubbock county commissioners court, contingent upon the city's making a similar contribution.

City commissioners earlier had voted in favor of the plan, proponents said.

It would cost $4,000 the first year of operation, both courts had been informed.

Work Is Explained

County child welfare units are local units of case work services for children. The Division of Child Welfare of the state will cooperate with counties that develop child welfare units on the following bases: 1. Where there is an evidence of interest in child welfare and the need has been determined, and 2. Where counties or communities are ready to participate by sharging responsibility with the state for plans and finances, participating according to its needs and ability to pay.

The state has promised to pay the salary of a trained and experienced child welfare worker who will be lent to the county. The city and county are asked to provide office space, equipment, supplies and utilities, to pay travel expenses of the case worker and salary of a stenographer.

Types Of Cases Cited

The types of cases which a county child welfare unit accepts for care would be:

1. The child without a family: the orphan, deserted or abandoned child.

2. The child of the broken home. The child who has one parent dead, deserted, or away from home because of insanity, imprisonment or other long-time institutional care and whose remaining parent is physically or soclally unable to give care to the child, whether for a temporary or long time period.

3. The neglected child, abused, exploited, or subjected to improper surroundings.

4. The delinquent or predelinquent child, whose conduct has brought him in conflict with the law, or whose environment or conduct is likely to produce behavior difficulties.

5. The socially or mentally handicapped child who cannot receive adequate care in his own invironment.

6. The child born out of wedlock whose mother needs assistance in planning for him.

Britons More Hep, Polite Than Yanks, Betty Hutton Says

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11 —English audiences are more hep, enthusiastic and polite than those in the U. S., reports Betty Hutton, just back from knocking 'em dead in the Isles.

The Battle Creek blonde bounced into her Paramount dressing room and smacked me with a kiss, which, she blarneyed, she reserved for correspondents in the higher circulation bracket. Reeovering, I asked about her three weeks' engagement at London's Palladium.

"It was sensational," she glowed. "That audience is the greatest in the world.

Americans Scored

"They're getting some of the greatest talent and they appreciate it. They know if you're a movie star, you must be good. They're ready to be entertained and if you prove yourself, they'll give you the biggest ovation you ever heard.

"It's not like over here, where you go out in front of an audience that says, 'Okay, so you're a movie star, show us how good you are.'"

Betty lapsed close to delirium over the British fans.

"They queue up for your autograph and ask very politely. They all have beautiful books to sign in, not like some fans here that slip you a stinking scrap of paper or a matchbox to put your signature on."

"Look at that," she said, pointing at some tourists who were gaping into her dressing room. "The British fans would never do that. They're not jerks. They never stare; they don't think it's polite."

Plans Complete For Conference

Final plans for the second annual Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference, opening here Thursday, were completed last night at a dinner session of the Lubbock arrangements committee at the Lubbock Hotel.

Members of the local committee met with representatives of the National Cotton council's Memphis staff and perfected plans for housing and transporting the 400 officials of the farm equipment industry, USDA and land grant college leaders, and members of the cotton industry who will converge on Lubbock from almost 30 states.

Program Is Studied

Headed by J. H. Plemons, Smyer cotton gin operator, the committee reviewed details of the mechanization demonstration at the Lubbock experiment substation, the ginning demonstration at the W. O. Fortenberry Gin at Monroe, hospitality plans, and other arrangements set up at previous sessions.

The committee also discussed plans for the official conference banquet which will be given Thursday night by a group of West Texas cotton oil mills in honor of the more than 400 official delegates to the mechanization meet.

Included among the host oil mills are Sweetwater Cotton Oil company, Sweetwater; Rule-Jayton Cotton Oil company, Stamford; Quanah Cotton Oil company, Quanah; Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Lubbock; Lamesa Cotton Oil company, Lamesa; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Littlefield; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Plainview; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Slaton; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Brownfield; and Lubbock Cotton Oil company, Lubbock.

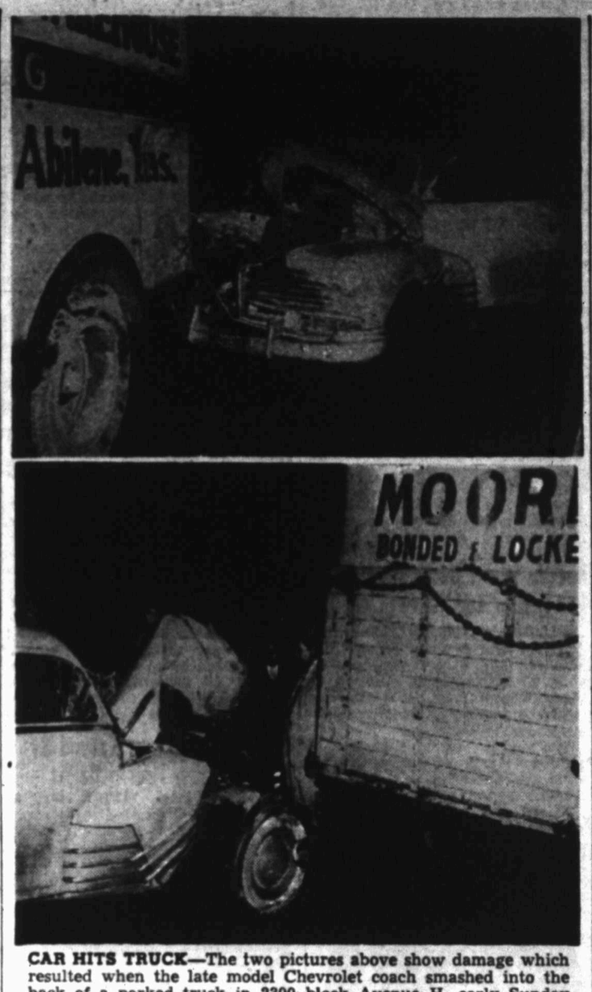

Work Is Commended

Jack Criswell, Memphis, educational specialist in the National Cotton council's production and marketing division, commended Lubbock cotton and civic leaders on their efforts to lend to the success of the conference;

"It would be impossible to commend too highly the Lubbock arrangements committee for the work they have already done on this conference," Mr. Criswell said. "The entire cotton industry owes this committee a real debt of gratitude."

Early arrivals for the conference already are in Lubbock, Criswell said, but the main group will begin to converge on the city tomorrow. Registrations are to begin at the Lubbock hotel and the Hilton hotel Wednesday afternoon.

Regional Schools May Open By Fall Of 1949

ATLANTA, Oct. 11 (AP)—Southern regional schools, operated through the cooperation of several states, will be ready to open by September, 1949, Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida said today.

Contracts for the actual operation of regional professional and graduate schools will be submitted to the legislatures of southern states in January, Caldwell said.

The regional council for education, of which Caldwell is chairman, held a closed meeting here today. Caldwell reported results in a press conference.

The council voted to name regional commissions to explore the immediate demand and need for regional education services, develop specific proposals regarding facilities needed to meet these demands and needs, and propose methods for inaugurating a regional educational service program.

These proposals are to be ready for presentation to state legislatures by Jan. 15.

States in which regional contracts are involved will be asked to provide funds to finance the regional education of their students, the Florida governor said.

Six Are Hurt In Accidents

Police accident reports showed that six persons were injured slightly in three automobile mishaps Sunday and early Monday.

Four of them went to West Texas hospital for examination and emergency treatment after a car driven by Louis Tisdale, 18, of 2101 Thirteenth struck the rear of a parked truck in 2300-block Ave. H, at 1:20 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Reba Virginia Wright, 19, of 1420 Ave. E was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where a stitch was taken over her left eye, after a mishap Sunday at Nineteenth and Texas Ave. The car she was driving struck a tree in making a right turn. Jack Porter, GOP Senatorial Nominee, Plans Marshall Rally

HOUSTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Jack Porter, Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate, will speak before an eight-county rally at Marshall Thursday.

The Houston oilman said he has rearranged his campaign itinerary to permit him to attend the rally which he said will be a gathering of citizens who are "incensed about the method used by Lyndon Johnson in obtaining the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate."

Porter said residents of the area also are "indignant over the present purge being carried out by the left wing Democratic executive committee."

County and precinct chairmen, as well as members of the State Democratic executive committee, are being required to sign pledges of loyalty to the Truman-Barkley presidential ticket or face removal from office.

Possibilities Seen For U. S. To Penetrate Reds' 'Iron Curtain'

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (INS)—Edwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, told the 64th annual convention of the Inland Daily Press association today that there are "surprising possibilities" for penetrating the Iron Curtain.

He credited the "Voice of America" broadcasts with doing the greatest share of the job.

He said that there are three to four million shortwave sets in Russia and most sets are tuned in on American broadcasts for which there is no prohibition by the Soviet government.

Teacher's Case Cited

For instance, he said the L'Affaire Kasenkina was heard as the American press told it and spread by word of mouth.

Canham, who is president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, urged a "cool and cautious press" for the "long pull" that lies ahead.

He suggested that the press not "lose its poise" and concentrate on such essentials as the economic and political stability of the nation.

He predicted that America "faces a protracted period of tension in world affairs."

New Officers Named

Canham pointed out that whereas "the war scares have made it impossible for a European aggressor to count the United States out of the picture, the sooner we lose the atmosphere of continuous crisis and settle down for the long pull, the better it will be."

Earlier M. M. Oppegard, editor and publisher of The Grand Forks, N. D., Herald, was elected president of the association, succeeding Joe M. Bunting, general manager of The Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph.

Oscar S. Stauffer, publisher of The Topeka, Kans., State Journal was elected vice president.

Albert Marshall, editor and publisher of The Red Wing, Minn., Republican Eagle; Joe H. Nixon, president of The Peru, Ind., Tribune, and Louis A. Weil, Jr., publisher of The Grand Rapids, Mich., Herald, were elected to serve three years as directors.

Kansan Wants Bootlegger That Can Deliver And Not Get Caught

RUSSELL, Kan., Oct. 11. (UP)—At least one man in legally dry Kansas, where the people will vote on repealing prohibition in three weeks, was being pinched today by a pre-election crackdown on liquor law violators.

Responding to a chamber of commerce call for suggestions for civic improvement, an anonymous Russell citizen wrote:

"Let's find a good bootlegger who will deliver to the door—and can keep from being caught. This likker situation is getting critical."

Long Sitdown-Hunger Strike Finally Ends

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (U.P)—Officials of the downtown Dallas YMCA sighed with relief today after persuading 15 persons to end a 17-hour-sitdown-hunger strike" in the YMCA cafeteria because the "Y" refused to serve breakfast to their mixed group of white and negro persons.

The strike began Saturday morning when the "Y" refused to serve the party called to honor a regional director of the National Association for the Advancement of colored people. Three negroes were in the group.

S. D. Miller, general secretary of the "Y", said it was not YMCA policy to serve unsegregated parties.

Lucy Krebs, young Dallas white woman who arranged the party, announced that the 15 persons would remain seated in the dining room "until breakfast is served."

By evening, only seven of the party remained. They included one negro. Meanwhile a picket line formed outside the building with negroes and whites carrying signs which read: "The negro YMCA feeds white guests — the white YMCA refuses to feed negro guests. Which is Christian?"

The signs referred to a recent non-segregated breakfast at the negro "Y" at which progressive party presidential candidate Henry Wallace was a guest.

Woodward Phone Workers To Receive Tribute For Work

WOODWARD, Okla., Oct. 11 (U.P) — The Woodward telephone workers who "stuck by their boards," throughout the disastrous tornado here in April, 1947, will be awarded a plaque for their courage and devotion to duty Thursday night.

The Theodore N. Vail award, announced earlier in the year, will be presented at a dinner in the Oasis restaurant here, by L. J. Bullis, Oklahoma City, division manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. It will be accepted by L. L. Aurell, Enid, who was Woodward wire chief at the time of the tornado.

Aurell was a hero in a class by himself during the first gruesome hours after the twister hit. The wire chief groped his way through the wreckage-strewn streets of the city, located emergency equipment and carried it to a telephone pole on the outskirts of town.

He climbed a pole during the lasting rain and electrical storm that followed the tornado and established the first communications between stricken Woodward and the rest of the world.

A certificate to be displayed in the Woodward exchange will be presented to Mrs. Anita Proctor, Woodward service representative.

The Vail award committee of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., parent company of Southwestern Bell, has called the Woodward employes' actions one of the outstanding examples of heroism by telephone workers anywhere in the nation in 1947. Only two groups and four individuals in the United States received similar awards for that year.

The entire staff of the Woodward exchange is included in the award, which cites the employes' speedy and tireless work in re-establishing telephone service after the tornado. The storm that ripped through the town the night of April 9 killed more than 100 persons.

The telephone workers stayed on the job through the night, many of them despite the knowledge friends and relatives had been killed or injured or their own homes destroyed.

F. E. Sitterly Is First Week's Winner In Snapshot Contest

F. E. Sitterly, 1601 Thirty-first, was the first week's winner in the Sears local-national snapshot contest, Jim Stallings, manager of Sears camera department, announced Monday.

Sitterly won a $5 cash prize and will be eligible for the grand award from the six weekly winners, the winning print to be entered in a national contest in Chicago for the grand prize of $500 cash.

More than 60 prints were entered in the first week's contest, which were judged by Knox Thomas, local photography enthusiast; Floyd Koen of Koen's Studio and C. W. Ratliff of the Avalanche-Journal.

Son Of Elmo B. Roper, Radio Commentator, Is Found Dead

WEST REDDING, Conn., Oct. 11. (INS)—James Roper, 20, son of Elmo B. Roper, radio commentator and political analyst, was found dead today under mysterious circumstances in his West Redding, Conn., home.

Connecticut police opened an investigation into his death.

Domestics discovered young Roper's body huddled in a bedroom closet. His parents were visiting in New York at the time.

State police Sgt. Henry Palau said a dressing gown cord was found attached to a pipe in the closet over the spot where the body was found.

Dr. John D. Booth, of Danbury, acting medical examiner, said there were marks on Roper's throat. He added that when he first viewed the body he thought it was a suicide case. He said later, however, that no official finding would be made until the investigation is completed.

The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

Amazing Results
YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.
GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Nation's Railroads Will Seek Rate Hike To Offset Wage Rise

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — The nation's railroads moved today to obtain another major increase in freight rates to offset a new rise in rail wages.

Vice-President Jacob Aronson, of the New York Central system, authorized to speak for the industry, made the announcement in a statement issued at the offices of the Association of American Railroads.

He said the rail carriers will go to the Interstate Commerce commission tomorrow and amend their petition of Oct. 1 asking for an eight per cent rate advance by making the requested increase 13 per cent.

Railroad sources estimated that such an increase, if granted, will involve another $1,000,000,000 a year boost in the national freight bill.

Aronson said the industry is confronted with the payment of an additional $371,000,000 a year in wages and payroll taxes alone as a result of the ten cents an hour increase granted a week ago to conductors and trainmen.

More than a billion passengers were carried by London subways, buses and street cars in a 12-month period recently, establishing a record, British Railways reports.

Chicago Man Marks 102 Birthday

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (INS)—One of Illinois' three surviving Civil War veterans was 102 years old today.

He is Lewis Fablinger, and he spent his birthday in Chicago in his usual manner—in a chair with his feet propped up over a hot air register.

Fablinger, a former infantryman, is almost blind, uses a hearing aid and has only two teeth.

But he is seldom sick.

He explained how he keeps fit:

"I don't smoke, drink or chew tobacco. At Hines hospital they tried to give me some whiskey as a stimulant several years ago, but I spit it out."

Only two of his five children are living today. They are Mrs. Rogers, and Raymond Fablinger, of Los Angeles. Fablinger's wife died in 1939 at the age of 89.

All commissioners were present at the session: R. O. Short of precinct 1, Ben Mansker of precinct 2, Ottis Isom of precinct 3, and Pat Corley of precinct 4. County Judge Walter Davies presided. Louie F. Moore, county clerk, recorded minutes of the proceeding.

The court also took steps to remedy a situation that was given cognizance last week in a report of a 99th district grand jury, when it authorized an improvement in the janitor service in the courthouse.

Specifically, it appointed R. C. Bolton supervisor of janitor work there, with authority to employ necessary helpers to "keep the courthouse clean and more sanitary." It provided that Bolton employ an additional helper at a salary at not more than $150 a month.

It also approved the official bond of T. G. Roberts as justice of peace of precinct 3 (Idalou) and ordered the bond filed.

The court resolved that it sponsor and cooperate in the enforcement of all state health laws for the good of health and sanitation, both in cities and in rural communities.

It approved the purchase of two adding machines costing a total of $318.50, and ordered the transfer of $525 from the general fund to the library fund.

Redistricting Plan Gets Jaycee Support

Equitable representation in the Texas legislature for all counties has been endorsed by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, Horace Gearhart, president, announced Monday afternoon.

Lubbock Jaycees approved a resolution urging support of amendment two on the general ballot in the Nov. 2 election. Amendment two provides for automatic redistricting of the state should the legislature fail to do so after each federal census.

Redistricting Plan Pushed

The Jaycee resolution noted that the legislature has not redistricted Texas in 27 years although the state constitution directs that redistricting shall be done every ten years based on each new federal census. Inequitable representation in the legislature for many counties has resulted, the resolution pointed out.

Under the plan proposed by amendment two, a board of five composed of the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house, land commissioner, attorney general and the comptroller, shall redistrict the state after each federal census should the legislature fail to do so.

Non-political organization, the Texas committee for redistricting, is spearheading the movement for passage of amendment two. John Ben Sheppard, Gladewater attorney and former president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, is serving as committee chairman.

Russians Limit Powers Of Austrian Police, Reports Say

VIENNA, Oct. 11. (AP)—Reliable government sources said today the Russians have limited sharply the powers of the Austrian police in the Soviet zone of Austria and the Russian sector of Vienna.

These informants said the Russians have told the Austrian police arrests and house searches may be made in the Soviet zone only with the permission of the local Soviet Kommandatura. When permission is granted, they added, arrests must be made by police officials stationed in the same area.

This would practically paralyze all police activity in the Soviet zone, the sources said.

Poll Expert To Talk

Lydgate takes to the hinterlands himself at least every two years to interview scores of Americans on the leading problems of the day, thus keeping in close touch with the public. On these interrogative jaunts through the country he has acquired a score of experiences about which he loves to tell. Among these is the story of an interviewer who approached a woman voter and asked, "Madam, are you familiar with the lend-lease program?" Hesitating a moment, she replied: "No, I'm not. But if you'll tell me what station it is on, I'll be glad to tune in."

Admission to hear Lydgate, speak is $1.20, Dean Allen said.

Major Steel Firms Assailed At Hearing

HOUSTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — The managing director of the American Association of Small business today charged that major steel companies are dominating the shipbuilding industry.

Joseph D. Henderson, New Orleans, testifying before a public hearing of the congressional small business committee, said the August bulletin of the American Bureau of Shipping lists 11 vessels under construction as being built for "foreign interests."

"But neither the Maritime Commission nor the National Security council seems to know or to care to divulge who these foreign interests are," Henderson added.

"It may even be developed that some of the foreign interests may lie behind the iron curtain."

The committee, headed by Rep. William H. Stevenson (R-Wis), with the housing hearing completes a five-week tour of the Midwest and Southwest hearing complaints of alleged monopolistic practices.

The committee's report will be placed before the 81st Congress.

POLICE OFFICIAL BLAMES COMMUNIST GROUPS

U. S. Police, Public Warned Against Increasing Organization Of Saboteurs Awaiting New War

By INEZ ROBB
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 — American police and public were warned today to be on the alert for growing organization of saboteurs ready to knife this country in the back in case of war.

The stern warning came from Charles W. Dullea of San Francisco, president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Dullea, former Chief of San Francisco, sounded the alarm against possible sabotage in his opening address at the association's fifty-fifth annual meeting.

Speaking at the Hotel Pennsylvania where the association is meeting this week, Dullea said:

"It behooves all law enforcement agencies in the land, without delay, to make adequate plans for combating such efforts before they become effective."

The former San Francisco police chief, pointing out "the alarming spread of Communism in our own country," added:

"Every medium of communication conveys to us the disturbing information that an ever-expanding organization of saboteurs is established in our country—saboteurs who in the event of war will put into effect the nefarious work in which they are alleged to be most efficient."

Dullea was not the only man at the conference, attended by 525 police chiefs from all parts of the United States and from a dozen foreign lands, to point out the hazards of Communism.

Lt. Col. Leon Lambert of Quebec, chairman of the international Relations committee of the conference, told the meeting:

"As we in Canada know only too well, and as the United States has learned, the Communist police forces have no hesitation in trespassing on our national sovereignty.

"Not only do they aim at destroying our form of government, but the Communist police forces are designed to enforce state policy and not for the protection of individual rights and freedom."

The Canadian urged close collaboration of police in the Democracies against the dangers of Communism.

Mayor William O'Dwyer, himself a former New York policeman, welcomed the international gathering in a brief speech.

Traditional Weather Vane May Go Out The Window If Army Experiments Are Success

By JAMES POWERS
INS Staff Correspondent

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J., Oct. 11—The Army said tonight that the traditional weather vane may soon be as out-moded and extinct as the carrier pigeon or the Stanley Steamer.

The U. S. Signal Corps disclosed it has been taking surreptitious pot shots at this device, hitherto as permanent a fixture of the farm scene as the red barn and white leghorn.

The picturesque weather vane has been done in by science. The hardy metal fowl who faced without flinching into the most blustery nor'wester will be replaced by a soul-less scientific gadget made up of pressure tubes and electro-mechanical wind computers electrically heated.

The Signal Corps said the new wind measuring instrument will be tested this winter on Mt. Washington, N. H. It has been developed over several years.

It has been made practical for use only this year because of an improvement — deicing — that its predecessor never needed. Electrical heating, the signal corps believes, has licked the final flaw.

The new instrument consists of a stationary disc five inches in diameter. It has four small openings equally distant around the rim, each facing one of the four points of the compass and connected to pressure tubes.

Wind pressure through the tubes is recorded according to speed and direction by electro-mechanical computers.

Electric heating coils are placed inside to prevent the formation of ice on the device which would cause its mechanism to jam.

The electronic weather vane was designed primarily for use in remote Arctic regions. For the first time continuous and accurate wind charts can be made up for these chilly outlands.

The weather vane or weathercock is one of the oldest devices known for predicting or ascertaining the weather. It has been a fixture of the farmer for centuries, taking the shapes of many things other than the conventional rooster.

Prized Americana include weather vanes of various farmyard animals as well as sailing ships, church steeples and domestic pets.

An adaptation of the old wind detecting device still is in use in most airfields to indicate the wind direction. This is the windsock, the tubular, open-ended pennant usually seen flying above the control tower.

The word "vane" itself, as used with weather vane, comes from the Anglo Saxon, "fana" and meant a banner or a flag.

To some die-hard rural folk, replacement of the weather vane with a new-fangled scientific gadget may come as hard as the proposed destruction of old ironsides came to Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Army science may yet tear down another battered ensign. The weather vane probably will wind up in urban parlors as an unusual ashtray.

British Cab Driver Finally Pays Debt After 43 Years

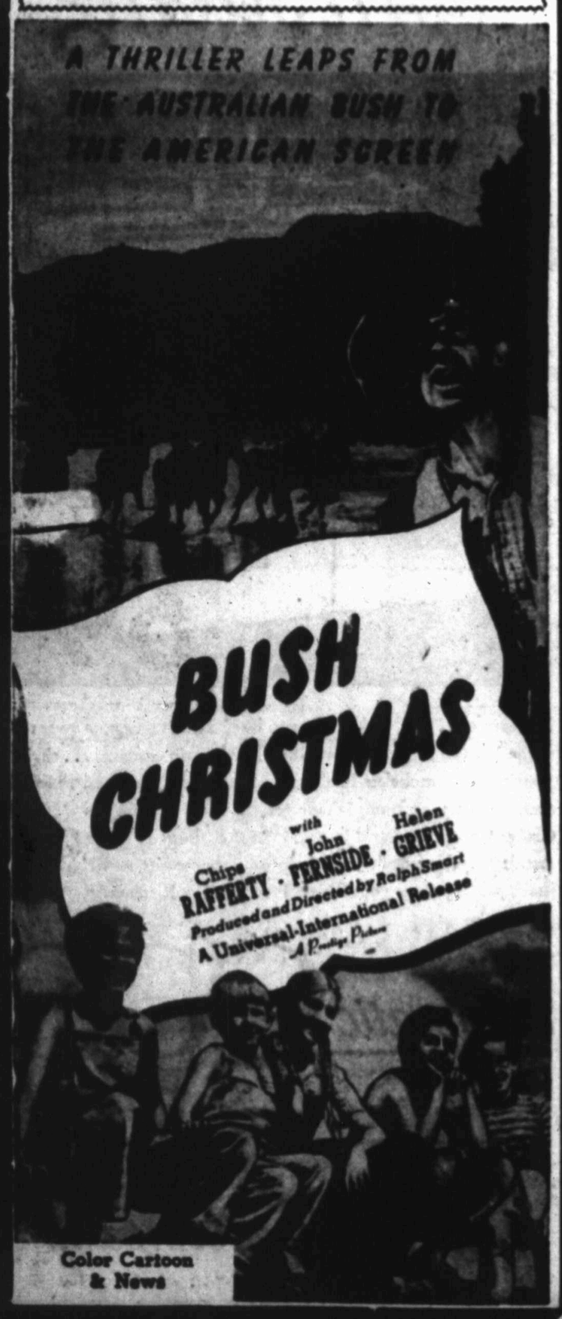

PENARTH, Wales, Oct. 11 (AP) — Henry Matthews, who went bankrupt 43 years ago, finally got out of the red today.

Now an 82-year-old taxi driver, Matthews proved in county court that he had paid his debts of 266 pounds 12 shillings ($1,066.40), with interest—an overall outlay of 700 pounds ($2,800)—and the court discharged him from bankruptcy.

There's nothing wrong with the movies but a lot of the pictures.

MODERN COACH MAKES TEST RUN

New Train With Everything From Movies To Fish Shown

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Only the goldfish got a bad deal on a swank new family-coach train as it made a trial run today between New York and Philadelphia.

The goldfish — flopping helplessly in a columnful of churning water somewhere between the diaper-changing room and the Mickey Mouse theater for kiddies —were conspicuously "not in the swim."

They stared beadily at news photographers and reporters who surveyed the plush interior of a 46-car train which, after this month, will pamper youngsters traveling between Cincinnati and Washington, D. C., on the Chesapeake and Ohio R. R. with:

1. An 11-child capacity theater showing color cartoons.
2. A luncheonette bar serving chocolate sodas.
3. Push button doors to allow for inter-coach tag games.
4. Game rooms equipped with coloring books and pretty supervisors.
5. Efficient diaper-changing vestibules for extremely young commuters.
6. An efficiency kitchen for concocting baby formulae and junkets.

The train-sick goldfish continued to swish-swash uneasily as newsmen filed back to review the coaches with these interest points for adults in the family:

1. Rest rooms with ceramic tile floors.
2. Lounge cars seating 43 passengers each; observation lounges with glass domes.
3. Fluorescent-lighted, venetian-blinded upholstered seats.
4. Sound-deadened walls.
5. Several conventional adult varieties of bars.

WATER IN TEXAS

Sturrock Is Wrong

THE COST of developing and conserving the water resources of Texas undoubtedly would be huge. Whether it could total the $100,000,000 suggested the other day by J. E. Sturrock, manager of the Texas Water Conservation association, neither he nor anyone else is qualified to say. Investigations have not gone far enough to permit a reliable estimate now. Mr. Sturrock's guess probably is conservative as to ultimate total cost.

But Mr. Sturrock's criticisms of federal water agencies in urging a $100,000,000 state program as "protection" from them were in poor taste and unsupported by the record. Practically all the water projects in Texas have been built with federal help. They could not have been built without it. Most of those contemplated in the future rely upon U. S. aid. The state could not build them—not even with $100,000,000.

The time may come when the question of state's rights, versus federal control will become pertinent to water resource developments in Texas. If so, Texans doubtless will be prepared to defend their rights. But, for the present, there is no evidence to support Mr. Sturrock in his advocacy of a new state agency with $100,000,000 as a starter to spend.

Meat Price Trend

MOST consumers are likely to be disposed to place credence in the reported prospects for lower meat prices when they actually see them on the meat counters. Hopes naturally have been inspired by forecasts that costs are headed downward. But it will take seeing to make believers out of many of those who do the buying.

The information available indicates that prices should go down because of the seasonal increase in supply. But one thing is sure: Prices won't go down substantially, if at all, if demand continues to exceed supply. If people increase their purchases of meat, as they usually do at this season, the probabilities are they will maintain retail prices at close to their present high levels. The people in the meat business are going to do exactly what most of us would do if we were in their place. They will get as much as they can for their product.

One way to make doubly sure that lower prices actually will materialize on the meat counter is to continue the economy in meat buying, which many consumers have been practicing, until costs have been lowered. A bigger supply won't affect prices if demand is increased proportionately.

The Aussies Act

DURING the darkest days of World War II, Australians were outspoken in saying that, if they ever had another chance, they never would be caught defenseless again. It then looked as though the Japs might over-run their continent momentarily. Great Britain had confessed her inability to provide any protection.

Further evidence that the Australians learned their lesson well was contained in the recent announcement by their air marshal, George Jones, that their air force is "ready for war on a limited scale." His implication was that the Australians, whose fighting qualities are beyond challenge, are confident of their ability to hold any attacking enemy until help comes—meaning, of course, the United States.

Mr. Jones made no claim that Australia, alone, would be able to fight or win a major war. But his statement justifies confidence that the job for Uncle Sam, if he should be drawn into such a war—as he almost certainly would be—would be eased considerably by a stronger Australia.

Columbus Proved The World Is Round

Tryst

By ELSWYTH THANE

Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Hilary Shenstone, British secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a crashed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England and Nunc Farthing, his family's country home. Next thing he knows, he is back in London dropping in at his club. But no one seems aware of his presence. Hilary learns that his brother, George, has been cutting in with Alice, Hilary's fiancee. At first, he thinks it's all a dream. Then with dismay he overhears a report of his own death.)

LOST in loneliness, and feeling very strange, Hilary pushed open the swing door and went out onto the step. From there he glanced back idly. The commissionaire was gaping at the door, which still swung slightly from Hilary's passage. The hall was empty. No one had gone in or out. The commissionaire was seeing things."

Hilary watched him, grinning, from the step. The situation suddenly began to have possibilities. One could amuse oneself, after all. Why not endow the club with a mystery? What if word went round tomorrow that Hilary Shenstone had occupied his old room the night after he was reported dead out in India—slept in his bed, ran his bath water—left no luggage. It would make history in Pall Mall.

The idea of spending the night in his usual bedroom in the club appealed to him. At least it would be cozier than the doorstep, and tomorrow morning he would look in on his mother in Park Street. Yes, and George. Fancy George setting his cap at Alice. . . .

But with his hand on the swing door again, he hesitated. He couldn't push it. Not again, with the commissionaire still there. Feeling self-conscious and silly, he hung about on the step outside, waiting for someone to open the door for him.

At last a young man in an opera hat stalked out—another new member. He gave the door a vigorous push and Hilary was able to step through on its second swing.

IN the hall again he ran up the stairs to the bedroom floor and went along the passage to his right, turned the knob of the door to the room he always occupied, and opened the door briskly.

The light was on, and a fat little man in a pince-nez was sitting up in bed reading.

"Oh, sorry—" said Hilary, halting in his tracks.

The fat little man was staring through him at the open door. It was fairly obvious that he saw and heard nothing to account for it. He looked ready to scream.

Hilary considered. Would it be more tactful to close the door again or leave it as it was? He backed out uncertainly into the passage. The little man pulled himself together with an effort, got out of bed and slammed the door to. He wore a nightshirt.

Hilary stole away down the passage, guiltily. One must be more careful. One musn't go barging in and out of places like this. At the same time, it would be nice to find a vacant room to spend the night in.

A line of light under the next door on the right showed that that room too was occupied. A peek through the keyhole of the one beyond proved the same.

At last he came to a room that was dark. Cautiously now he turned the knob and with a glance over his shoulder at the empty passage peered round the edge of the door. Light from a street-lamp outside showed the curtains undrawn and the bed not turned down. He nipped inside and shot the bolt on himself.

It was all very embarrassing.

THE morning was sunny and warm. For a long time he stood at the window which faced towards the treetops in the Mall. Breakfast? Apparently he had no need for breakfast, and he knew a passing regret for the lost flavor of bacon and coffee, and the deep satisfaction of the first pipe of the day. Odd, the things that were left to him and the things that were taken away. He had a desire to look at flower-beds and green lawns, and get himself sorted out.

The truth was, he felt timid about going out into broad daylight. He told himself grimly that he could not stay locked up in a room at the club for the rest of time. No one had seen him last night. No one would see him now.

He unbolted the door and listened — slipped out into the deserted passage, pulling the door shut behind him. Coming stealthily round the corner to the stairhead, he saw the steps were clear. He went down into the hall and took up a position near the door.

The day porter, a familiar face again, came obligingly and set the two swing-doors wide open to the morning air, kicking a wooden wedge under each. Hilary walked out onto the step and surveyed London. Just the same and ever changing. Good old London.

For several hours, tireless, invisible, feasting his sight, he roamed the streets and parks of the West End. He stood beside the Serpentine and watched the ducks being fed from paper bags, and the little old man beloved of the pigeons. He inspected minutely the state of the flower-beds, and watched dispassionately several attractive young women bouncing healthfully along Rotten Row.

The morning passed, and it wasn't so bad. Apparently one would get used to this sort of thing.

Every now and then he confronted the matter of George and Alice, with a growing curiosity. Of course as soon as they learned what had happened to him they would be free . . . He wondered how they would take it, and knew that he meant to go and see.

(To Be Continued)

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

ON my desk are two invitations. One of them is to a cocktail party at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

It is going to be a very arty sort of affair. There will be lots of celebrities. There will be lots of small talk. There will be drinks and canapes. There will be women eyeing one another to see who is wearing the best clothes. There will be men who must keep in the limelight for fear that they will cease to be celebrities unless they are seen at all important functions.

BRANDEIS

That invitation goes into the wastebasket.

Here is the other one:

"The National Cranberry Association cordially invites you to its Cranberry Festival to usher in National Cranberry Week and to witness the Wedding of the Little White Hen and the Little Red Cranberry."

I want to tell you right here that this column is not a publicity stunt for the cranberry people. I don't care one bit whether you ever eat another cranberry or not. Personally I like them, and no helping of turkey would be be complete without a side dish of cranberries. That is, as far as I am concerned.

I also know that the Cranberry Festival is a publicity stunt for cranberries—just as that Waldorf cocktail party is a publicity stunt for some new art project.

But both my wife and I intend to drive up to that cranberry festival, and we expect to enjoy every minute of it.

Listen to the program:

At ten-thirty in the morning there is a tour of a typical canning plant "on Route 27, Hanson, Massachusetts. Sorting cranberries in the famous bouncing machines . . . screening . . . cooking at the rate of 180 cans a minute."

At 11:30 we leave Hanson for Edaville, Route 58, Carver, Mass.

At 12:15, tour of the Edaville Cranberry Bogs via the Edaville Narrow Gauge Railroad to witness cranberry harvesting.

NOW comes the best of the whole business:

At 1 o'clock there will be an old-fashioned New England Clambake (tickets are enclosed with the invitation).

Then come a few formalities such as presentation of plaques to the oldest cranberry worker in the United States. At 3:15 the Cranberry Harvest Queen will be crowned (probably the 19,467th queen of something-or-other to be crowned this year).

And at 3:30 (and now comes the great mystery—"Wedding of the Little White Hen and the Little Red Cranberry."

This we want to see—and I'm certainly going to tell you what it means. I am sure I don't know now.

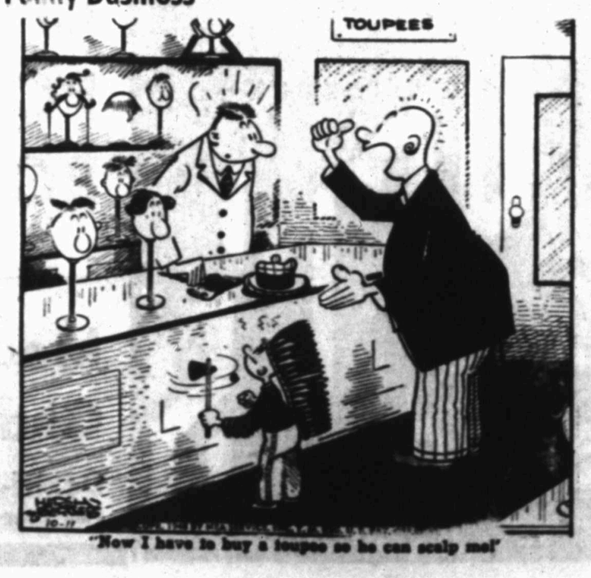

Would you believe it? My wife and I are all excited about this trip.

Cocktail parties we have attended by the dozen.

But cranberry festivals among real people in real country—that is something else again.

It's something new to us—and novelty certainly is the spice of life.

IN VOTE CAMPAIGN

Labor Makes Blunder

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Organized labor's supposedly canny politicians are waging one of the most stupid and inept campaigns in their attack on the Taft-Hartley Act in a political contest which may set a record for that sort of thing. Although their major error has been pointed out to leaders here, they stubbornly refuse to remedy their blunder.

The chairmanship of the House Committee on Education and Labor, where the T-H Law originated, is obviously a key outpost in this battle. The present head of the committee, Fred A. Hartley, Jr., of New Jersey, is not running for reelection. Labor maintains that it drove him out of public life, but the jaunty Fred cracks that he is walking out under his own steam and colors.

TUCKER

Next in line for the chairmanship stands Gerald W. Landis of Linton, Ind., and after him stalks the fearsome, apoplectic figure of Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan, Mich. Both have been supporters of labor's hated law, but there is no comparison in their attitude toward the question of unions' status in the nation's economy.

VIOLENT: There would be no unions of any kind in the United States, if Mr. Hoffman had his way. He is regarded as the most violent "labor baiter" on Capitol Hill, sometimes shocking even his most conservative colleagues by his remarks.

A labor leader who wears a red tie, in his opinion, is ipso facto and per se, a valet of the Kremlin. Whereas even Mr. Hartley agrees with Governors Dewey and Warren that possible inequities in the law should be eliminated at the next session, Mr. Hoffman would make it still more stringent.

CHOICE: Under these circumstances, it would seem that labor would pull its punches or land them where they would be most effective. In a practical choice of two "evils" Mr. Landis represents the less menacing. It would be smart to let him win lest the Michigan man gain control of this important committee.

On the contrary, the A. F. of L., the C.I.O. and the Railway Brotherhoods are concentrating on the defeat of Mr. Landis. They are also trying to unseat Mr. Hoffman, but he has such a safe district that they are wasting their time and money and propaganda on him.

What the labor politicians need is a James A. Farley!

EXPELLTS: Harry S. Truman, the maligned and misunderstood child of the malodorous Pendergast machine, now suffers politically because of one of the finest instincts he has shown as President of the United States. He has appointed too many non-political and career experts to the Cabinet, to the diplomatic corps and to equally high offices in independent agencies at Washington.

Not since the establishment of Civil Service has any Chief Executive, including predecessors who won acclaim for their supposed advocacy of the merit system, named so many qualified men to important posts.

His cabinet reeks with them — Marshall, Forrestal, Snyder, Krug, Donaldson, Sawyer, Brannan, Lilienthal etc. His only real political appointee was Maurice J. Tobin of Boston as Secretary of Labor. He has promoted veterans in the Foreign Service instead of honoring prospective wealthy, campaign contributors.

HELP: But these men are of small help to him, now that he is faced with defeat and needs every nickel and every ounce of political or popular support. None of his top appointees are multi-millionaires, not even Forrestal. None of them command a powerful political mob, or can deliver a spine-shivering speech.

He is surrounded by men who may be expert in their particular governmental fields, but who are no more than dollar-a-night supers on the political stage. His two ablest spokesmen — Secretaries Marshall and Forrestal—will not participate in the campaign because of the non-partisan nature of their assignments, and it is to Mr. Truman's credit that he agrees to their political abstinence.

INVOLVED: President Truman's experience with one of his newest Cabinet recruits—Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer of Ohio—dramatizes the White House predicament vividly and poignantly.

Although no great shakes as a political rain-maker, Mr. Sawyer was presumably named because he might help the party in the Middle West. He is recognized in that area as a likable, able, conscientious and industrious figure. Nobody has a word against him, although they don't seem to vote for him or his pals.

But hardly had Mr. Sawyer warmed his seat at Washington before he became involved in several major controversies — honestly involved, that is. He was not playing party or practical politics.

CLASHED: Secretary Sawyer, in fact, has been a rare find and figure at Washington. The Dewey-Warren Administration, provided that it foreswears political pressures and considerations as stoutly as Mr. Truman has done in filling important posts, would do well to keep him on after next January.

The Ohioan hardly knew his way around here before he clashed with Agriculture Secretary Brannan over wheat exports. In view of the bumper crop, Mr. Brannan proposed that exports abroad be increased. But Mr. Sawyer proposed that the excess be kept here so as to reduce prices for American housewives.

Attorney General Tom Clark welcomed the Supreme Court's decision in the "cement trust" case, which could break up the nation's industrial organization as it now operates. The ruling wipes out the historic system of basing points for shipment and pricing of heavy goods. The exuberant Texas Tom wanted to go to town, politically, on this issue.

BUSINESS: But Secretary Sawyer, in contrast to and in conflict with the politically-minded Clark, called for caution. Pending clarification of the Supreme Court decision and possible legislation by Congress, he urged industrialists and business men to go slow before they abandoned historic processes on the advice of Texas Tom.

Mr. Sawyer must be a hairshirt to Harry Truman because he has performed as a business man instead of a partisan. But, as of today, the White House has not asked the Ohioan to remember that this is a presidential year, and that he ought to "take it easy."

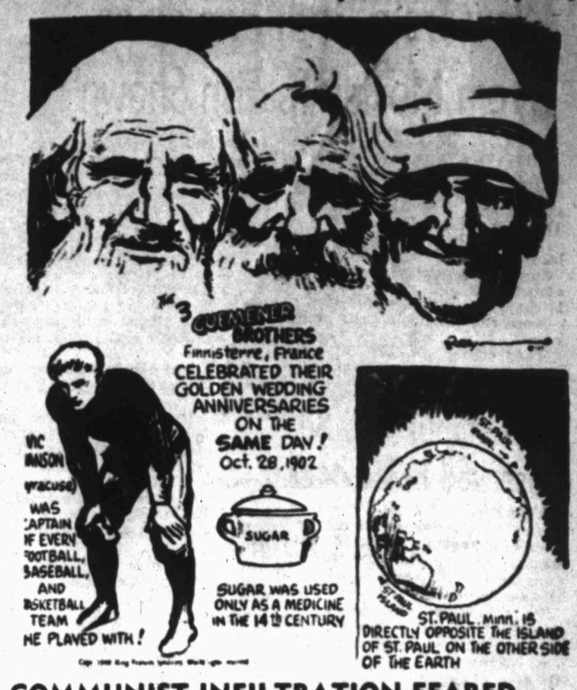

When the ash-trays are littered with cigarette butts nowadays, the man of the house may have had guests or it could have been a meeting of the wife's bridge club.

COMMUNIST INFILTRATION FEARED

Wallace Campaign Loses Ground

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Henry Wallace seems to be losing ground as the presidential campaign goes into its final three weeks.

Several weeks ago some political analysts hereabouts who are realists were talking in terms of five million votes for the Progressive party candidate. A few went even higher. Now an average of forecasts by 50 Washington political reporters who participate regularly in Newsweek magazine election predictions is that Henry Wallace will get some 2,778,700 votes.

STOKES

On such evidence that Mr. Wallace has lost ground, what is the reason?

Any answer to that, of course, also must be speculative, but it is possible to draw some deductions from the temper of the country as this reporter sensed it, or thought he sensed it, on a recent transcontinental tour—out to the Pacific coast on President Truman's special train and back on that of Governor Dewey.

Two Major Problems

There seem to be two prevailing worries of the people today. Judging from the emphasis of the candidates, both positive and negative, and reaction of the crowds to which they talk. One is whether our present prosperity will continue without a setback in the new or foreseeable future. The other is whether our present uneasy peace will, sooner or later, end in a third World War.

Mr. Wallace, when he decided to cut loose in a Third Party movement, accurately sensed the temper of the people. For the theme of his campaign "peace and prosperity" was cut to fit the pattern. That is the reason why experienced political observers thought when he began that he might really stir things up. He may have, too, had he gone to the people footloose and free of any entangling alliances, the Henry Wallace who was considered by many the true legatee of the Franklin D. Roosevelt mantle.

But the Communist associations with which he let himself become involved have slowed him down, like a lot of sticky fly paper, because the people, by and large, are wary in their jittery and uncertain state of mind of anything so unorthodox and irregular, particularly in these times.

For Communism and Communists embrace both of their worst fears. A prosperous people, no matter how uneasy about its continuance, skitter nervously away from any philosophy which would divide their substance and pass it around, even come to hate it very bitterly. Even further social reforms along the New Deal line that cost tax money frighten many now. And Communism, as exemplified in Russia, likewise embodies the fear of war. The tension over Berlin at this stage of the campaign intensifies it.

Communism Big Issue

It is perhaps significant that the biggest applause for candidates of the major parties this year, President Truman and Governor Dewey, rolls up for any indictment of Communism, Governor Dewey always brings down the house when he tells how he is going to "get Communism out of the government in Washington', indicating how powerful is this issue, how specious and phony.

In a depression Henry Wallace might have caught fire in a big hurry. Communists then would not matter so much.

Instead, here and there he gets eggs. It is interesting, in contrast, how courteously and politely the candidates of the two major parties are received—not even a tangy wisecrack. It was only eight years ago, in 1940, that a Republican candidate, Wendell L. Willkie, got the egg treatment, though in a very minor way. Then there was class consciousness, with a division along the line of the major parties.

Governor Dewey is an exponent of Republicanism, as was Wendell Willkie. Harry Truman is at least the nominal heir of the "common man" and "forgotten man" crusade of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He talks it now but to less receptive audiences. The gap seems to have closed. The spectrum of middle class psychology has widened. The poor want to stay rich and the rich want to get richer.

The people are sitting tight, if uneasily, and want nothing to rock the boat. They show no great enthusiasm for either of the two candidates, of whom one will be the next president. But they are gambling on the form horses. This is no time to bet on a field horse, Henry Wallace, with a strange rider, Communism, on his back.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (AP) — Price changes were of little importance in grain futures today, although cash corn tumbled 3 to 10 cents a bushel. The sharp downturn in cash corn cancelled part of the equally sharp upturn of last week.

Corn futures were a little lower most of the day and wheat futures a little higher. In both cases, the fluctuations were so small they hardly counted.

Wheat dipped in the closing minutes and ended ⅛-¼ lower. December $2.35¼-⅜. Corn was unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.41¾-½. oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December 74⅛.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11 (AP) — Wheat — No. 1 hard 2.37½-2.40½.

SCHOOL LUNCHES CARRY ON

ST. PAUL, Minn. (U.P.)—Rising food costs have driven many school districts in Minnesota to can their own food and fruits to keep the school lunch program going this fall. The activity was begun by Parent-Teacher groups, 4-H clubs and other farm and civic organizations.

MARKET DROPS SLIGHTLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—In a dull pre-holiday session, the stock market today drifted lower by fractions to around a point.

Here and there a few selected issues pushed upward for small gains against the general trend.

Some of the oils were fairly and generally higher, while rails and steels paid off for the most part. Motors, metals, aircraft and airlines were narrowly mixed.

The volume of trading at $16,000 shares was the lowest for a full day since Aug. 16 and compared with 630,000 on Friday.

Trading narrowed down to 665 issues, the lowest since Aug. 31. Of these, 300 declined and 201 advanced.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .1 of a point to 68.2. The industrial component of the average gained .1 of a point, the rails fell .2 of a point, and the utilities were unchanged.

Brokers felt the action of today's market was inconclusive. It was in line with expectations for a Monday market before a holiday —Columbus day when the stock exchange will be closed—and in the absence of any foreign or domestic news developments that might have a market-wide effect.

Oils were mostly higher with Standard Oil (NJ) ending up ½ at 73¾. Directors declared a $1 cash dividend and a capital stock payment of five shares for each 200 held, similar to the dividends paid in June.

Panhandle Eastern pipeline jumped up 4 points to 66, a new high for the year. Directors declared a regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents and one-half share of Hugoton Production Co., organized Sept. 23 by Panhandle, for each outstanding share of Panhandle.

A spokesman for railroads announced they would ask the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow for a 5 per cent freight rate increase in addition to the 8 per cent boost already requested of the I.C.C. The request will be accompanied by a motion asking that the 8 per cent increase, which the roads petitioned for Oct. 1, be put into effect immediately. Higher revenues, it was said, are needed to offset wage and other increases.

German Financier Declares ERP Will Be Forgotten In 10 Years

By KENNETH AMES
United Press Staff Writer

HAMBURG, Oct. 11 — The key to European recovery is the export of people and goods, and the European recovery program at best is a temporary solution which will be forgotten in 10 years, Hjalmar Schacht said today.

Schacht, prewar mastermind of German finances, said he had plans for Germany's recovery if the western occupation powers cared to put him to work.

Lives In Log Cabin

The white-haired, 71-year-old former Nazi finance minister is now living in a two-room log cabin on the heaths outside Hamburg. He moved here after being freed from an eight-year prison sentence imposed by a German denazification court in Stuttgart in the American zone.

Schacht was aquitted of war crimes by the international military tribunal at Nuernberg. He spent more than three years, first at Nuernberg and later at Ludwigsburg prison, proving he was not a faithful Nazi.

"I have plans for the financial and economic recovery of my country, but they are plans which I could put into efftct only if I met the right people and was given a free hand.

"I have no desire to take part in political life unless I am asked by the men who are really in power. There is no power in Germany at present except the occupation powers, with which I would willingly work if requested. So far they have not approached me.

ERP Called "Temporary"

"If my experience and worth as an economist and financier, not as a politician, would contribute to a stable economic situation in Europe and throughout the world today, I would gladly meet anyone in a position to implement my theories. But such theories are not prescriptions you can send along to a chemist."

Schacht said the United States is the only nation that can guarantee world peace and economic prosperity.

"The United States has the material resources and world influence to guarantee a revival of economic life, particularly in Europe," he said.

"But the Marshall plan is only a temporary solution. Nobody expects America to continue feeding and financing the world for any length of time, but they can guide the world trade and economy toward recovery.

"What difference can the Marshall plan make in the long run? In 10 years it will be forgotten, but that does not imply that I am in any way opposed to the plan as has been suggested."

Schacht said he has written a book, "Settlement with Hitler," which will be published next week, and that he intends to do more writing.

"I am looking for someplace to work, someplace where I can settle down to writing," he said. "My political activities are confined to finding three heated rooms and a bathroom with running water."

Honduras Names Maule Galvez As President In Quiet Vote

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 11 (AP)—Honduras voted yesterday for Juan Manuel Galvez as the nation's next president. He was the only candidate.

Government troops were on the alert for any signs of response to a call for revolt issued by Angel Zuniga Huete, who withdrew from the presidential race two weeks ago. He was the liberal party's candidate. There were no indications of any reaction to Zuniga's call.

Galvez, 61-year-old former minister of war, will take office Jan. 1. He was supported by the incumbent, President Tiburcio Carias Andino, who has held the office 16 years.

Zuniga issued the call for revolt Saturday night from a hideout in the capital. Previously it had been reported that he had fled the city. Galvez said Zuniga was hiding in the building which houses the Chilean legation, and added that Zuniga had no right of asylum there. The Chilean minister denied Zuniga was in the legation, but said it was possible he was in the building.

VARGAS LOSES SUIT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Alberto Vargas lost today an effort to void a 10-year contract to draw his curvaceous "Varga Girl" for Esquire magazine. The Supreme court refused to review a lower court decision upholding the contract.

Russians Claimed 'Ready To Revolt'

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Russian people are "ready to revolt" against the "Stalin police state," Constantine W. Boldyreff, who claims to be the leader of a Russian underground movement, said yesterday.

"This first and most important step toward universal human freedom" is "a revolution by the people in Soviet Russia," Boldyreff said yesterday at a news conference sponsored by Common Cause, Inc., an anti-Communist group.
