TWO FILMS ARE STARS' LATEST FEATURE ROLES

Ranger theatregoers have a couple of real thrills in store for them next week when the Raft picture, "The Trumpet Blows," and Norma Shearer's "Riptide" come to the screen of the Arcadia theatre.

"The Trumpet Blows," George Raft's latest picture, opens for a two-day stand Friday. This will mark the first time Raft has been on the local screen since the showing of "Bolero." Raft will be remembered in "Scarface," "The Bowery" and "Bolero" which won him stardom. In his latest film, Raft will be seen as a romantic matador, daring in his blood and in his love making. Adolphe Menjou and Frances Drake are the supporting characters in this great picture. "No More Bridge," a Leon Errol comedy, and "Hollywood on Parade," concludes the bill which plays at the Arcadia Friday and Saturday. "You're Telling Me," W. C. Fields' latest rib-cracker, comes to the Arcadia screen Sunday. Fields is one of our leading comedians and will be seen at his best in this picture. Buster (Tarzan) Crabbe and Joan Marsh co-star with Fields in this film. "Season's Greetings," a 20-minute musical short subject and Paramount News complete the bill for Sunday only.

The really big picture of the week comes to the Arcadia screen Monday when Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery will be seen in "Riptide." Miss Shearer will be remembered in "Divorcee," "Let Us Be Gay," "A Free Soul," and "Smilin' Through." Her latest romance in "Riptide" is her finest screen entertainment. Robert Montgomery plays opposite Miss Shearer in this film and they are supported by Herbert Marshall and Mrs. Patrick Campbell. Montgomery makes his fifth appearance with the star in this film. He will

Since Dolly Madison introduced ice cream at a presidential cabinet dinner at the white house in 1811, its popularity has grown until today it is considered our national dessert. And no wonder! It is deliciously cooling on warm spring and summer days. It is sweet, but not cloyingly so. It has such a wide variety of flavors . . . in fact, it forms a perfect ending for a meal. And what's more it is very simple to prepare, especially in an electric refrigerator.

SPY GLASS FOR VISITORS

LEIPZIG, Germany—An ingenious form of lookout for doorways has been devised, which enables one to spy on visitors and receive deliveries safe from annoyance, or possible attack. The contrivance includes a spy glass with mirror attachment, which makes it possible to examine the caller without the caller knowing it. A speaking tube also may be included in the contrivance to afford communication with the unseen visitor. The unique safety door, which is exhibited at the Leipzig Fair, is especially suited for apartments.

Lira Will Remain On Gold Standard

By United Press

ROME.—Guido Jung, Minister of Finance, emphatically reconfirmed recently that the lira will remain on its present gold basis, namely at the parity fixed when it was devalued and stabilized in December 1927.

Minister Jung's statement was interpreted in financial circles as a direct reply to a new crop of rumors as to the probable reaction on the gold bloc countries of the huge gold exodus of last February from Europe to the United States.

The recently published situation of the Bank of Italy confirmed this stand. While the gold reserves rose from 7,096.9 million lire on February 20, the foreign bills and balances abroad fell from 301.2 million lire to 166.4 millions, but this decline, the bank statement added, was offset by that of the note circulation. The figures, in fact, revealed that the note circulation fell from 12,895.1 million lire on January 20 to 12,461.2 million on February 20. The gold note cover, therefore, rose to 57 per cent and now stands at 51.98 per cent for all slight liabilities.

Gold Coin Sales at New High Prices

By United Press

NEW YORK.—The government in prosecuting those who buy or sell gold coins at the new increased price of gold. The situation is unique in the long history of gold when President Franklin D. Roosevelt raised the price of gold recently to $35 an ounce, he jumped the price more than 65 per cent to the highest figure in over 60 years.

Any form of old gold such as out-dated jewelry, dental gold and odds and ends of all kinds may be sold legally at the advanced price, but gold coins are not eligible. Government agents recently have arrested two men in Philadelphia; one for selling, the other for buying gold coins at the new price. The coins in the transaction had a face value of $57.50 and were sold for $88. Under the present law, all gold coins must be returned to the government for their face value. Meanwhile, as a result of the unprecedented advance in the price of gold, millions of dollars worth of old gold is being discovered in American homes and turned into cash.

SOUTH DAKOTA DEMOCRATS RENOMINATE BERRY FOR GOVERNOR

In 1932 South Dakota democrats, aided by the independents, made a clean sweep of all the state offices and captured the legislature. They elected Tom Berry governor.

He is one of the big ranchers of the state. He was drafted for the job. He made powerful pledges, speaking of reduced taxation and cost of government and the enactment of liberal laws. He redeemed his pledges. Many of the lawmakers were hostile to his plans. They were practical politicians. Berry never held office until he won the governorship.

He cut the cost of government to figures which won the approval of the taxpayers of the commonwealth. He restored racing. He backed the bill for the sale of beer and light wines under state control. He fought for and won the repeal of the 18th amendment. He was renominated by a 35,000 majority over a lieutenant governor who was elected two years ago on the Berry ticket. Three democratic representatives were renominated. They snowed under their rival contenders. Governor Berry is a big husky of powerful frame as well as positive convictions of how the government should be run.

He is not a radical. He is not a hidebound conservative. He believes in a government for all the people—and special favors for none of the people.

ARE THE PEOPLE BECOMING GOVERNMENT MINDED?

Alabama democrats held their state primary. They polled a total of 258,000 votes, the heaviest primary vote ever cast in the Yellow Hammer state. All the contenders for major places ran as Roosevelt democrats.

South Dakota democrats polled the largest vote in the history of their primary. All the contenders ran as Roosevelt democrats.

Illinois was the first state to hold a primary election this year. All democratic contenders with one exception won hands down. Speaker Henry T. Rainey in his district polled the largest vote in his 30 years of campaigning for a seat in the house of representatives. It must be true that straws show the way the political wind is blowing.

DEMAND FOR BEEF HIKES THE PRICE ON CHICAGO MARKET

Texas livestock en are reminded that cattle prices spurted upward on the Chicago market May 2, reaching a $9.50 peak, the first since October, 1932.

Department of Agriculture observers attributed the price rise to the demand for "old fashioned beefsteak." Another important factor, it was said, was the scarcity of heavy weight offerings. More important, the observer said, there was an evidence of an unusual demand on the part of hotel and restaurant and dining car buyers for beef. Hog prices on the same day increased generally 5 cents. Sheep quotations are higher also. Well, well, well.

For the first time in recent years there is a brisk demand for "old fashioned beefsteak." There must be money in the pockets of those who have returned to the real flesh food of the old time table.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON - For many months the swarthy, bulldog-faced Senate investigator of Wall Street, is the innocent investigator's friend in need.

As often as the "money changers" advance on the capital, Peora is found manning the breach, hurling back new ammunition which no one knew he had.

It may be that Congress and the administration need constant reminders of what the financial racketeers did to the country and the investors while they had the chance.

LAST summer the Securities Act came under heavy attack. Wall Street insisted it had ruined the capital investment market and that its teeth must be removed.

Peora came to bat with the Morgan disclosure and the revelations of the amazing stock manipulations of Ex-Chairman Wiggin of the Chase National Bank. That did a lot toward keeping the securities law intact.

Recently the Fletcher-Rayburn stock market regulation bill, introduced by Peora, was introduced. Wall Street howled again and advanced to the attack. Peora's predicted modifications.

SUBSEQUENTLY the Peora hearings came to life again. Calling the Peora proposals and amendments "a gross and deliberate attempt to destroy the stock market," Peora predicted modifications.

THE Republican National Committee still is waiting for the nation's reaction to its terrific, pamphlet blast at CWA, which cited scandals and demanded abandonment. Apparently there isn't any such reaction. The local reaction is that the committee was merely being dumb, since Hopkins already had exposed and publicly admitted the graft and Roosevelt has promised to terminate CWA.

UP FOR TRIAL

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH "Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 13.

The Golden Text is: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (1 Corinthians 15:22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou?" (Genesis 3:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mark Baker Eddy: "Adam, represented in the Scriptures as formed from dust, is an object-lesson for the human mind. The material senses, like Adam, originate in matter and return to dust,—are proved non-intelligent. They go out as they came in, for they are still the error, not the truth of being. When it is learned that the spiritual sense, and not the material, conveys the impressions of Mind to man, then being will be understood and found to be harmonious" (page 214).

Advertisement for 'DONNA of the BIG TOP' by BEULAH POYNTER.

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAL, known as the "Gabriel Sisters" are circus performers. Years earlier Madeline was a beauty from her grandfather's home.

When Donna is injured in a fall from the ropes Madeline arranges for her to be taken to GRANDFATHER SIDDAL'S farm. To please her grandfather Donna pretends to be Madeline. She falls in love with BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin, and though she is ashamed of deceiving Bill and Grandfather she is afraid to tell them the truth.

Meanwhile Madeline marries CONNOR DAVID, a soldier returning from the circus. He tells her he is going to get her in his animal cage and the day after their wedding, in spite of her protests, he takes her to the circus with him.

CON produced a pair of leather trousers, leather leggings and a heavily padded leather jacket from one of his trunks. He gave them to Madeline and told her to put them on.

"Tuck your hair under this cap," he added. "There's never been a woman in the cage with old Sander and Leo and I don't know what their reaction will be, so we'll take no chances."

The magic of her love for him moved her weighted limbs. When the door clanged behind her and she realized that she was enclosed behind iron bars with three huge, vicious beasts that could rend her into tatters with one stroke of clawed jaws, everything went black before her.

She caught Connor's arm and clung to him, not for protection but to keep from falling. The cage seemed to rock as though it were being tossed about on the billows of a stormy sea. She tried to do as Connor whispered, to look at the cats. But she couldn't. She felt that the beasts knew her terror and if she looked at them they would spring upon her.

Her wavering gaze focused upon the bars. They danced crazily, came towards her, receded, twisted and writhed.

"Steady," Connor whispered. "Steady, Everything's fine!" Then he called, "Carlo. Come, Carlo."

The yellow beast cinged, slunk backward. Connor called again, this time with a rasping command. The cat spat, lashed its tail. Madeline's muscles tensed. Then the lion started to draw nearer, his body fattened until his shaggy stomach rested upon the floor. Madeline could feel his fetid breath, smell the rank odor of him and her reeling senses seemed to congeal.

Suddenly the animal retreated, crouched and emitted a blood curdling roar. Connor smothered an oath, thrust Madeline from him, jammed his chair full in the face of the beast and with his free hand unlatched the door.

"Get out! Back out! It's your smell!" Somehow she contrived to do as he commanded. On the steps her legs caved in like jelly, the fog of black nausea swept her along with it, and she did not know what occurred until long afterward.

She revived with her clothing soaked with the water that Connor had thrown in her face. She burst into tears and sobbed her contrition. "Oh, Con, I'm so sorry! I never fainted before in my life. But I was so scared, I never knew any one could be so scared!"

"You were fine," he assured her. "Carlo got nasty, but everything is going to be all right. Maybe I rushed you into it too soon. We'll go slower and in a week's time you'll be playing with the old boy. See if you aren't! Next time you won't be afraid at all."

"Oh God," she thought, "I'll all be so afraid! How can I go on with this? How can he take it this way?"

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS - By Blo...

Tony Herrera Not the Contender He Was a While Back

By Winston Copeland United Press Staff Correspondent FORT WORTH, Tex.—What next for Tony Herrera, or is he through?

When Pete Jackson bounced the El Paso heavyweight off the floor four times at Los Angeles recently to win by an easy margin, he also bounced Tony's title hopes right through the ropes, even Tony's most fervent admirers believe.

Until that fight Tony was an outstanding contender. But after it was over, his rating sank many degrees.

There is some talk, however, that Tony yet may meet Barney Ross, the junior welterweight champion, who recently cancelled a fight with Herrera. That fight, even should it materialize—which is highly improbable—would be after Ross meets Jimmy McLarin in New York late this month.

If predictions run true, Ross will come out of that fight minus his crown. If so, a subsequent Ross-Herrera fight would not draw shoe shine money, even in Texas.

'I Like It That Way' Showing at Columbia

The three branches of motion pictures, comedy, drama, and music have been skillfully combined and blended to make entertainment in Universal's new screen production, "I Like It That Way," now at the Columbia theatre for an extended run.

Following the success Universal had with its last summer's musical hit, "Moonlight and Pretzels," the studio sought to duplicate this delightful treatment on the screen of handling a comedy-drama with music, song and dance.

Never for a moment is the story proper forgotten in this picture. On the contrary, it is the motivating theme and moves along very fast. The story of a high pressure insurance salesman who tries to sell love on the installment plan is one of the most amusing plots seen on the screen in many a month. Particularly noteworthy in this production is the unique photography and trick camera angles. Director Harry Lachman has incorporated in the story. Much attention was given to the production numbers which show a bevy of beautiful girls whose rhythmic movement are a bright spot of the picture. Max Scheck staged the dances. Conrad Gottler and Mitchell, famed New York song-writing team, provided the picture with such song hits as "I Like It That Way," and "Miss 1934," sung by Gloria Stuart in the glittering Deauville club atmosphere, and "Let's Put Two and Two Together," introduced by Shirley Grey at a whoopee party in her apartment.

Gloria Stuart and Roger Pryor head an exceptional cast which includes Marian Marsh, Lucille Gleason, Shirley Grey, Noel Madison, Merna Kennedy and 24 dancing girls.

Primary Room Present Cleverly Acted Program

On Friday morning at 8 o'clock the mothers from Misses Mittie Pettit and Rawlings room, Cooper school, presented "Manless wedding" as the main feature of a five cent charge program.

In addition to this cleverly acted play the following selection of numbers were given: "John Brown had a little Indian," by ten first grade children who had made their Indian costumes, bows and arrows, and tom-toms. "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," Juanita Burkes and Mary Wilson. "Little Mothers," seven first grade girls dressed as mothers, carrying their dolls. "Where, oh where is my little dog," Clint Taylor and Ben Patterson. "Hush my dolly," by Christine Ames. In the manless wedding dressed comically for their parts were: the bride, Mrs. Hugh Russell; the groom, Mrs. Sidney Bowlin; the bride's mother, Mrs. A. J. Bartrug; the bride's father, Mrs. Roy Wilkes; the groom's mother, Mrs. C. A. Hummel, and her baby, Mrs. C. W. Ames, drawn in a little red wagon. The flower girls were: Mrs. J. B. Ferris, Mrs. S. B. Lemma; the ring bearer, Mrs. John Stafford.

Two little boys who insisted on having fun with their nigger shooters during the ceremony, Mrs. Huffman and Mrs. Louis Pitcock, and minister who read the ceremony, Mrs. Tom Burks.

The play was one of the most entertaining ever to have been given by the Parent Teacher organization.

Summary of Lesson To Be Heard at W. M. S.

The Women's Missionary society hour will be made interesting at the Methodist church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the hour is respectfully opened with the devotional read by Mrs. A. J. Ratliff. The last chapter of "Women of Today and Tomorrow," together with a resume will be given by Mrs. M. H. Hagaman. Every member of the society will be interested in this program since the subject has held the constant attention of members for the past several weeks.

RANGER IN 1930

The early winter of 1930 will long be remembered in Ranger as one of the coldest in the history of the town, and one in which ice coated the streets of the city throughout the greater part of January, causing many falls, with resulting injuries to several and many automobile accidents, some of them fatal.

The year started with a conference between Congressman R. Q. Lee, on Jan. 1, and officials of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce concerning the post office situation in Ranger. The Elliott bill, which had recently passed, made the town eligible for between $80,000 and $100,000 for the building. The conference was to see if work could be speeded up and the actual construction started soon.

Jan. 2 the directors of the chamber of commerce adopted a budget for the year, totalling $9,980. Jan. 3 the Citizens State Bank announced the regular dividend of 4 per cent, with an additional dividend of 4 per cent to all stockholders. 1929 was declared the best year in the bank's history.

Jan. 6 Tex Thornton, famous oil field fire fighter, was called to Eastland county to extinguish a blaze in the McKelvin gas well in the northwestern part of the county. With the aid of asbestos suit and well-placed nitroglycerin he put out the blaze.

Jan. 8 County Judge Clyde L. Garrett was notified by the State Highway department that Highway 1, from Ranger to Cisco, would be approved, provided the county would complete the 100-foot right-of-way between Eastland and Cisco.

Jan. 9 G. E. Robinson, N. O. White and A. N. Larson were appointed as a committee from the Lions club to try to make arrangements for Ranger to have a baseball team in the West Texas League.

Jan. 12 Charles Valery Williams, employe of Black, Sivalis and Bryson, was instantly killed and Lemmon Lemley was injured when the truck in which they were riding overturned on the hill on Caddo road. Ice covering the highway was blamed for the accident.

Jan. 14 W. D. Conway was elected president of the chamber of commerce and Roy Gilbreath was elected vice president. The next night the stockholders of the Citizens State Bank held a banquet in the Gholson hotel.

Jan. 17, after much ice had been seen on the streets of Ranger, E. A. Kliever applied for a patent on a device for keeping ice from forming on windshields. Jan. 20 Justice of the Peace J. N. McFatter sustained a broken hip when he fell on the ice-covered sidewalk and M. Glenn of the Ranger Steam Laundry was also hurt when he slipped while changing a tire.

Jan. 20 the Chamber of Commerce banquet was held with Victor Schöffelmeier and B. A. Handeen as speakers. Jan. 22 the Phillips Drug Store and the Boston Store burned, with damage estimated at approximately $75,000.

Jan. 24 the Elks of the Oil Belt meet in Ranger with a large attendance and the same night the Retail Merchants association held its annual banquet for employers and employes. Both organizations reported the largest attendance on record, despite the fact that the dates conflicted.

Feb. 3 T. M. Leverett, section foreman for the Texas & Pacific Railway, was injured when struck in the back with an axle in the hands of a Mexican he had discharged. (To Be Continued)

Garden Breakfast Honors New Era Club and Guests Saturday

Cleverly Arranged Breakfast Compliments New Era Club and Guests

Drawing to a close a year which has been most colorful and unusually successful, Mrs. O. E. Denny, president of the New Era club entertained in compliment to the club personnel and several special guests with a cleverly arranged breakfast Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Guests assembled at the home of the hostess, Young street, and four going in chase of what was called "Every dog has its day," led by Mrs. Denny and terminated in the destination of the home of Mrs. Charles Surbrook, 705 Blundell street. The party group was invited into the lovely Surbrook garden where they found places designated with place cards shaped into the form of dogs, at tables attractively laid and appointed.

During the breakfast a program was supposedly broadcast with Mrs. Payne Pittman impersonating Walter Winchell, giving all the points on the New Era dog race in 1935. This feature, quite in keeping with the clever idea predominating, brought much laughter and merriment.

Paramount in table tints and decorations was the pretty two-tone color note of purple and gold, the club colors.

Covers were laid at this early morning affair for the in-coming president, Mrs. W. B. Crossley, and Misses Lonnie Herring, J. J. Kelly, C. A. Smith, O. L. Phillips, Clyde H. Davis, E. K. Smith, J. L. Turner, James A. Jarboe, M. H. Haganan, E. O. Samms, P. E. Moore, Charles Surbrook, Misses Rose and Ann McEever, Miltie Pettit and Marie Kahn.

The pleasing hostess was ably assisted in serving by Mrs. Pittman, daughter of Mrs. Surbrook, who is visiting here.

The Women's Missionary Society of the M. E. church has again given their annual Mother's Day tea. An afternoon honoring one dear to us all, filled with tender sentiment and splendid tribute and awakening tears and heart-thrills will long live in the memory of those attending.

The ever gracious Mrs. M. H. Haganan threw open the doors of her lovely home for the occasion Friday afternoon at which 60 attended.

Mrs. A. L. Wilson acted as chairman of program and announced the numbers. A red or white rose was pinned on each one by Mrs. C. A. Smith or Mrs. E. K. Smith.

While the lovely tunes of Mother's songs were played softly on the piano by Mrs. Walter Harwell the president, Mrs. Leslie Haganan, presented the guests and a mother's prayer was given by Mrs. Fred Warren. Mrs. I. N. Griffin sang, "Sing Me the Song," accompanied by Mrs. Harwell, in which those present joined in singing the song dear to Mother's heart, "Anxious Grace."

Four adorable little girls, Gean Gunn, Betty Earl Wilson, Jane Matthews and Imogene Dixon, dressed as maids of far Japan, entertained with a reading. A colored quartet was presented in a group of spirituals. Miss Maxine Henderson, accompanied by Miss Marguerite Adamson, tugged at the heart strings with a solo, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine." Mrs. Griffin gave a tribute to mother and Mrs. C. D. Woods presented lovely floral offerings to the oldest and youngest mother.

Mrs. Haganan gave an impromptu talk. A delicious plate was then served to the guests, culminating a delightful afternoon.

Paramount in table tints and decorations was the pretty two-tone color note of purple and gold, the club colors.

Covers were laid at this early morning affair for the in-coming president, Mrs. W. B. Crossley, and Misses Lonnie Herring, J. J. Kelly, C. A. Smith, O. L. Phillips, Clyde H. Davis, E. K. Smith, J. L. Turner, James A. Jarboe, M. H. Haganan, E. O. Samms, P. E. Moore, Charles Surbrook, Misses Rose and Ann McEever, Miltie Pettit and Marie Kahn.

The pleasing hostess was ably assisted in serving by Mrs. Pittman, daughter of Mrs. Surbrook, who is visiting here.

Famed Bandit's Body Is Far From the Tomb He Built For Himself

CHICUACUA, Chih., Mex.—The ornate tomb which the late Francisco (Pancho) Villa ordered for himself in the old cemetery, Pancon de la Regia, remains empty today.

At the height of his career, as Mexico's "strong man," Villa ordered the chapel built and expressed the wish that he be buried there.

Instead, his body lies in Parral, Chih., far from the costly spot he chose.

Besides his "tomb" Villa built 10 more for his most trusted men; Jose E. Rodriguez, shot by firing squad in 1916; Don Guerra, Abraham Gonzalez, Martin Serin, who was shot to death in 1915 because he refused to tell federal where his hideout was; Andres Vargas, killed at Celaya; Anacleto Giron, fatally wounded in the battle of Zacatecas in 1914; and Ricardo Zamora, killed in the same battle.

The 10 men lie in the tombs Villa ordered for them: Faustino Borunda, one of his most trusted men; Jose E. Rodriguez, shot by firing squad in 1916; Don Guerra, Abraham Gonzalez, Martin Serin, who was shot to death in 1915 because he refused to tell federal where his hideout was; Andres Vargas, killed at Celaya; Anacleto Giron, fatally wounded in the battle of Zacatecas in 1914; and Ricardo Zamora, killed in the same battle.

Resistain

Something New for All Kinds of Dress Materials

A wonderful sizing solution, which replaces sizing materials lost in service or in cleaning; improving the feel, drape and luster and giving a water and stain resistance.

We are now using this new sizing material on all dress materials that had such sizing materials used on them in the new finish. This special extra-process makes the cleaning job last longer and look much better.

This is a finish process, and is in addition to our New Dry Cleaning Process. Our New Dry Cleaning Process includes the use of one of the latest improved dry cleaning detergents—which is a wonderful improvement over plain dry cleaning, just like good soap in water washing is a wonderful improvement over plain wet cleaning.
