City says no to LULAC agreement

The Colorado City Council, in a special meeting late Tuesday afternoon, in a split 4-3 decision, turned down a motion to negotiate an agreement with the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC) concerning single member voting districts.

The meeting followed a committee meeting last week of Mayor Jim Baum, councilmen Rex Thackerson and Eric White, City Manager Brenda Hammond and City Secretary Glenna Garrett.

At the committee meeting, it was reported that LULAC intends to file suit against the city within 10 days if the city does not take steps to change to voting districts rather than the present at-large method of electing council representatives.

City Attorney Tom Rees said he talked with LULAC attorney Rolando Rios. Rees said it was his impression that a suit will be filed against the city at the end of a 10-day period if no action has been taken by the city on the matter.

Rees said he and Rios "talked at length" and Rees asked him how much he (Rios) would charge to handle the process if the city voluntarily decided to convert to single member districts.

"He (Rios) indicated he's receiving a lot of pressure from his clients to file suit," said Rees.

Rees said the council needed to decide whether or not to pursue the matter with Rios or whether to sit back and wait to see if a lawsuit is filed.

Following a lengthy discussion, Baum asked for a "positive motion" to authorize Rees to hire an attorney (not necessarily Rios) to begin the work of converting to single member districts.

Before the vote was taken, Sara Ortiz, a LULAC member in attendance at the meeting, said there has not been a threat of a lawsuit. However, she said that single member districts will provide equal opportunities for citizens to seek election to office.

Bob Reilly made the motion, seconded by Baum, to negotiate an agreement with LULAC. Reilly, Baum and Thackerson voted in favor of the motion with Brian Bassham, Dee Hearn, White and Gary Redwine voting against it.

There was not another motion. Rees said he will contact Rios and tell him "where we are".

Before the vote was taken, each councilman and the mayor were given the opportunity to voice their opinion concerning the issue.

White said that it will be costly to convert to single member districts (estimated at $7,500) and that the cost of holding annual elections will increase by at least $6,000 a year because of the additional polling places, additional ballots and additional voting judges. "Is it worth the money to go to this (single member districts)?" asked White, adding that it's a possibility that a district might not have a candidate. "Then what would we do?" he asked.

Reilly said that "I think eventually everyone will come to this (single member districts). I can see a real advantage, regardless of the minority issue, because of neighborhood representation." He said if a lawsuit is filed, no one will come out the winner because of the division it would create among the residents.

Bassham echoed White's sentiments about the added cost of holding elections for single member districts and also raised the question about what would happen if no one filed for office from one or more precincts.

Hearn asked if there are other small towns such as Colorado City that have converted to single member districts. "We need to examine the issue and discuss it fully" before making a decision, she said. She said she thinks there has

Hale hearing postponed

Charles Scarborough of Abilene, attorney for Mitchell County Pct. 3 Commissioner Larry Hale, Tuesday filed a motion for continuance in his client's case which has tentatively been rescheduled for Sept. 29.

A hearing had originally been scheduled Tuesday in 32nd District Court before visiting Judge R.L. McKim to consider a petition filed seeking to have Hale temporarily suspended from office.

Hale is currently under indictment for official misconduct.

Named as "relators" (those who filed the petition) are County Judge S.L. (Mac) Morris, Pct. 1 Commissioner Ed Roach, Pct. 2 Commissioner Johnny Shackelford, Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston and County Attorney Clay Strange.

The petition states that "Hale has committed numerous acts of official misconduct during his term of office, three of the said acts having given rise to indictments by the grand jury of Mitchell County."

About 25 persons were gathered in the courtroom for the 10 a.m. hearing Tuesday. After about an hour's wait, Hale entered the courtroom and told everyone they could leave because the hearing had been postponed.

The relators ask that the court temporarily suspend Hale from office and appoint another person to perform the duties of that office.

Search underway for new agent

Mitchell County Commissioners' Court, in a called meeting Tuesday morning, met with Extension Service Supervisor Ken Cook who discussed the process of finding a replacement for Extension Agent Mike Mauldin who accepted a similar position in Runnels County.

Mauldin resigned effective Sept. 1 after serving almost five years as county agent here.

"We are in the process of trying to hire someone else with your help," Cook told the court. Cook said applicants will be sought with the Extension Service. If no applicants respond, then he will go outside the system to locate applicants.

"We expect quality applicants, with two to five years experience," said Cook, adding that the Mitchell County position is one of the better positions in the system because of the benefits.

Cook said it will probably take two to four weeks to find a replacement.

Golf tournament draws field of 62

Sixty-two golfers from throughout West Texas converged on the banks of dry Lone Wolf Creek this past Labor Day weekend for a big three-day golf tournament hosted by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and Wolf Creek Golf Course.

This marked the first year the Chamber of Commerce has hosted a golf tournament and all indications are the event may become an annual one.

When the dust had settled and the sun set late Monday, local golfers George Powell and Donnie Phillips were named champions finishing the 54-hole, three-day event with a score of 272.

Monday's final round had Powell firing a two under par 68 with Phillips posting a 75 for a combination 143, which was tops in Monday's round.

A sudden death playoff determined second and third places as Midland's Craig Cambell and Colorado City's Donnie Lindsey beat Colorado City's Lee Sneed and Ricky McPhaul on the first hole of the play-off. Both teams finished regulation with team totals of 275.

Other local winners included a third place finish in the first flight by Walt Staats and Ben Sparks. Roland Powell and Jimmy Buford took first place honors in the second flight.

Third flight winners were all local teams. Loraine's Casey and Eddy Merket were first place winners followed closely by Mickey Neff and Russell Erwin. Third place was won by Steve Morris and Tony Turner.

David Finley of Loraine won the putting contest which earned him $250 in prize money. Ray Roe of San Angelo won second and Colorado City's Walt Staats took home $100 in prize money as the third place finisher. A total of $500 was given away in prize money in the putting contest.

Chamber of Commerce president Gary Parker called the tournament a tremendous success and said the ground work has been laid for an annual event. "We gave away $4,600 in prize money and for the first tournament we feel really pleased to hand out that much prize money," Parker said. "I also want to thank everyone who helped with the tournament, especially all the citizens and chamber members that prepared and helped serve the food for Saturday and Sunday's dinner," he added.

A representative of a major beverage company attended the golf tournament for a brief period Sunday afternoon and showed some interest in perhaps helping co-sponsor the tournament next year. If they agree, more money will be available for prizes.

The three-day partnership tournament consisted of a low-ball round on Saturday, a scramble on Sunday and a combination round (both players' score) on Monday.

been fair representation on the council in the past and present.

Redwine said "I don't see anything but trouble" with voting districts. He said that voting districts will essentially divide the residents into groups and that residents of the various districts will want the same amount of funds spent in their district as other districts. "I don't think it's a matter of color if people vote for you or not," he said. "I think this will cause more separation than bonding."

Baum said "I do believe the overriding thing is minority representation, not cost, not whose streets are the best." He said the willingness to work together will start with single member districts.

Ortiz stressed that single member districts will be more fair and will allow minorities to be elected to office. "Where are the Hispanics on the council?" she asked. "We do run (for office). Where are they?"

Rees said the city will have a "much better position of fighting a lawsuit" because there have been minorities elected to the council. "Minorities have consistently been elected to office when they ran," he said.

He said if a lawsuit is filed, it will cost the city anywhere from $15,000-$25,000 in legal fees. And, if the city loses the suit, there will be added cost of having to pay the legal fees of the LULAC attorneys.

There was no action taken following an executive session to discuss personnel.

Junell says school financing should be on legislative agenda

State Representative Robert Junell hand carried a letter to Governor Clements on Sept. 1 requesting the inclusion of public school financing on the agenda for the second special session of the 71st Legislature. This request came as a result of the increased financial strain placed on public school systems in his district and others around the state due to mandates passed on to schools during the Legislature's regular session.

Junell says "While these mandates allowed us legislators to brag about 'no new taxes', the tax burden that is now placed on local districts is unbearable. Since 1985, property values have declined in many districts which has caused the tax rates to be increased simply to stay even. In addition, increased costs in the form of teachers' salaries, career ladder supplements, health insurance and workers compensation premiums have required that school spend some or all of their reserves as well as raise property taxes to a point where many business and individuals will not be able to survive."

Junell is joined in his efforts to add public school finance to the special session by Rep. Jim Rudd (Brownfield), Rep. Jim Parker (Comanche) and Rep. Richard Williamson (Weatherford).

American companies going too far into debt

By Lloyd Bentsen
United States Senator

Some of Wall Street's leveraged buy outs are going belly up.

I have been concerned for some time that American companies are going too far into debt, and that our tax laws encourage borrowing and discourage equity financing.

A leveraged buy out occurs when investors purchase a company with very little cash down. Instead, the purchase is financed largely with borrowed funds. Often, these loans are so risky that the interest is very high and the business must be stripped to the bare bone just to have enough cash for the payments.

In recent weeks it has come to light that in fact some of these companies are unable to make their interest payments. This will mean even more drastic cost-cutting measures, and in all likelihood lost jobs. It is particularly distressing that these failures are occurring during a surging stock market and stable economy.

Corporate debt has tripled since 1980. Changes need to be made so that the U.S. tax code treats debt financing and equity financing more even-handedly. But, we must make sure that our solution does not excessively clamp down on businesses' ability to borrow the money they need.

Under a provision of existing tax law called "loss carry back", if a company suffers losses from an unexpected business downturn, it may recoup taxes paid in the prior three years. So, if a company earns profits of $1 million a year for three years, but loses $3 million in the fourth year, it would be entitled to a refund of all taxes paid during the three profitable years.

Businesses should be allowed to smooth out swings in income that occur as a result of business cycles or simple reverses in fortune. However, because of this rule, the federal government has found itself writing more and more tax refund checks to corporations engaging in LBOs. Here is how it happens.

In the typical leveraged buy out transaction, a business that has been paying taxes for years takes on a sudden, large new debt burden. The interest deductions generated by this debt will often create a tax loss that can be carried back to recoup the taxes paid in prior years—giving the corporation a tax refund.

For example, 17 companies acquired through LBOs paid $43 million in taxes the year before the takeovers, but received $130 million in tax refunds the year after the takeover. These situations involve tax losses voluntarily created, and the federal government should not subsidize them.

As Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, I have introduced legislation to limit these tax refunds if they result from leveraged buy outs. A corporate takeover financed with borrowed money would not qualify for a loss carry back tax refund on the interest paid on that debt.

With U.S. corporations carrying an increasingly heavy load of debt, I think it's important that we take this step to eliminate a bias in the federal tax system that encourages business debt and discourages investment.

WHAT SITS OUT BACK, RUNS SUMMER AND WINTER, AND SAVES YOU MONEY?

A heat pump. And there are three good reasons you should get one.

A HEAT PUMP COOLS, HEATS AND SAVES.

Replace your old air conditioner with a new electric heat pump. It's a high efficiency air conditioner in summer. While, in the winter, it's the most energy efficient heating system you can own. On even the coldest days, a heat pump system operates efficiently and will provide all the warmth you need.

A HEAT PUMP CAN SAVE $130 A YEAR.

Compared to a gas furnace, a heat pump is more energy efficient. And TU Electric's low rates make heating and cooling your home with a heat pump an even better value. Tests have shown you can save $130 or more a year by installing a heat pump.*

GET MORE INFORMATION.

You can find out more about the amazing heat pump, including details on rebates, from your local heat pump dealer.

TU ELECTRIC
A Commitment To Service

*Typical costs based on 1,658 sq. ft. home, comparing 9.0 SEER heat pump to 9.0 SEER air conditioning unit with a gas furnace, using TU Electric rates. ($0.0385/kWh winter electric rate, $0.0651/kWh summer electric rate.)

1990 Wheat Program

The 1990 Wheat Program Provisions include:

1. Acreage reduction - 5%
2. Target Price - $4.00
3. 5.26% applied to planted acres result in needed ACR
4. 0/92 Provisions apply
5. No paid land diversion
6. Yields will remain the same
7. No signup date has been set.

Failed Acres

Before destroying a program crop or making any other use of land, an application for disaster credit (ASCS-573) must be filed to receive credit or planted acres. FAILED ACRES MUST BE DUE TO A NATURAL DISASTER, NOT UNWORKMANLIKE MANNER OR GRASS AND WEEDS.

CCC 6's

Please watch the expiration date on your commodity certificates. It creates a problem when you let them expire.

Conservation Compliance

Every farm that participates in Government Programs must have a Conservation Plan. The plan will stay with the land. Before you rent land for 1990 you may wish to check for a conservation plan, what it entails and if the plan is being implemented. It is your responsibility. Farms will be spotchecked for compliance.

1989 Disaster Assistance Act

Congress has enacted legislation that would authorize Disaster Payment to producers, whether participating or non-participating.

If you have crop acreages that have failed due to a natural disaster, please remember, prior to the disposition of the affected crop by plowing, shredding, grazing or any other means, you must first file an ASCS 574, Application for Disaster Credit. If you do not have insurance, a representative from the ASCS office must make an appraisal of the affected acreage. If you have Federal Crop Insurance on the disaster affected acreage the FCIC appraisal will be accepted. It is YOUR responsibility to make sure your request is on file and an appraisal is made.

If you have harvested any crops all production shall be certified on ASCS-658. Acceptable production evidence must be provided if the crop is sold or stored. Example of evidence may include weight tickets, warehouse receipts, gin tickets or sales documents.

You must be in compliance with the sod-buster-swampbuster provision of the farm bill.

The Act provides for making all payments using 65% of the target price. There is no high rate loss.

Payment will be made when the farm harvest less than 60% of expected production on participating crops.

You will be kept informed about this program.

CRP Certification

All CRP farms must have acreage certified by September 15. Annual Rental will not be paid if CRP farm is not in compliance.

1988 Overpayments

Producers overpaid for the 1988 diversion and deficiency program should make arrangements to refund these payments immediately or as soon as notified.

Loraine Personals

...by Lois Phillips

Do you remember when it rained or has it been too long? Well, anyway, you remember how wet the interior of the bank got from a plugged up drain pipe? It sure left it in a big mess. If you haven't been in since it has been redone you need to go by. It really is pretty and smells so nice. I am sure it is a pleasure working there now.

Lat Sunday, September 3, 48 years ago we moved to this old house we still live in. I kinda hoped we'd move last Sunday but didn't quite make it. How do I remember that far back? It was my mother's birthday and we teased her that we were celebrating her birthday, but I don't think she had much fun.

It is shocking to find out how much junk you can collect in 48 years. I have grown my own grass burrs and raised my own mosquitoes. I'll try to bring enough of them for each of my new neighbors.

Saw George and Mary Lee Nichols of Dallas driving up in Mary Coffee's yard yesterday. I don't know if they came for the Labor Day weekend or if Mary is going home with them. Mary Coffee is Mary Lee's mother.

We have some new citizens in our end of the county. The Loraine Deputy, Jimmie Sanders and his family have moved to the Royce Mahon house north. Welcome to the Sanders family. We are glad you are here.

I understand that T. J. and Hazel Ruth Blair have their house up for sale and that they are moving to Abilene because of health reasons. We hate to lose them as they have been here lots of days.

I saw in this morning's paper that Veda Williams is dead. Her funeral will be tomorrow with burial in Big Spring. She was married to the late Leonard Williams. They had one daughter and three boys I believe. All of them went to school in Loraine and took part in everything the school offered. Yes, I am sure we all remember the Williams family.

I left a name off of our sick list. He is S. E. Ross of Colorado City and has been very ill. I don't have a late report on him. Mr. Ross is Wanza Graham's brother and we hope he can soon be better.

Don't forget, Friday our high school kids play Lueders-Avoca at 7:30 p.m. at Johnson Field. Let's all lend our support, maybe we will win our very first one.

Elba Mae Evans returned home recently after visiting her daughter and husband and all their family. She also visited brothers and their families while she was in the neighborhood. I am not sure if Ray and Peggy Harmon brought her home. The Harmons live in Greenville, but I think the Stewart brothers live more on to the east.

Next week our Junior High play their first game on the 14th here against Sands. If you saw these kids play baseball this summer you also have to know that they can handle a football game. Good luck Jr. Bulldogs.

Gus and Iva Armstrong had a surprise guest from Hamburg, Arkansas, Mrs. Margie Pounds. Her husband and Gus were on the Amerada Seismograph crew together.

Margie doesn't have a family of her own so she calls the Amerada Seismograph crew her family. Her husband Jack doesn't like to get out of Arkansas or his front yard for that matter.

Ever so often Margie packs her car and sets out to visit her Amerada family. She even brought her fishing gear this trip. Iva said they had a lovely visit.

We have several people who need your prayers, many of them have been sick for a while, others just now feeling bad. To name a few Sue Finley, Gladys Hart, Bud Hill, Doris Henderson, B. D. Green, Guy and Ruth Hildebran, Everett Haggerton. I am sure I left out some names. Add Eloise McDaniel to the list.

I understand that Trixie West came to live in Loraine Nursing Center and says she likes it fine.

Bill Reid Jr., and wife Teri from Burk, Virginia visited last week with Gus and Iva Armstrong. They flew from Virginia to Phoenix, Arizona, rented a mobile home and traveled to Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

Both expressed a desire to live in the West one day soon, but Iva doesn't know if it is the west they want to live in or did they come to eat her cooking.

Last Sunday the Abilene paper added an extra magazine pertaining to this year's football etc. I examined it real good to see what other schools were doing. Guess who is head coach at Wall this year? I guess most of you know but those who don't I'll tell you. It is Mickey Dodds, oldest son of Bobbie Dodds.

On Sunday, August 27, Rose Ella Smith was honored on her 74th birthday. Her children from Abilene were with her in the morning service at Canaan Baptist Church.

Those here were Beverly and her family Kotina, La Shon, Koscina La Shea and Danielle Penny, Isaac Williams friends Juanita Tutt and Lemar Da Shon Moragos. After the service the church members sang Happy Birthday to "Aunt Rosie." The family group went to Villa Inn for lunch.

They returned to Brooks, Joshell Williams and Horace Lee Williams after lunch. Iced tea and birthday cake were served. Then they all visited Rosella's sister Verna Mae Atkins and her mother Christene Saddler. Gifts and cards were opened. Everyone had fun I was told.

Loraine Senior Center

...by B. Ann Vaughn

Sybil and her mother made the cake and the ice cream came from Hutchins Drug Store. The newlyweds moved to Loraine into a furnished two room apartment owned by Harry Hale.

Wiley was employed as bookkeeper at the East Gin. The couple had two daughters, Mary Love and Jean. Mary Love is married to Jack Albright and lives in Odessa and Jean married Troy Kegan and they live in Arlington. There are four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mr. Walker owned and operated Walker Motor Co. for many years prior to his retirement. He passed away in 1979.

Sybil has five brothers and sisters still living. Juanice Butler and Homer Hart of Loraine, Chester Hart lives in Colorado City, Bruce Hart in Odessa and Opal Coles from Irian.

Sybil is very active in the Methodist Church and has been social secretary for 25 years. She (along with other women of the church) helped serve the Lions for 45 years until she was no longer able to do so.

She loves the Senior Center and is a faithful participant. For several years she served on the board of nutrition and at this time she is a member of the Kitchen Combo Band.

We at the center like Sybil a lot. She is cheerful and friendly and still likes to talk, but we promise she won't have to stand in the corner.

Sewer water not going into river

TO THE EDITOR: In reply to Mr. Charles Brown, there is no sewer water going into the river. I have been a sewer operator for over seven years and there hasn't been any sewer water put in the river. We have installed new pumps to prevent the water from going into the river. If you would come down to the sewer plant and show me where it's going into the river, I will put a stop to it.

Loraine Personals

...by Lois Phillips

Do you remember when it rained or has it been too long? Well, anyway, you remember how wet the interior of the bank got from a plugged up drain pipe? It sure left it in a big mess. If you haven't been in since it has been redone you need to go by. It really is pretty and smells so nice. I am sure it is a pleasure working there now.

Lat Sunday, September 3, 48 years ago we moved to this old house we still live in. I kinda hoped we'd move last Sunday but didn't quite make it. How do I remember that far back? It was my mother's birthday and we teased her that we were celebrating her birthday, but I don't think she had much fun.

It is shocking to find out how much junk you can collect in 48 years. I have grown my own grass burrs and raised my own mosquitoes. I'll try to bring enough of them for each of my new neighbors.

Saw George and Mary Lee Nichols of Dallas driving up in Mary Coffee's yard yesterday. I don't know if they came for the Labor Day weekend or if Mary is going home with them. Mary Coffee is Mary Lee's mother.

We have some new citizens in our end of the county. The Loraine Deputy, Jimmie Sanders and his family have moved to the Royce Mahon house north. Welcome to the Sanders family. We are glad you are here.

I understand that T. J. and Hazel Ruth Blair have their house up for sale and that they are moving to Abilene because of health reasons. We hate to lose them as they have been here lots of days.

I saw in this morning's paper that Veda Williams is dead. Her funeral will be tomorrow with burial in Big Spring. She was married to the late Leonard Williams. They had one daughter and three boys I believe. All of them went to school in Loraine and took part in everything the school offered. Yes, I am sure we all remember the Williams family.

I left a name off of our sick list. He is S. E. Ross of Colorado City and has been very ill. I don't have a late report on him. Mr. Ross is Wanza Graham's brother and we hope he can soon be better.

Don't forget, Friday our high school kids play Lueders-Avoca at 7:30 p.m. at Johnson Field. Let's all lend our support, maybe we will win our very first one.

Elba Mae Evans returned home recently after visiting her daughter and husband and all their family. She also visited brothers and their families while she was in the neighborhood. I am not sure if Ray and Peggy Harmon brought her home. The Harmons live in Greenville, but I think the Stewart brothers live more on to the east.

Next week our Junior High play their first game on the 14th here against Sands. If you saw these kids play baseball this summer you also have to know that they can handle a football game. Good luck Jr. Bulldogs.

Gus and Iva Armstrong had a surprise guest from Hamburg, Arkansas, Mrs. Margie Pounds. Her husband and Gus were on the Amerada Seismograph crew together.

Margie doesn't have a family of her own so she calls the Amerada Seismograph crew her family. Her husband Jack doesn't like to get out of Arkansas or his front yard for that matter.

Ever so often Margie packs her car and sets out to visit her Amerada family. She even brought her fishing gear this trip. Iva said they had a lovely visit.

We have several people who need your prayers, many of them have been sick for a while, others just now feeling bad. To name a few Sue Finley, Gladys Hart, Bud Hill, Doris Henderson, B. D. Green, Guy and Ruth Hildebran, Evert Haggerton. I am sure I left out some names. Add Eloise McDaniel to the list.

I understand that Trixie West came to live in Loraine Nursing Center and says she likes it fine.

Bill Reid Jr., and wife Teri from Burk, Virginia visited last week with Gus and Iva Armstrong. They flew from Virginia to Phoenix, Arizona, rented a mobile home and traveled to Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

Both expressed a desire to live in the West one day soon, but Iva doesn't know if it is the west they want to live in or did they come to eat her cooking.

Last Sunday the Abilene paper added an extra magazine pertaining to this year's football etc. I examined it real good to see what other schools were doing. Guess who is head coach at Wall this year? I guess most of you know but those who don't I'll tell you. It is Mickey Dodds, oldest son of Bobbie Dodds.

On Sunday, August 27, Rose Ella Smith was honored on her 74th birthday. Her children from Abilene were with her in the morning service at Canaan Baptist Church.

Those here were Beverly and her family Kotina, La Shon, Koscina La Shea and Danielle Penny, Isaac Williams friends Juanita Tutt and Lemar Da Shon Moragos. After the service the church members sang Happy Birthday to "Aunt Rosie." The family group went to Villa Inn for lunch.

They returned to Brooks. Joshell Williams and Horace Lee Williams after lunch. Iced tea and birthday cake were served. Then they all visited Rosella's sister Verna Mae Atkins and her mother Christene Saddler. Gifts and cards were opened. Everyone had fun I was told.

This month's spotlight shines on Sybil M. Hart Walker. She was born September 26, 1903 to Sidney H. Hart and Molly McCarley. Mr. Hart named the community where they lived Valley View, and Sybil was born there. Prior to her parents marriage, Mr. Hart was twice made a widower and Mrs. Hart once a widow.

He brought seven children to their union and she brought three. Six more were added with Sybil being their first.

It is reported that all the brothers and sisters got along well and truly loved one another.

One night expect some mischief going on with so many children around and mischief there was. One serious recall was when her brothers thought it would be great fun to put all the firewood down the cistern. Mr. Hart didn't seem to think it was much fun at all.

A more humorous recollection was when Sybil's father made a house rule of silence at mealtime. His reasoning was if one needed food to be passed, one should be heard.

On this particular occasion one brother got tickled, laughed aloud and it was very contagious. One by one they all had to leave the table until there was just the mother and the father left. The mother also got tickled and she was asked to leave as well.

Sybil says she had a lot of trouble in school trying to be quiet and almost daily had to stand in the corner for talking. It embarrassed one of her brothers so much he threatened to tell their parents so she decided she'd better "shape up."

When she was in her teens she and a young man from the same community, named Wiley Walker, starting "sparking" and at 17 years of age she made her wedding plans.

Sybil's wedding dress was made by her sister Myrtle Hutchins. It was navy blue trimmed in white piping and bugle beads fashioned in scallops around the hem.

There were beautiful flowers in bloom so the wedding took place on the family's front porch. After the ceremony wedding cake and ice cream were served to family

Loraine Senior Center

...by B. Ann Vaughn

Sybil and her mother made the cake and the ice cream came from Hutchins Drug Store. The newlyweds moved to Loraine into a furnished two room apartment owned by Harry Hale.

Wiley was employed as bookkeeper at the East Gin. The couple had two daughters, Mary Love and Jean. Mary Love is married to Jack Albright and lives in Odessa and Jean married Troy Kegan and they live in Arlington. There are four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mr. Walker owned and operated Walker Motor Co. for many years prior to his retirement. He passed away in 1979.

Sybil has five brothers and sisters still living. Juanice Butler and Homer Hart of Loraine, Chester Hart lives in Colorado City, Bruce Hart in Odessa and Opal Coles from Irian.

Sybil is very active in the Methodist Church and has been social secretary for 25 years. She (along with other women of the church) helped serve the Lions for 45 years until she was no longer able to do so.

She loves the Senior Center and is a faithful participant. For several years she served on the board of nutrition and at this time she is a member of the Kitchen Combo Band.

We at the center like Sybil a lot. She is cheerful and friendly and still likes to talk, but we promise she won't have to stand in the corner.

Sewer water not going into river

TO THE EDITOR: In reply to Mr. Charles Brown, there is no sewer water going into the river. I have been a sewer operator for over seven years and there hasn't been any sewer water put in the river. We have installed new pumps to prevent the water from going into the river. If you would come down to the sewer plant and show me where it's going into the river, I will put a stop to it.

Death Penalty for Minors?

Kentucky Attorney General Fred Cowan successfully argued a recent death penalty case involving a minor before the U.S. Supreme Court. He previously served in the Kentucky General Assembly.

YES

Do you support the death penalty for 16- and 17-year-old convicted murderers?

Yes. To suggest that a 16- or 17-year-old street-wise youth who engages in a hideous and deliberate rape, sodomy and execution-style murder should be exempt from the death penalty because he is a "child" is disingenuous. Every jury and judge is required by law to consider the youth's level of maturity and entire background before imposing the death penalty. The real question in this issue is why should the arbitrary date of a birthday exempt someone, no matter how mature? We all mature at different rates emotionally, intellectually and morally. Our criminal justice system is built upon individualized consideration of each defendant and his crime. Judges and juries can best mete out justice to the few youths who engage in the abhorrent criminal behavior for which the death penalty may be appropriate.

How does this relate to the Eighth Amendment "cruel and unusual punishment" clause?

In Stanford v. Kentucky, the U.S. Supreme Court held that capital punishment for those 16- and 17-year-olds did not violate the Eighth Amendment. Since 37 states authorize the death penalty, 25 of them for persons under 18, the Supreme Court found there was no national consensus against executing 16- or 17-year-olds. The Court said a state legislature may grant mercy to juveniles for any number of reasons if it so desires.

How can juvenile felonies be deterred?

As young people have become more sophisticated, they increasingly have been involved in violent crimes. In Stanford, a 17-year-old robbed, raped, sodomized, abducted and murdered execution-style a young mother who worked at a gas station. He then boasted and laughed about it.

We need more effective social programs. We need more effective parents. We also need a criminal justice system that holds 16- and 17-year-olds accountable and that can treat them as adults when appropriate.

NO

Do you support the death penalty for 16- and 17-year-old convicted murderers?

Amnesty International opposes the death penalty in all cases, considering it a particularly heinous violation of human rights when a government kills children. The United States is one of only five countries — including Rwanda, Bangladesh, Barbados and Pakistan — which has legally sentenced juveniles to death since 1976.

Teen-agers do not have the maturity to grasp the finality of death. They are not considered mature enough to vote, drink or serve in the military before 18, but they are held capital responsible for crimes committed before the legal age of adulthood. Teen-agers cannot serve on juries, disallowing juvenile offenders from being tried by a jury of their peers. Ironically, our doubts about the maturity of teen-agers are suspended when trying them for capital murder.

How does this relate to the Eighth Amendment "cruel and unusual punishment" clause?

The most common forms of execution are electrocution, lethal injection and gas chamber. Electrocution burns internal organs; discolors and swells flesh, sometimes setting it afire; and can make the prisoner defecate, urinate and vomit blood. Lethal injection is continuous intravenous injection of poison into the body. If veins are hard to reach or prisoners struggle, poison may enter an artery or muscle tissue, causing extreme pain. Gassing causes slow and painful asphyxiation, depriving the brain and heart of oxygen. These methods illustrate cruel and inhuman punishment, effectively torture until death.

How can juvenile felonies be deterred?

FBI statistics and other studies show that in some death penalty states, homicides have actually risen. Congress did not include killing juveniles as a method for reducing drug-related crime in the 1988 Anti-Drug Abuse Act. Solutions to violent crime may lie in effective criminal justice, but making children casualties of our frustration with crime exceeds boundaries of criminal justice and becomes human rights abuse.
