Rail Walkout Off; U. S. Seizes Lines

READY TO ROLL—P. L. Yaeger, right, and A. R. Pierce, engineer and fireman for the Santa Fe, compare watches before "pulling out" the 9:15 p. m. passenger run to Sweetwater Monday night, the first train out of Lubbock to operate under U. S. Army control. The Slaton men expected to pick up their new "orders," that they were operating under government supervision in Slaton. Pierce, a former Navy man, said "working for the military" wasn't new for him, and "anyway I was involved in the 1946 strike." Yaeger, who was ill and off duty during the 1946 strike, said that federal seizure would "keep the trains running, but it doesn't settle anything." Neither expressed any aversion to working for "Uncle Sam." See story in Columns 6-8. (Staff Photo.)

Funds Okayed To Start Huge U. S. Air Force

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 10 — A Senate-House conference committee today agreed on legislation providing $822,000,000 to get a modern 70-group Air Force started.

This means that the program will go to the White House, despite Secretary of Defense Forrestal's objection that it is so large as to throw the armed services out of balance.

The program calls for about 6,800 active combat planes, with 8,100 in storage. This compares with 5,500 combat planes in the present 55-group force, with 7,500 in storage.

Differences Settled

However, these figures do not tell the whole story. The new program calls for the purchase of many thousands of new planes to replace more obsolete ones in service.

Meantime, a combination draft and military training bill neared final approval by the Senate Armed Services committee. It is scheduled for quick Senate consideration after its introduction as a committee bill.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) announced the settlement of differences on the bill containing funds for the 70-group program. These differences did not involve the 70-group program, but centered on other features of the bill.

Ratification Seen

The bill, previously passed overwhelmingly by both the Senate and House, provides more than $3,000,000,000 in cash and contract authorization for the armed services.

Most of these funds originally were set up in the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. Under the bill as passed, the money can be used right away.

The administration did not ask for the $822,000,000 for a 70 group Air Force. Congress decided it should be provided anyway.

The program agreed upon by the conference committee is subject to Senate and House ratification before it goes to the White House, but such ratification is considered a foregone conclusion.

Excess Profits Clause Inserted

The Senate originally voted $30,049,000 for the Army engineer corps to complete a number of

Fireman's Curiosity Burns Up Oklahoma Highway Patrolmen

(By The Associated Press)

PONCA CITY, Okla., May 10—Curiosity killed the count here.

Fireman John Quinn was driving along the road when he came to a cable stretched across the road. It looked funny to him so he stopped and investigated. He followed the cable and found a peculiar looking box.

Figuring someone had lost it, he wrapped the thing up gently and took it with him to the fire station.

A couple of hours later irritated state highway patrolmen came and collected their automatic traffic counter.

Demos Renew 'Bolt' Threat

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSON, Miss., May 10—Dixie states' rights Democrats today voted to call a conference in Birmingham, Ala., in July to take "all necessary and appropriate actions" if the national party convention approves the civil rights program.

Southern delegates to the national Democratic convention were also asked in the resolution not to commit their states to support of President Truman, or any nominee, unless the civil rights program was repudiated.

Strong Resolution Adopted

The convention here adjourned its half-day session with adopting this resolution by unanimous vote. It was presented by Horace C. Wilkinson of Birmingham, an Alabama presidential elector, and chairman of the convention's resolutions committee.

Georgia's delegation, led by state Democratic committee chairman James Peters, withdrew from the convention anticipating this resolution, but remained as "observers." Peters said in an interview he did not feel he could speak for his state's voters on the resolution.

Delegates To Be Named

Wilkinson said in an interview the Birmingham conference would be able to do "anything the American people can do in a convention."

The resolution provides that the chairman of today's conference, Governor Ben Laney of Arkansas, may set the date of the Birmingham conference, but suggests July 17.

Delegates to the Birmingham conference will be selected by the state Democratic executive committees, and each state will be allowed as many delegates as it has presidential electors.

Today's convention was keynoted by South Carolina Governor J. Strom Thurmand who told the convention the South has been "stabbed in the back" by President Truman's civil rights program.

Governor Thurmond asserted

North Texas Area Hit By Heavy Rains

(By The Associated Press)

HEAVY RAINS fell over a wide section of North Texas Monday, benefitting crops in some instances and damaging them in others.

One man was killed as a result of the stormy weather. He was Lloyd Roberts, 37-year-old dairy farm employe, struck by lightning in a pasture near Paris.

More than six inches of rain were dumped on Bonham, near the Oklahoma border, during the day. Flood threatened the city for a while, until the water in the swollen streams began to recede. Several high school students were stranded in Bonham when a road leading to their homes in the State park and English areas was flooded.

Crops Damaged

Cotton and corn crops in the Bonham area, especially in the bottom lands, were damaged, farmers reported.

Debris that washed against the Bonita bridge over Farmer's creek, six miles east of Nocona, delayed a Missouri-Kansas-Texas freight train temporarily.

All baseball games in the Texas league were postponed because of inclement weather. Several games in other leagues in the state were cancelled.

Temperatures during the day ranged from a low maximum of 61 degrees at Pampa to a day's high of 98 at Laredo. The majority of temperatures ranged from the low 80's to the upper 90's.

Winds Hit Graham

Farmers and ranchers in the Wichita Falls area said the rains were beneficial. Tanks were filled, wheat was aided considerably and cotton planting prospects were improved, they reported.

Rain at Wichita Falls was 2.38 inches; 2.85 at Vernon, where high winds struck Sunday night; 2.8 at Nocona.

Three-and-a-half inches of rain fell at Electra, but chances of flood were considered slim unless more rains fell.

Graham reported heavy winds for half an hour during the day. Several houses in the rural area northeast of the city were damaged. The winds were described as of tornadic nature.

Cotton crops at Greenville suffered after 2.25 inches of rain fell in a two-hour period.

Rain estimated at more than

Union Leaders Bow To Federal Court Order Banning Strike

Army Now In Charge Of 'Running' Nation's Rail System; Eleventh-Hour Move Averts Paralyzing Strike Action

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 10—The nationwide railway strike was called off tonight. Trains will run tomorrow.

It took the force of two branches of government, the executive and judiciary, to overcome the resistance of three unions which had set a strike for 6 a. m. tomorrow in pushing their demands for wage raises.

First, President Truman proclaimed seizure of all the roads in the name of the gavernment to avert "a nation-wide tragedy."

Second, Secretary of the Army Royall was turned down on his personal request to the union leaders to keep their men at work.

Finally, Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, the same judge who has proved to be the legal nemesis of John L. Lewis, issued a restraining order telling the union chiefs:

Cancel the strike order and do nothing to encourage a walkout.

Anxiety Is Over

The unions—the engineers, firemen and switchmen—thus faced possible heavy penalties for contempt if they failed to comply. They announced that they had sent out telegrams cancelling the strike that would have tied up America's rail transportation system.

The long hours of tenseness and anxiety were over.

About 8:30 p. m. CST, presidential press secretary Charles G. Ross announced:

"John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, has just received official word from the rail union leaders that the threatened strike has been called off.

"After the court order was served on the union leaders, their committees held a meeting and voted to rescind the 6 a. m. strike order."

Government Retains Control

David B. Robertson of the Firemen's union, speaking for the group, told Steelman that messages were going out immediately "notifying the railroad workers of the action just taken."

A little earlier, a press relations man for the firemen announced to a hotel lobby full of reporters, camera men and radio broadcasters that the three unions would comply with the court order.

Despite the union's decision not to strike, the government will continue in control of the rail system. The seizure order put into effect at mid-day was not lifted as a result of the late night developments.

Judge Goldsborough, who issued the order restraining the strike, is the same jurist who fined John L. Lewis $20,000 and the United Mine Workers $1,400,000 for not calling off a strike quickly enough this year.

Marshals Serve Papers

Marshals who served the papers on the union leaders—Robertson of the firemen, Alvanley Johnston of the engineers and A. J. Glover, jr., of the switchmen—said they accepted service good-naturedly.

In asking for the restraining order, the Justice department spoke of the emergency facing the nation, as did Mr. Truman in proclaiming government seizure.

The government petition said that the strike, if permitted, "will imperil national health and safety."

It asked that the unions, their officers or other agents be enjoined "from in any manner encouraging, ordering, engaging in or taking any part in a threatened strike" and "from in any manner interfering with or affecting the orderly continuance of work in the railroad system."

Hearing To Be May 19

Judge Goldsborough issued a restraining order, returnable before him May 19. The unions can argue their case then, but in the meanwhile they are on notice not to strike. To do so would risk contempt of court action. When the order is argued, the government no doubt will ask that the temporary order be made into an outright injunction.

Judge Goldsborough's order said that any railroad strike would "imperil national health and safety and interfere and obstruct the effective performance in discharge of vital and necessary government functions, and will frustrate the powers conferred by the Constitution and by the acts of Congress upon the executive branch of the government, and cause the United States of America to suffer irreparable injury for which it has no adequate remedy at law."

President Johnston, who has been the No. 1 spokesman for the unions, was asked tonight for comment on the restraining order.

No Comment Made

"No, no, no, no," he replied.

He and Glover thereupon stepped into a Hamilton hotel elevator and went to their rooms.

The Hamilton is a sedate hotel much favored by labor union leaders; President William Green of the American Federation of Labor lives there. It was buzzing with activity tonight.

Johnston had said once today that the unions "of course" would obey an injunction. Later, but before the order was issued, he said that the maneuver to get an injunction did "not necessarily" mean that the strike call was off.

President Truman issued his seizure order at 11 a. m. (CST).

Mr. Truman's executive order today authorized the Army to furnish protection for those who want to work for the lines under government possession.

Mr. Truman dusted off a 1916

Bans Lifted By Railroads

(By The Associated Press)

THE threatened nation-wide railroad strike was called off Monday night, but some industries and railways already had encountered some confusion.

Many of the embargoes clamped down by 88 class-one railroads were speedily being lifted, but not before many shipments of perishable foods, running into thousands of carloads, had been delayed.

Also, partial carload shipments of other merchandise were stopped by many lines.

Produce Prices Soar

Since Saturday, prospective passengers on some roads had been warned they might not be able to complete their trip if the arrival time at their final destination was scheduled for Tuesday.

The strong strike indications which persisted until late Monday caused drastic preparatory curtailment of services by the railroads.

The slow-down sent produce prices soaring in New York City and other large metropolitan centers. In California, more than 10,000 agricultural workers were laid off. Growers harvesting vegetables and citrus fruits in California and Texas had begun to count their losses in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Railroads Act Quickly

The strike would have thrown into idleness most of the country's 1,300,00 railroad employes and nearly 500,000 coal miners as well as thousands in other industries faced with low coal piles and lack of transport.

However, some rail lines announced even before the results of the government seizure order became clear that full scale operations would be resumed.

The New York Central railroad cancelled previous plans for passenger train curtailment 40 minutes after the railroad seizure order was signed by President Truman. The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad also announced while union chiefs still debated their reaction that it planned to operate normally.

Truman Asks Congress For Remainder Of Recovery Funds

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today to appropriate the remaining $818,000,000 to help finance the $6,118,000,000 foreign recovery program.

He previously had asked for $5,300,000,000 to put the plan into operation. That is the amount destined for economic recovery of so-called Marshall plan European nations.

Of today's $818,000,000 request, $463,000,000 would go to China, $20,000,000 to Trieste, $275,000,000 to Greece and Turkey, and $6,000,000 to the international children's fund.

Stockhandlers Call Off Strike

CHICAGO, May 10 (INS)—CIO stockhandlers at the huge Chicago stockyards tonight accepted a company offer amounting to a 12-cent hourly pay raise and called off their strike scheduled for 12:01 a.m. Tuesday.

Local President Frank Monoghan said the proposal was accepted at a union meeting which followed day long conferences with management and U. S. Conciliation service.

The threatened strike would have paralyzed operations at the stock yards.

Raise Retroactive

Monoghan said the company gave the 400 local members a cent hourly raise, three weeks vacation for men with 20 years service; double time for holidays worked, and single-time for men not working holidays. Monoghan said the features of the contract amounted to a 12-cent pay boost.

The raise will be retroactive to April 4.

The stockhandlers, affiliated with the striking CIO United Packinghouse Workers, originally demanded a 29-cent hourly increase but reportedly had lowered their request to 12-cents.

Other Walkouts Set

Under the settlement the union contract is extended to Aug. 31, 1949, with a clause permitting reopening of talks on wages only in April, 1949.

Earlier the stockyards had informed livestock shippers today it would not accept cattle receipts tomorrow if the stockhandlers

Moscow Reveals Diplomatic Exchange

Soviets Agree With U.S. Plans For Talks

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Tuesday, May 11—The Moscow radio said early today the Russian government has agreed with a United States proposal for "discussion and settlement" of existing differences between the two nations.

The broadcast disclosed a diplomatic exchange between the two countries concerning relations between the war-time allies.

A Russian statement dated May 9, the radio said, followed a U. S. note, sent by Ambassador Walter B. Smith to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov May 4, which warned Russia against expecting any change in American foreign policy.

U. S. Contentions Rejected

The radio's paraphrase of Smith's statement said the recently formed "European union of nations and the United States of America, alarmed at the tendencies of Soviet policy, had united for mutual defense."

The broadcast, while expressing the Russians' willingness to discuss Soviet-American differences, gave no hint of when or how representatives of the two countries would get together.

The Russian statement, according to the radio, rejected American contentions that Soviet policy was at the root of worsening Russian-American relations.

Text Is Broadcast

The radio broadcast the text of the American note which Smith wrote was put forward so there "will be no misunderstanding. Its main points were:

1. U. S. policy, which "has become sufficiently definite of late," is supported by a majority of Americans and "will continue to be pursued energetically in the future."

2. "Internal political situations such as, for instance, the forthcoming (American) elections" have no influence at all on this policy.

3. The U. S. government has "no hostile or aggressive intentions" toward Russia.

4. "An economic crisis will not in any way touch the industrial capacity of the United States of America . . . "

The American note closed with the assurance that the door to discussion of American-Russian problems stands open.

Russian Note Outlined

The main points of the Russian note were:

1. Russia has a "positive attitude" toward improving Soviet-American relations.

2. Russia "is in agreement with" the U. S. proposal for "discussion and settlement" of existing differences.

3. Russia rejects the U. S. con-

Jewish Forces Making Gains

JERUSALEM, May 10.—Jewish shock troops drove the Arabs from barricades across the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway today and battled for the heights commanding the vital supply route.

While the battle raged 10 miles west of Jerusalem, the International Red Cross awaited a written request from Arab and Jewish authorities to convert the Holy City into a neutral zone.

(A dispatch from Haifa said Safad in upper Galilee was taken today by the Jews after a 10-day battle and Arabs were fleeing the town.

Withdrawal Confirmed

(This was confirmed in an Arab army communique from Damascus. It said Arab troops had withdrawn from the town at 3:45 a. m. after fierce fighting with superior Haganah forces.)

Jacques De Reynier, a Red Cross representative, told a news conference the organization already had received verbal assurances of cooperation from Arab and Jewish leaders.

If the Red Cross plan is placed in operation, Jerusalem and its suburbs would become like a giant hospital area, "a place of refuge which all may enter, respected by all armies," De Reynier said. The plan would entail disarming all Jewish and Arab fighters in the city. A temporary

Lewis Suggests New Wage Talks

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—It was the hard coal operators's turn today to get the bad news from John L. Lewis.

Lewis told them that, come July 10, he intends to end the contract covering 80,000 anthracite workers.

Without saying what his demands would be, Lewis suggested that wage conferences begin May 20. The present contract—which says either party can end it with a 30-day notice—was drafted in 1946.

Conforms With Law

Today's 60-day notice conforms with the provisions of the Taft-Hartley act, and is similar to a notice the soft coal operators got on April 30.

But there the similarity ends.

Lewis usually starts the soft coal discussions by setting off a few sticks of verbal dynamite.

To the hard coal owners he said:

"We will be glad to have your answer or suggestions . . ."

The notice was given in a letter to Ralpt E. Taggart, chairman of the anthracite operators committee.

Most of the news was in two typical, non-stop Lewis sentences. The first sentence had 88 words,

Tornado Rips Farm Buildings, Damages Airport In Indiana

MISHAWAKA, Ind., May 10. (INS)—A tornado ripped through a three-mile square area near Mishawaka tonight, disrupting communications and destroying farm structures.

The Michawaka municipal airport was hit, one plane being completely destroyed and portions of the hangar splintered.

Eyewitnesses said the tornado first struck a huge barn four miles east of South Bend, Ind., and then uprooted trees. The trees blocked a highway adjacent the airport.

(The force of the tornadic winds imbedded 16 slabs of timber, 2 by 4, on the Mishawaka air strip.

Truman Hopes To Put GOP On Spot With Farm Program Plan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 10—President Truman seized upon the farm problem as a 1948 campaign issue today with plans for a message to Congress this week on long range agricultural legislation.

The idea originated with retiring Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and was put in final shape at a White House conference of Democratic leaders just after Anderson formally left the cabinet to run for the Senate.

Anderson has told friends he believes such a plea to Congress would put the Republicans "on the spot."

Mr. Truman officially accepted Anderson's resignation today and almost immediately summoned his party's congressional leaders to a 45-minute session.

Emerging from that meeting, Senate Democratic leader Barkley told reporters the message will go to the capitol "within a few days."

Barkley said Mr. Truman will ask for "adequate appropriation" to continue the government farm program "particularly on soil conservation."

He recalled that the President in his budget message asked for

Europeans Take Step Toward Federation

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 10. (AP)—Delegates to the unofficial congress of Europe approved unanimously today the principle of yielding some sovereign rights to permit creation of a European federation.

After taking that action they heard this warning from Winston Churchill, foremost advocate of a United States of Europe:

"We have many foes throughout the world. There are forces at work which would forbid even this gathering.

"Let us confront all who would wish to sabotage this conference, and they are in many countries, so that the great will of the people of Europe shall prevail."

Churchill's impromptu speech—a plea for unity—closed the four-day congress.

The resolution calling for yielding soveriegn rights asked also the creation of a European assembly the appointment of a commission to draft a charter of human rights and establishment of a court of justice to enforce those rights. The assembly would be chosen by parliaments of the participating nations from among their members and others.

Several Burned When Barge Explodes After Collision

NEW ORLEANS, May 10. (AP)—One barge exploded and burned tonight when the tugs Southern City and Leo collided in the Mississippi river a few miles upstream from New Orleans.

The tug boat Bob Francis, which went to the rescue, picked up seven or eight survivors and took the Southern City and one barge in tow.

Captain Nolan Eschete of the Bob Francis said some of the survivors were badly burned. They were put ashore at Avondale near here, for transfer to the Marine hospital in New Orleans.

Italians Clash On New Chief

ROME, May 11 (Tuesday) (INS)—Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza withdrew from the Italian presidential contest early today when the leftists threatened a walkout from the chamber of deputies.

The Communists and leftwing Socialists threatened to quit the chamber, where both houses of parliament yesterday began balloting for a president, because of strong opposition to Sforza. He is backed by the Christian Democrats.

Voting Deadlocked

The leftists, who are backing provisional president Enrico De Nicola for president, also protested the "steamroller tactics" of the Christian Democrats.

Monday balloting became deadlocked when neither Sforza nor De Nicola could attain a two-thirds majority required to elect during the first three ballots.

After the third ballot, election is by a simple majority.

Hurried Meetings Held

The Communist charges shook Christian Democratic ranks and hurried meetings were held late last night. Some sections of the Christian Democratic party threatened to bolt party discipline, which demanded support for Sforza, when the third ballot is taken later today. Sforza then withdrew his candidacy.

House GOP Group Okays Bill To Admit Refugees To America

WASHINGTON, May 10. (INS)—A large majority of the House Republican Steering committee approved today the Fellows bill to admit to the United States 200,000 displaced persons from Germany, Austria, and Italy over a two-year period.

Speaker Martin announced, however, that the bill will not be given the green light for House passage until GOP members have been canvassed to determine their reaction to the legislation.

Some of the GOP leaders opposed it, he disclosed, and an effort will be made to ascertain how general this opposition may be.

It was learned that the bill will not be called up at all if it appears that it may be defeated

GOP RIVALS TO CROSS SWORDS

Dewey Agrees To Radio Debate With Stassen Over Red Issue

(By International News Service)

BEND, ORE., May 10.—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York agreed tonight to a nation-wide radio debate with Harold E. Stassen over the latter's proposal to outlaw the Communist party.

The governor's decision to cross swords with his arch rival in Oregon's Republican primary came shortly after the abandonment of a railroad strike which threatened to call him back to New York.

No date was set for the radio debate which will be one full hour.

Dewey sent a telegram to Dr. Peter Odegard, president of Portland's Reed college whose invitation had been accepted by Stassen earlier.

Dewey said:

"Many thanks for your cordial invitation.

"While I usually disapprove of personal debates between Republicans, because they tend to weaken and divide our party, I regard the proposal to outlaw the Communist party as so dangerous to our freedom and the security of this country that I think a full discussion of it under the auspices of the Multnomah county Republican central committee, using every

FOOD CONSERVATION

THE United States Department of Agriculture has gone all out in a food conservation program and so much material on the subject comes across the desk, it seems a shame to toss all of it in the wastebasket.

By the way, did you know that in place of meatless Tuesday, which has been rescinded by the government, consumers are now requested to do without meat on any one day of their own choice each week.

The main idea back of the conservation program is to retard inflation in food prices and to save food in support of the government's foreign policy.

Here are a few specific suggestions on food conservation that a homemaker might welcome, provided she is not observing them already:

Don't buy or bake more bread than is needed. Carefully stack and store left-over bread. Remember slices of bread, half loaves and whole loaves accumulate and might eventually find their way into the garbage can.

Store bread in refrigerator before slicing for Melba toast to prevent waste in cutting.

Use heels or end slices, stale bread and broken crackers for crumbs, stuffing, desserts, topping and in some casserole and main dishes. (It's our opinion women have been doing that for years.)

Use rolled oats or bread crumbs in meat loaves or croquettes. They absorb the meat juices and prevent shrinkage.

Don't cook cheese at high temperature. This hardens the protein, changes the flavor and texture and makes it less palatable. Cheese is cooked when it is melted.

Cook vegetables in small quantities, as near the time of serving as possible and save water in which they are cooked for soups, sauces and gravies.

Watch the amount of lettuce served with salad as some is usually left on the plate.

Plan attractive vegetable combination entrees.

Use more fruit—cooked or raw for desserts rather than pastries and cake that require flour.

Use apples frequently for deserts.

Use a combination of dried prunes and apricots for desserts.

Encourage the use of boiled and other salad dressings that do not use oil.

HOW THEY BEGAN

CHARLES Dickens is called the father of the woman's club movement in the United States. This is why:

Early in 1868 the Press club of New York gave a dinner honoring Dickens. Mrs. J. C. Croly, Alice and Phoebe Carey and other newspaperwomen seeking admittance were told that no women were wanted. So Mrs.Croly, in March 1868, organized a club of her own—composed entirely of women. This was the Sorosis club. Sorosis means sister.

It is now described as "mother" of the General Federation of Women's clubs which today represents a membership of some 3,000,000 women in this country and abroad. Several thousand of them, including a number from Texas, will meet in Portland, Ore., the latter part of May.

ONE of the resolutions to be introduced at the meeting will ask the GFWC to "encourage sobriety and temperance." Holding that the consumption of alcoholic beverages in the United States has reached "alarming proportions," the proposed resolution will deplore:

"1. The promotion of drinking through increasing intensive national advertising by radio, newspaper and magazine, and

2. Inclusion in motion pictures of drinking scenes which do not further the plot of the story."

Circus Decorations Featured At Dinner

A circus theme prevailed in decorations for the dinner given by Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary society Saturday night as a courtesy to Lubbock High school juniors and seniors who are members of that church.

The banquet room was decorated to resemble the Big Top; a miniature parade, complete with clowns and balloons, was main decor for the table and place cards were in an elephant motif. Three men who served the tables were dressed as clowns.

Miss Cordie Mae Parr, 1947 graduate of Lubbock High school and a student at Wayland college, Plainview, was ring master.

Invocation was by Rev. C. J. McCarty.

The program included vocal selections in a circus theme by Miss Velma Umphfreys, accompanied by Miss Eulalie Burke; class prophecy, Joan Crawford; comical songs by group, led by Connie Wood; inspiration talk, Miss Mary Grindstaff of Seminole; benediction, Gary Martin.

Mesdames Walter Y. Wells and Henry Buell were in charge of general arrangements.

Twenty attended.

Italians Facing Many Problems In Long-Range Recovery Plan

By EARL J. JOHNSON
United Press Staff Writer

ROME, May 10—The American taxpeyer will be disappointed if he expects his European recovery program dollars to put Italy on her feet quickly. Too much is wrong with this war-torn country for an early cure.

Over the long haul, ERP will help:

If the political pot doesn't boil over.

If the government can hold the line against further inflation.

If the recovery money can be kept from leaking into channels of political patronage.

Political Scene Quiet

At the moment the political scene is comparatively quiet. The leaders of the 8,000,000 Italians who voted Communist last month are not likely to make serious trouble for the government while fresh supplies and money are flowing in from America. This should give Premier Alcide De Gasperi a breathing spell in which to work out his economic reforms.

What are these reforms and how will the ERP help put them into effect? Italian government and American embassy people speak most frequently of agrarian reform. This does not mean taking land away from big absentee owners and giving it to sharecroppers. It means making the soil produce more, especially in the south, where the soil is worn out and there is not enough rain.

Many Improvements Needed

The south needs reservoirs, irrigation systems and vast supplies of chemicals to bring the soil back to life. It needs roads from farms to markets. The richly productive valleys in the south are so isolated they can't reach a profitable market with their produce, and the growers have to sell their fruit locally for a penny a pound.

So when the government talks of agrarian reform, it means the government plans to build reservoirs, aqueducts and good roads in the south and fertilize the land. It has no plan to reform sharecropping or make social reforms, although De Gasperi tells visitors he is determined to expand the country's school system.

Obviously this is a long term program. Even if it begins at once, many years will pass before the results can be seen in any index of Italian living standards.

Gas Almost Choked Him

"My stomach swelled with gas until I could hardly breathe, said one man living near here: "I couldn't sleep, in fact had horrible nights. Was always constipated. I got INNER-AID. Oh! what relief! It worked so much gas from me that my stomach reduced 4 inches. Can breathe freely again. Sleep soundly now. Bowels also have been given a Great Cleansing."

INNER-AID is the new mixture of 12 Juices from Nature's Herb. It has relieved many people who had never been really helped before by any medicine. Taken shortly before meals it mixes with your food, thus eliminating the poisons that foster stomach trouble. It will cleanse the bowels, clear gas from stomach, enliven liver and remove old bile from the system. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores. Adv.

Eclipse Study May Increase Accuracy Of Flying Bombs

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Guided missiles in any future war may find their marks more precisely because of findings from the weekend eclipse of the sun.

The National Geographic Society steers clear of any such interpretation today in describing as "thoroughly worthwhile" the results of its carefully planned study over a 5,320-mile arc stretching from Burma to the Aleutians.

But a prime objective was to turn up data to recheck world maps—for both navigation and aviation. One thing bothering guided missiles experts is the inaccuracies they fear may exist in some of their charts.

For instance, a previous eclipse showed Capetown, South Africa, to have been mislocated by a full mile.

Weather blotted out Saturday's eclipse at fire of the seven observation sites arranged by the National Geographic. But the other two—at Bagkok, Siam, and Rebun Jima, off the northwest tip of Japan, reported good luck.

Expeditions at Wu-K'ang, China; Tenan, Korea, and Mt. Adagdak on Adak island in the Aleutians reported heavy cloud cover. Doubtful results were reported from parties at Mergui, Burma, and Mt. Moffett, Adak.

Nevertheless, Dr. Lyman J. Briggs, chairman of the society's research committee, said the Rebun Jima and Bangkok observations seemed to assure that scientists will be able to tie together the geodetic triangulation networks — or map-making guides—of greater British India and Japan, and possibly Korea as well.

These triangulation networks established independently in each country and, because of inaccessible regions or bodies of water, often can be bridged only by solar observations. These are best made under eclipse conditions.

The society said specially equipped B-29s which flew above the Aleutians weather may have been able to get pictures which will permit tying the U. S.-Canadian network with that of the Orient.

It probably will require several months to evaluate the full results of the observations.

Home Study Group To Meet At Tech

Senator To Discuss State Redistricting

SAN ANTONIO, May 10 (U.P.)—The need for legislative redistricting in Texas will be the subject of a talk here tomorrow by state Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg.

Kelley's talk will be before the annual meeting of the board of directors of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, Ray Leeman, executive vice president of the organization, said today.

The state has not been redistricted since 1921, Kelley says, pointing to his own district which has increased in population from less than 200,000 in 1930 to almost 800,000 in 1948.

Kelley is expected to urge that widespread attention be directed to the state constitutional amendments providing a state board of five state officials who would redistrict Texas if the Legislature failed to do so. The proposal will be submitted at the November general election.

The chamber will elect officers and directors for the next fiscal year.

Driver Jumps Before Train Hits Automobile Near Slaton Road

Jumping from his automobile just before it went onto a railroad track and was struck by a train about 9:50 p. m. Sunday, John L. Rainey of Slaton highway escaped serious injury.

The accident happened on the Buffalo lakes road near Slaton highway. The train was going southward.

Rainey told Jack Reeves of the Department of Public Safety he was going westward and attempted to apply his brakes beside the tracks, but found they would not "hold." He jumped and a minute later the train struck the automobile, flinging it 75 to 100 feet off the tracks.

He suffered a minor leg injury and did not go to a hospital.

Seminole Approves Plan To Advertise Town's Resources

SEMINOLE, May 10—The first of a series, on a merchants cooperative plan, will be placed at the four main points of entry to Seminole.

The Western Sign company, operating in Texas and New Mexico presented this proposal to the Chamber of Commerce, and it was decided to endorse the offering if local enterprises were given first opportunity to bid on the proposition.

The boards are to be 54 feet by 13 feet, of which the center section 10 by 16½ feet will be devoted to a fitting "Welcome to Seminole, Texas", furnishing the altitude, estimated population, and illustrating the natural resources of the area in a large picture showing oil wells, cattle, and farm products. The 54 by three skirt will read: "Oil—Ranching—Farming" in large letters. The lettering on the center section and skirt will be done in colorful scotchlite which reflects brilliantly by car lights at night.

Normal life in an ant colony centers about one or more egg-laying queens, attended and supplied by numerous workers which she herself has produced.

Personality Tests Proposed As Matrimonial Procedure

DALLAS, May 10 (U.P.)—Specialized personality tests before tying the knot were endorsed today by a Dallas pastor as a means that would go a long way toward preventing a "wrecked civilization."

Dr. William C. Jones, pastor of Central Christian church, said that temperament tests should be given all students. He explained that such a close examination of each student would determine social aptitudes, as well as psychic preferences, weaknesses, strengths and general temperament.

"We shall surely wreck our civilization if we do not speedily salvage the home," he declared.

Dr. Jones concluded his Mother's day sermon with the thought that young men and women contemplating matrimony would make "far fewer mistakes" if their case histories were made clear through the temperament tests.

Gaines County Meet Set Wednesday

SEMINOLE, May 10—The board of directors of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce have called a special meeting of all clubs, organizations, groups and interested citizens in Gaines county, to be held in the district courtroom, 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 19th.

In announcing the meeting, Chairman Homer W. Porter, of the agricultural committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce stated, "If we are to have a Gaines county fair this year, we will have to start planning without delay." "Premium lists, prizes, printing, publicity, programming of events, financing, and special committee work will all take a great deal of time."

"The proposed Gaines Fair association should be entirely divorced from the chamber of commerce and we urgently request every organization in Gaines county to attend this important meeting, to determine the desires of the majority, to set a date which will not conflict with other area County Fairs, to suggest a method of financing, and to generally plan the occasion."

"We would like to have the date set so we can enjoy the opening of the agricultural exhibit building now being completed in Seminole, also have a public banquet and soil conservation meeting during the period", Porter said, "however, all of these things should be the result of action taken at the called meeting."

"While this is an area project, we feel confident that the office and facilities of the chamber of commerce will be made available to the Association, if and when requested."

Porter urged that the date of the meeting be noted on calendars and desk pads, to preclude the necessity of circularizing the entire county.

T-Sgt. Williamson Completes Army Advanced Finance Course

T/Sgt. Don T. Williamson, son of Mrs. Jewell Williamson, 2016 Ninth, was graduated on May 4 from the Army Finance School, it has been announced by Col. Leonard H. Sims, assistant chief of finance and commanding officer of the Army Finance Center in St. Louis, Missouri, where the school is located.

Sgt. Williamson's class included 32 enlisted men, and has been in session for the past sixteen weeks. This course, the advanced finance enlisted course is made up of noncommissioned officers of the fourth grade or higher, who have been selected by disbursing officers for further training. The course qualified them for principal or chief clerk in any finance office, and is usually held three times a year.

The Army Finance school trains finance personnel to staff the Army's disbursing network, which even at present continues on a grobal scale. Wherever troops are stationed finance men are sent to see to it that they receive pay on time. Since all matters of pay and allowance for soldiers are governed by law, the Finance department men must be well versed in the proper application of such laws. They are in effect spending Uncle Sam's money and are consequently subject to strict accounting for all expenditures of Federal funds.

Lubbock High Junior Class To Hold Annual Picnic Today

The Junior class of Lubbock Senior High school will hold its annual spring picnic from 1 to 5 o'clock this afternoon in Mackenzie park.

Students who have no way to the picnic will meet at the corner of Eighteenth and Ave. T at 1 p.m., and those students having cars and drivers licenses are requested to stop and "pick up a load" before journeying to the park.

Each junior who has not already purchased a forty cent food ticket is requested to do so before 9 o'clock this morning.

The group will meet west of the amusement center at 1:30 p.m., where a full round of entertainment is scheduled before "chow" is served at 4:30.

Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw, W. C. Watts and other faculty members will accompany the group as sponsors.

CITIES CLEANER, BRIGHTER

Three Years After War, Soviet People Live And Look Better

By WALTER CRONKITE
United Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, May 10.—Moscow's man-in-the-streets and the city in which he lives look far better today than three years ago when the Germans surrendered to end the war in Europe.

(The average man has gained weight and is better dressed. The city is cleaner, brighter, gayer and more accomodating.

(Mid-way during the third year of peace, the government announced that the production of Soviet industry, despite the pounding it took from the German invaders, passed its pre-war 1940 record. It was producing by October, more than it ever had in history.

Official Story Told

(That story is told in the offitial figures of iron and steel produced, of coal mined, of automobiles and tractors rolled off assembly lines.

(But the story of Soviet recovery which the visitor here can see is in the faces of the people of Moscow and in the appearance of their city.

(I have lived through two years of that reconstruction with the Russian people. During that time the improvement has been like the movement of the hands of a clock —imperceptible at the moment but well-defined at the end of the hour.

(Today's Moscow street scene bears little resemblance to that of two years ago. New suits and coats no longer are a rarity. Many of the women have discarded their shawls and are wearing new and becoming hats.

Many New Street Cars

There are many new streamlined street cars and buses. There still are rush hour queues at some of the busiest points, but no more so than in many western cities. New taxicabs are available.

(The food situation has improved considerably in recent months, and particularly since the lowering of prices and the revaluation of the ruble last December.

(At some of Moscow's busiest intersections there are traffic jams these days — evidence of the healthy improvement of private automobile transport. Soviet factories are turning out enough small and medium sized cars now so they can offer them to the public for sale. Hundreds of them are on Moscow streets.

Public Services Resumed

(Dozens of little public services have been resumed. A wine shop advertises that it delivers. Several theatres have ticket delivery service, and the airline will accept reservations by telephone. Purchases in stores are now neatly wrapped, and a drive to improve the courtesy of sales people has paid dividends.

(Many of the buildings have been cleaned and painted. Restoration work on the age-old Kremlin has been continuing almost uninterruptedly.

(The shop windows are cleaner, fuller and brighter. A gigantic tree-planting program has relieved the barrenness of many of Moscow's central streets and boulevards.

(Scarcely a major street is without some sort of building or housing project, usually of major proportions.

(Household furnishings are available again—things like mattresses and lamp shades and pots and pans—to make life easier. Refrigerators are on sale, and radios, and bicycles.

(The food is good and vodka and champagne are plentiful at Moscow's several cafes where the bands play until 4 a. m.)

Joseph G. West Of Slaton Is Promoted To New Santa Fe Job

Joseph G. West, 42, division engineer of the Slaton division of the Santa Fe Railway has been appointed district engineer of the Santa Fe's Gulf Lines at Galveston, according to announcement made Monday by R. B. Ball, vice president and general manager of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway.

West succeeds William T. Donoho, who has been appointed chief engineer of the Gulf Lines succeeding the late W. H. Rochester.

West began working for the Santa Fe as an axman in June of 1922 and advanced through various phases of railroad engineering with an outstanding record at Pampa, San Angelo, Amarillo, Clovis, Wellington, Kans., and Slaton. He was appointed division engineer of the Panhandle & Santa Fe at Slaton August 1, 1942.

105-Year-Old Civil War Vet Sole Member At Encampment

ST. LOUIS, May 10 (INS)—William Henry Asborn of Joplin, Mo., 105 years young, was the entire works today at the 66th annual encampment of the Missouri department of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The Civil war veteran made the 312-mile trip to St. Louis by bus.

Osborn said he probably will be the only Civil war soldier at the encampment because other members are unable to make the trip. He has been commander of the G. A. R., Missouri department, since 1942. Osborn saw duty as a hospital steward in an Indiana regiment during the war between the states.

The walls of many residences and public buildings in Buenos Aires and other Argentine cities are covered with multi-colored glazed tiles.

Westerners Trounce Harvesters, 11-5

Alderson Blasts Two Home Runs; Davidson Chalks Up Third Win

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lubbock High's undefeated Westerners, paced by the long-range hitting of Jack Alderson and Billy Tatum, pounded out a convincing 11-5 victory over the Pampa Harvesters Monday afternoon at Chapman field to chalk up their sixth consecutive loop win.

The Westerner nine staged one of its most impressive exhibitions against the Harvesters—Denny Davidson hurled a two-hitter, the fielding was efficient and the Lubbock schoolboys connected for 13 safeties off curve-ball artist George Gamblin. Davidson struck out 10 men during his five stanza mound job to notch his third triumph and only one Harvester reached first base until the fifth inning.

Pampans Take Lead

The Pampans, who had a three won—three lost record until the defeat by the Westerners, had been rated as one of the last two major hurdles blocking the Lubbock drive to a district championship, but after Monday's triumph only Amarillo's Golden Sandies remained as a challenger.

The Harvesters took a slender lead in the tussle in the first frame when Second-sacker Raymond Hernandez banged out a scratchy single to short, advanced to third on a sacrifice and stolen base and then crossed the plate on a passed ball.

The Westerners bounced into the front position in the home half of the initial stanza, however, when Charles Galey and Jack Alderson drew free passes to first and Dorrance Guy, Dwight Moore and Royce Jones slammed successive singles.

Alderson Gets Homer

Continuing to pile up a safe margin, Davidson led off the Lubbock half of the second inning with a walk and Tatum, after Bobby Griffin had gone down swinging, blasted a sharp double. Galey followed with a walk, then Alderson smashed the first of his two round-trippers to deep center field. Guy worked Gamblin for a free pass, Moore was hit by a pitch and Jones grounded out to the mound to end the four-run offensive.

Another Lubbock tally chalked

Another Lubbock tally crossed the plate in the third when Tatum singled in Griffin, and the Westerners chalked up a pair of runs in the fourth on Alderson's second four- bagger and bingles by Guy and Moore.

After being set down in order during the second, third and fourth frames, the Pampa nine staged a belated rally that was good for four runs. Davidson, suffering his only control lapse of the afternoon, issued walks to Jim Hyatt and Bob Nash, then Jimmy Cox reached first on a fielder's choice that was bobbled by Galey. Davidson struck out the next two batters—Jimmy Parker and Harold Cox—but walked Hernandez and allowed Gamblin a single. After another pass to Charley Laffoon, Gamblin was tagged at home to end the effort.

Lefty Jackie Martyn took over the twirling chores for the Lubbock nine in the last two frames and set the visitors down without a hit.

The Westerners are scheduled to meet the winless Brownfield Cubs at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at Chapman field in their next conference test, officials announced.

The District 1-AA standings:

TEAMS	W	L	Pct.
LUBBOCK	6	0	1.000
Amarillo	5	1	.833
Pampa	3	4	.429
Borger	2	3	.400

Henderson's Bout Is Cancelled By Injury

Bill Henderson of Levelland, who has won his first four professional fights, has injured his right hand and a scheduled fight tonight in New York City against Bill Forde has been cancelled.

Henderson hurt the knuckle on his right hand in his first professional fight a month ago and partially concealed the injury. He insisted on continuing to fight, scoring a knockout, technical knockout and decision in that order.

But Saturday, during a routine training session, he re-injured his knuckle to such an extent that he went to the trainer about the pain. As a result, the fight was cancelled and he will be on the shelf for a while.

J. D. Kirkpatrick had the plaster cast taken off his left hand last week, according to reports from Manager Joe Vella's camp, but the light heavyweight probably won't see action for another two weeks.

Crosbyton Drubs Ralls, 12-5, In District 4-A Playoff Tilt

CROSBYTON, May 10. (Special)—Crosbyton High's smooth-working nine defeated the Ralls diamond team, 12-5, here this afternoon in the first game of a two-out-of-three playoff series to determine the champion of District 4-A.

Owen Crump hurled five-hit ball for the Crosbyton schoolboys, while Ralls' Billy Woods was giving up seven safeties. Each team made five errors.

The second tilt is scheduled Wednesday afternoon at Ralls, officials announced.

Loboes Trample Gassers, 17-4

LAMESA, May 10. (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes turned killers again tonight, rolling to their second straight victory over the league-leading Borger Gassers, 17-4.

Gil Turner, who is leaving the Loboes for another league, and Manager George Sturdivant shared batting honors, each with perfect nights at the plate. Turner smashed five for five and Sturdivant had four for four. All his blows were extra-base hits, two doubles and two homers, his first of the season.

Behind this support, J. B. Garland rolled to his third victory against two defeats, although he turned in one of the better pitching stints of the league this season.

The defeat left Borger in first place when Abilene also met defeat.

Second Baseman Fiarito was out of the game with an ankle sprained Sunday, but Walt Buckel has reported and took over the shortstop position for the first time this year.

Boston Victim Of Triple Play

Tribe Sweeps Series With Red Sox, 12-7

BOSTON, May 10. (AP) — With Manager Lou Boudreau starting a triple-play and Larry Doby and Joe Gordon homering, the Cleveland Indians made a clean sweep of a three game series with the Boston Red Sox today with a 12-7 triumph.

Boudreau launched the triple-killing when Pinch-Hitter Bill Goodman lined to him in the eighth inning. The Indian's pilot double-up Wally Moses at second base and gave Gordon ample time to nail Birdie Tebbetts off first.

The Indians greeted Dave (Boo) Ferriss with a three-run blasting in the first inning on Thurman Tucker's leadoff triple, a Doby two-bagger, a single and three bases on balls as they batted around.

Ferriss departed after the second when Doby poled a tremendous drive into the right field stands on a first pitch and Gordon blasted into the Cleveland bull pen with Boudreau aboard.

Lefty Maurice McDermott took over the Boston mound and, after being hit hard, was yanked in the eighth to set the stage for the triple-play.

Braves Blank Cards, 6-0; Sain Gets Win

ST. LOUIS, May 10. (AP)—Johnny Sain, strong righthander of the Boston Braves, snapped the five-game winning streak of the St. Louis Cardinals tonight, 6 to 0. Although giving up 10 hits, nine of them singles, Sain was strong in the clutches and the Birds were never in the game after the Braves took an early lead. Earl Torgeson poled a three-run homer in the third.

Two Plains Softball Tilts Slated Tonight

Two games will feature the resumption of play tonight in the South Plains Softball League, with Thomas Tinkers meeting the strong Bluebonnet-Sunbeam nine and Golden Light Coffee facing Cloverlake Dairy.

The first game is expected to be a pitching duel between Bluebonnet's Jackie Neel, the ace of the league, and Tinkers' G. W. Warden, who hurled a no-hit, no-run game Saturday night in the Texas Softball loop.

This has been designated Ladies Night at Jumbo Webster Field by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the ladies will be admitted free, except for an eight-cent federal tax.

The first game will begin at 8 p.m.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Coach Marlin Hayhurst and his Lubbock High cinder path squad have returned home from the state Interscholastic league meet at Austin and at least one of the boys who copped honors in the meet Saturday participated in the 11-5 baseball victory over the Pampa Harvesters Monday afternoon. Jack Alderson, veteran center fielder, took a very creditable third place in the high jump in the state AA competition, won first place in the AA number sense (mental arithmetic) event of the literary division, then paced the Westerner baseball team to the conference win Monday with two homers and a single.

Alderson's Lubbock teammates are "riding" him very roughly as a result of the number sense triumph. Every time he returns to the bench from a time at bat they inquire, very seriously, "What's your batting average now, Jack?" Other players seem to get quite a bit of fun out of asking good-humored Jack, "What is the cube root of 3677?" or, "What is 227 multiplied by 49?" And the boys say that Jack usually gives them the answer with a minimum of head-scratching and mental effort.

Jack, incidentally, scored a moral victory for the Lubbock track squad when he beat Odessa's famed Byron (Santone) Townsend in the finals of the high jump. All year the Westerner team had watched the "Big Hoss" of the Broncs nullify their best efforts in meets by copping three to five first place positions. But at Austin Big Byron could only clear five feet, 10 inches, while Alderson skimmed over five feet, 11 inches, for the third place points.

A former resident of Seminole who visited his old home town last weekend has turned in the report that the Indian fans, although happy their speedsters won the state Class A title, are a little disappointed that they just won by a two-point margin. The Seminole fans are convinced that, with the team at full strength, they could have piled up a greater lead. And perhaps that is one of the reasons for the Indians' success on the gridiron, in the gym and on the cinder paths—100 per cent backing from the fans.

TRYING 'EM FOR SIZE—Harry (The Hat) Walker, Philadelphia Phillies' star outfielder and National league batting champion last season, tries on one of the 20 caps he wears out each year with his habit of tugging at the peak while at bat. Phillie property custodian "Unk" Russell holds the caps.

Mayor's Cup Finals Set Sunday

Telford Edges Jack Trammel In Tourney

The quarter-final rounds in the Mayor's Cup tournament now being conducted at the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club ended Sunday with Lindsey Telford, tourney medalist, squeaking through to a tight victory.

Telford edged past Jack Trammel 1-up in 18 holes to enter the semi-final round next Sunday, along with Frosty Bishop, A. B. Holton and Ken Holton.

And don't be too surprised if the finals should be an entirely personal affair between the Holton's. A. B. slipped past Fred Hinson with ease, winning 5 and 4, while Ken took Dexter Walthall's number, 4 and 3.

Bishop went into the semi-final rounds by winning by default from Pete Felton.

Results Are Given

Other results in play Sunday follow:

First flight, Clint Kirkpatrick defeated Truman Hutson, 3 and 1, and Ken Leslie defeated Pete Gregg 5 and 4.

Second flight, Alan Orr defeated Sled Allen by default and J. D. Horne defeated W. C. Edwards, also by default.

Third flight, C. W. Manse defeated R. H. Canady, 5 and 3, and W. S. Moncrief defeated Horace Gearhardt by default.

In the championship bracket, semi-final rounds will be fired over the 18-hole route in the morning, with the championship 18 holes being accomplished Sunday afternoon.

Women's International Bowling Congress At Dallas Completed

DALLAS, May 10. (INS)—The 1948 Women's International Bowling congress at Dallas ended tonight, but the last ball clicked on the pins in anti-climax.

The tournament, with the exception of the doubles, has been over for all practical purposes for several days. The windup rollers offered no challenges for the leaders.

In the doubles event Edna Harrold and Marge Slogar of Cleveland, O., and Merle Matthews and Margaret Cass of Beverly Hills, Calif., tied for first place with 1,188.

Hubber-Amarillo Game Postponed

High winds, which refused to die down before game time, and a bone-chilling cool wave last night forced postponement of the second Amarillo Gold Sox-Lubbock Hubber baseball game at Rosenthal Field.

After waiting until the last minute to postpone the contest, the management decided that it was just too cool and too windy for decent ball. Several hundred fans already in the stands, as well as many hundred more driving to the park, agreed, even though most of them were prepared for freezing temperatures.

Tonight at 8:15, weather permitting, the Abilene Blue Sox make their initial 1948 appearance at Rosenthal Field. Manager Art Bowland's club currently is in second place and pressing Borger for the lead.

The Hubbers and the Blue Sox have split two games thus far this year. The local crew came from behind Friday night with a seven-run splurge in the ninth inning to lick the Sox 13-7. Saturday night was a different story, with the Sockers scoring 11 runs in the first four innings to even the series at one apiece, winning 11-8.

Billy George "Cotton" Russell, the 18-year old ex-Fort Worth high school hurler, will go to the mound tonight in search of his second victory. Wednesday night's hurler will be Red Ramsey, the 20-year old sensation optioned to Lubbock by Dallas over the week end.

Board Reviews Condon's Right To Have Restricted Atomic Data

WASHINGTON, May 10 (INS)—Commerce Secretary Sawyer asserted today that the Atomic Energy commission is reviewing Dr. Edward U. Condon's authority to have access to "certain restricted atomic information."

Condon, head of the United States Bureau of Standards, has been charged by the House un-American Activities committee with being the "weakest link in our atomic security."

Sawyer told reporters that Condon, noted nuclear scientist, has agreed to disassociate himself from any new atomic energy projects until his case has been reviewed by the commission's loyalty board.

Review Postponed

President Truman's loyalty board was reported to have postponed any review of the Condon case until the study of the atomic commission board is completed.

Sawyer said the AEC is "reviewing with the advice of its personnel security review board, under the chairmanship of former Justice Owen J. Roberts, the clearance for access to certain restricted atomic information which was originally given to Dr. Condon. . ."

The secretary explained that at the time Condon received access to this information "the atomic energy program was in the hands of the Army." Sawyer said:

"Meanwhile, Dr. Condon, realizing the importance of the matters involved and the public interest in the security of the atomic energy program, has voluntarily agreed that, pending the commission's reveiew, he will restrict his activities and contacts so that he will acquire no new information with respect to atomic energy."

Given Clean Bill Of Health

A Commerce department Loyalty review board gave Condon a clean bill of health but the House un-American Activities committee obtained excerpts from a FBI report and charged he had associated with Russian agents.

Sawyer stated that he agreed with the opinion of his department's loyalty board that Condon has in no way endangered national security. The secretary added, however:

"I also concur in the action of former Commerce Secretary Harriman in asking the loyalty review board of the Civil Service commission to review the case in order that we may have a complete independent survey and finding in this important matter."

Scholarship Tests Are Set Saturday

Examinations for the annual Dunlap scholarship awards for high school seniors will be given from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the Aggie Memorial auditorium at Texas Technological college Saturday, May 15, James G. Allen, dean of men who will be in charge of the tests, has announced.

The scholarships are awarded from a $3,000 endowment set up by the Dunlap department stores in 1945 for the purpose of awarding 30 $100 scholarships to deserving high school seniors from Lubbock and eight adjoining counties each year. The adjoing counties include Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Hockley, Crosby, Terry, Lynn and Garza.

In selecting the students most eligible, the Dean of Men's office contacts each of the 43 high school principals in the nine counties who submit a list of the three senior students making the highest average in their high school work. These students are then invited to Texas Tech to take the examinations which consist of three objective type test and a personal interview. The 40 students making the highest score on all the examinations are awarded the scholarships, good only if they attend Texas Tech.

Half of the award is paid the student two months after beginning his college work provided that his grades are satisfactory at the half way point in the semester. In order to receive the other $50, which is payable at mid semester of his second term, the student must have made a grade point average of 2.00 for the first semester.

The awards were begun in 1945 with 20 scholarships being conferred. In 1946, 19 were awarded and in 1947 a total of 31 students received them. Rhetha Martin, manager of the Dunlap department store in Lubbock acts as administrator of the scholarships.

R. C. Mowery To Obtain Wool Samples For Analysis At Tech

R. C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological college, will visit two West Texas sheep ranches today and Wednesday to obtain wool samples for analysis in the wool processing research laboratories at the college.

Today he will visit the John Williams ranch near Eldorado where he will take samples from purebred Ramboulette sheep and Wednesday he will travel to the A. D. Harvey ranch near Cristoval for samples from purebred Columbian sheep.

The samples will be tested in the Texas Tech labs for length, strength and shrinkage, Mowery stated.

KERENS PIONEER DEAD

CORSICANA, May 10 (AP)—T. A. Crowley, 74, justice of the peace at Kerens for 25 years, died in a hospital here yesterday. Funeral services were planned at the Kerens Baptist church for this afternoon. Survivors include four sons, three daughters, four brothers, two sisters and 10 grandchildren.

Extradition Is Cancelled After Texas Officer Breaks Promise

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 10 (AP)—Gov. Sidney P. Osborn today cancelled extradition of an alleged swindler because "a Texas peace officer broke his word."

Milton Roe, the accused was expected to be freed from the county jail after the governor said he would not order his extradition as originally planned.

When Gov. Osborn signed Roe's extradition papers Saturday, he said Chester A. Holts, Orange county, Texas, police officer, promised not to pick Roe up until Roe had an opportunity to apply for a habeas corpus hearing.

The governor said Holts went immediately to the jail, showed extradition papers and headed for Texas with Roe. They were stopped in Tucson.

"I've issued a hundred such condition extraditions but this is the first time one of the officers broke his word," Gov. Osborn said. "Depriving a man of his legal rights is worse than any crime the accused could have committed."

The charge against Roe was filed in connection with a mining transaction.

Plans Made For Final Meeting Of Year For Sigma Xi Group

The Texas Technological college chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary research fraternity, will hold its final meeting of the year at 7:30 p. m. May 18 in the home of Dr. R. A. Studhalter at 2311 Eighteenth Street, Dr. W. A. Young, chapter president has announced.

Election of next year's officers and a talk by Dr. Young, retiring president, will be features of the program.

The chapter is planning to bring Dr. Joseph Kaplan of the Institute of Geophysics at the University of California at Los Angeles to Texas Tech some time in the fall for a two day lecture period, Dr. Young said. Subject of his lecture to Sigma Xi members and interested townspeople will be "The Upper Atmosphere of the Earth." The two-day arrangement was made so that Dr. Kaplan may have the opportunity to schedule one or more lectures elsewhere in Lubbock if he so desires.

Numerous Thefts Are Reported

Lubbock officers were investigating 'heavy hauls' made by thieves in rural areas during the week end and were studying reports of other offenses within the city ranging from alleged rape to petty theft.

Sheriff A. M. Bennett, of Lamesa, reported last night that there had been no new developments in an attempt to solve a $20,000 robbery there last Thursday night. The loot, mostly in large denomination bills and bonds, was stolen from the office of Bob Huff, Lamesa attorney.

Numerous materials were reported stolen from a house under construction by A. L. Walker of near Wolfforth. The property missing included a hot water heater, sink, paint and other items, the value of which was not determined.

Theft of materials from another house under construction was reported by L. E. Evans, of Lubbock route 6.

Evans, who lives 12 miles south of Lubbock on the Tahoka highway, told the sheriff's department the following materials and tools had been stolen there:

Materials Are Listed

1,000 feet of wire, two flood lights, hardware for a garage door and 20 other doors, a pipe wrench, a gum panel door, five sheets of wall paneling, two saws, two hammers, pipe fittings, five gallons of paint, five gallons of linseed oil, 1,000 feet of inside door trim or molding, a pipe cutter, a set of pipe threaders, a brace and several bits, seven bundles of slate-colored composition singles, and 50 feet of garden hose.

Dep. Sheriff George Eubank found that high winds had almost obliterated tire and human tracks, so that there were no immediate clues of value.

Another rural theft was reported by H. E. Mather who lives on the farm of Dr. H. H. Bidwell on route 5. Two batteries were taken from an irrigation well there, Mather said.

Other Investigations

Peace officers had a variety of other investigations under study, including a woman's informal complaint that she had been raped, a negro man's statement from a hospital that one of his eyes had been "knocked out" by a thrown rock, drunk driving, liquor law violation, and several instances of petty thievery inside the city limits.

Police, informed by a woman living next door that another woman was crying for help, went to a residence in 2600-block Ave. M and were admitted by a 27-year-old man who invited them in. They said a woman was in the house, crying. She claimed she had been raped by the man, who was arrested.

Did Not Live There

Investigators said neither the man nor the woman live at the address, and that the woman said she had been with the man at a dine and dance place earlier. She is the mother of two children, investigators said.

The complainant will have a chance to tell her story to district officials, probably later to a grand jury, officials said.

The man, police said, admitted being friendly with the woman, but denied he had forced his attentions.

The following judgments were taken by County Judge Walter Davies: A fine of $100 and court costs adjudged against each Fred Shaw and O. A. Alderson, who pleaded guilty of liquor law violation; a fine of $50 and costs against N. B. Hernandez, 27, of Idalou route 1, who pleaded guilty of drunk driving.

Will Post Bond

John Quincy Lyon, 51, pleaded innocent of drunk driving, and posted $600 bond for trial appearance, it was announced.

One hundred gallons of gasoline was stolen from a truck parked in 1500-block Ave. B, valued at $25, V. W. Parr complained.

Seven gallons of gasoline and a gas tank gap were stolen from the car of Mrs. John D. Smith, police were informed.

Ollie Filmore, described by police as a negro, informed police from a hospital bed that he was riding in a car in 2600-block East Ave. B when someone threw a rock that knocked out one of his eyes. He said he suspected a relative with whom he had quarreled. He said the relative was standing near the assault scene with a group of other persons. Investigation was continued.

Another negro was held for investigation into claims of Mary Williams, described as a negro living in 1900-block Ave. B, that he had struck her.

A Lubbock man who allegedly had been warned earlier by police against that offense was fined $25 for allowing his horses to roam on Lubbock streets.

Roland Nabors, of 219 North College, reported burglary of his residence during the week end. Between $5 and $6 was missing. Entrance was gained through a bathroom window, police said.

A report to police yesterday that an instrument and medicine bag had been stolen from Dr. Allen T. Stewart, of 3120 Twenty-first, had been canceled last night. The bag was taken by mistake by a relative, records showed.

WICHITA FALLS MAN DIES

WICHITA FALLS, May 10 (AP)—G. L. Atkinson, 49, supervisor at Ponca City, Okla., for the Continental Oil company experimental laboratory, died here today after an extended illness. His wife and hi parents, Dr. and Mrs. Curtis Atkinson of Wichita Falls, survive.

Truman Plans Appeal

$300,000,000 for soil conservation in the year beginning July 1, and Congress cut the sum to $225,000,000.

Mr. Truman "feels strongly" that the $300,000,000 is the minimum for the work, Barkley added.

He said the President did not go into full details of the forthcoming message, and no specific figures on price supports were discussed.

The senator said the price support program is being carried on now under the executive's war powers, and Mr. Truman will ask specifically for its extension.

The communication will also deal with any other farm powers expiring this year which need Congress' attention, Barkley said.

No specific date for the message was named but Barkley said it will come "this week." Mr. Truman will not deliver it in person.

Barkley said a successor for Anderson was not even discussed.

Anderson's Ideas Outlined

Anderson's idea seems to be that farmers should be convinced that:

(A) They have grown prosperous under Democratic administrations, and

(B) No other political party can make that claim.

Mr. Truman may have been thinking of the (A) part of this plan when he said in formally accepting Anderson's resignation:

"Thanks to your wise policies the farmers of the nation enjoy today the greatest prosperity in history . . . every American farmer can bear witness to the benefits which have accrued from your administration."

The (B) part of the plan already has been stressed by Anderson.

GOP Expected To Refuse

He thinks the Republican-controlled congress probably will refuse to act on any appeal from Mr. Truman for a long-range farm plan.

The Democrats then could say that the Republicans aren't interested in the farmers' lot.

Or, as Anderson told a recent Agriculture department gathering:

"The time for farmers to get a modern long-range farm program is before the coming election, and not after. There might be someone in the White House who would veto it, as did Republican presidents Coolidge and Hoover veto previous farm bills."

Some government price supports will expire—and others will drop to lower levels—on December 31 unless Congress acts before that date.

The following were invited to today's White House meeting:

Anderson, Democratic Senate leader Barkley (Kentucky), Democratic House leader Rayburn (Texas), Rep. John W. Flannagan, jr., (Va), leading Democrat on the House Agriculture committee, and Senator Lucas (D-Ill), who also has been active in farm matters.

Jewish Forces Gain

cease fire, agreed to Saturday by the Jews and Arabs, now prevails in Jerusalem.

Highway Control Sought

Two crack Haganah brigades and some aircraft made up the Jewish force in the highway fighting which swirled around the Bab El Wad gorge, site of previous bitter battles.

Having abandoned the series of massive stone barriers they erected across the highway at the bottom of the gorge, the Arabs are trying to hold the adjacent high ground.

An Haganah officer at the scene predicted the entire area would be cleared of Arabs during the night and the first convoy could move tomorrow. Other danger points in the road have come under Jewish control recently. The highway is the lifeline for 100,000 Jews in Jerusalem.

Fighting Is Heavy

A Jewish engineer corps is standing by at Jewish-occupied Abu Ghosh, five miles from the fighting zone, ready with tools and materials to clear away the barriers and mines. The Jews will attempt to build temporary road beds over bomb craters as soon as the fighting ceases.

The heaviest fighting thus far has been for the Arab village of Beit Mahsir just over a hilltop from the highway. The Arabs counterattacked for five hours this morning but failed to dislodge the Jews.

This reporter and three other newsmen found that heavy fighting still was going on south of Beit Mahsir.

Prompt action is required if Jerusalem's status is settled before the British give up their Palestine mandate Friday at midnight.

that the South should serve an ultimatum on the national party that southern voters "will not be bound to support the nominees (of the party) if such nominees or the party itself should advocate the so called federal civil rights program."

He said the South has "a powerful weapon" in its votes in the electoral college and that "should the national convention choose nominees who do not meet this test (of opposing the civil rights program) . . . then the states Democratic organization . . . should immediately take action to see that the electoral votes of the southern states shall be jointly cast in such a manner as shall carry out the manifest will of the people of their state."

News Briefs

St. Margaret's Guild met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. N. Michie of 2110 Seventeenth Street with seven members present. Regular routine business was discussed.

The American Legion Auxiliary will honor the Gold Star parents with a program and tea at the Legion hall Sunday, May 16, it was announced last night. Time of the reception will be from 3 to 5 p. m.

Anticipating possible rerouting of first class mail, and much perishable merchandise, due to the threatened nationwide railroad strike, all personnel and equipment of Pioneer Air Lines had been ordered on a standby basis, subject to 24-hour call, the local Pioneer office announced Monday following receipt of instructions from Gen. Robert J. Smith, company president. All air line personnel and equipment were placed at the disposal of the Air Transport association and the Office of Defense Transportation, the message said. It was pointed out that in a previous similar situation, air lines were deluged with calls for service from many quarters, and much mail and merchandise were handled during the emergency.

projects. The House voted nothing for this purpose. The conference committee agreed on $20,849,000.

The Senate allotted $2,000,000 to the Navy for expansion of privately-owned aircraft plants, while the House voted nothing. The conferees agreed on $500,000.

Another change will make it necessary to insert a renegotiation clause—designed to recapture excess profits—in all contracts and subcontracts in excess of $1,000. The figure originally was $10,000.

However, actual renegotiation will not be required unless the aggregate amount of contracts let to any one manufacturer is more than $100,000.

Draft Bill Nears Approval

The Senate Armed Services committee labored this morning on its draft-training bill.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) told reporters only "about three" items in the measure remain to be passed on. He predicted formal approval by tomorrow for the measure which would:

Require registration of all men 18 through 25 and doctors through 45.

Authorize a two-year draft of men 19 through 25.

And privide a year's military training, with the regular forces but not as a part of them, for 18-year-olds.

"There is quite complete agreement on the bill," Gurney said, but he pointed out that anything in it might be changed up to the final committee vote.

Most Vets Exempt

Most veterans would be exempt from the draft, and Gurney said the section on doctors erects safeguards so no community will be "denuded" of physicians.

Another draft section, he said, will equalize quotas by crediting each state with the number of its men now in the services.

Among the matter awaiting final action is an amendment by Senator Russell (D-Ga) to require industrial plants to accept war orders.

While the Senate committee worked on its measure, the House Armed Services group formally laid before that branch of Congress the draft measure which it approved 28 to 5 a week ago.

Sponsors of a $207,930,350 Army construction bill, meanwhile, postponed another effort to get it through the House.

Another big defense money bill was up before the House Appropriations committee. That group was considering whether to accept minor Senate changes in the $3,233,200,000 appropriation for the Air Force and the Navy bureau of aeronautics.

That measure provides $822,000,000 for a start toward a 70-group Air Force.

8. The U. S. permits interference in the internal affairs of other countries, "the events in Greece being not the only example."

9. "There would be no cause for a negative attitude on the part of the Soviet Union" toward the Marshall plan if the question of European rehabilitation were "not put the way it is;" that if it were put "on a basis of normal conditions of international economic cooperation within the framework of the United Nations organization on a basis of respect for national rights and sovereignty of states."

10. Russia, "one of the countries which economically suffered most during the war, is extremely interested in the development of postwar international economic cooperation."

The Russian note, as broadcast by the Moscow radio, contrasted what it termed military threats against the Soviet Union with its government's pursuit of "a consistent peace policy."

The American note, according to the radio, said the present state of American-Soviet relations is "a source of serious disappointment" to the American people and their government.

Smith's note, according to the broadcast, said "the situation which has arisen out of the . . . actions of the Soviet government or of political groups which are under its control, and also reaction to these actions by other countries, are undoubtedly of serious character."

modern facility of communication, is essential so that every citizen of the United States may know just what is at stake.

"The whole future of our free institutions is involved.

"Accordingly, I have authorized Mr. John C. Higgins of Portland to arrange with Mr. Stassen or his representatives, a full hour on the radio on the subject: 'Shall the Communist party be outlawed.'"

(signed) Thomas E. Dewey.

Dewey's schedule calls for a plane flight early tomorrow from Bend to Ontario on the eastern border of Oregon. Stassen spoke in this section in September.

Oregon voters, elated by the national interest in their state's primary decision would be deeply disappointed if Dewey is forced to leave the state just before arrival of Harold Stassen for a seven-day pre-primary speaking tour.

Good Crowds Attend Annual Photography Salon In City

Approximately 200 persons visited the second annual salon of Lubbock Camera club yesterday at Kuykendall Chevrolet company, it was estimated last night. More than 500 persons attended the exhibition Sunday.

The salon will be open from 2 to 9 p. m. daily through Saturday. A total of 112 photographs made by amateur photographers is being exhibited. The divisions include wild life, table tops, enre, children, nudes, trees, portraits and architectural.

Members of the camera club are to be present from about 7 to 9 o'clock each night to give information to visitors.

peri, who backed Sforza to the end, said the voting was a symbol of support or opposition "to our cooperation with the west."

The Communists, who almost precipitated a slugfest in the chamber before the voting began, meanwhile threatened to stage "strong demonstrations" outside the chamber and this brought a police alert in Rome.

Compromise Seen

As a result of the tense new situation, the presidential candidacies of Luigi Einaudi and Ivanhoe Bonomi were strengthened as possible compromise choices against De Nicola.

Both De Nicola and Sforza took lead but failed to score enough votes in the two ballots taken Monday.

The first test gave De Nicola 396 votes to 353 for Sforza, and in the second ballot Sforza got 405 to 336 for De Nicola. It had been expected that Sforza would be elected on the fourth ballot when a simple majority would determine the victor.

The voting got underway after a near-free-for-all between Communists and ant-Communists.

Tempers became short and deputies from both sides of the chamber started for each other when the Communists accused the anti-communists of "selling out to the United States."

The tense situation developed when the Communists demanded cancellation of the recent election results in which the Communists suffered a setback.

The Communists charged the elections were won by the anti-Communists because of "foreign intervention and government fraud."

Rail Walkout Off

law to act. Government lawyers explained that this law confers seizure powers. Mr. Truman said he also acted as commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States.

The presidential order specifically set out that the unions can still bargain collectively with the road owners. It said that meanwhile present rates of pay and working conditions shall continue.

Strong disagreement on these two matters led to the strike call. The roads refused to go beyond the 15½ cent pay raise and some working rule changes recommended by a presidential fact finding board and accepted by 19 other rail unions.

The engineers, firemen and switchmen demanded a 30 per cent pay raise (the 15½ cents would be roughly 11 per cent) and additional concessions in working conditions to increase their take-home pay.

They stressed the fact that the cost of living has gone so high.

On Capitol Hill, Senator Knowland (R-Calif) introduced a bill to bring railroad workers under the Taft-Hartley labor law. They had been exempt, covered by a separate law.

What new legislation, if any, the White House might ask was not known. Two years ago, in a railroad strike Mr. Truman asked Congress to permit the drafting of strikers into the armed forces. The strike ended even as he was talking, and the bitterly-argued proposal died.

Today, the Army set about its new job. Secretary Royall asked in a statement that labor, management and the public give their help.

Royall appointed Maj. Gen. Edmond H. Leavey, Army chief of transportation, to run the railroads for the Army.

Woman Objects To Artist Husband Working In Shorts

LOS ANGELES, May 10 (INS)—Calendar artist Earl S. Moran, 53, was accused today of strolling around his New York studio clad in shorts, shoes and socks while an undressed model—later identified as actress Chili Williams—stood behind a screen.

Mrs. Mura Moran, 36, testifying in her separate maintenance suit against the artist, said:

"He went behind the screen where his clothes were, dressed and took me out to lunch."

Miss Williams, a glamorous blonde, appeared in court late in the afternoon and described Mrs. Moran's account of the studio incident as "completely untrue."

The actress said that she was just leaving, fully clothed, when Mrs. Moran entered the studio.

The actress said it was true that Moran was in his shorts, but explained:

"It was a very hot day and he often worked in shorts."

SEN. OVERTON ILL

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Senator Overton (D-La.) was reported in critical condition today at Bethesda naval hospital with prospects for his recovery rated "poor." The senator, 72, underwent an emergency operation for an intestinal obstruction last Wednesday.

King-Sized Abilene Justice Gets Chair From Seminole C-C

ABILENE, May 10 (AP)—Justice of the Peace W. A. (Bill) Ward was grateful today to Seminole, Texas, for a comfortable place to sit down.

Seminole civic leaders today presented the 465-pound justice of the peace with a chair.

And it was just what Ward had been needing a long time.

Several weeks ago the Seminole Chamber of Commerce heard that Ward was having a hard time finding a chair large enough for him.

So today Mayor D. H. Starling, accompanied by Chamber of Commerce Secretary H. B. Lewis and former county judge R. Willard Pittman, presented the justice with a specially built chair of bird's eye maple, heavily reinforced.

The presentation was made at a luncheon meeting of the Abilene Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Now I can sleep when these lawyers talk too long in my court," Ward quipped as he sat down in his new chair.

Heavy Rains Hit

two inches fell at Corsicana. The rain was accompanied by an electrical storm. Utilities were disrupted. Four fire alarms were blamed on lightning.

Farming operations in the Corsicana area were slowed up.

The U. S. Weather bureau said the rain was moving southward. It had reached Waco last night.

More than two inches of rain fell last night at Tyler. The rain was accompanied by a severe electrical storm. Two fire alarms were sounded during the storm.

The fall was general through the Tyler area and was expected to be a big aid to crops.

SCATTERED SHOWERS FALL IN SOUTH PLAINS AREA

Near-miss moisture clouds floated over the Panhandle and South Plains last night dropping light showers on a few scattered areas but the main targets were apparently farther east in the state.

Light showers were reported at Littlefield, Plainview and Texico, N. M., described as about 'enough to wet the pavement,' according to the Santa Fe railroad dispatcher at Slaton.

A heavy downpour was reported at Amarillo about 9 p. m. According to the Weather Bureau station north of the city, the me[illegible] of the Amarillo rainfall was .13.

Approximately .12 of an inch was recorded at Pampa.

East of the Lubbock area, at least three points received beneficial moisture. Crowell reported 2.2 inches, Chillicothe .75 of an inch, and Benjamin .36 of an in.

Strong northeasterly winds were sweeping the city at midnight, with a velocity of about 28 miles per hour. The temperature had lowered to 56 degrees and was to be driven down to a minimum of 46 degrees by early morning, the weather station forecast.

The maximum temperature today was predicted at approximately 82 degrees. Strong easterly winds were expected, but small chances for moisture were seen.

The official forecast at midnight was partly cloudy today and Wednesday, and warmer Wednesday.

Lubbock Lions Club Members Attending Amarillo Meeting

AMARILLO, May 10 (Special)—Approximately 25 Lions club members from Lubbock were in attendance here today as the District 2-T convention of Lions International got underway.

The session, being conducted at the Herring hotel, continues Tuesday. The Lubbock group is backing the candidacy of K. L. Riggs, deputy district governor, for the post of district governor. Riggs is opposed by Bill Rutherford of Dumas.

Highlight of the two-day meeting was to be a talk by Melvin Jones of Chicago, founder and secretary-general of Lions International.

Court Backs Up Racial Ruling

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10—The United States Supreme court issued two specific orders today to back up its ruling of last week that racial covenants cannot be enforced.

The high tribunal flatly reversed an Ohio supreme court order requiring trustees of the "Monroe Avenue Church of Christ," at Columbus, to vacate covenanted property they had acquired.

Another order directed the California supreme court to reconsider rulings which upheld eviction of D. Amer and Yim Kim, of Korean and Chinese descent, from a Los Angeles area reserved for "Caucasians."

Violation Possible

Other rulings by the court today:

1. Held that the American Crystal Sugar Co. can be sued under the anti-trust laws for making price-fixing agreements on sugar beets, even if these agreements were confined to the state of California.

The court said violation of federal laws was possible, because the sugar was destined for interstate commerce. A group of California sugar beet growers brought the suit.

2. Refused for lack of jurisdiction to review a Kentucky law requiring the Jefferson county school board to support a state children's home which the board says should be supported from state funds.

Review Refused

3. Refused to review the case of Thomas Viola, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for the double murder of racketeers James Mancini and Felix Monfrino at Warren, O.

Viola contended that, because evidence concerning his fingerprints was transferred in a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, he was deprived of an opportunity to confront his accuser.

4. Refused to review the case of Marcel Rodd, of Hollywood, Calif., bookseller who was fined $2,500 for transporting an allegedly obscene book from New York to San Diego.

Rodd contended that the book, titled "Call House Madam," was not obscene, and that it had been sold at Army post exchanges and in a large number of reputable stores in the country.

Balloting Is Heavy In Korean Election

SEOUL, Tuesday, May 11. (Via Telephone to Tokyo) (AP)—Latest reports of Communist violence in South Korea boosted Monday's election day death toll to 38—but the outbreaks failed to disrupt the self-rule balloting.

Belated information reaching this quiet capital described incidents all the way from the village of Kaesong, near the 38th parallel dividing the American and Russian occupation zones, to Cheju island off South Korea. In these, 13 deaths occurred.

Including pre-election disturbances, which began Friday, the death toll was at least 89. Scores were injured and many arrested.

Nevertheless, more than 6,000,000 of South Korea's nearly 8,000,000 registered voters made their choices for a 200-member national assembly. It was Korea's first free election in 4,000 years of history. The assembly is to form a government. Russia prevented North Korea from voting, but that section is invited to participate in the government when willing and able.

Dr. Hill Of WTSTC Honored At Banquet

South Plains ex-students of West Texas State Teachers college held a 'Flowers for the Living' banquet last night at Hotel Lubbock in honor of Dr. J. A. Hill, retiring president of the institution. Dr. Hill has been head of the college since 1918.

Guest of honor also was Dr. James Cornette, the new president of West Texas State Teachers college.

'Flowers for the Living' speech was given by Emmett Hazlewood, new president of the ex-students' association.

Toastmaster for the occasion was Miss Marie Miles. Approximately 150 persons attended the banquet.

Germans In U. S. Zone Would Get More Food Under GOP Bill

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10—Senate GOP Whip Wherry introduced legislation today to guarantee more food to Germans in the American occupation zone by requiring the Army to provide a minimum daily ration of 2,000 calories.

The Nebraska Republican's bill also would permit children to be brought to the United States from Germany as temporary residents in another move to ease the critical food shortage in the Reich.

A 2,000-calorie minimum has been the goal of American authorities in western Germany, but the feeding level frequently has fallen below the "normal consumer" ration of 1,550 calories.

Public Thinking Changed

Pointing out that public thinking on restoring Germany has undergone marked change in the U. S., Wherry told the Senate:

"For a long time the emphasis of those genuinely interested in the problem of restoring Germany to a self-sufficient basis, so that it would be a financial obligation of the American people no longer than necessary, was directed toward preventing starvation among the German people.

"It was reasoned that if we discharge this obligation, the German people would have strength to rebuild a minimum economy, and, under our control, be prevented from reestablishing a war potential.

"But the problem of maintaining a minimum calorie intake sufficient to maintain health among the German people in the U. S. zone remains almost as acute today as it was a year or two ago."

Food Goal Unreached

Wherry pointed out that the present emphasis is on rebuilding the economic self-sufficiency of the Germans through the European recovery program and efforts of the American Army of occupation.

Wherry said that notwithstanding heavy American expenditures, reports from Germany indicate that the 2,000 calories daily, regarded as necessary to support health and industry in individuals anywhere in the world is still an objective rather than an accomplished fact in many parts of the Reich.

The senator also called attention to reports that German school children and those even younger "are being wasted through malnutrition, hunger, tuberculosis, and other ills which arise from inadequate food supplies," Wherry declared:

"Such conditions make a mockery of our hopes for a physically and mentally sound Germany unless further steps are soon taken to remedy these conditions.

"I believe it is to the selfish interest of the United States to meet these problems, and I believe that the solution of the (German) problem must be found first before we can solve the European problem or the world problem.

"Permanent peace in the world, therefore, requires first that we unburden ourselves of that part of Germany which today is on an American dole."

Sunspot Activity Near Record Peak, Observatory Reports

LOS ANGELES, May 9 (AP)—The Griffith observatory here in Los Angeles is seeing sun spots in front of its eyes, even if you aren't.

Dr. Dinsmore Alter, directer of the observatory, says a large group of sunspots, more than he has ever seen at one time, were photographed at 5:18 p. m. yesterday by staff photographer Paul Roques.

"This is one of the most spotted conditions in which the sun has ever been observed," Alter said. "The record was broken in March and April, 1947. I have no means of accurate measurement handy, but this may again break the record."

The photograph shows two exceptionally large spots or disturbances about midway between the north and south poles. They are large enough to be seen with the naked eye when viewed through a shaded glass. Another group of spots which is just beginning to come into view from the earth may fall into this category within a few days, Alter said.

The current outcropping of solar disturbances will be placed under close observation for the next 10 days.

The spots have not seriously affected radio or television reception.

Conservation Plan Completed On Hess Farm Near Opdyke

Conservation plan has been completed on the O. C. Hess farm, which is located seven miles south of Opdyke, three miles east of Arnett Gin. Plan on the 354-acre farm will be submitted to the board of supervisors, Hockley County Soil Conservation District, for approval at the group's next regular meeting on Thursday, May 6, at 2 p. m.

Hess plans to contour his sandy land. He reported that he will not plant cotton on this land unless he has plenty of trash and litter to prevent wind erosion. Terrace lines are to be run on all of his rolling land, and terraces will be constructed either this spring or this fall.

Soil binding crops such as small grain or grain sorghums will be planted on the rolling land.

Hess also owns farm land in Scurry County, near Snyder, where he has been carrying out soil conservation practices for the last eight years.

The Burmese New Year, celebrated this April, was 1310.

Aleman Scored For Co-Operating With U.S.

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, May 10—Sideglances at celebrities:

Presidents run into difficulties beyond both the pale and comprehension of lesser figures in a nation's life. Mr. Truman's porch, for instance. Down here a hoof and mouth disease, plus a keen sense of cooperation with the United States, has put something of a dent in the otherwise enormous popularity of President Aleman.

Aleman is an intelligent, hard-working man who came to the top of life here from considerable poverty. As a boy he sold newspapers in Vera Cruz, worked at a variety of jobs to put himself through law schools and hung out his shingle, along with a partner, in Vera Cruz 20 years ago.

Had To Exchange Suit

He and his partner were so pressed for funds when they started that they had only one good suit between them. Fortunately they wore the same size. When one had a case in court, or had to call on an important client, he wore the suit. The other would stay home or in the office.

Aleman became governor of Vera Cruz, then minister of the interior, the most important post in the government, outside of the presidency. When he was elected to the top spot he became the second man in the last 40 years to attain the presidency without having first been a general.

His many reforms made him a very beloved figure here, which he remains. But he has lost ground on two points: His espousal of the program of destroying cattle afflicted with the hoof and mouth disease, and his willingness to cooperate with the U. S.

Problems Are Connected

The two things are connected. U. S. cattlemen, fearful of having the disease spread across the border, persuaded the American government to enter on a program which would pay for Mexican cattle to be destroyed. But a Mexican farmer's cow is his greatest possession and he could not understand why the cow must be killed—even though he knew the cow was diseased.

The fact that he was given money in return meant little, for he had no new cow to buy. The mule he could buy was small recompense. And the farmer was inclined to wonder why his good friend Aleman had agreed with the U. S. in this program.

The greatest sports figure in Mexico is a quiet, almost colorless man who is called Armillita, the country's greatest matador.

Since the death of Manolete, the great Spanish matador who commanded as much as $50,000 a performance, Armillita has been considered the best in the risky business. He averages about 45 performances a year, mostly in Mexico City's mammoth bull-ring, and averages about $20,000 a shot.

Bull Fighting Business Hit

The above-mentioned hoof and mouth disease has been a blow to the bull-fighting business here, but enough are found to go around. Bull-fights, by the way, are about the only things that always start on time in Mexico City. All other entertainment gets out of the way at 4 p.m. each Sunday, including baseball.

Armillita is followed by mobs wherever he goes in Mexico. He's the Babe Ruth of the nation and the average Mexican kid dreams of being just like him. For practice, by the way, the kids scare the hell out of you by running in front of your car to see how close they can come to being hit—without a bump.

Lubbock County Girl Will Compete In National Contest

A Lubbock county girl will compete with the nation's top farm youth in the National Junior Vegetable Growers association annual $10,000 competition, it was announced Monday.

Doris Marie Prater of Lubbock has entered the association's production-marketing contest, which offers $6,000 in agricultural scholarships provided by the A & P Food Stores and stresses good growing and handling practices as applied to vegetable crops.

The NJVGA program includes two other major contests. The Vegetable Growers Association of America sponsors the judging-grading - identification contest, which necessitates an ability to identify common kinds of vegetable diseases, insects and the grade defects in both Irish and sweet potatoes.

The National Demonstration Contest stimulates careful planning, production practices, marketing methods and the preparation for the use of the many vegetable crops. Prizes for this contest are offered by the W. Atlee Burpee Seed Company of Philadelphia.

Other Lubbock county junior gardners may compete for these prizes by contacting their local 4-H Club leader or by writing to Prof. Grant B. Snyder, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Mass.

Breneman Successor Will Build Program Along Comic Ideas

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 10—Garry Moore, the bright, brush-haired young comic chosen to replace Tom Breneman, faces his new job with trepidation.

"I was really on the spot when I accepted the job," he says. "I could imagine everyone saying: 'you stupid jerk, what do you mean by trying to imitate Breneman?'"

"I'm not another Breneman. I couldn't be. The essence of Tom was sympathy and sentiment. I'm a comic and I'll have to build the show that way."

Show Idea Stated

Unlike his late predecessor, Garry will not give away orchids, nor will he don ladies' hats. But he wants to keep what he considers the great appeal of the show—the feeling that it belongs to the people.

"The M. C. should be just the figure that keeps the show rolling," he remarked. "When he becomes the star, the human quality is lost. The people become mere stooges."

Garry is an unwilling convert to the ranks of radio M. C.'s. He started as a radio writer in his home town, Baltimore, and was placed before a mike to fill in for a sick performer. His glib style caught on, but when he moved on to St Louis, he again tried to stick to writing. They wouldn't let him.

The new-found comic became star of Chicago's club matinee show and then zoomed to Hollywood to co-star as Jimmy Durante's "boy." When the pair split up last year, some of the trade said Garry was foolish to desert the great Schnoz. But the brash Baltimore boy has been doing all right since.

He inherited Phil Baker's spot on "Take It or Leave It" and now Breneman's show. He'll try to avoid the killing pace of the early morning show, by recording it at 9:30 a. m. for broadcast the following day. That will get him out of the hay at 7:30.

Largest Postwar Class Of Lawyers Passes Bar Test

AUSTIN, May 10 (U.P.)—The biggest post-war crop of new lawyers, including three members of the legislature, were ready to hang out shingles today.

The total, 168, was the highest since pre-war days to pass a bar examination, the state Supreme court said. The group represented 61 per cent of the 206 who took the exam about two months ago.

On the list were Reps. William S. Jameson of El Paso, W. T. Moore of Bryan and Alford Flanagan of Talco.

Before World War II about 40 per cent of all U. S. exports went to the British Empire.

$11,640 In Damages Asked As Result Of Truck Crash

Judgement of $11,640 in damages was asked Monday in a suit filed by John Wilson against Plains Gas, Inc., as outgrowth of a collision Sept 1 six miles northwest of Lubbock on U. S. highway 84.

The action was filed in the 90th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue by the law firm of McWhorter, Howard and Cobb. It declared that Wilson's truck was overturned and that the plaintiff was injured, his truck damaged, he lost a load of 550 gallons of gasoline and loss of 15 days' service of his vehicle, as a result of the collision with a truck allegedly driven by an agent of the defendent.

Lubbock, Texas, Tuesday, May 11, 1948

Section 2

Jury Named To Plan New Road

A jury of view was appointed Monday afternoon by Lubbock county commissioners court to assess damages and lay out a public road in precinct 3, based upon a September petition of C. C. Sherrod and others.

Appointed were T. L. Holt, J. B. Mitchell and W. W. Lewis, all of Idalou.

The petition had been granted Sept. 8, under provision that right of way be donated, the court said.

Petition of E. A. Moores and others for a public road in precinct 4 was granted and the road opened, provided right of way be granted and all fences moved at no expense to the county.

At the morning session, the court authorized purchase of a new Allis-Chalmers tractor equipped with bullbozer, for precinct 4, it, costing $6,396.27, will be purchased from the W. T. McClure Machinery company.

Aside from routine business transacted, the court also authorized:

Expenditure of $875 for professional services of Elmer V. East, Lubbock attorney, in connection with his assistance in the marketing of $250,000 in courthouse and jail bonds; $315 to Conley-Lott-Nichols company for a conveyor belt for use in precinct 1; $325.81 for truck parts and repairs purchased from Dickinson Motor company for precinct 3; and $338.33 to E. J. Wallace for installing complete boiler controls in the courthouse.

Commissioners are R. O. Short, Ben Mansker, Ottis Isom, and Pat Corley. County Judge Walter Davies presided. Louie F. Moore, county clerk, kept minutes of the proceedings.

More Than 6,000 Persons See Four Gainesville Circus Shows

The Gainesville Community circus, which played to four crowds Friday and Saturday in Lubbock under auspices of the Lubbock Women's club and the Lubbock Lions club, drew a total of more than 6,000 patrons, a preliminary report on attendance by Elmer Tarbox of the Lions club revealed Monday.

Tarbox said a complete report on the finances of the circus probably will be ready for publication by the latter part of this week.

Banks Handle Record Amount Of Checks

Lubbock Sales Keep Up Impressive Pace

Two important indices of business activity in Lubbock were given here Monday by two reports, indicating continued record volume of business for the month of March.

One, by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas, showed retail sales in Lubbock for March to have gained 33.3 per cent to lead all larger cities in Texas. Sales here also showed a 30.4 increase from February.

These figures compare with a 20.4 per cent state gain from March, 1947, and 23.2 per cent over the state from February.

Lead In Checks Handled

Lamesa, Dawson county capital, lead all cities of the state in amount of increase from March, 1947 to March, 1948, with a 35.2 per cent gain. Lamesa sales gained 26.8 per cent over February.

The other index showed Lubbock leading the entire state in amount of checks handled by Lubbock banks for March and for the first three months of 1948. This report came from figures reported by the Federal Reserve board as analyzed by the American Banker, national daily banking newspaper published in New York City.

Checks handled by Lubbock banks totaled $211,406,000 in the first three months of 1948, a gain of 44.6 per cent over the first quarter of 1947 and 269 per cent over the same period of 1940.

In the entire nation, Lubbock was second in the largest gain during the first quarter of 1948 over 1947, being exceeded only by Bartlesville, Okla., which showed a 50 per cent increase for the quarter.

Lubbock's increase of business in March, 1948 over March, 1947, was sixth in the nation. Bartlesville, Albany, N. Y., Madison, Wis. Tulsa and Beaumont were other cities showing more gain than Lubbock.

March check payment volume in Lubbock totaled $67,131,000, a gain of 40.5 per cent over the same month in 1947 to give the city its best March volume of business in history.

The check debit figures are an important index of business activity as well as of banking service, the American Banker pointed out, since they represent the total of all sums paid by check in business and private transactions through local banks, and are on a comparative basis going back a period of years for each city.

Figures for the state of Texas (000 omitted in dollar figures) are:

U. S. May Meet Export Pledges

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 10 — The third largest wheat crop in the country's history was forecast by the Agriculture department today to promise the hungry abroad large amounts of American flour in the months ahead.

Conditions on May 1 indicated a winter wheat crop of 845,484,000 bushels. While no formal forecast was given for spring wheat—now in the process of being planted—the department has said at least 272,000,000 bushels of this type appears possible.

Thus the combined winter and spring wheat crop would total about 1,117,000,000 bushels.

From a crop of this size, the United States easily could spare 300,000,000 bushels for shortage areas during the crop year beginning July 1. This is the amount promised under the European recovery program.

Exports this crop year are expected to set a record of 482,000,000 bushels.

The indicated total crop falls considerably below last year's record of 1,364,919,000, but is sharply above the 10 year average of 890,306,000.

The department said the winter wheat outlook deteriorated somewhat in the great plains during April, but was in good to excellent condition in most other areas. Today's forecast is 14,516,000 bushels less than a month earlier.

Judge Dooley To Call Docket Here Saturday

U. S. District Judge Joseph B. Dooley, of Amarillo, has informed U. S. District Clerk George W. Parker that he will call the docket of the Lubbock division of the Northern Texas Federal district here at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, in preparation for a busy two-weeks term commencing Monday.

Judge Dooley further asked that the clerk send him an order for a 40-member jury panel to report here at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, when civil jury cases will be started, and asked that counsel be notified.

The criminal docket will be taken up the second week of the term, commencing May 24.

The court also will examine and sign minutes for the closing term of court. He will open the May term Monday.

There are 56 cases on the civil docket, 30 of which call for a jury. Motions are pending in 15 cases. In addition, there is a light criminal docket, it was announced from the office of Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy district clerk, of Lubbock.

Lamesan Named Bank Delegate

LAMESA, May 10 (Special) — G. R. Crawley, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Lamesa, was recently elected president of the Lubbock Chapter of the American Institute of Banking, and was named delegate to the national convention of the A. I. B. when it convenes in Buffalo, N. Y., in June, 1948.

The Lubbock chapter was formed in September, 1946 by the banking institutions of that city for the purpose of promoting sound banking principles throughout West Texas.

Under the personal supervision of Miss Ruth Ford, vice-president of the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock, this chapter became the sixth unit of the national organization in Texas.

65 Men Enrolled

Courses sponsored by this group in 1946 were, "Fundamentals of Banking," with T. C. Root of Texas Technological college as instructor. About 65 young men enrolled for the course representing banking institutions from all over the Plains area. Most of these men were ex-service men re-establishing themselves in civilian professions.

Since that time, two additional courses, "Commercial Law," and "Negotiable Instruments," have been offered by George Dupree, Lubbock attorney, and Elmer East, vice-president of the Lubbock National bank.

Robert Pendleton, cashier of the Lubbock National bank, served as first president of the Lubbock chapter, and was succeeded by

Hike Noted In Gas Demands

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 10 — Although Texas natural gas is being piped in increasing quantities to dozens of states, export is still only about one-sixth of total production.

This breakdown of domestic and export use of Texas natural gas was made today by the Texas Research institute. The institute has just published a brochure showing that production taxes on five natural resources will account for more than one-third of all taxes and license fees collected by the state government in the current fiscal year.

The research agency is sponsored by the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Export Is Increasing

Texas gas is now piped to the Atlantic seaboard on the east, the Great Lakes on the north, and when a pipeline being built is completed, its western outlet will be on the Pacific coast. The research institute's charts show that while export use of Texas gas has been steadily increasing, the rate of use domestically since 1939 has outstripped exports.

As new interstate pipelines are built, and demand for Texas gas increases in northern and eastern industrial regions, whether or not this trend will hold is a matter of conjecture. Industrialization of Texas, with consequent increase in demand for at-home use, is is also on the move upward.

Texas now produces about 45 per cent of the natural gas used in the nation. It is in the process of utilizing gas that formerly was wasted in flares, with the railroad

High School To Make Awards To Students

Boys and girls at Lubbock Senior High school are anxious for 9 a. m. to roll around today.

At 9 they will flock into recognition assembly where much-discussed "who-is-its" will be answered. Favorites to be named this morning include the All-Westerner boy, All-Westerner girl, senior favorites, junior favorites, sophomore favorites and yearbook dedication.

Other awards on tap for today's recognition assembly are the "Who's Who" awards in the three classes, departmental winners, athletic and literary victors, yearbook and journalism leaders and the American Legion Citizenship announcements.

The names, carefully guarded since the secret balloting took place shortly after the turn of the year, come out of the box today, and hearts are beating a little faster than usual at L. H. S.

GIVEN WARM RECEPTION

Good Crowd Attends Opening Of Tech's Annual Varsity Show

By BILL SAYERS
Avalanche Staff Writer

The curtain rolled up to display a surprising array of talent as "The Phenomena," 1948 Texas Technological college Varsity Show opened to an estimated first night crowd of 1,100 people in the Lubbock High school auditorium Monday night.

The script, written by Ed Sides and Jack Drain and featuring an all-student cast, was supported with a large variety of novelty numbers that kept the audience in stitches most of the time. Where the script let down the novelties took over and kept things rolling at a brisk pace.

The story centers around a crackpot college psychology professor who believes he has worked out a scientific formula for picking the ideal mate for each man and tries his theory out on a rival professor. With just enough continuity to keep the audience abreast and still leave plenty of space for a great variety of individual acts, the plot moves along at a snails pace and entangles the very unscientific professor a little tighter with each scene. The climax finally comes when the whole scheme backfires on him and he finds himself the pursued instead of the pursuer.

Utilizing the stage for only part of the show, the script is full of surprises and keeps the spectators wondering in which direction to look next for something to happen From the isles, backstage, and even from the ceiling, people keep getting into the act. The latter being an angel of unknown variety suspended from the rafters in a maze of wires and wings but managing to look very angelic indeed.

Hillbilly Act Good

One of the most outstanding acts of the entire two hour and 10 minute production was a hillbilly imitation act by Gene Roy Powers and Martha Cudd who silently imitate records played out of sight back stage. The timing and execution were near perfect and they stopped the show for the only encores of the evening.

Jimmy Carter, a sophomore

NOTHING TO GAIN

Killing The Goose

It is difficult to see how anyone, and especially the workers affected, can hope to gain in the long run from such emergencies as that created by the railroad crisis and the Presidential order for government seizure and operation of the affected lines.

Interruptions of this kind strengthen the position of those forms of transport, particularly air and motor lines, which are giving the railroads great and growing competition. There would be a great many more railroad jobs of all kinds right now if this competition was less keen. It is strange that far-sighted railroad employes and operators will not realize that their recurrent controversies, affecting all the people, may be helping to kill the goose which has been and now is laying golden eggs.

They should realize, too, that interruptions, actual or threatened, inevitably must cause increasing numbers of people to give increasing thought to the possibility that government ownership of railroads may become unavoidable. Such a possibility is one viewed by many, if not most Americans, with something akin to horror Most of them feel, in view of many experiences with such things, that government operation would mean enormously increased expenses paid by the taxpayer and tremendous deterioration in the efficiency of operation. But, obviously, it is far better to have railroads operated badly than for them not to be operated at all.

True, it might be that workers would attempt periodical strikes or threats of strikes against the government as well as against private ownership. But it is unthinkable that 140,000,000 Americans would endure indefinite interferences with their economic life by any group of fewer than 200,000—the number involved in the present controversy—without doing something about it.

The present trouble is a stupid, unnecessary and inexcusable business. And no one stands to lose as much, in terms of long term values, as the workers and/or managements who fail to keep their own house in order without disturbing the economy, and the security, of an entire nation.

Air-Minded U. S.

If most people are as vague on the subject as some newspapermen, they had little idea as to what was meant in number of actual planes during recent debate preceding Congressional approval of appropriations for a 70-group air force.

Information from the Air Force explains that the number of planes varies with groups, approximately as follows: heavy bomber, about 20; medium bomber, 30; light bomber, 50; fighter, 80; carrier, 50, and reconnaissance, 35. The appropriations bill provides for 21 medium bomber groups, five light bomber, 25 fighter, 10 carrier and nine reconnaissance, a total of about 3,800 craft. No heavy bomber groups operating in the U. S. are proposed.

The fact that the 70-group air force had overwhelming public and Congressional approval, even by individuals who may not have known what strength was represented by a "group," merely added to the proof that individual Americans are thoroughly air-minded in matters pertaining to national defense.

Prohibition was "unequivocally" endorsed and relentless opposition declared against "any attempt to repeal it or destroy the prohibition law," at what was called a harmonious county Democratic convention here. The convention also voted endorsement of the "harmony" plank of Governor Dan Moody and approved an uninstructed candidate delegation. Frank E. Wheelock was chairman of the convention.

The Texas Supreme court ruled as unconstitutional an ordinance passed by the city commission here levying one-half cent a gallon tax on all wholesale gasoline sold here. The case was filed by Magnolia Petroleum company, and had drawn much interest in adjoining states. Judge Clark M. Mullican in district court here had ruled the tax was not within the "home rule" law of cities, and held it as usurpation of legislative authority. His decision was upheld by the court of civil appeals before the Supreme court ruling.

The Little Savage

As Long As I Live

by Ione Sandberg Shriber
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

XXXI

She sat up stiffly, avoiding his gaze. She felt curiously bereft, alone, as though she had nothing left. Nothing at all.

"Don't you see," Rush said in that same low insistent tone, "that it might have been the power of suggestion?"

He let the words sink in, heavily, relentlessly, and she thought, it could have happened that way. It could have.

He tried to impress it upon her. He said, "Until that letter came, Ann, it didn't occur to you that someone might have been trying to kill you? The bridge collapsed and Luke was on it—it could have been you—sure. But you didn't think until after you got the letter that it had been a trap, did you? The wording of that letter might mean everything—if you hadn't lost it . . ."

His eyes were on her face again, watching her so carefully.

She said dully, "I didn't lose it. Either someone took it—or else—"

"Ann," Rush said, "Ann, look at me. Darling, do you really think I want you to die?"

Somehow, without moving, she was in his arms. She was never sure just how she got there but she was, her face pressed against his coat. She was sobbing and trembling and Rush was holding her tight and kissing her hair and making soothing comforting sounds.

"Oh, Rush," she said brokenly, "oh, darling, it's all been so horrible! I've been so—so— Oh, Rush, I guess I have been nearly out of my mind; I've had an awful lot of headaches lately. And—and—Rush, I'll do everything I can to help if you think I'm—if it's . . ." Her eyes filled with quick tears.

"Now, look, Ann, there isn't a thing the matter with you that a few days of rest and quiet and sunshine won't cure. I don't mean the kind of rest you've just had, either; shut up in your bedroom, scared stiff, and all the time pretending you were getting better. Something like that is enough to drive anybody nuts. We'll go to the lake." His face grew animated. "We'll get supplies—groceries. We won't take a thing from the house here. Then you won't be frightened of anything. We'll stay together every minute, just the two of us. We'll swim and lie in the sun days and"— He leaned forward suddenly and kissed her cheek. "Oh, Ann, I've missed you."

The chill was leaving her body. The fear was draining away. Her blood was tingling and she was growing warm all over. Rush held her face close to his, waiting for her answer. She ran her fingertips over his smooth-shaven jaw, and slowly turned her face so that her lips met his.

"All right, Rush," she whispered. "All right."

THEY made their plans hurriedly. Rush wanted to get started right away.

"It is important for your peace of mind," he said, "that no one has a chance to get to the cottage before we do."

Ann should get up and pack, just toss a few things into a suitcase, Rush would go to the lab and give Gay a few instructions, then he would find the others and tell them they were going.

She got out a big suitcase. One would do for both of them. She was in her closet searching for bathing suits when she heard Rush at the dresser.

"Still there, darling?" she called. "Want anything?"

"Ann, don't take a lot of stuff for me. Just some shorts and a decent pair of slacks in case we eat out."

"I know." She came out of the closet and kissed his cheek. "Did you get your shaving stuff and toothbrush?" He was holding a leather case in his hands, the dresser drawer was open.

"No but I will. I don't want to bother with this." He put the case back in the drawer. "All it does is take up a lot of room. You have a zipper bag you can put my razor and stuff in, haven't you? That's all I need. And for Pete's sake, don't forget the toothpaste."

She laughed.

"As though I ever did. All right. You go tell the others now. Go on. Get started."

She found her bathing suits—two of them—and a pair of long shorts. A couple of sport shirts, nightgowns, a soft silk dressing gown, quilted scuffs that took no room at all, play shoes.

She got shorts for Rush, changes of underwear, pajamas, a cotton bathrobe, slippers.

Then the razor. And toothbrush. And paste. She was humming softly as she looked in the medicine cabinet, found his razor, the toothpaste and the shaving cream, her toothbrush.

Where was Rush's?

She couldn't find it. Not in the guest bathroom either. She came back to their room, frowning slightly, trying to think where it might be. And then her face cleared. There would be a spare in that case of his, she'd get that.

She opened the dresser drawer, took out the leather kit Rush had just held in his hands. It was snapped shut but not locked and she remembered later that she was still humming a silly little tune as she pressed the catch and opened it.

The tune stopped even as time stopped and the earth stopped and everything else that might have moved stopped. Because the leather case—the case Rush had just tossed casually back into the drawer—the case he'd said so blandly they wouldn't take—held not only the usual equipment of a man's toilet case, but, tucked to one side, the letter from Mr. Stark in Cheyenne, the note she had scribbled to Enos about the can of wax and the bent and twisted lock to the grandfather clock.

YOU all read about the silver wedding anniversary of King George and Queen Elizabeth a couple of weeks ago.

You read about and saw pictures of the state landau with the six horses, the great procession, the cheering crowds.

"Wonderful!" you may have said to yourself. It must be great to be a king or a queen!

But did you read the text of the king's broadcast?

BRANDEIS

Here is a part from it, in case you overlooked it:

"Nobody can deny that these past twenty-five years have been, for all of us who have lived through them, full of difficulty, of anxiety and of sorrow.

"On me, in my endeavor to fulfill my appointed task, they have laid a happy burden. I make no secret of the fact that there have been times when it would have been almost too heavy but for the strength and comfort which I have always found in my home."

Trappings? Pomp and circumstance? Crowns and Ermine?

All that is superficial. All that would be unbearable even to the mightiest king were it not "for the strength and comfort which I have always found in my home."

You are neither king nor queen.

But your sorrows and your burdens are every bit as important and as heavy to bear as those of the King and Queen of England.

In the report of the silver wedding celebration I saw a little paragraph which said that the King seemed much more concerned about the Queen and paid much more attention to her than he did to the crowds.

And, therein, to me, was the beauty of the whole pageantry and its whole significance.

SILVER wedding anniversaries are being celebrated everywhere in the world every day of the week.

Few of them, of course, attract the attention of a King's twenty-fifth anniversary.

But I firmly believe that every silver anniversary is a monument to success of that so much maligned institution: Marriage.

Don't be discouraged by reports of fourth weddings of three-times divorced couples. Don't think marriage is a failure just because a certain divorcee, hardly rid of her fifth husband, with a $100,000 cash settlement, is ready for her sixth whom she calls "the Tiffany of the insurance business."

Marriage isn't a matter of $50,000 trousseaus or gigantic publicity stunts in which the guests are press agents and newspaper reporters, and the flowergirl a daughter by a former marriage.

Marriage is not a matter of state landaus drawn by six horses.

Marriage is and always will be the strength and comfort abiding in the home.

With this strength and comfort almost every burden is bearable.

DEMOS TURN ON HEAT

New Boom For 'Ike'

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Prominent politicians of at least four Southern states have notified their agents here that General "Ike" Eisenhower regards himself as a Democrat and will accept that party's nomination for the White House if it comes to him in the form of an honest and unsolicited draft.

As a result, the boom for the European war commander is more alive now than ever before, and it may be unveiled within a few weeks at a board of strategy meeting in the Deep South.

TUCKER

Alabama is expected to play a key role in the plan to sweep the Democratic convention with the supposed magic name of Eisenhower as Taft, Dewey and Vandenberg delegates were stampeded by the Wendell Willkie whirlwind at the G. O. P.'s 1940 convention.

Should this lead-off state yield to Kansas for offer of the General's name, it is believed that nothing can stop his nomination. Under such circumstances, it is the current understanding that he would accept.

WINNER: The leaders of the revived movement maintain that they bear no particular personal animosity toward President Truman. Their attempt to shove him aside, they insist, is not inspired by resentment against his Civil Rights program so much as it is by their desire to propagate a winner.

In fact, they hope that certain mutual friends on Capitol Hill will use their good offices to induce Mr. Truman to retire gracefully, or at least not to express or exhibit any resentment at the Kansan's preferment.

Word of this arrangement and of the proposed get-together of Eisenhower tacticians in the South has apparently reached Democratic headquarters at the Capital. It accounts for National Chairman J. Howard McGrath's recent statement that, in advancing his anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-segregation measures, President Truman "did not intend to invade the constitutional rights of Southern states."

The McGrath amendment represents almost a complete backdown on this question unless it draws an unexpected repudiation from the White House.

LIBERAL: The Democrats' shift toward General Eisenhower coincides with a developing lack of interest in him on the part of the Republicans. He has not run well in any of their primaries and his name is no longer mentioned as a possibility at their private huddles.

His dwindling appeal, if any, to the G.O.P. Warwicks does not derive alone from their belief that they can win with almost anybody next November. It stems from their discovery that he considers himself a "liberal" in a Rooseveltian sense on basic economic questions.

Behind-the-scenes operators, who are not necessarily politicians, have made it their important business to check up on his general philosophy of life, politics and government.

Their study was prompted by remarks he is reported to have uttered here at a private dinner sponsored by a Washington and Allentown (Pa.) hostess for a newly elected Representative from that state.

While General Eisenhower did not denounce his capitalistic colleagues, including Senators Taft and Vandenberg and ex-Senator Austin as violently as some second-hand accounts related, he did convince his listeners that, in thought and theory, he is not their kind of Republican.

"The Democrats can have him, if they need and want him," is the revealing comment of key Republicans on his supposed presidential availability.

BERLIN: It may not be without political portent and significance that renewed talk of General Eisenhower's presidential prospects has been accompanied by an unofficial defense of his surrender to the Russians, as his enemies refer to the incident, during the last hours of World War II. Never before, in so much detail, have the reasons for his permitting the Red Army to capture Berlin been told as they have been now by Army associates of the former Chief of Staff. Here is their version:

Almost three years ago to this day, the American and Russian forces began to make contact in Germany, with our spearheads standing at the juncture of the Mulde and Elbe rivers, only fifty-five miles from Berlin. We could have encircled and seized Hitler's capital overnight, or long before the Russians got there. But our field commanders got word from Eisenhower to halt at that spot.

In the light of recent events, especially the current "battle of Berlin," our yielding to the Russians has been characterzied as one of our worst World War II blunders. Possession of Berlin, an important railway and transportation citadel, will be of tremendous material and psychological advantage to an enemy in the event of another conflict.

AGREEMENT: The Army's current answer to this charge (it is also Eisenhower's) is that the agreement for postwar allied occupation of Germany had been negotiated by former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in October of 1944 (seven months before battlefield contact with the Russians) at the London conference of the Inter-Allied Commission.

We thought we were outsmarting the Reds by gaining their permission to occupy as much of Germany as we now hold. Our diplomatic and military experts had figured that the war would end before our troops reached the Rhine and that the advancing Soviet forces would then be in Berlin. Instead, Eisenhower's men, by mid-April, were nearest to the "kill."

The Elbe river, in view of the Byrnes agreement, was a logical place to halt. It saved men. It prevented a possible battlefield clash with Russian units. It enabled our troops on the right flank to pursue enemy forces in Southern Germany and Austria. Anyway, argues the Army, the decision to yield to Stalin was made by top-ranking diplomats, not by General Eisenhower.

IGNORE: "Do the brass hats in the Republican party," inquires J.H.F. of Houston, "think that, if they ignore Stassen, he will disappear? After a man in three separate tests has made an unbelievable record and leads in the latest public poll on the most popular candidate, can the party leaders have the audacity to ignore him?"

Answer: The "brass hats" do not like Mr. Stassen, as I have frequently reported, and they are inclined to discount his primary showing. And they have "ignored" more distinguished figures than the former Governor of Minnesota.

Teddy Roosevelt carried nine of the dozen primaries in 1912, was the idol of the Progressives, but was disregarded by the slatemakers. Hiram W. Johnson won six primaries in 1920, and General Leonard Wood carried five, but Harry Daugherty manipulated the machinery so that the prize fell to the comparatively unknown Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft were the bell-ringers in the 1940 pre-convention contests but Wendell Willkie stole the nomination from under their noses.

ATTEMPTS TO BREAK UNION SEEN

Packers' Tactics Under Fire

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In these days of seeming prosperity, when everybody has a job who wants one and there is a general desire to preserve the comfortable sort of status quo without interruption or unpleasant reminders, it is easy to get impatient with workers who would disrupt this beneficent sort of order by going on strike.

You just don't want to be bothered. That's human nature. So the average person contentedly at work, though perhaps having a hard time piecing out his pay to meet inflation, may be inclined to scan with irritation the headlines about a strike some place and may flip over the pages of his paper without further curiosity. Perhaps John L. Lewis and his activities, bitterly cartooned or editorialized, about, have had their effect on a public that otherwise might be more concerned, in many cases, with workers who take the hard decision to go on strike—and it is no easy decision.

STOKES

Talks Are Futile

The apathy, or it may be even resentment, is more tempting when the strike involves something basic and essential, such as coal—or meat. It is difficult then to think of workers in such industries as people, even as you and I, trying to get along and live decently.

There are, as we know, some 90,000 such people now out on strike all over the country, people with families, at some 65 plants operated by the so-called "big four" meat packers — Armour, Swift, Cudahy and Wilson—and they have been since March 16. The strike was voted overwhelmingly by the workers. Another of the repeated attempts to settle it has failed here; and conferences among the companies' representatives, the CIO's United Packinghouse workers and the government's national mediation board were recessed until further meetings next week in Chicago.

The issue is wages. The companies are standing pat on 9 cents an hour increase, which is what some 11,000 to 12,000 AFL workers in big four plants settled for some weeks back. The CIO union started off asking for 29 cents an hour increase, which is arrived at by computation on the basis of the Bureau of Labor statistics family-budget requirement figures. The average wage is now $1.10 to $1.15 an hour, with a 44 and 45 hour work week. The union since has scaled down its demands and also agreed, at one point, to two of five alternate proposals by government conciliators, including arbitration.

The packers rejected all of them. The President's fact-finding board concluded that a nine cents increase represented a substantial increase consistent with the consumer's price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, but they also held that the budget approach upon which the union insists is neither novel nor unprecedented, as the packers contend.

There has been an interminable argument back and forth. Union officials charge that the companies never have shown any inclination to negotiate in the customary collective bargaining fashion. The stories of the tactics pursued by the packers certainly smack of practices of a past era, and it is this which is a very important part of this strike, in view of the new and better approach we are seeking in labor relations.

Packers' Tactics Hit

The packers have resorted to all sorts of harassments. They have secured a wave of injunctions from local courts against picketing—injunctions that have hit all but 2 of the 65 plants, and many more than once. Local police have been extraordinarily active in some places, particularly in Chicago, where union officials report they outnumber pickets, and in Kansas City, where an episode of policy activity against strikers now is being investigated by the FBI on Justice department orders.

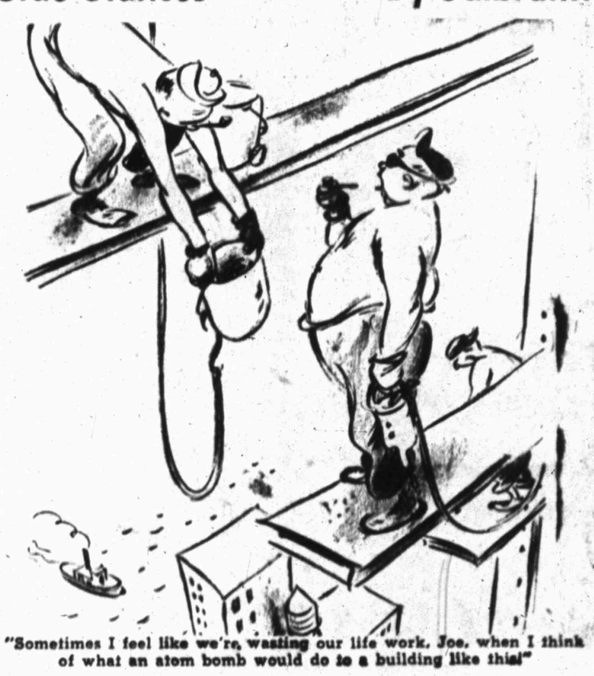

On an almost unbelievable scale, and obviously at great expense, the packers have resorted to the old technique of trying to influence their workers by telegrams and letters, which union officials say are alternately threatening and cajoling in nature—a practice barred under the old Wagner act, but apparently carried on now under the "free speech" provisions of the Taft-Hartley act. This finally has culminated, according to union officials, in notices that workers would be replaced under the Taft-Hartley act, and the union now is planning to seek an injunction against this latest move.

One trick reported was to advise workers by letter that a number of their fellow strikers were returning to work on a certain day, and on that day office employes dressed as workers went streaming into the plant at 7 o'clock in the morning for observation by the pickets to give the impression that the strike was being broken.

While their viewpoint may be prejudiced, it is only fair to report that to union officials this all looks like an attempt to break the union.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Pioneer Southwest Oil Man Will Be Buried At Houston

HOUSTON, May 10 (U.P.)—Martin A. O'Brien, veteran Southwest oil man and manager of the production department of the American Republic Corp., will be buried here tomorrow.

The 61-year-old man died Saturday night in a Houston hospital after an illness of six weeks.

O'Brien was a native of Bradford, Pa., and he had been in the oil business nearly all of his adult life. He began his career as an independent worker and wildcatter in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico fields.

He had been with the American Republic Corp. for the past 25 years.

This year, the Army Medical department has appropriated $4,000,000 for research and education. In nursing, graduate work is being provided in psychiatry, surgery, anesthesiology, and hospital administration. The courses range from five to 13 months in length and will be given in the Army's most up-to-date teaching centers. The teaching staffs will include top medical personnel as well as expert Army nurse instructors. Only nurses on extended active duty are eligible for these graduate courses.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP) — Strike news took command of the grain market today and caused enough nervous short covering to give cereals a firm tone. May contracts showed most strength, particularly May corn. Trading was not active.

Wheat closed ⅝-1½ higher, May $2.43½-43.44, corn was ⅝-¾ higher, May $2.21¼-½, oats were ⅝ lower to 1⅛ higher, May $1.14-41.14¼, and soybeans were unchanged to a cent lower, May $3.85.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady in moderately active dealings today. Mill buying and short covering met only scale up offerings. Commission house buying was attracted to the new crop months on favorable export prospects and the fact that they are selling at a substantial discount compared with nearby deliveries.

Spot cotton markets were quiet as demand from shippers slackened, pending clearer ideas on export demands for old crop cotton supply.

Late afternoon prices were 60 cents to $1.30 a bale higher than the previous close. May 37.50, July 36.86 and Oct. 33.60.

Wall Street

STOCKS IN LATE RALLY

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Stocks churned indecisively in most of today's market but negotiated a brisk comeback in the final hour on revived hopes for calling off the threatened rail strike.

Few if any weak spots appeared when the President authorized the Army to take over the roads. Assorted rails, industrials and utilities then began to harden. While minus signs persisted at the close for pivotals, advances of fractions to 2 points predominated.

While labor disputes tended to cool bullish ardor to a certain extent, some demand evidently was inspired by the old Wall Street maxim of "never sell stocks on strikes."

Bidding, here and there, still was predicted partly on the idea that governmental spending will keep the inflationary pot boiling and bolster business generally.

Transfers amounted to 1,440,000 shares against 1,670,000 Friday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at 68.1, which equalled the top level since last July.

Touching peaks for 1948 were Commonwealth and Southern ¼ at 3¾ (the most active stocks on blocks of as much as 80,000 shares in reflection of the consideration of reorganization program amendments). Sinclair Oil ⅛ at 24⅜ and Socony ⅛ at 20⅜.

Bonds did selectively better.

commission insisting on installation of equipment to utilize gas produced incidentally with oil either commercially or by re-injection to oil-producing reservoirs.

Taxes Based On Production

Texas produced nearly three trillion cubic feet of gas in 1947 and piped 525 billion cubic feet out of the state.

The state taxes gas on a production basis. This levy is at the rate of 5.2 per cent of value. In addition, there are numerous local taxes, such as the ad valorem levy, that bring the total tax bill on natural gas to 2.4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet produced and sold. Flare gas is not taxed.

The research institute figured the gross production tax collected by the state in the fiscal year 1947 at $4,798,271. It figured the total of all taxes at $70,500,024 as compared with an estimated value of $92,274,446 of the gas produced. This of course does not include the value of the property itself, on which ad valorem taxes are based.

Texas has no specific tax on exported gas; but exported gas is taxed along with that used domestically. An effort to set a gathering tax on natural gas failed during the last session of the legislature. It was designed to increase taxation of export gas.

A new fight on the question is likely to come during the next session.

George Atkinson, jr., assistant cashier of the Citizens National bank of Lubbock.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Crawley of Lamesa, young Crawley completed his formal education in Cincinnati, and in January, 1942, enlisted in the Army of the United States, and served 34 months in Italy, Sicily, Africa, France, and Germany as a member of the 115th A. G. F. Band.

Crawley became associated with the First National bank of Lamesa in January 1946, exactly two decades after his father, W. K. Crawley, formed his association with the same institution as active vice-president, which position he holds at the present time.

Young Crawley is active in church and civic affairs in Lamesa, being at present vice-president of the Lamesa Lions club, and active member of the Lamesa Town Hall association, and a participant in several musical organizations of the city.

Mrs. Crawley will accompany her husband to the national convention of the A.I.B. Enroute they will visit Chicago, Cincinnati, New York City and Washington, D. C.

from Wichita Falls, showed an amazing versatility, taking part in four acts and showing himself outstanding in each. Light as a feather on his feet and a truly beautiful physical speciman, his Adagio act with Patti Jo Musson, his dancing and gymnastics are something to see.

In addition to those mentioned above, there were many who distinguished themselves with outstanding performances including Maxine McCollum, a very scatterbrained redhead with an exciting rumba tap dance; Cora Lee Heckman, singing "The Man I Love" and "Because;" Terry Sanders with his baritone; and the Parlorettes, a girls quartet including Nelrose Griswald, Emeline Rapstone, Lea May Bednorz and Jean Ferris.

Music for the show was arranged and written by college talent also and included a total of twelve songs presented for the first time. It was directed by Vic Williams and Ted Creager with Terry Sanders acting as coordinator and writing several of the songs with the assistance of Paul Green. The 20 piece band lives up to its advance billing.

Between the first and second acts George Ater, director of the show, dedicated the first night performance to Pres. W. M. Whyburn in appreciation for the fine contribution he has made to Texas Technological college during the time that he has served as president.

The "Phenomena" will be presented again tonight and Wednesday night beginning at 8:15 p. m. Tickets are on sale at Dunlap's Hemphill-Wells and in the administration building at Texas Tech and sell at $1.50 for reserved seats and $1. for general admission.

Graveside Services Are Held For McHam Baby At Crosbyton

Graveside services for Margaret McHam, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McHam, jr., of Hale Center, were conducted yesterday afternoon in Crosbyton cemetery. The baby died about 4 p. m. Sunday, five hours after birth, in West Texas hospital. It weighed 2 pounds and 8 ounces.

The condition of a twin brother, Morgan Wayne, born only two minutes earlier Sunday, was reported as "still guarded due to premature birth" by attending nurses at West Texas hospital Monday night.

Survivors include the father and mother, a sister, Leona McHam; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McHam, sr., of Ralls; maternal grandparent, Mrs. Opal Crabb of 2801 Ave. B.

Business Official Warns Of Attack By Fire Against U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The nation must look to its fire defenses because the "masters of the Kremlin" are reputed to be experts in scorched-earth methods.

Earl O. Shreve, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, sounded this warning today.

In an address to the annual meeting of the National Fire Protection association, Shreve said the Nazi-Fascist threat to this country's security has been removed.

"But," he added, "it has been supplanted by the ominous threatening attitude of Soviet Russia, which seems to challenge the security and freedom not only of our Western civilization but of the entire world.

Cities Open To Fire

"It has been said that the masters of the Kremlin are experts in fire, past masters of the 'scorched earth' technique and that some of their minister experts may contemplate the devastation of our business centers and the peaceful countryside of America."

The Fire Protection association is made up of state fire marshals, business representatives and research technicians. Shreve is a vice president.

Pointing to wartime developments in making fire-setting devices into "fearsome instruments," Shreve added:

"Some — indeed too many — of our American cities are highly suspectible to incendiary attack."

The Chamber president noted studies being made in the national defense establishment to mobilize civilian forces for use in an emergency.

"Just as every American city needs a fire department," he declared, "we must have a sound civilian defense organization on hand in case this country again is attacked. . . . We must be ready to act, and to secure our facilities, if such a calamity strikes.

More Information Asked

"It would, of course, be the objective of any enemy to render our cities, with their constituent industrial installations inoperative—in other words, wipe them out. It would be the aim of our citizens to keep our factories and utilities operating.

"Despite the ghastly potentialities of these newest and most devastating of weapons, authorities inform us that damage can be reduced by promptly organized civilian action and that functional community life can, in many instances, be rapidly restored."

Shreve called for still further details from military leaders.

"It would indeed be helpful," he said, "if the department of National Defense would explain to businessmen the nature of situations that come with hostile operations against our cities. I am sure that business could, with technical assistance, mobilize the necessary protection for their plants, lines of communication, transportation and food supplies."

Bull Attacks Owner, But Loses Struggle With Farmer's Wife

MATAMORA, Ill., May 10 (U.P.)—Sonny Boy, a 1,500-pound registered brown Swiss bull, went to market for slaughter today because he lost a two hour battle with a 100-pound farm wife.

The events leading to Sonny Boy's last trip started when he attacked his master, Charles C. Jaggers, 38, on the Jaggers farm west of here.

He rolled and shoved the farmer for 100 yards and finally tossed him into a creek bed with his right leg and wrist broken.

Then Mrs. Erma Jaggers, 39, who stands five feet tall when wearing shoes, saw from her kitchen window what was happening. The bull by that time was pawing the ground again, preparing to follow up his attack.

Victim Calls Neighbors

Mrs. Jaggers went into action. She ran from the house directly to the bull, grabbed him by the nose ring, and flung herself to the ground. The pain of her weight on his nose pulled the bull's head down.

From then until 2:15 p. m., Mrs. Jaggers clung to the ring as the bull dragged, pulled and yanked her around the field. Sometimes she managed to twist the ring hard enough to force the bull to the ground.

Jaggers, meanwhile, dragged himself down the creek bed, despite his broken arm and leg, to a point where he could yell to neighbors for help.

The neighbors, Mrs. Willard Robinson, Herman Noel and Pete Sandel, rushed to the Jaggers' farm with a rifle.

Woman's Hands Cramped

The rescuers found that they could not fire at the bull for fear of hitting Mrs. Jaggers. She clung to the ring and they ran a rope through it and tied the bull to a tractor.

They found that Mrs. Jaggers had grasped the ring so long that her cramped hands would not let loose immediately. They had to massage them to restore circulation so that she could loose her grip.

Using the tractor, they led and herded Sonny Boy back to his box stall in the barn.

Jaggers was recovering at a Peoria hospital today. Mrs. Jaggers was recovering from shock and severe bruises at her home.

She said that Sonny Boy would be sent to market as fast as possible.

"I might not be able to whip him the next time," she said.

Woman Pours Boiling Water On Husband As He Sleeps

NEW YORK, May 10 (U.P.)—Mrs. Mollie Steinberg, 53, was charged today with pouring a bucket of boiling, soapy water on her husband, while he slept. The husband, Samuel, 54, was hospitalized with third-degree burns of the face, body and right leg.

"I couldn't get along with him," she told police. "He nagged."

Deaths From Heart Disease Can Be Cut By More Than Third

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP)—Deaths from coronary thrombosis — one of the most common and fatal forms of heart disease — can be cut from one third to one half with new blood-controlling drugs, a 20-months nationwide study showed today.

The investigation was sponsored by the American Heart association with the financial support of the U. S. Public Health service. It involved 1,000 patients in 17 United States hospitals.

Different Treatments Given

The drugs used principally are the anticoagulants dicumerol and heparin. They tend to prevent blood from clotting. Coronary thrombosis is the formation of a blood clot in an artery leading directly to the heart. If the clot becomes big enough to shut off all or most of the blood to the heart, the sufferer dies.

Dr. Irving S. Wright, associate professor of clinical medicine at Cornell university, described the study in a paper read before Illinois State Medical society's annual meeting.

Patients admitted on even days of the month, he said, received conventional treatment for the disease. Those admitted on odd days received conventional treatment plus anticoagulant treatment.

Results Are Cited

"The results to date (preliminary data on 800 alternate cases) indicate that the incidence of deaths from coronary thrombosis can be reduced from approximately 23 per cent to 13 per cent, or between one-third and one-half, and the incidence of thrombo-embolic complications (other blood clots in the lungs or elsewhere) can be reduced from approximately 19 per cent to 9 per cent, or one half, by the proper use of anticoagulant treatment.

"This means in reality that by the intelligent use of this new approach, one person in three who would be expected to die from a specific attack of coronary occlusion will survive that attack . . ."

Dr. Wright said the drugs also showed promise in treatment of rheumatic heart disease with multiple blood clot episodes.

Funeral Services Held For Pioneer New Mexico Rancher

RATON, N.M., May 10 (U.P.)—Funeral services were held today for Edward C. Johnson, 73, who helped build the fame of the "TO" ranch here as a breeding place for prize Hereford cattle.

Johnson died unexpectedly Saturday while sitting in the kitchen of the ranch house.

Herefords from the "TO" ranch have won honors at stock shows at Chicago, Denver, Kansas City, Fort Worth and elsewhere in the nation. Johnson who had been at the ranch for 24 years, was manager until his retirement to a vice presidency last year.

OUTSTANDING RICHMOND CITIZEN, RESTAURANT OWNER, LAUDS RETONGA

Ma. F. J. Wallace Credits Retonga With Helping Him Regain Strength, Energy. Found Prompt Relief For The Distress Of Sour Stomach, Restlessness.

Another outstanding citizen has put his endorsement on Retonga. He is Mr. F. J. Wallace, prominent resident of Richmond, Va., for 45 years and owner of the famous Wallace Restaurant at 828 E. Main Street. A Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner, Mr. Wallace is one of the best-known business men in Richmond. He gratefully states:

"I got to where I felt haggard and worn-out most of the time and just had no get-up-and-go. To go to bed at night meant little or nothing to me because I couldn't seem to sleep restfully at all. After eating, the gas in my stomach caused me to feel too full to be comfortable and at night I'd feel so jittery inside that at times I thought I wouldn't be able to get my breath. Harsh laxatives were a must for me to relieve my sluggish bowels. I often felt high-strung and on edge.

"The relief Retonga brought me was truly a wonderful experience. I have regained much of my strength and energy, get a full night's restful sleep and no longer suffer from that full, over-stuffed feeling or rely on harsh laxatives. Retonga is truly a great medicine and I recommend it unhesitatingly to all my friends and others who might be suffering as I did."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores. Adv.

When The Decision Is Close... You Need Good Eyesight

At the important moments of your life when you have to "bear down" . . . when work must be done and decisions must be reached . . . perfect vision is essential. At work, at play, or at social functions our eyesight brings us 80 per cent of our consciousness of the world about us.

If you are overtired, not up to scratch or have headaches, you should consult your Oculist (eyesight Physician). And if you need glasses ask him about Tillyer lenses. Tillyer lenses are corrected to the very edge of the lens . . . not just at the center . . . so that you see clearly and comfortably without eyestrain. Wherever you look . . . up, down, right or left. Ordinary lenses are corrected only at their centers. So be sure to wear Tillyer . . . they're correct from every angle.
