ICKES URGES WAR

Declares Time Ripe To Enter Europe's Row

But Senator Nye Starts Hint Of Anglo-Nazi Plot

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, June 27 — The scope of United States - Soviet union collaboration against Germany was defined and clarified today by official explanation that the partnership is limited to questions deriving from Germany's attack on the Communist state.

This clarification coincided with a new cabinet proposal that the United States "strike" now to take advantage of the situation created by Germany's military movement in the east. Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, in effect, told a Hartford, Conn., audience last night that the United States should enter the war now.

Speculation Is Revived

Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., revived speculation about Rudolf Hess, the Nazi party leader who flew to Scotland, by suggesting that he had sought an agreement with Great Britain for a joint Anglo-German sortie against the Soviet union.

"The British wouldn't want to bring it (the war) too quickly to an end as long as they can dip into the lend-lease fund," Nye said. "But German bombing of England has virtually ceased. There are reports that the British are bombing Germany heavily, but all of those reports come from London. The British are bombing —maybe.

"There is something significant in the absence of bombing by Ger-

Induction May Be Revamped

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 27—The army was reported considering today a drastic change in selective service induction procedure whereby the physical and mental fitness of trainees would be ascertained officially long before the men leave for camp.

The new system will be based on experiments underway in Pennsylvania for more than a month. Officials in charge of the selective service program said that this method, possibly with some modifications, undoubtedly would be extended to other states.

Bad Teeth Chief Defect

At present, except in Pennsylvania, prospective trainees must report to a regular army induction center, ready for immediate induction, before they receive final physical and psychiatric examinations. In many cases men, who had been passed by local selective service physicians, have failed to meet the requirements of the army examinations and have been sent back home as unacceptable.

Since several hundred thousand have been turned down—the principal cause has been bad teeth—this system has aroused widespread criticism and demands for change have gone both to the army

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following dispatch Leon Kay, who has just returned from the Balkans, explains the collapse of the Yugoslav army under the German blitzkrieg, which he witnessed.

BY LEON KAY
United Press Staff Writer
(Copyright, 1941, By The United Press)

NEW YORK, June 27 — Yugoslavia had 2,000,000 soldiers — more than the United States has today — and they were as brave as any fighting men in the world, but they didn't have the equipment, leadership and organization to endure a week of the German blitzkrieg.

Before my assignment in the Balkans, I had seen the blitzkrieg in Holland. I used to ask Yugoslavs what they expected to do against a 40-mile-an-hour mechanized attack if one came their way. The answer, accompanied by a sweeping gesture, was always the same: A literal translation being, "every Serbian has a strong heart and for the Germans he has a knife."

Found Comfort In Ideals

They were convinced that their cause was just, and they knew their own courage. They found comfort in those ideals, but eventually they had to go into battle hungry, worn out from marching, and lacking gun-power.

To begin with, the Yugoslavs expected the German attack to come 10 days later than it did. In consequence, the Yugoslav army was only about 85 per cent mobilized and scarcely concentrated at all.

The Yugoslavs had about 800 airplanes, of miscellaneous types and vintages; about 1,000 auto trucks, only half of them in A-1 condition. Their anti-aircraft guns were mostly old models. Anti-tank guns were scarce. The Germans, by contrast, used 1,000 tanks and 4,000 armored cars in one sector alone — in the drive from Bulgaria which cut off the Yugoslav armies from the south. Yugoslav leaders had left the supply problem to take care of itself. There were no stores of food hidden away at strategic points, and many of the soldiers, after marching two or three days to reach a concentration point for battle, found nothing to eat when they got there.

Did Not Learn Lessons

Another thing that struck me was that despite all the lessons which might have been learned from the campaigns in France and the low countries, Yugoslav troops were commanded by veterans of the World war and even of the

Navy Request Is Rejected

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 27 — The Senate naval affairs committee rejected today navy request for authority to hold volunteers now with the fleet in service after their enlistment period ends.

The navy proposed that it be given the right to exercise such authority if Congress declared the national interests were imperiled but Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) said committee members felt this would involve a breach of contracts.

Revised Bill Favored

The committee reported favorably, however, a revised bill which would make future volunteers subject to such a provision. Under its terms, men who enlist in the future for the regular six-year period could be retained in service if Congress ordered it, but men now in the navy would be released at the close of their regular service periods.

There had been speculation that the army might follow the navy's lead in seeking the powers to retain in service men whose enlistments had expired.

Thanks to the selective service reservoir of manpower, the army has not been affected by the re-

Hoover Will Address Nation Sunday Night

NEW YORK, June 27. (U.P.)—Former President Herbert Hoover announced today he would discuss "our situation in the war" in a radio address Sunday night.

"I shall make a statement to the American people upon our situation in the war from Chicago Sunday night over the Red network of the National Broadcasting company," the announcement said.

Mr. Hoover will talk from 8:30 to 9:15 p. m. (CST).

They've agreed to grow the lip pieces "to lend distinction to the outfit" at this big army training center.

New O'Daniel Move Awaited

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 27—Several important political and governmental effects might result from the death of Senator Andrew Jackson Houston in Washington last night, capitol circles speculated today.

One was that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel might make a second interim appointment to the vacancy caused by the death last April of Senator Morris Sheppard, his first having been the son of Sam Houston, hero of San Jacinto.

Might Take It Himself

Another was that the governor, should he be elected senator in the special election Saturday, might resign his present office without awaiting the official canvass of returns two weeks after the election and accept appointment to the Senate from his successor as governor, Lieut.-Gov. Coke Stevenson.

Ample legal authority for making another temporary appointment exists, regardless of the fact an election to choose a senator for the balance of Senator Sheppard's term is at hand, a study of statutes disclosed.

Mandate Is Provided

One view was that a mandate is provided for such an appointment.

A law says that a vacancy in Texas' representation in the U. S. Senate shall be filled by an election and pending the election and qualification, if Congress is in session, by temporary appointment.

Clauses considered significant declare as follows:

". . . If the Congress or Senate is in session at the time of such vacancy or should convene before such election or before the

Twenty-Five Cars Of Freight Are Derailed

KANSAS CITY, June 27. (AP) — Twenty-five cars of Kansas City Southern freight train were derailed and most of them destroyed by fire near Stotesbury, Mo., early today.

Officials of the railroad said they had no report on what caused the wreck and fire that followed. The train was bound from Shreveport, La., to Kansas City.

None of the train crew was injured.

Everybody From Jitterbugs To Nazis Visit State's Capitol

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 27. — All kinds of people, from jitterbugs to Nazi organizers, visit the capitol, and they ask Mrs. R. H. Ward all kinds of questions.

Mrs. Ward, hostess in the Senate chamber, says jitterbugs are abundant in her register, but the book contains only three Nazi organizers.

They walked into the chamber one summer afternoon a couple of years ago. First to sign was a man who gave his address as Nuremberg, Germany.

With him were a man and woman from Houston who dittoed the "Nazi organizer" entry the first man had written.

Mrs. Ward usually greets visitors with the query, "Who is your senator?"

Half or more of them don't know. The answer has been "Tom Connally" or "Morris Sheppard" on several occasions.

Ammunition Shortage Faces America In Defense Work

FDR Discloses Newest Threat To U. S. Plans

Irish May Receive Rifles, Providing They Give Pledge

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 27 — President Roosevelt disclosed today that a shortage in ammunition confronted the nation in its defense efforts.

Mr. Roosevelt said at a press conference he was looking into the question of sending some rifles to the Irish but that no ammunition could be sent because the country is way behind on ammunition even for itself.

Irish Pledge Demanded

Although he once had said arms could not be spared for Ireland, Mr. Roosevelt mentioned the possibility of sending over rifles because, he said, the actual processing of them is getting along pretty well.

The Irish wanted all kinds of things in addition to rifles he asserted, but most of these were things this country could not get for itself.

He made it plain, moreover, that armament aid for Ireland would have to follow assurances that the Irish would defend themselves against German attack. He said no such assurance had been received.

Aid For Russia Studied

For helping Russia in the battle against the Nazis, the chief executive said he expected to confer on that topic by telephone today with Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles. He expects to receive a report on what Russian Ambassador Oumansky had to say to Welles yesterday.

Informed that the Communist press in New York was saying that aid to Russia was half hearted, Mr. Roosevelt preferred not to comment.

To a question how long it would take before America was turning out defense material in tremendous volume, the president replied that a question so general could not be answered categorically. It depends on the article, he said, and for some things a peak already has been reached. For other things top production may not come for six or eight months or a year.

Irish Bases Not Sought

"As a general thing," he was asked, "are you satisfied with the

Young Desperadoes Nabbed In Montana

(BROADUS, Mont., June 27. (U.P.) —Two youthful desperadoes, wanted in five states for holdup and kidnapings, were captured 24 miles southeast of here today, Sheriff Claude Anderson announced.

The youths, identified as Walter Weston, 23, and Alvin Ralph Brumbaugh, about 19, were taken to Billings.

Sheriff Anderson said they were captured "without a struggle." Weston had a shoulder wound, the result of a gun battle with Anderson and his 15-year-old son, Claude, junior, yesterday.

Senator Houston Dies In Eleventh Hour Of Term; Voters Cast Ballots Saturday

(By The United Press)

U. S. Sen. Andrew Jackson Houston is dead, in the eleventh hour of his short term and of a sizzling Texas campaign to name his successor.

Death of the 87-year-old interim senator at Baltimore last night brought expressions of sorrow from leading senatorial candidates, but they had little time to pause for eulogies.

The state votes tomorrow, and predictions indicate the closest results in Texas history. The unexpired term of the late Morris Sheppard, whom Houston replaced, is the stake.

Of 25 aspirants, only four—U. S. Reps. Lyndon Johnson and Martin Dies, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel and State's Attorney General Gerald Mann — were conceded a chance to win.

Today was the home stretch, the day of last-minute appeals and claims of victory. These were not lacking.

All Are Confident

O'Daniel, who swamped opponents in two bids for the governorship, said it would be the same this time. Johnson and Mann claimed the preference in rival straw polls. Dies was confident that the voters will not defeat him and thus kill, he said, his House committee investigating un-American activities.

And tonight, in Texas, the radio waves will be almost a solid mass of politics.

In their final attitudes, the "big four" had placed themselves at the beck of President Roosevelt. That was the universal campaign feature. These were the diversions:

Locked In Dispute

Mann and Johnson were locked in a dispute over alleged inter-

Russians Take Heavy Toll As Army Retreats

German Blitz Said Pushing Deep Into 1000-Mile Front

(By The Associated Press)

Germany pushed her Eastern front deeper into Russian territory today — according to Russian acknowledgement and German claim — while on her Western front, with the coming of European darkness, the RAF blasted at the invasion coast in the 17th consecutive night of raiding.

Informed German quarters, displaying optimism not borne out by any officially published details from the high command, declared that the main decision over Soviet Russia already had been won in victories all along the 1,000-mile active front.

Russians Fall Back

The Russians acknowledged that their forces had fallen back before a German mechanized thrust to new positions in defense of Vilna, Lithuania, and Baronowicze, occupied Poland—apparently fighting not in Russia proper but still in the occupied buffer zone.

The Russian forces withdrew during last night, said a Moscow communique, and were "effectively reformed for new military operations." The depth of the retirement was not given.

The Vilna-Baranowicze drive, aimed at capture of Minsk, capital of White Russia, out of the western frontier region of old Russia cost the Germans heavily in tanks, pounded into twisted wreckage by planes used as "anti-tank artillery," the Russians claimed.

Minsk is about 400 miles southwest of Moscow.

Thunder Of Bombs Heard

The now familiar rumble of exploding bombs rolled across the English channel from the new RAF assault on the invasion coast.

$1,000 Price Tag Placed Upon Land

The partnership of Hurlbut and Horton asked the city commission at a special meeting this morning to pay $1,000 for approximately three and one-half acres of land needed for a Santa Fe railroad spur into the site of the advanced twin-engine aviation training school of the air corps 10 miles west of the city.

The partners are Claude B. Hurlbut, real estate dealer, and G. K. Horton, county commissioner from precinct No. 1.

Option Taken On Land

Members of the commission took a 10-day option at the price set, explaining that they would not take any chance of imperiling the $4,600,000 aviation project for Lubbock.

Officials made clear, however, that they were "surprised" because of the price asked, which amounts to nearly $290 per acre. Land across the highway which is the site for the school is under option at $35 per acre.

Members of the commission related that they had been informed by representatives of the chamber of commerce that they have conferred on various occasions with Horton and had been told by him "not to worry," and that "everything would be all right." They

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 27. (U.P.)—The man was standing beside his damaged car, waving his hands and shouting when officers arrived to investigate the accident.

But the officers learned the other car had been parked at the curb for an hour, so they booked the irate motorist on an intoxication charge.

Sale Of Bonds Opens At Tech

A rush of sales greeted opening of defense bond week at Texas Technological college this morning and a total of $3,650 in bonds was sold up to 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Twenty-three faculty members made advance pledges to buy bonds totaling $4,450 some time during the week. Impartial results of a survey by the defense bond week committee also revealed that 13 faculty members already had purchased a total of $6,000 in bonds and that 12 others had made plans to set aside certain amounts each month. Total to be set aside for bonds by the 12 each month is $475.

Gratifying Start

President Clifford B. Jones said he considered this morning's sales a "gratifying start." The observance is to continue through July 4 and faculty and students may buy bonds and stamps at cashier's window number one of the business office. Mrs. Ray Red of Citizens National bank was on duty this morning at the window.

Cecil Horne, head professor of journalism, is chairman of the defense bond week committee and other members are F. L. McRee, T. C. Root, Mart G. Pederson and Miss Josephine Looney.

Army School Bids Not Made Public

Bids for the contract to construct the advanced twin-engine aviation training school of the army air corps to be located west of Lubbock were opened in Caddoa, Colo., this morning, but figures were not made public.

Telegrams to The Evening Journal, the chamber of commerce and city officials said that army engineers ruled that the opening of bids was private, and that any announcements of figures must come from Washington.

W. S. Moss and W. G. McMillan were the only Lubbock contractors bidding for the general contract. They are associated with different groups of contractors who submitted bids. Reports from Caddoa said that bids are to be reported to Washington immediately, and that announcement may be expected from there Monday as to whether any of the bids are acceptable. Estimated cost of the work on which bids were submitted is approximately $4,600,000.

Hooded Riders Beat Workers

(By The United Press)

KEY WEST, Fla., June 27. — Sheriff Berlin Sawyer said today that he would deputize 100 men if necessary to provide day and night protection to workers on a $400,000 defense housing project here, who have been terrorized by a mob of about 60 hooded night riders.

The mob beat two carpenters and threatened others in their sleeping quarters.

Believed Labor Agitators

Edward Walker, superintendent for the Lester Preu company of Miami, said the mobsmen, wearing white hoods, entered the workers' barracks at the Preu company project brandishing guns, clubs and rocks. Two carpenters fled in an automobile but were overtaken on the overseas highway which connects Key West with the mainland and were beaten, he said.

The attack occurred early yesterday but was not reported to authorities until last night.

Lester Preu, jr., son of the construction company's owner, said at Miami that he believed the hooded men were labor agitators.

Army Supply Bill Is Approved By Senate

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP) — The Senate approves on a voice vote today the record-breaking $10,384,821,624 army supply bill and sent it back to the House for consideration of increases totalling $558,312,132.

The Senate increase was accounted for largely in an amendment providing $500,000,000 for the construction of new munitions plants.

The army measure, which clerks said was the largest single appropriation in history, was approved after an hour and 20 minutes of dilatory debate. Only a score of senators were on the floor.

Dream Of Romance In Tropics Turns Out To Be A Nightmare

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, June 27 — Mr. and Mrs. Elder Reicherts of Evanston, Ill., discoursed on romance in the tropics today as follows:

"Romance! Romance in the tropics! A million cocoanut trees; ten thousand sand fleas! Fifty million mosquitoes! Separate barracks! Romance! Nuts!"

The Reicherts were married in Evanston last March. The bridegroom, 24, left almost immediately for St. Lucia, in the British West Indies, where he had a job as accountant at the United States military base.

Mrs. Reicherts, lonely, got a job at the same base and soon followed her husband.

The Reicherts thought they would set up housekeeping together, but the authorities said no. They would have to live in barracks just like everyone else — separate barracks.

Prepare Fully To Make Fourth Of July A Picnic Festival Of Fun And Frolic

Outdoor Meal Is Popular

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Writer

The Fourth of July ushers in the picnic season. The first thing to bear in mind is that drinking water is essential. So if you are not absolutely sure of the purity of the water at the place you intend to picnic, bring some from home.

Sandwiches are still the time honored picnic fare. However, you can carry soup, stew, chile, or any other food in a vacuum jug and have it all ready to serve hot.

TAKE ALONG GREENS

Raw vegetables as a relish or salad are increasing in popularity. Before you leave home, wash the greens and let them get crisp in the refrigerator. Then wrap in wax paper and pack in a paper bag. Carrot and cucumber sticks, celery, radishes, or green onions may be kept fresh and crisp by putting them in a covered jar.

Among the really important items that simplify a picnic today is dry ice, since it keeps ice cream from melting and uncooked meats from spoiling. Then there are paper plates, cups, napkins and even paper tablecloths, to solve the dish washing and laundry problem after the picnic meal.

For those who are staying home, these delightful Firecrackerpons and Fudge Stars, served with cherry ice cream, will make any porch picnic attractive.

SAFE AND SANE FIRECRACKEROONS
(Makes about 24)

One-half cup sweetened condensed milk, 2 cups shredded coconut, 1 teaspoon vanilla (optional).

Mix sweetened condensed milk and shredded coconut together. Add vanilla if desired. Drop by spoonfuls on a plate and form into rolls two or three inches long. Place on buttered baking sheet and bake in moderate over (350 degrees F.), 10 minutes, or until a delicate brown. Remove from pan at once. When cold, dip into melted, cooled chocolate. Use cocktail toothpicks for fuses.

MAGIC FUDGE STARS
(Makes 1¾ pounds)

Two cups sugar, ½ cup water, 1/3 cups (15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk, 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in small pieces, 1 cup nut meats, chopped (optional).

Mix sugar, water and sweetened condensed milk in large saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat to 237 degrees F. or until mixture forms firm ball when tested in cold water. Remove from heat. Add chocolate and beat until chocolate is melted. Add nut meats if desired. Beat at once until thick and creamy. Pour into buttered pan. When cool, cut with a star cookie cutter.

For holiday table . . . firecrackeroons and fudge stars.

Stone is to supply the watermelons, which will be a surprise treat Saturday morning shortly before the breakup of the encampment.

Forfeiture Of Bonds Ordered By Courts

Judgments nisi were entered by Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th and Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd judicial districts, after forfeiture action had been ordered against two defendants named by indictments, records this morning showed.

Minnie Freeman, charged with theft over $50, and her sureties, J. W. Bowman and C. A. Sheffield, were named in the 99th court order; Oland Saint, charged with rape, and his sureties, Hayes S. Johnston, W. W. Finney, Evie Saint, and C. D. Shaw, in the 72nd order.

The Freeman woman's bond was $1,000, that of Saint $2,500.

Both were to have appeared for trial recently but failed to do so, judgments said.

Defendants and sureties were cited to appear at the next terms of court and show cause why the orders should not be made permanent.

Clubs, Classes Have Socials

Needlework, reading of poetry, social hours and business were diversions for meetings of clubs Thursday. Breakfast was served to one group.

"Get Acquainted" was the theme for the meeting of the Mary Martha class of the First Baptist church held in the home of Mrs. H. B. Laubhan, 2405 Main street.

The house was decorated with daisies and fern and in the corsages, refreshments and decorations the color scheme of yellow and white was carried out.

Corsages were of daisies and fern with cards attached to them with each member's given name.

Refreshments of jello and whipped cream, angel food cake, lemonade and mints were served.

Attending were Mesdames Bernice Finley, W. H. Seal, W. D. Biggers, W. H. Trice, Sidney Claiborne, Robert E. Miller, G. A. Gunn, Maude Pirtle and Sid McKinnon.

For 1941 Needle Club

Mrs. Palmer Sime, 1519 Twenty-fifth street, was hostess to the 1941 Needle club. Mrs. Wesley Smith will entertain the club July 3 at her home, 1309 Twenty-fourth street.

Those attending were Mesdames Howard Redding, J. O. Pope, Merritt Clark, Bill Davis, C. F. Henry, Smith and little Joan Redding.

Lubbock Pen Womer. met Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Claud Keeton, 1711 Seventeenth street, and each member gave some original work.

Two visitors who attended were Mrs. Clark McSpadden of Boulder Park, Colo., and Miss Mable King.

Members attending were Mesdames Irvin Hamilton, William Blake, J. L. Rosamond, G. A. Foote and C. H. Scales.

Program For Concert Tonight Announced

Program for an hour's concert to be presented at 8 o'clock tonight in Mackenzie park by the 80-piece concert band of the annual summer band school at Texas Technological college was announced this morning by D. O. Wiley, director.

The concert is to be free to the public. It will be presented south of the swimming pool under floodlights.

The program follows: El Caballerro (Olvadote), march; Morning, Noon and Night (Suppe), overture; two, trombone solos, Atlantic Zephyrs (Gardell Simon) and Beautiful Dreamer (Foster), by James Schrodt, acting band director of the Phillips university band at Enid, Okla., and member of the band school faculty; two numbers directed by Col. Earl D. Irons, director at North Texas Agricultural college, American Flying Legion march, composed by Irons, and Melody a la King, melody by K. L. King and arrangement by Alford; and two numbers directed by Schrodt, Spanish March (Borel-Clerc) and Province of Lorraine (Balay).

Wiley will direct the first two numbers and band accompaniment for the solos.

News Briefs

Has Pneumonia — An attending physician at West Texas hospital said this morning condition of Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications, was satisfactory. The editor entered the hospital Thursday for treatment of pneumonia.

Committee Meets — Several farmers with complaints regarding their 1941 cotton allotments were before the county Agricultural Adjustment administration committee this morning, said Walter Y. Wells, secretary. C. T. Wasson, district fieldman, talked to the group on the new cotton regulations, which permit plowing of cotton to bring the acreage within the allotment. C. E. Lilley of Slaton, James Steele of Cooper and John R. Murrell of Woodrow comprise the group.

Light Shower Here — A light shower, not enough to record at the state experiment sub-station, fell Thursday night in Lubbock, shortly before dark. No reports of rainfall at other points had been received.

Point Clarified—One point to observe in relying on your right to vote: If you became 60 years old before Jan. 1, 1940 and obtained your permanent exemption by Jan. 31 of this year, you Lubbock persons can vote without poll tax in Saturday's special senatorial election. Anyone who became 60 years old Jan. 1, 1940, but who lives in a town of less than 10,000 population can vote without having been issued the exemption certificate. The definition was made by H. B Bryan, county tax assessor-collector.

To Be Released—Wayne Bain, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Ethel M. Bain of 1918 Twentieth street, will be released today from West Texas hospital, where his adenoids were removed, Mrs. Bain said.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

The woman who vacations with her husband often needs a real vacation when she gets home.

No matter how good a husband a man may be, as a traveling companion he is agreeable only under the most favorable conditions—which means that he must get his way 100 per cent of the time.

No matter how much a woman enjoys eating in tearooms, she can't drag the average man to one more than once on any trip. She usually finds it impossible to get him inside any restaurant that boasts a table cloth.

A vacation isn't a vacation to a man unless he can stop in the kind of restaurants favored by hungry truck drivers.

So a woman has to sacrifice her personal preferences — and even her digestion—to the whims of the masculine mind.

Then, too, the man will insist on driving all the time, and he won't welcome any advice about speed. So, though his wife feels really happy only if a car is going under 50, she rides 60 and 70, hour after hour, day after day—if that is the way her husband likes to drive. And it probably is.

WIVES VS. HUSBANDS

The man will map out the route, too. There's not the slightest chance of anything else. Husbands seem to take a preverse pleasure in dodging all the sights a woman wants to include on a trip.

They'll spend hours figuring out how to avoid every good-sized city on a cross-country trip, when the thing a woman would probably rather do than anything else is stop in a city for a dress-up meal at a place she can tell her friends about, stay at the most famous hotel that night, and shop in one or two of the best known stores next morning. That's something to tell her bridge club about!

But men insist on being able to tell their friends how many miles they drove each day, and how they avoided all the big cities.

Men on vacation are likely to get cross and irritable, too, unless a woman is constantly smoothing things over for them. And being the little smoother-outer all day long, day after day, is no vacation.

There's no doubt about it, the woman who vacations with her husband works hard.

SPONSOR FROM FORT WORTH—Fort Worth's sponsor at the Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford July 3-5, will be Mrs. Taz Walton, one of Fort Worth's most attractive and accomplished horse-women. Shown with Mrs. Walton here is her pony, "Sassy", which she will take with her to the reunion. Mrs. Walton will be the official representative of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

Plan Service For Scouts

Girl Scout Troop 8 is to attend an investiture ceremony tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the backyard of the home of the leader, Mrs. Bert Collard, 3315 Twenty-first street. The girls, members of the George M. Hunt troop, will then become tenderfoot scouts.

In the class will be Elizabeth Jo Boles, Mary Alice Cumbie, Georgia Neal Farr, Lena Haley, Lucile Kilburn, Nell Jean Krebbs, Betty Jane Quinlan, Doris Stanley, Joyce Cherry, Lois Marie Wilson, Maryel Wood, Virginia Younger and Betty Ann Willis.

Committee members to assist will be Mesdames Arthur Maxey, M. H. Ford and E. E. Louthan.

LAWN AUDIENCE PLEASED WITH SOPRANO CONCERT

Mrs. Eloise Snyder, Fort Worth coloratura soprano, pleased a Lubbock audience seated on the lawn south of the administration building Thursday night with the clearness and flexibility of her voice.

She sang a number of encores and closed her program with a group of numbers by Frank Laforge, her former coach.

Mrs. George Conner was accompanist. She played Rachmaninoff's "Floods of Spring," as a special feature.

Colorful List Of Senatorial Aspirants Appears On Ballot

Big Four Tops Large Field

By RICHARD M. MOREHEAD
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 27.—Thumbnail sketches of the 27 men whose names appear on the ballot that some 800,000 Texans will mark Saturday to choose a successor to the late U. S. Sen. Morris Sheppard, for a term expiring Jan. 3, 1943.

DEMOCRATS

Joseph C. Bean, 66, a carpenter from Bay City.

E. A. Calvin, 66, executive secretary of the Harris County Taxpayers' Assn. at Houston.

Arlon Barton Cyclone Davis, son of Cyclone Davis, sr., colorful political figure of the last generation. Cyclone, jr., lists his occupation as "salesman, author, lecturer."

Martin Dies, 40, congressman from Orange, serving his sixth term in Congress. Best-known as chairman of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities.

Guy B. Fisher, 56, San Augustine attorney.

W. E. Gilliland, 35, plumber from Dallas.

A. E. Harding, 43, former state representative from Fort Worth.

Many "Unknowns"

"Commodore" Bazil Muse Hatfield, 52, Fort Worth, exponent of a five-ocean navy, of chemurgic farming, and of making the Trinity river navigable from Fort Worth to the gulf.

Robert Grammer Head, 35, Fort Worth radio engineer.

O. F. Heath, sr., 50, Dallas insurance man.

Bubba Hicks, 48, Houston merchant.

Lyndon B. Johnson, 32, serving his second term in Congress from the Austin district, a staunch New Dealer who is supported by administration leaders.

Include "All" Occupations

W. W. King, 61, Bronson farmer and cafe operator, a former state representative.

Gerald C. Mann, 34, state attorney general from Dallas, serving his second term, former secretary of state and former Washington representative of the state planning board. Mann once refused appointment as chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Sam Morris, 41, Baptist minister from Del Rio, radio exponent of prohibition.

Starl G. Newsome, jr., 46, of Dallas, who lists his occupation as "farmer" in Dallas and Upshur counties.

W. Lee O'Daniel, 51, serving his second term as governor, who climbed the political ladder as a radio personality while selling flour.

Floyd E. Ryan, 31, Houston lawyer.

Walter A. Schulz, 39, Burton school teacher.

C. L. Somerville, 47, Dallas law school operator (whose name will be on the ballot but who reportedly has withdrawn in favor of Johnson).

Joseph (Joe) Thompson, 41, Waco insurance agent.

Edwin Waller, 70, retired San Marcos theater operator and merchant.

W. C. Welch, 54, Port Arthur chiropractor.

John C. Williams, Rockport oil operator and graduate of the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis (also reportedly withdrawn in Johnson's favor).

REPUBLICAN

Polite Elvins, 63, citrus rancher from Pharr, a former Missouri congressman and state legislator.

INDEPENDENT

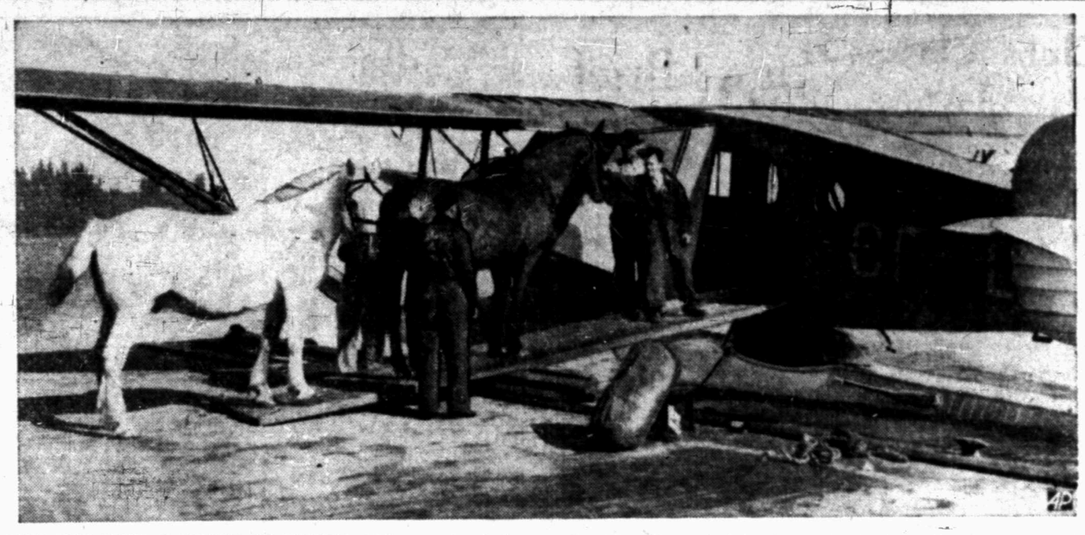

W. R. Jones, 51, San Antonio laundry operator.

COMMUNIST

Homer Brooks, 30, Houston, secretary of the Texas Communist party.

Statewide polls in advance of the election indicate that Dies, Johnson, Mann and O'Daniel will have nearly 98 per cent of the total vote and that a plurality of possibly no more than 30 per cent will elect the new U. S. senator.

If the election is very close, the winner might not be known until late next week. Precinct returns must be certified by the county judge within 72 hours after the election; and the county judge must make the official results known to the Texas secretary of state within 48 hours after that time. Official canvass of the returns is to be made 15 days after the election.

Even Safety Pins In Demand For War

CAMP ROBINSON, Ark., June 27. (U.P.) — Safety pins are small items for a huge army to get up in the air about, but that was the case when a shortage of this commodity loomed before umpires of the 2d Army war games.

The army's favorite size safety pin could not be found in the South, in large enough quantities.

Units of the 35th division were about to leave for Camp Forrest, Tenn., to engage in war games in that vicinity and the men were to be divided into two separate units of 20,000 men each. One group, "Whites," had white hatbands, and the other was called "Blues," hence, blue hatbands.

But these colorful strips of cloth had to be pinned on some way, so safety pins were in demand.

For a while it seemed the umpires would have to figure out another way to fasten them on. Then, out of the clear blue, came a telegram from a pin factory in Connecticut—"Can supply 80,000 pins. Please advise."

The pins arrived by truck—80,000. The bottleneck was broken and the umpires breathed a sigh of relief.

PROTEST—To her moneyed relatives, Zara du Pont (above) is "Miss Kick" because she usually backs up vocal protest with action. She marches with strikers, pickets utility plants, belongs to 63 progressive or educational organizations.

Good Record In House Shows He'll Be

POWER IN SENATE

Texas Needs Good, Forceful Representation in this time of crisis!

Johnson's Experience And Influence In Washington Is Needed Now!

As National Youth Administrator in Texas he established an organization which became a model for the nation.

Before that he was secretary for Congressman Kleberg for many years.

In 1937 he was elected to Congress over 10 opponents to succeed the late Congressman James P. Buchanan. In 1938 he was re-elected to Congress without opposition.

As a member of the House Naval Affairs Committee was instrumental in obtaining for Texas the $45,000,000 Naval Air Training Base at Corpus Christi — the nation's largest.

Development of world's largest rural electrification project (the Pedernales Electric Cooperative). Also obtained appropriations and authority for system of rural electrification project throughout Central Texas making cheap electric power available to every farm and ranch in his district.

Helped obtain defense ship building yards for Orange and Houston; established the Naval Reserve Base at Dallas; the ROTC Naval Unit at University of Texas. He has made Texas "navy conscious."

Became advocate of National Youth Administration in Congress and was outstanding in aid to CCC and other youth projects.

Obtained among the first slum clearance projects and gave every aid to farm credit advancement; tenant purchase plan; AAA soil conservation; parity payments; flood control. Active in the fight for lower freight rates for the Southwest on par with Eastern rates.

Leading the field: State Polls quoted by other candidates as unbiased . . . Give Johnson Lead!

1ST LINE QUALITY costs less THAN YOU GUESS

Two things determine first-line quality in a tire: what goes into it, and what you get out of it.

On both counts, Lee DeLuxe Tires are up in front. Into them go only the finest materials, the most exacting craftsmanship. And the famous 5-million mile Florida Road Test proved that you can expect extra miles of travel out of them.

Pitted against other leading first-line brands, Lee tread-wear was actually 6 per cent less than the average. This is equivalent to 1000 extra miles of travel per tire.

Yet Lee Tires cost no more than other leading makes. Actually, they cost less than you guess!

Europe's Homeless Regimes "Carrying On" With England's Help

Exiled Nations Thorn To Axis

By WILLIAM W. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 27.—"Through long years of practice, we established certain routines of conspiracy that are standing us in good stead now."

An official of the Polish government in exile was recalling how he and his countrymen were profiting by the lessons they learned 25 years ago, when they were planning how to reclaim their land from Germany and Russia, who now have occupied it again.

Today's exiled government is in almost the same hands as that of World war times. It is one of seven homeless regimes beset by problems of finance, communication and language, which attempt remote control of their nations from London. The others are the governments of Norway, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Yugoslavia and the Netherlands.

"Free" Movements Survive

Struggling beside them are five "free" movements — French, Rumanian, Austrian, Danish and Italian.

All are keeping in touch with their peoples through underground channels in the hope that when the "great day" comes they can return.

Most striking examples of carrying on through difficulties are furnished by the Poles, Dutch and Norwegians.

The Polish National Unity government, under President Raczkiewicz, represents Poland's four largest parties. Its nine-man cabinet meets every two weeks, and its "little parliament" — 20 members of the National Council—sits almost every day. The army high command meets separately.

No Minor Offices

"We have only major offices," a spokesman said. "None of the second-grade departments is here, and we eliminate much red tape." The nutshell governing body has a secretariat of only about 200 and a foreign staff of ten.

Three times a day the BBC broadcasts to Poland and there are 12 secret newspapers with a circulation of about two million to counteract German propaganda. Leaflets and "many devious other methods," the spokesman said, help keep the people informed on what their government is doing here.

Poland has given England the strongest army and air force of any exile country. The army is entrusted with a vital part of England's defenses and part of it is in the Middle East. Stories of the heroic Polish air force are legion.

"Our navy," the spokesman said, is actually stronger than when the war began." A new submarine was launched for it only recently at a northern English shipyard.

Netherlands Government Busy

The Netherlands government, housed in the same West End building as the Polish, is streamlined to the point of informality. The 11-man cabinet meets once a week under Prime Minister Gerbrandy, and 60-year-old Queen Wilhelmina, who a spokesman said "exerts a more pronounced influence than ever before," receives her ministers oftener than she did at home. She frequently speaks to Holland by radio.

The queen has 68 million subjects in the colonies and eight million under German domination. The Netherlands government therefore has the biggest secretarial staff of all—about 700.

Big Shipping Business

One of the Hollanders' biggest jobs is directing about three million tons of shipping. In addition to merchant ships, the Dutch succeeded in bringing most of their navy across the channel and even towed some unfinished vessels. One, the cruiser Heemskerk, has been completed here. Dutch seamen are manning one of the 50 destroyers from the United States.

The government broadcasts twice a day to the homeland by BBC and leaders say they are "well informed" on conditions there. At present they are planning strategy to "further undermine the German soldiers' morale."

Norway is one of the richest exiles. Its government meets all its own expenses and even pays interest on foreign loans out of the income from four million tons of merchant shipping and reserves of gold it was able to bring out of the country.

King Haakon comes to London periodically to preside over cabinet meetings.

"A considerable staff is needed," an official said, "although the running of the government has been simplified by concentrating on the one major problem and eliminating the manifold petty internal problems which otherwise plague governments."

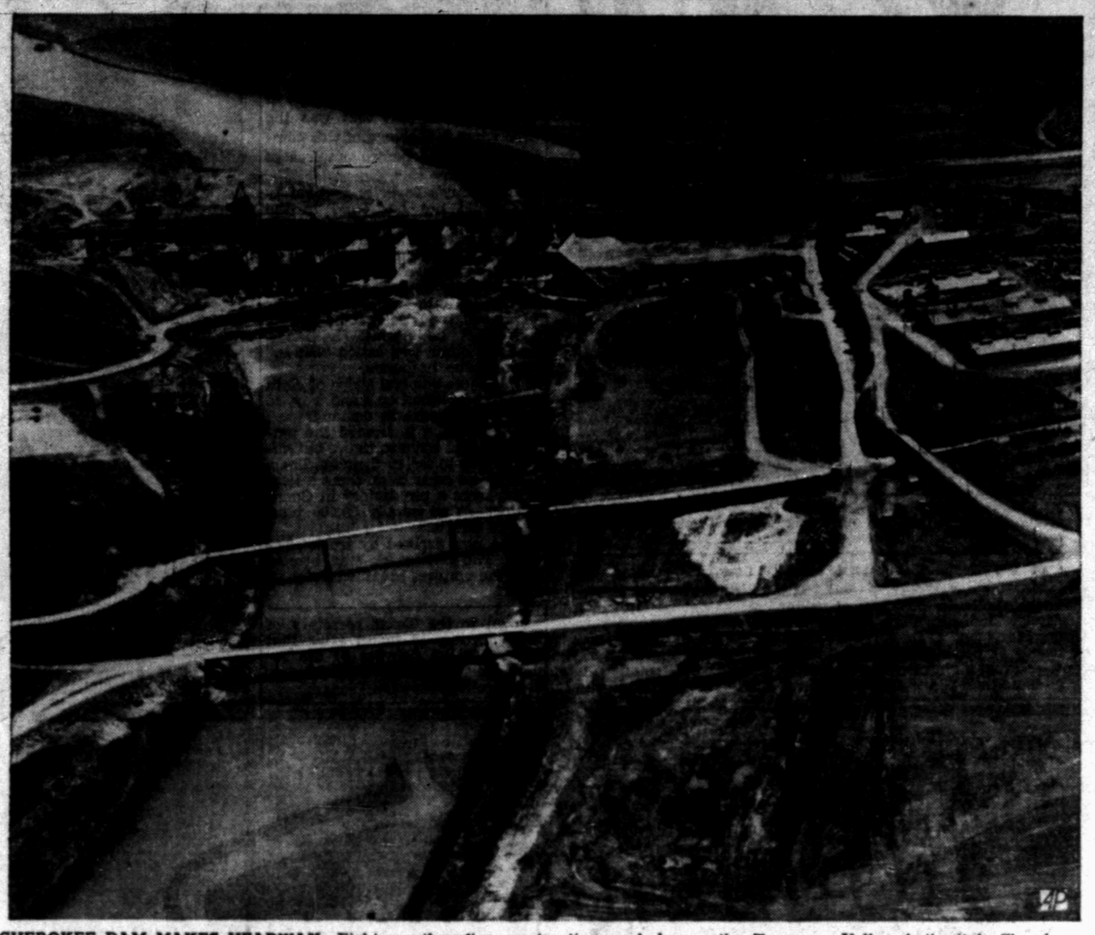

The Norwegians keep in "close and continuous" contact with their people by radio but employ other means as well. Such expeditions as the recent Lofoten raid are one method.

The Czech government, headed by President Benes, has the biggest cabinet—13 men, who do not represent political parties as such but "essential political social tendencies." Five seats are occupied by Slovaks. The provisional parliament of 32 members, appointed by Benes, is an advisory body.

Belgians Lack A King

The success of the Belgian, Greek and Yugoslav exile governments is difficult to evaluate. The Belgians are handicapped because their king is a prisoner and the others because parts of their cabinets and staffs still are in flight.

The Belgians also have found their work complicated because some ministers did not come to London. This difficulty was hinted at in a recent statement which declared: "We are the only legal government and nobody can set up another either in occupied Belgium or elsewhere."

CHEROKEE DAM MAKES HEADWAY—Eight months after construction work began, the Tennessee Valley Authority's Cherokee dam near Knoxville, Tenn., looked like this. In the background is the site of the dam itself, and the bridge in the foreground was built to permit swift, uninterrupted movement of heavy loads of rock. The four penstocks of the powerhouse are already in position. The Cherokee will ram the Holston river, form a part of the vast water control system operating in the Tennessee valley.

Cameraman's Flash Turns Out To Have Powers Of Cupid

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP) — News photographers are noted for being Johnny-on-the-spot, but the prize for anticipating events goes to Herb White, veteran Associated Press capital photog—he took a picture of a bridal couple before they knew each other.

White was assigned March 8 to the first dance for army trainees at which "draftettes" entertained the enlisted men. Draftettes are girl employes of the government who volunteer for the dances.

White cocked his camera eye on the crowd and picked Private Ausborne Kelley and Marguerite Heckman as the most typical and photogenic draftee and draftette. He rounded up the pair — who didn't know each other—and got his pictures.

It turned out that he was pinch-hitting for Cupid when he introduced them. Private Kelley and Miss Heckman, an FBI stenographer, were married June 8, three months to the day after White took their picture together.

"SEWARD'S FOLLY"

The purchase of Alaska from Russia once was referred to as "Seward's Folly," since the transaction was made by Secretary of State William H. Seward and the land was thought to be valueless.

The power of Napoleon in Europe was broken more by epidemic diseases among his soldiers than by military opposition, many historians say.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. What is the reason for buying a defense bond?

A. To keep America free. To show your faith and pride in your country. To warn foreign dictators that the United States is the strongest country in the world.

Q. But if I have not enough money to buy a defense bond, what can I do?

A. Buy defense postal stamps, on sale almost everywhere. Your post office, bank, department store or druggist has them, or can get them for you, at 10 cents upward. Save enough stamps to exchange for a defense bond.

(Note.—To purchase defense bonds and stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.)

Shepherd Uses Knife To Kill Small Lion

SANTA ROSA, N. M., June 27. (U.P.)—Out West, where men are men. . . .

Felipe Sisneros is 63. He has herded sheep most of his life. Not long ago he glanced at his flock on the Milagro ranch, saw the sheep scatter in fear of something among them.

The lean, active rancher hurried to the spot. Before him a dogsized lion was attacking a sheep, but when Sisneros came nearer it released the animal and sprang at him.

Sisneros fought with his hands while the mountain lion used its claws. The man won. Sisneros forced the lion's jaws shut, held it long enough to draw a knife from his pocket and killed it.

He came to town to have his lacerated hands treated. To back his story he brought the lion's carcass.

If a human being ate as much sweets as a hummingbird, in proportion to size, he would eat 50 pounds of sugar daily.

Supplying Defense Workers Proving Major Headache For Nation

Problems Are Under Study

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 27.—An ex-Missouri Methodist minister, ex-college president, ex-Farm Security administrator who in the last war had the job of trying to instill a little knowledge of readin' and writin' into illiterate draftees of 30 army camps, has one of the strangest of all the varied assignments in the complex defense effort today. He is Dr. Will W. Alexander, round-faced, blue-eyed and pleasant, and his title now is director of minority groups section in the labor division of the Office of Production Management.

Problems Enumerated

If that title doesn't mean much to you, consider a few of Dr. Alexander's pet problems:

In northeastern United States are thousands of second and third generation Italians, native-born citizens whose parents or grandparents came from Italy. For some reason, defense industries have been a little skittish on hiring people of Italian descent, though Germans are generally accepted without question.

The Los Angeles area, which carried the heaviest relief load in the country during the depression, is bringing in thousands of youngsters from the plains states, yet it still has 150,000 unemployed negroes.

Russians Considered Highly

American-born mechanics of Japanese ancestry, idle because the west coast fishing fleet has been immobilized, can't get jobs in defense industries though bearded Russian ship fitters are considered highly valuable in the shipyards.

Four million aliens, including more than 200,000 refugees from territory Hitler has occupied, many of them highly skilled, find it hard to get jobs because they're foreign born.

And so on. Well, you say, what of it? Let the furriners go jobless or go back where they came from!

Prejudice A Bottleneck

But it isn't as easy as that. At least four million new workers have to be fit into defense production in the next 18 months. Most of them must have skilled trades. To keep men with special skills idle is just as silly as keeping machines idle. Hence the special assignment given the minority groups section to see that there is no manpower going to waste.

Tied up with this minority labor problem is the problem of defense industry migration of labor, keeping men on the job near home, and this migration problem has almost eclipsed the minorities' issue.

Take the case of a northern contractor building Camp Lee, near Petersburg, Va. He raided the labor markets as far north as New Jersey, even though there were many unemployed negro carpenters in the southern states. Virginia newspapers and the state chamber of commerce got after that one and fixed it quickly.

Golden West Beckons

West coast aircraft plants have come into Philadelphia and from a hotel room employment office taken out many skilled laborers though Philadelphia is going to need 70,000 skilled workers.

Sixty-five per cent of the relief load in Connecticut has been the Americans of Italian descent referred to above, yet Connecticut has an in-migration of labor, some of it none too skilled, looking for jobs in the aircraft and machine industries.

Tenant farmers from all over are leaving the land in what is termed a "perceptive drift" to seek the mythical five-dollar-a day jobs in town, creating a housing shortage, adding to the relief load, contributing to their own unrest.

Best estimates now are that some 350,000 workers with special skills will have to be moved, in spite of all the sub-contracting that can be done. California industrial areas will need 30,000. Detroit motors area may need from 60,000 to 80,000. New Jersey 30,000. Fort Worth-Dallas 17,000.

United States employment service and the state employment agencies are trying to keep track of all labor demands and the sources of labor supply. With six million unemployed workers registered, USES is trying to get employers to anticipate their demands for labor by six months.

Shortages of skilled labor are what have set labor division of OPM combing these minorities groups for men with any of 70 or 80 of the rarer skills. Age and sex are no longer bars. Erasing the race and color line bars is Dr. Alexander's job now.

Reunion Plans Many Features

(Special To The Journal)

STAMFORD, June 27. — Two main features of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, which annually attracts thousands of visitors to Stamford are the old fiddlers contest and the chuck wagon meals which are served from wagons brought in from well-known West Texas ranches for the occasion. This year's reunion, the 12th annual showing, will be held on July 3, 4 and 5.

The old fiddlers contest, the biggest free attraction of the reunion, will be held in the Coombes roundup hall on the morning of July 4, the second day. No entrance fee is required of the contestants and spectators are admitted free. Prizes totaling $32.50 go to the four top winners, as follows: First, $15; second, $10; third, $5 and fourth $2.50.

Many Are Expected

More than 25 contestants from throughout the state are expected to enter this year's contest, according to J. T. Stell, Stamford, chairman. A number of registrations already have been received. Contestants must be not less than 50 years of age, and professional musicians are barred. Each contestant is allowed to select the tunes he plays, but they must be "breakdowns." The fiddler may play alone or select his own second.

Among the ranches expected to send chuck wagons this year include the 6666 ranch of Guthrie, the Matador ranch of Matador, the DDD ranch, Reynolds Land and Cattle Co., Kent county; SMS Flattop ranch, Stamford; SMS Spur ranch, Spur, the SMS Throckmorton ranch, Throckmorton and the Bar-Cross ranch of Colorado City.

All To Be In Parade

These wagons and their cook crews come in from the ranches immediately after the spring roundup and branding operations are over, set up and feed the visitors the regular chuck wagon grub—and plenty of it at very reasonable prices. All the wagons also participate in the big parade which this year will be staged on the first day of the Reunion, July 3.

Other principal features of the reunion this year, besides the three daily rodeo performances, will be the quarter horse show, the annual official show of the American Quarter Horse association, the cowgirl sponsor contests, which this year will be staged in the arena as a part of the afternoon and night rodeo performances, the annual convention of old-time cowboys, two big dances each night, and a demonstration in the arena at each night performance by the famous Stamford square dance team, which recently returned from the National Folk festival at Washington.

Soldiers Spend The Night In Lubbock

A detail of 130 enlisted men and officers resumed its journey this morning from Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, to Fort Lawton near Seattle, Wash., after an overnight encampment at the fairgrounds.

Scheduled to arrive Sunday for an overnight stay are 60 enlisted men and two officers traveling in three passenger automobiles and 12 two and one-half ton trucks from Brooks field, San Antonio, to Las Vegas, Nev., for permanent station. Capt. Louis E. Gross is to be in command.

The convoy will consist of detachments from the 79th special air base group and the 50th, 51st and 351st school squadrons, according to letters to Mayor Carl E. Slaton and the chamber of commerce.

The letter to Mayor Slaton was from Lieut. Col. Edwin D. McCoy of the quartermasters' corps and stated that "it may be necessary for this convoy to make local purchases in your city, and an advanced detail will be sent ahead of the convoy."

LONDON CRIME

When its police department was organized more than 100 years ago, London was the most criminal place in the world. There was, on an estimate, one criminal for every 22 persons in 1828.

Smaller Industries May Receive Break

DALLAS, June 27 (AP) — An organization permitting the man of small industrial importance in North and West Texas to share in Uncle Sam's large defense contracts will be discussed at a meeting of engineers, machinists, wood workers and other manufacturers in Wichita Falls Tuesday, L. L. Sisk, Office of Production Management for Texas, announced today.

Both Dallas and Wichita Falls businessmen have been working on the organization several weeks, Sisk said. However, the OPM has acted in only an advisory capacity, he declared.

Principal object of the organization will be collectively to bid on large contracts.

Heading the organizing committee is Houston Bolin, chief engineer of a Wichita Falls engineering concern.

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD

It happens regularly in the telephone company. Some boy who grew up in your neighborhood moves into a superintendent's or other executive's chair somewhere in the Bell System.

His big asset is his experience—his "know how"—often gained right in your home town.

Because Bell department heads and operating chiefs among them have that "know how," they tackle today's telephone emergency, or tomorrow's telephone growth, with a direct knowledge of your town and your problems. They play a big part in our effort to give you good neighborhood service at rates that almost everyone can afford—and good nation-wide service as you need it.

Masonic Officers At Slaton Are Installed

SLATON, June 27 (Special)—I. E. Madden was installed as worshipful master of Slaton Masonic lodge at ceremonies here Thursday night. It is the second time he has received that honor.

He is one of seven new officers for the next fiscal year. R. M. Sheppard is holdover secretary and K. C. Scott was renamed treasurer.

Burton S. Burks of Lubbock, was installing officer, and George Eubank, also of Lubbock, was installing marshal.

Other new officers are L. L. Lively, senior warden; P. G. Meading, junior warden; Sam Phillips, senior deacon; J. L. Benton, junior deacon; W. P. Layne, senior steward, and Fagen Genn, junior steward.

W. Guy Casey of Lubbock spoke briefly.

LIGHTHOUSE ODDITY

Before the coming of the oil lamp, lighthouses were lit by candles or coal fires. The last of the latter was the lighthouse at St. Bees, where a coal light burned until 1822.

Four New Teachers Chosen By Trustees

Trustees of Lubbock independent school district elected four new teachers at their postponed monthly meeting in the office of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, board president, in Lubbock sanitarium Thursday night.

Mrs. Analara Power and Mrs. Vaughn Wilson were assigned to Junior High school and Mrs. Dick Cosby was named for part-time work in that school. Morgan Layfield was assigned to Sanders school.

The board discussed other routine matters.

Shipyard Machinists Okay Plan To Resume Defense Work Monday

Gotham Fears Subway Strike

(By The Associated Press)

The machinists' strike which for 47 days delayed work on half a billion dollars worth of defense orders at 11 San Francisco bay shipyards was all but settled today.

Six hundred CIO machinists voted last night to go back to work Monday, provided a separate agreement is signed before then. Earlier yesterday, 1,200 AFL machinists voted to return to their jobs under terms of a master contract covering all major west coast shipyards.

Higher Pay Provided

The master contract provides wages of $1.12 an hour and time and one-half for overtime, contrasted with the $1.15 and double overtime demanded by the strikers. The old wage rate was $1 an hour, plus double pay for overtime.

A mass meeting of workers last night apparently moved New York City closer to the reality of a subway strike which would badly cripple the transportation lines of the nation's largest metropolis. Union officials declared 8,000 employes of the municipally operated subway system voted last night to strike July 1 unless a satisfactory agreement was reached on their demands for a $1-a-day wage raise and adjustments in working hours. Three other union mass meetings have been scheduled to reach the remainder of the 32,000 employes.

Plans Are Made

The city board of transportation issued orders to various subway operating officials to "get ready to put into action" plans already prepared to cope with the projected strike.

The union listed some of the present weekly wage scales as follows: Car cleaners, $24.96 to $34.16; machinists, $41 to $44.44; trackmen, $35.38 to $40.89; conductors, about $36, and motormen, $46 to $53.

Work stoppages in the composing rooms of three Chicago afternoon papers—the Daily News, Daily Times and the Herald-American—ended late yesterday in accordance with instructions from the International Typographical union, which had not authorized the walkout. The compositors, seeking a new contract, ask a $5 a week increase in the present basic rate of $58 for day workers and $62 for night workers.

many on Britain. I'm wondering if Rudolf Hess didn't carry a message from Hitler saying: 'Let us put all our strength against Russia, and then we'll be through. It's just a guess but all anyone can do now is guess."

Ickes denounced Charles A. Lindbergh as an Adolf Hitler "stooge" and likened him to a "Quisling." He said that the battle of Britain and the battle of the Atlantic "are in very truth the battle for America."

"The American people," he said, "must — not tomorrow, but now — make their supreme choice. The time for action — unceasing, relentless action — is upon us. We have been living too long on borrowed time. We must decide now whether we are willing to buy a craven's truce as Lindbergh urges us, or work, sacrifice, fight and die, if need be, for liberty.

"In fact, this is the psychological moment to strike, to strike hard and harder, fast and faster. Such a golden opportunity cannot be expected to come again."

Ickes charged that Lindbergh's recent statement about the need for new national leadership was a "shocking exposure of personal political ambitions — ambitions which he apparently would attain by unconstitutional means—made even his simple-minded adherents gasp."

Soviet union-United States collaboration against Germany was defined after a state department conference between Acting Secretary Sumner Welles and Constantine Oumansky, Soviet union ambassador. Welles also yesterday saw W. Bostrom, Swedish minister, who informed the department of Sweden's permission for a division of German troops to pass through that country from Norway to Finland. Hjalmar Procope, Finnish minister, called on Welles and emerged smiling, although it was assumed that he appeared to advise that Finland was at war with the Soviet union.

There is speculation whether Finnish and Swedish funds in the United States, now free under a general withdrawal license, will be re-frozen in view of their direct or indirect aid to Germany.

management of the defense effort?"

On some things, yes, on some things, no, he responded.

By inquiring in turn how he should know, Mr. Roosevelt countered an inquiry whether the Irish were changing their views in the light of happenings in other parts of Europe.

He answered in the negative a question whether the United States ever had taken up the possibility of using Irish naval bases. And, he added, that he was quite sure the British never had said anything about seizing any bases from Ireland to help in the ferrying of war supplies across the Atlantic.

FACES DEATH — Mme. Simone Mathieu offered this salute in London last December after she donned the uniform of commandant of General de Gaulle's corps of Auxiliary Transport Service for Free French armies. Now, it was disclosed in a letter to friends in New York, the famed French tennis star is under a Vichy decree of death because of her activities.

Capitol Visitors

W. Lee O'Daniel was shown by a large lady and her small son.

They wandered around the chamber for a few moments, apparently uninterested. Suddenly the lad cried, "Mama! Mama! Come here! Quick!"

The mother came to the boy's side. "What is it, son?"

"There he is!" the boy said, pointing to the governor's picture. "That's him!"

The woman gazed admiringly at the picture. Clasping her hands, eyes lighting up, she breathed, "Oh, bless him!"

When the legislature ends its work, Mrs. Ward's busiest season begins. It has been estimated that 30,000 persons visit the capitol each summer.

One count showed that the vacation sightseers came from 38 states and nine foreign countries.

There are also many visitors during the sessions. These have included school glee clubs, the state poet laureate and a group of Indian ceremonial dancers—all of whom entertained the senators.

O'Daniel Plans

results of same can be officially ascertained under law, the governor shall make temporary appointment of a suitable and qualified person to represent the state . . . until the election and qualification of a senator can be made."

Must Canvass Returns

Whoever wins the senaterial election, he cannot qualify for at least 15 days after the election. The law provides that the returns shall be canvassed by the state election board on the fifteenth day following the election, the day of election excluded. The fifteenth day would be Sunday, July 13, a legal holiday, and presumably the canvass will be on Monday, July 14.

Governor O'Daniel might wish to honor someone by an appointment for the period between the election and the qualification of the election winner.

Would Be Good Politics

He might want to follow such a course even though he himself was elected, observers reasoned. It would be very good politics, some thought.

On the other hand, in event of his election, he might prefer to forego the right to make another temporary appointment, and to go to Washington himself as quickly as possible.

The quickest way would be to resign and to be appointed under agreement with Lieut.-Gov. Stevenson.

He could not journey to the national capital with a certificate of election in his pocket before the official canvass.

Still another angle to the speculation was that if O'Daniel was elected he might make another temporary appointment and delay his qualifications indefinitely, or at least until the legislature adjourned.

Close friends of the governor said, however, they believed he would not delay his resignation and qualification on such grounds.

The capital would not be surprised at anything the governor did. His appointment of Houston was a bolt from the blue, and something on the same order would astonish few.

The state canvassing board, incidentally, includes two candidates for the senatorship, the governor and the attorney general. The third member is the secretary of state, an appointee of the governor.

Nazi Warship Said Wrecked

(By The United Press)

A direct hit by British bombing planes wrecked the 26,000-ton German battleship Gneisenau in drydock at Brest and killed 128 members of her crew, according to uncensored advices received today from responsible sources in continental Europe.

A bomb hit amidships started a fire that was believed to have warped the steel battleship so badly she may have to be rebuilt, the advices said.

Repeated Raids Made

The Gneisenau and the Scharnhorst were the objects of repeated British air raids on Brest and the British reported that they had scored direct hits or near misses on both warships.

The United Press was advised that a hit on the Gneisenau broke the fuel storage tanks and caused an explosion and fire, but that the hit was made only after the British had raided the Brest docks many times in an effort to wreck the two ships.

Hundreds Of Bombs Dropped

Hundreds of bombs were dropped around the two ships before either was hit. Then the Gneisenau was damaged. She was towed to the drydock of the Brest arsenal, where the French battle cruiser Richelieu was built. Repairs required two weeks, after which the Gneisenau was re-floated. On the first night she was afloat (possibly following British espionage reports) the British bombers returned to the attack and again damaged her.

Towed back to the drydock, the Gneisenau again was attacked by British bombers and it was on that occasion that a direct hit was scored by a low-flying British plane. The bomb penetrated the deck plating and exploded in the fuel tanks, it was reported.

Senate Election

ference by federal officials in behalf of the congressman. Mr. Roosevelt was excepted.

Dies had emphasized his work against fifth columnists and had charged that his opponents were spending more than the law allows.

O'Daniel had plunked for restoration of national prohibition in the emergency, enactment of a national anti-strike law and a law to end deficit spending by the government.

All had urged more old age pensions, but disagreed on methods. All wanted improved facilities for national defense, but did not jibe on how these facilities should be used.

An inter-play of personalities lent color.

Houston succumbed at Baltimore last night, after an abdominal operation, while most candidates were in the midst of speeches.

O'Daniel, who appointed him, was under the wire first with an expression of regret. The governor's typewritten eulogy contained an error, however. He referred to Houston's father, Gen. Sam Houston, as "hero of the Alamo." As a matter of fact, Gen. Houston was the hero of the battle of San Jacinto, which marked the flood tide of a Mexican invasion during Texas' war for independence.

After a speech at Waco, Mann said: "I deeply regret to hear of the sudden death of Sen. Houston. Texas loses a distinguished citizen."

Sacrifice Is Charged

A repercussion occurred at El Paso, where A. S. McBride, president of the State Federation of Labor, charged that the senator had been "sacrificed on the altar of politics." McBride said it had been predicted that because of Houston's age and state of health, the trip to Washington would be the cause of his death.

The Mann-Johnson controversy had taken a couple of last-minute tacks.

Evidently sniping at Johnson's claims to credit for several Texas defense projects, the attorney general reminded his Waco audience that "until a few weeks ago, Morris Sheppard was in the harness in Washington as was Sen. Tom Connally.

"For one man to take credit for all this work is a smear on the entire Texas delegation in the capital."

At Dallas, Johnson meantime was distributing copies of a radio address containing the latest chapter in the argument over the support of Kelly K. Hopkins, senior counsel for the United Mine Workers who is supposed to epitomize the CIO.

Mann said Hopkins — and the CIO — were supporting Johnson. Johnson quoted a note purportedly signed by Mann asking Hopkins' aid.

Having failed to obtain favor, Johnson said, the attorney general was indulging in "sour grapes."

(Mann had explained that his aides saw Hopkins' name on the roster of the department of justice and presumed he was a department employe).

O'Daniel, who recently gestured at Mr. Roosevelt by asking authority to build an independent army, navy and air force for Texas, appeared at Wichita Falls and Temple, exuding optimism.

The governor simultaneously attacked the authors of recent straw polls showing him behind. Joe Belden, operator of the Texas Survey of Public Opinion, was called "a little struggling schoolboy who is perfectly honest."

One piece of news must have cheered O'Daniel — the legislature finally had gone home . . . to vote. But it will be back, July 3.

Stock Market

MARKET INDIFFERENT

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP) — Heavy buying in major commodities today blanketed a generally indifferent stock market.

Some consolation was derived from the fact offerings were relatively small throughout. Transfers for the full proceedings were around 450,000 shares.

Among faltering shares the greater part of the session were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Rubber, Glenn Martin, International Harvester, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Kennecott, American Can, Westinghouse and U. S. Gypsum.

General Motors and Chrysler held to a narrow range as Ward's estimated a seasonal drop in this week's automotive production. Output was put at 127,926 units against 133,565 last week.

Stocks in the resistant class were J. I. Case, Loft, Texas Corp., N. Y. Central, J. C. Penney, American Airlines, Consolidated Aircraft, Oliver Farm and Jones & Laughlin preferred.

At Chicago wheat finished up 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents a bushel and corn was ahead ⅛ to ⅜. In late trades cotton showed advances of $1.25 to $1.65 a bale.

cent recruiting slump which has hit the navy. Nevertheless, military authorities said there was no doubt the war department desired legislation similar to that the navy now seeks.

Under the selective service law, selectees may be kept in service longer than the usual year's training period without congressional action, since they automatically become members of the army reserve when their training period ends and can be called into service as reserves on the same day, if necessary. Legislation would be required, however, for enlisted men and national guardsmen.

$1,000 For Land

had concluded, chamber representatives said, that the needed land would be made available at a "very nominal price."

Hurlbut Signs Option

Horton did not appear at the special commission meeting, and city and chamber of commerce officials said they were unsuccessful in their efforts to locate him Thursday.

Hurlbut conducted the negotiations with the commission and signed the 10-day option for which the city paid $1 for the partnership and for himself personally.

Mayor Carl E. Slaton said that city officials are to confer with officials of the Santa Fe in an effort to ascertain whether some other routing of the spur would be practical and whether the railroad will share in the cost if a right-of-way must be purchased. The right-of-way, it was explained, is to be leased to the government at a very nominal figure—probably $1.

Damaging To Land

Hurlbut argued, in attempted justification of the "asking" price, that the spur will be damaging to the land, and especially to one corner of approximately 10 acres of farm and pasture land which would be cut off by the proposed spur.

During the discussions, members of the commission suggested that the city would buy the right-of-way and the 10 acres which would be cut off and would be willing to pay "as much, or a little more" per acre than was paid for the air school site.

Another contention of Hurlbut's was that the location of the $4,600,000 defense project across the highway from the land belonging to the partnership will be hurtful to its value. Members of the commission did not argue the point.

Members of the commission attending the session were Commissioners W. B. Price and Garland Newsom, and the mayor. Commissioners W. G. McMillan and Hub Jones were out of the city.

Vichy Soldiers May Escape Via Turkey

ANKARA, June 27 (AP)—A high Turkish source said today that Turkey has granted permission for the evacuation across its territory of Vichy forces now fighting in Syria provided they travel as unarmed civilians.

It was expected, however, that only a fraction of the French army would be able to leave Syria because of a lack of transport but belief was expressed that most of its officers would succeed in escaping capture by the British.

News Briefs

Rodeo Is Planned—Mayor L. B. Patton of Denver City, here this morning on business, said that oil field town was inviting the entire South Plains to its first July 4 rodeo next Friday. A free barbecue is planned, as well as plenty of entertainment. Two rodeo performances are planned, afternoon and night, plus two ball games, Patton said.

Two Arraigned — County Judge G. V. Pardue said he had accepted pleas from two persons charged with violation of state liquor laws. T. L. Bryant, 44, pleaded innocence and was attempting to post bail of $500, said the sheriff's department, and Henry (Red) Norman was assessed a fine of $25 and costs. A. E. Flying Cadet, Four Others Enlist Today

Five men, including one flying cadet, were enlisted this morning through the district army recruiting office, to bring the total for June to 129 men, including 33 flying cadets, according to Major Walter Jessee.

Joe T. Glover of Amarillo was the flying cadet and he was assigned to Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill.

Enlisting for the mechanics and reserve detachment at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo., were Edward D. Roush, Amarillo; W. H. Shanks, Muleshoe; James M. Pearson, Lorenzo and Thomas A. Morley, Amarillo.

In that state, since late May, prospective selectees have been given their final examinations as near to their homes as possible. This enabled the army to examine all selectees 10 to 30 days before they actually had to sever their civilian connections and go into camp. Those who were rejected were thus spared the embarrassment of leaving their jobs, telling their friends goodbye and going away to the army only to return home in three or four days and announce they were turned down.

Russia Admits Nazi Advances

The nocturnal foray followed a one-hour daylight raid on the German-held French coast in which Polish pilots were reported authoritatively to have destroyed three grounded Messerschmitts.

Adolf Hitler's headquarters again had put off telling in detail how the Russian campaign was going.

German troops, proclaimed the high command from its field headquarters, have been victorious on all fronts and have made important gains "which will be made known shortly."

Invaders Are Blasted

The Moscow communique said Red airmen, opposing German panzer columns in the precise manner that the luftwaffe was used in the low countries and France as aerial artillery, had blasted mechanized invaders aimed at Vilna, Lithuania, and Brody and Baranowiecze, in Russian-occupied Poland.

Indications were that the Germans, on the sixth day of their drive, had not yet penetrated the secondary outer defenses of the Soviet union to reach the primary fortifications along the old frontier.

Fight On Occupied Soil

The Russians still were fighting on soil which they had occupied as a buffer against just such a German offensive.

The Russians said their air force wrecked many a tank in "innumerable attacks" on the German mechanized forces yesterday on the front running south from Lithuania on the Baltic through Poland.

On the souther, or Bessarabian sector, facing Rumania, a great battle was declared fought through the night in the region of Sculeni.

Tanks Stop At Night

Elsewhere the night passed quietly, the Moscow communique said. Cessation of operations at night is customary—almost compulsory—in tank warfare, where the vision of the tank driver is limited by a narrow slit in his armor plate.

The Russians indicated that the German threat centered on the three main drives:

1. Toward Vilna, northeast of Minsk, capital of White Russia,
2. Toward Baranowiecze, southwest of Minsk; and
3. Toward Brody, south of the Pinsk marshes, near the border of the rich Ukraine.

Red Airmen Praised

Aside from battle line action, Red airmen were praised by the Kremlin command for raids on the Rumanian port of Constanta, Bucharest, Rumanian capital, and Ploesti, center of the Rumanian oil fields.

The German command indirectly acknowledged terrific resistance by the Russians. Passage of its daily war bulletin said that the first five days of the struggle proved "that Soviet Russian armies had been ready to attack central Europe." However, this was evident from dispositions of Red forces on frontier lines "unsuitable for defensive purposes," the communique said.

Still short of details but long on generalized reports of success, Germany claimed air supremacy today over the whole of her great eastern invasion front while she sought to mobilize Europe in an anti-Communist, pro-Nazi crusade.

Except for a great battle raging on the plains of Sovietized Poland with the white Russian capital of Minsk in the immediate focus of attack and defense, the Russians said their forces were holding firm on this the sixth day of the titantic struggle.

Battle Trend Not Given

Moscow gave no indication as to the trend of this battle, reporting only that "fighting is in progress." The Red army was trying to envelop and destroy a panzer column pointed at Minsk, which is 160 miles inside the German Russian frontier.

The German high command broadcast a communique reporting further "great successes" and "development of strategic plans" but the German public, with a growing eagerness for details on a campaign presented to them as an ideological war, and the rest of the world were left without specific official data from Adolf Hitler's headquarters.

Steal Some Thunder

It looked more and more as if the Red army had stolen some of the thunder of Hitler's lightning war technique and that the Nazi master of most of Europe was preparing for long siege of the world citadel of Communism.

In Spain it was reported that Adolf Hitler had demanded a token anti-Communist force from each nation of the Nazi-planned new Europe. Spain leaped quickly into the vanguard of the crusade with recruiting of a Spanish legion.

Italy already had stepped in line with announcement of a motorized division to help Germany against Russia. One by one, since the German-Russian conflict started last Sunday, other states tied to Germany either by geography, conquest or fear took their stands.

Volunteer forces were reported in formation in Norway, Denmark, Sweden and occupied France. Croatia was ready to march. Slovakia had marched, Denmark broke relations with the USSR, and German spokesmen looked benevolently on signs of the anti-Red spirit in the Netherlands, Belgium and even Portugal.

Dry Weather May Enable Texas Farmers To Salvage Fair Incomes

Higher Prices Are In Sight

BY LEDGERWOOD SLOAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

A few weeks of dry weather probably would enable Texas farmers to obtain fair incomes from their wheat and cotton despite the unseasonable rains which have reduced greatly what promised earlier in the season to be bumper yields.

Panhandle wheat is standing in muddy fields where combines should be running. The cotton crop is late and planters are preparing to fight an expected unprecedented insect infestation.

Ranchers' Prospects Bright

Wheat, however, is worth around a dollar a bushel for the first time in years while prospects for 15-cent cotton are considered bright.

In contrast to the harassed farmer, the ranchman faces the brightest prospects in decades with tanks overflowing, livestock fat on excellent ranges and prices for cattle, wool and sheep firm.

The Panhandle wheat estimate of 38,000,000 bushels a few weeks ago has been lowered by the U. S. crop reporting service to 31,000,000 compared with the record crop of 51,000,000 in 1931.

On the South Plains prospects are the wheat yield will be slightly higher than mid-June estimates of 7,500,000 to 9,000,000 but lower than the 16,000,000 bushels forecast on June 1. The first wheat tested at Lubbock showed up to 17 per cent moisture and most graded No. 2.

Corn Said Spotted

In northeast Texas, County Agent A. L. Admiaston of Lamar says oats and wheat are 75 per cent loss while around Sherman a 50 per cent crop is predicted by Grayson County Agent V. O. Teddlie.

Corn is spotted. Some fields are doing well on uplands, but in other sections the crop was drowned out in lowlands.

Cotton is in poor condition from the blacklands of the northeast to the lower Rio Grande valley. Flea hoppers and boll weevils are prevalent with grasshopper and lead worm infestation threatening.

Wool trading was renewed in the ranch country this week and some contracting of lambs and calves is reported.

Wool Market Boosted

Lambs for fall delivery are bringing 8 to 9 cents a pound in the San Angelo area. Calves are selling at 10½ cents for heifers and 11½ cents a pound for steers. Yearling mutton are worth 7½ cents a pound with yearling ewes at $7.50 and $8 a hundred.

The wool market livened with the sale of a million pounds of 8 months at prices ranging up to 42 cents a pound in sales at Uvalde, Kerrville, Bandera, Fredericksburg, Del Rio and Blanco. At San Angelo and Brady 270,000 pounds of 12 months brought 40 to 44 cents with one choice lot of 25,000 pounds of Rambouillet wool going at Brady for 45½ cents a pound.

The demand on the Fort Worth market continues strong and active for stocker and feeder cattle with steer calves at $13 a hundred and heifers up to $11.

STILL EXTANT

Levelland Boosters Pay Visit To City

Assurances that the annual rodeo to be held in Levelland July 4 and 5 will be worth going far to see was given by members of a booster delegation who visited Lubbock late Thursday.

They arrived nearly an hour ahead of schedule, with the result that a welcoming delegation of five carloads of Lubbockites waited fruitlessly on Littlefield highway, while the Levelland group presented a program down town.

Ralph Brock, county attorney, welcomed the delegation when it stopped at Broadway and Avenue K, east of Lubbock hotel. Former Rep. Alvin R. Allison of Levelland also spoke.

Musical numbers by Big Boy Bailey and his "Go-Devils" and a square dance completed the program.

Simultaneous with the Independence day rodeo, Levelland will celebrate its 16th birthday. The rodeo will continue July 5, with $1,200 in prize money offered to contestants.

Levelland Lions club is sponsoring the event.

Besides Lubbock, the group visited nine towns in Texas and eastern New Mexico. A similar trip will be made next Wednesday in both states.

Reds Thought Using Huge Tank Brigades

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP) — Estimates came from authoritative sources today that the Red army, outnumbered in the air, was fighting the German invasion with double the Nazis' strength in mechanized equipment.

The Russians were credited with 48 tank brigades, considered the equivalent of half as many full divisions, compared with 12 German panzer divisions.

In air strength, the Red army was estimated to possess at the start of the conflict a first line force of some 4,000 planes, whereas the luftwaffe was believed to be employing probably 6,000, backed by more numerous reserves.

The numerical strength of the ground forces was rated approximately equal in these estimates, accepted by officials as the most accurate obtainable. Computing a division at 15,000 men on the average, Germany and her allies were believed to be using 167 compared to 165 available to the Russians on the western fighting front, exclusive of forces in the Far East.

Thus probably 5,000,000 fighting men were believed to be engaged in one of history's greatest campaigns.

Slaton Rodeo Is Held Today

(Special To The Journal)

SLATON, June 26 — A colorful parade began winding along Slaton's downtown business area early this afternoon, one of the high spots arranged to precede a second annual roundup and rodeo at 2:30 o'clock.

Jack Norman, secretary of the chamber of commerce and of the South Plains Roundup association, rodeo sponsor, said the alignment of floats and gaily-decorated automobiles indicated record attendance at the rodeo.

Hold Political Rally

Company C of the Texas Defense guard, under orders of Capt. P. G. Meading, and the Slaton High school Tiger band had prominent roles in the parade, and a political gathering, at which representatives of senatorial candidates in Saturday's special election were solicitously present, was conducted in the football field.

Prizes in the various contests were announced: calf roping, $150; bronc riding, $150; steer riding, $150; bulldogging, $150; sponsor's contest, $30; and chair-sitting contest, $40 total.

Sponsors were present from Posey, Southland, Cooper, Union and other nearby communities, it was said.

Roundup association officials are C. F. Anderson, president, Nick Carter, vice president, and Ray Ayers, C. C. Hoffman and Sug Roberston, directors.

Woman Uses Hands To Subdue Catch

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., June 27. (U.P.) — Mrs. Emily Mulkins, Edwardsville housewife and fishing fan, tells this one:

She was fishing from a boat at nearby Horse Shore lake. Suddenly, a two-pound bass leaped into the boat.

Mrs. Mulkins was surprised of course. But she adapted her mood to that of the fish and subdued it with her hands.

There were witnesses.

It's Everything Or Nothing With Babe

Ruth, Cobb Carry Diamond Philosophies Onto Links; Old "Foes" Tangling Again

BY HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 27. — It's still all or nothing with the Babe.

He has been out of baseball a long time, but Babe Ruth still operates on the theory that you should shoot the works every time. Strike out or hit a homer, that's his idea.

And that's the way he is going to work today when he steps on the first tee at Fresh Meadow Country club to try to square things with his old-time foe of the diamond, Ty Cobb. If he wins, it's likely to be a smashing, lop-sided victory. If he loses, he'll lose by the length of one of those homers he user to clout over the walls and into the stands of American league baseball parks.

You know the story of this athletic contest by now. The matches were arranged for the benefit of the United Service Organization which is interested in establishing recreational centers near army camps. The first one was played in Boston on Wednesday over the Commonwealth course and Cobb won, 3 up and 2 to play. If Ruth wins today — he will be favored —they may play the rubber match in Detroit. Tris Speaker, also quite a ball player in his day, may challenge the winner.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Southpaw Marius Russo who pitched a spectacular one-hitter as the New York Yankees walloped the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1, and retained their American league lead. The Bronx Bombers also maintained their two great hitting streaks. Joe DiMaggio hitting in his 38th consecutive game and another member of the Yanks blasting out a homer.

Retain Old Philosophy

The Boston match revealed that both men have carried some of their baseball philosophy over into golf. Cobb is still the smart percentage player. He pokes a short, straight drive down the middle, preferring to be on the fairway rather than belt the ball a mile and be in the rough. He places great emphasis on his short game and is a superior putter.

Ruth whales away off the tee, shooting for a birdie on every hole. He likes to see 'em roar down the fairway and if they catch the rough he doesn't worry too much about it. He never has got around to developing his short game and there is a suspicion that his interest lags unless he can cut loose and belt the ball. In the old days it was almost as much fun to see Ruth strike out as it was to see him hit a homer. The same thing is true in golf. It's quite a show when he flubs a couple on the fairway and then misses a two-foot putt to take a seven.

To Ruth's Advantage

Played from the back tees, the Fresh Meadow course will be longer than the one they shot in Boston, and Ruth figures that is to his advantage.

"But there won't be much I can do," he added, "if Ty putts down here the way he did in Boston. You'd think those cups were washtubs the way he was rolling the ball into 'em. I wasn't so hot with my putter up there, so I'm bound to show some improvement.

"That Cobb plays his irons like a pro. He gets into a ball good, and I really didn't have any idea he played that kind of game. I'll be ready for him this time. That thing in Boston was just a warm-up."

Both men plan to have competent advice in event they find they are equally matched and a little strategy is needed to turn the tide. Cobb will have Jimmy Demaret, the well-known professional, as his second. Going all out, Ruth has asked Craig Wood, National Open champion, to be his brain trust.

New Intercollegiate Links Champ Assured

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 27 (AP) — Stanford, Louisiana State, Princeton and Baltimore sent representatives into the 36-hole semi-finals of the 44th National Intercollegiate golf tourney today, and any one of the quartet would be a worthy successor to the 1940 king who abdicated in yesterday's quarter-finals.

F. Dixon Brooke of Virginia, the blond winner of last year's event, dropped out with a 3 and 1 setback at the hands of Otto Greiner, of the University of Baltimore, and now it looks like anybody's race, with the experts leaning just a bit toward Earl Stewart, Louisiana State's remarkable red-head from Dallas.

Stewart, only four over par for 99 holes of qualifying and match play after losing five strokes to the "old man" in one contest, meets Greiner in today's scrap.

In the other bracket are Danny Carmichael, Princeton's 1940-41 basketball captain and No. 1 baseball pitcher, who meets Ray Brownell, Pacific Coast intercollegiate king and lone survivor of Stanford's mighty four-man team victors.

OLD ETIQUETTE HINT

"Art of Good Behavior," published in 1850, gives the following etiquette hint: "If possible, the knife should not be put in the mouth, but if it is done, let the edge be turned outward."

Antonio A. Luna has been arrested in Mexico City charged with holding up pedestrians on his beat while wearing his full uniform.

Warm up for your Golf Game as you would any other contest.

Gassers Again Best Lubbock Nine, 6 To 2

Maybe it's a jinx.

Or maybe the Borger Gassers are just entirely too good for the Lubbock Hubbers.

Whatever it is, the Hubbers haven't yet been able to win a game from the Gassers at Borger. They lost another last night, bowing to lefty Bill Garland's four-hit, ten-strikeout pitching, 6 to 2.

The Englemen will try again tonight in the series windup before moving on to Lamesa for a Saturday night game and a Sunday doubleheader.

Win In Fifth

An error, a walk, a wild pitch and Bernard Bengston's single in the second inning accounted for Lubbock's only runs. A four-run rally in the fifth provided Borger's winning margin.

Charlie Whelchel, one of Big Spring's staff of aces, pitched a two-hit ball game for the Bombers last night, but lost, 1-0, to Amarillo. DeCroo an Amarillo rookie, yielded four hits and no runs at all, while his mates managed to shove over a single run in the first inning.

Bob LeFevers pitched a six-hit, six-run game to give the Pampa Oilers a 7 to 6 victory over the Wichita Falls Spudders.

Clovis, Lamesa Divide

Clovis and Lamesa divided a crazy twin bill, the Pioneers taking a pitcher's battle in the first, 5-1, and the Loboes annexing a slugging bee in the second 12-11.

Ernest Minyard, recently a pitcher for Sudan's TAAF league team, made his debut in Lobo spangles, turning in a seven-hit job. But Jim Rollins was in rare form, allowing only three hits to the Loboes for a 5-1 victory.

The second game was wild from start to finish, with both managers switching lineups at the least provocation. Manager Grover Seitz used 14 players, only one under the league player limit.

HOLLY LEAVES

Two types of leaves often are grown by holly trees: stiff, prickly leaves near the bottom of the tree, and spineless, flexible ones at the top.

Three United States presidents were of Dutch ancestry: Martin Van Buren, Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin Roosevelt.

This Fish Story Is Slightly "Shocking"

(By The Associated Press)

BLUFFTON, Ind., June 27 — Dr. W. G. Ireland, Bluffton dentist, can't stretch his arms far enough apart to measure the "big one that got away" as he fished after dark in Kunkel lake.

Dr. Ireland, with a bamboo rod, made a long cast and his bait caught on a high tension wire.

Electricity darted down the wet fishline and crashed into the lake. The dentist was not hurt.

Rebels Showing Life In Latest Splurge

(By The Associated Press)

The sixth-place Dallas Rebels seem to be showing a little life at last, although too late to be classed as Texas league pennant contenders.

A triple by Nick Gregory in the last half of a 12 inning-contest with the San Antonio Missions at Dallas gave the Rebels a 3-2 victory last night and a clean sweep of the three-game series with the Padres. Three wins in a row don't make a successful summer for any baseball club, but if the Rebels can keep up the pace they might at least be a threat to some of the upper-division teams.

The Indians trimmed the Beaumont Exporters 6-3 at Oklahoma City, the Oilers succumbed 4-3 to the Shreveport Sports at Tulsa in an abbreviated game, and the Houston Buffs drubbed the Cats 8-2 at Fort Worth.

Defending Champion Moves Up At Wichita

WICHITA FALLS, June 27. (AP)—Mrs. J. H. Ball of Wichita Falls, defending champion remained in the West Texas Women's golf tourney today by virtue of a narrow victory over unheralded Mrs. W. R. Wissler, also of Wichita Falls, 2 and 1.

Mrs. W. G. Carter of Fort Worth defeated Mrs. Frances Awtrey of Odessa, 1-up on 19 holes. Mrs. F. C. Rochon of Fort Worth eliminated Mrs. Jess Rogers of Amarillo, 4 and 3.

The only upset was provided by Mrs. J. R. Farmer of Abilene, who trounced Mrs. G. I. Phillips of Big Spring, 1 up.

Junior League Nines Tangle Here Tonight

Lubbock's junior leaguers, tomorrow's baseball stars, make their bow to the public tonight.

Four of the leading teams in the newly organized junior baseball league square off in a doubleheader at Hubber Field tonight, a program designed to introduce junior league baseball to the public.

The feature game matches the undefeated, high-flying Baker Company Cardinals with the fast improving Avalanche-Journal Dodgers. That contest is scheduled to get under way at 8:30 o'clock, following a twilight game between Bill Dean's Yankees and the Kuykendall Chevrolet Cubs, scheduled for 7 o'clock.

The Cardinals and the Dodgers are members of the National, or senior, league consisting of teams whose players are in the 14-17 age group. The other two teams are members of the younger league, top age limit 13.

Dodgers Choose Mackey

The Cardinals are undefeated in four games and are all alone at the top of the National league. The Dodgers have won two and lost two, and have improved with every game.

Manager Norris Strickland of the Cardinals indicated last night that he'd start John Houk. The Dodgers, who boast the league's best pitching staff in J. C. Mackey, Junior Nichols and Billie Wooten, probably will start with Mackey in the box. Mackey has won one and lost one game this season, allowing seven hits in the two games. His loss was a 3-2 defeat, with his brother, D. B. Mackey of the Sluggers, outdueling him.

Johnny Lumpkin, ace holder of the American league, is due to take the mound for the Yankees. Manager C. E. Thompson of the Cubs was undecided last night on his choice of a starting hurler.

Speed Of Golf Ball Will Be "Frozen"

NEW YORK, June 27. (U.P.)—Beginning Jan. 1, 1942, the speed of a first-grade golf ball will be "frozen" so that its velocity shall be not greater than 250 feet per second, the United States Golf association announced today.

The association will make velocity tests with its own machine at a uniform temperature of 75 degrees fahrenheit. A maximum tolerance of 2 per cent will be allowed. The present rules about the size and weight of the ball remain unchanged.

The new distance limit, which is approximately the maximum of present day golf balls, is to forestall a gradual but steady lengthening of distance which apparently has been taking place for some time.

World Track, Field Marks Are On Block

BY OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 27 — Some of the greatest individual performances in track and field history were forecast by coaches today for the 53rd annual National A. A. U. championships which begin on Franklin Field tomorrow.

AL BLOZIS

Heading the list of stars are Les Steers of the University of Oregon who kicked the world's unofficial high jump mark up to six feet, 11 inches this spring; Cornelius Warmerdam, the pole vault king; Billy Brown, Louisiana State's one-man team; Al Blozis, Georgetown's great weight man; Les MacMitchell, who on the same field last spring won Pennsylvania Relay honors for New York university; Greg Rice of Notre Dame, Don Lash of Indiana, Walter Mehl of Wisconsin and Joe McCluskey, the old Fordham star.

DON LASH

Warmerdam, Steers, Blozis, Rice, Lash and Brown are defending championships won last year. Seven other defending champions will compete.

Providing weather conditions are ideal, the coaches feel that new world marks are certain in a number of events, with Warmerdam, Steers and Blozis given the best chances to create new records.

Warmerdam, shooting for the 16 foot mark, has cleared the bar at 15 feet, 5 inches, but it has not yet been accepted as a new record.

Indians Close; Russo Tosses Masterpiece

(By The Associated Press)

The Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals are in an exact tie for the National league lead today, and apparently they are going to keep right on fighting each other until the end of September.

This is an old custom in the senior circuit, but never any more fiercely contested than this year.

Russo Is "Hot"

The Dodgers pulled into a tie last night by crushing the Boston Braves, 11-2, while all other teams in the league were idle.

Brooklyn went west a couple of weeks ago trailing by two games. They won 10 out of 1[illegible] on their trip, in contrast to the debacle of their first western swing, when they lost six out of eight.

The New York Yankees held on to their slim percentage lead in the American league by humbling the St. Louis Browns 4-1 with a spectacular one-hit pitching performance by Lefty Marius Russo.

Indians Snap Back

The young southpaw was parted from a no-hit game in the seventh inning when George McQuinn smacked a homer into right field stands, but he faced only 27 batters, and let no other Brownie get past first base.

The Cleveland Indians rallied for six runs in the seventh inning to beat the Boston Red Sox 11-8 and prevent the Yanks from increasing their margin.

The Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators, who had battled 13 innings Wednesday, struggled through 16 innings yesterday until Washington finally edged out a 3-2 decision.

Bob Johnson hit two home runs, each with two on, and two singles to account personally for six runs and help the Philadelphia Athletics to an 8 to 4 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

U. S.-Made Flying Boats Helping England Win Battle Of Atlantic

Germans' Sea Grip Slipping

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 27.—With the aid of increasing numbers of mass-produced corvette patrol boats and American-made Catalina flying boats, Britain slowly is winning "one of the war's most decisive battles—in the Atlantic ocean," it was declared here today.

Extended American naval patrols have aided the British, but a source here said the real credit for reducing British tonnage losses goes to Catalina planes and sturdy corvettes because they now are scouting sea areas the Germans formerly considered safe for submarine operations.

Driven Below Surface

One result of what were called "unspectacular but emphatic triumphs" has been to force the Germans to forego their tactics of submarine rendezvous in mid-Atlantic with supply ships, it was asserted.

"Scouting flights have driven the U-boats below the surface," this source said. "They no longer are able to hunt in packs and lie in wait on the surface for convoys."

Corvettes Take Toll

Another function of the Catalinas has been to keep German long-range Fockewulfe bombers away from convoys because these Catalina boats give them a fierce fight and are said to be death on German Dornier "flying pencils."

The ugly and menacing corvettes have borne the main blows in the Atlantic battle. These craft look like a whaler but carry guns enough to down a destroyer and depth charges sufficient to destroy a flotilla of submarines. They have been turned out steadily since July, 1940.

Swimmers To Qualify In Red Cross Tests

More than 100 members of learn-to-swim classes which have been in progress at city swimming pool in Mackenzie state park the past two weeks will qualify for American Red Cross swimmers' certificates, according to report this morning by Clarence Mast, manager of the pool and director of the course.

Final tests for various of the classes included in the course are in progress today, and will be completed tonight. The final session of the young men's class is scheduled from 7 to 7:30 o'clock tonight, and that of the young women from 7:30 to 8.

Certificates will be mailed to those who pass the test, which requires a simple dive and ability to swim to the center of the pool and return to the bank, Mast said.

The course has been sponsored for the third straight year by Avalanche-Journal newspapers, Lubbock chapter of the American Red Cross and the pool management.

Nazi Party Is Losing Power

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The German army, administration advisors said today, apparently has wrested control of the Reich's war policies from the Nazi party and embarked on a campaign of conquest strangely reminiscent of Genghis Khan's.

The great Mongol warlord, they recalled, swept with his warriors from the Amur in Asia to the Danube, whereas the objective of the German army seems to be the conquest of the region that lies between the Danube and the Amur, now in Russia's Far East.

Reports Authoritative

Authoritative foreign reports gave the advisors the basis for their appraisal of German military aims and the overturn of power in Berlin.

On the eve of the onslaught against Russia, the reports said, the army and the leaders of the national socialist party split sharply, with the Nazis opposing war on the Soviet in favor of an all-out attempt to conquer England.

Adolf Hitler sided finally with the military—voluntary or otherwise—and the army won the argument.

Thus the Reichswehr, which early in Hitler's regime lost place to the Nazis as the most powerful single force in Germany, would seem to be back in the saddle.

Despite the present barrage of conflicting claims from Berlin and Moscow, the belief persisted here that a complete Nazi triumph by autumn was inevitable, barring the equivalent of an "act of God" to upset expert calculations.

This authoritative estimate of military prospect involved a number of disturbing implications for American defense policies. Mounting official concern has been reported over the possibility that Germany or Japan would win control of Asiatic Russia, whose Siberian coast is within a few miles of Alaska across the Bering straits.

The immediate German plan is believed to be utter destruction of the Red army as an offensive force, the overthrow of the Soviet regime and the substitution of puppet regional states in the Ukraine, the Baltic and elsewhere.

Three Die In Hotel Flames

(By The United Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 27—Three persons, two of them women, were killed today when fire swept the Burton Arms apartment hotel. A dozen persons were injured.

The charred body of Miss Alma Vosbeck was found in a corridor. Mrs. F. Goldberg, her clothing aflame, plunged to her death from a third floor window before firemen could raise a ladder. In the kitchen of Mrs. Goldberg's apartment firemen found the body of her husband.

Most of the occupants of the 100-room brick structure were asleep when fire broke out in the basement and spread through the four floors. Scores leaped to safety from windows.

No Let-Up In British Raids

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 27 — Formations of RAF fighters carried out a one-hour raid over the German occupied French coast today following the 16th consecutive night bombing attack upon Germany. Explosions sounded through the light blue haze over Dover strait.

German anti-aircraft batteries apparently put up heavy barrages. The British fighters later sped back across the channel.

Principal Objectives

The great naval base at Kiel and the industrial cities of Cologne and Duesseldorf were principal objectives of the night attacks.

Docks and shipyards at Kiel were "heavily bombed," the air ministry said.

In the sweeps over Germany, authoritative sources asserted, the RAF was encountering far less anti-aircraft than usual and the belief was expressed in some quarters that this means large amounts of anti-aircraft equipment has been moved to the Russian front.

Two Planes Lost

The air ministry acknowledged the loss of two planes in last night's sweeps and said a British bomber shot down a Nazi fighter plane.

German air activity over Britain remained slight.

(Berlin sources said the RAF bombed Schleswig-Holstein and the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region last night, causing a few casualties and non-military damage).

Prominent Speaker To Be Here July 6

The Hogg foundation at the University of Texas will furnish a prominent speaker, Dr. T. V. Smith, in a lecture free to the public July 6 in Senior High school auditorium.

The lecture will be sponsored jointly by Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college summer school.

Dr. Smith has served in the Illinois Senate and United States Congress. He has taught in Texas Christian university in Fort Worth, University of Texas and University of Chicago. He was a charter member on the famed University of Chicago round table and participated in 13 radio debates on national issues with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in 1939. He has written several books.

Pianist Is Pounding The Blue Notes Now

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 27 (AP)—For the last two years of her high school career, Grace Kareweick rehearsed the difficult Cappricio Brilliant by Mendelssohn with the school orchestra, planning to play the piano concerto on her graduation night.

Instead she received her diploma in a hospital bed. She was stricken with appendicitis the day before graduation exercises.

"If only this silly business could have held off just 24 hours," Grace mourned. "Why, we had that piece down pat."

All-Day Service Set For Idalou Church

IDALOU, June 27. (Special) — The Methodist church here will be host Sunday to an all-day fifth Sunday meeting, Rev. J. E. Stephens, pastor, announced this morning.

Program will be as follows:

Sunday school, 9:45 o'clock; morning service 10:50 o'clock; noon, basket lunch in the church annex; special song service at 2 o'clock; preaching at 2:30, followed by a 15-minute song service; preaching at 3:30 o'clock, followed by old time fellowship service.

Former pastors of the church have been invited to attend and preach. Those planning to attend are asked to bring their basket lunch for the noon meal.

Negro Spared By Lynch Mob

(By The United Press)

EASTMAN, Ga., June 27—Eddie Lee Spivey, a negro charged with raping a 61-year-old white woman, stood on an improvised gallows, a rope around his neck and a muttering lynch mob of 500 men assembled below.

"What have you get to say for yourself, nigger," shouted someone from the mob, which had stormed the jail, overpowered Sheriff J. C. Lewis and brought Spivey to the place of execution.

"I didn't do it," Spivey said. "I hope to see you white men in heaven. I'm not guilty."

A silence fell. There was an embarrassed shuffling of feet. A self-appointed leader stepped up and broke the spell, saying: "When a nigger is about to die he will confess if he is guilty."

Less than an hour later Sheriff Lewis was aroused from bed to receive Spivey back in custody, unharmed. Spivey's case will go to the grand jury in due course.

The incident happened Wednesday night and details leaked out only today.

HERE'S WHY QUALITY TIRES SAVE MONEY SAVE RUBBER

1. Quality tires last longer—important to you.
2. Quality tires use less crude rubber per mile—important in rubber conservation.
3. Quality tires have a thicker, tougher tread that permits safe regrooving when worn smooth.
4. Quality tires have the extra carcass strength for an extra margin of safety.

That Girl on Broadway says even those who expect the best of you are always willing to believe the worst.

Today's Fairy Tale: Once upon a time a man was able to complete a sentence of more than 10 words while talking with a woman over the telephone.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says it's impossible to run a credit grocery store next to a cash filling station and maintain a good opinion of your fellow man.

THE TUMULT and the shouting has begun to die away. The captains, the kings—and the carpetbaggers—of politics have begun departing for Austin and to Washington. Election day is upon us.

As the candidates for the U. S. Senate seat vacated by the death of Morris Sheppard finish the stretch it is readily apparent that four men are going to get 80 to 90 per cent of the vote cast. The rest of the gentlemen whose names will appear on the ballot are merely "running for exercise."

When the campaign began to warm up a couple of months ago, The Plainsman averred that if the election were held then the major candidates would finish: O'Daniel, first; Mann, second; Dies, third, and Johnson, fourth. That was a very good estimate two months ago.

But since the campaign really got down to brass tacks, conditions and trends have changed until now—just before the polls open—almost anything can happen.

All indications from over the state—from every part of the far-flung Texas terrain—forecast a photo-finish between the governor, the attorney general, and the young congressman who has a firm hold on the political shirt tail of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

SINCE it costs nothing to guess, and since The Plainsman enjoys sticking his neck out for all and sundry to whack away at, he will here and now do a little right and left-handed, plain and fancy, buck and wing forecasting on his own—without benefit of any poll, either real or imaginary, honest or dishonest.

Before guessing, however, we would make two things absolutely clear.

In the first place, The Plainsman doesn't know a darn bit more about the way the election is likely to go than any other Texan of average intelligence.

And in the second place, so that he will not be charged with trying to further the candidacy of any one of the boys, he here and now announces that his personal vote will go to Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

With these points cleared up, here goes:

First, by a hair—Gov. Wilbert Lee O'Daniel, whose "vest-pocket" vote should be impossible to overcome;

Second—Congressman Lyndon Johnson, whose help from Washington plus a general feeling on the part of anti-O'Danielites that "he's the only one with a chance to beat the governor," make him a whirlwind finisher;

Third—Attorney General Mann, who started out strong but who could not hold the dikes against a combination of the Ten Commandments and a guitar, and a state swarming with federal employes staging a hell-for-leather Tammany Hall campaign directed from the shadow of the dome of the national capitol; and

Fourth — Congressman Martin Dies, who made the mistake of trying to win on the fact that his name was well known, but without a semblance of an efficient state campaign organization.

That's the way we figure it as John Q. Public sharpens up his pencil and prepares to do a little scratching.

We admit, of course, the possibility of a Johnson victory, knowing full well that the former state NYA administrator has staged a marvelous campaign and has gained strength as the campaign rolled along, while both General Mann and Governor O'Daniel have lost strength.

We further admit that should Johnson's strength be underestimated, and should much of his vote come from last year's O'Daniel support that General Mann has a chance to slip in as the choice of Texans who dislike the O'Daniel methods and who decry federal interference in state elections.

But we can't forget that the governor's strength is never actually known until tabulation is under way—and that's when political strength means the most.

That's why we say O'Daniel will win.

FROM persons both interested and disinterested — and from all sections of Texas—The Plainsman has been hearing for the past two weeks that "O'Daniel has slipped; O'Daniel isn't clicking."

Maybe so, but we won't believe the governor is beaten until the count shows he is. Any politician who can do what O'Daniel did in 1938, and then duplicate the feat in 1940, is a vote-getter deluxe and for that reason we refuse to sell the governor short.

We understand, of course, that a great many Texans who were eligible to vote—and who did vote—in 1940 can't vote this year because, 1941 being an "off election year," they did not anticipate the special senatorial race. Since O'Daniel got the most votes in 1940, it cannot be denied that he lost the most support through failure to pay poll taxes this year. But if he doesn't go into voting day with a vest-pocket vote of 150,000 to 200,000, it will be nothing short of a miracle the way we see it.

If fair weather obtains over the most of Texas this election day, there may be as many as 550,000 to 600,000 votes cast.

If the weather is bad in a lot of places, a total as low as 425,000 to 450,000 wouldn't surprise The Plainsman.

Subtract from either of these possible totals the O'Daniel vest-pocket support and you can see what the other boys are up against.

No matter how you figure it, until the last vote is counted, Governor O'Daniel—whether you consider him a great leader or an insincere hypocrite—has the edge!

But whatever you do, don't let these remarks influence your action at the voting place.

Furthermore, don't let any so-called "polls of public opinion" sway you, either.

For several weeks, Texas has been alive with "straw votes" of one kind and another—some of which The Plainsman believes to have been honestly taken and others of which he is certain were completely dishonest and were concocted with the sole idea of influencing the vote.

If you are eligible to cast a vote, by all means cast it—and cast it for the candidate whom you believe can and will serve the best in the "greatest deliberative body in the world."

IN OUR democratic setup, the silliest and most harmful thing for any citizen to do is to cast a ballot against his better judgment "to keep from losing my vote."

The whole American system is based upon the predicate of the individual citizen choosing, by, of and for himself, the best among the candidates offering for any public office.

As long as the people honestly vote their own convictions, the democratic form of government will survive. But just as sure as the majority votes merely in an effort to "ride the winner," then will democracy fall and decay.

A citizen's candidate can lose an election, but no citizen can "lose a vote" so long as he casts it for the candidate he believes is the best!

YESTERDAY: Anne Willard, Pete Mackey and Blaze Sherwood are in a desert hovel in Mongolia, sheltering from the storm into which their disabled plane has dropped them. Mackey had been engaged to fly Anne to her father's camp; now she finds that Blaze is working with the Prince of Shani Lun against her father. But she also finds that Blaze is a remarkably fascinating young man.

CHAPTER 5
LIFE IN A HOVEL

"They are friendly, helpful people," Anne remarked presently. "I thought they might be hostile and turn us away."

"That's the charm of Asia," said Sherwood, "you never know what you'll meet."

They were each given a cup of hot, rich broth. Mackey, his tooth still paining him, fell into a restless sleep. Sherwood held a long palaver with the men of the hut and as many of the neighbors as could crowd into the room. Then he turned all the visitors out, looked Mackey over and came and sat down beside Anne.

She had drowsed a little and now glanced at him with those lovely eyes that were not round like a Europeans nor slanted like a Mongolian's but had that full elongated shape of the eyes of a gazelle. In fact they were Persian eyes, Sherwood told her so.

Anne smiled. "Harem eyes. But I don't think I'd be a very pleasant inmate for a harem. I've got too much energy."

"Those people fancy you are the one who possesses the harem. They think Mackey and I are both your husbands, that we come from Tibet where polyandry flourishes. They judge Mackey is husband number one because he is the elder, but I—" he grinned and made a bow.

"Interesting people," said Anne, looking around the room at the family — an old man, his two sons and their wives. A litter of pups and three healthy grubby children, roses shining in their cheeks, frolicked in the center of the earthen floor.

Fight

One of the younger men cuffed one of the women, presumably his own wife, and she began squalling. He knocked her down. Anne glanced at Sherwood. He seemed undisturbed. The woman rose and grabbing a basin of cooked rice from the back of the stove threw it on the floor.

"His supper, I bet," whispered Sherwood.

The pups fell on the rice in a snarling, fighting mass. The man tangled his fingers in the woman's hair and began jerking her around. It was too much for Anne. Sherwood caught her arm and held her back.

"Here! Here!" he admonished.

"I can't stand it!" she cried.

"They'd both turn on you. These people aren't as sensitive to pain as we are. I've seen them barely whimper when their heads were cut open or the flesh scraped from the bones."

Suddenly the woman snatched up a wooden stool and brought it against her husband's ribs with a hearty whack, breaking one of the legs. She had been screaming and he haranguing her all this time. Now he became really impatient, snatched open the door and threw her out into the storm, tossing the damaged stool after her. Those inside heard her crunch off through the snow muttering to herself.

Peace reigned again in the hut. The children and the pups roiled in play in the spot where the rice had been thrown. The other women resumed their reed-weaving, the men their smoking. Sherwood and Anne turned and gazed at each other and slowly began to grin.

Anne asked, "Do you suppose she's going home to mother?"

"I'll find out." After a parley with the old man he turned back with a laugh. "It's astonishing, but maybe you're right. He says she may go home to her mother for a while or she may sleep in the fold with the sheep and return in the morning. You see these desert women have more independence than the Mohammedan women of the cities.

Mackey groaned and sat up, holding his aching jaw. Sherwood fed him more aspirin.

"I have pulled teeth with a button hook for a tool," he confessed, "but this tooth is ulcerated and I hate to monkey with it." He massaged the jaw a bit, and then when Mackey lay down again, he went and joined the children.

A Plan

Anne sat on the kang idly watching him, marvelling at how quickly he won the confidence of these mixed Turki and Chinese children. Presently he was playing cat's cradle with the eldest boy and the others leaned trustingly against his shoulders. The two women approached curiously and were soon talking to him. The native men dozed where they squatted against the wall, manly dignity preventing them from exhibiting curiosity.

Having seen Sherwood give Mackey medicine, the old woman showed him a cut on her arm. He disinfected and bandaged the wound and gave her a little tablet to swallow for its mental effect.

Anne napped a bit and was aroused by a hand on her wrist. Sherwood was bending over her. She sat up quickly.

"Pardon, I didn't mean to startle you." He dropped down beside her.

"You seem to have a way with women and children," she said, brushing her shining hair back from her forehead.

"I hope so," he grinned, and lowered his voice unconsciously. "I don't like our position her. We're not prisoners exactly but our host is the village headman, and he intends marching us down to Arishar, the capital, tomorrow. White men are not apt to be well received in that robbers' roost though red-headed women are highly prized." It took a moment for that to sink in, then Anne protested.

"But my hair's not red."

"Close enough, I fear — nearer red than black."

"So what?" she demanded.

"I don't know," in troubled tones. "Perhaps if you'd seem to become dreadfully ill they'd leave you here with the women. It's a two days' journey."

"It wouldn't be hard to fall sick here," Anne observed.

He smiled at that. "Shall I repeat what these women think of you?"

"Go ahead," though she felt a bit apprehensive at the twinkle in his eyes.

"They think that anybody keeping as clean as you are, must be in very poor health. And they pity you, profoundly, because you have no baby."

"Well!" gasped Anne, and then she laughed. "If my college dean of women could hear that!"

"I learned something else," he went on, "the village scandal. Though she's ashamed of the fact and keeps it a secret, that woman who was thrown out went to a British mission school in Khotan when she was a child. Perhaps you can talk to her.

Anne rose. "I'll go to the sheepfold and see if I can find her." She gathered up her possessions and left.

MERIT IN THE ARMY

If it is a fact, as reported in Washington, that promotions to the more responsible army commands are to be dictated by merit instead of seniority, then the outlook for our military has been brightened.

As a rule in the past—and this is a rule to which there have been many notable exceptions—the officer who has managed to hang on to his job the longest has been first in line for promotion with little consideration for other qualifications. The expression, "notable exceptions," is used because two among them have been Generals Grant and Pershing.

Cited as illustrative of the new way of doing things is the report that to select 300 officers to be promoted to the rank of full colonel, the board of selection of general officers in the army has chosen lieutenant colonels who were 1,500 and lower in the order of seniority. That means that some of those selected for promotion will be advanced over the heads of 1,200 or more lieutenant colonels.

Undoubtedly there will be loud squawking from among those destined to be disappointed. Some undoubtedly will attempt, and may succeed, in bringing political pressure that may be hampering. But that will not change the fact that people of the nation who are footing the bill for the nation defense will want promotions to high army positions to be on the basis of "gray matter" rather than gray whiskers.

U. S. Farm Security Administration Singing An Old Song:

How Ya Gonna' Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?

By PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 27. — The Farm Security administration of your government, whose function it is to get folks to go back to the farm, is now having some new troubles trying to keep them there. FSA, you'll recall, is the outfit which started out in life as Rex Tugwell's Resettlement administration to build Tugwelltowns here and there, was reorganized into the Department of Agriculture in 1936 and had its name changed in 1937 to bury its past and start all over again.

EDSON

It's the defense program, of course, which is upsetting the eventenor of FSA ways. Let a defense project get started and what happens? The poorer farmers who have had tough sledding, hear the call of those "five dollars-a-day" to be made on government jobs. They simply pick up and leave home. Anything looks better to them than facing the unexpired portion of a 40-year mortgage on a little land, which may give security but never wealth.

So they chase the pot of gold to the rainbow's end, and when they get there—to scramble a couple of metaphors—the cupboard is bare as it always is.

What happened at Fort Bragg, near Fayetteville, N. C., is an example. The farmers swarmed in. Some of the first who could get by as carpenters got jobs. The unskilled rest had to trek back home. When the construction job was over, even the early comers were down on their luck and had to traipse back to their patch of land.

HOLD THOSE ACRES!

THAT situation woke up the Farm Security people as to what was going on and since then they have been doing a good bit of missionary work among their 800,000 or more client farm-families. The gist of the FSA argument to their people is this:

Some day this defense boom is going to be all over. When it is, the bottom may fall out worse than it did in 1932. You have here your house and your land, secured by a federal government loan at low interest on long time terms. Why not keep this as your reserve? If you have some sons or daughters who can fit into the defense picture, fine—let them get their jobs in the industrial centers. But keep some members of the family, Uncle Charlie or Brother Bill or even grandpappy, on the place to make sure it doesn't run down and you don't lose your grub stake.

There is a further argument for the tenant farmers' welfare in persuading them to fit their crops in with the big vitamin campaign that goes on under the nutrition program. Raising of garden truck to sell to these army camps, instead of putting all the land in wheat or cotton or tobacco, of which the country already has a surplus, is something that a good many farmers still have to be taught to do.

Farm Security administration's appropriation for next year is still before Congress. The House version gives it $50 million, and the Senate $60 million, to which will be added $170 million of Reconstruction Finance corporation money for rehabilitation loans and such. This year, FSA has had $50 million plus $200 million from RFC.

OVER-LOADED LAND PROBLEM

TO GET the need for this program, you have to go back to the war between the states and study the war population problem. Land now under cultivation in the southeastern U. S. is as great as it was then—perhaps a little less due to soil erosion—but the population on it has doubled.

In the World war there was a big migration of labor from this area to Detroit and Akron and the industrial centers. When the war was over, they had to go back home, their silk shirts in rags and tatters, and they dammed up on the land.

FSA now has loans outstanding to some 400,000 familes in this southeastern-Appalachian area alone. Perhaps 25,000 to 50,000 people from these 400,000 families have already left to take defense jobs. The industrial centers have again become the frontiers to which the pioneers want to flock and it's going to be a job to keep them put.

On top of this general resettlement problem is the old problem of migratory labor, which is another FSA baby that has to have its nursing formula changed by the defense colic. The old pre-war harvest hand migration of the midwest has of course been killed by the combine tractor, but the citrus-fruit-truck farm migrations from Florida to Maine and back, and the citrus-cotton-truck-fruit harvesters' migrations from the Rio Grande to the Canadian border are essential to the harvesting of seasonal crops, and the labor supply for this job must be maintained.

The big worry now is that there won't be enough Okies to go 'round. Some of these sons of Okies have been tinkering with model T Fords so long they've become pretty fair mechanics and the west coast aircraft factories are after 'em.

Times certainly have changed.

WASHINGTON GRAPES OF WRATH

TO keep up with the Okies as they go from one fruit farm to the other, Farm Security administration has had to build 60 mobile camps. . . . A Southern Railway engineer who had some experience in moving circuses helped work out the design. . . . It combines the best elements of the circus with Army transports and provides shower baths, trailers and portable mess equipment. . . . Trouble now is getting priorities for motor equipment much of which is similar to models used by the Army. . . . Best estimate is that there are about one and a half million families of migrants in the U. S. today. . . . That's approximately five million people but final figures

THINK—When You Buy A—USED CAR
Consider the Following Points When You Buy!
1. The name and address of the former owner and how did he treat the car?
2. Is the title clear; no possibility of old mortgages or mechanic liens?
KUYKENDALL
3. Is the dealer well established, and a competent judge of price and condition?
4. Does the dealer consider me a one-time sale or a long-time customer?
5. Do you know your Dealer? Is he fair, honest, an asset to the community or is he a "Fly-by-nighter?"
6. Local cars are easy to check. Just ask the name of the former owner and then check with them.

Nazis Thought Trying To Pocket Huge Red Force

Minsk May Be Big Objective

BY FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Journal War Analyst

While the Germans add up their preliminary returns from the Russian campaign, it is possible to envisage, from those reports which are substantiated by the Russians, something of the nature of this tremendous military movement.

Along the whole Baltic-Black sea front, the principal danger to the Red army appears to be the wedge which the German army is pounding toward the Minsk area of white Russia—a wedge preceded by the groping arms of panzer divisions, and protected on the south flank by the dank morass of the Privet marshes of east Poland.

Important Rail Center

This movement, and the pincers which are biting into the Baltic states to the north, are designed to encircle and destroy the whole Red army of northwest Russia, perhaps a million men. There are indications that the panzers which are feeling the way for the main mass of German soldiery have broken the defenses of the Niemen and are crawling within striking distance of Minsk. This means an advance of well over 100 miles from the east Prussian border, through the undulating plain of east Poland.

Minsk, strongly defended, is an important rail center just inside pre-war Russia, 465 miles by rail from Moscow. For purposes of comparison it might be called the Sedan of the Russian campaign, since it may mark the lower corner of the pocket which the Germans have designed for the Reds in the Soviet northwest.

Sky Control Necessary

The great successes which the German communiques, up to today, have anticipated in glowing generalities may be predicated on the high command's confidence that the fall of Minsk is imminent. The delay in announcing details, however, creates the impression that Russian resistance has at least slowed down the timetable.

The Russians appear to have adequate heavy tanks in the area, but the fate of the Red army will depend in large measure on the Red air force and its ability to stay in the sky.

Some comparative idea of the German progress and the Russian resistance may be obtained by recalling what the Germans had done at this point of the campaign in the west—on the sixth day after the lowlands were invaded.

Compared To Western Drive

By then Hitler's high command was able to announce correctly:

1. The capitulation of the Netherlands army.

2. The capture of Fort Eben Emael, of Liege, the crossing of the Albert canal and a dash clear through Belgium's Ardennes.

3. The attack and breakthrough at Sedan, which was to decide the fate of France even before the battle began, and the systematic destruction of General Corap's ninth French army.

Having thus outflanked the Maginot line, three whole German armies, moving at a rate of more than 25 miles a day, proceeded to sew up the pocket to the sea which trapped the French and British in Flanders and brought about the epic of Dunkerque.

JANE WITHERS EDITH FELLOWS BONITA GRANVILLE

They used to be brats in the movies — but look at 'em now.

Movieland's "Brats" Of Yesterday Now Are Bowing In As Beautiful Starlets Of Today

BY ROBBIN COONS
Associated Press Feature Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 27.—Sweet little girls are sugar and spice and everything nice — but they don't get ahead in the movies.

There's been only one Shirley since the movies began.

Hollywood likes its kiddies b-a-d. And Hollywood's brats grow up into nice, law-abiding, radiant young women.

No. 1 example at present is Bonita Granville. You'd scarcely know her now for the meanest little meanie on the screen, the poison kid whose lies and machinations ruined lives in "These Three" a few years back.

Dates Jackie Cooper

That's because Bonita is 18, no longer a gangly sprout but a nicely-turned young woman with a fresh and wholesome beauty.

She can tut a rug or get in the groove with any member of her set, though lately she's been eschewing rug-cutting for more dignified dancing as she "dates" Jackie Coper.

Bonita has left her "brat" days behind, her eye on dramatic roles of Bette Davis caliber in future years. She's made a start as the crippled ice skater in the latest Dr. Kildare movie. But the brat gave her a boost she might never have had otherwise.

Brats Are Busy

The brat usually has more to do in a picture than her good little sister, hence makes a more definite impression.

Jane Withers owes her prosperous career to a "brat" role — and what a wild spray of poison-ivy she was in "Bright Eyes"!

She stole the picture from Shirley Temple with her childish felonies, so successfully that never again did Shirley and Jane appear together.

She has retained something of the tomboy in her starring films since, but lately, having turned 15, she is "growing up" to approximate the real-life Withers —a young woman of poise, hostess to the younger movie set, and a rug-cutter of no mean ability.

Virginia Weidler, at 14 a veteran of 30-odd movies, has seldom been the complete brat, her specialty leaning toward the tomboy with brattish manifestations.

Offscreen, surrounded by a hardworking family of Weidlers which includes six brothers and sisters, Virginia is still the tomboy, averse to fussy clothes and fond of animals and baseball — but maybe she's a bit young for the frills as yet.

Her most notable venture into sweetness-and-light was "Bad Little Angel," a rather bad little movie — and Virginia knew it.

How Edith Has Changed!

Edith Fellows is 18 now (May 20 was her birthday). Like Bonita, she's in the youthful radiance stage — absolutely no relation to the brattish stepdaughter of Claudette Colbert in "She Married Her Boss" six years ago.

Edith has developed her coloratura soprano along with her talents for music, dancing and art, and appears set for bigger things.

All these girls can tell you that brattishness brings bonuses —in the movies.

Millionaires' Row Is Appealing To London's Blitz Families, But They Like Own Homes

(By The United Press)

LONDON, June 27—Three-year-old Peter Netty pedaled his tricycle along the carved oak passages of Gloucester House, Park Lane flats rented at $400 a week, raced gaily through a drawing room containing furniture worth $200,000 and collided with an earl.

The earl didn't mind. Or at least he didn't say so. He gave Peter some chocolate, asked him if he was happy, how he liked Park Lane.

Had Grand Time

That day, Millionaires' Row had been handed over to the victims of London's fiercest blitz, which had raged all night before.

When morning came, social workers took charge of families whose homes had been smashed, whisked them away in cars from working-class districts and installed them complete in the millionaire flats in Park Lane.

Westminster city council had ordered the whole of Gloucester House to be commandeered. Peter and his pals moved in.

They had a grand time. They played on parquet floors and no one said anything when they splashed paint on cream-washed walls.

Three hundred persons were accommodated in the flats at Gloucester House. All of them had lost their homes.

Like Own Homes Better

Officials at first were anxious. They thought the people would like Park Lane so much they wouldn't want to leave again when new houses were found for them. But they need not have worried.

On the very day after moving in, Mrs. Edith Edwards sent her husband to work promptly at dawn, then set out herself—to try to find another little house where she could build a home.

On the second day, only 30 of the 300 in the mansion answered the bell for lunch. All the others were out—searching London for new homes.

"Yes, we like Park Lane," one of the bombed-out mothers told Lady Drage, the organizer at Gloucester House. "But we like our own little homes better."

Railway Claim Here Refused

Claim of the Fort Worth & Denver City railway to $2,612.82 as reimbursement for expenses to which it was put in connection with the recently completed storm sewer in the south part of the city was rejected by the city commission at its semi-monthly meeting Thursday afternoon.

The money, according to a letter from Fort Worth & Denver officials, is due as reimbursement for expenses to which the railroad was put in strengthening the supports of tracks under which the storm sewer was constructed.

Ready To Go To Court

Officials contrasted the Fort Worth & Denver claim of more than $2,612 with the approximately $200 that was paid to the Santa Fe for a similar purpose because of the construction of the storm sewer under the main line of those tracks.

The storm sewer passes under the Fort Worth & Denver tracks in five places, only one of which is main line. Most of the others are switches.

The commission directed that the Fort Worth & Denver be offered settlement in an amount commensurate with that paid the Santa Fe. Otherwise, commissioners declared, they are prepared to go into court with the issue.

Claims by the Fort Worth & Denver were listed in an itemized statement, one of which concerned a house-mover brought from Fort Worth.

Three Members Attend

"Why didn't they hire their house-mover in Lubbock?" one of the commission wanted to know. "We have plenty of them here."

Only three members of the commission were present at the meeting, and most of the business transacted at the relatively short session was routine.

Those attending were Mayor Carl E. Slaton and Commissioners W. B. Price and Garland Newsom.

Commissioner Hub Jones is spending a brief vacation trip visiting near Marlin. Commissioner W. G. McMillan was preparing for his departure for Caddoa, Colo., where bids are to be opened this morning for the contract to build the advanced twin-engine aviation training school of the army air corps to be built 10 miles west of Lubbock.

Action Deferred

Action was deferred on an ordinance proposing to require licenses of share-expense travel bureaus. It has been passed on first reading. City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley said he would like to study the proposed ordinance more closely before it is passed on second and final reading.

Members of the commission rejected a proposal that parking in metered spaces at banks and in front of the social security office at 1309-A Texas avenue be limited to 15 minutes.

A loading zone at the east entrance to Lubbock hotel was designated.

Requests for approval of the plats of two proposed residential additions outside the city limits were submitted, but no action was taken on either until there is a proper dedication of streets and alleys.

One has been named "Murphy Place" and is owned by H. W. Stanton. Its boundaries are Nineteenth and Twenty-first streets on the north and south, and Fillmore and Pierce avenues on the east and west. The nearest boundary is approximately two blocks outside the city limits.

Stop Signs Ordered

The other addition, designated as Hillcrest addition, is bounded by extensions of Thirty-fourth and Fortieth streets on the north and south, and extends a distance of four double-length blocks east of the Slide road, which forms the west boundary.

City commission approval of such plats is a necessity under the recently adopted city zoning ordinance. It is described as assurance that additions will be harmonious as to general layout should the time ever come when they are considered for inclusion within the city limits.

The commission declined to order a traffic light installed at Sixteenth street and Avenue H, but ordered stop signs placed on Avenue O at Sixteenth street.

Three items were approved for inclusion in the new city budget which is now being prepared.

One of $560 is for the extension of sanitary sewer lines from Sixth to Fourth streets between Avenue E and F so as to serve 11 residences already in that area.

Airport Improvements

Both of the other items are for improvements to the Municipal airport. One of $1,015 was the amount of the bid of Lydick Roofing company for the contract to reroof the big hangar. The other item, of $551, is the amount of the bid of Jones Brothers for the contract to repaint airport buildings.

The commission took under advisement the application of M. W. Hunter, who moved here recently from Texarkana, for a franchize to operate a taxicab company here. Hunter said he negotiated for the purchase of the franchise of one of the four taxi companies now operating here, but the deal fell through when $4,000 was asked.

Members of the commission pointed out with some emphasis that such franchises cannot be transferred except with the specific approval of the commission, and that they may be canceled whenever the commission may choose.

Members of the official body were not pleased by the report that attempt had been made to set such value on one of the franchises as to indicate that support is being givene to a monopoly. The officials made clear that no taxicab operator can give assurance of his ability to deliver his francise to any purchaser.

Yellow Lamps Rated Low In Insect Appeal

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 27. (AP)—After spending years learning what colors of light will attract bugs into death traps, scientists have begun to meet success.

The idea is to find the best light for human out-of-doors comfort at night. Lawrence C. Porter of the General Electric company at Cleveland and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station have made a report.

They say they don't know all the answers, but that red attracts fewer insects than any other color. But because red is not altogether satisfactory to live under, or to use for a porch game of cards, yellow light tentatively is selected as the most satisfactory.

A flame-colored lamp is very satisfactory, so far as bugs are concerned, when some fair seeing is also wanted.

What the scientists now wish to find out is whether there is a difference between insect preferences for colors. They point out that gnats are more troublesome than June bugs, since the gnats bite.

Aside from the color differences, the most effective way to reduce the number of insects is to lower the wattage of the light. There is no such thing as a lamp that does not attract insects.

"Vote To Promote" MARTIN DIES TO THE U. S. SENATE

WHY SHOULD HE BE PROMOTED TO THE U. S. SENATE?

Because he is best qualified by long and active service in Congress and on major committees. A Senator must understand parliamentary procedure, departmental work, and the whole complicated machinery of modern government if he renders the best service to his state and nation. This is important in normal times; it is more important in the critical conditions which now exist. A senator lacking sufficient previous congressional experience will be seriously handicapped.

Keep America for Americans of every race and creed.
