Dues for chamber increased

Directors of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, in a regular monthly meeting Thursday, approved an increase in membership dues, heard progress reports from committees, and appointed two directors to an economic development study panel.

Lewis McDaniel, president, noted that the Hereford City Commission had proposed a committee to determine the best action in working together on economic development. He appointed Bill Lyles and Jeff Carlile to serve on the panel.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, reported that the health and education committee has planned a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Howard Haysom on Oct. 10. The reception for the new doctor will be at Hereford Country Club from 1 to 3 p.m. on Oct. 10.

Lyles also reported on several recommendations by the budget committee, including a dues increase. The committee proposed an increase of $2 a month for businesses--to $144 a year instead of $120, and $1 a month for individuals--to $72 a year from $60.

The board approved the increase, effective Jan. 1, 1994, noting the last dues hike was in January, 1983. The budget committee is also making plans for a yearend raffle.

McDaniel reported the nominating committee is awaiting response from several proposed candidates. Nominees for the four new directors will probably be announced next month.

Directors present for the meeting included McDaniel, Lyles, Carlile, Charles Greenawalt, Rosendo Gonzalez, Linda Daniel, and John Sherrod.

Hospital proclamation

Mayor Pro Tem Roger Eades, seated, prepares to sign a proclamation in honor of the name change of the city's hospital. The name of Hereford Regional Medical Center became official today, ending the operation of Deaf Smith General Hospital. The name change was also marked with a ribbon cutting. Watching Eades is hospital chief executive officer Ron Rives.

Hereford hospital gets new name in ceremony

A ceremony to formally announce the name change of Deaf Smith General Hospital was conducted this morning as hospital trustees, administrators and employees, medical staff and community guests gathered to help introduce the new name: Hereford Regional Medical Center(HRMC).

About 100 persons attended the 10 a.m. event and watched as hospital employees unveiled the new sign on the front of the building.

Community leaders, including the Chamber of Commerce Hereford Hustlers, were on hand for the 10 a.m. unveiling of the new name. Ron Rives, hospital CEO, and Mal Manchee, board vice president, welcomed those attending. Roger Eades, mayor pro-tem, presented a mauyor's proclamation.

A reception followed in the hospital dining room and tours were offered for those interested. The Hustlers later conducted a ribbon-cutting ceremony at Hereford Medical Clinic for two new physicians--Dr. Kent Walker and Dr. Howard Haysom.

"The name change is an important step for us," said John Perrin, board president of the hospital district. "We're moving one step closer to a new vision of health care for the area."

Perrin noted that a blue-ribbon committee of community leaders last year helped the hospital plan strategy for the future, and the group decided that the hospital name no longer reflected the extent of the services offered. He said the name chosen was a result of the committee's input and a concensus choice of the board, hospital employees, medical staff and administration.

"We are truly a medical center because we offer a variety of services in addition to traditional hospital in-patient care," said Rives. Those additional services include the ambulance service, home health agency, outpatient services, and the industry and occupational medicine program.

The regional emphasis in the name was chosen because of the hospital's location. "We're the largest facility between Canyon and Clovis," said Perrin. "We are currently working with smaller hospitals in nearby communities to offer them services that they cannot provide."

Rural health clinics, supervised by HRMC, are a strong possibility in the future, said Perrin. "These clinics, which utilize physician assistants and nurse practitioners, may be the best answer for the underserved rural areas near us. We could help provide primary care close to home for our neighbors."

HRMC will also see an expansion of services in Hereford, Perrin pointed out. During the last year, five new physicians have been recruited for Hereford. Dr. Kent Walker opened his office recently, and Dr. Howard Haysom joins the medical community next week.

Plans are also being finalized for the construction of a new professional building adjacent to the hospital, and this will be an asset in the continuing process of physician recruitment, according to Perrin.

The hospital is currently planning to add cardiac rehabilitation within the next few months. This is possibile because the hospital has a visiting cardiologist who has regular office hours in Hereford. In addition, the specialty clinic brings an orthopedic specialist and an ophthalmologist to Hereford on a regular basis.

Signs, stationery, everything bearing the old name will begin changing this week, said Perrin. "We will, however, be using old forms until our supplies are exhausted."

People will probably slip and call the hospital "Deaf Smith General" on occasion, noted Perrin, "but we hope everyone will adjust to the new name quickly."

Man indicted for murder in death of county man

A suspect in a gunshot death in northwest Deaf Smith County was indicted for murder Thursday during a session of the Grand Jury.

The indictment against Chris Don Barron, 23, in connection with the death of Bill Gudgell was one of 16 returned by the Grand Jury. Names of four defendants were withheld pending arrest.

Barron was charged with murder and arrested in Amarillo on Sept. 15. He was transferred to the Deaf Smith County Jail the same day and has been held since that time in lieu of $200,000 bond.

A murder conviction is punishable by a sentence of life, or five to 99 years, in prison, and a fine.

Gudgell was shot while sitting at the kitchen table of his home. A rifle was found outside the house but investigators have declined to identify it as the murder weapon.

The incident occurred about 11 p.m. on Sept. 11. The victim was transported to an Amarillo hospital where he died several hours later.

Two indictments, each alleging delivery of marijuana, were returned against Paul Estrada, 30, of 832 Brevard. He posted bond of $1,000 on each charge.

Three men are named in an indictment for burglary of a building. Two, Gary Kervin, 31, of Clovis, N.M., and Leonardo Rios Jr., 18, of 612 Irving, No. 59, have posted bond. The third named in the indictment, Martin Martinez, 20, of Clovis, is in jail in lieu of bond.

Felony driving while intoxicated indictments were returned against two men. Alfred Joe Vigil, 45, of Canyon, posted bond of $500. A $1,000 bond was posted by Oran Leroy Morrison, 55, of Wildorado.

Luke Parman Jr., 17, of 606 Star, was indicted for criminal mischief over $750 but under $20,000. He is free on $2,500 bond.

An indictment for burglary of a motor vehicle was returned against Amanda Cavazos, 17, of 309 Bradley, who is free after posting $3,000 bond.

Indicted for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, Francisco Javier Hernandez, 29, is in jail in lieu of bond.

Maria Bustos, 29, of 112 Avenue H, No. 18, was indicted for theft over $750 but under $20,000, and is free on $2,000 bond.

An indictment for injury to an elderly individual was returned against Raymond Uvalle, 26, who is in jail in lieu of bond.

Indicted for indecency with a child, 52-year-old Seferino Gomez Jr., also known as Jeff Gomez, is confined to jail in lieu of bond.

Indicators show August gain; increase third month in a row

By DAVE SKIDMORE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government's chief barometer of future economic activity leapt 1 percent in August, the best gain of the year, signaling a pickup from the dismal first half.

The Index of Leading Indicators flashed its most positive sign since December, when it rose 1.7 percent, the Commerce Department said today. It was the third consecutive increase, following slight gains of 0.1 percent in both June and July.

July had previously been reported as a 0.1 percent drop. And the August advance was slightly better than the 0.8 percent rise anticipated by economists.

Ten of the index's 11 forward-looking indicators rose, the first time that many were up since December 1986.

Separately, the department said new orders to factories rose 0.9 percent in August, pulled higher by a surge in aircraft and a strong gain in autos. It was the second increase in three months, following three consecutive declines, from March through May.

Both the factory orders report and the leading index, intended give a sense of the economy's direction six to nine months in advance, fit with analysts' belief that the economy, while not exactly roaring ahead, is clearly expanding at a faster pace than the anemic 1.4 percent annual rate registered from January through June.

The various changes left the index at a seasonally adjusted 153.1, up 3 percent from a year ago and up 1.1 percent from three months ago.

The report, intended give a sense of the economy's direction six to nine months in advance, fits with analysts' belief that the economy, while not exactly roaring ahead, is clearly expanding at a faster pace than the anemic 1.4 percent annual rate registered from January through June.

Most believe the economy now is growing somewhere between a 2.5 percent and 3 percent rate as measured by the gross domestic product, the total of goods and services produced in the United States. That's slow by historical standards for the early stages of an expansion, but about double the rate of the first half.

Teen suffers injury in freak morning vehicle accident

A Hereford teen escaped serious injury this morning in a freak accident that occurred outside her home.

Police and rescue workers were called to 108 Northwest Drive at 7:56 a.m. after a car-pedestrian accident was reported.

On arrival, paramedics discovered Melissa Lucy, 15, lying inside her garage after having been hit by a car outside the garage.

Police Officer Randy Stribling said Reshella Treadway, 25, who also lives at the home, told him that her car had been parked partially on the driveway and partly on the grass when she went to move it onto the driveway this morning.

After moving the car, she told Stribling, she tried to stop, but the brakes failed, causing the car to strike Miss Lucy -- who had been standing in front of the garage door -- and push her through the door.

Miss Lucy was transported to Hereford Regional Medical Center by ambulance, where she was treated and released with an injury to her right leg.

Ready for transport

Paramedics load 15-year-old Melissa Lucy into an ambulance Friday morning in preparation for a trip to Hereford Regional Medical Center following a freak accident at her home in the 100 block of Northwest Drive.

Vietnam vets call for resignation of Commerce Secretary Brown

By MARCY GORDON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - A group representing 350,000 Vietnam veterans is seeking Commerce Secretary Ron Brown's resignation as a federal grand jury investigates his contacts with a Vietnamese businessman.

"We no longer have confidence in Mr. Brown," J. Thomas Burch, chairman of the National Vietnam Veterans Coalition, told reporters Thursday. "The Vietnam veterans of this country call for his resignation."

Burch's umbrella organization comprises 75 groups representing Vietnam veterans and families of POWs and MIAs. He said his group now questions Brown's "impartiality on a life-or-death issue," that of a full accounting by Vietnam of American POWs and MIAs.

About a dozen Republican, mostly conservative lawmakers met Thursday with Binh T. Ly, the Vietnamese-American businessman who has alleged that Brown accepted $700,000 to help lift the U.S. trade embargo against Vietnam.

The group gathered in the office of Rep. Dan Burton, R-Ind., who with Rep. Dana Rohrabacher, R-Calif., called Wednesday for appointment of a special prosecutor to investigate the allegations against Brown.

The lawmakers emerged with a letter to President Clinton asking him to halt normalization of U.S. relations with Vietnam while the FBI and the federal grand jury in Miami investigate.

Attorney General Janet Reno said she has no plans to appoint a special prosecutor because as a fellow member of the administration it might appear she has a conflict of interest.

The White House said it was satisfied with the current investigation.

"The president is comfortable with where things stand now both in terms of the investigation that is ongoing and Secretary Brown's commitment to comply," spokesman Mark Gearan said.

Brown's attorney, Reid Weingarten, and Jim Desler, his spokesman at the Commerce Department, didn't return telephone calls seeking comment Thursday.

Brown has denied any wrongdoing and said Wednesday he expects to be "totally exonerated" by the grand jury investigation.

The arrangement Brown allegedly sought involved far more than a $700,000 "retainer fee," Ly said in an interview Thursday.

Ly said Brown reached a tentative agreement with Nguyen Van Hao, a Vietnamese businessman and former government official, to include oil royalties or concessions and interests of at least 30 percent in other business ventures in Vietnam.

Brown has acknowledged meeting with Hao three times - in November and December of 1992 and in February of this year.

Sentence handed down in DWI case

A 10-year prison sentence was assessed a defendant in 222nd District Court Thursday.

Michael Anthony Diaz, 23, entered a plea of guilty to felony driving while intoxicated.

In addition to the 10-year term in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice institutional division, Diaz was fined $500 by Judge David Wesley Gulley.

Gas tax hits with 5 cent price hike

Motorists in Hereford generally were paying a nickel more for regular unleaded gasoline Friday than they would have paid Thursday.

The price rise covered a 4.3-cent increase in federal gasoline tax that became effective Friday.

Consumers now will pay 18.4 cents in federal tax on each gallon of gasoline. Total federal and state taxes paid in Texas now is 38.4 cents per gallon.

The increase was approved by the U.S. Congress as part of the Clinton administration's deficit-reduction plan. The tax is expected to raise $22 billion over the next five years.

The Associated Press reported Friday that industry leaders expected the tax hike to be passed along to consumers.

"I think by and large, most of the industry will increase by four or five cents," said Roger Hemminghaus, chairman and chief executive officer of Diamond Shamrock, Inc., based in San Antonio. "Whether or not that will stick depends on competition."

Report raps ATF leadership in raid

WASHINGTON (AP) - The media came in for its own share of criticism Thursday as the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms was sharply reprimanded for its conduct during the raid on a Texas religious cult.

The Treasury Department's investigative report into the botched Feb. 28 raid acknowledged that some ATF field leaders gave reporters "false or misleading public statements about the raid."

While investigators rejected the oft-repeated claims by law enforcement that David Koresh and his followers were deliberately tipped by a reporter, they laid some of the blame at the media's feet. Four ATF agents and six cult members died in the initial gun battle at the Branch Davidian compound outside Waco.

The review detailed how Koresh was alerted to the impending attack when a television crewman, who had been tipped by an ambulance dispatcher, asked a postman for directions. The cameraman did not know that the postman was a cult member, the report said. An attorney for the television station confirmed the unintentional contact by the cameraman, but insisted that was not the definitive alert Koresh received about an impending raid.

Investigators also noted that several reporters were near the cultists' home in the hour or so before the early-morning raid.

"Media activity in the vicinity of the compound was not the immediate cause of the casualties suffered by ATF agents on Feb. 28," the investigators said. "These were inflicted by Koresh and his followers, and could have been avoided had ATF's raid commanders called off the operation once they recognized that they had lost the advantage of surprise."

"But the media's conduct posed a substantial danger not only to the security of ATF's operation but also to the lives of agents and civilians alike."

The Society of Professional Journalists, in a recent report on the media's coverage of the Waco standoff, there was no "concrete evidence" that Koresh was tipped off by a reporter.

Representatives of the two media organizations on site before the raid began also rejected the Treasury conclusion.

"The bottom line, as far as I'm concerned, is that the publication of our series and the presence of our staff members covering the raid Sunday morning did not affect what happened," said Bob Lott, editor of the Waco Tribune-Herald, which began an in-depth series on the cult the day before the raid.

During their unsuccessful attempts to get the newspaper to delay publication of the series, ATF officials had intimated a raid would occur but provided no timeframe.

The review concluded that "given the substance of ATF's arguments for delay, the Tribune-Herald's decision to go forward with the series is understandable."

KWTX had no prior knowledge of the raid or discussion with ATF, said station attorney Rick Bostwick, who suggested that improved communication by ATF might have helped. "If you choose stealth and non-communication, then there are fairly predictable consequences," he said.

"I think if the expectation is that the media will restrain itself then law enforcement has some duty to inform the media there is imminent danger or there is an event which could pose imminent danger," he added.

Nestled in the 220-page Treasury report is the following advice: "While it is not the purpose of this report to suggest what the media might do to minimize such dangers in the future, the media should further examine its conduct near Waco on Feb. 28."

Lott and Bostwick said their organizations have examined their conduct - and suggest they didn't find it lacking.

"As you can imagine since Feb. 28, we've carefully reviewed all of the actions that we took ... and based on the knowledge available to us prior to the raid, we are confident that we made responsible decisions and that we gave first priority to our function, which is to inform the public," Lott said.

"We bent over backwards to make responsible decisions with regard to the situation out there," he added.

But, said University of Southern California journalism professor Edwin O. Guthman: "The fact of the matter is had they not been out on the road, it's possible that Koresh would not have been tipped off." The Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist was one of three independent reviewers brought in to ensure the Treasury probe wasn't a whitewash.

While Treasury officials didn't touch on the media's conduct at an afternoon news conference where the review was released, Assistant Treasury Secretary Ronald K. Noble had some criticism earlier in the day.

"If we're to look at ourselves closely and honestly, I believe the media needs to look at themselves," Noble said as he briefed law enforcement personnel on a closed-circuit television network.

Noble, whose duties include oversight of ATF, said the KWTX cameraman also had a responsibility to insure the safety of the mission. "The media didn't take the necessary precautions to ensure the safety of this operation."

Noble wasn't alone in his criticism.

"It was not only ATF who was at fault," said Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., a vocal ATF defender. "It was the media, and this investigation points that out."

"Nobody can force the media to meet their responsibility, but I believe there are many responsible media that would not have done what was done here."

Former cult member picked up in Abilene; returned to custody

BIG SPRING, Texas (AP) - A former leader of the Branch Davidian cult was back in custody today, four days after he walked away from the Big Spring State Hospital.

Big Spring police said George Roden, 60, was located in Abilene after a search led by Texas Rangers. Roden left the hospital Monday morning.

Sgt. Scott Griffin said Roden was found last night, but other details of his capture were sketchy. Authorities said they believe Roden was headed to Abilene to meet with family and friends.

Roden was committed to a state mental hospital in Vernon after he was found innocent by reason of insanity in the 1989 murder of a 56-year-old in Odessa. He was transferred to the Big Spring facility about three months ago, Griffin said.

The Texas Rangers and federal officials were among those working to locate Roden, said Laureen Chernow, spokeswoman for the Department of Public Safety.

The Big Spring State Hospital, located about 100 yards from Interstate 20, is an unfenced, minimum-security facility, Griffin said. He said two to four patients walk away from the hospital a week.

"We do not have locked doors. We do not have fences. We are a state hospital ... We are not a prison at all," hospital spokeswoman Kathy Higgins said. "Certainly we watch (the patients), but they are not locked in."

Ms. Higgins would not confirm that Roden was a patient because of confidentiality rules.

But some who knew Roden as David Koresh's predecessor as leader of the Branch Davidians say he should be locked up.

"That's a dangerous, dangerous man," said Bonnie Haldeman, Koresh's mother. "I hope he doesn't know where I live."

Roden's mother had owned the 77 acres where the cult compound was built in Waco. Her will named Koresh as trustee of the property.

Koresh became president of the Branch Davidians in 1984 amid unsubstantiated allegations that he, at age 26, raped and impregnated Roden's 67-year-old mother.

A power struggle between Roden and Koresh led to violence, including a 1987 gun battle at the group's compound that led to attempted murder charges against Koresh and seven others. The seven others were acquitted, and a mistrial was declared in Koresh's case. Charges against him were later dismissed.

Federal agents raided the compound on Feb. 28, trying to arrest Koresh on weapons charges. Four agents and six cult members died in a shootout. After a 51-day standoff with federal agents, the wooden compound burned to the ground; Koresh and as many as 85 followers were killed in or shortly before the blaze.

Dick DeGuerin, who represented Koresh at the end of the siege, agreed that Roden should be considered threatening.

"George Roden is a very dangerous man. Katherine Mattson, a 77-year-old woman who was a Branch Davidian, bought two pistols for her own protection because she was afraid that George Roden was going to come back and kill people there," DeGuerin said.

U.S. Senate restores supercollider funding

WASHINGTON (AP) - Lawmakers scrambling through spending bills for the new federal budget year are opening government coffers to a Texas atom smasher and the former Soviet republics.

Just hours before today's start of fiscal year 1994, the Senate voted Thursday to give President Clinton all $640 million he requested for the year's work on the superconducting super collider. The multibillion-dollar research instrument is under construction outside Dallas.

Deficit-conscious opponents tried to kill the collider, but its defenders prevailed on a 57-42 roll call. Senators will now begin seeking compromise with members of the House, which voted to kill the program in June.

"I have every confidence the House will accede to the Senate wishes," said a hopeful Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, R-Texas.

In other actions Thursday:

-Clinton signed a stopgap spending measure that will keep the government functioning into the new fiscal year even though only three of the 13 normal appropriations bills have been enacted.

-The president also signed a $13 billion foreign aid bill containing $2.5 billion for Russia and other former Soviet republics. The Senate had given it final congressional approval, 87-11, just hours earlier.

-The House approved $71 billion for agriculture programs in a compromise that eliminates subsidy payments in 1994 for honey, wool and mohair. But in a last-minute change, lawmakers allowed payments to be made for wool and mohair produced in this calendar year, a concession that will cost $190 million. The Senate must act before the bill can go to Clinton.

-The House voted 325-102 for a $240 billion defense bill that buys everything from ballistic missiles to bullets for Boy Scouts. Along with its usual collection of weapons systems, the measure contained $2 million for a Spanish-American War-era program that dispenses ammunition and weapons to firearms competitions. An effort by liberals to kill the program failed, 242-190.

The money for the super collider was included in a measure financing the government's energy and water programs. The overall $22 billion bill was approved, 89-10. The House and Senate will now have to write a compromise version before sending it to the White House.

In the same bill, the Senate voted, 53-45, to preserve more than $30 million for work on the advanced liquid metal reactor. That contradicts an earlier House vote to kill it.

Supporters say the reactor, designed to burn plutonium, could be the long-sought answer to the problem of nuclear waste disposal.

All sides of Pantex issue talked

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - Energy officials got an earful when they asked for opinions about the Pantex nuclear weapons plant.

Panhandle residents swamped a public hearing Wednesday and Thursday to tell the federal government what to do with the facility where U.S. nuclear bombs are assembled and taken apart.

The speakers - each allowed five minutes - pleaded for Pantex to expand, to close or be kept as is, employing 3,000 workers.

A Department of Energy overhaul of the American nuclear weapons complex might move plutonium processing and storage to Pantex. That possibility evokes strong sentiment.

City leaders and businessmen hope that a boost to the Pantex workload would bring more jobs and stimulate the region's economy. Environmentalists argue that plutonium storage could jeopardize the land, air and water.

"The idea of turning Carson County, Texas, into a nuclear dump will forever remain unacceptable to the majority of Panhandle," said William Seewald of Amarillo.

"How can the proponents believe that Pantex is safe and that they can handle plutonium in a safe manner?" asked Danny Detten, a farmer and rancher who lives adjacent to the facility 17 miles northeast of Amarillo. "I cannot share in this blind trust."

But most of the speakers Wednesday encouraged the DOE to expand Pantex - with emphasis on safety.

"Let's get on with it. Let's be a part of a first-class endeavor," Amarillo resident Robert Bauman said.

Herd JV, sophs level Lobos

Hereford's junior varstiy and sophomore football teams started the weekend off right with wins over Levelland foes Thursday.

The JV, playing Levelland, whipped the Lobos 27-12, while the sophomores nipped the Levelland sophs 19-14 in Whiteface Stadium.

In Levelland, Armando Zambrano ran for three short touchdowns and Freddie Valdez added an 11-yard TD run. Two of Zambrano's scores came in the third quarter as Hereford pulled away from a 6-6 tie.

Martin Martinez kicked an extra point, and Wade Backus caught a pass from Todd Dudley for a two-point conversion.

"Our defensive secondary played great," coach Craig Yenzer said. "(Levelland) throws a lot. I was real proud of the way they covered and tackled. Josh Bullard had two interceptions. Those interceptions really helped turn the tide of the game in the second half. They set up two of the scores and we broke the game open.

"The offense played really well in the third and fourth quarters," Yenzer said. "The offensive line really did a good job of blocking, and Zambrano and Valdez did a fine job running and blocking for each other."

In Hereford, the Herd sophomores were led by three touchdown passes to Jeb Skiles from Wade McPherson. They connected on scores of 63 and 20 yards in the second quarter, but Levelland scored on a 63-yard run on the second-to-last play of the half, cutting Hereford's lead to 13-6 (Ralph Claudio had kicked an extra point for Hereford).

Hereford suffered from bad field position in the second half and at one point had to take a safety in the third quarter. After the free kick, Levelland drove down to the one-yard line, but Hereford made a successful four-play goalline stand.

Later though, Levelland scored on a hook-and-lateral pass play and led 14-13. Hereford took over with five minutes left and drove down to scored with a minute left on a six-yard pass to Skiles from McPherson.

Coach Chris Christopher praised the play of the defense, especially Raymond Estrada, Tracy Montano and Brian Betzen.

Hereford's freshman teams split a pair of games against Tascosa Red in Amarillo. Hereford's A team lost 26-6 as Tascosa scored 20 points in the fourth quarter. Stephen Cloud scored Hereford's only points on a six-yard run.

Hereford's B team won 6-0. Benny Rocha's 38-yard scoring run provided all the points the Hereford defense needed.

Herd netters, spikers host district foes

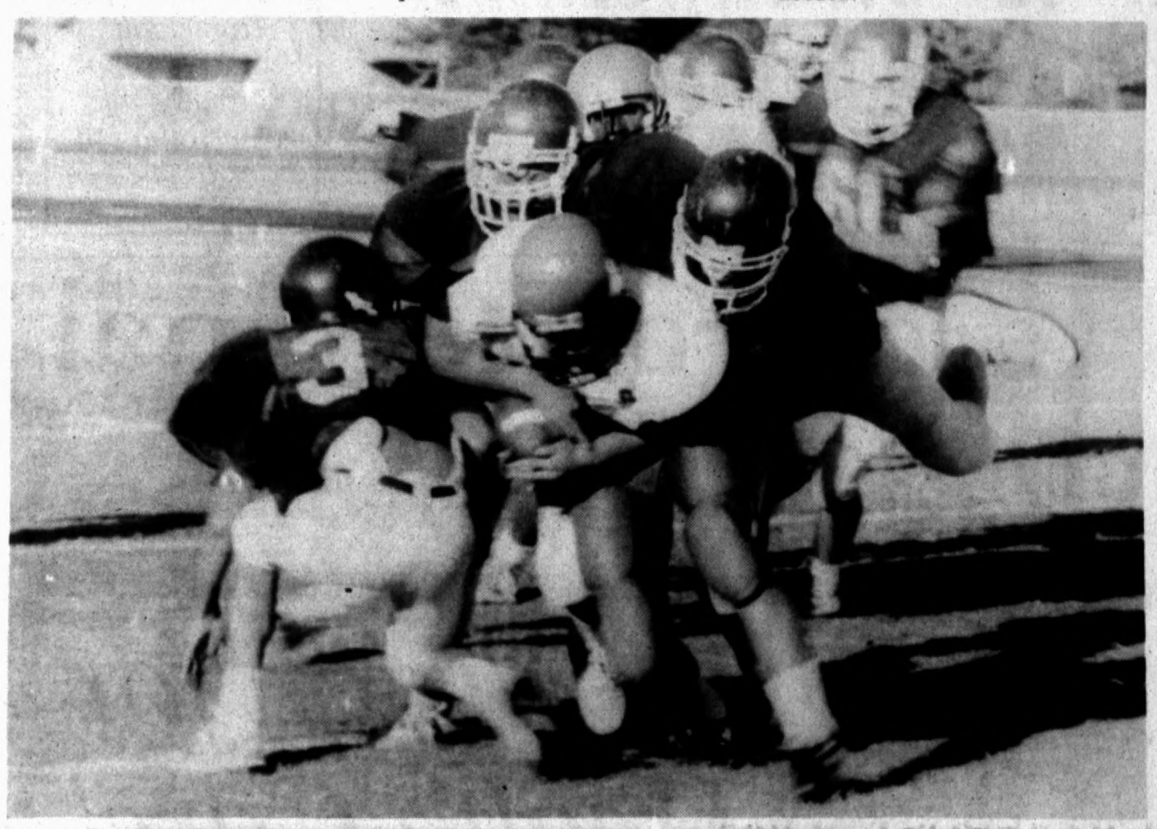

Hereford's tennis and volleyball teams both will host district foes Saturday.

The tennis team will take on Pampa, starting at 10 a.m. at Whiteface Courts, in a match that will likely decide which one gets a berth in the Region I-4A Tournament.

The volleyball team, 16-5 overall and 1-1 in District 1-4A, will host Caprock at 2 p.m. in Whiteface Gym.

Hereford's cross country team will run in a meet in Floydada, starting at 10 a.m.

Finally, the HHS golf teams will play fall matches Saturday. The boys will host a match at Pitman Municipal Golf Course and the girls will play at Plainview.

Gang tackle

Hereford sophomore defenders Jacob Moreno (3), Brian Betzen (middle) and Tracy Montano combine to bring down a Levelland running back. The Hereford team won 19-14 Thursday in Whiteface Stadium.

Booster to kick tonight

One lucky member of the Whiteface Booster Club will try a field goal for as much as $500 in Hereford Bucks before tonight's football game between the Herd and Levelland at 7:30 at Whiteface Stadium.

The kicker, who has been selected but as of noon today had not been contacted, has three chances at a prize:

--A field goal from the 40-yard line will win the kicker $500 in Hereford Bucks, provided by Western Ford.

--A field goal from the 20-yard line will win $100 in Hereford Bucks from Hereford State Bank.

--A field goal from the five-yard line will be worth a steak dinner for two at K-Bob's.

Other kickers, selected at random from the Whiteface Booster Club membership list, will get a chance to kick at the Herd's three remaining home games.

Pack's White expects battle

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Erik Williams is on his way to becoming the next dominant lineman in the NFL. This doesn't come from the Dallas Cowboys public relations department. It comes from Reggie White.

Williams, a second-year tackle out of Central (Ohio) State, takes on All-Pro White again Sunday when the Green Bay Packers come to Texas Stadium in a clash of 1-2 teams off to a stumbling start.

White, picked up as a free agent by the Packers, said Williams "impressed me. I think Williams and Willie Roaf of New Orleans are the two best young offensive linemen in the league."

Williams has a nasty streak that White admires.

"I really like to grind a guy up," said Williams. "I like to play the game aggressively. That's how I feel it should be played."

Williams grew up on the Philadelphia streets and alleys and White was his idol.

"He was such a great competitor that I really admired him," Williams said.

White returns the compliment.

"I may have underestimated him last year," White said. "He was very patient and took advantage of some of my mistakes. I can remember a long run by Emmitt Smith where I made the wrong move and Williams blocked me.

"He's tough and comes off the ball well. Oh yeah, I'd say he's nasty."

White said: "I played decent against him but not as good as I could have."

White and his defensive teammates face a challenge this week because Smith, the NFL's leading rusher for the last two seasons, returns as a full-time starter after landing the richest running back contract in history, $13.6 million for four seasons.

"If Emmitt breaks loose they win so we've got to stop him," White said. "We have some things we're going to do but I can't tell secrets."

Williams may have a hard time finding White. The Packers have been moving him from position to position to confuse blocking assignments.

"The Packers move White like we do Charles Haley so it cuts down on double team blocks," said Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson. "That makes it doubly difficult."

Aggies look to beat Tech in Lubbock

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

The Texas Aggies are looking for a way to win in Lubbock.

They found the formula in 1991, snapping a two-game losing streak to Texas Tech in Jones Stadium, and they'll be back for a repeat Saturday in their SWC opener following a 73-0 victory over Missouri weekend before last.

Giants tie NL West again

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

The schedule seems to favor the Atlanta Braves. The momentum might favor the San Francisco Giants.

Only one thing is for sure: With three days left, the Braves and Giants are tied for first place in the NL West with 101 victories.

The Giants again drew even Thursday night, winning 3-1 in Los Angeles after Atlanta lost 10-8 at home to Houston.

"We were watching the (Braves) game earlier and we have to thank the Astros for going down there and playing great baseball," Giants manager Dusty Baker said. "That's what you need, some help from your friends. And now anybody playing the Braves is our friend."

The Braves finish the regular season with three games at home against Colorado. Atlanta is 10-0 against the Rockies.

The Giants close with three games at Dodger Stadium. San Francisco is 4-6 against Los Angeles.

Billy Swift (21-8) pitched the Giants to their eighth victory in nine games. In Atlanta, John Smoltz (15-11) was hit hard as the Braves fell to 4-4 since taking a 3 1/2-game lead on Sept. 21.

Swift, tied with Atlanta's Tom Glavine for the league lead in victories, held the Dodgers to two hits and one run in seven innings. Rod Beck pitched 1 1-3 innings for his 46th save.

Tom Candiotti (8-10) pitched well, too, but two errors set up two unearned runs.

The game was scoreless in the fourth when shortstop Jose Offerman misplayed a grounder with two outs. Kirt Manwaring followed with an RBI single, and another run scored on the play when right fielder Cory Snyder's throw went into the third-base dugout.

Matt Williams tripled with one out in the eighth inning and scored on Willie McGee's infield single for a 3-1 lead.

Astros 10, Braves 8

Atlanta's three-run rally in the ninth inning fell short when Otis Nixon fouled out with runners on first and third to end the game.

The Braves lost two of three games to Houston. They had won 14 straight series since losing to Montreal on Aug. 6-8.

John Smoltz (15-11) was chased in the fifth inning. Xavier Hernandez (4-5) was the winner.

Trailing 10-5 in the ninth, the Braves tried to come back against Doug Jones. Terry Pendleton hit an RBI single with one out and Damon Berryhill followed with an RBI single.

Mark Lemke grounded into a forceout that scored one run and pinch-hitter Ryan Klesko singled. Nixon ran the count full before fouling out to third base.

Pirates 5, Phillies 0

Philadelphia was shut out for the first time in more than a year, stopping its modern NL record of scoring in 174 straight games.

Tim Wakefield pitched a four-hitter that sent the visiting Phillies to their first shutout since Pittsburgh's Doug Drabek beat them 3-0 on Sept. 19, 1992.

The previous NL record for games without a shutout was 150 by Pittsburgh in 1924-25. The major league record is 308 by the New York Yankees from August 1931 to August 1933.

Wakefield (6-11) closed the season with consecutive shutouts.

Tommy Greene (16-4) lost for the first time in 12 starts.

Mets 3, Cardinals 2

The Mets, who started the season with two wins at Shea Stadium, closed their home schedule with their third straight victory.

Eddie Murray hit his 441st career home run and Eric Hillman (2-9) scattered 10 hits.

New York went 28-53 at home, its worst record at Shea Stadium since having the same mark in 1979. The Mets are 56-103 overall, the poorest mark in the majors.

St. Louis rookie Allen Watson (6-7) lost his seventh consecutive decision. A crowd of 17,567 saw the Mets' shortest game of the year, just 1 hour, 54 minutes.

Expos 5, Marlins 3

Curtis Pride hit a two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning and Montreal won at Florida.

Pride, born with 95 percent hearing loss, connected off Rich Lewis (6-3) for his first major league homer.

Jeff Shaw (2-7) was the winner and John Wetteland got his 41st save, tying the Expos record set by Jeff Reardon in 1985.

Jays, Sox pull away from field

By The Associated Press

If you look at the standings now, it doesn't appear there were any pennant races in the American League this season.

Going into the final weekend, the Toronto Blue Jays have an eight-game lead in the East and the Chicago White Sox have a six-game lead in the West. Toronto's 6-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles on Thursday night was the Blue Jays' 16th victory in 18 games.

"I think you just try and stay sharp. That's the big thing," the Blue Jays' John Olerud said. "You just try and keep things going."

Al Leiter (9-6) allowed two runs and four hits in six innings to win his third straight start. He struck out four, walked three and has given up only two runs in his last 21 innings.

"I think all the guys in here, down to the coaches and myself, we love to win all the time," Toronto manager Cito Gaston said. "We don't like losing. Every day we go out here, our guys want to win. It's something we try to teach. Everybody's a winner here."

It was Toronto's ninth consecutive road victory, a club record. The Orioles have lost 11 of 14 and dropped into fourth place in the AL East.

"This is not the way you want to finish the season," Baltimore manager Johnny Oates said. "We've been playing some tough teams lately. When you put together the combination of playing good teams and us not playing well, it doesn't make for a good couple of weeks."

Rangers 6, Athletics 2

Juan Gonzalez hit his major league-leading 45th home run as he returned to the lineup after missing nine games because of a strained muscle in his lower back.

Kenny Rogers (16-10) pitched a six-hitter, struck out three and walked one at Arlington Stadium in his fifth complete game this season.

The results of the 14th Annual Lake Baylor Tournament add new meaning to the old saying that "even a blind hog can occasionally find a truffle."

After wisely teaming up with fishing expert Gary Carter of Pampa, I drove down to the lake and paid the entry fee. The competition was 41 anglers--and not just any anglers. Most of these guys are long-time residents of Childress County and grew up fishing Lake Baylor at every opportunity. As a group, they are courteous to outsiders but they rarely allow a visitor to win the club championship.

1993 was the rare exception. In other words, your friendly outdoor writer won their tournament. Using Gary as a good birddog, I boated three nice bass that together weighed 10 pounds, two ounces. Second place went to Childress anglers Kevin MacGuirt and Mike Hechathorn with five pounds, 12 ounces. Third place honors went to Danny Murdock and Danny Martin of Memphis with three pounds, 10 ounces. The best lure was a white spinnerbait.

Special request to Joe Kraai, the Texas Parks and Wildlife biologist)--Although you claim that you electro-shocking does not affect bass fishing, many tournament anglers would appreciate the courtesy of doing your shocking after major tournaments instead of the Thursday preceding those events.

Any anglers interested in joining the Childress Anglers and Sportsman's Club can contact Roy Rapavi at (817) 937-2102. Annual dues are only $55.

In this writer's opinion, the best thing that has happened to bass fishing at Lake Baylor and Lake Childress is Roy Rapavi. He watches over his lakes like they are his teenage daughters. Ounce for ounce and acre for acre, no other lake comes close to Lake Baylor for annually producing bass over eight pounds! Catch and release works; just look at the pictures at the concession stand on your next trip to Lake Baylor.

The next Big Bass Tournament at Lake Baylor will be Saturday. Entry forms are available at KGNC radio, Anchor Marine, Billy's Boat Ramp, Bob's Tackle Box in Wheeler or at Lake Baylor.

The entry fee is $60, and the payback, based on 100 entries, will be $2,000 for first place, $1,000 for second and $300 for third. The biggest bass each hour earns an additional $100. Tournament hours are 7 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Don't forget to bring some heavy line, because the eight-pound stuff just won't boat the lunkers that prowl the murky waters of Lake Baylor. For more tournament information, call me at 353-3654.

*

Hunting Note--Either this new group of Kansas doves is particularly spooky or my shooting is getting worse as the season progresses.

Mel Phillips is an avid hunter, tournament angler and host of a Wednesday evening outdoors show on KGNC TalkRadio 71. He is an active member of the Texas Outdoor Writers Association.

SWC

The Aggies were idle last Saturday.

"I think it will help them that they've always played us well out there. I heard Spike (Dykes) saying they won't be intimidated by us. We'll get their best shot, I know that," A&M coach R.C. Slocum said.

"Two years ago, we went into that situation and found a way to win. So we know it can be done."

The Red Raiders are reeling from consecutive losses to Nebraska, Georgia and Baylor. The loss to Baylor was especially galling because of the Bears' late rally for a 28-26 victory.

"Anytime you lose, it's hard. But when you lose a lead in the fourth quarter, it takes more out of you. I hope we can put Baylor behind us and concentrate on Texas A&M," Dykes said.

"They are a team that appears bullet-proof right now. We can't have any malfunctions, or play here and there a little bit."

In other SWC games, Baylor plays at winless Houston and Rice will try to beat the Texas Longhorns for the first time since 1965. In non-league games, Southern Methodist is at Missouri and Texas Christian plays at Oklahoma State.

Texas has dominated the long series with Rice with a 58-20-1 record. Rice last beat the Longhorns 20-17 in 1965 in Austin.

Texas is coming off a 41-10 loss to Louisville last week. The Owls upheld the SWC banner with a 49-21 victory over Iowa State.

TCU's Horned Frogs will be facing one of the top defenses in the country against Oklahoma State.

"They're very aggressive and they have team speed, and that's where defense starts," TCU coach Pat Sullivan said. "When you've got big guys who can run, you've got problems."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I feel compelled to write to you on behalf of all parents who suffer the painful task of constantly explaining to people who innocently, but thoughtlessly, ask, "What's wrong with your child?'

I have gone through this in malls, grocery stores, pet shops, church--almost everywhere.

Our daughter was misdiagnosed at age 2. The doctor said she had cerebral palsy. Months later, we learned, to our horror, that she did not have cerebral palsy but a malignant brain tumor. Our darling little girl died after her third birthday.

Throughout this painful ordeal, strangers would come up and ask, "Why does she have casts on her legs?" "Why is she bald?" "What's that big scar on the back of her head and neck?"

My heart broke for that precious child because she always heard people talking about her illness--never happy talk that any 2-year-old or 3-year-old child would like to hear. The questions we both faced every day made me sad and angry. I never wanted to be rude, so I would simply say, "She has a medical problem," and walk away as quickly as possible.

I am writing this letter because today I watched the mother of a small boy go through this same sort of questioning five times while trying to enjoy a snack with her son, who had a severe skin problem. Tears ran down my cheeks as I remembered my own similar experience. Please print this.--E.H., Gettysburg, Pa.

DEAR E.H.: Every now and then, a letter appears in this column that teaches my readers something and helps them become more civilized members of the human race. Yours is such a letter.

People have a tendency to be inquisitive. Sometimes, they thoughtlessly ask questions that are hurtful or embarrassing. The way you handled them was perfect.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 27, and my fiance is 42. We are planning a late fall wedding.

My fiance has never been married before. I have been married and divorced 13 times. Please don't ask me to explain this. It would take an entire column. Let's say that's just the way things turned out.

My fiance knows all about my previous marriages and divorces. I have no children. I don't want my fiance's family to know how many times I have been married. All we've told them so far is that I was married before. My biggest fear is that somehow the number might get mentioned at the wedding by someone who knows.

Ann, after all my previous attempts at marriage, I feel that I am finally ready to settle down with one man and live a normal life. I don't want my future ruined by my past. I need some sensible advice.--West Coast Reader

DEAR W.C. READER: As long as your fiance knows about your marital history, it is not necessary that anyone else be informed If the number does come up, simply say, "Yes, it's true, but all that is behind me now, and I'd rather not talk about it."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several years ago, you printed a letter from a dog groomer. Would you please run it again so your readers will understand that we groomers cannot perform miracles? Thanks, Ann. -- Tulsa Groomer

DEAR TULSA: There must be something about autumn that gets people thinking about their pets. I have had several requests to re-run the piece you asked for, and here it is-- with pleasure:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read the letter from "Any Town, USA," who sounded off about how women who work outside the home must still do all the work at home because hubby refuses to help out.

My mind went back to 1947 when I became engaged to a young man recently out of the Navy. One day, as we were planning our future, I mentioned that since I was going to continue my job, I expected him to help with the chores at home. He agreed and kept his word. He cooked, cleaned, washed dishes and did laundry right along with me for the 44 years we were married.

My husband died two years ago, but his legacy of helping with the housework lives on in our son, whose wife once said to me, "You sure raised Ed right. He is wonderful about helping me with the housework and the babies."

So, women, let your man know before you marry him what you expect and get him to agree to it. After all, as my husband said many years ago -- "it's only fair." Sign me -- Blessed in Texas

DEAR BLESSED: And so was he. Thanks for a day-brightener.

Winter tips for fall gardeners

Although fall is an ideal time to garden, many gardeners should take a few moments and prepare for the winter season.

Here are two tips to think about while "tooling" around the yard:

-Fall is an excellent time to test winter power equipment. Better safe than sorry once the snow sets in.

-Try not to use ice-melting pellets on sidewalks or driveways where the snow will eventually be shoveled or blown into the yard. The salt residue can damage the lawn.

NEW YORK (AP) - Madonna, like a virgin? Not likely, says a Catholic group, fuming over bus ads that picture the pop star alongside Madonna, the Virgin.

The ads for the music TV channel VH1 read: "The Difference Between You and Your Parents."

"They've crossed the line," said Bill Donohue, executive director of the Catholic League. "They put a religious symbol on public property and hold it up to disdain."

TDI, an ad agency, placed Madonna - and the Madonna - on city buses last month.

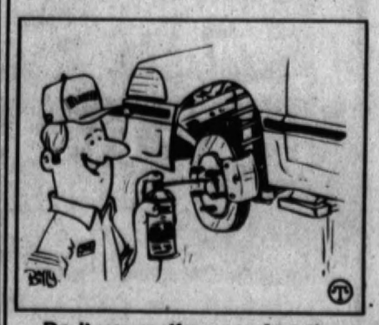

Tito Davila, a spokesman for the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, said the transit agency's hands are tied.

The ad "is neither illegal nor obscene. We're essentially talking about a question of taste. In that case, we get into a First Amendment issue," he said. Davila added that the ads are scheduled to come down next week anyway.

VH1 had no comment, spokesman Barry Kluger said.

The Newspaper BIBLE — A VOICE SAID, "DON'T BE AFRAID!"

One night the Lord spoke to Paul in a vision and told him, "Don't be afraid! Speak out! Don't quit! For I am with you and no one can harm you. Many people here in this city belong to me." So Paul stayed there the next year and a half, teaching the truths of God.

But when Gallio became governor of Achaia, the Jews rose in concerted action against Paul and brought him before the governor for judgment. They accused Paul of "persuading men to worship God in ways that are contrary to Roman law."

But just as Paul started to make his defense, Gallio turned to his accusers and said, "Listen, you Jews, if this were a case involving some crime, I would be obliged to listen to you, but since it is merely a bunch of questions of semantics and personalities and your silly Jewish laws, you take care of it. I'm not interested and I'm not touching it." And he drove them out of the courtroom.

Then the mob grabbed Sosthenes, the new leader of the synagogue, and beat him outside the courtroom! But Gallio couldn't have cared less.

Paul stayed in the city several days after that and then said good-bye to the Christians and sailed for the coast of Syria, taking Priscilla and Aquila with him. At Cenchreae, Paul had his head shaved according to Jewish custom, for he had taken a vow. Acts 18:9-18

News for women

About two out of every 100 women in the United States will develop cancer of the uterus during their lives.

Uterine cancer, which usually affects the endometrium or lining of the uterus is 90 percent curable when caught early. That is why it is important to know the warning signs of uterine cancer and to visit your doctor for a yearly gynecologic checkup.

Some women are at higher risk than others for cancer of the uterus. These include women who are between the ages of 60 and 75, women who are obese, those who did not ovulate regularly and often missed periods and women who have late menopause. Having had polycystic ovarian disease; endometrial hyperplasia; or cancer of the ovary, breast or colon also increases a woman's risk of uterine cancer. The disease also tends to run in families.

Studies have linked menopausal estrogen therapy to increased risk of cancer of the uterus. Today, however, doctors usually prescribe

The hormone progesterone along with estrogen because this combination has been shown to protect against uterine cancer. Birth control pills containing his hormone combination have the same protective effect.

The main symptoms of uterine cancer are abnormal bleeding and vaginal discharge. Any bleeding or spotting after menopause is abnormal (unless you are on combination hormone therapy), and is reason to consult your doctor.

To diagnose uterine cancer, doctors usually do an endometrial biopsy, a test in which tissue from the uterus is removed and examined in a lab or a hysteroscopy, a procedure in which the inside of the uterus is examined with a special telescope-like instrument. The doctor may also perform a dilation and curettage (D&C), a procedure in which the cervix is widened and tissue is gently scraped or sectioned from the lining of the uterus. The Pap test is not a reliable test for the diagnosis of uterine cancer.

The choice of treatment depends on the patient's age, general condition and the stage of the disease. Most patients have surgery--hysterectomy (removal of the uterus) and salpingo-oophorectomy (removal of the ovaries and fallopian tubes). Some cases may also require radiation therapy following surgery. If the cancer has spread, hormone or drug treatment may be used.

Uterine cancer is one of the most survivable cancers. About 75 percent of women are diagnosed with cancer in the earliest stages and most of these cases are curable. But early detection is the key to success with this disease.

Facts About The BIBLE

THE POWER OF THE JORDAN!

THE JORDAN IS THE MOST IMPORTANT RIVER IN PALESTINE AND, HISTORICALLY, OF GREAT IMPORTANCE IN THE RELIGIONS OF JUDAISM AND CHRISTIANITY. ITS LENGTH IS LISTED AS ONE HUNDRED AND FOUR MILES BUT, BECAUSE OF ITS TORTUOUS WINDINGS, THE RIVER TRAVERSES AT LEAST TWO HUNDRED MILES BEFORE ENDING UP IN THE DEAD SEA! IT ALSO STANDS ALONE, AMONG THE RIVERS OF THE WORLD, DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE GREATER PART OF ITS COURSE RUNS BELOW THE LEVEL OF THE OCEAN! AT ITS START, THE JORDAN IS ONE THOUSAND FEET ABOVE THE LEVEL OF THE MEDITERRANEAN, BUT BY THE TIME IT ENTERS THE DEAD SEA, IT IS ONE THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED AND NINETY FEET BELOW SEA LEVEL! THE BIBLICAL ASSOCIATIONS WITH THE RIVER ARE MANY. JACOB CROSSED IT (GEN. 32:10; 33:18) WHERE THE JORDAN AND THE MOUTH OF THE JABBOK RIVER MEET. THE ISRAELITES UNDER JOSHUA REQUIRED A MIRACLE TO CROSS THIS RIVER, IN THE VICINITY OF JERICHO, DUE TO THE FAST FLOWING CURRENT (JOSH. 3:1-17; 4:1-24). THE FLEEING MIDIANITES, PURSUED BY GIDEON, ALSO CROSSED BY THE FORDS ABOVE THE MOUTH OF THE JABBOK RIVER (JUDGES 7:24; 8:4,5) AND, OF COURSE, ELIJAH AND ELISHA HAD TO CROSS THE JORDAN BEFORE ELIJAH'S MOMENTOUS ASCENDANCY IN A CHARIOT OF FIRE! NAAMAN, THE SYRIAN, WASHED SEVEN TIMES IN ITS WATERS AT THE DIRECTION OF THE PROPHET AND, LATER, JOHN THE BAPTIST BAPTIZED JESUS CHRIST IN THE SAME HISTORICAL WATERS! (MATT. 3:13-15).
