STATE TO ACT ON $2,400,000 ROAD WORK BIDS

Lone Bandit Takes $300,000 Diamonds In Holdup Of Wholesale House

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The Buchanan Stationery company pays for an advertisement in the newspapers for the Junior chamber of commerce to absolve that organization from blame for ordering "Better Business" buttons out of town when they could have been ordered through a local concern, which in this instance happened to be the Buchanan Stationery company.

The advertisement was prompted by a statement in The Observer-house organ of the stationery company, implying that the Junior chamber of commerce was not setting a good example in observing its slogan "It's Right in Wichita Falls." The advertisement makes it plain that the order was placed with an out-of-town concern by the Junior chamber of commerce, not for itself but for another organization, and that the order was given on the condition that it be billed through a local concern. That lets the Junior chamber of commerce out, and so far as it goes, furnishes a good example for the rest of Wichita Falls.

But Talker is going to venture the observation that both the stationery company and the civic organization were at fault in this instance; the stationery company because it did not have such a likely customer as the Junior chamber of commerce fully informed that it handled such a line, and the Junior chamber of commerce because it failed to try to buy the order in Wichita Falls before sending out of town. Of course it is the particular duty of a chamber of commerce to try to buy all it can from home people and to know everything that can be bought locally.

There was some chortling and criticism of the Junior chamber of commerce over the incident under discussion. The Junior chamber of commerce ought to take this seriously only so far as to try to avoid any such mistakes in the future. There are always folks who will be gleeful when somebody who is trying to do something makes a mistake. They would be disappointed if no mistakes were made. The Junior chamber of commerce is made up of enthusiastic young men who are anxious to do something. Of course they will make some mistakes.

Buttons are not the only goods that are handled in Wichita Falls for which orders are sent out of town because the purchasers are not informed they can be bought here. One of the things this campaign for better business is doing is to reveal opportunities for buying as well as selling in Wichita Falls.

Maybe this movement will result in the adding of new lines that can be bought in Wichita Falls.

Talker is told that instead of extending its wholesale and jobbing trade Wichita Falls has been losing its prestige in the territory around this center because of the failure to do as good a job of selling as might be done. The report is that Amarillo and Oklahoma City and Dallas and Fort Worth houses are driving with great vigor for trade that ought to belong to Wichita Falls, and are making headway. It's a challenge to Wichita Falls wholesalers and jobbers and to Wichita Falls as a whole which must be met if there is to be continued progress in this community. A mere talker couldn't be expected to offer a solution for this problem but he can repeat some of the things he has heard.

The Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce sends a good sized delegation to Wichita Falls to repay a visit made by a similar delegation from Wichita Falls to Oklahoma City some months ago. Back of these exchanges of amenities is the purpose of cooperation in obtaining an improved highway connecting the two cities.

At a luncheon at which the Oklahoma visitors were guests Ed Overholser, president of the Oklahoma City Chamber of commerce, advanced a new slogan for the improvement of business. "Pay a Debt," he urged, so that credit can function for the operation of business. Credit does freeze when there is not enough paying heat to keep it liquid.

Mr. Overholser told something of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce. Perhaps, if pressed, Mr. Overholser might admit that the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce is the best organization of the kind in the United States. And perhaps some of its members might admit that Mr. Overholser is the best chamber of commerce president in the United States. That is covering a lot of territory but there are people who do not live in Oklahoma who say that about the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce and about Mr. Overholser.

"Socialism and Communism" Dr. J. W. Slaughter of Rice Institute tells the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, "will definitely make its appearance in this country within the next 12 months. This means, of course, disaster, but it is a natural consequence of the machine process under which we now have our being. Socialism and Communism are not imported from Moscow or Vienna. They grow in every

ROBBER SLUGS PRESIDENT OF JEWEL CONCERN

BATTLE IS NOISELESS

Youth Escapes With Unset Stones While Staff Works On

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14. (AP)—On pretense of shopping for a ring for his wife, a dapper young robber gained entrance to the office of Maurice Reingold, president of M. Reingold company diamond wholesalers today and looted the safe of rings and unset gems valued by company officials at $300,000.

Reingold, alone in his office, was slugged and bound. While he was unconscious, the robber walked through the other office in a downtown building and escaped.

Miss Dorothea Kirk and David Dautloff, secretaries, were in the outer office when the robber arrived. He told them he was "Mr. Harris" and wished to buy an expensive ring for his wife.

Once in Reingold's office the man protested the stones shown him "were not good enough" and persuaded the gem dealer to bring his finest wares from the safe. One stone was valued at $44,000.

After the gems were displayed, the robber threatened Reingold with a pistol and when the merchant resisted, clubbed him. Reingold was bound and gagged with adhesive tape and the diamond and emerald trays emptied.

Miss Kirk saw the man leave Reingold's office, pausing at the doorway to say "thank you Mr. Reingold. I think that stone will do. I'll bring my wife in to see it tomorrow."

Doutloff several minutes later found Reingold kicking the door.

SALESMAN REPORTS $80,000 ROBBERY

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Jack Salter, a jewelry salesman from New York, reported to police tonight that three men who invaded his hotel room robbed him of diamonds and other jewelry which he valued at $80,000.

Salter was taken to the office of Detective Chief John Norton for questioning.

Beauty Treatments Boost Girls' Chances In Quest for Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—That women seeking work may appear prettier, to help their morale and possibly their luck, the Young Womens Christian association in New York City has offered to give them free beauty treatments.

This is but one of the many responses which have reached the president's committee dealing with unemployment.

J. A. Kemp Reported Improving at Austin

Substantial improvement in the condition of J. A. Kemp, seriously ill in an Austin hospital, was reported in a dispatch to The Record News Friday night. Mr. Kemp was taken to the hospital a week ago when he was stricken with a recurrence of the illness from which he suffered several months ago. Mrs. Kemp is with him in Austin.

DO-X MOORS IN FRENCH WATER

Huge Flying Boat Takes Off For Bordeaux Today

LA ROCHELLE, France, Nov. 14. (US)—The flying boat DO-X, which moored here tonight after open-water tests between Les Sables D'Olonne and La Rochelle on its flight from Calshot, England, to Bordeaux, will take off for Bordeaux tomorrow morning.

According to Capt. Friedrich Christiansen, master of the giant Dornier plane, seaworthiness of the craft was tested after the DO-X alighted on the waters of the Bay of Biscay off Les Sables D'Olonne at 5 p. m.

After the DO-X alighted, the giant craft was taxied on the surface of the water, close to the coast, to La Rochelle, south of Les Sables, for mooring tonight. The take-off for Bordeaux, 100 miles to the south, will be made early tomorrow morning.

The DO-X moored offshore here at 9:40 p. m., 4:40 p. m., eastern standard time.

Physicians Hope For Premier's Life

TOKYO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Critically wounded early today by a supposedly demented or misguided patriot, Premier Hamaguchi tonight was thought to have a good chance for life if blood poisoning did not develop.

Physicians said a few hours would determine wether peritonitis would result from a bullet which pierced the abdomen and remained in the left thigh. Stoically bearing the pain of removal by surgeons of a small portion of pierced intestine, the premier who is 60 years old and bore the nation's fond title of "warrior for peace," made light of his injury and inquired solicitously concerning the welfare of a sick friend. During the day the premier received three blood transfusions.

Convict Labor Import Ruling Under Revision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—New regulations on imports will place the burden of proof that convict labor did not enter into their production upon the shipper.

The customs bureau is busy on the revision. The question of convict labor made goods was brought up when the treasury temporarily barred imports of lumber and pulp wood from Russia. This action several months ago was rescinded after hearings at which it was not conclusively shown the material had been produced by convict labor.

U. S. Drops Smuggling Charge Against Britons

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 14. (INS)—Acting on instructions from Washington, United States Attorney Henry M. Boss Jr., today dismissed liquor smuggling charges placed against the captain and eight members of the crew of the British motorboat Mazel-Tov, seized off the island of Marthas Vineyard on Nov. 1.

The federal attorney said that this action did not mean that the government was returning the boat or its cargo of $25,000 of liquor but instead was taking action in federal court to seek the forfeiture of the craft and its cargo.

Brazilian Air Mail Service Starts Nov. 27

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Air mail service from Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, to Santos, Brazil, inauguration of which was postponed because of the Brazilian revolution, will begin Nov. 27.

Assistant Postmaster General Glover said today the first northbound plane in this service will leave Santos on Dec. 1, three days after the first flight to Paramaribo.

Oklahoma City Also Pledges Help on Project At Luncheon Here

By H. I. KEIFER
The Record News Staff

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 14.—The Lawton Chamber of Commerce Friday night welcomed good will delegations from Oklahoma City and Wichita Falls, Texas, on tour to pledge support for the completion of the federal highway 277 between Lawton and the Burkburnett Red river bridge and to offer cooperation in all projects for the upbuilding of the section.

Approximately 50 civic leaders were gathered at a banquet served the visitors. Harry Stroud, Lawton Chamber of Commerce manager, presided, introducing W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls as the principal speaker on the occasion.

Mr. Hamilton promised the backing of Wichita Falls to the road project and to the move to obtain permanent construction at Fort Sill. He predicted the completion of a hard-surfaced road through the mid-West to Mexico City, stimulating international traffic.

Mr. Stroud, asserting that Southern Oklahoma now has the support of two members of the senate, proposed that Texas and the Oklahoma section combine in efforts to obtain appropriations for road work and Fort Sill construction at the next congress.

Members of the Wichita Falls delegation besides Mr. Hamilton were J. S. Bridwell, Pat Simmons, John Boswell, and Walter Nelson Jr.

"That portion of the highway between Lawton and the Burkburnett bridge," Mr. Hamilton declared, "is all that is needed to give Oklahoma City an all-weather road to Del Rio. In Texas, the entire route from the Red river to the Mexican border has been hard surfaced, or bonds have been issued and contracts let for hard surfacing.

"I am informed further that the Mexican government intends to build within the next two years a road which will give Del Rio connection with Mexico City.

"Lawton, furthermore, has a wonderful natural playground in the Wichita mountains, and when paving is laid, I predict that each week-end will see hundreds and thousands of North and West Texans taking advantage of them."

Fort Sill Improvements

Ed Overholser, president of the Oklahoma City chamber, advised that citizens of his own city and Lawton urge the next session of congress to make an appropriation for permanent buildings at Fort Sill "to hush this talk about moving it."

"We now have a senator (referring to Senator Thomas Gore) who will be amenable to the voices of Western Oklahoma, and we know the senior senator (Elmer Thomas) will stand hitched."

He declared in humorous vein that he hoped to see "Texas divided into five states" because the ordinary states can't compete with that derned empire."

L. Z. Brown, member of the Oklahoma City delegation, declared that development of dairying had raised the standard of living for farmers in Oklahoma who formerly devoted their lands more exclusively to cotton.

Texas Governor-Elect Taboos Official Trooping Throughout

ROSS GOES 'ALFALFA BILL' ONE BETTER

State to Lend Color and Prestige to This and That Affair

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Nov. 14.—The time-clock is to be the aptest symbol of Governor-elect Ross S. Sterling's two-year reign.

There will be no official trooping over the state. If anyone expects him to convert his office into "either a circus or a parade," Mr. Sterling has served notice such a view can now be revised.

Mr. Sterling has authorized the statement that he regards the governor's office as a business office, just like any other, and that he intends to stay at the capitol, run it as a business office, and concentrate his attention upon its serious affairs.

"There will be no speech-making at county fairs, no oratory at the opening of new buildings; the governor will not travel over Texas to welcome conventions or to take part in celebrations of any kind.

This was the gist of his declaration of the policy that will guide him when he takes office, Jan. 20.

Mr. Sterling's pronouncement was even more vigorous than that of Governor-elect Bill Murray of Oklahoma. Mr. Murray said he appointed the lieutenant governor as "chief applesauce dispenser." This gave sanction to official flub-dub and oratory. But the millionaire business man who will take the helm of Texas' government considers the job of running the state one identical with that of running big and successful enterprises. He didn't build up his business by cruising over the state on oratorical missions or holiday excursions, he pointed out. He doesn't believe the state's enormous official affairs

BUTLER'S WIFE TELLS ROMANCE

Triangle Disclosed In Murder Hearing

FLORESVILLE, Texas, Nov. 14. (UP—A childhood romance that refused to be blighted by separation in marriage was described in district court here today by Mrs. C. W. Butler, wife of the medical supervisor of the Texas penitentiary system, who is on trial for murder.

Dr. Butler is charged with the fatal shooting of R. W. Lorenz, near Stockdale, last February. The most prominent legal counsel in the state has been employed by both prosecution and defense and more than 400 witnesses have been summoned.

Testifying in her husband's behalf today, Mrs. Butler said she and Lorenz were childhood sweethearts, and that she was engaged to him until she went to normal school at Huntsville where she met Butler.

Letters Exchanged

She later married Butler when he was tax collector of Houston county. When her husband decided to go to medical school in Tennessee she completed his term of office, then joined him and kept boarders while Butler drove an ambulance to earn money for his education, she said.

While she was in Memphis, Tenn., she corresponded with Lorenz through a mutual friend, she said. She testified that she met Lorenz on a highway near Stockdale in

Clara's Secretary Admits $35,000 Theft From Star

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14. (AP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts said tonight Miss Daisy Devoe, until a few days ago private secretary to Clara Bow, screen actress, had made a 30-page confession "of the theft of $35,000 of Miss Bow's money and property."

With this information Fitts said "this office has no other alternative under the law than to place the matter before the grand jury." He said Miss Devoe will be summoned for questioning by grand jury next Tuesday.

Fliers Die When Ship Crashes in Heavy Fog

FALLBROOK, Calif., Nov. 14. (US)—Apparently having crashed because of a heavy fog, the wreck of a navy plane and the bodies of Lieut. B. Hollingsworth and Aviation Machinist Third Class Albert O. Pierson was found near here today.

Another airplane from the air base at San Diego crashed in the same fog. Lieut. R. L. Fuller, the pilot, and his mechanic escaped unhurt.

Hollingsworth resided at Coronado, Calif. He was appointed to the Naval academy from Oregon. Pierson was from Oakland, Ill.

Wire-Walking 'Stunt' Fatal to Oklahoma Boy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 14. (AP)—Contact with a high voltage wire and a subsequent fall to the pavement brought death today to 13-year-old Fay Gober.

Attempting a "stunt," Gober last night climbed to the top of a pole which supported high voltage wires. His intention was to walk from one pole to another on a tight guy wire, 40 feet above the street. He had gone but a few feet when he lost balance and apparently touched the high voltage wire, falling to the pavement.

Peasant Revolt Against Communists Reported

LONDON, Nov. 14. (US)—a bitter revolt against the Communist regime is being waged by Russian peasants close to the Latvian frontier, according to Riga dispatches today.

Much blood has already been shed in pitched battles, two rebel villages have been completely destroyed, and Communist troops are being rushed to the trouble area, the reports add. Peasants captured with arms are executed by firing squads.

BAPTISTS VOTE FUND AGENCY

Convention Reconsiders Foundation Plan

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 14. (AP)—Back tracking some of the ground it had previously covered, the Baptist general convention of Texas today reconsidered its previous decision to postpone action on the proposal to establish a foundation to handle funds for its institutions, and decided to create the agency as recommended by a committee appointed at the Beaumont meeting last year.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, president of the convention, said the adoption of the foundation plan was the greatest work of the session and described the action as a most constructive step towards orderly financing of the schools and benevolent institutions.

The matter was resurrected, after it had been decided to let it rest a year while the policies involved could be more closely studied, when Dr. W. R. White of Dallas, executive secretary, said the convention had never won the confidence of its wealthier members because of lack of proper business organization.

The plan had been worked out by two of the church's most active lay members, Carr P. Collins of Dallas and H. L. Kokernot of San Antonio. Dr. Scarborough, Dr. George W. Truett and Dr. S. P. Brooks, denominational leaders, recommended the proposal as a practical solution of many financial problems of the convention.

Knox County Man Shot To Death

BENJAMIN, Texas, Nov. 14. (AP)—Tobe Stark, 26, of Benjamin, was held tonight in the Knox county jail charged with murder, after the fatal shooting today of Lee Goodrich, 21, gin worker.

Goodrich was slain as he was driving in his automobile along a street here, en route to work. A preliminary hearing for Stark was set for Saturday.

Goodrich was struck by a charge of buckshot in the neck and breast as he drove past the mercantile establishment where Stark and his wife work.

Stark made no statement.

Duncan Man Found Dead From Bullet Wound

W. C. T. U. OPENS NATIONAL MEET

Hoover's Message Cheers Temperance Leaders

HOUSTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Cheered on by a message from President Hoover, the Woman's Christian Temperance union opened its 56th anual national convention here today with an hour of prayer, song and "testimony."

Mr. Hoover's telegram, addressed to Mrs. Elia A. Boole of Brooklyn, the W. C. T. U. president, evoked cheering and applause and it was decided to base an answer to it on a resolution by Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson of North Dakota, pledging support of the administration in its attempts at greater law enforcement, world peace, child welfare and relief of the unemployment situation.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith of Des Moines, Iowa, the vice president, officially opened the first general session, Mrs. Boole having been busy for the moment with a radio broadcast.

"It is not by might nor power, but My spirit, saith the Lord," she said in beginning the program. Therefore, she added, it was fitting that the second word—"Christian"—in the name of the organization be emphasized. She supplicated an humbleness of spirit, saying "in ourselves we could do nothing."

Mrs. Florence Atkins of Georgia led the devotionals and one after another of the delegates got up to "testify" with scripture.

Mrs. Atkinson ended the testifying, saying she was "sorry but we have to close this part of the program."

"I want to say," she added, "that sometimes we feel a little awed, but the liquor forces cannot combat a faith like ours. They know nothing of the force we know."

Then, the Hoover wire was read. Mrs. Boole then "dedicated" a child brought on the stage.

Mrs. Claude de Van Watts of Austin, the state president, made an address welcoming the delegates—estimated unofficially at around 500—and said Texas was one of the "greatest producers of dry officials." It was the home, she pointed out, of Morris Sheppard, "father of the 18th amendment;" Governor Dan Moody, a "fighting redheaded dry," and R. S. Sterling, the governor-elect, who was "the driest of the dry."

Vernon Police Chief In Alvord Crash

Special to The Record News.

ALVORD, Texas, Nov. 14.—Mrs. J. D. Key, wife of the chief of police at Vernon, was injured Friday when the car in which she was driving with Chief Key met another machine on a one-way bridge north of Alvord. Key and the driver of the other car escaped injury. Both automobiles were wrecked.

Mrs. Key suffered severe bruises and a cut on the head. She was given emergency treatment at Alvord, before taking a bus on into Vernon.

Witnesses said the other car involved in the crash carried a trailer which was overturned in the collision.

IMPROVEMENT OF 269 MILES TO BE ORDERED

Local Labor Specified To Keep Workers In Jobs

WEST TEXAS AIDED

Contract Awards Due On November 29 And December 1

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (AP)—Bids will be accepted by the state highway department Nov. 29 and Dec. 1 on 29 projects, the estimated cost of which is $2,400,000, according to a tentative schedule announced today by Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer. Contracts for the work will specify the use of local labor wherever possible as a means of relieving the unemployment, Gilchrist said.

The schedule calls for the improvement of 267 miles of highways. Most of the projects are grading and the construction of drainage structures. All the work is of such a character that it can be carried out during winter weather and requires a large amount of manual labor, Gilchrist said.

Projects Listed

Of the total mileage to be placed under contract, 40.6 will be surface treated or paved.

Among the projects is a concrete trestle over the Clear Fork of the Brazos on highway 83 in Fisher county. Projects in Northwest Texas scheduled for award were:

Hall county 5.6 miles grading and drainage from Motley county line to Turkey on highway 19. Jack county, 11 miles grading and drainage on highway 34 from Wise county line to highway 25.

Lubbock county, 17.7 miles grading and drainage on highway 7 from Lubbock to Hockley county line.

Wheeler county, 15 miles grading and drainage on highway 71 from El Campo to the Colorado county line.

Wise County

Wise county .8 miles grading and drainage on highway 2 near Rhome.

Wise county, 4.2 miles grading and drainage on highway 114 from Denton county line to Rhome.

Runnels and Coleman counties, 14.7 miles grading and drainage on highway 23 from Ballinger to Talpa.

Throckmorton county 14.5 miles triple asphalt surface treatment on highway 79 from Throckmorton to Young county line.

DISPATCHES CREATE "FALSE IMPRESSION"

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (AP)—Gib Gilchrist, state highway engineer, in a statement today declared that press dispatches from Washington "giving the impression" that an additional $10,000,000 had been made available for highway construction in Texas was entirely misleading and incorrect."

What had happened, the statement said, was that the bureau of public roads had apportioned to the states for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, and these funds may be used only after the amounts appropriated for the fiscal year are placed under contract.

Gilchrist pointed out that last April the state started speeding up its highway work, as an unemployment aid, and that with only five months of the present fiscal year gone, only $1,389,816 of the $7,620,239 appropriated to Texas for the 1931 fiscal year remained.

"We are putting federal aid to work fast as possible," Gilchrist said, "and while this action makes our program more elastic, it will have no apparent effect on our activities, remembering that the speeding up started several months ago."

STERLING BARS BALLYHOO PLAY

Governor-Elect Taboos Public Speaking

can be administered in that way, and he doesn't expect to start such a system.

This is the second of the vigorous "noes" that have come from the governor-elect. The first was the notice that "no" will be the answer to anybody who tries to apply political pressure to get a job. The second negation is for those who expect to use the governor as trimmings, decoration or show-piece for celebrations, festivals, fairs, gatherings, political or otherwise.

That is the negative side of the picture as to official trooping over Texas.

The other side is that of exalting the prosaic grind of daily labor, the orderly, consistent, close application of the chief executive to the business of running the states.

Though Mr. Sterling made no comment upon this aspect, it is known that effect of the governor's example radiates out through the agencies of the state like waves from the bow of a moving ship.

If it works out like Mr. Sterling has in mind now, his administration in future years likely will be looked back upon as the "grindstone era."

The plan of concentration, intense hard work such as that of which the business man governor-to-be has a life-long record, is expected to start the new administration out with tight-buckled morale. And if a general guess may be risked before he completes the job of picking his main helpers, the record of the individuals for hard work, and time-clock consistency "on the job" will be a dominating factor in their selection.

Pomp, pageantry, gold braid and red tape are going to mean little to the brusque, ruddy-faced man who roughed it in the oil fields; whose country friends still remember his skill of tossing a bale of hay and a sack of corn chops into the farm wagon at a single two-handed gesture.

Doctor's Wife Tells of Affair

1928. Her two children were with her. Lorenz asked her to accompany him to San Antonio, she said, and she censured him for talking that way before the children. He said "it doesn't make any difference about the children. We can get rid of them," Mrs. Butler testified.

After that, Mrs. Butler said she refused to go back to her parents' ranch near Stockdale because of Lorenz. She said her husband asked her repeatedly if she wasn't worried about her parents. Her father became ill last February and she returned, she said. Her mother arranged for Lorenz to meet Dr. Butler there.

Rivals Meet

The doctor went out to the car when Lorenz drove up, she said. The two had never met but greeted each other cordially and shook hands, Mrs. Butler said. A few minutes later shots were fired and Lorenz was dead.

Defense counsel is headed by Maury Hughes, famous criminal lawyer of Dallas. Wick Blanton, noted San Antonio criminal lawyer, has been employed as a special prosecutor. Hundreds of witnesses have been summoned, most of them from East Texas. They were to testify to the character of Dr. Butler. Fifty from the town of Palestine alone have been subponaed.

The state rested its case yesterday after using two witnesses, the widow of the slain man and D. J. Acosta, deputy sheriff who arrested Dr. Butler.

Burkburnett P.-T. A. Holds Monthly Meeting

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Nov. 14.—The high school P.-T. A. held its regular monthly meeting in the high school here Thursday evening with 75 parents and teachers present. In the absence of Rev. C. G. Clark, president, Miss Isobel Johnson, vice president, presided over the meeting.

Report from the membership committee showed that there were 90 paid members, a gain of 20 over last month.

Mrs. Brooks, representative for the grade school P.-T. A., was voted to represent the high school group at the convention at San Angelo, Texas.

The following program was given: Song by trio from the high school choral club, composed of Misses Marcela Martin, Ruth Willis and Raymay Jean High; talks by students from the public speaking class, Erwin Daniels, Ima Joe Bryant and Durward Killgo; song by Othor Wheeler, member of the glee club.

Hoover's Boyhood Rival Faces State Charges

WEST BRANCH, Iowa, Nov. 14. (AP)—State agents have confiscated a slot machine in the lunch room of Newt Butler, who once "licked" President Hoover when they were boys here.

It is alleged that the use of the chips for trade was permitted, contrary to the Iowa statute. Officials plan to present the evidence to the grand jury.

The president and Butler indulged in reminiscences of their childhood when the former came to West Branch during his campaign in 1928. It was then that they recalled a scrap in which Butler was the victor.

THREE CLASS FARE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 14. (UP)—A three-class fare system on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern between Chicago, the twin cities and the Pacific coast was announced today by officials of the railroads. The fares will go into effect Jan. 1.

250 ATTEND ROAD MEETING

Oklahomans Pledge Aid On Paving Project

City, spoke in favor of construction of the Lawton-Burk road.

Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., of Wichita Falls expressed his city's desire to cooperate with Oklahoma as he and Mr. Overholser engaged in a lively exchange of good natured personalities.

R. H. Babbitt, president of the Lawton chamber, declared that Oklahoma and Texas are "all one big family," and asserted that the "interests of all are similar," in advising and pledging cooperation.

OKLAHOMANS PLEDGE HIGHWAY SUPPORT

A pledge of cooperation on the project to pave the strip between Lawton and the free bridge across Red river on U. S. highway No. 277 to make complete a hard-surface route from Tulsa and Oklahoma City to Wichita Falls and to further any enterprise to benefit Oklahoma, Texas and the Southwest was received Friday noon when delegations from Oklahoma City, Lawton and other communities in the surrounding territory were guests at possibly the largest business council meeting ever held here. More than 250 attended.

Important Route

Ed Overholser, president of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, who presided at the meeting Friday summed up the importance of the highway as follows: "The hard surface road for a tie-up of our two cities when completed will be of great advantage to both communities. I hope to eventually see the road so well traveled by citizens of both communities that neither will be sure of the city we live in."

C. H. Russell declared that better highways and better airways for the Southwest were two of the most important projects to be undertaken. "I would like to see a real highway from the highly productive irrigated districts of North Texas through Oklahoma and Oklahoma City to the larger areas of consumption in the North and East," he said.

"Trucks are bringing fresh vegetables here now from the Rio Grande valley and if that can be done, it is no less possible for the same products to be shipped by truck from the Wichita Falls area through Oklahoma City and to eastern markets."

Mr. Overholser, leader of the Oklahoma delegation, introduced members of his party, and made the opening address, stating that wholehearted cooperation would be given Texas in any enterprise that would benefit both states and the Southwest.

In describing the ailments of present adverse business conditions, Mr. Overholser attributed "mind-betting" with being the cause of lax prosperity. He illustrated his point with a story of an Oklahoma City reporter who was addicted to faro.

"He never actually played the game," the speaker said, "but every night for several hours he would join the crowd and make 'mind bets.' In his mind he would win or lose large sums of money on the game."

The populace of the United States, Mr. Overholser said, had been doing just such "mind betting" prior to the stock crash last year. The people read reports of the stock market and noticed where huge fortunes were being made and in their own mind they began to play.

"Although they didn't have a dollar on margin, people began to think in huge sums and increased their spending proportionately, incurring obligations that could not be afforded," he said. "When the crash came, people that didn't lose a cent on the market took the attitude that they were ruined."

Quit Four-Flushing

"To bring back prosperity, we must quit four-flushing and get down to being what we are," he said, stating that by doing this and giving a blood transfusion to one of the most important arteries in business, credit, by paying off honest debts by the middle of spring depression will have disappeared. "If you don't do it," he said, "you are not worthy to have as ancestors those who starved and died to build our country. You will not be entitled to be called Texans. There is nothing the matter except that we have 'mind bet' another man's game."

Following the address by Mr. Overholser, he introduced other members of the party who spoke. Moss Patterson of the Oklahoma Transportation company made a brief report on road progress in Oklahoma, stating that 1,877 miles of cement and hard surface roads were in Oklahoma and that 365 miles more would be added this year.

A. D. McMullen, president of the Oklahoma City Retail Merchants association, urged that debt-paying form a part of reconstruction of business conditions.

L. J. Brown of the Oklahoma National Bank of Oklahoma City, talked briefly on pure bred dairy cattle raising in his state, declaring that dairy extension work had been done in practically every county of Oklahoma and that every community had made progress in increasing the value of its dairy herds. He announced that a pure bred cattle sale would be held in Oklahoma City Nov. 24 and 25, and extended an invitation to cattle men of this territory to attend.

The Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce operates its own dining room at a profit, Ed Overholser said, declaring that such was a great advantage. He said that the average attendance for Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce luncheons was more than 400. An invitation to Wichita Falls to visit Oklahoma City and the chamber of commerce there at any time was extended.

Air Service Starts

J. S. Bridwell, president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, briefly announced the opening of the new air passenger service between Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Wichita Falls by the Braniff Airways. He urged that support be given the new concern, which is operating here for the time being for a 60-day test period and pointed out the advantages of travel which may be had by the air service now maintained here by the new Braniff lines and the Western Air Express.

Mr. Bridwell also extended an invitation to the Lawton delegation here to again visit Wichita Falls.

A telegram from A. R. Losh, Oklahoma state highway engineer, was read in which regrets for being unable to attend were sent.

John Boswell announced that in honor of Paul R. Braniff and the new air service here, that the chamber of commerce aviation committee was preparing for a public welcome and aerial demonstration to be held at the Municipal airport Sunday afternoon.

With the opening of the luncheon, visitors were welcomed by J. S. Bridwell, who also introduced Ed Overholser, the leader of the Oklahoma City delegation. Mr. Bridwell described Mr. Overholser as the best chamber of commerce president in the United States and the Oklahoma City organization as the strongest in the country.

Before the Oklahoma party took over the meeting, one matter of regular business was attended by the business council. Paul G. Putty appointed a nominating committee who nominated a second nominating committee to select 20 names out of which five new directors are to be elected in January. The nominating committee is composed of Dr. Everett Jones, R. E. Huff, T. H. Lawson, A. C. Moline, L. H. Estes, Jean Montgomery and Lester Jones.

Mr. Bridwell headed a large reception committee during the morning which met the Oklahomans at the Burkburnett bridge on the Texas side of Red river and escorted the party to Wichita Falls.

During the meeting which followed, Mr. Bridwell pledged the moral support of Wichita Falls to the continuance of the pavement from Lawton to the state line. Although the cost of the road must be borne by Oklahoma with federal aid, he said, the completion of the highway would be of inestimable value to Texas and Wichita Falls and the trade area surrounding.

"Oklahoma City and Wichita Falls have much in common," he said. "Neither can prosper nor suffer without reacting similarly upon the other."

He left at 4 o'clock in company with J. S. Bridwell, president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce; W. B. Hamilton, chairman of the highway committee here; John Boswell, chamber of commerce manager, and Pat Simmons, and on the way stopped at various communities between the Burkburnett bridge and Lawton to confer with local authorities to obtain views toward furthering the pavement plans.

During the afternoon before starting to Lawton, most of the Oklahoma party visited friends in Wichita Falls and a number drove over the city. C. A. Rogers was in charge of transportation for the visitors.

Oklahoma Visitors

Members of the Oklahoma City delegation were James Barron, Henry L. Doherty company; E. J. Bergstresser, Wilson & Co.; L. Z. Brown, Oklahoma National bank; Cecil W. Bus Schedules To Chickasha Changed

Changes in schedules of bus service operated between Chickasha, Okla., and Wichita Falls by the Oklahoma Transportation company and approved by the railroad commission of Texas Friday, according to dispatches from Austin, will postpone departure of northbound buses from this city and bring a late afternoon bus to Wichita Falls 15 minutes earlier than formerly.

According to officials at the local but union station, the bus formerly leaving this city at 9:30 a. m. for Chickasha will leave Saturday morning, Nov. 15, and thereafter daily at 9:45 a. m. The afternoon northbound bus which has up to date departed at 4:15 o'clock will leave at 5:15 p. m. daily on and after Nov. 15.

Two southbound buses come from Chickasha daily into Wichita Falls, but only one is changed by the new schedule. The bus formerly arriving at 7:30 p. m. will hereafter reach this city at 7:15 p. m., it was announced. The other bus from Chickasha arrives at 1 p. m.

Lowry Rites Held In American Embassy

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14. (US)—Funeral services according to the ritual of the Catholic church were held today in the American embassy for Edward P. Lowry, soldier of fortune and late second secretary.

Mexican laws, which prohibit the saying of mass over the dead within a church, made it necessary to convert the huge reception room of the embassy into a temporary funeral chapel. Here the Catholic ritual could be followed under the protection of the principle of extra-territoriality.

Farmyard Aristocracy On Exhibition Today

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 14. (UP)—Blooded aristocracy of the farmyard will go on exhibit here tomorrow with opening of the 1930 American Royal Livestock and Horse show.

Blue-blooded cattle, curried and re-ribboned, will be led before admiring throngs while judges take their measurements, consider their breeding and award the blue, red and white ribbons. Pigs, chickens, rabbits, sheep—all of the farmyard fowls and animals—have been entered for display.

Havana Quiet Under Martial Law Regime

HAVANA, Nov. 14. (US)—Peace had returned to Havana's streets tonight. A city-wide patrol by cavalry and infantry detachments, a strict censorship and a suspension from publication of three of the capital's most important newspapers were the only vestiges of the fact that martial law prevails in the city and its immediate environs.

Guards Maintain Quiet In Peruvian Cities

LIMA, Nov. 14. (US)—Although authorities reported conditions normal in the Cerro de Pasco copper region today, a strict censorship still prevails and the evacuation of foreign Nationals is continuing.

A projected general strike has been suppressed, according to advices received here, and military squadrons are patrolling the principal cities in the region.

300 Hear Scottish Rite Choir In Pleasing Concert at Junior College

By LOIS ANGLIN
The Record News Staff

More than 300 persons assembled at the Junior college auditorium Friday night expressed by rapt attention and by ample lobby comment complete approval of the Scottish Rite choir's rendition of a well chosen program, and acknowledged the material improvement attained by the organization in recent months in the art of ensemble singing.

Embellishing its preparation of a popular program by inclusion of two groups of dances, and the introduction of a suite of light numbers, the choir nevertheless built the main body of its concert of musical performances worthy of the standards to which it aspires. Opening the evening's musicale with Arkhangelsky's "Dusk of Night," Dr. Parnell's singers delivered as their first offering the most finished and comprehensive interpretation of the entire program. Attacks and stops were smoothly accomplished, while the typical Russian moods of the composition were effectively reproduced in skillful shading.

Aside from the first number, the closing "Long Day Closes" by Arthur Sullivan, the delightful Spanish "La Golondrina," and Adams' "Bells of St. Mary's" brought out unusually well the organ-like body of tone of which the choir is capable. There is a depth in the bass section, and a more complete voicing in the three higher parts which combine more effectively than those comprising the choir in public appearances earlier in its experience.

From the standpoint of giving the audience fullest satisfaction from the choir's singing, those who heard its pleasing concert Friday night were inclined to wish for more freedom in the singers from the music. Too close devotion to the printed score, with the attendant frequent rapid turning of 40 pages, was an obvious handicap to the audience as well as to the best coordination with the director.

Mrs. Nelle Lowrey, lyric soprano, contributed one of the most pleasing numbers of the evening with an excellent presentation of "Mimi" from Puccini's ever-popular "La Boheme." Incidental solos on choral numbers were sung by Miss Minnie T. Baker, contralto, in Rubinstein's "Seraphic Song," and by Luther Thurman, tenor, on the favored spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Complementing Miss Baker's rich contralto on the Rubinstein classic was a delightful obbligato delivered by William L. Donnell, violinist.

Between choral groups on the latter part of the program, tap dance specialties were given by Miss Faith Galmiche, solo dancer, and Misses Virginia Hampson and Helen Peters appearing as a duo.

Encores were given in response to prolonged applause to the solo of Mrs. Lowrey, and to both the dance numbers.

Miss Elizabeth Cole and Mrs. C. H. Steck were accompanists.

Grapevine Farmer Ordered to Take Down Fences Blocking Highway

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP)—Carl Yates, farmer, who built two fences across the new state highway No. 121 near Grapevine last week in protest against the amount of damages for right of way he obtained from Tarrant county, was enjoined by Judge Frank P. Culver of 17th district court today from further obstructing the highway or from making threats against state representatives.

Deputy Sheriff Minor Moore left immediately for Grapevine to serve Yates with a copy of the injunction writ.

The application for injunction alleged Yates had threatened to kill any one who entered the highway and that the defendant is threatening again to obstruct traffic on the highway, such obstruction being termed a "flagrant violation of the rights of the plaintiff and the traveling public."

Yates erected the two fences on Nov. 6 across the road where it divided his farm. He stood guard over the obstruction with a shotgun through the day and took down the fences at night because, he said, he did not have danger signals to warn motorists. A complaint charging Yates with obstructing a public highway was filed in county court last night and Yates made bond of $500 on the charge.

BIGGER AND BETTER

PRESENTING
THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

CHEVROLET

Today the Chevrolet Motor Company presents the Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six, a new model of the six-cylinder car which has enjoyed such wide popularity.

In both the chassis and body of this new six-cylinder Chevrolet you will find expressed, as never before, Chevrolet's well-known policy of progress through constant improvement.

For—without departing from the basic features which have won the enthusiastic approval of over 2,000,000 buyers—Chevrolet has produced a six-cylinder car which represents an entirely new standard of quality, value and refinement in the low-price field.

Your first impression of the new Chevrolet will be one of striking fleetness, grace and beauty. The car is longer, lower and modernly smart. The radiator has been deepened and its appearance enhanced by a curving tie-bar and chrome-plated parabolic headlamps. The long hood lines sweep back unbroken to blend gracefully into the new Fisher bodies. And never was Fisher's fine craftsmanship more evident than in the bodies of the new Chevrolet Six!

Not only are the smart, graceful, new bodies roomier and more comfortable, but as you study them you will discover many gratifying new features and pleasing refinements—many examples of that painstaking attention to detail which is the basis of true quality.

Mechanically, too, the new Chevrolet Six is a better automobile. The wheelbase is longer. The frame is stronger. The steering is easier. The clutch is more durable. There is a smoother, quieter, easier shifting transmission. In fact, wherever finer materials and more advanced design could add to Chevrolet quality or increase Chevrolet's traditional economy of ownership—improvement has been made. See the new Chevrolet Six—and you will agree that here is the Great American Value!

» » AT NEW LOW PRICES « «

Chevrolet has long been one of the lowest priced cars in the world. Yet due to the savings of volume production and increased manufacturing efficiency, the Bigger and Better Chevrolet is offered at new low prices. Come in today. See and drive the new Chevrolet Six. RECIPES

Italian Eggs

One tablespoonful minced onion.
Two tablespoonfuls melted butter.
One tablespoonful minced parsley.
Four eggs.
Two cupfuls tomato sauce.
One-half cupful diced soft cheese.
Salt to taste.

Cook the onion in the melted fat until golden brown. Add all other ingredients except the eggs, and stir constantly until cheese is melted. Add the slightly beaten eggs, stir gently until eggs are set. Serve on buttered toast. Serves four.

Crab Flake Cocktail

Remove bony sections from crab meat, allowing one-third cup of diced cooked or canned crab meat for each serving. Arrange in cocktail glasses and cover with the following cocktail sauce. The sauce is made by combining the ingredients in the order given.

One tablespoonful catsup.
One-half teaspoonful lemon juice.
Two drops Tabasco sauce.
One teaspoonful prepared horseradish.
One-half teaspoonful olive oil.
One half teaspoonful minced green pepper.
One-half teaspoonful finely chopped onions.
One-half teaspoonful Worchestershire sauce.
One-half teaspoonful celery salt.

Chill thoroughly before serving. The sauce is sufficient for one.

Glace Onions

Remove the skins from small silver skinned onions and cook in boiling water for 15 minutes. Drain, dry on cheese cloth, put in a buttered baking dish, add highly seasoned brown stock to cover the bottom of dish, sprinkle with sugar and bake until soft, basting often with stock in the dish. A bouillon cupe and hot water may be used to make the brown stock.

Jellied Pineapple Relish

One package lemon Jell-O.
One pint boiling pineapple juice and water.
Three slices pineapple, diced.
One cucumber, diced.
One-half cup stuffed olives, finely chopped.
Three-fourths cup sweet pickles, finely chopped.

Dissolve lemon Jell-o in boiling pineapple juice and water. Add vinegar. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in pineapple, cucumber, olives and pickles. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves eight.

Spaghetti Milanaise

Into a large kettle of rapidly boiling water lower without breaking a pound of spaghetti; add two onions stuck with two or three cloves each and cook rapidly until the spaghetti is tender. Drain and remove the onions. Then mix it with a pint of well-seasoned tomato sauce, one-fourth pound of Frankfort sausage plumped by cooking a few minutes in boiling water, then peeled and cut in one-inch pieces and a cupful of canned mushrooms. Cook 5 minutes; add a cupful of grated American cheese, and serve very hot.

Bran Muffins

One and one-half cupfuls flour.
One and one-half teaspoonfuls salt.
One and three-fourths cupfuls sweet milk
One-half tablespoonful soda.
One quart bran (half Pillsbury and half Kellogg or Post).
Three-fourths cupfuls molasses.

Mix flour, salt and soda and sift; add bran and mix well. Mix milk and molasses, add to dry ingredients and bake at once in greased muffin pans in a hot oven at 400 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Makes 27 small sized muffins.

Julienne Salad

Remove the outside leaves from a small, firm head of cabbage. Cut in halves or quarters and slice very thin. Let this shredded cabbage stand in ice water until crisp. Drain and dry in a clean towel. Cut into very fine shreds a fresh green pepper from which the seeds and partitions have been removed. Cut cooked carrots into strips and marinate in French dressing. Mix one-quarter cup of shredded pepper and one cup carrot strips with each two cups of shredded cabbage. Serve on lettuce or romaine with Parisian of piquante dressing. Parisian dressing is made by adding two tablespoonfuls chopped green pepper, two tablespoonfuls chopped red pepper, two tablespoonfuls chopped celery, one-half tablespoonful chopped onion and one-half tablespoonful chopped parsley to one cup of French dressing. Mix thoroughly before adding to the salad.

Pear and Raisin Charlotte

One cupful seedless raisins.
One tablespoonful gradulated gelatin.
Five tablespoonfuls orange juice.
One cupful cream, whipped.
One half cupful sugar.
One cupful diced fresh or canned pears.
One-half teaspoonful vanilla.
Speck of salt.
Two egg whites.

Cover raisins with cold water, bring to a boil, drain and cool. Soften the gelatin in two tablespoonfuls of the orange juice, set over boiling water and stil until the gelatin is dissolved. Add gradually the rest of the orange juice, whipped cream, diced pears, raisins, vanilla, salt and the egg whites which have been beaten stiff with the sugar. Heap into sherbet glasses and serve when thoroughly chilled. Serves six.

PASTRY

To many people the turkey is the piece de resistance of the Thanksgiving dinner, but others look forward to the delicious, spicy pies, fragrant pumpkin and squash and mince full of raisins and numerous other good things.

Good pastry is of tremendous importance in all pie making. Perfect pie crust does not mean the richest pie crust but it does mean one that is properly proportioned, lightly and deftly mixed and rolled and correctly baked.

There are three varieties of pastry which may be used in making pies. They are plain, which may be made with hot or cold water, flaky and puff pastry. Plain pastry is recommended for the inexperienced housewife as the tiny bit of baking powder that it contains always saves it. Ice water and cold ingredients make a flaky light pastry while hot water makes a compact short pie crust.

The best of ingredients should be used. Butter is expansive, but has a pleasing flavor if it can be afforded. It should always be washed to remove salt and milk. Many people prefer lard, while others use nothing but vegetable shortening. Oil is also a favorite shortening. It makes a crust with a tender crumbly texture.

All purpose flour makes a very good crust but the soft wheat and cake flours give a tender, flaky crust due in part to the fineness and delicate gluten content of this type of flour.

Plain cold water pastry is made by sifting the flour once before measuring. Then measure two cupfuls; add three-quarters teaspoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonful of tartrate or phosphate baking powder or one-fourth teaspoonful of alum baking powder and sift again. Measure two-thirds cupful of shortening and cut a solid shortening into the dry ingredients with two knives or a pastry blender; mix in a liquid shortening with a fork and use a little less water. When the mixture resembles coarse meal, sprinkle some ice water over the entire surface so that the moisture absorption will be evenly distributed. Mix with a knife, repeating until enough water has been added so that the paste clings together and does not stick to the side of the bowl. About six tablespoonfuls of water will be required if a solid shortening is used. Too much water makes a tough hard crust.

If possible chill the dough before rolling, as it will be easier to handle and will make a lighter crust. If the pastry is made a day or two before it is to be used wrap in wax, parchment, or transparent paper or place in a covered dish to keep a crust from forming over the surface. This recipe makes one nine-inch double crust pie, two nine-inch pie shells, or about 16 tart shells.

Hot water pastry is mixed just the opposite way. It is made by adding one cup shortening to one-half cup of boiling water. Beat the mixture with a spoon until it is the consistency of honey—about 15 minutes. Then sift in three cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Mix well and set in the icebox to harden for one hour or longer. This pastry can not be handled until it is chilled.

When ready to roll, sprinkle and rub into the molding surface just enough flour to keep the pastry from sticking and dust the rolling pin lightly with flour. The rolling pin should be so constructed that it will turn around the stationary handles and center rod. This makes it possible to roll the pastry from the center outward with a light twirling movement without heavy pressure which spoils pastry.

An eighth of an inch is considered a desirable thickness for pies; the "thin as paper crust" breaks too easily. The edges of the pastry should be no thinner than the center, or they will shrink in baking.

A fluted rim is very attractive. It is made by rolling pastry one-eighth inch in thickness, making the circle one inch larger than a nine-inch pie plate and lining the plate loosely with the pastry. Then fold back the edge of pastry all the way around and bring the double fold to an upright position—in doing so the cut edge is against the plate. Then "flute" the double fold of pastry as follows: Place the tip of the index finger of the right hand against the fold on the inside, so that it is between the tips of the thumb and index finger of the left hand, which are placed on the outside of the fold. Press firmly close to the pie plate with the thumb and index fingers of the left hand. Remove the fingers and continue around the entire rim of the pie. Prick the shell well to allow the escape of steam and bake in a hot oven of 500 degrees F. for 10 to 12 minutes. This shell may be filled with fresh strawberries, cut in halves, whole raspberries, or sliced peaches or bananas, which have been sweetened to taste and covered with whipped cream or with a cooked pie filling or custard mixture.

The choicest custard pie has a quivery, jelly-like golden custard, free from whey or "skin" with the top well flecked with nutmeg. Underneath lies the crisp, flaky and delicate brown crust, free from all suggestion of sogginess. A freshly cut sector should reveal in its shiny cut surface a fine delicate custard with barely enough firmness to hold its shape. Custard mixtures should be cooked below the boiling point of water which is 212 degrees F. and pastry should be baked between 450 and 500 degrees F. The latter temperature is more than twice the temperature suitable for baking custards. The temperature that is correct for baking custard will produce a soggy, half-cooked, tough crust with an unattractive color, while the temperature that is right for baking good crust will produce custard with a wrinkled skin and whey, which means the loss of all its attractive qualities.

The logical thing, then, is to bake the crust before pouring in the custard mixture. The crust should be baked in a hot oven for 10 minutes and then the custard filling added and baked in a slow oven of 360 degrees F. for 30 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in the center of the pie comes out clean.

Pastry may be placed on the outside of an inverted pie tin, pricked well and baked. If there is danger of the filling leaking, place on the inside of a pie tin and place another one of the same size on top. The two pans with the crust between should then be inverted and baked.

Many pie fillings may be cooked in the top of a double boiler and poured into baked shells. If this method is used both the filling and the shell should be cooled before they are combined to prevent a steam from forming which makes the pastry soggy. The pie may then be covered with whipped cream which has been sweetened and flavored or with meringue.

Just a word here about meringues. Watery meringue may be due to not beating the egg whites sufficiently, to adding the sugar too quickly, or to baking the meringue in too hot an oven. The best way is to beat the chilled egg whites until stiff; then gradually add the sugar while beating constantly, allowing two tablespoonfuls of sugar for every egg white. Arrange the meringue unevenly on the pie and bake in a slow oven of 300 degrees F. for 15 minutes.

For two crust pies, roll the pastry about two inches larger than the pie plate all around; fold the pastry in half and lay in the center of the pie pan. Unfold, fit to the pan, and trim off the edges with a sharp knife. Be careful not to scratch the paste as it will shrink a little during baking, and if pulled tightly will break.

For a double crust pie with fresh fruit or berry filling, the baking-time is from 30 to 40 minutes at 450 degrees F. The oven should be hot enough so that the fat will not become oily before it is cooked into the flour.

Chocolate Nut Pie

One tablespoonful flour.
One cup sugar.
One tablespoonful butter.
Four tablespoonfuls cocoa.
Three eggs.
One teaspoonful flavoring.
One cupful milk.
Three-fourths cupful nuts.

Fill baked pie shell with this mixture: Cream butter and sugar, add flour and cocoa sifted together, then gradually the milk, and well-beaten egg yolks. Cook in the top of a double boiler until thick. Remove from the fire and add flavoring and chopped nuts. When cooled pour into a baked pastry shell and cover with a meringue made of the egg whites. Bake until meringue is a golden brown according to directions given above.

Raisin Pie

Grated rind and juice of two lemons.
Grated rind and juice of one orange.
One cupful light brown sugar.
One and one-fourth cupful water.
One scant cupful nuts, coarsely chopped.
Three tablespoonfuls cornstarch.
Two cupfuls seeded raisins.

Cook together all pastry ingredients except cornstarch. When it comes to a boil, thicken mixture with cornstarch mixed with one tablespoonful of cold water. Cook until thick. Add one tablespoonful butter and pour into a pie plate lined with pastry. Put on an upper crust and bake at 450 degrees F. for 30 minutes.

NEW GROCERY OPENS TODAY

J. L. Huffines Launches Store on Seventh

Expansion and development of business on the crest of improving conditions in Wichita Falls will be further exemplified Saturday in the formal opening of the Liberty grocery, recently established at 804-806 Seventh street by J. L. Huffines.

Opened early this week for business, the new cash and carry grocery in the downtown district will be introduced generally to the public throughout the day Saturday. Complimentary coffee and cakes will be served to all visitors on that date, Mr. Huffines said, and music will be furnished throughout the afternoon and evening.

Preparatory to moving his business from 301 Lamar avenue, where it had been carried on for almost four years, Mr. Huffines fell into line with the effort here to provide employment for all local workmen. A group of about five men was employed for more than two weeks perfecting extensive alterations in the building where the store is now located. Using a 36-foot front, with about 60 feet in depth, the new business has a large floor space and an attractive interior finish.

The new Liberty store includes a modern electric refrigeration plant in connection with a fresh meat department. It is of the transparent front type, meats in reserve within the refrigeration chamber being constantly on display to the public as well as the cut meats in the smaller cases.

Narrowing of the sidewalk and widening of Seventh street in front of the new establishment will be effected in the near future, it was said, in order to facilitate traffic approach to the store.

Royalty Firm's Assets Amount to Only $868

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 14. (AP)—The cash assets of the Monarch Royalty corporation began to form a question mark today as James A. Harris, one of the receivers for the concern, reported that bank balances of $868 were all that could be found to date.

Harris said much money was spent by the corporation in maintaining offices in Tulsa, Denver, Kansas City and New York.

An audit of the company's books, undertaken by the receivers, shows the corporation has approximately 7,500 stockholders, Harris said.

Geneva Commission Adopts Budgetary Plan

GENEVA, Nov. 14. (AP)—The preparatory disarmament commission today accepted the principle of limitation of land war material by the budgetary method, which the American government, through its representative, Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson, has declined to accept for itself.

The principle was embodied in a resolution presented by Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, for Great Britain.

Sixteen nations supported the resolution, including Canada, France and Japan. Three nations opposed it, Russia, Germany and Italy. The United States, Sweden, Turkey, Venezuela, Bulgaria and China abstained from voting.

The vote was taken a few minutes after the commission had rejected the Russian declaration that simultaneous application of both the direct and budgetary method was the only effective means of limiting and reducing land war material.

The vote on the Russian resolution, which in effect embodied some of the features of a proposal of Ambassador Gibson several days ago before the commission, was five votes for to 12 against. Its supporters were Russia, Italy, Germany, Turkey and Holland. The United States voted against it.

DEATHS

MRS. S. T. MORROW

Funeral services for Mrs. S. T. Morrow, 83, who died Thursday in Holliday at the home of her son, J. M. Morrow, were held from the Holliday Baptist church Friday afternoon, with the Rev. J. L. Walters, pastor of the Lory Memorial Baptist church of Wichita Falls, officiating.

Mrs. Morrow came to Holliday about a year ago to reside with her son. Prior to that time she had been a resident of Denton county for 60 years.

Aside from the son with whom she lived, a daughter, Mrs. Belle Green of Erick, Okla., survives.

The Hines mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Old Will Reveals Gratitude Of Woman Befriended 53 Years Ago

DETROIT, Nov. 14. (AP)—A will which lay forgotten for 53 years in the family Bible is the basis of a claim of Dr. E. J. Bolio to the estate of Mrs. Ida Marcoux, Chicago apartment house owner, who died a year ago, His attorney plans to go to Chicago Monday to present the document.

The will was found last week after a long search, and recalled to Dr. Bolio the dramatic circumstances under which it was made. As a girl, Mrs. Marcoux boarded in the home of the physician's parents. Later she was arrested and detained temporarily in connection with the suicide of a married man.

After some years Dr. Bolio, as a young physician, was appealed to by persons living in the neighborhood of a house he owned to oust his tenant, "the notorious Marcoux woman." On investigation, he recalled, he found that she was "living down" her reputation, working as a seamstress. He refused to disturb her, and in gratitude she wrote the will, leaving him all her property. "I have only a little," she said.

The will and the incident passed from memory until word came from Chicago that the woman on her deathbed mentioned having drawn the testament.

Dalhart Poultry Show Opens Dec. 18

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, Nov. 14.—More than 300 birds are expected to be on display at the annual Trans-Canadian Poultry Show in Dalhart on Dec. 18, 19 and 20, according to W. F. Kline, president of the organization.

The premium list for the show this year will be considerably larger than ever before and some of the best poultry in the North Panhandle is expected to be in competition.

At a recent meeting of the poultry association plans were completed for the show and arrangements made for the building. This is an annual affair in Dalhart and the competition is open to poultry producers in the North Panhandle of Texas, Oklahoma, Southwestern Kansas, and New Mexico.

Youth Given 30 Days For Striking Waitress

Two pleas of guilty with two subsequent penalties imposed comprised Friday's activity in the county court at law, according to Judge Irvin J. Vogel.

A fine of $1 plus costs was imposed upon a man who was charged with disturbing the peace, the complaint originating allegedly in a domestic squabble.

A young man from Burkburnett plead guilty to a charge of aggravated assault and received a sentence of 30 days in jail and court costs. The defendant was accused of swinging a heavy uppercut to the face of a waitress in a Burkburnett cafe Thursday night.

New Highway Cause Of Six Suits

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 14.—Holding himself disqualified to try six damage suits coming up in his court here next week, County Judge A. C. Hoffman, has made arrangements to have the cases tried before Judge William T. Link of Clarendon, former county judge of Donley county.

The damage suits are incident to the new highway from Memphis to Mulberry bridge, in which six property owners of the county are seeking damages. Those claiming damages, Miss Maud Milam, P. O. Young, J. R. Hanvey, R. B. McMurry, Mrs. S. O. Greene and L. M. Lane, appealed from the judgment of the county commissioners court of Hall county, in condemnation proceedings to the county court, because they were dissatisfied with the jury of view in allowing damages for their property on the route of the new highway. The county is represented by Moss & Deaver, while the counsel for the property owners is the law firm of Hamilton, Fitzgerald & Grundy.

Old Glory Cotton Ginnings Increase

Special to The Record News.

OLD GLORY, Texas, Nov. 14.—Approximately 950 bales of cotton have been ginned in Old Glory this season by both Baldwin Gin company and W. G. Wienke Gin company. As a result of fall rains and the lateness of frost there has been an unexpected maturity of drouth-stunted bolls. At the opening of the ginning season the latter part of August during the severe drouth in this section, ginners estimated the season's crop in this territory at 500 bales. Favorable conditions of the past six weeks have changed this estimate from 500 to 1,300 bales for the season.

Fifteen hundred bales were ginned in Old Glory in 1929.

School and College Notes

All-College Picnic

Ticket sales for the all-college picnic Wednesday evening, Nov. 19, will begin Monday morning, according to Miss Earlene Longan, chairman of the school life committee. College students will meet at the school at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday and go in groups to Weeks park for the entertainment. Admission will be 25 cents.

Hike for Boys

Completed plans for a hike were announced at the regular meeting of the Junior college Boy's Outdoor club Friday morning at the assembly period. They will start from the school at 4:30 p. m. Friday, Nov. 21, and hike through Weeks park, returning to the school for a "grub."

Elliott Heads Engineers

Milton Elliott was chosen to head the high school Engineering club at the first regular meeting Friday morning at the 30-minute period. Other officers elected at the same meeting were as follows: Vice president, James Neal Walker; secretary, W. A. Bachman, and treasurer, Paul Jones. C. L. Brown and Miss Pauline Shirley are faculty advisors for the group. Member of the club are required to make no grades below 80, Mr. Brown said.

Rosy Cheeks for indoor days

Crisp cold air brings a touch of color to every one, but it soon passes unless good health keeps it there. Shredded Wheat is an ideal indoor-weather food. It contains the mineral salts that make healthy red blood and the bran that promotes regular habit even though exercise is restricted. Plenty of nourishment—and easily digested too. Eat Shredded Wheat every morning—a biscuit or two with hot milk for a delicious, vitalizing breakfast.

Sucide's Major Cause
Far-Sighted Alfonso
Money Taks
Clare Eames

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Many cases are alleged to explain suicide: money troubles, unhappy marriage, business collapse, fear of exposure, defeat. The major cause, however, is the absence of love. The man who looks around him and finds no one to whom he can turn in grief or joy, exists in a world not worth living in. Love sustains, encourages, makes one go on.

That is why men at 87, like Brig. Gen. Charles H. King, of Milwaukee, marry. They find they cannot face life—or death—alone. We are not all giants of the Ibsen category, or heroes of the Jovian cast. The strongest of us are humanly weak, and crave, in our most prideful moments, the love or even pity of a fellow being.

With the monarchy in Spain apparently on its last legs, the royalists and aristocrats of the country are in a panic of economic helplessness. If Spain goes over to republicanism, it seems that the estates of the grandees may be confiscated and, as these grandees have practically no wealth outside of Spain, the prospect of poverty stares them in the face.

King Alfonso, however, is without these worries. Being a good business man and seeing ahead, he has invested large sums abroad, so that if he has to abdicate he will be a millionaire several times over. The fate of a German grand duke (at work today on his memoirs) who became grocer, tailor and salesman to earn a living, is too much of an object lesson to European royalty to be lightly ignored.

A king, with an annual salary of $8,000,000, is to spend four months at the Westchester estate of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid. The ruler is Prajahipok Sukhodaya of Siam, and he is only 37. As far as can be ascertained at this writing, he is single.

King Sukhodaya comes to America to have his eyes treated, having heard that the best oculists are to be found here. Before he goes he will no doubt learn, with his improved vision, that America has also the most beautiful women. With $8,000,000 a year, it would not be difficult for his majesty to persuade one of these houris to go back with him to Siam. And she might be a $20 a week stenographer.

Remember that King Cophetua fell violently in love with a beggar maid. And as for the color barrier, the news that a second daughter is born to the former Nancy Miller of Seattle reminds us that she is married to the ex-Maharajah of Indore.

The death of Clare Eames in London, after a week's illness, marks the passing away of another great acress from the American stage. Her portraits of "Mary Stuart" in Drinkwater's play of that name, her Lady Macbeth with James K. Hackett, will long be remembered as signal contributions to the histrionic art.

Planes Fly Far

WASHINGTON.—Airmail and air passenger planes operating on a regular schedule in the United States fly more than 108,950 miles daily, according to a report of the American Air Transport association. More than 40 per cent of this flying is done at night. The combined domestic and foreign mileage in North and South America is 126,202 miles, and includes flying in Canada, the West Indies, Mexico, Central and South America.

It seems like ever' newspaper I pick up has a picture o' some beautiful, long-legged woman who has jest married an octogenarian, or is bein' questioned in police court, or has been found murdered in a lonely spot, or is bein' held in connection with some awful crime, or has jest been awarded $500 a week allmony. I'll say this fer the newly poor, they carry 'emselves ten times as modestly as the newly rich.

The moralist who pointed out that you can't do things in halves and succeed, failed to take into consideration, apparently, the case of a good football team.

Henry Ford is reported saying: "I don't like to read books. They muss up my mind." And we always thought he was an advocate of volume production.

The newly discovered Schwassman-Wachmann comet just missed hitting the earth by 5,000,000 miles. It would have been just too bad for headline writers had the thing connected.

Moving to the Cities

EVERY YEAR a larger percentage of the American populace lives in cities. With ever-increasing rapidity, ours is becoming an urban civilization. But Lot's wife seems to have a good many counterparts among us, nevertheless. In the great march to the cities there are many who turn their heads for a regretful look backwards.

The latest to take this wistful backward glance is Charles Hanson Towne, the well known editor and writer. In the current issue of Harper's Bazaar, Mr. Towne asks dolefully:

"Why do we fret and hive in our cities when we might be partakers of serenity? It is one of the human mysteries; and man is forever excusing himself by crying out that he cannot get away. Yet, if he knew how he would be renewed, not only physically but spiritually, he would seek these accessible paths, away from the hum and discord of his average days."

This sort of question, as cities grow larger and larger, and noise and congestion and confusion become more and more unendurable, is probably going to be heard oftener and oftener. The average human being is not quite as dumb as some people have suspected; and the average human being is rapidly discovering that life in a big city is not all that it might be.

There are, of course, exceedingly powerful economic influences to create large cities. Factories have a way of clustering together—although, to be sure, there are signs now of a trend in the opposite direction. There are jobs in the cities, and the chances for wealth and fame. But you might assure yourself some day by wondering if it is not simply man's gregarious nature and his fear of loneliness that are chiefly responsible.

The pioneers who settled the wilderness were not moved by that compulsion, as they were under other, more powerful compulsions. But their grandchildren felt it in all its force. There were many, many people who found life on farms and in remote country hamlets very lonely. When we speak of the young man who leaves his father's farm and moves to the city to get a job we usually assume that he is moved by a desire to better himself economically; but isn't it at least as plausible to suppose that he goes because he wants the gayness, the companionship, the feeling of solidarity and nearness to his fellows that go with city life?

So our cities are swollen; and, being swollen, are unfit places for many of their inhabitants to live. And a lot of us, wondering how on earth this serenity that Mr. Towne speaks of can ever be come by in a big city, are casting the same wistful glances over our shoulders that Mr. Towne is casting.

Sooner or later, probably, there will be a change. The automobile has helped many people to get at least to the outskirts of metropolitan congestion. Perhaps, as time goes on, it will do more. We can hope so, at any rate. After a city gets about so big it becomes 90 per cent an abomination.

The Valet of Tradition

IT IS extremely gratifying to learn that a rich English baronet, dying, has left a fortune of $100,000 to his valet. Gratifying, that is, because it so beautifully carries out one of our favorite English traditions.

According to tradition, the English valet is perfect. He is a deft servant, a devoted and loyal friend, a wise counsellor and a trusted recipient of all manner of confidences, which he never betrays. In novel after novel he appears as a compendium of all the virtues, so that one longs to move to England and hire a valet, if only to meet, in the flesh, such a perfect specimen of Christian manhood.

Now it develops that there is truth in this tradition. No English baronet would leave $100,000 to a valet if the valet was not just as described above. It is good to know that some of our gay fancies can be verified now and then.

Football and Charity

IT IS quite understandable if certain large universities do not care to participate in postseason football games in which the gate receipts would go to relieve unemployment. Quite a number of valid excuses can be advanced. But it is hardly in order for any of the officials involved to use a top-lofty tone in expressing their refusal.

Certain educators have pointed out, somewhat scornfully, that college football is not played for the benefit of the general public. Quite so; but for whom, then, is it played? And for whom were all of these great stadiums erected?

By making a big business out of an undergraduate sport, the colleges and universities have laid themselves open to public misunderstandings. They can hardly complain if their refusal to play for charity is sharply criticized.

The Price of Books

THERE HAS been a good deal of comment during the past few months about the price of books. Books, we have been told, are priced too high; hence a good many publishers have cut their prices radically, in the fond hope that the American public will thereby be stimulated to a greater absorption of the best of the current literature.

However, a recent bulletin from the Houghton, Mifflin company points out that books, after all, are not priced as high as other forms of amusement. New fiction in the fall list is offered at prices ranging from $1 to $3; and theater tickets are selling at prices that begin at $3 and soar to $6.60.

The theatergoer pays these prices and complains very little; yet if $2 is too much to pay for a book, is not $5 a rather high price to pay for an evening's entertainment, or otherwise, in a theater?

Quer

I think that pity tinged your love for me;
You took a youngster in from out the cold
And showed him that the world held ecstasy,
That nights ran silver and that days were gold;
Sometimes it seemed that I was at a play,
Wide-eyed and breathless as the scenes went on
To my delight—but be that as it may,
The play is over and the vision gone.

Yet here I sit, quite slow to understand,
That I must leave and face the world again;
That I must stamp the flame your love has fanned,
And learn anew that life holds only pain;

I wonder if my lively holiday
Was worth the price that I'll be forced to pay!

Pedple You Could Choke

The pirating of gags is merely one of the countless annoyances in vaudeville. Ask Fenton & Fields about the time they were playing in Green Bay and a duo of third rate comics were on ahead of them and told their best joke.

As the spectators were rocking in their seats from laughter, one of the hams (who was near the wings) turned to Fenton and indifferently said: "You weren't going to use it this show, were you?"

Theory

And Walter O'Keefe says that the wet landslide doesn't mean the saloon is coming back—not to New York, anyway—where the Chase National bank has all the best corner locations.

Just for the Pun of It

An anonymous clown wants to spoil today's column by making up sentences containing the words "annex"—"poison"—"Cadillac" and "physic" like these: "Yah, ve haf hem annex!"!" "Poison and goils together, me and Mamie O'Rourke"; "She went motor-riding and found out how a Cadillac"; "Meet my pal and physic!"

One of the Better Ones

It was Percy Hammond, however, who once toyed with "estuary" like this: "I estuary confidentially, ain't she sweet?"

Collegiate Love

You say you do not know just why
I've lost my heart to you;

Vallee Well, Madam

"I attended Heywood Broun's show at the Jolson," writes Helen Gill, "and it was something to see—considering you and Rudy Vallee got together publicly. I hope you have buried for all time this utter nonsense that has been centering about you both. I like Rudy a mighty lot. There's no use wondering why women have gone crazy over him. The fact remains that they have, young ones, old ones, nit-wits and high brows. Please do not laugh at this letter. It is chiefly to say that I was surprised to find you the sort of person you are. From the ever slightly sarcastic tones over the radio and some of the news in your column, one would expect to find a much different type of person.

"From now on, with Rudy Vallee, I shall understand what you are up against as a columnist and not hold anything you may say against anyone I like."

What Langwidge!

"My dear Walter," devotedly writes Gracie Worth of Earl Carroll's show (the name of which escapes us for the paragraph), "you mentioned that I appear undraped in the show. I want to correct this and also tell you that I hear you once wrapped yourself in thought and got arrested for going naked!"

The Earl Carroll influence.

Portrait

We know a woman who has ankled up an altar three times with as many fellers. That is—since the beginning of the radio era. She now lives in a big house she bought with the combined alimony.

In the cellar of this mansion are three radio sets, one a crystal set which belonged to her first husband, the second a battery set, which belonged to her second husband, and the third an electrified thing which belonged to hubby number three.

Whenever she gets mushy over some new Casanova she goes down to her cellar and looks at the radio sets.

She always gets over it.

HEARTBREAK GIRL

By ROB EDEN

Gail Stuart, befriended by Nick Walther after hiking to Hollywood, falls in pictures but gets a job as secretary to Carla Cross, the star. By subterfuge she gets Ross Hardy, her fiance, a job as Carla's leading man. He makes good but fame spoils him and Gail ends their engagement when she catches him making love to Carla. She is discharged for going to dinner with Walther, whom Carla hopes to marry. Nick loves Gail, but she still cares for Ross Hardy. Gail gets a job in a store, and Ross takes her to dinner to beg her to intercede with Nick for a big loan. He is living far beyond his salary, and is deeply in debt. Reluctantly, she asks Nick for the loan, and he agrees to lend Ross $6,000. He asks her if she still wants the actor, and she says she does.

CHAPTER XXXIV

Nick's attitude was not so mysterious the following day. He called and asked her to a house party at his beach cottage that week-end.

"You are to go with Ross. He'll call for you, and bring you out. I'm taking Carla."

"Yes. Is that all right with you?" Gail said it was in a trembling small voice. Then Nick was gone, and she was holding a dead receiver in her hand. Nick to arrange a party so that she could go with Ross . . . He was too good. Too decent to her.

She should have protested, but there wasn't time. Nick had been so short in his invitation. He had given her no time to think.

Gail arranged to leave the store Saturday noon, and by 1 o'clock she was in Ross' car bound for the beach, two suitcases on the rumble seat, hers, a small cheap bag, and his a glorified pigskin.

Ross Annoyed

"Nick's taking Carla," he grumbled, as if no one in the world could take Carla to a party but himself. "I understand Norman Frame is coming with Sarah Morton."

Gail was glad Sarah was to be there. She liked the actress, and she rather dreaded a party where Carla would be the only other woman.

Nick's house at the beach was a rambling, Cape Cod place, artificially weatherbeaten, standing lonely on a small inlet, wind swept pines around it, and the rear of the surf beating against the broad front porch. The interior was furnished roughly but comfortably, colorful serapes on the hand pegged floor, a great hooded fireplace in one corner, deep backed chairs and couches. A combination dining room and living room, kitchen and four bedrooms. Carla had one to herself, Sarah and Gail doubled up in another, Frame and Hardy in still another, and Nick's off the living room. A servants' wing at the back completed the cottage.

Sarah greeted Gail kindly, and they unpacked together.

"Well, are you happy?" Sarah asked as she ran a comb through her dark hair.

"Of course." Gail wasn't exactly happy. She should have been but she wasn't. Carla had been very cold when Gail had come up to her. After a short hello, she had turned away immediately and resumed her talk with Nick, as if the girl did not exist. Ross, too, had been different as soon as he had seen Carla. He was sprawling now, gloomily in a chair, his fingers running through the pages of a magazine but his eyes not seeing them. His eyes were watching Carla.

Norman Frame was playing the piano, a haunting love song, his hands caressing the ivory keys. His eyes, too, were on Carla, not on the keys. Gail heard snatches of the tune, even in the bedroom and shivered a little. Norman could play very well. He seemed to be putting all his soul in the music.

"You don't act convinced," Sarah said. She gave a quick look at the girl. "Don't spoil your little reunion party, my child."

"Reunion party?"

Not Such a Hot Week-End

"Sure. Nick's giving this for you. Sort of getting you and Ross together a gain. Isn't that the idea?"

"I don't know—"

"Well, I've eyes in my head, and I can see. And if you're clever, maybe you'll get Ross back. Who knows?" Sarah smiled maliciously, then went and put her arms around Gail. "Silly, I didn't intend to be mean. But as far as I can see it's not going to be such a hot week-end. You loving Ross and Ross and Norman loving Carla—"

"How did Norman Frame get here? Did Nick ask him?" Gail was curious about Frame.

"No, I asked him. Nick told me to ask anyone I wanted, so I asked Norman."

"Why?"

"Oh, because I thought it would be fun to see what happened. Norman is a jealous devil."

Sarah grinned impishly. "Thought it might annoy Carla, but I see it hasn't. I really think she's rather glad to have Norman here. The more lovers the merrier."

"Don't talk like that, Sarah!"

"Well, you don't like Carla do you?"

"No, but—"

"Well, I don't either, and I've wanted to get back at her for a long time. This is at least a chance. That's neither here nor there, though, the question is how are you going to act with Ross?"

"I don't see that that makes any difference—"

"It does, my child. My advice to you is to let him mope all he wants. All week-end if he wants. Because if I know Nick he's going to keep Carla busy. She won't have much time to spend with Ross. Ross is going to get more and more jealous all the time. So is Norman for that matter—"

"Please, don't Sarah—." Sarah saw the agony in her eyes, and stopped.

Nick a Perfect Host

"Well, anyway, I wish you luck. An experiment, but a good one. How you can have eyes for Ross, though, when Nick loves you is more than I can see. Nick is worth a million of Ross. And he loves you, Gail. Or maybe you don't know it."

Gail didn't answer. Sarah seemed to see everything. There was nothing that escaped her.

Dinner was a difficult meal. Gail was miserable throughout it; Sarah and Carla seemed to enjoy it. Nick was rather tacitturn, Ross and Norman frankly grumpy.

Once Gail caught Nick's eyes on her imploringly. Then as quickly they left and he was speaking to Carla, being a perfect host, listening to what she was saying.

Carla talked and laughed throughout the whole meal. Now and then her hand touched Nick's in an intimate way, her long white fingers running down his sweater sleeve. Gail saw Norman wince, as if he had been struck, once when Carla's hair brushed Nick's sun burned cheek.

After dinner Carla announced that she wanted to go out in the speed boat, so Nick offered to take her. Before anyone else could say they wished to go along, she dragged Walther away, and the next thing Gail heard was the put-put of the boat, as it left its little cove.

Ross lounged up to Gail, his face set, smoking a cigaret fiercely.

"Rotten of Nick to take Carla away like that. I wanted to swim with her in the moonlight—." He flung himself on the couch next to Gail, and looked off into space.

"I'll swim with you—"

"I don't feel like swimming now."

Minor Melody

Gail was silent after that. She had done her best and Ross hadn't responded. Wearily she wished she hadn't come. That she had stayed home. It was a mistake, thinking Ross would come back to her, would ever love her again.

Norman was playing the piano again. A love song. A minor melody, sad, beautiful. He played it again and again, each time with more feeling. Gail wanted him to stop. She couldn't bear to hear the thing repeated, and repeated. It was rubbing her nerves raw.

Norman's song to Carla and Carla was out with Nick.

Carla, it seemed to say, Carla.

Sarah had taken a book and was reading. Gail saw her look up in alarm as Norman played his song for the tenth time.

"Norman, let's walk on the beach," she said, going up to him and putting a hand on his shoulder tenderly. He shook it off, but did not stop playing.

Mrs. Cross was right. There was something about Norman's eyes that was frightening. The hopeless look was gone, in its place was a wild primitive look. He was not looking at the piano keys. He was staring at the wall in front of him.

For an hour he played like that until Gail thought she would go mad. She wanted to leave, but that would mean going away from Ross, who was still sitting at her side, staring also, much the same as Norman was staring.

It wasn't going to be a comfortable week-end, she thought. It was going to be terrible—

Tension Breaks

Midnight when Carla and Nick came in. Gail saw the sigh of relief that Sarah gave as she sprang to meet them, a gay sally on her lips. True, the tension of the room broke. Gail even laughed shakily. Norman stopped playing and Ross tossed a half finished cigaret in the fireplace.

Sarah went to her room half an hour later, and Gail followed her shortly. Carla and Ross were standing in the corridor as she turned into it from the living room. She hesitated a moment, wondering whether she should go on, or go back.

"Don't ever do that to me again, Carla!" She heard Ross' angry tones, heard Carla's smooth laugh. "I'm not joking. I'm serious! I'll do something desperate if you go on like this. Nick has no right—"

Gail fled back into the living room, where Norman was sitting at the piano, his hands folded on the keys, his eyes still on the wall.

She was worried. Ross was angry at Carla. No telling what he would do.

A few minutes later, when she peeped into the corridor, it was empty, and she heard Carla humming in the room next to hers.

Sarah was asleep when she slid in beside her, still thinking of the conversation she had overheard between Ross and Carla.

Coal Mine Reopens After Two-Day Strike

GLACE BAY, N. S., Nov. 14. (AP)—Cape Breton's largest producing coal mine, No. 2 colliery of the Dominion Steel and Coal company, was back in operation today after a two-day strike.

Government, labor union and mine officials met yesterday and decided to discharge Edward Kennedy, a miner whose employment had caused 700 men to quit work Tuesday.

Kennedy had been expelled from the union on a charge of demanding exorbitant rentals from fellow union members.

Q.—Did the title Queen of Heaven originate with the Roman Catholic church, addressing the mother of Christ?—S. W.

A.—On the contrary there is evidence that the Egyptians in invocations to the deities used the term queen of heaven, and in Jeremiah 7:18 it is recorded: In the streets of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, the children gather wood and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven; also 44:17: We will certainly perform every word that has gone forth out of our mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven.

Q.—How is the name of the town West Bromwich in England pronounced?—M. N. G.

A.—According to the manual of the British Broadcasting company there are four possible pronunciations of Bromwich — Brommich, Brummidge, Brommidge and Brummich.

Q.—Please give a biography of the man who compiled McGuffey's Readers.—D. B. R.

A.—William Holmes McGuffey (1800-1873), an American educator, was born in Washington county, Pa.; graduated at Washington college, Pa., in 1825. He was a professor first of ancient languages and later of moral philosophy in Miami university from 1836-1839, president of Ohio university from 1839-1843, and professor of moral philosophy in the University of Virginia from 1845 until his death. He compiled the so-called "Eclectic Series," a series of readers and other school books, of which immense numbers were sold.

Q.—Where is Daniel Webster buried?—G. O. L.

A.—He is buried on his estate at Marshfield, Massachusetts.

Q.—Who decided on the peace medals given to the Indians?—A. T.

A.—The early medals were struck in any design to suit the fancy of the donor. Beginning with Jefferson's day a standard official medal was adopted and those following were the same size, design and metal, with the names of the respective presidents, until the administration of Fillmore in 1850 when the reverse was entirely changed.

Q.—How many marriages and divorces are there yearly in the United States?—C. N.

A.—In 1928 there were 1,182,497 marriages and 195,939 divorces.

Q.—How old was Miles Standish when he came to New England on the Mayflower?—V. S.

A.—He was born about 1584 in Lancashire, England, so was about 36 years old when emigrated to America. He died in 1656.

Q.—How does France arrange tariff matters?—P. W. A.

A.—France has a flexible tariff. It is not necessary for extended hearings to be held before a change can be made as in this country. A tariff can be quickly changed by ministerial action to meet the domestic industrial situation from a protective point of view.

Q.—When are DuPont's Longwood Gardens open to the public?—E. McC.

A.—The Longwood Gardens on the DuPont estate in Pennsylvania are open to the public the first and third Sundays of every month. On these days an admission fee of 50 cents is charged which is devoted to charity. There is no admission charged on week days. They open at 11 a. m.

Q.—How much did the first Pullman car cost?—I. M.

A.—The first Pullman car was built by George M. Pullman in 1865 at a cost of $20,000. This was hurriedly completed so that it might form a part of the train that bore the body of Abraham Lincoln from Washington, D. C., to Chicago, Ill., and thence to Springfield, Ill.

Q.—Is much lead lost when radiators are painted with cream colored flat paint?—S. G.

A.—The amount of heat lost is extremely small. This is considered one of the most desirable forms of finishing radiators.

Q.—When was the first stone building erected in San Francisco?—J. E. N.

A.—The first granite-faced building was erected, with Chinese aid, by J. Parrott in 1852, completed in November at a cost of $117,000. It was the three-story building, 68 by 102 feet, on the northwest corner of Montgomery and California streets, at first occupied by Adams and company and Page, Bacon and company.

Q.—How many Filipinos came to the United States last year?—M. F. D.

A.—The bureau of immigration says that last year approximately 8,200 Filipinos came to the United States.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

DAILY MENUS

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Nov. 16:

Sunday

Breakfast: Orange juice before breakfast, waffle (browned through), crisp bacon, stewed peaches.

Lunch: Baked potato, spinach, celery and ripe olives.

Dinner: Roast chicken or rabbit, baked eggplant and tomatoes, salad of shredded lettuce ice cream.

Monday

Breakfast: French omelet, Melba toast, stewed prunes.

Lunch: Noodle soup, string beans, salad of sliced cucumbers.

Dinner: Roast beef, cooked beet tops, turnips, salad of grated raw beets and chopped cabbage, Jell-O or Jell-well with whipped cream.

Tuesday

Breakfast: Wholewheat muffins with peanut butter, pear sauce.

Lunch: Cornbread, turnip greens, mashed pumpkin.

Dinner: Celery soup, broiled lamb chops, squash, salad of minced vegetables molded in gelatin, including string beans, cucumbers and tomatoes, pineapple whip.

Wednesday

Breakfast: Coddled eggs, Melba toast, stewed raisins.

Lunch: Potatoes boiled with the jackets on, combination salad of cabbage, beets and celery.

Dinner: Roast pork, carrots roasted with meat, string beans, salad of raw celery, applesauce.

Thursday

Breakfast: Oatmeal with butter or cream (no sugar).

Lunch: Cooked lettuce, carrots and peas.

Dinner: *Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, stewed okra, escalloped celery, salad of raw spinach, peanut butter dressing, ice cream.

Friday

Breakfast: Grapefruit or oranges (all desired), glass of sweet milk.

Lunch: Buttered green peas, salad of cucumber, egg, lettuce and cress.

Dinner: Broiled filet of sole, spinach, baked eggplant, salad of sliced tomatoes on lettuce, no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast: Baked eggs, toasted shredded wheat biscuit, stewed figs.

Lunch: Steamed rice, string beans, salad of head lettuce with olive oil.

Dinner: Tomato bouillon casserole of mutton, baked grated beets, five-minute cabbage, salad of raw celery, dish of berries (canned without sugar).

*Vegetable soup: To make soup stock use one pound of ground beef to two quarts of water. If any bone is used, have your butcher break it up, and use less meat. Cover and slowly bring to boil. Turn fire down and let simmer for an hour, removing any scum that may form. Strain, let cool and skim off all fat that rises to the surface. If stock does not equal two quarts, add a little hot water and the following quantities of vegetables:

Two or three finely diced small carrots, one small stalk of celery, cut fine; one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one small can of tomatoes.

Return to stove and let simmer until vegetables are tender. Serve with thin strips of Melba toast if desired.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Loose Joints

Question—H. J. L. asks: "Will you kindly tell me why the bones in my arms, also my ankles, seem to go right out of their sockets when I walk or when I throw my arms out quickly? My arms and legs seem to get out of joint which is very painful. It doesn't last very long, but happens quite often."

Answer—Where the looseness of the joints is noticed all over the body it is a sign of mineral starvation. You need more foods containing the bone-building materials. These are found in the non-starchy vegetables and also in the whole grains.

Prunes

Question—Mrs. H. D. asks: "Do prunes contain acid?"

Answer—Dried prunes do contain a small amount of acid, but not as much as the fresh prune plum.

Germs and Goiter

Question—T. M. writes: "I have been told that I have a goiter, but my neck is not enlarged at all—you cannot see a goiter as so many people have them. Could you tell me how I could kill the germ before it takes effect, and thus avoid having it become larger in time?"

Answer—There is no evidence that germs have any effect on producing goiter. The exophthalmic goiter does not show much except to make the eyes protrude. You may suffer from hyperthyroidism, the diagnosis of which must be accomplished mostly by studying symptoms, as the gland does not appear to change in shape in most cases. All forms of goiter are caused from the effect of bodily toxins, and the cure depends upon the elimination of these poisons.

Youth's Story of Baker Murder Raises Doubt

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 14. (AP)—Police doubted today that Harry Allard, 24, was the slayer of Mary Baker in Washington, D. C., on April 12, believing the confession they said he made yesterday was only an effort to stave off going to jail in this state for five years for automobile theft and possibly for five more for having a gun in his cell here. He refused to sign the confession.

Today Allard told newspaper men and deputy sheriffs that he was engaged to Miss Baker at the time of the murder.

He said they had quarreled over "another man."

Union Men Charged in Bombing of Apartment

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 14. (AP)—Robert P. Fixley, 53, and Juhn Stubblefield, 19, union carpenters who, police said, confessed the bombing of an apartment building under construction here last September, were charged today under a new statute which provides death as the maximum penalty for bombing.

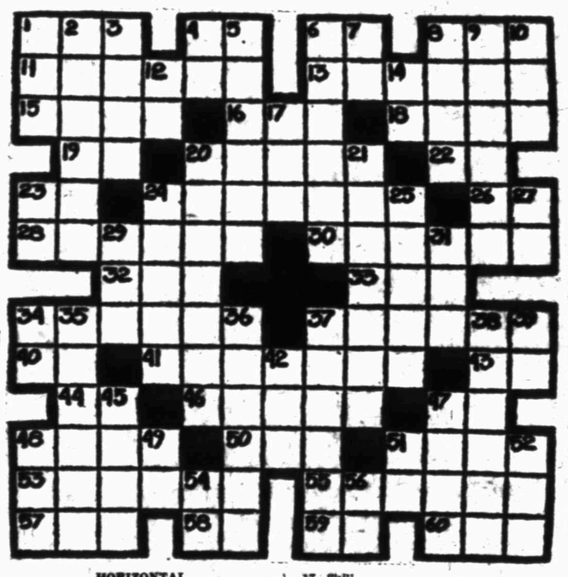

Justice Joseph Dougherty ordered them held without bond at arraignment and set their preliminary hearings for Nov. 26. The two men had been held on a charge of malicious destruction of property by explosives, filed yesterday.

Four Persons Killed By Police in India

PATNA, Indian, Nov. 14. (AP)—Four persons were killed and nine seriously injured today when police fired on a crowd at Jamalpur on the East India railway.

The crowd had refused to disperse when warned and attempted to rescue a number of prisoners by a fusilade of stones.

DENTON WINS 'BATTLE OF QUARTERBACKS' TO CINCH TITLE

ZUNDY LOSES THRILLER, 15-7

Chappell and McKinney Play Great Game

By FRED THOMPSON

Sensational broken field running by two fleet Denton backs—Chappell and Hester—after they had snared the ball from the air following a Zundy pass and a Zundy punt—decided a great football game at Athletic park here Friday, and shoved the Denton gridders up on the throne of the newly organized Northwest Texas Junior High school conference. The score was 15 to 7 in Denton's favor.

Entering the second period in the lead, 7 to 2, the Zundelowitz Junior High school warriors saw their advantage crumbled to bits when Hester intercepted McKinney's pass on Zundy's 30-yard line and squirmed through a horde of opponents without a jot of interference to safely reach the goal line. Then in the last period, the fleet Chappell, Denton quarterback, receiving a Zundy punt in midfield, raced 50 yards for a touchdown with the only interference his agile side-stepping and his tough stiff arm.

Many Fumbles Made

Fumbles were promiscuous throughout the game, especially on the side of the winners. A Denton fumble in the first quarter was recovered by Merchant of Zundelowitz on Denton's 32-yard line, and shortly thereafter the most sensational pass of the game, Rice to Hurd, resulted in Zundelowitz's sole touchdown. Hund raced the remaining distance to the goal line with little difficulty, and Hines plunged across for the extra point. Denton got its two points in the first quarter when Merchant fumbled behind his own goal line and fell on it, giving Denton a safety.

The manner in which the points were registered by both teams—fumbles and intercepted passes and recovered punts—indicates the two teams felt the futility of pushing over touchdowns through the line and this equality of the elevens in straight football is borne out by the first down figures. Each team made exactly two, making a total of four first downs for the entire game, in which a total of 22 points were scored.

Assured of Title

Until Friday, Zunday was in a tie with Denton for the leadership of the conference. Denton's victory practically assures them of the title, inasmuch as they have only one more conference game, that with Vernon which conference officials announced probably will be played next week. Vernon lost to Zundelowitz, 6 to 0, and if comparative scores mean anything, Denton will have little trouble bowling over Vernon and taking full possession of the crown.

The majority of the Denton fumbles were traced to a center whose passing was at times very faulty. It was regarded as remarkable that the Denton backs caught passes time and again that were below their knees or above their heads, but the ball luggers came to the rescue of the center time and again, snagging the high ones and low ones from their center and rushing for many yards.

Chappell Outstanding Star

The outstanding star of the game was Chappell, the Albie Booth of the Denton eleven. This quarterback had speed to toss to the birds even after the hard-fighting Zundy crew had left him writhing on the ground in pain on two occasions that he was stopped by hefty tacklers. His speed paved the way for his own misery on these occasions. He never stopped when he saw he was to be tackled. On the contrary, he got faster. The Zundy boys weren't afraid of him, hence when he was smeared, both victim and tackler came out of the heap limping.

It was a bloody battle, mates.

Hester and Abbey on the Denton team were plenty fast with the ball, but they couldn't come up to Chappell's standard.

Zundy's "Dark Horse"

But if Denton had its Albie Booth, Zundy had its own Walter Eckersall. He was the "dark horse," of whom scribes have been talking all week without revealing his name. His name was learned Friday, however. It is Burns McKinney, and he can do all Coach Golden said he could—run, block, pass, and punt. He did all the punting for Zundy, the majority of the passing and the majority of the running.

So it was Chappell versus McKinney the most of the way, so far as handling the ball was concerned. Like McKinney, Chappell did his team's punting, and the Denton signal barker's boots were always good ones, delivered from the toe with speed and precision, and always good for from 30 to 50 yards.

Two more evenly matched teams on the defense could not be desired. Both lines boasted blockers and tacklers of stellar ability. McKinney, Hurd, Tarkington and Captain Johnson made many good blocks and cooperated with their brother forwards in giving the ball toters good interference.

Didn't Need Any

Denton's line was likewise rugged, but as for good demonstrations of interference running, it can truthfully be said there wasn't hardly a one. Most of the time the Zundy line held. On a stiff plunge through center or off tackle, a Denton back would plough through on occasion, and interference was not spectacular. When Chappell or Hester got the ball, they didn't seem to need any interference, and when supplied with interference runners they generally outran them.

The lineups:

DENTON (15)	Pos.	ZUNDY (7)
McCormick	L.E.	Hurd

Memphis Wins Sectional Class B Title By Trouncing Clarendon

Wade Denies Weight 'Made' Alabama

By S. V. STILES

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 14. (AP)—The exceedingly rough waves of the Alabama Crimson tide this year generally are regarded as the creation of one of the bulkiest football teams in the South.

But according to Coach Wallace Wade that's not true. Cold statistics back him up.

The impression of bulk in a Crimson tide that has rolled over Tennessee, Vanderbilt and Kentucky toward a Southern conference championship comes from the way the line hits. On the offense it's a synchronized pile driver that gains power through getting the jump in charges.

Wade, rounding out his eighth year at Alabama, and set to take a coaching job next year at Duke university, knows personally what a line should do. He played guard for Brown university, 1914, '15 and '16, though rather small of stature.

The regular 'Bama line averages 193 pounds and the backs average 175. The seeming great bulk in the line's average dwindles somewhat when it is realized that Fred Sington, left tackle, and Capt. Charles Clements weigh 215 pounds each.

"A good line has been one of the outstanding things about Alabama teams," Wade remarked after the 19 to 0 victory over the Kentucky Wildcats.

"A number of writers have caused the impression to get about that Alabama has a huge team. We have only two players who weigh over 200 pounds. The rest are down around 170 to 180 and our backfield averages only 175."

Alabama's greatest teams, those of 1924, '25 and '26, gained much of their greatness from line play. After the team's victory in the tournament of roses in Los Angeles in 1926, "Pop" Warner, Stanford coach, said "Alabama has the best line I ever saw."

Alabama favors no particular system. "Give me," Wade said after the Kentucky game, "a fast charging line, a backfield that can mix reverse plays, spinners and triple passes, and I'll take the games as they come."

The Alabama attacks start from a "Z" or punt formation back of an unbalanced line. Wade picks his men for ability to get under way. Of the regulars he has picked this year nine live in Alabama, one comes from Arkansas and one from Mississippi.

Wallace Wade, Alabama coach, is a bit irritated at reports that the great success of the Crimson Tide in his last year at the school is due to an extra large team. The team has Captain Charles "Foots" Clements, who weighs 215 pounds, but as Wade points out it also has smaller stars such as John Suther, flashy back.

CYCLONE BEATS BRONCS, 25-7

Winners Maintain 6-Year Tradition

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 14.—Stung by the heels of a rampant Clarendon High school Broncho within three minutes after taking the field here Friday afternoon, the Memphis Cyclone came back with an attack in which strategy matched its ferocity, repelled the invaders by a score of 25 to 7, and kept intact a record of never having lost a game to Clarendon since annual games between the two schools were inaugurated in 1924.

Friday's victory gave Memphis a clean supremacy in class B competition in section D of district 1, and the Cyclone will meet next the winner of the Spearman-White Deer game. Memphis and Clarendon had been tied for the lead in this section.

As in recent games in which the Cyclone has figured, Captain Hammond proved irrepressible when the Memphis line finally got into its swing. Relieved occasionally by Durrett, quarterback, in a consistent attack on the Clarendon line in the second half, the husky Memphis battering ram punched down the field for two touchdowns.

Bronco Amaze Cyclone

The Bronchos threw a genuine scare into the Memphis portion of a crowd of 3,500 present when they marched through the locals in jig time for a touchdown. Settling down quickly to their knitting, however, the Cyclone's component parts coordinated a supporting movement in the second quarter for McLear and A. Pearson in a forward pass act which netted a gain of 30 yards and a touchdown. Failing to convert, Memphis was on the short end of a 7-6 score at the half.

Maintaining an impregnable defense throughout the game after Clarendon's first outbreak, Memphis grew stronger on the attack as the struggle progressed. Of the three touchdowns recorded in the last half, Hammond accounted for two and Durrett for the other.

Strong Offense

Clarendon's offense was by no means squelched by the Cyclone, as is evidenced by the Broncho's 13 first downs to Memphis' 14, but when within striking distance of the local's goal, the visitors encountered a stone wall backed up by an alert defense against aerial advances.

Clarendon made a better demonstration with passes than the winners, completing six for 113 yards, while Memphis completed but three, making 47 yards thereby. Each team tossed one into an enemy's arms.

Starting lineups of the two teams follow:

MEMPHIS (25)	Pos.	CLARENDON (7)
Jackson	L.E.	Berben
Krunkler	L.T.	Morris
Dial	L.G.	Benson
Bourland	C.	Johnson

Canzoneri Kayos Singer in First

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (UP)—Tony Canzoneri, a game little Brooklyn battler, who formerly held the featherweight championship, knocked out Al Singer of the Bronx, tonight after one minute and six seconds of fighting in the first round, and thereby won the lightweight title to boot.

A right and then a left hook to the jaw, before the fight was fairly under way, sent Singer face down into the resin and marked a surprise victory for a 3 to 1 shot.

Dazed and uncertain as to what had happened Singer rolled through the ropes and was propped up outside the ring while Canzoneri's hand was raised in token of his victory.

"What's happened?" Singer asked when he finally came to his senses, and the wise boys of Broadway who had backed him at odds of 3 to 1 were asking the same question for a long time afterwards.

Singer weighed 134 pounds to 132 for Canzoneri and was such a popular favorite that the attendance of some 15,000 fans came as a pleasant surprise to the officials of Madison Square Garden.

GRID RACES REACH CLIMAX

Title Battles Dominate Today's Slate

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—Conference championship races in six separate areas of football conflict reach the stage of climax games tomorrow.

They dominate the mid-November scramble for gridiron honors, even though Saturday's slate also includes a number of colorful intersectional engagements in the East and Mid-West, besides the time honored but no longer crucial game between Yale and Princeton.

Title Battles

The title battles promise a flock of brilliant gridiron shows, especially in the Middle West, where Michigan and Northwestern face decisive tests in their race for the Big Ten championship. Northwestern has its toughest test of the conference program in playing Wisconsin.

In the Big Six, Oklahoma's title aspirants stack up against the rugged Kansas Jayhawkers in an attempt to keep their conference records clean. Nebraska, which upset Kansas last week, expects to continue the Cornhusker comeback against Missouri while Iowa State and Kansas Aggies tangle in the other conference contest.

Tulane, 1929 Southern conference champion, and Georgia, undefeated but tied once by Florida, grapple in the Dixie elimination headliner at New Orleans. The victor will remain in the race with Alabama, if the latter continues its unbeaten sweep at the expense of Louisiana State. Other Southern features include Florida-Clemson and Tennessee-Vanderbilt.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs, attempting to repeat as the Southwest conference champions, bump into the formidable Texas Longhorns at Fort Worth. The outcome, unless it is a deadlock, should decide the title race.

Utah's juggernaut is favored to dispose of the strong Colorado university eleven and clinch the Rocky Mountain championship for the third year in a row.

Cougars Favorites

Similarly, Washington State's undefeated Cougars figure to outplay their rivals of the University of Washington and clinch their place at the top of the Pacific Coast conference heap.

Tradition holds sway in the East, with such headliners as Yale-Princeton, Colgate-Syracuse, and Corpell-Dartmouth on the card.

Notre Dame and Southern California, the high score sensations of last Saturday in the East and far West, expect some relaxation in preparation for more intensive activity later, leading up to their big game at Los Angeles, Dec. 6. Notre Dame plays Drake at South Bend tomorrow in what may prove a brisk workout. Southern California entertains Hawaii university.

NOCONA WINS IN EASY GAIT

Newcastle Falls Under Score Of 68 to 0

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Nov. 14.—Newcastle High school, playing a conference game transferred by agreement from the Young county town to Nocona, offered little resistance to the scintillating attack of the local high school eleven Friday afternoon, going down under a score of 68 to 0.

Nocona rehearsed both running plays and forward pass formations at will in preparation for next week's encounter with the rampant Graham High team at Graham. Ten touchdowns, and eight converted point-attempts, represented the heavy count registered by the local machine.

The lineups at the outset of the game were as follows:

NOCONA (68)	Pos.	NEWCASTLE (0)
Lindelof	L.E.	N. Proffit
Hill	L.T.	Nicholson

GRAHAM DEFEATS BOWIE, 12 TO 8

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Nov. 14.—In a spectacular game, replete with thrills, Graham defeated Bowie today by a score of 12 to 8. Bowie obtained the lead early in the game with a safety and remained a constant threat until the game ended. Karl Hatchel, Bowie center, was the outstanding player of the game, while Louis Kincer, Bowie halfback, and Billy Turney, halfback of Graham, played steady football all the way.

JACKSBORO DEFEATS BELLEVUE, 71 TO 0

Special to The Record News.

JACKSBORO, Texas, Nov. 14.—The Jacksboro football team met and conquered the Bellevue High school here Friday afternoon, drubbing the inexperienced visitors with a 71 to 0 score.

Second string men were used by Jacksboro in every quarter but the third. The Bellevue warriors, with but one man that had played football before this year, were no match for the locals, who scored at will.

Jacksboro took off for a good start with the opening of the game and netted three touchdowns before the first quarter ended. The second and third periods each resulted in three touchdowns for Jacksboro, while another was added in the last chapter. Turpin carried across five of the markers, Campsey two, Stroud two and Turner two.

The lineup follows:

JACKSBORO (71)	Pos.	BELLEVUE (0)
Brownlee	L.E.	Nichols

Throckmorton High Defeats Rochester

Special to The Record News.

THROCKMORTON, Texas, Nov. 14.—Avenging themselves elaborately for a 12 to 6 defeat suffered several weeks ago at Rochester, the Throckmorton High school gridders romped over the Rochester High eleven here Friday afternoon before a large crowd for a 62 to 6 victory.

Playing stellar roles in the procession of advances across the enemy goal were H. Craft, C. Baugh, and J. T. Tucker. The game constituted a league victory for the Throckmorton team. Both sides were penalized frequently.

Franklin Elected Head of Junior Conference; Vernon, Denton to Play

W. A. Franklin, principal of Reagan Junior High school, was elected chairman of the Northwest Texas Junior High school football conference for 1931 at a conference meeting held Friday at the Reagan school. Many affairs of the conference that have arisen in the last few weeks were discussed and solved, and plans made for next year's activities of the conference. C. W. Brumbalow, assistant principal of Zundelowitz Junior high, was elected secretary of the conference. The meeting was attended by representatives from junior high schools here, in Denton, Burkburnett and Vernon.

The officials disposed of the problem brought up by Denton and Vernon football coaches in refusing to play a scheduled game at Vernon last week. It was found the coaches had misunderstood a rule of the conference regarding eligibility, and that the game would be played, probably next Thursday.

CORPUS CHRISTI ISSUES CHALLENGE FOR TITLE

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Nov. 14. (UP)—A bid for the state championship among junior high schools will be made by Corpus Christi Junior High, it was announced tonight following a 13 to 0 victory over Rockport Senior High here today.

The challenge was issued to any team to play for the championship.

Financial arrangements stood in the way of assigning a definite date for the game Friday, but officials were confident these matters could be straightened out.

It was announced arrangements probably would be made for a game between the winner of the Northwest Texas conference title, and the Temple, Texas, Junior High team, which claims the championship of Central Texas. Negotiations are now under way for the game, which, it is hoped, will be played Thanksgiving day.

Officials felt confident the new conference was destined to accomplish more than its purpose next year.

The officials of the schools agreed that teams in the conference next year would play a schedule as arranged by a schedule committee appointed by the conference chairman.

Members attending the meeting included: Mr. Franklin, Mr. Brumbalow, Mr. Woods of Denton, M. B. Parnell of Burkburnett, and Coach A. D. Beck of Reagan. Vernon was represented by Mr. Franklin as proxy.

Wayland College Trounces Goodwell A. & M.

Special to The Record News.

PLAINVIEW, Texas, Nov. 14.—Wayland college Jackrabbits chalked up their seventh victory in eight starts this season here this afternoon at the expense of A. & M. of Goodwell, Okla. The final score was 26 to 6. During the first half the teams battled evenly. Both lines showed exceptional strength. Frequent fumbles on part Wayland's back slowed up the game. The half ended 6 to 6. High spots of the contest were Close's 70-yard return of the first punt of the game for a touchdown, and Davis' circus catch of a long heave in the fourth quarter which resulted in a touchdown. Panhandle's lone touchdown was made when Mayfield plunged over on the fourth try from five-yard line where the ball had been placed by the completion of a successful pass.

Valley View Basket Ball Team Defeats Harrold

Special to The Record News.

VALLEY VIEW, Texas, Nov. 14.—The strong Harrold basket ball team went down to defeat tonight at the hands of the Valley View High school cagers. The score was 25 to 17. The game was hard fought throughout.

The Valley View Girls' volley ball team defeated the Mankins team, 62 to 21, in the second event of the evening.

BURK WHIPS HAWKS, 50-0

Ragsdale and His Bulldog Mates Run Wild

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Nov. 14.—Burkburnett High school's Bulldogs took excessive liberties here Friday afternoon with the Iowa Park Hawks, emerging unscathed from a one-hour encounter while scarring the birds savagely by the measure of 50 to 0.

The locals showed no reticence whatever in evincing a complete disdain for dangerous talons which appeared to be somewhat underdeveloped. Salyer and Ragsdale opened up a whirlwind duo of flank attacks after receiving the first kickoff, and within a few breaths had combined on a pass to register the first touchdown. Some moments later this same alert Ragsdale, Bulldog pilot, snared a Hawk pass in full flight, reversed its direction and covered the 35 yards required for a second touchdown. Not content with appropriating the enemy's machinery for use in scoring, Ragsdale finished off his first-half's work a few plays later by a long dash around end for a third counter.

More From Ragsdale

The second portion of the melee produced more Ragsdale tricks. Soon after the kickoff, he circled left end, this time for 40 yards and a touchdown. Distributing the burden of offense, Burkburnett a moment later maneuvered a forward flip into the hands of Johnson, end, who carried it into pay-territory. A pass, Ragsdale to Johnson, added the point.

The sixth Bulldog touchdown resulted from a fumble by Iowa Park on its own 20-yard line, where B. Henderson recovered for the locals. A long pass, Ragsdale to Norvell, completed the act. Number seven resulted a few moments later as a result of a triple pass, Ragsdale to Aulds to Henderson, good for 30 yards.

A fumble by Burkburnett near the end of the game gave the Hawks a life on their own 40-yard stripe, but an ambitious forward pass found its way into the arms of this same Ragsdale. The run which followed was for 40 yards and the final touchdown.

Lead in First Downs

The Bulldogs drew three penalties, for 35 yards, while the Hawks offended but once, being set back five yards. In first downs, the winning eleven registered 12 to Iowa Park's four. Seven completed Burkburnett passes netted a gain of 52 yards, while the Birds connected for three to advance 21 yards.

The lineups:

BULLDOGS (50)	Pos.	IOWA PARK (0)
Marley	L.E.	Watkins
Goodlett	L.T.	Cowart
Preston	L.G.	Thubler
Smith	C.	Berney

Henrietta Cagers Defeat First Presbyterians

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Nov. 14.—The Henrietta High school basket ball team defeated the First Presbyterian church team of Wichita Falls here tonight, 24 to 8. Wilbur Powers, of the Henrietta team, was high-point man of the game, with 14 to his credit.

Stamford Whips Anson to Tie Up District 9 Race

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 14.—Stamford High school's bristling Bulldogs moved into a tie with Haskell in the eastern half of district 9 here Friday afternoon with a smashing 38-0 victory over Anson High school before a banner crowd.

Breaking loose in the first five minutes of play for a touchdown and converted point, Stamford had her opponents well in hand throughout the afternoon. Two more touchdowns came in the second quarter, one in the third, and two more in the final period.

Red Bounds furnished most of the scoring fireworks for the winning eleven, scampering through and around the Anson defense for five trips across the enemy line. Douglas Baker, quarterback, maneuvered the sixth touchdown for Stamford. Comparative strength of the two combinations is reflected in Stamford's allowing Anson but two first downs.

Numerous substitutes were rushed into the play by the locals during the second half, three regulars being in the lineup at the final gun.

Haskell and Stamford now stand with three victories each awaiting the whistle for the game at Haskell next Friday which will make one of them class B champion of this section of district 9. In a recent game with Anson, Haskell came off victor by a score of 13 to 0.

Officials for Friday's game here were: Simms (Baylor), referee; Dillingham (Simmons), head linesman; Daniels (Simmons), umpire; Brook (Sewanee), field judge.

BUCKS BLANK LIONS, 28-0

Shotwell's Men Have Easy Time With Brownwood

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Nov. 14.—Taking advantage of an easy game, Coach P. E. Shotwell's Breckenridge Buckaroos did nothing more than score what they thought was necessary against the Brownwood Lions here this afternoon. The score was 28 to 0. Brownwood was sadly outclassed.

Couser scored two times for the Buckaroos in the first quarter, while Magness scored once in the fourth and passed to Adams for another. Martin and Adams kicked all extra points, Adams kicking three of them.

New Judges Named for Wolf And Dog Rodeo to Be Held Here Sunday

New judges were named Friday for the wolf and dog rodeo to be held Sunday afternoon at Staley field under the auspices of the Elks lodge. The new officials were selected after word had been received that W. R. Hunton of Miles, Texas, president of the Texas Coursing association, would be unable to officiate.

Judges named in his stead were Wid Phillips and Guy Willis of Burkburnett and Eugene Wofford of Lubbock. The men are said to be among the best wolf and dog experts in the Southwest. Wofford is president of the Lubbock Coursing association.

T. E. Camp, manager of the rodeo, said Friday plans for the event were rounding into shape, with more than half a hundred entries already received. A record crowd of dog and wolf fanciers is expected at the event.

Proceeds will be placed in the lodge building fund.

Army Plays Navy Dec. 13; Place of Game Undecided

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 14. (INS)—The Army will meet the Navy in a clash on the gridiron in New York City Dec. 13 for the benefit of the nation's unemployed.

This was definitely decided by officials of the U. S. Naval academy here this afternoon.

The only question yet to be settled is the place. Some have suggested the game be staged in the Yankee stadium and others said the Polo grounds.

A conference tomorrow after the Navy's game with Southern Methodist at Baltimore stadium will decide which field will be selected.

Fairview-Henrietta Game Is Postponed

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Nov. 14.—Through a misunderstanding, the Henrietta football team did not journey to Thrift today to meet the Fairview eleven in a scheduled class B, district No. 3 game. The game probably will be played next week, it was said.

BEARCAT MENTORS EXPECT HARD FIGHT WITH COYOTES TODAY

'LOSING TEAMS HARD TO WHIP'

Pack Has Eyes on Second Victory

The Sherman Bearcats will go into their practice battle with the Coyotes this afternoon at Athletic park with a better record behind them than the Coyotes, but for that very reason the Sherman aggregation is considerably apprehensive as to just what Barry Holton's Pack is going to do to them.

For, as the Sherman coaches, V. Dickey and G. W. Blair expressed it, "It's the losing teams that always have to be watched."

Near Championship

Sherman is tied with Greenville for the championship of its district. The Coyotes are thoroughly in the cellar in district No. 1. Yet the Sherman mentors are not sending any telegrams of victory back home until the final whistle blows today, and maybe they won't then.

Reports that the Sherman Bearcats were to "take it easy" against the Coyotes today in view of the nearness of the Sherman-Greenville battle for the championship, were proved unfounded Friday. It was thought the battle would be fought next week, but next week the Bearcats are to play McKinney, a club considerably lower in the standing than Greenville.

As the Sherman mentor stood among his charges down at Athletic park Friday afternoon he promised his boys would "give everything they have."

Visitors Practice Here

The Sherman gridders arrived here in good time to be on hand for the last stages of the Zundy-Denton game at Athletic park Friday. They were in uniform, and went through a brief signal drill and warm-up after the Junior high game was over.

Coach Holton's charges were also on the sidelines as spectators. They watched with interest the Denton and Zundy teams play, but when the Sherman aggregation lined into the park their eyes shifted.

The Sherman bunch looks powerful. Offhand it seems they are much larger than the Coyotes, but it will take a better comparison to decide. When they line up against the Pack this afternoon, we can tell more about 'em.

Coach Dickey said his Sherman players relied almost entirely on straight football, with passes playing a minor role in his scheme of winning games. He said his team had attempted only about 10 passes the whole season, the team being without a player who could toss the pigskin well enough.

Another Opportunity

The Coyotes regard the Sherman game as an excellent opportunity to register their second win of the season, whether the victory will count in the standings or not, and further they hope to profit by the experience the game will offer in order that they may be in first class shape to meet the Pampa Harvesters next week. The game will be played at Pampa Thursday. Toward Pampa and toward the Amarillo Sandies the eyes of the Coyotes are focused. If they can whip either, their reputation is made. The preliminaries in the march toward this reputation will be staged this afternoon in the practice skirmish with Sherman.

The starting lineups probably will be as follows:

WICHITA FALLS	Position	SHERMAN
Greenwood	LE	Reynolds
Gough	LT	Collins
Hudgens	LG	Daniels
King	C	Fortner
Sepkovitch	RG	Hughes
Daniel	RT	Casteel
Holton	RE	Mitchell
Cox	QB	Duvall
Ray	LH	Cox
Withrow	RH	Coker
White	FB	Davis

Time: 2:30 o'clock today.
Place: Athletic park.

Aggies Go Through Final Workout

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 14. (AP)—Coach Matty Bell sent his Texas Aggies through a light workout today in final preparation for their last home game of the season with the Rice Owls here tomorrow.

Today's warm sunshine coming on the heels of last night's shower gave promise of pleasant weather for the annual clash. A special train from Houston, is due to arrive at noon tomorrow. With today's sun drying the roads, many supporters of both the Aggies and the Houston team were expected to come by auto.

All of the Bellmen were in good condition except Captain "Bull" Floyd, fullback, who was not expected to play. Lord, brilliant sophomore guard who was unable to get into the S. M. U. game, was expected to start.

The Aggies have not won a conference game this season and the Owls have copped only one.

Lamesa Comes Back To Whip Rotan, 18-0

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, Texas, Nov. 14.—The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, after dropping the annual classic to Slaton here Tuesday, 12 to 0, came back to defeat the Rotan Yellow Hammers, 18 to 0, here this afternoon. The game was sluggish and did not show the type of football either team is capable of playing. The Tornadoes' next game will be with Post here Thanksgiving.

Spur Runs Wild Against Estelline for 142-0 Win

Special to The Record News.

SPUR, Texas, Nov. 14.—Showing their usual power the Spur Bulldogs ran wild today again and defeated Estelline, 142 to 0. Barrett, Puckett, Rickles, Jim and Joe Hahn all scored. Chapman and Buster Morgan were line stars for Spur. Hinton and Berry were Estelline's best.

Hollis Tigers Beat Erick Eleven, 18 to 0

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., Nov. 14.—The Hollis Tigers defeated Erick Bulldogs today, 18 to 0. Sims Burkett and Abernethy made the scores. Second string men played the last half for Hollis.

SPRINTER IS HOPE OF T. C. U.

If He Fails Steers Will Win, Says Talbot

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 14.—What will Cy Leland do?

That, in this column's humble opinion, is the burning question in attempting to foretell the outcome of the impending Frog-Longhorn melee at Fort Worth Saturday.

If the fleet Texas Christian quarterback plays just an average football game, as he has so far this season, the University of Texas stands to win as convincingly as it has over Southern Methodist and Baylor in its last two starts.

But, should Cyrus suddenly become the full-blown tornado he was this time a year ago, the champions would have an excellent chance of stampeding the mighty Longhorns and sewing up their second title.

He Picks the Steers

In other words, if it were not for the remote possibility that Leland will "find" himself and carry that ball as of yore, the writer would pick the Steers to win without a moment's hesitation. As it is, we will go on record as hesitating two minutes, taking three deep breaths and choosing the Longhorns, anyway.

Leland's chances of duplicating last year's performance against the Steers, when he broke their hearts with a 90-yard kick-off return, are not so good. In the first place, the present Texas eleven is not the kind of team that lets any opposing back go gallivanting around for long. They are hard, accurate tacklers. In the second place, Cy has displayed no disposition to get away on his long gallops this year.

Without Cy to lend them inspiration and break down their opponents' morale, the Frogs likely will find themselves in the predicament of an aviator trying to fly the Atlantic on four gallons of gas—high but not dry. Just an average offense can get nowhere against the Longhorns, as the Mustangs and Bears have discovered the last two Saturdays. They shot their best weapons until they positively were blunt, only to end up about where they started. The Frogs, for a fact, will have to produce something rich, rare and racy if they ever cross the Steer goal line.

Hard to Match

As for all-around effectiveness, it is difficult to see how the champions can place a backfield on the field to match the Texas quartet of Elkins, Stafford, Shelley and Koy. That is, providing Leland plays his normal 1930 game. When he has a few of his mad moments, of course, he is capable of matching anybody's backfield all by himself.

The opposing lines will have to be called a stand-off until Saturday's tilt proves otherwise. Both sets of forwards are young and full of vim. It is noteworthy that all four of the opposing tackles will be sophomores.

No matter how his Frogs fare Saturday, Coach Francis Schmidt has compiled a great record since he took hold of T. C. U. athletics, one that is likely to stand a lot of wear and tear. He has yet to send a losing football team on the football field after almost two full seasons.

Last Year's Record

Last year, under the Schmidt regime, the Frogs won nine games and tied one, running up 249 points to opponents' 33. So far this year they have won eight and tied one, scoring 271 points to 7 scored against them. That totals 520 points to 40 in 19 games, which is quite a total any way you take it.

It is interesting to note that the last defeat suffered by a Christian eleven was at the hands of the same Texas Longhorns they play Saturday. It occurred Nov. 17, 1928, and the score was 6-0. Captain Shelley is the only member of the present Longhorn eleven who had a hand in the victory.

The next week the Frogs launched a string of triumphs that has yet to be broken.

A week of ultra-secret practice behind them, the Longhorns and the Horned Frogs have announced ready for tomorrow's vital battle at Fort Worth.

Although the Christians have forged steadily through their schedule so far, marking up their third conference triumph at the expense of Rice, 20 to 0, last week, they meet in the Longhorns an eleven that has made a more sensational showing for the last month. In that time the heavy Steers have polished off three major opponents, Baylor, Southern Methodist and the Oklahoma Sooners, leaders of the Big Six. They lost to Rice, 6 to 0, on a fumbled punt, but compiled 13 first down to four for the Owls.

Both teams have practiced in utmost seclusion this week, even the usual faculty permits being rescinded. The fact has given rise to the prediction that both will spring new and tricky attacks tomorrow. Many observers believe Coach Francis Schmidt of the Frogs has been saving up a few "touchdown" plays that feature his ace ball-carrier, Cy Leland, just for the Longhorns. A pair of long dashes by the Frog flash had much to do with beating the Steers, 15 to 12, a year ago.

A third Southwest conference eleven, beaten in its own sector, will have the distinction of playing in one of tomorrow's feature frays on the Atlantic seaboard. The Southern Methodist Mustangs, who are well remembered by eastern fans for a sensational stand against Army's strong 1928 eleven, will loose their aerial bombardment against the Navy at Baltimore. Coach Ray Morrison indicated his team will try its hand at "power" football against the Middies, but he must not be taken too seriously. As long as there is a football around the premises, the Ponies can be counted upon to throw it.

Prospects are the Mustangs will further enhance the Southwest's gridiron prestige. Unfortunately, however, they are playing a Navy eleven that has not been doing so well, and will have to win by a fairly decisive score to make the right impression. Several hundred Texas rooters and the school's famous "Peruna" band will be there to pep up the Ponyites. A fast and furious two-day drive saw $5,000 raised here to send the band to Baltimore.

A pair of other conference tilts scheduled tomorrow have been shoved into the background by the big tussle at Fort Worth. The Texas Aggies will entertain Rice's Owls at College Station and the Baylor Bears tackle the Arkansas Razorbacks at Fayetteville, but the results will mean little or nothing in the title race. All four teams were beaten last week.

The Razorbacks will close their conference schedule against Baylor. A win would give them a final percentage of .750 and an outside chance of finishing in a tie for the championship. The squad is pretty well crippled, however, and Baylor rates a favorite on the strength of its stubborn stand against Texas last week. The Aggies, playing on home soil, have been granted an edge over Rice, but there is little in their respective records to indicate the winner.

The standing:

	W	L	T	Pct.
Texas Christian	3	0	0	1.000
Texas	2	1	0	.667
Arkansas	2	1	0	.667
Southern Methodist	1	1	1	.500
Rice	1	2	0	.333
Baylor	0	1	1	.250
Texas A. & M.	0	2	0	.000

GOOD WEATHER FOR FROG GAME PREDICTED

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP)—Bright cool weather and a record crowd of 25,000 appeared tonight to be assured for tomorrow's football game here between the University of Texas Longhorns and the Texas Christian's Horned Frogs.

The light shower Thursday night was just enough to put the gridiron in perfect condition and if the weather man's prediction of a mildly cool afternoon proves correct, the contest will be staged in an ideal setting. More than 5,000 of the stadium's seats were still unsold when the ticket offices closed tonight and there was little prospect of a sell-out, but the advance sale plus the weather prospect indicated the previous high mark of 22,000 set at the Southern Methodist university game here last year will be bettered.

Pampa Harvesters Look Forward To Next Week's Clash With Coyotes

Special to The Record News.

PAMPA, Texas, Nov. 14.—Their most formidable conference foe eliminated in the crushing Armistice day defeat of Childress here, 71 to 0, the Pampa Harvesters are looking forward to next Thursday's contest with the Wichita Falls Coyotes and to the Thanksgiving tilt with Quanah's Indians.

The powerful aggregation coached by Odus Mitchell did not look quite so formidable when it appeared for practice Monday afternoon. Albert Lard, quarterback and fastest of the Four Horsemen, was on crutches as a result of aggravating an old knee injury. This hurt is separate from the carbuncle which put him out of action for two weeks recently. He may be able to start against the Coyotes, but if he is not he will be replaced by little Joe Kahl, the atomic TNT who ran riot through the Childress defense Nov. 11.

Has Grid Instinct

Kahl weighs 136 but is as fast as Lard, has a deceptive change of pace, and has the grid instinct. He is admittedly the hardest tackler on the squad, hitting very low with every pound counting. However, he lacks Lard's experience and precision in working with the other three Horsemen — Martindale, Chastain, and Captain Saulsbury.

The Pampa captian suffered knee bruises and a sprained wrist in the Childress game, but these will not keep him from line-busting as usual. He loafed Monday and planned to do little the rest of the week. Burch, giant linesman, limped from the field with a sprained ankle Nov. 11 and must shield his underpinning for several days. Other members of the squad are unhurt and are scholastically making the grade.

As the season's end approaches Coach Mitchell is getting away from the deceptive criss-cross play which he featured last season and early in this. End runs and off tackle smashes were used frequently against Childress and both proved effective as the big line opened huge holes. The air attack continues to be held to a minimum. The defense against passing appears to be based on the idea of intercepting and scoring behind a fast-forming interference.

Looking beyond the Thansgiving conference finale, Pampa high is seeking a hard post-season contest to replenish the coffers of the athletic association. Abilene Eagles were challenged, but a negative reply was received promptly. Cisco likely will be invited to invade another oil belt. Coach Mitchell also has plans to meet Amarillo should the Sandies be defeated in the bi-district clash.

Fans Disappointed

Repeated heavy scoring sprees by the Harvesters have made Amarillo very content with her 2-0 mud victory, but have made local fans dissatisfied with the season. With the Four Horsemen due to be broken up by graduation of three members, fans wish to see the Sandies defeated on a dry field before local football fortunes reach the inevitable cycle of low tides.

In six conference games of their first year's competition the Harvesters have scored 239 points to 24 for their opponents. The score follows: Pampa 12, Lubbock 9; Pampa 0, Amarillo 2; Pampa 77, Plainview 0; Pampa 32, Vernon 0; Pampa 47, Electra 13; Pampa 71, Childress 0.

THERE SHE BLOWS!

THE fabulous white whale—Moby Dick—couldn't give a better exhibition of high-pressure spouting than many a car you see on a cold winter's day. When a car spouts steam in freezing weather, the chances are it has a frozen radiator. Either that or a nearly empty one.

Avoid that costly hazard this winter, with a single filling of Eveready Prestone, the ONE-SHOT anti-freeze. It gives you lasting peace-of-mind!

Passes rigid scientific tests

A motor authority, the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, reports, "Our tests show conclusively that Eveready Prestone gives complete protection against low temperatures, does not corrode, will not boil off when used in an automobile, is odorless, non-inflammable and will serve as an anti-freeze with unimpaired efficiency throughout the coldest winter season."

Constant research by the Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation laboratories has further increased the efficiency of Eveready Prestone. This year it is actually superior to the Eveready Prestone which more than a million motorists used to their complete satisfaction last year. So that you may easily identify Eveready Prestone, it is now green in color.

Economy Plus Protection

The economy of using Eveready Prestone lies in these two facts: 1. A single filling will last all winter, irrespective of temperature-fluctuations. 2. Eveready Prestone is an undiluted anti-freeze. Compared with other anti-freezes, a considerably smaller quantity is required to give your car complete all-winter protection. For example, if the radiator capacity of your car is three gallons, you can get complete protection from early fall to late spring for a cost of $2.50 to $7.50, depending on whether you live in a moderate or extreme climate.

Go to your dealer or garage-man, before he gets swamped with work during the first cold snap. Have him prepare your car for winter, taking the simple precautions necessary to make the cooling-system water-tight.

You can put Eveready Prestone in today. It's always in tune with the temperature.

Tune in the Eveready Hour, every Tuesday evening at nine (Eastern standard time) over the N. B. C. network.

9 POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

1. Gives complete protection.
2. Does not boil off.
3. Positively will not damage cooling-system.
4. Will not heat-up a motor.
5. Circulates freely at the lowest operating temperatures.
6. Will not affect paint, varnish, or lacquer finishes.
7. Non-inflammable.
8. Odorless.
9. Economical — one filling lasts all winter.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—Rather nervous and irregular fluctuation occurred in the cotton market here today, with alternating spurts of buying and selling which, however, left the market net higher for the day.

After selling up from an irregular opening the market declined under realizing or liquidation but stiffened up again on a renewal of trade buying and covering. March contracts after advancing from 11.35 to 11.51 broke to 11.35; advanced to 11.60 and closed at 11.45. The general market closed easy at net advances of 5 to 14 points.

There was some early selling on the relatively easy ruling of Liverpool and sentiment may have been somewhat unsettled by confusing rumors concerning possible changes in the federal farm board or its policies. These rumors, however, were not confirmed and the market soon steadied up on reports of trade buying particularly in the spring months and covering.

The action of the stock market and the sharp advance in copper which some traders seemed to regard as indicating an improvement in the commodity situation probably contributed to the sharp afternoon advance and there were reports of some western as well as Wall street and local buying in cotton. The census report showing domestic consumption of 444,494 bales for October against 594,321 in September and 639,759 in October last year was without apparent effect on the immediate market, and readjustments of the technical position were considered partly responsible for the fluctuations.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and liquidation in that market exports today 44,315, making 2,681,528 so far this season. Port receipts 70,767. U. S. port stocks 3,941,847.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14. (AP)—Cotton was quieter today than has been the rule of late and prices while fluctuating within a fairly wide range developed no definite trend and finally closed at a trifling advance for the day. Despite unfavorable cables the market after a slight responsive drop at the start advanced 9 to 11 points in early trading on firmer stocks and a favorable view of the domestic consumption for October which the census bureau announced as 444,494 bales exclusive of linters.

After reacting 10 to 14 points from the highs near noon on a bearish view of the weekly statistics, the market rallied sharply in the late trading owing to the advance in stocks reaching highs, 26 to 27 points above the lows with December at 11.17 and January at 11.32. Right at the end, however, the market broke 15 to 19 points on realizing and liquidation. The close was barely steady, the general market showing net gains for the day of only 1 to 4 points.

Liverpool came in 3 to 6 penny points worse than due and opening trades here showed losses of 9 to 10 points. Private cables reported hedging selling and general liquidation. Manchester reported a better cloth inquiry from India. Although the consumption figures for October were regarded as bullish by many traders some were disposed to regard them as bearish as compared with the large total of 639,739 bales in October last year. Hester's weekly statistics were also regarded as bearish, particularly the movement into sight. The advance in stocks was the main influence in the afternoon advance and there was no very convincing explanation for the sharp break which occurred at the end when December dropped from 11.17 to 10.98, a decline from the high of 19 points. The most generally accepted explanation was profit taking and liquidation coupled with a weakened technical position.

Port receipts 86,806, for week 392,033, for season 5,296,278, last season 5,059,656. Exports 45,869, for week 193,991, for season 2,628,036, last season 2,661,932. Port stocks 3,981,315, last year 2,528,395. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 168,587, last year 169,003. Spot sales at southern market 31,029, last year 35,739.

Advance of Stocks Gains Momentum While Entire List Looks Healthier

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (US)—The advance in the stock market gained additional momentum today and virtually the entire list established new high prices for the recovery.

Again, as on the previous three days of the present upturn, the gains were scored on a broad front, including the representatives of all groups. With the market demonstrating its ability not only to hold the previous gain but to add substantially to the recovery, many skeptics were won over to the bull side, and certainly the short interest was considerably impressed.

No run-away advance was experienced in any particular issue, emphasizing the far different sponsorship which the market seemingly is enjoying as contrasted with the whoopee activities of the spring and even in the later attempts to impart confidence to the market.

Except for a further one-cent advance in Copper, to 12 cents a pound, commodities played little part in today's stock market, except insofar as speculators and investors were inclined to look more favorably upon the entire commodity outlook.

The Copper shares again were favored by aggressive demand, but in the later stage of their advance the buying assumed a more speculative character than the informed buying of the past fortnight. The rapid advance in the price of the metal might bring about an undesired reaction if carried to unwarranted extent, since many marginal producers would be permitted to maintain operations and thereby threaten the curtailment program. However, the stock market, as reflecting general sentiment, is inclined to accept the change in the Copper situation as possibly marking the definite turn in the entire business world. Certainly, it will influence other industries to attempt stabilization by somewhat similar measures.

The market is fully cognizant of the significance of the Copper news, and is awaiting only a few more signs of undebatable improvement in major industries to accept a growing verdict that the worst stage has been passed.

In many directions, it was quite evident that short covering was contributing considerably to the strength of various stocks. This was particularly the case in many Utilities which harbor extensive short accounts. Although the leading bears have been relatively inactive for several days, the large scattered short interest received little encouragement from the market's action since, after periods of hesitation, the uptrend was resumed.

[illegible] in the motion picture stocks, which had been backward in the early trading, improvement set in, Loew's closing up over a point.

Steel common, which had been a laggard, moved to a new high on reports that an increase in Steel prices is planned by the leading companies. The stock closed at a new high on the recovery, up almost nine points from its low of the year. American Can again proved an influential leader on the upside, but its improvement was stricted to just over a point. It is the manner in which the leading stocks advance into new high ground, only moderately but nevertheless steadily, that is confounding critics of the market, since this action indicates market sponsorship of the most intelligent character.

American Telephone, whose influence on sentiment is fully recognized, likewise advanced into new high territory; Consolidated Gas was up 2½ points. Under the cover of the sustained strength in the big, standard stocks, numerous "jiggles" were commenced in so-called "cheap" stocks, whose quotations in many instances represent true values rather than undue depression.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP)—Demand for sorghums was slightly improved on the Fort Worth cash grain market Friday. Other grains continued very slow. Prices were largely nominal. No. 1 hard wheat of any protein was probably worth about 80½@81½c, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, but any great amount of it would have been hard to sell. Estimated receipts: Wheat, 4 cars; corn, 6; oats, 5; barley, 2, and sorghums, 10 cars.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 80@81c; No. 2 white 85@86c; No. 2 yellow 84½@85c.

Oats—No. 2 red 46½@47½c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points, 43@43½c, to which add one cent for delivery group three.

Barley—No. 2, 60@61c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.20@1.22; No. 3 kaffir $1.17@1.19.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Despite surprising relative strength shown by prices for December delivery of wheat here, the wheat market as a whole averaged much lower today. General belief was expressed that farm board allies were purchasing December wheat on a large scale. On the other hand, Canada's 1930 wheat yield was officially estimated as 11,000,000 bushels larger than forecast in September, and Canadian country marketings for 24 hours totaled 2,143,000 bushels against 786,000 a year ago.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at ¼@2c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1⅝@2¼c down, oats ¼@⅝c off, and provisions showing 12@42c drop.

As a result of the uneven character of wheat price changes, December wheat at times showed gains compared with yesterday's finish, whereas quotations for other deliveries were tending heavily donwward. During most of today wheat showed a decided downward slant, owing a good deal to unlooked for setbacks in prices at Liverpool.

Corn and oats values suffered in sympathy with wheat weakness. A break of 3@5c in premiums for white corn was witnessed, and there was a further decline in prices for mill feeds.

Provisions went lower with grain, despite steadiness of hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Dec. 70⅝c, 74⅛@75c; Mar. 72¼c, 75⅝c; May 72⅛@72⅜c, 76⅜@76⅞c; July 75⅝c, 77½c. Corn—Dec. 69⅛c, 72⅛@72⅝c; Mar. 72⅛c, 76⅛c; May 72¼c, 77½c; July (offers) 78⅛c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (US)—Sentiment toward wheat grew more unsettled as the unprecedented action of the December featured the trading today. Many speculators were inclined to view with alarm the widening difference between Chicago and outside markets, which suggests possibilities of shipments from other terminals.

Some traders went so far as to infer that the weakness in Winnipeg and relative strength here presaged some development which would be favorable to domestic wheat holders and unfavorable to Canadian holders. The simpler explanation of the divergent movement of the two markets was that it was the result of back-spreading, with the Winnipeg market too weak to absorb readily the resultant sales.

There were some reports from Canada to the effect that an unusually large export business has been put through during the past week, though no figures were forthcoming. Shipments from Fort William are heavy and clearances from Vancouver are large.

Bradstreet's estimated North American clearances for the week at 6,671,000 bushels, compared with 6,851,000 bushels for the previous week, the total for the season now being placed at 48,000,000 more than a year ago.

Exports of old wheat from Argentina continue on a small scale, but offerings of the new crop in advance of harvest are increasing, according to Broomhall.

TURKEY PRICES

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 14. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Receipts of live turkeys at all dressing plants were heavy. Prices delivered remained practically unchanged at 16@17c per pound for young toms and hens, with few paying half-cent over the top. The usual differential of 4c less for old toms and 7@8c less on No. 2s is made. Demand for dressed stock was active Thursday with buyers taking nearly all offerings. Market was firm to slightly stronger. Best quality sold in carlots at 25½@26c with some dealers asking 26½c per pound. Poorer quality ranged 24@25c. Rain over production area last night may curtail receipts today. Dealers anticipating brisk demand.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 14. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Hog trade around the 11-market circuit was fairly active at prices unevenly steady to 15c lower as compared with Thursday's average. The top of $8.70 was paid at Chicago. Offerings were around 75,500.

Fat lambs were on a steady to 25c lower basis with current prices at most points the lowest of the season. City butchers in Chicago purchased a few choice natives up to $7.90. The supply numbered around 28,400.

Receipts of cattle were estimated at 11,400. Limited trading on killing cattle was carried on at values around steady with the week's uneven decline. Eastern dressed beef continues sluggish and with an approaching holiday making for increased consumption of poultry no improvement can be expected.

Taxi With Thug In Tow Breaks Law In Hunt for Cop

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 14. (AP)—Lyman Hinkley, taxicab driver, found he had a robber for a passenger last night but he broke all the traffic laws he could think of and couldn't find a policeman.

He drove through red lights, ignored boulevard stop signs and turned his headlights bright in the hope a policeman would stop him and arrest the robber-passenger. He got almost as far as the police station before the holdup man made him stop, took $2.20 of his money and got out.

The robber hailed another car, cautioning the driver to be careful about breaking the law. The second driver jumped from his seat and ran for a policeman. More fortunate than the first, he found one; and the robber, who gave the name of Thomas Rolando, was arrested.

Olney Fills Chest With Needed Garments

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Nov. 14.—Olney's clothes depot is fast being filled, according to announcement made today by Mrs. Charles Norton, chairman, community chest clothes committee.

"The response was more liberal than we expected," she said, "and distribution of garments to the poor will be made only after careful investigations. It is our desire to prevent sickness and provide comforts for women and children through the winter," Mrs. Norton said.

Home Gas Consumer 'Backbone' of Industry

DALLAS, Nov. 14. (AP)—The domestic consumer who uses gas in his home is the backbone of the gas industry, James F. Orr of the Houston Gas and Fuel company, told the Southwest Natural Gas conference today. Sales heads and operating executives from Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas were here.

Other speakers included C. B. Wilson of the Southern Cities Distributing company, Shreveport, and S. M. Apperson of the Austin Gas company.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—Cotton goods markets were unchanged and quiet here today, with some light inquiry heard for print cloths and sheetings, some demand also for cotton voiles. Spot burlaps were off 5 points, with future shipments off 10 points on light and 5 points on heavy weights. Sellers reported more interest in 80 denier rayon yarns and 50 denier specialty yarns. Raw silks were active and advancing here in Japan; silk merchandise dull, and hosiery buying off in anticipation of more price cuts. Shantungs were favored for spring selling.

Rioting Charges Against Two Oklahomans Dropped

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 14. (AP)—Charges of rioting against J. R. Whidden and R. T. Pierce, growing out of a communist demonstration against Secretary of War Hurley when he was here several weeks ago, were dismissed today by Leo B. White, justice of the peace, when witnesses failed to appear. The two leaped on the running board of Hurley's car and attempted to harangue him.

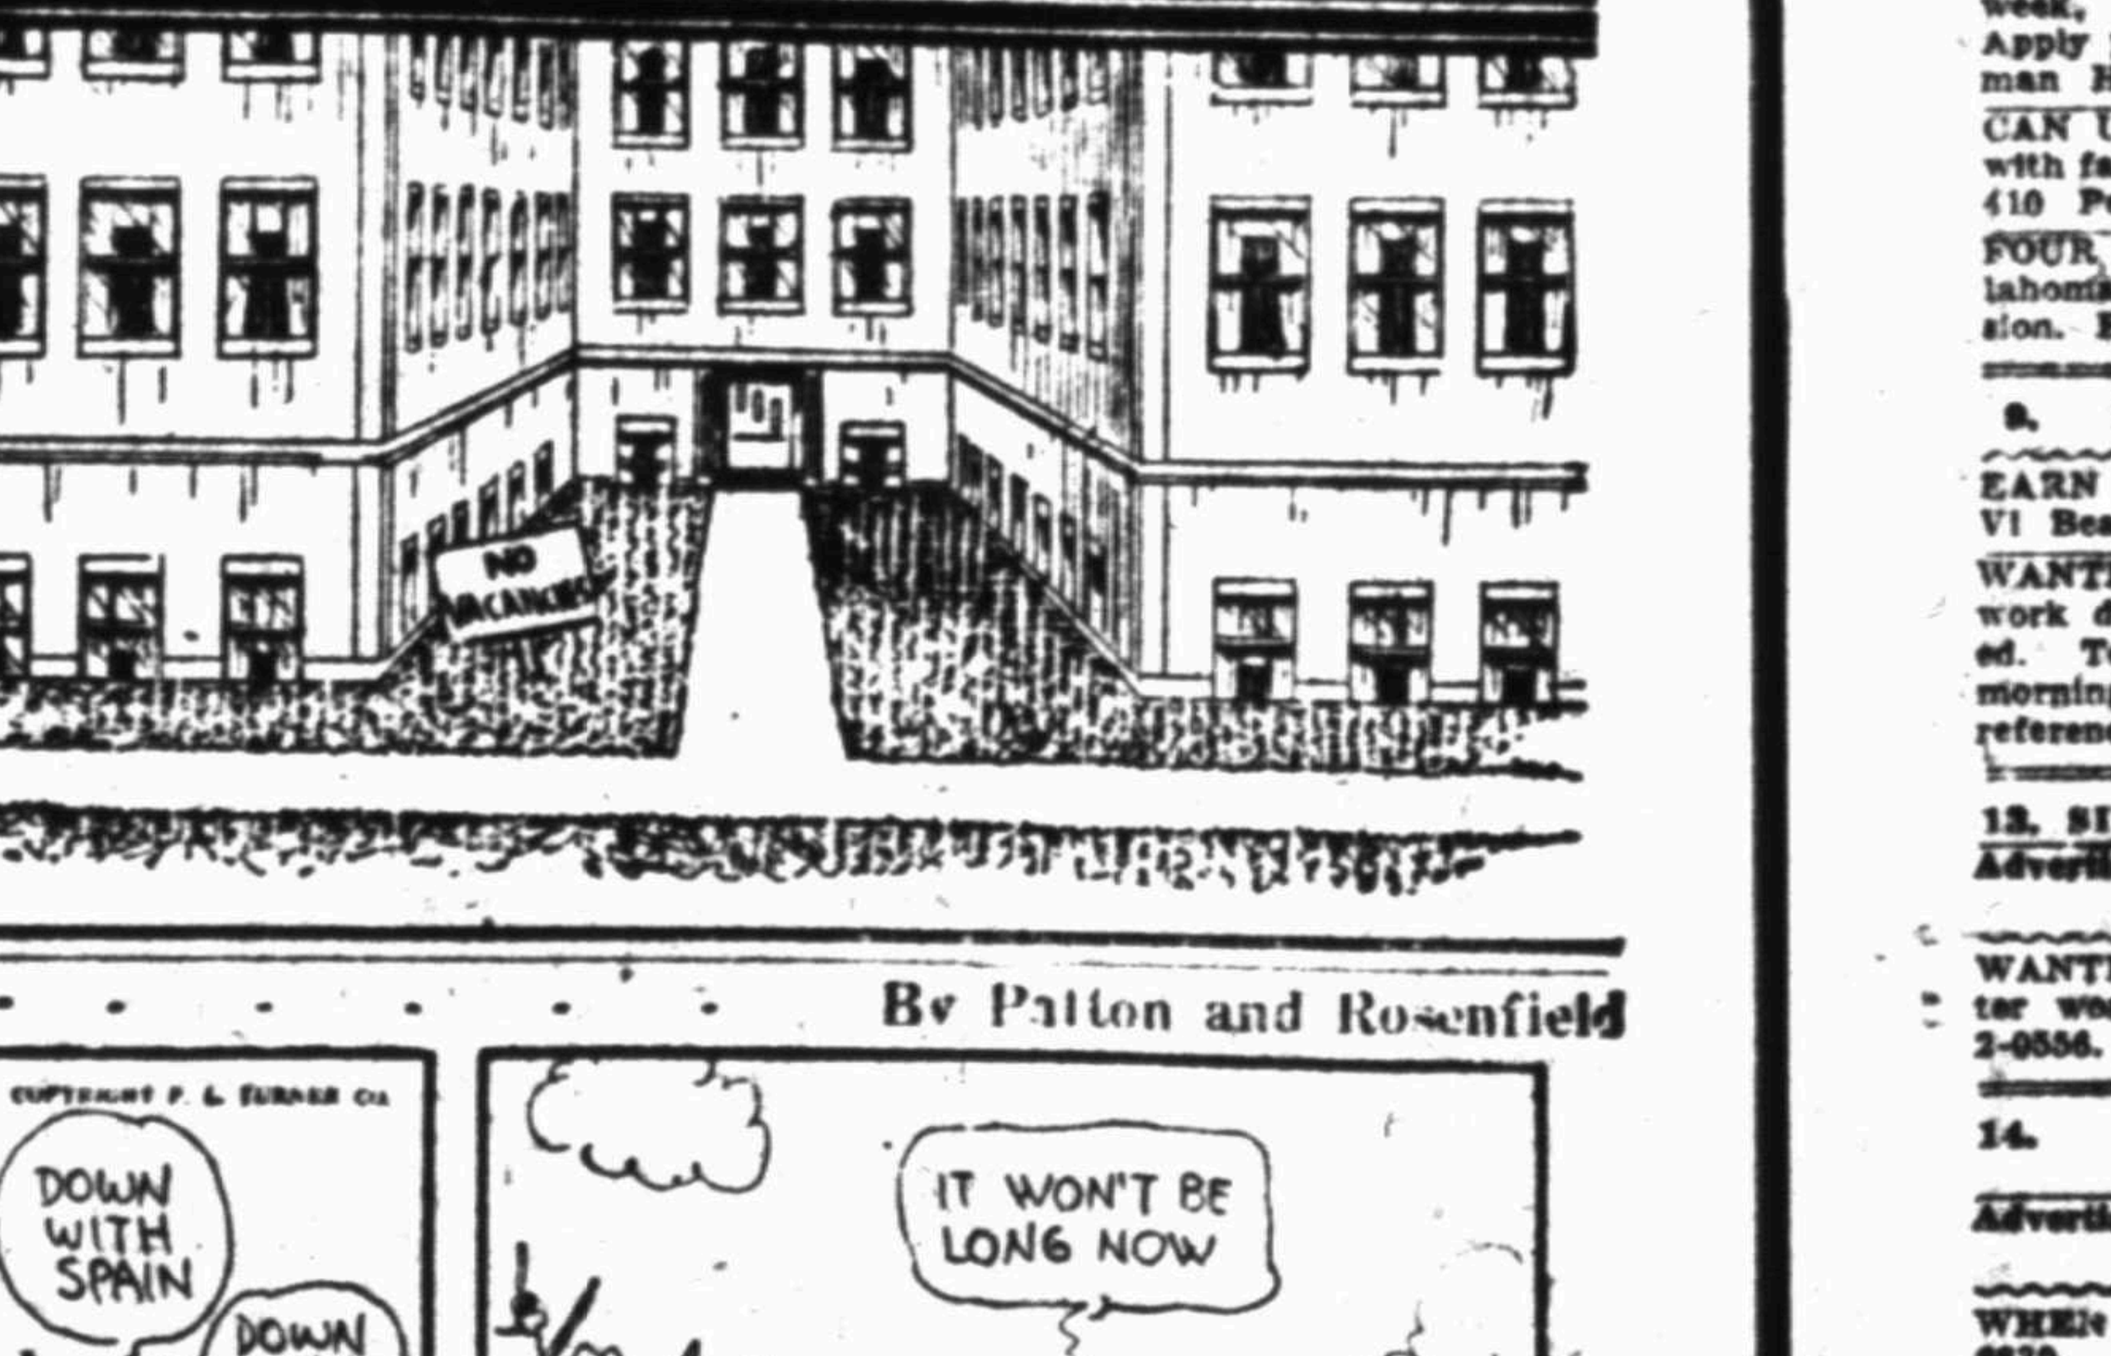

Not a Thing in the World to Worry About

His property is all rented for another year, not only the apartments but the garages, too. The cost to him for the service was ridiculously small, and so many prospects were interested that he was able to take his CHOICE of tenant.

The REASON? Easy! He used a Daily Times-Record News Rental Ad to carry his announcement to prospects. Your property can be rented, too.

NEW SURVEY OF ROAD ASKED

State Asked to Change Highway 5 Route

A survey for a second right of way through Montague county for state highway No. 5 from Texarkana through East Texas cities to West Texas is to be asked of the highway commission by highway officials who met in Henrietta Friday to further plans for a continuous route over the road, according to Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, who attended the meet Friday with Ray Mann of the Panhandle Refining company.

The present survey in Montague county places the proposed right of way a short distance south of the route now being used, it was said. Montague county commissioners expressed dissatisfaction with the first survey and requested that a second survey, which was authorized by the highway commission in March, be made.

About 45 representatives were present from counties east of Wichita Falls to Texarkana through which highway No. 5 runs. The session continued into the afternoon, it was stated, although a second survey through Montague county was expected to solve difficulties now confronting the continuance of the paving westward from Gainesville.

Liquor Cases Prepared For Federal Court

Preparation for the opening of United States district court here next Monday morning by Judge William H. Atwell was marked Friday by the filing of 19 informations in liquor cases here by E. Crippen, assistant United States district attorney.

A large number of informations remain to be filed before the work of the court gets under way next week, it was said. Following the impaneling of a grand jury Monday morning and the swearing in of petit jurors, trial of criminal cases may be started Monday afternoon, it was indicated.

Five Cases Scheduled For Archer City Court

Five cases will comprise the Archer county criminal docket of the 30th district court which will be in session next week in Archer City next week with Judge Allan D. Montgomery on the bench.

According to District Attorney Sam B. Spence, the following cases will be tried: Melvin Faulk, burglary; W. T. Nichols, swindling; Paul Schenk, whisky case; C. T. Guest, cattle theft, and a liquor case against a couple.

MAJESTIC: Special Saturday morning matinee of "Tom Sawyer." "Madame Satan," opening Saturday noon. Short subjects and sound news.

STRAND: "Whoopee" with Eddie Cantor. Short subjects and sound news.

STATE: Victor McLaglen in "A Devil With the Women." Ginger Rogers novelty, comedy, serial and sound news.

GEM: "Roaring Ranch" with Hoot Gibson. Chapter 9 of "The Indians Are Coming." Comedy.

"Whoopee" is an excellent example of the successful way to handle a plot in a musical comedy—only now and then in the most insignificant manner. The chief end of the play is humor, and Eddie Cantor reaches that end as no one else can do with typical wisecracks and songs.

With the exception of the skunk story, which is at least two years old, the gags are newer than could be expected from a long-run stage show which finally evolved into a screen musical comedy. As for the songs, there aren't any better than "Makin' Whoopee," "A Girl Friend of a Boy Friend of Mine" and "My Girl Don't Care."

◇ ◇ ◇

Eddie Cantor's Yiddish impersonation of an Indian is one of the high spots in the picture, as is his sudden black-face appearance from the kitchen stove and his consequent singing. The scene in which Eddie and his companion compare operation scars is in the same classification.

◇ ◇ ◇

"Risque at all times and often bordering on downright naughtiness," says the Dallas Dispatch critic of "Strictly Dishonorable," which will show here Monday night. "Had the lines been spoken in someone's drawing room there would surely have been some insulted listeners, but Monday night's audience merely laughed—and waited for more."

◇ ◇ ◇

No better advertising could be written. "Risque" can't be beaten for a catch-word in advertising, with the possible exception of "naughty." Nobody wants to miss anything—especially if it is in the line of what the Dallas critic calls "seductive entertainment."

◇ ◇ ◇

In order that no child will be compelled to miss the classic, "Tom Sawyer," which just closed a three-day engagement at the Majestic, Manager Victor B. Lowery has arranged for a special morning matinee Saturday. There will be no advance in prices for the matinee, the sole purpose being the reaching of more children than those who were able to pack into the theater on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The box office will be open at 10 o'clock and the picture will start at 10:30 Saturday morning.

◇ ◇ ◇

"Tom Sawyer," incidentally, has not yet been shown in any city in this territory, Wichita Falls securing the first, and thus far the only print assigned to Texas.

The Great Lakes form the largest body of fresh water in the world, with an area exceeding 90,000 square miles.

BRIDE QUIZZED IN GANG PROBE

Suspected Trio Wanted In Muskogee

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Fern Bolsom Evans, 21-year-old bride, was subjected to a cross-fire of questioning by detectives today as a suspect of membership in a gang accused of many robberies and burglaries in midwest cities. Her husband escaped police at Selem, Ohio, last night amid a volley of bullets. She and his brother were arrested there.

The trio were located through a tip from Detroit police who hold an alleged accomplice. Police of Muskogee, Okla., also seek the suspects, believing they are wanted in Oklahoma on charges of burglary and assault to kill.

Police found three guns in the apartment where Mrs. Evans said they had been living in Cleveland, but she denied that she or her husband were involved in the career of crime of which they are suspected. After she was married three months ago, Mrs. Evans said, her husband told her he once served five years in Mansfield reformatory for a robbery conviction. Since then she has been with him on long automobile trips to Colorado, Phoenix, Detroit, Florida and Oklahoma, she said.

200 Names Drawn For December Jury Service

Names of 200 men were drawn Friday morning in the presence of Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district by Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, district clerk, and Sheriff W. G. Bralley as jury panels for the weeks of Dec. 8 and Dec. 15.

The second and third weeks in December will form the last period of 1930 for trial by jury, Judge Martin said, the week of Christmas having been designated as a non-jury week.

FOR KIDS

'Tom Sawyer' in Final Showing Saturday At 10:30 a. m.

Because hundreds of children have packed the theater for every performance of "Tom Sawyer" and because Victor B. Lowrey, manager of the Majestic theater, is not sure that all the children have seen the picture, the film is being held over for a special children's matinee Saturday morning at 10:30, it was announced Friday.

"Tom Sawyer," featuring Jackie Coogan, Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin, is easily the most popular picture yet shown here, so far as children are concerned.

The box office will open at 10 a. m., and the picture is scheduled to start 30 minutes later. There will be no advance in prices.

Wichitans Attend Conoco School

Three officials of the Wichita Falls division of the marketing department of the Continental Oil company are attending a unique training center and sales school at Ponca City this week and next.

The three, T. H. Lawson and G. J. Brothers, Wichita Falls, and H. O. Wood, Childress, are among a group of 166 division managers and district superintendents selected from various divisions throughout the country to receive this special two weeks training course.

This is the first time Continental Oil has attempted to conduct a training school but it is planned to extend the work to ultimately include the entire personnel of the company.

Among the subjects to be studied by the visiting officials are refinery processes, engineering problems, fuels and ethyl gasoline, bulk plant and service station operation and sales technique. Each subject will be augmented with practical demonstrations.

Lions at Electra Make Thanksgiving Donations

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 14.—The Lions club has voted not to hold their luncheon on Thanksgiving day. Instead they will sponsor the donation, through the local charity board, of hens to needy families for their Thanksgiving dinner. J. P. Doherty, C. W. Coffey and F. M. Baker have been appointed as a committee to make the arrangements.

THIS IS THE FIFTEENTH PUZZLE IN TIMES-RECORD NEWS "SCRAMBLED LETTER CONTEST"

This Is The Letter

O

The Times-Record News is conducting one of the most absorbing contests ever designed for the entertainment of its readers. To stimulate interest in it, and to make it a profitable as well as an enjoyable pastime for the next few weeks, a grand total of 39 prizes aggregating $100 will be awarded for the winning solutions.

Every other day there will be printed a letter of the alphabet in scrambled form, similar to the "O" above. These scrambled sections, when cut apart and properly assembled, will form the accompanying letter indicated. Each letter will be printed once in The Times and Record News.

This new game is extremely fascinating. It requires a high degree of skill to arrange these apparently simple sections in such forms as to make a perfect capital letter. "Scrambled Letters" has swept the country like a storm. Big business executives have taken it up as a genuine test of their ingenuity. Parties are formed in hundreds of communities to work out the puzzle in interested groups.

Each letter will appear in both papers. Full details about entering the contest are published herewith. Remember, 39 prizes make it well worth your time in matching your wits against this brand new intelligence test.

PRIZES ARE AS FOLLOWS

First prize	$25.00
Second prize	15.00
Third prize	10.00
Fourth prize	5.00
Ten prizes at $2 each	20.00
Twenty-five prizes at $1 each	25.00
Grand total	$100.00

Read These Rules

The Times-Record News Nu-Way alphabet puzzles include the 26 letters of the alphabet. The publication of the various letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks. These letters appearing in the paper are cut into pieces of varying shapes, the object being to place these parts together so they will form the respective letters as illustrated in outline accompanying the pieces.

An outline and its entire parts will be published in the Times and Record News every other day, a different letter of the alphabet being presented. The publication of all letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks.

Anyone who is a resident of Wichita Falls or this section may participate in this profitable fun, except employes of the Times and Record News or their families. You pay nothing to enter. Each letter, as it appears in the Times and Record News may be traced or copied free of charge from the files at the office of this newspaper.

The Times and Record News will pay $100 in cash prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved complete set of puzzles in accordance with the rules. This does not necessarily mean that you have to solve all the puzzles to win. The prizes will be paid to the persons whose entries rank the highest. Neatness, accuracy and simplicity are the prime requisites. Accurate cutting and correct assembling of the pieces to form each respective letter. Entries that are elaborate will receive no more consideration than the simplest ones. Young and old thus have an equal chance to win.

Take the page of the Times or Record News wherein the puzzles are published. Cut the pieces along the outside of the black border and paste the pieces neatly on cardboard or a piece of paper to form the letter indicated. Repeat this operation every week with the new letters in the Nu-Way alphabet puzzles published in the Times and Record News until you complete the full alphabet. Letters previously worked by pasting on the large letters we formerly published may be submitted in that way.

Puzzle solutions are to be submitted only in complete sets five days after all letters of the alphabet have been published in the Times and Record News. Do not send in each puzzle separately. When you have the complete set of 26 puzzles, or parts thereof, mail first class, postage prepaid, or bring them to the Times and Record News alphabet puzzle department. All entries must be in by midnight five days after the last puzzle has been published in the Times and Record News. The winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Be sure that mailed entries have name and address of sender and sufficient postage is used.

In addition to your entry, you must send an advertisement of one of the advertisers shown on any of the letters clipped from the Times or Record News during this contest period, and a letter not exceeding 50 words in length telling why you can profitably deal with this concern.

The Times and Record News will appoint judges, and their decision will be final. In the event of a tie for any of the prizes offered, the full amount of the prize tied for will be awarded each tying contestant.
