BIDS OPEN FOR BLOCK OF SOUTH MAIN PAVING

City Council Accepts Petition to Pave Street With Two-Way Drive

Competitive bids for the construction of an additional block of paving on South Main Street are being accepted by the City Council, following acceptance late Wednesday afternoon of a petition presented last week by resident property owners.

Official action was taken on the proposed extension of paving at a called session of the Council, after failure to reach an agreement on details at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

The paving will begin at Mississippi street and will extend one block on South Main to the intersection of Kentucky at the First Baptist Church. The material will be similar to that now being placed on the business section proper but the actual paving will be divided into two sections, making a one-way drive out of the street. The brick will be placed on a concrete base of sixteen feet in width on the two sides of the sixty-nine foot street and a park thirty-seven feet in width will be left at the center. This park is to be filled with gravel and loam and rounded with the regular grade of actual paving. The estimates include excavations, curbs and gutters.

Cars will then be parked in the center of the street, members of the council pointed out. The paving on the street will be the same width as that in the business section.

The estimated total cost as submitted by Engineer F. M. Joyner for the added block was placed at $4,551.66. The city would pay $2,327.82 of the total amount for the street and intersections and the property owners have agreed to pay the remainder. The job calls for 1,866 square yards of paving and will bring the total for the city to fourteen blocks, when all contracted areas have been paved.

Decision on the type of paving, whether it should be brick or concrete and whether to pave the street solid but narrow it to a fifty foot width were the main points of discussion at the council meetings. Interested citizens who are property owners with frontage on the proposed extension appeared before the council to present ideas and their suggestion for the best plan of procedure. The street-plan agreed upon was accepted only after several hours of discussion and deliberation.

Six Sign Petition
Signers of the petition for paving and who also appeared before the council were: P. M. Felton, T. W. Quirk, and Lon V. Smith. The other signers of the petition who are property owners on the street are: G. V. Smith, E. A. Garner and E. C. Thomas their property frontage totalling more than the required fifty-one per cent necessary for paving to begin.

When asked about plans for other additional paving Mayor F. P. Henry said, "The city has a limited surplus at this time but we would be willing to use it for more paving. The residents contemplating having paving placed in their sections should get busy and try to decide on the matter while the construction company has the materials and equipment on the ground and can go ahead with the work at a minimum charge. The bids would necessarily be higher if a company came in at some later time and we contracted to build only one or two blocks."

T. P. & G. Permit Sure R. R. Commissioner Says

Commissioner Smith of the Texas Railroad Commission, who was in Fort Worth last week enroute to Austin from a visit in northern cities on rate matters involving Texas points, was quoted by papers in Fort Worth as feeling sure the request of the Texas, Panhandle & Gulf for a permit to build their railway would be granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"The other roads will also probably be granted permits," Mr. Smith is quoted as saying, but adding the qualification, "There is no way of guessing what the final decision of the I. C. C. will be."

All requests for permission to build into the plains are now consolidated into one case, and a decision will be made on all at the same time, it is understood.

SMITH MICKY AND MISS IRENE MAY MARRIED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Elder E. B. Mullins Sunday afternoon officiated at his residence at the marriage of Smith Mickey, of Sand Hill, and Miss Irene May, of Plainview, the groom being the son of Mrs. Sallie Mickey, and the bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. May, former residents of this county.

The couple will reside either at Sand Hill or Plainview, their plans at this time being indefinite.

FLOYDADA PRODUCE MOVING

Floydada Produce Company will begin moving from its present location on West California Street the latter part of this week to the building formerly occupied by The Hesperian on West Missouri Street, according to Manager Carey Stark.

REUNION OF NORTON CHILDREN AT MCCOY CLOSING THIS WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Norton have been hosts to all of their children in a family reunion at their home at McCoy the past several days. Twenty-four persons at the reunion include the eight children of the family.

Out-of-town members of the family here are Ansel Norton, wife and five children; D. B. Rambo, wife and two children; of Abilene, accompanied by Mrs. D. H. Rambo, his mother, and Miss Essie Rambo, his sister. The children of the family at home are Ted, Misses Lola, Ruby, Minnie, Maggie and Roxie.

The first of the visiting relations to leave departed Tuesday and the others leave today or tomorrow for their homes.

Community Fair Work Progress Satisfactory

Commerce Secretary Pleased With Co-operation; Interest Manifest In Flower and Art Shows

Following visits this week to the communities over the county, Secretary Ed Bishop expresses complete satisfaction with the work being done in preparation for the Floyd County Fair, September 24-25.

"There are a few instances where the folks are letting the time slip by without accomplishing anything worth while, but in the majority of cases show lively interest," he said.

Many Workers Busy
Bishop stated that enthusiastic workers were busy in many of the communities and that everything pointed toward some real keen competition in the group as well as in the individual exhibits.

Indications at this time point toward a large interest in the women's section of the fair, particularly in the Flower Show. Inquiries from all parts of the county are being received at the Chamber of Commerce office and while it was thought that the splendid success of the 1925 show would be difficult to equal, opinion has now changed to the belief that the 1926 show will surpass the preceding one.

It was announced Wednesday that Mrs. M. F. Husky, Mrs. M. L. Kizzier and Mrs. Lon V. Smith would have charge of this phase of the displays and entries will be made and handled by them. In order to insure good attendance and probably create additional interest in the growing of beautiful flowers it was thought advisable to hold the flower show this year in connection with the county fair.

"If space can be obtained," Secretary Bishop said, "the flower show will be held in the City Tabernacle with the regular exhibits, but it is possible that enough room will not be found there and if such should be the case additional facilities will likely be added."

Auto Show Plan
An added attraction being planned is the Automobile Show and will very likely be held in the same section with the Flower Show. Contracts have been signed with two companies that have agreed to display cars at the show. Details in connection with this phase of the planned program are being arranged, it was stated.

Miss Lela Windsor will have charge of the Art Show. She completed the premium list several days ago and has all plans ready to go forward with working out the exhibits.

Secretary Bishop visited Lockney, Erick and Mickey on Tuesday and on Wednesday saw community representatives interested in the fair at Center, Fairview and Campbell.

Mickey has set an example working scheme by appointing one individual to take care of gathering the exhibits as outlined in the premium list. By systematic co-operation the Mickey residents are striving to prepare prize-winning materials.

Reports from other wide-awake groups indicate that hard work is being done in numerous other communities.

Local directors of the fair are meeting for one hour every morning and are completing details for the plans to make the 1926 show the largest and most successful in the history of the county.

Miss Joyce Hopkins, of Miami, is spending the week with her brother, C. D. Hopkins, and her sister, Mrs. Wells Henry. She arrived Saturday.

Tax Rate For 1926 Set At 65 Cents For County

The tax rate for Floyd County will be 65 cents on the $100 valuation for 1926. The amount as levied by the Commissioners' Court at their regular session here Monday and Tuesday will be the same as that last year and the year preceding. In most every instance the rate set for the school districts in the rural communities will be the same, one or two changes having been made.

Division of the taxes levied follows: general fund, 25 cents; road and bridge and special road work fund, 30 cents; building fund, 5 cents and jury fund, 5 cents.

At Pleasant Valley a decrease was made from $1 to 80 cents in the school rate; at Muncy the rate was increased from 50 cents to $1; at Sand Hill the total remains at $1 and at Center a decrease was made from $1 to 90 cents. The increase was made at Muncy to take care of improvements and a teacherage being built at the Muncy school. New school bonds voted at Sand Hill changed the bond levy from 15 cents to 50 cents and the maintenance total was reduced from 85 cents to 50 cents, thus making the total the same as that of last year.

FUNDS NOT AVAILABLE NOW TO PAVE SQUARE

County Judge Points Out That Bond Issue Would Be Necessary at This Time.

"Available road funds of Floyd County are limited and are barely sufficient to meet the demands made upon them at this time," stated Judge E. C. Nelson, Jr., Wednesday afternoon in an interview about paving the unpaved portion of the square surrounding the court house.

He pointed out that this particular time, from a standpoint of economy in cost, would be an opportune time to have the main thoroughfares around the court house paved, but added that voting of a bond issue would be the only logical step for carrying out such a matter.

"Funds of the commissioners' court are used annually for the upkeep of the county roads and the tax limit does not give us enough margin to do more than take care of the maintenance of our present roads. The financing of the paving project out of available 30-cent road tax is out of the question, for the funds would not meet the cost," the Judge said, adding that personally he would like to see the paving done at this time if the people favor a bond issue.

The only way it can possibly be done, he declared, is for the people of the county to vote bonds for that purpose.

CITY COUNCIL SIGNS WARRANTS OF $4,500 FOR WORK ON WELLS

City Council members signed an ordinance Tuesday authorizing the issuance of $4,500 in warrants on the balance due D. L. McDonald for drilling and work on the city wells.

The council was in regular session. Three members, Mayor F. P. Henry and City Secretary Burl Bedford were present at the meeting.

COUNTY APPORTIONMENT $150

Apportionment for Floyd County Schools has been set at $150 by the county board, according to Price Scott, county superintendent.

The same total was allowed last year.

HONERHEA CHILDERS DANCER IN 'PHANTOM OF OPERA' BALLET

Miss Honerhea Childers, of Pomona and Los Angeles, Calif., who is visiting here during the summer months was a member of the ballet which appears in scenes of "The Phantom of the Opera," which is billed to be shown on the screen here by the Olympic Theatre August 25 and 26.

Miss Childers has conducted classes in esthetic dancing in Los Angeles, where her pupils appeared in recitals at the leading theatres.

Floyd Has 2 Winners At A. & M. Short Course

Mrs. Womack Places Second in Class 1, Kitchen Contest—Ophelia Bartlett's Story Wins First.

Floyd County's contestants in the state competition among Home Demonstration Club workers at the A. & M. College Short Course, last week won recognition that was very pleasing. Mrs. A. R. Hanna, president of Sand Hill Club, who with Mmes. L. C. Wheeler, of Blanco Club, W. C. Parkey, of Harmony Club, and E. A. Grigsby, of the Starkey Club, and Miss Ophelia Bartlett, of the Girls' Club at Mayview, returned home Saturday last, after enjoying the sessions very thoroughly.

The winners were Miss Ophelia Bartlett, whose story "The Well Dressed Club Girl," was placed first in the state; and Mrs. Arthur Womack, whose kitchen was placed second in Class 1 of the state contest. In addition, one of the Floyd County women, Mrs. L. C. Wheeler, was named to an office—that of auditor—in the state organization formed, among Demonstration Club women. The new organization was launched as the Texas Home Demonstration Association. It is a similar organization in the state to the County Councils in the county.

Miss Blanche Bass, who accompanied the ladies from this county to A. & M. College, is at Cuero this week. She writes The Hesperian very enthusiastically concerning the short course.

"I wish you might have heard Mrs. Hanna give the story of Mrs. Womack's kitchen," Miss Bass writes. "She was the first one up, and I have never listened to a better talk than she gave. It certainly boosted Floyd County. The competition was certainly strong, much stronger than last year. We felt happy to get a place at all. Too, it seems that a county never wins first on anything two years in succession."

The clothing specialist was so delighted with Ophelia Bartlett's little booklet on the Well Dressed Club Girl that she wanted to keep it to show to the club girls over the state, Miss Bass wrote. A sterling silver vanity was the prize awarded her.

The prize for Mrs. Womack was $15 in cash. In addition to this she won $5 as first place contestant in the district. Mrs. Tom McLain, winner of second place in the district, was awarded a cash prize of $3 in Class 2.

The Short Course was a decided success, women from Floyd County who attended, were agreed. Miss Bass said it was better by fifty per cent than that of last year.

Friday Bad Luck Day

Conway Helps Friends Remember

Bachelors Call Meet

"Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and hide and hide and hide,"—for Friday of this week is nothing else but Number 13.

Rabbit feet are expected to be much in demand for several days now. If a person is seen turning around three times, throwing an article over the left shoulder or doing peculiar antics on Friday, just bear with them for superstition rites will be in order.

Note: It is bad luck to eat fish and sweet milk during the same meal on Friday 13.

Henry Conway who is employed with an oil company at Palacios writes home to his friends that he is the proud possessor of a private mail box and seems to take delight in suggesting how to remember the number. "It's 12x12 or 144, if you can't keep that in mind just add up ones until you get to a total of twelve times twelve dozen," he writes.

In one of his most recent correspondences he made the following comment at the bottom of a page which had evidently required much trial and tribulation with the typewriter keys, "The spelling in this letter is subject to change without notice."

Hear all ye bachelors—unmarried and intentions nil in that general direction are commanded and invited to meet at the Chamber of Commerce office Friday evening at 8:30.

A bachelor club is planned and a delegate or committee will be named for attendance at the state convention to be held at Slaton Tuesday night, August 17.

Contract For Sand Hill School Let Wednesday

Biffle & Shell, Lubbock, Successful Bidders On $15,000 Building; Work Begins Monday.

Biffle & Shell, of Lubbock, were awarded the contract for the erection of the new brick school at Sand Hill at a meeting of the trustees held Wednesday afternoon in the office of County Superintendent Price Scott. The successful bid was for $13,366 and was slightly higher than the original bid as submitted at a meeting of the school officials last week. Biffle & Shell were the lowest bidders for the job and the increased total resulted when it was decided to use Justiceburg sand, throughout rather than local material, it was pointed out by Mr. Scott.

The contract calls for work to begin on the excavation work Monday and promises completion of the building by November 19. The structure will be 76 x 74½ feet, made of mat faced, mangle shaded brick and stone trim. The new school will be constructed just north of the present building and will consist of two class rooms, a hall way and an auditorium. It will be built as a straight rectangle on the unit type plan, so that additions may be made when occasion arises.

While attempting to keep their expenditures within the limit of the $15,000 bond issue voted by the community, the trustees are planning one of the finest little buildings in the county.

In order to insure the best acoustics possible in the auditorium, Celotex ceiling is to be installed. This is a specially prepared sound-absorbing material, similar to that used in radio broadcasting rooms to prevent echo and vibration.

The hallway and the stove bases are to be concrete and the auditorium is to have an inclined floor. A special guaranteed roof, similar to that at the Aiken school, has been contracted for and the building is to have a stone trim, which is expected to add materially to the general appearance.

Delays in awarding the contract resulted during the past three weeks because the trustees were forced to change details in the plans and specifications in order to erect the building within the financial limit.

Haynes & Peters, of Lubbock are architects for the building. The companies bidding on the job Wednesday of last week were: Newton Construction Company of Plainview; W. I. Mitchell, of Plainview, Cannaday & Stark, city; H. H. Shell & Son, Lubbock, and the successful bidders, Biffle & Shell, of Lubbock.

The county board has purchased $6,800 worth of the Sand Hill bond issue and the State bought $8,200 of the total of $15,000.

Trustees of the Sand Hill District are: W. T. Rogers, president; J. T. McLain, secretary, and W. F. Glenn.

Mrs. Morris Withdraws From Treasurer's Race

Mrs. Elder Morris Tuesday announced her withdrawal from the race for county treasurer of Floyd County in the run-off primary of the democratic party, and has asked the executive committee that her name not be placed on the ticket.

Mrs. Morris has been elected county treasurer for two terms, her second term expiring 31 of this year.

The name of Mrs. Maud Merrick, who was the leading candidate for treasurer in the first primary, will appear on the run-off primary ballot as the only candidate for the place.

To Organize School Work Here In Institute Week

Textbooks Will Be Issued and All Work Assigned Ready For Opening Of School on September 6th.

Institute week among the teaching faculty of Floydada Public Schools will be spent in Floydada, and the time spent principally in organizing the faculty and forces for the opening of school on September 6th, Superintendent J. C. Wester said Monday of this week, speaking of institute plans for this school. For a number of years teachers of this school have been attending the Panhandle Institute at Canyon, along with the teachers of the other schools of the county. The growth in the size of the school makes it possible for the faculty here to arrange their own program for institute week, the result being the decision to organize school work so that the school year may open Monday morning, September 6, with all seats assigned, books in the hands of the student body, and the teaching faculty all acquainted with each other and with the work each will have to do.

General assembly of the teaching force and student body will be held Monday morning, August 30, at ten o'clock, when announcements will be made for the remainder of the week. This will occur at the high school building. Tuesday and Wednesday will likely be spent getting textbooks issued to the various departments ready for assignment. Thursday, according to present plan, books will be issued to the students either Thursday or Friday seats assigned.

It is likely that part of the R. C. Andrews Ward School Building will be ready for use on September 6, Mr. Wester said. Definite announcement in this regard will be made at the general assembly at the high school.

The general rule to be followed, the superintendent states, after school is begun and the building turned over to the board, will be that pupils up to and including the fifth grade, will go to the ward school nearest their residence. All sixth and seventh grade pupils will go to the new ward school and all high school pupils to the high school.

Revamp Specific Schedule Of Fire Insurance Rates

Representatives of State Fire Insurance Commission Making Re-inspection Of Town's Fire Hazards.

Complete revision of the specific schedule of rates for all fire insurance hazards in Floydada was begun by representatives of the Texas State Fire Insurance Commission this week. J. F. Teer and J. B. Steed, of the Fire Rating Board of the commission are here doing the work. While here they are also completing revision of maps of specific fire hazards in a number of neighboring towns and cities.

They began work on the inspection of the risks here this morning and expect to complete their work by the first of next week. Their work has nothing to do with setting the key rate, Mr. Teer explained, the key rate having been set by the engineering department of the commission.

"We will make a complete inspection of all risks in Floydada, and completely revise the fire exposure maps of the town," Mr. Teer explained, "To include all risks not now shown on the specific schedule maps. Following the inspection the data obtained will be used to determine new specific schedules of rates."

Dry Weather Damaging Cotton And Row Crops

Continued dry weather for the past month has damaged cotton and feed crops to a marked extent in certain sections of the county. While the need for moisture is pronounced, there are no indications at present of the situation being serious.

In "spots" the cotton is shedding squares heavily, while in other portions the crop looks fine and is maturing rapidly. The feed stuffs have deteriorated where rainfall has been light this summer but farmers as a rule are optimistic and state that a good rain even within a ten-day period now would prevent any appreciable loss.

Only a few fields show evidences of the dry weather louse on the cotton, this year's production being evidently free from insect injury, at least on a very large scale. Hot winds the first of the week and Friday and Saturday of last week dried out the fields considerably and wilted the plants in numerous fields but taken in its entirety the county crop situation continues fine, authorities say.

Corn will be best in history and the maize is looking good.

Three State, Three County, and Two Precinct Contests Indicated by County Ballot.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was certified to the Floyd County Democratic Executive Committee as a candidate for governor of Texas, by the state committee and the name was placed on the official ballot, made up by County Chairman J. N. Stalbird and the primary sub-committee Wednesday morning.

This change in the aspect of the state political horizon followed the official tabulation made by the state committee which gave Moody less than a majority of the total vote for governor by about 2,000 votes. The committee had no official notice from Mrs. Ferguson asking that her name be kept off the ticket, although a public statement had been made by her following the first primary in which she declared she would not be a candidate in the run-off primary. Up to Wednesday morning no statement had been issued by the governor as to the action of the executive committee or any plans for the second primary.

Moody's Name on Ticket
An attorney representing Mrs. Ferguson appeared before the state committee Monday, contesting the certifying of Moody's name as a candidate in the run-off primary, maintaining that the sworn statement of expenses filed by the attorney general showed violation of the law, which constituted disqualification as a candidate. The specific charge was that $250 each had been contributed by Lee Satterwhite, of Amarillo, and a south Texas candidate of the legislature, against the provisions of the Terrell Election Law, permitting the attorney to appear before the committee, Chairman ruled that the matters involved for judicial rather than executive action, and the name of the attorney certified as a candidate.

Other than the contest in Moody's race two other races were probably furnishing more party interest. They are the treasurer's race where Hatcher, present incumbent by J. R. Ball, of Fannin in the attorney general James V. Allred, of Wichita, Claude Pollard, of Harlingen.

Three County
In the county run-off election of Mrs. Elder Teer the lists for leaves only the name Merrick as a candidate and her selection as need will be only a matter of time. However, there are county offices, which interest. They are: T. Wm. McGee for county Stegall and J. R. Mada and tax collector; and Miss Anna Sims for The county candidates on the first lap of a series over the county, which will be the night of August 27th. The campaign will be the most serious ever held in this county. Two precinct races are being that are calculated to add. They are between T. Z. Reed and

Floyd Included in Ten County Publicity Move

Launching the preliminary campaign in a proposed publicity and development move to embrace ten Plains counties, representative citizens from the included districts met at Plainview Monday night to discuss the tentative program that is to be later completed and carried out on a national scale.

Ed Bishop, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting and gave a short talk in behalf of Floyd County interests.

To perfect an organization to function in an executive capacity in the co-operative campaign a meeting has been called for delegates from the interested communities to be held at the Board of City Development office in Plainview at 2 o'clock Thursday, August 19.

The counties included in the area that is to be given publicity are: Floyd, Hale, Farmer, Castro, Bailey, Lamb, Swisher, and Briscoe and parts of Crosby and Deaf Smith.

A. B. Brown, of Lockney, made one of the most impressive impromptu talks at the banquet and meeting Monday night. Mr. Brown pointed out the value of diversified farming and urged the representatives present to go back to their homes and first point out the value of economy in their own communities and then get them interested in "telling the world of the greatest farming, poultry and hog raising district in the world."

Communities in Floyd County invited to send a representative to act at the executive session next week include Floydada, Mickey, Aiken and Lockney.

A. B. Brown, H. B. Adams and Carl McAdams, of Lockney, were among the delegates at the Plainview meeting the Ware Hotel this week. All of the men expressed themselves as favoring the proposal for publicity of a section of the Plains that has interest common.

One of the funny stunts arranged by the Tri-State Exposition at Amarillo, September 21st-27th, is a race of automobile "Wrecks" over a hundred mile course. Each car must have only four tires, only one occupant, and the winner of the race must agree to accept an offer of One Hundred Dollars for his car if a buyer appears. The "Henrys" and "Lizzies" no doubt will be there in keen competition. The first prize is $200; second $150; third $100.

The "Old Fiddlers" contest will also come in for its share of attention, for among the old settlers of the Panhandle are many masters of the old "Arkansas Traveler" popular in days gone by. First prize $10; second prize $5.

The Harmonica or French Harp contest is also attracting lots of contestants. The contest is open to the world, no age limit and any man, woman, boy or girl can enter as there is no entrance fee. The only restriction is that a harmonica in the key of "C" must be used.

The catalogues are especially attractive this year, a great deal of care having been exercised in the make-up and printing. These catalogues are for distribution and a word to Mr. Amacker, Assistant Secretary, will bring one immediately. The catalogue contains a list of all premiums, amusements, special days and other information is well worth asking for.

Headache

dizziness

"I HAVE headache once in a while, usually coming from constipation or torpid liver," says Mr. L. A. Morphis, of Pottsville, Ark., "and the very best remedy I have found to correct this condition is Thedford's Black-Draught. It acts quickly and easily, and it just can't be beat."

"Black-Draught is the very best laxative I have found. I always feel so much better after taking it."

"My wife takes Black-Draught, too. For dizziness, costiveness and any little stomach disorder, we find it most satisfactory, and consider Black-Draught a family medicine."

Constipation, with an inactive liver, locks up poisons in the body and allows them to do their dangerous work.

Being purely vegetable and containing no harmful drugs, Black-Draught acts gently, helping the system get rid of impurities and preventing serious sickness. Get a package today. Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

With Floyd County Builders

Next winter there's going to be all kinds of good things to eat on the tables of Floyd County farmers. Housewives in the rural communities, assisted by their daughters, are busily engaged in canning vegetables, fruits, jellies and preserves. They are "putting up" everything from corn to chicken, inclusive.

When the snow is on the ground and the cold winds are howling outside, there is going to be a great deal of satisfaction to be had when those progressive and energetic families sit down to a table loaded with vegetables savory and tasty as the day they were gathered from the garden.

Wild plums are plentiful over west of Olton this year and so are the gatherers for that matter. Several Floyd County families have been numbered "among those present" during the gathering days for the wild fruit. Plums, grapes, peaches, cherries, corn, beans, cucumbers, beets, okra, onions and greens have been preserved for the winter food supply.

At the A. V. Harris home in the Allmon community and at H. A. Krause's in the same locality canning has been the order of the day this month. And others have been busy, too. Mrs. W. E. Jordan at Center and Mrs. Will Snell at Blinco have been hard at work. Then, there is Mrs. A. J. Ellis at Irick and hundreds of others—to name all the foresighted housewives would necessitate enumeration of practically every woman in the communities.

Pump stations are running this week in the territory west and north of Lockney. In the shallow water belt of the county the farmers are equipped to irrigate their cotton, feed stuffs, alfalfa, gardens and corn when douth threatens to materially reduce the yield.

One of the big upright engines operates a pump that produces from the twenty to forty foot water level a six, eight or ten inch stream that is as clear as a crystal and as cool and refreshing as the trickling branch among the highest mountains. Thousands of gallons of water are being pumped into the irrigation ditches daily as insurance against loss that might be incurred because of a dry season at this important stage of crop growth.

Roads over the entire county are in good condition. The commissioners have attended to their duties scrupulously in practically every instance. There are a few exceptions, of course, but taken as a whole the trade arteries leading into Floydada are in pretty good shape.

It's not superstition that causes people to plant things "in the dark of the moon," says Mrs. L. B. Fawver. She had experience with this particular phase of gardening and she does not speak from hearsay. For nineteen years Mr. and Mrs. Fawver have been raising Irish potatoes in Floyd County and only once during that period have they registered a complete failure.

The planting is always done in the dark of the moon and the best time is in the early part or about the middle of March. If they are planted as much as three weeks later, the plants will not produce at all, Mrs. Fawver said.

At the Fawver place two miles north of town the crop of spuds this year was a dandy. There was plenty for home consumption and then a supply for local markets.

Grasshoppers are still very much in evidence over the county and continue to damage feedstuffs and cotton. Reports from the respective sections, however, indicate that the pests are not causing serious injury to growing crops.

Here and there a threshing crew could be seen at work this week. Combines have already done their part toward gathering one of the county's largest wheat crops and now the steam and gas machines and separators are finishing up the harvest season with a few scattered fields that were not in the regular routes and have been held until the last.

Speaking of combines, brings to mind a situation that one man has called "the greatest economical crime in Texas today." Almost any and everywhere an observer looks while out on a tour of the county there may be seen one or more costly combines, headers, and tractors standing out in the open rusting and rotting. It is no question but that thousands of dollars are eaten away every year by just one thing—rust.

When the crop has been gathered, the machines are pulled near the barn or near the house and left exposed to the elements until the time rolls around for another harvest.

"Just the other day," one man said, "I was riding by a home where a $4,500 combine and $5,000 worth of other farm machinery were sitting out in the open and a second-hand car, worth about $195 was housed in a first class shed, the doors of which were standing open at the time, as though an attempt had been made to show a contrast of what might be done and what the case really presented."

TREMENDOUS COTTON CROP IS POSSIBILITY, JOHNSON THINKS

That the south may experience an 18-million bale crop of cotton this year, and the consequent demoralization of the market, is the belief of E. M. Johnson, of Abilene, who is here on a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Phil Scott.

Mr. Johnson is in the cotton business at Abilene, and has just returned to Texas from a tour of the cotton belt east of the Mississippi. He visited a number of the mills in Alabama and the Carolinas while absent from the state, and says the mills there are installing machinery to use the lower grades of cotton along with the higher grades.

"Low-priced cotton is hard on everybody concerned, and I hate to see it in prospect," Mr. Johnson declared. "But there is a wonderful crop in the cotton belt east of the river as well as in Texas, and with weather favorable it will make the biggest crop we have ever known."

'PYROXYLIN' PAINT JOBS ON THE NEW MODEL FORDS

"Pyroxlin" is the correct name for all cellulose and gun cotton base paints introduced into the automobile painting industry in the past two years, according to B. K. Barker, of Barker Bros., who said Monday, in speaking of the fact that all the new model Fords have this finish instead of the varnish formerly used on Ford models, that many trade names have been given this paint which is applied with a "gun."

These paints are made from the lint of cotton as a base, and are the result of important discoveries made in the world of science in the past few years, said to have grown out of experiments in an effort to find new dye and explosive combinations.

Of the closed models of the Ford, the Fordor model is painted mole-skin gray with champagne striping. The Tudors and coupes are a dark green with emerald green striping.

HALF-MINUTE INTERVIEWS

T. D. Woods: "After a trip into the black land belt of Texas, where the best cotton is supposed to grow, I can say that the best cotton I saw on my 1,000-mile trip was in Floyd County between Floydada and the caprock."

A. R. Hanna: "My melon patch lost a thousand watermelons from the heat last week. I will have a fairly good crop of melons for the time but they will be gone in a hurry without more moisture."

Sam Sluder: "We are working 300 acres of row crop this year due west on section lines from Floydada, 8 1/2 miles north of Petersburg. Our crops are not suffering for lack of rain now. Both our cotton and feed are doing well."

Miss Mertice Hancock is visiting friends and relatives in Memphis. She left Thursday afternoon of last week.

SILVERTOWN ON THE AIR

Good
Evening
Everybody!

We're on the air again with a Message!

The big objective of every tire buyer is to get long-service tires. In recent years the tire industry has made some remarkable discoveries about tires—particularly the Goodrich Company. By laying the cords on different angles tire strength is increased. The tire can endure more.

It is less likely to be stone bruised or to blow out. And by different tread designs the wear of the tread can be almost doubled. Goodrich has taken full advantage of these scientific findings. The service life of a Goodrich Tire today is positively amazing—compared with the service standards of a few years back.

Our advice to you is: If you want to tune in on tire economy come in and buy these long-running Goodrich Silver-towns.

Thank you!

Rev. C. A. Morton, newly chosen pastor of the Baptist Church, briefly acknowledged introduction to the assembled club members, and asked that he be counted as one in the ranks to help in the upbuilding of the community. Mr. Henson spoke of his appreciation of the fellowships he has enjoyed in Floydada, and Mr. Davis told briefly of his vacation tour into southern Illinois, with stress on the difference in the impression made on tourists for a country by good roads and streets as opposed to bad roads and streets.
