I must confess this entire Savings and Loan situation leaves us a little puzzled.

We have been under the impression, obviously mistaken, that we knew a little bit about business. Admittedly just a little, but we did think we understood the basics. Like, you know, uh, you buy something for five cents and sell it for three cents, and you keep that up long enough you go broke. Then you go to work for someone who buys for three cents and sells for five cents.

But after months of reading about this mess, and trying as best we can to understand it, we are not much better off than when we began. We may know a little bit more about it, but as far as understanding it is concerned, we're still somewhat confused.

A case at point is what we might call the Robert M. Bass story. Mr. Bass is headquartered in Fort Worth, although press reports indicate he's thinking of moving to Washington, D.C., where the social life is a little more suitable for a family of his means. He is listed as a "billionaire." We are not sure just how many billions he has, but it is enough for him to lavish hundreds of thousands of dollars on Democratic candidates for public office, many of them being the same people who wrote the laws that govern the Savings and Loan industry.

Back in 1986 the Federal Savings and Loan Deposit Insurance Corporation sought to close down some of the busted Savings and Loan operations. Jim Wright blocked that move, in an effort to protect some of his friends in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex. Better that they be kept open, we suppose he reasoned, even though they were going deeper in debt every day, knowing that eventually the taxpayers would have to take a hit. That stuff never bothers Jim very much. Then in 1987 Congress, again under Wright's guidance, passed the so-called "Competitive Equality Banking Act", designed to keep the ailing thrifts open. So they remained open and kept losing billions. Then the FSLIC began trying to merge the failing thrifts with larger, stronger, operations.

Enter the case of the American Savings and Loan Association of Stockton, California. (Not all the ailing thrifts are in Texas by any means.) American was one of the largest, if not the largest, of the ailing institutions. They had about $16 billion in "healthy" assets, and about $21 billion in "bad paper." After lengthy negotiations, if we are to believe what we read, Mr. Bass put up $150 million of his own money, took over the $16 billion in healthy assets, agreed to dispose of the $21 billion in bad paper, for "a fee" of course, and...are you ready for this...also qualified for some $1.8 billion in "tax credits" that he can bounce off against his other enterprises.

Like we say, we don't really understand all this, plain as it seems. But when we read the fine print, one thing looms rather large. Unless we are wrong, and we hope we are, taxpayers are going to pick up a very large portion of all this mess. That means you and I, gentle reader. That much of it we do understand.

One other thing in all this we don't understand. How did Mr. Bass get to be a Democrat anyhow, when "everybody knows" that all rich people are Republicans, just as all Republicans are very rich. Something is wrong here. Perhaps Mr. Bass just hasn't gotten the word. The same could be said about my old friend Dolph Briscoe, the largest individual land owner in Texas (and our former Democratic governor), or Jess Hay, probably the state's largest and richest mortgage financier (and this state's premier political fundraiser for Democratic candidates) or Walter Mischner of Houston (oil, real estate, politics, etc.) or the Bentsens of South Texas, who in 1987 shipped more than 1,300 carloads of milo alone from their farms. Somebody needs to pass the word to those folks.

Hinsley, Harris, Womack take top honors

A trio of champions emerged from the annual Floydada Junior Livestock Show held on Saturday, January 28 in the show barns at the Rodeo Grounds. These three were judged the best from one hundred thirty entries in three categories.

Selecting from 60 barrows exhibited, Judge John Weathers named Terry Harris, son of Phyllis Harris, the Grand Champion with his medium weight cross entry. The animal was bred by Larry Tackett of Happy.

Amber Womack had the Grand

Champion lamb with her 144 pound heavy weight Suffolk. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Womack. Womack's Suffolk was bred by Womack Brothers.

Grand Champion steer was won by Kristy Hinsley with her 1274 pound light-heavy cross steer bred by Hinsley Farms. Kristy is the daughter of Kim and Sarah Hinsley.

Each grand champion exhibitor received a belt buckle.

RESERVE CHAMPIONS

The Reserve Grand Champion barrow selected was Derrick Martinez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Martinez, with a 226 pound Duroc. Martinez's barrow was bred by Tony Thomas, of Slaton.

Dean Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Choise Smith, won the Reserve Grand Champion title with his 126 pound heavyweight Hampshire. Smith's lamb was bred by Cabiness Farms, of Oklahoma.

The Reserve Grand Champion steer owned and shown by Amy Hinsley was a 1286 light-heavy cross steer bred by Craig Edwards. Amy is the daughter of Mike and Linda Hinsley.

Police will be watching motorists during Safety Awareness Week

If you see a member of Floydada's police department peering into your vehicle as you drive around town during the week of February 12-18, don't panic. Chances are they are merely looking for safety conscious and loving parents who secure their children with seat belts.

During National Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week (February 12-18), police in Floydada will be looking for area motorists transporting children in car safety seats or belts. The "Protect a Life" campaign is timed to coincide with the Valentine holiday and carries

Floyd County bank deposits up

Floyd County Bank closed 1988 with a $1.6 million increase in deposits over the previous year. Loans increased slightly.

First National Bank of Floydada and First National Bank of Lockney revealed accumulative deposits of $75,604,971.11 on the final day of business last year. This represents an increase of $1,650,332.48 over the $73,954,638.63 on deposit at the end of 1987.

The two banks had loans of $26,415,698.86 as the year ended, $794,295.88 more than the $25,621,402.98 in loans last year.

Tom Farris said that deposits for Floydada First National Bank at the end of 1988 stood at $51,731,000.00. This is an increase of $2,170,000.00 over last year's ended deposits of $49,561,000.00.

Loans have dropped somewhat which Farris attributes to the early crop and people paying off loans earlier. At the end of '88, loans stood at $16,006,000.00 compared to 1987 ending with loans at $16,772,000.00. This is

This local version of "The Mousetrap" is under the direction of Floydada native son, Dana Scott Galloway. Ironically, Galloway made his professional debut in 1975 performing the role of Detective Sgt. Trotter in a production of "The Mousetrap" at the now defunct Hayloft Dinner Theater in Lubbock.

Galloway, who recently moved from Los Angeles to New York, has performed with such notables as Leslie Nielsen, Marla Gibbs, A. Martinez, Lee Horsley, Tom Ewell and Dodie Goodman.

He has appeared in numerous television shows, including "Santa Barbara," "General Hospital," "227," "Matt Houston," "Chips," "Divorce Court," "Bloopers and Practical Jokes," and as an alligator on "Romper Room."

Most recently Galloway completed the lead in a film titled "Saturday," which has its premier this May at the New York University Film Festival in Manhattan. He is also working on "Spinning Wheels," another film project being shot on Long Island, and recently completed a commercial for Audi, playing a stressed-out New York City commuter.

Under Galloway's direction, eight talented Floyd County thespians will join ranks with the 300-plus who have performed "The Mousetrap" roles on the London stage and the thousands who have been in other productions of the Agatha Christie classic.

Grant Hambricht, assistant director of bands for Floydada Schools, plays the role of Detective Sgt. Trotter. A FHS graduate, Hambricht was very active in high school UIL plays and was named to district and area all-star casts three years for his performances.

Floydada City Councilwoman Ginger Warren makes her acting debut in the demanding role of Mollie Ralston. An FHS alumna, she operates Ginger's Beauty Salon and is the mother of two.

Playing Mollie's husband, Giles Ralston, is Zane Polson, director of bands for the Lockney Independent School District. A native of Chatom, Alabama, where he appeared in Junior and Senior plays, Polson makes his community theater debut in "The Mousetrap."

As Major Metcalf, Dallas Ramsey will be familiar to local audiences. He has appeared in FCAA productions of "Harvey" and "Wind Between the Houses." Owner of Bishop-Ramsey Pharmacy, he is a graduate of Lawton High School, Cameron College and Southwestern State University.

Connie Bertrand, our Miss Casewill, is another veteran of FCAA plays. She has performed in "Harvey" and "1890 Music Hall Review" as well as done backstage work on flats and scenery. A FHS graduate where she was an active Thespian, Bertrand is a computer assistant at Andrews Ward.

A newcomer to the stage this year, Tim Julian attends FHS where he is senior class president, student council vice-president and active in athletics. Julian, who plays Christopher Wren in "The Mousetrap," will also appear as Aces in the FHS UIL production of "The Saga of Katy and the Gambling Lady" later this spring.

As the outlandish Mr. Paravicini, John Odom tackles his first theatrical role. Best known locally as the one "twisting and shouting" in front of the band at football games, Odom is director of bands for Floydada schools and is a native of Snyder and a graduate of Hardin-Simons University.

Public nominations sought for "Employer of the Year" award

Will your boss be the "Employer of the Year"?

Those attending the Floydada Chamber of Commerce Banquet on February 25 will be the first to know. The women's division of the local chamber organization, which chooses the individual to receive this honor, is currently seeking nominations from the public for consideration.

Applications are available at the chamber office, 105 W. California, and must be returned to the office by February 14. Organizations and individuals wishing to nominate their employer are asked to submit their nominations as early as possible.

An award will also be presented to the "Citizen of the Year." The "Extra Mile" award and "another special award" will also be presented according to chamber secretary Nettie Ruth Whittle.

Banquet tickets go on sale this week at a cost of $10.00 each. Tickets are being sold this year by board members. A friendly competition has developed this year, with the chamber divided into two teams, the Hard Chargers under the direction of out-going chamber president Monte Williams and the Bold Ones, under the direction of Whittle. The team which sells the most banquet tickets will be exempt from clean-up afterwards. This incentive should increase ticket sales!

The banquet will again be at the Duncan cafeteria and will be catered by Bobby Rainer. State Democratic Representative Warren Chisum has been selected as the keynote speaker for the evening and a musical entertainment is also planned.

Williams will serve as emcee, his last official duty before turning the gavel over to in-coming president Wayne Tipton.

Remember Valentine deadline is Friday, Feb. 3!

Police watching motorists during Safety Week

the theme "Have a Heart...Click from the Start."

Law enforcement officials will be noting the license number of motorists who are observed with a child riding in proper safety restraints. The accumulated list of tag numbers will be forwarded to the governor's office at the end of the week. Each driver listed on the report from the Floydada Police Department will receive a letter of commendation from Governor Clements.

Chief James Hale of the Floydada Police Department recommends that parents obey the laws regarding seat belt usage and safety restraints because "it could be a matter of life or death."

Hale noted that "Each year, many children are killed or injured in motor vehicle accidents. Child safety seats are 70 percent effective in preventing deaths and 67 percent effective in preventing injury when properly installed and used in the correct manner. Parents can greatly reduce the risk to their children's lives by correctly buckling them into safety seats or seat belts."

So take time to think before you drive. Make sure your child is safe and secure before you pull out of the drive to go to the market or to school. Let the spirit of love present in the world during the St. Valentine's Day season help you remember to "Have a Heart...Click From The Start." You may even receive a letter of commendation from the Governor of Texas and more importantly, a safe and happy youngster to wish you a "Happy Valentine's Day."

Her daughter, Linda Hubbard has also grown up in the restaurant business. Linda and Ron Hubbard, along with their 16-year-old son, Eric, moved to Floydada from Colorado City. Ron and Kenneth will be opening the garage located at the cafe and will fix flats, wash cars, perform minor tune-ups and have a supply of vehicle accessories available. a drop of $766,000.00.

First National Bank of Lockney showed deposits of $23,873,971.11 on Dec. 31, 1988. This represents a decrease of $389,847.70 from the $24,263,818.81 on deposit 12 months earlier.

The Lockney financial institution had an increase in loans of $1,239,235.25. The year ended with loans of $10,409,698.86 compared with $9,560,311.31 on the final day of business in 1987.

Both Farris and Lockney bank president Ronnie Hardin attribute the good cotton crop to the rise in deposits.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, we have been enjoying the warm days, but really welcomed the rain that we had.

Monday, Irene Wexler came and played the piano for us and Bro. Bill Wright from the First United Methodist Church came and brought the devotional. He talked about the good news of the resurrection. At 2 p.m. the residents did ceramics, they painted a spoon rest.

Tuesday, Bro. Neeley went out of town, so we talked about the word taken from 2 Cor. 1:3-6 about how God comforts us, so as we can comfort others, encourage each other. Then at 2 p.m. the residents had a sharing time. We discussed the crisis about the rural hospitals, to be aware of the problems and to help as much as we could and to appreciate our local hospital.

Wednesday, Bro. Sammy Rodriguez from the Spanish Assembly of God spoke on 2 Peter 3-9, "The Lord is not slow to do what He has promised, instead He is patient with us, and does not wish that anyone be lost." At 2 p.m. the residents played Bingo. Myra Hall had the first Bingo. It was good to have her come play again. Mary Alice Davis came and assisted the residents.

Thursday, Helen Lipham came and played the banjo for the residents. At 2 p.m. Pat Zimmerman (Friends of the Library) came and shared with the residents too. They enjoyed her and they haven't been with us for a while either. I went to Crosbyton Care Center to be consulted. I observed Bingo and helped the residents play, etc. I met some residents, visited with them. They have 55 residents.

Friday, Evelyn Latta came and played the piano. Letha led the singing and read a poem to us on love. It was cold and raining, so we didn't get to take the bus ride, so the residents played dominoes.

We wish for Ruth Benson, who is in the Central Plains Hospital, a speedy recovery.

This week's visitors were: Ernest and Becky Fulton, Ft. Worth; Edna King, Bessie Wilson, Iva and Rudolph McCurdy, Carolyn Holmes, Floy and Bob Lewallen, Odessa; Wynelle Bishop, San Angelo; Lillie Mae Brandon, H.C. and Marge McElyea, Lucille Sisson, Ethel Carmack, Jewel Price, Rev. and Mrs. G. Van Hoose, Bill and Marveen Holmes, Gladys Gray, Mrs. Leroy Burch, Mrs. Imogene Grider, Melvin Holcomb, Irene Wexler Willie Mae Smith, May Sue, Laura Turner, Jettie, Frances Badgett, Myrtle Finter, Opal Kratzer and Letha Lightfoot.

I found this poem in a Christian magazine and I would like to share it with you, because it is exactly what I would have written if I had written it myself, because I have been asked these questions:

The Nursing Home

"How can you work here?" my friend asks;
"It's sad and so depressing."
"Not to me," I answered her,
"Each one's a special blessing."

"But they are old, and mostly sick,"
Came her quick reply.
"So, they need me all the more,"
I answered, with a sigh.

How can I make her understand
That as I make my round,
For every ounce of love I give,
They return it with a pound.

I often wonder as I watch
The different ways they act;
When I have reached that stage in life,
Which graces will I lack?

This wondrous gift God gave to me,
To minister to the old,
Brings with it times of sadness,
But also joys untold.

WEATHER

Beautiful warm weather, compared to those Alaskan temperatures! Beautiful wet weather, a whole .85 at Cedar, "nearly an inch" at Lindsey Lackey's, 70 hundredths below the caprock, and 3/4 inch 3 miles NW of Cedar. Now you can put down the Treflan. If you will just stop the wind from blowing.

CROP COMMENTS

J.D. Busby plans to be back growing vegetables again this year. He will be ordering his seeds for '89 any day, so now you won't have to hold out a little spot for a garden when you make your CRP contract. Go ahead, sign up every inch of your land, JD is going to grow the tomatoes and blackeyed peas for you.

PEOPLE

Wednesday, Jan. 25, thru Friday, Jan. 27: Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry drove to Dumas at the time of the Moore County Junior Livestock Show. Their grandson, Jean's Rodney, was exhibiting what they hoped would be the Grand Champion Barrow. The judge saw two he thought were better and awarded Rodney's exhibit third place. Not being one to give up easily, Rodney is seeking a second opinion by entering his barrow in one of the bigger shows, perhaps the one in Amarillo.

Friday, Jan. 27: Our little rain has sure put new life into John Q. Public and his wife Susie, really jerked them out of their doldrums. Travel up and down FM Hwy. 97 has nearly doubled the last day or two. Quite a few of the travelers are stopping across the street to look over Gladys Fortenberry's "house for sale." Most of them spend a little time standing on the front porch pointing this way and that, and waving their arms. You know they are planning to change the landscape, set out some more trees and live there, or else they are discussing which of the existing trees will have to be taken up so the house can be moved out.

Saturday, Jan. 28: George Taylor and Mattie Taylor Davis flew to Grapevine, Texas, just north of the DFW Airport, to visit their sick brother. Frank was in the hospital, and, due to his having had a very rough time a few hours earlier, they found him heavily sedated during all of the few hours they were able to spend with him. They flew back to Lubbock late Saturday. A report Monday morning told that he was resting some better without using so much medicine, and he was talking with visitors. Address: Frank Taylor, 1402 Terrace Drive, Grapevine, TX 76051, c/o Ricky Taylor.

Saturday, Jan. 28: Edna Gilly consulted with Juanita Teeple in Plainview Saturday, and later they had lunch together.

Sunday, Jan. 29: Ernestine Gilly visited with Edna Sunday afternoon and accompanied her to church for the evening services.

Sunday, Jan. 29: Cephus and Imogene visited in Floydada with Sarah Beard and Clara Mize. They found Sarah up and around, overflowing with memories of her late daughter, Rose Helen Hart. Clara was having a bout with arthritis. She was well enough to talk the way Clara always talks, the exuberant Clara, her son George was home from his job in Waco, but when Clara moved she moved very carefully and very little, she was treating that arthritis with respect.

Monday, Jan. 30: Laquetta Wesley, widely known to farm families throughout this area because of her association with the Federal Crop Insurance Program, is a daughter-in-law of Gus and Agnes Taylor Wesley. In 1988 Laquetta was promoted to a position with a multi-state policy control group of the FCI organization and she and Waldo moved to Oklahoma City to be near her organizational headquarters. Shortly thereafter, and without previous warning, Laquetta was diagnosed as having a cancerous malignancy. She has been on a chemotherapy treatment program since that time. At present she and Waldo are staying at her daughter's home in Plainview, where Waldo effectively continues his routine work as contract and bid appraiser for the diverse Wesley family-group of electrical workers.

Friday, Jan. 27, thru Monday, Jan. 30: Durrell and Alpha Fortenberry, with a load of Excel equipment, ranged eastward across the northern edge of central Texas. They delivered some new equipment that had been ordered, picked up some stock from "dead" locations, and unloaded it at other dealerships where "customer catches" were more frequent. They looped on to the south and east of Dallas-FW, then circled back through the Metroplex visiting with Alpha's kids and with Durrell's son, Donnie at Bedford, Texas. Bedford is one of the mid-cities snuggled up against the east flank of Fort Worth. They made numerous equipment demonstrations along the way, took in the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, got back home at dark Monday, dog tired and ready to drop.

Alvis W. (Punk) Bean, from 5540 W 5th Street, in Oxnard, Ca 93030, ran across the News and Views somewhere and it infected him with a case of nostalgia to the extent that he sat down and wrote a two page letter. I looked at the return address and thought "Well now I'll get to catch up on what has happened to some folks that more or less have just dropped out of sight." I was fooled on that point, Punk was so swept away by his memories of the "thirties" that the only family named he dropped was that of sister "Little." I was in school a few months with "Tiny" but I don't think Tiny and Little were the same.

It was a two page trip back to the 30s with an exuberant teenager who had no money, but he had a bucket and a short hose. Equipped like that all you needed was a set of wheels and there was no place you couldn't go. The letter had you dodging low flying tumbleweeds in March, lighting the house lamps in mid-afternoon when a bad duster was raging, parked at the curb on Saturday afternoons, in a prime location, with your windshield spotless the better to watch pretty girls and handsome guys promenade on the sidewalk. After 50 years I found out Poss Dillard from Cedar Hill played green and white basketball, along with Fred Cardinal, S.L. West, Dee Adams and James Roy.

I was the guy carrying in that 30 doz. case of eggs, you know the one that brought in the can of cream just a few minutes before, but I didn't know until just now that you were watching me.

Thanks for the use of your eyes Punk, a different look at things makes life more livable.

The secret of success can be stated in nine words: Stick To It! Stick To It! Stick To It!

Happenings at Caprock Hospital

By Molly Stringer

Medicare inspectors have come and gone. Their inspection revealed that we are doing well. No corrections were required in any department other than a little paper work, and some departments writing some more policies and procedures. It has been our policy this past year to keep our departments working all year to keep the standards required by Medicare, so there was not alot of last minute details to get ready for their inspection.

The nursing staff are doing an excellent job of writing care plans and doing discharge planning on all patients.

The doctors and nurses documentation on the Emergency room records was exceptional.

We are grateful to all the staff for being diligent workers in keeping our hospital up to Medicare standards.

The office staff have been sprucing up the front office. Wendy Pierce, Diane Emmert, Joy Breed, Donna Anderson with the help of Ralph Jackson have painted and wall papered all of the front office. It looks very nice. It is good to have folks that care enough to pitch in and improve their work area. The staff at Caprock Hospital have pride in the hospital and want it to look good and for you as the community to be proud of it when you are there.

Leroy Schaffner and Adeena Widener have enrolled and begun their spring semester classes at Wayland Baptist University. Leroy will get his Masters Degree in business Administration in May and Adeena will have a degree in Business Administration also. Adeena is working three days a week in a central supply and going to classes two days. Elena Hopper is relieving in central supply two days a week. These folks are to be commended for their continuing efforts to work and further their education.

Susan Green, supervisor of X-ray department, had surgery last week, she is back to work this week with some limitations on her activities.

Folks we still do not know when we will be able to offer mammograms at our hospital. We will keep you informed.

The patient load has been up the past week. We now have three long term care patients. If anyone would enjoy playing a game of dominoes once or twice a week, one or two of our long term patients might enjoy the company.

Health tip

When to take fever seriously

Although fever is a common medical problem, it often causes alarm, particularly where children are concerned. Understanding fever and knowing when to take it seriously can be the key to avoiding serious complications.

Your body temperature is determined by the hypothalamus, a tiny area in the center of the brain. The hypothalamus acts as a thermostat, regulating heat loss and heat production so your temperature is maintained at a normal level. For most people, the thermostat is set at 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. Fluctuations within one or two degrees are common and can occur without affecting the hypothalamus.

When your thermostat's normal setting (98.6 degrees F, plus or minus one or two degrees) increases, you have a fever.

What causes fever? The most common cause of fever is a bacterial or viral infection; however, an inflammation, thyroid or adrenal disease, dehydration, certain skin conditions, stroke, cancer, and even adverse drug reactions also may cause a fever.

Although the purpose of fever is not entirely understood, research now indicates that in cases of infection, fever may play an important role in helping defend your body against disease. When infection strikes, the number of protective white cells in the blood multiplies. An increase in body temperature helps white cells destroy invading bacteria and damaged cells.

When should you take fever seriously? While fever may be a strong ally against invading organisms, it should never be ignored. Not all fevers are dangerous, but they can signal a serious illness.

In children, the following circumstances should prompt a call to the doctor:

 a fever in a child less than four months old

 a fever of 104 degrees F in a child less than two years old

 a fever of more than 101 degrees F for 24 hours without other symptoms

 a fever in a child who has a serious disease that may be provoking the fever

 Convulsions (Seizures), twitching or shaking with a fever

The following circumstances in a child or adult should prompt a call to the doctor:

 A fever (no matter how mild) which persists for more than 72 hours

 A fever accompanied by symptoms, such as rash, sore throat, earache, bad cough, breathing difficulties, extreme lethargy, vomiting, diarrhea or stiff neck.

When reporting a fever, note the time of day, the method in which the temperature was measured and any particular symptoms.

Nelson is FNB artist for the month of February

Pat Nelson, a Lockney native, is welcomed as the artist of the month for February at the First National Bank of Floydada. Nelson was raised and educated in Lockney and returned there to live in 1987 after being away for 23 years.

Working predominantly in watercolor, Nelson does landscapes and still life paintings. She also does decorative painting and recently studied oils on canvas with Audell Thomas in Kress. She studied watercolor techniques with Jennie Dooley in Colorado. Nelson taught classes herself for about 8 years. She is mostly self-taught in the decorative painting arts, learning "by reading and doing." She is a member of the National Society of Tole and Decorative Painters.

"It is an outlet for my work, something I do," says Nelson. "It relaxes me after work."

"Lots of commission work" kept her busy during the 13 years she resided in Colorado and Nelson says she has done "quite a lot of specialized work" over the years.

Nelson is employed by the Hale County ASCS office in Plainview. Her husband, Charles, works at Sun Vue Fertilizer in Lockney. The couple has two children, a son, Tim, who is a junior at Lockney High School and a daughter, Kana Laymon. They also have a grandson, Casey.

With watercolor paintings in private collections in Denver, Colorado Springs, New York, England, Korea and Norway, Nelson has built a widely appreciated reputation. Adding to her renown, she has two Christmas ornaments on permanent display at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. She also has Christmas ornaments at the Decorative Art Collection in Newton, Kansas.

FNB Floydada urges everyone to stop by and have a look at the work of this talented lady. Her works will be on display throughout February and available to the public during regular bank hours Monday through Friday.

South Plains News

By Ruby Lee Higginbotham

The last week of January 1989 has been unseasonably warm with very little moisture. On January 26 and 27, the South Plains area received .6 of an inch of rain, a welcome blessing indeed, the dry, dusty soil soaking up every drop. Saturday, January 28, skies cleared with very chilly temperatures with quite a hard freeze. Today, Monday is clear, warm, very beautiful, a nice day for outside work, but the weathermen tell us to enjoy the next couple of days, because rough weather is on it's way to Texas. We will continue to hope and pray that February brings us the much needed snow and rain.

Sunday was a nice day for the people who attended South Plains Sunday school and worship service. The pastor is bringing a series of sermons from the book of Joshua. The songs and music services are uplifting and enjoyed by everyone. We welcome every one to come visit and enjoy the fellowship and services.

Fred and Carolyn Marble were in Austin January 14, where Carolyn attended the Texas State Florists Association day of Master Florist. Testing was held in the education center T.S.F. building, where she received the Texas Master Florist certificate and pin.

Carolyn has worked hard and completed lessons and examinations in a series of 12 courses, six in design and six in management. We congratulate you Carolyn on your achievements and professional excellence.

Sunday, January 29, the home of Bill and Winnie Beedy was the setting for the 60th wedding anniversary of Bill and Winnie with their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. All 32 family members were present to enjoy the happy occasion. Winnie proudly spoke of their family of sons, six grandsons, one granddaughter and 12 great-grandchildren, the youngest, being the three-month-old, great-grandson, Taylor Beedy.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Bradford (Dode) Beedy, their three sons and families, Scott, Becky, Kresten and Kevin Beedy; Jeff, Shellie, Blake, Brittni and Tanner Beedy; Kyle, Shellie and Ashley Beedy; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene (Judy) Beedy; their two sons and family, Mark, Melanie, Chase and Taylor Beedy; Todd and Jan Beedy. Children and grandchildren of the late Charles Beedy are Randy, Carlen and Regan Beedy, Cindy and Tommy Wilkeson, Cheree, Chris and Courtney.

Others attending were three nieces of Bill's, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rainwater of Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Whitehead, Ralls; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jenkins, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. B.P. Sandefur, Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Son Jackson, Floydada; Gertie Smitherman, Floydada; Mamie Wood, South Plains; Mike and Judy Allen, Fred and Carolyn Marble, Jane Pruitt, Johnny and Oleta Wilson, George and Betty Mize, Bessie Wilson, Myrna Pike, Bill and Edna Beth Tye. We congratulate you, Bill and Winnie on 60 years of love, happiness and your wonderful family.

Marvin and June Wells were overnight guests with her brother, Fred and Carolyn Marble. The Wells' returned to their home in Denton on Monday.

A key was found in the South Plains Church. If you lost it you may pick it up at the church.

On Tuesday, January 24, Vicki Yearly, president, and Connie Johnson, secretary, respectively, of the Floyd County Child Welfare Board, along with other county boards in the region, met in Lubbock for the regional meeting and dinner at the Sirloin Stockade. Each county gave a report of their finances and case load, and the need for foster care. If anyone is interested in foster parental care, call Shalene Wesley, caseworker for Texas Department of Human Resources in Floydada, phone 806-983-2280.

Stock shows were the agenda for 4-H and FFA students in the two schools of Floyd county. Several from the South Plains Community participated in the shows. Showing in the Lockney show were: Tanner and Carson Johnson, sons of Carlton and Diane Johnson and Ryan Smith, son of Brad and Shari Smith. Ryan showed two lambs, a Southdown and a Suffolk. He placed second with both lambs. Tanner came through with three first places and two reserves. Carson received a second and fourth place with his lambs.

Showing in the Floydada show were Tracy and Troy Johnson, sons of Nathan and Connie Johnson, and Tim Julian, son of Kendis and Janis Julian.

Troy placed a second and third in his division, Tracy came in with a fourth and fifth place. Tim made a second and third with his pigs. The Floyd County Show will start Saturday, February 4-6.

ADAM GONZALES, playing for the Floydada 7th grade Breezers against Littlefield on Monday, January 30, was the high point man, scoring 16 points in the teams 40 to 38 win over their opponent. Staff Photo

7th graders win over Littlefield

Adam Gonzales set the pace with 16 points as the 7th grade Breezers edged Littlefield 40-38. Strong play was turned in by Brandon Gilliland and Tate Glasscock. The 7th Breezers season record now stands at 4-10 with a 2-7 district mark.

Eighth Breezers defeat Littlefield

Dirk Rainer thumped in 18 points (6 of 8 from the free throw stripe) as Floydada's 8th grade Breezers blew out Littlefield 50 to 30. Michael Hernandez added 13 and Jesse Rodriguez made 5 as the Breezers totally dominated the game. Michael Gilliland, Gabino Suarez and Jason Pyle all contributed to the balanced attack. PTA presents Nichols with TV and VCR

Cody Nichols was the lucky winner of a color television and VCR combination given in a raffle by Duncan PTA. The drawing was held at the end of the PTA meeting on January 23.

Mrs. Weir and Mary Emert presented a program on the "Write to Read" computer program used in the classroom. A video was shown of the students working on the computers and other aspects of the program.

A special called meeting will be held on Thursday, February 16 at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria. This meeting is to discuss how the money raised will be used for the school. Everyone is encouraged to attend this special meeting and voice their ideas on this matter. Members will be voting on a beneficial way to use the money raised.

The PTA is still planning on sponsoring a yearbook for the school. If you would like to order one contact Debra JO Fawver or the school. They are $5.00 each. These orders must be turned in by February 15. If there are not enough orders turned in this project can not be done.

The next regular meeting will be March 6, 1989.

AT&T ANNOUNCES PRICE CHANGES FOR LONG DISTANCE CALLS WITHIN TEXAS

AT&T announces April 1, 1989, price changes for Long Distance Service (MTS) within Texas. AT&T's prices for long distance calling within Texas will be increased by two cents per minute for calls under 82 miles in distance and one cent per minute for calls that are 82 miles or greater in distance. AT&T's current discounts of 25% for evening calls and 40% for night and weekend calls will remain in effect. The price increases are expected to produce approximately $22.8 million, which is nearly 2.9% of AT&T's annual revenues for Texas Long Distance Service.

This represents the first AT&T price increase for long distance calls within Texas. AT&T's long distance prices for calls within Texas have been reduced overall by about 12% since 1986.

The Long Distance Service price changes will also impact AT&T's PROSM WATS Texas offering, which offers subscribers a 10% discount on all long distance calls within Texas. These price changes are expected to produce approximately $661,000, or about 3.5% of the annual revenues for AT&T's PROSM WATS Texas offering.

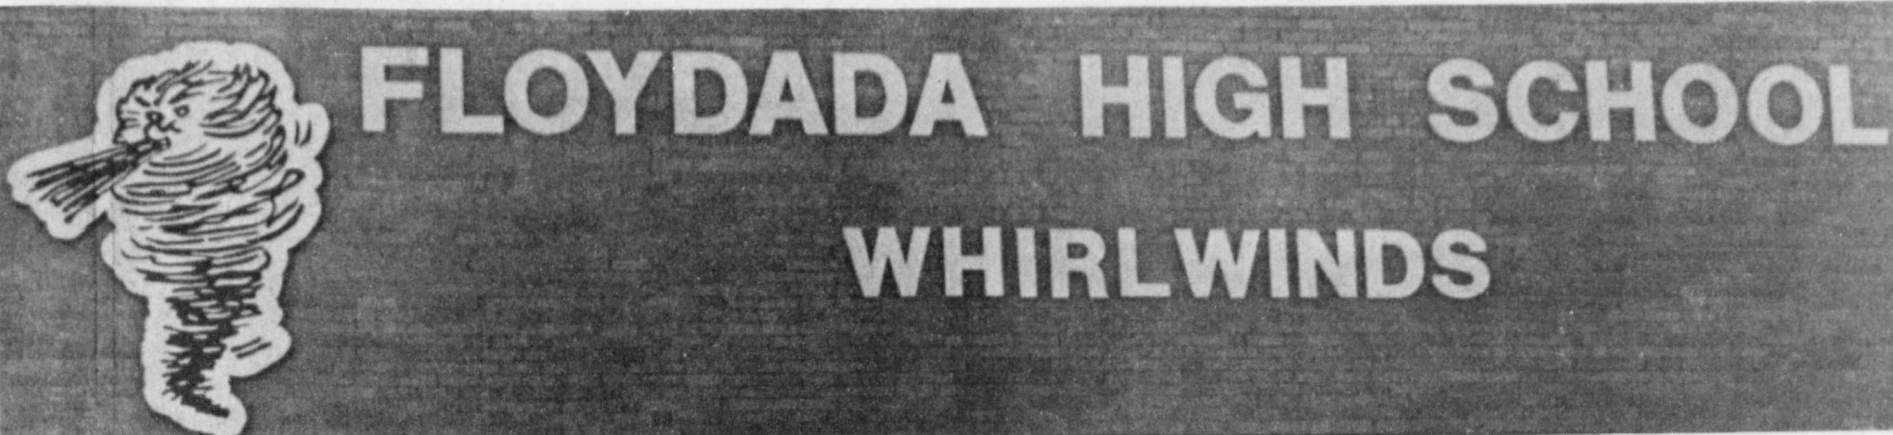

Prices for AT&T's REACH OUTSM Texas offering will also change. The price for initial hour usage will increase from $12.55 to $12.95; the additional hour price will increase from $11.40 to $12.00. These price increases are expected to produce approximately $364,000, or about 2.1% of the annual revenues for AT&T's REACH OUTSM Texas offering.

AT&T's tariffs implementing these changes will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on March 1, 1989, with an effective date of April 1, 1989. The combined price increases are expected to produce approximately $23.9 million, which is approximately 2.4% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate services.

If you have questions regarding these price changes please call AT&T's service consultants at 1-800-222-0300 for residential customers or 1-800-222-0400 for business customers. Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may also contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas in writing, at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 450N, Austin, Texas 78757, or by calling the Public Information Office at 512-458-0223, or 512-458-0227, or 512-458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Floydada High School FHA-HERO News

By Alice Machado

The Floydada High School FHA-HERO chapter met in the Home Ec. room at Della Plains Thursday, Jan. 19. Maria Torres, treasurer, conducted the meeting in the absence of other officers. Minutes were read of the previous meetings.

In October we attended the White Swan food show in Lubbock and gave a Halloween party for the boys classes.

In November we elected officers and later installed them in a candlelight ceremony at the home of our advisor, Mrs. Joyce Williams. We helped prepare food for the Day Care Spaghetti supper and also some members helped serve.

In December we visited South Plains

College in Levelland and met with financial counselors. We also presented our sewing projects in a fashion show. We had a Christmas party, exchanged gifts and watched a movie before the holidays began. We baked cookies for the museum open house.

Mrs. Kay Brotherton was guest speaker at our January meeting. She invited students to sign up for group and private meetings about alcohol and drug abuse education. Many students signed up. Hostesses Rachel Boyd and Becky Avila served glasses of red fruit punch.

We talked about ways to earn money for the state FHA-Hero meeting in Houston in April.

McMurry college, which hosts the West Texas Model United Nations each year, has participated in the Southwest competition since the mid-1960s.

This year's competition "continues a tradition which is long standing at McMurry," said Gary Walker, a December graduate and coordinator of the project.

Faculty sponsors are Dr. Mike El-Attrache and Dr. Doug Price, political science professors.

McMurry student, Jeff Matsler of Floydada, will represent The Arab Republic of Egypt.

'85 Bill requires soil conservation plan

The 1985 Food Security Act, better known as the 1985 Farm Bill, requires that all farmers develop an approved soil conservation plan by 1990. The plan must be implemented by 1995, or the farmer will lose his federal support payments and other federal benefits. Areas with sandy soils, such as the Texas High Plains, will be especially affected by these new conservation measures.

"Crops having high residue levels such as wheat or sorghum may need to be produced in rotation with cotton to reduce erosion in the Texas High Plains, which is caused primarily by wind," says Wyatt L. Harman, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station economist.

"These new conservation requirements, combined with the price-cost squeeze of the past decade indicate the need for developing alternative cotton production methods that simultaneously reduce soil erosion and improve farm profits," Harman says. "Higher profits may arise from improving yields resulting in increased income, by reducing costs, or by increasing income more than costs."

In a recent study, Harman and A.F. Wiese, TAES weed scientist, evaluated a no-tillage dryland cotton production system that utilizes the stubble residue of a small grain crop, such as wheat. The stubble is maintained weed-free by herbicides on the soil surface undisturbed prior to planting cotton. The study assessed the short- and long-run economic advantages of the system compared with conventional tillage.

The research was conducted from 1983-1987 at the North Plains Research Field in Etter, Texas. Paymaster 145 was planted in May and hand harvested in November. Immediately after the cotton harvest, both tillage treatments were uniformly shredded and disked, and beds were rebuilt for immediate planting and irrigation of the upcoming small grain crop. In 1983-1986, winter barley was planted, and in 1987, winter wheat was used.

No-tillage yields were significantly higher than conventional tillage each year of the study. In 1983, the yield of no-tillage was 9 percent higher than conventional tillage. In 1984, no-tillage raised the lint yield 77 percent; and in 1987, 69 percent. The 5-year average lint yield from no-tillage was 49 percent higher than with conventional tillage.

In most years, harvested samples were ginned to determine fiber quality and grade. Fiber quality characteristics, including staple length, micronaire, and fiber strength were not significantly affected by tillage treatment.

The economic analysis was based on a total of 16 operations for conventionally tilled cotton by only 9 for no-tillage cotton, most of which were chemical applications requiring significantly less horse power than tillage operations. The immediate short-run economic advantage of no-tillage was increased lint and cottonseed sales of $154 per hectare as a result of higher yields.

"However, high herbicide costs with no-tillage compared with conventional tillage costs increased pre-harvest costs by $122 per hectare. Also, higher no-tillage yields added $41 per hectare to harvesting and ginning costs, resulting in a total variable production cost increase for no-tillage $163 per hectare," says Harman. So, in the short run, returns over variable costs of no-tillage were $9 per hectare less than with conventional tillage.

Substantial economic advantages for no-tillage occurred in the long run, however, though reduced machinery depreciation costs $49 per hectare and higher income including additional deficiency payments were $81 per hectare. (Deficiency payments increase over a long time period as the farm yield adjusts upward.) Thus, in the long run, returns to land management and risk were $121 per hectare higher with no-till, Harman says.

"Another economic impact that might be realized from no-tillage, but was not considered in the analysis, is the long-term soil productivity gained by reducing soil erosion," the scientist says.

Bohannon appointed inspector

Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has appointed Jackie Dean Bohannon, 38, of Lubbock, Texas, to serve as field inspector for District 8, effective Jan. 19, says Don C. King, secretary-general manager. He succeeds Inspector H.F. "Son" Guin of Tahoka, Texas, who recently retired. Bohannon will be based in Lubbock.

TSCRA, a 112-year-old cattlemen's organization, employs 32 field inspectors, all certified peace officers carrying Special Ranger commissions, to assist cattlemen and conduct livestock theft investigations in Texas and Oklahoma.

Inspector Bohannon began his work in law enforcement in 1972 and has been with the Lubbock County Sheriff's Department for the last eight years, he has been captain of the criminal investigation division.

An Iowa Park, Texas, native, Bohannon, will work with TSCRA members and other cattlemen in Hale, Floyd, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson, and Borden counties. He also will supervise all brand inspection activities in his district, King says.

Bohannon handled the majority of the cases involving livestock while working in Lubbock County and worked closely with TSCRA field inspectors during that time. He is familiar with the cattle industry since his father, "A.L.", has been active in the cattle business for several years.

Bohannon has won several awards as a pistol champion and in 1983 was recognized as outstanding officer of the year by Masonic Lodge 1220 in Idalou, Texas. He has earned his basic, intermediate and advanced certification in law enforcement.

He and his wife, Fran, have one son, Jack, 11. Bohannon enjoys team roping and hunting.

Lorsban authorized in aphid fight

Texas Department of Agriculture today announced that farmers in the High Plains are now authorized to use the pesticide Lorsban in their fight against the Russian Wheat Aphid.

This little pest has caused an estimated $30 million in damage to the Texas wheat crop in the latest crop year and more than $100 million to wheat crops nationwide. The best estimates for the impact on the 1989 crop show that without the use of Lorsban, the Russian Wheat Aphid could cost the Texas economy more than $140 million.

Since the initial outbreak of the Russian Wheat Aphid near Muleshoe in 1983, the pest has spread to more than a million acres in 26 counties in Texas.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has asked for and received a crisis exemption from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to allow use of this pesticide. TDA sought this permission from EPA at the urging of thousands of wheat farmers in Texas.

Use of Lorsban, a trade name for the pesticide chlorpyrifos, is illegal on wheat in Texas without authorization from EPA.

EPA authorizes emergency exemptions when a state can prove that certain extraordinary conditions exist, such as if no effective pesticide is available, if no alternative means of control are available and if the pest problem poses a significant economic loss of growers.

Under the terms of the EPA authorization, the chemical may be applied on 1,071,000 acres and may be used until May 31, 1989. Lorsban may be used only by certified applicators.

Other restrictions also apply to use of the product. Growers with questions about use of Lorsban should contact the TDA Pesticide Registration Program in Austin at (512) 463-7549.

NEW PASTOR AT CALVARY BAPTIST--Calvary Baptist Church has called a new pastor. Larry Perkins, the new pastor at Calvary Baptist Church, is a senior at Wayland Baptist University. He plans to graduate in May and will have his Bachelors in Theology. His wife, Sharmin, is a sophomore at Wayland, majoring in Elementary Education. She works for the Life Long Learning Center on campus. They both were born and raised in Abernathy and are looking forward to their stay here in Floydada.

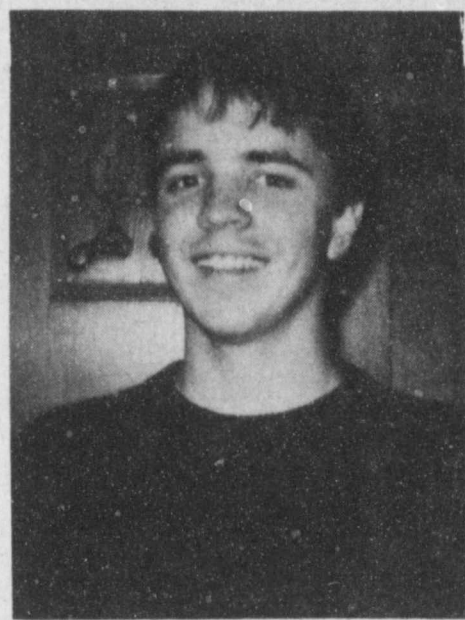

Jay Yeakley is new minister of youth and singles at First Baptist

The new Minister of Youth and Single Adults at First Baptist Church, Floydada, is Bro. Jay Yeakley. Yeakley has lived all over the state of Texas while growing up. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Yeakley, reside in Iowa Park, Texas, where Jay spent his junior high and high school days.

Yeakley was in the very top of his high school graduation class. He was president of the Student Council, President of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and President of the A Cappella Choir his senior year. He was all-state in choir for three years as well as being a member of the Texas Baptist All State Youth Choir for three years.

He previously attended Hardin-Simmons University for two years and plans to complete his college education at Wayland Baptist University. He was a member of the Concert Choir at Hardin-Simmons University while on music scholarship. Along with his service in youth work, he also served on staff at Chaparral Baptist Assembly for two summers.

ministry and has served in youth capacities in two previous churches.

Commissioners Court discusses Floyd County sanitary landfills

Floyd County Commissioners met in a special session on January 27. The first order of business was an executive session for discussion concerning the sanitary landfills in operation in the county. The session was approximately an hour long and resulted in no action. The matter was officially tabled pending a scheduled visit from Linda White of the Texas Department of Health. She is slated to meet with the court on Wednesday, February 1, at 10 A. M.

OTHER ACTION

Bounty agreements were approved for Gary Bennett, Charlie Henderson and Roy Henderson. These names will be added to the list of those authorized to kill coyotes and collect a bounty of $5 on each animal disposed of.

Judge Bill Hardin received authorization from the commissioners to advertise for bids on the proposed purchase of a TLETS II System teletype for the Sheriff's Department. The purchase is necessary because of changes being implemented by the State in the type of system used to provide information on drivers, vehicle registration and criminal records via teletype.

The system currently used by the county will not be compatible with the new state system and will have to be replaced. The estimated cost of the new equipment is $6,500. The new system must be operational by December 1, 1989, or Floyd County will have to contract for these services from a county which has the TLETS II System.

One request for public assistance was approved in the amount of $49.38 to pay a gas bill. Spirit of Sharing will also assist by paying the electric bill for the family. The request for $150.00 for assistance in paying rent was denied at this time.

Farm work contracts were approved for Jim Jackson, Kenneth Brose, H. G. Watts, Travis Jones, Foster, Duvall and Belt, Dee Moses, Wesley Mitchell, Barbara Barnard, Louis Pyle, Chuck Dority, Dwight Perkins and E. O. Chappell. Contracts number 668 (Martha Davis) and 653 (Paul Westbrook) were voided before the court recessed.

Attending the special session were Judge Hardin and commissioners Connie Bearden, Floyd Jackson, George Taylor and Kay Crabtree. Also present were county treasurer Glenna Orman, Margaret Herrera and the Hesperian reporter.

Floydada police investigate two reported happenings

Floydada police reported two incidents during the past week. The first, occurring on January 26, was an alleged unprovoked attack upon a 19 year-old youth on his way home from a basketball game at 8:45 p.m. The attack occurred in Napoleon Park on Tennessee Street. The victim told police that he was struck by two men he did not know and shoved into a tree before they left. He then returned to the gymnasium and reported the attack.

No reason is known for the incident and the matter remains under investigation at this time.

The second incident occurred on Saturday, January 28 at 10:15 p.m. A drivers license check yielded an outstanding DPS warrant and resulted in the arrest of Ramijio Tamayo Jr. after being stopped by a local patrolman on West Jackson Street.
