Keynote addresses for the Youth Conference Rally To Be Held In Fort Worth

A different type of peace march and rally is expected to draw more than 10,000 young people to Fort Worth from across Texas July 2-3.

On the evening of July 2, plans call for the lights in downtown Fort Worth to be turned off for 15 seconds and 10,000 flashlights to be turned on by young people. The torch-light rally and parade are part of the 1970 Youth Evangelism Conference which will emphasize the "Peace of Christ" that illuminates the lives of people committed to Him, said Dr. C. Wade Freeman, director of the Texas Baptist Evangelism Division.

Cliff Barrows of the Billy Graham evangelistic team will be the main speaker at the rally and at the opening session of the Conference in Tarrant County Convention Center the same evening at 7 p. m. Other sessions will begin at 9:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. July 3.

At the opening session, Miss Teenage America, Debbie Patton of Odessa, will tell of the revolution which took place in her heart after she decided to follow Christ. A 500-voice Tar-

Farmers Receiving Payments For Program Compliance

Farmers who have contributed to stabilizing markets for food and fiber and to the conservation of soil and water resources by taking part in the 1970 wheat, feed grain, and cotton programs are receiving their program payments earlier this year than ever before, according to Jim Elder, Chairman of the Castro County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

The first batch of payments were made beginning July 1. Additional payments will continue to be made as rapidly as farmers certify compliance with program requirements and as fast as individual farm records can be processed and checks returned to ASCS county offices for distribution to farmers.

"Because of the excellent cooperation between farmers and their local ASCS Office, a large percent of the participating producers in Castro County will receive their payments during July and August," Jim Elder said.

Most payments should be completed by mid-August, if farmers who signed up will complete the necessary certification indicating that they have complied with all of the program provisions.

Farm program payments help maintain a balance between supply and demand, the Chairman explained. He pointed out that both farmers and consumers benefit from this balance.

"Agricultural productivity almost doubled in the past 20 years, but farmers' markets take only about a third of this increase," said Jim Elder. This means we need new markets. Farm programs help us hold down farm production and maintain farm income until new markets are developed and old ones expanded.

"Huge surpluses must be avoided. They are costly in tax dollars and are wasteful of food and fiber.

"Farm programs help farmers make adjustments in their individual farming operations that in the long run will result in more farm income from the marketplace and less from the public treasury.

"Since farmers are $50-billion-a-year purchasers of goods and services produced in our cities and rural towns, the workers and business firms in cities and towns benefit from farm programs, too."

Memorials Being Given

Donations have been given to the Hart Cemetery Fund as memorials to David Warren.

Anyone wishing to make such memorials may leave their contribution at Farmers State Bank.

DPS Predicts Holiday Toll

Past experience and the present trend of traffic deaths indicate that 46 persons will lose their lives in traffic accidents during the 78-hour period of the July 4 weekend, announced Major C. W. Bell of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this area.

Major Bell stated that "Operation Motorcade," a special emphasis program designed to focus attention on the added dangers of holiday travel, will be placed in effect from 6 p. m. Thursday, July 2, to midnight Sunday, July 5.

All deaths resulting from traffic accidents will be tabulated by the Texas Department of Public Safety throughout the period, and the totals will be announced daily as a means of keeping safety uppermost in the minds of the motoring public.

"It is a known fact that July 4 traffic is more hazardous due to crowded conditions of the highways. Add driver misbehavior, misjudgment, negligence, and the drinking of intoxicating beverages while driving is like a giant exploding fire cracker," Bell said.

"In an all out effort to keep this estimated toll down, the Texas Department of Public Safety will utilize additional personnel from its other services to augment the Highway Patrol force during the holiday period," Bell added.

"However, the most important effort in reducing traffic accidents must come from the individual drivers," concluded Major Bell.

conference will be given by South Carolina Governor Robert E. McNair and by the Chairman of the Water Resources Council, Don Maughan.

Panel and discussion topics will deal with Federal and State Relationships to water rights; with flood plain and coastal zone management and with increasing the effectiveness of State and Federal partnerships in water and related land resource planning.

rant County Youth Choir will sing, and Miss Myrtle Hall of the Graham evangelistic team, will be guest soloist.

Dr. Ralph M. Smith, pastor of the Hyde Park Baptist Church, Austin, will speak July 3 on "The Role of the Bible in the Lives of Twentieth Century Youth." Other speakers will include Clebe McClary of the Teen Crusade, Inc.; Richard Hogue, 23-year-old evangelist from Oklahoma City; and Stuart Briscoe of Manchester, England. Briscoe is affiliated with Ian Thomas' Torchbearers.

Dr. Freeman said "the Youth Evangelism Conference comes at a strategic time in history, both for the church and the nation.

"Christian young people should have the same privilege of demonstration as the violent radical. We will be sharing how to have personal and lasting peace."

Bill Lucas of Fort Worth, Tarrant County Association missionary, said the youth meeting could have an impact for Christ throughout the state.

Farm programs also make important contributions to conservation of natural resources and help fight pollution, Jim Elder said. Acres that are diverted out of crop production under farm programs are put to conserving uses such as the growing of grass and trees. Such practices conserve soil and water, provide habitat for wildlife and small game, help prevent pollution of our streams from sediment and agricultural chemicals or waste products, and reduce air pollution caused by blowing dust, the Chairman explained.

"When a farmer takes land out of production and puts it to a soil-and-water-conserving use, he gives up the value of the production he normally would have received as income. At the same time, the farmer pays taxes on land removed from production even though that land produces no crops. Program payments are designed to compensate him for these voluntary contributions toward a more stable farm economy and a better environment," Jim Elder said.

In recent years, the U. S. Department of Agriculture had advanced partial payments to farmers during the spring sign-up period for the feed grain program only. The balance of the feed grain payment, and cotton and wheat payments were generally made starting in late July and continuing through August and September, or later, the Chairman explained.

"Because of budget restraints, partial payments could not be made this year. However, the Department made a commitment to farmers that full payments would be made as early as possible. That commitment is now being fulfilled."

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

In relieving Robert H. Finch of his Cabinet-level post as Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, President Nixon has taken long overdue action. Mr. Finch was more mindful of the opinion of holdover liberals in his department than he was of the wishes of an increasingly conservative electorate.

While Mr. Finch has been assigned to the White House, the presidential action clearly constitutes a demotion for Mr. Finch. He is likely to fade from public sight. Unable to manage the unruly HEW staff, his advice to the President surely won't count for much.

In deftly sidetracking the unpopular Finch, Mr. Nixon also has created an opportunity for reform of that swollen federal department. Whether Elliot Richardson, the new nominee for the post of Secretary, is the man to institute the necessary reforms is another question. Mr. Richardson doesn't belong to the conservative wing of the Republican Party.

For many months Mr. Finch irritated parents and local school officials by his attitude towards the public schools. He seemed determined to follow in the path of his Democratic predecessor at HEW in trying to impose unreasonable formulas on school boards. It seems reasonable to suppose that Mr. Finch's arrogant and unreasonable attitude was a contributing factor in the recent Alabama election in which former Governor George Wallace won a term as governor. With Mr. Finch out of the way, the Nixon administration is in a better position to strengthen its position among the voters. What Mr. Richardson does will affect the political situation, of course. Hopefully, Mr. Nixon has instructed Mr. Richardson to pay greater heed to the voice of the people.

In recent weeks, Mr. Finch seemed to completely lose control of his department. Employees of HEW took part in protests and issued demands to their boss. They were rude and abusive because he did not accept their dictation. Mr. Finch suffered humiliation.

Thus one of the first tasks of the new Secretary of HEW is to restore authority within the department. Staff members must be made to understand that employment by the federal government is a privilege, not a right. A government department cannot be run by employe juntas. Nor should the taxpayers tolerate political agitation by federal employes. Those employes of HEW who won't act in the manner of respectable, responsible staff members should be removed from government service. As a matter of fact, a real housecleaning of the HEW staff is a priority item. Mr. Finch inherited a department packed with liberals antagonistic of the Nixon program.

Beyond that, however, the need is for dismantling of costly and hurtful programs. For example, the administration erred seriously this past winter when it declined to go along with the proposal of Senator George Murphy (R-Calif) to place the controversial Neighborhood Legal Services Program under state authority. The NLSP is part of the Office of Economic Opportunity, itself one of the most controversial HEW operations.

The kind of turmoil HEW is experiencing can be seen in the Neighborhood Legal Services Program. This program is supposed to aid poor people who can't afford lawyers. In actuality, NLSP lawyers engage in harassing suits aimed at local government agencies and private business.

Early in June a typical NLSP uproar took place in the Washington office of that program. Two lawyers in the program, who had been transferred to other posts, defied government notices to vacate their offices. One of the anti-poverty agency lawyers complained that there had been a memorandum from higher authority requiring NLSP lawyers to get "supervisory" approval before filing lawsuits.

What's really incredible is that bands of federally-funded NLSP lawyers should be turned loose, with taxpayers' money, to file suits indiscriminately. If Mr. Richardson wants to earn the respect of thinking citizens, he should move promptly to bring the NLSP lawyers under firm control.

In briefing Mr. Richardson for his new job, the President could do nothing better than quote from his speech of April 25, 1968. He strongly criticized federal welfare programs and said: "They create a permanent caste of the dependent, a colony within a nation." HEW, under Mr. Finch, has lavished favors on that "colony" at taxpayer expense. The productive majority of citizens very clearly wants HEW to end favoritism towards the non-workers and to try to find ways to reduce, not expand, the department's operations. It is to be hoped that Mr. Richardson understands and intends to be responsive to the desires of the taxing public.

NEW ARRIVAL: This young man checks over his worldly possessions shortly after arriving at a refugee center at Phy Khoung, about 75 miles northwest of Saigon. He'll remain there with his parents until the Government of Vietnam can find a permanent settlement for them elsewhere. The refugee program is supported by the Agency for International Development (AID), a unit of the U.S. State Department.

WHAT IS A GIRL?

Little girls are the nicest things that happen to people. They are born with a little bit of angelshine about them, and though it wears thin sometimes, there is always enough left to lasso your heart--even when they are sitting in the mud, or crying temperamental tears, or parading up the street in Mother's best clothes.

A little girl can be sweeter (and badder) oftener than anyone else in the world. She can jitter around, and stomp, and make funny noises that frazzle your nerves, yet just when you open your mouth, she stands there demure with that special look in her eyes. A girl is Innocence playing in the mud, Beauty standing on its head, and Motherhood dragging a doll by the foot.

Girls are available in five colors--black, white, red, yellow or brown--yet Mother Nature always manages to select your favorite color when you place your order. They disprove the law of supply and demand--there are millions of little girls, but each is as precious as rubies.

God borrows from many creatures to make a little girl. He uses the song of a bird, the squeal of a pig, the stubbornness of a mule, the antics of a monkey, the spryness of a grasshopper, the curiosity of a cat, the speed of a gazelle, the slyness of a fox, the softness of a kitten, and to top it all off He adds the mysterious mind of a woman.

A little girl likes new shoes, party dresses, small animals, first grade, noisemakers, the girl next door, dolls, make-believe, dancing lessons, ice cream, kitchens, coloring books, make-up, cans of water, going visiting, tea parties, and one boy. She doesn't care so much for visitors, boys in general, large dogs, hand-me-downs, straight chairs, vegetables, snowsuits, or staying in the front yard. She is loudest when you are thinking, the prettiest when she has provoked you, the busiest at bedtime, the quietest when you want to show her off, and the most flirtatious when she absolutely must not get the best of you again.

Who else can cause you more grief, joy, irritation, satisfaction, embarrassment, and genuine delight than this combination of Eve, Salome, and Florence Nightingale? She can muss up your home, your hair, and your dignity--spend your money, your time, and your patience--and just when your temper is ready to crack, her sunshine peeks through and you've lost again.

Yes, she is a nerve-tackling nuisance, just a noisy bundle of mischief. But when your dreams tumble down and the world is a mess--when it seems you are pretty much of a fool after all--she can make you a king when she climbs on your knee and whispers, "I love you best of all!"

ONE FOR THE ROAD

The rigors of driving drain a motorist's energy, especially in today's heavy traffic. Often, fatigue is the direct cause of a highway accident.

One of the solutions to overcoming fatigue is to eat candy whenever you drive. When a person is tired, the blood-sugar level is low; candy quickly raises the blood-sugar and fights fatigue. Candy bars like Luden's 5th Avenue bar, chockful of milk chocolate and almonds, and Luden's Nut Log bar, filled with milk chocolate, coconut, caramel and peanuts, not only furnish a quick pick-up for the driver; they also relieve monotony, drowsiness, tension and fatigue for passengers. On a family motoring trip, it's wise to take along a supply of candy bars, lollipops, caramels and other tasty confections.

HART FARMERS HAVE "HEART"

Another reason why Hart could easily be spelled "Heart" was demonstrated recently when farmers Jack George, Claude Ray and Warren Lemons took their combines into the wheat field of neighbor Howe Parker, who was in a Dimmit Hospital recovering from a recent heart attack.

Also assisting with the harvest were Parker's sons, Jerry and Clifford Ray.

Homemakers Haven

Main dishes can be like magic when homemakers discover one dish meals that the whole family is bound to enjoy. When time's a flying and the family is "starving," a can opener is your best friend. Some of these dishes are quick as a wink and can be cooking in the oven while everyone is getting washed. They are company good too. For a finale to the meal, why not try hot gingerbread and whipped cream. Or if in a hurry, mix whipped cream with a can of drained fruit cocktail. You might add nuts and coconut to suit your taste.

MRS. JIMMY RAY ALLENSWORTH

Allensworth-Schulz Vows Said In Floydada Church

Miss Donna Jean Schulz and Jimmy Ray Allensworth pledged wedding vows in a 6 p. m. ceremony Saturday evening in Trinity Lutheran Church in Floydada.

Rev. L. J. Durkop, pastor, officiated. Vows were exchanged before an altar set with fan-shaped palm leaves and baskets of white gladioli.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Schulz of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allensworth.

Musical selections were presented by Miss Cynthia Gruetzner of Shallowater, organist, and Miss Bonnie Seymour of Lubbock, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white satin fashioned with an Empire bodice featuring long sleeves and high neckline. White satin bows and lace accented the sleeves and neckline. Her fingertip veil of tulle was held by a jeweled crown. She carried a cascade of white roses atop a white Bible.

For "something old", she carried a wedding band belonging to her grandmother and "borrowed" a strand of pearls from her mother. She wore the traditional blue garter, a gift of her sister, Mrs. Glendale King of Amarillo.

Miss Debby Jones was maid of honor and Miss Patsy Schulz, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore Empire gowns of yellow satin with sheer sleeves gathered at the wrists. They wore minute veils of matching yellow and carried long stemmed daisies.

Richard Murray was best man and Bob Waide was groomsman. Bobby Allensworth, brother of the groom, and J. Don Jones of Floydada lighted candles. Tammy Schulz of Fort Worth, niece of the bride, and Andrea Mires of Stratford, were ring bearers.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with the bridal bouquet and four white candles.

For a wedding trip to Red River, N. M. the bride wore a yellow dress accented with lace and white accessories.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Floydada High School and attended West Texas State University.

Allensworth is a graduate of Hart High School and attended West Texas State. He is employed with Rainbo Baking Company in Lubbock.

The couple will make their home in Littlefield.

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Did you know that there wasn't genuine paper money in this country until 1861.

Many people confuse various forms of early currency and notes as paper money like we know it today. This isn't the case.

After the Declaration of Independence, paper currency was issued by the Continental Congress to help finance the war. This money was not issued by the United States government as formed by the Constitution.

Between the time our government was formed and 1861, there was no actual national paper money issued, only coins. During times of financial crisis and war, however, the Government has issued Treasury Notes to meet the drain on our finances. These notes were not paper money as such, but only promissory notes that bore interest and were redeemed by the Treasury as quickly as possible.

Moments OF Meditation

"This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." I John 5:4.

VICTORY! The very sound of the word is one of exultation; just as its antonym, defeat smacks of depression and despair.

We can take comfort in the knowledge that those whose lives have been studded with victorious living are also those who have experienced the greatest defeats. To live triumphant, victorious lives in these complicated and distracting days may seem difficult - and, for some, impossible - but there is not a single one of us who may not know the joy and the serenity of victorious living if we will but learn its secrets.

The word "victory" occurs only twelve times in the Bible, six times in the New Testament. But a similar word - "overcome" - occurs more frequently. In the letters to the seven churches, in the book of Revelation the word is used as an exhortation to each of the churches. Christians are expected to be "overcomers".

Overcoming discouragement: In this rather frantic existence which we live, we are constantly faced with situations which tend to cause us to become discouraged. There would not be much opportunity for development if everything went smoothly in our lives. We are less likely to become discouraged if we lift up our eyes from ourselves.

Overcoming fear and worry: It has been truly said that most of the things that worry us never happen. Look your fears straight in the face and you will find that they will not be so formidable.

Overcoming pressure: It is not possible to escape pressure in our world, but it is possible to meet it and live with it, without allowing it to put the squeeze on us. One way is to obtain a true perspective of life and what life is all about. And then take advantage of the help which your partnership with Jesus offers you. Learn to leave your problems in His hands, confident that He will show you their solution.

Soybean Producers Seeking Certification At Hearing

Texas soybean producers have been granted a hearing before Texas Department of Agriculture Commissioner John C. White at 10:30 a. m. July 20 on a petition seeking certification to hold a referendum under Texas' "Commodity Check-Off" law.

The hearing will be held in the Agriculture Department's offices in the John H. Reagan building in Austin. Evidence for and against the proposal can be presented at the hearing.

Texas Soybean Association of Plainview seeks certification as the authorized organization to conduct the referendum over a 23 county area in northwest, northeast, and southeast Texas where about 95 percent of Texas' soybeans are produced.

If a majority of the voters in the referendum approve, funds could be collected to promote soybeans, and the petition also proposes a nine-man commodity producers board to administer programs with the funds, Commissioner White explains.

Counties in which the referendum will be held, if authority is granted by Commissioner White, include: Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Brisco, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Lubbock, Crosby, Bowie, Red River, Lamar, Delta, Fannin, Orange, Jefferson, Chambers, Liberty, Hardin, Harris and Galveston.

Can We Get Help From the Maker?

By DAVE LLEWELLYN

In a science-fiction thriller you might see a scene like this: a sinister-looking robot stalking across the room toward a cowering couple.

"Stop it!" she cries in terror.

"I can't," he replies, as he stares at the on-coming monstrous machine.

"Why not?" she screams. "Where did it come from?"

"It created itself," he sighs. "That's why it is unstoppable. Only the machine itself knows how it operates. And now that it has lost control of itself, we are helpless."

And helpless they were, with nobody to rescue the world's last inhabitants, the victims of the self-made robot.

An unlikely end of the world, certainly. Yet this story contains a truth.

What Has Man Made?

What has man made of himself but a robot?

Isn't it true that we have populated our world with a community of people who have lost control of themselves?

Isn't it so - that we have demonstrated ourselves consistently capable only of destruction?

Isn't it evident that we have set in motion processes of pollution and poisoning that have spread beyond control?

Isn't it now apparent that in "taming" Mother Nature we have created a monster?

Like the robots we have made ourselves to be, we respond to our rampaging world problems by going back to our programmed computers. We look for answers in the calculations that caused the problems.

Can we find solutions in time? We hope so, but most people are pessimistic. Too bad.

Help from Inventor

If only the robot's inventor were around to deliver us.

But it had no inventor. Too bad.

Too bad for us, too?

Yes . . . unless we can receive help from our Inventor.

This - our present destruction or salvation-is what is at stake in the teaching of man's creation by God.

Most of us don't care about our origin. The present and near future are our concern.

Yet it is precisely now that the question of our creation becomes significant.

If you are self-made - a robot - you'd better be able to solve all your problems, because you're all alone.

You'd better hope that the world can solve its problems, too - because you're all alone.

The Bible says, "in the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

That is: the Bible says that we are not alone.

Not Beyond Control

The Bible agrees with our newspaper that the world is headed for destruction - but it is not beyond control.

If God created the world - and us - He can change it, and us.

If we want Him to.

If we ask Him to.

Before you let your runaway world run over you, why not talk with its Creator?

The Spirit of '70

People sometimes make cynical remarks about flag-waving. But it sure beats flag-burning.

Our belief in this nation is something far deeper than mere patriotism. It is the expression of honor and respect for the institutions and blessings we possess as Americans.

One of those institutions is a church independent of state control. One of those blessings is the right to worship according to the dictates of conscience.

Of course, there are some earnest, well-meaning people who don't give a nickel for the Church — or to it either. Even their right not to worship is equally guaranteed by our Constitution!

That kind of freedom is hard to come by. It was hard to come by in 1776. And, in our opinion, it is best understood and most firmly preserved by those who thank God for it.
