City Water Shortage At Critical Stage

Revival Opens At Nazarene Church Aug. 6

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Davis of Denver, Colo., have been secured to conduct the preaching services in the Old Fashioned revival services which open at the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington Tuesday night, August 6, Rev. Austin Moore, the pastor, has announced. The revival will continue through Sunday, August 18.

Jack Bierce, an evangelistic singer from Baltimore, Md., will conduct the singing.

"This revival will be one of the high points of our church year from a spiritual standpoint. Rev. and Mrs. Davis come here highly recommended in their work and it is a pleasure for the local church to be able to present this opportunity for you to hear some good, old-fashioned preaching. You will also enjoy the good singing, led by Mr. Bierce. We extend a hearty welcome to every one of you to attend this revival and give us your support," said Rev. Moore.

Services will be held twice daily, at 10:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.

City Theaters Are Improved

The Ritz and Texan theaters are undergoing general redecoration and improvement this week, Bill Hurd, manager, said Tuesday.

The lobby, foyer and mezzanine floor of the Ritz are being redecorated. The walls are pastel green, while the ceiling is white and woodwork ivory. The marquee and all outside woodwork is also being painted.

A new coat of paint is being given the lobby of the Texan and new sound equipment is being installed.

Leader Subscriptions Are $2.50 After Sept. 1

Effective September 1, subscription prices of The Wellington Leader will be advanced to $2.50 per year for readers living in Collingsworth and all adjoining counties, and to $3.00 outside the trade territory, Deskins Wells, editor and publisher, has announced.

Throughout August, however, subscribers may renew for the old price of $2.00 per year, although no subscriptions will be taken for a longer period than one year.

Rising costs of labor, newsprint, and all other factors that go into the production of a newspaper have made this step necessary, the editor explained. Only last week the cost of newsprint again advanced more than $6.00 per ton.

Those counties, in addition to

With the most critical water shortage in its history facing Wellington, city officials Tuesday, July 30, issued an urgent appeal that users conserve water to the greatest extent possible, or it may become necessary to limit its use to drinking purposes only.

An effort was made to alleviate the situation late last week when handbills were distributed outlining a plan whereby users would water their lawns and yards only two days per week. Some disappointment was expressed Tuesday with the way the plan has worked and the appeal was renewed that citizens comply with the city's requests.

Mayor Pink Sullivan described the situation as "awfully bad," and said that if some relief is not received it may be necessary to stop all watering. "Two of our wells are dry now and one of our new wells is failing," he said. Mr. Sullivan urged that those persons

IN CASE OF FIRE

Fire is one of the major worries of city officials during the water shortage. Bura Handley, fire chief and water works superintendent, asks that every person turn off all hydrants if the fire whistle blows in order that there may be sufficient water for the fire fighting equipment.

The city has an open reservoir, but this will be turned into the water mains only as a last resort in fighting fire. Mr. Handley pointed out that while it is well chlorinated, it is still an open reservoir and if used it will be necessary to flush out all mains into which it goes as a health precaution for the city.

Collingsworth, where the $2.50 price will be effective are Wheeler, Gray, Donley, Hall and Childress in Texas, and Harmon and Beckham in Oklahoma. The $3.00 rate will prevail at all other points in Texas and all other states.

"Throughout the war years we attempted to give you the same good paper with the same complete coverage of which you and we had always been so proud. That was most difficult, and the co-operation you gave us is highly appreciated. We assure you that The Leader which you have always accepted so completely as your 'hometown paper' will continue to serve you as it always has," Mr. Wells said.

Quail School To Open Term August 12th

Quail consolidated school will open its fall term Monday, August 12, Supt. Noah Cunningham announced this week. Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m. and continue until noon, when students will be dismissed. Books will be issued and regular work will begin Tuesday morning.

School buses will run at the regular time Monday morning to bring the children to school.

The school lunch room will be open Tuesday to serve the students.

Final faculty arrangements are being made this week, and the first faculty meeting has been called for Sunday, August 11 at 3:00 p.m. at the school.

During the summer months living quarters for eight teachers were provided when a large building was moved to the campus and converted into a teacherage. This building will be modern in all respects and will be rented to the unmarried teachers at a nominal rent. Another house was moved to the school grounds to be occupied by the vocational agriculture teacher.

All buses have been overhauled and one new bus added to the fleet, assuring that the children will have adequate and comfortable transportation at all times, Mr. Cunningham said.

Improvements to the school building include enlarging the capacity of the heating system.

Legion Installs Officers Aug. 1

The Frank King Post of the American Legion will install officers for the new year at the regular meeting Thursday evening, August 1, at the Legion Hall. The installation program will begin at 8:00 p.m.

James Sullivan, veteran of World War II, will be installed as Post Commander, succeeding Dick Rapp, who has served during the last year.

All members of the Legion are urged to be present for this installation meeting.

County Follows State Lead To Support Jester

In voting Beauford Jester top man among the fourteen running for governor, the Collingsworth poll followed that for the state at large, which early this week gave him a lead of approximately 140,000 over his nearest opponent, Homer P. Rainey, who also ran a close second in this county.

The local vote was also in line with the state as a whole on practically all other state candidates.

The county vote gave Jester 739 votes; Rainey 698, C. R. Shaw, 13, Walter Scott McNutt 6, Reese Turner 10, John Lee Smith 204, Chas. B. Hutchinson 9, Floyd Brinkley 8, W. J. Minton 6, Jerry Sadler 334, Grover Sellers 388, A. J. Burks 5, William V. Brown 8, and Caso March 23. The state vote gave Brinkley 4,094, Brown 3,891, Burss 4,913, Hutchinson 5,092, March 17,420, McNutt 3,809, Finton 2,220, Sadler 94,025, Sellers 135,285, Shaw 8,456, Smith 89,073, and Turner 4,789.

Price Daniel led in the attorney general race with 1228 in the county and 528,968 in the state over Pat Neff Jr., with 1046 here and 478,338 in the state.

Results in other races, with the county vote listed first, then the vote for the state as a whole, were:

Lieutenant governor: House, 947 and 304,450; Shivers, 882 and 385,057; Mills, 162 and 92,975; Walker 133 and 56,522; and Winfree 119 and 124,876.

Commissioner of agriculture: Chambers, 376 and 199,158; Hill, 302 and 135,058; J. E. McDonald, (Continued on Page Four)

Reunion Plans Going Forward

Plans are going forward for the annual Old Settlers' Reunion, to be held Friday, August 16, at the LaHue Grove three miles east of Wellington, Dave Thomas, who is in charge of plans, announced.

Invitations have been printed and will be mailed to pioneers living outside the county. Any person having in mind an old-timer he feels would like to come, is urged to write him, inviting him to attend, or contact Mr. Thomas.

Those who are working on reunion plans believe that this will be the largest in a number of years.

Todd Re-Elected VA Director

Walker P. Todd, vocational agriculture teacher in Wellington high school, was re-elected a director in the Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association at the tri-area convention held in Abilene Thursday and Friday, July 25 and 26.

Attending from this county were Mr. Todd, Lee B. Carter of Samnorwood and Frank Kennedy of Quail.

Speakers at the convention were W. E. Lowery, Robert A. Manire, Lano Barron and B. C. Davis of the state department of vocational education, who discussed the various phases of the program for next year. One hundred and fifty teachers from Areas one, two and four, under the direction of area supervisors O. T. Ryan, W. E. Williams and Payne, attended the two-day session.

Minimum Rate On Classified Ads Is 50c An Issue

Effective August 1, the minimum rate on classified ads run in The Wellington Leader will be 50 cents per issue, Deskins Wells, editor, has announced. Twenty-five words will be permitted for this price, and the words over that will be charged at the rate of two cents per word per issue.

There are a few ads that will not need 25 words to tell all that is desired, and those requiring only about 8 or 10 words will be run twice for 50 cents. But, no ad will be inserted for less than the 50 cent minimum.

Leader classified advertisers, however, have found from past experience, that the more descriptive they give in their ads, the quicker they have obtained results.

Voters Reject Majority Of Officials With Opponents

Don't Water Lawns City Residents Urged

Mayor Pink Sullivan Wednesday at noon issued another urgent plea to Wellington water users to refrain from watering their lawns as long as the current drastic water shortage exists.

"We request you, if you do any yard watering at all, to water only flowers and shrubs and those vegetables such as tomatoes and beans that you are trying to save. And then use the water as sparingly as possible.

"If the rules for watering only two days per week that were announced earlier are not observed, and if no relief comes from the shortage, it may become necessary for the City Council to pass an ordinance forbidding the use of water on lawns, and enforce this with a penalty," Mr. Sullivan declared.

It was pointed out that grass will stand a long period of drouth without dying, and that within a short time after a rain, it will again be green.

This appeal was issued after an advertisement inserted by the city on page two of the second section in this issue of The Leader had already been printed. This ad listed rules for watering "lawns and flowers." Despite this wording, Mr. Sullivan asks that no lawns be watered until the water situation is eased.

Two Escape In Daylight Jail Break On Tuesday

In a daring daylight break, L. B. Williams escaped from the county jail Tuesday morning, July 30. This was his second escape within a period of six weeks. Escaping with him Tuesday, according to deputy sheriff Lon Shields was Willard Huckaby, young county man held on a charge of possessing untaxed beer.

Neither had been found when The Leader went to press Wednesday.

Mr. Shields, in describing the break, said that Sheriff and Mrs. Claude McKinney had left Tuesday morning about 2:00 a.m. to take a negro to the penitentiary at Huntsville. He remained at the jail until after the prisoners were given their breakfast, then left for a brief period. When he returned, prisoners remaining in jail called to him that there had been a break.

Williams was confined to a cell, Mr. Shields said, while Huckaby was in the run-around. While officers are unable to determine how the former got out of his cell, they learned that the two opened the outside door with a key made from a coat hanger.

The two have been traced to Hedley where they separated, Mr. Shields said. Williams is believed to have gone on to Memphis.

Williams was being held on charges of burglary and kidnapping, the latter having been filed after his first jail break here, in which he forced Bill Riley to take him to within a short distance of Memphis.

Frenchs Buy Tailor Shop

Mr. and Mrs. John French announce this week that they have re-purchased the cleaning and tailor shop formerly operated by them, from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowerman, owners for several months.

The shop, located on the south side of the square, is now undergoing remodeling and will be open for business on Monday, August 5. It will again be operated as the French Tailor Shop.

"We are putting the shop in first class condition and we assure you that the same efficient courteous service which you have known through the years will be continued," Mr. and Mrs. French said.

Rev. J. F. Mathews Returns To Pulpit For Sunday Service

Rev. J. F. Mathews, pastor of the First Christian Church, will preach at the morning service Sunday, August 4, after an absence of several weeks due to a heart attack.

His subject will be "Preach to the Whole Congregation."

"I am glad to get back in the pulpit and to be with members of the church again," he commented.

The service will begin at 11:00 o'clock.

TO CONDUCT MEETING

Min. Guy N. Woods, an evangelist of the Church of Christ and former minister of the church here, will return to Wellington to conduct a gospel meeting which begins July 31 and continue through August 11. Plans for this meeting are now complete, Min. Vaughn Shofner said this week.

Negro Dies In Family Quarrel

Modesta Chambers, negro living in the Fresno community, was shot and killed by his son-in-law, Willis Aldridge, about 1:00 a.m. Wednesday, July 31, as a climax to family trouble. The killing took place on the Elliott Wynn farm, where Aldridge and his family live.

Aldridge's wife and the other Chambers children told county officials that Chambers returned early Sunday after having been out all night and beat his wife severely. (Continued on Page Five)

C. E. Roberts Sells First New Maize Here

The first load of new maize was sold in Wellington Friday, June 26, by C. E. Roberts, who lives five miles south of town in the House- hold community. The load was sold to Bob Stevenson for $3.00 per hundred, including a 10 cent premium.

The maize graded No. 2 and was of the Martin combine type.

Mr. Roberts is now harvesting 80 acres of maize which is making from 500 to 600 pounds per acre. While this is regarded as average for the grain ripening now, it is only about half of what could have been expected had sufficient rain fallen.

This is approximately 10 days

Collingsworth voters, turning out in the largest number in recent years, followed a trend that was state-wide by defeating a majority of all present office holders who were opposed in their races for reelection in the primary election Saturday, July 27. Locally, all the county officers with opponents lost, as did two of the four county commissioners seeking to return to office.

Approximately 2,700 voters went to the polls, 500 more than voted two years ago. While this increase is due partially to the return of so many veterans, it is also due to an increased interest in local politics on the part of county citizens.

J. W. Holder, unopposed for reelection as county tax assessor and collector, received the largest number of votes, 2,693. This is the third time that Mr. Holder has polled the highest vote.

In the contest for county clerk, J. M. Moore, young Wellington World War II veteran, was high among the three candidates, receiving 1214 votes. Miss Margaret Shields, incumbent, received 935 votes and Mrs. Prebble Green Russell 513.

Mrs. George Keller, seeking the office of district clerk, won by a vote of 1477 to 1124 over J. McBroome, incumbent.

In the sheriff's race, O. Z. Bartlett received 1408 votes to 1258 for Claude McKinney, who has served this county as sheriff for seven terms, although these have not been consecutive.

For county treasurer, Mrs. Dora Ryan received 1476 votes and Miss Viola Hudson, incumbent, 1160.

Troy W. Gardner, a World War II veteran, was high man in the race for commissioner of Precinct 1, with 716 votes. Riley Dunson received 420, T. E. Bengtson 380, and B. A. Vandiver, the present commissioner, 149.

Wayne Johnson, present commissioner of Precinct 2, was returned to that office with 139 votes. Selba Rainey, veteran, received 68 votes and Elmer Smith 45.

Training Program For Farming Vets Gets Under Way

AUSTIN — The program for training veterans in agriculture while they work on their own farms and receive subsistence under the G. I. Bill of Rights will soon be going full blast throughout Texas.

Such is the prediction of B. C. Davis of Austin, state supervisor for veterans education for the state Vocational Education Board, which became the administrative agency for the program July 1.

So far 91 counties throughout the state have been given the green light to set up training schools for veteran-farmers, and new counties are enlisting in the program every day, Davis said.

The program has aroused particular interest in the Panhandle area, according to Davis, and already the following counties are on the list: Wheeler, Motley, Knox, Haskell, Jones, Fisher, Menard, Dawson, Lubbock and Lamb.

"It should be only a matter of a few weeks before most of the counties in the state will come in," Davis said.

Under the plan, he explained, a veteran who owns or leases his own farm will be able to obtain 25 hours of approved instruction each week and thus come in for the same subsistence as is granted a University student under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Twelve and a half of the 25 hours must be spent in class or group instruction, and the other twelve and a half hours may be spent on projects on his own farm under the supervision of a teacher.

It is a cooperative program, with the training for the veterans supplied by the county, and the Veterans Administration has vested in the State Board for Vocational Education the supervision of the training program.

A county desiring to enlist in the plan offers its proposed set-up to a committee in Austin known as the "Governor's Approval Committee." Upon approval by this committee and the State Board for Vocational Education, the county then may proceed with the instruction of veterans in agriculture.

The Veterans Administration approves the individuals who are to receive such county vocational education. The cost of tuition for each veteran in the county school is billed to the State Board of Vocational Education, which in turn passes the bill on to the Veterans Administration.

Temporary headquarters for the program in the Lubbock region, which includes 82 counties in West Texas, is at Paducah, under the supervision of Zane G. Brewer, who recently resigned his position as vocational agriculture teacher at Paducah high school.

The state board has recommended the counties provide one teacher for each 20 veterans under the program, Davis said. He continued: "We, as the state vocational education division, want training for those ex-GI's out there in the rural districts that will get them established in business while on the job."

Veterans' News

A month from now thousands of veterans in this area will converge on colleges, universities and trade and professional schools, to take advantage of the educational benefits offered them under the G. I. Bill. Many others may not be able to attend the school of their choice, because of current overcrowding at almost every large school in the country.

The Veterans Administration recently completed a survey which showed that the most vacancies for veteran-students will be found in smaller schools. State teachers' colleges, for example, listed comparatively large numbers of openings, while state universities almost without exception were already at the saturation point.

Of the veterans who enter school this fall, a large percentage will be entitled to monthly subsistence allowances. In the past payment of these allowances has sometimes been delayed, because of a backlog of work in Veterans Administration offices, or incomplete reports from schools or the veterans themselves. The Veterans Administration is anxious to prevent any such delays, and has taken steps to eliminate them completely. If you enter school this fall, and your first subsistence check does not arrive within 30 days after your schooling begins, get in touch immediately with the school's veterans' adviser, or go to a Veterans Administration office if there is one nearby. If you are not near a VA office, write to the VA regional office having jurisdiction over the area in which the school is located. Give full information, so that VA may give you speedy service.

Here are the VA regional offices in this area, and the territories they serve: St. Louis, Mo., serves eastern half of Missouri; Kansas City, Mo., serves western Missouri and 10 counties in northeast Kansas; Wichita, Kans., serves the remainder of Kansas; Little Rock, Ark., serves Arkansas; Muskogee, Okla., serves Oklahoma.

Veterans Administration representatives are stationed at or near a number of the larger schools in the area, to provide assistance to veterans attending schools under the G. I. plan. They, and all other VA representatives, are always at your service.

Legionnaires Urged To Support Bills

Members of the Frank King Post of the American Legion are joining other Legionnaires over the country in getting behind two important bills now before the national congress that concern war veterans. These bills are the Rogers bill giving terminal leave to enlisted men, and the bill revising the National Service Life Insurance Act, according to Riley Dunson, third vice-commander of the post.

Mr. Dunson reminded that the Rogers bill was recommended for passage by the senate military affairs committee recently and the insurance act by the senate finance committee.

However, both measures will probably have to go to conference if the senate finally passes them with amendments which the committee has made in the House provisions, Mr. Dunson said.

He urged members of the local post to write or wire senators, urging their support of the measures. Letters and telegrams should be addressed at the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Floyd Johnson Dies Here On Friday Morning

Floyd Johnson, Wellington carpenter who had lived in this county for 40 years, died at his home Friday, July 26. His death followed a long period of illness which had confined him to his home for the last two years.

Mr. Johnson was a native Texan, having been born in Williamson County August 18, 1889, and at the time of his death he was 56 years, 11 months and 8 days of age. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, he moved to Ford County in September 1898. The family lived there for two years, then moved to Duke, Okla., where they remained for five and one-half years before coming to this county in 1906.

He was married to Miss Nina McAdams on January 2, 1915.

From 1922 until 1935, Mr. Johnson was employed at gins in Wellington. He then took up carpentering, work which he followed until his health failed.

Funeral services for Mr. Johnson were held Saturday afternoon, July 27, at the Ellis Funeral Home, with Rev. W. A. Squyres in charge. Pall bearers were Hardy Wright, Otis Jesse, Henry McClure, Ben Hurst, Sam Lasater and Claude Savage. Flower bearers were Mmes. Jessie Bledsoe, Marie Ball, Gertrude Stall and Bertha Williams. Hymns included "Amazing Grace" and "Tell Mother I'll Be There." Burial was in the Wellington cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Johnson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nina Johnson; two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Mayhugh and Mrs. Lorene Motesbocker; and three granddaughters, Barbara Ann Mayhugh, Charleen and Sharon Motesbocker; and a sister, Mrs. Eva Clemons. A brother, Rodney Johnson, preceded him in death three months ago.

Rev. E. D. Landreth To Hold Quarterly Conference Sunday

Quarterly conference of the Wellington Methodist Church will be held at the Salt Fork Church Sunday, August 4, Rev. C. D. Dameron, pastor, has announced.

Rev. E. D. Landreth, district superintendent, for Clarendon, will speak at the 11 o'clock hour. Dinner will be served at the church and the conference will be held in the afternoon.

Churches at Quail, Bethel and Salt Fork will be represented in the conference. As many members as possible from each of these are urged to attend.

Gospel Of Christ

(Rom. 1:16)

OBEDIENCE

"Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Mat. 7:21. Peter asks the question, "What shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God?" I Pet. 4:17. Paul answers, "When the Lord shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall be punished with everlasting destruction." II Thes. 1:7-9.

Paul said of Christ, "Being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him." Heb. 5:9. James said, "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves." Jas. 1:22. Why then will people be deceived into thinking mental assent is all that is needed, when our eternal salvation rests upon our obedience to the gospel?

Neither does obedience destroy the grace of God, for Christ said, "When ye shall have done all those things commanded you, say, we are unprofitable servants: we have done that he gave." Christ "tasted of death for every man." The Holy Spirit made known "the words of life." Man's responsibility is to hear God's word, believe and OBEY.

Story Of Variety Clubs Is Filmed

At long last, the romantic story of the Variety Clubs of America is to be told—not only told as it was recently in the Reader's Digest but told in a feature motion picture production in technicolor—facts and romance will go hand in hand in this story which began with the finding of an abandoned baby girl in the Sheridan Square Theatre in Pittsburgh, Pa., on Thanksgiving Day, 1928.

Actually the Variety Club was not motivated in the beginning by philanthropic purposes—it was simply eleven congenial men of the entertainment field who met because of their deep friendship for each other in a social way—but with the finding of the baby they took the responsibility of caring for the child.

The baby was duly christened and for five years these men did all in their power for her but at the end of that time—and after careful selection—a home was found for her with a real mother and daddy.

News of what these eleven men had done spread throughout the country and other people wanted to ally themselves with an organization which could do so much good and on January 28, 1934, the National Variety Clubs were formed. Since then they have spread all over the United States and there are now 28 Tents—all dedicated to the welfare of mankind.

Paramount is filming the story with such stars for "Variety Girl" as Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Ray Milland, Betty Hutton, Alan Ladd, Dorothy Lamour, Paulette Goddard, Barry Fitzgerald, Veronica Lake, William Bendix, Sonny Tufts, John Lund, Gail Russell, William Demarest, Howard DeSilva, Marjorie Reynolds, John Hoyt, Billy DeWolfe, Cass Daley and many others.

It is planned that this picture will be one of Paramount's outstanding musicals with production starting in August.

The trouble with most of our modern books is that the covers are too far apart.

Are YOU Afraid

We have many complaints today about our national economy and how it will smother us with inflation, and even result in financial disaster. This is a form of fear that must be stopped dead in its tracks—before it is allowed to get the upper hand in our collective thinking.

What is there to fear? . . . that we won't have beefsteak next Sunday? . . . that we won't be able to buy a summer suit (even though we may not need one)? . . . that we can't buy a new car (even though the old car still takes us places) . . . afraid we can't spend our money?

If this is the case (and we believe it is the biggest reason for most "gripes" born of fear)—if this is the case, we should pause for reflection and then count our blessings! For this is the opportunity most of us have long been promising ourselves. An opportunity to save money! A chance to build a cash reserve against the time when we may need it.

So—toss your fears out the window and put your cash in an insured Checking or Savings Account at the First National Bank. It will restore your peace of mind, give you renewed confidence. We'll be happy to serve you any time.

Wheat Insurance Offered In 1947

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is again offering all-risk protection on wheat crops to be grown in 1947 and succeeding years. The contracts that are signed now will cover a three year period, the 1947, 1948 and 1949 crops.

There are two types of contracts, 50 per cent or 75 per cent coverage. Partial protection may be had on either of the above coverages if the insured desires to reduce this amount by applying for 60, 70, 80 or 90 per cent of the coverage for the contract. This means that if a farmer only wants 60 per cent of the protection of his contract he will pay only 60 per cent of the premium for the contract. All other percentages of course will be handled on the same basis. The partial protection contract gives the insured a wider selection of coverage to suit his individual needs, Willard Jones, who is in charge of the county AAA office explained.

The contracts now being offered still cover all unavoidable losses such as drought, hail, floods, insects, winter kill, wind, fire, diseases and many other causes.

Farmers who are interested in insuring their wheat crop may call at the AAA office or contact their local committeeman for further information concerning the program. August 31, 1946 is the closing date for filing an application.

City Water -

full and care in the amount used for household purposes.

Possibility of fire is a major worry of city officials now, as it would be difficult to combat with the depleted water supply.

Bura Handley, water works superintendent, in explaining the shortage, said that the city has 10 wells in operation, but that those which formerly produced from 75 to 100 gallons of water per minute are now producing from 20 to 25 gallons. A new well was due to be turned on Wednesday, but Mr. Handley said that this won't offset the failure of the other wells. He secured a pump for the well Tuesday afternoon at Plainview, and had a city truck there Wednesday morning at 7:30 to get it.

There are two reasons for the current shortage, Mr. Handley said. More customers are being added now than ever before and dry weather during the last year has resulted in a drop of the water level in the area from which the city secures its water. It takes two or three months, he pointed out, for moisture from a good rain to get down to the strata of water reached by the city wells. The shortage now is due partially to dry weather through the winter and spring.

In the meantime Wellington residents were asked to observe the plan requested by the city in watering lawns and flowers last week: All people whose houses face north or east will use water for lawns and flowers only on Tuesday and Thursday. Those whose houses face south or east will use water for lawns and flowers only on Wednesday and Friday.

Mr. Handley expressed some disappointment with the cooperation to date.

"A few people have gone right on watering their yards. Others are watering on the days designated, but they are using twice as much as they have been using. We can only urge that every person abide by the request made by the city in this matter," he said.

"Half the people watering lawns emptied the standpipe Tuesday morning before 11 o'clock. That's how fast we're using water," he continued.

Just how much water Wellington residents are using is not known, for the master meter went out of working order week before last. At that time approximately a half-million gallons of water was being consumed each day. Mr. Handley estimated that they were probably able to pump about 450,000 gallons a day at present.

Wellington is not alone in its water problem. Almost every other town in the Panhandle has the same shortage confronting it.

Shamrock has limited the use of water for lawns and flowers and closed down its swimming pool, it is reported here.

The city council at Hollis, after water pressure became so low that hydrants in the second story of buildings would not run, stopped the use of water for lawns, but relaxed the ruling to permit its use from 6 to 9 p.m.

Childress, in the face of its present shortage, has its city council busy on a project to bring water from Quitaque Creek. Conferences with engineers on the feasibility of this are under way this week.

The same conditions exist on the Plains as towns throughout that area have requested their citizens to curtail the use of water for irrigation.

Sheffy Mahan To Legislature

An outside political race that is of considerable interest here is that of representative in the state legislature from the 121st district, in which Sheffy Mahan of Childress defeated Hubert Lee of Paducah.

Mr. Mahan is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mahan of Wellington and the son of Mrs. Jimmy Mahan of Childress and the late Mr. Mahan. With his parents, he lived in Wellington as a child and attended school here.

Incomplete tabulations gave Mahan an almost two-to-one lead over the district as a whole.

Alfalfa Subsidy Offered By AAA

An additional payment for harvesting alfalfa seed was announced late last week by Millard Brown of the county AAA office. Payment will be made at the rate of 7 cents per pound on the number of pounds of seed (clean basis) harvested in 1946 and sold into commercial channels before January 1, 1947.

Producers must submit satisfactory proof of sale, preferably a sales ticket, to the county committee giving the number of pounds of clean seed sold. Prior approval of the county committee for the performance of this practice is not required, but it should be reported to the county office as soon as all seed are sold.

"Farmers should not be confused by the addition of this new practice, as it is still necessary to get prior approval for harvesting alfalfa seed under the original AAA set-up for this year. In other words, we now have two separate practices for harvesting alfalfa seed, which is very similar to the way the payments were handled under the 1945 program," Mr. Brown said.

"The reason for this additional payment is the shortage of alfalfa seed throughout the entire nation and it is thought by the head officials that this additional payment would induce farmers to harvest more seed to be placed in commercial channels. Further information concerning this program may be had at the AAA office."

4-H Club Encampment Held At La Hue Grove On Friday And
Saturday, July 26 And 27H. D. And 4-H Clubs
Send Relief Articles

The Home Demonstration Club Women and 4-H Club Workers of Collingsworth County have contributed 437 articles of clothing to the Philippine Relief. Some of the things that were contributed included feed sacks, needles, thread, towels, clothing for adults, children's clothing, socks, and cotton undergarments.

During the observance of National Home Demonstration Week in Texas more than 32,000 articles of clothing, towels and feed sacks were collected. The home demonstration and 4-H club groups spent $1,536.17 in postage shipping these parcels to the islands.

The following excerpts were taken from a letter to Miss Maurice Hearn, State Home Demonstration Agent from Miss Presentation Atienza thanking the Texas farm and ranch women for the relief goods sent to the Philippine Islands:

"It is needless to say that everything we had was gone to the fire, books and literature destroyed, kitchen equipment burned, so that now we are trying to rebuild our Home Extension work by gathering materials like literature. I have received quite a number of them from the different states of which I feel very grateful about it.

"We appreciate the interest you and your women agents have shown in helping and if there is anything we can do to help you, please don't hesitate to let us know."

The 4-H Club girls annual encampment was held Friday, July 26, at La Hue Grove, with seventy-five 4-H girls, parents, sponsors and visitors present.

The group gathered at three o'clock, and spent the afternoon playing games, after which they enjoyed a picnic supper.

At eight o'clock, each of the five 4-H clubs of this county presented a stunt. Mrs. Harry Gilbert, Miss Louise Fulcher, and Miss Eva Mae Wilkins acted as judges for this event. The Dozier 4-H Club was awarded first prize, Dodson second prize, and Samnorwood third prize.

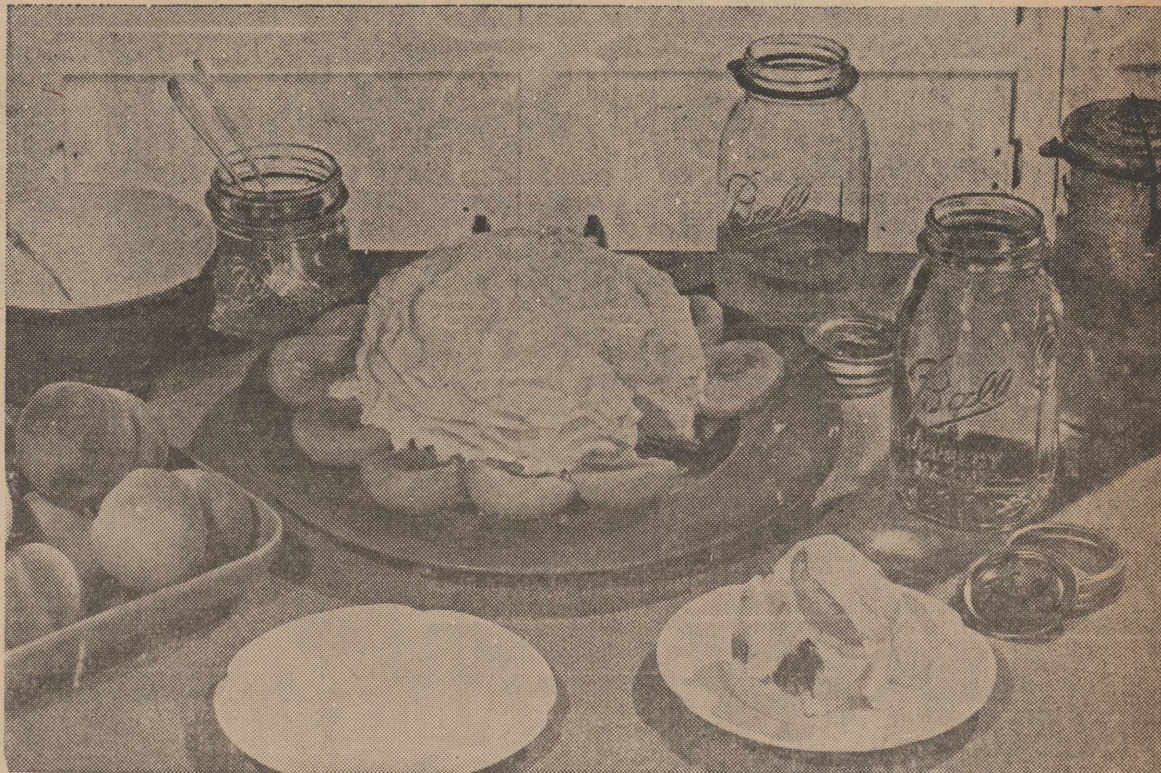

After the program the group held a sing-song; Lora Beth and Wanda Kellison of the Dodson 4-H Club furnished music with their accordions.

When the group was ready to retire, they repeated the 4-H Motto, Pledge, and prayer, and sang Taps. Saturday morning the girls prepared their breakfast over campfires. After breakfast the group enjoyed another sing-song and games until time to break camp at 8:30 o'clock.

Can Fruits For Delicious Desserts

Whether your canned fruit deserts are just or unjust depends upon the quality and flavor but it cannot create it. That's Mother Nature's job but you may be surprised at the amount of help you can give her.

All fruits (except pears) should be left on the tree, vine or bush until full-ripe and then canned as promptly as possible. Most varieties of pears should be taken from the tree when they have finished growing and kept in a cool place until they are ripe enough to serve raw. At this stage they are tender and juicy but not mellow.

It pays to take time to sort fruit so that pieces of about the same size and color can be kept together. Then the pie or fruit-cup pieces won't be mixed with those intended for fancy looking desserts.

Every piece of fruit should be washed carefully and drained well before the skin is broken. Skins should be removed from the peaches, pears and apricots. Yes, the skins can be left on but it is impossible to have both skins and top quality. Stones may be left in peaches and ripe apricots, not that we understand why anybody would want them, but woe is likely to be the lot of the home canner who leaves stones in apricots which have been taken from the tree before fully ripe. Such apricots have a poor flavor at best and the green stones make it even poorer.

But we are going too fast! Let's remember that flavor is lost with every minute lost between the time the fruit is washed and the time it is put into the canner for processing. Therefore, all jars, caps, lids, and rubbers should be checked, washed, rinsed, covered with water and put over the heat to sterilize; water should be put to heat in whatever is used as a water bath canner, and all utensils and materials collected before work is started on preparing the fruit.

The sweetening story is still a little on the sour side. It can be no news to you that it may be possible to buy all the granulated sugar you would like to have, but shortage of the cane and beet sugars need not halt your fruit canning program because corn syrup can take over where these granulated sugars leave off and a lot of people think the fruit better when corn syrup helps out. Gladys Kimbrough gives a basic syrup recipe which may be adjusted to meet your requirements. The syrup is made of combining two cups of sugar, one cup standard grade of corn syrup, one cup water or fruit juice, and boiling about two minutes or until the sugar dissolves. Either light or dark corn syrup may be used. The dark syrup is especially good with dark fruits. It flavor blends nicely with light fruits too but it tends to add color where color may not be wanted.

Miss Kimbrough recommends that, when possible, some sugar be used when putting up fruit because the flavor of sweetened fruit is more acceptable to most persons but she also makes it quite clear that fruit will keep without sugar. When no sugar is used, the fruit should be heated in little water or in its own juice before it is put into the jars. Whether canned with or without sugar, fruits should be covered with liquid in the jar, otherwise, it is likely to discolor.

Miss Kimbrough advises canners to sweeten and flavor syrups to suit themselves. If you would like more flavor in your peaches or pears, you might try adding a half teaspoon vanilla or orange, or nutmeg, or rum, or a few drops of almond extract to each quart of fruit. In other words, you are free to make the things you put up at home taste like you want them to taste and that is something nobody else will or can do for you.

Up to date canners heat fruit enough to shrink it before it is placed in the jars for processing by boiling in a hot water bath canner. This is called hot packing. The fruit may be heated in its own juice or in syrup. One excellent way is to measure the prepared fruit, add the sugar to it, and heat gently until the juice runs free and the sugar is dissolved. Two cups sugar and one cup corn syrup will sweeten a gallon of prepared peaches enough to suit the average taste. If the peaches are juicy, no water need be added. Pears can usually get along with a little less sugar than peaches call for but they nearly always need some water to start them cooking.

Processing time varies according to the size, variety, and firmness of fruit but the average time for peaches, pears, and apricots, which have been thoroughly heated before packing, is fifteen minutes at boiling. Even if fruits keep, they will discolor if for any reason they have not been heated boiling hot all the way through.

If you will begin with good home canned fruits, you can end with wonderful desserts which are just no bother at all to make. For example, Peaches and Cream Cake is a fitting finish for any meal. All you do is make or buy a plain angel food or sponge cake, frost it thick with sweetened whipped cream and surround it with halves of tree-ripened free-stone peaches right out of your own jars. This cake should be served at the table because it is far too handsome to be cut in the kitchen.

Twelve Wins Scored By Wellington Youth

Teen-Age Gene Manzer Sets Baseball Fans On The Alert

Gene Manzer, who never played anything more than softball in high school, is spreading the name of Wellington, Texas, over many a sports page in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri as he pitches for the Muskogee Reds in the Western Association. To date the tall 160-pound left hander has won twelve games and lost only 4. The most remarkable part of this 19 year old freshman's record is that four of his twelve wins have been no-hit performances.

Manzer is the youngest member of the Muskogee Reds. He signed up with the Detroit Tigers and was farmed out to Muskogee as is the custom with major ball clubs.

Reprints from other papers may give Collingsworth friends an idea of how the young player is faring in professional baseball. Some of these follow:

"While in high school at Wellington, Gene played softball and football, and carried on in these sports at Kemper Military Academy at Booneville, Mo., where he completed his last year of high school and his first year of college training.

"He waited 'two or three months' for the Army to take him in 1944, after his second year at Kemper, then went to the University of Colorado for a few months before he finally was called in as a cadet.

"Before Manzer went to Colorado he tried out with the St. Louis Cardinals at the Red Bird camp at Denison, Texas, and could have signed a contract had he not been going into the army."

Following the first exhibition game, a sports writer said:

"Gene Manzer, the 19-year-old southpaw on the Reds staff, held the (Briggs) Independents hitless during the two innings he pitched, three of the six batters whiffing."

Under a 7 column banner on June 6, the Muskogee Daily Phoenix said "Gene Manzer's Brilliant Two-Hitter Blanks Cards." "Victory is Third in Row for Texan in Past Six Days." The story read:

"Nineteen-year-old Gene Manzer, Muskogee Reds' southpaw curveball artist, showed amazing control Wednesday night at Athletic Park in pitching a brilliant two-hit shut-out over the St. Joseph Cardinals, 4-0, in the second game of the series before some 1350 'Nylon Hose Night' fans.

"The lanky youngster from Wellington, Texas, performing in a cool, deliberate manner unusual for one in his first year of professional baseball, put the visitors from Missouri down in one-two-three order in seven of the nine innings. Only two men got as far as first, while another man, who got on through an error, got as far as third base. Otherwise, Manzer had no trouble with the St. Joseph batters.

"During the past six days Manzer has gone on a victory spree, winning three games. He won the second tilt of the Memorial Day doubleheader against Salina, and got credit for the second game of a day-night doubleheader here Sunday against the Leavenworth Braves when he relieved Kennon Black in the seventh inning of the contest. The three victories constitute Manzer's only wins this season, however, against two defeats—the youngster serving in a relief roll for the most part during the early part of the pennant chase."

A few days later the headline read: "Gene Manzer Wins Fourth Victory in Nightcap, 5-0." This was against the Leavenworth Braves.

The Muskogee Daily Phoenix wrote on June 17:

"After squeezing out an 8-7 win in the afternoon game, the Muskogee Reds carved a handy 6-0 nightcap victory over the Salina Bluejays at Athletic Park Sunday, with young Southpaw Gene Manzer spooning out five hits to the Kansans in notching his fifth victory of the season.

"... Manzer, in addition to turning in a bang-up pitching package, netted .500 in the batter's box in the nightcap, getting two singles in four times at bat, and scoring one run himself."

A special bulletin said:

"The Feathered Flock from Topeka made a serious bid for the old ball game in the ninth inning at Athletic Park Sunday afternoon, but young Gene Manzer, called in to nip an incipient rally, set the Owls down, and Muskogee won the series opener, 5 to 4."

"Gene Manzer, Muskogee's sensational teen-age portside, got himself into some mighty close scrapes in Saturday night's tilt, but somehow managed to pull himself out of them to notch No. 8 in his victory string, against four losses. Thirteen Arkansawyers, first-half winners, were left stranded high and dry on the paths.

"And, the lean Texas youngster the same as won his own ball game, laying down the bunt on which Falk scored Muskogee's third run."

On July 17 this report came from Topeka, Kansas:

"A masterful four-hit shut-out performance was given here last night by Gene Manzer, 19-year-old, tall, lean and serious minded left-hand hurler for the Muskogee Reds as the visiting Oklahomans piled up another Western Association victory by defeating the Topeka Owls 1-0.

"Manzer, who attended Bob Feller's pitching school at Tampa, Fla., and who Feller termed the 'best prospect' among the left handers in the school, made it his 10th victory last night against four losses.

"Although Manzer struck out only two Owls, he kept the home guards from getting any worthwhile hits. The four hits the Owls did get were all singles and only one Topeka man was able to get as far as third base."

Cull Poultry Flocks Now

College Station—The present high prices on corn, wheat and other grains and protein concentrates means that heavy culling must be done in farm and commercial flocks if poultry-men hope to stay "in the black" on egg production, according to S. A. Moore, poultry husbandman of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

"It takes around 11 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs from a hen that is laying at the rate of 80 eggs per year," Moore said. A 200-egg hen will lay a dozen eggs on 5 pounds of feed.

The poultry specialist estimated that 3 1-2 million Texas hens, or about one out of seven in the average flock, was costing her owner money instead of bringing it in.

While culling "boarders" from the flock is always good business, it is especially necessary now because of the feed situation, he said. Many low-producing hens in poultry flocks are eating feed at the rate of four to five pounds per

I Saw...

—By AMY SUE WAY

As the sun continued to bear down after Mr. Handley shut off the water from the lawns and the sparrows started drinking from pans set out for dogs, I saw...

Members of the VFW and the American Legion shading their prized 1946 automobile under a canopy on the courthouse lawn... Mrs. Hardy Wright saying that if she could only find someone to go with her she'd leave tomorrow for the North Pole... John Alf Thomas, just getting out of the barber chair, asking his dad, Zook Thomas, "Well, can I go on to the dentist now?" Now there's a boy that's different... Bob Percival in town looking for just any old pup tent with plumbing. He's out of the Navy now, and they're coming back here if he can only find them a spot to live in.

Jimmie Cochran and Denzil Bevers putting Jimmie's new golf clubs into use out on the football field... Mr. and Mrs. Alva Wood and Alva Nell getting ready for their vacation to Missouri. They left in the middle of the heat Saturday... Three little boys sitting on the curb in front of the show waiting for it to open and singing Sioux City Sue at the top of their lungs... Ernest Harwell's truck sitting at the side of his house loaded with machinery. He's just back from the harvest... John Savage saying that he wished that hot election would hurry and get over so the weather would have a chance to cool off... Pretty AVE Lt. Mabel Jones home on criminal leave.

Johnny French sitting on the street corner visiting with some friends. Now that he's out of business he can do things he hasn't gotten to do in several years... Jack Hurst hammering in a most professional manner on an election board going up on the south side of the square. That same board, a little earlier, while it was just leaning against the wall, had people stopping and staring. They didn't realize at first that those numbers were left over from two years ago... Lewis Green and Lon Wilborn trying to beat the heat with cokes.

Heard Al Duncan and Melvin Kiker telling Joe Terry they were taking a break in their vote counting job for iced coffee because they just knew they could work more efficiently then... Also Tom Bryant saying that he'd take two votes—they were small... Mrs. Kathleen Gray's little son, Mike, insisting that he got the whooping cough from eating watermelon. Hope there's not an epidemic later in the season.

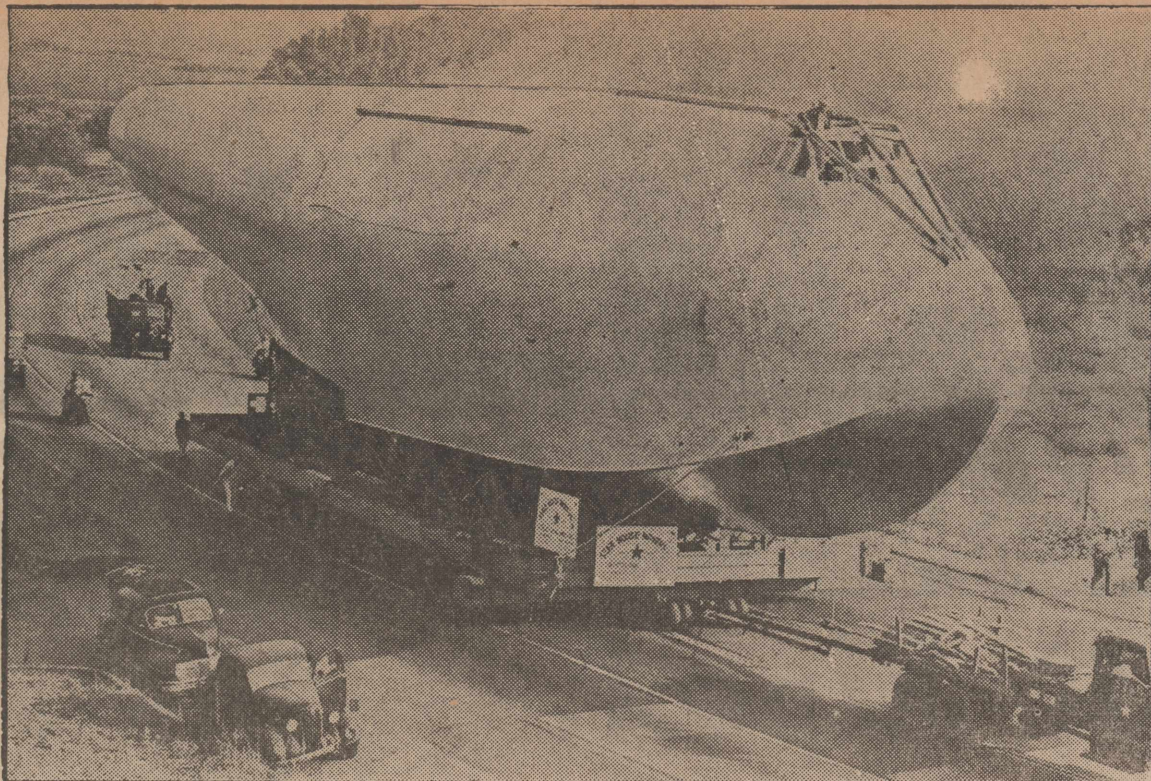

People wouldn't brag so much about their ancestors if they'd just remember that the older the seed the poorer the crop.

Farm and Ranch Chatter

With Layne Beaty, WBAP, Fort Worth

With the season too late now for moisture to make much difference, the cotton crop of Texas is leaning heavily on a none too plentiful supply of insecticides. Particularly in the central area are boll weevils and flea hoppers already wreaking serious damage, and the watchword among cotton farmers is dust, dust, dust. With one of the worst insect infestations and one of the lightest acreages, this year's production can have a lot to do with our protein feed supplies this winter.

A test run by K. P. Ewing, of the Bureau of Plant Quarantine, shows the value of dusting with calcium arsenate, and a DDT-sulphur mixture. Yield gained 1963 pounds per acre, with a value of $100.63, at 21 cents. Five to seven applications of calcium arsenate (about 80 pounds) cost $6.00, and two applications of 5 percent DDT-sulphur, each 20 lbs. to acre, cost $1.25.

Calcium arsenate and DDT should not be mixed, however.

The cutting of land by the plow, the drilling of an oil well in the ground, the use of an axe against an oak—These are the symbols of man's power. That is how the pioneers of this country fought for survival. We have come a long way since then, but we still retain the initiative that built this country—freedom of enterprise.

Now the battle with nature has changed. Business-managed, tax-paying electric companies have turned the surging tide of nature's power into work beneficial to you. Giant turbines convert power to electricity to bring greater convenience, more pleasure and better living to homes everywhere.

Hoarding Proves Health Hazard

AUSTIN—There are many persons who naturally hoard anything and everything including old clothes, boxes, and other useless articles, some of which constitute no greater danger than a possible fire hazard, but a very real danger is present when this tendency is applied to hoarding old medicine in any form.

Most medicine finds itself into the home through a doctor's prescribing it for some specific illness. For the sake of safety, left-over medicines should be destroyed immediately when they have fulfilled their purpose and never be stored in the medicine cabinet for future unprescribed use in case of another illness, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Self-medication with the use of left-over drugs which were of great benefit to some previous illness can sometimes turn a simple ailment into a very serious condition of actual poisoning," Dr. Cox said. "This is particularly true of the indiscriminate use of sulfa drugs which have been prescribed for some specific condition."

"It is wise to use medicines as indicated for the illness for which they are prescribed by your doctor, and when they are no longer needed, destroy the remaining medicine immediately," Dr. Cox said. "Even if you expect to return of the same condition at some future date, it would be better to obtain new medicine if the condition recurs than to retain this old medicine in the cabinet and subject the members of your family to the danger of using it unwisely."

Editorial

If Mr. Grover Sellers' logically based attack on partisanship in the presumably intraparty impartial Democratic Committee is developing a formidable split in the state party itself, the fact may prove a means toward another desirable end. Texas in the national political field would better serve itself as a bi-party status. As the state Democratic party has in effect and practice repudiated the principles which logically made the Democratic party a powerful and dominant single entity in Texas as in other southern states, the reasons for accepting the handicap of any single-party state in national affairs have vanished.

Mr. Roosevelt during his long reign set out quite deliberately to destroy two of the three southern Democratic principles, States rights and a white man's party. To the third, free trade, he paid only lip service. In Texas as in other Solid South states the voter went with the party. Certainly many went unwillingly and the party lost progressively from 1936 through 1944 an increasing number of traditional Democratic votes, though the defection was more than offset by the number of new voters who followed the Roosevelt banner.

Regardless of false assertions made by their opponents, the anti-Roosevelt elements in the democratic party are not Republican, since the GOP as much as the Roosevelt Democrats has consistently rejected the

Other Editors Say

• Good Crops At Quanah

Hardeman County cotton and feed crops have never been better at this time of the year, farmers claim.

While the cotton acreage has reduced during the past few years, the total for this year is approximately the same as it was during 1945. The price continues to rise during three days of this week and the market went up $12.50 per bale. Farmers say that cotton is once more a money crop and expect the acreage to be greatly increased next year.

Feed, any kind of feed, is greatly in demand and at almost any price. Farmers who have turned their land to cane and maize are expected to make long profits if the season and price continues favorable.

A number of cattlemen turned their farm lands into cotton this year in order to get cottonseed which would assure them of a certain amount of cake and meal for their herds next winter—Anton Coch in The Quanah Tribune-Chief.

• Cleaning Up

June is traditionally the month for brides. . . not housecleaning. . . but Hereford this month is getting plenty of both. Lots of people are getting married, and they could hardly have a nicer wedding present from the city as a whole than a clean town to come home to after the honeymoon.—The Hereford Brand.

principles that made old-line inheritors of the Confederacy's post-Civil War position Democrats in the first place. So there will always be a healthy element in the party which may seek either to maintain a separate Democratic party or to use the balance of power methods to vote with the rival GOP.

Within the party it is highly probable that division will be maintained on much the same conditions that for decades split the Texas Republicans. We are quite likely to see, indeed are seeing, a faction to court the negro vote, and a faction that adheres to the "lily white" principles. If current political observances are correct in estimate, the Negro already has his Goose-neck Bill McDonald in the Democratic ranks in a Dallas Negro lawyer, who is credited with having organized a bloc of several thousand voters, a force that cannot fail to be felt in the primary to which the race holds a Federal Supreme Court card of admission. Mr. Seay's dominant bloc in the executive committee inherits the GOP black-and-tan tradition and is quite likely to see the decisive split come on the race issue.—The Dallas News.
