Twins Of Different Color

The fact that one of these 6-year-old Rios twins has dark skin, eyes and hair, and the other is a complete albino puzzles California scientists, but doesn't bother the boys in the least. Umberto, left, and Rudolfo, born of Mexican parents on Santa Catalina Island, are healthy, normal and happy.

Evacuation Of Thousands Is Being Asked

Appeal Is Issued For World Powers To Find Haven For Women And Children

(By The Associated Press)

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, April 29—General Emilio Mola's insurgent troops occupied devastated Guernica, "sacred city of the Basques," at 11:15 a. m. today while the government of the Basque republic strove feverishly to evacuate 300,000 noncombatants from Bilbao and pleaded with world powers to find a haven for them.

In Bilbao, President Juan Antonio Aguirre appealed to world powers for a haven for his helpless refugees of war. For the men of the Basque country, he added, "we ask nothing."

British liberals and laborites moved to aid the evacuation, but actual help of the British navy apparently awaited a Basque-insurgent agreement.

The Basques had lost Durango, in vicious street fighting. But today they had reorganized their lines less than 16 miles east of Bilbao after retreat from Durango. Then they launched a fierce counter-offensive.

Heavy Fighting Reported

Heavy fighting was reported from the front lines at noon. The Basque and government troops were trying to keep Gen. Emilio Mola's insurgents from marching along the level, paved highway to Bilbao, Spanish "Pittsburgh" which lies on the long Biscayan ledge of the country.

The defense troops captured two flags, one of them Italian, took 17 Moorish prisoners and brought back three Italian soldiers who deserted to the government lines.

Officials admitted, however, that the Basques were in retreat on other fronts where three prongs of the insurgent forces are converging in their march to Bilbao. Officers reported their troops were retiring in complete order, shortening and con-

Senate Debate Launched On Sales Tax

Final Action On Salary Bill Taken And Measure Is Sent To Governor For Approval

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 29—The senate today sent the governor a bill increasing salaries of higher court judges.

Action became final through senate concurrence in house amendments. The house had rejected a conference committee report proposing greater raises.

Higher Wages Provided

Pay of judges of the supreme court and court of criminal appeals would be increased from $6,500 to $8,000, members of the commissions of appeals of the two highest courts from $5,700 to $7,500, judges of the courts of civil appeals from $5,400 to $6,500 and the state's attorney in the court of criminal appeals from $5,000 to $6,000. The bill also contained a provision for increasing salaries of Dallas county district judge $1,000 a year.

Debate on a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a 2 per cent sales tax and abolish the state ad valorem tax for the general fund was resumed in the senate. The body rejected an amendment providing that if the ad valorem tax was abolished funds equivalent to the present remission would be allocated from the sales tax to the Brazos river conservation district.

Bill Is Introduced

A bill to increase the salary of the Denton county school superintendent from $2,500 to $3,300 a year was introduced in the house.

The lower chamber set for special consideration tomorrow bills making appropriations to rebuild schoolhouses which have burned. Previous efforts to obtain a special setting of the proposals had been unavailing.

Thousands To Attend Tech Fiesta

BY OPAL McMAHON
Journal Staff Writer

A variety of events designed to make the second annual Tech Athletic Fiesta nothing less than "colossal" are receiving attention in rehearsals and final committee meeting today, said T. H. (Bo) Williams, director.

Opening at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, the Fiesta program will include a series of features highlighted by the Tech-Texas College of Mines football game that night at the Tech stadium.

The football field has been ablaze with lights this week as approximately 1,200 students rehearse for a mass demonstration expected to be one of the more spectacular parts of the program.

A total of 9,151 persons had been placed on the invitation list up to this morning and are to attend as guests of the college. Forty-five schools had notified Williams they will be represented by a total of 3,106 faculty members, senior students, and athletes.

Between 3,000 and 3,500 band members who will be in Lubbock for Western Texas School Band and Orchestra contests are to attend and participate in the program.

Athletes Honor Guests

Of responses received from 40 high school athletes invited to attend as special guests of the Tech athletic department, 37 have accepted. The athletes will be honor guests at a supper in La Fonda, football dormitory, following the game.

Twenty-seven girls chosen in West Texas schools already have been placed on the list of duchesses who will serve in the court of the queen, who was chosen in balloting recently at Tech and whose identity will not be announced until the coronation. The six defeated candidates for queen will serve in her court.

Labor Parley Set May 4

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Secretary Perkins invited 26 labor and industrial leaders today to attend a second conference on May 4 on collective bargaining problems under the Wagner act.

Walter P. Chrysler, president of the Chrysler corporation, headed the list of industrialists. He was the first auto manufacturer asked to help lay the foundation for stabilized employer-employe relations.

Simultaneously the labor department's federal employment service announced an increase in employment and predicted its next report may show a record low of applications.

First figures for March were so far below February, when the active file contained 6,155,000 names, that a recheck has been started.

New applications in March totaled 262,305 and placements 250,249.

Miss Perkins' May 4 conference will follow the lines of the first one last week, at which she said the 27 participants agreed that collective bargaining pacts were "sacred and binding."

The only business representative on the first group invited to the second meeting is Harper Silby, retiring president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Among the industrialists invited are Gerard Swope of General Electric Co.; Robert E. Wood of Sears Roebuck & Co.; R. R. Deupree of Cincinnati, president of the Proctor and Gamble Co., and L. K. Comstock, president of the merchants association of New York.

Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and Philip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers, were invited to represent John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Frank Morrison, secretary-treasurer, and John P. Frey, president of the federation's metal trades department, were chosen from the American Federation of Labor.

Dwight Beard Faces Death

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 29—Judge Grover Adams today sentenced Augustus Dwight Beard, 27, slayer of a former Dallas city detective, to die in the electric chair June 4. Roberts was slain during a holdup attempt at a garage here last Dec. 23.

Beard accepted sentence without any indication of emotion. He was shackled and placed in an automobile bound for state prison at Huntsville.

He Still Has Hopes

Beard told reporters he still had hopes the governor would commute his sentence to life imprisonment.

Once before Beard had been tried for murder and given the death penalty by a jury in North Carolina. His death sentence in that state was commuted to life imprisonment. He escaped from prison and remained a fugitive until his arrest a week after Roberts was mortally wounded. Roberts was shot when he reached for his gun as Beard, after looting the cash register at the garage, was backing out the door. One bullet fired by Roberts struck the bandit in the leg.

Solid Old London Is Putting On Gayest Finery To Welcome Great Throngs For Coronation; City Greatly Changed

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, April 29.—Old London was in the full flush of pre-coronation preening today.

With only thirteen days left before the day of grandeur—May 12—when Big Ben will boom forth at noon and a king will be crowned, it is a changed London.

What was the mall has become a long line of masts topped by heraldic lions. A "gateway of triumph" is rising at the foot of Whitehall. A "maypole" is being built at Charing Cross. Stands along Hyde Park flaunt red, white and blue paint.

London, with gathering speed, is getting gay.

Parliament square looks as though a circus were coming to town. Canvas covered grandstands block every view.

It is costing a great deal of money to make stolid, sturdy London a city of festival. To "dress" four miles of streets in Westminster, for example, will take $115,000.

The electric lights represent an estimated ten billion candle power.

White and gold play a prominent part in the decorations that flutter in the April wind. Blue and white banners, too, are being hung.

The statue of Charles I. at Charing Cross, is being surrounded by bannered masts. There will be a living guard for the statue on coronation day.

Roosevelt On Final Lap Of Gulf Trip

(By The Associated Press)

GULFPORT, Miss., April 29—President Roosevelt reboarded his special train here today and left at 10:30 a. m., Central time, for New Orleans where late today he will embark on a gulf fishing vacation.

Elliott Roosevelt, the president's third son, and Gov. Richard W. Leche of Louisiana, who had recovered from an illness that sent him to a hospital yesterday, joined the presidential party here and rode to New Orleans.

Crowds Line Streets

The president waved his light tan felt hat at the crowds lining the streets in Gulfport. He arrived at the depot heavily laden with bouquets of magnolias, state flower of both Mississippi and Louisiana.

The president made a brief address from the rear platform of his train here.

Earlier, at "Beauvoir" where Jefferson Davis spent his last days, the president's car stopped before the steps of the old white frame dwelling crowded with spectators and a scattering of Confederate veterans, holding American and Confederate flags.

Miss June Braun, daughter of Biloxi's mayor, stepped forward and presented the president a gavel made from a cedar tree of the Davis estate.

War On Crime Progressing

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 29.—An 85-year old crusader against crime who was among the first to hang the sobriquet "public enemies" on gangsters, said today the citizenry had "finally awakened" to the necessity for cooperation with peace officers in the war on organized vice.

Commending a group of New York men for forming a modern committee of vigilantes to control crime, Frank J. Loesch, active president and creator of the Chicago crime commission and for years a militant combatant of corruption in politics and government, said it was an "excellent move in the right direction."

Is Unrelenting Foe

The aged lawyer, who still believes in putting in a full day at his office and still an unrelenting foe of racketeering, said it appeared business men and the law-abiding public had eventually opened their eyes and discovered violent crime increasing in congested districts.

"If that New York committee really wants to succeed," Loesch said, "it will have to work in conjunction and close harmony with federal agents, city police and state law enforcing agencies. It should always play the role of an assistant and not try to usurp the powers of others."

Two Brothers Have Reunion In Death

(Special To The Journal)

CROSBYTON, April 29.—Efforts of Dr. L. B. Clinton of Loving, Young county, to visit with a brother he had learned was at point of death but had not been informed had died, early Wednesday night were futile.

Their reunion was in death.

Probably Killed Instantly

Dr. and Mrs. Clinton probably were killed instantly at approximately 8:30 o'clock 14 miles east of Crosbyton when their light coupe overturned several times.

Ironically, Dr. Clinton's brother, C. S. Clinton, 48, of Clovis, N. M., had died in a sanitarium at Lubbock two hours before the Crosby county tragedy.

Had the physician known there was no cause for his hurrying to Lubbock the crash probably would have been averted, investigators said they believed.

A Lubbock brother of Dr. and C. S. Clinton, Rev. J. T. Clinton of 1916 Avenue O, was in Crosbyton this morning to assist children of Dr. and Mrs. Clinton in preparing for rites.

The Lubbock minister was to rush from here to Clovis for another grim duty, reading of services at 3 o'clock this afternoon for his other dead brother.

Soil Fertility Plans Urged

(By The Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., April 29—Scientists on a WPA soil inventory project concluded today that agriculture in the United States must "die of its own neglect" within 200 years unless "the population follow suit" and unless soil fertility measures are instituted.

Using soil samples from 48 states to determine chemical resources, the WPA workers calculated that nitrogen, vital to plant life, will be exhausted from the soil within 224 years, sulphur will have disappeared by 2062, and "the eventual result will be a China-like famine in the richest country in the world."

Blamed On Erosion

The soil nutrient losses were blamed on erosion, leaching (the action of water seeping through the earth); harvesting, livestock, burning and the rapid oxidation of organic matter in the soil.

The net annual loss in vital soil elements was set at 6.5 million tons of nitrogen, 3 million tons of phosphorus, 45 million tons of potassium, 6.5 million tons of calcium, 20.5 million tons of magnesium, and 3 million tons of sulphur.

Grouping Of Four Schools In One District To Be Up

SEAGRAVES, April 29.—The county board of school trustees has called an election for May 15 in Loop, Ashmere, Sawyer, and Cedar Lake districts.

The citizens of the districts are to vote on grouping the four schools in an affiliated high school district at Loop.

The election was called after a number of petitions had been submitted at the board.

Camporal Will Open Friday

Boy Scout leaders were engaged in staking grounds and making other preliminary preparations for the opening of central district camporal Friday at Mackenzie park and continuing through Saturday, according to information given today by Earl M. McClure, Scout executive.

The encampment will be held unless the weather forbids completely, he added. McClure said, however, that the spot is sheltered from the fury of "ordinary" sandstorms.

Scouts Are Assisting

W. O. Daniels, W. H. Crenshaw and Earl Hunt, members of the camporal committee, were assisted by Eagle Scouts today in making arrangements for wood, water and other necessities.

Registrations are scheduled for Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at headquarters tent beside the lake in the northeast part of the park. At 7:30 p. m., central district court of honor will be held with a campfire as its setting and with George W. Dupree, district chairman, presiding. McClure explained that boys of the district entitled to advancement must appear at the ceremony if they are to be promoted at this time.

Many To Take Part

At least 12 troops in Lubbock county are to be represented and 184 boys, McClure said today, actually have signified their intention of taking part in the camp. The number, he said, will be increased by others from various parts of the nine-county council area who have failed for various reasons to take part in a camporal.

Bandsmen From All Sections Of West Texas Begin Arriving Today

Contests Will Open Friday

First arrivals were awaited momentarily this afternoon of bands competing in contests opening tomorrow of the Western Texas School Band and Orchestra association.

Reservations have been made at the chamber of commerce for seven of the expected more-than-40 bands for accommodations tonight and the expectation is that several of those which have not made reservations will be here before the day is over.

"The City Is Yours"

Whether the early arrivals may wish to practice is not known, but they have the assurance of Mayor Ross Edwards, Chief of Police H. L. (Bud) Johnston and other authorities that the city is theirs, and that they are invited to make all the band noise they can.

However, the first on the scene for the most part will be bands facing a busy program tomorrow, and a program which starts early. Play will begin in two classifications of contest at 8 a. m., and from then through Saturday night, the activities will be continuous.

Competing schools have been grouped primarily as to size of enrollment and secondarily as to experience. Those placed in Class A are from schools with an enrollment of more than 750, a qualification which leaves Lubbock and Abilene as the only competitors. Class B is made up of bands from schools of 250 to 750 enrollment and Class C of those with fewer than 250 pupils. Class D is comprised of bands with experience of one year or less. Other contest divisions are orchestras and junior high school bands.

Program In Brief

The program Friday, in brief, includes contests in Classes C and D at Senior and Junior High school auditoriums, respectively; the one Class D orchestra, Ozona, at Junior High school auditorium Friday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock; the downtown parade led by Texas Technological college band at 4 p. m.; the Junior High school band contests starting at 1 p. m. at Junior High school auditorium; the marching contest at Texas Tech stadium at 6 p. m.; and the Tech-El Paso Mines spring football game Friday night at which visiting bandsmen will be guests of honor.

Another event of Friday afternoon will be the Class A orchestra contests, in which Lubbock and Abilene are the only entries, Lubbock playing at 3 o'clock and Abilene half an hour later.

Saturday Program

Saturday's program will start with the Class B contests at Senior High school auditorium at 7:45 a. m., will be followed by the Class A contest between Lubbock and Abilene Saturday afternoon, and reach its climax Saturday night at the massed band concert at Senior High school auditorium which will also be the occasion for presentation of awards.

Bands with reservations today, including number of players and those in charge, are:

Pecos, 94, R. Henry Blackwell, superintendent; Kermit, 50, H. H. Copeland, director; Crane, 45, Miss Glenyth Herring; De Leon, 35, E. H. Boulter, superintendent, and M. G. Smoot, director; Cisco, 60, R. L. Maddox, director; McCamey, 45, A. J. Campbell, director; and Fort Stockton, 65, Joe Berryman, director.

The Cisco band is listed in Class B, which is comprised of schools having enrollments of 250 to 750. Kermit, Crane, De Leon, McCamey and Fort Stockton are in Class C, schools less than 250 enrollment. Pecos is in Class D, made up of bands organized a year or less.

The time schedules for C and D divisions Friday follows, though they are subject to revision:

Class C—Knox City at 8 a. m.; Crane, 8:25; Levelland, 8:50; Loraine, 9:15; Forsan, 9:40; Rankin, 10:05; Kermit, 10:30; McCamey, 10:55; Monahans, 11:20; Fort Stockton, 11:45; Abilene Christian academy, 1:10 p. m.; and Iraan, 1:35.

Class D—Littlefield, 8 a. m.; Brownfield, 8:25; Pecos, 8:50; Floydada, 9:15; Sweetwater, 9:40; De Leon, 10:05.

An event on which Culver Hill, general chairman in charge of arrangements, concentrated preparatory attentions Wednesday was the marching contest of Friday night, to be staged at Texas Technological college stadium. It comprises one of the events to determine the winning of highest awards, and practically all bands are expected to compete.

Newell Hughes, who has charge of arrangements for that particular feature, predicted that it will be the most spectacular from the spectators point of view of all the contests. Each band will be allowed 8 minutes in which to execute its maneuvers. Certain marching movements will be required of all, but beyond that the sky is the limit for bandsmen and their drum majors. It will be the one occasion when the bandsmen really will be on parade with much at stake. After the drill, the bands will march into the stands to be guests of honor at the spring football game between Texas Tech and the School of Mines.

Regular Meeting Of Church Leaders Held Wednesday

A regular meeting of men of the First Presbyterian church was attended by approximately 30 men Wednesday night in the church basement.

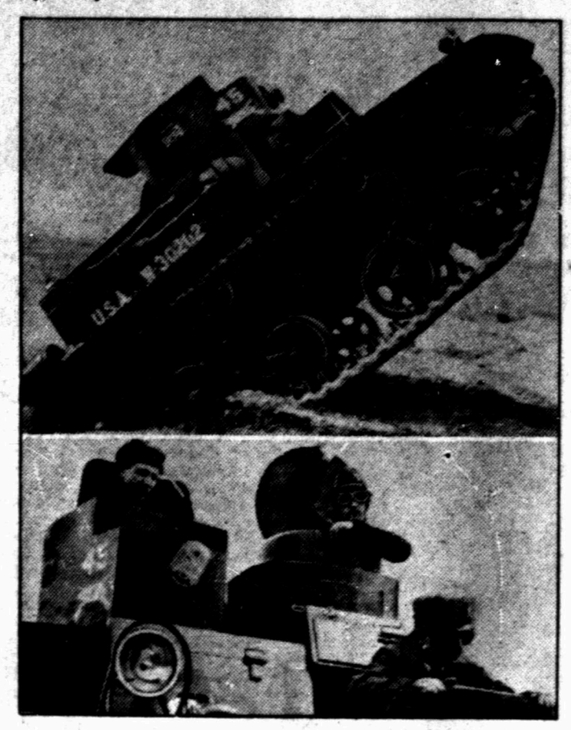

Rev. R. M. Hocker, Nazarene pastor and probation officer, and Dan Powers, dean of boys at the Lubbock Senior high school, were principal speakers.

Rev. Hocker related experiences as a probation official.

Heredity and environment were discussed by Powers. "Blood will tell" is one of the fundamentals, he said, "and environment likewise will tell."

A committee composed of F. A. Kleinschmidt, R. E. McDonald, Bruce Bullen and J. E. Maisen, served the meal. Donald Kleinschmidt played violin numbers during the meal. He was accompanied by Mrs. Kleinschmidt. C. A. Bruner, president of the organization, and Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor also spoke.

'Mystery Mike' In Action

Capable of speeds exceeding 35 miles an hour in second gear, "Mystery Mike" (M2-A2 to the U. S. Army), does things in tests a World War tank never dreamed of. In tests at Denver it showed great speed and an ability to "stop on a dime," but officers warned bystanders not to try to see inside. At the top, "Mystery Mike" takes a hurdle. Bottom, a closeup of machine gun turrets and the driver's cockpit. (Associated Press Photos)

"West Texas, Old And New" Is Theme Of Exhibit This Year

FORT WORTH, April 29 (AP)—"West Texas, old and new" will be the theme of the display in the large West Texas Chamber of Commerce building at the Fort Worth frontier fiesta, it was announced this afternoon by B. A. Bandeen of Stamford, manager of the world's biggest regional organization.

Participation of more than 100 towns already is assured and others desiring to take part should communicate with John Hendrix of Fort Worth, publicity manager of the W. T. C. C., who has a new title, that of curator of the exhibit hall.

The district and town panels of last year—brightened up with new paint—will reveal the industries and resources of the West Texas empire and in the foreground of the booths will be interesting relics and attractive displays giving phases of the section's romantic history.

To Show Movies

Many of the towns will have motion pictures which will be shown in the free theater.

It was estimated that 700,000 persons viewed the community exhibits at last year's Fort Worth frontier centennial. In addition, the regional chamber took the lead in sponsoring days for the different towns of West Texas—one of the most successful activities of the 1936 exposition.

Bandeen announced that the Will Rogers room will be maintained as a memorial to the cowboy philosopher, with an appropriate exhibit. A new relief map of West Texas also will be shown. Milburn McCarty of Eastland is chairman of the general exhibit.

GOOSE SPECIALIZES

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas. (AP)—Fred Hoskins, farmer near here, has a goose that specializes in laying double eggs. About once a week, Hoskins says, it lays an oversize egg containing two yolks.

Reform School Fight Rages

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—Legislators who investigated the boys' reformatory at Gatesville reiterated from the house floor today their charges that certain conditions at the institution were "disgraceful."

The word battle started when Rep. Earle Huddleston of Oglesby, in whose district the reformatory is situated, said residents of his section resented reflections on the institution cast by reports of the committee's inquiry.

Whipped With Bat

Rep. E. P. Harrell of Paris, chairman of the committee, said he had no criticism of the superintendent of the reformatory but that "hard-boiled guards" were whipping the children there with "the bat."

Huddleston did not ask for any action and none was taken.

"That hole is not a reformatory," said Harrell, former warden of the penitentiary. "It is an incubator of crime."

He denied the committee had made any overstatements and said: "If they want to start something, let them get going because we have enough evidence to shock the state. If we can go back for more study, we will open that boil and tell the state the whole truth."

Members of the investigating committee asserted much of the blame for existing conditions should be placed on county judges for sending orphans and neglected children to the reformatory and on the state for not giving the institution sufficient equipment.

Huddleston said in conclusion that committeemen had admitted they meant no reflection on the institution's management and that was "all I was trying to clear up."

Japan Premier's Anti-Killer Home

Within the innocent appearing walls of the new Tokio home, above, of Japan's Premier Sanjuro Hayashi, are bomb-proof rooms, subterranean passages, secret exits, mysterious doors and disappearing floors which will protect him from assassination during tense political periods. The $28,000 residence is honeycombed with mystery and not even his wife will know where the premier sleeps. Below may be seen Hayashi at the front door of his home, with his wife sitting to bid him goodby. Notice his stockinged feet. The former official residence of the premier saw two assassinations, many attempts at violence. Hayashi preferred a new residence, had this refuge built. It is called the "house of secrets." The premier took up residence in the house alone at first, forbidding his family to join him until he was certain it was safe.

JEER MALE LEIS SELLERS

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaiian women who support themselves by selling flower leis to tourists are indignantly protesting competition from men, a half dozen of whom have joined more than 100 vendors on the waterfront. "It doesn't look nice for men to be selling flowers," the women say.

New York City's total tax collection for 1935 amounted to $630,000,000, an increase of $50,000,000 over the preceding year.

Lubbock Negro Searches For Owner Of $258 Check

Searching the byways and hedges in connection with his ministerial calling is simple as compared with trying to give "M. M. Jones" $258, a Lubbock negro of the same name told Lubbock police.

Jones, the preacher, said a check for that amount was delivered to him from Los Angeles. It was signed by an official of an oil company.

Jones never worked for an oil company and was at a loss to find anyone else of the same name.

Police this morning said they had been able to be of no assistance.

High School Fair Will Be Staged

Stock show and stock judging contests, exhibits, demonstrations, and athletic events will feature the Roosevelt High school district fair on the high school campus tomorrow.

Lubbock county judging teams will compete in contests, and stock owned by people in the community will be shown.

Exhibits of high and grammar school students will be displayed, with a community exhibit for display of needlework, canning, cooking and other home crafts. A baby show and clinic will be held, with prizes for the healthiest babies.

Roosevelt and Idalou high school baseball teams will meet in the feature athletic events. Various races will be held.

Slight Decrease Is Shown In Lockney School District

A slight decrease was shown in the Lockney Independent school district by the 1937 school census. Four hundred and thirty one of school age were recorded this year against 444 for last year.

An unofficial school census report from the Lamesa schools lists the 1937 scholastics at 1326 of which 51 are negro. Ten new students were enrolled Monday, eight in high school and two in elementary school.

Floyd county has a total of 2749 of scholastic age recorded, according to Walter Travis, county school superintendent.

The Floydada consolidated school district reported a scholastic total of 773.

HEADS PARKS 50 YEARS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John McLaren has rounded out an even half century as head of San Francisco's park system. He is credited with creation of the world famous Golden Gate park in an area of shifting sand dunes.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

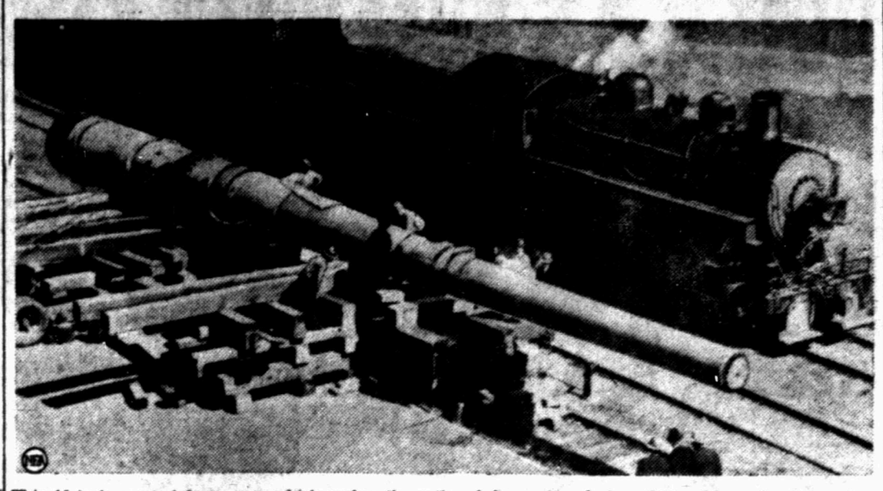

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Stern New Sentry For The Golden Gate

This 16-inch coast defense gun, which makes the railroad locomotive look a little skimpy by comparison, weighs 151 tons, is 70 feet long, and the largest in the west. Moving it seven miles from the rail line to the San Francisco harbor, where it will be mounted beside another the same size, gave engineers quite a transportation problem.

Old "Salts" Along Texas Coast Argue About Tackle To Use

GALVESTON, April 29 (AP) — As President Roosevelt prepared to leave for a fishing trip in Texas coastal waters the "salts" along the seashore threshed out the problem of what sort of tackle the chief executive should use.

Several veteran anglers frowned on the president's plan to use a "light tackle," but Connie Costabile, who knows the business from bent pins on up, snarled at the idea of a "wagon tongue and stake rope."

Given A Handicap

The "stake rope" group argued that the battling tarpons would be given a handicap and a chance to give the president the horse laugh if the light outfit were used.

Connie shot back that use of the light tackle would be in accordance with Texas gulf coast "regulations" and explained that President Roosevelt was an honorary member of the Port Aransas fishing club, which has used regulation tackles 25 years.

To this convincing argument, Connie added:

Not Too Light

"The light tackle is by no means too light to handle big tarpon. Many anglers were under the impression the president planned to use light bait-casting outfits. What he intends to use is a regulation outfit."

Another veteran deep-sea fisherman of the Texas coast, Skelly Skelton of Houston, snorted at the "stake rope" idea, saying, "you can catch fish with a wagon tongue and stake rope, but there's not much sport to it. I'm sure the president wants the sort of fight he can get out of a big one on a light tackle."

Tackles Classified

Connie classified regulation tackles this way:

Heavy class—Rod construction of one piece with attached butt; tip of any solid wood or split cane; rod not more than six feet, nine inches overall; tip not less than five feet and not to exceed 16 ounces in weight; line not to exceed No. 24 thread.

Light class: Rod construction same as others; length not less than six feet overall; but not to exceed 18 inches; tip not less than five feet and not to exceed six ounces in weight; line not to exceed standard No. 9 thread.

Three-six class: Rod construction same as others; length not less than six feet overall; weight not to exceed six ounces, including butt; butt length 12 inches; tip length not less than five feet; line not to exceed standard No. 6 line.

Connie said there were no restrictions as to the size of the reel.

May Day Festival Is Being Planned At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, April 29 (Special)—A May day festival outrivaling most of the festivals which have been held here will be given by Brownfield schools Monday night. Musical organizations of the schools will provide music.

Contests are under way in the high school this week to select a queen and attendants for the festival. A 30 minute band and saxette concert will precede the arrival of the queen's court.

Judge Raymond A. Simms will crown the queen. After the ceremony of coronation groups from West Ward, East Ward, and the high school will present musical numbers. West Ward pupils will end the ceremony with a maypole dance.

Candidates for May queen are Eleanor Gilham, Evelyn Jones, Ruth Speed, Joyce Lee Evans, Earlene Jones, Florence Williamson, Doris Lee Gore, and Frances Brock. The losers in the contest are to act as maids of honor. Other high schools are being invited to send duchesses and dukes.

Vance Chosen As Manager

Change in managership of the Ropesville Resettlement administration project has been announced.

A. M. Vance of Amarillo, formerly chief of maintenance and collections for the district office of the administration, is acting manager and has established residence headquarters at Lubbock. R. D. Jones, who had been manarge there since the project was opened officially a year ago, has been transferred to Dimmitt for administration field service.

Temporarily In Charge

Resettlement administration officials here said they were unable to give any details other than that Vance was temporarily in charge. Whether he will be the permanent manager was not known, they explained.

The project has 33 units on a 4,000-acre tract, each unit having 120 acres. Occupants of the 5-room houses are not permanent on the project, merely being there as tenants from year to year.

Last year was the first full year of operation for the project. Although Jones, as temporary manager in the crop year of 1935, handled the large grain sorghum and cotton crops, no permanent home for a manager of the project was built, although the contractors for digging wells and erecting windmills, erected a 34th unit of that type for the manager.

Contracts Signed

Plans are under way for increasing the size of the project to 100 members. Contracts for proposed purchase of an additional 10,000 acres, approximately, have been signed with several large landowners. Those contracts expired early in 1937, but whether they have been renewed was not known.

An authoritative statement from the regional office at Amarillo some time ago said that final decision on enlargement of the project was in the hands of the department of agriculture at Washington.

It is understood that full and complete operation of the project by the federal government, is dependant upon a 100-unit project. For that reason, it was explained in some quarters, contracts with tenants to purchase 120-acre units, are not being made at this time.

Only one change in tenants from the 1936 list has been made, it was reported from Ropesville.

Eggs From China

LEWES, Del., April 28—A choppy, white-capped sea brought exotic oriental fare to this coastal town today—Chinese storage eggs, potatoes, and water chestnuts.

The boxes were believed to have been washed from the deck of a steamer.

Spring Plowing

LEBANON, O.—W. B. Foreman, local farmer, gave his 20-acre field its usual spring plowing. Then he plowed again and, not satisfied, turned the earth a third time.

He had lost $60 in cash the first time. The next two plowings were searches, the final one successful.

Realist

KOKOMO, Ind.—The boy who played the role of "Tom Sawyer" in a nearby rural school's dramatic production startled the audience by swinging an honest-to-goodness dead cat instead of a "prop."

The part had called for a dead cat, so the boy went out and killed one.

Hire Her, Sheriff

SEATTLE—Betty Kendall found the bloodhounds who were called in to find her.

While the mother of the missing six year old child was getting a dress to give the hounds a scent, Betty walked into the house.

"Mummy," she asked, "what are the funny dogs doing here?"

Talked Out Of It

KANSAS CITY—Cal Price, negro tailor, had been hiccoughing for three weeks.

Then somebody told him he would have to go to a hospital. The hiccoughing stopped.

Dog Tired

SAN FRANCISCO—One of the reasons why Gaetano Merola, general director of the San Francisco Opera association, said he wanted a divorce was that his wife compelled him "to carry the dog into hotels and on trains." The dog, Merola complained in his divorce petition, "came first" in her affections.

Champions of two wrestlers lined up in a Nairobi, South Africa, street after a close match and held a free-for-all in which sticks, stones and knives were freely used, one man being killed and many injured.

Gly-Cas Unfailing In Restoring Health To Mr. McGahey: Kidneys And Bowels Regulated, Awful Rheumatism Gone; Now Feeling Best He Has In Ten Years

"After trying many medicines and consulting different medical authorities with no results Gly-Cas went to the very source of my health trouble," said Mr. Frank McGahey,

MR. FRANK McGAHE

R. F. D., No. 2, Malvern Road, Hot Springs, Ark. "For the past ten years I had suffered with constipation, bilious attacks, and a kidney disorder. My entire system had become clogged with poisons and I was in a general run-down condition. Rheumatism settled in my right arm and wrist and the pain often was so severe it crippled me until I could not do my work. My fingers cramped terrible too and there seemed to be nothing I could do about it. It was all so discouraging and I did not know where to turn next when friends knowing of Gly-Cas and my condition persuaded me to give it a trial."

"This new herbal remedy has been wonderful in reaching my stubborn case," he continued. "My bowels and kidneys were easily regulated and I can now eat and sleep good, enjoy new strength and energy and really feel fine. Even that dreadful rheumatism has been wonderfully relieved, I can get around with ease, do my work and enjoy the best health I have had in ten years. No wonder so many people are praising Gly-Cas—it deserves it all and more too."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Pennant Chances Of Chicago's Cubs Are Very Much On The Skids

SPORTS NEWS

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 1937

Star Pitchers Are Out With Bad Injuries

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Things "ain't what they used to be" at Wrigley field. The Chicago Cubs' pitching staff, once the pride and envy of the big leagues, has been reduced to a bunch of guys named Joe.

Tex Carleton, the top right-hander, chipped an elbow bone in spring training. Then Curt Davis developed a sore arm.

Fingers Are Fractured

But the bottom dropped out for Manager Charley Grimm and his pennant hopes yesterday when Larry French, the only southpaw of class made a stab at a liner from the bat of Ernie Lombardi and fractured three fingers on his glove hand. Not only did the Cubs drop a 10-5 decision to the rough-house Reds from Cincinnati, but French took a hospital bed alongside Carleton and Davis, and may be laid up for two months.

This trio won 45 games last year. Of the hurlers still on tap, Bill Lee has shown little or nothing; Ken Parmelee is anything but a manager's dream; Charley Root has seen better days and the others are unproven youngsters.

Terrific Black Eye

All of which adds up to a terrific black eye for the Cubs' pennant chances, although it's much too early to be eliminating them.

The New York Giants yesterday dropped a 3-2 tilt to Van Mungo's three-hit pitching for Brooklyn.

But anything can happen in baseball. The Detroit Tigers had a couple of tough pitching breaks when their top two tossers, Schoolboy Rowe and Tommy Bridges, were sidelined with ailments. Two others, Roxie Lawson and Elden Auker, came through with some unlooked for skill and Detroit is in second place in the American league.

Makes It Two In Row

Lawson made it two in a row yesterday with an 11-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns aided by some timely belting by Gerry Walker. The win didn't cut the New York Yankees' first place edge, however, since Lefty Gomez treated himself to a five-hitter and the world champions clouted the Senators 6-1 in a game that sent Cecil Travis of the Nats to the bench for two weeks with a torn leg ligament.

Earl Averill banged in five runs including a homer with the bases loaded as the Cleveland Indians walloped the Chicago White Sox 7-2, with Mel Harder hitting top form with a five-hit pitching job in the only other game on the big league front, the Phillies clubbed Danny McFayden to the showers and topped the Boston Bees 7-4. The Athletics and Red Sox were rained out in Boston.

Texas Circuit Race Tight

By The Associated Press

Where they play today:
Oklahoma at Galveston, night.
Fort Worth at Beaumont.
Tulsa at Houston, night.
Dallas at San Antonio, night.

The Oklahoma-Texas league season hasn't proved of much help so far to the experts who want a line on whom to watch in the pennant drive.

Even the fast-stepping young Beaumont club wasn't too far out in front to put it in a class with at least five other league teams who have shown they are fairly well matched. As they stacked up today Oklahoma City was treading close on Beaumont's heels and locked in a three-way third-place tie were Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth. The last three have come out even in the first 14 games.

Dallas Reverses Tables

In the shaking-down process which continued last night Dallas reversed the tables in thumping Beaumont 9 to 5 greatly assisted by a six-run rally in the second inning. Bob Harris was the pitching victim of this barrage. Beaumont won the previous game.

San Antonio likewise jumped back into the thick of things with a 5-4 victory over Fort Worth. It was a ninth-inning win. Gryska, Mission shortstop, stepping into the hero's role with a homer that brought in two runs.

Oklahoma City inched closer to the losing Beaumonters in again stopping Houston, 7 to 3. Tulsa and Galveston called their game off in deference to a heavy fog.

Amarillo Oilers To Come Here Sunday

Next opponents for the Lubbock Hubbers are Sammy Hale's Amarillo Phillips "66" Oilers, who come here Sunday for a single game attraction at the local park.

The game will mark Amarillo's first appearance on a baseball field here since 1931, when, out at old Merrill Park, the Hubbers ran wild in a ninth inning spree to score ten runs and cop a 10-9 victory. Since then, when the Hubbers wanted to play Amarillo's teams, they had to go to Amarillo. Lack of a local park was one reason. Now that Lubbock has a modest but modern plant, lacking only a lighting system, the Amarillo ball hawks want to come back.

A "Paid" Ball Club

The Phillips company makes no bones about hiring men for their baseball ability and Amarillo is a Phillips baseball hotspot. The club last year was one of the niftiest in all West Texas and it's almost intact this season.

Sammy Hale, the manager, used to do a lot of third basing for the St. Louis Browns of the American League, and he is a playing manager for the Amarillo club with still enough stuff in the old throwing arm and at the bat to warrant a regular position.

Another infielder of professional training is Al Stock, short stop, a veteran with eight years of professional experience. He plays short stop regularly, but is capable of donning the mask for back-stop duties any time.

Hubber Nemesis Remains

Luke Coburn, one of the pitchers who defeated the Hubbers in a double header at Amarillo last year, is still on the mound staff and may work against Lubbock here. Or a southpaw may go in to match left handed slants with Lubbock's Jerry Blanchard, who is ticketed to hurl for the Hubmen. Lefty Wilson is probably Amarillo's outstanding portside chunker.

Plump Hadley and N. Newman are other hurlers ready to go for the Oilers.

Fighting dust and sand but still ambitious to build themselves into a ball club the Hubbers under the earnest direction of Sport Woolridge are out at the park every afternoon, working particularly on faults that presented themselves in last Sunday's opener. Infield drill, base running, sliding and bunting are coming in for lots of attention, and catchers are undergoing special drills.

Hawaiians Coming

The Hubber management announced yesterday that contracts had been signed for the appearance of Buck Lai's Hawaiian baseball club here on Saturday afternoon, May 15. The team will be here for one day only, and because of their superior form as well as their showmanship, the Hawaiians are expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the entire season.

Lubbock entertains the Sudan club here on May 9. Littlefield comes here May 16 and after that the Hubbers take to the road for a couple of Sundays.

The Cosden Oilers of Big Spring, strong semi-pro outfit of that section, will visit Lubbock June 6. The Hubber management is trying hard to line up the most entertaining schedule a Hubber club ever had at home.

Kopecky Wins Over Bozinis

Joe Kopecky, the old man of the Texas wrestling mountain, prevailed again last night and made wrestling history when he became the first, according to available mat records, to win two main events in a row, each in straight falls.

Venerable Joseph did it last night when he met another veteran, shaven-headed Nick Bozinis of New York state, in the main event of Sied Allen's wrestling show. The curtain raiser and the semi-final went to draws, but time was made up when old Joe took after bald Bozinis and finished him off with a series of Irish whips in the first fall and an airplane spin and body smother in the second.

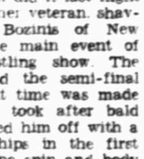

Joe Leads Fight

Kopecky, a student under the late Pet Brown, Texas' most popular native grappler, followed through with the action he started a week earlier when he defeated Vic Weber, considered an invincible student of the art, in the main event battle. Carrying the fight all the way, Panther Joe made life miserable for the Elmira, N. Y., Greek, and, although he required 41 minutes to stop the raging Bozinis in the first scene, he was the superior grappler all the way.

The second fall lasted only 13 minutes; it was rough and tough, with everything going that was not in the wrestling rule book. Kopecky seemed slower then, but he bided his time, repulsed Nick's attempt to apply the always-victorious back-breaking hold, hoisted the Greek with a crotch and body hold, spun

Quarter-Final Rounds To Be Opened Today

BY W. T. RIVES

TEXARKANA, April 29. (AP)—It was still Betty Jameson and Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite against the field today as the Texas women's golf tournament moved into the quarter-finals, but Mrs. E. R. Hury of San Antonio was ready to dispute that.

Mrs. Hury eliminated Mrs. H. A. Peterson of Dallas, yesterday 4 and 2, juggling three bad-luck holes, 13 pars, a birdie and bogie to come up with a round of 83.

Mrs. Hury teed off today with Mrs. E. H. Wohlfahrt, Dallas ace of municipal links.

Meets Stern Opposition

Miss Jameson, six-year veteran, despite her 17 years of age, met sternest opposition since she began defense of her title here over the Texarkana country club course, where par is 73 and seldom threatened.

Mrs. Ralph Randolph, Dallas, who defeated Betty at the same stage of the state tournament in Dallas three years ago, 4 and 3, had that chance again today.

Mrs. Goldthwaite met Miss Kathryn Pearson, who won her match against Mrs. Ike Handy, fellow Houstonian, yesterday as she sunk a 15-foot putt for a birdie four on the eighteenth green.

Mrs. Winger In Running

The other quarter-final matched Mrs. R. E. Winger of Fort Worth and Mrs. J. S. Tate of San Antonio.

Miss Jameson smothered Mrs. Jake Hamon of Dallas 6 and 5 yesterday as Mrs. Goldthwaite eliminated Helen Warren of Dallas 5 and 3. Mrs. Tate dropped from the chase Mrs. F. E. Pharr, Texarkana, 3 and 2. Mrs. Winger defeated Mrs. C. F. McAuliff, Dallas, 3 and 1.

Another dark horse to fall was Mrs. S. G. Hopkins, also of Texarkana. Mrs. Randolph defeated her 5 and 4. Mrs. Wohlfahrt defeated Mrs. W. T. Stafford of Dallas 6 and 5.

BAYLOR WINS AGAIN

WACO, April 29. (AP)—Baylor strengthened its Southwest conference baseball pretensions yesterday with a second straight victory over the Southern Methodist club 7 to 3.

The town of Plains in western Kansas has taken to the air. Of the 500 inhabitants, 17 are licensed pilots and between them own five planes.

How do the big bosses do it? What kind of manager gets the job done? How do the big boys go about the business of skippering the big boys?

We've often wondered, and so have you. Here's a treatise on the personalities and habits, tactics and purposes, methods and management, of the major league moguls who sit on the bench or boss from a regular position. We have waited for such a discourse, and here it is, provided by a young master of the sports writing big show, Richard McCann of NEA. We couldn't have done better had we tried the essay ourself. Tune in on Mr. McCann and his thumbnail description of major league managers, and pick your teams for the World Series.

Connie Mack, fatherly, kindly, apologetic in his orders; Rogers Hornsby, stern, biting, arbitrary; Bill Terry, cool, insolent; Mickey Cochrane, excitable—as jittery as the morning after.

It takes all types; this business of managing a ball club. One man will whip a team home, another will whoop it in. One will curse and drive, another will cajole, another will sis-boom-bah, fight-team-fight to a championship, and still another will laugh his team down the home stretch.

Take the 16 major league pilots who have led their teams into the new born 1937 season.

Connie Mack is the most distinctive of them all, if for no other reason than that he has been managing baseball teams for 43 years. The years have mellowed Mr. Mack, scholarly, gentle, soft-voiced, the old gentleman never barks out a command. He never tells a player to do something. He always asks him. . . . "Oh, say, there, Kelly," Mr. Mack will say on the bench of an afternoon, "would you please go out to the bull pen and warm up." Caster may be needing some help out there soon.

Mack Inspires Respect

Yet Mack's that's how all of them adore him. He gets results from his players through respect, not fear. His players love him as a father. And he doesn't like to quarrel with them, or quibble over pay.

For instance when Waite Hoyt was released by the New York Yankees and picked up by the Athletics, he rejected the Philadelphia contract. . . . "I don't," said Hoyt, "think you are offering me what I am worth. I could get more on any other team."

Hoyt had a reply in two days. . . . "We are giving you your outright release," wrote Mr. Mack, "so you will be able to get what you are worth."

Hornsby is the direct opposite of Mr. Mack. Hornsby is the hell-for-leather leader. He's the boss and if you don't like it, well, stand up and try to do something about it.

Under the threat of fines—and, now and then, fists—Hornsby positively forbids his St. Louis Browns to smoke, or gurgle soft drinks, or goobie up sandwiches in the clubhouse before or after a game.

Nor can they read newspapers and talk about anything else but baseball—none of this idle chatter about "what happened in the fifth at Pimlico," or "did you see how Sarazen sank them putts?"

They're here to play baseball, is Mr. Hornsby's rather sound reasoning, "and they can't do it if their minds are on something else. I not only want 'em to play, I want 'em to talk, sleep, eat baseball.

Hornsby has done wonders with his system; so has Mack.

It takes all types.

Terry Dislikes Whoop-de-do

There's Bill Terry, cold, business-like as a banker. He doesn't want any whoop-de-do on or off the ball field. He wants nine-o'clock and matter-of-fact ball players.

Color and showmanship don't show up in the batting averages and so he doesn't want any part of them. . . . "Shut up, out there and play ball," he once shouted at Dick Bartell, his shortstop.

Charley Dressen, however, says get out there and fight, pep it up, shout, whoop and holler and jump around—scare 'em if you can't beat 'em any other way.

Jimmy Dykes is blunt; Bucky Harris is a diplomat. Dykes tells the boys just what he thinks about them; Harris hints at it, handling every player differently to suit the temperament.

Joe McCarthy is quiet, aloof;

Texas Tech's Red Raiders Bear Down Hard For Their Tussle Here With School Of Mines

Their spirit undimmed and their work not decreased by unfavorable winds and weather of late, the Texas Tech Red Raiders have been, and are, bearing down hard for Friday night's football game with Texas College of Mines here. The teams clash in a regulation game climaxing spring gridiron practice at 8 o'clock tomorrow at Texas Tech stadium.

Advance ticket sales at the Hotel Lubbock lobby cigar stand indicate that reserved seats all will go today. Only 750 were placed on sale, at the bargain price of $1. General admission price also is one dollar, but patrons may have to hustle for choice positions. Due to the large "free gate," the stadium probably will be filled for the game. Senior high school students, high school faculties, bands and football players will be free guests of the college Friday night.

The "Attitude" Okay

Hard work has taken its toll in injuries this spring on the football field, but coaches hope to have virtually every man in shape for the contest. With the exception of J. W. West, regular end, who needs more time for the broken leg he suffered last fall to recover, the "regulars" are just about set. Captain Red Ramsey should be ready for the other wing position, although he has been under the weather part of the time with an injured knee. Abe Murphy, only sophomore, to earn a letter last year, and Jesse Browning, veteran letterman, will be back at their old tackle positions. Line Captain Lewis Jones and Pete Owens, regular guards last year, are back. Frank Guzick is expected to be the regular center, replacing Tox Wigmton. Thurman postics, off the freshman club, is seen as the right end until he recovers completely.

The backfield for the above combination may be Ed Smith, quarter, Elmer Tarbox at [illegible], Charlie Calhoun and Alan Pl[illegible] at halves.

Replacements in the [illegible] lineup may come from this combination: George Philbrick and Brown, ends; Lloyd Taliaferro, Bill Davis, tackles; Hold Wa[illegible] and Dixie White, guards; Rex [illegible]liams, center; Rufus Ryan, Charlie Barnard, halfbacks; [illegible] Curfman, quarter, and Fred [illegible] full.

Still another lineup lists R[illegible] Balfanz and G. L. If and when these "play [illegible]" there's a fourth team ready to [illegible] the field. It is composed of [illegible] sophomores, one varsity squad [illegible] and a transfer. Tough Frog Eleven Looms This Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series on southwest conference grid prospects for 1937, gained after spring training drills.)

FORT WORTH, April 29. (AP)—Sophomore biology, psychology and "ology" teammates are the toughest eleven the Texas Christian Horned Frogs must meet in 1937. And the big battle is being waged this spring—not next fall.

"If everybody makes those grades," Coach Leo "Dutch" Meyer says grimly, "we'll have a good team. But it's no secret some of the boys are groggy in the book battle. Two of them—and they would be the best linemen on the squad—are in danger. It's up to them. If they lick the 'ologies we should have a good season. If they don't—"

Best In History

Frankly, Texas Christian had the best spring training in the history of the school coaches say. A squad of 60 promising candidates, the largest ever, worked for a month. The drills closed on vicious scrimmages that left [illegible] grins on the weather beaten [illegible] tenances of Coaches Meyer, [illegible] Brumbelow and Howard Gru[illegible].

Back are 16 veterans. [illegible] them are ends however, and [illegible] terminal posts are the only [illegible] tion marks. Veteran tackles [illegible] I. B. Hale, the 230-pounder, [illegible] White, Russell Hensch and [illegible] Kline. The guard posts are [illegible] with Co-Captains Bull Rogers [illegible] Mason Mayne and letterman [illegible] Dunlap. There's no worry at [illegible] with Kl Aldrich and Jack [illegible] back.

Backfield veterans are ap[illegible] Little Davey O'Brien, slated [illegible] place Sammy Baugh, had a [illegible] passing record than the great a[illegible] last year. Johnny Hall and [illegible] Wilkinson are the wings. [illegible]

Stop-Light Stuff

By Oller Harris

Charley Grimm is gay, paisy-waisy with his players.

Burleigh Grimes is an umpire-baiter. He's been thrown out of more parks than One-Eye Connolly. Bill McKechnie, on the other hand, is almost priestly in his dignity and reserve.

Pie Traynor is fidgety, flustery; Joe Cronin and Mickey Cochrane are fidgety but always have their wits about them. Both are furious fighters who hate defeat. Both, however, have one bad fault—they play favorites. Or maybe both have changed now—Cochrane has sold Al Simmons, his Philadelphia pal, and Cronin last fall consented to release Al Schacht, Heinie Manush, and Jack Russell, three comrades of his Washington days.

Frankie Frisch is hot with worry inside, but calm and rather cold outside. Jimmy Wilson is one of the most regular fellows. He can take a joke. Maybe that's why he took the Phillies job.

Have we got 'em all? . . . Oh, yes, we clean forgot Steve O'Neill. But, then, knowing how Cleveland is with managers, likable old Steve's liable not to be there by the time this ink is dry.

Kopecky Wins

him around like a propeller for half a dozen times and smashed him to the mat, smothering him for the pin, shoulder blades basted to the canvas.

The first fall, of 41 minutes, saw a variety of holds, transgressions against the law, and a lot of whatnot. It kept a large crowd amused and anxious. Finally, after taking the fight to Bozinis with a rush attack every time a hold was broken, Kopecky started his Irish whips. He converted these into anchored blocks, then won with a final surge which saw him top Bozinis and pin the latter's shoulders flat.

Weber In Draw

Kopecky defeated Vic Weber, the New York ace, in straight falls a week earlier. Last night Weber showed a tanned skin and more durability as he fought Gorilla Pogi, the Argentine who is in the best condition of his wrestling career, to a draw that entertained the fans no little. Weber didn't win, but he showed an amazing recovery over his form demonstrated when he lost to Kopecky. Had he chosen to rush his opponent, Vic might have vanquished the hard fighting Argentine sooner, but he protected himself, and was content with a draw. Pogi, in fine condition and doing his best, strived for victory, but his best efforts could not pin the Weber shoulders.

The fans were treated to a surprise in the curtain raiser when Ace Freeman and George Bennett suddenly quit the "clean" rituals and went into a battle. Both survived the 20-minute period, but the fans, who had remained silent during the first ten minutes, broke into loud applause as, first Bennett, then Freeman, went into hectic action. Billed as a "clean, scientific" match, it resolved itself into a rowdy duel ten minutes after it started. It was a draw, with each trying to throttle or murder the other as it ended.

Edison Learns Shipbuilding Ways

The big circle which frames Assistant Navy Secretary Charles Edison, center, and two workmen, will be a huge copper pipe flange for a ship when it is finished. It was just one of the many things Edison inspected in his tour of the Brooklyn navy yard. He made the visit for a first-hand review of the ship building industry, especially pertinent now to the U. S. naval armament program.

Frog Eleven

Meyer believes will be the best in history and Lacy McClanahan, a letterman who was out last year, will fullback.

In other words, with the exception of the ends, the Froggies can again put a team of experienced lettermen on the field—if they make their grades. The line will average well over 200 pounds and the backfield will boast more power than in 1937.

But Sammy Baugh, the slinger, won't be back.

NOTICE FARMERS!

In accordance with news item appearing in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche Wednesday, April 28, 1937, a quantity of misbranded cotton seed has been distributed in your territory, represented to be SUMMEROUR'S HALF & HALF of our production.

Legal steps have been taken to stop the further sale of such seed, but we desire to warn innocent farmers who may have purchased such inferior seed that such should not be planted, as genuine. Doubtless your own native seed is better.

Our genuine seed has always been offered in our widely known regular trade-mark brand, being a balance scale in red with "Half and Half Cotton" in blue. The inferior seed was offered in similar bags with very slight difference. We have arranged with the Armstrong Transfer and Storage Co., 702 Texas Ave, Lubbock, for you to compare the misbranded package and seed with the genuine SUMMEROUR'S HALF and HALF. Check your seed stock with bags on display there, if possible. You may know the genuine seed by bag being produced by FULTON BAG COMPANY, Atlanta, and the misbranded seed in bag produced by CHASE BAG CO., Dallas. The bag maker's name appears in small letters at very bottom line of bag under our address of Norcross, Ga. Another difference is the tags on bags . . . the genuine seed are tagged with our regular shipping tag which shows on reverse side that our seed is treated with CERESAN. Inferior seed is not so tagged. Genuine seed is tagged with Texas seed labels prepared in typewriter type by your state authorities at Austin for us. The inferior seed carry a Texas Seed label which has been overprinted with regular printers type in which a typographical error shows "Company" misspelled "Sompany".

We are confident the bag makers and printers were innocently misled but we must use every means to advise you of this confusion. Check your stock, see the display at Armstrong Transfer and Storage, 702 Texas Ave., Lubbock.

We keep permanent records in our office on all of our customers. We want the names of every farmer who bought the inferior seed. Please write us direct to Georgia, if you have purchased these inferior seed or are confused and want more information.

NOT in recent years, if ever before, have the kids out at Tech been as interested as they are at present over the forthcoming spring elections.

Ever since, 10 days ago, The Plainsman made a crack about members of the so-called "Alamo club" holding a meeting at the Lubbock baseball park Tech students have been beating a path to The Journal office to ask questions. Just so there will be no mistake about the whole business, this column here and now goes on record publicly as saying we are not interested in which candidates are elected by the college student body next week.

We don't care whether the machine-backed kids or the independent kids are elected this year, or any other year. All we are interested in is in the good of the college, and we doubt seriously if the college will be helped or hurt in this or any other student election—at any rate, to a serious degree.

Our only hope is that the students will not permit themselves to be carried to the extreme in politics, and that they will not permit themselves to delve ambitiously into college problems which are not theirs but which, instead, are the administration's.

A LUBBOCK professional man was talking the other day about the wonderful spirit possessed by the Confederate army during the War Between the States.

"Regardless of rank or station," he pointed out, "every man knew his job; every man was prepared to do that job, no sacrifice was too great in the name of the Cause.

"As a result, the Confederacy's esprit de corps was outstanding and the Army of the South was able to do more and carry on further than it ever could have under less fortunate conditions. The men of the South knew they could depend upon each other and they proved it, time without end."

Then this commentator went on to remark that what this country and this world needs today is more confidence—more confidence between the nations and between individuals; in short, the world is crying for an esprit de corps similar to that of the Confederacy.

Of course, such a thing is possible only when men burn with zeal, when their beings are given fully and freely to some great idea or toward some goal.

The suggestion, however, is intriguing. There's no telling how far the world could go if we'd just all give the other fellow the same kind of treatment and co-operation we hope to get from him.

THE Plainsman is going to sue Gene Howe and the Amarillo News for gross libel. Not only did that paper print The Plainsman's picture in pajamas, as the first guest to spend the night at the newly remodeled Howe menage, but Editor Howe, who writes under the nom de plume of The Tactless Texan, insists that the pajamas were Huntsville sleeping garments, indicating, by inuendo, that this writer once did a stretch in the Texas Big House.

There ain't no justice.

It all happened this way

Day before The Plainsman arrived in Amarillo last week the Tactless Texan gave over his column to moaning and groaning over the fact that he had spent a lot of dough adding a spare bedroom to his house but since the remodeling had been unable to induce a single friend to spend the night.

In fact, he said that unless he showed more speed than he had been, it would cost him an average of $50 per night to entertain friends, so much did the remodeling cost.

Right on the heels of the outburst The Plainsman arrived in the North Plains city and was elected as guest No. 1.

The Amarillo editor, however, secured the picture under false pretenses. He didn't say he was going to print it in the paper—instead, claimed that he was merely going to have it enlarged "to full width" and hung on the spare bedroom wall.

AS a matter of fact, the newly remodeled and refurnished Howe home is a lovely place and Mrs. Howe is a wonderful hostess.

Colonel Tack, however, entertains his guests by retiring to a corner of the room and reading newspapers, thus showing how pleased he is to have company.

On top of that, he libels them in the paper, yet still expects to entice numerous of his acquaintances under his roof.

Which, to say the least, is an unusual state of affairs.

'Eve's Orchard'

BY MARGARET WIDDEMER
Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

SYNOPSIS: When Eve Mannersfield learns that her beloved Denny Carter, who left her in anger on the verge of their marriage, is to wed wealthy Mitzi, she is shattered. Resuming her aunt's baking business, she finds contentment in her 200-year-old Connecticut house and orchard. She is kind to old Uncle Henry who helps her run the place, and to serious little Judge Featherstone whose parents have left him with Eve. They both adore her. George Cleveland, Eve's steady, dependable neighbor, has quietly waited for her love all summer.

Chapter 36
'I Miss Him Horribly'

"We're talking as idiotically as if we were Seymours," said Eve. "Are they really idiotic?" George asked then with mild curiosity. "The only one I ever see is Lance, the poor kid who's always skulking round here under the impression that he still somehow has rights to the place, the one who tried to steal his ancestor's portrait from mother last spring—remember? If they're all like him they're pretty far gone."

She interrupted him. "Is Lance around still? Do be careful of him, George, he has an ugly temper."

"As a matter of fact, he was having a run-in with Mattie this very day, about some peonies he wanted to dig up. They were a special rare variety, one of the plants I bought the place for. He was making a clean sweep."

They were interrupted by a honk, heralding the young Gardiner brother and sister, driving in with rackets and bathing suits on the back seat; an attractive pair of slim young dark things, enough alike in their shirts and shorts to be twins. Annie's hair was curled tightly over her head and Wallace's slicked smooth; that was about the only difference.

"Hello, you lazy loafers!" Wallace yelled. "The Warrens are practically on top of us with a carful of guests. Get up and let's cop the best court before they do."

Annie pranced a little, thrusting a thin brown arm through George's. "I grab George for a partner," she said. "You and he play together so much it's a racket, Eve."

"Racket! Gosh woman, people are shot for less than that," said her brother. Whereat Annie laughed and went on dancing restlessly, still holding on to George. Eve smiled at her. She felt a million years older than carefree, 19-year-old Anne. George glanced at her over the tight-curled head as if they understood each other, partner or no partner.

"We saw that poor Seymour boy down by the gate," Anne said. "He was muttering to himself the funny way nuts do. Wonder why there are so many crazy people out in the country?"

"Well, the Gardiners would come—" George began teasingly.

"Make him stop, Eve."

Eve laughed and shook her head as the four ran across the turf. It was all warm and pleasant. She liked life. She hoped she wouldn't see Denny, and have all the pain of him brought back. She had September weather and George's kindly brotherliness; she had a good game of tennis ahead of her and a swim after that. It was all easy and happy.

Perhaps she was a shallow sort of girl to be so easily contented. But, if she couldn't grieve over Denny all the time like somebody in a book, wasn't it better for her? And, after all, she had—she knew now—the life she loved, if not the man. She knew now that she had never really loved the life that was a part of Denny's happiness. . . And then the Warrens, Jim and his new wife May, and four stranger guests, caught up with her and there was an end to meditation.

A Natural Mistake

They played till everyone was hot and drenched; they swam on top of that, which should have killed them but didn't. When the twilight came, bringing the cool wind of a Connecticut September evening, George and Uncle Henry built the fire in the outdoor fireplace; Eve made salad and Anne Gardiner ran to and fro from the Cleveland house bringing things inevitably forgotten; Eve's chocolate cake, left in the hall; the salt, extra paper napkins. They sat on the grass in the sweaters that were welcome now, eating more than seemed possible.

George, moving round the circle with the immense gray coffeepot, said: "All gone. Wanted another cup, didn't you, Warren? Mattie has more in the house. I'm up, I might as well go—"

"Oh, George, bring my coat, will you?" Eve called after him. "In the hall." But George was out of hearing. "Judge, dear, run after him."

One of the stranger girls, mixed on the very sketchy wholesale introductions, said hastily, "Oh, ask your little boy to get mine too, Mrs. Cleveland, in the car."

"Judge—get all the coats—"

Then Eve took time to explain elaborately that she was not married to George and Judge was not their son; turning scarlet in the darkness, as she told herself petulantly, like a grammar-school girl.

"Well, anybody would have thought so," said the little girl with the Warrens, unperturbed.

"What Kay means is that if you and George aren't married, you ought to be," said young Wallace Gardiner. "All very proper, Kay. Eve's keeping Judge while his parents do something thrilling in Hollywood. Nobody's any relation to anybody—"

"Here's the coffee," George's voice said placidly above them in the dusk. "Here's your coat, Eve." He dropped it over her shoulders as he passed, and threw Judge his sweater with. "Put your sweater on, son. Right away!"

"I leave it to anybody!" complained Kay. In the laughter and confusion of teasing and explanation Eve sat very still. George, so far as one could see by starlight, was quite unembarrassed. Well, it was a natural mistake; George and she serenely intimate, with the fatherly old man and devoted small boy belonging to them all.

Later still, when everyone, even Judge and Uncle Henry, had gone, leaving Eve and George to clear up the last things and wet the embers, George spoke slowly, out of the dimness.

"I thought it was—a nice mistake, Eve. How did you feel about it?"

She did not answer. She was scarcely paying attention to what he said. She was staring up at the stars, dreamily happy in the September night.

"Eve?"

She came out of her dream, and answered at random, "You're an angel, George; you pulled us out of the Kay girls blunderings without the quiver of an eyelash!"

"All right." George said shortly. "But I'm damn tired of the role of angel. Good night, Eve."

He strode off to the house.

Eve laughed to herself as she went her own way. George was no angel, certainly—but there was something funny and endearing to her always about his flashes of up-and-over temper. She wondered why he had suddenly turned cross, and decided that he had been working too hard lately.

"Bless his heart," she said as she ran into her own house, "I'll scold him tomorrow."

George Leaves Abruptly

But the morrow brought a hurricane of sudden orders. And before she had a moment to use the telephone on her own account, Judge, teetering on the doorsill as he waited for the basket of morning deliveries, said:

"Oh, say, George drove off to a house party in Sharon last night after we all went home! Adriano says he's staying till Tuesday, he thinks."

She felt a little dashed. . . But after all, George was showing his usual good sense. He had been looking tired and strained lately.

"What do you think of that?" she said to Uncle Henry who was coming in with a basket of eggs. "Our Georgia off and away! I'm glad, aren't you?"

"He's so homey we forget he has a life besides the one he lives here," said Uncle Henry. "Yes, a break will do him good."

They smiled together, pleased that their George was having a rest and change. Eve went on with her work, cutting out ginger cookies deftly, row after row on the enameled table, and singing lightly the old song Uncle Henry whistled so much:

Plaisir d'amour ne dure qu'un moment . . .
Chagrin d'amour dure toute la vie!

She worked hard that day, feeling a queer lack. It was so strange

THE DEBUNKERS ARE AT IT AGAIN!

For years countless numbers of faithful dieters have stayed on the alkaline side. They have sedulously refused to mix starches with proteins or pleasure and avoided dark meat as a plague. With all the skill of a high wire artist they have balanced their diet, if not their budget, and the mere sight of a lusty trencherman indiscriminately downing a T-bone steak and gobs of bread at the same meal was almost enough to bring on acidosis forthwith.

Acidosis, it seems, was regarded by them with all the dread the ordinary mortal reserves for broken ankles, hay fever and baldness. So, Spartans that they are, they stuck rigidly to their uninspired fare, and for what?

Along comes a committee of the American Public Health association and explodes their cherished theories on acidosis as "nutritional quackery." Acidosis addicts have, the committee says further, been hoaxed by "dietary quacks, faddists and self-styled nutrition experts."

A pox on all this debunking! Are we to be permitted no illusions?

All we can say, on behalf of the dietarians, is that somebody's always taking the joy out of life! Let's hear from the dieters.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 29—All over the lot: Press correspondents are likely to view with cold scorn most of the movies which are filmed about newspaper life.

They are always picking small technical flaws which are of no moment in the story, and they resent pictures which show reporters and editors racing around and yelling about scoops and generally behaving like a bunch of high school journalists on the afternoon that their weekly goes to press.

If newspapermen were permitted to write and produce a picture about their craft, the reporter-actors would all be indolent, cynical, dry-witted fellows with sensibilities deadened to real-life drama. The public never would accept such a picture as authentic, and it would be quite right, because good reporters do get excited about big stories.

Pat O'Brien is the fast-talking managing-editor, and Joan Blondell is his star reporter, in a picture at Warner Brothers called "Angle-Shooter." It adheres pretty closely to the usual pattern, and correspondents visiting the sets are noticing that there is a good deal of running around and yelling, and that the typewriters are perched up on desks instead of on typewriter stands, and that there are too many cute signs and mottoes around the city room.

All over the room are reporters and rewrite men busy at their stint. Curious to see a sample of celluloid journalism, I took a half-filled sheet of copy from a typewriter. It reads like this:

"Now is the time for all good men, and women too, you dopes, to come to the aid of the party. There's Dick Foran. Hello Dick old scout, old scout. Ghngmmjsmm8jnfbbcnv and so on. I wish they would get this scene.

"Thomas Murray, out of the west, came out of the west. And into your hat. Warner Brothers First. Hooray, hooray. The quick brown Warner Brothers jumped over the lazy Twentieth Century-Fox. Blondell never blows up in her lines, but O'brien does. gfhh Gttshdnk 1/c 1-2s hhgn . . ."

They were all writing stuff like that. Over in a corner where the art department is supposed to be, artists were hunched over their boards filling sheet after sheet of paper with grotesque caricatures of other players. One man was practicing nudes. Another was painstakingly copying a panel from an Alley Oop cartoon.

No Breaks

Leslie Howard's stand-in, Dick Foster, sits and watches attentively as the star goes through a comedy scene with Eric Blore. Foster's lips move as Howard speaks because they have gone over the lines together and the stand-in knows the role.

He has been doing this for five years, through 13 pictures—ever since they met one night at the Cocoanut Grove. Foster gave Howard a drink from his flask, and they fell to talking; and pretty soon the star commented that they looked somewhat alike and offered a job.

Foster was elated then, because he was an actor trying to get a start in Hollywood. But now he observes a little bitterly that no stand-in ever gets a break. He said, "After listening to Howard, and watching him, and being coached by him, I believe I've got better-than-average training. Who cares? Nobody! I'm a stand-in."

This is Leslie Howard's last picture on his Warner contract. Then he goes to Walter Wanger for a picture called "Stand-In"—and Foster won't get a break in that one, either. Thereafter Howard plans to produce and star in his own pictures.

Gloomy friends are trying to show him the error of such an ambition, pointing out the sad fates of other actors, among them Charles Ray. Howard says his case is different; he won't invest any of his own money.

Younger Every Day

They're shooting "The Life of Emile Zola" in reverse sequence so that Paul Muni can use his fine set of real whiskers as an old man, gradually clipping them shorter as he plays the earlier scenes.

An attendant circumstance is aiding the realism—as an old man, Muni must wear a heavily-padded vest to make him look stout. This upholstery, under the hot lights, is making him lose weight.

He probably will have lost 12 or 15 pounds by the time he reaches the sequences in which he is a lean and hungry young man.

Republican Party Is Keeping Quiet On The Surface But Action Is On Behind Scenes

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29 — The men in charge of the Republican machinery are far busier behind the scenes than the audience imagines.

Concerted effort to establish a party policy and a definite party record in Congress is being combined with unannounced efforts to line up Republican and conservative Democratic members in an unofficial, loosely working alliance against measures supported by the administration.

Although it is too early as yet to foresee a new political realignment of parties along liberal and conservative lines, recent events in both Senate and House have at least indicated that there exist the makings of it.

Whether the political strategists at the Republican National Committee headquarters have had a definite hand in amalgamating Republicans and Democratic conservatives on certain occasions is not a matter concerning which you will find any documentary evidence. But it is important to repeat that these able gentlemen have been very busy indeed.

G. O. P. Has Brain-Truster

Republican senators and representatives meet every week-end with National Chairman John Hamilton and experts in the field of political and governmental problems available for such secret conferences.

With them sit Hamilton's keen-minded assistant, former Under Secretary of State William R. Castle, William Hard, Publicity Director Leo J. Casey, and Research Director Olin Glenn Saxon.

Saxon is the college professor hired last year to head the G. O. P. "brain trust," whose creation led to some hilarity because Republicans had been so contemptuous and vocal about the New Deal "brain trust." Saxon, at the head of a small staff, is still brain trusting and has lately answered many requests from party senators and representatives for facts or studies on current issues.

The extent to which anti-administration Democrats, in the Supreme Court and other controversies, have received help from Saxon and others is not ascertainable. But the National Committee is always glad to help anyone who wants to sock the New Deal.

Saxon is supposed to have been the man behind Senator Vandenburg's recent assertion that he believed New Deal estimates of unemployment were about 5,000,000 too high. A new money-raising campaign has collected more than a hundred thousand Republican dollars in the last two months, and $50,000 more in promises, according to the Republican record.

ON BAPTISM

Mr. Plainsman: If you are wanting a story on baptism I will be glad to give you one, although mine may not give people such a "kick" as the one you referred to.

This story was told to me by a neighbor more than twenty years ago. I am giving it just as she gave it to me.

"For several years after my husband and I were married we were not members of any church. When two of our children were nearly grown, we attended a meeting and the two older children and I professed religion, were sprinkled for baptism and joined the Methodist church. A few years later my husband and two of the other children professed and wanted to join the Methodist's but didn't like the idea of being sprinkled for baptism, and decided they would be immersed. They insisted that the two older children and I go with them and also be baptized in a large tank in a pasture at a time set for the baptizing. I told them the children could do as they pleased, but that I was satisfied with my baptism as it was. They continued to insist so I told them I would pray over the matter and ask the Lord to send me a sign if it was not necessary for me to be baptized. Otherwise I would be. Everyday I prayed for a sign until finally the day arrived for the baptizing. We fixed up our clothes, got into the big wagon and started, but just as we drove in sight of the water I knew from the way it glimmered and shone before my eyes that it was a sign that I did not need to be baptized. The others went ahead and were immersed."

The woman who told me this story was a sweet, kind, and sympathetic mother, and a good sensible neighbor. I loved her enough that I wanted her to learn the truth. I tried to get her to see that the Lord had already told her what to do and how to do it, and it was too plain for her to be mistaken. He had not told us to pray for signs giving us a right to set aside his commandments. It was possible that the water looked the same to all of them.

She was sensible enough that she knew what the Lord says in his word about such things, but she had so long been wedded to a false idea that if you felt you were all right about such things you did not need to do what the Lord said to do.

We could discuss such things and not get our feelings hurt, but we soon moved to widely separated localities. We lost track of each other, but I hope that when I reach the judgment there will be some means of my knowing that she finally accepted the truth.

Mr. Plainsman, I agree with you on some things but I certainly think you have the wrong idea a "code of ethics" to restr preacher from warning against false doctrine. Accor some people there is no suc as false doctrine.

You seem to feel that it i rible thing to criticize anothe preaching. Of course our p believes and preaches that y not be saved without bap without being in Christ's We very often hear both ide cized over the radio. In a w somewhat offensive to us, are not getting busy with a ethics", trying to restra preaching. If the preachers in Lubbock cannot handle su with the "Sword of the Spir get some who can.

This is written with the of feelings toward everyone.

Success to your paper.

Mrs. J. T. Stanfill.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—Corn today shattered high price records extending back twelve years, but indications of increased arrivals led later to decided setbacks from the day's top.

The corn market went up about 4 cents a bushel before reacting and losing most of its fresh gains. Wheat fluctuated in line with corn, advancing sharply, and afterward receding.

At the close, corn was varying from 3-8 lower to 1 cent higher compared with yesterday's finish. May 1.30 1-2 to 1.30 5-8; July 1.17 7-8 to 1.18; wheat 3-8 to 1 3-8 down. May 1.28 1-2, July 1.16 to 1.16 1-4, and oats unchanged to 3-8 off.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, off 2 to 7, with lower Liverpool cables partly offset by trade and New Orleans buying. May 12.91; July 12.92; Oct. 12.67; Dec. 12.63; Jan. 12.69; March 12.72.

Although there was active commission house and foreign liquidation in opening trade owing to early weakness in London and Paris stock markets, the market encountered strong resistance and quickly rallied a few points above the previous close.

Trade interests were good buyers of July and other buying orders reached the market from Wall street and New Orleans as well as local operators.

The action of the market was believed to reflect a well liquidated position.

July sold up from 12.92 to 13.93 and after the first half hour was 13.02, with prices generally 2 to 4 points net higher.

Liverpool declined in early trading under heavy liquidation but later rallied partially on covering and Bombay buying.

The market moved irregularly over a narrow range later in the morning. Foreign selling increased after prices had advanced a few points above the previous close but the market continued to meet resistance through trade, commission house and scattered buying on slight reactions.

July eased from 13.04 to 12.99 but by midday was selling at 13.01 when prices generally were 5 points net higher to 1 lower. Trade had become quiet and the market was easily influenced by a few small orders either way.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 29. (AP)—Cotton opened 5 to 7 points down here today on selling influenced by lower foreign markets and liquidation by tired longs.

May opened at 12.77, July at 12.86, Oct. 12.67, Dec. at 12.75, Jan. 12.77 and March 12.79.

Toward the end of the first half hour a mild demand developed here and active positions recovered and traded around 1 to 3 points above the previous close.

Both Liverpool and Egyptian futures were lower at the start here. Cables said heavy liquidation in Liverpool uncovered some stop loss orders.

Profit taking by shorts and Bombay replacement buying, however, caused a partial rally in the English market.

The weather over the belt was mostly favorable to the crop.

The market held comparatively steady during the morning on some covering and a little trade buying.

Near mid-session prices were 1 point up to 2 down compared with the previous close.

Trading which was moderately active at the start quieted down later and at times came practically to a standstill.

The technical position of the market was said to have been strengthened by the recent heavy liquidation, but most traders preferred to keep to the sidelines pending some new incentive.

At mid-session May was trading at 12.85, July 12.91, Oct. 12.71, Dec 12.80, Jan 12.80 and March 12.82.

Additional notices for 1400 bales of May cotton were issued in the big ring here during the morning and for 300 bales in the job, or 50 bale ring.

Advices from Worth street reported a spurt of buying in cloths during the morning, but said the demand had subsided later.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—An early fast recovery rush piled up gains of fractions to 3 or more points in today's stock market.

The rally lost vigor later, however, and many advances were cut down or cancelled near the fourth hour as further unsettlement in markets abroad brought in offerings.

There was no outstanding change for the better or worse in the news picture and brokers attributed buying largely to quick-turn traders who stepped in with bids on the theory the list was due for a technical come-back following yesterday's sharp shake-out.

Foreign selling dried up after sizable overnight orders had been executed.

Rails, steels, motors, oils, rubbers and specialties led the upward reversal.

Prominent on the forward tilt the greater part of the session in dealings that occasionally put the ticker tape behind were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Erie, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Continental Steel, Vanadium, Chrysler, General Motors, Yellow Truck, Texas Corp., Seaboard Oil, Shell Union, Skelly Oil, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Deere, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Western Union, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Allied Chemical and Industrial Rayon.

Appreciation For Response To Appeals Is Expressed

An appreciation for response of Lubbock citizens to the need for rooms in private homes to accommodate participants in band contests here Friday and Saturday was voiced today by Culver Hill, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of arrangements.

So generous has been the response, he said, that the housing problem has been solved and no further listings are needed.

Report On Slaughter Test Is Not Given

Report on the 24-hour test for the Bob Slaughter No. 1 of the Texas company, in Hockley county, had not been completed this morning it was said at the company's headquarters near Levelland. A. B. Nuttall, in charge of operations, left early for the well and had not reported to his office.

The test was being made under supervision of a representative of the Railroad Commission of Texas. Based upon its total is expected to be the proration for the well, a wildcat.

Five thousand gallons of acid were forced into the well under pressure, through two and a half-inch tubing. The work was begun Tuesday but owing to unexpected delays, was not completed until 2 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Bottom At 5,023 Feet

Bottom of the hole is 5,023 feet. The highest pressure used in forcing acid into tubing was 1,750 pounds, Nuttall said.

First hour the well flowed 32 barrels of oil; second and third hours, 35 barrels, then began to drop slightly. Latest report in the afternoon was the flow was 28 to 30 barrels an hour.

Whether additional production will result after the well is cleaned out is not known. Total indicates a daily production of from 750 to 800 barrels.

The well is one of the most closely watched in the entire North Permian basin. Scores of scouts and other oil company employes and officials daily are watching operations. Lease prices in the county have zoomed upward since the discovery several weeks ago. Many leases have been executed recently.

Telephone and telegraph company officials said their business in Levelland is the greatest it has ever been. From the day of the discovery both lines have been "hot".

Prospects are for two tests at least, one in an adjoining league and the other north of Levelland, as a result of the discovery. Several projected drilling blocks are being worked out and it is believed the county will be one of the "hottest" spots in the north area.

Sacred City

The village of Amorebieta, 10 miles from Bilbao, was bombed by insurgent planes, but without heavy casualties.

The insurgent airfleet twice appeared over the village and, after dropping bombs from a considerable altitude, power dived to 100 feet and turned machine-guns loose on the streets. Most of the residents, however, had gained places of refuge.

Juan Antonio Aguiree, president of the Basque autonomous republic, called on "God and history" to witness the truth of his assertions that Guernica, historic cradle of Biscayan liberty, was bombed mercilessly Monday by German-made insurgent planes which left "nothing but smoking ruins."

Women, Children Ki'led

Basques, terror-stricken by the attack in which 800 civilians were said to have died, charged waves of bombing planes first made Guernica uninhabitable by their barrages, then an armada of pursuit ships slaughtered women and children who fled to the fields, straffing them with machine-gun fire.

The Basque cabinet met in emergency session at Bilbao to help the city's war-swollen population find refuge from the menace of devastating aerial machine-gunners and the dread pressure of approaching armies, but cold water was dashed on their hopes for immediate refuge evacuation by the British fleet.

Spokesmen for the British foreign office in London said it would be necessary first for the Basques and their insurgent foes to agree on the evacuation of perhaps 100,000 refugees from the besieged Basque capital under the protecting guns of British men of war.

To Make Decision

Then the British government will decide how it can help.

The spokesmen said declarations by some parliamentarians that the foreign office had given approval to immediate evacuation with the protection of British warships apparently were based on a misunderstanding, but they left the way open for ultimate government assistance.

To feed the refugees that cram Bilbao, until they find the haven that the Basques demand for them, four food ships from St. Jean De Luz, France, slipped through an ineffectual insurgent sea blockade on the Bay of Biscay—escorted to the 3-mile line by a British destroyer. That brought to twelve the food vessels that have reached Bilbao.

Two Brothers

hap were sketchy. A truckdriver, Manning Reed of Crosbyton, found the bodies, which had been thrown clear of the wrecked coupe. Sheriff Jim Williams said he could not estimate definitely how long the two had been lying there before discovery.

Mishap At Intersection

The mishap was at intersection of a new and an old highway near the Crosby-Dickens county line. Speculation said the car was overturned evidently when Dr. Clinton attempted to turn back into the new road after having mistakenly elected to drive into the old one.

A part of the steering gear of Dr. Clinton's machine was defective, the physician had informed his minister brother at Lubbock Sunday. It was not known whether the defect had been repaired.

Dr. and Mrs. Clinton had started to Lubbock at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Two Children Survive

Two children survive, Leo Clinton and Mrs. Pauline Nicholson, both of Dallas.

C. S. Clinton underwent major surgery Sunday. He, a tourist camp and filling station operator, was survived by his widow and seven children, Harry, Paul, Leland, Hollis, Wayne, Hazel, and Bobbie Jean, all of Clovis.

C. S. and Dr. Clinton are survived by three other brothers and a sister, J. L. Clinton of Durant, Okla., G. D. Clinton of Tulsa, H. V. Clinton and Mrs. Ida Brennan, both of Newsome.

Senator Robinson In Favor Of 10 Per Cent Slashes

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—Senator Robinson (D-Ark) endorsed today the proposal of Senator Byrnes (D-SC) to make a flat 10 per cent cut in all appropriations, exclusive of fixed charges, with discretionary power for department heads to transfer the slash from bureau to bureau.

Robinson told reporters he would prefer the Byrnes method to the proposal that 15 per cent of all appropriations be impounded, with discretion vested in the president to release additional funds.

WHITHARRAL GIN BURNS

WHITHARRAL, April 29. (Special)—Two elements focused interest in the loss by fire of the Gage Bros. gin here. Origin was not determined and the Levelland fire department ran the 12 miles to the place in about that many minutes. None had been working around the gin recently. The plant was insured.

Puppy Purge Woman's Aim

If Rosamond Wright of Los Angeles, above, had her way, then pensive Patsy, this Irish setter, couldn't keep her even dozen omnivorous offspring. Miss Wright recently appeared before the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors, asking that legislation be passed condemning to death all except one of every litter of puppies. It would, she said, combat rabies. When Los Angeles dog lovers rallied to the dogs' cause, it appeared that Patsy could exchange her woebegone look, keep her 12 pups.

Last Call Is Issued Today For Property Renditions

Last call was issued today by county, city and school district tax assessors for renditions of property valuations for 1937 taxation.

In each case, officials warned that Friday is the statutory deadline for such renditions. Otherwise they explained, the law provides that the assessor must place, arbitrarily, the property on the unrendered roll.

Hurley Carpenter, county assessor-collector, once more urged that property owners not reached by field deputies call at the assessor's office at the courthouse and make certain of receiving their homestead exemption. The assessor, he explained, cannot himself give credit for that exemption unless it actually is claimed by the owner.

City assessments should be made at the city hall and those for Lubbock independent school district at 1007 Texas avenue.

No cammeine is contained in the coffee grown on Grand Comoro Island, off South Africa.

Family Triangle

The "unwritten law," based on jealousy, was indicated for the defense of Allen D. Boggs, lower right, held in the Santa Cruz, Calif., slaying of the wife he mistakenly believed unfaithful. Visiting her son, Daniel Rencar, top photo, Mrs. Boggs, lower left, occupied one of two twin beds in a room with the boy. Police said that as his stepfather approached, the boy fled, leaving his bed rumpled. The fatal shooting followed.

Banner Month Looms For Fire Fighters

Firemen, eyes on the calendar and cocked for alarms, have only today and Friday left before realizing a possible banner month.

Only $150 approximately has gone into the ledgers to represent the April insured fire loss in the city.

Concerned, however, with the significance of a 1937 loss of $7,193.74, approximately half the total of $15,553 for all of last year, they are "holding their breaths after a fashion," said Cecil Casey, assistant fire chief and fire marshal.

Twenty alarms have been answered this month, average damage a run figuring $7.50.

February's loss was highest, $5,360.00. Included in property damaged were the Claude Stewart residence at 1714 Thirteenth street, Cammack Drug store and Bell Ice Cream company. January loss was $1,605.94, March $227.20.

If the remainder of the year can be handled as effectively as March and "April up to now" there should be no question of continued high credit for good fire records, it was indicated.

BUNNY EAR BANDANAS

NEW YORK (AP)—The wearers of sport slacks should lay in a supply of bandanas to tie about the head. At Mediterranean resorts they're being worn tied about the head, knotted in front so that the ends stick up like bunny ears. They're made of cotton, silk or wool, and the favorites are in paisley or plaid patterns.

HULA PIONEER HONORED

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. A. T. Herrmann, who asserts she introduced the hula hula dance into the United States, recently observed her 93d birthday. In the 1880's Mrs. Herrmann made a number of trips to Hawaii, learned the hula and danced it at a party in San Jose.

Grand Jurors Give Report

SAN ANGELO, April 29. (AP) — Twelve indictments were returned here Wednesday afternoon by a federal grand jury after being in session two days without reporting. The jury informed Judge W. H. Atwell, Dallas, presiding, it had other work to do and resumed its investigations.

Among those indicted were four persons charged with robbery of the Friona State bank, Parmer county, last June 29. They are Herbert Alvin Stanley, Charles Lewis, Swanie P. Jones and Myrtle Vowell. All are in jail. The cases are to be transferred to federal court at Amarillo.

Currency Taken

Court officials said the quartet was charged with having taken $700 in currency and several travelers' checks from the bank.

B. C. McMordie, Fort Worth, was named in three indictments in connection with his business activities there. He was indicted in two complaints with J. P. Kelly, one charging violation of the securities act of 1933 and the other with unlawful use of mails in the sale of securities. In the third indictment, which contained two counts, he was charged with violation of the bankruptcy act. McMordie is in jail at Fort Worth and Kelly is at liberty on bond.

The report of the jury made a total of 21 indictments since court opened Monday. Most of the other indictments, many of them outside the San Angelo division, were for violation of the internal revenue act.

Building Here Accelerated

Building permit totals continued their steady upward climb today after having been shoved beyond the $100,000 mark Wednesday to make April the first "$100,000 month" of 1937.

Three permits for construction costing $7,142 issued today by City Building Inspector D. J. Schlag were: W. I. Robinson, owner, and R. E. McCurdy, contractor, for residence at 2612 Twenty-fourth street, $3,000; S. H. Kress and company, owner, and J. B. Maxey, contractor, for air conditioning plant at 1109 Broadway, $4,000; and O. W. Langlotz, owner, and Lydick Roofing company, contractor, to reroof residence, $142.

Month Ranks High

Building permit totals for the month here were increased to $109,774, the largest for any monthly period with four exceptions in more than five years. The 84 permits issued is the largest for any month in more than five years, building records disclosed.

The months ranking ahead of April were, with totals: May, 1934, $568,654, due to construction at Texas Technological college; December, 1936, $269,454, due to belated issuance of permits for city-owned construction; February, 1936, $136,438, and October, 1936, $109,945. The record of last October is virtually certain to be surpassed before April records are closed Friday.

April totals were pushed beyond $100,000 late Wednesday when a permit was issued to Ed Tonn for a frame and brick veneer residence costing $7,267 at 2206 Broadway. Another permit issued Wednesday afternoon was to Henry Diebel for a brick veneer and stucco garage costing $2,000 at 1812 Nineteenth street.

to have no George, sunburnt and smiling, leaning on her sill, resting as he talked and waited for his glass of milk or square of gingerbread, telling her some scrap of village gossip he had heard, or passing on a piece of scientific information, or delightedly boasting how right he had guessed about which suckers to keep. . . . Noon came. She fixed the usual snack for her menfolk. She thought she would go for a swim; they were in for a spell of hot weather apparently.

It proved to be a stupid swim. No George swimming alongside, teasing her with splashed water, racing her out for a game of tennis, or lying on the cement parapet, a little sad because his too-white skin never would tan evenly or stay tanned long; playing about with her as if they were a couple of children, there on the grass and in the water.

"It's awful dull without Mr. Georgie," Mattie said when Eve came into her pantry for last night's cake plate.

"Isn't it!" Eve said with fervor. "I miss him horribly already—"

Something stopped her. Perhaps it was Mattie's little watchful gray eyes, fixed on her with a meaning interest. She said another idle word or two and went off through the sunshine with her plate, the wind blowing her rose-colored linen that George liked and lifting her hair. Suddenly her heart stood still and started racing again. She stopped, there on the path through the orchards, gasping, staring ahead. The words she had said were true.

As Eve realizes she loves George, tomorrow, Ellen becomes his fiancee.

tion of the committee, which is sent to key party officials, workers and members as part of the new activity of party leaders, who watch hawk-like for the first chance to start on the way toward overturning the huge Democratic victory of last November. It attempts to trace the general line of G.O.P. policy, strategy and accomplishment. Hamilton started it off with a message assuring the faithful that many Roosevelt supporters, "hurt and disappointed" by the President's Supreme Court plan, "are pondering a new political allegiance." He said that he would have the Republican party fight "unfair employers just as earnestly as it fights the lawlessness of the sitdown."

The record boasts of Republican unity behind the present Supreme Court. It explains on noble grounds the effort of Republican leaders to keep silent on the court issue, while egging on the opposition Democrats. It doesn't admit the Republicans saw that strong, united and articulate Republican opposition might help Roosevelt. It says "the Republican party has chosen, with its attitude toward the proposal clearly understood by all, to put aside any political advantage."

Defeating Tenant Plan

Great stress is laid on recent voting coalitions of Republicans and Democrats. Unity of Republicans and a substantial Democratic group is cited in the vote on the Byrnes amendment to the Guffey coal bill, which would have condemned the sitdown strike without mentioning any provocative tactics of employers. (Chief purpose of the amendment was to put Roosevelt on the spot by making him decide whether to place his signature under the entire measure. The amendment failed, but those who voted for it made a list almost comparable with that opposing Roosevelt's court plan. The list included several senators whom Republicans hope will vote with them in the future—such as Adams, Bailey, Brown of New Hampshire; Burke, Byrd, Connally, Copeland, Gerry, Holt, King, Lonergan, Maloney, Tydings and Walsh.)

The National Committee publication comments with satisfaction on the fact that Republicans joined with seven Democrats on the House Agriculture committee to defeat the administration's farm tenant plan.

The record also points with pride to Republican votes against the Guffey coal bill and Vandenburg's proposals for social security reform; also to Republican support of crop insurance. Vandenburg's child labor amendment. Republican demands for an investigation of the radio industry and other proposals by Republican members.

SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT FOR VARICOSE VEINS

Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Sufferers are advised to get an original bottle of Emerald Oil at Mark Halsey Drug, or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once. A small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or the finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced.

So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings due to strain and hastens their disappearance.—Adv.
