Pay Hikes In Store?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big pay boosts may be in store next year for the vice president, cabinet members, congressmen and Supreme Court justices if a new executive - salary commission follows the suggestions of a presidential committee.

The committee recommended that the vice president's salary be increased from $43,000 to $60,000 annually and that the Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court receive $60,000 instead of his present $40,000. Other salary recommendations were: associated Supreme Court Justices from $39,500 to $50,000; Cabinet members, from $35,000 to $55,000; members of Congress, $30,000 to 45,000.

The committee report has not been acted on. But in the recently passed federal postal rate and pay bill Congress provided for an executive salary commission to be appointed every four years.

Salaries recommended by the commission would become effective early in 1969 unless either the House or Senate rejects them by majority vote.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Jan. 1, the first day of 1968. Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1863, President Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation, declaring the slaves free.

On this date:

In 1735, the American patriot, Paul Revere, was born.

In 1863, the U.S. Homestead Act went into effect. A soldier in the Union Army staked out the first claim to a tract of land near Beatrice, Neb.

In 1901, the Commonwealth of Australia was proclaimed.

In 1913, the U.S. parcel post system began service.

In 1942, the joint declaration of the United Nations was signed in Washington, during World War II.

In 1959, the Cuban revolution led by Fidel Castro triumphed as dictator Fulgencio Bautista fled the island.

Ten years ago: President Dwight D. Eisenhower said in a New Year's message every effort would be made to improve relations between the people of the United States and the Soviet Union.

Five years ago: The Chinese Communist party berated the Soviet Union for trying to heal the split with Yugoslavia.

Snow, Sleet Spread Glaze Across State

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, sleet and freezing rains spread a dangerous glaze across Texas from the Guadalupe and Davis Mountains northeastward to the Louisiana border today and the wintery weather was due to continue through Tuesday.

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect for much of the northern half of the state as ice coated bridges and made streets and highways slick.

The mercury plunged to 16 degrees at Dalhart in the snow-dappled Panhandle-Plains area and freezing temperatures were reported as far south as Waco before dawn.

Rain fell along the upper coast and in Southeast Texas.

At Dallas—the site of today's Cotton Bowl grid classic between Texas A&M and Alabama—a freezing rain was falling in 29-degree weather.

The forecasts called for the rain and freezing rain to continue in most sections of the state today with new snows spreading over Far West and Northwest Texas tonight and Tuesday.

The five-day forecasts call for temperatures to average as low as 14 degrees below normal through Saturday. Rain and snow was predicted for Tuesday and Wednesday and again over the weekend.

Mrs. Wilson's Rites Today

Funeral service was held at 10 a.m. today at Bell - Seale Chapel for Mrs. Bessie Wilson, who lived at 705 Sixteenth Street.

Mrs. Wilson, 76, died at 1:10 p.m. Saturday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. A native of Aurora, Ark., she had lived in Snyder since 1949.

The Rev. George Shoff, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral service. Graveside rites and burial were set for 2 p.m. at the Odessa Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale.

Mrs. Wilson is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Powell of Snyder, Mrs. Geraldine Hale of Tahlequah, Okla.; a son, Grover Wilson of Ozona; a brother, R. E. Haile of Collinsville, Okla.; five grandchildren and eight great - grandchildren.

Akers Rites Here Today

Funeral service was held at 10:30 a.m. today at the First Methodist Church for Miss Maude M. Akers, who died here Saturday morning.

Miss Akers, a former Scurry County District Clerk, lived at 1306 Twenty - third Street.

Dr. John English officiated at the funeral service. Burial was in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Doc Griffin, George Lee, Cecil Boren, Bunk Casey, W. D. Willingham, Shorty and C. Crausto.

US Reports No Losses

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. forces weathered the first 24 hours of the allied-called New Year's truce without losing a single GI killed by this morning despite at least 66 "incidents" and 98 Communists killed during the standdown.

The number of incidents and rising casualty rate among the enemy and South Vietnamese government troops—with whom the Reds clashed with in most of the incidents—showed the truce period was only slightly less deadly than the usual everyday war.

The Viet Cong suffered 60 men killed, including a company commander, when they tossed 250 rounds of rocket fire at a Mekong Delta camp run by South Vietnamese marines, then followed up with three determined ground assaults.

Nineteen government marines were killed and 47 were wounded in the clash 58 miles south of Saigon, one of the earliest and fiercest breaches of the 36-hour allied truce.

The South Vietnamese reported that a U.S. flareship was unable to get permission from U.S. headquarters to turn its fast-firing guns on the Viet Cong assaulting the camp. The U.S. Command in Saigon declined to comment but said the incident was being investigated. There were six U.S. advisers with the South Vietnamese, and they radioed for air support when the VC struck.

A spokesman for the government marines said it had been assumed that when it asked air support from U.S. aircraft, such support would be granted.

Despite the lack of air support, the Marines chased the wily Viet Cong into the nearby swampland and broke the back of their final assault before dawn today.

U.S. headquarters said the New Year's Day war communiques covering the first 24 hours of the truce showed that all 66 incidents were provoked by the Communists. Casualties were given as follows: 98 Communists killed, 21 South Vietnamese soldiers killed and 61 wounded, 15 Americans wounded, 5 South Vietnamese civilians killed and 1 wounded.

Several fierce fights also were reported in the hours just before the allied truce began at 5 a.m. EST Sunday, among them one in which the Communists lost 111 men.

That action took place in the sensitive northern provinces bordering the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Vietnam. A South Vietnamese force jumped a Communist unit in Quang Ngai province and quickly put them to flight, hardly losing a man, headquarters said.

The U.S. Command reported that 14 American troops were wounded and seven Viet Cong killed in seven cease-fire clashes termed "significant"—meaning casualties occurred. Seven U.S. soldiers were hit as they patroled in Hau Nghia province between Saigon and the Cambodian border. The U.S. patrol killed three of the enemy attackers.

Near normal fighting continued until about the start of the allied truce at 5 a.m. EST Sunday, the command announced, despite a Viet Cong proclaimed ceasefire supposed to have begun at 1 a.m. Saturday.

In the worst violation of their own truce, enemy guerrillas ambushed and shattered a U.S. armored column trumding along 37 miles east of Saigon. Nine Americans died in the ambush and 29 were wounded, the command said.

New Transplant Set

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The diseased heart of a Cape Town dentist, who could be the world's third heart transplant patient, worsened as doctors waited today for a donor heart.

Dr. Christian Barnard, who led the surgical team that performed Louis Washkansky's heart transplant at Groote Schuur Hospital, arrived in Johannesburg today from Britain and the United States and said: "I am ready to transplant a second heart today or as soon as a suitable heart can be obtained."

The next patient, 58-year-old Dr. Philip Blaiberg, was described as "dangerously ill" at Groote Schuur from a coronary thrombosis.

Barnard was asked in London if he was more confident of Blaiberg's chances for survival than he was of Washkansky's. The 44-year-old surgeon replied:

"I think the main thing is that —the main difference will be that we will have more confidence now in that we are not going into the unknown. We are going where we have been before."

It came out that Blaiberg took care of Washkansky's teeth while Washkansky was in a training camp during World War II. Leon Galatis, 51, an engineering representative who trained with Washkansky, told the Sunday Express Blaiberg was "a very nice man who fraternized with other ranks. He was very well liked and the only man I know who could drill your teeth without your knowing it."

Washkansky, a Cape Town wholesale grocer, survived for 18 days after he received the heart of a 25-year-old girl killed in an auto accident. His death was caused by pneumonia.

A second human heart transplant failed a few days after the Washkansky operation when Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz in Brooklyn, N.Y., used the heart of a dead infant to replace that of a dying infant. The infant patient lived 6½ hours.

All that surgeons at Groote Schuur needed to operate again was a suitable donor heart, which they said probably would have to come from someone killed in a traffic accident that did not impair the heart.

The Sunday Times said Blaiberg's blood type was B-Positive, a rare type, and so finding a donor would be difficult.

Barnard said he had seen Blaiberg in the hospital after Washkansky died Dec. 21 and had asked him if he'd changed his mind about taking a transplant.

"He said no—he was quite confident it would work one day," Barnard said.

Dr. Val Schirire, senior physician at Groote Schuur, reported that Blaiberg's condition was "very bad. I think everything is prepared. We know we can do it a second time."

Drivers License Office To Move

Beginning tomorrow, local motor vehicles operators will go to a new location to obtain and renew drivers licenses.

The new drivers license office of the Department of Public Safety here is located at 1912 Thirty - seventh Street. Effective Jan. 2, all transactions connected with the issuing or renewal of drivers licenses here will be conducted there, which is the former location of the Buccaneer Stamp Store.

Heretofore, the drivers license office has shared quarters with the patrol office in the county courthouse.

At the same time the new office opens, new procedures for obtaining and renewing drivers license go into effect. A color photograph will become a standard part of all drivers licenses issued after today. Renewal notices will be mailed to each driver as in the past, but each driver must take the renewal notice to the DPS drivers license office. There he will be given a standard vision test, sign the renewal notice and step in front of a DPS camera for the required picture.

Transit Strike Averted In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A bus-subway strike was averted today with the reaching of a new contract between the Transit Authority and two transit unions.

Word of the settlement came after all-night marathon negotiations at the Americana Hotel.

Negotiations had been extended from the 5 a.m. strike deadline set by the unions to 7 a.m. as talks went on.

Mahon Here On Tuesday

Rep. George Mahon, Congressman for the 19th District of Texas, is scheduled to speak at a joint meeting of service clubs here Tuesday.

The Snyder Lions Club will be host to the Congressman at the club's regular luncheon meeting at the First Methodist Church, and members of other civic clubs and interested persons have been invited to meet with the Lions.

At the same time, Charles P. King of Lamesa, Lions District Governor, will make an official visit to the Snyder Lions Club. King heads Lions District 2-T-2, which covers the South Plains area of Texas.

MARION DABBS

Dabbs Asks Re-Election In Pct. No. 1

W. M. (Marion) Dabbs has announced that he is a candidate for re-election as County Commissioner, Precinct No. 1, in the Democratic Primary Election.

Dabbs said that it had been a pleasure to serve the people as their commissioner and that he would appreciate the opportunity of continuing. He said he pledge to serve to the best of his ability and he felt that with his experience he can give even more efficient service in the future.

He also expressed appreciation to the people for their cooperation while he has served as commissioner.

L. M. Wilson Dies Today

Limmie M. Wilson, 75, Route 1, Snyder, was pronounced dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital at about 7 a.m. Monday. He had suffered an apparent heart attack.

Mr. Wilson, who was retired, had lived in Scurry County virtually all of his life.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Ida Addison of Plains; six brothers, Tom Wilson of Brownfield, J. W. of Portales, N.M., Ira of Louisiana, George, Jack and Jim Wilson, all of Snyder.

Lone Star Loop Shines

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Lone Star Conference already has assured itself of finishing ahead against outside opposition.

So this week the boys start playing for keeps after first winding up the nonconference schedule.

All-out conference action begins Saturday night with How[illegible] ... on campus, but Sandra maintains it with her earning ... as a part time waitress.

Sandra is usually short of funds for clothes, so when she appeared recently in an especially fetching outfit, I commented on it.

She said Dick, her boy friend, had given it to her. They are not engaged, and I take a dim view of a boy buying clothes for my daughter. I feel that the only female for whom a man buys clothes is his wife, daughter or mistress.

Yesterday my wife informed me that Sandra had blown $90 on a matched set of golf clubs for Dick's Christmas present. I nearly turned purple. My wife urged me to let her handle it. She intends to tell Sandra the next time she asks for something that the money is more urgently needed elsewhere. True.

I am fearful that if I remain silent, I'll develop an ulcer. And if experience is any criterion, at Christmas there will be a $5 blouse for Mother, and a pair of socks for Dad under the tree from Sandra. What do you and your readers think about this?

THIS?

FRUSTRATED FATHER

DEAR FATHER: You have wo separate problems: A daughter who has accepted an inppropriate gift from her boyfriend. For this, you have every right to disapprove and to show your disapproval. But, if your daughter wishes to "blow" her hard-earned money on a gift for Dick, it's her money, and her privile'e, and when she's broke, it will also be her problem.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law, who is very bullheaded and bossy, told me that she was going to give Lisa, our 11-year-old daughter, an electric shaver for Christmas.

I asked her to please give the child something else because we didn't want her to start shaving her legs just yet. Then this sister-in-law said, "Well, it's time you did, because the kid looks like a gorilla."

I ignored the ... but, sure enough, ... and Lisa received an electric shaver from this aunt. Now Lisa is begging us to let her start shaving her legs. Now what should we do?

LISA'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Ask Lisa to put the electric shaver away for a while. And don't let her bring it out unless you want to see the fur fly.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Congratulations for advising "SPEECHLESS" (the woman whose doctor made improper advances to her one afternoon in his office) to find another doctor.

The doctor was apparently going thru this middle-age thing in men that they refuse to recognize, but in women it's called "menopause."

Had the patient been less mature she might have felt drawn to him and broken up not only her marriage, but his as well.

This happened to me. My doctor-husband walked out on me after 20 years of marriage. He also "fell in love" with a patient. I don't know who initiated this romance, but it doesn't matter now. I gave him the divorce he asked for and he subsequently married a patient. (Perhaps the same one, perhaps another.)

I used to think I was the only one discarded along the way. Eleven years later I have discovered that we number in the millions. Sincerely,

DISCARDED IN SAN FRANCISCO

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO IRVING: You have a "gift" complex. Forget about your money. And maybe your friends will.

Warriors Snap Back

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Warriors, with the help of their favorite whipping boy, are back in contention in the Western Division race in the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors snapped out of a slump they've lost their last two games after winning five in a row—with a 126-124 decision over Seattle Sunday.

The victory, San Francisco's sixth of the season over Seattle, pulled the Warriors to within one game of leading St. Louis, idle Sunday.

In the only other NBA game scheduled Los Angeles drubbed San Diego 147-118. Pittsburgh whipped Indiana 121-106 in the only American Basketball Association game scheduled.

The Warriors broke open a tight game with a drive in the opening moments of the fourth quarter, building up a 12-point lead and then hanging on against a SuperSonic rally that fell two points short.

Nate Thurmond of San Francisco topped all scorers with 34 points and Walt Hazzard had 26 for Seattle.

Los Angeles moved to an 81-53 halftime lead and coasted to its victory. Archie Clark scored 31 points and Jerry West 27 for the Lakers. John Block got 28 for San Diego.

In the ABA, Pittsburgh made Indiana its 13th straight victims, breaking a 30-30 tie with a 28-11 scoring burst in the second quarter.

Utah Press Releases 'Studies In History'

FORT WORTH (AP) — Dr. M. Jack Suggs, New Testament professor at Texas Christian University, has edited a volume of essays written by an international group of theologian-scholars.

Co-editor was Dr. Boyd L. Daniels, dean of Maryville, Tenn., College.

The volume is being released by the University of Utah Press and is entitled "Studies in the History and Text of the New Testament in Honor of Kenneth Willis Clark."

Dr. Clark recently retired after more than 30 years of service on the faculty of Duke University's Divinity School.

Figures Way To Beat Deer Limit

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — The deer limit was one buck in Lamar County, and one buck in Red River County. But a farmer, whose farm is on the Lamar-Red River line southeast of Paris, figured a way around it.

He killed a six-point buck in Lamar County, then walked over into Red River County and got a seven-point buck — without leaving his own farm.

Lady Escapes With Real Hair Intact

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Pam Gossett, advertising employe for The Paris News, was on a mission to the composing room.

She leaned too close to a linotype machine, and one of the belts caught her hair.

Composing room foreman E. C. Hundley nearly fainted when Mrs. Gossett's tresses whisked through the air and slammed to the floor.

Hundley regained his composure shortly after Mrs. Gossett regained her wiglet and escaped to the powder room.

Comedian Believes We Are Winning

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope flew home Saturday after two weeks of entertaining troops in Vietnam and told newsmen, "Sure, "we're winning the war."

"I was very aware of the gunfire," Hope said. "I usually sit in the jump seat. But when we left, I was under the jump seat."

Actress Raquel Welch, after making her first trip with Hope, said the reception they received was "stupendous."

Hope said the U.S. and allies were "winning the war slowly, but we're winning. I saw a lot of it."

Viet War Viewed With Apprehension

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new year has a fair chance of seeing the Vietnam war brought to an end or finding it expanded into a much more general conflict in Southeast Asia.

U.S. officials believe the way history's tide runs will depend not only on choices to be made by President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam and President Johnson but also on the relative influence the Soviet Union and Communist China exert in Hanoi.

No one in Washington rules out the possibility the conflict may follow 1967's line of development, periodically approaching the point of spillover into other countries but never quite getting out of hand.

Among some of the best-informed officials there is a sense of increased expectation or apprehension depending on whether a particular expert judges the prospect for ending or damping down the conflict is greater than the prospect for spreading it.

Johnson administration leaders, it is true, entered 1967 with somewhat similar anticipations of climax. Last year was, in fact, a year of severe disappointments and setbacks for administration hopes of winning the war or bringing it under control, even though it was also a year of marked, if indecisive, military progress.

Johnson had estimated in 1965—the year the United States entered the war as a full belligerant and started bombing the North—that by the spring of 1967 U.S. power would probably force the struggle to a turning point. He hoped that by then Ho and his advisers would concede they could not win and would agree to negotiations.

Beginning in the fall of 1966 and running through February 1967, Johnson, Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, Ho and a host of other world figures became involved in a mammoth effort to start peace talks.

In one phase Johnson banned bombing around the Hanoi area for four months and indicated he would welcome a similar sign of de-escalation from Ho. The North Vietnamese on their part declared they would undertake negotiations if the U.S. halted the bombing permanently.

The whole massive effort collapsed when Ho published in March a February exchange of letters between himself and Johnson on peace.

Meanwhile then-Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, back in Washington for reports on the war, predicted that by the end of 1967 the conventional military phase of the fighting would be substantially completed and the percentage of American casualties to total U.S. troops in Vietnam would decline.

Lodge forecast, in other words, that the United States and South Vietnam would so defeat major communist military units that they would thereafter avoid battle and the conflict would be reduced to strictly guerrilla warfare.

The conflict did change substantially, but instead of U.S. casualties going down they went up. A recent report from Saigon said that in 1967 U.S. soldiers killed in action per week rose to 193 as compared with 92 per week in 1966—better than doubling although the U.S. troops compliment did not.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces were engaged increasingly in battles in the border area of South Vietnam—immediately south of the demilitarized zone between the two Vietnams, or in the regions touching on the neighboring jungles of Laos and Cambodia.

U.S. troops increased from almost 400,000 to more than 470,000 but still could not completely dictate the terms of battle to the enemy. North Vietnam suffered the weight of 887,000 tons of bombs during the year but showed no outward sign of cracking in its resolve to conquer the South.

These developments helped set the stage for the new year.

One issue, that of the expanding war, appears to be coming to a head rapidly in Vietnam's neighboring Southeast Asian nations.

The government of Laos has accused North Vietnam of starting a general offensive with 40,000 North Vietnamese troops in Laos. Communist supply roufes run through the jungles of Laos and it is at this season that the weather there ordinarily favors intensified military activity. This is the dry season.

Communist forces by the thousands have been using Cambodian jungle sanctuary to prepare for escape from battle in Vietnam and to store supplies beyond the reach of U.S. bombers.

In Thailand extensive guerrilla activity in some provinces could be blended into a Southeast Asian regional pattern of war if the Communists wish to change the nature of the conflict or perhaps force the United States to do so.

There has long been some U.S. intervention in Laos against the Ho Chi Minh Trail to South Vietnam but in general U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have sharply limited even their firing across the borders of Cambodia. The U.S. has tried to find a diplomatic solution in the form of strengthened operations by an International Control Commission along the border.

Within the last two weeks Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, first bitterly denounced the United States and accused it of preparing to invade Cambodia—which the State Department denied—then suddenly reversed what had appeared to be a policy favorable to North Vietnam and Communist China and announced that he was prepared to receive an envoy from President Johnson. Just as surprisingly, Sihanouk said Cambodia would not fight back if U.S. forces chased Communist troops across the Cambodian border. He warned against any deep U.S. penetration, however.

On the basis of Sihanouk's shift, U.S. officials saw for the moment at least a hope of avoiding a wider war unless the Communists, particularly the Red Chinese, decide to force that decision. On the whole there was hope they would not do so was not discounted but the serious danger that they would do so.

Opinion was divided meanwhile over peace prospects. Some officials hold strongly to the view that with the U.S. national election coming up in November and the Vietnam war as one bitterly fought issue, Ho would not under any circumstances consider bringing the conflict to a close before the election outcome is known—and perhaps not until sometime next year.

An opposite point of view is entertained by some officials, however, on the ground the Communists are being hurt so badly in the South and by U.S. bombing in the North that they are probably closer to an accommodation than their outward behavio. indicates.

In support of this view, officials say that sometime last spring the Communist forces in South Vietnam began losing more men than they could replace. That was a point which Gen. William C. Westmoreland had looked for as the "crossover" of enemy manpower loss and supply figures.

It is known that many more extremely young boys or relatively old men have been showing up in the ranks of the Viet Cong and in some cases among North Vietnamese troops.

Washington officials, who see at least an outside chance of a radical change in Communist war policy also argue there is such severe damage in North Vietnam that even a man of Ho Chi Minh's iron will can no longer afford to overlook the suffering and losses of his own people.

One possible straw in the wind is that recently the political arm of the Viet Cong, the National Liberation Front, has been preaching the idea of a coalition government for South Vietnam, a maneuver some experts think may mean the Communists are seeking to prepare for negotiations which would occur initially at least between factions in South Vietnam, or between the Communists on one hand and South Vietnam, the U.S. and their allies on the other.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, in Washington recently for consultations with President Johnson, said on several public occasions he thought the U.S. and its allies were making "steady progress" in the war.

Westmoreland, the U.S. military commander, said at the same time he though perhaps in two years the United States could begin to phase down its participation in the war because the South Vietnamese would be able to accept more responsibility and obviously the Communists would be in a more beaten-down condition in two years than today.

That, however, is a large assumption at the beginning of zone, which have been designed 1968. For already the nature of either to give them the advanthe war has been changed by tages of sanctuary or to put the Communists through their them into battle at the ends of use of border territories in Cam the shortest possible supply bodia and Laos and their ac tones.

Construction Begins

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Construction has been started on a new 900-student elementary school in west Paris. School officials said the structure, on a 16-acre site, will replace three smaller and older elementary schools, Rosa Pearson, Graham and Baldwin.

IF GUNS REMAIN QUIET

AsiaEconomistsEncouraged

NEW DELHI (AP)—For the first time in more than two years, economists in South Asia are talking hopefully of an upward swing in the financial pictues of their countries.

No small amount of the hope is based on the premise that peace can be maintained. India and Pakistan have been able to keep their guns muzzled since September, 1965, and India has had no major border trouble with Communist China since 1962.

Some factors beyond the control of the countries of South Asia have to be considered as well-evaluation of the British pound, the pinch which Vietnam is causing on American aid and continuing good crop conditions.

After two years of drought, India is realizing a record harvest, exceeding 95 million tons of food grains. Now, the gross national income will be the highest ever. As one Western economist put it, "Indians should eat more, and buy more clothes than ever before."

Exports have been the sorest disappointment in India's economic picture. Expectations that they would rise subsequent to devaluation of the rupee in June 1966 have not been realized.

Indian officials found their situation so bad during the drought period that they were forced to abandon their five-year plan continuity. The Fourth Plan was to have started in 1966, but instead planning has limped along on a year-by-year basis and the Fourth Plan is not to start now until April 1, 1969, when government experts hope the economy will have improved enough to allow such long-range thinking again.

Thus, 1968 may be considered a year of "marking time," hoping the economy will find a spark of life.

Just when some hope was coming along, devaluation of the pound threw some cold water on things. It is expected that devaluation will cause some new strains on the economy, although how much is not yet known.

Indian goods will cost more in Britain in terms of sterling, so Indian exports to this traditional area likely will suffer—especially tea, since Ceylon, a competitor, has devalued her currency.

But with all this, a group of Indian and American executives meeting in New Delhi late in 1967 concluded that 1968 should see positive developments in the Indian economy.

India's foreign exchange reserve continue to be in dire shape—resting at about $577 million at the end of November. This compared with $579 million at the start of the fiscal year April 1, and $638 million on April 1,1966.

Much the same story can be told of India's neighbors—Nepal Ceylon, Pakistan and Afghanistan. All are part of the so-called sterling area, and all will encounter difficulties as a result of Britain's devaluation.

Detective Springs Trap On Pushers

HIALEAH, Fla. (AP) — A detective who set up housekeeping with two policewomen and posed as a junkie for three months survived three mistakes to help seize 600 pounds of marijuana and spring a trap on seven then charged with delivering the drug.

Tony Martin, 26, said he assumed the name of a West Coast narcotics pusher who had died. The officer rented a home, pretending the policewomen were his family.

With the assistance of Sgt. Charles Murphy, 56, Martin worked into the confidence of those offering illegal drugs for sale.

The 600 pounds received for a promised $51,000—never delivered—was worth over $500,000 for resale, according to Police Chief David J. Maynard.

Martin was successful even though he once called Murphy "Sgt. Murphy" in the presence of two pushers, even though an acquaintance greeted him by name before others and even [illegible] front page of a local newspaper during the undercover job.

"We took some real long chances, but we had a lot of luck and it ended up the right way," he said.

"We started off with the little man, buying a matchbox (of marijuana), then moved up to the man with a pound," said Murphy.

Sunday a panel truck backed up to the rented home with 600 of 1,000 pounds Martin ordered and police closed in. Four men in the truck were seized and three men in a car that followed the truck were captured after a running gunfight. All were charged with possessing and transporting marijuana.

Fires Claim 11 Children

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eleven children less than 8 years old—seven at Wheeling, W.Va. and four at Baltimore, Md.—were killed in 24 hours in fires at their homes.

The four at Baltimore were in the care of a 16-year-old babysitter who escaped the flames. Fire officials said the bodies were found early today in a bedroom of a two-story duplex.

The mother of the children, Rosemary Smith, 24; and their grandmother, Rena Casey, 57, were treated for shock after notification of the deaths.

The victims were identified as Yvette Smith, 7; a sister, Patricia, 3; and two brothers, Sean, 5; and Andrae, 3 months. The parents are separated.

Assist. Fire Chief [illegible] said the victims at Wheeling Sunday—four from one family and three from another—were trapped in the upper floor bedrooms of one of three apartments in the buildings.

The victims were Cynthia Gonzales, 7, Linda Marie Gonzales, 6, Debbie Gonzales, 5, and Johnny Gonzales, 3, children of Sandra Gonzales; and Mary Anne Gosztyla 5, Rebecca Gosztyla, 4, and Daniel Johnston, 8, children of Harriet Gosztyla.

Mueller said an eighth child, Kenneth Gonzales, 11 months, was rescued from a playpen in a first-floor bedroom.

Both families live in the building but Mrs. Gosztyla's children were visiting overnight in the Gonzales' apartment.

Huntsman Rites Pend

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Bell - Seale Funeral Home for Bennie Huntsman, 66, who lived at 2906 Avenue L. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Lucile Forst of Snyder and Bernice Huntsman of Houston; four sons, Garth Huntsman of Houston, Willie of Fort Worth, Bennie Jr. and Roger, both of Snyder; three sisters and one brother.

More Texas Cities To Consider Tax

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Saginaw, Tarrant County town north of Fort Worth, will vote on the proposed one per cent sales tax Saturday. Beaumont, a Southeast Texas city, considers the issue a week later.

Since the Texas Legislature legalized the method for raising municipal revenues, 158 cities and towns have voted for the tax and only 22 turned it down.

Port Arthur approved the one per cent levy Saturday by a heavy majority to become the 158th city approving. The vote was 3,438 to 804.

Queen Anne Marie Said Recovered

ROME (AP) — Queen Anne-Marie of Greece has recovered from a miscarriage last Thursday, and Sunday took a short drive with King Constantine, her personal physician announced.

The king and his 21-year-old Danish-born queen remained at the Greek Embassy, where they have stayed since their flight to Rome Dec. 14 after the collapse of the countercoup that the king attempted against the Greek junta.

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Waco Judge Frank M. Wilson has donated a collection of rare books to Baylor University. It is described as "one of the most significant gifts the law school has ever received.

The collection contains 2,135 books and about 50 documents dating back to the Middle Ages.

To Retire After Teaching 40 Years

ALPINE, Tex. (AP) — Wilton E. "Bill" Williams, professor of education and range animal science at Sul Ross State College, is planning to retire after 40 years of teaching.

He has spent the last 21 years at Sul Ross. While at the Alpine school he served under four presidents.

Firemen Get Steam Calls

Firemen answered two calls last night that resulted from residents mistaking steam for smoke.

The first call was to the residence of Charlene Moore, 2901 Thirty - eighth Street, at 7 p.m.

"She thought she saw smoke rising from her house when she returned home," said a fireman, "but it was only steam."

He said a similar mistake led to the second call — to Travis Junior High School at 7:15 p.m.

"It looked just like smoke rising from the roof," declared the fireman, "but it was steam."

One Bright Spot In Copper Strike

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The first nationwide copper strike entered its 171st day today, with little hope for a quick settlement except in one case.

Phelps-Dodge Corp. and the striking unions met at Tucson, Ariz., for three days last week and recessed talks until Friday.

Both sides emphasized the recess was mutual and was not to be interpreted as [illegible] whose state has been hard-hit by the strike, has referred to far the Phelps-Dodge talks as "a bit of a bright spot on the horizon."

Rampton said Phelps-Dodge probably would be the first to settle and said that settlement might help local bargaining.

Thursday the strike will have become the longest for Kennecott Copper Corp.'s Western Mining Division (Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico)—surpassing the 173-day strike of 1959-60.

The first workers struck Aug. 10, 1959, and the last returned to work Jan. 27, 1960. The strike caused an estimated economic loss to Utah alone of $73 million.

The strike also will set a Montana record Jan. 10. The previous record-length strike for Anaconda Co., 177 days, ran from Aug. 19, 1959, to Feb. 11, 1960.

The copper strike, which began [illegible] in excess of $300 million thus far.

More than 60,000 workers, primarily in the western copper states, have been idled by the strike which has halted more than 95 per cent of domestic copper production.

The main stumbling block is money.

Workers at Kennecott, largest of the domestic producers, averaged about $3.25 cents an hour plus benefits before the strike.

The company's offer June 10 was said by Kennecott to be worth a 50.6 cent an hour increase for the three-year contract, but it was rejected by the union which said it was worth only 38 cents.

The union counter-proposal was priced at 99 cents per hour but Kennecott spokesmen said the proposal would cost $1.38.

Phelps-Dodge's latest offer—rejected by the unions—was priced by the company at 63.7 cents per hour.

The strike is being conducted by 22 unions headed by the United Steelworkers of America which represents over 80 per [illegible]

DESPITE RED INSURGENCY

Thai Economy Moves Ahead

BANGKOK (AP) — Thailand's economy surged ahead again in 1967 despite a worsening communist insurgency situation, drought and a fall in the price of rubber.

Latest figures available show Thailand should achieve its target of 8.5 per cent growth rate under the second five-year plan which started this year.

The government has also embarked on a comprehensive project of dam and irrigation construction and rural electrification, much of it financed by foreign aid and overseas loans.

The country's rapid growth since 1963 has caused serious overcrowding of its ship handling and airport facilities and plans were drawn this year for a new deep sea port and a new international airport.

The airport will be capable of handling jumbo jets.

For the present Thailand's order of [illegible] was easily met.

Further, Thailand's gold and dollar reserves are expected to soon top the $1 billion mark.

At the end of June, despite a drop in income from rice, rubber and hemp exports, reserves had risen from $25.8 million to $889.6 million.

This was enough to finance almost 12 month's trading.

Rice, Thailand's biggest money earner, had a varied year. The worst drought in 64 years forced the government to curtail exports in January and in October. Total exports at the end of November were 1.36 million tons, 200,000 tons short of the exports target for the year.

However riots in Hong Kong had the effect of forcing rice prices up.

Earnings rose $33.8 million although volume exported went down.

Other products such as maize and tapioca were expected to be slightly affected by the drought.

Tin on the other hand moved ahead again. In the first half year exports totaled 14,916 tons worth $50 million. This was almost double the total for the previous year.

The presence in the country of some 40,000 American troops also helped boost Thailand's economy. Although prices continued to rise, the country gained dollars from the Americans at the rate of about $5 million a month.

Thailand's program of industrialization continued to push ahead. National Developments Ministers Pote Sarasin recently predicted Thailand's economy would be 50 per cent industrial by 1971, the end of the current five-year plan.

Thai policy of attracting foreign investment has also paid off with an expected total of more than $200 million in new investment—mainly U.S. and Japanese—made in the past year.

The government also announced plans to establish a merchant shipping fleet and authorized the purchase of 11 new vessels from 8,000 to 13,500 tons.

Cost of the fleet will be $40 million dollars.

One of the main features of business in the past year has been delegations from U.S. of unprecedented expansion. These visits held the promise of security reasons, have opened more capital investment and up huge tracts of countryside in more purchases of Thai prod- the previously isolated northeast ucts. and central Thailand.

Economists predict that if the Peasants have begun to grow country can stave off the threat cash crops such as maize and of internal communist subver- sorghum and freight rates to the capital have gone down 80 per cent.

Pair From Plane Safe

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A single-engined plane ditched in the Gulf of Mexico some 200 miles northwest of Campeche, Mexico, Sunday and the Coast Guard reported both occupants in good condition.

The Cessna 206 Super Skywagon, owned by Wings of Hope, St. Louis, Mo., reportedly set down about 6 p.m. alongside the German cargo ship Nabstein.

Both the plane and the two men on board were plucked from the Gulf by the freighter, the Coast Guard said.

They were identified as S. Gervais, described only as a Canadian; and T. Dywer, identified as a U. S. citizen.

Authorities said the plane was en route from New Orleans to Belize, British Honduras, when it was forced to ditch.

The freighter will carry the plane and survivors to Tampico, Mexico.

Ambassador Clark Leaves Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Retiring U.S. Ambassador Edward A. Clark left for home Sunday amid serious farewells and activities on the lighter side.

At the airport he autographed a plaster cast on his deputy's broken ankle, embraced a barlender whose name is Clarke, cut a goodbye cake decorated with chocolate Texas roses, and told jokes about mothers-in-law.

Clark also had a 15-minute private talk with Prime Minister John McEwen, who is believed to have repeated a statement he made to President Johnson that Australia stood firm on its pledges in Vietnam.

Asked if he would run for governor of Texas, Clark replied, "That's something I am seriously interested in."

Wirtz Sees Wage And Price Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional refusal to enact President Johnson's proposed income tax boost this year could spur federal wage and price controls, says Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

And although Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge said Sunday such controls are "the last thing in the world" the administration [illegible] up to the question of wage and price [illegible] That'll be part of the reason for a tax rise.

Wirtz called 1968 a crisis year in labor negotiations with contracts expiring in the steel, aluminum, can, glass and longshore industries.

The labor chief said if wages continue to jump at an average rate of five per cent, real economic troubles lie ahead. "We're very close to the point where it's going to make no sense to get a wage or a price increase" if inflation gobbles up such hikes, he said.

Congress refused last year to pass Johnson's bid for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge. But the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee has promised to take a new look at it soon after Congress returns Jan. 15.

Wirtz and Trowbridge were interviewed jointly on the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers."

Opposition to any tax hike this year was sounded again Saturday by Chairman William Proxmire, D-Wis., of the Senate-House Economic Committee.

Citing a decline last year in U.S. industrial production, Proxmire said in a statement a tax boost "would have eliminated hundreds of thousands of jobs" without guaranteeing to cap the inflationary spiral.

Prosmire expressed hope industry and labor would accept White House-set voluntary wage-price guidelines along lines of those set in the earlier days of Johnson's administration.

Nation's Business, a magazine of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, reported meanwhile that 9 of 10 top industry executives it queried predicted 1968 will see more inflation, more taxes, higher interest rates, more sales and more profits.

St. Mary's Sets Pace

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They will be at it hot and heavy this week as the Big State Conference basketball race has five of its six members in championship competition.

Only two conference games have been played, with St. Mary's leading with a 1-0 record. East Texas Baptist shows 1-1 and Texas Lutheran 0-1.

St. Mary's is the only team not seeing conference action this week. It does play Prairie View Thursday and Angelo State Saturday in nonconference affairs.

East Texas Baptist and Texas Wesleyan clash at Fort Worth and St. Edward's and Southwestern at Georgetown Wednesday.

Saturday Texas Wesleyan and Texas Lutheran plays at Seguin and Southwestern and East Texas Baptist tangle at Marshall.

Hapless Cowboys Lose

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The glacial Green Bay Packers have maintained their icy grip upon the National Football League crown for a third straight year. And they used a red hot finish to do it.

[illegible] the aging Packer quarterback, who [illegible] minus four points at the finish [illegible] the coldest afternoon in history of NFL championship play.

Quarterback Bart Starr won it with 13 seconds left by following guard Jerry Kramer's blocking for a touchdown from the one-yard line that gave the Packers a 21-17 victory.

"I didn't feel that cold," said Packer Coach Vince Lombardi, who became the first man since the NFL adopted a playoff system in 1933 to guide a team to three consecutive titles. "I didn't feel it at all."

The victory thrust the Packers into the Super Bowl against Oakland, the American Football League king. That game will be played in sunny Miami, Fla., Jan. 14.

The weather was bitter, and the Cowboys were bitter about the weather. "We were all suffering out there, and it got worse as the game went on," said Coach Tom Landry, whose Cowboys lost in the final seconds to Green Bay in warm Dallas a year ago.

"Minus 13 — it just isn't a test of football," said Dallas quarterback Don Meredith.

"It was just bitter," admitted Starr, who at times seemed utterly immobilized by the cold. He fell under the Cowboy pass rush eight times during the afternoon. The Packers get to Meredith [illegible] ly oblivious to the cold. — a record for Dec. 31 ever — Green Bay — drove to a 14-0 lead on two Starr passes to Boyd Dowler. The first, from eight yards out, capped a drive from the Green Bay 18 helped along by two Dallas penalties against Dallas.

The second came from the 43 as the Cowboys defense worried about rookie sensation Travis Williams, who had just been inserted in the lineup.

But Starr soon become almost immobilized in the withering cold and stood helplessly by as Willie Townes stripped him of the ball at the Packer seven. George Andrie scooped it up and raced for a touchdown.

Dallas added a 21 yard Danny Villanueva field goal after Willie Wood fumbled a punt at the 17.

The Cowboys pulled ahead on the first play of the final period when Dan Reeves teamed with Lance Rentzel on a 50 yard option pass play. "We just fell asleep on that one," said Lombardi.

The slender lead appeared to be substantial enough as the cowboys forced a Green Bay punt, and watched an attempted Don Chandler field goal from the 40 go awry.

There were only 4 minutes, 50 seconds left when Green Bay got the ball for the last time at the Packer 32. Starr swept to end [illegible] castoff, gained seven around end. Starr hit Dowler for 13 yards. Now there was only 3:57 left.

Anderson moved to his left on what appeared to be an option pass but Jethro Pugh was there and the Dallas [illegible] slammed him down for a nine yard loss.

Now it was second down and 19, the ball was back to the Packer 49, and only 3 minutes left to play.

But Starr came back with a pass in the flat to Anderson, and the former Texas Tech All-American rambled for 12 yards.

Now it was third and seven and only 2 minutes were left. Again Starr passed short to Anderson and again Anderson ripped through for the first down.

Only 1:35 remained, but the Packers had a first and 10 at the 30. Now came another key play. Starr flipped a safety valve pass to Mercein. A Cowboy linebacker read the play and slammed into the former Ivy League ace, but Mercein shook loose and bolted for 19 yards down the sidelines.

The ball was at the 11, and there was 71 seconds left on the clock. Mercein darted up the middle for eight yards and 54 seconds were left.

The "electric blanket" installed to guard against frozen fields was overcome by the cold. The field was icy.

Starr handed on to Anderson who fought his way to the [illegible] Again Anderson got the ball. He went nowhere. The Packers were now out of timeouts and almost out of both time and ideas. There were only 13 seconds left. The ball remained on the one.

Starr [illegible] was pondering [illegible] were stumped for something to do," said Starr. A failure on third down would force the field goal team into action, if there was time to get the unit into position.

Starr was going to try it himself behind Kramer. Kramer was having trouble getting leverage. "The field was frozen solid like cement. I dug my right foot in there. I was going to give it my best shot," he said.

Kramer plunged forward and buried his right shoulder into Pugh's midsection. Center Ken Bowman threw a perfect block on middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan. Starr was in with room to spare.

"The whole world loves a gambler," said Lombardi, "as long as he winds."

Raiders Rout Houston 40-7, Face Stern Test At Miami

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Oakland Raiders are the American Football League's 1967 champions after a convincing 40-7 demolition of Houston's Cinderella Oilers. Now it's the Raiders' turn to try on the glass slipper.

Oakland figures to be the underdog when they play Green Bay at the Super Bowl in Miami, Fla., Jan. 14, but the Packers don't scare this club.

"This team has come a long way with confidence," said Oakland coach John Rauch. "And we'll go into the game against Green Bay with confidence."

He'll also bring along Hewritt Dixon and Pete Banaszak, who stole the rushing show from Houston's Hoyle Granger in the title game Sunday.

Dixon pounded out 144 yards in 21 carries including a 69-yard touchdown sprint at the start of the second period that opened things up for the Raiders. Banaszak gained 116 in 15 attempts.

Granger, the AFL's second leading regular-season rusher with 1,194 yards, managed only 14 yards net in 14 carries against the Raiders. "They stopped our running game, and that was the key," said Houston coach Wally Lemm.

George Blanda, the 40-year-old veteran, who was cut loose by the Oilers before the season started, kicked four field goals and accounted for 16 points — both championship game records.

But it was a field goal that Blanda didn't kick that hurt the Oilers most. That was in the final seconds of the first half when an Oakland drive stalled at the Houston 18.

On fourth down, the Raiders lined up for a field goal with quarterback Daryle Lamonica crouching to hold the ball for Blanda. But when Jim Otto snapped it, Laimonica snatched the ball, rolled out to his right and lofted an 18-yard scoring pass to Dave Kocourek.

"That was the icing on the cake," said Rauch. "The play was in our game plan and I almost used it earlier. Probably the best decision I made all day was to wait and use it when we did."

That sent the Raiders into the dressing room with a 17-0 halftime edge and the momentum going their way.

"Our error on that fake field goal was as important as the fumble on the second half kickoff," said Lemm.

That was when Ken. Kerock recovered Zeke Moore's bobble on the Houston 30. Dixon and Banaszak tore through the Oilers line and Lamonica finally plunged in for the score.

The lead stretched to 30-0 before the Oilers scored, and by that time the Raiders were thinking about Miami and the Packers.

"We have a lot of pride on this team," said Lamonica, "And we'll be up for them."

For the Oilers, Sunday's loss ended their rags-to-riches season. They had finished 3-11 and last in the East in 1966 before rebounding to 9-4-1 and the division title this season.

Winning was worth more than $6,000 per man for the Raiders—an AFL title game record. Each losing Oiler received just over $5,000.

TIGERS OPEN DISTRICT SLATE

The varsity Tigers open the district basketball race at Lake View tomorrow. Tipoff is set for 6:15 p.m. in the "B" game, followed by the varsity clash at 8 p.m.

Both Coach Ned Underwood of the varsity and Coach Jerry McLeod of the "B" team pronounced their boys in top shape physically.

The Tigers are solid favorites over the Chiefs. Underwood listed probable starters as Mickey Almond, Tommy Bullard, Drake Snyder, Jerry January and Frankie Grimmett.

Possible starters for the "B" team are Dennis Wolfe, Dennis Carlton, Lee McNair, Wesley Bishop and Ronald Ward.

Hula Bowl Attracts Beban, Hardy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Combining sightseeing with football holiday, players from the Shrine's East-West charity game went to Hawaii or Alabama today to continue their bowl-ing.

Honolulu's Hula Bowl gets the two most valuable players from the East's 16-14 victory over the West in the Shrine game at San Francisco Saturday. They again [illegible]

All-American Gary Beban of UCLA will quarterback the South in the Hula Bowl, where All-America end Kevin Hardy of Notre Dame will try again to play in Beban's backfield, although on the rival North team.

Beban was voted the Shrine game's outstanding defensive player as he completed 17 of 31 passes for 200 yards and both West touchdowns.

Hardy, who continually burst into the West backfield and threw Beban five times for 44 yards lost, was named the outstanding defensive player. He and his defensive mates held the West to minus 26 yards rushing and threw Beban 10 times for 74 yards lost.

They will be accompanied to Honolulu by several Shrine stars.

Half a dozen others will go to Mobile for the annual Senior Bowl. Both games will be played next Saturday.

Hardy was praised highly by his West rivals.

"I have never seen a college lineman with the speed and power of Hardy," said head West coach Ben Martin of the Air Force Academy. "He hits hard and with force." Hardy is 6-5 and 275 and fast for a big man.

Of defeat Martin said, "The pressure was too much for us. They had time to throw the ball and we didn't. We couldn't handle Hardy."

Hardy said, "I think this game settles my mind on profootball. You've got to think about it after a day like this."

A three-sports star, he also was considering baseball.

Beban said, "I would like to find out what I can do in pro football. I don't have a manager and I haven't set a price" (on himself).

SEMINOLES, NITTANY LIONS IN 17-17 TIE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Monday morning quarterbacks will second guess Coach Bill Peterson of Florida State for a long time because he went for the 17-17 tie with Penn State in the Gator Bowl game Saturday.

Peterson defended his choice doggedly, and his Seminole players backed him up. They felt the choice was tie or lose when Grant Guthrie booted a 25-yard field goal 15 seconds before the final gun.

But it was only the night before the game that Peterson, in a casual conversation, said he'd never go for a tie in a bowl game.

What changed his mind?

"The way our kids came back," he explained. "That was the whole thing that influenced my thinking. I didn't want to see that comeback wasted."

Although FSU had marched from its 31 to the Penn State eight in the closing three minutes, two passes had failed and it was fourth down with five yards to go.

"We had three chances and hadn't made it," Peterson said. "The way I feel about it is that we tied the game instead of losing it."

While much of the postgame talk centered around Peterson's decision to kick the field goal and Penn State coach Joe Paterno's decision to run on fourth down with a yard to go at his 15, the long range view focuses on the contrast between the two halves of the game.

"They threw a lot of different stuff at us and we didn't succeed very well in making adjustments until halftime," Peterson said.

Penn State gained 135 yards running and 69 passing in the first half and led 17-0 on touchdown passes from Tom Sherman to Kwalick and split end Jack Curry plus Sherman's 27-yard field goal.

In the second half, Penn State gained 37 yards rushing and failed to complete a pass.

Proof of FSU's offensive adjustments was apparent in the flock of records set by Hammond and Sellers. Hammond threw 53 times, completed 37 for 362 yards—all records. Sellers caught 14, a record, for 145 yards.

Sellers took a 20-yard Hammond toss for the first touchdown and Hammond sneaked across for the second.

"I blew it," Paterno said of his decision to go for it from the Penn State 15. "We weren't stopped all year on the quarterback sneak, but if I had this one to do over I'd punt."

Let Us
Give Thanks

We should express our thanks today for many things. Certainly, we should be thankful that we live in the world's most prosperous nation, remembering, too, the plentiful blessings of God's own world that are ours whether or not we prosper as individuals.

Aggies, Froggies Win Tournaments

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference basketball free-for-all starts this week. The going will be hot and [illegible]

[illegible] ment of defeat in two of every three intersectional games.

Actually the week that just closed was the best in intersectional play as the league member won seven and lost 10.

But even had it run longer there was little chance of ever catching up. The record was 22 victories against 45 defeats with just one game left. That is Texas A&M against Centenary Jan. 29. Centenary is the only team not able to beat a Southwest Conference team. It had three chances.

Texas A&M, the pre-season favorite, and Southern Methodist, which hadn't won a game, were the most impressive last week. The Aggies won the American Legion tournament at Seattle, beating Seattle 80-72 and San Francisco, 77-75.

Southern Methodist broke its losing streak by beating one of the nation's highly ranked teams, Indiana, 91-84. It also had looked good while losing to California 88-84. Those were the only unbeaten teams coming to the All-Sports Tournament at Dallas.

So, while SMU has a 1-8 record in nonconference play, it now seems ready to make its move as the conference race opens.

The Aggies pulled into a tie with Baylor for the season lead, each boasting a 6-3 record.

Baylor broke even in the Mobile Classic, Rice did the same in Buffalo's Queen City Tournament and Texas Christian became the second conference member of the week to score a shutout in a tournament. The Christians licked Connecticut 72-65 and Massachusetts 63-56 in the Holiday Classic at Storrs, Conn.

Texas failed to register in the Far West Classic at Portland, losing all three games, and Arkansas had the same misfortune [illegible]

In the only single game, Texas Tech was edged 76-71 by Washington.

The conference campaign opens Wednesday night with all the team in action. Baylor will be at Southern Methodist, Rice at Texas Christian, Texas A&M at Arkansas and Texas at Texas Tech.

The second round comes Saturday night with Tech at Baylor, Arkansas at Rice, Southern Methodist at Texas and Texas Christian at Texas A&M.

Tigers Have Best Record

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southland Conference, which hasn't done very well against the outsiders, starts working each other over this week.

This means the drive for the championship begins Saturday night with Arkansas State and Texas at Arlington tangling at Arlington and Lamar Tech at Abilene Christian.

Trinity, the other member, which also has the best season record, doesn't have conference competition. The Tigers, 6-3, for the season, take on Sam Houston State at Huntsville Tuesday night, Southeastern Oklahoma at San Antonio Thursday night and Austin College at Sherman Saturday night.

Arkansas State hosts Southwest Missouri Tuesday, Texas at Arlington is at East Texas State and Lamar Tech engage Pan American Wednesday night.

For the season the league has won 15 games against outside opposition and lost 35 games.

HOW LONG AN ODESSEY?

Good Business Likely To Continue In Texas For '68

AUSTIN (AP) — Business in Texas is good and will be good, maybe too good and expanding too fast, a University of Texas researcher said Saturday.

Dr. John Stockton, director of the Bureau of Business Research at the university, said Texas' index of business activity rose 2 per cent from October to November, upholding the general trend of higher business volumes throughout the year.

Except for a sharp September decline after an unusually large increase in August, business has climbed throughout the first 11 months of 1967, Stockton said, averaging 11 per cent above a year ago. The November 1967 index was 16 per cent above the same month a year ago.

Record building figures were the primary reason for the 1967 business increase, he said. Looking ahead to the end of the year and 1968, he added: "The complete picture of business in 1967 cannot be drawn until the data for all 12 months are available, but on the basis of the first 11 months it appears that 1967 will have been a very good year."

However, he warned, "the events of recent months raise the threat of an inflationary expansion in coming months. An upward trend appears on all consumer-price charts.

"It seems reasonable to conclude that if a tax increase is not voted soon, the result will be a continued availability of a large amount of purchasing power to consumers. Wages are rising faster than increases in productivity and are thus contributing to the pressures toward still higher prices. The devaluation of the British pound has added still more uncertainties and raises further fears of inflation.

"Business in Texas seemingly will continue to be good the greatest worry is that it may expand too fast."

Although all types of business were on the upswing the bureau said, "The strongest rise in activity for all major phases of business has been in the construction industry." Building activity in 1967 has exceeded all previous years, Stockton said, with November building permits 14 per cent above those for October and the first 11 months of 1967 showing an 18 per cent gain from the same period in 1966.

Total production of agricultural commodities is expected to about equal that of 1966, the bureau said, but "reduced prices received by farmers will result in a reduced gross income to farmers." Prices received by farmers so far this year averaged 8 per cent below 1966, while prices paid by farmers averaged 34 per cent higher.

The report reviewed in some detail the devastating effects of hurricane Beulah on the Texas citrus - fruit crop."

It said the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates Texas grapefruit production to be 1.7 million boxes this year, compared to 5.6 million boxes last year and a 1961-65 average of 1,814,000 boxes. However, the bureau said, the full effect of the reduced crop apparently has not been felt for this year's shipments of both oranges and grapefruit, through November, are ahead of last year's pace. The bureau said the Texas Citrus Mutual newsletter estimates supplies of grapefruit are insufficient to last through Febuary at the average shipping rate of 100 cars per week. (A carload equals 1,000 cartons.) Twenty-six per cent of the estimated crop has been shipped to date, the bureau said, compared to 11 per cent a year ago and, according to the Texas Valley Citrus Committee, only 348 carloads of early oranges remain.

The bureau said retail sales in Texas in November increased 6 per cent over October, and for the first 11 months were 4 per cent above 1966 data, compared to a 3 per cent increase during that period for the nation.

Industrial activity also increased 6 per cent from October to November and was 8 per cent ahead for the first 11 months of 1967, compared to 1966. "Industrial activity in Texas has shown greater gains over a year ago than has been registered for the country as a whole," Stockton said, adding that "Texas manufacturing industry is making substantial contribution to the production of war materials, a factor which could account for some of the divergence in the trends of the two series.

"The increased demand for Texas oil resulting from the war in the middle east has increased production of both crude and refinery runs, with the result that the first 11 months of the year have been 7 per cent ahead of the same period last year for crude oil and 4 per cent for runs to stills."

Business activity indexes for Texas cities, showing, in order, per cent gains or losses from October to November 1967 and for the first 11 months of 1967 compared to the first 11 months of 1966:

Abilene 7, -4; Amarillo 5, 2; Austin 17, 14; Beaumont -1, 5; Corpus Christi 5, 5; Corsicana 14, 9; Dallas -1, 15; El Paso -5, 8; Fort Worth 5, 9; Galveston -3, 5; Houston -2, 12; Lubbock -9, 1; Port Arthur -5, change less than one-half of 1 per cent; San Angelo -4, 3; San Antonio 10, 6; Texarkana 7, 20; Tyler 5, 4; Waco 1, 6 and Wichita Falls 2, -2.

Mother Names Five New Babies

By JAMES A. BLAIKIE
Associated Press Writer

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Mrs. Roger Braham named her two-day-old quintuplets today—Annabel, Caroline, Faith, Geoffrey and Richard—then got up from her bed for the first time since their birth, took a shower and had her hair set by nurses.

Dr. Grantley Stable, who slept at the hospital Sunday night in case of complications, reported the babies in satisfactory condition and the mother doing well.

The children's father, a 34-year-old country lawyer who with his wife, Patricia, 36, have four other children including a set of twins, said she "is very good" and "we are both thrilled." Braham spent most of Sunday sipping champagne and chain-smoking cigarettes.

No one except the hospital staff is being allowed to see the quints, and officials said it would be several days before outsiders could visit them. Only close relatives are permitted to enter Mrs. Braham's room for the next few days.

The quints had their first meal Sunday—mixture of water and glucose, before going on milk today from the mother's "bank" at Brisbane Women's Hospital.

Although the babies are said to weigh about three pounds each, they will not be put on scales until Wednesday because their doctors believe too much movement is bad for them. For the next 10 days the quints will stay in special cribs, kept at 97 degrees.

Mrs. Braham took no fertility drugs before the first of the five were born 6:12 a.m. Saturday, six weeks premature. The first was Annabel Dorothy, then Richard Gibson, Faith Elizabeth, Caroline Jean and Geoffrey Roger.

If there are no complications, Dr. Stable said, the quints may leave the hospital in six to eight weeks.

Prayers For Peace From President

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated ress Writer

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson marked the arrival of 1968 with prayers for peace and the White House said he spent a quiet New Year's Eve with his wife and close friends.

He had no special New Year's Day statement. But he joined in a prayer for peace at Sunday yearend services in a small Roman Catholic Church near the ranch.

The president took a brief holiday from yearend business that he has taken with him to his ranch.

He started the new year, though, by summoning members of the White House press to the ranch for a morning meeting.

Aides said he might have some announcement to make on the domestic scene.

The only bill the President signed as 1967 rolled away sounded a happy note. It ended a 15 per cent duty on the import of bagpipes and parts into America.

Except for the press gathering, the Texas White House listed no official New Year's Day activities for the chief executive, who has spent the past six days at his ranch. He is expected to stay in Texas perhaps another two weeks.

While Johnson remained at home, his two daughters and their husbands were off welcoming the new year at Red River Lodge, a winter ski resort in northern New Mexico. Luci and Patrick Nugent started their skiing holiday several days ago and were joined by newlyweds Lynda and Marine Capt. Charles Robb on Saturday.

The young Nugents left their 6-month-old son, Patrick Lyndon, at the ranch with the grandparents and his nurse.

But, the baby, who is teething, developed a cold and some temperature. Nurse Mary Gfeller took him the 65 miles to Austin to see his pediatrician Saturday. Little Lyn was better the next day, but it was decided he and the nurse should stay in the Nugents' Austin home instead of traveling back to the ranch.

The year ended with gray, chill weather here. The President drove in the rain to 9 a.m. Sunday Mass at St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church in nearby Stonewall. He brought along a packet of Christmas gifts for the pastor, the Rev. Wunibald W. Schneider.

Father Schneider called attention to the President's presence in the church and offered prayers for the chief executive, who he said "loves peace as well as you and I."

Then, he prayed for peace and expressed the hope that "our President—and all the presidents in the world—will work with the holy father, Pope Paul, for a just and lasting peace."

Top Fuel Consumption

DALLAS (AP) — Texas highway users consumed a record 5.2 billion gallons of motor fuel in 1967, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association estimates. This is 5.5 per cent over the previous year and should bring in $260 million in state tax money.

British Confident

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government will keep trying in 1968 to bring Britain's economy to a level that can insure stability. Government officials express confidence that their formulas will work now that the pound has been devalued; others are not optimistic, and some think the pound must go through the wringer again before 1968 is over.

As a whole, Western Europe is easing up whittling at their defense budgets and trying to reduce frictions with Communist countries.

Russian warships patrol the Mediterranean under a record Soviet defense budget but fear of Soviet aggression has practically vanished in Western Europe. President Charles de Gaulle feels so secure he has withdrawn French forces from the NATO defense system.

Many diplomats suggest that Russia is too preoccupied with the puzzling and threatening activities of her immediate neighbor, Red China, to upset the equilibrium in Europe. American nuclear power is a comforting umbrella.

The Russians already have arranged fleet facilities in the Egyptian ports of Alexandria and Port Said. Other facilities in Mers el Kebir, Algeria, may become available when France turns that port over to Algeria in February.

Greece remains in the grasp of a military dictatorship after the failure of King Constantine's attempted coup. George Papadopoulos, the new prime minister, appears to be in firm control.

In France, De Gaulle's rebuff to NATO, his blocking of Britain's entrance into the Common Market, his condemnation of Israel, plugging for a "free Quebec" and anti-Americanism have brought no serious domestic opposition. Nobody is sending him off to oblivion yet.

There are signs of conflict within the Soviet leadership. A new shakeup which might replace Leonid I. Brezhnev as top man is a bare possibility. Moscow seems likely to continue its aid to Vietnamese Communists and the Arabs, but avoid direct involvement in any conflicts.

Italy will have a general election; another center-left government is expected. The present coalition of Christian Democrats and Socialists claims credit for economic expansion, and recent local elections indicate no major party will gain a parliamentary majority.

Western Germany will be in the midst of campaigning for a 1969 election, and the cracks in the present ruling coalition already are showing.

The Social Democrats may move farther to the left to distinguish themselves from their coalition partners, the Christian Democrats. Business recovery is expected to gain speed. Neighbors will be watching for any revival of nationalism.

Spain looks forward to austerity as a result of devaluation, inflation and the freezing of basic wages and prices. Many persons expect more unrest and demonstrations. Gen. Franco, now 75, may unload some of the burden by naming a chief of government or premier.

Sweden faces increased unemployment and the Social Democratic party, in power since 1936, will be in trouble if local elections again go strongly to opposition parties as they did in 1966.

The ruling Communist leaders in most of the Eastern European countries face increased pressure from liberal elements in their parties. They also worry about the Soviet-Chinese feud which they feel could result in a hardening of Kremlin policies to close the ranks of the shaky Communist alliance.

Charges Filed In Lott Bank Robery

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Federal charges were filed against Wesley Grant, 38, of Houston Sunday in connection with the Dec. 22 robbery of the First State Bank of Lott.

Three men robbed the Lott bank and escaped with $12,000. Lott is near Waco in Central Texas.

U. S. Marshal Bill Black said Grant was arrested Saturday in Big Spring and brought to Abilene Sunday for arrangement.

Grant was remanded to the Taylor County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond set by U.S. Commissioner Gladys Wall at his arraignment here.

Fire Sweeps Through E. Texas Oil Town

VAN, Tex. (AP) — Flames swept through two stores in this old East Texas oil town Saturday night causing an estimated $50,000 damage.

Destroyed by the fire were Hopkin's Hardware and Glenda's Clothing Store.

More than 100 firemen from Lindale, Grand Saline, Canton and Mineola helped Van firefighters battle the blaze.

GROUP BREAKS UP — Jazz pianist Dave Brubeck and the members of his quartet went their separate ways after final performance at Pittsburgh, Pa. Brubeck said the four men are tired of traveling and want to turn to other things. (AP Wirephoto)

OVER MCCARTHY CAMPAIGN

War Critics Disappointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy acknowledged today his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination has disappointed some ardent Vietnam war critics.

But the Minnesota Democrat said he's not gloomy about the prospect of bringing about a change in U.S. war policy through his platform of opposition to President Johnson's Vietnam position.

"Some of the most ardent critics of Vietnam have been disappointed that I haven't been, as they say, more enthusiastic about my position," said McCarthy, adding:

"I don't think one can be enthusiastic about a problem which has such deep moral implications as this problem has. one which . . . has called for such serious thought and attention on the part of the public."

McCarthy said his candidacy has been well received by college students, "especially from the young people who are on the edge of almost complete alienation from politics . . ."

His comments came in a Metromedia Radio News interview pretaped for use today.

Public approval of Johnson's handling of his job was up five percentage points in December —to 46 per cent compared with 41 in November—according to the latest Gallup Poll.

Spurting 8 percentage points from his all-time Gallup Poll low of 38 per cent approval in October, Johnson entered the New Year with just about the same degree of approval the poll showed he had last January. At the time, adults approving of the President's overall actions totaled 47 per cent.

Of those polled in December, 41 per cent disapproved of Johnson's handling of his office and 13 per cent stated no opinion.

Johnson's high point in the Gallup Poll was 80 per cent in January 1964, shortly after he took office.

White House press secretary George Christian said meanwhile that if Johnson seeks reelection next year, he'll campaign as usual—regardless of any concern about security and demonstrators.

But he indicated that in such a campaign, Johnson's travel plans might not always be announced in advance—a policy he said already is in effect.

Christian, in San Antonio, Tex., appeared on CBS television's "Face the Nation."

John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, announced in Washington the creation of a party youth advisory council to be headed by William C. Kerr of Oklahoma.

Serving as vice chairman under Kerr, son of the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., will be Spencer Oliver of Bowie, Md., president of Young Democratic Clubs of America.

Dr. Grantley Stable, who slept at the hospital Sunday night in case of complications, reported the babies in satisfactory condition and the mother doing well.

The children's father, a 34-year-old country lawyer who with his wife, Patricia, 26, have four other children including a set of twins, said she "is very good" and "we are both thrilled." Braham spent most of Sunday sipping champagne and chain-smoking cigarettes.

No one except the hospital staff is being allowed to see the quints, and officials said it would be several days before outsiders could visit them. Only close relatives are permitted to enter Mrs. Braham's room for the next few days.

The quints had their first meal Sunday—mixture of water and glucose, before going on milk today from the mother's "bank" at Brisbane Women's Hospital.

Although the babies are said to weigh about three pounds each, they will not be put on scales until Wednesday because their doctors believe too much movement is bad for them. For the next 10 days the quints will stay in special cribs, kept at 97 degrees.

Mrs. Braham took no fertility drugs before the first of the five were born 5:12 a.m. Saturday, six weeks premature. The first was Annabel Dorothy, then Richard Gibson, Faith Elizabeth, Caroline Jean and Geoffrey Roger.

If there are no complications, Dr. Stable said, the quints may leave the hospital in six to eight weeks.

Prayers For Peace From President

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated ress Writer

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson marked the arrival of 1968 with prayers for peace and the White House said he spent a quiet New Year's Eve with his wife and close friends.

He had no special New Year's Day statement. But he joined in a prayer for peace at Sunday yearend services in a small Roman Catholic Church near the ranch.

The president took a brief holiday from yearend business that he has taken with him to his ranch.

He started the new year, though, by summoning members of the White House press to the ranch for a morning meeting.

Aides said he might have some announcement to make on the domestic scene.

The only bill the President signed as 1967 rolled away sounded a happy note. It ended a 15 per cent duty on the import of bagpipes and parts into America.

Except for the press gathering, the Texas White House listed no official New Year's Day activities for the chief executive, who has spent the past six days at his ranch. He is expected to stay in Texas perhaps another two weeks.

While Johnson remained at home, his two daughters and their husbands were off welcoming the new year at Red River Lodge, a winter ski resort in northern New Mexico. Luci and Patrick Nugent started their skiing holiday several days ago and were joined by newlyweds Lynda and Marine Capt. Charles Robb on Saturday.

The young Nugents left their 6-month-old son, Patrick Lyndon, at the ranch with the grandparents and his nurse.

But, the baby, who is teething, developed a cold and some temperature. Nurse Mary Gfeller took him the 65 miles to Austin to see his pediatrician Saturday. Little Lyn was better the next day, but it was decided he and the nurse should stay in the Nugents' Austin home instead of traveling back to the ranch.

The year ended with gray, chill weather here. The President drove in the rain to 9 a.m. Sunday Mass at St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church in nearby Stonewall. He brought along a packet of Christmas gifts for the pastor, the Rev. Wunibald W. Schneider.

Father Schneider called attention to the President's presence in the church and offered prayers for the chief executive, who he said "loves peace as well as you and I."

Then, he prayed for peace and expressed the hope that "our President—and all the presidents in the world—will work with the holy father, Pope Paul, for a just and lasting peace."

Top Fuel Consumption

DALLAS (AP) — Texas highway users consumed a record 5.2 billion gallons of motor fuel in 1967, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association estimates. This is 5.5 per cent over the previous year and should bring in $260 million in state tax money.

British Confident

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government will keep trying in 1968 to bring Britain's economy to a level that can insure stability. Government officials express confidence that their formulas will work now that the pound has been devalued; others are not optimistic, and some think the pound must go through the wringer again before 1968 is over.

As a whole, Western Europe is [illegible] their decade budgets [illegible] to reduce frictions with Communist countries.

Russian warships patrol the Mediterranean under a record Soviet defense budget [illegible] of Soviet aggression has practically vanished in Western Europe. President Charles de Gaulle feels so secure he has withdrawn French forces from the NATO defense system.

Many diplomats suggest that Russia is too preoccupied with the puzzling and threatening activities of her immediate neighbor, Red China, to upset the equilibrium in Europe. American nuclear power is a comforting umbrella.

The Russians already have arranged fleet facilities in the Egyptian ports of Alexandria and Port Said. Other facilities in Mers el Kebir, Algeria, may become available when France turns that port over to Algeria in February.

Greece remains in the grasp of a military dictatorship after the failure of King Constantine's attempted coup. George Papadopoulos, the new prime minister, appears to be in firm control.

In France, De Gaulle's rebuff to NATO, his blocking of Britain's entrance into the Common Market, his condemnation of Israel, plugging for a "free Quebec" and anti-Americanism have brought no serious domestic opposition. Nobody is sending him off to oblivion yet.

There are signs of conflict within the Soviet leadership. A new shakeup which might replace Leonid I. Brezhnev as top man is a bare possibility. Moscow seems likely to continue its [illegible] Communist [illegible] the trade about good [illegible] any [illegible]

Italy will have a general election, another center-left government is expected. The present coalition of Christian Democrats and Socialists claims credit for economic expansion, and recent local elections indicate no major party will gain a parliamentary majority.

Western Germany will be in the midst of campaigning for a 1969 election, and the cracks in the present ruling coalition already are showing.

The Social Democrats may move farther to the left to distinguish themselves from their coalition partners, the Christian Democrats. Business recovery is expected to gain speed. Neighbors will be watching for any revival of nationalism.

Spain looks forward to austerity as a result of devaluation, inflation and the freezing of basic wages and prices. Many persons expect more unrest and demonstrations. Gen. Franco, now 75, may unload some of the burden by naming a chief of government or premier.

Sweden faces increased unemployment and the Social Democratic party, in power since 1936, will be in trouble if local elections again go strongly to opposition parties as they did in 1968.

The ruling Communist leaders in most of the Eastern European countries face increased pressure from liberal elements in their parties. They also worry about the Soviet-Chinese feud which they feel could result in a hardening of Kremlin policies to close the ranks of the shaky Communist alliance.

Charges Filed In Lott Bank Robbery

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Federal charges were filed against Wesley Grant, 31, of Houston Sunday in connection with the Dec. 22 robbery of the First State Bank of Lott.

Three men robbed the Lott bank and escaped with $12,000. Lott is near Waco in Central Texas.

U. S. Marshal Bill Black said Grant was arrested Saturday in Big Spring and brought to Abilene Sunday for arrangement.

Grant was remanded to the Taylor County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond set by U.S. Commissioner Gladys Wall at his arraignment here.

Fire Sweeps Through E. Texas Oil Town

VAN, Tex. (AP) — Flames swept through two stores in this old East Texas oil town Saturday night causing an estimated $50,000 damage.

Destroyed by the fire were Hopkin's Hardware and Glenda's Clothing Store.

More than 100 firemen from Lindale, Grand Saline, Canton and Mineola helped Van firefighters battle the blaze.

OVER MCCARTHY CAMPAIGN

War Critics Disappointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy acknowledged today his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination has disappointed some ardent Vietnam war critics.

But the Minnesota Democrat said he's not gloomy about the prospect of bringing about a change in U.S. war policy through his platform of opposition to President Johnson's Vietnam position.

Some of the more ardent critics of Vietnam have been disappointed that it haven't been, as they say, more enthusiastic about my position," said McCarthy, adding:

"I don't think one can be enthusiastic about a problem which has such deep moral implications as this problem has, one which . . . has called for such serious thought and attention on the part of the public."

McCarthy said his candidacy has been well received by college students, "especially from the young people who are on the edge of almost complete alienation from politics . . ."

His comments came in a Metromedia Radio News interview pretaped for use today.

Public approval of Johnson's handling of his job was up five percentage points in December — to 46 per cent compared with 41 in November — according to the latest Gallup Poll.

Spurting 8 percentage points from his all-time Gallup Poll low of 38 per cent approval in October, Johnson entered the New Year with just about the same degree of approval the poll showed he had last January. At the time, adults approving of the President's over-all actions totaled 41 per cent.

Of those polled in December, 41 per cent disapproved of Johnson's handling of his office and 13 per cent stated no opinion.

Johnson's high point in the Gallup Poll was 80 per cent in January 1964, shortly after he took office.

White House press secretary George Christian said meanwhile that if Johnson seeks reelection next year, he'll campaign as usual—regardless of any concern about security and demonstrators.

But he indicated that in such a campaign, Johnson's travel plans might not always be announced in advance—a policy he said already is in effect.

Christian, in San Antonio, Tex., appeared on CBS television's "Face the Nation."

John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, announced in Washington the creation of a party youth advisory council to be headed by William C. Kerr of Oklahoma.

Serving as vice chairman under Kerr, son of the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., will be Spencer Oliver of Bowie, Md., president of Young Democratic Clubs of America.

GM Reorganized In Face Of Industry's Problems

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. faced with a series of problems that plagued the auto industry as a whole in 1967, responded by reorganizing its top management echelon.

James Roche, 60, a statistician with a record of hard work behind him, was named to succeed retiring Frederick Donner as chairman and chief executive officer of the nation's largest industrial firm.

Roche's spot as president and chief operating officer was filled by Edward Cole, 58, who rose from a background in production and engineering to the top of GM's largest division, Chevrolet.

Financial expert George Russell, 62, was named to the newly revived post of vice chairman and was also put at the head of the finance committee, which had been chaired by Donner when he was board chairman.

The first problem to confront the new management team was a possible nationwide strike by the 380,000 GM workers represented by the United Auto Workers Union.

The company and the union successfully negotiated a new contract, patterned after those won by the union at Ford and Chrysler, without a national walkout.

The new contract, it was estimated, would increase the firm's labor costs by roughly six per cent a year over the next three years.

It was only one of many new costs to strike the industry in [illegible]

The government laid down rules aimed at improving the safety of Detroit's products.

Then the major steelmakers announced a boost in the price of cold rolled carbon steel, an essential ingredient in the automobile.

With costs rising and sales lagging behind the pace set in 1965 and 1966, it seemed like a second general price increase would be made on 1968 models.

GM became the first of the major producers to up the price of the new cars a second time. It added a $22 special increase to the price of most of its models to cover the cost of front-seat shoulder harnesses, which became mandatory on all cars Jan. 1.

If these problems seemed to put a heavy burden on GM's executive planners, the new three-man team at the top was prepared for the task.

Roche, who started as a statistician at Cadillac, spent his entire career up to 1960 in GM's luxury car division. After doing stints in personnel, handling labor and employe relations, and public relations, Roche went into sales and became the division's general sales manager. After 33 years at Cadillac, the last three spent as division general manager, Roche in 1960 became head of the distribution staff and two years later was awarded an executive vice presidency.

When he moved up to the presidency in 1965, Roche worked under Donner, whose reign saw the company's net income more than double from 1959 to $1.8 billion in 1966.

Backing up Roche and assuming responsibility for all domestic auto divisions, will be a man who has spent his career in developing the products that have enabled GM to dominate its field.

Edward Cole headed the huge Chevrolet Division and was responsible for the development of the Corvair, the nation's first widely marketed rear engine compact.

A genial and articulate man whose love affairs with cars started when he accidentally ran his father's 1908 Buick into a tree at age 5, Cole got his start at the General Motors Institute.

He was called out by the company to work on a special engineering project at Cadillac, however, and never finished.

Shouldering the financial duties borne by Donner will be [illegible]

His title of vice chairman last was held by Donner's father, Brown from 1937 to 1946.

A reserved man, Russell has been likened in temperament and talent to Donner.

Air Crash Claims Six

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A pilot and five servicemen were killed Sunday when a chartered plane crashed into Lake Pontchartrain about two miles from here.

Poor weather delayed raising the wreckage from 15 feet of water until today.

The pilot was identified as William M. Reid of 3767 South Conway Drive, Mobile, Ala. Identification was established by Federal Aviation Agency pilot's papers found at the crash scene.

Full identification of the servicemen was withheld. They had chartered the plane to fly to New Orleans after missing a commercial flight from Mobile.

The twin-engined Beechcraft was nearing New Orleans International Airport when it disappeared from the radar scope.

Witnesses said the plane blew up when it struck the water.

"All I saw was eight or ten pieces of small debris and a lot of bubbles," one witness said.

The plane had been rented from the Mobile Air Center, a leasing firm.

Christian Says LBJ 'Demanding'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — White House Press Secretary George Christian contends that President Johnson's reputation as a hard man to work for is unearned.

Christian said Sunday, "the President is a demanding man in the sense that he is impatient with inadequacies in government. He is impatient with inadequacies in our society. He is a hard, driving man.

"You do have to run to keep up with his walk."

Christian spoke on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

The press secretary said that if Johnson decides to seek another term he will campaign without regard to any worries about security, dissenters and protestors.

There may be some campaign trips without advance notice, Christian indicated. "Sometimes," he said, "we announce plans in advance; sometimes we don't. I would expect this would continue."

During a discussion of the "credibility gap between the press and President," Christian said that all presidents have had problems since "in this society it is quite the thing to do for your opponents to attempt to discredit the word of the president. It is, in a political sense, a smart thing to do, to discredit your president."

Regarding coverage of Vietnam, Christian labeled inadequate the reporting of contributions made by allied and South Vietnamese troops. He said it was important to cover the entire war and not just the excitement of the war and any deficiencies of some of those running the war.

Rev. Juhan Dies Today At Age 80

SEWANEE, Tenn. (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Frank Alexander Juhan, 80, whose name was linked with the University of the South for more than 50 years, died here Sunday after a short illness.

His service to Sewanee, where he was one of the university's all-time football greats, continued after his retirement in 1956 as bishop of Florida.

Returning here, he served 10 years as director of development and led Sewanee's successful $10 million fund raising campaign. He also was an athletic consultant to the university until his death.

Bishop Juhan, a member of the National Football Hall of Fame, was chairman of the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame and was active in all fields of athletics while a student at Sewanee.

He played center on Sewanee's Southern championship football team of 1909, whose opponents included Princeton, Georgia Tech, Louisiana State, Auburn and Vanderbilt.

He also participated in baseball, track and boxing and was the Southern intercollegiate boxing champion in 1908 and 1909.

At Sewanee he helped coach baseball, track and boxing and was line coach of the 1913 Sewanee football team.

Born in Macon, Ga., was consecrated bishop of Florida in 1924, becoming at the age of 37 the youngest member of the Episcopal House of Bishops.

Elected to Sewanee's board of trustees in 1923, Bishop Juhan became a member of the university's board of regents in 1934 and then served as chancellor from 1944-50.

When he retired as bishop of Florida in 1956, he was the senior active bishop of the Episcopal Church in the nation.

Maid Of Cotton To Be Neutral

DALLAS (AP) — The new Maid of Cotton—Susan Holder of Jackson, Miss.—isn't going to show any favoritism when she watches Texas A&M and Alabama battle in the Cotton Bowl today.

"I think I'll just root for the team that wins," the pretty brunette said on her arrival in Dallas Sunday.

Her appearance in connection with the Cotton Bowl festivities is her first official appearance since she was selected Maid of Cotton from a field of 19 finalists at Memphis, Tenn., Friday night.

Miss Holder, a sophomore at Mississippi State College for Women, will publicize the cotton industry during her reign.

Children's Home Burns

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — Fire in a cottage at the Goodland Presbyterian Children's Home southwest of Hugo on New Year's Eve caused an estimated $35,000 damage, but no children were injured.

Firemen from this southeastern Oklahoma town fought the blaze in temperatures hovering near 20 degrees.

A former resident of the home, Wanda Wallace, discovered the building aflame about 10:15 p.m. as she entered. The cottage normally houses 12 to 15 children from 6 to 18 years old, but many were gone for the holidays and others were attending a New Year's watch party.

Six children in the house escaped unharmed, one 6-year-old who was soundly asleep being carried by an older boy.

Supt. Games Gabbie said the $35,000 estimate of damage was conservative. He said it cost $50,000 to build in 1961.

Goodland, founded in 1848, is operated by the Oklahoma synod of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., and is the oldest continuously operated Protestant children's home in the nation.

Expert Says '68 Riots Unavoidable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rioting in 1968 is already woven into the fabric of American society and probably can't be avoided, an employment expert has told the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

"We ought to be thinking [illegible] much of anything that anybody can do about the riots of 1968, they are pretty much already built in," said Garth L. Mangum, an economics professor at George Washington University.

His testimony, at a closed commission session, was released by the panel over the weekend.

Mangum said outside of jobs subsidized by the government through the Neighborhood Youth Corps or the Civil Service there is no evidence "there has been one more person employed than there would otherwise have been."

"We have gone through a long series of gimmickry programs," he said, "because of our impatience for instant success" in creating summer jobs to keep the lid on slum neighborhoods."

Another witness, Paul Bullock of the University of California, declared: "A truly frightening fact confronts us in the low-income ghetto of the urban North: The civil rights measures at both federal and state levels have had no impact whatsoever and have been almost totally irrelevant."

It is obvious, Bullock asserted, "that racial discrimination is the ultimate source of our difficulties."

Eli Ginzburg, economics professor at Columbia University, said there are fewer jobs available than the number of people looking for work—despite some arguments to the contrary. This has resulted in the raising of artificial employment standards by all employers including the government, he said, and automatically hurt chances for increasing Negro employment.

The commission also released a summary of a report by Arthur Ross, commissioner of labor statistics, detailing labor conditions in the nation's 20 largest metropolitan areas.

Ross said statistics show it is twice as hard for nonwhites to find work as whites; 15 of the large urban areas account for a third of total U.S. employment and 40 per cent of total nonwhite joblessness; nonwhites make up 14 per cent of the 25.15 million civilian workers in the 15 areas but represent 27 per cent of the unemployed.

[illegible] sion was set up after last summer's riots and asked to find causes and suggest cures for civil disorders. Its final report is expected no later than March 1.

Fast-Moving Thief Escapes With Furs

DALLAS (AP) — A fast moving burglar moved faster than the police as he looted the Neiman-Marcus North park store of $16,000 worth of furs Sunday.

An investigator said the thief smashed a south window and walked into the store's showroom. When he pried open one of the two doors he set off an alarm. It then took him about eight seconds to pry open the inner door and set off a second alarm. He then scooped up 17 furs and made his escape.

Officers arrived on the scene six minutes after the first alarm was sounded. In the storeroom they found a pipe wrench, used to pry open the doors, but no suspect.

Trumans Brave Cold To Greet Guests

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman, despite 5-degree cold, were at the airport when their daughter and three of their four grandsons arrived Sunday for a visit.

Margaret Truman Daniel and the boys arrived by jet from New York.

The Trumans greeted their daughter and grandsons, William, 8, Harrison, 4, and Thomas 1½, for several minutes before entering the terminal.

Another grandson, Clifton, 10, is on a New England sking trip.

Mrs. Daniel's husband, Clifton Daniel, is managing editor of the New York Times. He is expected at the Truman Home in nearby Independence, Mo., later this week.

More Tension In Mid-East Looms

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Chances of genuine peace between the Arabs and Israel remain the coming year. The Middle East will be Added to the June conflict, this year witnessed one civil war, one coup d'etat, one armed rebellion and numerous crises, and losing in the end.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's Egyptian troops withdrew from Yemen, but the civil war they left behind smolders on.

In neighboring South Arabia, a savage terrorist rebellion against Britain's presence brought independence to the primitive land now called South Yemen. The new government is dedicated to exporting its revolution to the rest of Arabia and the Persian Gulf.

This could bring non-Arab Iran off the sidelines and into direct confrontation with the Arab world. The shah has let it be known that Iran will intervene if the Gulf's security is menaced.

Off the Arab coast, Cyprus this fall threatened to explode into war between the NATO allies Greece and Turkey. But an agreement by Greece to withdraw its 12,000 troops from the Mediterranean island appears to have pulled the fuse from the powder keg.

The overriding issue for 1968 remains the Arab-Israeli crisis. Its victims are the refugees who fled in panic last June, and who desolate "temporary" camps in all likelihood will continue to that may become permanent sweat, shiver and despair in the homes for the hopeless.
