Tens Of Thousands Drawn To Highways Where 302 Meet Untimely End In Crashes

(By The Associated Press)

At least 428 persons died violently in the United States during the Labor day weekend.

As in previous years, motor traffic again was the chief cause of accidental deaths. Fair weather and the double holiday drew motorists to the highways by the tens of thousands.

302 Traffic Deaths

A survey by the Associated Press showed 302 auto traffic deaths in 44 states. There were 271 during the corresponding period last year.

Fifty five drownings were reported, and 71 persons died in various other accidents. Airplane crashes caused six deaths in the nation. Three persons were believed to have perished in a plane which fell into Lake Erie near the Canadian shore.

There were 49 deaths in California alone. Thirty-three were attributed to auto accidents. Pennsylvania counted 37 dead, 21 of them motor traffic victims. Twenty-five of Ohio's 30 dead were killed in highway traffic, as were 29 of Michigan's total of 31 deaths.

Texas Lists Ten

There were 25 violent deaths recorded in Illinois, 18 listed as auto fatalities. Fourteen persons were killed on Indiana highways. Minnesota, New Jersey and Texas listed 10 traffic deaths.

New York, the nation's most populous state, listed only nine traffic fatalities and a total death count of 14 from all causes.

Power Action Is Expected

(By Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. — Attorneys for the TVA, PWA and the power commission predicted today that the supreme court will settle two major points of President Roosevelt's power program in the term beginning October 4.

The questions, which have been fought back and forth between the federal government and private utilities for four years, are:

1. May the Tennessee valley authority sell power in unrestricted competition with private companies?

2. May the government help municipalities finance power plants to operate in competition with private companies?

Would Clear Way

Government victories in the supreme court, some federal officials said, would clear the way basically for any activity in the power field the federal or state governments should desire. After that, they said, it would just be a question of how far the governments chose to go.

The legal warfare may be renewed today in Philadelphia, where the federal power commission has been ordered to establish the worth of its investigation of service charges made by subsidiaries of the Associated Gas group.

Piracy Parley Scheduled In Switzerland

Russia Protests To Italy On Torpedo Incidents But Sharp Rebuff Given By Fascists

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 7—Great Britain and France decided today that their navies were strong enough to stop "Mediterranean piracy" without any help, and determined to go ahead with a conference on the matter with or without Italy's participation.

The decision to go ahead with a Mediterranean "anti-piracy" conference in Switzerland Friday was disclosed authoritatively after Soviet Russia had protested to Italy—and been rebuffed angrily — on charges that Italian "pirate" submarines were responsible for the sinking of two Soviet freighters in the sealanes off Spain.

Situation Unchanged

Informed British sources made it plain that the Italian-Soviet trouble "does not change the situation at all." This view apparently was communicated quickly to Italy.

The feeling here was that Italy would play into Russia's hands if she stayed away from the conference. These are designed to find a way to stop mysterious attacks, some of them by unidentified submarines, on the shipping of many nations.

However, whether Italy comes to the conference or not, both British and French authorities felt that their respective fleets were powerful enough to take steps to stop the "piracy" in the Mediterranean.

Intend To Do So

Moreover, they intend to do so.

In one high diplomatic quarter regret was expressed that the Soviet union, by its protest to Italy, should have "rather poisoned" the atmosphere on the eve of important international discussions.

The same persons, however, said they were not surprised at Moscow's action.

One reason why Italy may decide it is worth her while to be at the conference is that England and France are reported planning behind-the-scenes talks on some form of recognition of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia. Non-recognition of that conquest has kept Italy away from Geneva for almost two years.

Latest Neutrality Scheme

Friday's conference of powers affected by a long list of submarine and other naval outrages against merchant ships was the latest Anglo-French scheme to keep the nearly 14-months-old Spanish war out of the rest of Europe and the rest of Europe out of Spain.

Britain, perhaps the most grievously offended of the several nations hit by the "piratical" attacks, met the tense diplomatic situation with a new incident on her hands—capture of the British steamer Burlington by a Spanish insurgent cruiser.

The cruiser commandeered the tanker off Palermo, Sicily, yesterday, and escorted her to the insurgent naval base at Palma, Mallorca, where her cargo of 7,700 tons of Russian oil, consigned to the Spanish government, was confiscated.

Man Admits Causing Death Of Two Children But They Are Later Found To Be Alive

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7—After a man had told police that he caused their deaths, Helen Whebley, 6, and her brother Frank, jr., 3, missing for more than 24 hours, were found alive today near their home by their uncle, William Dillon.

The children were unharmed, but were unable immediately to explain where they had been since 9 a. m. yesterday.

When the children were reported missing last night police picked up a man who gave his name as Philip Krho. He was questioned throughout the night and today Mayor S. Davis Wilson announced that the man had told him and police officers that he caused their death in Fairmont park. Mayor Wilson further said the man had told different stories as to what he did with the children's bodies.

An extensive police search was started and while this was in progress the children were found.

The children seemed unconcerned when their uncle met them. They told hi they had been left on the corner by soeone who brought them there in an automobile.

Mayor Wilson took a person interest in the case after the body of Nancy Glenn, 5, was found in a mud hole in North Philadelphia last night. The cause of her death has not yet been determined, but on the theory that she had been murdered Mayor Wilson offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension and conviction of any person who may have been involved in her death.

Shanghai Battle Roars At Increasing Tempo

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7—Roaring flames across all northwestern Shanghai lighted the path tonight of a fierce Japanese effort to batter down the Chinese resistance that has brought their Shanghai offensive to a standstill.

Naval and heavy artillery guns roared in the Yangtzepoo, Chapei, Kiangwan and North Station districts, laying down blankets of shell fire in advance of tremendous Japanese sunset attacks on the Chinese front lines.

Building In Ruins

Fires spread across the whole area. The Commercial Press building, rebuilt after the 1932 Sino-Japanese hostilities, was reduced to ashes again after it was struck by three Japanese bombs.

With the peril to American and other foreign residents drawing steadily closer from the fighting ringing the international settlement, the American Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai protested against President Roosevelt's warning that United States citizens remain in China at their own risk.

The note, addressed to Secretary of Stat Cordell Hull, expressed "resentment" of American missionaries and business men and urged greater protection of them and their interests.

Marines On Way

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that the United States transport Chaumont will assist in further evacuation of American civilian and naval families from the Shanghai war area. The Chaumont is due here Sept. 20 with 1,200 marine reinforcements.

The Chaumont is being convoyed by the United States light cruiser Marblehead. Although later disposition of the Marblehead was not announced, it was believed she would remain in Shanghai as part of the American protective fleet.

The United States submarine tender Canopus will remove American refugees from Tsingtao Sept. 23 and the destroyer tender Black Hawk will evacuate naval families from Cheefoo Sept. 30.

Offensive Is Balked

On the north new outbursts of firing on the western edge of Tientsin, indicating that regular Chinese troops or Chinese irregulars still are active in the Japanese-dominated area, apparently balked a

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., Sept. 7 (AP) — The telephone rang as C. E. Exum and several other volunteer firemen were lying on the floor of the smoke-filled living room of Exum's home fighting a blaze.

Exum crawled to the phone. Here is what he heard:

"This is Frank Collins at the fire station (who notifies volunteer firemen when an alarm is received). Go to box No. 121. There is a fire there."

Exum hung up in disgust. Box 121 is in front of his house.

Hitler Sounds Proclamation

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 7—Adolf Hitler stressed nazi Germany's solidarity with both Japan and Italy today — against "communist confusion" in east and west.

His annual proclamation, read to the nazi congress by Adolf Wagner, Bavarian nazi leader, also made an emphatic reiteration of Germany's demand for return of her war-lost colonies, and called the attitude of other powers toward this demand "incomprehensible."

Are Bound Together

Italy, Japan and Germany are bound together in a community of interest, he said, for all three are committeed to "a defense of world civilization against attacks which break out today in Spain; tomorrow in the Orient; perhaps the day after tomorrow, somewhere else."

He added:

"The natural community of interests between national socialist Germany and fascist Italy has in recent months shown itself more and more an element in defense of Europe against chaotic imbecility.

"Our (anti-communist) agreement with Japan serves the same fundamental mission—to stand together in defense of world civilization."

Negro Congressman Plans To Visit In South, Southwest

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP) — Representative Arthur W. Mitchell of Chicago, only negro congressman, has announced he will leave Washington September 14 on a tour of southern and southwestern states "to get a close-up view of what progress has been made toward good will between the white and colored races."

Mitchell likened his prospective tour to President Roosevelt's "good neighbor trip" to South America last year.

After touring the southeast he will swing to Texas for stops at Marshall and Sherman.

Talk Of Third Party Again Being Aired

Greater Voice In Government For American Laborer Seen In Forecasts Of Speaker

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7—Labor day oratory, hailing the American workman's economic gains, echoed today a keynote of a greater voice in government for him in the future.

Donald R. Richberg, former NRA administrator, told a Duluth, Minn., audience that labor was on the way to control of the government.

Labor On March

"Labor is on the march in America," he said. "Not to a control of the government in the interest of any one class of people, but to the control of government and industry in the interest of all the people."

Talk of a realignment of political parties in 1940 also was revived in the speechmaking to labor's warring forces — greater in number than ever before.

Governor Philip La Follette of Wisconsin, speaking at Omaha, said this realignment already has begun.

Realignment Started

"The development will continue until reactionaries are in one camp and the progressives in another," he said. "By next year in many states and by 1940 in the nation, the old guard of both parties will be on one side and the progressives on the other."

La Follette is titular head of Wisconsin's progressive party. Some have speculated that it might be the nucleus for a national labor party in 1940, perhaps with the governor's brother, Senator Robert M. La Follette, as its candidate for president.

John L. Lewis, stocky, militant leader of the CIO, largely avoided politics in speeches at Pittsburgh and Leechburg, Penn., but he told a cheering throng that for the welfare of the country as a whole labor must become strong enough to "take its proper place at the council tables of industry and of the nation."

Called Largest Gathering

Philip Murray, leader of the CIO's campaign to organize the steel industry, estimated 250,000 heard Lewis' Pittsburgh speech. He said this was the country's largest Labor day gathering.

Lewis hailed the past year as one of great achievement by labor and his CIO. His group claims a membership of 3,718,000 and the American Federation of Labor one of 3,600,000.

While CIO and other speakers predicted greater assertion of labor's political power, William Green, A. F. of L. president, reaffirmed at Dallas, Tex., the federation's long-standing non-partisan policy. He recognized talk of a new labor party, but said:

Nothing has occurred thus far which would cause the American Federation of Labor to change its policy."

Rules Concerning Racing Meet In Lubbock Are Announced

Pamphlets detailing rules under which the six-day race meet at Panhandle-South Plains fair will be operated here Sept. 27 to Oct. 2 were mailed this morning to more than 175 stable owners in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado, according to information given by fair association officials.

The rules provide that no race will be shorter than one-quarter mile nor longer than one and one-quarter miles, that five or more races will be run each of six days, and that purses will be $50 to $125. Probabilities are, association officials said, that some of the feature events on "big" days will carry even larger purses. Total of prizes will approximate $3,000.

Regulations are rigid in giving the association control over the meet. Tht first rule specifies that rules of the Texas racing commission shal lapply at all times; that all those participating in the meet in any capacity must be governed by rules of the association; and that the association is the sole and final judge of whether a race is satisfactory.

Aged, Needy Man Too Proud To Seek Charity; Garner And Connally Go To His Rescue

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. — Around a picture received by Senator Tom Connally of Texas is a story of an 81-year-old Seattle, Wash., relief worker who was once assistant Texas secretary of state and a justice of the peace at Waco.

The picture is of Dawson A. Wolker, who, penniless at 79, refsed to accept charity. Because they admired his perseverence, Connally and Vice-President John N. Garner helped him get his present job with the Works Progress administration.

As a friend of the Texas senator, Dawson autographed and sent the picture.

"I've known Dawson for 50 years," said Connally. "He was once a traveling salesman in Texas, and used to make it down by Uvalde once in a while and play poker with John Garner. He was assistant secretary of state for a while and did well for a while as justice of the peace at Waco."

Dawson lost his savings in 1929. Two years ago, when a congressional party was en route to the Philippine islands, Dawson called upon Connally in Seattle.

"He was nearly destitute," the senator said, "but proudly told me he was not on relief and did not intend to go on relief."

The aged man had called merely to renew their old acquaintance.

"I knew he had long ago known Garner," continued Connally. "He at first refused to go

Seasonal Increase For Law Violations Noted

Civil Docket To Be Heavy

Forty contested civil cases exclusive of divorce matters, comprising one of the heaviest dockets ever to be confronted by a term of district court here, were made by Judge E. L. Pitts in 99th district court this morning as he called his appearance docket.

Then he began immediately the disposition of the docket, calling a contested divorce case for trial. Three civil cases Thursday, three Friday and one Saturday, all nonjury matters, are set for this week.

Motion To Be Heard

In addition, he set hearing for Friday on a motion involving responsibility for costs in the suit brought by M. C. Mattilar and husband, negroes, against Concordia Fire Insurance company seeking collection of an insurance policy on a small house destroyed by fire more than two years ago. Trial of the case on its merits is set for the week of Sept. 27.

In the agregate, the docket calls for the trial of an average of more

Seasonal increase of law infractions is being felt by peace officers, who this morning were investigating a theft and two burglaries and were holding two men who had been charged with burglary and had not posted bonds of $1,000 each set by S. E. McMillan, justice of peace.

A burglar who entered the Good Eats cafe at 1512 Avenue H through a window took five and one-half cartons of cigarets and two boxes of cigars between 11 o'clock Monday night and 3 o'clock this morning, police were informed. Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, made fingerprints.

Charge To Be Filed

A charge was to be filed today against a man arrested Monday in possession of plumbing pipes assertedly taken from Montgomery Ward & Co. Hugh S. Anderson, assistant county attorney, was preparing a complaint.

A fight at an open-air dancing pavilion Monday night resulted in a charge of simple assault against one man in the justice court of Walter Davies, and a complaint of disturbance against another in the court of McMillan, who this morning assessed fine of $50 and costs.

Two Are Charged

John Zeibeard and William Hildebrand were charged with violation of state liquor laws in complaints prepared by Hugh Anderson.

Boyer Lifts Veil Of Mystery Surrounding Work Of Garbo

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 7. — Every time Greta Garbo, whom folks want to know more about, gets a new leading man, he is suddenly stricken with profound reticence about a certain subject — Garbo.

Robert Taylor was the most recent thus afflicted. There were orders to keep mum.

Those who reap the box-office dollars considered it good business if the aura of wystery be carefully preserved around a woman about whom nothing more personal than the size of her shoes was public knowledge.

Charles Boyer broke precedent today by talking about Garbo and how it feels to be playing opposite her.

The French actor is working as Napoleon to Miss Garbo's Marie Waleska in "Conquest."

Boyer was inclined to rattle off superlatives.

"Working with Miss Garbo has been my first completely satisfying experience since I came to Hollywood," he said. "I

Governor Has New Pot For His Coffee After Yacht Victory

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7. — Governor Hugh White of Mississippi had a brand new pot for his coffee today.

It was his reward for beating six other southern governors yesterday in a yacht race sailed through a rain that wet their sails and their shirts.

Louisiana was overjoyed at the result: Its governor, Richard W. Leche, is a comer and seems a cinch to win two years from now.

In the race last year at Biloxi, Miss., White defeated Leche by 60 seconds. Yesterday he beat Leche by 35 seconds. Next year, by these figures, White should win again by five or ten seconds. But in 1939, it seems clear to all Louisianans, their governor should win by several seconds.

The other governors yesterday finished in this order: James V. Allred of Texas, one minute behind Leche; Gordon Browning of Tennessee, Bibb Graves of Alabama, E. D. Rivers of Georgia, and A. B. "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky.

Two-Inch Fall Reported For Local Areas

Heavy Losses In Crops Being Feared Unless Dry Weather Follows Recent Downpours

For the third consecutive night, the skies opened Monday and this morning and the already-drenched South Plains was target for heavy sheets of water.

Speculation directed at possible damage to late cotton gave over to frankly-spoken fear that the maturity period would be shortened so much the crop might be destroyed in event of an early frost and that worm infestation, already causing some worry, might spread.

Over Two Inches Here

More than two inches was measured in the gauge at Texas Technological college this morning, bringing the three-day total to 4.09 inches; the experiment sub-station east of the city reported 1.58 inches this morning, a total there of 2.58 inches for the month. At Municipal airport 1.79 inches fell Monday night and, added to other falls of the three-day period, boosted the total to 3.73 inches.

The sky solidly was overcast at 6:30 o'clock this morning, said meteorologists at the port, who described the condition as ten-tenths cloudy. The barometer stood at 29.98 and was falling slowly. Temperature was 65 degrees, the ceiling was 8,000 feet and visibility was 10 miles.

Temperature Drops

Maximum temperature for the night was 80 degrees, minimum 62.

Rains have swept a vast area including that spread out 300 miles northward, said Dean A. H. Leidigh of Texas Technological college, who said he found the downpour had extended into the dust bowl proper, in Oklahoma. That section, being a wheat belt, expected to benefit, however. Conditions there, according to farming authorities, were considered opportune. In some of the wheat belt, however, it was deemed necessary that volunteer wheat would have to be destroyed before preparing land for the next crop.

It is not unusual for Septembers in the Plains section to be rainy seasons, however, the records show. As a rule, there would be no worry where rain in September fall, even though too much rain sometimes means the difference between crop failure and bumper production. Farmers cite experiences where they suffered heavily.

Crops Ruined In 1925

In September of 1925 the crop outlook was eminently favorable. There had been opportune rain throughout the summer. Just as at the beginning of this month, farmers were looking forward to heavy production.

Then rain started falling and, old-timers say, continued every day of the month from Sept. 3 onward. Strength of the sap went into growth of the plant, rather than into production of cotton; then the first hard freeze struck Oct. 27, several days ahead of the average frost date—and a squashy substance in bolls, not marketable cotton, resulted.

It generally is conceded that every day of additional precipitation will take just that much from the cotton outlook and that too many days of rain would mean disaster to the entire crop.

Last September Also Wet

Last September, too, was a bogie, though it did not have the same disastrous effect. A total of 13.93 inches of rain fell, whereas the month's normal is only 2.96 inches and that for the first eight months only 12.27. There were 18 days of rain last September.

The sun broke briefly through the near-solid rifts at 10:08 o'clock this morning and the sky showed some evidence of clearing slightly.

The experiment station said a total of 17.41 inches of rain had fallen this year, 5.14 inches more than the 25-year normal.

Reports Are Received

Fort Worth and Denver railway dispatchers said Silverton had received four inches since Saturday and that rain continued to fall. The area grows much wheat, however, and more advantage than disadvantage probably would result, it was indicated. Quitaque and Turkey received three inches Monday and Tuesday. Dimmitt an inch and a half, Petersburg a quarter-inch, Sterley a half-inch.

Santa Fe Railroad dispatchers said Canyon received one inch, Happy inch and quarter, Tulia inch, Kress three-fourths, Plainview half, Hale Center quarter, Abernathy inch and three quarters, Lockney third, Floydada inch, Bledsoe two and half inches, Lehman one and three fourths, Levelland inch and third, Seagraves eighth, Brownfield inch, Meadow two inches, Ropesville inch and half, Texico inch, Muleshoe three fourths, Sudan inch and half, Amherst two and half, Littlefield two inches, Anton half, Shallowater inch, Crosbyton fifth, Lorenzo half, Idalou inch, and Wilson, Southland, Post, Snyder and Ralls showers.

Mexican Quarter Described By Methodist Minister

Conditions in the Mexican quarter were described by J. L. Hines, Methodist minister, at a meeting of the Asbury Methodist Women's Missionary society at the church Monday afternoon. A business hour was conducted. Fourteen women attended.

HOW LONG CAN A THREE-QUARTER WIFE HOLD HER HUSBAND?

YOU have to work at marriage to make a success of it. Men may be selfish, unsympathetic, but that's the way they're made and you might as well realize it.

When your back aches and your nerves scream, don't take it out on your husband. He can't possibly know how you feel.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Weaver Is Named President Of Lubbock County Bar

Anderson V. Weaver, Jr., young Lubbock attorney who has served as secretary-treasurer of Lubbock County Bar association the last year, is the new president of that organization after having been elected unanimously Monday at the annual meeting in 99th district courtroom. He succeeds W. W. Campbell of the firm, Vickers and Campbell.

Other new officers chosen were Eugene A. Blair, vice president, succeeding W. D. Benson, jr., Benson, secretary-treasurer, succeeding Weaver; and Campbell, sergeant at arms, succeeding Blair.

Weaver, as retiring secretary-treasurer, reported the bar association has a net balance of $111 in the treasury.

J. I. Kilpatrick, chairman of arrangements, announced that the annual banquet of the association will be held at Lubbock hotel the night of Sept. 18 and that invitations to attend have been extended to Governors R. Stewart-Hitt Marriage Of Week-End Is Announced

The marriage of Miss Sammie Marie Hitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hitt, and T. H. Stewart, jr., of Hobbs, N. M., took place Saturday in Amarillo with the Rev. Marshall Rhew, pastor of the Methodist church of Vega and former Lubbock resident, officiating.

Mrs. Stewart, a graduate of Texas Technological college, is home economics teacher in the Quitaque schools. Mr. Stewart, who recently received a master of science degree from Tech college, is head of the science department of Clarendon college.

Record Is Set In Enrollment

A new record was set in first day enrollment in Lubbock public schools when 4,563 students were enrolled Monday, despite inclement weather. Classes were being conducted this morning in all schools.

Superintendent W. B. Irvin, starting his first year here after transferring from Perryton at the resignation of Dr. K. E. Oberholtzer, Monday night estimated that total enrollment for the 1937-38 year would reach 6,400. The previous high came in 1936-37 when a total of 5,929 was reached.

Another Check on Friday

Another check will be made on Friday, Irvin said. It is expected that at least 300 students will be added to school rolls by that time.

Enrollfent of first day last year was 4,351, in 1935, 4,268.

The new plan of having primary and elementary school children report to school and register and then dismissing them worked more satisfactorily than in previous years, according to several school principals.

Largest at Central Ward

The largest increase in enrollment was shown by Central Ward school, with 162 students more than last year. However, since boundary lines have been changed and grades switched the indication was that the increase is general throughout the city rather than in one section of town. In Senior High school 1,104 students enrolled last May, but only 963 reported for duty today. Principal Matthews continued with enrollment after 3 o'clock yesterday and today is continuing today.

Enrollment by schools was as follows: Senior High, 963; Junior High, 1,296; Sanders, 171; Hunt, 378; Central Ward, 441; Dupre, 497; K. Carter, 452; Guadalupe, 101; Northeast ward, 15; Southwest ward, 16; Dunbar, 233.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Taylor of Los Angeles are the guests of Mr. Taylor's mother, Mrs. J. E. Schornick, and his brother, Houston R. Taylor.

Mrs. P. E. Wilson, Mrs. Eugene Knox, Mrs. Lorena Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Chinn and daughter spent the week-end in Austin visiting P. E. Wilson, who is attending the Highway Patrol Training school.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Leonard, of Gainesville, spent last night and part of today in Lubbock en route to their home following a vacation trip which took them to El Paso and other points. Mr. Leonard is editor and publisher of the Gainesville Daily and Weekly Register.

CLASS TO MEET

There will be a business and social meeting of the First Baptist T. E. L. class Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. W. Baze, 1604 Avenue M. Hostesses will be Mesdames Baze, L. C. Montgomery, R. C. Hopping, G. W. Foster and R. E. L. Farmer.

Transportation Facilities Are Sadly Lacking In Yoakum County Field

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of four articles on the Yoakum county oil play, written from material gathered in and around Plains, county seat of Yoakum, by a staff member of Avalanche-Journal papers. The third of the series will appear tomorrow.)

BY HALBERT I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

PLAINS, Yoakum county, Sept. 7—Regardless how brilliant the oil prospects of Yoakum county may be, it is certain that drilling operations will be held to the barest possible minimum until transportation facilities to move production are made available. When that may be is most uncertain, although several developments of the last few days have encouraged operators and lease owners to believe that it may not be long.

Most desired of possible outlets would be the construction of a pipeline to link with one to the Means pool in northern Andrews county, or to either one of three such lines now serving the Hobbs, N. M., fields 45 miles southwest of Plains. Belief in Plains is that the more likely extension will be the pipeline of Humble Pipeline company which now serves the Means pool approximately 40 miles due south of the southern boundary of Yoakum county.

Survey Being Made

Hopes for that extension grow out of the disclosure recently that a crew for Humble is now engaged in completing a survey for such a pipeline. However, there have been no official announcements on that score and the fact that a survey is being made does not mean immediate construction. It merely is a favorable indication.

Humble also has a line to Hobbs, and the gossip is that the company may complete a loop by building in to Yoakum and adjacent areas both from Andrews and from Hobbs. Other lines into Hobbs are those of the Shell company and the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line company formed by the recent merger of the Texas, Sinclair-Prairie, Tide Water Associated and Empire Pipe Line companies.

* * *

PROBABILITIES are that if any extension is built, it will be to the Wasson pool in northern Gaines county immediately south of the Yoakum county line. From there, smaller extensions would provide outlet for Bennett and other producing areas of Yoakum, as well as for Cochran, Hockley and any other counties of South Plains Permian basin area.

The pipeline companies have come in for considerable criticism among some of those interested in South Plains oil development. Representative independent operators and land owners complain that the failure to provide outlet has been in line with a deliberate policy designed to keep lease values at the lowest possible figure. Regardless whether that is true, landowners charge that the best figures offered for leases on their property are far below what they should be, and are below prices which could be realized if transportation facilities for oil should be provided.

May Organize Company

One report, apparently well authenticated, is to the effect that at least one operator of admitted influence has given the ultimatum that unless pipelines are extended, he will organize a corporation to build. If he has so expressed himself, he is big enough and has enough influence to do what he says he will.

Despite complaints that the so-called "big companies" have made a deliberate effort to keep lease values to unjustifiably low levels until they have gained control of most of them, most Yoakum county residents are quick to acknowledge the advantages of having oil development largely under control of those same companies. They theorize that development in the hands of those companies would be orderly, and that the county would be saved from the undesirable effects of a tremendous boom which eventually would blow itself out. The town and county likewise would be protected in very large degree from an influx of the undesirables who flock to any oil country which operates on a wide-open basis, bringing with them crime and disease. Yoakum county takes pride in the fact that its present crime problem is so nearly nonexistant that it has no jail, the few occasional prisoners being kept in the Terry county jail at Brownfield.

* * *

AS visualized by those familiar with the Yoakum county outlook, oil operations will follow a schedule to save the area from a boom which eventually would deflate. They believe that operations will go forward from year to year on an orderly basis, so that the area can count upon the revenue from its production even more surely than most sections can depend on the crops from their fields.

Until Yoakum and adjoining counties north of Andrews have pipe line connections, they must depend on trucks for the movement of any oil placed on the market. At the present time, most of the allowed production from the Bennett pool is moved in that manner.

Better Roads Needed

Although trucking admittedly is a costly mode of transportation and never will encourage developments of the field, improvement of highway systems in the county will be of some benefit to motorized movement. At the present time the county is wholly without pavement although the comparatively few dirt roads are good despite occasional stretches of sand.

Most important of the scheduled road improvements is the prospective paving of State Highway 84 which extends east almost on an air line from Brownfield through Plains to the New Mexico line. County Judge Arthur Cotton returned a few days ago from a conference with highway commission members at Austin and quoted them as giving assurance that the road will be paved probably by next summer and certainly not later than the end of 1938. Such pavement would provide outlet to such large cities as Fort Worth and Dallas, and probably would increase the number of visits Yoakum county residents could pay to Lubbock in the course of any given period.

Plains residents also are convinced that if oil development holds up as indicated, it will mean that the next very few years will see Yoakum county removed from the list of the very few in Texas now entirely without railroad facilities. The nearest railroad line now is approximately 30 miles from Plains.

While leading citizens of the county frankly say they have not even approached railroad executives with the suggestion that a railroad connection is needed, they added that unless oil operations take an unfavorable turn, it is their intention to make an organized effort to obtain such facilities. The line they seem to consider most feasible would extend from Lubbock, cross Yoakum county diagonally from the northeast to the southwest corners and extend southwest to Hobbs and perhaps on to Carlsbad, N. M.

(NEXT: Plains, Yoakum county capital and one of West Texas' last frontier towns, looks ahead to a future of expansion and progress—a future brought on by the magic word "Oil").

Tie For Second Half Title Of League To Be Decided

BISBEE, Ariz., Sept. 7 (AP)—R. E. Souers, president of the Arizona-Texas baseball league, said last night the tie between Albuquerque and El Paso for the second half title would be played off in one game at Albuquerque Wednesday.

Should El Paso win the Wednesday game the league season would be terminated, but should Albuquerque win a seven-game series between the two clubs would follow, Souers said.

The girl chosen as "Lubbock's Jubilesta Queen" will receive an all-expense round-trip to Kansas City and expenses of a chaperon to be chosen by the winner.

To Be Given Loving Cup

Lubbock's winner also will be given a beautiful fifteen-inch silver loving cup to be presented by the Palace theater and local merchants. On it will be engraved: "Lubbock's Jubilesta Queen 1937."

Every contestant in the local contest will be sponsored by a Lubbock merchant and will be introduced from the stage as representing her sponsor firm. If entries desire to perform, they may, but they will not be required to since modeling will be the only activity required, according to those in charge of the contest.

Formal evening dresses will be worn and evening wraps are optional. An orchestra will play for the event. First rehearsal will be at 12 o'clock noon Wednesday. Applications should be made early since none will be accepted after a quota has been obtained, it was announced.

Entries in the Kansas City contest will be judged as follows: forty per cent on charm, consideration being given to poise, carriage, personal beauty and magnetism; forty per cent on style, consideration being given to alertness to fashion trends as evidenced by choice of costume and accessories as well as good taste, grooming, appropriateness of ensemble and effect (coiffure, accessories, footwear, etc.); and twenty per cent on culture, consideration being given to education, social attributes, accomplishments, and talents.

"CAN PEOPLE APPRECIATE THE CHOICER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS?"
A QUESTION FREQUENTLY HEARD...
ANSWER:
THEY SMOKE MORE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE IN THE WORLD

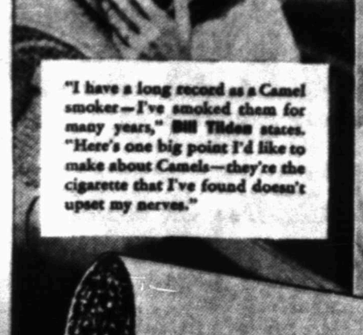

"Camels went 'round the world with me. I'll bet on them any time," famous round-the-world reporter, Miss Dorothy Kilgallen, says. "With Camels, steady smoking's a steady pleasure."

"Camels go big out our way," says Charlie Belden, boss of the Pitchfork Ranch, Wyoming. He is shown delivering a load of pronghorn antelopes to a zoo, via plane. "Cowboys are great Camel smokers. They like that 'lift' they get out of Camels."

"So many girls at college smoke Camels," says Miss Josephine O'Neill, co-ed. "Mental work often has an effect on digestion. I find that during meals and after, Camels make food seem twice as good."

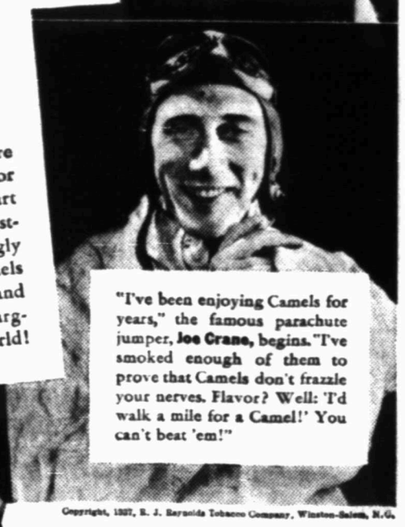

"I have a long record as a Camel smoker—I've smoked them for many years," Bill Tilden states. "Here's one big point I'd like to make about Camels—they're the cigarette that I've found doesn't upset my nerves."

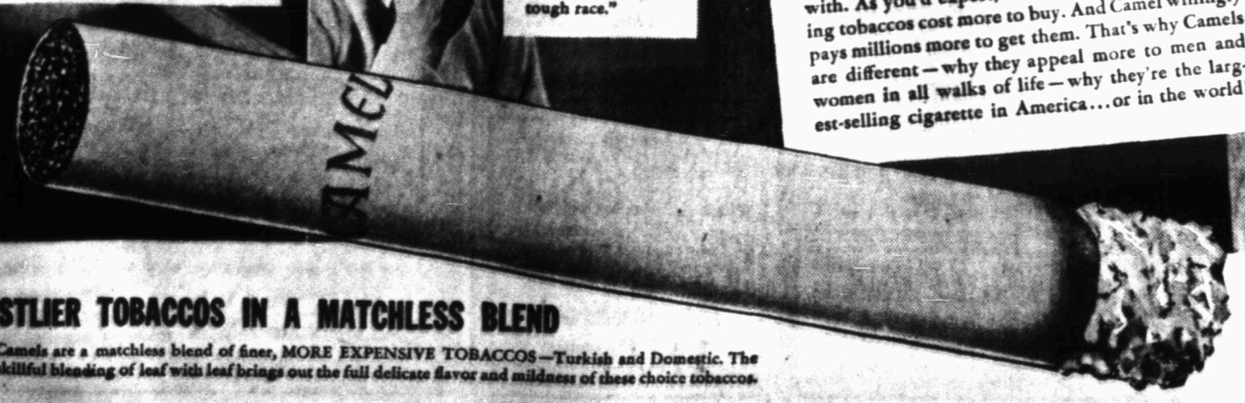

"To me, Camels mean 'Cheer' with a capital 'C,'" the famous motorboat sportsman, George Reis, says. "I also like Camel's hearty flavor. And I like the 'lift' I get with a Camel after I've been through a tough race."

Men and women respond to the unadorned fact that costlier tobaccos play the most important part in making Camel Cigarettes milder and better

THE deeper you dig into the facts—the more you find that nothing man can do to inferior tobaccos can take the place of good tobaccos to start with. As you'd expect, naturally milder, better-tasting tobaccos cost more to buy. And Camel willingly pays millions more to get them. That's why Camels are different—why they appeal more to men and women in all walks of life—why they're the largest-selling cigarette in America...or in the world!

"I've been enjoying Camels for years," the famous parachute jumper, Joe Crane, begins. "I've smoked enough of them to prove that Camels don't frazzle your nerves. Flavor? Well: 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' You can't beat 'em!"

COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN A MATCHLESS BLEND
Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. The skillful blending of leaf with leaf brings out the full delicate flavor and mildness of these choice tobaccos.

Leading Cubs By 3 Games After Wins

BY DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Westward the path of the pennant takes its way with the game guys from Coogan's Bluff plumb in the middle of the road.

Just about everything possible in baseball happened for 245,000 major league fans who saw yesterday's 16 games. Lefty Lee Grissom of the Reds pitched a one hitter—and lost. Ray Phebus—of course you don't know who he is—hurled a one-hitter for Washington and won. Joe DiMaggio slapped homer No. 40; Hank Greenberg powdered No. 33.

Three-Game Lead

And when it was all over, what was the news? The Giants had won two and the Cubs had split. The New Yorkers start an 18-game trip to hostile ballwicks tomorrow with a three game lead.

Supported by the stalwart arms of Cliff Melton and Hal Schumacher, the Giants drubbed the Phillies, 6 to 2 and 9 to 3. Honest John McCarthy hit two home runs; Harry Danning got another. Mel Ott extended his hitting streak to 21 straight games and drew closer to the coveted .300 mark.

The last place Reds came very close to trimming the Cubs twice. They won the opener 7-3 behind Paul Derringer. Grissom checked the Cubs in the nightcap until the eighth when Phil Cavarretta's pop fly double, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and a long fly plus some shoddy infield play handed the Chicagoans two runs and the ball game, 2-1.

How They Stand

Club	Won	Lost	Games Behind	Games To Play
Giants	76	48		30
Cubs	74	52	3	28

The Pirates and Cardinals, the only other clubs even faintly in the race, split. The Cards won one behind Bob Weiland, 4-1, and Arky Vaughan's homer took the second for the Bucs, 5-4. The Dodgers won behind Luke Hamlin 2-1 in ten innings and then bowed before Lou Fette as that admirable and aged rookie won his 17th victory.

Young Mr. Phebus, a 28-year-old righthander from Clovis, Calif., by way of Chattanooga, brought his talent to the attention of the American league by blanking the Red Sox with one hit after the Sox, behind Lefty Grove, won the opener, 6-2. Phebus fanned four and walked seven.

Yanks Have It Easy

The Yankees had little trouble with the Philadelphia Athletics, taking two 6-3 and 2-1. DiMaggio and Ivy Paul Andrews, who pitched a neat three-hit game, figured prominently in the proceedings.

The Tigers shook down the Browns 10-9 and 5-2 with Greenberg and Pete Fox leading the way.

Bob Feller fanned nine, allowed four hits and tripled to give the Indians an even break 2-1 after Ted Lyons had halted the Tribe in the morning game for the White Sox by the same score.

Cawthon And Huffman Are To Speak To Touchdown Club

The Touchdown club, which hereabouts entertains the would-be unofficial quarterbacks and coaches, tonight will be touched off at Hilton hotel. The session will be addressed at 8 o'clock by Coaches Pete Cawthon and Berl Huffman of Texas Technological college.

The program will be devoted exclusively to football. Cawthon last night went to Dallas for the All-Star-Bears grid game and Huffman Wednesday saw part of the All-Star Green Bay Packers engagement at Chicago.

Cawthon this morning will attend the Southwest conference football rules convention.

He should, by and large, have something to talk about.

Collegians Spill Bears At Dallas

Chesty Little Art Guepe Is Happy Today

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 7 (AP) — Chesty Art Guepe, a little man with all the answers who finished up at Marquette university in the spring, had his revenge today and the college all-stars a sweet 6-0 decision over the burly professional Chicago Bears.

The loquacious, 155-pound halfback felt he had smoothed over a little difficulty that had rankled him for the past several days after he had personally applied the touch that buried the Bears in the mud of the Cotton bowl before 25,000 rain soaked and howling fans.

Mad At Those Guys

"I was mad at those guys in Chicago," chirped Guepe in the dressing room after the game. "I could run like that all night."

Art was not in the college lineup that whipped the Green Bay Packers, 6-0, at Chicago Wednesday last.

ART GUEPE
Gets His Revenge

And Art almost didn't make the grade at Dallas. It was only after Lloyd Cardwell, Nebraska's great back, had withdrawn from the roster of stars collected by Coaches Leo Meyer of Texas Christian and Matty Bell of Southern Methodist that Guepe was added to the team.

Shoved into the backfield as the second period started, Guepe opened up with an 18-yard punt return, wiggled 38 yards downfield on a tackle slice before being dropped from behind by Ray Nolting's flying tackle on the four-yard stripe and then came back minutes later with a 24-yard gallop for the lone touchdown.

Starts For Home Again

Again in the third period he speared one of Slinging Sam Baugh's 20-yard darts and started for home again. This time Beattie Feathers, Bear halfback, made a desperate dive that brushed Guepe and dropped him to his knees on the professionals' seven-yard marker.

Guepe with his footwork and Baugh with his heaves, kicks and defensive play were the collegians' standouts.

It was Baugh's 60-yard quick kick at a tight part of the third period that set the Bears back on their heels and kept them there the remainder of he evening.

Only once did the Bruins make a serious charge on the collegian goal line. Jack Manders, Feathers and Bernie Masterson, slicing inside the collegian tackles early in the third period, moved downfield some 60 yards before they bogged down on the four-yard marker. There Manders, who tried an end sweep, was chased back to the 18-yard line by Ray (Buzz) Buivid, also of Marquette.

Guepe and Baugh weren't the only stars. Sam Agee of Vanderbilt; Wilkinson, Johnny Stovall of North Texas Teachers and a flock of linemen, notably Max Steinkemper of Notre Dame, Bob McGee of Santa Clara; Sam Bassi of Santa Clara and Walter Roach of Texas Christian, won respect of the pros.

For Coaches Meyer and Bell it was the second straight triumph over the Bears, last year's game ending 7-6.

The weather, officials believed, killed a sellout for the 47,000 capacity stadium — which would have been a new high mark for southwest college football.

Henderson And Jacksonville Are Deadlocked In Playoff

HENDERSON, Sept. 7 (AP) —Henderson and Jacksonville were deadlocked at three games each today in their fight for the right to meet Marshall in the finals of the East Texas league Shaughnessy playoff.

A homer by George Sturdivant with one on in the ninth gave the Oilers a 6-4 win over the Jax last night.

Panthers Take Playoff Spot

(By The Associated Press)

The league leading Oklahoma City Indians bowed twice to Tulsa, 5-1 and 5-0 last night, making it three in a row for the Oilers, while the Fort Worth Cats clinched a berth in the Shaughnessy playoff by taking the Dallas Steers into camp twice, 8-7 and 2-0.

San Antonio's Missions pushed across a run in the sixteenth for a 9-8 win from Galveston in an afternoon game, requiring three hours and forty-five minutes to play, and causing cancellation of a scheduled second tilt because of darkness.

Rain caused postponement of a doubleheader at Beaumont between Houston and Beaumont.

Dallas and Oklahoma City, originally scheduled in the latter city for tonight, planned to rest and play a doubleheader tomorrow.

Chicago Bears Moving Into Oklahoma For Tilt Tonight

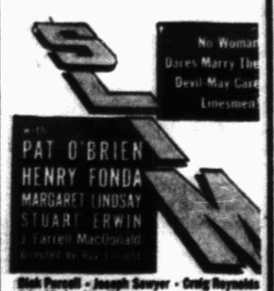

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Chicago Bears, who came down from the national professional football league only to be shut out, 6 to 0, by a band of college all-stars at Dallas, Tex., last night, moved up to the Sooner state today to take on the Oklahoma all-stars here tonight.

There'll be no Art Guepe nor Sammy Baugh to plague the professionals on Oklahoma City university's field, but promoters of the second annual classic have gathered a squad of former Oklahoma gridiron greats who believe they can make the evening interesting for the Bruins.

A year ago, the Bears made their first appearance in Oklahoma and licked a similar crew of former collegians, 14 to 0.

Crimson Tide Is Depending Upon Sophs

BY PAUL DUNCAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 7. — Alabama's Crimson Tide, one of the nation's few undefeated teams last year, will ebb or flow this fall largely on the performance of sophomores.

Coach Frank Thomas said today "we're counting heavily on sophomores, especially at tackles and for reserve guards and backs."

"If they (the sophomores) come through for us against varsity opposition — Tennessee for instance — we'll be in pretty good shape."

"Our defense," Thomas added, "should be stronger, with a fine group of ends. We'll be a little slower on offense and not quite as versatile."

Only one varsity tackle returns: 200-pound Jim Ryba, alternate for Biff Lyons last season, who will plug one tackle slot. Sophomores Walter Merrill, 215 pounds, and Bobby Wood, 205, will share the other.

A classy pair of first string guards, Captain Leroy Monsky and Lew Bostick, are on hand, but sophomores will be called on for principal replacement.

Fixed For Ends

"We are pretty well fixed for ends," Thomas said. "This time last year we didn't know where an end was coming from. Now we have Perron Shoemaker and Tut Warren, who developed into regulars last year, and about eight or nine sophs who looked mighty good in spring training."

Machtolff, husky veteran, is expected to do most of the centering with Cox, another sophomore, as No. 1 reserve.

Offensive spearhead at left halfback is Joe Kilgrow, who approaches the passing genius of Dixie Howell and Joe Riley, matches their ball carrying talent, and blocks as well as either.

Right halfback is well manned by a group of husky plungers, despite the loss of Biackie Caldwell, who signed a professional baseball contract. Vic Bradford seems to rate as No. 1 man there now.

Hughes To Get Call

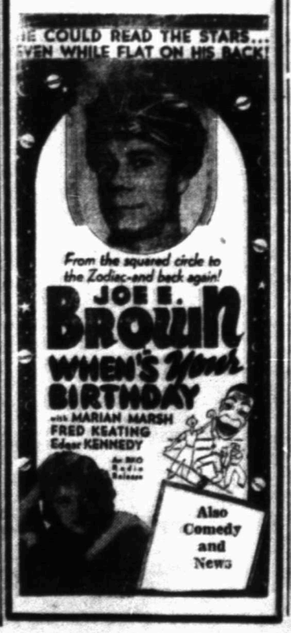

Five made over fullbacks will vie for the important blocking duties from quarterback, although Hal Hughes probably will get the call as he is the best punter in camp as well as a smashing interferer.

The Holm family has produced another fullback in Charley, brother of Tony Holm who was an all-American fullback under Wallace Wade in 1929.

The schedule will give the Tide ample time to build slowly for the Tennessee clash Oct. 16, with Howard, Bewanee and South Carolina providing the opening competition in that order. After the Vols come in succession George Washington, Kentucky, Tulane, Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt.

Cigaret consumption set an all-time record in the United States in 1936. Consumption totaled 153,170,000,000, an increase of 14 per cent above the 1935 figure of 134,609,000,000.

Promising Talent Seen In National Tourney

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The older inhabitants around the West Side tennis club are of the opinion that the current national championships have brought to light more really promising young talent than any other tournament in many a year.

With the youngsters cropping up faster than young corn and the oldsters turning professional almost as fast, there's no way of even guessing who will be on the American Davis cup squad in two or three years.

Too Many Fine Players

"You have too many fine players," breathed Baron Gotifried Von Cramm yesterday after Hal Surface of Kansas City had carried him to four tough sets before a record Labor day throng. "Where do zey come from?"

The baron, having been taken to four sets in a previous match by another unknown, Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, and having watched his teammate, Henner Henkel, succumb to Martin Buxby, who once won the Connecticut state tennis crown, undoubtedly feels that a visitor to this country gets ganged up on.

Among the most promising young players seen in action around here in recent days were Owen Anderson of Hollywood; Merrimon Cunninggim of Nashville, Tenn.; Julius Heldman of Hollywood; Joseph Hunt of Los Angeles; Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla.; McNeill, the Oklahoma City lad who scared Von Cramm, and Robert Harman of Oakland, Calif.

Only Two Are Lost

Of this group, only Hunt and Cunninggim were left when the somewhat scrambled program was resumed today, but the others all left their calling cards. Heldman, a loose-limbed left hander who gave Johnny Van Ryn a terrific five-set battle in an early round, particularly made an impression on the so-called experts. He, like Hunt and Bobby Riggs, is a former junior champion. Hunt, in fact, still is the junior kingpin.

The outstanding tussle today looked to be that between the two former "boy wonders," Sidney Wood Jr., and Frankie Parker.

In the three other matches scheduled to pare the upper bracket down to the quarter-finals, Don Budge met Yvon Petra of France, Joel Hunt opposed Jiro Yamagishi of Japan, and John Van Ryn played Charlie Harris of West Palm Beach. Harris conquered Martin Buxby.

Things were rocking along about as expected in the women's division with the "big four"—Alice Marble, Anita Lizana, Helen Jacobs and Jadwiga Jedrzejowska—getting closer and closer to their promised battle royal in the semi-finals.

Monahans Slips Ahead In West Texas-New Mexico Playoff

The teams, with Monahans leading 2-1, meet again here Tuesday night.

Each carded a 73, three strokes over par.

Other winners:

First flight — Jimmy Gamewell, Clovis, defeated M. Hughett, Lubbock, Tex., 4 and 3.

Championship flight consolation —J. R. Roden, Friona, Tex., defeated Dan McKinney, Clovis, one up.

Second flight — Fred McGinnis, Clovis, defeated L. T. Garland, Slaton, Tex., 4 up.

Smith Funeral Is Set Today

Funeral services were to be held at Episcopal church this afternoon for William Heberd Smith, 79, cowboy cook widely known through South Plains and the Panhandle as "Uncle Heb," who died Monday, after an illness of several months.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Death occurred at the home of a niece, Mrs. D. K. Bondurant, 2123 Twenty-eighth street.

Brother Of Clark Smith

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. James Hunter of Terre Haute, Ind., and a brother, G. Clark Smith of Lubbock, and three nieces, Betty Jane Smith of Lubbock, Mrs. Al Drum of Connecticut and Mrs. J. Payton Clark of Pennsylvania, in addition to Mrs. Bondurant.

Pallbearers were to be J. J Murphy, Dr. Edgar Bloom, Dr. Harry Bloom, W. B. Powell, E. J. Lowrey, Dr. J. H Stiles, A. T. Biggers, and W. D. Watkins.

"Uncle Heb," as he usually was known, was born at Terre Haute Nov. 30, 1858. He left high school at the age of 16 because of trouble with his hearing, and he "started West." His first stop was a small mining village in Colorado where he filed on a quarter-section of land. Today that half-section is a fashionable suburb of Denver.

En route to Denver the train on which he was riding was delayed because of a herd of buffalo on the tracks. Two years later he sold his claim and settled in the Panhandle of Texas near Old Fort Elliott near where Canadian now is. At that time only towns in that section were Tascosa, Mobeetie and Old Clarendon. "Uncle Heb" went to work for the Laurel Leaf ranch near the fort. At that time ranch supplies came from Dodge City, Kan.

Became "Cowboy Cook"

Several years later he became the "cowboy cook" for the T-Anchor ranch near the present site of Canyon, and his kitchen now is a part of a museum at West Texas State Teachers college there.

A friend of Smith's said, "Every oldtime cowboy who ever rode the trail to Dodge City always made it a point to stop at the T-Anchor and eat Uncle Heb's sour dough biscuits."

He kept a gunney sack on the back porch for left-over bread and meat for Indians from a settlement 5 miles away.

In the last Indian scare in that area in 1882, he warned that the Indians "were coming." Uncle Heb, instead of accompanying all cowboys to Canyon to make preparations to fight said he would "bake bread for the Indians. They probably will be hungry," according to an account of his life. However, the Indians were driven back onto the reservation by government troops before they reached the T-Anchor. Most of the persons who had gone to Canyon, on returning to their quarters the next morning, breakfasted with Uncle Heb.

Known Throughout Section

Mr. Smith was cook, doctor, and nurse at the T-Anchor headquarters more than 20 years and was known throughout that section. Later he and Clark Smith moved to Crosbyton and for a number of years were proprietors of the Crosbyton Inn. The Inn was famous for its food which was prepared under direct supervision of Uncle Heb.

In the last 25 years of his life he was completely deaf, but could understand conversation if persons to whom he talked enunciated plainly.

He had many friends, both old and young who praised him for his mild manners, courtesy, and pleasing personality. It was said he always had candy for neighboring children.

He had lived with Mr. and Mrs. Bondurant about 16 years before his death.

"Little Bit O' Ireland" Found Between Two New Oil Fields Of Western Texas

PLAINS, Sept. 7, (Special)—Cached in a draw half way between the Bennett and Wasson fields is a "little bit o' Ireland" which offers, with its trees and hedges, a contrast to the flat prairie for miles around. Its location, however, may mean that oil will stain the spot from green to brown.

The ranch, presided over by Miss Annie Armstrong, niece of the late Pat McHugh, jovial Irishman who founded Sligo and named it after his native Sligo, Ireland, nestles in a draw half way between the two fields in Yoakum and Gaines counties.

Came West At 18

"Miss Annie, as she is known over several counties, came to America and the West at 18, a graduate of Notre Dame preparatory school in Glasgow, Scotland. McHugh, from his Yoakum county ranch, rode a horse and led one on which was a sidesaddle, to Stanton, the nearest railroad, to meet his gray-eyed Irish niece. They rode as far as the old Triangle ranch, south of Seagraves, and there Miss Annie, unaccustomed to riding, rested several days. Her uncle rode on home that night and returned for her later.

Miss Annie, in her spic and span white stucco house with the steep green roof, surrounded by salt cedar hedges and the many trees McHugh set out to make a green spot on the prairie, watered her red geraniums blooming in the windows and said she is "going back to Ireland next year if she has to kill a man."

Expected Trip To Be Lark

She visited her native country several years ago but says, "it may be that only the Irish have such crazy Irish notions," but it makes her lonely afterward to visit persons whom she has not seen for 30 years. At the time she came to America, she expected it to be a lark and that she would return after three years. By that time, however, the west "seemed to have got hold" of her. She was engrossed with ranch activities, so it wasn't until after her uncle's death 11 years ago that she returned for a two-months' visit with her parents.

At the turn of the century, school land in Yoakum county came on the market and persons could file on four sections and "live it up," or prove a claim in three years. McHugh and his sister, Kate, filed on eight sections. Miss Kate later retired to a Catholic convent at Stanton. It was soon after this that his niece came to the county.

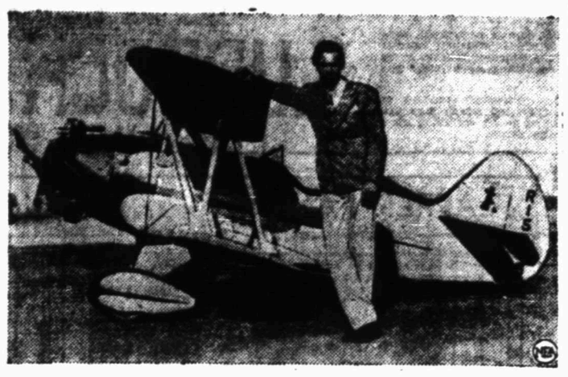

Founded First Postoffice, Store

McHugh founded the first post office and store in Yoakum county, across the draw from the present ranch headquarters. Mail was brought horseback from Grassland and Gomez, dumped onto the dugout post office floor where cowboys, from as far south as Seminole had come to sit and drink tea (not a typographical error) with McHugh until the mail came. Joe Webber, who still lives in the county, was the mail carrier. The Sligo post office was discontinued after a few years and there is no longer a trace of it.

McHugh, known as the man who rode in a long hard lope and slept little, went horseback to Stanton, a distance of 65 miles down the draw from his ranch, to mass. And cowboys who worked for McHugh tell of his carrying water in buckets until after midnight, after a hard day's work, to his trees, so determined was he to have "a bit of Ireland" in the West.

THE BEST ROAD, OF COURSE, BUT CONCRETE COSTS LESS, TOO!

EVERYONE prefers concrete for its safety, its cleanliness and comfort, for the sense of security it gives motorists. But not everyone knows that concrete is really a low cost road. Yet the figures are indisputable. They show that, whether for great super-highways or secondary roads carrying only a few hundred vehicles a day, concrete actually costs less to build than any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity!

Here's another important saving. Concrete has the lowest annual surface maintenance cost per mile of any type of pavement. Funds which would otherwise be spent for repairs may be used to extend your highway system—to build more and more miles of money-saving concrete.

Concrete cuts your out-of-pocket driving cost, too, because it saves gas, tire and car repair bills.

Stomach Regulated By New Gly-Cas, Indigestion Ended, Sleeps Good, Feels Fine; Rheumatic Pains Yield To New Remedy Also

"I feel I am well again — and after it had seemed so impossible for so many years," said Mrs. Lillian Bankston, Hunt Lease East Field, El Dorado, Arkansas. "I had been constantly distressed with terrible attacks of indigestion, would spit up my food after eating, could hardly keep anything on my stomach and gas would form in abundance. I was badly constipated, kidneys disordered and my entire system was affected. Then rheumatism settled in my back and down into my limbs. My ankles swelled so badly that I could hardly get about at times and was unable to do my housework. I had tried most every known remedy for relief — but met only with failure until I began Gly-Cas and it was wonderful.

"I am now on my second box of this new medical discovery and am feeling fine," continued Mrs. Bankston. "I can now eat the foods I wish without any ill effects afterwards, indigestion no longer bothers me and my kidneys are regulated. I can now sleep the entire night through without an ache or pain. Gly-Cas is the best medicine I have ever seen in my life for it does exactly what is claimed for it. It is wonderful to be so well again and enjoy the good health I had been wanting for so many years."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Announcing the Service Of Dr. Charles F. Roberts

. . . . . who will assist in the examinations, analyzations of visual findings and, in particular, the Orthoptic Department.

Dr. Roberts comes from Los Angeles, California, where he has had considerable experience and special training in Orthoptics under the direction of one of the most noted Optometrists in the United States. (It is my guess that this last word, Orthoptics, needs a little explanation) and as Orthoptics has proven to be of such valuable help to the learning power of the school child, as well as the grown ups, I will attempt to tell what Orthoptics is.

We all know by taking certain physical exercises, we can build up certain parts, or muscles, of our body and at the same time reduce the "belt line". Think what is being done in the crippled children hospitals by giving special exercises. * They make new human beings of them.

Now, THE EYES and its associated parts are a part of the same human body just the same as your arms and legs. Your eyes are controlled by the same nervous system, the same blood from the same heart, the same nourishment from the same stomach and lungs.

ORTHOPTICS are special eye exercises, stimulating or inhibiting certain functions or muscles of the eyes and its associated parts and nervous system by special designed instruments, to care for those who cannot be made comfortable with lenses.

ORTHOPTICS is the re-conditioning of the eyes by breaking up faulty eye habits, bringing about reciprocal coordination thereby restoring normal and comfortable vision which is vitally important to the backward child or man who is falling behind in his daily activities.

A child spends his first four years in school to learn to read, and then he reads to learn. If you can't read, you can't learn; if you can't learn, you can't earn.

In many instances when a child is given Orthoptic treatments in the early stages of eye trouble, lenses throughout their lifetime is unnecessary.

Consider The Following Examples:-

Young man, age 28, reading rate 191 words per minute; comprehension 40 per cent; after 6 weeks orthoptic training, his reading rate, 330 words per minute, comprehension 90 per cent.

Young man, age 16, reading rate 144 words per minute, comprehension 60 per cent, after 14 orthoptic treatments, reading rate 300 words per minute, comprehension 90 per cent.

Young lady, 21 years of age, reading rate 200 words per minute, comprehension 30 per cent; after 16 orthoptic treatments, reading rate 317 words per minute, comprehension 100 per cent.

Same patients show a larger gain than the above; others, show a smaller gain.

Think of a school boy or girl who had no trouble in seeing but has learned, through orthoptic training and proper lenses, to read his lessons twice as fast and understand and remember what he reads twice as well.

* * *

ON this dank and humid Monday, following a lazy Sunday, your poor servant racks his think-tank for material for a column. Then he stumbles, quite surprisingly, on a jolly little item in September 4's edition of the "bible" for all newsdom. Editor and Publisher is printed for the paper gentry and presents, upon Page 16, a swell bit of feature writing, all done up like Hiawatha.

Since the lads and all the lassies who work down here at The Journal got a wallop from this writing we will simply pass it on. It's a honey, very funny, if you keep the rhythm going. (We quote.)

"Readers of the New York papers came across this bit of writing by a famous story-teller talking of the joys of camping in the New York Times of Sunday.

"L. H. Robbins, in New Hampshire, saw around him many people who were emulating redskins in their ways of summer living, thought that he would write a story from the heart of which we quote. Please remember, gentle reader, only this was from the poet. (Enter Mr. Robbins.)

"'Still there must be pleasure in it, for the camping belt this summer is alive with population, more than any other summer since the noble red man vanished. Everywhere are normal people, smart discriminating people from the Bronx, Manhattan, Brooklyn, living hard like Hiawatha, roughing it for pure enjoyment. And they aren't Boy scouts either.

"'There are business men among them, grave with age, like Mudjekewis, who could pay for ease and comfort in the ritziest summer tavern, yet prefer the rustic rigors of primordial existence in a pup tent in a woodlot. There are cultivated matrons, coming from exclusive circles who could pass for old Nokomas so complacently and deftly they manipulate the skillet at the smoky, smudgy campfire.

"'There are city damsels, also, maybe Junior Leaguers, even, turning brown as basted turkeys (otherwise there's no resemblance) as they gambol in the sunshine in their Minnehaha costumes. As for little urban school kids masquerading as papooses, there are more of them per acre than a cop could shake a stick at.

"'Do they pine, these paleface Indians for the metropolitan fleshpots and the joys they left behind them? If they do, you'd never guess it.'

Editor and Publisher goes on to explain, in its accustomed prose, that Mr. Robbins writes regularly for the Sunday magazine section of the New York Times and usually is a very sensible person.

VIC Lamb, the enterprising and observing young editor of the Hale Center American, dropped into the office yesterday and remarked that his home town is really sprucing up.

"There has been a regular epidemic of remodeling up there," he said, "and scads of houses have new coats of paint, new roofs, newly papered walls and additional rooms. The same is true of many farm houses in the Hale Center vicinity. It just looks like everybody is doing improvement work of one kind or another."

* * *

Vic went on to say that in his sashays over the South Plains he finds the same situation everywhere, although, he added with pride, "I don't believe they're going in as strong anywhere as they are in Hale Center."

While The Plainsman has too much sense to sit in judgment in the matter of which community is doing the most improving, he does know that the Hale Center scribe is right in saying that this whole country is going in for that part of the "more abundant life" which has to do with better living conditions.

LAST year quite a few Lubbock business men were disappointed over the quick movement of the cotton crop.

It is a matter of record that the crop went out more rapidly last year than usual and that by Christmas time it was all over but the shouting.

However, business men all over the South Plains can heave a sigh of relief over the possibilities of the same thing happening this year. The 1937 crop is not going to be gotten out in such a hurry.

A number of our business men forecast one of the longest "fall seasons" on record.

Col. O. L. Slaton, whose wisdom in such matters is little short of axiomatic, told The Plainsman the other day that he didn't believe the season would be over before March 1.

* * *

Don Mitchell, one of cotton row's "heavies" an avoirdupois as well as in ability, reports that in Corpus Christi this summer he Japanese were conspicuous by their absence.

"In 1936," Don said, "the port of Corpus Christi was full of fine Japanese boats being loaded with Texas cotton. This year there were several old tramps, none of which carried the Jap flag, loaded with cotton for Japan, but that's all. The Japs are using their fine boats to transport troops in—and they haven't anything to use for money for Texas cotton."

That, admittedly, is a disappointing situation since Japan has long been a heavy buyer of the fleecy staple in this state.

* * *

DON'T tell anybody, but there seems to be a feeling on the part of some members of the City commission that those "danger" signs, which replaced the "stop" signs where 19th, 16th, Broadway and Main intersect with Avenue Q, are not getting the job done.

At least one commissioner has come to the conclusion that traffic lights at those intersections—as this column has long shouted—are the only things to assure a semblance of safety.

Let's hope for some action!

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JOY — Heroine, hostess in smart Maine tearoom.

ROGER — Joy's fiance; rising young designer.

ANGELA—Joy's rival in love.

DICK — Wealthy young playboy, Roger's rival in love.

* * *

Yesterday: Dick proposes to Joy. Then she learns through Peter that some mysterious relationship exists between Jigger and Dick.

CHAPTER VIII

Tuesday: Days fly like the wind here . . . too busy to make a note of all the thrilling things that are happening at The Golden Anchor and in its environs. Summer colony all excited about Serene Shores. Asked Cal why . . . he says the police are watching it . . . hints that it is linked up with some international smuggling ring, but they can't get the goods on them . . . declares that some excitement may be expected there any day. . . . Seth Bradshaw, the original owner of the property, sold it to some New York man for a summer home before he left for the Far East. . . . Coming home unexpectedly, he discovered that the fellow was only a dummy buyer, and now the question is, who is the real owner and just what sort of a resort is it?

Cal declares there's a mighty pretty girl who is very interested in one young man who's vacationing there . . . "the fellow that brought you the news about Peter that day he tumbled into the lake," was how he described him. . . . Of course that's Roger and from something Peter said I'm certain the girl is Angela. Wonder what she is doing there . . .

Must check up on that; but what's the use?

Later. Went out with Dick again tonight . . . didn't want to stay at home with my thoughts . . . it didn't do me much good though for we'd hardly got into his car till he said:

"See the papers today?"

"No, I'm giving newspapers a vacation just now."

"Too bad . . . there was something you should have seen . . . might have convinced you that I know what I'm talking about."

"Better tell me . . . you know I can't bear to be kept in suspense."

"Afraid I can't quote to you verbatim, but I guess it's only a question of hours till Angela's engagement to Roger will be announced."

"Is that so?" I said, rather fatuously. "Wonder if we'll get invitations to the wedding?" I know it sounded silly, but I did not want Dick to know how desperately I felt. He twitted me more than once about Roger being his rival.

* * *

"Everyone knows it's Angela's money that's the drawing card there," he said in a smug tone. "He's made up his mind to get ahead and I guess he realizes you can't go far in New York—or anywhere else for that matter—unless you've lots of cash behind you. Isn't that so?"

For a moment my heart rebeled, then as though the future spread out before me and I saw Roger going farther and farther away from me, I said:

"Guess you're right, Dick, about the money. It's terribly necessary."

"Well, how about helping me spend mine?"

"Oh, that mightn't be such a bad idea," I remarked, trying to forget that I had ever loved Roger.

"Of course it's not, darling, for I'm wild about you . . . there isn't a thing I won't do for you, if you'll only promise to marry me."

He slipped his arm about me, and held me close. "Tell me you will," he pleaded.

I know I should have said, "No!" for I don't love Dick, but even as I said, "Yes," I felt this might truly be my answer if I saw an announcement of Roger's wedding to Angela. So now I'm engaged . . . Dick wants me to marry him right away . . . tells me we'll start at once on a year's honeymoon around the world . . . I told him I'd have to stay here till September. "If that's all you're worrying about, I'll fix that," he declared. . . .

* * *

Somehow I don't quite like this rush, in spite of my girlish dreams of a lover who would simply sweep me off my feet and carry me away to his castle without so much as a "by your leave" . . . am I getting too old, or is there some reason for the feeling of suspicion that comes to me now as I sit and write this entry in my diary?

Peter told me that Tad and he have rigged up some sort of tower on their fortress . . . suppose I ought to go and see that it's all right . . . I don't want any broken bones for those youngsters . . . Tad declares you can see for miles from their tower . . . can even see the tea-house.

When I spoke to Cal about Jigger, he said he'd done some work for the man, when he first came up here . . . tidied up the garden or rather cleared away some of the brush that was growing right near the door . . . he'd promised him some more work, but when Cal asked him about it one day when he met him in the village he pretended he'd never seen him before, informed him he didn't want fellows like him prowling around his place.

"Yes, that's what he said, Miss Joy, and I can't understand it, unless there's something not just straight going on up at the old farmhouse."

"Do you think there is, Cal? Did you ever see anything when you worked up there that was a bit off?"

"Land sakes, no, Miss Joy! When I did that work for him he hadn't moved into the house . . . said his things were coming by truck . . . wasn't bringing much stuff anyway . . . only coming up here for the sake of his friend's health. I told him he couldn't find a better place than right there in the woods . . . a fellow would soon be well out there in the fresh air and sunshine. He paid me more than he promised . . . gave me a five-dollar bill . . . a nice, new one . . . I've put it away . . . going to give it to the wife for her birthday."

* * *

"Well, that was rather nice. Maybe his friend doesn't like having strangers around if he's real sick."

"I've thought of that . . . but then he could have told me. I wouldn't have minded that . . . besides, now that we're so busy at the teahouse I won't have a minute to work for anyone else. There's one thing that's always looked kind of queer to me—he moved all his stuff in in the middle of the night!"

"He did?"

"Yes, the folks that live about a quarter of a mile down the road from the trail that leads up to his place told me. Old John was sick, and his wife was up looking after him . . . went to the window after she gave him his heart medicine . . . saw a big truck parked near the bend . . . heard swearing and arguing . . . then saw the truck turn into the old road . . . ain't much more than a path nowadays."

"Good gracious, Cal, I think we'd better call it the Mystery House. Aren't there any policemen around here?"

"Yes, we've a constable in the village, but he's mighty busy looking after the traffic when the summer folks are around . . . besides, he always says he ain't going poking his head into places where he's not wanted so long as folks mind their own affairs."

"But is Jigger minding his own affairs?"

Cal shrugged his heavy shoulders. "He ain't interfering with anyone around here as far as I know," he answered.

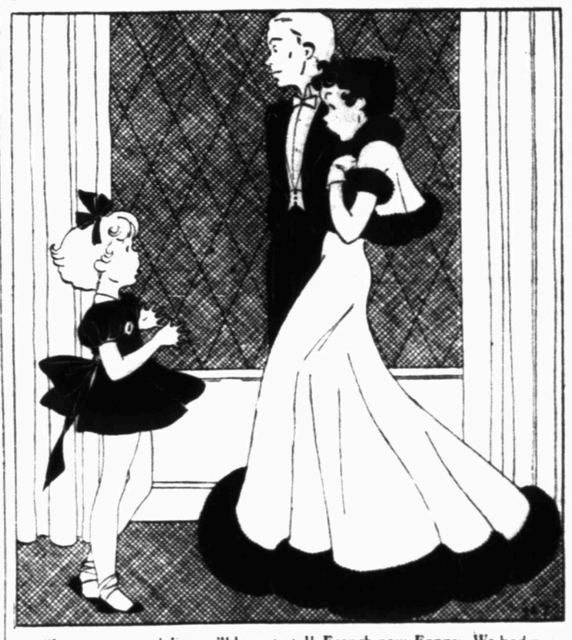

"Well, that's quite a story, Cal," I said, remembering the scarred tree, the fresh ruts in the overgrown road. "Does Jigger have a car?"

"Don't know about that. That old woman I spoke about was gathering kindling in the woods one day . . . told me she saw new tracks on the old road . . . says cars often turn in there, but always at night!"

THE VALUE OF IMAGINATION

Did you make $5,000 a year all through the depression? Or didn't you make more than $35 a week? It's all a matter of imagination. So Dr. F. L. Wells, Boston psychologist, told the American Association of Applied and Professional Psychology.

Dr. Wells didn't mean that the difference between $5,000 a year and $35 a week is simply a matter of imagination. It is in the relative capacity to earn that the imagination figures. To prove it, he cited intelligence and personality tests which he had administered to "100 superior men."

He found, Dr. Wells reported, that imagination or "creative ability" accounted for the difference in earning capacity. And how did he determine the relative imagination or creative ability? By the "spontaneous test" wherein the men answered questions about what should be done in unexpected emergencies.

Here is one of the psychologist's questions:

"What should be done if you knew that extensive oil fields were about to be discovered in Denmark?"

Unfortunately, Dr. Wells is not quoted as giving the right answers. Perhaps "Go into the fortune telling business" would do for the question just cited.

Another one of Dr. Wells' questions which we rather like is:

"Supposing the Atlantic seacoast were going to sink 50 feet in the next year, what ought to be done?"

For our part, we would just let it sink. But maybe that isn't the right answer.

Anyhow, we have supplied our little shot of imagination today—so how about a raise, Doc?

A Thought . .

But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?—Luke 20:23.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7. — One trouble about being a Hollywood correspondent is that you have to go around prodding everybody into talking about the movies. Usually this is by no means a difficult task, but sometimes you encounter a person who is good and tired of the subject and would prefer discussing whether Fascism will gobble Spain or whether salmon trout will gobble grasshoppers. Or what.

I would not care to suggest that Ernst Lubitsch is tired of thinking about movies because he recently finished directing Marlene Dietrich in "Angel," but I do know that he has been through a pretty trying time and is locally regarded with great admiration for his skill and patience in finally getting Miss Dietrich to do things the way he wanted them done.

The screen colony believes that this picture will do a lot for Miss Dietrich because her job in it is acting and not just lying on a chaise-lounge and batting her eyelashes.

At the beginning of production Lubitsch told her very firmly that there'd be no glamour just for glamour's sake; that she was supposed to look like a human being and would have to act like one.

* * *

Mixes Frankfurters, Cigars

But the director didn't talk about the star when I saw him at lunch. From the tomato juice to the ice cream, he chatted of: 1—a weekend in the mountains, 2—newspapers, 3—the surprising inefficiency of aerial bombardment in current foreign hostilities, 4—magazines, particularly the new magazine, "Jones," edited, published and mostly written by his friend the screen writer, Groves Jones.

While talking and eating, he also smoked two big cigars. He had ordered frankfurters and red cabbage, and it seemed almost inevitable that he would eat a cigar and try to light a frankfurter. Didn't though, and probably wouldn't have known the difference anyway. Lubitsch smokes from 15 to 20 cigars a day and is conditioned to them by heredity. His father almost died of nicotine poisoning.

* * *

His Next Will Be Comedy

By prodding Mr. Lubitsch I finally got a few cinematic statements out of him: He believes that "Angel" is a good picture even if he did make it. He welcomes his next directorial assignment as change of pace because it is a comedy. "Bluebeard's English Wife" co-starring Gary Cooper and Claudette Colbert.

He has helped write the scripts of every picture on which he ever worked, even back in the days when his foreign films carried Pola Negri and Emil Jannings to stardom. He likes pictures with social significance, but not preachy ones.

The public, said Lubitsch, thankfully, "does not now want always to laugh and have only happy endings." He would like to direct an intimate-revue type of musical, but fears the fans are getting pretty sick of tap-and-tune shows.

That's about all he had to say. Lubitsch is so modest that he would rather laugh about some of his worst pictures than tell you of his triumphs. And he squirms when you mention the directorial quality which Hollywood calls "the Lubitsch touch." Says he doesn't know what it is.

* * *

He's Generally Right

Grover Jones has an idea, though. He wrote in his magazine: "Lubitsch . . . likes to tell big things through little minds. The butler peeping through a palace keyhole turns and tells the cook that the king has just declared war on the rest of the world. Then in true Lubitschian style, he'll probably add: 'And that means he won't be home for dinner.'

"The-Little-Man-With-The-Big-Cigar is the best script writer in the business, barring nobody. When in doubt about the flow of spoken lines, he sits at the piano and improvises. 'When it sounds like this,' he says, running his fingers over the keys, 'it'll be just what I want.' And he's generally right."

A prehistoric dragonfly, uncovered in Kansas, is believed to be a representative of the largest species of insects that ever inhabited the earth. It lived in the Permian Age, about 180,000,000 years ago, at a time when there were no birds or mammals in existence.

The Cares That Infest The Day

Congress Must Follow FDR, Or A New Party Will Be Formed, Senator LaFollette Says

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of six articles written by outstanding members of Congress and giving both the "pro" and the "con" of the administration's plans for future America's political and economic systems. The articles were arranged by Rodney Dutcher, Journal Washington correspondent, who is enjoying a vacation while statesmen do his work!

BY SEN. ROBERT LAFOLLETTE
Written Exclusively For The Journal and NEA Service, Inc.

Before we can decide where we go from here we must take our bearings and determine just where we are. Lincoln long ago admonished us that "if we first know where we are and whither we are tending, we could then better judge what to do and how to do it."

The essential of determining where we are is to understand that the economic crisis through which we are passing is not a mere phase of the business cycle. It is the end of an economic era dominated by the pryaical expansion of the frontier. In the throes of our greatest depression we are becoming conscious for the first time of great changes which have already occurred and are continuing to occur in the economic life of our nation.

LaFollette

Immigration has stopped. Natural population growth is slowing down. Free land has disappeared. Economic nationalism is closing economic opportunity in foreign trade.

All these things have resulted in a curtailment of individual economic opportunity which presents fundamental problems for solution. Speaking in broad terms, those problems require us to apply the same intelligence to the creation of a measure of equality of economic opportunity as the generation of the Revolution of 1776 had to apply to the problem of creating a measure of equality of political opportunity.

While the American people have always been vigilant against governmental tyranny, they have been slow to observe a greater tyranny in the growth of unrestrained private economic power over the life, property, and labor of a once free people.

* * *

Two Major Objectives

It seems perfectly clear to me that we have two primary objectives in the near future — (1) to increase the national income, and (2) to secure a more equitable distribution of it as it is produced from year to year.

The Roosevelt administration and its supporters have taken certain minimum steps in the general direction of those objectives. What the country is now going through from a political standpoint is a decision whether the administration and its supporters are going to be able to carry forward with other measures to the full attainment of these objectives.

The Supreme court fight, in my judgment, was just one of many such measures — but a very necessary one because upon its substantial success turned the legal freedom of a democracy to move toward its goals. Beneath a surface fight over the reorganization of courts lay a deeper issue — whether today and tomorrow the people are to have the power under a democratic form of government to make their expressed will the law of the land.

In attaining the two fundamental objectives I have outlined — the increase and the better distribution of national income — farm legislation, wage and hours legislation, collective bargaining legislation, are important.

But from the beginning I have believed that the most effective instrumentality of all for adjusting the creation and distribution of income is public employment on useful projects which can be expanded or contracted as other factors in the business cycle dictate and thus act as a governor for our economic system. Hand in hand with this adjustable employment should go a free use of the tax mechanism to drain off unexpendable income and force it out at the bottom.

The present economic crisis raises fundamental issues which are forcing a political realignment. It will bring a clean-cut distinction between the reactionaries who favor maintaining the status quo at all costs, and progressives who believe we must solve our problems — between those who think it is the function of government to hold the gains of the few and those who think it is the function of the government to advance the welfare of the many.

* * *

Will Of The People

The last election gave a clear mandate to President Roosevelt and his supporters to press forward and not turn back. The vote in the election was not a mere approval of what had been done, but was a demand to go further in an attempt to meet these two major objectives.

The economic royalists have managed to divide this Congress sufficiently to obstruct the fulfillment of the 1936 election pledges.

One or two things is going to happen. Either this mandate will be carried out by the administration, or the people will forge a new political instrumentality to accomplish their will — as they have done before.

In any great democracy there must be party leadership and party responsibility. In 1936 the Democratic party accepted the program of the New Deal and the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt. What the country overwhelmingly endorsed was not the party but that program and that leadership.

The country has not endorsed the leadership of the bi-partisan majority of the senate judiciary committee or of the bi-partisan group which controls the House rules committee.

The country will not long accept party-labels in lieu of party principles, or fulsome praise of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the man, in lieu of honest and heartfelt devotion to the New Deal principles to which he has devoted and on the basis of which the majority party was returned to power.

The failure of this session of Congress to achieve major objectives will not be accepted by the millions of progressives who voted for the President in 1936 as final proof that the control of Congress has been permanently captured by a combination of reactionaries in the Democratic and Republican parties. But if in the coming sessions of Congress the majority political party does not carry out the mandate of the 1936 election it will hasten the political alignment so essential to the effective functioning of the democratic processes.

NEXT: Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Massachusetts "Young Guard" Republican, outlines the course his party must follow if it is to regain power, and gives his opinion of major New Deal legislation.

Bankhead Scores 'Theorists' On Cotton Loans

(By The Associated Press)

JASPER, Ala., Sept. 7—Government "theorists" were charged by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) today with a "deliberate effort" to lower cotton prices as Southern farm groups sought a way to bolster growers' returns from the staple.

Bankhead, disappointed that the federal price-pegging plan did not offer loans of 10 cents a pound on cotton and that adjustment payments will be made only on 65 per cent of the base production, urged farmers to put their cotton in a holding pool financed by the government 9-cent loans to await better prices.

To Objectives Set

"The loan plan," he charged, "was worked out by departmental theorists to accomplish two definite objectives: first, to reduce the price so as to bring about larger exports of cotton; second, to make the loan so unattractive that few farmers would put cotton under a government loan."

A spokesman for Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in Washington replied with the assertion that the sole purpose of the loan—subsidy program was "to increase the income of the cotton farmer."

Spokesman Defends Plan

"Loans," the spokesman added, "were made low enough to allow cotton to move freely in trade. We have found that when loans are fixed too high the government accumulates cotton, exports are reduced and more harm than good results."

At a meeting this week-end, the southern agriculture commissioners adopted resolutions demanding parity payments on all this years predicted crop of more than 15,000,000 bales and a revision of the loan plan.

From other sections of the South voices were raised against the government decision against loans of 10 cents or above and failure to cover the entire base production with subsidy payments.

Shanghai Battle

Japanese offensive gainst Machang, strategic Chinese stronghold 30 miles south of Tientsin.

On the south Sir Frederick Maze, British inspector general of Chinese customs, confirmed the deliberate bombing by Japanese planes of two British-commanded customs boats off the city of Ningpo, in Chekiang province 60 miles from Shanghai.

Sir Frederick said both vessels were riddled with shrapnel and that their crews were machine-gunned. Not only were the lives of two British commanders imperilled, he charged, but also six seamen were wounded and one was drowned.

The manner in which Walker boasted of keeping off the direct relief rolls impressed Connally, and on returning to Washington in December he got in touch with Senators Bone and Schwellenbach of Washington and asked them to help obtain a WPA job for the man.

He got a job and wrote Connally:

High Cost Of Living Back To Plague U. S. Public Again

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — The high cost of living, a problem which faded out of the picture in depression times, is returning to plague government and public.

Government officials blame business; business criticizes government policy, points to the tax burden and to higher costs, including wage increases. Labor chimes in with an argument that wages are not increasing fast enough to keep pace with prices.

The latest official to be heard from is D. E. Montgomery, AAA consumers' counsel, who suggested today that consumers might perform a "real public service" by conducting a buyers' strike to "end this alarming steady increase in prices."

The American Federation of Labor declared:

"Rising cost of living make wage increases urgent. Any worker whose pay envelope this fall will be forced to a lower living standard. Living costs in July were already 4.3 per cent above 1936."

Montgomery declared that one "frightening thing" about the present picture is the "reported tremendous volume of installment buying." He estimated the installment credits outstanding have increased from $6,000,000,000 in 1929 to $9,000,000,000 at present.

Baruch Says Europe 'Dominated By Fear'

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch returned from Europe today on the Cunard liner Queen Mary with a picture of the world as a "tinder box dominated by fear."

"People do not hope any more, they only fear," said the financier. "However, I would not venture any opinion as to the possibility of a general European war.

"England and France are arming because the dictator countries have been arming. The dictators represent lean and hungry countries that claim they need access to raw materials. And on the one hand, they want an increased population, but, on the other, say that they need room to expand because of the size of their population."

Baruch added "the story of access to raw materials is the biggest hokum in the world."

Garbo Mystery

had heard, naturally, of Miss Garbo's closed sets and an intimation that actors and crew walked on tiptoes in a morgue-like atmosphere.

It was not like this at all, Boyer found.

It was not like this at all, Boyer found.

"The humblest workman, it was evident, had been with Miss Garbo for a long time," he said. "There was a feeling of congeniality of friendly interest of complete ease. The usual tension at the start of a picture was lacking—and it was Miss Garbo who was responsible.

"She had a warm welcome for everyone, and was particularly kind in her efforts to make me feel comfortable and at home."

Boyer said that the Swede's actions were not those of a famous actress, she was "just folks," eager to play baseball with the director and cameraman between scenes, laughing considerably and talking a lot.

Sixty-six pints of home brew were taken from one residence and 95 from another, said John W. Lemond, deputy constable, who with O. E. Rush and Melvin Alvey of the police department and Fort made the raids Monday night.

Gaston Coon, 23, and W. C. Charlie Davis, 30, charged with burglary, remained in county jail in default of $1,000 bond each.

Bonds of $250 each were posted Monday in cases of liquor law violation filed against Jim Golden and a son, Ruel Golden, and Amanda Maxwell, a negro woman, said Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff.

Issues Of Today Cut Party Lines

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 7 — Governor Philip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin predicted today the rise of a new national political alignment by 1940 from the vitality and liberalism of the Middle West.

Speaking at a Labor day celebration marking the 50th anniversary of the Omaha Central Labor union, the Badger state governor declared if American democracy is to live and function "there must be a political realignment that will give the American people a real choice between progressive and reactionary government."

Transcended Old Party Lines

LaFollette, titular head of Wisconsin's Progressive party, said President Roosevelt was re-elected "by the largest majority in our history in 1936 because the people responded to his leadership and policies which transcended old partisan lines.

"The American people can no longer be herded into political lines formed on the issues of the Civil war. They demand an alignment based on the issues of today," he declared.

"Realignment already has begun in America. The development will continues until reactionaries are in one camp and progressives in another. Political alignment that enables politicians to be liberals before election and reactionaries afterwards must end.

By next year in many states and by 1940 in the nation, the old guard of both parties will be on one side and the progressives on the other.

than one contested civil case a day during the six weeks of the term set aside for matters of that kind. Several of the cases will require several days for disposition should the trials proceed as scheduled, court officials said.

Indications are, however, that the criminal docket may be comparatively light, although most of the weeks of Sept. 20 and Oct. 4 probably will be required for disposition of pending cases.

CRIMM TO LAMESA

LAMESA, Special — Rev. R. B. Crimm, well known cowboy evangelist, will open a tent revival meeting here Monday. H. M. Powell will conduct singing and Jewell Spencer, an Indian pianist, is in the party. Two services will be held daily, 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

SENT TO STATE OFFICE

LAMESA, (Special) — A parks recreation project sponsored by Lamesa, has been sent to the state WPA office at San Antonio for final approval. The program will be similar to one now operating in Lubbock and is expected to meet with state approval.

GROCERY IS OPENED

SUDAN, (Special)—C. R. Porter of Lubbock has leased the Allen grocery building and installed new fixtures. He had the formal opening of his grocery last week.

Treasury Plan Discontinued

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau curtailed a treasury borrowing program today, explaining that "we have enough money on hand."

He also told reporters that holders of $817,000,000 of 3 1-4 per cent federal notes maturing September 15 would be offered a choice of two exchange issues—1 1-4 per cent 15-month notes or 2 per cent five-year notes.

Issues Discontinued

Discontinuing the treasury's weekly sales of $50,000,000 in discount bills, the secretary said he had decided to discontinue these issues.

Sold in anticipation of fourth-quarter tax receipts December 15, recent issues have aggregated $450,000,000. The treasury originally had announced the series would total $500,000,000.

We won't need as much money as we thought," Morgenthau said.

He reported that expenditures for "recovery and relief" thus far this fiscal year have dropped about one-third under last year.

Exclusive of a drop in repayments to lending agencies, he said federal finances have improved over last year.

Thompson Victor In Chess Tournament

J. C. Thompson of Dallas won the championship flight after a three-day chess tournament of the Texas Chess association here in which 26 players registered.

Edgar Hartsfield of Dallas who was making a good showing in the early stages of the game Monday, dropped to fourth place. C. Villareal of San Antonio and C. W. Manney of Tuscon, Ariz., tied for second and third places.

Dr. R. S. Underwood of Lubbock took first honors in the class A division with six wins and a loss. He is outgoing president of the organization. Other winners were: N. D. Naman of Houston, second with 5 1-2; Charles Trustman of El Paso, third with 5; and W. M. Padgett of Tyler, fourth with 4.

Games in class B competition were completed with Frank Scott of El Paso winning first place, Kenneth Hackney of Dallas second, and W. E. Joor of Tyler, third.

The chess organization began its session here at noon Saturday with a business session in which Waco was selected as the meeting place next year, and it was voted to extend membership to other southwestern states. New officers elected at the meeting are Ben Milam of Waco, president, and J. C. Thompson of Dallas, vice-president.

Twenty-eight chess players registered, and prizes offered in the three main contests, championship class A, and class B, were $60, $25, and $15.

Jenny Lind realized net receipts of $176,675.09 from her American concert tour under the management of P. T. Barnum.

Lubbock Back On A Normal Schedule After Holiday

Lubbock returned to normal schedule today after a quiet observance Monday of Labor day by the few official offices and businesses which were closed.

Banks, most postoffice and other federal officers, several offices at the courthouse and a few business houses employing union labor were those who observed the day.

It was first Monday, and school started, either one of which meant added work and business for Lubbock's merchants and their employes. Likewise district officers were busy with an eight weeks' term of court starting Monday morning.

Offices of county clerk, county assessor and collector, and county auditor were closed. The postoffice department operated with a curtailed schedule. Government agencies observed the national holiday. City offices remained open.

Canada exported cheese to the value of $6,789,000 during 1935.

Allen Funeral Services Are Held At Petersburg Today

PETERSBURG, Sept. 7 (Special)—Last rites for J. W. Allen, 80, pioneer Hale county rancher, were conducted at the First Baptist church here this morning. Rev. G. I. Britton of Plainview and Reverend Hughes of Petersburg were in charge.

He died Monday morning after a week's illness in a sanitarium at Lubbock of an intestinal obstruction. He had been a resident of the Petersburg area since 1873. He lived at Emma in Crosbyton county several years.

When he came to the Plains 61 years ago, the only settlement was the Quaker colony at Estacado. After a year he was married to Lilia Dillard.

He helped to organize Lubbock, Crosby and Floyd counties and the town of Emma. He was one of the first commissioners of Lubbock county.

Burial was in the Petersburg cemetery with Rix Funeral home of Lubbock in charge.

He is survived by seven sons, Roy of Stratford, Ben F. of Abilene, John of Evant, Ira J., of Houston, Wesley of Jal, N. M., Andres of Nashville, Tenn., and Hollis of Petersburg; a daughter, Mrs. Grace Pitts of Denton; and 16 grandchildren.

His sons were pallbearers. All eight children were here to attend rites.

Work Of Jury Opens Today

Grand jury for the September term of 99th district court resumed session today with the prospect of completing most of its work before end of the week after having been impaneled Monday by Judge E. L. Pitts.

District Clerk Floyd Jackson was informed by the members of the jury they probably will recess for the week-end if their immediate task is not completed by that time. Final adjournment will not be taken until near the end of the eight-weeks' court term.

Assistant District Attorney Victor H. Lindsey is representing his department before the jury while District Attorney Burton S. Burks is performing a similar function for the grand jury of 72nd district court at Levelland.

Pitts Delivers Brief Charge

Judge Pitts followed strict routine in impaneling the grand jury, delivering a brief charge before the group began its work on the second floor of the courthouse.

R. F. Bayless of Lubbock was named foreman of the jury, members of which are: Harry Morris, R. O. Short, Lonnie Williams, A. W. McKee and Joe Nislar, all of Lubbock; C. U. James of Lubbock, route 3; E. N. Pickens of Slaton; Marvin Winniford of Slaton, route 2; G. K. Bullock of Becton; Ray Pinson of Abernathy; and Bailey Guest of Idalou.

Three Are Excused

Three members of the jury panel of 16 excused were J. C. Burton and A. Kessell of Slaton and F. W. Groce of Lubbock. Another member, C. S. Wilson of Slaton, according to information to court officials, did not receive his summons.

Pinson, a druggist, and Guest, a mayor of Idalou, each asked that he be excused because of pressing duties but each agreed to serve when informed that without them, there would be insufficient members of the panel remaining to complete a jury.

Laughter swept the courtroom when Guest suggested that his position as mayor of Idalou might give him a legal excuse to escape service.

"There Might Be A Riot"

"There might be a riot in Idalou," he remarked.

Judge Pitts, required only a few minutes for delivery of his instructions, suggesting that the grand jury confine its work as far as possible to felony cases. He added that work awaiting attention of the jurors was comparatively brief and that their sessions probably will not be lenghty.

In accordance with the custom Judge Pitts established when he was elevated to the district judgeship, he preceded all other business pending in court with a brief devotional at which Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of the First Methodist church, spoke briefly and then prayed.

Early Approval For Action On Highway Is Promised

Early approval has been promised by members of the state highway commission for improvement of state highway 24 between Levelland and Whiteface, according to information to district WPA officials here Monday by County Judge Alvin R. Allison of Hockley county.

Completion of the work, officials explained, will mean a paved highway from Lubbock to the New Mexico line.

Several months, at the earliest, will elapse before the work can be finished. It first must be approved as a WPA project to be followed by grading, drainage and the laying of caliche base. It will be surfaced after the base has been given opportunity to set.
