Snow Blankets Panhandle Area

BETWEEN THREE AND FOUR INCH SNOW AT CHILDRESS WITH FALL GENERAL OVER PLAINS SECTION

(By Associated Press)

Snow blanketed a large portion of the Panhandle and North Texas today, bringing more needed moisture to the dry lands.

Pampa awoke to find a white mantle over the ground, and snow still falling heavily. Activities in the oil fields were partly suspended because of the cold.

Between three and four inches of snow had fallen at Childress, following a light rain. The flakes were melting rapidly, but were falling so thickly they covered the warm ground. Slow rains amounting to an inch have fallen in the lower Panhandle within the last 10 days.

The first snow of the season fell in Vernon this morning after a light rain during the night, bringing total precipitation for the week to more than an inch. The mercury stood well above the freezing mark, and the flakes melted as rapidly as they fell.

Matador, Wellington, Memphis and other towns in the lower Panhandle reported the snow fall up to 9 o'clock this morning had amounted to six inches. No damage is being done to livestock as cattle are in a good condition. The wet snow, however, which is falling in a temperature above freezing, promises aid to the wheat crop.

A light snow started falling here shortly before noon Thursday but melted on striking the damp ground.

Snow and below freezing weather with high north winds in both Oklahoma and the Panhandle Thursday morning indicated that Wichita Falls would soon be in the grip of another cold wave.

Rainfall here since 5 p. m. Wednesday was .23 of an inch. The

HUNT, ACCOMPLICE, SEEMS DOWNCAST OVER FUTURE

Hickman Winks at Scribes as Attorneys Question Jury at Opening of Trial.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16. (AP)—Attorneys for William Edward Hickman today filed written notice of appeal to the state supreme court from the death sentence imposed for the kidnaping and murder of Marian Parker.

The notice was filed at the opening of today's session of his joint trial with Welby Hunt, in which they are accused of killing C. Ivy Toms, a druggist, in a holdup.

The round of questioning of prospective jurors for the Hickman-Hunt trial then got under way.

Genial and soft-spoken, Judge Elliott Craig questioned the jurors for any possible objection to the inflicting of the death penalty.

Almost listlessly the attorneys took up the interrogation. Hunt's counsel attempted to determine no prejudice attached to the boy because of his association with the slayer of Marian Parker.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16. (AP)—Attorneys defending William Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt in their trial for the murder of C. Ivy Toms, suburban druggist, expected to complete a jury today—one composed mostly of women.

The opening session of the trial ended yesterday with nine women and three men tentatively chosen.

Chief Defense Counsel Jerome Walsh indicated he might employ all of the 30 challenges before accepting the jury. He already had used eight of these. On the other side, the prosecution attorney, For-

Will Rogers News Digest

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 15.—See where the Pan-American conference is to break up next Monday. A lot of people feel discouraged that there was no more accomplished, but I tell you the United States did mighty well; they didn't give up anything and any time we can attend a conference and come out as good as we went in why we are ahead. They will quit holding conferences the minute they find we are not going to give any more than any other nation. A conference is a place where countries meet and find out each others shortcomings and form new dislikes fo the new conferences.

State Puts on Surprise Witness Trial of Former Texas Physician Held for Murder of Rich Widow

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16. (AP)—Mrs. Grace Spies, Chicago apartment house manager, testified today in the murder trial of Dr. Charles H. McMillan that he had tried to choke Mrs. Amelia Appleby last August. McMillan is charged with killing Mrs. Appleby here, sewing her body in a sack and throwing it alongside the San Fernando highway.

Mrs. Spies, a surprise witness sprung by the prosecution, said that the doctor and Mrs. Appleby widow of a wealthy Chicagoan, took apartments in her house last summer.

Hearing screams from the apartment, Mrs. Spies said that she investigated and found Mrs. Appleby sprawled over a day-bed with Dr. McMillan standing menacingly over her.

The witness was not permitted to testify as to what Mrs. Appleby said because Dr. McMillan had left the room on her entrance.

Mrs. Spies, however, demonstrated on the stand a strangling sob which, she said, was similar to the sound which had caused her to use her pass key to enter the room.

On cross examination the witness admitted that Dr. McMillan had "fleeced" her of $30. She said the doctor had leased her a property in Cartersville, Texas, saying she could make a fortune there, but that the property proved virtually valueless.

Another admission was that she came to Los Angeles to testify for the state after repeated attempts to

SINCLAIR BONDS TRACED INTO G. O. P. TREASURY WHEN TEAPOT DOME QUIZZERS QUERY BROKERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—New York brokers were called today before the senate Teapot Dome committee to assist in opening further the trail of the liberty bond profits of the Continental Trading company of Canada.

Joseph F. McMahon, assistant cashier of Potter & Co., testified that in November, 1923, his firm sold $75,000 3½s first liberty bonds for the Empire Trust company of New York.

Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican national committee, had delivered to the Empire Trust $75,000 in bonds to be used in liquidating a note of the Republican political organization. Harry F. Sinclair had made a $75,000 contribution to the national committee and it has now developed that at least $25,000 of the bonds Hays turned over to the Empire originally were owned by the Continental.

McMahon produced records to show that after the sale of the bonds, Potter and company made out a check for the proceeds, $74,718.87, to the order of T. Coleman Du Pont, then chairman of the board of the Empire Trust, to whom Hays delivered them in the first instance.

Asked how C. F. Childs and company, another New York brokerage firm, got into the transaction, McMahon said the bonds were sold to the firm, which specialized in handling federal and municipal bonds.

"Did you frequently handle bonds for T. C. Du Pont?" asked Senator Walsh of Montana.

"Not for Du Pont, but frequently for the Empire Trust company," McMahon replied.

James Bernieri, of Childs and company, told the committee of the purchase of the bonds from Potter and company on November 30, 1923. He presented the number record of the bonds which were checked against the list of the Continental bonds in the committee's possession.

Radio Sputters Out Message From Explorer in Polar Sea

The Associated Press has interviewed by radio Commander Donald B. MacMillan, head of the Greenland expedition of the Field Museum, Chicago, now wintering at Bowdoin Harbor, Field Bay, Northern Labrador.

Questions put to Commander MacMillan concerning the expedition's scientific work during the winter months, and the explorer's answers, framed in the following dispatch, were transmitted between station WNP on the Bowdoin, the expedition's ship, and station 1XV, experimental station of Massachusetts Institute of Technology at South Dartmouth, Mass. A wave length of 20 meters was used.

The operator with the MacMillan party is Clifford E. Hinde of Glendale, Calif., a technology student on leave of absence. C. G. MacIntosh, a research student, handled the Massachusetts end of the communication.

BOWDOIN HARBOR, Field Bay, Northern Labrador, Feb. 16.—(By Radio to the Associated Press through Massachusetts Institute of Technology.)—The Rawson MacMillan Field Museum expedition established winter quarters and a permanent scientific station at Bowdoin Harbor, Field Bay, Northern Labrador, for the purpose of studying the meteorology, geology, botany, zoology and anthropology of this region, which is unknown scientifically, though the winter months are unfavorable for obvious reasons for studying many of the above subjects, yet we have made considerable progress and are daily bringing in results which will be of great interest to scientists at home.

Our greatest work thus far has been done in anthropology. Dr. Duncan Strong of the Field Museum, Chicago, is now living with the Mascopie Indians. The first scientist to enjoy this privilege. Harris Bell, his lawyer, said that he had not be successful in having his $5000 bond reduced and that he intended to ask John D. Hartman, United States district attorney in San Antonio for an examining trial.

W. Trenckmann, United States commissioner here explained that Dr. Trotzky's bond was set at such a high figure because federal authorities are investigating the prisoner's past.

INDIANA EXECUTIVE'S COUNSEL PLEADS LAW OF LIMITATIONS IN MOVE FOR HIS ACQUITTAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 16. (AP)—Declaring that he believed the state had failed to prove its case against Governor Ed Jackson, but withholding decision until 2 o'clock this afternoon, Judge Charles M. McCabe, in criminal court today, took under advisement a defense motion of a directed verdict of not guilty. Jackson is charged with conspiracy to commit a felony in attempt to bribe.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 16. (AP) The state rested its case against Gov. Ed Jackson at 9:11 o'clock this morning.

Shortly after the state had closed its case defense attorneys presented a motion asking Judge Charles M. McCabe to direct a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the prosecution had failed to produce sufficient evidence to prove the governor guilty. He is charged with conspiracy to commit a felony in an attempt to bribe.

Harry McGlenn, an investigator for the Marion county prosecutor's office was the state's only witness today. He told of having seen Robert W. Lyons, a Richmond, Ind., attorney and former financial agent for the Ku Klux Klan, in a Dayton, Ohio, hospital last Friday. Lyons was to have been a state witness. The prosecution in testimony introduced yesterday sought to show

BODIES OF MISSING DEPUTIES LOCATED ON INDIANA FARM

DANVILLE, Ill., Feb. 16. (AP)—A nine-day search for two deputy sheriffs, who disappeared February 7 while taking two youthful prisoners from Lafayette to the Pendleton, Ind., state reformatory, ended today in a woods near the village of Foster, Ind., where the bodies of the officers were found lying side by side, covered with an automobile robe. The skulls of the two officers had been crushed in the back.

The bodies of the deputies, fully clothed and with limbs carefully straightened, were discovered by three farmers walking through the woods. The bodies were not moved pending the arrival of authorities.

The deputies, John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, left Lafayette February 7 in an automobile in charge of John Burns and Samuel Baxter, youths committed to the state reformatory at Pendleton. The officers and their prisoners did not arrive at Pendleton and for nine days a search has been in progress for them.

The automobile in which the trip was started, a bullet hole in the windshield, was found in Decatur and an investigation led to reports that pistols and money had been smuggled to the youths just before they started the trip with the deputies.

Several youths answering the general description of the escaped prisoners have been arrested in various sections of the country and later released when they were found not to be the ones wanted. Only a short time before the bodies of the deputies were found two youths held by St. Clairsville, Ohio, through comparison of finger prints were found to have no connection with the case, although first reports had indicated they were the missing prisoners.

INTERVENTION ISSUE TO BE DODGED BY PARLEY

Adjournment of Pan-America Congress Definitely Set for Next Monday.

HAVANA, Feb. 16. (AP)—Amid applause the Pan-American union committee completed this morning its labors, approving the final draft convention designed henceforth to regulate the activities of the union.

The Argentine delegates were the only members of the committee absent from the meeting, in keeping with Honorio Pueyrredon's announced intention not to approve a convention which did not contain direct reference to the reduction or abolition of excessive tariffs in inter-American commerce.

HAVANA, Feb. 16. (AP)—In the determination that the Pan-American union should not be among the unfinished business of the Pan-American congress when it adjourns Monday, an extraordinary meeting of the Pan-American union committee was called for today.

The report of a sub-committee was awaited on both the actual wording of the convention and upon the draft of a resolution to provide a modus vivendi for the Pan-American union until the convention which is intended to regulate its activities should be ratified by all the 21 republics of this hemisphere.

The sub-committee included in its membership Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, Argentina, who was absent from the union committee meeting yesterday. It was rumored that he had resigned both as delegate of Argentina to the conference and ambassador to Washington.

Argentine Chief Silent

Dr. Pueyrredon refused to confirm or deny these rumors. He said his absence was due to the fact that he could have said nothing the committee had not already heard.

STATE CLOSES IN GOVERNOR'S TRIAL

that Lyons was a participant in a conversation in which Jackson took part when an alleged plan to attempt to bribe former Governor Warren T. McCray in 1923 was formulated.

Unlike yesterday, when crowds stormed the court room, there were few spectators at today's proceedings.

The jury was taken from the court room while the attorneys argued the defense motion.

Under the statute of limitations, it had been argued that the state did not have a case unless it proved concealment of the alleged crime. The men under indictment, Governor Jackson, George V. Coffin, Marion county Republican chairman and Robert I. Marsh, a local attorney, would have had to have been indicted within two years after commission of the alleged crime in accordance with the limitations statute.

The Jackson indictment, however, charged that the case could be tried because a conspiracy had existed to keep the alleged crime concealed.

FORMER INDIANA GOVERNOR TESTIFIES AGAINST ACCUSED

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16. (AP)—James E. McDonald, so much talked about and so little seen, has proved the real mystery man of the trial of Governor Ed Jackson now in progress.

It was to gain McDonald's appointment as Marion county prosecutor in 1923 that Jackson and others are alleged to have conspired to offer Warren T. McCray, then governor, $10,000 and a guarantee of immunity from court conviction on pending embezzlement charges. McDonald was held to be the choice of Jackson and others including George V. Coffin, Marion county Republican chairman; Robert W. Lyons, Richmond, former financial agent of the Ku Klux Klan, and D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the klan.

Robert I. Marsh, former klan attorney, and Coffin were indicted with Jackson but will be tried later.

McDonald Silent Man

Throughout all the preliminaries to the governor's trial and so far during the case proper, McDonald has been daily grinding away at his duties in the municipal court as a deputy prosecutor. A quiet young man, he has not discussed the court drama of which he has been a part, though not a witness.

The course the defense might take when the state rested its case was a foremost question today. The prosecution cannot stop at proving a crime to keep the case in the hands of the jury, Special Judge Charles M. McCabe ruled yesterday. Under the statute of limitations Jackson and others would have had to have been indicted within two years of the alleged commission of the offense. The indictment on which Jackson is being tried was returned nearly four years afterward, on the contention that a conspiracy had existed until last summer to conceal the alleged crime.

The impression has been gained that as soon as the state has rested its case the defense will ask Judge McCabe to take the case from the jury on the ground that no concealment has been proved. Failing at that, it would put its witnesses on the stand.

Today was the seventh day of the trial. The prosecution presented most of its evidence to the jury yesterday through the testimony of former Governor McCray; his son-in-law, William P. Evans; D. C. Stephenson, now serving a life term in the state prison for murder and James W. Noel, a local attorney.

The testimony presented by McCray and Evans was similar—that Jackson personally made the alleged proposition to the then governor. Stephenson said he furnished the $10,000 and Noel told of Stephenson's visiting him and asking him to put the matter before McCray.

McCray, 63 years old, appeared feeble and was helped to the stand by a court attache. He testified that Fred B. Robinson, his former campaign manager first came to him in his office in 1923 and presented the proposition to him. McCray said that after he refused, Robinson left for the office of Jackson, who was then secretary of state and that a short while later Jackson himself came to his office and offered him $10,000 if he would appoint McDonald.

Jackson said control of the Marion county prosecutor's office would mean 10,000 votes for him in his campaign for governor, McCray testified.

lon convention in its preamble should commit the union to the discussion of economic barriers to trade in the Americas. The preamble as approved contained no such provision.

The sub-committee was instructed to select from the draft convention those clauses needing immediate application to allow the union to function according to views expressed at the present congress.

Harmony Hoped For

It was hoped that a resolution might be prepared from these which would receive the unanimous approval of the congress. It would thus correspond to the unanimous resolutions of previous congresses under which the union has been functioning.

This resolution would be especially useful if the convention should fail of ratification by any of the countries which helped to draw it up and therefore never become effective.

The committee on public international law, also meeting today, had before it a number of reports from sub-committees. These included draft conventions on rights and privileges of diplomatic agents, on maritime neutrality, on asylum, on obligations of states in event of civil war, on the pacific settlement of international disputes and on the modalities to surround the conclusion and interpretation of treaties.

Intervention Sidetracked

Belief that adjournment of the conference would involve oblivion as far as the present congress was concerned of the disputed point regarding the right of one state to intervene in the internal affairs of another received a jolt when a meeting of the sub-committee considering that point was called.

It was understood that some of the members of the committee considered that, while it was proper for committees to announce that they were unable to conclude their labors, all sub-committees should have reported to their full committees before the end of the conference.

Issue May Revive

It seemed possible, therefore, that the subject of intervention might rise again before the conference in open session with all the sharp debate which follows the introduction of the matter.

The rumor of Dr. Pueyrredon's resignation has added a new factor to the domestic politics of Argentina.

The party of former President Hipolito Yrigoyen, under whom Dr. Pueyrredon was foreign minister, has set February 24 for its convention to formulate election policies and select its candidates. Some political gossip in Buenos Aires has assigned Dr. Pueyrredon first place on the party ticket, but majority opinion did not regard this as possible. Speculation has arisen as to whether the ambassador may not again receive a cabinet portfolio if his party is successful.

The possibility also has been discussed in Buenos Aires that Argentina may withdraw from the Pan-American union if Yrigoyen is elected president. It was during Yrigoyen's incumbency that Argentina withdrew from the League of Nations.

As soon as farmers become accustomed to sending their milk to the factory and after milk cans which have been ordered arrive here for the dairymen, the quantity of milk sent in each day should steadily increase, Mr. Teissler said.

RADIO SPUTTERS ARCTIC MESSAGE

tle has ever been written concerning their life, and this little largely inaccurate. Two families are now in camp here at our station, giving us an unusual opportunity for observation.

Our home, a fine large, comfortable building with electric lights, radio and motion pictures is the mecca for all Eskimos. A few days ago we entertained 36 over Sunday. Hardly a day passes without the arrival of at least one dog team. From the natives our scientists are learning much about the bird and animal life; much that is contradictory to information given out by our best authorities.

We have found sites of many old Eskimo villages which have never been excavated. Also ruins of the so-called Runic race. Just who they were no one as yet known. Possibly this race is confused with the Norsemen, who we have every reason to believe visited this coast about 900 years ago. Having studied their houses in Greenland in 1925-26 we have a good knowledge of what we are prepared to find here in Labrador. The ruins found thus far are certainly not Eskimo.

Further work will be done when navigation opens in June when we are planning to cruise north along the Labrador coast and on to Baffin Land to continue our work begun there in 1921 and 1922, when we wintered in Fox Channel and explored the western coast of Baffin Land, and also continue work started on the east coast of Baffin Land in 1926-27.

Our motor car, the first to be seen on this coast, left yesterday on a 100-mile trip to carry our small power boat over the sea ice to the outer islands where it is our present plan to hunt walrus in March. The snowmobile is a sensation wherever it goes. Eskimos and Indians gather around it in wonder and examine every part of it. During the last 19 years we have brought to the Eskimos of Greenland and Labrador the electric light, the telephone, the motion picture, the radio, the airplane, the motorboat and now the motor car. Night after night they listen to broadcasts from New York, Boston, Chicago and dozens of other places. Two years ago we supplied radio sets in the homes of the Moravian missionaries here at Nain and Hopedale. Now they listen in nightly to broadcasts from their homes in Germany and England. You can imagine how much they appreciate what the Americans have done for them.

Our physician and surgeon, Dr. E. K. Langford of Chicago, is of great help on a coast where there is not a single doctor for 200 miles. He has left today by dog team to attend a broken leg 30 miles south.

Work is becoming more interesting every day. When the time comes for leaving for home in September it will only be to prepare for our return in 1929.

SHADOW OF GIBBET IN HICKMAN CASE

rest Murray, stated he did not expect to exercise more than two or three challenges.

Hickman All Smiles

Hickman, who last week was sentenced to hang for murdering Marian Parker, took the opening of his second trial for his life with smiling ease. His gaze roamed about the courtroom, now familiar as the scene in which he was tried and sentenced for killing the 12-year-old girl. Occasionally he grinned, and passed a mischievous wink to newspapermen. His youthful accomplice, not yet 17, on the other hand, was downcast.

With the completion of the jury, Murray stated, a county autopsy surgeon will be called as the first state witness.

He was expected to testify regarding the gunshot wounds suffered by Toms and to the caliber of the bullets which killed him. In their confessions to the slaying each youth had blamed the other for the actual shooting, which occurred when a policeman in the store opened fire. The surgeon will testify, Murray said, that the caliber of bullets was the same as that of the gun Hunt carried.

Mrs. Rose Toms, widow of the slain man and an eye witness of the shooting, will be the second witness.

After these witnesses testify Hunt's attorney, A. Gray Gilmer, will attempt to show that Hickman influenced Hunt to become a criminal. Then Attorneys Walsh and Richard Cantillon, for Hickman, will offer depositions intended to establish the insanity of their client.

Insanity Evidence

The insanity evidence will be followed by state's evidence, in the appearance of alienists, who testified in the previous trial, of the sanity of Hickman. Walsh has indicated he expected to call William T. Hickman, father of the condemned youth, to again testify to the mental condition of Mrs. Eva Hickman and other members of the family.

The jury must return three verdicts, one on the guilt of each defendant, and the thrird on Hickman's sanity. Both entered pleas of not guilty, and the convicted child slayer also entered the additional plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

In this age of Color---
Face Brick is the logical and economical medium of architectural expression!

Color is burned "into" Face Brick and offers unlimited opportunity for making your home reflect your personality

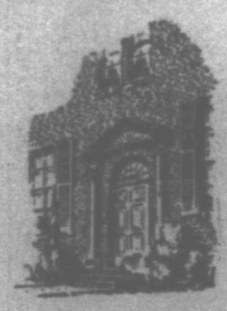

Your home—build it of gorgeously tinted Face Brick and defy the ravages of time—for enduring color has been burned "into" the clay. Age only serves to mellow and soften the artistic effect—to blend it more harmoniously into the landscape—to make it more definitely—Home. In this age of color—Face Brick is your most facile medium of expressing your personality in your home.

What trend of architecture do you prefer? Latin, or Mediterranean types; Colonial, French, English or American design? It really doesn't matter, for Face Brick correctly and effectively interprets period architecture in all its exquisite charm. And in Face Brick you have that comforting assurance that maintenance and depreciation are minimized and values are always stable.

Southwestern manufacturers have complete stocks of graded and classified Face Brick at convenient points for prompt delivery

Face Brick, the material that needs no "cover up," is essentially an American product. It was born of necessity and ingeniously developed by American manufacturers. Face Brick offers permanency, durability and colorful treatment for interiors and exteriors that has no equal. The American architect and builder, in creating striking architectural effects, in interpreting the age-old charm of old-world architecture, has found Face Brick his faithful ally—his best friend. ¶ Manufacturers of Face Brick in the Southwest have kept well in the foreground of progress.

Face Brick in tints and textures equal to any produced in the country are now manufactured from native clays in convenient and accessible points throughout the Southwest. Exquisite and striking blends of Face Brick may be seen by architects or builders, in attractive display rooms throughout the trade territory. ¶ Ample reserve stocks of classified and graded Face Brick are maintained for immediate delivery from modern plants in close proximity to consuming markets, assuring lowest transportation and quickest service.

The entrance to your home may be as intricate and ornate in design, or as simple as you choose. If built of colorful Face Brick, age merely mellows its friendly inviting charm.

This is the first of a series of advertisements on the beauty and adaptability of Face Brick for all types of construction. It is a co-operative, educational effort on the part of leading Southwestern Face Brick manufacturers to create in the mind of those who build, a proper conception of the use of Face Brick for permanent and colorful interiors and exteriors.

A Clever Reply to An Ill-Mannered Pay Envelope

If the contents of your Pay Envelope doesn't believe in making long calls, don't quite despair. After an extensive survey Boston Teachers' College announces that girls earning $22 a week can be well dressed and spend only $210 a year and answers the question of "How do they do it," by retorting, "Knowing how to buy."

There is no especial news in this to the young woman who has learned to shop the "Penney way." Long ago she knew that a new Spring coat need not be a tragedy, nor a new hat or a pair of evening slippers a matter of "hope deferred." Our clothing is not only of excellent quality, but our New York buyers select styles that are practical adaptations of the current mode.

TEXAS ENTITLED TO 20 CONGRESSMEN BY FIGURES OF CENSUS

REAPPORTIONMENT PROPOSAL DRAWN FOR APPROVAL BY CONGRESS

LONE STAR STATE WOULD GAIN TWO EXTRA SEATS

New York Loses Two, Ohio to Gain Three, If Congress Ratifies Measure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—For the third time in the past seven years, a move has been launched in the house to reapportion its membership among the several states on the basis of their increased population since the 1910 census.

Faced by a number of bills proposing methods for the reapportionment, the house census committee is now engaged in hearings on the subject and is expected to report out a measure that will reallocate the membership on the basis of the estimated 1930 census.

Although it is stipulated in the constitution that the reapportionment shall take place with each decennial census, all efforts for its consummation under the 1920 census were deadlocked, one group of representatives opposing any increase of the house membership while others refused to accept the loss of any state's representations.

The proponents of the reapportionment claim that the increased population between 1910 and 1930 has led to wide discrepancies in the representation of a number of states as authorized under the constitution.

Under the bill now under consideration, drawn by the committee chairman, Representative Fenn of Connecticut, the 1930 census reapportionment would make the following changes in the house membership:

Alabama, loss of one representative; Arizona, gain of one; California, gain of six; Connecticut, gain of one; Florida, gain of one, Indiana, loss of two; Iowa, loss of two; Kansas, loss of one; Kentucky, loss of two; Louisiana, loss of one; Maine, loss of one; Massachusetts, loss of one; Michigan, gain of four; Mississippi, loss of two; Missouri, loss of four; Montana, gain of one; Nebraska, loss of one; New Jersey, gain of two; New Mexico, gain of one; New York, loss of two; North Carolina, gain of one; North Dakota, loss of one; Ohio, gain of three; Oklahoma, gain of one; Pennsylvania, loss of one; Tennessee, loss of one; Texas, gain of two; Vermont, loss of one; Virginia, loss of one; Washington, gain of one.

In the 67th congress in 1921 a bill for a reapportionment on the 1920 census calling for an increase from 435 to 460 members in the house was passed but was recommitted on an amendment to make a further increase to 483 members. In the last congress a similar measure to that now before the committee was defeated 197 to 187.

Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

W. B. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

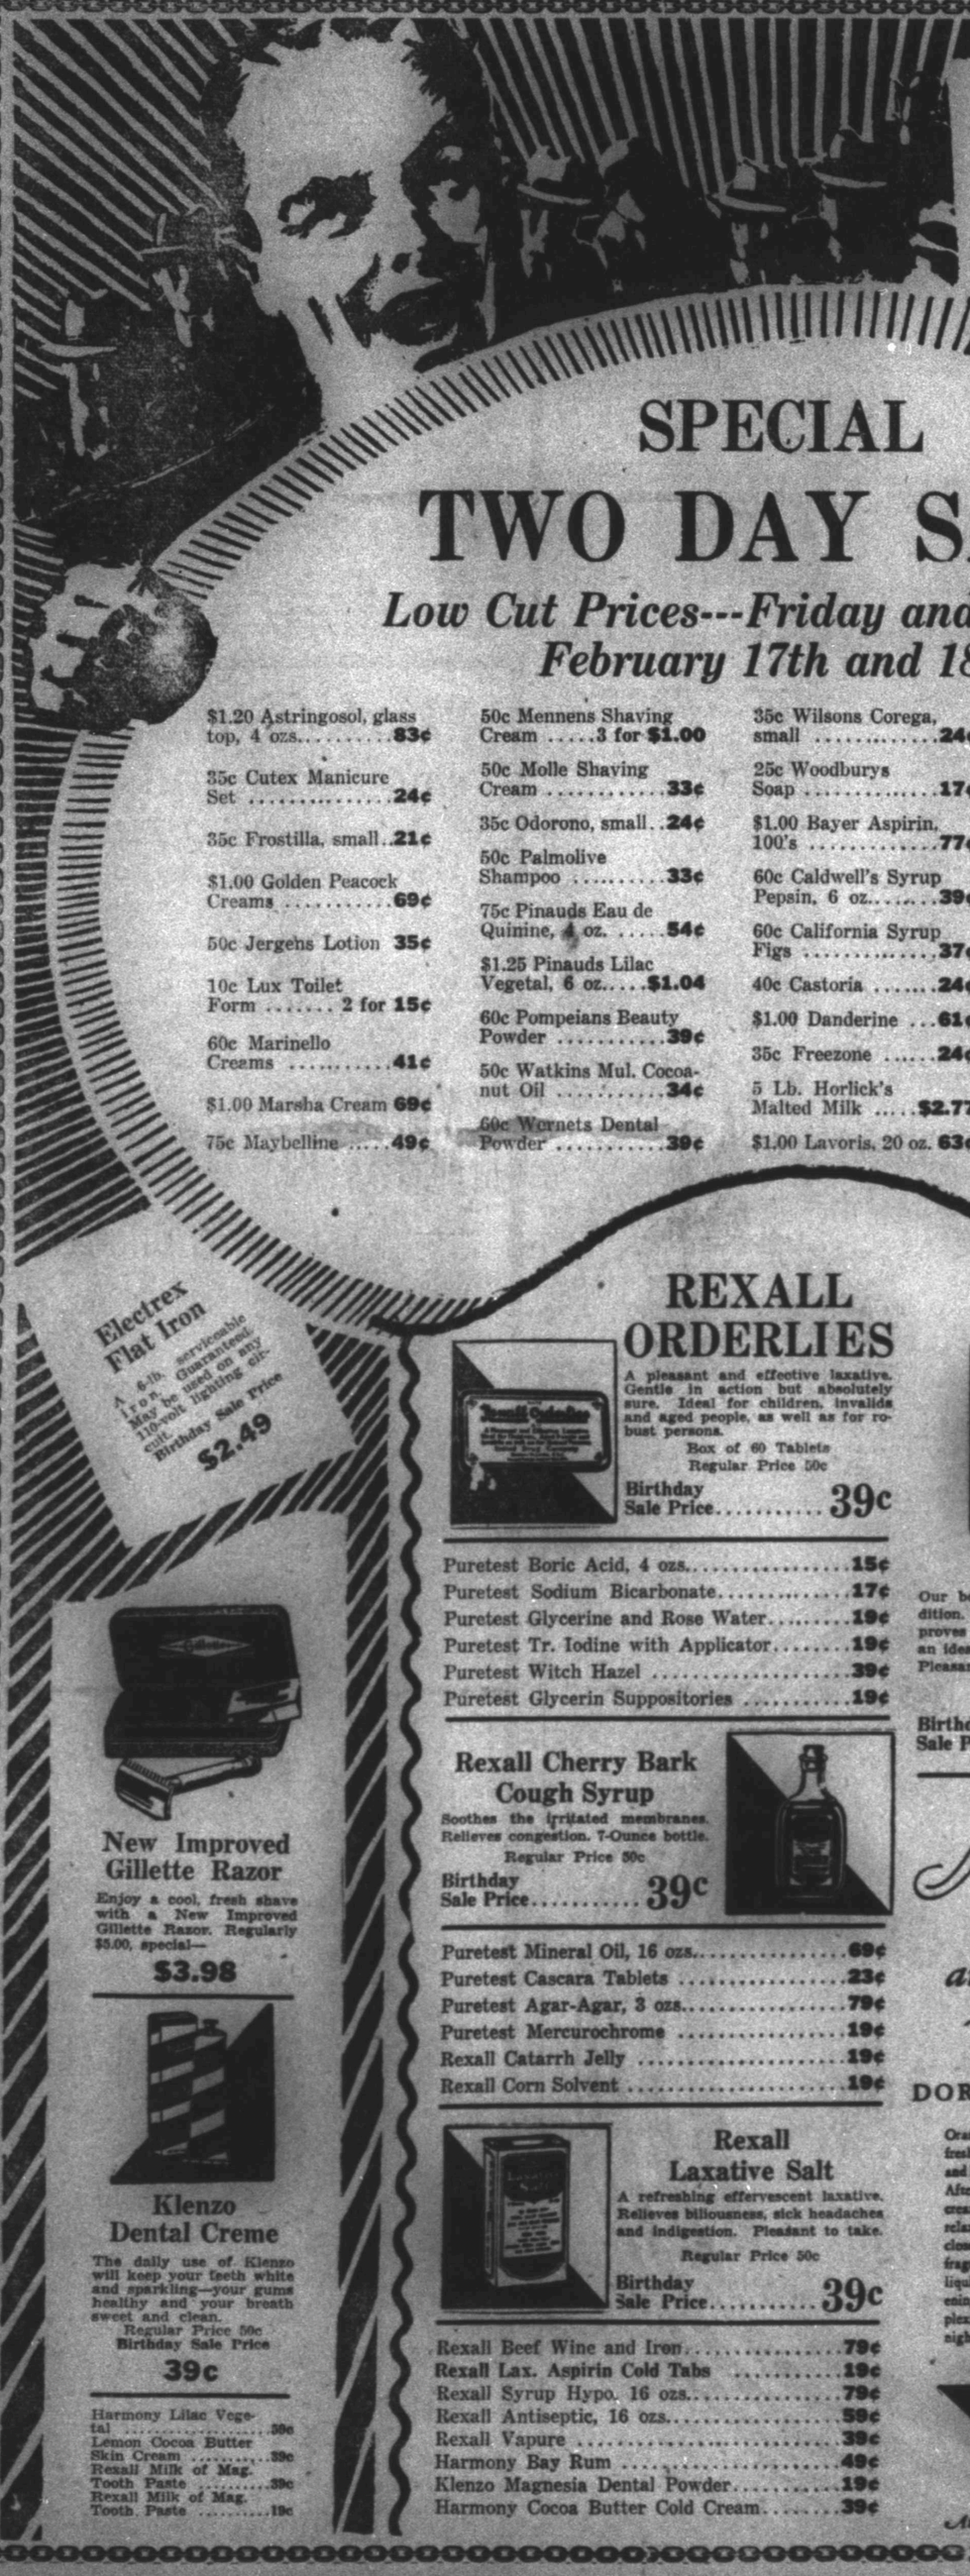

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.—Adv.

The Constant Flame

By Winifred Van Duzer Author of "THE GOOD BAD GIRL," "GOLDEN ROADS," "THRILL HUNTERS" and Other Popular Serials (Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

What Has Happened So Far

Emily Day, daughter of very poor parents, has a great yearning to make a success. She finds it impossible to mingle with the socially elect of the little town where she lives owing to her poverty and the fact that her father is a factory worker. She loses her heart to Kent Rosalter, a rich young man, who is supposed to be engaged to Marilee Grainger. One moonlight night at a party Kent kisses Emily and calls her beautiful. He goes away to study law but she never forgets him. Meanwhile, Marty Nolan, whose father keeps a "speakeasy," tells her he too is going to be a lawyer and that some day he intends to marry her. She gets a job with Mrs. Frances Holden, a wealthy interior decorator, who tells her the only aristocracy is that of work. Mrs. Holden introduces her to Kingdon Coles, a dramatic critic, who proposes to her in vain. Meanwhile, Kitten, Emily's younger sister, is wildly seeking for thrills. She meets Ted Lanier on the sly. Stella Brent, a school girl friend of Emily's finds herself deserted by Skeeze Bradley, reckless son of a rich family. Kitten goes on a wild party with Ted without telling her sister anew.

Emily gets a raise. Kitten climbs in a window late at night to elude her sister.

Kent comes home for the wedding of his sister Avis, who has thrown herself at Marty Nolan. Fearing her father's wrath she marries a man she does not care for.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER 31

Every morning when Emily went to the shop there would be a box with her name on it hanging to the doorknob.

She would remove it, flushing a little, and wait until she had taken off her hat and tidied up the rooms before opening it. It seemed almost that she wished to delay this moment.

Yet when she had untied the cord the tissue wrappings would give up a bouquet, fresh and lovely, always packed in fern. Sometimes there would be a whimsical and affectionate little note, but never a card. Still that wasn't necessary Kingdon Coles sent her the flowers. Each morning that had gone since that ride up the Storm King road he had done this.

A bunch of violets, a flutter of sweet-peas, pale pink and lovely like herself, perhaps two or three golden orchids, sophisticated and fragile.

Very beautiful they were, very colorful. Yet never fragrant.

"Hot house flowers," she would tell herself. "Blossoms forced into being—well, they'd have no perfume. Smell of the sun and the clean wind—not them. Gorgeous, but not sweet. They fill the eye, never the heart."

And it would seem to her that some way they symbolized her relationship to Coles.

She tried very hard to love him. She had given her word, or almost had given it, that she would be his wife one day. And she felt a tenderness was due him, something of the shining lilt King had stirred in her.

But that, she would tell herself, could not be. Only a dream it was; one of those radiant dreams that never come true.

So she would fill the jars that cluttered the shop with the flowers, feeling rather restless and protesting.

She never carried a blossom home; never slipped one between the pages of a book. She enjoyed their beauty, but they inspired her with no sentiment.

Marty had taken to wandering in occasionally, often mornings when she was likely to be alone. He would glance at two or three bouquets standing about and nod in an amused way.

"I see frail Percival's been saying it with flowers," he would observe as if sharing a rare joke.

"That will do, Marty. And the next time you follow me I'm going to keep it to myself."

"Thinking of telling him?" With a pleased grin.

"Because a man has decent manners doesn't mean he'll be imposed on."

His voice was edged now. "I don't mind your playing around, Em. He's harmless enough. But don't forget I'm taking good care of what's mine!"

He had an odd ability to make her angry. "Go away!" she flung at him. "Go out and find Anne. She seems to like you!"

"Jealous! That's great!" And he went out, laughing.

He came late one evening and threw himself into the porch swing. "I passed the exams, Em. I'm a lawyer now."

"Why, that's wonderful, Marty. Doing it all yourself—a splendid thing."

"Said I'd show them."

He was leaving for the Middle West, he told her. Job all ready when he came back.

"You won't have your private office? I thought lawyers always wanted to start in for themselves," she said, thinking of what Kent had told her long ago.

"That's uphill. It's better to go in with the right crowd. The judge is the one for me."

She looked at him quickly, kindling with astonishment. "The judge? You're going to work for Judge Morrow?"

"With him," rather haughtily. "That surprise you, Em? Why?"

She didn't know exactly. She believed now that Morrow controlled politics in the county and perhaps in a section of the state. Frances had told her this in a curt, disgusted tone. Boss Morrow . . .

Probably he thought Marty a bright young fellow, as indeed he was, and wished new blood in his office. Red blood. Or perhaps Anne had asked her father to make a place for him.

Judge Morrow was fond of his daughter, everybody said. His one weakness, it was.

Had Marty understood that and deliberately become friendly with Anne because of it? Would any man use a girl's interest in him to further his way toward success?

She had been rather proud of Marty once. She had seen him as one climbing above every sort of obstacle toward high achievement, one growing great and honorable as he fought upward.

This vision of him wavered and dimmed now; she felt rather weary and rather resentful, as if she had been defrauded.

"Don't see why you're so surprised. I'm not exactly a liability, you know."

"Of course not, Marty. I'm sure you'll be a success." She resolved to give him the benefit of the doubt. She had no right to judge him. Perhaps, after all, Anne had sought him instead of it being the other way about. "They'll say you're in the 'party machine,'" she told him, laughing.

She expected an emphatic denial but he made no reply. She didn't know, of course, that old Tim had said the same thing a few hours before.

"So ye'll be steppin' wit' the gang, me lad? Think ye've got the world b' the leg but better not forget till keep an eye out. They're slick."

Marty had nodded and locked his gaze with the old blue one. "I'll not forget."

Emily walked with him down the steps. "Good luck, Marty. I'll be wishing it for you."

He crushed her hand and would have drawn her to him but she moved back. He hesitated a moment, head down; then he went away slowly down the street.

Afterward she remembered it was the first time in months he had said nothing about his intention of marrying her some day.

International Dancers stress importance of wind condition
"In our work as international dancers we have discovered a wonderful new point about Lucky Strikes of which we are very happy to tell you. As can readily be realized, wind and physical condition are of the utmost importance to ballroom dancers. Our work is hard and taxes the wind to the utmost. We both have smoked Lucky Strikes for a number of years and can safely say that these cigarettes in addition to furnishing us much pleasure in our hours of relaxation, have never affected our wind or physical fitness in any way."

TWO FLIERS DEAD RESULT DALLAS CRASH

DALLAS, Feb. 16. (AP)—Death toll in an airplane crash here late yesterday was increased to two early today with the death of Verne Mallerne, 21, of Rio Hondo, Texas, pilot. Jerry Aldridge, 22, of Wewoka, Okla., died a few minutes after the crash.

The accident occurred, according to information given to Parker D. Cramer, inspector for the United States department of commerce, while Mallerne was stunting the plane at an altitude of less than 500 feet. The plane failed to regain flying speed after a series of wing overs and fell to the ground, smashing the nose and wings. There was no defect in the plane Cramer said.

Mallerne had flown the plane, of recent design, from Oklahoma City and also had made a flight to San Antonio. He was a licensed pilot. The plane had not been licensed or inspected by a government official but a license had been applied for.

Aldridge, whose father, E. C. Aldridge, is mayor of Wewoka, was a student flier and owned a plane which he kept at Fort Worth. His parents are en route to Dallas.

Mallerne's body is being held pending the arrival of his parents from the valley.

Head of U. S. Navy Refuses to Visit Testimonial Dinner in Honor Admiral Who Retires After 48 Years at Sea

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—Failure of Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur to attend a testimonial dinner given Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett is viewed as public rebuke by Colonel E. A. Simmons of the banquet committee. The occasion for the dinner was the admiral's retirement from active service on his 64th birthday.

Colonel Simmons read a letter in which Secretary Wilbur expressed regret at his inability to attend, but the colonel later in a statement to reporters expressed the opinion that the letter was "but a smoke screen."

"The real reason why he did not come and which he made known to me over the telephone," said the statement, "was fear that his presence at any dinner in honor of Admiral Plunkett so soon after the world-wide publicity in connection with the admiral's speech at the National Republican club on January 21 would be misunderstood."

The colonel said that Secretary Wilbur had accepted an invitation to the dinner on January 16. The letter of regret came on February 7. The colonel told reporters he regarded Secretary Wilbur's absence as "a public rebuke" to the admiral.

In his speech of January 21 Admiral Plunkett in urging a large and well-equipped navy said: "If I read history correctly, and what we are doing today, we are nearer war today than we have been in our history because we are too damned efficient.

"I don't care whether it is with Great Britain, or some other nation, you are going to have war just as surely as you are sitting in this room with me, if you dare to contest the control of the sea with your goods, not with your guns."

Secretary Wilbur's letter of regret about last night's dinner gave as his excuse the requirement of his presence before the house naval committee.

Admiral Plunkett, when reporters approached him on the subject waived his hand and said, "Oh, go away, go away, go away."

In his speech at the dinner Admiral Plunkett devoted himself to reiteration of the need for a large merchant marine and a more powerful navy; and did not refer to the absence of the navy secretary.

He said that the problem of a merchant marine was closely connected with the freedom of the seas and that, "international freedom of the seas is insurance for international peace. History shows that no nation is lastingly great without sea power. Let America return to the sea."

The admiral is now to be associated with a New York stock exchange firm.

WILL BEGIN LOGGING AND MARKING HIGHWAYS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 16. (AP)—Work will begin immediately on logging and marking all designated highways of the state, according to word received by Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely.

Congratulations to the commission for its work in logging and marking the highways were sent to Ely by Wade immediately upon receipt of the letter.

"It is especially important that Texas highways be properly marked and logs of all routes available in view of the fact that three national conventions meet here this year," he said. "A large number of the delegates will come to the state by automobile and will be benefited by easily distinguished highways. The project is entirely worth while, however, merely from the standpoint of tourists and Texans traveling from one part of the state to another."

DRY AGENTS MAY SOON HAVE TO PILOT PLANE

DALLAS, Feb. 16. (AP)—Ability to pilot an airplane may soon be a prerequisite to holding a position as prohibition enforcement officer, A. R. Butler of Fort Worth, 17th district prohibition director intimated here Wednesday. He has asked the government for airplanes to use in enforcement work.

"We must keep up with the times" Mr. Butler said, indicating that the planes if provided, would be used in scouting for river bottom distilleries.

SLAYER EPILEPTIC PATIENT GETS TWO YEARS IN PRISON

ABILENE, Feb. 16. (AP)—Jim Downing, 24-year-old former employe of the state hospital for epileptics here, must serve two years in the penitentiary for the murder of Joe Marze, 54-year-old patient, a jury decided late Wednesday. An autopsy showed Marze died from abnormal injuries which the state contended resulted from a beating.

Downing admitted taking Marze out of the ward dining room into a side room, but denied he beat the patient. Another patient testified that he saw Downing knock Marze down and jump up and down on his body and kick him as he lay there.

Galloway Calhoun, assistant attorney general who assisted in the prosecution, and Dr. H. H. Harrington of the state board of control, a witness, returned to Austin Wednesday night.

Club Women Meet And Adopt Group Of Resolutions

Following what was explained to be an intelligent investigation into the cause of the dismissal of Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, as Texas chairman of the biennial fund, by the executive committee of General Federation of Women's clubs at Washington, D. C., a group of Wichita Falls' club women met at the home of Mrs. P. P. Langford Wednesday afternoon in a called session for the purpose of protesting the action taken by that committee.

Mrs. W. W. Silk paid tribute to Mrs. Fields, speaking of her efforts to serve club women of Texas, after which a round table discussion on the subject of Mrs. Fields' dismissal was held, with Mrs. Fields answering any questions asked and exhibiting documents in connection with her position.

Mrs. Fields' attitude throughout the meeting, that every woman in the state stand by the Texas biennial and the Texas Federation of Women's clubs called forth much favorable comment, it was stated. Her position was explained in a paragraph taken from one of her letters to the clubs which have protested, and is given as follows:

"Texas did recognize the constitutional authority of the General Federation, January 15, 1927, when the Texas representatives in Washington appeared before the executive committee of the General Federation. In accordance with Section 2, Article XI of the bylaws of the General Federation authorizing the board of directors to arrange for the appointment of a committee from the place of meeting which shall act in concert with the directors in arranging for these biennial meetings, the only authority given to the national board by their constitution, is was voted, upon motion of Mrs. Maggie Barry of Texas that 'the executive committee permit the Texas Federation to deviate from the precedent of having the chairman of the local biennial board located in the entertaining city.' This vote followed a discussion in which the Texas members present were told the selection of a Texas local biennial chairman was a matter for Texas action and not the General Federation. Then 12 months later, without any notice to Texas, the General Federation executive committee reversed their own action. This question therefore, is a question of state's rights."

The following motions were made and carried:

Resolutions Adopted:

(1) That telegrams be sent to the state president and the state board urging them to uphold the action of the state federation convention at El Paso, ratifying the election of Mrs. J. U. Fields as Texas local biennial chairman.

(2) That a telegram be sent first to the state president insisting that she stand upon her campaign promises and her attitude "that it is clearly understood that Mrs. Fields is to serve throughout the biennial, and we should, one and all, stand ready to cooperate in every way with the plan."

(3) That a telegram of protest be sent to the general federation referring to their action in the matter and copies forwarded to the state president to Mrs. Florence Floore, Maggie Barry and Mrs. R. Q. Lee.

(4) The following women were selected to attend the state board's next meeting: Mrs. G. D. Anderson, Mrs. W. W. Silk, Mrs. J. J. Perkins, Mrs. Claude Woods, Mrs. J. C. A. Guest, Mrs. T. T. T. Reese and Mrs. J. A. Kemp.

(5) Motion was made and carried that the Wichita Falls women attend the Abilene meeting next Saturday to organize a West Texas Federation of Women's clubs, not to be separate, but still a part of the state federation.

Those invited to be present at the meeting included Mesdames W. W. Silk, C. W. Snider, J. C. A. Guest, J. A. Kemp, J. J. Perkins, Newton Maer, O. E. Maer, W. J. Grisham, E. B. Chamberlain's HAND LOTION "The Invisible Glove"

Leaves Hair Twice as Beautiful

In a few minutes time, your hair is soft, silky and radiant with life, gloss and lustre.

To have beautiful, fresh looking hair is simply a matter of proper shampooing.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.—Adv.

ZOË BECKLEY'S CORNER

(Copyright, 1928, by NEA Service, Inc.)

Just Sit Pretty.

"Dear Zoe: Am 17, very pretty and with very strict parents. They have a young man picked out for me but I cannot care for him because I deeply love another boy my own age. But alas, he is of different nationality and my parents object. We feel we cannot be kept apart and it drives us nearly crazy. Won't you please advise me?—FRANCES."

If the boy you love is only 17 it would be a pretty long time, wouldn't it, before you could marry? Why not enjoy your sweetheartng without thinking of anything more, for a while, and see what turns up? That is, see if Boyfriend gets a start in business, and is able to win your parents' regard.

There is something to say, you know, about this marrying into a different nationality. Not that it shouldn't work out all right unless there is a difference of religion as well. In that case if your families are both pious they will make oodles of trouble for you later, as parents so often do when they are very religious.

The real reason international marriages don't work well is simply because each party has a different upbringing and their ideas don't jobe. But if Boyfriend has been in this country most of his life he probably has American viewpoints about wives, women, equality, freedom, domestic finance and the rest of it!

In any case do not marry a man you cannot care for, parents or no parents. Go it alone sooner.

But it won't come to that. Just wait, enjoy the companionship of Boyfriend, tell Ma and Pa gently but firmly to hold off with the chosen one. And the affair will adjust itself.

Letters Are Chains.

"Dear Zoe: Here am I penned up in boarding school and my boyfriend racing around with other girls. Together we have so much fun and I know I am the only one. But he is not as faithful as I. I want him to have other friends, but Oh, Zoe, I have only my letters to hold him and I am afraid.—DESPERADA."

Don't you know, old dear, that letters carry the very essence of their writers' personality? Don't you know they have enormous holding power? Even from this little sample, we know you write good letters. Put yourself into them. Make them amusing. Give him a mental picture of you, laughing, looking at him, talking to him.

Trust him—and tell him you do. An inherently decent fellow is twice as decent when he knows someone he cares for trusts him, believes he is faithful and is faithful in return.

Don't let him see you are afraid. Don't put the thought of truancy into his head. Give him the impression that he belongs to you and that no matter how many other girls he cavorts around with, they only make you seem more charming.

Oh, my goodness-gracious—letters can do anything!

"What do you think of a physician who suggests an affair with him as a psychiatric cure for a neurasthenic patient? He is respected and admired by all. The patient is a college friend of mine, brilliant, but a periodic hypochondriac and during those attacks a self-admitted moron.—E PLURIBUS UNA."

I think the man is either a cheap and common type of predatory male or an extreme modernist who is convinced that much unhappiness among young folks, and frequent neuroses are, caused by lack of sex experience. To deny that such is the case would be hypocritical. Yet to uphold what this doctor "orders" would be to send a good many young people to ruin.

It is a gunpowdery subject to deal with in public print.

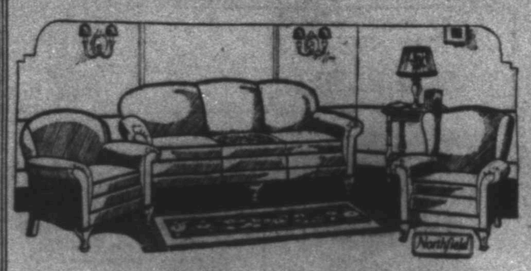

Morals are a matter of individuals. It is dangerous to generalize, the human mind being what it is and prevailing opinion being pretty generally set against behavior which flouts the social laws.

Judge Ben Lindsay and Mrs. Bertrand Russell would probably say the girl would be better for the experience. But the chances are too heavy against it. It might destroy her, body and soul. No one could predict the outcome unless they knew her type of mind, her environment and the causes of her hypochondria.

Established laws are made to fit normal people. Exceptional ones always suffer, and will continue to until we create a new social order, and a new viewpoint.

P. S.—We don't somehow like that doctor.

Once a School Teacher—Later a Famous Physician

A young man who was brought up on a farm in Western Pennsylvania qualified for district school teacher. Further pursuing his studies and teaching, he managed to save enough money to put him through medical college. He began the practice of medicine in the new oil section of Pennsylvania, and often rode horse-back through the woods to reach and relieve those who were seriously ill. He was a student of natura knew and easily recognized most of the medicinal plants growing in the woods.

Finally, he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., where he launched his favorite remedies, and, in a short time, they were sold by every druggist in the land. Today, the name of this man, the late Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known general tonic for building up strength, restoring impaired tissues and enriching the blood. More than fifty million bottles have been sold in the U. S. If your druggist does not sell it, in liquid or tablets, you can obtain a trial pkg. of the tablets by sending 10c to the Dr. Pierce Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

MARYE and "MOM"

Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

This is the fourth of a series of intimate letters exchanged by a modern daughter—Marye—and her "old-fashioned" mother—"Mom"—to be printed daily in the Times. Another will appear tomorrow.

Dearest Mother:

Remember you asked me to try and imagine how I would feel if Alan took another girl to lunch? Well, I know! The oddest coincidence!

Norman and I happened upon a quaint little tea room the other day and I never gave a thought to its being in Alan's neighborhood until he came in and sat down at a table near ours.

He had a girl I didn't know with him. I can't say she was attractive but I suppose a man would consider her pretty. Alan didn't introduce her. He just nodded casually to us and didn't come over until they were leaving, and then he stayed only long enough to say how-do-you-do to Norman. One of his busy days, I suppose, though that's a funny time to take a girl to lunch unless he likes her company a lot.

That night I asked him who she was but he only said, "What does it matter?" Of course I couldn't question him—that was understood in our engagement days—so I can't tell you any more about her. But, as Alan said, what does it matter? She is his friend and I guess if he had wanted me to know her he'd have brought her over.

Since then I've been thinking that he ought to come home to lunch if he's going to eat in such places. One thing you will have to admit, mother: even we members of the can-opener cult know more about food than people used to know. Alan likes those rarebits and chicken a la king and they only take a moment to prepare. But perhaps you'd better send me those cook books that I left behind wRh some of the other wedding presents. Why do people give such perfectly trashy things as those lamps we got, I wonder?

I haven't been feeling quite up to myself these last few days. Norman's going home and I'm glad of it. After all it takes a lot of time to run around with people from home. That's one of the disadvantages of living in a nearby city.

But to get back to how I felt when I saw Alan with that girl. Why, I didn't mind at all. Why should I?

Please don't forget to send me the cook books.

Lovingly,
MARYE.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By SHIRLEY BLAKE

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades out, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and soft.—Adv.

Eddie Foy, King of Clog Dancers Answers His Last Stage Cue When Death Calls Him at Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 16. (AP)—Eddie Foy, the actor, died at the Hotel Baltimore here today.

Mr. Foy played at the Orpheum theater here last night, and appeared in good health, Fred Spear, manager of the theater, said.

The veteran comedian was making what had been billed as his farewell tour of stages on which he had acted for more than half a century.

After last night's performance he complained of no illness, the manager of the theater said.

Mr. Foy's real name was Edwin Fitzgerald. He was 73 years old.

Heart disease was assigned as the cause of death by Dr. Herbert Tuthill. The actor's wife awakened at 7:30 a. m. and found him ill. She summoned the physician. Mr. Foy died at 8:45 a. m.

That the actor realized his farewell tour might not run its full course was indicated to Charles Thomas, general manager of the Lakewood Golf and Country club, a close friend, who visited Mr. Foy back stage Tuesday night.

Mr. Thomas said he found Foy seated on a trunk, almost too weak to go on the stage for his act. Mr. Foy remarked then he did not believe he would be able to finish the season.

Dr. Tuthill said he learned from Mrs. Foy that her husband had been subjected to heart attacks for the last six months. The physician gave angina pectoris as the cause of death in filling out the death certificate.

A benefit performance for the Chicago Newsboys' home, in which he did a clog dance was Eddie Foy's stepping stone to the professional stage. Once there he continued to entertain American audiences for more than 50 years and thus make a record which few stage folks ever equaled. He was only 15 when he offered to do his bit for the Chicago newsboys in 1869, but his number was so well received that numerous offers for professional engagements quickly came to him.

For several years, however, Mr. Foy continued to do his dancing in what might nowadays be termed cabarets. In 1876 he had an engagement with Cosmopolitan Vanities in Chicago and two years later paired with a partner named Thompson, toured the central west in blackface sketches, songs and acrobatic dances. After a season with Emerson's minstrels he returned to the variety circuit until 1894, having by that time played in nearly every city of importance in the United States.

Mr. Foy's reputation as a versatile performer and comedian led to his engagement for a part in the Kelly and Mason company playing "The Tigers," with which he toured the country. For nearly 30 years thereafter he was in the casts of some of the most successful comedy productions, in many of which he was billed as the star. Among these were "Jack in the Box," "Over the Garden Wall," "Ali Baba," "Sinbad, the Sailor," "Cinderella," "Bluebard," "Off the Earth," "Robinson Crusoe," "The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown" and "Topsy Turvy," which had a run of 150 nights at the Herald Square theater, New York.

ASSOCIATED PRESS (TIMES WIDE WORLD)
EDDIE FOY

Some of the later successes in which Mr. Foy played leading parts were "The Strollers," "Piff, Paff, Pouf," "The Earl and the Girl," "The Orchid," "Up and Down Broadway," "Mr. Hamlet of Broadway," "Over the River" and "Slumwhere in New York."

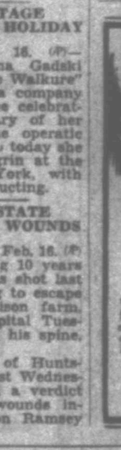

During the latter years of his career Mr. Foy devoted himself almost exclusively to the vaudeville circuits. He appeared for several seasons with his seven children, billed as "Eddie Foy and the Little Foys."

Eddie Foy, whose real name was Edwin Fitzgerald, was born in New York, March 9, 1854, the son of Richard and Ellen Hennessy Fitzgerald. He was thrice a widower, having married Rose Howland in 1879; Lola Sefton in 1886, and Madeline Morando in 1895. The first two were actresses and the third a famous danseuse from Italy. She was the mother of his seven children, who had appeared on the stage with him.

In January, 1925, Mr. Foy married as his fourth wife Mrs. Marie Combs, a widow of 29, whose home was at Sadalia, Mo. She had never appeared on the stage, but after the wedding the comedian confided to friends, "I'll fix that."

Volunteering a reason for his marriage, Mr. Foy said, "I don't intend to be alone in my old age. I see my children growing up and drawing away from me. I love children and I'm going to raise another family. I want a home with little ones in it. I'll make my friend, Dr. Coue, proud of me."

Mr. Foy was playing at the Iroquois theater, Chicago, when it was destroyed by fire, December 30, 1903, and which resulted in the loss of 602 lives. The actor barely escaped in saving himself from being one of the victims.

Infant Care

Mothers, you can't start too early to establish a child's serene and tranquil disposition. Even an infant can have a happy, fretless state of uninterrupted health. What will help do this? A simple, purely vegetable product as old as you are: plain Castoria.

A few drops of Castoria will settle all uneasiness in a jiffy. Will dispel colic or ward off constipation; and just as surely check diarrhea.

In real sickness, call a physician. But many physicians urge only Castoria for those little childish disorders that need nothing more. You need never be afraid to give pure Castoria. It is safe and perfectly harmless, for it contains no paregoric, no opiates, no dope of any kind. At least, this is true of the genuine Fletcher's Castoria"—and that is the kind doctors tell you always to buy.

Fletcher's Castoria is fine for any child. All children love to take it. Delicious tasting, and as good as it tastes. Just look for the Fletcher signature on the package and you will know you have the genuine and pure Castoria.

*SPECIAL NOTE: With every bottle of genuine Fletcher's Castoria is wrapped a book on "Care and Feeding of Babies" worth its weight in gold to every mother or prospective mother.

NO CHANCE FOR AL SAYS KLAN WIZARD IN DALLAS PAPER

DALLAS, Feb. 16. (AP)—Governor Al Smith of New York "hasn't a ghost of a chance for election" as president on the Democratic ticket, the Times-Herald today quoted Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, as having said in an interview.

The Klan will not form a bolt to split the solid south if Smith is nominated Evans said.

"The solid south is too valuable and the two party system of the country is too essential to be wrecked simply to defeat Al Smith. But a split in the south of the party won't be necessary to defeat New York's wet governor. The border states and the Republican north will get him," Evans said.

If nominated, Smith will carry the south, but he will not, in Evans opinion carry Oklahoma, West Virginia, or Kentucky, or "even New York state."

"Smith's own people will not allow Tammany to be voted into the presidency," he said.

The klan is now "playing its cards to keep Governor Smith from being nominated at the Democratic national convention in Houston next June, Evans declared and he believes the Klan will succeed.

CAROL GETS ROLE RUMANIA'S BOGEY

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 16. Now! meal time is a happy event

"IT is all so wonderful, I can hardly believe my eyes. When I think how badly you used to feel—didn't want anything to eat—perhaps sometimes a little grouchy and miserable, and just driving yourself by main force, I almost shudder. I know it worried you, too. You seemed to feel as though you were slipping. Then one day you brought home a bottle of S.S.S. and told me you were going to give it a trial. That was only a few weeks ago. Today you look like a new person. Your appetite is keen, your flesh is firm, and your whole being seems to radiate happiness and I am happy too, because you are well and strong again."

Loss of appetite only a symptom

It is a known fact that when one's system gets "run-down," they haven't the resistance to ward off diseases. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play.

Rich, red, blood builds and sustains

Your physician will tell you that lowered vitality is the result of an insufficient supply of red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your blood cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again; sleep soundly; solid flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong; and your nerves become steady.

EXPECT COUNTY TO DELAY SUIT ON FEE CLAIMS

The view was expressed Thursday that the order adopted by the county commissioners' court Monday directing that suit be brought against the estate of A. F. Kerr, former district clerk, will be held in abeyance until a recheck of the accounts in dispute is made by E. P. Walsh, county auditor, in accordance with instructions given by the court at a meeting Wednesday.

The meeting was executive and no record appeared on the minutes of the reported action instructing Mr. Walsh to make the recheck. The disclosure that the instructions were issued was made by Mr. Walsh.

E. W. Nicholson, county judge, said Thursday that it was not expected that the meeting would resolve itself into a session of the court when the commissioners were called together Wednesday for a "conference." The formal "court" went into session, he said, so that a legal call for bids could be issued on proposals to print the annual report of Mr. Walsh for 1927. The bids are to be opened on March 5. The court also authorized the delivery to the city council of $2,000 in Wichita Falls sewerage bonds owned by the county. The council requested delivery of the bonds so that they might be taken up, it was explained.

Mr. Walsh's scrutiny of records in the district clerk's office, it was explained Thursday, will be in the nature of a check of a portion of the accuracy of the recent special audit of county books made by Smith, Allred and company, at a cost to the county of $14,875. The audit was received, approved and ordered paid at an executive session of the commission.

The special audit purports to show, the commission was informed, that the county still is due at least $4,000 in excess fees from the Kerr estate. T. R. Boone, attorney for the estate, recently questioned the accuracy of the audit and expressed the view that the county will be shown to owe the estate from $4,000 to $6,000 when a trust fund of more than $20,000 is disbursed.

THE ONLY WAY TO END INDIGESTION

Remove the Cause and You Remove the Pain

Nine-tenths of digestive troubles are caused by food fermentation and excess acid in the stomach, and it is only by ending these conditions that permanent relief can be hoped for.

The quickest, safest, and surest way to do this is to take a little "Pape's Diapepsin" after eating or whenever pain is felt. This not only stops fermentation and neutralizes excess acid, but exerts a soothing, healing and strengthening influence on the weakened stomach, and induces normal healthy digestion.

That is why millions everywhere recommend "Pape's Diapepsin." Follow their sound advice—get a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" from your druggist at once, and insure stomach health, with the fear of indigestion banished forever.—Adv.

KANSAS PROFESSOR VICTIM OF BANDITS WHO TRUSS HIM UP

LAWRENCE, Kan., Feb. 16. (AP)—Fred N. Raymond, professor of English at the University of Kansas, returned home this morning after being kidnaped last night by two highwaymen, who bound him to a seat in a school house at Grain Valley, Mo., near Kansas City.

Professor Raymond had driven to the post office at 10 o'clock last night to mail a letter. Returning to his car, he said, he was threatened with guns in the hands of two men, who forced him to drive out of town, where they relieved him of a few dollars cash and his car.

Then the men drove through Kansas City to Grain Valley where they left him bound to a seat in the school house.

Professor Raymond freed himself about 4 o'clock this morning and telephoned his wife, who called off a search that had kept city and county authorities busy most of the night. He returned to Lawrence on a bus.

COTTON FIRM GIVES $10,000 TO FINANCE DEMOCRATIC MEET

HOUSTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Anderson Clayton & Co., Houston cotton factors, have given $10,000 to the proposed Houston fund of $350,000 for entertainment of the Democratic national convention here in June.

Roger J. Seaman, director of the solicitation campaign, said it was the largest single contribution. At the same time it was said at his headquarters that more than half the fund had been secured. It included $50,000 in cash and pledges reported Wednesday, but did not take into account $25,000 from the bank group and allotments from railroads, hotels and restaurants, which are understood to have raised their quotas.

Thursday 500 solicitors set out to complete the fund by Saturday night if possible. Otherwise the campaign is expected to require the two weeks originally set apart for it.

MELLON OPPOSES CLAIM FOR EARLY TAX SLASHES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Secretary Mellon does not agree with the congressional leaders who predict that delaying senate action on the tax reduction bill will jeopardize tax legislation at this session of congress.

He declared today that he saw no change in the situation and that the amount of reduction will be determined by the March 15 tax returns which will show the exact revenue of the 1927 income.

Eats Beans, Cucumbers, Sleeps Fine

"I eat pork and beans, cucumbers—anything, since taking Adlerika. Stomach trouble is all gone and I sleep fine."—Geo. C. Brooks.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc., (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that often poisoned the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and bacilli."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will astonish you the great amounts of poisonous matter Adlerika brings out—matter you would never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, gas bloating, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. Sold in Wichita Falls by Renfro Drug company and other druggists.—Adv.

MEN More Sentimental THAN WOMEN

Louise Rice, the Graphologist, Shatters an Old Tradition That Has to Do With the Fair Sex Having a Monopoly on Romance—And if Wives Only Understood This, There Would Be Less Divorce!

Why Men Leave Home

UNDERNEATH their hard exteriors, says Louise Rice, men are incurable romanticists. Most times, when they are in trouble, it is nothing but their romanticism running amuck.

Men yearn to get away from the tedium of their lives and thus venture forth in search of romance.

Women, on the other hand, are always practical, being concerned with such things as health, courage, how to get and hold husbands, how to handle unruly children.

Man prefers the clinging-vine type because she helps him preserve the illusion of romance.

It is because society has false ideas of men that so many of them are deterred from entering fields in which they could give their emotions full play.

By Lillian G. Genn

"MEN are not at all the unimpressionable creatures they would make us believe they are. Underneath their hard exteriors they are incurable romanticists, and most times when they are in trouble it is nothing but their romanticism running amuck.

"Don't for a moment think that the average man would admit this. Society has always regarded the men with such tendencies as rather effeminate, and so they stifle their feelings and their sentimentality under a hard, indifferent exterior. But they don't fool me. It all comes out in their handwriting!"

Thus declaimed Louise Rice, world-famous graphologist, thereby shattering the age-old tradition that the feminine sex is the sentimental, romantic one. Since this seems to be the day when we are discovering that woman has the ability to hold her own with man in the world of business, and that mentally she is as fully equipped as he is, what is more fitting than that we should discover man possessing traits which were formerly regarded as distinctive of woman?

Certainly Miss Rice is in a position to enlighten us, as out of an average of 50,000 letters a year, nearly two-thirds of that number are from the men!

When one considers that Miss Rice has been judging and advising people from their handwriting for the last thirty years, it is fairly breath-taking to figure out how many letters she's read during her career as a graphologist.

ONE would imagine that she would be quite bored with receiving letters and that the postman's whistle holds no delights for her. But Miss Rice declares she loves her work and gladly devotes fourteen hours a day to answering her heavy correspondence.

If a sunny disposition, a ready smile and twinkling eyes denote anything, then one must readily believe that she does enjoy it. Her workroom, too, seems permeated with the brightness and friendliness of her personality. It is furnished in a vivid shade of orange, and wicker furniture, a sofa and crowded bookshelves give the place a cozy, homelike atmosphere.

One looked around for signs of the vast mail, but there was only a neat little pile on Miss Rice's desk. All the incoming mail, she said, was in another room, where it was being assorted by her assistants, and although she has people who have been trained to help her, each letter is given her personal supervision. When the letters have been answered they are stored away systematically in files, cabinets and in the big barn of her country home.

People write to her from all corners of the world, not only for character readings but for guidance in choosing a vocation, for advice on matrimonial and love problems, for coping with rebellious children and for information on anything from cooking recipes to the best way to travel.

In fact, there is no limit to the range of questions that are put to Miss Rice. Some people seem to regard graphology as a modern substitute for the oracle, fortune-teller and soothsayer, so that the graphologist must have an odd fund of information at her fingertips.

"Handwriting," Miss Rice said, "mirrors even the fleeting emotion which a person vaguely feels stirring. Before he even becomes aware that such an emotion exists, the handwriting will reveal it. And it is due to my years of experience in reading handwriting that I have come to the conclusion that men are much more emotional than we supposedly believe they are.

"For instance, it is the men who write me heartbroken, sentimental letters about their sweethearts, and who confide to me that they find life a bore and so unromantic; that they are depressed by business and family responsibilities, or that they are in the throes of a religious or moral struggle. They yearn to get away from the tedium of their lives and venture forth in search of romance. Their letters are of the 'nebulous' kind.

"On the other hand, the letters from women are very practical and quite lacking in sentiment. They want to know how they can maintain their health, their courage, or how they can manage their husbands or how to win one. And just what they can do with their unruly children. You see, they are very definite and practical.

"I think that if women understood this sentimentality and romanticism in men there might be a considerable decrease in the number of divorces that we have. The trouble is that as soon as a woman is married she prosaically settles down and gives her attention to her house, her children and her clubs, and neglects to play up to her husband the way she did before she married him.

"Here, too, we have the reason for the men preferring the clinging-vine type of girl. She helps them to keep up the illusion of romance, and you will find that such women know how to get the most out of their husbands. But she does it so cleverly that the men don't mind it. In fact, they like being treated that way.

"The woman who doesn't play up to her husband will find him, sooner or later, looking for something in the way of romance, such as an affair with a chorus girl. Immediately we condemn such a man as being bad, and the wife is ready to take him to the divorce court. What she doesn't realize is that her husband would have been just as glad to play around with her!

"My files are filled with letters from men who are suffering keen remorse in having lost their homes, their wives and their children because of a little folly on their part. Their emotions had run away with them and they had really meant no harm at all.

"IT IS because society has this false idea of men that so many of them are deterred from entering fields in which they could give their emotions full play. The work is usually regarded as a woman's, and yet where men have entered the field, they have achieved great success.

"Witness the men designers, painters, perfumers, musicians, interior decorators. These are professions in which the emotions are called into play. The reason, too, why men excel as cooks is that their faculties for taste and smell are so sharp.

Louise Rice, handwriting authority, who receives an average of 50,000 letters a year, two-thirds of them from men asking for character delineations and advice

"Again, on the other hand, it is because women are innately practical that they are forging ahead so quickly in many of the men's fields. This is the first time in history that women are permitted to exercise their abilities in the so-called men's professions, but I predict that in fifty years from now they will be away ahead of the men in a good many fields. And I predict, too, that the man will not be ashamed to work in a profession that is the expression of his real self.

"From the many thousands of letters I receive, it is appalling to see how many people are misfits in life. It seems that nine out of ten enter professions for which they are totally unadapted. It is true that many just grab at a particular job because they think it's the easiest thing to get into.

"Not so long ago a street-car conductor wrote to me that he was tired of his job and that he saw no future in it. I told him that judging from his handwriting he would make a success at writing.

"A few days later I received a letter from him telling me that he had always wanted to write, but his folks had laughed at him and he had never felt encouraged to go ahead. But now that he had got my letter things were going to be different, and he was going to write. Well, today that man is one of our most prominent editors."

"Usually, though," I remarked, "the story is the other way around, isn't it?"

"I should say," laughed Miss Rice. "It seems as though every other person wants to write when he hasn't the slightest talent or ability for it. I don't know how many letters I receive from men and women telling me they'd love to write plays or novels or motion-picture scenarios. And once they get the idea in their minds, it is almost impossible to turn them to another field.

"Perhaps the strangest case I ever had was that of a very beautiful girl of 19 who was brought to me by her mother. She was a striking blonde, with hair the color of butter, large blue eyes and a magnolia-white complexion that women would give anything to have. She's the kind that people on the street turn around to look at.

"Her mother complained that the girl's actions were most peculiar. She'd sit for hours in a corner of the house and mope. She was very morbid and rude. She wouldn't go to the theatre or dances and didn't care for either girl or man friends.

"I looked at her handwriting, and it was the largest and boldest I had ever seen. Her 't's' seemed to be crossed with power and venom. I was not surprised to have her handwriting show that she possessed a perfectly cold, unemotional nature and that inwardly she had none of the characteristics of a woman.

"Her beautiful face and figure absolutely belied her heartlessness and ruthlessness. I advised the mother to allow her daughter to live alone in her own apartment and to give her the money which her grandmother had left for her in trust and which amounted to about $25,000.

"As they lived in a home of their own, the mother fixed up an entire apartment for her on the top floor, where she was to live as she pleased, and she also gave her the money. The first thing that girl did was to dig up a lawyer for a partner, and he was the most hard-boiled, brutal-looking individual you ever set eyes on. They went into the real estate business, buying property in outlandish, unheard-of sections, and today that girl has cleaned up $120,000.

"She still lives alone and has nothing to do with any one. The only thing she likes to do is to drive her high-powered car, which, by the way, cost her $20,000. That girl simply craved power and money. Given these things, she was happy. And if she had been denied them, I am sure she would have headed straight for insanity."

NOT only is character seen in handwriting but traces of mental diseases and insanity as well. "These are perceived in the handwriting," Miss Rice told me, "even before they appear openly in the person. That is why physicians, psychologists and alienists are turning more and more to the trained graphologist for assistance in their work. So also is the criminologist. In Europe the graphologist has been an important figure in the detection of crime for the last twenty years. America is away behind in its criminal methods. Last year was the first time that I, as a graphologist, was called to court to contribute testimony in a case involving many thousands of dollars. It was the only time in this country that a graphologist was used in that capacity. But it will not be many years before the graphologist will play almost as important a part in court as the lawyer. * * *

"Europe has produced some very famous graphologists, the most noted being Alphonse Bertillon—with whom I studied—and who was also famed as a criminologist. The science of graphology owes a great deal to him."

AS THE person with the fine handwriting is always preferred by an employer who is engaging people, since such writing is supposed to be a sign of intelligence and character, I asked Miss Rice whether there was any basis for this belief. She assured me, with a laugh, that there were many people reposing in jail who had fine, legible handwriting. "Usually," she said, "the illegible and poor handwriting is characteristic of a person with exceptional talents, and some of the most famous people have the most erratic handwriting.

"Another fallacy," the graphologist continued, "is that men have the strong, bold handwriting, and the women the small, fine type. Before I studied graphology I was under the same impression, but after thirty years as a graphologist I can tell you that it is the men who, as a rule, have the small, fine handwriting. The strong handwriting is the woman's!"

SHARP ADVANCE IN GRAIN PIT TRADING CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Wheat trading on the largest scale in weeks took place today, stimulated to a great extent by reports that Russia had become a big producer. One estimate was that 6,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been bought for shipment to Russia. With continued unfavorable weather corn also advanced, July touching $1.01, the highest figure at which any delivery has sold since last October.

Wheat closed strong, 2 to 2¾@3c net higher, corn unchanged to ⅝c up, oats at a shade to ⅝c gain and provisions varying from 37c decline to a rise of 3c.

Buying in the wheat market today appeared to be based not only on an unexpected advance at Liverpool but also because of assertions that the market had gone stale on the bear side, and that higher prices were in order. Furthermore, advices at hand said European crop prospects in general were less favorable.

A big market was again under way in corn today, outside trade showing a decided increase. Practically no country offerings of immediate delivery corn were in evidence. Profit taking however, around 99 cents for May and above $1.00 for July tended at times to bring about setbacks.

TRADING ON CURB IN MIXED MANNER ON SELLING WAVE

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—Trading on the curb market today was of a mixed character. A number of stocks became prominent because of pressure of heavy liquidation which might be connected with conditions in the money market. A large number of issues, however, held strong, the greatest importance being attached to the renewed accumulation of the Public Utility shares.

Pugent Sound advanced about 4 points. American Gas & Electric rose over three points and Electric Bond & Share moved up over 2 points while a number of other issues, including American Superpower, Electric Investors, United Gas Improvement and American Light & Traction were bid for in large volume at advances.

Deere & Company had the widest range in the specialties, first advancing over 7 points and then dropping over 9. Firestone Tire, which was in supply at intervals yesterday, lost over 8 points before midday, bringing it down to 200. Pittsburgh Plate Glass, after showing strength in recent trading dropped 4 points. Sparks Withington continued strong moving up about 5 points, and Auburn Motor advanced a point. St. Paul issues were in supply, declines being sustained in both classes of preferred stock and in the adjustment 5s.

Prairie Pipe Line was the leading feature in the oil group, making a further gain of a point to a new high record above 211. This stock is understood in financial circles to have been acquired by the same interests that have long been active in Houston oil. Stories of a split-up were in circulation but did not come from official sources.

Bancitaly started with a gain of 2 points and then reacted, while Celanese rallied after a fractional loss. Continental Oil had a further decline of ¼ to 16⅜, and Standard Oil of Indiana reached its previous low for the year on a fractional decline.

GREAT COST OF CRIME TOLD BY C. C. M'DONALD

"The enormous increase of crime in this country and its cost is of vital interest to this club," Charles C. McDonald, local attorney, said in an address delivered to the Rotary club at noon Thursday.

"The annual crime cost of America is $10,000,000,000. If this crime debt were stopped for two years the money would wipe out the national debt and leave a handsome surplus.

"The greatest cause of the present crime wave is the weakened moral fiber, the atheism, fatalism and skepticism of our youth. The second greatest cause is debt. If no man in this city, if no man in this club, owed a dollar it would not be necessary to have talks on being more jovial.

"If I had my way I would abolish capital punishment as a penalty for crime. The history of civilization shows that the death penalty fails to deter criminals. And every method of putting a man to death has been tried out by civilization in an effort to stop crime.

"More people were put to death for crime in the United States last year than in any previous year. Countries having the least number of crimes punishable by death have the least crime. In Mexico 30 to 40 crimes may be punished by death; yet that country is a charnel house.

"Illinois and Michigan, two states side by side, present a good example of this point. None of you ever heard of a crime wave in Michigan or Detroit. This state has had no death penalty for years. In one sitting of an Illinois criminal court last year nine persons were sentenced to death.

"I would repeal or radically modify the Volstead and Dean laws. The crime wave started in America with their enactment. One-third of all the cases which reached the court of last resort last year were for violations of the prohibition laws.

Became Fashionable.

"With the passage of these two laws crime for the first time in America became not only respectable but fashionable.

"The laws of a country should be plain and simple. The penal code should be taught in the government classes in school. It is not the severity of the punishment but the surety and swiftness of it which deters criminals. England and Canada lead in law observance because of the reputation of Scotland yard and the Royal Northwest Mounted police.

"We must provide an outlet for the pep, vigor and vitality of youth. Crime and mystery shows drew the big gate receipts last year. There are no more California gold rushes, Klondike discoveries and free land to provide the necessary thrill."

John Bradley sang two solos with J. S. Pitman at the piano.

Walter Cline read a telegram announcing that Paul Rankin, past district governor of Rotary and first assistant secretary in Chicago, died Wednesday evening. Members of the club stood in silence for 30 seconds as a mark of respect for the deceased official.

It was announced that next Thursday, February 23, would mark the 23rd anniversary of Rotary and that the local club would have a special program on Rotary work.

BOND MARKET IN AIMLESS DRIFTING WITH LOW TOTAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—The bond market appeared to drift in an aimless manner today, with trading again in reduced volume. New offerings were not large, and were reported quickly taken by dealers. Bond observers believed that little change in the market was likely until the development of some major influence, such as new financing by the government or a marked change in the money market.

Foreign issues were less active than in recent sessions. Finnish issues showed more resistance to selling, but continued to ease off. Italian and French liens were quiet.

Rather heavy offerings of Erie 4s and Chesapeake Corporation 5s appeared on the market, but recessions were small. Other rails and most of the public utility and industrial mortgages received little attention. Nominal activity in federal government issues, prices of which were steady.

Grain Pit Notes

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—It will not be surprising to see May corn selling at $1 or more a bushel by Saturday, according to bull leaders. The rapidity with which heavy profit taking and local selling of corn was absorbed yesterday created favorable comment among the traders during the day. A majority of traders were more convinced than ever that the market was to continue its persistent advance.

While there was little in the situation that was regarded as bullish, traders felt that if corn continued on the upgrade, wheat would follow, and might get out of the rut in which it has been since last September.

EARLY ADVANCE IN COTTON WIPED OUT BY NEWS OF RAINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—An early advance in the cotton market today was followed by declines under selling promoted by reports of rain or snow in the southwestern sections which have been complaining of droughty conditions.

The market sold about 20 to 22 points net higher early in response to higher Liverpool cables, but more than lost its gains, midafternoon prices showing net declines of 3 to 7 points on active positions.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 5 points. Some selling was reported on reports of rain or snow in the southwest, but offerings were readily absorbed by a renewal of the recent covering movement, evidently promoted by relatively firm Liverpool cables.

Trading was comparatively quiet at the start, but became more active, the market selling up to 18.24 for May and 18.14 for October or about 16 to 19 points net higher by the end of the first hour.

Private cables reported hedging and further liquidation had been absorbed by local buying and trade calling in the Liverpool market and moderate business in light cotton cloths for India, with improved demand for cotton yarns.

The advance extended to 18.29 for May and 18.19 for October later, making net gains of about 20 to 24 points. In addition to a renewal of covering some trade and commission house buying was reported, but the buying slackened somewhat at the higher figures, and prices eased off some 5 or 10 points from the best toward midday under realizing.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 16. (AP)—Following an early advance of over $1 a bale the cotton market turned easy in later trading today on realizing and reports of soaking rains in West Texas and much snow in Oklahoma. March contracts traded off from 18.04 to 17.75, May from 18.03 to 17.70, and July 18.08 to 17.75, or 5 to 7 points under the previous close. Exports 14,718 bales.

Higher cables and news from Washington relative to the proposed scope of the congressional investigation of the causes for the decline in cotton were responsible for an advance of over $1 a bale in the cotton market in early trading today.

First trades showed gains of 6 to 8 points and the market continued to advance until March reached 17.28, May 17.97 and July 18.03, or 18 to 12 points net up. At the end of the first half hour the market was steady near the highs.

Buying on the belief that rains in the western drought section while saving the spring crops would prevent the diversion of considerable grain acreage to cotton, extended the advance to 18.04 for March, 18.03 for May and 18.08 for July, 24 to 28 points net up.

Later the market weakened on reports of additional rain and snow in the West. March traded off to 17.82, May 17.80 and July to 17.85, or 22 to 23 points down from the highs and to within 2 to 5 points of yesterday's close. Near noon 5 to 8 points of the loss had been recovered on covering and the undertone was steady.

Cotton futures closed steady at net 2 points up to 1 point down.

STOCKS SKID OFF AFTER EARLY HIKE ON N. Y. MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—The stock market following a brief upturn after the opening today, began to head downward, and various oil, motor, rubber and miscellaneous shares retreated into new low ground for the year. The early strength was based on buying of public utilities on the senate's rejection of the Walsh proposal of a senatorial investigation of superpower projects.

When prices began to slip, however, in many groups, more attention began to be paid to less favorable trade reports, as well as to the monetary outlook. The reported falling off in new buying of steel was an important factor, and traders again turned away eyes toward the statement on brokers' loans, which will be issued after the closing of the market. There were indications that the credit strings were being drawn a little tighter, and that banks were scrutinizing more searchingly the collateral offered for loans.

Pools which had been successful recently in pushing up their favorites, appeared to be backing away from offerings as a number of closely controlled issues showed recessions of 3 to 5 points. The general retreat was orderly, however, and confined to a point or so in most of the high grade industrials, such as U. S. Steel and General Motors.

A drop of 9 points was recorded by Midland Steel Products preferred, and weakness involved some of the dividend paying railroads. Nickel Plate lost more than 3 points. Few of the earlier strong public utilities were able to retain their gains when the selling gathered force in other sections of the list.

Much confusion of speculative sentiment continued to prevail at the opening of the stock market today, as indicated by narrow and irregular changes. National Dairy Products had an initial gain of 1½ and Greene Cananea Copper opened 1⅝ points lower.

Although there were a few isolated spots of depression during the first half hour, including Atchison, Peoples Gas and American Linseed, the market generally was stimulated by comprehensive buying of public utility shares. This was attributed to the senate's action in rejecting the Walsh proposal for a senatorial investigation of super power projects and turning the matter over to the federal trade commission. Montana Power quickly jumped 3 points and early advances of 1 to 1½ were recorded by American Power & Light, Commonwealth Power, Electric Power & Light, American & Foreign Power, National Power & Light, Standard Gas & Electric and Columbia Gas & Electric. Some of the food and other specialty issues also were headed upward in the early trading, notably Victor Talking Machine, Gold Dust, Julius Kayser, Remington Rand, United Drug and Snider Packing preferred.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling cables slightly lower around $4.87¾.

Rising prices apparently invited fresh offerings from the speculative element under which prices succumbed sharply in many instances. The rapidity with which several specialties collapsed indicated that recent pool support was decidedly lacking. Adams Express fell 8 points, while International Harvester, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, Mullins corporation, Freeport Texas and Wright Aeronautical lost between 3 and 4 points. National Surety, which rose 22 points yesterday, gathered up 16 more when it reached 351. Hupp Motors, Vanadium Steel, Manhattan Electrical Supply and Reading showed flashes of strength. The renewal rate for call loans was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

The closing was heavy. Buying of Standard railroads, particularly Reading, initiated a forward movement in the final hour which cut down measurably earlier losses in some of the industrials. A few shares responded to aggressive pool operations again, Vanadium selling above 85. U. S. Steel and General Motors got back to a parity with yesterday's closing figures. Total sales approximated 2,000,000 shares.

Increased requirements of Carnegie steel plants for hot metal are reflected in the starting of another blast furnace at Newcastle, Pa. Further increases in active iron capacity in the Youngstown area are expected over the next 30 days for second quarter tonnages. Independents are quoting 2.90 cents for black sheets, 2.10 cents for blue annealed, 3.75 cents for galvanized and 4.15 cents for full finished.

Net earnings of Cities Service company for the year ended January 31 reached $31,[illegible]9,717, an increase of $6,051,634 over the preceding 12 months. Earnings on the common stock were equal to $5.53 a share against $4.27 a share the year before.

Increase in the working capital of the Butterick company will be effected through proceeds of $2,000,000 2-year 5 per cent notes being offered today by Halsey Stuart & company at $99.50 and interest to yield 5.26 per cent.

The forthcoming report of Radio Corporation of America for 1927 is expected to show a satisfactory year. The usual generous write-offs are looked for, and with these impending the financial district does not anticipate any immediate action on dividends on the junior shares.

Gillete Safety Razor company has an order for 7,000,000 razors, minimum delivery to begin March 15.

Utah Copper company earned $9.68 a share in 1927 on profit of $15,740,764 compiled from quarterly reports. This compared with $15,557,028 or $9.45 a share in 1926. Fourth quarter profit was $4,212,735, or $2.59 a share.

Sugar and Coffee

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—The raw sugar market was easy early today and although no sales were reported, sugars were available at concessions of 1-32c or on the basis of 4.18.

Aside from a little steadiness at the start on covering and some buying for European account, raw sugar futures were easy under heavy March liquidation and continued hedge selling of the later positions. The market opened 1 point higher to 1 point lower but soon weakened and at midday showed net losses of 2 to 3 points on active positions. The continued liberal offerings in the spot market, even on declines seemed to have discouraged fresh commitments and led to the more or less general liquidation.

Business in refined sugar continued of a hand-to-mouth character, with the trade not inclined to buy very extensively in view of the lower prices for raws. Prices were unchanged at 5.70 for fine granulated.

Sugar futures closed weak, approximate sales 57,200 tons; March 2.36; May 2.46; July 2.54; September 2.63; December 2.73.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—Coffee, spot firm; demand good; Rio No. 7, 15½; Santos No. 4, 23½; Rio futures, steady; sales 34,000 bags. March 14.70; May 14.24; July 13.90; Sept. 13.58; Dec. 13.37.

Santos futures steady; sales approximated 21,000 bags.

March 20.90; May 20.70; July 20.20; Sept. 19.76; Dec. 19.33.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 16. (AP)—Spot coffee, steady; Rio 7s 16¼; Santos 4s 23¼@23.

Queen Victoria, who ruled from 1837 to 1907, had the longest reign of all English monarchs.

WEAKER COUNTRIES DEPEND ON SUBMARINE AS WEAPON

LONDON, Feb. 16. (AP)—W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty, speaking before the Constitutional club today, declared that Great Britain's submarine policy is exactly the same as that stated in Washington in 1921.

"We should be very glad," he said, "if submarines could be abolished altogether, but the weaker and smaller countries regard submarines as their only weapon and we have to take them into consideration as well."

SECOND TEST GULF WELL IN LOUISIANA EXPECTED TO CAUSE GREATER FLOW

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 16. (AP) A second test of the Gulf Production company's McElroy well No. 4, which in a secret test yesterday gave a full flow of gas with a spray of oil under a pressure of 450 pounds, is being made today, and geologists were expecting a larger flow of oil in view of the fact that the pressure had decreased about 50 pounds since the cap was removed early yesterday.

After leading competing scouts to believe the test would not be made until later in the week the owners opened the well, which had been capped for several days, and allowed the gas-oil product to flow into an old mill pond which had been cleared for storage purposes. The pressure atomized the mixture and sprayed it into the atmosphere so that the pond contained only a small amount of oil last night.

As oil comes at lower pressure than gas, and as yesterday the pressure of the well was steadily decreasing, officials were hopeful that the flow would eventually become pure oil.

McElroy No. 4 is located in Ascension parish, about 30 miles southeast of Baton Rouge and 50 miles northwest of New Orleans.

Magnolia Cut on Light Grades Has No Effect Here

The announcement issued Thursday by the Magnolia Petroleum company from its Dallas headquarters will have little effect on the situation in the Wichita Falls district. Only two couties in the tier of North Texas fields produce a low grade of oil affected by the latest schedule. They are Montague and Cooke, which, in addition to producing high grade crude, furnish the greater part of the grades mentioned. Wichita, Clay, Young, Archer, Wilbarger and Jack all produce crude whose bulk ranges anywhere from 32 to 41.9 gravity.

Magnolia Cuts Low Grades

DALLAS, Feb. 16. (AP)—Reductions of from 30 to 13 cents in crude oil prices in Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma, were announced, effective today, by the Magnolia Petroleum company.

Oil of a specific gravity under 30 will bring 75 cents instead of $1.05; that of 30 to 30.9 gravity, 90 cents instead of $1.16, and that of 31 to 31.9 gravity, $1.05 instead of $1.18. No changed price for crude oil of higher specific gravity than 32 was made.

Rich Prize List Posted for Shoot At Officers' Meet

There's going to be a lot of shooting hereabouts on February 23 and 24.

The promise is that of Warren Belcher, deputy sheriff, and S. O. Hamm, members of the "shoot committee" which is arranging for the big feature of the entertainment of the more than 500 peace officers who will attend the two-day convention here of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers association.

The shoot program, they declare, will be one worthy of the convention, which will be attended by pistol marksmen who stack up with the best to be found anywhere. The list of prizes to be offered, they further promise, will be one of such richness as to cause the best shots to make extra efforts to be present.

One prize already has been posted, and indications are it will be the capital award. The particular prize is a portable Brunswick phonograph which has been put up by R. C. Coffee, manager of the Phonograph Shop. Other business men of the city are to post other prizes for the various events, according to plans.

JAIL FIVE BOYS HERE ACCUSED OF CAR THEFTS

Five boys, none of whom is yet 15 years of age, have been arrested here in the past four days and accused of automobile thefts, according to information given Thursday by J. T. Cabe, county juvenile officer.

The five, Mr. McCabe said, are alleged to have operated in two independent groups.

Two of the youths, arrested several days ago, were charged with taking an automobile in Vernon and have been taken there to await disposition of the case.

Three other boys, taken into custody Wednesday, were said by the juvenile officer to have been implicated in the theft of two cars. All five boys live in Wichita Falls.

Investigations in connection with the latest arrest still were in progress Thursday afternoon. Wayne Somerville, county attorney, is conducting them and said his inquiry had not proceeded far enough for him to decide what recommendations he will make in the case. The other case is out of the hands of local authorities and the disposition of the charge rests with the district judge at Vernon.

The arrests earlier in the week were made after Mr. Cabe had located in Wichita Falls a roadster reported stolen from Vernon. The boys were quoted by him as having admitted that they took the car from Vernon because they wanted to get home.

The trio being investigated Thursday are alleged to have taken a car here, to have driven it to Mineral Wells and there abandoned it. They are then accused of having stolen another car in Mineral Wells and to have returned in it to Wichita Falls. That car has been recovered, Mr. Cabe said.

WALSH TO SEEK NEW RULING ON COURT CHARGES

WICHITA COUNTY AUDITOR SAYS FEES FOR BOND ASSESSED ILLEGALLY

TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL TO BE ASKED FOR OPINION

"Cost" Item of $1.50 Allowed for Release Before Trial of Accused Under Fire.

His belief that "numerous persons" convicted on misdemeanor charges in justice courts of the county have been illegally charged with a "bond fee" of $1.50 will be made the basis of a request to the attorney general for an opinion, according to an announcement Thursday by E. P. Walsh, county auditor.

The inquiry, Mr. Walsh said, will be forwarded to the attorney general not later than Friday, or as soon as it can be so constructed as to make clear the technical point upon which a ruling is desired.

Whatever finding the attorney general may make, Mr. Walsh said, will be transmitted through proper channels to various justices of the peace in the county with the recommendation from properly constituted authorities that they govern themselves thereby.

If subsequent monthly reports to the county auditor should indicate that the opinion is not being adhered to, Mr. Walsh declared, "the matter then will become one for reference to the grand jury."

The question raised by Mr. Walsh is the second in two days to be brought sharply to attention in connection with various "costs" which are levied upon persons found guilty in justice courts on misdemeanor charges. Typical misdemeanor charges are traffic law violations, disturbing the peace, drunkenness and vagrancy.

Wednesday the attorney general's department gave an opinion to Wayne Somerville, Wichita county attorney, that a justice court may not levy an item of $1 for committing a convicted person to jail unless such an order is actually issued and carried out. Mr. Somerville still awaited formal notice of the opinion Thursday.

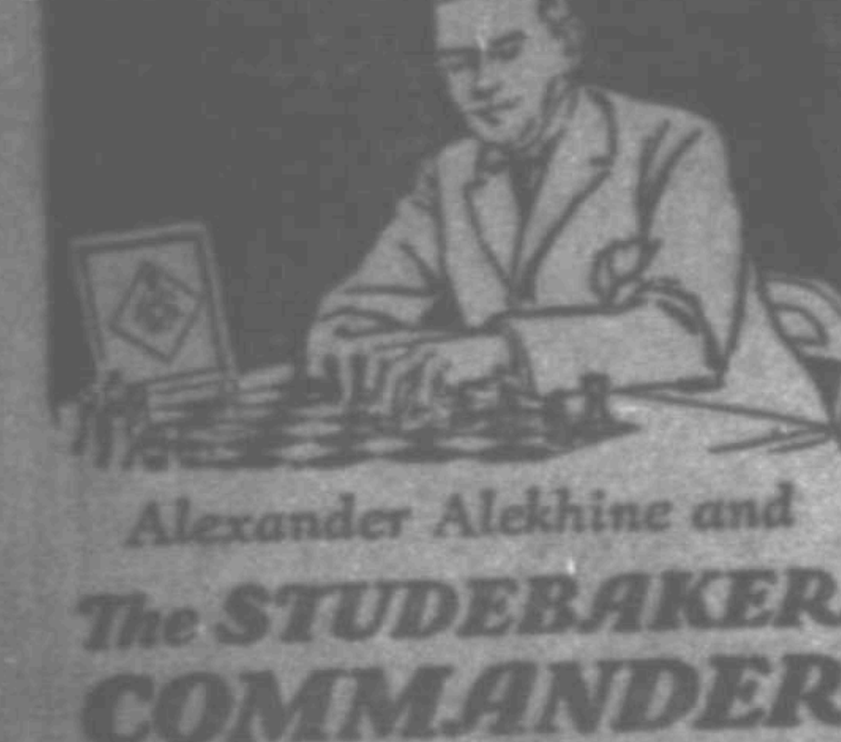

In seeking a ruling on the question, the county attorney said, he was prompted by the fact that "numerous instances have occurred" of a commitment charge being made when no commitment order has been issued. The cost was charged in those cases, he explained, on the theory with which he disagrees that any person is automatically committed to jail at the instant of being found guilty.

How Question Arose

Mr. Walsh's announcement of appealing to the attorney general, he said, was precipitated by the latest monthly report from one of the justice courts of the county on misdemeanor cases disposed of there during last December. In more than a score of individual cases, Mr. Walsh said, the justice of the peace is shown to have included in the cost levied upon convicted individuals an item of $1.50 for allowing bond.

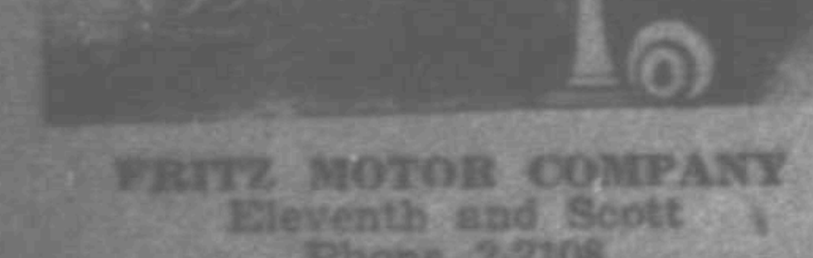

The law provides, Mr. Walsh said, that the arresting officer may be allowed costs of $1.50 when a person taken into custody on a misdemeanor charge makes bond for appearance in court at a later date to answer the complaint. It frequently happens, the auditor charges, that a person, after being arrested on some such charge, is given verbal instructions only by the officer to appear in a certain court at a certain time. Mr. Walsh charges that he has discovered numerous such persons who, after obeying the verbal instructions to appear and after being adjudged guilty, usually upon their own pleas, are then forced to pay an extra item of $1.50 for a bond which was never executed. The theory of making the charge, it was explained, is that bond was technically given when the accused was released on his promise to appear in court at a later date. Defenders of such action also contend that the procedure saves the accused person the inconvenience of waiting until a bond is prepared and then of obtaining signers. They contend also that any procedure other than that followed would often make it necessary to jail accused persons for the reason that the proper official might not be available to approve a bond which is obviously satisfactory.

Mr. Walsh, however, takes the view that the costs for allowing a bond cannot be levied unless the bond is actually issued.

Lovers of Dixie Tunes Will Get Treat Saturday

Lovers of familiar and melodious Dixie tunes will have a real treat in store for them when McFarland and Gardner, Brunswick recording artists and radio entertainers, appear here Saturday night at the Memorial auditorium.

Lester McFarland and Robert A. Gardner are favorites throughout the South and their many records have sold by the thousands. Through special arrangement with the Brunswick-Balke-Collander company, the Phonograph Shop, local Brunswick dealer, will present McFarland and Gardner in a special popular concert for the Saturday night performance only.

The popular duo has just recently completed an extensive tour of the vaudeville circuits, where they have been greeted by capacity audiences. Both McFarland and Gardner are blind and their music emanates from their souls. Their plaintive recording of the old tunes, familiar years ago, will live forever. As masters of the harmonica, guitar and mandolin, they have few equals.

Many Wichita Falls folks who attended the Dallas fair last year, have had the pleasure of hearing the team; to many others they are equally well known because of their radio broadcasting. Among their most popular record numbers are: "When the Roses Bloom Again," "Bright Sherman Valley," "Carolina Home," and "I Was Born 4,000 Years Ago."

Tickets for the performance are now on sale at the Phonograph Shop, 803 Indiana.

CONTEMPT CHARGE AGAINST FORMER OFFICER DROPPED

Judge C. M. McFarland's record of not having been forced to adjudge a person in contempt of the county court at law still stood Wednesday afternoon when he dismissed contempt proceedings against W. M. Davidson, a former policeman, with a reprimand.

Mr. Davidson had been cited to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of the court for his failure to endorse a reward check for $500, issued by the Arkansas Bankers' association for the capture of two bank robbers here about two years ago.

Mr. Davidson claims part of the reward. The entire amount is claimed for the police relief fund. Mr. Davidson's endorsement of the check is necessary to bring the money here, to remain on deposit until his claim to a share in the amount is determined.

Judge McFarland declared he dismissed the contempt proceedings because of his belief that Mr. Davidson had refused his endorsement because of his mistaken fear that he would thereby sign away his claim to the amount.

TOURS PROPOSED ROUTE SAN ANGELO FRISCO LINE

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Upon his return Thursday from a three-day tour of the section between San Antonio and San Angelo, made to determine the advisability of building a direct railroad to the northwest, R. W. Morrison, president of the Gulf and West Railroad company, said that no statement would be made until the report of Frisco railroad officials who accompanied him is ready.

F. G. Jonah, chief engineer of the Frisco lines, and G. L. Oliver, traffic manager, are expected to return from San Angelo Thursday night with Porter A. Whaley of the chamber of commerce, and U. S. Pawckett of the freight bureau, who accompanied them.

The party will go to Corpus Christi Friday to determine more definitely the extent of freight tonnage which the proposed road might expect.

Upon the completion of this survey, Jonah will present his report to J. M. Kurn, president of the Frisco lines, either recommending or disapproving construction of the Frisco railroad from Brady to San Antonio, thereby linking this city with San Angelo.

SEEK NEW LOCATION FOR GUNTER BIBLE COLLEGE

(Special to the Times)

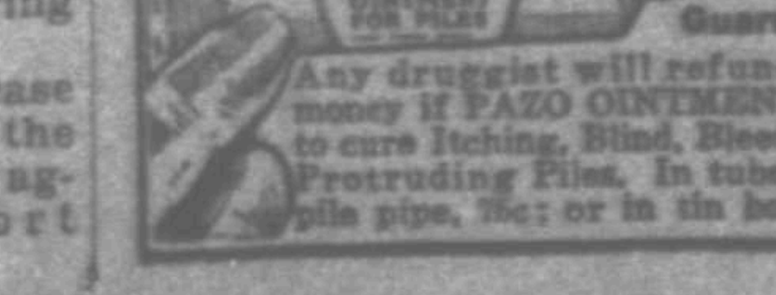

LOCKNEY, Feb. 16.—John R. Freeman, president of Gunter Bible college of Gunter, Texas, and R. O. Conner, member of the board of directors of the same institution, spoke before a mass meeting here in behalf of their effort to move Gunter Bible college to some point in West Texas.

According to the plan presented by Freeman and Connor, these people expect the city decided upon as the location for the college to give 1280 acres of land, this land to be subdivided into 300 lots adjoining the campus of 30 acres and 90 ten-acre farms, the farms to be improved and sold to patrons of the school.

By this plan, the promoters expect to build administration buildings, dormitories and insure the active operation of the college for a period of 25 years, without other help.

Members of the local chamber of commerce made no move at the meeting toward securing the college for Lockney.

SHOPS TO WEAR GAY DRESS FOR OPERA VISITORS

The grand opera season in Wichita Falls is to be a gala event!

To inaugurate the coming of grand opera to the city, merchants are going to display the season's fashions most in vogue. Display windows of the many business houses are to be given special attention, and the many visitors during the opera season are certain of seeing the city at its best, according to plans made Thursday morning at a meeting of the window display men of the city, held in the display advertising department of the Wichita Daily Times.

According to Harry G. Walker, chairman, every business house in the city is extended an invitation to participate in the plan of making Wichita Falls more attractive to its guests at the time of the grand opera season.

T. A. Bradley, advertising manager, Perkins-Timberlake company, said:

"Wichita Falls should start getting ready to present to grand opera visitors the very best it has to offer. I know of no better way than to have display windows of the many business firms attractive to visitors. After all is said the visitors remember the appearance of the business concerns. Every store, from the largest to the smallest, should take an active interest in having a neat, attractive window display during grand opera season."

The window display men planned to open the windows for the public's inspection and approval at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of February 25. Those interested in the window displays are not to compete for any favors or prizes. It is all for the best interest of Wichita Falls, it was stated.

Those attending the meeting were: Harry G. Walker, chairman, the Hub Clothiers; T. A. Bradley, Perkins-Timberlake company; Marion Smith, W. B. McClurkan & Co.; H. L. Goss, Saul's Department store; J. Bernstein, Orchid Shop, Inc.; G. Burch, Williams Department store, and C. A. Jordan, J. C. Penney company.

FORMAL DINNERS AND WEIGHT REGULATION TOPICS DISCUSSED

Domestic Art and Science Lecturer At Times Homemaking School Gives Third Interesting Talk Wednesday

Instructions on how to set a table for a formal dinner and a lecture on how to maintain weight or reduce, in addition to the explanation of several interesting recipes, were given by Mrs. J. F. Plummer Wednesday afternoon at the Memorial auditorium.

It was Mrs. Plummer's third lecture on domestic art and science and the third session of the Wichita Daily Times' annual cooking school.

Mrs. Plummer explained the correct arrangement for salad knives and forks, pointing out that it is necessary to have knives to cut some salads, especially lettuce.

"It is very incorrect to use tumblers on a formal table," Mrs. Plummer declared. "Napkins should be from 22 to 24 inches long and the table cover should never hang less than 10 or 12 inches from the table. The corners should hang in panels.

"You should not open the napkins entirely at a formal dinner, and unless you are going to have more than one meal in a home, never fold them after using."

Beware of medicines and violent exercises that promise to take off from 5 to 10 pounds of fat in a week or 10 days, for they are very injurious to the health, Mrs. Plummer declared.

"Fat was not made in a short length of time and so cannot be successfully removed quickly," the instructor said. "A safe and simple method for reducing is to have every other day in the week a 'buttermilk day' and to take nothing at any meal on those days but two glasses of buttermilk and a cracker. Plain lettuce with salt may be substituted for the cracker if desired."

How to tell the proper number of calories needed for each person and how to maintain the correct weight was thoroughly discussed by Mrs Plummer.

Mrs. Plummer answered a number of questions during the afternoon and samples of the dishes she cooked during her demonstration were given those in attendance at the school.

Following are some of the recipes Mrs. Plummer explained Wednesday afternoon:

Spanish Rice Pudding

1½ cups cooked rice
1 cup grated cheese
2 tablespoons minced pimento
2 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter

Mix rice, cheese, pimentos, salt and butter. Add sweet milk with which eggs have been mixed. Bake in moderate oven 25 minutes.

Oil Mayonnaise

1 or 2 cups oil
1 egg yolk

Beat egg yolk and add oil, drop at a time, stirring constantly until ½ cup oil is used. Add remainder of oil, beating thoroughly and set in refrigerator.

Seasoning may be added when made or as when used.

Ginger Bread

1 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
4 whole eggs
1 cup molasses
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon all-spice
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
4 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sour milk
½ cup all-bran

Cream butter and sugar and add four eggs which have been well beaten. Add molasses and continue to stir. Dissolve soda in one tablespoon hot water. Sift flour, spices, baking powder and salt together and add sour milk and thoroughly blend all ingredients. Grease and flour pan, turn ginger bread into pan and put into moderate oven and bake one hour.

Baked Beans a la Creole

2 cups navy beans
4 strips bacon
1 tablespoon grated onion
3 pork chops
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 clove
2 tablespoons tomato catsup
2 tablespoons cane syrup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ cup hot water

After parboiling beans, put a layer in baking dish, add slice bacon and some parsley. Another layer of beans and one slice bacon and pork chops. Over this pour the mixture of onions, sauce, catsup and syrup. Cook from four to six hours. Much better after setting one day. Will keep several days.

Planked Hamburger

2 pounds hamburger meat
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
1 tablespoon grated onion
2 tablespoons tomato sauce or sweet milk
1 cup toasted bread crumbs
1 tablespoon minced celery
1 tablespoon minced green pepper

Garnish with Irish potatoes, green peas and carrots. After frying a few minutes put on planking board or platter and plank.

Pork Roast With Dressing

3½ pounds pork roast

Put in baking dish without seasoning and place in top element of oven and sear. Puncture roast all over and put garlic and seasoning in holes.

1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup tomato sauce
2 tablespoons onion juice
1 tablespoon minced parsley
½ teaspoon ground cloves

Pepper and salt to taste

Putting dressing over top and sides of roast about one inch thick. Place in oven and bake 30 minutes for each pound of meat, at a slow temperature. Garnish with candied apples.

Candied Apples

Slice and core apples, for each apple use ¾ cup sugar and for each ¾ cup sugar use ¾ cup water and ¾ tablespoon vinegar. Use small amount of cinnamon candy or cinnamon stick. Put on stove and cook until apple is tender and syrup is thick.

FRITZ SHOW WINDOWS ATTRACT GOOD DEAL FAVORABLE COMMENT

Show windows of the Fritz Motor company, Eleventh and Scott, have been attracting a good deal of attention for the past few days, due to an unusually beautiful lighting arrangement and the arrangement of some of the newest Cadillacs.

Vari-colored lights play over the cars, showing off to best advantage all the most beautiful features of the new models, while a soft gray curtain provides a background that is suited perfectly to both the cars and the lighting arrangement.

Blackheads

Most stubborn cases of blackheads, pimples and blotches yield to Rowles Mentho Sulphur. It's the magical combination — sulphur for killing the germs and clearing the skin, menthol for healing the sore and broken tissues. Clears up skin eruptions — even burning eczema — amazingly quick. Leaves the skin healthfully white and smooth. Prove it on your own skin. Rowles Mentho Sulphur is inexpensive and all druggists supply it in jars ready to use. Be sure it's Rowles.—Adv.

Death in River at Country Estate After Fall From Dike Ends Career Picturesque Figure of Illinois Bar

OTTAWA, Ill., Feb. 16. (AP)—Lee O'Neil Browne, lawyer, legislator and one of Illinois democracy's most forceful figures, drowned yesterday in the swift waters of the Fox river flowing past his estate.

Falling 50 feet from a stone embankment at the rear of his new home, his body was carried nearly half a mile down stream before it was recovered 45 minutes later.

A year ago Mr. Browns, who was 62 years old, slipped from the same wall, but was saved when his suspenders caught on an iron hook.

Friends often had warned him against walking along the wall, because he was subject to dizzy spells. Only recently he agreed to construct a guard rail there.

Had Harry Hill's Case

Death came while a jury was debating the fate of Young Harry Hill, whom Browns had defended against charges of matricide. Browne had just returned from the courthouse in high spirits, believing that the long deliberations were favorable to his client.

Since 1900 Mr. Browne has represented his district in the state legislature, where his oratory and forcefulness were recognized by both Democrats and Republicans.

It was in the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate in 1909 and in the subsequent charges of bribery that the name Lee O'Niel Browne was given national prominence. It was charged by State Representative Charles White of O'Fallon, that Browne had paid him $1000 to vote for Lorimer.

Lorimer Lost His Job

As a result of the subsequent investigation, Lorimer was ousted from the United States senate. Browne was twice tried on Bribery charges, but was not convicted. He was returned by his constituency to the legislature by a reassuring vote of confidence.

Although a Democrat, Browne opposed much of the program of the former Democratic Governor Edward F. Dunne. On the other hand, he has been a close personal friend of Gov. Len Small, a Republican, and is understood to have advised the governor on most of the Republican appointments in Browne's home county, LaSalle.

In person, Browne was suggestive of the old school political figures. A forceful face merged into a broad forehead. He wore the flowing Windsor tie, and his hair was cropped behind.

Married Three Times

He was thrice married. His third wife, Mrs. Nellio Riordon Browne, and an adopted daughter, nine years old, survive.

With him when he fell from the wall yesterday was Charles McNamara, a Chicago attorney and friend. Boats were not available, hour before a policeman in a small craft was able to reach the legislator's body. Physicians and firemen with pulmotors worked over the body three hours before hope of reviving him was abandoned.

Browne was able to swim, but his head struck the wall during the fall, stunning him, and it was three-quarters of an

POLICE CHIEF WARNS PUBLIC TO KEEP ALL POULTRY PENNED UP

A warning to keep chickens and pigeons penned up now that the gardening season has opened was issued Thursday by Chief of Police Frank Burns.

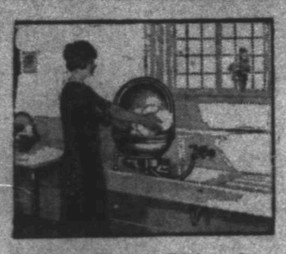

"I have already received several complaints about chickens damaging flower beds and gardens," Chief Burns said. "Unless the poultry fanciers keep their chickens penned up we will be forced to file complaints against them. The city ordinances make it a violation of the law to allow any sort of poultry to run at large."

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then not fail.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.—Adv.

MAN STRICKEN BY MENINGITIS WHILE IN JAIL IMPROVES

The disclosure that prisoners in the Wichita county jail are being kept under close observation for meningitis was made Thursday following the revelation that Jim Odom, a prisoner, developed the disease Saturday while confined there.

Precautions were being taken by Dr. M. A. Beckman, county physician, despite his belief that the danger of any further outbreak of the contagion is extremely remote. Odom, who was being held under an indictment charging him with theft of an automobile, now is being cared for at the county farm, having been transferred there from the Wichita General hospital, to which he was taken from the jail Saturday night. Dr. Beckman Thursday pronounced the man's condition good and said that a recovery was probable.

Every safeguard that can be taken on behalf of those who came in contact with Odom, Dr. Beckman said, has been taken.

Odom, it was said, has been ill since Wednesday of last week, when intestinal trouble developed. Dr. Beckman visited him three times a day until Saturday, when symptoms of meningitis appeared. The prisoner was transferred to the Wichita general hospital, and further tests were made on which Dr. Beckman received a report Sunday morning, confirming his diagnosis of meningitis. Odom was taken to the county farm immediately afterward where he can be attended without endangering others except the doctor and nurse who are with him.

SENATE TO KEEP SILENT ON PROPOSED SHIP SALE

SHIPSTEAD FAVORS TRUCE ON FARM TARIFF ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—A suggestion for a gentlemen's agreement between the senate and house for consideration of an emergency tariff program covering agricultural products only was put forward today by Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor of Minnesota.

NEW EARL OXFORD DIRECT DESCENDANT FAMOUS 'PIE EATER'

GLASTONBURY, England, Feb. 16. (AP)—The new Earl of Oxford and Asquith, aged 11, is a descendant on his mother's side of Little Jack Horner who sat in a corner eating pie. The corner is Mells Manor which the Monks of Glastonbury were forced to abandon during the reformation.

The accepted explanation of the nursery rhyme is that Jack Horner was steward of the Abbot of Glastonbury and that he by subterfuge gained possession of the deeds of Mells Manor. The deeds were sent to Henry VIII, concealed for safety in a pie. Jack Horner was the bearer and en route he lifted the crust and extracted this "plum."

Mells Manor is still owned by Horner's direct descendants, Katherine Frances Horner, daughter of Sir John Horner, married Raymond Asquith in 1907. He was killed in action during the war.

PUBLIC UTILITIES PROBE BY FEDERAL TRADE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Financial structures of public utility power companies are to be investigated, but the injury will be in the hands of the Federal Trade commission instead of a senate committee.

Forced into its first night session, the senate adopted the inquiry resolution, by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, after accepting 46 to 31 an amendment by Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, transferring the investigation to the trade commission. The vote on the George amendment climaxed a three day fight over the proposal and broke party lines to bits. The vote on adoption of the amended resolution was not recorded.

Twenty-eight Republicans and 18 Democrats supported the George amendment, overcoming a combination of 11 Republicans, including the independent group, and 20 Democrats.

Battered Violin May Prove to Be Valuable Relic

DARLINGTON, Wis., Feb. 16. (AP) Marian McQuaid, 15-year-old school girl, liked to play the violin, but she was ashamed to be seen in public with the old fiddle belonging to her father.

She had about decided to get a new one when her teacher looking it over yesterday saw on an age-browned paper inside the instrument the words: "Stradivarius, Cremona Anno 1721."

An expert will be consulted to see if the violin is a genuine Stradivarius. It has been in the girl's family 50 years.

Puppy Love of Youths Initial Sign of Religion

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Puppy love in adolescence is the first sign of interest in religion, Dr. Solomon Freehof, of Chicago, told the Child Study conference today.

"When your 15-year-old son slicks down his hair and borrows dad's best necktie to make an impression on a girl, don't try to stop him," Dr. Freehof said. "Religion is a stormy element in the mental life at this period, because the psychic changes which occur are of a type which invariably affects religion.

CHICAGO MUSICIANS FORCE RADIO HEADS TO PAY ORCHESTRAS

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Requests by Chicago radio stations for another week to settle their dispute with the Chicago Federation of Musicians over remote control have been denied by the union.

James Petrillo, head of the union, said that five weeks ago the radio stations were notified that after February 19 the use of remote control would be prohibited unless stations employed a specified number of union musicians in their studios.

Stations WGN, the Chicago Tribune; WENR, the Western Electric company, and WCFL, Chicago Federation of Labor, have agreed to the union demands, Petrillo said. Several other stations, he added, have informed him they would sign new agreements before Saturday.

"Virtually all the large stations use remote control, a system by which they place microphones in theaters, cafes, or dance halls and broadcast the music as part of their programs," said the union head.

"It is to stabilize conditions that the union has demanded employment of ten musicians at the large stations and five at the smaller ones. It will cost the large stations about $50,000 a year and the others about $25,000 to hire the musicians," he said.

Cave Men Never Had Toothaches Asserts Dentist

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 16. (AP)—The cave man's teeth were about 98 per cent better than those being treated by dentists today, Dr. Percy R. Howe of Boston, Mass., president of the American Dental association, is convinced.

"Tooth decay was virtually nonexistent among the ancients," said Doctor Howe who is attending the Marquette University Dental Alumni association convention. "Today, decay is apparent to a degree that almost reaches 96 per cent."

Doctor Howe blamed many dental disorders upon the practice of dieting to reduce.

Being kept in with a cold is no joke

THERE are two other people who don't think it's so funny either. His mother who has to stay home with him and take care of a cross and disappointed young son. And his teacher who has to help him catch up with the lessons he is going to miss.

The worst part of it is, he's one of maybe half a million children who are right now staying indoors for the very same reason. And a whole lot of them could avoid most of these colds if only their resistance was built up ahead of time. If your children seem to "catch everything that goes around", try giving them Nujol.

For Nujol not only prevents any excess of the body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal. It certainly would do no harm, anyway, to try Nujol, would it?

Try Nujol for, say the next three months. Then compare their report cards with those they had last year. See how the absences from school have dropped—how the school marks have jumped. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey).

See for yourself if Nujol doesn't help build up healthy resistance to colds and resulting ills—as thousands of other mothers have discovered. Keep a bottle of Nujol handy and give it to them regularly. Contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. Be sure you get the genuine.

Cakes

and Miss Warner's pleasant "tasting surprise"

SHORTENING for cakes should be so fresh and sweet that in baking it brings out, rather than detracts from, the delicate flavor of the cake itself.

Can you imagine making a cake with a shortening you wouldn't be willing to taste? Miss Eleanor M. Warner couldn't. So she tasted Crisco just as it came from the can—and wrote:

"The taste of Crisco was fresh, sweet. Now I do not hesitate to use Crisco in any way in which high-priced butter might be used. And often I have even better results."

Just a taste of Crisco will tell you why more good home cooks are depending upon it for better cakes, pies, biscuits and fried foods.

Five-Minute Spice Cake

½ cup Crisco
1½ cups brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup milk
1¾ cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
1 cup chopped raisins

Put all ingredients together in a bowl and beat thoroughly until smooth. Bake in loaf pan in a moderate oven (350° F.) 50 to 60 minutes. Ice with white or caramel frosting. May also be baked in cup cakes.

Caramel Frosting

Make the frosting while the cake is baking

2 cups brown sugar
1 cup milk or cream
1 tablespoon Crisco
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook the sugar with the milk until it forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water. Stir in the Crisco and vanilla and a pinch of salt, and beat until thick enough to spread.

Maple Nut Cake Loaf

Will keep a long time

½ cup Crisco
1 cup light brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup milk
1½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream the Crisco with the sugar; stir in the beaten yolks. Add alternately the milk and the flour sifted with the baking powder and salt. Stir in the nuts well dredged with flour and the vanilla. Fold in the beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in a paper-lined loaf pan in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 40 minutes. Ice with caramel icing.

You taste your milk— You test your eggs— NOW . . . taste your shortening

Crisco's sweet flavor will delight you!

South Against Governor Al Smith But Majority Will Support Him as Nominee, Says Political Observer

Political Correspond't Wichita Daily Times (Copyright, 1928, by Wichita Daily Times and New York Tribune.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Conditions relating to the Democratic presidential situation in the South are reported in detail by an especially painstaking observer, Gould Lincoln, in the Washington Star, as a result of a trip covering eight states. The reports find only one southern state that will send any delegates who will vote for Smith in the first instance. This exception is Louisiana, and in only a portion of that state, centering around New Orleans, is the Smith sentiment dominant.

SULLIVAN

In every other southern state the delegates will be opposed to Smith. There are some variations in the intensity of the opposition. While a majority of the southern delegates will take a position of "last ditch" resistance to Smith, a few will accept his nomination if it seems inevitable.

In Alabama, according to the report, the major sentiment is strongly anti-Smith, although there are some leaders and some sections of the people who are willing to accept Smith's nomination: "The drys, through the churches, are launching a campaign to have all delegates to the national convention instructed never to vote for a 'wet' candidate for the presidential nomination. This is aimed particularly at Governor Smith, but would include also Senator Reed of Missouri and Governor Ritchie of Maryland."

Of Georgia, the report says that practically "no one here is out in the open for Smith and it is safe to say none of the delegates to the convention will take such a position."

In Mississippi "no Democratic leader admits openly he is for the nomination of Smith, though some privately say it appears inevitable and believe it is the wisest course the Democrats can pursue this year. There will be an organized effort to pledge the delegates never to vote for the nomination of a wet."

In North Carolina, "Senator Simmons, acknowledged leader of the Democratic party, has made his position against the nomination of Smith very clear—many of the women are dead set against Smith." While there may be an occasional pro-Smith man among the delegates, the delegation as a whole will vote under the unit and will be anti-Smith.

Tennessee is characterized by strong opposition to Smith. The Tennessee delegation to the Democratic national convention will support one of the state's own sons, Cordell Hull. Hull will be supported by some other southern states, sharing the southern strength generally with Senator George of Georgia and some other southern favorite sons.

As respects what will happen in the election, in the event that Smith gets the Democratic nomination, the net judgment of these reports is that those southern states which have occasionally gone Republican before, like Tennessee, will be practically certain to go Republican this time. As to those states which have always gone Democratic in the past the judgment, though decidedly hesitant in the case of some of the states, is that the solid South will continue to go Democratic, even though Smith is the nominee. It is stated, however, as to every southern state, that the Democratic majority will be greatly reduced. It is implied that even if all the states go Democratic, some isolated congressional districts, including three in North Carolina, may go Republican. One southern governor is quoted as saying that "No Democrat could be nominated who would cause so many Democrats to go fishing on election day as Smith would." Of Alabama the report says: "The nomination of Smith would raise hob in Alabama. It would breathe new life into the klan. It would give the Republicans heart of grace to make a real campaign to win the state. And it may bring about a bolt of the Democratic national ticket." Nevertheless, the net of this observers judgment, is that, on the whole, Alabama would vote for Smith and remain Democratic.

In Georgia, the report says, if Smith is nominated there will be a strong impulse to go Republican, and it is stated that if the revolt should be well organized and well led, it might be formidable. Nevertheless, in Georgia as in all the other states, the net judgment is that the state will probably remain Democratic.

Of Mississippi the statement is made that "no responsible Democratic leader predicts the state will go other than Democratic."

The net judgment of the report from North Carolina is that if Smith gets the nomination, the state Democratic organization will support him and he will carry the state though by a greatly diminished majority.

These reports rarely mention Senator Reed of Missouri, and it does not appear that any of the southern states will support Reed for the nomination.

Pastor Flayed as 'Despicable' for Baring Details of Girl's Confession Slaying of Father to Grand Jury

Rev. Thomas F. Pardue (below) is expected to be one of the state's most important witnesses in the North Carolina murder trial of Mrs. Alma Petty Gatlin (above). The evangelist was responsible for the girl's arrest. He said she told him, after being converted at one of his meetings, that she killed her father, Smith T. Petty, with an ax.

WENTWORTH, N. C., Feb. 16. (AP)—The Rev. Thomas F. (Thunderbolt Tom) Pardue, after having been the storm center of a bitter legal battle over whether a girl's alleged confession to a pastor was admissable in court as evidence was back in the picture here today at the trial of Mrs. Alma Petty Gatlin, charged with slaying Smith T. Petty, her father, with an ax and burying his body under the Petty home at Reidsville.

Since hearing his action in telling officers that the young woman had confessed the deed to him at a revival service branded yesterday as "despicable" by P. W. Glidewell, chief of the defense counsel, the minister was not sure he would be allowed to lay his story before the superior court justice as he had before the Rockingham county grand jury and other investigators. As a ruling on the question by Judge McRae was awaited he found, however, much ground for consolation in the reply of S. Porter Graves, solicitor to the bitter arraignment of Mr. Glidewell.

Declaring "that a man whom God had fashioned was missing" when the missionary Baptist evangelist was debating whether to go to the officers with his statement that led to the finding of Petty's body buried under the home, Mr. Graves argued:

"The law should compel no man to suffer the agony of the ordeal of that knowledge through all the years."

Whether or not he testified in open trial the minister had the satisfaction of having told the court yesterday with the jury absent, that the young woman first confessed the murder to him in the choir of his church and gave details later on an invited visit to his home.

A Doctor Talks About Cascara

It is unfortunate that many people judge the thoroughness of a laxative by its violence. The salts that rush through the system may not even penetrate the film of poisonous matter that has coated the colon. A long list of drugs will "loosen the bowels" but what is the best way to CLEANSE them?

The world's best laxative is one that Mother Nature makes in her own laboratory. It is the bark of a tree, called CASCARA. The Indians used to chew this bark—and reach old age without a sick day. It is the best thing there is today, for any system; best for the blood. The most beneficial in its action on the bowels, of anything yet disclosed. For many reasons:

First of all, there is no HABIT formed from cascara. The bowels are not weakened, but strengthened by its occasional use. The occasions when one needs this aid grow less and less. Its influence is long-felt. You don't find yourself worse bound-up the day following. You do find the bowels more inclined to move of their own volition. The candy cascaret that every drug-store always has in stock is the ideal form of cascara.—Adv.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

How long halt ye between two opinions?—I Kings 18:21.

To doubt is worse than to have lost; and to despair is but to antedate those miseries that must fall on us.—Massinger.

MISPLACING MR. FRANCIS

A Texas correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch refers to C. I. Francis of Wichita Falls as the leader of the Al Smith forces of Texas. Mr. Francis advises that he aspires to no such leadership. He is among those who are trying to prevent the Texas delegation at the next national convention from following the example set by the delegates from this state in 1920 and 1924, when, bound under the unit rule and led by selfish politicians, they made Texas a laughing-stock in the party's councils. There are those who would have Texas this year repeat the silly performance of 1920 and 1924. Mr. Francis is conspicuous among those who want to see Texas have a real voice at the convention. He has no ambition to be the leader of the forces of any one candidate.

A SENSIBLE AND SATISFACTORY SOLUTION

If the West Texas Chamber of Commerce had never done anything before, and were never to do anything further, it amply justified its existence when it brought about the amicable settlement of the water rights controversy; it gave adequate return for the money and effort invested in the organization, by its service in that case.

It is possible that West Texas would have obtained a larger share of the water if the question had been fought out in the courts and in the legislature, but to take that route would have been to embark on a long and perilous journey, with the outcome uncertain. By the terms of the agreement reached Tuesday, West Texas gets no more than it is entitled to, but to have carried on the controversy might have resulted in its getting much less. The agreement is a sensible and, in the main, satisfactory, solution. It is far, far better for West Texas than a long drawn-out contest.

The committee's recommendation that West Texas communities avoid any delay in establishing their water rights on other streams should be followed by every community that is in position to do so. It may avoid, in the years to come, a repetition of the trouble that has been experienced on the Colorado.

OFFERING A HAPPY WAY OUT

Those who profess to be Democrats, yet who are running up and down the land declaring they will not support the party's ticket if someone they don't like is nominated, are now offered a way out of their difficulty. If they are not going to support the ticket, they of course have no business in Democratic conventions and primaries this year. Where, then, can they go? Until quite recently this question was hard to answer, but the other day we noted that the National Fundamentalist Protestant Christian association was planning to put a ticket in the field, adopt a platform, and form the Christian party. We noted, furthermore, that the new party already has decided upon its candidate for president, same being none other than Hon. Thomas J. Heflin, senator from Alabama.

We commend this new party to those professed Democrats who are really something else first and Democrats later on. It offers them a glorious opportunity to support the principles they insist upon, and to vote for a candidate who adheres to those principles. The new party would doubtless welcome them. And we believe the Democratic party can spare them. It would seem to be a happy solution, all around.

ASQUITH

The career of Herbert Henry Asquith, British statesman who died Wednesday, exemplifies that combination of courage and shrewdness which has served Great Britain so often and so well, in others of its leaders. One of the last acts of Asquith's career when, as leader of the reunited Liberal party, he joined the Labor group in overthrowing the Baldwin ministry, was in a sense typical of his career as a whole. The opportunity offered itself, and he seized it. Labor's tenure of control was brief, but when the Conservatives returned to power, it was as a chastened, wiser party that they resumed the reins.

It was Asquith who engineered the proceedings that, in 1910, stripped the House of Lords of much of its traditional power. When the Lords persisted in their indifference to demands for social legislation, Asquith persuaded the king to create enough new peers to put over the program he planned. He was often accused of being radical, but it is apparent that in this move, just as in his action in joining hands with the Labor party in 1924, he was attempting to head off a radicalism far more dangerous than his own. In the crises that appeared in the suffrage and Irish Home Rule contests, he adopted the same general plan, of giving as much as possible without going all the way.

The Boer war, Irish Nationalism, House of Lords veto power, woman's suffrage, the World war, the rise of the Labor party—all these questions troubled Great Britain during Asquith's day in public life. He had a hand in each of them. His motto, "wait and see," guided him and his followers in one after another of the problems and the crises that his country encountered.

He probably will not be ranked among the great statesmen of Great Britain, yet it is doubtful if any of his later contemporaries will surpass him in national regard.

JANET'S FAIRY TALE

Another story; Oh, dear me!
Tonight whatever shall it be?
A fairy tale? Well, I suppose
You like that best, and here it goes!
Time was a little girl like you
With rosy cheeks and eyes of blue,
Who had been christened Janet, too,
Was sick-abed,
And all the fairies came to see
Just where the dreadful pain might be,
And was it in her arm or knee,
Or in her head.

The queen herself came riding by
Upon a golden butterfly,
And all the fairies in her train
Soon gathered at the window pane.
They laughed and shrieked: "Oh, let us in!"
They really made a dreadful din,
But Janet with a pretty grin
Said: "Howdy-do!"
The nurse, who had just stepped outside
Came back in manner dignified
And opened up the window wide,
And in they flew.

The nurse had been grown up too long,
She never saw that fairy throng;
For old folks never see or know
When fairies come and fairies go.
And so that whole day long they stayed,
The bees some cakes of honey made,
And buttercups of lemonade
Were passed about.
And neither nurse nor mother guessed
What made the counterpane so messed
'Till Janet all she knew confessed.
But still they doubt.

They shake their heads and say,
"Ah me!
Such goings on could never be.
Though we've been coming in and out
We've seen no fairies dance about.
You must have dreamed it all today.
We've seen no fairies go away,
We've let none in with you to play."
And so it goes.
When folks to men and women grow
They won't believe what's really so.
You must be very young to know
What Janet knows.

On Dominating Children

By GLENN FRANK
President of University of Wisconsin and Former Editor of the Century Magazine

Man is by nature an interventionist.

His fingers itch to get into the affairs of others.

The traveler displays missionary zeal in arguing to his chance companion in the smoking compartment of the Pullman the superiority of his particular sort of razor and his pet brand of shaving cream.

The powerful nation sooner or later finds a plausible excuse for entering the smaller country that happens to have valuable resources inviting exploitation.

The parent rushes into the mind of the child, without so much as the courtesy of a knock on the door, and proceeds to impose his nature and his notions on the proud but powerless child.

There is in most of us—though happily we keep it down most of the time—the urge to make public movements out of our private wishes, to impose our impulses on the rest of the race, to propagandize for our preferences.

The progress of civilization depends upon the wisdom with which we manage this impulse to intervene, whether the subject of our intervention be a backward country of undeveloped material resources or a boisterious child with undeveloped spiritual resources.

We are making some headway toward curbing our impulse to intervene physically into the lives of our children; we cuff them about a little less than was the custom in other generations.

We still have to learn the irreparable damage we do by a too-ready intervention intellectually and spiritually into the lives of our children.

"What is a child?" asks Bernard Shaw. He hastens to answer, "An experiment. A fresh attempt . . . . to make humanity divine. And you will vitiate the experiment if you make the slightest attempt to abort it into some fancy figure of your own.

"Francis Place tells us that his father always struck his children when he found one within his reach . . . . Francis records the habit without bitterness, having reason to thank his stars that his father respected the inside of his head whilst cuffing the outside of it.

"Now, Mr. Place, senior, would be described by many as a bad father; and I do not contend that he was a conspicuously good one. But as compared with the conventional good father who deliberately imposes himself on his son as a god; who takes advantage of childish credulity and parent worship to persuade his son that what he approves is right and what he disapproves of is wrong; who imposes a corresponding conduct on the child by a system of prohibitions and penalties, rewards and eulogies, for which he claims divine sanction: compared to this sort of monster maker, I say, Place appears almost as a Providence."

We do not bind our children's feet to a pattern we like; but we bind their minds instead.

Ain't It a Grand and Glorious Feelin'

Our Washington Correspondent

By RODNEY DUTCHER,
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Probably everyone who ever wrote a story about the tariff wondered whether anyone else ever would read it. The doubt has discouraged many tariff stories, which haven't been missed.

Recent developments, such as the senate's passage of the McMaster resolution, however, indicate that some day the tariff may be put on a business basis. Meanwhile there may be more tariff stories to read. The question is tied up with such important matters as prosperity, commodity prices, wages and international relations, so why not?

The key to the tariff situation is that those interests which don't benefit from the tariff don't want any and that those which benefit from a tariff want all they can get. These two classes no doubt will clash endlessly, with occasional compromises.

Perhaps one way to make a tariff story more or less interesting is to tie it up with some particular commodity. Present efforts for legislation by the beet sugar industry come to mind and will be cited because the industry is not asking for the earth, and its arguments concern the national consumption of sugar, which nearly all of us have eaten at one time or another.

The world eats 25,000,000 tons of sugar a year. About nine million tons of it is beet sugar. The United States consumes 6,000,000 tons a year. Half of that is Cuba cane sugar, a sixth is domestic beet sugar and most of the rest comes from Hawaii, the Philippines and Porto Rico, with 50,000 or 60,000 tons of cane from Louisiana. Beets furnish nearly all our domestic sugar production.

Hawaiian, Filipino and Porto Rican sugar is imported free of duty. Other foreign nations are subjected to a tariff of $2.20 a ton, except in the case of Cuban sugar, on which the duty is $1.76.

Lately the sugar industry has been cursed with overproduction. Beet sugar factory earnings have been low in recent years as a result and some factories have been closed down. There are, incidentally, now 84 such factories operating in 19 states.

The beet sugar companies want some curb put on Filipino sugar. Up to 1913 Filipino sugar was duty free up to 300,000 tons, which never was reached. In that year, restriction was removed altogether. Now the annual importation from the islands is 500,000 tons, an increase of 300 per cent since 1913. The beet sugar industry wants the duty free importations limited to 500,000 tons, recalling that the Cuban production once doubled in three years.

Congress is being informed that the government is now sacrificing a domestic industry for a possession 7,000 miles away; that Filipino sugar is raised by a cheap tenant farmer system which has sometimes almost approached peonage, whereas American beet farmers are paid at a fixed rate, an aggregate of $55,000,000 a year.

The beet sugar industry hopes to develop to the point where it may supply half the domestic sugar consumption. It has no hope of obtaining any bars against the Hawaiian and Porto Rican cane sugar crops. Contending that the home industry should be developed, it recalls the time when dependence on Cuban sugar cost Americans 24 cents a pound for the stuff.

The beet pulp, after sugar has been extracted, is used for cattle feed, along with the tops of the vegetable. An acre of beets, in this manner, is supposed to produce as much human food in the form of meat as an acre of corn and the industry claims to create 240,000,000 pounds of meat a year by disposal of the leavings. It has made Denver the world's greatest sheep feeder market.

This being the plea of the domestic sugar industry, congress will have to determine whether it deserves to be helped.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, SC. D.
The Parent Counsellor

Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Only questions of general interest answered in the column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address ARTHUR DEAN, in care of this paper.

Out of the Mouths of Babes.
(Youths Contribution Day)

A youthful correspondent ends her letter: "You may send me a brick by parcel post for making you read all this (if you did)."

Far be it from me, my child. Your letter is published that we oldsters may see the workings of the mind of a girl and learn a lesson.

The letter opens thus:

"I am an adopted child and know what it means to be unloved. Relatives adopted me when mother died not because they loved me but rather because it seemed the only thing to do. They said at the time, it would not look well for our sister's child to be sent to an orphanage? The fact that I am one of nature's failures has been drilled into me and I have been daily impressed with the fact that I 'will never have any sense,' 'will never amount to anything,' and similar bouquets. The result was naturally an inferiority complex and a good healthy one, too.

"I do not remember ever confiding in my stepmother. It was a sort of sink or swim, survive or perish proposition. I have never known what it is to be loved but even that didn't matter so much at first—not until I was about eleven. Then I realized what I had missed and I swore before God that I would fight alone; that 'mother' should never have the chance to make of me the coarse thing that she herself is.

"I do so want to be fine and sweet and useful and I am struggling so hard. My real mother was dear and fine and I know God will help me to be a credit to her. I go to a good school, perfectly organized and the teachers are so interested they spend every spare moment perfecting our course of study and hunting subject material. I suppose I was spoiled in grade school because I had always been pronounced an exceptional student, and am now. But it is hard when one reaches the adolescent age (I am sixteen) to be satisfied with scholarship only. Are teachers human icebergs, or are they just not interested. I am willing to study and I do, but I want to be loved—I'm dying for it. I am not complaining, Dr. Dean, but it's pretty hard to lose what should, by right, be the heritage of every child. Only those who are in the same boat know how a teacher can help at this age. I like all my teachers and one I dearly love. It is in her power to do for me what I am trying to do for myself. I don't ask her to love me, only to be my friend.

"In the mass of formulas and theories these teachers have lost the key that unlocks all the rest. Why do they regard us as so many sticks? Tenderness and sympathy and understanding will help us a thousand times more than all their theories. I hope they will remember it is easy to be good and fine when somebody believes in you, loves you, understand you, is kind and is a friend as well as teacher.

"Selah. No teacher should undertake this job who is not big enough and loving enough to be a sort of second mother to the girls and boys who need her.—LONELY AND LOVELESS."

The teacher of this girl is now reading this column. Won't she please smile tomorrow on this child? And if you think it isn't you who is referred to please smile just the same because there's another child in your room who feels just this same way.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER

Experience Talks

You ask for suggestions on how to handle boys. I am a girl, fifteen, not hard to look at and have quite a few boy friends. Boys often say such things as, "Gee, but you're an independent little devil!" They seem to like my air of independence and my not pretending that they are the only one who can make life happy.

I always try to be a good friend and pal to them but I'm not "clinging vine."—SNOOKS.

Comment—Snooks seems to have her foot firmly on the ground.

Just Like a Boy.

Should a parent discover each day what his child learned in school?—QUESTIONING.

Answer—It needs little effort on your part to get the younger children to tell. It is hard for parents to get older children to tell of the day's progress and still harder for the children to do it. But sympathetic, helpful interest in the child's daily work will pay big returns. Your approach to the subject should be casual and kindly. Thus you will make the evening discussion of the day's events a pleasure to the child and an aid in its progress.

DAILY HEALTH TALK

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

In a single brief paragraph Dr. V. A. Mottram, professor of physiology of the University of London, gives the characteristics of an inadequate diet.

The diet may be insufficient in quantity or in quality. It may yield too little building material (protein mainly), too little fuel material (fats, carbohydrate, and surplus protein), or too little in the way of catalytic substances (mineral matter—for example, iron, iodine, calcium—and vitamins).

The quality of the proteins may be poor—cereal proteins do not seem to have the biological value of meat or milk proteins. Then, too, the diet may be inadequate because it has too little (or perhaps too much) roughage, because the proportions between the different constituents are wrong, or because the way in which the food is given to the digestive cells is wrong. Finally, no two persons have digestive systems exactly alike.

For years bread has been called the staff of life. Bread is an inadequate diet for a nursing mother rat and her offspring during the nursing period. Suckling rats whose mothers are receiving bread alone grow only half as fast as those whose mothers are receiving bread and milk.

Mottram finds that the inadequacy of the bread is not due mainly to a lack of vitamins A and D or to a relatively small amount of vitamin B, or to a lack of mineral matter. He believes that the inadequacy is also related to the nature of the proteins in the bread. He is convinced that the inadequacy of bread, apart from possible defects in vitamin and salt content, is due both the small quantity and the poor quality of protein.

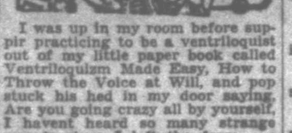

However, this pronouncement of Mottram is not supposed to give aid and comfort to the lovers of brown bread as preferred to white bread.

"The main trouble of entering such a discussion," says Mottram, "is that the protagonists on each side have an odium for the other almost theological—a sure sign of the insecurity of the foundations of their beliefs."

Animal proteins such as those of meat, even gelatine, supplement the proteins of bread. The experiments reveal that male animals need more protein of high biological value and more vitamin B than do females.

Both brown and white breads, used exclusively, would be poor articles of diet. It should be realized that practically no one lives on bread alone. In a mixed diet, brown bread apparently has no superiority over white bread.

"Worst Story I Have Heard Today"
By WILL ROGERS

Women sometimes like to show off a little at bridge parties. Right away when they come in they show off their clothes and their good looks, but they ain't satisfied with that very often. Not but what they got plenty of fine clothes and lots of good looks, but they just naturally are ambitious. So they talk about how rich their husbands are. They don't say it just that way, but that's what the conversation is about.

One lady was kinda embarrassed by the talk. She wasn't married very long, and she knew her husband's business wasn't doing so good, but she didn't know much about business anyhow. She heard the others telling how their husbands were building new plants and taking on new help and all that. So she says, "Yes, it must be that times are getting awful good. Now, my husband's business is growing all the time. Why, just last night he told me that he was going to have to have a receiver appointed for it, and you know there must be a lot of cash coming in when they have to get a special receiver to handle it."

Reed In the South.

While Governor Smith continues to act like a sphinx in his Albany domicile, Senator Reed is preparing to make things hum in the tobacco and cotton belts. A Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Evening Sun writes his paper that Reed forces are preparing to get the senator named as second choice for the presidential nomination by a number of southern delegations.

A more astute play under the circumstances would be hard to imagine. The South, if appearances are not deceptive, is dead anxious to follow somebody. It is only necessary that the one followed have a brilliant and inspiring personality. The South is nowadays short on statesmen who have this invaluable thing. The Heflins and Bleasey may seem to have it; they really don't, because they can't help but seem funny when they are trying to be most serious. The South once produced statesmen who had it, and the memory lingers on.

Smith, true enough, has plenty of personal appeal. So long as he refuses to let the country appreciate it, there will be a clear track for Missouri's white-headed boy. When it comes to personality, he is the head man in our political show. If any Southerners try to mess up his tour through Dixie, they are apt to wake up thinking that a new Sherman has marched to the sea.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Possible Birth of An Idea.

Every time we think of those great words spoken by President Coolidge at the pan-American congress, that it is better for people to make their own mistakes than to have some one else make their mistakes for them, we wonder if the idea came to him when he was pulling up the flexible provision of the tariff law himself instead of waiting for congress to do something more for the infant industries.—Ohio State Journal.

William Allen White Is 60.

On this, his sixtieth birthday, we recall that William Allen White as a youngster of 27, swelling with pride because somebody would trust him with a couple of thousands of dollars to buy a small town newspaper, announced that his lot was forever cast with Emporia. In his initial editorial in the Emporia Gazette he proclaimed to a waiting world that he had come to stay; that he expected to welcome the babies, be best man at the weddings, and take charge of the funerals of the town from that time forth; or words to that effect.

The next year he cavorted into fame on the back of a stinging editorial, "What's the Matter With Kansas?" and followed this with a book of somber stories portraying with terrible vividness the heartbreaks of the years of drought. ("It looks like rain, but it can't rain. The rain has gone dry out here. They say it rained at Hutchinson—maybe so, but I doubt it. There is no God west of Newton. He dried up in '90.") Easterners assumed that this rising and brilliant young author would soon forsake the barren West for New York.

They didn't know their man. He had had his fling in city journalism on the Kansas City Star, and had decided that he wanted a newspaper of his own and a town of his own. He got both at Emporia.

William Allen White brought a mellowness, a tolerance, a gaiety, a generous public spirit into the life of Emporia and of Kansas that have really counted. The beautiful park that he and Mrs. White are developing on the edge of town in memory of their daughter is an outward symbol of an inner flame.

The author of "The Real Issue," "A Certain Rich Man," and the editorials in Miss Mahin's collection, "The Editor and His People," would have been out of place in New York. He and Kansas have reacted on each other to the profit of his generation in every corner of the land. Today he is 60 years old. Long may he wave!—Kansas City Star.

FRISBY OVERWHELMED BY NATION'S RESPONSE

The Rev. Dahlia Doakes, who has offered to give his own false teeth to Congressman Frisby, and urges others to do the same.

by Mister Frisby
Congressman-at-Large

WASHINGTON—America has made good! Once again this nation has met the supreme test. The heart of these United States and territories beats true to the ideals of its childhood teachin's, learned at its mother's knee.

No sooner had the sad news been broadcast telling the world that my false teeth had been lost or stolen, than the people responded. Almost each mail brings some unexpected gift.

I wish to thank the Baptist Sunday school of What Cheer, Iowa, for the gift of tinfoil saved during 1927.

I would like to thank all those who so cheerfuly sent old razor blades.

I was particularly pleased by the case of empty ginger ale bottles from "Just A Friend."

Let me express my gratitude to "Little Girl, 12," who sent the broken bottle capper.

I will ever remember the slightly used bar of soap from "Fellow Lodge Member."

There were, oh! so many gifts that it is impossible for me to ackowledge them all. I can only say, "Congressman Frisby thanks you....good luck to one and all."

SEVEN SCHOOLS START FRIDAY IN COUNTY CAGE TOURNEY

ELECTRA TIGERS, PLAYING ON HOME COURT, FAVORED TO WIN OVER SIX OTHER CONTENDERS

Seven schools of Wichita county swing into action after several months of preparation Friday and Saturday in the county interscholastic league basket ball tournament at Electra High school. The senior division of the competition at Electra, scheduled for completion Saturday night, selects a representative of Wichita county to compete in the district tournament to be held here next week.

Wichita Falls High school does not compete in the county tournament, the Coyotes going directly into the scramble for district honors.

The seven schools taking part in the drawings for first round play in the championship division were Electra, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Clara, Fairview, Cashion and Valley View.

Preliminaries Friday

The first day of the tournament, Friday, will be devoted to preliminary rounds in the lesser classes, juniors and intermediates, with finals in these divisions Saturday. About 10 schools are expected to enter the junior and intermediate competition.

First round play in the senior class calls for a big program Friday night, six of the seven entries competing in three games. Drawings conducted last week resulted in the following pairings:

Electra vs. Cashion.
Clara vs. Valley View.
Iowa Park vs. Fairview.

Burkburnett drew a bye in the first round and will not compete until Saturday afternoon when the semi-finals will be played. Another drawing among the three winners in the first round and Burkburnett will determine the pairings in the semi-finals.

The two semi-finals victors will clash Saturday night for the county championship.

Electra Favored

The Electra Tigers, winners of the county championship last season, are favored to repeat, with probably the most stubborn opposition coming from Coach R. E. Brewster's Iowa Park dribblers. The Hawks won top honors two years ago, but most of that team has passed on and Brewster was forced to build from the bottom this year.

A dark horse in the county race is Cashion. Coach Arlis D. Beck has developed a highly efficient team of diminutive passers, who will be a big disadvantage in the matter of age, weight and experience. Cashion has lost only a couple of games in practice play, but the team probably will be too young and light to survive the hard pace of the tournament.

Tigers Crippled

ELECTRA, Texas, Feb. 16.—The Electra cagers, both juniors and seniors, are undergoing the most strenuous practice of the season this week preparatory to entering the county tournament Friday and Saturday. Preliminaries will take place Friday and Saturday morning and finals will be held Saturday night.

The senior players are not in very good condition, a number of them being out on account of injuries. Alexander, Love, White and Dees are all suffering from various injuries, but all except Alexander are expected to be fit for play by Saturday.

The juniors are having two practice games daily, one in the afternoon and one at night, and are in excellent shape for the tournament. Miss Iadys Tolson is coach of juniors and Lee Walker of the seniors.

LINCOLN TO TAKE ITS CASE TO MINOR PREXY

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 16. (AP)—Appeal of the Lincoln Baseball Park association's case in the matter of whether the Western league baseball franchise should be kept here or moved to Pueblo, Colo., will be taken to President Sexton of the National Association of Minor leagues, Earl Coryell, president of the Lincoln association, declared Wednesday night.

THOROUGH TEST FOR DEMPSE MOORE?

Russell Beckwith's sleep producer.

Just how good is Dempse Moore? That is a question that has been worrying Wichita Falls fistic fandom for some time. The junior college student, whom, they say, is still an amateur, has been piling up knockouts one after the other. Most of his foes have been more or less setups, but all have not been, and he has been impressive in every bout.

Moore's opponent in a 10-round feature bout Friday night at The Gym is Russell Beckwith of Oklahoma, who claims a nifty record of knockouts and decisions. Friday night's bout is a true test for Moore, says the promoter, and if he is able to beat Beckwith he will be ready for any light heavyweight the Southwest has to offer.

Supporting the main event are four other bouts, topped by an eight-round semi-final between Battling Cossy of Wichita Falls and Kid Murdock of Sulphur, Okla. Murdock is the older of the two scrapping brothers and has appeared here once or twice in the past.

CUBS READY THURSDAY FOR TRAINING START

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Pitchers and catchers of the Cubs were ready for their first day of spring drill at Catalina island Thursday, with the word from Manager Joe McCarthy that, for a while, the daily toil would last only an hour or so.

"If the boys want to play golf after that," said McCarthy, "that will be fine. Some golf will do them good."

When he went down to the pier to meet his athletes Wednesday McCarthy confessed that the high wind that morning had caused him to lose half a dozen balls on the first nine holes.

Wilbarger Cage Tourney Starts Friday Morning

Harrold, Fargo and Vernon Leading Lights in Competition for County Honors.

VERNON, Texas, Feb. 16.—The annual Wilbarger county basket ball tournament will open in the Harrold gymnasium Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and the final game will be played Saturday.

Harrold, after having defeated Vernon four of the five games the two clubs have played this season, rules the favorite for the championship, although comparative scores favor Fargo. The two teams have not met.

Vernon has defeated Harrold once this year and Monday night defeated the hitherto unbeaten Fargo team by a score of 27 to 20. In this game the locals displayed an offensive, that should it develop in the championship series, might upset the dope pointing toward a sure Vernon defeat.

With the exception of Thompson, who will not be in the tournament because of a recent illness, the Lions are in good shape. Fargo is also handicapped by the illness of Doss, star center, who is not likely to play in the tournament.

STECHER AND LEWIS END HARD TRAINING

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16. (AP)—Boxing, wrestling and cross country running were on the program of Joe Stecher Thursday for the last of his intensive workouts preparatory to his meeting Ed (Strangler) Lewis here Monday.

Lewis finished his hard work Wednesday with a varied program of swimming, wrestling, boxing and handball.

The strong manner in which both of the wrestlers have finished their daily workouts have convinced wrestling fans in the two camps that the men are in good condition for one of the most important "catch-as-catch-can" tussles in the history of wrestling.

Promoter Tom Pack says the cash ticket sale has already reached the $35,000 mark and that within a few days all uncalled-for reservations will be placed on sale. Packs said he was growing confident that the $60,000 mark will be passed within a day or so and that with the last minute sale of tickets the night of the match, the gate receipts ought to go well over $75,000.

WHITE'S MACHINE FAILS TO CONFORM TO REGULATIONS OF A. A. A.; OTHERS ARE READY

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 16. (AP)—With one titantic rival eliminated from officially recognized competition because it did not conform mechanically to regulations of the American Automobile association, two other racing machines Thursday were tuning up for an attempt to better the world's speed record.

J. M. White, Philadelphia, Wednesday was refused official sanction for a trial against the 203.7 miles per hour gait set up last year by Major H. O. D. Segrave of England. The governing body barred the machine, A. H. Means, secretary of the A. A. A., said, because it was not equipped with a clutch, differential or reverse gear.

To Rebuild Machine

Mr. White said Wednesday night that after preliminary trials the machine would be rebuilt to conform to A. A. A. standards, but that if that body refused to time it officially, it would be timed with apparatus which Mr. White and his associates brought here for just such eventualities.

Withdrawal of the White entry, with its 36-cylindered motor and non-streamline experimental construction, left the machines of Frank Lockhart, Indianapolis, and Malcolm Campbell, London, to essay new records during the present program of speed events on the beach. They have until next Wednesday to make their efforts.

May Try 'Em Thursday

Lockhart's car, a Stutz "Blackhawk Special," is a long, low built car powered with a 400-horsepower motor, while the Campbell entry relies on a British air service motor for its propulsion and is also specially designed to offer a minimum of wind resistance.

Both pilots have been working for several days in an effort to get their machines on the beach for preliminary speed tryouts Thursday.

HUDKINS FAVORED TWO TO ONE TO BEAT BAKER

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—Belief that Ace Hudkins would trounce Sammy Baker in the rubber match of their "grudge" series here Friday night was strengthening Thursday with the Nebraska Wildcat becoming a 2 to 1 favorite in many quarters. Earlier in the week, Hudkins ruled an 8 to 5 choice.

The ten round tilt will decide the challenger for the welterweight crown now defended by Joe Dundee of Baltimore.

This will be the third battle between the pair. Baker won the first struggle by a knockout while Ace evened the score with a decision verdict after 10 fierce rounds in the second meeting.

TEXAS LEGION HEAD LAUDS BIG LEAGUES ON SANDLOT ACTION

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 16. (AP)—Voicing appreciation of the action of the major baseball leagues to guarantee $50,000 toward the development of the American Legion Jr., baseball program, as carried by the Associated Press dispatches Tuesday, Walton I. Hood of San Antonio, state commander of the American Legion, stated this would carry to fruition the plan the legion has been working on for a number of years.

"With the national convention to be held in San Antonio next October all the junior baseball clubs throughout the country will have an all-summer campaign for an elimination process by which every state may have a champion team to compete in a tournament for the national championship during the progress of the American Legion national convention.

"The action of the major baseball leagues cannot have anything but a wholesome effect on the American youth in fostering the great national summer pastime. This is in direct line with our plans in stimulating the spirit of patriotism and we must heartily commend the powers that be in organized baseball in helping the good cause along."

BUFFALOES STEP CLOSER TO T. I. A. A. CAGE TITLE

CANYON, Texas, Feb. 16. (AP)—The West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes made a long stride toward the T. I. A. A. championship here Wednesday night by running away with the Simmons university Cowboy cagers, 63 to 36. At no time were the Cowboys able to assume the lead.

A fire-fighter is as good as his muscles

7 out of 10 fire-fighters questioned use this to avoid muscle lameness

A FIRE-FIGHTER has to keep his muscles always strong and supple. He must be able to climb and spring with the sureness and swiftness of a cat—to perform almost superhuman feats of strength.

And yet think of the conditions under which he works! Out in all kinds of weather, drenched for hours with the spray from the big hose, he is constantly exposed to the chilling that causes stiffness of the muscles, rheumatism, chest congestions. And his heavy muscular strains—the risks he takes—cannot but bring a certain amount of lameness and numerous minor injuries.

We went right to the fire-fighters themselves and asked them how they ward off the results of chilling—what they use for lameness, stiffness, congestions, injuries.

Out of hundreds questioned, 7 out of 10 said they use Sloan's.

One of the fire-fighters questioned. 7 out of 10 told us that they use Sloan's to protect them from exposure and strain

All workers who face exposure and strain praise it

In every walk of life where men and women work hard—face exposure—run the risk of accidents—you'll find Sloan's Liniment the standby. It saves them hours of pain, days of lost time.

Read this statement from a lifeguard at Coney Island.

"I have been a lifeguard for the City of New York for many years, and sometimes after being out on the beach all day in rainy weather, I come home aching all over with muscular rheumatism. But as soon as I apply Sloan's Liniment the pain goes away. I also find it good for a rub down after a long swim or a rescue, and I always carry Sloan's Liniment in my first-aid kit." Walter C. Merryhart, 918 Gravesend Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

And this from a policeman: "I have had Sloan's Liniment give me great relief when all others fail. I recommend Sloan's for all pains in the back and legs. I do a lot of walking and am exposed to all kinds of weather." W. R. Christy, 1933 Master St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sloan's is sure—quick

What makes Sloan's Liniment relieve pain where all other liniments fail?

Simply because Sloan's works by stirring up the body's own powers to heal itself. It doesn't just deaden the pain. It gets at the cause. It stirs up the circulation—breaks congestion—clears out germs and poisons. The pain stops because the trouble is gone. You can get a bottle that will last a long time for 35 cents at any druggist's. Use it for:

Rheumatism Lame muscles
Sciatica Stiff neck
Lumbago Colds and congestions
Neuralgia Sprains and bruises

The company doctor of one of the biggest industries of the country says of Sloan's: "People whose work exposes them to strain or to damp and cold usually suffer from a good deal of muscular soreness. We find that Sloan's gives them quick, positive relief."

SLOAN'S Endorsed universally by those who do the world's hard work

FIRST COYOTE INTRA-SQUAD GRID GAME IS SLATED FRIDAY

FANS INVITED TO VIEW WORK OF "ARMY" AND "NAVY" TEAMS IN OPENING PRACTICE BATTLE

With all the settings of a real football clash, the first of a series of intra-squad spring practice games will be played Friday afternoon on the high school practice field between the "Army" and the "Navy" teams of the Coyote squad, according to announcement of Coach Bud McCallum.

A regulation game will be played and the contest handled just as a championship affair, McCallum says, with the field lined off and officials directed to forget that it is merely a "sham" battle.

Fans Invited

Coach McCallum issues an invitation to the fans to be on hand for the game. Much of the new material that will be counted on for next year will get its first real test under Duncan Perkins and Raymond Mitchell, veterans of last year, who are serving as coaches of the two teams.

The squad is divided into four groups, with the "Reds" in charge of Bill Habern, and the "Blacks" under the tutelage of Harvey Black. The four teams are to play a round robin schedule during the spring training period, according to present plans.

The practice field is immediately south of the junior college building and the starting time is set for 4 o'clock.

Team Personnel

Following is the personnel of the four teams:

Army—Duncan Perkins, coach; Earl Fulcher, Morris Lee, Ben Mix, Charles Holden, Springer Williams, Earl Hutcheson, W. T. Saye, Bill Lawrence, Woodrow Bristow, Cliff Taylor, Sam Fowler, Bert Chaney, John Meredith, Lawrence Albritton, Raymond Allen, Bill Lowry, White, Fred Seitz, McFarland, Sherwood and Stewart.

Amarillo Club Goes in Strong For Youngsters

New Skipper, Sled Allen, Believes He Can Develop Rookies to Hold Own in Western.

AMARILLO, Texas, Feb. 16. (AP)—Starting the second year in class A baseball with a new club president, Bob Ames, and a new manager, Sled Allen, who succeeded Ed Tracy and Joe Kelly, respectively, the Amerillo club has a healthy supply of veterans and a large recruit force with which to build the 1928 team.

Lacking only a pitcher as the time for spring training approaches, Allen believes his club will break into the first division this year to better the sixth place ranking of last fall.

Although Allen is shy managerial experience in organized baseball he has a firm playing foundation which dates back to major league connections, and his success in handling semi-pro teams has instilled confidence in the local fans.

Last year Allen was with the Lubbock, Texas, team. For years before that he worked behind the plate with the Houston Buffs, and at one time he belonged to the St. Louis Browns.

Believer in Youngsters

Allen is a firm believer in young blood to keep his team going, and has brought to Amarillo the innovation of keeping a pack of youngsters at hand that can be trained and gradually brought into shape to hold down player berths.

Stormy Davis, fiery heavy hitter of a number of leagues, was sold last year to Knoxville, and Anderson, a semi pro last year, will replace him in the outer garden. The out field will be completed with Gunther and Connelly, veterans, unless Seeds, released last year by the Oklahoma City Indians, gets into shape. Seeds tried out for the infield with the Indians, and showed some promise.

Swansboro again will cover the initial sacks for Amarillo, with Nufer the mainstay at second base. Fiedler, veteran, will be back on third base.

Carroll, who came here in a trade with Omaha for Fred Newton, pitcher, is expected to take charge of the short stop position, unless Wright, formerly of Reading, crowds him out of the regular lineup. Wright batted .258 in the International league his last season, though he was idle last year.

Train at Home

The Texans' pitching staff will be led by Sanders, who won 10 games and lost three in 23 starts last season. His hurling mates will include Morgan, Lyons, Joe Newton, all veterans, with Fonken and Stockton, semi-pro youngsters, trying out for positions.

The catching staff again will be headed by Jack Adams, supported by Mondino, veteran, and Price and Wiley youngsters.

Storti, pitcher, who plugged the third base gap at the end of last season, and Harding, outfield tryout, will complete the roster as utility men.

Amarillo will train at home this spring, passing up El Paso as a development ground. Three sets of exhibition games, with St. Paul, Omaha, and Wichita Falls, have been booked for the conditioning series. Texas park is being painted and a grass field is promised before the curtain is rung up on the season in April.

Girls' Quintets Go Into Action Thursday Night

Conocos Play Electrics in Opener, With P. B. M.-Whippets Meeting Draughon.

The present status of the championship race in the girls' basket ball league race is expected to be changed not in the least as a result of Thursday night's games at the junior college. Texas Electric Service company plays Continental Oil company in the first game starting at 7:30 o'clock, with the P. B. M.-Whippets, first half champions, tangling with Draughon Business college in the second.

The Electrics and Whippets were winners last week in the opening games of the second half, and matched against the losers of these games, are expected to keep their records untarnished for another week. The Conocos and the Draughon lassies will have to show decided improvement to topple either of the pace setters.

Several shifts in playing talent during the week have affected three of the four teams and may possibly mean something in the ultimate naming of a second half champion. P. B. M.-Whippets have lost the services of Mabel Wright, capable guard, with their loss being the gain of the Electrics. The addition of this player to the Kilowat aggregation should bring considerable strength to the team. But the Whippets e taken on a player capable of filling the shoes of the departed in Ruth Tutt, former Draughon center. Continental was strengthened last week by the return to the lineup of Louise Boyse.

PIRATES DEPART FOR CAMP THURSDAY NIGHT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 16. (AP)—The main group of pitchers and catchers of the Pittsburgh Pirates will leave here Thursday night for their spring training camp at Paso Robles, Calif. Seventeen persons will compose the party which will include Manager Donie Bush, who arrived from his Indianapolis home Thursday.

Other battery men will join the advance squad as the train travels west. Stops will be made at Chicago and Kansas City to pick up several absentees.

Harry Katz, an enthusiastic golfer of the Weeks Park club, steps forward with the announcement that all players of the muny club registering for membership in the hole-in-one club will be rewarded with a pair of high-powered golf shoes. Katz is in the shoe business and he already has started the practice by making his first award to Mrs. F. C. Rochon, Wichita Falls' first feminine hole-in-oner who sank her No. 11 tee shot on the muny course a few weeks back. Holes in one are worth quite a bit of this, that and the other from various firms and organizations over the country, but Katz' standing award, limited to Weeks park players, is the first locally. The conductor of this column is in bad need of a pair of golf shoes, but he doubts very seriously if he will ever be able to take advantage of Harry's offer before he is 85 or 90 years old.

Over at Electra Friday and Saturday basket ball teams of this immediate section will start the first serious competition of interscholastic league play in the county tournament. This tourney selects a representative from the county to compete in the district tourney with six or seven other county winners and Wichita Falls High school in the district tournament. The district event is to be held again this year at the junior college. The event is one of much importance to the followers of high school competition and is deserving of all the support Wichita Falls can give it. Wichita Falls is speedily becoming the center of interscholastic league activity in this district and none of us should miss any opportunities to boost the thing along. The biggest city, offering the best there is in facilities, Wichita Falls rightfully should be the center of activity.

Joe Stecher and Strangler Lewis, wrestling behemoths who for years have been glowering at each other across country and each claiming the heavyweight championship, finally have been matched to take their oral argument into the ring for physical settlement. The scene is set for St. Louis, where the promoter hopes to attract something like $75,000 in perfectly good money. The Stecher-Lewis match promises to be the biggest wrestling spectacle of all time, not excluding some of the Wichita Falls appearances of Mr. Dutch Mantell. Alec B. Ross, czar of Wichita Falls mat activities, predicts that Stecher will be the winner. He goes further and expresses an opinion that it will be years before the two are matched again after the St. Louis bout. If so, it will be something new, for these wrestling matches that pay big dividends usually are repeated over and over again until they play themselves out. The Lewis-Munn act rivals Lightnin' for its longevity!

The Spudders surely will be a sporty flock when the season opens. Prexy Gardner is proud of his champs and he has shown it more ways than one. The latest was the placing of an order a few days ago for 20 new sweater coats. A body of bright orange and trimmed in blue is the color of the new garments. It will be of the exact same style as the old more retiring gray and black sweaters that the Spudders have worn for the last several years. Orange, blue and red have been added to the color scheme since last season. The word "champions" in red across the shirt fronts and the bright sweaters will make the Spudders a colorful set, literally speaking.

One of the most interesting exhibition series on the big league clubs' spring schedules is a four-game skirmish at Los Angeles between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs. The big deal between these two clubs that made Pirates of Shorty Adams and Pete Scott and a Cub of Kiki Cuyler will add much to this series. It will be the first appearance of these stars on their new clubs and they will be closely watched.

Ed Wetzel—Thumbless Ed—has bobbed up with a new club. He may be remembered as lingering awhile with the Spudders a few seasons back, but never winning ball games. Last spring he managed to catch on with the Athletics, but didn't last long, and this year we find him with the Portland club of the coast league. How some of these old boys manage to hang on so long without doing anything is difficult to understand. The next thing you know, Hub Perdue will be with the Yankees!

Fred Beck, Spudder first sacker of that great hitting club of 1922, finally has decided to give it up. This old bird has been playing a long, long time, but he still hasn't enough of the game. He has announced from his winter home that he is in the market for a job as an umpire.

Jack Thurman, Wichita Falls sandlotter of parts, has signed a contract with the Palestine club of the Lone Star league and will report for duty within the next few weeks. He is an outfielder and won letters at Wichita Falls Junior college in basket ball, baseball and football, serving one season as captain of the cage crew.

WELKER COCHRAN SOON TO STOW AWAY HIS CUE

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Welker Cochran, former holder of the world's 18.2 billiard championship, said Thursday that he was on his last tour as a billiard pro. He is now playing a 4000 point series with Jake Schaefer, who won the title from Cochran last fall.

At the end of his present campagne next month, Cochran said, he expects to join a New York stock exchange firm and retire from billiard competition.

PELTZER SAYS GERMANS AFTER RUNNERUP PLACE

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 16. (AP)—Dr. Otto Peltzer, on a flying visit here, made it plain that Germany has no hopes of defeating the United States in this year's Olympic games. Germany, however, is working diligently under its new athletic regime he said, to gain strength enough to take second honors, which it feels can be accomplished by finishing ahead of Finland.

Dr. Peltzer has been training daily in Chicago for his meeting at New York February 29 with Lloyd Hahn.

MICKEY WALKER HANDED SUSPENSION BY N. B. A.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Feb. 16. (AP)—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, was indefinitely suspended Wednesday by the National Boxing association, ruling body in 26 states, for "not having shown any inclination to defend his title though the six months grace allowed him has expired and proper warning has been issued to him."

At the same time, Thomas E. Donohue, president of the association, announced that no action would be taken against Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, and Joe Dundee, welterweight title holder, who were warned by the N. B. A. a month ago along with Walker to sign for title defenses or risk suspension.

The Illinois State Athletic commission has informed the N. B. A. that Mandell has signed with Jim Mullins for a title bout in Chicago, the announcement said. Although Mullins announced that Walker also had signed for a championship match, no official word has been received here. Walker last defended his title by knocking out Tommy Mulligan in London last June.

MARLOW GIRL IN HOSPITAL SEQUEL SHOOTING AFFRAY

(Special to the Times)

DUNCAN, Okla., Feb. 16.—While doctors were attending Miss Mary Eggleston, 17, critically wounded late Wednesday in a shooting at Marlow, county authorities Thursday were detaining a middle-aged Marlow housewife, pending investigation of the affair.

The housewife was arrested shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by L. L. Briscoe, city marshal of Marlow, subsequent to the shooting of Miss Eggleston, which took place on the main street of the town. When arrested, the married woman surrendered a pistol to Marshal Briscoe and made a statement, nature of which was not revealed.

While Marlow residents were discussing facts in connection with the shooting, hospital authorities here stated early Thursday that Miss Eggleston's chances for recovery were fair. One bullet entered her body.

Barthelmess in 'Patent Leather Kid' at Majestic

One of the most dramatic moments in the history of motion pictures was recorded by Richard Barthelmess during the making of "The Patent Leather Kid," which comes to the Majestic Saturday.

R. Barthelmess

The war scenes, nearing completion, required a close-up of Barthelmess being almost overrun by a tank.

Hours were spent in preparation for this "shot." Half a dozen cameras were lined behind barricades and Barthelmess took his position against the wall of a trench. In the role of the Patent Leather Kid he here displays his fear and horror of the tank. Arthur Stone, in the role of the Kid's pal, tries to give the boy courage, when suddenly a monster tank climbs the parapet directly in their path. The Kid stands petrified and his pal takes cover.

The tank advanced slowly, ponderously. Inch by inch the blundering behemoth crawled until two-thirds of its length extended into the air. It paused a moment there, its shadow looking down on the terror-stricken Kid who stood beneath it. It moved another inch. The bystanders turned pale. Women screamed, the production manager and numerous members of the company shouted frantically, "Dick! For God's sake, run!" But Dick held his ground. The tank moved again. An eternity seemed to pass. Then the star turned his face from the tank and dashed away just as the iron dinosaur thundered into the pit like a wounded beast.

"The Patent Leather Kid" had recorded in celluloid one of the most dramatic moments in motion picture history.

'Gentlemen Prefer Redheads' Is New Play for Mission

"Gentlemen Prefer Redheads" will be the stage attraction at the Mission theater Friday and Saturday, and it promises to be just as entertaining and amusing as "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." The story deals with a girl who dyes her hair red in order to hold the affections of her husband, but a little dog, "Pinky," chews up a shoe and they separate.

Lillian Murry, as Susie, the maid, is back in her favorite character, while Elmer Wright as Douglas Ordway, the poet, is at his best. The supporting cast includes Elsie Stuckey as Red Head; Fred Ewen, the reason why gentlemen prefer redheads; Sunny Casmus, the go-between; Monty Stuckey, the fixer, and Al Casmus, the bigamist.

Miss Murry promises that this will be one of her best offerings, with special songs and dance numbers throughout.

The management of the Mission announces that all red-headed ladies will be admitted free Friday, matinee and night only. Just show the cashier or doorman that you have red hair and no questions will be asked as to whether it is natural or henna.

The screen attraction for Friday and Saturday will be Bob Steele in "The Riding Renegade," with comedy and Fox news.

MANDELL BUSY TRAINING FOR JACKIE FIELDS BOUT

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, settled down to serious training Thursday for his ten round go with Jackie Fields February 23, and with the cheerful feeling that the National Boxing association was satisfied with his plans to defend his crown next summer.

Mandell's championship opponent, Jimmy McLarnin, was not on the N. B. A. list of approved contenders, but apparently the N. B. A. feels that McLarnin would be a worthy foeman, since Mandell was not suspended in the same announcement that put Mickey Walker on the ineligible list.

The N. B. A. president, Thomas Donohue, slapped the ban on Walker in the 26 states under the association jurisdiction, for failure to defend his middleweight title within the required six months. Nevertheless, Jim Mullen, who has Walker's agreement to risk his title here next summer, said he would continue with plans for landing a suitable opponent for the middleweight ring.
