County Agricultural Agent Billy Roach has suggested that the Scurry County Fair set up special competition this year for big weeds. There are plenty of potential entries on farms as well as city lots, and some sort of prize could be offered for the heaviest weed and-or the tallest weed.

Fortunately weeds are not the only thing growing rapidly following August's bountiful rains. Roach said he had never seen rangeland spring to life so quickly as it has this season. It just proves once again how remarkably well the land here can rebound from a drought. Ranchers will go into the winter with pastures in the best condition in years and years.

Much farmland still is hampered by too much water, an unusual situation in these parts, and it will be touch and go from here on. All will have to battle weeds and insects and some fields still are much too wet for farm machinery to be taken into the crops.

And inevitably there is the one about the farmer who plans to seek drought aid to rebuild terraces which were broken by the heavy rains.

City councilmen couldn't have gone wrong in selecting colors for the new street signs to mark College Avenue. The two combinations finally considered were blue and white, and green and white. The college students selected blue, green and white as the official colors at WTC.

The city council ultimately selected green and white to mark the new College Avenue (formerly Avenue S). The new signs have not arrived yet, but are expected in a few days.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Sept. 2, the 245th day of 1971. There are 120 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1966, the Great Fire of London began. Thirteen thousand homes were destroyed.

On this date:

In 1789, the U.S. Treasury Department was established, with Alexander Hamilton as secretary.

In 1864, during the Civil War, Union forces under Gen. William T. Sherman occupied Atlanta, Ga.

In 1901, Vice President Theodore Roosevelt said in a speech at the Minnesota State Fair: "Speak softly and carry a big stick; you will go far."

In 1940, the United States transferred 50 destroyers to Britain in exchange for a lease of military bases in Newfoundland and the British West Indies.

In 1957, Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus ordered National Guard troops and state police to prevent the entry of Negroes at Little Rock's Central High School.

In 1963, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace stopped school integration at Tuskegee High School by encircling the building with state troopers.

Ten years ago: Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India addressed a meeting of neutralist nations in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and called for talks between the United States and the Soviet Union to assure world peace.

Five years ago: Trains began running again in Canada after a one-week strike.

One year ago: The U.S. space agency canceled two of its remaining Apollo flights, reducing the program to four trips to the moon.

THREE-TENTHS OF ONE PER CENT

Wholesale Prices Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's first price report since President Nixon's wage-price freeze showed today that wholesale costs of food, industrial raw materials and finished manufactured products rose three-tenths of one per cent in August.

The rise matched the smallest increase in five months but because wholesale food prices did not drop as much as expected for the month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics figured the over-all rise at seven-tenths of one per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis—highest in six months.

"The August index is based almost entirely on prices prevailing before the wage-price stabilization action announced by the President on Aug. 15," the bureau said.

The August rise brought the Wholesale Price Index up to 114.9 of its 1967 base of 100, four per cent above a year earlier.

This was the largest annual spread in 16 months.

The index figure means that it cost $114.90 on the average last month for wholesale goods that cost $100 four years ago.

Although wholesale food prices generally declined, egg prices rose more than 23 per cent and fresh fruits and vegetables went up six per cent for the month. These are the main food items that are specifically exempted from the price freeze both at wholesale and retail levels.

The report said that average prices of industrial raw materials rose five-tenths of one per cent, largely because of increases for steel products and lumber and wood products.

The prices of consumer finished goods ready to go to retailers rose three-tenths of one per cent, it said.

"The continued upward push in prices of construction materials including lumber and wood products, steel mill products and concrete products caused a nine-tenths of one per cent increase for processed materials, supplies and components," the bureau said.

"Metals and metal products had the greater influence as major advance was registered for steel mill products, nonferrous metals, containers, hardware and a variety of other metal products," it said.

The rise is over-all metals and metal products was 1.4 per cent, the report said.

Other significant price increases included a five-tenths of one per cent rise for textiles and clothing, a three-tenths rise for fuels and electric power and increases for motor vehicle parts, household appliances, paper, shoes and some rubber products, the report said.

"Sharp declines for grains and chickens caused most of the decrease for farm products. Hogs, oilseeds and fluid milk also were lower," it said.

A decrease in prices of processed foods reflected declines for meats, processed poultry and dairy products, it said.

Meanwhile, organized labor's chief spokesman George Meany, gave the first direct hint he is willing to bargain with the White House over Nixon's economic plans to follow the freeze which ends Nov. 13.

Board's Power Is Challenged

AUSTIN (AP) — Henderson Rep. Fred Head testified today that members of the House would suffer "irreparable damage" if the authority of a special five-member Redistricting Committee was not established soon.

Head said the redistricting board conceivably could wait until Oct. 23, the last day it is empowered to act, before offering a redistricting plan.

This is only 15 days prior to the deadline for representatives to establish their residence for seeking re-election, Head said.

Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock, chairman of the committee that drew the House redistricting bill which has since been struck down, testified he lacked adequate census data with which to draw a redistricting plan until late February. The state has appealed a decision by Dist. Judge Herman Jones declaring the House bill unconstitutional.

Head seeks a temporary injunction to stop the redistricting board from acting.

Four members of the board—the lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller and land commissioner—are in the executive branch. Head claims allowing the executive branch to redistrict the legislature violates the due process clause of the federal and state constitutions.

The only legislative member of the board, created by the Texas Constitution, is the speaker of the House.

Head also argues that even if the board is constitutional, it is supposed to devise a redistricting plan only if the legislature fails to do so in the first regular session after publication of census figures.

Since publication occurred after the 1971 regular session already was in progress, the first full regular session after publication would be in 1973, Head contends.

WILL RESIGN WITHOUT IT

Thieu Seeking Confidence Vote

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu told a nationwide television audience tonight he intends to run as the only candidate in South Vietnam's Oct. 3 presidential election but will step down if he and his policies fail to win a vote of confidence from the people.

"I am responsible to the whole country," Thieu said. "To resign would be the act of an irresponsible man, a deserter trying to avoid his responsibilities.

"Such an act could severely damage the country, leaving the legal and constitutional regime vulnerable to the Communists."

Thieu looked tense, even defiant, as he delivered the 25-minute television address.

"To run or to withdraw is the freedom of each ticket," Thieu said. "But the Oct. 3 election is determined by the constitution and cannot be changed, even if there is only one ticket. There is no legal basis for not organizing the elections.

"I want competition, but there is nothing I can do about it, I must carry out the constitution and legal procedures.

"I see that the coming election will be a referendum. If the turnout next month confirms my confidence I shall remain in the presidency. Otherwise I will not accept another four year term."

Thieu did not specify what percentage of the vote would give him the required "vote of confidence," or how that percentage would be determined.

Arrests Made Over Busing

AUSTIN (AP) - At least eight youths were arrested today as trouble erupted at two Austin high schools in connection with the massive busing schedule ordered by federal courts.

Two Negro pupils were arrested at McCallum High School in northwest Austin shortly after the arrival of a bus load of Negro pupils from Anderson High School, an all-Negro School being closed under the new desegregation plan ordered in effect this week.

The arrest complaint said one youth was charged with carrying a sawed-off pool cue studded with sharpened nails.

The other was accused of using abusive language.

Five other youths later were taken into custody at McCallum.

One pupil was arrested at Crockett High School on the southwest edge of Austin after school officials asked police officers for help following arrival of a bus of Negro pupils there.

Trouble first broke out Wednesday at McCallum when black pupils reportedly attacked a B team football coach.

559 Are In College

Western Texas College has 559 students enrolled for the fall term as it prepared to take its first holiday.

Monday, Labor Day, will be observed by the college.

Dr. Ben Brock, dean of the college, said that a number of inquiries concerning continuing education, or community service courses, had been received. These will begin later this month and announcements will be made as soon as they are scheduled. Included in such courses, which are not taken for college credit, are such things as China painting, karate, speed reading, etc.

Although college classes are spread from the campus to downtown Snyder while building continues on the campus, WTC has provided space on campus for a temporary student center. It is located in Building 7C-104. Tables, chairs and vending machines will be in the center, with counselors' offices located adjacent to the facilities and the office of the dean of women will be in 7C-103.

Also being provided is a library reading room in 7B-101 to be used until the research center-library is completed in February.

Cahill Denied US Entry

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Cahill, head of the militant provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army in Northern Ireland, was ordered today to be detained until a hearing Tuesday on his appeal of cancellation of his permit to enter the United States.

The fiery 51-year-old Irishman, who was stopped when he arrived at Kennnedy Airport Wednesday night, appeared at a brief immigration hearing in lower Manhattan.

After it was over, he was returned to a detention facility on the floor above the hearing room.

Cahill was informed his visa had been canceled by the State Department as he arrived for a four-week tour of U.S. cities to raise money for guns and ammunition.

Francis Lyons, special inquiry officer, told Cahill that he had no visa and added: "You have been convicted of a crime, murder."

A State Department officer said Wednesday that Cahill had been convicted of the murder of a policeman in 1942 and given a prison sentence which later was reduced to seven years.

Conviction of a serious crime is one of about 30 reasons for which the government can refuse a person entry.

However, Sol Marks, district director of the immigration service, told newsmen that the State Department had not given him its reason for excluding Cahill.

Marks said it was his decision not to release Cahill pending the full hearing.

Benefit Garage Sale Planned

A benefit garage sale is being planned by friends of Mrs. Charles Clinkenbeard, who has been hospitalized since Aug. 7 with injuries from a motorcycle accident.

The garage sale will be held at 1904 Seventeenth Street, at a date to be announced later. Persons wishing to contribute items to be sold in the event may bring the items to that address, or call 573-3348 and they will be picked up.

A fund for Mrs. Clinkenbeard was started several days ago and contributions to it may be deposited at either of the Snyder banks.

Akins Is Questioned Extensively On Deals

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — A defendant in the Texas stock fraud suit underwent extensive questioning today about deals involving a corporation in the case.

A lawyer for the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission asked Donald S. Akins about an $82,000 profit that Nashwood Corp. was alleged to have made over a 30-day period in 1969.

Akins, former executive vice president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co., was questioned as the fourth day of testimony in the federal civil case opened.

He was asked about the purchase of Lake Travis Lodges Inc. and Lake Travis Lodges Enterprises by Nashwood, also named in the suit.

Akins, who joined Nashwood in early 1969 as a 5 per cent stockholder, said the properties in Central Texas were sold when Nashwood was unable to find anyone to assume operations.

The SEC lawyer also asked Akins about a 1968 income tax return made by Nashwood that showed he was paid a $2,400 salary.

Akins said he never received the money, but it was listed as accrued salaries with the aim of reducing the profit that Nashwood was showing that year.

Three separate violations of the state insurance code were mentioned in testimony Wednesday by Akins, who said NBL funds were channelled to the now defunct Sharpstown State Bank in Houston without his knowledge or the knowledge of former NBL president John Osorio.

AM Is Revamping Production System

American Magnesium Co. is revamping its production process simultaneously with efforts to reduce air pollution, Joe Pitts, vice president and general manager, told members of the Kiwanis Club of Snyder at their luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Pitts said that changes in the production process were being made in steps, which requires considerable time. Equipment for each step must be checked to determine its effect on the next step as the work proceeds. He estimated that the plant would be gradually brought back into production by next spring.

Meanwhile, Pitts will be making a second trip to Soviet Russia within the next two weeks to pick up blue prints and specifications for equipment and technology purchased by AM from the Russians during a visit there last spring by AM officials.

When the plant here goes back into production, it will be second to none in the world in technology, Pitts predicted.

"We have had our problems, but we have made great strides in solving them in many areas," Pitts declared. Under orders to comply with Texas Air Control Board regulations on air pollution, Pitts said AM decided to shut down the plant here on July 2 when a power failure caused an temporary interruption of production so that the production process as well as pollution control equipment could be revaluated and revamped. He said the plant here has as its objective production of 10,000 tons of magnesium per year when existing equipment is fully on stream and then increasing to 30,000 tons per year.

Pitts said that the plant here employed 187 persons at the time it shut down in July. The plant force has been reduced to 63 during the shut-down. However, he said AM would be hiring again as the plant begins to come back on stream.

L. A. McClanahan was in charge of the Kiwanis Club program, and he introduced Pitts. Jack Riley, first vice president of the club, presided.

Holiday To Be Observed Here

Most Snyder business firms will take a holiday Monday in observance of Labor Day.

Schools also will be closed for the day, including Western Texas College, and the local public schools. A few business firms will be open, but for the most part activity will be limited to service establishments and the essential government agencies. Most offices except those of law enforcement agencies, fire department, etc. will be closed, as will banks.

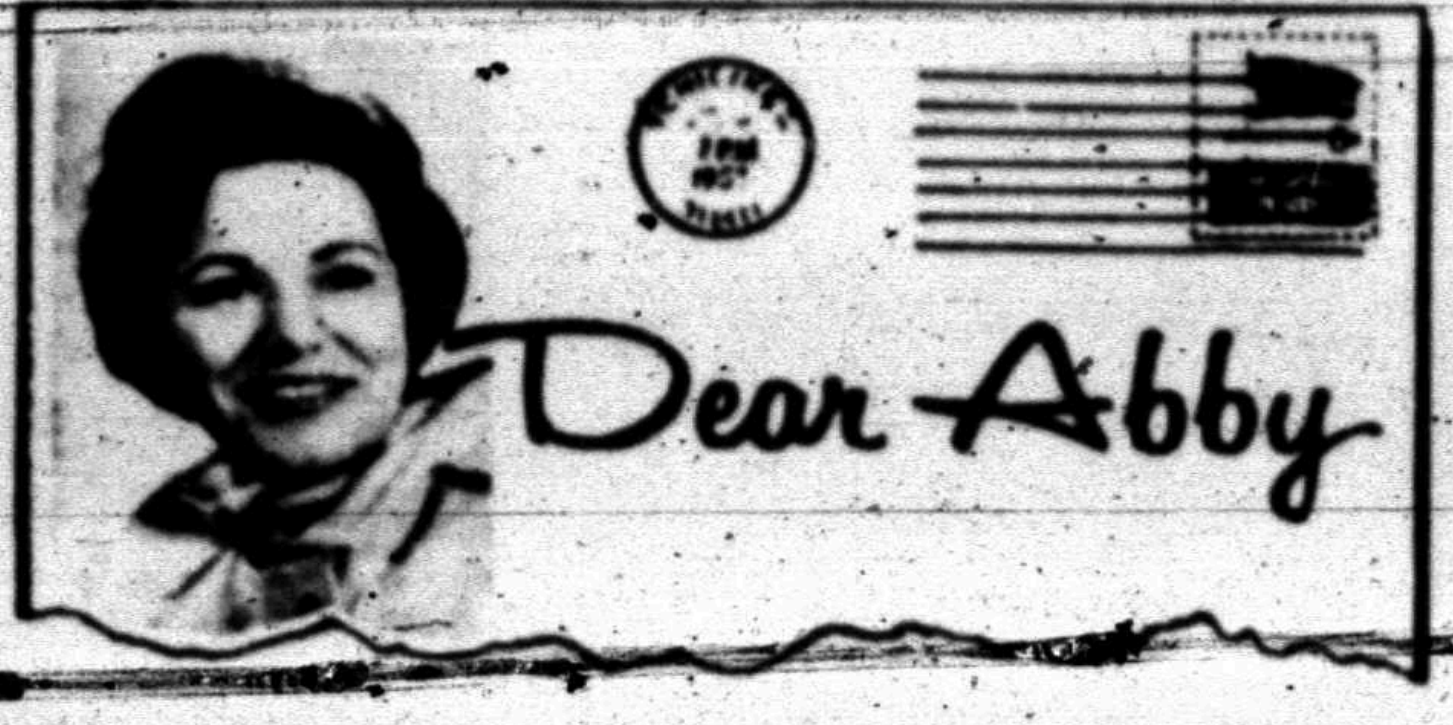
Good Adverse Neutral



College degree is not absolutely necessary

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Our middle son, Russell [made-up name] is our problem. He is a very intelligent boy of 19 who went to college for one year just to please us, then he quit. "Why waste your money and my time?" he asked.

His grades were above average and he could have continued. His reason for quitting? He likes to work with his hands. He is now going to a trade school and we are so disappointed in him. Now, I'm not putting down people who work with their hands, but it seems to me a man who works with his hands does so only because he isn't smart enough to work with his mind. Russell's father and grandfather are professional men, and both Russell's brothers plan to enter a profession.

Can you put something in your column stating a college degree is absolutely necessary these days, Abby? After Russell graduates from college he can do anything he chooses, but we want him to finish college first. Thank you.

RUSSELL'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Sorry, but I don't agree with you. College is not for everybody. If Russell likes to work with his hands, that's what he should do. It's not true those who work with their hands aren't smart enough to work with their minds. Some handwork requires as much skill, talent and brains as many professions. Let Russell do his own thing. Happiness is working at that which gives one pleasure.

DEAR ABBY: Do all husbands pick and nag at their wives over every imperfection?

My husband nagged me until I lost 20 pounds. Now he complains because my bust went down 2 inches.

That wouldn't be so bad, but his timing is rotten. He picks our most intimate moments; when he should be telling me something he likes about me, to bring up his complaints.

Doesn't a man know that this turns a woman off?

TURNED OFF

DEAR TURNED: If he doesn't, he should. And if he knows, and does it anyway, he should be turned down.

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "WORKING GRANDMOTHER" who wants to keep her grandchildren [both under three years old] in a playpen at her house, I was reminded of my problem, which is exactly the opposite.

My children's grandmother cannot understand why I won't leave my children at her house. My toddlers would be safer playing alone in an abandoned mine field. There are bleaches and other harsh chemicals on the laundry room floor, drain cleaner and aspirin on a low shelf in her bathroom, extension cords plugged into the wall socket, only lying on the floor, and attractive matches and lighters within easy reach.

Outside they have cactus and oleander landscaping and a shallow fish pond. And if a child should happen to stick his hand thru their chain fence, a dog who bites is waiting on the other side.

There are also 20 dozen valuable fragile knickknacks all over the place, which if damaged or broken would give granny cardiac arrest.

So perhaps if she and other grandmothers read this they will realize why their daughters [and daughters in law] don't send the kiddies to Grandma's.

CAREFUL IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR CAREFUL: Perhaps. But wouldn't it be a lot easier to just level with her?

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Play Day Set At Big Spring

BIG SPRING—The Howard County Youth Horseman Club is sponsoring an open play day Saturday at its arena on the Garden City Highway. This will be the fifth in a series of seven.

Events will include barrel racing, flag race, rings, poles and goat tying. A trophy will be awarded to the high point boy and girl in each age group, including adults, at the end of the seventh playday. Registration will begin at 5 p.m. and events start at 6 p.m.

Road Work Is Due In County

ABILENE—Seal coating of 12.8 miles of U.S. Highway 84 in Northwest Scurry County is included in Texas Highway Department improvements in District 8. District Engineer J. C. Roberts said that a total of 159.3 miles will be involved in the annual program for 1972 in the district.

The Scurry County project will include seal-coating of U.S. 84 from a point six miles northwest of Snyder to the Garza County Line. It will cost $52,600.

In Borden County, FM Road 1205 and FM 1785 are scheduled for seal-coating of 5.9 miles and 3.9 miles, respectively.

August Wet Month In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — After a dry spring and winter that raised the specter of drought, above normal rains came to most of Texas during August. And temperature were very cool.

Only the Lower Rio Grande Valley and Galveston Island were lagging in rainfall, said Robert Orton, state climatologist, in a review of the state's weather during August.

South Texas showed the most improvement in drought conditions from moderate on Aug. 1 to wetter than normal by month's end. The Upper Gulf Coast, the Lower Rio Grande Valley and East Texas registered the least improvement.

Rain fell in some part of Texas every day of the month. San Angelo and Del Rio had more than normally falls in the first eight months of the year. Abilene, Corpus Christi, Lubbock, San Antonio, El Paso and Midland-Odessa got 90 percent or more of the rain they normally receive in the first eight months of the year.

Del Rio had 6.1 inches of rain in August, a record for the month, and the lowest maximum temperature ever recorded in August, 93 degrees.

It was the wettest ever in San Antonio, which got 9.42 inches of rain. The 8.32 inches of rain in Corpus Christi was three times the August average.

A deluge of 12 to 14 inches in the Hill Country west of San Antonio Aug. 11-13 sent local creeks and rivers on the rampage. Heavy rains on the Nueches River watershed above Corpus Christi the first two weeks of August caused extensive flooding.

August rainfall totals, followed by the percentage of normal rainfall accumulated since Jan. 1 at selected locations, follow:

Abilene 6.93, 99; Amarillo 3.33, 88; Austin 5.69, 58; Brownsville 2.64, 79; Corpus Christi 8.32,98; Dallas 4.11, 84; Del Rio 6.10, 123; El Paso 1.59, 90; Fort Worth 5.70, 78; Galveston 3.61, 55; Houston 6.95, 67; Lubbock 4.15, 96; Midland-Odessa 3.27, 90; Beaumont-Port Arthur 10.56, 76; San Angelo 8.13, 139; San Antonio 9.42, 91; Victoria 4.01, 58; Waco 2.16, 79; Wichita Falls 7.61, 77, and Shreveport, La., 2.99, 72.

Rapist Is Recaptured

HOUSTON (AP) — The man accused of being Houston's "southwest rapist" was back in jail today after five days of freedom.

Harold Wilson Jarrell, 40, was recaptured Wednesday in Longvew.

Longview Police Chief Roy Stone said Jarrell was arrested as he tried to meet his wife for the second time since his escape from a holdover cell in the Harris County courthouse last Friday.

Jarrell's wife had been living in Longview since her husband was charged with eight counts of rape, all in the southwest part of Houston, the officer said.

College RodeoClub To Meet

A Western Texas College Rodeo Booster Club meeting for the purpose of discussing rodeo scholarships and practice stock for the fall semester will be held tonight at 8, at the Steakhouse, according to Van Rigby, rodeo team sponsor and assistant professor of Agriculture.

The total of funds collected for the first semester scholarships is considerably short of the club goal. Rigby urged all area citizens interested in seeing the WTC Westerners have a top notch rodeo team this first year to donate whatever they could to the Rodeo Scholarship Fund. All donations make the donor a member of the booster club and entitled to the privileges thereof.

The meeting tonight will be the last one scheduled before the deadline to donate scholarship funds. The deadline to donate funds is the 12th class day or Sept. 10. That date is the Texas state deadline for all tuition and fees.

Rigby indicated that the club is about $2,500 short of the needed funds. He urged all interested persons to attend the meeting or to call him, Jess Everett or Edwin Parks.

ASKS NIXON FOR HELP—18-year-old Helen Gillespie is shown here with her tuba after being turned down by the Women's Army Corps Band because she has double vision. Helen is getting help from Women's Lib which has asked President Nixon to intervene in her behalf. The National Association for Women (NOW) charges that Army regulations discriminate against women because they allow men to obtain exemptions for such disability. (AP Wirephoto)

Legionnaires Welcome Shen

HOUSTON (AP) — The 2.7 million-member American Legion was expected to reaffirm today its opposition to the admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Foreign relations and national security resolutions were major items for consideration at the concluding session of the Legion's 53rd national convention.

John H. Geiger, an air line architect from Des Plaines, Ill., was campaigning vigorously, meanwhile, to succeed Alfred P. Chamie, a Los Angeles lawyer, as national commander.

A warm reception from the Legionnaires Wednesday for Ambassador James C.H. Shen of the Nationalist Republic of China indicated no change in their traditional opposition to Red China being seated in the United Nations.

Shen attributed the current move to seat Red China to appeasement and expediency.

The Legionnaires applauded the ambassador when he said the Republic of China is in the U.N. by right. They applauded again when he said it would be preposterous for a founding member of the U.N. to be expelled. And they applauded once more when he said the U.N. record of the Republic of China is totally unblemished.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers also received a warm reception Tuesday, but there was no applause when he discussed President Nixon's plans to visit Red China nor when he pledged efforts to see that Nationalist China retains its U.N. seat.

Convention delegates approved Wednesday a two-paragraph resolution asking Congress to make it a penal offense for anyone to fly the flag of any country or revolutionary group hostile to the United States and holding Americans as prisoners of war. The proposal originated with delegations from Maryland, Virginia and New York.

Also approved was a request that Congress appropriate funds to permit House and Senate committees to extend and expand their activities "exposing the working of the Communist conspiracy within the United States."

Another resolution asked that a loyalty oath for all individuals employed as civil servants be reinstated. A 1969 Supreme Court decision held such oaths for federal employes unconstitutional.

Shen described Taiwon's strategic importance to the United States as "an unsinkable aircraft carrier in the Western Pacific."

Yet he said Communist China has launched a "smiling offensive" while asking the United States to withdraw all its troops from all areas west of Hawaii.

Probes Shelved Nader Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer advocate Ralph Nader has accused the federal government of burying its investigations of alleged automobile brake failures, window explosions, engine dislocations and fires.

Nader said his list of 13 problems covering domestic and imported cars produced since 1967 was taken mostly from government files of closed or shelved investigations. He charged government officials considered the defects neither safety-related nor widespread.

A Chrysler Corp. spokesman denied Nader's charges of failures of the standard drum brakes on a wide range of the company's models.

"We are aware of no brake problems in Chrysler products which we have not recalled and fixed," Chryster said Wednesday. "We have received no communication from the government at all."

The problems Nader contends are safety defects but which he says the government has failed to act on include:

—Poor engine mounts on 1966-1969 Chevrolets which, Nader said, can lead to the throttle sticking open as well as failure of power brakes and steering, when the engine lurches forward.

—Alleged failure of Chevrolet Corvair clutch cables leading to loss of control. Nader said General Motors repaired 40,000 clutch cables under warranty.

—Tendency of a plug on quadrajet carburetors in 1966 GM cars to fall out, leading to engine fires.

—Gasoline tank spillage, presenting a fire hazard, which Nader said has been found on Ford LTDs and the 1969-70 Oldsmobile Cutlass.

He also cited a letter telling of a cigarette in the ashtray of a 1971 Chevrolet Vega catching the dash panel on fire; 1967-1970 GM power brakes which, Nader said, GM's own figures show [illegible] twice the distance to stop if a small plastic check valve fails; exploding side window glass; wheel failures, and energy-absorbing steering columns that "are not collapsing as is required by Motor Vehicle Safety Standard 203."

"The number of cars potentially affected by the specific design defects listed in this letter is well into the millions," Nader said. "For example, there are perhaps four million Chevrolets on the roads today with potentially dangerous motor mounts. And at least as many General Motors cars are equipped with power-assisted brakes that may fail without notice."

Nader made his charges in a letter to Douglas Toms, director of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. The agency confirmed it has conducted no tests since 1968 to make sure steering columns collapse.

Grandma To Make Last Flight

AMSTERDAM (AP) — The American widow who jetted back and forth across the Atlantic all summer long was to make her final trip today in a coffin home to Cleveland, Ohio.

Sarah Krasnoff, 74, died [illegible] where she and her 14-year-old grandson, Michell Howard Gelfand, arrived and departed almost daily in their revolving-door travels.

She had been confined to her motel room under orders from a doctor who said she suffered a slight heart attack and was exhausted.

KLM Royal Dutch Airlines said she spent nearly $140,000 for the first-class plane rides she and her grandson took.

The youth's father, Leonard Gelfand of Cleveland, flew over Wednesday to retrieve his mother-in-law and son, who had sent only post cards since July. But Mrs. Krasnoff died shortly before he arrived. Her trips were never explained.

Gelfand said he would take his son home today.

Bentsen Supports Freeze

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Efforts by the Nixon administration to "float" the dollar "could be significant," Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, D-Tex., said Wednesday.

Texas' junior senator, a native of Mission in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, told a Valley Chamber of Commerce dinner audience he supports President Nixon's wage-price freeze.

Speaking of efforts to "float" the dollar, Bentsen said, "I hope this is followed by some tough negotiations with European and Japanese trading partners."

Asked at a news conference earlier what effect the Texas stock fraud case might have on the future fortunes of the Democratic party in Texas, Bentsen refused to comment.

More industry needs to be attracted to Texas, the senator said, adding that the availability of cheap labor is only a temporary incentive to the location of new industry.

"What we should create is the incentive of trained labor—willing workers skilled in their trades," Bentsen said.

B. C. Kindel of San Benito was installed as new president of the Valley Chamber.

Rep. Eligio de la Garza, D-Tex., also from Mission, introduced the senator at the dinner.

Speed Reading Course Set To Begin In Snyder

Arrangements have been made to conduct a 21-hour course in speed reading. The course is open to anyone above the age of 13 and guarantees every graduate a reading speed over 1,000 words per minute and with at least a 15 per cent increase in comprehension.

After the seven-week program a person can read an average length book in less than an hour and understand it better. In addition to speed reading the course also emphasizes improved study techniques, better test taking skills and increased concentration and retention abilities.

The course required a person to attend one class per week on the evening of their choice. For those who would like more information without obligation to enroll, a series of FREE one hour orientation lectures have been scheduled.

These meetings are free to the public and the course will be explained in complete details including entrance requirements, classroom procedures, tuition, class schedule and location. You need to attend only one of the meetings whichever is most convenient for you. These free one hour orientations will be held as follows.

Monday, August 30, at 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, August 31, at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, September 2, at 7:30 p.m.

And final meeting:

Friday, September 3rd at 7:30 p.m.

Meetings will be held at the American Restaurant in Snyder, Texas.

This course is also available to industry and other groups upon request.

SOUTHERN TREAT—This luscious Blackberry Jam Cake it is among Mrs. John McKeithen's, wife of Louisiana's governor, special favorites. Served with chicory coffee it is a real Southern treat.

Louisiana's First Lady Shares Coffee-Time Treat

"C' est si bon'." In southern Louisiana, steeped in French heritage, no accolade is more pleasing in praise of good cooking.

"C'est si bon'." is also the title of a treasure-trove of heirloom recipes, preserved in a cookbook compiled by the Young Women's Christian Organization of Baton Rouge. Mam-Ma's Blackberry Jam Cake is just a teasing taste of the treats it holds, a cake so moist and mouth-watering that Mrs. John McKeithen, wife of Louisiana's governor, claims it among her special favorites.

Offer this luscious cake with steaming cups of coffee with chicory and, as they say in the South "ya'll" will never be lonesome for company!

A longtime traditional favorite, chicory coffee has spurred a resurgence of interest among coffee lovers now that it is readily available in instant form. Because the bit of chicory blended in acts as an enhancer of coffee, the resulting brew has deep, richness of flavor generally not found in regular instants. Surprising as it seems, chicory coffee is not expensive! In the 10 ounce size, shoppers find about a half-dollar saving under regular instants.

You're set for a real Southern adventure in good eating when you try Mam-Ma's Blackberry Jam Cake, so extend the pleasure and have it with chicory coffee. It could be the beginning of a new love in your life.

MAM-MA'S BLACKBERRY JAM CAKE

Excellent to serve with chicory coffee, a cake so moist and flavorful, that Mrs. John McKeithen, wife of Louisiana's Governor claims it among her favorites.

1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
3 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 eggs
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup buttermilk
1 cup blackberry jam
1 cup chopped peacns (more if desired)
½ cup Sherry wine or apple juice
1 teaspoon each--powdered cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, allspice and cloves.

Cream softened butter and sugar in electric mixer. Add eggs, one at a time; whip well in between at high speed. Sift flour with spices and salt. Add soda to buttermilk and stir well. Fold in flour mixing alternately with buttermilk mixture. Add wine. Lastly, mix in pecans and blackberry jam. Pour into 3 nine-inch well greased and floured pans and bake at 325 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. At 30 minutes test with straw; when straw is clean, remove from oven. Cool in pans minutes. Invert on cake rack and leave pans over cake for 10 minutes more. This insures a moist cake.

CARAMEL FILLING FOR MAM-MA'S BLACKBERRY JAM CAKE

2 tablespoons white corn syrup
¾ cup milk
½ stick butter
2 cups sugar

Mix sugar, syrup and milk together and cook until it forms a soft ball in water. Remove from heat, add butter. Beat until creamy and thickened. Spread between layers, on top and sides. In spreading icing, if it thickens too quickly, dip knife into hot water and continue spreading. This icing should never be hard.

Miss Barnard Changed From Social Work To Teaching

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Prof. Christiaan Barnard's daughter is a champion waterskier and apprentice schoolteacher who thinks that education in this country will increasingly be influenced by United States teaching methods.

Miss Deirdre Barnard, 21, has been training on Port Elizabeth's North End Lake recently for the world waterski championships in Spain. She ranks as a Springbok, those who represent this country internationally in sport.

Miss Barnard is a second year student at Stellenbosch University aiming for a higher primary (junior high school) teaching diploma.

Teaching in South Africa will slowly change to the American style where the teacher is more of a supervisor than a lecturer, she said, and she thinks this is a good idea.

"Children must be kept active all the time. Under the American system the children work in groups and learn for themselves with the teacher lending a guiding hand. So much better than having the teacher in front lecturing most of the time."

Miss Barnard described how she decided to become a teacher.

"No, my folks didn't try to persuade me to take up a medical career. When I first went to varsity I did social science with a view to becoming a social welfare worker.

"But when I realized how much office work would be involved—all those reports to file—I decided to change to teaching.

"Actually, when I think of it, I've wanted to do social work since I was little. Anyway, now I can do it through teaching."

Earlier this year she taught at Regent Street Primary School in Woodstock, a depressed area of Cape Town. When she qualifies in two years she wants to get a post at a school in a poor area.

"There the children don't take so much for granted. They are far more appreciative when they're not well off."

Would she be a stern disciplinarian?

"No, I could never be stern. With those kids, I just had to laugh at the funny things."

Miss Barnard doubted whether being a Springbok or Prof. Barnard's daughter would handicap her teaching career.

"The smaller children don't know all this," she said. "And some of the bigger children won't believe it. I've found though, that when they do realize it's true, they take on an attitude of awe. It's so unnecessary."

Dierdre's brother Andre, 20, is a medical student at the University of Cape Town.

"He wants to be a vet," she said. "He definitely won't specialize in hearts."

Fluvanna Buffs Play Full Slate

FLUVANNA—This year, Fluvanna's Buffaloes will be playing a full, 10-game football schedule for the first time in almost three decades. The Buffs returned to football last season and played only four games. They won one, lost two, and tied one.

Coach Buddy Stewart will return to guide the Black and Red clad Warriors. His charges will be competing for the title in District 3-B Six-Man.

The Buffs have three returning regulars from last year's team. They are Larry White, 145-pound junior end; J. W. White, 135-pound sophomore halfback; and, Richard Gill, 155-pound junior quarterback.

Junior Bilano, the starting quarterback last season, is ineligible this year. He is one day too old to qualify. The Buffs also will be without the services of Steve Beaver, 140-pound junior end, who is out with a fractured arm. He saw action last year and probably will get to play some near the end of the season. He kicks extra points.

Four other Buffs saw action in 1970. They are Reggie Baker, 125-pound senior quarterback; Neely Landrum, 140-pound sophomore linebacker; Joe Bilano, 135-pound junior halfback; and, Steve Stansell, 150-pound sophomore back.

One other senior--Alex Ynguanzo (130)--is listed on the roster, but he will be competing in football for the first time. Alex is an end.

Two other juniors are listed on the squad--H. Baker, a 140-pound center, and Steve Daugherty, 145-pound end. coach Stewart, a graduate of Texas Tech, has five freshmen out and one of them will probably be a starter. He's John Bilano, a 170-pound center. The others are Chuck Jones, 150-pound quarterback; David Beaver, 150-pound end; Ronald Gill, 165-pound center; and, Brent Shafer, 80-pound back.

Stewart said if he had to list a starting alignment now it would be Larry and J. W. White, Richard Gill, Alex Ynguanzo, Steve Stansell and John Bilano. The two Whites, Gill, Stansell and Bilano will see double duty. On defense, Neely Landrum will make an appearance.

"We've got a good passing game," said Coach Stewart. Gill is the best passer on the team. White does the punting. "They're not afraid to hit," Stewart added, "they have a tremendous amount of desire."

The coach lists lack of experience as the main weakness.

With good team spirit, the Buffs could have a successful season in their first full schedule of games since the 1940's.

The schedule:

Sept. 10–At O'Brien.
Sept. 17–Union.
Sept. 25–At Weinert.
Oct. 1–At Hermleigh. X
Oct. 8–Ira. X
Oct. 15–At Hobbs. X
Oct. 23–At McCaulley. X
Oct. 29–Blackwell. X
Nov. 5–Trent. X
Nov. 12–At Highland. X

(X - Denotes district games; district games begin at 7:30 p.m.; the others begin at 8 p.m.)

Royal Is Displeased

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After scrimmages at Texas, TCU, Baylor and SMU Wednesday, half the coaches were pleased and the other half were not.

As can be expected, one of the displeased was Darrell Royal at Texas.

Four of his runners averaged six yards or better per carry in the controlled scrimmage, but, "all in all," Royal said, "it was a very poor scrimmage."

Royal did, however, have good cause for discouragement. Six regulars missed all or part of the drills with injuries. Absent with muscle pulls were quarterback Eddie Phillips, sophomore back Don Burrisk and sophomore linebacker Glen Gaspard.

Out with more serious injuries were linebacker Stan Mauldin, defensive end David Arledge and safety Tommy Woodard.

Another coach who was unhappy after a two-hour scrimmage was Jim Pittman at TCU.

"We were not sharp, we had no enthusiasm and we made a lot of mistakes," Pittman said.

One bright spot was second team halfback Steve Patterson of Dallas. After Patterson carried the ball 16 times for 101 yards, Pittman enthused, "He really finds that crease."

Another runner having a good day was first team halfback Larry Harris with 95 yards in 16 carries.

Baylor coach Bill Beall was happy with his team's two and a half hour scrimmage Wednesday.

"We had some rough edges, but I'm fairly well pleased," Beall said. He complimented running backs Marcus Rogers and Dan Carroll for their work Wednesday.

Picks St. John's

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Drescher of Congers, N.Y., son of the former New York Yankee catcher who died three years ago, will enter St. John's University in the fall.

Young Drescher, also a catcher, was graduated from Clarkstown Central High School in June where he hit .448.

Dodgers Rip Spurs, 2-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Albuquerque's Lee Lacey threw another wrench in Dallas-Fort Worth's chase of Amarillo Wednesday night with a sacrifice fly in the fifth inning that drove in the game's winning run.

Albuquerque and the Spurs were tied 2-2 in the bottom of the fifth when the Dodgers' Jim Corcoran doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on Lacey's fly. Monday night, Lacey scored one run and knocked in another in Albuquerque's 2-1 extra-inning victory.

The loss dropped the Spurs to five and a half games behind leader Amarillo in Dixie Association East. Each has nine games left. Amarillo did not play Wednesday.

In other Di[illegible] phis beat Arkansas 3-2, Jacksonville swept two games from Savannah, winning the opener [illegible] in eight innings and the nightcap 4-2, Asheville took a twinbill from hapless Columbus, by scores of 3-0 and 12-3 and three games were rained out, a doubleheader at Montgomery against Charlotte and Shreveport at Birmingham.

The one-mile Freehold, N.J., pacing record of 1:58.2 was set by Honest Story, driven by Ed Cobb, in 1970.

Police Allegedly Beat Carty

ATLANTA (SP) — Three policemen accused of beating Atlanta Braves outfielder Rico Carty were fired early today after a 7½-hour Aldermanic police committee hearing.

The committee found the officers guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and dismissed them. The three, J.R. McEarchern, L.D. Smith and C.E. Turner, were accused of assaulting Carty and his brother-in-law, Carlos Ramirez, in a fracas Aug. 24.

"We knew we were fired before we went there," Turner told radio station WSB. "It was a railroad job from the word go."

"I believe we were done wrong," Smith said.

McEarchern testified at the hearing that Carty threw the first punch at the other two officers. He said Carty "went berserk. He'd gone mad."

Smith and Turner, off duty and in plain clothes that night, were said to have called the two black men "cop-killing niggers" and reportedly disappeared after the altercation.

McEarchern testified that he didn't know Smith or Turner before the incident and was not aware they were policemen. He said he had not told them they could leave, and that he had made 500 arrests as a policeman without anyone ever having gotten away before.

Earlier in the trial Carty testified that he and Ramirez drove up to where McEarchern was parked on an Atlanta street to report that two white men in another car had called him a nigger.

He said the uniformed policeman struck Ramirez with a pistol and put him in the police car. Carty claims to have been beaten and kicked while lying on the ground.

The Braves' slugger, known as "The Beeg Boy" to his fans, said he didn't land any blows but wished he had.

He testified that since the fight his knee, injured last winter in a baseball game, "is clicking again." He also said his eye may be permanently damaged and that his ear hurts when he yawns.

Carty further testified that when he asked the uniformed officer for help, the policeman hit him in the face with a "slap jack." The officer told the other two white men to leave after the fight, Carty said.

Just before midnight Ramirez gave the same general testimony, speaking through an interpreter.

Tigers, Bulldogs Tangle Friday

Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges, head football coach and athletic director at Snyder High School, this morning said the Tigers are "progressing faster than we thought they would."

However, the coach was quick to qualify his statement. "We have by no means reached the point where we are a competent football team yet," he added. He said the Tigers are "working harder" and are learning the new offensive formations and defensive techniques.

During an intra-squad scrimmage Tuesday night, the Tigers ran off several variations of the T formation as well as the I. On defense, they employ the "Oklahoma 5" alignment.

The Tigers host Midland High in a scrimmage here at 8 p.m. Friday after the junior varsity squads of both teams tangle beginning at 4:30 p.m. The Bulldogs are a Class AAAA team, and they have good size.

Hodges said the Tigers have better than average team speed and adequate size.

He listed a probable starting alignment for the scrimmage, as follows:

OFFENSE

D. C. To File Against Nats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The D.C. City Council will file a suit to prohibit the Washington Senators by an injunction to move their baseball franchise, WTTG-TV said Wednesday night.

The station said Council Chairman Gilbert Hahn will hold a news conference to make the announcement on Friday. The suit will be filed in U.S. District Court.

Attempts at court injunctions to prohibit a baseball team from moving have been tried before, the last time in Milwaukee. None of the previous attempts was successful.

Canada To Feel Impact Of US Economic Plan

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While much of America watches the reaction of the Japanese yen and the German mark to the new U.S. economic plan, one of the greatest impacts is likely to be not overseas but right next door in Canada.

Two-thirds of Canada's exports go to the United States, a total of about $10.6 billion a year. About $2.5 billion of these will be affected by a 10 per cent import surcharge, meaning inevitable damage to the Canadian economy.

That economy hardly was in the position to take such a blow. It too had suffered through a frustrating downturn that it was shaking only gradually. Unemployment in the first half of the year topped 6 per cent, and could go higher.

During the past 15 months the Canadians say they had willingly absorbed what amounted to a self-imposed surcharge by permitting their dollar to float from a pegged price of 92.5 cents to better than [illegible] cents.

In the words of a Canadian government official, "We had, in effect, made a 7 per cent contribution for more than a year."

No wonder, then, that Canada immediately sought but failed to obtain an exemption from the surcharge. And while that possibility hasn't been foreclosed, the prospects would appear poor.

It is understandable that some Canadian businessmen reacted somewhat bitterly. They feel they already have made a contribution. And they feel their relationship is a special one because of the high degree of integration between the two economies.

And there is precedent for special consideration. Canadian-made motor vehicles, for example, are exempt from tariffs because of a special agreement, and they will continue to be.

There could be additional benefits to Canada later if other currencies are revalued, because this would improve their ability to export to nations other than the United States.

Moreover, a surge in American business would have a spillover effect on Canadian companies, many of which are highly dependent upon the well-being of their U.S. parents. And a surging U.S. economy would demand raw materials, surcharge or not.

Some Canadians point out that the 10 per cent surcharge on most goods coming into the United States is widely believed to be a weapon the United States can employ in order to force other nations to revalue.

Canada already has done so.

Smith Trying To Halve Toll

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith says that "the best way for a drinking man to drive friendly is to not drive at all."

His office put out a traffic safety statement for the governor Tuesday while he was in Mexico City.

Smith said he was coordinating plans with Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, in an effort to limit the expected Labor Day holiday traffic toll.

The Texas Department of Public Safety has predicted 52 traffic deaths will occur in Texas that weekend, Sept. 4-5-6.

"If we can just cut that prediction down, say in half or a fourth," Smith said, "everything will be well worth having done."

'Dream Car' Was 'Lemon'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eddie Campos said he saved for five years for the dream car.

He bought one new last year for $6,500. But, he said, it turned out to be a "lemon."

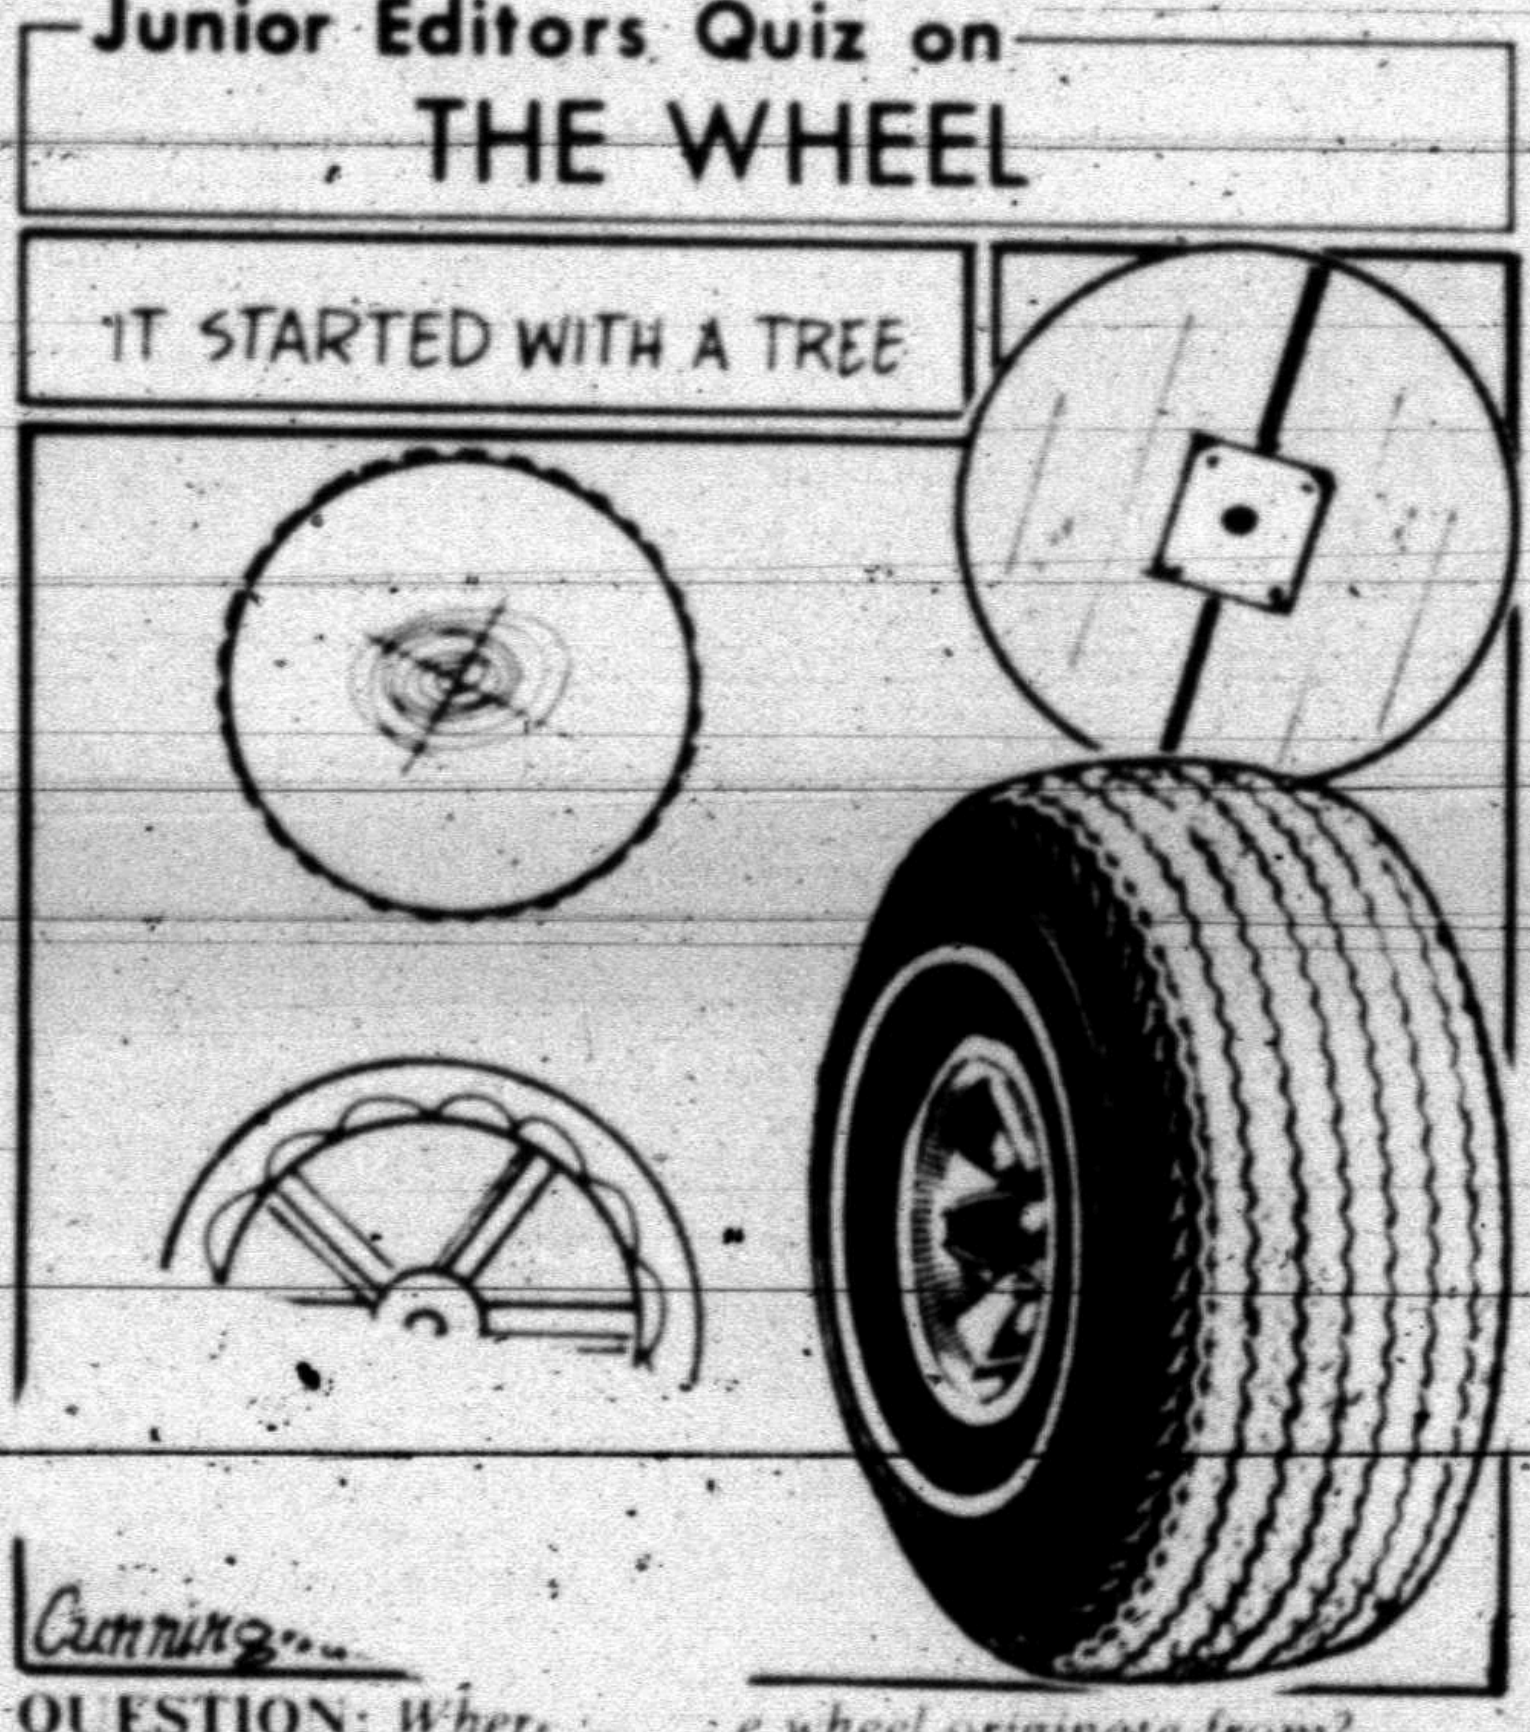
"It has been towed in for repairs 10,000 times," he explained to sheriff's officers. He said he could never get the car running properly.

On Tuesday he drove the auto onto the front lawn of the maker's company plant in suburban Pico Rivera, doused the car's interior and set it afire. The car was destroyed.

The sheriff's office said it was mulling whether to seek a criminal complaint against Campos. He said he would continue to make payments on the car.

More than 750,000 purebred dogs are registered annually in the American Kennel Club stud book.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE WHEEL



IT STARTED WITH A TREE
Cummings

QUESTION: Where [illegible] the wheel originate from?

ANSWER: The wheel evolved as a means of transportation after thousands of years of experimentation on the part of man. In early times, man had to use his muscles to move something from one place to another. He was really a "beast of burden." After some time, man domesticated animals and taught them to carry riders and cargo. Then he found a way by which animals could transport heavier loads. He built crude wooden platforms, which were hitched to his animals. They were dragged along in a sliding fashion. It was slow and hard work, because so much friction resulted from the rough surface of the wooden sledge hitting the rough surface of the ground. Then man realized the work would be easier if he placed the wood platform on logs and kept the logs rolling. After a time, someone thought of cutting a slice from the end of a log and making a hole in the center. Thus emerged the wheel, one of man's greatest inventions. Then two wheels were joined by an axle and the axle was fastened to a wood platform. Man had produced a cart. In the span of thousands of years, man improved the wheel. He made wheels of iron or copper, so that they would wear longer and used hubs and spokes and rims. He made the wheel lighter and more efficient. Then he started to use rubber tires which improve the roll of the wheel and muffle the noise.

Remarks Wives Tire Of

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that any wife gets tired of hearing:

"Honey, I wouldn't trade you for a million dollars—but I wouldn't give a dime for another wife just like you."

"What if you don't have a thing worth wearing? A married woman [illegible] expected to look like a fashion model."

"Mom, I'm in a rush. Can you sew this button on real quick?"

"What do you need a cleaning woman for anyway? Any woman today ought to be able to do everything a modern house needs in a couple of hours a day."

"I wouldn't buy that one, Mother. It makes you look like you're trying to look too young."

"What do you mean—did I get down on my knees when I proposed to your mother? What happened was that she chased me until I ran out of wind. Isn't that the way it was, Madge?"

"Mom, I'm in a rush. If you don't drive me to school I'll be late."

"Other wives seem able to make out a household budget and live within it. Why can't you?"

"It's not my fault if I didn't pass. The teacher hates me. She can't stand the sight of me. You can ask any other kid in the class if that isn't true."

"Man, if I were only a bachelor again and had the money I make now and only myself to spend it on, I could really live it up!"

"Certainly we can afford a vacation in Bermuda this year. You buy a wheelbarrow and I'll push you there."

"What do you need a new dress for? I don't see any patches on your old one yet."

"So what if you have put on a few extra pounds? Even if you take them off that won't exactly make you any threat to Raquel Welch."

"Well, I suppose you spent all afternoon as usual—laboring over a hot bridge table with a bunch of old hens, clacking and clucking and complaining about how mean their husbands are to them."

"Of course I love you. I love you, I love you, I love you. Now, what have we got for dinner?"

"Mom, I'm in a rush! Can you help me find my—."

"What do you mean—I never tell you a thing about what goes on in the office. Well, we have two orgies in the morning and three in the afternoon. What else do you want to know?"

"If the kids need punishing, get a rope and string them up by the thumbs. I'll cut them down later when I go to bed—if I remember to."

"Would I get married again if something ever happened to you? Well, honey, you can bet your boots I wouldn't until I met a woman who could at least make a better Martini."

"Mom, I'm in a rush! Drop whatever you're doing and help me—."

Guards Resign At San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — San Quentin Prison officials say eight guards have resigned since a bloody escape attempt Aug. 21 which took the lives of three guards and three convicts, including black militant George Jackson.

Since the escape attempt, the Department of Corrections has authorized the employment of 30 new guards at San Quentin, which now has a guard force of 300.

Speaker Keeps Vigil At Wife's Bedside

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Day after day he is there, moving silently about the modest room or slumped in uneasy sleep that he may be near his frail, beloved Harriet.

It is the final scene of perhaps the tenderest, most enduring romance known to Washington — this [illegible] John McCormack's.

In a sense, it is over already, for the doctors say his dying wife, while conscious, has slipped beyond the point of knowing him.

For 51 years they have been together, years which brought him unusual tumult and triumph in a profession noted for rending men from their mates. Yet there was seldom an evening in which Speaker and Mrs. John William McCormack dined separately, and never a night in which they slept apart.

Now he is resolute that they shall not be apart at the end, dismissing the offers of nurses or friends to take up the watch and free him for a time from the antiseptic walls of Providence Hospital.

"This is not a sacrifice," he has said, his gaunt frame draped [illegible] leather armchair beneath the fifth-floor window. "And it is not a duty. I want to be with Harriet, and I will be."

Rarely does he venture even into the outside corridor. He had a door cut between his room and Harriet's so that he could hear her and be at her side more quickly. Other than that, the facilities offer no special privilege, no extra space.

Save for an occasional visitor — they have no children — McCormack plays out these twilight moments alone and with consummate simplicity.

Upon returning to his room, he often drops to his knees beneath the portrait of Jesus of Gethsemane, his white mane tumbling forward over his prayerful face. He is a devout Roman Catholic, once decorated by the Pope. Still, the gesture might seem odd to those more familiar with his rough and tumble reputation, his closed-door, close-crony politics, his penchant for poker and cigar smoke.

He is a man, after all, who gloried in the time-worn sobriquet "The Fighting Irishman of South Boston," and, after 42 years in Congress and eight as speaker, this lonely and serene picture of John McCormack seems strikingly amiss.

[illegible] close to him say he harbors no bitterness in consideration of the cruel twist that hospitalized his 87-year-old wife 14 months ago just as he was about to announce his retirement from public office.

They had wanted to return to the same second-floor flat they had taken up as newlyweds in Boston.

John McCormack was only 13 when his father died and it fell to him to keep the family together. He dropped out of school, but managed to read law at night, paying an attorney $3 a lesson, and passed the Massachusetts bar at 21.

McCormack went into politics almost immediately, drumming up votes from the back of a horse-drawn peddler's wagon. He was a state senator when he met Harriet Joyce, a member of the Metropolitan Opera.

Since then he has served 21 terms in Congress.

Jackie Will Not Attend Opening

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacqueline Onassis has cited private and personal reasons for deciding not to attend the formal opening of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

The announcement was made Wednesday through a press spokesman in New York for Mrs. Onassis, who was wife of the late president for whom the national cultural center is named.

Now Mrs. Aristotle Onassis, she had left it be known months ago that she was planning to attend next Wednesday's official opening, which will feature a "Mass" composed at her request by Leonard Bernstein.

Other members of the Kennedy family are planning to attend Wednesday night's performance.

President and Mrs. Nixon had decided not to attend the opening because they were turning over the presidential box to Mrs. Onassis and did not want to attract attention away from her.

Grant Files Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Cary Grant has filed a Superior Court suit asking permanent custody of his daughter Jennifer, 5, from his ex-wife, actress Dyan Cannon.

Miss Cannon, 34, was given custody of the child when the couple divorced in 1968 after three years of marriage.

Honolulu Trying Pooling

HONOLULU (AP) — With 300,000 cars choking its highways and spewing pollutants into its air, Honolulu is trying computerized car pooling in hopes of reducing its rush-hour traffic by 50 per cent or more.

This has been tried on a smaller scale by businesses and individuals elsewhere. But Honolulu wants to have the nation's first citywide and city-run computerized car pooling system.

The plan was announced this week by Mayor Frank F. Fasi and it will begin by pooling 7,000 city employes. At the same time a campaign is planned to get all of Honolulu's work force involved.

A city spokesman said that pooling among city employes alone will take an estimated 1,000 cars from the streets during rush hours.

The procedure is simple: Residents fill out cards, saying where they live and when and where they work.

This information will be fed into the city's computer system, which will match a resident with four others. They then would share the same car.

A key figure in the effort is Clay Loges, a marketing representative for International Business Machines here who also runs the computer activities of Life of the Land, an ecology group involved in the project.

"We're trying to take a 'total approach' — something that's never been tried anywhere else," said Loges. "We're getting ideas from all across the nation and putting it all together in one package here. We've got the business communities interested and now we're going after the average commuter."

To do this, Loges said, the effort will include incentives for those who join car pools. One could be special lanes for pooling cars to make the ride to work and back home speedier. Another possibility is to assign the prime parking spots at city agencies and at cooperating businesses to cars used for pooling.

Minicoins Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private firm's offer of minicoins said to contain silver taken to the moon's surface on a U.S. space flight has been questioned by Chairman Leonor K. Sullivan of the House consumer affairs subcommittee.

The Missouri Democrat said she was told by NASA the metal, involved in a promotion by the private Franklin Mint of Franklin Center, Pa., didn't go to the moon at all. But it did circle the moon in the Apollo 14 command module.

Rep. Sullivan exchanged correspondence with the space agency about the propriety of providing earth-moon transportation for medallions intended for private use.

NASA's response was forwarded to the Federal Trade Commission, she said, with a suggestion it might want to pursue the matter "under the new doctrine of the commission in calling for corrective advertising of misleading or inaccurate claims."

Mrs. Sullivan said she received from the Franklin Mint an invitation to join its Collectors Society, at a cost of $9 for 18 months, and to receive a memento described in an accompanying article as "the first commemorative pieces ever struck by the Franklin Mint from silver that actually landed on the moon."

She quoted the advertising as saying the minicoins were to be struck from a batch of sterling silver into which was to be melted a number of medals carried by the Apollo 14 crew.

Mrs. Sullivan wrote NASA that she had received inquiries as to whether the space agency sanctioned carrying such medals on a nearly half-billion-dollar mission "when every drop of water, morsel of food and equipment ... must be controlled as to weight."
