Oil Allowable Held At Level Of April

AUSTIN (AP) —The Railroad Commission ordered today that Texas oil wells be held to 28 per cent capacity for May.

The production pattern, the same as in April, sets the allowable for next month at 2,827,205 barrels a day.

Five major purchasers and producers at the monthly proration hearing asked retention of the 28 per cent scale. Four requested a 27 per cent pattern. The top nomination was for 29 per cent.

The nominations: Sinclair 104,500 barrels per day, 27 per cent of capacity; Shell 159,900, 27; Cities Service 81,700, 26; Mobil 233,800, 28; Indiana 242,000, 27; Atlantic Refining 82,285, 28; Sun 108,096, 9; Gulf 203,100, 27; Humble, 393,630, 8; Continental 26,500, 26; Texaco 141,000, 28; Standard of Texas 35,500, 28; and Phillips 120,087, 25 per cent.

The commission forecast for May crude oil purchases was 2,513,814, down 3,171 from April.

The Bureau of Mines forecast demand at 2,540,000 barrels daily, up 45,000.

Stanley Woods of the Texas Landowners and Independent Oil and Gas Producers Association, repeated his request to the commission that it increase allowables one per cent per month.

"The real issue concerns the monotonous repetition of low allowable figures, month after month by the purchasers' nominations," he said.

"We believe there will be no permanent relief for our hard-pressed industry until the importing majors are required to purchase Texas oil proportionate to Texas reserves," Woods said.

Woods asked the commission to name an industry wide committee to study the possibility of raising allowables.

Just In The Nick Of Time

Carl Eason, an official safety inspection station operator, attaches a 1963 safety sticker to a car. The deadline for the inspection was Monday but this motorist did the best he could by showing up bright and early Tuesday. Cars without current stickers cannot legally operate on the roads and highways of the state.

Most Drivers Now Have Inspections

Outdated 1962 safety inspection stickers were hard to find on Howard County automobiles today, despite the fact that the Department of Public Safety believes there are several thousand cars which did not make Monday deadline for inspection.

Monday, a walk around several blocks downtown showed two 1962 stickers still on cars. Today, at least one of the cars was displaying a 1963 sticker.

No arrests have been made for operating a motor vehicle with improper stamps However, the highway patrol is keeping a weather - eye out for the cars which are not properly stamped and it is likely some procrastinating motorists will be hauled before the justice of the peace before the week ends.

The fine for operating a car after April 15 with a last year safety sticker can be anything from $1 to $200.

The numerous official inspection stations were having a few belated patrons seeking to redeem their oversight Tuesday but, in general, it would appear that more of the drivers made the deadline than was indicated two weeks ago.

On that date, only 52 per cent of Howard County's 22,000 motor vehicles had been inspected, the DPS reported.

Fidel Castro To Visit Russia

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government announced today Prime Minister Fidel Castro will visit the Soviet Union this year at the invitation of Premier Khrushchev.

The announcement said Khrushchev had invited Castro to Moscow to discuss "questions referring to relations between the two countries."

Khrushchev's letter reportedly said the Soviet chief wants Castro to see for himself "the great achievements of the Soviet people" and to talk about ways of "strengthening the friendship betwen the peoples of the Soviet Union and Cuba and other matters of common interest."

Reds Defeat Neutralists In Laos Clash

Retreat Is First Since Sunday Night

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces today drove neutralist troops out of Ban Kosi, an outpost on the road between the provincial capital of Xieng Khouang and the Plaine des Jarres, neutralist sources reported.

It was the first neutralist withdrawal reported since a resumption of fighting Sunday night broke a cease-fire agreement before it could take effect.

Gen. Kong Le, neutralist military leader, had refused to give up Ban Kosi and Dong Danh, 11 and 7½ miles respectively from the Plaine des Jarres. Informed sources said he agreed on a pullback on Sunday, then changed his mind, causing collapse of the cease-fire agreement.

Neutralist sources said Kong Le's forces retreated to Ban Houa, about halfway on the rambling dirt road between Xieng Khouang and the Plaine des Jarres, a strategic plateau ringed by mountains. Kong Le has about 5,000 troops in the plateau area. The Pathet Lao are in control of Xieng Khouang.

New shooting broke out shortly after the cease-fire was to become effective Sunday night. Kong Le said the pro-Communist Pathet Lao attacked his troops and six of his men were wounded.

The clash Sunday night occurred on a winding dirt road that is the only link between the provincial capital of Xieng Khouang and the Plaine des Jarres, about 27 miles away.

Kong Le's neutralists, forced out of Xieng Khouang, still control part of the road. Under the cease-fire agreement they were to evacuate troops trapped at Dong Danh and Ban Kosi during the retreat eight days ago from Xieng Khouang.

ON RESIGNATION

Diefenbaker Holding Back

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker held back his resignation today, indicating he might not turn it in for at least another 24 hours.

Diefenbaker entered a meeting of his outgoing Cabinet saying it was not the last session, as had been expected. He was slated to turn in his resignation sometime today, leaving the way clear for a takeover of the government by Lester B. Pearson's Liberals.

But Diefenbaker told newsmen he will see Gov. Gen. Georges P. Vanier at noon Wednesday and then summon his Cabinet into session once more.

Pearson had said he expected his government would be sworn in by Friday.

Diefenbaker called a meeting of his lame-duck Cabinet to make final arrangements for the changeover. Many Cabinet members lost their seats in Parliament in last week's elections.

Immediately after the session, Diefenbaker was expected to hand his resignation to the ailing governor general, Maj. Gen. Georges P. Vanier, at Government House. It is technically up to Vanier to chose a new prime minister, but there would be an uproar if he picked anyone but Pearson, whose Liberal party won the largest number of House of Commons seats in the national election April 8.

Although his party fell three seats short of a majority, Pearson was expected to name an all-Liberal Cabinet with no posts for Social Credit members expected to give him voting control.

Diefenbaker and Pearson met for 20 minutes Monday for the first time since the voting. Pearson said afterwards: "We had a pleasant talk on the mechanics that would be involved if I am asked to form a government."

The outgoing prime minister said he would have nothing to say until after seeing Vanier, who represents Queen Elizabeth II in Ottawa.

Pearson's party won only 130 seats in the 265-member House. This means Canada will have another minority government, as it has had since June 1962, but Pearson seemed assured of enough support from the Social Credit party to operate.

It was regarded as virtually certain that Pearson's foreign minister would be Paul Martin, a former health minister who has also headed Canada's delegation to the U.N. General Assembly several times.

Paul Hellyer is slated to take over the Defense Ministry and the contentious problem of acceptance of American nuclear warheads. He was associate defense minister in the last Liberal Cabinet. Toronto economist Walter Gordon is expected to become finance minister.

AWAITING MYSTERY PERSON

Navy Court Recesses In Thresher Hearing

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—The Navy court of inquiry hearing testimony concerning the sinking of the nuclear submarine Thresher recessed today after saying it could not continue without the presence of an unidentified person.

The court said in a statement it had "reached a point in deliberations beyond which it cannot continue without the presence of a person not now in Portsmouth."

The court added it will reconvene "as soon as possible," probably later today but not before 4 p.m.

The day's lone witness, the officer in command of rescue operations for the first three days after Thresher sank, told the court he had formed an opinion as to the cause of the sinking.

But Rear Adm. Lawson P. Ramage added, "It is nothing I care to state in open session."

Ramage, deputy commander of the Atlantic Fleet submarine force, told the court neither he or other top officers in the search and rescue phase was aware until two days later Thresher had radioed information about a "minor difficulty."

LEARNED OF MESSAGE

Ramage said he learned of the Thresher's radio message on April 12 after the navigator of the rescue ship Skylark was transferred to the admiral's ship to be brought ashore to testify.

Navigator Lt. (j.g.) James C. Watson earlier told the court the last clear message from Thresher was: "Experiencing minor difficulty. Have positive up angle. Attempting to blow."

Ramage said that even if he had learned about Thresher's last message it could not have changed search and rescue plans that went into immediate effect.

"The initial evaluation, however, would have been made sooner," he said.

It had been expected that today's first witness would be a Navy lieutenant who took a last minute leave and missed Thresher's tragic final voyage.

Lt. Raymond A. McCoole, 33, of Dover, N.H., father of five, had asked for leave just before the Thresher left Portsmouth Naval Shipyard for sea trials. He said his wife had an accident.

McCoole, who joined the Thresher crew in October after the vessel arrived at Portsmouth for an overhaul, had never been to sea on the submarine.

TO TESTIFY

A former crew member, Frank J. Destefano Jr., chief machinist mate, who recently transferred from the Thresher, is also scheduled to testify.

The Thresher, with 129 men aboard, never reappeared after a test dive 220 miles east of Cape Cod. Last communication with the vessel was at 9:17 a.m. Wednesday.

The five-man court closed a hearing session for the first time Monday to hear testimony from Vice Adm. Elton W. Grenfell, commander of the Atlantic submarine fleet.

Grenfell, final witness of the day, was asked if he had a personal theory of what happened to the Thresher. The admiral said his theory was classified.

The room was cleared for 25 minutes.

Testimony as to the fitness of the submarine was given by Capt William Heronemus of Madison, Wis., shipbuilding and repair superintendent at the shipyard.

"I know of no ship in better readiness. I never knew of a ship with so few discrepancies before sailing," he said.

The skipper of the USS Skylark, Lt. Cmdr. Stanley Hecker, 36, of Brooklyn, N.Y., told of the last two messages from the Thresher —both garbled — as she tried to surface after her ill-fated test dive.

"MINOR" PROBLEM

Hecker said the Thresher signaled the Skylark, her surface escort vessel:

"Experiencing minor problem—(a pause)—have positive angle—(another pause) — attempting to blow."

Hecker said the sound of air rushing into the Thresher's ballast tanks obscured another message.

Only the last two words "test depth" of a second message were audible, Hecker said.

Another witness told the court last week he thought the final words were "exceeding test depth."

Lt. Cmdr. James C. Watson, navigator of the Skylark, had told the court Saturday the last sounds that came over the radio from the Thresher were a "muted dull thud" like that "of a ship breaking up—like a compartment collapsing."

Hecker said that while searching for the Thresher after contact was lost he sighted a hull "that looked like a submarine sail."

But, Hecker said, he got no reply when he challenged the vessel. He said it might have been a fishing boat.

SERVICES HELD

The hearing recessed briefly while the widows, children and parents of the victims of the disaster gathered with some 5,000 others for memorial services at the shipyard.

A three-foot floral reproduction of the Thresher was dropped from an Air Force plane at the approximate spot at sea where the submarine disappeared.

Among those taking part was Mrs. John W. Harvey of Groton, Conn., widow of the Thresher's skipper.

Services were also held at the U.S. submarine base at Groton.

Thiokol Gets Contract For Large AF Boosters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thiokol Chemical Corp. has received major contract awards for development of large solid fuel boosters for the Air Force, Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, said today.

Thiokol got three contracts for work in the Air Force's four-element program, Moss said. He described the work.

Element One — Demonstration firings of a 260-inch motor by Thiokol at Camden County, Ga., and by Aerojet General Corp. at Dade County, Fla.;

Element Two — Demonstration firings of a 156-inch motor by Thiokol in Georgia, and Element Three—Static firings of 156-inch solid propellant motors at Thiokol's Wasatch Division of Brigham City, Utah.

The Wasatch Division helped develop the Minuteman missile.

"The large solid booster program is of the greatest significance to the future of Utah's missile industry. Heretofore, all of the space probes of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration have been made with liquid-fueled motors," Moss said.

"Now for the first time, NASA is participating in a demonstration program looking toward the use of solid propellants for space vehicles.

"This development program is the result of a Department of Defense-NASA agreement executed in November.

"Thiokol has a tremendous backlog of experience in the solid booster field. The firm has been consistently ahead of schedule in the production of Stage I Minuteman rocket motors, and the Minuteman has an almost perfect record of successful firings.

"The purpose of the large solid booster program is to make demonstration firings of the size rocket engines that will be needed to put larger payloads in space.

"It is expected that such motors will be used for deep space probes beyond the moon, in firings that will take place perhaps a decade hence.

"No specific applications are planned at this time for these large boosters.

"The 156-inch motor also has considerable military significance, since it is the largest size that can be manufactured at existing sites and transported by both rail and truck throughout the United States."

JFK Helps King On Telephone Call

ATLANTA (AP) — Intervention by President Kennedy enabled Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. to talk by telephone with her husband, jailed for leading an anti-segregation march in Birmingham, Ala.

"The President called and said he had been in touch with Birmingham," Mrs. King related Monday night.

"He told me, 'I've arranged for your husband to telephone you very shortly. You probably know we sent FBI agents in last night to talk with him and he's all right.'"

Mrs. King said her husband called shortly afterward and assured her he was all right and in good spirits.

Mrs. King said she first tried to reach the President on Sunday, talked with press secretary Pierre Salinger and then received two calls from the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

In Palm Beach, Fla., the holiday White House said Kennedy telephoned Mrs. King to reassure her that the Justice Department was keeping a close watch on King and the Birmingham situation. No details were given.

Long a leader in desegregation campaigns, King went to jail Friday for participating in a march protesting segregation in the Alabama industrial city.

Mrs. King said she decided to call the President about the Birmingham situation "because I thought it was about the only thing I could do. I had not heard from my husband since his arrest. Usually he calls me after he gets in jail. I was concerned about his safety and just anxious to hear from him."

TORNADO WARNING OUT FOR EAST TEXAS AREA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rich section of North Texas, including the populous Dallas and Fort Worth area and its million residents, was placed under a tornado forecast Tuesday by the Weather Bureau.

The endangered area, alerted for six hours ending at 7 p.m., is bounded roughly by a line from near Wichita Falls to Archer City, Mineral Wells, Hillsboro, Sulphur Springs and DeKalb.

Included also in the area are Wichita Falls, Denton, Denison, Sherman, Gainesville, Weatherford, Paris, Greenville, Mineral Wells, Hillsboro, Waxahachie, Ennis, Bonham, McKinney and Commerce.

Dry Forests Create Bad Fire Peril In The East

By The Associated Press

Dry forests, compounded with a drought, have made for hazardous fire conditions in the eastern United States, where thousands of woodland acres have burned.

In Ellsworth Falls, Maine, a grass fire got out of control Monday and destroyed two homes. A family had moved into one of them only a few hours before.

The same day 105 forest fires were reported to the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources. Forestry officials described the fire danger in eastern and central Massachusetts and Rhode Island as "extreme if not explosive."

Open fires were banned in Rhode Island, where one man died fighting a blaze.

The Weather Bureau said the bulk of New England passed its 25th day Monday without appreciable rain. Little relief was in sight.

In Florida, 154 fires raked 6,000 acres over the weekend. Two blazes north of Panama City blackened 2,500 acres. Forests were tinder dry. State Forester C. H. Coulter said a prolonged period of exceptional fire danger may be expected.

Connecticut, which hasn't had a soaking rain since March 23, is going through its longest period of high forest fire danger since natural resources officials began keeping records in 1948. Firemen fought a 25-acre woodland blaze for more than five hours Monday.

In Maryland, forestry officials said the fire risk there was the greatest in 15 years. Maryland rates fire danger on a scale up to a maximum of 200, with 100 considered critical. Areas in the state ranged from 130 to 190 on the scale.

Final Assault

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—The American expedition climbing Mt. Everest plans to make the final assault on the world's highest mountain between April 20 and 30.

Norman Dyhrenfurth, the expedition leader, said Monday night six members of his team will make the attempt on the summit of the 29,028-foot mountain.

Stock Market Eases Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Traders skimmed the cream of profits from the stock market early this afternoon as the list eased backward irregularly from its latest ing was active.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional but here and there was a move of a point surge to new 1963 peaks. Trador so either way.

Chrysler—a 4-point winner Monday—was down 3 at worst as shareholders met to ratify a 2-for-1 stock split and earnings of $3.98 a share were announced for the first quarter.

Although this was a huge gain from the 14cents-a-share posted in the year-ago quarter, Wall Street advance estimates were that Chrysler would earn between $4 and $5 a share — so the news was mildly disappointing to optimists.

DEAR ABBY

Mixed-Up Marriages

DEAR ABBY: When I was 16, I married George just to get away from home. He was old enough to be my father and it didn't work out. George left me, but I didn't care. We were never divorced. Then I met Paul. I never knew I could love a man so much. He moved in with me and we were so happy! Then he confessed that he was married and had five children. He is separated from his wife and is fighting to get custody of his children. When I found this out, I told him not to fight so hard. I love Paul, but at my age (23) I don't want to raise five children. Paul says if I really loved him I'd take the children. Maybe I don't love him. I'm all mixed up. Can you help me?

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: You are still George's wife. And Paul is also still married. You might love Paul, but not enough. First straighten out your own marital mess. You need Paul and his five children like a drowning man needs water.

DEAR ABBY: We don't know if we are going crazy or if 25,000 other people are, but we just read where an organization is starting a movement to force everyone to DRESS UP their animals! They say it is "immoral" for animals to go around naked in public and, besides, it "confuses" our youngsters. We all had a good laugh over this. Can you picture a farmer getting up at 3 a.m. to put Bermuda shorts on 100 head of cattle?

DEAR ABBY: Twenty - three years ago I married a fine man whose wife had died and left him with a 12-year-old daughter. I tried hard to be a good mother, but she never cared for me. Yesterday, in my absence, she came into my home and hung a large tinted picture of her mother in our bedroom. When I saw it I told my husband that if he wanted that picture anywhere else in our home I did not mind, but I took it down and refused to have it in our bedroom. His daughter is married and there is not one picture of her deceased mother anywhere in HER home. Why mine? Or am I being unreasonable?

Guilty Pleas Reduce Appeals Case Number

Three appellants, who had filed appeals in the Howard County Court, appeared before Judge Lee Porter Monday afternoon and entered pleas of guilty to the complaints against them.

The three cases were part of the 36 appeal cases set down by the court for disposition a few weeks ago. Harvey Hooser Jr. is the attorney in these cases and was out of town at the time the docket was called. The cases were set down for special action Monday.

The defendants who pleaded guilty were:

Clyde Brown Jr., speeding, fined $10.

Theodore Pachall, failing to yield right of way, fined $10.

Grady Dorsey Jr., running stop light, fined $5.

All of these cases were appealed from corporation court.

Only one of the 36 cases now remains on the docket. One defendant was out of pocket at the time the cases were first called and is still missing. By agreement, this case was passed for the present time. Dois Ray is the appellant in this case.

"This means we have gotten rid of 35 of the 36 appeal cases on file when we sounded the docket," Wayne Burns, county attorney, said. "I think we are now up to date and that the only appeal pending is the one we passed.

He said that he did not think any new appeals had been brought over from the city court.

Dentist Pulls Titan 'Tooth'

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Dr. Robert Ratcliffe, a Tucson dentist, completed an extraction on his biggest patient—a 103-foot giant.

He had to remove a broken drift pin in the second-stage engine of a Titan 2 intercontinental ballistics missile.

Although he had to do more drilling than he likes and broke two drills, he succeeded in removing the impacted particle.

The trouble developed when the pin snapped in one of the attach holes of a heat resistant skirt around the engine. No machine shop in Tucson had the delicate instruments required for removal of the pin.

Martin Marietta Corp. executives decided it was a job for a dentist so they made an appointment with Dr. Ratcliffe.

Three Defendants Enter Pleas In County Court

Three of 21 defendants slated for jury trial in Howard County Court this week, or the week of May 6, have already pleaded guilty to the charges against them; six others have notified the court they will plead guilty as charged and only four of the cases on the docket have been continued for the term, Wayne Burns, county attorney, said Monday afternoon.

He said that pleas have been accepted from Robert D. Hutcherson, DWI, fined $75 and three days in jail; Doris Miller, DWI, fined $50 and three days in jail, and Louis M. Thompson, originally charged with DWI but charge reduced to drunkeness, fined $150.

Pleas of guilty are slated this week from Lillian Clark, DWI, and driving with license suspended (two complaints); Juan Rodriguez, DWI; Eula Mae Barber, DWI; John L. Crawford, DWI; Trannie Randle, three cases alleging possession of liquor for sale without license.

Cases passed for this term:

McAllyn Edminston, DWI; Fred Constancio Jr., DWI; Bransford F. Bulls, negligent homicide; Michael Harrison, driving with license suspended; and Richard Kelly, DWI.

Cases set for this week:

Trinidad Arsiaga, possession of barbiturates, set for Tuesday; Joseph T. Mattingly, DWI, Thursday; William Roberts, aggravated assault, Thursday; Trinidad Torres, shoplifting Friday.

Cases set for trail the week of May 6:

Jerry F. King, DWI, and possession of an illegal weapon; J. W. Purser, DWI; Eric James Rasmussen, aggravated assault.

Selective Price Hikes Take Shape

NEW YORK (AP)—A pattern of selective price increases seemed to be taking shape today in the steel industry but there still was no word from the No. 1 producer, U.S. Steel Corp.

Republic Steel Corp., the third ranking firm, fell into line with three smaller companies by posting boosts averaging $5.34 a ton on products that accounted for about one-fourth of 1962 sales.

The decision-making executive committee of U.S. Steel, which initiated last year's abortive price rise, was to meet in regular monthly session in New York today.

Few thought that higher prices fixed by Republic and Pittsburgh Steel Co. Monday, and two other companies earlier, could stand up unless U.S. Steel went along.

"Big Steel," as U.S. Steel is known in the trade, accounts for about one-fourth of the industry's tonnage.

There was no new word from President Kennedy, following developments, from his Florida vacation site. The President last week cautioned against any upset in economic stability but conditionally approved increases on selected steel products.

Shortly before Republic's announcement, citing increased production costs and declining profits, a congressional inquiry into steel prices, profits and production problems was ordered by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee. Douglas said impartial hearings would start next week. Douglas is a former University of Chicago economics professor.

Republic was the first among the nation's 10 largest producers to disclose pricing plans.

Wheeling Steel Corp., which started the ball rolling a week ago, ranks 11th in production. Lukens Steel Co., which followed on Sunday, ranks 20th, and Pittsburth Steel 14th.

Kaiser Steel Corp., which held back when other companies advanced prices in April 1962 only to rescind the increases quickly under administration pressure, said it had reached "no conclusion" on what to do this time.

Last fall, Kaiser, ninth largest producer, cut its prices sharply to all but wipe out differentials between Eastern prices and those that historically prevailed in its West Coast territory.

While most companies stayed on the fence as far as prices were concerned, industrywide production continued to soar, registering its 11th consecutive gain last week.

The output of 2,464,000 ingot tons last week was the highest in three years, the American iron and steel institute reported.

Demand is an important factor in price decisions, and Republic stressed that ordering was heavy on the items it boosted.

THE SUNDAY AFTER EASTER

You attended worship services last Sunday. That is commendable. Now, what about the Sunday after Easter? Will you be at the worship? It is just at important as Easter Sunday! You ask, Why? Because it is Sunday, or the first day of the week. In the New Testament there is no difference between Sundays. There is no command to observe one certain Sunday out of the year. The first century church had no holy day called Easter. The word 'Easter' does not appear in the revised versions of the Bible at all. The one place where it is found in the King James Version, (Acts 12:4), it is not connected with Christian worship. As the International Standard Bible Encyclopedia tells us, there is no trace of Easter celebration in the New Testament.

The early Christians met on a weekly occasion (Sunday). See Acts 20:7; 1 Cor. 16:1, 2. They had no annual celebrations. They are supposed to be our example. Come next Sunday, too.

"CRIES TO SLEEP EVERY NIGHT"

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

This was the statement given by the mother of this 12-year-old girl last fall. Three years earlier, this young girl had commenced having headaches. These had increased in intensity and frequency in spite of various examinations and doctoring. As a result of the girl's headaches, the household became strained and she was irritable with her sisters, her nerves became 'torn' up and she became nervous, her school work suffered, she became jumpy and even began chewing her fingernails. Her parents became desperate, beginning to think that nothing was going to help their daughter. Finally a former patient (whom we had helped with her own headaches and even taken out of a neck brace) suggested that the girl be brought to our office to see if chiropractic could help this child who by now cried herself to sleep because her head ached so very much.

We examined this girl and found a condition in her neck vertebrae which had been overlooked in all her previous examinations and treatment. Adjustments were begun and almost from the first visit, the headaches began reducing in both the intensity and frequency, until now, five months since any headache has been present. Nervousness, jerking and jumpiness, irritability and fingernail chewing are things of the past. No. 1868.

There are many medical authorities who new believe that practically all chronic headaches are traceable to dilated vessels in the head or to the effects of muscle tension or to a combination of both. They further state "headaches usually start at the back of the neck or the base of the skull." Arterial blood vessels have muscles in their walls. These muscles run in a circular manner around the vessels. (Nerves control muscles.) These vascular muscles are influenced by the action of spinal nerve fibers, called vaso-motor nerves. When these vase-motor nerves are disturbed by spinal displacements, circulation to the affected part of the body can be upset. When irritated nerves cause these vascular muscles to contract, the blood vessels become partly closed and narrow. When the nerves are compressed the muscles relax. The blood vessels become larger or "dilated."

All this suggests the vertebrae arrangement to be the underlying basic cause of headaches and we find it usually the case!

If you or someone you know suffers from headaches, don't wait to be checked — there is no need to suffer from headaches. The Hansen Chiropractic Clinic (located across from Piggly Wiggly) is open to 6 p.m. each day. Investigate, your headaches can be helped, in most cases. AM 3-3324. —Adv.

Now All They Need Is A Safe For Ice Cream

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Thieves couldn't crack the safe in a burglary of the United Dairy Farmers store at Amelia, but it was a big loss to the operator anyway.

Sheriff Clyde Dericks said the store lost all its ice cream products because the burglars left the refrigerator doors open when they departed.

Lawmen Cross Each Other Up

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — When Constable Wilmer Kitchens stopped a pickup truck loaded with moonshine still equipment, he was surprised to find a federal agent hidden in the rear of the truck.

The agent from the U.S. Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division had secreted himself inside a large metal drum before the truck left Biloxi. He hoped to discover the destination of the whisky factory.

Kitchens said the truck driver, Ranzy Barnes of Polkville, was charged with reckless driving and with possession of the parts of a whisky still.

Greene said he suggested the man also make "things right with the law."

"I can't do that now," the caller replied. "But I'll see you about that sometime."

Can't Win For Losing Dept.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco hired 28 meter minders to do nothing but give out parking tickets. They are doing just that —and how.

Recently the Supervisors Finance Committee estimated the three-wheeled motorcycle task force—created to free regular police for other duties and save the city money—would issue 40,000 tickets more a year than was the case before.

But, the committee said, it needs more money to reap this bonanza: $9,700 for the municipal court to hire more personnel to process the tickets; $7,800 for additional postage and $13,500 to cover, among other things, purchase of 1,000,000 more traffic tags.

Grand Jury To Meet April 30

The Howard County grand jury will reassemble for its second session during this term of court April 30, instead of April 29 as announced. Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, has issued an order calling the grand jurors back to duty Tuesday, April 30.

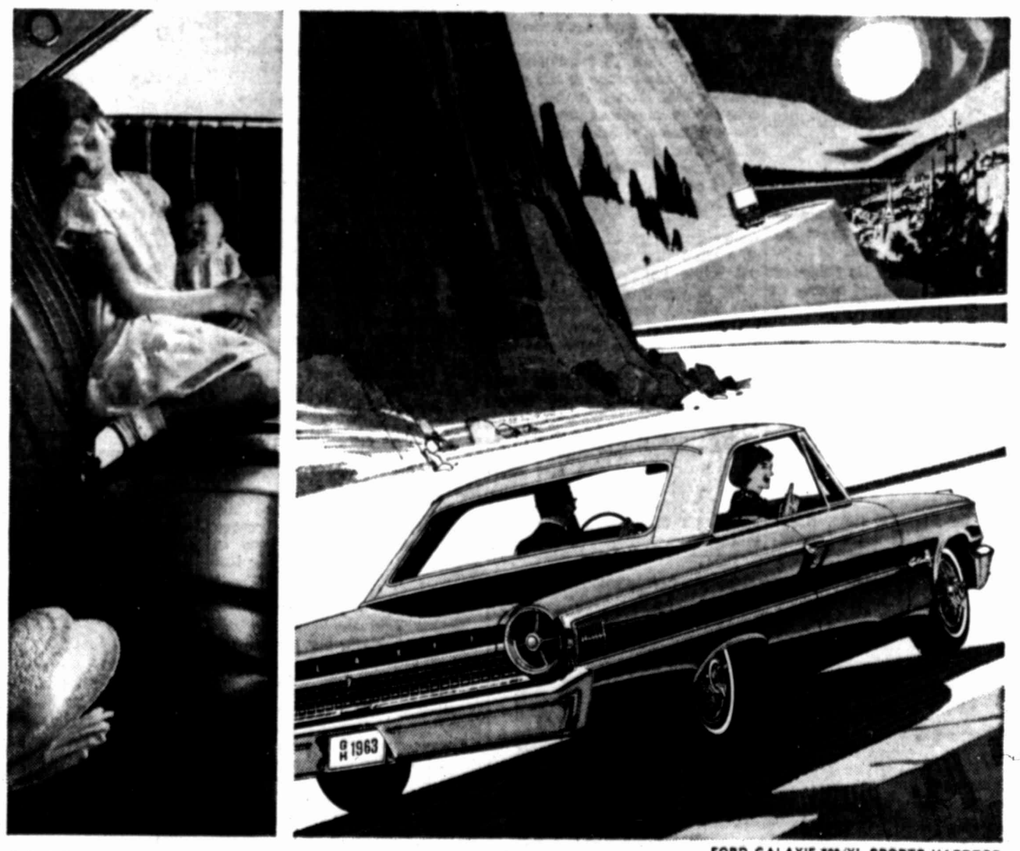

Gil Jones, district attorney, said it had been demonstrated that Tuesday is a better day for a grand jury to begin work than Monday.

Two murder cases are included in the 25 to 30 matters that are to be presented to the grand jurors for consideration. One of the homicide cases names George Ives, who is accused of shooting Loma Doyle O'Neal to death March 31.

The other is against Jose Lopez, charged with having fatally injured Glora Gomez in a fight March 25.

It is a regular practice to recall the grand jury for a second session at this time of year. The present term is the long term and enough matters always accumulate to require the grand jury to take two cuts at the cases to keep the docket current.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

YOU'LL KNOW WHY SHE DOESN'T FEEL THE BUMPS...WHEN YOU TEST-DRIVE FORD'S NEW $10,000,000 RIDE

The 1963 Ford gives you a ride every bit as smooth as cars costing hundreds more, and for two reasons: a revolutionary new suspension system . . . and added road-hugging weight.

It took ten million dollars to develop the new Ford ride. We designed a revolutionary new suspension system for the '63 Ford. Where ordinary suspensions move only up and down to absorb road shock, the Ford suspension moves backward as well. In this double-action suspension system, coil springs up front and leaf springs in the rear combine to give you firmness in cornering and a special smoothness over the road.

We added weight, strength and stability. The new Ford is now actually hundreds of pounds more car than any other car in its class. This remarkable weight advantage is in the suspension, frame, and body. And, as you know, this added weight means a more stable ride.

But a solid, road-smoothing ride is only part of Ford's total performance story for 1963. Look how Ford swept the field this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control, braking power and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive a Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance . . . total performance.

First Family Elated; Third Child Is Expected In August

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy are expecting their third child in August and are elated.

The vacation White House announced the news Monday and said the First Lady, 33, is in good health but will cancel her official activities.

Thus the President, 45, joins his two younger brothers in the waiting game. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's wife Ethel is expecting their eighth child in June. Joan, wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is awaiting their third in August.

Not since the days of Grover Cleveland has a First Family had such an announcement to make. Cleveland was the father of five. One daughter, Esther, was the first child born to a president in office. She was born in the White House on Sept. 9, 1893.

GOOD HUMOR

The Kennedys have been obviously elated at the prospect of another child and their good humor has been evident during their Easter holiday at this Florida resort community.

With them are their children, Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2.

There had been persistent rumors in recent weeks that Mrs. Kennedy might be pregnant because since late December she has virtually given up her favorite sports of horseback riding and water skiing.

But, when White House press secretary Pierre Salinger announced that he would hold a special 5:30 p.m. news briefing, the press corps speculated on such weighty topics as steel price rises and the President's forthcoming trip to Europe.

It took all by surprise when Salinger read this statement:

"The White House announced today that Mrs. Kennedy is expecting a baby in the latter half of August. Mrs. Kennedy has maintained her full schedule for the past few months. Because of this active schedule, her physicians have now advised her to cancel all her official activities."

EXPECTED TRIP

Among the official activities was Mrs. Kennedy's expected trip with the President to Italy this summer. Since Kennedy took office in 1961, Mrs. Kennedy has accompanied him to seven foreign countries. She also has visited Greece, India, Pakistan, Rome and London on her own and last year spent a summer vacation at Ravello, Italy.

She will spend this summer at Cape Cod with her children. She expects to return to Washington for the birth of the baby which will be delivered by Caesarean section.

The First Lady, who has a history of miscarriages, has obviously been taking it easy in recent months, but her health and condition were reported to be fine.

The principal physician attending her has been Dr. John W. Walsh, a Washington obstetrician who delivered John Jr. when he was born prematurely at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington in the early morning hours of Nov. 25, 1960, the day after Thanksgiving. Kennedy, just elected president but still not in office, rushed back from the start of a Palm Beach vacation.

Caroline was born in New York on Nov. 27, 1957.

FIFTH CAESARIAN

For Mrs. Kennedy, the forthcoming birth will be her fifth Caesarean section.

Both Caroline and John Jr. were delivered by Caesarean. Also Mrs. Kennedy had an emergency Caesarean in 1955 when a baby was born dead a month prematurely.

In August 1956, just after the hectic Democratic National Convention, Mrs. Kennedy suffered an internal hemorrhage and lost a baby due that October.

A spokesman at the Newport, R.I., hospital, where that emergency Caesarean was performed, said it was due to nervous tension and exhaustion following the convention at which Kennedy missed the vice presidential nomination by just 36 votes.

For the first time in their 10 years of marriage, President and Mrs. Kennedy embarked this year on building a home of their own—a weekend ranch-style retreat in the hunt country near Atoka, Va. Although the place is nearing completion, it appears Mrs. Kennedy will get little immediate use of the hideaway which she personally planned with great care.

LEASED HOUSE

In April, it was announced the Kennedys had leased a rambling, gray-shingled house called "Brambletyde" at Squaw Island, near Hyannis Port, Mass., for the summer.

It is close to homes of other members of the President's family.

A house the President has in the Kennedy family compound on the ocean at Hyannis Port was no longer considered large enough for use as a home and office.

Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy will stay on in Palm Beach another week after the President returns to Washington Wednesday. She plans to go to Cape Cod in May.

On July 28, she will observe her 34th birthday. Kennedy will be 46 May 29.

The expected three summer births will bring to 23 the number of grandchildren for the parents of the presidential clan, former Ambassador to England and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy.

Western Areas Wet And Cool

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms and strong southerly winds swept areas east of the Rockies into the Midwest and southward to Texas today and more cool, wet weather hit western sections.

There were no major wet belts in the eastern half of the nation where warmer weather headed into most areas except extreme sections in the Northeast and Southeast.

Wind gusts Monday reached 85 m.p.h. in parts of Colorado and up to 65 m.p.h. across areas of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, the Dakotas and Minnesota. The strong winds stirred up dust storms, cutting visibility, and toppled trees and power lines in some areas. Tornadic winds wrecked a few buildings in Sidney and Kearney, Neb.

Warm moist air continued to advance northward up the Mississippi Valley and the Plains region with temperatures in the 50s and 60s in the early morning.

It was chilly in the northern Rockies to the southern Plateau with temperatures in the 30s and lower extending into mountain regions of northern Arizona. The 30s also prevailed in the lower Great Lakes and northern New England.

Warmest spots were southern Florida, the desert Southwest and the middle and lower Mississippi Valley with readings in the 60s and higher.

Site Of Clash Normal Again

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — The nearby town of Sabinas Hidalgo has returned to normal again after a weekend clash between anti-Communists and about 500 youths of the national liberation movement.

The disturbance was set off as youths from several towns and villages in the state of Nuevo Leon, joined by delegates of the leftist party from Mexico City, waved Soviet flags.

As Soviet flags waved, leaders read messages from muralist Alfaro Siqueiros and Demetrio Vallejo, a rail union leader who was arrested several years ago for inciting a nationwide strike. Both are in prison.

Members of the regional anti-Communist crusade attacked the gathering. Twelve persons were injured. Police arrested several of the Communist leaders but later released them.

The anti - Communists burned Russian flags and posters of Fidel Castro, Nikita Khrushchev and Mao Tse-Tung.

Negro L.A. Postmaster

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leslie N. Shaw was sworn in Monday as acting postmaster of Los Angeles, first Negro to head postal operations in a major city.

More than 700 persons watched Sen. Claire Engle, D-Calif., administer the oath of office to Shaw, 40, formerly a real estate man, who succeeds retiring Otto K. Olesen.

Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., told the group: "The (California) congressional delegation considered only one thing when it came time to recommend a new postmaster—we wanted to know if he had the qualifications. At no time were we concerned with the question of making history. It's all very well to make history but we wanted to see that the mail got delivered on time."

In today's hand, declarer managed to salvage a vulnerable game contract by combining his prospects. Altho his play in one suit was not successful, he was able to use it as a vehicle to achieve his goal in the other suit.

The first round of bidding appears normal and, when South carried on to game in spades, East elected to take a save at five clubs. He reasoned that, with the vulnerability in his favor, a set of as many as three tricks would still afford a saving over the opposition game which appeared unbeatable. South was himself convinced that East had negotiated a profitable sacrifice, and he persisted to five spades in an effort to preserve the game bonus for his side.

West opened the king of clubs which was ruffed in the closed hand. Inasmuch as two diamond losers appeared almost inevitable, the contract seemed to hinge on picking up the king of trumps. With 10 spades in the combined hands, the superior percentage play is to finesse. South saw a way to improve his chances slightly, however.

At trick two he played the ace of spades. Even tho the king did not fall, South was by no means discouraged, for he had a second string to his bow. A heart was led next to the dummy's king so that the last club could be ruffed out. Declarer now cashed his two remaining hearts. On the third round, West discarded a club, but a spade put him in with the king.

In order to avoid giving South a ruff and sluff, West shifted to the jack of diamonds. Declarer permitted this to ride around to the king in his hand. Next came the nine of diamonds which was covered in turn by the ten, queen, and ace. South's eight of diamonds was now established as the master card in the suit, and the defenders were limited to one spade and one diamond.

Long Haul Up

Large items of equipment to be installed on the seventh floor of the Veterans Administration Hospital were lifted to the roof of the hospital this morning. They are part of the machinery for the $537,725-air conditioning project now about 50 per cent complete. The chill water and pre-heat coils are too large to be taken up the elevator, Homer D. White, resident engineer, said. The work is on schedule and should be completed before the summer is far along.

Annexation Bill Okayed For Debate

AUSTIN (AP)—A Senate committee approved for debate today an amended House version of a city annexation bill.

The House passed a measure last month after four days of debate.

The bill would let cities set up buffer zones from ½ to 5 miles around present city limits, depending on population. Then cities could annex up to 10 per cent of their land area each year from these zones.

One major change made by the Senate Cities, Counties and Towns Committee provides that the cities can use present population estimates, instead of the last census.

The Senate committee said "many cities are growing so rapidly that the federal census is drastically out of date the year after its publication."

Cities are not now limited to the size of area they can annex during any period of time.

The measure seeks to control the annexation powers and sets out the services which must be provided by the city to an area which is annexed.

The Senate committee released a comparison of the House - approved measure, and its amended version.

The comparison said the Senate version allows cities to regulate plats and the subdivision of land in their buffer zones. The House called for the city to regulate health, sanitation and welfare in the areas.

Webb Slates Vendor's Day

The third annual Webb AFB Vendors Day will be held Wednesday. Most of the activity will be in the Academics Building (Bldg. 350), beginning with registration at 8 a.m.

Registration ends at 9 a.m. and visiting contractors and suppliers will be welcomed by base commander, Col. W. H. Banks. Maj. Harry C. Hon will talk to the group after which a film, "The Base Procurement Story," will be shown. After a coffee break, Airman 1.C. Tom Madson, procurement specialist, will speak on Air Force negotiations.

Guest speaker will be George Koury, Dallas Small Business Administration Office. Koury formerly worked in the Department of Air Force in the Dallas Contract Management District. A question and answer period will be held and activities will close at 11:40.

A 50-minute tour of the base will be given the visiting salesmen and contractors and the day will come to a close with a "dutch treat" lunch at the Officers Open Mess.

Vendors Day is set aside for contractors and suppliers who do business with the base and invitations have gone out to those within a 200-mile radius of Webb. More than 13 million is spent by the Air Force here on local purchases in contracts and business with West Texas vendors.

County Jury Trial Begins

A Howard County Court jury was being qualified at noon today to try Trinidad Arsiaga, charged with unlawful possession of barbiturates.

Arsiaga is the first defendant to face court on the current criminal docket. The trial was slated to begin at 11 a.m. but was delayed until 11:30 while the defense presented a motion to quash the information. Judge Lee Porter overruled the motion and the jury panel was paraded into court for questioning.

No cases are set for trial Wednesday. Two are scheduled for trial Thursday. They are cases against William Roberts, carrying arms, and Joseph T. Mattingly, DWI.

One case is set for Friday—Trinidad Torres, shoplifting.

Judge Porter was delayed in opening the county court session by having to attend the regular monthly sanity hearings at the Big Spring State Hospital.

What Is This Idea About Low Taxes, High Economy

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The $10-billion question staring President Kennedy in the eye today is whether he is right in saying a cut in taxes will stimulate the economy of the United States.

If he is proven wrong, his tax proposals could boomerang next year when he comes up for re-election.

In January, the President said, "The performance of the economy in 1962 fell below our expectations." He proposed, as the allegedly golden pep-pill, a net reduction of $10 billion in taxes.

Presumably, if Americans have more money to spend, as a result of lowered taxes, they will use it to buy something, thus starting a chain reaction — more demand, more production, more jobs, greater national income, more rapid economic growth.

Economists, businessmen and legislators disagree sharply over the probable effects of Kennedy's proposals. The only sure thing, apparently, is that nobody can be sure.

MAIN REACTIONS

Nationwide surveys of man-in-the-street opinion, taken by The Associated Press, indicate three principal reactions:

1. Not everyone, finding some extra take-home pay in his envelope, will rush right out and spend it. Only about a third of those interviewed replied they would buy something with it.

2. Many, especially businessmen, expressed uneasiness about continued deficit spending in Washington. They say they are against cutting taxes without cutting government expenditures.

3. The majority of persons questioned are confused by the whole business.

These are only spot checks. They may or may not reflect the opinion of the majority of Americans. Moreover, what people say today and what they will do, if or when they get the extra money, may not be the same thing.

WILL IT WORK?

AP correspondents asked businessmen whether they think the tax cut will stimulate the economy.

"If it goes through percentagewise," said a Detroit banker, "it would have very little effect on the economy. It would increase spending, yes, but not appreciably."

Another John Kennedy, president of a Chicago electronics firm, said the cuts should be in corporation taxes, providing more capital for expansion of new product development. "This will expand the pressures which create new markets and, in turn, a higher gross national product. The big unknown is how much. On paper, it looks good."

Said a Texas banker, "No, I don't think it will unless we quit the deficit spending."

Lost in the clamor is another factor—state and local taxes. They totaled $11 billion in 1946, $42 billion in 1961. For many Americans this year, these taxes may more than cancel the proposed relief in federal taxes.

KEY QUESTIONS

Let's consider some key questions.

Q. When Kennedy says the economy is sluggish, does this mean business is bad?

A. No. Most barometers are pointing upward. Retail sales for the first three weeks of 1963 averaged 11 per cent higher than a year earlier, for example. New construction, an extremely important factor in the total economy, showed a 5.9 per cent gain. There are others.

Q. Then where is the sluggishness?

A. In three sectors. One, unemployment still sticks around a figure of 4.5 million. Two, our economy is expanding at an annual rate of only about 3 per cent—more slowly than the Common Market nations, and much more slowly than Japan's. Three, we still have an uncomfortable deficit in the balance of payments, which means simply that more money is leaving the United States than is coming in.

MULTIPLIER FACTOR

Q. How will increasing purchasing power, with a tax cut, contribute to dynamic growth?

A. Some economists (but by no means all) believe in what is known as the "multiplier factor." They say each new dollar of purchasing power multiplies itself by about 30 per cent in eventual tax revenue. Thus, the $10-billion tax break—that amount of new purchasing power—would eventually return to the Treasury in the form of around $30 billion in revenue.

Q. Why should it?

A. Because, theoretically, the nation's total income would rise, proportionately. If increased demand brings higher wages to you, and higher profits to business—and puts more people to work—then the Treasury's tax take will be higher even though taxes are lower.

Q. It all sounds great. Why the controversy?

A. Kennedy's critics advance three principal arguments — that his program won't pep up the economy, that it is dangerous to increase the national debt, and that his is a "political budget," designed to win votes among the millions of Americans in the lower income brackets.

THE DETAILS

Q. What are the details of each?

A. On the first, they say, "You can't spend your way to prosperity. It didn't work during the depression and it won't work now." What the economy needs, they say, is less welfare and more incentive. They advocate a tax pattern that will encourage Americans to work harder and earn more, and will leave business with a larger share of its earnings.

Q. On the second argument: How can the government go on, getting deeper in the red? How is it different from a business firm?

A. This boils down to a basic disagreement on economic philosophy in government. People explain it in different ways.

For example, President Franklin D. Roosevelt once said, "What's the difference? After all, we owe it to ourselves." So, in that view, the American government can go on borrowing indefinitely from the American people.

On Jan. 24, Kennedy said the national budget would be in balance today but for federal aid to hard-pressed states. So, auditing this way, nearly $10 billion isn't really a deficit. It's simply a transfer of funds from one set of books to some others.

Also, there are several federal budgets, administrative, cash, and so on. Some economists count four or five in all. Economists clearly do not agree as to which budget accurately reflects the deficit.

BYRD'S VIEW

Q. Isn't it simply a question of income versus outgo?

A. "Emphatically, yes," says Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He points out that the budget has not been balanced in 25 of the past 31 years. The unbalanced budget is anathema to Byrd, and he gets very wrathy over sophisticated figuring that makes the debt disappear.

Q. Now, what about the claim that Kennedy's tax proposals are political?

A. About four-fifths of the total income tax revenue is paid by Americans in the lowest income tax brackets—because there are millions more of them than persons in the middle and upper brackets. A tax cut is popular with everybody.

Kennedy's critics say his tax program is cleverly contrived to offer something to everybody, but that he doesn't really expect Congress to pass all of it. "It's 99 per cent politics," says Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., ranking GOP member of the Senate Finance Committee. "I don't believe he's really in earnest."

THE OUTLOOK

Q. Then what's the outlook in Congress for the program?

A. Different legislators have different ideas as to the most desirable form of tax reorganization. The battle probably will be loud and long.

NEWS BRIEFS

AUSTIN (AP)—Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell presents to the grand jury today information about former Railroad Commissioner William Murray Jr.

Murray resigned from the oil regulatory board last week after the disclosure of a 1958-60 North Texas oil venture on which Murray said he made a "nice profit". He went on the commission in 1947.

Murray said when he resigned that he welcomes a grand jury study of his actions as a commissioner.

Dr. Claunch Will Speak In Management Seminar

The fourth of five programs of a management seminar being conducted at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital begins at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. John M. Claunch, dean of Dallas College of Southern Methodist University, will be guest speaker for this phase of the seminar. He will speak on "Morale and Job Satisfaction."

Other speakers for the administration lecture program have Dr. Harold Weiss, Dr. A. Q. Sartain and Dr. Alton Baker, all members of the SMU faculty.

A former member of the Texas Legislature, Dr. Claunch was recently appointed by the governor as a member of the Texas Commission on city and county governments. He is the author of a book on county government and is a well-known consultant in the field of state and local government. During World War II he served as educational officer for the Army Air Force Training Command.

Dr. JOHN M. CLAUNCH

Dr. Claunch is now chairman of the department of government at SMU.

He completed his undergraduate work at Stephen F. Austin College and Louisiana State University. Dr. Claunch did graduate work at Peabody Graduate School, the University of North Carolina and the University of Texas.

Attendance at previous sessions of the management seminar has averaged about 40 persons, including members of the VA Hospital staff. Local businesses have been invited to send their administrative personnel to the lectures. Sessions are held in the recreation room on the second floor of the hospital.

Injured Man Recuperating

Cecil Keith Williams, 40, of 1403 W. 2nd, was reported by his family to be resting comfortably this morning, after an uncomfortable night in the Cowper Clinic-Hospital following injuries received Monday in a two-car accident. He was driver of a vehicle involved in a collision with another car driven by Doreen L. Robertson, 1610 Bluebonnet, shortly after 11 a.m. Monday at Third and Scurry.

His injuries were painful but not considered serious after X-rays were made at the hospital, although he complained of head pains.

Mrs. Robertson was taken to the same hospital and treated for minor injuries and released.

One other traffic accident was investigated by Big Spring police Monday. Catharine M. Williams, 906 Birdwell, and John R. Lootens, 1316 Park, were drivers of vehicles involved in a collision at Fourteenth and Austin.

Mrs. Edith Morgan, 429 Dallas, was taken to Webb AFB hospital in a base ambulance about 8:45 p.m. Monday, suffering from a cut on her foot at the Montgomery Ward Store. Her condition was reported as not serious.

Pakistan Ired

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto said Monday night Pakistan may have to "abandon friends and allies" if the Western powers continue massive long-term military aid to India without getting a solution of the Kashmir dispute.

OIL REPORT

Strawn Discovery Filed In Southwestern Martin

Cities Service has completed No. 1-B Nail as a Strawn discovery about seven miles northeast of Midland in the southwest part of Martin County.

The oiler flowed 311.69 barrels of 42-gravity oil, plus 18 barrels of water, on initial 24-hour potential. Choke was 24-64-inch. The gas-oil ratio was 1,225-1 and flowing tubing pressures were 750-600 pounds. Strawn perforations are between 10,596-600 feet. The zone was treated three times, once with 500 gallons of acid, later with 2,000 gallons of acid and again with 5,000 gallons.

Location is C NW SW, section 3-38-1s, T&P survey. The hole is bottomed at 12,290 feet and has been plugged back to 10,650 feet.

Offset Has New Oil

The offset to the No. 1-C Howard Fee, Texaco's project which opened Clear Fork production in the Snyder field, has pumped 48 barrels of new oil and 179 barrels of formation water in 72 hours. It is Texaco No. 2-C Howard Fee.

Operator has been testing a section between 2,932-178 feet. The project is bottomed at 3,300 feet in lime.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 560 feet from the east lines of section 43-30-1s, T&P survey, about 14 miles east of Big Spring.

Tests Negative

Texas Crude No. 1-253 Knox, indicated Devonian discovery in northwest Martin County, returned only mud on two drillstem tests taken on an unreported formation below the Devonian oil shows.

Operator tested from 12,074-101 feet with recovery of 120 feet of drilling mud. Tool was open two hours. There was a very weak blow for one minute before it died. Initial and final shutin pressures were 4,970-4,340 pounds. Flow pressures were 20-90 pounds.

From a section between 12,104-150 feet, operator recovered 96 feet of salt-water-cut mud and 1,600 feet of salty sulphur water. There was a weak blow five minutes after tool was opened. It remained throughout the test. Shut-in pressures were 5,210 - 5,035 pounds and flow pressures were 110-635 pounds.

Production was indicated earlier from a section of the Devonian between 11,944-12,001 feet, which returned 346 feet of free oil on drillstem tests.

The prospector spots C SW SE, section 18-34-3n, T&P survey.

Another Martin County project, Chambers and Kennedy No. 1 Wade, C SE SE, labor 3-260, Borden CSL survey, is drilling below 3,259 feet in salt and anhydrite.

Gas Strike Finals

Texas American Oil Corp. No. 1 Henderson, southwest Crockett County wildcat about 20 miles southwest of Ozona, has been completed as a Canyon sand gas-condensate discovery.

It is four miles southwest of the nearest production from that horizon. The well reported a calculated, absolute open flow potential of 5.6 million cubic feet of gas daily, plus 75 barrels of 64.8-gravity condensate per million cubic feet of gas.

Production is from a series of perforations between 6,200 - 568 feet. The zone was treated with 2,000 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 70,000 gallons.

It is 990 feet from the south and east lines of section 9, TCRR survey, abstract 3,922.

Melton Sets Three

M. L. Melton has filed three new locations in the Turner-Gregory (Clear Fork) field in Mitchell County. All are slated to bottom at 3,000 feet by rotary tool and are about 7½ miles northwest of Westbrook.

No. 2 Sweatt spots 853 feet from the south and 1,797 feet from the east lines of section 23-29-1n, T&P survey.

In the same section is No. 1 Morrison, spotting 467 feet from the north and 1,787 feet from the east lines.

No. 2 Pond is spotted 467 feet from the south and 1,667 feet from the east lines of section 27-29-1n, T&P survey.

COMPLETIONS

DAWSON

Cities Service No. 45-6 West Welch Unit pumped 41 barrels of 34-gravity oil, with 30 per cent water, on initial potential in the Welch (San Andres) field. Location is 1,880 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of section 88-M, EL&RR survey. Production was from an open hole section between 4,888-975 feet which had been acidized with 5,000 gallons. Elevation is 3,150 feet, total depth is 4,975 feet, pay was topped at 4,888 feet and operator set 4½-inch casing at 4,888 feet. The well is on a 10,720-acre lease about five miles southwest of Welch.

MARTIN

Murphy H. Baxter No. 1 Shockley was completed for small production in the Spraberry Trend Area about two miles west of Knott and two miles east of the Trend Area. It made 14 barrels of 36-gravity oil, with 60 per cent water and a gas-oil ratio of 941-1, on initial pumping potential. The pay topped at 7,644 feet was fraced with 40,000 gallons through perforations between 7,644-72 feet. Elevation is 2,615 feet, total depth is 7,750 feet, and 4½-inch casing is at 7,740 feet. Location is C SE, section 9-34-2n, T&P survey.

LODGING BECOMES HOME

In Hotels, Motels And Inns

The home away from home—hotel, motel or inn—is getting so cozy you could tack a "there's no place like home" sign on the wall and it wouldn't look out of place.

This is because more and more designers whose original training was in the home are turning to commercial work, explains Ellen McCluskey, well-known interior designer.

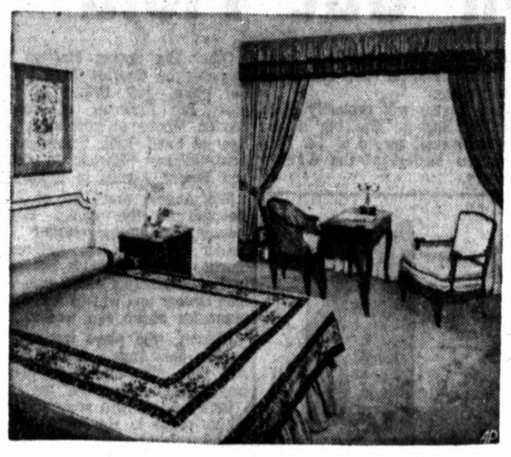

"Besides bringing with them a knowledge of maintenance and costs they've learned in the home, they think about how people will look in the background they are designing," she explains. "And they take back some practical ideas to the home from their commercial ventures."

PARK AVENUE

Mrs. McCluskey has just brought that homey look to the interior of an elegant new 21-story transient hotel, the first to be built on Park Avenue in 30 years. Ideas that would be at home on Main Street or Cottage Row have found their way into the new Regency, even though red velvet and crystal are in the lobby.

Though the hotel is planned in the Regence period, a style that retains certain characteristics of Louis XIV and Louis XV, Mrs. McCluskey took many liberties with it, she says. Modern innovations are blended.

There are Spanish and Portuguese rugs, damasks laminated to corduroys used on walls, pickled oak paneling in meeting rooms. Doors to guest rooms are a vivid red with white trim. Corridor walls are covered in washable vinylized ticking. There are queen-size (60-inch) beds in many rooms.

Homey Hotel

The room has a black lacquer desk, white and gold bed and blue cotton spread and draperies which have wide French borders of blue, gold and black.

LIGHTING

"The importance of good lighting is something every designer brings home from commercial work. Dimmers are necessary over dining tables, and light should be adjusted all around a room.

Other ideas that may be used in the home include:

When using vinyl or other floor coverings, put the design in center to give more width to the room. (She did this with marble.)

If there are unsightly beams in a room, such as a dining room or foyer, use a tent arrangement of fabric to conceal them. (She did a tent of ticking in a private dining room but fiber glass or cotton taffeta could be used. Mitre the center, she says.)

If you have lots of little pictures for your bedroom, it's best to place them all together over the bed, instead of scattering them around the room.

Move your phone to a desk so you won't have to run away for a memo pad. (She puts a desk between two beds, more practical than a night table, she says.)

Make a sizable bedroom cozier by making a sitting area at one end of the room, using a glass-top coffee table which will appear smaller than it is.

BEDSPREADS

When choosing bedspreads remember that people say nobody will sit on their beds, but they always do.

She used white and gold beds, table desks of black lacquer, marble-topped tables and dust ruffles on beds," so they wouldn't look ugly when the spread is removed."

Yellow walls are a background for a blue cotton spread trimmed with a white French border of blue, gold and black, the same border on dust ruffle and draperies. An old-fashioned antique satin in a solid color is used with a floral-patterned dust ruffle, the Another combination is white cotsame fabric used in two chairs. ton with a dark red stripe. In one compact bedroom adjoining a sitting or meeting room, she makes the room appear larger by using a wallpaper print on two walls, beds and draperies with a large mirror facing the beds.

Pinkertons Gather For Reunion

Mrs. Emily Pinkerton was honored Sunday during a family reunion and picnic held at the Big Spring Park.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pinkerton, Mr. and Mrs. David Pinkerton, Mr. and Mrs. Hughey Warner and Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Pinkerton and children, Judy and Wayne, all of Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reed and son, Elton and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fickling and son, Terry, of Big Spring; Mrs. S. A. Foster and Mrs. C. L. Schuelke and daughters, Karen and Rhonda, of Bellaire; and Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and children, Buddy, David and Jimmy of Lubbock.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Pinkerton and children, Tommy and Rita, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Pinkerton and children, Danny, Suzy, Jo and Sandra, Shirley Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson and Shandall, Carlos and Debby Martin, all of Midland.

Those from out of town were guests in Stanton and in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reed, Big Spring.

International Wives' Meet

Britishers, Mrs. Clyde Cox and Mrs. Vincent Broadwater, were hostesses when the International Wives' Club met Monday evening at the John H. Lees Service Club, Webb Air Force Base.

Welcomed as a new member was Miss Moira Henry, recently arrived from Scotland.

During a social hour, games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Al Valdes and Mrs. Cox. The door prize was awarded to Mrs. James Fagan.

New secret pal names were drawn for the following club year.

Mrs. Eldon Hager stressed that the club is not limited to military dependants; that any woman living in this area who is from a foreign country is welcome to join the group. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Hager at AM 4-5735.

West Texans Attend Synod Sessions

The 39th Convention of the Texas District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod is being held at Concordia Junior College in Austin this week, with Walter Heidemann representing St. Paul Lutheran Church as its lay voting delegate, according to the Rev. Clair Wiederhoft, pastor of the local congregation.

Delegates represent 357 Texas congregations. Pastors, delegates and alternates from the nine congregations of circuit three of the West Texas zone left Monday morning for the convention.

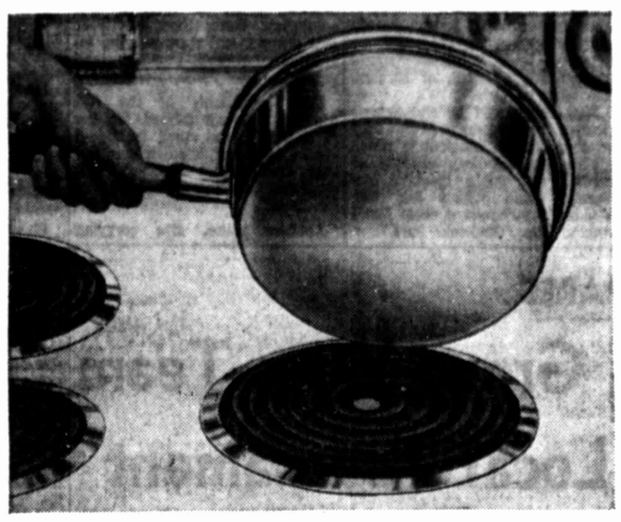

Guest speaker will be the Rev. Oliver R. Harms, D.D., president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. Today through Friday he will address the convention on the work of the church at large.

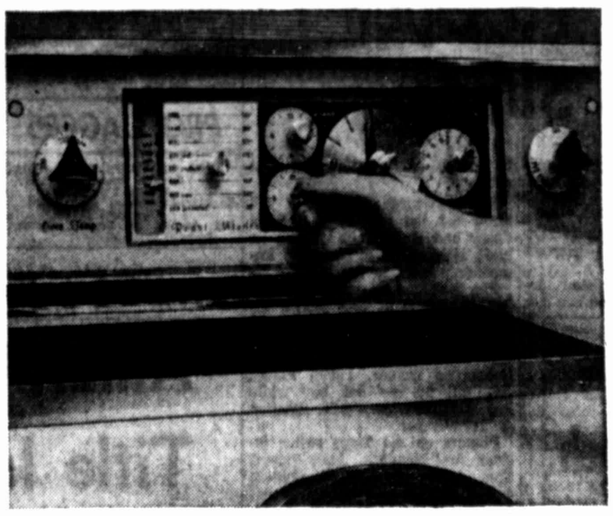

An essay again will be presented for the spiritual indoctrination of convention delegates and guests. Essayist will be the Rev. Graf, professor of systematic theology, Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill., who will speak on "The Doctrine of the Ministry and Its Modern Implications."

Women who cook electrically know . . .

Electric cooking SAVES WORK because it's flameless

There's less work keeping your kitchen clean when you cook with flameless electricity. An electric range makes this chore easier because it cooks with heat as clean as electric light. There's no fuel grime to soil pots and pans or settle on kitchen walls and curtains. Your kitchen stays bright and new-looking with a minimum of washing and care.

Flameless automatic electric cooking cuts down on needless hours of watching pots and clocks. With an automatic electric range, you just set the time and temperature controls and a complete oven meal cooks to perfection, unattended. And with the automatic electric surface unit, cooking temperatures remain constant, eliminating the need for pot-watching.

COOKS RINGS AROUND THE REST

Electric cooking also is fast, cool, accurate and economical. See your dealer and change now to a 1963 flameless electric range. Electric cooking is one of the nicest things about living better . . . electrically.

Early Lead Fizzles, NY Mets Lose, 4-3

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets lost again, but there's no PANIC! It's more like !CINAP.

There's no other way to spell it out for a team that is continually moving backward.

The Mets moved forward for 8 2-3 innings plus two strikes Monday, then Lee Maye shoved them backward by shoving his bat in front of a fat pitch for a two-run homer that gave Milwaukee a 4-3 victory in the only game played in the majors.

From 72-year-old Casey Stengel, the grizzled, backward-speaking manager, to 18-year-old Ed Kranepool, the rookie outfielder, the loss was a morale-mauler, bringing back the memory of last year's dismal start that never ended.

Against the Braves the Mets massed their heaviest artillery and boomed out 12 hits, they committed only one error, they led going into the ninth, they were one strike away from victory when Tracy Stallard fired to Maye.

Stallard, it is remembered, has been through some of this before. He's the pitcher who served up home run. No. 61 to Roger Maris.

The defeat left the Mets with an 0-6 record, dropping them 4½ games back of the National League leaders. They are, naturally and uncomfortably, situated in the cellar.

They're still three defeats away from duplicating last year's opening nine-game losing string and they're still 11 defeats from matching their record 17-game losing streak, but they won't come any closer to digesting victory without tasting it.

Shutout for six innings by Bob Shaw, the Mets struck back in the seventh — and everything worked. Tim Harkness and Ted Schreiber started going with singes.

Stengel went to his bench. Marv Throneberry came up — and singled. Stengel went back to his bench. Cliff Cook came up—and singled. Each pinch hit drove in a run.

In the eight, the Mets snapped the tie on singles by Kranepool and Duke Snider, a walk to Jim Hickman and a sacrifice fly by Harkness.

Unfortunately they had to play the ninth. Stallard, working in relief of starter Al Jackson, got Ed Mathews and Joe Torre to open the inning. One out to go. Stallard got ahead of Maye 1-2. One strike to go.

Then Maye struck.

The Mets will try again tonight at Cincinnati.

National League champion San Francisco finally gets to play its home opener, against Houston, and the Los Angeles Dodgers raise the curtain in their own park against the Chicago Cubs. Pittsburgh will be at St. Louis and Philadelphia at Milwaukee on a full schedule.

In the American League, Chicago and Boston hold their home openers, the White Sox meeting Kansas City and the Red Sox taking on Baltimore. Detroit will be at New York, Los Angeles at Minnesota and Washington at Cleveland.

Mentor Scorches Boston Writers

BOSTON (AP)—That unique pressure-cooker — playoff basketball—has calm Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus fuming and fiery Red Auerbach of Boston praying as a prelude to tonight's second game in the National Basketball Association championship series.

The Celtics, seeking an unprecedented fifth straight title, went one-up in the best-of-7 set with a 117-114 victory Sunday night.

The Lakers are bent on reversing the 1962 finish when the Celtics edged them in overtime of the seventh and deciding contest.

While Los Angeles held a drill Monday, sports writer Bill McSweeney of the Boston Record-American reported Schaus flared:

"Now I know why Ted Williams hated this town. You Boston sports writers are a bunch of homers. The town is bush."

McSweeney said he and Schaus clashed over a story McSweeney wrote about the accident in which rookie John Havlicek suffered an injured left ankle Sunday. McSweeney said Schaus told him Monday "you make it seem like I wanted him (Havlicek) hurt."

Steers, San Angelo Clash On Cat Field

The Big Spring Steers go to San Angelo today for a 4 p.m. baseball joust with the pace-setting San Angelo Bobcats.

Big Spring has won only one of six league starts and needs a win today to escape the league cellar.

San Angelo has dropped only one of six assignments and looks like the class of the circuit at this writing.

Jack Roden will probably pitch for Big Spring. The big senior has an overall record of 4-4. He's been the busiest of the Steer pitchers.

Other Big Spring starters will probably be Charley West behind the plate, Jeff Brown at first base, Bill Andrews at second, Baxter Moore at shortstop, Roy New at third, Rick Peters in left field, Rickey Wisener in center and Buster Barnes in right.

San Angelo won't be at full strength for the game. Ronnie Henson, left-handed hitting outfielder for the Cats, suffered a hairline fracture of his left wrist in last Saturday's game with Abilene Cooper and will be lost to the team for about two weeks.

Henson, who plays quarterback on the San Angelo football team and is a star basketball player, was hitting cleanup for the Cats.

Henry Green will probably start in his place in right field. Other San Angelo starters will probably be Scotty Chastain on the mound, Minton White in left field, Paul White at first base, Ronnie Hart behind the plate, Bob Hetrick at shortstop, Larry Loudamy at second, Norm Schuessler in center field and Marshall White at third base.

Chastain has a 4-1 record for the year and combines with Minton White to give the Bobcats excellent pitching.

The Steers, 9-13 on the year, come home Saturday to tangle with Midland Lee.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue:

GIL McDOUGALD, former New York Yankee, whose line drive injured Herb Score, then of Cleveland and who quit baseball recently, only to return four days later:

McDOUGALD

"Herb has certainly has his share of hard luck. He was the greatest, I guess, as fast or faster than any pitcher I've ever seen. And he had a great curve, too. I've been asked about the incident at every banquet. How many different ways can you answer it. I try to tell them you don't have any control over where the ball goes once you hit it. I think I ran halfway to first base, then stopped when I saw him crumple. He never got his glove up, it happened so fast. I faced him in a game after he came back, and I think he became a little shell-shocked and didn't throw his natural way. It's a real tragedy."

* * * *

DENNIS RALSTON, the tennis star:

"You'd be surprised how more popular I am with top officials now that I have won the National Indoor Championship. But don't think I'm cynical. I probably deserved the punishment I got. I certainly won't repeat my mistakes."

* * * *

Jockey DEAN HALL:

"In school I couldn't compete in the better sports because of my size. But after I began riding I overcame my inferiority complex. It never was difficult to get dates. The only time it was a disadvantage to be short was in the service. I had to carry the same pack as the big guys."

* * * *

BOB HOPE:

"I use Arnold Palmer golf clubs, Arnold Palmer balls, wear Arnold Palmer shoes, shirts and pants and smoke the same cigarettes Arnold Palmer does. So who do I play golf like? — Betsy Palmer."

* * * *

DR. MAL STEVENS, medical researcher for the New York State Athletic Commission:

"I doubt the public would stand for bare-knockle bouts. Yet I feel we should experiment with bare fists. I believe we should experiment with 24-ounce pillow as gloves, too. We can't be sure about such things without actual experiments in the ring of the ideas our medical research provides."

* * * *

AL LOPEZ, manager of the Chicago White Sox:

"It is my honest opinion that Hoyt Wilhelm will add 30 per cent to the efficiency of our pitching staff. He's the best knuckle ball pitcher I ever saw."

* * * *

SOL SILVERMAN, California boxing official:

"Boxers need a better break, tax-wise. Their earning years are limited. Oil companies are allowed to write off deterioration of underground wells. Why shouldn't fighters be allowed the same privilege? With an annuity insurance and money in the bank, they'd be less susceptible to temptations . . . Boxing is a total exercise involving every muscle in the body. It's more than that. It's a reflection on modern education . . . Boxing is going to persist so long as small boys tangle with their fists over possession of a piece of candy. When they get a little older, boys will fight like tigers, if only to impress a 15-year-old girl. There is no stopping them. What we want is control of a basic instinct . . . Fighters are journeyman artisans, proud of their craft, whatever else you may think . . . I notice pugilists cut and bleed rather easily these days. Maybe its because of a lack of fresh meats and vegetables. . . . This generation is too much concerned with a sense of ease. Whatever happened to exertion?"

U.S. Pan-Am Delegates Start Trip To Brazil

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The biggest, if not the best, athletic contingent Uncle Sam has ever sent abroad, will start winging tonight for the fourth Pan American games in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Final processing of the 368-competitor array tabbed for the 21 sports in the April 20-May 5 games was completed only a few hours before the first of three chartered planeloads was to leave for Brazil.

Another plane, also carrying 147 athletes and officials, takes off from Miami Wednesday night and the final same-sized batch, including the 40-member men's track and field squad, leaves Thursday night.

Since Monday morning, the 275 men and 93 women contestants have been reporting at the processing center in an oceanfront hotel getting travel papers cleared, undergoing medical tests and receiving official team apparel.

In the last Pan-Am games, at Chicago in 1959, the United States forces grabbed 120 first places of a possible 162, and took 73 seconds and 53 thirds in 25 sports.

At Sao Paulo, the American medal-capturing pace is destined to slacken, mainly because the Pan-Am organizing committee has set a two entry limit for each individual event in the premier sports of track and swimming, instead of three.

Only one U.S. defending champion returns in track, hammer thrower Al Hall. But while lacking the luster of the squad America will send to the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo, this group again has the potency to win as it pleases at Pacaembu Stadium.

J. Lyman Bingham, executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said he saw no imprint of the long-standing AAU-NCAA feud in the caliber of this nation's Pan-American squad.

"We may not have the best squad possible, but it certainly is a strong one," said Bingham. "We have lost a number of collegiate performers, but mainly because of classroom pressures."

Y SOFTBALL PARLEY SET

Managers of all softball teams in the city are being asked to gather at the YMCA at 8:30 o'clock this evening, at which time assigments for the City Park diamond will be worked out.

Y officials have been asked by the City to take on the responsibility of assigning the use of the park each night.

Ackerly Athlete Retains Record

Bryan Adams of Ackerly High School (now Sands), still holds the Region Class B record in the half mile run.

He established the mark in 1959 at Lubbock, at which time he covered the distance in 2:02.4.

WEEB EWBANK

Ewbank Named Coach Of Jets

NEW YORK (AP)—"I've seen sicker cows than this get well," said Weeb Ewbank of his new charges, the New York Jets—nee Titans—of the American Football League.

Ewbank, who turned a "sick cow" into a championship team at Baltimore and then was fired after a nine-year stay, became the coach and general manager of the re-named Jets Monday. The announcement was a formality for the story had leaked into the papapers a day earlier.

The new owners of the Jets, a five-man group headed by Sonny Weblin, president of Music Corporation of America and a director of Monmouth Race Track, are attempting to wipe out the last reminder of the sad sack Titans. They bought the bankrupt club from Harry Wismer last month for $1 million. The signing of Ewbank to a three-year contract for a reported $100,000 was their first big move.

"I have seen a couple of movies of the club last year," said Ewbank. "I don't know a lot about the players. But I don't think they are any worse than the Colts when I took over (after a 3-9 season in 1953). I'll feel right at home. I'm used to challenges. We won't panic. It will take time to sit down and analyze our problems.

"In Baltimore I said it would take five years to make a contender. We took five years and eight minutes (referring to the Colts' overtime victory over the New York Giants in 1958). Our aim is to beat the record of the Colts."

Ewbank, a chunky man of 55 years with an enthusiastic outlook on life, knows he faces many problems. He is aware that the old owners did not sign a single draft choice last fall. He also knows the club had a 5-9 record and finished last in its division.

Tigers To Open Season Sunday

The Big Spring Tigers, who have been a going concern longer than any other sandlot baseball team in the state, open their 1963 season in Steer Park at 2:30 p.m. Sunday against Colorado City.

New uniforms have been ordered for the Bengals and are due to arrive in time for the first game.

Mayor George Zachariah will throw out the first ball. Fathers Casey and McDermott will be on hand to give their blessings immediately prior to the game.

Pat Martinez Sr., will serve as field manager of this year's Tiger team while Tom Arista will serve as general manager, Jimmy Fierro field manager and Leo Gomez as trainer. Loven Florez Jr., will be the bat boy while Pat Martinez Jr., will function as scorekeeper.

Players on the Tiger roster include Asa Mendoza, Juan Florez, Tom Arista Jr., David Holguin and R. De La Garza, outfielders; D. Collyer, M. Sarmiento, J. Limon, Jimmy Fierro, Joe Martinez, C. Boadle and W. Perez, infielders; Robert Dutchover, Billy Weatherall and Nino Paredez, catchers; and Jimmy Roger, Horace Yanez, Tommy Fierro, S. Kirby, Charley Fierro and Danny Valdes, pitchers.

The Tigers ordinarily play on Sundays and holidays throughout the baseball season.

Killebrew Is Riding Bench

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Harmon Killebrew's twisted right knee, which the muscled slugger admits "doesn't seem to be getting any better," Monday forced him to the bench for an indefinite period.

The decision to rest Killebrew until the knee no longer adversely affects his play was made by the Minnesota Twins brass after they learned it was again filled with fluid.

The knee was drained April 4 at Orlando, Fla., before the Twins headed north for the opening of the season.

Killebrew wrenched the knee March 7 at Orlando during spring training when he tried to make a sharp turn and hit some loose dirt.

Loss of Killebrew, for at least a week and most likely longer, is a severe blow to Minnesota's hopes for a good start in the American League pennant race.

The Twins have lost four of their first five games, with Killebrew hitting a meager .105. He had two hits, a home run and single, in 19 times at bat, had struck out seven times and batted in two runs.

Last year Killebrew led the American League in home runs with 48, runs batted in with 126, and strikeouts with a record total of 142.

Lacy Shared Net Crown 3 Years

Conroy Lacy, now a student at HCJC, composed part of teams that won the Class B Regional tennis tournaments three straight years.

Lacy, who concentrated on basketball at the local school, had Louis Buchanan as a partner in 1959 and 1960, the first two years he shared the Regional doubles championship.

In 1961, he teamed with Don Guest to capture the Regional title. The boys were attending Turkey High School at the time.

When Lacy and Buchanan teamed for the title in 1959, they defeated Elvis Spradling, an ex-HCJC cager, and Jim Sherer, both of Girard, in the finals.

Amarillo Group Wins Team Title In Local Tournament

The Bowl-A-Rama concluded its tournament the past weekend and a few of the early leaders were replaced. Laven & Mansel, from Amarillo, won the team event with 3017, followed by the local teams of Parks Gulf, 3009, Dreyer Music Co., 2992 and Ace Wrecking Co. with 2978.

In the Doubles event, Bob Wash and Doyle Irwin retained their lead of 1382, followed by Al Pope and T. K. Price with 1347 and Joe Light and Gene Baker from Pecos, Texas, were third with 1344. Jim Ringener won the singles with 699, followed by Jim Bumgarner, 693, and O. D. O'Daniel with 690.

Al Pope was high in the all events with 1945, followed by Jim Bumgarner with 1931 and Joe light of Pecos with 1928.

Webb Air Force Base picked its team for representation in the tournament to be held at James Connally Air Force Base in Waco. The Webb team is composed of Al Pope, who had 3539 in the rolloff, Larry Howe, 4504, Al Stumpe, 4482, Hal Chalfant, 4454, Lucky Chappell, 4305 and Randy Bomar with 4299.

The three top teams then from James Connally will go to Chanute to compete for the regional title, with the winner going to Colorado Springs for the championship of the entire Air Transport Command.

The Pin Poppers league had its banquet at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant last Thursday, at which time the various awards were presented. Petty Texaco Service Station and Good Housekeeping finished regular league play tied for first place. After a roll off, Petty Texaco Service, composed of Peggy Carver, Ruby Petty, Dorothy Sanders, and Lida Stroup, were declared the winners and won the first place award. Good Housekeeping was second and Fairview Gin was third.

Mary Jo Tune, bowling for Toby's, won the most improved average award. High team series was won by Good Housekeeping and Supreme Bakers were presented a trophy for finishing last in the league. This league, composed entirely of ladies, will meet April 17 at 9:00 a.m. to organize for the summer league. The league will bowl at 9:00 a.m. on Wednesday mornings and bowlers are limited to a maximum average of 140.

There will be a meeting Monday night, April 22 at 7:00 p.m. at the meeting room of the Bowl-A-Rama for formation of a Trio Classic League. Lots of interest has been shown for this Trio Classic, and it will probably kick off the following Monday. Anyone interested may still sign up at the Bowl-A-Rama.

The Happy Rollers, a ladies league, began league play last night with six teams. The league will begin bowling Tuesday of next week and would like to expand to eight teams, so any ladies interested in bowling on Tuesday evenings should contact the league officials.

A Peterson Point Scratch league, which will be composed of double couples, will have their organizational meeting April 18 at 6:15 p.m., and will begin bowling the same evening at 6:45. Couples interested in a Peterson Point Scratch league should be present for this meeting.

The Ladies Major League held election for the next year. New officers are Nellie Kerby, president, Jenny Davidson, vice president, Louise Booth, secretary and Jimmye Burks, sergeant at arms.

Congratulations to Iva White for her 200, as it was her first sanctioned 200 game.

B&H Cleaners Offer New Pickup Service

The new plant of B&H Cleaners, 2601 Wasson Drive, is operated by Allen C. (Abe) Bailey, who has more than 35 years of experience in the dry cleaning and laundry business in Big Spring. He employs experienced help in taking care of customers' cleaning.

The firm operates a pick-up and delivery service and has a pick-up service at the new Vernon's Drive-in Grocery on East Fourth Street.

"For those who go to work early and get off after we close," Bailey said, "we have arranged this service. They can leave their cleaning there at any time. We pick it up by 9 a.m. When it is returned to Vernon's the customer may pick up his cleaning at any time before closing time there at 11 p.m. It is handled as a convenience.

The cleaning and pressing establishment will give one-day service on request. Free mothproofing and mildew-proofing is done at the new plant, Bailey said.

"We also see that all buttons are sewed on, and make repairs free of charge. We make alterations on request," he continued.

New Name At New Home

Gene Haston Electric, formerly Kitching Electric, has moved into the new home at 1606-B Gregg. Mr. and Mrs. Haston have operated the electric company under the name of Kitching Electric, at 902 Gregg, for several years after purchasing it. They now have a more convenient location for off-street parking and rear-door loading. The company does general electrical contracting and troubleshooting.

Thirty-Five Years Of Experience Here

The new B&H Cleaners plant, 2601 Wasson Road, is under the management of Allen C. (Abe) Bailey, who has been in business in Big Spring 35 years. The firm offers free pick-up and delivery service, and operates a pick-up station at Vernon's Drive-In Grocery in the 1000 block of East Fourth, where customers may leave cleaning in the morning and pick it up later. One-day service is provided on request.

Ward's Is A One-Stop Family Shopping Center

Spring gardening is in full swing, along with cleaning up, painting up, and fixing up programs around many homes.

Just about anything needed for the home, yard, garden, and farm, can be found in one stop at Montgomery Ward's store. Many of the needs are in stock. If not in stock they can be purchased through the catalog department with delivery made when you want them.

The gardener can look around and find all kinds of tools, including tillers, lawn mowers, edgers and trimmers, hedge clippers and shears, to take the back-breaking manual labor out of the old-fashioned way of shovel-digging and finger-blistering with hand tools and clippers.

These tools come in just about any size needed around the home, whether small, average, or king-sized, and even include riding mowers for the big lawns.

If there is the need for doing some repairing or remodeling around the house, the necessary tools, and other materials and equipment may be found at the store. These include hammers, saws (hand or power), squares, levels; electrical needs, including wiring, outlets, switches, fuse boxes and panels, and fixtures; paints of all kinds for inside and out; paint brushes, spray guns, and rollers; and even some building materials and trim.

Maybe the lady of the house would like to have some new furnishings inside the home to replace some which have passed their period of usefulness. This would include everything, from a single piece of furniture to a full room suite, or enough to refurnish the whole house. It might also include new floor coverings, and Montgomery Ward carries a huge supply of samples from which to make selections.

If the kitchen needs redoing there are modern designs in cabinets and fixtures to lend a harmonious blend of colors and types needed, whether built-in or set in. These fixtures come in wood or metal and in an assortment of colors.

Take a look at the appliances. Are they getting old or too small for handling the demands? Montgomery Ward can show you any appliance from a small radio to the big combination consoles with radio, TV, and stereo record players; from a toaster to a full size range; from a table lamp to modern floor and ceiling fixtures, dishwashers, washers and dryers, and combinations, and deep freezers.

Montgomery Ward invites you to go by the big store at Third and Gregg and look over their big stocks. You can clothe the family, equip the home, and also find a lot of pleasure needs, including boats and motors, fishing and hunting equipment, camping equipment, and playground equipment.

Those extra accessories needed for the automobile, along with oils and greases, and tires and seat covers, are also in stock.

Carver Supplies Variety Of Needs

Carver Drive-in Pharmacy, 310 E. 9th, is located for the convenience of customers who want to pick up their prescriptions without getting out of the car. They may drive all the way around the building and to the window on the west side.

Whether it is prescription medicine, quality cosmetics, candies, magazine, or sundry items, Carver Drive-in Pharmacy is the place to find what you need.

Call your needs to AM 4-4417 for prompt service.

Firm Can Lay All Pipeline Work

For general pipeline construction, big or little, Bettle-Womack Pipe Line Construction Co., Snyder Highway, is equipped to handle the job.

With modern machinery and equipment, the firm can bore through or lay the lines by ditching.

Water lines, gas lines, oil lines, and conduits, can be handled by the firm, under the management of Odell Womack and Clayton Bettle.

To Retire

Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., who has served in the House of Representatives for 26 years, poses in his Capitol office in Washington, D.C., after announcing plans to retire from Congress at the end of his present term in January, 1965. Thomas, 65, gave health as the reason for his retirement—he said he has undergone three cancer operations.

Bitter Fuss Simmers On PTA Program

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

A bitter controversy still simmers in the ranks of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers as a result of the group's national legislative program.

Federal aid to education figures prominently in the dispute.

The Texas Congress has been under widespread attack since it submitted the program to its local chapters to determine their feelings on the national policies.

Critics charged that the ballots were so worded that no matter how a person votes he will be endorsing federal aid to education.

Mrs. W. J. Danforth, president of the Texas Congress, denies this.

She told The Associated Press in Fort Worth Monday that no attempt whatever has been made to influence the 2,667 local units in Texas.

"We are merely trying to get an expression of opinion," she said. "It is a democratic effort to let every member in Texas express what he thinks about the national policies."

NATIONAL POLICY

The ballots will be compiled early next month and will compose one of 50 votes that determines the national policy. Thirty-one states must approve each item of the legislative policy before it can be approved by the national organization.

The national program endorses federal funds for education. The Texas Congress has opposed this since 1952.

Noting that the National Congress never initiates legislation, Mrs. Danforth told Texas chapters the parent organization does spell out basic policies for child welfare, so that if legislation in these areas does come before state or national legislative bodies, PTA members would be prepared to support it.

Ironically, the major opposition to the ballot concerns an item that is not part of the national policy.

The Texas Congress included on the ballot a proposition permitting members to flatly approve or reject federal funds. But a typographical error left the proposition worded in such a way that it was impossible to vote against the issue.

HOW IT READS

The proposition states:

"We are opposed to any further extension of federal aid to education. Total for . . . Yes——"

"We are opposed to any further extension of federal aid to education. Total against . . No——"

At first glance, this would appear that if a member voted "yes" on the first proposal he approved federal funds, while if he voted "no" on the second proposal he opposed them.

However, if a person votes "no" on the second proposal he is saying, in effect:

"No, I am not opposed to any further extension of federal aid to education."

Theoretically, then, no matter which proposal is chosen, the voter endorses U.S. funds.

The Texas Congress didn't intend it that way. What happened, Mrs. Danforth said, was the word "no" was omitted from the "favorable" proposal while the word "yes" was omitted from the "against" proposal.

She called it a typographical error.

"The error was explained to legislation chairmen," she said, adding:

"If they want to, they can mark it all out and write in what they want to say."

CRITICISM

Scores of Texans wrote newspapers attacking the PTA or its program, or both.

Rep. John Allen of Longview sharply criticized the organization, contending local PTA groups and their legislative chairmen were being asked to vote on the program without full understanding of the issues.

"The so-called intellectuals in the National Education Association are behind this scheme, using the PTA as a front for their work," he said.

Allen assailed the ballot for containing such controversial topics as support of the United Nations and allied agencies and expansion of mental health programs.

He was one of many who charged that members could not vote without endorsing federal support of schools.

Another critic declared that one item on the ballot was ambiguous and worded in such a way that it was impossible to vote yes or no.

Mrs. Danforth said there was nothing wrong with the ballot—that "critics see in it what they want to see."

DAILY GUIDE—All days cannot promise pleasure and leisure, and some days pass without incident to make them remembered. However, ones attitude towards work makes all the difference between weary drudgery and satisfaction of a job well done. This is one of those days in which details and chores occupy most of us.

We may indulge in thinking ahead a little to tomorrow and the days following, which probably will present some challenge and conflicts. The Leos, Taureans, Scopios and Aquarians are most likely to find them difficult days. Taureans should be careful of what is written and said, of how much they trust others to give them the truth. Leos are probably being too aggressive and restless, while Scorpios and Aquarians find some pressures not to their liking. All may find confusion because of rumors and misunderstandings. Move cautiously through the next few days, being just as careful not to kid yourself as you are to not to be the victim of doubledealing.

It is a good time to ace problems realistically.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, ARIES! This is your year to collect benefits due you for past efforts. You could just sit back and enjoy the freer atmosphere, but if you want some lasting gains, push all your ambitions now. Travel is one of the happier prospects for you this year. Old friends back you up, so turn to them for advice. Some sudden change in arrangements concerning your job or working environment can give you some trouble in early June. Be careful of health then. Some aggressiveness from others can be encountered in August. Iron out present difficulties with loved ones or social contacts, before June. Finances remain about the same, with an accent in October.

State Dept. Rebukes Exile Leader For Policy Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has publicly rebuked Cuban exile leader Jose Miro Cardona for his purported bitter denunciation of U.S. policy toward Cuba.

In doing so, the government declared publicly for the first time what has been rumored for days: that Miro had demanded a voice in U.S. policy toward the Communist island—or else $50 million to mount an exile expedition against Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The U.S. government is not prepared to make any such agreements, the State Department declared. It took this position in a stinging rejoinder to Miro's reported criticism of U.S.-Cuban policy in his 20-page letter of resignation as president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council.

The Miro letter has not been made public. The council — with Miro presiding—was still debating Monday night whether to do so. But enough informed descriptions of the letter were in the air for the State Department to turn loose its strong statement.

It has one copy of the Miro letter, a council spokesman said in Miami, and Miro has the only other one.

Informed of the State Department comments, Miro said Monday night: "I told the truth. I do not tell lies."

"I have never asked a second invasion," he added. "I have asked for hemispheric cooperation for joint military action."

Sources who claim to have studied the letter say it includes:

—A detailed account of Miro's relations with the U.S. government — including President Kennedy—since the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion of 1961.

—Charges the United States reneged on promises to act against Castro; promises including that of a second invasion.

—Complaints that the United States has embarked on a course of coexistence toward the Soviet satellite in the Caribbean.

—In general, a loud protest at lack of U.S. support for action against Castro.

The council still hasn't accepted Miro's resignation. It has planned a formal meeting for tonight to decide its course.

The gist of the State Department declaration was that the United States doesn't want to be drawn into an all-out war by anti-Castro exiles.

The department said:

"While appreciating the urgent desire of the Cuban exiles to return to a free and independent Cuba at the earliest possible date —a desire which is fully shared by the people and the government of the United States—the department considers this statement (the Miro letter) a gross distortion of recent history and of this government's policy with respect to the elimination of Castro communism from this hemisphere."

The department said Miro's letter "as it relates to conversations with the President and others in the government is highly inaccurate and distorted."

The department reiterated its criticism of Cuban exile forays against the island and shipping to Cuba.

In a reference to several such raids in recent weeks, it said:

"The United States cannot coexist with a Soviet satellite in this hemisphere. But this does not mean we can permit publicized expeditions which have no tangible effect on the future status of Cuba, which are clear violation of U.S. law, and which are followed by highly colored press conferences."

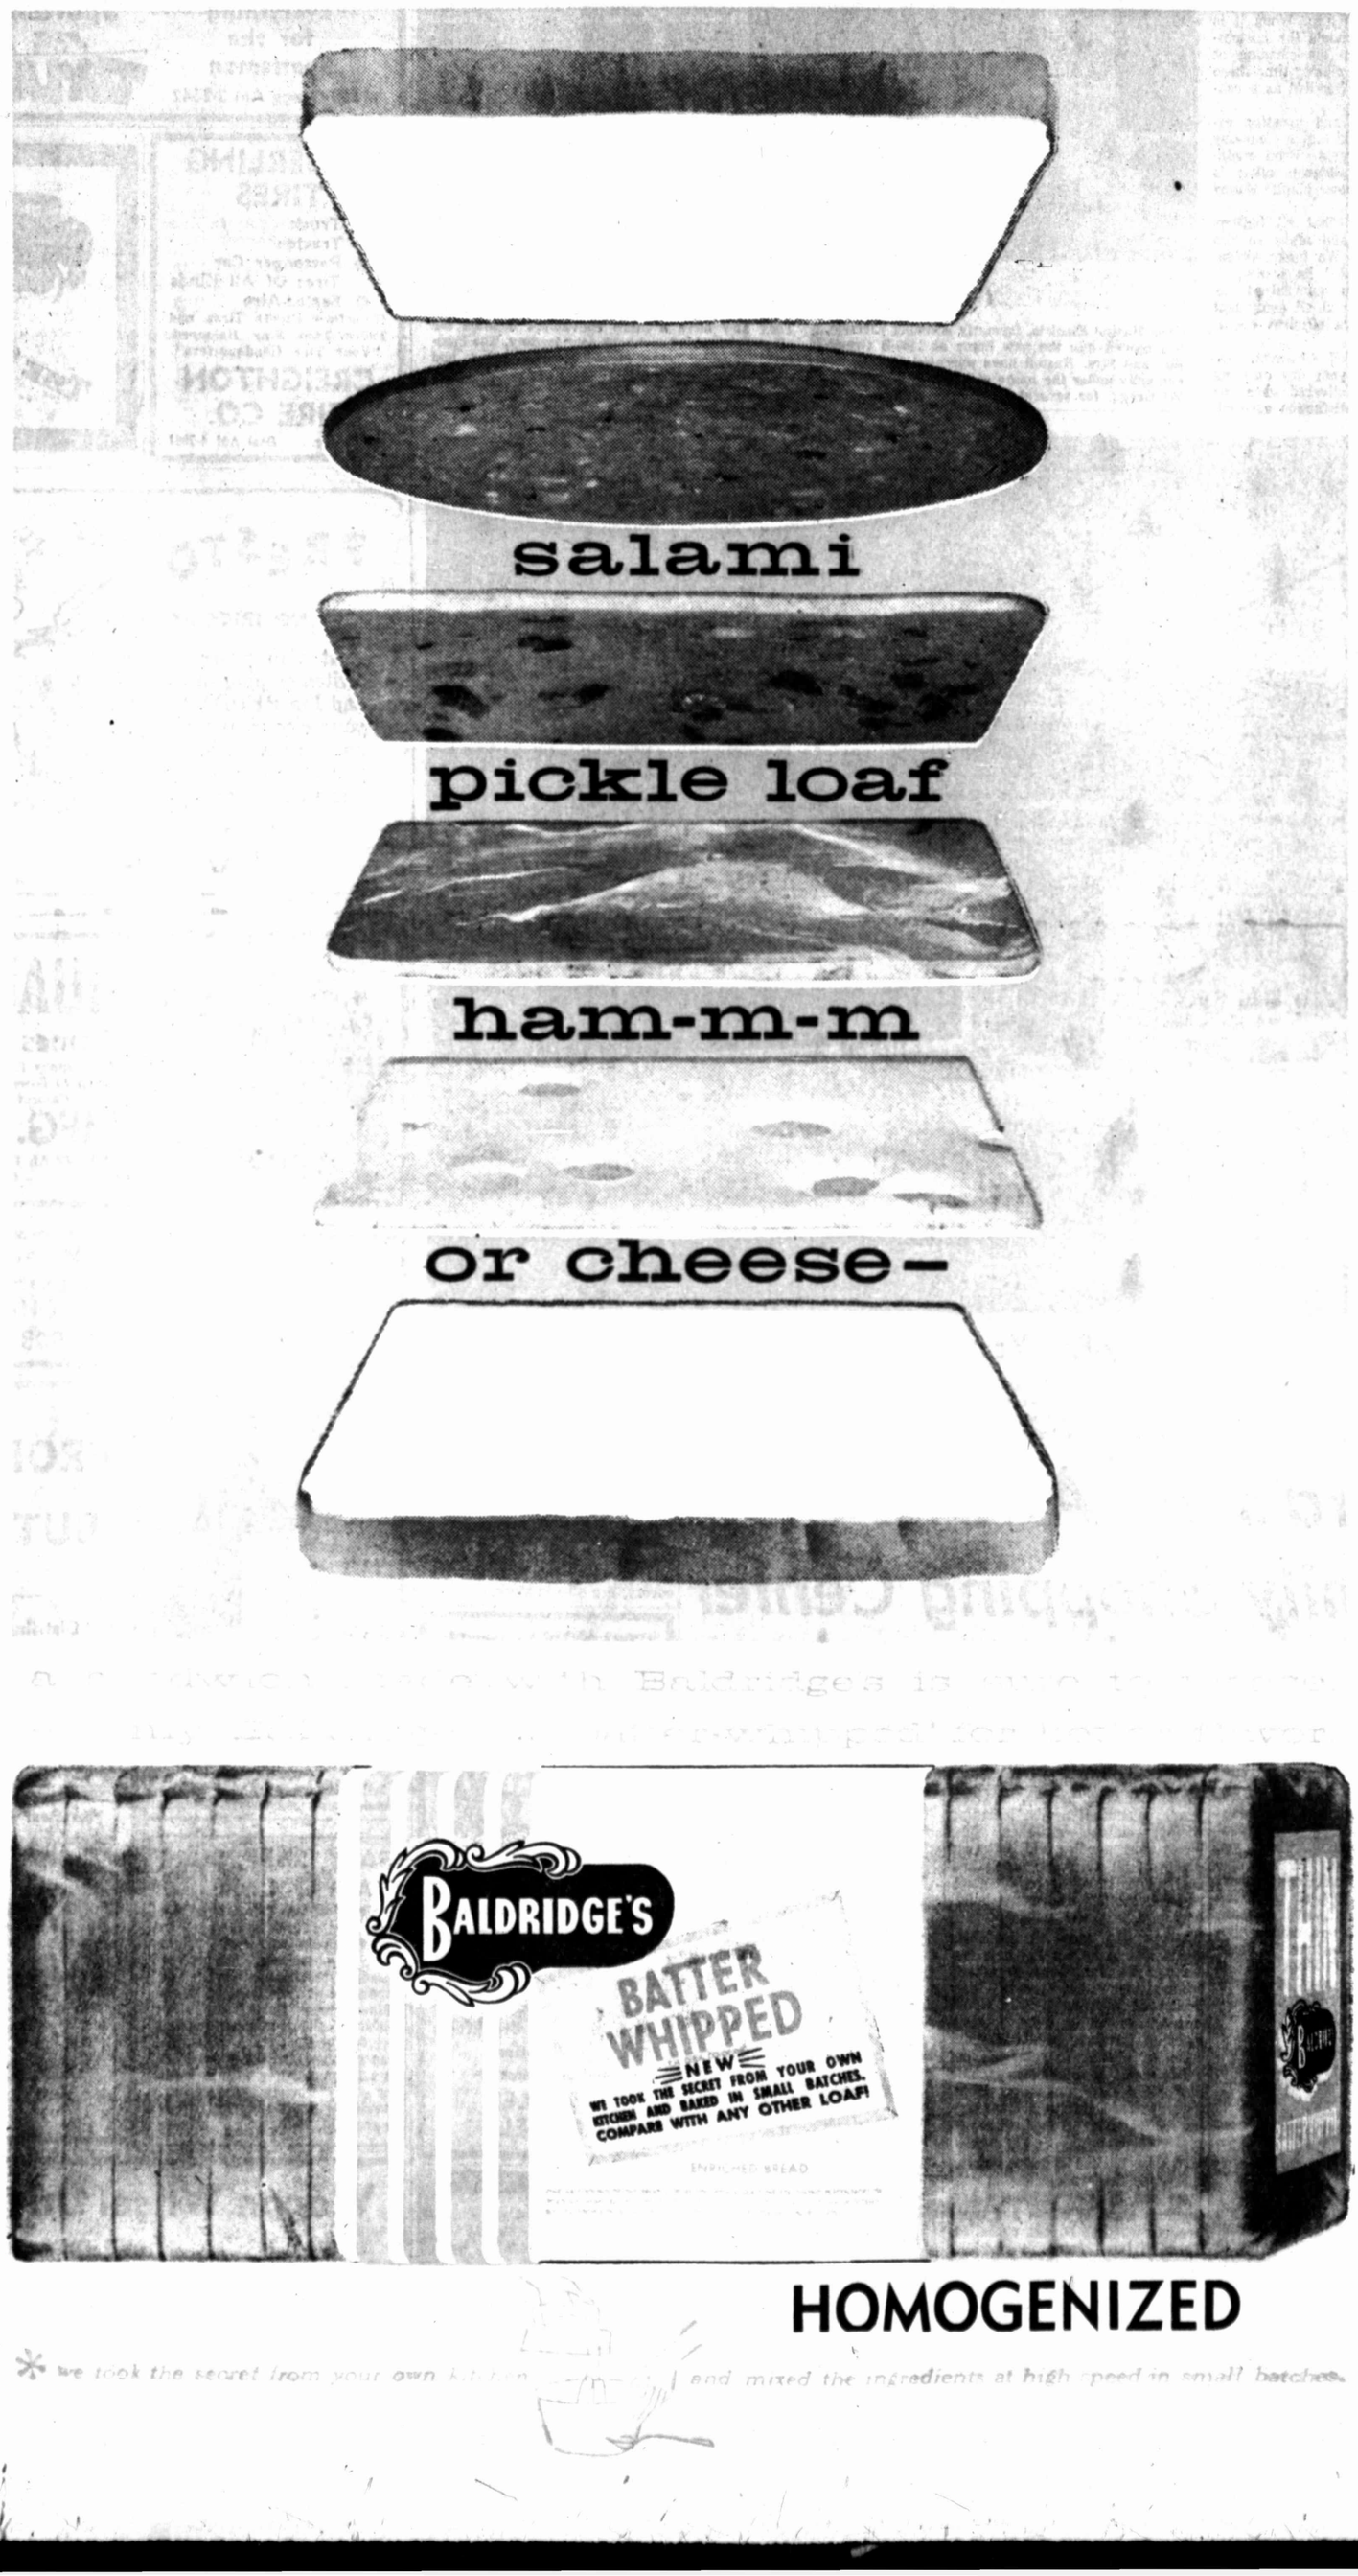

The department denounced the Miro letter as a statement which "seeks to discredit several individuals in the government and to question the good faith and integrity" of the individuals and the government.

Midland Man Traffic Victim

TULIA, Tex. (AP) — Thurston Deen Sevar, 59, Midland, died Monday night when a trailer came unhitched from a truck and hit his car four miles south of the Panhandle town of Happy.

He was driving north on U. S. 87. The trailer broke loose from a truck driven by Lupe del Toro of Tulia. The truck is owned by the Swisher County Electric Co-Op.

The trailer jumped the median strip on the four-lane highway and hit Sevar's car.

Suspect Invokes Fifth; Is Charged In Divorcee's Death

FORT WORTH (AP)—Tall, dark Ronnie Blankenship invoked the 5th Amendment five times Monday as he was questioned at an inquest on the March 24 death of Mrs. Neota Green, an attractive divorcee.

The nude body of Mrs. Green, 27, was found in her blazing home at suburban Benbrook. Investigators said she suffered a head injury. Blankenship was rescued from the flaming house.

Justice of the Peace T. M. Sheffield ordered a charge of murder filed against Blankenship, 30, at the close of the inquest.

Blankenship elected to claim the constitutional guaranty against self-incrimination in replying to all but routine questions.

Mrs. Helyn Rickey testified she was with Mrs. Green and Blankenship earlier the night of the fire. She said Blankenship "propositioned" Mrs. Green three times as they drank whisky at two night spots.

"Well, he wanted to make love to her....that was obvious," Mrs. Rickey said in answer to questioning by Asst. Dist. Atty. J.E. Winters.

She described Mrs. Green as intoxicated when she left the pair at a club about closing time.

Benbrook Police Chief J. E. Prince told the court he recovered a heavy ash tray, which was broken into three pieces, in the living room of the house. He also found a heavy cooking pan with the handle burned off.

Testimony varied about how the fire started.

Benbrook Fire Chief H. S. Duncan said the cause was still unknown but "I feel reasonably sure it was arson."

Britain Cracks Down On Ban Group That Leaked Secrets

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard made pre-dawn raids today in its campaign to crack the "Spies for Peace" ring for betraying some of Britain's nuclear survival secrets.

Swinging into action after a wild, fist-throwing "ban the bomb" rally, agents of the special branch dealing with security offenses swooped on houses in search of a typewriter used to draw up pamphlets first distributed during the weekend peace march on London. The pamphlets disclosed secret plans for dispersal of government offices in the event of a nuclear attack.

Publication of the secret government plans was described by Home Secretary Henry Brooke as "the work of a traitor."

The special branch has been told that the mysterious antiwar group has printed another series of leaflets revealing more official secrets.

Young detectives, many of them in beatnik outfits, mingled with the ban the bomb marchers Monday on the watch for the new leaflets. One marcher who was distributing leaflets from a shopping bag was arrested. The leaflets were digests of the original pamphlet. Some 25,000 copies of the digest were reported distributed.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government has been plagued by repeated security scandals. Strong attacks on it are considered inevitable April 23 when Parliament reassembles.

MacMillan returned to London from his home in Sussex to deal with developments.

Decreases Pull Down Oil Flow

TULSA (AP) — Decreases in Oklahoma and other states pulled U. S. oil production down last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Production last week averaged 7,455,800 barrels daily, down 17,300 from the previous week.

Oklahoma output fell 5,900 barrels per day to 560,700. Colorado was down 1,300 to 109,600.

Arkansas produced 74,000, Louisiana 1,406,000, New Mexico 300,400 and Texas 2,576,200.

Rails Get A Chance

The 6-3 decision of the Supreme Court that lower tribunals lack power to block cuts in railroad freight rates until the Interstate Commerce Commission makes a final determination on the reductions may be a sore blow to barge lines.

Presumably the ruling opens the way for rail carriers to make reductions up to 60 per cent in grain hauled by rail from Ohio and Mississippi river ports. The rate cut was proposed July 1, 1962, but the ICC invoked a seven-months suspension on the grounds that there might be reason why the rates would be destructive and thus unfairly competitive. When that period passed, the reduction would have gone into effect automatically had not barge lines filed their action in lower courts to block the rate.

Justice Clark, joined by Chief Justice Warren and Justice Black dissented strongly, arguing that it was a sad day when judicial processes could not stay rules which might frustrate commission processes, and, as he said, the potential damage or destruction of a transportation system.

Of course, when the ICC makes its final determination, it may find that the reductions are indeed unreal and destructive. Meanwhile, the rail carriers will have an opportunity to demonstrate that they can furnish a service better and cheaper and yet on an economically operational basis. If they can, they — the barge lines—who couldn't exist without government maintenance of their waterways—have small room for complaint. They have always claimed that there is nothing so cheap as water transportation. Maybe there is.

Matter Of Equity

A matter of equity in the national tax picture is involved as well as the well-being of this particular area when it comes to consideration of the petroleum industry's stance.

By some estimates, proposed changes in the tax procedures applicable to depletion as well as figuring capital gains, etc. would add $280-millions to the federal Treasury. About three-fourths of this would come by reducing depletion allowances.

Tampering with the traditional 27½ per cent allowance can have dire effects on the rate of exploration. Already, our own area has experienced some serious difficulties because of the hard times of the domestic petroleum industry, particularly the independents who historically are given to chancing the long-shots in drilling. Reduce their incentive and you reduce the already curtailed rate of drilling drastically. When you cut that rate, you also cut the revenue of royalty owners, the number of jobs in operation, refining, marketing, etc. Because the Permian Basin is the greatest single petroleum reserve in the nation, the blow would be unfairly concentrated on one area. Already the basin is carrying more than its proportionate share of the tax load.

But aside from that, the matter of fairness in the over-all tax picture demands consideration. The petroleum industry generates about 40 per cent more revenue for government than any other. It's a cinch it doesn't employ anything like that many more people. Again, it generates nearly 7 per cent of the taxes collected in the nation, far out of proportion to its stature by almost any standard.

As a typical being, the strike-it-rich oilman never existed. Yet, too many people not familiar with the petroleum industry have this mental picture in the back of their minds, and it warps their thinking on tax policies.

The Case Of Oppenheimer

WASHINGTON—As symbol and principal figure—hero or villain, depending on the perspective—in the drama of security versus freedom, J. Robert Oppenheimer has come into the news again.

He has been given the Atomic Energy Commission's Enrico Fermi award of $50,000. In December at the presentation ceremony he will break a silence that has endured, so far as public affairs are concerned, for 10 years. To many the award has been taken as vindication of the scientist-philosopher who was put on the public rack and every smallest secret of his life exposed in the course of a finding by the Atomic Energy Commission that he was a security risk and, therefore, ineligible to see classified information.

BUT IF IT marks, symbolically, the end of the virulent phase of McCarthyism, the question that remains is whether the consequences of that era of fear, suspicion and hatred are not still evident—in excessive and even spreading secrecy, in conformity and timidity. Oppenheimer believes that the attention on him as symbol is irrelevant to his own continuing concern over secrecy and its cramping and dwarfing effect on science and the intellectual life of the nation. From the beginning it has been his contention that the inevitable spread of knowledge throughout the scientific community around the world invalidates the barriers of secrecy. And those barriers, in the Oppenheimer view, serve chiefly to impede the advance of science.

TODAY, 10 years after the 922-page record holding up to public view Oppenheimer's smallest acts and most private thoughts, secrecy covers not only large areas of government but defense industry with some 5,000,000 employees. This is based on an executive order initiated by President Eisenhower and renewed by President Kennedy.

An effort in the last Congress to write this into law was defeated. With an exception for a finding of good and sufficient reason by the Secretary of Defense, the order permits the accused to confront their accusers. In 120 cases that have gone to hearing this has been done.

IN ANOTHER AREA — public discussion — restraints have been imposed by fear and suspicion. Oppenheimer opposed the development of the hydrogen bomb because it was a weapon of total annihilation. In the fierce controversy that followed, totally screened by secrecy, he was overruled.

His belief today is that if more public discussion had been permitted the outcome would have been the same while the public would have understood the fearful hazards of such a weapon and would have been aware of the urgent need to try to stop the arms race.

THIS IS THE heart of the Oppenheimer drama, while he has been silent for 10 years, his mortal enemy, Edward Teller, who as much as any single individual was responsible for initiating the charges against him, has been speaking before every forum everywhere in the country, opposing not only a nuclear test ban but any form of negotiation with the Soviets. Teller has urged the development of even more-far-reaching weapons, such as the neutron bomb. As the chief proponent of the hydrogen bomb, the "Father of the H-bomb," Teller was a close ally of Lewis Strauss who was chairman of the AEC when the Oppenheimer case was brought.

TELLER HAS denounced the Administration's concessions on the terms of a test-ban agreement as "a Munich." He opposed with equal vigor the Eisenhower Administration's stand at Geneva. Only this past week on the Senate floor Sen. Joseph Clark of Pennsylvania called the Teller view "completely fallacious, unsound and untrue."

But with the great weight of his scientific reputation—Teller was given the Fermi award last year—plus his advocacy of the H-bomb and all that it has meant to America's position in the world, the debate tends to be one-sided. Other scientists have been intimidated and when their voices are raised they do not match in volume that of the fiery Teller. Needless to add, this is a debate on which the future of mankind and the very existence of civilization turns.

THE TWO MEN were at odds when Oppenheimer was directing the development of atomic bomb at the laboratory in Los Alamos, New Mexico, 10 years before their confrontation over the H-bomb. Shy, reserved, soft-spoken, Oppenheimer might have chosen not to be drawn into the news again even with the welcome word of the Fermi award. But forces beyond his control, as so often in the past, have once again been at work.

Billy Graham

I am 88 years old. When I was a young man I joined the church, not realizing what prayer and Christianity really was. Now, after all these years I have a feeling that I have never been born into God's kingdom. Should I be baptized and start all over again?

—C. H.

Your question is reminiscent of Nicodemus who said to Jesus who was pressing upon him the need of the new birth: "Can a man be born when he is old?

The fact that you have taken the time to write me this question shows that you are concerned, and that there is hope for you. I believe that there are thousands just like you who joined the church without ever being 'born again.' How tragic that you have waited so long, but how wonderful that you didn't wait until it was too late.

Your experience can be a lesson for many others. My suggestion is that you make a public confession before the congregation that you want to 'accept Christ,' and experience the new birth. This perhaps will inspire others to take a similar step. Then, if you are troubled in your heart about baptism talk to your minister—ask his advise. May God bless you in your new stand for Him. I'm sure your remaining years will be the most blessed of all.

Uncertainty In The Test Ban Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the most important talks in the world are like a man feeling his way in a smoke-filled room. There's an uncertainity about them.

For years the United States has been talking with the Russians about agreeing to a ban on nuclear tests. No agreement is visible. If it should come there would be a new uncertainty instantly: Would the Senate approve?

If not, then all the conversations would have been nonsense. The Senate's final say on this is hardly mentioned in this period when the first order of business is to try to get a Russian agreement.

NEXT, the United States has been busy-busy with its 14 Atlantic allies to set up a NATO nuclear force. From a political standpoint this may have some value.

It might give the allies a greater sense of participation in their own destiny by equipping them with nuclear weapons at a time when the United States and Russia alone are the nuclear giants.

If, through such a sense of participation the allies developed a closer feeling of unity, the idea of a NATO nuclear force might be worthwhile. And that does seem to be about all there is to the idea.

If that's all it is—the Kennedy administration has been far from clear on any of this—the whole business could turn out to be little more than a gimmick for this reason:

CONTROL OF American nuclear weapons—the ability and decision to fire them—must remain in American hands, meaning the President's. That's exactly how it is now.

Before the idea could go further—letting allies equipped with American nuclear weapons make their own decisions about using them—Congress would have to change the law.

If you were one of the European allies—and the United States alone had control of the nuclear weapons which are the defense of Europe—you might be troubled by this idea, as some Europeans are:

Suppose in a European crisis with Russia the United States refused to get into a nuclear war if it meant backing up its allies. You might feel, as President De Gaulle of France does, that you'd want your own nuclear weapons.

But if every country had its own stockpile of nuclear bombs, in or out of the alliance, the chance of nuclear war, by accident or design, would be increased.

SO WHAT the United States is doing now—talking of the so-called NATO nuclear force—is an attempt to make the allies feel they have full American backing.

But in the end, under present law, the allies couldn't use the weapons.

Congress would hardly change the law—letting the allies make the decision on when and where to use American nuclear bombs—without insisting the United States must retain some veto over allied use of its weapons.

It isn't hard to imagine the tortured arguments with the allies over this and the debates in Congress. But if the United States did have such a veto, then there'd be no difference from the present situation in which the United States alone has the say over use of the weapons.

But if the United States had a veto over the use of the weapons, then each of the allies, at least the big ones, would probably insist on having a veto, too.

THAT CREATES a pretty picture: a decision to use nuclear weapons—if Russia started an attack—might be necessary in a matter of seconds or minutes at the most.

There wouldn't be much time for arguing about a veto. The Kennedy administration has left this whole idea of a NATO nuclear force in a fog. The longer the fog persists, the more certain it is to create skepticism.

Space Shot Problems

Not Always Easily Solved

CAPE CANVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Early this month, a crewman on the missile tracking ship Twin Falls Victory died while the vessel was 200 miles down range to support a Pershing rocket test.

The ship left its station to bring the body to Cape Canaveral. It would not be able to return in time to track the missile scheduled for firing the following day.

Should the shot be postponed until the Twin Falls Victory could return down range, or could the missile be launched without the support of the ship?

The problem landed in the lap of the Schedule Control Branch of the Air Force Missile Test Center. The branch is headed by Maj. Walter H. Flint, a veteran of many scheduling dilemmas on the range.

"We discussed the situation with the Army and other Pershing people and they decided they could launch without the ship," Flint said.

Officials decided data received by Cape Canaveral tracking systems and from planes and down range stations would be sufficient.

Matters don't always work out that smoothly for Flint and the four officers and clerical help in his office. Weather, technical troubles with the rocket or with any of thousands of items of equipment along the 10,000-mile-long range sometimes wipe out a missile shot, which then has to be reset.

If launchings were all the Schedule Control Branch had to worry about the job would be a cinch. Last year 154 missiles were fired from the Cape. But the total number of tests conducted on the range was 11,007, and all had to be scheduled.

Some missiles require as many as 30 support tests before they are fired. These include fueling operations, checks of communications and tracking gear, telemetry tests and practice countdowns.

There were 343 weather rocket launchings from the Cape in 1962. Many had to be launched in connection with major missile firings to gather pre- and post-launch meteorological data.

The range also must coordinate its schedule to support satellite launchings from the Pacific Missile Range in California and from Wallops Island, and a special radar station at the down range station on Trinidad that tracks all Soviet satellites.

Home Study Nursing Course Not Practical

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been planning to take a home study course in practical nursing.

My friends tell me it would be a waste of time because doctors do not recognize it and there isn't any actual hospital training. Are my friends right?—M. F.

Yes, because you cannot become an L. P. N. (licensed practical nurse) through a mail order course of study.

I suppose you'd be bound to pick up some information, but even if you then got work as an aide in a hospital you would still have to take the in-service training that most hospitals require.

A better way is to find out what practical nurse training classes are available in your locality. Some are run in connection with hospitals. Some are offered as a part of the public school adult training system.

Since the situation varies from place to place, inquire through a local hospital, or get in touch with a nursing bureau or nursing association, either a state or local office. They will tell you waht training you can get and where.

With our continuing need for more nurses, you'll find such organizations cooperative.

Likewise the more training you receive, the more money you earn.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you think a boy should see his mother undressed? My aunt has raised her son to let him enter the bathroom often while she is in the tub. She believed it is better to let a boy know than to be curious. What is your opinion?—J. G.

Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I still think there is a place for modesty. At our house, if the bathroom door is closed it means somebody is using it, so stay out.

On the other hand if a youngster happens inadvertently to walk in on an adult, we've never felt it right to fuss, scold, or, indeed, make anything of it. This simply piques curiosity in a youngster, or (worse) makes him think he has done something "bad."

Just be casual about it; no harm has been done. But I see no benefit in encouraging any such thing.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: The doctor has diagnosed my daughter's problem as swimmer's ear. At times it is very painful. Is it contagious?—MRS. H. S.

This is usually a fungus infection acquired in lakes, rivers or streams. Not in salt water. It is also unlikely to be acquired in a chlorinated swimming pool. No, it is not contagious in the sense of being passed from one person to another.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I have heard of an egg diet—nothing but eggs—that I would like to try. What is your opinion of it? I thought that while on ANY kind of a diet it might be wise to have a vitamin supplement. Do you agree?—MISS A. M.

I don't think that ANY diet of only one food is either logical or useful. If you go on a diet (for reducing, I presume) choose one that gives you smaller amounts of everything, with variety of taste and appearance — from vitamins and minerals to calories—and you will not have to buy vitamins to make up for what you are missing. Fad diets are for the birds.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Landlubber In A Pigboat

I don't think I suffer from claustrophobia. Were I to be locked up in jail it would be more than the mere physical size of the cell which would disturb me.

However, on the one occasion I was aboard a submarine and below the surface of the blue Pacific for several hours I did feel decidedly squeamish.

BACK IN 1953, the USS Gudgeon, the sub on which I made my brief cruise, was only a little over a year old and was the most advanced of the Tang class—regarded then as the best in the business. On the day I boarded the Gudgeon, the commander of another Tang-class sub alongside at Pearl Harbor had sailed for the states to take over new duties. He was to become commander of a new type submarine powered by atomic energy. It was to be called the USS Nautilus.

There were seven of us civilians in the party sent aboard the Gudgeon to try life aboard a pigboat. We traveled on the surface out of Pearl Harbor into the Pacific just off Diamond Head. We made this part of the voyage riding on the bridge. The captain suggested we go below and examine the ship. We descended several ladders and found ourselves in the belly of this weird looking craft.

THE GUDGEON was one of our largest subs at the time. It was 270 feet long and its maximum width was 27 feet. It's crew comprised 75 enlisted men and seven officers. In addition to the 83 Navy men there were seven of us landlubbers. This meant that there were 90 fullsized men jammed in the space which even at the best would not have been roomy. Furthermore there was a vast array of complicated machinery all around. And the sub's stock of torpedoes was also on hand, taking up quite a bit of the available room—since each of the 22 torpedoes was 22 feet long, and about 20 inches in diameter.

There are bunks for half the crew; a galley for cooking food; a battery room which takes up a lot of space; and the huge diesel engines used for surface operations. The Gudgeon has double walls and in the space between the inner and outer walls were the fuel tanks—hundreds of gallons of fuel oil to power the engines.

WE HEARD SOMEONE say we were going to dive. And the next thing I knew the sonar recorder in front of me was cutting all sorts of funny didoes. When it would show the depth of the seabottom below the Gudgeon to be 7,000 feet, I would feel just dandy. Two minutes later, it would report that seabottom was 50 feet below my feet. We were cruising under the surface of the Pacific over the tops of a vast range of sunken mountains—the uppermost peaks of which are the Hawaiian islands.

We were finally 400 feet down and I was beginning to wish I had taken an alternate trip the Navy had offered. It was beginning to get warm in the sub. The air was all right, I suppose, but it began to be pretty gamey.

I was told that the pressure was so many pounds to the squre inch and that the normally oval hull of the Gudgeon had now been pressed by the weight of the sea into a nearly perfect circle. I wondered just how good the welding was on the hull.

I DON'T KNOW HOW others in our party felt, but when the Gudgeon broke surface and we were once again cruising topside the Pacific, I breathed easier.

I can't remember anytime when the sun looked so nice and the skies so blue and the air smelled so good as when we crawled through the hatch on to the deck of the bridge.

The Churchillian Grandeur

It is not given to every generation of men to look upon grandeur and to share epic greatness. But 20th Century man has been privileged to call Sir Winston Churchill his own, and now we Americans rejoice in shared citizenship with the First Citizen of our century.

To say that his words will go ringing down the centuries is, for once, to restore an old cliche to its pristine meaning. As long as man and language exist, Sir Winston will electrify men, as he excited and roused to action the men of his own time. There is no more 'quotable" man of his age.

NOT EVEN a clod could fail to be moved by his somber and magnificent words on June 4, 1940, when Hitler was rolling unchecked over Europe.

"We shall not flag or fail," Churchill told his beleaguered nation. "We shall fight in France, we shall fight on the seas and oceans, we shall fight with growing confidence and growing strength in the air, we shall defend our island, whatever the cost may be, we shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills; we shall never surrender."

WHO, IN AGES to come, will not be uplifted by such wartime jewels as:

"I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat."

"Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few."

"Give us the tools, and we will finish the job."

"We are waiting for the long-promised invasion. So are the fishes."

"IF HITLER invaded Hell, I would at least make a favorable reference to the Devil in the House of Commons."

No man has ever had a greater gift for flaying another by his use of language than Sir Winston. Il Duce may someday be remembered because Churchill painted him so accurately when he said in 1941 in a House of Commons speech:

"This whipped jackal (Mussolini) who, to save his own skin, has made of Italy a vassal state of Hitler's empire, is frisking up by the side of the German tiger with yelps not only of appetite—that could be understood—but even of triumph."

AND WHEN, during the war, he referred to Hitler as "that wicked man" or "that nasty man," his very tone reduced der Fuehrer to the dust bin and contemptuously dismissed him more effectively than all the world's more violent invective.

In the dark days of 1941, he told the boys of his old school, Harrow:

"Do not let us speak of darker days; let us rather speak of sterner days. These are not dark days; these are great days—the greatest days our country has ever lived; and we must all thank God that we have been allowed, each of us according to our stations, to play a part in making these days memorable in the history of our race."

IN THAT SAME year, in a speech in Ottawa, Sir Winston proudly said:

"When I warned them (the French cabinet) that Britain would fight on alone whatever they did, their generals told their Prime Minister and his divided cabinet 'in three weeks England will have her neck wrung like a chicken.'

"Some chicken! Some neck!"

A master phrase-maker, Churchill first tagged "the Iron Curtain" for what it surely was and is. Time will not forget another gem: "This was their finest hour."

NOW THAT he is a citizen of the United States, perhaps these words, spoken in 1940, are prophetic: "The British Empire and the United States will have to be somewhat mixed up together in some of their affairs for the mutual and general advantage . . . like the Mississippi, it just keeps rolling along. Let it roll. Let it roll on full flood, inexorable, irresistible, benignant, to broader lands and better days."

Legislation On Loafing

WASHINGTON—Back there before the Easter vacation, the senators were so vacation-minded that they were legislating leisure, loafing and laxity.

It was all in the spirit of the holiday season, but not very much in the spirit of the Stressful Sixties.

IN PASSING THE Wilderness Bill, with only 12 dissenters, the upper chamber provided almost 40 million acres of playgrounds and camp sites for an estimated two per cent of American people with the time and inclination to tramp, ride horseback or paddle their own canoes. Much poesy went into the debate, which described the blisses of solitude and recreation.

BUT THE practicalities were missing—or outvoted. The Wilderness Bill said no to a good many millions of dollars which otherwise would have gone into mining investments on these locked-up lands. It doomed to idleness thousands of workers who might have found employment in the mines. All, of course, is not wasted. It does seem to be a fact, according to the western senators who know the terrain, that much of the off-limits area would be at the bottom of canyons or the sides of mountains and not good for much except scenery. Nevertheless, the bill as a whole subtracts immense mineral-bearing tracts from the American economy, closes opportunity for much-needed productive jobs and increases the opportunity for useless, tax-eating employment by the Interior Department.

WHILE THEY were about it, the senators knocked off something from their own work load and responsibility. If the bill passes the House, as written, the President and his Interior Secretary—but not the Congress—will have the initiative when it comes to adding or withholding new acreage to the national Wilderness system. The whole procedure would built, it's true, a natural sanctuary for bird, beast and tourist, but it also established the strangest of monuments to sit-in-the-sun and a puzzling contrast to the Strenuous Life now lived by nations that are expressly dedicated to "catching up" and "burying" us.

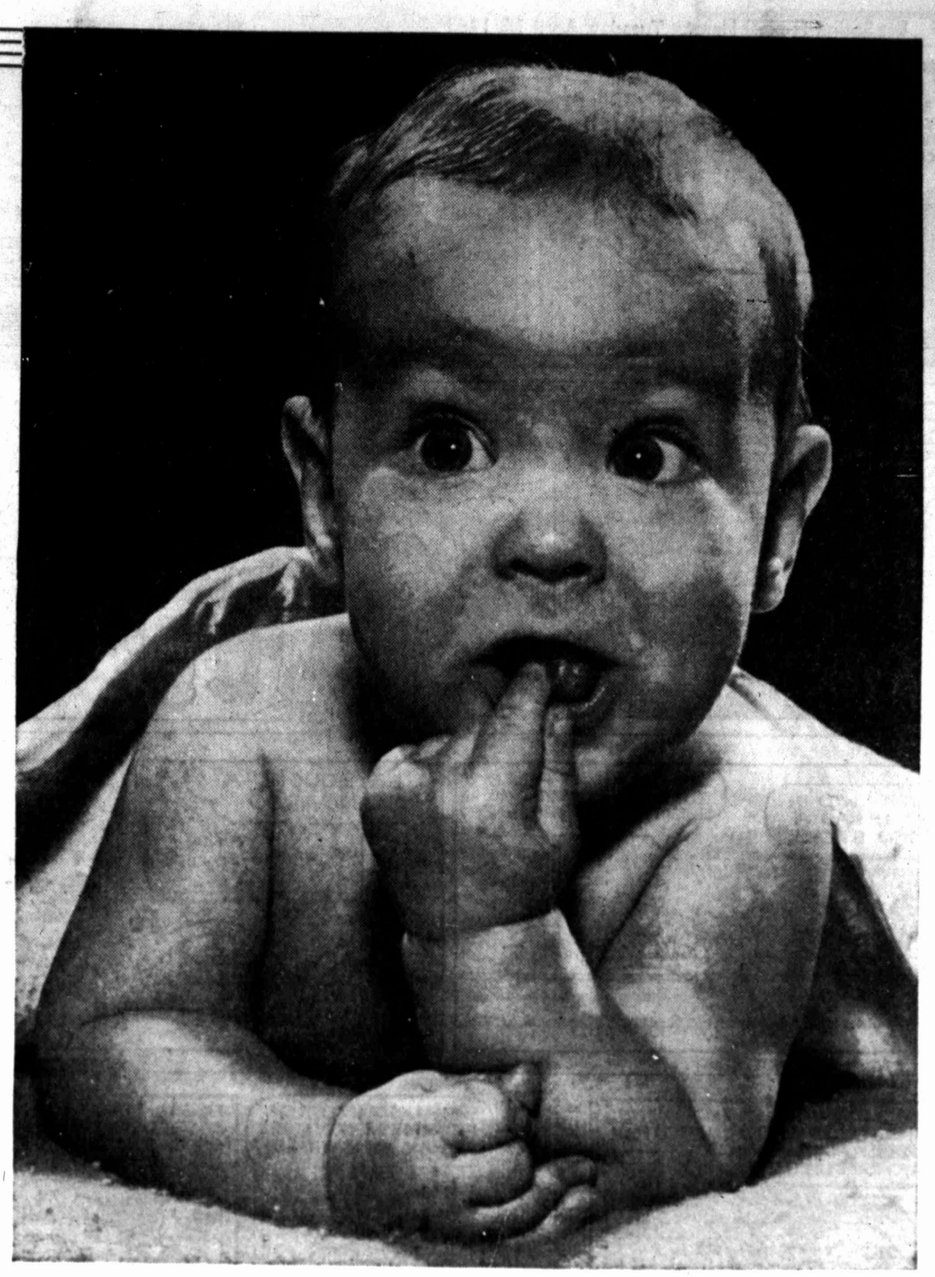

HARDLY PAUSING for oratorical breath, Senate Leader Mike Mansfield drove his charges to tackle a segment of the so-called Youth Employment program, a horrendous misnomer in this instance. The Youth Conservation Corps looks to be very much what Sen. Goldwater calls an "outdoor reformatory." The bill, if successful, will pull about 75,000 unemployed youth into six-month, on-the-job conservation and home-town welfare work. But there is no provision whatever for training these youths in skills that the country needs—or for using them as troops to replace many skilled men and women who are unwillingly in military service.

NO DOUBT the Youth Conservation Corps, like the Wilderness program, will offer healthful and wholesome occupation to a tiny minority of the population. Neither measure is without some merit, and its sponsors deserve credit for sincerity if not for sagacity. But if a majority of the Senate hadn't been so intent on getting that long Easter weekend, it might not have been so prodigal with our mineral and manpower resources.

WE AMERICANS have wealth for which we ought to be grateful, and with which we have been most generous. But it is disheartening to find that Mr. Kennedy's Brain Trust can't find some better use for our material and human surplus. We are still unable to accommodate ourselves to our affluence. Meanwhile, it begins to appear from the astonishing success of hard-up but hard-working peoples elsewhere that the Biblical prophecy means what it says: "The poor shall inherit the earth"—especially if the rich let it happen that way.

Dawson Delegates To Discuss Roads

LAMESA (SC)—As a follow-up action to a recent meeting with O. L. Crain, district five highway engineer, Lubbock, a delegation of Dawson County residents will travel to Austin April 18 to meet with the State Highway Commission on three major programs.

The delegates will include County Judge Leslie C. Pratt, commissioners Abe Furlow, Alton Addison, Dalton Myers and J. E. Airhart, and a number of representatives of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

With only 10 of 38 right-of-way tracts yet to be signed up on the U.S. 87 paving project south of Lamesa, the delegation will be seeking to obtain necessary funds to get the four-lane paving started immediately. The project is planned from Lamesa to the Howard County line, where it will link a recently-completed four-lane job in that county.

The intersection of US 180 and 87, three miles south of Lamesa, will also be discussed. Local residents are anxious to obtain a change in the "Y" crossing that will eliminate the dangerous aspects of the crossing. Five persons have been killed in traffic accidents at the intersection.

When meeting with Crain recently, the Lamesans were told that based on engineering, the intersection was considered safe. Crain conceded, however, that something needs to be done and indicated he was working on a recommendation that will reach the State Highway Commission in time for the delegation to discuss the problem with them.

Priorities on farm-to-market road projects will also be given to the state board, although Crain advised the Dawson countians that no appropriations would be available for the area during the current calendar year.

At the session in Lubbock, commissioners authorized the state to let the contract for curb and gutter work on a cutoff route from North 22nd Street to US 180. Estimated cost of the project, which would link 180 to US 87 north of Lamesa, is $20,400.

Federal Aid Hearing Set Next Tuesday

The public hearing, called by the Big Spring city commission on the question of applying for a federal grant to build the Beal's Branch Trunk Sewer line, has been set for 5 p.m. Tuesday (April 23) in the in the city auditorium. The commission set the time and place at a called meeting this morning at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Members of the commission stated that numerous telephone calls and personal contacts received during the past week indicated a large turnout for the hearing, and the auditorium will be used instead of the commission meeting room. The time was changed to 5 p.m. to avoid a conflict with the annual Jaycee banquet and bosses' night.

In other action this morning, the commission passed, on second readings, two ordinances permitting on-premises consumption of beer and wine. One was for the Intrepid II, at the intersection of Lamesa Drive and NE 7th. The other was for Polly's Cafe, in the 300 block of North Benton.

Micronaire Readings On Cotton To Be Available

LAMESA (SC) — Micronaire readings on samples of cotton submitted for classification under the Smith Doxey program will be available on a fee basis during the 1963-64 season, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The micronaire samplings will be available at the Lamesa cotton classing office, which serves Dawson and parts of Martin and Lynn counties.

The service provides a measurement of the fiber fineness of cotton as determined by air flow instruments. Fiber fineness is a quality factor important in spinning. Testing for micronaire readings is authorized under the Cotton Testing Service Act.

Micronaire reading service was introduced in November of the 1962-63 season and was used extensively in West Texas and Oklahoma. A fee of eight cents per sample was charged for this service. The fee for the coming season will be determined by the USDA and will be announced about May 1.

Applications for the testing service must be submitted by a ginner to the Agricultural Marketing Service, Cotton Classing Office serving the territory in which the gin is located. All samples submitted for classification from a gin that files an application for the micronaire service will be tested. The applications should be filed immediately—but in no case later than July 1.

Several weeks are required to install equipment and testing personnel to provide the services. Gins are responsible for payment of the testing fee.

Graveside Rites For Youngster

Funeral will be held at graveside Wednesday in Trinity Memorial Park for the infant son of Airman 1.C. and Mrs. Don McKenzie. The child died at birth Monday afternoon in a local hospital. The parents live at O-K Trailer Courts.

Airman McKenzie has been stationed at Webb Air Force Base since 1958. They are members of the Baptist Church.

The Rev. James Puckett, pastor of the Baptist Temple, will officiate at the funeral at 4 p.m.

Survivors include the parents; one brother, Byron Kevin McKenzie, of the home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McKenzie, Irving; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Vera Vaughn, Irving; maternal grandfather, Goerge Pratt, California; paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Linnie O. Sullivan, Irving; paternal great-grandfather, Lidy McKenzie, Palestine; and maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Neal, Bonham.

Teen-Agers Hurt In Car Accident

Two teenagers were injured and two others escaped being hurt when the compact car in which they were riding left the road and turned over at noon Monday.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred one mile south of Big Spring on a county road. The car was being driven by Mark Lee Cook, 14, son of Mrs. Myna Wonderly Longsford, 3603 Connally. Passengers were Colbert Henry Pope, 14, Steve Cook 13, and David Compton, 14.

Cook is in the Medical Arts Hospital. He suffered injuries about the head. Pope is in the Webb AFB hospital. He has cuts about the head and face.

The car was not badly damaged.

Service Pending For Youngster

Services are pending at River Funeral Home for Lena Marta Cordell, one-day-old daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. McGrady Cordell, 131 B Dow.

The child died this morning in WAFB hospital. She was born Monday morning.

Survivors include the parents and the two grandfathers, Alfred M. Olston, Newark, N. J., and William Cordell, Roanoak, Va.

Resident's Niece Dies Of Leukemia

Mrs. Lynda Bonner Jones, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Bonner, 1701 Browning St., Snyder, and niece of Mrs. T. R. Rose, 1226 E. 15th, Big Spring, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Fort Worth, Monday. She had leukemia.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Bell Funeral Home, Snyder.

Captains Will Attend School

Three Big Spring police captains will attend a school in police supervision at Texas A&M College May 13-24, Chief Jay Banks said Tuesday. They are Lindy Oldfield, Walter Eubanks, and L. A. Hiltbrunner.

"The school is sponsored jointly by Texas A&M, Northwestern University, and the International Association of Chiefs of Police," Banks said.

Odessa Lowers Water Rates

ODESSA—Odessans will enjoy a lower water rate during the summer months of May, June, July and August, following action of the city council Monday. For most residents, it will mean a saving of about 45 cents per month.

The rate reduction calls for the $3.50 monthly minimum charge to apply to the first 4,000 gallons of water used, instead of 3,000 gallons as previously. The lower rate was requested by the Odessa Beautiful Association.

The approximate loss in city revenue will be $37,303.20. City officials said it was the first time the water rate had been reduced since the city joined the Colorado River Municipal Water District with Big Spring and Snyder. All three cities receive most of their water from Lake J. B. Thomas.

CD Unit Builds Up Stockpile

LAMESA (SC)—A stockpile of equipment and other necessities that might be needed in case of war-induced or natural emergency is rapidly being built in Lamesa for use in the city or Dawson County area.

Items with salvage value totaling almost $20,000 have been procured from the civil defense surplus property unit in Lubbock for the Lamesa-Dawson County civil defense and South Plains Health Department units.

Items include several trucks, ranging in size from 1½ to 5-ton vehicles, office furniture, generators, drills, work benches, trailers, vans, tug tractors, forklifts, platform trailers, etc.

Fluvanna Coach's Wife Is Killed

SNYDER (AP) — Mrs. Carolyn Land, 21, of Fluvanna, died Monday following a two-car collision just north of Snyder. She was the wife of Fluvanna High School coach Bruce Land. The accident occurred at 1:30 p.m. Monday about seven miles north of Snyder on US 84.

Mrs. Land died in Cogdell Memorial Hospital three hours after the accident. A passenger, Mrs. Catherine McCain of Paducah, was admitted at Cogdell with severe facial lacerations.

Claudia Collins, a Texas Tech student from Sterling City, was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Land are pending at Bell Funeral Home in Snyder.

She was the former Carolyn Kay Fitzgerald, Lubbock.

Cancer Campaign

LAMESA (SC) — The Dawson County chapter of the American Cancer Society will conduct its annual house-to-house canvass for funds Tuesday beginning at 6 p.m. Bob Millikan is president of the chapter and Mrs. Bill Beeson heads the canvass campaign.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To: CLEO B. ALEXANDER, Defendant (s), Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff (s) Petition at or before ten o'clock a.m. on the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation; same being Monday the 13th day of May, 1963, at or before ten o'clock a.m. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, Texas, at the Court House of said County in Big Spring, Texas.

Said Plaintiff (s) Petition was filed in said court, on the 13th day of February A.D. 1963, in this cause numbered 14,235 on the docket of said court and styled, BILLY ALEXANDER, Plaintiff (s), vs. CLEO B. ALEXANDER, Defendant (s).

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Plaintiff alleges legal marriage. Residence in Howard County six months and State of Texas twelve months next to filing of Petition. Plaintiff alleges cruel and harsh treatment. There are not any children born to this marriage and no property to be adjudicated. Plaintiff prays for a divorce, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this the 29th day of March A.D. 1963.

Attest:
M. FERN COX, Clerk,
District Court, Howard County, Texas.
By JO ANN WATKINS, Deputy.

The Ol' Rocking Chair Got Him

DALLAS (AP) — With rocking chairs so much in the news since President John F. Kennedy took office, it's surprising that a thief would select such an eye-catching item.

But there the man was, walking down the street lugging the chair, and the police nabbed him, not that the chair was worth much.

Mrs. Albert Lee McKinney discovered the loss of an old rocker from her front porch, but didn't bother to call police.

Then when her Times Herald was delivered the following day, she read about the arrest of a police character carrying a chair.

After she identified the old rocker, down to a broken slat, it was returned to her by police.

Red River Group Sets 1970 As Navigation Date

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The Red River Valley Association has set 1970 as the target date for navigation of the stream as far north as Shreveport.

Members held a final session today.

The association is composed of delegates from Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas devoted to improvement of the river, which flows from Arkansas into Louisiana and merges with the Mississippi.

Navigation on the river now is possible year-round only as far north as near Alexandria, where it meets the Black River.

L. R. Matthias, executive vice president of the group, said Monday that Army engineers were studying feasibility of making the Red River navigable farther north.

When the study is finished, he said, the association will ask Congress for the money to start construction.

Claude Kirkpatrick, state public works director, said he thought prospects for improving the river and opening it to barge traffc would be favorable.

Rep. Gillis Long, D-La., said there is a need for both navigation and bank stabilization on the Red. He predicted the engineers' report would be favorable.

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., urged interest in river development at home.

He said he was certain, if Congress approves the engineers' study, the money would be obtained for development "if I am still chairman of the Senate Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee."

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said river navigation would "open up this valley and bring to us things we never had before."

Brig. Gen. C. H. Dunn of Dallas, with the Army Engineers' Southwest Division, said he planned to appear before a congressional appropriations committee next month to testify for $24.5 million authorization for his division alone.

The association approved renewal of its 1962 program of work, including about 50 projects.

It added an amendment urging a $500,000 congressional appropriation to continue an engineers' study on sources of contamination of the Red and Arkansas Rivers. Engineers recommended a $250,000 maximum for the study.

Hotel Fire

AUSTIN (AP) — Fire in a basement laundry room sent smoke rising through the Commodore Perry Hotel and caused temporary evacuation of all its guests shortly after midnight. Firemen brought the blaze under control quickly and damage was minor.

Coahoma Airman Is Decorated

COAHOMA — Capt. Carl A. Wyrick, Coahoma, was one of 54 U. S. Air Force airmen of the 464th Troop Carrier who were decorated recently in the largest known single group award for the Air Medals for support of U. S. military assistance in South Viet Nam.

Capt. Wyrick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wyrick, Coahoma.

The awards are for action in the Southeast Asian country from January to June 1962. The 464th Troop Carrier Wing at Pope AFB has been sending aircraft and personnel to South Viet Nam in support of the South Vietnamese government since December, 1961.

Northern Texas Windy In Path Of Cool Front

By The Associated Press

Gusty winds raked northern areas of Texas again Tuesday ahead of an approaching cool front.

The Weather Bureau held out hope for occasional thundershowers dotting most sections of the state by evening or perhaps not until Wednesday. There was no prediction, however, for appreciable amounts of rain.

Cooler air was expected to cover the northern half of Texas during the night and to spread into all but the extreme south and southeast by Wednesday.

Dust fogged the sky around Dalhart and Lubbock as the Pacific front headed into the state from the west Monday. There also was blowing dust at Alice deep in South Texas.

Top temperatures Monday afternoon ranged from a warm 102 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend country down to 78 at Austin and Galveston.

Harey Eggs

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Rodney Bowers, 8, went on an Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Little Rock Boys Club. Eggs were hidden in a field. Rodney found a nest containing two wild baby rabbits and added them to his collection of eggs.
