MURDER OF MISS SARAH SCHAEFER IS STILL AN UNSOLVED MYSTERY

Detectives and Newspaper Men on the Scene Are Baffled by the Fiendish Crime

TWO LOCAL MEN ARE UNDER SUSPICION

Little Evidence, However, to Show How School Teacher Met Her Death

(By Associated Press).

BEDFORD, Ind., Feb. 1.—The investigation of the Schaefer murder mystery is proceeding today with renewed activity. Three Indianapolis detectives, including James F. Quigley, former chief of police in that city, are here today at work.

Mrs. Johnson, who keeps the boarding house where Miss Schaefer took her meals, today received another letter. It was dated and mailed from Indianapolis, and said:

"When I was in Cincinnati, I meant what I said; I am on my way to Montreal, Canada."

The handwriting and the stationery are the same as used in the letter received by Mrs. Johnson from Cincinnati. Evidently the same pencil was used.

STORY OF THE MYSTERY

BEDFORD, Ind., Feb. 1.—Ten days have gone by since the murder of Miss Sarah Schaefer, the pretty teacher of Latin in the high school here. Local officials, six detectives and twenty newspaper men have been constantly at work since the morning following the murder, when the body was discovered, but the murderer has not been found.

On the night of Thursday, January 21, Miss Schaefer left the supper table at the home of Mrs. Addie Smith on Lincoln street, at 6:35 o'clock, to go five blocks to the home of one of her pupils. Rain was pouring.

Half a block from the house she spoke to a prominent attorney.

The next morning her body was found in a carriage shed forty-two feet from Lincoln street, in an alley in the next block from her boarding house. She had been attacked by a man who, either lurking at the entrance of the alley, or overtaking her at this point, had dealt her a stunning blow and then crushed her skull with a jagged piece of brick. This is on outline of the crime.

The body was found lying partly under a carriage in the shed. The skirts were conspicuously disarranged. Part of the underclothing had been torn away and thrown on the ground. The bodice had been torn open and there were marks of a bloody hand on the inside. Detectives have been working on the theory that the murderer was actuated by criminal brutishness and had attempted assault or with devilish shrewdness had arranged the body to give this impression, after killing the girl while actuated by a burst of uncontrollable anger.

Two persons have been arrested on suspicion and released with their innocence clearly established and the detectives have turned their attention almost exclusively to the higher circles of Bedford, where two persons are under suspicion.

So strong do the detectives think the evidence is against one of these men that they have made the remark openly that an arrest would follow shortly.

One the other hand, the city authorities insist that he will not be arrested. One-half of Bedford thinks him guilty, another half declares him innocent. If there is any tangible evidence against this young man it has not been made public. The detectives are declaring that they have secured evidence of vital importance during the last twelve hours. Both of the Bedford men under suspicion, it is claimed by the detectives, had been repulsed by Miss Schaefer for advances made by them.

LIVERPOOL VERY SHAKY

Cotton Market Advances But Is Badly Unsettled

(By Associated Press).

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 1.—After opening lower and fluctuating a little cotton today began to advance, owing, it is believed, to speculation. The prices gave way a little before 12:15 p. m., official values being 16 to 21 points over Saturday's closing prices. The market is thoroughly unsettled.

SOCIALISTS TO HAVE A TICKET IN THE FIELD

Decision Is Reached at Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon. Wise May Waive Flotorial Right to Tarrant County

The socialistic party is to have a ticket in the field at the coming spring election. This was decided at a meeting held Sunday afternoon. Tonight the executive committee meets in the parlor of the Avenue hotel, where the candidates will be selected.

The society has been holding its meetings in the Labor Temple, but from this time on it will meet at the Knights of Pythias building on Main street. The members have rented quarters on the second floor of the building and expect to conduct a series of meetings from now on for the purpose of spreading the gospel of socialism. An active campaign will be started. It is estimated by a prominent member, that the party has nearly a thousand members now. The meeting yesterday afternoon was largely attended, and considerable interest was shown in the ticket proposition.

TO HELP TARRANT OUT

Tarrant county is in the flotorial district composed of Cooke, Denton, Wise and Tarrant counties. The district is a new one, and was first represented in the legislature by L. L. Hudson of this city. Prior to Tarrant county going into the district, it was composed of Cooke, Wise and Denton. Denton had the last representative of the old district, and Cooke county claimed the next time. In the meantime Tarrant joined the district and, as Cooke had a candidate for congress in 1902, she did not ask for her regular time in the flotorial race. It went to Tarrant, and now it has been suggested that Wise county ought to have a chance. Cooke has claimed it, but Wise county objects.

A correspondent of the Wise County Messenger, writing in the last issue, suggests that Wise waive any right she may have in favor of Tarrant. The communication is signed "Dique," and says:

"A report has gained circulation in our flotorial district that Cooke county is laying claim to the right of naming the floater, according to the unwritten law of rotation of the counties composing the district. By rotation is meant that the counties take time about in supplying the floater. According to this custom the last floater should have been a Cooke county man, but at that time that county had a candidate in the field for congress and, not to appear too alarmingly productive of office-seekers, waived her privilege and Tarrant county furnished the candidate. Now, of course, the good people of Cooke are very much out of date in claiming the right of naming our floater. That right rightfully belongs to Wise county. But, as we have no one who has shown any disposition to run, and in view of the fact that sickness prevented Tarrant county's representative from attending his duties, why not Wise county waive her right this time and give to Tarrant a fair show? Such a proposition, of course, will meet with opposition, for what county has not her supply of grouchy, hot-air 'managers,' who are continually endeavoring to stock our legislatures with worn-out politicians and adept poker players?"

COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

The term of Hon. T. H. Conner, chief justice of the court of civil appeals for the second supreme judicial district, is the next to expire and he is a candidate to succeed himself. It is his first term. While there are no names announced, it is said there will be some opposition, and it has been stated that a Tarrant county man will ask for the place. Judge Conner lives in Eastland county. The Tarrant county man whose name has been handled by rumor, was asked about the matter, but stated that he is "not now a candidate." Whether he will be later is not known. There will be quite a little interest in the contest if there is opposition. In the convention four years ago Tarrant county was quite a powerful factor.

THE RACE FOR CONGRESS

If what can be heard is true, there is no doubt that Hon. William Poindexter of Cleburne will be a candidate for congress against Mr. Gillespie. Judge Poindexter made the race before and had quite a good deal of strength, and he is not discouraged by the first race of the new district.

THE COUNTY OFFICERS

There is little to be heard regarding county officers. None are announcing at this time, except E. M. Daggett, who is pushing his canvass for sheriff. It is generally understood, however, that all the present officials will be candidates for re-election.

WAGON WORKERS ARE LOCKED OUT

Members of Union Refuse to Sign New Clause in the Annual Agreement

(By Associated Press).

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Carriage and wagon workers to the number of 1,000 were forced out of work today by a general lockout in the factories of the Carriage and Wagon Manufacturers' Association. The men had been notified by their employers that a lockout was inevitable unless the workers' union agreed to renew for the coming year an agreement expiring at midnight last night with a new clause providing for conciliation and arbitration in settling disputes. This the union refused to do. Its officers presented demands for an average increase of 10 per cent in wages.

CUT FOR STEEL WORKERS

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—A general reduction in wages went into effect today at the Midvale steel works, affecting 3,500 employes. The decrease was graded according to the wages received and ranges from 5 to 35 cents a day. The congested labor market and over production is said to have caused the reduction.

RELEASE EXPECTED ABOUT APRIL FIRST

Mother of Celebrated Prisoner Says Daughter Is Still Held

(By Associated Press).

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Further investigation confirms the announcement by the Associated Press yesterday on the authority of the United States embassy here that Mrs. Florence Maybrick has not been released. Though her exact whereabouts has not developed it is certain that she is still a prisoner. A letter received in London Saturday from the mother of Mrs. Maybrick, Baroness DeRoque, dated from her residence in France January 28, said she had just returned to France after visiting her daughter at Aylesbury prison. The baroness added that she saw no possibility of her daughter's release "until the end of July, and all reports to the contrary are absolutely false."

Though the letter was written to a most intimate friend, no mention was made by the baroness of any removal of her daughter from Aylesbury.

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Sallie C. Mrs. Stanard says she was advised by the baroness several weeks ago that Mrs. Maybrick would be released April 1.

CO-OPERATION IS ASKED FOR WEEVIL FIGHT

First Call to Farmers of Texas Is Issued by Dr. S. A. Knapp. Information Will Be Supplied on Request

HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 1.—(Special.)—The following announcement of plans and call for assistance in the conduct of the boll weevil campaign in Texas during the year 1904 has been issued by S. A. Knapp, special agent of the bureau of plant industry:

After a full canvass by the United States department of agriculture of the various lines of work which should be immediately undertaken for the relief of the farmers in the boll weevil infested districts of Texas and adjoining territory, it was decided that it would not be practical to establish enough general demonstration farms in Texas, the present year, to meet the requirements of the people.

First—To reach all the people there should be two or more such farms in every county. The department did not have the force to give such extensive work the necessary supervision.

Second—The funds voted by congress for the boll weevil work were not sufficient to carry out such a plan.

Third—Even if these general demonstration farms were to be established, it would be a simple invitation to the farmers to wait for another year and see the results; whereas, the people need immediate relief.

It was further evident that the appropriation would not be sufficient to furnish seed or fertilizer for general distribution in sufficient quantity to give any wide relief.

Under the above conditions the only practical and rational plan for general relief that could be adapted was co-operation.

First—Arrange to personally meet the farmers and enroll as many as possible in a general co-operative demonstration, in which each farmer agrees to cultivate ten or twenty acres of cotton under instructions given by the United States department of agriculture, which have been proven to be a success.

If the progressive farmers of the state will unite in this co-operative movement, it will influence many hundreds to line up in favor of better methods, who might otherwise attempt to make a crop upon the old plan, and bring disaster to themselves and others.

One of the most baneful results of the successive failure of crops is the loss of public confidence, and the ruin of private credit.

This is especially disastrous where crops are made largely upon advances, as in cotton.

It is only by a general co-operative effort that credit and confidence, once destroyed, can be restored.

Men capable of organizing will be sent into every district and a determined effort will be made to secure in the boll weevil sections a good crop of cotton the present year.

We respectfully ask the co-operation of all agricultural associations, farmers' institutes, the agricultural colleges, the executive committee of the Texas Boll Weevil convention, the industrial agents of the railroads, the press of Texas and Louisiana, and all practical farmers or associations that can aid in this work.

It is not necessary to wait until our agent calls. Anyone is authorized to send for papers containing full information and organize for co-operation.

Second—The towns are vitally interested in making a successful cotton crop, and can essentially aid this co-operative movement by establishing a special demonstration farm near every town in the state. If a demonstration is necessary to convince the farmers that there must be a change in the methods of raising cotton, then it should be made possible for every farmer in the state to observe the methods pursued and note the results. The only practical way this can be accomplished is to have such a demonstration near every market town.

It should be upon a tract large enough to show field results, and no larger. Ten to twenty acres adjacent to a market town, well located and managed by an energetic, practical farmer, would meet all requirements.

The department of agriculture will undertake the full direction of such farms.

We invite the citizens of any town in Texas who are interested in having such a cotton demonstration conducted in their locality to send to this office for plans and full information.

S. A. KNAPP,
Special Agent.

JULY COTTON MAKES A NEW HIGH RECORD

Market Active on Liverpool Advices and Price Attains 17:30 Before First Hour Is Up

OTHER MONTHS ALSO MAKE BIG ADVANCES

Liverpool Starts Pace With Quotations and New Orleans Follows

(By Associated Press).

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—July cotton sold above 17 cents a pound today. The market opened excited and higher. Notwithstanding the sensational advices Saturday, Liverpool again cabled higher. The prices were expected and opening here was at a strong advance of 6 to 20 points, carrying July through the 17-cent mark and making new high records for the season. Following this call the market advanced further, though in a somewhat irregular fashion with March before the end of the first half hour reaching 16.86, May 17.20 and July 17.30, a net gain of 42 to 47 points on the positions named.

When the estimated receipts for Houston tomorrow were received showing a heavy movement, the market sagged off several points from the best in spite of continued support from New Orleans.

MINERS DO NOT LIKE THE VEIN AT THURBER MINES

They Pass Through Here Going Back to Colorado to Try for Places in the Disturbed Region

The Austrian miners who came here from the Thurber coal mines last week have left the city. These men were shipped from the strike regions of Colorado to Thurber. They came from Pennsylvania mines about two months ago, went to Colorado and, after reaching there, learned of the strike. The men were then brought to Thurber to work in the mines there. These men would not work at Thurber, claiming that the vein, which is two feet, or twenty-six inches, in width with a topping of two feet of rock, is too hard to handle on the scale paid there. They came to this city from Thurber and, it is said, have been shipped by an employment bureau back to the Colorado fields, where they will forsake the miners' union and work in the mines as non-union men.

Local union men were not aware of these men leaving Fort Worth until this morning. An attempt is to be made to head them off and keep them, if possible, from going to work in the mines in Colorado.

READY FOR WAR IN THE FAR EAST

Everything That Takes Place During the Coming Struggle Will be Noted and Illustrated for Readers of The Telegram

The crisis in the far east is now at its height and the scales are tilting between peace and war. If war breaks out The Telegram is preparing to care for its readers. Capable newspaper men will be on the ground, ready to rush, direct from the front, the best possible news of the struggle between the contending forces in the orient.

W. B. COLVER,
Who goes to the far east for the N. E. A.

Besides the cable service The Telegram will be able to depend upon a corps of trained special writers and photographers who have already left for the far east. These, working in conjunction with special correspondents who will be chosen at every strategic point in the vicinity of the coming conflict, will form a vast news bureau which will rush, direct to The Telegram's readers, everything that will be of interest. There will be illustrations, descriptive matter and features, as well as actual news.

At the head of this enterprise are three newspaper men who are already well known to the readers of The Telegram. Now on his way to the orient is W. B. Colver, whose trip through Central America last year during the Panama canal agitation was followed by a series of excellent descriptive articles, and who recently gave to the public the first authentic news from the Cripple Creek region in Colorado. Will H. Brill, another writer of experience, whose name is well known, accompanies Mr. Colver.

WILL H. BRILL,
Who goes to the far east for the N. E. A.

Upon landing at Yokohama, Mr. Colver and Mr. Brill will be governed by conditions as they develop, but no expense will be spared to get all the news, and whether the scene of conflict is among the forests of the Yalu river in Korea, at the edges of Siberia, or in the vicinity of Port Arthur, they will be at the front.

There will be much to watch in Europe while the struggle is on, and this important end of the work devolves upon Mr. John Vandercook, one of the best American newspaper men on the continent. Mr. Vandercook, who gave America the first news of the death of Queen Victoria, and beat out his rivals by over an hour, is now in Russia. His letters are appearing in The Telegram.

JOHN VANDERCOOK,
Who will handle the European end of the Russo-Japan war for the N. E. A.

These writers, together with photographers and special correspondents, are all in the employ of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, of which The Telegram is a member.

SATTERFIELD ATTENDS WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION

Cartoonist Stands in Line for an Hour to Shake the Strenuous Right of the Chief Executive for Half a Second

By R. W. Satterfield.
Staff Correspondence to the Newspaper Enterprise Association for The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Word of our arrival having reached the White House, the president kindly sent over an invitation to one of the four great receptions of the year. There are four of these every season, given respectively in honor of the diplomatic corps, the judiciary, congress and the army and navy. The beauty and chivalry of Washington, as the society editor calls them, turn out to the number of about 2,000 for each of these functions. There are 20,000 or so that would like to be there, but fail to connect on the engraved card proposition. They used to go without invitations, but have been stopped by the use of tickets of admission that are sent out with the invitations.

The tickets are adorned, after the manner of baseball passes, with the forbidding legend, printed in nice, large type, "Not Transferable." Two thousand people means about 500 carriages, so that most everything that even remotely resembles the chaises of the rich rolls up to the White House side door in the course of the evening.

"Nine to half after 10 o'clock" is the appointed time. To get a sight of the beauty and chivalry is a bit tedious. On the average your carriage stands in line from a quarter to half an hour. You pass into the east wing of the White House and enter a long corridor with facilities for checking wraps and coats on a mammoth scale. Having shed your outer garments, you fall in with the procession that extends the length of the corridor, up the marble stairway, through the main lobby, the public reception room, state dining room and red room to the blue room, where the president shakes the hands of his guests.

It takes a little more than an hour in the line before you are "received." The handshake occupies a tolerable fraction of a second. Bowing to the line of cabinet ladies who assist President and Mrs. Roosevelt uses up four seconds. Then you do the runway through the green room to the big east room. Time six seconds. The latter is 80x40 feet and serves as a sort of reservoir for the beauty and chivalry after they have been received.

There's a small percentage present to be seen in the most stunning achievements in the line of frocks, to the credit of our boasted civilization. There's a big percentage present to do the seeing. Rubber is the watchword. There are necks of elastic india rubber and necks that turn on a swivel. They are busy people, these inquisitive ones. Dresses, of course, interest the women. Now and then a man will cast a casual glance at the contour of a beautiful woman. Foreign diplomats of all shades of complexion, dressed in gaudy uniforms, interest all the onlookers. It's fine.

Another impressive feature of a reception of this sort seems to be a general disposition on the part of folks to "butt in." Those entitled to enter the east room early want to get into the corridor leading to the parlors. Those having the corridor privilege try to break into the parlors. Failing in that they crowd about the doors and rubber and rubber. The biggest crowd is at the door of the blue room having a look at the receiving party. A lesser jam is at the parlor set aside for the diplomats. And the guards at these doors have the time of their lives. Would-be trespassers, some of them of high degree, pull and haul, coax, beg, argue and threaten in their attempts to break into forbidden reservations.

It's a nice, cheerful task for an officer to turn down a senator or a cabinet officer. They do it, though, and then have a faraway look in their eyes as though they wondered what new jobs would be offered in the want ads of next day's paper. Of course, though, the beauty and chivalry cannot be assembled in large numbers without more or less fuss and disappointment. It's not to be expected.

FAMOUS WHITE LADY OF THE HOHENZOLLERNS

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—There is a tradition in the family of the German emperor that before the death of the head of the house of Hohenzollern for the time being a white lady makes her appearance in the vicinity of the imperial residence as a forewarning of the approaching end. According to popular belief this white lady is the ghost of a girl who was wronged by one of the kaiser's ancestors no less than three centuries ago in the year 1600.

Prince Joachim Frederic of Hohenzollern was at that time ruler of Brandenburg, and he was a gay monarch, with an especial weakness for the fair sex. Many stories are related of his conquests in the realm of love, and the white lady who is supposed to hover around the dwelling of the Hohenzollerns before death was one of the women whom he vanquished and deceived.

The original of the White lady was the daughter of a North German nobleman of small wealth, but great martial prowess. Her name was Adelgunde and she was as pure and modest as she was beautiful. Her father possessed a castle some distance north of Berlin, where he ruled as a feudal lord, subject only to the prince of Brandenburg. In the year 1600, when there was an expedition against the Poles who made incursions into the eastern borders of Brandenburg, Adelgunde's father was one of the first knights to hurry to the scene of hostilities, taking with him all his available fighting men. His daughter Adelgunde was left in charge of the castle with a body guard of a score of archers to protect her.

A day after the departure of her father, Prince Joachin Frederic of Hohenzollern arrived at the castle on his way eastward and sought hospitality there for the night. He fell in love with Adelgunde at first sight, and taking advantage of his power and her unprotected position, he overcame her by force and assaulted her. After spending a week in her company, the prince marched away and Adelgunde never saw him again, though he had promised to return and arrange for her future.

Afraid to face her stern father, Adelgunde committed suicide by jumping off the ramparts of the castle and was shattered to bits below. Before seeking death in this way, Adelgunde uttered a terrible curse on the family of the Hohenzollerns, and according to popular legends her ghost has appeared before the death of every single ruler of the house of Hohenzollern during the last three centuries.

It was recently reported that the white lady appeared before Emperor Wilhelm and those who believe in the sign declare his death is but a question of a few months.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, Feb. 1.—In round numbers about 1,800 cattle were in this morning which was not a heavy Monday run, but an ample supply to give the market a good strong test. A good liberal proportion of the run consisted of steers, with nearly all qualities represented. One load of 18 heavy fed steers averaging 1,418 pounds shipped in by J. B. Wilson of Dallas were sold to Swift & Co. at private terms. Good medium fed steers weighing between 1,050 and 1,090 pounds sold at $3.35, with the bulk of medium fed stuff selling at $2.80@3.25.

Medium quality and fair butcher stuff constituted the bulk of the cow supply and with a fairly good outlet the market ruled steady with last week's close. A few loads sold at $2.25@2.40, with the bulk landing around $1.75@2.10.

Calves were in moderate numbers and sold on the morning market at steady prices, the best bringing $4.00@5.00, and the medium kinds at $2.50@3.50.

The strong, active close of the market last week on best Oklahoma hogs brought in today for the opening market seventeen cars of Oklahoma and Indian Territory hogs, which, with two loads of Texas stuff, swelled the receipts to about 1,800 head for the day's trading. The quality was above the average, and everything good sold on the morning market at a small margin of $4.85@5.05, outside buyers taking three loads at the latter price, with the supply to the local packers changing hands at prices ranging between $4.80@4.85, and pigs and lights at $3.25@4.50.

The market opened slow at a decline of 10c to 15c from Saturday, and, although trading was dull at the decline, local buyers were compelled to buy the bulk of their supplies on the morning market, owing to the bullish attitude of outside buyers with rush orders to fill.

Choice sorted hogs are quoted at $4.95@5.05; mixed packers at $4.80@4.95, and pigs and lights at $3.50@4.50.

Believing that there comes a time when patience ceases to be a virtue, the Kansas City commission men have petitioned the federal department of commerce and labor to render what assistance it can in bettering the conditions surrounding the transportation of live stock to market. A request to Secretary Cortelyou that he institute an inquiry into the unwarrantable delays in handling consignments has been signed and approved by the commission men generally doing business on the Kansas City market and has been forwarded to Washington. The petition is as follows:

"Hon. George B. Cortelyou, Secretary Department of Commerce and Labor, Washington, D. C.:

"Dear Sir—We, the undersigned members of the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange, representing live stock shippers from over twenty states and territories who produce and ship annually over one hundred million dollars worth of live stock, desire to call your attention to the unwarrantable, unreasonable and unjust manner in which the railway companies are handling live stock shipments. They no longer handle such shipments as perishable property, nor in accordance with humane laws. The losses in extra shrinkage, expense and in value amounts to many millions of dollars to those engaged in the live stock industry.

"As 75 per cent of live stock shipments is what is known as interstate commerce, it seems to us that your department of the government can and will investigate the charges we make against the railway companies. We stand ready to furnish proper evidences bearing on the subject. Some prompt action should be taken to relieve the deplorable conditions, if not, the industry will be seriously crippled."

The petition received the signatures of eighty-three commission men, or practically every commission house doing business on the Kansas City market.

NEW ORLEANS NERVOUS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 1.—The cotton market showed nervous and wide fluctuations this morning, always, however, considerably above the closing level of Saturday. Liverpool cables are better than were expected and induced a feverish opening, with prices from 10 to 38 points higher than the closing prices Saturday. Profit taking by the longs was heavy and the market was sensitive to every feature which presented itself. May first advanced 48 points, to 17.50, and receded to 17.23, reacted to 17.42, and fell off to 17.28. The other months showed similar fluctuations.

AN EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

Compelled to Return Money After Failing to Give Transportation

Saturday afternoon and evening a number of laboring men paid a dollar fee to an employment agency on Main street, to be shipped to Galveston, where work was promised them at $2 and $2.25 per day. The man who was to furnish the transportation did not show up to take charge of the men. Those who had paid the fee demanded their money back, and some of them became quite abusive.

After considerable argument the money was returned to the men. It is said that the man that ordered the men for Galveston had no connection with any of the work being done at that point.

ARGUE STATEHOOD FOR OKLAHOMA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(Special.)—The hearings before the house committee on territories were resumed today, with Thomas Doyle of Perry as the speaker. Mr. Doyle addressed the committee for two hours, when it adjourned until this afternoon, when he will conclude, and then Captain John N. Palmer of Pawhuska, a prominent lawyer of the Osage Nation, who arrived here yesterday, will address the committee in favor of the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territories as one state.

Captain Palmer, who is one of the Osage Indian attorneys, is drawing up an agreement for the opening of their lands, which is now pending before the Indian office, and he will inform the committee that his clients are for single statehood, and that if congress will not admit the Indian Territory with its sister territory the Indians will refuse to open their lands and demand that the Osage Nation be made a part of the Indian Territory.

Mr. Doyle made one of his characteristic speeches, and took for his subject the defects of the McGuire bill, especially as regards the creation of the seventy-five constitutional delegates districts, which, he argued, were totally ignored, much to the injury of the people.

During the argument Mr. McGuire asserted that if two-thirds of Oklahoma is not for the Oklahoma statehood bill alone he would stop arguing in favor of such a measure.

The man was taken into a nearby house and a physician was called. Owing to the condition of the man this morning, which is most serious, the woman was turned over to the county officials. The man is bleeding internally and is not expected to live. Bystanders who saw the affair claim the man did nothing to provoke the assault. He is said to be a hard working laborer and has been at work mixing mortar for plasterers about the city whenever he could get work.

The woman was taken before Justice Charles T. Rowland. She waived preliminary examination. Her bond was placed at $1,200, in default of which she is confined in the county jail.

The Younger and James combined wild west show of last year, that closed here, is preparing to start on the road in the early spring under the name of the Buckskin Bill's Consolidated Wild West Shows. Yesterday was one of good weather for Texas. Fort Worth people availed themselves of the weather and many spent the greater portion of the day out of doors.

The wind today was unusually strong. It at one time during the day reached a velocity of thirty miles an hour. This evening it will shift around to the west and southwest. The wind will probably bring us no rain, as the weather man promises fair and warmer weather.

From Fort Sam Houston, $8,448.55, for building for exchange, etc. Board recommends the allotment of $20,000 approximately for the construction of gymnasium and natatorium, and for remodeling old exchange and band barracks at Fort Clark.

CONVICT ROAD BUILDER

Kentucky, like Texas, is making an effort to frame legislation that will put the convicts on the public roads of the state.

According to the Louisville Courier-Journal, the roads which most need the attention of the state authorities in Kentucky are those in the mountain districts. It is not proposed to pass several bills applying to different counties in that section of the state, however, or one bill applying to the section, but a general measure affecting the whole of the state. No attempt is to be made to revive the old law which provided for the construction of the principal turnpikes of the commonwealth under the supervision of the state government, but to merely promote the building of local roads, with especial reference to those connecting the county seats of different counties. In pointing out the advantages of the short-term convict system, the Courier-Journal says:

By utilizing the labor of short-time convicts to aid in such construction there would be several advantages, such as relieving the state penitentiaries of overcrowding, and affording a more healthful labor than that within walls, while, at the same time, they would not come in competition with organized labor. For contract work requiring skill, within the prisons, convicts having long terms to serve are preferable and command better prices than those with short terms, since it takes time to make skillful workmen of them, and for that reason they are in more request. For road making no apprenticeship is needed, and as it will be carried on in mild and favorable weather, it will be healthful, while to such convicts, having short terms of service, there will be but little inducement to escape, and the expense of guarding will be but slight.

This argument was made during the last legislative session when the Standifer bill was pending. The penitentiary lobby, however, was there and the members of the board had sufficient influence with the necessary number of senators to defeat the measure. However, the people of Texas are becoming wise on this subject, and the chances are there will be legislators of different opinions in the next session who will not only give the relief in the matter of road building, but will so vote that the convict labor of this state will not compete with the honest working man who supports his family.

The Houston Post discusses this question and says:

This is all very well in its way, but the thing that is needed is a state law providing for the working of short-term convicts. Good roads are of incalculable benefit to farmers, especially in the coast country of the state and in the "black waxy" section, where the unimproved highways are never all they might be and in bad weather are quite or nearly impassable. If all selfish considerations are left out of the question and only the public good considered, there can be no doubt that the sentiment of the people is overwhelmingly in favor of a measure similar to that which was defeated last spring. It is to be earnestly hoped that by the time the twenty-ninth legislature meets this sentiment will have assumed such proportions as to assure the passage of such a measure.

WILL INDORSE BAILEY

The Buffalo Evening Times publishes the photograph of Senator J. W. Bailey, with the following paragraph under the photograph: "United States Senator J. W. Bailey, instructed by the Texas legislature to vote for the ratification of the Panama treaty; he refused to do so, and threatened to resign rather than comply with the request."

The Times is informed that the Texas legislature has not been in session since the United States participated in the steal on the isthmus, and has had no opportunity to bring an indictment against the policy of the administration. The democrats of Texas, however, will meet soon in state convention. Mr. Bailey's position will be discussed and he will be indorsed. In Texas there is a law against a person being the receiver of stolen property, and knowing the statute of his own state on the subject, Mr. Bailey will endeavor to enforce it in regard to nations.

Profits From the Coming War

In many sections of this country there is a feeling bordering upon eagerness for the coming war between Russia and Japan, on the ground that whatever happens the United States is sure to greatly profit by increased sale of foodstuffs and other merchandise.

Such a feeling is not at all unusual or unnatural. All economic history sustains the idea that war stimulates trade and bolsters up prices.

Hundreds of thousands of people will be withdrawn from the work of producing in two of the greatest countries on the globe, while consumption will go on as before and waste will be enormously increased.

Nevertheless, this feeling denotes a state of mind and an economic knowledge very like that shown by the persons who think the country is benefited where there is a disaster, because it furnishes more work and a demand for more materials.

Such persons will graciously admit it is a pity there should have been a great fire, for instance, but they console themselves with the reflection that the new building operations will cause a boom.

Hence many American papers are felicitating themselves on the prospect of war in the East, because wheat and flour and corn will go up, and even those who have no grain or pork to sell will profit by increased business in almost every line of trade.

That is one of the most dubious of questions.

A "jag" will give a man increased activity of brain and body for awhile, but the reaction puts him in a worse condition of lethargy than before.

Unnatural stimulation is as ineffective of permanent benefit in economics as it is in physics.

War would no doubt raise the price of wheat and other foodstuffs, and some persons in this country would make a lot of money by the rise; but that the whole country would in the long run profit by having two great nations beat each other into a state of debility and poverty from which it would take years to recover seems to be contrary to common sense.

Just now this country has a rich and increasing market in the Far East. Is it likely that Russia and Japan, weakened by long strife, will have the means to buy of us as they do now when they are peaceful and prosperous?

A long and bloody and costly war means inconceivable demoralization of finance, trade, industry and purchasing power of a country, and if all the world were poor, where would the United States look for its rich and ready customers?

When war comes, as it seems it must, it will be all right for us to get all the trade advantages out of it we can, but there is no occasion for us to get hilarious over the prospect as a whole.

For after all, nothing makes for universal prosperity like universal peace.

OUR TICKET

For president—W. P. Brown, the New Orleans cotton bull.

For vice president—Mr. Sully, the New York cotton bull.

Platform—Twenty cent cotton.—Comanche Chief.

Politics do not regulate the price of cotton and wheat. Mr. Bryan made an ignominous failure trying to convince the people of this fact.

When the farmer or the mechanic sits down in a passenger coach he hands the conductor a ticket which he paid for at the station where he boarded the train. The officer who draws a fat salary from the people pulls a free pass on a conductor and he bows and passes on.—Tyler Courier.

The people should see to it that the officers with fat salaries are of the kind who will refuse the passes.

The Tyler Courier insists on the right of free speech and a free criticism of the courts. It has its limits in this country, and there are proper bounds.—San Antonio Light.

If what the Courier says is true, the criticism was justified in every particular.

President Hadley declares that no man should enter politics unless he is rich. This would destroy the only chance of some poor men for getting rich.—Galveston Tribune.

When the public has such a shining example as William J. Bryan who became wealthy because he was a politician it is apt to lead the young man to believe that running for office is a pretty good money making proposition.

State officials who have violated the anti-nepotism plank or any other plank of the democratic platform, should be retired from office. Let every democrat inquire into this before voting in the primaries.—Bowie Blade.

Those who know about nepotism should tell it so we will know for whom we are voting.

The public can have but one opinion of a labor union, or any other union, when it carries its principles to such extremes as one did the other day in a city in the east. A man, who was a member of a union, died and his family requested members of the union to act as pallbearers at the funeral. This they flatly refused to do because the drivers of the hearse and carriages were not members of a union. The funeral was delayed, and finally the drivers had to act as pallbearers. This is worse than folly—it is the spirit of intolerance that overrides all human rights and humane sentiments.—Bonham News.

Men who do such things are not union people. They are of the rabble. Unionism does not teach it.

Colonel Bryan's dictum is that no man who voted for Palmer and Buckner is eligible to the presidency. In other words, he proposes to treat them as aliens—San Antonio Light.

The constitution prescribes the qualifications of a man to be president. The democratic party will consult the constitution and not Mr. Bryan.

If State Topics wants to make itself solid with the honest people of Texas, let it give the names of some of the young men who are drawing salaries for services which they do not even pretend to perform. That publication can do the people of Texas no better service than by giving the details of these crimes against the state.—Terrell Transcript.

The Telegram has repeatedly asked State Topics to give the names of those who are offending. Why is Mr. McLemore silent on this?

WRITE FOR YOUR PASS

(Young County News.)

"Have you your annual pass for this year?" is the question now frequently asked of members of the state legislature and other men who are supposed to have some influence with the railroads. Unless the man is a high officer of a big trunk line the reply is generally in the negative.

Although the various lines in Texas have had hundreds of the precious bits of cardboard furnished them fresh from the printer for 1904, the majority of them are in the offices of the officials of the road who have charge of the distribution. Heretofore the persons whose friendship was sought through the presentation of annual passes received them as a welcome Christmas present, through the United States mails.

But all this has been changed, and those who flattered themselves that they stood in with the passenger departments are impatiently awaiting the passes. It is the general opinion that they will continue to wait unless they ask for them.

The legislator who enjoys free rides over the state will have to write a letter asking for the annual pass and that letter will be carefully filed away in the office of the company. All that the railroads want is a request, and they will cheerfully grant favors to their friends.

One Dallas man of influence remarked today when questioned on the pass proposition: "Why, I even saw my pass in a certain railroad office, all ready for me, but they didn't offer to give it to me. You bet I didn't ask for it."

DEMOCRATS KNOW BAILEY

(Terrell Transcript.)

In 1900, when a large number of Texas democrats were inclined to run off after the false gods of imperialism, J. W. Bailey, then a congressman, told the democrats assembled in convention at Galveston what might be expected from the retention of the Philippines against the will of the people of those islands, and it is coming true just as rapidly as time passes. Though he had a majority of the convention opposed to him, he had the courage of his convictions, and pointing to a flag that hung in the hall, he told them that the policy into which the republican party had entered would add stripes to that flag, but no stars. Did he not speak the truth? Has the government not been more besmirched through its conduct in the Philippines than by any other series of acts it has ever committed? The democrats of Texas knew that Bailey spoke the truth, and he is now in the United States senate because he dared to speak the truth. But because he still dares to speak the truth a few democrats gone mad over commercialism, want to accuse him of standing in the way of the south's advancement. If every democrat in the senate were a democrat of the Bailey stripe, this would be a far better government than it is now.

Postmaster General Payne replies to the resolution of inquiry that he has horses and carriages maintained at government expense. The man who takes care of the livery of the postmaster general's household draws $720 per year of government money, and is on the pay roll as a "watchman" in the postoffice department. No wonder there is a deficit in the postoffice department every year.

We have asked once, we have asked twice, and now for the third and last time we ask Mr. McLemore of State Topics to publish the names of those who are grafting in state affairs, give the specific offense, and thus have the evidence so that it can be used. Mr. McLemore, will you answer?

If the governor of Texas is really going into the banking business, he has selected the best place in the state to locate the institution. Fort Worth banks are all prosperous.

The mileage graft in congress is a big thing. Those who are attempting it should remember the fate of those who participated in the back salary grab.

Mr. McLemore of State Topics must back up his charges with specific evidence or he will be in the position of some fellow bluffing.

Good afternoon, are you a paid up citizen, or do you come in the class of idiots and paupers? You know they cannot vote.

The drinking water they have in Houston ought to be as soft as a feather bed, as they find feathers in it.

Let us be thankful that this poll tax agony is over with.

HINTS BY MAY MANTON

Every woman knows the advantage of a corset cover such as the one illustrated under the fashionable blouse waists. It is smooth and absolutely without fullness at the back, but is supplied with frills at the front that serve to give the waist just the appearance necessary to style. The model is made of nainsook with trimming of Valenciennes lace and beading threaded with ribbon, but all materials and all trimmings used for garments of the sort are equally correct.

The corset cover is made with fronts and back and circular basque portions. The back is tucked, but the fronts are plain and gathered at the waist line where they are finished with circular basque portions. Over each are arranged three circular frills that give becoming fullness and that meet at the center where the closing is made. Neck and arms-eye edges are finished with beading threaded with ribbon.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is one and one-half yards

THIRD TRIAL SUCCEEDS

Laura Wallace Dies Soon After Taking the Poison

Once, a year ago; a second time in last November, and then Sunday afternoon did Laura Wallace, a resident of the tenderloin district of Fort Worth try to shuffle off this mortal coil. The first two attempts were unsuccessful. The third venture, which occurred yesterday afternoon, was a success.

Laura Wallace was a woman about 28 years of age. It seemed to be the woman's custom to attempt suicide when ever her sweetheart disagreed with her. Yesterday the two again disagreed for the third time, and she took a heavy dose of carbolic acid.

After taking the carbolic acid, Laura Wallace started to walk the streets. She lived at 309 East Fourteenth street. While walking she went into the nome of Mrs. Nettie Meek, 1406 Jones street, and stretched out on a lounge to die. Mrs. Meek was at the time at the office of Dr. R. Chambers, city physician, with her little boy, who had broken his arm. A runner came to tell her that a woman was dying in her house.

Dr. Chambers was busy with the boy's arm and could not leave at the moment, so he sent one of the attaches of his office, L. R. Young. Dr. Newton joined him at the house, but before they could do anything effective the woman was dead.

Laura Wallace was declared by Justice Charles T. Rowland, who held the inquest to have come to her death by her own hand. The woman has one sister living, who is married and lives in Denison. No one knows of any other relative. The body was buried this afternoon.

The death of the Wallace woman by carbolic acid brings up the fact that three women of the "acre" district have in the past week tried to leave this cold world by the suicide route. Two have used carbolic acid, and the third took antiseptic tablets. The one who took the tablets is now nearly recovered. She is at the hospital.

Nellie Martelle, 211 Eleventh street, was the second one of last week to desire to take her own life. She drank carbolic acid on Thursday night and died today.

ATTENTION, SONS!

You are hereby commanded to meet in uniform at the residence of our departed sister, Mrs. Clayton, at 913 Lamar street, at 1:30 this afternoon, and march in a body to the church, where services will be held in honor of her memory. Thence you are commanded to march in a body to the Presbyterian church, corner Fourth and Jones, to join the veterans in their memorial service, in honor of General Gordon.

WM. R. BOOTH,
Commander.

WHY WE SEND VALENTINES

As St. Valentine's day draws near and the postoffice officials of the offices in the large cities prepare for a strenuous day, it occurs to us to ask why we send missives and to inquire whence comes the custom of the valentine remembrance.

Strange to say, the festivities of the day which bears the name of a Christian martyr are properly the survival of a pagan custom, though great efforts have been made to account for the day's name by saying that gifts are sent in loving remembrance of the Saint Valentine, who lost his life in the third century on account of his religious zeal. This is, however, untrue. The name is in St. Valentine's honor, but it was given to the ancient custom which was a celebration of Lupercalia, which consisted of feasts served and sacrifies offered to the pagan god and goddess, Pan and Juno. In connection with the festivities the names of the young women were written and thrown together. Each Roman youth then chose one name and she whose name fell to his lot became his partner during the days of festivity, and to her he devoted his courtesies and attentions. The youth and maiden thus associated sometimes found each other so congenial that friendship grew into love, which resulted in marriage.

In England and Scotland St. Valentine's eve was formerly observed very much after the manner of our May day observances. Gifts were placed in boxes and delivered at the door of the one for whom they were intended, the giver taking care that he was in no way identified with the gift. Love missives, poems and ridiculous toys were often sent instead of gifts. From the toys we have the present rather vulgar custom of sending the comic valentine, which is supposed to be a burlesque of the faults of the one to whom the caricature is addressed.

A very pretty custom is now in vogue. The young man who wishes to express his regard and affection for a young woman of his acquaintance sends her a box of flowers, with greetings and best wishes.

SIMPLE FAGOTING STITCHES

No fancy stitches have ever met with a more flattering reception than have the various stitches for fagoting. The stitches are used for joining laces, ribbons, folds of cloth and even the seams of skirts. The material to be joined must be basted firmly upon a stiff colored paper. The greater the contrast between the color of the paper and the material the less the strain upon the eyes. If folds are to be joined the edges must be folded under and pressed before basting to the paper. The space between the two pieces of material is usually one-eighth of an inch.

Two of the most simple stitches are here shown. The upper stitch is the simple, old-fashioned herring-bone stitch. The work is held so that the stitch is made away from the sewer. Place the needle in the work at the left lower corner, cross the needle and take a plain stitch on the other side of the space and a little farther down. Cross again, taking another stitch. The thread will fall across the first thread and the effect as shown will be produced.

The lower stitch is made in exactly the same manner, except that after the stitch is taken in the edge of the material the needle is slipped under the last thread and the thread is twisted as is shown in the illustration at the right.

The beauty of the stitches lies in keeping them even. Care should be taken not to sew through the paper, stitching only into the materials and the thread of the stitches. To catch into the paper causes difficulty in removing.

PROPERTY HELD BY LOCAL MEN

Was Being Investigated by Senator Clark's Son When His Wife Became Ill

The sudden and sad death of the wife of Charles W. Clark, son of Senator Clark of Montana, in New York City, while young Clark was speeding across the continent to the bedside of his dying wife, has a Fort Worth story.

Some two years ago the Clark interests secured an option on the property known as the Roserio mining claims located in Mexico, and owned by Fort Worth parties. The property was afterward involved in litigation in the district court of this county, but later was amicably adjusted. When the title was cleared the deal with the Clark people proceeded, and young Clark, at the time of his wife's death, had been in Mexico looking after the pending deal.

The Fort Worth owners of the mines, which are said to be among the richest in the republic, have recently sent a representative into Mexico to look after the interest of the local owners. The option held on the Roserio claims is for half a million dollars and it is learned here will soon expire.

Mr. Clark was at Jerome, Ariz., when the news of his wife's serious illness reached him. He left immediately for Winslow, where he boarded a special train which was given the right of way and the engineer opened the throttle for the climb over the mountain grades.

At various points on the Santa Fe townspeople gathered to see the great engine and two coaches go swirling by. When the train reached Kansas City young Clark was notified of his wife's death, but he continued his fast journey to New York.

POSTAGE IS CHEAPER

Under the new postal arrangement between the United States and Cuba, mail can be forwarded at the same postage as domestic mail, and letters can be registered at the same rates as in our own country. This arrangement will have a tendency to improve business affairs in the island, and bring the two countries into a much closer relationship. There is only one sure way of improving the general health and that is by keeping the stomach in a normal condition, and the bowels open. Then you need Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for it is unequaled in such cases. It has cured thousands of persons of dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, insomnia, colds, chills and malaria, fever and ague during its 50 years' experinece, and certainly won't fail now. Try a bottle and see for yourself.

"OUT OF SORTS"

That's the Way You Feel When Your Digestion is Out of Order.

This printer is "out of sorts." He is out of some of the letters needed to set this paragraph and it has been necessary for him to turn other letters upside down, to take their places which accounts for the black spaces in some of the words.

A Message of Interest and Value to All Who Are "Out of Sorts"

When the printer is "out of sorts" the proof appears "dirty" or imperfect.

When one's stomach gets "out of sorts" and digestion is faulty it mars temper, comfort and health, makes life seem incomplete, imperfect and unsatisfactory as a printer's "out of sorts" proof sheet.

The stomach is a laboratory wherein is prepared elements suitable for the nourishment and renewal of every structure of the body. If it is "out of sorts" and gives down poorly prepared material instead of nutritious chyle the imperfect material will correspond to the letters that the printer has placed upside down and appear as blotches and defacements on the page of life.

If to think ugly things is partly as bad as to say or act them, and the Recording Angel keeps tab on one's thoughts, what a "dirty" page must appear in the "book of life" against the one whose stomach is frequently "out of sorts" and whose type of nutrition thus necessarily becomes such as to keep mind and body irritable and upset.

The efforts of the skin to excrete, or throw out of the system unripe or ill-prepared nutritional elements furnished by a stomach that is "out of sorts" frequently results in crops of pimples and blotches fully as unsightly as the impress of the upside down letters of the "out of sorts" print.

The best remedy medical science has been able to devise to keep the stomach from getting "out of sorts," or to right it when it has been allowed to get that way, is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They give tone and vigor to the digestive organs so they will sort the material offered them and prepare from it a type of chyle that will build up tissues fair and clean as a perfect print from one whose case is never "out of sorts."

Chyle is digested food ready to be converted into blood. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets insure good digestion; good food and vigorous digestion provide perfect chyle; good chyle makes pure rich blood; good nutritious blood builds bodily tissues that are firm, sound and free from defects as the full case printer's perfect proof.

Diseases are blotches on the fair page of life. A very large share of diseases can be traced to the stomach being "out of sorts." "Nine-tenths of all diseases," said Abernathy, the great English physician, "come from the stomach." Dr. Fothergill, another English physician of world-wide repute, once declared: "Of every ten men you meet on the street, seven have stomach trouble of some kind." There are many cases of ill health, of which imperfect digestion is the unsuspected cause. Often there are none of the more prominent symptoms of dyspepsia, such as distress after eating, heartburn, waterbrash, belching of gas, etc., but there are other symptoms that may be really due to dyspepsia but are not usually attributed to it by the sufferer, among which may be mentioned general nervousness and depression; tired, run-down, played-out, "out-of-sorts" feelings that cannot be accounted for; headaches, oppression about the heart, bad complexion, pimples, blotches, boils, dizzy spells, specks before the eyes, etc. Let the sufferer take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and these symptoms all disappear, showing plainly that they were due to the stomach being "out of sorts."

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Calif., says: "Have used and recommend Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Mr. E. H. Davis of Hampton, Va., says: "I doctored five years for dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctors' treatment."

Mrs. E. M. Faith of Byrd's Creek, Wis., says: "I have taken all the Tablets I got of you and they have done their work well in my case, for I feel like a different person altogether. I don't doubt if I had not got them I should have been at rest by this time."

Phil Brooks, Detroit, Mich., says: "Your dyspepsia cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from dyspepsia but am now entirely cured and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure all kinds of dyspepsia, therefore they bring relief from all the varied symptoms that are manifestations of dyspepsia. To try them is to be convinced of their merits. They can be bought at any drug store for fifty cents a box.

VETERANS HONOR THE MEMORY OF GEN. GORDON

Impressive Services Held at the First Presbyterian Church Yesterday Afternoon Under Auspices of R. E. Lee Camp

Yesterday will long be remembered as a memorable occasion among the veterans of Lee camp, United Confederate Veterans, on account of the observance of the death of General John B. Gordon. The services were held in the First Presbyterian church and the program, as printed in The Telegram Sunday, was carried out with the exception of a few of the last numbers, which were omitted on account of the lateness of the hour at which the addresses were concluded.

The singing was by the church choir. Dr. Alonzo Monk, pastor of the First Methodist church, offered a prayer, and after Dr. Hyde had read as a Scripture lesson a part of the eleventh chapter of Hebrews, Captain B. B. Paddock made a short address on General Gordon as a soldier and said, in part: "We come to pay tribute to a great and good man now gone. We learned to love him as the head of the great organization of Confederate veterans, who devoted his life directing the veterans, who fought with fidelity for a cause which they believed to be right, and for which we offered our lives as a sacrifice. General Gordon attained fame and glory on the battlefield to which he went, not as a trained soldier in the defense of a cause he held so dear. He entered the army and rapidly rose in rank because of gallantry on the battlefield."

Captain Paddock briefly referred to several incidents during General Gordon's war life which brought him prominently before the people of the civilized world. He spoke of him as being solicitous as to the welfare of the men under him, and he always provided for their comfort as far as lay within his power, for luxuries the soldier had none. His conduct was most kind and he was never known to speak harshly to any of his men. There were very few great men as free from criticism as General Gordon. No matter how skillful a general may be on the field it is rare if they escape criticism. Captain Paddock said there were only two generals in the southern army who escaped criticism, and they were Gordon and Stonewall Jackson.

Gordon lived to see the conflict ended, and from the north or south has never come a word of criticism. His character was above reproach, and as strategist he was unsurpassed in the whole army. He was always to be found at the head of his command, and in this connection Captain Paddock made special reference to the part General Gordon took in the "Bloody Angle" siege. For his gallant work there the general was justly promoted. His was always pointed out as the most heroic deed of the war. He was as gentle as a woman and in every battle he was always to be found at the front. He always said, "Come," not "Go," and it was this that endeared him to his command. As a soldier Gordon was without an equal, and so long as reason holds sway, we will cherish our late beloved commander.

JUDGE GREENE

Judge S. P. Greene then spoke briefly on the life of General Gordon, his subject being "General Gordon, the Man." Judge Greene said that he had known General Gordon from his infancy. In the early 50s Gordon's father settled in Georgia, near the home of Judge Greene's father. The speaker said he loved General Gordon from the first time he met him in childhood, and that that love had never ceased to this day. General Gordon, he said, was a magnetic man, the gift of God, which he possessed with remarkable degree. During the civil conflict, General Gordon led his command far to the north—in Pennsylvania—while both sides were at white heat. Today there is no one who has a prejudice against General Gordon, north or south. He was a noble man. He was an extremely modest man. He was the idol of the whole state of Georgia.

After a beautiful solo by Will J. Estes, Dr. Hyde delivered his address, which in part, was as follows:

REV. MR. HYDE'S TRIBUTE

A significant picture appeared on the front of the Atlanta Constitution Thursday, January 14, the day of General Gordon's funeral in that city. It showed the coffin in which the body of the citizen-soldier lay, draped with the flag of his country and the stars and bars of his loved Confederacy, which he followed over many bloody fields to an honorable surrender, and kneeling at that coffin in emblems of mourning were female figures representing the north and the south. This will be the verdict of history as to the place that John B. Gordon holds in the hearts of his countrymen. From Maine to California, from Oregon to Florida, and from Michigan to Texas, he was loved at the time of his death as no other Confederate soldier has been, not even excepting the peerless Lee, who died too soon after the bloody strife. He was a great and good man and a Christian of childlike faith. His character was his greatest legacy to his children and to his country.

He was a brilliant soldier, without bitterness and cruelty and entirely unselfish. At the "bloody angle" at Spottsylvania on May 12, 1864, when General Lee attempted to lead in person his division, he said: "General Lee, you shall not lead my men in a charge. No man can do that, sir. Those are Georgians, Virginians and Carolinians. They have never failed you on any field. They will not fail you here. Will you, boys?"

"No, no, no!"

The love he gave and inspired in men.

Dr. Hyde spoke of General Gordon's mission to reunite the country and show men the way to Christ. One interesting incident referred to was the marriage of his daughter to a young "Yankee" in Maine. "My daughter," said the general, "do you love him, and he a Yankee?"

"Yes, papa; I do love him, and besides, haven't you been teaching a re-united country and people?"

No further objection to the marriage was offered by General Gordon, and the two young people are living contentedly today away up in Maine.

Dr. Hyde then read the following quotation from Hon. John Temple Graves at General Gordon's funeral:

"It is my privilege to tell you from personal association in kindred lives, that General Gordon's closing years were set to the service of a reunited country. His last days were a benediction. The soldier hero had no trace of antagonism to his former foes. He shot out all of his bitterness in battle, and, like his Great Commander, gave his final energies to the healing of the wounds his shining sword had made. He was the evangel of fraternity. He was the apostle of good will. There were other men who spoke as fervently, and some, perhaps, as eloquently; but the messages that come to this funeral chamber laden with the love and tenderness of the northern camps, assure us that the voice potential and the uniting words come from the reconstructed soldier, with the record of a dauntless integrity in his life, and an epic poem written by a federal saber on his cheek.

"And surely where Robert Lee has spoken peace, and John B. Gordon has preached fraternity, the broken host of the Confederate veterans, and the greater company of the Veterans' Sons may rebuke the spirit, captious and relentless, that protests a reunited land.

HON. JOHN SHENICK.

Hon. John Shenick, a Chicago Alderman residing at 220 So. Peoria St. owes his election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We will let him tell it: "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council, for had I not been able to continue my meetings, I would no doubt have been unable to secure sufficient votes. Since that time I have praised this medicine to dozens of my friends. My wife has also used it and we find it a valuable household remedy."

Some Local Stories People You Know

By James Hays Quarles

"I would rather see William J. Bryan the nominee of the democratic party for president, and have him defeated, than to see any other man who is discussed, the nominee and elected."

So said James W. Swayne last night at the Delaware. Mr. Swayne came all the way from Beaumont, Saratoga, Sour Lake and Batson Prairie to pay his poll tax. He arrived prior to February 1 and when he returns he will have his certificates showing that he paid on January 31, and is therefore a qualified voter this year.

"I want to put the responsibility on the republicans," continued Mr. Swayne. "There is no reason to elect a man president on the democratic ticket unless that man believes in democratic principles. If we put up a leader who is at variance with a large part of the party organization on important issues, we bear the responsibility for legislation of which the party does not approve, and I want to win with democratic principles, and a democratic candidate, or lose altogether. There were two measures which were the pride of democracy. We have favored reciprocity or a lower tariff all the time. There was a chance to get this in the Cuban matter, and here we have let the republicans take the credit of it, while our party is fighting the measure. We forced the lower tariff on the republicans and they are taking the credit for it. It was a chance to hit protection and our leaders fought it.

"Now look at the canal matter. The construction of an isthmian canal has long been a democratic hope. We have fought for it continually, and today we are fighting against it. We have let the republicans take control, and force the issue so that when the canal is constructed the republican party will have the credit of having accomplished it. I do not know but that the Nacaragua route was the better one, but if could not get the canal we wanted, why not take the canal we can get?

"I feel pretty certain the canal treaty will be ratified. If it is not Culberson and Bailey will be defeated for re-election. The defeat of the canal treaty will so arouse the people of this state that they will not overlook the opposition. If the treaty is ratified I think for the sake of such good men, that the people will be willing to overlook their opposition to the treaty. I know that I will. I would rather see Culberson in the senate than any man in Texas. The people of Texas would hate to retire a man like Culberson. He is head and shoulders above any man there. He is brainy—in fact, I think he is the brainest man in the United States senate today. I don't for the life of me see how he was misled in this instance. He has not felt the pulse of the people on this occasion, as it has always been said he could do."

"How about the dishonor attaching to the Panama treaty?" he was asked.

"That has got nothing to do with it. Our government has recognized the government of Panama, other governments have recognized it, and it is our business to make this treaty. There is not a man in this state with patriotic blood in his veins who would read how Colombia attempted to snub the United States on our treaty and tried to make us bid more, but felt that Panama should throw off the yoke. I do not think this government connived at the revolution. There may have been individuals in this country who helped it along."

Mr. Swayne talks interestingly of the oil situation in the southeastern part of the state. He says the oil at Batson's is a very high grade, and is at a high market value if a man can get it away after he brings it to the surface, but the transportation facilities are limited. At Batson there is less boom and speculation than at the other fields. Those at Batson are going into the thing on a business basis, and the result will be much more satisfactory than at the other places. They have gushers at Batson's now, but it is only a question of time when the gushing will stop.

Captain James A. H. Hosack is one of the best known men in Texas. He has sold town lots all over this state, and the growing towns which are today on the map were but wide places in the road in days gone by when he mounted the block to knock down the first lots platted. He is a constant reader of The Telegram, and has been watching the progress of the paper. In speaking of it, he says: "I feel justified in extending my congratulations to The Telegram Company for several reasons, chief among which is the quick advancement to the front as a circulating medium of information and a dispenser of news, whereby you are taking rank among the best papers of the state. Again I commend you to the favorable consideration of the public in your new home, which is quite a credit to energy and enterprise. It is no more than you deserve, and I hope you may always prosper and go forward, taking your place among those in the lead."

Captain Hosack has been engaged by the Rock Island railway to sell the lots at the new town of Candon, which is half way between Fort Worth and Dallas. The land contiguous to Candon is especially adapted to fruit and truck growing. Good water can be had at a depth of twenty-five to thirty feet and a flowing artesian well furnishes the railway its water supply. Calloway lake, a very pretty body of water, is just one mile from the depot. Captain Hosack will go through Fort Worth to attend this sale, which will occur February 4.

W. S. Long is to locate here. Mr. Long comes from Glasgow, Ky., and is a merchant tailor. He has been looking about this state for a location and has recently spent quite a good deal of time here. He has decided that Fort Worth is the place, and here he will stay. He is now looking about for a location for a business and a place for a home. He said this morning that he is very much impressed with the future prospects of the town.

We Shall Buy a Million

50c Bottles of Liquozone and Give Them to a Million Sick Ones.

We have purchased for $100,000 the American rights to Liquozone—the product which does what medicine cannot do. We thus control the only way to kill germs in the body and end germ disease. We want the sick to know this product, and at once. So we make this remarkable offer. We will buy a million bottles and give them to a million sick. Will you—if you need it—let us buy one for you?

We will pay your druggist for a full-size bottle of Liquozone and give it to you to try. Simply send us the coupon below and we will send you the order, good at your local drug store. This is our free gift and its acceptance places you under no obligations whatever. We make it because this seems the quickest way to convince you—to show you—what Liquozone is and what it can do. Then our only request will be that you tell your sick friends what it does. When we, at our expense, have shown you a way to get well, help us let your friends know it, too. Do this for the good of humanity. In this way we have seen one cure lead to hundreds of cures. And that is why we make this offer.

We are spending $500,000 to thus give Liquozone away. Through 1,500 newspapers and magazines, we reach, with this offer, nearly every home in America. Our reason is this: There is everywhere sickness which nothing but Liquozone can cure. In every neighborhood there are lives which Liquizone alone can save. Our plan seems the right way—the best way—to quickly let those sick ones know it. When those million bottles are used in a million homes there will be few who don't know the value of Liquozone. And those million bottles—in actual use—will do more to convince those who need this help than all the arguments—all the testimonials—that we could ever print.

Acts Like Oxygen

Liquozone is the result of a process which, for more than 20 years, has been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. The process consists in generating gases, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. These gases are confined under pressure and, by the employment of immense apparatus and 14 days' time, are made part of the liquid product.

The results is a product which does what oxygen does. Oxygen, as you know, is the vital part of air. It is the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. It is oxygen that turns the blue blood to red in the lungs. It is oxygen that eliminates the waste tissues and builds up the new. And no germ of disease can live in the presence of an excess of oxygen.

But oxygen is a gas, and unstable. Liquozone is a liquid which is not even volatile. It carries its virtues into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. It forms a vitalizing tonic with which no other known product can compare. It is life to the human body. But germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter. For this reason, Liquozone destroys every germ in the body. And no man knows another way to do it without killing the tissues, too.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to this product. We first tested Liquozone for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. In thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable — cases which medicine could not cure—we proved that Liquozone was infallible. Then we paid the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery.

We publish this fact because it best shows the value of Liquozone. Claims are easily made; but men don't pay a price like that save for a product of vital worth to humanity. Men of our class do not stake their fortunes and reputations on a product without knowing that it does what we claim.

We paid that $100,000 because Liquozone does in germ trouble what no skill can accomplish without it. It will do more for the sick than all the drugs in the world combined. You must realize that we know this when, after paying that price, we offer you a bottle free.

Medicine Can't Cure

Your physician will tell you that medicine is almost helpless in any germ trouble. The utmost it can do is to act as a tonic, aiding nature to overcome the germs. Such results are indirect and uncertain, depending on the patient's condition. A cure is always doubtful and often impossible. And the cures that do result are due to Nature, not to medicine. A cure can't come until those germs are killed, and medicine never kills inside germs.

These diseases were long attributed to other causes than germs, and medicine was used to doctor them. Up to the year 1880 germs were almost unknown; but now it is known that certain diseases are due entirely to germs, and medicine is no way applies to them. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be given internally. And drugs that can't kill germs serve little purpose in a germ disease. Those are the diseases to which Liquozone applies, and which Liquozone alone can cure.

We Offer $1,000

For a disease germ that Liquozone cannot kill.

This offer is published on every bottle of Liquozone; but nobody ever claimed the reward and nobody ever will. Liquozone always kills germs.

Please note what that fact means. All that is necessary to cure a germ disease is to kill the germs. That is certain; and it is just as certain that the disease will never end while those germs exist. Liquozone taken internally goes wherever the blood goes—into every cell of every tissue. No germ can escape it, and none can resist it. Can you not see that the results are inevitable?

Germ Diseases

The diseases in this list are known to be due to germs or their toxins. Every modern physician knows that medicine does not apply to them, for medicine cannot kill germs.

It is true that for centuries medicin has been employed for these troubles, but germs were unknown then. More than half these diseases have been traced to germs within the past five years. The germ cause of Rheumatism, for instance, was not discovered until August, 1902.

Medicine is not for germ troubles. You must either rely on Nature to overcome the germs, or you must kill them with Liquozone. You can never kill them with drugs.

These diseases yield at once to Liquozone. We have seen thousands of these troubles ended in a week, though they had resisted medicine for years. And the results are so certain that in any disease in this list—no matter how difficult, no matter how incurable it seems—we will gladly send to any patient who asks it an absolute guarantee that Liquozone will cure it.

50c Bottle Free

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us the coupon below. Do this in justice to yourself. We will then send you an order on your local druggist for a 50 cent bottle free, and will pay your druggist ourselves for it.

This offer itself should convince you that Liquozone does as we claim. We spend fourteen days in making each bottle of Liquozone, using immense apparatus and employing the best chemists in Chicago. The product is very expensive compared with the cost of medicine. Certainly we would not buy a bottle and give it away if there was any doubt of results.

You want those results—you want to be well. Won't you, in simple fairness to yourself, send us this coupon and let us show you the way?

"THE MINISTER'S SON"

W. B. Patton's last year's production of "The Minister's Son" in this city is fresh in public mind and the announcement that the company will play a return engagement here at Greenwall's opera house tonight will meet with popular approval. It stands at the head of plays of its class. It is real, human and powerful. While it classes among "Way Down East," "Shore Acres", and other plays of a pastoral character, it is far above them in literary merit, not depending so much on scenic effects for success. This will be a benefit to the F. O. E. of Fort Worth.

HAVERLY'S MASTODON MINSTRELS

One of the big attractions at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, February 2, is Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels, the coming of which is announced, has been a standard attraction since the redoubtable Haverly controlled a score of theaters on both sides of the Atlantic. W. E. Nankeville is now director general of the famous organization. He presents as his start and principle comedian this season, Mr. Billy Van, a name familiar wherever minstrelsy is known, and has furnished him the following assistants in fun making: Eddie Leonard, Dan Waldron, Eddie Mazier, Jake Young, Fred Gartelle, Gene Marcus, Frank Young, George Garden, Johnnie Conley, George Josephs and Perron Somers.

"THE WIZARD IS COMING"

One of the great society events of the season is the coming of "The Wizard of the Nile" at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee, February 6.

Saturday night another great production will be presented, "The Isle of Champagne."

"THE STORKS"

The production of "The Storks," announced for Friday night, February 5, at Greenwall's opera house is, without doubt, one of the most stupendous affairs the west has ever presented, inasmuch as it requires thirty-two stage hands of the various departments to set the scenes and work the many effects and the acting company numbers seventy-five people.

The company numbering seventy-five people comprises Gus Weinberg, Gilbert Gregory, George Shiels, George Romain, Abbott Adams, George McKey, Alma Cole Youlin, Countess Von Hatzfeldt, Ada

"WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER." ACT 2.

Deaves, Dorothy Choate, Myra Davis, etc., and the popular Rosebud Garden of Girls.

ROSELLE KNOTT IN "WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER"

The engagement of Miss Roselle Knott at Greenwall's opera house Wednesday matinee and night, February 3, in Paul Kester's dramatization of Charles Major's romance of chivalry, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," is being looked forward to by local theater goers with a greater degree of interest than is usually the case, for even so well known a book play.

CATHOLIC FEAST DAY

Tomorrow is Candlemas Day and Will Be Properly Observed

Tomorrow, February 2, will be candlemas day, or the feast of the purification, according to the calendar of the Roman Catholic church. It is called candlemas day because on this day candles are blessed for the service of the altar and for the use of the faithful. The blessing takes place in all churches at the morning mass.

Every Catholic family is provided with one or more blessed wax candles, so that in case of the sacraments being administered in the home the prescribed lights will be ready. The candles offered on candlemas day should be of pure wax, and not of paraffin, spermaceti or any other substance.

A double celebration takes place on this feast, namely, the "Purification of the Blessed Virgin" and the "Presentation of Our Lord in the Temple of Jerusalem." It is the day on which, in humble obedience to the law, Mary brought her divine child to the temple, where Simeon and Anna acknowledged and hailed him as the light of the world.

JOE DAVIS AUXILIARY

Final Organization of Children of the Confederacy Completed

The final organization of the Children's Auxiliary to Julia Jackson chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, took place yesterday, the name adopted being "The Joe Davis Auxiliary, Children of Confederacy." The name was adopted in honor of the son of the late president of the Confederacy.

The officers elected were: Miss Charlton Miller, president; Bertram Harding, vice president; Sam Hunt Taylor, secretary; Lilian Nichols, corresponding secretary; Marie Hildreth, treasurer, and William Tolbert, usher.

Miss Katie Daffan, president of the Texas division, United Daughters of Confederacy, and Mrs. Moore Murdock, chairman of childrens' auxiliaries, were present and conducted the organization, which starts off with fifteen charter members.

All children, descendants of Confederate soldiers, between the ages of 2 and 18 years, are eligible to membership.

SWITCH ENGINE LOSES ITS CAB

Fireman and Engineer Slightly Injured at the Santa Fe Roundhouse

Switch engine No. 2291, of the Santa Fe, while at work this morning at about 6 o'clock, met with a very peculiar accident. The cab of the engine was torn from its position, and Engineer Peter Warren and Fireman Frank Drane were swept away with it. Both men were thrown to the ground and quite severely bruised.

The engine was being taken to the round house by the crew at the completion of the night's work. In some way a box car on track No. 13 was left too near the round house track. The engine cab struck the car and was swept away. The engineer saw the danger when almost too late, but had presence of mind enough to reverse the engine before the cab was hit. Both the injured men came here from Cleburne and are regular run men, but were placed in the Fort Worth yards on switch engine No. 2291 for only a short time.

After the accident occurred many people were attracted to the spot by the escaping steam. A rumor was started that an engine had blown up, killing both the engineer and the fireman, but it proved untrue.

TRIED TO TAKE GUN OVER FENCE

Harry McAllister Painfully Wounded by a Rifle Yesterday

Harry, aged 13 years, son of W. J. McAllister, was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon, while out hunting on the Birdville road.

It was one of those accidents which occur when a fellow tries to go over or through a fence, and bring his gun along behind him. The gun was discharged and the 22-caliber ball entered the boy's abdomen. The accident happened at 3:30 o'clock, and the little fellow was at once brought to the city and was taken to St. Joseph's infirmary, where an operation was performed by Drs. Durringer, Morton and Cregan.

Mr. McAllister is an attache of the composing room of the Record, and has many friends, who have today expressed to him their sorrow at the accident to his boy.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS

RATE WAR SPREADING

The Rock Island and the Missouri Pacific Railroad Companies have followed up the cut on grain rates, making a still further reduction on grain from Kansas and Nebraska to New Orleans and other gulf ports. The rate on grain to the Atlantic seaports is 25c, while the rate to the gulf ports is 16c, and shippers are rushing to take advantage of the reduction.

The radical reduction of the north and south lines is due to the attempt of the Northwestern to secure the long haul on Nebraska grain to the lakes, thus shutting off the southern lines.

The Missouri river lines have reduced the rate to the point that there is no money in the haul, and have appealed to the trunk lines east of Chicago to come to their assistance and cut the rates from the lakes to the seaboard. Unless this is done the southbound lines will secure practically all the grain from Kansas and Nebraska, which will be taken to the gulf for export. As a result of the cut a general rate war is expected.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas has announced a 12c rate on wheat and corn from Kansas City to Galveston, effective today. The old rate was 17c on wheat and 16c on corn.

ROCK ISLAND CHANGES

A circular has been issued from Rock Island general headquarters in Chicago, extending the jurisdiction of General Manager H. I. Miller over the southwestern territory. Mr. Miller is now general manager of the three districts into which the Rock Island has been divided for operating purposes. The Choctaw still remains without a general manager; the operating officials reporting direct to Mr. Stevens. There are rumors of several changes soon to come on the system and it is said that several of the old Rock Island men who were let out during Mr. Warren's regime have been invited to return.

NEW TERRITORY ROAD

The directors of the Kansas City, Elk City and Texas railroad have elected I. C. Townsend president; H. C. Hugnes and George F. Patterson, vice presidents; E. M. Scannel, secretary and treasurer; Charles McCloud, right of way solicitor, and C. C. Welton of Pennsylvania, financial secretary in the east.

A corps of engineers have already been sent to Kiowa, Kan., to begin the survey south toward Eagle Pass, Texas. It has been decided to begin grading May 1.

BIG ELECTRIC LINE PLANNED

There is a scheme under way looking to the consolidation of all electric railroads running between Cincinnati and Toledo and Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland.

There remains but a very few links to be connected up to make it possible to run cars through between the cities mentioned.

A company has been incorporated under the name of the Ohio Union Traction Company.

HOUSTON AND BEAUMONT

Unless the International and Great Northern has abandoned its Houston, Beaumont and New Orleans line, it must get to work in a few weeks so as to have ten miles of the road completed by July 1, else its charter will be forfeited, says the Houston Chronicle.

The project has been pigeon-holed for a long time, but there has never been any positive announcement that the line would not be built. There has been a lot of trouble in securing the right of way into the city of Beaumont, but this was finally adjusted, since which adjudication matters have rested.

With the apportionment of several million dollars by Mr. Gould for the betterment and extension of subsidiary lines, especially those in Texas, it is assumed that the Houston, Beaumont and New Orleans is included. Local representatives have received no information beyond the press dispatches concerning the apportionment to the subsidiary lines in Texas, but express the hope that it is true, and also that the Houston, Beaumont and New Orleans project is included in the list of improvements.

If this line has not been abandoned there will be something doing in the near future, for ten miles of road must be built by July 1, or the charter is forfeited.

IRON MOUNTAIN EXTENSION

It is announced by General Manager Cotter of the Iron Mountain and Southern that the east and west branch of the Illinois division and the Herrin railway will be opened for business today.

TO SHORTEN SAN ANTONIO LINE

It is announced from Austin that the Southern Pacific railroad is having surveys made for shortening its line between San Antonio and Houston in a number of places. A new cutoff line has been run with a view to avoiding the curves and heavy grades near Smith Junction.

COLD REDUCES EARNINGS

It was stated today by an official of a leading railroad that railroad earnings for January all over the country will probably show a decided decrease, largely as the result of the cold weather that has prevailed in most sections, which disabled motive power to such a degree as to interfere with transportation facilities. He added, however, that the business in sight is enormous, and the railroads will have as much traffic as they can handle for some months to come.

RAILROAD NOTES AND PERSONALS

A. T. Stewart, assistant general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, St. Louis and Iron Mountain and Southern railroads, is in the city.

It is announced that the office of Alfred Lovell, assistant superintendent of motive power of the Santa Fe, is about to be moved from Topeka, Kan., to Chicago. This move is supposed to be in line with the latest policy of the Santa Fe to concentrate the system officers in Chicago as much as possible.

The Santa Fe will put on one way California colonist rates of $25 March 1, continuing to April 30. Prospective travelers will find at the local office much valuable literature about California.

C. D. Golding, commercial agent of Houston, and T. H. Wilhelm, commercial agent at San Antonio, for the Rock Island, are in the city today on their regular monthly visit to general headquarters of the company.

The three crews of the freight trains on the Texas and Pacific between Sherman and Brownwood have been reduced to two crews. They will now lay over at these two points instead of here.

ANDREW CREWS AGAIN ON TRIAL

Charged With Murder of Hendrix Long, He Again Faces a Jury

Andrew Crews is for the second time on trial in the Seventeenth district court on a murder charge. He is accused with having killed a young man named Hendrix Long in this city a year ago last January.

Crews was tried a few months ago, found guilty by the jury and given a 99-year sentence, but because of a technical error, the case was remanded for a new trial.

Young Long came to Fort Worth from near Azle with a load of charcoal, driving a span of valuable mules. On the morning following his arrival here his body was found in the Trinity river. The mules had been sold, but were subsequently recovered. Crews was, a few weeks later, arrested in the territory. Joe Wolf is also held for alleged connection with the murder of Long.

A special venire of eighty men was drawn for this case, and up to noon few jurors had qualified. The case became generally known throughout the country, hence few citizens are to be found who have not either read the account of the killing or else formed an opinion.

It is expected the trial will consume the greater part of the present week.

FORTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT COURT

Judge Irby Dunklin in this court entered the following orders:

State against Joe Hunton, dismissed; Ella Bernard against C. C. Carson, dismissed; J. T. Pritchard against McCord-Collins Company, defendants' motion for new trial overruled, to which defendant excepts and gives notice of appeal; state against Dave Gray, dismissed.

CASES FILED

Mrs. Maggie L. Lindloerfer against Northern Texas Traction Company, damages; Hattie Brakebill against Swift & Company, damages; Vivian Weaver against George D. Weaver, divorce and injunction; Mannie Runnels against Dudley Runnels, divorce.

COUNTY COURT

The swindling case in which J. H. Childress and Tom Hines are defendants, is on trial in the county court. This is the case wherein a young Georgian complained that for a certain fee he was to secure a situation on the Katy from Greenville to Galveston as "train butcher," but failed to get a position. Suit was instituted to recover $5, the fee alleged to have been paid.

In this court the following were entered this morning: Tell Gann, disturbing the peace, $1; M. Evans, aggravated assault, $25; T. Johnson, aggravated assault, $25; Mabel Thompson, aggravated assault, $5; Louise Johnson, aggravated assault, $25.

The case of Mrs. Jimmie Dolph of St. Louis to break a will, was continued to next Saturday.

Mrs. Wiley of Paris is here. She came to seek the aid of Judge Milam in locating and securing her child, which she claims is being denied her. The matter will be investigated this afternoon.

IN JUSTICES' COURT

Judge Charles T. Rowland this morning bound over Lottie Freeman, colored, on a warrant charging assault to murder, in the sum of $1,200. The woman is accused of slashing the throat of Jack Ross at an early hour this morning. The difficulty occurred at the Shamrock saloon. Lottie waived examination and in default of bail was remanded to jail.

Lawrence McDowell waived preliminary examination in Justice Terrell's court this morning on a charge of the theft of a watch from Mrs. Lilly Bond valued at $125. His bond was set at $750. McDowell went to jail.

POLL TAXES ISSUED

The county collector's office has compiled the number of poll tax receipts issued up to the close Saturday night. The total number is 9,208, with exemptions making a grand total of 9,819. There were 611 exemption certificates issued by the county.

W. A. HANGER SAYS GIVE ARMSTRONG AN OPPORTUNITY

State Senator Appears in Corporation Court to Defend R. C. Armstrong on Charge of Violating Ordinance

"If that last thing that is done on the repairs at the Natatorium building will enclose the new work in four brick or stone walls, then it is a lawful building, and until that last brick is laid and the last nail is driven home, the city has no right to interfere with the construction, and presume that Mr. Armstrong is guilty of violating a fire ordinance."

So said W. A. Hanger this morning. Mr. Hanger represented R. C. Armstrong and others against whom numerous complaints have been made by the fire chief. He attacked the complaints which were filed against the defendants and moved the court to quash them. Corporation Judge Prewett took the motion under advisement until tomorrow. As soon as court adjourned City Prosecutor Roy drew up other complaints which cover the ordinance fully and which are intended to meet the objections to the old complaints made by Mr. Hanger, and these are to be served as new ones.

In moving to quash the complaint Mr. Hanger called attention to the fact that the ordinance provides a penalty for allowing an unlawful construction to "remain" in the fire limits, and not for constructing it only. The complaint did not refer to the "remain" portion of the ordinance. Mr. Hanger said: "I say to the court that when this building is completed, it will be within this ordinance according to any and every body's construction of the city law. This prosecution is premature. The man is building his house, he knows the law and he is prepared to follow it. In this prosecution the city is presuming the gentleman proposes to violate the law. He has not done so, and he will not. The evident intention of this prosecution has been secured. It is being done for publicity, and the publicity is had. A white man ought not to be tried in the public prints of the country. Mr. Armstrong has the right to rest on the presumption of his intention to comply with the law. I move that the complaint be quashed, because neither the language nor the spirit of the ordinance is followed in the composition."

Mr. Roy answered Mr. Hanger, and showed the court that he believed the complaint was properly drawn and that the prosecution was fair. He said he did not agree with Mr. Hanger, that there was any intention in this prosecution other than to have a compliance with the building laws of the city. "You can arrive at the intentions of the defendant only by his present actions," said Mr. Roy. "This character of the construction today is not that which is allowed by the law, and as long as it is continued it is a violation."

Mr. Hanger said: "Suppose the last this man does is to lay a brick and drive a nail which will finish a construction of four brick walls, is it not then a lawful building? In the meantime, what will you do with fifteen fines which you have imposed on him? You are presuming he is going to violate the law. Now wait until he has finished his house, and then put in your complaint."

The decision of Judge Prewett will be rendered tomorrow.

DEATHS

FUNERAL OF MRS. CLAYTON

St. Andrew's Parish house was crowded yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the funeral of Mrs. L. J. Clayton. The beautiful casket was borne up the aisle of the church and soon was covered with flowers. The tributes of this kind from friends of the deceased were numerous. They were piled high above and about the bier, and when the procession started to the cemetery it required a special vehicle to convey them all.

The service for the dead of the Episcopal church was read by Rev. Bartow B. Ramage. The members of the various organizations of which she was a member were present in numbers, and with them were the United Confederate Veterans and the Sons of Veterans.

The pall bearers were Captain B. B. Paddock, Captain J. F. Waller, Captain A. W. Scoble, W. E. Heaton, A. P. Ferguson and Dr. George Jackson.

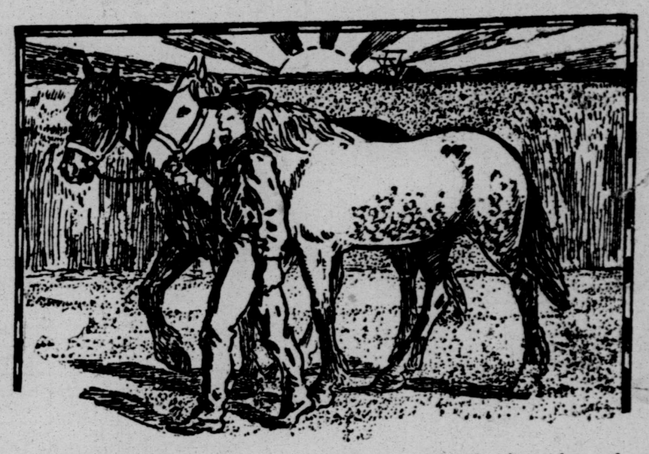
A HAPPY MEDIUM



COUNTRY LIFE.

THE RICHES OWNED BY FARMERS.

The American farmer to-day represents a new generation of intelligent, independent, thrifty people with money and inclination to be progressive. The farm products of this year will bring to the farmers and planters probably five billion dollars, which would prove that they could corner the money market of this country if they got together and used it as one man. Strength, strenuosity and the future health of the American people depends upon our country folks. As a rule, country folk are healthier than those who live in our crowded cities. Consumption is a disease of civilization. It scarcely exists among savages who live in the primitive state, but quickly appears among such people when the habits of civilization are adopted, especially indoor life. Life in the open air and sunshine gives vitality and health. The strongest minds have more faith in a remedy which is taken from nature, from the vegetable kingdom, than from any other source. A remedy which has enjoyed a grand reputation for the last third of a century is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, an alterative extract taken from barks, roots and herbs, without the use of a particle of alcohol or narcotics. This medicine goes to the root of disease by imitating nature's methods of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous force. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce coaxes the digestive functions and helps in the assimilation of food, or rather takes from the food just the nutriment the blood requires.

Along with its use one should take exercise in the outdoor air, get all one can of God's sunlight and air, and practice a mild breathing exercise each day. This "Medical Discovery" gives no false stimulation, because it does not contain alcohol or a narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. Instead of a cod liver oil, against which the already sensitive stomach will declare open rebellion, this tonic has a pacifying action upon the sensitive stomach and gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. It maintains nutrition by enabling one to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food. It overcomes gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and, in this way, fever, night-sweats, headaches, etc., are done away with. That is why "Golden Medical Discovery" is one of the best possible tonics in cases of bronchitis and consumption in its early stages, for it builds up the strength as well as soothes the cough. Many, many cases of bronchitis and incipient consumption have been cured by its use. Read what Mr. Lynch says about his case:

"About a year ago I had a very bad cough and feared it would run into consumption," writes Hon. Geo. W. Lynch, Ex-Alderman, and Treasurer Worcester Mutual Benefit Association, of 27 Mason St., Worcester, Mass. "When a severe attack of coughing would come on my stomach would get weak and a spell of vomiting would set in. This came generally after eating. Matter accumulated in nose and my tonsils were irritated. After reading of the wonderful cures resulting from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery began to use it, with some doubts as to the good it would do me, I am frank to say. But, after I had used one bottle I noticed quite a change for the better. Ordered five more bottles and before I had used them all the cure was complete. There is now no trace of cough or cold in my system, my stomach is in its normal condition, and, in fact, my health is perfect."

WHAT IS BETTER THAN RICHES?

Our claim is that health is better than riches any day, and that rich red blood means constant good health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It thus cures scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples, and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. The weak, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

No matter how powerful the intellect or the resources of intellectual power, it must be backed up by physical force. Every day the youth or man must manufacture a pint of rich, arterial blood, that is, pure, stimulating to the brain, and that can rebuild the tissues that were destroyed in yesterday's work.

"It has been about two months since I stopped using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes J. M. Venters, Esq., of Regina, Pike County, Ky. "I stayed down in Texas last year and contracted chills and fever while there. I came back to Kentucky and was about shaking my boots off my feet when I commenced using it. Had been suffering with chills and fever for twelve months. Took treatment from my doctor and tried many kinds of patent medicines, and all seemed to do me no good. Since I have used four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and one vial of his 'Pellets,' I feel well in every respect and weigh 186 pounds instead of only 149, my weight when I began its use. I advise the whole South to keep it in their homes all the time, and I will guarantee they will have no more chills and fever if used as directed."

Hon. Charlton Alexander Turner, 4650 Vincennes Ave., Chicago, Ill., Sir Knight Reporter, Rank, Knights of Pythias, writes: "I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with great success for rheumatism, and feel so pleased with the results that I want to tell others who may be suffering with this dreaded disease. This was my experience. For several years I suffered more or less with acute rheumatism, and if I was exposed to damp or chilly air my pains became nearly unbearable, so that I could not sleep nights or work in the day time. It seemed I had tried every remedy under the sun, and could not find anything to help me, until I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Used twelve bottles before I was cured, but now I enjoy perfect health, free from any pain or misery, and certainly am grateful to you for your remedy."

Dr. Pierce's medicines are standard, because used by the people of this country for nearly forty years, with bigger sales to-day than ever before. Is that not the true test?
