W. S. West, Cameron County.

WEATHER REPORT

Cooling clouds have softened conditions in Kimble County the past two days. Some sections of the county and adjoining counties have had rain, but thus far Junction has not been favored with any rain. It is cloudy today and everybody is hoping that we shall get rain soon. Range conditions are not very favorable, but with a few days for the grass and weeds to come out. The rainfall has been light in Junction. The following is the report by months as kept by Mr. E. Holekamp, the government weather man:

January	17
February	37
March	55
April	1.92
May	1.62
June	1.30
July	.00

"The Trysting Place" Junction, July 23rd

Bobth Tarkington's one-act farce, "The Trysting Place," is the first dramatic offering of Junction Dramatic Club. The play will be presented Wednesday, July 23rd, together with special entertainment features which will make up an hour and a half program.

The program is the first of a series which the Dramatic Club will put on during the summer. At their meeting last Monday evening the Club began work preparatory for the second program. It urges everyone who is interested in public entertainment to attend its weekly meetings, held each Monday night in the Chase building.

At the last meeting Miss Mary Ellis Blackburn, director of the Club, emphasized the need of a large and versatile organization. Dramatic interpretation is only one phase of the Club's work, for the theater with problems of staging, costuming, make-up, financing, advertising, etc., requires the combined resourcefulness of an artist and businessman. Because of this every person in Junction and the neighboring communities can have an active part in the presentation of the next program.

Rotary President Makes Committee Appointments

Roy Borden, recently elected president of the local Rotary Club, assumed his new duties last Thursday and proved his ability as a leader and presiding officer of the club.

He has appointed the following committees for the ensuing year:

Club Service

Classification—Coke Stevenson.

Program—Asa Farmer and Luther Hill.

Membership—Edgar McLendon and Clarence Atchison.

Fellowship and Attendance—Liburn Standifer and Bill Pat Riley.

Community Service

Emil Loeffler, V. P. Emmons and Guy Moses.

Vocational Service

Conrad Holekamp, Bob Loeffler, J. Holt Smith.

International Service

Milton Hill, Jim Hodges, George Pepper.

Boys' Work

Uncle Billie McKee, Charles McCarrall, Barney Ragland.

Other officers of the club are: John Hankins, secretary; Guy Moses, vice president; V. P. Emmons, treasurer.

Fort Terrett Lodge Installs Officers

The Fort Terrett Masonic Lodge at Roosevelt installed the following officers at the regular meeting last Saturday night:

J. F. Ragsdale, W. M.

J. J. Chapman, S. W.

Ernest Dunbar, J. W.

L. M. Taylor, Treas.

W. M. Taylor, Sec'y

Herbert Simon, S. D.

J. H. Davis, S. S.

E. N. Weaver, S. S.

Ben Simon, J. S.

Hal Holland, Tiler

Capt. H. W. Rieck, Hon. Coke R. Stevenson, and Mr. S. S. Bundy met a committee from Brady in Mason Tuesday to plan a program for the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association which will meet in Brady on July 30. The program will be given in the Eagle before the date of the meeting.

Judge Weaver H. Baker spent Wednesday at Harper attending the picnic and interviewing the voters in the east end of the county. Reports from all sections of the district indicate that Judge Baker will get a large majority for district attorney of the 112th district.

Chief Announces Program for Hill Country Meeting

Chief John M. Hankins and his loyal fire company are making plans for a big time when the Hill Country Association meets here on August 12. A business meeting will be held from 10 a. m. to 12 m. when the Junction Fire Department will serve luncheon to visiting firemen.

In the afternoon pumper races and demonstrations will be staged by the various departments of the association. Brady is now champion in the pumper race and will be the first up in the afternoon. The order the various teams will appear in this race is as follows: Brady, Menard, San Angelo, Eden, Sonora, Ballinger, Mason. Each team will be given only ten minutes on this part of the program. Following the pumper races will come the hose truck races. These teams will appear as follows: Brady Menard, San Angelo, Eden, Sonora, Rock-springs, Ballinger, Junction, Mason. This feature of the program will close at 4:30 when Junction will put on a demonstration.

Beginning at 5:00 o'clock bucket water fights will be staged by the various departments. From 6:30 to 7:30 a swimming party will be given the visitors and also a resuscitation demonstration will be given during the swimming party.

From 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce will serve all visiting firemen a dinner. Speakers from the fire departments will be given three minutes each. Representatives from the State Fire Insurance Commission will be asked to render a program from 8:30 to 9:30. A dance will follow this part of the program.

Chief Hankins states that it will be a full day and asks that visitors and homefolks co-operate to the fullest extent in following the program to the minute.

Tournament Begins In Miniature Golf

Dick Winn, manager of the Junction Miniature Golf Course, announces as winners of the cash prizes given the past two weeks, Ernest Randle for first week and Harrell Ramsey the second week in the men's contest, and Mrs. Irvin Jarvis for first week and Mrs. H. H. Bates for second week. He states further that the prize will be offered again this week.

A tournament will begin next Monday night and last two weeks in which three prizes will be offered. The tournament will be held on alternate nights, and Mr. Winn asks that all interested be present on Monday night in order to qualify for the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. McKee, of Junction, are at the present time vacationing in San Francisco where they are guests at the Hotel St. Francis. They are on an extensive vacation trip, having already spent a month touring the western part of the United States. They plan to spend a month or so in Southern California before returning to Junction.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Powell were Brady visitors on July 4th.

Lynch Davidson Wants Small and Young in Runoff

Lynch Davidson in an address delivered in Waco last Friday suggested to Texas voters to put Young of Kaufman and Small of Wellington in the second primary.

Among other things Davidson says that "Clint Small of Wellington and Jim Young of Kaufman are both men of unimpeachable integrity and honesty. Neither of them have been a part of these factional feuds and fights so far as I know. They may not suit all of us in their program of government, but are free of all the political brawls, entanglements and fuses that have made it impossible to secure reasonably decent administration of our state's affairs. Either of them will certainly make as able, if not a more able executive than any of the other candidates. It is my belief the people of Texas would serve themselves best by voting to eliminate in the first primary all candidates except Small and Young. Concentrate and center your vote on these two men. Put them into the second primary against each other and then decide which one you want. If the people of Texas will determine to do this and vote accordingly it will get rid of the Mayfields, Fergusons and Loves, wipe Sterling and his Road Bond issue off the map in the first primary, and insure new faces and a new deal at the state capitol."

While Davidson and many others are anxious to rid the State of the four mentioned above, many will be found who think that the only way to save the state is to elect one of them governor. It is now only two until the people will say by their votes who will enter the run-off primary.

Hon. Pat Murphy Will Speak Here Tonight

Hon. E. E. (Pat) Murphy candidate for Congress to succeed Hon. C. C. Hudspeth, who is not a candidate for re-election, will speak at Schreiner Park tonight (Thursday) at 8:30 o'clock. He speaks at Cedar Hill this afternoon at 4 o'clock and will come to Junction to address the voters.

Large crowds are hearing him daily and he feels that he will receive a majority of the votes in the first primary. His friends are active in the campaign throughout the district as is evidenced by the advertisements being run by them in the interest of Mr. Murphy.

This will be likely the last time he will be able to speak here and the voters should hear him discuss the issues tonight at Schreiner Park.

FOURTH OF JULY IS QUIET IN JUNCTION

Two flying flags, most of the stores closed and a few fire works at night were the only evidence of the Fourth of July in Junction. It had only been a few days since the two-day celebration in Junction, and many of our people wanted to attend the big Brady July Jubilee and the rodeo and stock show at Ozona. Some spent the day in Del Rio and across the border.

Old Friends

There is no friend like an old friend
You knew in your morning days,
No greeting like his welcome
No homage like his praise.
So-called fame is a scentless sunflower
With gaudy crown of gold;
But true friendship is a breathing rose,
With sweets in every fold.

Junction Takes 3 Games In a Row

Hitting the ball viciously and playing almost airtight ball, the locals won over Harper Tuesday by the score of 11 to 8. This is the third straight win by the boys since Hayden Lawler became manager.

The Junction team came from behind in the ninth inning when Blackburn singled through second to score two runs and tie the score. In the tenth inning Junction scored three runs on a walk, two errors and a hit. Red Jobs got a Ruthian swat in the fourth. It was one of the longest hits ever made in Harper. McWright, U. D. Kendrick and Grady Kendrick also hit for extra bases.

The locals play Rocksprings at Rocksprings next Sunday and Manager Lawler expects to make it four straight.

Batteries: Harper—Young, Cottle and Sageser. Junction—Sallee and Motley.

In the last four games the local boys have made a batting average of .357.

Golf Tournament Opens at Course Saturday, July 12

Mr. E. J. Hendricks announces that a golf tournament will begin at the course Saturday, July 12, and close on Sunday, August 3. Three prizes are offered—$4, $5 and $6 books of tickets. The four high men will compete for the first prize, the second four will compete for the second prize and the third four will compete for the third prize. The first four high men will not be permitted to compete for the second or third prize, and neither the first four high men nor the second four will be permitted to compete for the third prize. This will give those who do not claim to be extra good players a chance at, at least, the third prize.

The greens are now in the best condition they have been in at any time since the golf course was installed. Every town should have a golf course and those who play golf are requested to co-operate with Mr. Hendricks in making this tournament a real success. He has had some circulars printed and those who have friends in adjoining towns interested in golf should mail some of these circulars to them.

As stated in a previous issue the green fees have been reduced to 25 cents, which will place the game within reach of all who want to play. Mr. Hendricks believes that the people will appreciate this reduction in fees. He asks that all people interested in golf get started in the tournament at the beginning of the contest Saturday of this week.

Small Fire In West Junction Early Friday

A fire alarm was turned in at 12:45 Friday night by Mrs. Hyde Felps from a small vacant house in West Junction. The fire was noticed by Mr. Bishop, father of Mrs. Felps, and the roof of the building was falling in when the alarm was sounded. The boys made their usual quick run and soon had water on the flames. It had not been occupied in some time and the cause of the fire is unknown. The building belonged to Mr. P. F. Moegelen, who now lives in Del Rio. We did not learn whether there was any insurance or not.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Patterson and Mrs. N. S. Vaughan returned Tuesday from a week's vacation in many West Texas towns. Mr. Patterson's daughter, Mrs. J. S. Harrison, who was visiting here returned with them to her home at McCamy. He says that the West has had more rain than we have had in this section.

New Endurance Record Is Made By Hunter Bros.

More than 133 hours longer in the air than the Saint Louis Robin's previous record is the new record hung up by the Hunter Brothers when they landed the "City of Chicago" at the Sky Harbor Airport in Chicago on July Fourth after having been in the air 533 hours and 41½ minutes, or more than twenty-three days.

John and Kenneth Hunter had been in the air 533 hours and 41½ minutes, and even then they were willing to go on, but a clogged screen filter prevented their plane from getting oil and they had to make a hurried landing, touching earth at 5:21:30, Central Standard Time—more than 133 hours longer than the St. Louis Robins previous record.

Their second-hand monoplane still was serving them well at the end, and the motor was still droning out the monotone it had kept up through the long days and nights of flying in darkness and light, in fair weather, in wind and rain. But the frequent pouring of oil into the engine had clogged up the screen and, when the last contact was made five minutes before landing, no oil would enter. There was no choice but to come down, and they pulled away from the faithful Big Ben, the refueling ship piloted by Brothers Albert and Walter, and swung down to the field.

Miss Vivian James Duchess of Junction

The Duchess of Junction to the Court of Rocksprings to be held during the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' convention, is Miss Vivian James. She was elected by the membership of the Junction Dramatic Club at their meeting last Monday night.

Miss James will be escorted during the program by Mr. Jack King, and attended by two clown dancers, a jester, a page, and a lady and gentleman in waiting.

These people are to represent Junction when courts of West Texas towns are presented before the Queen of Rocksprings. The presentation will take place in the third episode of the pageant offered on Wednesday evening, July 16.

This pageant is to retrace the history of the growth of the goat and mohair industry in our south-west. Its scenes are to be those of early Texas, peopled with pioneers in these parts. Through three major episodes the story of Kimble County's most important industry is retold.

Mr. Ed Armstrong of Hondo is the pageantry director, and Mrs. V. P. Emmons is assistant director for Junction. Her committee who is assisting in preparing the Court of Junction is made up of Mary Ellis Blackburn, Mrs. Conde Hardeman, Melton Boyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Homann.

10,000 RAINBOW TROUT ARRIVE LAST WEEK

Game Warden Frank Cowsett and Mr. Steve Wright of Cisco returned last Thursday from Denver, Colorado, with 10,000 Rainbow trout that were placed in the hatchery near Kerrville. They will be turned loose in the Llano and other streams later in the season.

Recently Mr. Cowsett put in the South Llano 6,000 bass and 1,000 Rainbow trout. If fishermen will co-operate with the game warden's fishing will get better here each year. With the natural increase in the streams and the thousands released each year, fishing will be good.

The Kimble County Band is playing at the Cedar Hill barbecue today.

In Our Churches

CHURCH OF CHRIST

On account of meetings close by it has been impossible for us to have our young people's training class as we would have done otherwise. Beginning next Sunday evening at 8 p. m. we expect to start up this work again. It will be our purpose to train all to sing who will come and at the same time have a short Bible reading and lesson. Don't fail to be prompt at the 8 o'clock hour for this work. Remember that the Bible classes will meet for study at 10 a. m. as usual. All teachers are urged to be present for the work Sunday morning as the work has been dragging since the protracted meetings began.

Preaching at 11 a. m. Subject: "The Lord loveth the Gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob." Glorious things are spoken of these O city of God," Psalms 87:2-3.

Preaching at the evening hour at 8:30 p. m. At 2:30 p. m. we will have our regular business meeting of the church. We hope to have all members present if possible as we have some very important business to come before the brethren for their consideration.

J. S. Newman,
Minister.

OUR INVITATION—To you who would worship God, our Father; to you who would serve mankind; our brothers; to you who yearn for greater strength; to you who seek a broader vision; to you who desire forgiveness from sin, comfort in sorrow, victory over failure, and joy in living, in the name of Jesus Christ our Saviour and Friend, we extend our cordial INVITATION.

Sunday School at ten o'clock. Morning worship at eleven o'clock.

Sunday night at eight-thirty o'clock, Mr. Crofoot will preach at the Ivy school house.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet at the church Wednesday, July 16, at four p. m.

G. W. Crofoot,
Minister.

S. S. CLASS PARTY

Mr. L. R. Hodges entertained his Sunday School class Saturday afternoon on the Roy Skaggs ranch just east of Junction. Swimming and water baseball were indulged in freely by the boys. Other games were enjoyed until time to partake of the refreshments which seemed to be the most enjoyable part of the evening's fun. The refreshments consisted of roasted viennas, soda pop, apples, cookies and tomatoes.

The following were present: Verlan Skaggs, Carleton Massie, Kropff, Gilford Evans, Alton Kirkpatrick, Lloyd Kirkpatrick, Leon Turner, C. W. McCarroll, Leslie Crabb and the teacher, L. R. Hodges.

CORRECTION

In giving the names of those who attended the turkey dinner at Andrew Wood's last week it was stated that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mears were present and it should have been Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murr. We are sorry that the error was made, because we know that it would be difficult to find anyone that age of Uncle Henry Murr that can equal him at a turkey dinner.

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body must have every day to function properly) purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts.

Take a half teaspoon every morning in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85c bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at The Heyman Drug Store or any progressive druggist in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

SPICE CUP CAKE

One-third cup shortening, one cup brown sugar, three-quarters cup pastry flour, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon soda, one-half cup sour milk, one-half cup mince meat, one-quarter cup walnuts. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and the well-beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk. Then add the mince meat and the nuts flour. Pour into greased cup cake pans and bake in a moderately hot oven 25 minutes.

JOHNE'S DISEASE

Livestock owners must depend on prevention to avoid Johne's disease of cattle. There is no known cure for this infectious dysentery, says the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. It spreads from herd to herd when diseased animals are introduced into clean herds, when diseased animals graze on community pastures with healthy stock. Slow-running brooks may carry the infection. From animal to animal in a herd it is spread by germs from diseased animals that contaminate the feed and water. Ponds, sloughs, water troughs, and feed boxes may be sources of infection. It is not good practice to feed hay and fodder on the ground where it may become contaminated. The first symptoms of Johne's disease are temporary loss of appetite, and—in cows—lessening of the milk flow, followed by diarrhea.

GREATNESS

That man is great
Who meets his place
Who, without flinching,
Squares, face to face;
Who, without flinching,
Labors at his tasks
And, for himself,
No favor ever asks.

That man is great
By every human test
Who, without murmur,
Gives to life his best;
Who is to others
Tenderly inclined
But never asks
His neighbor to be kind.

That man is great
Whatever critics say
Who, for himself,
Prefers the sterner way.
And in his heart
Has pity to bestow,
But to himself
No pity cares to show.

That man is great
Whatever be his post,
Who asks the least
And gladly gives the most,
Who holds himself
A righteous life to live
And yet the faults
Of others can forgive.
—Edgar A. Guest.

LONDON LOCALS

Mrs. Owen Amson and children, and Victoria and Frances Brewer went to the Jones ranch Wednesday of last to keep Mrs. W. C. Jones company while Bill attended the Old Settlers Reunion at Bandera.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Walton left Wednesday of last week for Acampo, California, where they expect to make their future home.

Misses Lola B. and Baby D. McCollum of Alpine are visiting in the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kothmann. These young ladies are natives of London and it doesn't seem possible for them to be grown young women. This is a reminder that we older ones are swiftly passing on toward the end of the stage where we will step off and out of the way. I am glad it is so.

Quite a number of our people attended the Brady celebration. All report a good time.

Mrs. G. Lewis left the 7th for Denton where she will spend a few days with her son, J. H. Lewis, and family, then return to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ledford Williams, near Fort Worth for her summer vacation.

Mr. Rankin Kothmann who is attending Baylor University, came in to spend the 4th with home folks. In order to make it a day of real pleasure he took his sisters Misses Loree and Ruth, and his cousins Misses Lola Bess and Dena McCollum, down to his ranch near Mountain Home to a picnic and to look after his ranch interest.

Mr. T. J. Lange and family will move to London this week. We are glad to have this good family become a part of our citizenship. We understand they will open a cafe in the north part of the D. B. Pearl building and we expect them to succeed in whatever business they may enter.

Mr. W. C. Swinney and family attended the Old Settlers Reunion at Bandera last week. They report a real good time.

The London Graphic and family is moving and being moved from the Alamo building to the E. P. Furr residence this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Walton of Wichita Falls is here the guest of Milton's grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Walton. Milton was raised here and has many relatives and friends at this place.

Mrs. G. C. Amberson of San Antonio is here to see relatives and friends, and looking after her interest too.

J. C. Goodman and family were in from the farm Saturday.

Mr. Ernest Copeland has us all guessing. He says he is married to a real woman, but he also states his wife is not married to anything, therefore is not married at all. Can't figure it out just to an exact conclusion.

O. D. Price and family were in from the farm Saturday. Dad was very busy spinning yarns with the boys all evening.

It is good to see Walton Kothmann hitting regular in all again. He has discarded his crutches.

Rex Lavelle was in town Saturday. In conversation with the writer he stated he had a shower of rain Saturday evening. Just enough to make everything look like it had been scalded. He also stated that he can tell to a line where he plowed his ground early. The crop is much better and farther advanced. This is evidence that our contention is right—that it is better to break your ground early.

It appears there is much being said both in the U. S. and in foreign countries about the Sherman mob, especially does a bunch of negroes encouraged by designing white men of Springfield, Mass. Wearing the high-sounding name of Nat-As-sociation for the advance of colored people, take the State of Texas to a severe criticism. Think of those half civilized hyenas wearing a name of Nat'l Advancement, etc., taking the liberty to criticize the white man of Texas. All the advancement they ever made and all they ever will make was, and will be, under the guidance of the white man.

I am bitterly opposed to mob violence and I regret very much that such disturbances ever arise in this great State of ours, but, so long as a white woman is mal-treated by black beasts no censure of Europe or criticism of negro organizations can save them from the wrath of white men, and that will apply to all sections of our country, north, South, East and West.

When such a brutal act is committed as was committed against the white woman at Sherman, followed by vengeance of a mob, I first feel indignant that white men will allow themselves to become so insane, and then it is that I ask myself this question: What would you do if it was your mother, wife, sister, daughter, friend or neighbor? And before the question is half answered I am left without censure for the men censured.

If the advancement bunch will remove the cause, the effect can never exist. Try it, Bud.

BRASIER-BROWN

Immediately following the evening services on Sunday night, June 29, 1930, in Grace Episcopal Church in Port Lavaca, Texas, a very pretty wedding was solemnized when Miss Freda Frances Brasier, only child of Rev. Frederic M. and Mrs. Brasier of Kerrville, Texas, and Mr. Coke Fowler Brown, Jr., of Austin were united in marriage by the father of the bride.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of powder blue chiffon and a small white felt hat. She carried an arm bouquet of radiance roses.

Miss Reubie Boyd, bridesmaid, also wore an attractive gown of the same color and material as the bride.

The groom was attended by Peter Elder of this city.

The church where the young lady had heard many interesting sermons preached by her father made a beautiful setting for the occasion, having been beautifully decorated.

The bride will be remembered by her many friends here as a charming and popular young lady. It was the beautiful memories of her residence here that caused her to choose this town as the place of her wedding—Port Lavaca, Texas.

Mr. S. S. Bundy was in from his ranch this week looking after business matters.

Mr. Dave Turner continues critically ill at his home in Junction. He has been confined to his bed several months.

Mrs. Ned Manning and son, Bobbie, and brother, Lane Johnson of Tucson, Arizona, were guests last Wednesday night and Thursday of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hodges on the ranch, also with Lane Hodges and family of Junction. They were enroute to Harwood to visit their father, W. A. Johnson and other relatives.

Mr. Joe Maddux and family were shopping in Junction Saturday.

Messrs. Allen and James are baling hay on their farm this week.

Sam Freeman was shopping in Junction Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Corder and daughter visited her mother, Mrs. J. L. Freeman this week.

Lem Fleming moved the Lane Hodges house to his place last week which he had purchased recently.

Mrs. F. M. Hodges had as her guest last week-end her nephew, Mr. Bayless Lane, and wife, mother, brother Jesse, and sister Ada Lee Lane, of San Antonio.

LITTLE SALINE SAYINGS

All the crops are needing rain. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Otte went to Mason and Brady Monday on business.

Mrs. Jesse Otte left for Llano Monday to visit her folks for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Walker and family went to Menard Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pearl, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. D'Spain and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Dock D'Spain, Mr. Estel Otte and Miss Nell Doran went to Tea Cup Sunday to preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Rogers were up here Friday night. They brought their little daughter to the doctor at London.

Mrs. Fannie Rogers has had fever for several days.

UNDER THE STERLING PLAN TAXES WILL BE REDUCED IN KIMBLE COUNTY

The taxpayers of Kimble County, including the farmers, homeowners and business men are now assessed an average tax of approximately 55 cents on the $100 valuation to pay for the construction of State Highways, a tax that should be borne by the State.

Under The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan

the State will assume this obligation and pay for it out of the gasoline tax.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan will place the burden of paying for the state roads your county has built on the traffic, where it belongs.

The Sterling Plan will provide the state with adequate funds to build a connected state system of hard surfaced, all-weather highways and for paving the gaps over the state without county aid and without increasing the gasoline tax one penny.

R. S. STERLING
Houston
Candidate for Governor

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan provides that no property tax shall ever be levied to carry out its purposes.

LOWER TAXES

Explanatory Note.—The estimated reduction in the tax rate has been calculated in accordance with the best available information. The exact figure will depend upon varying conditions in each county. But that a material reduction of the ad valorem taxes would be affected under the plan is certain.

Miss Nobody from Nowhere

BY ELIZABETH JORDAN

TENTH INSTALLMENT

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

A young woman who knows only that her name is "Eve" finds herself standing on a Fifth Avenue corner. She has no idea how she came there or even what city it is. There is nothing about her with which she can identify herself. While a policeman is talking to her a young man, Eric Hamilton, steps. Seeing that she is in trouble, he tells her he has seen her at the hotel where they are both stopping. He takes her to the hotel French as "Miss Eve Nobody of Nowhere." Hamilton, a specialist in nervous troubles, Eve, terrified, clades the doctor and through a French porter in the hotel, who says he once saw her in France but does not remember her name, she finds a cheap apartment in an obscure part of town. In the next apartment lives Ivy Davenport, a cabaret dancer with a weak heart. She is friendly and persuades Eve to go to "Jake's" and take her place until she is better. Her job at Jake's is to entertain the men at the tables and to dance with them. The other girls there are crude but kindly and Eve finds the work not as difficult as she had expected. She is known there as Miss Benson. She meets a young man named Hunt, who frankly tells her that she doesn't belong there. The atmosphere of Jake's is not like the atmosphere of a hotel, but she does not know how to do anything else, so she stays. When Jake gives her the offer of a permanent job which takes her out of the evening when she is talking to the friendly young man named Hunt one of the other girls tells her there is a man from the West whom Jake wants her to entertain.

Now Go On With the Story

Her own life, Eve was beginning to think, would mean acceptance and reconstruction. Marcel and Leon seemed broken reeds, and her present condition might go on indefinitely. If it did, she would at least continue temporarily in this new environment. She was helping Ivy, whom she had persuaded to see a specialist and follow his treatment. Miss Morris had hinted that she would like to learn some French, and had added frankly:

"Some English, too, teacher. Don't think I ain't wise to the way I spill words."

Even Stella was more human with Eve than with others, and on one occasion had sought the novice's apartment to make a tearful confidence of a sort not often given. Eve gathered that Stella had so far forgotten her prejudice against men as to fall in love with one of the reg'lars at Jake's, and to throw herself violently at the head of the unappreciative young man. When he failed to respond she sent him notes.

When he ceased coming to Jake's, obviously to avoid her, she called at his rooms late one afternoon and waited there until he came home.

At this point in the account she gave Eve, Stella's sobs grew to loud that Eve feared they might draw Miss Davenport from the next apartment. She mentioned this danger to the raconteuse, who stifled the expression of her grief. It was no part of Stella's plan to make Ivy a confidante. But her plain face was tear-streaked as she went on, and Eve experienced a deep sympathy not only for her but for the reg'lars who had been subjected to this sort of scene. There may be girls who are beautiful when they weep. Poor Stella was not among them.

"I let 'em see why I was there," Stella gulped, "an' he was that polite he broke my heart. I'd taken off my coat an' hat before he came in, for of course I thought he'd keep me to dinner anyway. Don't they always, in stories an' pictures? But he didn't. He got my hat an' coat, an' he put 'em on gentle an' kind, like he was dressin' a kid, with soothin' noises, an' he told me I was too nice a girl to put myself in a compromisin' position. Wasn't that the el'phants' knuckles! An' he got me to the door an' outside it, an' the first I knew he had the elevator up and was puttin' me in it an' sayin' good-by. Oh, Benson, it was awful! For of course I caught on then, right off. I seen I was a woman scorned!"

The phrase seemed to please Stella, for she tried it again on a higher key.

"A woman scorned," she repeated. "Benson, I give you my word I cried all the way home. Now, what d'you think I ought to do? Give him up?"

"Yes, Stella, Eve said, with a straight face and a comforting pat on the girl's shaking shoulders. "If I were you I'd give him up."

She had believed that, with the possible exception of Queenie, Stella had the keenest sense of humor of any one at Jake's.

Now she realized anew that one's sense of humor often perishes under the first assault of one's emotional nature.

"Well, if you say so, I will," Stella agreed with a pathetic sniffle; and she drifted away, greatly relieved by an outburst to which she never again referred.

Yes, one could do a little for these girls, Eve reflected, as she depressedly walked at Hunt's side. She was earning money, too, and saving most of it, and beginning her readjustment, and doing her sleeping in the daytime, and not having to face black nights. Yet, admitting all these things, her panic returned in some in some degree every time she met strangers. Tonight she told herself she had been mad to come. Deep within her an alarm was sounding, softly but persistently. It grew louder as she approached the man at the corner table. He had risen, and stood watching her with an air of tense expectancy. He took a quick step forward when she reached the table, and then under her conventional smile stopped short with a look of incredulous stupefaction.

He was a big man, six feet tall, smooth-faced, of dark complexion, middle-aged, and inclined to stoutness. He had a large head covered with thick gray hair, brushed straight back from a good forehead. His gray eyes, just now fixed unswervingly on hers, were partly concealed by the thick lenses of the horn-rimmed spectacles he wore. They had the peering look of the near-sighted, and this constant effort to see clearly had lined his forehead and tufted his thick gray eyebrows. "I wish I knew what this meant," he said at last. "Perhaps you'll tell me. But take your time."

She made two efforts before she could speak. He was some one she had known, but her inner panic proved that he was also someone she had reason to fear. She did not know him now, and she would let him see that she did not. It seemed the safest course.

"I'm always rather nervous with strangers," she admitted, and then asked breathlessly, "Would you care to dance?"

He laughed at that, on a sudden harsh note; and again he took his time to speak, his eyes on the cigar as if he were thinking deeply.

"Strangers," he repeated. "Strangers?"

"I think," she suggested, "you are mistaking me for someone you imagine you know."

He straightened as if she had struck him.

"My God! are you telling me I don't know you?" he cried. "I think you're misled by a strong likeness. There are some amazing resemblances, you know."

Jake passed the table as she spoke, glancing at the pair, and hesitated. Eve did not see him, but the stranger did.

"Jake says you're working for him," he brought out with difficulty. "He tells me you're substituting for another girl. That's about the limit, but we won't go into it now. However, I know the rules of the cabaret game. I mustn't take the time of his people for nothing. So here's a sop to him."

With extreme deliberation he took a roll of bills from his pocket, pulled off a ten-dollar bank-note, and tossed it on the table before her. In her increasing panic she hardly observed the action.

The stranger saw that Jake had passed on, and his manner changed as abruptly as if some nerve in him, tense till now, had suddenly snapped.

"Well, young lady," he rasped out, "it's time to drop this chicanery of yours and come to an understanding."

Eve stared at the man in a frozen silence.

"I don't understand," she faltered, after a brief duel of eyes between them.

He smiled wryly.

"I'm afraid neither of us is meeting this very well," he said warily. "I'll admit it's too much for me. But we'll understand each other all right when we've had our talk. Go and put on your coat and we'll get out. This is no place for you, and God alone knows why you came here."

Eve stood up quickly. She must end this nightmare. "I must go to the dressing-room and get my wrap," she said.

Queenie was in the dressing-room. Eve caught her arm.

"Is there any back way out of this place?" she asked desperately. Her expression forbade questions and Miss Morris rallied to the obvious crisis of the moment.

"Sure there is!" she remembered. "The boys' dressin'-room has a window on the back alley."

She hurried Eve across the room, and with an emphatic push helped her through the window that opened on the ally.

It was all quite simple now. Three taxicabs stood in a waiting line just around the corner, in front of the side door, and with a crisp command she entered the first.

"Sixth Avenue and Fortieth Street, quick, please," she directed; and the chauffeur, who seemed used to such instructions, started with a suddenness that made her bite her tongue.

She paid him and left the taxicab at the point she had indicated, and when the cab was out of sight she took another that was passing, and ordered herself driven downtown. The Garland, she had decided, was her only refuge. She dared not return to the apartment to which she could so easily be traced, and no other good hotel she knew of would take her in at that hour of the night without luggage and in evening clothes.

During the swift journey, she planned her story for the hotel clerk. If Jenkins, the night man, was on duty, she was sure he would take her in. She left the cab a block from the Garland and walked the remaining distance; and her panic lifted a trifle when she entered the lobby and saw the plump face of Jenkins confronting her across the night desk.

"Oh, Mr. Jenkins," she began with a desperate effort to speak naturally, "perhaps you remember me—"

"Miss Parsons?" Of course. How do you do? I can give you the same rooms you had before.

if you like," he hospitably added. "They're vacant."

"Thank you, yes; I'd like that very much."

Eve took her key, gave him a forced smile, and went on to the elevator, breathing more naturally.

A warm bath partly soothed her, the familiar bed was comfortable, and the quiet neighborhood was free from the car-clanging that had disturbed her at the apartment. With a mighty effort of will she tried to draw mental shutters between memory and the episodes of the night, but the gray-haired stranger pushed back those shutters, with compelling hands. The room seemed full of him. The very world seemed full of him, and of some horror connected with him.

The horror was worse than the man himself, because it was intangible. Like those trailing ends she was always striving to catch, it lay beyond her reach, just back of him. . . . In some way he was connected with it all . . . he was in the very heart of it. At moments she was just within grasp of what it was . . . something lifted, lightened, and suddenly darkened again even as she was holding her breath in dawning understanding. She was convinced that she had fled to avoid him and that to return to her normal self would be to return to him. . . .

The sun rose, bringing with it, first, endurance, then reviving courage. She was awakened by a tinkle, sharply imperative. The telephone was in her sitting-room and she rose to answer it. At the first words that came over the wire her heart caught, then leaped, and reviving courage lifted her like a wave.

"Miss Parsons?" It was Hamilton's warm and friendly voice, holding the thrill of controlled excitement. "Robinson has just told me that you're back," he continued, "and it seems too good to be true. I don't want to be a nuisance, of course—"

"Oh, I shall be glad to see you!" Eve gasped. "You can't imagine how glad I'll be. But—" with an effort she controlled her shaking voice—"I shan't be around to it for a couple of hours. I'm just awake. Will eleven o'clock be convenient for you?"

The last of her panic had slunk away at the sound of Hamilton's voice. With Hamilton in the hotel she was safe.

She rang for the chambermaid, who came promptly, and offered the girl five dollars for the loan of a hat, a dress, a coat, and a pair of shoes.

The clothes fitted fairly well, as she had expected them to do, after her first glance at Margaret's trim figure, but the general effect was that of a young working girl of a flamboyant type.

An impulse came to her and she stopped to consider it. (Continued next week)

RANCHMEN'S ROUND-UP POSTPONED

Announcement is made by A. B. Conner, Director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, that the Annual Ranchmen's Roundup usually held during the month of August at Sonora, will be postponed until next year. The Ranchmen's Roundup is held under the auspices of the Ranch Experiment Station, the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, and other interested ranchmen of the Edwards Plateau region.

Inasmuch as needed improvements under way at the Ranch Station will not only provide better equipment for the work, but better facilities for the Roundup at a later date, it was decided to defer this meeting until next year and bend every effort toward having the biggest and best meeting in 1931 ever held in the ranch country. The Station is exerting every effort to thoroughly equip a veterinary laboratory in order to be in position to make more rapid progress in the study of sheep and goat disease problems of importance to the region. In view of these conditions and the further fact that numerous other events and meetings will be held this year, it seems advisable to take this action in preparation for more effective work by the Ranch Experiment Station, and better facilities for holding the meeting in 1931.

AMONG OUR SUBSCRIBERS

We want our readers to know that we appreciate the kind words said about the Eagle when they send in their renewals. E. L. Barker, who lives on the Texas-New Mexico line, says that we get out a good new way paper and that he hopes to visit Kimble County before long. Mrs. French Murphy in sending in her renewal says that she could not do without the paper. She says that we condense and classify the items into very readable material. We receive many kind expressions from week to week for which we thank our subscribers.

The following renewals have been received during the past few days:

Ben F. Neal, Kerrville Route; W. H. Whitworth, Noxville; Mrs. French Murphy, Nacogdoches; Rev. G. W. Crofoot, Junction; Pat Williams, Junction; Joe B. Maddux, Junction; L. M. Taylor, Roosevelt; E. L. Concho County Fair Dates Oct. 2, 3 and 4

Definite plans for the 1930 Concho County Fair are now under way and plans are being so well laid that it will be the best in the history of the organization. The dates were not announced until last week, in order not to conflict with the dates of the adjoining cities. They are October 2, 3 and 4. Last year the Fair was held in the early days of September, and it was unable to hold the complete program of entertainment on account of the big rains. The dates were moved back this year in hopes of missing the rainy season and on account of the prospects for late crops. Also, these dates fall after the San Angelo Exposition and will enable the local committee to secure the pick of the racing stock from that affair for the races here. Those who had entries here last year are anxious to come back for the meet this year. It is understood that Jimmy Morton, veteran horseman and friend of every breeder in West Texas will be here to handle the racing card again.

Other department heads named by the president, H. E. Woods, are: Tom Schafer and Fred Hall, registered sheep; John Batchelor, boys' club beavers; Troy Sparks, agricultural department; S. R. Williams, poultry department. — Eden Echo.

ANCIENT AUTOS CAUSE MANY MOTOR ACCIDENTS

Finding that ancient motor cars, in all sorts of physical decrepitude, are responsible for 15 per cent of the 33,060 fatal motor accidents in 1929, the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety has recommended rigid inspection requirements of old cars before licenses will be issued. Need for periodic inspection of all automobiles as to the condition of brakes, lights, steering gear and other mechanical parts is stressed.

NEW FEDERAL HIGHWAYS

Five additional highways for Texas were designated in Washington recently. Extension of U. S. Highway No. 67 from Dallas to Presidio through Cleburne, Glen Rose, Stephenville, Brownwood, San Angelo, Fort Stockton and Alpine was one of the projects. Extension of No. 77 Oklahoma City to Denton to Fort Worth was another, to be known as No. 377. Highway No. 83, running from Perryton, Ochiltree County, to Brownsville, a distance of 860 miles and the longest state highway in the United States was a third. No. 60 was extended from Enid, Okla., to Amarillo, Texas, and the fifth was approval of the Carlsbad Cavern route from the Oklahoma state line through Paducah to Lubbock.

$62,500 Waiting For Confederate Vets and Widows

Austin, July 3.—About 2,500 confederate veterans and widows still have pension checks totaling over $62,500 awaiting them which the state is anxious to put into their hands, it was stated at Compt. George H. Sheppard's office.

These represent payments available July 1 when the monthly pension payment plan went into effect. The checks have been held up because the veterans or widows failed to send in necessary affidavits.

Mr. Sheppard's office has mailed out over $225,000 in 8,500 pension checks payable July 1.

Pensioners who haven't done so should promptly forward the customary affidavits, so that they may get their money, it was stated at the pension division. Writing letters, rather than sending in the required affidavits will merely delay the payment of the pensions, Mr. Sheppard's office pointed out. The affidavits will be required each month.

Veterans having living wives receive $50 per month. All others, veterans and widows, get $25 per month. Those in the Confederate homes get one-half the amount to which they otherwise would be entitled.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

Mrs. Cleve Stephen and daughter, Miss Vivian James, and Mrs. C. W. McCarroll honored Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McLendon, a recent bride and groom, with a miscellaneous shower at the Hodges Hotel Tuesday evening. It came as a surprise to them. They were invited to the Miniature Golf course for a game of golf, and after the game invited into the hotel where a large number of their friends had assembled.

Mrs. Conde Hardeman opened the program with a reading entitled, "In the Usual Way," in her pleasing manner which was enjoyed by the guests present. This was followed by a vocal solo, "Always," by Mrs. C. W. McCarroll, accompanied at the piano by Miss Vivian James. "A Floral Wedding," consisting of twenty-four questions pertaining to a marriage, the answer to each one being the name of a flower, engaged the attention of everyone for twelve minutes. At the end of this time the grading of the papers revealed that the bride and groom were the leaders, having answered nineteen correctly. The bride received a box of handkerchiefs and the groom a cake as a reward for their knowledge of flowers.

Following the contest Mrs. Mattie Patterson rendered, to the delight of all, a number, "To Marry—or Not to Marry," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. C. W. McCarroll. It is generally known that the groom, J. W. McLendon, is a student in a medical college, and Jack King, representing J. W. as returning from a trip abroad in 1940 as an M. D. with his case of medicine and surgical instruments. The medicine consisted of various bottles of medicine and nostrums and shears, butcher knives and similar tools as surgical instruments. When the cases were opened they contained many useful articles presented by the guests. Jack performed his part well and was generously applauded.

Punch and cake were served to the following:
Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Standifer, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Borden, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McLendon, Mesdames J. W. Boone, Mattie Patterson, Conde Hardeman, Cleve Stephen, C. W. McCarroll, Roy Reynolds, Joe Ramsey, Jim Massie, Lucy Motley, Messrs. Llano Boone, Jack King, John D. Hickerson, Misses Maggie Surber, Margaret Hubbell, Vivian James, Gussie Boone, Bernice Sutton and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McLendon.

Mrs. A. W. Loeffler and little daughter, Adrienne, and mother, Mrs. Ada Dockery, returned Sunday from San Antonio where they have been for several weeks. They returned with A. W. who went down Saturday evening and are glad to get back into the Hill Country where it is not so warm.

Hon. M. L. Burkhead of El Paso, candidate for Congress advocating the repeal or modification of the 18th amendment, was a Junction visitor Monday. He believes in government control of the liquor traffic. He stated to the Eagle reporter that he is meeting with encouragement wherever he goes.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds had as their guests during the 4th of July holidays, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Branton and two grandchildren of Tuscola, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Cash and children of San Bonita, and Dr. and Mrs. W. A. V. Cash of Abilene. They visited 700 Springs on Sunday.

Hon. E. E. (Pat) Murphy is scheduled to speak here this evening. He is getting large crowds wherever he goes and his friends here urge the people to hear him at Schreiner Park at 8:30 tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Forman of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wood are visiting in Del Rio this week. Of course they are spending some time across the border.

Mrs. Philip Joseph, Miss Bernice Sutton and Mrs. R. Barnes were Kerrville visitors last Sunday. They met Miss Helen Barnes who was returning from San Antonio.

Mr. A. W. Browning was a business visitor to Comfort yesterday. He reports good rain in the Kerrville territory.

Ford Sales Lead Increasing

Out of 622 new cars and trucks registered in Bexar County during the month of June, 295 were Fords which is 47.4% of all cars sold in the county.

In Wayne County, Michigan, in which Detroit is located, Ford registrations show 5,888 Model A against 1256 for the next nearest competitor. In the commercial line, 373 were Fords against 101 for the next nearest. 59% of all cars sold in this County during the month of May were Fords.

Of all sales during January, February, March and April this year 428,242 were Ford against 253,399 for the nearest competitor. For May this year Ford shows sales of 86,230 against 50,294 for the next nearest, giving Ford a lead over his nearest competitor for the month of 35,936 cars.

The OUTSTANDING performance of the Model A in actual use by all kinds of owners over all kinds of roads and Henry Ford's policy of giving the purchaser a car value far above the price, Low in FIRST cost and Most economical in upkeep are responsible for the enormous lead in sales over all other makes of cars today.

Think it over. There is a reason. Buy a Ford and SAVE the DIFFERENCE.

L. W. W. CLUB

The L. W. W. Club met Wednesday, July 9, at the home of Nevada Blackburn. Contests, sewing and a wedding performed in clothes of several years ago made up the afternoon's program. A business meeting followed.

Ice tea, bread and butter sandwiches, pear salad and cheese straws were served to the following members:

Elsie Bessent, Benita Barnes, Ruby Davis, Eleanor Highsmith, Vivienne Livingston, Ruth Sandherr, Stella Bissett, Sarah Alice Witt, Lucille Motley, Paulee Linn, Lenora Ligon of Fort Stockton and the hostess. The next meeting will be held with Ruby Davis. Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Newman and party of San Antonio spent the week-end camping on the Llano. They were joined on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. George Cavaness and Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jetton, and son, Lester, and their father.

R. R. Tomlinson, a Jetton Dairy employee, and family spent last week-end in and around Brady visiting relatives and sampling the country's peaches and watermelons. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. Tomlinson's grandfather.

Mr. Carl Taff received the sad news Monday evening that a brother, Walter Taff, had died suddenly in Decatur, Illinois. He had not been in Texas since before the World War. He saw overseas service and settled in Illinois on his return to the states. Carl did not receive any of the particulars in the message telling of his brother's brief illness and death.

Misses Blackie and Brownie Motley left Monday for an extended visit with Mrs. B. W. Warren in Houston.

Junction is attending the barbecue at Cedar Hill today in large numbers. The band left about noon to furnish music during the afternoon.

Can Vegetables and Plant Feed

This is the time of year when there is a surplus of vegetables. The most prosperous communities are those where all the surplus vegetables, fruit and even poultry are canned. With pressure cookers everything that can not be sold at a fair price can be put in cans for family use.

Local merchants are now offering for sale peaches canned in the London community last season, and they have a better flavor than the best grade of the commercial canned fruit brought here. Kimble County has some fine fruit and vegetable land and one of the best ways to diversify is to plant fruit and vegetables.

It is not too late to plant hegari and some other feed-stuff. The unfavorable outlook for the price of cotton behooves everyone who has even a few acres to plant some kind of feed. Can your fruit and vegetables that can not be sold at a fair price, plant all the feed you can, keep a cow or two, a few hogs, and 100 or more hens and you will not experience the hard times of those who will not diversify.
