Act Slated To Be Effective On August 9

House Approves Bill As Passed By Upper Body

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, April 15—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson said today that he will sign the loan shark injunction bill this afternoon. Authors of the bill have been invited to be present when he signs.

The bill was passed finally yesterday afternoon when the house voted 74 ayes to 52 noes on the bill just as it had been passed by the senate.

The measure will become effective on Aug. 9.

Gov. Kerr Heard

It authorizes injunctions against habitual usurers and defines them as persons convicted of usury three times within six months. Legal rate of interest is 10 per cent a year with legitimate expenses allowed. Banks are allowed to make the charges specified in the state banking code. Other expenses are limited to $1 on each $50 of a loan.

A vote that forecast a close senate division on the chiropractic bill before the Texas legislature was taken this morning.

The vote was 10 ayes and 12 noes upon an attempt to table a motion to re-refer the bill to the senate health committee. The direct vote on re-referring the bill was postponed when the senate went into joint session with the house to hear an address by Gov. Robt. S. Kerr of Oklahoma.

Oppose Bureau Change

The senate adopted a double-barreled resolution opposing the federal unemployment compensation commission taking over the functions of the state unemployment compensation commission which has built up a $90,000,000 surplus, and calling on the federal government not to raise salaries in the state employment services, borrowed from the state for the war duration, above the level of state salaries. To do so the resolution said, would create a strong lobby for federalization of both

Scholastic Aid Hike Approved

AUSTIN, April 15. (U.P.)—In a session which began at 8 p. m. Wednesday and lasted until 12:30 a. m. today the Texas house of representatives passed finally and sent to the senate many bills including one to raise the state's annual contribution to school districts to $27.50 for each scholastic.

The vote was 114 ayes to 5 noes on this bill. Under present law the maximum apportionment is $22.50.

Students In Gallery

The meeting was enlivened by a gallery of nearly 300 University of Texas students supporting a bill by Rep. John Bell of Cuero to require payment of a student tax of $1 per semester to support the student union building, center of student activities. At one time the students cheered so loudly that the acting speaker threatened to clear the galleries.

The house adopted an amendment to make the fee optional rather than compulsory. Even with this change the bill was merely engrossed and lacked enough support for immediate final action.

Candidate Bill Talked

Echoes of a past election when two members of the railroad commission and a member of the highway commission were candidates for governor while holding their offices came out in discussion of a bill by Rep. Hugh Wood of Bron-

Ration Book No. 3 To Be Issued Soon

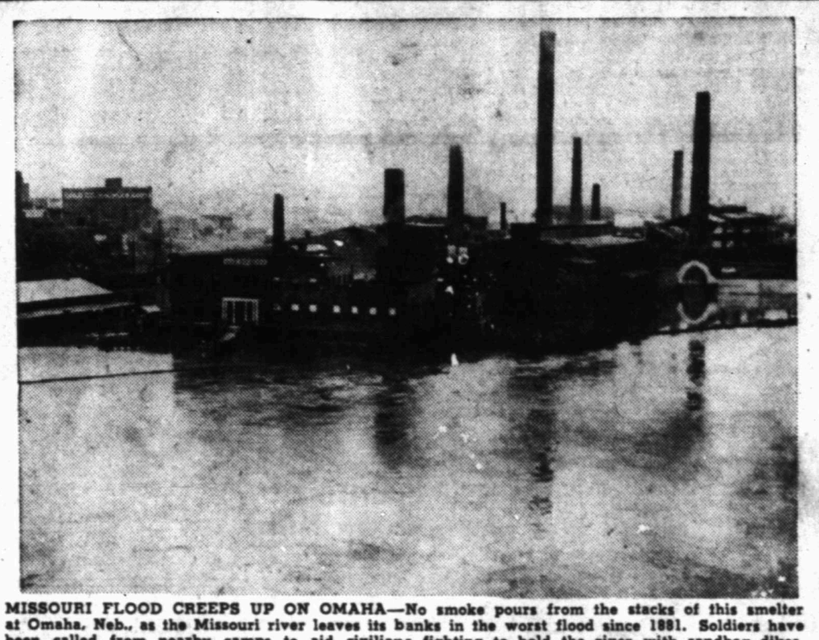

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—OPA officials disclosed today that ration book No. 3 will be issued soon, probably late in July, but will be used primarily for shoes, sugar and coffee as soon as book No. 1 runs out of stamps.

The No. 3 volume issue also may be used to provide a couple more months of canned goods and meat stamps, since it was designed to handle both point and unit system of rationing.

Officials said they had no intention of using the No. 3 book to ration any new commodities, but could make no promises because of the theoretical possibilities of special emergencies. Books 4, 5 and 6 are in the design stage, so No. 3 probably would not be needed for new rationing if any did become necessary.

More Than One-Third Of Quota Raised In War Bond Campaign

Morgenthau Says Pay Deductions Not High Enough

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau reported today the Treasury already has raised more than one-third of the $13,000,000,000 sought in the second war loan campaign which opened Monday.

The secretary told his press conference that subscriptions up to last night from both banking and non-banking sources totaled $5,253,000,000.

While expressing pleasure at the progress of the campaign so far, Morgenthau cautioned that "we still have a hard road ahead."

"Sight-Raising" Asked

The Treasury already has called on the public to raise the sights on its help for Uncle Sam.

The figures made public today, the secretary said, do not include several large subscriptions from insurance companies which were reported to have totaled nearly $1,000,000,000.

Morgenthau stated that oversubscription by banks of the seven-eighths certificates was one of the biggest responses to Treasury offerings on record.

50 Million Buyers

The Treasury reports that 50 million people have bought bonds since they first went on sale before the war and that 26 million of them are steadily buying more through payroll deduction plans but—

Those deductions are averaging 9 per cent of the money being earned by workers.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau now says that percentage is not enough and that individuals should invest from 15 to 20 per cent of

Lubbock County Bond Quota Is Exceeded; Drive To Continue

"Of course we're overjoyed at the wonderful response given the Second War Loan drive which put Lubbock county's quota over the top in three days, but we'd like to remind citizens of Lubbock and Lubbock county that this drive is just a starter and there are more to come."

That was the statement of one of the leaders in Lubbock county's Second War Loan Drive which went over the top Wednesday afternoon with a total of $3,709,798

Blackout Blackouts Filibuster Session

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 15 (AP)—A surprise blackout test last night disrupted, among other things, a Democratic filibuster in the Pennsylvania house of representatives.

Republicans sang, when the chamber was plunged into darkness, "Praise the Lord and stop the filibuster."

Democrats countered with "praise the Lord and save the constitution."

Draft For U. S. Workers Urged

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—The House military committee recommended today that Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey issue a directive to all draft boards to review their files "with a view to eliminating all deferments of government employes not thoroughly justified by supporting evidence."

"Government must be made to set the example," the report commented in accusing the federal government of having adopted a general policy of hiring "draft-eligible men in the 18 to 38 group on a hit-or-miss basis, with little attempt to define a policy whereby women or men not subject to the draft" would be given preference in hiring.

The committee's charge was contained in a report of a special subcommittee studying deferment policies of government agencies.

The committee said it had evi-

Fifteen Quit War Information Office

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Fifteen recently resigned members of the Office of War information staff said in a statement today they were leaving "because of our conviction that it is impossible for us . . . to tell the truth."

Among those signing the statement — immediately denied by OWI Director Elmer Davis—were Harold K. Guinsburg, New York book publisher, and Henry F. Pringle, Pulitzer prize winning author.

"There is only one issue—the deep and fundamental one of the honest presentation of war information," their statement said.

Davis told a press conference yesterday that he believed the resignations were due to a clash of personalities and that he hoped most of those resigned would reconsider.

Rubber Monopoly Is Formed By Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 15 (AP)—A government monopoly empowered to buy all rubber produced in Mexico and backed by a heavy tax on rubber handled by private dealers was established by decree in Mexico yesterday.

Meanwhile, labor leaders proposed a nation-wide collection of scrap rubber to offset a threatened shortage and a government bulletin announced that the national rubber commission has authorized expenditures to increase rubber cultivation in Chiapas state.

OPA Plans Ration System For Fish In Nation's Hatcheries

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—It looks like Helpless Herman, the faint-hearted fish, will have to join the Marines for some fighting lore.

Or else he'll have to eat the 30 per cent that isn't there.

The point of all this is that there's something fishy going on down at the Office of Price administration — which yesterday gave Mama Fishie her meat ration book.

They Need Meat

The red coupons therein call for 70 per cent of the amount of meat fed the little fishies last year in the nation's finny hatcheries.

And if you thought that Mabel the Minnow and her kid brothers and sisters subsisted solely on worms and stuff, you're just not an ichthyologist, chum. The OPA knew better.

It said that there's no suitable substitute for meat in the diet of the growing members of the scaly set. The fish-wife must feed the real young-uns on livers, kidneys and hearts, while the adolescents thrive on lungs and cattle and hog melts. (Melts are spleen—which is what gets aroused in

New Vegetable Pricing System Is Prescribed

Officials Suggest Step Preliminary To Price Slashes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—OPA prescribed a new "markup" system of pricing fresh vegetables at retail today while officials intimated that the step was a preliminary to bringing down the cost of garden produce in compliance with President Roosevelt's order to reduce the cost of food where possible. Poultry also has been mentioned by officials as a likely candidate for similar price trimming.

Complaints about vegetable prices now constitute the bulk of "kicks" received by OPA from the public. Prices soared in the wake of canned goods rationing. Frosts and other damage in some growing localities complicated things.

Into Effect April 22

The first step, taken last month, froze prices of seven key vegetables at then current levels. Today's order, which goes into effect April 22, sets the maximum retail price on each of the seven products at a fixed percentage above the wholesale price. The next step, freely predicted in OPA, will be to cut the wholesale prices and under the retail "markup" system that action will automatically cut retail prices.

Meanwhile, the markups are not expected to make much change in retail prices, and officials said the results could be judged only on a store-by-store basis.

May Change Prices

On cabbage, the percentage which retailers may add to wholesale cost was put at 65 per cent for independent stores with an annual business volume of less than $250,000, 54 per cent for chain stores with volume under $250,000, and 50 per cent for larger stores of either type.

On carrots, lettuce, peas, snap beans, spinach and tomatoes, the markup was set at 39 per cent for all types of retailers, although classifications were set up which may be the basis for some differ-

Kiska Blasted In Heavy Raids

WASHINGTON, April 15. (U.P.)—U. S. Army bombers and fighters have carried out 10 slashing attacks on Kiska in the most intensive dawn-to-dusk aerial assault of the Aleutians campaign.

The attacks, announced in a Navy communique today, were made on Tuesday.

Numerous hits were scored on the runway which the Japanese are hewing out of the rocky surface of the island for landplane operations.

Fires Are Started

Fires were started there and in the main camp area of the Japanese base. Fighter planes raked beached enemy float planes with machinegun fire.

These attacks raised to 39 the total number of raids made on Kiska this month.

Biggest Since April 2

The biggest previous single day's air operations in the Aleutians was on April 2 when eight attacks were made.

Meanwhile, the only aerial activity reported from the south Pacific was a torpedo bomber and fighter attack on Japanese barges and installations in Viru harbor, New Georgia island, in the central Solomons. Several fires were started.

Boston Night Club Owner Sentenced

McGee's Title Abolished By OPA Chieftain

DALLAS, April 15—The Times-Herald said today that OPA Regional Director Max McCullough has reduced the rank of state OPA directors in this region to that of district directors.

bers of county war price and rationing boards in Texas.

To Be District Head

The change will affect only his title and power to appoint all Texas rationing boards, since all other duties of state directors were abolished by OPA several months ago, when district OPA offices were created and ordered to report directly to regional OPA offices.

McGee will remain as director of the Fort Worth district office, which directs OPA activities in 49 West Texas counties. His staff, which has been serving as a district staff, will remain unchanged. He will continue to appoint ration boards in his district.

Plans Nipped

McCullough's action indicated that McGee and his friends had lost their campaign to induce the OPA to divorce Texas from the six-state southwest region and designate it as a separate region under the direction of McGee.

McCullough based his action on an executive order issued April 5 by Prentiss Brown, OPA administrator, Brown's order completed the abolition of state offices.

Another Farm Battle Looms

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15 — A new farm battle involving committee prerogatives, parity payments, crop insurance and the Farm Security administration, flared in the House today over the $707,040,844 Agriculture department appropriation bill for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It threatened to continue for days and to result in elimination of many items heretofore approved without argument.

Rights Invasion Claimed

The fight started when the appropriations committee wrote into the measure provisions for abolition of the FSA, abandonment of the crop insurance program and cessation of parity payments starting with the 1943 and 1944 crops.

This, contended the agriculture committee, was an invasion of its field and a violation of the ban against writing legislation into an appropriation bill.

The farm group won a major victory when the rules committee ordered floor procedure under which a point of order could be raised against any legislative provision or against any appropriation for an agency not authorized by Congress.

Rep. Tarver (D-Ga.), chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that wrote the bill, cautioned

Toll Of Italian, Nazi Prisoners Rises To 30,000

Montgomery Attacking Axis Line Below Tunis; Anderson Presses Offensive In North; Rommel Feels Loss Of Air Power

(By The Associated Press)

French and British infantry successfully stormed two important hills on the south and western fronts of the constricted Axis Tunisian line yesterday and, capturing 600 prisoners, increased the total Allied bag since the opening of the Mareth offensive to more than 30,000.

Attacking the Djebel Sefsouf, the French rounded up 400 Germans and took possession of that mountain position which has been the western anchorage of Marshal Erwin Rommel's new Enfidaville line.

The Djebel Sefsouf lies 30 miles due west of Enfidaville, 50 miles southwest of Tunis and seven miles northeast of the village of Bir Kararhoun.

Field dispatches said a further advance by the British Eighth army in the Enfidaville sector was halted by heavy artillery commanding the coast road to Tunis.

Anderson Advances

Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's veteran British infantrymen captured a mountain top, the Djebel Ang, eight miles above Medjez-El-Bab and some 30 miles west of Tunis in fierce fighting during which they rounded up more than 200 Nazi Alpine troops.

"Our troops continued their advance on most sectors of the Tunisian front," a communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced.

The war bulletin said Lt. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's British 1st army pressed its offensive north of Medjez-El-Bab, 34 miles southwest of Tunis, and seized "an important feature over difficult country in the face of strong opposition."

Italian headquarters reported "lively fighting all along the front, particularly in the western sector" where the British 1st army

Stuttgart Hit In Heavy Night Attack By RAF

Russian Planes Strike Areas Of Eastern Prussia

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 15.—A big force of British four-engined bombers loosed a thunderbolt saturation raid last night on the southwest Germany industrial center of Stuttgart while other planes—presumably Russian—simultaneously attacked east Prussia.

Twenty-three planes were lost in what the Air ministry described as a "very heavy" attack on Stuttgart.

"The target was clearly identified and the attack was highly concentrated," the ministry said.

Three Fighters Downed

Three intercepting night fighters were shot down.

Tons of bombs ranging from two-ton block busters to two-pound incendiaries were cascaded on Stuttgart's sprawling war factories, which include the Bosch ignition works, the Daimler-Benz aircraft engine works and submarine engine plants.

Stuttgart also is an important railroad junction and, lying on the main railroads from Germany's industrial Ruhr and Rhineland to the south, is a key cog in the Axis supply system for Italy and Tunisia.

Nazis Say 15 Downed

A German broadcast claimed that 15 British bombers were shot down.

Three Named On Tech Board

Appointment of three members of the board of directors of Texas Technological college by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson was reported from Austin in an Associated Press dispatch this morning. The governor's action was revealed as he asked Senate confirmation of the appointees.

O. B. Ratliff of Spur and Kyle Spiller of Jacksboro were appointed to regular terms and A. G. (Pat) Mayse, Paris editor and publisher, was named to serve out the unexpired term of A. J. Riddle of Denison.

Spiller Is Surveyor

Spiller, son of Capt. Spiller, early well known surveyor of West Texas, is also a surveyor and is also well known in many sections of West Texas. The Spiller surveys have been upheld many times in courts during the past half century. Ratliff is an attorney and has been a resident of Spur about ten years. Mayse has been prominent in Texas newspaper circles for the past 20 years and is a former president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

It is presumed that Ratliff or Spiller was appointed in place of Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock mer-

Man Listed As Female Refused Change In Birth Certificate

KANKAKEE, Ill., April 15. (U.P.)—Josef M. Jahoda, 31, manager of a candy concern, has been getting mail all his life addressed "Miss Josef Jahoda." He usually dismissed such mail lightly but recently got all wrought up when the WAACS, WAVES, and SPARS sent him literature inviting him to enlist.

Once, he said, a woman recruiter called at his place to interview him and then berated him for posing as a female.

Joe got busy. He wrote Michael J. Flynn, Cook county clerk at Chicago, demanding his birth certificate. A photostatic copy he received said: "Josef Jahoda. Born Feb. 6, 1912, at 1838 Throop street, Chicago, Ill. sex—female."

Asked Change In Record

Joe wrote back to Flynn, demanding that his birth record be changed to show his sex male.

Flynn's reply, Joe said, read:

"A decision of the attorney general of Illinois states that once a record has been filed no changes in, corrections of or additions to such a record may be made."

Joe said today he's going to show Flynn's letter to his draft board.

Five On Trial In Fraud Case

ABILENE, April 15. (U.P.)—Five men went to trial in federal court today in the first of three government actions stemming from construction of Avenger field, Sweetwater, Tex., and the Wright Glider school at Lamesa, Tex.

The schools were built under fixed-fee, cost-plus contracts.

Defendants facing Judge T. Whitfield Davidson today were Joe B. Prosser and Charles A. A. Prince of Sweetwater, general contractors on the field; Victor J. Nelson, subcontractor, and Robert Young and Edwin T. Nelson, all of Los Angeles.

False Claims Alleged

Today's action alleged they made false claims to the amount of $27,000 on the Defense Plant corporation.

The five, in addition to three other Texans and a like number from Los Angeles, also are defendants in a companion conspiracy to defraud. Federal prosecutors indicated today they would seek a speedy trial on the latter case.

These eleven men, and one other Texan, James Beall, a Sweetwater attorney, also are defendants in a civil penalty suit in connection with the alleged frauds, which Judge Davidson has set for trial April 28.

Another Class At SPAFS Graduates

Another class of glider pilots was graduated at 10 o'clock this morning in the post theater at South Plains Army Flying school.

Maj. E. V. Robnett, director of training, presented wings to the graduates, in a streamlined ceremony that, coinciding with stepped-up training tempo, included no speechmaking.

Ross C. Carroll of Los Angeles, a graduating flight officer, monopolized the publicized "best soldier" and "best athlete" awards presented for the first time, getting them both. Col. Norman B. Olsen, commanding officer, presented the awards, sterling silver wings and a trophy.

The SPAFS band under direction of Warrant Officer Harry Dunham played. Chaplain John F. McKenna offered an invocation and a benediction. Lt. Harry M. Davis, school secretary, swore in the new flight officers.

Offensive Threats Of Japs Discounted

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 15—Japanese operations in the Pacific, military authorities here believe, have passed from the offensive stage to one of "aggressive defense."

Despite reports of increased enemy air activity, these authorities said today, there is little danger that the Japanese will attempt to strike against Australia or any other important United Nations bastion.

These experts said they were reasonably confident that the main concern of the Tokyo warlords now, with forces much weaker than a year ago, is to hold and develop the Netherlands East Indies, Malaya and other rich lands already conquered.

No Early Offensive Seen

These authorities also held forth little promise of early Allied offensives against the Japanese on a major scale, explaining that the United States is committed to such large scale operations in the European theater that any comparable undertaking in the Pacific zone would overtax its strength, especially in shipping.

This does not rule out heavy naval and air blows this spring or summer—blows for which both Army and Navy have been marshalling and organizing their forces for several months. But it would seem to eliminate for the time being any likelihood of decisive actions taken on American initiative.

Shift Of Air Units Seen

Inquiries prompted by recent apprehensive statements from Australia about the massing of Japanese ground and air units in the southwest Pacific brought this general summary of the Pacific situation from highly placed spokesmen:

The monsoon season is at hand in Burma and with its beginning all important fighting ceases. Not being under pressure in Burma, the Japanese almost certainly will shift some air units from there into their island arc opposite northern Australia.

There ahead has been a marked increase in enemy air strength in the southwest Pacific but it is significant that in both attacks the Japanese were outclassed if not outnumbered and lost much more heavily than our forces.

Jap Air Force Inferior

Belief in responsible quarters here is that despite their best efforts at replacement, the Japanese now have an air force numerically inferior to that with which they started the war. Ony a fraction of their aircraft carrier fleet is left whereas the comparable United States force is being steadily built up.

Diminishing rather than growing air power probably explains the intermittent nature of the enemy's heavy attacks on Guadalcanal and New Guinea. The Japanese are unable to maintain raids of destructive size and can make them only after accumulating sufficient planes for the purpose.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur is reported here to have in Australia now a greater air force than ever before and to be assured of a steady flow of replacements and reinforcements.

Strategy Opinions Differ

Behind the sometimes conflicting statements from MacArthur's command and those from Washington officialdom lies a fundamental difference of opinion over the best strategy for beating Japan. The commander-in-chief of Australia is reported to believe that at least an important contribution toward victory can be made by thrusting north from Australia toward Singapore and the Philippines.

The Navy leaders are reported to hold the belief the Navy's best strategy lies in striking at the head and heart of Japan—when the proper time comes.

The airman differs from both of these in some particulars. He would strike with bombers from China, the Aleutians and Russia, if and when Russian bases become available.

Car-Tire Theft Ring Uncovered In Texas

AUSTIN, April 15 (AP) — Ten men were arrested and at least 25 automobiles and 82 tires recovered as the result of statewide investigation by state and county officers, Travis county Sheriff Rip Collins announced.

Collins said recovered cars were reported stolen in Austin, Marshall, Temple, Dallas, San Antonio, Sweetwater and Georgetown.

Seven complaints charging auto theft were filed against James Nicholson and five against Kirby Smiley, both of Austin, in Justice Mace Thurman's court, Collins said. Others facing theft charges included Elmo Wright and Adolph Muzney of Austin, Van Turman and Mabry Ryals of Abilene, E. R. Lytle of Elgin, and Otto E. Renck, jr., of Warrenton, Fayette county.

Collins said charges of receiving and concealing stolen tires were filed against J. W. Winkley of Austin and Joe Klein, jr., identified as an Austin marble machine operator.

Markel Transferred; Prichard Gets Post

Orders to report at the Army command and staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., have been received by Lt.-Col. George D. Markel, post executive officer at Lubbock Army Flying school. A new assignment will be given him upon completion of training, orders said.

Succeeding Col. Markel as executive officer on the staff will be Major Claude L. Prichard, who will also retain his duties as director of station services, it was announced by Col. Ralph E. Holmes, commanding officer.

Transferred here from Brooks Field observation school when the twin-engine air base was established on the Levelland highway nearly a year and a half ago, Col. Markel was post adjutant at LAFS for several months before he was advanced to the position he will vacate Friday.

Formerly of Rockford, Ill., where he was a map-maker, Col. Markel had six and a half years of ROTC in high school and the University of Wisconsin. He has resided with his family at 2806-28th street in Lubbock.

Major Prichard, former Greenwood, Ind., manufacturing executive, will be right at home in his new duties as executive officer, which might be compared to that of a firm's business manager. He transferred here from Brooks Field last September and with Mrs. Prichard and their three children lives at 2709-23rd street.

Seedstock Consignment Sale Is Highlight Of Dairy Show

PLAINVIEW, April 15. (Special)—Milking Shorthorns were having their day in the arena as the sixteenth annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy show drew to a close today. Highlight of the third day is the consignment sale of seedstock in a herd of choice males and females.

Jerseys, Guernseys, and Holsteins all drew the crowd's attention Wednesday, when championships and production records were judged and numerous ribbons and banners were awarded.

During the second day a Holstein cow from the H. B. Hale and Sons herd at Amarillo took first place in the production competition.

The winner is Hale's Perfect Hazel. Her test was 2.3075 pounds of butterfat and 62.6 pounds of milk. Production was from Monday morning through Tuesday afternoon, for all entries.

This is the fourth successive year that a Holstein milker from the Hale herd has won first place in production at the Plainview show, according to the records.

Perryton Man In Charge

E. W. Thomas of Perryton, county agent of Ochiltree county, managed the production division of the show.

Healy's Barrington 38th, a Milking Shorthorn owned by E. L. King and Sons of Southland, won second place, with 2.0951 pounds of butterfat.

Jersey cows took third, fourth, and fifth places in the judging, as follows:

Dreamer Floss, owned by S. J. Payne and Son, Tulia, produced 1.9992 pounds of butterfat; Premier Combination Blue, belonging to B. F. Kreig of Tulia, with 1.-7230 pounds of butterfat, took fourth place, and another Kreig Jersey, took fifth place with 1.-7179 pounds of butterfat.

Hale of Amarillo also took the grand champion banner with his Holstein senior bull—Mt. Riga Inka Prince, and not satisfied with three other firsts, walked away also with the junior champion bull—Hale's Sir Tiny. Hale's Perfect Hazel won the grand championship banner as senior Holstein milk cow, and Hale's Hazel won first place in the junior class.

Guernsey Division

In the Guernsey show there were three exhibitors, the junior champion belonging to A. B. Buchanan of Brownfield also took the grand championship. FFA boys of Plainview high school exhibited the senior champion Guernsey.

The senior champion Premier's Noble, and the grand champion Jersey milk cow was exhibited by A. B. Buchanan.

Buchanan also exhibited the senior champion Jersey, female, Premier's Noble, which won the grand championship. Beauty's Golden Meadow Look, another Buchanan female Jersey, won the junior championship also.

Bathing Beauty Revue

The only entertainment coupled with Wednesday's program was the bathing beauty revue at the Granada theater last night at nine o'clock. Most of the welcoming features, banquets, dancing, and other entertainment was staged for visitors on opening day Tuesday. The show will end today, having been reduced this year to fit war-time conditions, minus any carnival attractions, parades, and many other attention compelling features.

While the show attracted some of the best quality dairy cattle in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, the number of entries was reduced to about one-third the normal aggregate, and many exhibitors, because of distances they could not well transport animals, did not enter the competition. The premium list and the cost of the show this year are said to be equally as great as in past years when 500 and 600 head of fine cattle were shown.

CONSTIPATION HAD ME DOWN

Constipation really had me on the ropes. I'd take a medicinal laxative and get relief — but soon, the old trouble would return all over again.

It was constipation due to lack of "bulk" in my diet—the kind so many folks suffer from. So—I began eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. It's a swell breakfast cereal, and it got directly at the cause of my constipation and corrected it.

If your constipation is due to lack of "bulk," why don't you try ALL-BRAN? Eat it regularly, drink plenty of water, and—"Join the Regulars"! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Michigan.

PROTECT YOUR CAR

AGAINST RUST AND CORROSION

Summer driving, with plain water in your radiator, will tend to build up rust and corrosion in the cooling system of your car.

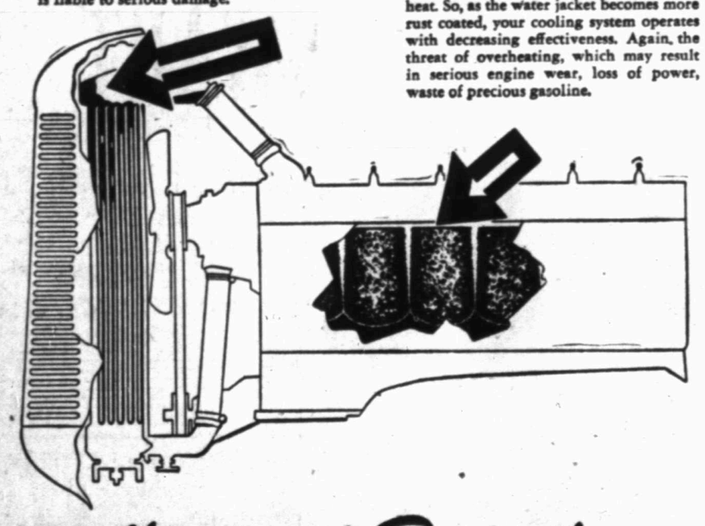

THESE ARE DANGER POINTS!

1 THE RADIATOR

Rust tends to deposit itself here, and filter down between the water tubes. Result: your radiator loses efficiency in throwing off engine heat. And an overheated engine is liable to serious damage.

2 THE COOLING JACKET

Most rust is formed on the iron walls of the engine water jacket. Rust holds in heat. So, as the water jacket becomes more rust coated, your cooling system operates with decreasing effectiveness. Again, the threat of overheating, which may result in serious engine wear, loss of power, waste of precious gasoline.

How to get Protection

When you drain your radiator this spring, look at the liquid. If it is rust free, and the radiator is clean, then simply flush with water. If the liquid is discolored, use a solvent cleaner—one with a dissolving action. "Eveready" Cooling System Cleaner is an example. Your dealer should have it; directions are on the package.

Then prepare your car for warm weather driving (when rust forms fastest) by installing a standard rust preventive with a fresh filling of water. "Eveready" "Rustone" Corrosion Preventive stops rust and corrosion by chemically treating the water and depositing a thin protective coat on all metals. Your dealer probably has it.

The preventive service outlined above follows the policy recommended by the Office of Defense Transportation.

"Eveready" Cooling System Cleaner and "Eveready" "Rustone" Corrosion Preventive are made by the makers of

Shipbuilding Plans Inspiring Struggle

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—A behind-the-scenes struggle between the Navy department and the War Shipping administration for control over the auxiliary ship construction program was disclosed today by the House naval committee in recommending 1,000,000 tons of new vessels.

In a formal report, the committee said "it has been proposed that the Navy not build this type of ship in the future but that it be built or acquired solely by the Maritime commission and made available to the Navy."

The committee asserted such a change in policy "at this time would be catastrophic," that it would make the Navy department a "pensioner" of the war shipping administration, and prevent Congress from filling Navy needs "in an orderly manner."

Navy Request Refused

Meanwhile, it was learned that the Navy presented to the budget bureau its request for the 1,000,000 tons of auxiliary vessels, and was turned down with notice that the shipping administration would get the money and authority to build them.

Likely to reach the house floor soon, the bill has been stymied temporarily in the rules committee, with the probability that further information will be sought from the Navy, war shipping administration and the budget bureau.

Supplementary Program

The 1,000,000 ton naval auxiliary program, envisioning an expenditure of approximately $1,238,100,000, would supplement 2,550,000 tons of similar vessels which have been authorized by Congress since May, 1941.

The committee pointed out that the publicly announced loss of naval auxiliaries from Pearl Harbor through Feb. 20 of this year have reached 27, or 118,551 tons, and added that it is necessary to have "a substantial working balance in order to cover at least a portion of this contingency."

OPA Says Play Shoes Go Under Rationing

Ration stamps must be paid out for play shoes shipped to merchants after today. The OPA had released a limited group of such shoes from rationing in February.

All of the types of adult shoes—generally classified as play shoes—which have been ration free the last seven weeks will be returned to rationing. They must be "completely packed and shipped before April 16", the government order states.

Former Student Of Tech Killed

A Florida mishap took the life of Second Lt. R. L. Floyd of McLean, Army flier who formerly attended Texas Technological college, the parents were informed Wednesday.

His mother, Mrs. W. H. Floyd of McLean, was visiting in Lubbock at time the message was received and his father was en route here to accompany her back to McLean. Two sisters of Lt. Floyd, Misses Ermadel and Betty Floyd, are students in Texas Technological college. Lubbock relatives include two aunts, Mrs. J. W. Kolb and Mrs. W. D. Biggers.

Lt. Floyd was stationed at Avon Park, Fla.

All seven members of the crew of an Army bomber from the Avon Park bombing range were killed when the plane crashed Tuesday near Augusta, Ga., press wires Wednesday said the public relations office at Avon Park had announced. Besides Floyd the victims included Cpl. Woodrow O. Rosell of San Antonio, only Texans aboard the plane.

The young flier played in the band when in Texas Tech. He enlisted in the National Guard in 1940 when a junior in Tech. He first was stationed at Camp Bowie with a band unit, later transferring to the air corps. He received his primary training at Kelly field at San Antonio, his basic training at Enid, Okla., and his advanced training at Moore field at Mission, where he received his commission. He later was stationed at Fort Wayne, Ind. and for a time in Greenland.

He visited in Lubbock in January and since that time was in Maine a short time before being sent to the Florida post.

MEAT RATIONING NO WORRY FOR DOG OWNERS. GRO-PUP MEAL HAS AMPLE PROTEIN

No dog need go hungry or suffer malnutrition through not getting enough fresh meat. If this thought has been worrying you because of meat rationing, here is good news from the Kellogg Company

"WHAT'LL I DO about my dog, now that meat rationing is here? There isn't any more canned dog food. And even such things as beef heart and pork liver are included in the restrictions."

Don't worry. The government has thought of that. And they've made it possible for the Kellogg Company to bring you the news in this advertisement.

Recognizing the morale value of the nation's pets in wartime, the government allows the makers of dry dog foods to include in their formulas an adequate amount of protein—an amount estimated to be sufficient for the health of the normal dog, and a greater amount than authorities set as the dog's minimum requirement.

Kellogg Company Developed Such a Dog Food 5 Years Ago

So today you can buy, right off your grocer's shelf, the convenient easy-to-serve, MEAL FORM GRO-PUP. It's a dry food, in a compact box that saves shipping space for war needs, and saves pantry space at home.

But don't think that GRO-PUP is merely a wartime food, put together from necessity to serve the needs of rationing. Actually, the Kellogg Company developed such a food five years ago—in consultation with leading nutritional authorities. Five years ago, GRO-PUP was awarded the Seal of Approval of the American Veterinary Medical and Animal Hospital Associations. It was the first dog food of any kind to be awarded this seal. Owners who have used it ever since its introduction have praised it highly. And today it is one of the most extensively used dog foods in the country.

GRO-PUP in MEAL FORM not only has the maximum amount of animal protein the government allows, but, in addition, provides every known vitamin and mineral requirement for dogs of all ages. Outstanding nutritional authorities have given it their unqualified approval. And dogs—prize-winners and household pets alike—have loved it and thrived on it. It's a proven food to which you can turn with utmost assurance.

Best of all, GRO-PUP in MEAL FORM, with all its advantages, is one of the most inexpensive dog foods your grocer carries. It's economical at any time. But right now, to acquaint even more people with it, the Kellogg Company is making a special introductory offer.

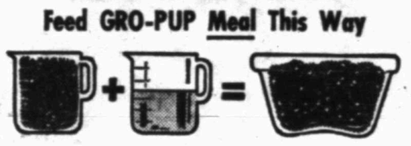

Special Money-Saving Sale to Acquaint You With MEAL-FORM GRO-PUP

In this special sale you will be offered two packages for the price of one. And two packages will feed an average, normal 15-lb. dog for a week.

Don't wait. Clip out coupon now and take it to your grocer's. Start your dog on GRO-PUP in MEAL FORM for the duration—and you'll never want to switch.

NOTE: Since the diet of any dog should be changed gradually, read the directions for feeding that are printed on the GRO-PUP package and that appear in the box to the left.

IMPORTANT
Feed GRO-PUP Meal This Way

Mix 1 cup Gro-Pup with ½ cup cold or warm water, broth or milk

BE SURE to follow these instructions and your dog will enjoy and thrive on GRO-PUP.

Mix in proportions of 1 full cup GRO-PUP with ½ cup cold or warm water (or broth or milk or vegetable juices) in bowl or pan (with rounded bottom if possible) stirring thoroughly to absorb all liquid. Add table scraps, if available, for variety.

AMOUNT OF GRO-PUP FOR WEIGHT OF DOG

Weight of Dog	Amount GRO-PUP Meal Per Day	Amount of Water or Other Liquid
10 pounds	½ cup	¼ cup
20 pounds	1 cup	½ cup
40 pounds	2 cups	1 cup

-We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

The women who are really going to suffer from food rationing aren't the full-time housekeepers, although their work will be harder, of course.

The one who will really get it in the neck is the woman worker who keeps house before and after working hours, with, perhaps, the help of a cleaning woman.

One such woman said the other day that she thought she would have to give up working and make housekeeping a fulltime job.

Her two children are in school, and in the past she has been able to manage her household by depending on part-time household help and rushing home at night to cook dinner for her family.

Well, cooking a dinner isn't going to be a half-hour job any more. The actual preparation will take time, and so will the marketing and planning—if a family is to eat well.

Beside that, it will soon be time for a garden and time for home canning.

This woman fears that if she goes on working all day away from home her family will suffer, and so she thinks it might be better for her to give up her job—which isn't an essential one.

Many other women, however, won't be financially able to quit their outside jobs in order to make a full-time job of housekeeping. So rationing is going to be plenty tough on them.

Of course, they can eat in restaurants—but that is an expensive practice, and not very good for the home life of a family.

WOMEN WILL MANAGE

There is probably no practical way to work out a rationing program so that a family in which both husband and wife work (especially those families in which the wife works in a defense plant) get a better break on the rationing of canned goods than do families that have a full-time homemaker.

Rationing would create fewer hardships if such a plan could be worked out. But women will manage somehow, any way. For even the tough job of running a household in wartime and holding down a full-time war job is a snap compared with what our fighting men have to go through.

Let's remember that when we get to thinking that we have more work than we can manage.

Care Of Our Belongings Is Stressed For Club

Nurses Gather For Session

FORT WORTH, April 15 (AP) — Recruiting and financing of nurses through a course of training has been adopted as main program of the State Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. James Woodson Hampton of San Antonio told nurses at State and District Nursing Council meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. Hampton is state chairman of the war nursing program of State Federation of Women's clubs. The council meetings climaxed the opening day of the thirty-sixth annual convention of Texas Graduate nurses.

Goal Of 65,000 Nurses

"We have set as our goal the training of 65,000 nurses this year," Mrs. Hampton said. "The Army and Navy are taking 3,000 nurses a month and we must see that the supply does not run out."

Public health nurses held their annual meeting and elected three new officers. They are Miss Lutie Gough, Port Neches, nurse director; Miss Pansy Nichols, Austin, lay director, and Mrs. Ella Patton, Waco, chairman of the nominating committee. Other members of the committee are Miss Nettie Kirchhoff, Austin and Miss Alma Rollins, Belton.

Other officers of the organization include Miss Grace Buzzell, Austin, president; Miss Imogene Smith, Austin, second vice president; Miss Dorris Robertson, Austin, secretary-treasurer.

PROFITABLE DEAL

Hunter died three years ago after selling the property for $2,500. Mrs. Bicknell had received nearly $10,000 from the agreement.

Get Out Big Wooden Bowl And Prepare Delicious Salads

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Fresh salad greens and vegetables are buxom food. Keep that fact in mind. When served with wholegrain breads, and some protein food, such as eggs or fish, they can make even the heavy worker feel satisfied. So keep your ration points for dried beans and peas, meat and other foods not obtainable except with points. Your salad vegetables need not be canned, remember. Get them in local gardens or at your vegetable stand and save your points.

Use mixed green salads in large bowls. The largeness of the bowl gives the food a bigger look, makes it seem more important. Serve with French dressing, made of vegetable oil, vinegar or lemon juice and spices. Use less vinegar or lemon with vegetable oil than you used to with olive oil. Vegetable oil is lighter.

For Wilted Lettuce

Or try the old American recipe for bacon dressing. Chop a piece of bacon and put in a hot frying pan. Fry until it sizzles in its own drippings. Add tart vinegar, a little at a time, and a little brown sugar. Reduce heat and toss in washed and dried salad greens. Toss until greens are all wilted and covered with the dressing. That's an old-fashioned and respected American dish. War gives it new importance because of salad oil.

To add protein to the luncheon salad bowl (the main course), add left-over baked beans or cooked dried beans, thin strips of left-over cooked meat or chicken, sliced hard-cooked eggs, or cooked soybeans, flaked cooked fish, or cream cheese. Serve wholewheat toast, bran muffins, rye bread or other wholegrain products to add protein to the meal.

A salad luncheon seems more satisfying if begun by a cup of hot soup. Keep all scraps of meat and vegetables and gravy for these luncheon soups. Experiment and soon you'll have a supply of your own tasty recipes. But remember, the leftovers used for soup stock must be kept well refrigerated. Slightly spoiled food never made a good soup.

Club Makes Pledges To Buy $7000 In Bonds

When Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club attended a luncheon meeting Wednesday at Hotel Lubbock they voted to purchase $7,000 in War Bonds during the month of April.

Five new members were accepted into the club, Mrs. Leete Jackson, and Misses Marihelen Beasley, Margaret M. Henderson, Gertrude Herm, and Clara Pierce.

The club voted to sponsor a dance for the Lubbock Service organization, and voted to meet each second Thursday evening at the Red Cross surgical dressing room from 7 until 10 o'clock.

Guests at the meeting included Mrs. R. B. Parkinson of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Buck Wi McNeil of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Agnes Chapman.

FRUIT SALAD

A fruit salad dessert is easier to manage than cakes and pastries. Try this: Grapefruit sections, seeded white grapes, chopped English walnuts, marshmallow cubes on lettuce. Add mayonnaise or French dressing made with lemon juice.

Makings Of Bloody African Fight Seen

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

With Rommel and his battered but still dangerous army finally corralled behind the strong outer defenses of the great circle of hills which shield the last Axis stand about Tunis and Bizerte, we have the makings of one of the bloodiest battles of the war.

All the visible elements of a fierce struggle are present. However, there's one factor which may or may not be lacking—the will on the part of the Axis forces to fight to a finish. That's what the impending conflict means—death or surrender. There's little hope for the escape of any great number of the Rommelites by sea or air.

Stand Is Indicated

Early indications are that Hitler has ordered Rommel to make a stand. The Nazi propaganda department seems to be preparing the folk at home to see their boys sacrificed on the altar of the fuehrer's paranoic ambition to conquer the world. They are told that there will be no Dunkirk—no attempt to remove the troops by sea.

But who guarantees that the 200,000 (more or less) Axis troops will stand up to any such order. The feeling isn't good between the Italians and the Germans, and the Duce's men are especially sore at being the goats for rear-guard defense jobs.

Then we have this aspect: Not long ago while abroad I was talking with one of the most famous of the Allied generals, and he said to me:

Crack-Up Is Foreseen

"The Germans are fine soldiers, but there is a time, I believe, when they crack up."

We have no reason to say that a German soldier wouldn't defend his home and hearth to the death. However, Tunisia isn't the fatherland or yet Italy.

The chances are that there will be terrific battle—and we must be prepared for heavy Allied casualties—until the Axis forces finally realize that there's no chance of their being evacuated. Then one would expect surrender, rather than fight to a finish.

Rommel's value now is to give Hitler as much time as possible to get set for the Allied offensive or offensives which presumably will be aimed at the continent after the battle of Tunisia.

FOOD FROM HOME

RUBY, S. C.—Canned tomatoes he helped pack at home were a part of the ration Lieut. Jule S. McGregor, jr., ate while with the Army in north Africa.

"Imagine my surprise," he wrote to his father, "when, as I was opening some supplies for the Army here, I found cases of our own tomatoes, with our labels still on them."

REALISTIC

KANSAS CITY, Kas.—The sound effects were real.

A character in a Scottish Rite play was telling of the Biblical phenomenon of lightning rending the temple veil.

'Twas lightning — striking the nearby police radio tower.

OUT-SMARTED

SPOKANE, Wash. — Corp. Jack Schiffner recognized that old gag.

So he didn't step forward when a sergeant at the Colorado Springs, Colo., Army Air base told everyone with a driver's license to do so. His buddy did, thinking he'd be assigned to driving a jeep.

"Instead, he had to push a wheelbarrow," Schiffner related.

"Me? Well, the next day I got a job picking up rocks to put in the wheelbarrows."

NOT INTERESTED

STOCKTON, Mo. — It was election day in Cedar township.

Two judges, two clerks, a constable and a messenger were present to handle the balloting on several county and constitutional convention candidates.

One vote was cast.

CONVINCED

SALT LAKE CITY — The customer was wrong—by a long shot.

A bandit entered a lunch room. Paul Crowley, a customer, didn't believe the gun was loaded—and said so.

The intruder fired a bullet into the ceiling.

He finished his work without further heckling.

JUST A HABIT

MISSOURI CITY, Mo.—All this fourth term talk around Washington makes Charles G. Shaw, pioneer resident of this city, chuckle.

He's just been elected mayor for the 34th consecutive term.

UNHORSED, HE HOPES

LOS ANGELES — Because he's tired of being called Seabiscuit, Whirlaway and names of other turf greats, Charley Ross Horsey, jr., 17, is asking superior court to change his surname to Collins.

ALIVE AND KICKING

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. —The report of a movie patron that he had been sitting next to a dead man for 20 minutes was double-checked by the manager, who hastily called police.

R. C. McGriff, chief of the detective staff, arrived on the run, but was startled when the "corpse" revived with the plaint: "I paid for my seat for a nap—and I don't snore. What's the big idea?"

Physically-Able Fathers Due For 'Breather' Before Service

BY JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The draft arithmetic provides an official tip to physically-fit fathers:

If you're in the 18-37 age bracket, you will have a breathing spell — perhaps several months — to try to get lined up as irreplaceable in an essential activity.

But there won't be room for everyone there.

Present calculations, as outlined by Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt, include a figure of 3,200,000 deferments covering both men who are rated essential and also "hardship" dependency cases.

11 Out Of Every 14

That means approximately 11 out of every 14 physically fit men, 18 to 37 inclusive, are ticketed for the armed forces.

The commission's arithmetic indicates a situation so "tight" that some "essential" deferments may have to be canceled in the long run, barring unforeseen developments.

Here's the arithmetic:

22,000,000 men in the 18-37 class.

8,000,000 Rejections Seen

Of these, the estimates figure 8,000,000 rejections as physical unfit that leaves 14,000,000 physically fit men of these ages. (About half that number are in the service already).

The manpower commission says 1,500,000 will be deferred for farm work, figures 1,700,000 deferments for essentiality and hardship — a total of 3,200,000 deferments for physically fit men.

Subtract that total from 14,000,000, and you have left: 10,800,000 — the same approximate number the armed forces expect to have by the end of this year.

Casualties Not Considered

And that doesn't take into account the number of casualties who will have to be replaced.

Still, that isn't the whole picture, because it changes from day to day:

Every day some 3,000 boys reach the age of 18.

Too, every day a number of men — presumably a lesser number — turn 38.

Gains Are Certain

But even supposing the numbers were the same, there would be a certain gain for the manpower pool each day. Deferment of 18-year-olds averages about 20 per cent, manpower officials say, whereas deferment of men at the other end of the age bracket has been running over 40 per cent. Also, not all men reaching 38 are lost to the armed forces, some of those in service will stay there.

But the estimates of supply and need are too close to give anybody any comfort, officials say.

So selective service will look again and again at those deferred as essential, and McNutt hopes that Congress may provide greater allowances for servicemen's dependents which would eliminate some of the hardship cases.

WAS DEAFened NOW HEARS CLOCK TICK
A. M. Bestcheson, Newark, N. J., writes: "Before using Oretone Ear Drops, I was so deafened I could not hear the clock tick. After using Oretone, I can now hear the clock tick with both ears." Thousands now hard-of-hearing would hear clearly and distinctly again, and get relief from buzzing, ringing head noises, clogged up feeling in ears, if impacted wax that blocks ear canals and presses on sensitive eardrums was removed. Try safe Oretone as directed. Contains an ingredient especially recommended for this purpose. Druggists, Health Food Stores. Adv.

Warning Given On Jap Fleet

(By The United Press)

Japan's massive concentrations on the 2500-mile Pacific front for possible lunge at Australia include a great naval combat fleet at Truk and 250,000 tons of shipping at Rabaul, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's spokesman said today.

The statement emphasized fears of Allied leaders in the southwest Pacific that the scattered Allied New Guinea outposts defended by MacArthur's airmen faced an imminent and direct enemy assault.

Additional convoys still were coming up to the Japanese bases in the island arc, the spokesman said, and they were keeping carefully beyond range of Allied bombers. But he pointed out that Truk, chief Japanese Pacific naval base 1150 miles north of Allied-held Buna, was only three days sailing from New Guinea.

In Addition To Planes

These concentrations, he said, were in addition to the enemy air fleet and 200,000 ground troops gathered within the Pacific area. MacArthur warned yesterday that Japan controls the western Pacific sea lanes and that Allied air power was its only defense hope.

MacArthur's communique said 30 planes of a force of between 70 and 100 were shot out of action in a raid on Milne bay, on New Guinea's eastern tip, yesterday. But authoritative sources said the 106 planes brought down or crippled by air defenders in three major raids recently hardly dented Japan's real Pacific air strength.

Rabaul, main shipping point for Japanese southbound convoys, and hub of its southwestern Pacific positions, is on the northern tip of New Britain, approximately 400 miles north of Buna.

Japs Claim Sinkings

The Japanese issued a bragging communique saying that their navy since last August sank 112 Allied warships, damaged 43 more, shot down or destroyed 1673 planes and sank 43 ships other than war vessels in the Pacific area.

On the Chinese land front, the Japanese were reported to have brought reinforcements into the central Tung Ting lake region and to have opened a fresh offensive. The Chinese were counter-attacking on a broad front seeking to divert the enemy forces but admitted the evacuation of Wanshih, seized recently from the invaders.

A Chinese military spokesman said the Japanese had switched commanders in Burma, apparently preparing for a new drive against the Yunnan border of southern China.

that points of order also could be made against many other items, including appropriations for unauthorized programs to control plant diseases and insects.

A successful point of order automatically removes the challenged language from the bill.

The procedure agreed on brought from Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill) a prediction that when finally sent to the Senate after a "Roman holiday" in the House, the bill would contain nothing except its enacting clause.

Lubbock Service Man Suffers Back Injury

Message that serious internal back injuries had been suffered by John Franklin Wofford, 38, of a Naval parachute school and that he is in a Naval hospital in San Diego was received Wednesday afternoon by Lubbock relatives. No further information had been received this morning.

His children, John Dalton Wofford, 11, and Elizabeth Anne Wofford, 10, are living at the 1623 Fifteenth street residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morris for the duration. Mrs. Morris is the service man's "niece by marriage," she said.

Wofford would have been graduated Friday from training and would have come home on furlough, Mrs. Morris explained.

Australian And MacArthur Pleas Are Recognized

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15 — A constantly increasing flow of aircraft and other military supplies was promised today by Secretary of War Stimson for the forces of General Douglas MacArthur in the southwest Pacific.

Taking cognizance at his press conference of recent pleas from Australia for additional planes to meet the more aggressive Japanese aerial activity of recent weeks, Stimson said "we will keep our American and Australian fliers supplied with sufficient planes not only to replace our losses but to build up our aircraft to counter the increasing enemy air strength."

Cites Problem

The secretary said that such appeals for additional material came to this country from all theaters of operations, and added that vigorous public officials in areas close to the war would be remiss in their duties if they failed to press their demands.

Australian officials have frequently called for more help.

However, Stimson said, the Allied combined chiefs of staff, charged with meeting the overall requirements of all the United Nations, has the "very difficult task" of allocating a limited supply to meet large demands.

"The needs of the southwest Pacific are being kept constantly in mind," the secretary concluded, "and there will be a constantly increasing flow of military supplies, particularly aircraft, to that theater."

Raids On Germany

ed in a German broadcast which said enemy planes dropped demolition and fire bombs that caused "no particular damage." The attack was the third in five days on east Prussia, with both previous raids being directed by the Red air force against Koenigsberg.

German bombers struck back feebly during the night with raids on two towns on the Thames estuary and another in east Anglia that cost them three planes. An air raid alarm was sounded in London shortly after midnight for the first time at night since March 8, but no bombs fell in the capital.

One Of Largest Forces

One German bomber was destroyed over its base in northern France. The British force of four-engined Lancaster, Stirling and Halifax bombers that made the 1,000-mile round-trip flight to Stuttgart was reported by some southeast coast residents to be the largest ever to cross the Dover straits. They said the bombers roared overhead in a continuous procession for 75 minutes shortly before midnight.

Subsidiary daylight attacks were made yesterday on shipping off the coast of northern France, where an 800-ton ship and two trawlers were damaged, and railway yards at Bruges, Belgium.

Nazis Over England

The German raid last night on the Thames estuary touched off an hour-long anti-aircraft display. Bursting shells and tracer bullets along with flares dropped by the raiders lighted the sky.

Only one or two planes penetrated the coastal anti-aircraft barrage over east Anglia. However, bombs damaged a hotel and killed nine persons. Small fires broke out, but were extinguished quickly.

British fighter-bombers joined the night offensive against Axis Europe with low-level attacks on German torpedo boats off the French coast and trains in north France. Two torpedo boats were damaged.

Lubbock Drive

to the wonderful organization set up by E. J. Parsons, Lubbock county war bond chairman, and Rayford Hills, Victory fund committee chairman."

Record Being Compiled

A list of 1,400 names of Lubbock county citizens who are financially able to purchase bonds was compiled by the committees and Chairman Wright said he expected workers to continue to contact these people before the drive is declared officially over. The committee is compiling a record of everybody that's purchasing bonds for future drives which are certain to come, it was said.

"Every individual financially able to purchase bonds living in Lubbock county will be expected to do his or her part," Chairman Wright said.

Hills Praises Workers

Hills said praise should be given members of committees headed by Jack Randal, Wesley Read, J. D. Hassell, jr., Durwood Bradley and W. F. Eisenberg.

"It was a tremendous task and the members of these committees gave much time and effort to the drive and they deserve the highest praise," Hills said.

A veritable flood of dollars poured into bonds at the banks and other bond-buying stations Wednesday to put the county's quota $9,798 over its total for private subscriptions.

$2,456,806 Wednesday

Of these subscriptions, $2,456,806 came in Wednesday, approximately twice as much as during the first two days combined. Amount reported Monday was $657,000. Tuesday it was $596,992.

The huge figure reported for Wednesday suggests that subscriptions flowed in flood volume during the day. "Flood" is a mild description of the day's experiences, according to the drive officials. They said they expect the flood to continue, though in diminished volume.

Banks were swamped with buyers during most of the day—and particularly during the afternoon.

The $2,400,000-plus was the aggregate of buying literally by hundreds of people. Of course there were numerous large investments. The city, for example, bought the $260,000 in securities authorized by the city commission Monday night. First Federal Savings and Loan association bought $125,000 worth of securities. And there were other large buyers.

Strain On Some Purchasers

But there also were large numbers of investments that ranged from small to medium—from $100 to around $5,000. In a great many instances, drive officials said, these investments represented considerable strain on the part of the purchasers. None of them claimed to be making any real sacrifice. But a lot of them are going to have to do without a great many things because they have put their available cash into securities needed to win the war, and the peace. They have practiced the campaign slogan: "You LEND your money; they GIVE their lives."

When analyzed, Wednesday's large figure is not especially astonishing. Scores of men and women in Lubbock county connected with the campaign organization have been working on this drive the past three days to the virtual exclusion of all other matters. Some of them have been working a good deal longer than that. Wednesday began witnessing in full flood the accumulated results of their efforts. A great many people who have been "thinking it over" a day or two resolved their thoughts into action. Many people delayed two or three days in order to scrape more money together for investment.

After the day's figures were tabulated late in the afternoon, they were reported to C. M. Smith of Plainview, executive manager for the drive in the Lubbock-Amarillo region. He announced that Lubbock thus became the first among the 46 counties in the region to exceed its quota.

In announcing that the drive is to continue, the campaign officials cited some of the reasons why it is most desirable that all quotas —county, state and national—be exceeded as far as possible.

If this sort of financing is done voluntarily, they pointed out, the danger is greatly reduced that compulsory financing will become necessary.

Activities To Continue

Another consideration is that, the larger the over-subscriptions in this drive, the longer the next campaign will be postponed.

Therefore, Chairman Wright announced, all the drive activities will be continued. Programs will be broadcast over KFYO at 3:20 and 6:55 each afternoon. Bond speakers will appear on each civic luncheon club program. Rallies will be conducted as planned in rural areas—and, in this connection, Speaker Chairman J. I. Kilpatrick announced that Sgt. John Watson of LAFS will be the speaker at the Idalou rally Friday night.

Police had an unsual investigation underway today. One negro took a shot at another at 10:50 o'clock Wednesday night — but neither could be found immediately afterward, or since. They ran opposite directions, apparently.

Juvenile authorities will be asked to investigate the case of a Lubbock youth who in two weeks allegedly has offered three alarm clocks for sale. He also has a camera figuring in the case.

Biddle Explains How New Policy Reduces Evil Of War Frauds

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following dispatch written for the United Press, Attorney General Francis Biddle directs attention to results obtained under the new practice of prosecuting war frauds during, instead of after, the war. Indictments have been returned against about 200 persons and 35 companies and $25,000,000 has been recovered. Biddle also endorses the Hobbs bill to classify as sabotage the wilful manufacture or sale to the government of defective war materials.

By FRANCIS BIDDLE
Attorney General Of The United States
(Written For The United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Historically, there is nothing new about war frauds, but in this war something new has been added.

The urge to cheat, to profiteer, to fatten on the patriotism of others, is as old as the profit motive, possibly as old as war itself. Certainly it is a matter of record that fraudulent transactions have entered every war we have ever fought, right down to the present time.

No, there is nothing new about war fraud. But in this war something new has been added—prompt and just retribution in the form of punishment now.

Oddly enough, this is an entirely new approach to the problem of war fraud. It was not until four years after the fighting ended in 1918 that the Department of Justice set up a "war transactions section" to comb through more than 30,000 wartime ordnance contracts in the hope of recovering overpayments. It was a thankless task, and almost fruitless, job.

Contracts Marked Closed

All the contracts were marked closed; witnesses and evidence were missing, and both the cases and the public were "cold." Only about $11,000,000 was recovered, and the section wound up its task with but one conviction.

This time, however, things are being done differently. Back in February, 1942, just a few months after Pearl Harbor, I established a war frauds unit in the Department of Justice, composed of carefully selected and trained personnel equipped to prosecute war frauds as they were unearthed, not after the war was over. Their orders were to take prompt action wherever fraud was found and no matter who or what might be involved—collusion, cost padding, kickback, graft, bribery, and the most reprehensible of all war fraud, the deliberate palming-off on our armed forces of defective munitions or articles of war.

Fortunately, there has not been much of this sort of thing. Considering the nation's enormous wartime production and the billions being poured into the program, the actual number of cheaters and chiselers has been small. At the same time, the results of this "get them now" policy have been gratifying proof of its efficiency.

Indictments Secured

Indictments have already been secured against nearly 200 individuals and more than 35 companies and corporations. A total of approximately $120,000 in fines and 35 years in prison sentences has been meted out in 16 convictions obtained to date. This represents about 15 per cent of the cases now awaiting trial. Equally significant, approximately $25,000,000 has already been recovered on contracts investigated by the war frauds unit. Their is no way of estimating the indirect results of this policy—the money saved the government and the taxpayers through the renegotiation of contracts not under investigation by the Department of Justice.

But vigorous prosecution of fraud and renegotiation to recover unconscionable but legal profits are not the only effective methods of curbing wartime profiteering. Substantial benefits may be obtained, it seems to me, first by applying the bright spotlight of publicity to instances of gross irregularity, whether actually fraudulent or not, and secondly by the application of severe penalties under law where fraud has been proved.

Senate Group Aiding

A very real contribution to the work of the department has already been made and is still being made by the Senate committee investigating the national defense program, under Chairman Harry S. Truman. This committee and others in the House and Senate investigating various phases of the war program are performing a signal service to the American people and are materially assisting the department to seek out and punish war frauds.

As for the imposition of severe penalties on war contract cheaters and frauds, an effective proposal has already been advanced by Congressman Hobbs, of Alabama, in H. R. 2103. This bill would expand existing sabotage legislation to include the willful manufacture or repair and the sale or transfer to the United States and its allies of defective material of war. It provides penalties up to imprisonment for 30 years and a fine of $10,000.

This bill also provides that the intentional manufacture of substandard or defective material of war, so that its use would endanger the lives of safety of men in the armed forces, may be punished by life imprisonment or death and a fine of $1,000,000.

I am in favor of some law of this type, but as wartime legislation only, since the subject matter of Mr. Hobbs' bill is covered neither by existing legislation nor by the pending war security act.

Waldrep Transfered To Athens School

ATHENS, Ga., April 15 (Special)—A former Texas Tech football standout, Ensign J. Holt Waldrep, USNR, has been transferred from the U. S. Navy pre-flight school to the Navy Flight Instructors school here, it was announced today.

Ensign Waldrep will be trained for duty as a Navy instructor or ferry pilot. Since last summer he served here at the pre-flight school first as commander of a platoon of cadets and recently as officer in charge of insurance and allowances.

In Two Bowl Games

A native of Slaton ,Ensign Waldrep attended Slaton High school before going to Tech, where he was graduated in 1940. He played at guard on the Raider varsity for three years, participating in the 1938 Sun Bowl game against West Virginia university and in the 1939 Cotton Bowl tussle with St. Mary's of California.

Before his entrance into the Navy in April of 1942, he was engaged in the insurance business in Lubbock.

Ensign Waldrep has had considerable flying experience as a civilian.

Tornadoes killed more persons in the United States during 1942 than in any of the preceding five years.

Bailey Picks Daffy Nine To Win Title

Cards Are Given Nod By Most Of League Experts

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 15.—You may have one of those plain, unadorned calendars which simply shows that today is Thursday, April 15, but we have one on our desk which shows that this is the time to predict the pennant winners in the major leagues.

Like planting potatoes in your victory garden during the right phase of the moon, picking pennant winners is a delicate undertaking that should always be done as early as possible in the spring. The object is to allow plenty of time to forget the selections before the season ends.

Our opinion and $18.75 will get you a small war bond, but for what it is worth we give you the Brooklyn Dodgers as the probable 1943 champions of the National league.

Experts Favor Cards

Most of the major league experts are backing the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and we will concede that this year will see another close race.

The Cardinals have a good ball club, but it is not the same outfit that beat the New York Yankees four straight in the last world series. Gone are Terry Moore, the great fielder; Enos (Country) Slaughter, the great hitter, and John Beazley, the rookie pitcher who won 21 games in the regular season and two in the World Series.

For the first few weeks of the season the Redbirds also will be without Shortstop Martin (Slats) Marion, because of an appendectomy, and Second Baseman Jimmy Brown. Brown, Howie Pollet and Harry Walker are likely to be called in the draft at an early date.

The Dodgers wounds by the war have been less vital. Outfielder Pete Reiser and Shortstop Peewee Reese have entered the service along with several others, but Branch Rickey has obtained experienced replacements. The team consists of veterans who are as nearly draft proof as any ball players can be. The exception is Pitcher Kirby Higbe, married but childless.

The schedule gives the Dodgers a running start against the weak eastern clubs while the Cards are battling the tough Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs in the first month of the season.

Our guess on the order of the finish is Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Sports Roundup

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
(Pinch-Hitting)

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP)—Norman Ross, at the age of 47, is going back to war as an instructor in the army flight command to join his two sons, both headed for army aviation. His dog, a Belgian shepherd pooch, already is in the service. His wife, above the age limit for the WAACS, is storming because she can't go, too.

So, within 48 hours, the three males in the house of Ross will be in the service of their country, leaving mother and a 12-year-old daughter behind. Donal, 18, is an air cadet stationed at Lubbock, Texas. Norman, jr., 21, is in training at Stanford university to become an aviator in the artillery service.

Both youngsters previously had learned to fly. Their dad, owner of a plane, taught them. Norman Ross was the original human fish, first of the world's really great modern swimmers . . . In the period between 1917 and 1922, Ross held almost all of the world's aquatic records from a quarter of a mile to a mile and a half. At one time he held 17 national championships. He smashed the quarter mile record 12 times. He reigned supreme until another great swimmer, Johnny Weissmueller, came along in 1922 . . . Ross served in the first World war as a pursuit pilot with Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Warren Brown, Chicago Sun: "The national football league is to have another meeting on June 1 at which time, I have no doubt, everything will be cleared up. At that time we all may even find out why there was a meeting held in April."

Meade And Arcaro Due For More Rest

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP) — Jockeys Don Meade and Eddie Arcaro, under suspension since last fall, faced an additional indefinite period of inactivity today.

The license committee of the New York Jockey club denied an application of Meade to ride at the Jamaica meeting but "deferred action" on the request of Arcaro.

Victory Open Begins Friday

Old Man Par May Be In For Licking

DALLAS, April 15. (U.P.)—Old man par seems headed for rough treatment in the Texas Victory open starting at Dallas Country club tomorrow if early practice rounds are a criterion.

A shattering blow was dealt the old man yesterday when Lanky Henry Ransom of Houston toured the course in 63 strokes, nine under standard figures, tying the course record set by amateur Jamie Gough three years ago.

Ransom, Texas PGA winner in 1941, went out in 32, four under par, and came in five under, including one birdie duce on the 16th when he rammed home a 45-footer. By missing a five-foot putt on the following hole, the bronzed Houstonian barely missed a new record.

Dudley Does A 69

There were other par-breaking practice rounds yesterday and there likely will be many others today on the fast, carefully-groomed DCC layout, but none are likely to approach the steaming tour Ransom made.

Two 69's were turned in yesterday, one by Ed Dudley of Chicago, the national PGA president who signified he wasn't to be counted out of the show, and Fort Worth's Jimmy Gauntt, the defending PGA titlist. Even 70's were chalked up by Tod Menefee of San Antonio and Pvt. Ray Hill of Randolph field.

The four-day program, featuring the war bond angle, got under way today with a three-team match between collegiate representatives of Louisiana State university and the University of Texas and a picked team of Dallas amateurs.

Service Team Defeated

The LSU squad, which will join the others in entering the open, defeated a four-man team from Tarrant field, including the great Ben Hogan, former National No. 1 golfer and favorite to win the open here, yesterday in a Nassau match, 3½ points to 2½.

Hogan will get in some practice rounds here today and is expected to brush up on his putting which showed signs of staleness after a long layoff from the greens in the Fort Worth exhibition. The air forces private hit 16 of the 18 greens in regulation figures yesterday, but couldn't click on the bent grass.

Thirty-eight of the expected fifty pros have already registered to compete in the 36-hole open, while the amateurs are expected to swell the total entry list to 150.

Bill Robinson To Run 'Reverse' Race

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15. (U.P.)—Bill Robinson, the 65-year-old Nijinsky of the hard-toe dance, will run backward against a San Francisco State college track star in an exhibition Saturday for the benefit of the American Red Cross.

The great tap dancer's opponent is Jim Keating, who scampers the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds. He will run his fastest forward, doing 100 yards, while Robinson pedals backward for 65.

Robinson used to take on all comers at 75 yards, but because he hasn't back-raced in more than five years he felt the 10 yard handicap justified.

Frisch Picks Hurlers For Bout Against Cubs; Dodgers 'Warm'

MUNCIE, Ind.—Prepared for today's opening contest of a five-game series with the doughty Detroit jungle cats, Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pittsburgh Pirates announced he plans to use Rip Sewell, Hank Gornicki, Wally Hebert and Johnny Lanning in turn against the Chicago Cubs in the league opening series next week.

DAYTON—The Cincinnati Reds should have stayed in Bloomington, where at least they could warm up indoors. Outside of two games in Indianapolis, the team has been playing the dining room league exclusively since leaving the spring camp.

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—The Chicago Cub mound staff will consists of nine pitchers for the present, Manager Jimmy Wilson indicated before leaving for Chicago. Among newcomers likely to stay are two Pacific coast hurlers, Dick Barrett and Ray Prim. Part of the Cub squad broke camp yesterday and the remainder will follow today.

CHICAGO—The complete Chicago White Sox squad was home today and in a mood for a batting workout, something the athletes haven't had in four days. But the weather still held the answer.

The New York Giants will go to bat against righthander Ernie Bonham of the New York Yankees as the two teams meet in an exhibition game today.

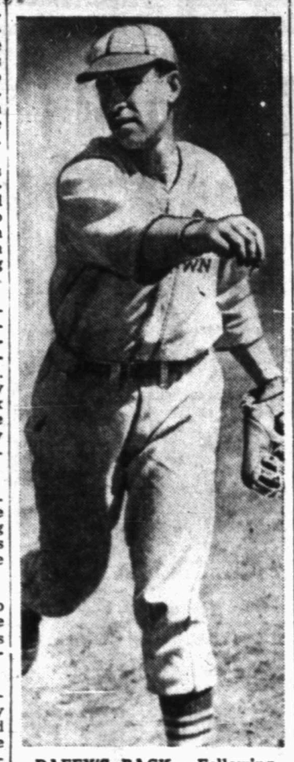

The Brooklyn Dodgers, victorious in both ends of their charity appearance against the Giants and Yankees, take on Montreal of the International league in an exhibition contest at Ebbets field today.

The Dodgers now sport a winning streak of seven straight, the last five against big league opposition. They whipped the Yankees four times and have beaten the Giants two straight.

TRENTON, N. J., April 15 (U.P.)—The Philadelphia Phillies and Washington Senators meet in an exhibition game today.

Former Sen Holds Longhorns To Four

AUSTIN, April 15. (AP)—Sid Hudson, pitcher for the Washington Senators until he joined the Army, held the University of Texas Longhorns to four hits yesterday as the Waco Army Flying school won a 10-2 victory. Jim Collins, Texas ace, was wild and gave up 10 hits in the six innings he worked.

DAFFY'S BACK — Following a comeback in the Texas league, Paul Dean tries big time again as a member of the St. Louis Browns. Although hit hard in exhibition, Daffy says Brother Dizzy will be the hottest pitcher in the American league by July 4.

Rice To Make Outdoor Debut

Star Field Due For Penn Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 12. (U.P.)—The first outdoor appearance of Greg Rice and the entry of a stellar contingent of service performers combined today to promise the hottest competition and most successful meet in history for the 1943 renewal of the Penn relays.

Rice, chunky ex-Notre Dame star who has been undefeated for three years, will run a special two-mile race against a field of top-ranking distance runners headed by Colgate's indoor two-mile champion, Glenn Master.

Approximately 2,500 athletes from the services, colleges, high schools and industrial plants, makes a concerted assault on meet marks in more than 60 events at Franklin field, April 23 and 24.

An invitation was sent to Cornelius Warmerdam to compete in the pole vault but officials were uncertain about his chances of obtaining leave from his naval pre-flight training.

Half Of Texas Loop Umps Change Fields

DALLAS, April 15. (AP)—Half of the Texas league umpiring staff of last season was moved on to other circuits.

Dusty Boggess is in the International league and Rollie Naylor and Milt Steengrafe are in the American association, both class AA circuits. Mike Williamson is slated to go to the Eastern league, a class A loop.

Bill Wilson of last year's staff is in the Army, Andy Andrews is with the ROTC at Peacock Military academy, San Antonio; Perry Hunter is a guard at North American aviation and Jim Tongate is in private business at Waco.

FIGHT RESULTS

OAKLAND, Calif., April 15. (U.P.)—Jackie Byrd, 148, Hot Springs, Ark., outpointed Terry Gibson, 145, Los Angeles (10); Roman Starr, 160, Oklahoma City, Okla., outpointed Ira Hughes, 165, Oakland (6).

First Reading Of Box-Office Barometer Indicates Prosperous Baseball Season

NEW YORK, April 15 (U.P.)—The major leagues today seemed headed for a prosperous season if the first reading of the box-office barometer for 1943 can be accepted as an indication.

The occasion was a round-robin doubleheader at Yankee stadium yesterday between the three metropolitan major league clubs and while the Brooklyn Dodgers brought to life the dream of all Flatbush fans by beating both the New York Yankees, 6-1, and Giants, 1-0, the attendance of 35,301 fans was the important thing.

For although the band played "in apple blossom time" and the double bill was for the benefit of civilian defense volunteer office, climatic conditions were enough to discourage the hardiest, yet the turnout was the largest sports gathering since New Year's day.

Michigan Students Have Hope For "98"

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 15. (AP)—A mom and a dad and a campusful of shocked students waited tensely today for a scrap of news that would say Tom Harmon is safe.

Lieut. Thomas Dudley Harmon, one of the great football players of all time, is missing in the Latin-American area. The War department informed his parents of this—with no further detail—in a brief telegram last night.

Stricken first with grief, his parents then swallowed the news and insisted immediately that Tom was not dead, that "old 98" had not scored its last touchdown.

West Texas Woman's Golf Meet Put Off

FORT WORTH, April 15. (AP)—The West Texas Women's Golf association will not hold a tournament in 1943, and the spring meeting of the board of directors has been replaced by a mail vote, Mrs. Lucille Morris of Fort Worth, president, said here today.

Abilene tentatively has scheduled a one-day medal tournament for West Texas women players, but definite announcement has not yet been made, Mrs. Morris said.

Ponzi Extends Lead Over Billiard Champ

KANSAS CITY, April 15. (U.P.)—Andrew Ponzi threatened Willie Mosconi's pocket billiard crown today, piling up a 366-point lead in the fourth block of their world championship play.

The score at the end of last night's match was Ponzi 509, Mosconi 143. Ponzi won the block 122 to 42 in seven innings and had a high run of 41 to Mosconi's 14.

The 1,250-point match for a $1,000 purse will continue through the week.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

The function of the kidneys is to filter uric acids, urates, and poisons from the blood stream. Many times this filtering process does not work to the extent of clearing the blood of poisons and a toxic blood stream follows with rheumatism, neuritis and other aches and pains. On the other hand if this process is to lax red blood cells find their way out through the kidneys which we term hemituria. When a kidney fails to function it is called a dead kidney. All functions and actions are controlled by the nerves. A chiropractor recognizes this fact and kidney trouble is easily handled when the cause is adjusted.

The CHIROPRACTOR-and You

No. 12 of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of Chiropractic

CASE HISTORY No. 35. A middle aged woman suffering great distress from colitis. Stomach cramps and sourness were constant. Despite professional attention the condition was continually getting worse. She was advised to visit a Chiropractor and a series of spinal adjustments brought her relief. Shortly afterwards, when venturing outdoors on a severe winter's day, she caught cold in both knees. They became swollen and arthritis developed. She returned to her Chiropractor and further spinal adjustments were given. The arthritis cleared up and has not returned since.

CASE HISTORY No. 35. A girl 16 years old who was brought to a Chiropractor suffering from "nerves" and general debility. In addition, she had a cross-eyed condition which had developed following an attack of whooping cough when she was two years old. A nerve impingement of long standing was located and spinal adjustments were given to correct it. Within a few weeks she was a well girl again and had gained considerable weight, and, much to her delight, her eyes had returned to their normal position.

CASE HISTORY No. 16. A man in his 60's suffering from neuritis in the left shoulder and arm. He had fallen on the shoulder 11 years ago and recently had fallen on it again. The muscles of the shoulder and neck were tense and painful, and the discomfort was so great that he had not enjoyed restful sleep in three months. Chiropractic x-ray analysis revealed that two spinal bones at the base of the neck were displaced. These were adjusted back to their normal position, whereupon the neuritis disappeared.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC? Chiropractic is based on the fact that the brain is the human power house. It creates vital energy. Without brain energy no organ or part of the body can function. Brain energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves radiate from the spine, and it is in the spine that the nerves can be "pinched" by vertebrae, and the flow of energy over them impeded or cut off. When, in this way, the connection is broken between brain and one or more parts of the body, dis-ease is the inevitable result. By skilful analysis and precise spinal adjustments, the Chiropractor is able to locate and release impinged nerves and restore an uninterrupted flow of brain energy to the part affected. Health follows naturally.

IN Higgins, Tex., the other night the folks got together and had 'em a box supper. The purpose of the supper was to sell $35,000 in war bonds.

We haven't heard how the party came out, but we'd be willing to bet that the quota of bonds was oversubscribed. For the box supper and program was dedicated to Higgins' No. 1 citizen, Capt. Elmer Tarbox, former star footballer at Texas Tech and more recently flying in combat with Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault and his Tigers.

We are sorry to report that the popular Elmer wasn't able to be in his home town on the windswept plains of the Panhandle. Instead, while his record was being cheered by his homefolks, the twice-decorated airman was lying in a U. S. Army hospital in faraway India. Elmer was shot through both legs a few months ago, while engaging the hated Japs in an aerial duel, and one of the wounds didn't do so well in the Chinese field hospital to which he originally was sent. So Elmer was carted, by air, to India where, as far as we have been able to learn, he is doing better.

Incidentally, Elmer had a chance to come home recently, but turned the opportunity down.

"I decided I'd better stay here," he wrote his former boss in Lubbock, Harry Morris. "There's thousands of American boys at home, all fawnching to get over here where the fighting is and can't right now, on account of transportation. So I just figured I'd better stay on this side while I can."

Last week's issue of Life magazine had an item about Capt. Tarbox, too. In an article on Chennault's birdmen, Elmer was credited with working out a way of adding an extra gun to the American fighting planes in China which, according to Life, gave our boys a better chance to shoot down the enemy.

A lot of people around here knew Elmer Tarbox when he was Tech's top-flight gridster. And many of those people who knew him were kids with whom he worked and who were members of the Sunday school class which he taught.

All who knew him respected him as a fine, clean youngster and no one is surprised at the fine fighting record he is making.

So, taking Elmer Tarbox as typical of thousands of other Lubbock and South Plains boys who are giving their all in the Army, Navy and Marines, let's go on oversubscribing our quota in the Second War Loan.

Certainly, we should invest all we can in war bonds if Elmer and those like him can risk their very lives in battle.

Neither Lubbock county's now assured goal of $3,700,000, nor the nation's $13,000,000,000, is one-two-three in importance when weighed against the life of a single one of our fighting men.

HERE are some suggestions regarding eating that will cure many a ration headache if followed. Read 'em through—and be prepared for a shock down at the end:

"Eat and drink such an exact quantity as the constitution of thy body allow of, in reference to the service of the mind.

"They that study much ought not to eat as much as those that work hard, their digestion being not so good.

"The exact quantity and quality being found out, is to be kept to constantly.

"Excess in all other things whatever, as well as in meat and drink, is also to be avoided.

"Youth, age, and sick require a different quantity.

"And so do those of contrary complexions; for that which is too much for a phlegmatic man is not sufficient for a choleric.

"The measure of food ought to be (as much as possibly may be) exactly proportionable to the quality and condition of the stomach, because the stomach digests it.

"That quantity that is sufficient, the stomach can perfectly concoct and digest, and it sufficeth the due nourishment of the body.

"A greater quantity of some things may be eaten than of others, some being of lighter digestion than others.

"The difficulty lies in finding out an exact measure; but eat for necessity, not pleasure; for lust knows not where necessity ends.

"Wouldst thou enjoy a long life, a healthy body, and a vigorous mind, and be acquainted also with the wonderful works of God, labor in the first place to bring thy appetite to reason."

Now here's the shock: Neither Prentiss Brown, nor any of his aides in OPA invented the above rules. They are from "Poor Richard's Almanack," brainchild of Benjamin Franklin, and were trotted out a couple of centuries before the U. S. ever thought about a ration book!

Any week's best fairy story as might be told by any Lubbock motorist:

"As I drove into a residential intersection from the west, I met a taxicab entering the same intersection from the south, and the cab driver didn't even attempt to bulldoze me out of my right-of-way. He stopped his slowly rolling car and politely permitted me to pass!"

MUSINGS: A fashion forecast is that the majority of girls will doff stockings this summer, because of unsatisfactory substitutes for silk and nylon. But as far as we know, no one has suggested that they wear painted-on shoes . . . Soon everything will be frozen except the route by which lame ducks gravitate to the federal payroll . . . Surprise! Surprise! The originator of the income tax was not anybody connected with the Treasury department but, instead, a congressman now officing in the State department—fellow by the name of Cordell Hull! . . . Apparently Vice-President Wallace contemplates a post-war world of two classes: an upper class composed of guys on the public payroll, and a lower class composed of the people who furnish the money to keep 'em there! . . . The sponge shortage will be greatly alleviated when Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito throw in the ones they are using . . . The citizen with an ailment never expected to see the day when he'd need a physician's prescription in order to buy an extra can of beans.

One thing that is helping us to bear up under the prospects of a long war is the fact that the planners for the future seem to be cooking up schemes for turning the post-war world into a WPA project.

Dark Jungles

By John C. Fleming & Lois Eby
(Copyright, 1943, For The Journal)

THE STORY: Allison Topping, society girl, is off to Guatemala, to run her father's chicle plantation. On board ship she meets Barry Fielding, mining engineer, also bound for Guatemala. Lila Harrison, Barry's fiancee, is angered when Allison starts a flirtation with Barry. Despite Barry's plea that she should abandon the trip because of hardships she will encounter, Allison is determined to go.

THE RUSE

Chapter II

The fog deepened into a lashing storm before the night was out, and the freighter plowed a slow harried course southward along the coast.

It was late afternoon of the following day before they ran out of the storm, and the wallowing of the small boat settled to a rhythmic roll. The sun dropped over the rim of the sea leaving a flaming afterglow. For the first time all five passengers appeared in the small dining room for dinner.

Barry Fielding came first. He was a born sailor, and rough weather only sharpened his sea appetite. The captain introduced the three men coming in next. Two were joint owners of a rubber plantation in Brazil. The third an elderly lighthouse keeper. Barry told them he was a mining engineer.

"I'm afraid Miss Topping won't make it," the captain said as he led the way to the table. "She's been having a bad time."

Barry smiled. "Fine," he said. "She'll get off at Santiago then and go back — which is exactly what she should do."

"You think so, Mr. Fielding?"

The five men turned sharply toward the door, at the sound of the feminine voice.

Allison Topping was posed dramatically in the doorway, her celebrated figure in sequin evening gown silhouetted against the flaming sky. She came slowly forward, her delicate lips forming a provocative similing pout. She had piled her honey colored hair in careless curls atop her small head. There were dark circles under her violet eyes and tiny veins showed at her temples under the chalky pallor of her skin.

The four passengers and the captain leaped as a man to pull a chair for her.

Barry said severely, "You shouldn't have come down tonight."

She slumped into his chair and glanced up at him with a slow smile. "I was afraid," she said faintly, "that — heartless people would try to influence the captain to put me off at Santiago."

The laughter rose fast and gallant, directed against Barry. He shrugged with a grin.

"The ship is yours," he said. "Stay on it till doomsday if you like. I should have had better sense than to advise a woman."

The next morning the sky was limpid, with small puff clouds, and the sapphire water shot with sunlight.

Allison was at breakfast. The shadow of illness was gone from her face. She was in white silk sandals, and her yellow gold hair hanging to her shoulders. She was exquisite as the day, with a fire of mischief in her violet eyes.

"I feel fine now," she boasted. "In the privacy of my cabin for the last 48 hours I've been singing the blues—I mean about the war—my lasing every centavo but a chicle plantation—and now the storm! It's all off my mind for good."

The rubber men and the lighthouse keeper were enchanted and a little afraid of her. To Barry's surprise she refused their homage.

"Just call me Al," she said. "The deb is dead. I'm not even Queen of Chewing Gum Jungle—just a chicle laborer."

"That's ridiculous," said Barry heatedly.

She turned on him with mocking light of combat. "That inclination to bossiness is apt to get you into trouble, Mr. Fielding."

"Touche," Barry grinned as he started for his cabin.

She looked after him startled. "Where are you going?"

"I have three books to digest before we get to Puerto Barrios," he told her. His masculine pride was satisfied by her visible disappointment.

He was not evading her, nor exaggerating the importance of the books. He settled down to desperate concentration. He felt that somewhere within their pages they held the key to the success of failure of his mission to Guatemala. They were histories of the Quiche Indian tribe.

He could scarcely pull himself out of his absorption during meals. But he noted with vague amusement the constantly soaring stock of Allison's popularity with the other passengers. By the third day she was the darling of passengers and crew alike, which fact he included in his letter to Lila, though he added an honest and comforting account of his own cloistered days. He did not mention, of course, the rising pique he could feel in Allison over his invulnerability to her charms.

At lunch that day the talk was all of Santiago. Allison had been there often. She was in a pale green cotton frock as cool as frost in the brilliance of the tropic sunshine. She was full of eager description of places and spots they must see . . . the Bacardi factory . . . San Juan Hill . . . the little church with the broken bell. . . . And there was on old Indian in a basket shop in the market place who told the most wonderful stories He belonged to some strange tribe, and when he was 12 he took some kind of a blood oath.

Barry was instantly all attention. He tried to sound casual. "Was he a Quiche Indian?"

Allison's large eyes fixed on him with thoughtful innocence. "I believe that was the tribe," she said slowly.

"I'd like to talk to him," Barry said. "Do you think he might be there still?"

She shrugged. "He might. He's been there for six years. He was there last October."

So Barry joined the party in the small tender going from the boat to the Island.

Allison proved a beguiling guide. She complained loudly of the blistering heat but led a spirited search through the colorful, cobblestoned streets for the old Indian, somehow managing to point out a thousand native customs and relics en route. She had a magic way of dispersing the swarms of native children with a few pennies, and coaxing passage by armed guards.

But the old Indian could not be found. Even Barry was satisfied by the time they abandoned the search in the dusky, music-filled interior of Allison's favorite cafe. Around their table they raised wine glasses to Allison's prowess as guide.

Michief tingled her laughter. "No, let's drink to dear old Itchy Suma," she cried, "and the blood oath of Chichicastenango. They lured the lion from his lair."

Barry glanced around at the sudden roar of laughter from the three other men. He realized suddenly he had been duped into coming.

Allison's laughter rose. "Serves you right, you recluse! I sneaked into your cabin during dinner last night and took some bait from your old books."

Barry controlled his irritation over the loss of the afternoon and enjoyed the exotic food and dancing. But he remained ominously quiet when Allison taught the others several Quiche words she had gleaned from the book, and they shouted them back and forth with hilarious gusto, until surrounding tables of natives looked over with interest.

Allison leaned across the table suddenly and slid her small flame-tipped fingers into Barry's hand. "Hate me in the morning, Handsome," she begged, "but love me tonight."

Barry looked up the delicate length of her white arm to her heart-shaped face with its tremulous pouting mouth, its straight slender nose, its wide violet eyes. Probably, he thought dispassionately, the loveliest face he had ever seen on a woman.

ANSWER: The words often are used interchangeably. Fortress usually means a larger, more extensive fortification than a fort.

Today's Journal Editorial

IT'S OUR FOOD, AIN'T IT?

The almost complete secrecy with which sessions of an international food conference are to be surrounded next month cannot do other than arouse grave and justified suspicions with regard to the proceedings.

The declared intent of the President in the matter amounts to a great deal more than the mere exclusion of the representatives of the press from all the sessions that will have any significance. Actually it bars the American people who must depend upon the press for their reports of such things. People are not going to be satisfied with the "official" reports to be handed out by officials and OWI propagandists who will tell what they wish, and no more.

Yet this is a conference which involves the feeding of the world after the war. It is one which will discuss the very important part that the United States must play in that gigantic task. It is one which almost certainly will attempt to bind this nation to agreements which will affect every person in this nation, possibly for generations to come. Yet Mr. Roosevelt proposes, by his actions, to attempt to make pledges for the American people without consulting them and, presumably, without even letting them know what the pledges are.

This is an attitude which may be expected to—and should—create prejudice against the conference, even before it starts. It is an attitude which invites repudiation of anything the conference may attempt to do. It may doom the whole thing to failure from the start.

Our Greatest Blessing: A Good Sense of Humor

'Incentive Payments' For War Workers Considered . . .

Management-Labor Committee May Act

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

THE idea of "incentive payments" for war industry workers is being toyed with in Washington's official planning circles as something that will put more money in the workers' pay envelopes, help combat the big bad cost of living, beat the Little Steel formula, increase war production and in general reduce the public woe in these tough times.

This isn't to be confused with the incentive payments for farmers, which the Department of Agriculture promoted a couple of months ago and Congress kicked in the head. This new brand of incentive payment is to apply to industrial workers only. But the War Production board is now reshuffling its management-labor advisory setup, will probably do something about revitalizing its moribund Labor Production division, will create a new labor office under Robert K. Lamb, former chief counsel of the defunct Tolan House committee investigating labor migration, to work with War Manpower commission. Out of all this reorganizing is supposed to come action, one part of which is the idea of selling management and labor on further use of the incentive payment.

EDSON

PIECEWORK VS. SPEEDUP

NOW piecework as such is one of the things that the labor statesmen have been trying to get away from for years. Piecework is associated with the speed-up, the Bedeaux system, efficiency experts, stop-watches, rate cutting and all that stuff. Consequently, any effort to take workers off hourly or daily pay rate bases and put them all back on piecework is going to meet with opposition.

The trick, therefore, will be to get labor and management to agree that there's a war on and something should be done about it, so how about adopting incentive payments for the duration? This may be one of the first propositions put up to the newly constituted WPB Management - Labor council, made up of the presidents of the C. I. O., A. F. of L., U. S. Chamber of Commerce and National Association of Manufacturers.

Reduce the case for incentive payments to a simple example, and you come up with something like this situation which actually developed last summer:

The wife of a leading, well-to-do citizen in an Ohio town got patriotic and went to work in the local canning factory at the height of the tomato harvest because the manager simply couldn't get enough help to handle his war crop. The good lady — call her Mrs. Tiara — was assigned to peeling tomatoes, and was she lousy. One bushel a day was about all she could do, though working right next to her was a nice fresh country girl — call her Miss Nimblefinger — who could peel four bushels of tomatoes a day and never cut a finger. But—

Under the Fair Labor Standards act, cannery workers must be paid by the hour, not by the bushel. So Mrs. Tiara gets the same wages by law for her one bushel that is paid to Miss Nimblefinger for her four, and is that fair?

THE SOVIET SYSTEM

THE same principle might apply to loading shells, making gas masks, laying bricks, riveting, sewing shirts. As the labor supply thins out, more and more unskilled labor will be used and it will be paid the same wages as the skilled. The advocates of the incentive payment plan say that there should be a minimum basic wage for a given unit of work. But if any given worker can turn out two units of work in a normal shift, that worker gets double pay.

This is not necessarily cruel capitalism, grinding workers to the bone. If you can stand a little dose of Soviet propaganda — from each according to his ability, to each according to his labor — it might be recorded that the Russians have geared up their war production in just this way. There is a standard unit of daily production for every class of work — plowing ground, making bread making bullets.

The workman who turns out a unit and a half a day gets pay and a half. The extra producers are the Stakhanovites, the heroes of the production line who get their medals just like soldiers, as well as extra pay. That's the way the Soviet gets production.

In the United States, the incentive payment is not unknown, and a number of war industries have bonus plans of one type or another. Most notorious are the records of some of the Cleveland rugged individualists, like Jack and Heihtz, J. F. Lincoln of Lincoln Electric, whose workers make $5,000 a year and up and are feeling no pain. But the professional labor unions don't like the idea and it will be a job to sell them on it, even as a war measure.

State Rests In Welsh Slaying

KANSAS CITY, April 15. (U.P.)—The state rested its case today in the trial of George W. Welsh, jr., charged with the hammer and knife slaying of his sister, Leila.

Prosecutor John V. Hill announced at mid-morning that the state had completed presentation of its evidence. The defense immediately called the defendant's mother, Mrs. George Welsh, sr., as its first witness.

Deputy Questioned

Resting of the state's case followed a five-minute recess asked by the prosecution after Judge Albert A. Ridge had sustained repeated defense objections in the questioning of John Purdome, chief deputy sheriff.

The state had attempted to question Purdome regarding a conversation with Welsh in the sheriff's office shortly after the murder was discovered. Persistent objections of the defense were sustained and the prosecution was unable to elicit any information from the witness.

Told Of Conversation

Thomas B. Farley, former head of the police homicide squad, told yesterday of a conversation with Welsh the day of the slaying in which he quoted the defendant as saying he had not been near the window of his sister's bedroom for several months.

Fingerprints of the defendant, it was testified earlier, were found on the sill, and state technical witnesses had maintained they were made "not more than 48 hours" before their discovery.

Means Doubling Effort

This would mean doubling on a continuous basis the efforts now made by the workers to help the government finance the war for, while the present campaign has a 13 billion dollar goal, the sale of bonds will continue till war's end.

The Treasury, commenting on payroll deduction plans, says:

More than 178,900 business firms have installed a savings plan; only 1,880 out of 34,600 firms employing more than 100 people don't have one.

Bank Subscriptions Limited

Bank subscriptions to the Treasury's issue of certificates of indebtedness—limited to two billion dollars—was permitted for the first three days of the drive and had to close last night.

Treasury spokesmen were so confident of the result when final returns are tabulated they said it would be a matter of telling the banks just what percentage of the two billion dollars each of them could take.

Could Borrow From Banks

The government could borrow from the banks all the money it needs this year but Morgenthau has made it plain there are two strong objections to this:

1. It would mean sacrificing the government's "greatest dam against inflation." By "dam" he meant getting the public money into war bonds and out of circulation where excess cash is an inflationary threat.
2. This is a "people's war and the people should finance it."

San Francisco Area Shaken By Quakes

OAKLAND, Calif., April 15. (AP)—A series of earth shocks strong enough to knock dishes off shelves jarred the San Francisco east bay area starting at 8:26 a. m., Pacific war time, today. The epicenter appeared to be around Livermore on the Hayward fault. Nine shakes were reported in the first hour. San Francisco was not affected.

"I'M CERTAINLY GUILTY, JUDGE"—Mrs. Zulema Bean Voss, daughter of the famed Judge Roy Bean, the "law west of the Pecos," was the first one tried at the Judge Bean court at Houston as the 40-and-8 Society opened the court to further the second war loan drive. Charged with being a loyal American, she told Judge Frank Williford, "I'm certainly guilty, judge," and bought a war bond to pay her fine. Jack Stallings, drive chairman, is in the center after testifying as a witness.

Cotton Control Order Stayed

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—OPA said in a statement today no announcement regarding cotton ceiling prices "will be made during the course of trading in the cotton market in order that there be no interruption of normal trading."

The statement was issued, apparently, to counteract reports that a sudden announcement of government control on cotton prices might be made today.

May Come Tonight

Price Administrator Prentiss Brown said last week that, under President Roosevelt's "hold the line" order, he was preparing controls on cotton and the principal question of the last few days has been the date and form of the anticipated order.

The OPA statement left open the possibility of some announcement tonight, saying "if any statement is made, it will be after the close of the market."

Purge Of Pro-Axis French Said Ordered

ALGIERS, April 15. (AP)—An authoritative source said today that Gen. Henri Giraud had ordered a purge of all pro-Axis and Vichy-minded officers from the French Army.

He said the French civil and military leader in north Africa had ordered commanders of the land, sea and air forces to report to him by May 1 the names of all officers who had shown a reluctance to fight on the Allied side because of their allegiance to Marshal Petain.

"All-Out" Hoarding Discovered By OPA

DALLAS, April 15 (AP)—Here's what OPA agents found in two food hoarders' homes here:

Fifteen hams hanging in a bathroom.
Two cases of razor blades.
Fifty two pounds of butter.
Two new automobile tires.
514 cans of food, besides 840 cans which were declared when ration books were issued.

OPA will give the illicit food to the Dallas war chest for hospitals and needy persons, but the hams hang legally in the bathroom smokehouse, because no declarations were demanded on meat.

Joe Foster, chief attorney for the district OPA, said many reports of food hoarding have been made and that his division is digging into the facts.

Rommel Feeling Pinch

On the Tunisian front, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's last-straw grasp on the north African bridgehead was under hammering assault in at least three main sectors, and it was likely, too, that the Axis chieftain was feeling the pinch of dwindling air strength as the Allies officially recorded more than 199 enemy planes destroyed since Saturday. At least 19 Axis aircraft were shot down and others destroyed on the ground yesterday.

Along with the British 1st army's advance in the north, Allied headquarters announced that Gen. Montgomery's 8th army troops "are in contact with the enemy defenses on the Enfidaville line."

Enfidaville marks the southeast coastal anchor of Marshal Rommel's 100-mile defense zone guarding Tunis and Bizerte.

French Continue Advance

"French forces continued their successful advance in the range of hills to the west of the Enfidaville line and yesterday captured over 400 prisoners," the Allied communique said.

Front dispatches said Marshal Rommel still had about 10 airfields left in his fast-shrinking corridor and cautioned against counting out German air power in the north African theater too soon. Nevertheless, the destruction of some 200 Axis planes in five days, including 134 big fuel-carrying transports, was a severe blow to the enemy and sharply demonstrated Allied superiority in the skies.

The lost transports, it was estimated, could ferry 10,000 tons of badly needed supplies to Rommel monthly by making a round-trip a day.

Tax Issue May Explode Again

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—A statement by Senate Republicans endorsing the Ruml plan became the fuse today for a new explosion of the pay-as-you-go income tax issue in the House ways and means committee.

Seven GOP members of the Senate finance committee yesterday pledged support for the Ruml skip-a-year proposal and called for early enactment of current taxation legislation, including a 20 per cent withholding levy.

Knutson Optimistic

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), mainspring of House Republican support behind the plan, said this action "gives us grounds for asking" the ways and means committee to reopen the pay-as-you-go question.

"It looks like this is going to force the committee's hand," he declared.

All pay-as-you-go legislation was tossed back to the ways and means body when the House two weeks ago voted down the Ruml plan, and the committee on Monday refused, 16 to 9, to reopen the issue immediately.

Stamford Man To Be Speaker At Museum Meeting Friday

Charles E. Coombes of Stamford, who will address the West Texas Museum association Friday night at Texas Technological college, is a former district judge, has practiced law many years and is recognized as an outstanding speaker, friends said today.

He is a former president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He has spoken in various churches.

"Experiences of a Frontier Lawyer" will be subject of his address, which will be delivered at 8:30 o'clock Friday night in the museum building.

It had been erroneously announced the meeting would be conducted tonight.

The program of the association's 13th annual meeting also includes a board of directors meeting at 6 o'clock in the museum building and a chuck wagon supper at 7:15 o'clock. If weather continues fair, the supper will be conducted in the agriculture grove rather than in the stock judging pavilion.

Ropesville Youth Will Not Be Able To Keep Christmas Appointment--He's Dead

Staff Sgt. Robert S. Dickson, 19, son of Mrs. Luther G. Pitts of Ropesville route 1, will not be able to keep an informal Christmas appointment at home.

He, gunner aboard a Flying Fortress, was killed Jan. 13 in the western European theater, a telegram from the adjutant general has informed Mrs. Pitts.

An earlier communication had informed her the son was missing and that the Air medal had been awarded to him for "exceptional meritorious achievement while participating in an aerial flight." Since he is dead, the medal will be given posthumously, Mrs. Pitts has been informed.

"The secretary of war desires me to express his deep regret. . . ."

Convinced He'd Live

"My son always was convinced he would come out of this war alive," Mrs. Pitts said. "He repeatedly said so. But it was not to be. He always added though that if he didn't come home after it was all over, 'a country worth living in is worth fighting for.' Copies of papers he has sent to me indicate he made numerous bombing raids over continental Europe and that he was doing enough good to compensate for the risk he was taking. I'll have to think of it that way."

Sgt. Dickson was graduated from Ropesville High school, went two months to Texas Technological college and enlisted in the air corps March 24, 1942. He completed training at the gunnery school at Harlingen and went to Europe in November after additional training at Spokane, Wash., Muroc, Calif., and Syracuse, N. Y. He was a member of St. Paul's-on-the-Plains Episcopal church in Lubbock.

He has a brother, Staff Sgt. James W. Dickson, 22, in Puerto Rico.

Johnson Takes Familiar Stand

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Senator Hiram W. Johnson (R-Calif), one of the original Senate "irreconcilables" who defeated American adherence to the League of Nations after the last war, spoke out today against consideration at this time of proposals to commit the Senate to a course of post-war international collaboration.

Asked if he favored deciding now whether this country should take part in policing the world after the present war, the 76-year-old, silver-maned Californian told reporters:

"You can put my answer down as 'no.'"

A member of the Senate foreign relations committee which will pass on several pending resolutions involving postwar commitments, Johnson said he thought this was no time to discuss such matters.

"How can we possibly tell what conditions will be when this war ends?" he demanded. "It is foolish to say now what we will do. This matter should not have been brought before the Senate at all."

Wheat Crop Set At 31 Million Bushels

AUSTIN, April 15 (AP) — The USDA reports a prospective wheat crop of 31,419,000 bushels as of April 1, nineteen per cent above the 1932-31 average but 34 per cent below last year's bumper yield of 47,438,000 bushels.

Rains since April 1, it was pointed out, may revise the forecast upward.

The report said early potatoes were at 75 per cent of normal. Condition of rye and pastures was slightly below average, peach crop prospects appeared much below average.

Russian Fliers Hit Nazi Lines

MOSCOW, April 15 (AP) — Air battles increased over the Russian front today, with the Red army's fliers concentrating again on Nazi supply columns and their fighter planes successfully battling off German raiders.

The land armies jabbed at one another in various sectors with new fighting reported north of Chuguev and south of Izyum, on the long Donets river battle line.

(Several Red army divisions supported by tanks struck again at Nazi defenses in the Kuban river sector of the Caucasus, but were repulsed with very heavy losses, the German high command declared in a Berlin broadcast communique recorded by the Associated Press. This was described by the Germans as the only important ground operation yesterday on the Russian front.)

Nazis Have Little Success

The German air force is said to be having little success in its stabs at cities, railway junctions and front line positions.

Today's Soviet noon communique again noted there were no important changes on the land front.

It told of Red army artillery blasting a battalion of enemy infantry north of Chuguev, and of a Russian unit holding off a German attack on a hill south of Izyum.

Russian artillery fire also pounded German positions on the Volkhov front southeast of Leningrad.

Negro's Bond Set In Burglary Case

A 29-year-old negro, Willie Johnson, remained in county jail today in lieu of $1,000 bail set by J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, in binding him over to await grand jury action on a burglary charge.

Johnson specifically is charged with burglary of the Martin Kuykendall residence at 1611 Avenue L; but officials say he has admitted other burglaries: of the 1608 Texas avenue residence of Mrs. Alice Stanton and the 2106 Sixteenth street residence of J. H. Hackfield.

Part of the loot at each place has been recovered, it was announced by Aubrey Fawver, assistant chief of police, who signed the complaint prepared by Burton S. Burks, district attorney.

Another negro held by police admitted he had bought stolen goods from Johnson, officials said, but no complaint had been filed against him.

Johnson, who said he had served three penitentiary terms in Texas and Oklahoma, also was found to have stolen clothing in his possession, including a coat owned by J. H. White of Abernathy.

U. S. Will Champion Rights Of Small Nations, Hull Declares

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — The peoples of the little countries the world over had authoritative assurance today that the United States will continue to champion the rights of the small nations.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull made this clear in an address before the Pan American union last night in which he vigorously advocated worldwide adoption of the good neighbor policy as a sort of global Magna Charta of the nations.

Amid the clash of arms and confusion of world conflict it is more than ever important, he said, "to keep clearly before mankind the principles to which we have dedicated ourselves,"—the principles of sovereignty, equality, law, order, justice, morality, non-intervention, friendliness and co-operation on which the solidarity of this hemisphere is based.

"These principles upon which we have built our inter-American life," he emphasized, "are not exclusive property of the continents of the Americas. They are not peculiar to this hemisphere. They are universally applicable and are open to universal adoption . . .

"The liberty that we jealously safeguard as the right of every American nation, great and small, is the same liberty which we believe should be established throughout the earth."

Hull's words were regarded as of particular significance in view of recent British and American official utterances widely interpreted as meaning the small states must reconcile themselves to a diminished role in the post-war world and that some of them might have to disappear as sovereign entities.

Scottish Rite Lays Plans For Program

Durwood H. Bradley, president said leaders of the South Plains Scottish Rite club would begin tonight preparations for the annual Maundy Thursday dinner and program, to be the night of April 22.

A group of leading Scottish Rite Masons will meet in Bradley's Conley building office tonight to discuss plans and ritualistic matters, he said, and the program will also be given attention. Principal speaker will be announced within the next few days.

The South Plains Scottish Rite club has no dues, and all Consistory Masons of the fourteenth degree and over in this section of the state are automatically members of the organization. Every Consistory Mason in the area is invited to the Maundy Thursday affair, Bradley said, adding that cards soon will go out from the office of Secretary Ed Parker, urging Scottish Rite members to make reservations in advance, for themselves and Master Mason friends.

The South Plains Scottish Rite club holds two dinner programs each year, the other being in the fall, at Feast-of-the-Passover time.

Bradley said he hoped to be able to announce complete plans for next week's Easter observance by Sunday.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
