Up Front for Wolves

These 4 sturdy lads are much in the plans of Coach Sam Christy's Colorado High football Friday night in the season opener against Winters High. All guards, they are Lee Schafer, 51, senior; Joe Dean, 60, senior; Don Free, 63, senior; and Bill McGuire, 52, junior.

AFTER HAMLIN SCRIMMAGES

'Wide Work' On Tap For Wolf Gridmen

Coach Sam Christy's Colorado High Wolves begin final preparation Monday for their season football opener here against Winters High. And, with 2 rugged scrimmages with Hamlin already under their belt, the Wolves can count on plenty of work the next three days.

Christy staff isn't dissatisfied with the progress of the 1962 team. In fact, the second scrimmage in Hamlin Friday night brightened the faces of the coaches.

"But we need more strength against the wide stuff," Christy emphasized, "and we'll be working plenty with our corner backs and ends."

"At the same time we will be sharpening our offense as much as possible."

The Wolves, a hefty squad with fine early season spirit, isn't picked as a 3AAA contender this season. But if they develop a sharpened attack and noisier their outside defenses, then they could develop into the surprise of the district.

Here Tuesday night and again Friday night in Hamlin the Wolves were hurt by Hamlin's effective use of the sprint-out pass and the optional run.

Counting their assets, though, the Wolves could point to definite improvement in their blocking, defense up the middle and their all-around offense.

"We made worlds of mistakes the first night," Christy commended, "but these were expected."

"We made plenty again

Friday night... but just about half as many.

"So we are pretty well pleased. We're not disappointed."

Nothing among the pleasing performances Friday night against Hamlin was the blocking and running, especially

Rain Brightens Outlook For Crops And Ranges

September Comes In Wet To Loosen Dry Spell Hold

Rains came all over Mitchell County Friday night. Moisture measured from 7/10 of an inch in Landers Community to 2 inches north of Loraine.

Rain that began about 8 o'clock Friday evening will help loosen the hold of a dry spell threatening drought proportions, area farmers reported Saturday.

Colorado City's official rain gauge recorded 1.70 inches. Loraine received 95/100 in town with farmers north of town blessed with 2 inches.

Loraine Girl Aids Migrants

Mitchell County college student, Billie Lewey, is at home after participating in a two week Migrant Ministry project at Sinton. Miss Lewey is the daughter of Mrs. Martha Lewey of route two, Loraine, and is to be a senior student in Texas College at Tyler this term.

She was one of a group sponsored by Southwest Area Councils of the YWCA and YMCA, and the Migrant Ministry of the Texas Council of Churches. Directors of the program were Dr. and Mrs. Roy Craig of Austin.

Announced purpose of the two-week project in session was "to help students understand the Christian faith; to clarify its relevance to their lives, for the campus, for the community, and for the world."

A second phase accentuated by the project was the study of the migrant labor situations in the Coastal Bend area. The group worked at helping improve Sinton's Migrant Labor Camp.

Discussions were led by officials of Nueces County health officials; members of the Texas State House of Representatives; the Texas committee on Migrant Workers, and YWCA-YMCA officials.

The student from Loraine was the only representative from West Texas. Other students enrolled in the project were a student from Pueblo, Mexico; one from Houston; another from Indianapolis, Indiana; Oklahoma, Arizona, Arkansas, Nebraska, and one student from Bangkok, Thailand.

Rain that began about 8 o'clock Friday evening will help loosen the hold of a dry spell threatening drought proportions, area farmers reported Saturday.

Colorado City's official rain gauge recorded 1.70 inches. Loraine received 95/100 in town with farmers north of town blessed with 2 inches.

"Wonderful" was the term used to express crop value of the county-wide rain by Allen V. Sheppard, of Soil Conservation Service, Colorado City.

"To have a fall rain the first day in September is plain wonderful for all crops. It's of equal value to ranchers and scorched rangelands," Sheppard said. "Of course we need more but this is a fine start. First fall rain usually comes about 10 days later in our county."

Sheppard called the precipitation of special help to cotton as well as all forage crops which will, he said, respond to the needed moisture.

Cotton, the county's major farm crop, was benefitted everywhere, a check with farmers in the cotton-growing business showed today.

W. W. Holman, who farms 15 miles southeast of town in Landers community, received 7/10 inch, up to noon Saturday.

L. L. Dorn, one mile north and 1 mile east of Westbrook, where it rained 1.2 inch Friday of last week and 9/10 of an inch Friday night, said both rains "helped young cotton that was drying up some."

Ira Mitchell, Shepherd Community 4 miles east of town, called the rain "A help to late cotton."

China Grove farmers received 1 1/2 inches this Friday, 3/10 last Friday. O. N. Laster Jr., 11 miles north-east of Colorado City, said "It will be good for all the crops."

Seven Wells farmer Sam K. Palmer's rain of 1 1/2 "helped young cotton, did the old cotton no harm," he said.

Cuthbert area got 1 1/2 inch of rain. L. A. Browne, 18 miles northwest of town reported from his rain gauge.

On Tex Keel's farm at Rogers, 10 miles northwest, and at Lindon Solomon's Buford land, another 1 1/2 inch fell.

Looney farm of Roy A. Carey, 6 miles southeast, got 13/10 and Runderbrook Ranch, 25 miles south of Colorado City, measured 95/100 for its first rain in several weeks. None fell there Friday of last week.

Silver Union area was slightly dry. No rain fell there last week and only 4/10 of an inch fell Friday night.

World War I Vets And Ladies to Meet

ALLOTMENT WINS

Wheat Vote Keeps Quota

Mitchell County wheat growers voted strongly to keep the national wheat allotment of 55 million acres, and to keep national average crop support price for 1963 at $1.82 per bushel.

Thursday's referendum found 29 Mitchell farmers who grow wheat voting for the present program, said Wayne Worley, head of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here. Four wheat growers voted for the referendum's alternative which would lift wheat allotments completely but pay growers only 50% parity instead of the 82% parity now in effect.

Nationally, 68% of the country's wheat growers voted to keep the present price and allotment for wheat. A two-thirds majority would have been needed to repeal present quotas and parity.

CALL FOR BARBECUE RESERVATIONS!

Tour To Visit A Water Shed

Everybody expecting to make the annual farm tour, Thursday, needs to make reservations for the noon hour barbecue. Roy A. Carey said Saturday. Farm tour sponsors hope for at least 150 reservations.

Reservations can be made in Loraine by calling the Royce Mahon Feed and Seed Store. In Colorado City the Chamber of Commerce office, RA 8, 2211, will be accepting calls for reservations until 5 p. m. Tuesday. The Chamber is co-sponsoring the tour. Barbecue lunch will be served by courtesy of Colorado City and Loraine business firms.

Soil Conservation Service, Farmers Home Administration, and Extension Service's Mitchell County office are other joint sponsors for the annual farm-visiting trek.

Emphasis is to be on water conservation plus observation of some cattle and of cotton varieties. First stop will be Buford Co-op Gin. From Buford the tour will travel to China Grove to visit that community's treated water shed practices.

All land owners in that China Grove area to be visited are using water-holding practices (terraces, diversions, waterways.) To substitute mechanical water conserving devices China Grove farmers are using the conservation crop system — growing peas, summer annuals, legumes, sorghums with their cotton.

Farms to be visited are those belonging to Kent Carpenter, V. R. Trulock estate, J. D. Hill, Bodine Brothers, Willie Gieger, Henry Hoyle, and Floyd. See TOUR Pg. 7

The celebration, marking the initial year of business within the community, will be Saturday.

And featuring the anniversary party will be two clowns—Rocky Feller and Geno—who will present free entertainment all day at the store.

Rocky Feller, who is Don Oatman, is billed as the world's poorest capitalist, and Geno, who is Gene Neilson, is the famed Libby's clown.

The pair of clowning "cut-ups" are well known throughout Texas and will hitchhike to Colorado City for the birthday party, according to Earl Brock, Village manager.

"We're inviting everyone to mark Saturday, Sept. 8, on their calendar," Brock said, "so they will come by the store and enjoy the fun and meet the clowns."

Village Food Store, which also operates a super-market in Sweetwater, is the successor here to Pick & Pay at the corner of E. Second St. and Hickory.

Library News

The following is a list of new books just received by the Federation Library. They are available by request from Mrs. Boyd Duzier, librarian.

"KIM," Rudyard Kipling (Dodd). The famous story of the orphan boy and the ancient hly man on their journey across India. Great Illustrated Classics edition.

"LAND AND PEOPLE OF EGYPT," Zaki Mahmud (Lippincott). History of Egypt from ancient times through the present. Clearly and concisely written with excellent maps and photographs.

"AUGUSTUS CAESAR'S WORLD," Genevieve Foster (Scribner). Rome during the lifetime of Augustus Caesar. Gives insight into the customs, knowledge, and superstitions of the time. Pictorial and comprehensive.

"AROUND THE WORLD WITH NELLIE BLY," Emily Hahn. The exciting and true story of Nellie Bly's sensational trip around the world in 1889, and of her life in the New York newspaper world of the gay nineties. Recommended for grades 7-12.

"GREAT DAYS OF WHALING," Henry Beetle Houghton. An exciting book describing typhoons, shipwreck, mutiny and even war on the Atlantic, the Indian Ocean, the far Pacific and the Arctic. Recommended for grades 7-12.

"NO, NO, MRS. GOOSE!" Miriam Clark Potter (Lippincott). Eleven entertaining stories and many pictures of the antic adventures of the wonderfully silly Mrs. Goose. Recommended for ages 5-8.

"FAMOUS NEGRO HEROES OF AMERICA," Langston Hughes (Dodd). Over a dozen biographies of Negro heroes in American history, from the early 1500's to modern times, including explorers, sea captains, slaves and fighters in five wars. A notable addition to the Dodd, Mead "Famous Biographies" series. Photographs.

"LAND OF THE FREE," Enid Meadowcroft (Crowell). A good overview of United States history from the voyage of Columbus through the second world war. The writing is simple, and the large type is appropriate for the reading level of the intended audience. The writing is objective; the weakness in the book is that there is so much material covered that the author has had to be selective, to move rather abruptly from one topic to another. A bibliography and an index are appended.

"WHIRLYBIRDS," Edwin P. Hoyt (Doubleday). An oversize book about helicopters, profusely illustrated with drawings of models old and new. The first section gives the history of flying craft that preceded the helicopter, from Leonardo de Vinci's discovery of the helicopter principle to the Autogiro that was briefly popular earlier in the twentieth century.

"BECKY'S ISLAND," Elisabeth Ogilvie (Whittlesey House). A good Maine story with a strong central character, Vicky and her cousin Georgia were both seventeen, members of a big family that spent summers in Maine. Vicky, a tomboy, found for the first time that she envied Georgia's popularity; restless, she became interested in the heretic community on Becky's Island. The story of Vicky's devotion to the neglected children on the island and of her successful program to get them a school and a teacher is written with pace and in easy style. The contrast between Vicky's background—the big happy, busy family—and the scenes and people on the island is dramatic and effective. Good ethical values, good details of period and locale, good characterization.

After leaving Seattle, they drove to San Francisco, Calif., where they visited another uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Ball.

On the return trip the family visited Sequoia Park. They arrived home Aug. 18.

High School Welcomes Suraiya

Colorado City High School opened its doors Wednesday, and the 296 students enrolled were dressed in high school fashion, complete in jeans, plaid shirts, full skirts and white blouses. But each of the students were alike in one respect—they all wore white cards pinned to their collars that stated, "Welcome Suraiya."

The cards were an official welcome to Colorado City's second foreign exchange student, 16 year-old Suraiya Akhtar, from Pakistan.

Miss Akhtar will attend Colorado City High School this year under the sponsorship of the American Field Service, Colorado City chapter.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Rhode are host parents for the girl during the year she will stay here.

The first assembly conducted at the local high school Wednesday morning introduced Suraiya. She stood before the assembly students and faculty and acknowledged the introduction.

Alexis Cowan was hostess Monday night for an informal gathering of friends at her home. Suraiya was guest of honor. A picnic supper was served in the Cowan backyard.

Suraiya will wear her native dress to classes. She is enrolled in English III and American History, both required by the AFS, Speech and Civics. She is also a member of the Jet Maskers, a speech club. Student Council and Wolverines, a pep club. She will wear a Wolverine uniform to all football games and activities.

IN DUNN COMMUNITY CENTER Goodletts Honored On Anniversary

A reception staged Sunday Aug. 26 at the Dunn Community Center honored Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goodlett on their golden wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives of the couple called between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. An arrangement of gold mums in a crystal holder accented the serving table. A large white cake decorated with the couple's names and the years 1912-1962 in gold was served with punch from crystal and silver appointments. The couple's daughters-in-law, Mrs. Charles Goodlett, W. S. Goodlett and Joe Goodlett and their granddaughter, Margaret Goodlett, served. A smaller arrangement of gold flowers accented the registry. Their granddaughter, Sena Jo Goodlett of Big Spring presided at the registry. The couple's five sons were all present at the fete. They are: Joseph of Conroe; Reuben, of Decatur, Ark.; W. S. of Big Spring; Eunice of Dunn; and Charles of Colorado City. Sixteen of their 17 grandchildren were present and all 3 great grandchildren. Approximately 150 persons were present. Mr. and Mrs. Goodlett are natives of Buckrange Community, near Nashville, Ark. The couple were married Sept. 22, 1912. They moved to Colorado City in December, 1919. The Goodletts moved to the Dozier farm, on the line of Mitchell and Scurry Counties in the fall of 1920. They bought their own land in 1923 and are still actively engaged in livestock farming.

SATURDAY IN ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Higginbotham, Toll Wed In Corpus Christi Church

Miss Wanda Elaine Higginbotham and Lt. Richard (Dick) Kellogg Toll repeated wedding vows Saturday night in the St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Corpus Christi.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Higginbotham, 513 Williamson Place, Corpus Christi; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Toll of Pecos. The Higginbothams are former Colorado City residents.

The ceremony was performed before an arch centered with a large fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli and white asters with emerald foliage.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of white silk organza fashioned with a jewel neckline. The bodice was accented by seed pearls. The bouffant skirt swept into a chapel train in back. A satin pillbox, accented with Alençon lace and pearls, held her veil of white silk illusion.

She carried a cascade bou-quet of Phalaenopsis Orchids nestled in love puffs of white nylon tulle.

Sandra Higginbotham of Corpus Christi, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor.

Linda Higginbotham, Corpus Christi, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Kenneth Hill of Albany, served as bridesmaids.

The attendants' dresses were fashioned on Nile green silk organza and styled with jewel neckline and bell-skirts. They wore matching pillbox hats with short veils. They carried bouquets of foliage with a focal point of galax leaf roses.

Flower girl was Lynn Walker of El Paso.

Carlyle Smith of Grand Prairie served as best man. Groomsmen were William H. Frawley of Fort Worth and Ronald Langford of Grand Prairie.

Jimmy Lee of Artesia, N. M. and Wayne Underwood of Lubbock were ushers.

A reception in the church parish hall was conducted immediately following the wedding.

Following a honeymoon trip to Monterey, Mex., the couple will reside in San Antonio.

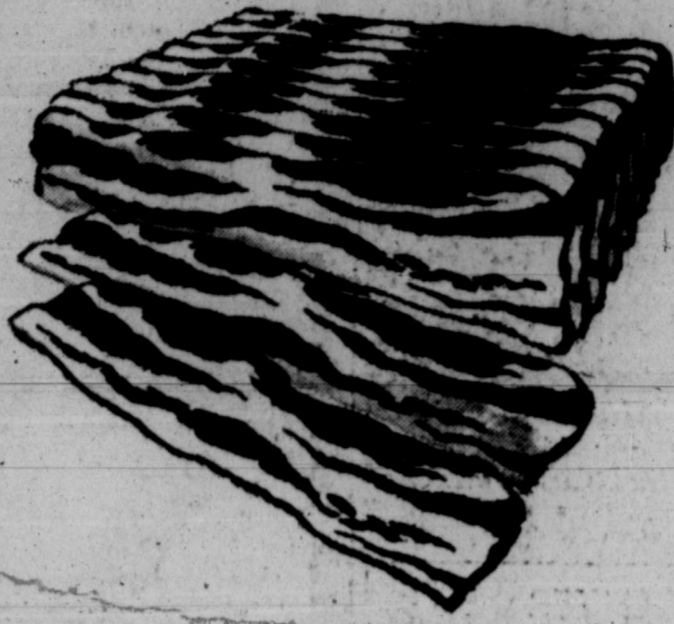

The bride is a graduate of Colorado City High School and Texas Technological College in Lubbock, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

The groom is a graduate of Pecos High School and Texas Technological College in Lubbock, where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi honorary and where he received his United States Army commission.

CONVERSATION CORNER

LOAFING is a lost art. Like quilting. The art of loafing is frowned upon, all over America. Everybody works so hard playing Golf has become big business. Bridge has entered the cold war. Dancing's gone totally mad. Going places and doing things is the order of the day, not to mention the night. Home is fast becoming a quick cafeteria and comfort station with dressing rooms attached.

NOW YOU TAKE HOLIDAYS. Most people will be taking one Monday, because it's Labor Day. A better name for the first Monday in September, for the average family, would be NO LABOR DAY. Nobody goes to work. People toil, instead, at seeing how far—and how fast—they can go. Go, go, go is the order of the day, too.

LOAFING is out of style. Probably because it just never seems to occur to anybody, any more. Even if it did, to be caught deliberately loafing is to admit you are naturally lazy or broke or unpopular—or all three at once. It takes courage, perception, and a devil-may-care-what-the-neighbors-think approach to living to become a real artist at loafing. It helps to remember that nobody ever loafed himself to death.

FISHING can be fun to natural-born-loafers only, under certain conditions. Otherwise, somebody else can have it. Fishing to anybody born deep in the backwoods takes time. It takes time! It takes somebody to bait the hook. And a good book.

We remember with love exactly three little fishes met

Like an old car, your insurance program can become out-dated, too. But while an old car shows its obsolescence, it takes study and review to uncover out-dated insurance. face to face.

FIRST FISH we ever caught was a little sun perch swimming away with the hook on a pole propped against a tall hickory tree while the little girl we used to be strolled along singing "Camptown Races" to the willow-swept bank of a little central Texas tributary to the Trinity.

SECOND was a catfish. He was swimming in the bath-tub. He created quite a problem. Just back from studying Hamlet at the Hesperian Club, we encountered the bath-tub specimen swimming up and down, up and down, nibbling cracker crumbs.

"All you have to do," said the then ten-year-old son and heir, "is take the ice-pick, punch it through his eye, then fry him for my supper. I caught him in Lone Wolf Creek."

WHEN it became quite clear that even a good, understanding mother was not up to slaying live mud-cats, our lad decided to "just let him live in the bath-tub." The idea had double advantage. No fish for supper, no bath at bed-time.

To this good day he's never fully forgiven us for having to take his first solo fish and throw it back from the Second Street bridge. That is spite of the fact he didn't have the heart to puncture a little catfish, either.

THIRD—and last fish—was a gorgeous crappie caught on a drop line over at Lake Sweetwater, before Lake Colorado City.

Somebody—it was maybe Jake Merritt or Bill Randle or Nat Thomas or Ed Williams—baited the minnow, so we left the pier and went knee-deep-in-dusk saying Wordsworth's lines "The world is too much with us, late and soon, getting and spending we lay waste our powers . . . Little we see in nature that is ours . . ." and so on.

NOBODY else caught a fish that evening—not even the work-hard fisherwomen using stink bait out on the raft.

Fishing, like loafing, is an art that just gets ruined when people try too hard. Fishing takes the right kind of poetry to lure the poor fish. Bass who hunger after learnin' may ignore anything less refined than Shakespeare.

COFFEE BREAK: Over in the coffee shop, spotted a sort of City-County convention being held in sections. Mayor Ily Berman, City Manager Earl Keaton, and Martin Weaver at one table . . . County Judge Elmer Martin, District Judge Eldon Mahon, Court Reporter Larry Marks at another.

Saw Clem Myers and Dick Kendall, too. Dick, one of C. City's most popular all-around citizens, leaves us Sept. 30 for Conroe—35 miles on a new freeway from Houston, his hometown. Conroe has 12,000 citizens; Montgomery County, his new over-all chamber field, boasts 30,000 people. So our Dick's stepping up—which is not surprising to anybody who knows him.

THOSE OF US who remember Dr. Graham Ward of Extension Service as the extremely likeable Miss Graham Hard who was Mitchell County Home Demonstration agent here in 1946, following Mildred Odum (who was after Vera Crippen) are happy to think of seeing Graham again. She's now a College Station clothing specialist and will speak at CONSUMER DAY, Wednesday, Sept. 5, Lone Wolf auditorium. This is one HD project which is for everybody. With Graham here and with Bobby Steakley (Mrs. H. Jene) narrating the style show, the program should be special.

CORNELIA MARTIN, one of our new teachers for Hutchinson's fourth grade, is the sister of R. E. Post, hails from Athens, is a Methodist, and holds an M. A. degree, Texas University. She's rented the apartment in Mrs. C. P. Gary's house, 6th and Chestnut.

Her son Jim Martin has been a C. City visitor. He's just completed US Navy duty as a full lieutenant and will now complete work for his law degree. He lacks one year, is a senior law student this fall.

JIM AND ANNE FERGUSON have been here from Decatur where our Jim is a bank president now. The Fergusons, former C. Citizens, were guests of the Elmer Martins and the Posts, while in town.

The Posts have had other V. I. P. guests—Ila, wife of their son USN Lt. Commander Bob Post, and the couple's children John, 8, and Susan, 6. The little family left here Friday to join Lt. Commander Post in San Diego, new home port for his ship the USS Constellation. Bob is hanger deck officer for the Constellation, now part of the Pacific fleet. Home port for the Posts has been Norfolk, Va. until now.

REASON we know so much Post News this issue is that Mary Post is publicity chairman for the coming Sabin vaccine Oral Vaccine Day—Sunday, Sept. 16th.

A fine group of Mitchell Countians are busy shaping plans to make Sabin Day an all-out success. Names, for some reason outside our ken, are not yet available for publication, but Down-Echo Lane we've been hearing how enthusiastically Mrs. Bruce Johnson of Lorraine, Mrs. George Fugate of Silver, Mrs. Rex McKenney of Westbrook, and Mrs. Charles C. Thompson of C. City are working at the critical health project as town chairmen for. See CONVERSATION CORNER Page 6

HEALTH reminds us of safety. Safety reminds us of driving. Driving reminds us of what wonderful fun loafing a holiday away can be. If you've lost the art of loafing, then go fishing. If you can't catch a fish because you've forgotten "The Village Smithy" then call Bob Reilly. If he doesn't know the verse, he'll make up some for you and/or the fish.

You might even quote your way to first prize—which is a whole day and night of hi-falutin' loafing at the Baker. Breakfast in bed, no less.

on the Wolves' strong side.

Raymond Kinesaid, the junior tailback, flashed improvement, just as did Dale Walker, the junior quarterback, who is battling senior David Lewis, the mighty mite, for the starting assignment.

The running of Charlie (Choo-Choo) Houston, the senior co-captain, also was looking up to what the Wolves are hoping for from the power runner. He's been hampered by a twisted ankle, injured at the start of practice 2 weeks ago.

Bill Boren, promising junior tailback and fullback, sparked on defense but still was handicapped by a practice injury.

Stanley Post, the big senior, and Joe Dean in the line were effective on offense - definitely improved over their 1961 performances. Bill McGuire, junior lineman, also handled blocking chores in dependable manner.

In fact, the performance of the line as a whole was improved Friday night.

Defensively, the performances of Don Hairston, senior end; Lee Schafer, linebacker; Larry Damborsky, junior corner back, and Leon Sweatt, tackle, were bright spots for the Wolves.

Standing out, with both his blocking and defense wing-back was Dickie Summer, the sturdy but little senior.

Short, Richardson Vows Exchanged In Snyder Church

A double-ring ceremony performed by candle light Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the First Methodist Church in Snyder united Miss Gretchen Short and James Douglas Richardson, Jr. in marriage.

The rites were read by the Rev. Harry Vanderpool.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Short, 3001 33rd St. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas Richardson, St. of Big Spring. The Richardsons are former residents of Colorado City.

Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pritchett and Mrs. T. C. Richardson of Colorado City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The molded bodice of lace had a scalloped scoop, ed decolletage, and the short bellied sleeves were complemented by wrist length white kid gloves. The waist was cinched with a crushed cummerbund of silk. Tiny self-fabric covered buttons fastened the back of the bodice. The voluminous skirt was appliqued with the Alencon motifs. Flat panels in front accented side fullness flowing into a wind-swept back that fell into a chapel train.

Her elbow-length veil of imported silk illusion flowed from a miniature princess crown of seed pearls.

She carried a cascade of frenched mums and stephanotis with gardenias atop a white lace-covered Bible. She also carried an heirloom lace and linen handkerchief which has been carried by each bride of her mother's family.

Miss Laine Barclay of Abilene, a sorority sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Elene Jordan of Brady, Miss Thelma Lew Phillips of West Columbia, also sorority sisters of the bride, and her twin sisters, Misses Deborah and Daehene Short.

The attendants wore dental street length dresses of gold peau de soie satin designed with three-quarter length

PEGGY'S

Paragraphs

By PEGGY BELVIN

THE MONTH OF AUGUST, of the year 1962, is gone . . . and with its last day goes the last of this writer's days of being a part of the topsy-turvy, mixed-up world of teen-agers.

From August 31, 1955, to August 31, 1962, I have lived in a world of crazy phrases, rock 'n roll records, dirty sneakers, crew-cuts and pony tails.

A teen-ager is a human being . . . disguised in blue jeans and sneakers. He's too old to be a child . . . yet too young to be an adult . . . so the teen-agers make for themselves a world of their own.

Hobby horses, bubble-gum and lollipops belong to children . . . business suits, credit cards and sedans belong to adults . . . but hot-rod, tattered sweatshirts and high school belong to teen-agers.

A child can hardly wait to reach his teen-aged years, adults remember them fondly and teenagers live them to the fullest.

Crusties, flirting and twirp dates belong in the teen-aged world, as do the one-time experiences, of learning to drive, learning geometry and learning to jitterbug.

ROCK 'N ROLL is the backbone of the teen-aged world. Adult criticism of their music can arouse a fierce protective sense in any of them.

The frenzied beat of rock 'n roll keeps time with the frenzied pace of the teenager's life. It's hard to cram 120 minutes of living into only 60 minutes of time. There must be time for ordinary every-day things . . . plus things like riding around, drinking cases of cokes, playing records over and over, crying in sad movies, talking for hours on the telephone . . . and simply taking time out to be thankful you're here to have such fun.

AND NOW . . . on my 20th birthday, I must prepare to depart from this world that has been my way of life for the past seven years. But what if a teen-ager reaches twenty before he is ready to leave this beloved teen-aged atmosphere?

A new age-group must be created . . . so a person can hang onto these fun-filled years just a little longer . . . they might be called the TWENTY-TEENS . . .

Sheets into Drapes — Looking for unusual, inexpensive drapery material? Try some of the pastel-colored muslin and percale sheets. A double-bed size contains about seven square yards. Four sheets should be enough to decorate a one person bedroom. For a decorative touch, sew on eyellet embroidery, cotton fringe, tailored bands, ball fringe or other ready-made trimmings.

Spats Returning — Spats, plain and fancy, short and long, appear to be a fashion item for the fall. Fashion authorities say they can add real dash to almost any costume.
