SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED FOR THROUGH SERVICE

The Ledger is in receipt of a letter from W. S. Keenan, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe, announcing the adjustment of train schedules between San Angelo and Temple, whereby the patrons of the road will now be accorded a through daylight train from San Angelo to Temple, and which will make connections with northbound and southbound trains from Temple. An unofficial announcement of the change has already been made by this paper, and the letter received Thursday, gives the schedule of the morning train.

There will be no change in other trains on this branch, excepting the cancelling of the eastbound stub train which arrives here at 9:28 in the morning at present, and which only runs as far as Brownwood. The new train will be known as No. 76. Heretofore No. 76 only ran from Brownwood to Temple, leaving Brownwood before No. 70, the present train, reached Brownwood.

The new train will leave San Angelo at three o'clock in the morning, arrive in Ballinger at 4:13, will agrive in Brownwood at 7:30 where a stop will be made for breakfast, and will arrive in Temple at 12:30. Connections will be made in Temple with trains for Fort Worth, Dallas, and other northern points, and also trains bound for Houston, San Antonio, and other points in that direction.

The change in schedule will be made Sunday morning, April 11. This will give people in this section of the state two through mail trains to the East each day, and will be of great benefit to passengers.

The city ticket in Brownwood favoring a municipal light plant won, indicating that the people are dissatisfied with the service the power corporation is giving them. A vote in Ballinger would show the same result.

Houston's corporation court was a complete failure in collecting fines for drunkeness last year, but fines for speeding more than doubled the previous year's drunk record. It seems that the people must have something to spend money for.

The Brownwood News thinks the crowd, for Bailey speakings indicate a big vote for Bailey. If the News thinks every man and woman who goes out to hear Joe speak is going to vote for him, the News is a poor thinker. We could name some other noted characters who would attract a larger crowd that Joe, but who could not be elected dog pelter.

YOU CAN'T DO IT IN SAN ANGELO

The hand of the law is falling heavily upon traffic violators in San Angelo this week. The docket in the city corporation court Wednesday morning showed that since Monday seven persons have paid fines of $9.35 each, after pleading guilty. One, however, was upon a complaint charging drunkenness.

On Monday, two persons pleaded guilty to speeding, a third to operating a car with the muffler open and a fourth to drunkenness. Tuesday's business constituted one case of disturbing the peace and one for speeding. On Wednesday morning, two speeding cases were tried and fines were assessed by Recorder M. B. Jones in each.

The eight cases enriched the city's coffers by $74.30.—San Angelo Standard.

THE APRIL FOOL JOKER

"Some fool pulls foolish prank," is the heading of an article by the Ballinger Daily Ledger condemning the turning in by unknown parties of a false fire alarm as an April fool day stunt. The firemen were called to the extreme end of one street, and then informed that it was at the other end, occasioning another run across town.

The Ledger calls attention to the unnecessary danger to traffic when the fire department is misled by a false alarm. Minutes mean much to the firemen and in reaching the fire to protect property and perhaps lives, the speed laws must be disregarded. It is a mighty poor joke that endangers life.

If the fools confined their operations to April 1, precaution might be used on that day and the fool menace would be somewhat relieved but they are on the job continually. The perpetuation of the idea of April fool's day is an absurdity that costs more than it is worth. It gives the practical joker some color of excuse for his activities.

The practical joke is about the poorest indication of intelligence possible. Some minds run wholly to the physical and selfish. Their only delight is in the discomfort of others which is all very human but in the hands of a fool the results are sometimes rather inhuman.

The surest index of the soul's worth is found in the answer to the simple question, "what does that person most desire?" The practical joker should not kid himself because his victims are good sports and apparantly take no serious notice of their pranks. For in seeking delight in the physical discomfort of others and endangering their lives to obtain his little laugh, he is insistently impressing others with his disgusting littleness of heart and mind and if their estimate of him is lowered he should not be perplexed to know why.—Temple Telegram.

PAINT ROCK WINS BALL GAME, 5 TO 1

A baseball team, composed chiefly of high school boys, was hastily gathered together Wednesday and a game was played against the Paint Rock team in Paint Rock. The Paint Rock boys proved to have a good team, and won from the Ballinger team by a score of five to one.

Rothal O'Kelly did the twirling for the Ballinger team for the first part of the game, and was later relieved by Jack Rogers. Most of the players had had little practice, and were unable to hold their own against the Concho county boys.

The local boys are holding practice in the evenings after the stores close, and expect to have a good team for the summer. Games with other nearby towns will be scheduled, and will be announced later.

WILL MAKE GEOLOGIC SURVEY OF W. TEXAS

AUSTIN, April 8.—Under the supervision of J. A. Udden, the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas, together with the United States Geological Survey, are preparing a report on the occurrence of potash and salts in West Texas lakes. An investigation of this subject has been going on for some time and several interesting discoveries have been made, it is stated.

Thus far it has been demonstrated that the potash content in the lakes of West Texas is smaller than in Nevada, but those of Texas contain a higher per cent of salts than any others so far investigated. Dr. Udden says that this work promises to be very interesting, but that several seasons of concentrated effort may be required before any definite results can be reached.

P. F. Paton went to Brownwood Wednesday afternoon to visit his brother.

Birds Increase in Numbers.

The beneficial effects of the migratory bird treaty act are beginning to be felt. The United States department of agriculture, through its bureau of biological survey, has conducted investigations of the breeding areas of ducks in North Dakota and Nebraska, says a bulletin of the department. Compared with former years, a gratifying increase of breeding waterfowl, particularly in North Dakota, is evident. The fifth annual series of counts of birds of all species breeding on selected areas in various parts of the United States contained a large proportion of reports showing increases in bird population. The total number of reports received however, was not large. Many of the persons who had formerly taken part in the annual bird counts were unable, because of extra duties assumed during the war, to find time for the work required by the fifth count.

Men Who "Know It All."

Some folks are "canned" because they are too self-satisfied. It's a common thing in life to find folks too big to take orders. They know the game and refuse to take orders. That is confession they belong to the small class and never will be fitted to lead. The good boss is a master of obedience. He commands because he has learned to obey. He's never satisfied. There are always new goals to strive for. He rises because he sees things from a different angle. It's different with the fellow who is self-satisfied. He sees only what he wants to see, and holds his opinion above that of everybody else. You can't do much with him.—Exchange.

FAMILY CAN'T BREAK WESTERN FEVER

Paris, Tex., April 6.

Dear Mr. Sledge:

Herewith find enclosed check which please place to my credit on subscription to The Ledger. By the time your paper reaches us of course some of the news items are a little old, but in the main it is looked over by each of the family with more interest than any paper we receive.

At times I have felt like asking you to drop my name from your mailing list for the reason that every paper gives to each of us a new degree of "Western fever" but in each paper we note the names of so many whom it gives us great pleasure to remember the accounts of prosperity as it comes back to the good farmers of Runnels county, the mentioning of many enterprises of Ballinger as they grow and the financial upbuilding noticeable, especially as the individual deposits of the banks there. All are so interesting that we do not want to be without The Ledger, even in view of the fact that the reading of it from week to week may yet run the fever in my family so high that we may again decide to locate in Ballinger.

The old saying that the partakers of Elm Creek water never forget it, is true. Although the two years we spent with you were the dryest, according to your reports, that Runnels county ever experienced, yet we do not count one day of them lost, and instead we think of those days as pleasantly as any we ever spent.

We love many friends made while there and cherish highly every acquaintance made. They are among the very best people of Texas. Runnels county is one of the best diversified counties in Texas and is full of the kind of people who have placed Texas high in the estimate of the other states of the Union.

I would love to spend the rest of my days with you, but personal interests which have gradually accumulated in Paris and Lamar county for the last twenty years has settled us here.

With personal regards to you and family and my Ballinger friends, I am,

Sincerely yours,
L. B. STEPHENS.

W. S. Wilmeth left Wednesday afternoon for Austin, where he will place his son in a hospital for treatment.

W. A. Francis left for Houston and other South Texas points Wednesday afternoon, where he will be several days on business.

J. W. Wood of the Crews country, left Wednesday afternoon for Temple and other points, on business.

FALSE STANDARD OF VALUES

World Too Much Given Up to Worship of Material Prosperity, Declares Writer.

Wherever we turn we find that possessions are too often the standard by which men are measured. A man's income and position bulk much more largely in the mind of most than what he is or what he does, and a nation's wealth is still instinctively spoken of in terms of finance, or territorial possessions, even by those who, on platforms, glibly say "true wealth consists in a healthy and contented people."

It is this false and pernicious view which is responsible for much of the evil at the present day. The little child who learns to pray by its mother's knee, when it rises is urged to "get on in the world;" to make money, to acheve fame. No harm in this, some may say. Man cannot serve two masters, and if we examine closely we shall find that it's just this effort for each to do the best possible for him or herself that is responsible for the evil in the world.

The great need of the world is that we shall change the values. There is only one thing of supreme value, and that is humanity. This makes the millionaire and the homeless tramp equal. When the world has learned the lesson that man does not live by bread alone, then will be laid the foundation upon which a regenerated world can be built.

GOES BACK TO ROMAN LAW

Writ of Injunction Almost as Old as the Institution of Trial by Jury.

Use of the injunction is a feature of the law almost as old as the institution of trial by jury. It was first used in 1382, when the king of England empowered the chancellor to issue writs restraining the barons from overriding the common law courts. The principle of injunction dates back further still to Roman law: "It is classified in the law as one of the 'extraordinary writs.' Its essential purpose is to prevent the doing of a wrong whose effects, if consummated, would be irreparable. In other words, instead of waiting for a threatened wrong to work its damage, which a law court might redress by punishment or the assessment of damages, the equity court steps in with its 'extraordinary writ' of injunction to prevent the damage being done. Its twin is mandamus, which commands performance of certain rights and duties, while the province of injunction is to forbid performance of certain acts which might interfere with rights or result in wrongs."

Fetishes of Riksha Pullers.

Although the diffusion of education among the Zulus and other natives of Natal is removing many fetish customs from their social life, some practices are held tenaciously by the children of bigoted natives. At one curio establishment in Durban, Natal, it is said that on rare occasions natives ask for Jokelosi "muti," or magic medicine made from the flesh of native children. This "muti" (which, it is believed, was once used by the warriors of Tshaka and Dingaan), is supposed to convey the virtues of youth and strength. It is occasionally asked for in Natal by ricksha boys. The ricksha pullers have a firm faith in the fat of lions, tigers, crocodiles and hippos. These are stored in jars for sale to Kaffir clients. Snake muti is also a favorite decoction for those desiring cunning. "A good deal of the fat for these medicines is imported by us," said a well-known curio dealer, "from Central Africa; and we are supplied by firms in Livingstone."

Olive-Growing Centers.

Of all the olive-growing lands Spain is the most important in the total yield of oil, and is by nature one of those best fitted to fill its own large demands and furnish an increasing supply for export. Italy, the second olive-oil producing country in Europe, has an area planted in olives about a third greater than Spain has, but its yield in normal years is smaller. The French area under cultivation is confined to the Mediterranean coast, and is reported to be decreasing, since greater profits are obtained from viticulture. It is asserted that in recent years 20,000 hectares of olive groves have been turned into vineyards in France. Tunis and Algeria are declared to offer better prospects for olive raising than does French territory in Europe.

First Telephone Inventor.

The earliest form of telephone is probably that in which the sounds of the voices are transmitted over a stretched string or wire and this form is said to have been used by the Chinese ages ago, it being impossible to give the name of the inventor. Alexander Graham Bell, born in Edinburgh, Scotland, but then resident in the United States, invented the electric telephone at Boston about the same time as Elisha Gray in Chicago, but Bell was granted priority.

Other Men's Affairs.

"Every man should mind his own business," remarked the severely industrious citizen.

"But what are you going to do," protested Senator Sorghum, "when you've got a whole lot of constituents, every one of whom thinks his business is your business!"

REGAL ROBES WORN BY NAZIMOVA

Robes of regal splendor are worn by Nazimova in her newest super-feature, "The Red Lantern," which comes to the Maeroy Theatre, tomorrow, Friday matinee and night. Among these robes is the heavy silken garb of the Goddess of the Red Lantern and the awe-inspiring habiliments of a Chinese warrior chief.

For Mahlee, the half Chinese, half English girl, played by Nazimova, bears a not remote resemblance to France's Joan of Arc. True, she leads a hopeless cause, that of the Boxers against the European in China. And her heart is torn between the love she bears for an Englishman and the ancient traditions of the yellow race.

Nazimova wears the warrior's costume during the tumultuous scenes in the streets of Pekin, when the Boxers clash with the troops of the allied nations sent to quell the uprising. Mounted, as was the immortal Jeanne d' Arc, Mahlee leads the yellow hordes against their white foes until all hope is gone. Then, with the stoicism of the Oriental blood, she seeks death by her own hand in the throne room of the Emperor's palace.

The warrior's costume a striking robe of embroidered silk, with the head of a lion, depending from the waist, is apparel worn only by those of the Chinese who stand ready to give their lives for the race. The lion's head is the highest symbol of valor at arms.

The robes are of the heaviest Chinese silk, embroidered with a thousand designs. On her head Nazimova wears the symbolical head-dress of the Goddess, studded with peacock feathers and dozens of silk floss pom poms—the whole held in place by a band of gold embroidery that circles the forehead and temples.

"The Red Lantern" is based on the novel of Chinese life by Edith Wherry.

A snappy two part special comedy will be shown with this production at the Maeroy Friday.

TEXAS PHYSICIAN TREATED FOR CANCER SUCCESSFULLY

J. M. Gilbert, M. D., of Randolph Texas, had Cancer on Face—Dr. O. A. Johnson Cancer Specialist, Gives Successful Treatment 2 1-2 Years Ago.

The wisdom of going to a specialist was shown when Dr. J. M. Gilbert, well known physician of Randolph, Texas, had a bad cancer on the side of his face. Knowing the importance of proper treatment, he went to a leading cancer specialist, Dr. O. A. Johnson, of Kansas City, Mo. Dr. Gilbert states that he is now entirely cured.

"I recommend that every cancer sufferer consult immediately with the man, that I, as a doctor, regard foremost in his line. Dr. Johnson has proved to the world that cancer can be cured."

Dr. Johnson has published a remarkable book called "Cancer Truths," a statement of his theories and experiences in treating cancer without the use of the knife. Purely medicinal measures only are employed; that is external applications to destroy the cancer and internal medication to purify the blood. This book will be sent free to any cancer sufferer. Or if you have a friend suffering from cancer, write to Dr. O. A. Johnson, Suite 560, 1324 Main St., Kansas City, Mo.

HUMMING BIRDS HAD "SPREE"

Writer Tells of Debauch of Which He Was Witness While Traveling in South America.

When Mr. Leo E. Miller was collecting specimens in the mountains of Colombia for the American Museum of Natural History he observed a curious incident that he describes in his book, "In the Wilds of South America."

As he was working one morning a chorus of chirps and screams attracted his attention, and he followed the sounds, which led him to a tall tree. A number of California woodpeckers had drilled holes in the tree trunk, from which an intoxicating sap trickled in small streams, and a dozen or more buff-tailed humming birds apparently had come for a "jag."

Arriving in a bee line, the newcomers flew against the trunk and clung there like so many moths to drink the sap. Their antics as they reached the different stages of intoxication were most amusing. Some twittered, fought, turned and tumbled in the air, while others dozed on small twigs or fluttered exhausted toward the ground. The performance continued daily for a week; then the sap suddenly ceased to flow, and the tree was deserted and silent. The capricious band no doubt sobered up from its debauch and went back to its normal and more profitable pursuits in life.

BLOWPIPE SIMPLE IN ACTION

Tool of Immense Power Simply the Application of Elementary Scientific Principles.

An oxy-acetylene or oxy-hydrogen blowpipe is composed of a very light conical tube, slender and slightly curved at the end whence the flame issues, and provided at the other extremity with two nozzles, to which the indiarubber tubes from the oxygen and acetylene or oxygen and hydrogen cylinders are attached.

The principal point about the most up-to-date apparatus lies in the fact that the two gases, instead of being separated up to the very point of ignition, are thoroughly mixed in the interior of the blowpipe, in such proportion as to bring about complete combustion. All danger of explosion has been avoided by giving to the gas a speed of delivery greater than that of the propagation of the flame, in accordance with a scientific law laid down by a French official commission which inquired into the subject of fire-damp.

As an additional precaution against accidents, an appliance called a "safety-mixer" has been inserted at the junction of the oxygen and hydrogen pipes, the mixture then passing to the blowpipe by way of a single tube, which greatly facilitates the handling of the tool.—From "Cutting Ships in Half" in the Wide World Magazine.

New Hebrides Customs.

In spite of the white man's efforts to civilize them, natives of the New Hebrides cling tenaciously to their old habits and customs. Superstition and precedent are so firmly rooted in their minds that any new ideas are looked upon with distrust. The sacred men of the tribes are sternly jealous of their power and ward off encroaching civilization by terrible threats.

The islander of the New Hebrides likes visible reminders of his religion and superstition. Sacred objects are guarded by evil-looking carved figures and a departed chief of a tribe is kept in mind by setting up an effigy in a conspicuous place. There is never any doubt as to the identity of a figure, as the head of the effigy is the chief's skull covered over with clay and molded and painted to resemble the departed one. The rest of the figure is rather like a scarecrow, with a painted clay body and very few clothes. While this effigy remains in the public view, there is no danger of the chief being forgotten. His memory is ever green, and he is fittingly venerated.

Deeper Than the Ocean.

Geologists have discovered a number of suboceanic canyons or drowned rivers, along the east coast of the United States. Both the Hudson and Delaware rivers are in this class, as well as Chesapeake bay. The St. Lawrence river in Canada, and the Congo, in Africa, are also deeper, near their mouths, than the ocean.

The Hudson river, worn by the flowing stream, is considerably deeper than the offshore part of the Atlantic. It is flooded by the intruding ocean. The bay and lower river compose what would be called in Norseland a fiord.

The whole east coast of the United States has sunk a good deal in the course of ages, owing to the enormous weight of material brought down by the rivers and deposited out in the ocean off shore. But geologists say that the melting of glaciers has largely to do with the phenomenon.

Conservative Customs Die Hard.

In spite of having a well-equipped mission hospital in the city of Taichow, China, where men and women can receive the best of medical care and treatment, the native doctor or witch still flourishes. He sits at the street corner and the ignorant Chinese flock round him, especially on market or festival days. No method, however painful and drastic, deters the believers in his powers of healing—indeed they expect to be made to suffer acutely in order to "expel the original pain." Or they are held up to the ridicule of the mob because their disease portends the possession of an evil spirit.

WHAT WILL WOMEN DO IN POLITICS HOW

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Facing the probability that the women of the United States will vote next November, politicians are seriously taking stock of what the female vote will mean.

That it will have more than usual importance because of some of the issues of this year's campaign is recognized by all political observers here.

The strong probability that prohibition enforcement will be one of the issues, and that the treaty and the league of nations will form another is one of the reasons more than perfunctory attention is being given to plans for capturing the women's vote.

Time was when the "drys" regarded the women vote as certain to be cast in their favor. But from reports brought in from various parts of the country to party headquarters here, the women this year would be just as likely to vote for a more liberal policy of prohibition enforcement as their menfolk.

The same is true of the treaty issue. Advocates of the league laid much store by the fact that the women of the country, if they ever got a chance to vote on the league question, would be overwhelmingly for it as a war preventive.

But political scouts report that the women are no more enthusiastic about the treaty than the men, but that both men and women want some kind of a league or organization that will prevent war.

So that when the political wise men here sit down to figure out the effect of the women's votes this year, they can't do it. They say the old saying that women will vote as the men vote has been exploded, and that the women will form an independent electorate. Not only are they independent in the political views, but they are not as a class of voters untied under one banner or on one platform, or behind one set of issues. If they were, they could be classified and the effect of their votes on any particular issue might in a degree be measured, politicians said. But as things stand, if the women get the vote next November, they are due to be "courted" by both parties most assiduously.

Women speakers will be sent out in large numbers, to work with small audiences of club-women, and civic organizations of women.

In presenting campaign issues, the woman vote will be played up to on the cost of living and kindred issues, political leaders said.

For Colds, Catarrh or Influenza

Do you feel weak and unequal to the work ahead of you? Do you still cough a little, or does your nose bother you? Are you pale? Is your blood thin and watery? Better put your body into shape. Build strong!

An old, reliable blood-maker and herbal tonic made from wild roots and barks, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This "nature remedy" comes in tablet or liquid form. It will build up your body and protect you from disease germs which lurk everywhere. One of the active ingredients of this temperance alterative and tonic is wild cherry bark with stillingia, which is so good for the lungs and for coughs; also Oregon grape root, blood root, stone root, Queen's root,—all skilfully combined in the Medical Discovery. These roots have a direct action on the stomach, improving digestion and assimilation. These herbal extracts in the "Discovery" aid in blood-making and are best for scrofula. By improving the blood they fortify the body against an attack of grip or colds.

Catarrh should be treated, first, as a blood disease, with this alterative. Then, in addition, the nose should be washed daily with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Send 10c for trial pkg. of Medical Discovery Tablets or Catarrh Tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

PARTS OF LOST CONTINENT?

Reasons for Believing That South Sea Islands Were at One Time Joined Together.

I have been reading a book on the South seas which says that there are reasons to suppose that in some instances the numerous islands in the South seas were at one time parts of continents. What reasons are there for such a supposition? asks a correspondent.

The only reasons that we are familiar with are the character of the inhabitants of the islands and their language. It is reasoned that these islands bear marks of very early habitation by man. Navigation was in its infancy, as only long boats, propelled by oars, were known, and they would not be safe for voyages over rough seas to search for unknown lands. This fact and the resemblance of some of the South sea islanders to our race lends reasonableness to the supposition that these places were inhabited while they were still a part of the mainland which in some subsequent age sank in places below the surface of the seas. Such a supposition is, moreover, strengthened by discoveries from time to time of ocean levels that seem to have been at one time islands or parts of continents. These discoveries have been made in different parts of the several oceans. It is not so long ago that a vast submarine bank was located by Capt. J. K. Davis of Doctor Mawson's Antarctic ship Aurora, during an oceanographic cruise. Captain Davis reported that for about 100 miles south of Tasmania the ocean bottom deepens to 12,488 feet; it then rises again to the crest of a ridge 150 miles long by about 100 miles wide, standing over 11,000 feet above the general level of the neighboring sea floor. It has been concluded that this ridge was without doubt a fragment of a lost continent.

WESLEY READ ON HORSEBACK

And Many Noted Writers Took Their Walks While Engaged in the Perusal of a Book.

Reading on horseback—one of the rarer accomplishments of man, according to Mr. Fisher—was sedulously practiced by John Wesley.

"History, poetry and philosophy," Wesley relates, the Manchester Guardian recalls, "I commonly read on horseback, having other employment at other times."

Wesley maintained that this practice made for safety on long country rides.

"I asked myself, How is it no horse stumbles when I am reading? No account can possibly be given but this: Because I throw the reins on his neck. I then set myself to observe, and I aver that in riding about 100,000 miles I never remember my horse (except two that would fall over heels anyway) to fall or make a considerable stumble while I rode with a slack rein."

Shelley used to read when out walking and frequently collided with other walkers because his eyes were fixed on a book.

Macaulay was also a pedestrian reader; so was Southey, who gives a long list of books read while taking his evening walk. These range from "a batch of volumes relating the events of the last ten years in Spain" to "the Nibelungen in its original old German."

TEXAS DEFIES BOLL WORM CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Sharply conflicting proposals for meeting the boll worm pest, which has attained a foothold in certain Texas cotton growing areas, spreading from Mexico and has also broken out in Louisiana, were presented yesterday before the Federal horticultural board by state officials, representatives in Congress and delegates from nearly all the cotton growing states outside of Texas demanded that a Federal quarantine be invoked against the whole of Texas, unless its citizens agreed to abolish cotton growing entirely in infested areas for three years.

The Texans led by Governor Hobby, presented a counter plan to allow cotton planting this year under strict regional quarantine, with a promise to prohibit the cropping in 1921 if the boll worm appeared. The Louisiana delegation assured the board that by voluntary action already undertaken, backed up with a special session of the legislature, the growers would abstain from cropping the land on which the worm has been discovered.

REVOLUTION BREWING IN MEXICO AGAIN

EL PASO, April 7.—A widespread revolutionary plot fostered by agents in the United States to overthrow the present government in Mexico is being investigated by the grand jury in session here, it became known late yesterday. Three alleged participants in the plot are in jail in this country, while a fourth was arrested by Mexican federal authorities at Mexicali, Lower California, while attempting to smuggle munitions of war to the revolutionists.

The plot became known when United States army authorities in the Big Bend district arrested Andreas H. Vilegas, a Mexican boy and Conception Perez, a young niece of Francisco Villa, when the pair attempted to cross from this country into Mexico. Military authorities seized from the pair much correspondence from Villa agents in this country, addressed to Villa.

WINTERS MAN FOR COUNTY CLERK

To Voters Runnels County:

At the solicitation of friends, and because I need the office, and because I want a place where I can earn a living for myself and family, and knowing that I am competent to make you a good county clerk, are some of the reasons I offer for coming before you and asking you to elect me as your county clerk.

I do not know everybody in Runnels county and I realize that everybody does not know me, but I am no stranger in your midst by any means. I have been a citizen of the county for eight years, living in the Bethel community South of Ballinger for a number of years, and have been living in the Winters country for several years.

Until misfortune came my way, and caused me to have to give up one of my lower limbs. I was able to make my way on the farm, and asked no one odds when it came to doing a hard day's work. There are many things I can yet do, and will do, if you do not see fit to give me the position I am asking for.

The county offices belong to the people and it is for the voters to say who shall serve them. I want to assure you that there is no one in the county who will appreciate the trust more than I should you see fit to give me the place, and I will strive to give you faithful and efficient service.

It will be my purpose to see as many of the voters as possible before the primary election, but in case I do not come your way, I will appreciate it if you will leave my name unscratched when you go to make out your ticket on July 31st.

Farmers and others who live at a distance from a drug store should keep in the house a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It may be needed at any time for cuts, wounds, sores, sprains or rheumatism. It is a powerful healing and penetrating remedy. Sold by John A. Weeks.

JOHN WEEKS OUT AFTER A SERIOUS OPERATION

John A. Weeks was down town Thursday morning for the first time in a month. He underwent a serious operation at the Halley & Love sanitarium about a month ago and had quite a "lengthy" rest. His friends will be glad to note that he is fully recovered.

W. A. TALLY OUT FOR ASSESSOR

For Office of Tax Assessor of Runnels County, Texas.

To the Public:

I desire to announce to the public and the voters of Runnels county, that I am a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Runnels County, Texas, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July.

I have resided in Runnels county about 32 years and during that time I have tried to fulfill my duty as a citizen to the very best of my ability, how well I have succeeded, I leave for you to decide, sufficient to say that I have endeavored to perform each and every duty that fell to my lot as best I could, and if I fell short, I ask that you spread the mantle of charity over me.

I have been persuaded to make this race by the solicitation of a large number of friends, and after deliberating for some days decided to make the race and will try to see as many voters as possible between now and the Primary in July, and should I fail to see you and make a personal solicitation, I ask that you consider my candidacy and if you think I am the man for the office, I will appreciate your support.

My experince in clerical work, I think, has in a measure, fitted me for the duties of this most important office and if elected will try and make you the very best officer possible, so that those who see fit to support me will have no cause to regret their having given me their support. Having sold my laundry, I can give this work my attention if elected.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of order. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak... I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught."

Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow.
