

Ex-President Gives Goulart His Support

By TOM MASTERSON RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Former President Juscelino Kubitschek today threw his weight behind leftist Vice President Joao Goulart for the Brazilian presidency.

Goulart reaffirmed his intention to mark time in Paris.

Kubitschek said he talked to the vice president by telephone and assured him of his support. Then he announced plans to go to Brasilia where Congress was scheduled in a bitter dispute with military chiefs who have barred Goulart from returning to the country.

Goulart, wealthy rancher and former cowboy who served as vice president under Kubitschek, said he would remain in Paris "to await the development of the situation."

He returned today from an over night visit with his children who are vacationing in Spain.

His statement seemed to rule out for the moment any attempt by Goulart to dash for Brazil and claim the presidency despite the military opposition.

Aides said he is considering several possible solutions to the crisis brought about by the resignation of Janio Quadros as president last Friday.

Goulart emphasized that he thought a solution was near but declined to elaborate.

Angry congressmen in Brasilia, the nation's capital, named a multiparty commission of eight senators and eight deputies to study the position of the three service chiefs who say they are barring Goulart from coming back for security reasons. Many congressmen said the military leaders were flouting the constitution.

Congress instructed the commission to accept, reject or come up with another recommendation to override the one the interim president.

Under the Brazilian system, the president exercises strong powers similar to that of a U.S. president.

Reports from Brasilia said Goulart and the military chiefs might eventually agree to a limited presidency system.

Support for the vice president mounted in his home state of Rio Grande do Sul Brazil's southernmost. Gov. Leonel Brizola went on the air to proclaim that his state will stand behind the vice president his brother-in-law.

He ordered the state militia to back him up and warned that he would not accept any move to block Goulart's inauguration.

Brizola took over a privately owned radio station to broadcast his appeal. It remained on the air all night calling on the people to resist any move to prevent the "constitutional president" from taking office.

Authorities in the provincial capital of Porto Alegre set up barricades around the governor's palace.

Brizola said Goulart might fly to neighboring Uruguay if barred from Rio. He indicated the vice president would then go to Porto Alegre presumably to set up a government there.

A radio broadcast from southern Brazil claimed that army and air force commanders in the states of Rio Grande do Sul, Santa Catarina and Parana had announced support for the vice president. But Gov. Ney Braga of Parana broadcast an appeal to Congress to prevent bloodshed by finding legal means to return Janio Quadros to the presidency he quit last week.

'5th' Pleaded By Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas F. Kelly Sr. head of a Chicago race wire service, took the Fifth Amendment today when asked whether he so intimidated an employee that the man tried to commit suicide rather than testify before Senate crime investigators.

Kelly told the Senate investigations subcommittee that answers to this and practically every question asked of him might tend to incriminate him.

A big, balding man with a fringe of gray hair, Kelly was impassively at the witness table as the subcommittee heard testimony that the employee Frank W. Lyons took an overdose of sleeping tablets Saturday.

Police Sgt. Lawrence J. English of the Chicago suburb of Arlington Heights testified that Lyons is still too ill to be interviewed but that Mrs. Lyons told him her husband had been driven by intimidation to a suicide attempt.

English said Mrs. Lyons mentioned no names but had informed him that "those he works with told him to take the Fifth."

He said this meant Lyons was pressured to invoke the Fifth Amendment and refuse to testify in the hearings. Lyons had been subpoenaed for questioning about Kelly's race wire operations.

Though apparently unmoved by English's testimony Kelly glared in red-faced anger at some of the questions flung at him by Sen. John L. McClellan D-Ark, the subcommittee chairman.

McClellan said that "since you couldn't get him (Lyons) to do it (invoke the Fifth Amendment) you are going to do it yourself."

"Don't you think such a person is the lowest scum of humanity?" he asked.

Kelly, "I decline to answer on grounds my answer might tend to incriminate me."

By GEORGE BOLLWOOD BERLIN (AP)—Orientation of the U.S. Berlin garrison's latest reinforcements turned today from lectures and sight-seeing tours to a field test of combat readiness.

The 1,500 men of the 18th Infantry's 1st Battle Group, who were welcomed with cheers and flowers by West Berliners Aug. 20, donned battle gear and rushed into maneuvers that teach methods of deployment in heavily populated areas. They exercised several hours. The test ended about 11 a.m.

The maneuvers are held periodically by all the Big Three garrisons, which total about 12,500 men.

The city border, where Communist barricades were under arm and watch by both sides, was quiet.

A private Western intelligence agency, Information Bureau West, reported opposition by some East German youths to military service in the buildup of the Communist army that has accompanied the closing of the city's sector border.

The whole Communist youth group of a hydraulic plant at Ballstedt refused to join the armed forces, the agency said.

Walter Ulbricht's Red regime has been drumming up recruits. The Communist press has pictured youths flocking to the colors. There is no draft in East Germany, but considerable pressure is exerted to get young men to volunteer. Eastern sources said 49,000 new recruits had reported by Monday for the army that totaled 110,000 at the outset of the latest Berlin crisis.

The refusal of any members of the Ballstedt unit to sign up brought official reprisals according to Information Bureau West. It said four leaders—two youths and two girls—were kicked out of the youth group and top functionaries were ordered to put on pressure to change the members' attitude.

There were warnings in Bonn that the refusal to sign up was a "serious matter."

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a series of meetings for retailers to discuss the new sales tax bill, which goes into effect Friday.

The discussions will be held in groups, with retailers handling "soft lines" such as clothing stores and variety stores scheduled to meet at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the 66 Cafe.

Lyle Deffenbach, accountant, and J. Mark McLaughlin, attorney, will be on the panel for that discussion. Accountants and lawyers will be included on each panel, chamber officials said.

Other groups will include one for food dealers, including grocers and cafe operators; one for "hard goods" dealers, such as appliances, auto accessories, etc.; and another for those dealing in services rather than merchandise.

Nine Killed As Jet Hits Car Cable

CHAMONIX, France (AP)—Nine persons were reported killed today when a low-flying jet aircraft severed the cable of a mountain suspension car system, tumbling one cabin 200 yards into a valley.

Other cars were bashed against a giant outcropping called the Gros Rognon when the cable suddenly went slack.

It was not immediately known how many were injured when the cars slammed against the rocks in White Valley.

The glassed-in cabins are drawn up the steep mountain side on pylons by an engine at the base of the mountain. A cabin normally carries about four passengers, usually skiers and sightseers.

It was reported some 80 sightseers were stalled in cabins still swinging between pylons. On some pylon systems each section is safety-locked against failures on others.

A police helicopter with first aid workers was sent immediately to the scene.

The plane was unofficially identified as a French military jet based at Luxel. It returned safely to base.

The accident occurred in clear, sunny weather, above an enormous glacier.

Profit-Sharing Is Old To Some

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Profit sharing may be new to the auto industry but it's an old-timer in some other industries—and a highly controversial program in many more.
The United States Auto Workers Union and American Motors Corp. have agreed in principle on a three-year contract that includes a profit-sharing plan, set up in two funds: 1. To finance increased fringe benefits for the workers; 2. To be put into American Motors stock in the workers' names.
The union sought profit sharing in its last go-round with the industry three years ago. The companies would have none of it then. And General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler still balked this year as the American Motors' agreement was announced.
The history of profit sharing has been largely one of proposals by the management rather than labor. Unions traditionally have preferred straight wage increases as more tangible and certain.
Companies who use some form of profit sharing—more than 30,000—cite as advantages that workers have an incentive to help assure profits by cutting out waste or anything akin to featherbedding; discontent with wage scales is reduced somewhat; opposition to schemes to increase productivity is reduced; absenteeism usually drops.
But some companies that have tried profit sharing have given it up later. Some found it cost too

Nobody Is Against Women's Suffrage

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—There wasn't a word said against womanhood when the House observed the 41st anniversary of ratification of the women's suffrage amendment.
The observance came late Monday when Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., took the floor to deliver a rousing summary of the trials and triumphs of the early 20th-century suffragettes.
Then the sterner sex, as Mrs. May archly referred to her male colleagues, practically stamped to get into the act.
Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N.J., said it is "unfortunate, even deplorable, we do not have more women in Congress." He said he had a tough time defeating one in one of his own campaigns, so "I know the shape of things to come."
Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., said the time may well arrive when three-fourths or four-fifths of the representatives are women.
Not only that, but in Rep. Samuel S. Stratton D-N.Y., but "it will be only a few years before we look forward to a woman president or vice president." The prospect is fine with him, he added.
Woman in politics, remarked Rep. Carroll D. Kearns, R-Pa., "have done a beautiful job."
The ladies weren't outdone in gallantry Rep. Margaret Slog Church, R-Ill., said Mrs. May's presence in Congress, alone, justified women's suffrage.
Let's not forget, Mrs. May went on, that it was the men's vote that put in the suffrage amendment.
"I don't know we had any choice," observed Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla.
There was a little tugging for regional and partisan credit. Rep. Jessica McC. Weis, R-N.Y., admitted she was parochial enough to want it on the record that the great Susan B. Anthony spent most of her life in her district

"All Scurry county residents—farm, ranch and city folks alike—have been issued a special invitation to attend dedication ceremonies and the annual field day at the new home of the Lubbock Experiment Station on Sept. 19. County Agent Billy Roach announced.
Guided tours of experimental plots and laboratory facilities will begin at 1 p.m. Highlights of the field tour will include latest research results on cotton, grain sorghum, irrigation, fertilizers, insect control, and vegetable and oil crops. Formal dedication ceremonies will follow the evening meal.
The new headquarters for the 62-year-old experiment station is located about 7 miles north of Lubbock and east of the Plainview highway. Charles F. Fisher is station superintendent.
"Additional details regarding the program will be released shortly," Roach said.

Soviets Say Subs Sighted

MOSCOW (AP)—Charging that foreign submarines have slipped into Soviet territorial waters to spy and maneuver, the Soviet Union has warned that its armed forces will destroy any such intruders discovered in the future.
No dates, locations or nationalities of the underwater trespassers were given in a statement published Monday night by the Soviet news agency Tass.
The statement said foreign submarines must have permission to enter Soviet territorial waters and even then must cruise on the surface. The Soviet Union has extended the area over which it claims sovereignty to 12 miles from shore, and farther in the case of some bays. The United States recognizes the old three-mile limit.
U.S. nuclear submarines have been cruising submerged off Europe since early this year but they are believed to be operating generally in the Atlantic where their Polaris missiles are still within range of Soviet targets.

Motorists Go Slower

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas motorists are traveling slightly slower than they have in past years, the Highway Department reports.
Passenger buses average better than 60 miles per hour, the annual speed survey of the department shows.
The survey is a research study used by highway designers and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads in designing new roads to meet traffic requirements.
The Highway Department said this year's survey showed that all vehicles, including passenger cars, buses, and trucks, averaged 54.2 miles per hour at 25 locations throughout the state.
The maximum daytime speed limit on open highways usually is 60 miles an hour.
Average speed for trucks was 30 miles an hour down slightly from the 31.2 last year.

You can pan a pound of shredded green cabbage in as little as two tablespoons of fat. If you haven't a dome-type cover on the skillet in which you are panning the cabbage, you may have to add a couple of tablespoons of water.
If that pie crust isn't so rich as you like, you've added too much liquid or too little shortening. Or you may have overworked the dough when you were rolling it out.

Nothing Can Stop Flow Of Refugees

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

The refugee is the man who flees his homeland — sometimes beckoned by hope but more often driven by fear—and can't go back again.

Since World War II more than 40 million persons have become refugees in the greatest exodus since Moses led the children of Israel to the Promised Land.

The human tide rolls on — the Communist barricades around Berlin the Iron Curtain encompassing the Soviet Union and her East European satellites, the wall of Red China have checked the outward flow of those seeking freedom under democracy. Yet they have failed completely to crush the will of hundreds to risk death daily to try escape.

Religious and racial squabbles have swelled the ranks of refugees since the war. But generally by the plight of the unfortunate crosses creed and color bars.

Most of the refugees have found sanctuary. But millions are still living under pitiful conditions, keeping alive as much on hope as from charity.

The dramatic flight of more than three million East Germans is unique in that they joined fellow countrymen in their own country and with the almost certainty of finding a job in a prosperous West Germany.

For millions of other uprooted from their homes the outlook and prospects have been—and still are—filled with uncertainty in a strange land.

Some are still pawns of war—like the million Arab refugees who are wards of the United Nations Relief Agency. For a decade they have huddled in camps in the Arab lands enclosing Israel as virtual hostages. The Jews and Arabs are still technically at war leaving resettlement of the Palestine refugees in the air.

The biggest and bloodiest migration since the war came ironically with the granting of freedom when British India was partitioned in 1947.

About nine million Hindus moved from Pakistan to India and more than eight million Moslems shifted from India to Pakistan amid violence that took several hundred thousand lives.

Communism has been the trigger for the mass flights of refugees in recent years in other areas as well as Germany.

More than 1.5 million Chinese have poured into Hong Kong since the Communist conquest of the China mainland a dozen years ago. Most rushed to the British colony before a Red clampdown in 1961. About 100 still sneak in daily — some escaping by swimming the Sham Chun River, others by hiding in cargo junks. For thousands their only home on arrival is the street their bed the sidewalk. Smuggling of refugees is a rife. The price for escape in the "snake express" — packed like a snake for the voyage on a junk—is $25-$30.

The Red-Chinese have extended their border sentries to include Tibet since the Lhasa uprising in March 1959. Upwards of 75,000 Tibetans have fled to India and Nepal but the number making their getaway has slumped from a total of 5,294 in the first seven months of 1960 to only 2,380 in the same period this year.

Some of the shifts in population have moved more smoothly. More than 500,000 North Vietnamese crossed over to South Viet Nam without much interference when the Communists cut the country in half.

Most of the 200,000 Hungarians who fled in the 1956 revolution have been assimilated around the world. A few thousand stateless persons remain in Western European DP camps but most have been taken care of. The Rev. Dominick George, a priest, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1958 for establishing whole villages of refugee families who live in their own houses and are now paying their own way.

The escapees from European satellite countries have been isolated—but some dramatic. A few years ago 30 Czechs, with the connivance of the locomotive engineer, hijacked a train and rode to safety in West Germany. Several Polish and Romanian fliers have fled to the West in Soviet-built MIG planes. Three Hungarians made their getaway to Austria by driving a tractor through a barbed wire barricade.

The United States has been the chief haven for European refugees opening the door to nearly 1 million since World War II.

Since Fidel Castro seized power in Cuba nearly three years ago the United States has provided a sanctuary mainly for Cubans.

Cubans are rushing into Miami at the rate of more than 1,000 a week and up to 100,000 have left the Caribbean island republic since 1959. The Castro regime has given clearance to most but hundreds have made their getaways surreptitiously rather than wait in fear of being trapped or jailed.

Pasadena's City Hall Is Cracking Up

PASADENA, Tex. (AP) — The city hall in Pasadena is cracking up.

The building constructed five years ago for $250,000 is being squeezed between the black gum-soil and the roof, Symond L. Doughtie, the architect, said Monday.

Mrs. June Rife, Mayor Corner Whitaker's secretary, got trapped in a room one day because the door was stuck.

A stenographer in another room has to keep her foot hooked around a desk leg so her chair will slide across the floor on its little wheels.

Wood paneling in the council chamber has pulled away from the masonry wall. Doors are askew in the mayor's office.

James L. Brammer, a commissioner, got hit on the head with a small piece of his office ceiling recently.

Doughtie said heavy rainfall caused the clay-like soil under the 18,653-square foot building to expand. The building's slab foundation rests on the expanded soil and the ceiling is anchored to supports sunk 15 feet into the ground.

Baby Crop Record Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record crop of babies during the first six months of 1961 bids fair to make this a record year for births, the Public Health Service reported Monday.

It said an estimated 2,977,000 live births were registered during the first half of 1961, compared with a previous first-half record of 2,956,000 set in 1959. "Should the relative increase observed during the last six months of 1961 be maintained through December, there will be an estimated yearly total of 4,330,000 registered births," the service said.

If this number were to be realized it would break the existing record set in 1957.

The 1957 yearly total adjusted to include Alaska and Hawaii was 4,279,689 births.

Stone Hurler From Roof Kills Bystander

NEW YORK (AP) — A stone thrown from a rooftop—believed aimed at policemen—struck and fatally injured a bystander Monday night.

Police said the victim, Ramon Rojas, 43, was one of a crowd of about 100 that clustered around two policemen who were questioning a man in the street on Manhattan's lower East Side.

Officers have been patrolling rooftops in New York's trouble areas recently in the aftermath of several stonings of police.

Amazing Spahn Needs Four For 12th 20-Game Season

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I'll pick the Giants to win it," said the scout (he'll remain unidentified to save him the embarrassment of explaining why he picked his own club so low). "Then the Dodgers and then the Cards."

"You've gotta figure that maybe this is the year Warren Spahn doesn't win 20," he explained, "but a lot of guys have been figuring for a lot of years that maybe this is the year Spahn doesn't win 20!"

Well, the Braves are fourth, at the moment, but Spahn? Warren the Wonder, well past the 300-victory milestone, now is just four shy of hanging up 20 victories for the 12th time after packing away a 16-12 record Monday night as the Braves whipped Philadelphia 7-1.

POPULAR FELLOW—Home run slugger Roger Maris walks down the runway from the clubhouse at Kansas City Municipal Stadium while fans reach out for autographs and take his picture. This was just before the first appearance of the Yankees in Kansas City this year and a record crowd of 34,065 saw the Yankees beat the Athletics 8-7. Maris was unable to get a homerun in the game. ## Mantle Doubts Ball Is Livelier

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Mickey Mantle today conceded that he wasn't getting the distance in his blasts he did four or five years ago.

"They say the baseball is livelier this year than ever before," said the New York Yankee outfielder. "If that is so why can't I hit the ball as far as I did in 1956 when I batted .353, hit 52 home runs and was supposed to have cracked distance records in 10 of my 11 games."

"All I know is that I'm hitting the ball as hard as ever this year but I'm not getting the distance I did four or five years ago and I'm not hitting as well for average."

"Why? Because the pitchers are slicker and smarter than they ever were before. I know they are a lot better than they were when I came up 10 years ago."

Mantle and Roger Maris are scheduled to resume their chase for Babe Ruth's home run record against the Minnesota Twins. Mantle currently has 46—and only one in the past 14 games.

Maris has 51 but he, too, has tapered off with only three in the last 11 games.

"If Roger breaks the record," continued Mantle, "he should receive full credit. It is unfair to belittle his efforts with such criticism that the ball is livelier, the bat is lighter and so on."

"Certainly the equipment is different than it was years ago. In what sport hasn't it changed. In golf they have steel-shafted clubs that drive balls more than 100 yards further than the wooden shafts they used before I was born. Does that mean the top golfers today aren't as good as the stars of years ago?"

Mantle said that with all the talk about "old timers" using a better technique, "I'm using the same thing I did before. The pitchers throw him only fast balls and curves."

"But," he pointed out, "with the change-ups, sliders, knuckleballs, screwballs and all sorts of odd pitches coming up, you've got to use a much lighter bat in order to be able to manipulate it and change your swing at the last instant."

"These pitches aren't new, but more pitchers are using them. Sure, the bats are better made and if a batter goes all out with his swing, he'll get distance. But they can't get as many hits as they used to get that average because the technique of the pitchers has improved tremendously."

Netters Say They're Lucky

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, who evened a Davis Cup double while winning the National Doubles tennis title, today said they were "lucky" to do both.

The two now are turning full attention to the National Singles at Forest Hills.

McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., and Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., became the first American tandem to win the men's crown here since 1954 when they defeated Mexicans Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 13-11 Monday.

"I'm glad it's over. I was kind of shaky out there in that last set," commented the 19-year-old Ralston.

Osuna and Palafox, both in their early 20s, had beaten McKinley and Ralston in four sets at the Davis Cup interzone finals doubles in Cleveland 10 days ago.

Barbara Herd, Montebello, Calif., shares the women's National Doubles crown with the Filipina Australian, She teamed with Australian Lesley Turner to defeat German champion Edda Buding and Mexican tiltist Yola Ramirez, 6-4, 5-7, 6-0.

The women parlayed a pickup combination into victory. They paired off because their partners were taken ill.

Sophomore League Playoffs To Shift

HOBBS, N.M. (AP)—The Sophomore League playoff shifts to Hobbs tonight with the Pirates able to wrap up the title with a victory.

Hobbs beat Albuquerque 7-4 Monday night at Albuquerque to take a 2-0 lead in the best of five series.

Clouting 12 hits, including a homer by Ron Woods, Hobbs beat the Dukes without serious trouble. Jim Little went all the way to pick up the pitching decision.

Joe Koppe, shortstop for the Los Angeles Angels, is the father of five children.

MUSTN'T NEGLECT HIS LEG WORK

Columnist's Mail Brings New Reports

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
If in the middle of the jet age you still haven't found the courage to take your first airplane ride, don't feel too bad. Many famous people have been scared of new adventures.
When Gioacchino Rossini, composer of the "The Barber of Seville" and other noted operas, took his first train ride in 1836, he became so frightened he fainted—and had to be carried off at the next station.
Summarizing husbands: We do not guarantee the following figures, but someone has estimated that the average husband in his lifetime wears out 103 suits, takes 10,920 baths, gets 1,690 haircuts, uses 507 tubes of tooth paste, works 96,000 hours, tells 128,002 lies—and twice tells his wife she is wonderful.
Oldtime wonder drugs: To draw out the pain from headaches, medieval physicians advised their patients to sip water from a trough from which an ox had drunk. This was about 500 years b. c. before aspirin.
Don't apologize if the boss catches you yawning on the job. A yawn helps build up your energy for more work. Scientists say it tones up the muscles of the mouth, chest, back and arms.
Bald buzzer: An ordinary honey bee is about the bravest creature on earth. The only thing it is afraid of is smoke.
The Empire State Building, sold the other day for a tidy $65 million, no longer can boast it is the tallest man-made structure. It is excelled in height by at least three television transmitters—in Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Portland, Maine, and Roswell, N.M.
Worth repeating: "Life today is like living in a pressure cooker with a stuck safety valve."
Have you ever clocked how fast your wife talks? If she is average, her conversation will flow at the rate of 125 words a minute.
Animal lore: Did you know that some fish can walk, that electric eels can produce up to 700 volts of electricity, that, despite their bulk, elephants require only about half as much sleep as people?
Forgotten hero: The odds are there aren't 10 kids in America who can identify a man who should be one of their greatest idols—Ernest Hamwi of Damascus. His claim to fame: He invented the ice cream cone in 1904.
It was Artemus Ward who observed, nearly a century before the credit card appeared, "Let us all be happy and live within our means, even if we have to borrow the money to do it with."

Wide Range Of Recreation Is Featured On Boardwalk

BY INEZ ROBB
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—When a visitor here gets tired of sitting, strolling and strolling on the boardwalk or sunning himself on the sand, a stupendous choice of entertainment is at hand.
It ranges from burlesque to a high-diving horse or horses, and from a rocket trip to the moon and other reaches of outer space to a night club called The Harlem, which has a 6 a. m. show on Sunday for customers who have no place to go but home.
Genuinely stunned by the thought of anyone going to a night club at 6 a. m. on any day of the week, I asked the hotel clerk who in the world went to this, early or is it late-hour performance. "People," he said promptly. "The Harlem gives a show like the old Cotton Club in New York and people pack it. They're always full. I still don't know whether he meant the show or its patrons.
Well, I didn't get to The Harlem, but I did go to the moon and certainly I saw the diving horse. One doesn't have chances like this every day. Furthermore, it was a rainy day in Atlantic City. Whatever it is one does on a rainy day in Rio escapes me at the moment. But on a rainy day in Atlantic City, the center of gravity is the old Steel Pier, which is to this community what the Eiffel Tower is to Paris; a landmark.
Let me say right now that I spent one of the most educational days of my life on the Steel Pier, beginning with the inspection of a fall-out shelter built in his spare time by a pier employee who is also big in Civilian Defense in Atlantic City.
It seemed more coincidence than design that next to the shelter is "Ten Minutes in Paradise," a tour of the Holy Land. Maybe it was my imagination, but it appeared to me that people were glad to get into Paradise after an inspection of that Spartan shelter.

For the price of admission, $1.40 for adults, 75 cents for kids, the customer can spend a day on the Steel Pier, wandering from one attraction to another. That's how I found out what has become of vaudeville—it's taken refuge on the pier.
There are four large and three small theatres on the pier, but the largest, seating more than 3,000 persons, is given over to vaudeville. With Xavier Cugat and Abbe Lane topping the bill, the house was jammed and there were standees on this rainy day. When Abbe shook, so did the audience.
Somewhere during the day I met George A. Hamid, owner of the pier, who started out life as a circus acrobat. Born in Lebanon, he joined the Buffalo Bill Circus in France at the age of nine. He was taught to read by Annie Oakley, star of the same circus. He still thinks Annie the greatest.
Hamid is regarded as one of the shrewdest handicappers of talent in show business. But not always. In 1958, he ordered Fabian, then a kid singing somewhere else in Atlantic City, off the Steel Pier "for his nuisance value."
"But by 1959 he was so big I had to hire him for the pier at $10,000 a week," Hamid said, "and now I am paying him $10,000 a day for two days over the Labor Day week end."
Hamid is the kind of man one could listen to all day—much better for my money, than Xavier and Abbe. Once he matched, for the heavyweight, against a boxing kangaroo. When Galento saw the kangaroo, he sneered at the Australian, which offended the kangaroo and its trainer.
The kangaroo leaped at Galento, hit him a jolt in the broad basket and laid out the New Jersey terror cold as a mackerel. And that was the end of that.

Negroes Make Applications

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Applications of the parents of 50 Negro first graders who asked school officials Monday to assign the children to white schools will be turned over to the Board of Education.
Under Tennessee law, every student is assigned a school. The law sets up various criteria for determining the assignment, but avoids mention of race. Memphis has no integrated public schools.
Memphis state university is the city's only desegregated school. Negroes first entered MSU two years ago. About 20 will be enrolled for the fall term, along with nearly 6,000 white students.
Since bacteria can spell death to cut flowers as well as to people, vases and other containers need to be scrubbed periodically with hot soap or detergent suds — followed by hot water rinsing.

There are four large and three small theatres on the pier, but the largest, seating more than 3,000 persons, is given over to vaudeville. With Xavier Cugat and Abbe Lane topping the bill, the house was jammed and there were standees on this rainy day. When Abbe shook, so did the audience.

Man Survives 10 Weeks In Alaska Wilds

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—"I prepared to die," William C. Waters said today as he described the harrowing 10 weeks he spent out in the Alaska wilds. Rescue came just as he thought the last hope had gone.

Waters, 42, virtually given up for dead, was recovering in a hospital where he told of walking until he fell and being pawed by a bear cub as he lay half-conscious.

The story of survival that amazed even Alaskans used to wilderness hardships was told as Waters slowly began to recover strength after an ordeal that cut his 190-pound weight almost in half.

Waters, a Cincinnati postal employee from Erlanger, Ky., was on a long-planned Alaska vacation trip when he left his automobile and hiked to Big Lake, 120 miles northeast of here, to fish.

"After an hour at the lake," said Waters, "I figured there must be a creek off in the foothills and set out for it, but I never found one. I turned to go back and started following a stream, thinking it would take me back to the road."

It didn't. Waters wandered even farther from civilization.

That was June 20. What happened after the first few days, Waters recalled hazily.

"For the first three or four days," he said, "I heard airplanes but I didn't think I was lost. Every day would get worse. My feet became sore and swollen. I was afraid to take my shoes off for fear I couldn't get them on again."

At first it was hot and mosquitoes were bad. Then it rained 2 1/2 days and turned cold.

"At one time I was lying exhausted on my back with my face covered and my feet crossed," said Waters. "Something was turning my feet over and over. I would put them back and something would turn them over again. I pulled my coat off my head and there was a little cub. Two larger bears were there but ran off."

Last Friday as Waters lay near a stream he heard a boat come down the river, and then return. Too weak to move, he felt this was the end. The next day the boat returned and this time Waters dragged himself to the bank. Two moose hunters from Fairbanks rescued him.

Waters said he kept alive by eating wild cranberries, raspberries and rosehips—the pods of wild roses gone to seed.

"As the season ended and the berries started to go," he said, "I figured I'd go too."

Waters, a bachelor, is a hunting and fishing enthusiast who served in the Army Air Corps from 1940 to 1946. His parents are dead. Two brothers and a sister live in Ohio.

"Our prayers have been answered," said brother John C. Waters in Cincinnati.

Jewelry Is Found In Car

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The FBI said Monday that jewelry valued at $10,000 was found in a car being driven by Donald Lee Jackson when he was shot to death near Lawrence, Kan., Friday.

W. Mark Felt, special agent, said the car was reported stolen in Houston.

Felt said the jewelry matched items taken Aug. 15 in the $150,000 jewelry heist in Greenville, S.C.

A Kansas highway patrolman shot Jackson.

Jackson was arrested March 13 in Missouri and turned over to Houston authorities in connection with the robbery of a Houston supermarket. He was free on bond at the time of the Greenville robbery.

Junior Editors Quiz on INSECTS

QUESTION: Does a bee always die after stinging?

ANSWER: See our picture. Here we have been going into action in two ways. In A, two queen bees are fighting it out. There is normally only one queen to a hive, and when a new queen has been raised, the two may fight it out until only one is left. One of these two bees is going to sting the other to death. Will this kill the bee who was doing the stinging? No, the victorious queen goes calmly about the business of laying eggs without any ill effects. This is because, unlike the other bees, there are no barbs on her stinger. In situation B, Alfred got too close to some bees and got stung. He'll get over it, but the bee has given her life to safeguard the rights of other honey bees to go peacefully about their business. That's because she could not pull her stinger out of Alfred's arm without injuring herself fatally.

FOR YOU TO DO: Bees don't want to sting you unless you interfere with them in their highly important work. So pay attention to your own business and let the bee do the same to her.

(Peggy Nyneth of Moses Lake, Wash. wins $10 for this question. Send yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this paper.)

Extortion Is Linked To Slaying Case

EL PASO (AP)—Extortion and a case of mistaken identity were responsible for the shotgun slaying of a cab driver here Sunday night, El Paso police said Monday.

Dr. W. F. Vandevere, 69, was free on $20,000 bond after being booked on a charge of murder with malice on connection with the death of cab driver Louis Dominguez.

Nacin Aboud, 35, a former patient of the doctor, was turned over to federal authorities under charges of using the malice with the intent to extort $2,300 from the doctor.

The letter warned of more trouble if the doctor didn't make more payments. That evening the cab driver drew up in front of the doctor's home. Dr. Vandevere leaned out of a second story window and fired a shotgun blast at Dominguez. Police said the doctor apparently mistook the cab driver for Aboud.

Aboud was held in jail under $10,000 bail. Dr. Vandevere, a prominent eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, was put under the care of a physician for treatment of a heart condition.

Enthusiasm For Beauty Contest Lost

By ANDREW MEISELS
NEW YORK (AP) — Pretty Sharon Wiley, 21, of Hammond, Ore., arrived here last Wednesday full of enthusiasm about representing her home state in the Miss U.S.A. part of the Miss World contest.

Since then, she has:

1. Lost a diamond ring.
2. Lost several pieces of luggage.
3. Lost $100.
4. Lost sleep.
5. Lost the Miss U.S.A. title to Jo Ann Odum.

"Has she lost her enthusiasm for beauty contests? Yes.

"If I ever have a daughter, and she wants to enter a beauty contest, I'll tan her good," said Miss Oregon.

Sharon's story begins at 6:45 a.m. Wednesday when she arrived in New York after a sleepless flight from Oregon. She went to the hotel that served as Miss World headquarters.

"As soon as I arrived we had to get ready to go to an amusement park and pose in our bathing suits for photographers. It was raining Wednesday, but that didn't stop anything. We just posed in the rain."

"After getting back to the hotel, we had about 20 minutes to get ready for a cocktail party where we were supposed to meet our judges. We finally got to sleep after midnight."

Sharon had a full schedule Thursday and Friday, including an appearance at a boxing alley.

"On Saturday, when the competition started, I realized that several pieces of my luggage were missing. I had to borrow an evening gown to use in the competition. It was two sizes too big, and I had it all pinned up."

"I was afraid to breathe. I kept thinking the dress would fall off on stage."

Sharon's diamond ring disappeared while all this was going on — along with $100 from her purse that represented her fare back to Oregon.

Sharon, who stands 5 feet 7 and measures 39-22-36, is trying to get as she can raise the fare back to Hammond. "I'd hate to have to send home for the money," she said.

The hazel-eyed beauty had only words of praise for the Huntington, W. Va., girl who won the contest and will represent this country in the Miss World competition in London.

"I'm really glad for her," she said. "Jo Ann is a lovely girl."

"Boy," Sharon added, "I'm glad I didn't win. I wouldn't want to go through that again for anything."

Says Cancer Vaccine Not Yet Proved

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James H. Rand III, president of Rand Development Corp., said Monday night an anticancer serum developed by a Cleveland scientist and reported effective in animals has been used on human patients within the last three years.

He denied reports that the serum had proved effective on cancer patients at Doctors Hospital here, saying that no such conclusions could be drawn from tests so far.

Rand said that in the last three years between 40 and 50 patients—not all in Doctors Hospital but throughout the country—have received the serum, but emphasized that it was "much too early" to appraise the results.

"We hope to have another 150 patients in the next six months," he said. "We don't know what the results will be."

Dr. Sergio de Carvalho, who developed the serum at the Rand laboratory and at Doctors Hospital, would not confirm that it had been used on human patients.

"I have nothing to report, nothing to say about this," he said. "There are no cures, no nothing. I wish I had a cure!"

Met Group Working To Set Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Metropolitan Opera executives worked against the clock today in arranging a 1961-62 season — made possible by White House aid.

The target date is the originally scheduled Oct. 23, with Puccini's "Girl of the Golden West." The management had declared the season canceled because of a contract deadlock with the Musicians Union.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, who worked out an agreement between the Met and the union representing its 92-member orchestra, said: "I think it is quite evident we can all look forward to another successful Metropolitan season."

Met General Manager Rudolf Bing jumped into action the minute the arbitration agreement was reached in Goldberg's Washington office Monday.

Bing sent telegrams to singers all over the world from Goldberg's office. Artists' managers in New York said that as far as they knew all the artists would be available.

Leaders of various unions representing opera employees lent a hand with the big push to put the season together.

The Metropolitan Opera Association and Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians agreed to binding arbitration of their wage dispute. Goldberg, who was assigned to the Metropolitan impasse by President Kennedy weeks ago, will personally arbitrate. Both sides agreed to accept whatever Goldberg decides is fair.

The musicians, whose basic weekly wage was $170 last season, originally demanded an increase to $268. Concessions were made on both sides and as things stood just before the arbitration agreement, the opera had offered to raise the basic pay to $175 a week for the first year of a three-year contract and to $180 for the second and third years. The union had made a final demand for $220 and a reduction of weekly performances from seven to six

Chocolate In Candy Taxable, But Not If Used In Cookies

AUSTIN (AP) — Chocolate in candy is taxable but for making cookies it is exempt.

That's another sales tax ruling from State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Calvert issued four more regulations Monday in the series of administrative interpretations that apply to the 2 per cent levy on sales over 24 cents.

The tax is effective this Friday.

"Candy bars or candy kisses are confectionery products and thus subject to the tax," Calvert's ruling said. "Chocolate bits sold to be used in making cookies are food products and thus are exempt."

The comptroller said the tax exemption given food and food products intended for human consumption does not include medicines, tonics, vitamins and medical preparations in any form. However, another part of the bill exempts medicines sold on a doctor's prescription.

The sale of a package of food product which contains a customer premium, such as dishes, is exempt unless the price of the food premium is 25 per cent higher than the price of the same food product sold without the premium.

Calvert said that the tax affects meals served by restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, soda fountains, private clubs and other operations where meals are served either on or off the premises. This includes food sold to persons seated in a bleacher section or in an athletic stadium. Calvert said.

Food sold by vending machines or eating facilities are furnished adjacent to the machines.

A boarding house or hotel that operates on the so-called American plan must separate the charges made for board and room so the meals can be taxed. Otherwise both board and room will

Daily Crude Flow Declines

TULSA (AP) — Daily average domestic oil production dipped 8,780 to 7,053,820 barrels during the week ended Aug. 26, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma had a 7,600 decline to 589,900. Arkansas dropped 2,230 to 75,000 barrels.

The Journal estimated 1961 production at 1,710,264,100 barrels compared to 1,679,790,300 a year ago.

Louisiana lost 150 to 1,134,500. Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,507,650 barrels and New Mexico at 322,500.

This old trick may be new to beginning cooks: heat leftover rolls by putting them in a paper bag, twisting the top closed, and leaving them in a hot oven for about 10 minutes.

station may want to pay his supplier for the tax on greases used in grease jobs but will want to have the customer pay the direct tax on tires, tubes and batteries.

The comptroller said the burden of proving any sale is not a retail sale will fall on the seller unless he requires the purchaser to sign a certificate saying the merchandise will be resold. Then the responsibility for collecting the tax shifts to the person making the final sale to a consumer.
