City Commission Accepts Resignation Of Miller

Sweeping Reduction Is Demanded In Pipeline Rates

File Petition Declaring Net Is Exorbitant

Independent Petroleum Association Of Texas Declares Rates Should Be Cut By At Least 50 Per Cent

Monopoly Is Seen

Charges Made Lines Showed A Net Return In 1930 Of 23 Per Cent And That This Was Unreasonably High

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 14. —Alleging pipe line rates could be reduced from 40 to 60 per cent and pipe lines could still earn a fair return, the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas today asked the railroad commission for a sweeping reduction.

The petition asked that rates be lowered at least 50 per cent. It stated exorbitant pipe line rates were furthering a monopoly in the oil industry.

Is Second Protest

Members of the railroad commission said this was the second protest against pipe line rates that had been filed in the 13 years the commission had regulated rates and that the other, which protested only the schedule, was later withdrawn.

A bill to restrict the earnings of pipe lines to from six to ten per cent is pending in the legislature, Representative Young of Wellington, its author, was due to call it up today but he stated he would not ask action on it for a few days.

Filed By Wild

The petition today was filed by Claude Wild of Fort Worth, executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum association. It alleged that pipe lines reporting in 1930 to the commission showed a net return of 23 per cent and that this was ureasonably high.

The petition alleged in part:

"That the pipe line companies in Texas generally desire to establish and do establish rates so high that it is not profitable for other shippers to use them; that a large percentage of the pipe line mileage in Texas is owned by companies who either themselves or their parent

Americans Are Taking Refuge About Seaport

Four Reported Killed While Three Are Missing As Insurgents In Nicaragua Go On War Path

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14. — Marines from the U. S. S. Asheville were authorized today by the state department to land in Nicaragua to protect American citizens after receipt of information that four had been killed and three were missing as a result of insurgent attacks during the last 48 hours.

Col. William C. Dufour, attorney of the Standard Fruit and Steamship company, was informed tonight by representatives of his company at Puerta Cabezas, Nicaragua, that 25 marines were landed there during the day but soon returned to the Asheville when relieved by local guards. They were prepared to land again if needed.

Two Names Given

On the basis of another message from standard representatives, Colonel Dufour gave the state department the names of Hugo and Otto Lehman as two of the missing Americans. Because of similarity with other names, the names could not be checked with state department passport records.

Colonel Dufour appealed twice to state department officals to protect his company's property, valued at $13,000,000. He said unless protected by American forces, his company "must abandon it to the insurgent forces."

Meanwhile, he said, his company had been asked to keep two of its ships in the harbor to evacuate the 300 Americans who had taken refuge on the wharves or on the vessels in the harbor.

Several goodwill pilgrimages have been made by members of the local club during the last few months.

Rumors Current That Gandhi Plans New Assault In India

AHMEDABAD, India, April 14. (AP) — Apprehension was caused in government circles today by the statements of friends of Mahatma Gandhi that he was contemplating marshalling his non-violent crusaders again for a new assault on British rule in India.

The nationalist leader was said to be dissatisfied with delay of officials in fulfilling all the terms of his new Delhi agreement with Viceroy Lord Irwin.

Wild Enthusiasm Reigns In New Spanish Republic

Abdication Of King Is Cause For Joy Of Thousands

MADRID, April 14.—Yielding to the will of the people, King Alfonso XIII, last of the Burbon dynasty, abdicated the ancient throne of Spain late today and a republic immediately was established amid scenes of wildest enthusiasm.

The Spanish monarchy, hundreds of years old and once the most powerful in the world, fell at six o'clock this evening (one o'clock E. S. T.) succumbing to the tide of Republicanism which washed away its supports in the municipal elections Sunday.

Appoints New Cabinet

Niceto Alcala Zamora, Republican leader recently released from jail, immediately took charge of the government as provisional president and appointed a new cabinet.

With tremendous cheering, excited crowds surged through the streets and Republican flags appeared as if by magic in the windows of buildings and automobiles.

Alfonse Leaves

King Alfonso was reported to have left the royal palace shortly thereafter by automoile, presumaly for Portugal. He was accompanied by an intimate friend, a police officer, and several Republican leaders who were said to have guaranteed him safe passage from the county. Queen Victoria and the royal family planned to leave tomorrow morning, either by train or automobile.

The retiring monarch was quoted by friends as not wishing to depart without his family, but deferred to the advice and guarantees of Republican leaders that they would be guarded and respected. In leaving, he was quoted as saying:

"Goodbye until we return."

Declare Martial Law

Former Premier Juan Bautista Aznar announced martial law had been declared to preserve order until the Republican Junta formally takes over its new duties. However, public parades and demonstrations will be persitted, so long as the public does not attempt violence.

The king's abdication took place at a dramatic conference with his

Highway Issue Debate Is Set

House Today Is Scheduled To Start Arguments On Issue Proposing $212,000,000 Indebtedness For Roads

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 14.—The house tomorrow will start debate on the constitutional amendment resolution proposing issuance of $212,000,000 in state bonds to reimburse counties for funds expended on state highways and speed construction of the primary road system.

All members, except those ill or detained by illness in their family, have been ordered to attend. It was believed likely the house would be placed under call immediately after debate on the resolution was started.

Five members returned today on orders of Speaker Minor. About five more were expected to arrive tomorrow one hundred and forty members were expected to register in the morning.

ORDER INOCULATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 14. (AP) —Twenty-five persons here today were ordered inoculated with antirabies serum after they had drunk milk from a cow that died with the disease. The cow was bitten by a rabid dog.

Cop's Privilege But—Cops Only

MILWAUKEE, April 14.—You can fool some of the people some of the time, some of them all of the time, but you can't fool all of 'em all the time.

So Anthony Molter and Ernest Varesdi found after they paraded around the city for a few days, decorated with a tin star labeling them as "detectives," and taking small "gifts" from grocers, department stores and drug stores.

They were discovered to be "phonies," however, and had to pay a $10 fine for impersonating officers.

Large Sum Is Given By Red Cross In Area

Report By Representative In This Section States That More Than $60,000 Distributed In Counties

More than $60,000 has been distributed by the American Red Cross in nine counties on the South Plains during the past three or four months, with a total of over 2,100 families receiving aid, Carl Van Hoorebeke, special representative of the Red Cross, said here in announcing his withdrawal about April 18 or 19.

"We still have 400 familes receiving aid from the Red Cross," Mr. Van Hoorebeke said. "I think that this work will be closed soon."

Active In Nine

Mr. Van Hoorebeke has 12 counties in his district, although the organization is active in but nine of these at this time. The active counties, are: Lubbock, Lynn, Dawson, Martin, Garza, Crosby, Borden, Cochran and Bailey. Inactive counties are: Hockley, Lamb and Hale.

"We distributed over 2,000 packages of garden seed, each containing 18 varieties, to people in the nine counties," Mr. Van Hoorebeke said. "There was enough seed in each package to plant a garden of about a half acre.

"The seed was the purest and best money could buy. We used only the best we could get."

Seed Replaced

In a number of counties where farmers had gardens up before the late March freezes, the Red Cross has replaced the seed, it was said.

The distribution here was a part of a state-wide program, under the direction of William M. Baxter, jr., St. Louis, southwestern representative of the American Red Cross.

In Texas a total of 22,000 four pound packages of seed was distributed more than a month ago, in

City Warrants To Be Limited By House Vote

County Officials Also Are Restrained By Action In Legislature Which Occupied Morning Period

Millions Issued

Petsch Says Bill Is Aimed At Preventing Indiscriminate Issuance Of Warrants Without Public Vote

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 14.—The house today passed a bill limiting the amount of warrants that could be issued by city and county officials and engrossed another bill to establish the Trinity river conservancy and reclamation district.

The bill to limit warrant issuing power of county and city governments occupied the morning session. It was sponsored by Representative Petsch and aimed at preventing indiscriminate issuance of warrants without a vote of the people. Millions of dollars in warrants have been issued without authorization, Petsch estimated.

Debts Increase

Representative Terrell said the indebtedness of Hidalgo county, alone, had been increased $8,000,000 in the past six years through unauthorized warrants.

The bill would limit the amount that could be issued for improvement purposes to $2,000, excepting in cases of public calamity when warrants could be issued for protection of the people without limitation.

Passage Delayed

Failure of the house to suspend the constitutional rule caused the final passage of the Trinity river bill to be delayed temporarily. The vote on the suspension was 92 to 36, the motion failing to receive a four-fifths vote.

Quick action was obtained on the bill, with only two members speaking against it and no one for it, except to explain its provisions. Representatives Farmer of Fort Worth and Cunningham of Eastland op-

Further Plans Pending Today

Cleanup Committee Will Meet Today; Schedule Announced For Talks At Civic Clubs During Coming Week

Further plans for Lubbock's clean up and paint up campaign, to be held from April 20 to 30, will be formulated this afternoon when chairmen of the inspection committees meet at 4 o'clock at the chamber of commerce to discuss the drive and name their assistante, the general steering committee announced last night.

A large part of the success of the campaign will depend upon the activity of the inspection committees working in the eight districts of the city, it was pointed out. The committees are to be furnished by the various women's clubs of Lubbock.

To Make Speeches

Clark Mullican, chairman of the speakers' committe announced yesterday that speakers aiding in the drive would appear before the four luncheon clubs next week. The talks will be given as follows: Lions' club, Tuesday; Rotary club, Wednesday; Kiwanis club, Thursday, and American Business club, Friday.

Estelle's Mind Is Made Up; Declares That She Will File Suit For Divorce Against Jack Soon

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 14.—Estelle Taylor said tonight that her mind was made up and that she would file a suit for divorce from Jack Dempsey in the Los Angeles superior court "very soon."

She left herself a loophole, however, as she claimed the feminine prerogative—permission to change her mind.

Informed there was a rumor abroad that the former heavyweight champion was en route here from Reno, Nev., where he went recently with the announced intention of establishing a residence and seeking a divorce from his film actress-wife, Miss Taylor said her door would be open to him. Apparently, as far as she was concerned, there was a chance for reconciliation.

"If Jack comes, will your door be open to him and will you discuss this matter with him?" Miss Taylor was asked.

"The door of this house is always open to my husband."

Pressed for some hint as to when her suit would be filed, Miss Taylor said "I have a feeling that something will happen within 48 hours."

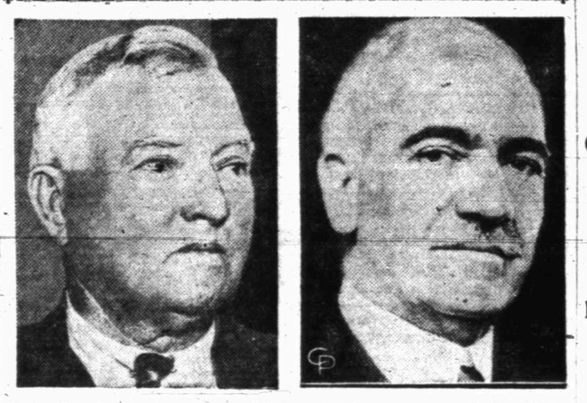

The charges she will make in her complaint, the actress said, will not be sensational.

"I will include as little as possible in the complaint," the woman who married the boxer in 1925 said, "and I don't know yet whether I shall ask for alimony. A sensational divorce would injure my picture career, and I need work. I must work to keep my mind occupied."

She was asked why she did

"Faculty Follies" Opens To Full House Tuesday Evening

More Than 500 Witness Initial Performance Of Affair Which Is Being Planned As An Annual Attraction

AN audience in the high school auditorium grinned, chuckled and then broke out into uproarous laughter last night as members of the Texas Tech faculty and their wives presented the first version of "Faculty Follies." More than 500 witnessed the performance which ran the gamut of entertainment.

The program, booked as "strictly high class" vaudeville, was given for the benefit of the college Young Women's Christian association. It is planned as an annual affair.

Bill "Went Across"

From the opening chorus until the final notes of the farewell song, the audience was entertained. The "bill" went across so far as it was concerned.

Staid rulers of the lecture room forsook their scholarly roles as they sang, danced, cavorted, skipped, dramatized and apparently enjoyed themselves in presenting the evening's acts. The program was under the general direction of Mrs. Allen L. Strout.

Mixed Chorus

The rise of the curtain found a mixed chorus under the direction of Mr. H. F. Godeke presented in several vocal selections. Members of the chorus were: Mesdames R. M. Chitwood, W. P. Clement, Doughtie, R. C. Goodwin, H. F. Godeke, C. E. Mast, J. T. Shaver, Carl Scoggin, Thor J. Beck, Misses Mary DeBardeleben, Margaret Weeks, Johnnie McCrery and Zella Riegel and Messrs. W. P. Clement, C. C. Galbraith, H. F. Godeke, Clarence Hotson, J. H. Murdough, C. C. Rodeffer and Edgar Shelton.

Following the chorus, a group of Spanish dancers gave a short skit followed by an encore tango. Dancers were: Misses Boysen, Lucile Gill, Emma Main, Frances Whatley, Mamye Twyford, Jean Dorrell, Elizabeth Stafford, Gussie Teague, Ruth Horn, Johnson and Mrs. A. B. Strehli.

Tumbling Featured

"Tumble-N" was the next act on the program, featuring "descendants of an extinct race" from the wilds of Arizona and New Mexico and also the tumbling of Dr. F. G.

Prince Charles Of Belgium Arrives In America Tuesday

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—A king's son came to New York today but no cannons boomed and no top hats glistened.

Just a humble tourist here to see America was the way Prince Charles of Belgium described himself to reporters as he stood on the deck of the liner Pennpand, stealing amazed glances at the steel-stepped towers of Gotham.

The second son of King Albert is a tall, fair young man of 27. He said he had no definite itinerary and would "stay as long as I like it."

Jury Completed For Trial Of Four Men On Murder Charges

KERRVILLE, April 14. (AP)—A jury was completed today to try B. H. Hunter and his three sons, Skeet, Bert and Janie, for the slaying of John Connor, former Uvalde police chief. The case was brought here on change of venue. The four defendants pleaded not guilty.

More than 100 witnesses were called with more expected to arrive during the week. Several Texas rangers were present at the trial today.

Get Pants Anyway

Lubbock Cops Make Merry At Ball

TAKE the word of the police for it, the policemen's ball last night at the Uptown Dance palace was a success in more ways than one.

Every one of the 200 or 300 people attending the affair seemed to have a big time and it looks like the law enforcement officers will get new suits. At least, the pants. Proceeds derived from the dance are to be used in the purchase of new uniforms for the force. A complete check of money taken in had not been made last night, but Police Chief John Lemond was of the opinion that enough people attended to assure the purchase of quite a bit of clothing.

Officers, cowboys, flappers and their escorts, business men and their wives all went to make up the varied crowd that thronged the dance floor throughout the evening. Jimmy Garrett, floor manager, carried out the police idea by using a traffic officer's whistle in guiding the activities on the floor.

Policemen, with pistols swinging on their hips, were as good as their word—they actually danced. Chief Lemond said that he would stand for no "wall flowers" in his department.

Members of Lubbock's underworld, if the city has such division, were good sports last night, according to the desk sergeant and let the bluecoats have a good time. Not a single burglary or theft was reported while the dance was in session. Just enough men were kept on duty to punch clocks and keep a lookout after routine business.

Three Sentenced To Prison Terms On Mann Act Charges

EL PASO, April 14. (AP)—Mrs. Annie Jewell Sapp, 24, John Wesley Bloodworth, 24, and Jimmie Harrell, 17, pleaded guilty to charges of violating the Mann act here today.

Va., Harrell, said to have a wife and children in Georgia, was given a two year sentence at Leavenworth, Kansas, federal penitentiary. City Secretary Named Acting Manager; Unanimous Ballot Follows Resignation Move, Second In Seven Weeks

Auditors Selected

Robertson Firm Of Amarillo To Begin Work Immediately On Books; New Pump To Be Purchased At Houston

RESIGNATION of City Manager J. Bryan Miller, handed the Lubbock City commission for the second time this year in an executive session yesterday afternoon, has been unanimously accepted.

After reviewing and acting upon the resignation, the commission, headed by Mayor J. J. Clements and composed of Commissioners John F. Bacon, George E. Benson, D. N. Leaverton and John Roach, appointed City Secretary W. H. Rodgers as acting city manager. Mr. Rodgers will take over duties of the office this morning.

Offered First In February

Mr. Miller first tendered his resignation to the commission on February 27, following a disagreement between himself and Commissioners Benson and Roach on policies of the manager's office. At that time no vote was taken and the following day the commission again assembled for a vote.

Commissioners divided two and two on the resignation, Messrs. Roach and Benson voting on February 28, to accept the resignation and Messrs. Leaverton and Bacon voting against it. Mayor Clements at that time cast the deciding ballot against acceptance of the resignation and Mr. Miller has continued in the office to date.

Came From Bryan

Mr. Miller came to Lubbock on May 10, 1930, from Bryan, Texas, where he had served as city manager for a period of six years. He succeeded G. W. McCleary in the local office. At the time of his appointment a previous administration was in office, with Harley D. Woods as mayor; J. H. Hankins, A. V. Weaver, D. N. Leaverton and

Levelland Child Sustains Injury In Truck Mishap

Frances Alline Williams, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Williams, of Levelland, was seriously injured late yesterday when a truck driven by her father passed over her legs.

Both of the child's legs were broken above the knees, according to attaches at the Lubbock sanitarium, where she was brought for treatment. Unless complications set in the girl should recover, attending physicians said.

Mr. Williams said that the little girl was playing unobserved in rear of the truck when he started to back the machine out of the yard of his farm home near Levelland. The child's screams attracted his attention and he threw on the brakes, the father said.

The girl was given emergency treatment at Levelland and then brought to Lubbock.

Benefit Film Is Carded Two Days

Sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association council, comprising the seven local P. T. A. groups, a film, "Songs of Kentucky," with a comedy, "Hollywood's children" will be presented today and tomorrow at the Lyric Theater, Mrs. W. W. Royalty, president of the council announced yesterday.

Through an arrangement with Mrs. G. T. Scales, owner of the theater, one half of the proceeds from the sale of tickets, will be given the P. T. A. to enable the organization to reduce its indebtedness and to help with the year's work.

Presidents and other officials of the seven groups will be on the streets today to sell tickets. Tickets also will be on sale in the schools. No advance in price will be charged for admission.

Officials of the organization are hopeful of a steady patronage, it was said by Mrs. Royalty yesterday. Members of the council said that it was planned to put on a film recommended by national workers for children and the film and comedy were chosen for this reason.

FOR ANY CHILD

CHILDREN are happy and carefree by nature, so when they cry for no apparent reason any careful mother worries. No one can always guess just what is wrong but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful spell, is feverish and cross and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes it is constipation. Just keep Castoria handy and give freely for any of the above conditions; relief will follow promptly.

All through babyhood, Castoria is a mother's standby, and wise mothers do not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Just increase the dose of Castoria and keep the youngster's stomach sweet and the bowels in good order.

To be sure of getting genuine Fletcher's Castoria you should look for this signature: Chas. H. Fletcher

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN

NOW that the spring baseball season has opened things should be looking up a lot. All these people who stand around on street corners and settle world problems have something new to talk about and they can quit discussing finances.

Of course, as far as the women are concerned, it will make little difference to them. They don't even have to think up something new to wear to the opening and most of them can't remember with whom Babe Ruth really plays so that conversational possibilities are limited.

Much as I hate to admit it, men do seem to have been a lot smarter than women when they took up baseball and smoking pipes. Women don't have any national interests to compare with them. No matter what the season or occasion, men can always probe around and find a point of common interest by introducing a little baseball talk and then when they tire of that they can clutch the bowls of their pipes and look wise and contented and nonchalant about the waning conversation.

While women have no such common interests. Even reducing can't compare with baseball in conversational possibilities and they have no national habits which can seem as satisfying as smoking a pipe. We're an ingenious lot, though, just stick around. We're likely to be inventing something in the way of national pastimes for the men to sit around and envy.

WHOLE EGG CAKE

HERE'S how to make a plain whole-egg cake: Three cups flour, one cup milk, one-half cup butter, one cup sugar, two eggs, two tablespoons baking powder, one-fourth to one-half teaspoon salt, one to two teaspoons vanila.

Mix dry ingredients and sift. Put butter in bowl and cream, then add sugar gradually and continue beating. Add yolks of eggs, beaten until light, liquid and flour mixture alternately.

HENCE, THIS WISDOM

ONE of the advantages of conducting a daily harangue such as this is that on the days when you have nothing to tell your public, you have to go right ahead and tell them anyway. It's spring days like this when you wish some of these people would drop in who are always remarking about how much fun it must be to write a column.

TRIFLES

HERE are some things you might be interested in! Emerald green is the newest color for spectators sports clothes and a very chic new suit has a blouse and jacket of white pique with a pleated green wool crepe skirt buttoned to the blouse; about half of the spring style notices coming over this desk concern umbrellas and slickers and other paraphernalia for spring rains . . . we usually throw them in the wastebasket; one time I bought a raincoat and it rotted before it was ever worn in a real rain; every woman is supposed to have at least one black hat in her wardrobe this spring and all hats are supposed to reveal a lot of the hair; there's a campaign on now to furnish women in prisons and other institutions with gay dresses and pretty printed pajamas as substitutes for the traditional drab uniforms. The foundation of this plan is a view to improving the morale of the wearers.

There is probably a lot in rehabilitations in institutions for corrections of various kinds. Most of us feel the effect of neat clothing or of drab clothing.

There is a current style article which begins "If you're the type to wear knitted wear, sister, it's your smartest bet this season . . . ." The information may be all right but one of my pet peeves is people who address women as "sister" and "lady." Next to that is the shop woman who calls me dearie.

The Queen of Siam, who is coming to the United States this month with her husband on a world tour, is going to be wearing smart Parisian costumes while here, even though at home she wears a modified Siamese native costume, consisting of a sleeveless blouse and the panung, a trouser-like skirt. We'll venture the queen isn't minding the change in costume necessitated by this trip.

A delicate, pleasing flavor not generally well-known is obtained with the spicy rose-geranium leaf. Before using them rinse very thoroughly in water. A leaf, or part of one, according to the size, placed in the bottom of a cake tin before the batter is poured in, and baked with it, will give any white or yellow cake a delightful flavor.

Lubbock's Dry Goods Bill Totalled More Than $1,000,000 For Past Year

Retail purchases by Lubbock residents to a value of nearly $1,000,000 representing a substantial share of the city's yearly dry goods bill, are included by the U. S. commerce department in its newly published report of a general study of the dry goods trade in the Gulf Southwest.

The dry goods survey is one of a series of special market studies planned by the commerce department to place in the hands of business men of the gulf southwest and the country at large information which will aid them to increase profits and improve service through the elimination of uneconomical trade practices and merchandising wastes, according to Sherwood H. Avery, manager of the district office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce for this territory, located at Dallas.

Merchants of Lubbock and a number of other principal cities of the gulf southwest are personally interviewed by the bureau's trade specialists in an effort to obtain a clear picture of the fundamental factors affecting successful merchandising in the area, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Missouri and western Tennessee.

The official report of the dry goods survey gives individual attention to Lubbock and the surrounding territory which may be said to be tributary to it in a trading sense. Population growth, principal industrial activities of the city and aspects of its commercial resources are sketched. In addition there is a separate map setting off the boundaries and showing in detail the content of Lubbock's special sphere of influence in the dry goods field.

Plans For Conley Building To Be Completed This Week

Arrangements for five store spaces on the ground floor and offices on the second floor have been made in the plans for the new Conley building, to replace the structure which was destroyed by fire in August, 1930, according to S. B. Haynes, Lubbock architect, who is designing the new building. The plans will be ready for delivery this week, he said.

The new building will be located at Texas avenue and Broadway and will cover a ground space of 50 by 125 feet. It will cost approximately $35,000

The present structure is to be razed soon, it was said.

Cotton Advance Discontinued Today; Two Offices Are Open

Effective today, the 90 per cent advance given all persons who sell cotton through the Texas Cotton Cooperative association pools will be discontinued, it was announced yesterday at the district office here.

Most of the cotton in the Lubbock district has been moved, representatives of the association said. In order to care for the small amount that remains, the Littlefield and Paducah offices are being maintained for the receiving of cotton. These two units and the Lubbock district and branch office are the only offices remaining open in the district.

County Home Rule Plans

THE Morning Avalanche, while not doubting the practicability of "county home rule" legislation as proposed for Texas, does doubt the practicability of restraints placed upon the scope of the proffered law.

In other words, if "county home rule" is good for Dallas, Tarrant and Bexar counties it should also be good for Lubbock county—whether the population here is forty or sixty thousand persons.

The resolution, adopted in the House of Representatives by the topheavy ballot of 103 to 24 and now facing the Senate, provides for counties adopting home rule charters, similar to those now in use by cities. It also provides for the combining of city and county governments to cut the cost of operations through increased efficiency.

The trouble with the resolution as we see it, is that it fails to cover enough territory. There's a population "trailer" tagging along, setting forth that only counties of 60,000 or more population could institute home rule—and that only applies to 13 of Texas' quarter-thousand counties. That part can't be equitable.

"BEARING DOWN" IN BUSINESS

The men who are fighting for business now are the men who will be able, some not too far-distant day, to sit placidly by while an increased trade flows placidly in of its own, sweet accord.

It is interesting to note that more heroes are made in time of stress than at any other period. And, in this regard, it is more noteworthy that the foundations for more gigantic fortunes have been laid during slow business times than have been begun when times were booming.

No man or horse ever won a race by stopping on the turn or as he began pounding down the home stretch. To borrow a trite, yet popular phrase, "when the going gets tough is the time to bear down!"

"Bearing down" now will win the battle in Lubbock and everywhere else.

BE YOURSELVES, GIRLS!

Fashions in femininity made to order. That seems to be the claim of certain associations whose stock in trade is the dictating of feminine fashions in gowns, cloaks, shoes, hosiery, millinery, hairdressing and cosmetics.

The Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' Association, with similar associations of beauty culturists throughout this paradise of feminine pulchritude, has just decred the "home-girl" style in girl friends. Her distinguishing characteristics will be pink skin, rose-petal cheeks, more delicate shades of lipstick and a dainty feminine coiffure.

Two years ago sophistication, hard-boiled masculinity, the freedom of the jazz-age, with their accompaniments, the boyish bob and high-visibility skirts, were the vogue. Last year the sun-tan complexion came into popularity. Now the modern girl is trying to make up like a bashful dairy maid.

Some time the sweet things should try just being themselves.

Fate sometimes gives you a walk to first, but if it isn't born in you, you'll never steal second or a government oil reserve.

Practical Health Problems

BONE CONDUCTS SOUND

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Unquestionably the disease called otosclerosis has affected the human being for many years.

In this condition, the small bones involved in hearing become locked by changes which take place in tissues so that the person affected cannot hear well, except over the telephone or with a hearing device.

The reason he hears well under the latter circumstance is the fact that in this condition the conduction of sound through the bone is improved while conduction by air is lost.

Various theories have been offered, as is pointed out by Dr. C. S. Nash, to account for the development of this condition, but not one of these theories has as yet been established as the primary factor.

The only theory in which all observers concur is the conviction that the heredity or constitution of the person involved has some bearing, since there is a tendency of such conditions to occur in families.

However, it is not only the tendency of the condition to occur that is responsible, but also the development of an infection, an intoxication from the gastro-intestinal tract, the lack of some important food substance, some disorder of the glands of internal secretion, some modification of the circulation, or some other factor which must be the inciting factor associated with the hereditary cause.

Associated with the difficulty of hearing, there takes place not infrequently some nervous development due to the strain on the nervous system and also occasional ringing in the head, whistling in the ears, dizziness, and nausea, which make the condition even more serious than if it were confined to the disorder of hearing alone. Fortunately hearing devices have been developed which are of great aid to people with this type of deafness. The American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing can supply to those interested a list of acceptable hearing devices.

In order to aid the study of this disease with a view to improving the condition for the future, attempts are being made to get people with this type of deafness to will their ears to science so that after death the ears may be available for study by experts in various centers of research who are giving special attention to this problem.

Fight Again Looms

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Labor believes that whenever the cost of living increases, employers ought to be willing to increase their employes' pay correspondingly. Otherwise the increase in the cost of living amounts to a general wage cut.

CHAS P STEWART

Capital believes that when living costs decline, the workers ought to be equally willing to accept a corresponding reduction in wages.

Capital in the past has cut pay promptly when living costs have declined. In fact, labor has complained of a constant tendency on the part of employers to overemphasize all downward swings in the "graph," while ignoring those in an upward direction.

IN 1915 HENRY FORD evolved a new theory, in favor of which the old capitalistic theory virtually was scrapped and stayed scrapped until recently.

The Ford theory (it really was the brain child of the present Senator James Couzens of Michigan, but Ford got all the credit for it) is that it is good business for the employer to keep increasing wages, regardless of the cost of living; that the employe, after all, is the employer's best customer; hence, that the more prosperous the employe is, the more prosperous his employer will be, by reason of the former's increased buying power.

It took captains of industry a little while fully to assimilate this argument, but once they had done so they appeared to fall for it 100 per cent.

The idea held its own during the post-war pinch. It flourished exceedingly during the ensuing period of "Coolidge prosperity" and on into the Hoover regime. It has hung on during the prolonged grind of the present depression with a persistency almost sufficient to justify a faith in capital's actual belief in it—until just now.

THE INITIAL hint I got of a return by business leaders to the older philosophy was embodied in a remark made to me by President Melvin A. Taylor of the First National bank of Chicago in the course of a talk I had with him on a visit to the Windy City last month—a hint I did not estimate at the time, for all it evidently was worth, my mind being so utterly unprepared for the notion that the Ford concept was losing its potency (if ever it had any) with our foremost practical economists.

"We must not," said President Traylor, "confuse an arbitrary fixed wage in dollars and cents with a real wage in purchasing power. Employers must be as quick to recognize the real wage in a rising market as labor must be to recognize it in a falling market. Business cannot prosper if costs eliminate profit; labor cannot work as fully as it should if capital is denied a proper return."

In other words, today's market is a falling one; if labor wants jobs it must take less pay.

AS PREVIOUSLY observed, this utterance by President Traylor slid off me without producing much impression at the time, but I thought of it again some days later, when I noticed a statement by Chairman A. H. Wiggin of the Chase National bank of New York, defending wage cuts. And again when President A. P. Sloan of General Motors predicted an attack by many big industries upon existing pay schedules. And a third time when Chairman Will Wood of the house of representatives' committee on appropriations announced "The wage scale in this county is far above the selling level of commodities. How that is to be adjusted is a problem."

Then President Green of the American Federation of Labor broadcast his charge that a "conspiracy" is brewing to reduce wages.

All of which upset Chairman Arthur Woods of Presidents Hoover's unemployment commission to the extent of warning employers that it will be "most unfortunate if they take advantage of the present situation to engage in a wage-slashing campaign."

NEXT THING, various newspapers, including several Republican organs which are especially close to the administration, went so far as to proclaim that President Hoover himself was alarmed by the tendency to cut wages, feeling that such a trend jeopardizes prosperity's revival.

To be sure, the White House denied this the next day, saying, on the contrary, that the president is greatly pleased by the general maintenance of high wages.

Nevertheless, according to the statistical bureau of Mr. Hoover's own labor department, the month ending Jan. 15 was marked by wage cuts averaging 10.2 per cent, affecting 80 per cent of the employes of 50 important American industries.

IT IS SURPRISING how quickly this storm has arisen.

When I left for the mid-west in March, to see President Traylor of the Chicago First National, among other notabilities, there was no talk whatever in Washington of wage reductions. There was plenty of lamentation concerning widespread unemployment, but general congratulations of the (supposed) fact that folk who did have jobs were still as well paid for them as ever. Returning at the end of a fortnight, all I have heard since is a continuous uproar at the prospect of wage cuts.

It certainly looks as if the industries had been quietly preparing for a slash, and, when the moment for it arrived, had disclosed their plan suddenly.

AS WELL-INFORMED labor authorities interpret the story, I get it substantially thus;

The Ford idea was all right while prices of everything were rising, as they were in 1915 (and still more rapidly afterward), and while they stayed high, as they did until the latter part of 1929. It was not so bad an idea even during the subsequent depression, inasmuch as forces were down to mere skeletons anyway; instead of having their pay cut, men were fired outright, and those who remained were not numerous enough to matter greatly.

But now the depression has about run its course. The industries are ready to resume running normally.

In the meantime, however, due to the processes of mechanization, labor is clamoring for much shorter hours, in order to make jobs go around. And the workers want their old pay for an abbreviated day and week. Indeed, there is a growing demand for higher pay. It will mean, in effect, a new social system; a readjustment of the division of created wealth; a larger share for the workers, less for the employers—the higher officials and shareholders.

Capital seems to have made up its mind to go to the mat on this issue.

If labor is equally resolute, the outlook is anything but peaceful.

THE LARGEST GRAPEVINE.—The Big Grapevine, of Mission variety, grew in Montecito, California, on land formerly owned by Dr. A. B. Doremus of Santa Barbara. The vine was planted in 1827 by Dona Maria Marcelina de Dominques to observe the birth of her first born. The stem, or trunk, of the vine was 16 inches in diameter and 56 inches in circumference, and under its branches the Spanish people of this section used to hold their festivities. At one time the vine produced 7,500 clusters of grapes yearly, a total of 12,000 pounds. The above is verified by the Santa Barbara (Calif.) Chamber of Commerce.

A THRILLING MYSTERY STORY — by MILES BURTON

READ THIS FIRST:

Dick Penhampton, friend of assistant police commissioner, Sir Edric Conway, is put on the trail of the stolen Hardway diamonds, after Inspector Brooks has been killed. Disguised as a down-and-outer, Dick wins the confidence of several suspects. He is looking for a job and the gang tells their boss, who sends for Dick. He is interviewed in a darkened room by a man who tentatively hires him. As he is leaving, the man who he cannot see breaks into a frightful laugh. Dick is in love with Alison Weatherleigh and he does not tell her of his dangerous work. Arriving home Dick is asked to draw a picture of the Hardway diamond necklace for a Scotland Yard officer. After Brooks' death, Inspector Pollard is put on the case, working independently of Dick. Dick, with his companion, Jerry, maintain shadquarters in a poor district.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER 16

At his rooms, Dick re-assumed the character of Captain Blackwood, and returned unobstrusively to Mellin Street. No message had come for him in his absence, and Jerry was sure that no one was even aware that he had left the house. He served up a most admirable supper, after which Dick settled himself before the fire.

His interview with Inspector Pollard had to some extent reassured him. The last thing he desired was to come into conflict with the police, or for them to discover that he was engaged in an independent investigation. This would lead to all sorts of complications and probably to a friendly watch being kept upon his movements. If we were to gain the confidence of the gang of which the unknown man was the leader, he must on no account risk anything of the kind. And it was apparent, from the rather, elementary inquiries made by Pollard, that the police had not advanced in the direction which he had taken.

The laughter of the unknown man still rang in his ears, producing a chill feeling of uneasiness. But in spite of this, Dick told himself that he ran no earthly risk. At the first threat of danger, he had only to tell Sir Edric the whole story and the unknown man and his gang would be swiftly and securely rounded up. Certainly, such a tame ending to his adventure was to be avoided, but the possibility of it eliminated every trace of peril.

Even Dick's unfailing cheerfulness was scarcely proof against the tedium of the following day. He did not dare repeat his excursion into his natural haunts, fearing that too-frequent an appearance was bound to lead to his detection. It rained heavily and he and Jerry kept one another company round the fire, yarning about their adventures during the war. And then at last, when Dick had almost abandoded hope of ever hearing from the unknown man again, the message came.

It came in rather a curious way. Dick started up as he heard a knock on the house door. He had reached that state of restlessness when it was almost impossible for him to sit still. He opened the door, admitting a gust of wind and rain that caused the feeble gas jet of flicker despairingly. A hand thrust a screwed-up ball of paper towards him and a childish voice muttered: "For Captain Blackwood." Then the messenger vanished.

Dick shut the door without any attempt to discover the identity of the messenger. He did not wish to appear inquisitive: his role was that of the man who is prepared to accept orders and obey them without question. He walked back to the kitchen, where he very carefully unrolled the wet ball of paper. It proved to be an outline map, bearing the head: "London Midland & Scottish Railway; London, Tilbury and Southend section." It must have been torn out of a time-table.

Dick spread the map out on the table and examined it closely. It bore very little details, beyond the line of the railway and the names of the stations. But at one point, south of Rainham station, and on the bank of the river, a cross had been made in pencil, and by this was written: "11:30 P. M."

"Well, that's clear enough!" muttered Dick. "I've got to be at that point at half-past eleven tonight. It sounds interesting, but I wonder what the devil I shall be expected to do when I get there? It's a pretty lonely spot, if I remember right."

Certainly, when he left Rainham station just before eleven, the prospect did not appear encouraging. It was Saturday, and the various factories scattered along the Essex shore of the river displayed no signs of activity. Very few people were about and the rain was still falling in torrents, driven before a biting wind. Dick, muffling up as best he could in his threadbare overcoat, walked out of the station into the cheerless night.

He had a rough idea of the lie of the land and he took a road which led across the marshes towards the river. The road rapidly deteriorated, until it became a mere cart-track, along which a muddy stream poured sluggishly, two or three inches deep. It wound and twisted, skirting the marsh, and separated from it by deep ditches on either side. At every few yards Dick was compelled to use the torch which he had brought with him, in order to avoid plunging waistdeep into a horrible compound of mud and slimy weed. And then, all at once, the road took a turn round a narrow belt of trees, which shut out the lights of Rainham behind.

Dick paused and looked around him. The downpour had, for the moment abated and given place to a thin chill drizzle. In front of him a light appeared and disappeared with steady persistence. This he guessed "Sticks" Are Passing, Says Roxy, Who Finds....

MAIN STREET AND FIFTH AVENUE HAVE JOINED HANDS

BY GENE CONN
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, April 14. — The "American hiterlands," having passed a rigid examination, may now go to the head of the class!

In the vernacular of Manhattan, the rest of the nation may be "the sticks," but their citizens have become sticklers who cannot be stuck with the old stock stuff.

"They know more about what's going on in New York than eight out of ten residents of Gotham. They know all about the New York plays, the music, the opera, the performers and authors, although they're many miles away from the center of activity.

"What's more, they're intensely eager to keep pace with metropolitan affairs—even ahead of them. They are full of intellignt qustions and opinions.

Up To Snuff

"They likely even to keep ahead of New Yorkers, because they are so far removed from the hectic arena that they can get a more leisure for digesting the various important events . . ."

All of which are the conclusions of Roxy, just returned from a tour of points west of Manhattan Island with his radio troupe. And they coincide closely with the result of careful surveys and first-hand investigations carried on by the big radio concerns for use in planning future programs.

Roxy is one of the closest personal observers, as he is to be "mayor" of the new "radio city," that almost fabulous giant of the entertainment world which will get under way within a couple of months.

"We visited 60 cities—large and small—and found an acquaintance with big town life and affairs that the gang," reports Roxy, who went on a benefit tour for the Shriners' hospitals and found the experience more than slightly beneficial to himself.

"I wouldn't go so far as to say that there is no 'sticks,' " he went on. "Or even that 'the sticks' will ever disappear! But the radio seems to have made Fifth Avenue join Main Street.

"Everyone has a radio out there—and do they know what's going on? You learn in no time that they have been listening to the book reviewers and to the fellows who explain the concerts and the symphonies; they've both heard and read all about the Broadway productions and they've classified the radio entertainers. They've been listening to Toscanini in New York and to the Chicago, Cleveland and other mid-western orchestras.

"They seemed to know all about the various performers of my gang. They came up before and after shows eager with questions that proved beyond a doubt that there was no posing about it— they were definitely 'in the know!'

New Yorkers Too Close

"The New Yorker is too close to his picture. He's like the man who, because he practically lives in a famous building, rarely looks at it. The New Yorker gets confused by the five-ring circus that is going on all around him. He hasn't time to keep up to one-tenth of anything. He catches things in a hit-and-miss fashion and could be tied in a knot by almost any one of the folks I met on the outside.

"The man who lives in New York—if and when interested—tries to keep up with the dizzy round of events, but is bound to get lost in the shuffle. He is too close to his own scene. It swings around him and he can only get glimpses of the whirling panorama.

"Whereas in the county outside, people have greater leisure. They have time to absorb. And don't forget—by the time their information reaches them, experts have digested the various topics and supplied the hinterlander with the cream of everything."

Roxy's personal data, however, is but one man's echo of larger statistical voices issuing from the major studies. Vast mountains of letters testifiy to the interest of the smaller towns in the various scenes of the Manhattan passing show. Hot arguments are carried on with radio book reviewers and music critics; comments on lectures and political surveys flood the mails—

Main Street may yet merge into the Main Stem!

They Have Their Rights In Spite Of Monikers, Dakota Indians Say

(By Associated Press)

BRENNON, S. D., April 14.—Charles Shot-to-Pieces Alice Crooked Eyes and Katie Good Medicine are free-born American citizens.

And U. S. highway No. 18, which now passes old Wounded Knee battlefield, near here, will not be re-routed if picturesque names like theirs can prevent it.

These folk and many others, all Indians from Pine Ridge reservation, have signed petitions protesting against taking the highway away from Wounded Knee battlefield, where so many of their brothers and sisters lost their lives.

Some of the other signatories are: Levi Sitting Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. Standing Bear, Edward Woman Dress, Robert Little Dog, John Pretty Bird, William Ghost Dog, Johnnie and Jenny Fast Wolf, and Pugh and Ada Kills Bad.

Construction Of Camp Is Planned

BROWNFIELD, April 14.—Ground has been broken for the construction of one of the most modern tourist camp grounds in West Texas if not in the state. It is located on highway 137 about one half mile from the business section and when completed will represent an investment of not less than $15,000. Plans were drawn by one of the leading architects of this section, but prior to their completion, trips were made to a number of cities containing modern camps for the purpose of incorporating their best features in the plans. The camp will contain two and three room apartments, with kitchen and private baths in each and in addition rest rooms for both men and women will be constructed for general use.

Construction will be of brick, tile and white stucco with the front rainbow colors and will be known as Rainbows End. It will be owned and operated by Joe Price, a well known citizen of this town. A full line of supplies for every need of the tourist will be kept at all times.

CULLING DOES GOOD

SEMINOLE, (Special)—Mrs. J. W. Childers, a poultry demonstrator here, culled her flock of 400 White Leghorns and sold 80 hens. The day before the culling she gathered 150 eggs and the day after there were 151 eggs in the nests. She estimated it cost her ten cents a month to feed each hen.

Cigar exportation to the United States from Philippine Islands totaled 154,134,414 cigars in 1930, a decrease of nearly 2,000,000 from 1929.

Paris dressmakers are reported to have taken a safe position in the long skirtshort skirt dispute by sponsoring two distinct modes, one for young and slender figures and another for plump ones.

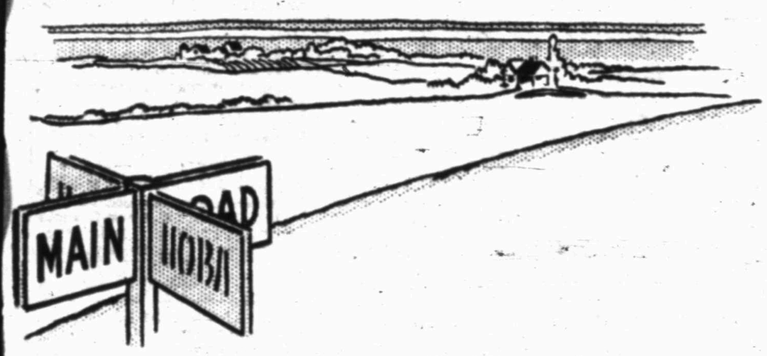

WHITE OF MANY COLORS

WE usually think of newly laundered sheets and linens as pure white. But the truth is that most of the time they are not white at all. Sometimes they are gray, sometimes they are yellow, and sometimes they are even blue. It all depends on the soap.

White things will emerge from washing absolutely white if they are washed with White King Granulated. White King is pure. No "filler" or foreign matter—nothing but the finest vegetable and nut oils, good enough to eat. White King needs no bleaching or bluing help.

It's economical too! Because White King Granulated is condensed, a little of it goes a long way. One teaspoonful in a wash basin, one cupful in the washing machine—plenty, even in hard or lukewarm water. Safe and swift for blankets, dishes, delicate colored fabrics. Your grocer has it.

Now you can FOLLOW the ONE MAIN ROAD . . .

● STANDARD RATING SCALE for Electric Refrigeration

- Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
- Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
- Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdily built and properly insulated?
- Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration).
- Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of foods?
- Can the freezing of ice cubes and desserts be speeded up when the need arises?
- Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves? (Too low a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food).
- Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frosted" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?
- Are these various temperatures a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?
- Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run).
- How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours).
- Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?
- Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
- Can the refrigerator top be used to "set things down for a moment" while the contents of the cabinet are being re-arranged?
- Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?
- Has the experience of users over a long period of years proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?

These sixteen signposts guide you to lasting satisfaction

Here is the unerring way for you to choose lasting refrigeration satisfaction. The Standard Rating Scale prevents the all-too-frequent error of getting off on a side road by mistaking superficial features for true value.

BY TED VOSBURG

GRIFFITH STADIUM, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14. —(AP)—President Hoover started something when he tossed out the first ball for the American League opener here today.

In a thrilling eleven inning tustle the world's champion Philadelphia Athletics proceeded to hand the Washington Senators a 5-3 defeat after coming from behind to tie the score with a rally in the ninth.

The president was forced to leave at the end of the tenth inning when the score was tied at 3-3 but Mrs. Hoover, their son, Allan, and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Jr., remained to see the thrilling eleventh frame in which the A's stowed away the game in their familiar fighting style.

In the presidential party were all of the members of the cabinet except Attorney-General Mitchell, most of them accompanied by their wives. In the near-capacity crowd of 32,000 were numerous Senators, Representatives, diplomats and dignitaries.

It was a perfect day for baseball with the sun as warm as it often is in mid-summer.

REVAMPED BROWNS WIN, 7-3

ST. LOUIS, April 14. (AP)—Playing like veterans, the revamped and youthful St. Louis Browns put over a successful season's opener here today by defeating the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 3, before a crowd of 7,000.

Walter Stewart, who promises much for the new Browns, allowed Detroit only six hits. The performance of St. Louis, which has been an uncertain quantity because of a majority of new faces, surprised the opening day fans.

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—The Yankees opened the American League season in New York with great success as they brought back their star performances of former years under a new manager and exhibited them to 70,000 fans by beating the Boston Red Sox 6-3.

Charley Ruffing got off to a bad start for the Yankees but soon settled down and held the Sox in check except in the eighth inning when pinch batsman Winsett hit a home run with Berry on base. Wilcy Moore, one time Yankee pitcher, was driven to cover in the fourth, Ed Durham and Ed Morris followed him.

Babe Ruth started his annual effort to beat his home run record by hitting his first of the new season in the seventh inning. He drove the first ball Durham offered him out of the park.

Roy Hansen May Be On Hill For Fort Worth Cats Today

FORT WORTH, April 14. (AP)—Roy Hansan, young southpaw, instead of Dick McCabe is apt to be the Cats' opening day pitcher at Wichita Falls tomorrow. Just before leaving for Spudderville today Manager Art Phelan announced he had about decided to substitute the 23-year-old Chicago draymen for the veteran righthander who won 20 games last year.

"Final decision depends upon the weather conditions Wednesday," the skipper said. "If it is clear, warm, still day McCabe is likely to work but if the wind is blowing out over the fences, as it usually is at Wichita Falls at this time of the year, Hansen will be used."

If McCabe isn't used at Wichita Falls tomorrow he will be saved until Friday and will pitch the opening game at La Grave Field.

Sun Beau, fifth in the second Agua Caliente handicap, went to the post at odds of 1 to 2, the shortest in the history of this or the Cofforth handicap, which it succeeded.

Ace Elliott started for the Phils. Aided by two home runs by Chuck Klein, he held the lead until the seventh inning. A recruit, Frank Watt, finished for the Phils. Mel Ott completed the rout with a second Giant homer in the ninth.

Everything a National League team needs to keep heads up in the big push for the pennant was displayed in convincing manner by the Bruins as they took their flying start. Root was as good as he ever was in his come-back, the defense functioned perfectly and the heavy guns roared so loud that two Pirate hurlers, Larry French and George Grant, ducked for cover under a bombardment of ten hits, including a home run and three doubles.

Fish And Sophs Of Arts League Show Form In Feature Intramural Program

Flashing a brilliant offense and a defense that withstood the attack enough to permit a victory, the Fish of the Liberal Arts League spanked the Sophs of the same league, 30 to 24, last night in the first game of the second division in the 54-game Tech intramural basketball tournament. It was the second meeting of the teams in the double round robin schedule.

Cummins led the attack for the winners. Koger with four field goals was leader for the Bookstore. The game was to have been played last Friday but postponed.

Cross-Country Men Asked To Meet With Coach

A meeting of all track and field candidates of Texas Technological college has been called for 4 o'clock this afternoon at the gymnasium. Russell "Dutchey" Smith, assistant coach, will direct the destinies of the 1931 thinly clads. Cross-country trackmen are asked to be present. The track season at Tech this year will be limited to intramural games, the sport having been abandoned this season as an intercollegiate competitive activity. Due to a financial let down, the school officials elected to confine track to the campus for this season. Next year they hope to inaugurate the sport on an intercollegiate basis.

Assisting Smith in the intramural track season will be the track and field lettermen of the 1930 season. Four teams will make up an intramural league this season. Heading the Liberal Arts division will be James Harley Dallas as coach. Herschel Tadlock will direct the School of Engineering team, Leon "Baldy" Fisher is to coach the Army thinly clads, and Dennis Vinzant has been appointed to coach the Aggies. Floyd Wooldridge will have charge of the cross-country racers.

The first track meet is scheduled for Monday afternoon when the Army and Aggies clash in a dual meet.

Panthers Open At Wichita In Headline Game

Milt Steengrafe To Oppose Dick McCabe; Games Today At Shreveport, Beaumont And Galveston

BY BILL PARKER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Seven beaux ideal of 1930 Texas League pitching, who came out of split season campaign with pleas of hurling honors, will unwrap their salary arms today and start the 1931 Texas League pennant chase with games at Shreveport, Wichita Falls, Beaumont and Galveston. All the eight probable mound selections, seven finished last season with a .500 or better.

Harold Carson, has been announced as opening hurler for San Antonio, was the only mound artist who had no luck last year. Carson won 6 and lost 17 for the Indians.

At Wichita Falls where most of the opening interest will center because Fort Worth, 1930 flag winners will be playing there, Dick McCabe was due to oppose Milt Steengrafe. This opener brings together two of the leading twirlers in 1930. It was McCabe who was such a power factor in the Cats winning the pennant with his 20 wins and 7 defeats for a season average of .741.

Phelan and Colts Ready

Art Phelan, chief of the Cats, has his men ready. His boys will take the field selected to finish second by Texas League critics. Carl Williams' Spudders, with the exception of Joe Hassler, shortstop, a tip-top. Hassler is out with a sore arm. Arthur Scharein is due to open at the shortfield position for the Spudders, and may stay there if he gets off right.

The Spudders added to their confidence this week when the St. Louis Browns sent them Ted Gullic, who was with Wichita Falls in 1929 and is a hard hitting outfielder.

Houston Picked to Win

Houston, Texas League sport writers' choice to win this year's pennant, will open with George Washington Payne opposing Beaumont. Payne's labor on the mound last season netted him 13 wins and 10 defeats for a .565 average. Dan Baker, Beaumont skipper, plans to send Charles Marrew, Tom Vaughn or Gerald Mallet against Houston. It will probably be Marrow who won 6 and lost 3 last year for a .667 average. Beaumont's big punching this season will be Paul Easterling, hard pounding outfielder.

Five days ago sport writers in Texas figured the Dallas Steers a cinch for third place this year, but Cecil Stewart, star second sacker, faded out of the Dallas lineup with a broken ankle. Manager Happy Morse nominated Lee Meadows right hander who won 9 and lost 7 for a .563 average last year, to hurl Dallas' opener at Shreveport. Meadows will be opposed by the veteran Texas League spit ball artist Oscar Tuero, who finished last season with 17 wins against 6 defeats for the high average of .739. Oscar Tuero as his mound ace and Raymond Radcliff, who hit .369 last year with Selma in the Southeastern League, as his batting punch are Manager Atz' Shreveport prize this season.

Planning to make a grand opening day attendance mark as their gift on re-entering the Texas league, replacing Waco, Galveston fans and players will line up behind Herb Thormahlen who toiled for Waco and Fort Worth enough last year to win 13 and lose 10 for a .565 percentage, as their opening day hurler against Claude Robertson's San Antonio Indians.

AUSTIN, April 14. —(AP)—Governor Sterling today signed a bill limiting the amount of county birdge, jail and court house bonds that could be issued to a certain percentage of the country's taxable values.

Receipts Show Some Decrease

Postal Receipts For March Of Present Year Slightly Under Those Year Ago; Expect Substantial Gain

Postal receipts for March 1931 were less than $42 under the month of March in 1930, John L. Vaughn, postmaster, said in announcing the total receipts for the first quarter of 1931 and also for March.

Receipts were $9,525.58, or $41.68 below the March 1930 figures of $9,567.26, he said.

First quarter reports this year were $29,150.40, compared to $30,039, a decrease of $1,230.99 for this year.

"We have had a good start on our April receipts, "Mr. Vaughn said. "With all this new building starting this quarter, the new federal building, the county jail, the Conley and Temple Ellis buildings, I am expecting that our deficit for the first quarter will be wiped out and more, during this second quarter.

Last year the Lubbock postoffice made a gain of in excess of $12,000 over the previous year. Each month during 1930 showed a substantial increase over the same month in 1929.

With the construction of the new federal building expected to start some time early next month, it is believed by postal officials that there will be an increase in receipts.

Steam vessels registered at British ports now number 9,172.

Cotton Moderate Action Seen For Cotton — Livestock Cattle Trade Is Very Slow — Grain Milo And Kaffir Show Up Strong

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 14. (AP)—Cotton was only moderately active today and prices worked lower. The start was steady and prices advanced 4-5 points in the early trading owing to better Liverpool cables than due. As New York did not respond actively to the cables the market here soon eased off and, as considerable liquidation developed during the morning with Wall Street selling, prices gradually declined with little attempt at rallying. Easier stocks probably helped the decline.

The market became rather active in the late trading and made new lows 23 to 25 points below the early highs but rallied 3-4 points at the end on covering. The close was steady with the general market showing net declines for the day of 15-16 points.

July closed at 10.51 down 16 points net and October at 10.84 down 15 points net.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers which appeared to be coupled with some local and commission house selling promoted by a favorable view of the weather map, and talk of an easter technical position. July contracts, after selling up to 10.73 at the start, reacted to 10.48 and closed a 10.52, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 14 to 17 points.

The opening was steady to 4 points higher on the relatively steady showing of the late Liverpool cables. There appeared to be some cotton wanted on the dips, partly for trade account while there were occasional spurts of covering but the bulges met increased offerings and lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading. May contracts sold off to 10.37 and October to 10.82 making net declines of 18-20 points and last prices were within 3 or 4 points of the lowest.

Following the presentation of old Southern melodies by a group from the first chorus, Dr. O. C. Market Takes One Step Forward And Several Backward During Tuesday

BY JOHN COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—The stock market took one step forward and several backward today.

Opening with a rally that promised a short squeeze, it turned downward before noon and preferred the lower trend throughout the rest of the day, closing with net losses of 1 to 5 points. The turnover was 1,900,000 shares and trading was very dull in the last hour.

Electrical equipment, chemical and amusement issues offered the least resistance to selling, although steels, rails, oils and utilities caught up with those groups toward the close. Tobaccos moved ahead. Automobile shares, under the strong for a time but had to meet profit-taking. leadership of General Motors, were firm.

New lows for the year or longer were made by Baldwin, Westinghouse, Armour of Illinois preferred, Goodrich, Southern Railway, Lackawanna and the Priscos.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, April 14.—(AP)—Cattle trade around the eleven market circuit continued very slow with fed steers and yearlings selling 25 lower than Monday and 50-75 lower than last week. Current quotations on beef steers and yearlings are lower than the low spot in February. Low grade cows were about the only commodity that packers topped at 9.40 while at Omaha 9.75 was realized on choice medium weight steers and long yearlings. The bulk of fed sters are selling from 6.50 8.25; with 7.00-8.00 at the river markets steering offerings of good to near choice quality. Common South Texas grass steers are quotable down to 4.50 with fed Texas around 6.00-6.75. A weaker tone also prevailed on stocker and feeder classes. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 34,200 as compared with 29,000 a week ago and 26,112 the corresponding day last year.

Hog trade was somewhat uneven with lighter weights generally steady to 15 lower while at some points medium weights and heavy butchers ruled steady to 10 higher. The day's extreme top of 7.80 was paid at Chicago. Total offerings were around 70,300 a decrease of 13,000 from last Tuesday and 27,000 short of a year ago.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, April 14.—(AP)— Hogs 1,000, truek hogs mostly 20 lower; no rail hogs offered; truck top 7.25 to small killers, bulk better grades 170-240 lb. truck hogs 7.25-7.20; few packing sows up to 6.25 or steady.

Spanish Republic

cabinet from 5:30 p. m. until 6. Confronting them, he said:

"I am still king."

In contrast to past history, the portentous change in rule was effected without known clash of arms or bloodshed. Republican leaders commented widely to the effect "there was no bloodshed during the establishment of the republic, which is the greatest victory of all."

Traffic Jammed

Riotous joy was the order of the day. The people in the streets slapped each other on the back and exchanged pleasantries while police looked on indulgently. Traffic was jammed as enthusiastic throngs poured over the thoroughfares. Many of them were riding in trucks and taxis draped with banners.

Today's events followed a night of rioting in Madrid and may other cities, stirred by the sweeping Republican election returns. The cabinet visited the royal palace early this morning and presented their resignations, presumably advising the king at that time he should resign his crown and turn the government over to the victors.

Shortly thereafter, Alcala Zamora and his lieutenants began a conference with the members of the government and the result was the issuance of an ultimatum that unless the king abdicated within an hour the Republicans would take no responsibility for the consequences. The Alcala Zamora was summoned by the king at noon and when he left after a brief parley he said:

"I am content."

Meanwhile, the city of Barcelona had proclaimed the existence of a Spanish republic and also the republic of Catalonia with Francisco Macia, long-time separatist-leader, as its first president. The moment swept through towns and cities in all parts of the nation and the newly elected Republican aldermen seized the city halls, announcing the end of the monarchy and the birth of a new form of government.

Close upon the pronouncement of amnesty, jails were opened throughout Spain and several thousand political prisoners were liberated. They were mostly civilians but included were several hundred soldiers in Madrid and others in Jaca, Zaragoza and other places—all of whom were implicated in the December revolution.

The imposition of martial law failed to interfere with the gaety in Spain's greatest city. Madrid was a scene of mad carousal such as occur in American college towns after great football victories.

There were no cries of "death to the king" as in previous uprisings. Instead the people chanted like a college cheer: "Now he is gone, Now he is gone," and "We've thrown him out, We've thrown him out."

Good nature reigned everywhere. Men, women and children—rich and poor from factories—linked arms and abandoned themselves to universal carnival.

Rate Reduction

companies are engaged in the production, refining and marketing of oil in addition to the transportation of same; that they are also the general purchasers of crude oil.

Cannot Pay Charge

"That the effect of the high rates established by the carriers is that the small producer cannot pay the charge involved; that he cannot, therefore ship his oil to another market; that he is therefore forced to sell his oil at his well to the carrier or to the company owning the carrier.

"That by the same process the carrier or its parent or affiliated company, in addition to controlling the production and the sale of oil in the field, can and does control the destination of the oil; that it can and does prevent oil from going into competing refineries and the refined product from competing with the carrier's marketing system; that the simple expedient of high pipe line rates gives the integrated companies a strangle hold on the oil industry which this commission is attempting to conserve.

Reduces Shipments

"That the aforesaid procedure has materially reduced, and in some places completely eliminated, shipment by others than those who own the pipe lines."

The association asked the railroad commission to hold a hearing at an early date, that in determining rates, common ownership, regardless of the number of corporations owning the lines, be considered as one system, that joint as well as single line rates be established, that useless or abondoned lines not be counted in the investment picture and that the commission hold future hearings as to complaints against the general reduction order. It asked further that the result of operations of pipe lines over a reasonable period in the past be taken into consideration and that the commission proceed to make an appraisal of the pipe line investments in Texas for the purpose of establishing future rates.

The commission stated a hearing would be held in its regular course.

EXPERTS TO MEET

LONDON, April 14. (AP)—Naval experts of Great Britain, France and Italy will meet at the foreign office here tomorrow morning to resume drafting of the triportite naval agreement, which was suspended three weeks ago.

REPORT FAVORABLE

AUSTIN, April 14. (AP)—A bill by Representative Sherill, Bellevue, to require corporations making annual financial statements for rate making purposes to render property for taxation at 40 per cent of the rate valuation, was reported out favorably last night by the house revenue and taxation committee.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, April 14. (AP)—Increasing scarcity of milo and kaffir was stressed by traders on the Fort Worth cash grain market today as accounting for the strength of those grains. Demand was reported good for all offerings with prices strong to higher. Estimated receipts included: wheat 12 cars, corn 4 and sorghums heads 2.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivereed Texas common points, freight paid.

Wheat, No. 1 hard ordinary 81 1-2, 82 1-2; No. 1 hard 14 per cent protein 82 1-2, 83 1-2; No. 1 hard 15 per cent protein 83 1-2, 84 1-2.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 72-73; No. 3 white or yellow 74 1-2, 75 1-2.

Oats, No. 2 red 42-42 1-2; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one 41 1-2, 42.

Barley No. 2 nominally 56-57.

Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 1.32-1.33; No. 2 kaffir 1.23-1.24.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 14. (AP)—Possibilities of a general breakup of drouth conditions in Canada and the United States had a sudden bearish effect on grain markets today. Sprinkles of rain at various points were followed quickly by price tumbles. Weakness resulted also from the fact that wheat had risen 4 cents a bushel within a week and that trans-Atlantic demand for North American wheat had fallen off compared with brisk activity of late.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to 3-4 cents lower, corn unchanged to 1-4 down, oats at 1-8 decline to 1-4 advance, and provisions unchanged to a set back of 5 cents.

posed the bill.

Seek Federal Aid

The bill, if passed by the senate and approved by the governor, would authorize the voters of the proposed district to vote to continue or dissolve the district. The district would comprise metropolitan Dallas and Fort Worth and a small strip of land along the Trinity river between the two cities.

If the district is continued at the election, a preliminary survey of the feasibility of the project will be completed and federal aid sought for its construction. A tax of two cents per $100 valuation would be levied to complete the survey.

Farmer claimed the tax would go to form a "lobby" fund to maintain representatives at Washington to obtain federal aid and that it would be saddling a tax on many to benefit a few.

Cunningham opposed the bill on the ground that construction of the canal would increase railroad freight rates in his section, because the railroads would lose revenue by operation of the canal and would have to make more money from the products they hauled.

The canal would extend from Ft. Worth to the coast and would connect with the intercostal canal.

Farmer claimed the bill was unconstitutional, because it was local in nature and its proponents had not advertised it for 30 days in the area affected. His point of order on the bill was overruled.

nearly 100 counties receiving aid.

Just recently an additional 24,000 pounds of seed, or 6,000 packages, was sent to Texas for distribution. This brings the grand total of seed to 106,000 pounds. It is believed this is enough to take care of the immediate needs of the area for some months.

Mr. Van Hoorebeke explained that the federal aid given through loans to world war veterans and to farmers for production loans, was the big thing that has started a wave of prosperity sweeping over West Texas.

"World war veterans represent more than three per cent of the population, it is estimated," he explained. "Lubbock county has nearly 40,000 people and that means that a little less than 1,200 veterans are eligible to secure loans.

"I had a talk with Daniel Blair, service officer here. He tells me the average loan is $375. You can figure up what it means to have over $300,000 left here in the county in a few months.

"Take Garza county. I understand that with what the federal government loaned to farmers and ex-soldiers, that around $125,000 was spent or will be, in federal money. That will mean a whole lot to the 5,000 or so people of that county."

All persons who were to receive federal aid were the first to be cut off the Red Cross lists, the representative said. This was done because it was evident they would be soon receiving assistance.

"We are now helping only a few, just those who have not been able to get help otherwise," he said in conclusion.

Buttons Received

Buttons for workers in the "cleanup and paintup" campaign have been received and will be distributed when the drive gets underway, W. B. Atkins, general chairman, said. More than 6,000 of the emblems will be issued, he said.

A window display, consisting of the 12-inch loving cup won by Lubbock last year for the best record in the state cleanup and paintup campaign, pictures of the Boy Scouts and the results of the nail pickup contest, and banners used in the drive, was arranged yesterday in the show window of Anderson Brothers' jewelry store, 1012 Broadway. The exhibit will remain intact until the end of the week, members of the committee said.

AUSTIN, April 14. (AP)—Persons leasing land for pasturage would be given a prior lien for rentals, under a bill introduced today by Representative Hill of Laredo.

Annual Ladies' Night Is Held

More Than 75 Attend Affair Given By Local Lions Last Evening At Hilton; Haymes And Pitts Speak

More than 75 people, consisting of members of the Lions' club, their wives and women friends, attended the quarterly ladies night dinner of the club, held last night at the Hilton hotel.

The program was featured by addresses given by E. L. Pitts, county judge, and Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, and a musical program presented by students and faculty members of Texas Technological college.

Taking the subject, "Lionism," Rev. Haymes outlined the purpose of the club and some of its principles. He also discussed the attitude to be taken toward one's work.

"A man's vocation is sacred rather than secular," he said. "He has got to think that he has the most important job in the world in order to really be successful. However, he should avoid becoming a slave to his work. A man is a poor civic club worker who will not take time to meet his fellow men outside of business hours."

Judge Pitts discussed "Civic Clubs and Civic Development."

"The mission of civic clubs is to aid in community problems," he said. "The civic club worker will aid in any movement which is expected to aid in the development of the community. Likewise, he will fight any movement which is expected to be detrimental to community interests."

The speaker told of the friendships made through civic club work.

John Mitchell delivered the address of welcome to the women visitors.

S. S. McKay, president of the local club, presided. The program was in charge of Ben Condray. Selections were given by the Tech students' orchestra under the direction of Harry LeMaire.

A cornet duet was given by Stancil Bagwell and Ronnie Sheppard, accompanied by Mr. LeMaire. Miss Evelyn Richter played a banjo solo and Mr. LeMaire gave a piano accordian solo.

Besides Mr. LeMaire, other members of the orchestra participating on the program were Mrs. Harry LeMaire, James Thornhill, Mrs. James Thornhill, Miss Alleen Huston, Miss Evelyn Richter, Stancil Bagwell and Ronnie Sheppard.

Other Matters Decided

In addition, the contract for auditing the city's books was let to H. V. Robertson and company, of Amarillo, work to begin at once. Six other companies offered for the contract.

Attorney Opposes Bail In Shooting Of Athens Couple

ATHENS, April 14. (AP)—Charlie Douglas, 40, charged with the fatal shooting Sunday of his son-in-law, Davis January, 26, and his sister-in-law, Miss Texana Hall, 46, was returned from Tyler today and lodged in the Athens jail. Douglas refused to make a statement and had not yet employed counsel.

County Attorney Hobson Green said he would oppose bond for Douglas, claiming he did not believe it a bailable case.

Sheriff Joel Baker, who was one of the first persons to reach the scene of the shooting, revealed this morning that a .32 calibre pistol believed to have been the property of January was found near January's body.

Douglas and his wife were separated and she was living at the home of her father, H. M. Hall, five miles east of Athens, near which the shooting occurred.

Officers said a quarrel of long standing had existed between Douglass and January.

Allred Opposes Fixing Of Price

AUSTIN, April 14. (AP)—Starting he was "not going to stand for price fixing in any line of work," James V. Allred, attorney general, today declared unlawful an agreement between C. J. Crampton of Dallas and cleaning and pressing establishments.

Crampton was employed as "counsellor," Allred said under the agreement, which had been proposed in a number of the larger cities, including Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Beaumont, Crampton was engaged to make a survey of conditions in the business of cleaning and pressing clothing and to recommended certain methods and manners of carrying on the business, including the minimum charge which could reasonably be made for such services.

Allred said Crampton came to Austin at his request and agreed to abide by Allred's decision as to the legality of the plan. "Crampton stated his sole desire was actuated by the condition of unemployment and unsanitary conditions in the cleaning and pressing business resulting from prices so low as to be almost ruinous," the attorney general said.

"I much prefer to warn these gentlemen ahead of time, rather than to wait until I am compelled to file suit," Allred stated.

Hoover Urges Confidence

Mutual Understanding Of All Nations Basis Of Democracy

President Delivers Address Tuesday Before Pan American Union At Designation Of Pan American Day

WASHINGTON, April 14 — The text of President Hoover's speech before the Pan American union follows:

"I am glad to be your guest at this special session of the governing board of the Pan American union which you are holding in honor of Pan American Day. I recently issued a proclamation, calling upon our people to give this day due observance, and this proclamation has received general approval throughout the country.

Exercises are being held at this time in public schools and universities and by civic organizations in every section of the union. Pan American Day will become an outward symbol of the constantly strengthening unity of purpose and unity of ideals of the republics of this hemisphere.

Visited Latin America

"In the latter part of 1928, I had the privilege of visiting eleven of the countries of Latin America. This visit made a deep and lasting impression upon me. It was inspiring to observe, at first hand, not only the progress that Latin America is making along social, economic and cultural lines, but also the important part which the countries you represent are destined to play in world affairs. It was clear, too, that the nations of America have everything to gain by keeping in close touch with one another and by developing that spirit of mutual confidence which has its roots in a reciprocal understanding of national aims and aspirations.

"Although each of the republics of this hemisphere possesses problems peculiar to itself, there are certain basic questions relating to Democratic progress and social betterment common to us all and in the solution of which we can be most helpful to one another. This spirit of mutual helpfulness is the cornerstone of true Pan Americanism. The Pan American union not only symbolizes this spirit, but gives to it concrete expression in many practical and constructive ways.

Become Acquainted

"It is of the greatest importance that the people of the United States become better acquainted with the history, the traditions, the culture and the ideals of the other republics of America. To an increasing extent, courses on the languages, literature and history of the nations of Latin America are being offered in the educational institutions of the United States. A similar realization of the importance of becoming better acquainted with the history and development of the United States exists in the countries of Latin America. Increasing numbers of students from the countries to the south are being enrolled in the colleges and universities of the United States. I can not emphasize too strongly this important aspect of Inter-American relations. These cultural currents not only contribute to better international understanding, but also emphasize the essential unity of interest of the American republics.

"Through the Pan American society and its branches established in different sections of the country, the importance and significance of the future of the Latin American nations are being brought home to our people.

Heavy Responsibility

We owe much to the unselfish men who have devoted so much time and energy to this work. The activities of the Pan American society admirably supplement the important work that is being done by the Pan American union.

"A peculiarly heavy responsibility rests upon the nations of the Western hemisphere; a responsibility which, at the same time, is a high privilege. Richly endowed by nature, we enjoy the great advantage of inhabiting a hemisphere free from the jealousies and antagonisms which have proved such obstacles to progress and prosperity in other sections of the world. We have developed an international system based on the principle of equality, combined with a full recognition of the obligations as well as the rights of states.

Makes Enviable Record

"The American republics are today rapidly approaching the time when every major difference existing between them will be settled by the orderly process of conciliation and arbitration. In this respect, the western hemisphere has placed an enviable record before the nations of the world. From the earliest period of their history, the governments of the republics of this hemisphere have been earnest advocates of the peaceful settlement of international disputes. They have demonstrated their willingness and even eagerness to adopt and apply mediation, conciliation and arbitration. The common purpose to eliminate war and the determination to achieve peace and security represent a major contribution of the Americas to modern civilization.

"The full significance of this achievement is not always realized, for it carries with it heavy obligations to posterity. Future progress along these lines can only be assured through constant vigilance and by an unswerving determination to make the union of the American republics, as now expressed in the Pan American union, an example to the world. We are not attempting in any way to develop a superstate, or to interfere with the freedom of action of any of the states, members of the union, but rather to develop an atmosphere of good will—a spirit of cooperation and mutual understanding — in which any difference that may arise, no matter how important, will find a ready solution.

"I cordially congratulate you, gentlemen of the governing board, on your happy initiative in establishing Pan American Day and, at the same time, I send a message of fraternal greeting, in the name of the people of the United States, to all the inhabitants of our sister republics."

Highway Case To Be Decided

Local Officials Expect Some Decision From Higher Court In Near Future; Action May Come Today

Decision on the suit in seventh district court of civil appeals at Amarillo in the Lubbock county highway case involving the right of way on highway 24 is expected to be handed down either today or a week from today, William Evans, assistant county attorney, said last night in response to a question as to when the appeals court might be expected to decide the Nairn et al vs. Bean et al suit.

"The case was submitted on its merits before the court last Wednesday, as well as a motion to dismiss the temporary injunction granted in the case," Mr. Evans said. "Generally a case is submitted with arguments one week and a decision handed down the next week or two.

"I do not know whether there will be a decision Wednesday or not."

The motion submitted by Vaughn Wilson, county attorney, Tom Garrard, local attorney and T. S. Christopher Lamesa, assistant attorney general, asked that the injunction granted temporarily be denied on the ground that the court was without jurisdiction in the case.

Judge R. W. Hall, who is involved in similar litigation in another county, disqualified. Other judges are: Hal C. Randolph and M. J. R. Jackson.
