First and Second Individual High Point Trophies Also Won By Local Club

Linksmen representing the Colorado Country Club in Sand Belt Golf association tournament captured championship trophy as the 1932 competitive season was concluded Sunday afternoon. Colorado golfers were arrayed against the Lamesa club at Lamesa, runner-up for first place award.

Colorado, while losing the Lamesa game 21 to 23, was so far advanced over the Dawson county contenders as to easily hold first place with a total of 350 points for the season. Lamesa won 334 points. Scott and Palmer each acquitted themselves with distinction on the Lamesa links. Out of a possible 58, Scott scored 52 points and Palmer scored 51½ points.

Scott shot a 74 and Palmer 78 against a par of 72. The local star played match with Rose and Nix of the Lamesa club. Prexy Richardson of the local club won his match 1 up against T. F. Vaughan of Lamesa, playing 23 holes.

In addition to winning district championship, Colorado carried off both first and second in individual high point awards. Scott, who last year won first place in the individual class, came through to claim that distinction again. Palmer came in second place in the district.

After member clubs had concluded matched games Sunday afternoon they motored to the Big Spring Country Club where the golfers and several fans were guests at a reception and barbecue. Annual business session was held there Sunday night.

Standing of other member clubs, as reported at Big Spring Sunday night, is: Big Spring, 319; Sweetwater, 314; Midland, 264; Snyder, 242; and Odessa, 179.

ENGINEERS BEGIN WORK OF REBUILDING HIWAY 1 WEST OF COLORADO

Surveys to locate right-of-way for Highway No. 1 across Howard county have been started by engineers from State Highway Commission. Work was started at the Martin county line and work is to be progressed eastward to the Mitchell county line.

Right-of-way is to be 100-feet wide and when provided by the county a surfaced road is to be constructed by the State. This road is to be built under conditions identical to those submitted Mitchell and Scurry counties recently by the commission.

Surfacing on Highway One across Howard county is badly worn. This is especially true between Coahoma and the Mitchell-Howard county line. It is probable that the route will be changed considerably in order to eliminate curves and grades.

COLORADO DIVISION OF SHELL PIPE LINE CORP. FIRST IN SAFETY RANK

The Colorado division of the Shell Pipe Line Corporation, embracing territory from McCamey and Eastern New Mexico to Southern Oklahoma, rated first over all other divisions of the corporation during the month of July in safety record. There was not a single accident of any kind to any employee of the company in the division.

The Indiana-Illinois and one or two other divisions gave this division some keen competition, however, E. A. Dierdorff, superintendent, stated Saturday afternoon.

Banner signifying this distinction to the Colorado division was received last week and is on display at the office building northeast from the city limits.

Three Porkers Are Stolen From Tom M. Beezley Farm Home

Tom M. Beezley, farmer living five or six miles north from Colorado, is wondering just where his Winter supply of pork may be retreived. Thieves visited the Beezley farm one night last week and made away with three choice meat hogs, weighing in the aggregate 850 pounds.

Mr. Beezley had five of the porkers in an enclosure near his home. Telltale evidence found next morning showed that the thieves broke open the enclosure and drove the five hogs down the road a distance of several hundred yards. Here two of the number escaped, but the other three were lifted into a trailer and carted away. The hogs escaping their captors came home the next morning grunting with evident satisfaction.

FARMERS AND CATTLEMEN AWAITING WITH INTEREST OPENING OF LOAN OFFICE

Ft. Worth Credit Corporation Branch Expected to Begin Business October 1

Farmers and cattlemen of Mitchell and adjoining counties await with a deal of interest formal opening of the Tenth District Agricultural Credit Corporation office in Fort Worth, regional branch of a recently launched Federal financial structure to aid agriculture and ranching interests throuhout the country. Funds with which the Fort Worth branch is to operate will come direct from the Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation at Washington.

A. E. Thomas, Fort Worth banker and also mayor of his home city, has been named manager of the office. T. B. Yarborough, president of the First National Bank, Fort Worth, is president. Both of these men announced this week that practically all their time would be devoted to the new duties. Both have several years practical experience in handling problems of both the cattleman and farmer of Texas.

Complete instructions governing operation of the branch were expected to be received in Fort Worth today. Formal opening of the office has been set for October 1. The operation plan is described as a foundation for the re-establishment of Texas livestock and farm business on stable footings.

"It is not the purpose of this agency to bring about high prices," Thomas is quoted in press dispatches from Fort Worth as having announced, "but to stabilize prices at a normal level which will enable farmers and stockmen to make reasonable profits."

Mitchell farmers and land owners who during this and last year obtained feed and seed loans from the Dallas Federal loan office, are reminded that all business pertaining to settlement of those obligations will continue to be handled at Dallas. Rumor had it earlier in the week that the government, for sake of economy, planned consolidating the seed loan office with the newly authorized branch in Fort Worth, but such is not to be.

The Dallas office is primarily concerned with collection of loans advanced prior to April 30, this year, including carryover loans made during 1931, while the Fort Worth office, soon to be set in operation, will be concerned, at least in the beginning, with the making of loans. Both accounts, however, will be represented in advances out of the same fund at the national capital.

HOWARD FARMERS WILL PAY 50 CENTS DURING 1932 COTTON HARVEST

Howard county farmers are going to pay a price of fifty cents per hundred for cotton picking, according to statement published in the Big Spring Daily Herald for Monday. Recent slumps in market quotations led planters there to agree on the low price.

Cotton is opening in the Big Spring territory and picking will be begun generally within the next two weeks, the Herald stated.

'Am Confident That Colorado Will Soon Have Federal Building'--R. E. Thomason

"I am confident that appropriation to finance construction of your much needed Federal building will be definitely authorized in the near future. I have commitment from Washington that this city and Keerville are to be considered before any other projects within my congressional district is to be authorized."

That was the statement of Congressman R. E. Thomason of El Paso, who stopped briefly in Colorado Friday morning. He was enroute to Washington to personally renew his plea that the government proceed with construction of a building at Colorado.

Gas Appraisal Bill Would Affect Rate In Force This City

The Loy Gas Appraisal Bill, introduced by Senator J. J. Loy of Sherman, has been passed by the Legislature and sent to Governor Sterling for his signature. The law would authorize the railroad commission to appraise properties of gas utilities in towns of less than 5,000 population for rate making purposes.

Colorado comes within the class designated, having a population of less than 5,000, and interest in the bill is generally expressed here.

Senator Loy stated that purpose of his bill was to prevent gas utilities from fixing unfair rates in the small cities.

ALL OF 34 CHURCHES IN MITCHELL-SCURRY ASS'N ORGANIZED FOR CAMPAIGN

Rev. Dick O'Brien Of First Church, Colorado, Makes Report At Snyder

There are 34 churches within the bounds of the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association and every one of them has been organized for special work in the "Every Member Canvass" campaign, Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church at Colorado and chairman of this drive in the association, reported at Snyder Tuesday.

The Colorado pastor was making his report before joint meeting of church leaders representing his own, the Big Spring and Lamesa associations.

"Such a splendid report as this sounds almost miraculous," shouted a visiting church leader after hearing report offered by the Colorado man.

"Well, I might have misunderstood just what my duties were, but somehow I was under the impression that when they appointed me chairman for the campaign in this association they expected me to get the job done," Rev. O'Brien replied.

Among Colorado Baptists attending the meeting were J. H. Greene, F. B. Whipkey, Rev. O'Brien, Mrs. Trixie Barton, Miss Violet Moeser, Mrs. Chas. Seale, Mrs. Ray Richardson, T. Y. Pool and Mrs. Sam Smartt.

BOB WHITE AIDS LOCAL ARMS, MUNITION DEALER IN ADVERTISING WARES

A bob white came into town Monday morning and after looking things over for a while casually walked into the store of J. Riordan and Company. The bird was not evidently concerned as to his newly acquired environ. Mr. Riordan met the visitor and picking him up placed the bird in a show window in which shot guns and ammunition were on display. After looking the situation over for a time, the quail took up his position on the barrel of an automatic shot gun.

Rev. Dick O'Brien, who later took the bird and carried him into the country north of town to be released, stated that the fellow was not injured. A green band was placed around one of his legs and local hunters are reminded of this mark of distinction in event the friendly feathered creature should fall before a barrage of bird shot after the open season has arrived.

JIM HARVEY TO CONCLUDE REVIVAL MEETING SUNDAY NIGHT AT CHURCH CHRIST

24 Additions to the Church Reported Wednesday; All People Invited

Revival meeting in progress at the Church of Christ will be concluded Sunday evening after two weeks of special evangelistic services out of which much good for the cause of Christianity has already developed. Jim Harvey, minister and who is doing preaching, said Wednesday afternoon that the revival was one of the greatest he has ever held.

"Monday evening, usually considered as a time when folks do not turn out to church in large numbers, witnessed one of the largest congregations I have ever seen in the building," the preacher declared. "Our services are being attended by larger crowds than ever before and I know that interest among both the saved and unsaved was never more pronounced than is to be evidenced in these services." Minister Harvey stated that a total of 24 additons to the church had resulted from the meeting up to Wednesday.

The open air service held Saturday afternoon from in front of the Jones, Russell & Company store was so successful that another such meeting will be held Saturday of this week. The service Saturday, however, will begin at 3:30 o'clock instead of 5 o'clock as was the case last week. "And I am going to hold one of these street services every Saturday afternoon during the Fall," Harvey stated. He will use a public address system in order that his voice may be distinctly heard.

Ted Norton, minister of the Sterling City Church of Christ, is conducting the singing and otherwise assisting in the revival. Tuesday evening Norton had a total of 64 children and young people in the children's song drill, a feature of worship begun each evening at 7:00 o'clock.

For Thursday evening Harvey will preach from the subject, God's Question Marks to Man." Friday evening he will preach from the subject, "The New Birth." His concluding sermon Sunday evening will be centered about the interrogation, "Why I Am What I Am."

SMALL DAMAGE FOUND TO HAVE RESULTED TO MAIZE BY EFFECTS HEAVY RAINS

Loss From Shattering During Harvest Expected To Take Heaviest Toll

The far flung cry that maize crops unharvested during the recent heavy rains had been greatly damaged, seems to have been more of a presumption than reality. At any rate Dr. G. S. Fraps, State chemist at A. & M. College, has so informed W. S. Foster, county farm agent.

In a recent communication received from Dr. Fraps, Foster is informed that the chief loss would be found in a decrease in weight of the grain. "The sprouted grain, pound for pound, would have nearly the same feeding value as the unsprouted grain," he states in the communication.

The opinion of the college authority is being borne out by a number of farmers. Some of these men two weeks ago were possessed with the impression the maize was practically nil as to value. Today they are finding that a considerable proportion of the crop is not damaged at all.

Shattering while being harvested or otherwise handled will constitute the major loss to this grain, Mr. Foster stated Friday.

BOB SCOTT DELIVERS 125 COWS AND CALVES TO SNYDER RANCHMAN

Program For Annual 'Live-at-Home' Fair To Be Drafted At Executive Meet Today

Program for annual "Live-at-Home" Fair, to be held at Colorado November 3, 4, and 5, is to be outlined at an executive meeting of fair officials to be convened at the Chamber of Commerce at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Tom Johnson, president of the association, issued call Wednesday for the board meeting.

Every department official, along with citizens of the county already named to be responsible for some specific feature of the annual exposition should attend this meeting. Considerable work remains to be done in order to assure a successful fair for 1932, Johnson stated.

BOND REFUNDING LAW IS RESPONSIBLE FOR LOWER TAX RATE FOR MITCHELL

Annual Levy Fixed Saturday Is Twenty Cents Below Amount For 1931

County Commissioners' court Saturday fixed the 1932 tax rate at 80 cents on the $100 of taxable property, a slice of twenty cents below the total charged to Mitchell county property owners last year.

County Judge A. F. King stated that the court approved setting the levy at 80 cents after receiving notice from Austin that the Sterling bond refunding bill had become a law. Fifteen cents was sliced from the road and bridge sinking fund and five cents from the road and bridge maintenance fund.

Just how Mitchell county is to profit through provisions of the recently enacted refunding act has not yet been determined, Judge King stated Wednesday afternoon. There is total indebtedness of $245,000 in outstanding road and bridge bonds yet to be refunded, he said.

"Policy of the commissioners' court to operate every administrative department under the strictest economy is to be continued," the county judge declared. "Feeling that this county is soon to be relieved of at least a portion if its road bond refunding burden, we deemed it proper that the relief thus coming to us should find its way where it belongs—in pockets of the property owners who are called upon to pay the tax."

Anticipating that benefits of the law are soon to be felt, the court did not believe it expedient to levy full amount required as heretofore to liquidate principal and interest accounts on the road bond indebtedness.

The Sterling refunding bill provides that burden of retiring existing road improvement bonds be taken from the expense of property owners and charged to account of the State gasoline tax.

SCHOOL BAND GOING TO MAINTAIN STANDING IN WEST TEXAS, IS CLAIM

Colorado's school band, holder of championship pennant in its class in West Texas, official musical organization of the Broadway of America association and credited with other distinctions of merit, is going to maintain its present standard in this part of the State, its director, Roy Hester, stated Tuesday morning.

Members of this popular band, unlike students enrolled in other departments of the school, do not take time out during Summer vacation months. Regular practice rehearsals were continued with the closing of school last Spring.

Boys and girls going to make up personnel of the band are to be complimented for their evident loyalty each demonstrates to the organization, Hester declared. They are not alone loyal to their school, but are ever found ready to lend cooperation with any program out of which good to the community is expected to be derived.

Even the weather man aided their plans, giving them real Fall weather. The club rooms were beautifully decorated in roses and zinnias, the score pads being autumn leaves for the twelve tables of bridge players.

High score was made by Mrs. T. A. Richardson and low by Mrs. Dick Carter. The high score was a pretty pewter pitcher; low a hat brush.

An orange moulded salad, with wafers, brown cake and hot tea was served at the refreshment hour.

Fidelis Class Meeting

The Fidelis class of the Baptist church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Latham, with she and Mrs. McSpadden hostesses. Mrs. Wilkins conducted the devotional, using Ephesians 9-10; 2nd. Timothy 2:16-17; James 2:14-17. Mrs. Fields led in prayer.

The officers reported 160 visits, 20 telephone calls, 8 shut-in calls, 20 sick visits, 5 boquets and one box of clothing given.

Mrs. Gray talked on ways of making money.

Mesdames Davis, Williams and Gray were appointed to see about securing a booth at the fair. Mrs. Cline and Mrs. Chrymes directed the diversion, which consisted of games and contests.

The hostess served a refreshment plate of sandwiches, cake and iced tea.

Shower For Mrs. Howard Lindley

Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Fields and Mrs. Dick Delaney entertained with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Howard Lindley, who until a few weeks ago was Miss Ruthie Williams. This was given at the home of Mrs. C. E. Tunnell. The guests were met by the hostess and Miss Iris Tunnell. A pretty bride's book was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Anderson. Miss Tunnell gave a piano solo; Miss Ajleen Richards a reading, and Mrs. Wilkins sang. When this program was completed, little June Ellen Fields brought a ball of card to Mrs. Lindley, who was told to wind it up, as she did this she was led to the gifts, which were opened and admired.

Mrs. I. G. Haines toasted the bride, and Miss Tunnell the girls left behind.

In the dining room punch and little cakes was served to the guests.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR COLORADO WOLVES

Sept. 30—Roby at Colorado
Oct. 7 or 8—McCamey at Colo.
Oct. 14—Roscoe at Colorado
Oct. 21—Midland at Midland
Oct. 28—Odessa at Colorado
Nov. 4—Open Date
Nov. 11—Sweetwater at S'water
Nov. 19—S. Angelo at Colorado
Nov. 24—B. Spring at B. Spring

The Wolves, under the leadership of "Big Jim" Cantrill, have registered additional progress toward the goal of forming a formidable gridster organization as this week has come and gone. The men are showing up with greater promise than many of the most ardent fans had prescribed. Improvement in every department since we looked them over with the eye of a critic one week ago is of such proportions as to impel the forecast that clubs holding the limelight in this conference district right now had better not be too self-confident of routing the Wolf pack later on when pig skin battle results are more definite than prophecies made out on printer's ink.

Friday of next week these defenders of Colorado in Class A Conference football are to meet Roby at Cantrill field. Roby is not in class A, and not to be reckoned as a conference contender for pennant honors, but nevertheless, the boys from the Fisher county town have put up some good football classics in the past and according to news coming over from their haunts during the recent past, they will give the Wolves something to think about.

Red Church has been out of practice for the past few days, due to an infected finger, but should be back in uniform next week.

"Big Jim" has been opening up some interesting trick bags during this week, regulating practice action to the men in feature plays and formation. The "double wing" formation seems to be a popular adjunct for the coming season and the Wolves are using it effectively at scrimmage.

Bill Viles and Paul Knieff have been singled out to do the passing act. It is interesting to watch these two hopefuls handle the pig sking in that department.

It is yet a toss up as to who is to hold center positions on the squad. Charles Wiggley and Herb Barnett are both out for this distinction and are raging a tug-o-war scene between themselves, each determined that the other is to finally fall by the wayside. Need not worry, boys. It looks to us as if both of you are going to have action aplenty when the big fights are on.

Principal George Gentry, Bill Olsen and Curtis Bishop of Big Spring paid the Wolves a visit Wednesday.

Bishop of the Big Spring Daily Herald, immediately placed Elvie Stagner on his all-district team, along with Homer Barnett of McCamey and Leroy Grimsley of Sweetwater for the tackle berths; Ney Sheridan of Sweetwater for half-back and Sam Baugh of Sweetwater for quarterback. Both Sheridan and Baugh are being protested. Sheridan for participating in a high school sponsored football game in 1928, and Baugh for playing professional baseball last summer with the Abilene Oilers. Their case along with two other players from Sweetwater, one from San Angelo and two from Big Spring and other individuals from all over the district, will be settled at a district meeting in Big Spring October 1.

LATE PIONEER CATTLEMAN WHO DIED AT FORT WORTH GIVEN BURIAL RITES HERE

W. N. Waddell Located Here In 1879, Before County Was Organized

Will N. Waddell, 72, numbered among the few remaining hardy pioneers who came to this section of West Texas before Mitchell county was organized and Colorado City came into being, was buried Saturday morning at I. O. O. F. cemetery beside the grave of his wife, who died four years ago. Waddell died suddenly Wednesday afternoon of last week while playing dominioes with a group of friends at the Fort Worth Club, Fort Worth.

A native of Gonzales county, Waddell came to this country in 1879, joining his brother, George Waddell, at the old L. A. ranch, located on Champion creek, southeast from Colorado. George Waddell, who established the ranch, located here in 1877.

Mitchell county was not organized at that time. Neither was there a Colorado City. Soon after Colorado was founded in 1881 Mr. Waddell moved here and for about twenty years made his home in the city. In 1900 he and Mrs. Waddell moved to Fort Worth where they both lived until death. Mrs. Waddell was the daughter of Frank Byler, among the early cattlemen to locate in this part of West Texas.

Mr. Waddell never did aspire to political preferment, as a definite routine, but he is remembered as among the first peace officers to be inducted into office following organization of the county. He was a deputy under Dick Ware, who was this county's first sheriff.

During his residence here Mr. Waddell was engaged in the cattle and sheep business. He acquired extensive grazing lands in this and other West Texas counties. He disposed of his Mitchell county holdings several years ago, selling the last tract of land to Lay Powell in 1905. This property is located a few miles southeast from town.

George Waddell, now in his 84th year, and among the few surviving members of family of deceased, was here Saturday from his home in Ft. Worth to attend the funeral rites, conducted at the Jones, Russell & Company chapel by Rev. Alex B. Hanson, pastor of All Saint's Episcopal church. The elder Waddell was also identified with Colorado for several years. Two residence additions to the city developed by him bear his name.

Scores of pioneer ranchmen and business men who had known deceased for from forty to fifty years were here Saturday morning to attend the funeral rites. Among the number was "80" John Wallace, pioneer negro ranchman of south from Loraine, who had known deceased in Gonzales county before Mr. Waddell came to this country.

These pioneers remember Mr. Waddell as among those early day ranchmen who gave strong encouragement to developing higher standards of breeding in range cattle. Some of the first registered herd bulls to be introduced into Mitchell county were brought here by Waddell. Pedigreed individuals became well known in both his cattle and sheep herds.

After locating his home in Fort Worth Mr. Waddell became prominently associated with the Federal government. For some time he was chief inspector for Texas, and other Southwestern States for the War Finance Corporation, a Federal agency advancing millions in loans to ranchmen. He was also chief inspector for the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission.

Among relatives and close personal friends of the family here to attend the rites were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dyer, P. J. Lea, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Henderson, M. F. Henderson, Ted O'Brien, Dick Harris, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Harris, Mrs. B. C. Hendrick, F. G. Hendrick, Ewell McKnight, Glenn Allen, F. E. Waddell, R. T. Waddell, Jim Waddell, Mark Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Bowman, all of Odessa; and M. F. Clark, George Clark, Johnson and Joe Clark of Crane.

Pall bearers were Earl Estes, Monahans; M. F. Clark, Crane, Glenn Allen, Odessa; Marvin Henderson, Odessa; Homer Henderson, Odessa, and Jay McGee, Crane.

'SECOND NATURE' SAID TO HAVE PROMPTED HIM TO DISPLAY COURTESY

Max Berman tells this one on Allen Connell:

Friday of last week Mr. Berman had just completed the task of setting up a "silent lady saleswoman" in one of his show windows. The figure looks every bit a striking blonde and she was attired in the height of fashion. There is a pleasing smile overshadowing the model's face.

Mr. Berman was standing in front entrance of his store as Allen Connell passed by. Mr. Connell spoke to the store manager and walking past window from which the model graciously smiled down at him, hesitated to negotiate a graceful bow and tip of his hat, along with the greeting, "How do you do?"

Interesting Eras In American History Reflected In Lions Club Question Box

Even the school teacher at times finds himself "stumped" when some inquisitive person propounds certain remote questions pertaining to the history of America. This was demonstrated Friday during entertainment program at the Lions Club.

And it was further shown that partisan politics do not account for much when the yard stick is brought to measure the greatness of an American statesman who lived prominently in the pages of history.

T. W. Stonsroad, Jr., a Republican, elected to laud Thomas Jefferson, writer of the American constitution, as the greatest statesman to ever be identified with this republic Jefferson was a democrat. L. B. Elliott, a staunch Democrat, told members of the Lions Club that Abraham Lincoln, Civil War time president and who adhered to the tenets of the Republican party, was entitled to distinction of having been this country's greatest public servant.

According to statistics, mingled with prophecy, brought to the club by Rev. Dick O'Brien, the American who chances to be elected president in 1940 is destined to be overtaken with some shocking calamity. Lincoln, the minister recalled, was elected president in 1860 and died from an assassin's attack while in office. Garfield, elected in 1880 and McKinley, elected in 1900, too, were meted the same fate. Harding elected to the presidency in 1920, died in office. "I wonder what may be the fate of the American named to the office of chief executive in 1940," he concluded. "You see something has happened to our presidents every twenty years during the past sixty."

Questions pertaining to epochal events in American history were hurled at members of the club by Rev. Mr. O'Brien. As a rule the Lions were correct in the answers given, but there were exceptions.

Following the question box feature, six Lions were called upon to devote two minutes to an oration on the "Greatest American." It was of interest to note that each speaker selected a different character.

Ted Norton, secretary of the Sterling City Lions Club and minister of the Church of Christ there, was a visitor.

New Code of Rules Coming Into Vogue as Conference Foot Ball Season Is Opened

Sports writer in the Big Spring Daily Herald directs attention of gridster fans to the fact that several important changes governing games to be played during the forthcoming conference season have been made mandatory by the powers that be. With interest rapidly gaining headway among Coloradoans who are watching the Wolves in action out at Cantrill Field, it is of importance that new code be taken into consideration here.

The Herald says: Rabid football fans will have something else to yalp at officials about when the current season gets under way. Some half dozen new rules, vitally affecting the game, will be enforced. Whether they will hurt or help football remains to be seen.

Until these in the stands grow accustomed to it, they may find fault in a referee's decision when, for instance, he calls a runner down after the same runner has been knocked off his feet, crawled, stumbled and finally gets loose again. Revised rules say that the ball is dead when any part of the runner's body touches the ground other than his feet and hands. That means that the crawling stars will lose some of their lustre.

Majority of coaches, high school and college, favor the change, saying that it will prevent "piling on," a trick that injures more players than any other one thing.

Those who think changes will slow the game evidentally uninformed. A new provision allows any player to be substituted except in the particular quarter in which he has already played. Heretofore that could only be done once while time is out. Coaches who formerly stalled for time by sending substitutes when backed against their goal line will find their teams being penalized five yards each time a substitution is made, provided the team has already had its three time outs in the half.

Reserve material will not go into the game when time is already out or the ball is out of bounds, or an incomplete pass has just been thrown —in short anything that automatically causes time to be taken out.

Players will no longer be knocked silly by rock-like pads. A recently adopted football statute turns thumbs down on anything made of hard substance.

Rough-house linesmen who formerly slugged their way to fame by delivering well aimed blows at the head and face of offensive players will find themselves as old fashioned as a hoop-skirt. It is now a penalty to use the hands on the head, but this will not affect teams except those who played a somewhat shady game on the line.

Flying tackles, never good for anything but damaging players, are forbidden under the new rules. Flying blocks are also taboo.

Small farm owners are in many instances in better condition today than ever before and have been less affected by the depression than any class of people.

The work done the past ten years by county agricultural and demonstration agents, the advent of good roads and improved cars, rural schools more efficiently managed with free transportation of pupils and the fact farmers are practicing diversification as never before, have had a telling effect on farming and farm life in general.

There is probably no insurance or protection against panics and depressions that will equal a home-owned farm, where the entire living is produced, put up and stored right on the farm.

We have subdivided a number of large farms and are offering same for sale in the following described tracts:

145 acres, located half mile west of Morgan creek on south side of Bankhead highway, fronts highway one mile. All in cutivation, every acre is level cat claw land, with not a wash in the entire 145 acres. This fertile tract has always produced heavy crops and being on a paved highway between Colorado and Westbrook would make one of the finest and most convenient small farm homes in West Texas.

167 acres directly across highway from above tract. It has about 148 acres in cultivation; is well improved, has good house, barn, well, windmill, etc. About 10 acres of this place overflowed this year, but this was caused by the highway people not building a culvert of sufficient size to take care of the drainage from the north and west. When this is built and the county makes a drainage ditch on the road running south from the highway this water will cause no further trouble. This desirable, well located little farm, is very productive and is a wonderful buy for someone.

Two miles south and one mile west of Seven Wells we have 320 acres of Jayhawk creek bottom land. The south 160 acres has 130 acres in high state of cultivation, is nearly level cat claw land, with an unusually deep soil, in fact, it is practically made land and will produce year after year and not wear out. Has good house, etc. This is a real cotton farm.

The north 160 acres has about 70 acres in cultivation with about 40 or 50 acres of fine tillable land in the pasture. We have late cotton on this place that will make close to a bale to the acre.

9 miles southeast of Colorado and 4 miles southwest of Loraine we have 320 acres known as the east half of the Helton section. This place has the reputation of being one of the finest cotton farms in Mitchell county. It is a heavy red sand with a clay foundation and will make a good crop every year. Will consider subdividing in two or three tracts.

Good terms on any of the above places.

AN EXEGESIS OF THE BIBLE

We read in the 16th Chapter of Samuel that "when Saul had disobeyed the Lord and had been rejected as a leader of his hosts, that the Lord sent his servant, Samuel, down to Bethlehem and said, 'Go to the house of Jesse and there I shall reveal unto you which one of Jesse's eight sons thou shalt annoint King.' So Samuel filled his horn with annointing oil and selected a heifer to use as a sacrifice as a peace offering. He went to the house of Jesse and there met seven of his sons. Big, straight, upstanding fellows, measuring perhaps six fee four in stocking feet, and as they passed, one by one, in front of him for inspection, Samuel thought surely one of these shall be the annointed King.

But they continued to pass until all were inspected, and since the Lord had not revealed to him His choice, he said to himself, "Is it possible I misunderstood the command of the Lord"? And turning to Jesse said, "Are these all thy sons"? And Jesse said, "No, there is one more, the baby boy, who is herding the flocks in the meadow," and Samuel said, "Send and fetch him." So, they brought David, a sunburned, bashful country boy, unaccustomed to the company of strange men, but acquainted with the great outdoor world, a lover of nature and in close touch with nature's God. And as Samuel looked on this handsome boy of the open field, the Lord said, "This is he, arise and annoint him." And thus David was made King.

After the flood they buried Abel, and Adam and Eve took Cain and joined the Children of Isreal who followed "John The Baptist" on their march to the Promised Land. They camped on the river and Pharoe's daughter showed them a little babe she found in the weeds, where the bull rushes in, where angels fear to tread and Joshua cried aloud, "Oh, Absolum, Absolum, my dear son, Absolum." They led the children of Isreal through the Red Sea and met Bro. Paul, who was holding a big meeting under a brush arbor and it is recorded that 3000 souls were saved in one day. Paul wanted Moses to come down and preach for him, but about that time Uticus fell out of the window and they picked up twelve basketsfull. They then took up a collection and the widow put in her mite. This was along about the time that the children walked through the fiery furnace and Daniel was cast into the lion's den and the whale swallowed Jonah.

I can remember back more than fifty years ago, the old Methodist camp ground, where each year on the 4th Sunday in August, almost every family for miles around would come and camp for two weeks. These were the times when the old preachers labored in the Lord's vineyard. Some people say there is no such thing as old time religion, but I can remember at these old time Methodist shouting camp meetings when strong men would come down the aisle and in the presence of his neighbors, get down in the dust, straw, acknowledge his sins and shortcomings before God and man, promise to lead a new life, pray through and come up with straw clinging to his clothes and beard, his face aglow and eyes shining like stars after sunset, joining in the old, "I've anchored my soul in the haven of rest, I'll sail the wide seas no more," his soul usually stayed anchored. He remembers the date and place, and years after, when trials assail him, he can go back to the corner stob where he started surveying his possessions in a religious way and all the devils in hell cou'd not shake his faith in the power of God to forgive sin and give a man a clean heart.

There is an old saying in Wall Street, "That which goes up is obliged to come down." This saying also applies to politics. The seven lean and the seven fat years of Scripture are but cycles of ups and downs, which are continually repeated throughout time. In India these cycles are symbolized by the wheels of the juggernaut that eternally roll on. The present cycle of depression, monetary, financial and spiritual, will in its turn roll away. The only query is, will we ever learn the lessons of these recurring cycles of Cathay? It seems that not even the greater cycles or "days" of light and darkness in the world's history, each some 2000 years more or less, have taught us but little more about philosophy and human nature than the Shamans of the Cro-Magnon caverns knew. Also even the aged are not always wise, as the Hebrew Scriptures tell us, and the little wisdom that they acquire is either taken to the grave with them or offset by the underworld, saying that a new "innocent" is born every minute.

The automobile is said by some to be the fulfillment of Nahum's prophecy, "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall justle one against another in the broadways. They shall seem like torches, (headlights). They shall run like the lightning." If we grant that Nahum foresaw the Ford and its brethren, we must also agree that a number of additional forecasts by the same prophet have not eventuated or have failed of identification. All the prophets agreed in general terms, inasmuch as all feared for the peace and prosperity of Jerusalem and the people thereof. Yet as Nahum envisioned the automobile he was strangely remiss in foreseeing some other things that have occurred in Palestine. He and his prophetic brethren seemed to have altogether overlooked the most important factor signalizing the intelligence of ancient Israel boon the waters and streams of antiquity. The 12000 horsepower electric station on the Jordan river is one of them.

No man can cultivate flowers without absorbing personal culture. In a chrysanthemum, for instance, there is no inspiration for profanity. In a rose, there is no hint of obscenity. In anything of beauty there is an implication of purity, and culture is little more than an understanding and appreciation of qualities that approach perfection. A love of nature inculcates good taste no less than does a love of art. And good taste is sensitive education, a quality we call culture. The savage has small cultivation, as we understand the term, and his religion is a gross misconception of what is mystic and healing. A religious individual in the true sense—our sense—drinks deeply of truth and beauty, and such draughts refresh his spirit. Spirit is essential thought, which implies a refined mind synchronizing with refined taste.

It is claimed that a fragment or piece of Noah's Ark is jealously guarded by monks in the world's oldest monastery. The monastery is neighbor to Mount Ararat, where it will be remembered Noah landed after his aqueous adventure. Ararat is in what used to be Armenia and the monks doubtless are a remnant of the Armenian Christians, so eagerly assineinated by the Turks in the great war.

How a Christian group was able to maintain its religion throughout so many centuries while encysted in the Turkish empire is itself almost a miracle. If a miracle is a reflex of supernatural force, then Armenia must have been the subject of miraculous protection.

If the monks believe it to be a veritable portion of the world's most famous ship they must believe it because they were told so by the predecessor generations of monks. So the legend lives though the monks die.

All history is legendry and the Ark fragment is about as well authenticated as is much of the Apocrypha. If we accept the fragment as true, we must concede miracle. But there is no logical reason why we should not do that. The Ark itself was miraculous, the flood also, and the anchorage on a mountain and the orderly debarkation a supermiracle.

BRUCE BARTON
...writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the "busy-burdened" who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

THIRD SECRET OF SUCCESS

Having gathered together his organization, there remained for Jesus the tremendous task of training it. And herein lay the third great element in his success—his vast unending patience. The Church has attached to each of the disciples the title of Saint and thereby done most to destroy the conviction of their reality. They were very far from saintlhood when he picked them up. For three years he had them with him day and night, his whole energy and resources poured out in an effort to create an understanding in them. Yet through it all they never fully understood.

Bruce Barton

In spite of all he could do or say, they were persuaded that he planned to overthrow the Roman power and set himself up as ruler in Jerusalem. Hence they never tired of wrangling as to how the offices should be divided. But Jesus never lost his patience. He believed that the way to get faith out of men is to show that you have faith in them; and from that great principle of executive management he never wavered.

Of all the disciples Simon was most noisy and aggressive. It was he who was always volunteering advice, forever proclaiming the staunchness of his own courage and faith. One day Jesus said to him, "Before the cock crows tomorrow you will deny me thrice." Simon was indignant. Though they killed him, he cried, he would never deny! Jesus merely smiled—and that night it happened.

. . . A lesser leader would have dropped Simon. "You have had your chance," he would have said. "I am sorry but I must have men around me on whom I can depend." Jesus had the rare understanding that the same man will usually not make the same mistake twice. From that time on there was no faltering in Peter.

The Bible presents an interesting collection of contrasts in this matter of executive ability. Samson had almost all the attributes of leadership. He was physically powerful and handsome; he had the great courage to which men always respond. Yet Samson failed miserably.

Moses started out under the same handicap. He tried to be everything and do everything; and was almost on the verge of failure. Then Moses took the advice of his father-in-law and associated with himself a partner, Aaron, who was strong where he was weak. Together they achieved what neither could do alone.

John, the Baptist, had the same lack. He could denounce, but he could not construct. He drew crowds who were willing to repent at his command, but he had no program for them after their repentance. The same thing might have happened to the work of Jesus. Yet because of the fire of his personal conviction, because of his marvelous instinct for discovering their latent powers, and because of his unwavering faith and patience, he molded them into an organization which carried on victoriously. A few decades later the proud Emperor himself bowed his head to the teachings of this Nazareth carpenter, transmitted through common men.

Difficulties Bobbed Up Most Everywhere As Colorado Schools Were Opened In '11

There were difficulties aplenty confronting members of the school board and faculty as the Colorado schools opened twenty-one years ago. The main difficulty, as outlined by The Record for Friday, September 22, 1911, was in crowded condition in the class rooms. A new building was under construction and until its completion the teachers and pupils were planning to make the best they could under the circumstances. The new building mentioned as being erected in those days is the present junior high building.

Along with the material strides that have feautred progress of the Colorado schools, as to buildings and other physical equipment since that day, there has been a material increase in both the number of students enrolled and the teachers employed. There were ten teachers employed in the school then, as follows:

Superintendent Hart, who taught mathematics; Misses Graham and Maymie Riordan, first and second grades; Miss Louise Coe, third grade; Miss Irwin, fourth grade; Miss Cromwell, fifth grade; Miss Alice Stanford, sixth grade; Miss Crowell, seventh grade; Miss Ellis literature; and Mr. Galbraith, languages. Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of First Presbyterian church, announced a revival meeting to open on the following Sunday. He was to be assisted by Rev. O. G. Jones of Big Spring.

The "stupendous" enterprise, promised Coloradoans the week before, was again referred to that week. Identity of the promised industry, however, was still kept in abeyance.

Rev. N. F. Marshall, pastor of All Saint's Episcopal church, had resigned to accept pastorate of an Episcopal church at San Angelo.

Formal opening of Burnham that week, new townsite on the Santa Fe in Garza county, by Lassiter and Person of Colorado, attracted a number of local citizens. Judge J. E. Hooper and several other Coloradoans had gone to the site to make investments and spend the day, The Record announced.

Fact that Sam L. Majors was at one time in the show business at Colorado is recalled in that issue of the paper. Majors, referred to as manager of the opera house, was quoted as having promised an interesting bill for opening number at that former popular play house.

Will Stoneham, according to The Record, had found that Colorado was a better town in which to live than Snyder. Stoneham, after having been a citizen of the Scurry county town for sometime, was moving back to his old home.

THIS ONE SHOULD MAKE AN INTERESTING 'TALL STORY' FOR L. THOMAS

Page Lowell Thomas. Some one suggests a new one for his collection of "tall stories." It all happened Tuesday afternoon as a party of Coloradoans, playing host to Fort Worth visitors, were down hunting. Joe Smoot, George Slaton, Ralph Lee, Rev. Dick O'Brien and Rev. Oren C. Reid, the latter of Fort Worth, hied away to the country to bag some doves. The story goes that Smoot finally shot one of the coveted feathered creatures down and rushed to retrieve his trophy of the hunt.

But no! A mosquito, described by Smoot as being too large to describe, rushed to spot where the dove had fallen and fixing his spiked snoot into the game bird triumphantly flew away, taking the dove with him. Such a story was Smoot's alibi for returning to town without any game.

Hyman Happenings

By MRS. HYMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor and little son, and Ben Taylor, returned to Loraine last week. They visited Mrs. Taylor's sister, Mrs. Carl Lowry and family and Mr. Taylor's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor.

Mr. Tiller, Mrs. Bud Boyd's father, was around the Hyman settlement last week. He handles the McConnon goods.

John Lane of Sterling was at Hyman last Wednesday to see Mr. Hyman on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Burton of Fort Worth spent a week visiting Lee Atkins' family. Mrs. Burton is Mr. Atkins' sister. They are interested in Hyman, owning one of the best improved farms out here and come out once or twice a year. They spent a longer time here on this trip than they ever have before. We welcome them most cordially and are always glad to have them come. They motored out from Fort Worth.

Lee Atkins was taken very sick last week and they had to send to Colorado for a doctor. His attack was pronounced flu, and we are glad to report his being up and around again, but showing his illness.

Last Tuesday most of the men at Hyman finished three days road work, which has helped very greatly the conditions of our roads. We thank our commissioner, Mr. Van Zandt for this timely service, and the help to the men out here.

After one days rest (Thursday), a good part of the men met at the church and spent the day repairing, for which Mrs. Hyman furnished the cement. They did a fine job an the church and a lasting one, but failed to repair the outhouses, which are badly in need of same, and unless repaired before another rain, may be damaged beyond repair.

E. L. Shaffer of Sterling City and representing the Zanol products, was a visitor to most of the homes here last Thursday.

Mr. Hyman and Mr. Dowdy went to Colorado Friday on business.

Messrs Jim Boyd, Irvin Geffs and J. T. Smith were in Colorado Thursday on business. Mr. Boyd bought him a truck, and Mr. Smith had his truck repaired, in anticipation of hauling cotton to the gin.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pierce of Westbrook visited Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood last week. Mrs. Pierce was the former Miss Pauline Smallwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood. Mrs. Smallwood returned home with them for a short visit and brought back with her Miss Mira and little Miss Eula May, after they had spent some three weeks visiting their sister, Mrs. Pierce and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dozier at Ralls. We missed them and are glad to have them back.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Lane and little daughter, spent Sunday out here, visiting their relatives the Jim Boyd family and the H. H. VanZandt family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woodard, Erma Lee and Milton, came in Saturday from the Kentuck ranch, where he is located near Clegg and Annerose, Texas, moving there from here something over a year ago. They left there last Friday morning. They are visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Yancy. They spent Sunday at John Black's and expect to return about Wednesday or Thursday. Mr. Woodard reports only about half crop down in Live Oak county and that part of the country. He seemed very pleased over our fine crops out here, some of which he predicted would make a bale to the acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Durden, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Durden, Jr., came in last Saturday and spent Sunday here on business with Mr. Hyman. They came from Paint Rock. They bought a place while here.

Carl Patterson of Ross City and V. W. Fuglaar of Big Spring were in Hyman Monday on business with Mr. Hyman.

Sam Riley was in Hyman last Sunday and at Mr. Roach's.

Mrs. Hyman entertained the Woman's club last Friday, which was attended by Miss Sevier, and six of the members, Mrs. Jim Boyd, Mrs. Emmie Minor and Mrs. Cochran were visitors. The meeting was a discussion of the display for the fair to be held in Colorado; the pantry display in the homes; and the meeting to discuss patterns, which is to be held soon in Colorado. A committee was appointed to help arrange for the farm display for the fair. An enjoyable meeting was held after which ice cream, and water melon was served. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Lowry.

Mrs. Hyman was on the sick list Saturday night and Sunday, but was better Monday.

BRING SEMINOLE INDIAN VILLAGE TO STATE FAIR

DALLAS, TEXAS, Sept. 22.—A Seminole Village, with its tribe of 28 people, a chief, and three alligator wrestlers from the Everglades of Florida, will set up as one of the featured attractions at the 1932 State Fair of Texas, October 8 to 23. The village will occupy a space 200 feet by 200 feet, and the side walls, the huts, the ceremonial stages will be set up just as they are found in the native villages of the Florida swamps.

Three alligator wrestlers, each of whom has been raised in the Everglades, will be seen in hourly matches with the alligators. Twelve wrestling alligators are carried by the Indians and the smallest of these measures eleven feet long, and weighs 250 pounds.

More than 350 birds, animals, reptiles and turtles, common to the Everglades will be seen in the menagerie of the village. Included in the list of animals are orstriches, kinkajoos, flamingoes, coral snakes, Everglade rattlers and moccasins, fox squirrels, racoons, Florida beavers and others.

Senior Class News

The Senior class met Wednesday September 14, 1932, to organize. The following officers were elected:

Pete Hazlewood, president; Emilee Ramsey, vice president; Ozelle Berry, secretary and treasurer; Reba Shelton, reporter; Miss Cora Ott, sponsor.

General School News

Wednesday afternoon, the high school assembled to form an organization for the purpose of sending school news to the Colorado and Big Spring papers. Much interest was shown in the election of the members of the staff.

After voting by secret ballot it was found that in several places o one had received a majority, so it was decided to have a run-off on Thursday. The election was completed Thursday and the staff members decided to start right to work. They held a short meeting Friday to organize their work.

The staff will be found at the head of this column.

The high school is glad to welcome two new pupils this week. Lucille Morrison from San Jose, California; and Clyde McCullough from Loraine. Lucille is classified as a Junior and Clyde as a Sophomore.

The high school is sorry to lose a pupil, Carey Edwards, who was our sports editor. Carey has been a pupil of the Westbrook school for several years. He is going to attend school at Iatan.

Humorous Remarks

Pupil: Miss Ott, how many pence are in a six pence?

Miss Ott: Oh, I don't know.

Coach Lauderdale: Good heavens, girl, you are getting uglier every day.

Mrs. Lauderdal: Well, at last, that's something you can't do.

R. Cletus: I've added those figures ten times, sir.

Mr. Patterson: Good boy!

Editorial—

Friday, September 30, begins the football season, and along with it—the high school loyalty and sincerity which is back by every true citizen of the community.

Colorado is proud of its team, its coach, and the loyalty for them which is in the atmosphere like a London fog. And one of the best things about it, "our boys" are good sports. They are clean winners and smiling losers.

Of course, during our summer vacation, a little of the high school spirit faded away momentarily, but just step into assembly any old time, and listen to Mr. Wilkens give them the praise due! The high school spirit is being reawakened, and the loyalty to our boys and our school will make every heart thrill in tune with the class yells and songs backing up our Wolves.

Fifteen rahs for Coach and the boys!

The title for the club was voted on at a call meeting Monday afternoon, and the club decided on "Students' Little Theater" for its name.

The club will present two term plays this school year, and the first one will be presented on the evening of October 14. It will be a three-act comedy drama, entitled "All a Mistake."

C. H. S. Squad Shows Great Prospects—

With about thirty-two boys out for his team, "Big Jim" Cantrill's squad shows prospects for a great bunch. There is much pep aroused in high school over these boys. Every player, whether veteran or beginner, is confident and peppy; and we believe that on September 30, when the whistle blows for the game with Roby, Captain Stagner, backed by the town and student body, will lead these Wolves to a "Glorious Victory" to start the season off.

C. H. S. Band Shows School Spirit—

If you had never attended a pep meeting nor seen the Wolves practice you still would know that football was upon us. The building fairly seems to rock from the strains of music from the band as they begin to practice their pieces for the football games.

The band, under the direction of Roy Hester, is always willing to lend its pep and enthusiasm for any activity held in this school.

You must not forget we have "The Best Band in West Texas."

At the assembly period Tuesday, our new yell leaders, Bill Loving and Reachie Melton, demonstrated their ability before the student body and faculty. Yells were given with the everlasting school spirit demonstrated by the entire assembly, and Mr. Wilkins spoke to the gathering about the organization of a pep squad to back up the Wolves.

About ninety boys and girls came out for the pep squad and discussed the type of uniform to be worn. This question will be settled soon, as they are anxious to get them by Friday, September 30th for the first game of the season, featuring the Wolves against Roby.

The cast, directed by Zadie Banks of Abilene, depicted the temptations that beset Christians in their progress from infancy to the grave. Farewell Party—

The friends of the Ben Smith family met at their home for a surprise party on the night before their moving to Lubbock.

About 8 p. m. their friends and neighbors begin to throng upon their porches, and soon rooms were filled with people, with loving hearts though mixed with sad regrets to give up this excellent family from their midst.

A nice little program had been arranged to pay homage to this good family, in which little Barran Bennett honored the gathering with "Butter Side Down," then Jessie Scott Thomas graciously rendered, "There's Some Good in the Worst of Us." Prof. Clyde Bennett, paid tribute to Mr. Smith for his untiring work in connection with the upbuilding of the Loraine high school; one teacher had remarked, "Mr. Ben Smith had made Loraine high school what it was today." Then Thomas Riden stressed the wonderful influence and power of a "real home" like this good family had, and the far-reaching influence for good in the many walks of life, over the town and the community. He also lauded their work in civic affairs of the town during the twenty-eight years of their residence in Loraine; they had unselfishly administered to to the sick and afflicted, and how they would be missed from our community. Then the crowd of friends joined in the scattering of flowers over the "pathway of the living," with many words of appreciation and love little gifts as tokens of friendship were given.

Then, after a splendid melon feast, through the courtesy of C. H. Thomas and Thomas Riden, the party ended, bidding this excellent family good-bye with moistened eyes and best wishes for their future success.

What Is the Texas C-E-N-T-E-N-N-I-A-L?

On March 6, 1836, at 5 A. M. Santa Anna with 4,000 Mexican regulars stormed the Alamo. They were twice repulsed with heavy losses. Of 830 Mexicans, only 150 remained. They finally scaled the walls and the heroic last stand which the defenders made is well known to every Texan.

Q. What does the word Centennial mean?

A. Webster's Dictionary defines the word Centennial as: "A 100th anniversary or its celebration."

Q. Why the movement to celebrate it in 1936?

A. 1936 marks the 100th anniversary of the actual gaining of Texas Independence and the formation of an Independent Republic. In other words, 1936 will be the 100th birthday of Texas.

Q. What will it mean to Texas?

A. The celebration of the Texas Centennial offers the greatest opportunity that Texas has ever known. It is certainly patriotically mandatory upon us to make this public recognition. From an economic standpoint, twenty-five years' growth can be brought to the State within five years.

Q. What State in the Union has a more brilliant history than Texas?

A. Though a few states closely rival the colorful history of Texas, there is certainly no state which has a more brilliant or inspiring history than our own dear State.

Q. How can the Texas Centennial in 1936 become a reality?

A. An exposition of this magnitude and character must have the official sanction of the entire State, hence the matter of whether or not Texas shall celebrate its 100th birthday is to be submitted directly to the people. On November 8th a Texas Centennial Constitutional Amendment will be voted upon.

Q. How much actual wealth will be brought to the State by the Centennial in 1936?

A. It is conservatively estimated that the visitors who come to the Centennial Exposition in automobiles alone will return to the State Treasury in gasoline tax alone an amount of approximately $25,000,000.00. This State gasoline tax goes directly into the Highway and School funds and thus will show permanent development to the State. Wealth in untold millions and from many different angles will pour into the State as the immediate result of this celebration. And thus while celebrating the patriotic Centennial revering the memory of Texas' forefathers, present-day Texans will benefit in an economic way by a dissemination of information concerning present day opportunities in Texas.

MITCHELL COUNTY FARM NOTES

Allen Kuykendall says. "This thing of killing 400 and 450 pound hogs for meat is a thing of the past. It takes those long, lean looking 200 to 250 pound hogs to make choice cuts of pork." Mr. Kuykendall killed 200-pound hog last week.

The season of the year will soon be here when the dairy cows begin to fall off—"guess it's the bad weather we've been having." The truth is this drop is often due to the fact that the water is too cold for the cows to drink a sufficient amount to produce the normal of milk. (Milk is about 85 per cent water). The new world's record holding cow, both milk and butterfat, drank 3.76 pounds of water for every pound of milk produced or about 44 gallons per day.

A noted agricultural writer has said, "The man who is really going to get somewhere farming is the man who has some specialty to sell in addition to his regular field crops.' It might be home cured pork products, home made cheese, truck, sweet potatoes, sorgo or ribbon cane syrup, pure seed, canned products, or any number of more or less specialty crops or products.

With this in mind, farm exhibits at the county and community fairs are being planned. If you specialize on market or hatching eggs, the committee wants you to have an exhibit of them. If it is home-made cheese, have a special cheese exhibit and so on down the line. This will help advertise the exhibitor and may also help visitors to the fairs to locate products they want to buy.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardui has helped thousands of women:

"I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardui, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardui is sold by local druggists.

That on or about the day aforesaid, defendents and each of them unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiffs therefrom and unlawfully withhold from them the possession thereof, to plaintiffs' damage in the sum of $20,000.00. Plaintiffs further specifically plead the three, five, ten and twenty-five years' statutes of limitation to said land, and allege, further, that they have a valid fee simple title to said lands and every part thereof, but that the defendants and each of them are asserting some sort of right, title, interest or claim therein, or to parts thereof, and that such claims of defendants constitutes a cloud upon plaintiffs' title.

Plaintiffs pray for citation and for judgment against defendants for the title and possession of the lands described in the plaintiffs' petition, for writ of restitution, and for cancellation and annulling the claims of the defendants to said lands, and the removal of the cloud cast thereby on plaintiffs' title, damages, costs of suit, general and special relief, etc.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, But have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

CITY LEAGUE BILLBOARD

As Seen By The Record Sports Editor

And the Fire Boys did just as dopsters had told us they would—nosed the Masons out to take championship in Colorado city league series. The concluding mound battle was staged Thursday afternoon before the largest and most enthusiastic aggregation of fans attracted to any previous league game. The victors scored four runs to one by the Masons. In justice to the Masons it is well to say they played a wonderful game. A couple of errors at the wrong time, spelled the difference between defeat and victory.

Batteries for the Fire Boys were Truman Henderson and Kent Howell, and for the Masons Leroy Gressett and Bob Thomson.

* * *

Sunday afternoon Bill Brookover's Col-Tex Refiners took an all-star nine gathered from the city league, to the tune of 6 to 4..

Dorn, Gentry and Scarborough were batteries for the Col-Texers, while Towry and Morgan held down this department for the all-stars.

Palace Theatre Has Interesting Program Billed During Week

"Horse Feathers," latest of the mad, merry comedies of the Four Marx Brothers, is the feature picture at the Palace Thursday and Friday, September 22 and 23.

Groucho, Chico, Harpo and Zeppo are again cast together in a picture that affords them opportunities for the same type of nonsense they presented in "Animal Crackers," etc.

An amusing plot holds the picture together. Groucho is a college president because that's the only way, it seems, he can get his son, Zeppo, out of college. Zeppo has been there twelve years. With the cooperation of Chico, village bootlegger, and Harpo, village dogcatcher, he ultimately accomplishes his object.

Courage is one of the most necessary qualities that screen Western hero must possess. The authority for that statement is D. Ross Lederman, director of "Texas Cyclone," the Columbia production coming to the Palace for one day only, Saturday, September 24th.

Tim McCoy has risked his life many times in order to make startling and daring scenes for his productions. "Texas Cyclone" has more than the usual quota of thrills. See it at the Palace Saturday.

"Million Dollar Legs" showing at the Palace for the Sunday matinee and Monday night feature, is not a sex picture. A group of comedians that sounds like a roll call of the cuckoos make up the cast. Listen—Jack Oakie, W. C. Fields, Andy Clyde, Susan Fleming, Ben Turpin, Hugh Herbert, George Barbier, Moore and others and it is directed by Edward Kline. If that isn't something to talk about, then we don't know.

Tuesday and Wednesday, September 27 and 28, the Palace has booked a late Paramount release, starring Gary Cooper and Claudette Colbert. The names of the stars are enough to insure it being a good picture.

For next Thursday and Friday, September 29 and 30, the Palace has booked Gary Cooper and Tallulah Bankhead in "Devil and the Deep."

"Devil and the Deep," Cooper's first picture since his return from Africa, is set, curiously enough, on that continent. A seaport on the north coast, and not the jungle is the background, however. Cooper is cast as a navel lieutenant assigned to a submarine based at the port, and falls in love with Tallulah Bankhead, wife of his commander, and the latter insanely jealous, gets the two on his boat and sinks it with them aboard. The subsequent climax is highly dramatic.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the kind expression of sympathy during the recent illness and death of our beloved wife, mother and daughter.

C. B. Beezley and son; Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Havens; Mrs. W. S. Justice and family. 1tpd.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

The following resolutions of respect were adopted by the Colorado Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star:

Whereas, it has been the will of Almighty God to remove from our midst, Bro. Joe R. Sheppard, who passed from this life to his eternal home, to that house not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens, that bourne from which no traveler returns.

Whereas, in the passing of Bro. Sheppard, his wife has lost a kind and devoted husband, his friends, a loyal and faithful companion and his community, a courageous, industrious and economical officer, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That we extend to his widow the right hand of fellowship and brotherly love, with the assurance that we sincerely mourn with her the great loss she has sustained; let us remind her that the parting is only temporary, that we shall all be reunited in the Celestial Lodge, where the Supreme Grand Patron presides.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge, a copy furnished the bereaved widow, and a copy sent The Colorado Record for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
B. F. DULANEY,
MARY JONES,
W. S. STONEHAM,
Committee.
