Hearing Set In Austin

Savings Firm Applies For Branch Office Here

Sweetwater Savings Association of Sweetwater, has made application with the Texas Savings & Loan Department to locate a branch office in Colorado City.

A hearing on the application has been scheduled for Dec. 16, 1974 at 9 a.m. in the office of the Savings & Loan Department of Texas at Austin.

In the event a written protest is received by Dec. 6, 1974, the hearing will be convened for the purpose of setting a future date to take testimony and receive evidence from all interested persons, according to information received by the Record.

"If no written notice of intention to appear in person or by attorney to protest said application is received by the Savings and Loan Commissioner from one or more persons by the 6th day of December, 1974, the hearing may be dispensed with by order of the Savings and Loan Commissioner."

according to the notice received by the Record.

The notice stated that Sweetwater Savings Association wants to locate a branch office in the vicinity of the intersection of Highway 163 and East Second Street.

Ed Aiken, president of Sweetwater Savings, told the Record that no location for the proposed branch office has been located but it is required that a general location be included in the application for the branch office.

Aiken said Sweetwater Savings has assets of $28 million and now has two branch offices and soon will have a third branch office. One branch office was opened in Rotan Dec. 1, 1973, one was opened in Roscoe last week and one will be opened in Hamlin about Dec. 15.

Sweetwater Savings has built a new 1,200 to 1,500 square foot building in each of the towns where branch offices are located.

At Library

Geneva Davila, assistant librarian at Mitchell County Library, displays the spotlighted painting for the month, exhibiting works of a different artist who is a member of the Brush and Palette Club. This month's painting was done by Mrs. Fanny Fay Feaster. Also at the library this week are displays of paintings, jewelry and metalwork of two associate art professors at Western Texas College.

Town Talk

By MAC McKINNON

The Colorado City Playhouse group has done it again.

Their current production of "The Sound of Music" is a presentation that simply defies description. There are simply not enough adequate adjectives to describe the pleasure and excitement experienced by the audience.

Millions of words have been written about the Rogers & Hammerstein musical. It has been around for a number of years and I'm sure that almost everyone has seen it presented on the screen or stage, at one time or another.

However, until you've seen this remarkable production presented by our own Playhouse group in the unique Opera House, you really haven't "experienced" "The Sound of Music."

The musical is presented in such a way in the Opera House that the audience feels a part of the production and audience actually plays itself in one scene.

The production has a large cast with 35 persons. The story moves along and the timing is remarkable. There are a large number of scene changes but even this doesn't slow down the production.

It is difficult to single out any one person for their tremendous job in putting on the play as everyone does a good job. Heading it all was Tandy Curlee as director who deserves special recognition for a fine job. It quickly becomes obvious that there was a lot of work and effort put forth by everyone in putting on the play.

The children in the play, portrayed by Linda Englert, Jimmy Bellomy, Marjori Maddox, Tracy Womack, Kay Davis, Miki Palmer and Julia Gaston, captured the heart of the audience.

Jolyn Mikow gives a marvelous performance in the role of Maria, a tremendously difficult role. John Mikow portrays Captain von Trapp and is very convincing in his part.

The musical treat of the evening is the singing of "Climb Every Mountain," by the Mother Abbess, played by Trina Taylor.

The play is sold out and will be presented every night this week through Saturday. Wednesday, Playhouse officials announced that holdover performances have been set for Monday and Tuesday of next week, with one night's performance already sold out. If you want to see the show, you should make reservations as soon as possible by calling 728-3491 or going by the Opera House.

Every production by the local Playhouse group is so good it is difficult to say which one has been the very best. But this production is among the best if not the best ever done by the group. Everyone involved deserves a bouquet.

Play Opens

Wolves Go To Hamlin For Last 6-AA Game

The Colorado City Wolves, with upset on their minds, will travel to Hamlin Friday to take on District 6-AA leading Pied Pipers.

Kick-off is at 7:30 p.m. It is up to Colorado City to keep Hamlin from winning the district championship and that is exactly what the Wolves have on their minds as they seek to avenge last year's 54-0 loss to the Pied Pipers.

Unless the Wolves can beat the Pied Pipers, Hamlin will go on to represent the district in the play-offs. Ballinger is tied with Hamlin in district competition but Hamlin will represent the district unless the Wolves can knock them from their lofty perch due to the fact that Hamlin won over Ballinger.

Should the Wolves defeat Hamlin, the District race would be thrown into a scramble with any one of four teams being able to take the district crown, depending on other Friday night results. Anson will play Ballinger and Coahoma will play Stamford. Hamlin and Ballinger have lost only one game each this season in the district while Anson and Coahoma have lost one game each and tied one game (they tied each other).

Colorado High Athletic Director Mike Farda said Hamlin has a big team with a fast set of running backs.

The Wolves are ready for the game with a good attitude and have had good workouts this week. Everyone will be 100% for the game, Farda pointed out.

Farda said four of five members of the Junior Varsity team which finished a winning season last week, will be suited out for the Hamlin game.

City Planning Sewage Survey

City council meeting Monday night was largely taken up with the discussion of sewage and the problems presented by its disposal, and the council approved hiring Mrs. Margaret Oyler as new Civic Center manager.

Vote on Mrs. Oyler's hiring followed an executive session from which members of the press were excluded. All members voted "aye" except Larry Hamer, who abstained. Mrs. Oyler takes the place being vacated by Mrs. Gwen Wiseman.

Sewage problems discussed were two-fold, first the problem of trash and sewage at the city's park on Lake Champion and secondly, the problem of pumping out septic tanks and cesspools on the city's southside, where underlying rock formations make prohibitive installation of regular city sewage line service.

The council previously had offered the pumping service as an alternative to a group of citizens from the southside who want sewage service from the city. City manager J. A. Sadler Jr. presented a cost estimate to the council outlining a first year estimate of $34,464.40 total outlay in city funds if the city were to buy the truck and hire people to keep the septic tanks and cesspools pumped out for 270 residences, estimating each customer be serviced every three months. Councilman J. Lee Jones Jr. reported that he had been in contact with Bill R. Terrett of Midland, who owns and operates a septic tank service there and also owns a cabin on Lake Colorado City. Jones said that Terrett was enthusiastic about coming to Colorado City to make a survey of homes with septic tanks and cesspools that need the pumping service, and after completion of the survey, would then submit a bid to the city for supplying the service on a yearly basis.

After lengthy discussion in which Councilman Hank Bryant said that "septic tank men are worse than lightning rod men" and City Attorney Dell Barber said "If there was much sewer trouble here there would be a man here in the business" of pumping out tanks, the council decided to send a letter to southside residents, asking them if they intend to sign up for the service and what type of sewer they have. Jones was also asked to contact Terrett, inviting him to appear before the council during the December session.

Jones pointed out several reasons for having Terrett make the survey, saying he was no fly-by-night, he needed to check the situation closely in order to make a realistic bid, and mentioning possible problems with the Texas Department of Health and Texas Water Quality Board because of drainage into the

Film To Be Shown At Westbrook

The film, "Through Gates of Splendor," which depicts the story of five young missionaries who died at the hands of the savage Aucas Indians in Ecuador, will be shown at Westbrook Baptist Church on November 17, at 7 p.m.

This is the authentic filmed story which stirred millions as it appeared in Life, Reader's Digest, and the six books on the subject, and as it was reported over radio and television networks.

Much of the picture was photographed by the men themselves shortly before they were killed. Seen in the film in addition to the five men and their wives are Aucas - "George," "Delliah," Dayuma - and Rachel Saint, Betty Elliot and her daughter, Valerie, now living with the Aucas killers.

Produced for the Aucas Missionary Foundation, narrated by Betty Elliot, from whose books, "Through Gates of Splendor" and "The Savage, My Kinsman," the story was taken, this is one of the most remarkable missionary films ever made.

Everyone is cordially invited to see this film, the Rev. Gene Farley, pastor, announced on behalf of the members, and there will be no admission charge.

Colorado River.

After Mayor C. C. (Mike) Burt said that only five of the complaining residents had actually signed up for the pumping service being offered by the city, the council instructed Sadler to send the letter to residents asking for information about their sewer connections and if they are willing to pay for the pumping service charge of a suggested $1.25 per month.

City employees on hand for the council meeting included head of the Water and Sewer Department Buzz Rich; Dan Pfeuffer in charge of sewage; George Jordan and James Morris in charge of distribution; Andy Lane, filter plant; Walter Mitchell, street department and fire truck driver Floyd Hale, as well as Police Chief Jesse Browning.

All employees spoke to the council about the problems of raising a family and paying bills on their salaries and asked for a raise. Council members expressed their concern for the employees, but asked that they turn in to the department heads their expectations for a raise, to be discussed by the council during their workshop session later this month.

Mayor Burt said it would be the job of the new city manager to work out budget figures including a raise.

Jordan asked the council to consider his plight, as he makes $156 every two weeks in take home pay and has no hospitalization insurance on his family and "my baby's in the hospital right now," he said.

Browning presented figures to the council showing that Colorado City ranks low in comparison with other cities of similar size in the pay given to police employees. Top patrolmen here are paid $522 per month, compared to Denver City, $675 monthly; Slaton, $600; Snyder, $720 and Big Lake, $780. Dispatch messages are sent out from these various towns, advertising for men to fill positions at higher pay, Browning said.

Councilwoman Jody Neff asked if city taxes could be raised to provide pay raises. Sadler reminded the council that a new budget must be approved in April, 1975, and taxes could not be raised until then.

He did point out that the only source of immediate funds possible to the city would be a raise in water and sewer rates. A 50 cent raise in rates would provide an additional $1,000 monthly which could be used to provide city employees with a raise. This would make the city's minimum bill for water, sewer and garbage disposal $9 instead of the present $8.50 minimum.

Rates were increased recently for such services to be used to meet payments of certificates of obligation due on the city's new Civic Center and $36,222 must be paid between now and April 15.

The council then decided to let department heads handle the requests for raises and work out more details during the workshop session later this month.

Sadler presented figures from Civic Center manager Gwen Wistrand showing an income of $3,295.76 from the Civic Center since its opening in September but said that figures on expenditures for its operation will not be complete until the end of the year.

Other discussion of the Civic Center concerned landscaping and a sign, as well as floor tile installation and seal coating and gutter installation to stop water drainage.

The council officially approved the highway plat and resolution for paving .9 of a mile of street in front of the new high school, approved entering into a new keep-up contract with Prichard and Abbott for appraisal of city property and passed the amended ordinance setting a 20-mile speed limit zone around the hospital, schools and nursing homes. New signs denoting the speed zones have been ordered, said Sadler.

Following an executive session, in which Mayor Burt said a complaint against a city employee had been discussed, city manager Sadler was instructed to take care of the matter. The council then hired Mrs. Oyler as new manager of the Civic Center.

Mrs. Oyler was employed by Texas Electric Service Company for 18 years preceding her retirement early this year.

NATURAL GAS For Years To Come

With all the talk about conservation, many might believe that we have only enough natural gas for a few tomorrows. We'd like to assure our residential and other high priority customers that Lone Star has an adequate supply. Not only for the present, but for years to come.

We were actively engaged in exploration programs long before the energy crisis. And since the crisis, we're exploring even harder to insure your continued supply of natural gas.

Conservation is one way to extend the supplies we now have on hand. And they can last much longer by avoiding wasteful uses of energy. By making it last longer, more time is allowed for new forms of energy to be developed.

Of course new supplies are going to cost more. But natural gas is still the best buy for your energy dollar!

Conserve natural gas. Conservation will help keep the cost as low as possible.

COLORADO JR. HIGH CHATTER

Teacher Profile

Mrs. Louise Taylor is the new Teachers Aide for the Reading program at Jr. High School. She is a graduate of Odessa High School and Howard Co. Jr. College and also attended Hardin-Simmons University where she is working on a Bachelors degree in Speech Pathology.

She is married to Willis Taylor and has four children: Tim, a senior and Linda a sophomore at Colorado High; Rodney, an eighth grader; and Stanley, a fifth grader. She enjoys all sports, music and sewing.

On Friday, November 1, the Honor Society held its first meeting that included the new members. There are 21 from the 7th grade and one new member from the 8th grade.

We plan to go to Six Flags for our annual trip. To raise money for the trip, we are selling candles which range in price from $2 to $2.50.

Later on we plan on having a rummage sale to raise additional money. We hope you will help us by buying candles now and coming to our rummage sale when we have it.

Jr. High had their last Pep Rally Thursday. We had crepe paper and streamers hanging all over the gym. Everyone was yelling and by the end of the pep rally, everyone was fired up. We were ready to win.

We had a surprise when the cheerleaders and twirlers led the football boys into the gym. For this part of the pep rally, the girls had exchanged roles. Each group had worked hard to learn the other group's routine.

Thursday night the 7th grade Wolves played the Ballinger Bears. When they left the field at half time the score was Bears 30, Wolves 0. When the Wolves came back on the field they scored 28 points. Jerry Lunceford scored a 20 yard touchdown on the 29 power play. Ruben Garcia ran a 60 yard touchdown on a kick off. Russell Noel scored a 25 yard touchdown on a pass. Then Jerry Lunceford scored another touchdown. People putting on a good performance were Jerry Lunceford, Jerry Don Lewis, Charles Edwards, Russell Noel, Brad Fincher, and Chuck Clayton. When the game ended the score was Bears 50, Wolves 28.

The C-city 8th grade finished the season Thursday night with a win over the Ballinger Bears by a score of 14 to 6. This makes our record for this year 7 wins and 1 loss. Scoring for the Wolves were Jimmy Selvera on a 10 yard run, and Joe Franco on a 15 yard run. The whole line played well offensively. Johnny Garcia, Robert Parker, Jimmy Selvera, Joe Franco and David Rivera played an outstanding game.

The Wolves also played a very good game defensively. Jay Feaster, Ruben Garcia, Joe Franco, Kirk Shubfield, Jo-

Baumann HD Club Has Thanksgiving Luncheon

Mrs. Lynne Compton was hostess for the Thanksgiving luncheon meeting of the Baumann Home Demonstration Club Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Mrs. Mable Givens presided over the business session and led the club prayer.

Roll call was answered by "what was your weight at 25 years of age."

Mrs. Webb read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Pauline Smiley gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Givens gave the annual report.

The club voted Mrs. Givens outstanding club woman of the year.

Mrs. Clara Butler and Mrs. Smiley gave the skit "Mothers Pet." Mrs. Butler played the part of a mother who didn't have time for her home, her children, and the school teacher. Mrs. Smiley played the part of the teacher, who told the mother her son should have balanced meals and plenty of sleep and rest, while the mother said she let him go to bed when he pleased and eat what he could find, etc.

The club members planned to go in a group to Mrs. Fay McCollum's in Snyder on Nov. 12 for an all day meeting.

The Christmas luncheon was announced for Dec. 3 in the home of Mrs. Givens.

Present were Mmes. L. E. Crutcher, Pauline Smiley, Floyd Griffin, Givens, Webb, Ellis Cornutt, M. D. Cheek, Vada

Atheneum Club Of Loraine Studies "Makers Of America"

The Atheneum Study Club met in the home of Mrs. James Watkins Tuesday, November 5th with 10 members and one visitor attending.

Mrs. Watkins called the meeting to order. Mrs. T. J. Riden gave the invocation. This was followed by pledge to the United States and Texas flags led by Mrs. Woodrow Pratt.

A short business session was held and the club voted to send gifts to the State Hospital at Big Spring as their Christmas project. These gifts must be collected by November 15.

The program theme for the day was "Conservation." Mrs.

Woodrow Pratt brought an article on the subject:

starting with the story of creation in all its perfection and bringing us up to date with all our present ills which include pollution and the energy crisis. She gave several energy saving suggestions to be applied in our homes.

Mrs. Lily Bennett reviewed "Makers of America," reflecting the greatness of such men as Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton and James Madison. The question was asked, "Will we ever have leaders like these men again? As our nation nears its bi-centennial we come to appreciate these great 'Makers of America' more fully," Mrs. Bennett highlighted the circumstances under which the colonist and their leaders lived for more than 160 years before Independence came. The story was one of perseverance and loyalty for the cause of freedom.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. R. H. Bennett, Lily Bennett, Percy Bond, Glen Coon, Doyle Hester, Harold Martin, S. E. Meadows, Woodrow Pratt, T. J. Riden and Mrs. J. E. Price.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Bruce Johnson November 19. Mrs. Johnson will show slides of "Lands across the Pacific."

Like coal.

In certain areas of Texas there are sizeable deposits of a soft coal called lignite.

Several years ago Texas Electric, along with two other companies, began acquiring rights to some of this lignite because we saw that new supplies of natural gas and oil, our basic fuels, could become increasingly expensive and difficult to obtain.

Today, Texas Electric is using this lignite to generate electricity in our Big Brown plant near Fairfield. Two more lignite plants are under construction.

Using this lignite will help reduce our dependence on natural gas and oil. And one other advantage of using lignite for the generation of electricity is that it isn't being used extensively any other way.

But plants that use lignite cost a lot more than gas/oil plants.

While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with lignite as it would be with natural gas and oil, even if we could get adequate new supplies.

At Texas Electric, we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.
