BODIES FOUND EARLY TODAY AT ABILENE

WIFE OF PROMINENT YOUNG RANCHER IS TRAGEDY VICTIM

(By Associated Press)

ABILENE, July 14.—A deep pool in Hereford lake, on the Kade B. Legett country place eight miles east of Abilene, late yesterday claimed the lives of Mrs. Legett, 32, and two daughters, her only children, Ruth, 5, and Lora, 3.

News of the triple drowning—cause unknown, unwitnessed, all but wiping out a family whose connections are, on both sides, old and prominent in West Texas' life—did not reach the city until early today. It fell with stunning force, although following a search of hours not ending until 4 05 this morning, when the baby's body was taken from the water. Relatives, close friends, neighbors, city firemen and police assisted in the search, the tragic sequel to an afternoon's swim by mother and daughters on a hot summer day.

Bodies Together

Ruth Legett was found first, between 1 and 1.30 this morning. Five minutes later her mother was found. The bodies were in 12 to 15 feet of water and six or eight feet beyond the end of a ladder, which is near the end of a pier extending from the shoreline. The bodies were about three feet apart, and in bathing suits. The baby's body was found two or three yards farther from the ladder in water nearly 18 feet deep, indicating she was in distress first, her mother following in an attempt at rescue and the elder child following both. Depth at the ladder is only to and one-half feet, the deeper water of the channel starting about six feet away.

Time of the tragedy was fixed at between 4 and 5 p. m. Monday. A Mexican employed on the place heard his name called at about 4 o'clock, but did not investigate. His brother, who had been sleeping, began fishing near the pier at 5 o'clock, at which time the lake was deserted.

Ranch Combed

Legett, who went uptown at 3:15 on business, returned at 6 o'clock. Finding no one about, he began casual inquiries. At 7 p. m. he called in neighbors and relatives. The

JULIAN FACES FRAUD COUNT

OIL OPERATOR HELD ON FEDERAL CHARGE IN OKLAHOMA

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 14—From a bunk in the county jail, alongside bootleggers and petty thieves, C. C. Julian, melo-dramatic oil operator, awoke today facing federal charges of mail fraud.

Julian, who a year and a half ago "thumbed" rides in his friends' automobiles, only to promote oil companies which he recently rated as worth $10,000,000, was arrested late yesterday, and after hours of effort, O. A. Cargill, his attorney, gave up attempts to raise $50,000 bond asked for his release.

With Julian were arrested his burly bodyguard, C. C. (Tex) Boren, former taxicab driver, and H. D. Topp, accountant for the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties company. Their bonds were fixed at $10,000 each. They, too, remained in jail overnight.

Cargill said Julian probably would remain in jail until tomorrow, when the three are to face preliminary hearing. They pleaded not guilty before United States Commissioner George J. Eacock at arraignment.

The specific charge against Julian is that a false financial statement was made by the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties company last January and sent through the mails to H. A. Penn, Burbank, Calif., and C. C. Appleborn, Oakland, Calif.

BRANCH LINES OF DENVER ALLOWED

I. C. C. AUTHORIZES TWO EXTENSIONS IN GRAY COUNTY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The interstate commerce commission has authorized the Fort Worth and Denver railroad to construct two branch lines in Gray county, Texas, one from Le Fors running seven miles southwesterly; the other to start at a point nine miles from Le Fors and running about three and one-half miles southeast.

The branches would be part of the new line authorized last August, extending from Childress to Pampa, cost of the two lines was estimated at $266,000.

CONLEY BUILDING WRECKING STARTS

Wrecking of the Conley building, Broadway and Texas, began Tuesday morning under the direction of J. J. Clementa, local contractor, preparatory to the building of a new $33,000 structure on the site of the building which was burned late last August.

"It will take about ten days to tear down the building," Mr. Clements said.

"Unless something now unforeseen arises, we ought to have the building finished by some time in October," he said.

Brick from the walls will be used in the new structure. New face brick will be purchased for the exterior.

Just as much salvaged material as possible will be used in the new structure. A fire proof building, complying with the city building code, is to be erected.

The first floor will consist of five store rooms, three facing Broadway and two on Texas. The second floor will be devoted to office space.

Rail Management To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission will inquire into management practices of American railroads to ascertain their effect on railroad revenues and expenses.

The investigation, ordered yesterday, comes after the commission had set hearing dates on the railroads' plea for a 15 per cent freight rate increase. It is a separate action inaugurated on the commission's own motion.

Mayor Edwards Of Seattle Recalled

SEATTLE, July 14 (AP)—Seattle's "business man mayor," Frank Edwards, was voted out of office by a decisive majority in a recall election here yesterday.

Appearing as a "dark horse" in 1928, Edwards was chosen to succeed Mrs. Bertha K. Landes. The recall election, which Edwards and his supporters strenuously tried to forestall, grew out of incompetency charges made against the mayor after he had dismissed J. D. Ross as head of the city light department.

Legislation To Restrict Speculative Trading In Grain Exchanges Sought

MOVEMENT IS GIVEN SUPPORT OF FARM BUREAU GROUP

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 14—Legislation to restrict speculative trading on grain exchanges again will receive the support of the American Farm Bureau federation in the next congress.

The bureau has been behind the Capper-Dickinson bill. The measure will be reintroduced next winter and provides for limitation of any one operator's trading to 2,000,000 bushels a day and his long or short position to a similar amount.

President Hoover's arraignment of speculators, who sell short in times of stress, has brought demands for restriction. The grain futures administration of the agriculture department also favors the Capper-Dickinson proposal.

Chester H. Gray, Washington representative of the bureau in outlining important legislation in which it is interested and which probably will come before the next congress, said amendment or repeal of the agricultural marketing act, creating the farm board, undoubtedly will be actively considered.

He added, however, that it seems unlikely the entire act will be repealed because of the nearness of the presidential election campaign. The bureau, he said, will devote its energies toward making the act stronger when amendments are offered.

TO RETURN SLAYER TO STATE ASYLUM

FORT WORTH, July 14. (AP)—Leigh Wilbanks, 26, who killed his wife, Jessie Mae, 25, with a shotgun here yesterday, will no doubt be returned to the state hospital at Wichita Falls for confinement there, assistant District Attorney Dawson Davis said today. The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Wilbanks' sister, Mrs. Earl Perrin.

Davis pointed out that Wilbanks had been held insane on a jury verdict in Johnson county and was merely on a 30-day furlough. The insanity judgment is still in effect against him. Davis further explained that the murder charge was filed against Wilbanks to hold him in jail. He expects the grand jury to return a "no bill" on the murder charge.

Meteorite Falls In Montana On Monday

LEWISTON, Mont., July 14 (AP)—A white hot meteorite, three inches in diameter and weighing one pound, crashed last night into the front yard of the home of J. L. Ruckman, in Corbley, five miles from this city.

Ruckman said members of the family heard a report like lightning and saw a cloud of dust. Grass burned away from the spot.

The meteorite was still warm when Ruckman brought it to Lewistown to show to friends here.

It Was Good Plan While It Lasted

CHICAGO, July 14 (AP)—Handsome profits with a minimum of investment were possible, police said, under the scheme of Girard Marzano.

They accused him of siphoning gasoline out of parked cars, hanging around until the owners found they were stalled and then selling them back their own gasoline.

The plan worked until E. R. Walker walked out of a printing plant and caught him. Then Judge Borelli in the boys' court sentenced the young merchant to ten days in jail.

DEATH CAUSED BY TEETH

SOLDIER DIES AFTER SWALLOWING TEETH LAST SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 14—Private Olaf Nelson of Fort Bliss, Texas, died at Walter Reed hospital early today after five unsuccessful attempts to extract from his esophagus artificial teeth he swallowed last Saturday.

The 30-year-old soldier, who was rushed across country in an army ambulance plane, died at 7 o'clock from suffocation. He had rallied from the fifth probing for the dental bridge which caught in his throat while eating breakfast at the Texas army post and was believed better than at any time since he arrived here late yesterday.

Nelson was completely exhausted yesterday after Major Roy Brown and other army surgeons tried for two hours to remove the obstruction.

REICHBANK IS ONLY ONE TO STAY OPEN

OPERATIONS HALTED BY GOVERNMENT AS A PRECAUTION

(By The Associated Press)

Germany has declared what amounts to a general moratorium of banking operations, closing all banks except the Reichbank until Thursday and perhaps longer. It was a precautionary measure, a temporary effort to tide the institutions over until help comes from abroad.

CREDIT EXTENDED

BERLIN, July 14. (AP)—The Reichsbank announced today the $100,000,000 rediscount credit from the international banks of issue and the world bank which matures on Thursday has been extended for three months.

Thursday and it is understood the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve bank of New York which participated in the credit also will grant an extension of their part of the total. The Bank of England has not yet ruled.

Reaction outside of Germany to the collapse of the Darmstaedter Und National bank has caused the temporary closing of all the banks in Hungary, and the suspension of the Mercur bank at Vienna, a subsidiary of the Darmstaedter. At Jassy, Rumania, the Dacia bank has closed with a $1,000,000 deficit.

Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, is on the way to Paris for conferences before he goes to Berlin, and Secretary of State Stimson also is headed for Paris from Rome. Secretary Mellon remains on holiday at Cap Ferat, taking no part in the developments.

A reward of $3,500 has been offered for apprehension of the slayer by friends of the victims.

WHY AIRMEN RISK THEIR LIVES IN LONG FLIGHTS—FAME, FORTUNE, PROHIBITION, PERSECUTION, JUST PLAIN FUN

BY W. W. CHAPLIN

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—The men and women who make long flights—across the country, across the sea, and around the world—do so for a multitude of reasons which range all the way from persecution to prohibition and include such well known motives as fame and fortune and just plain fun.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd's flights are all undertaken in the name of science. The gathering of scientific data is the real purpose, the flight itself being always secondary.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh flies for the advancement of aviation, fame and fortune being by-products which have come to him unasked and, at least as far as fame goes, often unwanted.

Reg L. Robbins, on the other hand, frankly acknowledged that the reason he tried to fly from the west coast to Tokyo, and the reason he will try again, is money. He wants the $25,000 prize offered by a Japanese newspaper.

Harold S. Jones, Robbins' companion, however, said that he took part in the perilous venture simply for the sport of the thing. He wanted adventure and that was the way he took it.

Otto Rillig and Holger Hoiriis flew to Denmark in much the same spirit, denying that they were trying to prove anything. They were just on a vacation to their homelands and chose to go by air for fun. Alexander Magyar and George Endres, who hopped for Newfoundland yesterday on the first leg of a flight to Hungary, undertook the venture as a means of calling world attention to the persecution they say their native land has been subjected to as a result of the treaty of Trianon.

News dispatches gave no motive for the attempt of Joseph

Fall's Sentence Of Year Set At Year And Day

WILL ENABLE FORMER OFFICIAL TO SERVE IN WESTERN PEN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Albert B. Fall's jail sentence of a year was changed today to a year and a day to enable him to serve his time in a western prison.

The attorney general is expected immediately to designate the prison where the former secretary of the interior will serve.

Will Send Warrant

The clerk of the District of Columbia supreme court will then send a warrant of commitment to the United States marshal in New Mexico, or Texas, and he will take Fall to prison.

The department of justice has asked the warden of the New Mexico penitentiary if Fall could serve his time there and the warden replied that he could.

Frank Hogan, Fall's attorney, today moved before Justice Bailey in the District of Columbia supreme court, that the sentence of a year in the District of Columbia jail be amended to a year and a day in a penitentiary.

Justice Bailey asked District Attorney Leo A. Rover if he had any objection to the motion and when Rover answered "no" the motion was immediately granted.

At the time of the decision Attorney General Mitchell was at a cabinet meeting and he could not be reached immediately.

Justice Bailey suggested last week that the motion be made to enable Fall to serve his sentence in a climate more suitable to his health than that of Washington since the man is a victim of latent tuberculosis. It was feared that the strain of the train trip here and confinement in a climate more humid than that of the west would cause the disease to become active.

Bright Future For Farmer Predicted

CHICAGO, July 14 (AP)—Alexander Legge, former chairman of the Federal Farm board, predicted a bright future for the American farmer in a radio broadcast today.

"Times are hard enough for the agricultural producer right now," he said, "but on the whole he is working himself through this period of depression with less suffering than many other classes, and this difference is largely due to the fact that the farmer did not participate in the so-called boom times of 1925 to 1929 in which so many other industries plunged into a wild orgy of inflation and speculation from which they have had a sad awakening."

TOKYO FLIGHT IS FAILURE

FRENCHMEN JUMP TO SAFETY IN 'CHUTES AS SHIP FAILS

MOSCOW, July 14—Joseph Lebrix and the two French fliers who started with him from Paris on a non-stop flight to Tokyo were waiting in the middle of Siberia today for another ship to bring them back to Moscow.

Their ambitious project ended last night in disaster when something went wrong with their plane "The Hyphen" and the three of them—Lebrix, Parcel Doret and Rene Mesnin, their mechanic—bailed out in parachutes and landed in the rocky foothills of the west Sayan mountains, about half way between Paris and Tokyo.

The place where they landed is so remote from civilization that only the most meagre details of the accident have been received. Its cause is not know.

Lebrix asked that another plane be sent out to bring them home, but the brief messages which have come from him have not disclosed the identity of one of the fliers who was said to have sprained an ankle—the only casualty of the adventure. "The Hyphen" was wrecked.

Jones Sentence Is Upheld On Appeal

A five-year penitentiary sentence dealt R. L. Jones by a jury here for forgery of express traveler's checks has been upheld by the state criminal court of appeals and Jones will be taken from Vernon, where he is held on a forgery charge, to the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

That was the report of the district clerk's office and the sheriff's department here this morning. Jones was sentenced in Seventy-second district court before Judge Homer L. Pharr in March.

Checks which Jones was convicted of forging were identified as stolen in the daylight holdup of a Cyril, Okla., bank in January. Two men arrested with Jones at a Lubbock county farm house were identified as participants in the robbery. Jones testified he obtained the traveler's checks in a gambling game.

LEBOW AGREES TO RETURN TO JAIL

ALLEGED LEADER OF ESCAPE HERE AT VERNON TODAY

A telegram bearing the name of Cecil Lebow, alleged leader of nine felony prisoners who escaped from city jail here, was received shortly before noon today, promising Lebow would return here to surrender himself, Chief of Police John Lemond said.

The message indicated 20-year-old Lebow, under a two-year sentence for burglary in Hale county and facing a theft charge here, had escaped to be with his wife, who underwent an operation yesterday at Vernon.

"On my word and honor, on my way to Lubbock," the telegram said. "Operation okay," it added. Police said they had been informed yesterday that Lebow's wife would undergo an operation at Vernon. This morning's telegram bearing Lebow's name was from Vernon.

Lebow was convicted in the May term of Hale county district court of the burglary of a Texas Utilities company warehouse at Tuco, between Plainview and Abernathy. He was transferred to Lubbock, July 7, for trial on theft charges.

The Lubbock county sheriff's department later was notified that Lebow had been arrested and placed in jail at Vernon. He was arrested after Wilbarger county officers had been asked by the sheriff's office here to watch for him.

Call Off Zeppelin Flight To England

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 14 (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, said today he had called off his plan for a flight to England Thursday because of the grave economic situation in Germany.

He was to have made the flight to Hanworth airdrome from which he intended to make a 24-hour sightseeing flight over England. It would have been the first visit by a Zeppelin to England since the days of the World war.

PRORATION IS OFFERED BY STERLING

PROPER CONSERVATION OF RESOURCES IS ASKED BY GOV.

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 14.—The 42nd Texas legislature convened in special session here at noon today.

Overproduction in the East Texas oil field was the reason for the called session. Governor Ross S. Sterling asked the lawmakers to strengthen the oil proration statutes and to consider legislation to effect proper conservation of all the state's natural resources.

Conservation of natural resources was the only subject submitted by the governor but he was expected to offer congressional redistricting later.

The constitutional limit of the session is 30 days and most legislators expressed an opinion it would last that long.

Only two of the 31 senate members were absent. They were Will N. Martin of Hillsboro, who was ill, and Walter F. Woodul of Houston, excused because of business. About 135 of the 150 house members were reported on hand.

Reading of the governor's message was delayed by the failure of the senate to complete its organization. The senators were in caucus all morning deciding on their employes. The secretary of the caucus said the report would not be ready until 2:30 p. m. The senate recessed until that hour.

OIL INDUSTRY IS WATCHING SOLONS

AUSTIN, July 14 (AP)—The oil industry was watching Austin today where the Texas legislature convened in special session at noon in an effort to revive the ailing business.

Governor Ross S. Sterling called the session for the purpose of dealing with conservation of natural resources. He said congressional redistricting would be submitted later but not until the oil problem was well on its way toward solution.

Several Plans Seen

Indications were that the legislature would have several asserted oil remedies from which to choose. Different factions of oil men arrived with or before the lawmakers and each was anxious to prescribe to the sick patient.

Governor Sterling said he felt certain some legislation would be passed, since the legislators were approaching the question with open minds and appeared to realize something had to be done.

Bill Completed

MILK AND ICE TOTAL GIVEN

MORE THAN 200 TO BE AIDED THIS SUMMER BY $228 FUND

Final report on the Avalanche Journal's Fifth Annual Goodfellow's Milk and Ice fund reveals that a total of $228.02 was secured for operation of the cause during the summer months. More than 200 kiddies and a dozen elderly couples will be served with necessary milk and ice, Mrs. W. T. Milam, who heads the working crew, reports.

The fund's goal was originally set at $200 and, when public donations were closed by the Avalanche-Journal last Friday had reached $216.32. Since that time counter bottles have been emptied and tabulated, bringing in an additional $11.70, Mrs. Milam said this morning.

Mrs. Milam and her assistants, Mrs. G. W. Scott and Mrs. Tom Foster, have decided to leave the counter bottles at strategic points in the city, believing that additional funds will be needed before fall. Contributors to the bottles may rest assured that the money will be used well, Mrs. Milam stated.

Plane Is Groomed For Another Flight

SEATTLE, July 14. (AP)—The monoplane Fort Worth was back in Seattle today being groomed for another attempted non-stop refueling flight from here to Tokyo for a $25,000 prize offered by a Japanese newspaper.

Flown back from Fairbanks, Alaska, in 19 1-2 hours, Reg. L. Robbins, and Harold S. Jones, Texas fliers, set the ship down at Boeing field at 4:56 p. m., (6:56 p. m., Central Standard time) yesterday. They said they fought weather all the way.

Robbins said the second attempted refueling flight to Tokyo would be made within two weeks.

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

AIDING MEMORY

You and I forget. We leave our brief case on the trolley car, our umbrella at the restaurant, our rubbers at the inn. When our children also leave such articles behind and even forget where they were left, we are annoyed.

But we are inclined to do nothing more about it than to scold. Our conscience may prick us as we remember our own frailties.

Nevertheless we ought to do something to prevent our children from acquiring such distressing habits of forgetting as we have. We can help ourselves, of course, by working hard enough. But we are older and our forgetting habits may be so well established as to persist in spite of our efforts to improve. We little realize their seriousness. Hotels, department stores and transportation services spend a pile of money every year on account of our careless habits. Indirectly all of us must help to pay this bill.

Although there is still hope for us to correct our bad habits, there are greater hopes for us to keep our children from acquiring them.

Let us begin very early with the child. We know he is likely to forget; so let us help him to remember. When, for instance, your three-year-old comes in from play without his hat help him find it if he can't alone. Whether it is found or not, tell him clearly how long he will be kept indoors from play following the next offense, or choose some other punishment which will surely help him learn to be thoughtful about his hat. Then don't lie. You have an opportunity to train him early in habits of responsibility.

He leaves his rubbers at school. Make him walk right back for them. If he can't get into the schoolhouse give him some concrete reminder other than your tongue. Trust—not in it, for it is the most useless thing you can employ.

It is 11 o'clock and Mrs. Collins sees on the desk her daughter's homework in arithmetic. The father has the car; so Mrs. Collins trudges through the sleet and rain to carry Marie's homework to her, so she won't be scolded by her teacher. When Mrs. Collins saw that paper of Marie's she should have merely wished that the teacher would make the child's forgetfulness sufficiently uncomfortable that the child would be more thoughtful on the morrow. This failing, Mrs. Collins next time should provide on the girl's return, sufficient punishment to bring results.

Don't carry things after your children; don't be their servants, teaching them to be nuisances to other persons and to lose the opportunity to be responsible for their own things.

My boy of seven came home directly from school a second evening on which he should have gone to take a music lesson. He was told that on the next failure to go for his music he would have to sit for an hour in a chair doing nothing. He remembered the next two lessons but forgot the third. Then he served his sentence which sufficed to keep him thoughtful for the next five weeks.

Why should we do his remembering for him? Why should we rob him of responsibility? Why should we teach him to forget and to be a nuisance? I wish he or someone else had some effective way to cure me as easily of my forgetting similar things. It could be done. But I am forty-five and he is seven.

HUBBERS WILL MEET CLOVIS IN AMARILLO TOURNAMENT TODAY

TEXAS LEAGUE LEADERS DEFEATED

Collier Parris

The Lubbock Hubbers are trying for a comeback this afternoon in the Amarillo News-Globe tournament and if they are successful in their game with the Clovis Demolays, one of the weakest clubs of the tourney, our Hubmen will be back in the thick of the race for first money.

If they win today, and we'r betting our press pass to the Galveston-Nashville Dixie series that they do, the Hubbers will be back on the "winning" side and will meet other winners until they are all eliminated except the Hub City crew—maybe.

We could think up a lot of alibis why Lubbock lost their first game to the Borger club last Sunday, but as stated before it was a grand exhibition of semi-pro baseball and both clubs were battling on fairly even grounds. An alibi, frinstance, might be found in Willis Knight's sore arm. He asked to be replaced. He should never have started the game. He had nothing but a hope on each ball he tossed over.. Add alibis: the Hubbers were far off their hitting form, many of them; they were stricken with stagefright; they were thinking in terms of dollars and cents and not so much in terms of baseball; they were sleepy, tired, disgruntled because of the change in management, and so on, far, far into the night.

That defeat might have been good medicine for the Hubbers, and it may have been the turning point in the tournament. They have been riding high all season, smashing all competition and sailing the calm seas of victory since they were organized. They had to fall sometime and it was better to lose the first game of the tournament than one later on, the last, frixample.

The konductor of this column of kauses does not set himself up as a crusader. Crusading went out with last chase for the Holy Grail and hoop skirts. It is now called promoting. We do not draw a salary for promoting things but we'd like to see Texas Tech get the soup out of the big end of the horn so far as its athletic enterprises are concerned. It would be a change, to say the least. We can't see for the life of us why the state or the college or whoever it was spent a barrell of spinach on the construction of a magnificent power plant and let the athletic department go hang.

We have it from Coach Pete Cawthon himself, who did NOT prompt the writing of these paragraphs, that there is more heat and hot water now circulating the premises than is required, even in the most chilling weather of winter. Yet someone turns a flock of dough into the erection of a fine, brick mansion to house a power plant tended to keep hot air and water circulating while the athletic department continues to be housed in what was originally intended and what resembles a second class storage barn.

There had to be a change made last year when someone who really knew his ropes took charge of the athletic department and gathered about him a larger than usual following of athletes. Did the financial genii of the college do anything about it? Not a thing. By public subscription and hard work on the part of those directly connected enough dough was raised to make the first payment on a field house for football players. The old so-called gymnasium couldn't begin to house the athletes.

The coaching school will soon be upon us. It opens on Monday, August 3, and it promises to be the biggest and best ever held in the southwest. It is the only major school of this end of the country this season and coaches from all parts of the United States are planning the trek to Lubbock. It's a fine thing, as we have reiterated before, for Tech and for Lubbock. More than 250 coaches have already signified their intentions to be present and approximately a hundred others likely will be here.

Besides offering the visiting coaches the best in the way of instruction, Jimmy Phelan and Wallace Wade being about the best there are in the coaching game today so far as football is concerned and Sad Sam Burton and Jimmie Kitts coming to lead the basketball chorus, plans are rapidly being completed for a series of entertainment features which promise to exceed everything experienced here this summer. A special week-end trip to the Carlsbad caverns, dances, golf, tennis and ping pong, are on the calendar.

And you remember the success and handclapping and joyousness that greeted the exponents of the monthly "fun nites" during the spring at Tech? They're going to throw one for the visiting coaches under the Merrill Park lights.

LUBBOCK CLUB FAVORED TO WIN GAME

TITLE AT STAKE FOR LOCAL NINE REST OF THE WAY

With the title ultimately at stake in every game they play from now on, the Lubbock Hubbers meet the Clovis DeMolays this afternoon in the second appearance of either club in the annual Amarillo News-Globe semi-pro baseball tournament.

Lubbock's loss on Sunday placed the team n the "losing" division, and they play the Clovis team which also lost a Sunday encounter. In today's game, which follows a contest between two clubs which have not played yet, the Hubmen are topheavy favorites to win. Clovis went down to a miserable 13 to 0 defeat at the hands of Earl Wyatt's stores team of Amarillo Sunday. Unless they come back with a revised lineup and a couple of pitchers, the Lubbock delegation should get back on the "winning" side and back in the race for the money today.

Ten teams are entered in the tournament at Amarillo. Two games will be played each day, losing teams meeting losers and winners meeting winners until all but two teams have met defeat twice. The remaining two clubs then fight it out for top money, the loser winning second place in the tournament.

Lubbock is still considered a good bet for the prize money. The Hubbers went to Amarillo favored to go through undefeated but they ran up against a snag in the first encounter when the draw gave them the strong Phillips club of Borger. The Borger team used its best and played its best in Sunday's game, however and with but two pitchers of merit the club may be defeated before Lubbock gets around to it again.

Lubbock has Willis Knight, Blue Eyes" Graham, Charles Pressley, Lefty Ward and Dickie on its hurling staff. Knight was withdrawn from the game Sunday in time to save himself a defeat, Graham being charged with the loss when he was touched for a bingle that resulted in a run when he threw wild over home plate. Pressley probably will start today's game. Knight has been suffering from a sore arm since late last week but will be ready to go Thursday when Lubbock meets a winning club, provided victory comes today.

TRAMP PLANNED BY BOY SCOUTS

A three-day tramp was anticipated by 18 Lubbock Boy Scouts as D. T. Jennings, South Plains executive of Lubbock, wrote the Daily Journal from Camp We-hin-ah-pay in the Sacramento mountains of New Mexico. The boys were preparing for the hike Friday morning, Jennings who was to lead them, said.

Provisions and blankets rre carried on a chuckwagon. A group of Lubbock scouts, arriving at the encampment Thursday afternoon from a three-day hike, reported seeing deer and turkey.

"When this bunch returns to Lubbock, the members will be pretty well loaded with silver bracelets and belts, all sorts of tooled leather goods, Indian tom-toms, goofy birds, etc., which they have been making," Jennings wrote.

Rain has occurred but has not interferred with camp activities, the scout executive said. Lubbock scouts and their leaders conduct brief religious services daily.

Forty-two Lubbock boys are at the camp. They will return Wednesday. Those who went on the first mountain tramp were:

Canzoneri Winner Over Cecil Payne

LOS ANGELES, July 14. (AP)—Tony Canzoneri smashed his way to a decision over Cecil Payne, the Louisville, Ky., looper to hold safe his junior welterweight championship of the world here last night before 20,000 persons.

Crossing a terrific right to the jaw, the swarthy Italian from New York floored Payne a short minute after the first round opened, but he seemed to tire at the finish as the Kentucky challenger crashed over swinging lefts and rights at long range.

WHOLESALERS TO MEET RAINBOWS

Resuming the City league schedule this week opens with a game today between the Rainbows and Wholesalers at Merrill Park. The game begins at 6 o'clock.

Only five clubs now compose the City league, the Advertisers having withdrawn from league membership before the close of the first half. Continuing the schedule last week in the second half, days on which the Advertisers were scheduled to play will be regarded as open dates.

A play-off series of three games between the Avalanche-Journal and Texas Utilities teams for the championship of the first half will be held next week, following the return of the Lubbock Hubbers from Amarillo.

WASHINGTON GAINS AN EVEN BREAK MONDAY IN TWIN BILL

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

To a bit of strategy that worked can Walter Johnson attrbute, in part at least, the failure of his Washington Senators to cut into the six-game margin the Philadelphia Athletics enjoy in the American league race.

The Senators gained an even break in a double bill with the A's yesterday but might have won both games had Johnson not resorted to the successful "master-minding" that eventually led to Washington's downfall in the opener.

Although the score was tied at 5-5 at the end of the first seven innings, Fred Marberry had outpitched the A's southpaw ace, Bob Grove, by a wide margin. In the eighth, with two on, however, Johnson pulled Marberry out of the lineup to allow Hargrave to bat for him. Hargrave made this strategy look good with a single that drove in one run. Another filtered across before the inning was over to give the Senators a two-run lead.

A's Go Wild

But the A's who had made only seven hits off Marberry, fell on his successors, Bumps Hadley and Bob Burke, for seven runs on Foxx's triple, a wild pitch, three passes, Dibrell Williams's home run with the bases filled, Cochrane's double and Simmon's homer. George Earnshaw pitched the last inning and held the Senators in check to make the final score 12-7.

Alvin Crowder kept ten hits well scattered in the second game to win 6-4, home runs by Dave Harris and Joe Kuhel accounting for five of the Senators' runs.

Cards Stretch Lead

The double header completed the American league schedule for the day while in the National, the St. Louis Cardinals walloped the Chicago Cubs, 12-5 to stretch their lead to four and one-half games over the idle New York Giants.

In the only other game of the day, Jim Elliott of the Phillies blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates with five hits, 1-0. Remy Kremer also allowed only five hits but two of them were bunched in the ninth for the only run of the contest.

Wolgast Wins Over Negro Flyweight

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Midget Wolgast, speedy Philadelphian who is recognized in some states as flyweight champion, clearly has demonstrated his right to the crown so far as Ruby (Dark Cloud) Bradley of Holyoke, Mass., is concerned.

Wolgast punched out an easy 15-round decision over the New England negro, in a 15-round title bout at the Coney Island stadium last night in the first championship battle there since Jim Jefferies and Jim Corbett clashed for the heavyweight title 30 years ago.

FOUR TRAILING CLUBS WIN ON MONDAY

GALVESTON FURNISHES SHOCK BY DEFEATING HOUSTON AGAIN

(By The Associated Press)

The four second division clubs in the Texas league taught the four first division clubs a few things about winning baseball games Monday night when all the leaders lost and all the trailers won. For the second consecutive time, the Galveston Buccaneers gave the league a shock by defeating Houston in a 5 to 2 contest. Shreveport cooled Wichita Falls 3 to 0; San Antonio beat Beaumont 6 to 2, and the Fort Worth Cats whipped Dallas 5 to 2. As a result of all this, the second half league calendar remained in tact with Houston setting the pace.

Lefty Lee received credit for the only shutout. Lee turned in a magnificent two-hit game against Wichita Falls and pitched hitless baseball for eight innings, then he was touched for hits by Allday and Gullic. He fanned seven and walked six. The Shreveport boys got to Lester White for six hits, and received some aid from the Spudders who contributed four errors, three by Shortstop Scharein.

Tom Estell Stars

San Antonio poured more cold water on Beaumont's second half championship ambition by stopping the Exporters, thanks to a splendid pitching performance by Tom Estell, veteran spit baller. Estell held the Exporters to a pair of hits through seven innings, and gave up only five the entire game. The Exporters scored their two runs when Goldstein, pinch hitting for Lorbeer, singled and Paul Eastling then hit a home run. Bob Sanguinet led San Antonio's offense with three hits. Hamlin and Malicky hurled for Beaumont but were clearly out-pitched by Estell.

The Dallas Steers closed their home stay by dropping their final game to Fort Worth through inability to hit in the pinches. The Steers had eight runners stranded for lack of hits. The Cats uncorked a triple play in the sixth when Jerry Mallet, pinch hitting with the bases loaded, lined to second baseman Dalrymple who caught Cotter off first and a fast relay to third caught Todd. Dallas protested the play, claiming the ball was caught on a short hop instead of in the air, but naturally the protest got nowhere. Grady Adkins started for the Steers and pitched fairly well behind erratic support. He was relieved by Garland before the game was called in the eighth to allow Fort Worth to a catch a train. Terry and Chagnon pitched for the Cats. Terry got credit for winning the game, with Adkins the loser.

Thurman Wins Again

When Galveston beat Houston for their second straight, it gave the Buccaneers their longest winning streak in the second half. It was Preacher Thurman who beat Houston Sunday afternoon to halt the Buffaloes march of twelve consecutive victories, and it was Thurman in a relief role who returned Monday night to again beat Houston. Aiding Thurman was Ballew who banged out three hits and accepted twelve chances without a miscue.

GEORGE GODFREY LOSES WRESTLING MATCH, WINS AT BOXING SAME NIGHT

TORONTO, Ont., July 14 (AP)—George Godfrey, the one-time "black menace of Leiperville, Pa.," apparently has confirmed the rather general supposition that he is a better boxer than a wrestler.

Big George quit the boxing business for wrestling some months ago but last night he amused a crowd of 7,000 by doing a little of both.

The giant negro, scaling 268 pounds was thrown in 11 minutes, 42 seconds by Stanley Stasiak, Poland, 257, in a wrestling match but a few minutes later took on George Gemas of Philadelphia, 200, in a boxing bout and stopped him in 1:22 of the second round.

Godfrey had little chance with Stasiak in the wrestling bout but outclasses Gemas at boxing, flooring the Philadelphian four times before landing the finishing punch.

SCHMELING IS WELCOMED

CHAMPION ARRIVES AT BERLIN TO RECEIVE BIG OVATION

BERLIN, July 14 (AP)—Max Schmeling is back home again, this time fully recognized by German boxing experts as the legitimate heavyweight champion of the world, and a "credit to the fatherland."

"Der Maxie," arriving in Berlin by air from Bremen yesterday, found an enthusiastic crowd of 8,000 waiting to cheer the champion who proved his right to the crown by whipping W. L. (Young) Stribling so easily in Cleveland ten days ago.

Speeches by leading sport authorities paid tribute to Max as a "shining example of German sportsmanship" and a "master of all categories."

Schmeling, perhaps remembering the somewhat cold reception that awaited him on his arrival home after winning on a foul from Jack Sharkey, replied:

"I'm glad to be back home and I'm glad to have had a chance to prove myself a genuine champion."

FRENCH HOPES HELD DIM

JEAN BOROTRA SAYS TRI-COLOR WILL LOSE AT TENNIS

PARIS, July 14. (AP)—France is strictly "bearish" on her prospects of retaining the Davis tennis cup this year.

No less a tennis authority than Jean Borotra has expressed the opinion that the tri-color probably will lose the cup it has held since 1927.

Neither Henri Cochet nor Rene LaCoste will have time to get into first-rate playing condition for the challenge round matches with either the United States or Great Britain, Borotra fears. Cochet, troubled by illness all year, now is suffering from an injured shoulder. LaCoste, although named captain of the French team, is not expected to play.

In the meantmie the United States squad of Frank Shields, Sidney B. Wood, George Lott and John Van Ryn is practicing strenuously for the inter-zone finals with Great Britain, starting Thursday. Shields has completely recovered from the knee injury that forced him to default to Wood in the singles finals at Wimbledon.

"DIVINE HEALING SERVICES" SLATED

"Divine healing services" will be conducted at the Foursquare revival in a tent at Avenue L and Nineteenth street tonight, Rev. Anna L. Benton, leader of the evangelistic party, said. Tonight has been designated as "stretcher night." She urged that the afflicted be brought to the services.

Rev. A. C. Wegner, divisional officer of the Foursquare work in Texas and Oklahoma, will participate in the service. He will preach on "A Double Cure for a Double Curse."

Rev. Benton spoke on "God's Benefits Unto Man" at last night's services.

Wise Investment

The four-year era of prosperity that began along in 1925 added enormous increases to the values of industrial stocks and to the private fortunes of America's wealthiest men.

All of this got widespread attention at the time. To some it was an indication of a new economic era; to others it foreshadowed an ever-growing concentration of great wealth and power in the hands of a small group.

Along with it, however, there was another development that got less attention, although it probably will have an infinitely greater influence for the well-being of the country; a striking growth in the size of the endowment funds of colleges and universities.

Figures compiled just recently show that the ten wealthiest colleges and universities in America—excluding the big state and municipal institutions—now have endowment funds totaling more than $380,000,000. This represents an increase from $220,000,000 in 1925 and indicates that some, at least, of the gains of the boom era were put away where they could go on working for the welfare of the nation as a whole.

It would, in fact, be difficult to over-estimate the importance of this. The rich men who diverted $171,000,000 of their profits in the years of prosperity to enrich American educational institutions invested their money very wisely.

Long after the other effects of the "Coolidge prosperity" years have worn off, this money will still be working, helping to spread the light without which the American democracy cannot survive.

By Telephone

One of the most interesting things about the recent reparations-war debts moratorium negotiations is that they were conducted largely by trans-Atlantic telephone. For the first time in history, statesmen have talked back and forth across the ocean instead of confiding their interchange of thoughts to courier or cable transmission.

The enormous advantage that this gives to the modern diplomat is obvious. Five minutes actual conversation can adjust two conflicting points of view better than a whole sheaf of cablegrams. It is hardly straining the imagination to look forward to the day when heads of governments will talk with one another directly, without the use of any intermediaries at all. When they do, international understandings should benefit immeasurably.

Competition

Passenger fares on commercial air lines continue to go down. Recent Department of Commerce figures show that they have decreased from 12 cents a mile in 1926 to a little more than 8 cents a mile early this year. By now it is believed that they are below 7 cents a mile.

Let these fares get down only a little bit lower and the railroads will notice the airplanes' competition in a marked manner. Two considerations—expense and safety—have thus far kept the majority of travelers on the ground. But public faith in the safety of aerial travel is becoming stronger every month, and if the expense drops even a little lower than its present level the railroads will find the airplane an extremely formidable competitor.

THE recent jail break serves as a reminder that Lubbock county will soon have the best jail in West Texas. However, even its most enthusiastic supporters do not forecast that it will measure up to the new high school.

Foolishness to one side with a deft flick of the wrist, a good jail is an asset. The term "all conveniences of a modern jail" has elicited many giggles from many quarters, yet an up-to-date 'stout house' is no small possession.

LET us suppose, for a moment, that included in the Saturday night jail break had been three or four—or even one or two-desperate criminals. They could—and probably would have done enough damage to life, limb and property to thereby make the new county jail a good investment. As it was, Lubbock can consider itself fortunate that only the 'smaller fry' slipped back into the ranks of society—the more hardened of their companions having been previously carted to Plainview to do their looking on the outside, from the inside.

That Man on Avenue Q says it's easier to do a thing right than to explain why you did it wrong.

While on the subject of jails and jailbirds, it is not amiss to note that crime, particularly thieving and burglary are on the upgrade in Lubbock. The cause, of course, is apparent. There is a great deal of unemployment everywhere and a certain percentage of unemployed drift into fields of crime. They travel, hither, thither and yon, plying their trade—and they'll drift in and out of Lubbock, just as they'll drift in and out of everywhere.

ANOTHER reason for increase in crime is that money is harder to get now than it usually is—legitimate business men will tell you so. And the fellows who have been engaged in minor grafts and confidence games have had their water shut off, so they naturally have drifted into the habit of knocking knobs off safes, sticking up filling stations and grocery stores, and generally making themselves a nuisance. Add to this reason the fact that more people—bad ones as well as good ones—are coming into this country all the time and you have three good facts upon which to base your cogitations on "why more crime?"

Up at Amarillo they have slashed their police and fire departments—letting off something like 20 men. In the opinion of this column, that is false economy and instead of reducing the force in Lubbock, the city should increase the protection in direct ratio with crime.

The Plainsman has never believed that two motor patrolmen were enough for Lubbock. He has never believed that the residence secton—or at least a large part of it—should be allowed to go unpatrolled. The way to guard the public from depredations of criminals is by protecting property—not by permitting it to be stolen and then trying to even up the score by sending somebody to Huntsville, to eat off the state.

BECAUSE The Plainsman sees a very sound reason for the increase of crime here, he has not joined the anvil chorus which is directed at the law-enforcement officers. To be sure he disagrees in some points, with the men who admittedly know more about the policing of the city than he does. But in that disagreement the point involved is one in which the writer has had some experience.

For instance, there is an occasional effort on the part of the police department to 'cover up' on crime reports. Whether the 'covering up' process is done to save the department fancied embarrassment, or to give the local sherlocks an opportunity to do some q. t. sleuthing, The Plainsman doesn't know—but in either case it is in error. No police department has any reason to be embarrassed because of a crime or crimes. And all the q. t. sleuthing in the world isn't going to make the criminal forget that he is the object of a search.

JUST the other day there was a robbery. The Journal was tipped off and a reporter hustled to the police station, only to be told that "there has been no report made of any such robbery". The reporter went to the scene of the robbery and got his information from the man who had been robbed and who said he had notified the police.

"They told me", he added, "to keep it quiet and not say anything to the newspapers".

This column is in direct disagreement with any such theory. Lubbock newspapers always have and always will cooperate with law enforcement authorities in their efforts to clear up and to decrease crime. But Lubbock newspapers likewise believe that the public is entitled to know that crimes are being committed, so that the public may guard itself against future raids.

ANY time the police department produces a request that publicity on any given crime be held up for a good and sufficient reason, all the department has to do is make a request. But generally speaking, the Avalanche and Journal will continue to print the news of crimes as a part of their business to inform the public.

There's too much thieving going on here to adopt a policy of poking heads in the sand and failing to look the problem directly in the eye. When Bill Jones' store is robbed, the Avalanche-Journal will tell the story, if it can get the facts in one way or another, so John Smith who has a store on the next corner, will take some steps to prevent a robbery of his own place.

Soft-pedaling robberies won't do anybody any good. The way to solve a problem is to meet it, not to hide from it.

Believe Hoover Sending Hurley To Philippines Because He Senses Importance Of Independence For The Islands

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 14—Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley's forthcoming visit to the Philippines is an immediate development which suggests that something definite will be done before long about the issue of independence for the islands.

DUTCHER

The situation has been shaping in that direction for some time. There are so many Democrats in the present Congress, their party committed in its last platform to immediate independence and so many American producers have come to join the independence cause for business reasons that a strong fight for independence is expected to be made at the next session. The Philippines now offer the makings of a domestic political issue and it is supposed that President Hoover is sending Hurley in order to be better able to formulate some sort of administration policy.

Free Trade Question

The independence issue is more complicated than it used to be because the same factors which are creating real political pressure for immediate independence are giving the Filipinos and their American friends a certain amount of pause as they consider the possible effects of losing the free trade which is one benefit of their present status.

Our farmer and labor groups which are urging prompt independence for the little brown brethren are primarily interested in an immediate tariff on Filipino products. The northwestern dairy farmers who object to duty-free imports of coconut oil, the southern cotton raisers who regard coconut oil as a serious competitor of their cottonseed oil and the beet sugar interests of the west are little interested in any arrangement which would extend gradual independence and preserve free trade through an adjustment period lasting many years. Organized labor, seeking to bar Filipino immigrants who may now come in any number, wants that bar raised now.

What Filipinos Want

But what the Filipinos really appear to want is independence with a minimum of economic damage. Their leaders still assert that they want immediate independence more than anything else and that their exports to this country are a secondary matter but most of them are not as emphatic and voluble about it as they were. Impartial observers believe that many Filipinos are somewhat confused as to just what attitude they should take.

Emilio Aguinaldo, the old insurrectionist leader, has proposed that independence be granted over a five-year transition period and that we continue to receive Filipino exports free of duty for the following 10 years.

Members of Congress have advanced various proposals which also provide a transition period and senators who have studied the situation in the islands—most recently Oddie of Nevada—have advised that for the benefit of the islanders themselves this country should go slow in any independence program.

Five-Year Plan

The measure sponsored by Senators Hawes of Missouri and Cutting of New Mexico has considerable support both on Capitol Hill and among Filipinos. It would give the islands independence for five years with a tariff on their imports and a tariff operating against their exports to the United States. At the end of the five years the Filipinos would hold a plebiscite to decide how they liked the experience and decide whether they wanted to continue independent or return to the existing status.

Hawes will be equipped at the next session with results of his study this summer in the Islands which he explained was designed to ascertain actual Filipino sentiment. Until lately it has been widely believed that that sentiment overwhelmingly favored immediate and unconditional freedom, tariff or no tariff. But it is probably worth noting that President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine senate, now here on another independence mission, in a recent denial that there had been any change in the attitude of his people suggested that the tariff and other economic questions "can be adjusted to the satisfaction of the people of both countries."

The inference was that the Filipinos wouldn't be happy unless something was done to insure them against possible serious effects of a tariff wall against the 80 per cent of their major exports which now enter this territory.

Diet and Health

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Obesity," "Feminine Hygiene" "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

FATTENING FOODS

"What foods are fattening?" is a question often asked me.

The answer is that all foods are fattening if you take enough of them.

Dr. Clendening

But what the question means is whether there are certain foods that more easily turn into fat than others.

Fats probably correspond to this better than any other food. Fats yield a high amount of energy — nearly twice as high as any other form of food and hence produce a great deal of excess energy. This excess is not always used up and is stored in the form of body fat. Hence, as I suggested yesterday, the easiest simple first step in a reducing diet is to eliminate butter and cream.

Sugars and starches were once supposed to be more fattening than anything else. Most nutrition experts have now abandoned this idea in favor of the greater weight-producing qualities of fat.

But still the sugars and starches have strongly fattening qualities. And the simpler the form in which they are eaten the more is this likely to be the case.

All starches and sugars are reduced to a very simple sugar—glucose—before they are absorbed. This is true whether you eat them in a simple form such as orange juice or table sugar, or whether in complex molecules as in lettuce or tomatoes. But if eaten in the form of lettuce it takes a longer time for the digestion to reduce the starch to a simple form, and hence the absorption rate is slower.

The glucose gets to the liver in small quantities from the vegetables and some time after digestion. In the case of sugar or candy, on the other hand, they are quickly reduced and large amounts of glucose enter the liver immediately. When this happens the machinery has more on hand than it can use, and apparently the excess is converted into the storage material of the body—fat.

For these reasons we conclude that the least fattening foods are the green vegetables and berries. This is true partly because in eating them they fill you up quickly and diminish the sense of hunger. Candy and meat and fats such as salad dressings have a "come on" quality that makes you eat more than you really need—a common habit after thirty-five, anyway.

Evans Leaves For Work In Bolivia

SWAN

In New York With Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, July 14.—It was getting toward morning. The scene was one of the ultra-swanky resorts in the early Fifties where you get entertainment with your libations and pay one dollar per "libe."

Tiny pianos move from room to room and some of the better entertainers of the night clubs and the theaters, out of work, may be found there. In one such spot, just down street, six Hawaiians keep the ground floor crowd entranced with tropical topical tunes.

During the afternoons bored society beauties play backgammon—and sip highballs or cocktails. The turnover, in the course of an evening, is tremendous. Even with three floors and many number of tables and bars, the late crowds have to edge their way in. Sometimes they sit on the stairways—and like it. At one dollar per "libe."

Many writers of Manhattan doings drop in during the course of an evening, feeling almost certain that they will leave with a story or so.

Very well—there are two singers of Spanish songs. They come from Mexico. Their voices are soft, and they are both as handsome as young Latins have any right to be. They are exactly what the tired woman-about-town might order. Scores of matrons and maids sigh at their approach. They receive any number of "sotto voce" invitations from romantic women. After-the-matinee girls, most of them quite attractive, offer them neat tips and extend whispered invitations for rendezvous. They could be invited to some of the very "better" Park Avenue places, if they wished. But their business is singing at tables—and they know it.

I had known one of the singers shortly after he arrived in New York. He had gone to work for a new night place that offered a western atmosphere—even to the extent of a little roulette and gambling on the third floor. The place did not click.

And so, meeting him again, the singer of Spanish songs drifted over to our table. We fell to talking of the odd things that happen in such places. And finding a sympathetic audience, he reached in his pocket and took out a picture torn from the rotogravuer section of a Sunday paper—

"I am in love," he confessed, handing over the photo which was that of a most beautiful blond. "And I think that she is in love with me."

A quick glance showed that the name and caption had been torn or cut carefully from the clipping.

"She is a very rich girl . . . a girl with much social background . . . and I am only an entertainer. She comes in here many afternoons. I expect her to come in tonight—late! Some day, maybe, we will marry. But what am I to do? To marry her would make it look as if I were after her money. What have I to offer? She has beauty and a great fortune . . . I am only an entertainer in a gay club."

This picture does not do her justice. Wait, I will show you."

He left for a moment and returned with a folder filled with photographs, each lovelier than the last. We looked them over and made suggestions. To each of which, he shook his head—No, he was only an entertainer. Someone rapped on a table. Across the room, another lovely girl was displaying a $5 bill. He picked up his guitar and, in a soft, wooing voice, began to sing again.

"Well, you never can tell what you'll run into," commented my companion.

As we left, we saw him taking the bill!

"Matrimony," says Peggy Hopkins Joyce, "is a serious business." A business which, she will agree, sometimes pays handsome dividends.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The pillow fight was quite a trick. The players perched upon a stick, held up by two poles in the ground. The Tinies thought it great. As Scouty sat up on the pole wee Clowny said, Well bless my soul. This ought to be a battle swell. Gee! I can hardly wait."

Each one held to his pillow tight and then somebody yelled, "All right! Start swinging with your pillows and we'll see who falls off first." Both of the Tinies started fast. It didn't seem the fight would last so very ong. The others wondered who would get the worst.

'Twas sock and slap and slap and sock. Both of the Tinies seemed to rock as pillows landed on them after quite a healthy swing. One of the natives shouted, "Stop and rest awhile before you flop. It isn't fair to fall off. Being knocked off is the thing."

They rested for a minute. Then were at their battle once again. All of a sudden Scouty socked poor Clowny on the chest. He fairly seemed to turn around and then he tumbled to the ground. Wee Clowny jumped up to his feet and cried, "You are the best."

The other Tinies didn't care to climb away up in the air and have their turn at fighting, so the pillow fight was o'er. The Travel Man then said, "Come, now, right down the beach we'll soon see how they staged their fine boat races. There are 50 boats, or more."

And, sure enough, the Tinies saw a sight that filled them all with awe. The little sail boats formed in line all ready for the race. Said Scouty, "Cee, I'm glad we're here. Let's all be set to give a cheer as soon as some boat pulls up to the winning finish place."

(The Tinymites see some kangaroos in the next story.)

FORESTS ON FIRE IN TWO STATES

SPOKANE, Wash., July 14. (AP)—Fiery forests of north Idaho and Montana spewed smoke across the region today, hindering the work of fire fighters and the reports of government airplane observers.

Hundreds of fires, large and small, dotted the timberlands, and 1,000 men tried to ring them in with trenches.

The Clearwater forest fire was believed to approximate 1,000 acres.

Forestry officials said it was impossible to give the exact number of dimensions of the fires today. Saleable timber had not been damaged greatly, but the situation was regarded as serious.

Dallas, Texas—Neuritis is another of the many ailments that in many cases is traced to some form of constipation or system weakness. It is not surprising therefore that Mrs. [illegible] M. "For three or four years I used electric treatments and all kinds of medicine for my neuritis," says Mrs. Cavalier, "but got no relief. Then my neighbors told me about Herb Extract. I began taking it and find it a great medicine. The pains in my arms have ceased and I feel better in every way.

Herb Extract (for years called Herb Juice) is a remarkable combination of natural herbs that has brought thousands of people amazing relief. Herb Extract can now be bought at any drug store, so there is absolutely no excuse for you to suffer. Get a bottle today.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 4 to 8 points higher on covering and some scattered buying which was evidently encouraged by relatively steady Liverpool cables and a more favorable view of the early reports from Europe.

Further liquidaton, coupled with some Wall Street and some local selling, caused more or less irregularity during the early trading but the active months sold about 6 to 10 points net higher with July advancing to 9.01 and December to 9.60. Prices were a shade off from the best at the end of the first half hour with the market quiet and traders evidently inclined to await further developments.

Liverpool cables reported a small and nervous market with the tone unsettled by the German financial situation but said there had been some continental buying.

After holding fairly steady with narrow and rather irregular fluctuations during the greater part of the morning, prices eased slightly under some local and New Orleans selling which seemed to be influenced by reports of an easier tone in the stock market. Prices lost most of their early gains, with the midday market quiet around 8.97 for July and 9.52 for December, making the active months about 1 to 4 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 14 (AP)—Cotton had a quiet but steady opening today. Liverpool cables were slightly better than due and there was a more confident feeling that the German financial situation would be solved. First trades here showed gains of 3 to 4 points and the market continued to improve after the start. October advancing to 9.39 and December to 9.50, or 7 to 10 points above yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market eased off 2 to 4 points on a little realizing but the undertone continued steady.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 14. (AP)—Grains scored price upturns early today, helped by comparative firmness of the Liverpool wheat market and of New York stocks. German financial developments were given a bullish construction and there was a let-up in selling pressure on cereals.

Opening unchanged to 1-2 cent higher, wheat later held near to the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to 7-8 advance and continued to point upward.

FLIGHT REASONS

Lebrix and Marcel Doret to fly from Paris to Tokyo other than that they wished to establish a new straight line non-stop record. But it can at least be speculated that a feeling of rivalry played some part in this flight, for the present record is held by Dieudonne Coste with whom Lebrix once flew to America by way of the south Atlantic and from whom he parted with considerable hard feeling.

Laura Ingalls, now flying to New York from the west for an attempt at a solo flight across the Atlantic in the ill-fated footsteps of Ruth Nichols, wants to give additional lustre to the reputation both of women and of aviation. She hopes her flight will help avintion by showing that a lone woman can fly a modern plane across the ocean and will at the same time throw new light on the importance in the world of affairs of the modern woman.

So it goes. Each flier has a reason of his, or her own, and new reasons come along as fast as new fliers. The most recent and in ways the strangest of all is the reason of James G. Hall who is to attack the trans-continental records of Frank Hawks in the interests of prohibition repeal. His plane is called the Crusader for an organization of that name formed to combat the Eighteenth amendment, and under the name is printed "help end prohibition."

FIND CLUES IN TYLER DEATH

ARREST EXPECTED OF NEGRO SLAYER BY AUTHORITIES

TYLER, July 14 (AP) — After searching 36 hours for the negro who fatally shot Manuel Meyer, 25 year old groceryman, when he refused a demand of $100 early Sunday morning, authorities announced they had tangible clues and expected to make an arrest shortly.

Scores of negroes were rounded up for questioning. Only five were in custody today. Feeling in the town against the slayer was quieter. Meyer was awakened from his sleep at his combination residence-grocery by a negro at the rear door. The negro demanded $100 and shot when Meyer brought $40 with the explanation it was all he had. Officials expressed belief Meyer recognized the negro who became frightened.

HUNGARIAN ACES POSTPONE FLIGHT

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., July 14. (AP)—Prospects of bad weather prompted Alexander Magyar and George Endres, Hungarian fliers, to postpone their take-off for Budapest today.

They said they would put in the day loading 830 gallons of gasoline into their plane, "Justice to Hungary," and would take off as soon as the weather cleared.

The gasoline which they have had stored here since last autumn, they estimate, is enough for 28 hours flying although they expect to reach Budapest or some other point in Hungary in 26 hours or less.

They landed from Roosevelt field at 4:32 p. m. (Central Standard time) yesterday after taking off against the advice of Dr. James J. Kimball, meteorologist and flying weather expert.

STRIKE LOOMS IN JUAREZ

TWO THOUSAND TO BE AFFECTED IF PLAN IS CARRIED OUT

EL PASO, July 14. (AP)—Labor union officials of Juarez announced a general strike affecting about 2,000 men would be called in that city at midnight tonight unless Gov. Andres Artiz of Chihuahua rescinded an order directing 12 saloons and cabarets there to close at 9 p. m. on week days and 1 a. m. on Sundays.

Gov. Ortiz abolished the midnight closing hour for the 12 resorts a week ago on grounds that their location near an international bridge between Juarez and El Paso enabled them to draw an unfair proportion of business from uptown saloons and cabarets. The latter were permitted to remain open after 9 p. m.

The labor leaders at a meeting voted to petition the governor to restore the former closing hour and to give him 24 hours to act. They said in a statement that if he refused the strike would be called.

The statement declared more than 400 employes of the establishments ordered to close at 9 p. m. had been affected and it was urgent that these employes and their families should be the victims of "one or two exploiting promoters."

The strike would affect waiters, bar tenders, taxi drivers and members of all other unions affiliated with the Labor Federation of the North (Northern Chihuahua) in Juarez. Such a strike never has been called in Juarez previously.

A British airplane route running the length of Africa from Cairo to Cape Town, 5750 miles apart, is scheduled to commence operation soon.

SHORN OF HER ROYAL PREROGATIVES, QUEEN HELEN SEES PERSONAL RIGHTS FADING UNDER HAND OF KING CAROL

(By The Associated Press)

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 13—Queen Helen, already shorn of her royal prerogatives, today saw her personal rights fading under the hand of King Carol.

Shortly after her chamberlain announced she would spend the summer at Constanza with Crown Prince Michael, Carol issued a proclamation denying the truth of the statement. His words were taken to mean that the boy would remain in Bucharest with his father.

The exact effect of the King's pronouncement was in doubt. At any rate, it produced an unfavorable impression in society circles and was the subject of much comment.

Not Invited

Queen Helen was not included in the list of guests for the wedding of Princess Ileana and Archduke Anton at Sinaia on July 26. All other members of the royal family have been invited but her name was omitted without a reason being given.

The guests include King Alexander and Queen Marie of Jugoslavia, former King George and Queen Elizabeth of Greece, Grand-Duchess Cyril and her daughter, Princess Yjra, the prince and princess of Hohenzollern, the Prince of Leinigen, the Princesses of Hohenloe, infanta and the infante of Spain, Premier Jorga, the president of the chamber and senate and other dignitaries of the state and the church.

King Carol and the Prince of Hohenzollern will be witnesses for Princess Ileana. Archduke Anton's witnesses will be his father, Archduke Leopold Salvator, and the count of Guelf.

Last Two Days

The festivities will last from the 24th to the 26th. The principals will give congratulations and gifts at the palace of Pelesch on the first day, a grand banquet and reception will be held on the second and the marriage ceremonies, civil and religious, will take place on the morning of the third.

After a wedding breakfast, the bride and bridegroom will motor to Queen Marie's castle at Bran, Transylvania, where they will spend a month's honeymoon. They will make a tour of the country, visiting the royal castles, and take up their residence at Munich in the castle of the Infanta of Spain.

GERMAN BANKS

The Reichbank is the central bank of Germany, corresponding to the Bank of England. There is no institution in the United States whose function correspond exactly with those of the Reichbank.

Both banks and postoffices were prohibited from handling payments on transfers either in Germany or to foreign countries. Stock exchanges were ordered to suspend operations for the remainder of the week. Anyone insisting on buying foregn currencies had to pay cash over the counter. Checks were not accepted.

President Von Hindenburg did not take advantage of his dictatorial powers until dispatches from the provinces, especially from the Rhineland, indicated that civic authorities already had been forced by heavy runs to close municipal savings banks temporarily. Berlin was quieter, but a hundred police guarded the Central Municipal savings bank as it paid out heavy deposits to thousands.

Jobless Riot

Riots of jobless in Essen and Duisburg against the reduction in the unemployment dole, which unluckily went into effect on the day of the Danat bank's suspension, were not reassuring. Nor was the news from Frankfort-au-Main that the latest attempt to show "All Quiet on the Western Front" had been marked by the hurling of a hand grenade in an empty theater lobby.

Radio broadcasters worked overtime in urging the public to keep its nerve, not to surrender to panic and to remember that Germany was basically sound. There was no inclination in government circles to exaggerate the peril of a panicky people.

CONCERN FELT

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The financial situation in Germany was the cause of deep concern today in administration circles.

Although the decision of the World Bank for International Settlements at Basel had the recommendation of its directorate to extend rediscount credit of $100,000,000 to the Reichbank somewhat eased the anxiety President Hoover continued to watch every development.

Border on Collapse

Reports on the frail economic position of the Breuning government from American Ambassador Sackett in Berlin and Rudolph Leitner, charge d'affaires of the German embassy, indicated conditions still were bordering on collapse.

While the American government can take no direct action, President Hoover has been assured domestic bankers would place their powerful influence behind any plan that would bring about Germany's economic restoration.

SPECIAL SESSION

which had long requested a special session, yesterday completed a bill to be recommended to the lawmakers. It was ready to be submitted to the entire emergency committee of 57 today.

The legislative committee's bill would give the regulatory commission power to prevent production over reasonable market and storage demands and would amend court procedure so that proration would not be suspended while a law or order was being tested in the courts.

The committee was silent on one of the most controversial questions, whether proration should be left to the elective railroad commission or a new appointive commission should be created.

The governor had his message ready for delivery. It was brief but it was uncertain whether the legislature would be ready to receive it today.

THREE DROWN

ranch was combed, neighbor homes were visited, and at 10 o'clock dragging of the lake was started. City firemen and police were called with recovery of Ruth Leggett's body.

The funeral service will be held at 5 this evening from the home of Mr. Leggett's sister, Mrs. L. J. Pickard, by Millard A. Jenkens, pastor of the First Baptist church. The bodies will rest beside those of Judge and Mrs. K. K. Legett, grandparents of the children. Ruth and Lora will sleep in one casket and one grave.

Mrs. Legett formerly was Miss Annie Maude Aycock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Aycock, pioneer ranch owners of Midland.

Yesterday's tragedy paralleled a quadruple drowning near here May 25, 1924, when Miss Willie Rogers of Albany and three children of Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Lockett were drowned when the family car was caught in a freshet on Deadman creek, northeast of the city.

ELIZABETH ARDEN'S PREPARATIONS ARE OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE TO FASHION

"STYLE YOUR FACE
in harmony with your new clothes"
says Elizabeth Arden

"We are so careful about our accessories. They must be just the right shade to set off our costumes to best advantage, and yet our poor faces may still be wearing their 1928 color schemes! It is time we styled them too.

"Take the matter of becoming shades . . . you probably have two or three favorites you feel you must stick to, whatever the fashion. Such limitations are unnecessary . . . and uninteresting, especially in a season when unusual colors are in vogue. Don't be dismayed. By skilful variations in your make-up you can come to delightfully friendly terms with all the new blues and greens and soft spring-like beige and gray tones.

"The day when one rouge and one lipstick were enough is gone. Every woman should have at least three tones of rouge and four or five assorted lipsticks to assure successful make-up with every costume.

"The off-the-face hats this season have taught us the importance of eye values. A smooth brow and interesting eyes have been essential and care and make-up have made them possible.

"Then, too, the evening dress that has slipped way down the back has brought about an acute situation. Spines must not be too evident, shoulder blades must be well covered, skin must be satiny. Bleaching and circulation treatments, plenty of rich cream and a good evening make-up will accomplish this.

"And there is to be an open season on elbows. You may not have a dimpled elbow, but see to it that you have a smooth white one.

"Remember that the basis of all beauty is harmony, and that you reach perfection only when every part of you fits into the picture!"

Elizabeth Arden's famous beauty house are completely equipped with preparations for the regular care of the skin as well as exquisite make-up accessories to accent loveliness. $3.85 to $250.

Miss Arden's booklet "The Quest of The Beautiful" will guide you in selecting the preparations best suited to your type of skin. A copy will be gladly given you at the Toilet Goods Counter.

PROHIBITION FLAYED IN LETTERS BY JEFFERSON DAVIS, BROUGHT TO LIGHT

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 14. (AP)—Letters signed "Jefferson Davis," and said by local officers of the women's organization for national prohibition reform to have been verified as written by the president of the Confederacy, in which he expresses his views on personal liberty and prohibition of intoxicating liquors, have been brought to light here.

Miss Gene Brashear, secretary of the Kentucky branch of the organization, found them in a scrap book she had purchased from a destitute family. Mrs. Attwood Martin, vice chairman, said she conducted a search resulted in verification of their authenticity.

Answers Pro Advocate

The first, dated Beauvoir, Miss., July 20, 1887, is addressed to Colonel E. R. Lubbock, who had urged the former confederate president to express an opinion on a proposed law in Texas to prohibit sale of liquor.

"To destroy individual liberty and moral responsibility," the letter says, "would be to eradicate one evil by the substitution of another, which it is submitted would be more fatal than that for which it was offered as a remedy, the abuse, and not the use of stimulants it must be confessed, is the evil to be remedied. Why not pronounce drunkenness itself to be a crime. If it be true that juries could not be impanelled who would convict so degraded a criminal as a drunkard, it necessarily follows that a statutory prohibition against the sale and use of intoxicants would be a dead letter."

Object of Attack

This letter caused attacks on him by prohibition advocates, who were defeated at the polls so in a subsequent letter, dated August 24 of the same year, Davis wrote to Rev. W. M. Leftwich:

"I saw no evil, and hoped much good, from the measure of local option by which public opinion and law would go hand in hand but when it was proposed to extend such narrow sumptuary measures as were proposed in Texas and instead of a village, town or magistrate's beat, to embrace a whole state; and, further, when I heard that petitions were in circulation for prohibiting enactments by the congress of the United States, there loomed up a gigantic monster before which the liberties our fathers left us could offer but a vain resistance."

"You and all others who remember the closing years of the war and the period of reconstruction will require no words to enforce the horrors of a condition which should expose our people to spies, informers and arbitrary powers."

SAN ANTONIO IN WAR ON UTILITIES

SAN ANTONIO, July 14. (AP)—Another move in the city's war on public utilities was made with passage of an ordinance by the city commission, introduced by Mayor C. M. Chambers, creating the office of a special utility attorney for the city.

Under the terms of the measure the utility attorney will act as advisor to the city commission in all matters pertaining to public utility in the city, will be responsible for enforcement of all laws pertaining to public utilities, shall conduct an investigation into a utility company ordered by the commission and shall represent complaints of customers against utilities when the complaint is registered with the city.

Mayor Chambers said no selection had been made for the new office, and he did not know just when the appointment would be made.

Electric Motor In Dairy Is Destroyed

Fire destroyed a small electric motor in the boiler room of the Ran Smith dairy, two miles northwest of Lubbock, shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The Lubbock fire department extinguished the blaze.

The room in which the fire occurred was fireproof, and other damage was negligible. The fire originated at the furnace in the room. Crude oil, used as fuel, became ignited after escaping from a storage tank.

The method of voting used by the Greeks for some 2500 years consisted of having an urn to represent each candidate. The voter tossed in a white pebble if he wished to vote for a candidate and a black one if he wished to vote against him.

THOMAS YOUNG RANKS FIRST

LUBBOCK HIGH SENIOR LEADS CONTESTANTS IN CONTEST HERE

Thomas Young, 17-year-old Lubbock High school senior, ranked first among the 55 South Plains boys who took the National Intelligence test Saturday afternoon at Texas Technological college, the judges announced late yesterday. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Young of the Young hotel, Broadway and Avenue G.

The contest was conducted throughout the United States by Central Press association and sponsored on the South Plains by the Avalanche-Journal. Young is eligible to compete in the national contest, in which the six boys will receive free trips to Italy. If he fails to place in competition for the continental tour, Young will be awarded a year's free scholarship at Technological college on being graduated from high school.

Interest In Aviation

South Plains high school boys are more interested in aviation, science, and motion pictures than in history, art, literature, and choice of words. That was the concensus of judges of papers in the local examination. Seventeen high schools were represented in the South Plains contest.

McNeill Is Second

John McNeill, a Lubbock high sophomore, 1516 14th street, was ranked second and is eligible either for the scholarship in the event Young wins a trip or $10 in cash if he doesn't.

C. E. Mitchell, a senior in Slaton high school, was adjudged third place man in the test and will either receive the $10 in cash in the event of Young's winning the trip or $5 if he doesn't.

Allensworth Fourth

Hubert Allensworth, 2340 19th street, was fourth place man and will receive $2.50 cash if Young doesn't win a trip or $5 if he does.

John Spencer, 1647 13th street, another Lubbock high senior, was placed fifth in the examination. Should Young be victorious in a trip's award, Spencer will receive $2.50 cash. Otherwise his reward will be just honorable mention.

Sixth place went to David Humphreys, 1916 8th street.

As a whole, the boys did better on the test than expected, the college officials in charge of the judging declared.

Work Is Good

"The boys' work in the test was far better than some freshman work in college I've seen," Prof. R. A. Mills, one of the judges, said Monday after the task of grading the papers had been completed. "They spelled better and handled the use of words better than the average freshman."

Another judge, Cecil Horne, head of the journalism department, lauded the contest and the spirit of competition exhibited by the boys. He expressed a desire to see the test conducted as an annual affair.

Dr. R. E. Garlin of the education department was the third judge.

The papers have been forwarded to New York City where judging for the national winners will be made. These winners will be announced during the next two weeks.

COURT REPORTER FACES A LONG, HARD SUMMER

Preparation of a transcript of proceedings in the recent trial here of the Spikes-Haley $200,000 libel suit was started today by John Edmisson, district court reporter who admits there's a long summer ahead.

The transcript will be forwarded to the court of civil appeals at Amarillo. The case was tried in ninety-ninth district court before Judge Clark M. Mullican.

Fred Spikes, plaintiff in the case, is appealing from a verdict for the defendants, J. Evetts Haley and trustees of the Capitol Reservation Lands syndicate, returned by the district court jury.

The court reporter estimates that it will take him about 90 days to complete the transcript. Written in question and answer form, it will cover about 5,000 typewritten pages, which is about 1,250,000 words.

Daisy De Boe Now Serving Sentence

LOS ANGELES, July 14. (AP)—Daisy De Boe, former secretary to Clara Bow, reentered the county jail late yesterday to begin serving the balance of an 18-months sentence given her last January for grand theft from the actress.

The state supreme court last Saturday refused her petition for rehearing on a writ of habeas corpus. Miss De Boe was convicted of appropriating approximately $825 with which to buy a fur coat. She had been at liberty on bail and her surrender was voluntary.

BRIDGE PLAYING USUALLY VIOLATION OF LAW UNLESS IN A PRIVATE HOME

A game of bridge usually is in violation of Texas law if it is not played in a private residence occupied by a family. Betting does not enter into the legal status of the case. The statutes are lenient enough, however, to permit a game in a tent or a secluded spot in the woods.

Interpretation of this trick law, as it now stands may be found in any of the books dealing with Texas criminal statutes, according to County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson.

The law is as follows:

"Whosoever shall play, or bet or wager any money or anything of value, at any game of cards at any place not a private residence occupied by a family shall be fined not exceeding $50."

Women who engage in bridge games at hotels and social clubs; men who play a sociable game of pitch or indulge in a little pinochle session outside of a private residence are violating the laws of the State of Texas and are subject to a fine of $50.

Officers, however, pointed out that the law is not enforced to the letter.

"It would be absurd to raid a quiet bridge game," the county attorney said. "While the law is violated in such cases the officers usually are concerned only with the apprehending of those playing for money."

Under the former law, betting was necessary to constitute the offense, but under the present law it is an offense to play cards even without betting at any place except at a private residence, the court of criminal appeals ruled after the passage of the statute.

Here are some places where you must not be caught playing any kind of cards, under the present law:

In a hotel, either in the lobby or in a room.

In a jury room, while you are trying to hang the jury.

In a boxcar.

In an outhouse.

In any place where intoxicating liquor is served.

The court ruled that a hotel was a public place and that no individual room could be considered a private residence.

It is an offense to play cards in a private room of a boarder at a hotel, or boarding house where no family occupies the room.

But you may play cards in any of the following places, the court has ruled:

A private residence occupied by a family.

In opera house where not more than two performances were held during the six months preceding the game.

A tent.

A gin.

A secluded spot in the woods.

In case you like to play cards and want to stay within the law, stage your game in a big house, which has numerous famed mottoes, such as "Bless Our Happy Home," hanging on the wall, and a bunch of youngsters playing on the floor—be sure the youngsters are around, for a single man's room is not his castle, according to the law.

STANLEY DEACON PLAYERS PLEASE LOCAL AUDIENCE

The Stanley Deacon Singers last night kept a promise to present a program different from the usually hackneyed offerings of quartets. Their presentation was in the new high school auditorium as the second number of the Texas Technological college summer artists course.

Excepting a Russian chant, the program was in English. The audience was familiar with most of the selections. Next to negro spirituals, the listeners possibly liked best the Breton folk songs by Lehmann.

Three darky songs by Mr. Deacon, baritone and leader of quartet, appealed to the audie A catching of the negro swing movements and facial expressi coupled with a voice of clear q ity, added much to the prese tion.

Stanley Deacon Singers are Deacon and Miss Rose Ann C soprano; Miss Alycemae Ther contralto, and Roy Mace, te Clarance Brady is pianist.

Mr. Brady played Gershw "Rhapsody in Blue" during an e intermission.—F. M. T.
