Death Strikes In New Mexico Without Hint Or Warning

The unsuspecting motorist was driving serenely along a dry highway when a wild, racing torrent swept the car to sudden death.

Sudden Death Often Caused By Water On "American Desert"

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 23—Sudden death is caused more often by water on the "Great American Desert" than by the lack of it.

"Flash" floods, racing with unbelievable fury down ordinarily dust-filled arroyos, annually take a surprising toll of life. For the American Southwest is not always a waterless waste; when it does rain there, it pours.

Everything Swept Away

The ground, lacking continuous moisture, cannot hold the inch, sometimes two inches, of precipitation an hour. Water courses unimpeded down bare hillsides, converges into rugged gullies. Soon there is a wall of muddy water, perhaps 10 feet high, roaring down a narrow channel faster than a horse could run. Everything movable in its path is swept away.

In May a man, his wife and their two little daughters were motoring through a gully in eastern New Mexico. The car stalled. They heard the roar of the water coming toward them and fled for safety on the bank. Before they reached it, they were swept to their deaths.

Goes As It Comes

Not far from there two men were trapped by another flood. One body was recovered within two hours. Searchers scoured the arroyo all next day, found the other body and the wreckage of the car three miles down. By that time the arroyo was dry again.

In the same series of storms a shepherd and his wife were encamped in a southern New Mexico ravine. A terrific burst of rain and hail fell. Next morning the couple's bodies were found, washed high on the side of a slope.

Results are not always so tragic, though. There is the case of a tourist in Arizona who parked his car in a gully and spent ten minutes gathering wild flowers. When he returned his car was gone. The gully was running bankfull of water.

Rail Workers Will Cast Strike Vote

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 23 — The five operating railroad brotherhoods, resolved to force negotiations on pending wage increase demands, called upon their 300,000 members today to cast strike votes within 30 days.

Union officials emphasized the primary objective of the move was to pave the way for intervention by the federal railway board.

Ballots To Be Mailed

The ballots will be mailed to members within a week and the vote will be canvassed by union heads at a meeting here the week of July 26.

The brotherhoods have demanded a 20 per cent wage increase retroactive to May 1, 1937, wheft previous contracts expired.

Under the railway labor act federal mediation must be employed to the fullest before a strike may start.

Several months ago carriers rejected demands for revision of rules affecting hours and working conditions.

Court Bill Is Considered

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23 — A senate judiciary subcommittee has been appointed, it was learned today, to consider a proposed constitutional amendment enlarging the supreme court to 11 members.

The constitutional amendment would provide eventually for a supreme court consisting of one justice from each of the ten circuit court districts, and a chief justice appointed from the country at large.

It would allow voluntary retirement of justices at 70 after ten years service and would compel retirement at 75.

Senator Logan (D-Ky) heads the subcommittee. Senator Borah (R-Idaho) is a member.

Two Men Are On Trial For Slaying Of Federal Agent

TOPEKA, Kas., June 23. (AP) — Counsel for Robert Suhay and Glen Applegate today sought to show that Wimberly W. Baker, slain FBI agent, gave his alleged slayers no chance to realize he was an officer and not a holdup man.

The two men are on trial in federal court here, charged with slaying Baker as he attempted to arrest them in the Topeka postoffice for the robbery of a Katonah, N. Y., bank. Baker was slain April 16.

In yesterday's testimony Edward F. Fielder, president of the Northern Westchester bank at Katonah, identified Suhay and Applegate as two of three men who robbed the bank of $18,402 last March 12.

New York American To Cease Publication In Morning

NE WYORK, June 23. (AP)—William Randolph Hearst's New York American will cease publication in the daily morning field on Friday. It will be continued, however, as a Sunday newspaper.

The American announced today that n Friday it "will consolidate with the New York Journal in the evening and with the New York Mirror in the morning fields." The Mirror is a tabloid newspaper. Both the Mirror and the Journal are Hearst-owned.

AIR-MINDED FAMILY

NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—Edward Somers, 12-year-old member of an air-minded family, was acclaimed today as one of the youngest pilots ever to fly an airplane alone.

Edward yesterday made his first solo flight 3,000 feet over Floyd Bennett field. His father, Andrew L. Somers, a World war flyer,

Governors Of Three States Are To Visit Stamford

STAMFORD, June 23. (AP)—Governors from three Southwestern states will eat "chuck" at wagons fresh from ranch ranges here July 2.

Governor Clyde Tngley of New Mexico, Governor Carl E. Bailey of Arkansas, and Governor James V. Allred, a regular visitor, will attend the eighth annual Texas Cowboy Reunion here July 2 and ride in the grand parade.

Governors of Louisiana, Arizona, and Oklahoma have been invited to attend, eat at chuck wagons, and see regular cowhands perform in rodeos in a natural amphitheater near the city limits.

Grim Blockade Is Hinted By Two Nations

Powers Quit Control Scheme Today In Angry Reply To British Refusal Of Aid

(By The Associated Press)

Germany and Italy precipitated a new Spanish civil war crisis today by stepping out of the international non-intervention committee's control scheme which is designed to keep foreign arms and fighters out of Spain.

It was the second time the two nations had left the control scheme. They took similar action May 31, the day German warships shelled the Spanish port of Almeria in reprisal for bombing of the German pocket battleship Deutschland by Spanish government airplanes.

Quit In Angry Reply

They quit today in angry reply to the refusal of Great Britain and France to join them in a naval display to warn the Spanish government: "Hands off our warships."

Four warships of the German fleet in Spanish waters steamed past the rock of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean in the general direction of Valencia. Three others were reported off Ceuta, Spanish Morocco.

A German naval division, headed by the battleship Admiral Van Scheer, entered the Tagus river at Lisbon preparatory to proceeding into the Mediterranean.

Blockade Is Rumored

In Berlin, there were unconfirmed rumors of a possible Italo-German blockade of the Spanish government coastline.

Nazis blamed Great Britain for the breakdown of London four-power negotiations on Germany's demand for a united parade of warships before Valencia following upon an alleged Spanish government submarine attack on the German cruiser Leipzig. Germany had asked the display under the four-power agreement which brought the reich and Italy back into the international control scheme. Under the agreement, any attack on a patrol ship was to be the "common concern" of the powers.

But the Spanish government asserted it would have been impossible for a Spanish submarine to have attempted to torpedo the cruiser Leipzig because on the day of the alleged attack all Spanish undersea boats were at their bases. And Britain and France refused to join any naval demonstration against Valencia.

Cities Are Captured

Insurgents reported meanwhile the capture of three strategic Easque cities and the most important iron foundries and munitions factories in northwestern Spain. In their advance on Santander, the conquerors of Bilbao asserted Portugalete, Sestao and Baracaldo, all on the west bank of the river Nervion, and many small villages had been taken.

At Barcelona, five United States citizens were reported held by police for questioning after they allegedly entered Spain from France.

CONSTANCE MORROW

NORTH HAVEN, Me., June 23. (AP)—Constance Morrow, youngest daughter of the late Senator Dwight W. Morrow, and Aubrey Niel Morgan, husband of her sister, Elisabeth, who died in 1934, were married quietly yesterday at the summer home of the bride's mother here.

POSSES TRAIL FUGITIVES

Prison Break Is Staged By 19 Bandits

Army Of Men And Bloodhounds On Trail Today; Piney Woods Of East Texas Are Scoured

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, June 23—Nineteen "hard-boiled" convicts who fled to freedom from Eastham prison farm sought today to keep out of the reach of an army of men and bloodhounds searching for them in the scrub oak pines of East Texas.

The pursuers took to river bottoms in attempts to flush the long-term felons, who overpowered a guard yesterday and fled on the backs of 15 mules and horses.

Bybee Is Leader

At the head of the breakers was W. H. Bybee, life-termer convicted of murder and robbery. Bybee once before escaped from Eastham, gaining his freedom when Clyde Barrow helped Raymond Hamilton to flee the farm in 1934.

Bybee and James Rice, serving 27 years from Harris county for robbery, attacked guard Frank Allen while the convicts worked in a field. They took the guard's shotgun, pistol, clothing, boots and his horse.

Seventeen other convicts followed them on mules. They had a 29-minute start before three other guards who ordinarily assist in watching the men were aware of the escape.

Bloodhounds Called In

Last night the countryside swarmed with searchers, their number estimated at about 200. Thirty bloodhounds, in groups of 10, were called in. Railroads, bridges and the Trinity river were watched closely and small groups of citizens and officers rode along the section's many roads and lanes.

Warden W. W. Waid of the Texas prison system planned to take active charge of the hunt today. Capt. J. P. Hamilton of Eastham farm was in command last night.

Eastham prison farm ordinarily receives many of the more dangerous and hardened of Texas' criminals and the escape was the largest since 33 men fled from Clemens farm in Brazoria county in 1929.

Others Making Escape

Fugitives with Bybee and Rice were:

Paul Rhodes, 33, Lufkin, 25 years for robbery; Jack Sanders, 31, Dallas, 20 years for robbery; A. T. Stockton, 31, Houston, 21 years for burglary; W. C. Gresham, 31, Mangus, Okla., life for murder from Fort Bend county; W. E. Hamilton, 32, Austin, life as habitual criminal; Tom Corbett, 34, Quitman, 12 years for burglary; Bob Rolley, 41, Lewisville, 25 years for robbery with firearms.

Jack Foreman, 35, Comanche, life for murder from Hamilton county; Aaron Burleston, 28, San Antonio, 72 years from McLennan, Travis and Bexar counties for kidnaping, robbery by assault and with firearms; James Henry Mitch-

Pair To Face Fraud Count

Arrested in Abilene, a man and woman will be returned to Lubbock today by Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, to face a charge of obtaining by fraud an automobile through representing that a car they turned in on trade here belonged to them and that they had a right to dispose of it.

They are co-charged in the court of Walter Davies, justice of peace. Complainant is Beasley Motor company, which set out the property it conveyed was worth more than $800.

Taken Out On Trial

The car traded in had been taken out "on trial" from a Wichita Falls dealer by two persons. An automobile allegedly stolen in Fort Worth about 10 days ago had been left with the Wichita Falls dealer.

Abilene police notified the sheriff's department of the arrests this morning.

The complaint was sworn to by Harrist before Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney.

Tax Evader?

CECIL B. DE MILLE

Movie Magnate Is Charged In An Attempt To Evade Taxes; Methods Bared At Inquiry

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23—Commissioner Guy T. Helvering of the internal revenue bureau told a congressional tax inquiry committee today that the government believed Cecil De Mille, movie producer, had made a "purposeful attempt to evade surtaxes" on his income through creation of a personal holding company.

Helvering testified De Mille some time ago formed a corporation, "which he completely dominated, consisting of himself, members of his family, and his attorney."

"This," he added, "was an incorporation of what may be called the 'earning personality' of Mr. De Mille.

"In other words, De Mille's earning power was almost the sole corporate asset.

"De Mille, the individual, then went to work for De Mille, the corporation, at a salary far less than he knew he could command as a dirtctor.

Then Sold Services

"The corporation then sold De Mille's services to producing companies. The difference between Cecil De Mille'ssa lary from his own corporation and his actual earnings as a motion picture director was put into the corporation."

To the government's claim that the accumulation of this surplus was unreasonable and for purposes of evading surtaxes, Helvering said, De Mille replied that his corporation was saving up money to go into the production of motion pictures at a later date.

Disputes On Relief Will Be Continued

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23—Congressional disputes over relief policies showed signs of continuing today despite senate approval of the administration's $1,500,000,000 program for 1938.

Senator Bailey (D-NC) an outspoken critic of federal spending said he was drafting a bill designed to "take politics out of relief."

Penalties Provided

It calls for administration by a non-partisan board instead of by Works Progress Director Harry L. Hopkins, and provides severe penalties for political activities in connection with employment efforts.

Senate passage of the measure in substantially the form sought by the administration transferred debate back to the house, which must agree to a score of amendments.

Hopkins has estimated the appropriation, reduced a third from the total funds available this year, will require pruning of 500,000 persons from relief rolls.

Require House Approval

Some senate amendments requiring house approval are:

Two year extension of the Public Works administration. The house voted for this in a separate bill.

Authorizing completion of projects already started with relief funds.

Making needy Indians specifically eligible for relief.

Requiring that administrative expenditures be limited to five per cent.

Barring from relief rolls persons who refuse offers of private employment with comparable pay.

Labor Questions Are To Be Brought Closer To Women

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP) — Rep. Mary T. Norton (D-NJ) who rose from a stenographer to chairman of the house labor committee, expressed determination today to bring labor questionsi closer to American women.

"Labor concerns women just as much as it does men, for if they are not working themselves, they are dependent on someone who does work," she said.

The dark-eyed widow was elected unanimously by the house yesterday to succeed the late Rep. William P. Connery, jr., (D-Mass) as head of the committee.

Minister Is Found Guilty In Slaying Of Young Wife

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 23 (AP)—The Rev. Harry Ashley, was found guilty last night of manslaughter in the jealousy slaying last January of his 17-year-old wife, and faced today the prospect of serving one to eight years in the state penitentiaryy.

Mrs. Ashley was shot to death in her home at Ramah, Colo., after a succession of domestic quarrels. The minister, n his testimony, sought to show she had been unfaithful.

Man Fails To Appear In Court After Death In Accident

PHILADELPHIA, June 23. (AP)—Magistrate Eberhardt read in traffic court yesterday this letter from a mother:

Acres Of Marijuana Said To Be Growing In The Valley

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 23 (AP)—Sheriff William Shely of Corpus Christi last night called on Governor Allred to take immediate action toward abolishing 2,000 acres of marijuana, said to be growing near Raymondville. Shely's deputies reported they saw one patch of the narcotic weed consisting of about 700 acres. Local officers made the trip to Willacy county yesterday after a prisoner heid here on a marijuana charge told them the weed is growing in large patches in the valley.

Officers said they had information one man brought a nine-foot cotton sack loaded with 200 to 300 pounds of marijuana to Corpus Christi and remained here until he sold it.

The governor assured Sheriff Shely he would investigate at once.

Belgian Premier Will Discuss World Affairs With FDR

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP) — Premier Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium traveled here today for an informal conference on world economics which President Roosevelt said would cover everything from pole to pole.

Civil and military officiels were designated to extend a ceremonial welcome to him and Mme. Van Zeeland.

First Cotton Brings Good Price

Huge Payroll Is Missing For Labor

Thousands Of Men Have Earned No Wages For Weeks And The Situation Grows Serious

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 23—Payless payday and smokeless stacks stood forth today as silent but earnest pleaders for settlement of the 28-day steel strike.

It was payday at Bethlehem Steel's Cambria plant in Johnstown, Pa., but there was no such payrll today as when the big mills were running at their 15,000-men capacity. For the plant is closed by martial law, and pay due workers is comparatively small.

Mail Some Checks

What checks there are, said a company representative, will be mailed during the week.

Much more serious is the situation at Youngstown, O., where 25,000 men have earned no wages since May 26; and in the Chicago area, where Inland Steel's 18,000 workers can look forward to no more money until smoke pours again from the stacks. State troops patrol strike fronts in Ohio and Michigan also.

President Roosevelt's three mediators sought today to find a thread of compromise.

Steel Leaders Called

They called before them again the heads of the four steel corporations against whom John L. Lewis' CIO is striking—Republic Steel, Inland Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Bethlehem Steel.

"There is hope," said Charles P. Taft II, chairman of the mediation board. "If there wasn't hope, I'd go home."

CIO leaders echoed his hopefulness with even greater enthusiasm, topped with Lewis' comment as he returned to Washington—"we're going to win!"

While the mediators struggled to end the strike, now costing nearly a million dollars a day, strikers and CIO sympathizers at Youngstown were turning out for simple funeral services for two of their men who died in Saturday night's three hour battle with police.

Forces Are Increased

The force of Ohio national guardsmen in the Youngstown area will reach 4,500 men before nightfall, Major General Gilson D. Light said.

There has been no sign of disorder there since troops began pouring in early yesterday morning in response to Governor Davey's action, taken to prevent violence and bloodshed. Police and county authorities had arrested 177 persons up to early today on charges of suspicion or of carrying concealed

Death Penalty Will Stand

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 23 — The court of criminal appeals today affirmed a 40-year term assessed Apolonio Games of Bexar county for the pistol slaying, Aug. 15, 1936, of Nieves Rangel in a Selma dance hall.

George Patton, Henderson county farmer, was denied a motion for given him for the murder of Mrs. Carrie McGehee on the Patton farm near Athens 1 n1932.

Motions Are Overruled

The court also overruled motions for rehearing sin the cases of George Pace, sentenced to 75 years imprisonment for accomplice to murder in the poison death of Menloe Jermstad in Bosque county, April 13, 1936; Mariano Reyna of Hidalgo county, convicted of the murder of Delfina De Anda in 1936 and given 10 years, and George W. Redston, given 5 years for slaying A. B. Parrow in a Dallas night club, Aug. 4, 1936.

The state was overruled in motions for rehearings in reversal of death penalties assessed Jesse Polanco of Bexar county for the slaying of George Forbes, a bus driver, in a holdup, May 10, 1936, and Charles Wair, a Longview oil man, for criminal assault on a 13-year-old crippled girl.

List Of Musts Is Suggested For Bridegroom

BY JOAN DURHAM
AP Feature Writer

For every flustered bride there's an equally flustered bridegroom.

Often the feminine members of a bridal party are posted carefully on what is expected of them while the masculine contingent is comparatively uninformed.

Her Husband-To-Be

In the best regulated weddings these days the bridegroom is responsible for:

Planning the wedding trip and paying for it.

Buying the engagement and wedding rings.

A personal gift to the bride. (Jewelry is preferable.)

Paying the clergyman's fee—from ten dollars up. (The bridegroom puts it in an envelope and instructs the best man to give the envelope to the clergyman just before or immediately after the ceremony.)

Paying for bouquets and corsages for: the bride, the bride's mother and his mother. Since his boutonniere corresponds to flowers in the bride's bouquet, he may arrange for that, too.

Gifts to the best man and the ushers. The best man's gift may be slightly more valuable than the ushers', which should all be alike.

Boutonnieres for the best man and ushers.

Often the bridegroom also provides ties, gloves, collars and spats to insure uniformity among his ushers. However, he may just send each man a detailed list of what he's to wear.

Her Father

The bride's father is responsible for:

The bride's trousseau. (her clothes and the linens, etc., she takes to her new home.)

All wedding expenses except the clergyman's fee—church and home decorations, transportation of the wedding party, wedding breakfast or reception and bridesmaids' bouquets.

He takes his daughter down the aisle on his right arm and responds "I do" when the clergyman asks who gives the bride in marriage. Then he joins his wife in the front pew on the left side of the church.

The Best Man

The best man is expected to:

Take charge of the wedding ring, which he keeps in a waistcoat pocket until he hands it to the bridegroom.

Escort the bridegroom to the church—after having helped him to dress.

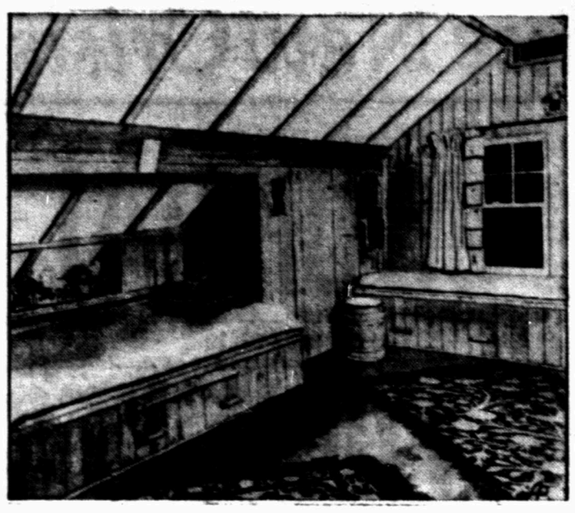

Take charge of the bride's and the bridegroom's luggage.

See that the bridegroom's "going away" clothes are taken to the bride's house—where bride and bridegroom change after the reception.

Take care of the bridegroom's hat, gloves and stick. Immediately after the ceremony the best man should get them from the vestry, rush around the side of the church and give them to the bridegroom.

Attic Room Given To Son

Built-In Bed Adds Storage Space

House space is too precious these days to allow any to go to waste. That an unlovely attic can be converted into a delightful bedroom for the son of the family or an extra guest is demonstrated in this bedroom. The walls are covered in vertical sheathing, and composition wallboard insulates the ceiling. Built-in furniture is logical, since it gives maximum service in minimum space. The bed is built into the long side of the room, with closets and bookshelves at either end. There also is a built-in window seat, with a long storage drawer beneath. The little seat is a fruit barrel rescued from the grocer's and waxed on the inside, fitted with rope handles and a cushion top. Colorful rugs add a nice bit of pattern and the necessary color interest.

Happy Hour Needle Club Has Lawn Party

Happy Hour Needle club members and their husbands enjoyed a lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Norwood, 1311 Avenue Q, Tuesday night. Refreshments of sandwiches and cookies and a drink were served to Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Stephens, Messrs. and Mesdames J. J. Smelser, J. D. Corcorran, E. E. Corcorran, Mesdames S. B. Hay, C. P. Cox and L. C. Tatom and Misses Billie Jo Stephens and Eugenia Leathers.

Lawn Party Is Courtesy To Miss Little, Mr. Diamond

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McMillan, 2121 Thirteenth street, entertained with a lawn party Tuesday night as a compliment to Miss Carrie Little and Jack Diamond, who are being transferred to the Hemphill-Wells department store at San Angelo.

Mr. McMillan showed motion pictures of hunting trips he has taken.

Refreshments were served to the staff of the local store and several other guests.

WHITES THAT DIFFER

NEW YORK (AP) — Would-be wearers of white clothes must select the proper shade with care this summer. For not all whites are alike. There are chalk, porcelain, oyster and even gardenia variations, some containing a little more blue, and some more yellow than dead white.

TOMATOES WITH SPINACH

For a slightly different vegetable dish serve broiled tomatoes with buttered spinach covered with a thin cheese sauce. Arrange the vegetables in a shallow pan or glass pie dish. Broil or bake them for five minutes — just long enough to allow them to become browned on top and very hot.

Sandwiches cut in animal shapes appeal to children. Use simple fillings, such as minced meat and cream, cream cheese and pineapple and jelly and peanut butter. Whole wheat, graham and Boston brown breads are favorite breads.

George Morris Is Honored With Backyard Party

As a courtesy to her son, George, who recently observed his eighth birthday, Mrs. Harry Morris, 2009 Sixteenth street, gave a backyard "hotdog" supper Tuesday night. Guests were Buddy Jones, Richard Dickey, Dan Young, Bobby Smith and John Gamble.

Dark Days Are Just Ahead

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Whether you have started to acquire a suntan or not, this is the time to change your makeup. A new lipstick in a richer, deeper shade, nail lacquer to brighten up dark sheers and day-time prints, powder to give your complexion a rosy, healthy glow, rouge to harmonize with your natural blood tones and your lipstick are smart ideas with which to greet summer.

For the fair skinned there are a new Coronation pink lipstick with rouge (dry or cream) to match, a peach powder with rose lights in it and some clear rose nail polish. The medium brunette who has been wearing plain rachel powder and medium rouge and lipstick is sure to get a lift from rose beige powder and rouge and lipstick with purplish instead of orange undertones. For a change now and then one who owns a navy outfit will wine accessories might wear wine lipstick and a fairly dark rouge.

Green and blue mascara certainly never should be worn in the daytime, but, for evening, one of these might be worth a trial. A young blue-eyed stage star always tints her lashes bright blue for evening, and several screen actresses like green mascara for evening.

Naturally, it is a mistake to strive for bizarre effects, but is almost as big a mistake to get into a rut as far as cosmetics are concerned. Have several nail lacquers—one ladylike, subdued shade for general wear and three or four smoky and bright ones to wear with specific costumes.

Once the summer sun starts to turn you: skin darker, try orangish rouge and lipstick and rust nail polish. You'll need darker powder, too, and do be sure to use a softening cream every night to counteract the drying effects of exposure to bright sunshine.

FOR COLLEGIANS

NEW YORK (AP) — College girls have adopted bodily a type of box jacket popular on men's campuses. They have retained even the left-hand buttoning. The jacket material is heavy white cotton. Large patch pockets are handy for students.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Marshall have gone to Electra to attend the funeral of Mrs. Marshall's girlhood friend, Mrs. Jodie Crawford. Before returning to Lubbock they will visit in several East Texas cities.

Mrs. W. E. Graham of Bryan is spending two months as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. G. McMillan, and Mr. McMillan. Her son, W. P. Graham, and Mrs. Graham, who accompanied her to Lubbock, have returned to their home.

Mrs. Rosa Jones has returned to her home in Claremore, Okla., after a visit here with her sister, Mrs. G. W. Nichols. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Nina Jones, who spent the past year in Lubbock.

Misses Ruth Mildred Rylander, Sallye Bean and Lois Mangum, all of this city, are enrolled in Colorado State College of Education in Greeley, Colo., for special summer courses in education.

"Fireworks" At Meeting Of Commission Being Hinted

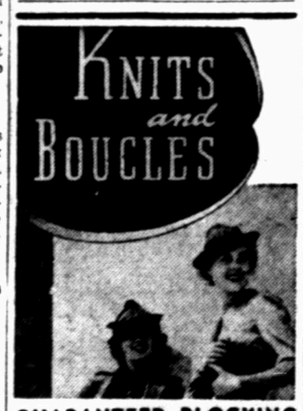

Reports on progress of important projects and routine business are scheduled to occupy the attention of the city commission's semi-monthly meeting at city hall Thursday afternoon, with the remote possibility that the session may be productive of "fireworks."

While members of the commission were silent on the subject, there were hints that recurrent criticism of the police department at recent sessions may once more break into the open, precipitated by injunctive proceedings in district court since the last commission meeting against four places in the 1400 block on Avenue C.

Sensational charges of violations of liquor and vice ordinances made before the last commission meeting by a number of housewives were followed two days later by the court action brought by District Attorney Burton S. Burks.

Negro Faints Hard As Ghost Appears

HOUSTON, June 23 (AP)—Barbaral Levine, 20-year-old negro, fainted "so hard" hospital attendants worked 30 minutes before reviving him. Then Barbaral told a ghost story and his girl friend told of a "howl" she heard just before Barbaral passed out on a railroad track.

"I saw a ghost," Barbaral told Detective Ted Walsh. "We were walking past a spot where three friends of mine were killed in a traffic accident three years ago. I was telling my girl about it.

"Then I saw them—all three of them—and the wrecked car. One said 'Hey.' I started running. Then I guess I passed out."

Detective Walsh said Barbaral's girl friend told him she ran, too, and that she heard Barbaral "howl" that he saw a ghost.

Company Is Formed To Operate Louisiana Racing Track

BEAUMONT, June 23 (AP)—Texans who like their horse racing with legalized betting won't have far to go to get it when a track is opened 28 miles from here just over the Louisiana line.

Walter M. Casey, managing director of a hotel here, announced yesterday a company with a capital stock of $250,000 had been formed to operate the track.

Frantic Search By Cops Being Staged Over Wide Section

By NEA Service

LOGANSPORT, Ind., June 23.—Indiana state police, ranging central Indiana in a frantic search for Al Brady, who deliberately seeks to duplicate John Dillinger's career in banditry, are determined to oblige him by providing an exact replica of Dillinger's ending.

MARGARET BARRY

Up to now, Brady has done an amazing job of fitting himself to the title of "The New Dillinger." The parallels are striking.

Brady was an Indiana farm hand, like Dillinger. The farm bored him, and he stole an auto. That put him in the state reformatory, just as Dillinger went there for breaking into a store.

Brady, in the early months of 1936, recruited himself a "gang" in an Indianapolis poolroom and started out deliberately on a career that would make Dillinger look like a piker."

They began the same type of roving bank and jewelry store robberies as the Dillinger gang. They even turned to the same town, Lima, O., where Dillinger was liberated from jail when his thugs cold-bloodedly killed Sheriff Jess Sarber. The Brady gang robbed a jewelry store there.

Elmer Martin, one of the Brady boys, was shot in the escape from the Lima robbery. The group rushed to Indianapolis and demanded treatment of Dr. E. E. Rose, much as the Dillingers had done several times. Someone tipped police, who surrounded the doctor's house. The Brady thugs shot their way to freedom, leaving Sergeant Richard Rivers dead as they fled the scene.

Now there was murder on their hands, and like Dillinger they felt the desperation of men in the shadow of the electric chair.

AL BRADY

But Chicago police captured Brady promptly when he ventured there to dispose of some of his jewelry-store loot. It looked as though the three-month attempt to emulate Dillinger was washed up. James Dalhover, another of Brady's gang, was seized the next day, and several of the fences who had helped dispose of the gang's loot were also caught and promptly charged with larceny of receiving stolen property, some $50,000 of which was recovered.

With Brady, or Barton as he sometimes called himself, was Margaret Barry, a 21-year-old girl who had left her husband to follow Brady. She was released after brief detention.

When the roundup was completed, Brady, Dalhover, and Clarence Lee Shaffer, alias Jackson, found themselves in the Greenfield, Ind., jail, awaiting trial on charges of murdering Rivers. In October of last year came their chance to follow farther the Dillinger path They staged a jail break.

Leaping on Sheriff Clarence Watson in an unguarded moment, they clubbed him into unconsciousness, fired on spectators who tried to interfere, stole a bystander's car, and fled. Despite the most energetic man hunt since Dillinger, the trio escaped.

Trail Of Terror

A month later they turned up in Carthage, Ind., where they held up a bank and again escaped in a bullet-riddled sedan. That ended their first year of the effort to emulate Dillinger.

But the similarity was to be carried still farther. On May 25 of this year a maroon-colored sedan drove up to the Goodland, Ind., State Bank. One man remained at the wheel. Two entered the bank. Holding a clerk and a constable who happened to walk in at gun point for 15 minutes while waiting for the time lock to open, they looted the bank and again fled.

State police responded to the call and gave chase. Some 20 miles out of town they sighted the bandit car and gave chase. Shots were exchanged, and a regular Dillinger chase was on. The pursuing officers lost sight of the bandit car, and slowed down at a crossing to see which way it had gone.

Suddenly from behind a church the bandits' car issued, blazing a stream of fire from a submachine gun. Highway Patrolman Paul Minneman lurched from the bullet-sprayed car and tumbled to the highway. Deputy Sheriff Elmer Craig's shotgun clattered from his hands as three bullets found him.

Man Hunt Pressed

Minneman today lies near death with six bullets in his body, and there may be another red mark of murder against Al Brady and his gang in their pursuit of the Dillinger record. Craig is expected to recover.

Using a technique of road-blocking, aerial patrols, and radio blockade developed during the hunt for Dillinger, Indiana highway patrolmen are scouring the state in an effort to oblige Al Brady in his effort to parallel John Dillinger's career. They want to make certain that even the endings are the same.

Aged Pioneer Of Muenster Is Victim In Auto Mishap

MUENSTER, June 23 (AP)—John Havenkamp, sr., 76, pioneer citizen of Muenster, died Tuesday from injuries received when struck by an automobile.

Officer Frank Hoedebeck said B. L. Williams, driver of the automobile, told him he honked his horn when approaching Havenkamp, who was walking along the road, and the latter apparently became frightened and started directly in front of the machine.

Havenkamp's lower limbs were mangled and he received head injuries. Williams' car went in to the ditch as the result of the collision.

The first recorded footgear is the Egyptian tab-teb, a plaited sandal.

Bright Business Prospects Seen As Anniversary Of Store Observed

Levine's Will Stage Sale

Observance of the seventeenth anniversary of the founding of Levine's department store Thursday finds the establishment facing the brightest business prospects in its history of sustained growth, according to statement late Tuesday of Morris Levine, president.

The occasion, he announced, will mark the opening of the greatest sale since the store was established.

"Lubbock is definitely moving forward," he said, "and from all indications, volume of business this year will be greater than for any other year in history of our organization."

The Lubbock store, together with others in Pampa, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Big Spring, Clovis and Hobbs, Thursday starts celebration of the 17th birthday of the founding of the stores. The local store is the largest of all the several units. Trade volume of the firms is enough to maintain a New York purchasing agent with a staff of five, thus affording a direct source of supply.

Forty Persons On Staff

Forty persons are included on the staff of the Lubbock store of which A. I. Glassman is manager. Executives are Morris Levine, William Levine, Dave Feinstein and Eli Finberg.

Entire personnel includes the following by departments: piece goods, Mrs. J. J. Smelser, head, Mrs. Alice Stanton, Mrs. Lela Curtis; hosiery, Mrs. Mary Sanders, head, Mrs. Elmer Caddell; men's and boys', J. W. Nelson, head, J. W. Kennedy, R. E. Mills, Mike Barrier, Miss Margaret Chandler, J. V. Turner; shoes, L. L. Lively, head, Jake Groner, Hubert Dial; children's, Lucille Hale, head, Mrs. Gladys Ashford; ready-to-wear, Mrs. Daisy Morris, head, Mrs. Paul Crawford, Mrs. Otha Merchant; millinery, Miss Gertie G. Green, Mrs. R. H. Nesbit; third floor men's, J. D. Henly; ready-to-wear, Mrs. T. G. Waldrip, Mrs. Bessie George; piece goods, Mrs. J. H. Farmer, Mrs. J. H. Stephenson; shoes, B. Spector; office, Erna Forson; elevator, Ruby Teague, Mrs. Pat McIver; cashiers, Mrs. Jackie Medlock, Mrs. Catherine Hunter, Miss Johnnie George; utility, W. E. White; decorator, N. H. Wood; receiving clerk, Jack Green; alterations, Mrs. S. Riddle, Mrs. J. W. Young, Mrs. D. L. Anderson.

Carries Huge Stock

The Lubbock store has floor space amounting to 20,000 square feet and carries a huge stock of merchandise ranging from the low priced articles to those in the higher priced field.

The main floor is set aside for men's and boys' wear, better shoes, piece goods, hosiery, bags, accessories and notions. Ladies' ready-to-wear is found on the fashion balcony, together with a complete infants' and children's department. The third floor is a popular one with all, according to store officials. Here is found a store within a store, with a line of lower priced merchandise for all buyers. Elevator service is maintained to all floors.

Just a year ago a new front and show windows were installed here to make a decided improvement in appearance to the concern.

"We are ever on the alert to improve our service to Lubbock and the South Plains," said Mr. Levine. "And on this, our seventeenth anniversay, we feel that our one slogan, 'Prices Talk,' will continue to speak for us in the future as it has in the past."

Farmer Is Favorite Nephew Of Uncle Sam These Days

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The farmer appears to be the favorite nephew of Uncle Sam today.

Less than a century ago, congress made its first appropriation for agriculture — $1,000 in 1839. The outpour of federal funds has been swelling steadily since until it averaged more than $1,000,000,000 for each of the last four years.

The federal government employs an army of more than 120,000 agricultural workers.

Mineral Leasing Activity In Lubbock County Continues

Continued mineral leasing activity in Lubbock county was reflected in filings on nearly 1,500 acres of land with County Clerk Ed D. Allen here Tuesday.

J. D. Bodkins of Midland obtained rights on two tracts belonging to W. P. Martin and wife, one tract containing a full section of land and the other a section less 40 acres. The tracts were described in the leases as section 20, block 20 less a strip off west side of the section, and section 13, block 20, both in the HE & WT railway company survey.

A. M. Miller and wife transferred oil, gas and mineral rights on 230.7 acres of land to John L. Baldridge. The tracts were described as the southwest quarter of survey 6, block S, with 160 acres, and 70.7 acres of survey 23, block E. S. I. Johnston grantee.

Crop Harvest Under Way

CROSBYTON, June 23 (Special)—Harvest of the largest wheat crop Crosby county ever has produced still was short of its peak although approximately 250 cars already have been shipped, according to report late Tuesday of W. M. Curry, editor of the Crosbyton Review.

Three elevators here have worked to perfect a checking, weighing and unloading program that will avoid delays. They have been able so far, to keep long delays down to a minimum.

In Excess Of 30 Bushels

Wheat is averaging several bushels per acre above what had been predicted, continued. Yields in excess of 30 bushels per acre is common; in fact little attention is paid to a crop unless the average is around 40 bushels per acre.

"What is testing higher than we had expected," said Curry. "All of it is better than 60 pounds to the bushel, 62 and 63 pounds being most of the tests.

"This town is busier than I have ever seen it before. Every one is working, and we are enjoying the best business we have had here for many years. Everybody is happy."

GETS STUDENT TROPHY

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—James Bubber Nesbit, captain of the 1936 University of Alabama football team, is recipient of the interfraternity council trophy for outstanding university service.

Nearby Oil Gleanings..

Mitchell & Sullivan have been awarded the drilling contract by Lou Stogner, Dallas and Amarillo, for his oil test in section 606, block D, John H. Gibson survey, Yoakum county. Spudding in of the 5,500-foot test is to be before July 5 and completion by August 9. It will be 1,930 feet from the north and west lines of the section, on a farmout by Ohio Oil Co.

Amerada No. 1 Buckley (Matthews) section 417, block G.C.S.S.D. & R.G.N.G. survey, Gaines county, a mile and a quarter south of Carter-Continental No. 1 Wasson, was drilled to 300 feet in red rock.

Argo Royalty No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, four and a quarter miles north east of the Continental No. 1 Gaines county, was rigging up standard tools after cementing 10 3-4 inch casing at 2,095 feet, with 140 sacks of cement. It is in section 2, block A-7, psl.

Carter-Conoco No. 1 Moore-Langdon, section 44, block A-X, psl, Gains county, was rigging up steam rotary and will soon begin drilling plug from 10 3-4 inch casing at 2,200 feet. Total depth is 2,210 feet.

Cellar and pits have been dug for the Phillips—I.T.I.O. No. 1 E. C. Brand, a test staked last week a mile and a half northwest of the Wasson. It is 2,310 feet out of the north and 330 feet out of the east line of section 55, block A-X, psl. Unofficially, it was said that the I.T.I.O. lease holder had entered into an operating agreement with Phillips, calling for a half interest in the north half of the section. Production must be secured by October 29.

Continental No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones section 22, block A-7, Gaines county, three miles south and nine west of the Wasson, was drilling at 4,570 feet in anhydrite.

Sloan and Blevins No. 1 W. W. Barber, section 19, block A-28, psl, Gaines county, was drilling below 3,512 feet in anhydrite.

Shell No. 1 S. F. Mann, Gaines county, section 220, block G. W. T. Ry. survey, was swabbing through 2 1-2 inch tubing with production of 80 barrels of oil, 10 per cent basic sediment and water. Previously it had swabbed for 16 hours at the rate of seven barrels per hour.

Lou Wentz No. 1 W. W. Dalmont, Gaines county, in the Kirk area, was drilling at 4,706 feet in lime.

Acidization of the Carter Conoco No. 1 Wasson, Gaines county, is planned after the well is cleaned out. First day's test showed 133 barrels of 334.5 gravity oil. The tubing may be pulled and rerun with packer to shut off 3,880,000 cubic feet of gas. Only a small amount of wash water is shown.

Magnolia No. 1 Taylor, Yoakum county, section 201 block D. John H. Gibson survey was drilling below 4,174 feet in red beds and anhydrite. Steel line measurement showed the test was 60 feet shallower than expected.

M. S. Inglewright No. 1 Houston, labor 14, league 55, Oldham county school land, Cochran county, was drilling below 3,815 feet in redrock and anhydrite.

E. L. Wilson No. 1 Texas Land & Mortgage, Dawson county, bottomed at 5,050 feet in lime, with 4,000 feet of sulphur water on the hole. is to be abandoned. It is in section 46, block M.E.L. & R.R. survey, a mile and a half south of the albaugh No. 1 Robinson.

Illinois-Maracaibo No. 1 Yellowhouse, labor 4, league 700 Capitol lands, Bailey county, was standarizing at 4,497 feet.

Methods Of Testing Water To Be Discussed At School

Basic methods of determining and protecting the purity of water supplies will be subject of a laboratory demonstration as a water school in progress here since last week passes its halfway mark at City hall tonight.

J. N. Hinyard, of the vocational education department, industrial division, of the state department of education, who is conducting the course in cooperation with the city, will be assisted by Miss Dora Snyder, city bacteriologist.

THIS TURKEY FEEDS FOUR

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—There will be drumsticks enough to go around at the Thanksgiving dinner where this turkey is served: Hatched at the Vanderburgh county infirmary, the bird has four legs.

Spread Of Bubonic Plague In United States Is Reported

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

DENVER, June 23—Rapid spread of bubonic plague, disguised in a new form among animals, in the western United States, with a prediction that it may go to the Ohio river and be very dangerous to man, was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science here today.

The warning was given by C. R. Eskey, senior surgeon, U. S. public health service, San Francisco. The new form is called sylvatic plague.

Carry Same Germ

But the animals, said Dr. Eskey, are carrying precisely the same germ, bacillus pestis, which in the past decimated populations of entire countries.

Bubonic plague, named from swellings in groin and armpits, has heretofore been transmitted to man by bites from fleas and rats with this plague. The present American spread of plague is among ground squirrels mainly.

The fleas from these squirrels have given the human type plague to 39 persons to date, said Dr. Eskey. That the squirrels had the plague has been known since 1908, when it was discovered in California. But only in the last two years, said the surgeon, has the rapid spread been discovered.

It has extended to seven states. He named California, Oregon, Utah and Nevada, but not the others.

Other animals have been found with this bubonic plague. They are tree squirrel, chipmunk, field mice and wood rats. But only in the ground squirrels has wide and rapid spread been seen.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Hot Weather is Here—Beware of Biliousness!
Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headache, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.
These are some of the more common symptoms or warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts, combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. Joe Louis Rules Heavyweight Ranks After Kayo Of Jim Braddock

Famous Right Connects In 8th Round

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

CHICAGO, June 23. (AP)— Joe Louis, only three years ago a rank amateur, rules the heavyweight fistic ranks of the world today.

The 23-year-old son of an Alabama cotton picker won the championship crown from great-hearted James J. Braddock before a clamoring crowd of 55,000 in Comiskey park last night, with one murderous right hand blow that struck with the speed of a rattlesnake.

Fight Is Spectacular

That gloved thunderbolt climaxed a spectacular fight, ending with the cut and crushed champion being counted out, in one minute and ten seconds of the eighth round, after Louis himself had been knocked to the floor in the first round and hard pressed to overcome Braddock's courageous stand during the first five rounds.

Louis, the sour-faced, dead-pan boy, is the youngest fighter ever to win the heavyweight title. At 23 he is just a year younger than Jack Dempsey was when the Manassa Mauler knocked out the giant Jess Willard at Toledo in 1919. He is the second negro ever to win the crown. Jack Johnson came in before him to batter the relic of James J. Jeffries into helplessness at Reno 27 years ago.

Must Even Score

Critics agreed today, however, the young negro's hold on the crown won't be secure beyond argument unless and until he evens the score with Schmeling. The German, still the logical contender, may be matched to fight Louis in New York this September. Meantime Schmeling is slated to fight Tommy Farr, the British empire champion, abroad.

Braddock, an old man, as boxing goes, and idle for two years since he won the title from Max Baer in June 1935, gave away eight years to the Detroit dynamiter and could not stand up under that handicap. All he had was a courageous, Irish fighting heart and ability to "take it." He survived seven rounds in defending his championship against bitter odds, but the way he defended it brought thunderous cheers from the huge crowd.

Cut And Bleeding

The fight ended with the game Braddock lying helpless. He was bleeding from the mouth, cut and battered. In the language of the ring he was knocked dead. He never heard the referee, Tommy Thomas, count the fatal ten over him. His handlers tenderly picked him off the floor and carried him to a corner, where it required minutes to restore him to his senses.

As Braddock came out for the eighth round he was a worried, wabbly champion. But he gamely walked into Louis' blistering fire. Suddenly, Louis shot out with a terrific left hook that landed in Braddock's mid-section. Another left caught the champion on the chin. His knees buckled, and he began to sag. Then, in the next instant, Louis drove a cruel right hand smash to the jaw and Braddock sank to the floor, rolling over on his right side, with his head resting on his arm. He remained motionless as the referee counted over him.

Crowd Is Stunned

The crowd at first was stunned. Braddock, underdog in the betting, carried the sentiment of the majority because he had been poor and had fought his way back from government relief rolls to the top and because he is tremendously popular personally. As the champion lay motionless on the canvas, the yells of the spectators suddenly grew into a mad roar, as row upon row of humans took it up.

Braddock, instead of boxing cautiously, started to slug with Louis at the very beginning. They hardly reached the center of the ring before Braddock walked into the negro challenger and drove a powerful right that just missed Louis chin. Louis then opened with a shower of lefts and rights that caused Braddock to retreat momentarily.

Then, to the astonishment of the spectators, the champion drove a right uppercut to the chin that dropped Louis as if he'd been hit with an axe. The blow, however, apparently landed on his Adam's apple instead of on the button. Louis jumped up and backed out of danger before the timekeeper could begin a count. Braddock was unable to press his sudden advantage.

Champ Shows No Fear

The champion, in superb physical condition, continued to wade into Louis in succeeding rounds, showing no fear of the negro's punching dynamite. In the sixth it was apparent that he was beginning to tire under Louis' bouncing lefts and rights off his cheeks and head.

Braddock was hurt, cut badly about the eyes and mouth, but his courage did not desert him. He was determined to land a finishing punch. Before the round was finished he was throwing his looping right hand wildly and desparately but he was off balance and rapidly slowing down. His legs were no longer able to support him and he was soon a target for the killing. He was losing his championship, but he didn't give it away. His age and his legs did.

Braddock, through his puffed and bleeding lips, declared he had no intention of retiring and hoped to meet Louis again. There was a gash an inch long on the left side of his upper lip. His eyes and ears were crimson from Louis' wicked blows.

The dethroned champion, after his 50 per cent share of the net receipts has been cut up, will be lucky to have as much as $60,000 or $70,000 for himself. But that's practically a gold mine, compared to the Braddock financial circumstances three years ago, when Jim began his comeback climb, and probably exceeds all that he has managed to clear since he won the title from Baer in 1934.

Louis, with a "cut" of 17 1-2 per cent for himself and associates, has now earned approximately $850,000 in less than three years of professional fighting. The negro, whether he fights once or twice more this year, as Mike Jacobs plans, is certain to pass the million mark in his next bout.

Chicago Cubs Headed For Pennant

Young Exporters Again Appear Headed For Top Of League

(By The Associated Press)

It seems a lot of observers were caught off base in their recent pronouncements. Beaumont's young Shippers had shot their bolt and were heading fast for the lower depths of the Texas league.

Whether they can stand the pace a whole season requires proof but the Exporters have shown no little skill and energy in battling their way back into second position, giving the run-away Oklahoma City Indians the nearest thing to a fight.

Lose To Panthers

They held that place today despite the fact they lost last night to a Fort Worth club that did little except watch old Jackie Reid outsmart Beaumont's batters. The score was 2 and 1, although Patchin gave up but three hits to the five Beaumont took from Reid.

A club that recently seemed headed for better things but suddenly returned to its hitless ways also dropped a 2-1 contest. The Dallas Steers managed only three hits all evening and then threw away the game against San Antonio by mixing its signals in the last inning. San Antonio relied on Leslie Tietje, one-time Dallas player to subdue the Steers. The Mission batters could turn their 10 hits into only the brace of scores.

Tulsa dropped into fifth and out of a tie with Fort Worth when it lost to Galveston 8 to 5. George Granger, a pinch hitter who actually produced, slapped out an eighth-inning double with the bags loaded and gave the Bucs their three-run advantage.

The tall grass in the Oklahoma City ball park helped Pitcher Clay Touchstone win his game for the Indians against Houston, 9 to 2. Touchstone popped one into the outfield and raced around the bases while Buff fielders frantically searched the tall grass for the ball. When they found it and shot it homeward, Touchstone had already been there.

Touchstone otherwise was bad medicine for the Houstonmen, granting them five scattered hits.

Washington Crew Grabs Regatta At Poughkeepsie

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—Paced by the 1936 olympic and Hudson champion varsity, the University of Washington's three-boat navy Tuesday swept the river for the second time in a row in the 39th annual intercollegiate rowing association regatta, inscribing a brilliant new pace into the record books.

The smooth-stroking, powerful young giants coached by quiet-spoken Al Ulbrickson made a thorough job of the business of repeating their triple triumph of last year.

The varsity, in its four-length victory over navy, accomplished with a beat that never topped thirty-six, established a new four-mile record of 18 minutes, 33 3-5 seconds, three and a fifth seconds under the previous mark set in 1928 by California before the Bears went on to their Olympic title.

The junior varsity, sweeping down the choppy stream before a following wind and tide, also cracked the previous standard in its three-mile test. The Jayvees, with a three-length margin at the finish, also over navy, were clocked in 13:44 as even the middies bettered the 1928 navy mark of 14:18 by coming home in 13:55 3-5.

Giants Given Thrashing By 5-0 Count

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

History — and especially the National league breed — has shown often and disastrously that a pennant winner is never in until all the chips are counted, but at this writing it appears the Cubs will have to do a major job of kicking the crown away to keep it out of Chicago.

Slow to start because of the early season injuries that crippled pitchers and key men alike, the Cubs are once again all present and accounted for and red hot. They've won 18 of their last 22 games, topping off with a 5-0 job on the Giants yesterday, in which Bill Lee handcuffed the Terry Terriers with seven hits.

Cards Appear Toughest

At present the Cards appear the Cubs toughest rivals, but although they've suddenly come up with a "big three" pitching set in Dizzy Dean, Lon Warneke and Lefty Bob Weiland they're going to have a tough time rating that trio when the doubleheaders start piling up.

Old Pop Haines did an unexpectedly fine job yesterday but was no match for rookie Luke Hamlin and the gas house gang went down before the Dodgers, 2-1.

Hamlin's four hit effort was only one of a flock of crack elbowing performances yesterday. Monte Stratton, Chicago White Sox youngster, blanked the Athletics 3-0 with three hits. Old Blub Malone, Yankees' relief veteran, made his 1937 starting debut and stopped the Browns 8-5 with five hits. Cy Blanton fanned seven and tossed a four hitter as the Pirates pounded the Bees 4-1, and Lee Grissom, Cincinnati rookie, muffled the Phillies 6-0 with six hits.

Washington walloped four pitchers, including Bob Feller in a two inning relief role and trampled the Indians, 11-3. The Tigers and Red Sox were rained out.

Four Lubbock Women Play In Big Spring Golf Tourney

At least four Lubbock women left yesterday for Big Spring where qualifying starts today in the Big Spring Women's invitation golf tournament. The tournament is to be held over the Big Spring country club course.

Local delegates include Mrs. Charles Akey, Mrs. W. F. Helwig, Mrs. Guy McAfee and Mrs. C. E. Dean.

Mrs. C. L. Dean, probably Lubbock's outstanding feminine golfer, who competed in the Women's Trans-Mississippi at San Antonio and the Women's West Texas at San Angelo recently, did not enter the Big Spring tournament.

Jo Dick Slaughter, Lubbock Country club star, and Obie Bristow, Big Spring ace, were scheduled to compete in a special exhibition match as a feature of the tournament. Slaughter and Charles Akey, Lubbock Country club pro, left yesterday afternoon for Big Spring.

Women of Lubbock Country club will be host at the second annual women's invitation tournament here next month.

Housekeepers of Dublin, Irish Free State, are protesting against rising food prices.

Interesting Card Is Promised At Auditorium Show Tonight

Tony Piluso and Joe Kopecky open the show, Vic Weber and Tex Hager carry on in the semi-final, and Jack Hagen meets the Hoosier Hotshot, Buck Lipscomb in the principal event at Sled Allen's grappling show this evening.

Hagen, the headlock king of local middleweights, may take a sudden notion to fix the Indiana scourge up for ood, and it will be perfectly all right with the paying guests.

Hagen is capable of wrestling a good, clean match, or he can take the short cut by use of a well trained pair of dukes. A "turn-around" grappler, the easy going Hagen has shown a tendency, this trip, to smack right back when somebody smacks him. He'll get smacked plenty tonight, and his vindictive nature will have an out.

Kopecky On Opener

Otherwise, the black-haired, brown-skinned Louisianan may get somewhere with his vicious headlock. When he grabs that and rears back, the opposition has some painful moments. The hold is best applied while Hagen is standing. Hagen will let Lipscomb take the lead, and maybe he'll follow suit. The fans are hoping so.

To support what stacks up as a rather fine main struggle, Promoter Allen has four other fighters of main event capabilities lined up for the two-event preliminary card. Joe Kopecky, who had to give up without a struggle against Welterweight Champion Jack Reynolds last week, and who on the following evening at Amarillo fell before the heated attack of Sheik Mar Allah, is shoved back to the curtain raiser for a change. He's still tops around here, but when a main eventer is beaten he usually has to start all over again.

Weber Is Favored

Kopecky may not have much trouble with the likeable Tony Piluso tonight but then again he might. Jack Hagen handled Piluso in convincing style last week, but it was Tony's first trip here and his first appearance in two years. He is bigger, broader and more skilled than before, and he may give Kopecky a good battle in a rough and tumble sort of fashion tonight.

Vic Weber is still filling supporting card roles, although he's showing improvement from week to week. He takes on dumpy Tex Hager tonight in what should be a handsome scrap. Hager, returning last week after a long absence, looked better than mediocre while taming the old trial horse, Joe Bauer, in short order. He's strong, slippery, fast and rather colorful, this Hager, and liable to break loose and get tough at any minute.

Mrs. Arpad Gallavich of Pess, Hungary, has given birth to her twenty-third child, and all her children are living.

TELLS COPS TO BE GENTS

MANHATTAN, Kas. (AP) — When the Rev. J. David Arnold recently became mayor he told police their rule No. 1 "is that a policeman is always a gentleman."

He ordered policemen to be courteous at all times.

When John Brady, aged two, fell into a ten-foot manhole containing water, at Clones, Irish Free State, Dolores Davey, aged eight, saved his life by seizing him by the hair, a rescuer finding Dolores exhausted, but still gripping the boy's hair.

THE WAY ALL SPORTS WRITERS and so-called "experts" feel today, and have been feeling since about 9:40 o'clock last night (C. S. T.) is aptly portrayed by Paul Mickelson, an Associated Press writer for these papers. Paul, whose training camp and dope stories for the past week were highly interesting, beat the rest of us to the punch. The following column came over the wires last night several minutes BEFORE the fight actually started. It was intended for use this morning. Other things took up the space, so here it is:

By PAUL MICKELSON

CHICAGO, June 23. (AP)—I told you so. All the time you doubted our prediction on the big fight but now you know we're on the inside.

Why, the other fellow never had a chance from the time he first picked out his camp site. He looked terrible, flabby and had goose pimples. He ate too much or he didn't eat enough. He was a sucker for a left; he was a chump for a right.

Notice those rights and lefts? when they issued statements that he'd win either the decision or by a knockout. They were trying to create extra interest and some doubt so the next fight would reach a million dollar gate.

For a while I was almost fooled myself. I came within a typewriter key of picking the wrong guy. But when the managers took me in their confidence and swiped my new hat they gave me the low down.

The trouble with the loser was that he didn't train properly. He was too head strong, heeded only his own advice. He slept too much or too little. Instead of thinking about the fight, what did he talk about? The Giants, Cubs, Cardinals and Yankees. Even after the weighing-in, he was sore because they made him rest. He wanted to go to Wrigley Field to see the Giants and Cubs fight nine rounds.

Notice those rights and lefts? They were secret punches, "J" told me about them last night and laughed till he was almost too sick to show up for his fight against "J."

Of course, you know the winner gave a big party after the fight. He gave a great talk over the radio on a national hook-up, too.

"Hello, everybody," he said, "it was a hard fight and I'm glad I won. I'm ready to defend my title any old day."

The loser took it like a man.

"I did my best but, alas, it wasn't good enough. He's a great fighter. It looked like a cinch for a while, but I'll be back. I'm not through yet. They gotta give me another chance."

Mr. Mickelson's column ends there, and there's a bit of space left.

First, we wish to thank Mr. Blondy Cross and Mr. Gill Hayes of San Angelo for their kind contributions.

Next, we wish to point out that tonight is wrestling night at the Auditorium, and that there'll be three fights down there probably as interesting as last night's main event in Chicago, maybe. From the radio account, it WAS a pretty good fight.

Jack Hagen and Buck Lipscomb do the principal honors tonight, although the word honor and Buck Lipscomb shouldn't be printed on the same page. They are entirely foreign to each other.

AT THE MOMENT NO GAME is scheduled at the local ball yard Sunday. The Hubbers go to Littlefield for a return game and the third road trip of the season.

There'll be something doing a week from Sunday, however, and Monday, too. There's possibility of an alteration in the July 4 baseball plans, and maybe the program will be cut to a single game each day. Amarillo's Oilers got a bit too high hat for us, after licking us three times, and are taking their time about taking on the Hubbers again. But the Amerada Oilers of Hobbs, with whom the Hubbers played the best game seen here this season, are on the line. They are to be here for a game Sunday, July 4, and another on Monday, July 5, which will be the official July Fourth holiday.

ST. MATHEWS, S. C.—Addison Whetstone, negro farmer, is a firm believer now in kindness to animals.

A year ago last spring he found a nest of field mice, fed and tamed the litter instead of killing them. When the mice left, Whetstone found a $5 bill lining the nest.

Spring, 1937, and the mother mouse returned to raise another litter. Whetstone again was kind, feeding the new brood. Today the mother had left a second time.

Whetstone went to collect and found a $10 bill in the nest.

Funds To Analyze NRA Data Now Are Being Sought

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP) — NRA spent millions collecting business statistics and now a commerce department bureau wants money to find out what they mean.

Alexander V. Dye of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce told a house appropriations committee it would be well worth $300,000 to analyze the mass of data gathering dust in the department files.

"It is almost every kind of information," he says, "covering construction, distribution and costs of production in many lines of activity."

New Problem In Agriculture Is Occasioned By Price

SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 23 (AP)—High prices for alfalfa seed, base of one of this state's principal crops, have given the state department of agriculture a new problem.

Cheap seed shipped here has been seized and analyzed and found to consist of as high as 28 per cent weed seed. In one specimen, it was determined that in every pound of seed sown by a farmer he would be planting 105,394 weeds.

A pre-fabricated steel stack believed the tallest ever manufactured was erected recently in Peoria, Ill. It is an all-welded stack 104 feet tall, 57 inches in diameter and weighed 10 tons.

Dutcher's News And Views Of Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent
Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Roosevelt, who has been experimenting all over the place for the last four years, now thinks he may have the makings of a magic formula which will perform the following wonders:

Dutcher

1—Give a decent standard of living to 40,000,000 persons for the first time.

2—Keep prosperity returning by a steady increase in the national income.

3—Pile up millions of votes for the New Deal and its candidates in 1938 and 1940.

4—Eliminate the relief problem, balance the budget and start paying off the national debt.

5—Avert serious depressions in the future.

Will the formula really do any or all of these things? Possibly not. But it certainly would make all millionaires and most other wealthy persons scream with pain. Early in the New Deal Mr. Roosevelt had the idea he could make everybody happy. Now he thinks he can make everybody happy except the rich. His present program is a share-the-wealth program. But the rich will be told that it means more profits than ever—right up to the moment the tax collector comes.

• • •

The Money Merry-Go-Round

It's all based on the velocity theory of money which was a feature of the Townsend plan. You put the money in the hands of those who will spend it fastest, meaning those who are shy on the necessities of life. Then the shopkeeper or landlord spends it and, eventually, it gets into the hands of Mr. J. P. Morgan or somebody who pays a big fat slice to the government, which puts it right back into circulation again, preferably through those who will spend it fastest.

Higher wages, shorter hours, lower prices, maximum production, bigger volume of profits—all this to build up the bigger national income which, Roosevelt said at his press conference the other day, would make it possible to balance the budget.

It has come to be a well-accepted New Deal theory that the government must redistribute incomes so that high incomes will not drain off an undue share of buying power into overinvestment for a consuming market which does not exist.

You go and ask the economists how they know it will work and they say that's a laugh on you, because the purchasing power theory has had its test and has worked and is working better all the time. Not all economists agree on that, by any means. But the local members of the craft do and they've persuaded Roosevelt.

• • •

Two Ways To Figure

National income has gone up steadily as a result of more production and that, Mr. Roosevelt and the other New Dealers are glad to be able to believe, has been due to higher wages, more money for the lower income group—relief and so on, social security payments and relative absence of profiteering.

At any rate, national income is estimated at 80 billion dollars in 1929, 38 billion dollars in 1932, 63 billions in 1936 and 70 billions in 1937. (The figures are really better than they look if you remember that the wholesale price level was 95 in 1929 and is only about 87 now. But they're much worse than they look if you take into account the population growth since 1929 and figure it out per capita.)

Specific examples given of the way things have been pepped up are in the big boost the increase in farm purchasing power gave the automobile industry and in the high production schedules of the cotton textile industry whose big market is among the lower income groups.

• • •

Just Wait, You'll See It

So what? Well, the administration idea is that you must have more of the same. You get a wage and hour bill which spreads employment to millions and increases the wages of millions, you try to break up monopoly price-fixing, you maintain WPA, you lash out at the wealthy men who the Treasury thinks are evading taxes, you try to work out a selective tax scheme which will go after "excess profits," you boost the inter-corporate dividend tax because you think holding companies are non-productive devices for draining off wealth, you wonder how soon you ought to hike up income taxes again and then

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine halts a desperate young man, Ted Gaynor, who is about to set a forest fire to get a job fire fighting. She offers him a place on her outfit. Riding home, Kay finds her ranch house and barn lost in flames. Seth Jordan, her faithful foreman, has saved the insurance papers. Josh Hastings, owner of the Flying Six, invites Kay there, but she distrusts him. Her younger sister, Babs, and peppery old Aunt Kate willingly accept the Hastings invitation; Kay insists on staying at her smouldering ranch to start rebuilding.

Chapter Six
New Courage For Kay

"If she won't come, she won't." To Kay's relief, Josh Hastings broke into Aunt Kate's querulous remonstrance. "We may as well be getting under way. Perhaps Kay will deign to come and see you sometime, even if you are at the Flying Six."

Kay flushed under his sarcastic tone, and she had to bite her lips and swallow hard before she could answer. It was abominable to have to be under this obligation to him, but for the moment there was no way out of it.

"I'll be glad to come, and thank you for your hospitality." She deliberately ignored his sarcasm as she hugged Babs goodby and threw a kiss to Aunt Kate.

Still unconsciously clutching Seth's arm, she stood proudly erect as she watched the buckboard wheel around and start off in the direction of the Flying Six, accompanied by Hastings and the two little girls on horseback.

After a last wave, they dipped down out of sight, and with a broken little cry Kay turned and buried her face in Seth's shoulder.

"There there, honey." He soothingly patted her shoulder the way he used to when she had come to him with her childish woes. "You come on over and have a bite to eat, and you'll see things a heap more hopeful like."

"I'm all right now." Kay braced herself and smiled at Seth. "Come on. Let's look at what's left."

Throwing herself into the excitement of feeding the fire crew and getting them off, Kay had no time for thought or feelings until she found herself at dusk on the porch of the log cabin that was to be her temporary home.

She waved goodby to Seth and the boys, as they retreated uncertainly toward the bunk house. She had finally convinced them that she had everything she needed, and that she wanted to be alone. So they had at last reluctantly left her.

The Picture Over The Bunk

Sudden tears trembled on her lashes as she glanced in the tiny room behind her. The best out the bunk house afforded was in one corner, with the cleanest blanket that could be found folded neatly at its foot.

Her father's desk and his chair were in the opposite corner, and his gun rack, with its curious collection of guns and rifles, was fastened on the wall. Other odds and ends that Seth had saved gave just enough of a touch of the old spacious living room to bring a catch in her throat.

Kay clenched her hands until the nails bit into the palms. She mustn't give way now, just because she was alone!

Suddenly her eyes caught a picture that had been tacked on the wall over the desk. It was an old magazine cover of a girl with hair not unlike her own, who was waving a gay greeting to the world in general.

Kay had seen this in the bunk house over Seth's bunk, and the sight of it here, with all that it told of the clumsy, affectionate attempt to try to brighten up her new home, broke down Kay's last shred of control. Leaning her head against the door, she abandoned herself to the tears that would no longer be suppressed.

"Please don't do that! Can't I do something for you?"

Kay started violently at the voice that broke in on her misery. Fumbling for her handkerchief, she wiped her eyes, and turned around to face Ted Gaynor.

"You!" she faltered, with a sudden rush of memory of the events of the early afternoon which the later catastrophe had completely obliterated from her mind.

She gazed at him with a fascinated incredulity. Was it only a few hours since she had had that strange encounter with this man? The sudden realization that she was now living in one of the cabins she had offered to him swept over her, and she began to laugh with a helpless, hysterical note that frightened her, though she was powerless to stop it.

"Don't!" He sprang up the steps and gently guided her to a chair, then grabbed up a glass and filled it with water from a pitcher the boys had left on the table. "Drink that!"

Kay reached for the glass with a trembling hand, her hysterical laughter subsiding under the influence of his compelling voice and his dark eyes that gazed into hers. Sympathy and concern for her had replaced the tragic misery in their depths that had so moved her before, and again she felt his strange magnetism as he smiled a slow reassuring smile.

A Date For Tomorrow

"Don't worry about anything you promised me this afternoon," he said finally. "What you did for me up there on the ridge has given me a new lease on life. I'm not going to be a burden on you, but if there is any way I can help you, you have only to say what it is."

"I can still make good on what I offered you," Kay answered impulsively. "That is, if your mother and sister can get on in the other cabin like this. You can stay in the bunk house. I'll need all the help I can get to rebuild."

An involuntary sigh of relief escaped him at this decision.

"You'll have all the help I can give," he promised simply. "And if you don't need the other cabin for yourself we'll be only too thankful to have it."

"That's settled, then." Kay got up and went over to the desk. "I'll write a note and tell Seth about you."

She drew out a piece of paper, then paused as a sudden thought struck her. "I tell you what I'd like you to do," she added. "I'm riding to town tomorrow to see about the insurance. I think you had better come with me, so as to be out of the way in case that Runyon man comes over. Will you do that?"

"I'll do anything you say." Ted Gaynor answered, a curious intent look in his eyes as he watched her scribble a hasty note. "What time do we start?"

"Seven o'clock." Kay answered, handing him the n—. "That will fix things up with Seth."

He took the note and put it in his pocket, as he turned to go. At the top of the steps he paused irresolutely.

"You're sure you're all right?"

Kay nodded. "Sure. Somehow, you've given me new courage. So now we're quits."

A slow color crept into his face at her words.

"We can never be quits on that," he said huskily. Then he abruptly turned and made for the bunk house.

Kay suffers a bitter blow, tomorrow, when she reaches the bank.

DANGERS OF BEING CAREFUL

Lubbock automobile drivers are discovering that the customs of automobile driving have produced a strange state of things, in that it is sometimes dangerous to try to be safe and careful. If you take your car out in a highly cautious spirit, and plug along at a moderate pace, you may think you are perfectly safe. But meanwhile a line of speeders will probably collect behind you. They will get so impatient, that some of them are likely to tear ahead in some unsuitable place. Perhaps in so doing they will fail to notice some car coming around a curve. In the melee that results, you may be forced off the road, as the result of your own carefulness, plus the reckless act of some other driver.

It is often safer to proceed at 40 miles an hour where other people are doing the same thing, than to slow down and run at a pace that in former days would have been considered wise and prudent.

The above is not intended to mean that people who drive fast come out better on an average than those who drive slow. On the whole the driver who takes a moderate pace will reduce his chance of accident.

But a car that travels at rates of speed that do not conform to the general custom, takes chances too. Years ago, it was thought that 20 or 25 miles an hour was a good safe speed on the highways, and some states passed laws establishing such speed limits. But if a 20 mile an hour driver man gets out now on a popular highway on Sunday afternoon, he is likely to cause a a lot of irritation, as a result of which he may get hit.

A Thought . .

Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou has believed; blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed. — John 20:29.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 23 — There isn't anything to that rumor of a romance between Hitler and Pola Negri. By this time, the report seems to have been pretty thoroughly discredited anyway, but you also have the opinion of Agnes Grundstrom that it isn't true.

Miss Grundstrom works in the wardrobe department at Paramount and has been there nearly 18 years. She doesn't know Der Fuehrer, but she knew Miss Negri very well indeed.

"Miss Negri was herself a dictator," she said. "She would not stand for taking orders from even Hitler. They could not get along 10 minutes together, unless Pola is very much changed. She got along with her first husband, Serge Mdivani, only because he would give in always to her whims."

For five years Miss Grundstrom was the Polish star's personal wardrobe attendant. She said, "Pola liked me because I could understand her when she spoke. She had always a bad accent, and was sensitive about it, and she would get furious when she had to repeat something she had once said.

"Those stories about her temperament — they were not even half the truth! Today all the stars in Hollywood put together are not so temperamental.

"Pola would come into her dressing room throwing things around and yelling. Such things she said! I would not say anything to her, but just dodge the things she threw.

"Maybe her rages would last two, three days, and she would refuse even to come to the studio. When she came back she would be sweet for a few days or maybe just a few hours. Always she gave me a present when she came back, and usually it was $50."

• • •

"Smoked For Effect"

Scarcely a player in Hollywood today takes a drink during working hours. Executives just won't stand for it. No liquor is sold in any studio cafe. In Miss Negri's time the rules were the same, and also there was a prohibition law. But the star was above rules and laws.

"After almost every scene," recalled Miss Grundstrom, "she had to have a little nip. Also we had to have champagne cold, and anything else she could think of almost. 'Chianti,' she would say, and there would have to be Chianti. Or Chartreuse or Cognac.

"Always she was afraid the federal officers were after her for having liquor. When she would see a strange man on the lot she would be sure it was an officer coming to arrest her. And then for a few days she might give up her bracers.

"She never used to smoke except when she was being interviewed. Then she would light a cigaret and wave it around for the effect."

"They got along fine, though," Miss Grundstrom said. "They talked together in German, but other directors made her very angry because they couldn't understand her and also they tried to stop her taking refreshments between scenes.

"She disliked most Maurice Stiller because the first day they worked together it was terribly hot and he came on the set stripped to the waist. Pola never forgave him."

• • •

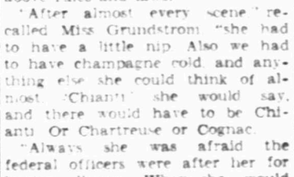

Just about the fanciest swimming pool in Hollywood was built, swum in, photographed, emptied and torn out in exactly a week.

Actually, it was part of one of the studio's permanent tanks, partitioned off, and set with elaborate trimmings of palms, imitation marble, urns, a tropic moon and ultra-ultra furniture.

Several sequences of "Artists and Models" are supposed to happen in and around this pool, but most of them have been photographed elsewhere.

About the only real act on there was when Ida Lupino had to fall in the water with her clothes on.

Five hours were required to shoot that scene. Scarcely had she emerged, dripping and triumphant, than laborers swooped down and tore the whole thing out.

County Agent Leader Claims Wheat Outlook Excellent

Wheat farmers of the South Plains are harvesting a better crop than they had expected and the crop in many counties will far exceed predictions, K. J. Edwards, College Station, county agent leader said this morning. He was here for a visit with C. C. Jobson, county agent, before leaving for College Station.

After leaving Lubbock Monday he went to a number of the wheat counties north of here, Floyd, Hale, Briscoe, Castro and Swisher counties have excellent prospects.

Mr. Edwards will visit Crosby, Dickens and Kent counties enroute home. He will be here some time in July, he said.

Fugitive Bares His Identity

(By The Associated Press)

DURANT, Okla., June 23 — Twenty-four years of freedom ended tonight for James Early King, 66, prosperous Bryan county farmer, who was on his way back to the Georgia state prison to complete a life sentence in the slaying of a neighbor.

Deputy Sheriffs J. R. McLaughlin and Ben Risner said King, arrested here today on a charge of drunkenness, admitted his real name was Jim Kimbell, and that he fled a Georgia chain gang in 1913 after serving three months of a life sentence in the killing of Frank McCart at Covington, Ga., in 1911.

Story Is Verified

The deputies said they verified King's story through the Georgia prison commission. King waived extradition and declared he was ready to return, but did not relish going back to a chain gang.

King was quoted as saying he first came to Broken Bow, Okla., and was joined by his wife and ten children but when his daughters began writing to friends in Georgia, he feared his whereabouts would be discovered and he left his family and went to Rule, Tex.

There he married Pearl Hix, became the father of six more children, and fourteen years ago he moved to a farm six miles south of here, it was added. He said his second wife was unaware of his past.

King told the deputies he shot McCart during an altercation.

"McCart was my neighbor, and he was bad when he was drinking," King told the deputies.

Negro Youth Is Said To Have Confessed Ambush Slaying

MARSHALL, June 23. (AP) — County Attorney Benjamin Woodall said today a 19-year-old negro, Archie Fuller, had admitted the killing of Raymond Henderson, white farm overseer near Hallsville, May 29.

Woodall said Fuller, who surrendered to Alph Hickey, a farmer of the Noonday community at the behest of his mother-in-law, would be brought here for grand jury examination when the district court term begins.

The negro was held in an undisclosed jail, where Woodall said he signed a statement.

Liberty And Democracy Are In Danger, Dr. Angell Declares

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 23 (AP) —Dr. James Rowland Angell of Yale said today that liberty and democracy in the United States are in danger despite the "dogmatic assurance" to the contrary of "political medicine men."

The retiring president of the university cautioned also in his prepared address against winding up with a "bastard democracy."

It was Dr. Angell's final speech as head of Yale before the graduating classes of Yale college, the Sheffield Scientific school and the school of engineering.

CROP LOSS REPORTED

SAN ANTONIO, June 23 (AP) — The loss to Bexar county's cotton crop this year "is enormous" as a result of the ravages of the flea hopper, according to County Agent Fred Mally.

LIONS SELECT SAN ANTONIO

GALVESTON, June 23 (AP)—Texas Lions clubs at the annual convention here today selected San Antonio as the city for the 1938 meeting place.

Japan is pressing the United States hard for first place in world rayon yarn production.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, down 2 to 4 on lower cables and favorable weather. July 12.01; Oct. 12.09; Dec. 12.07; Jan. 12.11; March 12.18; May 12.24.

Other unsettling influences were seen in the withdrawal of Italy and Germany as members of the Spanish non-intervention committee and continued uncertainties in the steel industry.

July liquidation and exchanging from that position, however, continued as the principal trading feature.

After the call the market sagged a point or so further under scattered liquidation but contracts were not plentiful and there was enough trade and scattered buying to furnish resistance on the declines.

Liverpool was a moderate buyer of later months but shortly after the first half hour a little covering developed.

Oct. moved from 12.09 to 12.13 and shortly after the first half hour was selling at 12.12 with prices generally 1 to 2 points net lower.

The weather map showed generally clear conditions over the belt.

Liverpool recovered partially from early declines with hedging encountering foreign buying.

The market recovered later in the morning when the weekly weather report proved to be somewhat less favorable than expected, especially with reference to weevil activity in the eastern half of the belt.

Otherwise the weather was described as being favorable for the cotton crop. A recovery in wheat and a steadier tone in th stock markt brought in covering and local and buying.

October advanced to 12.23 and at midway was at 12.21 when prices were generally 3 to 8 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 23 (AP)—Cotton opened at a small decline today in response to indifferent Liverpool cables and trade selling. The initial trades were 3 to 6 points lower.

Aside from a little switching to later positions an advance of the first July notice day on Friday trading impulses were lacking.

There was no change in the foreign political picture and domestic strike difficulties offered little encouragement to the trade.

July opened at 11.92; October to 12.10; Dec., at 12.12; Feb. at 12.15; March at 12.20; and May at 12.27.

There was some buying of near months after the start and towards the end of the first half hour these options were unchanged to one point down compared with the previous close.

Domestic cotton goods markets continued quiet with prices easier.

There was considerable covering by shorts later in the morning and a little purchasing by the trade. Toward mid-session active positions were selling 10 to 13 points above the previous close.

Apprehension over the foreign situation now that Italy and Germany have withdrawn from the four power control plan, a mention of weevil emergence and the weekly weather and crop report were the principal incentives behind the demand.

July contracts traded up to 12.06, Oct. to 12.26 and Dec. to 12.29. On a few sales March traded to 12.29, or 3 points up. Other positions remained at their opening figures.

Except for the weevil reference the weekly report was considered favorable for the crop. Cotton was said to be making good progress although considerable replanting had been done in Oklahoma. The pest activity was reported heaviest in most sections of the eastern half of the belt.

weapons.

The CIO, through John Stevenson, CIO organizer, complained of the "wholesale arrests."

The four Youngstown plants have been closed since the strike began, but a check today showed Republic plants at Warren, Niles and Canton are operating at about one third capacity.

Only 10 Gallons Of Gas Found In Ship

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., June 23 (AP)—Major P. E. Burrows said tonight army mechanics so far had been able to find but 10 gallons of gasoline in the huge monoplane which brought three Russian fliers here from Moscow via the North Pole.

Major Burrows said that only one valve had been tapped, but he was sure there was more fuel in the ship. There are other valves, he said mechanics believe, but they could not be located. They may be found later.

The Soviet fliers said they had sufficient gasoline for an additional 750 miles of flight when forced down here Sunday by poor visibility. Their original goal was Oakland, Calif., about 580 miles from here.

Major Burrows said the ship would remain there pending the arrival of engineers from Moscow to dismantle it.

The three fliers, who continued on to San Francisco by chartered plane, were given an official welcom today by San Francisco city officials.

SIXTH BALE GINNED

WESLACO, June 23 (AP) — The Rio Grande valley tonight had ginned its sixth bale of cotton of the 1937 season. They were the first produced in the United States.

Because of the high cost of gasoline motor trucks and buses in China have been converted to use charcoal as engine fuel.

Approximately 132 steam and electric locomotives are manufactured in the United States each year.

Taber Speaks Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Pettit, June 23 — Two hundred farm people attended an open grange meeting in the Pettit high school gymnasium Tuesday night to hear National Master Louis J. Taber of the grange talk on "This Machine Age."

Charles Sanders, master, presided and opened the meeting. County Judge Alvin Allison introduced the speaker and a number of visitors.

President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college, who accompanied Master Taber, spoke of the rapid strides Hockley county had made in recent years in agriculture. He said the college in Lubbock was training young men from the farms for both farm and ranch work and for professional agriculture.

Others Are Present

R. J. Moore, state master, and Mrs. Moore; J. A. Binion, state secretary; H. W. Gaulrapp, state organizer, were other Grange officials present. R. L. Burdette, Lubbock vocational teacher; W. J. Baldwin, editor of the Hockley County Herald; D. W. Sherrill, county agent, and Miss Hazel Phipps, home demonstration agent and H. D. Pool, assistant county agent, likewise were introduced.

Farmers must be prepared to meet an age of progress and they must progress with it, the speaker said. Modern machinery has simplified the work of farming to a great extent.

"The farmer will never lose his place unless he loses it himself," Mr. Taber pointed out. "We will always have to have the farmer."

The farmer must have a larger share of the nation's wealth that he helps create, but he must organize and fight for it.

At the close of the meeting light refreshments were served.

Wichita Falls Man Given Life Under Habitual Criminal Act

ABILENE, June 23 (AP) — G. C. Ellis of Wichita Falls faced life imprisonment as an habitual criminal on conviction here today by an 104th court jury of horse theft.

The case was a companion to one in which Elmer Spawn of Wichita Falls received a five-year suspended sentence earlier in the year. Attorneys in the Ellis case gave notice of appeal.

Ellis admitted having served time in the penitentiary for three previous felony convictions.

Another Well For Seminole Pool Is Reported Today

SEMINOLE, June 23 (Special) — Another Seminole pool well had come in this morning, the S. F. Mann No. 1 of the Shell on section 220, block G. W. T. Ry survey.

Acidized last night, the well had 24 barrels of oil the first hour this morning and 48 the second. There was two per cent basic sediment, it was reported.

The well is an east offset to the Walsh and Adams No. 1 Averett.

Windows Are Shattered Today By San Antonio Explosion

SAN ANTONIO, June 23 (AP) — An explosion in the San Antonio Music company shattered windows and shook several buildings in the downtown area here early today.

Furniture from the music store and falling glass from shattered windows showered Police Officer M. M. Harsch, who was passing. He escaped serious injury.

Firemen and police prevented any chance of fire.

An investigation revealed the head from an acetylene tank was blown off.

BELATED GREETING

ST. LOUIS, June 23 (AP) — Mrs. W. J. Egen, Webster Groves, Mo., has received a belated Christmas greeting, one of the letters included on the mail of the ill-fated airliner which crashed near Salt Lake City last December 15, with the loss of six lives.

Strange Trip Is Ended Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 23—Frederick B. Snite, jr., kept alive by an "iron lung" in which he has been encased for 479 days, arrived home today after one of the strangest journeys in the annals of science.

Stricken with infantile paralysis in China, the 26-year-old youth lay helpless in a steel cylinder respirator while a corps of doctors and nurses superintended his 9,300 mile journey home to Chicago from Peiping.

During the overland journey from San Francisco particular precaution was taken to insure a steady supply of electricity for the respirator which lifts his chest and sucks air into the lungs 15 times a minute. Failure of the "iron lung" for a few minutes would mean death.

Boys Prepare For Journey

Sixty-two Boy Scouts of South Plains council will be Washington-bound by this time tomorrow unless the wholly unforeseen should develop.

Earl M. McClure, council executive, and Lyndon T. Grant, assistant, are in Post Memorial camp today, where the boys are in practice encampment, assisting in making final preparations for the departure for the national capital and the international jamboree which will open there June 30.

All Ready For Trip

The eve of the departure, McClure reported, finds every one of the boys and the seven adult leaders ready for the trip. Nothing has arisen, he added, to interfere with the plans of a single individual to make the journey.

As a final preliminary to the break of practice camp, the boys will be hosts to parents at a supper and brief program at Post camp tonight. From dawn tomorrow they will be engaged in the actual breaking of camp and boarding the two special coaches at Post in which they will make the trip to Washington. A special baggage car will carry their equipment.

The cars will be attached to the regularly scheduled Santa Fe train which leaves Post at 12:37 p. m. and which will pass through several centers of South Plains council enroute to Amarillo.

Stops Here Ten Minutes

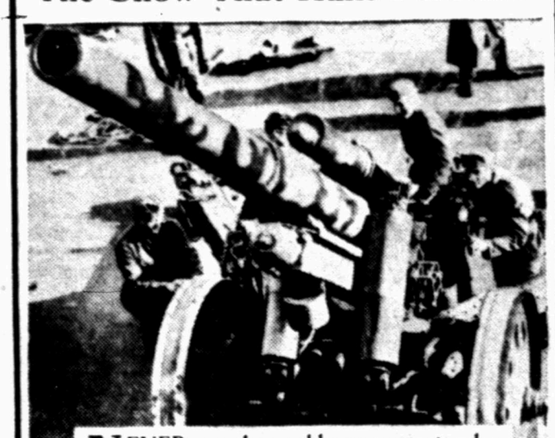

The train is scheduled to arrive in Slaton at 1:20 p. m.; in Lubbock for a ten minute stop at 1:40; in Hale Center at 2:38; in Plainview at 2:58; in Kress at 3:16; and at Tulia at 3:32. Boys from each of those points will be aboard the train.

From Amarillo the Scouts will be routed via Kansas City, Chicago, and Cincinnati to Washington, arriving there Saturday for a practice camp before the opening of the jamboree four days later.

Temporary Injunction Granted In Dawson Case By Judge

Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court yesterday granted a temporary injunction applied for by defendants in the suit of J. W. Sherron against O Pyre and others enjoining the sale of 177.1 acres of land in Cochran county by a substitute trustee.

Acting for Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa, judge of 106th district court who is ill, Judge I. Ir also ordered a temporary injunction in the divorce case of J. R. Westmoreland against Alvia Westmoreland. The cross action filed by the defendant restrains disposal of community property and assumption of debts which might ineumber her separate and community property. She is represented by Tom Garrard of Tahoka and B. B. Chappell of Lubbock. The original case was filed at Lamesa in Dawson county.

A jury commission yesterday selected grand jurors for the next term of 72nd district court.

Death Hearing Slated Today

EL PASO, June 23 (AP)—Collan H. Morgan, 36-year-old railroad employe, Tuesday night sat calmly in El Paso county jail awaiting a Wednesday afternoon preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering his bride of a few months.

Morgan was arrested about midnight Sunday, more than two hours after the garrote slaying of his wife occurred. Police said a lamp cord was the instrument of death, having been wrapped around the neck of the unconscious woman as she lay upon the floor of their apartment, her face mangled by the smashing blow ofa pop bottle, fragments of which were found on the floor nearby.

Found By Son

The body was discovered by Collan H. Morgan, jr., 13-year-old son of Morgan by a former wife, who walked into the darkened apartment before he turned on the light and found the gore-smeared body of his stepmother at his feet. His screams brought the landlady and the police, who arrested Morgan in a downstairs hall of the building.

The body of Mrs. Morgan was sent Tuesday night to Pueblo, Colo., for burial. The child is being sent to the home of a relative at Albuquerque, N. M.

Meeting Of Baptists Staged At Post; Problems Talked

Discussions of church problems of Lubbock district featured a monthly meeting of Baptists at Post Tuesday, according to report of Rev. Boyd P. Milburn, pastor of College Avenue Baptist church here, one of those who attended.

Rev. Milburn was elected chairman of the board of directors to replace Rev. C. G. Sewell, former pastor of the Slaton Baptist church and who recently has been made pastor of a church at Phoenix, Ariz. The board is made up of pastors of the churches of Garza, Cochran, Lubbock, and Hockley counties and one representative from each of the churches.

Leo Waite of the First Baptist church here was elected superintendent of the Lubbock Baptist association Sunday school. The group voted to hold a revival meeting, to last approximately 10 days, for Mexicans here, with Rev. Paul Bell of Bastrop, Baptist state superintendent of Mexican work, directing services. It will start July 8.

The board elected to suspend regular meetings of July and August. The next session will be at Levelland in September at the annual associational meeting, it was pointed out.

Reverend Hogan of prohibition forces at Dallas was one of the chief speakers. Other speakers included Rev. H. B. Stricklin of Lubbock, Rev. O. J. Harmonson of Southland, Rev. R. C. Tension of Idalou, Rev. W. H. Jackson of Abernathy, and Rev. Milburn.

Those attending yesterday were served a picnic lunch at Two Draw lake near Post.
