Nixon Sees Exciting Term

The SDN Column

It would be difficult to stage a closer race for governor than that waged by Democrat Dolph Briscoe and Republican Hank Grover, but it can happen and it did once in Texas.

In fact, the race which came to a climax Tuesday is not the closest governor's race this state has produced even in recent times.

Just 16 years ago, Price Daniel Sr. made it to the governor's chair by something less than the proverbial skin of his teeth. The election involved then was the Democratic Party's runoff primary, which at that time was the same as election, the Republicans being content to concentrate on Ike Eisenhower in the White House then.

Daniel, who was serving in the U.S. Senate but had always wanted to be governor, came back to enter the gubernatorial race against Ralph Yarborough. Around 1,393,000 votes were cast and after a week of canvassing, re-checking, arguing, etc., Daniel held a lead of 3,547 votes. Daniel went on to a cinch victory in the general election and became governor.

Ironically, Yarborough subsequently went to the Senate, holding the same seat that Daniel had occupied there. The Texas senior senator at that time was a fellow named Lyndon Baines Johnson.

Tuesday's general election should convey some messages. One is that no political party can take the once "solid South" for granted any more. Another is that some political philosophy which has developed in recent years has been clearly rejected by a whopping majority of the electorate.

Republican Party officials, surveying the post-election scene, admitted that President Nixon's overwhelming victory was a personal triumph rather than one for the Republican Party itself. This was made apparent by the results in races for seats in Congress, the U.S. Senate and the governors' posts. It also undoubtedly represented a smashing rejection of the McGovern doctrine.

There should be messages here for Hanoi, for legislators, for the courts and all other branches of government and agencies that ought to be sensitive to the will of the people.

Also, the results certainly didn't hurt the reputation of the pollsters. Ad it is comforting to know that it is all over for four more years. WACIL McNAIR

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon foresees an exciting second term in which he will press major reforms for a trimmer federal government and foster more self-reliance by the American people.

And he hopes, Nixon said, to lead the nation out of a crisis of the spirt—"the whole era of permissiveness"—toward "a new feeling of responsibility, a new feeling of self-discipline."

The Washington Star-News quoted Nixon today on his philosophy of government and his outlook for the next four years in a copyrighted story by Garnett D. Horner, its veteran White House correspondent.

Horner interviewed Nixon at San Clemente, Calif, for nearly an hour last Sunday.

Nixon referred only briefly to the current Vietnam negotiations. "I am completely confident that we are going to have a settlement. You can bank on it," he said.

On foreign policy generally, he likewise forecast "an exciting period" ahead though not "as spectacular as the year 1972" with its Moscow and Peking summits.

He said his second term will accomplish more than the first in foreign affairs because it will build on his initial steps. He spoke for forthcoming negotiations concerning Europe, of more strategic arms cut talks with the Soviets, of a fresh effort for a Mideast settlement.

Mainly Nixon dealt with the domestic scene, indicating a conservative—he called it basically centrist—course for the next four years.

Going beyond Wednesday's White House announcement of a planned shakeup in the administration's executive staff, Nixon said:

"If you look at the Nixon proposals in the first four years ... when you look at them over the next four years, this will be known as an administration which advocated—and if we get proper support in the Congress after the election, was able to accomplish more significant reform then any administration since Franklin Roosevelt's in 1932; but in a different direction..

"Roosevelt's reforms led to bigger and bigger power in Washington ...

"The reforms that we are instituting are ones which will diffuse the power throughout the country and which will make government leaner, but in a sense will make it stronger. After all, fat government is weak, weak in handling the problems."

"It is our responsibility," he said, "to find a way to reform our government institutions so that this new spirit of independence, self-reliance, pride that I sense in the American people can be nurtured."

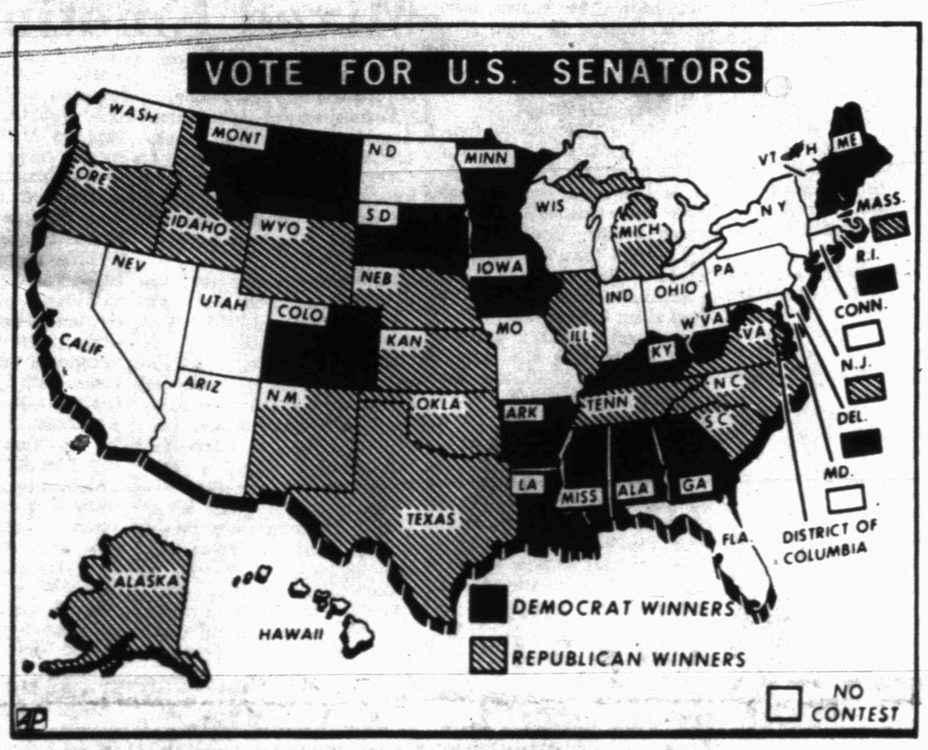

The Star-News account quoted these highlights from Nixon's remarks:

The election—

It was settled the day Democratic Sen. George McGovern was nominated for president. McGovern's views "probably did not represent even a majority of Democrats. They certainly represented a minority of the country."

Foreign policy—

The second round of U.S.-Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks—SALT—starting Nov. 22 will be more important than SALT I, which produced agreements to limit defense nuclear weapons and some offensive ones.

Kennedy, Wallace Will Work To Broaden Party

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Gov. George C. Wallace say they plan to work for a broadened Democratic party in the years ahead after George McGovern's smashing presidential defeat at the hands of President Nixon.

And Texan John Connally, who led the Democrats supporting Nixon in the 1972 campaign, says he hopes the lessons of McGovern's electoral disaster Tuesday will produce a "responsible leadership that will bring the party back into the mainstream of American political thought."

None of the three—Kennedy, Wallace and Connally—would say much about his own political future but it took less than 24 hours after Nixon's landslide victory for the first voice for 1976 to be raised on the Republican side.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, the Senate's only black member and a landslide victor himself Tuesday, said he is going to give "serious thought" to a 1976 presidential bid, declaring that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew "is not the heir apparent" to GOP leadership.

Most of the political talk Wednesday looked toward the future as politicians of both parties assessed the voters' split decision that gave Nixon 49 of the 50 states and the largest popular vote total in history while confirming Democratic congressional control.

Final returns, still to be confirmed when official canvasses are made, showed Democrats with a net gain of two senators for a 57-43 Senate majority in the incoming 93rd Congress and a net loss of 11 members for a still-substantial 244-190 lead in the new House. There is one House member designated an independent.

Democrats made a net gain of one governorship among the 18 contested Tuesday, leaving them with 31 of 50 including four of the seven largest states—Illinois, Texas, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

In the presidential race, with 98 per cent of the nation's precincts counted, the popular vote stood:

Nixon 45,861,690, or 61 per cent.

McGovern 28,402,465, or 38 per cent.

Although the turnout for the election almost certainly set a record, incomplete figures indicated it fell far below the predicted 80 million to 85 million. About 77.5 million voted, compared with 73 million four years ago before the voting age was lowered to 18 nationwide.

Briscoe Sure, But Waiting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dolph Briscoe is acting about as normal as a man can who has the Texas governorship in his hip pocket without coming out and saying it.

"We have been most encouraged as our lead increased," Briscoe said at his Uvalde ranch Wednesday afternoon. "I feel good about it but I'm going to wait until tomorrow for the final results. I'm extremely optimistic as we have a 100,000-vote lead now."

The latest Texas Election Bureau vote totals gave him a margin of more than 100,000 votes over Republican Hank Grover of Houston. Briscoe's total continued to rise as the rural vote trickled in.

Grover, meanwhile, said he had reports of "fantastic numbers" of voting irregularities and felt there were too many votes out for him to concede.

"It isn't a case of being a hard loser," he said. "I have nothing to climb the wall about. Win or lose, I have no regrets.

"Life is not coming to an end. This is an experience I wouldn't trade for anything."

La Raza Unida's Ramsey Muniz, who garnered six per cent of the total vote in the governor's race, said he may run for governor again in 1974.

His 200,000 votes not only assured the party that it will remain on the ballot but also that Raza Unida will be required to nominate candidates in the primaries.

"I'm going to be Briscoe's devil's advocate for the next two years," Muniz said. "I'm going to pull out his platform and see that he carries it out."

Sen. John Tower, who defeated Democrat Barefoot Sanders by more than 275,000 votes, said in Austin the election is a sign that Texas has become a two-party state.

"We are a force to be reckoned with," he said.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Nov. 9, the 314th day of 1972. There are 52 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1918, Germany's Kaiser Wilhelm II abdicated at the end of the first World War and the country was proclaimed a republic.

On this date:

In 1872, the the great Boston fire broke out and raged for three days killing 35 persons and destroying nearly 1,000 buildings.

In 1923, 14 Nazis were killed as federal troops broke up a march of Adolf Hitler's Storm Troopers in Munich, Germany.

In 1933, President Franklin D. Roosevelt created the Civil Works Administration to provide jobs for more than four million unemployed Americans.

In 1938, bands of Nazis roamed the streets of Germany, burning and destroying Jewish synagogues, homes and stores.

In 1953, the U.S. Supreme Court confirmed a 1922 ruling that major league baseball does not come within the scope of federal antitrust laws.

In 1965, the northeastern United States and part of Canada was crippled by a massive power failure.

Ten years ago: The United States completed an emergency airlift of arms and ammunition to India in that country's border war with China.

Five years ago: An Apollo spacecraft was put into orbit in a test for a moon landing.

One year ago: The Chinese Communists made their first appearance in the United Nations for a conference on problems facing the main delegation on its way from Peking.

US Says S-Viet Buildup Matched By Communists

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The United States told North Vietnam today the current buildup of American aircraft and other military equipment in South Vietnam is matched by a similar buildup on the Communist side and will continue until a peace agreement is signed.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter told newsmen at the start of the 166th weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks that every day a settlement "comes perceptibly nearer."

But he urged North Vietnam not to be impatient over the delay in reaching final agreement.

"We believe that the soundness and equity of an agreement are vital considerations which, if that agreement is to endure, must not be sacrificed to haste," Porter said in a brief prepared statement to the meeting.

He referred to recent protests from Hanoi and the Viet Cong against the massive shipment of American arms to South Vietnam to beat the cease-fire.

This buildup, Porter told the Communist delegations, "is, of course, similar to what you are seeking to do for your own forces.

"We see in these supply efforts a state of affairs which would be halted by both sides as soon as final agreement is reached. Thereafter, of course, the provisions of the agreement would apply."

The draft agreement would ban shipment of arms to South Vietnam by either side except for replacement of worn-out or destroyed equipment on a one-for-one basis.

In marked contrast to his usual tough tone when addressing the Communists, Porter paid tribute to the "good will and seriousness of purpose" with which he said the North Vietnamese negotiated the largely secret draft agreement.

"Recently, however, a note of impatience has crept into your many public statements," he continued.

"I understand this to be the result of the fact that your hopes and ours for a settlement have not yet been realized....

"For our part, we do not believe in making public statements which might affect the atmosphere adversely at a time when we hope to achieve so much jointly with you. We can and do, however, affirm our good faith as we approach what we believe can be the final stage of our negotiations."

This atmosphere of sweet reasonableness ended when the Vietnamese delegates spoke.

United Way Reports Due

Final general report session for the Scurry County United Way campaign is set for 2 p.m. Friday in the council room at city hall.

The United Fund board also will meet there Friday afternoon.

All workers in the campaign have been urged to complete their assignments and make final reports at the Friday session.

Campaign leaders and board members will discuss the campaign results, which they hope will be near the $38,000 goal and make plans for distribution of the funds to participating agencies. They also will make arrangements to complete any campaign canvass work that is not finished by Friday.

Skull Find May Upset Theory

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The discovery of a fragmented skull, believed the oldest complete skull of early man, could upset the current theory of modern man's evolution, a Kenyan scientist said today.

Researcher Richard Leakey said the skull is 2.5 million years old and is "almost certainly the oldest complete skull of early man." He estimated it is 1.5 million years older than bones previously accepted as the earliest evidence of man.

Leakey said the skull fragments, along with human leg bones from two other individuals of similar antiquity, were found protruding from a stony hillside on a wind-swept, scrub-covered desert east of Lake Rudolf in Kenya.

The largely unexplored region is 500 miles north of Olduvai Gorge, Tanzania, where the finds of Leakey's parents, Dr. Mary Leakey and the late Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, "revolutionized the study of prehistoric man," according to the National Geographic Society.

Leakey, administrative director of the National Museums of Kenya, announced the discovery of the skull and leg-bones in reports prepared for the society and for presentation to a scientific meeting in London today.

"While detailed studies on the new discoveries will take some time to conclude," he said, "preliminary comparisons with other evidence indicate that the new material will take a central place in the rethinking and re-evaluation of the evidence for the origin of Homo sapiens (modern man' species)."

He explained that current theory holds that Homo sapiens evolved, within the past 2 million years, from "Australopithecus," a primitive creature having the physical characteristics of both ape and man.

But now, he said, the new East African finds provide "clear evidence" that, rather than evolving from Australopithecus, a "large-brained, truly upright and two-legged form of the genus Homo existed contemporaneously with Australopithecus more than 2.5 million years ago."

"Throughout the time range of deposits at East Rudolf," he added, "the two hominid (man-like) lines are represented and it would seem that Australopithecus, as known, can be excluded from our line of ancestry."

Vote Record Is Set Here

Scurry County set a record for voter turnout in Tuesday's general election, although only about 60 per cent of the qualified voters participated.

The total number of ballots issued was 5,228, believed to be a record for the county.

It is believed that approximately 8,800 residents of the county are registered. A definite figure on registrations cannot be determined, since some who registered here at the outset of the registration period undoubtedly have moved from the county since registering.

Not all of the 5,228 who cast ballots voted in any specific race. The presidential race drew the most ballots, but even in that one, over 300 of the Scurry Countians who went to the polls did not mark a selections.

The final, unofficial figures showed that 4,899 in this county cast ballots in the presidential race. Close behind in interest was the governor's race which drews 4,898 votes. Next came the race for U.S. Senator, which attracted 4,878 and then the Board of County Development proposal, which drew 4,638 votes.

Miller Rites Set Friday

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Friday for Mrs. Claude Miller of Fluvanna, an area pioneer who died early Wednesday in the Garza County Hospital at Post.

Rites will be held at the First United Church in Snyder, with Sid Wyatt of Post officiating. Private graveside rites and burial will follow at the family cemetery on the Miller Ranch. Bell-Seale Funerla Home is in charge of arrangements.

Memorials to the Penrose Cancer Clinic in Colorado Springs, Colo., or Cal Farley's Boys' Ranch have been suggested.

Events Set For Veterans

Local veterans organizations will note Veterans Day on its traditional date Saturday, despite the fact that the national holiday has been changed by Congress.

All veterans of all wars and their wives have been invited to breakfast Saturday at 6:30 a.m. at the American Legion Hall.

Also, an evening meal for veterans nas been planned at the VFW hall.

Nov. 11, originally Armistice Day to celebrate the signing of the armistice ending World War I, was observed as a special day for veterans for many years. This year, it became one of the Monday holidays established by Congress in an effort to provide more long holiday periods. The new date fell on Oct. 23, but the local veterans organizations are continuing to take special note of the original Armistice Day and Veterans Day.

Sam Tibbets, American Legion Post Commander, stressed that the breakfast session at the Legion hall is for all veterans and is not limited to members of the veterans organizations.

Computer date firm dupes lonely widow

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: Forgive me if I make many mistakes, but I was not brought up in English. I am a widow, 45 years old, and lonely for male companionship, as are many others. I read an advertisement promising dating by computers. I foolishly answered this ad which supposedly had offices in West Hartford, Conn.; Manchester, N. H.; Boston, Mass.; Portland, Me.; and Providence, R. I. I paid $295 and was promised two "computer matched" dates per month over a period of 36 months. The contract was full of phrases like "if possible" and "if necessary" and "do not guarantee." But is there no recourse against these people who disappeared in thin air? I should have been smart enough to see this trap, but they talk so fast while they are with you, that like an idiot you sign the contract without realizing that you are being taken.

Anyway, after I paid my money and no dates were arranged, I went to the police with my contract and all the correspondence. They looked it over and said that it had been so cleverly worded, I was hooked. But they told me to write to the Department of Consumer Protection and to the Better Business Bureau, and if I [and others who had been taken in as I was] would do the same, these people would be in hot water one way or the other.

I hope you will print this, Abby, so others who have been robbed as I was will write to the above mentioned places and complain. ROBBED AND ANGRY

DEAR ROBBED: Another suggestion; never sign any kind of contract or agreement without having a lawyer look at it first.

DEAR ABBY: Do you see anything wrong with smiling and waving at truck drivers? I have always enjoyed it, but my sister says I should cut it out because the neighbors might get the wrong idea. My brother and brother in law also say it's wrong for me to smile and wave at these truck drivers. They think I should act my age [which is 20] and be a lady, and ladies do not wave at truck drivers.

Abby, it makes me feel so good when I bring a smile to a stranger. I often say "Good day" to old people when I see them on the street. They seem to be cheered by it. Is this also not ladylike?

I'll take your advice, and I hope you say it's okay. LIKES PEOPLE

DEAR LIKES: Smiling and waving at truck drivers is okay. Also a cheery greeting to oldsters you pass on the street. But don't go overboard. Some strangers might mistake your friendliness for an invitation to something more. In other words, if you don't want a stray dog in your lap, don't pat him on the head.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and my brother are on the outs. It's been going on for a long time in a rather silent way, but my family is not aware of it.

My brother's daughter is being married soon and we are invited to the wedding. My husband flatly refuses to attend even tho I have tried to get him to go just for my sake. My parents are elderly and ailing and they would take it very hard if my husband didn't accompany me.

I am a nervous wreck thinking about going to this wedding without my husband and wondering how to explain his absence to my relatives.

I will go alone if I have to, but I wish there were some way I could get my husband to go with me. NERVOUS WRECK

DEAR WRECK: A family wedding is one occasion where all "grudges" should be put aside, and anyone who isn't willing to do it is childish and stubborn. If your husband refuses to accompany you, tell your parents why, but you aren't obligated to explain it to the rest of the family.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Dam Level Is Raised

Work has begun on raising the level of Moss Creek a little less than three feet to increase the margin of safety for the on-line storage for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Approximately 8,000 cubic yards of dirt will be required to bring the dam up from a berm to the new level. Afterwards, the new top will be stabilized with an asphalt topping to permit passage of vehicular traffic.

By raising the level, said O.H. Ivie, general manager for CRMWD, this will enable the district to maintain a depth of 36.5 feet at the spillway and still be protected in event of a 100-year flood. Currently, to play it safe, the district has kept the level to about 29 feet.

Eventually the dam will be raised another seven feet, which will increase its holding capacity by some 500 acre feet, said Ivie. No rip rap will be required on the present operation because the district installed more rip rap when it built a new concrete spillway last year. Cost of the project is due to run about $15,000.

Water from Lake E.V. Spence, just above Robert Lee, is pumped into Moss Creek Lake when not needed to supply Big Spring and Odessa, then is withdrawn to meet heavier demands.

COMPLETES BASIC — Airman Bobby D. Watson has completed his basic training at Lackland AFB in San Antonio and has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Rantsul, Ill., to take his technical training in Aircraft Maintenance. Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Watson of Snyder. His wife, Avis, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Frederick of Snyder. They will make their home near Chanute AFB until he graduates.

Hijack Victims Returned

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A relief Mexican airliner flew 82 passengers and seven crewmen home from Cuba today after their hijacked plane sprang an oil leak in Havana.

But the Cuban government gave no indication what it would do with the five hijackers, the $320,000 they collected and six suspected bank robbers surrendered by the Mexican government.

The hijacked plane, a Boeing 727 of Mexicana de Aviacon, arrived in the Cuban capital Wednesday. The relief plane was dispatched at 11:15 p.m. with an extra crew to fly the other plane out. It was expected later today

Three Americans were reported on the hijacked plane.

Five armed men took over the jet Wednesday 23 minutes after it took off from Monterrey for Mexico City. They demanded safe conduct out of the country for six persons accused of a series of bank robberies in Monterrey and a million pesos — $80,000.

As the plane circled the city and police rounded up the suspected robbers, the hijackers upped the money demand to 4 million pesos. Police brought four of the suspects from jail, including a woman who had been wounded when she was arrested. The other two were not in custody, but came to the airport in answer to broadcast appeals.

The plane landed at Monterrey and refueled for the 2½-hour flight to Cuba. Police dressed only in bathing trunks brought the money and the alleged robbers aboard. The hijackers then freed 29 of the passengers — 20 women, seven men and two children.

Israel Bombs Guerrilla Bases

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes bombed two guerrilla bases in Syria today in retaliation for recent raids in the occupied Golan Heights, the Israeli military command announced.

The planes struck the bases just after noon. The spokesman did not identify the targets but said all planes returned safely.

The spokesman said he believed the targets of the pilots were across the cease-fire line from Boqaata, in the northern sector of the Golan Heights, where a land mine exploded beneath a tractor Thursday, wounding the driver, and a patrol clashed with guerrillas this morning.

The spokesman said he had no knowledge of Arab casualties or damage from the air attack.

Israeli planes last attacked Syria 10 days ago, when the air force pounded seven guerrilla camps within seven miles of Damascus. Syria retaliated with an artillery barrage against Israeli positions on the Golan Heights, and Israeli planes in reply bombed a Syrian army post.

US Doubles Air Strikes In Laos

SAIGON (AP) — With bombing halted above the 20th parallel in North Vietnam, the United States has shifted much of its air effort to other parts of Indochina and has doubled the number of strikes in northern Laos in support of government troops there, senior U.S. officials disclosed today.

Officials said U.S. fighter-bombers are now averaging about 50 strikes a day in the Plain of Jars region of Laos, where North Vietnam has launched its annual dry-season offensive. This is in addition to the strikes along the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in eastern Laos.

B52 bombers are also being used to support the Laotian army in the northern part of the country, but it could not be learned now many of these raids were being flown.

For the seventh successive day, U.S. B52s made saturation strikes on both sides of the demilitarized zone, keeping up the effort to blunt the North Vietnamese supply buildup in anticipation of a cease-fire.

In the past week the B52s have flown more than 400 strikes along the northern frontier, dropping more than 12,000 tons of bombs on enemy supply points.

For the second day, bad weather following Typhoon Pamela reduced strikes by U.S. fighter-bombers over North Vietnam.

Five of these strikes were reported in the southern panhandle Wednesday; 20 were flown Tuesday.

In South Vietnam, a U.S. Marine A4 Skyhawk blew a tire and crashed in flames while trying to take off from Bien Hoa Air Base, 15 miles northeast of Saigon. The pilot ejected and was not hurt, the U.S. Command said.

The South Vietnamese command reported that North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks in the 24 hours before dawn today dropped to 65, the lowest number since Oct. 19 and about a third less than the level in recent days.

But North Vietnamese forces fired about 1,000 artillery, rocket and mortar shells at government positions in and around Quang Tri City. It was the heaviest shelling in several weeks, indicating that North Vietnamese supplies are getting through.

Explosions ripped through an ammunition dump on the edges of Da Nang for six hours. Field reports said small arms ammunition covering an area of three city blocks was destroyed, but no casualties were reported.

Students To Watch Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A dozen Indian and Eskimo high school students have arrived here to watch a Canadian satellite launched tonight on a mission to bring radio, telephone and television to their icebound home areas.

Some of the students are from the treeless wilderness north of the Arctic Circle.

An American-made Delta rocket is scheduled to lift off at 6:20 p.m. EST to propel the 600-pound satellite toward a stationary orbit 22,300 miles high. From that lofty outpost, the payload will greatly expand contact with the outside world for hundreds of small communities in northern Canada.

Anik-1, the Eskimo word for brother, is the first satellite intended for domestic communications within a single country. Costing $10 million, it was built by Hughes Aircraft Corp. and several Canadian subcontractors.

Telesat Canada Corp., jointly owned by the Canadian government and telecommunications companies, is paying the U.S. space agency $6.5 million to launch the payload, including rocket costs.

Six of the students were selected in nationwide competition sponsored by the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. Qualifications were that they come from a community to be serviced by the satellite, they have good academic standing and be native or long-term residents of the north, where most communication now is by short-wave radio.

They flew here Wednesday with Canadian Communications Minister Robert Stanbury and other government and communications company officials.

CRMWD Deliveries Show Gain

The Colorado River Municipal Water District stands a good chance of topping the 18½-billion-gallon mark on water deliveries this year. This would be approximately four billion gallons more than for 1971.

Through October, the district had deliveried 16,018,221,084 gallons to its municipal, industrial and mining customers. If the figures of November and December of a year ago are maintained, the district will hit right at that 18½ -billion level. Actually, every month so far has registered a gain over 1971.

During October, the district sold 1,482,044,402 gallons of water, up 16.8 per cent over October 1971.

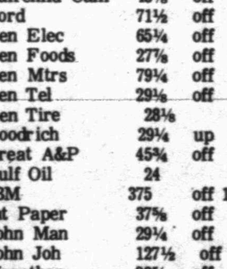

Of this total, the cities required 958,544,000 gallons, up 17.23 per cent, and mining and industrial customers 523,500,402, up 14.31 per cent.

October deliveries to municipalities included; Odessa 323,022,000, up 27.48 per cent; Big Spring 196,662,000 gallons, up 6.99 per cent; Snyder 56,318,000, up 8.30 per cent; Stanton 6,370,000, up 31.97 per cent; Midland 256,964,000, up 10.25 per cent; San Angelo 119,208,000, up 31.65 per cent.

Through the first 10 months, municipalities used 11,017,311,000 gallons, up 16.55 per cent; the industries and mining customers 5,000,910,084 gallons, up 83.63 per cent.

Texas Voters Show Mixed Emotions

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

Texans showed mixed emotions toward the new legislature they elected Tuesday.

The "throw-the-rascals out" mentality that prevailed in the Democratic primary seemed just about to have burned itself out.

But voters refused to raise legislative pay from the $4,800 set in 1960 to a new level of $8,400 a year.

While not thinking their representatives and senators in Austin were worth more money, the voters still showed confidence in them by telling the legislature to draft a new Texas Constitution in 1974.

There was no great surge away from Democratic control of the legislature either. The slight gains made by the Republican Party in the House—from 10 to 17 representatives—resulted mainly from new single-member districts created in Dallas, San Antonio and Houston.

Republicans gained one seat in the Senate in a race that caught a first-term representative in the fallout from last year's stock scandal. Mrs. Betty Andujar defeated Democratic Rep. Mike Moncrief in a Fort Worth race.

Mrs. Andujar's campaign material sought to link Moncrief with Gus Mutscher, who resigned March 28 as House speaker after being convicted of conspiracy to accept a bribe, in the form of stock profits, from Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

Three representatives were added Tuesday to the list of 21 incumbents defeated for re-election earlier this year in the party primaries. One was a member of the "Dirty 30" coalition that opposed Mutscher last year—Rep. Tom Christian of Claude, a Republican who fell to first-term Democrat Rep. Phil Cates of Pampa.

Also defeated were Democratic Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio, by attorney Joseph Sage, and Rep. John Boyle, Irving Democrat, by Robert E. Davis, Dallas.

But 25 of the 28 incumbents who had opposition were re-elected, and another 45 incumbents—all Democrats—had no opponents.

Single-member districts, ordered for San Antonio and Dallas by a federal court and for Houston by the Legislative Redistricting Board, had another effect. It raised the number of black representatives from two to eight. Significantly, no black lawmakers were elected in those urban counties where all House candidates must run at-large.

The Atlanta Braves had a 47-57 record early August when Eddie Mathews replaced Luman Harris as manager.

Minor Damage In Road Crash

Minor damage resulted from a two-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 180 and FM 1611 at 7:05 a.m. today.

Involved were a 1969 Model Oldsmobile driven by Curtis Wayne Landon, Route 2, Box 480, Snyder, and a 1972 Model Oldsmobile operated by Alice Gray, Route 1, Box 88, Snyder.

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said both vehicles were traveling east on U.S. 180 prior to the collision and Mrs. Gray attempted a right turn onto FM 1611.

FALL SEPARATES —Gino Paoli World Wide has designed a group of separates that can be mixed and matched for many different looks this fall. At left, a four piece ensemble is layered with a shirt, sleeveless U-neck pullover and skirt — all in solid colors — and worn with a single breasted jacket. At center, a swing-line topper has a high-rise collar and shirt sleeves. It comes with its own contrasting wool knit slacks in windowpane checks and solid turtleneck pullover. At right, a jacket in table cloth checks and a vest with checkerboard checks are teamed with a solid color ankle length skirt. (Layout by Joe Damone)

Religious Heritage Discussed

The Art Guild Study Club met Nov. 7 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club for its regular meeting.

Mrs. Porter King was in charge of the program for the evening. She introduced guest speaker Dean Morgan, director of the Christian Student Center at Western Texas College. He spoke on "Our Religious Heritage". In his discussion, he reminded the group that the nation was founded on faith so we need to put God back in the nation, teach more of God's word and visit and help others in need. In closing he asked, "Do we really love the Lord and do we appreciate our Christian heritage?"

Refreshments were served to 13 members and 2 guests.

Retired Teachers Association Is Organized

The Scurry County Retired Teachers Association met at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club for an organizational meeting. Mmes. Nellie Smith, Travis Rhoades and W.P. King served as hostesses and Silas Devenport gave the invocation.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Sweat of Colorado City were out of town guests. Sweat, district director for District IIV told of he fringe benefits of the National and State Retired Teachers Organizations with special empahsis on the upcoming legislative attempt to get more financial aid for retired teachers and all educational personnel workers.

Mrs. Travis Rhoades was elected president; Evelyn Boone, vice president; and Mrs. Sam Spikes, secretary-treasurer.

Nineteen members signed the charter which brought the organization into being. It was the consensus of these members to hold the membership open until the next meeting which will be at 3 p.m. Dec. 7, at the home of Martha Thompson, 3766 Sunset. This decision was based on the fact that others in the county could become charter members if they desired.

Anyone desiring to become a charter member must be present at the next meeting or contact Mrs. Sam Spikes, 2806 Thirty-seventh Street.

Twenty-seven were in attendance.

Club Discusses American Indian

Continuing its theme of "Concern" in all areas of our lives, four members of the Twentieth Century Club presented a program on the American Indian.

Program leader, Mrs. Ed Scherling, gave a brief history of our heritage from the Indians. Friendly tribes taught early white settlers the best routes through the forests, how to use the native foods found here, and ways to survive in the strange land. Many states, rivers, and cities are named from the Indian language.

Mrs. I.T. Huckabee told of the first feast to give thanks to God for food and life. It was held in 1541 in the Palo Duro Canyon with the Spanish explorer, Coronado, his men, and Indians of the area.

Mrs. Fred Davis, in discussing the Book, INDIAN LIFE CRAFTS, told how the Indians, though of many different tribes and customs, had always to adapt themselves to changing conditions. The impact on their lives of the white settlers with their strange customs increased as more and more white people came. On the other hand, the knowledge gained from the Indians of living in the new land was essential to the survival of the whites.

Mrs. Bob Dupree discussed ROCK ART OF TEXAS INDIANS, especially the paintings near Paint Rock. Though some of these have been damaged, there are still many that can be viewed at any time.

The president, Mrs. Guy Stoker, opened the meeting with a reminder of our many blessings for which we give thanks. Mrs. Ed Scherling summarized an article from The Club Woman which calls for serious study of the conditions now present in our system of juvenile justice.

Thirteen members were present with Mrs. Bob Dupree as hostess.

Abilene Hosts Regional Meet

Snyder members of Zeta Lambda Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society will go to Abilene Saturday to attend the fall regional meeting of the society.

Host chapters will be the four chapters of Abilene, and the meeting will be held at Hardin-Simmons University beginning at 9 a.m. Registration, exhibits and coffee will begin at 8:30 a.m. on the second floor of the Mooday Student Center.

Mrs. Ruby Lee Lafferty and Mrs. Frances Lowrance, both of El Paso, will be the directors for the conference. The theme this year is "Don't Just Stand There! Do Something—and Let's Do It Right!" The purpose of the meeting is to inform members of new materials and ideas to be used in work and in programs for the coming year.

The conference luncheon will be held in Room 208 of the Sid Richardson Science Center.

Chapters from San Angelo, Snyder, Colorado City and Rotan will be represented, with the Snyder chapter giving a presentation on membership.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society is an international honor society for women teachers.

Other state officers expected to attend are Mrs. Joe Clark, Rotan and Mrs. John P. Ward, San Angelo, Area Director of the State Membership, and Virginia Grove, Snyder who is the chairman of the State Committe on Program. Miss Miltia Hill, Sar. Angelo, who is a past president, will also attend.

Book Discusses Presures Of Language Use

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS OF LANGUAGE IN A MEXICAN—AMERICAN COMMUNITY. By the late George C. Barker. University of Arizona Press, Tucson. $4 paperback.

This dissertation was written from research done in 1947 in Tucson but probably is as valid today as then.

The issue is the pressures on youngsters on language use. The arthur found that newly arrived familites from Mexico want their children to speak only Spanish. The neighborhood wants what is known as the border dialect spoken.

The author, an anthropologist at UCLA, finds that the only way to avoid the pressures is to move from the neighborhood.—The AP (REF).

SORT OF BOGGED DOWN!

Many Decisions Are Awaiting The President

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A review of the domestic problems confronting President Nixon over the next four years provides the details hidden within that hackneyed cliche, "the awesome responsibilities of the presidency."

They are indeed awesome. Awaiting decisions are problems involving inflation, unemployment, economic controls, tax reform, budget deficits, welfare reform, health insurance, urban revitalization, education equality.

The list is endless, and if there are any clear-cut solutions they aren't evident. In fact, the demands of one problem are bound to impinge on the resolution of others, thus forcing uneasy, perhaps temporary, compromises.

Considering the present stage of technology, for example, the demands of ecology cannot be met entirely without slowing the productive process that provides the tax money. Already the country faces an energy crisis, partly because of this.

And as many millions now understand, it is still very difficult to battle inflation and unemployment in tandem because of the tendency of one to roar off in its own direction, to react on the other.

How will the big budget deficits be reduced? Financed? Those who have looked into the situation see little prospect for the administration to avoid a tax increase, distasteful as it is to everyone.

In fact, the probability of a tax increase arises at the very time Americans are expressing repugnance against overspending and reportedly are seeking tax reforms or reductions instead of higher taxes.

How do you keep those budget deficits within manageable proportions? Republican presidents traditionally have claimed to be against deficits, but Nixon nevertheless has been in the red every year but one since taking office.

That question becomes even more complex when you consider that while it is the President's budget he doesn't necessarily control it, especially when another party controls Congress, which passes on appropriations.

The difficulty in resolving any of these huge domestic issues that Nixon must face during the next four years is exemplified by the measures he felt were needed to restrain rising wages and prices.

The President claimed to be both politically and ideologically opposed to direct intervention in the market. Yet he was forced to do a complete about-face, not only for himself but for his party.

This suggests that the problems faced by society, by government, may be too complex for conventional approaches — and that the best that can be done until the issues are better understood may be a troublesome compromise.

Junior Editors' Quiz on AMBER

QUESTION: What is amber?

* * *

ANSWER: Amber is the fossilized sap or resin of pine trees that lived in northern Europe millions of years ago. These pine trees grew chiefly in the area of the Baltic Sea. Over a long period of years, the earth's surface was changed and these pine trees were buried under the ground or under water. Originally amber was a sticky substance, but after many years, it hardened. When it dropped from the trees, insects were caught in it and have been preserved in the clumps of amber. Some of the entombed insects no longer exist on the earth today.

Amber is mined from the earth or fished out of the sea. It is usually found in small pieces, lump-like in appearance, and is a yellowish-brown translucent substance. The best grades of amber are used to make ornaments, mouthpieces for pipes and cigarette holders. Poorer grades are used to make varnish and chemicals.

In ancient times, pieces of amber were washed up on the shores. The Greeks and Romans prized it and thought it had magical powers. The reason for this belief was the fact that amber, when rubbed briskly, produces electricity and attracts light objects such as straws and pieces of paper. Elektron is the Greek word for amber and this is the origin of the word electricity.

Treat Patients At A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The University of TexasA&M JeffersonHospital and Tumor Institute is now treating cancer patients at Texas A&M University's cyclotron.

A&M conducted an extensive series of animal tests in preparation for human treatment at the $6 million facility, often called an atom-smasher.

The university also constructed a patient reception building and converted one of the cyclotron chambers into a treatment room.

Joint announcement of the "fast nutron therapy" program was announced earlier this year by Dr. R. Lee Clark, M. D. Anderson president, and Dr. Jack Williams, A&M president.

The two institutions received a $484,000 grant from the National Cancer Institute for first-year operation.

The Anderson A&M program is the only one of its type in the U.S. Anderson officials noted considerable success has been reported in treatment of cancer patients with high energy neutrons at Hammersmith Hospital in London.

Clark said, "We think this technique will have the benefit of allowing the patients to receiver fewer treatments than required under current procedures."

Anybody who sleeps in a soft bed instead of a firm one has only himself to blame when he wakes up feeling like a sodden pretzel.

Any guy who tries to get rich by inheriting money sweats more than one who earns it by hard work.

It's easier to marry girls who wear purple dresses — but that's not a good reason to.

It is always with a twinge of regret that one finishes a good meal, a good conversation or a good book. One is never sure where the next one will come from.

No man ever feels more friendless and alone than when he is in a men's room with a stuck zipper.

Girls Are Top Shooters

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — If you don't believe it's becoming a woman's world look at the Texas A&I University Army ROTC rifle shooting contest results during—of all things—Dad's Day.

Parents of two female members of the ROTC Cadet Corps and of one Cadet Lady Corps member were among the top five shooters recently. What's more, three mothers shot perfect scores, and the best the men could do was 48 out of 50.

In the women's division, the winner was Mrs. James Kelsey of Ingleside, whose daughter, Lynne, is a member of the Cadet Ladis. Ed McLean of Kingsville, men's division winners, is the father of Valerie McLean, a co-ed member of the A&I Cadet Corps, one of 10 in the United States accepting women students.

Sharing perfect score honors with Mrs. Kelsey were Mrs. Alicia Gamez of San Antonio, mother of Cadet Gilberto Gamez, and Mrs. Zack Williams of Woodsboro, whose son, Ralph, is a cadet.

Bill Traylor of La Feria, whose daughter Debbie is also a co-ed cadet, was runner-up to McLean, with a 48-50 score. Ties were broken by proximity of the shots to the center of the bullseye.

Bill Virdon of the Pittsburgh Pirates went from player, coach to manager of the Bucaneers. He played center field for them in the 1960 Series.

Texas Parties Face Reorganization

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

After all the dust settles from the general election both the Texas Democratic and Republican parties will be back where they started before the campaign—in the throes of reorganization.

Despite claims by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and others that the unexpected strength shown by state Sen. Henry Grover, GOP candidate for governor, makes Texas a genuine two-party state, other GOP leaders disagree.

"The race will enhance Grover's personal reputation," said one big time political advisor, "but I don't think it will do much for the party."

The state party machinery is still in the hands of Tower and the other state leaders who early in Grover's campaign tried to discourage his efforts and even supported other candidates in the GOP primaries.

The state Democratic party machinery is in much the same shape.

The McGovern-Shriver campaign was handled in Texas largely by persons not directly connected with the Texas Democratic party, many of them from out of state. Only Gov. Preston Smith, State Agriculture Commissioner John White and State Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong saw fit to actually work for and appear with the presidential ticket candidates. After the election, party affairs will be in the hands of Gov.-elect Dolph Briscoe, who never appeared with McGovern in the five trips to Texas.

"The Democratic party has got to go through a period of reassessment of its posture," said White, who quickly admitted that McGovern was his second choice, after Sen. Hubert Humphrey lost at Miami Beach. "I hope there will be a moderating force in the party itself. It seems to me we have gotten off in fringe areas and moved away from the everyday American—that's the guy the Democratic Party has got to move back to."

White thinks Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., and Humphrey are the type of moderate leaders needed for the national party.

"The Democratic party has always been a loose coalition of philosophies," White said election night. "We've got to realize that the era of personalities is over, we have to set up a strong party structure to elect candidates.

"For some years now our state party has been built around a personality cult built around a single man, usually the governor, and when he left office the thing was over. We've got to change that."

Texas AFL-CIO President Roy Evans, who also started out supporting Humphrey but backed McGovern, said the election proved one basic thing—"that one group inside the Democratic Party cannot go it alone. The liberals can't win by themselves nor can any other group."

If Grover had been elected governor of Texas it would have sent shock waves through Tower's carefully built control and influence of the Republican party.

As governor Grover would have been titular read of the state party, a job Tower inherits now because he is the senior GOP office holder. This also carries with it patronage benefits, influence as the state party's top spokesman and financial help from the national party.

Class Teaches Youth Business

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Sixth graders at Carver Elementary School earn make-believe $150 weekly paychecks computing taxes, graphing sales charts and managing financial records.

Charles Kelly, 11, earned $1,200 in two months, and bought a $900 skate board in the progressive workshop to teach youngsters the mechanics of modern capitalism.

The workshop gives 11-year-olds practical business experience, including weekly paychecks, a bank where they can endorse and deposit checks and a hiring and firing system complete with applications forms and job interviews.

Each of the 50 pupils draws $150 a week salary for completing classroom and homework assignments.

But the checks are make-believe and no money actually changes hands.

Any pupil can earn overtime by working harder. The teacher decides that and draws up checks.

Charles is president of the classroom bank and earns an additional $50 in the managerial slot.

"He takes his job very seriously," explained Jane Swinney, 31, a teacher who created the program. "He's even fired one of his four bankers for tardiness."

Miss Swinney set up the academic year as a business venture.

"We set out to create a program as close as possible to the business world," she said, "because much of what goes on in the classroom isn't relevant to these kids."

For example, in balancing checkbooks the youngsters learn math, she explained.

They haul in discarded toys to auction, and bid their salaries. That's where Kelly bought his skate board.

"The prices are high," said Miss Swinney. "That way the kids must figure how long they have to work or how much overtime they need to buy an item."

They compute taxes to finalize their purchases and some more energetic youngsters earned overtime binding graph charts for ready reference.

The premise behind the workshop is that if you can interest a youngster you can teach him anything. "And it's turned some lackadaisical sixth graders into pluggers," said Miss Swinney.

Seventeen GI's Killed In Combat

SAIGON (AP) — Seventeen American servicemen were killed in action in Vietnam last week, the U.S. Command reported today. Two more died of nonhostile causes and two were wounded.

The size of the death toll — the largest in a month — was due to the loss of 15 servicemen in a helicopter that was shot down in the Mekong Delta Oct. 31. Two U.S. civilians also were killed.

The South Vietnamese command reported its highest weekly casualties since the second week of August: 598 killed, 2,548 wounded and 123 missing.

The South Vietnamese said 2,391 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed and 107 captured during the week.

The allied commands now have announced these total casualties for the war:

American—45,904 killed in action, 303,496 wounded, 10,289 dead from nonhostile causes, 1,699 missing or captured.

South Vietnamese—159,019 killed, 421,728 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—906,439 killed.

Traces Of DES Found In Livers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Traces of the growth hormone DES are still showing up in steer liver samples, according to Agriculture Department inspectors.

Three more DES-tainted livers, from steers in Iowa, Illinois and Texas, have been found, the department reported today. These raised to 95 the number found this year among 4,224 cattle and sheep livers tested for the hormone, a rate of about 2.2 per cent.

The hormone, diethylstilbestrol, has been banned in animal feed beginning Jan. 1, under orders from the Food and Drug Administration.

Use of DES as implants, where pellets are tucked under the ear skin of animals, will be allowed by FDA if tests—now being conducted—show there is no residue problem.

Hike In Food Prices Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supermarket food prices are expected to average more than four per cent higher for all of this year than they were in 1971, but the Agriculture Department says consumers may hear softer jingles at checkout counters after Jan. 1.

Higher farm prices are causing most of the rise in food costs this year, officials said.

The projected four per cent increase this year would compare with a 2.4 per cent rise in grocery prices in 1971. However, that would be well below increases in the 5 per cent range in 1969 and 1970.

Restaurant meals also are expected to average four per cent higher this year.

In all, higher prices and population growth will add seven per cent to the nation's total food bill.

In a preliminary report on the food situation, the department said Wednesday that Americans may spend a record $125.2 billion this year, compared with $117.3 billion in 1971.

Meat and fresh produce have accounted for much of this year's food price increase, but officials said "some levelling" can be expected as more beef and pork move into the market this fall.

"Looking ahead to the first half of 1973," the report said, "the food price index may show less year to year increase than in the first half of 1972."

A spokesman said the food-at-home price index rose during the first six months of 1972 at an annual average rate of 4.2 per cent, including a 5 per cent gain in the first quarter.

Search For Six Halted

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — An underwater search for additional victims of the Brunswick River bridge disaster was temporarily halted today after state engineers ruled the work too dangerous.

The officials said most of the cars which tumbled from the bridge when it was struck Tuesday night by a loaded freighter apparently lay beneath dangerously swaying rubble. Scuba divers would not be used, they said, until barge cranes arrived to clear the debris.

Five bodies have been recovered and at least six persons are known to be missing.

Divers have been unable to locate the 10 to 12 cars believed hurled into the 40-foot deep river when the impact of the ship collapsed a 450-foot section of the mile-long Sidney Lanier Bridge. They located a tractor-trailer truck Wednesday, but were unable to pull it to the surface without barge cranes.

Vernon Smith, an assistant engineer for the State Department of Transportation, said the barge cranes were expected this afternoon.

Smith said that the Port of Brunswick is open, that cargo ships can clear the open span of the bridge and that navigation is not a hazard.

Six Navy divers searched all day Wednesday but failed to find any more bodies. Civil Defense official Ralph Kelly said two oil slicks were spotted, indicating the location of cars the divers had been unable to find. Underwater visibility was reported to be only a few inches.

10 From SHS Are In All-Area Choir

"It'll be necessary for the music to be perfectly learned in addition to the students being in good voice and singing their best," stated Bill Lyon, Snyder High Shchool choir director, concerning the All-State tyrouts.

Ten Snyder High students and one alternate are now eligible for the All-State choir auditions to be held Jan. 13 at Tarleton State College in Stephenville.

Those who made the All-Area choir and will be representing Snyder in the All-State auditions are Sharon Floyd, Paula Andress, Marcia McCormick, Bennie Everett, Pam Smith, Donnie Burk, Kyle Rosson, Joel Loper, Johannas Eicke, and Terry Jones.

Jimmy Shelburne will go as an alternate.

To be eligible for the All-State auditions, each student had to be chosen as one of the top four in his section in the All-Area choir tryouts. These were held Nov. 4.

Sixteen students will be trying out in each voice section and only the first six in each section will be chosen as members of the All-State choir.

Workers 'Love' Massachusetts

BOSTON (AP) — "Dear Massachusetts," said the telegram. "We love you very, very much."

It was signed by Dallas County, Tex., McGovern workers.

The telegram, delivered Wednesday to the Boston bureau of The Associated Press, was addressed to "The People of Massachusetts."

Massachusetts was the only state to support Sen. George McGovern in Tuesday's election.

Salt Companies Give Grants

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — U.S. and Canadian salt companies have granted $232,180 to a Texas A&M University geophysics professor researching electromagnetic wave propagation in salt mining.

Dr. Robert R. Unterberger, who started the investigation three years ago, uses multi-frequency radar techniques to determine the subsurface earth layers. Field work is performed in salt mines in the U.S. and Canada.

Carl Albert To Seek Re-Election

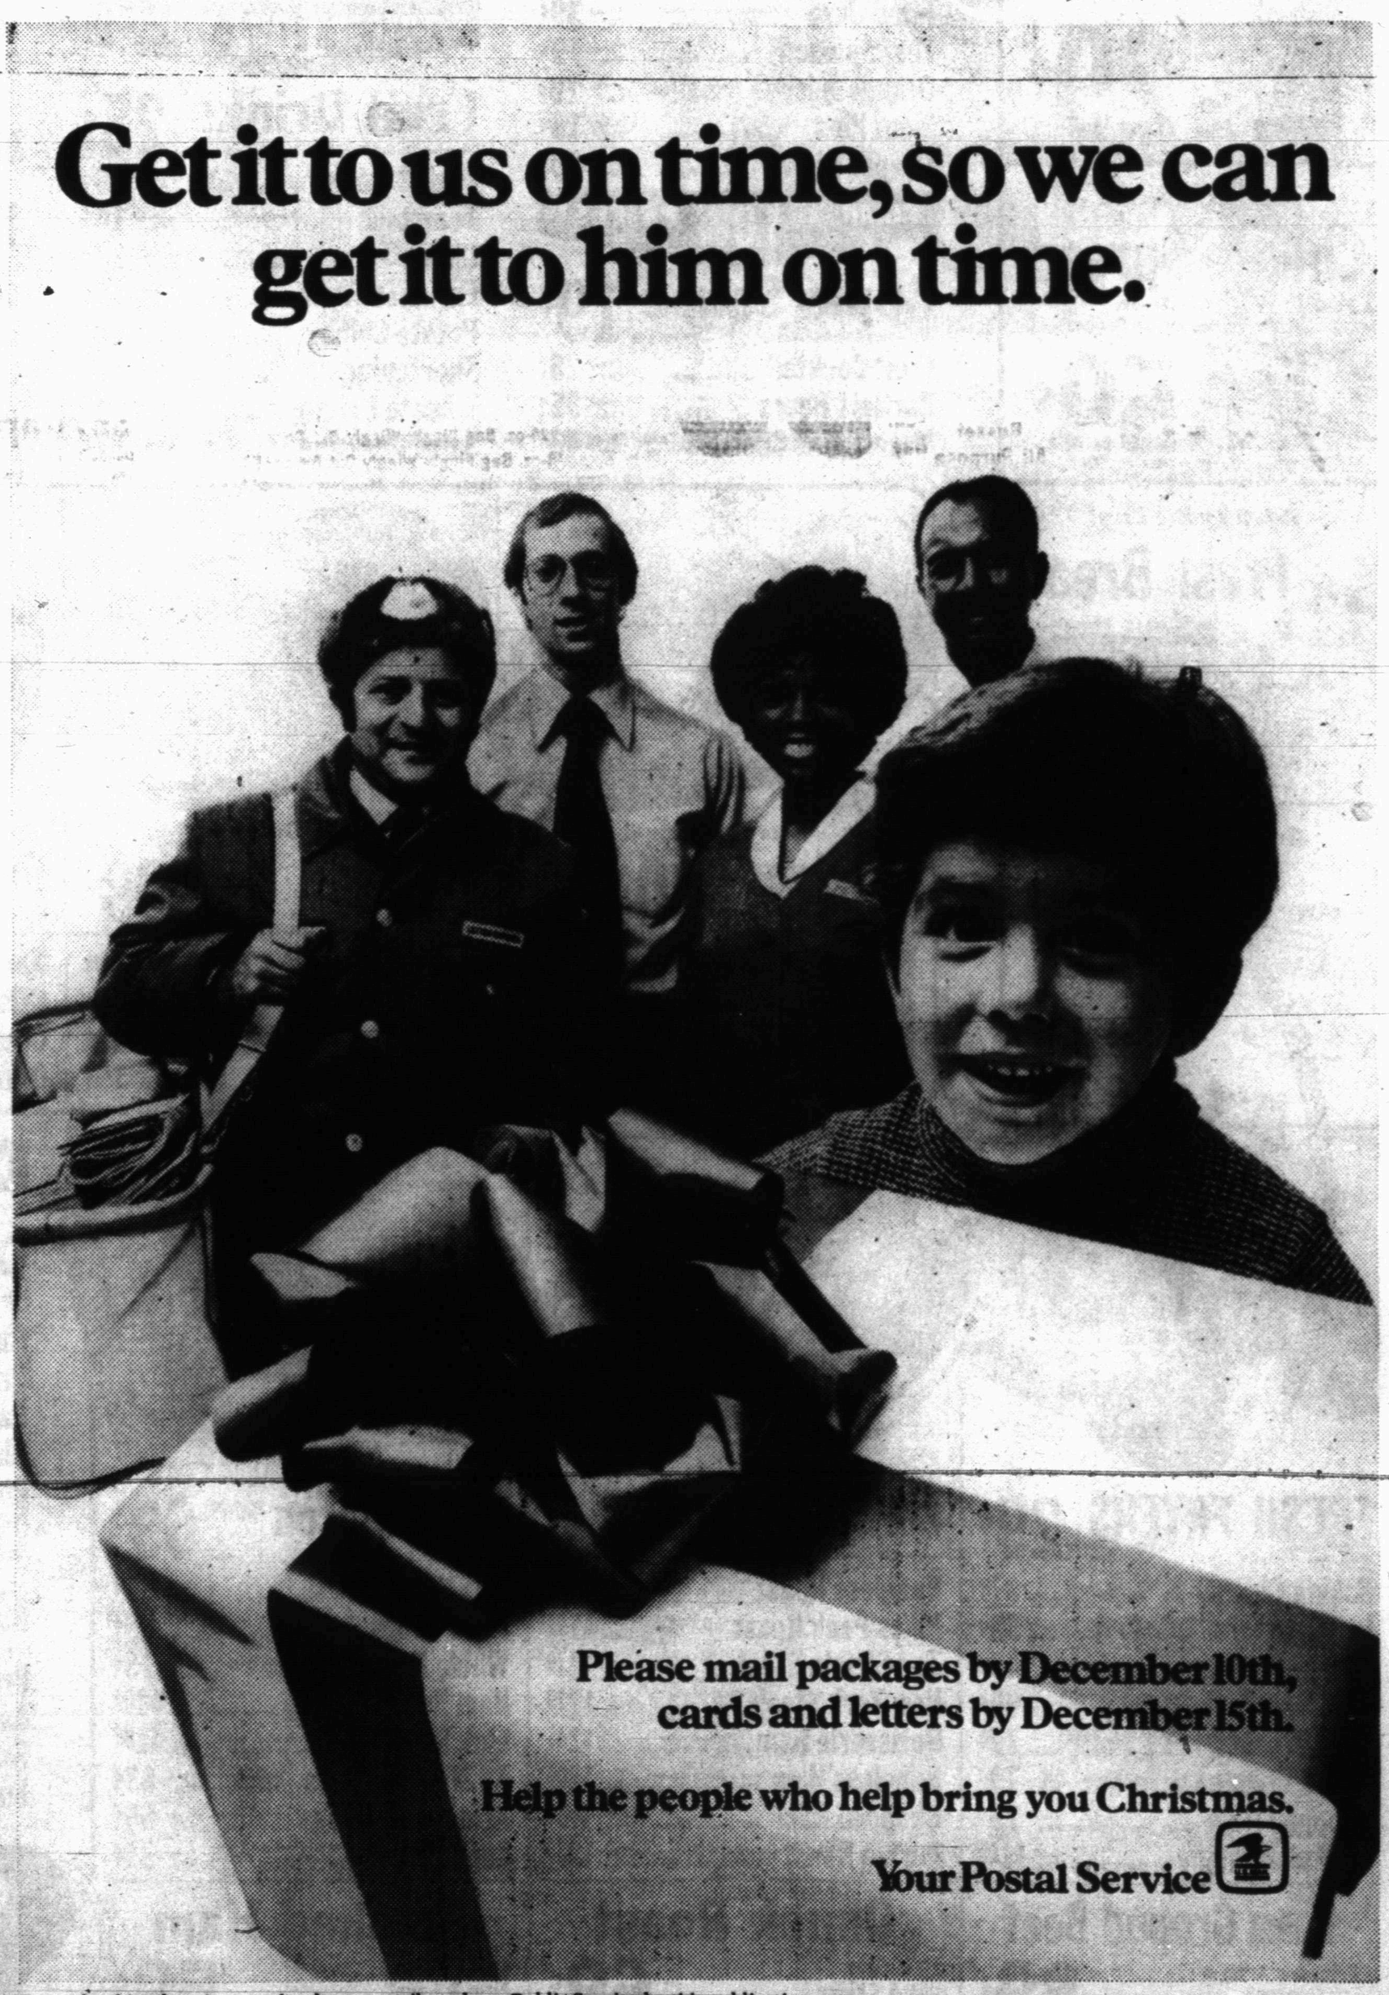

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., says he will seek re-election as speaker of the House.

Albert said in a statement Wednesday that the election Tuesday of a Democratic Congress "is clear and convincing evidence that the people of the United States recognize that only the Democratic party can provide the leadership necessary to meet the vital needs of our time."

Strong Herd To Invade Tiger Stadium Friday

Snyder's Tigers will face another tough opponent when they close out their home slate for 1972 Friday night with Hereford's Whitefaces providing the opposition. Kickoff is on tap for 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

The Herd has a 7-1 record compared with 2-6 for the Tigers. Hereford is 2-1 in district while the Tigers are 0-3. The Whitefaces have scored 213 points while limiting the opposition to 60. Snyder has scored 51 points and given up 123.

The only loss on the Hereford record is a 7-0 beating by district leader Lubbock Monterey.

Hereford is the defending champion in District 4-AAAA and went to the state quarterfinals last year under new coach Larry Dippel.

Both teams use similar offensive alignments. Both employ the Winged-T. Defensively, Snyder uses an Oklahoma five while the herd employes a 6-3-2.

Snyder again will be facing an outstanding quarterback in Keith Kitchens, 171-pound senior. He ranks behind Monterey's Yarbrough in total offense with 977 yards in eight games for a 122.1 yard average per game.

Kitchens is the scoring leader in the district with 42 points, and he has completed 46 of 120 passes for 717 yards and seven touchdowns.

In fact, the Herd has an all senior backfield. Tailback Wesley High, a 168-pound senior, is leading the district in rushing. He has carried 143 times for 786 yards for a 5.5 yard average and he's scored five touchdowns this season. Substitute tailback Johnny Adams has scored 36 points.

The other two starters are fullback Danny Harris, a 188-pound senior, and halfback Terry Champ, a 174-pound senior. Both are capable runners. Hereford is averaging 328 yards per game for its eight games this season. Defensively, they've yielded only 200 yards per game. Snyder, on the other hand, is averaging only 164 yards offensively while yielding 263 yards.

Tiger Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges has been out with the flu a couple of days this week. Coach Jim Bartlett said the Tigers are without the services of John Boren, 155-pound junior rover, who also has been ill. David Yearwood, 160-pound junior defensive end, also has been ailing and may not be a starter. If Yearwood is unable to go, then Jerry Webb, 174-pound junior, probably will be the starter at defensive right end.

Coach Bartlett said the Tiger backfield will include Tim Jones, 143-pound junior, at quarterback; Richard Gorman, 178-pound junior, at fullback; Welton Cobb, 192-pound sophomore at halfback; and, either Kerry Smith, 138 pound junior, or Ralph Lewis, 176 pound junior, at wingback.

This will be the first meeting between Hereford and Snyder, and the Whitefaces will be solid two touchdown favorites.

Owls Will Try Trick Plays Against Porkers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rice's trick plays are far more sophisticated than those diagrammed in the dirt of every sandlot football game.

"We do draw them up on paper," says Rice Coach Al Conover. "But, if we had some sand out there on the artificial turf it would be all right."

Rice plays Arkansas Saturday at Little Rock and both are trying to salvage seasons that have been going downhill lately. Arkansas, 2-2 in the Southwest Conference, and Rice, 0-3, are both out of the conference title chase.

Arkansas coach Frank Broyles says Rice "gives you play-action passes, reverses, screens, reverse passes, just about everything."

"We don't have the greatest personnel in the world, so we've got to try to trick them," Conover said. "We've got to have a trick or two to move the ball. We might have one or two this week."

Against SMU, Rice attempted a width of the field lateral on the kickoff. In another game, the Owls used an end around pass.

In a 10-6 loss to LSU, the Owls lined up in a makeshift formation away from the football. Quarterback Bruce Gadd strolled over to the ball, picked it up and pitched it to a halfback who had nine players blocking for him. The officials overruled the play, saying the ball had not been marked ready for action.

Conover is like the golfer who sinks an approach shot for a par—he doesn't care how, only how many.

The Owls have averaged more than 34 passes a game and threw 47 times in a 29-10 victory over Clemson.

"I don't care what we do as long as we move the football," Conover said.

Rice started the season in surprising fashion, beating Houston and Clemson and then tying George Tech 36-36. Since then, the Owls have lost four stright.

Conover said several injured players had returned to action and added, "We're the football team we were in the beginning of the season."

"We've gotten all those injured people back and the players are up right now," Conover said. "We still have a chance for a winning season and these kids haven't been associated with a winning season."

In fact, Rice has not finished a season above .500 since 1963 when the Owls were 6-4.

In a 10-6 loss to Texas Tech last week, Rice was forced to play without its three starting linebackers. Rodrigo Barnes, one of the best in the conference, and John Kelly are expected to play against the Razorbacks.

How much does Barnes mean to the team?

"We haven't won since he's been out," Conover said.

Arkansas built a 4-1 record, but has lost two of its last three games. Three weeks ago, Texas whipped the Razorbacks 35-15 and last week Texas A&M intercepted six Joe Ferguson passes enroute to a 10-7 decision.

"What they did last week really doesn't have much effect on me," Conover said. "There's no guarantee that they're going to do that again. They'll probably want to take it out on us."

Delaware Is TopGrid Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Delaware retained its hold on the No. 1 position in the college division football poll, and South Dakota, by virtue of its victory last Saturday over North Dakota State, jumped from nowhere to the fifth position.

The Blue Hens, first all but two weeks in the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters for The Associated Press, have an 8-0 season record and collected 10 first-place votes and 278 points in the results announced today.

Louisiana Tech, which held first for two weeks, is 9-0. It received four votes for first and 240 points.

South Dakota, 8-1, was not listed in the Top Ten teams last week but then beat No. 6 North Dakota State 35-21 last Saturday. It received one first-place vote and 166 points.

California Poly-San Luis Opisbo is third with 191 points and Tennessee State is fourth with 167. These are the same positions they held last week.

Ashland was fifth last week and beat Waynesburg 41-0 but still dropped to sixth in the current poll. North Dakota is seventh and Grambling eighth, each a jump of one place for the two teams.

Idaho State entered the poll as No. 9 while McNeese State, last week's No. 7, now is 10th.

Dropping from the poll were North Dakota State, and Massachusetts, last week's No. 10, which lost over the weekend.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1.	Delaware (10)	8-0	278
2.	La. Tech (4)	9-0	240
3.	Cal Poly-SLO	6-0-1	191
4.	Tennessee St.	7-1	167
5.	S. Dakota (1)	8-1	166
6.	Ashland	9-0	156
7.	N. Dakota	8-1	140
8.	Grambling	7-2	115
9.	Idaho St.	6-2	50
10.	McNeese St.	6-2	46

Dallas Cowboys Are Criticized

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys are suffering the slings and arrows of the Super Bowl champions who don't win big.

"It's kind of tragic but we're going to get criticized anytime we don't win big because we've put ourselves in the position of super stars," said cornerback Mel Renfro. "If you don't perform like a super star, well something is wrong in the eyes of the fans."

The Cowboys were roasted in the local media in the wake of Sunday's 34-28 victory over San Diego in which the National Football League champions almost blew a 31 point lead.

Coach Tom Landry underwent such stern criticism about the performance of his defense at Wednesday's press conference that he said "I thought we won."

Television stations in the area showed "lowlight films of Cowboy defensive boo-boos.

"The years of one team being dominated are past," said Renfro. "There are so many great individual performers spread through the league that you can have a good defense and still look bad. That's what has happened to us from time to time. We have a great defense but that's not going to keep us from getting stung."

Renfro harkened back to the dynasty talk that floated from the Cowboy dressing room after Super Bowl VI.

"The dynasty talk was a little premature because the teams in the NFL are too equal," Renfro said. "New England beats Washington then gets wiped out by a weaker team. How do you explain that?"

Landry admitted Wednesday that the Cowboy defense wasn't as strong as it was in 1971.

"Right now we are moving good (offensively) and it tends to relax the defense," Landry said. "Of course, we are concerned about our left cornerback position."

Charger quarterback John Hadl beat Charlie Waters for two touchdown passes and Herby Adderley with another at the left corner position Sunday.

"I imagine St. Louis will test us in that area," Landry said of Sunday's game against the Cardinals in Texas Stadium.

Renfro may have put his finger on Dallas' problems, saying: "When you've gone to the championship, you sometimes get complacent. You don't worry about the little games. You wait until the big games to play really hard...that's just human nature."

Oilers Wait On Wells

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler Coach Bill Peterson says the next move is up to Warren Wells if the controversial wide receiver intends to play for the Oilers.

Wells was fined, suspended and placed on the Oilers' move list Tuesday for being absent from Oiler functions and Peterson said Wednesday the next move belongs to Wells.

"All I know is he was out on the field running today (Wednesday)," Peterson said. "We gave him a chance to play and we'll give him another chance but this time it's up to him to show us he wants to play."

Wells must remain on the move list a total of two games and could be there until the end of the season.

But Peterson was more worried about the Philadelphia Eagles, Sunday's opponent in the Astrodome.

"They're a lot like we are," he said. "They've been struggling but they've moved the ball real well and they've changed up their defense. They use the zone pretty well. They've made it tough to read."

Peterson said he would stick with Dan Pastorini at quarterback again this week although the second-year Santa Clara flinger is having a tough season.

"He's tightened up some and he's waiting a little too long to throw the football," Peterson said. I think he's just not anticipating his receivers well."

Peterson started No. 1 draft choice Greg Sampson at defensive end last week and Council Rudolph at end but said he would return to Leo Brooks at tackle and Pat Holmes this week.

"I think a little competition is good," Peterson said. "We gave Sampson a chance to play and now we're going to see if Leo can come back."

Houston and Philadelphia have two of the worst records in pro football. The Oilers are 1-7 and the Eagles 1-6-1 after a 6-6 tie with St. Louis last week.

Both offensive units have been impotent. Philadelphia hasn't scored a touchdown in 10 quarters. Houston has scored 31 points in the last five games including two shutouts.

76ers Lose 14 Straight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Philadelphia is losing in big numbers now. The 76ers have dropped 14 straight and the latest loss came at the hands of a team whose top shooter was hurt.

Nate Archibald of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings sprained his thumb in the first quarter of Wednesday night's game. It didn't stop him from scoring 34 points and dropping the 76ers 12 games out of first in the National Basketball Association Atlantic Division after just three weeks of the season.

"It's tough. It's very tough," said Philadelphia guard Fred Carter. "All we can do is just keep plugging."

Archibald, who leads the league in both scoring and assists, did some plugging of his own after he was injured.

"I found that I couldn't hit my jumpers so I had to pass off," the 6-foot-1 guard said. "I shot terrible (14-of-16). I couldn't hit anything but layups."

The little star must have healed quickly as he hit 16 points in the final period. He also handed out 18 assists during the game.

The Kings, who trailed for most of the first half, got 23 points from rookie Ken Riley and took the lead for good in the third period. John Block led the 76ers with 35 points.

In other NBA games, Boston beat Golden State 128-111, Milwaukee topped Seattle 116-103, Baltimore beat Buffalo 126-94 and Phoenix whipped Cleveland 107-99.

Boston scored 40 points in the third quarter. Don Chaney had 11 in the third and 23 for the game. John Havlicek led the Celtics with 25 and JoJo White had 18. Rick Barry led Golden State with 34 points. Boston now leads the NBA Atlantic by one-half game over New York.

Grid Season Ends For Duane Thomas

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The football season has ended almost as soon as it began for Duane Thomas, the enigmatic running back of the San Diego Chargers.

Coach Harland Svare, who activated Thomas for the first time Sunday and then left him on the bench while the Chargers were losing to Thomas' former Dallas teammates, said Wednesday he was placing him on the reserve list. That means Thomas will be ineligible to play for the rest of the National Football League season.

The announcement was a surprise, since Thomas had attended every team practice since Friday and was reported to be at ease Tuesday, talking with some of his teammates and staying later than most of them to run back kicks. But he was absent Wednesday.

There were other indications of trouble at the stadium Sunday.

During most of the pre-game workouts, Thomas stood to one side, his hands on his knees. Near the end of the National Anthem he walked slowly beside the Chargers' bench. During the game he sat on the bench, staring straight ahead, outwardly responding neither to the game nor to several teammates' attempts at conversation.

"Obviously he's got some problems that won't permit him to play now," Savre said Wednesday. "I hope he will be able to play for us next season. His actions Sunday were not deliberate and were not intended to be disrespectful.

"He was relaxed yesterday (Tuesday) but I don't think that would have kept up. He did not show up today. I did not expect him."

Thomas has been living in a hotel here with his wife and two children. He is under probation for a marijuana possession conviction in Texas, and one of the conditions of probation is employment, but Svare said, "it doesn't necessarily have to be football." It was not learned wither he will stay in San Diego.

Thomas, 25, one of the best running backs in the NFL for the past two seasons, was traded from the Cowboys to the Chargers July 31 for running back Mike Montgomery and receiver Billy Parks. His relations with his employers, which had reached a state of noncommunication in Dallas, did not improve in San Diego.

Luman Harris of the Atlanta Braves was the fourth National League baseball manager to lose his job in 1972.

Equality Backer Is Satisfied

DALLAS (AP) — In 1957, as now, the Texas Legislature was a club of males with a dash of females, whose cumulative effect on women's issues was more of a light spice than a robust ingredient.

"I was met with derision at the very idea that women should control their own property," says Hermine Tobolowsky, who is satisfied Texas now has an equal rights amendment.

Now included in the Bill of Rights of the Texas Constitution, as a result of Tuesday's voting, is the command: "Equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin."

Mrs. Tobolowsky, a Dallas attorney for three decades, began pushing a women's rights amendment in 1959, two years after she says she went to the legislature to back "two innocuous bills".

Those proposals, one of which would have given women right to property they obtained before marriage, was thwarted. "I decided right there that if men and women were to have full legal equality, that it would take a constitutional amendment."

She recalls the amendment's childhood, fraught with rejection after its birth in 1959 when the late Sen. George Parkhouse and Rep. Ben Atwell, still a legislator, introduced it.

"At the time it is was startling idea," she says of the legislation—backed originally only by the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women. She is legislative chairman of the federation.

Besides Parkhouse and Atwell, Mrs. Tobolowky credits others with legislative help, including Rep. Bill Heatley, Sen. William Moore of Bryan and most recently, Rep. Rex Braun of Houston and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes—all men.

"There were no women in a position to help," Mrs. Tobolowsky of the legislative wrangling. During such recent wrangling, the race, color, creed and national origin references were added.

It will, according to Mrs. Tobolowsky have a far-reaching affect on Texas law, which she claims still contains many discriminatory provisions.

For instance, she says, wives will now be able to authorize medical treatment for their children, even if fathers deny it. She says it could make possible the inheriting of property by illegitimate children from their fathers.

Until now, fathers were under no obligation in Texas to support their illegitimate children, Mrs. Tobolowsky says, but equal rights for women changes that.

Cold Front Brings Wind

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new Pacific cold front traveled across West Texas toward the southeast today, and stiff south winds raking areas ahead of it switched around to the northwest as the forward edge of the colder air arrived.

Light to occasionally moderate rain fell across the north part of the Texas Panhandle and showers extrended as far south as Amarillo. More showers were expected to mark the progress of the frontal system downstate.

Near daybreak the norther had pushed as far as a line linking Childress and Midland.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 43 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart and 44 at Texarkana up to 66 at Brownsville and 70 at Galveston.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I saw a notice on the bulletin board at work that some people are having too much tax withheld from their paychecks. How can I find out if I am one of them?

A) Single employees earning up to $25,000 a year and married employes, whose spouses are not employed, with earnings up to $31,000 generally can expect to have their full tax withheld. If you fall into either of these categories and are only employed on one job, you should claim all the withholding allowances to which you are entitled to avoid having too much withheld. More information is available from your employer or your local Internal Revenue Service office.

Q) I have two jobs. One of my employers has withheld $468 in social security tax from my paycheck—the maximum required to be paid. But my second employer continues to withhold the the social security tax. Can I get this money back?

A) Yes. You will be able to take the entire amount of the social security tax in excess of $468 as a credit against your 1972 income tax.

Q) I won $250 in an essay contest, but refused the prize. Am I still taxed on the money?

A) No. Although ordinarily prizes are taxable to the recipient, you are not taxed if you refuse to accept the prize.

Q) My mother lives in her own home and has no income other than social security benefits. I am the only person contributing to her support. May I claim her as a dependent?

A) Because your mother lives in her own home, she has contributed the total fair rental value of her home toward her own support. Assuming you mother used her social security benefits for her own support, in order for you to claim her as a dependent, your contributions to her support must exceed the total of these items.

For more information on the dependency rules, see IRS Publication 501, "Your Exemptions and Exemption for Dependents." It's available free by writing your Internal Revenue distict office.
