Two Projects Studied

Salt Fork SCD Joins Planning Commission

Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District has become a member of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, under a resolution passed by the board of supervisors Tuesday, Aug. 18.

This followed a meeting of board members with Ernest Clark, PRPC executive director, held here on that date.

The two-fold purpose of the meeting was outlined by Gary Reed, Soil Conservation Service unit conservationist.

Mr. Clark gave a general explanation of the purpose of the planning commission and of its operation.

Two applications in which Salt Fork SCD is concerned were brought before the director:

—The standing of the seven-county North Rolling Plains Resuorce Conservation and Development program with regard to PRPC.

—The application for the development of the Elm Creek Watershed, in which Salt Fork, Wheeler and Gray Soil Conservation Districts are joined.

Both were submitted to PRPC earlier and failed to pass its review.

"Salt Fork supervisors feel if we will resubmit the Elm Creek application, we can get a favorable review, and shortly thereafter get a field review by the State Soil Conservaiton District and Soil Conservation Service personnel. We are resubmitting the application now for their (PRPC) review," Mr. Reed said.

A meeting of directors of North Rolling Plains RC&D and of PRPC has been set for 2 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 3 in Shamrock to resolve differences and get the application for review on its way again, Mr. Reed added.

The earlier rejection was described as the PRPC feeling that the two organizations had an overlapping of problems.

Also in the Tuesday night meeting, Dan Henard, Jr., was named the voting delegate of Salt Fork SCD on the PRPC.

A. E. Brammer, Retired Quail Farmer, Dies

A. E. Brammer, 71, of Quail, a retired farmer and resident of that community six years, died in Hall County Memorial Hospital at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 18. He had been in ill health several years.

Mr. Brammer was interested in community life during the time he lived here. During his long life as a farmer at Rudy, Ark., however, he had worked devotedly in behalf of the many activities to benefit that community.

Amos Everett Brammer was born July 25, 1899 and grew up in Lancaster, Ark. He was married there to Miss Rebecca Pope on July 6, 1918.

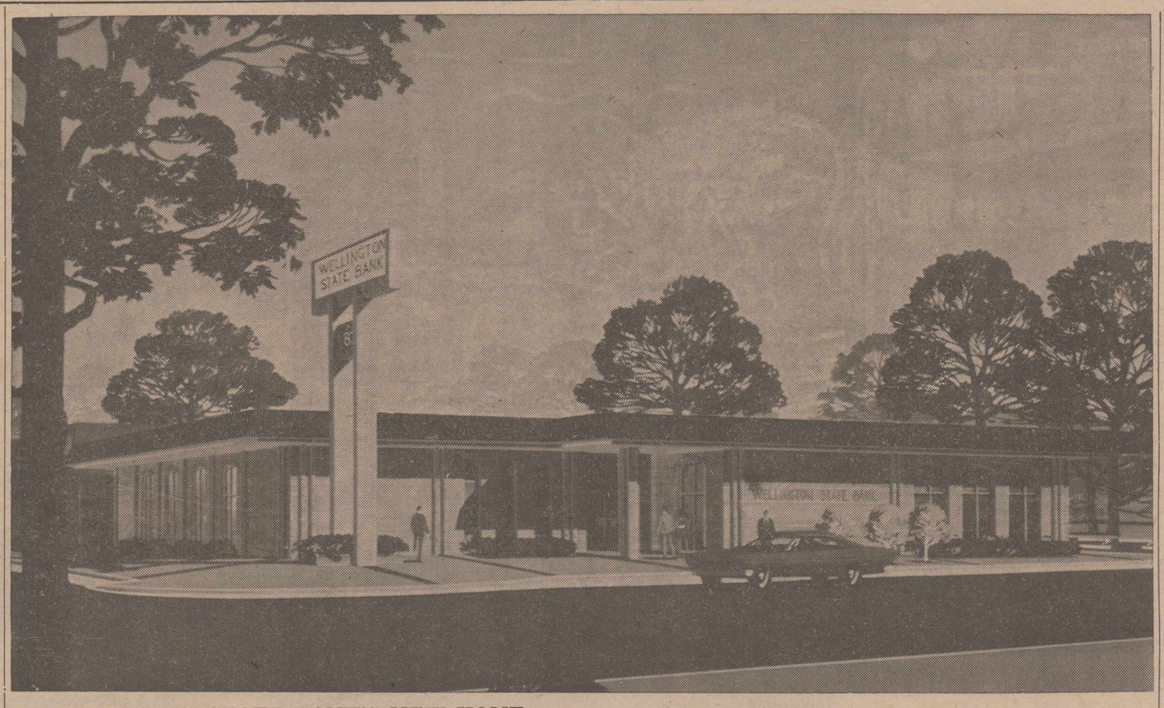

He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Funeral services were conducted at 4:00 p.m. Thursday in Quail Baptist Church, with the Rev. Porter Arnold, pastor, and Minister Lloyd Rice officiating.

Burial was in Quail Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Wellington State Bank Lets Contract for New Building

The Wellington State Bank has let the contract for its new home at 8th Street and East Avenue to Claude E. Mathis, general contractor, of Amarillo, President C. T. Hubbard announced Monday, Aug. 24.

Construction is due to begin in a week or 10 days, he said.

The overall cost of the building, new equipment and furniture is "in excess of $300,000," Mr. Hubbard said. Cost of the building, lots and architects' fee is $246,000.

Plans for the handsome new bank home were drawn by Gary and Hohertz, Architects, of Big Spring.

T. J. Walters, who was reared at Wellington, will be the construction superintendent on the job for Claude E. Mathis, and Frank Goforth was retained as superintendent on the job for the bank.

The contractor bid 220 working days to complete the structure, and when the 65-year-old Wellington State Bank moves into its new home in May or June 1971, it will return to the location which it occupied in 1911. Even the 1911 cornerstone will be in its original place.

Bank directors met to open bids and award the contract at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 19. Immediately afterward, Mr. Hubbard and John Holton, a member of the board, left for Austin and Thursday morning submitted the plans and contract price for approval by the State Banking Department.

These were submitted Friday to the Federal Reserve Bank and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Dallas. Approval reached the bank Saturday morning.

The handsome new bank home, one of the finest in the Panhandle, will be of Spanish design. Arched windows will alternate with planes of light brick, and a dark clay tile fascia will band the roofline.

The main entrance will face south on Eighth Street. The overall size will be 98 feet in width and 86 in depth.

A 1930 square foot basement will be under the east section. It will qualify as a fall-out shelter and will house the bank's machines and storage units.

A community room available to the public will occupy the south section. Complete with kitchen, it will accommodate approximately 50. It can be closed off from the remainder of the bank for night meetings.

Also in the east section will be the drive-in teller's window, bookkeeping department, record vault, storage and proof department.

The lobby will occupy the central section, and along the east side will be five teller cages.

To the left of the lobby entrance will be four enclosed offices, board room and other offices. A note payment window, cashier's desk, and secretarys' area will be at the back.

A parking area for employees and those using the community room will be across the alley to the east. A time and temperature clock mounted on a high pedestal will be visible from east and west.

Burglarly will be thwarted by a camera as well as alarm system. All furniture and much of the equipment will be new.

"This building is for the one purpose of our serving the community better," declared Mr. Hubbard.

The Wellington State Bank was chartered in 1906 and the

Retired Ginner, W. B. Harris, Dies Wednesday

W. B. (Bill) Harris, 86, of 113 West Avenue, died unexpectedly at Dodson Wednesday evening, August 19, as he was being taken to a doctor in Hollis.

Although in failing health, he had continued his usual activities, and only Monday and Tuesday had come downtown to visit with friends.

A retired ginner and lumber yard employee, Mr. Harris had worked for several gins, and his tenure went back to the era of the 1920s and 1930s when Wellington had more cotton gins than any other town of its size.

Later he was employed at Cicero Smith and Shamburger Lumber Companies.

William Burkett Harris was born Feb. 5, 1884, in Iredell, Bosque County. He was the son of Lynn and Mary Lasiter Harris.

He came to the Tea Cross area in Harmon County in 1898 with his parents, and remained there until he moved to Wellington in 1906.

He was married to Miss Gusta Nowell in Wellington Febru-

Gomez Joins Line

More Men Report for Skyrocket Practice

Wellington Skyrockets have dropped to one-a-day practice sessions, but nearly a dozen additional men reported to the team during the last week, Coach Thayne Amonett reported.

Unexpected help came with the enrollment of Gustavo Gomez, a 180-pound lineman who transferred from South Texas with two years experience behind him. He is a senior.

A new Interscholastic League Regulation makes a boy eligible his last year of competition if he is released by the superintendent, principal and coach of the school he is leaving, Coach Amonett said.

Two changes were made in personnel lineups. Both Mark Killian and Teddy McLain were moved from guard to the backfield, since the 1970 Rockets have no returning lettermen in the backfield.

Several additional boys who have transferred into Wellington High School will strengthen the B team, coached this year by Don Lacy.

Altogether, from 40 to 42 boys are working out each evening.

"Some of the boys are showing improvement, but we still have quite a ways to go," said Amonett. He, along with Coaches Lacy, Dick Hamilton and Jim Forrester, are still working to overcome the loss of so many starters by graduation.

"Our being short of speed is one weakness, as well as lack of size to a certain extent," the coach commented.

Wellington Skyrockets play their first game Friday, Sept. 11, against Hollis here.

More Students Due Home

Four County Schools Enroll 973 as Class Work Begins

Collingsworth County schools had enrolled 973 students Tuesday, Aug. 25, and the number is expected to rise during the next week or two, possibly to near the 1,000 mark.

Wellington Schools enrolled 691 students, Supt. J. L. Harper said.

This was higher than the enrollment when school closed in May by 22 students, and higher than school administrators expected. When the 1969-70 term ended, 669 students were carried on the school rolls.

Wellington enrolled 302 students in elementary grades, 162 in junior high and 227 in high school, Mr. Harper said.

The break-down by grades was available only for Elementary School, where A. A. McQueary had reported the first grade with 59 children; second grade, 61; third grade, 57; fourth grade, 60; and fifth grade 57, and special education 8.

Quail School had 101 boys and girls, Supt. James Stavenhagen reported. This is one less than on opening day last year, and he said one or two more children were due to come in, with the total equalling the 1969-70 figure.

Samnorwood School enrollment was down to approximately 145, Supt. Robert Dwight said. This is 35 less than were enrolled last year, and the school ended the 1969-70 term with an ADA of 168.

"The school board has determined to maintain the program as it has been set up, realizing that certain adjustments may have to be made next year," Mr. Dwight said.

This drop was not a surprise, he said, for administrators had been aware of families with children moving out of the district through the summer.

Unless enrollment rises during the year, the student loss will involve a certified teacher unit under the minimum foundation program, Mr. Dwight pointed out.

Despite the drop in enrollment, school is off to a fine start, he added.

Thirty-six students were enrolled at Dodson, Principal Joe Lennon reported. It is known, however, that two or three families, each with several children, have been working elsewhere in crop harvest during the summer, but plan to return for the school year. However, they are not aware of the earlier opening of school.

Fire Damages Rudy Garage

The Vernon Rudy Garage at 806 Corsicana Street was heavily damaged by fire, water and smoke shortly before 8:00 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 25.

Mr. Rudy said the blaze apparently started from an acetylene torch, which he had used earlier. He had returned home for breakfast when the fire started.

Besides water and smoke, his chief loss was in hand tools, and some wiring was destroyed, he reported. Tin on the roof had to be pulled up for firemen to get to the blaze.

Mr. Rudy said it would take two or three weeks to get the damage cleaned up.

A money estimate of the loss has not been made.

Aguirre Unhurt in Accident

Joe Andrew Aguirre, 22, of 1402 Galveston was uninjured in a one-car wreck Sunday, Aug. 23, in which his 1969 model car was demolished, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

Aguirre's car slid broadside into a metal road marker in front of the Texas Highway Department offices, the sheriff said. The two-inch steel pipe was bent but not broken.

The accident occurred about 1:00 a.m.

Highway Patrolman Doug Wright headed the investigation.

Elementary School

Norwood Men, Boys Hold Roof Raising

Samnorwood Lions Club and other men of the community held a West Texas style roof raising at their elementary school, beginning Wednesday, Aug. 19.

A new metal roof was completely installed, placed over the old one which had been in place for many years, according to Rudie Tate, Lion president.

Club members launched the project, then men came from throughout the big school district, along with teen-age boys who used the final days of summer vacation for the work.

Those taking part were Mr. Tate, Joe Frank Knoll, W. R. Breeding, A. S. Whitson, Harald Hill, Billy Waters, E. J. Ray, Jim Ray, Willie Knoll, Sherman Smith,

Alva Clark, Douglas Coleman, Donald Coleman, Oliver Wischkaemper, Robert Young, Larry Oldham, Mark Simpson, Douglas Coleman, Jr., Joel Rainey, Laron Breeding, Joe Stice, John Stages, Richard Bentley, John Birkey, Bob Dwight, John Christner, Gus Gooch, J. H. Oldham, Marvin Knoll, Selba Rainey, J. W. Thomas, Jack Thomas, Jimmy Brown, Earl Emerson, James Martindale, Kim Martindale, Rev. C. R. Hankins, Lee Lackey, Noah Stice, and Randy Garner.

Outdated Pieces Replaced

Hospital Equipment Updated by Purchase

Several pieces of needed equipment have been purchased by St. Joseph's Hospital, part of it replacing items that cannot be repaired.

Four high-low beds head the list, Sister Perpetua, administrator, said, and this is part of a long-time goal to place this type in all patient rooms. Fifteen high-low beds, manually operated, are now installed.

An operating table will replace the one presently in use which is no longer manufactured and for which replacement parts cannot be had. The hydraulic lift is leaking and cannot be repaired, Sister Perpetua said.

Another purchase was a Bennett Automatic Positive Pressure machine which was added to two already on hand. These assist in deeper breathing for patients with pneumonia or other conditions in which respiration is depressed.

For the anesthesia section, a gas machine was acquired that has an attachment for giving one of the new types of anesthesia, fluothane.

"Ours was beginning to leak, although we are keeping it in case of emergency," the administrator reported.

All of these additions have been used but are in good condition, and update the equipment of the hospital considerably, Sister Perpetua reported.

Owens New Deputy Marshal

The City Council has hired Junior Owens as deputy marshal and night policeman to work under Police Chief Donald Nunnelley, Mayor John Coleman announced.

Mr. Owens has been working for the city as night officer, but official action was taken to conform to a newly implemented state law, it was explained.

He had training and several years experience with the Marine Corps Military Police, Mr. Coleman said.

Bloodmobile to Be Here Sept. 1

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Wellington Thursday, Sept. 1, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and those recruiting here are making a final appeal for donors.

The Bloodmobile will be at Bura Handley Community Center, and the quota for this visit is 110 units of blood.

Donors were reminded the closing hour is earlier than on the last visit.

The need for blood remains urgent, pointed out the Rev. Philip Daniels, who is assisting chairman Don Hood.

"We must have blood available at St. Joseph's Hospital at all times, for any citizen in our community who may need it," declared Rev. Daniels. "Blood is perishable, and after 21 days it is returned to the Blood Center to be made into important blood derivatives.

"So it takes a much larger amount of blood to operate a blood bank than is used for actual transfusions."

A telephone campaign will be launched through the week end and Monday.

"If you are called, please respond with a visit to the bloodmobile," Rev. Daniels urged.

Those who do not have transportation may call the Community Building, 447-0000, or St. Joseph's Hospital, 447-2521, and arrangements will be made to pick them up and return them.

Many groups are potential donors:

—High school students who are 18 years of age may give with written parental consent.

—A call was made to college students still at home.

—Blood is needed from the business community, farmers and ranchers, those who do day labor, housewives, everyone in good health.

—Senior citizens in good health may be donors, and there will be a doctor at the bloodmobile whom they can consult.

Because of the scarcity of walking donors, St. Joseph's Hospital must depend on the Red Cross Blood Bank for blood to transfuse patients.

However, the hospital can get as much blood as it may need for any emergency, even a tornado or accidents in which large numbers are injured.

Also available are as much of the blood deriviatives as St. Joseph's may need:

—Packed red blood cells, sometimes more desirable than whole blood.

—Blood platelets, used to prolong lives of those suffering from leukemia.

—Plasma.

—Serum albumin, used to treat shock from burns.

—Gamma Globulin, helpful in fighting infectious diseases.

—Fibrinogen, effective in checking hemorrhaging.

—Vaccinia immune globulin, the only known remedy for formerly fatal reactions to smallpox vaccinations. The Red Cross is the only source of this product in the United States.

As long as Collingsworth County remains a member of the Red Cross Blood Program, any person in the county is eligible to reecive Red Cross blood in any hospital in the United States.

New Crossing Over Buck Creek Now Completed

A low-water crossing has been completed over Buck Creek nine miles west and one-half mile south of Wellington. It replaces a 42-year-old wooden bridge that was condemned by the Commissioners' Court July 28.

The new structure is of concrete with steel anchor blades embedded to tie it down, County Judge Zook Thomas said.

The structure is 16 feet in width and 200 feet long, and is one-half mile south of Friendship Church.

"Buck Creek will have to carry three feet of water before it runs over the end," said the county judge.

Two ditches ranging from 18 to 24 inches in depth will surround the structure.

The embankment will be sprigged with bermuda grass to tie down the soil.

Judge Thomas said the work was done by the County Road Department at considerable saving in the cost.

Since the understructure and bridge floor had rotted and become weakened, the 350 foot bridge will be demolished.

The new structure was built alongside it, and the road to the crossing, which was closed temporarily, will be reopened.

Start Now, Nunnelley Urges

Many Floats Needed In Big Fair Parade

Colorful floats are needed from organizations from every part of the county to make up the big parade that opens the Collingsworth County Free Fair Friday, Sept. 18 at 10 a.m.

Police Chief Donald Nunnelley, parade chairman, urged that work begin on these floats, then outlined several major changes in the 1970 parade.

Those having entries are to come by the Chamber of Commerce office prior to the day of the parade and leave a description or theme of the float. They will receive a number and position in the parade.

"This will stop some of the confusion on the day of the parade, for people will know where they are to be," said Mr. Nunnelley.

The important thing is that we need floats to represent every part of the county, and all parts of our community life, Chief Nunnelley declared.

There will be three categories for awarding prizes: commercial, club or organizations, and youth groups.

Chief Nunnelley emphasized, however, that any group of individuals can get together and work up an entry.

The parade route will be changed from previous years. It will form on West Avenue, and the parade will start from the corner of 10th and West Avenue, the Post Office corner. At the southwest corner of the square, it will turn east and circle the square, back at the southwest corner, the parade will turn west on 9th Street and continue to Bowie, where it will disband.

Vehicles will be spaced so that the big crowds watching the parade will have opportunity to see them.

A military Honor Guard is being sought by the police chief to lead the parade, and That Skyrocket Band will be immediately behind. Other area bands will be invited, and out of town floats are eligible to participate.

All units are asked to be at the starting point at 9:00 a.m. and not later than 9:30.

Three out of town judges have been secured: Mayor Troy Johnson of Shamrock; Mayor C. J. Lyons of Childress, and Bill Tell Zorkman of Amarillo.

LITTLE BUT LOUD

Under normal conditions when a cricket chirps it can be heard for a mile.

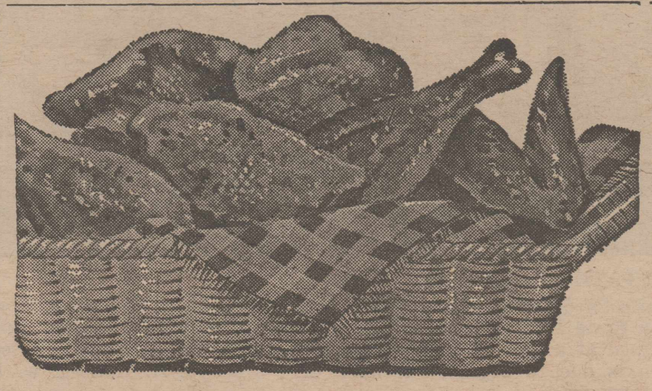

If Jesus Came Today

BY GAYLORD COOK

What would happen if Jesus came to our town today? He would find some born-again Christians, some worldly church members, some outright sinners, some good moral people who make no pretense of being religious and some who intend to become Christians. One can look around and see that these are the kinds of people Christ would find, but what do you suppose He would teach? I am convinced he would teach exactly what he taught while he was upon the earth. He would teach the importance of faith as He did in John 8:24. He would emphasize the necessity of repentance as He did in Luke 13:3. He would declare the power of public confession as set forth in Matt. 10:32. The imperative of the new birth would be proclaimed as in John 3:3-5 and I am sure he would set forth the value of Godly living as in Matt. 5:20. When He had so taught, who would accept Him? The very same ones who have accepted Him on the basis of His Word. What about you? Are you one who has obeyed the will of Christ as revealed in the New Testament?

Notes from Your County HD Agent

By Mrs. Leta Hill

If Your Freezer Stops

If your freezer stops, don't panic, but get into action.

The first thing to remember is to keep your freezer closed. How long the food will stay frozen depends on the amount and type of food in the freezer. A full freezer will stay cold many hours longer than a freezer only a quarter full. Meat will stay frozen longer than will baked food. Also, the larger the freezer, the longer it will stay cold.

Twenty-five pounds of dry ice should hold the temperature of a half-full, 10 cubic foot freezer below freezing for two or three days. Put heavy cardboard directly on packages of frozen food and then put the dry ice on top of the cardboard.

For added protection, cover the freezer with blankets, quilts or some other covering. It will also help to put crumpled newspaper or excelsior between the cabinet and the blankets. Don't cover up the air-vent opening because the power may come on unexpectedly and ventilation will be needed.

If the freezer will be out of operation for more than three days, take frozen foods to a locker plant as soon as possible. Thoroughly wrap the food and make the trip from the freezer to the locker as quickly as possible.

If food has partially or completely thawed before you discover that the freezer is not operating, you may refreeze foods if they still contain ice crystals and are still 40 degrees F. or below. Meats and poultry become unsafe to eat when the color or odor is poor or questionable. You should get rid of them. The condition of vegetables, shellfish and cooked foods can't be determined by odor so if in doubt, get rid of them also. Don't use melted ice cream since milk products spoil rapidly.

Refreeze thawed food quickly, and it is wise to run your freezer between 10 and 20 degrees below zero during seasons when power failures may be frequent.

- What is rappini? It's a young turnip plant pulled when there is little or no bulb development of the root. It's in the green family with the dandelion greens, mustard greens, spinach and kale. Rappini is a popular Southern dish and usually is boiled with small onions or pieces of meat to give added flavor.

- In preparing those summer fruit cocktails don't forget that ascorbic acid helps to keep fruit and vegetables from darkening. The addition of one-fourth teaspoon of crystallic ascorbis acid (vitamin C) to a quart of fruit or vegetable before it is processed retards oxidation, which is one cause of darkening of home canned foods.

- Why does home canned fruit sometimes float in jars? Fruit may float because pack is too loose or sirup is too heavy; or because some air remains in tissues of the fruit after heating and processing.

- In the United States, approximately 25 percent of all calories are consumed between meals via "snacking".

- Wrap food carefully before putting it in the freezer. Improperly wrapped packages will allow air to enter and draw moisture from meat. If the meat is dry and less flavorful than it should be—that's "freezer burn". Packages should be vapor-proof wrapped (in heavy aluminum foil or heavy freezer paper) and all possible air should be eliminated.

- Here's a good summertime salad:

Frozen Fruit Ambrosia

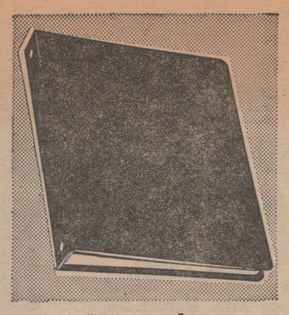

½ cup washed seedless green grapes, halved
1 can (13½ oz.) pineapple tidbits, drained (1 cup)
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges
12 maraschino cherries, quartered
1 cup small marshmallows
1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese, room temp.
½ cup confectioners' sugar
¼ cup salad dressing
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Combine fruit in mixing bowl. Combine cream cheese and confectioners' sugar in small beater bowl; beat until smooth. Stir in salad dressing and vanilla and mix with fruit. Fold whipped cream into fruit; then spread into 9" x 12" pan. Freeze. Cut into serving portions, when ready to serve. Yield 6-9 servings.

A wedding gown of silk organza over peau de soie and Alencon lace in Victorian design was selected by the bride. The bodice had a high lace collar and lace caplets over the Juliet sleeves, which were cuffed with lace. The billowing full skirt fell to formal length and a detachable train was trimmed with Alencon lace. Her veil was a full-length mantilla of cage design, in illusion and lace. She carried a bouquet which was a cascade of white cattleya orchids surrounded by phalaenopsis orchids.

Miss Peggy Nethery of Oklahoma City was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Susan Chandoha of Rosita, Coahuila, Mexico, and Miss Cynthia Beck of Fort Worth.

They wore hot pink chiffon juliet gowns, with the full sleeves and bodices trimmed with floral braid. Each carried a single long-stemmed rose.

The best man was Kenneth W. Ward of Kilgore, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Dr. John E. McDanel III of Alamosa, Colorado and Steve W. Schuster of Fort Worth.

The flower girl and ringbearer were Sheri Ferguson of Arlington, cousin of the bride, and Jimmy Hollingsworth of Fort Worth.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Young were hosts at a champagne reception in the Green Oaks Inn, Fort Worth.

Members of the house party were Mrs. William L. Bess of Forth Worth, Miss Trena Kay Fike of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, Miss Trudy Matyoka and Mrs. Samuel L. Smith of Fort Worth, and Miss Gladlin King of Corpus Christi.

After their wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will be at home in San Angelo.

A graduate of Richard King High School, Corpus Christi, the bride is a senior at Texas Christian University.

The bridegroom, a Kilgore High School graduate, received the Bachelor of Arts degree and is a candidate for the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Texas Christian University. He is now assistant professor of history at Angelo State University, San Angelo.

Dry Heat Processing of Grain Sorghums Studied

COLLEGE STATION. — A search for a physical process to improve the utilization of grain sorghum by cattle has been going on for a long time.

A possible solution is recognized in dry heat processing of the sorghum by J. K. Riggs, J. W. Sorenson, Jr., and Price Hobgood, all of Texas A & M University.

A project, planned and enacted in 1967, provided an opportunity to study the equipment requirements, the effect of initial moisture content on popping characteristics of sorghum grain and the bulk densities of the various components of the popped grain mixtures.

The study also evaluated the feedlot performance and carcass characteristics of cattle fed the dry heat-processed and non-processed grain in all-concentrate finishing mixtures.

Rumen volatile fatty acid levels and grain digestibility were also determined in the work done cooperatively by the Departments of Agricultural Engineering and Animal Science at A&M.

An infrared-heated reciprocating steel table machine and a gas-heated vibrating-tray conveyor machine were used in the research to determine the feasibility of using dry heat in a popping operation to process the sorghum grain for finishing beef cattle.

Results of the study showed that the grain should be cleaned to assure an even flow free from foreign materials for efficient operation of the reciprocating-table machine.

A grain moisture content of 15% was optimum for obtaining the highest percentage of completely popped grain which was 45%.

Help Your Air Conditioner

COLLEGE STATION. — Air conditioning is being used by an increasing number of homeowners to "enhance their environment," W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer, says the problem of discomfort from high summer temperatures and humidity can be largely solved through the use of an air conditioner.

Window units, he notes, will perform better and more economically if the homeowner gives attention to a few simple operating guidelines.

Window units should not be installed in windows exposed to extreme heat from the sun.

Make sure, he emphasizes, that electrical circuits are adequate to handle the requirements of the unit being installed.

The thermostat should not be set too low. The average comfort range, he notes, is from 72 to 76 degrees Fahrenheit.

Air filters should be checked at frequent intervals and cleaned or replaced so they can perform their important function.

High heat production areas, such as the kitchen, should be isolated from living areas when possible, suggests the engineer.

Blinds or shades should be closed or drawn in order to prevent the sun's rays from entering the cooled areas.

And finally, advises Allen, keep doors and windows closed. Units cannot be expected to cool an area larger than their rated capacity.

Seven-Step Cotton Program Rolls Along

Twenty-four years ago a program was initiated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and today the 7-Step Cotton Program is still basic to the cotton industry.

Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, says production methods have undergone many changes for the better. He sees no change in the pace of changes in the future. He cites the cotton farmer's acceptance of new ideas as one of the most important changes.

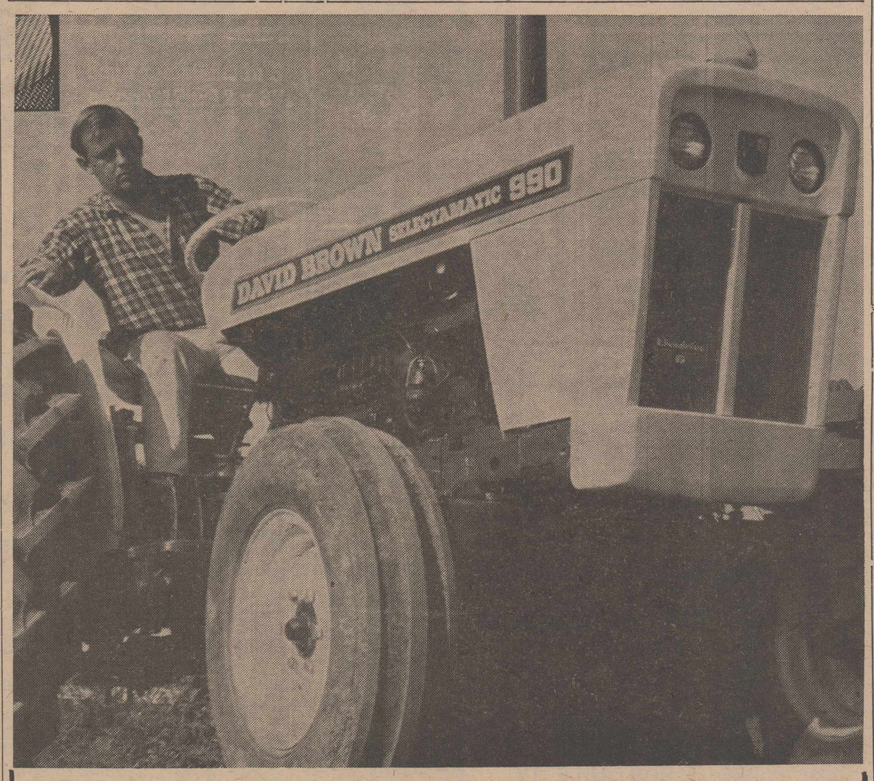

New Sorghum Conversion Lines

The release of 63 lines from the conversion program of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U.S. Department of Agriculture was announced recently at a news conference at the Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

There is still much breeding work to be done in order to incirporate desirable characteristics into high yielding hybrids, said D. T. Rosenow, of the Center.

This work will be largely done by commercial seed firms who will use this new germplasm in their breeding program, he noted.

Other Editors Say . . .

How High A Price?

No one will ever know how many lives have been saved by the early miracle drug penicillin. It was hailed as a scientific breakthrough of the first magnitude. It altered the course of man's battle against disease and infection. Since penicillin, there have been hundreds of basic new drugs developed mostly in the United States by U. S. Pharmaceutical manufacturers.

Today, the cost to research and develop a single major new drug averages about $7 million and requires at least five to seven years. Two million dollars is spent every working day by the drug firms on research; and, once a new drug is discovered, the process of testing and investigation is almost unbelievably complex and pain staking. After extensive animal testing, a new drug goes through a three-phase investigation of use in man. In the first phase, the drug is given to a limited number of patients, generally volunteers. In phase two, it is given on a trial basis to limited numbers of sick people, people for whom the drug is designed. These trials are invariably conducted by experts in the field. During the third phase of the investigation, a drug is given a broader exposure to the patient population afflicted with the disease it is intended to combat. All the data of the investigative process is finally included in a new drug application which must be approved by the Food and Drug Administration. These applications are now tens of thousands of pages long.

Considering the current requirements and procedures involved in the introduction of a new drug, one wonders what would have happened if they had existed at the time of the breakthrough in early miracle drugs. Almost certainly, penicillin would have been years longer in becoming generally available. Probably a high price in human life would have been paid for the delay—all in the name of safety. How high is this price today because of drugs not available when needed? —Atlanta Citizens-Journal

Burger Asks for More

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger has called for an overhaul of the American judiciary, to reduce crime by providing speedier justice.

The last such call, he says, was made in 1906 — and ignored.

Burger is talking about both federal and state courts, but mainly the latter, which handle the bulk of crime triels. He'd like a commission to iron out procedural kinks, but his real emphasis is on "more." More courts and judges, more court personnel and lawyers, and of course more money to finance the overhaul.

Burger doesn't say how much money, but it is heartening to hear a chief justice say what FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has been saying for so long—speedy justice will reduce crime. We never heard that kind of agreement in Warren's day.

Hoover says defending ourselves against crime is costing more and more — not just in money but in curtailed freedom of movement. We all have to take increasing precautions against criminals.

Both he and Burger think we must go on the offense.

It will probably cost less to enlarge the judicial establishment to process crime as it occurs than to go on seeing criminals commit third offenses before they are jailed for the first.

Burger isn't talking watered-down justice. Justice must still be justice, but the road to the courthouse must be 4-laned.

It isn't often that "more" is the right prescription for social problems. But in the case of crime and punishment, more of everything that can speed up justice is good sense and vital.

Drop-Outs

Will you be a political drop-out?

Throughout the nation men and women within the parties are laying the groundwork for November's election. Many candidates face primary opposition. This provides an opportunity to select those candidates representing your points-of-view to be the party nominees in November.

There is a lot of homework to be done. Local, state and national issues should be analyzed, discussed and decisions made.

There is more to politics than just "talk." Each one of us should back up our "talk" with a vote.

If you have any idea that you might be out-of-town on voting day—either the primary or the general election—than by all means take the time and make the effort to secure an absentee ballot. Then use it.

We could go back in history to many elections decided by one vote. We don't think it necessary. The only way you can prevent becoming a political drop-out is to make sure that you cast your vote.

STATE Capital NEWS
By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.—A legislative committee is sampling recommendations for sweeping court reforms, including creation of judicial system administrators with authority to send judges wherever they are needed.

Judicial section of the State Bar will detail its proposals at an October meeting in Galveston.

Judges and practicing attorneys gave the House judiciary sub-committee, at a hearing in the capitol, their ideas for improving and speeding up court machinery.

Sample recommendations include:

—Strong court administration, including authority to ignore present district lines in assigning judges to duty where the action is.

—Giving 14 Courts of Civil Appeals power to handle intermediate appeals of criminal, as well as civil, cases to ease the load on overworked Court of Criminal Appeals (which now receives appeals direct from district courts all over the state).

—Creation of a "unified" court system (a variety of plans have been suggested) to insure an even work load on courts, again by shifting judges to areas where dockets are overloaded.

—Automatic judicial redistricting by a five-member board if the legislature refuses to do the job.

—Removing judges from politics.

—Stiffer fines and jail sentences for contempt of court to help prevent court disruptions like those which have shocked the nation in recent months.

—Simplification of the judicial article of the state constitution so the Legislature can make necessary changes without having to submit constitutional amendments.

"The climate for judicial reform was never so good," Supreme Court Associate Justice Jack Pope told the committee members. "But if reform is passed up this session of the Legislature, it may be too late."

Oil Allowable at Record

Texas Railroad Commission boosted the oil allowable for September to 79.9% of potential—highest level since October 1951.

Order is seen as likely to boom production higher than during the Arab-Israeli war in 1967.

Chairman Ben Ramsey noted that the Commission's staff report warned the higher factor could cause pollution, wasting of gas, and pipeline bottlenecks in some areas.

A major oil company spokesman said Texas crude oil stocks are down 4.5 million barrels from 1969. A rapid decline in imported oil was noted.

September allowable would provide for a maximum daily production of 4,166,870 barrels, although actual production is estimated at 3,409,000 barrels a day. Latter is just under the written nominations of major purchasers for 3,428,395 barrels of Crude daily. Production in August at 70% factor was estimated at 3,310,000.

Mercury Rules Urged

Texas Water Quality Board has been urged to adopt tougher mercury discharge limits or outlaw discharges outright.

A Federal Water Quality Administration official and a top Texas Parks and Wildlife Administrator recommended even tighter controls on mercury and other heavy metals than proposed by the Board.

Spokesman for Diamond-Shamrock Chemical Company and American Smelting and Refining Company, on the other hand, argued that the prosposed five parts per billion mercury discharge level is beyond their capacity. They called for a delay in the adoption of the standards.

Federal officials took exception to the state Board's order which said there is no evidence of public health hazard from heavy metals contamination in Texas. He pointed to mercury found in industrial discharges, coastal waters and in certain species of salt water fish and shell fish. He noted, in particular, industrial waste along the Houston ship channel and in Lavaca Bay.

Celia Jobless Aid Paid

Texas Employment Commission will pay disaster unemployment assistance to persons unemployed as a result of Hurriance Celia in a dozen South Texas counties.

These are Atascosa, Aransas, Live Oak, McMullen, Bee, Jim Wells, Nueces, San Patricio, Refugio, Goliad, Karnes and Wilson counties.

Those eligible include persons who worked or were scheduled to work in the areas but who no longer have jobs or places to work or could not reach their place of work because of storm damage.

Also eligible are those who lived in areas and could not get out to work elsewhere, those who could not go to work because of injury or illness due to the disaster, those who became heads of households and needed to work due to the death of the family breadwinner during the emergency period, or those who had completed work training and could not find work because of hurricane damage.

Welfare Region Established

A new State Department of Public Welfare region serving six South Texas counties will go into operation on Sept. 1 with headquarters in Laredo.

M. J. Raymond, Jr., will be regional administrator for all department programs in Webb, Duvall, Jim Wells, Jim Hogg, Zapata and Starr counties. Counties previously were part of a larger region. Department now has a 17-region setup.

Courts Speak

U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals denied Texas' appeal on who has jurisdiction in a Padre Island buried treasure case. U.S. District Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville had held on June 12 that he could take jurisdiction in the dispute over ownership of the recovered artifacts. State wants the articles. So does Platoro Ltd., the Gary, Ind., salvage firm which recovered them.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin filed a triple damage, anti-trust suit against three big drug firms, accusing them of conspiracy in restraint of trade leading to a monopoly in Ampicillin and other synthetic penicillins.

State's request for lifting an injunction against enforcing private bottle club guest rule has been delayed until Sept. 30 by the Austin District Court.

Meanwhile, the chairman of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission, Tom Gordon, of Abilene, said ABC would be in contempt of court if it tries to crackdown with "Rule 56".

Bottle clubs said they will appeal the top state court rule which uholds the U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

Short Snorts

- William Steger of Tyler announced his candidacy for re-election as State Republican chairman at the Sept. 15 state convention in Dallas.

CROSSROADS REPORT

My bellyachious neighbor says that strikes by various bunches of workers and alleged workers has hurt millions of folks who never did the strikers any harm.

But he says his main objection to all of this striking business is that it's nearly always the wrong people who walk off their jobs.

His theory is that striking would be laudable and beneficial to mankind if the people going out on strike were the TV news manglers, the Form 1040 simplifiers, and our varoom spenders in Congress.

Some mail order people are said to be shipping stuff to folks who didn't order it, and demanding they pay for it or get a black mark on their credit rating.

My scorned-sucker neighbor says nobody has ever sent him any merchandise he didn't order, but if they did and he didn't want to pay for it, he wouldn't worry about his credit rating.

Says he has come to the conclusion that having an over-rated credit rating is what has brought on most of his and the government's main problems.

Annual Langley Reunion Draws 166 Relatives, Friends from 10 States

By Ida Langley Stuckey

The 1970 session of the Langley Reunion was held Friday through Sunday, August 14, 15 and 16 at the Langley Reunion Grounds 11 miles west of Wellington. The reunion brought together 127 relatives and there were 39 friends attending.

It was a big success, everyone seemed to enjoy every minute of the three days, but we are sorry, folk, that we failed to bring the usual downpour of rain, but forgive us this time and we will try harder next year.

The activities at the reunion were about the same with the exception we did add three new games: horseshoe pitching, croquet and volleyball, and I must say the horseshoe pitching went over with a bang. We'll have to expand on that next year. And of course we had the usual, bridge, dominoes and wa-hoo games going, and lots and lots of visiting and picture taking. There were ten states represented: Washington, Kansas, Colorado, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas, South Dakota, Louisiana and New York.

We failed to get a list of the new additions to the family this year, but right here at home, Pam Langley was married to Carey Don Neeley of Quail; and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lowe of Wellington are the parents of a new daughter, Michelle.

The business meeting was held on Saturday night. John Barnhart of Garland turned in his resignation as president, and Dan Langley of Wellington was elected to serve for the coming year. Loyd Langley of Quail was retained as secretary and treasurer, and Jim Langley of Wellington was elected as the new trustee. We had our song service after the business meeting, and it lasted until alomst midnight.

Nancy Sikes Weds David Walker in Bethany College Chapel August 15

Wedding vows were recited at four-thirty Saturday afternoon, August 15, by Miss Nancy Sikes and David Leon Walker, both students in Bethany Nazarene College. The ceremony took place in the Prayer Chapel on the campus of the college.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sikes of 1207 Amarillo Street, and Mr. and Mrs. David Walker, 803 Sims, Jonesboro, Arkansas.

The Reverend Bob Bilyeu, a student in Bethany Nazarene College, officiated, and wedding music was presented by Miss Cathy Wilson, vocalist, and Miss Peggy Breeden, organist. Both are from Oklahoma City.

Decorating the chapel altar were an arrangement of white and yellow gladioli in a pedestal basket, with tapers in spiral candelabras at the sides. Satin bows marked the pews.

Mr. Sikes gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin with lace panels in empire style. Seed pearls defined the high neckline and waist, and the organza bishop sleeves were accented with lace flower appliques. These motifs were repeated on the double veil, attached to a satin headpiece, which swept to chapel length. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis encircling an orchid.

Mrs. Bill Walsh of Dickens was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. James D. Crooks, Jr., of College Station, sister of the bride, and Miss Jacqueline King.

Their floor-length crepe dresses were of empire style, with puff sleeves. The honor attendant wore yellow and the bridesmaids pale green. Their headpieces were of double bows and they carried nosegays of daisies.

Dennis Heilwege of Bethany, Oklahoma, was the best man, and ushers were James D. Crooks, Jr., of College Station, brother-in-law of the bride, and Lonnie Kelley of Bethany.

Mr. and Mrs. Sikes hosted the reception given after the ceremony in the religion building of the college.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth, and the centerpiece was a long arrangement of yellow daisies, with yellow tapers in crystal holders. Crystal appointments were used.

Guests were served by Miss June Walker and Miss Susan Walker of Jonesboro, Arkansas, sisters of the bridegroom.

Miss Glenda Kiker registered the guests at both the wedding and reception.

The bridal couple also exchanged gifts at the reception, and presented gifts to their attendants.

After their wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 4306½ North College Street, Bethany, Oklahoma. The bride, a graduate of Wellington High School, is majoring in religious education. The bridegroom was graduated from Jonesboro High School and is a junior English major at Bethany Nazarene College.

On Friday evening, August 14, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at the rehearsal dinner given at Adaiks Tropical Cafeteria, Oklahoma City.

Auxiliary to Name President

A meeting of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary has been called for Friday, August 28, to elect a president for the coming year.

The meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m. in the Hospital Staff Room.

Later the members will complete plans for the Auxiliary's part in the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit here September 1.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jeffrey, Sr., and sons, Allen and Bill Havens, were in Cloudcroft, N. M., over the week end of Aug. 15 to attend a family reunion. Her mother, Mrs. Ora Trotter, returned with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Killian left Monday for Lubbock where both will attend Texas Tech University this year.

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Why does the Catholic Church condemn astrology?

She condemns it as a pagan superstition, which leads to the denial of Divine Providence. St. Augustine condemns it strongly in the "City of God," and St. Thomas writes: "If anyone applies the observation of the stars in order to foreknow casual or fortuitous events, or to know with certitude future human actions, his conduct is based on a false and vain opinion.

Why does the Catholic Church forbid cremation?

Not because it is evil of itself, but because it goes counter to the Jewish and Christian tradition, and was initiated by anti-Christians with the express purpose of destroying belief in the immortality of the soul and the resurrection of the body.

EMERGENCY FUND

Do you live from paycheck to paycheck?

Many modern Americans are able to see no further than the next paycheck. Then, when an emergency arises, they have nothing to rely on. There is a simple solution to this common problem.

The first thing to do when you receive your paycheck is to go to the bank and deposit some in a savings account. Then forget about it. Most people never miss it. You don't have to put much in—five dollars a week will add up quickly. But you'll have the extra money on hand if you should need it suddenly.

The next thing to do is shop wisely. Try not to buy on time, especially if you already have current bills that have to be handled every month.

Leon White, Hollis Leader, Dies Aug. 19

J. Leon White, 60, a business and civic leader in Hollis for many years, died at his home at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 19. Although he had a serious heart condition, his death was unexpected at this time.

Mr. White was reared in Wellington, the son of Mrs. J. J. White and the late Mr. White. He graduated from high school here.

After his marriage to Miss Wynnie Mae Hill of Dodson on Dec. 31, 1930, he went to that town to be associated with Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hill in the Hill Department Store.

He moved to Hollis when the business was transferred. He never severed his association with the store, although for several years he owned and operated a ready-to-wear business in Vernon.

As a leader in his town's business world, Mr. White held many offices of community leadership. He was a member of and deacon in First Baptist Church, Hollis, and a veteran of World War II.

Funeral services were conducted at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 22 in First Baptist Church at Hollis, with the Rev. Bob Worley, pastor, officiating.

Pallbearers were Leroy Kirkland, Truett Holland, Dewey Caswell, Herschel Tabor, Sherman Spradlin and Carl Fox.

Burial was in Dodson Cemetery under the direction of the Barnett-Tims Funeral Service.

Survivors are his wife; four sons, the Rev. James L. White, a missionary in Nairobi, Kenya, East Africa; Keith White and Kenneth White of Irving; and John M. White, a student in Baylor University, Waco; his mother, Mrs. J. J. White of Wellington; a sister, Miss Doris White of Wellington; and three brothers: Raymond L. White of Dallas; Roy W. White of McHenry, Ill.; W. A. (Bill) White of Yukon, Okla. There are eight grandchildren.

Waterspouts in Colorado Reported

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Kitchens and Mrs. Iva Hollingsworth returned to Wellington last-week after spending two weeks in Colorado.

Near Evergreen Lake, 28 miles southwest of Denver, they were in a waterspout and sat by the side of the road while it rained and hailed for 40 minutes.

There were ten rock and mud slides in 12 miles from where they were parked, Mr. Kitchens said. He reported extremely hot weather during the time they were in Colorado, with 86 being the coolest and 98 the hottest while they were there.

TAPS SUPPORTER

Governor Preston Smith (left) believes in buying and using Texas Agricultural Products and believes in promoting those products. Here he affixes a TAP (Texas Agricultural Products) sticker to his official state car while Bill Pieratt, deputy commissioner of the Texas Department of Agriculture, looks on. The Texas Department of Agriculture initiated TAP in 1968 to promote Texas foods and fibers.

Certification for Food Stamp Program Continues in County

Collingsworth County families interested in the Food Stamp Program were reminded they should contact Mrs. Helen Phelps, the local caseworker with the Texas Department of Public Welfare.

She is at the county courthouse in Wellington on Tuesday of each week, reports Lester Woods, welfare unit supervisor, Pampa. The program opened in Collingsworth County on Aug. 18.

Issuance of food stamps will be made on Tuesday of the first full week of each month and again during the third week.

In general, families eligible for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp Program include those who work for low wages, or receive public assistance or a small pension check, and who cook food at home. Food stamps cannot be used to pay for meals at restaurants, and are not good for imported foods or non-food items, such as soap, paper goods and liquor.

Food stamps give low-income families more food-buying power. For example, a family of four with an income of $155 a month will pay $42 each month and receive food coupons worth $106. The difference is made up by "bonus" coupons paid for by federal funds.

Food stamps are used just like money at local groceries authorized by USDA's Food and Nutrition Service to accept them, and are redeemed at cooperating banks through the Federal Reserve System.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Maintaining discipline in any school is a problem that requires firmness, understanding and cooperation on the part of school officials, teachers, parents and students. It is not easy to find a workable solution in a school of any size at any time. Now it is much more difficult due to outside regulations confronting school officials. We are fortunate that things run as smoothly as they do in the Wellington schools.

★ ★ ★

Canyon is no longer a medium sized university and county seat town nestling peacefully near the beginning of the majestic Palo Duro Canyon. It has also become a suburb of Amarillo and with the change have come problems similar to those in metropolitan schools. Last week the Canyon School Board approved rules and regulations concerning student dress, disruptions, traffic, parking, hair styles, etc. The regulations were spelled out in such detail that they required six single spaced pages to contain the information.

★ ★ ★

The rules laid down by the Canyon officials seem solid and sensible enough. It is startling to read, however, the ones forbidding riots, sit-ins, walkouts, and blocking entrances. Another rule forbids the distribution of auditory or visual materials without the express permission of the principal or the superintendent. These regulations may be simply precautions taken in advance; but there must have been conditions or happenings in the past that caused the school officials to consider them necessary.

★ ★ ★

People have been talking about Rev. Ronald Crosley's letter that was published in The Leader last week. It concerned conditions in Denver including some of the problems of the schools. I will say it again—we have many things for which we can be thankful here in the friendly town of Wellington.

★ ★ ★

Merchants around the square and a block in every direction were pleased with the neatly swept streets that greeted the ex-students when they held their reunion here. Some of them are asking, however, why they can't be swept every week. Right now I will be pleased if they are that clean for the Collingsworth Free Fair. It is nearer than you might think.

★ ★ ★

Problems arising from handling the medicare program threaten to close 170 hospitals in Texas, according to Gus Mutscher, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. Some of these are no farther away than Clarendon and Matador. This is one of the real dangers confronting the future of county seat towns. Without health services such towns serving rural communities cannot continue to prosper. We should be thankful that we have St. Joseph's.

Cecil Waggoner in The Claude News:

"Much to their sorrow, many boys pass up typing in high school only to discover that it is a basic skill badly needed by nearly everyone once they settle into an occupation. It is a must if you plan to go to college ... but the advantage is just as great in other endeavors.

If I were a high school boy today I would attempt to include typing in my schedule and carry through the second year if possible. It is much easier to develop the skill at high school age than later on.

Of course, high school girls should take advantage of the courses, too, but they usually do.

There have been many students, both boys and girls, who have pounded their way through college on a typewriter. There are just as many who have bettered themselves because of the skill, even though they did not go to college. And I know a number of old boys who fought World War II with a typewriter.

Think it over."

Back to the Canyon school regulations: One rule says: "mini skirts and school dresses should be conservative." When it came time to make that decision would also be the time that I would go all out for more civil rights for women if I were the school principal. I would ask that some female teacher be appointed principle immediately.

★ ★ ★

I am still in favor of the mini skirt as compared to the hideous midi; but I don't want to be an official judge.

Mrs. Sessions Heads Children, Youth Group

AUSTIN.—County Judge Zook Thomas of Collingsworth County has appointed Mrs. Jimmie Sessions as chairman of the County Committee on Children and Youth.

Judge Thomas acted in response to a request by Walter Richter, chairman of Governor Preston Smith's statewide steering committee on children and youth.

The Collingsworth County Committee is intended to give both youth (up to age 24) and adults alike an opportunity to contribute their ideas on the problems of children and youth —and their suggestions for solving them.

These ideas on problems and proposed solutions may be expressed by County Committee delegates in writing to the Governor's Steering Committee in Austin, Drawer P. Capitol Station, Austin Texas 78711) or voiced in person at the Governor's Conference on Children and Youth Nov. 2-4 in Austin, Richter said.

With an expected attendance of some 600 persons equally divided between youths and adults, the Governor's Conference is intended to develop "input" of information and ideas from Texas into two national conferences:

—The White House Conference on Children (0-13), scheduled Dec. 13-18 in Washington;

—The White House Conference on Youth (14-24), now set for February, 1971, instead of next June as previously announced.

Cub Parents Clean Hut in Ellison Park

Parents of Cub Scouts in three dens met Tuesday evening, Aug. 25, to clean the Scout Hut in Ellison Park.

The building has been unused since the interior was damaged by fire several years ago.

Mrs. Don Van Pelt said the City has taken the responsibility of having the hut rewired and the gas lines checked, and has given its permission for the Cub Dens to use it. Two of these groups plan to hold regular meetings there.

This is the beginning of Scout Roundup month and several new dens are needed if adult leaders can be secured.

"There are lots of little boys who would love to do Cubbing if we had some more parents," Mrs. Van Pelt said.

All presently organized dens are full, she added.

Cubbing is for boys 8 through 10 years, and any parents interested are urged to contact Bill Anders, Cubmaster, or one of the den mothers, Mrs. Van Pelt, Mrs. B. K. Hall or Mrs. Cal Hurst.

Duo Attends Biennial Reunion of Baumgardners in Virginia

Mrs. Eva Baumgardner and Mrs. Olean Leggitt returned recently from Wythesville, Virginia, where they attended the third biennial reunion of the Baumgardner family.

Wytheville, in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Southwestern Virginia, is the birthplace of Joseph Fisher Baumgardner, the father of the late Joe Baumgardner, the late Travis Baumgardner, and Mrs. Leggitt.

Two outstanding features of the reunion were a pilgrimage to the old Baumgardner home place and a talk by Dr. Marion Baumgardner of Purdue University about his quest for Baumgardner ancestry.

After three days of meeting "kissin' cousins" by the dozens, the group of approximately one hundred persons representing eight states, departed for their homes, having selected the Land Between the Lakes in Western Kentucky as the site of the next reunion.

On their way home, Mrs. Leggitt and Mrs. Baumgardner drove through Cumberland Gap to Pineville, Kentucky, where they saw the outdoor drama, "The Book of Job".
