ISD trustees call for May election

Parker will not file for 3rd term

Snyder ISD board of trustees set May 3 as election day for two places on the school board and it will have a new look as two-term board member Geraldine Parker is not going to file for re-election.

The terms of Place 2 representative Parker and Place 3 representative Richard Chambers will be expiring.

Chambers said he expected to file for a new term Monday.

Parker, who will be completing six years on the board when her term expires this spring, said following Thursday night's board meeting that she was particularly proud of the working relation between the board and the administration.

"I also have the upmost respect for this administration and the entire staff of the district," said Parker.

Besides setting the date for the trustee election, board members approved one-year extensions on adminisitrators' contracts to include the assistant superintendent, business manager and director of curriculum.

All campus principals and assistant principals received extensions as did the director of special programs, athletic director/head football coach and the director of maintenance and transportation.

The contracts will expire June 30, 1999.

Trustees formalized the hiring of Sandra Wells who will teach half-time at West and Northeast Elementaries. Wells will serve as a bilingual resource teacher as well as a gifted and talented teacher for kindergarten and first grade.

In one other action item, the trustees approved a bid for three personal computers in the amount of $5,097 from Bullard's Computer Solutions. Other bids received included $5,149.50 from B&B Computer Sales of Sweetwater, $5,175 from Computex of Brownwood and $7,259 from OIV Systems of Fort Worth.

Trustees also approved the second reading of the update of several local policies and the first reading of other policy revisions as necessitated by Senate Bill 1.

Supt. Gayle Lomax updated the board on pending legislative action and and made note that all trustees have exceeded the number of training hours as required by law.

Board president Charles Anderson presided and board members in attendance included Parker, Chambers, Luann Burleson, Mark McCormick and Janet Stribling. Glenn Clarady was absent.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

The Rotan Advance reports on a proposal for elections that we hope never comes to Scurry County.

The Fisher County Hospital board plans to ask the state legislature for authority to conduct cumulative voting for hospital board members.

All members would be elected at large. If three board positions are up for election, then a voter could cast all three of his votes for one candidate.

It may be legal, but as a wise old codger once said, "It don't seem right."

In DeLeon, a former police chief has settled for $104,000 after the city council violated the open meeting law when it convened for the purpose of terminating the chief.

The fired chief successfully argued that the city's posted notice of the meeting in which he was terminated was in violation because it did not name him or the position of police chief as the item to be discussed.

It's happening all over.

The Seminole Sentinel reports that the approved merger of Southwestern Public Service with Public Service of Colorado will result in the closure of the Seminole office. Also eight employees will lose their jobs.

The Lamesa Press-Reporter noted that correctional officers at the Preston Smith unit there used tear gas last week to quell a fight involving some 53 inmates.

Seven inmates required medical attention. Warden James Black, who helped open the Price Daniel unit as a lieutenant in 1977, said: "There were lots of cuts...nothing major. It was a good old fist fight for the most part." No employees were injured.

The Andrews County News reports that the winner of $158,320 Cash 5 ticket made his purchase at the E-Z Mart. The convenience store officials said the holder of the ticket did not want to be identified.

Hopefuly, it was an old classmate.

Airlines, union still negotiating

Mediator says talks going on, but still 'major problems'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal mediator today reported progress in talks between American Airlines and its pilots union but warned that "major problems" remain to be resolved before a midnight strike deadline.

Kenneth Hipp, the chief federal mediator, said the two sides have worked around the clock and would continue meeting throughout the day.

"We are somewhat more encouraged," he told reporters. But, he added, "There are major problems that have to be resolved between now and midnight."

American, which already canceled most overseas flights to avoid stranding planes on foreign soil, canceled about a dozen domestic flights today.

Travelers said they were happy to be flying before the possible strike.

"As long as we get home, we'll be happy," said Joyce Trzaska of Dix Hills, N.Y., waiting to board a flight at Miami International.

"We're just glad they didn't move up the strike time," said Maxwell Henry, who was heading home to St. Croix.

Both sides in the negotiations started the day reporting little progress but said they would keep trying.

"We'll be at this until the last possible minute," Michael Cronin, speaking for the pilots, said on ABC's "Good Morning America."

"There's no progress to report," said Tim Smith, an American Airlines spokesman. "We're certainly not giving up. No one is on either side."

Airline and pilots representatives and federal mediators began to talk-around-the-clock Thursday night with just hours left in their scheduled negotiations.

Both sides said they were willing to find middle ground, as President Clinton urged them to, without shutting down the airline.

"We have a long way to go and a short time to do it in," said the airline's president, Donald Carty.

Commission settles lawsuit with Linares

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Lottery Commission this morning settled a lawsuit filed by former executive director Nora Linares that provides her no financial compensation but declares she did nothing wrong before she was fired.

The three-member panel unanimously approved the deal, which does not allow her to refile her lawsuit against the commission. She does not get her job back.

Ms. Linares and her attorneys have concluded that she was damaged by lottery operator GTECH and "an appropriate cause of action for damages should be asserted against GTECH," the settlement states.

Neither she nor her lawyers were present. Reached at home this morning, Ms. Linares said she couldn't discuss the deal, but said: "I'm glad to have my name back."

Ms. Linares was fired from her $82,867-a-year job as executive director on Jan. 7. That came after months of controversy surrounding a contract between a close friend of Ms. Linares' and GTECH, the lottery's main contractor.

Ms. Linares said she didn't know about the contract until just before it became public. But after weeks of related questions, the commission said Ms. Linares could no longer be effective as executive director, and fired her.

Before being fired, Ms. Linares sued the commission. She said the board was illegally interfering with her day-to-day work as executive director and illegally imposed a gag order against her speaking to the media.

After being fired, Ms. Linares amended her lawsuit, claiming wrongful dismissal. She asked for her job back and back pay.

Sources familiar with the situation said the settlement was negotiated during a weekend meeting with representatives from the Texas attorney general's office.

President's Day prompts closings

County and federal offices will be closed Monday in recognition of President's Day.

Snyder ISD and Western Texas College staff and students will also enjoy a holiday. Local financial institutions will be closed.

County buildings to be closed Monday include the courthouse, library and health unit.

Mail will not be delivered on routes that day, but will be placed in boxes at the post office.

President's Day will not be a holiday for city employees or employees and students within Ira and Hermleigh school districts.

Nunsense to replace Abner for theatre's spring musical

Citing "casting difficulties," the Ritz Community Theatre announced that it will stage "Nunsense" instead of "Lil Abner" for its spring musical.

Performance dates are April 10-14 and April 17-20.

"Nunsense" was the winner of four 1986 Outer Critics Circle Awards, including Best Off-Broadway Musical. It has been performed many times since then by both professional and amateur groups.

The television special starred Rue McClanahan of the Golden Girls fame as Mother Superior.

Sam Robertson will be the director of the local production. The cast is comprised of Emily Hataway as Mother Superior, Doylene Gilliland as Sister Mary Hubert, Sue Pulattie as Sister Mary Amnesia, Melinda Early as Sister Mary Robert Anne and Elizabeth Brown as Sister Mary Leo.

The spoof of life in the convent of the Little Sisters of Hoboken is staged as a talent show fund-raiser to raise money to bury sisters accidently poisoned by the convent cook, Julia, Child of God.

Pop singer and wife have son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The King of Pop has an heir.

Michael Jackson became a father early Thursday when his wife, Deborah Rowe Jackson, gave birth to a boy.

The whirling dervish of pop music was in the delivery room for the arrival of the Glove Child — whose name, weight and length weren't revealed.

Elizabeth Taylor, the child's godmother, had planned to be there. But she came down with the flu and couldn't participate, a source told The Associated Press.

The Jackson camp was mum about the arrival, which took place about 1 a.m. at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center. A hospital source, speaking on condition of anonymity, confirmed the birth to the AP. Mrs. Jackson delivered without complications, the source said, adding: "Everyone's OK and healthy."

Hospital spokesman Ron Wise said the Jacksons, with their newborn, left the hospital about 8 a.m., destination unknown.

Jackson, 38, announced in November that Mrs. Jackson, a 37-year-old nurse who worked with his dermatologist, was six months pregnant with his child. They wed later that month. Jackson and his first wife, Lisa Marie Presley, divorced earlier last year.

A photo of the Jacksons and son would fetch big bucks from the tabloids.

9 prison workers disciplined

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A maintenance supervisor will be fired, his boss will be demoted and another manager faces a 30-day suspension in the wake of the escape of six inmates from a state prison, officials said Thursday.

Six other workers also will be disciplined as a result of the escape, said Corrections Department spokesman Roger Baumgarten.

The inmates who broke out of the maximum security State Correctional Institution at Pittsburgh on Jan. 8 were all captured and have been charged with escape and criminal conspiracy. Two have pleaded not guilty, and the other four were in custody in Houston, fighting extradition to Pennsylvania.

A police investigation has ended, but an internal probe by corrections officials continues. In addition to ordering a laundry list of improvements, Commissioner Martin Horn demoted and transferred Superintendent Gregory White and one of his deputies two weeks ago. Another deputy retired.

Now, Baumgarten said, maintenance manager David Schultz will be fired effective Friday.

Schultz's boss, James Spagnoletti, will be demoted to a carpentry position, and maintenance manager John Murphy will be suspended without pay, Baumgarten said.

In a grand slam too

By Phillip Alder

You have a trump suit of the singleton nine opposite A-K-Q-10-6-3. How do you play the suit for no loser?

Right — you cash the top honors. The textbook tells us that everything will be rosy 52 percent of the time. But that is only when you are sitting in an isolation tank, away from the real world of the bridge table.

This deal occurred during the women's match between China and Denmark in last year's World Team Olympiad.

The Chinese bid badly to reach only three no-trump, which was made with an overtrick. The Danes stretched all the way to seven clubs.

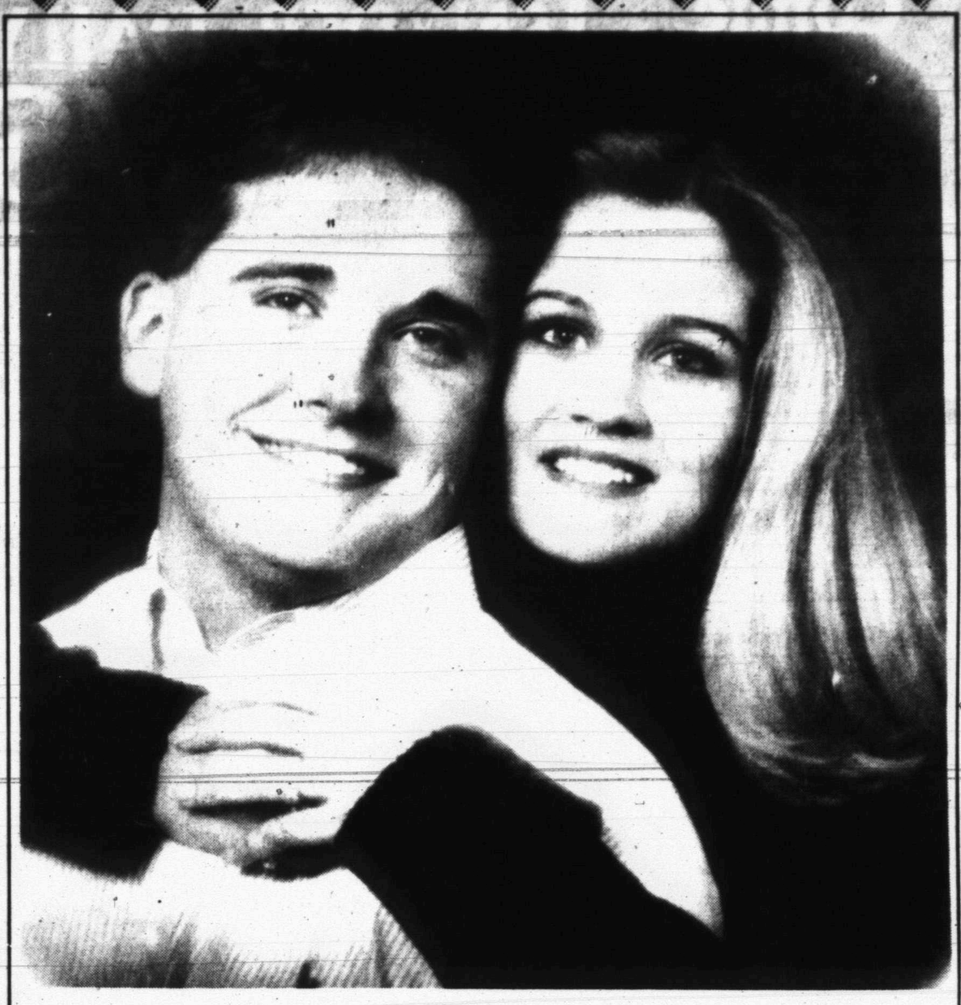

After winning the first trick with dummy's diamond ace, Bettina Kalkerup decided to believe West's weak jump overcall. At trick two in a grand slam, she ran dummy's club nine! Now came a spade to the ace followed by the club ace, revealing the bad break. Declarer continued with the spade king and dummy's three top hearts, discarding the diamond jack from hand. A heart ruff in hand was followed by a spade to dummy's queen. It was trick 11, the lead was in the dummy, and declarer had left the K-Q-10 of clubs. A card was led and Kalkerup overruffed East to wrap up her grand slam.

"Thank you, West" (or whatever it is in Danish) probably went through Kalkerup's mind.

You shouldn't make a descriptive bid on a weak hand in the middle of an auction unless you are confident that either you will derail the opponents' bidding or you will become the declaring side.

Dear Abby

Rules of Love Are Mandatory On This Day for Sweethearts

DEAR READERS: A Happy Valentine's Day to one and all! There may be snowdrifts on the ground or rain clouds in the forecast, but regardless of what the weatherman says, there is sunshine and springtime in our hearts.

Years ago, in celebration of Valentine's Day, I decided to write my own Ten Commandments, the Ten Commandments of Love. Actually, at the time I was so enthusiastic that I wrote 20 — one set for men and another for women. But then I received a letter from Mandy Stillman, a lawyer from Milwaukee, insisting that there be only one set of commandments.

She was right, of course. And here they are for your review:

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OF LOVE

• Put your spouse before your mother, your father, your son and your daughter. Your mate is your lifelong companion.

• Do not abuse your body with excessive food, tobacco, drink, or any foreign substance that goes into your arm or up your nose.

• Remember that cleanliness is a virtue.

• Willingly share all of your worldly goods with your mate.

• Do not forget to say, "I love you." Even though your love may be constant, your spouse needs to hear those cherished words often.

• Remember that the approval of your spouse is worth far more than the adoring glances of a hundred strangers, so be true and forsake all others.

• Permit neither your business nor your hobby to make you a stranger to your children. The most precious gift a parent can give is time.

• Keep your home in good repair, because out of it come the joys of old age (not to mention its resale value).

• Forgive with grace, because who among us does not need to be forgiven?

• Honor the Lord your God every day of your life, and your children will grow up and bless you.

Today, be a sweetheart. Call someone you love and say, "I love you." (Make two or three calls; who says you can't love more than one person — in different ways, of course.)

Go through your closets and give all those clothes you've been saving until you lose 10 pounds to your favorite charity. Call someone who's lonely and say, "I'm thinking of you." Or, better yet, say, "I'll be over tomorrow to take you to lunch — or to run some errands for you — or to give you a ride."

Visit a sick friend. Say a prayer. Donate some blood. Adopt a pet. Will your eyes, your kidneys and all your usable organs to someone who can use them after you're gone. Forgive an enemy. Hug your teen-ager. Write a fan letter. Listen to a bore. Pay your doctor. Tell your parents you think they're wonderful. Spay your dog. Neuter your cat. Quit smoking. Drive carefully. If you're walking, watch where you're going.

And don't wait until next year to be a sweetheart again.

LOVE, ABBY

DEAR ABBY: The letter about church bulletin bloopers in a recent column reminded me of a funny thing that happened in our church some time ago. It made me glad that I had learned to speak our language by rote as a child. Just imagine the agony foreign-born adults must undergo in learning how to speak English, with all the inconsistencies in pronouncing words with similar spellings — with "ough" in them, for example.

In this instance, a priest visiting from India was saying Mass, and typically the priest reads the Gospel aloud. This Gospel reading was about a woman who was preparing to bake bread when Jesus came to visit. Naturally, she suspended her preparations then, and the priest continued to read "... she put her 'duff' on the table."

I don't think the priest ever understood why that was greeted with such laughter.

Unusual weddings slated

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Goin' to the chapel may be the norm for most couples getting married on Valentine's Day. But hey, this is Las Vegas.

Couples will say "I do" today in places ranging from the top of a 1,149-foot tower to a 6-foot-deep water tank.

And with Valentine's Day falling on a Friday and Washington's Birthday being celebrated on Monday, Las Vegas is expecting its busiest wedding weekend in years.

The Clark County Marriage License Bureau will issue licenses around the clock beginning this morning, with couples fanning out to 50 chapels, from downtown's Glitter Gulch to some of the Strip's top hotels.

"Valentine's Day is always our busiest day," license bureau supervisor Cheryl Vernon said. "Since it's on a Friday this year, we expect it will be much heavier. We're advising people to come early and expect long lines."

The couples are drawn by the most liberal marriage laws in the country — no blood test or waiting period required for the $35 license. Nevada had the highest marriage and divorce rates in 1994, the Census Bureau said.

South Plains drops Westerners, 79-50

By Jamie Sharp
Sports Editor

The Western Texas College Lady Westerners could not end their eight-game losing streak Thursday night, falling 79-50 to 14th-ranked South Plains.

The loss plunged WTC to 2-12 in conference play and 4-23 for the season. South Plains improved to 12-2 in the conference and 23-2 for the season.

"South Plains came out and played like this game meant everything to them." said coach Anthony Portley. "They put on a clinic in the first half."

The fact that South Plains played so well in the first half was compounded by WTC's poor shooting. WTC hit only 35 per cent in the first half.

Celestine Otuoro started it off for the Lady Westerners with a baseline jumper, giving WTC its first and only lead of the game. South Plains' Christy Kirkland banged a three at the 18:30 mark to put South Plains up for good at 5-2.

The Lady Texans scored five more points before Otuoro could answer with a jumper in the lane with 15:31 remaining.

WTC went ice-cold for the next six minutes before Shawna McKee hit a free throw at the 9:20 mark to up the score to 22-5.

The Lady Westerners finally hit double figures when Otuoro knocked down a jumper to bring the score to 32-10.

After getting only two baskets in the first 15 minutes, WTC sank five in the remaining five minutes. Angelica Brooks, Freda McKnight and Kelley Willson put in jumpers, while Shanna Gathright banged a trey to up the score to 43-19 at halftime.

"We played better in the second half, but we got down too much in the first to come back." Portley said.

The Lady Westerners had their chances in the second, firing 28 attempts, but WTC could only convert seven of them for 25 percent.

WTC went scoreless for the first three minutes , allowing South Plains to take a 49-19 lead before McKnight canned a jumper to up the score to 49-21 with 16 minutes remaining.

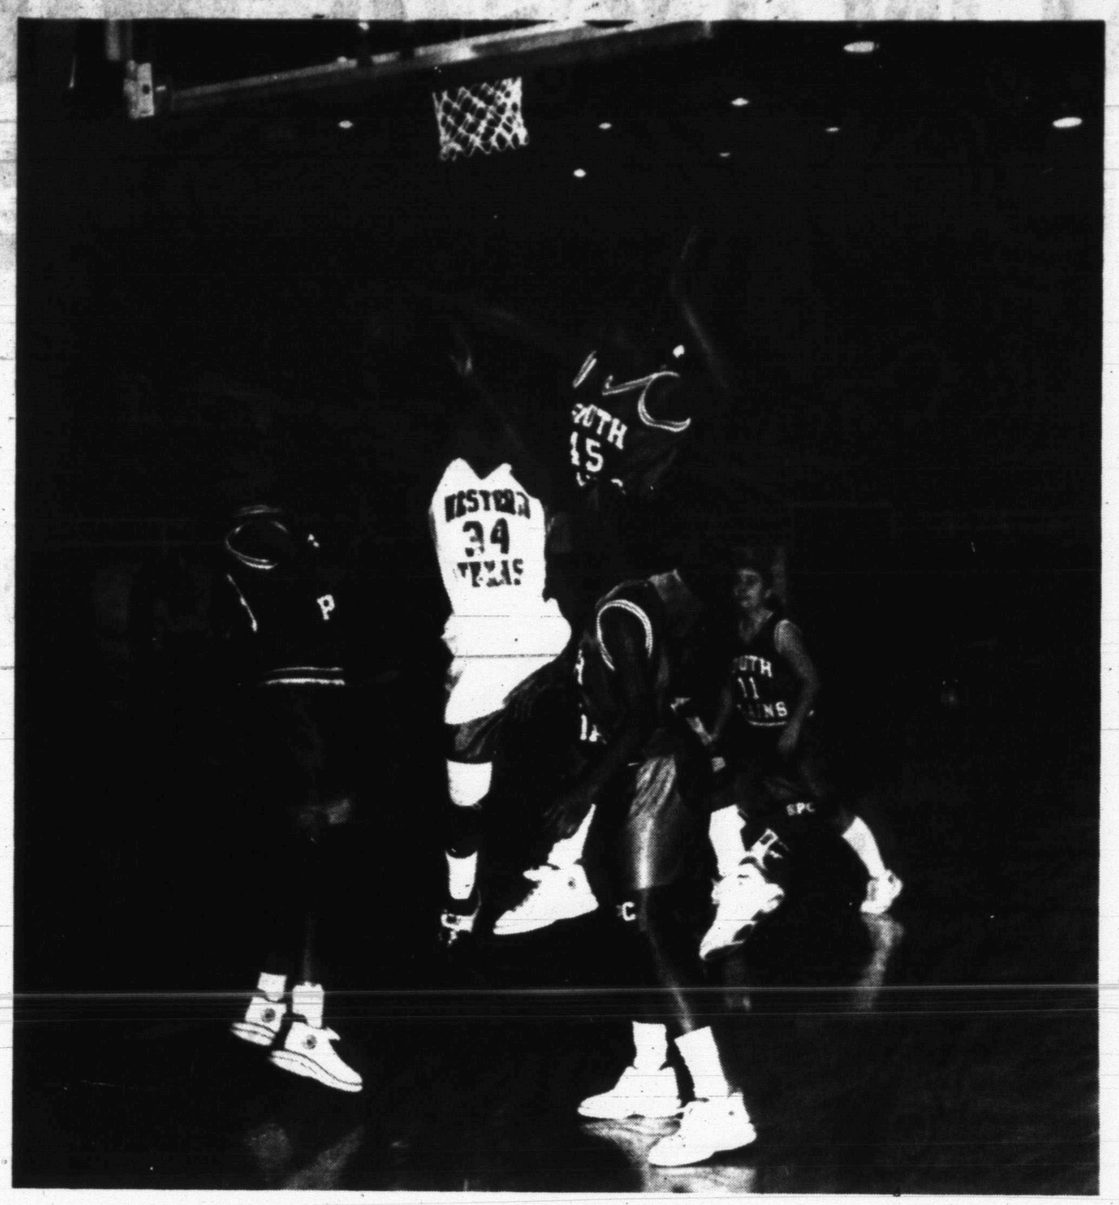

WTC closed the scoring gap when Gathright hit a trey with 7:10 ticks left, bringing the score to 64-36.

In the closing minutes of the game, the Lady Westerners knocked down 14 points while South Plains could only hit for 15, but it was good enough for the Lady Texans to walk away with the win.

Otuoro finished the night with 14 to lead the Lady Westerners. McKee knocked down 10, and Gathright bagged 7. Jeffrey added 6, while Brooks hit for 5. McKnight contributed 4 and Willson nailed 3. Tonelle Hanna rounded out the Westerner scoring with 1.

South Plains' Angie Braziel was game high with 22, and she was followed by Aleah Johnson with 11.

Next up for the Lady Westerners are the non-conference Clarendon College Lady Bulldogs Saturday. Tip-off is set for 6 p.m. in Clarendon.

Robert Lee finished its District 9A schedule with a 4-2 tally, and a 19-9 season mark.

Tip-off is set for 7 p.m. in the Sweetwater High School gym. A car caravan to the game will depart HHS at 5:30 p.m.

Albert Belle will probably get one year probation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Albert Belle has been compared to Babe Ruth for his power and Ty Cobb for his temper.

If major league baseball determines Belle did not bet on baseball, he will be spared a comparison to a great hitter who didn't get to the Hall of Fame — Pete Rose.

Belle probably will get at most one year's probation if major league officials determine he did not gamble on baseball.

Baseball's security head is investigating Belle's testimony that he gambled on pro football, college basketball and golf games with friends, a high-ranking baseball official said Thursday on the condition he not be identified.

Several baseball officials likened the situation to that of Len Dykstra, the Philadelphia outfielder who was placed on probation for one year by then-commissioner Fay Vincent in 1991 after testifying about taking part in high-stakes poker games.

A source close to acting commissioner Bud Selig, who spoke on the condition he not be identified, said baseball wants to make sure Belle did not bet on his own sport. If baseball determines Belle didn't, the sport wouldn't impose a penalty more severe than probation, the official said.

Belle, the game's highest-paid player at $11 million per season, said under oath he lost as much as $40,000 gambling on sports, prompting baseball security head Kevin Hallinan to investigate.

"Major league baseball will look into the situation regarding the alleged gambling of Albert Belle, as it does with any issue," major league spokesman Rich Levin said. "Any media report that characterizes what action major league baseball will take, if any, is completely false."

Cleveland Indians general manager John Hart said Thursday that Hallinan warned him in March 1996 about Belle's possible involvement in gambling.

"We got a heads-up that they were looking into it," said Hart, in Winter Haven, Fla., for spring training. "They said they would handle it at their end. We didn't hear anything else from them."

Belle joined the Chicago White Sox from the Indians after last season, signing a $55 million, five-year contract.

"There is no indication that Albert bet on baseball games," White Sox chairman Jerry Reinsdorf told the Chicago Tribune.

Shaquille O'Neal out for up to 10 weeks

ENGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Shaquille O'Neal's return to the Los Angeles Lakers lineup lasted less than a quarter. Now, it appears they'll be fortunate to have their $120 million man for the playoffs.

O'Neal, the NBA's third-leading scorer and fourth-leading rebounder, sustained a serious injury to his left knee on Wednesday in the opening minutes of a 100-84 victory at Minnesota. On Thursday, the news was bad — Shaq's out 8-10 weeks.

"With or without Shaq, I think that when we play, we're similar to a Broadway play with Elden being the understudy," Lakers coach Del Harris said after a 132-117 win over Denver on Thursday night. "We continue with the system we've established here this year."

Elden Campbell filled in well as an understudy against the Nuggets, and on Feb. 5, he had a career-high 34 points and 14 rebounds in a 106-90 win over the Chicago Bulls.

But how he'll fare on a daily basis is a big question for the Lakers, who have the best record in the Western Conference.

"The play goes on, and everybody knows their own roles, and it fits in really well," Harris said. "We've done that the last three games without Shaq."

The injury occurred as O'Neal was returning for first time since injuring his right knee 10 days earlier. He missed two games as well as last Sunday's All-Star game in Cleveland.

O'Neal's injury was diagnosed by team doctor Stephen Lombardo of the Kerlan-Jobe Medical Group in Inglewood following an examination, X-rays and MRI tests.

The Lakers said O'Neal, one of the NBA's dominant big men at 7-foot-1 and 300-plus pounds, suffered a hyperextension injury, with damage including a torn capsule, a fractured bone and a partial ligament tear.

No surgery will be necessary, the team added, but O'Neal will wear a splint for 2-3 weeks, after which he will begin rehabilitation.

Campbell, moving over from his forward spot, had 19 points, five rebounds and four blocked shots at Denver.

"Everybody knew they had to pick it up," Campbell said. "We played without him with good success, but it's just one game.

"I've played center before, so I felt pretty comfortable down there. It felt good, being the go-to guy, letting everybody work off me. I think I played the spot pretty good."

Rookie Travis Knight moved into the starting lineup at forward and had 13 points against Denver as the Lakers equaled the NBA's season high for a regulation game, set by the Nuggets on Jan. 20 against New Jersey.

O'Neal injured his right knee late in the third quarter of a game against Washington on Feb. 2 when he planted his foot in the lane, started to twist for a shot and banged legs with Bullets center Gheorghe Muresan.

Without O'Neal, the Lakers were beaten by the Los Angeles Clippers 106-84 at Anaheim Arena on Feb. 4, but with Campbell leading the way, they rebounded to beat the Bulls the following night at the Forum.

Take steps against IBS attacks

DEAR DR. GOTT: My life is totally disrupted by irritable bowel syndrome, with which I was diagnosed after a bevy of tests, including X-rays.

Basically, my meals seem to go right through me. I have to move my bowels as often as three times a day, sometimes without warning. I'm really embarrassed to have to stop my car in a secluded spot or rush to the bathroom if I'm visiting friends. Immodium AD seems to help, but I don't want to depend on it. Can you suggest something that will relieve my humiliation and anxiety?

DEAR READER: IBS is marked by cyclic gas, bloating and diarrhea/constipation. The syndrome is often related to stress. There is no single cure for this harmless but annoying affliction. Here is what most experts recommend:

• Avoid foods that you know, from experience, will worsen the situation. Rich or spicy edibles, alcohol, caffeine, chocolate, and greasy foods are the prime culprits, but don't affect everyone to the same degree.

• Use Metamucil or other fiber-containing products, which give more bulk to the stool, thereby lessening the tendency to get diarrhea.

• Consider stress counseling. By learning ways to cope more effectively with anxiety-producing situations, you may gain more control over bowel function.

• Ask your doctor to prescribe antispasmodic drugs, such as Donnatal. By using such medicine just before you travel or visit, you may be able to reduce the urgency of your evacuations.

• Use over-the-counter anti-diarrhea medications, such as Immodium AD, during your cycles of diarrhea. When used for a few days at a time, these products will not harm you.

• Ask your doctor for more specific advice. He may be aware of some "tricks" that could serve you well.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Irritable Bowel Syndrome." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Are futon beds hard on the back? Will they affect posture if used by teen-agers?

DEAR READER: While not everybody's cup of tea, futons are harmless. They will not affect posture or the back.

Not everyone needs a box spring and mattress but, for many folks, this sleeping arrangement is more comfortable than a futon.

1997 NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN

Defends Sheen

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A woman who accused Charlie Sheen in a lawsuit of knocking her out during an argument is trying to extort money, the actor's spokesman said.

"It's typical the price you pay for being a celebrity in today's age," publicist Jeff Ballard said Wednesday.

Brittany Ashland filed her lawsuit last week claiming Sheen slammed her onto the marble floor of his home, knocked her unconscious and opened a gash on her lip that required stitches.

Ms. Ashland, who said the two had been dating, also alleged Sheen threatened to kill her if she told anyone what happened.

Ms. Ashland "seems to be extorting my client," Ballard said.

The 31-year-old star of "Platoon" and "Wall Street" was arrested in December for investigation of assault, but he has not been charged with any crime.

Astro-graph
By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Saturday, Feb. 15, 1997

In the year ahead, it looks like you will make connections with a group you have always hoped to join. Once you're inside, you'll see it's even better than you thought.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you choose to apply yourself today, you have the ability to transform small gains into something more substantial. If you're indifferent, however, all bets are off. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $2 and SASE to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Make sure to state your zodiac sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Things could work out better for you today if you don't discuss your intentions with outsiders, especially if you get involved in something big.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Changes you would like to bring about today which you feel could usher in improvements for yourself and others are doable. Make a positive effort.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A partnership arrangement could work out extremely well today, provided you and your partner are in total accord where your primary aims are concerned.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Something propitious may unexpectedly develop for you today. It will be unique and it will be up to you to have the know-how to make it profitable.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Conditions tend to favor you today in the romance department. You and someone you already know might begin to see virtues in each other that you have overlooked.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's quite possible you could be very lucky today in transferring responsibilities to persons better equipped to handle them than you are.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do not let someone's rank or authority make you feel insignificant or subservient today. You could be quite fortunate in any dealings you have with big shots.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A well-connected acquaintance might invite you to hang out with him or her today. Clear your schedule; a fortuitous meeting with someone could take place.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Something you've been hoping for that could benefit you and your family looks like it might come about more quickly than you expect, starting today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Friends and associates could be inclined to talk to you today about topics they'll not discuss with others. This could be very revealing and helpful.

CITY OF REFUGE!

THERE WERE SIX CITIES WHERE ANYONE ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER COULD FLEE AND FIND REFUGE FROM AN AVENGER OF THE DEAD MAN! MOSES APPOINTED THREE CITIES EAST OF THE JORDAN, BEZER IN REUBEN, RAMOTH-GLEAD IN GAD, AND GOLAN IN THE TRIBE OF MANASSEH (DEUT. 4:41-43). AFTER THE CONQUEST OF CANAAN, JOSHUA, AND THE HEADS OF THE TRIBES, DESIGNATED THREE MORE--ALL ON THE WEST SIDE OF THE JORDAN--THERE WERE KEDESH IN NAPHTAL, SHECHEM IN EPHRAIM, AND KIRJATH-ARBA (HEBRON) IN THE MOUNTAIN OF JUDAH (JOSH.20:7). NO PART OF PALESTINE WAS FAR FROM A CITY OF REFUGE. SO, NO MATTER WHERE HE WAS, A SLAYER HAD A REFUGE HE COULD FLEE TO! OF COURSE, HE MIGHT BE OVERTAKEN ON THE WAY AND SLAIN BY AVENGERS OF THE DEAD MAN, BUT IF HE MADE IT TO A CITY OF REFUGE, HE WAS TAKEN IN AND RECEIVED A FAIR TRIAL! IF HE WAS GUILTY OF WILLFUL MURDER, HE WAS PUT TO DEATH, BUT IF HE HAD SLAIN A PERSON BY ACCIDENT OR IN SELF-DEFENSE, HE WAS GRANTED ASYLUM IN THE CITY. IF HE LEFT THE CITY, THE DEAD MAN'S RELATIVES MIGHT STILL KILL HIM, SO HE LEFT IT AT HIS OWN RISK. HOWEVER, ON THE DEATH OF THE HIGH PRIEST, HE WAS AT LIBERTY TO RETURN TO HIS HOME AND ENJOY THE PROTECTION OF THE AUTHORITIES(NUM. CH. 35, DEUT. CH.19, JOSH. CH.20) THE MATTER WAS BETWEEN MAN AND GOD, AND THE DEATH OF THE HIGH PRIEST, WHO REPRESENTED THE PEOPLE BEFORE GOD, CLOSED THE CASE!

Bosnian Serbs have Brcko

BRCKO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) — A foreign mediator left Brcko temporarily in the hands of Bosnian Serbs today, putting off for a year a long-term decision on who should control the hotly disputed city.

In the meantime, an international supervisor with police powers will oversee the formerly Muslim-dominated city in northwestern Bosnia that was seized by Serbs early in Bosnia's 3½-year war.

U.S. soldiers with the international peace force moved tanks, fighting vehicles and barbed wire to seven check-points on all major roads in and around Brcko today to prevent possible clashes, but none were reported.

The fate of Brcko (pronounced BR'CH-koh) was such an explosive issue that peace negotiators in Dayton, Ohio, set up an three-member arbitration panel to resolve it.

American Roberts Owen presided over the panel and announced the decision on Brcko today in Rome. The Serb and Muslim-Croat representatives on it, however, refused to sign his 43-page report.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Nicholas Burns said the United States believes the decision was a fair one.

Owen said three possible candidates for controlling the area were discussed by arbitrators — the Bosnian Serbs, the Muslim-Croat federation and the joint government of Bosnia-Herzegovina — but none was considered "sufficiently stabilized."

Illustrating the simmering tensions, a dawn explosion destroyed a Serb-owned restaurant in a Brcko suburb, slightly injuring two Serbs, said international police spokesman Andrea Angeli.

Both Serbs and the Muslim-Croat federation say the city is crucial to their survival.

Brcko sits atop a narrow corridor connecting the two halves of Serb-held territory in Bosnia. The Muslim-Croat federation wants Brcko because key transportation routes northward to the rest of Europe pass through it.

Owen said March 15, 1998, would be the deadline for a final decision on who would control the area.

Carl Bildt, who is responsible for implementing the civilian aspects of the peace agreement, said he would nominate a deputy to oversee Brcko and had asked the United States to propose candidates.

Inmates' co-pay studied

AUSTIN (AP) — State prison inmates, who average 28 visits a year to a see a doctor or nurse, would have to start paying for the privilege under a bill passed by the Texas Senate.

The co-payment system "is the wave of the future as far as managed care is concerned. And I believe that our inmates ought to be treated very much like our everyday citizens when it comes to medical costs," said Sen. Florence Shapiro, R-Plano.

Her bill, which passed the Senate Thursday, goes to the House for consideration.

Under the measure, inmates would have to pay $3 out of their prison trust accounts for any non-emergency visit they initiate to a health care provider beginning Jan. 1, 1998.

The payment would not be charged if the inmate had less than $5 in the account, which is used to buy items the prison doesn't provide, Ms. Shapiro said.

The money generated by the co-payments, about $1 million per year, would be deposited into the state crime victims' compensation fund.

The co-payment system is projected to save the state at least another $10 million annually by cutting the number of prisoner visits to health care providers, Ms. Shapiro said. That's out of $255 million spent annually on inmate health care.

The inmate co-payment bill is SB203.

2 arrested by officers

Two people were arrested Thursday, one on a felony warrant.

Officers arrested Michael Brent Howell, 34, of 202 34th St. at 6:57 p.m. at the Law Enforcement Center on an outstanding felony warrant for forgery.

Officers arrested a 17-year-old male at 6:17 p.m. in the 4500 block of College Avenue for public intoxication.

In other activity, officers responded to a complaint at 4:34 p.m. of someone hearing a gun shot in the area of 900 30th Street. Officers checked the area but did not find anything out of order.

Deputies were notified at 10:49 p.m. of a gas drive-off from the Plaza Truck Stop. The vehicle was seen heading west on U.S. Highway 84 and authorities in Garza County were notified.

A 5:21 this morning, officers reported several signs and barricades being knocked down and broken in the road construction area around 30th Street and El Paso. An offense report for criminal mischief was submitted.
