Construction Of Eastern New Mexico Normal School To Begin Soon

Greatest School In The West Being Built

Now that the contract for the Eastern New Mexico Normal School has been let, and the contract calling for the completion of the first unit within 120 days, ground will soon be broke for this great school.

The location of this school is on the highway, just beyond the Lila Park and is a beautiful site. This building will be of English type, and will be outstanding in architectural design.

Plans are for the opening of the school next September, when hundreds of students from Eastern New Mexico will be ready for enrollment.

The board of Reagent have worked faithfully to secure the best building possible for the money invested, and their choice in design will give Eastern New Mexico a building that they may well be proud of.

This institution was made possible by the cooperation of the entire county, of Roosevelt and the other counties of the eastern side of the state.

It is not a Portales institution, but a state institution, and is located at Portales, is a most convenient for the students who will attend.

The erection of this building marks an epoch in the history of Roosevelt county, which will aid materially in development of this section of the state.

The next step will be the selection of a faculty for the operation of the school, and with a strong faculty, the normal cannot help but be a success.

11 Year Old Boy Makes Snake Haul

The biggest snake killing of the season is reported by Eugene Moore, aged eleven.

Eugene found 13 rattlesnakes in a den, two old snakes and 11 young ones. The young were about eight inches in length. The old snakes were extra large.

City Drug Co. Burglarized Wednesday Morning About 2:00

Early Wednesday morning between two and three o'clock, the City Drug Store was broken into by burglars, and the cash register robbed of small change, which had been left in from the night before.

First entrance was attempted through the back window, which failed. Then the front door was broken open.

Nothing was reported missing except the change which had been left in the till of the cash register.

A passing citizen noticed the front door standing open about three o'clock in the morning and notified the night watchman, Joe Boren who notified Mr. Brooks, who repaired and fastened the door. Suspicious characters were seen in two about midnight, Tuesday, and a check up on their activities is being made by the officers.

The sheriff's office was not notified till about seven o'clock Wednesday morning.

Palo Duro Cafe Is Improved

Last week Coleman Pendley and Ike Hahn became the new owners of the Palo Duro Cafe and since that time they have made some effective changes in this eating place.

The interior of the building has been rearranged to make it more pleasant for the patrons in the dining room and Ed Barker has been secured to have charge of the kitchen.

Mr. Barker is no stranger to Portales and his art is well known. He has been chef at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock, the Baker in Dallas and many other of the well known and popular hostilities of the state of Texas.

Mr. Pendley and Mr. Hahn are both well known residents of Portales and have been in Roosevelt County since pioneer days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Doyl arrived in Portales by motor from their home in Los Angeles, California and are visiting with their son Jim Doyl, and other relatives in New Mexico.

First Foot Ball Game of The Season, on Friday Afternoon

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the first football game of the season will be played on the local gridiron between the Portales High School and Melrose High School.

In order to boost the game, at the luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday it was voted for the business houses to close on Friday afternoon so that the business men and employees could attend this game.

The Portales team was one of the strongest in the state last season, and Coach Brown says that the team is extra good this season and that he expects this year's record to surpass that of last season.

The Melrose team is much stronger than last season, and this game is expected to be one that will interest the fans.

Portales people should back the local boys and give them a good turnout at this and succeeding contests.

Charged With Forgery and Bad Checks

Henry Chapman, recently of Ft. Worth but of Portales for the past three weeks, was arrested on Wednesday morning on two charges of forgery and on two charges of giving worthless checks.

Defendant pleaded guilty to one charge of forgery and two bad check charges, and is being held in jail to await the action of the District court.

Gibson and Preston Hendryx were arrested on a charge of possession of a still for the manufacture of intoxicating liquors. Gibson was released on bond to appear for preliminary hearing on the 20th.

Hendryx failing to make bond is being held in the county jail.

15 Arrests on Traffic Violations Tuesday Night

Marshal Bond reports 15 arrests on traffic violations on Tuesday night.

Thirteen were on driving over one light and two on running over stop signs.

Marshal Bond calls attention to the public that there will be a strict enforcement of the traffic laws.

With the large number of unemployed and transients which are now in Portales, it would be wise for the city to put on a night policeman, to protect the property of the citizens of Portales at late hours of the night when the regular officers are off duty.

Preparations Made For Big Rodeo Sat.

Final preparations have been made for the big rodeo which will be held north of the fair grounds on Saturday of this week.

Some of the best bucking horses of the west have been secured for this attraction, and it promises to be a thriller from start to finish.

Elida Burglars Captured at Hobbs

On last Saturday, O. G. Scarborough of Roswell, Joe Blackwell of Oklahoma and J. L. Leland of Oregon, were arrested at Hobbs by Deputy T. E. Holder, charged with the burglary of Wall & Sons' hardware, Grissom Brothers general merchandise, and the First National Bank of Elida, on Wednesday night of last week.

A number of guns and blank school warrants were taken from the store of Wall and Son, which were filled out, forged and cashed at Hobbs.

A pistol was taken from the First National Bank, but they failed to gain entrance to the vault.

Nothing has been reported missing from Grissom Bros. Store.

Defendants were arraigned before Justice Kerr, Monday morning, and all entered pleas of not guilty. Preliminary trial is set for next week.

The burglars left Elida in a new Ford Coupe, which was wrecked on the Lovington highway.

All three prisoners are being held in the county jail having failed to give bond in the sum of $750.00 each.

Blackwell and Leland were reported to the Sheriff as being bad actors, and are chained together for safe keeping.

Big Preparation For Tri-State Exhibit

On last Sunday, Coe Howard, C. S. Turner, and J. G. Graves were in Amarillo, looking over the exhibit booth for the eastern New Mexico exhibit.

Three spaces have been reserved for this exhibit, giving a back-ground of 58 feet in length.

C. S. Turner will arrange the exhibit, and that the exhibit from this section will be one of the outstanding exhibits of this fair is conceded.

Portales and Roosevelt county will have a real display, and show the farmers of Texas, that good crops can be grown here in dry as well as in wet years.

The Tri-State Fair is becoming one of the important fairs of the nation, and additional buildings have been erected to take care of the different classes of exhibits.

On Portales Day a special train will be run to and from Amarillo enabling those who attend to do so at a very low cost.

Portales will take part in the big parade on that day, and the High School Band will play an important part in this parade.

It is estimated that several hundred people from this section will attend.

Still Captured South of Elida

On last Friday a 40 gallon copper still and 8 dozen bottles of beer and other equipment were captured on the J. M. Gibson farm 5 miles south of Elida.

Gibson and Preston Hendryx were arrested on a charge of possession of a still for the manufacture of intoxicating liquors. Gibson was released on bond to appear for preliminary hearing on the 20th.

Hendryx failing to make bond is being held in the county jail.

Judge Carl A. Hatch Delivers Keynote Address, Democratic Con.

Santa Fe, N. M. Sept. 18.—Charging that there has been "an absolute disregard of sound business practice as well as of economy" by the Republican administration in New Mexico and that the Republican party has failed to keep its campaign pledges to the people, Judge Carl A. Hatch of Clovis, keynote speaker of the Democratic state convention, today asserted that the Democrats, if returned to control of state affairs, will give back to New Mexico an administration of "economy, business efficiency, honesty and absolute regard for public welfare."

The Democratic keynote indicated that the party platform will pledge to the people of the state:

Complete reconstruction of the taxation and assessment system of New Mexico so that "all property will be on the rolls at equalized and fair values" and politically powerful tax dodgers will no longer be able to evade payment of their taxes.

Discontinuance of the "present pernicious political practices of the Republican administration in connection with school matters."

Administration of the affairs of the land office upon a strictly basis without political favor and "surely without partisanship and the nomination of a 'big enough' to carry out that program efficiently."

Reduction of the expenses of operating the state government by pruning down the excess of employees in various departments, elimination of high-salaried special attorneys and placing all legal affairs in the state direct supervision by the attorney general.

Discontinuance of the "extravagance and waste" in the state highway department and elimination of the practice of handing out highway department jobs "simply as a reward for political service rendered."

The fullest publicity possible to the press and to the people of all official acts of the various agencies, with strict accounting of receipts and disbursements of each department, with periodic, full and complete audits of accounts of all departments.

A forward-looking program in which the elimination of extravagance, waste and graft should be the proper aim of the administration.

Establishment by law of a central purchasing agency through which all purchases of supplies and commodities necessary to the state's business shall be made upon specifications and in all cases by public lettings to the lowest and best bidders.

Judge Hatch assailed the present administration for failure to clean house after the revelations of bribery and graft in the highway department brought a recommendation from a Santa Fe grand jury that the governor dismiss from service certain "high officials in the highway department."

He excoriated the Republican party for failure to force men it had elected to the legislature to keep party pledges, notably in the case of the failure to pass promised labor commissioner legislation.

He refuted the claim of the Republican party's publicity bureau that "not one dime of public monies has been lost through dishonesty" by charging that prices of certain makes of motor trucks advanced $200 after a highway department employee began purchasing equipment.

"This difference in price, along with all the other matters connected with this highway department exposure, is not yet satisfactorily explained to the people of the state of New Mexico," he declared.

"Why the increase in price? What became of the difference? he asked.

"Surely those who proclaim that house-cleaning in the Republican Party has been done efficiently and promptly," he continued, "have forgotten the attendant circumstances when an employee of the highway department was indicted by a grand jury on charges of graft and bribery, but was not tried because of technical defects in the law."

"What became of the grand jury recommendations? Where was the house-cleaning of which the party in power now speaks so boastingly? There has been no house-cleaning. Is it not true that those charges have never been denied and today they still stand unchallenged and unrefuted?"

"We submit that when grave and serious charges of this nature are made, it is the solemn duty and sworn obligation of every official to sift the charges to the very bottom and let justice be done, regardless of the consequences. We cannot believe the average voter is concerned with high-sounding legal terms and hair-splitting distinctions which go to make a coat of officials' whitewash."

Judge Hatch reverted also to the cash box theft scandal in Berkeley.

County Crops Looking Good

On last Sunday Leon Jones and R. A. Young made a drive over the county inspecting the crops.

Leon says that one would be surprised how the crops in the dry farming section have come out in the past few weeks.

They report a half crop, over the county, and 110 per cent crops in the irrigated valley.

Small grain and broom corn crops are looking good, while cotton and corn are not looking so well.

One feature of Roosevelt county farms, according to R. A. Young, is that the farmers of the county have 85 per cent equity in their farms which is a very encouraging feature.

While the dry farming sections of the county suffered from the short rainfall of the past season, a 50 per cent crop will be harvested which puts the county in fair shape, especially when it is considered that over a great section of the United States the crop percentage is cut such an extent that only a 10 per cent to nothing will be harvested.

Roosevelt County Democrats Indorse Hon. Sam G. Bratton for U. S. Senate also appointed by the chair consisting of Arthur F. Jones Dr. A. J. Evans and J. G. Greaves.

The resolution committee submitted the following resolutions which were adopted by the convention.

RESOLUTIONS

We, the Democrats of Roosevelt County in Convention assembled, renew and reaffirm our allegiance to the great principals of the Democratic Party, dedicated to the common people of the United States from the days of Thomas Jefferson to those of Woodrow Wilson, and we review with great deal of pride, the records made by the Democratic Officials and the Democratic Administrations in both the nation and the State, and especially the enacting of such laws as the Federal Reserve Act, the Federal Farm Loan, Women Suffrage and Child Labor Laws, all enacted for the benefit of the people.

We heartily endorse, with a great deal of pride, the record of our United States Senator, the Honorable Sam G. Bratton, and commend him for his untiring efforts in the interests of the common people of the nation and the interest of the State of New Mexico, and especially for the stand on the Tariff Bill wherein he worked for the best interest of his State, but at the same time refused to be led into voting for the final one-sided Tariff Bill put through by the standpat Republicans under the leadership of the Lobbyist Grundy.

We are also pleased with the endorsement of his record by Organized labor, which we feel was justly deserved, not only for his work in the Senate of the United States, but for his record as Judge in our own state. Senator Bratton proved himself by being on the right side of every issue tending to the passing of laws for the good of our Country and the promotion of better living conditions for the masses of the people and we hereby recommend that this

THE COURT HOUSE SITUATION

So far as the News has been able to learn, nothing has been done towards the building of a new court house or the remodeling of the old building.

In delaying in this matter the citizens of the county are sleeping on their rights.

The old building is a fire hazard, and this hazard is increasing daily.

The jail building is unsafe and unsanitary. To build a jail without the court house project will prove very expensive to the county, and should not be considered.

At present, the county has to farm out its prisoners to other counties for safe keeping. This is an useless expense on the county.

A new court house and jail combined, will save the tax payers thousands of dollars, and should be looked after at the earliest possible moment.

In the near future the panhandle of the county will be cut off and added to some other county. This will deprive Roosevelt county of considerable railroad property, which will go a long way towards paying for the necessary improvements of the county's property.

THE EASTERN NEW MEXICO NORMAL SCHOOL

The biggest thing for Roosevelt county that has happened in years was the letting of the contract for the construction of the Eastern New Mexico Normal School on Tuesday of last week.

Work on the first unit will begin within a few days and the building is to be completed within 120 days.

This will insure the building for a summer school next summer and for the regular term next September.

The location for this school is on the Highway 366, just southwest of the Lilac Park, and is one of the most attractive locations in the city of Portales.

Rows of trees were put out over a year ago, and these trees have made a good growth and will make these grounds very attractive.

Several additions have been laid out adjacent to the Normal grounds and are many months, substantial residences will be built for the accommodation of faculty and students.

That there is a need for such a school in this part of the state has been felt for a number of years, and now with the co-operation of the eastern side of the state, this school will soon become one of the most important in the state.

As a means of development for this section the school will attract a class of citizenship, who desire a clean educational town in which to rear their children.

In less than a year after the school opens for operation it is safe to say that the population of Portales will increase at least 1000.

CHARLES CAMP

In the death of Charles Camp, Portales lost one of her outstanding young men.

Charles was a youth of outstanding qualities, loyal, clean, and progressive.

The News editor feels his loss, especially as he was a close companion of the editor's son, and for the past summer, each afternoon, came by for him for their daily swim.

Charles' influence will live for many years in this community, and the memory of him will be a bright spot in the lives of his acquaintances.

That death called him in his early youth is one of the inexplicable mysteries of the Ruler of the Universe, to whose will all must bow without question.

PROGRESSIVE FARMER FAVORS NEW COURT HOUSE

On Saturday afternoon, J. F. Morgan, in speaking of the new court house for Roosevelt County, stated that it was his belief that the majority of the farmers of the county favored a new court house.

He further said that as a tax payer, he payed as much as the average farmer and believed that it was economy to build a new court house and jail at this time. That it was badly needed to provide safety for the records of the county, and that it would also show that Roosevelt county was a progressive county, and would be an aid in attracting a progressive class of farmers to settle here.

Mr. Morgan is one of the progressive farmers of the county, and has farmed in the Floyd district for years. He was one of those who were responsible for the handsome rural high school at Floyd, a school which has done more for the development of that part of the county than anything else.

THE PARENT CAN HELP

Probably if Winfield school authorities and teachers could choose the one thing they would like to have in fuller measure than ever before this year they would choose closer co-operation of parents with them in their work of training the child.

The child is given over to the school for a certain number of hours each day. Not only must he be trained and taught but his health must be looked after and his physical condition checked up for his own well-being and also for the protection of other children. Both his progress in school and his physical well being are matters in which the parents should take keen interest.

We Have a Complete Line of

McCORMICK DEERING
Corn Binders
J. B. Sledge Hardware Co.

In the matter of health, co-operation is especially important. The parent who makes an effort to understand what is demanded and why it is done, rarely criticizes in the health program.

The school authorities find lack of understanding and apathy their greatest hindrances. Parents should realize that much of the instruction in a modern school deals with health. The teacher is endeavoring to inculcate health habits in her charges. She is urging them by demonstration and instruction, to brush their teeth regularly, to wash their hands and face before they eat to bathe frequently, to drink plenty of water, to eat the right food and, in general, to practice personal hygiene. Home co-operation is important all along the line and parents should do their best to aid the teacher's efforts to improve the child's body as well as his mind.

Rarely does the teacher meet with opposition or unfriendly criticism if the parent understands just what the situation is, but some parents take little pains to understand. Others take a little interest. Teachers often wonder at the apathy displayed. They welcome co-operation and interest. Each child is an individual problem to the teacher. If he or she knows what the child's home environment is, and knows his parents are ready to work with her she can do much more for and with the child than if she does not know the parents or finds them unsympathetic.

The teacher's task is technical business. He sometimes finds the overzealous parent rather trying, but he welcomes friendly co-operation always.

Wheat Suggested
as Substitute for Corn
at Prevailing Prices

Wheat can be substituted for corn to advantage in feeding livestock when prices are as low as they are at present in some sections of the country, say department specialists. The average farm price of corn for the United States last month was about 70 cents per bushel. At this price for corn wheat is worth about 85 cents for feeding to poultry and sheep, and about 88 cents for feeding to hogs and beef cattle. The average farm price of wheat July 15th was about 80 cents per bushel.

Based on digestible nutrients, wheat and corn are practically equal value pound for pound. A bushel of wheat is worth more than a bushel of corn in feeding value, as a bushel of wheat weighs 4 pounds or 7 per cent more than a bushel of corn. But corn and corn products alone make a better ration for cattle than wheat and wheat products alone. It is not necessary to grind corn as a hog feed, but wheat should be coarsely ground or crushed.

Wheat according to experiments made in Nebraska, has proved 5 per cent more efficient than corn for fattening steers when fed with alfalfa hay, a little prairie straw, bran and linseed meal.

Wheat does not give the best results when fed alone. It should be mixed with corn. Wheat may take the place of corn in rations for dairy cows. Wheat for horses should be ground, or preferably rolled, and mixed with other feeds because of its stickiness when chewed and also because, if fed alone, it may cause digestive troubles.

In using wheat as a hog feed about 5 per cent less grain is required in the case of wheat. With corn at 70 cents a bushel and wheat at 79 cents gains can be made with wheat and tankage at about 15 cents less per hundred pounds than with corn and tankage.

The value of wheat at a feed for livestock, in comparison with corn at various prices ranging from 50 cents to $1 per bushel, is shown in the following table.

Charles Camp

"None knew him but to love him. None named him but to praise." These words of the poet were never more truly applied to any one than to Charles Camp who passed away at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Camp on September 6th at 2:05 a. m. after a three weeks fight against that destroying disease, typhoid fever.

Everything that parental kindness, skilled nursing and medical science knew was used to combat the progress of this terrible disease but sixteen years ago God gave to the world this much loved child and so, on Saturday He took him again to His bosom.

The funeral services were held at the Camp home on Colorado Street, Saturday afternoon at four o'clock and the house and yard were filled with friends who had loved this boy and came to pay their respects to his memory.

In the crowd were friends from all the ages of life. The elderly people to whom Charles had always shown courtesy and consideration; the busy business and professional men and women who had been met with such fairness and pleasantness when they had called for service at the Portales Drug Store; the young men and women who played with him and knew him for his unselfish and fair dealings; his teachers to whom he had always shown the greatest respect and labored to please; pupils from the Portales High School where he was a popular member of the Junior Class and the Boy Scouts from his troop. All had their eyes dimmed with tears as Rev. Claude Lorts told how dearly this young boy had loved life and the efforts he had exerted to regain his health.

Rev. Lorts was not only the boy's pastor but had been the boy's Scout Master and the services which he conducted while standing beside the flower covered casket was most impressive.

Never was a more beautiful array of flowers seen at a funeral in Portales than covered the casket and filled the portion of the room all giving a silent testimony of the love and respect friends held for this sixteen year old boy.

In addition to his parents Charles leaves his two brothers, Jay and Bill, who were in attendance at the funeral and in San Diego. California are his grief stricken grandparents, Capt. and Mrs. Molinari. Interment was made in the Portales cemetery, by Wheeler and Johnson, funeral directors, and Charles now rests by the side of his uncle, Lester Molinari, who passed away ten years ago at the same age from the same disease.

Mr. Pogue then introduced the band as a unit and announced the first number of the program. Each number was received with a hearty and continued applause by the Floyd audience. After the rendition of the last number "The Star Spangled Banner" the crowd was invited into the Home Economics room and the teacher in that department served a plate lunch both delicious and bountiful.

During this social hour the friends from the communities represented enjoyed the time in visiting.

Record Crowd Predicted For Tri-State Fair

FINEST EXHIBITS AND BEST
AMUSEMENTS EVER SHOWN AT AMARILLO

Roads Grant Rates

STAGE IS ALL SET FOR OPENING OF PANHANDLE-FLAINE GREATEST FETE

AMARILLO, Sept. 18.—(Special)—With just a few final touches everything will be in readiness for the opening of the Tri-State Exposition and the attendance record is sure to set this year.

Buildings and grounds have been put in shape, new buildings constructed, decorations are in place, and within just a few hours exhibit entries will be closed.

Amusements never before equaled at a fair in West Texas have been arranged for, and the great throngs from all parts of the Panhandle Plains country, New Mexico, and Western Oklahoma are sure to find every moment spent at the Exposition chuck full of wholesome entertainment and things of educational interest.

Brilliant Auto Show
One of the biggest single attractions on the fair grounds this year will be the automobile show, in which cars of all makes and models, ranging in price from $450 to $15,000 will be shown. Like all the other exhibits and like the fair itself, there is no gate charge, and the automobile dealers have spared no expense to make the Tri-State Automobile Show the standard by which all others in this section of the country will be measured.

Included in the amusement list are Leonard Stroud and the Avall Park Rodeo, each afternoon before the grandstand, and Ernie Young's "Spanish Nights," a high class vaudeville attraction in the evenings. Then there are Beckmann & Gerety's giant midway, with its twenty shows and fourteen rides; an Italian Village from New Mexico, the largest in the world which will be transported from the railroad yards to the fair grounds by a house mover; and the tallest cow in the world, an animal 17½ hands high.

Displays Overflow
Superintendents of the beef cattle dairy cattle, swine, poultry, pet stock, and rabbit and cavy departments predict the largest number and finest entries ever shown at the Tri-State Exposition.

The Independent Display overflows its building; the Merchant's Building displays have never been eclipsed here, and the Agricultural Exhibits will compete with any anywhere in the United States.

This challenge is sent out by fair officials.
To help everyone have a good time, many cities over the Panhandle will close stores and schools and send great delegations, together with school and municipal bands, all of which will have a part on the program. Special days have been designated for various cities and each will vie with the other for the best attendance showing. Railroads are doing their bit by granting special rates to Amarillo during fair week.
Beginning September 22, all roads will lead to Amarillo.

Political Outlook For New Mexico

(By J. G. Greaves)
Never in the history of New Mexico have the prospects been brighter for a democratic victory than the present.

During the past three years of the Republican administration, there has arisen a stench known as the highway scandal, that reeked to the highest points of heaven.

It was investigated by Republican judges, and a heavy coat of whitewash applied.

The expenditures of the state have been greater than under any previous administration. Taxes multiplied, and the end is not yet.

The old Republican bosses have stayed in the background, but their hand has directed the affairs of those in power.

More master vehicles have been purchased by the state than by any two previous administrations. At the Republican convention next week in Albuquerque, it looks as if Reed Hallman would receive the nomination for governor.

If that be the case, he is beaten at the start, provided the Democrats nominate a man for this position with even half the ability required.

The Democrats have splendid material for the state nominees, and it only remains for them to use common horse sense in making their selection.

In making these nominations, they will decide whether it will be a Democratic or a Republican victory this fall.

The Republicans have supplied the political bombs with which to blow the G. O. P. into oblivion. It is up to the Democrats to apply the match to the fuse.

If the Democrats loose this year, they have no one but themselves to blame.

Hoover prosperity has been felt by everyone in the nation, and if it continues, there will be the greatest number of bankrupts recorded within the next twelve months, in the history of the nation.

Hoover has done much for the farmers of the nation.
So did Sherman do much for and to the farmers of Dixie, in his march to the sea.

There is a parallel in effect. Do you want a continuance of Republican prosperity, or a return to the safe sane times of the good old Jeffersonian Democracy?

DEMOCRATIC RECORD ONE OF DISASTER TO WHOLE COUNTRY

By the Republican State Central Committee

Mr. Mrs. and Miss Voter:

Another message because the welfare of your State during the next two years depends upon your votes.

We have party government. It has its faults, because people are not perfect, but it is the best system of government so far devised by mankind. For the United States and for this state, the Republican party has given the best government. A fact proved by history.

Since the Civil War the Democratic Party has been catching at straws—any straw blown toward it by the wind from any direction.

The Republican Party came into existence to free four million of slaves. It set them free in spite of the opposition of the Democratic Party. The first Republican Congress passed the homestead law under which the West was settled. That law was fought by such Democrats as were in that Congress.

To assist settlement of the West, the first Republican Congress made a law under which, by land grants and bond sales, a railroad was constructed to the Pacific Ocean. Other Congresses so amended that law three other transcontinental roads were built.

To aid the homesteaders and other farmers grants of land were made to the Territories and States for the establishment and maintenance of agricultural colleges.

As a result of these wise measures, great areas of the West were settled, became prosperous, and fourteen States added their stars to the flag of the Union.

For the protection of the industries of the country from competition by the cheap labor of Europe and Asia, tariff laws were passed. The Republican tariff policy has been from the beginning to impose duties "equal to the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit for American producers, the purpose being to preserve that security against foreign competition to which Americans are entitled."

Although American has prospered under this policy as no other country in the world has prospered, the Democratic Party has fought it from the beginning. This in the face of the fact that every time the Democrats have made a tariff law the result has been disastrous.

The Democratic Party has consistently opposed the Republican policy of protection, but it has come forward from time to time, with a number of other "paramount" issues.

In 1896 it demanded the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen ounces of silver to one ounce of gold." The voters rejected it, and history has proved it unsound.

In 1900 the Democrats claimed the Philippine Islands should be abandoned to their fate without in any way aiding them by preparation in self-government. The voters overwhelmingly rejected the jolly of "scuttle."

In 1904 the Democratic convention was for downward revision of the tariff law which has rescued the country from the Cleveland panic and depression which lasted from 1893 until the passage of the Republican tariff act in 1897. The Republicans won with a landslide.

In 1908 the Democrats came forward with a candidate for president who made government ownership of railroads the issue. Another overwhelming defeat.

In 1912 there was a wide open split, in the Republican Party and the Democrats won the Presidency and both houses of Congress. Then came the second tariff bill passed by the Democrats since the Civil War. Business depression ensued in 1914. Factories closed banks broke, merchants went into the hands of receivers hundreds of thousands of freight cars were idle in the yards. Then came the World War, shutting out imports from foreign countries. This was followed by an unprecedented period of business activity.

But when peace was restored and foreign nations had opportunity to begin dumping their products on America the depression of the latter part of 1920 set in. It was to continue until after the Democratic law tariff and free trade act was replaced by the Republican law in 1922. Then business began its upward turn.

In 1920 the Democrats shifted their campaign issue. They insisted that the United States become a member of the League of Nations. That issue was overwhelmed at the polls. In 1924 the Democratic claim was that they, if given the power would be more honest than the Republicans. The voters did not believe them, and Calvin Coolidge was elected President by the greatest majority ever known in any election.

In 1928 the Democrats made their fight for a revision of the tariff on the principles of the disastrous Underwood bill and for cheaper and more whiskey. Those blessings were to come from the election of Al Smith to the White House and the consequent repeal or nullification of the eighteenth amendment. Herbert Hoover was elected, receiving 444 of the 531 electoral votes.

Of course President Hoover's administration is being attacked. But those attacks should not be taken too seriously. Frank R. Kent, veteran political writer, of the Baltimore Sun and Veteran Democrat, in an article in Scribner's Magazine, explains, somewhat gleefully, how a number of senators, rose from day to day in the last session and launched attacks against the President. Those attacks having been inspired and many of them prepared word for word by the press bureau of the Democratic National Committee.

These speeches would be artfully "planted," so as to teach the public through press reports. Eight able writers were hired, more than a year ago, by Chairman Raskob, to malign the achievements of the President. The job, according to Mr. Kent, was to "smear" the Hoover administration.

Mr. Kent was not trying to help President Hoover. His article was to tell of the shrewd and effective publicity of Mr. Raskob's organization. A stroke of genius, it seems to him, to have the Democratic publicity bureau write speeches for senators against the President. By that means they can be printed in the Congressional Record distributed over the country without the payment of postage, and be carried in the press reports as news.

Hereafter senators who retail their "canned" speeches will be open to suspicion that they are but repeating things written for them by Chairman Raskob's highly paid publicity men.

But even those paid attackers have not the temerity to attempt to defend the record of the Democratic Party when it was in power.

E. T. Owen brought his young son into Portales, Friday afternoon from their home in the Inez Community and had a large splinter removed from the lad's foot. The child had been playing at school when he ran the splinter into his foot and after exhausting every means to extract the object, Mr. Owen brought the boy to the doctor in Portales.

Two Hits Scored
Portales High School Band Gives Free Concert at Floyd, Friday, September 12.

After vacation days oftentimes there are found schools and phases of school work that are a little slow to function properly. That is not true of the Floyd High School. Neither is it true of the Portales High School, if we may judge all of their activities by their band. School having been in session only two weeks, the Floyd community feels particularly fortunate in securing the Portales Band for a free concert so early in the season. Friday night a very able program was rendered by the 25 piece band, under able direction of Mr. E. J. Pogue. The Auditorium was filled to capacity.

Much credit is due the director, members and all those who have any connection with the band. This is its first year and splendid progress has been made thus far. After this year of able direction, surely Portales will have developed an organization of which they will be more than proud.

If there is a phase of work in the Floyd High School of which it is unusually proud, it is the vocational work. Just now, particularly, the Vocational Home Economics. This summer a Home Economics cottage was built. The Home Economics Girls with the assistance of the Vocational Agriculture Boys have spent the major portion of the first two weeks in completing the cottage, refitting furniture, decorating the cottage, and putting the house in order for use. Though not at all as it will be before the year is over, it is in a condition to function in a very nice way.

Following the concert Friday evening the Portales Band, all attending Portales people, and the Floyd Faculty were served a light supper in the Home Economics Cottage. This was under the management of the Vocational Home Economics Girls, having been planned, prepared and served by them.

This is only the initial one of the many functions and community projects that this department plans to sponsor and carry out. The cottage is conveniently situated on the school campus and a hearty invitation is extended to all those interested to visit this department. It will be the happy pleasure and

American Legion Play

"Corporal Eagen," the sensational comedy drama of the American Legion, will be staged at the High School Auditorium, Monday and Tuesday nights, September 29th and 30th, under the auspices of the American Legion. It is a rollicking comedy of army life, and is also a patriotic and spectacular presentation. The scene is laid in the company street of Camp Shove Off, with an army barracks as a background. Special scenery and costumes for this production have been shipped here by the Universal Producing Company.

The story of Red Eagen centers around Red Eagen, an Irish-American doughboy, played by Clifford Dean, and his Jewish buddy, Izzy Goldstein, played by P. M. Bailey. Red is looking for a promotion because he told his girl, Sally O'Neil, played by Miss Lela Mae Freeman, that he was going to be a captain. However, instead of getting a promotion, he gets in a fight with Izzy and is thrown on Kitchen Police.

Sally comes to see him in his new uniform and Red tries to hide from her behind the potato pile. The guard, McGooly, portrayed by Roy Wheeler, mistakes Sally for a spy and throws her in the guard house. Red's blundering attempts to capture the real spy, aided by the frightened Izzy, provide humor and excitement.

Other funny situations are provided by Michael Eagen, Red's dad, played by W. B. O'Hanlon, and Abbie Goldstein, Izzy's "poppa", played by Dave Isenberg. They fall for the charms of two pretty nurses, Misses Iris Ribble and Lucille Wurster, when they come to camp to see their sons. Mrs. Joe Christie as the Willing War Worker and Ike Hughes as the Y. M. C. A. Worker, are going to be hits of the show. Mrs. Christie has a clever role as the imperturbable old maid.

The show opens with a patriotic pageant featuring children in the first three grades with Rev. C. A. Loris as special dramatic reader. This is a spectacular and impressive feature with unusual lighting effects.

The chorus girls are dressed in special costumes and appear a number of times making the show a rounded out production. A full list of the characters will be found in next week's issue of the News.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR TURNER HENSLEY

One of the most enjoyable parties of the week was the one on Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Hensley.

Dr. and Mrs. Hensley invited a number of young men to dinner at six o'clock, then, as a complete surprise to their son, Turner, asked a number of young ladies to come at a later hour.

During the dinner hour toasts were made by Ernest Wheeler and Harold Sweetland to which Turner responded.

Upon the arrival of the young ladies, each was given the name of a character in the funny paper and partners matched by this means for the evening.

The guests drove to Clovis where the tea room at Murray's had been reserved and decorated and places were found around one large table, during the refreshments.

All too soon train time came and all went to the train to see Turner leave and wish him a pleasant year in his study of law at the University.

The following young people enjoyed the party: William and Mama: Lucille Wurster and Bill Thompson.

Maggie and Jimmie: Lucille Rowley and Turner Hensley.

Polly and her Pals: Iris Ribble and Ray Bonner.

Painful Condition

"When I was just a girl at home," writes Mrs. R. F. Riggan, of Baird, Texas, "I took Cardui for cramping and pains in my side and back, and it helped me at that time."

"After I was married, I found myself in a weak, run-down condition. I suffered a great deal with my back, which was so weak it hurt me to get up or when I would stand on my feet. I fell off in weight."

"A friend of mine, seeing how bad I felt, advised me to take Cardui, which I did. By the time I had taken two bottles, I felt stronger and better than I had in a long time."

A great portion of the afternoon was devoted to the selection of the officers for the coming year. Mrs. T. E. Mears was chosen president. This was a very fitting selection as Mrs. Mears was one of the very closest friends of the late president, Mrs. H. F. Jones and is amply capable of carrying forward the work as desired by Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Coe Howard was chosen first vice-president.

FARM POULTRY

PAYING POULTRY
FLOCK IS GROWN

Spring-Hatched Pullets Carefully Developed Are Best.

Developing the spring-hatched pullets from the time the chicks leave the incubator until the pullets are placed in the laying house is the pathway to profits in the poultry industry.

"The object of this development is to have pullets of stamina, bone and vigor and fully up to the standard weight of the breed," says S. R. Dearstyne, poultryman at State college. "At first the proper mash is needed until finally the laying mash containing 20 per cent of protein is given. The young pullets must have an abundance of succulent green feed, especially as the grass on the range gets old and tough. When placing birds in the laying house, do this about two weeks before they start laying so that they may become accustomed to their surroundings."

Nesting material should be changed often, runs cleared of litter, perch poles scraped and freed of mites, and the birds examined for internal parasites. A minimum of four feet of floor space to each bird is needed in the house, and at least two feet of perch pole for each three birds. Dampness in the house and damp litter is to be avoided if the birds are not to have rump and colds. Fresh, clear water is necessary and the mash hoppers are to be kept filled at all times. Oyster shell and grit should be kept before the birds, and grain fed twice each day with the heaviest amount at evening.

Mr. Dearstyne says that the poultryman will do well to spend about ten minutes each day in general observation of his flock. This will help him to find any lack of thriftiness or any indication of disease. Birds roughly handled, irregularly fed and watered, infested with parasites or neglected in other ways will not prove profitable.

Adequate Ventilation

Essential for Poultry

Adequate ventilation is important for a profitable poultry flock. Sufficient fresh air must be admitted to replace the moisture-laden air thrown off by the birds. It must be admitted so as to avoid drafts. The open front principle is used extensively in many sections. It has been determined that the openings in the front wall should equal approximately one-tenth of the floor area. To protect the flock during severe storms frames covered with a light weight of muslin may be used in the front openings.

Chicks Crowd

One cause of large losses among chicks that are brooded artificially results from crowding. If for any reason the chicks become chilled they are apt to crowd together in order to keep warm. This piling up usually results in the death of several chicks at the bottom of the pile. Even if they do not die they will be stunted. Their digestive systems will be so upset that they will not eat as they should and growth will stop, making them practically worthless.

POULTRY NOTES

Hatch the chicks early so that the pullets are mature for winter egg production.

Don't forget the importance of fresh, juicy greens for both the baby chicks and old hens.

Giving hens 12 hours of light increases egg production at the season when the prices are high.

The first half of April is the ideal time to hatch chicks of smaller breeds such as the Leghorns.

To carry on heavy production hens must have strong bodies and a good supply of nourishing feeds.

When calcium carbonate is not available in sufficient quantities, hens lay soft-shelled eggs or no eggs at all.

Good producing hens may become thin if not fed sufficiently. Total feed consumption can be increased usually by giving a moistened mash once a day throughout the summer months.

Making it easier for the hens to consume large quantities of mash aids in the production of eggs. At least 10 linear feet of double hopper space should be provided for 100 hens.

Culling should not be considered as a substitute for correct management of a flock of hens. Even the good producers may cease laying in the summer if proper care is neglected.

Clean feed is essential in producing healthy chicks. All feed should be fed in troughs or hoppers. This practice may reduce the spread of coccidiosis, round worms, and tapeworms, as most diseases are introduced through the digestive tract.

Set 175 turkey eggs at one time if 125 young turkeys are desired. Usually a 70 per cent hatch can be expected. About 25 hens will lay the required number of eggs for such a setting in ten days, and the eggs should be set at the end of that period.

Judge Hatch.....

naillio County which resulted in the conviction of the motor vehicle department employees and the "loss of hundreds of dollars of this state's money."

Pointing the recent claim of the Republicans that they had been responsible for all of the laws passed in New Mexico in the 18 years of statehood, Judge Hatch, asked, "Are we to assume that the laws in the State of New Mexico, which are insufficient to reach corruption (The judge Holman pointed to the Frank Quinn highway department graft case were designedly passed to keep and retained in the statutes of the state by Republicans lawmakers?"

Along the same line he remarked: "Again we are told that the Republicans party is the party of efficiency. It is the party composed of the 'best minds.' It is the party which has provided laws for the people of New Mexico for the past 18 years. And yet, notwithstanding the experience of previous legislatures, and notwithstanding all their vaunted wisdom, the last legislature made more errors than any legislature in the history of the state."

He pointed to the "unnecessary" and "expensive" special session of the legislature made necessary by an error of "a highly paid special attorney" in the highway department, and the inability of the administration to prevent the legislature from passing an "exorbitant appropriation bill."

Judge Hatch presented figures to show that the state tax rate per $1,000 has jumped from $4.50 and $5.50 under Democratic administrations to $7.50 and $8.50 under the Republicans.

The average tax rate, he asserted, has gone up from $24.35 per $1,000 of assessed valuation in 1923 of the Hinkle administration.

"Those figures are significant," he said. "They speak for themselves."

He showed that state expenditures in the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1927, totaled $7,351,265.07—budgeted by Governor Hannett—and in the year ending June 30, 1929, the total was $11,297,402.55, an increase of almost $4,000,000.

"When this difference is seen, we are not surprised that the tax rate has been increased more and more each year," he said.

He bitterly criticized the Republicans for taking a "petty political slap" at the sick and crippled ex-service men and trimming down the appropriation for the Disabled Veterans' bureau from $5,000 annually to $2,900.

"This action," he said, "has been condemned in no uncertain terms by the ex-service men of New Mexico, who feel that the blow was not aimed at veterans who are physically fit, but at those who are crippled and ill because of the service that they rendered this nation in wartime—men for the most part who are unable to see for themselves the proper redress."

He asserted that the "average honest and willing taxpayer of the state is penalized from 5 per cent to 15 per cent in his tax payment" because of laxity and neglect in collection of delinquent taxes. He assured his audience that the Democrats will remedy that after January 1.

The "appraisal board," method of assessment was shown as a "make-shift measure" that has served only to create more political jobs and to cost the people of the state about $100,000, without producing any tangible results worth while.

The extravagance of the Republicans in purchase of nearly 800 motor vehicles was hit by the keynote. He charged that the highway department has diverted money of the $5,600,000 debt-reduction program to the construction of "political roads," and the barely two-thirds of the promised 1,000 miles of oil highway has been laid, and much of that is being rebuilt after less than a year of service, due to inefficiency and lack of engineering ability in the highway department.

"We believe," he said, "that more and better highways can be constructed for less money than has been expended for that purpose in the past, and we should pledge the party to a system of maintenance equal to any that has been heretofore known at a much reduced cost, which can be done, according to competent engineering authority."

He taunted the Republicans with being afraid to come out early with their ticket and platform, and waiting until the "last legally-possible moment" to hold their convention this year.

"The Republican Party," he asserted, has promised so much in previous elections, there is very little left to promise now."

Judge Hatch pointed to the record of United States Senator Sam G. Bratton as being one which is beyond criticism. Senator Bratton was characterized as 100 per cent dry and without equivocation concerning prohibition.

Failure of the congress to bring through a tariff bill that would answer the requirement of "farm relief" for which the special session was called, was sharply criticized.

My dear Mr. Greaves:

I am happy to tell you that through advertising in the Portales Valley News I am fortunate in recovering my suitcase which was lost between Friona and Bovina.

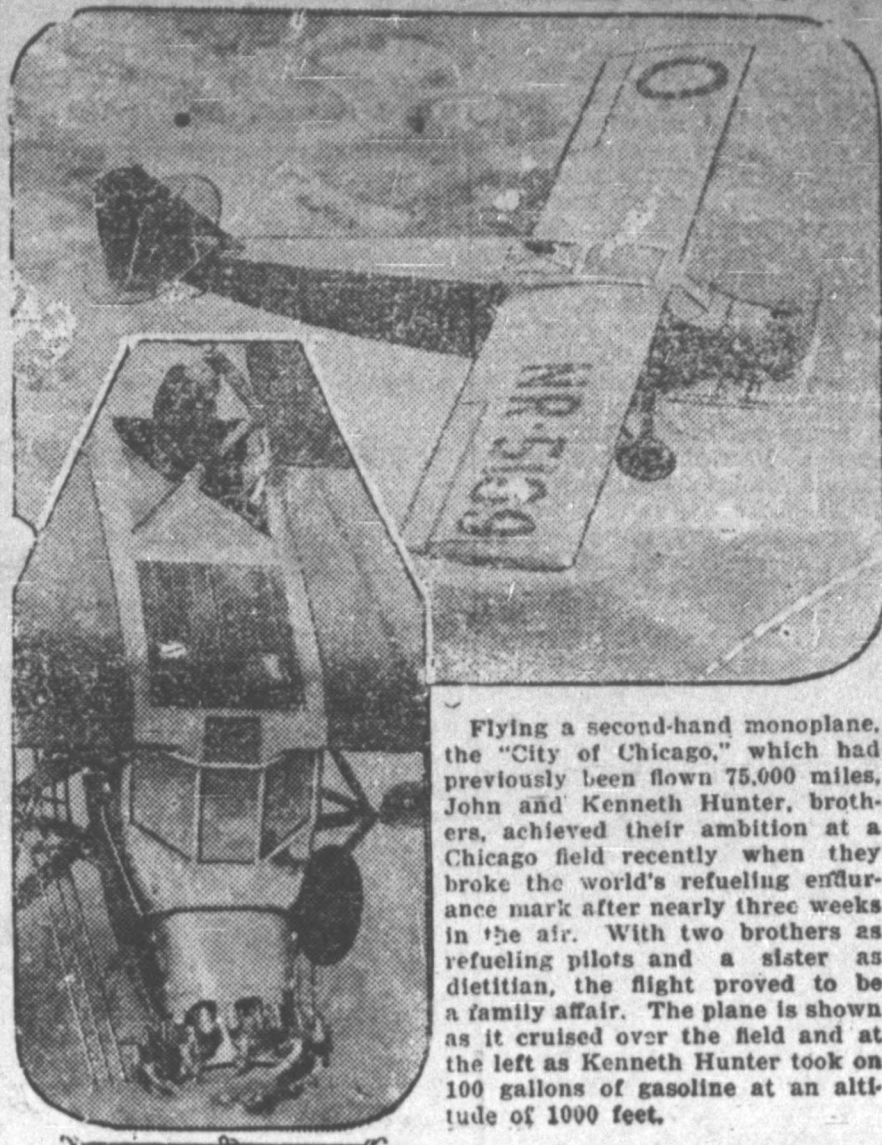

The case was found by a farmer living near Friona. Upon receipt of the $20 reward, he returned the bag and contents, valued at one hundred and seventy-five dollars ($175.00) including a diamond ring.

Thanking you for your co-operation, I am,

Yours sincerely

LENORE EDWARDS.

Set New Endurance Mark

Flying a second-hand monoplane, the "City of Chicago," which had previously been flown 75,000 miles, John and Kenneth Hunter, brothers, achieved their ambition at a Chicago field recently when they broke the world's refueling endurance mark after nearly three weeks in the air. With two brothers as refueling pilots and a sister as dietitian, the flight proved to be a family affair. The plane is shown as it cruised over the field and at the left as Kenneth Hunter took on 100 gallons of gasoline at an altitude of 1000 feet.

Broomcorn Market

Demand for New Crop Broomcorn Shows Increased Offerings at Unchanged Prices: But Some Markets Draggier at Last Week's Quotations.

Prospects of early offerings of broomcorn from West Central Oklahoma, Illinois, and limited sections of the Northwest, influenced a somewhat freer movement of bush on the Lindsay street market during the week ending September 6, but the demand was sufficient to absorb the heavier receipts at little or no change in prices according to the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics in its Weekly Broomcorn Market Review. At other markets, however, considerable price weakness developed with most grades draggier at last week's quotations. Texas markets continued quiet, with growers inclined to hold against price recessions, but free sellers at moderate advances. Marketing for the week, while centered at Lindsay and tributary markets also developed in a minor way at West Central Oklahoma points, particularly at Sayre and Leedy, while in Illinois a few bales of the new crop were forwarded on l. c. l. orders. At other points no broomcorn was reported ready for market.

Scattered showers of heavy rains visited some of the broomcorn districts during the past week, but in many important sections, dry, hot weather prevailed with some drought damage reported. In the Kansas broomcorn territory, limited sections of Colorado and in New Mexico the rains were generally beneficial to late broomcorn, but were also detrimental where harvesting was well under way. Kansas, particularly around Liberal, had untimely showers but no material damage to harvested corn developed. In the Lindsay district, dry, hot weather, but no extreme, prevailed and was generally favorable to harvesting and baling. Favorable conditions for the broomcorn harvest also continued in Illinois. In West Central Oklahoma, insufficient moisture and extreme temperatures caused further deterioration to late broomcorn, but were favorable to harvest operations.

New crop broomcorn in commercial quantities will be available over a wide area within the next two or three weeks, according to reports received from the various broomcorn districts. From 25 to 40 per cent of the crop is harvested at Leedy, Sayre, and tributary points. Western Oklahoma reports from 10 to 20 per cent harvested, with operations equally as far advanced in Southwestern Kansas and Southeastern Colorado. South Texas corn is all harvested and mostly baled, while the Panhandle production is similar to Western Oklahoma. In New Mexico harvesting has started in a limited way, but only scattered production has yet been pulled. Eighty to ninety per cent of the Lindsay crop has been cut, according to reports, while Illinois harvest has progressed rapidly with from 65 to 80 percent of the crop in the various districts now on the shelves.

Comparative figures obtained on baling operations and shipments indicate that the available new crop broomcorn, except in Southern Texas, is being purchased about as fast as ready for market. In the Lindsay district about 70 per cent of the crop is reported baled and about 65 per cent marketed. Leedy and Sayre shipments and storage about equal baling operations, while odd lots in Illinois have moved forward on l. c. l. orders. At Liberal, Kansas, early "pullings" have been kiln dried, as harvested, while two or three carloads at country points are reported baled and available for market.

Shipments of new crop broomcorn to September 6 from the Lindsay district were approximately 175 carloads, with some 25 carloads in temporary storage, as a total movement to date of approximately 200 carloads. A year ago as of Sept. 16, shipments were 188 carloads with 47 carloads in storage. Beeville reported 32 car loads out, as against 20 this date, while several cars already had moved from the Leedy district as against three to date this year. For the most part, the broomcorn market has been steady to firm, with the demand equal to the supplies. Farmers, for the most part, have been free sellers at prevailing quotations.

While no change in prices was noted for the week at Wichita, the market was credited with a little stronger tone, which was reflected in a somewhat better demand for all grades. Receipts for the month of August totaled 32 carloads, compared to 38 for the same month a year ago. Forwardings totaled 40 carloads, as against 107 for August last year. The last week in August this year showed receipts of 10 cars and forwardings of 37. Most of the shipments for the past week were new crop Lindsay and storage stocks held for manufacturers' accounts.

With new crop broomcorn being in a limited way in several districts, prices indicate an unusual spread, according to the grades being offered. In Illinois not enough broomcorn has been sold to reflect market prices, but indicates somewhat lower price levels than Lindsay sales, particularly where freight savings on Illinois brush can be taken into account. The price spread between Dwarf and Standard of similar grade is indicated at about $25 per ton, except on Common to Medium stock.

Lindsay broomcorn was quoted unchanged to slightly lower on lower grades. Choice was quoted from $160 to $170 per ton. Good $150 to $160, Medium $125 to $150, and Common $100 to $125. Choice in Illinois was quoted from $150 to $160 per ton and Good from $140 to $150 per ton. Good Leedy was quoted from $100 to $115 per ton, and Common $80 to $90. Medium grade broomcorn at Beville brought $100 to $110 per ton, while at Wichita broomcorn was unchanged from $100 to $170 per ton, according to quality.

WHY -- Envy The Cat?

The cat, any cat, once upon a time was better equipped in some respects than human beings. The cat could see in the dark, while man was dependent on fires, torches, candles, lamps or lanterns.

In those days sundown meant little to the cat insofar as its travels were concerned. The cat was quite some animal. After sundown man, however, was handicapped and had to use contrivances that were difficult to handle and required no end of attention.

Now, touch a button and a million slaves are at your command to provide you with a flood of light. In this day and age you don't need eyes that can see in the dark.

You've beaten the cat at its own game.

Use of Carbon Dioxide as Ice Said to Be Developing Rapidly

The development of solid carbon dioxide or "concentrated essence of frigidity" for use as a refrigerant in transportation of perishable products, is already taxing the manufacturing facilities of the Nation in its effort to provide enough of the gas to supply the demand, according to a statement, August 13, by C. C. Concannon, chief of the chemical division of the Department of Commerce.

So rapidly has the use of this new form of refrigeration come into acceptance that there is not sufficient carbon dioxide gas available to satisfy the requirements of the industry, it is stated. The gas is being saved as a by-product from the manufacture of industrial alcohol. Refineries are also cracking oil to obtain more of the "snow" and other industries are utilizing the product according to Mr. Concannon.

A shipment of Carbon Dioxide has been received by the Midwest Dairies. It is commonly known as dry ice, and will be used in an experiment in packing ice cream for shipment.

"Dry ice is a fuzzy appearing ice, which is perfectly dry and many degrees colder than common ice. In evaporation, it gives off refrigeration, and has a burning effect when held in the hand."

OSCAR COLQUITT GREER

Oscar Colquitt Greer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Greer, departed from this life August 30, 1930.

Oscar was born at Redland, N. M., July 27, 1912 and shortly afterwards moved to Portales with his parents where he spent the greater part of his childhood, and attended the Portales schools.

Some time ago he became interested in telegraphy and served as an apprentice to the telegraph operator and station agent for the Santa Fe at Clovis. He made steady progress and often worked at connection points along the line. A short time ago he was transferred to Gage, Oklahoma, where he was permanently located to finish his course.

While working up his report at 5:15 A. M. on August 30th, he was hit by a fast moving yard engine, knocking him unconscious. He was rushed to Shattuck, Oklahoma, where a Mayo specialist performed an operation, hoping to relieve the injuries suffered from a fractured skull, but despite all efforts to stay the hand of death, he was called to his reward at nine A. M. on the same day.

The body was brought to Clovis and put away in the Clovis cemetery after the funeral services which were held in the Christian Church of that city, with Rev. Rogers of Clovis and Rev. J. L. Vance of Rogers officiating.

Oscar was a splendid young man and was said to have made more friends among officials and employees of the Santa Fe than any of the division, considering the time of his service.

He was converted at an early age and his faith grew stronger with his advancing years.

He leaves behind a heart broken father and mother, one brother, Rufus, and two sisters, Ophelia Nadine Stratton of Clovis and Miss Olive Greer of Amarillo, Texas, besides a large circle of grieved friends.

"His suffering ended with the day; Yet lived he at its close, And breathed the long, long, night away

In statue-like repose. But when the sun in all his state, Illuminated eastern skies, He passed through glory's morning gate,

And waked in paradise." We watched him breathing thru The night, Him breathing soft and low;

And in his breast the wave of life Kept heaving to and fro. "Our very hopes belied our fears, Our fears and hopes belied; We thought him dying when he slept,

And sleeping when he died." J. L. VANCE.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Gwendolin Allen was given a happy surprise last Sunday, when four of her friends were invited to dinner in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allen.

The date was Gwendolin's birthday and Mrs. Allen had prepared a lovely dinner for the occasion. Beautiful autumn flowers were used as table decorations and assisted to carry out the color plan of pink and white. The large birthday cake was decorated with pink candles, huge bouquets of gay colored flowers were used in the pleasant dining room and living room. The friends invited to share the pleasures of the day with the members of the Allen family were: Misses Maxine Grissom, Opal Setser, Pauline Stewart and Mary Evelyn White.

ORPHAN HOME NOTES

Rev. and Mrs. Grant, Supt. and Matron

It was a day of gladness and fullness out at the Orphan Home last Sunday afternoon when Wiley Mudgett Mr. Drinkard, W. E. Reynolds and Mr. Sexton brought fifty or sixty watermelons out there and said, "Cut eat and be of good cheer for it is our treat."

We always enjoy visitors, but especially do we enjoy this afternoon for it was such a happy occasion for all, adults as well as children. May your tribe increase.

We want to thank everyone and all for the kindness which is being shown to the Orphans Home every day. All this consideration is being greatly appreciated.

Supt. and Matron.

ROGERS-INIZ CHARGE M. E. CHURCH

J. L. Vance, Pastor Regular services at Inez next Sunday. This will be the last service this conference year. We are preparing to have a love feast at the eleven o'clock hour, and invite the entire community to come and take part in this service. The pastor wishes to express his appreciation to the Inez people for their loyalty and the fine way they have received him and his family the past year. May God richly bless those that have given themselves to make this work pleasant to our prayer.

We have made friends that shall not soon be forgotten, and should our conference see fit to move the pastor to some other charge, we wish to state that there shall always be a warm place in our hearts for the fine people that make up the Inez community.

This community has more regular attendance in Sunday School and Church services than any community of its size in the district, and has been a pleasure to serve them as pastor.

Sunday School, 10:00 o'clock; Preaching Service, 11:00 o'clock; Subject for the morning hour: Love; Subject for the evening hour, 8:00 o'clock: The Unfinished Work.

HOME FROM TRIP ABROAD

Earnest Wheeler arrived home early Tuesday morning from a summer vacation which included a motor tour of the New England states and Canada and also a trip abroad.

Earnest was absent from Portales three and a half months and in addition to the sight seeing on this side of the Atlantic he visited eight countries of Europe, five in Asia and one in Africa.

The trip was highly educational and Earnest has been invited to give a review of his trip before the Portales Womens Club in the meeting of October 22nd, and it promises to be one of the very interesting meetings of the year for the club.

Earnest was accompanied home by his grandfather, S. E. Wheeler of Carthage, Missouri, who will visit for several days in the homes of E. N. and Roy Wheeler.

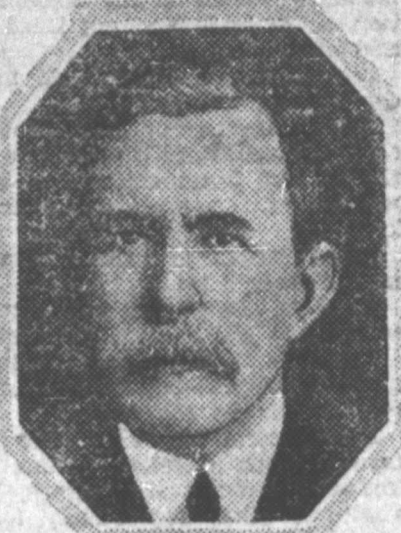

Ed. J. Neer has improved the appearance of his drug store and furniture store by having both given a new coat of paint.

In the past these buildings have been gray in color but now they are changed to a rich cream and are more attractive than the darker color.

Thomas Brothers did the work and have the buildings looking spick and span for the opening of the Roosevelt County Dairy and Livestock Show which opens today.

Again Konjola Shows What It Can Accomplish

Prominent San Antonio Man Eager In His Franks Of New Medicine

MR. CHARLES OLIPHANT

"I am glad to endorse Konjola to any who suffer as I did," said Mr. Charles Oliphant, well-known San Antonio railroad man, 423 Lamar street, San Antonio. "About a year ago I suffered a breaking out on my skin. Little patches of pimples appeared and were called water-blisters. They itched and burned severely, and, though I tried many remedies I gained only temporary relief. From Konjola, I gained what I consider miraculous results. The breaking out disappeared within three weeks after I began taking Konjola. I had kidney trouble but now the pains in my back have disappeared also. I feel better in every way and have gained weight. I think Konjola is a very fine medicine."

Konjola is recommended over a six to eight weeks period and is designed to relieve ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Portales, New Mexico, at the New Mexico Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Boulder Dam Work Starts September 17

Secretary Wilbur to Drive First Spike for Rail Line to Site

$10,000,000 TO START

Model City, Highway and Diversion Tunnels to Be First Work

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8. — Details of the ceremony at Las Vegas, Nevada, September 17, which will commemorate the beginning of work on Boulder Canyon dam, were made public here today by Senator Key Pittman of Nevada.

Senator Pittman made his announcement upon receipt of a telegram from Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur.

Secretary Wilbur will drive the first spike made of Nevada silver, in the spur line of Union Pacific railroad will build to the brink of the Colorado river at Black Canyon site of the dam.

"This will be a national celebration," Senator Pittman said, "to commemorate actual beginning of work on the world's largest reclamation flood control and hydroelectric project."

Many Invitations

Senator Pittman said Secretary Wilbur was telegraphing invitations to governors, Colorado river commissions and other officials of the seven states in the Colorado River Basin. Officials of cities and irrigation projects along the river also are being invited.

Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation, Raymond F. Walker, chief engineer of the reclamation service, who will be in charge of the eight year construction program and Walter F. Young, United States resident engineer at Las Vegas, will participate in the ceremonies.

Plan Preliminary Work
Reclamation service plans for expenditures of the $10,000,000 appropriation for commencement of the work, call for construction of the Union Pacific 22 mile spur for $800,000; building of a model city to house dam workers for $525,000, and construction of a government operated road from the rim of the river 7.17 miles to the site of the dam for $1,600,000. The next step will be drilling of the 50 foot diameter diversion tunnels, which will carry the waters around the site during construction.

While it is called the Boulder dam, because the original tentative site was in Boulder Canyon, the 127-foot wall of masonry will be built at the mouth of Black Canyon, backing water 550 feet or half way up the Black Mountain. The reservoir, when full, will extend 120 miles up the river and attain a width in places of 30 miles.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to all our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in the sickness and death of our dear husband and father, May God bless you for it.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Thomas B. Bower, Pastor

We are planning a great day's program for next Sunday. An orchestra composed of high school band members will be on hand for the 11 o'clock hour and this you will enjoy.

At the morning service the pastor plans to speak upon this subject: "Is Heaven a Lost City." Those who have loved ones gone on to another world will find great comfort in this message. Those who are in doubt, those who are sorrowing and too, those who seem to care but little will find in this service, satisfying elements that will do them good.

Be on hand for Sunday School, a great school and a good place for anybody, Henry Taylor, Supt.

Leagues at 6:30 P. M. The young people are going in a great way. Come hear them.

Preaching services at 7:30 P. M.

Our new art glass windows are on hand and will soon be installed so we are still on the job with the building program. Make your plans now to go to church Sunday.

Roswell Will Send A Crowd to Portales

The Roosevelt county fair and livestock show at Portales is the big attraction in eastern New Mexico this week and a number of Roswell people are planning to attend. This show starts Thursday and will continue through Friday and Saturday. Roswell people will not all go on one day but a number are planning to go Friday.

C. J. Stilwell, president of the merchants association, will have a special committee to do personal work among the merchants to interest them in going to the Roosevelt county show to the DeBaca county fair, to the Curry county fair and to the Tri-State fair at Amarillo. The Amarillo fair and the Port Summer fair will be held next week, and the Curry county fair the week following.

County Democrats.....

We also wish to call attention to the slogan "Hoover Prosperity" under which the present Administration assumed the affairs of our country, the promises made by the Republican Party at that time and their failure, not only to live up to their promises but the terrible present condition of business as exists at this time in contrast to the glowing promises which they made. The principal causes of which are due to the Grundy Tariff Law enacted by the Republicans, which law has caused retaliatory tariff laws to be passed in almost all foreign nations, and the failure to enact needed and promised legislation, which in turn has caused a great decrease in export trade throwing millions of people out of employment, decreasing wages and bringing about a high cost of living to the great masses of the people, solely for the benefit of the few big powerful corporations and special interest. The plight of the American farmer being one of the blackest blots of the present time. Under the Tariff Law which was enacted to aid the farmer, wheat is 67c selling the lowest in twenty years, cotton 10c when at the same time the manufactured implements used by the farmers are costing more than ever in the history of the nation.

We further favor the strict enforcement of all criminal laws, both state and national, particularly the laws in favor of prohibition.

We endorse the record of our District and County Officials as being efficient and to the best interest of our County and District. We call attention to the extravagant management of the affairs of our State under the Republican rule, especially the administration of the highway and land departments, the owning and operating of some 700 motor vehicles by Republican Officials, which we believe will be in part some of the reasons why a change of administration will work to betterment of our State.

The following 32 delegates were elected each having one half vote. The delegation was instructed to vote as a unit and delegates present to cast the vote of the entire delegation.

C. M. Compton, Jr. G. T. Littlefield, Grant Gordon, J. W. Thompson, Mrs. C. V. Harris, R. H. Grissom, Joe Alinsworth, J. B. Priddy, Carl Reynolds, Mrs. Geo. McCormack, Joe Howard, Floyd Kennedy, J. G. Greaves, J. C. Compton, J. R. Poindexter, Geo. McCormack, Mrs. H. H. Buchanan, J. A. Fairly, R. G. Bryant, A. F. Jones, C. M. Compton, Mrs. Joe Cooper, Mrs. O. T. Littlefield, Mrs. J. B. Priddy, Mrs. Ike Hughes, T. E. Mears, Mrs. R. H. Grissom, W. D. Pate, and S. B. Fletcher.

It was ruled that no proxies be allowed, except in the precinct from which a regularly elected delegate could not attend, and then the proxy be allowed only to a representative named as a delegate from such precinct. Also that in the event that a delegate be called away from the convention, that he be allowed to issue his proxy to a delegate present with instructions as to the voting of the same.

The following were elected to the state executive committee, C. M. Compton, Jr. G. T. Littlefield, Mrs. Joe Howard, and Mrs. J. C. Compton.
