House delays Webb closing

Webb Air Force Base appears on its way to a reprieve of at least a year before any closing as a result of action in the House of Representatives in Washington late Friday.

By voice vote, the House added an amendment to the military construction bill which, if it becomes law, would force the Pentagon to give Congress a year's notice before shutting down any major military facility.

The bill specifically prohibits 13 base cuts, including Webb AFB, already proposed by the Pentagon without the Congressional review.

THE BILL ALSO would mandate that the Pentagon provide Congress with a detailed study on how proposed cuts would affect the local economy.

In connection with the announced Webb closing, the Air Force is already working on such an environmental impact study for a public hearing to be in Big Spring during July. The first draft of this study is expected to be released in the Federal Register in June, Pentagon officials have said.

IF CONGRESS accepts the first draft of the Air Force's impact statement, and if the bill becomes law, this would mean the earliest closing date for Webb would be mid-summer 1977. The Air Force had announced that it wants to close Webb by the end of this year.

If Congress requires the Air Force to give a year's notice from the final environmental impact statement which the Air Force says will not be ready until December of this year, this would mean the earliest possible closing date for Webb would be December 1977.

The military appropriations bill, which passed the House 299 votes to 14 and includes Friday's amendment, is now in the Senate for action, where observers on Capitol Hill predict it will be adopted speedily.

PRESIDENT GERALD FORD must sign the bill for it to become law, or Congress would have to override a veto.

In a statement prepared Friday evening following the House's action, Cong. Omar Burleson of Anson, who represents Big Spring in Washington, said:

"Although the Senate must yet act on this legislation, it is encouraging that this action has been taken to prohibit the use of funds for closure and transfer of major military installations until one year after the report on the impact of such proposed actions has been submitted to Congress."

BURLESON NOTED that the amendment gives the armed services committees of both the House and the Senate the right to review military decisions to close or reduce bases.

The congressman said the amendment provides for a delay of base closings which involve more than 500 civilian employes or 50 per cent of the base civilian population.

"In either case," Burleson noted, "Webb qualifies."

A fight on the floor of the House attempted to raise the number of civilian jobs to 700 before review would be required, but it failed. Webb still would have qualified for review.

THE REVIEW PLAN was proposed by House Democratic Leader Thomas O'Neill whose state of Massachusetts suffered heavy base closings two years ago and whose state would lose another 10,000 jobs should the announced plans to close Ft. Devens be carried through. The amendment was added to the $3.3 billion military construction bill.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., suggested the procedure would give Congress new ability to veto base reductions.

Some lawmakers objected that Congress cannot order defense spending cuts and then try to prevent base closing in congressional districts.

IN HIS COMMENTS to the Herald, Cong. Burleson said, "Long-range planning in these matters is greatly needed. A poorly planned attempt to 'cut the budget' can easily end up wasting more money than it saves."

Burleson noted that he voted for a similar amendment on April 9 to House Resolution 12384 (military construction bill) sponsored by O'Neill and Rep. William Cohen of Maine, but the effort failed.

In reviewing military base closing plans, the armed services committees would not have veto power, Burleson said, but they would be able to question decisions which they felt were not in line with national security or sound economy.

"AS YOU KNOW," Burleson said, "I have a deep concern about the closing of Webb Air Force Base, and I will certainly continue to do whatever I can to be helpful by means of this resolution and other efforts."

Rep. Ichord, the bill's floor manager, said he assumed the amendment would give Congress the power to act during the notice year to prevent any base closure.

Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., defended Congress getting involved in base closings decisions by saying there is little doubt that presidents have used politics in deciding which congressional districts should lose bases.

THE 13 INSTALLATIONS which would be protected from closing or cutbacks for a year are Craig Air Force Base, Ala.; Key West Naval Air Station, Fla.; Guam Naval Shipyard Repair Facility; Loring Air Force Base, Maine; Ft. Devens, Mass.; Richard-Gebaur Air Force Base, Mo.; Ft. Hamilton and Ft. Totten, N.Y.; Ft. Indiantown Gap, Pa.; Naval Resale Systems Office in Brooklyn, N.Y.; Defense Clothing Factory in Philadelphia, Pa.; and Corpus Christi Naval Air Station and Webb Air Force Base, Texas.

Other major items in the bill include $437 million for an advanced wind tunnel complex in Tennessee and $128 million for the Trident submarine base in Bangor, Wash.

The bill also includes $112 million to tighten security of nuclear weapons storage areas around the world, $47 million for security in the United States and $65 million abroad.

'It's a whole new ball game'

Leaders elated by decision

Positive signs that Congress is responding to pressures applied by a constituency alarmed over America's military muscle were seen by local leaders who either have been involved in moves to keep Webb AFB open or whose roles might be affected directly or indirectly by the facility's closure.

After a story broke on the decision of the House of Representatives to keep the Pentagon from closing or cutting 13 defense installations, including Webb, the concensus here was that the threat of losing Webb had certainly become less immediate and could conceivably become enjoined.

THE SENATE, of course, must act on the legislation passed by the lower house. After that, the bill would be referred to President Ford for approval or rejection.

Big Spring Mayor Wade Choate was not available for comment but Ralph Brooks, a former Air Force colonel who is now president of the local chapter of the Air Force Association, applauded the actions of the House, saying:

"I think it (the favorable vote) is a direct result of congressional leaders supporting us. I, of course, am delighted to know that our gloom about the possible closing of Webb has been dispelled. I think the news will serve as a tremendous spur to our economy, particularly in the construction and real estate areas."

WHEN ASKED how he felt about the action taken by the House of Representatives, Ron McNeil, Century Club chairman, remarked:

"I'm elated. Obviously, the hard work Mayor Choate, the Legislative Action Committee, the Chamber of Commerce, the news media in Big Spring, all the wonderful citizens who have written letters to their congressmen and our military friends who have been pulling for us — the credit has to go to them.

"It's a new ball game, and if we all keep pulling together I feel confident our goal will be reached."

Winston Wrinkle, a leader in the Republican party here and an active worker in the Ronald Reagan presidential campaign, reasons that Congress got the message that the public wants its Washington representatives to take a stronger stance on defense as a result of the recent presidential primaries.

COL. ROBERT A. OWENS, wing commander at Webb (soon to assume a new assignment in California), said the news of the decision by the lower house to block the closures caught him by surprise but suggested that positive action by Congress could be a more appropriate way to diffuse the threat of closure than through a planned Environmental Impact hearing.

Col. Owens said the House's action Friday was an indication to him that members of the congress are addressing themselves to the problem of shoring up the nation's defenses through appropriations.

"CONGRESS ALONE has the power to provide such funds," Col. Owens said. "And one segment of the Congress is indicating by this vote that it wants the bases kept open."

Owens, in a talk made before the American Business Club Friday, said:

"In a democracy, the people have to get involved in decision-making. They get involved either through their elected representatives or through action taken by committees they themselves organize . . . This is a dynamic society in which we live . . . Members of the military are public servants . . . we do what we are told."

Action/reaction: Park cop-out?

Q. Is there an answer as to why there are no toilet facilities or a drinking fountain in Birdwell Park? When you are there for an all-day family picnic it is highly inconvenient, especially with small children. Please don't quote vandalism as a reason. To me that sounds like a cop-out.

A. Jerry Foresyth, director of city parks and recreation, found it difficult to get around vandalism as an explanation for the lack of facilities in the park.

"There was a tile building on the east side of the park about this time last year with commodes and lavatories. But the lavatories were constantly torn from the walls by vandals, and the commodes were cracked and pulled out from the floor. Water ran all over everything," said Foresyth.

"There also used to be faucets on the east and west sides of the park, but vandals broke the tops of them off or left the water turned on all the time. They were removed and the toilet facilities were demolished last year," said Foresyth.

Foresyth further explained that the city has constructed concrete picnic tables at the park which vandals destroyed with hammers.

"It just gets too expensive to replace these facilities every month," said the director.

Study in persistence

With Tommy Hart

A Big Spring grandmother who took her first college course at Eastern New Mexico Junior College (now ENMU) in 1938 is qualifying for a degree at the University of Texas of the Permian Basin in Odessa this spring — 38 years later.

She is Mrs. Steve (Margie) Baker. The piece of parchment she will receive will enable her to pursue her duties fulltime as a teacher. Meanwhile, she plans to work toward her Master's degree.

MRS. STEVE (MARGIE) BAKER

Up to now, she has been teaching on a part-time basis. She hopes to join the local faculty, since her husband's work is here. They were married in 1940.

She took the basic courses at Eastern and was enrolled there for two years. After moving here, where the two of them raised a daughter, Margie resumed her schooling nine years later at Howard College when she undertook a study in shorthand.

It wasn't until June 1972, however, that Mrs. Baker decided that she wanted to devote whatever time it took to get a degree. She took first one extension course offered by Sul Ross State University, then two. She began to devote her evenings to the pursuit of learning.

In the fall of 1974, she returned to Howard College where she earned enough credits to graduate. She transferred to UTPB in January 1975 where she stayed until she qualified for her degree. She has majored in Sociology, Speech and Secondary Education. She's been a substitute teacher for four years.

Steve and Margie are the parents of Mrs. Don Cook, wife of an Air Force flying captain. He is stationed at March Field in California. The Bakers' grandchildren are Stephane Dahl, age 9, and Christopher Cook, 4.

Over the years, Mrs. Baker has held a number of jobs to help finance her schooling and help keep the family larder filled. She was a theater manager, an apartment house manager, worked for Dr. M. H. Bennett, served as manager of the Montgomery Ward fashion department when it first opened at its new location and was self-employed.

Her husband was an outstanding football player for both Big Spring High School and Eastern.

Demos favor 'purity'

Howard County Democrats joined together, 7:30 p.m. Saturday, to choose a slate of 16 delegates to attend the State Democratic Convention. Of these, 11 will go as delegates committed to former governor Jimmy Carter, while the remaining five delegates will go uncommitted.

The 16 delegates are Larry Shaw, C. E. Gressett, Kenneth Howell, D. A. Brazel, James Baird, E. O. McNeese, Delano Shaw, Harvey Hooser, Mrs. Ray Bedford, Raford Dunagan, Jim Baum, John Roemer, Mrs. Ray Echols, Bill Tune, Clovis Phinney and Troy Bryant.

In addition to electing delegates, the Democrats passed five resolutions which will be presented at the State Convention in hopes that they will be adopted as part of the party platform.

Unanimously approved was the resolution that the Estate Tax Exemption be increased from $60,000 to $200,000 as proposed in the Burleson Bill now before Congress.

Also adopted was the resolution that the Texas Legislature meet in annual sessions rather than biannual sessions as is now its practice.

Those present also adopted a resolution that state primary elections be held along party lines. Under this resolution, only those registered with a certain party would be allowed to participate in the primary elections of that particular party. This would include registered Independents, who would only be permitted to vote for Independent candidates. Those wishing to switch parties must do so 90 days before the day of the party primary election.

Howard County Democrats also favored a resolution which calls for a constitutional amendment or legislation banning the use of forced busing of school children to achieve racial balance.

The fifth resolution called for no change in auto insurance premiums as a result of receiving a speeding ticket by exceeding the 55-mile-per-hour limit up to 70 miles per hour. This would only apply outside the city limits.

Alternate delegates to the state convention were also elected in precinct caucuses. They are Dorothy Humphreys, Halbert Hanson, Claudia Shaw, Ray Nichols, Jim Abreo, Milton Isaiah, J. C. Woodard, Walt Finley, Jack Watkins, Bob Merrick, Mrs. R. A. Merrick, Cecil Riordan and Ann Bryant.

At the close of the meeting, Democratic County Chairman Raford Dunagan, who was also elected permanent convention chairman, was given a unanimous vote of appreciation for a "job well done" by those in attendance.

Crash kills Big Springer

A three-car pileup at the corner of 2nd and Gregg resulted in the death of a Big Spring man, 11:04 p.m. Friday. Johnny Hodges, 18, 1908 Runnels, suffered massive internal injuries in the accident, and was pronounced dead at Malone and Hogan Hospital, 11:50 p.m. Friday.

Hodges was a passenger in a car driven by Ronald Jay Bishop, 1903 Runnels. The vehicle was southbound on Gregg and in the process of turning left onto 2nd when a collision occurred with a northbound vehicle driven by Rebecca Forgus Swafford, Chapparal Trailer Park, and a westbound vehicle driven by Howard George McBride of Fort Worth.

Other passengers in Bishop's car were Donna Batt, Rt. 2 Box 170 B, Vicki Allen Witte, 2617 Central, Gorden Wesley Taylor, 1908 Runnels, and an unnamed female juvenile.

Jailbreak leader did it for money

DALLAS (AP) — The man who led the daring jail break that freed 14 U.S. citizens from a Mexican jail last March is a former U.S. Marine sergeant who did it "for money and the adventure involved," according to his attorney.

"He is just a good old typical East Texas boy from Gladewater," attorney Ernest Kuehne said of his client Don Fielden, the man who led the raid on the Piedras Negras jail in the predawn hours of March 12.

It was Fielden, who — armed with a sawed off shotgun, two Spanish words he couldn't remember, and accompanied by two other Dallasites, including a 15-year-old youth — broke into the jail, held 10 policemen at bay and then released the U.S. prisoners, all charged with drug offenses.

The raid was originally intended to free only one prisoner — Sterling "Cooter" Davis Jr. — son of Dr. Sterling Blake Davis, a Dallas psychologist.

Protective services funding needed

County asked to help children

County Commissioners Court will be asked Monday to help fund the State Department of Public Welfare Protective Services unit here.

While the state is spending more than $100,000 yearly to operate the Protective Services office here, the county will be asked to contribute an estimated $12,044.

The proposed budget would cover costs of 12 children in foster care and two under institutional care daily.

UNDER THE PROPOSED contract, the county would pay for all foster care. But, in cases involving children covered by the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program, the county would be reimbursed.

The county would be expected to pay for clothing, dental care, pyschiatric and psychological treatment and some medical costs incurred by foster-care children.

In seeking county financial participation in this part of their activities, state welfare personnel outlined other activities:

"Our function, as a community resource, includes protective services to children ranging in age from birth to 18 years of age, foster home placement for abused and neglected children, adoption services, services to unmarried parents, licensing of foster homes and counseling to families and children.

"We request no fee for these services and operate on a 24-hour day, seven days per week basis," the proposal states.

The outline also states:

"FOSTER HOMES provide temporary security for our children and offer much stability and affection for them until a permanent placement is established or until they are returned to their parents...

"In some cases we are able to work with parents in helping them resolve their family problems so the child can be returned to his own home.

"IN OTHER CASES placing the child in a foster home for a short period of time gives us the time and opportunity to more effectively evaluate the child's needs and to find a permanent placement for the child, either in an adoptive home or suitable child-caring institution...

"Protective Services are designed to care for and protect the children in our area from abusive and neglectful situations. The protective service worker may receive referrals from interested and concerned persons such as law officials, relatives, schools, health officials, courts and individuals....

"The Protective Services unit performs investigations for other department officials in Texas and agencies from other states and counties...

"Requests may be made by the courts for home evaluation in disputed custodies and other investigations...

"WOMEN IN OUR community request aid in regard to unwanted pregnancies each year. The females may be helped through referrals made to unwed mothers' homes, agency adoptive resources and abortion counseling resources...

"We do not solicit or counsel an unwed mother in any specific regard. We give the women information, and it is their choice as to the resource they feel is the most appropriate for them...."

The proposal drew vocal support and opposition when presented to commissioners court previously.

The West Texas Nonmetropolitan Unit of the National Association of Social Workers here has sent a letter supporting the contract with state welfare this year.

Ronald W. Sweatt, supervisor of the Protective Services unit here, will present the proposal to commissioners court at 10 a.m.

The meeting will start at 9 a.m. with a conference with County Engineer Neel Barnaby and discussion of Rockhouse Road drainage.

At 11 a.m., County Judge Bill Tune hopes to switch the court's attention to considering a paving and seal coating program for 1976.

The purchase order policy will be discussed.

A barricade, ambulance and signs for the Jaycee Air Show at Howard County Airport will be considered.

Inspecting county property, approving purchase of a motor grader and approving bills are other items.

75 instructor pilots to leave Webb soon

The phase-out of USAF Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT) at Webb AFB has resulted in additional manpower changes besides the deletion of civilian jobs announced earlier.

A total of 75 instructor pilots will leave the local base earlier than their end of tour dates. Ten officers were named for departure in August whose prior departure dates were from October this year through January 1977.

The Personnel office at the base was asked to identify 49 T-37 and 16 T-38 instructor pilots for earlier reassignment.

Coinciding with the UPT reduction, the 82nd Flight Training Squadron will be phased out next month upon completion of T-37 training for UPT Class 77-02.

The class of eight students is the only UPT one remaining in the 82nd as Class 77-01 went on to the 83rd FTS this week to begin the T-38 phase.

Students in the fixed wing conversion training will be transferred to the 3389th FTS along with reassignment of the instructor pilots remaining at the local installation.

The Air Force Military Personnel Center, in directing the manning reductions, issued this statement:

"The message results from a prior ATC decisioin to phase-out undergraduate pilot training at Webb in order to even out student loads at ATC bases. It in no way presupposes a decision to close Webb AFB, and other programs will continue unchanged pending a USAF decision."

Shaw joined unknown's camp, now going to national convention

By MARJ CARPENTER

"Back when the delegate candidates were first nominated in the 30th Senatorial District, hardly anybody had heard of Jimmy Carter," Delano Shaw, one of the three elected delegates said here Saturday.

Shaw spread out a letter from Carter, which he had received following the primary, commending him for his choice and pointing out the national momentum that has been gained by the candidate.

Shaw and two Wichita Falls women were elected the Carter delegates for this district back early in the year. Persons considered the leaders in the party were named Bentsen delegates at that time. They have since pledged their support to Carter, when they saw how the statewide primaries developed.

"There was a mini-convention in Kansas City back in December 1974," Shaw said. "That was the first time we ever heard of Carter as a candidate. Nobody dreamed at that point that he would be a serious one.

"Mrs. Joyce Powers from Wichita Falls contacted me early in the year and asked me to go to the committee meeting where we would set up a Carter delegation for this district. I went and I ended up a delegate."

Delano laughingly said that some of his friends originally asked him if he was doing it for publicity. "I told them I was backing Carter because I thought he was the answer for the Democratic party. I got enough publicity when I was born."

Delano is one of the three triplets who were born here in 1936 and named, Franklin, Delano and Roosevelt. They were featured in news pictures all over the United States at that time.

"You would think that with names like that, we would all be interested in politics. Some of us are and some of us aren't. One of my brothers, not one of the triplets, really was startled when my name turned up on the ballot. Even though I had told him I was a delegate, he didn't know the name was going to be on the ballot," Shaw added.

Shaw also had a letter from Charles Stenholm of Stamford, committeeman for the 30th Senatorial District, with instructions concerning the county convention Saturday.

"I'm real excited about the entire prospect — the State Convention, the National Convention and the election. I'm really proud to be one of Carter's delegates," Shaw added.

GOP delegates named

Granberry slaps Demos

Howard County Republicans met 2 p.m. Saturday in the 118th District Courtroom to select five delegates to attend the party's state convention in Fort Worth.

Those named to represent the county are Polly Mays, Mary Joy Cowper, Ben Bancroft, Bill Sheppard and Winston Wrinkle.

Alternate delegates are Mrs. Dorothy Hall, Akin Simpson, Mrs. Ruth Penner, John Elrod and David Elrod.

Amidst red, white and blue bunting adorning the courtroom, Republicans listened to recollections of past campaigns and a plea to "get involved" from Jim Granberry, the Republican nominee for governor in 1974 and ex-Lubbock mayor.

"The Republicans are growing in Texas. One thing to remember is that we fly a flag here in Howard County, in Lubbock County and in the entire United States. That flag is the banner of truth — the flag of conservatism," said Granberry.

A total of 10 resolutions were adopted at the convention. Of these, most dealt with proposed changes in national policies.

An exception to this is the resolution that the President, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Air Force personally examine the facts in regard to the possible closure of Webb AFB.

Closely related to this resolution is another which calls for the abolishment of "artificial jobs being created," with funds to be used instead for a stronger military defense budget.

Another resolution was drafted in opposition to "any legislation that would keep law-abiding citizens from obtaining guns." The same resolution calls for legislation requiring a mandatory sentence for a person who has committed a felony with a gun in his possession.

Like the Democrats, the Republicans also adopted a resolution in support of a constitutional amendment to halt forced busing of school children.

Other resolutions called for: a halt to Federal deficit spending; opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment; the decentralization of federal and state welfare programs; the adoption of six-year terms for federal judges; a more equitable approach to detente; and support for the emerging Republican candidate, whether President Ford or Ronald Reagan.

By the time Howard County Democrats had convened for their convention in the courtroom, the red, white and blue bunting had been removed.

Ford dedicates statue of Truman, blasts debate

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — President Ford said Saturday that America's foreign policy "should not be demagogued, damaged or derailed" in election-year debate because the country's enemies are watching and listening.

The nation's 38th president paused in his campaigning to pay homage to the 33rd. Ford dedicated a statue to Harry S. Truman, placed a wreath on his grave, and visited his widow.

There was no direct mention of challenger Ronald Reagan, who leads Ford in the committed delegate count for the Republican National Convention 366 to 292.

But the President alluded to Reagan's strong attacks on administration foreign policy.

"It is not too much to expect of a mature 200-year-old nation that its free political debate be conducted responsibly and rationally in the sensitive areas of national security and our relations with other countries," the President said.

And he quoted Truman: "I have never felt that popularity and glamor are fundamentals on which the chief executive of the government should operate ... A man who is influenced by the polls or is afraid to make decisions which may make him unpopular is not a man to represent the welfare of the country."

Ford stopped off in Missouri, which has no primary, after two days in Nebraska, where he sought his native state's 25 convention delegate votes next Tuesday. Ford has made no appearances in West Virginia, which has 28 Republican delegate seats at stake next Tuesday.

Neither Nebraska nor West Virginia permits crossover voting. Ford's spokesmen blamed Democratic voting in some of his last four primary losses.

Former Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia was in Nebraska at the same time as Ford, telling a breakfast meeting in Omaha he has begun accumulating names of possible vice presidential running mates. But Carter said he won't "cast out" names until the Democratic convention in New York.

He said he wants a vice president "who would be best if something happened to me." He also said his vice president should be compatible on basic philosophies and issues. A lesser factor he said, is balancing the ticket geographically and with his own experience.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., who is trying to stop Carter, spoke to a labor meeting in Washington as he tried to pick up steam for the nearby Maryland primary May. 18.

And Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., who is making a stand against Carter in Michigan's May 18 primary, accused Carter of "trying to be all things to all people" during a day of handshaking and interviews at several Detroit-area shopping centers.

Writer Ivan Illich says we are literally being medicined to death. In his book, "Medical Nemesis" (Phantheon, $8.95), the astringent Illich makes a good case for such a claim.

Illich pictures us as a passive, dependent citizenry which is told how to define its own health and not allowed to define its own illness.

The writer uses a pivotal word, "iatrogenesis," which means doctor-made disease. Illich concedes that some treatments and some drugs have been welcome advances but says we've been fooled into thinking all health flows from the white-coated men we've made into earthly gods. As they dispense, we accept, with no questions asked.

Illich recalls a 1962 Food and Drug Administration study of all 4,300 prescription drugs which had appeared since WW II. The FDA concluded that only two of five were effective and many were dangerous.

We're healthier, says you? And people are living longer than they ever did. Illich responds that life expectancy has leveled off. As for health, he says: "The combined death rate from scarlet fever, diptheria, whooping cough and measles among children up to 15 shows that nearly 90 per cent of the total decline in mortality between 1860 and 1965 had occurred before the introduction of antibiotics and... immunization.

"In part, this recession may be attributed to improved housing... but by far the most important factor was... better nutrition. In poor countries today, diarrhea and upper-respiratory tract infections occur more frequently, last longer, and lead to higher mortality where nutrition is poor, no matter how much or how little medical care is available."

Illich contends that society has become so thoroughly medicalized it has given its medical establishment unbounded powers.

"Unsick people have come to depend on professional care for the sake of their future health," he writes. "The result is a morbid society that demands universal medicalization and a medical establishment that certifies universal morbidity."

A professor of biochemical communication at Columbia University, Eric Martin, says that in the United States alone, some 1.5 million... patients hospitalized annually are admitted because of adverse reactions to drugs.

It was Oliver Wendell Holmes in 1883 who, in effect, said the fish would suffer but it would be better for people if all medicines were thrown into the sea.

In a moving appeal to rally all Texans, writing from a tenuous and perilous position inside the walls of the Alamo, Lt. Col. William B. Travis fashioned a letter that did much to galvanize the spirit and the determination of a young nation. Dedicating himself to the task Feb. 24, 1836, Travis put these words to paper:

"To the people of Texas and all Americans in the world, fellow citizens and compatriots:

"I am besieged by 1,000 or more of the Mexicans under Santa Anna — I have sustained continual bombardment and cannonade for 24 hours and have not lost a man — The enemy has demanded a surrender at discretion, otherwise, the garrison are to be put to the sword, if the fort is taken — I have answered the demand with a cannon shot, and our flag still waves proudly from the walls — I shall never surrender or retreat. Then, I call on you in the name of liberty, of patriotism and everything dear to the American character, to come to our aid, with all dispatch — The enemy is receiving reinforcements daily and will no doubt increase to three or four thousand in four or five days. If this call is neglected, I am determined to sustain myself as long as possible and die like a soldier who never forgets what is due to his own honor and that of his country — victory or death — (Signed) William Barrett Travis, Lt. Col. Comdt.

P.S. — The Lord is on our side — When the enemy appeared in sight we had not three bushels of corn — We have since found in deserted houses 80 or 90 bushels and got into the walls 20 or 30 head of Beeves — Travis."

It was Ambrose Bierce who defined Monday thusly: "In Christian countries, the day after the baseball game." Bierce also described an orphan as "a living person whom death has deprived of the power of filial ingratitude."

Contract okay sought from airline workers

DALLAS (AP) — Southwest Airlines and Airline Dist. 146 of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers will present a contract to its members for ratification Monday or Tuesday.

Both sides announced Thursday a tentative agreement on a contract for some ground personnel but would not give details, or length of the contract.

The union had rejected an management offer on Wednesday.

J.D. Crow, president of Airline Dist. 146 said about 90 of the airline's reservations, ramp and provisioning personnel have been without a contract since they voted to join the union last October.

KLONDIKE — Parents in the Klondike School District are asked to bring records for all children reaching his or her fifth birthday by Sept. 1, 1976 to a preregistration for kindergarten students to be held Tuesday at Klondike Elementary Auditorium.

The registration will be held from 10-12 a.m. Parents should bring a birth certificate and innoculation records, according to Supt. J. W. Massingale.

Deaths

Doris Ditto

Funeral services were held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for Mrs. Darrell (Doris) Ditto, 42, who died at 1:20 p.m. Friday at her residence following a lengthy illness.

The Rev. Collins Moore, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist officiated and burial was in Trinity Memorial Park. Born Dec. 14, 1932 in Big Spring, she was a housewife. She married Ditto June 15, 1962 in Big Spring.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Ronnie Reney and Mrs. Charles Myers, both of Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Jackie Wolfe and Mrs. Bessie Hodnett, both of Big Spring and Mrs. Jean Little, Chicago, Ill.

Six brothers also survive including Fredrick Thomas, Conway, Ark., Billy Frank Thomas, Anchorage, Alaska; Jerry Thomas and Donald Thomas, both of Sweetwater, R. D. Thomas, Big Spring, and Jimmy Ray Thomas, Lubbock.

Pallbearers were Dean Long, Bill Adams, T. J. Walls, David Myers, Jay McNair and J. O. Whitefield.

Johnny Hodges

Johnny Westley Hodges, 18, died at 11:50 p.m. Friday in a local hospital, as a result of injuries suffered a short time earlier in an automobile accident here.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at the 11th and Birdwell Lane Church of Christ with Eugene Cardinal, minister of the church, officiating.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

He was born March 11, 1958 in Kermit and was employed at Berkley Homes Inc. He had been a resident of Big Spring since infancy.

Hodges was a member of the 11th and Birdwell Lane Church of Christ and attended Big Spring schools.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Arbuckle, Henderson; two brothers, Lonnie Hodges and Danny Hodges, both of Henderson; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hodges, Big Spring; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Vera Humphreys, Post; two step-brothers, Charles Arbuckle, Big Spring, and David Arbuckle, Muskogee, Okla.; two step-sisters, Mrs. Sherry Newsom and Miss Carol Arbuckle, both of Big Spring; paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lauderdale, Lamesa, and a number of aunts and uncles.

Vandals damage clinic building

Another case of vandalism causing extensive damage to the old Malone and Hogan Clinic, 901 S. Main, was reported 4:15 p.m. Friday. According to reports, vandals broke 28 windows on the east side of the building, and attempted to remove a first-floor door, breaking its glass panel and prying it from its frame. Damage is estimated at $3,000.

City police arrested two juvenile youths Friday morning and two more were expected to be taken into custody in connection with a case of vandalism at the Intech building, according to City Detective Leroy Spires.

Damage estimates have been revised in the case which occurred between 5 p.m. Tuesday and 5 a.m. Wednesday. Previous estimates for the destruction of seven light fixtures and a door had been set at $1,525. Estimates have now been raised to $2,550.

Juvenile granted more time for appeal

EASTLAND — The 11th Texas Court of Civil Appeals has granted an attorney for a Big Spring juvenile more time to file a statement of facts.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton had transferred a case against Ismael Juarez Jr., 15, 1003 NW 2nd St., from juvenile court to criminal court, where Juarez was to be tried as an adult.

But Richard Abalos, the Odessa attorney representing the youth, appealed the decision to try Juarez as an adult.

Juarez is charged with participating in the Feb. 22 robbery of a donut shop here. Andrews Grosse, 16, was stabbed numerous times during the robbery by two youths, police said.

Juarez has been released on a $2,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena Jr.

Odessa pilot down in ocean, assumed dead

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — A wide-ranging air search was resumed Saturday for an Air Force pilot from Odessa, Tex., missing and presumed dead in the crash of a T38 jet off the Virginia coast.

A Coast Guard spokesman here said an aircraft from the Elizabeth City, N.C., Coast Guard station conducted search patterns 68 miles south of the crash site during the morning without success.

An Air Force plane joined the search later, and between them the two aircraft were expected to cover a 2,700-square-mile area, the spokesman said.

The pilot, Capt. James V. Phillips, 33, of Odessa, has been missing since he and his copilot, Lt. Neil G. Kacena, 25, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, ejected when their plane came down Thursday while on a training mission over the Atlantic, 70 miles off the coast.

Kacena was plucked from a life raft by a Navy helicopter and was not seriously injured, but Phillips was not found although his opened parachute and helmet were discovered floating in the water.

Phillips, attached to Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada, was on temporary assignment at Langley AFB at Hampton, Va.

Sixteen vie for titles

Zales-Herald finalists named

Four finalists each from four different high schools have been announced by the Big Spring Herald to be guests of honor at 6 p.m. Thursday night at the Zales-Herald Youth Achievement banquet at the Big Spring Country Club.

Listed in alphabetical order, the list includes Big Spring High School representatives Brad Carr, Mary John Cherry, Paige Little and Ronnie Mullins.

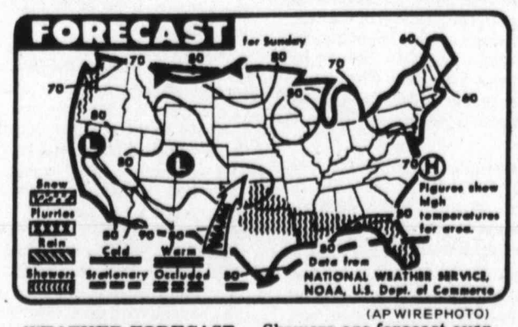

From Coahoma High School, the four finalists are Michael Jarrell Barbee, Debbie Fryrear, Gary Roberts and Nancy Ruthe Wood.

From Sands High School, the four finalists are Andy Anderson, Frosty Floyd, Lynn Hopper and Mary Kaye Hunt.

The sixteen finalists and their dates and their parents will be guests of honor at the dinner Thursday. One winner will be named from each school.

Invited school officials will also be guests of honor. The speaker at the event this year is to be Robert Newhouse, running back of the Dallas Cowboys, last year's National Football Conference champions.

Private directory assistance begins

DALLAS (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. may not like giving out telephone numbers but Tom Keese says he's "having a ball" with his new directory assistance service.

On May 1, the phone company began charging Dallas customers a dime for each information call after five free calls.

Two days later Keese began to give phone numbers from the latest edition of the Dallas phone book to callers who dialed AGENT 36.

"I only have 80 per cent of the numbers because I don't have the new listings," Keese said.

Keese said he has heard nothing from the phone company about his operation.

"I don't know why everyone asks about the phone company," he said in a telephone interview interrupted numerous times while he looked up numbers.

"I have to assume that if the phone book is printed and available at the library there's nothing wrong with a friend giving this information out over the phone," Keese said.

The 52-year-old former salesman said he hopes to finance his operation by selling spots to businesses for their recorded advertisements to be played for the caller while Keese looks up a number.

School board to review school behavior rules

A review of responsibilities concerning student behavior and a consideration of an amendment to student suspension policy will be top items discussed at the regular meeting of the Big Spring school board at 5:15 p.m. Monday.

A transition of federal programs management, the purchase of a new cafeteria van, and a discussion of the scope of athletic programs for 1976-77 will also be top items on the agenda.

Other action will include re-election of personnel, a discussion of the retirement policy, disposition of delinquent tax property, and reports on the Title IX requirements, the bids for Marcy sidewalk and College Heights air conditioning and routine reports.

Command shuffled at training wing

Several senior officers at Webb AFB will be reassigned within the 78th Flying Training Wing, according to Col. Robert A. Owens, wing commander.

Col. Roy D. Dayton, presently the deputy commander for Resource Management, will become the deputy commander for Maintenance. It was previously announced that Col. Harry A. Spannaus, the current Maintenance deputy, will become wing commander on June 8 when Colonel Owens departs for Norton AFB, Calif., to be deputy director of Aerospace Safety at the Air Force Inspection and Safety Center.

Lt. Col. Stanley C. Hanson, a colonel selectee, will replace Col. Dayton. Col. Hanson previously served as commander of the 3389th Flying Training Squadron at Webb.

Lt. Col. Jerry S. Grimes, also a colonel selectee, will be assigned to the 78th Air Base Group and become the base commander later this summer. A reassignment to another base for Col. Robert F. Brodman, the incumbent base commander, is pending and will be announced at a later date. Colonel Grimes until recently was the commander of the 83rd Flying Training Squadron at Webb.

Malone-Hogan crafts show held all week

Big Spring hospitals will join the nation's 7,000 hospitals in observing National Hospital Week beginning today.

The theme for the celebration, "Healthy Birthday, America!", emphasizes the efforts hospitals are making to help and encourage individuals to stay healthy.

Included in the theme of Hospital Week is the idea that while local hospitals are dedicated to caring for the ill, they also want the community to know that their interest in its well being extends beyond treatmenet in an institution. They also feel an obligation to educate people about steps to take which will make valuable contributions to one's own good health.

The theme stresses that caring for the sick is the hospitals' reason for being. But more, teaching patients how to stay well once they are released, and encouraging them to stay healthy, are very imporant elements in total care.

National Hospital Week is an annual observance sponsored by the American Hospital Association and its members to give people an opportunity to learn more about the hospitals in their community.

Auto accident inspires suit

A Big Spring mother is suing for personal injuries she and a baby daughter are said to have suffered in a July 1974 traffic accident.

Cherie Dorton is suing individually and on behalf of her daughter, Kristina Kay Krueger, who was one-year-old at the time of the accident, according to the petition.

Strain Brothers Inc., San Angelo, and Billy David Leverett, a truck driver from Brownwood, are the defendants in the suit filed Friday in 118th District Court.

The plaintiffs want $279,000 for the auto-truck accident which happened on the IS-20 north service road.

Brown, white, black, and red men hunt

Ethnic clubs search for child

Police Capt. Benny Newman said, "I'm embarrassed to say...we don't have a damned thing to go on."

Nicole Moore was grabbed by a man while the child played near her home with two small friends. The two friends told police the man covered the child's mouth then dragged her into a station wagon and drove away.

The FBI threw 20 agents into the case while about 200 Indians from Dallas, Oklahoma and Arizona searched the Trinity River bottom and combed Dallas' Oak Cliff section where Nicole lived with her mother, Linda Moore.

Glenn Rosenqueist, the FBI's assistant agent in charge in Dallas, said, "We've got quite a few volunteers and that's always encouraging, but the river bottom is not the easiest place to search."

Miss Moore was under a doctor's care Saturday after issuing tearful, week-long appeals for the child's safe return. Rewards of $2,000 have been offered—half coming from an anonymous donor.

Members of the African Bandits, Brown Berets, American Indian Center and Dallas Inter-Tribal Center fanned out along the river bottom during the day.

"These are areas which would be convenient for the disposal of a body and, although we don't like to think about that at this point, it has to be considered," said Lt. Jack Faulkner.

Helicopters joined patrol cars, mounted policemen and searchers on foot in the quest for clues to the dark-eyed child's whereabouts.

One of the searchers, Clarence Little of the Inter-Tribal Center, said the FBI and the police have "been more than helpful."

"They've all done everything possible," said Little, a Creek-Seminole Indian. "They're working as hard on this case as they would for the daughter of a wealthy person."

Police said Miss Moore previously lived in Arizona and the child's father, Larry Kassanaviod, is a native of Lawton, Okla.

Residents of the neighborhood said school crossing guards have had little to do this week since most mothers have begun picking up their children after school.

"If anybody wants to get anywhere in the neighborhood, they go by car. There's been no walking lately," said John Flanco.

Friday move could be pivotal

It's too early to tell for sure, but Friday's action by the House of Representatives in Washington could signal the turning point in the fight to save Webb Air Force Base.

THE AMENDMENT passed late Friday afternoon (see story on Page 1) shows that the House has changed its attitude on defense spending.

The congressmen, sensing the grass-roots voter support for keeping America strong, no longer want spending pared.

They did not miss the signals that voters are sending by favoring primary candidates stronger on defense.

The mood of Congress is such now that it clearly wants to see the sweeping manpower and base cuts announced this spring by the Ford Administration reviewed very, very closely, and even reversed.

Not just in Big Spring but across the country, Americans have expressed dismay at the 165 base cutbacks and closings. At a time when the Russian conventional military strength keeps growing, it just does not make political sense, or any kind, to continue reducing our own manpower.

If the House amendment to the military appropriations bill becomes law, it would block closings or cutbacks at 13 major bases, including Webb, until Congress has time to review them.

For Webb, it means there could be no closing for at least a year and possibly not for two.

The amendment is aimed at giving Congress a voice in base closings, and I think it should have one. I mentioned in the Thursday publisher's corner that this movement was afoot in Congress, and I can understand why.

LESS THAN TWO years ago, Congress was appropriating millions of dollars for needed facilities at Webb — now the Air Force wants to close it?

This is not good business, and it's terrible politics. Congress feels that, since the military asked it for the money to build and improve these bases, it should have at least the right of review before the Pentagon kisses off $128 million in assets in a closing such as Webb.

Just how much voice this amendment will give Congress is difficult to determine. Although it does not specifically include veto power over any base closing, the amendment would prohibit the spending of money to close a base without Congressional review.

If this is applied on a case-by-case basis, perhaps the Pentagon may not be able to spend money to close any base unless Congress agrees.

If this is true, Big Spring will be in good shape, for Webb has support in Congress.

Will the measure become law? an aide in Congressman Omar Burleson's office told me Saturday that there is confidence that the amendment will clear the Senate easily because of the Senate's prodefense stance.

But will President Gerald Ford sign it? He'd better. His ox is mired in the ditch already on the issue of defense. If he didn't get the signal from the Texas primary on that issue, he's a lame duck and doesn't know it.

THE HOUSE action is an extremely optimistic sign for Webb, the first concrete reason for optimism since the March 10 announcement that Webb was a candidate to be closed.

I think that we can expect to see the environmental impact timetable continue as previously announced. The statement from the Air Force will come in June. The public hearing will be in Big Spring during July. The difference now is that Congress has served notice that it will be watching with a most critical eye.

The closing of Webb can be demonstrated to be wrong for the country, absurd economics and very harmful to an isolated, local environment.

Now, for the first time, it appears it might not happen.

Thoughts while attending the county Democratic convention:

Save your money, Hubert. You have done gone and missed the train to the White House.

THE COUNTY cynic doesn't quite know how to face the Presidential race now. It seems almost an-American to have that kind of race without HHH.

It's getting confusing for Texas Democrats who were first Uncommitted for Okie Fred Harris and then Uncommitted for Humphrey. How can you be Uncommitted for Nobody?

Texas politicians are beginning to catch on to the media event. That's where a candidate goes on radio to invite people to watch a TV show on which he blasts the local newspaper.

Why? "Women's liberation," Dr. George Claus, director of social services says.

WASHINGTON — The Church Report on the CIA revealed that many newspapermen were on the CIA payrolls and some of them still are. The report refused to name names so one has only his own suspicions to go on as to who is still a journalist as well as a part-time agent.

THE OTHER day I was in the city room of a large metropolitan newspaper. I glanced over the shoulder of a friend who was typing, "The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog, the quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog, the quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog."

"That's a pretty good lead for a story," I commented. "Where do you go from there?"

He immediately covered it up with his arm. "You weren't supposed to see that," he said angrily.

"Why not?" I think it's a great story. I haven't heard of a quick brown fox jumping over a lazy dog in years."

"It's not really a story about a quick brown fox. I just got a tip from Vice President Rockefeller's office that there are 400 Communists working in Sen. Everett Dirksen's office."

"Dirksen's dead,"

"Yes, that's what makes the story interesting. Why would the Commies have 400 agents working for a dead senator?"

"But how would the reader know the story about the quick brown fox has to do with the Rockefeller leak about the Commies?"

"The copy boy decodes it."

"You mean he works for "the company,' too?"

"SURE. IF he didn't and I handed in this lead he'd throw me out the window. But for heaven's sakes, don't let on that you know because the news editor would get in terrible trouble with the managing editor, who in turn would catch it from the editor."

"Don't tell me they all work for the CIA?"

"It's hard to say. My only contact is with the copy boy who picks up a page from the floor as I crumple it up and throw it away. Where it goes from there I have no idea."

"Does the editor know you work for the CIA on the side?"

"I'm not sure. The other day he called me in and gave me a fountain pen that squirted LSD. He said he wanted me to interview the man in the street with it."

"What did he want the man in the street to say?"

"He said it didn't matter. He was more interested in how the pen worked."

"You did it, of course."

"Certainly. It was either that or take my cyanide pill."

"You carry cyanide pills?"

"Does't every reporter? Suppose you were covering a fire and you were stopped by a fire marshal and he asked you what you were doing there. You'd either tell him or take the pill."

"Doesn't it get confusing to work for two masters?" I asked.

"NO, ACTUALLY it works to your advantage. I got a Pulitzer Prize last year for this story."

He showed it to me and I started reading, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country, now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country, now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country, now is the time . . ."

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

Peddlers

They mostly drove old black jalopy trucks and came around during the warmer months. When a peddler's truck screeched to a dusty halt in front of our house, the poor man would hardly have time to look around before three eager, inquisitive children would be standing beside him, stretching necks to see what he might bring out.

He would make his way to the rear of the truck and throw open the big door. Inside were rows of shelves with all sorts of boxes, bottles, cans and wooden cases of things yet unopened. Pots and pans hung from hooks. There were black leather satchels and rolls and coils of rope and twine, ribbons and lace.

Further back in the truck there was usually a bedroll because most of the peddlers spent the nights by the side of the road.

He would grab up an open box with a strap handle that went over his shoulder and pick up a black satchel with his other hand, then we would usher him to the house.

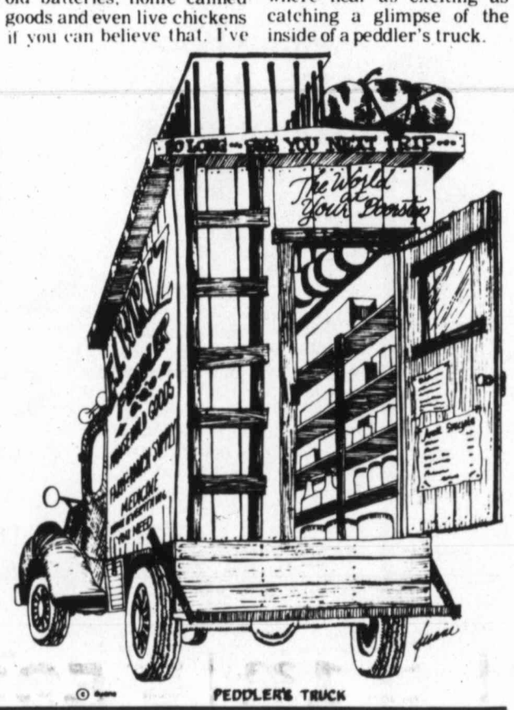

Mother would not make an appearance until he actually knocked on the door, even though she had been watching all the goings on through the curtains at the kitchen window. I guess she didn't want to appear to be overly eager to see his wares.

She would offer him a chair and he would unfold his satchel and spread out his goods on the floor, rambling off the names, uses, benefits and price of each item so fast and with such flare that we were amazed at his knowledge. He had all kinds of ointments, salves, drops, powders and pills — liniment and laxatives and patent medicines, guaranteed stain removers, along with sewing supplies like pins and needles, thimbles, darning eggs, thread, buttons and embroidery hoops. He had cookbooks, flavoring spices, and can openers, the lastest kind, not sold in any store.

It was difficult to not want some of everything he had but we lived on a tight budget. Mother would look from one item to another and say, "Oh, I just don't know, I don't think I . . ." She would end up buying at least one thing because she hated to see the man go to the trouble of stopping and her not make a purchase.

If there was some item you wanted that he didn't have, he would promise to bring it next trip and sure enough, he would usually remember. You didn't always have to pay with money either. Peddlers would usually trade for something you had, like scrap copper or brass, old batteries, home canned goods and even live chickens if you can believe that. I've seen peddlers with cages of squawking chickens strapped to the top of their trucks.

The old-time peddlers are not around anymore because most of us are only minutes away from supermarkets and shopping malls. But shopping in a store is no where near as exciting as catching a glimpse of the inside of a peddler's truck.

PEDDLER'S TRUCK

U.S. aiding junta

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — In defiance of both Congress and the United Nations, the Ford Administration has gone behind the barn to bolster the military dictatorship of Chile.

The UN, following up our own reports of repression and torture inside Chile, has condemned the junta for violating human rights. And only last week, the respected Inter-American Human Rights Commission denounced the junta for its torture tactics.

CONGRESS REACTED by imposing a $90 million limit on economic aid for Chile this fiscal year. It was the intent of Congress, clearly, that the aid should go directly to needy people. Other nations have also refused to extend credit to the beleaguered dictatorship.

Nevertheless, the Administration has shaken loose hidden money to bail out the junta. Here are the hush-hush developments:

— The Overseas Private Investment Corporation, a quasi-official U. S. institution, has quietly agreed to begin insuring companies that invest in Chile. The State Department, according to our sources, twisted OPIC arms. This should stimulate a flood of investment capital into the country.

— Both the State and Treasury departments have also encouraged 14 U.S. and Canadian banks to lend the military dictatorship $100 million to $125 million. The loan is needed to pay off short-term obligations to other countries. Britain and Italy have refused to reschedule Chilean debt payments because of the regime's human rights violations. New York's First National City Bank will put up most of the money for the junta, with the financial support of the Bank of America, several New York banks and two Canadian banks.

— U. S. advisers have also brought pressure upon the Inter-American Development Bank's President Antonio Ortiz Mena, who has promised that the bank will lend up to $125 million to Chile. The first $20 million already has been approved.

— The State Department gave Chile a $55 million housing guarantee that a House subcommittee believes exceeded the $90 million congressional ceiling. "The Administration clearly has sought to evade the spirit, if not the letter, of the congressional aid ceilings to Chile," declared Chairman Don Fraser, D.-Calif.

We have been chronicling the Chilean saga since we reported on March 21, 1972, that the Central Intelligence Agency and International Telephone and Telegraph were conspiring together to undermine the Chilean economy. Their objective was to oust President Salvador Allende, an elected Marxist, from power.

THE CIA at first denied participating in economic sabotage against the Allende regime but, three years later, was forced to confess our story was true after the Senate Intelligence Committee published the proof.

The former Nixon Administration, meanwhile, phased out economic aid to the Allende regime on the grounds that the Chilean economy was unstable. Under Allende, the inflation rate shot up from 22 per cent in 1971 to 163 per cent in 1972, with a 4.4 per cent unemployment rate. Since the military junta seized power, the inflation rate has soared to a stratospheric 340 per cent, with a 16.6 per cent unemployment rate.

We have taken pains to point out, by the way, that the military rulers have oppressed not only the Marxists but the Christian Democrats.

Footnote: A spokesman for First National City Bank confirmed that the bank was studying the Chilean loan. A Bank of America spokesman refused to comment on our story. At the State Department, a spokesman acknowledged only that discussions had been held with OPIC. A Treasury official said the department was careful not to tell banks who should get loans but acknowledged: "They may have been encouraged by what our desk people tell them."

OPERATION MUDHEN: The Central Intelligence Agency, in violation of the law, kept us under physical, photographic and electronic surveillance in 1972. Twenty men were assigned full time to the project, which was known inside the agency as "Project Mudhen."

NEVERTHELESS, WE continued to jolt the CIA with a series of stories right out of their files. We reported, for example, that corrupt government officials around the world profited from heroin sales to the U. S. Our story touched off a renewed investigation, since the information had come from classified CIA documents.

The cloak-and-dagger crowd, according to documents intended for their eyes only, suspected a federal narcotics employe had leaked the story. CIA Deputy Director Edward Proctor urged Richard Helms, then the CIA director, to speak with federal narcotics chief John Ingersoll.

"Offer technical assistance in determining who is responsible for passing the classified material to Jack . Anderson," Procter urged. Inside the CIA, "technical assistance" is a polite way of referring to bugging devices, lie detectors and even break-ins.

Proctor now assures us that he had in mind only lie detectors in this case, not the naughtier forms of "technical assistance." Of course any CIA assistance in a domestic investigation is a violation of law. So no matter how it is interpreted, Proctor proposed a crime.

Footnote: Reached in Paris, Ingersoll said he couldn't recall any offer from Helms. But if Helms had suggested wiretapping agents, growled Ingersoll, "I would have thrown him out of my office."

Young vegetarian needs advice

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm a 16-year-old girl with a constipation problem. I've had it for about eight years. I'm underweight. I take a laxative, and have for many years. This gives me a gentle bowel movement.

I get nervous and upset very easily, which may have contributed to my problem. I'm a vegetarian and I eat many vegetables, which give me unpleasant gas pains. Can you suggest something? — S.W.

I doubt that you are truly constipated. Any such problem evident at eight years of age and lasting this long would have shown other symptoms by now. Your nervousness can be a factor in your faulty bowel function, and if so you should get over it, else it may cause you more problems later on.

I suspect you have a "thing" about bowel function. Remember that, while daily bowel action is the norm, one can have a natural movement every two or three days and still be in good health.

Most vegetarian diets include nuts and other needed high-residue foods — fruits and, of course, vegetables. Constipation is not usually a problem in a vegetarian diet. Most vegetables offer sufficient bulk to provide peristalsis, (that wave-like movement of the walls of the bowels). Cellulose, which is plentiful in vegetable fiber, plays an important role in this.

I suggest you discontinue the laxatives, since this can develop into a nasty habit which your bowel may not be able to break easily in the years ahead. Apples, prunes or prune juice should be a suitable laxative for your needs. Nature will usually take its course in these matters.

You should make sure you are getting sufficient liquids in your diet. Also, you should add up your daily caloric intake. A girl your age, if you are, say, about 5-foot-5, should be getting approximately 2,300 calories a day. If you are not, then you would be considered malnourished, and this would account for your being underweight.

If you are to continue on a vegetarian diet, consult a nutritionist to determine whether or not you are getting enough calories and essential nutrients, such as minerals, proteins and vitamins.

Other readers (with true constipation) may find helpful ideas on this subject in my booklet, "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy, send a quarter to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This is just a matter of curiosity, because I don't believe it reflects any medical "problem." But why do a baby's lips tremble? I mean a tiny infant. — Mrs. T. W.

You're right. It doesn't represent any medical problem. Infants' nervous systems are quite sensitive. Trembling lips can mean almost anything, usually some slight disturbance. Some mothers have reported the trembling at times when the infant has just wet his diapers. Often it is the prelude to a cry.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a 16-year-old boy. My hair comes down above my eyebrows. I have a bad case of oily hair. When it gets extra oily I also get pimples and whiteheads on my face and on my hairline. Can this be the cause? — S.B.

Yes. Change your hairstyle and wash carefully. The oiliness of the hair and the natural tendency to brush it aside with the hand can transfer the oiliness to other parts of the face. You probably should shampoo more often.

Dear Dr. Thosteon: Is serum hepatitis contagious? — Mrs. M.N.

Hepatitis is an inflammation of the liver. "Infectious" hepatitis is caused by the A virus, "serum" hepatitis by the B virus.

Infectious hepatitis is caused by viruses present in food or water contaminated by fecal matter.

Formerly, serum hepatitis was thought to be caused exclusively by contamination in inoculations. It is now thought to be passed on through saliva and through contaminated food. Sexual contact has been added to the list of possible contagion routes.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: To what extent is a Christian to keep turning the other cheek? Is it never right to protect oneself, even from armed attack? Must we teach our children never to defend themselves? — S.A.

DEAR S. A.: This often quoted verse is part of the Sermon on the Mount that Jesus preached (Luke 6:29). It is quite clear that this teaching is only for Cristian people, for Jesus was speaking only to His followers. The theme of the Sermon is that the Christian must conquer his human nature — the self that usually rules our lives. The spirit of retaliation has got to go.

From the account of this Sermon in Matthew 5:38, 39, it is clear that this doctrine of turning the other cheek is meant to explain the law of Moses, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." In law it is right that an offender be justly punished for his offense, but this does not mean that a Christian should live in a spirit of revenge. It is in a man's nature to retaliate against anyone who does him wrong, but the Christian must master such desires.

We must understand that this teaching does not apply to self-defense or to war. We must always be ready to go to the aid of anyone being injustly attacked. What the Lord wants to curb is the spirit within that says, "I have been insulted, therefore I must retaliate and get even."

Romans 12 provides further teaching on this subject: "Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God; for it is written, 'Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord' " (verse 19, Revised Standard Version). Peter presents a similar thought: "Beloved, I beseech you as aliens and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh that wage war against your soul" (1 Peter 2:11, Revised Standard Version).

717 now confirmed dead

Thousands search rubble for quake victims

GEMONA, Italy (AP) — Fresh tremors rolled through northeast Italy Saturday as thousands of rescue workers sifted through the rubble of fallen buildings with bulldozers and bare hands in search of earthquake victims. The official death toll rose to 717.

Authorities in Venice reported that some art works suffered damage in Thursday's quake 62 miles away. Culture Minister Mario Pedini termed the condition of castles, palaces, churches and art works in the Udine area, northeast of Venice, "most worrisome."

Rescue workers continued pulling the dead and the living from the ruins of dozens of towns and villages.

A government relief official said 717 persons were now known dead, but reports continued to come in of bodies being found under the debris and injured persons dying in hospitals. An estimated 2,000 were injured.

A total of 39 aftershocks were recorded, but the latest ones were light and caused no damage except to already cracked buildings.

Premier Aldo Moro flew to Udine and met with mayors of stricken towns to discuss relief measures. The government announced that all workers who lost their jobs in the quake would be paid up to 90 per cent of their wages out of the national unemployment fund.

Bishop Alfredo Battisti of Udine authorized parish priests in his diocese to sell church jewels and other valuables to raise funds. Art works were not for sale, however.

At Maiano, soldiers found the town's "grandfather," 84-year-old Valentino Morassi, after 38 hours under his collapsed house.

Doctors said he was in good condition. He held an electric razor and a bag of gold valuables. After he was pulled out, he asked for a cigarette and recounted he was caught in the collapse of the house when he went back to pick up some belongings.

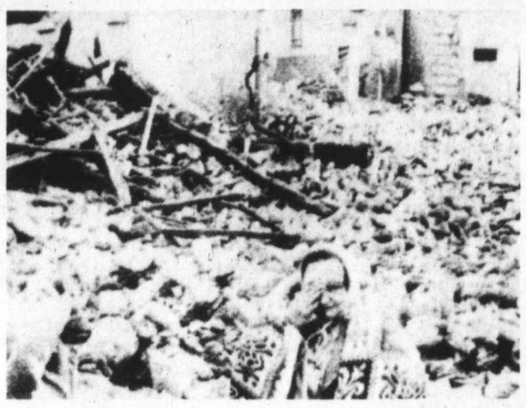

The top of a 2,100-foot mountain toppled Saturday, setting off a huge rockslide, but 500 villagers living in its path were evacuated.

Culture minister Pedini said preliminary information indicated serious damage to virtually all castles and towers also in areas where no casualties were reported. Two well-known castles, in Gemona and Colloredo, were destroyed. Several medieval churches and their bell towers were knocked down totally or in part.

In Quileia, the ancient Roman city that dominated northeast Italy until Venice took over in the Middle Ages, serious damage was reported to the 240-foot bell tower and the local basilica's mosaic pavements that date from the fourth century.

In Venice, art and construction experts said a detailed survey showed no serious damage, but frescoes by 18th century master Giovanbattista Tiepolo cracked in the Pisani Moretta Palace.

An appeal was sent out for massive deliveries of vaccine against cholera, typhoid fever and other diseases.

QUAKE TOLL CONTINUES TO RISE — An elderly woman weeps Saturday as she sits in the rubble of what was her home before an earthquake struck northeastern Italy. Fresh tremors rolled through the area Saturday as rescue workers continued to pull the dead and living from the ruins of dozens of towns and villages. The official toll rose to 717 on Saturday, and was expected to rise.

Local hospitals observe National Hospital week

An employe arts, crafts and memorabillia show will kick off Malone-Hogan Hospital's celebration of National Hospital Week May 9-13.

Planned as an event to get to know each other better as well as to give the community a chance to see the talents and persons behind the hospital uniform, the affair will feature entries of the traditional arts and crafts variety plus a special section for those who simply want to share their hobbies, families, and "Things I Like."

The three-day show will start at 1 p.m. today, continuing through Tuesday, May 11th. Only employes will be eligible to enter, but the public is invited to come out to the hospital to see the display.

Textbooks available for public inspection

The local textbook committee, headed by Lynn Hise, has a list of next year's textbook selections available in his office at the school administration office for the public to see.

Among books to be selected this year are some elementary books to be used in bilingual instruction in third grade. These include basal readers in Spanish, supplementary readers in Spanish, mathematics in Spanish, science in Spanish and a Spanish language development book.

There will also be a multiple list of elementary English dictionaries, secondary English dictionaries and spelling textbooks for grade 7 and 8.

High school books to be selected include a multiple list of textbooks for journalism, first and second year algebra, geometry, trigonometry, math for consumer economics, introduction to algebra, fundamentals of math, chemistry, and physics, first year; marine science; biology, geology, world history, French I and II, bookkeeping I and II, record keeping, shorthand I and II, cosmetology, aerospace and fundamentals of the free enterprise system.

Lebanese elect new president

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Lebanese parliament met under heavy Moslem shellfire Saturday and elected a new Christian president, switching leaders but leaving the nation locked in civil war.

The choice of central bank governor Elias Sarkis for president marked a victory for Syrian efforts to halt the 13-month conflict and was expected to lead to increased military intervention by Damascus.

Beirut's Christian camps celebrated the election with bursts of gunfire. They reflected appreciation for Syria's role in protecting the Chrisitan minority after it suffered significant military defeats at the hands of leftist Moslem militias.

"I appeal to all to cease these demonstrations of jubilation, especially in these tragic circumstances," Sarkis said in a victory statement. "I pray to God to help me and the people to rebuild the country and return peace to it. We will rebuild Lebanon into a country of equality and justice. We will foster the bonds of national unity, with which we can surmount all difficulties impeding peace and progreess."

Sarkis, who will be 52 on July 20, was elected by 66 votes on a second round of balloting by members of parliament. There were three abstentions. House speaker Kamel Assaad had to send out Palestinian guerrillas to bring in some members by force to make a quorum in the 98-man assembly. Leftist warlord Kamal Jumblatt had called for a boycott of the parliament meeting.

Jumblatt, whose Moslem-leftist-Palestinian alliance controls about two-thirds of Lebanon's 4,015 square miles, opposed Sarkis on grounds that he was imposed by Syria and backed the other candidate, Raymond Edde, a lawyer whose National Bloc party has stayed out of the long civil war that has taken 18,000 lives and ruined the country's economy.

Mortar and artillery fire around the luxury villa serving as temporary parliament left the building untouched.

I HUMBLY THANK YOU

There are no words that can express my appreciation for your confidence in me.

I shall continue to do my very best as your Tax Assessor-Collector. The office you have elected me to, and the people of Howard County are very special to me.

Rain causes weed problem

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Abundant rains in Central Texas counties have caused some crops to yellow and weed control has become a problem in scattered areas, Dr. H.O. Kunkel, acting director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Some corn and sorghum is still being planted in north central and eastern areas, he said.

Peanut planting is active in the Coastal Bend and has started in several eastern and central counties, he said.

The first of this year's Texas peach crop is moving to market in South and Southwest Texas, Kunkel said. The crop generally looks good over the state, he added.

Cattle continue to put on weight as grazing conditions improve, Kunkel said. Supplemental feeding has ceased in all areas but Far West Texas and a few counties on the High Plains.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

Panhandle: Corn planting is about complete. Sorghum planting is getting under way. Wheat is heading. Sugar beets are making good growth. Some ranchers are still putting out feed for cattle.

South Plains: Corn planting is nearing completion. Sorghum and sunflower planting is progressing well. Cotton planting continues to increase although full-scale planting has not started. Some wheat is beginning to head. Pastures and ranges are improving.

Rolling Plains: Sorghum planting continues to increase although wet fields have caused delays. Some farmers are plowing up grazed-out wheat and are planning to plant cotton. Pastures are making excellent growth. Alfalfa harvesting is starting.

Northeast: Small grains need warm, dry weather. Some corn is being replanted because of poor stands. Chinch bugs have caused heavy damage in some young sorghum. Early spring vegetables are being harvested. Good grazing for livestock is increasing.

Far West: Irrigated alfalfa is being cut for hay. Planting of corn, cotton and sorghum is in progress. Vegetable crops are making good growth. Livestock feeding continues because of poor grazing conditions. Coyotes have caused heavy lamb losses in Terrell County. Loco weed is causing cattle deaths.

West Central: Some replanting of sorghum will be necessary because of recent heavy rains. Home gardens are progressing. Grazing on pastures and ranges remains below average but is improving. Sheep and goat shearing is about complete.

Southwest: Corn and sorghum are making good growth. Onion harvesting is in full swing. The first peaches of the season are being harvested in Frio County. Pecan trees appear to have a good crop set. Livestock conditions have improved.

South: Cotton and sorghum are making good to excellent progress. The tomato and watermelon crops are doing well. The peach harvest is peaking in Duval County. Yields are generally good. Onion harvesting is about complete. Hay crops and ranges are making good growth. Screwworms are heavy throughout the area.

After companies pulled out

New power grid creation expected

AUSTIN (AP) — Creation of two new power-sharing grids is believed to be the mostly likely response to a Texas Public Utility Commission deadline of two weeks for electric companies to replace a broken power grid.

The grid, called the Texas Interconnected System, fell apart Tuesday when Texas Utilities Co. and Houston Lighting & Power pulled out rather than run the risk of federal regulation. The grid had been set up to spare Texans from long-term blackouts or brownouts.

West Texas Utilities Co. of Abilene created the risk Monday when it began transmitting electricity to the Oklahoma towns of Davidson, Tipton and Frederick.

Commission Chairman Garrett Morris said no emergency exists now but could arise in the future if no action is taken to restore a power exchange system. The commission approved his motion to instruct all the power suppliers in the grid to report May 21 with proposals for maintaining one or more power sharing systems.

"It seems that the public interest of the state demands that we re-establish as soon as possible the Texas Interconnected System, except for the companies that wish to go with the other system that goes interstate," Morris said.

T. L. Austin Jr., president of Texas Utilities, said he opposed federal regulation, particularly after watching what Federal Power Commission policies had done to the supply of natural gas. The FPC also regulates interstate transmission of electricity.

"We don't want to interconnect our system (out of state) so we can be ordered to transmit to Yankees the reserves of lignite and gas we have acquired for our customers," Austin said.

West Texas Utilities, Central Power & Light, Austin, San Antonio and the Lower Colorado River Authority remain in the grid.

Spokesmen for San Antonio and the LCRA said that they believed, in the absence of further study, they would be better off in a grid with HL&P and Texas Utilities than with West Texas Utilities and Central Power & Light.

West Texas Utilities and Central Power & Light are owned by Central & Southwest Corp., a holding company that also owns Public Service of Oklahoma and Southwest Electric & Power Co. of Shreveport, La.

Central & Southwest has sued in Dallas federal court to invalidate contract provisions that allow partners in the grid — such as HL&P and Texas Utilities — to get out if any other partner sells electricity across state lines.

Executives of Central Lighting & Power and West Texas Utilities said plans are afoot to interconnect all four of Central & Southwest's power companies.

Nursing home open house

Residents of local nursing homes will be honored during Nursing Home Week, May 9-15. The observance is sponsored by Texas Nursing Home Association whose official Hostess this year is the famous newspaper columnist "Heloise" who lives at San Antonio.

In joining the program Harold D. Edwards, Administrator of the Big Spring Nursing Inn announced an Open House today from 1-4 p.m. This year's theme is "Texas Nursing Homes — nicer than you think!"

"This is an all-out effort by our profession to get the community to take time for a personal visit and a close look into the operation of today's nursing homes," said Edwards.

Permian Basin Oil Show 'biggest in the world'

ODESSA — The Permian Basin Oil Show, scheduled here Oct. 20-23 at the Ector County Coliseum complex, will be expanded this year to make it the largest show of its kinds in the world.

The Oil show board of directors, headed by Bill Hall as president, gave its overwhelming approval to expand the biennial show to include exhibit space inside the coliseum for the first time in the show's history.

Jay Alvey, vice president of Odessa's First National Bank and the show's general manager for 15 years, said the 487 exhibit spaces used by previous oil shows had been sold out for more than a month and there were still approximately 50 companies on a standby waiting list for potential exhibitors.

Hall said the Ector County Coliseum exhibit space would be sold on a first-come, first-served basis, with those companies on the waiting list getting the first crack at the new space.

Should the coliseum space be sold out, there could be as many as 550 companies which will be displaying their oil field supplies, equipment and services at the October Exposition.

Attendance at the October Oil Show in Odessa should go well past the half-million mark this year with the added number of exhibitors. The 1974 Permian Basin Oil Show attracted in excess of 400,000 visitors through the main gates, and Alvey estimated that at least 75 per cent of that number were actually engaged in some phase of the oil and gas industry.

Traitionally, the Permian Basin Oil Show begins Wednesday and runs through Saturday night. The first two days of the show are limited to those engaged in the energy business, and the general public is allowed in the exposition grounds starting at Friday noon.

Billed as the working man's oil show, the exposition in the heart of the Permian Basin, is designed to solve the problem of supply and demand for the energy industry.

Pioneer Gas pays dividend

AMARILLO — The board of directors of Pioneer Corporation at their meeting held recently in Amarillo declared a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share, payable June 3, to stockholders of record on May 20.

Consolidated net income and earnings for Pioneer amounted to $11,007,947 compared to $6,586,914 during the same period of 1975.

In making the announcement of the income, K. B. Watson, company president, said that first quarter income was up notably over the previous year due to several factors. He pointed out that Pioneer Nuclear made a sale of stockpiled uranium concentrate to Philadelphia Electric Company from the company's inventory and generated revenues in excess of $4.6 million. He said that there was a significant increase in the net income of the production companies in the first quarter of 1976, due to marketing of increased production including the increase in the Jennings Townsite Field, in Louisiana.

Watson went to say, "The acquisition of International Tool and Supply Company, Inc. (ITS) was finalized last April 1, with an effective date last Jan. 1. ITS is included in the consolidated figures for the first time."

Watson said, "Sale of gas for pumping irrigation engines was up because of an unusually dry period. Additionally, a change in meter reading and billing dates for a large number of irrigation accounts resulted in accelerating more than a million dollars of gas sales from the second quarter of the year into the first quarter with the related gas purchase costs being already recorded. This will benefit both the customer and Pioneer as volumes will be more closely related to the fiscal month."

The quarterly report for Pioneer Corporation will be mailed to stockholders about May 17.

Oil patch

The Spraberry Trend Area was extended in three counties, including Glasscock and Martin Counties.

The Glasscock portion of the area was extended a ½ mile east with completion of Tom Brown, Inc., Midland, No. 1 Stuard, 20 miles northwest of Garden City, to pump 39 barrels of 38.9 gravity oil, plus 13 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,664-1.

Production was through perforations at 7,755-8,426 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 120,000 gallons and 216,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,320 feet from the north and west lines of 27-36-2s-T&P.

The Martin portion was extended a ½ mile north in a northeast extension area with completion of Britton Management Corp., Midland, No. 2, Froman, 19 miles north-northeast of Stanton, to pump 110 barrels of 36 gravity oil, plus 62 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 984-1.

Production was through perforations at 7,828-8,460 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 20,000 gallons and 240,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 660 feet from the south and west lines of 63-A Bauer and Cockrell.

Wayman W. Buchanan, Sanantonio, also completed three projects in the eastern portion of the Reagan County portion of the field, 30 miles northeast of Big Lake.

A DAWSON COUNTY field gained a confirmation this week. The Gin, North (Spraberry field of Dawson County gained its fourth producer and a location southeast and northeast extension with completion of coquina Oil Corp. Midland, No. 4 Holton, four miles west of Lamesa, for a daily pumping potential of 238.5 barrels of 42 gravity, plus 66 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 822-1.

Porduction was through perforations at 7,974-8,024 feet. Location is 4,521 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of Taylor CSL No. 1.

AN OUTPOST is slated in Sterling County. Bright and Schiff, Dallas, will drill the No. 1 2-29 as a ⅝ mile north and slightly west outpost on the northeast side of the Big Salute (Canyon oil) field of Sterling Couinty, 15 miles west of Sterling City.

Location is 1,720 feet from the south and west lines of 29-22-H&TC. Contract depth is 8,000 feet.

More wells

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Twenty wildcat oil wells and 19 wildcat gas wells were drilled in Texas during the last half of April, the railroad commission reported Thursday.

The new oil wildcat—or discovery—wells raised the total for the year to 165, an increase of 51 from this time last year.

The new gas wildcats raised the total for the year to 200, an increase of 23 from the end of April 1975.

Five of the new oil wildcats were drilled in the Houston district. There were three drilled in each of the Corpus Christi, Abilene, San Angelo and Lubbock districts and one in each of the San Antonio No. 2, Midland and Wichita Falls districts.

The gas wildcats included four in the San Angelo district; three in each of the San Antonio No. 1, Houston, and Kilgore No. 6 districts; two in the Pampa district; and one in each of the Corpus Christi, Kilgore No. 5, Midland and Wichita Falls districts.

Up in the Hill Country, a second life awaits your family.

There's a family place in the Highland Lakes area of the Hill Country where you can enjoy a second life that's as clean and pure as the morning air and the spring waters.

We call the family place HighVista.

When you wake up in the morning at HighVista, you look out upon Horseshoe Bay and the shimmering waters of Lake LBJ. Already the kids are up and out water-skiing, or swimming in HighVista's pool.* In the kitchen, you can hear your wife whistling as she cooks bacon and eggs before going out for a morning set of tennis on HighVista's own courts. And you? You feel so good and rested that you're ready to break par on the Robert Trent Jones golf course.

That's your second life at HighVista. Along with sunsets on the lake, horseback riding through the Hill Country, dinner at the Yacht Club and teaching the kids how to backstroke in the pool.

Right now at HighVista we offer two and three bedroom villas, all with at least one sun deck. The prices are family oriented too, starting at $32,000 with only $3,200 down and bank financing at 8½%.

You'll love your second life at HighVista and so will your family. It's a warm, clean, personal kind of place with all the facilities of Horseshoe Bay almost at your doorstep.

You can find out a lot more about HighVista by writing for our free brochure. Or better yet, have us call you. We'll be glad to do either. Or call us at 512-598-2758.

In HighVista your second life begins.

Reagan can build lead

Church gets 'stop Carter' chance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, a newcomer among announced contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination, takes his turn this week at trying to flatten a tire of the Jimmy Carter bandwagon.

For Republican challenger Ronald Reagan, the targets in Nebraska and West Virginia balloting Tuesday are primary victories five and six in a row over President Ford.

Forming the backdrop to the week's national convention delegate hunting are statistics that strikingly illustrate just how much Carter has spread-eagled the Democratic field and how much Reagan has turned around the Republican nomination contest.

On April 21, Carter had 264 delegates to the national convention, 28 per cent of those who had been chosen.

But entering Saturday's selection events in several states, he now had 555 — more than doubling his total and increasing his share of selected delegates to 37 per cent.

For Reagan, the change was even sharper. On April 21 he had 96 delegates, 17 per cent of those chosen, to 253 and 46 per cent for President Ford.

Now, entering Saturday's several state or district conventions, he could count 366 delegates, 37 per cent of those selected. Ford had moved only to 292 delegates and had slipped to 29 per cent, falling behind even the number of uncommitted delegates, 329.

Ford, however, still led Reagan in total popular vote received in nine primaries, 1.75 million to 1.53 million. That doesn't count the Reagan stronghold of Texas, however, where no direct popularity contest was on the ballot, nor Pennsylvania, where Ford votes haven't yet been formally counted since he was unopposed in that state's balloting.

Carter, bolstered last week by landslide popular vote victories in Indiana and Georgia, has now polled 3.16 million votes in 11 primaries where presidential candidates' names were directly on the ballot.

Despite his numerous opponents in one race or another, Carter has polled 43 per cent of all votes cast in Democratic primaries. That's more than twice the total collected by runner-up Gov. George C. Wallace.

Most of the other Democrats, however, have stayed out of some primaries or fallen by the wayside while Carter contested every one.

This week, however, brings the one primary where the former Georgia governor isn't on the popularity ballot — West Virginia.

The only two Democratic contenders in the "beauty contest" voting there are favorite son Sen. Robert Byrd and Wallace. Some persons favorable to Carter are entered, however, in the separate balloting for national convention delegates.

Byrd announced his candidacy earlier this year but has spent little money and has kept his effort at the favorite-son level. He more realistically hopes to become Senate majority leader next January.

Church, mounting a broader drive but late entering the battle, hopes to fuel his campaign with a good showing in Tuesday's Nebraska primary.

He has campaigned there at length and it is his first electoral test in a strategy based on winning late primaries in Western states.

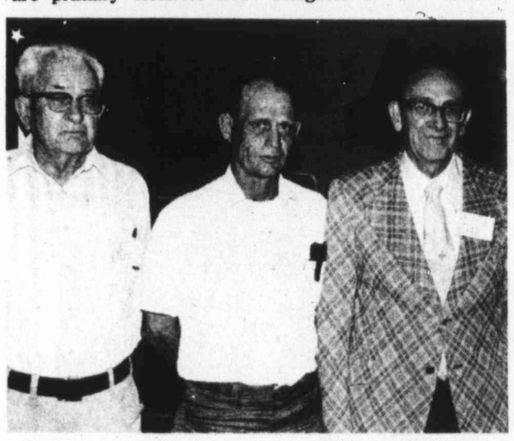

So far, he's picked up just three delegates from convention states.

Democrats in Connecticut will also express presidential preferences in a primary Tuesday which will generally indicate how that state's delegation will stand at the national convention.

The results will lead to apportionment of delegates to district conventions which in turn will pick national convention delegates. At the Democratic National Convention, Connecticut will cast 35 votes, West Virginia 33 and Nebraska 23.

Ford and Reagan are both on the ballot in Nebraska and West Virginia. There is no Republican primary in Connecticut. At the Republican convention, West Virginia will have 28 votes and Nebraska 25.

Ford proclaims business week

President Gerald Ford has issued a proclamation designating the week beginning today as Small Business Week, and honoring the men and women who operate the 10 million small businesses in the United States.

The proclamation acknowledges small business in the United States as "the economic cornerstone of American economy. They stand as a symbol of American character and spirit; the traits of individual initiative, self-reliance and creativity we prize so highly, as exemplified by our small business men and women, have always been the indispensable characteristics of a free and dynamic people."

Outstanding business men and women will be honored throughout the nation during Small Business Week.

Claimed Hughes' will termed fraudulent

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston authorities have labeled "invalid" a will filed here purportedly signed by Howard Hughes and naming a Houston probate judge as executor.

The judge named when the will was dated wasn't a judge at that time.

The will allegedly leaves $60,000 to a woman who filed the will. She claims to have met the late mystery billionaire "while in Reno."

Probate Judge Pat Gregory said Friday he was skeptical.

"The purported will was dated June 20, 1961, and nominates Judge (William) Bear as executor," Gregory said. "Judge Bear didn't become a judge until 1967."

It was signed by a woman who gave a Columbus, Ohio, address.

"Obviously it's an invalid document," Bear said. "This person had a great deal of instinct to realize in 1961 that I was going to be a judge in 1967. It is fraudulent on its face. The handwriting on the will is identical to the handwriting on the envelope."

The will was addressed to Bear and contained a short, handwritten note to Annette Lummis, Hughes' aunt and co-administrator of his Texas estate.

"I met Howard while in Reno," the note said. "We went to Carson City and ate. The last time he called me, he said that he had an electric bed still in the carton, that he would send it to me because I had liver trouble. He must love you and know that you will do what he says."

The "will" left "all my personal belongings, property and money" to Mrs. Lummis, and $60,000 to the woman — "to be sent to her by certified check after all taxes are paid."

It was signed: Howard R. Hughes.

Gregory said he would turn over the "will" to local and federal authorities for consideration of possible charges against the woman.

Help us find a way to spend $1,000,000.

Here's a great idea.
Go to England. Buy an old castle, preferrably haunted. Ship it back and reconstruct it exactly as it was with everything intact, including the ghosts. You'll never have to worry about pesky neighbors again.
Or you can be a little more conventional. Go pick out the house your family's always wanted, and we'll loan you the money to buy it.

As a matter of fact, between now and June 30, we'll loan you money for just about anything. Home improvement loans, and loans for cars, boats and all kinds of personal things.
Before this, you couldn't get all these kinds of loans just anywhere. Now, we've fixed it so you can.
There's an idea that's worth a million. Because we're loan specialists, too.

Steers win 6th straight

Warren leads Big Spring attack

Big Spring's Mike Warren raked San Angelo pitching for three hits, including a double and triple, scored three runs and knocked in three to lead the Steers to a 9-1 rout of Central in the team's final game of the season.

The Steers' sixth straight victory gave them a final log of: 6-1 in second-half play of District 5-4A, 11-3 overall in district and 21-7 for the entire season. All fine records but not good enough for the playoffs.

Abilene thwarted Big Spring's final shot at a playoff berth when it rallied for two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to come from behind and beat Abilene Cooper 4-3. The Eagles finished the second half undefeated (7-0).

Big Spring's coach Larry Horton said Abilene deserved to win the second half. "They beat Lee, Central and us on the road to go undefeated," Horton said. "I just wish we could have got a shot. The way we're playing right now — I think we'd have won it."

"I can't tell you how impressed I am with the way the players played the last six games — they were just great. They knew that one more defeat would eliminate them for sure, but they just sucked up the pressure and went out there and did the job."

No better example of how the Steers handled pressure in the second half could be shown than the way winning pitcher Frank Rubio (5-1) answered the call in the top of the fourth.

The Steers were protecting a 4-1 lead going into the fourth when the Bobcats loaded the bases with no outs. Randy Thoma led off the inning by popping a Texas Leaguer into short right for a base hit. Joe Bramhall ripped a single through the middle and Humbert Garcia beat out a perfect bunt to fill the bases.

Rubio picked up the gauntlet. He struck out Kenny Perez, Central's leading home run hitter, on five pitches. Then he ran up a 3 and 2 count on Steve Elwanger — time out. With a full count and the bases loaded San Angelo's first base coach called time to discuss Rubio's stretch with the infield umpire.

If the pause was meant to rattle Rubio it didn't work. After fouling off five pitches Elwanger struck out on a curve that sliced off the outside corner of the plate. Rubio brought the largest crowd of the season to its feet when he retired Jim Carson with three quick strikes.

All the Steers played heads-up ball. Ken McMurtrey dug a one-hopper out of the dirt at third to retire a batter, Warren gouged the ball out of the catcher's mitt to save a run and all the batters took their cuts at the plate — beginning in the first inning.

Warren beat out a bobble at short and McMurtrey moved him up with a single to deep short. Charles McKinney bunted one between the pitcher and third. The Bobcat pitcher John Jeschke tried to force Warren at third but was late. Battle grounded to short and the relay home had Warren, but he ripped the ball out of the mitt to score the tying run.

Kent Newsom and Pat Carroll sent McMurtrey and McKinney home on sacrifice flies to right field.

In the second inning with two out Warren scored Rubio from first when he slashed a double into deep left. This concluded scoring by the Steers against losing hurler Jeschke. Steve Winger, who defeated Big Spring in San Angelo, pitched the final two innings and the Steers touched him up good.

Warren greeted him with a liner into left center. McMurtrey followed with a perfect execution of the hit-and-run. When Warren took off for second McMurtrey starched the ball right past the departed second baseman (who had gone to cover second). First the Bobcats tried to catch Warren at third and missed and then they tried to tag McMurtrey at second and were late again.

Rubio, who walked his first two trips to the plate, drilled a single into left. Forrest Harry followed with a pinch single and Mike Harris went back in to run. Warren brought them in with a line drive down the left field line that the leftfielder dove for and missed enabling Warren to get a triple. McKinney singled him in with the Steers' final run of the game and the season.

Sam Houston St. vies for national golf title

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sam Houston State advanced to the national small college golf tournament next month at Burlington, N.C., by beating Texas Lutheran College by eight strokes in the NAIA Dist. IV tournament here Saturday.

Sam Houston, the Lone Star Conference champion, had a 586 team score to 594 by Texas Lutheran, the Big State winner.

With help from wind

MARK HAYES. Ups his lead

DALLAS (AP) — Steady young Mark Hayes, benefitting from a wind that swept his challengers further back in the field, needed only a round of par 71 to expand his lead to three strokes Saturday after 54 holes of the $200,000 Byron NelsonGolf Classic.

The slightly-built, 26-year-old Hayes, often a leader but not yet a winner, put together a three-round total of 204, nine under par on the tough 6,983 yard Preston Trail Golf Club course.

Even the famed and feared Jack Nicklaus, the outstanding player of his time, fell victim to the fickle, shifting, gusty winds, bogeyed two in a row coming home and went from a contending three strokes back to a six-shot deficit going into Sunday's final round of the chase for a $40,000 first prize.

"I had myself in pretty good position and then let it get away," Nicklaus said. "Now, it will take an awfully good round for me to win. I've got my work cut out for me."

Veteran Don Bies, one of the few leaders able to break par in the mild, sunny weather, quietly moved into second place with a 70 that put him three shots back at 207.

Masters champion Ray Floyd hit one in the water on the 16th hole, but finished birdie-birdie — well after the national television coverage had ended for the day — and salvaged a 71 and a 208 total. He was tied at that figure with Don January, the rebounding, 46-year-old veteran who recently won the Tournament of Champions. January shot a 70.

Bob E. Smith, who started the day's play alone in second just two shots back of the front-running Hayes, blew to a 74 that left him tied at 209 with Larry Nelson, Tom Kite and Bill Rogers. Nelson shot a 68, Kite 71 and Rogers 72.

Lee Trevino, once in contention, went to a 72 and a 211 total. Arnold Palmer and defending champion Tom Watson each shot 73-216.

Nicklaus got to within three shots of the top spot about the middle of the round, but began experiencing his difficulties about the time he reached the range of the television cameras.

He missed a medium-range birdie putt on the 15th, missed the green and bogeyed the 16th and then, on the 17th, presented a perfect example of the problems of the wind. He tried to play a shot into the wind and it stopped for a moment. He missed the green left and the ball jumped still more to the left. He made bogey again.

Card rally decks slumping Astros

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Vic Harris' bases-loaded double highlighted a five-run rally in the fifth inning and carried the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-1 triumph over the Houston Astros Saturday night.

Harris snapped a scoreless deadlock after Houston starter Mike Cosgrove, 1-1, yielded a single to Don Kessinger between walks to Keith Hernandez and Bake McBride with one out.

Cosgrove followed with a wild pitch, scoring McBride fr the third St. Louis run, and Willie Crawford and Ted Simmons followed with a triple and single to cap the uprising.

Preceding the fifth, Cosgrove had escaped numerous jams and weathered six Cards hits while backed by three Astro double plays.

St. Louis wasted two singles in each of the opening two innings and a lead-off single by Simmons in the fourth before Hernandez drew a walk to open the fifth.

Right-hander Lynn McGlothen, backed by a 12-hit attack, evened his record at 3-3 with a nine-hitter.

Streaking Rangers maul slumping BoSox twice

BOSTON (AP) — The streaking Texas Rangers mauled Luis Tiant for nine unearned runs in a wild second inning keyed by Lenny Randle's bases-loaded triple and Toby Harrah's two-run homer Saturday in belting Boston 12-4 to sweep a doubleheader from the slumping Red Sox.

The Rangers, extending their winning streak to seven games, took the opener 6-5 on Roy Howell's tie-breaking homer in the eighth inning and a wild pitch by Boston reliever Tom House in the ninth.

Texas, in first place in the American League West, clobbered Boston pitching for 27 hits in extending the Red Sox' losing streak to eight games, the club's longest since 1974.

Center fielder Juan Beniquez had a double and three singles and a run-saving catch in the first game, scoring what proved to be the deciding run on House's wild pitch. Then the former Boston outfielder had a single and a bases-loaded walk for his first RBI of the season in the nightcap.

In the big second inning, Tiant, 3-2, should have retired the Rangers in order, but an error by shortstop Rick Burleson gave Texas its two-out opportunity. Before Reggie Cleveland finally ended the outburst, every Texas batter except one scored at least once, with Jeff Burroughs tallying twice.

Jim Fregosi started the spree with a single and John Ellis followed with a run-scoring single. Tiant walked the next two batters, forcing in a run before Randle tripled off Dwight Evans' glove in deep right field. Mike Hargrove doubled Randle home and Harrah followed with his third home run of the season into the left-field screen.

After a walk and a double by Tom Grieve, Cleveland replaced Tiant. An error by third baseman Steve Dillard permitted another run before Ellis, the 14th batter in the inning, flied out to end the uprising. Staked to the big lead, Jim Umbarger earned his third victory in four decisions.

Reliever Steve Hargan, 1-0, was the first-game winner with ninth-inning help from Joe Hoerner after the Red Sox scored an unearned run. Hargan allowed just three hits after replacing starter Bill Singer in the fourth when Boston scored four times and tied the score 4-4.

'I want my money back'

Mixup snarls debut

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Janet Guthrie made her debut at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday, but she had to use borrowed equipment because of an airline mixup that left her belongings in Chicago.

Miss Guthrie, 38, the first woman to enter the Indianapolis 500, wore blue jeans and sandals as she sat in her Gasoline Alley garage awaiting last-minute work on her Vollstedt racer.

Her problem, she said, stemmed from a late arrival at New York's La Guardia Airport on Saturday morning.

"I ran up, gave the skycap a couple bucks and told him to send the bags to Indianapolis," she laughed. "They just found them an hour ago in Chicago. I want my money back."

Among the missing items were her helmet and driver's suit.

"We purchased some new gear here," she said, "except for the hat and driver's suit, which I am proud to say Billy Vukovich loaned me. I think that exemplifies a very high level of sportsmanship, because he was one of the earliest critics of women drivers."

Only six drivers made it out on the track by mid-afternoon as a crowd of several thousand persons, many of them waiting for Miss Guthrie's first appearance, watched the opening session of practice for the May 30 race.

JANET GUTHRIE Send bags to Indianapolis

Three of the early cars out for practice were driven by rookies, including Bob Olivero, Lakewood, Calif., who was the first to attempt his rookie test and sailed through 20 laps at 160 miles per hour with no trouble.

Two other drivers, the youngest and one of the oldest, were not as fortunate.

The first casualty was 21-year-old rookie Spike Gehlhausen's McLaren, which blew a piston coming down the main stretch shortly after taking to the track. The racer was wheeled back to Gasoline Alley and the engine from a backup car was quickly substituted.

Not long after that, veteran Roger McCluskey, 48, blew his engine coming off the straightaway and scattered parts along the track as he coasted through the second turn.

Neither driver was injured, but the yellow caution light was on briefly as U.S. Auto Club officials cleared and inspected the track before further activity was permitted.

The first driver out on the track was Larry Cannon, hoping for his second start in the 500.

Cannon, 39, drove in the 1974 race but lasted just 49 laps and finished 24th.

Other drivers out early in the day were veteran Jim Mc-Elreath and rookie Billy Scott, who made a qualifying attempt here last year but crashed coming out of the fourth turn and missed the race.

Three-time winner A.J. Foyt and brothers Al and Bobby Unser, who have won here twice each, arrived at the Speedway about noon, but stayed in the garage area.

Cards clip Lions 9-2

In National Little League action the Pollard Chevrolet Cardinals' pitchers Randy Johnson and Kip McLaughlin combined to hurl a two-hitter against the Evening Lions Club Lions to register the Cards' first victory this season against one loss.

Losing pitcher, Terry Spears, got both of the Lions' hits and scored their two runs. The loss evened the Lions' record at 1-1.

The Cardinals raked Spears for nine hits including two apiece by Randy Johnson, Chris Austin, Matt Taylor and Bill Pollard.

"FRIENDS" MAKE THE FINALS — Guillermo Vilas (L) of Argentina and Bjorn Borg (R) of Sweden meet the press Saturday before their WCT Finals match in Dallas Sunday. Both Borg and Vilas are good friends but things will turn serious Sunday as they compete for first-place money of $50,000. The runner-up will receive $20,500.

Swede Borg hoping 3rd time the charm

DALLAS (AP) — Bjorn Borg of Sweden has reached the final again in one of the world's most prestigious tennis tournaments and he feels the bitter lessons he learned the other two times around will serve him well.

The 19-year-old Borg lost to Australia's John Newcombe in the World Championship of Tennis final in 1974 and to America's Arthur Ashe last year.

The $50,000 first price once again is within his grasp Sunday if he can control his nerves and play his usual error-free game against Argentine Guillermo Vilas.

"I feel much better than at this point last year—not as tired," said Borg who defeated Rod Laver in a four-hour semifinal match last year. Borg was an easy victim to Ashe in the final after the stamina-draining battle with Laver.

"I feel very good," said the idol of teenagers who must take shots after every match because of a bladder infection. "I will try so hard Sunday and if I play like I did against Harold Solomon, I will have a very good chance.

"I have more experience in this event now and since I arrived here all I have been thinking about is getting to the finals."

Old NHL legend meets young one in finals

MONTREAL (AP) — Philadelphia center Terry Crisp thinks the Flyers will have something to prove when they open defense of their Stanley Cup championship against the Montreal Canadiens here Sunday night. His teammate, Bobby Clarke, thinks otherwise.

"The first year we won it, everybody said it was a fluke," said Crisp, the red-haired veteran of nine seasons in the National Hockey League playoffs with the St. Louis Blues and the Flyers. "When we did it again last year, everybody said we were 'goons' because we took so many penalties.

"Now this time, we'll have to prove we're just a good all-around hockey team that can win it on ability."

Clarke, the hobbling pivot on the league's highest goal-scoring line with left wing Bill Barber and right wing Reggie Leach, said, "I don't think we have anything to prove. We know what we've accomplished. We know what we have done."

That left Montreal center Pete Mahovlich to settle the difference of opinion between the two Philadelphia centers. "The Flyers are shooting for their third straight Cup this year and papers are writing us up as the best team in the league," he says. "I know how much pride Philadelphia has and that kind of talk will only make them tougher. They'll come here Sunday feeling they have something to prove and they'll swarm all over us."

It now is up to Montreal to show what it can do in its first finals appearance since they last won the chalice in 1973. The Canadiens, who host Sunday night's opener and Tuesday night's second game, are quietly confident.

Whether Montreal Coach Scotty Bowman elects to match lines or not, young Canadiens center Doug Risebrough is certain the best-of-seven series will be a closely-played one.

For their part, the Flyers might want to put a checking line on the Canadiens' powerful trio of Mahovlich, Shutt and Lafleur. Mahovlich finished the season with 105 points, Shutt had 45 goals and Lafleur 56 on the way to the league's scoring championship.

Whatever the strategy, the teams place the obvious importance on winning at least once away from home—a tall order for both, since the Flyers last won here on Nov. 2, 1974 when they became the last team to shut out Montreal with a 3-0 verdict. The Canadiens haven't won in Philadelphia's Spectrum home since Oct. 25, 1973, also by a shutout.

SIGNS OF A HAPPY LEADER — Mark Hayes, of Stillwater, Okla., shows exuberance after sinking a birdie putt on the 17th hole in the Byron Nelson Golf Classic Friday which kept him two shots ahead of Bob Smith.

Okie leads bandit in Nelson Classic

DALLAS (AP) — "It takes a lot of guts to win and a lot of us haven't showed we've got 'em yet," says Mark Hayes, pondering his role as the 36-hole leader in the Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

"It's said that a lot of people are afraid to win, that everything that comes with winning is too much for 'em to handle. I think there's some truth to that.

"You make six birdies in a row and you're afraid to make one more. It's just all the pressure. If you've done it before it's a lot easier. But you always have to get past that first time."

Hayes, 26, a personable Okie from Stillwater, cruised into the third round of the $200,000 Nelson festival today sporting a two-shot lead over "bandit" Bob Smith and his "stolen putter."

The softspoken leader plundered the 6,983-yard, par 71 Preston Trail course for a 67 which, coupled with his opening 66, gave him a 36-hole total of 133, nine under regulation.

"I like this position," he smiled. "I just wish it was the fourth round."

A non-winner but frequent challenger during his four years on the pro circuit, Hayes dropped birdie putts of 6, 35, 10 and 6 feet as he reached the midway point without a bogey.

Smith, playing with a putter he says he "stole" from Mike McCullough, matched Hayes' 67 with a sparkling performance that included "the finest 10 holes I've played since I've been on the tour."

Among the players within striking distance of the lead were Masters champion Ray Floyd, who birdied his final three holes for a 67 and a 137 total.

He was tied at that five-under-par figure with Bill Rogers, 69-68, and Don Bies, 67-70, a stroke ahead of Old Pro Don January, 69-69; Tom Kite, 68-70; Jerry Pate, 70-68, and Hale Irwin, 70-68.

Among those still contending for the $40,000 top prize were Lee Trevino 69-70, and Jack Nicklaus, who shot a 68 Friday after his ill-fated opening 71 that included a two-stroke penalty for carrying an extra club.

"What the hell," Jack shrugged after chatting with newsmen Friday. "It's part of the game. And it's just two strokes — unfortunately against me."

"I'm not in bad shape, although nine under is a pretty good score. I would expect to see tnat leading score diminish. We'll see what happens," he added ominously.

Arnold Palmer, gamely battling an extended slump, dipped two under par at one point Friday but eventually settled for a 72 and a 36-hole reading of 143, 10 strokes off the lead and out of contention.

That made the cut, which, as Hayes made clear, wasn't his main concern any more.

"I just want to win some tournaments and be considered by the other players as a great player," he said. "Obviously I'm not there yet. But they're great judges and when they tell you, you gotta believe."

26 million eggs hatched by P&WD

AUSTIN — A whopping 26 million fish eggs have been hatched from Texas Parks and Wildlife Department brood fish this spring.

Lonnie Peters, P&WD inland fisheries chief, said last year's egg production goal for striped and hybrid bass as well as walleye was met during April.

He said 11 million walleye fry hatched, and most of these were delivered to reservoirs. Fisheries personnel anticipate nearly 1.5 million walleye will be grown to fingerling size before being released. Once they reach fingerling size they are transported and stocked into target lakes and reservoirs around the state.

Approximately 10 per cent of the department's pond-rearing facilities are used for walleye fingerling production.

"SURVIVAL AND growth rates vary greatly, depending on species and pond conditions," Peters said. Some species, like walleye, have a 30 to 60 per cent survival rate.

Some 15 million striper and hybrid striper fry were produced this year. It is anticipated that 845,000 hybrid and 1.4 million stripers, located in fish hatcheries around the state, will reach fingerling size by early summer.

"Most fry are rather delicate, in addition to having many predators. We expect about a 15 per cent survival rate on the stripers. Hybrid stripers, on the other hand, may have up to a 70 per cent survival rate from fry to fingerling," said Peters.

Because hybrids are partially native to Texas waters (milt from native white bass is used in the cross), they are perhaps better equipped to survive.

IN NATURE, fry survival rates are considerably lower than they are in hatchery ponds, where there are few, if any, predators.

Inland fisheries personnel are well into rearing operations and, beginning in early June, hatchery ponds will be drained and fingerlings retrieved. All rearing ponds will have been drained by the end of June.

Once they have been removed from the ponds they will be transported and stocked into reservoirs around the state.

The hatchery ponds in San Angelo received walleye eggs from Lake Meredith, with striper and hybrid eggs coming from E. V. Spence Lake and Toledo Bend Reservoir.

BROOD FISH used in the Toledo Bend operation were stocked by Louisiana beginning in 1968.

"This is the final year of a five-year program in which we stocked 18 lakes with walleye and 15 other lakes with striper and hybrid bass," Peters said.

The object of the study was a concerted effort to build up new game fish populations in the target lakes.

"We anticipate that fish stocked in past years at these lakes will have reached sexual maturity and spawned, thereby aiding the overall population," Peters said.

Beginning in spring 1977, personnel will begin the cycle once again, injecting brood fish with hormones, stripping eggs and rearing fry to stock in other lakes.

TRACK

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas teenage girls sprinted to three national records and tied two others Saturday at the state high school meet.

Fort Worth Trimble Tech set a national record in the 440-yard relay, zooming to a time of 46.8, and captured the girls 4A team title.

Houston Worthing ran the mile relay in 3:53.6 in 4A for a national record and Gwin Smith of Conroe sped the 220 in 23.7, breaking her own national record by three-tenths of a second. Sophomore Karen Holmes of Fort Worth Wyatt ran the 60-yard dash in 6.8 seconds to tie a national record and Lena Gibbs of Houston Washington edged her in 10.4 to tie the national record in the 100. Miss Holmes also had a 10.4.

Paducah won the Class A title with 53 points, as Nadia Vaughn had the high individual point total in the meet with 22 points. She ran on Paducah's winning 440 and 880 relays and placed in the high jump, long jump and 200.

Meadow won the climatic mile relay to take the Class B title with 54 points.

All the national records that were broken or tied already were held by Texas girls who, at the end of the 1975 season, were listed No. 1 in nine of the 14 girls high school events.

Another Texas national record-holder, Essie Kelley, of Spur, won the 440 for the third consecutive year in Class A but faded to 56.4—1.4 seconds off her national record. A crowd estimated at 4,000 watched the fifth annual girl's meet in bright, cloudy weather in the 70s.

Trimble Tech's 48 points gave it the 4A title over Fort Worth Eastern Hills, which had 42. Bovina trailed Paducah by three points in Class A, and Rising Star Fell six points behind Meadow in the B team championship with 48 points.

Trimble Tech's 440-yard relay time was particularly impressive since two of the four runners were freshmen and another a junior.

Nedra Washington of Tech might have had a chance at the open 440 record but she had to run it about five minutes after the 440 relay was over. She finished second in the 440, just under two seconds over Miss Kelley's national record of 55.0.

Besides the national records, which also broke state and conference marks, the girls erased another 11 conference records and tied two more.

Friday, in the first day of the meet, seven conference records were broken and two tied.

Canyon won the 3A title with 47 points to 34 for second place New Caney, and Bellville piled up 54 for the 2A championship, with Marble Falls and Hempstead tied for second with 40.

WHA semifinals 1-1

Aeros slice Whalers

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Aeros Coach Bill Dineen was pleased to see his defending World Hockey Association (WHA) champions back in form Friday night but he doesn't think they are all the way back yet in their WHA semfinal playoff series with New England.

"We're still not as sharp as we can be," Dineen said after Houston had manhandled the Whalers 5-2 Friday night to even the best of seven series at 1-1.

"We had the long layoff before the playoffs started and then we did explode against San Diego in that first game but we've been struggling ever since."

The Aeros, who have won back-to-back WHA World Cup titles, were convincingly sharp to the Whalers Friday night, however, scoring three goals in a rapid-fire 1:17 of the second period to grab the momentum. They hope to keep rolling Sunday night in game No. 3 of the series at Hartford, Conn.

"Anybody could play goalie for this team the way they played tonight," said Aero backup goalie Wayne Rutledge, who subbed for all-star Ron Grahamex.

Dineen benched Grahame after the Whalers beat him 4-2 in the series opener Wednesday night. "I think this was a team effort," Rutledge said. Terry (Ruskowski) really worked for that goal. That gave us the lift we needed."

It was Ruskowski who scored the first goal in Houston's devastating 1:17 blitz. John Tonelli and Ted Taylor quickly added the other two goals and the Aeros looked like champs again.

It had been a long road back for the Aeros, who drew a bye in the WHA's first round of the playoffs. Houston then staggered through its second round series against San Diego and looked bad in Wednesday's first game against New England.

Expos nip G'men 7-5

MONTREAL (AP) — Larry Parrish's bases-loaded triple keyed a four-run first inning and the Montreal Expos went on to defeat the San Francisco Giants 7-5 Saturday.

Pepe Mangual led off with his first home run of the season before singles by Jerry White and Gary Carter and a walk to Pete Mackanin loaded the bases for Parrish, who drove a pitch from John D'Acquisto, 0-2, to the fence in right-center.

D'Acquisto came back with a run-scoring single in the second inning of the nationally televised game, but the Expos made it 6-1 in the bottom of the inning. Mike Jorgensen chased D'Acquisto with an RBI double and Carter greeted reliever Dave Heaverlo with an RBI grounder.

Talons claw Sabres 4-2

In International Little League action Friday Todd Underwood and Stewart Miller combined to hurl a three-hitter against the Sabres for a 4-2 victory.

Underwood and Miller struck out 13 to register Underwood's third win against no losses and push the Talons' record to 3-2.

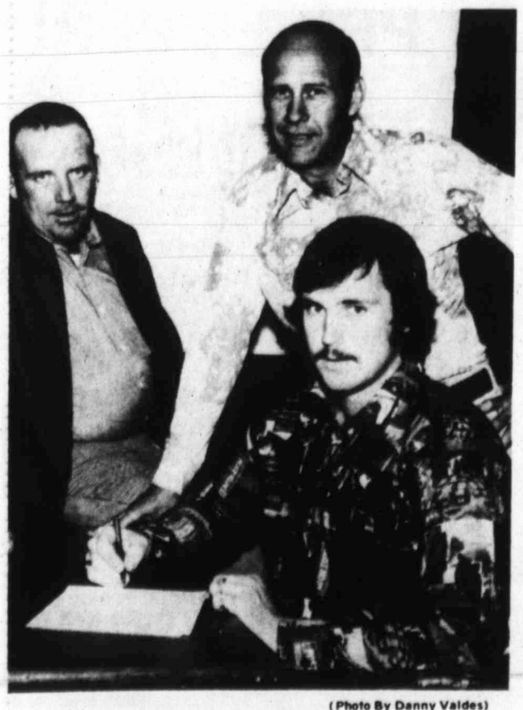

Gary Williams held the Talons to five hits and helped his own cause with a triple, but it wasn't enough to keep the Sabres from dropping their fourth straight loss against no victories.

Randy Samuels of the Talons hit the first home run in the International League this season. Miller was the other hitting star for the winners with a single and double.

Racket ball tourney at 'Y'

There will be a racket ball tournament at the YMCA May 21 and 22. A, B AND C divisions will compete in the tournament open to Big Spring players only.

The tourney will be limited to the first eight entries in each division. Phone the YMCA 267-8234 for registration and more information.

Astro and Dome sale may take three weeks

HOUSTON (AP) — An Astrodome Corp. official says three weeks probably will be needed to complete negotiatons on the possible purchase of the Houston Astros baseball team and the Astrodome lease by John Mecom Sr. and John Mecom Jr.

T.H. Neyland said Friday warranties, indemnities and other legal complications are delaying negotiations on a transaction whereby the baseball team would be sold to the elder Mecom and the Astrodome leased to the younger Mecom.

Neyland is president and chief executive of the Astrodomain Corp., 98 per cent owner of the Houston Sports Association, which owns the Astros and holds a 40-year lease on the Astrodome.

The Mecoms, Houston oilmen, could not be reached for comment.

Neyland said the proposed transactions would have to be approved by Harris County officials and by team owners of major baseball and the National Football League.

He said the football owners would have to approve because the younger Mecom holds a NFL franchise as owner of the New Orleans Saints.

Neyland would neither confirm nor deny a report that $25 million in financing to prevent the proposed transaction is being sought by Astrodomain Chairman Judge Roy Hofheinz.

"I hope the judge can raise the money if that is his intention," Neyland said. "My work with the corporation would then be at an end."

Neyland denied Hofheinz opposes the sale of assets to pay creditors.

"We have very fine relations with the creditors and with the judge and other shareholders," he said.

Neyland said the debt owed by the Astrodomain Corp. was originally $38 million but it was reduced by selling the Astroworld Hotel complex to Servico Inc. and leasing the Astroworld Amusement Park to the Six Flags Corp.

Braves reel to 12th loss

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dave Parker's bases-loaded triple in the first inning paced the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-3 victory over Atlanta Saturday that extended the Braves' losing streak to 12 consecutive games.

Parker scored the fourth run of the inning on Richie Zisk's single.

Doc Medich, who gave up two hits and a walk in the first inning but was saved by a double play and a steal attempt that failed, kept the Braves scoreless until the eighth.

Reds club Cubs 14-4

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie Santo Alcala, making his first major league start, limited Chicago to two hits in seven innings Saturday while Dave Concepcion, Tony Perez and George Foster rapped out three hits apiece to lead the Cincinnati Reds to a 14-4 romp over the Cubs.

Alcala, 1-0, a 23-year-old right-hander from the Dominican Republic, was nicked for three runs in the first inning on a single and three walks but settled down after that and allowed only one other hit—a solo home run by Bill Madlock in the fifth inning.

Concepcion had two doubles and a single, driving in two runs, while Perez had three singles and two RBI and Foster had a single, triple, double and three RBI. Joe Morgan also drove in three runs for the Reds with a double, single and sacrifice fly.

Help us find a way to spend $1,000,000.

Shhhh. We want to get kind of personal.

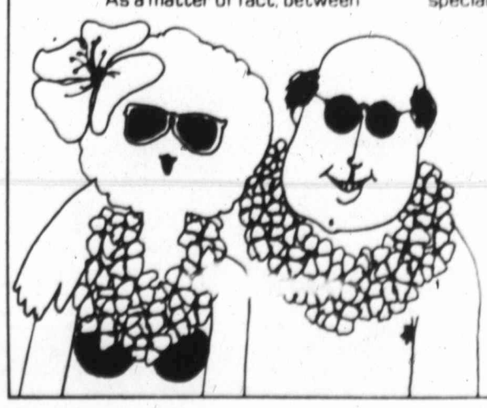

Need a little money? Like maybe to get the kids' teeth fixed, or to pay off a couple of bills, or for one of those it's-none-of-our-business-what-I-do-with-the-money things or to sneak off to the islands.

Well, we have the money to loan you.

As a matter of fact, between now and June 30, we'll loan you money for just about anything. Home loans, home improvement loans, and loans for cars, boats and all kinds of personal things.

Before this, you couldn't get all these kinds of loans just anywhere. Now, we've fixed it so you can.

Big Spring High School

Junior-senior banquet, prom scheduled Saturday

By SHAUNA HILL

The 1976 Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom is this Sat.!! The banquet begins at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria and will feature a steak dinner and the one and only reading of the Senior Will. The prom starts at 9:30 p.m. at the Dora Roberts Community Center and "Scrub Brotherhood" from Lubbock will provide four hours of rock, country, and cuddle music. Pictures will be made at the dance.

Formal dress does not require a tux for the boys as a leisure suit or a coat and tie are acceptable. Girls may wear dressy dresses or long dresses.

There will still be a few tickets to the banquet available tomorrow through Wed. from Ms. Currie, junior class sponsor, at $2.75 each. All juniors and seniors of BSHS and their spouses are invited to "Color Their World" including those who are dateless due to the age, location, or lack of heterosexual companionship.

Gary Howell was elected 2nd Student Council alternate for next year's senior class in a special run-off election last Mon. The election was held because Howell, Scott Sullivan, and Kyle Wheeler tied in the previous week's regular election.

Big Spring High School was named the '75-'76 Outstanding Safety School of District VIII for the second year in a row at the State Student Council Convention last weekend. This is quite an honor because District VIII is the largest district in Texas and covers the entire southwest portion of the state.

The Senior Will box will be in the main office until 4 p.m. this Fri. All seniors are invited to bequeath something special or strange to the Class of '77. The will is scheduled to be read in place of the program at the Junior-Senior Banquet.

The Metal Trades Club of VICA held its award dinner at the Brandin' Iron Inn last Fri. night. Robert Armstrong and Tommy Wegner received safety awards and Billy Berry and Bill Davis were awarded Metal Trades Certificates for their outstanding work this year. Mr. John F. Smith, principal of BSHS, was the featured speaker and Mr. Thomas Ament and Mr. John Bagnall, instructors, served as sponsors of the affair.

The National Honor Society's annual end-of-the-year party will be held this Thurs. at 6 p.m. at the big pavillion in Comanche Trail Park. All members and guests who plan to attend should sign the list in Ms. Smith or Mr. Cunningham's room before Wed. All guests will be charged $1 to get in.

Barney's Beat, the final band concert of the year, will be held this Thurs. at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Admission will be $1 and the old-fashioned concert will feature all high school bands and the Goliad and Runnels Junior High School bands.

Goliad and Runnels Science Club members attended a cook-out sponsored by BSHS's Future Scientists of America last Mon. at Comanche Trail Park. Around 25 junior high school students feasted on picnic fare and were introduced to the functions and purposes of the FSA.

FSA officers for '76-'77 were recently elected. They are Howard Shivers, president; Robert Brown, vice president; Wanda Miles, secretary; Nat Nunez, treasurer; and Dana Kennemer, social director.

Thirty-seven Steer Band members and six sponsors traveled to Enid, Okla., for the 45th Annual Tri-State Music Festival last Thurs. They played in the solo and ensemble division of the contest on Fri. and were judged individually on their musical technique and interpretation.

In order to qualiny for the three-state event, all of the entries made a I on a first class solo or ensemble at the local level. The group went to Dallas yesterday, plans to visit Six Flags Over Texas today, and will return to Big Spring late tonight.

Representatives chosen to attend girls' state

By SHAUNA HILL

Donna James, Suzanne Smith, and Beverly Strickland are Howard County's delegates to Texas Bluebonnet Girls' State according to Ms. Shirley Bodin, Girls' State Chairman of the local 355th American Legion Women's Auxiliary.

The three girls were nominated by their high school principals and selected on the basis of their character, leadership, service, and scholarship.

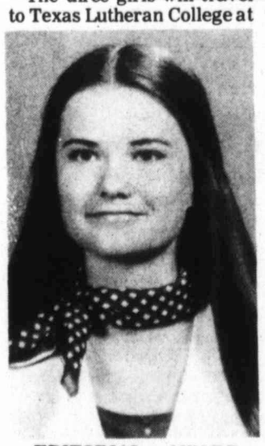

Donna James, a junior at Coahoma High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ovis James. Her alternate is Dana Pettite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Pettite.

Suzanne Smith, a junior at Big Spring High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith. Cathy Valdes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Valdes, will serve as her alternate.

Beverly Strickland, a junior at Forsan High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Strickland. Her alternate is Margaret Findley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Findley.

The three girls will travel to Texas Lutheran College at Seguin, Texas, and spend June 8-18 in a mythical state operating their own government. They, along with 500 other girls, will be divided into ten cities and five counties and will participate in all forms of city, county, and state government.

party politics as they will be assigned to either the Federalists or the Nationalists, two imaginery political parties. A continuing series of lectures by noted government authorities will round out the program of learning government through "listening and involvement."

EDITORIAL AWARD GIVEN — Lisa Martin of Sands won first place in editorial writing at the University Interscholastic League meet hosted by South Plains College of Levelland. Goliad

Travel to Monahans

By LUCIAN GRATHWOL

Goliad's science club will be taking a trip to the Monahans Sand Dunes this week. Members of the club are leaving from Goliad on the morning of May 15. The trip will last all day, and members will return early Saturday evening.

Goliad's band performed well at University Interscholastic League contest last Tuesday. They received a II division rating in concert (which is above average). In sightreading, they received a I division rating (which is excellent, also the highest rating possible). The band was presented a placque for their efforts.

In the Bicentennial bulletin board contest for the 1975-76 school year, the final judging was done last Wednesday. Mrs. Ruth Salisbury's homeroom placed first, with Mrs. Ann Campbell's homeroom coming in second. Third-place winner was Mrs. Irene Wiley's homeroom, and the fourth-place winner was Mrs. Cornelia Gary's homeroom. Mrs. Salisbury's class will have a Coke party this Friday during the eighth grade advisory to celebrate their sweepstake win.

Student Council officers will meet this Monday during fourth period in room 102. There will be a meeting of the whole Student Council on Wednesday during the eighth grade advisory also in room 102.

The library urges students to check in all books by Friday, May 14. The librarian, Mrs. Essie Person, will begin to train next year's aides on Thursday, and students may not check out books during this time.

Forsan

Cheerleaders are elected

By ELLEN GRESSETT

The Junior High cheerleaders for next year are Monica Dyess (head), Isabel Miranda, Christie Adams, Jonie Poynor, and Kim Kendricks. The Junior High student council president for next year is Brent Raney.

The library, student center, and old gym will be closed beginning May 10.

Ralph Miranda, Steve Cowley, and Marcia Nichols travelled to Austin for the State Meet on May 6 and 7. Ralph Miranda is participating in number sense; Steve Cowley is participating in ready-writing, and Marcia Nichols is participating in tennis.

FORSAN YOUTH WINNER IN NUMBER SENSE — Ralph Miranda of Forsan was awarded second place in number sense during the recent University Interscholastic League spring meet for Region I, Conference B. The meet was hosted for the second consecutive year by South Plains College of Levelland. Ralph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Miranda of Forsan.

Sands

President is elected

By KELLY ZANT

Among other things that have been going on here at SHS, the most important has been the election of a new Student Council president. The election was held Monday afternoon where Kaye Hunt, outgoing prexy, presided. The five students running, including Rene Roman, Lisa Martin, Stan Feaster, Sam McDonald, and Gary Webb, were subjected to careful scrutiny by the student body and then the vote was taken. Out of these five able-bodied students, Rene Roman was elected new Student Council president for the coming school year, '76-'77.

Many things have been going on for the SHS senior. The Baptist Church of Ackerly played host at a luncheon, Monday, the 3rd, to the entire senior class and their sponsors. Then, on May 16, following Baccalaureate services, the Church of Christ will host its annual ice cream supper for the group of 20 seniors. Seniors will get out on May 19 and graduate the following night on May 20. The speaker for the graduation will be Dr. Charles Hays, president of Howard College. To be blunt, there are exactly eleven days until the curtain falls (if you know what I mean).

Then, the Grand Finale. Senior Trip. After some refining, the trip goes something like this. The crew will leave Saturday, the 22nd, and arrive at L. A. International just in time for dinner. The trip includes: days at the beach, the live-audience viewing of "The Mac Davis Show," a tour of the San Diego Zoo.

Runnels

Magazine distributed

By GINA ROBERTSON

"Write 'N Rap," a magazine written and edited by students in Mrs. Warren's English classes, was published Thursday. The publication included poetry, paragraphs, book reports, anecdotes, descriptions, and cartoons. Lori Hicks served as editor-in-chief, and Kelly Brockman as poetry editor. Editors for the individual classes were Rebecca Garcia, James Green, Lanette Pollard, David Morgan, Lisa Beard, Scott Barnes, Sherri Minchew, Eugene Kayser, Misty Johnson, and Bill Brown. Cover design was by Linda Gibbs.

The seventh grade girls' track participants completed their mini-track meet on Wednesday after school. Sixty-two girls participated in the following events: discus, shot-put, standing broad jump, 75-yard dash, 50-yard dash, and the 440-yard relay. First, second, and third-place winners in each category are as follows: discus — Bethine Jones, Juanita Houston, and Elizabeth Cevallos; shot-put — Bethine Jones, Cynthia Washington, Carol Cooper; standing broad jump — Beverly Wheeler, Shelly Woods, and Paula Harrison; 75-yard dash — Wanda Winters, Dee Earhart, and third-place tie to Debra Abreo and Juanita Houston; 50-yard dash — Charky Butler, Brenda Trevina (first-place tie); Emma Aldridge, Dee Earhart, and Cynthia Rubio (second-place three-way tie); Donna Diliberto and Melinda Lopez (third-place tie). In the 440-yard relay, first-place team was Julia Montanez, Brenda Trevina, Debra Abreo, and Linda Magers; second-place team was Dee Earhart, Wenday McLain, Jackie Rodriquez, and Judy Fox; and third-place team was Cynthia Moore, Emma Aldridge, Lanette Pollard, and Donna Montgomery. The seventh grade P.E. classes are now playing three-two softball.

The Runnels band went to contest on Tuesday. They placed a 2 in concert and a 3 in sight reading.

The elections for 8th and 9th grade cheerleaders will be held this Tuesday, May 11. Elections will also be held that day for student council representatives. Results of that election will be in next week's Megaphone.

The 8th grade girls' softball team challenged different advisories in a game of softball. The games will continue next week.

The Science Club had their first, second and third-place drawings Friday. Winning first prize of a tape recorder was Pat Moore. Second-place winner of earphones was Mrs. Montez and third-prize records were won by Cindy Bagwell.

Garden City

Twirlers, cheerleaders elected for 1976-77

By LINDA SCHWARTZ

The week was highlighted with the excitement of twirling tryouts on Monday and cheerleader tryouts on Tuesday. Two cheerleaders from Midland High School came out to help the students judge for the cheerleading tryouts. The 1976-77 twirlers are: Danetta Schafer — Head, and Debbie Lister. The 1976-77 cheerleaders will be: Head — Denise Jansa, Sr., Grace Medrano, Sr., Debra Wheat, Sr., Nancy Batla, Freshman, Denise Schwartz, Freshman and Karla Halfmann was chosen as alternate. The pep squad met on Thursday to set several new rules, to choose officers for next year and also vote on drummers for next season.

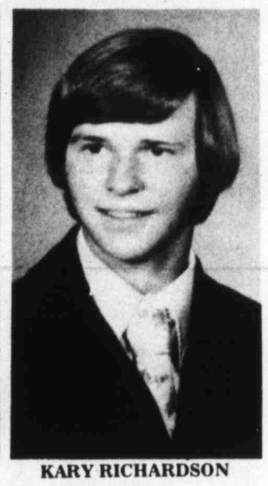

The student council was in charge of making a decision on whether to have a speaker for the Bearkat Banquet. Because of the speaker problem, the banquet will be held on Thursday, May 13 instead of the prescheduled date. The Intramural Track Meet will also be changed to Tuesday, May 11. Nominations for student council offices will be taken until May 10. The nomination must be turned into the office before then and the candidate must have 10 signatures to back up his campaign.

Mr. Putman met with the high school boys to discuss the sports schedule with them. He announced that Mr. Roy Flournoy would be the coach for all boys' sports. The state girls' track and all U.I.L. events will be held in Austin this weekend. The girls representing the school in track are: Dana Halfmann, Sr., Jan Hirt, Sr., Linda Chandler, Sr., Donna Plagens, Soph., and Emma Lou Halfmann, Freshman as alternate.

This coming Monday night, May 10, the annual Muscular Dystrophy basketball games will be played. The Huffers and Puffers vs. the Senior girls and boys. Admission will be one dollar per person or a donation. Everyone is encouraged to attend to help the cause. This is all the news for this week. Hang in there. There are only 14 more days of school left.

ELLEN GRESSETT

KARY RICHARDSON

Top honor students named at Forsan High

Ellen Gressett and Kary Richardson have been named as valedictorian and salutorian of Forsan High School's 1976 senior class with four-year grade averages of 95.06 and 94.64 respectively.

Miss Gressett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Gressett of Forsan, Texas, is a National Honor Society member and has served her class as treasurer for three years. She has been active in University Interscholastic League ready writing and slide rule for three years, earning her way to the regional contest in both events her junior and senior years.

Upon graduation, Miss Gressett plans to enroll May 31 at Angelo State University in pursuance of a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

Salutatorian Kary Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richardson of Big Spring, Texas, belongs to the National Honor Society and is president of the Forsan High Student Council.

Selected as all-school favorite this year, Kary has also been class favorite his freshman, junior and senior years. He served as class president for two years and as secretary-treasurer his freshman year.

Coahoma lists honor students

Barbee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Barbee. He is listed as valedictorian for the year. Ms. Self, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Self, is salutatorian. Graduation will be Thursday, May 27, in the Coahoma High School auditorium.

Fletcher gains special award

COLLEGE STATION — Bennett W. Fletcher of Big Spring received a special award for top work in German language studies at Texas A&M University.

The award was a German book, presented by Mrs. Ruth Krassman of the Consulate General of the Federal Republic of Germany. She is the cultural attache in the Houston office.

Grady

Banquet held in Midland

By LESLIE WELCH

This past Saturday, the Junior-Senior Banquet was held at Conner's Banquet Room in Midland. The theme was "America" with the decorations of red, white and blue. The Junior Class did a great job planning this banquet.

Monday, the Student Council met in the library. The officers for the 1976-77 school year are Mary Lupe Perez, president; Faye Welch, vice president; Tamra Williams, secretary; and Jay Pruitt, treasurer.

Wednesday, at lunch, the FFA had a meeting. The FFA and FHAers have really done a lot this year. We are very proud of these organizations.

The Home Economics III and IV classes took a field trip to Midland Thursday afternoon. Miss Pennington, Home Economics teacher, escorted the classes.

Thursday night beginning at 6:30 p.m. the Seniors of Grady High School sponsored an "old fashioned box supper." Games were played after the supper. Everyone really seemed to enjoy it.

Friday "Pioneer Day" took place at Grady. The old-fashioned things like "hog-killing" and "soap-making" were done. There was a display of antiques. The finale of "Pioneer Day" was the Elementary Spring Music Program held in the new gymnasium. It was a very exciting day.

Also, Friday, Leland Key and Mr. Vestal attended the Area FFA Convention held in Lamesa. Leland won the record book competition at the El Rancho District Contest.

Well, that's the news for this week. Be back soon! Bye!

Two for the road

with Danny Reagan & James Werrell

What do a number of Big Spring residents do on a Sunday afternoon besides go to the lake, watch TV and wash the car?

We'll give you a hint . . . it's bigger than 3,000 bread boxes. Give up? They clean out their closets and hold and attend garage sales.

The garage sale phenomenon is hard to understand sometimes. One astute "garage-sale-ee" said that "People just go out and buy each other's junk." And for the most part that is true. However, "One man's junk may be another man's fortune." — (W. Finley, '06).

But the appeal of the garage sale does not lie in the well-founded truth that people travel to such sales to buy any particular item they might feel they need, but moreover, that they attend to see what another person had hidden in his closet . . . the natural curiosity that is a part of us all.

There is a type of garage sale goer that appears at every garage sale held, (and there are at least a dozen every weekend from which to choose), with the sole purpose of buying items that he or she will sell later at his or her own sale.

Some people make a somewhat comfortable living doing this, and accumulate quite a number of interesting articles in the process.

And after all, the appeal of the garage sale is the items being offered for sale, not the people you meet there.

But if you want to be amazed, just take a close look sometimes at the knick-knacks and mysterious bulky enigmas that litter the typical sale.

The most common items that line the garage floors of Big Spring sales are clothes, books, small appliances, wigs, hats and pieces of all of the above. This is especially true if you attend a sale that had also been going on the day before.

By Sunday afternoon the vendibles have been pretty much "picked over," and clothes and white elephants are the only items much in evidence.

But if you get there early enough in the weekend, a host of strange articles will feast upon your eyes, educating you to things in this world of which you never even dreamed.

The most intriguing items are the ones you have trouble identifying. The most memorable "thing" observed last week was a plastic encased box with a series of nobs and dials on it. It also was electric, as it had a cord extending from it.

We asked the neighborhood proprietor what the contraption was and he said, "I don't know, but you can have it for a dollar."

We declined his generous offer and instead bought 11 or 12 paperback books for a nickle a piece.

The ugliest items found in garage sale are the standing lamps, though standing could be a misnomer, as most of them lean a lot. And they can be made from the tackiest materials. We saw one that was made of some sort of baling wire and deer hides. Another looked like it had been on the Poseidon and someone forgot to turn it right side up again.

One hint: If you go to a garage sale on Saturday (that is if it runs again on Sunday) you won't be able to "haggle" prices as effectively as you could as the sale winds up. But as we stated earlier, the later you go on the last day the less is left. Do you perceive our drift? (Dig it?)

For the true afficianados of the art of junk hunting and bargain-buying, a trip to the tiny town of Canton, Texas, is roughly equivalent to a pilgrimage to Mecca for the Moslems. There, on the first Monday of every month, one may find the biggest, most voluminous, granddaddy of them all flea market imaginable.

The town, off of Route 20, is county seat of Van Zandt County in East Texas, and has become justifiably famous, at least statewide, for its Monday Trade Days. Drawing nigh to Canton on a trade day, one will notice cars lined up for miles, and booths beside the road. These are merely the tip of the iceberg.

The selling-trading area extends for literally hundreds of acres in all directions. Not only is everything from soup to nuts available, but also the soup-bowls, soup-spoons, nutcrackers, and refrigerators to store the leftovers.

It is a matter of scale; for every choice item found at a local garage sale, there are identical items (and probably ones that work electrically) in numbers from 100 to infinity at Canton.

A fellow newsgatherer, working for a paper in Greenville, went to Canton to get some color for her Sunday column. She returned, the proud owner of an antique bedroom suite and a pet goat.

A cousin got a good buy on a double-barreled shotgun there. He also bought a piece of a car that no one had ever heard of including the guy who sold it to him.

If you're in the market for baby raccoons, pickled quail's eggs, complete collections of metal Nehi signs, rare copies of Sub-Mariner comics, or a hand decorated pith helmet, Canton is the place to go.

Another good idea is to go there hungry. Sample the tamales at one stand, and then the chalupas at the next stand, and then maybe the corn-on-the-cob down the way, and don't miss the barbecue . . . Wash all this down with lemonade made on the spot with fresh lemons.

Canton's a mind-boggler, and you have to have a taste for sifting through other people's garbage. But you will learn that folks will buy and sell anything (anything!), and, who knows, you may walk away with that electric, combination potato peeler — nail trimmer — bottler capper, wondering how you ever got along without it.

Garage sales are a part of 'Americana', and a constant reality on the local scene. Not only are they interesting to attend, but also a great way to spend time with someone you enjoy spending time with.

Sterling named federal judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ross N. Sterling, a partner in the same law firm of John Connally, will soon become a federal judge in the Southern District of Texas.

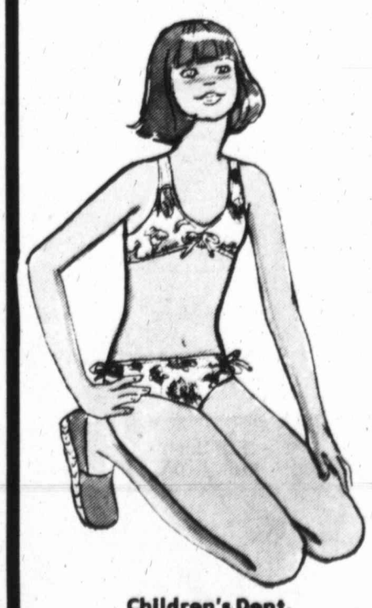

The Senate approved Thursday the nomination of Sterling, a grandnephew of former Texas Gov. Ross S. Sterling. He will fill a vacancy created last year by the retirement of U.S. Dist. Court Judge Allen B. Hannay. President Ford nominated him last month.

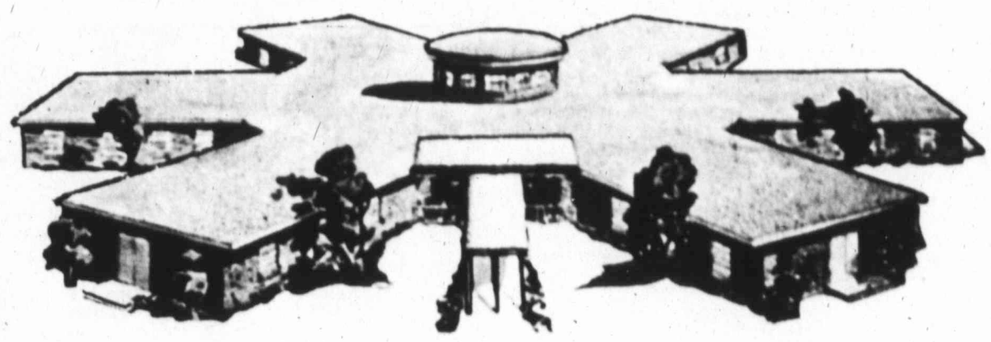

Sterling joined the firm of Vinson, Elkins, Searls, Connally and Smith in 1958 and became a partner in 1969.

"Where Everybody Is Somebody"

This is a message from the STAFF at MT. VIEW LODGE, INC. It is a message to encourage you to help us celebrate Texas Nursing Home Week May 9-15. This week will be dedicated to showing special appreciation to all nursing home residents. Our theme, "Resident Appreciation Week," will be carried out with daily activities to show appreciation to all residents at M-V-L.

We invite organizations, business establishments and individuals to send flowers, cards and other acknowledgements to our residents individually or collectively.

More importantly, we invite you to make a personal visit to a friend or relative at Mt. View during Nursing Home Week May 9 to 15.

King to run FM station

The Cobra Broadcast Corporation has announced the appointment of Don King to head its Big Spring stereo FM operation, KFNE.

King is well-known in West Texas broadcast circles, having formerly headed the news department of Odessa's KOZA.

King has a 13-year background covering virtually all phases of radio broadcasting.

He was commercial continuity manager of the Wyoming Sports Network, and was affiliated with the Intermountain Radio Network in Salt Lake City.

More recently he was chief producer of commercial continuity and news at KUAD AM-FM in Windsor, Colo. This broadcast facility is considered by many to be the most modern commercial radio facility in North America. The sound product consisted of 24-hour, quadraphonic rock FM and progressive country AM, with the entire facility operated by computers. Programs were beamed throughout Northern Colorado and Eastern Wyoming and into the Denver metropolitan area.

Other recent appointments include Joe Nichols, chief engineer. Nichols comes from Odessa, having owned and operated an Odessa electronic service facility specializing in radio-television repair and maintenance..

John Christy will be music coordinator and commercial production manager. Christy will be in charge of live night programming of rock music. He has background in personality programming and knowledge of current music trends.

By REBBECCA TAYLOR
REFERENCE LIBRARIAN

The CB radio craze has assumed epic proportions.

So many sets are in operation that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has authorized temporary "on the spot" licensing to ease the backlog and prevent unauthorized use of the citizen's bands.

Many people fail to take the licensing seriously and do not realize you must have already applied for regular license before the temporary license is valid.

The temporary license carries the same regulations and penalties for misuse that the regular license does. To broadcast without either license is illegal.

ANY OPERATOR properly licensed may be required at any time to show his credentials and log to an FCC representative.

Not every CB'er has to make a full-blown hobby of operating his radio.

All operators should, however, be aware of some theory and all the laws regulating radio operation.

Ignorance is not considered an excuse for violation of the laws. Many useful and fun aspects of CB are overlooked through being uninformed.

The Howard County Library has several books available and others on order to satisfy all levels of interest from the casual broadcaster to the professional radioman.

"Radio Operator's License Handbook" by Edward M. Noll covers the primary legal aspects of transmission. FCC regulations governing Amateur Radio Service, Citizen's Radio Service and other types of radio are thoroughly and clearly explained.

"HOW TO BE a Ham" by Ken Sessions is a later and broader treatment of amateur radio. Sessions states the do's and don'ts of legal operation and also goes into basic theory and identifies many basic transmitter parts, as well as discussing general etiquette and operating practices.

"The Radio Amateur's Handbook" by A. Fredrick Collins is a little older than the Sessions book, but it has more about the equipment and theory. The most redeeming feature of this book is an extensive appendix containing a glossary to define terms and a list of formulas to compute such things as resistance, amperage and other technical matters.

"THE RADIOMAN'S Guide" by Edwin P. Anderson and Robert G. Middleton, and the "Pictorial Guide to CB Radio Installation and Repair" by Forest Belt are both for the professional or the student learning to be a professional radioman.

These persons, along with the serious hobbyist with access to extensive know-how and equipment, will find these recent books very useful in troubleshooting and repairing radio equipment.

Both books are extensively illustrated, the first primarily with charts and diagrams, the second primarily with photographs.

Retired teachers set meet

The Big Spring-Howard County Retired Teachers Association will meet at 12 noon Tuesday, May 18, at the Western Sizzler Cafeteria.

Membership dues within the organization are now due, officials are reminding members.

All members are being urged to be present for the meeting. National Retired Teachers Association dues will be $3 annually after July 1.

Teachers retiring this year get a special invitation to attend the meeting, according to Mary R. Ingram, RTA treasurer.

Meeting set by Retired Fed workers

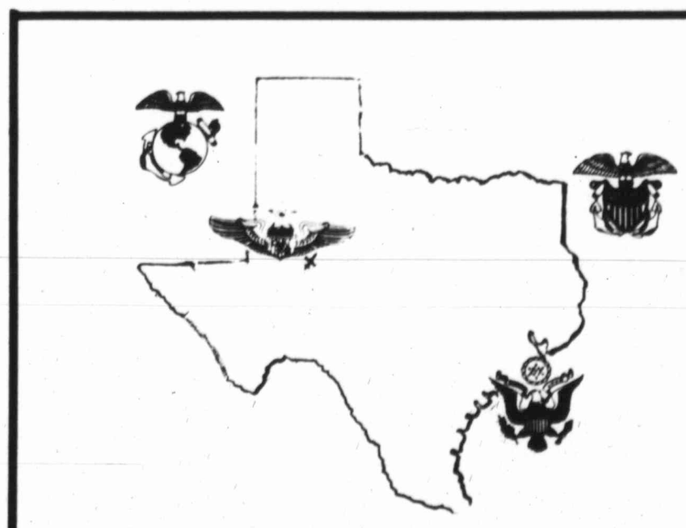

The NARFE (National Association of Retired Federal Employes) will hold its regular monthly meeting at 10 a.m. Thursday, at the Kentwood Older Adult Center, 2805 Lynn Drive.

Mrs. Sibyl Stielman, dietician for the Veterans Administration Hospital, will give an informative explanation of diet as applicable to senior citizens and their physical welfare.

President Joe P. Gordon urges all members and prospective members to attend the meeting.

Refreshments will be served before the meeting.

'Big league' stars headlining in Vegas

LAS VEGAS (AP) — What do Tony Orlando & Dawn, Peter Marshall of "Hollywood Squares" and Kojak have in common?

They are among the television stars headlining lately in Las Vegas' showrooms.

Some have found the Strip tougher than a Nielsen rating. Others have broke house records.

Why do they do it? For the money mostly, as well as the experience of trying Las Vegas performing.

"This is the big leagues," says Tony Zoppi, spokesman for the Riviera Hotel.

"Why does a ball player want to play for the Yankees? If he's got any ambition at all, a performer has to come to Las Vegas."

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Improve your appearance early so you can make an excellent impression on others and communicate better. Enjoy inexpensive but satisfying recreations.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Focus on your home; entertain a select group of friends. Some new interest can be investigated and good results obtained.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get out early to spiritual teachings that can help you. Then make contacts for an interesting afternoon and evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study ways to better yourself materially via new outlets. A financial expert can be contacted while at leisure for advice.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Go after true personal desires early after studying them. Become part of social affairs that are worthwhile. Make new contacts of note.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Meditation in early a.m. will show you how to gain your most cherished aims. Do whatever will make your mate happier. Give understanding.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Contact good friends and gain their backing for some important aim. Attend some social affair where you can get excellent results.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get into any possible charitable work with good friends. Then contact that civic group that can be helpful to you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Contact the most brilliant person you know and gain the ideas and advice you need. Make arrangements for trip.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your hunches are good and should be heeded so you can handle all your affairs much better. Divulge plan to mate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contact associates and talk over new project to iron out any bugs, then carry through intelligently. Handle some civic affair wisely.

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, MAY 10, 1976

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contacting associates and talking over present operations can yield fine benefits at this time. Show that you are a capable person.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Schedule your time and work wisely so that you get the maximum accomplished in the minimum of time. Don't overspend when out shopping.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan time for amusements that you like. Higher-ups can help you commercialize on the fine talents you possess. Relax at home tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make it a point to improve conditions at home in every way you can. Avoid one who is likely to put a dampener on your activities.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Contact allies and state your ideas. You can easily gain the cooperation of coworkers now. Excerise extreme caution in motion.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Ideal day to handle monetary affairs in a most intelligent way. Make the evening a charming one from a social standpoint.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are feeling magnetic today and should contact many persons who can help you advance. Show that you have good manners.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study conditions that are puzzling and come up with the right solutions. Plan to spend more time with the one you love. Strive for happiness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Time spent with good friends today can yield fine benefits after your work is done. Your personal aims can easily be attained now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get an early start on those activities that will improve your status in the outside world. Show your finest talents to higher-ups.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) New ideas you have should be put in operation without delay. Make any changes that are necessary later. Obtain the data you need.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try to come to a better understanding with mate, even if it takes spending more time with this person. Don't neglect your duties.

Ridin' fence

with Marj Carpenter

What better way to celebrate Mother's Day in this column than to write about a mother and grandmother who used to actually ride fence herself back in the old days in Glasscock County.

I'm talking about Mrs. Nathan (Ruth Carter) Allen, who resides here in Big Spring on Scurry Street. She has a picture of her in the old fence ridin' days when she and her sisters and brothers used to help out on the Carter Ranch, down in Glasscock County.

She can tell many a funny story about the early days, but one particular thing that sticks in her memory is an early day campout that she and her parents and three sisters made back in 1906. She was the oldest of the four and was eight at the time. Her three brothers were born later. Her sister, Gin, Mrs. Bismark Schafer was six; Maud, Mrs. Ben Schafer was four; and Alice, Mrs. Frank Colbert was two.

It took a full month to travel by covered wagon to Alpine and back, camping out a long the way. Their father was going out to look at land in the Davis Mountains.

They left the ranch in Glasscock County about July 1 and returned August 1. It was hot. They took a covered wagon and a hack, each pulled by two horses. "My Dad drove the hack and my uncle drove the wagon. There wasn't even a good wagon trail and watering places were few and far between.

"We carried our water in two kegs attached on each side of the wagon. I remember there wasn't much scenery but miles and miles of shinnery and other small shrubs. We did eventually see some mountains that looked tall to us, with high cliffs.

"We were hours traveling through the Monahans Sand Hills. It was hot and terrible. One day, from sunup to sundown, we only went ten miles. The other day, I flew over the Monhans Sand Hills and they certainly look different from an airplane than they did from tha' covered wagon.

"I recall that we finally reached Fort Stockton, but there wasn't much there. There were some Mexicans sitting on the courthouse steps playing a guitar and singing. We camped on the Pecos River before we crossed it. We lost Maud. She had wandered off in the salt cedars but we found her about a quarter mile from camp.

"At night the coyotes would yelp and the panthers scream. One night the horses tried to run, even though hobbled. Down the road, we found a large pool of blood where some wild animal had killed something.

"One night we camped in a beautiful grassy spot. A lone cowboy came up and visited our camp that night. We were by a crystal stream.

ALPINE CHURCH — It took two weeks to get to Alpine in a covered wagon in 1906. This adobe church was one of the sights when the family arrived. An old fence rider tells the tale of that early camping trip.

The cowboy told us it was Limpia Canyon and that we had better move to higher ground in case of a cloudburst. He told us about a couple of campers who had been drowned.

"Somewhere along the Ft. Davis route, we came to a large ranch house built against a mountain. We were invited inside. The name McCutcheon sticks in my head. The floors were covered with wild animal rugs and animal heads and horns hung on the wall. There was an outhouse hanging on the side of the mountain. They told Mother they never used it at night because of bears.

"After 12 days, we arrived in Alpine and then after visiting a few days returned the same route. On the way back, a Mexican family near Grand Falls gave us fresh eggs, milk and butter. Land was very cheap. In fact, $1 an acre was considered a big price.

"One of the main things I remember about that trip was a summer storm in the mountains with the echos of the thunder back and forth in the mountains. I don't know whether I've really ever had a more exciting trip since."

But her entire life has been interesting and exciting. Nathan Allen Jr. of Graham, Doris Sanders of Lake Thomas Lodge; Edith Fuqua of Leuders and Jo Carlile of Big Spring call her mother.

And she was a real fence rider, that used to be out there — ridin' fence when it was much more difficult.

Building permits plummet

Indicators show economic downturn

Economic indicators for April hear out pessimistic predictions of the effect of the March 10 Webb AFB possibility closure announcement on the number of city building permits issued for the month.

The amount of money spent on building projects in the city for April came to $47,065, with 25 permits being issued. The figure for March was $2,359,590, with 44 permits issued. This, however, becomes a lopsided comparison when one considers that the March figure contains an over-$2 million allotment for the Howard College Coliseum.

More valid comparisons may be made with the months of January and February when totals wree $267,775 with 30 permits, and $253,450 with 36 permits, respectively.

Figures for April have also dropped in comparison with those for the same month in 1975. April figures for last year showed construction cost as $235,997 with 41 permits issued.

With the boost from the coliseum allotment, construction figures for the year to date are still higher than those for 1975. Totals for 1976 are $2,927,880 with 135 permits, as compared with $1,201,633 with 127 permits for 1975.

The largest monthly figures for residential construction came in the area of additions and the construction of carports. Five permits were issued for both, with costs totaling $9,640 for additions, and $7,400 for carports.

Rodeo Queen to ride here

Cindy Haeslett of Weatherford, queen of the American Association of Sheriff's Posses and Riding clubs, will ride in the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo parade on June 23 in Big Spring.

The Howard County Sheriff's Posse received word from the queen this week that she plans to attend. The posse also discussed ways and means of feeding the visiting posses and riding clubs the day of the parade.

The posse also voted to ride in the Gaines County Rodeo parade in Seagraves June 3.

Mrs. Laura Duke resigned as reporter and Mrs. Ruby Allred was named to this post.

The roping chutes are nearing completion at the posse arena on the Andrews Highway and an open horse show will be held Saturday, May 15 with events starting at 1 p.m. with a $1 entry fee.

Armed Forces Week display

In keeping with Armed Forces Week and emphasis in Big Spring this week, the Heritage Museum has a special learning center module Air Force display.

The display includes picture slides that tell the story of training in a T-38. The display will be at the museum for a week and the public is invited to visit the museum, according to Mrs. Gerri Atwell, curator.

Just A Note

to express my many thanks to the citizens of Howard County and especially my supporters in Precinct 1.

I've enjoyed sharing your concerns and serving you.

Bicentennial town crier

Move over, Cecil B. DeMille — Charles Burks and Bill Priebe just directed our own spectacular — the Lone Star District Boy Scout Bicentennial pageant! The audience was amazed at the smooth performance, the clever props and costumes, and the authentic historical script. For a job well done, we thank Charles and Bill, Bill Bradford, general chairman, Joe Pickle, script writer, and Bob Lewis (Tumbleweed Smith), who was responsible for the professional sound tape that really made the show "come alive"! Many unsung workers, moms and dads, helped make the show possible, but the boys themselves were the real stars and seemed thrilled to be a part of the action. That's what bicentennial is all about — involvement. It was great men — do it again!

Craig Fischer, BSHS vice principal, is off and running again — this time to the 40th annual State Student Council Convention at Waco. Prominent BSHS students, Donnie Knight and Steve Hughes were discussion leaders outlining "How Student Councils Can Aid Patriotism". The Steer Band gave the convention-goers a treat with a Bicentennial performance of CR '76 — and what better example of the American Way? This group continues to put Big Spring way up front!

Will anyone admit to remembering the Harley Sadler tent shows? Those who can, are excited over the prospect of the Texas Tech troup which has resurrected the old plays and will perform them on tour this summer. The students will bring their own tent, and hopes are high that we can make arrangements for a week of plays here in Big Spring. The Tech director has already expressed a desire to meet Joe Pickle in person. Joe was responsible for some of the research needed for the shows. Hurry, hurry, get your box of crackerjacks right here!

Tid-bits: The Cottonwood Park dedication gave appreciation to a number of folks who have worked long and hard to beautify our town. Edna Womack put together a fine program, and we are pleased to be included . . . Dr. Charles Hays gave 5, 10, and 20 year "pins" to faculty and staff at the annual Howard College Faculty Ma'ams spring picnic. Tables were decorated with bicentennial mats and napkins. A fond farewell was said to Movelda Rhine, longtime business instructor . . . Joe Dunn has consented to head the Starlight Specials again, and hopefully it can be moved up to June in order to be a part of our Birthday Party. Frank Wentz already has plans under way for a bang-up Gospel Sing! You'll hear more on this . . . Many thanks to Kenneth and Jean Williams for seeing that the recent successful Paint Horse Show was a sanctioned bicentennial event . . . BASIC students Kay Wilbanks, Toni Hansen, Andra Hohertz, Phil Barber, and Frosty Reynolds report the time capsule project and Bicentennial essay contest are going fine . . . (Now Frosty, you must try to eat something, to keep up your strength!)

RUB, HARDER — Grover Springer, chairman of the Pioneer Day event at Grady Friday, checks to see if Mrs. Joe Glaze is properly demonstrating the rub board at the event.

By MARJ CARPENTER

A large group surrounded the taffy pulling booth where the children eagerly buttered their hands and waited for taffy to pull into the sugary candy. The old-fashioned thrill of pulling taffy was a happy Bicentennial event for these school children.

Some groups were also making cheese, demonstrating an old plow, painting pictures, and demonstrating many other items.

A concession stand was open inside the school where the event was moved, after the rain fell Friday morning.

The day was rich in memories for the old-timers who attended, and rich in heritage for the young folks who viewed the demonstrations.

It was deemed a success by school officials, as well as Bicentennial enthusiasts in the county.

BUTTERFINGERS — A large group of enthusiastic Grady Elementary school children had their hands all buttered and were ready to pull taffy at the Pioneer Day Celebration on Friday afternoon.

Photos by Danny Valdes

A group of girls from Marcy Elementary School came up with some touching, beautiful and funny reasons why their moms are the greatest moms in the world.

Lisa DeLeeuw, fifth grader, has some unusual things to say about her mother, Mrs. Don DeLeeuw," I think my mom is the greatest because she loves me, because she lets us have anybody over (almost) that I want, she gives me treats, she cooks the foods we like, she gives us nice clothes and shoes we need. My mom is the greatest in the whole world to me, and no one could replace her. My mom does so many things for me and I cannot think of all of them and I'm sure they wouldn't all fit on a sheet of paper."

She adds, "my mom works at the state hospital. My mom likes to rest, she likes to go to Midland and other places to shop, she likes to go outside and enjoy the wildlife; she likes to visit her friends, and just enjoy life."

Wendy Wildt, sixth grader, say of her mother, Mrs. Ernest Wildt, "I wouldn't trade my mama for anything because she's plump like me, but she says she is going to be thin, this summer.'cause she's going to the Magic Mirror. My mom works at the Veterans Administration Hospital on the fifth floor. She likes to decoupauge and I'm teaching her to macrame."

Tami Howell, fourth grader, says about her mom, Mrs. L. D. Howell, "I think the best mother in town is my mother. She cooks for me, lets me have someone over, she lets me go outside everyday, she cleans my room and make my bed and still gives me a dollar."

"The reason why I think my mom is the greatest is she tries to be nice. She does some of my work I never get around to. If I am on restriction she still lets me do stuff. My mom is very kind hearted. If I do something wrong she explains it to me instead of getting mad."

Fourth grader Yvone Kelly, thinks her mom, Mrs. Robert Kelly, is the greatest "because she yelled at me and cleans my sister up and lets me fix some cookies. And lets girls spend the night. My mom plays softball and goes to school and works on PE and the best thing she likes is softball and when I help clean the house.

Six grader Valerie Barnes thinks her mom, Mrs. Carolyn Barnes, is the greatest, "Because she wakes me up at 7 a.m. and gets me to school on time, especially when I have patrol. She makes my bed up when I forget to, she lets other people spend the night even when she doesn't feel good. I'd never want any other mom because she'd never be like my real mom. Really there is so many things I could say about my mom, but it wouldn't all fit on paper. My mom doesn't work, but while me and my brother are at school she sews, cooks, paints and clean house. My mom's hobbies are: paintings, sewing, going to college and crocheting.

Sisters Theresa and Susie Metzger have some beautiful things to say about their mother, Mrs. John Metzger. Theresa, fifth grader, says "The reason why my mom is the greatest is because she loves me and cares for me and helps me in almost everything. Not only that but we have fun almost every day. We love to go camping or boating, canoing and skiing. We love to be in the NATURE. She helps me when I'm hurt and anything else. She helps me do my work. I really love her."

Susie Metzger, fourth grader, says, "My mom is the greatest because she lets me stay up till after bed time and she loves me. The most important thing is she lets my friends spend the night at my house. My mother works at the high school and she teaches physics and physical science. In her free time she sews and makes clothes.

Chris Genoble says she and her dog think her mom, Mrs. James Genoble, is the greatest "because she gets up with my puppy at 6:30 every morning, and gets me up and even if I am in one of my bad moods it doesn't seem to bother her. Also because she makes my bed, cleans my room up, also because she lets me have friends over and I can have people over to spend the night. My mom works very hard at home cleaning, washing and cooking. She makes most of my clothes. She embroiders.

Fifth grader Susan Powell says of her mother, Mrs. Warren Powell, "My mom's the greatest because she made a doll and because I borrowed some money for candy and I didn't have to pay her back. She cleans my room every day. She gives me candy, cake and almost every thing I want. My mom makes me go to bed at 9:00 so I don't get tired in school. My mother's house is the best because she cleans everyday. She used to think she couldn't do anything but now she makes everything you can imagine."

Julie Correale, fifth grader, thinks her mother, Mrs. Joseph Correale, is the greatest for several reasons. "She is very nice. Sometimes she cooks what I like and it is great. She lets me pick out my own clothes. She gives me things when I need them. I get to go places when I ask, almost like my older brothers. She shares her ideas with me. She doesn't yell much and is really nice. She works at night as a nurse and goes to school.

Dorothy Burton, fifth grader, has many reasons why she loves her mother, Mrs. Olen Burton. She says,

"I think my mom is the greatest because she always listens to me. She makes my bed, cooks what I like, cleans up after me, and most of all she loves me. She lets me make my own decisions. She lets me babysit neighbors, and lets me have the most responsibility out of us kids.

"She always tells me what's right and if I do something wrong she never says, 'I told you so.' And even though she works and is always busy she always has time for me, and she always helps me no matter what it is. If my dad wants to get rid of the dog she always talks him out of it, and when I want something she always (nearly) gives it to me."

"She always does or says what she thinks is best for me. She prays with me every night, and when I have a problem I always know I can depend on her. She always makes me think she needs me. She always asks my advise. The makes me feel important. She gives me things that she had that are still good."

Dorothy concludes her list by saying, "My mom works at Dunlaps and her hobbies are macrame and knitting. My mom loves to be around children, too. My mom also worked at Jaycees and rewards me and my sister when we do things without being ask. She is assistant room mother, too."

Dana Thomas, fifth grader, thinks her mom, Mrs. Jackie Thomas, is the greatest for some unusual reasons.

She say, "She does everything. Most of all she's nice. Sometimes she really gets mad. But she always will get nice. She plays poker with my brother and I. She plays jacks with me to sooth me, when my brother makes me mad. She can always make you happy. I love her so.

My mother just is a home lady. She's a good cook, a good painter and drawer. I made a bad grade and boy has she helped me. When my brother and I fight she just help us. She plays golf, tennis, and swims. She watches my dad and I play softball.

Missy Alligood, fifth grader, lists many reasons why she thinks her mother, Mrs. Brul Alligood, is the greatest. "My mom is the greatest because she doesn't mind when I have friends over or when I want to go outside and I have dishes, or maybe its because she's beautiful!

"She doesn't work so she's always home. She hardly yells except sometimes. She lets me stay up until 15 at night and she can cook and stuff like that. Whenever I want to go to the library, she always ready to go. Plus she can do anything. Anything anybody can think of."

Missy illustrated her mom's talent by telling the story,

"One time I had to make a model for school the day before it was due someone stepped on it. I talked my mom into making a batch of clay and I finished it at ten o'clock that night. (I got an 'A',)"

"There's so many reasons why mom's the greatest I couldn't fit them all on the paper in the world. When I borrow money she tells me to forget it. She's always buying me things without me asking for them. She'll let me go to the movies whenever I want (most of the time) I don't really think she's the greatest mom in the world, I know she is. I think she should get the Nobel Peace Prize, she's never had a fight (I think).

Miss Rhonda Norris weds in Friday evening ceremony

The Rev. Eldon Cook united the couple before an altar enhanced by swirl candelabra entwined with ferns of jade foliage. An arrangement of yellow spider mums, white daisies and lime green carnations also accented the altar. Branched candelabra with foliage arrangements flanked the swirl candelabra.

MRS. DANNY E. REAGAN

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norris of 1605 E. Sixth. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Bennie Goswick of Sweetwater and Backie E. Reagan of Big Spring.

The bride chose to wear a formal-length gown of white imported jersey satin. The dress was designed with an empire bodice and flared skirt which flowed into a chapel-length train. The bodice was styled with three tucks at each shoulder and a mock mandarian collar open at the neckline. The full sleeves were gathered into deep cuffs closed with pearl buttons. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of lace and pearls. She wore her mother's pearl strand.

Mrs. Kent Wood of Lamesa, cousin of the bride, served as matron of honor with Miss Carol Hollingsworth as bridesmaid.

John M. Seitzler of Dallas acted as best man. Kent Wood of Lamesa was groomsman.

Michelle New, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy New, served as flower girl. Ray Darden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubry Ray Darden, was ring bearer.

Serving at the reception were Miss Suzzan Craig, Miss Janice Carter, Ms. Eve Ayers, Mrs. Kay Gray, Mrs. Ann Carter and Mrs. Lorene Carter. Miss Linda Holland registered guests.

Following a wedding trip to southern Texas and Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Reagan will reside in Big Spring. Reagan is a reporter with the Big Spring Herald and Mrs. Reagan is employed in the Howard County Tax Assessor's office.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reagan are graduates of Big Spring High School and Howard College. Reagan received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Ceremonies highlight auxiliary meet

An installation ceremony and initiation of Mrs. Connie Manuel into the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary highlighted the Tuesday evening meeting in the VFW Post.

Mrs. Melicia Santellan presided during the initiation. She was assisted by Mrs. Jessie Broughton, Mrs. Margaret Barnett and Mrs. Nannie Garrett.

Mrs. Ethel Elaine Knapp served as installing officers. She installed Mrs. Barnett as president for the coming year. Mrs. Mattie Wren was installed as senior vice president with Mrs. Gertrude McCann as junior vice president.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Santellan, trustee; Mrs. Pauline S. Petty, treasurer; Mrs. Garrett, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Broughton, conductress; and Mrs. Lois Ferguson, guard.

Mrs. Barnett presented Mrs. Santellan with her past president's pin.

Mrs. Petty reported that refreshments were served to residents of the Veterans Administration Hospital on Monday. Cakes were furnished by Mrs. Elsie Dreher. Others assisting with the project were Mrs. Margaret Beechly and Mrs. Petty.

Mrs. Barnett reported that birthday cards and gifts were given to veterans at the VA Hospital with birthdays during the past month.

Members voted to purchase a filing cabinet for auxiliary supplies. They also agreed to send a love gift to Mrs. Lucille MacFarlan, president of District 25 of Midland.

Mrs. Katie Spivey, Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary president, proposed that the VFW Auxiliary and the DAV Auxiliary have a kitchen stocking party for the VFW Post kitchen. Members approved the project.

Girls Invited to teen finals

HOUSTON — Girls ages 13 through 19 from all parts of Texas are being invited to enter the 1976 Texas State Miss U.S. Teen finals to be staged July 9-10-11, 1976 in the Sheraton-Houston Hotel in Houston.

Entry information is available by writing to Miss U.S. Teen Pageants, P.O. Box 1150, Pasadena, Texas, 77501.

Winner of the statewide event will receive a trophy, sash, tiara, and will be sent to represent Texas at the national finals in Lake Charles, La. in mid-August.

For your pleasure

Barney's Beat is full of favorites

The Disabled American Veterans chapter of Big Spring will sponsor a Donkey baseball game, beginning 2 p.m. today, at the Rodeo Grounds. If the game is rained out, hold onto your tickets for the game at a future date.

The Big Spring High School's annual production of Barney's Beat will be the final band concert of the year. It will be held 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the high school auditorium. Admission is $1 and everyone is invited to attend.

All members of the high school band as well as band members from Goliad and Runnels Junior High Schools will offer a program in the style of an old-fashioned band concert. Popular band music from America's past and present will be performed.

How many children have seen a sheep sheared, a horse shod, a blacksmith's forge, or a spinning wheel or hand loom used? One of the most outstanding collections of these historic arts and crafts in the nation can be seen at the Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair in Kerrville on May 29-30-31.

Over fifty pioneer artisans will demonstrate pioneer crafts in the atmosphere of an old-fashioned country fair. The ladies of the Dwyer community will have a quilting bee. Others will make bonnets, do tatting, bobbin lace, crochet, needlepoint and embroidery.

The atmosphere of an old-fashioned country fair lends a fun filled background for the two hundred contempory artists and craftsmen that make up the remainder of the fair. Strictly juried from five hundred sixty entries, the fair shows the finest of Texas arts and crafts.

Then add some of the best Texas cooking, and the beautiful tree shaded site on Schreiner College campus. Country-western and folk music also take fair visitors back to the days of early Texas and to "Texas Goodtimes" on the Memorial Day weekend in Kerrville.

have the informal elegance of an English manor house...solid oak and oak veneers

These massive pieces owe their design heritage to the comfortable manor houses that dotted the green countryside of old England. There's a "stay awhile" feeling—a charming friendliness. Note the heavy stretchers and turnings, the soft worn edges. The tastefully distressed woods have a carefully highlighted antique finish. Tanglewood is a lasting investment in beauty. Come see.

You don't have to buy a new house to have a new home.

Drew-Barr wedding solemnized May 1

Miss Kaye Vonn Drew became the bride of Maxwell Barr in a May 1 ceremony held in the First Baptist Church of Carrollton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Drew of Carrollton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Barr, Vincent Route, Coahoma.

The Rev. Wayne Allen read the ceremony before an altar enhanced with candles, palms and arrangements of gladioli and greenery.

The bride was attired in an original formal-length gown fashioned of silk-faced peau de soie in a soft candlelight shade. The dress was accented with appliques of imported peau de ange lace. The dress featured princess lines with a modified empire bodice fashioned with an overlay of lace that formed a bateau neckline and paneled the entire center front of the gown. Seed pearls accented the lace appliques, outlining the floral pattern of the lace. The long lace sleeves formed scallops over the hands. The full princess A-line skirt unfolded across the back, extending to a full chapel-length train. A deep overlay of lace was appliqued on the lower skirt and encircled the hemline and train in a scalloped border.

Her fingertip-length of imported silk English illusion fell in tiers from a caplet of matching lace which was embroidered with seed pearls. Each tier of the veil was bordered in a lace scalloped design creating a mantilla effect.

Mark Barr of Seminole was best man with Bill Defratus and Jeff Royal as groomsmen. Ushers were David Winters, Jackie Dean Wolf, Kennon McLeas, Bryan Drew and Kevin Drew.

Prior to a wedding trip to San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Barr were honored at a reception in the church parlor.

The bride is a graduate of Turner High School and Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Barr is a graduate of Coahoma High School and Texas Tech. He is presently engaged in farming and ranching near Seminole where the couple will make their home.

MRS. MAXWELL BARR

Miss Sullivan graduates from Hardin-Simmons

Gwendolyn Jo Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb J. (Red) Sullivan, 100 NE 9th, will graduate from Hardin-Simmons University today at 3 p.m. Miss Sullivan is graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in social work.

Miss Sullivan served as president for the Beta Gamma Epsilon social club during the 1975-76 year. She was secretary for the organization during the 1974-75 year. She served as vice president for the women's interorganizational council, and was a member of the Celebration Singers.

While a member of Beta Gamma Epsilon, Miss Sullivan won awards as best pledge, 1974-75; best member, 1974; and most valuable member, 1975-76.

Sgt. Kissinger lectures on crime prevention

Sgt. Ed Kissinger of the Big Spring Police Department presented a slide show and commentary concerning crime prevention to members of the Airport Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon.

Members and guests met in the home of Mrs. Robert Lee.

Sgt. Kissinger explained methods of self-protection and safety for the home.

Mrs. Vern Vigar gave the HD Council report.

Members voted Mrs. Vigar as the Airport nominee for the Texas Home Demonstration Association chairman for Howard County as the convention delegate.

Mrs. Vigar also won the door prize.

The next meeting will be hosted by Mrs. J. L. Metcalf of Coahoma at 1:30 p.m., May 18.

Boyce speaks to club about blood donors

James Boyce spoke to the members of the Ever Ready Civic and Art Club about the Community Blood Donor program during the Wednesday evening meeting.

Women met in the home of Mrs. Annie Mae Anderson with Mrs. Louisiana Jones as hostess. Mrs. Rosetta Brown presided.

Boyce is president of the Webb Springs Lion Club. He detailed the possible establishment of a bloodmobile to serve the north area of town. Boyce explained that the Webb Springs Lions would be cosponsor of such a venture.

Boyce listed some of the advantages of becoming a donor. He pointed out that in addition to helping meet the community blood needs, each donor will become a member of the donor assurance program. The program covers not only the donor, also his immediate family for any blood needed for a six-month period following each donation.

Members discussed becoming potential donors as a group project.

Mrs. Jones, local club secretary, was recipient of the District's Most Outstanding Club Work of the Year award. She was given this honor during the 26th annual Stokes-Parker District Convention held recently in San Angelo.

The Ever Ready Civic and Art Club was the winner of the District's Best Art award.

Several club members attended the convention.

The Stokes-Parker District is a branch of the Texas Association of Women's Clubs, Inc. The district is composed of nine West Texas cities including Big Spring.

The Stokes-Parker District is an organization of federated women's clubs that meets annually for a convention. The district's motto, "Lifting As We Climb," encourages members to lift the standards, morally, spiritually and socially, in the community and homes of all women.

The next club meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Viola Merritt, 1011 N. Gregg.

Miss Dale Soles is nominee

Mrs. Dale Soles was selected as nominee from the Elbow Home Demonstration Club to the state convention in College Station in September.

Mrs. Soles was selected during the Thursday morning meeting held in the Soles' home.

Mrs. James Grumett was a guest.

Mrs. Soles and Mrs. R. B. Covington Jr. gave a report on citizenship.

The next meeting will be a crafts workshop on May 20 in the home of Mrs. Lewis Soles.

MRS. JACK ELBERT LOVE

Lamb-Love vows exchanged Saturday

Miss Donna Kay Lamb and Jack Elbert Love were married in a Saturday evening ceremony performed by the Rev. Collyns Moore in the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin M. Lamb, 2200 Cecilia. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James Love of San Antonio.

The altar was decorated with an archway covered in greenery of lemon leaf and flanked by column arrangements of white carnations, white gladioli and greenery centered with candles.

Various wedding selections were played by Mrs. Laylan Bratcher, organist. Mrs. Bill Beck, vocalist, also furnished wedding music.

The bride wore a formal-length dress of bridal satin designed with an empire waistline. Brocade and seed pearls accented the bodice and front of the skirt. Pleated nylon lace cuffed the long slender sleeves. Pleated nylon lace also bordered the hemline of the skirt which swept to the back to form a swirl train. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip-length veil of nylon illusion.

Mrs. Lynn Maddox served her niece as matron of honor. Bridal attendants were Miss Debbie Cantrell and Miss Dorothy Love.

Ushers were Ronald Maddox and Ray Lynn Kemper.

Prior to a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M. the newlyweds were honored at a reception in the church fellowship hall. Miss Cindy Love registered guests.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Della Burchett and Mrs. Richard Paul.

The bride will graduate from Big Spring High School in May. She is employed at Montgomery Wards.

The bridegroom is a graduate of San Antonio High School. He is employed by the Howard County Road Department. The couple will be at home at 1006 Sycamore, Big Spring.

Mrs. Corralez is graduate

Miss Juanita Corralez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Reyna, Big Spring, is a recent graduate of Commercial College in Odessa.

Miss Corralez received a degree in the executive secretary field. She is now employed with Shell Oil Company in Odessa.

Watkins speaks to ABWA chapter

Members met at Furr's Cafeteria.

Watkins highlighted several of the dramatic changes in education that have emerged in the past ten years. He touched briefly on the busing situation and also what effect the possible closing of Webb AFB would have in the Big Spring School System.

Members heard a review of scholarship work during the year. Over $700,000 in scholarships was awarded by ABWA chapters throughout the country during the past year, and the association's national educational fund provided an additional $150,000 for students.

Currently, Scenic chapter is sponsoring scholarships for Ms. Sue Cramer, San Angelo State College and Jimmye Ruth Burke, UTPB.

Ms. Lou Thompson was selected Woman of the Year by Scenic Chapter, ABWA. Mrs. Thompson is a medical secretary for Malone-Hogan Clinic. She is a member of the Methodist Church, Moss Elementary PTA and American League Parent Booster's Association.

Annually, each ABWA chapter elects one of its members for this award. Selection is based on the member's achievement in her field of business, education, participation in the association, and in community activities. Mrs. Thompson will represent Scenic chapter in competition for the 1976 "Top Ten" and "American Business Woman of the Year" awards. Announcement of the national award recipients will be made at ABWA's National Convention, October 21-24, in New Orleans, La.

Ms. Bobbie Reynolds was the vocational speaker. She is branch manager for Jackie Johnson Mortgage Co. She spoke about the processing of VA, FHA and conventional home loans.

Ms. Shirley Lee was presented a certificate of appreciation for outstanding service to Scenic Chapter.

New members installed were Ms. Lona Hood, sponsored by Ms. Hazel Mixon and Ms. Billie Ramsey, sponsored by Ms. Lou Thompson. Guests attending the meeting were Ms. Margaret Resendez, Ms. Sue Cramer, Ms. Dessie McMichael and Ms. Helen Stewart.

WEDDING PLANS — Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Awtry formerly of Knott announce the engagement of their daughter, Rebecca Darlene to Terry Earl Hix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hix of Odessa. Miss Awtry is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. H. Awtry and Mrs. C. G. Ditto, both of Big Spring. The couple plans a June 25 wedding in the Eisenhower Church of Christ in Odessa.

Luncheon closes Forum club year

The Piano Teachers Forum met Monday at La Posada for a dinner meeting and last business session of the club year.

Mrs. Beatrice Sutherland, National Guild of Piano Teachers judge, and Mrs. Linda Bratcher were guests.

Members elected Harlen Thornton as president. Other officers elected were Mrs. Betty Newman, vice president; Mrs. Emilee Beckham, secretary; and Mrs. Marie Louise Barnes, treasurer.

Members voted to have a workshop on Oct. 2 with Dr. John Paul from Sam Houston State University.

Bald eagles can't count

The American bald eagle, that handsome bird, sharp of talon, keen of eye, may be our national emblem and an ages-old symbol of strength, but according to Jeff Foott, who spent nine months filming birds arithmetic is not their long suit. In order to film eagle pairs — they mate for life — with their young in nests, Foott frequently had to film from blinds, often located 100 feet up in a spruce tree. "You have to build a blind gradually over, say, four or five days," he says. "The first day you might just set up your platform. The next day, perhaps just leave your canvas there. Then over two days or so, you put up the canvas. Once the blind is up, the problem is getting into it with your gear without making the eagles nervous. You can believe they're watching your every move.

"So the way you do it is have two people come up to the blind and go in. Then one leaves the blind and the eagles settle down. They've been tricked. They can't count."

Foott's film, "Eagle Come Home," a Survival Anglia Ltd. production, concerns the natural history and conservation of this endangered species and will be presented Tuesday, May 11 (7:00-8:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. Gene Kelly narrates.

Foott filmed bald eagles in Alaska, Montana, Minnesota and elsewhere, but not only from blinds. "To get close-ups of the eagle chicks in the nest, or aerie," he says, "you have to climb right up to it, and it may be 150 feet off the ground. Those full-grown spruces are usually too big to get a rope around, so you climb up the trunk in spirals. That way, if you fall, the rope will catch on the first branch down."

It should be added that Foott is an accomplished mountain climber and has worked as a mountain guide in the Grand Teton range of Wyoming.

'Eighth Day' to be shown

Thornton Wilder's 1967 novel "The Eighth Day" will be one of the properties dramatized on NBC-TV's new series "Best Sellers," which will premiere in the fall.

It is one of a number of Best-Selling novels which will be presented in a varying number of episodes.

"The Eighth Day" is the story of the Ashley family and its fortunes, following the unjust conviction of the father, John Ashley, for the shooting death of Breckenridge Lansing, a friend and neighbor. Set at the turn of the century, the story focuses on Ashley's escape while en route to prison and his journey to South America where he works in the mills of Chile awaiting the day when his vindication can be accomplished.

The impoverished family — the wife, Beata, son Roger and daughters Lily, Sophia and Constance — are shown as they cope with social ostracism, incomplete educations and the various stresses attendant upon ambitious and gifted people in the 20th Century.

The lives of the Lansing family inweave with those of the Ashleys, to provide a counterpoint to the far-ranging story.

The narrative touches on such disparate characters as a refugee Russian woman in the small Illinois town in which the tragedy took place, and an expatriate Englishwomen living in the Chilean mountains.

Farm boy dreams of country music

Vera Miles stars in the world premiere drama presentation of "State Fair," based on the hit movies, to be shown for the first time on Friday, May 14 (7:00-8:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. The drama is the story of a talented farm boy whose dreams of becoming a country music star are sidetracked by a pretty face. Taken from the novel by Phillip Stong, the story is set against the colorful and exciting background of a country fair.

Also starring in "State Fair" are Tim O'Connor, Mitch Vogel. Julie Cobb, Dennis Redfield and Jeff Cotler.

In the film, high school sophomore Wayne Bryant finds himself and his chores on the family farm suffering when he is smitten by Bobbie Jean, a fellow competitor in the state fair music contest, who wants to run away with her for a try at the big time. But Wayne is torn between Bobbie Jean's appeal and his love for his family.

Mitch Vogel (Wayne) played Jamie for three years on "Bonanza." He has had a recurring role in the "Little House on the Prairie" television series.

Dennis Redfield (Chuck) has had roles in a variety of movies, including "Summer Run and "The Wild McCullochs," and television roles in "Gunsmoke," "Mannix" and "Hawaii Five-O."

Jeff Cotler (Tommy) has appeared on "The Waltons" where his older sister, Kami, is a regular cast member.

MOON WALKER — Astronaut "Buz" Aldrin's shattering experience after his walk on the moon is recreated in "Return to Earth," a world premiere on the ABC Television Network's "The ABC Friday Night Movie," Friday, May 14 (8:30-10:00 p.m.) Cliff Robertson (dark suit) stars as Aldrin, with Ralph Bellamy (glasses) as his father, and Shirley Knight) white dress) as his wife.

Robertson can fly with the best of them

The appeal of the wild blue younder has held Cliff Robertson in its grasp since he was a youngster, and its grip hasn't lessened with the passing of the years.

Robertson, who owns an Oscar and an Emmy, is aptly cast as former astronaut Col. Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin, the second man ever to set foot on the moon, in "Return to Earth," airing on "The ABC Friday Night Movie," May 14 (8:30-10:00 p.m.) on the ABC Television Network.

Robertson, who feels at home in the sky, remembers his youth as an "airport rat," when he used to do odd jobs at an airport near his San Diego home. He soloed (illegally) when he was 14.

"In exchange for cleaning airplanes and working at whatever I could," Robertson said, "I'd get a free ride and a flying lesson at the end of the day."

Robertson describes his affinity for flying as "a major obsessive interest." He is a commercial pilot, rated to fly single and multi-engine aircraft, and is also instrument rated.

His stable of planes includes a Spitfire and a Messerschmitt 108, World II fighter planes. He also owns aircraft of more ancient vintage, including four biplanes, three 1934 DeHavilland Moth trainers, and a French-built Stampe. His only present-day aircraft is a twin-engine Beechcraft Baron.

Stories about great, unknown

'People' format comes to TV

The pages of People Magazine, one of the most successful publishing ventures in a decade, will come to life in a 90-minute special with a magazine format to be colorcast on the NBC Television Network this August as a program development project, it was announced by Dick Ebersol, Vice President, late night programming, NBC-TV and Clare Simpson, Director of National Sales of Time-Life Television.

The special, to be produced by time-life television, will be telecast on a Saturday in the 11:30 p.m.-1:00 a.m. NYT time period.

"The television version of 'People' is Unique," Ebersol said. "Like the magazine, it will feature not only stories on the lives of the well-known, but also features on individuals who are not in the limelight — people spotlighted in the 'Jocks,' 'Medics,' 'Teacher.' 'In his own words, and 'Couples' sections of the magazine.

"NBC-TV's People" Ebersol continued, "is meant to complement and expand upon the features that have made the magazine so successful. It will go out of the studio and on location to talk with some of these people in surroundings that are natural to them."

"People" has had an extraordinary impace on the American Public," that Americans are interested in what other people, from all walks of life, are doing. Many of the features are about people that are totally unknown to the American public. They are people who have made a contribution — such as those featured in the 'Lookout' section, who as young men and women have made unusually high achievements."

Multi-award winner Jane Wagner developed the video version of "People" for Time-Life Television. She will also serve as executive producer and writer of the program. Wagner won a Peabody Award as writer of the Television Drama, "J.T." She also won an emmy in 1974 as writer of a Lily Tomlin Comedy Special, and received a 1975 Grammy Award nomination as co-producer of the album "Modern Scream," with Lily Tomlin. Recently, Wagner received two Emmy nominations one as co-producer and one as the writer of a Lily Tomlin special telecast in 1975.

'Panache' is a musketeer

Romance, masterful swordplay and political treachery in 17th century France provide the excitement in "Panache," a 90-minute motion picture to air as the opening attraction in a double feature presentation on "The ABC Sunday Night Movie," May 15 (7:00-8:30 p.m.).

"Panache" will be followed (8:30-10:00 p.m.) by "High Risk," a heist adventure concerning six former circus performers turned master thieves.

Rene Auberjonois, David Healy and Charles Frank star in "Panache," which is also a pilot for a projected series. Charles Seibert, John Doucette, Amy Irving, Harvey Solin and Joseph Ruskin co-star.

"Panache" unfolds as master strategist Cardinal Richelieu (Ruskin) plots the demise of King Louis XIII's strongest ally — the musketeer Panache (Auberjonois). In doing so, he hopes to weaken the structure of the king's government and open the way for his own well-timed takeover. With the aid of the commander of his guards, the wily Rochefort (Seibert), he plans to lure one or both of Panache's friends, Donat (Healy) and Alain (Frank), into an uneven duel, thus leading the loyal Panache to come to their aid. If Panache loses in combat, he will die by the sword. If he wins, he will be hanged for dueling, an activity proclaimed illegal by the King.

Gary Nelson directed the screenplay which was written by E. Duke Vincent. Robert E. Relyea was the producer and Vincent served as executive producer for Warner Bros. TV.

'The Yearling' Family film airs

"The Yearling," the classic film and winner of three Academy Awards for its poignant tale of a boy's love for his pet fawn and of his parents' fight to tear a living from the American frontier, will be a special family film presentation on Sunday, May 9 (6:00-8:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. Gregory Peck and Jane Wyman star, with Claude Jarman Jr. in the role of their son.

The film, which was nominated for eight Oscars, is based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings. Peck and Miss Wyman portray Penny and Ma Baxter, a couple who are locked into two desperate struggles. Trying to scratch out the barest existence from the land in the backwoods of Florida's scrub country just after the Civil War, the couple also are at odds with their only son, Jody, a young boy whose loneliness is almost unrelieved in the wilderness.

While hunting for a marauding bear who killed Ma's calf, Penny Baxter is bitten by a rattlesnake. In a desperate effort to save his life, he kills a doe and uses the animal's liver as an antidote for the deadly snake poison. While Penny lingers near death for a time, his son decides to raise the doe's fawn as his pet. The fawn proves too wild and hungry for the family's meager food supplies. They have no choice but to destroy it — a decision Jody rejects with all his heart.

Peck, who won an Oscar for his role in "To Kill a Mockinbird," was nominated for another Academy Award for his portrayal of Penny Baxter. In addition, he received nominations for his roles in "Keys of the Kingdom," "Gentleman's Agreement" and "Twelve O'Clock High." Among his other film credits are starring performances in "Behold a Pale Horse," "MacKenna's Gold" and "Guns of Navarone." Peck was awarded the Jean Hersholt Humanitarian Award, presented by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Miss Wyman, nominated for an Oscar for her role of Ma Baxter in "The Yearling," won the coveted award for her performance in the film "Johnny Belinda."

Dear Abby

Abby comments on mail from unhappy mothers

DEAR READERS: Sunday, May 9 is Mother's Day. Many suspect that it is just another commercial holiday dreamed up by florists and merchants to stimulate business.

Not so! Mother's Day was actually conceived by Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia who in 1907 persuaded her minister to have a special church service the second Sunday in May to honor all mothers. Those with living mothers wore red carnations, and those without mothers wore white carnations. This custom is still observed in some areas.

Mother's Day is a day of gladness to most mothers. But not for all. I should know. For weeks following Mother's Day, my desk is covered with the tear-stained letters of mothers who have been snubbed, slighted or forgotten.

Two typical Mother's Day letters:

DEAR ABBY: Ever since my son got married, he forgot that he has a mother. Every holiday—including Mother's Day—his wife drags him to HER people, and he goes like a little puppy without even putting up a fight.

NEGLECTED IN NEW ORLEANS

DEAR ABBY: My son lives in the same city with me, but I'm lucky if I see him six times a year for 10 minutes. Then on Mother's Day he sends me a bouquet of roses. Big deal!

HURT IN HOUSTON

Each year, disappointed mothers send me the verse: "A son is a son until he takes a wife, but a daughter is a daughter all her life."

My mail constantly reaffirms the fact that one of the most sensitive of all human relations is the one that exists between a woman and her mother-in-law. (There is far more friction between a woman and her husband's mother than between a man and the mother of his wife.)

Recently, I published a letter from a young wife who asked, "Who should sit in front with my husband when we take his mother out for a drive?"

I said, "Out of respect for her age—his mother."

Well, the brickbats started flying at me from all directions. Readers quoted scripture: "And a man shall leave his father and his mother, and cleave unto his wife."

One mother wrote to remind me that the Ten Commandments say, "Thou shalt honor thy mother and thy father,"—and it doesn't say one word about the mother-in-law!

You don't have to be a Dear Abby to know that being a good mother-in-law is one of the most difficult roles in the world.

Now that I am a mother-in-law to both a son-in-law and a daughter-in-law, I have resolved to abide by two simple rules:

Never offer advice unless it's asked for.

Never ask questions that are none of my business.

I am trying earnestly to be the best mother-in-law possible. And I must say that my chances for success are excellent, because for 36 years, I have had a wonderful teacher—my own mother-in-law, Rosie Phillips. May God bless her!

DEAR ABBY: Is it still "in style" for a young man to ask the father of a young lady for her hand in marriage, or isn't that done any more? Our children, who are 19 and 21, tell us that this is "corny" and that we are old-fashioned to expect it. We would like your opinion.

OLD-FASHIONED PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: It may be "corny," but there's a kernel of good manners there. It is a formality, however. When a fellow asks for a lady's "hand," he usually has both feet in the door.

Couple on trip to San Antonio

Mr. and Mrs. Rory Speaker are on a wedding trip to San Antonio following a Friday evening ceremony held in the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The former Norma Campbell and Rory Speaker were united in marriage by the Rev. Collyns Moore.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Janie Campbell of 3618 Calvin and the late Bobby Joe Campbell. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Speaker, 1316 Park Avenue.

The bride was attired in a formal-length gown of white crepe styled with an empire bodice and an A-line skirt which swept to back fullness to form a chapel length grain.

The lace-covered bodice was designed with a Victorian neckline edged in lace. The full sleeves were gathered into deep cuffs. A purple ribbon marked the waistline. Her veil of illusion drifted from a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses and camellias.

Miss Jana Porter and Eddie Earls were the honor attendants for the couple. Wayne Bradshaw of Abilene and Eddie Earls were ushers.

A reception in the youth department of the church honored the newlyweds. Mrs. Nell Bradshaw of Abilene registered guests. Serving at the reception were Mrs. Lucy Smith, Miss Kim Bradshaw and Miss Treasa Redden, all of Abilene, and Mrs. Billy Morris of Big Spring.

The bride is a junior at Big Spring High School. The bridegroom attended BSHS and is employed at Exxon Station and Master Car Wash on Gregg. The newlyweds will be at home at 103 E. 12th.

Bride-elect honored

Mrs. Bill Hambrick hosted a shower for Miss Georgia Ray in her home last Saturday.

The refreshment table was covered with a white tablecloth edged in lace with a centerpiece of yellow roses. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Mrs. E. G. Newcomer, the grandmother of the prospective bridegroom, was a special guest.

Hostesses presented Miss Ray with a stainless steel electric mixer. Hostesses were Mrs. Hambrick, Mrs. Howard Armstrong, Mrs. Jake Harry, Mrs. Edgar Herm, Mrs. Jack Hopper, Mrs. Auda Vee Graham, Mrs. Cartis White, Mrs. John McGregor, Mrs. Joe Gillespie, Mrs. Bill Wallace, Mrs. J. C. Ingram, Mrs. Bill Etchison, Mrs. J. D. McGregor, Mrs. Reggie Hambrick, Mrs. Gus Cowart, Mrs. Larry Shaw and Mrs. Robert Nichols.

The couple will be married May 23 in the home of her parents.

JUNE BRIDE — Mrs. Marjorie Morris and H. H. Morris announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Deanna, to Jimmy Foresyth, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Skeet) Foresyth. The couple will be married June 4 in the home of the bride-elect's mother by the Rev. Jene Greer.

Miss Huckaby is shower honoree

Miss Jackie Huckaby was the honoree at a shower given last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bill Draper.

Miss Huckaby, her mother, Mrs. Jim Huckaby, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. T. R. Mullens, were presented with corsages.

The refreshment table was centered with a silver candelabrum entwined with flowers and greenery. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Bob Zellars, Mrs. Preston Adams, Mrs. Bob Carlile, Mrs. Fred Phillips, Mrs. Harold Hicks, Mrs. Gorman Rainey, Mrs. Joe Wennik, Mrs. Shirley Walker, Mrs. Pete Hull, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. Noel Hull, Mrs. Bill Blalack and Mrs. Draper.

"In Business Serving The Lord"

Old-time hints still good

COLLEGE STATION — "In my library is an old tattered book, minus its cover. The dedication is 'To those plucky housewives who master their work instead of allowing it to master them.'"

Mrs. Patricia Seaman, a housing and home furnishings specialist, who was telling about her book, said that the date of the book is gone, but it is well worn with pages that are yellow and brittle, and it has a recipe in it dated Feb. 28, 1888.

"In it also are the remains of some pressed flowers, numerous clippings, many notes and the very real essence of the woman who used it many times a day," she added.

Mrs. Seaman is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"With thoughts turning to bicentennial celebrations, and 'how things were long ago', I think books from the past can give a real insight into the women who helped build our country during the past 200 years."

"For example, instructions for washing linen suits say to fill a pail with old, dry hay, put scalding water in it and let it stand until the water is colored; then wash the linen in it and it will look as nice as new."

Another suggestion, this time for cleaning cut glass vases after using them for cut flowers, says to fill the vase with sour buttermilk and let stand overnight.

Mother knows how to do everything. If you don't believe it, ask any child. A child's faith in his mother's ability is a wonderful thing. She can fix broken toys and mend broken hearts. Mother knows how to stop sores from hurting and how to make the greatest peanut butter sandwiches in town. She has the answers to a trillion questions.

Regardless of our age, we still have questions we would like to have answered. Some will never be answered to our satisfaction, unless God sees fit to impart His special wisdom. He often reveals Himself to us in a special way when we worship. The answers we seek may come as we meditate, pray, and listen to His Word. Church is a good place to find what we are seeking.

Coahoma honors Debbie Fryrear for VOE achievement

By FAYE ROBY

Coahoma has a national Vocational Office Education winner and it is proud of her.

May 6, was designated "Debbie Fryrear Day" at Coahoma High School where Debbie, the blonde, green-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fryrear is a senior.

Debbie accompanied by her VOE instructor, Mrs. Marie Ethridge, competed in VOE national competition in Topeka, Kansas last weekend. Debbie placed first in general clerical competition.

Debbie is Coahoma's first national VOE winner and the school honored her and her instructor with a reception, Thursday.

Among Debbie's interests are playing the piano, she has managed the girls' basketball team the past two years, has been a cheerleader and is head typist for the school newspaper. She is a member of the National Honor Society and has a dog named Snoopy.

Debbie hopes to work as a secretary this summer before beginning her college program at Howard College in the fall.

Friends of Bill Ford, Coahoma, may visit him in Malone-Hogan Hospital.

Junior and senior high youth of the Sand Springs Church of Christ have been very active this past week.

Saturday they attended an area wide picnic at Comanche Trail Park where they played games and shared a devotion brought by the pastor of Eleventh and Birdwell Church of Christ.

Friday the youth were entertained with games and refreshments by Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Brogdon at the parsonage in Sand Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson entertained his brothers, Lemuel of Ft. Worth and Carroll of Portalis, N.M. and their mother, Mrs. L. A. Wilson of Denton, this past week.

Several local churches will be honoring mothers today in various ways.

All of the churches contacted said there would be special emphasis on motherhood in sermon and song.

First Baptist Church, Coahoma, will present corsages to the oldest and youngest mother present.

The GA's will give each mother a red or white ribbon.

Sand Springs Baptist Church will present gifts to the oldest and youngest mothers present and also to the mother with the most children accompanying her for worship services.

Midway Baptist Church will present a box of chocolates to the youngest and oldest mother present and the mother with the most children.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brogdon of Oklahoma City, Okla. recently visited with their son Donnie and his family.

That Big Red Band returned Saturday evening after a trip to Carlsbad, N.M.

The Coahoma Band played in the Carlsbad Band Festival Friday and visited the Carlsbad Caverns Saturday.

Accompanying the students were Ralph Sides, director, Mrs. Vernie Barr, Dan and Madyln Petit, RayNell Best and Grady Tindol.

Coahoma Jr. High band went to UIL contest in Odessa Tuesday. They received a 3 and 4.

The Coahoma School Board will meet Tuesday, 8 p.m. in the School Administration Building.

Athletes in all spring sports were recognized April 29 at Abilene Christian University.

Coahoma's Phyllis Wynn Best, the only senior on the women's basketball team, was presented with a trophy in recognition of her accomplishments.

Phylis lettered four years, was captain of the basket ball team three years and was third highest scorer this season.

A friendship party and homecoming will be sponsored by Salem WWU Thursday at 3 p.m. in the church fellowship hall.

This year will mark the ninth anniversary of the friendship party where older area settlers come together for visiting and refreshments.

East Howard County Senior Center members will meet Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church of Sand Springs.

The graduating class and their parents were honored with a luncheon Saturday in the McGlothin Building.

These three young ladies are among the first to graduate from the newly named Abilene Christian University.

After worship services members of the host church and guest fellowshiped and enjoyed refreshments of punch and cake.

Mrs. Weldon McAdams has returned home after attending the funeral of her mother, Ida Alford, of Midland.

The First Baptist Church of Sand Springs has purchased a van and has resumed the Sunday School pickup service.

Parents of children residing in Sand Springs, whose children need transportation to Sunday School may call 263-4984 anytime before Sunday morning to make arrangements for the service.

Last weekend Coahoma 4-H Club members journeyed to Sul Ross at Alpine where they competed on district level in such areas as: gras judging, horse shows, entomology, family living, share the fun and safety in the home.

Troyce Renfro placed 2nd in home safety. Mrs. Doris James' group placed second in share the fun competition, they were; Polly Barbee, Pam Riddle, F. R. DeLinda Spears, Carmen Holeman, Kathy Wallace, Karen Proctor, Austin Hale, Vicki Buchannan and Rhonda Buchannan.

Mrs. Virginia Allen's group competed in family living and took first place, they were; Paula Allen, Robbin Ethridge, Stacy Swan, Lou Ann Bristoe, and Sharon Tindol.

Friday, Salem Baptist WMU ladies served refreshments to and visited with residents of Mt. View nursing home.

All boys and girls who will be 6 years old before August 1, and not over 14 by August 1 and are interested in joining Little League may register May 15, 1 p.m. at the Coahoma ball park.

For more information contact Joe Sweeny or J. B. Hall.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Parks last week were Mrs. Andy Graham and Trampas, Mrs. James Taylor Jr., Ross and Rusty of Anson, and Mrs. Linda Manison, Mike and Mishelle of Kilgore.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks recently spent several days fishing at the Stamford Lake. Their daughter, Mrs. Taylor and her sons visited them last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Allison spent last weekend at Buckahan Dam fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Parrish of Beeville spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Parrish, and with other relatives.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nixon recently were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nixon and family of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Parks.
