Poles Seek Independence

WARSAW, Oct. 20 (AP) — Wladyslaw Gomulka, new leader of Polish communism, presented the nation tonight with a virtual declaration of independence from the Soviet Union.

Gomulka went before the Central Committee of the United Workers—Communist—party with a 2½-hour speech denouncing what he called misrule of the past 12 years and calling on Poland to set its own course toward socialism independent of Moscow.

His statement broadcast by the government radio showed Soviet Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev on a flying visit to Warsaw yesterday had failed to steam the drive toward freedom from Kremlin control.

Announcement that Gomulka has been named first secretary of the party—top controlling post—was expected momentarily.

The tension that gripped the capital for two days relaxed as it became clear that Gomulka, allied with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz and party leader Edward Ochab, had won full support of the nation against the "antiliberalization" faction identified with Defense Minister Konstantin Rokossovsky.

Rumors swept the city earlier today that the pro-Moscow Rokossovsky faction might attempt a coup d'etat if Gomulka's policies won the day.

Polish troops moved to protective positions in and around the capital. Qualified observers had no doubt they were there as precaution against any such Moscow-inspired move.

Tonight the troops were reported withdrawn and returned to their barracks. The city was completely normal, with crowds in the streets as usual on a Saturday night.

Gomulka attacked the Soviet-style economy. He declared production on peasant farms is 30 per cent higher than on the state-run collectives.

Industrial policies, he said, were riddled with mistakes. Millions were spent on imported machinery that Poland had no use for. Production was stifled in a tangle of bureaucracy.

Gomulka went on to assert that Poland's relations with the Soviet Union and with Red China and the other Communist countries must be those of equality and independence.

He said Polish workers were justified in the protests that produced the June 28 Poznan riots. He blamed the riots squarely on the Communist party's mishandling of workers' complaints and stated attempts to blame the uprising on

Bulganin Uses Adlai Argument

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin has proposed to President Eisenhower an immediate U.S.-Soviet agreement to ban H-bomb tests, Moscow radio said tonight.

Bulganin used an argument advanced by Democrat Adlai Stevenson in the U.S. presidential campaign that violation of such an agreement is impossible because science now can detect atomic tests anywhere.

"I hope you will agree," Bulganin said in a letter to Eisenhower "that should such agreement be reached on this matter there will be no particular difficulty in supervising its execution since with the present state of science no atomic or hydrogen explosion can be carried out without it being recorded in other countries."

President Eisenhower has taken the position there must be adequate inspection safeguards before the United States enters into any atomic test agreement with the Soviet Union.

The proposal was in a letter Bulganin sent to Eisenhower Wednesday.

Bulganin said that differences existed between the United States and Russia on the question of banning atomic weapons.

"Until the necessary agreement on banning atomic weapons has been reached," Bulganin wrote, "it would be advisable in our judgment to agree at least on the first step toward the solution of the question of atomic weapons, that is on the prohibition of tests of atomic and hydrogen weapons as was suggested in my message to you of 11th September last."

Referring to the gurantees Eisenhower considers necessary, Bulganin continued:

"Would it not in itself be the surest guarantee against any breach of such an agreement that undisclosed tests of nuclear weapons are impossible and that, consequently, no government which will solemnly have undertaken to cease tests would be able to break this pledge without exposing itself in the eyes of the whole world as

Poland May Seek US Aid

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The leaders of Communist Poland's resistance to domination by Moscow are expected to seek financial and economic support from the United States if and when they succeed in establishing relative political independence.

State Department officials report there has already been one sign of a Polish turn toward closer ties with this country. The best informed authorities here say there is no doubt that men like Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz and the newly restored Wladyslaw Gomulka are thinking about the manner in which Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito bolstered his own bid for independence eight years ago by obtaining help from the United States and other Western powers.

The Polish bid to Washington will pose a major issue in U. S. foreign policy. It will raise such questions as whether Warsaw really has wrested control of Polish affairs from Moscow, whether the new independence line can be held, whether the whole thing is part of some huge Kremlin "plot" and what exactly are United States interests in the new circumstances.

Initial thinking among Secretary of State Dulles' top advisers is that the Polish developments are profoundly favorable. The United States has long expressed interest in promoting the "liberation" of Soviet satellite states. Present indications therefore are that Polish proposals for closer links with the United States will be favorably received here.

In a recent note turning down an invitation to send election observers, the Cyrankiewicz regime called for steps to improve Warsaw-Washington relations in a number of fields. This provided the first official indication to the State Department of what the impact of the present revolt is likely to be on Red Poland's attitude toward the United States.

However, officials said privately that Dulles regards the Polish development as a part of the pattern of political ferment in Easern Europe which he talked about several months ago in connection with Khrushchev's initial denunciation of Stalin and Stalin's years of terror and misrule.

Dulles then contended that the de-Stalinization movement, including Khrushchev's recognition of President Tito's right to operate an independent Communist movement in Yugoslavia, would almost certainly go beyond Moscow control, in some countries at least. Dulles suggested that the Russian Reds were losing their grip on some of the Communist parties outside Russia.

The present thinking inside the State Department is that this in fact is what happened in Poland. By contrast it does not seem to have happened in Czechoslovakia, where reports were published only today of new charges of espionage by Czechs against the United States. There is a prospect of sensational spy trials of the kind that the Stalinists used in the past to purge their enemies or otherwise strengthen their power.

Ike Labels Soviet Bid Propaganda

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP) — Presidential press secretary, James C. Hagerty tonight said Premier Bulganin's letter to President Eisenhower asking for an agreement to halt H-bomb testing was "a propaganda exercise rather than a serious attempt to achieve understanding between heads of governments."

Hagerty talked to newsmen about 15 minutes after the President had arrived at National Airport from a five-day campaign tour in the West.

The press secretary read this statement:

"The President had been studying the gist of the latest Bulganin letter all day. He also had talked to the secretary of state by telephone concerning it.

"The publication by Moscow of the letter without notifying the President of intent to do so and before it was possible to make a full and accurate translation and provide it to the President is a breach of diplomatic courtesy.

"This obviously stamps the letter as a propaganda exerise rather than a serious attempt to achieve understanding between heads of governments on serious subjects which have heretofore been matters of discussion between the United States and Soviet governments.

Sports Editor Buck Francis already has presented his comment on the subject, but we're so "burned up" over the deal that we can't resist putting in our two-cents.

We refer to the OHC essay contest in which Ronnie Smith, one of the Tiger footballers, was one of four who won defense bonds. Fortunately, Ronnie and our school athletic department were not caught napping, because the Texas Interscholastic League was contacted, and Ronnie turned down the defense bond. If he had accepted the prize, Smith would have been ineligible for High School sports hereafter.

That situation is the height of something or another, and we think it indicates that the interscholastic league has got too slick for itself, to use an old Jack Dillon expression. Strict eligibility rules are needed for high school sports, but how ridiculous can you get?

There have been many opinions expressed on the subject. One is that the autocratic rules have been laid down not only to govern eligibility, but to promote scholastic achievement as well.

Perhaps that is so, but if more such occasions arise, high school athletes are not going to endanger their careers in that field by participating in anything else. The rules are going to hem them in with athletics, period.

* * *

The essay contest was purely scholastic, and the prizes here are offered annually by the Diamond M Foundation. The fact that Ronnie Smith, a football player, happened to enter the contest and write one of the four top essays brought the sad facts to light. According to the ISL rules, if he had accepted the defense bond it would have made him a professional football player. Imagine, working your way into pro football with a fountain pen, or a typewriter!!

* * *

However, there is some consolation. The essays submitted in the contest were a credit to the youngsters who wrote them, to their parents, and to our school system.

And while we admit the injustice that did Ronnie out of his defense bond, we can take pride in the fact Tennie Eades, another Snyder student, submitted the second place essay in the contest at Odessa, which covered the entire Permian Basin area.

Twisters Hit State, 3 Hurt, 2 Missing

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes and winds up to 110 miles per hour battered a wide section of South Central Texas Saturday.

Winds of 60-75 miles per hour that whipped Galveston Bay late Saturday afternoon were reported to have overturned 16 to 18 small fishing boats.

Two persons were presumed drowned in the fishing boat accidents. Three other persons were injured by the tornadoes and high winds.

The Texas Department of Public Safety said the high winds overturned the small boats in the Baytown-Kemah-Texas City area. It said two persons were presumed drowned and that Coast Guard boats were searching the bay for other survivors.

Winds of 75 miles per hour smashed plate glass windows and blew down television aerials in Port Arthur. They also disrupted telephone and electric service.

Miss Marvin Tausch suffered head and leg injuries when a tornado blew down her house, 11 miles east of Seguin.

Another tornado unroofed several houses and knocked down utility poles at Ray Point, six miles east of Three Rivers. No injuries were reported.

A third tornado struck north of Austin but did no damage. Driving rain and hail the size of marbles peppered parts of Austin for five minutes.

The 110-mile-per hour winds struck Bryan in early afternoon. They overturned 10 airplanes at a municipal airport, smashed glass store fronts and knocked down signs, television antennas, trees and heavy metal awnings.

One sign knocked down read "Welcome to Bryan."

Two persons were injured when the wind toppled their grounded airplane at Bryan. They were Dick Ellis, 32, and Don Harrell, 27, both of San Antonio.

The extent of their injuries had not been determined.

Col. James A. Gunn, commander of Bryan Air Force Base, said the base suffered no damage from the winds.

Canal Talks Set Oct. 29

CAIRO, Oct. 20 (AP)—An Egyptian government official said today preliminary talks on the Suez Canal dispute will open in Geneva Monday, Oct. 29.

(France and Britain promptly torpedoed the announcement. The French called it probably a "trial balloon" and the British declared "no arrangements have been made for" such a meeting. At U.N. headquarters in New York officials would only say: "No comment.")

The Egyptian official, who asked that he not be quoted by name, told Egyptian reporters his government probably would be represented by the same delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Mahmound Fawzi, which presented Egypt's case in recent U.N. Security Council debate.

The Council adopted six principles as a basis of settlement of the dispute provoked by Egypt's nationalization of the Suez on July 26. These dealt with guarantees of freedom of navigation through the 103-mile waterway, insulating the canal from political control of any nation, and with tolls and improvement of the canal.

Oil Deal In Syria Being Negotiated

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—A Dallas independent oil man said today he is negotiating a multi-million dollar deal to develop oil in Syria.

James W. Burke said financial negotiations have been made with a New York investment firm and a meeting will be held in Houston next week to bring in a Southwestern oil company for both financial and technical reasons.

Burke said Dr. Adnan El A of Damascus, Syria, is associated with him in the venture.

He did not reveal the identity of the oil company or the investment house.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Unexpected rains measuring up to nine-tenths of an inch dented Indiana's record autumn drought today, but Gov. George Craig's fire emergency order continues for all of rural Indiana.

Voting On Jordan Parliament Slated

AMMAN, Jordan, Oct. 20 (AP)—Jordanian voters, living in an air of crisis, are electing a new 40-seat Parliament tomorrow expected to call for abrogation of this desert kingdom's treaty with Britain.

The treaty is a defense alliance that has sustained poverty-stricken Jordan since its birth as an independent nation 10 years ago. It gives Britain three military bases in Jordan. In return, the British pay 25 to 30 million dollars a year for the upkeep of Jordan's 20,000-man army, once rated the Arab world's best; and promise to aid the Jordanians if they are attacked.

Anti-Western elements among Jordan's 1,400,000 population — stirred up by increased Israeli frontier attacks and the rise of Egypt's President Nasser as a professed champion of Arab rights — figure to gain so much ground that even moderate independents will be under heavy fire to join in cutting the last formal link with Britain.

The election raised anew the question whether Jordan may eventually be tucked under the wing of Iraq, a Baghdad Pact member whose King Faisal II is a cousin of Jordan's 21-year-old King Hussein, or go to the Egyptian-Syrian-Saudi Arabian triumvirate headed by Nasser.

Although the campaign appears freer than any ever held before in Jordan, interest seemed slack. Election talk has been overshadowed by Israeli raids that have taken a toll of 150 Jordanian lives in little more than a month and generated a new wave of war fever. The weak caretaker government of Premier Ibrahim Hashem has no interest in electing any particular group of candidates.

A third of Jordan's population is made up of Arab refugees of the Palestine War of 1948, an embittered group living on meager rations supplied by the United Nations.

Will Resist Extradition

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Nick Cascio, 41, charged with armed robbery at Arcadia, Calif., and linked with one-time Dallas divorcee Dorothy McCully, slain last week at Pasadena, says he will resist extradition.

The Dallas crime figure told officers when arrested on the California warrant he would fight removal to there.

Detectives arrested Cascio at his home yesterday. He said he hadn't been in California for several years.

Arcadia Police Chief W. S. Orr said in California Cascio was identified by photographs as the bandit who robbed the Flamingo Hotel there of $160 two weeks ago.

Cascio was questioned earlier about some burglary tools found in the apartment of Miss McCully, former wife of Louis (Chicken Louie) Ferrantello.

Ferrantello, a Dallas police character, was shot to death three months ago in the Dallas bar he operated.

A California insurance man is accused in Miss McCully's death.

Shivers Calls Top Democrats 'Forgotten Men' Of Campaign

By The Associated Press

Gov. Shivers called Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver the "forgotten men" of the Democratic presidential campaign Saturday. The Democrats said that a flow of endorsements of them by elected officials reflected great voter confidence in their party.

Both the Democratic organization and the Democrats for Eisenhower group told of presidential campaign rallies to be held over the state during the next seven days.

Shivers implied the Democratic strategy is to underline the party and brush lightly over personalities of the presidential team he is opposing. He fought the Democratic ticket in 1952 and Texas went Republican.

Democratic headquarters called attention to new appeals by out-of-state and local leaders of Congress. Sen. Russell Long (La.) will address a Democratic fund-raising dinner at Brownwood Monday.

Long goes to San Angelo Tuesday night and to Corpus Christi Thursday night. Sen. John Kennedy (Mass.) speaks at El Paso Tuesday night and at Laredo and San Antonio Wednesday.

An Amarillo dinner Saturday night will feature Sen. Robert Kerr (Okla.) speaking for the Democratic ticket.

The Democrats for Eisenhower group, with which Shivers is working, sharply questioned last week the tidelands voting record of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri. This drew a rejoinder from Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn that the organization had "insulted" Symington.

Shivers retorted Saturday:

"If Lyndon is so thin-skinned that he doesn't want Texas people even to ask questions about the voting records of his invasion forces, he is in for a bad two weeks. I intend to keep on asking these people why they voted against Texas and now want to tell Texans how to vote."

Shiver said Rayburn and Johnson "seldom" mention the names of the Democratic candidates.

"I mention this as a public service," Shivers said. "Frankly, if I were in their places, I would try to forget it, too. But the people of Texas are entitled to know who is running for president against Mr. Eisenhower and I repeat his name is Adlai Stevenson —the fellow who wants us to quit testing the H-bomb and other nuclear weapons, like Premier Bulgainin of Russia suggested some time ago.

About $17,000 Is Raised In Campaign

Money raised in the 1956 campaign of the Scurry County United Fund reached about $17,000 by this weekend but still have almost $20,000 to go to hit this year's goal.

A report from H. A. Johnson, Jr., general campaign chairman, was that five divisions which have started their drives have all turned in some funds, but none are yet complete.

Turn-ins so far have been $11,872.50 from the advance gifts division, $795 from the branch house drive, $2,025.50 from school employes, $2,278.02 from the general business drive, and $29 from the business employe division, which opened its drive late last week.

Only two more divisions are left to open their drives. They are the industrial employes drive, headed by J. T. Haynes, which opens Tuesday, and residential division, headed by Mrs. Bill Atwood, which will start a week from Tuesday.

Johnson this week urged residents to consider the United Fund drive and decide now what they will give. He further urged them to respond when contacted by workers, who are giving their time away from their businesses to work in the campaign.

Some persons will not be reached by workers, and Johnson urged those who wish to give to the United Fund to contact the organization's headquarters at Avenue S and Twenty-fifth Street or call 3-3330 or 3-3853.

The United Fund represents the majority of the welfare agencies here, and the work of the nine agencies should have appeal to all residents of the county," Johnson said. The agencies involved are Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, United Service Organizations, West Texas Boys Ranch, Scurry County Boys Club, and Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

The campaign chairman reminded residents that they can designate their donations to go to one or several of the agencies if they do not wish the money to go to all of them.

He also reminded them that giving to the United Fund does not necessarily mean cash giving now. A person can pledge his donation to be given at some time next year or to be given in small amounts at several times during next year, possibly by salary deduction if his employer provides such.

Johnson urged that business and industrial employes pledge at least a day's pay to the United Fund.

Chairmen of the divisions now working are Claude McCormick, advance gifts; Carl Jones, branch house; Joel Griffin, school employes; Bob Crowell, general business; and Olan Griffith, business employes. Herbert Feather is United Fund president.

"foreign imperialist provocations" were flase.

Gomulka's speech made clear that he had rejected the reported demands by Khrushchev that Poland move back to the orthodox, Moscow-dictated Communist line for satellites.

Ochab reportedly told Khrushchev at their stormy meeting yesterday that any move by Soviet troops to restore Soviet dominance of the country would result in Polish troops being turned against them.

News of Communist party boss Khrushchev's visit, released to the Polish people only today, was greeted first with disbelief, then with anger.

One young Pole said "He can't possibly stop this movement. TQH is a national movement and any move to stop it would mean revolution."

From both Poles and foreigners in Warsaw came reports the capital was encircled by troops—whether Polish or Soviet was uncertain—but no confirmation was obtainable.

There were rumors, too, that anti-Gomulka factions inside the party might attempt to seize power if he gets the post of first secretary.

Communist party meetings were held in factories throughout Poland. Workers left their jobs to attend. That apparently was the only foundation for reports of sit-down strikes.

Workers in Warsaw met to pass a resolution demanding that the move toward independence and democratization be continued and attacking Stalinist opposition to the movement.

This meeting of workers apparently touched off an unfounded rumor that Gomulka had seized Warsaw radio.

The radio station staff went off to the meetings. Another factor in the rumor may have been the strengthening of the guard on the station yesterday.

The radio functioned normally, however. Foreign correspondents were, as usual, allowed to use its facilities to send their dispatches abroad.

(In Denver, President Eisenhower commenting on the reports of the power struggle in War said, "naturally all friends of the Polish people recognize and sympathize with their traditional yearning for liberty and independence.")

"Reports coming from all over the country," the Warsaw Radio said, prove that the results of the 8th assembly of the party will be a "true expression of the general feelings and they will mean a deciding step forward on the road for democratization of the political and economic life — against any attempts at checking of this process."

Gomulka was among the Polish Communist chieftians who saw Khrushchev and his powerful Soviet Communist party delegation leave a military airport outside the city at dawn in a jet liner to return to Moscow after emergency Russian-Polish talks which a communique said were held in an "atmosphere of friendship and frankness."

Khrushchev arrived here in top secrecy yesterday along with deputy premiers V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and A. I. Mikoyan.

Though the communiue did not list them, authoritative Polish sources said the party also included the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Georgi Zhukov; Marshal Ivan S.Konev, supreme commander of the Warsaw Pact, the Communists' NATO; and Gen. A. I. Antonov, secretary general of the Warsaw Pact.

They apparently sought to convince a majority favoring liberalization of the Polish party that it is on the wrong path.

But Khrushchev was reported to have told the Poles in two lengthy and stormy meetings yesterday "we can never leave this soil where we have lost so many soldiers."

The Russians apparently believe that Poland, the largest of Russia's Communist partners in Eastern Europe and a buffer between Russia and Germany, is of the first importance to their defensive interests. They are not anxious to risk the possibility of an anti-Soviet regime on their own borders.

More avowals of support for Gomulka came from meetings of students and workers.

"We want bread and freedom," said one young Pole at a demonstrations of economic students broadcast by the official radio. "We want our country to be democratic, independent and sovereign."

Poles Given Support Of Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP) — President Eisenhower threw United States moral support to Poland's dramatic revolt against Soviet domination today with a statement that "our hearts go out" to the Polish people in their struggle.

The President spoke in Denver while in Washington the State Department summoned Polish Ambassador Romauld Spasowski for a 20-minute conference with Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy. This was a diplomatic gesture of deep interest in the rapidly developing Polish crisis.

Murphy asked Spasowski specifically for information on a reported ultimatum by Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev to the Warsaw government to the effect that, "If you don't obey we will crush you."

Spasowski is said to have told Murphy that he knew nothing about the ultimatum report and was unable to comment upon it.

Reports of tank and troop movements by Soviet forces have been pouring into the State Department today through diplomatic channels as well as in news accounts, officials said. Department policymakers and experts on Eastern Europe met frequently and conferred with Secretary of State Dulles, trying to evaluate the truth and significance of the information available.

In his stop at Denver earlier in the day the President said that "All friends of the Polish people recognize and sympathize with their traditional yearning for liberty and independence."

In a statement release through press secretary James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower noted indications of "ferment and unrest" in Poland and "stories of Soviet troop movements." He said he was keeping in close touch with Dulles "in an effort to ascertain the facts."

Winds estimated at 90 miles an hour struck Kyle Field at College Station as some 42,000 persons watched Texas A&M upset Texas Christian, 7-6, in a Southwest Conference football game.

Heavy rain started to fall as the game started and what looked like a tornado funnel was visible from the stadium.

The rain did not stop the game, but many fans sought shelter under the concrete stadium stands. Many of the Aggies redressed their soaked dates in odds and ends of men's clothing. Girls and women took off their shoes. Some wore army helmets and raincoats.

The heavy rain caused the bands of the two schools to cancel their half-time drills.

Bryan Air Force Base measured the winds at 110 miles per hour and recorded .29 inches of rain. The Easterwood Airport measured the winds at 75 miles per hour.

A high wind also lashed Smithville, 40 miles southeast of Austin.

In late afternoon heavy rains were reported southwest of Houston. Lufkin also reported showers.

Rise Reported At Falcon Reservoir

ROMA, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP)—An estimated 4 to 5 foot rise in the Falcon Reservoir came from rains in the Del Rio-Laredo area this week.

The reservoir's elevation was 247.31 feet yesterday, representing storage of 290,000 acre fet.

a violator of the international convention?"

Bulganin emphasized that Russia "is prepared to conclude an agreement with the United States of America at once on ending atomic tests."

"We naturally act on the assumption that other nations possessing atomic weapons will accede to such an agreement," he added.

The letter made no direct reference to Stevenson.

Bulganin said, however, that, "We are entirely in agreement with the view which has been taken by some respectable United States officials lately about the necessity and possibility of agreement on the banning of atomic tests and the favorable effect this would have on the entire international situation."

Bulganin told Eisenhower, who has rejected Stevenson's suggestion that the United States take the initiative by halting her own tests:

"I must admit I have been somewhat surprised, Mr. President, at the doubts you have expressed about the Soviet Union's willingness to end tests of its atomic and hydrogen weapons.

"There is no reason at all for such doubts.

"I should say the same about your statement that for the United States to discontinue atomic tests would presumably be a unilateral American act.

"Such a step on the part of the United States could by no means be unilateral, because the Soviet Union has suggested appropriate agreed action by the powers with its participation."

Bulganin charged that the United States "as well as some other parties to the disarmament talks go back on their proposals as soon as the Soviet Union accepts these proposals."

This being the situation," he continued, "it is impossible in our firm conviction to make settlement of the question of atomic tests dependent upon agreement on the disarmament problem as a whole."

Ike Heading Home After Hard Drive

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower was heading home today after the hardest trip of this campaign.

It was hardest on him, and it was the one in which he hit hardest at Adlai Stevenson.

His schedule today included a stop in Denver, his first visit there since his historic heart attack of Sept. 24, 1955.

Then it was back to the White House to wind up a 5,850-mile trip that took him into Minnesota, Washington, Oregon, California and Colorado.

Although Eisenhower had said he wouldn't do much campaigning this year, you never would have guessed it from watching him on this trip. He acted like a man who understood his work and enjoyed it immensely.

In Seattle, to give one example, he arrived late and the crowds were comparatively small on the route from the airport. Yet every time there were as many as a dozen spectators Eisenhower was on his feet, waving.

And he wound up making far more speeches than in all the rest of his campaign put together.

But probably the most surprising part of his trip was his attitude toward Stevenson, his Democratic rival.

Throughout the week he became progressively bolder. Not that he was calling Stevenson by name, you understand. But he kept edging nearer and nearer until last night, in Los Angeles, he said:

"The man who today dismisses our military draft as an 'incredible waste' is a man who, while I do not question his sincerity, is speaking incredible folly or from incredible ignorance of war or the causes of war."

Boycott Group Is Fined In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 20 (AP)—City Judge John Rudd today found 21 members of the Negro Inter Civic Council and the Council itself guilty of operating an illegal transportation system.

He fined each $500 and sentenced them to 60 days in jail but suspended the jail sentence and placed them on probation for a year.

The charges against the defendants arose from operation of a pool to provide transportation for Negroes boycotting the city buses in protest against segregated seating.

Man Knocks Himself Out While Fleeing

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A man identified as Steve J. Sanderock, 29, of Chicago, knocked himself out while fleeing from police who wanted to question him.

Sanderock turned a corner too fast and ran into a marble column in front of a store. He was stunned, suffered a cut eye and forehead, a wrist injury and possible rib fractures.

Police charged Sanderock with receiving stolen property.

Two Deaths In Lubbock Are Probed

LUBBOCK, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP)—An inquest verdict was being witheld tonight pending further investigation into the death of a man and woman found shot to death here early Thursday in a blood-spattered truck.

The victims, who had been dead for several hours when found, were identified as Clarence Hubert Little, 42, and his attractive ex-wife, Gay Wilson Little, 24.

Found in the truck were a 32 caliber pistol and a note, which police said, apparently was written at the scene by the woman. Officers also found a handwritten will in a suitcase in the rear of the panel truck. It was dated Sept. 27 and signed by Little.

The note was addressed simply "Dear Mom" and was unsigned. Its contents have not been revealed.

Justice of the Peace George H. McCleskey said he and sheriff's deputies were investigating several aspects of the case, including signs of an apparent struggle within the cab of the truck.

It was believed that a son and daughter of the separated couple had been placed in a foster home here.

A city employe found the couple's bodies in a panel truck, parked on the northeast edge of the city.

The woman had a bullet wound in the head, another in the cheek, and a third in the throat. The man was shot in the leg and in the head.

Strong Dog-Leash Laws Recommended

WACO, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP)—Stringent dog-leash laws for all Texas to curb the spread of rabies cities were advocated today by James R. Jenkins, counsellor of the Texas Humane Society, at the group's 12th annual convention.

Jenkins said the canine population has increased in recent years until there is about one dog for every person in Texas. He said that the enforcement of stringent laws against permitting dogs to run lose would help solve "our rabies problem."

New officers named included: Dan Mowery, El Paso, second vice president; Mary Fain, Amarillo, third vice president; and Dr. Frank T. Cox, Waco, treasurer.

Water Spread By Net Wire Diverson

NET WIRE DIVERSIONS can be used to spread water over larger areas and give it time to soak. This one was recently completed by R. S. Davenport, northeast Borden County. (Lee Watson photograph)

In West Texas during the drought, and even during years of normal rainfall, there is need for farmers and ranchers to make every possible use of rain as it falls.

An one method of making use of excess water running around spillways of stock tanks is employing net wire diversions.

Two such diversions were completed about two weeks ago by R. S. Davenport, who ranches in northeast Borden County.

Davenport built these structures coming off the spillways of two tanks located on the south part of his ranch. Poste were set on a grade of two-inch fall per 100 feet.

Davenport build the structures to spread water over a larger area and slow it up, giving it time to go into the soil and result in the growing of more grass over a larger area. The diversion will also cut erosion to a minimum.

This type structure may be used on different locations. Primary use of the diversions are to divert and spread water over a larger area than it would ordinarily cover, also reducing runoff and erosion. Vegetation along this type structure is not destroyed but is left intact.

As litter accumulates along the net and water is filtered through at a slower rate, the effectiveness of the structure will increase.

The net wire diversion, as used in this area, should consist of sheep wire which is stepped or wired to posts. The posts can be set on the contour or on a grade as desired. Posts are most effective when three inches in diameter at the smallest part, and they work best when set not more than 10 feet apart.

Posts should be set into the ground at least two and one-half feet, and they should be well-tamped. Wire then can be secured to the posts from ground level to a height of 12 to 16 inches, then the wire can be strengthened if doubled back to make two thicknesses.

The wire works better when placed on the side of the posts facing upstream so the pressure will be extended against the posts.

These structures are recommended by the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District. Those interested in building them may secure any needed technical aid from the Soil Conservation Service.

Some Areas Get Temporary Relief From Scattered Rains

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Rains brought temporary relief to Texas farmers and ranchers in many areas but general rains are still necessary to break the drought, the Texas Agriculture Extension Service said today.

"Scattered showers which have fallen in large portions of the Rolling Plains, North, Central and South Central Texas and parts of the Edwards Plateau, West and South Texas will enable germination and growth of small grains, pasture and winter soil building crops," Director G. G. Gibson said. "The Panhandle, Northeast, deep East and much of far West Texas and the Gulf coast still is very dry."

The harvest of most crops is complete or in final stages, primarily cotton and grain sorghum, district agents reported. Peanuts, one of the latest crops, has suffered much from drought. Yields are low and some are being baled for hay or grazed. Land preparation and planting has begun anew where rain fell.

In deep East Texas, missed by rain, most farmers waited for rain before planting vetch and oats. A shortage of grass and stockwater continues. Forest fires still take a toll.

Practically the same conditions were reported in northeast Texas. Light showers fell in some parts but were not of much value. Cattle moved to market due to shortage of grass and stockwater. Some farmers are dusting in small grains and hoping for rain.

Temporary relief reached South Texas from showers which will enable some planting of winter pastures and growth of temporary pastures.

The cotton and grain sorghum harvests has been slowed by rain around Lubbock and it was too late to be of much value to those crops.

In the Panhandle wheat and pastures need moisture badly. Rain skipped that section. Very little wheat is being planted. Harvest conditions for irrigated vegetables, cotton and grain sorghum are excellent and yields are good.

Ranchers in 90 per cent of the Edwards Plateau are reported culling heavily all livestock. Several counties report a shortage of stockwater. However good rains fell in Coke, Nolan, Concho and Runnels counties. The Llano County peanut harvest has begun with yields low, but an above average pecan harvest has begun in McCulloch County. Sheep and goats in Blanco County are being culled heavily, and breeding sheep in Concho County are being moved to market in large numbers. The turkey market is reported poor, but egg prices good.

Planting of small grain will begin in the Rolling Plains after rains averaging about one and one-half inch fell in some counties. The cotton harvest is 60 to 70 per cent complete with yields low and a shortage of pickers in six counties. Foundation cattle herds still are being sold due to a lack of pastures, feed and water.

Around Fort Stockton, scattered showers fell but ranges still are in critical conditions and livestock is being sold or moved to areas where there is grass. Irrigated cotton is half harvested with yields excellent and that fall sown alfalfa and small grain is up where irrigated.

North Texas took a new lease with rain measuring from a trace to over three inches. The moisture was too late to provide much grazing before cold weather.

Rain over much of Central Texas measuring from a trace to two inches offered a little temporary relief. The cotton harvest is nearly complete and peanuts are producing low yields with some being baled or grazed. Pastures are dry. A big demand for hay exists.

Farmers are having difficulty plowing-out cotton stalks in dry soil in much of the Gulf coast area where only a few local showers have fallen. The rice harvest is about complete and some small grain is being planted, but most farmers are waiting for rain. Irrigated vegetables are making good growth, but pastures are in poor condition and rice straw is being baled.

Farm Bureau Queen Race Is Scheduled

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Thirteen ranch and farm girls will compete here Nov. 12 in state finals of the Texas Farm Bureau queen contest. The winner will receive $500 for expenses to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention Dec. 9-13 in Miami Beach.

Queen nominees are Donna Black, Dumas; Joann Vaughn, Tulia; Virginia Hudspeth, Forestburg; Norma Jean Walterscheid, Muenster; Janelle Ritchie, Troup; Doty Echols, Lamesa; Betty Richie, Brady; Flore McKethan, McGregor; Martha Jean Currie, Cold Springs; Shirley Zamzow, Karnes City; Marilyn Knudsen, Denevang; Martha McKamey, Taft; and Jean Moseley, San Juan.

Farm Officials Keep Watch On Markets

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Administration farm officials are keeping a watchful eye this fall on prices and markets.

Their aim to be ready to act quickly to shore up markets for any commodity which shows signs of weakening significantly.

They already have set up a broader list of price support and surplus disposal programs than at any time since President Eisenhower took office in 1953.

Administration leaders make no bones about their sharp interest in developments in farmers' markets. They say it is prompted in a large measure by a desire to refute Democratic campaign charges that the GOP administration is lagging in an interest in the welfare of farmers.

At the moment, administration officials are keeping closest tab on markets for hogs — a major source of fall income in politically important Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana and Ohio.

Hog prices have been a touchy issue among many farmers in these states ever since last winter, when markets tumbled sharply, bringing bitter complaints from many farmers that they didn't get enough to cover costs of producing the hogs they sold.

Local leaders of both parties say outcome of the Eisenhower-Stevenson race for the presidency in some of these states may well be determined by what happens to hog prices before the election.

Hog prices have recovered somewhat from last year, largely because farmers raised fewer pigs. Last week they averaged about $16.04 a hundred pounds in eight Midwestern markets, or about 8 per cent higher than a year earlier.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse, who is running the Agriculture Department during the absence of the campaigning Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, expects prices to average above the $14 level through the fall and early winter marketing season.

Morse has drawn up plans — which could be put into effect on short notice — for entry of the government into the market for the purchase of port products should hog prices take an unexpected dip.

The government already has entered markets for lard for the declared purpose of adding strength to hog market.

The administration has been buying eggs and turkeys for several weeks in an attempt to boost poultry returns. It similarly is buying hamburger meat to help cattle prices; and plums, cabbage and sweet potatoes to aid vegetable and fruit growers.

Action Long Overdue On Airport Project

Exactly six months ago today taxpay[illegible]ters of Scurry County went to the polls and approved bond issues totaling $205,000 to finance three projects.

To date, not a spade of earth has been turned, nor has a hammer been raised to start construction on either of the projects.

The bond issue provided $90,000 for a county library, $65,000 for a public park and $50,000 for an additional runway at Winston Field, the county's airport.

At this writing plans for a library building have been completed and bids are being sought. As for the park project, negotiations have been made for a tract of land and the deed is being perpared.

The airport project never has "got off the ground." Moreover, there is little indication that it will in the near future, unless the county commissioners court changes its course of action, or perhaps "inaction" would be more appropriate.

The airport project is particularly important at this time, because it is rapidly approaching a critical point. The bond proposal was submitted to the taxpaying voters with a clear understanding that the Federal government would match county funds to finance the new runway. As usual, there is a time limit on these funds, which were allocated by the Federal government last year. If Scurry County does not use them within a reasonable time, they will be transferred to a project elsewhere. County Commissioners of Scurry County have been fully informed on this situation.

In our opinion it will be a clear-cut repudiation of a mandate from the taxpaying voters if this project is delayed until such time that the Federal government withdraws its 50 per cent participation.

The bonds were sold promptly after the election, and funds provided in the issue cannot be used for any other purpose. At the time the bonds were sold, plans for the airport improvement would have required expenditures well within the issue. However, while the project was in the throes of delay, the CAA revised its plans for the local airport. The revision had little effect on the plans for actual construction work, but required more land than originally estimated. In addition the county was asked to acquire easements on other property to provide adequate clearance.

The revision meant that the CAA planned to raise the classification of Winston Field. Under the new plan, the existing north-south runway would meet "trunk" specifications, while the proposed new east-west runway would be classified as a feeder facility. This, the CAA explained, would take care of airport needs here far into the future.

Land needed by outright purchase has been offered at $250 per acre, which is exactly the same price paid for the existing airport property six years ago. The required clearance easements have been offered at $100 per acre.

It has been estimated that the revised plans would require expenditure of about $10,000 more than the figure estimated for the original plans. On a matching program, the Federal government would pay half of that, which would mean that the county's share would be $5,000.

There is no question about the county's ability to finance the project as now proposed. In fact it could have been financed without any new bond issue at all. In addition to the $50,000 in bonds voted last April 21, the county still has $15,000 remaining from the original airport bond issue, plus budgeted funds for airport improvements sufficient to run the total to more than $100,000.

The funds from the two bond issues, totaling $65,000, cannot be used for any other purpose. They must be used on the airport.

At this time, it appears the project is bogged down because of quibbling over $5,000.

However, there apparently has been no quibbling over the $18,034.20 in salaries paid members of the commissioners court during the six months that have elapsed since voters went to the polls and ordered the airport improvements. And the $18,034.20 does not include automobiles and expenses furnished commissioners by the county.

Ironically, the airport has the distinction of being the only county agency that pays its own way for operations.

As for the bond election last April, over 1,500 taxpaying property owners went to the polls. The Library proposal was approved by a vote of 923-654, the park proposal by 919-645, and the airport proposal by 833-736. County commissioners have been elected on closer margins than that.

Suez Affair Is In Familiar Stalemate, And Again Positive Policy Missing

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Suez affair has now been brought to the condition which prevailed at the other danger spots—Korea, Formosa and Indo-China—that of a stalemate without a settlement, that of the acceptance, not in principle but in fact, of the status quo. The President has once again been the peace-maker in the sense that he has vetoed successfully a recourse to arms, and once again he has had no positive policy of his own which seized the problem and opened up the prospect of a decent future.

• • •

On Thursday, July 19, Secretary Dulles told the Egyptian Ambassador that the United States, which has been negotiating with Cairo for some months, was withdrawing its offer to help finance the High Dam at Aswan. The next day, Friday, July 20, the British government followed suit. This was a major stroke at Nasser's government, and it was carried out by Mr. Dulles with the accompaniment of a sharp attack on Egypt's financial credit. It was most improbable, indeed almost inconceivable, that Nasser, a dictator who depends on prestige, would not react with some counter stroke.

Apparently, Mr. Dulles and the State Department did not expect one, and it is certain that they were quite unprepared for what Nasser did, which was to seize the Suez Company. The time-table tells the story. On Friday, the day after he withdrew American aid on the Aswan Dam project, the President, accompanied by Mr. Dulles, flew to Panama, where they stayed until Tuesday, July 24th. On that Tuesday, Nasser delivered a violent speech attacking the United States and charging that Mr. Dulles had lied about the Egyptian economy. Two days later, on Thursday, July 26, Nasser seized the Suez Company.

Where was Mr. Dulles? He was in Peru for the inauguration of the President, and he did not return to the United States until Sunday, July 29.

Thus for the first nine days following the crisis which he had touched off in his talk with the Egyptian Ambassador, Mr. Dulles was in Panama and Peru, away from the State Department, away from his expert advisors, away from the Ambassadors in Washington who could speak for the countries most vitally affected. No doubt, he was kept more or less informed by telephone. But by the time he got back to Washington such a crisis had flared up in London and Paris that, having just returned from Peru, he had to rush off to London two days later to put out the fire.

• • •

This time-table goes far to prove that the President and the Secretary were not really in touch with conditions in the Middle East, and that they had prepared no policy for what might happen, once they had abruptly made their break with Nasser.

This accounts for what has followed. There were three possible lines of policy which could have been followed. One was to coerce Nasser, as Britain and France meant to, with military and economic sanctions into accepting international management of the canal. The President himself vetoed the use of force, rightly enough it seems to me, since that would almost certainly have meant making Egypt and the Middle East a kind of enlarged Cyprus and Algeria.

But if Nasser was not to be coerced, then there were only two general choices left. One was to let him have his way. The other was to propose a new regime for the canal which would have the support of so many nations, including India and even the Soviet Union, that it would be very difficult for Nasser to refuse it, very difficult for him to violate it.

• • •

But the Administration had no ideas about such a new regime. If it had had any, it would have insisted at the first London conference on a major effort to negotiate for common ground between what the 18 nations wanted and what India was proposing. It is no use saying that the Indian plan was not good enough. For the prospects now are very slim indeed of getting anything better, indeed of getting anything as good.

Lacking any positive policy of our own for building a new regime at the canal, Mr. Dulles found himself working principally to restrain Britain and France from following their policy. This has caused deep and dangerous resentment in London and Paris. Instead of taking a bold and independent line for a new deal at Suez, Mr. Dulles took a line of agreeing with London and Paris just enough to hold on to them. It was, to give it its name, a tactic of frustration which had as its aim the avoidance of hostilities without offering any real proposal of a settlement.

• • •

The Suez affair illustrates the virtues and the limitations of Gen. Eisenhower as a peace-maker. He is opposed to fighting whereever and whenever it is avoidable, and he is quick and decisive to say no to those who might wish to fight. He reacts peaceably when a crisis reaches the point where war might come. He does not react much sooner. He reacts to what is happening and does little to foresee and little to prepare for what is going to happen. The result is that his solutions are stalemates in which he accepts the status quo and the accomplished fact, teaching his countrymen to live in the present with no serious concern about the future.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

OFF THE BOOK BEAT — Wouldn't you know it! The author of the new book about the circus gets too scared at the circus even to look!

Mrs. Marian Murray, a one time Harford (Conn.) newswoman, has for the last few years been living in Sarasota, Fla., the Ringling quarters, and promoting public interest in the Ringling museums there. The town itself, she says, has bits of circus, bits of museum and bits of culture breaking out all over. Acrobats practice in backyards, dwarfs ride motor scooters through the streets, the giant loiters on the corner, the midget can't see over the grocery-store counter. But the place could also claim to be a writer's colony, for Budd Schulberg, Joseph Hayes and MacKinlay Kantor, among others, have homes there.

Thanks to the museum collections, Mrs. Murray said, she was able to do almost all her research right on the spot, and if she still had questions she could run over to a neighbor — a slackwire artist, an animal trainer, a clown — to get the answer.

Did she go to the circus, too? "Of course. But I have a lion phobia. A friend has some of them in her house, loose, and every time before I go over I phone to make sure they are locked up. As for animal acts, I shut my eyes and keep them shut till some one tells me it's all over. And the trapezists! They scare me to death!"

Mrs. Murray has written books for children; this grown-up work started at a party. It's a partying place? "Sort of. But don't let anybody tell you Florida isn't hot!"

Homer Garrison Jr. Proves There Is A Future In Law Enforcement Field

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP) — Homer Garrison Jr., 54, has spent more than half his life proving to Homer Garrison Sr. that a boy who chooses law enforcement as a career doesn't have to wind it up as the town nightwatchman.

Instead, the six-foot-two, square-jawed state police director keeps his cool—and sometimes cold—eyes on the security and safety of eight and a half million Texans.

And the father, 89, still living at their Lufkin home, long ago was convinced that his tall, gangling 19-year-old son knew what he was doing when he became a deputy sheriff of Angelina County in deep East Texas.

Garrison Sr. was just as proud as other Texans when the director of the State Department of Public Safety won worldwide recognition a few years ago by being elected Assn. of Chiefs of Police. That in effect made him Mr. Police Chief of the world.

When Homer Garrison was still in his teens, he began giving off some signs of what it takes both physically and emotionally to become a good officer.

The young deputy sheriff, on one of his first assignments, rushed a man holding a cocked .45 caliber single action colt, got his thumb under its raised hammer, and disarmed the fellow by jerking the gun away.

His first arrest, Garrison says, nearly scared him to death and he has been scared so many times since that he has lost count. In the first case, he settled a drugstore brawl in Lufkin by clobbering its instigator and key figure with the barrel of his .45, catching him by the collar, and dragging him two blocks to the county courthouse for a sobering experience just outside the jail door.

"I was scared I had hurt him bad and I'm glad I hadn't," Garrison said. "There was a fine legal point involved, too. I had been deputized but not formally commissioned. My boss, the sheriff, was worried about it. But the man was armed with a big, heavy old-fashioned lemon squeezer, he was drunk, and he had hit the druggist with it."

Garrison's action had the effect of putting the man he arrested on the permanent water wagon.

"He's still living and he is one of my best friends," Garrison says.

Once in his career as head of the state police and the world-famous Texas Rangers, Garrison himself bore out the proud adage:

"One riot, one ranger."

He and several Rangers were on that job and when his companions went to lunch, Garrison alone guarded the door of an industrial plant besieged with strike trouble.

"The leader of the crowd that was threatening to come in and wreck the place knew the other officers had gone. He walked right up to the deadline we had set down the middle of the street," Garrison recollected.

"He and his friends kept coming and I just sat there waiting for them, scared stiff. It helped to know I had a machine gun behind the door, but I didn't want to have to use it. I didn't have to. They walked right up to the middle of the street and stopped."

That experience was typical of Homer Garrison's theory of law enforcement. That is, try to pinch off violence before it happens, kep traffic hazards undr control with maximum patrols and warnings and a constant hammring at safety education.

"I never shot anybody," Garrison says, "and I pray that I will never have to in doing my duty. I've had to hit some, but we teach our men to take the man without taking his life, stop the crime before it is committed, prevent the automobile accident before it happens, keep the peace without making trouble."

As to the business of being scared, Garrison says that any officer who says he isn't or hasn't been usually is bragging.

"I have just known two or three Rangers who did not know fear," Garrison says, "but they are all brave men."

That's just one facet of Garrison's character.

There are others equally potent in the makeup of the man who heads a law enforcement body of more than 1,200 commissioned state officers including 51 Texas Rangers, the men who wear modified western hats; 625 smartly-uniformed State Highway Patrolmen; and a host of ballistics experts, chemists, communications other laboratory technicians and experts, lie detector operators and specialists in other police fields.

Garrison is keenly conscious of his individual civic duties. He is a churchman, past chairman of the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church in Austin; a Rotarian; a former director of the Austin Chamber of Commerce.

Garrison is deeply concerned about juvenile delinquency and other problems of youth. Once again, his chief concern is in stopping trouble before it starts.

He is a member of the State Youth Development Council.

He is a working vice-president of the Capitol Area Council of the Boy Scouts. His son, Tray, 14, a ninth-grader, is an Eagle scout and on the top rung of the ladder in scouting.

People wonder sometimes just how much politics is involved in the state police organization.

To Garrison, the answer is: "Absolutely none at all."

Its governing body is the three-member public safety commission adopted by the governor for overlapping terms, subject to Senate confirmation. The commission is strictly a policy making body. Garrison is its chief executive officer and in the final analysis he's the man who says where to concentrate the Rangers and where to spot the highway patrol in potential disaster or danger areas.

In the recent racial troubles at Mansfield, the Rangers, Gov. Shiver and Garrison got considerable publicity. The Rangers and the department's internal security men had been in close touch with the situation for days before any formal orders were issued.

There was a day in Texas when the Ranger force was made up of 31 men—each appointment fathered by a state senator and each Ranger known as "senator so-and-so's man." Now they are merit jobs—coveted as promotions within the Department of Public Safety. A ranger or highway patrolman whose conduct doesn't fit the rigid standards now established doesn't last long with the force. There is seldom any fanfare, but out they go.

Garrison follows the open-door policy in dealing with the public and with his farflung police organization.

When you dial the state police switchboard at Austin and ask for Col. Garrison, the presumption is that your business is important. The call goes not to Garrison's secretary, but to Garrison direct. His secretary answers the phone only when he isn't in the office, or when he is in a really vital conference of some kind.

That rule stands for all the other department heads in the big new glass and steel, strictly functional public safety headquarters

Auto Industry Dreaming Of Push-Button Steering

By INEZ ROBB

DETROIT — The 1957 automobile is a thing of push-button beauty. All Homo Q. Sapiens has to do to make it work is steer. But don't think the American motor industry isn't dreaming of eliminating Homo Q. and his hot little hands from the steering wheel.

Push-button steering is one of those things that preoccupies the dreams of Detroit, but about which it doesn't want to talk too much. But within a decade, give or take a few years, that maniacal, irrational and capricious fiend-in-human form behind the wheel of the OTHER car may be eliminated, and life on the open road in America may become a breeze.

Of course, it will eliminate you, too. Human error, that is.

Harry Chesebrough, in charge of product planning at Chrysler, foresees future highways with an electronic system of guidance where the so-called driver gets in tune with the infinite, and that's that. No more death on the highway is a possibility.

"Push-button driving is coming, but we can't talk about that now," smiles Ford Vice-President George W. Walker. "If guided missiile experts can get a rocket into outer space, we should be able to steer a 'guided car' to Chicago without human hands."

The industry talks wistfully of automatic pilot devices, projected beams and radar as a means of eliminating Mr. and Mrs. Sapiens and their lethal hands on a steering wheel.

And when I complained bitterly about the temptation to speed in today's cars saused by the ever-increasing horsepower under the hood, the industry patted me on my little, pointed head and had an explanation for that, too.

According to the industry, 50 percent of the advertised horsepower built into a car is needed to operate all the luxury features Americans demand in automobiles, such as radios, push-button windows, additional lighting, heater, power steering, power brakes and air-conditioning, plus the road friction a car develops in transit. That leaves only 50 percent of the hypoed with which to endanger life and limb.

And that leads right into something an auto tycoon said that puzzled me for a minute.

"A mass-produced automobile is really a custom job," he declared.

"You mean the buyer still has to purchase all the necessary luxuries like radio, heater, et al?" I asked.

"Well, yes," he said and had the grace to blush.

And don't think that television isn't available for the customer who's really loaded. But, so far, mercifully confined to the back seat. But wait until Homo Q. human hands and the steering wheel are eliminated, and Jackie Gleason will be up front, too.

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the files of the Scurry County Times, Oct. 22, 1931)

Scurry's rainfall total for the month is mounting rapidly as the Times goes to press Thursday morning. Snyder has received more than half an inch since early in the morning, and regular showers are said to be falling in practically every corner of the county. W. R. Merrell, official weatherman, reports that the local fall Tuesday night was .45 inches, and that the week's total has increased here to more than an inch.

The Ira and Egypt schools were consolidated just one and one-half months too early to receive a bonus under a law passed at the last session of the legislature. County Superintendent A. A. Bullock was advised to this effect while in Austin last week. The wording of the law would have given the schools a sizeable bonus, but a recent ruling by the attorney general changes the complexion of the legislature's action. Districts consolidated since 1922, but previous to adoption of the new operative bonus law would have been granted bonuses by the legislative bill, but the attorney ruled that the law did not take effect until January, 1923. The Ira and Egypt schools were consolidated in November, 1922.

The operator said two weeks ago that the drill would go 500 feet deeper if property owners in this block would waive rentals, but the failure of one owner to fall in line forced the abandonment decision.

The Hermliegh school board has been granted permission to issue a $2,000 warrant November 10, Superintendent Bullock reports. Purchase of a school buss to convey children to and from the recently consolidated Bell district will be made with a portion of the money.

Most duck hunters know by now that a federal proclamation limiting the season on these birds from noon, November 16, to December 15, inclusive, has just been issued, and the state law, permitting hunting from October 16 through January 31, is therefore void. W. T. St. John, game warden, sounds the warning again for the benefit of Scurry County hunters who might have overlooked the federal ruling.

Woman Diplomat Is Promoted By Mexico

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Friends of Mrs. Amalia de Castillo Ledon of Mexico, distinguished woman diplomat, are delighted though not surprised to learn she has just been made her country's first woman ambassador.

Chairman of the Inter-American Commission of Women here for four years, the handsome and extremely popular Mrs. de Castillo Ledon has been serving since 1953 as Mexico's minister to Sweden. The promotion came as a result of Mexico and Sweden raising their diplomatic exchanges from legation to embassy status. Mexico has had many women in its foreign service, but only one other has come near to Mrs. de Catillo Ledon's status. She was Miss Palma Guillen, who 17 years ago served as Mexico's minister to Colombia and later as its minister to the League of Nations.

The striped - pants set donned shorts and put aside brief cases for racquets when the athletes of Embassy Row challenged American foreign service bigwigs in the annual diplomatic tennis tournament sponsored here by the State Department. Sir Roger Makins, retiring British ambassador, an accomplished tennis player, whose wife is the daughter of the late Dwight Davis, American donor of the Davis Cup, was among the foreign diplomats to be paired off with an American player. Others included Ambassadors Hearne of Ireland, Nykopp of Finland, and Sarasin of Thailand. Minister Devakul, also of Thailand, a winner of two previous diplomatic tournaments, was also an entrant, as was Egyptian Minister Niazi.

LP Storage Area Built Near Hull

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Magnolia Petroleum Co. officials said today the world's third largest centrally located underground storage facilities for liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) has been completed at Hull, 50 miles northeast of Houston.

The project, begun over two years ago, consits of six storage wells 1,100 to 2,400 feet underground with a total capacity of over 1,200,000 barrels.

A direct pipe line tie-in with Magnolia's refinery in Beaumont permits strong of excess LPG received and produced at the plant The oficials said this would relieve above ground tankage at the Beaumont refinery.

The 60-acre storage area includes salt water pits and disposal wells located near the LPG storage wells. Facilities provided near the storage site include truck and tank car transportation, but the pipe lines will be the main carrier of the product, the Magnolia officials said.

The underground reservoirs were formed by drilling a well into a salt dome and flushing out the salt with fresh water. To remove the LPG from the wells for shipment, salt water is pumped into the cavities forcing the product to the surface.

Magnolia said some 15 experienced personnel are assigned to the storage operation under the supervision of Z. P. Armstrong of Vanderbilt, superintendent of Magnolia's natural gas operations in the Houston - Beaumont area.

Fire Is Reported On Post Highway

A general fire alarm was sounded at noon yesterday and the fire department sent men and equipment to a fire at the Del Norte Courts on the Post highway in north Snyder, but the fire turned out to be confined to a sack of trash.

Some rubber in the sack of trash caused the smolder trash to give off an odor similar to the odor of an electrical fire, and firemen explored the attic of the building before discovering the burning trash.

The fire was in the apartment occupied by I. B. Ayers.

There was no damage, and the fire was carried out of the building in the sack, which was only slightly singed.

Fisher Union Aids Man In Test Case

The Fisher County Farmers Union, in its monthly meeting last week, voted unanimously to give full financial and moral support to the defendent in a case pending in federal court at Abilene.

The 120 members attending the meeting pledged their support to Joe Morris, Roby farmer being sued by the federal government for recovery of a claim developing from his use of Mexican national laborers during the 1955 cotton harvest season.

It was assumed that Morris was being used by the government as a "guinea pig" in the matter for several hundred farmers throughout this part of Texas. He paid his laborers what he thought to be the contract wage last year and learned last April, as did many other farmers, that the federal government claimed the rate insufficient.

Max Carriker, president of the Fisher organization, made this statement after last week's meeting: "This wage kickback for 1955 cotton harvest that involves so many farmers is an outright injustice to the cotton farmers of West Texas, and we are going to use every means at our command to put it right.

"We already have attorneys studying the matter, and their reports are very encouraging to date. The whole altercation evolved from a very unique case of bungling on the part of certain sections of the U. S. Labor Department, and, as is typical, the burden is left with the farmer."

Funds to develop and present adequate defense in the matter are being raised by subscription through the Fisher County organization.

Reports from area chairmen for the union's membership drive were given at the meeting. It appeared that the 1957 goal of 400 members for the union will be exceeded. About 90 new members have joined, and 1956 membership totaled 300. The drive will end in January.

Imports Hearing To Begin Monday

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—A hearing to determine whether national security is being impaired by oil imports begins Monday in Washington.

The hearing will be on a recommendation that President Eisenhower curb imports under the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1955.

Arthur Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, ordered the hearing in response to an Aug. 8 petition from 19 associations of oil and gas producers.

The petition was filed by Russell Brown, lawyer for the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America. The petition contends Flemming's efforts to have importers curb imports voluntarily have failed.

The oil associations contend Congress determined that oil products should not exceed their 1954 relationship to domestic crude oil production. This was the recommendation of the presidential advisory committee on energy supplies and resources policy on Feb. 26, 1955.

The Aug. 8 petition from the oil associations said

"The significant and increasing excesses in imports over the legislative standard now make necessary formal action under the law."

The petition specifically recommended that Flemming advise Eisenhower that crude oil and petroleum products are being imported in such quantity as to impair the national security. It also asked that Flemming recommend that the President take action to adjust total petroleum imports to their relationship to domestic production.

Terry Test Recovers Oil

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. No. 1 Waters, Southwest Terry County wildcat, recovered free oil and had a show of gas in the Siluro-Devonian.

The section at 12,640-760 feet was drillstem tested four hours. Recovery was 180 feet of gas, 3,100 feet of oil, the 2,500-foot water blanket, which was oil and gas cut, and 360 feet of oil and gas cut drilling fluid.

An additional one quart of free oil was recovered below the circulating sub. Flowing pressure was between 1,240 and 2,330 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure in 15 minutes was 5,405 pounds.

The prospect is coring deeper. It has shown for possible discovery production in the Spraberry at 8,200-90 feet and in the Strawn at 11,328-500 feet.

The well is 8½ miles southwest of Gomez and 1,750 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 118, block B-11, C&MRR survey.

NE Borden Well Swabs

Ambassador Oil Corp. of Fort Worth No. 1 Jackson, reentered Ellenburger failure in Northeast Borden County, was preparing to swab and test rhough perforations from 6,960 to 6,970 feet.

Earlier, operator reported 3½ barrels of salt water per hour on swab and test through perforations from 7,904 to 7,910 feet, after the formation had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The project, originally drilled to 8,366, is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 520, block 97, H&TC survey, six miles northwest of Fluvanna.

Mustangs Score In Fourth, Edge Rice 14-13

Jackson Leads In Winning Drive

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Charlie Jackson, speedy 167-pound halfback, led Southern Methodist on an 80-yard final period touchdown surge tonight to pull the Mustangs from behind for a regionally televised 14-13 Southwest Conference victory over Rice's Owls.

After a 38-yard scamper to the Rice 20, Jackson scored from the six to tie the score at 13-13. End Tommy Gentry's second conversion of the night made the difference with less than seven minutes remaining in the game.

It was the first conference game for both teams and a crowd of 47,000 saw SMU extend its victory streak over Rice to five games.

Quarterback Charlie Arnold used a 69-yard pass to end Willard Dewveall to put SMU in a 7-0 lead in the second quarter. Rice quickly tied the score at 7-7 after recovering a fumble on the Mustang one, where a 67-yard drive had ben halted by the SMU line on the preceding play. Quarterback King Hill powered over and fullback Jerry Hall converted.

Hill teamed with Raymond Chilton, a speedy sophomore fullback, to put Rice ahead, 13-6, in the third quarter. Chilton scored from the two to climax the 73-yard drive but Hall's conversion attempt was wide to the right.

The field was in good condition but the anticipated aerial battle between Arnold and Hill failed to despite a late afternoon downpour develop. Both the jun lorquarterbacks passed effectively but both teams, for the most part, relied on speed.

SMU completed four of 11 passes for 101 yards but had 212 yards on the ground. Rice completed seven of 12 for 70 yards but had 223 yards rushing.

Spartans Roll To 47-14 Win Over Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 20 (AP)—Dennis (The Menace) Mendyk, bursting 62 and 68 yards on touchdown runs, today featured unbeaten Michigan State's production line use of three sets of backs in overwhelming Notre Dame's worn-down football forces, 47-14.

In pumping more points against the Irish than at any time since the series was inaugurated in 1897, the No. 2 ranking Spartans blasted six touchdowns in the second half after the teams had battled to a 7-7 standstill.

The key play came in the first 2½ minutes of the third period when Mendyk, 183-pound senior left half streaked 62 yards on a quick opener.

John Matsko booted the first of three extra points and the Spartans were off to their greatest victory over the Irish since blanking them 35-0 in 1951.

The triumph, before an overflowing throng of 59,378 fans, was MSU's fourth over the Irish in their last five meetings and gave Coach Terry Brenan's young team its third loss in four starts this season.

Jim Ninowski, junior quarterback, herded MSU into a 21-7 bulge midway in the third by hitting 3 out of 3 passes for 55 yards. The drive carried 83 yards in 14 plays with Don Gilbert ramming the last 3.

At the outset of the finale, Clarence Peaks drilled over from the 2 to complete a comp that included sophomore Mike Panitch's 49-yard punt return and then a catch of Mendyk's 16-yard pass.

Three more sensasonal scoring jaunts soon followed.

Mendyk barried 68 yards.

End Larry Harding stole a Paul Horning pass and raced 28 yards into the end zone.

Don Arend, sophomore fullback from Baroda, Mich., broke loose for a 65-yard scoring scamper.

Southern Cal Rolls Over Washington

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP)—Jon Arnett and C. R. Roberts wrecked Washington with a brilliant display of running as Southern Cal rolled to a 35-7 triumph over their Pacific Coast Conference football rivals today.

A 26-yard field goal in the second quarter by reserve fullback Bob Isaacson put USC ahead 9-7 and actually won the game.

But it was Arnett, playing before a hometown crowd of 44,749, and fullback Roberts who applied the decisive blow.

Pushed back to their own five by a penalty and a fumble, USC put Arnett and Roberts to work. Arnett ripped off 15 and 16 yards. Roberts got 16, Arnett 17 and Roberts 20 to reach the Washington 11.

Washington's defense stiffened but Arnett made 4 and 3 and Roberts drove the final 4 for six points.

Michigan In 34-20 Victory

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 20 (AP)—Stunned by the early striking power of an outmanned but never outhustled Northwestern team, Michigan rode its reserve strength to a 34-20 victory over the Wildcats in a Big Ten football encounter today.

Sophomore fullback John Herrntein scored three times and big Ron Kramer made a pair of sensational pass catches and accounted for 10 points as the Wolverines claimed their third triumph in four tries.

It was a bruising contest marked by a flock of penalties, many of them for roughness. Two linemen — Michigan's Larry Faul and Northwestern's Tom Williams —were banished in the first period for slugging it out before 81,277 fans, most of whom stayed until the end despite a hard rain that struck midway through the game.

The Wolverines shuttled three teams in and out of the game while many of the Wildcat regulars were forced to go nearly all the way without relief.

Little Bob McKeiver, Northwestern's pint-sized fullback, ripped his 160-pound frame in and out of Michigan defenders, and principally through his sparkling play, the Wildcats were able to make it close most of the way.

Florida Rips Vandy, 21-7

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20 (AP)—Florida passed and run for three touchdowns today, scoring in each of the last three periods to defeat Vanderbilt, 21-7, in a Southeastern Conference football game.

Stymied in the opening period, the Gators took to the air early in the second quarter and scored on a pass from quarterback Jimmy Dunn to end Bobby Burford good for 34 yards.

Florida drove from the Vanderbilt 28, where Charlie Mitchell recovered a Vanderbilt fumble, to rack up its second touchdown, Harry Spears plunging for the TD.

The Gators poured on their best ofensive drive of the day in running 71 yards in nine plays for their final tally.

Sun Devils Outdo H-SU

ABILENE, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP)—Center Dave Fonner intercepted a pass on the 24 yard line and ran it over for a fourth quarter score which clinched the Arizona State Sun Devil's 26-13 victory over the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys here this afternoon.

The Sun Denvils, who found game stopped cold by the Cowpokes, went to the air lanes to score their other three touchdowns. Hardin-Simmons opened scoring late in the first on a 14 yard run up the middle by halfback Earl Brown. Joel Honeycutt converted for a 7-0 lead.

In the second quarter, Arizona State quarterback Dave Graybill intercepted a pass on the Hardin-Simmons 33, passed 16 yards to the four yard line, then sneaked over from the two to set the halftime score at 7-6.

Arizona State went ahead in the third, striking twice in a period of 2½ minutes. Graybill passed to end Bill Spanke on a 60 yard scoring play and tossed a 22 yard pass to end Charley Mackey.

Hardin-Simmons came back to score late in the third quarter on a 20 yard pass from quarterback Gene Sauer to Brown.

Vols Wallop Alabama, 24-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20 (AP)—Johnny Majors and Al Carter, Tennessee's talented tailback twosome, treated 27,500 fans to some dazzling running today as the Vols defeated Alabama 24-0 in a Southeastern Conference football game.

The fleet little halfbacks accounted for 183 yards rushing and passing to pick up seventh-ranking Tennessee's fourth victory of the season and hand Alabama its 17th loss in a row.

Cougars Get Loop Victory Over Oklags

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 20 (AP)—Houston's Cougars made two cheap touchdowns in the first half to beat the Oklahoma Aggies 13-0 on a rain-soaked football field here today.

Houston's pre-season favorites to win the Missouri Valley Conference won their first loop contest by taking advantage of errors by the inexperienced Aggies which had 17 sophomores on the first two teams.

The loss gave the Aggies two victories, a tie, and two defeats for the season and 1-1-1 in the loop.

Rain began falilng as he game started and just before the half it became so hard writers could not see the field from the press box.

A fumble in the first quarter gave Houston its first touchdown and an intercepted pass just before the half gave the Cougars their second.

With 3½ minutes gone an Aggie fumble was recovered by Buddy Boek on his 23 and five plays later fullback Donnie Caraway bulled over from the 1. Quarterback Don Flynn hit the extra point for a 7-0 edge.

With just 13 seconds left in the half and the rain so hard players could not be identified from the sidelines, Sammy Blount passed eight yards over the goal to Bob Borah.

The Aggies made two long marches but both times were stopped just short of the goal.

Pitt Outduels Duke By 27-14

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 20 (AP)—Big Joe Walton, tabbed for two seasons as the best end in Eastern football, made two great catches of passes from Corney Salvaterra today and led Pittsburgh to a 27-14 victory over Duke in the 10th and perhaps the most exciting of Norfolk's Oyster Bowl games.

Although Salvaterra was awarded the trophy as the game's most valuable player, it was Walton's catching that provided the deciding points and the biggest thrills for a sellout crowd of 27,000 at Foreman Field.

Walton, son of an old-time Pitt star, grabbed one on the 4-yard marker and slashed his was across the goal for a 28-yard gain that put the Panthers ahead. Just a couple of minutes later he made a beautiful catch and fake on the Duke 46 and left the Blue Devils defense almost flat-footed as he raced down for the deciding touchdown.

Duke, dominating the game through most of the last half, got its two scores on long runs, then yielded a final insurance touchdown in the last period as Pitt smashed its way 73 yards down the field in a belated display of power.

Salvaterra, besides pitching two touchdown passes to Walton, scored one himself and handed off to Pay DiPasquale for the final score. Duke tallied on Bernie Blaney's 97-yard runback of the opening kickoff and Eddie Rushton's 77-yard run with an intercepted lateral.

Razorbacks Suffer 1st Pee Wee Loss

The Winky Dinks eked out a 14-13 decision over the Razorbacks in the feature game of yesterday's Pee Wee football slate.

In other games, the Bulldogs and Browns battled to a 7-7 draw while the Cats downed the Mustangs, 12-0, in Farm League play.

A safety was the difference in the Winky Dink-Razorback game.

Wayne Key figured in both Winky Dink touchdowns, catching a pass from Jimmie Wilson for 35 yards for one TD and returning a punt 65 yards for another.

Benny Minor scored all 13 points scored by the Razorbacks. The loss was the first for the Razorbacks who dropped into a two-way tie for the league lead.

Darrell Aldredge scored for the Bulldogs and Malcolm Bolger added the extra point. For the Browns, Pat McCright scored the touchdown and also added the point.

J. Williamson scored both touchdowns for the Cats in their 12-0 win over the Mustangs.

Next week's schedule will send the Browns against the Razorbacks, Bulldogs against the Winky Dinks and the Cats against the Mustangs.

Following is the Pee Wee standings:

TEAM	W	L	T	PCT.
Winky Dink	4	1	0	.800
Razorbacks	4	1	0	.800
Browns	1	3	1	.300
Bulldogs	0	4	1	.100

UCLA Whips California Bears 34-20

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 20 (AP)—Little Doug Bradley, playing his final game for UCLA, passed for two touchdowns and set up a third today as the Bruins whipped the California Bears 34-20.

A crowd of 48,000 also saw the Bruins twice intercept Bear passes and return them for touchdowns. Another interception paved the way for a third score.

UCLA shocked California with two touchdowns in the first four minutes and the Bears never fully recovered although at one time they drew into a 14-14 tie.

Bruin halfback Louis Elias opened the fireworks by intercepting a pass from quarterback Joe Contestabile at the Bear 32. Bradley, a 170-pound tailback playing his final game because of the five-game PCC penalty decision in the summer subsidy cases, threw to end Pete O'Garro for 23. On the fourth play of the short drive, fullback Barry Billington plunged over.

Two minutes later Contestabile gambled on a fourth and two situation at his 43 but his passes fell incomplete. Bradley immediately shot a pass to O'Garro behind the secondary and the 6 foot 3 end went all the way.

A 42-yard pass from Bradley to sophomore Dick Wallen gave the Bruins their final touchdown. Before that, Wallen intercepted a Contestabile pass and returned it 42 yards to score. O'Garro grabbed one from Cal's Joe Kwpp and went 22 into the end zone.

California collected its first touchdown the hard way, driving 70 yards. Kapp threw the final 27 to end Norm Becker. California tied the game after UCLA's Don Long fumbled at the Bruin 27. Seven plays later Jack Hart went over from a yard out.

California closed its scoring by moving 38 yards in six plays after a faulty Bruin kick. Fullback Jerry Drew tallied from 2 yards out.

Round Of PGA Is Washed Out Saturday

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—A six-under-par 65 and at least a temporary lead for Bill Trombley, Dallas professional, were among the casualties today as a late afternoon downpour washed out the third round of the $5,000 Texas PGA tournament.

Only 19 of a field of 101 players were still on the 7,200-yard, par 71 Sharpstown Country Club course when strong winds and the heavy rain stopped play.

Kansas 11 In 'Moral' Win

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 20 (AP)—Powerful Oklahoma captured its 34th consecutive football victory, 34-12, today but met unexpected competition from a souped-up Kansas team which scored the first touchdown Oklahoma has allowed in its last eight regular season games.

More than 31,000 fans cheered lustily as the Jayhawks matched Oklahoma's first quarter touchdown and then produced the only score of the last quarter.

In between the first and last periods, however, it was all Oklahoma and the Sooners won as they pleased with halfback Tommy McDonald, a 1955 all-American, and his understudy, sophomore David Baker, each scoring two touchdowns.

Oklahoma led 7-6 after one quarter, thanks to quarterback Jimmy Harris' conversion, then broke loose for three touchdowns in the second period for a 27-6 halftime lead.

Oklahoma lost a touchdown in the third quarter when halfback Clendon Thomas fumbled at the goal and Kansas' Homer Floyd recovered in the end zone. The Sooners banged back, however, for their only second half touchdown with Baker scoring from the 5 then converting.

The Sooners opened in business-like fashion, marching the opening kickoff 51 yards with Thomas going the last yard for the touchdown. Kansas got its first one a few minutes later. Halfback Bob Marshall slashed over from the one after a 44-yard drive. Bill Bell missed the kick. Oklahoma's second quarter touchdowns were scored by McDonald on a 12-yard run, end Bob Timberlake on a 10-yard pass from Baker and by McDonald on a 7-yard run.

Kansas got its second touchdown against a mixed Oklahoma second-third team on Wally's Strauch's 11-yard pass to end Lynn McCarthy.

Second Half Spree Gets Hogs 32-14 Win

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP)—A 76-yard intercepted pass run by halfback Ronny Underwood set up a fourth period touchdown to bring Arkansas from behind and spark the Razorbacks to a 32-14 win over Texas.

Underwood, a workhorse all night for the Porkers, intercepted Joe Clements' pass on his own 10 just as the Longhorns apparently were marching for a clinching touchdown. Texas was leading 14-13.

He shot down the sidelines to the Texas 14 before dragged down by Clements. Four plays later quarterback Don Christian had the score and Arkansas went ahead 20-14.

Jerry Ferguson, subbing for power-running Gerald Nesbitt, rammed seven yards for another Hog touchdown. Don Ritschel, taking a lateral from Ferguson blazed down the sidelines for another score as the demoralized Steers tried to figure out "wot hoppen."

Joe Clements, Texas quarterback brains and pass master, fired two first half touchdowns to give the Texans a 14-6 lead at halftime. In the third quarter, Texas' hard-working Walt Fondren returned a short Razorback punt to the 25. Three plays later, Clements on a keeper moved for a first on the Arkansas 14 as Texas rooters screamed for the knockout punch. On the next play, Underwood snatched the ball and almost went all the way.

S'WTER TICKETS TO GO ON SALE HERE OCT. 31

Tickets for the Tiger-Sweetwater game slated for Sweetwater, Nov. 2, will not go on sale here until Wednesday morning, Oct. 31, school business manager Art Nicholas revealed Saturday.

Nicholas said the usual procedure will be followed, that the tickets will be placed on sale at the Chamber of Commerce Office at 8 a.m. on the above date and will remain on sale there until the day of the game.

The school business manager said Sweetwater will send 2,340 reserve seat tickets to Snyder and 700 student ducats. No telephone orders will be taken.

Nicholas said Friday night's official paid attendance was 4,471.

Ky. Drops LSU 14-0

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 20 (AP)—Louisiana State gambled twice and lost as Kentucky rolled to a 14-0 Southeastern Conference football victory tonight.

The winless Baylor Bengals twice went for first downs they couldn't achieve and Kentucky wrapped its first opportunity into a 54-yard scoring drive and its second into a 60-yard touchdown excursion.

It was a bit of daring by junior quarterback Kenny Robertson, too, that kept Kentucky's first hope alive.

Faced with a fourth down and 5 situation at mid-field, Robertson passed 14 yards to halfback Billy Mitchell to keep the threat going and later set up the score with a 17-yard throw to Jim Urbaniak at the 10.

Woody Herzog went three yards around his right end for the tally, and Delmar Hughes converted for a 7-0 halftime lead.

The scoring march materialized after LSU, needing only inches for a first down, sent Jimmy Taylor into the line and missed.

Trying desperately through the air in the last period, Louisiana State failed at the Kentucky 40 and surrendered the ball, igniting an 11-play Kentucky march that ended with Mitchell going over from the four.

Snyder Hits Midland In B Tilt 31-19

The Snyder Tiger B team remained undefeated last night as it pounded the Midland B with a score of 31-19.

This was the same team which tied the Snyder B 14-14 two weeks ago to place the only blemish on its perfect record. The team has won four games and tied one.

Snyder jumped into a quick lead during the first half of the game, scoring three times before Midland scratched. Halftime score was 19-6. Richard Mahan returned a Midland punt 80 yards for the first tally, and Dickie Martin kicked the point. Dick Hayes then scored from seven yards out, and Mahan followed that with a 20-yard scoring run on a bootleg play.

Midland got back into the ball game in the third quarter when it scored, and Snyder led 19-13. In the fourth quarter, however, Kenneth Drake came up with two more touchdowns on plunges of one and two yards to put the Tiger B far out in the lead again.

Before the game ended Midland had scored again.

Texas Aggies Upset TCU In Rainstorm, 7-6

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP)—Little Don Watson, who beat Texas Christian last year with a 51-yard run, clattered down shadowy rain swept sidelines to set up a touchdown he passed for himself today and it brought Texas A&M an upset 7-6 victory in the biggest game of Southwest Conference football.

Texas Christian's mighty Frogs had virtually camped on the Aggie goal line for three periods and were leading 6-0 when Watson electrified the crowd of 42,000 that sat huddled under umbrellas and raincoats with a 26-yard dash that set the ball on the Frog 31. John Crow hammered right end down to the TCU seven, then Watson passed to Crow on the 1-yard line and the score was tied.

Out came Loyd Taylor to kick the extra point and Texas A&M had felled the nation's No. 4 team and surged into the favorite's spot in the southwest conference race.

The Aggies beat TCU 19-16 last year and had they not fallen to

ONE OF THREE—Jim Tiner, Dumas' ground gaining star, takes to the air in the above photo but his pass goes astray as it was intercepted by Bill Fowler. It was one of the three pass interceptions for the Tigers and the only time Tiner took to the air. End Milton Ham, No. 85, who did a fine job rushing the Dumas passers all night, is shown closing in on Tiner. The Tigers won the non-district tilt ,27-7 to remain undefeated. (Lee Watson photograph)

Texas on Thanksgiving Day in an upset would have won the championship.

Next Saturday the Aggies play unbeaten Baylor at Waco in another big battle.

Part of the game was played in a driving rain and winds that approximated 90 miles per hour. Paper, stray coats and cushions were blown onto the field. But it was at the height of the storm that TCU made its touchdown. It had failed in the first half when a Jim Swink score was wiped out by a penalty and Swink, the TCU all-America, was stopped an inch short of the goal line on another occasion.

The Frog touchdown was on an 11-yard pass from Chuck Curtis, Frog quarterback, to O'Day Williams, towering wingman, just before he stepped out of the end zone. But Harold Pollard missed the extra point.

Texas Christian was just a few strips away from the Aggie goal line most of the third period and twice the Christians tried field goals before they could get the touchdown. Vernon Hallbeck, Frog fullback, missed one from the Aggie 24 and one from the 30, both being far short.

Texas A&M got past the midfield only once the first three quarters. They swept to the Frog 25 early in the opening period and then played desperate defensive football the rest of the time trying to stave off the smashing Horned Frogs.

Then with six minutes gone in the final period, the Aggies came alive with a bang. From their 20-yard line, where the ball had gone when Watson, the ever present TCU nemesis, intercepted a pass in the end zone the hammering Crow charged out 21 yards to get the 80-yard drive going. Then he teamed with Watson for the touchdown that may have ruined Texas Christian's dreams of a second straight conference championship.

Yale Stays Unbeaten; Whips Cornell 25-7

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 20 (AP)—Unbeaten Yale, playing like a half-asleep giant, moved to the top of the Ivy Football League by halting winless Cornell 25-7 in the Bowl today. The triumphant Elis appeared to apply the pressure only when necessary.

Some 32,000 persons — the largest Ivy League crowd of the season—saw Yale, paced by fullback Steve Ackerman, who tallied twice, score in all but the second quarter.

Cornell's only touchdown was registered midway in the final period by Art Boland against a bunch of Yale subs. Boland, who scored from the 6-yard line, and Ackerman, provided most of the contest's highlights.

Yale struck early in the first and third periods and again late in the third quarter for its first three touchdowns. Ackerman and Boland registered in the final.

Wreck Overpowers Auburn, 28-7

ATLANTA, Oct. 20 (AP) — Johnny Menger, Georgia Tech's "Mister Clutch" utility man, faked Auburn tacklers out of their shoes on a 60-yard run and an 87-yard punt return today and Tech walloped the Plainsmen 28-7 in their traditional football battle.

Menger, a 156-pound senior who can do everything, set up a touchdown with his almost unbelievable 60-yard, off-tackle sprint to the 1 to give Tech a 14-7 lead in the second quarter. Then, in the third, he made another fantastic run, eluding tackler after tackler and going all the way with a punt.

It was revenge aplenty for Auburn's 14-12 upset victory last year which cost Tech the Southeastern Conference championship. It left the Engineers unbeaten in four starts this season.

Auburn matched Tech's first-period score with a fine drive of its own, but the underdog Plainsmen were not in the game after Menger and his nimble feet started flying. Auburn's scoring drive covered 77 yards in 15 plays. Sophomore halfback Tommy Lorino, who seems destined for greatness, got the ball in scoring range with a fine 11-yard burst over guard to the Tech 5.

A Tech offside penalty moved it to the 1 and quarterback Howell Tubbs sneaked it across.

Menger, a 5-foot, 10-inch quarterback-halfback from Augusta, Ga., is another example of the tremendous depth and versatility of Coach Bobby Dodd's Yellow Jackets who fully lived up to their No. 3 ranking among the nation's top grid powers.

Eight of 11 guards of the University of North Carolina 1956 football squad are natives of North Carolina.

Tigers Explode In 2nd Half For 27-7 Win

Aerial Game Too Much For Demons

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

It took the Tigers more than two quarters to get hooked up Friday night but once they found the range it was "Katy bar the door."

After going scoreless in the first half, the Bengals roared back in the final two periods to post a 27-7 victory over the Dumas Demons before about 5,000 fans at Tiger Stadium.

The win was the 6th against no losses for the Bengals this season. It also wound up the Tigers' non-district schedule. Four more games remain on the 1956 Tiger slate, all District 3-AAA affairs. The Tigers will have an open date this week before swinging into conference play against Sweetwater, Nov. 2, at Sweetwater.

The Tiger defense once again sparkled in Friday's game, holding a high-geared Dumas offense to a mere five first downs, 77 yards rushing and 37 yards passing.

The Bengal offense, after overcoming a case of fumbleitis that slowed their attack in the first half, exploded for four touchdowns in the final half and the Bengals won going away.

Three of the Tiger touchdowns resulted directly from passes with the fourth coming on a scintillating 80-yard punt return by little Israel Hinojos.

Powell Berry chunked two of the Tiger TD passes with Bobby Joines tossing the other. On the receiving end of the TD aerials were end Milton Ham and halfbacks Bobby Pollard and Tommy Prichard.

Alert defensive play of linebacker Bill Fowler paved the way for two of the Tiger touchdowns. Fowler set up the first Tiger touchdown by intercepting a Dumas pass and returning it to the Dumas 18 late in the third period.

A few seconds before the interception the Tigers had fumbled the ball away on a first-and-ten situation on the Dumas 11. Dumas, unable to go on the ground, elected to go to the air after recovering the Tiger fumble but Fowler stepped in the picture to intercept on the 20 and was stopped quickly on the 18.

Tigers Open Scoring Parade

After a running play lost three, Berry hit Pollard with a perfect pass to about the 10 and Pollard raced over untouched for the tally. Center Joe Reaves' kick split the uprights and the Tiger scoring parade was underway with two minutes left in the third.

The Tigers had their second touchdown under their belts three minutes deep in the fourth. Hinojos' 80-yard punt return made it 13-0 for the Tigers. Hinojos took a hand off from his fellow safety man, Bobby Pollard, who fielded the punt and headed for the sidelines and picked up some beautiful downfield blocking enroute to the thouchdown.

After crossing the 50, two Demon defenders were in Hinojos' path. Ends Robert Dabbs and Milton Ham took the last-two Dumas defenders out of the picture, Ham blocking out the last man at about the Dumas 20.

Reaves' kick was true again and it was 14-0 Tigers with 9:10 minutes left in the game.

The Tigers took over on downs from the Demons at the 50 yard stripe following the ensuing kick-off and then struck quickly for TD No. 3.

Berry got 12 yards on a quarter-back sneak, added five more on the same play and then fired a pass to Prichard for 33 yards and a touchdown. Prichard caught the ball inside the Demon 10 and stepped over easily.

Reaves made it a three in a row from placement to boost the Tiger lead to 21-0 with 4:34 minutes left in the game.

Dumas Scores

Dumas got its touchdown on the ensuing kickoff when quarterback Jim Boxwell fielded Jimmy Allen's kick on his own 15, fumbled it momentarily, then picked it up and then shot down the east sidelines for 85 yards and a touchdown.

Boxwell also converted to put the score at 21-7.

Dumas attempted an onside kick but killed the ball before it rolled to the 50. But the Tigers handed the ball to the Demons on a fumble at the 45. Not to be denied, though, the Tigers got the ball back when Fowler intercepted a pass at the 50 and returned it 35 yards to the Demon 15.

After a 15-yard penalty shoved the Tigers back to the 28, Ronnie Smith hit Ham with a 10-yard pass to the 18 with Allen moving it to the 15 with a three-yarder.

Then Joines took a pitchout and threw to Ham in the end zone for the Tigers' final TD. Ham made a good catch, outmaneuvering two Demon defenders to share the ball.

The conversion failed after two tries. Reaves' first kick going wide and after given a second chance on an offside penalty against Dumas, the snap-back from center was bad and Reaves attempted to run it over but was nailed at the two.

Boxwell almost broke loose again on the Tiger kickoff for a TD, the Demon quarterback finally being halted on the Tiger 33. The game ended 3 plays later with Dumas in possession at the 35.

Dumas Star Bottled Up

Jim Tiner, a consistent threat for the Demons, was pretty well contained by the Tiger defense. Tiner, who had averaged better than 100 yards per game going into the Tiger contest, was held to 39 yards in 14 trips. Tiner, however, was the leading Dumas ball carrier for the night.

Berry was the game's leading gainer with 61 yards in 12 carries.

Fowler, Ham and Reaves were defensive standouts for the Tigers although all Bengals played well on defense.

Ham was in on most tackles with nine with Reaves and Fowler close behind with eight apiece.

Score by quarters:

Tigers	0	0	7	20	—27
Dumas	0	0	0	7	— 7

Scoring: Touchdowns — Tigers—Bobby Pollard (on 21-yard pass from Powell Berry); Israel Hinojos (80-yard punt return); Tommy Prichard (on 33-yard pass from Berry); Milton Ham (15-yard pass from Bobby Joines). Dumas-Jim Boxwell (85-yard kickoff return).

PAT — Tigers: Joe Reaves (3) placement, Dumas-Boxwell (1) placement.

FOWLER ON THE LOOSE—Bill Fowler, Tiger fullback and linebacker, has just intercepted his second Dumas pass of the night and races goalward during fourth quarter of Friday night's game at Tiger Stadium. Fowler stole the Dumas pass on the 50 and was finally chased out of bounds on the Dumas 15. Leading interference for Fowler are Billy Mark Phillips, No. 72; and Milton Ham, No. 85. Israel Hinojos, No. 41, follows up for a possible lateral. The Tigers went on to their final touchdown after the above interception to defeat the Demons, 27-7. (Lee Watson photograph)

Syracuse Nips Army, 7-0

SYRACUSE, N. Y. Oct. 20 (AP)—Syracuse drove 80 yards in 11 plays for a second-quarter touchdown by Jim Ridlon today and blunted two long, last - half marches by Army for a 7-0 victory in a game witnessed by 40,053 fans, Syracuse's largest football crowd.

With only 2:27 to go in the final period, Army stormed 67 yards in nine plays only to have an inspired Syracuse defense stop fullback Vince Barta inches short of the goal. Barta blasted into the middle on fourth down with only a yard to go but right guard Ed Bailey and center Bill Brown stopped him with less than six inches to go.

While the officials unpiled the scramble, the crowd stood in silence, only to let loose a deep roar with the decision that the Army back had not made it. It was the second straight victory for Syracuse over Army, coming on the heels of last year's 13-0 mudpie batile at West Point.

Jimmy Brown, driving force of Syracuse's powerful ground game, gained 125 yards in 22 carries, his most important run being a 36-yard dash to the Army 5 that set up Ridlon's 5-yard scoring run in the second period. He also made a game-saving tackle of Gil Roesler, sub halfback, on the Syracuse 17 in the last uarter.

Sturdivant Leads Hurlers In Hitting

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Sturdivant of the New York Yankees and Jack Harshman of the Chicago White Sox, both converted infielders, were the leading hitters among major league pitchers in 1956.

Sturdivant had the highest batting average, .313, while Harshman walloped the most home runs, 6, and drove in the most runs, 19.

Lamesa, Snyder 3-AAA Victors

Lamesa and Snyder gave District 3-AAA its only victories Friday night.

While the Tigers were romping to a 27-7 win over Dumas here, Lamesa was outscoring Monahans, 33-25, at Lamesa.

The other three District 3-AAA teams seeing action Friday met defeat. Sweetwater dropped a 34-6 decision to Midland; Colorado City bowed to Brownfield, 27-0; and Lake View lost to Andrews, 20-0.

Lamesa trailed 12-7 in the first half before surging back for the victory. The Tornadoes went ahead for good with a 19-point third quarter that sent them ahead, 26-18. The two teams then traded touchdowns in the final period.

John Middleton, despite an injured ankle, spearheaded the Lamesa offense. Middleton garnered 204 yards on the ground. The flashy Tornado back scored on runs of 53, 80 and 20 yards.

Frankie McKinney passed 30 yards to Bobby Clement for another Tornado TD and Roger Shipp ran for three yards for the final Lamesa six-pointer.

Sam Jones kicked three extra points for Lamesa.

Larry Cooper passed Midland to victory over Sweetwater, the southpaw slinging quarterback connecting for three TD passes.

Midland led from the beginning, scoring after receiving the opening kickoff on a 78-yard drive. Cooper passed to Don Rone for 42 yards and the first Bulldog counter.

Midland then went on to a 20-0 halftime lead on drives of 92 and 96 yards.

Sweetwater's lone tally came in the fourth quarter when quarterback Artis Gaither sneaked over from the Bulldog one. Jimmy Feagan converted.

Brownfield scored a touchdown in each quarter to hand Colorado City its sixth straight loss without a win.

Lake View battled Andrews to a scoreless draw in the first half but yielded a touchdown in the third quarter and two in the final period to drop its 4th decision in six games.

Area Teams In 2nd Sweep In Row

For the second straight week, the Snyder area football teams made a clean sweep of games Friday night.

Hermleigh's Cardinals scored a surprisingly easy 33-0 victory over Robert Lee to take a firm grip on the No. 1 spot in the District 6-B standings: Hobbs rolled pass McCaulley, 56-6, at McCaulley; and Gail squeezed past Flower Grove, 12-0, at Flower Grove.

The Ira-Ackerly game scheduled at Ackerly Friday night was cancelled because of wet grounds.

Hermleigh took to the air for its vital win over Robert Lee. All five Cardinal touchdowns were made through the airlanes.

Robby Robinson passed for four touchdowns while Billy Mac Davidson tossed the other TD pass.

Morris Light was on the receiving end of three touchdown aerials while Davidson snared two for six points.

The Cardinals took a 19-0 first hald lead when Robinson passed to Davidson for 40 yards, to Morris Light for 30 yards and again to Davidson for 10.

Then in the third quarter, Davidson hit Light for a 60-yard touchdown play and Robinson connected with Light for the final tally in the fourth, the play covering six yards.

Light converted twice and Davidson once after the Hermleigh touchdowns.

The win was the second Hermleigh in 6-B play in as many starts with only Loraine and Trent standing in the way of the district title.

Mac Etheredge led Hobbs to victory over McCaully with 19 points. Doyle Hayes scored 13, Jimmy Pullig 12 and George Gantt and Bernon Ethredge six points each to round out the Hobbs scoring.

M. Etheredge scored on runs of 10 and 12 yards and caught a pass from Hayes for 30 yards and a TD. Hayes scored one touchdown on a 30-yard run, kicked three conversions and caught a pass from Gantt for another conversion point.

Pullig scored both of his touchdowns on passes from Mike Soto, each covering 15 yards. B. Etheredge ran 10 yards for his touchdown after he had set it up with a 50-yard run on a kickoff return.

Hobbs led 29-0 at halftime. Coach John Comte used all 18 Hobbs players suited out, all playing about equal time.

The victory was the sixth in seven starts for Hobbs.

Gail struck for touchdowns in the second and third quarters to defeat Flower Grove.

Larry Doyle scored one touchdown with Jerry Staggs passing to Jerry Reddell for the other TD.

Gail gained 225 yards to 160 for Flower Grove and made nine first downs to Flower Grove's five.

Gail coach Eddie James praised his entire team for a well played defensive game.

Friday's game was played in the mud.

19 Teams Left Unbeaten In Upper Classes

By The Associated Press

Nineteen teams are undefeated as the upper classes of Texas schoolboy football move virtually en masse into conference play this week.

None fell out last week with mighty Abilene winning its 29th straight game to tie the all-time record of the major classes. It still is 24 games away from the overall record set in the late thirties by Hull-Daisetta of Class B.

Abilene starts its drive for the district championship Friday against Big Spring, a team that hardly could be expected to hold the brilliant Eagles down. Showing they are probably the finest team in schoolboy football history, the Eagles walloped Waco 45-14 in their final intersectional game.

Abilene is an overwhelming favorite to win the Class AAAA title without serious trouble. It would be the Eagles' third in a row.

San Angelo, Amarillo Palo Duro, Dallas Highland Park and Wichita Falls also are unbeaten and untied in AAAA. Dallas Jefferson, Houston Lamar, Galveston and Corpus Christi Ray are undefeated but tied.

In Class AAA there are eight undefeated, untied teams: Phillips, Kermit, Pecos, Snyder, Cleburne, Nederland, El Campo and San Marcos. Littlefield and Mineral Wells are unbeaten but tied.

The feature game of Class AAA Friday night matches Phillips with Littlefield in District 1.

Williams Wins

BRUNSWICK, Maine, Oct. 20 (AP)—Williams College averted football defeat today at the hands of an underdog Bowdoin team by tying the score with three minutes to play and forging ahead 13-7 with only 15 seconds to go. Both scoring plays were aerials.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

BOB HAMILTON, SPORTS editor of the Moore County News at Dumas, told us after Friday night's game that he would go along with the United Press in rating the Tigers as the No. 1 team in state in the Class 3A division.

That's fine and dandy but there's a bunch of fellows we're sure that don't agree with the UP ratings, speaking of the Sweetwater Mustang football team.

The Mustangs, plagued with injuries most of the season, have been pushed around this season but you can bet your bottom dollar they'll put forth their utmost effort two weeks from next Friday when the Tigers invade the Mustang camp.

The Tigers will have two weeks to get ready for the Mustangs since the Black and Golders have an open date next Friday.

Every game from now on will be for keeps and the Mustangs present perhaps the biggest stumbling block in the Tigers' bid for a second straight district title.

Defensive Play Best Despite Dumas TD

Although the Tigers allowed the opposition their first touchdown Friday night since the second game of the season, we believe their defensive play against Dumas was the best its been this season.

Dumas only penetrated the Tiger 20 one time from scrimmage—that to the 19 after she had taken over on the Tiger 26 via a fumble. On the play that carried to the 19, the Demons were penalized 15 yards for clipping that quickly moved them back to the 34 and the Demons never got closer at this point and were finally forced to punt.

The Demon tally, of course, was richly earned—it coming on an 85-yard kickoff return. Jim Boxwell, who returned the kickoff for a TD fumbled the ball upon receiving it that delayed his return a few seconds. But this delay probably contributed to the TD since all Tiger rushers were in the Dumas end of the field when Boxwell began his runback. Boxwell shot by the onrushing Tigers and there was no one left in the secondary to head off the speedy Demon quarterback.

Boxwell almost returned another kickoff all the way after the Tigers had gone ahead, 27-7, the Demon signal caller finally being hauled down on the Tiger 33.

These two kickoff returns were the only times in the second half that Dumas was in the Tiger end of the field in possession of the ball.

The Demons, in fact, never drove into Tiger territory from scrimmage. Besides the two kickoff returns, they were in Tiger territory two other times—both coming after recovering Tiger fumbles.

Tiger Offense Shows New Spark

The Tiger offense, except for a case of fumbleitis, displayed a new look in Friday's game. The defense, however, set up two of the four Tiger touchdowns with pass interceptions.

Oddly enough, the longest extended Tiger drive of the season came off in Friday's game yet it didn't produce a TD. The Bengals drove 79 yards to the Dumas one late in the first half before bogging down.

Dumas was pretty well fired up for the game but she seemed to have used up most of her energy in the first half as the Tigers gained almost at will in the second half.

While a lot of fans here, as well as the coaches and players, will welcome this week's rest, no one probably will welcome it more than John Conley, Sr., father of the Tiger head coach.

The elder Conley resides in Dallas but he hasn't missed a Tiger game this season. In other words, Mr. Conley has made six rushed trips in as many weekends to see the Tiger play. He has gone home happy each time and we hope his future ventures will be likewise.

John, Sr., too, was on hand for all of the Tiger games last season. In fact, he's only missed a coupla of Tiger games since his son became head coach here three years ago.

We're going to take advantage of the Tiger open date, too, this weekend. We failed to work in a vacation last summer so we're taking a week of it this week.

We don't plan to venture off anywhere, just going to take it easy and maybe get shed of these "ulcers" we've accumalated during the past six weeks.

Lake Thomas Camp Work Is Charted

A $297,000.00 expansion program has been announced by the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, which has its headquarters in Midland, and its leaders predict the fund-raising effort will be completed early in 1957.

A statement from Roy E. Carter, Kermit, president of the council, said expansion of facilities for clude the following:

1. Construction of a new Boy Scout headquarters building in Midland, to serve the 18 counties in the Council area.

2. Development of the Buffalo Trail Aquatic Camp at Lake J. B. Thomas near Snyder.

3. Improvement and expansion of facilities of the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains.

Funds for the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Ranch, a 6,000 acre facility located near Balmorhea, were subscribed by the council's area through a campaign conducted in 1947. The camp was secured, and facilities developed at that time have accommodated more than ten thousand (10,000) boys.

New construction at the Lake J. B. Thomas project will include swimming and boating areas, a modern and well-equipped mess hall, and other facilities for the use of more than 7,000 scouts and 3,000 adult scouters in the Buffalo Trail Council.

Carter indicated in his release that an office for the campaign to be conducted over the Buffalo Trail area would be established immediately, but that any local organization activity would be withheld until United Fund and Community Chest solicitations in the council area were complete.

The Boy Scouts raise funds here through the Scurry County United Fund.

A meeting of District III of the Texas Library Association will be held Saturday at Abilene.

Librarians from Snyder and the surrounding area are expected at the meeting, where Thelma Andrews, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library at Abilene, will discuss the Beldon Report, "Attitudes of Texas Adults Toward Public Libraries."

Also on the program is a talk on recent trends in library development in Texas by Ray C. Janeway of the Texas Technological College Library at Lubbock, and a discussion on cooperative library services by Flora Reeves of the Tom Green County Library at San Angelo.

Mrs. Eva Nelson, high school librarian here, is state publicity chairman for the district.

New Bank To Be Organized

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP)—Organization of a new bank, to replace the defunct River Oaks State Bank, was in the making today.

Ralph Campbell has been named acting chairman of the board of the proposed institution.

He said today organizers include a majority of the directors of the River Oaks State Bank which failed Monday after examiners discovered shortages estimated at $300,000 to $700,000.

State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner said in Austin he would devote all his efforts to the organization of the new bank to serve the River Oaks area.

"There is a need for the bank there and we want to help all we can," said Falkner.

He reemphasized that directors working forward organization of the new bank had no knowledge of the River Oaks State Bank shortage until told about it last week end.

Warning Is Given To Poles By Khrushchev

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 20 (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev warned Polish Communist leaders he never would let them "sell this country to American imperialists," the Stockholm paper Expressen said today.

In a dispatch from Warsaw the paper's Berlin correspondent, D. M. Winter, said Khrushchev lost his temper during a meeting with the Polish party's Central Committee. He rose from his place and shouted, Winter wrote:

"I will show you what the way to socialism looks like. If you don't obey we will crush you. We are going to use force to kill all sorts of risings in this country. Russian soldiers were slain on this ground. We will never permit this country to be sold to the American imperialists."

False Alarm Turned In To Firemen Here

Firemen were called out about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon on what turned out to be a false alarm, firemen said.

A voice which sounded like the voice of a small girl reported a house afire at 2812 Avenue G, but when firemen arrived the residences of the house at that address knew nothing of a fire.

About 10:30 o'clock Friday night firemen were called to a car fire on the northeast corner of the square, but the fire had been put out before firemen arrived.

Four Die In House Blaze

GRAFTON, Ill., Oct. 20 (AP) — Flames trapped and burned to death three brothers and their sister today as they slept upstairs in their two-story frame home here. Valiant rescue attempts by neighbors went for naught.

Chief of Police Adam DeSherlia said the mother of the children, Mrs. Virginia Wahl, was awakened by smoke and ran screaming from the house.

Neighbors called the volunteer fire department and made three attempts to enter the burning home, but flames stopped them.

The dead: Irene, 11; Norbert Jr. 9; Homer, 8; and William, 12. The police chief said neighbors did not hear any of the children cry for help.

DeSherlia said Mrs. Wahl was suffering from shock and he hadn't been able to talk with her about the fire—the cause of which was not immediately known.

He Receives Quick Action

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP) — An anonymous phone caller rang the Houston Chronicle early today.

"Say mister, I'm looking for a quick ride to College Station for the TCU-A&M game. Can you help me out?"

A sportswriter answered "I'm sorry but I don't know of . . . .

The caller interrupted, "Look, I'm Carl Rose, line coach at TCU. I am stuck out here at the airport and need a ride to College Station bad. You see I scouted Miami last night and now I am lost for transportation."

He got quick results. Rose rode to the game with Chronicle sportswriter Jerry Ribnick.

Attempt To Defraud Bank Is Claimed

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP)—A group headed by Burton Ellis of Fort Worth were named in a suit filed today alleging they attempted to defraud the defunct River Oaks State Bank of more than $780,000.

The suit was filed in the name of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., federal agency which has taken over receivership of the bank that ollapsed Monday.

The agency alleged that Ellis "organized and perpetrated a vast, cunningly devised and entricate scheme of depositing and cashing checks" that amounted to more than seven million dollars from June to about Ot. 12.

The petition said the scheme consisted in large part of "kiting" checks.

Atwood McDonald filed the suit, saying more than $780,000 is owed River Oaks State Bank as a result of the scheme. His suit also named W. E. Johnson, Dallas attorney; H. S. Rose, Baylor County oil operator; R. E. Preissinger Jr. and James Critz.

The petition detailed liens and mortgages filed in Knox County which give the bank an interest in the oil and gas lease on a 480-acre tract.

Judge Jack Langdon was asked to issue a temporary injunctin preventing the defendants from disposing of any of their property.

The petition alleged that money from the bank was used to buy properties in Fort Worth and West Texas, some of it valuable oil land. The purchases include the 480-acre plee of the north central part of the Robert Wildins Survey in Knox County.

Also: Oil, gas and mineral leases on 107.5 acres in the Samuel Washburn Survey of Knox County. Oil and gas leases on 271.8 acres in the north area of the Samuel Washburn Survey. A total of 1,100 acres of land in Cameron County. Six lots in the Z. Boaz County Place Addition in Fort Worth. A lot in the Westcliff addition and two lots in Vernon.

Other purchases include corporation stocks and real and personal properties.

Boys Admit 2 Burglaries In Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Two shivering boys who disappeared from their homes in Kilgore were picked up wandering Houston's streets early today and they admitted two cafe burglaries.

The boys, stopped by patrolmen J. A. Price and J. D. Pullin, identified themselves as Billy McKissing, 14, of 604 Thompson, and David Johnson, 13, of 815 E. Couch. Both addresses are in Kilgore. Both are students at Kilgore Junion High School.

With teeth chattering in the damp early morning air, the boys, dressed in shabby clothes that they had apparently not changed since leaving home, told officers they've been living on candy, gum, and whatever they found in the two cafes they burglarized.

Soles of their feet showed through tattered socks and worn out shoe soles as they were led to the Harris County detention ward to await officers from Kilgore.

They told crime prevention officers that they got into Houston about four days ago and found themselves shelter in a vacant house at the edge of the downtown area.

They even stole a water can from a truck and had been using that for their water the boys said.

Production Of State Hatcheries Increases

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP) — Texas commercial hatcheries produced 8,025,000 chicks during September, 17 per cent above last year and 73 per cent above the 5-year average.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture also reported today that September egg production was 168 million, unchanged from a month earlier but 1 per cent above last year.

Guard Complains

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Officers of the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard have complained to police that prowlers keep entering the division motor compound and taking joy rides in jeeps. They said fenders and bumpers get crumpled and the batteries run down.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 7, NO. 149 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1956 SECTION B

Six of the members of the Teen-Agers, high school girl's vocal group, which sang several songs for the audience at the Oil Progress Week barbecue Tuesday night are pictured above in the "chow line." They are directed by Bob Clinton, music director for Snyder High School. The girls from left above are: Joy Richardson, Darla Dupree, Beth Wiman, Judy Broman, Sandra Boyd, and Mollie Carrell.

Oil Progress Week Highlight

Oil Progress Week's annual barbecue here attracted the attention of a large number of women of Snyder as well as the attention of men who are connected with the oil industry. Mrs. Jay R. Huckabee, left, and Mrs. Sam Head, were two of the interested listeners to the barbecue speaker, Cullen Akins, manager of William Cameron Co. at Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watson, left, and Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Autry, right, were two of the approximately 150 couples at the annual Oil Progress Week barbecue held Tuesday night in the Towle Park Exhibit Building. Autry is agent here for Magnolia Patroleum Co. products, and Watson operates Canyon Electric Co., which serves oilfield electrical needs.

Tuesday night's barbecue, a highlight of Oil Progress Week in Snyder, attracted several out-of-town visitors to Snyder. One of the women visitors who attended with her husband was Mrs. Earl Gilbert, left, of Roscoe. She and Mrs. Scott (Pat) Patterson, who lives in the Diamond M Building here, apparently enjoyed the barbecue dinner and program. Husbands of both women are employed by Diamond M Industries. 'Mahogany' Misused

The term "mahogany" is widely but erroneously used to denote a dark red and slightly purplish color. The true color of mahogany is the golden brown of well aged sherry. Today, mahogany may be finished in any color from shocking pink to blue mink.

Mrs. Robertson Kept Busy By Sewing And Crocheting

By KAYE POPE

Just walking into the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Robertson at the Sun Pipe Line camp southwest of Snyder., one would know at a glance there was someone living there with an artist's hand and mind.

Mrs. Robertson says her hobby is sewing and crocheting and from the many beautiful pieces of handwork throughout the home, many many hours has been spent on her hobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson have lived in Snyder for the past two years, being transfered here as station engineer from Beaumont where they had lived for six years. They have been with the Sun Co. for 25 years.

We asked Mrs. Robertson how long she had been sewing and she laughingly said "Oh, since I was about 12 years old. Back then we didn't have patterns so we just made them up. It is so much cheaper to do things yourself. The curtains, lamp shades, material for upholstering the chair and bed flounce in the picture just cost me about $35."

The curtains are made of a beautiful shade of blue in chrome spun taffeta, with a heavy thread scallop throughout. The edges were sewed in solid scallop stitch and then cut. Mrs. Robertson says she used her neighbor's new Brother machine for the edging. For the bedspread she used an old crocheted bedspread she had made some 20 years ago, over a coral pink with the flounce matching the curtains. She said, "the edges had worn out on the crocheted spread and I didn't want to throw it away so I figured out to use it this way".

The lamp in the corner was lined and in a shade of pink matching the color used under the crocheted spread.

The other bedroom displayed a pale pink crocheted bedspread that showed a perfect work of art. She also showed us a crocheted table cloth, made of No. 30 white thread, made in the Queen Ann lace pattern. There were also six full length crocheted window panels with the colonial man and woman in the lower portion.

Mrs. Robertson loves to sew and makes all her own clothes plus most of the kinfolks. "I do a little for some of my friends but strictly not for the public," she added.

Mrs. Robertson has a twin sister living in Tulsa, Okla. When asked if she liked to sew, also she laughed and said, "Oh no, she can't sew a stitch, but we are identical twins, and everything that happens to me happens to her."

Being quite interested in crocheting and sewing ourself, we could tell Mrs. Robertson is a specialist in her hobby.

With a pleasant personality and a continuous smile, we know she is not too absorbed in her hobby to visit with her neighbors, as there were several greeted the short while we were present.

Smart Bird Dunks His Bread Crumbs

MEMPHIS (AP) — Granville Farrar feeds most of the birds that hang around his house, but his favorite is a purple grackle with brains.

For the grackle he saves bread so stale it's like chunks of wood. The grackle simply takes the bread to the birdbath — and dunks it in the water until soft.

DATE DATA

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Are you an elbow clutcher? That's what I call the boy who latchs onto a girl's elbow or arm at her front door and doesn't let go, except briefly, until he brings her back upon the front porch at the date's end.

Every girl encounters an elbow clutcher at sometime in her dating life. Last week, after I had almost forgot they existed, I had the misfortune to date one. It was our first and last date!

Take a tip from me fellows; keep your hands to yourselves. Unless you are her hearthrob or she is a very cheap girl, she won't appreciate being pawed and handled all evening.

Girls are able bodied creatures who have been walking just fine since they were two years old. If your date doesn't have a sprained ankle and if you aren't walking through a hilly terrain at midnight, she doesn't need you to hold her up.

What is more irritating than spending the evening with a boy who persists in holding your elbow or your arm, and guiding you down a theatre or restaurant isle by clutching the belt of your dress or putting his hot hand on your waist? It's a pain in the neck, and this is from a girl's point of view fellows.

Frigid? Oh no I'm not! With the right fellow when the setting is right — well, we'll discuss that another time.

However when the pawing, clutching boy is not a big moment or a hearthrob, but simply an ordinary date for whom you entertain absolutely no special feeling, it simply bothers a girl to be pawed all evening.

When a boy takes every opportunity, in the name of good manners, to touch a girl, such as helping her up and down curbs by placing his arm about her waist, helping her out of the car by taking her hand instead of just holding the door etc, a girl soon becomes suspicious that his motives are not all they should be, and she may well become leery of future dates with him for fear she will have trouble fighting him off.

If you like the girl you may prove it in a hundred ways, but for goodness sake keep your hands to yourself.

("My Rate As A Date" is a free booklet for boys who want to check their dating I.Q. It's free. Get yours by writing me in care of this newspaper and enclosing a 3 cent stamp.)

GARDEN CLUB INSTRUCTORS—Mrs. D. S. Riley, left, and Mrs. John B. Knox, both of Big Spring and both past presidents of Big Spring Garden Clubs, were instructors in a garden club school here Thursday. The school was held in the auditorium of Martha Ann Culb house. (Lee Watson photograph)

Snyder Garden Club Holds Flower Workshop, Clinic

The Snyder Garden Club held a flower show workshop and clinic at the Martha Ann Clubhouse, Thursday Oct. 18, with Mrs. John Knox and Mrs. D. S. Riley conducting the workshop. Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Riley are junior national flower judges from Big Spring.

Before going into the demonstrations, Mrs. Knox reminded the club that good flower arrangements really begin with the growing, budding and staking of the flowers. When gathering the flowers keep in mind the colors desired. Making sure the smaller flowers are cut with very long stems and the larger ones with shorter stems. It is good, she added, to cut the stems with a slanting angle in order to give the plant more room for soaking up water. If a curned material is to be used it is good to cut a natural curne.

The flowers should be cut at least three or four hours before they are used so that they may have time to harden. It is good to leave them over night in deep water. All the material used should be well cleaned.

According to old masters, one bears in mind that flower arrangements are supposed to be pictures. Design plays a very important part in this picture. Line determines the design. Each arrangement has three types of material. Line material is anything that establishes a line, the skeleton of the arrangement. Form material maybe anything with color that forms a focal point. The filler material is that used to fill the space necessary to make the picture complete.

As Mrs. Riley lectured, Mrs. Knox went into the building of the arrangements.

The first arrangement was a composition for use in the dining room. Its form was a symetrical triangle. Dried wheat was used for the line and the form was of green foliage and yellow chrysanthemums, while the filler was chemena, a native shrub. The center of interest was fresh green grapes and quince. Balance was formed by the contrast of color.

The second arrangement was a composition for use on a desk in a den. It was a triangle or half fan made on a wooden tray. The line of the arrangement was cattails, built around a piece of driftwood. The filler used was native dock and yellow calendula with a few long red peppers. The point of interest was a caster bean leaf.

The third arrangement was a horizontal line arrangement for use on a coffee table, dining table or buffet. It was a "free" arrangement, or one which is good from all sides; built in low, oblong pottery bowl. The skeleton was of English ivy, while the filler was jacobs coat and the focal point, large short stemmed yellow dahlias, which gave a very pleasing aspect.

The arrangement for use in a bath room was modified hogarth line. Less than ten inches in size, it was placed in a glass container. Greenery with a graceful line and daisy chrysanthemums were used. Another small arrangement was of iris leaves and florabunda roses.

Mrs. Knox did one assymmetrical arrangement as developed by the Japanese depicting Heaven, Man and Earth. It is considered the most perfect form for flower arrangement. Four peace roses were used in a milk glass container. The filler was a dainty flowering foliage and the focal point a coleus leaf.

Perhaps the most interesting composition was a modified hogart curbe in a tan and brown jug. Native dry grass was used for the line. Dried thistles, locust pods and trumpet vine pods completed the picture.

Members from all three of Snyder's Garden Clubs were present for the workshop and flower clinic.

Curtains Of Terry Cloth

If your bathroom is looking a bit drab, you can change the pace of its decor in a jiffy with a sew-it-yourself shower curtain of patterned cotton terry cloth, edged with cotton fringe and backed with a separate plastic liner.

A terry cloth urtain can be sudsed in the washing machine just like a towel—and, if you don't have a drier, it can be hung back on the shower rod to dry. Firmly stretch the fringed edges and center seam so it will hang evenly when dry.

Here's how to make the curtain

Take six and a half yards of fabric, split it into two equal lengths, and stitch together lengthwise with a plain seam on the wrong side. Turn about a four-and-one-half-inch top hem over to the wrong side, and stitch a two-and-one-half-inch hem at the bottom.

Pin the cotton fringe in place a few inches down from the top of the curtain, along the draw side, and across the bottom hem. Then sew it in place by machine, using a double row of parallel stitches.

Cherry Slump, Squash Pie Are Favorites Of Stevenson

A cherry slump is not a pessimistic prediction of the market value of that tasty fruit. But it can be predicted that if Adlai Stevenson is elected President, the White House chef will be preparing cherry slumps at least 52 times a year. For this deep dish pie, filled with cherries, is among his favorite foods — and Stevenson has a healthy and knowledgable appreciation of food.

Five generations of closeness to the Illinois land and its traditions are reflected in Stevenson's preference for wholesome, simple foods. His tastes are rooted in generations of family "receipts" as well as his mother's oilclothed authority, "Mrs. Rohrer's Cookbook." As a youngster, his "fill was practically bottomless." Third helpings were routine to him and a constant source of apprehensive wonder to his family.

These days, for a summer's breakfast, Stevenson will have a bowl of shredded wheat covered with berries or peaches. This is only a little more sophisticated than his boyhood breakfasts of oatmeal, which sat simmering in a double boiler till morning on the back of the coal stove. Accompanying a winter's supper, chances are one will find tomatoes simmered in cream on the Stevenson menu. A summer's lunch might contain a large platter of fresh vegetables topped with a light butter sauce. During the family holidays, Thanksgiving and Christmas, his sister reports that Stevenson insists upon "carving the turkey at the table and likes to get all the little bits left on the carcass on Christmas night suppers." One can only ask — who doesn't?

Among Stevenson's favorites are a variety of vegetables and fish: watercress for salad, turnips diced and dotted with black pepper and butter. His appetite for vegetables is as extensive and colorful as the American crop: tomatoes, corn, eggplant, asparagus, beets, beans. His Springfield, Illinois, friends, knowing of his fondness for catfish, regularly brought this fish to the Governor's kitchen. His cook always served it with slaw. Other friends recall the zest with which he tackled planked white fish.

Stevenson has dismayed his sister many a time with a plaintive appeal for "simple desserts." If you were to ask him to be specific, he'd most likely reply, "cherry slump" or "hubbard squash pie." His first encounter with the squash pie was during the 1952 campaign. The chef on the campaign train, W. Banks, prepared this especially for Gov. Stevenson and his staff.

Stevenson's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Ives, reports that her brother "always has a large appetite and he is very apt to make comment on the dishes he sees before him. He's one of the men who would regret the day when food is prepared in capsules."

Predicting that the day is far, far away when cherry slump or hubbard squash pie can be concentrated in capsules, Mrs. Ives, a skilled and gracious hostess, has submitted the two recipes of her brother's desserts.

CHERRY SLUMP

Make a soft dough by sifting together
1 cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup shortening (Crisco)

Moisten with ½ cup milk, or more if needed.

Wash and pit one quart of cherries or more to fill the baking dish.

Mix into the cherries
1¼ cup sugar
2½ tablespoons flour (if corn starch is used, a little less)
¼ teaspoon salt

Mix this all together in the baking dish and then drop the dough over it by the spoonful.

Bake in a 350 degree oven until the juice bubbles and the crust becomes a golden brown.

HUBBARD SQUASH PIE

Steam 1 lb. Hubbard squash; put through fine strainer.

Blend:
¼ cup butter
¼ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon ginger
½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon powdered sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 pint scalded milk
3 eggs

Add to cooked squash. Pour in milk. Add pinch of salt and blend. Fill one unbaked pie shell and bake in oven, 350 degrees for one hour. Top with whipped cream. Nine inch pie shell serves seven.

Small Fry Likes To Be The Winner

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

FOUR-YEAR OLD CHRIS and six-year old Larry were playing on the long front porch of their home. The game at the moment was racing the length of the porch, turning at the far end and racing back. The winner obviously covered the ground in the shortest time. Larry, being two years his brother's senior, always won. Chris accepted this for a few runs, then instead going the full length of the porch, he turned about midway and managed to come in ahead of his brother. This made Larry furious.

"You cheated!" he yelled, and gave Chris a punch that sent him sprawling and brought mother to the scene.

"He's a dirty cheat," declared to Larry to his mother.

"But I like to win, too," said Christ. His tears were dry now and he was ready to punch his brother back.

Mother smiled to herself. Chris' methods were certainly direct. She couldn't condone cheating, but she knew she could never make Chris understand that cheating was wrong. So she said:

"Larry surely is a fast runner, isn't he? How would you boys like to help make beds this morning? You can make waves with the sheets on Mommy's bed."

The storm — that particular storm — was over.

You just can't expect a four-year-old to play a game by the rules if he always loses. It's up to the adults to see to it that he is not put in that position. At four a game is to win, and he will change the rules in midstream to bring about the desired end. The four-year-old doesn't much mind if his opponent changes the rules too. In other words, competitive games with strict rules are beyond the comprehension of four-year-olds.

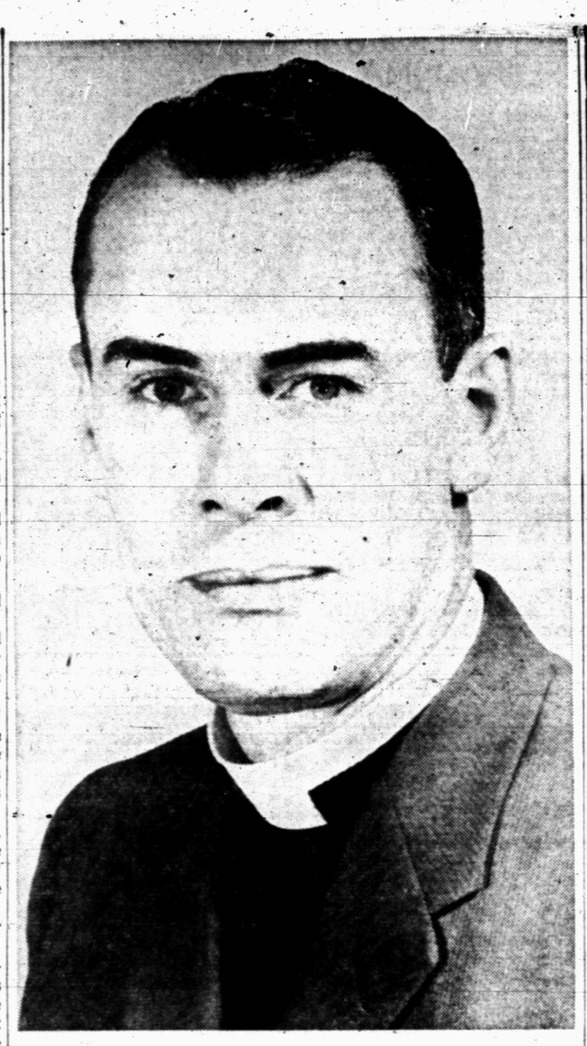

At six, Larry was distressed because Chris cheated. Larry himself was not at all above cheating when he was pitted against awinning adversary, but he was beginning to learn that rules should be observed.

Cheating is normal in the young years. It takes a long time for a child to be able to lose. Slowly and little by little he learns that it's fun to play the game and that you must lose some of the time.

Don't be too upset if your little child cheats. Try to protect him from many bad experiences, let him know that when he is older he will be able to play honestly by the rules, but don't punish him for behavior that is pretty normal for his age.

Most children are close to ten before they can bear to lose without cheating.

Last year windstorms caused 814 million dollars in damage, and resulted in the death of 400 persons.

CLAM CHOWDER-FISH OVEN DISH

Canned soups can add lots of variety to your main dishes. This recipe depends on a can of clam chowder to expertly season the fish-rice casserole.

The fish is first breaded in dry bread crumbs, then baked at 500F. for 10 minutes. What a deliciously brown crust and such succulent, juicy fish! But none of the juices from the fish are lost because underneath all is fluffy tender rice.

CLAM CHOWDER-FISH OVEN DISH

INGREDIENTS:
1 cup uncooked white rice
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups water
1, 10½ oz. can clam chowder soup
1-3 cup water
About 2 tablespoons milk
1 lb. white fish fillets, fresh or frozen (thawed)
1 cup dry white bread crumbs (do not use crusts)
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

METHOD: Put the rice, salt and water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat for 14 minutes. After the rice cooks, remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

After the rice cooks, spread it over a well-greased baking dish about 7" x 12" x 2". Spoon the clam chowder over the rice. Pour on the water. Cut the fish fillets into serving pieces. Dip in milk. Coat well with the bread crumbs. Arrange over the rice-soup mixture. Pour the melted butter or margarine over the breaded fish. Place uncovered in a pre-heated 500F. oven for 10 minutes or until the fish flakes easily and the crumbs are browned.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Comeback Made By Little Theater At Port Arthur

By MARSHALL COMERER
Associated Press Staff

The Port Arthur Little Theater, its building destroyed in a fire last July, started a strong comeback last week.

Its production was "Time of Cuckoo," presented in the Knights of Columbus hall, loaned to the group until it can find or build a new home.

The concensus of critics and the audience was that the experimental arena style was a great success and that Port Arthur's little theater has "the personnel, the vigor and the know-how to overcome" the blow dealt by the fire.

The season's opener of the Beaumont Community Theater, Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate," was called "pleasant" but short of the inspired performance of "Finian's Rainbow," which set a standard when the group produced it last spring.

Singled out for high praise were Bill McDermand, the lead, and Ann Basco, who joined the cast at the last minute when another member of the cast became ill.

The Margo Jones Theater '56 in Dallas opens its season Nov. 6 with "Stalin Allee," a farce laid in East Berlin.

The theater plans a season of 30 weeks with seven new scripts and one classic revival.

Theater '56 will present a guest appearance by Henry Daniell, the villain of stage and screen, in the leading role of "The Tin Cup," a new murder mystery which he plans to play on Broadway. It opens Jan. 29.

Openings this week include:

The Corpus Christi Symphony Orchestra Monday with pianist James Gregory as soloist. He will play Liszt's Concert 2 in A Major.

On Thursday Houston's Alley Theater opens its fifth week of "Sabrina Fair" and the TCU Little Theater season opens with "Born Yesterday," the farce by Garson Kanin.

The Midland Symphony will give its first concert Saturday night.

The Wichita Falls Symphony has scheduled its first major concert Nov. 5. Marjorie Lawrence will be soloist.

Local Student In Play Cast At ACC

Douglas Scott Smith, Abilene Chiristian College freshman from Snyder, is slated to appear in a three act comedy production Thursday through Saturday at Abilene Christian College.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Smith and is a 1956 graduate of Snyder High School. He will appear in the Moss Hart and George Kaufman's "George Washington Slept Here," which is the major fall production of the ACC drama department.

The play will be presented in Sewell Auditorium on the campus of the college. The comedy, with a cast of 17, is directed by Miss Gaylan Collier, assistant speech professor.

Little Guys And Dolls Make Big Hit

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20 (AP)—The little guys and dolls are trying to stretch up into the big time with help from tall people.

The long and short of it is: the American Affiliation of Tall Clubs is sponsoring a nationwide campaign to organize clubs of little people.

Sparkplug of the drive is the Little Guys and Dolls of California which thinks it's the first club limited exclusively to the little fellow. Maximum heights for club members are 5 feet 6 for men and 5 feet 2 for women, a far cry from tall club members who tower over six feet.

The strange Mutt and Jeff relationship seems quite logical to Albert J. Addy, chunky little 27-year-old San Francisco mail carrier and the driving force of the little guys.

Both the talls and shorts have the same basic problems—physical inconvenience because most things are made to fit the height of the average person, and social discomfiture because they are the wrong height for the multitude. The clubs, both the big ones and the little ones, are aimed at solving these problems.

As a mail carrier, 5-foot-2 Addy works alongside 6-foot-3 Bill Cook. That's been something of a pain in the neck to Addy, he spends so much time looking up at his friend.

When Cook was elected president last year of the San Francisco Tip Toppers (Six-foot women and 6-foot-3 men), Addy decided the little people should have a club of their own too.

Cook thought it was a fine idea. He and other Tip Toppers helped Addy organize the Little Guys and Dolls of California in August 1955. The little guys now number 100 members in half a dozen San Francisco Bay area cities. In their heavy social program, twice a year they sandwich in a joint party with the tip toppers.

The tall people became national sponsors of the little fellows as a result of speeches Addy made to their international convention last July in Vancouver, B.C. He went to talk of his dream at the invitation of Don Koncak of Kansas City, Mo., then president of the American Affiliation of all Clubs.

Addy says it's a natural alliance—"all tall people have very short friends."

Inquiries poured in from as far away as Virginia.

In preparation for what he envisages as a vigorous national campaign — "with talks and pictures in the paper" — Addy trimmed his 210 pounds to a comparatively svelt 178. He even stopped sampling ice cream—"I love the stuff"—at the neighborhood ice cream parlor where he works four hours a night after finishing his mail route.

He spends his spare time writing letters to spread the gospel of the little guys.

Rooney Says TV Helps

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mickey Rooney takes sharp issue with Clark Gable, Judy Garland and other stars who have objected to the showing of their old movies on TV.

The release of the huge studio backlogs, especially those of MGM has brought strong protest from some stars who complain that frequent appearances on TV hurt them as film stars; that they may be competing with themselves on TV; and that they get no money from film showings.

The irrepressible Mick doesn't go along with the mourners. He asks, "how can you have too much exposure? I don't see how those old pictures can hurt me. In fact, I think they ought to help me."

As for the money involved, Mickey philosophized: "You can't get any of it, so why worry?"

A new "autibritn plan" on British railways enables passengers to transport their automobiles on the same train on which they are traveling.

Independent TV Station Gains Rating With Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The big news in local TV this week was the globbering an independent station, KTTV, gave the networks with the first of its MGM pictures, "30 Seconds Over Tokyo."

The station snagged almost double the ratings of the three network channels during the two and a half of the 1944 movie.

This no doubt caused consternation among the networks. Certainly there was jubilation at KTTV.

"The results far exceeded our hopes," said KTTV boss Richard A. Moore. "We are delighted."

He added that the rating victory offers hope for the independent stations to compete with the networks, adding:

"Naturally it is hard for us to compete with entertainment shows. We can't afford to pay Ed Sullivan $100,000 a week for only one market. The networks can pay him that for many markets.

"But these movies can put us in a competitive position, as the ratings proved."

Moore pooh-poohed network fears that the influx of old movies will curtail creativity in TV.

"On the contrary," he said, "I think it will force the networks to create better shows.

"Faced with the competition of our movies, they must come up with more imaginative programming. There must be something wrong when they lose 80 per cent of their audience in one week."

KTTV, which is owned by the Chandler newspaper interests, acquired the MGM library for 4 million dollars on a seven-year lease. In addition, it sold the studio a quarter interest in KTTV.

Moore estimated that only about 20 of the 725 films are unusable. They date from sound to 1948. Two hundred of the best films have been reserved for the Friday night at 8 blue-ribbon showings. The others are being expended five times a week at 10:15 p.m.

Last Witness For NAACP Scheduled

TYLER, Oct. 20 (AP)—The NAACP's last witness begins testifying Monday in an effort to keep the state from padlocking NAACP offices in Texas.

He is the NAACP regional attorney, Simpson Tate, a precise Dallas Lawyer.

"We're going to ask Tate a lot of questions," Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said. He indicated that he expected the hearing to last until the middle of the week at least. It has been droning on for four weeks.

Dist. Judge Otis Dunagan, a slow talking East Texan with a droll sense of humor, is expected to rule almost at once on the state's request that a temporary restraining order against the NAACP be made permanent.

Whatever the ruling, it is expected to be appealed.

"This is the most important case we have had to fight against the actual operation of the NAACP and we simply will have to appeal it if we lose," said Thurgood Marshall, chief NAACP lawyer.

Marshall, 48, who rattles off legal phrases with a Brooklyn accent, was a witness the past week. Numerous times Dunagan, sometimes silently shaking with laughter, rapped for order as Marshall's quips triggered laughter from attorneys and the courtroom crowd.

He answered quickly and fluently any question asked him by Asst. Atty. Gen. Davis Grant. Several times other NAACP attorneys had to stop Marshall so they could object to a question that he was already answering.

"Let's let him go ahead," the judge ruled once. "I want to hear the rest of this story."

Marshall's facial contortions and ready wit were almost matched in a different manner by Ray Wilkins, 55, chief administrative officer of the NAACP. In a deep resonant voice the former Kansas City newspaperman explained the workings of the NAACP and of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Funds, Inc.

Grant asked if Wilkins and Marshall worked together closely as head of the two organizations.

"Well, we usually try to settle our disagreements in private before they are made public," Wilkins said. Marshall laughed uproariously.

Grant kept pressing Wilkins on financial procedures of the NAACP. Finally, the slender mustached executive said in clipped Oxonian accents:

"To put it simply, we're sort of like some churches I know. Every time a group of us get together, someone takes up a collection."

Both Marshall and Wilkins were serious and stern in denying state's charges that the NAACP had illegally solicited integration law suits and that the NAACP was a profit making organization which had dabbled in Texas politics.

Neither mentioned the NAACP counter charges that much of the state's evidence was gathered illegally from persons involved in federal integration suits by investigators accompanied by armed officers.

Bond Money On Projects Tightening

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP)—Bond money for the state water projects is tightening because "we have been dry in Texas so long and have made so much noise about it," a speaker at the Texas Water Conservation Assn., convention said today.

W. E. Tinsley, executive director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Austin, said the time is past when investors bought water bonds on the premise that water is essential to man's existance and therefore he is sure to pay for it.

Tinsley pointed out that revenue bonds are easier carried in an election since no property taxes are involved.

"Revenue bonds are good bonds only as long as the encumbered public facility produces sufficient revenue to pay operation and maintenance costs and has plenty left over for debt charges," Tinsley added.

Investors are becoming more wary of Texas' bonds, the speaker continued, and are beginning to be very careful in putting up their money.

About 100 representatives of school music departments in this area attended the workshop. (Lee Watson photograph)

The torsion - bar suspension is adapted to the front end. Headlights are set in massive chrome cylinders beneath canopies projecting from the fender. Parking lights are recessed between split bars of the wraparound front bumper.

Rear fenders emphiasze the tail fin motif. Curved side glass follows the sculputured lines of the body. The rear deck slopes sharply to the bumper between rear tail fins canted outward to emphasize width. Large openings in the wraparound rear bumper house recessed backup lights. Gunsight taillights are molded into rear fenders.

A new larger hemishperical combustion chamber is a feature of the more powerful engines in all four series. Engineering refinements include also three-speed pushbutton Torque - Flite drive, standard on all series.

The four series of cars are the Imperial, the Imperial Crown, the Imperial LeBaron and the Imperial Limosine.

COMMENT FROM RUSSIA:

H-Bomb Testing Discussed

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, commenting on the American presidential election campaign, said today sentiment was growing in the United States for suspending hydrogen bomb tests.

Moscow radio broadcast excerpts from the Izvestia article saying:

"The proposal to prohibit the tests has been turned into an election slogan by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate.

"It would be an error not to take into account, when appraising these statements — tactical considerations connected with the election struggle irrespective of the reasons which prompt the Democrats to promise to secure prohibition of the tests and the Republicans to oppose the prohibition— the very existence of the polemics reflects changes in American public opinion. The American public is demanding with increasing persistence the prohibition of tests and official statements, including those from the White House, cannot expunge this question from the political agenda in the U. S. A.

"The maneuvers of the adversaries of the prohibition of the tests, however, are designed not only to impress the American public but also to reduce, albiet to a small extent, the sharp criticism in other countries of the attitude adopted by Washington.

"The Soviet proposal to conclude without delay an agreement between the three powers — U. S. S. R., U. S. A. and Britain— on the immediate suspension of all tests is meeting with the growing sympathy and support of all the peoples of the world.

"Apart from the Soviet Union, the proposal to prohibit the tests is supported by the governments of all the Socialist countries, by India and Japan, by wide sections of the public in West and East.

"All mankind demands the suspension of atom and hydrogen bomb explosions. Yet the official American circles churn out their old tune about the impossibility of suspending the tests until the great powers reach 'agreement' on all controversial questions. The facts demonstrate that even within America itself these false arguments are no longer believed."

Road Work Slowed

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP) — Work on the Fort Worth - Dallas toll road was slowed today for the third day as pickets from two unions walked at the work site near Arlington. The Operating Engineers and Teamsters unions are demanding higher wages, better working conditions and recognition.

Increase In Employment Is Reported

ABILENE, Oct. 20 (AP)—West Texas manufacturing employment has increased 39 per cent in 5 years, the publication West Texas said today.

Non-farm employment in the area has increased 20 per cent in the same period, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce publication added.

Factory employment in 1955 was 132,122 and non-farm employment at 856,300.

Factory employment in Tom Green County (San Angelo) increased 104 per cent to 2,050, the best percentage gain among the 132 counties in the West Texas area. El Paso had an 80 per cent increase to 12,326 factory workers.

The most populous county, Tarrant (Fort Worth), had a 41 per cent gain to 57,200.

Other gains were Potter-Randall (Amarillo), 43 per cent to 5,207; Taylor (Abilene), 35 per cent to 3,200; McLennan (Waco) 29 per cent to 9,768; Wichita 18 per cent to 3,491 and Hutchinson (Borger), an increase to 4,150.

School Law To Be Tested

CALIFORNIA, Mo. Oct. 20 (AP)— A test of Missouri's compulsory school attendance law is headed for the Circuit Court because Mrs. Mary L. Schoneheit wouldn't give up her fight against formal education for her 7-year-old daughter Mary.

With the volunteered help of a St. Louis attorney, she has appealed a Magistrate Court order that she put Mary in public school by Monday or serve out a 10-day jail sentence and pay a $5 fine.

W. G. Heidbreder, Moniteau County magistrate, sentenced her Wednesday after he found the former school teacher had refused to school. Mrs. Schoenheit argued that public schools just turn youngsters into "trained seals." She said she was given her daughter "substantially equivalent" instruction at home.

Mrs. Schoenheit went to jail, but a few hours later was released on her promise to put Mary in school.

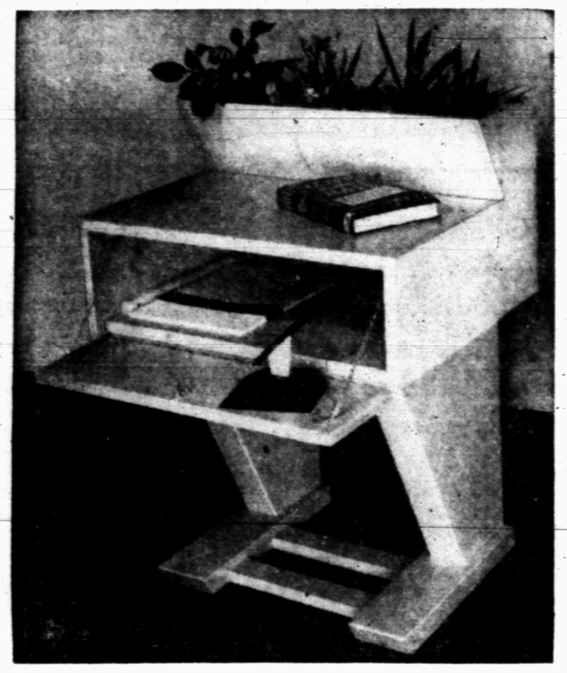

Late Thursday, Ward Driscoll of St. Louis called Mrs. Schoenheit to offer his help as an attorney and they decided yesterday on the appeal.

Woman Crushed To Death In Elevator

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A 24-year-old woman medical student was crushed to death by an elevator in General Hospital as eight persons on the elevator watched, unable to help.

One witness said he grabbed for Mary Ann Logan in an attempt to save her but "she just went out of reach."

Miss Logan had her right foot and head inside the elevator when it started up without warning, witnesses said.

FUNCTIONAL UNIT

MODERN PLANTER DESK 'GOOD NOVICE PROJECT

By BILL BAKER

How about a handsome planter desk for your home? One that you build yourself? I've got just the one for you!

Smart, modern lines make this desk both a thing of beauty for your home and a functional unit. Worth well over a hundred dollars, you'll be able to build a copy for your favorite room for only a few dollars.

The desk features a deep storage area behind a drop-front door which is secured by chains. A wide writing surface is included, along with a unique planter box to add elegance.

And, in keeping with modern times and small rooms, your lovely planter desk will do more than one job. It can be used as an end table in your living room or a hall table. You'll find the right spot for the desk, I'm sure.

Wrought iron legs or wooden legs can be used on the finished desk. Here you'll be able to choose the "look" that best suits your home.

My pattern package 103 will give you the expensive desk on a do-it-yourself basis. Like all patterns in this series, exact-size pattern pieces — much like a woman's dress pattern — are included. You can't go wrong in the workshop with this method.

Included, too, you'll find easy-to-understand directions, a full material list, assembly and finishing suggestions. The whole building story is included.

Your planter desk pattern package will be on the way to you when you send only one dollar ($1) in check, cash or money order, together with your name and address (very clearly printed), to Bill Baker, Snyder Daily News, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California. Be sure to ask for pattern package 103.
