Ex-Convict Musica-Coster May Have Financed War Over Gran Chaco

Stockholders Might Lose 20 Millions

Illicit Deals In Gun-Running And Liquor Suspected

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Investigation of the notorious Musica brothers' biggest and most elaborate swindle, involving millions of dollars of McKesson and Robbins assets, extended to all parts of the globe today with emphasis on reported shipments of arms and ammunition to foreign powers.

Gregory F. Noonan, acting U. S. attorney, said he felt confident federal authorities would develop "conclusive proof" of the head of the Musica family—Philip Musica—who called himself P. Donald Coster and became president of the $87,000,000 drug corporation—was actually exporting war materials on a large scale.

Like Ivar Krueger, the Swedish match king, and Steve Stavisky, the French arch-swindler, Coster-Musica—it became increasingly clear today—was no piker. If he made the beginnings of his fortune, as federal authorities believe, in illicit alcohol during prohibition, he quickly shifted to bigger things.

Gun-running and even possibility the respected head of the great drug corporation even financed the three-year war between Bolivia and Paraguay over the Gran Chaco were regarded tonight as likely activities for Coster-Musica.

Noonan said an important conference would be held Monday among representatives of all federal law enforcement agencies to draft a "refined plan of coordination for their multiple activities in the future."

To Discuss Tangle. Gun-running, liquor shipments, Coster-Musica's political connections, his possible dealings in narcotics and the vast financial tangle he left behind when he sent a bullet into his brain will be discussed.

So extensive were his labyrinthine affairs that federal as well as state investigators believed they had only begun to remove the numerous layers of the scandal. More than 150

Additional Men Put On Payrolls In Oil Field

Two or three more companies in this section of the Panhandle oil field placed additional men on their payrolls during the week, it was learned here yesterday. One company put back to work most of its employees retired early in the summer.

The winter months are usually the most inactive in the oilfield but this fall activity has been favorable despite the fact that the summer was not as busy as the last couple of years.

Pampa merchants report excellent Christmas business. There is a slight oilfield activity is brisk. Several stores added employees during the week as shoppers decided to buy early and avoid the late rush.

Setting Of Pipe In Well Here Finished

Setting of pipe in the city's new water well, one of two to be drilled as part of a $250,000 extension program, has been completed and pumps and other necessary machinery will be installed later, according to C. C. Saner, resident engineer inspector of the PWA from which organization the city received a grant for the project. The well was drilled by D. L. McDonald of Amarillo.

The Sherman Machine & Iron Works of Oklahoma City has received one carload of fire hydrants and three carloads of pipe are expected to arrive within the next few days and installation of mains is scheduled to begin before the new year.

Additional storage will be built and large and more main water lines laid in the program.

Scouts Will Serve At Laymen's Meeting

All men are urged to attend Central Baptist Brotherhood meeting, which will be at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, Dec. 19, at the church. Sandwiches, cake, pie and coffee, prepared and furnished by the Scout mothers, will be served by the Boy Scouts of troop No. 24 which is sponsored by Central Baptist. Ray Riley, assisted by his group, will have charge of the program that follows immediately after the meal.

Ranchman Has Boots Repaired and Wears Wife's High Heels

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 17 (AP)—Out here in West Texas where cowboy boots are common footgear many a rugged ranchman is uncomfortable in any shoes other than the high-heels he has worn since childhood.

That's why Commissioner Jake Harper created a mild sensation when he swung his feet up on a table at a meeting of the county court.

"You see, boys," he explained, "I had to have my only pair of boots worked on; I didn't have any more handy; so I borrowed these high-heeled shoes from my wife."

Children Making Things At WPA Craft Shop Here

Twenty-five Pampa children, ranging in age from 6 to 15, are now making book-ends, toy airplanes, picture frames, and broom racks at the Pampa craft shop, located at the city water wells, adjacent to the warehouse.

A dozen children frequent the place after school each day and twice that number on Saturdays. The shop is open every day of the week, except Sunday, from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Both boys and girls are making use of the craft shop, which is directed by Wesley D. Pate as a part of Pampa's WPA recreation project, of which Mrs. Rosemary Roach is project superintendent.

Mrs. Roach said Saturday she had been informed that the carpenters' union of Pampa were considering a plan to have one of their members on duty at the shop in the evenings, after Christmas, to give instruction to students.

A sign eight feet long and three feet wide, was put up over the shop Saturday afternoon. The sign reads "Pampa Craft Shop" in black letters with orange shading.

Tool Company Here Will Be Enlarged

L. A. Moore yesterday took out a building permit for a 50 by 60-foot brick and sheet iron building to be constructed on two lots at the corner of Brown avenue and Houston street. It will house an ice plant, Mr. Moore stated. The building will cost $2,000.

O. Boyington, local contractor, took out a $3,000 permit for enlargement of the Baash-Ross Tool Company on West Brown avenue. P. m. to date total $467,300.

If It Does Not Seem Like Christmas, See Messiah Monday Night

If you are complaining you don't have that elusive thing called the "Christmas spirit," and are worried lest you won't get it this year, the thing to do is to attend The Messiah Monday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

If that doesn't turn the trick—buy it will. It has been engineering Christmas spirit for 200 years. The singing of Handel's famous oratorio, Scripture selections set to music, tomorrow night gives promise of reaching a new peak of perfection and inspiration.

Never before has the Messiah been rehearsed so long and so carefully; nearly every one of the 100 singers has sung in presentations of the oratorio in previous years here. The Amarillo civic chorus orchestra and Mrs. May Foreman at the piano will provide the accompaniment.

Lester Aldrich will conduct. Emil Myers of Amarillo, first to present the Messiah in the Panhandle, will be a guest singer. Mr. Aldrich will, as he did last year, invite Mr. Myers to conduct the famous Hallelujah chorus which ends the Messiah.

Radio station KPDM will broadcast the entire performance, having received special permission to remain on the air to broadcast the Messiah.

Mr. Aldrich is confident that the singing tomorrow night will excel any previous presentations here. There will be no charge for admission but an offering will be taken during intermission. This will be donated to charity after a few expenses have been deducted.

Invocation will be delivered by the Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor of the First Methodist church, and the benediction by the Rev. John Mullen, pastor of the First Christian church.

The following solos and choruses will be sung:

Recitative, tenor, "Comfort Ye, My People," Wendell Henry.

Air, tenor, "Every Valley Shall Be Exalted," Emil Myers.

Amarillo Singers To Sing Prayers At Courthouse

A unique service of the Catholic church, a Christmas Novena, will be presented in Pampa twice today. The first presentation will be over KPDM at 5 o'clock, and the second at the courthouse lawn at 8 o'clock.

The Novena, made up of the prophecies and psalms of the old Testament and set to the music of the ancient Gregorian chant will be sung by the combined choirs of Price Memorial college and St. Mary's Academy.

Father T. J. Drury of Amarillo's Catholic cathedral who is in charge of the Novena, in its entirety a nine-day prayer, will explain the Novena in preliminary remarks before the singing begins. The broadcast of the Novena over KPDM will continue until 5:45 o'clock. The public is invited to listen in to this program, and to attend the Novena services later.

The Novena in Amarillo opened Thursday night and will continue for nine days. "Novena" takes its name from the Latin word meaning "nine." Father Drury yesterday in commenting on the Novena to be given here said:

"There is no better way to prepare for the beautiful feast of Christmas and to enjoy its true

Plains Sweet Gas Allowable Prorated

AUSTIN, Dec. 17 (AP)—Based on the principle of minimizing drainage from one producing property to another a prospective railroad commission order setting a daily allowable production of 545,543 cubic feet for part of the West Panhandle sweet gas area appeared today.

It bore only the signature of Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman, and the name of one other member was necessary.

Should it be adopted it would be the first time in approximately three years the area's production has been prorate. Previous orders have been voided in court tests.

The order would divide the West Panhandle into two zones, zone 1 comprising the north portion and zone 2 the south portion.

The limitation, which would be effective Jan. 1, applies only to zone 1. Thompson explaining the production of zone 2 would remain the same as under proration due to physical conditions and other factors.

Wilson Ouster Petition Hits Dead-End Snag

Time And Legal Barriers Block Action In Court

Because of legal technicalities and the barrier of time, the ouster case filed last week against Miss Miriam Wilson, of Pampa, seeking her removal from office, was on a dead-end street Saturday night.

Judge W. R. Ewing, of 31st judicial district court, declared Saturday afternoon no further procedure can be taken in the case during Miss Wilson's present term of office which ends a week from next Saturday night.

The ouster case, the judge held, cannot possibly be heard until the next term of court which does not open until Jan. 2. By that time Miss Wilson's present term will have expired, and it has been previously stated that an officer cannot be removed from office for an offense committed in a previous term of office.

Judge Ewing indicated that this automatically blocks any procedure being taken in this term of court and aimed at the removal of Miss Wilson from the clerk's office.

New Procedure Necessary. A charge of embezzlement in connection with the alleged conversion of court funds to her personal use still stands against Miss Wilson in the court of E. F. Young, justice of the peace.

Argentine Youths Fight 'Perils Of Yankee Imperialism'

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 17 (AP)—Hundreds of boys of high school and college age have set themselves the task of arousing Argentina's 12,000,000 people to "the perils of Yankee imperialism."

They are backed by Fascistic higher-ups and are trained in the gestures of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany and Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy.

Their placards on street corners warn Argentina that President Roosevelt's good neighbor policy is "a farce" and "a blind," and despite police bans, they attempt to hold meetings in the broad squares of Buenos Aires.

Their placards against the United States are banded together in the "Nationalist Youth Alliance," fledgling of the "Argentine Civic Legion."

The latter is a brown-shirt movement founded by the late General Jose Felix Uriburu, who ruled the country as a military dictator from 1930 to 1932.

Its youthful offshoot is credited by opponents with less than the 500 to 600 members its claims to have, but the Youth Alliance makes considerable noise in Buenos Aires and often is in conflict with other youths who hold meetings of protest against totalitarian regimes of Europe.

One of the activities of the latter is to tear down posters against "Yankee imperialism" as fast as they are posted up by the Youth Alliance.

Scrap Iron Ship Picketed by 2,300 Chinese Children

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17 (AP)—Indignant Chinatown sent 2,300 of its school children to the waterfront today to form picket lines which again stopped loading of the Greek freighter Spyros with scrap iron destined for Japan.

Upwards of 500 adults, many of them Chinese, others of Greek ancestry and still others sympathetic to the Chinese cause, formed the picket lines.

CIO longshoremen, who had been loading the ship, refused for the second successive day to pass through the picket lines. Three Chinese members of the ship's crew quit their jobs.

The Chinese objected on the ground that the iron would go into bombs to kill their countrymen.

Kiddies Asked To Get Tickets To Xmas Tree

All underprivileged children in Pampa 12 years and under will receive gifts at the Community Christmas tree in the city hall auditorium Thursday night at 7 o'clock providing they have a ticket.

The tickets may be secured at the office of Mrs. Willie Baines, county case worker, with office on the third floor of the courthouse. Parents are urged to secure tickets at once so that there will be sure to be enough gifts for everyone.

A large Christmas tree has been donated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It will be trimmed by club women. Invocation will be given by the Rev. Robert Boshen. A brief Christmas program will be presented by Kathryn Steele.

Hundreds of gifts are now available for the tree but more are needed. They may be taken to the fire station or to Mrs. Baines or Mrs. W. H. Davis of the Red Cross, with office in the basement of the city hall.

Neath Condition Still Unchanged

Condition of Howard Neath, critically burned when his home at the Humble Oil & Refining Company camp three miles west of Pampa was destroyed by fire late Thursday night, remained unchanged at Worley hospital early Sunday morning.

Attending physicians reported that he was holding his own but showing no improvement.

Mrs. Neath was suffering less from burns than from a foot and ankle injury received when she jumped from a bathroom window. Blood vessels in the foot were punctured in the fall.

Also doing nicely was Mary Lou Neath, 7, although she received severe burns about the face and neck.

Mrs. Neath's mother and brothers, J. A. Neath of Houston and A. M. Neath of Longview, arrived in Pampa Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Neath and daughter were asleep in the front of the house. The fire had practically gutted the living room before being discovered. Mr. Neath and Nancy Lou were burned when the child rushed into the room and her father rescued her. They were trapped in the room and had to break a window to escape.

The house was nearly destroyed before the Pampa fire department arrived.

Rumanian Baptist Pastors Arrested

BUCHAREST, Dec. 17 (AP)—The arrest of an untested number of Baptist clergymen and closing of some Baptist churches was disclosed today by the Rumanian ministry of popular culture.

A ministry spokesman emphasized the clergymen were not arrested on account of their religious attitude, but in most instances for refusal to comply with civil laws for the regulation of all churches except the official Rumanian Orthodox church.

Lulu Ruth Bogue Wins Grand Prize In News Contest

Lulu Ruth Bogue, 13 years of age, 215 North Gillespie street, was picked by the judges Saturday as winner of the grand prize $5 certificate in the four-week Bobby's Christmas dream coloring contest conducted by The Pampa News.

The final week prize winners were selected as follows:

First—Lynn Osborne, 11, who gave his address as five miles south of Pampa.

Second—Laverne Dykes, 10, Gen. Del., Pampa.

Third—Erlan Eller, 13, of 415 North Frost street, Pampa.

Because of insufficient address, the second prize of a $1 certificate will be held at The Pampa News until called for by Laverne Dykes.

Second and third prizes for the weekly contest certificates are for 75 cents and 50 cents. These will be mailed to the winners Monday.

The certificates are good at the store of any Pampa News purchaser. They must be cashed this week.

More than 1,000 entries were received from children under 14 years of age.

Doctor To Study Spark Of Life In Guatemalan Anteater, Armadillo

By H. C. MCKINLEY
CLEVELAND, Dec. 17 (AP)—A quest for the explanation of a spark of life which he saw flicker out in a medical student 51 years ago today lured Dr. George W. Crile, eminent Cleveland surgeon, toward Guatemala.

In 1887, the day I became an intern, William Lyndman, a healthy young student, was brought into the hospital in a state of profound shock, both legs crushed by the wheels of a street car," Dr. Crile writes in his last-published book, "Phenomena of Life."

Intern Crile administered chloroform, while a surgeon performed an amputation at the thigh.

But the patient died from "shock."

Yet almost still flickering was his life, as young Crile looked at the organs and tissues during post-mortem. All were normal in structure.

"What was it that this young medical student possessed up to the moment of his accident that he lost by reason of the crushing of his limbs—without material loss of blood?" That was Crile's question.

He has part of the answer. It is energy. This trip to Guatemala is to study a peculiar, slow-motion type of energy, that of the

2 Daughters Hacked With Ax On Farm

Officers Fear Man Slew Girl After Shooting Parents

MILES, Dec. 17 (AP)—Sheriff E. E. Lowe tonight charged Frank Salazar, 24-year-old Mexican laborer, had killed a farm couple and hacked their two young daughters to death with an axe because of parental objections over Salazar's friendship with another daughter.

The Mexican slew the couple Thursday night, the sheriff said, and forced Wilma Kennedy, 16-year-old blonde farm girl, to flee with him.

Officers of the Southwest concentrated their efforts on apprehending the Mexican, and Lowe said flatly "I don't believe we'll find the girl alive."

Slain While Asleep. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy were shot as they slept, and the killer then seized an axe and fractured the skulls of their daughters, Fay, 4, and Imogene, 13.

The parents objected to Salazar's friendship with Wilma, Lowe said, and violent arguments had resulted. The Mexican worked for Kennedy until about two months ago, but had often said, "I'll get that girl," the sheriff reported.

Lowe said he believed Salazar would seek refuge in South Texas, where many Mexicans reside. "However, we're asking all Texas officers and authorities of other states to be on the lookout," he said.

The two youngest Kennedy children were in a San Angelo hospital, where their conditions were grave. They had lain in agony from the time of the killing Thursday night until they were found today by an uncle.

Had Violent Temper. Salazar was charged specifically in the death of the father.

The Mexican bought cartridges for a .410 gauge shotgun, the same type he was used in the slayings, Thursday, Lowe said.

He liked Wilma very much, but I fear he may get scared when he thinks of the penalty he'll have to

FDR Warned To 'Stay Out Of The South'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP) — Washington's gridiron club handed President Roosevelt a satirical warning tonight to "stay out of the South."

He and other distinguished guests heard newspaper correspondents poke fun at the administration's unsuccessful campaign to unseat Senators Smith of South Carolina, George of Georgia and Tydings of Maryland.

Hilarious southern senators, impersonated by club members, chorused:

"Franklin's on the rampage, a-comin' a-goin'."

"Travelin' the time away."

"Take and Hopkins the dollars a-throwin'."

"From now till judgment day."

"Dear old Southland, with its dreamy song."

"Carpetbaggers, you're wrong, all wrong."

"We'll put you Yankees right where you belong."

"When it's purg'n' time down South."

For this skit, the scene had shifted to a cotton field in South Carolina—"Cotton Picking Project No. 67". One negro picked the cotton, another put it back.

They were preparing, it seemed, for Southern Democracy's celebration of the victory over the purge. They didn't quite understand what it all meant, but one observed:

"They got no more chance o'purgin' Cotton Ed (Senator Smith) than they have of puttin' Jimmy Roosevelt on the Dole."

Just then, a joyous crowd surged into the field—southern colonels and their ladies led by Senators Harrison of Mississippi, Bailey of North Carolina, Connally of Texas, George, and Tydings.

Democratic Chairman Farley was greeted by Harrison as "a friend" who never believed in the purge. In sons, Farley advised the President that "Third term visions, bright and sweet, lead you down a one-way street."

Bailey, taking up where Farley left off, belittled to the President to stay in the North where "you constantly fork out of all that pork," and "don't come south of the line."

could any action be taken in the new term of court to remove the district clerk from office after she takes over her second term duties in January.

Miss Wilson now is under $1,500 bond awaiting action of the county grand jury on the embezzlement charge filed against her by the county attorney a week ago last Thursday night. The new grand jury will convene on Jan. 2.

Judge Ewing took the action on the request in the outer petition that the district clerk be sustained temporarily pending a hearing of the petition, which was filed formally Friday with Clerk Pro-Tem Ewing Williams, named to act as clerk in January, which would automatically outlaw any charge brought in the present term of office.

This action was not taken, Judge Ewing indicated, for the same reason—that it was impossible to conduct a hearing on the outer petition until the next term of court in January, which would automatically outlaw any charge brought in the present term of office.

Continues on Job.

The outer petition, seeking Miss Wilson's removal, was drawn a week ago by District Attorney Lewis Goodrich and was signed by County Attorney Joe Gordon. It was presented to Judge Ewing last Monday morning before he left for Wheeler where he conducted a court session this past week. It was not formally filed in the district clerk's office until last Friday when Judge Ewing appointed a clerk pro-tem to receive the petition.

Miss Wilson continues on her job as district clerk. Williams' appointment as clerk pro-tem was for the purpose only of accepting and filing any papers in the case involving Miss Wilson, who will be sworn in on Jan. 2 for another two-year term of office.

The $1,500 bond for Miss Wilson's release, pending the grand jury investigation of the alleged embezzlement charge, was signed by Dr. V. E. von Brunow, Siler Faulkner, and Frank Meers.

pay if he is caught, and may do away with her," Lowe declared.

Lowe said he had not determined whether Wilma had witnessed the killings. "He may have induced her to come outside," he said, "taken her some distance away to wait for him, and then gone back and tried to kill the entire family."

"Salazar had a violent temper and because he is mean he may not hesitate to kill Wilma."

The light apparently was made in the Kennedy automobile, which was missing from the garage. Two slippers, believed to belong to Wilma, were found between the house and the garage.

A blood-smeared axe which investigators believed was used by the killer was found near the garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, apparently shot as they slept, were found this morning by Kennedy's brother, Carl. Kennedy was lying in bed but the body of his wife was found in the dining room, into which she apparently had staggered from the bedroom.

Fay, the youngest child, was found in a bundle of bloody bedclothes on the floor beside the bed in which she and her mother had been sleeping.

Imogene, barely conscious, was found covering under the quilt on a bed in an adjoining room. A bed whether someone had hit her she mumbled, "I don't remember."

lazy Sloth, the generously-shouted anteaater and the hard-shelled armadillo.

In the long search he has subjected many animals to physical injury under anesthesia, exertion, stimulation, hemorrhage, and anesthesia and these experiments have led to a fundamental clue.

The clue: These agents produced changes only in the cells of the brain, liver and adrenal glands.

The researchers pointed to these three organs, and the thyroid gland and nervous system, as the controlling factors in energy. All through, in death from shock, one factor remained constant—the loss of energy.

In seeking the source of energy the adrenal glands, little organs above the kidneys, stood out most prominently. They manufacture a substance, adrenalin, which is used as a powerful heart stimulant.

Dr. Crile has given particular attention to the adrenals of all the animals. He will concentrate on them again in Guatemala.

FINE PIEATS A FASHION FANCY

A new dress for the holiday season goes far to induce a festive mood. Distinctive of the new mid-century daytime frocks are exciting treatments of fine pleatings and shirtings. One Fifth Avenue collection shows a simple all-over pleated sheer dress in Persian blue with short puffed sleeves, round-banded neck and wide jeweled belt. This gives the figure a slim and fluid grace. Another, in Azalea red, uses the fine pleats only in the short sleeves and swishing petticoat under the wide flared skirt.

subpoenas already have been issued for Wall Street operators and brokers, officials of the firm, Connecticut politicians and numerous other persons, and for records which may explain the confusion of questions raised by Coster's fantastic swindle.

The nature of the information about gun-running, now in the hands of Assistant Attorney General Ambrose V. McCall, was not disclosed, but he said he knew things "which may involve living persons."

Giving support to this was a statement of John Kantor, 60, of Montreal, father of McCall's Kantor, the author. The elder Kantor, held here in connection with a Connecticut stock case, appeared in the police lineup today.

"McKesson and Robbins offered to sell me some guns," he told Acting Lieut. James Pyke who was questioning him about reported gun smuggling to other countries.

"I was asked not to discuss it," Kantor said.

"Was that by order of the attorney general?"

"Yes," Kantor replied, "and also by the Securities and Exchange Commission."

18 Millions Missing

It was regarded as likely that the $18,000,000 missing assets of the crude drugs department which Coster-Musica and his brother, George E. Dietrich-Musica, operated with non-existent warehouses and detailed reports of purchases and sales, might, in fact, exist as money due for the payment of millions.

When Coster-Musica, facing arrest on a charge of violating the securities and exchange act, killed himself yesterday in his Fairfield home, the chances of learning all the amazing details of his incredible swindling career were greatly diminished.

But the authorities quickly recovered their hopes with the arrest of Dietrich-Musica and two other brothers, Robert E. Dietrich-Musica, of the firm's shipping department in Fairfield, and George Vernard-Arthur Musica, of Brooklyn, Canadian agent for the firm.

Wife Didn't Know

Sheriff Edward J. Slavin, of New Haven, said George had been married seventeen years but it was only yesterday that his wife learned he was one of the Italian immigrant brothers who worked a million dollar bank swindle in connection with the collapse of the United States Hair Company a quarter of a century ago.

That was a job for which Philip the "brains" of the family, took the "rap," melodramatically proclaiming the others innocent.

Perhaps even then, he already had a gleam of the brilliant criminal idea he followed through to its ultimate tragic conclusion—hiding his identity under the masquerade of an American name, two Heidelberg University degrees, respectable American parentage and good clothes.

Even in that day he had come far from the cunning of bribing customs inspectors to mark down the weight of imported Italian cheeses for his father's East Side business.

His other brothers, Robert and Arthur, who are in jail here, were questioned by Assistant U. S. Attorney Irving R. Kaufman who also questioned Donald McKesson of the New York Quinine and Chemical Works, Inc., Brooklyn. McKesson was a member of the original McKesson and Robbins firm which sold the assets, except real estate, to Coster in 1925.

McKesson, in a formal statement, said he had had no connection with the company since that time.

Four women members of the Musica family have been subpoenaed to appear before the federal grand jury Tuesday. They are Coster-Musica's widow, Miss Marie Girard (Grace Musica) of Westbury, Long Island, a sister, Mrs. Robert Guez (Louise Musica), wife of the gardener on the estate of Henry Morosini, Jr., secretary of the Treasury, at Fishkill, N. Y., another sister, and Mrs. Marie Girard (Marie Musica), mother of Coster-Musica, of Westbury.

Over the week-end, accountants, experts in law and financial skill-dupery, and the various investigators in the U. S. attorney's office, the SEC and Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr.'s office studied testimony already at hand and hundreds of records. Bennett's hearings, adjourned yesterday afternoon in the middle of the astonishing developments, will be resumed Monday.

None of Coster-Musica's brothers has asked to be permitted to attend his funeral which is expected to be held Monday from his home in Fairfield.

Underworld connections of the quiet, respected corporation head who lived unobtrusively in a five Italianate villa in Fairfield, Conn., with a 135-foot yacht in Long Island Sound, were hinted when it was disclosed that he started the second upward climb of his criminal career by snatching a small fortune from the alcohol business in the dry era.

It was indicated that his business relations then and afterwards may have reached into the racketeering empire of the late Dutch Schultz and other big shots of those days.

President And Garner Confer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt talked over the Congressional outlook with Vice President Garner in a conference which led to speculation the chief executive would try to reunite his party on the common ground of national defense.

The more conservative Garner, ruddy and joke-cracking as ever, returned to the capital ahead of most members of Congress, at the request of "the boss."

He and the President retired to the chief executive's study in the residential quarters of the White House for a long chat.

Two hours later, Garner strode swiftly from the White House. He motioned for his car, and then, when reporters started asking questions, pulled off his gray, cow-country hat.

"I'm perspiring," he remarked with a grin. "It's awfully hot up there."

"What did you talk about?" a newsman asked.

"I can't remember," the vice president shot back.

Garner stepped quickly into his car, remarking that he was "already was an hour late for another appointment."

There were reports Garner previously had conferred with Postmaster General James A. Farley, but he said:

"Ask Jim."

SCRIPTURES

meaning, than to participate in those services of the church which bring before us the glories of the Nativity as foretold by the prophets of old and immortalized in song and story ever since the great event occurred.

Father Knapp of Holy Souls Catholic church yesterday furnished some of the excerpts of the Novena that will be chanted and sung. These are famous portions of the Scriptures being summarized. These are as follows:

"Thou, O Bethlehem, Juda, art not the least, for but of thee shall come the leader who shall rule his people. (This is another of the many Scriptural passages citing the virgin Mary, concerning the Redeemer.) O Wisdom, who came out of the mouth of the most high, ordering all things mightily and sweetly: come and teach us the way of peace."

O Adonia, and leader of the house of Israel, who appear to Moses in the flame of the burning bush, and didst give Him the law on Sinai; come with an outstretched arm redeem us.

O king of the Gentiles and the desire of them, thou corner-stone that maketh both one, come and deliver us from the dust of this earth.

O Emmanuel our king and law-giver, the expected of the nations and their Saviour, come to save us, O Lord and God.

Prophetic expressions from the Novena:

He shall send them a Saviour and a defender to deliver them.

Drop down dew, ye heavens, from above, and let the clouds rain the just: let the earth be opened, and bud forth a saviour: and let justice spring up together.

A child is born to us, and a son is given to us, and the government is upon His shoulder; and His name shall be called, Wonderful Counsellor, God the Mighty, the Father of the world to come, the Prince of Peace. His empire shall be multiplied; and there shall be no end of peace.

God, who at sundry times and in divers manners speaks in times past to the fathers by the prophets, last of all in these days hath spoken to us by His Son, whom He hath appointed heir of all things.

pay if he is caught, and may do away with her," Lowe declared.

Lowe said he had not determined whether Wilma had witnessed the killings. "He may have induced her to come outside," he said, "taken her some distance away to wait for him, and then gone back and tried to kill the entire family."

"Salazar had a violent temper and because he is mean he may not hesitate to kill Wilma."

The light apparently was made in the Kennedy automobile, which was missing from the garage. Two slippers, believed to belong to Wilma, were found between the house and the garage.

A blood-smeared axe which investigators believed was used by the killer was found near the garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, apparently shot as they slept, were found this morning by Kennedy's brother, Carl. Kennedy was lying in bed but the body of his wife was found in the dining room, into which she apparently had staggered from the bedroom.

Fay, the youngest child, was found in a bundle of bloody bedclothes on the floor beside the bed in which she and her mother had been sleeping.

Imogene, barely conscious, was found covering under the quilt on a bed in an adjoining room. A bed whether someone had hit her she mumbled, "I don't remember."

Defense Plan May Provide Jobs Galore

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

WASHINGTON, D.C. 17 (AP)—Several hundred thousand jobs may develop from administration efforts to strengthen national defenses, informed military officials estimated today, although President Roosevelt says business "pump priming" is not the purpose of the program.

The principal direct beneficiaries probably will be the steel and other industries concerned with ship-building and the aircraft and allied plants.

Here are some preliminary effects, together with estimates from official and semi-official sources as to results of the program later:

1. A $150,000,000 increase in the navy's funds for ship-building—which Mr. Roosevelt has forecast will mean new work for a year for 81,000 persons, on the basis of a labor department estimate.

2. Administration plans for war-plane orders to assure top speed operation of aircraft factories involve an early expansion of employment in this industry from some 36,000 to 50,000 or more.

3. This year's war department appropriations already have brought a five-fold increase in army ordnance orders to steel and other manufacturing plants. The chief executive is expected by some to ask Congress to accelerate still more production of anti-aircraft guns, semi-automatic rifles and other weapons. In addition, the army is contributing to employment by the construction of new barracks, hangars and other buildings.

4. First steps have been taken toward training an eventual 100,000 civilian pilots and 125,000 aviation mechanics as a defense backlog.

5. The fact that the National Youth Administration will direct the training at the Charleston, W. Va., naval ordnance plant and the New Orleans navy yard, and numerous proposals that the Civilian Conservation Corps be "militarized," suggest at least some relief funds may go to defense purposes.

Club Women Urge 'Quiet Christmas'

An appeal for a "quiet Christmas" was issued again Saturday night by Mrs. A. H. Doucette, on behalf of the senior Twentieth Century Club which last year launched a move in Pampa to disperse with the practice of using fireworks in the sacred holiday season.

Mrs. Doucette stated cooperation in the drive was given last year and will be given again this year by the boy scouts, girl scouts, Church Alliance, schools, merchants, and the Council of Clubs.

"The former custom in the South of exploding fireworks at Christmas time has passed out of existence in most cities," Mrs. Doucette said, "and we feel certain there will be no fireworks of any kind used in Pampa this Christmas."

Martin Company Sold To Curry

Martin Sales Company, owned and managed by Larry Martin at 112 S. Cuyler for the past year, was sold Saturday to Bert Curry, owner of the Bert Curry Refrigerator Company at 111 W. Kingsmill.

West Kingsmill will be continued until a consolidation is made, probably around the first of the year.

Mr. Martin on Monday takes on a new post as district supervisor for the Frigidaire Corporation with headquarters at Amarillo. His family will remain in Pampa for the present.

Mr. Curry stated that the store bought from Mr. Martin will continue to carry the same line of products.

When fried in fat, potatoes are said to lose nothing but water.

Corpus And Lubbock To Battle In Finals

Team Without A Star Whips Tom Pickett

TEMPLE, Dec. 17 (AP)—The final game of the Texas Interscholastic football campaign between Lubbock and Corpus Christi High schools will be played in Dallas at a date to be determined later, officials of the schools decided today.

Each team expressed a preference for Monday, Dec. 26, but a ruling of the league says the final game must be played a week after the semi-final games.

J. Rodney Kidd, chairman of the league, said he would call a meeting of the state executive committee to act upon the request for a waiver of the rule.

Other cities bidding for the game were Austin, Waco, Fort Worth, Houston and Abilene.

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT.

TEMPLE, Dec. 17 (AP)—Bugged Corpus Christi—the team without a star—gained up as one big wedge today and drove to the finals of the Texas schoolboy grid race with a thrust that flattened Temple 20-7.

Baffled for a half by Temple's one-man disturbance, Thomas Basden Pickett Jr., the bold Buccaneers hurried back after the intermission and didn't let Temple-Pickett or no Pickett—have much to say about things from there on.

Power outside the tackles swept the Bucs goalward, but it took three forward passes to bring in their scores.

Four Backs Star.

The Buccaneers powered across 21 first downs to Temple's 9; piled a net gain of 350 yards on passes and runs to Temple's 153 and otherwise showed their superiority.

Not one—but four backfielders paraded in the Corpus Christi triumph. To give an idea of the equality in that backfield, Emory Nix personally accounted for 71 yards; Williams Dolan chipped in 71; Kenneth Matthews contributed his 71 and Jesus Garza, the blocking back, came in for 34 himself.

On the Buccaneer line there was a single stand-out, hulking Pat Hall, a 16-year-old 202-pound end who still has another year of eligibility. He was a lighthouse on the defense, the main blocker in Corpus Christi's sweeps and a capable pass receiver.

Throughout the first period the stubborn defenses threw back running plays, one first down apiece being the only damage done. But Corpus Christi fumbled on their own 46 midway of the second period and that was Tommy Pickett's cue.

He faded almost to midfield to search for a pass receiver, didn't find one and then took out laterally across the field. Past the line he winged and into the secondary, great blocking aiding his incredible weaving and twisting until he finally stumbled across for the Temple score. He kicked extra point and Temple held a 7-0 intermission lead.

Mathews speared the kick off on his own 14 as the third period

Banaski, Cazzell All Set To Bite, Choke, Sock In Main Event Monday

Joe Banaski, Oklahoma City, vs. Bill Cazzell, Amarillo, SPECIAL EVENT

Clara Mortensen, Glendale, Calif., world's woman champion, vs. Mildred White, Chicago, SEMI-FINAL

Frankie Hill, Kansas City, vs. Leo Mortensen, Glendale, Calif., PRELIMINARY

Scotty Williams, California, vs. Russ Riley, Muleshoe, TEXAS

The time isn't so far distant that women wouldn't go to a wrestling match. Now they are the most rabid fans of all, promoters report.

Not only do members of the so-called weaker sex attend wrestling matches but some of them have taken up wrestling as a profession. Two of the top-notchers of the sport will appear Monday night at the Pampa Athletic arena in the persons of World Champion Clara Mortensen of California and Challenger Mildred White of Illinois.

Besides the woman grapplers, Promoter Cliff Chambers will present three other matches and all for the same admission price as usual. Hostilities will begin promptly at 8 o'clock with Scotty Williams and Russ Riley on the mat.

Immediately following Leo Mortensen, brother of the woman champion, will exchange holds, not blows, with Frankie Hill of Kansas City, a newcomer to the Panhandle. Mortensen captured the fancy of a packed house last Monday night. Hill is reported to be one of the real contenders for the crown now worn by Gus Kallio.

Headlining the bill will be a finish battle between Joe Banaski and Indian Ike Cazzell. Fans remember that Cazzell staged one of the greatest battles witnessed here in many years when he made his farewell appearance last spring. Since then Cazzell has been kicking 'em in throughout the north and northwest.

Both are big fellows who feature strength and cunning. Cazzell has leaned to the rough type of wrestling in the past and it has been rumored that Banaski is tired of being a good boy and getting his ears pinned back.

opened and legged it back to his 45. Dolan added 12 on a tackle jab and Garza, on a beautifully executed "bootleg" play, steamed to the Temple 17 stripe. From there he casually passed for a score to Nix on the goal line. Fowler's conversion attempt was wide.

Pickett, a fine back, dropped Corpus Christi back to their 19 with a great punt soon after the kickoff, but Matthews and Nix started punching those tackles again and Dolan tackled on 10 yards to put them at midfield.

Nix whipped a pass to Matthews on the Temple 33 and then found Dolan on the 10 with another, the big back, smiling across for the second score. Substitute Cooper booted the extra point.

Dolan intercepted Pickett's wild pass on the Corpus 33 to start the third scoring drive. First it was Dolan, then Nix and Matthews as the Bucs poured through Temple's line, the enemy 33. Then Matthews broke wide around his left end to the four.

Casey, a wild little substitute guard, stopped Dolan for 14 yards loss on two running plays, but Nix passed over the Temple secondary to Dolan just across the goal stripe for the third score. Cooper again converted.

Tom Carlie, one of Pickett's backfield playmates, did a grand job of punching the big Corpus line on reverses and Pickett was a big threat, despite many injuries, but Corpus Christi was a steamroller today—one of the most powerful schoolboy clubs in recent years.

Westerners Strong-Arm Daring Masons 20 To 6

By HARRY E. HOARE.

LUBBOCK, Dec. 17.—A mighty Lubbock Westerners football team and a cold dust-laden wind combined to defeat the sensational Masonic Home football team in a semi-final game in the interscholastic league race here Friday afternoon, 20 to 6.

With the score tied 6 and 6 going into the final quarter the Westerners took the wind in their back and thundered to two touchdowns. The Westerners, the largest team ever to represent the north half of the state, powerhouse its way to a crack at the title.

Walter Webster, a hard-charging back who never stopped digging in his cleats, led the Westerner attack but he had plenty of help in a stutter-footed lightweight named Lee Jackson. Rusty Johnston, stopped consistently on the ground, turned to the air lanes to become a hero, his two long passes to End Winter and Jackson paving the way for a couple of touchdowns.

Wayne Pipes, center, led the Westerner line play on defense, snugging two of Gene Keel's passes, both of which proved disastrous. It was Pipes who broke Keel's record of not having a pass intercepted since the team won its district. Farris, Nash and Foster were other Lubbock linemen who stood out on both offense and defense.

Keel the Greatest. Mason's Gene Keel lived up to his reputation as the greatest high school passer of all time. He completed nine out of 12 heaves in the half but his percentage dropped when the strong wind came up, ending 17 out of 38. But Keel's passing was no more spectacular than the work of Moseley, Strange and Bonds, his receivers who time after time took the ball while swarmed by Westerners. They missed a few dead to the belt but they were fired so hard into the wind that holding was difficult.

Next only to Webster was Stevens of the Masons in line plunging. Defensively the work of Strange, 137-pound end, was outstanding. Seldom was the field free of his feet and end runs were scarce as Panhandle rain. Holman, tackle, and Torres, little Mexican center, were other line sensations.

The Masons opened the game by driving to the Westerner 16-yard mark before the mighty Westerners stopped them. An exchange of punts following a nice Lubbock drive gave the Westerners the ball on the Mason's 45. Webster and Jackson gained and then Johnston stepped back and fired a pass to Jackson. Webster powered his way until the drive was stopped on the 15. Johnston again went to the aid of Webster and Jackson snagged on the 1-foot line from where Webster went over. The try for extra point was wide.

Wind Kills Passing. Undismayed, the Masons came back with a rush that stunned the 12,000 fans who jammed Tech field. Starting on their own 25, the Masons went to work. Keel passed carefully and cannily to his ends and backs, completing five out of six until the Masons were perched on the Lubbock four-yard line. Then Stevens showed his power by driving over the goal line on one thrust. The try for extra point was wide.

With the strong dust-laden wind in their back in the third quarter, the Masons tried desperately but Keel was unable to gauge his shots, and crucial heaves were carried too far. Pipes, Lubbock center, once stopped a drive by a neat pass interception well inside danger territory.

Taking the wind with the ball on their 32-yard line, Webster and company started their big drive. When ground plays showed signs of dragging, Quarterback Parsons called Johnston to take a tricky cross-lateral and then fire 32 yards to Winter, sub end, on the Mason's 13. It was then that Webster showed his "biggest drive" of the afternoon when he went the full 13 paces with three or four Masons hanging on to him. Sewall kicked the extra point.

Westerners Greatest. Desperately trying to pass into the wind, Keel saw some of his shots flip out of the arms of receivers who could not handle the bullets necessary to reach their destination. But it was the same Pipes who had intercepted two passes that recovered a Keel fumble on the 19-yard mark. Webster and Johnston worked behind the best interference shown all day to the five from where Sewall, 230-pound tackle, came lumbering out of the line, took the ball

Mildred White

Rated one of the outstanding women wrestlers in the world is 23-year-old Mildred White of Chicago, pictured above. She will appear at the Pampa night wrestling arena Monday night meeting Clara Mortensen of Glendale, Calif., recognized as the woman wrestling champion of the world.

Three other matches, a finish battle between Joe Banaski and Indian Ike Cazzell, a 30-minute time limit affair between Frank Hill of Kansas City and Leo Mortensen and an opener between Scotty Williams and Russ Riley will also be presented.

From Webster and swept around his left end five yards for a touchdown. He then kicked the extra point far above the cross bar.

Never will fans who saw the game forget the stand made by the mighty miles of Texas football. They were knocked down, run over and pushed in every direction but they came up for more. What Rusty Russell did with his 1938 midgets has never before been done in the history of Texas schoolboy football.

And fans will never forget the greatest Lubbock football team in history. Coach Weldon Chapman had his boys well trained and in tip top condition. It is the first time that a Lubbock team has survived past the quarter-finals and this year the team is rated as one of the greatest ever to represent district 1.

The Westerners drove the Pampa Harvesters 6 to 0 to get past their major barrier in the district.

$150,000 Asked By Dies For Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Chairman Dies, Democrat, Texas, proposed tonight the new Congress continue his House committee on un-American activities and give it $150,000.

If this is done, he said in an address prepared for radio delivery (CBS), the committee could prove that foreign nations are trying by propaganda to enlist United States aid in time of war, or to cripple this nation in case such aid is refused.

Dies said he would make his request to the new Congress, and he urged his listeners to support his proposal.

Some segments of the United States' population are dividing into camps that have their "counterpart in everything that is happening in Europe," the Texan said.

"The ultimate purpose of all this is very plain to me," he asserted. "Europe is on the brink of another great war. America is looked upon as a 'fat prize' in the event of such war. It is recognized that if we can be induced to throw the full weight of our resources and manpower behind any foreign country, that country is almost certain to win."

It has been estimated that World War pensions will last at least a hundred years.

'Round The Razzberry Bush

—By HARRY HOARE

It was a day when greats strutted their stuff in Lubbock Friday afternoon, occasion of the Lubbock Westerner 20 to 6 victory over Masonic Home of Fort Worth. Few, if any, greater fullbacks have trotted Texas high school gridirons than Walter "Jumbo" Webster of the Westerners.

Never has a greater passer been seen in high school football than Gene Keel of the Masons. . . . In Strange the Masons presented one of the greatest offensive and defensive ends in football history. . . . and Texas, the home of great centers, has seldom seen a greater one than Wayne Pipes of the Westerners. . . . and that story could go on and on far into the night.

Football fans who saw the game are wondering what would have been the outcome of the game had that dust-laden northerly wind swept across Tech field during the last half. Lubbock's power probably would have done the trick but here are those who believe the Masons would have won. Keel's passes certainly had the Westerners jittery after that hectic first half. And the Masons had the crowd with them, even on the Lubbock side of the stands.

But we'll stick with the Westerners all the way. Coach Weldon Chapman has a squad that has just about everything in Webster. He has one of the greatest backs of all time. He can do everything. Jackson is as stutter-footed a ball carrier as has cavorted around in some time. Johnston is a dangerous passer. Parsons is a Davey O'Brien calling signals and he is a sweet blocker. From end to end the line has what it takes. Two strong defensive ends with both dangerous on offense. A couple of stellar tackles and guards that couldn't be improved upon. A center that is tops at both offense and defense. And above all the Westerners have reserves.

Two former Pampa superintendents met last night in Temple to decide where their football teams would play the final game in the state high school football race. They are E. F. Fisher of Corpus Christi and W. E. Irvin of Lubbock.

Rusty Russell, coach of the Masons, said he would like to play the Harvesters next fall but that he was scheduled to leave the state and he would like to see how the interscholastic league is going to treat him. Coach Pat Gerald of Vernon, attending the game, agreed to play the Harvesters at a date to be set next week.

Harvesters Lose In First Round

The Pampa Harvesters met a high flying Canyon Eagle quintet in the Plainview Basketball tournament Friday night and dropped a 40 to 17 game in the first round of play.

A consolation game with the Plainview F. F. team was scheduled for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon but up to a late hour last night outcome of the game and tournament had not been received.

The Amarillo Golden Sandies appeared to be the team to beat. Amarillo downed the strong Floydada team 24 to 21 with Jack Childers leading the attack with 13 points.

Plainview had plenty of trouble defeating Kress 16 to 14. Tulsa beat the next Harvesters opponent 30 to 19.

Coach Odus Mitchell and the Harvesters saw the Westerners defeat Masonic Home Friday afternoon in Lubbock.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Large scores featured games when Thursday night bowlers went into action. Frank Carter of Faulkners recorded high game of the season in both leagues when he rolled a game of 241 pins. He nosed out Cox of the Pampa Press who registered a 236 game.

Carter had high total score of 558 pins but it was only one pin ahead of Thompson of Gunn-Hinerman. Faulkners won three from Jones Ever and Gunn-Hinerman swept their series with the Kiwanis club. The Press won two out of three from the league-leading Weir Barbers and the Lions took two out of three from Cargray.

The Dr. Pepper Left-handers went to Amarillo Thursday night and won two out of three games with the Texas Alleys Southpaws, although being 10 pins down on total score. The Texas Alley All Stars won a three-game series from Thompson Hardware of Pampa, Farwell leading the Amarillo Southpaws with a total of 603 pins. Lefty Huff paced the Pampa Left-handers with 639 pins.

In an exhibition game here Friday night the newly organized Modern Beauty Shop women's team lost three close games to Standard Food

Referee's Downs Decision Voted 1938's No. 1 Boner

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—It is late in the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 22, Carnegie Tech's football team is playing Notre Dame, and, in the fourth period, the score is 0-0. It is Carnegie's ball, near mid-field, and as the Sidus move into their huddle Quarterback P. A. U. Friedlander turns to Referee John Getchell, asks:

"What down is it?" Referee Getchell, asks:

"Third Down," says Getchell. Friedlander calls for a running play. It falls short of first down and as the players come out of the pileup and Carnegie prepares to line up for a fourth-down punt, Getchell awards the ball to Notre Dame on downs on Carnegie's 46-yard line. The Irish score the game's only touchdown three plays later, and the Texans absorb their long defeat of the year.

That quick mental reverse by Getchell from third to fourth down was tabbed the season's principal sports oddity by 38 of the 70 contributing sports editors in the poll. While few of the editors attempted to rate the "freak incidents" in the usual 1-2-3 order, and a ranking therefore was impossible, there was a far greater vote for Getchell's momentary lapse than for any other incident.

Second place among the 1938 oddities went to the two successive no-hit, no-run games pitched by Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds. Not far back were the 2-2 football tie between Virginia Tech and Virginia Military, the college of Stan Heck and Billy Juices of the Cubs while chasing an easy infield roller, it cost the Cubs two runs in the second World Series game.) J. Smith Ferebee's awesome series of golf marathons, and Monty Stratton's hunting accident that ended so disastrously with the amputation of the Chicago White Sox pitcher's leg.

Richard Arkwright's inventions started the cotton spinning industry. In 1770 his wife destroyed his spinning machine models in the belief he was wasting time he could better employ at barbering.

Final game in the ward school football league will be played, 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, at the Harvester field when Sam Houston and Horace Mann meet. This is it will be the final game unless a playoff unless coaches in Supt. L. L. Sone got together and tried to untangle the situation.

Sam Houston will enter the game undefeated while Horace Mann has lost two games, thus eliminating them from the picture. Woodrow Wilson and Baker played a scoreless tie Thursday afternoon.

Whether the game will be left tie, whether it will be replayed, whether Woodrow Wilson's on penetration to none for Baker will decide the winner has not been announced.

Fans are invited to see the little fellows in action. Sam Houston has a couple of great ball lotes in little John Campbell and Bill White while Horace Mann's Edmore Lindsey and Clayton Nobili are two more top hands. Both teams feature strong little line

Ruling in Davis Suit Due Monday

At Wheeler Monday Judge W. R. Ewing will give his judgment in the case of I. E. Thurman et ux vs. Champ Davis. In 31st district court here Saturday, Judge Ewing heard a motion to set aside the verdict given in Wheeler Thursday, in which the judgment was for the plaintiff.

The case is one in which the plaintiff is suing defendant on a note for $8,000. Davis based his defense on the grounds that the note was given on bank stock, and that Thurman allegedly made false representations as to the value of the stock. Judge Ewing said, and relying upon those representations bought stock and that the alleged stock proved worthless. Defendant seeks cancellation of note, Judge Ewing said.

Saunders & Scott of Amarillo, and J. B. Clark of Shamrock represent the plaintiff. B. Y. Cummings of Wichita Falls and Marion Reynolds of Shamrock, the defendant.

Child And Church Program Topic At Junior High P-TA

"The Adolescent Child and His Church Contact" was the subject discussed by the Rev. John S. Mullen, pastor of the First Christian church, at the meeting of Junior high school Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon.

Following several musical numbers by the cast of the Junior high school opera under the direction of Miss Madge Sears and Miss Winifred Wiseman, the Rev. Mullen presented the devotional.

"Youth is the time of restlessness, of dreams, vitality, conquest, and education; these are important, however, the most important thing is character. The home is simply the bow that throws youth out into society. It determines the distance and the direction."

"The youth problem is the most important problem in America. The church must not let youth down and cause her to take up other ways without the church. Youth must not forget the church. It stands for peace, fair chance, social justice, fair wages, and decent homes. The church wants to give youth a voice, a chance to work, and a place to grow," he concluded.

Mrs. Fager Hostess
At Justa Bridge

Teachers Classed By Guest Speaker At P-T-A Meeting

By EUGENE MANN
R. A. McCollum, superintendent of the Granger schools, addressed the Parent-Teacher unit of that school on the Training and Selection of Teachers. He told the parents that the teachers are the dominate force in every school. The process by which culture is submitted depends upon the teachers. Personality, the qualities of the individual that goes to make up his social and intellectual contacts, is of utmost importance. He placed teachers in three classes: active, static, and negative.

Weatherly P-T-A. at Borger presented a Christmas program for its December meeting. On the program was the fourth grade in a "Christmas Cantata" directed by Miss Eunice Little; Mrs. John Kickbusch sang a vocal solo, "I Love Life," accompanied by Mrs. C. R. Barlett. Myra Jo Draper read the Christmas story from the second chapter of St. Luke. The principal talk was "The Motion Picture and Visual Education" by Mrs. Tom Davidson. This unit regularly broadcasts its program over station KFDN, Pampa.

Plans presented by the Adrian Parent-Teacher Association during the past few months have netted the association $82. This fund will be used to purchase new scenery for the school stage and promote a traveling library for adults of the community.

Fifty people attended the December meeting to hear a mock radio broadcast program in which special numbers added interest to the discussions about radio and its influence. The talks were made in the form of a question and answer broadcast.

Mrs. A. C. Emberson talked on games for youth at the December meeting of the Hinton unit. Mrs. Q. A. Schuster reported on the state convention held in November at Lubbock.

Methodist WMS Has Harvest Day Program And Social

PANHANDLE, Dec. 17.—Members of the Methodist W. M. S. combined their Harvest Day program and Christmas social at the home of Mrs. George Crow.

Christmas decorations, stressing a blue and silver color scheme, were used throughout the house.

Mrs. Crow, leader of the lesson on Africa, presented the following program: Opening song, "Joy to the World"; a poem, "Good for Every Day," was read by Mrs. Curtis Douglas; the high school chorus, composed of Edward Little, David O'Keefe, Leahy Denney, Donald Crow, Ruth Holcroft, and Louise Schulz, sang Christmas carols accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Coe Cleek, director of the chorus; meditation talk, "Having by Using," Mrs. Emma Southwood; solo, "There's a Song in the Air," Mrs. Mary Williams.

Mrs. Earl Nunn was winner in the contest. Mr. Quiz Quizzes, conducted by Mrs. Crow. A silver offering was taken for work in Africa.

Mrs. A. Schulz, Mrs. M. Weeth, and Mrs. Tom Cleek were in charge of the social hour and served refreshments in keeping with the holiday season to Mrs. Curtis Douglas, T. E. McCray, Tom Cleek, Geo. Clout, J. L. Graham, Fred Hood, F. A. Paul, W. M. Weeth, Frank Simms, J. C. Wadsworth, Carol Furvines, J. L. Slimp, Walter Denney, Emmet Weatherly, and daughter, Mrs. R. S. Watkins, J. Phillips Couple Attends Celebration Of Anniversary

PHILLIPS, Dec. 17.—A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Boland, near Garden City, Kas., recently to honor them on their golden wedding anniversary.

Program of the day opened with a family reunion dinner at noon, followed by an open house from 2 until 5 o'clock and an oyster supper for the members of the Plymouth Bible class and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Boland went to Kansas in 1885 and 1883 respectively. Mr. Boland is a native of Illinois and Mrs. Boland of Missouri. They were married in St. John and in 1906 homesteaded on a claim in Plymouth community, their present farm home. They have seven children all of whom were present for the occasion, but one son, Gus Boland, of Portersville, Calif. The other children are Mrs. Ralph Wilt of Okessa; Earl Boland and family of Portland Ore.; Mrs. Frank Wolf and children of Holly, Colo.; Mrs. Claude Eastman and family of Dodge City, Kas.; and Herbert and Oliver Boland at home.

Relatives included a granddaughter, Mrs. Wesley Mason and Mr. Mason, of Phillips; a grandson, Ralph Boland, of Wichita, Kas.; and Miss Maxine Palmer, a great-granddaughter, of Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Boland received many gifts.

OUR TWENTY-SECOND CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Schulkey Hostess At Party For Dorcas Class

Members of the Dorcas class of the First Baptist church and members in service were entertained with a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. C. H. Schulkey last week.

The Christmas theme was carried out in the large highly lighted tree and in the small white trees which were used. Red berries in colored vases and mistletoe repeated the holiday note.

A short business session was held and three shut-in members of the First church are to be remembered at Christmas. Mrs. J. P. Wehrung, social chairman, presented Mrs. Tom Duvall, teacher, with a Bible historical quilt from the class members. The story of each block was told by the 24 members. Mrs. Duvall in turn gave the nativity story of Christ. Reading a manger scene, the group sang "Silent Night" with Mrs. Lily Hartsfield at the piano.

After a pair of Mexican plaques were presented to Mrs. E. L. Anderson, class president, by Mrs. Wehrung, Mrs. Ed Anderson gave a review of the Dorcas class which has had six teachers. They are Ben Tolson, Mrs. C. E. Clem, Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, Mrs. Tom Rose, Mrs. J. A. Meek, Mrs. Tom Duvall. The eight presidents have been Mrs. J. P. Wehrung, Mrs. Ed Anderson, Mrs. V. L. Dickinson, Mrs. R. I. Hootin, Mrs. A. C. Post, Mrs. Howard Giles, Mrs. W. A. Breining, and Mrs. Anderson.

Mrs. R. E. Dowell and committee served refreshments of banana and pineapple salad in the form of a candle topped with a red cherry, mince, tea, and Christmas candy to Misses B. W. Rose, Dee Campbell, W. B. Murphy, W. M. Voyles, H. M. Cone, W. R. Bell, R. E. Dowell, C. S. Rice, Tom Duvall, E. G. Black, Cecil Lunsford, M. P. Downs, J. H. Mosely, C. Gordon Bayless, A. G. Keith, J. E. Whorne, Frank McAlister, Roy Holt, J. A. Wood, Earl Burson, Ewing G. Nelson, G. H. Covington, Charles Zernial, Grover Durham, J. E. Carlson, H. A. Gilliland, C. E. Willingham, H. E. Cannon, R. B. Sake, B. A. Davis, P. O. Anderson, J. P. Wehrung, W. H. Logan, Lily Hartsfield, H. B. Langrum, H. T. Robinson, Ed Anderson and C. H. Schulkey.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for Amarillo from where they flew by airplane to New Orleans. A three-piece Logan knit suit of wine with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias was selected by the bride for her going-away costume. After December 24, the couple will be at home at 704 North Gray street.

The bride was graduated in 1934 from Pampa high school where she was a four-year member of the band, a drum major, a member of the National Honor Society, and the high school dramatics club. She has been employed for the past two years as assistant to Dr. J. H. Kelley of Pampa.

Mr. Patterson, a graduate of the 1934 class at Oklahoma University, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson of Norman, Okla. He has been manager of radio station KPDN here since March of 1937. Prior to that time he was a representative of General Food Sales Company with headquarters in Amarillo. While living in Amarillo Mr. Patterson was a member of the Bachelors' club. He is member of the Baptist church, Rotary club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Board of City Development, and is active in civic affairs.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Miss Mildred Patterson, sister of the bridegroom, Carl Patterson, brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Bessie Aycock, all of Norman, Okla.

tian church announces the following Christmas program for services Christmas morning: Open song, "Joy to the World," by the congregation; scripture reading of the birth of the Christ-Child by Rev. Todd; special number, "Come Softly," David Rander, David Warren Jr., and Ruby June Vance; scripture reading, Joe Billy Little; Christmas carols by the sixth and seventh grade choir; trombone solo, David Rastbury; song, "Blessed Star Forever," Ida Beth Broadway and Jene Wood. Cheer baskets for the needy will be distributed by members of the church.

Waitress Recognized As Model Of 'Venus'

PARIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—Anna, a very mundane but lovely Polish waitress, was recognized officially today as the model for the "Venus of the Turnip Patch."

A jury of National Education Ministry officials announced that grave deliberation had convinced them a young Italian sculptor had modeled the statue after Anna and then buried it.

The young sculptor, 31-year-old Francesco Cremonese, made the statue out of marble, deliberately hacked off some of the limbs and the nose to make it appear ancient, and then buried it. He is proud of the fact. He admits he did it to win attention.

Buffet Dinner Given In Holiday Motif For Class Members

PHILLIPS, Dec. 17.—Mrs. W. J. Goodwin entertained her Sunday school class of the First Baptist church with a buffet dinner recently.

The room was beautifully decorated in the Christmas motif. The north star over a miniature barn containing the Christ Child and the shepherds approaching made up the center piece. Santa Claus' sleigh and reindeer also added to the buffet.

After the dinner the girls enjoyed a social hour playing games suggestive of Christmas and exchanging of gifts from a Christmas tree. Enjoying the evening were Elizabeth Bryns, Margaret Gikas, Ruth Evelyn Sloan, Lena Ruth Bryns, Ruth Lee Chanselor, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Goodwin.

Another Posts $2,500 Bond In Shooting

The second of the three persons charged with murder in connection with the shooting of Oscar Williams, Pampa apartment house operator, on Sunday night, was released from county jail at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when he posted $2,500 bond. Bond in a similar amount was posted at 7 o'clock Wednesday night by Homer Gorman, who was charged in the same complaint with Anderson, and with Clyde (Shorty) McGraw.

McGraw is being held in county jail without bond. All three of the men are to appear before the grand jury when it convenes here on January 2, opening day of the January term of the 31st judicial court.

Deputies O. T. Lindsey and Weldon Wilson arrested the three men on Frederic street at 9 o'clock last Sunday night, about two hours after Williams was shot. On Monday morning the three were taken by Deputy Lindsey and Texas Highway patrol officers Norvell Redwine and Ralph Robertson, to Amarillo where a paraffin test to determine powder burns was made. Anderson and Gorman made oral statements to Lindsey in Amarillo, and written statements that night to the county attorney and district attorney-elect, at Pampa.

The complaint charging McGraw, Anderson and Gorman with murder was filed at noon the following day in the court of Justice of the Peace E. F. Young.

McGraw, who had been held in the Potter county jail since Monday, was returned to the Gray county jail at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening by Deputy O. T. Lindsey.

Residence of Clyde (Shorty) McGraw and of Abe Anderson was given as Enid, Okla. Homer Gorman, the third man in the case, is an employee of the Huber Carbon company at Borger, where he has lived the past four years, according to county officers.

Old Age Assistance Office Will Close Here December 23

Offices of the Texas Old Age Assistance commission will be closed from noon Friday through Thursday, December 29, according to a letter received here by John B. Hessey, in charge of the Pampa office, from James B. Atlee, supervisor of the Panhandle district, with offices in Amarillo.

On account of New Year's coming on Sunday, the TOAAC offices will be not close on the following day, in observance of the holiday.

Pampa Girl Named Among Tech Queens

LUBBOCK, Dec. 18.—Tech's eight most beautiful coeds were elected December 13 by Carola Goya, nationally known Spanish dancer. The girls, selected from the 18 candidates elected by the student body December 8, will occupy beauty pages in La Ventana, school yearbook. Coeds named were: Emmarie Gibbs, Sweetwater; Helen Hollingsworth, Childress; Maxine Wheatley, Mary Price, Pampa; Jane Prickett, Lubbock; Rollanda Chappell, Dallas; Elray Lewis, Brownfield; Ophelia Autry, Coleman.

BAI Men Inspect 66 Plains Herds During November

There was employed in Amarillo district for the month of November, one B. A. I. man and five county men who spent their time in an effort to eradicate scabies infection, and a total of approximately $30, was expended by this department in its regular eradication program.

Sixty-six herds, and a total of 11,725 cattle were inspected and dipped, no head were classed as exposed or infected.

The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas will continue to work in the Amarillo District in an effort to protect the live stock in that district from imported infection, and affording the necessary scabies certificates demanded by other states on live stock moving from Texas.

The above work was conducted under the supervision of Dr. J. Guy Porter, Lubbock, Charles B. Alford, supervisor of scabies eradication work.

One B. A. I. paid inspector and five county paid inspectors were employed in Amarillo district which are not included in the above expenditure.

One county inspector is being paid part by the state.

Panhandle Grade Pupils To Give Music Festival

PANHANDLE, Dec. 18.—The grade school pupils will present a Christmas Music Festival Thursday afternoon in the grade school auditorium, preceding the room parties. The seventh grade pupils will continue the custom of passing lighted candles to the sixth grade pupils asking them to carry out the ideals established by the seventh grade class. Patrons of the school look forward to this program each year as it is one of the most colorful and outstanding of the Christmas programs presented by the grade school pupils.

Medical Trucks Tour In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17 (AP).—Educational trucks, many with medical exhibits to instruct natives in prophylaxis and care of special diseases, tour Mexico constantly and in a way parallel the old-time medicine shows of the United States. They do not sell patent medicines, but frequently give away known specifics against certain of the plagues being combated by the government. The trucks penetrate into the farthest reaches of the jungle and mountain country, teaching people how to take care of their sick, how to feed and bathe babies and how to avoid such post-carried plagues as typhus.

The "malaria car" is one of the most interesting of the constant voyagers. Pulled by two great oxen, the cart with its material for explanation and instruction and liberal quantities of quinine to be given away, disappears for weeks into country few white men enter, spreading enlightenment and the way to health.

Wheeler Farmer Nels $580 From $35 Hog

WHEELER, Dec. 18.—Hugh M. Sims who lives four miles north east of Wheeler in Wheeler county, makes a unique record with a Hampshire sow, according to a report from George C. Jones, County R.R. Supervisor. As reported, Mr. Sims received assistance from Farm Security Administration and purchased a Hampshire sow at a cost of $35.

This was in April of 1937. The record from this one sow is as follows: Farrowed 8 pigs immediately after the purchase. Had another litter of ten pigs in fall of 1937, farrowed a litter of ten in spring of 1938 and now has a young litter of eight. Two gilts saved from a former litter now have eleven pigs. This makes a total increase of forty-nine animals from the one sow, representing a valuation of $580.00, including original unit, distributed over 20 months as follows:

$130—1,400 pounds meat butchered fall of 1937.
$175—hogs sold this year.
$ 80—5 meat hogs on hand.
$ 90—3 sows on hand.
$105—Pigs on hand.

$580.
Mr. Sims produced on the farm all the feed for his hog enterprise. The skim milk from 5 cows helped materially in holding down production cost. He first entered the program on a very small lease plot with scarcely any assets. His repayments to Farm Security this year through sale of crops, livestock and livestock products amounts to $410.50, and also increased his resources materially. A much better showing would have been made had he not suffered a 50 per cent damage to cotton by hail this year.

750,000 'Bell' Trees Stored At Clarendon

CLARENDON, Dec. 18 (AP).—Three-quarters of a million shelter trees being stored in hot-beds here will be planted in Donley county by the Western States Forestry project, says R. Morgan, in charge of the Shamrock division of the U. S. Forest Service.

Planting, to start soon, will be under supervision of Joe Grigg, forest expert of Minneapolis. Work will start at a point south of Fort Worth and run eastward through the county's richest agricultural lands. Variety of trees include Chinese elm, honey and black locust, desert willow, Russian olive, black walnut, cottonwood and apricot.

McLean School Improves Home Economics Room

McLEAN, Dec. 18.—The Home Economics department of the McLean High school has been improved by members of the second year class, under the supervision of Miss Betty Farley.

White enamel has been applied to the work tables and cabinets with black floor bases and hinges. White curtains bordered with yellow, black, green and red tape, made by members of the Future Homemakers' club this summer, have added color to the laboratory.

The expression "lame duck" originated in the stock exchange, where it meant a person unable to fill his engagements or contracts.

Early lamp wicks were made of dried reeds or moss. In succeeding centuries, they were made of flax or silk.

Caliche Base Will Be Laid By January 1

With 37,000 cubic yards of caliche already laid on the strip of the Pampa-Borger road, extending from the Gray-Carson line to the intersection of the road from White Deer, work of laying this base on the 20.37 mile road is expected to be half-completed by Jan. 1.

Topping of the road will be done in the spring when the weather is sufficiently warm.

Caliche laid to date is in two courses and extends for a distance of 7 1/2 miles, with the subgrade cut 1,500 feet ahead of the last load of caliche.

Nine of the 12 trucks being used on the job are for hauling caliche. A total of 49 men, including supervisors, have been employed on the road for the past week.

A shovel and crusher has been set up at the second caliche pit, located four miles west of Skellytown. Digging at the first pit, 1 1/2 miles southeast of Skellytown, was finished Dec. 9.

Bids for seven miles of grading improvements and one mile of shoulder surfacing from Pampa to the Carson county line on the same highway are to be received Wednesday by the Texas Highway Department at Austin. The job is to be similar to that done some months ago on U. S. Highway 60 from Kingsmill to the Potter county line by Allhands & Davis, who were the contractors on the grading of the Pampa-Borger road.

Work of laying caliche on Highway 152 was started on Oct. 11 by the Austin Construction Company.

LaNora To Hold Xmas Party For Kiddies Friday

Every child in Pampa up to the age of 12 is invited to attend the annual Lions Club-LaNora theater Christmas party, to be held at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning at the LaNora theater.

After the show, sacks containing candy, fruit, and nuts will be passed out to the children as they leave the theater.

Carl Benefield, theater manager, has emphasized that the party is for all children in Pampa up to the age of 12. Children will be admitted without cost to the show, presented a present, and there is no reservation on the offer.

The showing of the pictures will last one and one-half hours. If there is not sufficient room in the LaNora theater to accommodate all the children at the party, the show may be repeated at the Rex, Mr. Benefield said.

John B. Hessey, chairman of the Lions club committee in charge of the party. Members of the committee are Mack Harmon, Ed Tracey, E. C. Pennington, Jim Saunders, H. C. Wilson, and H. G. Walter.

Guest Minister To Speak Here Today

Foy Cordill of Dallas will fill the pulpit at the Francis Avenue Church of Christ today. Mr. Cordill spoke at the church last Sunday and he will preach at the local church again December 25.

Mr. Cordill has been doing evangelistic work for the past three years and previous to that time he was pastor of a church in Dallas.

Panhandle Band To Give Yule Concert
PANHANDLE, Dec. 18.—The high school band will present a public band concert Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. Following the concert parents will be guests at a Christmas tree to be held in the gymnasium. Games, folk dances, and music furnished by the student orchestra recently organized will be enjoyed.

Approximately one-quarter of Great Britain's million regular golfers are women.

January 31 Last Day To Apply On '37 AAA Grants

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 18 (AP).—The State Agricultural Conservation committee, which has supervised payment of $3,516,674 to 210,338 Texas farmers cooperating in the 1937 AAA farm program, has announced that all 1937 applications for grant must be in the state office not later than January 31.

The state office began accepting applications about a year ago and the bulk of 1937 payments have been made, but because of mechanical wrinkles of one kind or another, about 50 are still outstanding, George Slaughter, state committee chairman, said.

Taking into account the possibility of error in the complex computation set-up, the AAA provides for payments to be adjusted of an amended application from any farmer who received less than was coming to him. Deadline for adjusted payment applications also is January 31, Slaughter said.

Troup Rancher Writes Serial

TROUP, Dec. 18 (AP).—Joe Cross, rancher of Troup Smith county is the author of a book "Cattle Clatter" which was published serially in the American Hereford Journal.

Cross' white-faced beef cattle won many prizes this fall at Houston, Dallas, Tyler and Shreveport.

The story of cattle from the earliest times is told in the author's own way and combines history, humor, romance and observations. Cross begins his story with "Biblical Cattlemen" in which he tells of the records of the first-known cattle breeders. Several chapters are devoted to the different breeds of cattle and others relate the history of the Hereford industry in England and America.

SERIAL STORY

SKI'S THE LIMIT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES
COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday in a fit of anger, Sally dashed down the stairs, leaving her father, Dan, in a state of confusion. Dan's car was in the garage.

CHAPTER VI

When Sally next opened her eyes she was in a small room, a narrow white bed. She could hear the bells of Butler Library Tower, whose tall steeple kept guard over the campus, pealing out their college tunes, summoning the students to classes. She still must be at the houseparty. But the houseparty was over. This was not the colorful, colonial room of the fraternity dorm.

Her head throbbled with a dull heavy ache; she felt too weary to care where she was. Then one hand seeking her burning temple, encountered bandages, reminding her of the accident. She remembered the colorful, colonial room of the fraternity dorm.

"She stirred and gave a little groan, and a nurse came in, wearing a starched white uniform, bent over her.

"And how are you feeling now?" her pleasant, efficient voice inquired.

"How did I get here?" Sally countered with another question. "Where was Dan? Had he skied?"

"You had a bad tumble, my dear. But you're going to be as good as new in a week or so."

"A week?" Sally protested faintly.

"You're lucky to get off with that," the nurse's tone was grim.

"There was no reply to this. Sally might have been killed. Sally saw, once more, the barbed-wire fence rushing up at her. She closed her eyes a moment.

After a while she opened them again. "Dan's never waiting to see me?" There was only one person Sally wanted to see.

The nurse shook her head. "There's a wire from your father. He'll be here sometime today, though Doctor Barnes, talking long distance, assured him it was not necessary."

Sally's eyes, behind closed lids, fluttered with tears of weak anxiety. Dear Daddy, she always could count on him. Always he had come when needed, always he got her everything that money could purchase.

"My face..." Sally asked, after another long moment. Her pretty face that had caused so many masculine hearts to pound more quickly. Would she look the same when these bulky bandages were removed?

"Just a few scratches," the nurse informed her soothingly. "There won't be even a scar. Thanks to the young man who got you here in time for Doctor Barnes to take the stitches."

"WHAT young man?" Sally asked. "There could only be one. But she wanted to hear his name. She wanted just to hear someone say it."

"Young Reynolds," the nurse said. "You know—the ski champion. It seems he was right behind you. He managed, by some spectacular leap or turn, to save you from being whirled into a fence. And then, though he was badly hurt himself..."

"Dan hurt?" Sally tried to sit up, her eyes wide open now. The nurse's strong hands gently held her back.

"Not too badly," she reassured her. "One leg banged up a bit..."

"How bad? You must tell me, please." Dan hurt, Dan who had hoped to make the Olympics, who was such a beautiful, swift thing on his smooth long skis. Hurt because of her foolishness, her headstrong vanity.

"It looks like it may be a fracture," the nurse admitted. She did not divulge information about patients as a rule. But the feverish intensity of this girl's bright eyes, the agonized pleading in them proved the exception. "I'm afraid he won't walk—or ski—in some time. But the miracle is how—with that leg—he managed to half carry, half drag you on down the mountain, get you on the rescue toboggan, and bring you here. That young man should have a medal for bravery!"

And Sally had called him a coward! She had told him he was one of the real things of life, that he would run away at the foot of the mountain.

SHE buried her head in the pillow. She could not bear to face what she had done. It would be a long time, the nurse said, before Dan could ski. Maybe he never could ski again. Maybe she Sally who loved him with all her heart, with every painful breath—had done this to him.

Her father got there late that afternoon. His relief when he found his beloved daughter, whom he managed to spot as outrageously as everyone else, was not seriously hurt was almost beyond bounds.

"Well, well!" he said in his big booming voice that matched the rest of him, for Sam Blair was a big man in more ways than one. "You came off lucky, as usual, honey. Just a few scratches, eh? Pretty badly shaken up. You must stay quiet a few days though, the doctor says. Then I'll bundle you off home—and no more of this scaring your old Dad half out of his senses!"

"Daddy, there's something you'll have to do for me," Sally said. She reached out for his hand, wanting to hold it. She must make him see this as she did.

"I expect you have only to name it," Her father smiled on her fondly.

SALLY was not sure whether what she wanted was in his power or not. For Sally was learning the bitter lesson that there are some things that even love cannot meet. "It's about Dan Reynolds," she explained. "The boy who brought me here." She repeated what the nurse had told her. "We must do something for him, Daddy."

"Of course we do something for a lad like that," her father said. "We'll see to his doctor bills, all his expenses. He must have the best of everything!"

"I don't mean just that," Sally said. "It was difficult to explain. She did not know what they could do for Dan, the boy who had taken away the one thing he loved, her father from his deep debt of gratitude. "We must find some way to help him afterwards. You see, Daddy," her dark eyes, turned to her father, were filled with a new pain. "Dan may never be able to ski again."

"That is indeed a very sad thing," her father returned soberly. "But we'll fix it somehow. It may not be as bad as you think, my dear. You forget I said this boy is to have the very best care, the finest doctors. And after that—well, we'll manage somehow, to see that the right thing is done by him."

"Oh, Daddy!" It was all Sally could say just then. She clung to her father's hand more tightly. She might have known she could count on him.

But would Dan allow it? Would Dan accept help from the father of the girl who had caused his accident? A girl for whom he had no time, in whom he had refused to believe?

Citrus Pulp New Food For Texas Stock

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 18 (AP)—A waste product that is being used to aid in reducing the cost of stock feed, and possibly in raising the value of other feeds, is dried citrus pulp, according to Dr. S. S. Francis, chief of the chemistry division, Texas A. and M. college experiment station.

The peel, rag and seeds of grapefruit are collected from canneries in the Rio Grande valley, and processed by addition of time to facilitate drying.

The dried product contains about 6 per cent protein, 2.5 per cent fat, 62 per cent nitrogen-free extract and fiber. Feeding tests have indicated good prospective energy value, although low in protein. The productive energy appears to be about 10 per cent less than corn, and is suitable feed for cows, beef cattle or sheep.

Tests indicate citrus pulp is not suitable to form the entire concentrate portion of the cattle ration. When fed in equal amounts with corn, the results compare favorably and are about the same as when corn alone is used. When citrus pulp forms 25 per cent and corn 75 per cent of the concentrate, the results are slightly better than when all corn is fed. This indicates a possible value as an appetizer or amendment to the ration.

In the experiments with dairy cattle, the dried citrus pulp was compared with corn and soy meal and the rations using dried citrus pulp as one-half of the concentrate portion of the ration gave as good results as those in which the corn and soy meal formed one-half. The other half of the concentrate in each case was composed of oats and suitable protein feeds.

20,000 Tons Produced
About 20,000 tons of this material is produced annually. Texas supplying about half of the total, and if the product has unusual value either as a substitute or nutrient, a ready market will be found for the increasing supply in Texas.

Since citrus production in Texas has reached considerable proportions, the output of dried citrus pulp undoubtedly will increase. There is a possibility of utilizing the pulp locally by feeding it wet and avoiding the expense of drying and packing. A widespread use locally would result in savings and in the production of much needed moisture for fertilizers in the Rio Grande valley area.

The experiments with citrus pulp are to be continued on the Texas experiment station in the general program of evaluating the various feedstuffs. Numerous combinations will be employed in the search for confirmation or correction of the present indicated value of this new material.

WPA Plays Praised By Area Supervisor Of Childress

Work of Mrs. Rosemary Roach in directing the two one-act plays, "Sauce for the Gossings" and "The Other Side of the Moon," was praised by Ima G. Newberry of Childress, area supervisor of women's and professional projects for WPA district 16.

The area supervisor saw the plays presented by the Pampa Progress Players in the city hall auditorium Thursday night and wrote a letter to the director commending her work. Mrs. Roach received the letter Saturday.

Proceeding the first play, "The Other Side of the Moon," four songs were played by an accordion band, directed by Bill Haley. In the band were Maxine Hutchinson, Carol Culbertson, Carolyn Sue Lipshy, Ernie Crane, Vada Lee Alden, Bernadine Breining, Patsy Carlton, and Janice Wheatley.

Songs played were "Naughty Waltz," "Song of Old Hawaii," Alcazar's "Bagtime Band," and "Savanne River."

After the first play, and preceding the comedy, "Sauce for the Gossings," accordion solos were given by Vada Lee Alden, who played "Excelsior March," Carolyn Sue Lipshy, "Jingle Bells," Maxine Hutchinson, who played "My Sweetheart."

Members of the dramatic club plan to present their next play in the city auditorium on January 20. Selection of the play and casting

Christmas Lights Up In Panhandle

PANHANDLE, Dec. 18—The streets of Panhandle took on an appearance of holiday festivity last week when colored Christmas lights were strung across the streets. The lights were strung four ways at the intersection of the Highway and Main street, making a pretty effect when the lights are turned on at night.

A unique arrangement in Panhandle is the lighting of the court house done with colored lights. Varied colored lights are strung around all four sides of the clock. This is an unusual decoration and gives a very pleasing appearance. The pine trees on the court house lawn are also lighted.

The Chamber of Commerce sponsors the street lighting, and is paid for by the city. The county pays for the lighting of the court house dome and trees on the lawn.

Gray County Leads Section In Activity

Unusual winter activity was reported in the Panhandle oil field last week when eight wells were completed, one was well gauged and eight new locations staked.

The eight new wells added 4,939 barrels of crude to the field potential. Gray county paced activity with four wells capable of producing 2,243 barrels. Hutchinson county's three wells were good for 2,182 barrels. The other producer was in Carson county.

Carson county also reported the only gas well of the week, tested for 12,803,000 cubic feet.

Three of the eight new locations were staked in Gray county, two each in Carson and Hutchinson counties and one in Moore county. All of the locations were in proven territory with seven being in oil area and one in the gas section of the field.

Largest producer of the week was the Wilma Petroleum Company's No. 3 McKinney in section 163, block 3, I&GN survey, three miles west of Pampa in Gray county, which was given a potential of 875 barrels from lime formation.

Completions by counties:

In Gray County:
Bradshaw Oil & Gas Company No. 8 Ruby Sackett, section 149, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 427 barrels with pay in lime formation between 3,200 and 3,293 feet.
Cities Service Oil Company, No. B-1 Wall, section 162, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 559 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,208 to 3,293 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 23, Pee Land 227, section 11, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 482 barrels with pay between 2,795 and 2,860 feet in lime. The hole was drilled to a total depth of 2,874 feet.

Wilma Petroleum Company No. 3 McKinney, section 163, block 3, I&GN survey, was given a potential of 875 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,238 to 3,304 feet.

In Hutchinson County:
Dolomite Production Company No. 4 Perkins, section 3, McDonald survey, gauged 702 barrels with lime pay between 3,000 and 3,067 feet.

Cy Rieger No. 4 Hodges, section 28, block M-23, TCR survey, gauged 771 barrels. Lime formation was between 3,229 and 3,250 feet.

Cy Rieger No. B-4 Hodges, section 14, block Z-02, L. A. Patillo survey, gauged 609 barrels with pay from 3,021 to 3,065 feet in lime.

In Carson County:
The Texas Company No. 5 Cooper, section 6, block 9, I&GN survey, tested 514 barrels with lime pay between 3,090 and 3,131 feet.

Gas well tested:
Northern Natural Gas Company No. 1 Hodges, section 67, block 7, I&GN survey, gauged 12,803,000 cubic feet.

Intentions to drill:
Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 244 No. 49, 440 feet from the north and east lines of N 1/4 of section 89, block 4, I&GN survey, Carson county.

Cities Service Gas Company Burnett Estate No. 28, 1,320 feet from the south and east lines of section 38, block 4, I&GN survey, Carson county.

Nelson Plays Vibraharp For Kiwanis Club

Music by Arthur Nelson, director of the choir of the First Baptist church, and a talk on the furniture industry by Guy E. McTaggart were on the program of the regular weekly luncheon of the Pampa Kiwanis club at noon Friday at the Schneider hotel. Tex DeWeese was in charge of the program.

Mr. Nelson played a vibraharp and sang two songs.

Frank Harris made a report on the ticket sales by Pampa civic clubs for the Flower Bowl classic between the Pampa Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary clubs, and a team representing the civic clubs of Phillips and Borger. The game was played here on December 8.

Ticket sales by the local Kiwanis club grossed $171, while those of the Lions and Rotary clubs were $200 and $225, respectively.

Attendance at the luncheon was 55, including one visitor, Jack Davis of Oklahoma City, a guest of Fred Cullum.

In a fight between two elephants, housed in winter quarters, one pushed the other through a solid brick wall 14 inches thick.
