HOUSE PASSES HOOVER FARM BILL

33 Killed By Tornadoes In Georgia And South Carolina

EASTERN AREA CATCHES FURY OF TWISTERS

Scores Reported Injured In Five Separate Scenes Of Disaster

BLIZZARD KILLS TWO

Wyoming Gripped by Its Worst April Storm In History

Thirty-three persons were reported killed in tornadoes in Georgia and South Carolina Thursday night. The twisters, having apparently shifted eastward from Texas, dipped into five separate districts of the two southeastern states.

Wyoming's April blizzard claimed its second victim Thursday night.

MACON, Ga., April 25. (AP)—One person was known to have been killed at Rentz, Ga., and more than a score were reported killed at Cochran, Ga., by a tornado that swept South Central Georgia late today.

An overseer on a plantation near Cochran telephoned that 35 persons were killed by the twister which swept the edge of the town wrecking a score of buildings, but later he said 17 were dead.

He placed the number of injured at between 40 and 50. Other reports said the dead at Cochran numbered ten. Cochran is a town of about 2,000 inhabitants 40 miles southwest of Macon.

Reports over meagre telephone facilities said the greatest damage was in the outskirts of the town and in adjacent rural communities. The town of Helena also was reported struck by the tornado, but the report was unverified.

A child was known to have been killed at Rentz, where a group of farm buildings were demolished and several persons injured.

13 KILLED IN METTER VICINITY

METTER, Ga., April 25. (AP)—Twelve persons, most of them negroes, were killed tonight by a tornado that struck Chandler county shortly after 8 o'clock.

Swooping down out of the southwest, the twister struck a portion of this town, wrecking seven houses, killing Mrs. J. T. Tratnell, 68, and inflicting minor injuries on four other occupants of the house.

The greatest loss of life and property was in the rural sections of the county where 11 persons were killed and more than a score injured. The twister wrecked telephone lines to such an extent that a checkup on the extent of the damage tonight almost was impossible.

Prizes Posted For Champ Anglers Of Opening Day

Largest Bass and Largest Crappie to Draw Handsome Awards; Record Crowd Predicted at Three Big Lakes

Recognition of the champion angler of the Wichita Falls area, at least so far as opening day is concerned, will be made here within less than a week under the terms of a contest arranged by The Record News and sporting goods dealers of the city Thursday in celebration of the first day of the 1929 fishing season.

Both cash and merchandise prizes have been posted for the largest bass and largest crappie taken on opening day in the Wichita Falls area. There are no strings to the contest, and few rulings. Awards will be made by competent judges on the basis of weight. Scales will be maintained in the lobby of the Times Publishing company and an expert weigher on hand to record the catch.

For Largest Catch

For the cash awards, The Record News is offering $10 for the largest bass and $10 for the largest crappie. Sears-Roebuck and company is posting a tackle box selling for $7.98 for the second largest bass. Thurman's, with stores on Seventh street and Monroe street, has offered $5 in any kind of merchandise in the store for the bass, and $5 for the crappie. The Bailey-Moline Hardware company is giving a minnow bucket for the bass, while Montgomery Ward and company will give $5 on any fishing tackle for the bass. The Noble-Little Hardware company is offering a regular $10 Shakespeare Classic reel for the largest bass, with specification that the winner must be weighed on the company's scales before 6 p. m. May 2. In this event the fish may be caught on either the first or the second day after the opening, while on other events the fish must be caught on the first day, but may be brought in as late as noon on May 2 with proper certification that the catch was made opening day. The scene of operations will be Lake Kemp, Lake Wichita and Diversion lake. Anglers may choose their own tackle or charms and follow their own systems. Prizes will be awarded in order of the largest fish, the angler taking his choice of prizes according to his standing in the list. Other awards may be added to the list and will be announced later.

Many Visitors Expected

With the first day of the season less than a week off, indications are that the largest crowd in history will trek to the lakes beginning at midnight Tuesday night for the first fishing here in three months. In addition to the hundreds of Wichitans who annually open the angling season, many visitors from other Texas cities will be here for the day. Reports of the heavy catch in the lakes here, and of the fine sport offered because of the protection given game fish in the Wichita area, will attract many sportsmen to Wichita Falls as guests for the first few days fishing.

A canvass of sporting goods dealers by The Record News Thursday showed unusually heavy sales of every type of equipment, from expensive casting rods and reels to the more conservative cane poles and small hooks. Minnow salesmen and dealers also reported a heavy "pre-season" rush of orders, one man reporting that a party of Wichita and Fort Worth sportsmen had ordered 1,000 extra large minnows for a try at the big bass in Lake Kemp opening day. New lines and leaders to replace those worn and rotted during the last season also have met a heavy demand. Conservative dealers refused to indicate whether the trend is to artificial or live bait. "Name your own" they were telling anglers.

GOING BACK

Ku Klux Klan Abandons Capital for Return To Atlanta

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The Ku Klux Klan has decided to move back home.

On July 1 the headquarters which have been maintained in Washington for the last two years will be reestablished at Atlanta. The report of this was confirmed by one of the high ranking officials of the order with the explanation that it was believed more effective work could be carried on from Atlanta. The general belief here, however, is that while the Ku Klux Klan exerted a powerful effect on the last presidential election and spent heavily of its funds there has been no marked growth and that current returns will not warrant retention of expensive headquarters and high priced staff maintained in Washington.

JURY UPHOLDS 'DRY' KILLER

Roy Smith Exonerated On Slaying Charge

AURORA, Ill., April 25. (US)—Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith, who shot and killed Mrs. Lillian de King during an alleged dry raid on her home, tonight was exonerated by a grand jury on a refusal to indict him.

At the same time, however, the jury debated for two hours over the advisability of indicting the dead woman's husband, Joseph de King, on charges of violation of the state prohibition act. Action on this was deferred.

One true bill was returned by the jury. This was aimed at Eugene Boyd Fairchild, a $5-a-day dry snooper, and charges perjury. Fairchild, formerly a member of State's Attorney George D. Carbary's staff, has labeled himself "the goat." Fairchild has admitted perjury in the making of the affidavit which brought the raid on the De King home.

Attorneys Albert J. Kelley and Arthur R. Milroy, representatives of the De King family and appointed to assist in the prosecutions growing out of the grand jury action, expressed bewilderment at the failure of the inquisitorial body to indict Smith.

"It is beyond belief that he wasn't at least indicted for manslaughter," Mr. Kelley said.

"It appears that everybody concerned in this murder has been given a halo. And, if they should go as far as to indict the poor husband of that murdered woman, then Kane county would be doing no less than indicting him because his wife was killed in an illegal raid on her home."

Newspaper Officials Summoned for Probe

WASHINGTON, April 25. (INS)—The federal trade commission, which is investigating the sale of the Boston Herald and the Boston Traveller to the International Paper and Power company, announced today that subpoenaes have been issued for four officers of the two concerns.

The investigation is being conducted into the "power trust" angle of the deal.

Big Leaguer Sued For Divorce by His Mate

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 25. (INS)—Wayland O. Dean, former pitcher of the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Nationals, and now reported to be "owned" by the St. Louis American league team, was sued for a divorce and alimony in the Franklin county courts here today by his wife, Ruby S. Dean.

Texas Senators Receive Telegraphic Protest to Approval of O. B. Colquitt

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—A telegram of protest signed by 19 Texas state senators over the confirmation of Oscar B. Colquitt to a place on the United States Board of Mediation to which he has been named by President Hoover was received today by Senators Connally and Sheppard.

Senator Connally declined to reveal the names of the state senators signing the round robin until he had first ascertained whether those so signing wished the protest filed with the senate committee on interstate commerce which now has the Colquitt nomination before it. In the event it is filed the names will be revealed.

The telegram declared that Colquitt represents no political group in Texas and then asserts "his having varying political affiliations evidence a lack of political integrity which has made him obnoxious to the great mass of sincere citizens in this state."

It is further set forth that while the place to which Colquitt has been named is not by law a Democratic position, it has been constantly held by Democrats and heretofore offered to Democrats so that by custom it should be considered a Democratic place.

Colquitt still expresses the belief that he can meet any objection which can be raised to him before the committee and attributes the fight being made on him to former Gov. James E. Ferguson and former Lieut. Gov. Lynch Davidson.

TOM FINTY JR., NOTED TEXAS WRITER, DIES

Illness Fatal for Veteran Dallas and Galveston Journalist

WORK WIDELY READ

Editor of Dallas Journal Pioneered in Writing Texas Politics

DALLAS, April 25. (AP) — Tom Finty Jr., 61, a director of the O. H. Belo corporation, publishers of the Dallas Morning News, and one of the most widely known newspapermen in Texas, died at his home here tonight after a long illness.

Mr. Finty recently had returned from a resort at Battle Creek, Mich., where he had sought to regain his health. After a period of severe illness he appeared to be recovering, only to suffer a last relapse.

Helped Development.

For 31 years he was connected with the Dallas News, Galveston News and Dallas Journal as correspondent, reporter, editorial executive, legal counsel and director.

During his long service with the Belo corporation, Mr. Finty gave largely of his time to numerous constructive endeavors for the development of the state and its principal cities. Many of his newspaper articles were reprinted in book or pamphlet form and were widely read throughout Texas and the Southwest.

In recent years Mr. Finty created the mythical character of Col Bill S. Crooge, "the well known Nelson county cowman," and through this medium enlivened Texas politics and the material aspects of community life with a series of articles embodying wit and homely philosophy. These articles were widely read and quoted.

Studied Law

Nothwithstanding the manifold duties of his newspaper connections, Mr. Finty found time for many related endeavors. He was a member of the Texas Press association, the Texas Editorial association, Southwestern Political and Social Science association, and chairman of the libel committee of the Texas Newspaper Publishers association.

Mr. Finty was born in Zenia, Ill., Oct. 1, 1867. He came to Texas in 1887. While working as a court stenographer he studied law and was admitted to the Texas bar in 1894. It was in this year that he began his newspaper work first as a correspondent in an East Texas town for the Galveston News and Dallas News, and later as a reporter and city editor on the Galveston Tribune. In 1901 he became political editor for the Galveston News and Dallas News. He held this post until 1914, establishing a statewide acquaintance and reputation for his intimate knowledge of Texas men and affairs.

In 1914 he became an editorial executive and legal counsel for the Galveston News and Dallas News and was chosen editor of the Dallas Journal, established that year. He became a director in the A. H. Belo corporation in 1919 and retained several positions with the corporation until his death.

Surviving relatives include the widow and one daughter, Miss Evelyn Finty.

VERNON TO AID AT PRESS MEET

Special Train to Take Editors to Neighbor City

The Texas Press association will hold its 1929 convention in Wichita Falls on June 12, 13 and 14, according to action taken Wednesday morning at a meeting of the executive committee of the organization in Dallas.

Ray H. Nichols, editor and publisher of the Vernon Record, extended the invitation on behalf of this city. With Fort Worth and San Angelo also bidding for the convention, Wichita Falls was selected by a vote of 5 to 1, the report from Dallas stated. The meet originally had been planned for Mineral Wells, but had to be transferred, it was said, when it was learned that a new hotel there could not be completed before convention time.

According to Mr. Nichols, between 300 and 400 newspaper men from all over the state will be present at the annual gathering. According to plans thus far made for the event, he said, visiting members of the association will be taken to Vernon by train on the night of June 13, entertained in that city over night, and brought back the following morning before the opening session of the day's program. Vernon also will stand ready to assist this city in any other way, Mr. Nichols said, in the entertainment of the convention.

Committee of Solons To Visit Hospital Here

AUSTIN, April 25. (AP)—A subcommittee of the house committee on eleemosynary institutions will leave tomorrow for a three-day trip to San Angelo, Abilene, Wichita Falls and Gainesville. Members of the group, who will be accompanied by S. W. Ramsey, secretary of the state board of control, are Representatives V. E. Conway, Commerce; John Rogers, Center, and W. H. Wiggs, Paris.

The state tubercular sanitarium at San Angelo, state asylum at Wichita Falls, epileptic colony at Abilene, and girls' training school at Gainesville will be visited.

Beer Preferred By Leviathan Patrons

ON BOARD THE S. S. Leviathan, April 25.—The preference of Americans, at least in so far as the Leviathan passengers are representative Americans, for beer over heavy liquors, and even wines, has been amply demonstrated on this voyage the first westward journey of this vessel since 1923 when beer, wines and liquors have been sold to passengers.

Party 'For Men Only' Barred by Faculty

NORMAN, Okla., April 25. (UP)—A midnight party "for men only" to be held Friday night at the University of Oklahoma was barred by the faculty today. The faculty held it did not believe it would be "proper kind of party for college students."

The party was to have been given by Alpha Delta Sigma, an advertising fraternity.

Prominent Grocer Dies At Victoria, Texas

VICTORIA, Texas, April 25. (INS)—Robert L. Groce, 67, president and general manager of the Groce-Parrish company, extensive Texas wholesale grocery firm, died suddenly at his home here today from a heart ailment.

Canada and U. S. Agree to Submit Sinking of I'm Alone to Arbitration

WASHINGTON, April 25. (UP)—Canada and the United States have agreed to submit the I'm Alone incident to arbitration after an exchange of correspondence in which Canada challenged this government's statement of facts and interpretation of law and in which Secretary of State Stimson praised and justified the coast guard for its part in the pursuit and sinking of the Canadian rum smuggler.

The sinking, Stimson said, was "inevitable." Canada has requested "redress."

Two Notes Exchanged

Two Canadian notes and two American notes were made public by the state department today along with an opinion from Attorney General Mitchell justifying the coast guard action. The I'm Alone was sunk 200 miles off the Louisiana coast after a chase originating just off the American coast.

That some such outstanding statesmen as Frank B. Kellogg, Elihu Root or Charles Evans Hughes would be asked to represent the United States in arbitral proceeding was unofficially rumored here today. As discussed in the Canadian-American correspondence, the I'm Alone incident transcends mere liquor smuggling importance and becomes the nub of a perplexing problem of international law involving interpretation of the age-old doctrine of freedom of the seas.

Treaty Disputed

The question of international law is whether the anti-smuggling treaty in force between the United States and all members of the British empire has extended the area of coastal waters from which this government may pursue, seize or sink a vessel engaged in violating domestic law.

"The adoption by the United States of a policy of national prohibition of the importation, manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, differing materially from the policies in regard to control of the liquor traffic which were inforce in the majority of countries," said the first Canadian note delivered April 9, "inevitably foreshadowed international difficulties through the likelihood of smuggling operations on a large scale."

Texas Boxer Killed By Fight Injuries

ST. JO RAILS READY JUNE 1

Katy Spends $890,000 On Montague Improvements

Preparation of a new right-of-way and building of new railroad tracks over a stretch of several miles between Nocona and St. Jo at a cost of approximately $890,000, will be completed by the M.-K.-T. railway about June 1, according to information given at local offices of the road Thursday.

The relocation of the right-of-way and reducing of the grade in Montague county just west of St. Jo was planned for the purpose of eliminating the long, troublesome grade known among members of the rail fraternity as "St. Jo hill." About four miles of new track was required, it was said, to provide a suitable detour around the unfavorable terrain. A considerable number of cuts through hills, and building of grades, have been involved in the task.

The work has been under way for several months, local officials stated, under the direct supervision of St. Louis officials.

According to United Press dispatches from Dallas, Katy officials announced Thursday that approximately $450,000 will be spent soon in enlarging locomotive terminal facilities in Fort Worth.

Tulia Fire Does $50,000 Damage

TULIA, Texas, April 25. (AP)—A $50,000 fire here today destroyed the wholesale plant of the Magnolia Petroleum company, a part of the wholesale plant of the Gulf Production company, and six box cars loaded with lumber and general merchandise. The cause was undetermined.

Electra Store Looters Undetected After Bagging Women's 'Silkies'

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, April 25.—Enough dresses, silk hose, silk undies and whatnots to start a small store on Main street of almost any Texas community was the loot secured early today from Miss Loma Walker's shop here by two tasty underworlders who knew their silkies.

In the dark, early hours, it was not practical to flash a light, of course, but the burglars gave evidence of having a well-developed sense of touch, as investigators later found over 100 silk dresses gone, whereas hordes of "wash" dresses were found piled aside.

The burglars entered the shop through a hole they had sawed in the floor of their room at the Morris hotel located directly above the Walker shop. The loot apparently was lifted from the shop by a rope.

Loss will approximate $3,000, it was said. Although city and county officers were at work on the case, the two men, who checked out of the hotel shortly after the robbery, had not been apprehended Thursday night.

MEASURE WITH NO DEBENTURE PLAN SENT UP

Passage Marks President's First Victory In Congress

AMENDMENTS FAIL

Majority of 367 to 34 Is Given Proposal To Help Farmer

By ARTHUR HACHTEN

WASHINGTON, April 25. (US)—By the overwhelming vote of 367 to 34, the house today passed the administration's farm relief bill, authorizing $500,000,000 for a new board to use in assisting farmer-owned and farmer-controlled organizations in orderly marketing of crops.

Thus President Hoover scored his first major victory in congress, as the house bill has received his approval in principle. It contains no export debenture plan, equalization fee or other system to which he is opposed.

Two Republicans Against

Only two Republicans voted against the bill. They were Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts, and Stafford of Wisconsin. The rest were Democrats and included most of the Tammany members from New York.

Sixty-six amendments, offered chiefly by Democrats, were smothered during debate by the smoothly-working Republican "steam-roller." Three clarifying amendments acceptable to the house agriculture committee were adopted.

No major bill in recent years was subjected to such a barrage of amendments as the farm bill, but not a single one undesired by the administration forces was adopted.

Jones' Change Fails

A last-minute attempt was made by Representative Jones, Democrat of Texas, to have adopted the export debenture plan. A point of order against the amendment was made by Representative Williams, Republican of Michigan, who asserted it was not germane.

Representative Snell, Republican of New York, chairman of the rules committee, and Representative Denison, Republican of Michigan, as chairman of the committee of the whole, sustained the point of order. The debenture plan was thus scuttled without a record vote.

Board of Six

As the bill goes to the senate, it calls for creation of a federal farm board of six members, with the secretary of agriculture serving ex-officio, "to promote the effective merchandising of agricultural commodities in interstate and foreign commerce, and to place agriculture on a basis of economic quality with other industries."

The president may appoint the members of the board from any section of the country he desires. Confirmation by the senate is the only limitation. Each member of the board would receive $12,000 a

CIVIL SERVICE GETS INTO JAM

Committee Reports Bill Despite Absentees

AUSTIN, April 25. (AP)—Legality of the house state affairs committee's action in considering and reporting favorably Governor Moody's civil service bill with both the chairman and vice chairman of the committee absent may be tested when the measure comes up on the floor of the house, it was indicated tonight.

Representative DeWolfe of Goldthwaite said today that he had asked the attorney general for a ruling on the regularity of the committee's disposition of the measure in the absence of Representatives Storey of Vernon and Ackerman of Navasota, chairman and vice chairman, respectively.

In the event the attorney general's opinion fixes ground for his action DeWolfe will attempt to have the house re-refer the bill to the committee.

The committee report on the bill was signed by Bradley of Houston as acting chairman. Bradley said he understood he had been appointed by Speaker Barron.

Truman O'Quin secretary of the committee, was not present at the meeting, but a temporary secretary was chosen to record the minutes. There was not a roll call vote on reporting the bill favorably, the 14 members present expressing themselves viva voce. Several members voted no, and the claim was made that there was an even division.

Long of Wichita Falls, in favor of a civil service bill, and others, expressed regret at the manner in which the bill was voted out and expressed fear that it would endanger its final passage.

Long said he had some amendments he had hoped to offer to the original bill before the committee, believing they would strengthen the measure. He said he believed the committee room was the best place to discuss proposed changes rather than on the floor of the house.

Oklahoma Bandits Take $10,000 in Bank Raid

QUAPAW, Okla., April 25. (UP)—Two armed bandits escaped today with between $8,000 and $10,000, after forcing the cashier, assistant cashier, and two national bank examiners in the First National bank to lie down on the floor while they scooped up the money from the tills.

The bandits escaped in a new Ford car. One was dressed in a black overcoat, the other in gray. Ottawa county authorities late today were seeking the bandit pair.

LAFAYETTE, La., April 25. (AP)—Five students have been dismissed from Southwestern Institute here as a result of the recent freshman hair clipping episode, President E. L. Stephens announced today.

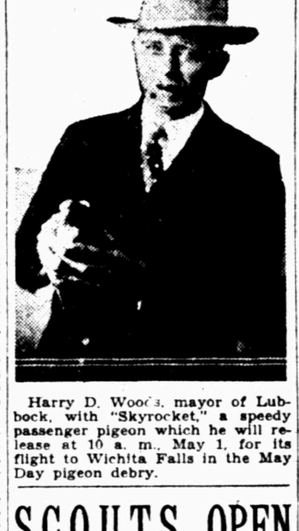

Stop Rheumatic Pain With Prescription A-2851

Local druggists who are dispensing Prescription A-2851 are all loud in their praise of what it will do. It doesn't seem to matter whether the condition is of long standing and the pain constant, or whether only occasional twinges are felt—Prescription A-2851 seems to go right to the seat of the trouble and knock out the pain.

While this particular prescription was compounded especially for rheumatic conditions—it has also proven successful in many forms of gout, neuritis and sciatic nerve pain.

Tear out this announcement and hand it to your druggist, or be sure to remember the name—Prescription A-2851. In liquid or pill form. There is nothing else so good to drive out rheumatism.

SCOUTS OPEN MEET TODAY

Camp Fire Program First Event on Schedule

More than 400 boys will attend the Boy Scout field meet here Friday night and Saturday, Frank B. Creighton, local scout executive, said Thursday.

Troops from Henrietta, Vernon, Petrolia, Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Archer City, and Seymour, as well as scores of boys from local troops will take part in the meet.

Fifty tents will be set up Friday in the lower end of Weeks park where the scouts will camp Friday night, Mr. Creighton said. All scouts must supply their own bedding and enough food for three meals.

The burning of an old American flag will be the feature of the camp fire program Friday night which will last from 7:30 until 11 o'clock. Prizes of scout goods and materials will be given to the winners of the events in the field program which will last all day Saturday.

Scout leaders of this area who will assist Mr. Creighton in the program are as follows: W. B. Ward, master of ceremonies; Bill McClure, arrangement of grounds; J. H. Sullivan, sanitary detail; Paul Barnett, water and wood; Don Ross, prizes; J. H. Kauffman, chief judge, and Taylor Cash, leader of the camp fire program Friday night.

Entire Texas Crop Of Mohair Reported Sold

SAN ANGELO, April 25. (AP)—Sale of 6,000,000 pounds of spring mohair practically the entire Texas crop, has been reported here at a minimum price of 52 cents for grown hair and 65 cents for kid. The last of the transactions included about 1,000,000 pounds from Producers Wool and Mohair Co., and Del Rio Wool and Mohair Co., at Del Rio today.

134 Gallons of Whisky Captured in Dallas

DALLAS, April 25. (UP)—One hundred and thirty-four gallons of red corn whisky was held at police headquarters here tonight as the proceeds from the arrest of two rum runners and their cargoes early today.

The men are believed to be members of a group of bootleggers, transporting whisky and gin from huge distilleries in or near Fort Worth. They are to be indicted under the Jones law.

HOUSE PASSES FARM AID BILL

Hoover Measure Accorded Huge Majority

year, except the chairman, whose term of office would be at the pleasure of the president and whose salary would be fixed by the president.

Other members of the board would each serve for six years, after the board gets under way. At the outset, two appointed would serve for two years, two for four years, and one for six years.

Loans Provided

This board is empowered to advance loans to farmers' cooperative-marketing associations or farmer-owned commodity stabilization corporations for the purpose of storing commodities and orderly marketing. The interstate rate would be left to the board to fix.

Authority to make loans to cooperatives for construction of warehouses and other marketing facilities, where privately-owned facilities are not available at reasonable rates is vested in the board. And it may sell insurance against loss on commodities to cooperatives.

Provision is made for commodity advisory board to consult the federal board, and authority to establish commodity clearing houses also is given to the board.

There is a provision in the bill prohibiting farmer organizations from causing prices of their commodities to reach such high levels as to cause distress among consumers. But when Representative LaGuardia, Republican, of New York, tried to amend this provision with a view to putting "teeth" in it, he was shouted down.

The administration-backed house bill is facing a stormy path in the senate. Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, today called upon President Hoover and told him he was in favor of the export debenture plan.

Senator Frazier, Republican of North Dakota, delivered an attack upon President Hoover's program in the senate, following the lead of Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, in "breaking" with the president on farm relief.

Frazier said he supported Mr. Hoover for the presidency as the "lesser of two evils," but that he could not go along with him in his farm program.

Sumners Leads Fight

A major battle occurred in the house on provisions in the administration bill that the proposed federal farm board may refuse to grant loans to co-operative associations, when the money may be used to aggravate an existing problem of surplus crops.

Representative Sumners, Democrat of Texas, led the fight to knock out that section of the bill, contending it was too much authority to vest in the board, and that to discriminate between prospective borrowers on that ground would be unfair.

Representative Rankin, Democrat of Mississippi, contended that this provision, in effect, would take away the rights of farmers to plant as much seed as they desired, after they had become a part of the co-operative marketing scheme. It will keep farmers out of co-operatives, he said.

A dozen amendments were offered by Democrats to modify this section of the bill, but they were smothered by the coalition "steam roller."

Garage Employe Hurt When Car Is Smashed

T. B. Simpson, employe of Lightsey's Storage garage, suffered severe cuts about the face when the glass of an automobile door crashed into his face at Scott avenue and Eighth street.

Mr. Simpson was injured when the door of the car flew open and struck a passing car, breaking the window. He was given first aid treatment at the Wichita General hospital and released.

Man Slightly Hurt In Auto Collision

F. M. Copeland suffered minor injuries when the automobile in which he was riding collided with another car in the 400 block on Fort Worth street Thursday afternoon.

He was released after being given first aid treatment at a local hospital, according to reports made at police headquarters.

CARNIVAL

Travis School Pupils To Give Variety of Stunts At Show Tonight

Preparations were completed Thursday for the annual Travis school carnival to be given Friday evening in the school building, the proceeds to go toward financing extra school activities.

Teachers and students have been working for weeks perfecting the eight main performances, which, with numerous side-show booths, will be included in the festival.

Prize fighters, fortune tellers, lariat tossing cow-boys and roving gypsies, all have a part in the program which will come to a conclusion in a minstrel show to be given by the fifth and sixth grade students.

The halls and rooms of the school are gay with flags, bunting, posters, and curtains, all a colorful background for the carnival spirit which already infects the students.

JUNIOR C.-C. LUNCH TODAY

Committees to Complete Appreciation Plans

Indications Thursday night pointed to a banner attendance at the luncheon to be held by the junior chamber of commerce Friday noon at the Kemp hotel, according to officials of the organization.

Preparations for the inauguration of "Appreciation Week," which opens Saturday noon with a radio talk by Orville Bullington, chamber of commerce president, will include reports of three committees which met Thursday afternoon to perfect plans for three separate days of next week. These reports will detail the observance of industrial and labor day; schools, hospitals, and clinics day; and merchants day, as it is to be carried out under the guidance of the junior chamber of commerce.

Speakers will appear in four minute talk at most of the churches here Sunday, it was stated, to explain the purpose and program of Appreciation week, and special reference to the "civic revival" will be made in the sermons of local pastors.

Efforts are being made by Walter Nelson Jr., president of the junior business group, to make the luncheon to be held Monday noon at the Wichita club a key-note meeting for the entire week. All the business and professional men of the city are being invited to attend this gathering. Among the speakers for the occasion will be Carter McGregor, vice president of the First National bank; Wilkie Talbert, of the Wichita Falls Building and Loan association, and J. C. Mytinger, real estate and grain man. It was stated that one other prominent speaker would be added to the program for the Monday luncheon, and that musical entertainment also was being arranged.

Plans were being formed Thursday for a public street party to be held in the downtown district about 7:30 p. m. on Saturday, May 4, to be followed by a free dance to all those wishing to attend. The place for the ball had not been selected.

MANGUM YOUTH KILLED BY CAR

Auto Hits Boy as He Steps Onto Highway

Special to The Record News

MANGUM, Okla., April 25.—Jim Mullins, 18, was killed instantly near here today when he was struck by a passing car as he stepped from his automobile on to the pavement.

The car which struck Mullins was occupied by O. D. Holton and Tom Burgess, both of Wellington, Texas. An investigation was conducted into the accident by Sheriff S. H. Tittle and Count Attorney Hollis Arnett, who announced later that no charges would be filed in the affair, as the accident appeared unavoidable.

Mullins had stepped from his car to enter a house on the Mangum-Altus road near here.

Funeral services were set for Friday afternoon. Interment is to be at the Corinth cemetery near Hester.

State Finance Group Visits A. & M. College

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, April 25. (UP)—Stopping here on their tour of East Texas state institutions, members of the state finance committee visited the A. & M. college of Texas today. The group was headed by Senator Thomas G. Pollard of Tyler, chairman.

From here, the visitors went to Huntsville and Nacogdoches, prior to returning to Austin for the reconvening of the senate on Monday.

New Bridge May Wait Removal Of River Gas Main

Removal of a gas main crossing Wichita river at the point laid out for a pier of the new Scott avenue bridge will be necessary before work of laying the foundation for the pier can be completed, J. M. Isbell, county engineer, declared Thursday after a visit to the structure.

The main is a part of the system operated by the North Texas Utilities company, furnishing industrial fuel to the city. George D. Fairtrace, city manager, has requested the company to make the necessary change and has been told that the work will be done as soon as authority is received from the company headquarters in Kansas City, Mr. Fairtrace said Thursday night.

At the rate the pouring of concrete for the abutments and piers is progressing, immediate action on the part of the company will be necessary to avoid delay, Mr. Isbell said.

Engineers Talk Shop At Dallas Meeting

DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—Divisional meetings, having to do with city planning, sanitation, irrigation and surveying and mapping, featured the second day of the spring convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers here today.

Outstanding among the special features was an address by Ignacio Lopez Bancalari of Mexico City, director of the comision nacional de irrigacion. His talk, technical, explained how, through conservation of water flowing to the valleys, the water supply of Mexico for public use and irrigation is made ample for the needs of a vast population.

Here's A Wonderful Emulsion For Stubborn Hang-On Coughs

You Must Get Results or Money Back

When nothing seems to do that lingering, bothersome cough any good just go to Allison Drug Co. and get a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion.

Take it as directed and notice how easily it overcomes that persistent cough that has caused you many sleepless nights.

It's a medicine compounded for the purpose of conquering tough, hang-on coughs, and that's exactly what it does—quickly and thoroughly.

There is no dope in Bronchuline Emulsion, nor chloroform, nor sugar—such things are only makeshifts and should be taken with the greatest caution.

For ordinary simple coughs two or three doses of Bronchuline Emulsion is usually enough.

Allison Drug Co. and dealers everywhere can supply you.—Adv.

MID-SEASON A GOOD TIME TO FASHION-HUNT AT P. B. M.'S

Just as fast as fashions change, P. B. M. company changes with them.

And fashion changes are frequent these spring days. Just now our departments are resplendent with a complete stock of fine spring merchandise.

It is the high tide of the spring fashion season!

A fashion-hunting trip through P. B. M.'s, Vogue in hand, to guide you, will prove our fashion alertness and that we had rather be right than first.

For example, Vogue, April 27th says, "Light coat over dark dress." We suggest light beige coat with ermine trim over dark crepe Emmett Joyce dress.

Our modes are selected thoughtfully from only the best designers; achieved in long wearing materials and in fashions that will live a long season.

An eventful hunt to you.

ALIEN FORGERY TRADE GROWS

State Department Studies Spurious Papers

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Wholesale and constant forgery and counterfeiting of documents to secure the admission of aliens into the United States have been brought to the attention of the state department.

The forged documents against which the department is now building a vigilance system include American passports, passport visas, birth certifications and papers to be presented by aliens for permission to enter the United States.

Forgery of American passports alone, insofar as it has come to the attention of the state department, has doubled this year as compared with previous years. While the number of forged passports is only an exceedingly small percentage of the total number of 188,000 passports issued by the department, the present figures show that the trade is growing.

Forged American passport visas are unofficially estimated at about 100 annually. The American consular officials abroad issued 369,500 visas to foreigners desiring to enter the United States last year.

Still more serious is the forgery of documents, such as birth certificates and family records to prove citizenship in a country other than that in which the applicant for a visa was born. Through the efforts of one American consul abroad, a document "forgery mill" was uncovered recently in one European country and 70 persons were found to have been permitted to enter the United States under fraudulent papers made in the "mill."

Texas May Cede Arkansas Small Tract of Ground

TEXARKANA, April 25. (AP)—Texas may cede Arkansas a small portion of a city block as a solution of the Texarkana federal building problems, under plans being discussed by citizens of both states and by federal authorities at Washington.

If the plot is transferred, Arkansas would be able to erect an enlarged federal building with federal court quarters all in Arkansas. Half of the postoffice quarters would be in each state. The plan also would permit opening of state line avenue in such a way as to remedy a serious traffic problem.

A search of the laws of both states and federal statutes is said to have shown no legal obstacles to the plan, and its adoption would eliminate a local difficulty that has been a subject of controversy for many years. A sum of $450,000 has been alloted to Texarkana for the proposed building.

Krohn Gives Talk At Rotary Club Luncheon

Dr. T. R. Krohn gave a classification talk on "Osteopathy" at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club Thursday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Plans for the annual dinner and officers' installation at the Wichita Falls Golf and County club Thursday night were completed at the Thursday session under the direction of Horrace Robbins.

RELIC FOUND

Thorn From Christ's Crown at Calvary Believed Discovered

BERLIN, April 25. (US)—Discovery of a thorn believed to be from the crown of thorns worn by Jesus Christ at his crucifixion was made today by the Rev. Balluff, of St. Peter's church, at Waldsee, near Stuttgart.

The thorn was hidden in a small oval shaped niche laid out in pure silver in baroque style in the altar crucifix. The thorn is one inch long and is covered by a metallic material of blue color for protection against atmospheric destruction.

The niche bears the engraved inscription: "De Spinean Christi Cotona."

A GOOD HABIT

Not so many years ago; brushing the teeth was a custom followed by only a few; today its benefits are so apparent that cleansing the teeth is a habit.

Now people are realizing that proper care of the feet is also necessary and are using Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic, healing powder for the feet because it takes the friction from the shoes, relieves tired, aching, smarting feet and takes the sting out of corns and bunions.

If you would walk all day or dance all night and never think about your feet, shake into your shoes each morning some Allen's Foot-Ease or sprinkle it in the foot bath. Sold at all Drug and Toilet Goods counters. For free trial package and a Foot-Ease Walking Doll, address Allen's Foot-Ease, LeRoy, N. Y.

Men Weakening as Women Get More Sturdy, Say Physical Educators

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—The painful (from a masculine standpoint) picture of the husband sitting at home rocking the baby and the wife earning the family livelihood by the sweat of her carefully powdered brow is presented at the convention of the Midwest Society of Physical Education.

Speakers pointed out that woman is the athletic member of the modern family while the men, eschewing vigorous exercise, are steadily becoming enfeebled, anaemic, sallow and a lot of other pathetic adjectives as they sit in their offices.

The practice of wife beating, unless the trend is corrected, may entirely disappear, the educators suggested, because man in time won't be man enough to exercise any cave man perogatives.

E. C. Delaporte, retiring president, was about the only speaker to give men a break. He said the boy of today may grow to be a better man than his dad. He based this on the prospect of the five-hour day and the five-day week which would enable boys to improve themselves physically and mentally.

UNCLE SAM HAS BULGING PURSE

Surplus of $100,000,000 Is Expected

WASHINGTON, April 25. (UP)—A surplus in government finances in excess of $100,000,000 on June 30 was assured today by announcement that collections for the fiscal year are $73,799,937 ahead of returns a year ago.

Far exceeding treasury expectations, income tax returns in March total $595,987,410 and brought the total collected during the current fiscal year to $1,689,165,158, figures of the international revenue bureau showed today.

Treasury statisticans have revised their estimates in the light of the new figures and now predict a surplus more than $100,000,000. Previously a deficit of $34,000,000 was considered likely, through this was turned into an indefinite surplus by earlier reports.

Income tax payments in March showed increases of $17,477,215 by corporations and $68,997,976 by individuals more than for March a year ago. Additional income tax payment will be received in June and are expected also to show a sizeable increase over amounts returned in 1928.

A high level of industrial prosperity coupled with individuals' gains from stock market speculation is believed by treasury officials to be behind the large increase in tax payments by both classes of taxpayers. When the original estimates were made, the treasury anticipated no such continued high levels of speculation as maintained in recent months.

Hughes Approves World Court Entry

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Charles Evans Hughes today stood publicly aligned with those who would bring the United States into the world court through the medium of the formula worked out at Geneva by Elihu Root and tentatively accepted by other world powers.

In his address as president opening the twenty-third annual meeting of the American Society of International Law last night, Mr. Hughes emphasized that judicial action is the indispensable requisite of any legal order and presented comprehensive arguments favoring American adherence to the court.

Dictatorship Planned At Bucharest, Report

ZAGRES, Jugoslavia, April 25. (UP)—The newspaper Jutarnilists published a wholly unconfirmed report today that a group of Roumanian Liberals, including a number of army officers, had decided to send special emissaries abroad to prepare for establishment of a dictatorship at Bucharest. The report said the Liberals would make an offer to former Prince Carol, father of the boy King Michael, to return.

Electra and Wichita Honor Lions Governor

John Erhard of Dallas, state governor of Lions clubs, was greeted upon his arrival in this city at 7 a. m. Thursday by officers of the local club, and the full strength of the Lions Club band of 30 pieces.

Following a parade through the business section of the city, the entire party took breakfast at the Y. W. C. A. dining room, the guest of honor making an informal talk in which he praised the spirit reflected by such a reception at daybreak.

Later in the day Mr. Erhard was taken by Dr. R. H. Graham, local Lions club president, to Electra, where he was the principal speaker Thursday night at an inter-city Lions meeting held in the First Baptist church there. About 30 members of the Wichita Falls club attended the Electra convocation Thursday night.

Prince Falls Off In Golf Tournament

ROEHAMPTON, Eng., April 25. (UP)—The Prince of Wales shot a 93 in the Household Brigade golf championships today, compared to the 119 he scored in his last competitive match at St. Andrews in 1922. About 8,000 persons followed the prince around. He recently has been coached by James Braid, the local professional. Major G. Cornwallis-West won the tournament.

The Social Side—Wichita Falls' Woman's Interests—Clubs and Churches

Forum's 'Bluebonnet Bridge Tourney' Social Event of Appreciation Week

At a committee meeting of the Woman's Forum clubhouse Friday morning, plans will be finished for the last benefit of the forum year. This is the Bluebonnet Game tournament to be given on the afternoon and evening of May 3. The ways and means committee is sponsoring the benefit and Mrs. Bert Bean is general chairman of the afternoon party and Mrs. J. L. Jackson Jr., of the evening.

The junior chamber of commerce sponsoring "Appreciation Week" in Wichita, is cooperating with the Forum. There will be open house all day for visitors from out of town. Temple Shell, chairman for Friday, will choose that as Forum day. Jerry Moffett, chairman of music, will furnish music at the Forum during the day. George Massie will be chairman of art exhibits.

Prizes to be given in the games have been donated by the following firms: Star Furniture company, Texas Electric company, Wichita Paint and Paper company, W. B. McClurkan company, Nunn Electric company, Southwestern Paint and Paper company, Freear Furniture, Lovelance Book Store, Kimberlin's, McConnell's Furniture Store, Sanderford's Booterie, Burgess Jewelry, Wichita Floral company, Wages Army Store, Parisian, Noble-Little Hardware company, The Hub, White House Market, Trickett Trunk company, Elwyn's, Tenth Street Market, Carver's Gift Shop, Interior Art Shop, Wichita Cleaners and Dyers, Orchid Shop, Mangel's, Smart Shop, Kruger's, Kirby Jewelry company, Georgianna Shop, Bert Bean Coffee company, Pearl Cummings, Costume Jewelry, Bailey Printing company, P. B. M. company, Martha Washington Candy Shop, Renfro Jewelry company, Morgan Floral company and Donnelly Floral company.

All these gifts will be put on display in W. B. McClurkan's show windows on Friday to remain until Friday, May 3, when the tournament will take place. About 15 other prizes have been promised.

The grand sweepstakes prize, to be given for the highest score both afternoon and night, is the bluebonnet picture painted by the famous young artist, Adrian Brewer, and donated to the Forum for this special occasion.

We Women

By BETTY BRAINERD

BE YOURSELF

THE problem of how to be charming is one which occupies every normal woman from the time of her first hair-ribbon to her last lacy "old-ladies-cap."

This is one of the reasons thousands upon thousands of girls deny their healthy appetites, starve themselves into resembling lead pencils—why lazy girls bestir themselves to furious exercise on golf courses, tennis courts and in the saddle. For according to our modern notion fat is not charming and she of the superfluous pounds is about as popular as a bad toothache.

THE frantic quest of charm is responsible for the phenomenal increase in cosmetic sales, and the profits of the hairdresser, the beauty specialist, and all those foresighted manufacturers and merchants who cater to woman's urge to beautify herself.

Correspondence courses guaranteeing to develop personality are subscribed to by a multitude of eager ladies who wish to make themselves more attractive; and girls who formerly thought books synonymous with boredom have been convinced that the mind, too, plays a part in charm and now ardently join the book club in order to leave no stone unturned in the great search.

WITH all this expenditure of money and energy, women have overlooked the biggest bet. The A. B. C.'s of charm are contained in nothing more or less than that well known slang phrase: Be yourself.

In the final analysis no one can be truly charming who is not natural. The flapper, now blessedly numbered among extinct types, is a good illustration of the truth of the statement.

Flappers were as like as two peas —they looked alike, dressed alike, danced, talked and (one can almost believe) thought alike.

Quiet girls, vivacious girls, gentle, romantic, gracious, studious girls—the dreamy girl, all squeezed themselves into the flapper mould and emerged with individuality eliminated.

Happily that standardization craze is past, but it will be a long time before women as a class realize that in their differentness from each other lies the chief source of their charm.

The day is not far distant when even plumpness will have its undisputed place, because the woman of curves is as charming as her skinny sister—and far better curves with a young face and a sunny disposition than unnatural emaciation and a drawn skin with the irritability of a caged rattler.

Women will always follow the mode to an extent, but it is true that the clever woman will "be herself" and capitalize instead of bewailing her difference from the accepted style of the moment.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

Captain Is Missing

GAINESVILLE, Texas, April 25. (AP)—Captain Harry G. A. Timmis, 70, of the British freighter "British Justice" has been missing from his ship since Wednesday morning, according to a cablegram from the captain's wife to his brothers, R. J. and Walter Timmis, Gainesville cotton merchants.

Dallas Woman Is President Of Church Auxiliary

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, April 25.—Mrs. W. H. Schroeder of Dallas was unanimously elected president of the Woman's auxiliary of the Dallas Presbytery at the closing session of the three-day annual session held at the Vernon Presbyterian church today. Highland Park Presbyterian church of Dallas was selected as the next meeting place for the Presbytery.

Eight of the 16 officers of the organization were elected today, and they will serve two years. Others elected in addition to Mrs. Schroeder are Mrs. J. A. Birdsong of Vernon, secretary of literature; Mrs. J. L. Bowling, Dallas, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. Robert Hopper, Denton, secretary of foreign missions; Mrs. John Revell, Sherman, secretary of synodical and presbyterial home missions, and Mrs. Lamar Morrell Milford, secretary of Christian education and ministerial relief.

Sherman asked for the twenty-eighth annual meeting but lost on the vote to Highland park. Reports featured the morning session of the closing day. J. E. Watts of the Southwestern Presbyterian home and school for orphans at Itasca gave a report of the improvements and activities of the home. He reported that $3,470 had been contributed to the home by the Dallas Presbytery the past year. Rev. H. S. Sprindall, superintendent of home missions, gave a brief report on the jubilee memorial fund and other home mission funds. Mrs. George A. Sprague, retiring president, made the final address.

Named Examiner

Leland M. Rennolds of Mexia, Texas, is new examiner for the U. S. civil service commission for Louisiana and Texas, with headquarters at New Orleans.

Electra Society

ELECTRA, Texas, April 25.—Mrs. J. C. Seales entertained with a lovely miscellaneous shower Tuesday afternoon at her home on North Illinois street, honoring her daughter, Mrs. Bennett Vaught, who was before her recent marriage, Miss Lois Faye Seales. Games and contests were enjoyed during the afternoon, with prizes being awarded to Miss Oleta Jones and Mrs. Lomax Brocker and Mrs. Frank Walling. Several vocal selections were given by Miss Oleta Jones with Mrs. Louie Barker at the piano. Refreshments were served to Misses Oleta Jones, Mary Agnes Dorsey, Bertie Phillips, Opal Teel, LaVonia Cooper, Elizabeth Barrow, Mesdames Foster Burnham, John Dickey and daughter, Dorothy, M. C. Presbyterians Meet

The ladies class of the Presbyterian church met last Monday afternoon at the church, with Mrs. I. T. Johns, president, in charge of the meeting. The usual prayer and song service was held, after which Mrs. Johns read the scripture lesson. During the business session it was planned for the class to have charge of the program on Wednesday night, which is "Church Night." Mrs. H. C. Barrow was appointed to be in charge of the refreshment committee for that night. The entertainment, to be given at the Country club next Thursday night was also planned. Those present were: Mesdames J. M. Shaffer, H. C. Barrow, I. T. Johns, Allie Smith, J. C. Shaw, E. R. Keller, W. P. Miller, W. I. Wilson, T. V. Harrison, S. Y. Thomas, Clyde Dunn, J. E. Warden, S. D. Grafton, Anna Rowe, Willie Rowe and Elizabeth Allen.

Circle Four Meets

Circle Four of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cecil Grant on East Bryan avenue. The meeting was opened with the song led by Mrs. J. T. Key, followed by the devotional by Mrs. L. H. Owens, after which Mrs. Winnie Polston led in prayer. In the business session, the group captains and personal service reports were given and the names of prospective members were given out. Mrs. Owens taught the mission lesson. Mrs. A. J. Bird will be hostess to circle four next week, at her home on North Wilbarger street. Those present were Mesdames A. J. Bird, J. M. Bizzely, J. T. Key, Cecil Grant, Winnie Polston, L. H. Owens and P. J. Weaver.

Mrs. W. L. Horn entertained Thursday afternoon at her home on West Cleveland avenue, with a pretty party honoring her small daughter, Mildred Jean, on the occasion of her fourth birthday anniversary. Mrs. John Louie Wright assisted the hostess in entertaining her small guests. Many dainty and beautiful gifts were presented the honoree. At the close of the party, the large birthday cake, bearing four small candles, was cut and served with brick ice cream to the following children: Austin Morrison, Francis Dunn, J. W. Wright, Juanita and Dorothy Rogers, Ida Lou Sullivan, Willie Jean Clivgston, Gwendolin Tanner, Billie and Bonnie Williams, Dorothy and Barbara Nell George, Bobbie Mashburn, Gloria Jacqueline Gant and Gloria Sue Wright.

Announcement Party

Mrs. C. R. Miller entertained the members of the Vogue Bridge club and a few guests Monday evening at her home on South Main street, the main feature of which was the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Carlotta, to Wm. E. Kutzbach, of Taylor, which will take place at the home of the bride's parents on April 30. Mrs. J. A. King assisted the hostess in entertaining. Bridge was played, with Miss Lydia Sheldon winning high score prize for members and Mrs. Robert Cook winning high score prize for guests. At the close of the games refreshments of ice cream moulded in the shape of engagement rings with individual wedding cakes were served to the following: Misses Lydia and Emma Sheldon, Alice Chapman, Carrie Cross, Katherine Parr, Virginia McDannald, Louise Gaston, Ava Shaw, Katherine Sheldon, and Lucia and Bina Magee; Mesdames Francis Awtrey, George Hawley, Herman Gibson and Ruth Gillum, members; Mesdames J. Woman's Golf Association Has Birthday Tournament Thursday

Members of the Woman's Golf association at the Country club "blew" into the lounge Thursday morning to explain how the wind ruined their games. An informal group waked before the open fire until luncheon was announced.

The tables arranged by the club hostess showed an artistic touch. The linens used were bordered in spring colors; the salad plates, glasses and vases in green crystal and the centers on each table of bowls of pink roses and honeysuckle made as lovely a color scheme as could be arranged.

Prizes had been donated by club members for each hole and during luncheon, Mrs. John Waggoner announced winners of the nine hole prizes and also of the three grand prizes in the tournament.

Number one was a tie between Mesdames Bolding, Whitney, Davis and Ludlam; number two was won by Mrs. Fletcher; number three undecided; number four was drawn by Mrs. King; Mrs. Whitney won number five and Mesdames Ludlam and Hatchitt number six; Mrs. Ludlam also won number seven; number eight, Mrs. Bolding. Mrs. Waggoner and Mrs. Davis tied; number nine was won by Mrs. White and Mrs. Ludlam.

In the birthday tournament, Mrs. John Waggoner won the first prize, a lovely set of Hawkes etched glasses. Mrs. W. P. Bolding won a lovely set of sterling silver salt and peppers as runner-up, and three balls as consolation went to Mrs. C. O. Davis. Mrs. W. P. Bolding also won the ball offered weekly for low score.

Covers were laid for Mesdames H. F. Weldon, G. W. Peckham, R. A. King, Ben M. Bell, D. O. Johnson, R. L. Hargrave, W. S. Abbott, C. O. Davis, A. C. Ludlam, H. P. Ledford, H. B. White, H. L. Park Head Appeals to Wichitans To Help Protect City's Flowers

Picking of flowers and breaking of shrubs in the city parks must be stopped, C. C. Bunnenberg said Thursday.

Scores of children and some adults have been reported to be gathering flowers planted on the municipal grounds and trampling over the plants until they are practically ruined, Mr. Bunnenberg said.

Citizens of the city who see persons plucking blooms from plants in the parks should cooperate with the park department in beautifying the city by reporting such cases to police headquarters, Mr. Bunnenberg asserted.

Persons caught breaking plants will be subject to prosecution, he declared.

"The park department has worked hard and gone to a considerable expense in putting these plants in the parks and we will not tolerate such destruction of them," Mr. Bunnenberg said. "We hope the people will cooperate with us."

HUBBY MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Varied Stocks Found In These United States

Husband Stock on the American Matrimonial Exchange; New York, Highly Speculative; New England, steady 4 Per Cent; Western, Good for Long Pull; Southern, Excellent Preferred

According to a newspaper story, four enterprising and adventurous women have started out in an automobile to tour the country in search of husbands. Of course, taking him by and large, the American husband is the very finest achievement in the husband line that civilization has produced, and he is so regarded the world over. No other husband is so kind, so generous, so considerate, so courteous or gives his wife such liberty as does the American husband, and he is the one thing which our European sisters frankly envy us. So from whatever sections of these United States a man comes he is a pretty good risk as a husband, but, still, all in all, there is a choice even among blue-ribbon prize winners, so let us consider, in a humble and seeking frame of mind, the husbands produced by the different sections of our great and glorious land.

First, the New England man. How will these four seekers after the ideal husband size him up? They will find him a fine, strong, clean, upstanding man, with his feet firmly planted on the Plymouth Rock of the cardinal virtues. A man of deep feeling but few words. Cold and ice-bound without but warm within, a slumbering volcano under snow, a peculiarly fascinating type to women because it keeps them always busy trying to break through the crust.

The New England man is a poor lovemaker even before marriage, and if he ever pops the question the woman should hop to it if she wants to marry him, because he will never work himself up to the point of doing it again. It is her one and only call to the dining car. After marriage he never mentions the state of his affection again, and his wife can only judge that he still loves her by the fact that he works like a dray horse to support her and the children and has never mentioned divorce to her. He says it with beefsteaks and automobiles and a good charge account.

The New England man makes a good provider and a comfortable, house-broken husband. He seldom wanders away from his own fireside and he is reasonably well satisfied with his wife if she is intelligent, thrifty and knows how to bake beans and cream codfish. As a husband the New England man may be rated like a government bond, a safe, sound investment but without exciting dividends.

Then there is the New York husband. How will our husband-hunters find him? Very dashing. Very well groomed. Very attractive in appearance, not only a shy bird but a wise one. One that is determined not to be caught and caged in a domestic flat. Any woman who can marry a New York man could teach Cleopatra something about the art and science of vamping.

The New York husband, unless he came from the country and arrived in the city too late ever to get the hayseed completely out of his hair, is never wholly and entirely married. He is just a near husband or a part-time husband, and his wife's clutch upon him is about as slippery as it would be upon an eel. There is never a place between the altar and the grave where she can sit back and draw a long breath and feel that she has him safely tucked away in her basket.

What the New York man wants in a wife is a playfellow and not a helpmate. Being unaccustomed to a real home and real food, he doesn't expect much in the line of domesticity or maternity from her, but he does expect her to keep herself young and slim and beautiful and all dolled up and to be ready to step out with him of an evening.

Matrimony with a New York husband may be a more or less temporary job, but it will be full of thrills and excitement, with never a dull moment in it. Marrying a New York man is like taking a flier in a highly speculative stock. You may make a killing or you may go broke.

Then let us consider the western husband. How will he rate with our ladies who are in pursuit of the perfect mate? There is something very alluring and that women find hard to resist about the big, rangy, clear-eyed men of the wide, open spaces and it goes to a woman's head the way they treat her as an equal.

Western men are not strong on lovemaking and know little of the technique of flirtation. They haven't much of a line of soft talk, but when they tell a woman she is "it" they mean it, and it is a bona-fide proposition of marriage that she could draw money on at the bank.

The western man expects his wife to be his partner and to pull her weight in the boat, but he gives her a fair deal and goes fifty-fifty with her. Having once made his choice of a wife, he remains satisfied with it and does not acquire that tired feeling around 45 or lose his taste for the woman who has borne him his children and helped him make his fortune, as so many eastern men do.

The son of a pioneer woman who had no time to consider her looks, he puts less value on beauty than any other man in the world and is less allured by feminine coquetry, as is proved by the number of western women who go around in pants. As a permanent investment for the long pull, the western man may be considered a good buy. None better.

Then there is the southern man. What will our ladies find when they park their car under the magnolia tree? A wonderful lover, romantic, overflowing with sentiment that is sizzling hot, chivalrous, gallant, full of the delicate attentions that women adore. No matter what sort of husband he turns out to be, the woman who has been wooed by a southern man will gloat over the memory of her courtship to her dying day.

As a husband he will always remember all the little anniversaries. He will still pay his wife compliments and tell her how beautiful her eyes are. He will always be ready to take her out to places of amusement. He will still kiss her hands, even if she has made corns on them working for him. He will always be the gallant and the lover because he is built that way.

But he is the worst spoiled man in the world because he is accustomed to women whose tradition is to defer to men and flatter and cajole them and so, if his wife holds him, she has to be a more adroit salve-spreader than the balance of her sex. Also he has a roving eye and it is up to his wife to be easy on it.

A little difficult to keep but mighty pleasant and soothing to live with is the southern man, and as an investment he may be rated among the preferred stock which is safe for any woman to put her money into.

I wonder which one our ladies will take. DOROTHY DIX.

SCHACHT HAS ANOTHER CARD

German Debt Delegate Still Hopes for Settlement

PARIS, April 25. (INS)—There were indications today that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation to the reparation conference, has still another card that he has not yet played to help along the negotiations toward a possible settlement.

Dr. Schacht held a long conference with Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee of experts, over "salvage methods."

Afterward Dr. Schacht announced that he and Sir Charles Addis plan to leave for Berlin on Tuesday to attend a meeting of the board of the Reichsbank to discuss certain phases of the reparation issue. They expect to return to Paris on Thursday with their report.

Various "salvage methods" to aid the experts in bridging the differences between the allied terms and the German offer are being discussed privately.

News that the Reichsbank had advanced its rediscount rate to 7½ per cent was received here early in the afternoon, but it had been expected and thus caused no surprise.

Story of Famous Plains Ranch Is Told in New Book

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, April 25.—The plains country has a romance all its own and the story of its early days—of times when vast ranches covered the areas, and when the Indian and buffalo contested with the white man for supremacy—forms a unique chapter in American history.

A vivid and authentic picture of early days in the plains is given in the "XIT Ranch," a volume just published by the Lakeside Publishing company of Chicago.

The volume is of absorbing interest from cover to cover. A record of the famous XIT, probably the largest ranch ever located in America—where more than 100 cowboys "punched" 150,000 cattle over its boundless domain—the volume is also a record of the history of this entire part of the country.

Photographs abound—photographs which show buffalo drinking from picturesque arroyos; which show cowboys at ease beside the ranch chuck wagon, and which show vast herds of cattle—herds such as no longer exist in this country—grazing on the sweeping plains prairies.

In the book are mentioned dozens of pioneers who were trail blazers in the plains—men who left landmarks in living and growing cities, men of whom even the present have heard, time and again.

The XIT ranch was composed of 3,000,000 acres and that's 4,686 sections, more or less—which was traded by the Texas legislature to the Capitol Syndicate Land company of Chicago in return for the present massive red stone state capitol at Austin.

SEX BOOKLET WRITER HELD

Aged Woman Loses Fight On Obscenity Conviction

NEW YORK, April 25. (INS)—The motion by defense counsel for Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett, grandmother-author of a scientific sex pamphlet, requesting ten days in which to prepare arguments to have the conviction of Mrs. Dennett on the charge of sending obscene matter through the mails set aside, was denied today by Federal Judge Warren B. Burrows in Brooklyn.

Judge Burrows said he would sentence Mrs. Dennett next Monday. The white-haired prisoner faces a federal penitentiary term and a fine or both.

Morris Ernst, attorney for Mrs. Dennett, argued today that the barring of his expert witnesses at Mrs. Dennett's trial by the court, might have led the jury to believe that the defense claim that the pamphlet was used by reputable educators was not well founded.

Youth's Welfare at Stake

Ernst also argued that the "welfare of the youth of the country was at stake" and that it was not good for the future of the nation in permitting the postmaster general to decide what was and what was not obscene.

A copy of the pamphlet, "the sex side of life," which was labeled by a Brooklyn federal jury as "obscene and unfit for the mails," is to be mailed to President Hoover, Forrest Bailv, director of the American civil liberties association announced today.

"A committee like the famous Scopes evolution committee is in process of being formed," said Bailv. "It will be composed of prominent educators, medical men, sociologists and others who consider this pamphlet an important educational factor rather than an obscene thing. These people will affix their signatures to the letter accompanying the pamphlet to the president informing him of their opinion of the book.

"We are also writing a letter to postal authorities asking them what they are going to do about it. There is no reason why Mrs. Dennett should bear the brunt of a decision that affects us all."

The indirect cause of what promises to create a nation-wide furor is a bright-cheeked, white-haired little grandmother.

Mrs. Dennett expressed her indomitable spirit today in declaring that she would carry her fight to the supreme court, if necessary, before admitting her guilt by paying a fine.

"I will spend the rest of my life in jail before I will pay one cent to the government for printing a simple, straightforward book of sex instruction," said Mrs. Dennett. She said that she had written the pamphlet 10 years ago for her two little sons but that its use had spread in educational and sociological circles.

Mrs. Dennett said that she was being flooded with messages supporting her convictions from all sections of the country.

Meanwhile in a magistrate's court the fate of the five women arrested in a police raid on the birth control clinic, reposed in the hands of the judge who said he would announce his decision on May 8.

Courtroom Riot

The hearing was ended after a miniature riot in the courtroom by friends of the prisoners and after five eminent physicians had gone on the witness stand for the defendants. The witnesses included the presidents of the New York Academy of Medicine and the County Medical Association and Health Commissioner Louis I. Harris.

Harris testified that he had investigated the clinic's work and had found it admirable and that he regarded the work of the birth control clinic as "public health work."

Dr. Harris cited statistics from bulletin 142 of the federal labor department showing that the birth of children at too frequent intervals resulted in an ill effect on both mother and child. The witness said that it encouraged invalidism in the mother and increased the danger to the next born child.

Police Commissioner Whalen, in reply to a letter from Dr. Lingiy R. Williams, director of the New York Academy of Medicine, declared that a thorough investigation of the raid by police on the birth control clinic would be made.

Sam Houston's Homestead to Be Dedicated as Texas Shrine May 3-4

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, April 25. (AP)—This old Texas city is planning the greatest celebration in its history for May 3 and 4—dates on which the homestead of Gen. Sam Houston will be formally dedicated a state shrine, and semi-centennial observance of Sam Houston Teachers college, both of which are located here.

Texas political leaders, historical authorities, nationally known educators, members of the college's first class and others will do their parts to commemorate the occasions.

Moody to Speak

The celebrations will get under way on Friday afternoon, May 3, when, from the back porch of the home of the first president of the republic of Texas, Gov. Dan Moody will deliver an address. His listeners will stand among trees and other things placed about the home of the hero of the San Jacinto.

Many improvements have been made about the Houston home, but visitors will find many relics of Texas revolutionary days in the house just as General Houston had placed them. One of these is a streaked full length mirror. A four-poster bed, which was the general's favorite couch in his travels, has been moved to his old home from the inn where it was located.

The college celebration will open Friday evening with a brilliantly illuminated outdoor pageant. Some of the actors of the show will be clothed in the filmy raiment of ancient Greece, others will wear the bustle and sweeping skirts of the latter part of the 19th century, and the third group will represent the present day creations.

First Normal School

Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin is scheduled as one of the principal speakers of the Saturday program of the college celebration. She was one of the 28 members of the first class of the institution.

Dr. Oscar H. Cooper of the University of Texas, and a member of the college's first faculty, also is to address the gathering.

The college was the initial state normal school, and one of the first created in the South. It was started under the terms of the Peabody grant to southern normals, the state appropriation being matched with moneys from the Peabody funds. Citizens of Huntsville donated the building and five acres of ground which constituted the old Austin college, established in 1849, on condition that the new school would be named for their distinguished citizen.

Dr. H. F. Estill, now president of the college, was a member of its first class.

Capone's Dentist Slain as 'Squealer'

CHICAGO, April 25. (UP)—"Scarface Al" Capone's dentist, Dr. Frank L. Brady, was murdered in his office last night, presumably because he betrayed the safeblowers or drug addicts with whom he had dealt as a sideline to his legitimate profession.

Dr. Brady's connection with the notorious Capone band of beer runners and vice promoters was revealed by Captain William Schoemaker, former chief of detectives.

Schoemaker said that he had questioned Dr. Brady after the St. Valentine's day massacre of the "Bugs" Moran gangsters, which was laid at Capone's door, and that he had hoped to question the dentist again this week.

ELINOR SMITH HAS AMBITIONS

Record Holder May Try Flight to Rome

FREEPORT, N. Y., April 25. (INS)—A non-stop flight, New York to Rome, is the ambition of Elinor Smith, famous American girl flyer.

"I'm planning on trying it this summer," she said today as she rested in her home here after her strenuous feat of establishing a new world's endurance record for women yesterday. She had been in the air 26 hours, 21 minutes and 32 seconds, beating the former record held by Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden of Los Angeles by four hours, 18 minutes.

A little wan, but very happy, the slim- blue-eyed Miss Smith occupied her time opening and answering telegrams and taking "cat naps." She smilingly remarked that she was a little behind on her sleep.

She was quite certain she would make the Rome flight and she merely laughed when asked if she felt any qualms about making such a hazardous journey, and all alone, a la Lindbergh.

Even her mother, Mrs. Thomas Smith, a former actress, is not afraid, she said:

"Elinor is a natural flyer, and I'm no longer the least bit alarmed when she takes the air. She has sold me on the idea that she can fly."

Neighbors and friends called steadily all forenoon and Mrs. Smith was kept busy acting as a "buffer" so that Elinor could obtain much needed rest. The Smith home was filled with flowers from admirers.

MRS. THADEN SAYS SHE IS "THROUGH"

PITTSBURGH, April 25. (UP)—Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden, who held the endurance flight record for women fliers before it was broken yesterday by Elinor Smith, arrived here today from her home in Bentonville, Ark.

The aviatrix was met at the station by her husband, H. B. Thaden, designer of the Thaden all-metal monoplane, which will be built here by the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation.

Mrs. Thaden denied a report that she would try to shatter the endurance flight record in June with a specially constructed plane now being built at Wichita, Kan.

The flier said she intends staying in Pittsburgh permanently. Her flying from now on, she intimated, will be for her own pleasure.

The Belgian government has decided to set up a special radio commission.

TOILING WIFE ORDERED OUT

Doctor Who Attains Wealth Now Wants 'Society' Mate

By W. F. SULLIVAN

CHICAGO, April 25. (UP)—Young American wives who toil and struggle, bear children and share their husband's reverses, hoping to see their dreams of success and riches attained, were told in an amended divorce petition today the penalties of not being able to keep pace socially. The petition was filed by Mrs. Eethel W. Leonard.

The success and riches her husband obtained through the "start" given him by her father, she claimed have caused Dr. George W. Leonard, wealthy physician, to order her out of their home because she is not presentable in fashionable circles.

Her Reward

Mrs. Leonard, a grandmother at 36, described in her petition how she scrubbed floors, raised two children, worked as office assistant and cook to hear her husband's reward: "I want my wife to be someone I can take out socially."

The petition recites how Dr. Leonard told her he was "embarrassed with her before his friends" and that it was time she got out.

"I'm through with you," she quoted her doctor-husband as saying. "If you don't get out I'll cover you so full of mud that your boys won't want to see you and your father will disown you."

The doctor, on the other side of the Leonard controversy, filed suit for divorce recently naming a Chicago real estate dealer and specifying two instances of indiscretions.

Married at 17

The Leonards were married 19 years ago at South Milford, Ind., when she was 17 and he was 30. She was the daughter of a prominent farmer and he was a poor medical student. She stayed by him through the struggles of a married man working his way through college. They finally appealed to her father, she said, and he loaned Leonard $1,000 to finish school and later set the young doctor up in business.

The success and riches came gradually. She looked after the housework and his office at South Milford and later when they moved to Kendalville, she claimed. Then they moved to Chicago, where the progress toward wealth set a faster pace.

Dr. Leonard built an apartment building in 1927. Mrs. Leonard said she had been left some money by her mother and that both she and her father invested money in the building. Other property is owned by her husband, according to the petition.

Her Dress Offends Him

But after their long struggle to realize their ambitions, she now says, he has become displeased with her manner of dress, her rough hands and her lack of education.

"My wife must be a stylish and modern woman," she quoted her husband as saying on one occasion, "The sooner you get out the better."

Mrs. Leonard said she left their home and took up a separate residence. In her bill she asks for separate maintenance and an accounting for the money she claims to have given her husband.

Motor Income Decreases From 1928 Figure

NEW YORK, April 25. (INS)—Net earnings of the General Motors corporation including subsidiary and affiliated companies, for the first quarter of 1929, aggregated $61,910,967, according to a statement issued by President Alfred Sloan Jr. Earnings for the first quarter were $1.37 a share on the common stock.

This compares with $69,468,676 a year ago, the falling off being due to abnormal expense involved in year-end model changes.

Retail sales to dealers by General Motors corporation in the first three months of 1929 aggregate 448,176 cas, an increase of 5.9 per cent over last year. The corporation carried $181,963,199 in cash and marketable securities in its treasury accounts at the end of March 1929.

TO PROTECT HOSIERY and Lingerie from "Soap Eat" or Fade

Stops Fade and "Soap Eat" Even When Ordinary Laundry Soap Is Used

Fragile hosiery and delicate-tinted French lingerie can now be washed frequently; but still protected from soap eat or fading color, even when ordinary laundry soap or powders are used.

Under the new method described here, even faintest pastel colors in fine lingerie or delicately tinted hosiery hold fast, according to recent tests, for as many as 50 washings, without noticeable fade or wear.

The method is very simple: To each tubful of water (or washes filled to the water line) you merely add 2 tablespoons of a preparation called CLIMALENE and use just ONE-FOURTH the quantity of soap you ordinarily use. Then proceed with washing as usual. (For small wash basins, use 1 teaspoonful of CLIMALENE.)

This preparation is used by experts to stop fade and "soap eat." It acts by converting hard, or semi-hard water to rain water softness and to dissolve grease and dirt. White clothes, washed this way, never grow yellow—but wash pure white. Delicate colors hold fast. You can easily get it at any grocery store. Two sizes, 10c and 25c. Just ask your grocer for CLIMALENE.

CRIME LAID TO CULT LEADER

Woman Prisoner Says Man Of Brutal Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (INS)—In an affidavit addressed to the state supreme court in support of habeas corpus proceedings, Mrs. Evelyn Rosencrantz, now serving a life term in San Quentin prison, today accused William E. Riker, head of a religious cult in the Santa Cruz mountains, of slaying a woman and burying her body in quicklime.

The woman alleged to have been slain by Riker, according to Mrs. Rosencrantz, was Mrs. Margaret White, who, she said, told her she was Riker's discarded wife.

Mrs. Rosencrantz was committed to prison for life some months ago under the habitual criminal act following conviction on a worthless check charge. She claims her conviction was the result of "perjury, conspiracy and bribery" upon the part of Riker and others.

According to Mrs. Rosencrantz the crime was committed in Culver City, Calif., in November, 1927. She said the woman's home was in Minneapolis.

Celebrated Empty Beer Bottle Which Missed Heflin Subject of Debate

WASHINGTON, April 25. (UP)—Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, gave notice today the farm bill will be temporarily laid aside tomorrow in order to allow a senate vote on the Heflin resolution expressing condemnation of the attack on Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, in Brockton, Mass., recently.

Heflin has been trying for three days to get a vote on the resolution.

Representative Black, Democrat, New York, today had introduced a resolution attacking Senator Heflin for his criticism of the town and its citizenship for greeting his recent speech there by throwing a few bottles.

The resolution read in part:

"Resolved that the senate concur that six cents be appropriated for a scientific expeditionary force to invade the wilds of Brockton, Mass., and make search for a meteoric but empty beer bottle that missed its mark but made history on the occasion of a visit to Brockton by a distinguished but disturbed theologian who never passes up a chance to pass the hat and who advocates free speech on a guarantee fee basis.

"Further resolved: That on the recovery of said missile that it be escorted to Washington by a committe of dry statesmen, dry strictly in their capacity as said statesmen, but wet in their other capacities to a gargantuan degree.

"Further resolved that on its arrival at Washington, D. C., said empty beer bottle of Brockton be enshrined in the Smithsonian institute between the shot that was heard around the world and the face on the bar room floor."

SENATE WANTS NAVAL PARITY

Any New Accord Make U. S. and Britain Equal

WASHINGTON, April 25. (INS)—Any new naval agreement, growing out of the discussions before the League of Nations, must provide absolute equality between the United States and Great Britain or it will meet rejection by the senate, it was indicated today.

The American overture, made through Hugh S. Gibson at Geneva, met with general approval among senatorial leaders but all groups were agreed that the final accord, if any is reached, must provide parity between the American and British navies. The old irreconcilable group joined with their ancient foes, the League of Nations advocates, and the world court adherents, in affirming this American position.

King for Little Navy

The lone dissenting voice was raised by Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, a "little navy" leader, who declared parity should not be an issue in naval disarmament agreement. King, however, has long maintained this stand in his "little navy" battles, only to go down to defeat in the senate.

While approving the American overture, senatorial leaders held the belief that foreign governments are not ready yet for further disarmament but that publicity on the American offer may force a successful conference in the near future due to pressure upon the governments by world opinion.

The irreconcilable camp particularly advocated a naval parity between the United States and Great Britain. Senator Moses, Republican, of New Hampshire, who succeeded Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, as leader of the bloc, had this cryptic statement: "I'm for parity."

Senator La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, another irreconcilable, enlarged upon the bloc's attitude.

"I feel it was a very statesmanlike declaration of the administration's position and should afford a basis for genuine disarmament among the great naval powers. It expresses the hopes of the great majority of the American people."

Nothing But Parity

Senator Arthur R. Robinson, Republican, of Indiana, another irreconcilable, added:

"We must have absolute parity, too, between the United States and Great Britain. We will take nothing less. We will make any sacrifices necessary but so too, must Great Britain. Nothing but parity."

Senator Nye, Republican, of North Dakota, still another irreconcilable, said: "The agreement must leave the United States upon a parity with Great Britain."

Caraway Sympathetic

From the other camp came similar pronouncements. Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, an old League of Nations advocate, said: "I'm sympathetic with the Gibson proposal."

Senator George, Democrat, of Georgia, who supported the world court, declared: "I favor disarmament if the United States is upon an absolute parity with England. Any conference ought to proceed upon that premise."

Senator Hale, Republican, of Maine, chairman of the senate naval affairs committee and leader of the "big navy" bloc, declared: "We must have parity with England."

Senator King, the "little navy" leader, said he thought it "unwise" to make parity an issue in naval reduction.

"Mathematical parity is impossible," King added, "and any attempt to draft a treaty based upon exact parity will fail. What really is required is a sincere effort to reduce armaments, regardless of parity in particular classes or in the aggregate."

Briscoe County Wheat Crop Outlook Good

Special to The Record News

QUITAQUE, Texas, April 25.—More than 75,000 acres of wheat are sown in Briscoe county and from the present outlook of the crop more than 2,000,000 bushels are expected to be harvested. This harvest will be one of the great single factors that will place Briscoe county on the financial map of the country. The grain is now standing 12 to 15 inches in height and surely presents a wonderful picture as it waves and sways in the breeze.

Diversification of farm products is now assuming notable proportions, as is evidenced by the row crops that are produced in this section of the country.

Alleged Train Wreckers To Get Early Trial

EASTLAND, Texas, April 25. (UP)—Fred Jordan and Henry Schussler, indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the wrecking of a train at Dotham, more than six years ago, will be given an early trial, District Attorney Joe Jones announced here today.

The men are charged with tampering with a switch and causing the wreck which killed Charley Baker, trainman. Six other persons were also killed in the wreck.

Digestive Troubles Speedily Ended

Cotton Prospect Good In Burkburnett Area

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, April 25.—A good prospect for cotton crops prevail in the Burkburnett territory. Planting started about April 14, and a number of farmers across the river, who bring their cotton to the Burkburnett gins, report that they have completed planting processes. Acreage appears to be about the same as the preceding year.

Feed products are normal, but a need of rain is wanted to prevent further work of insects. Wheat conditions have dropped immensely during the past two weeks, and the outcome of crop yield of wheat is wholly dependent on a rain in the next four or five days.

STEEL REPORT SHOWS PROFIT

Bethlehem Earnings For Quarter Set Record

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The Bethlehem Steel corporation today reported record peace time net income for the first quarter of the year of $9,045,590, in contrast to $6,399,348 in the previous quarter, and $3,384,718 in the first quarter of last year. After deducting all charges and preferred dividends, profit was equal to $4.05 per share of common stock, against $2.58 in the last quarter and 94 cents in the first three months of 1928.

Directors voted to change the $100 par value common stock to no par value, to increase the common stock from 2,700,000 shares to 5,000,000 shares, and to offer common stockholders the right to subscribe for 600,000 shares of the new stock at $85 a share in ratio of one share of the new for each three shares held.

The offering of the stock rights is subject to stockholders' approval of the increase in authorized shares, and is made to stockholders of record May 29.

A dividend of $1.00 was declared on the common stock. This is the same as at the previous quarterly meeting when dividends were resumed after suspension from July 1, 1914, when $1.25 was paid. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 was declared on the preferred.

Directors announced the new shares in the offering to stockholders would be entitled to receive the $1.00 dividend, which is payable August 15 to holders of record July 19. A special meeting of stockholders was called for May 29 for submission of the stock increase plan.

MARRYING AGE TO BE CHANGED

Britain 'Shamed' by Social Problem

LONDON, April 25. (INS)—Strenuous efforts are under way here to change the present laws governing the age at which couples may marry.

Under the present regulations, the statutory minimum is 12 years for girls and 14 for boys. Lord Buckmaster has introduced a bill in the house of lords which would make void all marriages between persons under the age of 16 years.

The home office, through S. W. Harris, assistant secretary, has declared itself in favor of the bill, which is thus virtually assured of passage.

"The legal age of marriage in Great Britain compares unfavorably with that in many other countries," Harris declared, "and surprise has often been expressed that Great Britain and her dominions have been content with it.

"The home office is now satisfied that the present law cannot be defended, and that some alteration is required. It is not sufficient to point out that marriage at a very early age is rare, the opponents of Lord Buckmasters bill saying that during the last 12 years three girls married at 13 and 26 others married at 14.

"It is simply dangerous to leave unaltered a law which has not kept pace with modern social developments. It gives a bad impression of our moral standards to other countries.

"At least 24 girls between the ages of 15 and 16 are married in Great Britain every year. Having regard to modern social conditions, 16 is probably the lowest possible age which could not be accepted by either party."

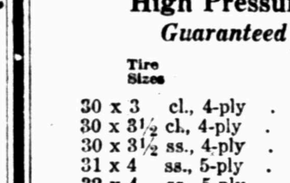

Funds to Discover Rubber Plants Asked

WASHINGTON, April 25. (UP)—Appropriation of $100,000 for a survey to determine what rubber producing plants can be grown in the United States is asked in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Edwards, Democrat, Georgia. The bill recommended that the rubber-producing qualities of golden rod be determined.

Loss of appetite, loss of strength, skin eruptions, what is usually known as rheumatism, that "tired-feeling" and other human ills may be due to your blood not having enough red-cells.

REMEMBER, in years gone by, when you couldn't wait for mealtime; always hungry; ready to go somewhere—to dances, the theatre or to spend the evening with friends?

But why the change? Possibly, overwork, worry, lack of exercise, sickness or some other cause has reduced your building and sustaining "workers"—the red-blood-cells.

Rich, red blood builds and sustains

Every cubic millimeter of the normal, healthy human's blood should contain approximately 5,000,000 red corpuscles—those tiny red particles which flow along the blood stream, giving color to the blood; carrying nourishment to the cells of the body, and working against disease.

Made from fresh vegetable drugs

Thousands of people have a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, pimples and boils, rheumatism, and even more serious ailments.

When you get your red-blood-cells back up to normal, that sluggish let-down feeling, loss of appetite, boils, pimples, skin troubles, and those pains usually called rheumatism, disappear. You get hungry again and you sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You throw off diseases.

S.S.S. proven record over 100 years

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red-blood-cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. Thousands of users have testified to its benefit in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

Made from fresh vegetable drugs, gathered at the proper season of the year, S.S.S. gives to Nature what it needs in making you feel like yourself again.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

TORNADO FURY FELT IN EAST

Georgia and South Carolina Districts Suffer

by a tornado that swept across the county, dipping at intervals and causing heavy damage. At least one of those injured was expected to die.

TWO DEATHS IS WYOMING BLIZZARD

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 26. (AP)—The death list in the blizzard which isolated Cheyenne for 48 hours was increased to two tonight with the report of the death of J. H. Reed of Glendo, Wyo., who dropped dead on a highway, apparently from exhaustion. The body of George Ross, a sheepherder, previously had been found near Thermopolis. A single telegraph wire from Cheyenne to Denver was functioning tonight. Roads are blocked by snow and more deaths are expected.

TWISTER STRIKES NEAR FREDERICK

FREDERICK, Okla., April 25. (UP)—Dmage amounting to $10,000 was sustained here and in surrounding vicinity during a 24-hour wind and sand storm which abated early today. The main building at the fair grounds was destroyed by a small twister which struck the district late yesterday.

SOUTH CAROLINA COUNTY SUFFERS

ANDERSON, S. C., April 25. (AP)—A tornado which struck Anderson county late today injured an undetermined number of people and caused heavy property damage. Motorists arriving here said houses had been demolished and the roads strewn with wreckage.

GIRL'S CARD BLOWN 85 MILES BY WIND

CARTHAGE, Texas, April 25. (AP)—A card from a school text book bearing the name of Alphus Matthis student of the Slocum, Texas school destroyed by a tornado yesterday, was picked up by Conway Mullins, a farmer near here, 85 miles from Slocum.

A shower of leaves and twigs fell from the air here three hours after the twister struck Slocum.

Rehabilitation On

PALESTINE, Texas, April 25. (AP)—Bright sunshine and slowly drying roads today aided in rescue work and rehabilitation of seven Texas communities hit by tornadoes yesterday which took seven lives, injured 25 persons and destroyed $500,000 worth of property.

Funds were raised here and at Elkhart for relief, and contributions poured in throughout the day. Relief was under direction of the Red Cross.

The seven dead all were residents of the Slocum community, 18 miles northeast of here. Twenty-one of the injured were from the same community.

Wichita Delegation To Attend Credit Meet

Plans for attending the State Retail Credit association convention in San Benito May 13, 14 and 15 were made at the regular meeting of the Wichita Falls Credit Grantors association Thursday night at the Kemp hotel.

The Wichita delegation will leave May 11 going to San Antonio where they will be entertained by the association there May 12, arriving in San Benito on May 13.

A trip to Old Mexico and to the Gulf of Mexico will be features of the tour after the business session is completed. The Wichitans will return via Corpus Christi and Houston, being entertained in Houston on May 15 and arriving in Wichita Falls the following day.

Sixty-nine persons were present at the "big boss" night Thursday evening. Accounts from K to L and the handling of returned insufficient checks were topics of discussion at the meeting.

Visitors at the meeting include Sil Winston of Jackson, Tenn., R. D. Kennedy, Leon Horn, Mrs. O. G. Strong, R. E. Rahiam, Miss Pardem, Dr. P. L. Myers, W. F. Davis, Oral Jones, J. L. Randel, Dr. M. M. Walker, and J. B. Price.

Kimbrough Installed as Rotary President at Annual Party

Kelly, Hines, Robertson and Smock Other Officers; 200 Attend Country Club Banquet

Dr. O. T. Kimbrough was installed as president of the Wichita Falls Rotary club at the annual ladies' night banquet held at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club Thursday night with more than 200 men and women of this and neighboring cities in attendance.

Other officers introduced and inducted into their positions were Albert E. Kelly, first vice president; Harry Hines, second vice president; Wiley L. Robertson, treasurer; Tom B. Smock, secretary, and J. T. Harrell, Edwin Bebb, Bob Collier, Bill Killingsworth, Charles C. McDonald, J. M. Spoonts and Herbert Voelcker, directors. Holdover members of the board of directors are A. E. Kelly, Dr. Kimbrough, Al C. Moline, J. H. Allison, H. R. Hanks and Harry Hines.

Holton Gives Talks

John Kilgore, retiring president of the club, appointed Horrace Robbins to act as toastmaster for the evening. During the dinner the ladies drew numbers, in exchange for which they were ceremoniously presented with gifts which had been supplied by members of the club. The favorite "weaknesses" of various local Rotarians furnished the theme for a period of impromptu harmonies presented by Honey Boy and Sassafras, KGKO radio entertainers. The "Denver quartet," composed of four gentlemen of color, gave a number of deeply harmonized melodies.

Barry Holton, recently elected athletic coach for the local high school, was introduced as the principal speaker, and discussed his first impressions of this city; outlining also his intentions relative to pushing future Coyote teams to the fore.

Marjah, who has been appearing at the Olympic theater during the last two weeks, displayed a new angle of the occult science, revealing secrets pertaining to the domestic and social habits of prominent local Rotarians which obviously had not formerly been detected by their fellow clubmen.

Gifts for Retiring Head

The heavy oratory of the evening was delivered by Dr. Nat F. Grafton, to whom was assigned the duty of reviewing the outstanding virtues of the retiring president, Mr. Kilgore, at the conclusion of which recitation the late executive was presented with a worn and battered, but still serviceable alarm clock. The implied reflections were quickly erased when Albert E. Kelly presented Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore with two leather traveling bags, a gift from the Rotary club.

Honor guests for the evening included Rotary club officers and their ladies from Childress, Quanah, Vernon, Electra, Stamford, Burkburnett, Nocona, Bowie, Duncan, Okla., Walters, Okla., and Lawton, Okla.; Homer Sanderford, president of the local Kiwanis club, and Mrs. Sanderford.

Claude Stewart's orchestra furnished dinner music. The profusion of balloons used in decoration of the banquet hall will be distributed to school children Friday morning, it was announced, while the flowers will be presented to the sick in local hospitals.

Pastor Asks Congregation to Pick Four Persons 'Living Nearest to God'

"The lowest thing in this country is not the Wichita river but the religious standards of Wichita Falls" the Rev. Patrick Dacus Moreland, fiery Irish pastor of the Grant Street Methodist church, told his congregation in his Thursday night revival sermon.

"There are more good business men in Wichita Falls than in any other city of this size but a real good Christian stands out in this city like a 16-story skyscraper in an Oklahoma oil boom town.

"If the devil came to Wichita Falls and started shooting the good men of our community, there wouldn't be much increase in the undertaking business.

"The Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to suffer for the sins of men. There are a multitude of people who have their hands outstretched, saying, 'Lord Gimme;' and for 10,000 of them you will find one man with his shoulder to the wheel helping carry the load.

"You and I are put here for a purpose and that purpose is to bring in the Kingdom of God by our faithfulness."

The Rev. Moreland requested that all members of the church bring to the service Friday night a slip of paper bearing the names of the four persons in the congregation who, in their opinion, lived closest to God.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held Friday afternoon at the homes of Mrs. H. G. Holcomb, 2303 Avenue R, and Mrs. B. M. McAffee, 2503 Grant street.

Fell in Love With Her White Hands

He fell in love with her soft, pretty, white hands. Her beautiful fingers twined about his heart—for though her daily work was trying to her hands she had discovered the secret that cream of Ice-Mint holds in keeping hands and skin soft, smooth and white. Just a little touch of Ice-Mint before retiring at night to both hands and face and on the morrow her skin is beautiful to behold.

Don't let your skin lose its beauty or charm through lack of proper care. Women are constantly judged by their hands and skin. Lovely white hands are the real marks of refinement. Some one will admire yours too if you give them a daily touch of Ice-Mint. Do not neglect them. Ice-Mint is the most modern, best and cheapest way of caring for your hands and skin. Even one application will delight you. Try it. Ice-Mint is the largest selling beauty cream on the market today. Sold in two popular sizes 50c and $1.00 a jar.—Adv.

LEACH HEADS CHURCH CLUB

Floral Heights Men Elect New Officers

Dr. Austin F. Leach was elected president of the Men's club of the Floral Heights Methodist church at a banquet held Thursday night in the church parlors with more than 50 men present.

W. S. Ellis was named vice president for the ensuing year, and Merle T. Waggoner was elected secretary-treasurer of the club. Walter S. Curlee, retiring president, was toastmaster at the dinner, and introduced Dr. Leach, Walter Nelson, Judge P. A. Martin and Mayor J. W. Akin, all of whom responded with brief talks. It was stated that the club will hold similar meetings every month.

Immediately after his election as president, Dr. Leach appointed Herbert S. Gray as chairman of a committee on finance, Leon Deaton to head a committee on programs, and P. A. Newell to be in charge of publicity.

Ladies of the church, who served the dinner Thursday night, selected Judge Martin as auctioneer for the sale of several surplus home-made pies. The Wichita jurist successfully "charged" the attending jury, on a cash basis.

F. V. Navratil, 38, 2317 Grant street, died in a local hospital Thursday. The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Sacred Heart Catholic church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in the Sacred Heart cemetery.

The body will be held at the Hines mortuary chapel until the funeral services are held.

Mr. Navratil is survived by his wife and eight children.

Confederate Organizations To Hold Memorial Services Today

Memorial day for veterans of the army of the Confederacy will be observed in Wichita Falls Friday by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and by the two local organizations of the Children of the Confederacy, the Lone Star chapter and Chapter No. 2.

The first commemoration of the day will take place at the Reagan Junior High school Friday morning. The U. D. C. will present to the school a number of books on Southern history, the presentation being made by Mrs. Fred C. Barron, president. A program of acceptance will be given by pupils of the school under the direction of Miss Margaret Morgan. The student body will sing a group of old Southern camp songs, and a reading, "The Conquered Banner," will be given. The speech of acceptance will be made by Miss Kathryn Mosby on behalf of the Children of the Confederacy. A brief sketch of the historical background of the day will be given by Miss Morgan. The Reagan school program will close with the presentation of clusters of wisteria to the veterans present, this flower having been the favorite of Gen. Robert E. Lee. Judge Edgar Scurry, son of W. R. Scurry, for whom the local chapter of the U. D. C. is named, will be a guest of the school.

The 5 or 6 veterans of the grey regiments now living in this city will meet with members of the three patriotic organizations at Riverside cemetery chapel at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon for a brief service, according to Mrs. George Truett, who is in charge of arrangements. Rev. W. D. Bratton, recor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, will make a brief address, and a group of old Southern melodies will be sung. Cedar wreaths which have been prepared by members of the U. D. C. will be placed by the children on the graves of the Confederate veterans, which were said to number more than 70 now.

Similar observance will be made throughout the entire South Friday under the auspices of local U. D. C. chapters, it was stated.

MEETING STATED

GEORGETOWN, Texas, April 25. The steering committee of seven, appointed at a meeting held at Southwestern university April 20 to devise an effective plan of financing the university, will meet April 27 in Houston, President King Vivion said today.

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

A coated tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders which lead to so many kinds of serious illness. It tells why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas sour stomach, dizzy spells.

Coating on the tongue is a sign that you need Tanlac—the medicine which has helped thousands who were physical wrecks from stomach and bowel troubles—who had "tried everything" in vain and about given up hope.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

FROM AIR-TIGHT CAN TO FRYING PAN—AND BACK AGAIN TO CAN

That is the cycle of the Snowdrift you use for frying. For Snowdrift is not only a wholesome fat for frying—it's really a very economical one as well.

After straining, you know, Snowdrift can be used again and again. It doesn't absorb any of the frying odors—even that of fish.

Try it with French Fried Potatoes. Here's the recipe:

FRENCH FRIED POTATOES

Thinly pare the potatoes and cut them in eighths lengthwise, if small, in sixteenths, if they are very large. Let the cut potatoes stand in cold water for thirty minutes, drain on a cloth and fry in deep Snowdrift, hot enough to brown a bit of bread in one and a half minutes. Drain on crumpled, unglazed paper. Dust lightly with salt, and serve.

Crisp . . . brown . . . delicious. So quickly fried there's no chance for the hot fat to be absorbed. That's why food fried in Snowdrift is so wholesome.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MR. COOLIDGE'S NEW JOB

Ex-President Coolidge has become an insurance man. He has agreed to accept office as a director of the New York Life. This will mark the first time in history that a man of few words has ever got anywhere in the insurance business.

PHILLIPS

Of course, they've put Mr. Coolidge where he won't have to say much, but the mere selection of the world's outstanding man of silence may be significant. It may mean that even the solicitors will be less argumentative in the battle for new policy-holders.

◇ ◇ ◇

Can you imagine Calvin Coolidge prolonging the visit? Certainly not. The entire conversation would be something like this:

"Morning."
"Morning."
"Could I interest you in a 20-year endowment?"
"No."
"A straight payment life?"
"Not at all."
"Good day!"
"Good day!"

◇ ◇ ◇

None of the average insurance agent's sales argument. No questions like, "But, my dear man, have you ever stopped to think what would happen to your wife and family without adequate insurance?" or, "Don't you think you owe it to your children to take out another $25,000?"

◇ ◇ ◇

And no "Where will you be at 65?"

◇ ◇ ◇

Probably thousands of insurance talks fail every day because the agent doesn't know when to stop talking.

◇ ◇ ◇

That's where a man like Calvin Coolidge can be of great service to the entire insurance business. His very presence on the board of one of the country's biggest life insurance companies should result in an enormous conservation of natural gas.

◇ ◇ ◇

Having accepted the nomination, Mr. Coolidge will be elected a director very soon, but it is still difficult to believe that this is the job the former president had his eye on all last summer and fall. It doesn't call for any glass ball, clay pigeon or turkey shooting whatsoever.

◇ ◇ ◇

Unless, of course, they're going to put Cal in charge of the collections.

Her Mistake

Ima Dodo thinks a clipper ship is a towboat full of barbers.

The trout season is on and what a good many anglers would like to join is a Brook of the Month club.

Is She Old Enough to Know?

"Miss Helen Morgan, night club hostess, was among those awaiting court action. Asked if she thought the Jones law would kill night clubs, she replied in all seriousness, 'What is the Jones law?'"—News Item.

◇ ◇ ◇

Well, Miss Morgan, the Jones law is a law that prohibits the big oil producers from raising the subway fare outside the 12-mile limit except in such cases as it may be shown that the owner did not intend to park his car longer than 30 minutes and that the dog was muzzled and in leash, the offering of a bribe to Mr. Harvey notwithstanding, or something like that. The matter could be explained in more detail, but there are a lot of things an unsophisticated little girl shouldn't know.

Poor Mr. Henpeck

LONDON.—Law does not recognize the misery suffered by a henpecked husband as cause for separation. At least that's what a magistrate told one Mr. Henpeck after he recounted how his wife had a persistent habit of throwing ornaments, plates, cutlery and bottles of milk at him.

From the Dark Ages: Capital Punishment

A BILL which would in effect abolish capital punishment in Texas, providing the actual infliction of death only in cases where condemned prisoners attempt to escape, is proposed in the Texas legislature with some apparent chance of passing. If voted, the act seems likely to have the approval of Governor Moody, and this state will have gained in the spirit of humanity and intelligence which marks the acts of civilized nations and states.

There is no evidence to support the theory that the death penalty is a deterrent to capital crime. States which have abolished the punishment report less crime and less need for the extreme penalty. In Texas we have substituted electrocution for the noose, and have legalized the most horrible and soul destroying death man can inflict on man. Yet, the death house at Huntsville is overflowing, and others are marching along the path which leads to that squat, sinister chair, even before vacancies have been made for their coming. Foremost among those who oppose capital punishment will be found the wardens whose duty it is or has been to send their sorry victims to a terrible fate. They know the futility of the present system.

The past year furnished three examples of the workings of justice in various states which may throw light on the problem before the Texas legislature. Hickman committed his crime and finally hanged, after his life, his history, training and family had been dragged through the courts for months, after every known plea and subterfuge had been utilized to escape his fate. Snyder and Gray were hauled to the electric chair, cringing cowards, and the whole nation quailed at the terrible picture. Up in Michigan a few weeks after Hickman had been captured, a man was arrested, tried and convicted for a crime quite similar and every bit as revolting. His case occupied the courts and public attention for three days, or perhaps a week. His name is forgotten. Few will recall ever having heard of the case. No newspaper headlines here. No high-powered alienists, no lawyers building reputations. No jurors excused for opposition to the death penalty while less qualified men were selected. No dissipation of the state's resources in an endless battle of legal technicalities. In three days he began his term of life imprisonment. A week after his crime—oblivion.

The Record News believes the Michigan example is to be preferred to the New York and California spectacles. In the long run, this newspaper believes that the abolition of capital punishment will build better citizenship, and at least will as effectually check crime as the system we have inherited from the dark ages. Punishment for crime should be swift and certain. Justice should be meted with dignity. The abolition of the death penalty may not bring all these things about. It will be a step in the right direction at a time when justice is almost a mockery, court procedure a joke, and capital punishment the ineffectual revenge of society for its failure to improve a rule drafted long before the dawn of civilization.

Collegians Aren't Collegiate

THE "COLLEGIATE" youngster in his coonskin coat, garterless socks and gaily painted flivver is not in the least representative of the average American college student.

This cheering information comes from Dean Henry Grattan Doyle of George Washington university, who has just tabulated the answers to a questionnaire he sent to over 300 colleges and universities.

Almost without exception, the colleges he questioned reported that the vast majority of their students were earnest, serious young men, not given to eccentricities or dress or conduct, busily engaged in getting an education and looking on the "collegiate" type of popular tradition as a sort of comic supplement caricature.

This is highly encouraging news. The next time you see one of those vacuous-faced lads, slouchy, arrogant and noisy, moseying along the street, you can mark him down as a plain dumbbell and go your way. The chances are he is only pretending to be a college man.

Stay-at-Homes, After All

DESPITE the fact that the auto, the golf course, the movies, the lodge and other interests are supposed to be keeping men away from home, the average male spends just about as much time around his own fireside as he ever did.

This deduction is drawn from a curious source—figures on home accidents compiled by the Travelers Insurance company.

Last year, out of every 100 men accidentally hurt, 27 were hurt in the home. And the average for the past 10 years is only 24. Now, obviously, in order to get hurt in a home accident, a man must be at home. Apparently we're more a race of stay-at-homes than we had supposed.

Herbert Kaufman's Daily Editorial

GET rid of the loiterers crowded 'round your desk. Send 'em about their business and get down to yours.

Don't think, because these interlopers are only present in spirit, that the profit and loss account doesn't feel them absorbing your thoughts and interfering with the firm's affairs.

You can't concentrate on contract specifications or estimate the season's selling trends with Old Pinchem the note-broker distracting attention with his demands for settlement.

While he's dunning, you won't be doing half money's worth.

Take your brain out of pawn, and put it back into harness. It isn't functioning for us in a loan shark's safe.

Tell those collectors, daily waving garnishees through your imagination, that liens, on merchandise your income can't afford, are clouding our title to your wits.

Also, these frantic, last minute schemes to meet overdue mortgages are confounding the concern's program to meet interest on debenture bonds.

Promotion has decided that you're not eligible to a raise, while the balance sheet is wondering how it can much longer tolerate your non-productive services.

You'll not deliver the goods until the idea factory you leased to us quits bootlegging personal stuff on the side—between nine and five, it's company property, and quid pro quo compels you in common honesty to fulfil the deal.

Most of its capacity is devoted to building social scaling-ladders and camouflage.

It's cluttered with prospective golf matches, dancing engagements and theater parties, that neither your precarious position nor financial condition should contemplate.

Smart Aleck ambitions have confiscated Inspiration's working space.

◇ ◇ ◇

WORRY and pleasure are consuming the energy and resourcefulness you owe to our problems.

Your body's in the office but your head's all over town.

Oh, they can't tell you men get their names painted on the door by "sticking to a last" or "carrying messages to Garcia."

It isn't done any more. The lads at the top get there through family entrances, false fronts and inside tracks.

Horatio Alger school diplomas aren't found in the president's room or on directors' walls, these days.

Bedtime stories of messenger boys who become chairmen of the board, and of stenographers suddenly elevated to the general management, get by the hicks and bush-leaguers, but they're not taking candy from the wisenheimers in your set.

You and the missus have figured the system; butt in and make hay where pull and stock tips grow.

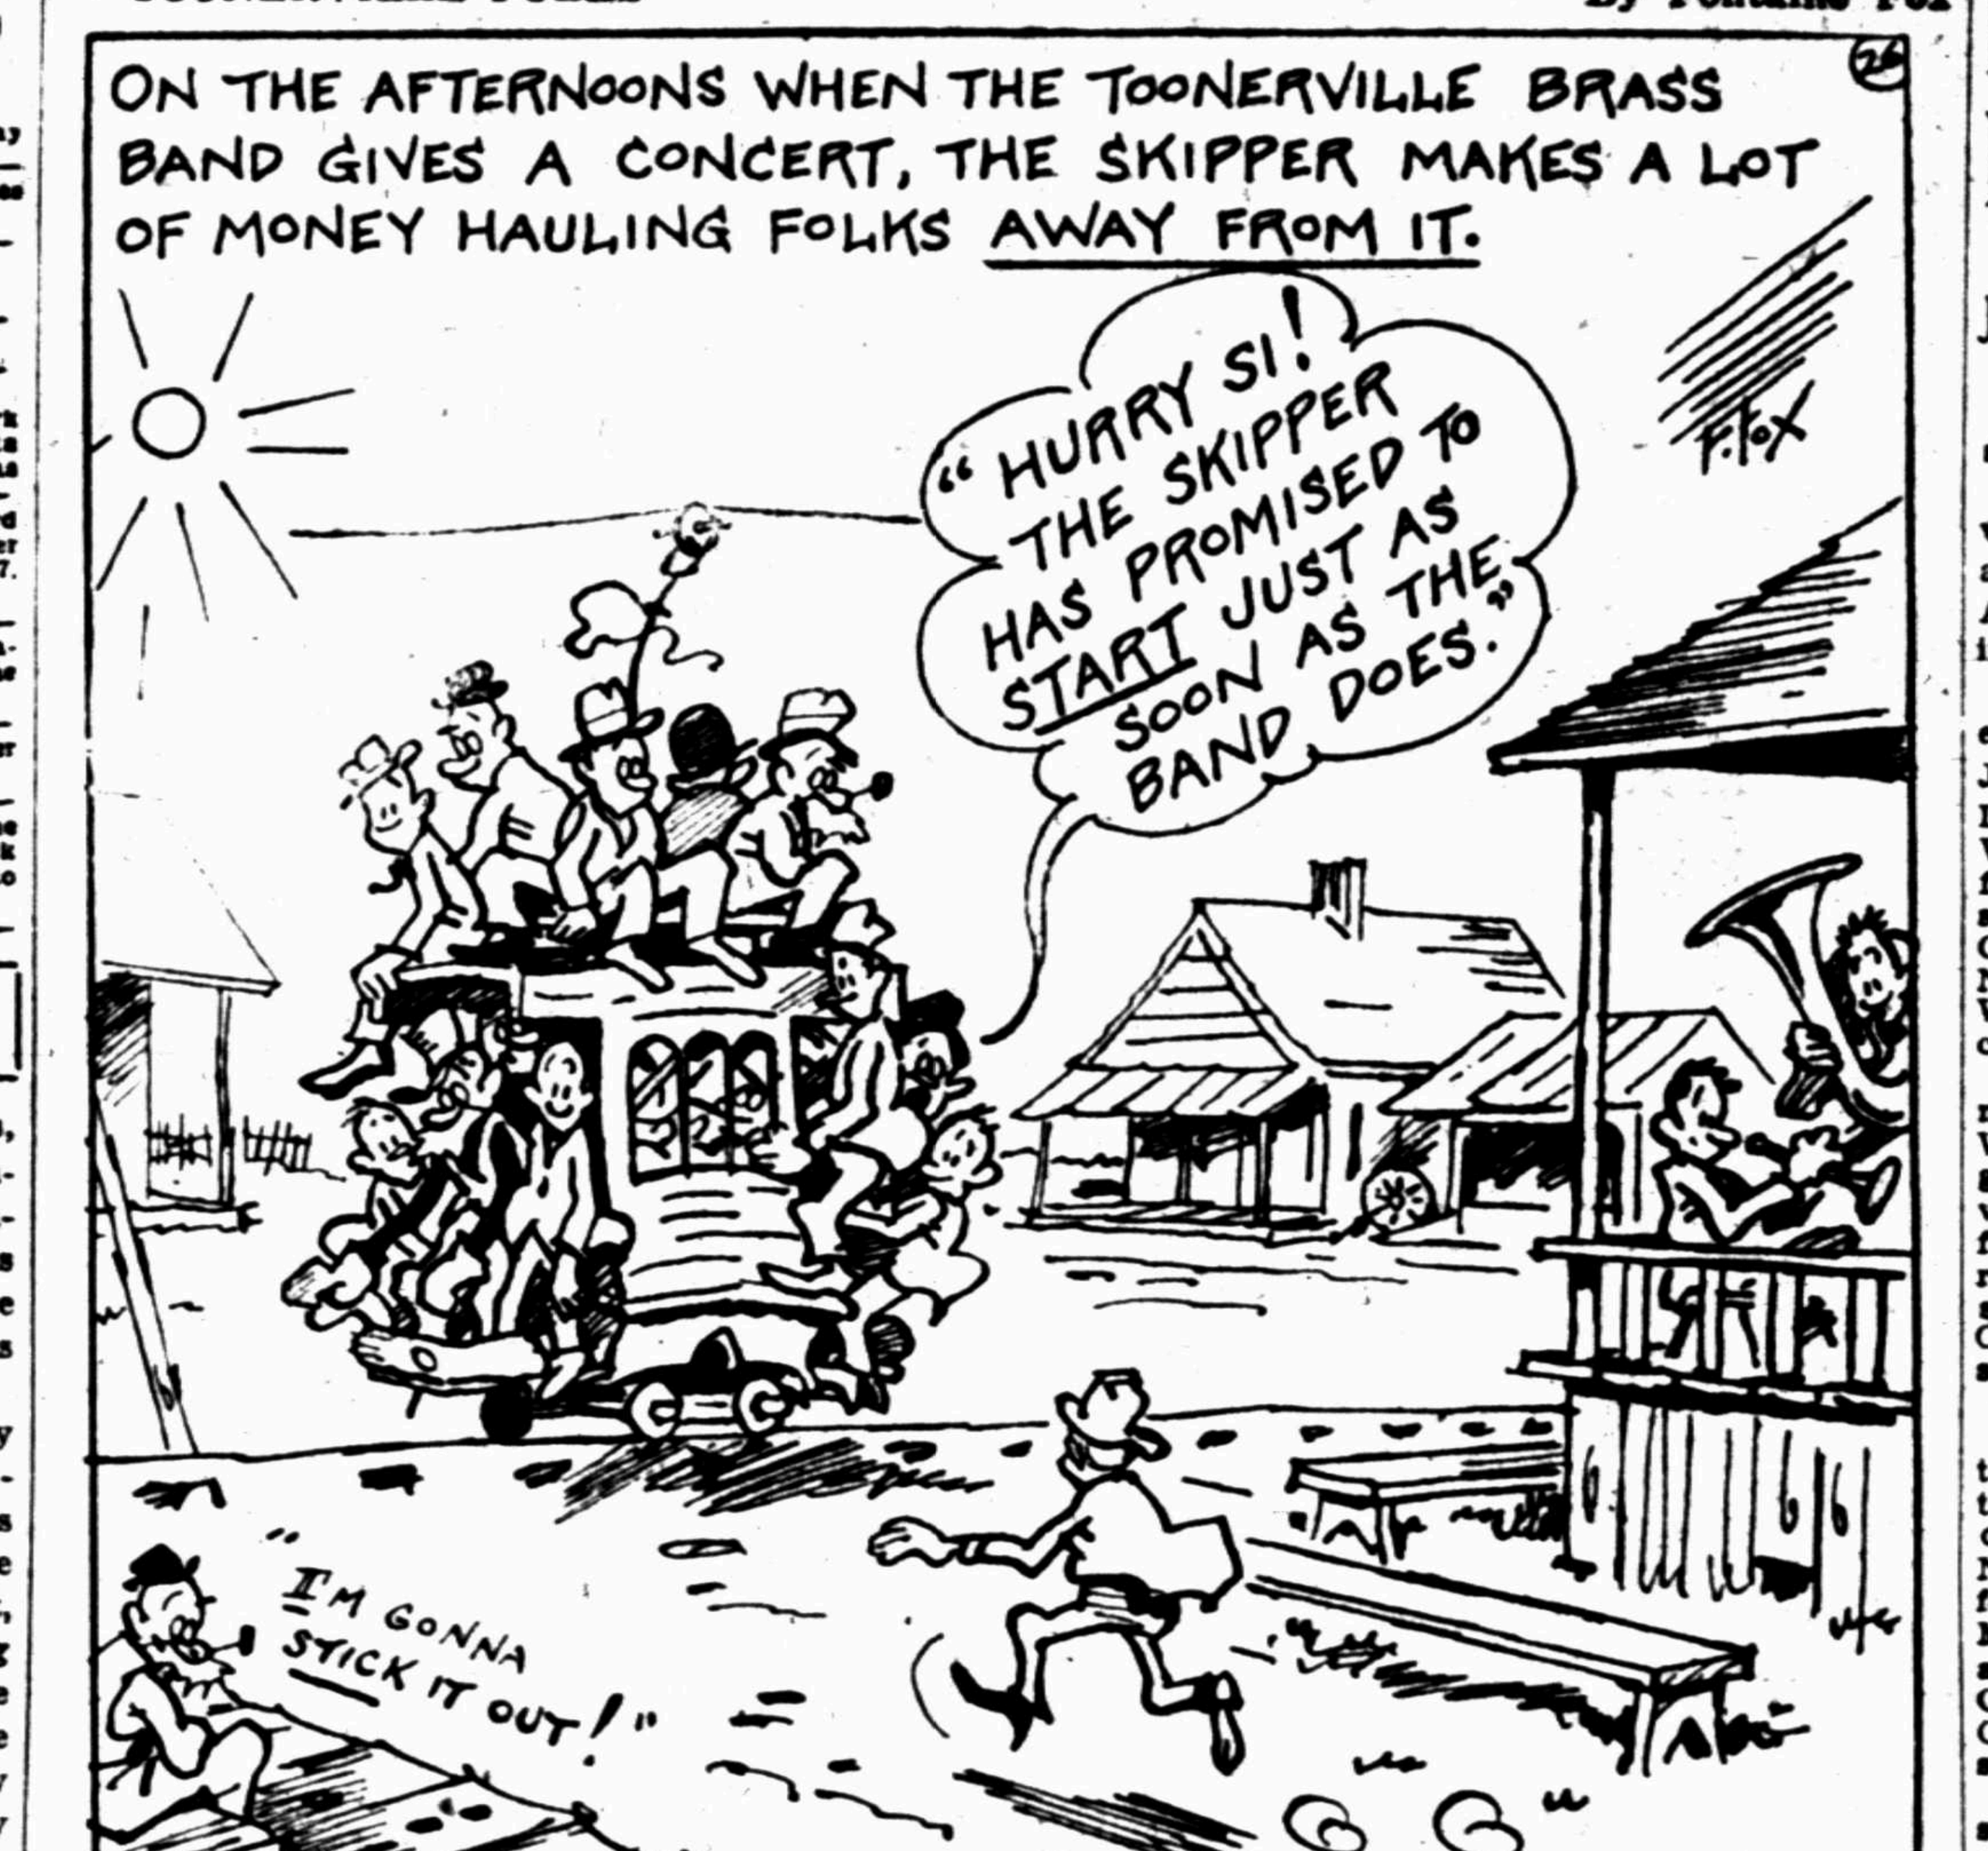

Mix with the swells at any cost and spend the last borrowable cent to crash the gate and go the gait. Atta boy! Rave on! Experience alone can handle the case, and knock you from the high-horse to the saw-buck.

Cheap and easy credit has postponed your training hurdle but in the end, necessity will teach you to jump.

Harder times are bound to replace floor-wax with elbow-grease and put your mind in overalls until it earns the right to silk lapels.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, April 25.—The daily average of jewelry on which New York pawnbrokers advance money is estimated at 5,000 watches and 6,000 other pieces of jewelry, including rings, bracelets, lavaliers, etc. If a lost article is pawned the owner is almost certain to recover it, as all the pawnbrokers are required to turn into the police each day a list.

The favorite story usually told the pawnbroker is that the article is an heirloom and comes from a faraway city. New Orleans, for some reason or other, is most often chosen, though no one knows why.

◇ ◇ ◇

One of the debutantes, fostering the movement for earlier parties and dinners in New York society, has at last revealed the cruel and hard life one of her kind leads.

The average debutante, it seems, gets up at 9 a. m. The mornings are devoted to volunteer work of all kinds; hospitals and dry nurseries are visited regularly. Some of the debs act as librarians in hospitals and serve in many of the clinics. Classes and lectures also are scheduled for the morning.

In the afternoon, committee meetings, then tea, sometimes a movie, sometimes a nap, then dinner—dinner at 10, when it is scheduled for 7:30, sometimes. At night, dances, now and then the opera, and—

It's too fatiguing, really, to go on and enumerate their vast worries and troubles. But it is nice to see the girls are looking at the serious side of life—as evidenced in their desire to have their almost nightly parties end at 3 or 4 in the morning, instead or 5 or 6. But I wonder what the girl who goes to business thinks about it?

I am not one to look with disfavor upon the so-called wedding of sound and sight—the way one press agent describes the talkie movies.

But in a New York theater the other night there was a horrible example of the failure of coordination. In a showing of "Interference" a scene arrived where a dour, stately butler entered and said to the eminent surgeon, Sir John Marley: "I haven't got the letters, darling." And the magazine, The New Yorker, records that on one occasion a quirk in the apparatus caused a large dog to address eloquent words to a sailor. But this is not to be taken too seriously. In the beginnings of all weddings including that of sight and sound) there are bound to be a few disagreements and misunderstandings.

What would appear to be one of the most sensational innovations in "community building" is the plan, now actually in progress, to create a culture village, which will represent an investment of $120,000,000. Across the Hudson, from New York on the Palisades, will be built this city where no man or woman will be admitted, according to the prospectus, who cannot show a college diploma.

Already 1,073 families of doctors, lawyers, college professors, school teachers and others have signified their intentions of locating in this settlement of high mental atmosphere. A tract of 300 acres has been set aside. The houses will average about $9,000 so that the man of poor means and rich intellect may be in a city where all his fellowmen with sheepskins may gather.

Perhaps the thing will work out all right. People hereabouts are keenly interested. But it remains to be seen whether the segregation of intellects is too delicate a matter, even for the greatest to undertake much less a real estate agent.

When you see those fellows, over to the right, banging away on drums during an overture don't be amused if they seem to take their work too seriously. Kettledrum players in New York orchestras are among the highest paid of the musicians.

One of their number, Saul Goodman, whose pompous title is chief kettledrummer of the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra and only 22 years old, has been required to stand up and bow alone in response to musically educated audiences—particularly audiences that know a lot about the intricacies of kettle-drumming. Mengelberg called him forward once to share applause with himself after the rendition of Richard Strauss' "Burleske." Toscanini praised him, too.

So the next time you go to a concert give a second look and lend another ear to the often ignored drummer hidden behind a pile of odd looking and often foolish looking contraptions.

TOWN FOR SALE!

WEST EMINENCE, Pa.—Wanta buy this town, lock, stock and barrel? Fifteen thousand acres of land, enough homes for a population of 2,000, a small logging railroad and buildings—all somewhat the worse for neglect, are offered for the small sum of $15,000. Collapse of the timber industry in the vicinity makes the bargain possible.

SCIENCE MEDAL GIVEN HOOVER

Engineering Genius of Executive Wins Reward

WASHINGTON, April 25. (UP)—President Hoover today received the highest award of the engineering world, the John Fritz gold medal conferred jointly by the four principal technical societies of the nation.

The award in previous years has been conferred upon Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas Edison, Gen. George W. Goethals, Orville Wright, Guglielmo Marconi, and others. The presentation ceremonies were at the White House, under the joint auspices of the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Institute of Mining and Metal-Lurgical Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Highest Honor

"On the testimony of his record," said the formal citation, "Hoover's engineer colleagues have awarded him their highest honor for notable, scientific and industrial achievements, as engineer, scholar, organizer or relief to war-stricken peoples. Public servant."

One of the conspicuous items in the list of scientific contributions made by the chief executive during his long career as mining engineer was his translation from the medieval Latin of Agricola's classical treatise "De Re Metallica," originally published in 1556 and never before translated into English. It is perhaps the first printed treatise on mining and metallurgy. The translation, the product of five years studious diversion in which Mrs. Hoover was collaborator, was published in 1912.

30 Honorary Degrees

The citation also listed honorary degrees conferred upon President Hoover by 30 universities, including 11 in foreign countries, and nine honorary awards by scientific and technical societies. His degrees are from Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Johns Hopkins, Dartmouth, Brown, California and others in the United States and from Liege, Brussels, Warsaw, Cracow, Oxford, Ghent, Lemberg and Lwow, abroad.

The presentation was by J. V. W. Reynders, former president of the Mining Engineering society. Dexter S. Kimball, dean of the Cornell Engineering college, presided at the ceremonies.

Cold Storage Plant Planned at Quanah

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, April 25.—Max Bergman of Fort Worth, owner of the Bergman Produce company, will build a cold storage plant in connection with their produce house here, according to announcement recently made from authoritative sources. This will be the largest cold storage plant on the Denver railroad between Fort Worth and Amarillo, and will be modern in every particular. This company owns trackage and space adjoining their present plant here ample for all building purposes.

Lawton Army Post To Get New Quarters

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., April 25.—An item of $200,000 for officers' quarters at Post Field has been included in the 15-million-dollar army housing bill recommended to congress by the war department, according to news dispatches from Washington. The bill is not expected to be acted upon until the regular session in December.

An appropriation of $155,000 for construction of hangars and other facilities at Post Field was made last year but so far no move has been made toward spending any of it.

Dallas C.-C. Boosters To Visit Quanah April 30

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, April 25.—Dallas business men, 125 strong, aboard a special train, will visit Quanah April 30.

This is a stop on the itinerary of the 26th annual Good Will tour sponsored by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, and this year the route calls for visiting 70 towns.

Band concerts by the Dallas municipal band will feature stops at the larger towns.

1859—F. R. Lubbock, treasurer of the San Jacinto Memorial fund, reported collection of $1,485.15.

1894—Died at Marshall, Col. R. M. Loughery noted for his fearless editorial policy during the worst days of the reconstruction.

1917—J. S. Cullinan of Houston appeared before the senate in Washington recommending a national food board to work under the direction of the council of national defense.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"He who hath mercy on the poor hath happiness in his heart."

True happiness is found only in making others happy.

As we travel along life's road,
Let us who are strong carry the heavier load.
If our neighbor can not walk,
Give him a lift and not so much talk.
The godliest in all the land
Are those who extend the helping hand;
Instead of scorn, learn to love:
Instead of a hawk, be a dove.

Quanah Seniors Honor Boosters of Class Play

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, April 25.—The senior class of 1929 evidenced their appreciation for the exceptional success of their class play by presenting to their coach, Miss Myers, a pen and pencil set; and by presenting to their class president who sold tickets, a five dollar gold piece.

The $200 made on this class play will be placed in the Athletic fund for equipping an athletic field, instead of putting out an annual for the 1929 class.

Health And Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper

(Copyright 1929 by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

More Food and More Exercise

Tomorrow's diet will be changed so as to include more protein food in addition to the eggs and non-starchy vegetables which you have been using. This protein is to be added to the evening meal and may be selected from any one protein in the following list: Beef, mutton, chicken, turkey, rabbit, fish, nuts or cheese.

You will notice that I say only one of these proteins should be used at a time. If the flesh foods are used, not over one-fourth of a pound should be taken at a meal. These foods may be prepared in practically any manner except by frying. If for any reason nuts are preferred over the animal proteins, it is best to use either pecan or almond nuts, as these nuts contain the least amount of carbohydrates and the largest amount of protein. Two ounces are always enough to use of the nut proteins, as they are not as easily digested and really contain a larger amount of nourishing elements than any of the flesh foods, which contain more water. If cheese is preferred, it is best not to use over thre or four ounces. I would suggest using either cottage cheese or the yellow full cream cheese.

Take More Exercise

With this addition of protein to your diet, it is advisable for you to begin taking some kind of vigorous physical culture exercise. I suggest that you use callisthenic exercises, both morning and evening, and start to take long walks at some time during the day, probably late in the afternoon. These walks should be for only a mile or so at first and gradually increased until you are able to walk four or five miles daily without fatigue. This walking is necessary for the best health unless you are actually doing such work as carrying mail, where you walk great distances at your work.

Regime for Tomorrow

Upon arising brush your teeth vigorously for five minutes with a stiff toothbrush, take breathing exercises before an open window, and supplement these exercises with five or 10 minutes of vigorous calisthenics, using mostly the setting up exercises. One enema should be continued each day for a week or two longer. This may be taken either in the morning or evening.

After your morning exercise take a cold shower or sponge bath.

Breakfast—Choice of one or two eggs prepared as described in former article, three or four pieces of melba toast or re-toasted Triscuit or Shredded Wheat Biscuit. A small dish of one of the following stewed fruits: prunes, figs, pears, raisins, apples, apricots or berries.

Lunch—Choice of the non-starchy vegetables both cooked and raw which you have been using the last few days.

During the afternoon take a long walk. This may be taken late in the afternoon. Upon returning from the walk take some more of the calisthenic and deep-breathing exercises, then a shower bath and lie down to rest for a few minutes, before dinner.

The dinner tomorrow should consist of a choice of the non-starchy vegetables as at noon, with the addition of one of the protein foods which I recommend in my last instructions. It is now all right to add a simple dessert, such as Jell-O or some of the dried or stewed fruits.

Before retiring, do not fail to clean your teeth and take an enema if you have not already done so in the morning.

Watch tomorrow's paper for further instructions.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Yellow Eyes

Question—J. C. Writes: "Would like to know what causes a "yellowish film" to be in the white of the eye, on each side of the ball. How can it be removed? Some old people say it is caused from not taking enough medicine. It has been in my eyes for several years, and the Lord knows I have taken all kinds of medicine."

Answer—The common cause of yellow showing in the white of the eye is from a retention of bile in the blood. Bile should only be in the liver, gall bladder and intestines. It is a poison to the body when in the blood and often makes the skin and white of the eye look yellow. An extreme condition from this cause is jaundice, but many people suffer from a chronic poisoning from bile which could well be called chronic jaundice.

Diet and College

Question—Two Pals writes: "We are two girls going to college and as it is impossible for us to diet, we wish you would give us some advice as to how we might reduce. Would you advise us to stop eating bread? We want to reduce some before summer and any help you give will be appreciated."

Answer—I presume you are living in a dormitory where you all eat at the same table and you are forced to eat whatever they give you. If that is so it would be better for you to change your college and attend one where you can buy your own meals wherever you wish, or prepare them yourselves. I recently wrote to several hundred colleges, asking them to send me a sample of the menus they use. The replies were very disappointing and showed that the superintendents of our modern educational institutions know little about food chemistry and seem to care less if I am to judge from the sample menus which they sent to me.

Reducing Hips

Question—R. M. H. asks: "What is the best way to reduce the hips?"

Answer—The best method for reducing the hips, thighs and buttocks is to walk four or five miles each day. No other exercise will prove quite so effective.

Berlin restaurants which serve dinners at a fixed price are experimenting with the "take as much as you like" system.

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: What's yo' theme song fo' today?

MACK: It's about Daniel in th' den.

MORAN: What's it called?

MACK: "Youse a Million Miles from Nowhere When a Lion's in Ye' Lap."

MORAN: Is that a love song?

MACK: Sure. Yo' love to be somewhere else.

MORAN: Yo' sure is got a fine brain.

MACK: It's microscopic.

MORAN: What else is yo writin'?

MACK: A lullaby from 'Dave to Goliath.

MORAN: What's it called?

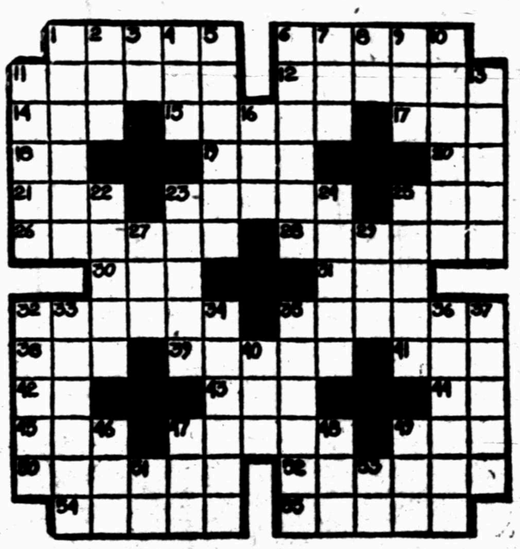

MACK: "I'll Rock that Baby to Sleep."

MORAN: Is yo' gettin' money from writin' them poems?

MACK: No. But I ain't losin' any.

Big Boy is holding his own in the big theme song writing contest. You all remember his big song success of Street Angel? It was called "Angela Meow."

SPORTS TAKE SANDLOT EXHIBITION, 15-4 AND GRAB SERIES

SPUD DEFENSE HELPS ENEMY

Which Includes Loose Hurling and Six Errors

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

The Sports and the Spudders engaged in another Twilight league game yesterday. Shreveport won. The score was 15 to 4. The victory gave the Sports two out of three in the series out at our orchard.

Shreveport made 13 hits, only one more than Wichita Falls. But one of the Sports' blows was a home run by Ernie Holman with all the baselings occupied with gray-clad athletes. Wichita Falls pitchers also were wild. The home defense was as unsteady as the German mark. The Spudders made six errors.

Weather cold; track fast.

Rusty Cromer, the kid right-hander from Abilene, was started on the hill by Skipper Galloway. He gave a couple of passes in the first inning but escaped scoreless in that round. Three hits, as many bases on balls and two errors let the hostiles tally five in the second. So in the third, young Rusty was requested to call it a day, after three more tallies had been scored and with two runners on base and one out.

Boots Harm Cromer

Be it said for the defense, if there is any defense, that two more boots by his comrades in the third helped place young and ambitious Mr. Cromer in his dire straits. Anyhow, there the situation was when Ed Taber strode calmly and slowly to the hill. Ed always strides slowly and calmly. He pitches that way, too.

A sacrifice fly tallied another runner in that third. Then Edward set about slowly and calmly to the task at hand. He retired the side in order in the fourth and fifth. Then he gave up two runs in the sixth and the aforementioned circuit sack by Holman counted four more in the ninth.

Meanwhile, as the subtiles said before the day of the squawkies, Chief Wilkins breezed along, getting in and out of precarious situations thanks to some fast support and failure of the Spudders to hit with runers out there waiting to be brought home.

Cold and Dreary

In extenuation for the putrid exhibition, it might be mentioned that the day was cold. Exceptionally so. And it was dark and dreary for the faithful fans.

Debs Garms and Milton Gordon played their first game here of the championship season. Each was at bat once and hit the ball, though not for safe knocks. They looked good on their only fielding chances.

Fitzgerald, Swenson, Sullivan and Lapan each maced a brace of hits as did Hutson, Cashion, Holman and Stewart.

Spuds Score In First

Whelan and Hutson walked in the first but Benton, Turgeon and Stapleton completed a fast double play on Cashion's grounder and Holman was called out on strikes.

Turgeon singled to left after Benton failed to get on base every time up for the first time in three games. Pete got a long lead and stole second and went to third on Fitzgerald's infield out. Bennett singled to left, scoring Turgeon. Pete was out stealing.

The Sports tallied five in the second. Cox led off with a base on balls and advanced to second when Deviveros' lift to left fell safely. Stewart singled to right, scoring Cox, and Deviveros went to third and Stewart to second on the-throw-in. Starr walked, filling the bases. Wilkins struck out. Whelan strolled, Deviveros ambling home. Hutson forced Whelan, Benton to Turgeon, Stewart scoring, and Starr tallied and Hutson took second on Turgeon's wild throw to first for a double play. Cashion singled to center, and Hutson scored on Turgeon's late throw in the dirt at first. Holman again fanned.

Lapan doubled to left, scoring Swenson, who had singled to Wilkins, and sending Stapleton, who had got on when Cashion dropped his fly, to third. One was out and Bud and Pete were left stranded on the baselines.

Cox was hit on the hand by a pitched ball to start the third. In a wrangle at the plate, for some reason or other, Skipper Art Phelan was banished from the park. Owner Biedenbarn of the Sports appeared at his club's dugout to console Cox or Phelan—or both. After more delay they finally resumed play, with McClanahan running for Cox.

Deviveros walked, Stewart sacrificed to Swenson. McClanahan and Deviveros scored when Stapleton threw wild to the plate on Starr's grounder, Starr going to second. Swenson fumbled Cromer's toss to get Starr on Wilkins' grounder. Whelan singled to right, scoring Starr and advancing Wilkins to third. Taber replaced Cromer. Wilkins scored on Hutson's lift to Fitzgerald. Cashion doubled to left, Whelan stopping at third. Holman walked. Fitzgerald took McClanahan's hoist. Four runs were tallied in that inning.

McClanahan went to right Fitzgerald got an infield hit but was left on first.

The Sports were retired in order in the fourth.

Wichita Falls scored one in the fourth. Stapleton walked after one was out. Successive singles by Lapan and Taber filled the bases. Stapleton tallied while Whelan and Wilkins were retiring Benton.

Taber again set back the Sports in order in the fifth, with not a ball hit out of the infield.

Swenson singled and advanced to third on Sullivan's double to left but two were out and Stapleton lifted to Cashion.

Sports Tally Two More

Shreveport counted two in the sixth. Cashion walked. Holman singled. Both advanced on McClanahan's sacrifice. Deviveros fanned but the ball got past Lapan, Cashion scoring and Holman going to third. Stewart singled to right, scoring Holman, but Sullivan threw out Deviveros at third. Starr bounced to Taber.

Garms went to shortstop and Gordon to third at the start of the seventh.

The Spudders went out one-two-three in the seventh.

McClanahan singled in the eighth but that's as far as he got.

Sullivan started the Spudder half with a base knock and went to third on Stapleton's single to right. Wilkins deflected Lapan's smart bounder to enable Deviveros to make a fast double play, but Sullivan scored.

Starr opened the ninth with a single to center. Wilkins fanned. Whelan hit to right for a base, sending Starr to second. Hutson dropped a single back of third, filling the bases. Gordon came in fast and made a fine throw to the plate to retire Starr on Cashion's grounder. Holman hit over the left field wall, scoring three comrades ahead of him.

Fitzgerald doubled to right after two were out. He was left on second.

NOTES OF THE GAME

The Dallas Steers open a three-day stand, including a double-header Sunday, here today.

Ed Ellis, the southpaw who beat the Bovines Monday in the six-inning second game of a twin bill, probably will be Jim's hurler today.

Jack Crouch, the brilliant young catcher, is suffering from indistinct position that has kept him out of uniform a couple of days.

The Sports play at Fort Worth today and return home tomorrow.

Holman's home run was a tremendous hit ball over the left field palisade.

Every Sports who had a legal time at bat got a hit.

Fourteen Spudders got on base and only four scored. That shows a distinct inability to hit in the old w. k. clinch.

Gridders Meet Barry Holton; Citizens Dine New Coach Today

Barry Holton, new athletic director at Wichita Falls high school, made his first public appearance out at the school yesterday. Today, he will make his debut, informal, but none the less highly important and significant to the citizens.

The occasion yesterday was the first meeting of Holton and some 100 prospective candidates for next autumn's football team. The affair today is to be a luncheon at the Wichita club, to be attended by 50 business and professional men.

The new mentor was introduced yesterday to the preps by Bud McCallum, the retiring coach, resigned. Holton outlined succinctly his coaching methods and gave advice on how the gridders may profitably occupy themselves this summer vacation.

He stressed the importance of every candidate cheerfully giving his most strenuous effort, and reiterated that it is essential that all players put forth their utmost energy to the developing of speed and power, the main assets of a football team.

Holton urged his prospective players to be careful of their habits, and suggested track work and swimming as means of keeping in condition.

Carter McGregor, a member of the school board, said that the practice field at the school will be set in grass, to be ready when the preps and junior college teams start drill next fall.

Railroad Tracksters To Meet in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, April 25. (AP)—Upwards of 10,000 railroad employes, drawn largely from the East and Middle West, are expected here for the 1929 annual New York Central track meet Sept. 18 at the University of Pittsburgh stadium.

Contestants will represent the New York Central, Big Four, Michigan Central, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Ohio Central lines, Indiana Harbor Belt, Chicago Junction and various subsidiaries.

THREE STEERS CAST ADRIFT

Huber Sent to Exporters; Cox, Jones Out

DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—The axe fell heavily on the Dallas Steers roster today when club officials announced that Thirdbaseman Bill Huber, Outfielder Pete Jones and Pitcher Leslie Cox would depart for other fields.

Huber was sold outright to Beaumont, his home town. The sale price was not divulged. He was bought during the winter from Chattanooga of the Southern association.

Cox, who was with Dallas on option, was turned back to the Chicago White Sox. That club immediately ordered him to report to Milwaukee of the American association. He pitched for San Antonio last year.

Jones, former star athlete at Baylor university, was made a free agent. Steer officials said he was given his outright release due to poor health.

Seymour Roadsters To Banquet Tonight

Seymour Roadsters will hold their annual banquet tonight at the Y. M. C. A. A hay ride is to be the "grand climax," as Jack Allen says, of the affair. Walter Nelson Jr., a strong supporter of the basketball team, awarded 10 letters, which will be presented tonight to the following:

John James, Otto Juhl, Carlisle Norwood, Bill Steger, Walter Copeland, Jack Allen, Bob Daugherty, Dan Cox and Melcolm Ducker. Dan White received a manager's letter.

Bud McCallum will be one of the guests at the banquet.

TOURNEY HELD ON MUNY LINKS

Match Play Starts After Qualifying May 5

An open amateur golf tournament, sponsored by the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been announced as a feature of appreciation week. The tournament will be match play and will be held over the course of the Weeks' park Golf club.

Ted Woolridge of the junior chamber of commerce will be in charge of the golf tournament.

Prizes Offered

Qualifying play in the tournament of 18 holes must be finished by Sunday, May 5. Match play will started immediately following the qualifying.

There will be three flights in the tournament. Prizes for driving, the greatest number of birdies, for medal score and for winners of the three flights will be offered by business men of the city.

Polo Game Planned

An entrance fee of $1, to cover qualifiying and match play, will be charged. The fee and scores may be given to the professional in charge of the Weeks Park course, or may be handed to Ted Woolridge in the City National Bank building.

Henry B. Penix, in charge of publicity for the junior chamber of commerce, announces the golf tournament and also that a polo game will be played Friday, May 3, as part of appreciation week program. The Wichita Falls Bluejackets, champions of the southwest, will oppose a leading four of this state, probably one from Fort Worth, in the polo match at Call field.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, April 25.—Every family in New York is musical provided that the electricity holds out.

But even wired musicians are up against it in that town because of the two kinds of current.

North of Seventy-fifth street, the current is alternating. South, it is direct.

The wife moved the works south of Seventy-fifth last week. We have a piano that should be played by a motorman.

It has a motor and a drip-pan like a truck. The minute the wife plugged the jigger in the baseboard, the piano burst into an aria of smoke and flame. The direct current was playing tag with the alternating motor.

It's still a good piano if you like 'em sunburned and with the keys colored as beautifully as a Meerschaum pipe.

The varnish looks like the sinister bubbles on bootleg hootch and you can't touch the pedals because they will be hot for the next three months.

Radio was an easier problem. The wife bought a new motor for thirty bills. When she hooked it up she found that the only station she could get was the electric refrigerator in the kitchen.

An expert came in and said, "I think you can get the Bronx. But you will have to take the subway."

He finally figured out the problem by switching a ground wire on the steam pipes. This enables us to tune in on everything that happens in the cellar.

Then a family moved in the bungalow on the roof and every aerial on the premises was ordered down. We tried indoor loops but the building is of steel construction and the only entertainment we could catch was the sound of rivets chirping in their nests.

Finally, we decided to bootleg our radio. Every night when dusk smudges up the vicinity we toss a wire out the window. Being on the fifth floor, the wire dangles down the building and trips people walking on the street.

It gets tangled up with taxicabs, bicycles and neckties. One midnight when we pulled it in there was a silver fox clinging to it.

Another night we caught a two-hundred pound pedestrian, who struggled so ferociously we had to throw him back into the pond.

Until Mr. Logan reads this he will not know how we are trapping our theme songs and lectures on blue delft china.

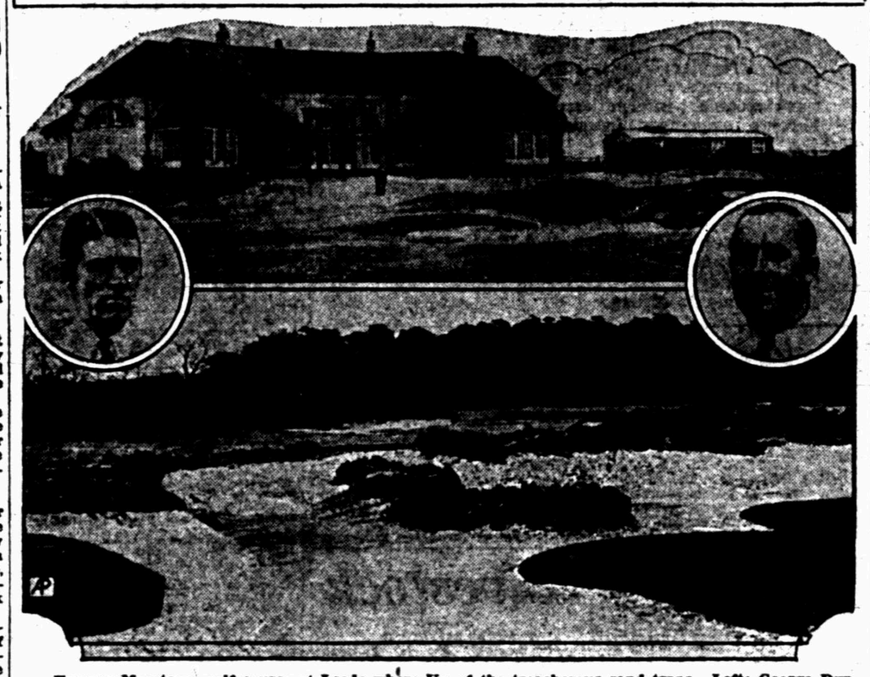

The radio entertainment has taken second place on the program. The most important and exciting business is to ascertain what we caught on the aerial.

So far we have been fair about it. We do not bait the wire with cookies or gum drops.

It's probably the only bootleg radio in the city. But if people knew how thrilling it was they would go in for this combination indoor-outdoor sport.

When Mr. Logan walks around the building in the daytime he sees no aerials. But when twilight arrives the wire goes out the window and the fishing starts.

AL WATROUS

Al Watrous, freckled pride of Grand Rapids, Mich., is a line sergeant of America's professional old guard. British competition is an old game to him and he is counted on to give a good account of himself in the Ryder cup matches.

Watrous won the Canadian open in 1922 and has pulled down many winter tournaments, including the South Central in 1925 when he finished with a birdie 3 on the last hole to nose out MacDonald Smith.

He earned his place on both previous international teams and acquitted himself nobly. A longer driver than average, his accuracy with the short irons has been the deciding factor in his matches.

FRENCH NET STARS OFF FORM

Cochet Stale and Lacoste Inactive

PARIS, April 25. (AP)—Reversal in tennis form is causing grave concern to French fans and officials as to the safety of the Davis cup in France for 1929.

Twice during the past month the ranking number one world's player for 1928 has met clean cut defeats from the racquets of players whom he previously had spotted a set or two.

Christian Boussus, the slim left-hander, took Cochet's measure at Roubaix on covered courts, winning handily in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2. Then along came Pierre Landry at Biarritz and Cochet again went down, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

These defeats in straight sets to the "greatest five-set player in the world," while too radical to be true, show that "cocky little Henry" will have to get seriously down to business if he wants to reach top form for the Davis cup challenge round in July.

The continued absence from the courts since last October of Rene Lacoste and the probability that the "crocodile" has no intention of submitting himself to a severe course of preparation is causing the French much anxiety.

With France's two mainstays in the singles out of form and perhaps Lacoste out of competition altogether, Capt. Pierre Gillou of the French Davis cup team is showing a lot of gray hair not noticeable in his raven locks last year.

Cochet has simply gone stale. He has played too much continuous tennis. Since opening his 1928 season on the Riviera in February there has not been a single week, excepting those he spent on the high seas, that Cochet has not participated in a tennis tournament or competition of some sort.

Henri has decided to take a complete rest for a month. He will resume practice about the beginning of May to get into shape for the French hardcourt championships on May 18.

Amateurs Supreme in Russian Soviet Sport

MOSCOW, April 12. (AP)—The amateur has a clear field in Russia, for there are no professional sports.

The emphasis on the amateur games has resulted in an unprecedented move for athletics for all. Now, more than 3,000,000 men, women and children are listed as active in sports.

About 20 per cent of these are affiliated with village sports organizations and most of the remainder belong to trade union clubs.

YANKEES FIND ROUGH GOING

Battery Weakness Encountered by Champions

By FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK, April 25. (UP)—The New York Yankees have been out in front so long that they have had to put numbers on the backs of the players' uniforms so the other teams can identify them.

The pursuit of Miller Huggins' clan has become as much a fixture of the American outdoor season as fox hunting in England, with the essential difference that the fox usually gets caught.

This year there seems to be more likelihood of the Yankees being caught than has been the case for three seasons of major league baseball.

The first week of the 1929 season has demonstrated that the New York juggernaut which rumbled roughshod over all opposition in 1926-27-28 is likely to find the road to a fourth successive pennant a rough one.

Pitching Weak Point

Pitching is a weak point with the Yanks this year. With Herbie Pennock's arm in a sling and George Pipgras having difficulty in locating the plate, Huggins is deprived of much of the anticipated early season defensive strength attributed to his club by the dopesters who figured the Yankees as practically certain to breeze into the world series once again.

Waite Hoyt, one of the best right-handed pitchers in baseball, has won his first two starts, but even the youthful mortician must admit that he was favored by fate on both occasions.

The Yanks got 16 hits behind Hoyt yesterday to beat the Boston Red Sox. Last week, with Hoyt in the box and a tight pitchers' battle under way, "Mule" Haas of the Athletics lost two fly-balls in the sun and Waite was credited with a victory which might by rights have gone to the opposing hurler, old John Picus Quinn.

Yank Rivals Encouraged

Bob Grove of the Athletics beat the Yanks with ease this year and so did Morris of the Red Sox. The situation is far from discouraging to the rivals of the Huggins tribe.

Even as hard a hitting aggregation as the New York club undoubtedly is cannot hope to get through another season without more battery strength than the Yankees have demonstrated thus far this April.

It may be that Pennock will come back to take his place as a regular pitcher for the world's champions and that Pipgras will recover the form looked for by Huggins. This pair, together with Hoyt and some tremendous hitting, might swing the Yanks into their fourth successive world series.

The results of the first week of the 1929 season, however, have heartened considerably such ball clubs as the Athletics and the Browns, both of whom have sped away from the barrier ahead of the Yankees without appreciable effort.

A Few Memories

A young fellow slamming a right field thrust,
Stealing second with thrill and throb,
Stealing third in a cloud of dust—
And his name was Cobb.

A human hawk as he circles back,
Under the ball with never a miss;
Whirling in for a low line smack—
And his name was Tris.

The Missing Name

There will be a new name added at some date to the list that started with Sullivan and ended with Tunney, as engraved upon the Muldoon-Tunney trophy.

Just what that name will be is still a guess, but if it belongs to some heavyweight who can do no more actual fighting than the present crop has done to date it will be in the nature of a merry jest. The survivor who gets his name on this trophy should be made to earn his place by contributing something more than a haul and dance.

Suppose, for example, Sharkey and Stribling had been the ultimate survivors. If either name had been placed on any championship trophy after the Miami Beach affair the ghosts of some of the others would have returned some night to do a lot of erasing and scratching out.

If there isn't about 200 per cent more fighting spirit shown than most of the heavyweights have shown in the last year the space on this trophy should be left blank for an indefinite run.

No one has any particular squawk coming over the money a heavyweight can earn, but at least the heavyweight should be willing to earn about 5 per cent of what he collects.

The Best Alltime Outfield

Dear Sir: Robert G. Stilwell is on his back. Turn him over. If you don't remember Hamilton, Delehanty and Thompson, Mr. Stilwell must have been dead or asleep when the old boys, Lewis, Hooper and Speaker, were throwing strikes from the outfield. That crack he makes about the Yanks' outfield is a joke. The best thing they do in unison is hitting. How about the one-arm man in center field. That would surely knock that outfield out of the running. Do you fail to remember Lewis, Speaker and Hooper? Oh, boy! How those birds could sock them, evenly and most disgustingly regular, especially when you were pulling for the other team. Lewis with that long-shot arm, Speaker with that accurate arm and the other guy with a combination of both cut more runs off and prevented runners from advacing than all of the oldtimers ever drove in with hits. I'll admit that Ty Cobb was a piker when it came to stealing bases. Tell Mr. S. the one about the Cuban first baseman who always and immediately threw the ball to the catcher whenever the ball was hit to him and Cobb was on first base, and this in order to keep Ty from scoring. That's an actual fact—I saw it when Detroit visited Cuba one winter. They can talk about them all, individually, and I never cared much for the bird, but Ty Cobb had them all beat, and this covers 40 years of actual watching him.

—JAMES J. SHEEHY.

Dear Mr. Rice: The letter of your correspondent under the caption "The Best Outfield" is interesting down to the last paragraph, where he picks the present Yankee outfield as the "best in baseball history."

I recall quite vividly that Philly outfield of 1905, composed of Delehanty, Hamilton and Thompson. I saw Ed Delehanty make those four home runs and a single off the graceful Bill Terry, on the Lincoln street grounds at Chicago, on that July day in 1896. Several years previously I saw Hamilton steal six bases one afternoon.

"Where are the Billy Hamiltons of today?" Where are they? And where is that Spaulding regulation baseball of 1896? And where is that big red bat of Delehanty's that he, incidentally, had to knock convalescent patients out of the cots on the roof of the Cook County hospital at Chicago?

And where is that lunch wagon of 1897 that always moved out of range just as soon as that gong on the grandstand rang as a signal to start the game, so that Delehanty, Lajoie, Flick, Douglas and Eddie McFarland couldn't break up the dishes?

Now, Mr. Rice, what I would like to know is this: Could the present Yankee outfield beat the percentage figures of Delehanty, Hamilton and Thompson, playing under 1895 conditions? —GUY A. BOECHE.

These are just a few samples of the arguments stirred up concerning the best alltime outfield.

In the way of modern baseball, dating back 25 years, I still believe Cobb, Crawford and Veach was the hardest hitting trio and that Speaker, Lewis and Hooper was the best defensive outfield, and possibly the best all-round of the modern lot. And there has never been anything to bother about in the Yankee combination of Ruth, Combs and Meusel.

Today's Golf Angle

One reason, among others, why Walter Hagen thinks Horton Smith is a great golfer is the ease and simplicity of his game. There could be no better evidence. The more complex and intricate the swing the worse the brand of golf. The star makes it look easy, the duffer makes it look hard. In fact he makes it look impossible.

If the average golfer would attempt to think about greater ease and greater simplicity he might begin to wabble a few strides in the right direction.

WISE GETS MORE SEASONING

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 25. (AP)—The Toronto Internationals have turned Ray Wise, outfielder, back to the Charlotte team of the South Atlantic association for more seasoning. Wise was one of the leading hitters of the Sally league last season.

RYDER TOURNEY STARTS TODAY

Foursomes Mark Start Of U. S.-British Golf

MOORTOWN, LEEDS, England, April 25. (US)—The Ryder cup tournament will certainly see some real golf, if early indications run true to form. The international contest assumes more and more the look of a pitched battle of mashie-swingers with the announcement of the four-some pairings.

The way the most famous of American and British pros will start out over the championship Moortown course Friday follows:

Johnny Farrel and Joe Turnesa, A., against C. A. Whitcombe and Archie Compston, B.

Leo Diegel and Al Espinosa, A., against Audrey Boomer and George Duncan, captain of the British team.

Gene Sarazen and Ed Dudley, A., against Abe Mitchell and Fred Robson, B.

Walter Hagen, captain of the American team, and Johnny Golden, against E. R. Whitcombe and Henry Cotton, B.

Horton Smith and Al Watrous will swing into action in the singles on Saturday.

It looks as if the hardest task of the lot will fall to Leo Diegel, the flying Dutchman, and Al Espinosa, the Spanish nonpareil. When they tee up against Audrey Boomer and George Duncan they'll have their hands very, very full, and will have to unload their best brand of golf to upset the British leader and his astounding part.

And the Sarazen-Dudley combination will know what hard work is when they swap shots with the formidable Abe Mitchell and Robson.

MAISONS-LAFFITTE, France, April 25. (AP)—Elton, the 100 to 1 shot which won the Lincolnshire handicap, would have paid 1,000 to 1 had the pari-mutuel totalizator been in operation on the British turf, says a trainer who has just returned from a month's campaign in England.

You can't wreck the SAMSONBAK BELT with your hands—so you won't by wearing it

STRONG men aren't all in the circus! That's the warning we received when we first challenged men to a tug-of-war on the new HANES SAMSONBAK Union Suit. But we knew our garment. And now big men and little men in every walk of life are satisfied that here are the longest service, the best fit and the most comfort ever found in a union suit.

Hustle around to your dealer. Tell him you want to see for yourself how strong the SAMSONBAK really is. He'll get a stranglehold on one end of the suit. You grab the other. Then pull, pull hard.

The belt stretches marvelously, but never rips. That belt goes three-quarters of the way around your body too—everywhere there's any possibility of pulling or binding. And there's not a strand of rubber in it to break or lose elasticity.

You won't find this belt in any other union suit—or anything like the comfort. The whole idea is patented. The cost is only one dollar. There are many other styles in HANES Underwear. See them all — particularly the smart new shirts and shorts. P. H. Hanes Knitting Co., Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

FLUSH OIL IN WEST SLUMPS

New Production Above Average, However

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, April 25.—New production in West Texas slumped last week, but remained above the average for the spring, when 16 producers were completed in four counties rating 46,583 barrels, compared with a dozen completions good for 62,396 barrels daily in six counties the week before. Three tests were abandoned dry, one each in Brewster, Concho and Winkler counties, three less than during the preceding week. One location each in Concho and Glasscock counties.

One well, Humble No. 10-C Hendrick in Winkler county, contributed 30,312 barrels to last week's total of 46,583 barrels, just as McMan Oil and Gas company's No. 1-A Smith in Pecos county provided 59,296 of the total of 62,396 barrels the week before. Winkler county last week completed five wells rating 42,120 barrels, Howard county nine wells for 4,310 barrels, Mitchell county one well for 106 barrels and Crane county one for 47 barrels.

Trash Haulers Warned To Use City Dump

Trash haulers were warned Thursday against dumping trash on vacant lots instead of hauling it to the city dump by Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief city sanitary inspector.

Dr. Farrell said that he had found several cases during the last few days where haulers had deposited trash on vacant lots instead of on the dump. Haulers caught in such a practice will be fined under the city sanitary ordinance and deprived of their permits, Dr. Farrell said. The same penalty will apply to haulers placing animal matter on the dump, Dr. Farrell said.

CITY BUDGETS DISTRIBUTED

Copies of the official budget for the fiscal city year which opened April 1, were distributed to the heads of the city departments Thursday by Miss Pearl Goldstucker, secretary of the city manager. A copy of the budget was given to each city alderman and the mayor, as well as to the department heads.

Fort Sill Officers Jest With Death on First Air Ride

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., April 25.—All of the 16 reserve officers now in training with the 18th field artillery, Fort Sill, were given an airplane ride over Lawton and surrounding country yesterday. For several reserves it was the first ride but they displayed no fear as their bulletin boards Tuesday contained advertisements of local undertakers, monument establishments and flower stores.

One item in particular was gratifying. It informed plane passengers that all parachutes were guaranteed and would be replaced in case they failed to open.

TONKAWA OIL PRICES RAISED

Champlin Boosts Crude In Oklahoma Area

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 25. (AP)—The Champlin Refining company today posted a 20-cent per barrel advance in the price of crude oil in the Tonkawa and adjacent districts, bringing 25-29.9 gravity crude to 86 cents a barrel, with a 6 cent differential for grades up to 33-33.9 gravity, which is quoted at $1.31 a barrel, after which there is a 3 cent differential to 44 and above gravity, quoted at $1.64.

The company announced the advance would cover the Barber, Tonkawa, Lovell, Billings, Watchhorn and Thomas pools only.

Tulsa Oil Show To Be Greater

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., April 25.—The International Petroleum exposition and International Petroleum congress, Oct. 5-12, inclusive, will be more intensively industrial, technical and scientific than any of the five so far held, said President W. G. Skelly. He had made a survey of the preliminary work for the 1929 events and found that an unusual amount of space had already been sold; that the various branches of the industry are taking more practical interest; the participation will be on a greater scale from all parts of the United States, and particularly from foreign countries.

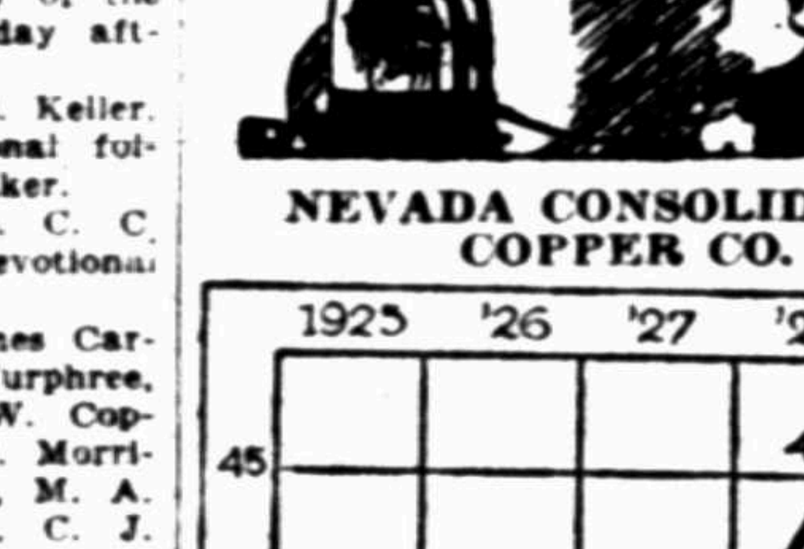

The exposition is a permanent affair, centered at the exposition's own grounds, well and exclusively fitted up. A fourth big building is in contemplation. This will be the third exposition at the permanent site and all facilities are now practically complete. Many important conventions, conferences and meetings will again be held this year.

The city's hotel accommodations have in the last year undergone another big expansion.

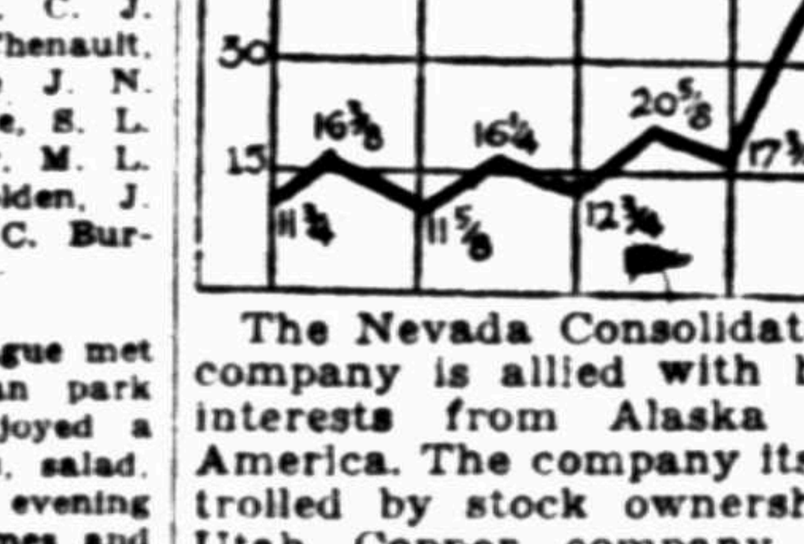

The declared purposes of the exposition are: To afford a meeting place for the oil developers, the marketers, the field men, the executives, inventors, manufacturers, jobbers and user; to afford display and demonstration of the new scientific machines, appliances and methods; to promote the safety of the fields, to give the public a view of the amazing progress of the industry and its oncoming standardization. It can be stated now, with entire safety, that the exhibits themselves will be worth $10,000,000 or more.

Three directors of note have been added to the board. They are E. B. Roeser, head of the Barnsdall corporation and president of the American Petroleum Institute; John M. Egan, general manager of the Oil & Gas Journal; T. R. Weymouth, president of the Oklahoma Natural Gas corporation.

STOCK-A-DAY

NEVADA CONSOLIDATED COPPER CO.

The Nevada Consolidated Copper company is allied with big copper interests from Alaska to South America. The company itself is controlled by stock ownership of the Utah Copper company which in turn is controlled by Kennecott Copper. In 1926, Nevada Consolidated acquired control of Ray Consolidated and Chino Copper companies. These holdings comprise all but a small percentage of the porphyry copper mining group, workable by open pit and steam shovel methods.

The properties of the company are located in Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico and titles cover about 48,000 acres of land. Of this about 8,000 acres are mineral lands, 560 acres are placer claims and 160 acres limestone quarry lands. Ore reserves at the beginning of 1928 were estimated at 277,483,000 tons averaging 1.51 per cent copper.

The company made its best record in the war years. But the increased price of copper shot earnings skyward again in 1928. There were deficits in 1921, and 1922. Net rose from $3,375,610 in 1923 to $6,375,610 in 1923 to $6,832,396 in 1926. There was a slight drop in 1927 and in the first nine months of 1928, net before depletion and taxes was $10,368,093, a gain of over $5,000,000 as compared with the corresponding period of 1927.

There is no funded debt, the sole bond issue having been called for payment Dec. 31, 1928. Capital stock outstanding consists of 4,857,248 shares of no par value. The present dividend rate of $2 a share annually. As of Jan. 1, 1928, total current assets were $23,546,591. Current liabilities totaled $3,972,830 and net working capital was $19,573,761. Book value applicable to the capital stock was $16.20 a share.

Hens and Pigs Perform Duties Sans Sunshine on Farms Wired for Tests

LONDON, April 25. (AP)—It is unnecessary to make hay while the sun shines, in the opinion of Borlase Matthews. It can be made without sunshine. Matthews does it by electricity on a farm of 200 acres in Sussex where he is experimenting. He uses ultra violet rays on hens and pigs.

NEW YORK.—Miss Gertrude Sangford, 27, sister of Laddie Sanford, polo player, is quite a Diana. News has come that she and two men have bagged 13 specimens of nyala, rare Abyssian antelope, also lions, oribi, klipspringer, lammergeyer and various other things.

NEW YORK.—The future of Elsie Janis is up to America. She contracted to write dialogue for the talkies. "I warn Americans," she said returning from Europe, "that if they don't help me to be a writer I am going to keep on the stage."

KROONSTADT, Orange Free State.—A manager of a movie theater who delighted in realism must pay $100 or spend three months in jail. During the showing of a cowboy film he fired three shots to make it like a talkie. He thought the cartridges were blank. One shot killed a native passing the theater.

NEW YORK. — Our everyday speech is becoming staccato and brief because of our mechanized age. So Professor George Pierce Baker of Yale told the American Academy of Arts and Letters. The influence of all our time-saving, distance-killing devices is evident in most of the conversation he overhears.

WASHINGTON.—Dr. Royal S. Copeland, senator from New York, believes medicine ball is too strenuous for Mr. Hoover, and tennis for Mr. Stimson; that golf is the ideal game for a man over 45. Mr. Hoover doesn't play it. Nevertheless the doctor has found the president to be in the best of shape.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—An early advance promoted by relatively steady cables, reports of rain in the central belt and the expected prompt stopping of May notices was followed by sharp declines in cotton today under renewed liquidation and more or less general selling. July broke from 19.53 to 18.91, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 34 to 56 points.

Opening was steady at an advance of 12 points to a decline of 1 point. Active months were higher on covering or trade buying.

May sold up to 20.11 and December to 19.72 at the start. The demand for later deliveries soon tapered off, however, and the market turned easier with the selling becoming more active. Stop orders were uncovered on the decline which carried prices into new low ground for the movement with May selling off to 19.60 or 38 points net lower. December declined to 19.09 or 56 points below yesterday's closing quotations.

Some local brokers were inclined to attribute the decline to a trend toward increased estimates of the probable acreage. Exports today 2,831, making 7,245,000 so far this season. Port receipts 8,207. U. S. port stocks 1,475,515.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 25. (AP)—Cotton prices sagged nearly $3 at bale from an early advance today when traders sold freely on the circulation of large notices for May contracts and failure of the predicted unfavorable weather in the belt to materialize. In final trading July dropped to 18.84 and October 18.85, or 55 to 59 points down. Options closed 5 points above the lowest for net losses of 43 and 46 points.

Liverpool cables were relatively steady but circulation of large notices here caused the market to open irregular. First trades were 2 points down to 2 points up but prices rallied moderately after the start probably in response to the favorable cables. July advanced to 19.39, October 19.44 and December 19.54, or 7 to 9 points above the previous close.

Prices were on the downgrade for practically the remainder of the session, reaching the low points in final trading when May sold at 18.89, July 18.84, October 18.85 and December 18.94, or 46 to 60 points below the highs. December showed the maximum loss which represented a decline of exactly $3 a bale from the early high point. The close was steady and 5 to 6 points above the lowest.

Perambulator Trade Hurt By Birth Control Advocates

LONDON, April 25. (US)—British perambulator manufacturers are determined to lend their aid to any movement for increase in the national birth rate.

This is the ultimatum of T. W. Luckett, managing director of one of the largest manufacturers of baby coaches in the British kingdom, who blames the teachers of methods of birth control for the present slackness in their industry.

"It will be suggested at the next meeting of the perambulator board of trade that we ourselves should organize a movement to encourage a rapid increase in the population," said Mr. Luckett.

Sharp Ascension of Call Rate Scares Traders Out of Market

By BOARDAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 25. (US)—A relapse was suffered by the stock market today, as banks jacked the call money rate to 12 per cent from a renewal of 8 per cent, and scared away public participation. As there was no fundamental reason for tightening money, fear was raised that the reserve would take more drastic meeasures to force the public out of stocks and reduce brokers' loans so that dealings were left almost entirely professional. Support was evidenced throughout, however, so that declines were limited to a point or so in most issues while special developments caused a further advance in a few outstanding industrials.

American Can gained 2½ more while Kennecott moved 1¾ points higher. Smelting gained 1 5-8 and Columbia Grapnapnone closed with advance of 4 7-8 points. Steel, General Motors and other recent leaders lost from 1 to 2 points. Turnover dropped under the 3,500,000 share level.

On the whole the market stood up well in the face of the 12 per cent call money rate. The only explanation from banking circles was that funds had been withdrawn from out of town but the admission was also made that there was no material increase in demand for funds. In fact when the official rate was 12 per cent several brokers had no trouble at all in getting accommodation on the outside at 11½ per cent and there were rumore of even lower rates given favored customers.

Such manipulation of money, however, was bound to dampen speculative ardour. Not alone did it tend to keep from public participation, but it also influenced less aggressive activity by market leaders who have been most responsible for activity in General Motors and other leaders recently. They voiced expectation of lower rates next week but showed inclination to wait for actual development thereof before trying to attract any greater public following to their pets.

Some little easing in the call rate, it was thought, would take place tomorrow, but as the banks have to make money over the week-end not much change was expected.

Outstanding activity and strength in Columbia Graphaphone was credited to interests close to the radio corporation and took place coincident with merged rumors. While the Columbia people undoubtedly would like to go under radio's wing there is little likelihood of such development as dominant interests in radio corporation are more than satisfied with the connection with Victor.

Some buying in Electric Boat followed further report of the plans of the company for entering the aviation industry, first told of here last week. The company, it is understood, will incorporate a new subsidiary under Maryland laws, that will manufacture airplanes as well as conduct a transportation business.

There was some quiet accumulation of Erie and other speculative rails, largely influenced by the increase in the Pennsylvania dividend. The new rate is the highest paid by the Pennsylvania in over 40 years and is a reflection of the improving position of many of the carriers. However the irregularity in the list generally resulting from money developments offset the new buying that appeared in the carrier department.

Mexican Seaboard held a leading place in the oil group because of knowledge that an important announcement is to be expected within the next fortnight. The well at Kettleman's Hills is flowing 4100 barrels daily. Remarks of the president of Pacific Gas & Electric were even more optimistic on the outlook for that oil district, where Mexican Seaboard has its property than the opinions expressed by the oil people themselves.

Announcement of the new Postum lineup, it is learned, will be made in a week or so. Bankers expect that Bank of Italy stock will be listed on the big board within a short time and be the first of several important investment trusts to go in that market.

Increase of $67,000,000 in brokers loans is just about what was estimated in the advices reaching brokers toward the close. So long as the rediscount rate remains unchanged this increase in loans is not going to make much difference. Everyone knows that a much larger loan figure than seen thus far is warranted by the value of all securities on which loans are made. It is realized also that new financing has a good deal to do with the size of the loan total. Total loans now are $300,000,000 below the peak figure.

While the reserve undoubtedly wanted to effect further correction, the collapse of the reparations conference wipes out some of the necessity for bringing a better bond market so that there is no need for haste in forcing further correction of the speculative credit situation.

MID-WESTERN REVIEW:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 25. (U. S. D. A.)—Strong prices were maintained around the 11-Market circuit on fed steers, but at some points light yearlings and she stock ruled weak. Choice heavy steers in Chicago scored $14.95 and the same figure was realized at St. Louis for yearling heifers. Stocker and feeder classes are closing the week firm. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 27,700.

Fat lambs found slow outlet at steady to 25c lower prices. Arizona spring lambs and shorn Arizona ewes in Kansas City slumped 25 to 50c. Chicago secured $17.25 for choice fed wooled lambs and $16.15 for best clippers. California springers at St. Joseph made $18.25 while choice Arizona's on the Kansas City market brought $18.00. Supply approximated 49,200.

Total offerings of hogs around 82,900. Trade was fairly active at generally steady to 15c higher rates. The day's top of $11.60 was paid in Chicago and St. Louis.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—New low price records for the 1929 wheat crop were established today by May, July and September deliveries. The downturn of values was simultaneous with a sudden almost complete suspension of export business in North America wheat and with widespread beneficial moisture throughout the greater part of domestic wheat-producing territory.

Closing quotations on wheat were heavy 1½c to 2@2¼c a bushel net lower. Corn finished at 1⅛c net decline to ⅝c advance, oats ¼c to ½c off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 7@10c

Corn and oats were responsible to wheat weakness, but December corn displayed surprising relative strength at times as a result of speculative buying based on the likelihood of delayed planting and of a close adjustment of supply and demand at the end of the season. Corn shipments out of Chicago again were heavy.

Provisions were somewhat easier, with packers and warehouse interests on the selling side of September lard.

Auditor's Bill Called Excessive

AUSTIN, April 25. (AP)—Although the bill of $4,927 submitted by Ernst and Ernst for an audit of the general land office in connection with the investigation of that department is considered excessive, there is nothing that can be done about it, Representative Fred Minor of Denton, said today. He said he had believed the bill would not be in excess of $1,000.

Commissioner J. T. Robison of the general land office said he had no intention of resigning in reply to Representative A. P. C. Petsch of Fredericksburg, who stated that if he were Robison he would vacate the office.

Woman Held on Charge Of Retaining Rent Car

Mrs. D. O. Stewart, charged with the theft of an automobile belonging to A. B. Lightsey last February, was taken into custody by George Garrett, deputy sheriff, Thursday afternoon. Mr. Lightsey, who signed the complaint, alleged that Mrs. Stewart failed to return to the garage a car that had been rented to her.

Death Postpones Toll Bridge Case

SHERMAN, Texas, April 25. (AP)—Death again has attacked the legal staff of the Red River Bridge company and caused another postponement in a legal struggle with the state of Texas.

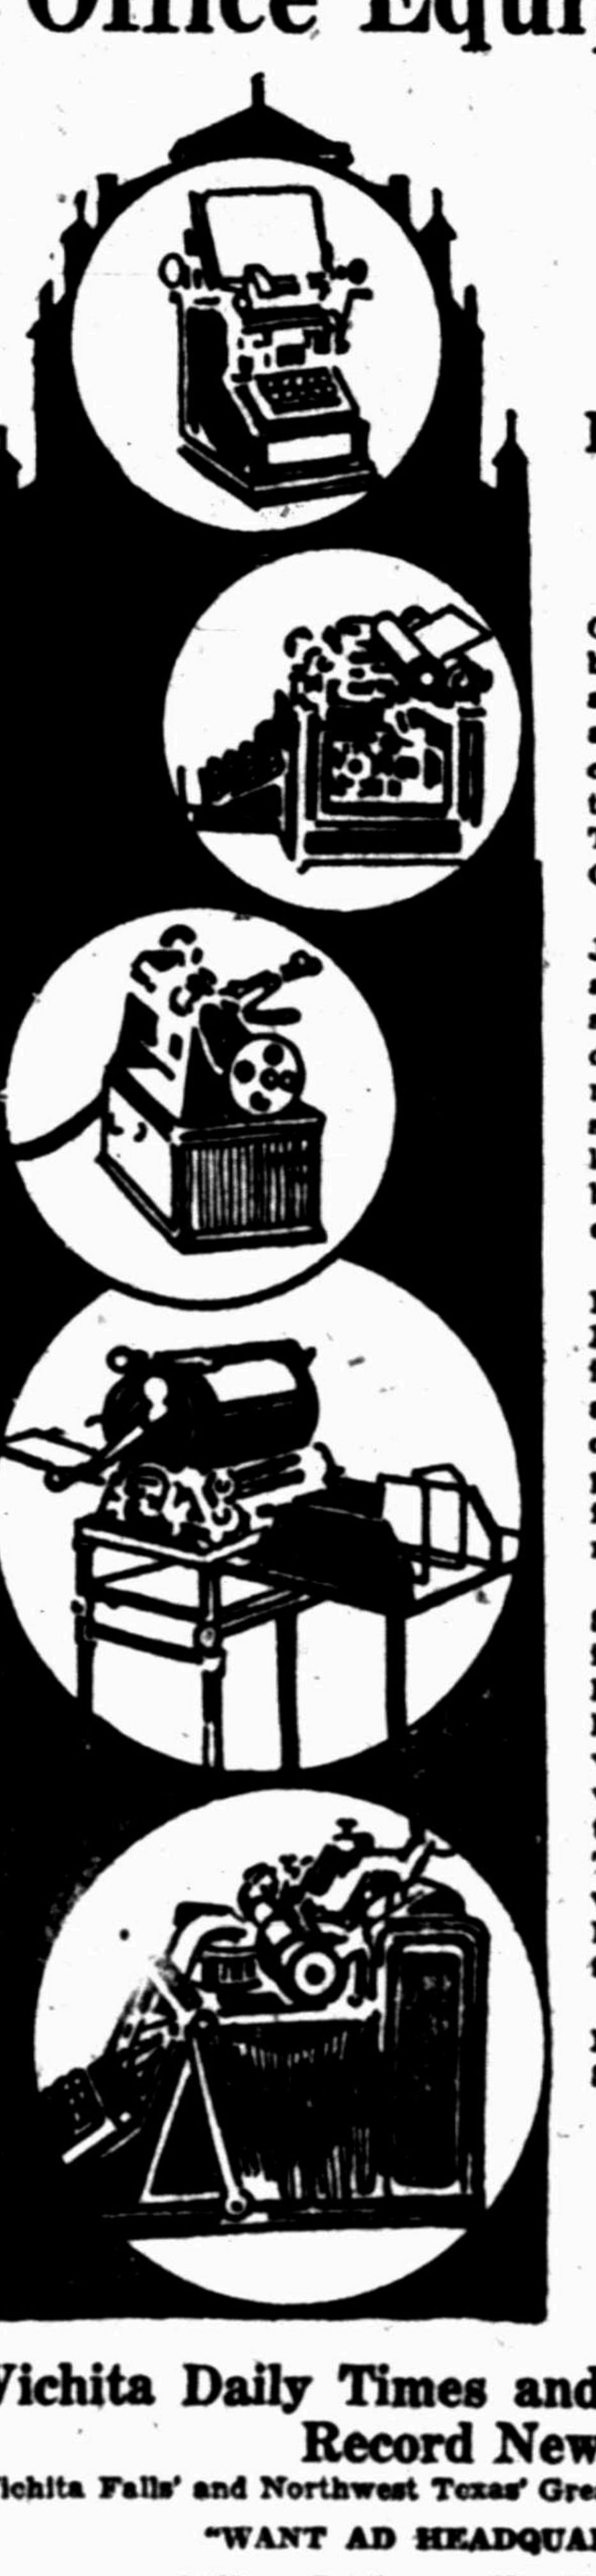

R. O. Head, former judge and a member of the firm representing the company died yesterday, and a hearing set for today was postponed until Saturday. Two weeks ago, Joseph W. Bailey, former United States Senator, dropped dead in the courtroom immediately after addressing a plea to the judge on behalf of the company.

Today's hearing was to have been on an injunction sought by the state of Texas to prevent the company from collecting tolls and against the company doing business at the bridge on the ground the charter was not in compliance with Texas laws.

The bridge runs from Denison, Texas, to Durant, Okla.

GRAND JURY REPORT ON BURGLARIES EXPECTED FRIDAY

HOME OWNERS TELL OF RAIDS

Spence Seeks Indictments Against Three Persons

Completion of the investigation of widespread recent burglaries in Wichita Falls is expected Friday with the final report of the 30th district grand jury, reconvened here Thursday morning for consideration of evidence already compiled. The investigation body will also be presented with evidence in about half a dozen routine complaints handled by the district attorney's office since the adjournment of the grand jury early in April, Sam Spence, district attorney, said Thursday afternoon.

Because his home was one of those burglarized in cases under consideration, Charles P. McGaha, member of the jury, was disqualified Thursday for action in the cases immediately before the body. More than two dozen home owners here were among the witnesses who described their losses through the session Thursday. The final report is expected before noon Friday.

Mrs. O. T. Hart, T. O. Cagle and C. A. Wright are under arrest on charges of burglary filed in connection with the present investigation. Mrs. Hart and Cagle were arrested here. Wright was taken into custody in Oklahoma City Tuesday night. He denies any connection with the burglaries here. Two other suspects, arrested at Fort Worth and at Memphis, have been released.

Mr. Spence said Thursday that he would ask the grand jury to return separate indictments in every case justified by evidence, and that he would ask for immediate trials, although he indicated that the cases would be handled according to the regular schedule in the 89th district court, which involves the calling of a jury for criminal cases on May 13.

Two Boys Back in Jail Here 3 Days After They Win Suspended Terms

Three days after they were released under three-year suspended sentences for burglary, J. T. Stout and Mozelle Barker, 17-year-old youths, were back in the Wichita county jail Thursday afternoon under charges of theft over $50.

The boys were arrested by Warren W. Belcher, deputy sheriff, Thursday afternoon after they attempted to sell oil field equipment, alleged to have been stolen in Seminole, Okla., to a local junk dealer. The alleged thefts occurred last February, Mr. Belcher said. Sam Spence, district attorney, explained that a suspended sentence is revocable upon a second conviction even though the alleged offense may have been committed before the suspension is received.

KGKO Program

A program given by performers from Cache, Okla., will be included in the entertainment to be broadcast from station KGKO Friday night, according to the engagements announced by radio officials here.

Ernest Reeves, yodeling tenor, also is on the bill for Friday night for a 30-minute period.

The program follows:
7:00 to 7:15—Honey Boy and Sassafras.
7:15 to 7:30—Claude Stewart's orchestra.
7:30 to 8:00—Sadie and Jole.
8:00 to 8:30—Cache, Okla., program.
8:30 to 9:00—Zack and Glenn.
9:00 to 9:30—Ernest Reeves.
9:30 to 10:00—Harmony boys.
10:00 to 10:10—Amos and Andy.

Attendance at C.-C. Jobbers Meet Urged

Special efforts are being made by J. L. Maxwell, chairman of the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce, to obtain a full attendance of the membership of that body at a meeting to be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Business matters declared to be of vital importance to all business establishments in this community are to be presented at the meeting Friday morning, it was stated.

I. O. O. F. Members Go To Grandfield Meet

Between 25 and 30 members of the Wichita Falls lodge, I. O. O. F., will go to Grandfield, Okla., Friday for the district Odd Fellows' anniversary ceremony, according to local officials of the organization.

The Grandfield convention will be attended by hundreds of delegates from cities of Southern Oklahoma and Northwest Texas, it was stated, and will be an all-day, all-night affair.

Members of the Patriarchs Militant branch of the order will go in full uniform, and will participate in competitive drill and a parade Friday afternoon, according to information given here.

Clara School Patrons Plan Separate District

Creation of an independent school district is to be considered at a mass meeting of the residents of the Clara community to be held in the school house at 1:30 o'clock Friday, Burl Bryant, county superintendent, announced Thursday afternoon. The meeting follows a preliminary gathering held in the office of the superintendent last Saturday.

The superintendent, whose advice has been requested, will tell the group the methods possible for the creation of such a district. The action can be taken either by the county board of trustees or by a vote of the people in a special election, Mr. Bryant said.

DOKEYS GIVE SHOW TONIGHT

Three-Act Minstrel at Auditorium Here

H. G. Cotter, producer, and Al E. Beattie, director, announced Thursday that every detail of preparation for the presentation of the Oklahoma-Texas Dokey Minstrel at the Memorial auditorium Friday night has been completed in a manner which promises a successful performance.

The show is being given, it was stated, for the purpose of raising funds with which to send a large delegation from the Wichita Falls community to the international Dokey convention which is to be held in Winnipeg, Canada, during the summer. The party from this section, according to the plan announced, would include the local Knights of Pythias band, and the purchase of uniforms for that body was named as one of the objects of the minstrel.

Members of the cast have been drawn from Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Electra, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth, according to the announcement. The show will be devided into three parts. The first will be the usual circle, with R. A. Jines, Walter Penney, Mr. Beattie, Lee Hosea, "Lefty" Watson, and John Simmons as end men, presenting 17 separate numbers. Part two will consist of four vaudeville acts, including a chorus of "Vanity Fair girls" from Electra, directed by Miss Letrice Wofford. The closing section will be a black-face farce entitled "The Emancipation Day Celebration," from which it was stated Octavus Rov Cohen himself might draw new atmosphere of color.

Accompanists for the evening will be Mrs. Thomas Cotter and Miss Maurice Wray. Tickets are on sale at the Renfro Drug store.

Drainage District To Let Contract Today

Contract for the drainage of 3,300 acres of Wichita county land included in the drainage district No 1, will be let at a meeting of the directors of the district in the office of A. H. Britian, attorney, at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The district is financed by a $27,500 bond issue voted by its members last year.

Montgomery to Hear Case Against City

Both sides will be ready for the hearing on an application for a mandatory injunction, requiring the city to remove alleged organic matter from the city dump, set for 9 o'clock Friday morning, according to announcements from the attorneys involved Thursday afternoon. The application, brought by Clifford Fore and Mrs. Thora Fore Guinn, will be heard by Judge Allan D. Montgomery.

The petitioners are asking that the material already dumped be moved and that a second injunction be granted forbidding any similar dumping in the future. Damages in the sum of $10,000 are also asked. The plaintiffs allege that the condition of the dump has lessened the value of 450 acres located just across the Wichita river, has injured gravel pits, and has driven paying tenants from the land.

Attorneys said Thursday afternoon that more than a dozen witnesses had been summoned for the hearing Friday. Joe Hatchitt will represent the plaintiffs. Thelbert Martin, city attorney, will handle the case for the city.

Ancient Beard Eraser

PARIS.—What is claimed to be the oldest razor extant was recently discovered by M. Dharvent, a French archaeologist, in a sand quarry at Montieres-les-Amiens. It has a handle and blade similar to the modern razor and was found with other "tools" which have been traced back to about 8000 B. C.

RAMSEY TRIAL AT ABILENE DELAYED

Trial in Abilene of forgery charges against E. G. Ramsey, former Sunday school superintendent, given a 5-year suspended sentence here 10 days ago, has been continued and the defendant will be returned here at once for sentencing, according to information in the office of Sheriff W. G. Bralley Thursday afternoon.

Bearing a bench warrant issued by Judge Allan D. Montgomery, Dick Morris, deputy sheriff, left Thursday afternoon for Abilene, where he will take the prisoner in charge. Ramsey was convicted here for swindling in conection with the passing of a $110 "hot" check.

"I've Gained 20 Pounds in Weight on 2 Bottles of Orgatone," Says Wichita Woman

"Before I Began Taking It, I Would Nearly Choke to Death, and Would Have Bilious and Dizzy Spells," Declared She.

"Yes, I have honestly gained 20 pounds in weight on two bottles of Orgatone, and certainly feel fine," said Mrs. Arch McKinley, whose husband has a wholesale dairy, on route 4, Wichita Falls, Texas. Mrs. McKinley has been a resident of Wichita Falls, for fwo years, and is very well known.

"I suffered from my stomach and rheumatism," she continued. "I lost my appetite and finally what I did manage to eat, it would cause indigestion. Gas formed on my would pain me until I could hardly stomach, right after eating, and it stand it, and often times, I'd feel as if I were going to choke to death, it crowded my heart so. I would get so billious and dizzy, I would have to hold to something to keep from falling. I would bloat up and had frequent headaches. I was extremely nervous and never got a good nights rest.

"Orgatone was advertised so highly for just such troubles as mine, and so many people had been taking it, until I decided to try it. I have just taken two bottles of Orgatone, and have certainly improved. My headaches are entirely relieved, and I sleep fine every night. I can eat anything I want and am not bothered the slightest with indigestion. The gas and bloating spells are all gone, and I have gained in strength and energy. Orgatone has certainly gotten rid of all my troubles, and I am telling all of my friends about it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls, exclusively by Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.—Adv.
