WINTER HOWLS IN NORTHWEST

COLDER WEATHER FORECAST HERE WEDNESDAY AS BLIZZARD ROARS OUT OF NORTHWEST

(By Associated Press)
The advance guard of winter, marching across half the world, sent a cold wave toward the Atlantic seaboard of the United States today while Europe worked desperately to control floods which have driven thousands from their homes.

An American storm sweeping out of the far Northwest brought cold weather into Minnesota and the Middle West. On the other side of the ocean France, Germany, Belgium and Holland, England and Austria struggled to stem rising rivers swollen by rains which showed no sign of abating.

A DOCTOR NOW!

OXFORD, England, Nov. 25.—(P)—J. P. Morgan, in a flowing scarlet gown and "beefeater" hat, walked through narrow, cobbled ways far more ancient than Wall Street today to receive the highest honor of England's oldest university, the degree of doctor of civil laws conferred by Oxford.

HIGHWAY WORK PUSHED HERE

GRADING, DRAINAGE ON NUMBER 9 IS COMING ALONG NICELY

Satisfactory progress is being made by contractors on the grading and drainage work on Highway No. 9 both north and south of Lubbock, Guy R. Johnston, construction engineer for the State Highway department here, says.

Indications are that unless unexpected weather conditions arise, the roads will be open for traffic by the latter part of December, possibly by Christmas day. Most of the heavy work is finished and the rest is of a lighter type.

Grading is finished on W. M. Thompson, of San Angelo, who has the contract between Lubbock and Abilene, has received some heavy machinery and is rushing the grading. The machinery has replaced mule power.

Mr. Thompson is working north of Monroe. He will complete the section in a couple of weeks. Nothing has been done so far on the construction of the underpass two miles south of Monroe, underneath the Santa Fe tracks. The state has not announced its plans on this job.

Field Brothers and McClellan, who have the contract for the grading south, have completed all the grading except that around the drainage structures and culverts.

"Culvert work is nearly 75 percent completed," Engineer Johnston said. "We did not pour concrete Monday because it was too cold, but we will pour the rest unless it turns cold again."

As soon as the concrete work is finished the contractor will back fill all of the culverts and the road will then be opened.

The Santa Fe is opposing the application of the Texas and Pacific Northern for permission to build the line.

One Permit Issued In City of Lubbock

One small permit was issued at the City hall this morning to further advance building valuations in the City of Lubbock for the month of November. Total for the present month now has reached $271,700 with the figure for the year at $4,845,226, for 246 permits.

Today's permit was issued to R. L. Robertson for erection of a frame store building at 2003 Fourth street at a cost of $500.

Pool Succeeds Walthall On Control Board

MOODY SHIFTS THREE POSTS AT AUSTIN

JOHN WALLACE NAMED SECRETARY FOR ROAD BOARD

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—Adrian Pool, former member of the legislature from El Paso, was appointed to the Board of Control today by Governor Dan Moody. Pool fills a vacancy left by the expiration of the term of R. B. Walthall. The appointment was made effective today.

The Governor also announced the appointment of former Representative John Wallace, of Teague, as secretary to the State Highway commission. It was understood that agreement had been made that Wallace would be appointed to the Board of Control on the expiration of the term of R. B. Walthall.

By shifting the terms of members, the Governor appointed Claude D. Teer, now chairman of the board, to succeed Walthall, giving Teer a five year term; and named Pool to succeed Teer, giving Pool a three year term.

Walthall's term expired nearly a year ago, but he has held office pending appointment of his successor. He was appointed by Governor Pat M. Neff. Tennant was appointed by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. His term expires in 1932.

The new member is a native Texan, born in Milam county 54 years ago. He obtained his high school education at the University of Texas, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter. He has since been in the oil business, having been successful in oil and gas work.

TAX QUESTION IS LOOMING

OUTLOOK IS BLUE FOR INCOME TAX; HAWLEY BEGINS STUDY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Representative Hawley had hardly returned to his chair as head of the Ways and Means committee today before he arranged to face the question—"shall last year's tax reduction be continued?"

Tomorrow he confers with Treasury officials. His committee originally all revenue raising legislation.

No Statement Yet
"I will have to study treasury revenue figures before making any statement," the chairman said on returning from Oregon.

Chairman Snell, of the House Rules committee, yesterday said the one per cent cut on income tax made last year would not be continued. He continued the country would be fortunate to escape an increase in taxes, in view of demands on the treasury and the amount of present revenues.

Hankins Case Will Draw Investigation

AMARILLO, Nov. 25.—(P)—District Judge Henry S. Bishop this morning ordered the Potter county grand jury to investigate the "walking away" of C. Bailey Hankins, former minister, held here on a charge of forging a check for $500 in the name of Dr. J. E. Nunn of this city.

Hankins had been made a trustee in the jail and left Thursday. He is still at large. The case was scheduled for trial here Monday.

GOLD FOOTBALLS AWAIT MAT ADORS IF SIMMONS COWBOYS ARE DEFEATED; FIFTEEN TROPHIES PLEDGED BY FRIENDS

Fifteen gold footballs, appropriately engraved, will be presented to members of the Texas Tech football team if they are successful in defeating the Simmons university gridgers here Thanksgiving Day. ## POLICE PROBE ASSAULT

WELL-PRESERVED REMAINS OF ODD REPTILE FOUND ON GLACIER ISLAND

CARDOVA, Alaska, Nov. 25.—(P)—Reports received from Valdez today said the carcass of a giant lizard-like creature, with fur in perfect condition, had been found on Glacier Island near here.

The strange creature, reported to be 42 feet long, including a tail measuring 16 feet, was believed to have been preserved since prehistoric times by being encased in ice in the upper reaches of the Columbia glacier. The ice was believed to have worked its way gradually to the sea. The head was reported to be six feet long and the body twenty feet in length.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BRADLEY CHOSEN HEAD OF SPEAKERS IN COMING DRIVE OF COMMUNITY CHEST; OTHERS TO AID

Announcement was made today of names of eighteen local men who will compose a speakers committee before Lubbock gatherings between now and start of the community chest drive, to be staged in this city December 10, 11 and 12.

With Durwood H. Bradley as chairman, the following will compose the group: E. L. Klett, Dr. Fred W. Standefer, W. C. Rylander, J. S. McKay, Rev. Walter P. Jennings, J. J. Clements, Dr. W. A. Jackson, Rev. R. C. Campbell, Dr. Paul W. Eorn, H. D. Woods, M. H. Duncan, J. C. Levens, Vaughn E. Wilson, E. L. Pitts and K. N. Clapp.

Meet Tonight
A meeting of this group will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the offices of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of outlining plans for speaking dates and assignments.

Reports of unusual success in community chest drives in other cities are being received daily by the Lubbock Community Chest. A report just received from Portland, Me., states that the first community chest campaign in that city swept on a great tidal wave of victory and secured beyond its goal of $202,700 with $200,000 in cash and $2,700 in excess of the goal.

Every report received thus far has revealed success in the undertaking, and credited by newspapers to gripping recognition of the efficiency of the community chest plan of financing and supervising charitable, benevolent and philanthropic organizations and to the greater need for charity this winter.

ENGINEERS CHECK LUBBOCK PROJECT

Eight out of town contractors who are expected to be bidders for the grading and drainage work on highway No. 7 between Lubbock and the Hockley county line, through Shallowater, were in town Tuesday looking over the proposed work.

Bids on the $50,000 job are to be opened at the next meeting of the state highway commission, scheduled to start Saturday morning and to last until Monday. The local job has been announced for this letting.

It is the custom, Guy R. Johnston, state highway construction engineer for this district, explained, for contractors who plan to submit bids to look over the proposed work. Mr. Johnston added that he expected not less than ten bidders to submit figures on the local job.

'Lame Ducks' Soon To Be Eliminated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(P)—Killing the "lame duck" congress has been prevented by the House for these many years, but at least one majority member of the Rules committee is for it now.

Representative Michener, Republican, Michigan, today predicted the Norris resolution to eliminate the "lame duck" would pass the House at this time.

MEXICAN SENT TO HOSPITAL BY THUGS

ARREST IS HOPED FOR TONIGHT AS HUNT IS BEGUN IN LUBBOCK

A diligent search is being conducted throughout the Mexican section of Lubbock and police today stated that an arrest is expected before night in connection with the fatal attack upon A. L. Molina, 54-year-old Mexican, who died Friday night in a station hospital from injuries received in the attack here Wednesday.

Officers this morning denied reports that Molina had been robbed, stating that no cause had yet been determined for the attack in which the man was badly beaten and thrown into a ditch. He suffered fractures of the jaw, a blow over the eye and possible internal injury. The injured man was found late Wednesday night by a patrolman who took him to the police station.

Can't Tell Story
The Mexican was unable to tell officers what had happened, due to the wounds which made it impossible for him to speak intelligently. Molina remained in the police station all night Wednesday and the following morning Dr. J. W. Rollo, city physician, was called to administer emergency treatment. A son-in-law of the man took him from the station and later to the station hospital.

After treatment Molina told his relatives that he had been attacked by two men, both Mexicans, near the compress in Lubbock. He stated that he was thrown into a deep ditch by the two men who fled from the scene. Police this morning said the man had only about $3 in his pockets at the time and that this amount was still intact.

Four M. K. T. Trains Are Discontinued

AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—(P)—Authority for the M. K. T. railroad to discontinue trains 5 and 9 southbound and 8 and 10 northbound between Dallas and San Antonio, and substituting one train each way for them has been granted by the railroad commission.

The consolidated trains would have the following schedule: Leave Dallas 11 p. m., arrive San Antonio 7:45 a. m.; leave San Antonio 11 p. m., arrive Dallas 7:50 a. m.

Petition of the Katy to make this change was resisted by the railroad brotherhoods on the ground that it would throw many men out of work. The change is effective Nov. 30.

AND, OUTSIDE OF THESE FEW THINGS, DEAR OLD GEORGE IS A GOOD CITIZEN!

MANGUM, Okla., Nov. 25.—(P)—The Orator county prosecutor, in the argot of the underworld, has filed a writ under the name of George England, accused by Mrs. Lulu Bolling of entering her farm home in a drunken condition and wrecking it.

England is under two charges of transportation of liquor and one each of contempt of court, malicious mischief, assault and battery, public drunkenness, use of profane language, assault with intent to kill.

POSTOFFICE IS SHOWING GAIN

$1,200 PER MONTH IN INCREASES MADE THUS FAR

An average of $1,200 per month increase over 1929 is shown by the Lubbock postoffice for the first ten months of 1930, John L. Vaughan, postmaster, says. October's increase was $359.55.

"This increase is in the face of the present business situation," the postmaster pointed out. "Our increase for 1930 is $12,224 over the same period in 1929."

The first ten months of 1930 showed total receipts as $103,772.25. For last year the figure was $91,547.80, a net gain of $12,224.45.

Gain for 1929 over 1928 was $14,252.74, leaving the months of November and December to show a total gain, of slightly over $2,000 to make the increase as large as the 1929 increase was over 1928.

In order for the local office to equal receipts of last year, it will be necessary for the office to have receipts of $10,934.85 during this month and December. It is believed that the month of November will show that figure.

Last year's gain was slightly under 12.5 per cent over 1928. Gain this year so far is 11.9 per cent over the 1929 figures.

SCHOOL IS PLANNED

Plans are being prepared by S. B. Haynes, local architect, for the new Goodland school in Bailey county, a short distance from Muleshoe, bonds for which have been approved by the state.

The district is planning a $25,000 school building, of brick and concrete. There will be four classrooms and a combination auditorium and gymnasium.

England is in jail in default of $4,500 bond.

FEAR IS FELT BY COLORADO VILLAGERS

KIDNAPING THEORY IS ADVANCED; MAN IN CASE A MYSTERY

(By The Associated Press)
FORT MORGAN, Colo., Nov. 25.—A sheriff's posse was organized today to search the lonely prairie country of northern Morgan county for Miss Enid Marriott, 28-year-old Wiggins, Colo., school teacher, missing since November 16.

Crew after crew without substantiation, authorities were convinced today their original theory of kidnaping explained the woman's disappearance. They believe the teacher may have been slain.

Trace At Cheyenne
Meanwhile, officers at Cheyenne, Wyo., were investigating a report that a woman resembling Miss Marriott registered at a hotel there last Monday with a man. Police said the couple's automobile was similar to the one in which the woman was believed to have disappeared.

Ranchers of Morgan county volunteered to add the sheriff in the search for the teacher unless new clues are uncovered at once. The posse will begin a systematic search both on foot and on horseback, of the prairie, sand hills and gulches in the vicinity of Wiggins.

Has No Been Seen
Miss Marriott has not been seen since she alighted from a train at Wiggins a week ago last Sunday after spending the week-end in Denver. A man and a car were on the station platform of the eastern Colorado village when the train arrived. She is believed to have entered a car with them. The man who rode that time has completely dropped from sight.

Mystery Is Believed Solved By Wreckage

WHITE HORSE, Yukon Territory, Nov. 25.—(P)—Wreckage of an airplane in the headwaters of the Liard river, was believed today to hold the secret of the fate of Captain E. J. A. Burke, Canadian flier, and two companions who were lost in that area October 11.

Weeks of search by airplane were climaxed yesterday when Pilot E. L. Wassen returned to White Horse and reported sighting the wreckage. A shortage of gasoline compelled him to return without landing. He arranged today to fly to a landing point 15 miles from the scene of the wreck and "mush" to the headwaters with Joe Walsh, a woodsman.

TRIO ARRESTED FOR SLAYING

ALL-LEGED NIGHTRIDERS FACING CHARGES IN DEATH OF TEXAN

(By The Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 25.—(P)—A ten-day investigation into the mysterious slaying of Fritz Blank, 25-year-old Kerrville truck farmer, at the Van Raab community near Boerne on the night of November 13, terminated today with charges of murder against three San Antonio men at Boerne.

James R. Adair, 28; Robert Collins, 24, and Fletcher Casey, 33, were formally charged with the murder of Blank in complaints filed by Sheriff Ed Bierschwald of Kendall county.

One in Jail
Adair was held in jail at Boerne today while Collins and Casey were in custody of Bierschwald and local officers. One of the men was reported to have given a statement.

Blank was shot to death by men who came to the home of his brother-in-law, Alfred Heilmann, five miles south of Boerne. Sheriff Bierschwald said his investigation had revealed that Blank's death was the outgrowth of hill country liquor racketeering, but that the young farmer was not connected with the alleged liquor running.

Gangster's Wealth Shrinks At Death

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 25.—(P)—Frankie Dunn, who was reputed to be worth millions when he crashed as overlord of North Jersey beer-runners, left an estate of $412,568. He was shot down with sub-machine guns last summer.

An inventory of his personal property on file today in Surrogate's court showed that he had only $3,291 in cash at the time of his death. Stocks and bonds represented $228,507 of the estate, while $151,256, while a loan of $24,714 to Verdi Cooperative company was listed at a value of $30,000 in the appraisal.

Mrs. Tom Is Hostess With Card Party

One of the delightfully informal occasions of the week-end was the bridge and forty-two party given by Mrs. J. F. Tom, 1613 16th street, when she entertained several friends in her home Saturday afternoon.

High and low scores in bridge were made by Mrs. Ray Dickey and Mrs. H. Walker, and Mrs. R. Eakin and Mrs. George McCarthy made high and low scores in forty-two.

Other guests included Mesdames Clyde Elkins, R. L. Howell, A. B. Ellis, J. E. Hartley, J. P. Abel, A. D. Brown, A. J. Rieder, Arthur L. Brown, Louis Winn, E. L. Pitts, and J. B. DeWald.

Recital To Be Given This Evening

Miss Mary Gene Owen, assisted by Mrs. Russell Humphreys, is presenting her reading pupils in public recital this evening at 8 o'clock at the Hilton Hotel.

Mrs. J. H. Comer Is Hostess To W.M.S.

Mrs. J. H. Comer, 1610 Avenue Q, was hostess Monday afternoon to members of the Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary society, serving a dinner in celebration of the Thanksgiving season. Monday was the day for a business and social session of the society and a business meeting was conducted during the afternoon with Mrs. Oscar Early presiding.

Marie McCrummen and Thelma Lee Harris sang a duet and Charlie Marie Moore gave a reading.

Those who attended were Mesdames Early, J. W. Howard, C. E. Whitley, J. T. Roper, I. R. Clements, C. D. Puckett, M. C. McCrummen, C. B. Jones, M. G. Wilson, C. D. Tapp, H. T. James, F. L. Jamar, H. ## Mrs. J. A. Phipps Program Leader

Mrs. J. A. Phipps was leader of a lesson studied by members of Circle 2 in First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary Monday afternoon in a meeting with Mrs. E. L. Robertson, 1902 Broadway. The lesson was from the society magazine and was entitled "Believe It or Not." Twelve women were in attendance.

Mrs. L. C. Ellis Has Circle Program

There was an attendance of seven members Monday afternoon when Circle 3 of the First Presbyterian Woman's Auxiliary met with Mrs. J. H. Murdough, 2317 18th street. Mrs. J. M. Gordon led the program and Mrs. L. C. Ellis conducted the devotional. Harris, R. R. Howard and Miss Rachel Jackson.

coughs and SORE THROAT

Here's comforting relief for coughs and sore throat:

Every few hours, place a little Vicks on the tongue and let it trickle slowly down the throat as it melts.

When there is much irritation or coughing, stronger vapor action will be helpful. Melt a teaspoonful of Vicks in boiling water and inhale the steam-vapors for several minutes.

At bedtime, rub Vicks vigorously over throat and chest and cover with warm flannel. Relief is two-fold: by stimulation through the skin, Vicks draws out the soreness, like a plaster; at the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the body-heat, are inhaled direct to the irritated air-passages.

The "Medal of Honor" Frigidaire

... Aristocrat of Christmas Gifts

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their wives and their mothers. This year, let's give them something that shows how much we love them.

Just consider a moment. The money you'd probably spend on the usual Christmas knick-knacks is plenty to put a Frigidaire in your home. And what a gift that is. A gift that lasts—a constant source of enjoyment—an ever-ready reminder of your thoughtfulness. What more could anyone hope to receive? What more can anyone give?

This Christmas, Frigidaire prices are lower than they've ever been before. And as our special Christmas gift to you, we'll agree to accept small monthly payments on any model you select.

Why not call at our Display Room and make your selection now—while we can still guarantee delivery in time for Christmas.

DISTRICT TOTAL BALES

Lubbock still leads of the Texas Cotton Association in the handling of the bales. M. Davis, manager, announced a total of 1,200 bales had been handled to and including both Lubbock branch offices, with 436 bales, are about 7,500 bales. Lubbock is 2,300 bales in 1930, a little over 2,300 bales guarantee.

Have Over Brownfield and both handled over 1,000 bales. The Memphis Cotton Association, which is in the forefront it was closed. That the present American cooperative is a better chance than their members more than they could on the street. The Memphis Cotton Association had last week, Oklahoma City, was in Dallas in the directors of the cooperative association.

Over 331,000 bales continue to be in which the movement is being sections. The Memphis Cotton Association had received 531,000 bales more on the coast last year.

Association officials estimate this season the channels of cotton on the street are at approximately 100,000 bales. The association has a per cent initial a merit of the cotton. Davis added, "I'm from all sections of being released to District branch Office Lubbock Wellington Levelland Brownfield Littlefield

"I was troubled years with indigestion and nervousness. Otto Weiler, Elgin, Antonio. Neuritis, my misery. I tried many things but none of them what Konjola went for three or four out normal bowel forced to use purgatives in my stomach. My heart followed pains across my shoulders and arms of my arms and added to my misery. I was losing weight. As soon as I took Konjola I noticed a condition. The gas and constipation were gone. Konjola is driving out neuritis and he deal generally. I named Konjola. Konjola has been most talked of in short years because of this. It should be six or eight weeks best results.

LUBBOCK STILL LEADS CO-OP

DISTRICT NO. 2 HAS TOTAL OF 63,321 BALES HANDLED

Lubbock still leads District No. 2 of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association in the number of bales handled by the branch office, Chas. M. Davis, manager, said today in announcing a total of 63,321 bales had been handled by the district up to and including Saturday.

Both Lubbock and Wellington branch offices, with 14,174 and 12,456 bales, are above the guarantee of 7,500 bales. Levelland, with 5,296 bales is third and needs but a little over 2,200 bales to reach its guarantee.

Have Over 5,000 Each Brownfield and Littlefield have both handled over 5,000 bales each. The Memphis office, which is not now functioning, had 1,000 bales before it was closed.

That the present year offers cotton cooperative associations a better chance than usual to return their members more for their cotton than they could have sold it for on the streets, was the statement made last week by Carl Williams, Oklahoma City, cotton member of the federal farm board who was in Dallas in conference with directors of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, Mr. Davis said.

Over 531,363 Bales "Word received from the state offices continue to reflect the manner in which the cotton cooperative movement is being accepted in all sections," he said. "Through November 15 the Texas association had received 531,363 bales, which is 434,630 bales more than was received on the corresponding date last year."

Association officials, he added, estimate this season's deliveries to the channels of cooperative marketing at approximately 700,000 bales. "The association is continuing its 90 per cent initial advance, based on merit of the cotton delivered," Mr. Davis added. "Much held cotton from all sections of the state is now being released to the cooperatives."

Neuritis Gone; Konjola Wins Real Victory

New Medicine Again Proves Its Merit in Stubborn Case—Ends Ten Year Illness

MR. OTTO WELLER

"I was troubled for eight or ten years with indigestion, constipation and nervousness," said Mr. Otto Weller, Elmdorf, near San Antonio. Neuritis finally added to my misery. I tried many medicines but none of them did for me what Konjola did. I often went for three or four days without normal bowel action and was forced to use purges. Severe gas pains in my stomach and around my heart followed meals. Neuritis pains across my back, in my shoulders and around the muscles of my arms made sleep impossible and added to my nervous condition. I was losing weight.

"As soon as I began taking Konjola I noticed a change in my condition. The gas pains were less severe and constipation and nervousness grew less pronounced. Konjola is driving out the pains of neuritis and helping me to deal generally. I gladly recommended Konjola to anyone."

Konjola has become America's most talked of medicine in a few short years because of such records as this. It should be taken over a six or eight week period for the best results.

Konjola is sold in Lubbock, Texas at Bowen's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

THE EYES HAVE IT

Police Officer Is For Doing Right By Law

BARRINGTON, Ill., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Leo L. Riley is a farmer and the township constable. But he also finds time to admire his pet Plymouth rooster, which is what he was doing yesterday afternoon as the bird sat on a fence, crowing.

As the rooster stretched his neck to reach high his crow died away in a squawk and he toppled from the fence. Simultaneously Constable Riley's ears caught the bank of a shotgun. Vaulting a fence he found, he said, Dr. Charles H. Eye, a Chicago eye specialist and a companion, and in Eye's car two turkeys, and a pheasant.

Hammond mentioned something about the open season for pheasants closing last Saturday. He fined the two men $200 and costs. Dr. Eye not having the funds to pay left his automobile with the justice, remarking as he and his companion started to hitch-hike to Chicago: "The eyes seem to have it—in the neck."

Annual purchases of tires and tubes for replacements on automobiles of the federal government are estimated to total nearly $1,000,000.

Thought For Today

There is no peace, saith my God,

The Times

In some ways this is a funny world. Al Capone, who has horns and cloven hoofs as far as most of us are concerned, now steps
forward as a great humanitarian,
providing free meals for some
thousands of jobless Chicagoans daily.
The spectacle is both confusing and diverting.

Just what may lie back of this sudden transformation is obscure.
It is perfectly possible, of course,
that even a millionaire gangster can be bothered by the thought that his city contains a great many men
who cannot get anything to eat;
and probably a hungry man is not as glad to get soup and coffee from Al Capone as from anyone else.
Nevertheless, human nature is prone to dark suspicions, and one's most lasting reaction to the whole business
is to wonder just what devious
and subterranean scheme Capone
can possibly be up to now.

However, let the background of this affair be what it may, the fact remains—and we have been singularly slow in realizing it—that Al Capone is, quite unintentionally, a rather valuable feature of the American landscape. He is valuable,
not as a racketeer or as a business
man, or as a source of the hungry,
but as an indicator—a sign post,
so to speak, or a weather gauge.

For this man, by his existence,
serves to call our attention very forcibly to the things that are wrong
with our form of human society.
His latest stunt merely adds
emphasis to this function.
Al Capone is a rich and powerful gangster. His doings are a matter of common knowledge from one end of America to the other. And the man's career is, in itself, a warning
and a sermon. It ought to jar us into realization of the fact that our whole big city system is a grotesque
and tragic failure. The bare fact that such a man, with such a record
can exist and can go about his business
unmolested is the most terrific indictment that anyone has yet
brought against metropolitan life
in America.

It is the same way with this new venture of his.
Here we have a huge city, typifying
the best and the worst aspects of America; a city that is market
town and cross-roads, distributor
and manufacturer, center of industry
and home for some 3,000,000 people. This city, along with the rest of the country, falls on hard times. Somewhere something goes amiss, so that a percentage of the 3,000,000 cannot get work and hence cannot buy food.

And then what happens? It falls
to the lot of the arch-villain of the age—the man who is branded
as a "public enemy" by every newspaper in the city, and who is blamed
for, literally, hundreds of murders—
to provide meals for these hungry
men!

Sooner or later, without at all intending to, this man Capone will wake us up. This soup kitchen of his pretty nearly ought to do it.

Intoxication

A Florida police court judge seems to have hit upon the solution to a question that has puzzled some of our best minds for a long time—
namely, how to tell whether a man
is drunk or just pleasantly stimulated.

Before this judge were brought four men who had been picked up by the police the night before. The men protested that they had been sober but not drunk. They had been standing, it seemed, on a street corner, singing. The judge asked them what song they had been singing, and they told him, "Sweet Adeline." Immediately, without asking any more questions, the judge
found them guilty and fined them $10 a piece.

This seems like an eminently satisfactory solution. Who, indeed, sings Sweet Adeline but the intoxicated?

THE PLAI SMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the true worth of many a man is never recognized in his lifetime and a rabbit is only a rabbit until it becomes a mink coat.

If you keep the first Ten Commandments the newer ones won't bother you so much.

As everyone now well knows, the Texas Editors association and the Associated Press of the state have just completed their annual conference in Lubbock. Because of the impression made upon these men and because everyone should be interested in the impression
made upon any set of visitors, the Plainsman has induced one of the visitors to set down these impressions here and now.

Introducing George W. Cottingham, managing editor of the Houston Chronicle, making his maiden
visit into Texas.

"As I stood in the hotel lobby,
studying an illuminated map of the empire of Texas, and trying to see if my eye could carry me
all the way down to Houston, a gentleman stopped, and asked:
'Aren't you a pretty long way from home?' Without thinking of anything but the 600-odd miles which separate the two metropolises—the one of the coastal plains and the other of the great South Plains—I answered in the affirmative.

"That, I realized suddenly, is not correct. If home is measured in terms of hospitality, I'm fully as much at home here in Lubbock today as I would be in Houston—
probably more so. More people have spoken to me in a cordial manner
today than would do so in 48 hours
in Houston. And no one here has threatened to whip the editor.

"After all, except for that 600
miles aforementioned, and a job (which is a necessary adjunct in these times), I ought to be as much at home here as in Houston. We have absolutely the same interests
as on the South Plains. As Lubbock prospers, so can Houston expect to prosper, if we look only at commercial aspects.

"In Houston we point to the Ship Channel as our greatest civic asset. But that Ship Channel is made possible by the growth of just such cities as Lubbock. We are at the tip end of the funnel, and this funnel spreads out to include Lubbock, and far beyond. If millions of bales of cotton, and millions of bushels of grain, are to be poured
into the hopper at Port Houston,
they must first be grown, partly, on
these great plains, and marketed
out of the new and thriving cities
of the plains.

"But, even while knowing that all of our interests, historical,
commercial, political, are the same,
I nevertheless have had an intellectual eye-opener.
While we were growing in Houston, we knew Lubbock was growing (in fact, our population
gain in ten years was only
some 119 per cent to your 408,
or 4008, whichever it is), but it took a visit for me to see the irrefutable evidence of progress. The Avalanche-Journal
as Houston in building permits
was clearly understandable
when I gazed at the eleven-story
skyscrapers, when I rode on the well paved streets, when I saw
on every hand the evidence of business activity, saw railroad
yards; a great wholesale district,
a grain elevator that opened my eyes to the amount
of business that is, and can be done here.

"For was the logic of my interesting, and revealing, experiences,
the visit to Tech. We think we know something about cotton in Houston,
being the greatest export market in the world for that commodity, but I had to come 600 miles inland to learn how that cotton is spun into yarn, and woven into fabric. To see also the future, to vision also a future
connection between Lubbock in the center of the plains cotton growing section, and the new herald
of Southern industrialization. Houston is the city which inevitably will profit by the studies which are being made here.

"Yet, if I had not moved out of the hotel, if I had not seen grain elevator, or Tech college, if I hadn't even looked at a newspaper (and that is heresy),
my trip would have been worth while. For I got to meet Lubbock men, and to encounter a hospitality which is the broadest
and kindest that I have ever experienced."

That Man on Avenue Q says few
men look like the young fellows
wearing the clothes in the advertisements—and few want to.

One reason why it is ungalant
to refer to this old earth of ours
as the scientists have estimated it to be 10 billion years old.

Cigarette-smoking women are reported to be in search of a fireproof material for their frocks. Per-

they can do.

A writer says that a woman
should buy a dog that suits her disposition. The next step probably will be to revise that famous phrase:
"women, women and dogs."

Washington, Iowa, Is Known In Nation's Capital As The Mother Of Railway Experts, Correspondent Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The
not very large town of Washington,
Iowa, is known in Washington, D. C., as the mother of railroad experts.

There were five
"Washington" boys
who grew up and became associated with the railroad industry and its problems. One of these was Senator Smith
William Brookhart of Iowa,
and although each one pursued a different
task, each became one of the foremost leaders in his own field.

They are all dead or retired now
with the exception of Brookhart,
who is the Senate's most vigorous advocate of government ownership
and operation of the roads.

There was Warren S. Stone, the grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who originally came from Washington, Iowa.

And William Sproule, who became president of the Southern Pacific.
And Clifford Thorne, who became one of the world's greatest experts
on railroad economics.

And Glenn Plumb, author of the famous "Plumb plan" for railroad control.

And Brookhart, who was not born in or near Washington but came from Missouri and made his home there.

Three railroads run through Washington, Iowa, although it is a city of less than 5000 population.
Perhaps that had something to do with the coincidental production of this remarkable quintet.

All Met at Capital
Back in 1917, Brookhart recalls,
there all met at a joint congressional hearing here and realized for the first time just what Washington had done for the railroad business. Brookhart had been fighting the railroads for 15 years and he was on here to make statements
before the newlands committee, which was studying railroad reorganization.

Sproule, the railroad magnate;
Stone, the labor leader; Thorne,
the economist; and Plumb, the railroad
lawyer with the plan backed by the railroad labor unions, were all there representing their various viewpoints. Washington had come to Washington.

Sproule, who has retired as president of the Southern Pacific, now lives in San Francisco. He began as a freight clerk and during the war
was chairman of the western section of the Railroad War Board.

Stone, born in Alnsworth, which is right alongside Washington, had attended Washington Academy and spent his entire railroad career on the Rock Island. As grand chief of the locomotive engineers from 1905
to his death in 1925 he became one of the greatest labor leaders of his time. He pioneered in the labor bank movement and although his enterprises have lately had bad luck, he was once head of labor
financial institutions which had total resources of $10,000,000.

Thorne aided shipper
Thorne began law practice at Washington, Iowa, and first became a railroad expert as special counsel for shippers, states and cities before the Interstate Commerce Commission. He was a member of the Iowa Board of Railroad Commissioners for years and at one time
president of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners. He was pre-eminent in his field at the time of his death in 1922.

Plumb, though a Washington
county boy, went to Harvard law school and became a railroad lawyer. His famous railroad reor-

FOLES IGNORANT OF COMMON
THINGS SUCH AS SOAP

Soaps, powders and creams are
the usual applications to the skin
during health.

What are they made of and what do they do? There was a story long ago in St. Nicholas Magazine about the little boy who was magically transported
from this century
to a hut of
uncivilized people in the stone
age. He asked them why they did not have
windmills and
described the use of glass. They replied they would be glad to have such wonders, and asked him to make some glass for them. But he did not know what glass was made of. He went through a long list of common articles this way. He had the idea of the composition of any of them. The only thing he was able to make for his prehistoric ancestors
was a candle. But they were sufficiently delighted with that.

Few of us have the faintest idea
of the composition or manufacture
of the commonest things we use—
soap and toothpaste, for instance.
Soaps are made basically by boiling fats with caustic soda or caustic potash. In the process the fats give off their glycerine and combine with the soda or potash. The hard soaps
you ordinarily use are sodium soaps.
Cosmetic oil is the usual fat used in the better soaps. It "lathers" well
but is somewhat unstable and liable to turn rancid. Olive oil is used in other soaps.

An excess of the alkali—soda and potash—is irritating and the better
soaps are super-fatted, so as to eliminate much of the free alkali.
Rocin is sometimes added to soap,
and coloring matter and perfume
nearly always. The rosin, seldom put in American soap, makes the skin
sticky after use.

The cleansing action of soap is through the soap emulsifying the free fat and grease on the skin. This grease and dirt is carried away with the rinsing.

A good soap should be made from clean, fresh lard, free from an excess of alkali or coconut oil, with no rosin added, and should lather freely. There are many good soaps which have these qualities. The user, says Dr. Fussy, "is dependent upon the reliability of the manufacturer, and for that reason is surest
when he gets a soap bearing upon
it the name of a firm which has a reputation to maintain." American soap manufacturers have generally
established a high standard of efficiency and harmlessness for their products.

Medicated soaps have little value.
If a drug needs to be applied to the skin, it should be applied in some other way.

In New York
With

Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Notes
from a convenient cuf:

The warmest bit of chit-chatter of the moment concerns a certain character in Mary Borden's
new novel, "A Woman With White Eyes." The character is so plainly drawn that there is no mistaking
it.

For years she kept "open house"
in Paris, dwelling there with another American woman who later married into European royalty. Her hospitality, not so many years back,
was almost a legend. She has for years been identified with artistic and literary matters.

And the portrait drawn of her
has crept from tea-table conversation into the society columns where one of the frankest refers to it as "vicious libel"—or something of that sort.

The Mary Borden, who thus finds
her book creating wide social whispering, is a former Chicagoan who became identified with way-time
work, married the British General Spears and became a figure in fashionable London and Paris life. Her husband was elected to Parliament
as a conservative member from Carlisle, and she was one of his leading campaign figures.

That personal record of General
Peering, which has caused no end of bidding is said to have finally brought $250,000, for book rights, serial rights and all the rest—which is something of a record. . . . And Heien Kane, after all that court
ruction, is seen about these nights
with her young husband, who seemed to have been left miles behind. . . . Boop-dee-o-doop!

Randolph Churchill, son of the celebrated Winston, has been visiting the Harlem spots. . . . They do say that Libby Holman, New York's favorite blues warbler, who nails from Cincinnati, will marry Clifford Webb, the sleek dancer, who was her partner in the "Meaning Low" number.

Thomas Meighan, after kissing
the times goodbye, has gone back to them. . . . And don't forget that we told you that the name of Rex
Bell would be the next to be mentioned in connection with Clara
Bow's affairs of the heart. . . .

Rudy Vallee dropped about $40,000
before he closed up the Cafe Daffy-dill, in which he had a half interest.
The other half was dropped by Don Dickerman, who has made a fortune in several other spots.

Poetry societies are thriving
again in Greenwich Village. So expect snow any day. The garretdwellers are picking out warm places to spend the evening without paying rent. . . . The Duncan Sisters, first of the "sweet-singing"
sister acts — and they really are sisters — have separated after all the time Vivian, who became Mrs.
Nils Asther, expects to be a mamma
soon and will take a trip to Europe. . . . This team started, by the way, at a small sum and worked to $4,000 a week and better.

One of the paradoxes of the modern age is why a man on the loose thinks he can improve things by getting tight.

Speaking of surprises, who would have guessed a couple of months ago that Bobby Jones would be big news at the height of the football season?

Maybe by opening a soup kitchen
for the unemployed in Chicago Al Capone figures to get himself out of a stew.

A smile spread on wee Clowny's face. Said he, "You sure make pretty lace. I'll bet you've practiced hard and long to do your work so well. I've never seen such lace before, not even in the finest store.
Why don't you market what you make. I'm sure that it would sell."
The maid replied, "That's what I do, and I have had real good luck
too. I earn my living making lace.
My mother taught me how. When finished, I will take this down to come big dry goods store in town."
She waited just a minute, then said, "Well, it's finished now."

"I have a good plan," Scouty cried. "We'll rent a little cart and ride. We'll gladly take you into town, so you won't have to walk.
We'll also bring you back again.
It's fun a-riding now and then."
They shortly started out and it was fun to hear them talk.

The girl disposed of all her lace
at quite a lovely looking place.
She then hopped back into the cart
and Carry cried, "Giddyup!" The road they went back on was rough

OIL OPERATORS SEEK RULES

MORE ENFORCEMENT OF PRORATION ACT IS REQUESTED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—Accepting an allowable production approximately 100,000 barrels under runs for the last ninety days, state oil operators have joined in a request to the state railroad commission for rigorous rules to aid them in oil curtailment.

The commission promised early action on the order fixing a proration schedule for the next sixty days. The order probably will be issued today, since November 25 was set, as the starting date for the sixty day period.

If the commission accepts recommendations of the operators, the order will provide an allowable output of 680,000 barrels; strict enforcement of the common purchaser act; limitation of 50 barrels a day on all new wells except offsets; and limitation of 500 barrels on all wells outside a proration district.

Should Be Invalid
The commission's opinion, as expressed by Chairman Pat M. Neff, was that if the common purchaser act should be invalid, that should be determined quickly, and the only way to determine its validity would be to attempt to enforce it.

HOUSTON, Nov. 25 (P)—The First Presbyterian church here is serving free meals in its kitchen to the unemployed and has announced that "no man will be turned away."

cerned, with the exception of the Gulf Pipe Line company, in Neff's statement of the situation.

The enforcement of the common purchaser act, which was designed to prevent discriminations by pipe line companies in their takings from individuals and from fields, was asked particularly as an aid to North Texas districts—Panhandle, North Texas and West Central Texas.

Something should be said in favor of the son of the former Crown Prince of Germany who is in this country looking for a job. He might have come here on a lecture tour.

RUSSIAN WHEAT IS TO SLOW ADVANCE ON MARKET PRICE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Agriculture department economists said today that while some improvement in world wheat prices was regarded likely when business conditions became more stable, a continuation of large shipments of Russian wheat and the new crop harvest in the southern hemisphere would slow up the advance.

Factors they regarded as favorable in the world outlook included the reduction in visible supplies in the United States, general indications of feeding of large amounts of wheat, the prospect that cold weather would check the Canadian movement within a few weeks, the poor quality and smaller supply of wheat in Europe outside of Russia and the small amount of old wheat remaining in Argentina.

The department said the 1930 Russian wheat crop is apparently the largest since the war and might equal the largest pre-war crop harvested by that country.

Estimates of exports from the crop also were revised upward. Earlier it had estimated exports by Russia would approximate 47,000,000. The report today placed exports to date at 50,000,000 bushels with the estimate at the season's export from "about 75,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels."

It placed 1930 Russian production at 1,157,400,000 bushels, 64.7 per cent more than a year ago.

Landslide Showing Gain In Switzerland

GLARUS, Switzerland, Nov. 25 (P)—The village of Linthal, near here, has become greatly alarmed at a gradual movement of one side of Kilchstock mountain, which has shown increasing instability for more than a year.

A gradual landslide, at first very slow, has doubled its speed until now it is estimated that a hundred thousand cubic meters of earth are moving down on the village at the rate of one centimeter (about two fifths of an inch) a day.

Watchers with telephones have been stationed at different points on the mountain and measures have been taken to evacuate threatened parts of the village as soon as is necessary.

DORMITORIES TO BE ERECTED SOON

AUSTIN, Nov. 25 (P)—The final step toward acquisition of land for the University of Texas campus extension was taken today with the granting of a charter by the secretary of state to the University of Texas Dormitory and Physical Training corporation.

The charter provides the corporation may acquire land for the erection of dormitories and additional ground for physical training purposes. It is to be bought partly on deferred payments and remains subject to a deed of trust until final payment is made.

Acquisition of the tract, alongside the present campus, was announced some weeks ago, and R. L. Batts, chairman of the board of regents, said construction of dormitories would start in the near future. Regents plan construction of one dormitory a year.

The corporation had no capital stock. President H. Y. Benedict of the university and all regents were incorporators.

"Today but few people realize the potential value of intense scientific research work, particularly when carried on by successful corporations with ample capital at their disposal. I do not smoke; but a perusal of the reports made to you by qualified experts indicates that your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in connection with your Toasting Process, in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes, thereby removing certain irritants which might otherwise be present in tobacco, has opened a new era for common-sense smoker."

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating!

CHAPTER XXVIII

So passed the painful years. Terry was growing into a lanky youngster, forever coming home from school with a bloody nose and skinned knees suffered in rough and tumble fights. Then one bright September morning, with sun flowing through trees over-hanging the Malone home, little Terry stood in the doorway, his packed bags at his feet. He felt a lump rising in her throat.

Suddenly she didn't want him to go away to Andover. But Sonny Drayton called to him from his father's car. They were driving up to school.

Terry's lips quivered. He fumbled with his new cap and looked up at her. For once he didn't mind being kissed. He raised his arms around her neck.

"Good-bye, mother," he said, trying hard not to cry.

"Good-bye, my lad, and study hard. Be a good boy."

Then he was tripping down the sun-dappled path, his bags banging against his knees, toward the waiting automobile. In a few minutes he was waving to her before disappearing behind the trees.

From that day on the robust lad who had lighted her trail didn't need her any more. He grew into young manhood and was now a junior in college, a national athlete figure. Only at vacation time did she have him shouting and laughing and running in the house, hurrying off with boys and girls to parties.

Feeling lonely and out of things her heart yearned for the rousing events that enlivened the old days. Whether or not she had suddenly tired of solitary living or had outlived her usefulness to Terry she did not know. Her fine dark eyes were fixed on some point over the fireplace.

The telephone rang. She again saw her brother in Ireland; swagging Lefty Malone on the mound for the Giants; saw little Terry at breakfast talking wildly about Princeton and football and Hobey Baker the morning after Mr. Drayton took the two boys up for their first Yale-Princeton game.

Hero-worship, she believed, may be a bad thing but anyone experienced with the young of the human species knows it to be universal and ineradicable. She felt that it would be foolish to worry about a boy whose interest centered on such a man. Even Terry was not hard to raise after that day.

Again she looked at the picture of her boy in the newspaper; read his telegram with a feeling in her heart that she had reached the point where the glamour of life is in the past; that she only could drowse in living through the life of Terry.

Picking up pen and paper she started to write.

"Received your telegram a few minutes ago."

I will be delighted to sit with Mr. and Mrs. Werwick at the game. Burne is such a fine boy and his parents must be charming. Too bad the Draytons are still abroad. I know Sonny's Dad will be broken up not to see the game.

Really, Terry, I've never felt so proud, so happy. I've waited a long time to see my boy play football for Princeton. The anticipation of seeing you prevail against Yale cannot be expressed by an overfond mother.

The Malones have shifted and advanced in the sporting world—from the Polo Grounds to the Palmer Stadium. And I'll be the happiest person in the stadium! If I am so indiscreet to turn to people and say, "That's my son playing quarter-back for Princeton," will you forgive me? You know how silly women are about their sons.

I've bought a new mink coat and Michael is overhauling the Lincoln. We are going to have a big time, Terry.

My blood pressure has been annoying me of late but I've been so busy that I've not paid any attention to it. Going to see a doctor regularly after the game.

Football is in the air down here. Even Michael is excited. He had an argument with the chauffeur in the next house. The family are strong Pennsylvania people and their dislike for things Princetonian has seeped into the bones of the servants.

(COOKING SCHOOL NOTE)

In the cooking school conducted under the auspices of the Avalanche-Journal recently, Mrs. Leona Rusk Ithig stressed modern methods of cooking. Naturally, then, she uses and recommends Crisco, the modern shortening.

White Cake that's really white

A white cake that is a white cake is only possible when one uses a shortening like Crisco—pure, fresh and sweet-flavored. A shortening, too, that's so fluffy you don't need to cream it! Think how much time that saves in making cakes!

Featherweight White Cake

1/4 cup Crisco 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar 2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup milk 3 egg whites
2 cups flour 1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend Crisco and sugar. (Notice how easily Crisco wraps itself around every tiny grain of sugar. That's why it makes such fine textured cakes.) Stir in alternately milk and sifted dry ingredients. Fold in thoroughly stiffly beaten egg whites. Add vanilla. Turn batter into a greased layer cake pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.). Ice with any desired icing.

(To make it into a Lady Baltimore Cake, use a filling of dates, figs and nuts moistened with lemon juice, and ice with boiled icing.)

In its new air-tight can—as fresh and sweet as the day it was made.

Mrs. Laura Bayer To Wed Count Sala

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—News-papers said today that Mrs. Laura Kayer Bayer, widow of Edwin S. Bayer, wealthy silk manufacturer, would marry Count Antoine Sala, former French diplomat, in January.

Count Sala, an art dealer, said the ceremony would be in London. Mrs. Bayer will sail January 13 and the count on the preceding day.

Count Sala was at one time connected with the French embassy in Washington. Mrs. Bayer is the daughter of the late Julius Kayer, who founded the firm which her husband headed. Both are 56 years old.

PARIS (AP)—There is no hope for the horse-drawn cab, of course, but it is worse than ever. In 1929 Paris had 12,017 hacks and four new-fangled motor taxis. Now there are 18,750 motor taxis and but five horse-drawn cabs.

his hand and looked up with admiration. "My boy, my Terry. So big and fine and strong . . . My Terry."

The eyelids closed. All the pain, the tormenting fear that had disfigured her face, vanished completely. She looked very white and contented. There was a deep pause in her breathing, a long, heavy break. Her hand loosened its grip on his. The breathing stopped. She was dead.

Terry felt embarrassed, realizing how inadequate how helpless the ministers of the church are at the bed of the dying. He left the room.

Later, after the minister of God finished his duty, Terry went back to his mother's side. Warm joy swelled up in him as she caressed

CAWTHON SEES WORTHY FOE IN SIMMONS UNIVERSITY MACHINE

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

It's going over big, this Pete Cawthon football trophy idea. A few more calls and all the dough will be subscribed. It is planned to present the Matador trophy with a big silver loving cup prior to the game Thursday with Simmons university on the Tech field. The cup has been selected and more than half paid for. Before the first announcement of the plan was made public, more than $10 had been subscribed.

The more we think of it the better we like the idea of giving Mr. Cawthon something at the close of his first season as coach of Texas Tech athletics. He has done exceptionally well this, his first year, and Tech and the town is proud of him. So many nice things have been said about him since we announced the plans to present him with a small token of appreciation that we almost started a campaign to buy him a couple of limousines.

It has been suggested that a more practical gift be presented the Matador trophy. Thanksgiving day, but others disagree, saying that the cup may be placed in the new trophy room at the gymnasium along with other medals and cups and statues. Cawthon can put it there, take it home, drink buttermilk, or whatever it is that coaches drink, from it, or anything he likes.

The business of suggesting and selecting all-star teams has been put off just as long as possible, and now with the official closing day of the season only three days ahead, we've come to the place where our necks must be risked in the selection of all-district teams. We are glad, for one reason, that Tech is not in a conference, for there is no all-conference team to pick in which the Matadors might perchance claim berth.

Two outstanding teams of this section need to be selected. One is Class A of District 1 and the other is Class B of District 2. But so that the sports editors in the section will not be compelled to run the risk of misadventure, a new system has been arranged which will go into effect this season. This department will pick an all-district Class A team, but it will not be the official all-district team, which will be announced in this paper next week. This department, however, will not pick a Class B team, yet we will have one to submit for your approval at an early date.

The official Class A all-district team will be picked by coaches and sports editors of the section. Each member of the sport-coach fraternity in District 1 will turn in his idea of an all-district team. The lists will go to Amarillo where a special committee will consider them and arrange a composite all-star team. This poll of the coaches and scribes will be a fair way to pick a mythical team. The team will be announced in all of the papers of the district at the same time, possibly next Sunday or the following Sunday.

As for the Class B, the same general rule applies, only the territory is more limited and the means of choice are somewhat changed. This department mailed letters to every coach of Class B school in District 2 early this week asking them to prepare an outline of what they considered the all-district team. The replies will be received at this office, and the coaches will be picked after careful reflection and consideration of the coaches' choice. This department will have very little to do with it, other than to compare the lists and announce the choices. Afterward, if there is any demand, we will present our personal choice.

Looking over the material from which to choose a representative eleven, we find a great supply of good backs, few ends, many tackles, a few guards, and not too many centers. Amarillo's Sandies, after winning district championship, naturally would be well represented on a mythical team, but when all's said and done, there are only three outstanding stars on the Sandie team. They are Bur

STEERS ARE CONFIDENT OF WIN OVER TEXAS AGGIES

TECH FANS WILL SEE BATTLE THURSDAY

COWBOYS BETTER THAN JACKETS, MENTOR HERE DECLARES

"For main strength and awkwardness the Cowboy team which will invade Lubbock Thursday to meet Texas Tech has not been equalled at Simmons university in recent years." Thus saith the Abilene scribe on the eve of the Tech-Simmons Thanksgiving day contest.

Coach Pete Cawthon of the Matadors says as much and more. He relates to his friends and to his charges on the Tech practice field this week of a powerful Cowboy team featuring brain as well as brawn, and plenty of both. "It will be the strongest team, save one, to face the Matadors this season," Cawthon said.

Comparing With Jackets. Comparing Simmons university with Howard Payne's Yellow Jackets, Coach Cawthon said the Cowboys, with their superior weight and experience, should be able to play rings around Howard Payne. The Matador mentor saw an inspired Simmons team play against Canyon Teachers' Buffaloes last Saturday and came away feeling rather shaky about the chances of the Tech gridsters against Les Cranfill's heavy charges.

"We can win," Coach Cawthon said. "If the boys play inspired football, take chances, and fight all the way. They will have to play over their heads to win, but if they take the field in the same mood that has possessed them when they played other Abilene teams they are likely to win, or at least put up a battle worthy of the support of their friends," Cawthon said.

Home-Coming for Tech. The game on the Tech field Thursday afternoon will not only be the feature holiday attraction in Lubbock, but will constitute the big event on Tech's annual Homecoming Day program. Officials believe a large aggregation of alumni and ex-students will be on hand for the game, and that the citizens of the city will turn out to see the Matadors in their last appearance of 1930.

Tickets are going fast at the Hilton and Lubbock hotel drug stores, though the Downtown Smith athletic business manager, announces that lots of desirable seats remain. Simmons will run a special train to Lubbock Thursday morning with upwards of 250 rosters and the famous Cowboy Band aboard.

An unusual record has been run up by the Cowboys this season. Rated as one of the strongest teams in the Texas conference, the Punchers have lost out in the title race by reason of ties. Four victories, four ties, and one defeat constitute the season's slate. In their second game of the year, the Riders and the T. C. U. Horned Frogs fought to a scoreless tie, and two weeks later Howard Payne and Simmons ended a hard game with a 7-7 deadlock. The next week saw the Cowboys emerge from a trying game with Southwestern with a 13-13 tie. A scoreless tie with St. Edwards raised the number of ties to 4. Simmons has defeated John Tarleton, Daniel Baker, Trinity and West Texas Teachers, losing to Austin college in an upset.

TEXANS ARE SECOND

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—Alexis (Dil) High School won a vocational agriculture judging contest at the American Royal Livestock show here. Sterling City (Tex.) High School was second.

Burkin, back, Fowler, back, and Montgomery, tackle, Conaley is a good end, but no better than others of the district. Lubbock is due to be fairly well represented on the all-star team, with quite a few of the Pampa Harvesters seeking berths. There will be one or two from the eastern part of the district on the team, though that end of the loop has seen a hard year, as compared with teams in the western half.

TO ROCHESTER

INFIELDER ANDY HIGH

CARDINAL STAR IS SENT BACK

ANDY HIGH WILL PLAY WITH ROCHESTER IN COMING SEASON

(By The Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—Little Andy High, one of Dazzy Vance's big players, is going back to the minors.

The veteran infielder, whose pinch hitting in the final St. Louis-Brooklyn series last fall won two straight games when the Cardinals needed them most, has been sold to Rochester of the International league. The Cardinal business office announced today. Rochester is a Cardinal farm.

Colorful Player. High has been a colorful major leaguer chiefly because of his ability to rise to great heights in emergencies, and for his ability to hit Brooklyn's famous Dazzy. Andy, now 33 years old, has been in baseball since 1919, when he started with Memphis and has played with Brooklyn, Boston and St. Louis in the National league.

Pipe Line In Oil Area Is To Begin

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—A crude oil pipe line 81 miles long, connecting Tonkawa and the Oklahoma City field, will be started in December. E. H. Skinner, manager of the pipe line department of the Continental Oil company, announced today.

The line to cost $500,000, will assure an additional supply of crude oil for the company's Ponca City refinery. Actual construction is expected to begin December 13. The ultimate daily capacity of the line is estimated at 20,000 barrels.

Three Die In New York Love Affair

YONKERS, N. Y., Nov. 25 (AP)—Francisco Masone, 35, shot and killed Mrs. Dorothy Foster, 27, and Miss Mary O'Conner, 45, and then took his own life late last night, in the apartment the three had occupied for the past two months.

Masone, according to the police, was jealous of Mrs. Foster. In a letter found in his possession he indicated his intention to slay the two women.

FIRE AT HALE CENTER

HALE CENTER, Nov. 25 (Special)—Fire discovered by L. T. Smith, night watchman here, in the old Fluke residence on Cleveland street, destroyed the structure. It was the second fire of so far unknown origin, within a week. The building is owned by W. O. Johnson of Canyon and has been vacant for some time. Insurance of $1,000 was carried on the building.

COACHES THINK TEAM TO PLAY GREAT GAME

'UNDER DOG' VICTORY IS SCOUTED BY VARSITY MEN

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—With no noticeable let down in spirit and in prime physical condition, the University of Texas Steers continued today to add polish to their offensive in the hope of presenting the greatest offense in the nation and passing attack seen on Memorial stadium gridiron this year when they meet the Farmers from Texas A. and M. in the premier home game of the season Thursday.

Fear that the Orange and White gridsters might become stale after their long lay off was dispelled when coaches reported the team was maintaining the same dogged determination that has characterized the play of the Steers since their early season defeat by Rice Institute.

Wins Are Recorded

The same determination has carried the Longhorns to well earned victories over S. M. U., Baylor and T. C. U. on three straight Saturdays and has placed them in the lead position for the 1930 Southwest conference championship.

Coach Clyde Littlefield and the Steer staff expressed the opinion their charges would be prepared to play the game of their lives and would throw every ounce of football into the traditional fray with the Aggies. Although the dope favors the Steers to win, it has become almost a tradition in the historic rivalry between the two institutions for the under dog to walk off the gridiron with the bacon.

DIEGEL STARS TO WIN LINKS TITLE

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25 (AP)—Leo Diegel, Ague Caliente, professional, held the Oregon Open Golf championship today by virtue of shooting sub-par golf to defeat Gene Sarazen, New York, in their 18-hole title playoff.

Diegel clubbed out a 69 yesterday, three under par, to beat Sarazen's even par 72 over the difficult Columbia Country club course. Both had tied at 287 for the regular 72 holes.

The total purse was $2,500, of which Diegel won $600 and Sarazen, $300.

Steady putting and deadly approaches to the greens gave the victory to Diegel. He had four birdies.

A halfback, says the office sage, is always sure to get a rise out of the stands in the long run.

Only Three Hunters Return With Deer

O'DONNELL, Nov. 25 (Special)—Only three out of ten O'Donnell hunters who went to South Texas for deer during the season, had bagged an animal, they reported on their return.

C. L. Davis, who has the reputation of always getting his deer, got one. On the other hand M. C. Hamilton, who accompanied Mr. Davis, failed to shoot a deer for the first time in sixteen years. Hoot Gibson and Cecil Hubbard got deers, Cecil a nine point deer and Hoot a four point deer. W. F. Collins and Grady Gant, in the party, have not returned.

Others who failed to get deer included Sheriff-elect B. L. Parker, Claude Tucker, J. W. Campbell and Bill Henderson.

Loughran To Fight Twice In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion of the world, has signed for two fights in the Chicago stadium. The Philadelphiaan yesterday agreed to meet the winner of the Young Stribling-Tuffy Griffiths bout December 12, probably early in January, and signed up to fight an opponent to be selected by the stadium, later.

CITY FILES ACTIONS

FLOYDADA, Nov. 25 (Special)—Acting on order of the city council, Tony B. Maxey, city attorney, has filed seven tax suits for delinquent taxes. This makes 22 suits already filed.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO PLAINVIEW IS ARRANGED

WESTERNERS READY TO MEET ANCIENT FOES THANKSGIVING

A special train bearing about 300 Lubbock High school students and Lubbock football fans will leave the Santa Fe station at 1:15 Thursday afternoon for Plainview, where the Lubbock High Westerners conclude the 1930 season of football against the Plainview High Bulldogs.

The fact that the bulldogs, coached by Froggie Lovvorn, won a game last Saturday over Childress has added to the interest in the game this week between Lubbock and Plainview. The Plainview team has been figuring in hard luck this season, so far as winning games has been concerned, due to a sad lack of material. Coach Lovvorn has a youthful squad of small players, but has developed a passing attack which has won two games during the latter part of the season.

Westerners At Work. The Westerners are working out daily on the Fair Park field and are taking the approaching game with seriousness. Coach Frank and Coach Keeling are drilling the men in the same manner as if a hard game was in store, and there is no let up in the time or fashion of the practice sessions.

Unless a post-season game is arranged, the game Thursday at Plainview will be the last one of the 1930 season for the Westerners. There is some talk of arranging a special game with some team in the Oil Belt or in some other district of the state, though nothing definite has been planned. There is considerable question as to whether a post-season game here would draw, and if the local team does card a game after the regular schedule ends, it is likely that it will play out of town.

Red Sox Hurler Is Married In Georgia

PARIS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Jack Russell, member of the Boston Red Sox pitching staff, was married to Miss Florence Dial of Gainesville, Ga., Monday, relatives of Russell, whose home is here, were advised today. They will come to Paris about January first.

BOBBY JONES JOINS THE 'DUB' CLASS A NEW ROLE FOR HON. AL CAPONE

ATLANTA, Nov. 25 (AP)—There's a standing golf date for four Atlanta business men early every Saturday afternoon at the East Lake Country club here.

One of the quartet is a short chunky 28-year-old player, sometimes called the greatest golfer the world has ever known. The others are his father and two close friends.

Worries Forgotten. Business worries end at Saturday noon for the junior and senior members of the law firm of Jones, Evans, Powers and Johnson. At 1:30 generally finds the foursome ready to drive off the first tee.

Occasionally Bobby Jones finds time for a round during the week, but every Saturday he plays with his father, Robert T. Jones, Chick Ridley and "Tess" Bradshaw. Ridley sells automobiles and Bradshaw sells insurance. Both have known Bobby since childhood.

Is Busy Now. This round with his buddies is about all the time the young lawyer, Robert Tyne Jones, Jr., now can give to the game that brought him fame wherever golf is known.

Bobby gets a real kick out of this play. His friends see an almost careless, jubilant youngster enjoying his occasional poor shot or short putt.

NATION'S LEADING SCORER CLINGS TO HONORS ALTHOUGH MATES ARE IDLE

(By The Associated Press)

Although idle last Saturday, Len Macaulus of Colgate maintained his wide lead in the race for National individual football scoring honors. Macaulus has scored 138 points in eight games and has two more—against Brown and New York University—to increase his total. Mohler of Southern California also had the day off but has held on second place, with 96 points, was not threatened.

McLarnin On Shelf With Injured Hand

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—An injured right hand probably will force Jimmy McLarnin out of action for the next four months. He plans to return to Vancouver and undergo treatment by a Canadian bone specialist.

McLarnin's hand was injured in the second round of his recent bout with Billy Petrolle and at the end of the fight was swollen to twice its normal size.

New Zealand is the leading market for Canadian passenger automobiles.

Del Baker To Boss Beaumont Leaguers

BEAUMONT, Nov. 25 (AP)—Del Baker has signed a contract to manage the Beaumont Texas league baseball club again next season. Stuart, club president, announced yesterday. Baker's contract was received by mail from Oregon, where he lives on a small ranch 18 miles out of Portland.

Baker's first year as an Exporter was last season, when he had his club in the running during the first half of the campaign, only to see it fade in the second half, when his pitching staff went to pieces.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (AP)—The stock market took courage from a favorable overnight news budget today, rallying under the leadership of the steel, railroad equipment and utility shares. Announcement of a minimum price schedule on sheets by A. U. S. Steel subsidiary, a drop in bank loans on collateral, an increase in commercial borrowings and a less than season decrease in automobile production last week favored the advance. Two to three point gains appeared in Republic steel, Gulf States steel, General Railway Signal, American Locomotive, Lima Locomotive, Drug, Inc., and Penn. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, vanadium. Colored Hotel, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone and North American were up 1 to 3-4.

Early heaviness in the motion picture shares as a result of the Supreme Court decision and in a few merchandising issues was later overcome and the losses were generally retrieved.

Call money renewed at 2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25. (AP)—Cotton had a quiet opening. Although Liverpool cables were much better than our first trades here were unchanged to one point up which was a poor response to the cables. The market rallied slightly after the start, December trading at 10.82 and March at 11.18, or 3 to 4 points above yesterday's close, but soon lost two to three points of the gain. The impending Thanksgiving holiday was probably responsible for slack trading and the slightly bearish undertone.

Additional December notices for about 4,500 bales were issued here today and it was said were quickly stopped.

Prices improved under a quiet morning's trade owing to covering by shorts on news that the December notices had been promptly stopped and on the rather favorable character of Liverpool cables.

December traded up to 10.87 and January, 11.23, or to 10 points above yesterday's close.

At noon the market was quiet and steady near the highs.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (AP)—Cotton opened at an advance of 3 points with near months easier under some further December liquidation brought out by circulation of additional notices while late months reflected relatively steady Liverpool cables.

According to early estimates 54 notices were issued against the new December contracts, but the December offerings were absorbed by trade interests on the early decline to 10.72 and the price later stiffened up to 10.75 or a point above yesterday's closing quotations.

General business was quiet and later months fluctuated within a very narrow range with the general market ruling about 1 to 4 points above yesterday's closing quotations at the end of the first half hour.

Trading continued quiet, but offerings were light after the early selling had been absorbed and the market was steadier late in the morning. Reports of a better tone in the stock market probably helped the rally which carried new December contracts up to 10.79 and May to 11.44, or about 5 to 7 points net higher. The market was within a point or two of the best at midday. It was reported that leading spot firms here were stopping notices.

Tennessee highway commission claims the best marked highway system in the United States. More than 67,000 signs are in place.

VIENNA BAR APPROVES BAIL RELEASE OF CHARLES LEVINE, OCEANIC AIRMAN

VIENNA, Nov. 25. (AP)—The Vienna Bar association today recommended release on bail of the American, Charles A. Levine, who is being held here on suspicion of counterfeiting. The association recommended bail of $7,000.

Vienna police charged that Levine ordered dies and matrices to enable him to coin French money. Levine denied such an intention and said he had ordered dies from which he could cast medals for distinguished airmen.

The superior court today informed Levine's attorneys the prisoner would be released against security of $7,000. Levine must take an oath that he will not leave Austria and that he will be prepared to attend court whenever summoned to give testimony during the period of examination.

He introduced a bill which passed both houses of the legislature, for such an issue, but it was voted down when submitted to the people. El Paso county being the only county in the state in which the bond issue carried.

Anton Mail Route Is Given Extension

(By Staff Correspondent)

ANTON, Nov. 25.—Effective as of December 1 and close to Anton will be added, W. H. Tension, rural carrier, announces.

Present mileage of the route is 38.7. The additional 15.4 miles will make the route 54.1 miles long.

"We will have over 200 boxes on the route," Mr. Tension said. "I think that there will be nearly 600 families served by this route. I came here three years ago next January, from Lubbock."

An attempt to secure another route for Anton failed when the postoffice department declined to approve the new route. Small number of homes in the proposed territory to be served by the route was given as the reason for its non-approval at this time.

Levelland and Littlefield rural routes that had been closed to Anton were also extended this year. This was an added reason for the failure to get another route from this postoffice.
